Smokey has his day

Mexican music, rope tricks, arts and crafts and beautiful weather highlighted Smokey Bear Day at Capitan on Saturday, for the 40th birthday celebration of Smokey the Bear.

A 20-minute parade of floats, marching bands and horseback rides kicked off the day's events. Included in the procession were Sun Bowl Queen Ann Boling, the Capitan Junior Riding Club, the Capitan High School Band, the White Mountain Middle School Band, the Corriente Cowbells and Goober the Clown.

Nearly a thousand people turned out to join in the festivities, according to parade official Ann Goodwin.

"Smokey is more popular than any president or any movie star," she said. "You go to any country in the world and they'll all know Smokey Bear."

Born in the nearby Capitan Mountains and buried adjacent to the Smokey Bear Museum in Capitan, Smokey is the national symbol for forest fire prevention. It was 40 years ago that the U.S. Forest Service began the Smokey Bear campaign, hoping to alert the nation to the dangers of forest fires.

Rose Garner, chairperson of Smokey Bear Day, said she was pleased with Saturday's showing. She added that the village plans to make the celebration an annual event.

Downs okays new budget

by C.E. REUTTER
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso Downs trustees voted 4-0 to approve a budget of about $944,000 at their regular meeting Monday.

The budget for fiscal year 1984-1985 includes expected revenues and expenditures for the 12 months beginning July 1. It represents an increase of about 24 percent over the current budget. That total was about $763,000.

The trustees also voted to buy carpet for the council room and an 11-horsepower riding mower for the village.

The carpet will cost about $681, at $9.45 per yard for 72 yards. The council room carpet will match the new carpet in work areas of the village hall in appearance and price.

The lawn mower will cost about $1,050. White's Auto Store in Ruidoso made the successful bid among four bids the village received.

The council also set village cleanup days July 10, 11, 17 and 18. They were set during regular working hours of village employees, who will haul away small and medium-sized items.

In addition, the trustees tabled consideration of a joint powers agreement between the village and the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department until a county representative attends their meeting.

Village officials object to a rate increase for Ruidoso Downs use of county jail cells. Mayor J. C. Day pointed out that the county receives revenue from Ruidoso Downs Race Track, while other county municipalities do not similarly contribute.

Trustee Conrad Buchanan said, "I'm not willing to go along with this until we get a representative of the county here to tell us why they need this increase."

Regents' visit 'constructive'

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

The fate of an airport for Ruidoso was the central topic of a meeting Saturday in Ruidoso between the New Mexico State University Board of Regents, state Agriculture Department, state Aviation Department, Bureau of Land Management and local governmental officials.

The meeting, organized by the regents, began with a luncheon at noon. The group also made an on-site inspection of Fort Stanton Mesa Site A and Site B during the regents' visit. The two sites have been identified as potential locations for a new airport for the Ruidoso area.

Houston McKenzie, president of the Board of Regents, said he came away from the meeting with two major points of interest in mind.

McKenzie said it was brought out during the meeting that it is really not the regents who have ultimate control over use of the Fort Stanton Mesa land.

"We don't own it, we just lease it," he said of the mesa property. McKenzie said the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) controls the land, and that BLM officials at the meeting didn't give him the impression that they would approve a change in use of the land.

"They're dang sure they're not going to turn loose of it," McKenzie said of the property.

McKenzie said he was also interested in learning at the meeting if Site A is in fact unusable.

"There was some question whether Site A was out of the question," he said. McKenzie said the board will be sending a letter to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) asking that question. McKenzie said the board would definitely cooperate with area officials on Site B if the FAA does completely rule out Site A.

McKenzie said the meeting was constructive.

"We had an amiable meeting," he said. "We understand you're needing an airport."

Also at the meeting was Kenneth Nosker, a member of the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners. Nosker agreed that the meeting was a constructive one.

"We're talking now and I think that's important," Nosker said. "I think the regents are interested in some type of accommodation."

Nosker said he noticed a "spirit of cooperation" during the meeting. He said the issue would benefit from cooperation from all involved parties.

"My interest is to get an airport with everyone cooperating to do it," said Nosker. "I think we're heading in the right direction."

Ruidoso village councillor Bill Karn also noted the cooperative attitude of the regents at the meeting.

"It was a good meeting," he said.

Karn said that after the meeting he did not feel the BLM would turn over the land at Site B to be used for an airport. Karn reported one bright point of the meeting was that the U.S. Department of the Interior staff has expressed that they will cooperate fully with location of an airport on Site A.

Karn said he would like to see more work done on exactly what size and type of airport Ruidoso needs. He said perhaps the airport could be moved to a spot comparable to Site B. He speculated that it could perform the same function as the present airport, but without what he felt were possibly unnecessary features, such as a 12,000-foot runway and extensive terminal facilities.

Karn said he felt somewhat optimistic about the progress of the airport issue.

"I think we're closer than ever in the history of moving the Ruidoso airport," he said.

Council delegation to Washington, D.C.

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

High-ranking New Mexico and national governmental officials will meet with members of the Ruidoso village council June 7 in Washington, D.C., to discuss the issue of the Ruidoso airport.

The Ruidoso delegation will be made up of members of the council and assistant village manager Frank Potter, according to councillor Ray Dean Carpenter. Carpenter said it was not certain whether the entire council would be making the trip.

A meeting has been set between the Ruidosoans and U.S. Representative Joe Skeen and Jim Marquez, chief legal counselor for the Secretary of Transportation at 9:30 a.m. From there, the contingent will attend a meeting with U.S. Senator Pete Domenici.

"I'm looking very much forward to meeting with Domenici, particularly since he hasn't taken a stand yet," said Carpenter. He said he hoped the group would be able to convince the senator to take a favorable position on the issue.

Carpenter said a member of Domenici's staff would accompany the group in all their meetings during the day to help in introductions and other measures of protocol.

According to Carpenter, the group will also be meeting with U.S. Senator Jeff Bingaman while in Washington. Other possible meetings for the group while in Washington include discussions with Secretary of the Interior William Clark, Bureau of Land Management Director Robert Burford and Secretary of Transportation

Elizabeth Dole.

Prior to the Washington trip, the Ruidoso delegation will be extensively briefed by Sierra Blanca Airport Commission chairman Fred Heckman on the situation of the airport. Carpenter said councillors wanted to be able to compile an in-depth presentation for the Washington officials.

