Eve Ball has distinguished guest

U.S. Senator Pete Domenici paid a personal visit to Ruidoso author Eve Ball Saturday to present her with a copy of the October Senate resolution honoring her for her writings.

Mrs. Ball was unable to attend a scheduled reception at the Ruidoso Inn, and her collaborator, Lynda Sanchez, accepted the resolution in her place.

Afterward, the senator and his entourage made the short trip to her home so he could congratulate her.

At the reception, Domenici expressed regret that the "First Lady of Letters in New Mexico" was unable to attend.

"I think too often we tend to forget those people in our society who remind us of our past," he said. But he noted that those who write of the past write of the present and undoubtedly write of the future.

"If we listen to the wisdom of history, we don't make the same mistakes over and over again," he commented.

Mrs. Ball received the senator in the living room of her home. She appeared quite moved by his visit, and wondered aloud if she would wake up and find she had been dreaming.

"No, it's real," said Domenici. "And not only is it real but it's long overdue."

After the television cameras moved away, the senator stayed a few minutes longer to visit with the writer. She presented him with a collection of her books. He told her he has a son in law school who is very interested in history.

When Domenici mentioned that he has eight children, Mrs. Ball said, "You're a rich man."

He noted that people who have been around awhile say that, whereas younger people tell him he must be crazy to have such a large family.

Motorcyclists on a roll

by BILLY ALLSTETTER

The Ruidoso Business Association (RBA) recently elected a new board of directors, and they are hard at work promoting both Ruidoso and the Ruidoso Motorcycle Festival.

Glen Ferguson is the new RBA president and Gary Boyd is vice-president. Weezie Ferguson is treasurer and Flo Maul is secretary. Nancy and Mike Radziewicz are RBA directors.

Conspicuously absent from the list of RBA directors are Connie and Howard Brown, who have been mainstays of the association since its inception in the spring of 1982. The couple resigned from the association and handed the reins to a new crew.

"I think it's time somebody else took over," said Connie Brown. "I feel I've done my share."

"They have done so much for the sport of motorcycling and they deserve all the thanks, glory and appreciation that we can give them," said new RBA president Glen Ferguson.

Glen and Weezie Ferguson recently traveled to the Great American Motorcycle Show in Dallas, where the RBA had a booth to promote Ruidoso and the Ruidoso Motorcycle Festival. Glen said they handed out programs from the 1983 motorcycle festival, Ruidoso brochures, the Sun Country magazine and Sierra Blanca Ski Resort brochures.

"We had a great show," he said. "We just talked to a whole lot of people."

More than 15,000 people attended the four-day show.

More than 40,000 were expected to attend the Great American Motorcycle Show in Los Angeles this past weekend. RBA vice-president Boyd traveled west to that trade show to spread the word of Ruidoso and its motorcycle festival. Boyd took along a slide show featuring all four seasons of Ruidoso, in addition to the other promotional material.

RBA members will also attend Great American Motorcycle Shows in Fort Worth, Texas; Denver, Colorado; and Saint Louis, Missouri.

Custom Dresser, the shop that dresses the motorcycle given away each year at the Ruidoso Motorcycle Festival, will be taking next year's grand prize to 17 trade shows around the country as a part of its exhibit. A plaque advertising the Ruidoso Motorcycle Festival will be displayed with the motorcycle.

Glen Ferguson said RBA has paid for all the expenses of traveling to the trade shows, but will ask the Lodgers' Tax Committee for some assistance.

New branch opens

First City National Bank officers and village officials Thursday cut a ribbon of one dollar bills, officially opening the new office at 451 Sudderth Drive. Officials include (from left) Gayle Martin, assistant branch manager; Joe Loving, bank president; Jim Hobbs, senior vice president; Ruidoso Mayor George White; Ruidoso Downs Mayor J. C. Day; and Ed Jungbluth, executive director of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce. The new branch includes a gazebo and park area the bank is leasing from the Village of Ruidoso. The bank made $25,000 in improvements on the property and will maintain the grounds in exchange for the 20-year lease.

Villages' governing bodies to meet

Ruidoso Downs trustees will meet at 7 tonight at the municipal building. Items on the agenda include:

- Opening of bids on a four-wheel drive pickup
- Amendment to Ordinance 82, pertaining to mayor's compensation
- Purchase of air compressor
- Bob Power, concerning construction of a dam
- Setting of December 26 trustees' meeting
- Street lights, Texas New Mexico Power request for action
- Appointment of P&Z member Glen Brunlow
- Authorization of Jack Atkins as agent for purchase of water rights.

The Ruidoso village council will consider Resolution 83-24, setting forth the conditions for the March 1984 municipal election, when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at village hall.

A study session for councilmen will precede the meeting at 6:30 p.m. Other items on the agenda include:

- Roy Propsner, fire safety
- Ruidoso Gymnastics Association, temporary use of existing police headquarters
- Park and recreation director Pam Graves, lease of school property
- Assistant village manager Frank Potter, sale of property

-Councilman Benny Coulston, introduction of Sid Alford.

- Resolution 83-23, animal control, Potter.
- Bids on hydraulic tools and equipment

-Planning and zoning items, including Ponderosa Heights rezoning request (R-2 to R-3) for Lawrence and Barbara Paschich; Palmer Gateway rezoning request (R-1 to C-1) for Bob Johnson; final plat of Blaney's Mountain for Blaney Land Company; Ruidoso Springs rezoning request (R-1 to C-1) for William Wilson; Pinecliff front lot line variance for Jim Hughes; Skyvue Heights and Cree Meadows Heights replat for Emma Lee Emde.

- Village manager Jim Hine, two percent salary increase
- Bondsman Darrel Fowler, Sewer Assessment District 5
- Village attorney Lee Huckstep, executive session to discuss threatened and pending litigation.

The Capitán village council will meet at village hall at 7 p.m. Monday, December 12. Items on the agenda include:

- Resolution 83-12, concerning a revenue sharing increase
- Interstate Streams Commission grant of $18,000
- Request from Wayne Hobbs to increase sanitation rates.
- Request from Audie Hampton concerning animal control.

Skeen to meet with NMSU regents

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

U.S. Representative Joe Skeen will meet Monday with the New Mexico State University Board of Regents to discuss proposed sites for a regional airport near Ruidoso.

Sierra Blanca Airport Commission (SBAC) chairman Fred Heckman and Federal Aviation Administration area manager Bill Howard will also attend the meeting.

According to published reports, Skeen requested the meeting with the regents. Skeen was not available to discuss his plans for the meeting. He has said numerous times that he wants to meet with the regents to discuss the airport, and to include them in any negotiations for the airport land.

Skeen backs SBAC and local Ruidoso officials in their support of Site B on Fort Stanton Mesa for the proposed airport.

NMSU has opposed an airport at Site B, claiming it would disrupt range research on the mesa. NMSU leases 26,000 acres of land from the Bureau of Land Management for range research, including the 1,660 acres of Site B.

Heckman said Skeen invited him and Howard to attend the meeting. Heckman said they would be there to "back Joe up" with technical information regarding the airport and air traffic.

Ruidoso's airport is now located in the middle of town. Numerous people have died in recent years in plane accidents near the airport.

SBAC has filed an application for transfer of the land from Bureau of Land Management jurisdiction to the Federal Aviation Administration. The Federal Aviation Administration also supports an airport at Site B.

U.S. Interior Secretary William Clark, who will make the decision on the transfer, has indicated that he is open to arguments for an airport at Site B.

In a related development, the town of Carrizozo put in a bid for locating the regional airport there, but was rebuffed by state Aviation Director Bob White.

A spokesman for a group in the county seat lobbying for the airport pointed to altitude, weather and degree of occupation on Fort Stanton Mesa as reasons not to put the airport there.

Carrizozo, being flat, would be better suited, Scott Shafer indicated.

White was quoted as calling Carrizozo "just a lousy place (for an airport) because it simply doesn't meet the criteria."

He pointed out that with mountains on two sides and the White Sands Missile Range military corridor on another, there is no way to get an instrument landing approach.

Early skiing super!

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

"I ain't ever had too much fun," said one flushed skier as he squeezed a lime into his Tecate beer and grinned from ear to ear. "But we're trying hard as we can."

Early season snow: God's gift to those who are prepared. A reward for all those months of patient waiting while the mountain turned green, then brown and finally white.

It looked questionable there just before Thanksgiving. One little snow, a few rainstorms, but no base piling up on Sierra Blanca. Then, just as Sierra Blanca Ski Resort had proven that the new snowmaking equipment did indeed work, along came the base-makers—heavy wet snows with snowcats close behind, packing it all onto the hill. Toss in some excellent powder days on the first two weekends and its ...

