Texas AG looking into time share operation

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Condo Share Vacation Club again has been connected with questionable business practices, this time by the Texas Attorney General's Office Consumer Protection Division.

The Attorney General's office has filed in Texas District Court a petition against J.V. Marketing Enterprises, a business endeavor of Jim and Pamela Vincent. According to Lee McDaniel, the petition lists several questionable business practices in which J.V. Marketing Enterprises has allegedly engaged.

McDaniel, an investigator for the Attorney General's Office, said the Vincents agreed to a 10-day temporary restraining order, pending the results of the District Court hearing of the petition, scheduled for Thursday, August 9.

According to McDaniel, the restraining order restricts the Vincents from concealing any company records and from marketing any memberships in the Ruidoso Condo Share Vacation Club until a number of liens are cleared up that are pending against the Ruidoso property.

Jim Vincent was convicted in a time share-related case December 16, 1983, in New Mexico's 12th District Court of two counts of fraud over $2,500, two counts of criminal solicitation, one count of criminal conspiracy, one count of sale of unregistered securities, and one count of securities fraud in connection with his activities as manager of the club. Pam Vincent, his wife, was also charged in the case, but was found innocent on all charges.

Jim Vincent was sentenced February 21 by District Judge Robert Doughty to a total of 13 and a half years of incarceration in the New Mexico State Penitentiary for his convictions, of which all but 12 months was suspended.

Doughty specified that the time would be suspended only on certain conditions, including the condition that Vincent serve five years of probation, that he not hold or apply for a license to sell land, time shares or securities, and that he obtain and retain employment in a field in which he is not involved in sales of any kind and does not have direct contact with consumers, subject to the approval of his parole officer.

According to McDaniel, however, because Vincent is appealing his New Mexico conviction, the terms of his sentence do not apply until his last appeal is finalized.

McDaniel said the Texas Attorney General's petition also charges J.V. Enterprises with failure to disclose to customers that a "free" vacation to New Mexico actually includes a high-pressure sales pitch.

In addition, the petition charges that the company fails to disclose to customers that about $90,000 in tax and judgment liens have been filed against the Ruidoso property the time shares are sold to, of which over $9,000 is a lien by the Internal Revenue Service, according to McDaniel.

"This is totally unsound for the selling of time shares," McDaniel said of the liens. She pointed out that the company is selling 40-year time shares for property that could be foreclosed on at any time.

Complaints from Austin residents apparently initiated the Attorney General's Office petition.

Contacted in Austin Friday, Jim Vincent said the Attorney General's Office petition merely asks for measures that will help to properly "take care of the membership" of the vacation club.

"It's all very understandable," he said of the petition.

In response to the allegations of the Attorney General's Office, Pam Vincent released a prepared statement, excerpts of which follow.

"We're removing all liens requested from the condos used by members in our time-share program," the statement reads. "We are in the process of having an instrument filed for the protection of current and future members and we are working with the Texas Attorney General's Office for the protection of our customers, which has always been our concern."

"We would also like to publicly state that all members have been receiving everything that has been promised and have been for 18 months," the statement continues.

"And as Christians, we would like to ask forgiveness from those who we could have possibly hurt in any way as we forgive those who might have hurt us," the statement concludes.

"We agreed that those are things that need to be taken care of," Jim Vincent said of the terms of the temporary restraining order. Pam Vincent indicated that she would be taking out a loan to pay off two judgment liens by Wednesday, August 8.

She also stated that a court date has been set in an attempt to have those judgment liens vacated.

"We believe in what we're doing," she said. "We have over 100 members and they believe in us, we're obligated to them."

Jim Vincent went on to defend the past activities of the condo share operation in Ruidoso.

"It is not a fraudulent practice," he said. "We've done nothing to Ruidoso except to spend money there. We're not trying to hurt anybody."

The results of the Thursday hearing will certainly shed much light on the future of the Ruidoso Condo Share Vacation Club.

Lodgers' Tax board to meet

The Ruidoso Lodgers' Tax Committee will meet at 1 p.m. Wednesday, August 8, at Ruidoso village hall. All

LAVERNIE JEAN KINZHUMA

Lavernie Kinzhuma in coming of age rite

A young Mescalero Apache maiden comes of age this week during traditional ceremonies at the Old Carrizo Rodeo Grounds.