The councillors will leave Ruidoso June 6 and return June 8.

"Now is the time to do it," said Carpenter of the meetings.

Ruidoso High suited Sherwood 'to a Dee'

by C.E. REUTTER
News Staff Writer

"There are two sides of me," said Ruidoso High valedictorian Dee Sherwood. One side loves math, the other side loves music.

She plans to seek a degree in computer engineering at New Mexico State University (NMSU) this fall, but she sang part of her valedictory at graduation Friday.

Maybe she'll become a computer consultant for architects, or specialize in computer security. However, she isn't closing the door on music, at least as a side light, when she reaches college.

"I reserve the option of music education," she said in discussing possible careers. She may want to conduct a choir.

"Ever since I was a freshman, I've always wanted to be in the Pride," she added. That is the noted NMSU band.

Sherwood has sought to be among the elite in areas ranging from music to math for years.

"I excelled for my parents initially," she said. "After we moved to Virginia, I did it for myself."

She was in the fourth and fifth grades then, and just discovering mathematics machines. "I was gung-ho on computers." She was also gung-ho on homework.

"I'd spend at least three hours on homework every night. School came first."

When the Sherwoods moved to Ruidoso, she was a high school freshman. "I got into band my freshman year. That's what kept me from being burned out."

Four years later, she was still in the band. "Music is expressive for me, an outlet."

On the other hand, "I really like math because it's straight science. You've got to do it this way because there's no other way to do it. It's like a straitjacket."

"My whole character is like math," said the honors calculus student.

"Underneath I want to be really strict and straight. Math is the epitome of school for me."

One figure she easily remembers about school is her grade point average, exactly 4.209 on a scale that includes "A" grades worth four points. She earned maximum points by taking top-level courses in which "A" grades were worth five points.

Other facts and figures include scholarship offers and grants for tuition.

Sherwood has never run into problems with people trying to convince her that girls should not be as good at handling figures as boys.

"Every teacher I've had has always encouraged me. The teachers I appreciate encourage excellent students to go on ahead."

She appreciates the teachers at Ruidoso High.

When asked to compare Ruidoso High School to schools in big cities, she said, "Materials-wise, it doesn't compare at all, but we have really good teachers. The teachers have done a really good job."

One she cited specifically included English teacher Carol Hubbard, math teacher Gerald Tully and chemistry teacher Nancy Holland.

Sherwood said repeatedly, "The teachers are excellent. What they do with what they have is excellent."

more than favorite teachers behind when they graduated. They left a whole building. This year's seniors were the last to get diplomas at the present Ruidoso High School building.

"I think it's neat in a way, but basically it doesn't really matter," she said. Sherwood did mention, "We did the last prom in the gym."

Her class is special, she believes. "Somehow I don't consider myself in high school, the school is so small and tightly knit." About 77 students were seniors this year.

"Our class has been really close. There's a caring here," she said. "It wasn't that way in the other schools." She attended bigger schools in Virginia, Florida and Texas.

The classes at the new Ruidoso High School will have better equipment than the ones in the present building, but Sherwood has few regrets about not being a student there.

"If I want to use the new building, I'll come back," she said.

The new building has its drawbacks. Next year's seniors won't be able to walk to fast food restaurants on their lunch hours, she said. The band hall won't be finished either.

"Actually, I think we're pretty fortunate," she said of the class of 1984. That was both the mathematician and the musician talking.

Council to meet

The Ruidoso village council will consider approving a 1984-85 fiscal year budget of about $21 million when it meets at 6:30 Tuesday evening at village hall. About $10 million of that total is in carryover items from the current fiscal year.

The budget includes six additional village employees, with three for the Police Department, two for the Fire Department and one for the Water Department.

"We anticipate no increases in rates for services at this time," said village manager Jim Hine. "The budget does not call for any."

The preliminary budget must be submitted to the Local Governments Division of the state by June 1. Final budget approval is made the first week of July.

Previously approved Planning and Zoning business makes up the bulk of Tuesday's agenda. In addition, the council will:

—Consider ordinances 84-5, Ponderosa Heights; 84-10, signs; 84-11, amend Chapter 2 of the code; 84-12, financial responsibility.

—Hear from Ray Carpenter on the Washington, D.C. trip (see related story).

—Have a final public hearing on revenue sharing.

Local phone costs to be tied to usage

by MATT BOBISIO
News Staff Writer

Beginning June 21, residential and business customers of Continental Telephone will be charged for their monthly telephone usage under a new method of billing.

Called "Usage Pricing," the system is expected either to save customers money or cost them more, depending on how often they use their telephones and which option plan they choose from Contel.

Much like the billing system for long distance calling, the new system will charge customers for the number of local calls made; the duration of those calls; the distance covered; and the time of day the calls are made.

"It's like electricity. You pay for what you use," said John Van Tussenbroek, telephone service manager for Continental Telephone. "Telephone service is now structured so that you pay for minutes of use."

He attributed the change in rates to the breakup of American Telephone and Telegraph (AT&T) and the deregulation of the telephone industry, both of which have shifted the burden of cost to individual telephone networks. He said local rates, which were subsidized for years by AT&T's long distance rates, will now have to reflect the "true cost" of providing basic telephone service.

"What the whole thing boils down to in a nutshell is that the cost causer is becoming the cost payer," he said.

Involved in the current change will be all residential and business customers with telephone exchange prefixes of 257, 258 and 378.

Residential customers will have four options to choose from. The first, designed for low to moderate users, will cost customers a monthly fee of $10 for each residential line, plus a per call charge based on usage. For example, a call placed within Ruidoso during weekday hours will cost five cents the first minute and one cent for each additional minute.

The second option is designed for moderate users. The monthly fee per residential line will be $15.15, and includes $6 worth of free local calls. After that, each phone call will be charged by the minute.

Option three, for the heavy user, will cost $20.15 a month, of which $11.25 goes for local calling. As with the second option, each phone call after that amount is used will be charged by the minute.

The final option is for the very heavy user, and provides for unlimited local calls. The monthly charge is $30.15.

Business customers will have three options to choose from. Each provides for a basic monthly rate plus, for the first two options, a certain amount of uncharged local usage.

Option one will cost customers $27.30, with $5 worth of local calls allowed. Option two, at $32.30, includes a local call allowance of $11. And the third option, for large businesses, will offer unlimited local calling at a rate of $45.30.

The charges described apply to each telephone line a business maintains, so that a business with four lines choosing option three will pay $181.20 a month.