One, two, three—Go!

Screaming season pass holders vowing to hit 100-plus days on the slopes and chucking about poor Taos, waiting until December 15 to open. One unnamed local businessman grabbed onto a thick roll of extra flesh around his middle and promised a vanishing act by the end of the season. Few people are wasting time with their rock skis, they're breaking out their new boards instead.

What's crazy is they're getting away with it! The snow has been great and the rocks minimal.

More than a week after the last storm—usually a dangerous period in the early season—people are still ecstatic about the "hero snow" that miraculously bubbles out of snow springs somewhere on the mountain and makes heroes of us all.

We'll need some snow soon, but cool mountaintop days and that ballbearing snow last week have kept the mountain amazingly well covered.

Above and beyond it all, there are no crowds. This started out as an idea for a story on how great it is to ski weekdays—which it is during the busy season. But these days, every day is like a weekday. Although Sierra Blanca Ski Resort is already ahead of last year's record-breaking attendance, it has been hard to find a lift line on the mountain.

Sierra Blanca manager Roy Parker said average weekend attendance during the first two weeks has been 1,600-1,800 skiers. Weekdays, it is a mere 400 skiers.

"Four hundred people on this mountain is just enough to see a person once in a while," said Parker.

True. The silence on the slopes last Thursday was almost eerie. Parker says all ski resorts have slow days at this time of year. "There's a very good reason for it," he added.

Many people just aren't ready. Living down in the warmer climes, they have not really grasped that, yes indeed, it is winter on the mountain.

This time of year is busy for many people—some could not get away even if they wanted. The hectic onrush of Christmas and the holiday season ties them up in a swirling dervish of preparations.

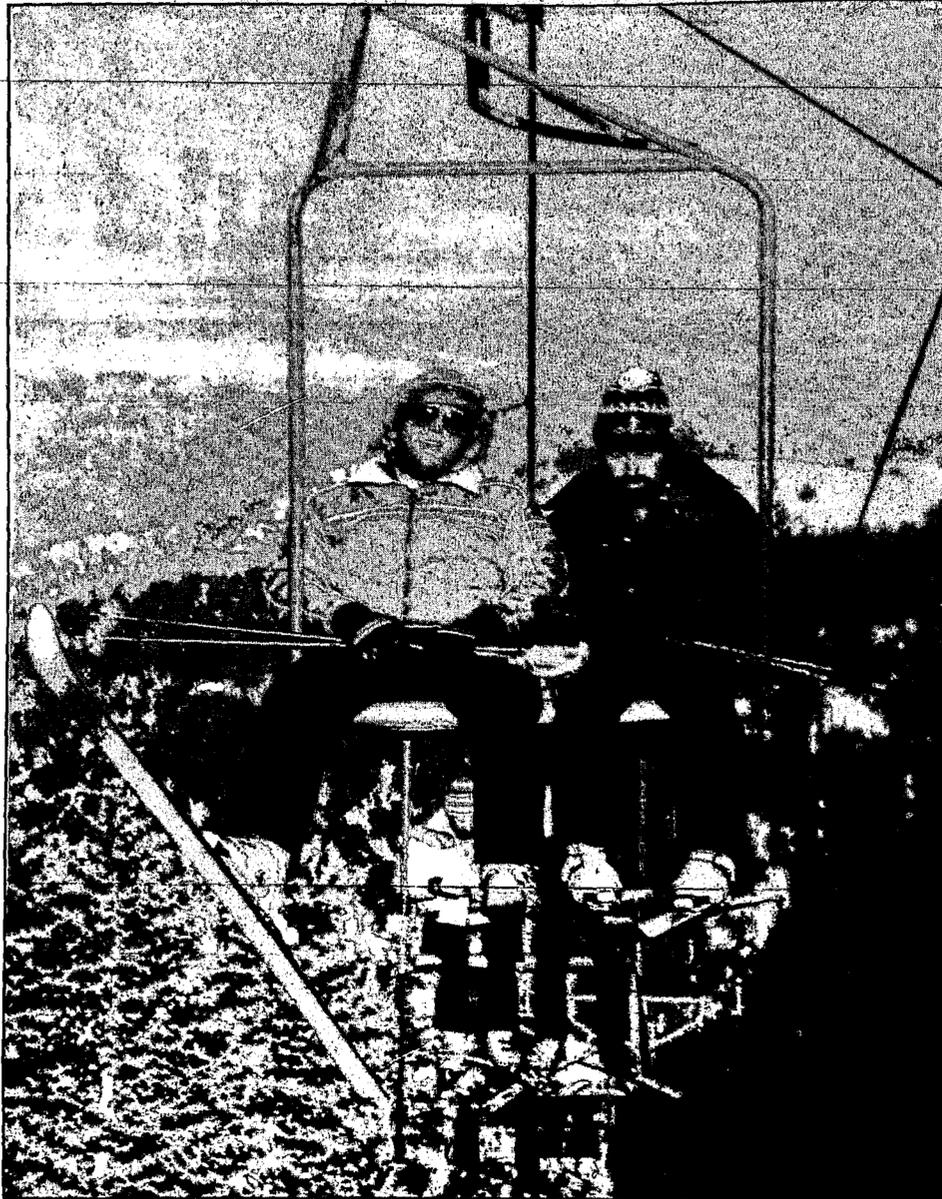

And those poor college and high school students have finals looming over their heads before they can escape for Christmas.

Money is a factor, too. Christmas can be expensive, especially if it includes a family vacation. So many people are hoarding their money and ski time for an outburst after Christmas.

And it will all break loose right after Christmas. But in the meantime, the lucky and well-prepared few have been cashing in on a great early season bonus.

You can get a snack without waiting any time in line. There is no line at the lifts. The bathroom odyssey involves 16 layers of clothing, but not much worry about crowds. The slopes are wide open.

And, as one inveterate local said, "You can get into the bar a lot easier."

Late afternoon sun warms skiers Jerry Pope and Stephen Stout. Cool temperatures at the top of the mountain have helped maintain the base.

Buster Hill had Apache Bowl all to himself last week.

The Apache Bowl chairlift carries a handful of skiers up the hill Thursday. Uncrowded slopes and no lift lines have been the rule for early season skiing.

More testimony heard in Condo Share trial

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Condo Share Vacation Club District Court trial continued last week for a second week. Jurors heard from witnesses and saw evidence that made up the state's case against the time-share vacation club and three of its officers: Jim Vincent, club manager; Pamela Vincent, chief financial officer; and Dean Shade, club sales manager.

Testimony heard by the jury Wednesday included that of Debbie Looten, former office manager of the club.

Assistant Attorney General John McKenzie questioned Looten about complaints the club received from Better Business Bureaus around New Mexico.

Looten said many calls were received from people who had gone home from visits to the club feeling they had been "ripped off." She said Vincent instructed her to "just write them a letter."

McKenzie also questioned Looten about a party Vincent had for prospective time-share owners at Cochera Restaurant in Ruidoso. According to Looten, the party-goers ran up a bill that was to be paid by Vincent.

"The deal was that Cochera was to be paid the following Monday, but Jim didn't pay. It was close to where (they) were going to have to take him to court," Looten testified.

Then McKenzie asked Looten if she had been paid all the money owed her by the club.

"No, I wasn't," she answered. On Thursday, the jury heard testimony from Donald D. Gardner, former sales manager for the club.

According to his testimony, Gardner had gone to the Ruidoso police after quitting his job at the club and asked if an investigation of the club was under way. Gardner indicated he then offered his knowledge of club practices in exchange for immunity.

In his testimony, Gardner made it clear that no deals had been made regarding his immunity.

While questioning Gardner, McKenzie frequently referred to a record of Gardner's testimony from a Grand Jury hearing filed in the Lincoln County Clerk's Office June 9.

McKenzie began by asking Gardner if he had thought Jim Vincent was a "con man" when he first went to work for him.

"I think I questioned his mannerism. I think I questioned the way he said things," Gardner testified.

McKenzie asked if Gardner included information in his sales pitches about free memberships at Cree Meadows Country Club and Sierra Swim and Racquet Club that Ruidoso Condo Share actually could not offer.

"Well, I did what I was told to do. They said they would have memberships and I believed that they would," Gardner said.

McKenzie then asked if Gardner had included in his sales pitches the information that contract signers had the right to rescind the contract within 72 hours of signing.

"I just really can't remember. It may have been. I just can't remember," Gardner replied.