In each case, whether residential or business, local call allowances are met at the same rate as are charged calls; that is, within Ruidoso, five cents for the first minute and a penny per minute thereafter.

Chamber of Commerce executive director Ed Jungbluth was less than pleased with the announced rate change. While he would not comment officially for the chamber, he said he personally felt the charges were just "another inflationary gotcha."

"It's just so new, people are just now receiving the notice with this month's bill. But I hear a tremendous amount of anger around town. I don't think it will affect the economy of this town and I don't think it will affect most of the businesses. But real estate agencies and the chamber will pay more."

Ann George of Resort World Real Estate agreed, saying that she would have to hustle more to make ends meet. She said she thought the new charges were unnecessary, but consistent with the spiraling rates of the last few years.

"I just feel it's another way for the phone company to inch into our pocketbooks," she said. "I don't like it but what can we do?"

Clay Adams of Holiday Realty voiced similar feelings. Calling the charges "a rip-off thing," Adams said he expected all businesses would end up paying more. "It's just a matter of how much more."

Retailer Dorothy Dale of Dale's Furniture and Carpet Showroom in Ruidoso Downs said she was not in agreement with the charges, which she called "price gouging." She said she wasn't sure if the new system would affect her business.

Recently, Contel mailed to its residential and business customers a 60-day information sheet outlining the options available and comparing each customer's usage over the 60 days under each of the options. Dale said she was not satisfied with any of the options. She said she planned to present her past telephone bills to Contel and ask for a "one-to-one" explanation of what the new charges will mean for her.

Van Tussenbroek said he already had received several complaints about the charges, but that some people also have expressed a favorable reaction.

"The people who don't like it are the heavy users," he said, "because they're going to have to pay more for their usage."

He said he believed that most people would not notice the change in their bills after the first few months. Basing that opinion on the company's experience with this new service in other areas, Van Tussenbroek said it had been determined that "most people's bills will stay about the same."

AT&T's subsidizing of the telephone industry has been slowly withdrawn over the past year, and Van Tussenbroek expects the subsidy to completely end within a year. At that time, telephone companies will be on their own to provide service, with customers helping to carry the added costs.

Whether the end of the subsidy will mean another new charge next spring, Van Tussenbroek couldn't say. "It's quite possible," he said. "But I don't predict it at this time."

Kim joins Summer Festival lineup

Violinist Young Uck Kim will replace scheduled performer Leonard Rose during the Ruidoso Music Festival, according to a spokesperson for the Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra. Rose has withdrawn due to an illness.

Kim, who will perform in Ruidoso Saturday, June 2, has earned an international reputation with leading orchestras including the Vienna Philharmonic, London Philharmonic, Chicago Symphony, Philadelphia Orchestra and New York Philharmonic.

The violinist has toured with Erich Leinsdorf and Eugene Ormandy, and this past year, Kim played the world premiere of a concerto written especially for him by the German composer Hans Vogt.

Born in Seoul, Korea, Kim began to play the violin at the age of six. In 1961, Kim enrolled in the prestigious Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia.

By the age of 19, the child prodigy was featured in a televised Young People's Concert with Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic.

YOUNG UCK KIM

Now in his mid-30s, Kim has retained the brilliance of his youth, but added maturity and depth to his perceptions of both the classical and contemporary works of his repertoire.

Fire kills woman in Downs

A house fire Saturday resulted in the death of an elderly Ruidoso Downs woman and the destruction of her home, at 106 West Circle Drive.

Dead is Mary M. Gieche, 60. According to the Ruidoso Downs Police Department, no cause of death has yet been determined.

The fire was first reported at 11:45 a.m. Saturday. According to Downs police, Officer Danny Bryant was the first officer on the scene. Bryant attempted to enter the residence to search for a possible trapped victim, but was repulsed by extensive flames and smoke.

Racing wrapup

JOCKEY MIKE LIDBERG took a severe jarring in Monday's second race at Ruidoso Downs when his mount stumbled in the stretch and tossed him to the turf.

He was taken by track ambulance to Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital, checked out and determined to be free of any injury — other than a headache.

The doctors gave him a green light to return to racing (after missing three mounts), and he was back in the saddle for the $8,750 Memorial Day Handicap at six furlongs.

Jockey Lidberg showed little signs of wear and tear while guiding the 8-5 favorite, Golden Ribet, to a come-from-behind win over the hard-fighting stakes filly, Machisma. The Memorial Day 'cap is exclusively for three-year-olds.

Machisma, piloted by Salustio Burgos at 119 pounds, grabbed an early lead and fought grimly throughout the stretch when Golden Ribet moved up boldly. Golden Ribet, owned by John Graham of Lordsburg, New Mexico, too the lead near the wire and was a neck in front at the finish.

The first-place purse of $5,250 lifted Golden Ribet's career income up to $77,430. The mutual returns: $5.40, $3.20, $2.40. The colt carried the top weight of 121. Machisma, owned by H. T. Hornbuckle of Albuquerque, earned $1,925 and handed out $3.40, $2.60.

Mr. Twice Worthy, with Larry Hunt up at 117, came on briskly at the end to take third. The show price was $3.60.

Golden Ribet, thanks to the eager pace set by Machisma, clocked the six furlongs in a torrid 1:12 1/5 seconds. This was only three-fifths short of the track record.

INDIGO ILLUSION, a brilliant three-year-old filly with career earnings of $637,581, had to carry the topweight of 126 pounds against older competition in Sunday's second division of the Go Together Handicap at Ruidoso Downs.

But the task became even harder when Indigo Illusion stumbled on the first jump of the 350-yard dash.

Ruidoso patrons who had been impressed with her record and made her a 1-2 favorite probably thought all chance of victory had gone down the drain.

The situation became even darker when Miss Squaw Hand, a four-year-old mare carrying a 122-pound load, quickly rallied out of fourth place and took a commanding position at the halfway point.

Indigo Illusion, with jockey Robert Bard urging her on, showed the depth of her ability — and made quick believers of all onlookers — by closing with considerable determination. With 50 yards to go, she was traveling in high gear, and drove past Miss Squaw Hand to win by a head. First place was worth $5,460.

Indigo Illusion's accomplishment was reaffirmed by the fact that she covered the distance in a seasonal-record clocking of 17.67 seconds. She returned $3.80 to win, $2.60 to place, $2.40 to show. C. Dwayne Gilbreath trains the daughter of Beduino for Jerry Windham of Bryan, Texas.

Miss Squaw Hand, ridden by Jacky Martin for Marvin Barnes of Ada, Oklahoma, earned $2,002 for second and paid $3, $2.60. San Rosa Leah finished third, a length behind Miss Squaw Hand, and returned $3.40.

POP'S SPIRIT raced to a three-length upset in Saturday's Barlaris Handicap at Ruidoso Downs and missed equalling the five-and-one-half furlong track record by only two-fifths of a second.

The five-year-old gelding, ridden by Casey Lambert for the Double B. Ranch of Anthony, New Mexico, got off to a quick jump in the sprint and was never put to pressure.

Pop's Spirit collected $4,800 out of the gross purse of $9,200 and returned mutual payoffs of $3.20, $2.80, $2.60. His winning time of 1:05 2/5 seconds nearly equalled the track mark of 1:05 flat set by the great stakes star, Bold Edge, in 1982.

Glover D., carrying the highweight of 125 pounds (as compared to Pop's Spirit's 117), rallied well out of fifth place in the six-head field. The gelding made his best move around the turn for home, when he quickly escalated from fourth to second place.

But Pop's Spirit, who had coasted during most of the backstretch run under a savvy ride from jockey Lambert, had too much left for the stretch. When Lambert asked Pop's Spirit for some extra energy in the stretch, the gelding responded readily. He was never put to pressure.

DYNAGO VICTORY, making his first start in nearly nine months, narrowly upset heavily favored Mr. Master Bug in Friday's $9,150 Mr. Jet Moore Handicap at Ruidoso Downs.

The two fought it out on nearly even terms during the second half of the 400-yard journey, but Dynago Victory generated a stronger closing surge and won by a head in a sharp clocking of 19.97 seconds.

Ruidoso Downs patrons made Mr. Master Bug a 2-5 favorite, while Dynago Victory carried 10-1 odds. Mr. Master Bug, the third-richest quarter horse of all time (his victories include the 1982 All-American Futurity), hauled the top load of 126 pounds.

Dynago Victory, ridden by Jerry Nicodemus for Clarence Scharbauer Jr. of Midland, Texas, was weighted at 122. Dynago Victory broke from the Number 7 post, and Mr. Master Bug came out of the Number 8. The two remained in side-by-side position most of the way.

Mr. Master Bug, with regular-ride Jacky Martin in the saddle, appeared to be in for a fight from the first jump. It wasn't that he broke slowly — as much as he was unable to find his best stride, and really get going.

Dynago Victory, who went into the event with some sharp workouts under his belt, inched into a thin lead about 100 yards from the wide, then pulled ahead to win going away.

BARLOW BLADE AND AQUACONIC won their respective divisions of the Rio Grande Kindergarten Futurity trials on Thursday's program at Ruidoso Downs.

Each of the two trials covered four furlongs (for New Mexico-bred two-year-olds), with the top five finishers from each heat advancing into the finale slated for Saturday, June 2.

The gross purse of the Kindergarten is $32,240. Barlow Blade, owned by R.A. Canning and Clayton Hust of Truth or Consequences, turned in an impressive job in the first division (eighth race on the program) by leading all the way as a 1-2 favorite.

The filly cruised under the wire with a gaping four and one-half length lead and returned $3, $3.80 and $2.80 to win. The win put her career record at two wins and a second from three starts. She's trained by Bob E. Arnett. The winning time was 46 4/5 seconds.

POCKET SPIRIT returns to racing duty and faces the kind of competition he can handle in Thursday's headline at Ruidoso Downs.

The Thursday card kicks off a four-day turf weekend in the cool pines which includes two of the season's major events—the $287,304 Kansas Quarter Horse Derby at 400 yards and the $605,384 Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity at 350 yards.

The Kansas Derby is the first leg of the Triple Crown for three-year-olds, and the Kansas Futurity is the two-year-old counterpart.

First post each race day is 1 p.m. As usual, there's free general admission for senior citizens each race day.

Thursday's headline, restricted to New Mexico-bred three-year-olds, puts seven head in a five and one-half furlong chase. The purse is an excellent $4,400.

Vocational association supports school candidate

The New Mexico Vocational Association has announced support of James Sanchez, who is running for the state Board of Education from District Eight.

Sanchez is the counselor and vocational education director at Ruidoso High School. He has been active in education for 18 years. Sanchez has taught drafting and electronics and has had experience as a journeyman electrician.

Combining vocational and academic classes prepares students for today's high technology demands, he believes. "We can no longer tell our youth that they must prepare for hi-tech jobs of the future. High-tech is here and the future is now!"

Sanchez is a native of New Mexico and a resident of Lincoln County. Sanchez and his wife, Lynda, ranch in Lincoln. She is a writer and teacher. Their daughter Katherine is a Ruidoso High School student.

Sanchez has worked with education programs from kindergarten level through adult education. He has also worked in construction. For 20 years, he was in the U.S. Army Reserve.

In addition, he is a member of the New Mexico Department of Education advisory committee for special education; Chapter II fine arts; guidance and counseling; and testing and evaluation.

Sanchez now is a member of the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital Advisory Board.

JAMES SANCHEZ

He earned a bachelor's degree from New Mexico Highlands University and a master's degree from Eastern New Mexico University. Sanchez is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, an academic honor society. He has studied on the post-graduate level at New Mexico State University and the University of New Mexico.

Sanchez believes the state board of education is an essential and significant part of New Mexico's educational system.

"We in New Mexico must provide opportunity for our young people to be competitive in obtaining employment or admission to colleges and universities nationwide, and this board should take an active role in seeing that this is accomplished," he said.

Area educators back Sanchez

Local educators have voiced their support for James Sanchez in his bid for the District 8 State School Board seat.

Professionals who work in school districts in Capitan, Carrizozo, Fort Sumner, Hondo and Ruidoso have combined to support a fellow educator.

Sanchez is a counselor at Ruidoso High School and is a candidate for the vacant District 8 position on the New Mexico School Board.

Karen Tillman, a Ruidoso educator, is coordinating the effort.

She said the professional educators in area districts strongly believe educators should have a voice in decisions made at the state level which directly affect local school policy.

"We encourage patrons of our respective schools to assist us in our support of James Sanchez," she said.

The Ruidoso Municipal School Board had agreed to allow Sanchez to seek the post.