McKenzie asked Gardner about "Hollywood" activities alleged to have occurred at the club. He asked Gardner if Condo Share sales people would take off their identifying badges and pretend they were customers.

"It seems to me that happened one time before I left. I can't say that that happened," Gardner said.

McKenzie then questioned Gardner about a Houston office of the club, another part of "Hollywood."

"This Houston office would have lent an aura of stability to your operation, wouldn't it?" McKenzie asked.

"I don't know that it would," said Gardner.

McKenzie asked Gardner if he had pretended to call the Houston office and get trade-in figures over the phone.

"That's what he wanted me to do," he answered.

"But there was no Houston office, was there?" McKenzie asked.

"There was no office," Gardner said.

McKenzie then asked Gardner if he felt he had been "squeezed out" when he left Ruidoso Condo Share.

"Yes sir, I did," answered Gardner.

The prosecutor then asked Gardner about threats he allegedly received from Vincent after his testimony to the Grand Jury.

"He said I was going to take the fall for it," Gardner said.

McKenzie then concluded his questioning.

"He (Jim Vincent) was always able to have someone between himself and the people he defrauded, isn't that correct?" McKenzie asked.

"You bet," said Gardner.

Gardner was then cross-examined by defense attorney James Brandenburg.

"Wasn't it true that Jim Vincent told you that there would be no representation of anything that was not legitimate?" Brandenburg asked.

"That is correct," Gardner said.

"Isn't it true that people could and did cancel after a reasonable period of time?" Brandenburg continued.

"Many times," Gardner answered.

Brandenburg asked Gardner if he had ever found one of his salespersons who told lies.

"Not lies, no," Gardner said.

"We didn't want anybody at Ruidoso Condo Share who were upset," he said. "(We wanted) to make sure that every individual with a contract in their hand, having left a deposit, was happy with what they did."

Brandenburg asked if Gardner had any reservations about the representations he made about the condos.

"No sir," Gardner said. The trial will continue Monday.

Peso wins championship as Warrior matmen finish fifth

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Gervase Peso came through with an outstanding effort to highlight the Ruidoso High School varsity wrestling team's performance in the Los Lunas Tournament Saturday.

Peso took a first in the 155-pound class, pinning his three opponents in a total time of 2:17. He pinned his first opponent in 30 seconds, his second in 59 seconds and his third in 48 seconds.

Ruidoso finished fifth in the team scoring with 72 points, beating Belen by half a point. Los Alamos was seventh with 53 points and Bernalillo didn't score. Bloomfield won with 156 points, Grants had 155 Albuquerque Academy scored 119 and Los Lunas tallied 103.

But Peso's performance was the highlight of the day for the Warrior wrestlers.

"He was very impressive," said Warrior head coach Gerald Ames of Peso. "He did a great job."

Other Warrior wrestlers who placed included heavyweight Joe LaRue (second), 185-pound Gary Burgess (third), 167-pound Scott Ciraulo (fourth) and freshman Cory Garner at 105 pounds (fourth).

LaRue had a bye in the first round but pinned Mike Montell of Belen in 1:55 of the first round in his second match.

He lost the championship when he was pinned in the first round by the defending state champion at 185 pounds.

"Joe did a good job, but that other kid was really something else," Ames commented.

Several other Ruidoso matmen who didn't place also did well.

Chad Surmick didn't place in the 112-pound class, but scored three points for the Warriors by getting a pin and advancement to the next round.

James Herrera at 145 pounds, Kyle Jameson at 132 pounds and Zach Swalander at 138 pounds also did well despite not placing.

"I felt the kids showed a great deal of improvement over our first tournament," Ames said. "There was some tough competition there (Los Lunas has won the state tournament five times) and we learned a lot."

The Warrior junior varsity wrestled in a junior varsity tournament at Deming Saturday. Kerry Jameson took third at 132 pounds and Jimmy Frost was fourth at 185 pounds.

Both the Ruidoso varsity and junior varsity will travel to Goddard of Roswell Tuesday.

Ruidoso boys lose to Rockets, take on strong Lovington

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School boys varsity basketball coach Ron Geyer is a firm believer in a tough non-district schedule helping a team get ready for district play.

Well, the Warriors are meeting plenty of tough competition so far this season. After dropping a 67-45 decision to former AAAA division power Goddard Friday night on the Ruidoso court, the Warriors will travel to defending state champion Lovington Tuesday night to meet the Wildcats.

The junior varsity game will start at 5:30 p.m. with the varsity contest following.

Ruidoso, now 0-5 on the season, played the towering Rockets tough for over three quarters before Goddard pulled away for the victory.

The Warriors trailed by 10 points early in the fourth quarter, but the huge Rocket front line (averaging over 6-5 per man) dominated the boards from then on.

Ruidoso took a 4-2 lead early in the first quarter on field goals by sophomore Russell Easter and Gilbert Rivera.

Goddard came back to take a 6-4 lead, but Tommy Crow tied the game on a jumper from the corner.

However, the Rockets outscored the Warriors 11-4 the rest of the period with 6-5 Dan Ullmann getting to inside shots around 6-8 Rocket Mike LaBine.

The Warriors fought the Rockets hard in the second quarter but the visitors increased their lead to 25-10 with LaBine and Dave Lapier getting several inside shots apiece.

Ruidoso closed the gap to 29-17 with two minutes remaining on two free throws by Ullmann. But the Rockets hung on and took a 34-22 lead into the locker room at halftime.

Ruidoso closed the Rockets' edge somewhat in the early going of the third period, with a shot by Patric Pearson making the score 36-27.

But then Goddard outscored the Warriors 12-5 for a 48-32 advantage in the latter stages of the period. Ruidoso closed the gap somewhat in the early part of the fourth quarter but the Rockets' height prevailed.

Ruidoso was also hurt by an inability to hit from the outside. The Warriors canned just 16 of 52 field goal attempts for a 30.8 percentage.

"That's what really hurt us," said Warrior coach Geyer. "We were doing well with our man-to-man and zone defense, but we just weren't hitting. A lot of our shots were in the 12-15 foot range, and those aren't long shots."

Ullman led the Ruidoso scoring with 15 points on five field goals and five free throws. Rivera added 11 points and Kenny Espinosa tallied five.

LaBine sank 15 points, Kurt Delray 14 and Lupier 13 for the winners.

"I would say they're the best team we've played this season," Geyer remarked. "They're awfully big and disciplined. They play in a very tough district."

What about Tuesday's game with the defending champion Wildcats?

"They're probably going to come out and press us all game long," Geyer answered. "The key for us is to not make turnovers against the press and convert against it."

"Also, they're probably going to run and shoot a lot. That means we'll have to play good defense."

Lovington lost its two best shooters from last season's championship squad, but returns playmaking guard Perry Howard and several other players.

NOTES: Geyer took the varsity, junior varsity and freshman teams to the University of Texas at El Paso-University of Indiana game in the Texas city Saturday. UTEP won the contest 65-61.

Tiger boys stay undefeated, have tough games this week

The Capitan High School boys varsity basketball team continued their undefeated ways by topping visiting Mountainair 71-54 Thursday night.

Capitan, now 3-0 on the season, traded baskets evenly with Mountainair in the first quarter, each team scoring 18 points.

Danny Cummins supplied much of the Tiger firepower in the first quarter, scoring 10 of his game-total 14 points.

Capitan outscored the visitors 14-13 in the second quarter for a 32-31 halftime advantage.

But the second half was all Tigers. Mountainair lost their shooting touch and Capitan outscored the visitors 18-11 for a 50-42 quarter-break edge.

The Tigers continued their hot shooting in the final period, outscoring Mountainair 21-12. Junior Dewey Keller did a good job in the second half, holding a hot shooting hand and doing a good job on the boards.

Todd Proctor led Capitan in scoring and rebounding. The 6-1 senior scored 15 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. Eddie Davis added 11 rebounds and 13 points.

Sammy Castillo added nine points and Keller eight as the Tigers had a balanced scoring effort.

"I felt the team played better," said Tiger head coach Kendal Lawlis. "We really haven't played some tough teams yet, though."

"We'll get real tests this coming week."

The Tigers will travel to Dexter Friday and play the Alamogordo junior varsity Saturday in Alamogordo. Dexter is an AA school and Alamogordo competes in the AAAA division.

Ruidoso junior varsity loses

Despite a good performance in the second half, the Ruidoso High School boys junior varsity basketball team dropped a 74-38 decision to visiting Goddard Friday night.