Small runner has big heart in distance race competition

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Irma Wilson is only a petite 4-11, but she stands like a giant when she competes in long distance races.

The Ecuador native has been running competitively for three years, and has done very well. She should be a top competitor in the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department 1984 Runners Classic this coming Saturday.

Wilson, who works in customer services at Ruidoso State Bank, finished second among the women competitors in the recent "Jog Your Mind—Run to the Library" four-mile run. She also finished first at the Cedar Creek Fun Run two years ago, and was second in a nine-mile race at the Inn of the Mountain Gods two years ago.

Perhaps her best race was in Clovis about two years ago, when she took first in a 10-kilometer race and broke a record in the process.

"I like to run competitively, but it's more fun when I run to relax and be by myself," Wilson said. "I can think and put things in perspective when I run alone and for fun."

Wilson runs about seven miles each morning. She lives in Ruidoso Downs and runs from there to the first bridge on Cedar Creek Road in Ruidoso. She then turns around and runs back to Ruidoso Downs.

"I run between 6 a.m. and 7 a.m.," she explained. "I get up early and stretch a bit while watching the news. Then I start my running."

Wilson first became interested in running about 1971.

She met her husband, J. L., in Ecuador, and they moved to Oklahoma. She started running to stay trim, and trained moderately at first.

"I only ran about a mile a day at first," she said. "Then I built it up to three miles a day and ran at that amount for a long time."

Irma didn't become interested in competitive racing until she and her husband moved to Texas several years ago.

She ran her first race in the 10-kilometer Classic in Wellington Square in Amarillo, and finished second.

"That felt great," she said. "Actually, a woman I met in Texas got me interested in racing a lot. She was really into racing."

After the Wellington Square Classic, Wilson competed in some more races before moving to Ruidoso in 1982.

"Since we moved here, I haven't raced as much," she commented. "At first, with my schedule I had a hard time finding time for the races. But it's a little easier."

Although she doesn't race as much as she used to, Wilson still enjoys competitive running.

"It's nice to go out there and do well," she said. "I think I've won about 10 of 15 races."

Irma Wilson runs along Sudderth Drive Saturday morning. The Ruidoso State Bank employee runs seven miles every morning.

Ruidoso spring practices end, coach looking forward to fall

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Now that spring practice is over, Ruidoso High School head football coach Cooper Henderson is looking forward to the summer and the beginning of fall practice.

The Warriors concluded spring practice last Thursday, but Henderson hopes the players will be busy over the summer before fall practice begins Monday, August 13.

"We're going to have a summer program, not just for football players but everybody," Henderson said. "The kids will be able to lift weights and play basketball."

The program probably will be at the White Mountain Middle School gymnasium, since the old Warrior gymnasium is being remodeled. No exact date has been set for the start of the program, but it probably will begin next month.

The program will last until the end of July. After that, there will be free physicals for athletes in all sports Thursday, August 9.

Henderson and assistants Ronny Maskew and Jim Ramsey spent a lot of the spring practice teaching the Warrior players the wing-T offense.

"It's basically a run-oriented offense," Henderson said. "It's actually a multiple offense."

"We'll probably move the wingback around in the offense, like to pro-set."

Ruidoso has a number of players with backfield experience returning next fall.

Russell Easter, who spent a lot of time at quarterback, can run with the ball. So can Mike Williamson, Mark Langston, Patric Pearson, Justin Smith and Mike Smith.

"We'd also like to pass the ball more, although I am not sure how much Ruidoso has passed in the past," Henderson commented.

The Warriors didn't suffer any injuries during spring practice. "We were fortunate there," admitted Henderson.

"We've still got a long way to go before the fall," the coach said. "But we made good progress, and the kids did a real good job adjusting to a new offense."

The Warriors ended spring practice with about 45 to 50 varsity players and 25 upcoming freshmen.

"That's what we'd like to have next fall," Henderson remarked. "About 45 to 50 varsity players and at least 25 freshmen."

"We've had some seniors come out who haven't played before or in a while. Not having played for a while has hurt them, but they could help us."

NOTES: New boys varsity basketball coach Eugene Segura will arrive in town this week. He will be an assistant football coach. The final two assistant football coaches probably will be named at the June school board meeting.

Golf tourney set Saturday

IT'S TIME FOR US TO BE HEARD

ANITA SANDERS SAYS:

It is time to send a representative to Santa Fe who is bold and strong enough to speak for our needs.

The most obvious need for our area is a new airport in Ruidoso. We need it to support tourism; and most of all, to guarantee the safety of air passengers and residents.

Our current state representative has been noticeably non-productive over the past two years on this urgently needed improvement. As our representative, he should be at the forefront of the issue.

ANITA SANDERS will make the airport her NO. 1 PRIORITY and will give it the attention it deserves. She will be a tireless advocate for the new airport and will not cease her efforts until we get it.

Her voice will be heard.

Anita Sanders will back talk with action. She will work with the state, local, and federal authorities, and education administrator to seek a compromise and to initiate action now. There's been enough talk. Let's see action in Santa Fe. Elect Anita Sanders House Representative, District 56.

THE TIME IS NOW...THE ISSUE IS AIR SAFETY...THE ANSWER IS ANITA SANDERS...

on June 5th, let's elect...

Around Sports

with Gary Brown

Sometimes writing a column on a warm spring day is only slightly less difficult than climbing Mount Everest or jumping eight feet in the high jump.

My mind strays and it's easy to fantasize things when things are going very slowly.

Sometimes I think what it would be like to hike through the Lincoln County mountains and camp by a cool stream. Maybe I would go swimming in one of the local rivers or lakes, and just kick back and not worry about anything.

If I wanted a little action, I would imagine relaxing by a stream and suddenly being pounced upon by a 1,000-pound bear. Then I could see if I had Olympic-level speed or not.

But really, there are many things someone could do in this area on a Memorial Day weekend, or any other weekend.

People can fish, hike, play softball, soccer or run. Even relaxing in the sun with a cold beer or soft drink is something someone can enjoy.

On a three-day weekend in Ruidoso, a person can do all the above things and still have some time left over to do something else.

I've just had a problem getting up enough gumption to do something, or finding time when I'm not writing a story about a weekend event.

But this is probably the busiest time of the year for participant sports in Lincoln County.

Outdoor activities are booming this time of the year—that's why Ruidoso is one of the most popular recreational areas in the Southwest.

Things should get even better over the next few months.

Besides the famed horse races at Ruidoso Downs Race Track, there will be several distance races; tennis and golf tournaments; softball tournaments; and numerous hiking and nature programs sponsored by the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department.

Golf, in particular, is big during the summer.

Lincoln County has some excellent courses in Cree Meadows Country Club, the Inn of the Mountain Gods, Alto Lakes Golf and Country Club and Carrizozo Golf Course.

It should be a busy summer. I shouldn't have to worry about finding something to write about in my column too often during the next three months.

The Dreamer

by Dan Storm

A Lincoln County Pilgrimage of Blessing Reviving a custom going back more than a thousand years, a large group of members of the Episcopal Church of Lincoln county, under the leadership of Father Burdette Stampley, took part in a pilgrimage beginning in the pines and spruces and ending in the Foothills Country, asking The Lord's blessing upon rural homes, farms, gardens, fields and farm and ranch animals.

This was on Sunday, May twenty seven, known as Rogation Sunday, which begins the Rogation days leading up to Ascension Day.

The day began at the home of Buck and Dianna Meyer in the pines and apple trees of upper Little Creek. Blessing were given to the ducks and fish in the pond, the horses, goats, fields and the garden. And a special prayer was offered by Father Stampley for Buck and Dianna and their son Bret.

After refreshments at the Meyer home, the group went back to the Church of the Holy Mount for ceremonies at the vegetable garden of Randolph "Rudy" Gaddy, where the corn, potatoes, beans and squash are already off to a good start. Prayers were offered for Rudy and Ann Gaddy.

The procession then traveled down the Valley and over to Lincoln for a stop at the home of Betty Shreengost, Betty and son, Bert David, then led the way to the Big Rock Alfalfa field where prayers were said for the continued beauty of the field, now a picture of rural abundance. A special prayer was given for Bert David and Betty.

Back to the Ruidoso Valley and over the ranch country near Arabela, the pilgrimage arrived at the ranch home of John and Mary Cooper. Here a communion service was held under the giant elm tree in the flagstone patio of the Cooper home, and special prayers were offered for John and Mary, John W. and Chalene Cooper, Carol and Joe Gutierrez and children, James and Jennifer Cooper and all the Cooper Family. The children were greatly fascinated by the feeding of the dogie lambs. A grand dinner brought to a close a day long to be remembered of a pilgrimage of blessings.

These Honored Dead

With the Traditional Memorial Day falling on the Thirtieth, and the fortieth anniversary of the Normandy Invasion coming up on June Six, our thoughts are turned to those who fell in defense of our country.

Abraham Lincoln in his Gettysburg Address left us not only a tribute to the fallen in the Battle of Gettysburg, but also expressed our feelings for all those who had given and were later to give their lives for our country.

Abraham Lincoln in his Gettysburg Address left us not only a tribute to the fallen in the Battle of Gettysburg, but also expressed our feelings for all those who had given and were later to give their lives for our country.

At this season we will do well to remember Lincoln's Gettysburg Address:

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate — we cannot consecrate — we cannot hallow — this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us — that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion — that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain — that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom — and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

GOP meeting

The Lincoln County Republicans plan a precinct mass meeting and county mass convention at 2 p.m. Sunday, June 24.

The gathering is scheduled in the Ruidoso village administration building. Republicans will select delegates to the state quadrennial convention. It is planned July 14.

The county central committee will meet immediately before the local convention, at 1:30 p.m. June 24.

Editorial

This Friday, June 1, will be the happiest day of the year for a good-sized segment of our community. That is the day school lets out for the summer.

The kids, of course, will be happy to be on vacation. And the teachers will let out a collective and well-earned sigh of relief.

Friday will mark the end of another nine months of the enlightenment and discouragement, joy and frustration, comedy and tragedy, excitement and boredom, fun and just plain hard work that all add up to life in the schools.

This year is special for the school system because it marks the end of one era and the beginning of a new one. The last class has graduated from the old Ruidoso High School, and there is high excitement about the move to the beautiful new high school.

The shift of grades among the other three public schools will alleviate crowded conditions and contribute to an improved teaching and learning environment.

Even as faculty and students settle in this fall, however, an ever-climbing enrollment will have administrators busy planning how to accommodate it.

But come Friday, all concerned can pause to reflect on a job well done. If you are married to a teacher or have one as a friend, take her or him out to dinner.

They have certainly earned it.—TP

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE — If readers can stand it, here comes a compliment.

It's for those ordinary citizens who serve quietly and dependably on boards and commissions, with little or no rewards of any kind except possibly psychic ones.

Not all members of these groups fit into that category. Some, frankly, love the sense of power or of being on the inside that such appointments may bring with them.

But the ones who go on working year after year, managing not even to be fired by Toney Anaya, are worth praising.

One such, who may here stand for all the rest of them, is George Hanosh of Cibola county, who has long done an extraordinarily good job for an organization which requires almost endless hours of meetings and patience. It's the Community Assistance Council, which has been of help to almost every county and municipality in the state at one time or another.

Staffing by Don Gonzales for that operation has been extremely effective as well, and will probably continue to be such that the CAC has been moved to the Local Government Division of DFA.

the architects, whom we were already paying to oversee the job, and the contractor, who was also being paid to see that things were done right.

It turned out we didn't get notably better results with them on the project.

Now we're trying a new thing.

This is called cost engineering, and some people have great hopes that it will get us more bang for the buck.

Will it?

That remains to be seen.

Anyway, the last Legislature wrote into a sloppily drafted law a requirement that the state use this new procedure on buildings or other projects in the Capitol Program Fund which will cost over $400,000. We have now contracted with three firms, Castillo-Preston, Ltd., of Albuquerque, Bob Lockwood of Santa Fe, and G.M. Coen & Associates, of Farmington, to provide this service on six projects we are about to begin. Each firm will oversee two of the six, and the cost will run around one percent of the project cost.

If it helps us get better buildings, it's worth it.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:
RE: THE AIRPORT

I read with great interest the article on the front page of the Ruidoso News on Thursday, May 10th regarding the airport.

The reason for sending you this letter is because we are non-resident taxpayers of Lincoln County and therefore, do not vote in New Mexico and have no political ties with anyone from New Mexico. For this reason I think I can speak frankly regarding your present airport and a possible move to a safer location. We have a twin engine plane and a full time instrument rated pilot who has been flying us in and out of the Ruidoso airport for the past three years and I can honestly say it is a thrill every time we have tried to land at Ruidoso but found cross winds too strong to safely put the plane down; on these occasions we returned to Roswell where we rented a car and drove to Ruidoso.