The Warriors, now 0-6 on the season, only trailed 33-26 at halftime. However, the taller Rockets took control of the contest in the third period, scoring 10 points straight for a 43-26 advantage.

Junior Matt Porter again led the Warriors' effort, scoring 16 points on six field goals and four free throws. He also did a good job on the boards.

Sophomore Jason Bigham added 10 points. Chris Garner, Ricardo Garcia and Trent Tolbert each added four points for the Warriors.

with Gary Brown

It's official now. Ruidoso High School varsity football coach Darrel Stierwalt and athletic director Doyle Howell won't hold those positions after July 1, 1984.

Ruidoso School superintendent Sid Miller made that announcement to me last week and emphasized the fact that the two men are being reassigned to their classroom duties. They are NOT being relieved of their teaching duties.

"As far as this reassignment is concerned, it's no different than any other reassignment we have to do," Miller said. "We have the duty to improve the educational process."

I was also given a statement pertaining to the school district policy on assigning teachers to positions.

It reads as follows:
"It is the responsibility of the administrative staff to assign school personnel to benefit the overall educational program. Assignments are made with the best interests of the total school and community in mind after careful thought and deliberation. The administration is evaluating all alternatives in regard to personnel, philosophy and future plans for the athletic program."

As to who will be the Warrior head football coach and athletic director next season, that is still undecided.

Miller wouldn't comment as to whether there had been complaints from the community about the coaching.

As to whether the decision to reassign Howell and Stierwalt was the right decision is something only the future can tell.

The Warrior football fortunes the past two seasons have been on the losing side (1-9 in 1982 and 1-9 this fall, with this year's lone win later forfeited).

As much as anybody else, I would like to see the Ruidoso football fortunes improve.

However, a lot of people have placed too much of the blame on the coaches.

Sure, the Warriors have had poor seasons the past two years. However, Ruidoso was 7-3 in 1980 and 8-2 in 1981, only the second and third years the Warriors were in the AAA division.

Stierwalt was the coach in those years, and very few if any people complained about his coaching abilities then.

A lot of schools have gone five or six seasons without a winning team, and they've kept their coaches.

My old high school in California has only had one winning season in the past 10 years, but the coaching staff has remained basically the same.

Ruidoso has been playing with an overabundance of freshmen and sophomores the past two seasons. How anyone can expect a winning program from players that young is beyond me.

I haven't agreed with everything the coaches have done, but Ruidoso tackled a very tough schedule this season, playing teams like state champion Artesia and runner-up Portales.

I think the Warriors should be a considerably improved team next season, with a host of young talent returning. And I think the Warriors could have also shown improvement next season if Darrel Stierwalt had remained as head coach.

Ruidoso girl cagers take fourth at Weed

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

A valiant fourth-quarter comeback fell just short as the Ruidoso High School girls varsity basketball team dropped a narrow 52-51 decision to Cloudfcroft in the third-place game of the Weed Tournament Saturday night.

Weed won the title with a 34-32 decision over Animas.

The Warriors had opened the tournament Thursday with a 58-51 decision over Capitán, but were nipped by the host Bulldogs 46-45 Friday night. Another Lincoln County result in the tournament saw Capitán edged by Jal 44-43 in the fifth-place game.

Carrizozo finished seventh in the tournament, defeating Eunice 41-31. They opened the tournament with a tight 29-27 loss to Animas Thursday.

Ruidoso trailed 38-30 at the third-quarter break against Cloudfcroft, but gradually cut into the Bears' edge in the final period. The Warriors used their press effectively in the final quarter.

A big play in the comeback was a steal and layup by Warrior junior Gia Rose to make the score 44-39 Cloudfcroft with 4:09 remaining.

The Bear edge shifted between five and two points until Mavis Geronimo of Ruidoso drove the length of the court for a driving layup that tied the score at 51-51 with less than a minute left.

However, Mina Burd of Cloudfcroft was fouled with a few seconds left and made the first of two shots for the winning margin.

The Warriors came down with 15 seconds left but a shot went off the rim and the Bears ran out the clock.

Center Diane McClure led the Ruidoso scoring with 12 points on six field goals. Lillian Lopez added 11 points and Rose canned 10. Stacy Ivy scored nine points.

Susan Peek led Cloudfcroft with 16 points.

The Warriors started out the tournament Thursday with their hard-fought win over Capitán.

Ruidoso led most of the way after the Tigers took an early lead. Ivy led the Warrior scoring with 20 points and Shelly Eldridge tallied 31 to lead Capitán.

Against Weed Friday, the Warriors led most of the way, building a 12-point edge by the end of the third period.

But the Bulldogs put a press on and forced Ruidoso to commit numerous turnovers. Weed took a nine-point lead midway through the period before the Warriors battled back to nearly pull the game out.

Lopez scored 16 points and Ivy 15 for the Warriors.

Other Friday action saw Capitán defeat Eunice 51-31 and Jal topple Carrizozo 40-28.

Ivy and Lopez made the all-tournament team, as did Eldridge and Christeta Chavez of Carrizozo. Ivy garnered the most votes of any player on the all-tournament squad.

Warrior head coach Sergio Castanon had mixed feelings about his team's performance in the tournament.

"Turnovers hurt us in the game against Weed," he said. "But we came back well against both Weed and Cloudfcroft after being behind."

"Sometimes when we come to this tournament, the AA and A division schools come out scraping and playing hard against us."

"Hopefully, when we play Goddard (Tuesday in Roswell) we'll get back to playing our type of ball."

Ruidoso is 2-2 on the season. Both the junior varsity and varsity will play against Goddard.

Capitán will travel to Tularosa for a game Saturday, December 17. Carrizozo will host Hondo this Tuesday.

Diane McClure (32) of the Ruidoso High School girls varsity basketball team jumps for the ball with a Cloudfcroft player during Saturday night's third-place game in the Weed Tournament. Ruidoso lost a tight 52-51 decision and finished fourth in the tournament. Looking on is Stacy Ivy (22) of the Warriors. Ruidoso will play Goddard Tuesday night in Roswell.

White Mountain boy hoopsters hold off Chaparral for 29-25 victory

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

The White Mountain Middle School boys A basketball team started slow and finished slow, but in between played outstanding ball in taking a 29-25 win over visiting Chaparral Thursday night.

Public can help buy wrestling mat

Anyone want to own a part of the Ruidoso High School wrestling mat?

The Warriors are buying a new mat and offering members of the community a chance to "own" part of it.

A person can pay $5 for a square foot of the mat and have the satisfaction of helping pay for the team's mat. When the mat is retired, it will be cut into sections and people who have bought parts will receive their section.

A down payment of $1,300 has already been paid. However, the Warriors need $1,789 by the end of 1984 and another $1,300 by the end of the following year.

Anyone needing further information can call 257-5669 after 6 p.m.

White Mountain's girls lost their first game of the season, dropping a 33-14 decision to Chaparral. The Braves are now 4-1 in girls action and 4-1 in A boys competition. Both the girls and boys will travel to Carlsbad today for games. The first contest will start at 4 p.m.

The White Mountain boys trailed 6-4 at the end of the first period, but outscored the visitors 22-8 in the second and third quarters to gain a 26-14 edge going into the final period.

In the final quarter, Chaparral put a strong press on and forced the Braves into several turnovers.

Chaparral closed the gap to 26-21 before Kirk Ryan of White Mountain hit a short jumper to slow the visitors' surge briefly.

However, the Chaparral press continued to bother the Braves and the Alamogordo squad scored four straight points to close the Brave edge to 28-25 with less than two minutes left.

But the visitors were forced to foul White Mountain to get the ball and Clint Bob put the icing on the cake with four seconds left, sinking a free throw for the final 29-25 margin.

Bob led the Braves with 11 points and Ryan added eight. Eric Ford played a fine game passing the ball and made several steals.

Neal Bunker led Chaparral with eight points.

"I felt we played pretty well," said Brave coach Dean Hood. "They hurt us with the press a little in the final period."

"Really, all our players did pretty well."

The White Mountain girls found a tough opponent in Chaparral.

The visitors jumped off to a 9-4 lead by the end of the first quarter and increased their margin steadily through the tilt.

"They're the best team we've played," said Brave coach Jean Wright. "We did rebound well though."

Jennifer Jimenez led the Brave scoring with eight points and played a fine all-around game.

Fargarson a big part of Warrior band

Jeff Fargarson has been a big part of the Ruidoso High School music program for four years. The 17-year-old blond senior has played in the percussion section of the Warrior 24-Karat Gold Marching Band for his entire high school career. He also has played with the Roswell Symphony a couple of times. Fargarson played with the symphony in a Christmas concert for Roswell school children December 1-3. He also played in the Christmas concert last year. He may play with the symphony again in another concert early next year.