Carrizozo, the county seat of Lincoln County, has an established hard surface runway that is lighted and a dirt runway that, I am sure, could be extended, and with some additional funding, fuel, hanger space, and radio communications could be provided. All of this at a far lesser amount of money than would be expended at either Site A or B now being considered. The elevation of the runway at Carrizozo is 5370' and 6911' at Ruidoso for a difference of 1541' and not being immediately surrounded by mountains. It has been suggested that Carrizozo is too close to the restricted air space over White Sands. I am enclosing for your use a New Mexico Aeronautical Chart put out by the State of New Mexico which will show you that Carrizozo is not as close to the restricted area as is the commercial airport at Alamogordo. Most of the traffic into the Ruidoso area is normally coming from the North, South or East. Anything coming from the West would have to cross the White Sands restricted area whether it be at Alamogordo, Ruidoso, or Carrizozo. Carrizozo's landing strip is approximately ten miles West of the restricted area.

Knowing how the Ruidoso area has developed in the past few years and continues to develop, I am sure there is a lot of political pressure applied whenever possible by some of the larger developers and it seems for this reason plus a few other political reasons, Ruidoso has not been very successful in relocating their airport. Any qualified pilot looking at the two areas from a safety as well as for year round usage, would certainly choose Carrizozo above the present facility or Site A or B. One other note in passing, it is true that Carrizozo is several miles from Ruidoso but so is D-FW from Fort Worth and Dallas; the El Paso airport from downtown El Paso, Albuquerque, Denver, Detroit, Chicago, New York, Los Angeles, but the airports are located as near as practical for safety.

We enjoy our visits to Ruidoso and will continue to come regardless of where the airport is situated.

SINCERELY,

CARL T. ANDERSON

DEAR EDITOR:

Our Kindergarten Registration and Spring Screening Program on May 5 was a tremendous success. There were many people of the community and school who volunteered their time and expertise to provide the families of Ruidoso a great service. We anticipate the follow-up program in August will also fare as well.

The rewards of this effort by our school/community partnership will be accelerated programs within our schools, and more wholesome children within our community.

Thanks to everyone for your continued support.

RODGER SOWDER, PRINCIPAL
NOB HILL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

DEAR EDITOR:

This letter is in response to Mr. Williamson's letter of the May 21st edition of the Ruidoso News.

First of all, we both feel that everyone is entitled to their own opinion. Mr. Williamson certainly expressed his. We do not think it is fair for someone to put down a new business trying to bring new ideas in to our community. We have nothing against KREE, but it is nice that Ruidoso is finally getting a variety of music and it's a variety you don't have to go out of town to hear. KREE provides a different type of music than KOAW, but its nice to be able to change stations and enjoy something else. It is obvious that Mr. Williamson does not prefer rock and roll or golden oldies. However, some of us do. Many residents of our community grew up to this kind of music and continue to enjoy.

Mr. Williamson stated that KOAW went on the air without any local news or public affairs programming. Everyone has to start somewhere. First the station needed its own publicity before acquiring other's advertising. After all, who would advertise on an unknown station. Now that the station has everyone's attention, I seem to keep hearing quite a few local advertisements and they are very good ones.

We would like to know what point of reference Mr. Williamson uses for his phrase, "bar crowd"? He indicates that the commercials are geared for bar crowds. The majority of our high school and grade school students listen to this station and aren't even allowed in the bars.

We would also like to know what effect selling or keeping a radio station has on commercial messages already aired.

May we suggest that Mr. Williamson switch his dial to the "off" position if he doesn't like what he hears on KOAW and for those who do enjoy it, keep your radio stations tuned into 1490 AM.

SINCERELY,

IRIS L. BLACK AND TINA SANCHEZ

On the Village Beat

with
Tim Palmer

I took a ride out to Fort Stanton Mesa Friday morning. Going out to the proposed airport sites puts an interesting perspective on the Sierra Blanca Airport situation.

My tour guide was Ed Hyman. If you know Ed, you know he is not shy about voicing opinions on things.

As we climbed Alto Crest on our way out of town, he told me that an early study by New Mexico State University had cited concerns about disruption of elk, antelope and trout habitat if an airport were built up there.

The trouble was, according to Ed, there were not and never had been any of that wildlife in the area.

"They started the premise on this whole thing with a whole pack of lies," he said.

He went on to say that most people have no idea what the whole airport site controversy is all about, and that he wanted me to see first hand.

"Well, it's mighty pretty country," said Ed as we turned onto the mesa road, forking off from the entrance road to Alto Village.

Indeed it is. The country on High Mesa into Fort Stanton Pasture rolls from the pine-wooded slopes around Alto to wide-open, pinon-spotted "rangeland."

A .22 rifle lay across the front seat of Ed's pickup, with the barrel against the floorboard. He takes it along when he's out in the country.

"Your might see a rattlesnake, or a coyote, or a BLM range man ... any varmint ... university professor."

We didn't see any of the above, but we did see a fellow in an NMSU pickup. He was tending to some cattle.

According to Ed, who has been all over that country, there were never any cows up there until some of the land was requested for an airport.

"The foreman of the Paso Monte Ranch watched 'em haul 'em in and dump 'em at the airbase," he said.

"The airbase" was a landing strip used by the Army Air Corps during World War II. Ed, who was a fighter pilot in the war, said it was common for airbases like the big bomber training and staging base at Roswell to have auxiliary fields for practicing takeoffs and landings.

The strip at what we now know as Site B was the auxiliary strip for Roswell. Ed believes B-24 and possibly B-17 bombers used the strip, and maybe some fighter planes.

As we drove along, he pointed out an "agronomy patch"—a fenced-in area allowed to grow wild. He connected that to the "twig count" studies—the ones that were supposedly too complicated to explain to ranchers who had husbanded the land all their lives.

The main impression of the land around Site B is one of flatness. We had to go through several fences as we drove around out there (most of which were put in after the airport site request, according to Ed). But it is easy to see that B is a viable airport site.

Site A, on the other hand, is not flat. There is one place along a ridge top that formerly had a short landing strip for small planes on it. But it is obvious that a tremendous amount of filling and leveling on the whole site would be needed to put an airport there.

I'm starting to sound like my trip to the mesa simply served to confirm to me what I already believed—that Site B is the best site for a regional airport.

But I also thought of Lucky Mulqueen's recent comments about Fort Stanton Mesa—that it belongs to all Americans. It is so beautiful and peaceful up there. The preservationist in me laments the thought of having the quiet shattered by jets taking off and landing.

But I guess that puts us back to the old argument of what price progress.

The price erring pilots pay at the present Ruidoso airport is too often the ultimate price—death. And that price easily could be exacted many times over if an airplane came down on a crowd of people, or started a forest fire when its tanks ignited.

Ed Hyman has flown in and out of Ruidoso many times, and has landed and taken off at the old airstrip on Site B. His observation as we looked across Fort Stanton Mesa summarized the difference.

"You could make a mistake and live through it up here."

The Top Midshipman Is a Lady

Do you suppose the military academies resisted allowing women as students for so long in fear of what happened to the Annapolis Class of '84? Midshipman Kristine Holderried, 21, of Woodbine, Md., is the first woman to graduate at the head of a service academy class.

Of course, the old saw about females being better students is probably as much sexist hogwash as was the rationale—whatever it was—for barring women from the service academies until 1976.

In any event, congratulations to Midshipman Holderried. She's a credit to her sex, and, more importantly, to the Navy's academic tradition at Annapolis. Albuquerque Journal

CECIL DAVIS OF CECIL'S HAIRSTYLING SALON

Cecil's offers styling and hair replacement

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

"You can't believe how high they're stepping when they're walking out of here feeling natural," said Cecil Davis, owner of Cecil's hairstyling salon.

Cecil's shop, at 323 Sudderth Drive, is really two businesses in one. One side of the shop is the professional hair care center, where Davis has practiced his skills in hairstyling for men and women for five years.

Across the shop is another specialty of Davis. The shop features the New Man Hair replacement method, which Davis said supplies 60 percent of all hair replacements worldwide. Davis has had New Man products for about a year.

Davis said he was keenly interested in the world of hair replacement, especially through the New Man method. He attends workshops and seminars regularly to keep up to date on the current New Man methods.

"I enjoy this, it's really fascinating to me," Davis said.

Davis said extensive study had gone into developing the 1,140 different variations in hair color offered by New Man. Because of that variety, the company can match hair color in all cases. In addition to color, New Man takes into account the wave and curl pattern; percentage of graying, if any; density; and normal highlights when matching a person's natural hair. Davis said hair replacement is also available for women.

Davis said New Man offers eight different methods of attachment of hair replacement pieces. Attachment methods vary from individual to individual, according to a person's lifestyle and scalp conditions.

Davis said the most important goal of New Man is to make the hairpiece look natural. New Man hairpieces last two to three years with a minimum amount of care. The hairpieces are manufactured from man-made materials and are fully warranted.

The Davis shop supplies a complete line of accessories for the hair replacements, including shampoo, conditioner and finishing rinse. Davis said the hairpieces are color-fast, and heat resistant.

According to Davis, the attachment methods used by New Man have improved so much, it is possible for the wearer to swim or play golf or tennis.

Davis said he enjoyed working with the company, and the satisfaction he gets from it.

"It takes several years off age-wise, and helps their outlook on life," Davis said of New Man wearers.

Anyone considering hair replacement is invited to go to the shop for a free consultation. The phone number at Cecil's is 257-7700.

Students' scores sent home

Results from an academic achievement test of third, fifth and eighth grade Ruidoso students were sent to students' homes on Friday, May 25.

The test is called the California Test of Basic Skills, or CTBS. The tests are given to all New Mexico public school students in grades three, five and eight.

The reports to parents are summaries of each student's achievements. They include lists of strengths and weaknesses. The Ruidoso Municipal School District urges parents to keep the reports so that they can compare the scores to future test results.

The district also wants parents to ask their children about the test reports if they did not receive them. For answers to questions, call Karen Tillman at 258-4220.

Students attend conference

Sophomore Lisa Nash and junior Patric Pearson attended a recent high technology preparedness institute in Albuquerque. Teachers nominated the pair, and the Ruidoso Municipal Schools paid for the trip. About 200 students from New Mexico high schools attended the leadership conference.

Business & Professional Directory

"Help yourself to all the fixin's," say the sandwich, ice cream is available for members of the Tidwell family. After the dessert.

Menu simple at Tony's: B-B-Q

"Don't know how y'er gonna photograph that smell, but I sure hope ya can."

The words of encouragement come from Tony Tidwell, owner of Tony's Bar-B-Que.

Tony, with his wife, Louise, and four children, moved to Ruidoso last December from Lubbock, Texas. The Tidwells had operated a Bar-B-Que there for years.

"I've been in the Bar-B-Que business for about 24 years now. If you had me a slide rule, I'll figure it out for sure," said Tidwell.

"When a larder came and blew away our house and started looking for a place to open us up a Bar-B-Que."

Lubbock's loss is Ruidoso's gain. Located in the Ski West Center in mid-town Ruidoso, Tony's offers a straight menu of rich Bar-B-Que. For the price of $2 a sandwich, choose from beef, ham, sausage or a combination of all. Chips, drinks and three flavors of ice cream are available.

Also available at Tony's are plenty of jokes, on the house. Tony will supply guitar pickin', old-time reminiscing, and if asked, advice.

The entire Tidwell family can be found in Tony's. From Amy, 16, to Joe Ray, 3, the Tidwells have been raised on Bar-B-Que. Tony and Louise joked that they even meet 10 years ago in Tony's Bar-B-Que in Lubbock.

"When we moved up here in December, it took us a few months before we opened up Tony's," said Tidwell. "After these kids had been off the Bar-B-Que for a few months, they started having Bar-B-Que attacks. They kept saying, 'Dad, when are you going to open a Bar-B-Que? Sure glad we finally opened,' he said. The family all agreed the move to Ruidoso—and the opening of the new Tony's—has been a positive one."

"We've been coming to Ruidoso for 18 years as a family. Actually I was misplaced in Lubbock for 28 years. Now I can feel the trees, the life, the river. I feel like we're complete now," said Tidwell.

The family baby, Joe Ray, agreed

The entire Tidwell family will be happy to Tony Jr., Louise, and the Bar-B-Que king, serve you. From left, Amy, Trapp, Joe Ray, Tony.

Tony can give you the beef, and then for the asking, a song to accompany the meal.