"It was really neat," he said. "It was fun and it was a real challenge for me. We did seven programs over the three days and it was a big honor."

The Roswell Symphony is made up mostly of professionals and graduate students majoring in music, so the competition and quality of the symphony is high. Fargarson plays the timpani, snare drums, bass drums and trap-set drums in the percussion section. He's head of the Warrior percussion section and was named 'Mr. Rhythm' of the band this fall. Besides the drums, percussion members also use the bells, xylophones and cymbals. How did Fargarson get started in music? "A friend of mine got me interested when I was in the eighth grade," he remarked. "I really joined the band for fun at first."

Since then, Fargarson has been a big part of the Warrior 24-Karat Gold Marching Band, particularly on Friday nights during the football season. Fargarson is ranked 14th academically in his senior class of 90 students, and is on this year's list of Who's Who Among American High School Students. He hopes to continue his education at either New Mexico State University (NMSU) or the University of New Mexico (UNM). Besides being a member of the Warrior band, he also belongs to the DECA Club and is interested in business as a career. "There's a chance I might get a full four-year business scholarship to UNM," he said. "If I get that, I'll go to UNM. Otherwise, I'll probably attend New Mexico State."

Fargarson wants to major in business but hopes to also participate in band in college. "I would like to play in the band in college," he said. "I've seen New Mexico State's marching band play and they're just amazing. It's really a pleasure to watch them."

"I'm undecided about making music a career. I'm leaning towards business since I'm also in the DECA Club."

Whatever Fargarson decides to do in life, he's sure to be a success, just as he's been with the Ruidoso music program the last four years.

Jeff Fargarson plays the drums during a recent Ruidoso High School band practice. Fargarson has been a member of the Warrior band for four years and has also played with the Roswell Symphony.

The Dreamer

by Dan Storm

"Peace At Eventide"
On A December Evening

The sun is just going down over the hill to the west and its last rays come shining through the top branches of a cedar tree, turning it into a tree of glowing red and gold. The smallest points of the boughs are outlined in the sun's last colors. The boughs move gently, waving farewell to the day.

The spell of December is cast over the meadows and mountainsides and glens of the land.

All in the air and on the softly-glowing land, a mantle of sacred peacefulness now descends from the sunset-colored sky.

And time itself stands still for just a moment as the earth and sky is suddenly set aglow in all the airy colors from delicate pink to deep orange-gold.

You feel this benediction of the December evenings from sunset through the gloaming and the dusk—telling you that the birth of Our Infant Saviour draws ever near.

Welsh Lullaby

Just at the sunset hour especially when the world is calm and peaceful, an old favorite song often comes to mind. The words and melody came especially clearly this evening because of the calm and cheerful mood of the day's message of "good night." And also, as you might remember, the Welsh writer, Richard Llewellyn, was being remembered throughout the world.

The Welsh since their earliest history, have been among the world's greatest singers and song makers. One of their many lullabies has been translated out of the original Gaelic in many languages. The English version is long familiar throughout the English speaking world.

Sleep, my child
And peace attend thee,
All through the night.

Guardian Angels
God will lend thee
All through the night

Soft, the drowsy hours
Are creeping,
Hill and vale
In slumber sleeping.

Sleep, my child
And morning find thee
Safe through the night.

Christmas Decorations
Bring Joyful Memories
And Spread Happiness

Surely the Christmas decorations are some of our earliest and happiest remembrances. The brightness, the vivid color, the delightful shapes and forms cannot help but make a vivid and lasting impression upon the highly acute and sensitive mind of the young child. And of course the special joy that abides at Christmas makes everything about the day more clearly remembered.

Every year at this time, earliest memories of Christmas come very clearly back from the years. I could say I remember my first Christmas at the age of something under two months; but it is a little dim.

I do remember my second Christmas at the age of about one year and two months. The tree could not have been more than six or seven feet high, but it looked at least ten or twelve feet tall. It was lit by little candles fastened to the tree with special little holders.

The flame from the candle would warm up the needles of the tree so that a pleasant evergreen incense was wafted all through the room and added a charm to the celebration. This Christmas tree aroma is clear in my memory along with the sounds of the toy horns, the little Christmas bells, something like sleigh bells, and the bright tinsel and bright decorations of every kind.

Decorations at the Bank

I want to thank all the banks for their Christmas decorations. (Somebody could take those words and make up a little jingle—maybe a song.)

It came home to me up at the little branch bank of The Ruidoso State Bank, near Gibson's, that the Christmas tree and its decorations have changed hardly any since my infancy.

Here was the golden tinsel, arranged around the room, and the tree was the traditional one of years past, the Douglas Fir. And here were the same red, blue, green, golden, silver little ornaments, much the same as seventy odd years ago. And here were the stockings hung up for Santa to fill.

And here were the presents under the tree which Santa had left for three little Christmas Angels, Darlene H. Smith, Belinda Lea Layher and Beth DeAngelo.

No decorations could come close to matching the beauty of these precious and lovable ladies—generous with their Christmas cheer and blessings.

Yes, the Christmas tree and the Christmas spirit are the same yesterday, today and forever.

Tinnie man killed in wreck

One man was killed and another injured when their vehicle left Highway 70 near Hondo at 8:50 p.m. Friday, December 9.

Albert Fresquez, 38, of Tinnie, the driver of the vehicle, was killed. Edward Crain, 32, of Ruidoso, a passenger in the Fresquez vehicle, was injured. He was taken to Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital, where he is listed in stable condition.

According to State Police officer Ted Burke's report, the Fresquez vehicle was traveling in the west-bound lane of Highway 70. It states that Fresquez moved into the east-bound lane and attempted to pass another vehicle. Upon the approach of an oncoming vehicle from the east, Fresquez pulled back in to the west-bound lane, leaving the roadway on the right, then overcompensating and going into a sideways skid.

The Fresquez vehicle left the roadway on the left side of the road and went down a 70-foot embankment, overturning twice. Both Fresquez and Crain were thrown from the vehicle. No other vehicles were involved in the accident.

Tribe traveling to perform play

The Talented Traveling Tribe will be presenting a Christmas show to area schools and the Ruidoso Care Center Monday, December 12. The production will include magic acts, juggling, singing, dancing and a play, "The Velvet Bunny." The play is from an original script written by the students.

The Tribe is made up of Ruidoso High School drama class students Kathy Harrison, Karen Matier, Jeff Bender, Rena Payne, Debbie Flanagan, Zach Swalander, Chip Ramsey, Rita Clark, Aundrea Gonzales, Melanie Law and Angie Maldonado.

Judy Shaw, the drama teacher, is directing the play and Carol Thompson is the assistant director. Costumes were made by Susie Clark.

The play was also presented at the high school cafeteria Sunday, December 11, to the public. The 50-cent admission charge will go toward productions throughout the year.

Village in line for ad money

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

"We still don't know how much money we may have coming," said Ed Jungbluth, executive director of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, at last week's meeting of the Chamber Advertising Committee. Jungbluth reported on his trip to Santa Fe to meet with state Commerce and Industry Department officials. He said as much as $50,000 more will be available for Ruidoso from the state. The department is in the process of dividing the available funds between the communities from this area, the Sun Country Region.

The funds are divided according to the amounts communities report that they spend on promotion. Ruidoso reported $60,018.20, the second highest amount in this region.

Jungbluth said funds made available to communities are good through June 30, 1984, and may be encumbered by bills up to October 1, 1984.

The committee also discussed their progress with the state funds, and agreed they were making significant steps toward reaching deadlines and goals.

"Having three color ads at one time is quite good for us," Jungbluth said of the full-color magazine advertisements made by Epstein Communications and Adworks for the committee.

"In the past, we'd be lucky if we had one," he said.

"We're not as behind as the other communities," added Tommy Morel, chairman of the Advertising Committee.

Two of the ads were passed around at the meeting for final inspection. The third ad arrived in the Chamber office on Friday. The ads will appear in Aero Mexico, Texas Monthly and Southwest Airlines magazines in the January, February and March issues.

The committee went on to discuss plans for a familiarization tour to be given for Mexican travel agents in Ruidoso, January 9, 10 and 11 were set tentatively as the dates for the tour. Arrangements for a bus to transport the agents to and from Ruidoso were not finalized.

According to Morel, when the travel agents arrive in Ruidoso, they will be guests at a party given by Melinda Hall at Nottingham's Pub the evening of January 9. The next day, Tuesday, January 10, the agents will be taken for sightseeing trips in and around Ruidoso. Other suggestions made by committee members included the possibility of arranging a ski afternoon for the agents.

Committee members then heard a report from Morel on plans for upcoming advertisements in New Mexico and Texas newspapers. Ads will run three times each in the Albuquerque Journal, Dallas Morning News and El Paso Times and twice in the Houston Chronicle every other Sunday starting January 15.

The committee also decided to give the go-ahead to run an additional ad in the January ski issue of the new magazine, Albuquerque Living.

A discussion of Mexican newspaper advertising followed. Committee members decided to plan the appearance of ads near April 1, just before the Easter holiday, an important vacation time in Mexico.

The committee will meet with Epstein advertising representatives Bob Epstein and Shannon Reeves at 10 a.m. Thursday, December 15, for an update on the progress of the campaign.

The committee also set Thursday, December 15, as the day for a seminar designed to help local lodgers become acquainted with the practices of Mexican travel agents. The meeting was tentatively set for 7 p.m. at the village hall auditorium.

Ruidoso is Well Seasoned, an ad designed by Adworks advertising agency of Ruidoso, will appear in Southwest Airlines magazine.

Opinion

Governor Anaya obviously timed his proclamation of "Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week" to coincide with the holiday party season heading into full swing.

The laws against driving while under the influence of alcohol are possibly the laws most often broken by Americans. Drinking is socially acceptable—it is even deemed socially necessary.

And we need to drive our cars to get home, right? Besides, everybody does it, right?

Well, that type of reasoning helps account for more than 25,000 deaths, countless injuries and untold heartbreak every year in our country.

And the thing that's a shame is, it's not that hard NOT to drive after you've been drinking. Consider your options.

You can let your spouse or your date drive if he or she is less impaired. You can ask a friend to drive you home. You can wait longer to start for home (or switch to non-alcoholic beverages earlier in the evening).

If you have no one else to drive you, consider walking, or call the police department and ask for a ride. Remember, you haven't committed a crime by drinking. It becomes a crime when you get behind the wheel and turn the key.

The police would rather take you home than take you to jail.

It is sad to know that despite the best intentions of this message and all the others you will hear this season, drunk drivers will go on killing people.

All we can suggest is: do your best to see that you don't number among the killers or the killed, or the ones who let someone drive against your better judgment.—TP

SANTA FE—Sometime soon we'll have to form the State of New Mexico Airline.

That isn't sneaky reference to the still-frequent trips of Toney Anaya.

It's just an effort to say all airplanes owned by the state need more control than they presently get. It's not against the law to say that—in fact, there is a law already on the books which says the General Services Department, headed by David King, is supposed to supervise all aspects of use by agencies of airplanes they are permitted to own.

You've never seen a storm like the one you create when you try to limit use of those airborne playthings. Take the Highway Department planes, for example. Ill-advised use of them has led to more minor embarrassments for Highway Commissioners and employees than almost any other aspect of the road agency's performance.

Try to tell folks they have no vested right to fly through the skies, however, and you have a cat fight on your hands. That fight will be led by unpaid Highway Commissioners, some of whom would apparently give up their spouses rather than their airplane privileges.

(A former governor tells a funny story about his own explosive reaction when he was told the Highway plane wasn't available to him because it had to fly to Lea county to pick up a long-time Commissioner. He found it necessary to explain, in short words, that Highway Commissioners, despite their opinions of their own importance, do not outrank the chief executive.)

One problem is the pilots. Their lives are not like those of ordinary state employees. For one thing, they make a lot more money, for sitting on the ground after hours, at time-and-a-half or double time, waiting for their passengers.

They have also been known to seek other perks in their jobs, such as using the space in the hangar the state rents to run a private car-restoration business or purchasing fuel only from fixed-base operators who give trading stamps, which they then glom onto for their own personal benefit.

What's worse, they appear to manipulate the state purchasing system to make it prefer specific suppliers for either new aircraft or major repairs. The danger there, of course, is that those preferred may choose to show their appreciation with under-the-counter rebates to state employees or other gratuities.

That kind of thing is supposed to be a no-no.

David King is trying to do something about all this, if only to quell rumors which sweep through Santa Fe about what goes on.

He has met recently with all pilots presently employed by the state to remind them of the responsibility his department has under the law.

They have been warned not to use that age-old technique for delaying change in government—suggesting a "study."

King's position is that 1.) we know what the problems are, 2.) we know who has the statutory power to correct them, and 3.) it's time to get on with the job.

This corner supports that decision all the way—but David should batten down the hatches when he puts it into effect.

He's going to call down a firestorm from all those who see their privileged positions threatened.

And one of the subsidiary problems here is that these generally fall into one of two categories. Either they are the biggies in state government themselves, some of who tend to believe they are above ordinary rules and regulations; or they are the pilots, who have easy access to the biggies, even to the Governor, when they are at the controls. They have found that such people often listen with sympathetic ears to the man who is responsible for their safety in the air.

Besides, it's always difficult to break up sweet deals which have been in place for years. Some people tend to think if that's the way it's always been done, that's the way it should be done.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

NOT A BANDAID SOLUTION

In the 12-1-83 Ruidoso News Mr. Tim Palmer editorializes on the personal part I have played in the confrontation with the postal authorities over the installation of neighborhood cluster mail boxes.

While I welcome the publicity I want it known that I am not the white knight depicted in several news articles as wanting to take on the PO single handedly. I just happen to be in the right place at the right time and suggest that if this city is to be forced by the PO department that we accept the situation well informed and with eyes wide open. It is senseless to say, too late, "We did not understand". I just want to state the facts as I see them. It is up to others to evaluate these facts as good or bad. Unfortunately, too many of us don't want to get involved and that being the case apathy always wins.

Now, down to cases—after reading the editorial by Mr. Palmer, I read his reporting of last Tuesday's Council meeting. The Ruidoso News has been a strong advocate of the open meetings act and I agree, however, the purpose of an open meeting not only opens the meeting to all concerned and, in addition, should require accurate and full reporting of each meeting. The account of the Council meeting was incomplete to say the least and would have the reader believe that all was "sweetness and light". This was not so.

Mr. D.D. Dunne, a Customer Service Representative of the Post Office, according to the news report (1) apologized for failure to attend the special meeting of 11-22-83 (2) acknowledged a remiss in implementing the plan with City officials (3) promised cooperation in correcting past mistakes. This was only the tip of the iceberg. What followed was the most important portion of the Council meeting.

Hardly had Mr. Dunne been introduced before he and the PO plan were taken to task by one Councilman after another. The Council criticized the Roswell office for their indifference and arrogance in not addressing questions put to them months ago. It was pointed out that there was no apparent planning and that City assistance was brushed aside. Complaints by those who were forced to accept the cluster boxes or face huge increases in PO box rental fees were pointed out by the Councilmen. Mr. Dunne, when asked how package delivery and situations where signatures were required for certified and registered mail would be handled, replied that the "postman, in cases such as this, would make contact at the residence to handle such matters". It was apparent that Mr. Dunne had not made an on the scene inspection or he would have seen the fallacy of that answer. Many cluster box holders live quite a distance from their boxes (reference to several locations where 200 or more boxes are in one location).

I asked Mr. Dunne if any consideration had been given to increasing the number of boxes in our local post office and he countered with the statement that was a practical step to take. I reminded him that his retired postmaster, Mr. Elwood Gradine, had made such a proposal in order to eliminate many of the general delivery customers. Had this been done the mail problem would have been solved.

The comments made by all four Councilmen were strongly critical of the PO plan to install cluster boxes and particularly so because the plan was started without planning and on a "take it or leave it basis".

I did overlook asking Mr. Dunne if he and his party had used the Lear jet which was recently leased by the Post Office Department for $45,000.00 per month. Apparently they did not.

My contact in the past has been with Mr. Kenneth Primrose of the Roswell office. It has been reported that Mr. Primrose is now on administrative leave and will no longer be involved in further implementing the cluster box plan.

Just the facts.

DEAR EDITOR:

THE DAY AFTER!

Is two days too late. The President is trying to snow the American people. During the Carter administration, America dropped behind the Soviets and even France in weapons sales and arms production. Now the USA is back on top with huge sales of weapons to the third world nations. Carter was interested in human rights and feeding the hungry masses.

President Reagan is interested in the same goals Nixon and Kissinger pursued. The arms manufacturers are very rich and powerful and have controlled many politicians.

In 1956 we had the power to kill everyone in Russia ten times over. In 1966 we had the power to kill everyone in Russia one hundred times over, in 1976 one thousand times over and at the rate of three new war heads a day. We will have the power to kill every man, woman, child and politician in Russia 100,000 times over in 1986. The people in Europe don't want our killer bombs over there but we just shove them down their throats anyway. When will the stockpiling of these INSANE Nuclear Weapons stop?

There are twenty countries with Nuclear capabilities and six countries with Nuclear War Head Delivery Systems and over 30,000 buttons to push.

It is up to the American public (you and me) to cry out for a halt or die without a prayer. The arms race isn't about who is ahead or behind, it's about Rolles Royce's, Lear Jets and more power, control of the masses.

Once we have enough nukes to kill everyone on Earth 1000 times over, what's the use spending billions more tax dollars for nothing. The only people we are helping are the Multi-National Arms Manufacturers. The poor are still poor, the hungry still hungry. Are you going to sit on your... watching TV and wait for the day after?

Grateful,
TERRY COE

On the Village Beat with Tim Palmer

Newsroom humor is pretty distinctive in itself. "Morbid" and "delirious" would be two words that often describe it accurately.

When we're making delirious jokes at 10 in the morning, that's when it's time to start worrying about our sanity.

But recently I have had some indirect contact with what I guess you would call "teachers' lounge humor." Based on what I've heard of that genre, the two professions seem to have some common ground.

Several conclusions may be drawn:

- 1. You have to be wacko to be a journalist or a school teacher.
- 2. If you weren't wacko when you started, you soon will be.
- 3. Being wacko is the only way to survive in either job.

For example, White Mountain Middle School recently was faced with the problem of what to call itself after it moves to the old Ruidoso High School building next year. It was felt that "White Mountain" would no longer be appropriate in the new location.

However, someone pointed out that the school was "married" to the initials WMMMS, in that athletic and band uniforms and all bore those letters.

The solution was obvious: give the school a name that fit the initials, "WM."

So the teachers put their minds to it, and came up with a list. Included were:

- Wounded Mouse
- Wasted Monkey
- Wondering Moron
- Whistler's Mother
- Walter Mathau
- Wrong Move
- Wall Manacle
- Whimpering Mongoose
- Woos-Mongrel
- Worthless Mutha
- Where's Mike
- Warriors Mighty
- Walter Mondale
- Wuthering Mites
- Widow Maker
- Wanton Misanthrope
- Willy Make-it
- Wandering Moose
- and Willy Monka Widdle School.

I think the whole community can rest easy, knowing the education of our youth is in the hands of people who possess such fine minds themselves.

By the way, it was decided the new school will be called "Rocky Mountain Middle School."

Upon receiving that news, the teachers set out to choose a nickname for the school's athletic teams. I'm not sure if the name they came up with will fly.

It does have a certain ring to it, but whoever heard of rooting for the fighting Marine Bivalve Mollusks?

I am sure part of the reason for the healthy (?) state of humor at the middle school is the presence of a certain music director to whom I shall grant the nom de plume, "Templemont Sheff."

Sheff recently composed and sent the following:

LEDDER TO THE EDDADOR

What's all this I hear about elks seeking hide donations. You mean in this town that prides in ecology and letting trees grow out of their roofs, that people are stealing the hides off of elks? What are they gonna do all winter, run around without their hides. I think it's nice that the Ruidoso Times and their editor Mr. Pullmore brought this problem to the public, but I'm quite disappointed with the people of Ruidoso to let this atrocity occur.

Emily Latilla

Dear Emily,
It's the Elks CLUB and they are collecting hides to raise money for the American Veterans.

Dear Mr. Pullmore,
Oh, Never mind.

Emily

Well, 'nuf said. Every time I get stuck for an idea for an editorial, though, I think of Emily lamenting "violins on TV." One of these days I might just write it.

On a more serious subject, there is a move afoot to launch a drive to raise over $100,000 for an advertising campaign to promote Ruidoso in Mexico.

Arturo Lojero, who sold the "aceptamos pesos" idea to the Chamber of Commerce, is unhappy with what he sees as a lack of progress in implementing the program. So he contacted a major ad agency in Mexico City and they gave him a proposal—cost $110,000.

Preliminary talks with local businessmen have indicated some interest in the idea. It will be discussed further on Wednesday, December 21, at a meeting to which the presidents of the three local banks are invited.

A KOB-TV (Albuquerque) film crew was here Thursday doing a story on the peso program. Too bad they had to film a hand-lettered "we accept pesos" sign instead of the nice logos that are on order.

Court Report

Appearing before Magistrate Jim Wheeler recently, on charges listed and action taken, were:

Terry L. Howell, Roswell: careless driving and driving with a suspended or revoked license. Fined $230.

Charles Allen Craven, Dexter: unlawful carrying and negligent use of a deadly weapon. A $200 fine and 180 days in the Lincoln County Jail were suspended, but Craven has been ordered to take no illegal drugs, drink alcohol, nor possess any firearms; and to obey the law and stay gainfully employed.

Ramon Duran, Clovis: party to a crime (riding with a person under the influence of alcohol). After serving five days in the Lincoln County Jail, Duran is to remain on probation, obey all laws and pay $10 in court costs.

Fred S. Ginithan, Ruidoso: issuance of worthless checks in the amount of $61.40. After serving 10 days in the Lincoln County Jail, Ginithan was ordered to pay the checks plus $10 for each check and $10 court costs. A $100 fine was suspended.

Jerry Nablett, Lubbock, Texas: Driving while Intoxicated (DWI) and careless driving. Sentenced to DWI school.

Wayne J. Gries, Ruidoso Downs. DWI, second offense. A fine of $1,000 and sentence of 364 days in the Lincoln County Jail were suspended after Gries served 10 days in jail. He was also ordered not to enter a licensed liquor establishment and to confer with counselor Paul Gallegos.

Todd Quigley, Ruidoso Downs. Criminal trespass and cruelty to animals. A fine of $500 and sentence of 180 days in the Lincoln County Jail. Quigley served two days in jail and the rest of the sentence was deferred upon the condition that Quigley donate $100 to the Lincoln County Humane Society and volunteer 80 hours of community service with the animal control officer. He also paid $25 for the autopsy of the dead animal.

Joseph A. Strawn, Lovington: issuance of worthless checks in the amount of $135.53. Sentenced to 30 days in the Lincoln County Jail, fined $100, ordered to pay the check plus $10, plus $10 court costs. The $100 fine was suspended.

Teresa Lapcheske, Ruidoso: DWI and reckless driving. Sentenced to DWI school.

Frances G. Gonzales, Ruidoso: forgery of a check in the amount of $822.65. Bound over to District Court.

Jerry Paul Vaughn, Ruidoso Downs: Two counts of possession of a controlled substance, heroin. Bound over to District Court.

Daniel Clark Jr., Ruidoso Downs: disorderly conduct, assault on a peace officer, battery. Fined $500 plus $10 court costs and sentenced to 364 days in the Lincoln County Jail. The jail term was suspended after Clark served three days and the $500 fine was suspended on the conditions that he not drink or enter a licensed liquor establishment.

Joseph Friberg, Ruidoso: Burglary. Bound over to District Court.

Skip Turnbull, Purcell, Oklahoma: Assault. Fined $100.

Homer W. Hawkins, Allan W. Dorn, David A. Hobson, and Edward M. Hayes, all of Ruidoso: Possession of cocaine. Probation plus a $250 donation to the Lincoln County Law Enforcement Contingency Fund by each.

NOTICE is hereby given that on October 20, 1983 Jackie D. Atkins, agent for S. Lee Ware & James Kerley, 2510 N. Main, Rowell, New Mexico 86201, filed application number H-870 with the STATE ENGINEER for permit to change location of well and place and purpose of use of 6.0 acres of shallow ground water per annum by ceasing the use of well No. H-870 located in the SE/4NW/4SW/4 of Section 26, Township 10 South, Range 16 East, NMPM, for the irrigation of 2.5 acres of land located in F. S. 232, NW/4SW/4 of Section 26, Township 10 South, Range 16 East, and commencing the use of well No. H-1427 located in the NW/4SW/4SE/4 of Section 31, Township 10 South, Range 13 East, NMPM, for municipal purposes within the village limits of the Village of Ruidoso.

Application is also made to use existing well located in the NW/4SW/4 of Section 22, Township 10 South, Range 13 East (to be numbered H-1497-S) supplemented for municipal purposes for rights approved under this application.

Only the consumptive irrigation requirement will be transferred with credit for return flow allowed at the move to wells.

Any person, firm, association, corporation, the State of New Mexico or the United States of America, deeming that the granting of the above application will impair or be detrimental to their water rights, may protest in writing the proposal set forth in said application. The protest shall set forth all pertinent reasons why the application should not be approved and must be filed, in triplicate, with S.E. Reynolds, State Engineer, P.O. Box 1717 Rowell, New Mexico, within ten (10) days after the date of the last publication of the Notice.

Nook and Cranny a Christmas joy

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

The long driveway through the scattered ponderosas and a crooked stone walkway lead up wooden stairs to soft lights shining through the windowed front door. The door closes with a jingle from bells tied to the handle. Inside, a glowing Christmas tree and a charming country kitchen build an atmosphere of homeyness.

"It's just a dream I've had for a long, long time," said Pat Carpenter, owner of the Nook and Cranny. "I've planned it in my head for about 15 years."

The shop, opened this past summer, is based around what Pat calls a "country atmosphere."

"I just want it to be a real special place for people to come and shop. I want people to enjoy it," Pat said. She is an energetic woman, with a professional, friendly appearance. She speaks of the shop as more of a personal project than a business.

Kitchen items, tiny Christmas ornaments, antiques, baskets, reproductions of old furniture, German-made Christmas trees and wreaths and many handcrafted items fill the shop.

"We buy many things from the cottage industries," Pat's husband, Ray, said of the handmade items. He estimated as much as 30 percent of their gifts were made in New Mexico. Many items are made by local craftspeople.

"I try to find as many people in this area that are craftsmen. There are craftsmen in this area that you wouldn't believe," Pat said.

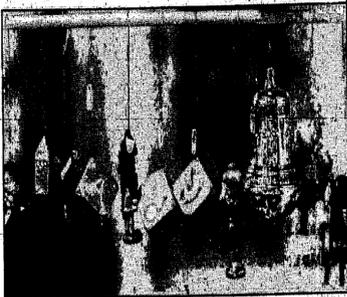

The shop, located at 646 Sudderth Drive, is housed in the home Ray was raised in. Both Ray and Pat are originally from Ruidoso, then the couple opened a garden center-nursery in Roswell. It was there that Pat first began to think of having a gift shop. During the Christmas season, they would set up a Christmas shop in the garden center and Pat would sell items she had made herself. From that beginning grew what is now the Nook and Cranny.

Pat continues to make many of the items that are sold at the shop. Working in the workroom adjoining the shop, Pat concentrates on furniture reproductions and wreaths.

"I've been making things for about seven or eight years," she said.

The shop is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day except Sunday. One part-time employee, Sally Wimberly, works a few times a week. The shop's phone number is 257-9891.

Dozens of Christmas ornaments are available at the Nook and Cranny.

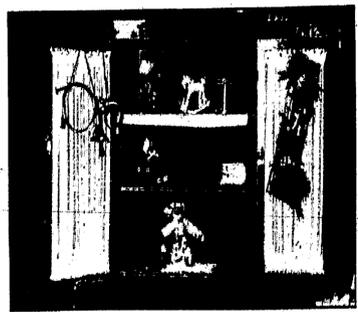

The Nook and Cranny is open every day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except Sunday, when it is closed.

"It's just a dream I've had for a long, long time," said Pat Carpenter, owner of the Nook and Cranny.

The Nook and Cranny, located at 646 Sudderth Drive, is set back in the ponderosas from the street.

Many of the gifts at the Nook and Cranny are hand-crafted by New Mexico craftspeople. Furniture fashioned after antique designs is made by owner Pat Carpenter.

Beautifully constructed artificial Christmas trees are imported for the Nook and Cranny.

FLORIDA FREEBIES
It seems like every other person is going to Florida these days, mostly to Disney World and Epcot. But there are beautiful attractions all around the state—and many of them are free. Here are a few to consider:

Class-bottomed-boat rides are a Florida tradition. At Biscayne National Park south of Miami, you can take a free tour of Biscayne Bay on a glass-bottom pontoon boat, courtesy of the National Park Service.

Wineries in Florida? You bet. In Tampa, you can go for free tours and tasting at Midalla Vineyard Winery; ditto Florida Heritage Winery and Vineyards in Anthony (north of Ocala) and Alqua Vineyards in Freeport (northwest Florida).

If you love horses, there are hundreds of thoroughbred horse farms in the central part of the state; most have visiting hours. A publication listing all the farms that offer free tours is available from the Ocala Chamber of Commerce.

North or south, east or west—wherever your travels take you—there are experts to help you at Ruidoso Travel.

'Little House' returns

By Andy Noble

The Ingalls family of "Little House on the Prairie" — the clan that was as wholesome as the "Addams Family" was bizarre — returns to TV this week.

Once again, you'll be able to see Papa Charles (Michael Landon), daughter Laura (Melissa Gilbert) and son Albert (Matthew Laborateaux). They're featured in "Look Back to Yesterday," a special that airs Dec. 12 on "NBC Monday Night at the Movies."

It's the first of three "Little House" TV movies that NBC will air this season. The movies are NBC's compensation for canceling the series last year after nine, mostly successful seasons. The network's decision was criticized by many people, because it removed from the small screen one of the few series suitable for children.

"Look Back to Yesterday" centers on the tragedy faced by the Ingalls family when they learn that young Albert has an incurable blood disease. The trauma nearly destroys Charles, until he becomes determined to help the young man face death with dignity. Charles must also convince Laura to accept her brother's fate.

"It's a seven-Kleenexer," says Victor French, who reprises his role as Mr. Edwards, the Ingalls' neighbor. French also directed the movie.

Laborateaux should get an Emmy nomination for his performance, French says. He adds that the subject matter is handled sensitively and will not frighten youngsters. "We don't dwell on the death. You don't see him die."

Michael Landon and Melissa Gilbert re-create their roles from "Little House on the Prairie" in a special TV movie, "Look Back to Yesterday," airing Monday, Nov. 12 on NBC.

Bono's Astro-Que

© By Lillian Bono

ARIES

(March 21-April 20) Someone with questionable ethics could come to you with a scheme. Turn this person down and suggest ending your relationship.

TAURUS

(April 21-May 21) A difference in opinion with an older individual may provoke feelings of guilt on your part. Business enterprises requiring large outlays of cash should be closely investigated before you sign on the dotted line.

GEMINI

(May 22-June 21) Keeping a younger person from becoming romantically involved with someone much older could prove difficult unless the situation is delicately handled.

CANCER

(June 22-July 23) Keep up correspondence with a friend who has moved away. Unconventional ideas creep into your mind and may be put into action rather quickly.

LEO

(July 24-Aug. 23) A person with a different background from your own provides you with interesting insights about others and life in general. Leisure time activities might have to be kept to a minimum because of work commitments.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24-Sept. 23) Household responsibilities could prevent you from accepting a tempting invitation to take a trip out of town. Be on your best behavior when being introduced to influential acquaintances who can help you financially.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24-Oct. 23) Your interest in the arts could be turned into a profitable enterprise with the assistance of a talented young person who inspires you.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Rewarding a relative for acting in a fashion that ought to be second nature is not correct. This individual will come to expect such a response and won't behave unless special treatment is imminent.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23-Dec. 21) An exciting experience comes your way through taking a chance romantically with a stranger. This could be the beginning of an important, major interlude.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22-Jan. 20) Set aside enough time for rest and relaxation or your hectic schedule will begin to wear you out. Business engagements could require you to travel out of town for a while before they are completed.

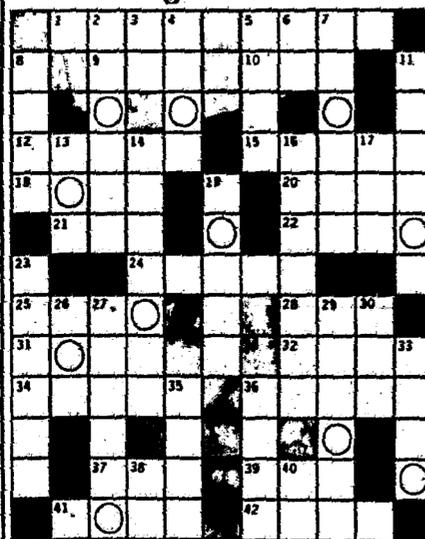

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Startling family revelations start relatives talking and leaves you feeling confused. Entertaining people provides you with moments of delight.

PISCES

(Feb. 20-March 20) Keep a close watch on youngsters for they could be up to mischief. People who are unemployed may have the opportunity to begin a new job.