Lavernie Jean Kinzhuma (Manda), also known as "Munchkin," will come of age between the morning of August 9 and the morning of August 13.

She is the daughter of Amy Shosh and Gene Kinzhuma, both of Mescalero. She attends the Tularosa public schools, where she will be in 7th grade when classes resume this fall.

Lavernie likes to jog, play basketball, do Indian dances and play the clarinet. Indian dances come naturally to her, as evidenced by her participation in the Plains Dancing competition during pow wows.

She comes from a long line of ancestry on both sides of her family, including Kinzhuma, Chee, Randall and Treas. Both great grandfathers were known to be very religious in the Indian way and were well known for dancing the Dance of the Mountain Gods.

Sponsoring Lavernie as she comes of age will be Fleeta Padilla and Joey Padilla.

Generalissimo rewards his fans

Generalissimo, running as a 2-1 second favorite, ran aggressively through the stretch and scored a half-length victory in Sunday's $45,024 Rio Grande Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

The six-furlong sprint for New Mexico-breds was worth $22,512 to the winning owner, and breeder, Glen M. Cox of Lenora, Texas. Mike Lidberg was in the saddle.

Earlier on the program, there was a highpoint of a different sort as the Pic-Six wagering—riddled with longshots—failed to produce a six-win ticket. This set up a hefty carryover of $31,509 for Wednesday's Pic-Six wagering.

But Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Woodruff of Brock, Texas, still managed to hit it big in the Pic-Six. The two wound up with the only five-win ticket, and collected $10,846.60 in the consolation.

In the Rio Grande (run on a muddy track), Generalissimo got off to a brisk start in fourth place and gradually improved his position. Most of the pace was set by the 6-1 shot, Polly Smoke, ridden by Larry Chavez.

Mels' Christian, (9-2), purchased for only $1,500 in the 1983 Ruidoso Downs Summer Sale for Selected Thoroughbred Yearlings, settled in second place.

In the upper stretch, Generalissimo—a gelding by Ross The Boss out of My Spanish Lady—accelerated sharply. Polly Smoke fought gamely but could not hold off the winner. Mels' Christian, ridden by Darrell Blevins, finished third.

Generalissimo returned waging payoffs of $6.40, $3.80 and $3. His record now stands at 2-1-0 from five starts. The Rio Grande was negotiated in 1:14 4/5 seconds. M. Dooley Guinn is the winning trainer.

Polly Smoke, a late supplemental nominee into the trials at a cost of $2,500, earned $9,905. The payoffs: $6.20, $4.60. Polly Smoke is owned by

It was muddy going for Generalissimo Sunday in the Rio Grande Futurity. He found the surface to his liking and cruised to a half-length win over Polly Smoke.

James Haworth and Norbert Pohl of Albuquerque.

Mels' Christian, the property of Jo Mann of Coleman, Texas, banked $5,402 and handed out a show price of $4.

Ruidoso fans made Latin Star the favorite at 9-5, but the filly was unable to mount a serious bid after taking over fifth place. She wound up fourth, earning $2,701.

The remaining order of finish: 5th - Draconic's Cap, earning $1,800; 6th - Aquaconic, $900; 7th - Zaminder, $900; 8th - Nachtleider, $900; 9th - Gaelic Sam, no purse money earned. Jeep Dancer was scratched. Racing resumes Wednesday at 1 p.m. with the first of three straight days of first-round All-American Futurity trials.

Sgt Pepper Feature 'on'

Sgt Pepper Feature, the 10th richest quarter horse of all time, rallied out of third place for a driving neck victory in Saturday's Big Profit Handicap at Ruidoso Downs.

The sprint covered 550 yards and offered a purse of $11,575.

Sgt Pepper Feature was made a 9-2 shot in his fourth outing of the meeting and collected $6,954. That hiked his career income up to $896,493. Tim Williams was in the saddle.

Coda Mundi, off at just under 3-1, grabbed an early lead but Sgt Pepper Feature wasn't far behind. Truckle Wings, the lukewarm favorite as 5-2, moved well out of fourth place to challenge for the lead at mid stretch.

Sgt Pepper Feature took the lead from Coda Mundi, pulled into the clear, then faded off the late attack from Truckle Wings on the outside.

The winning time, on a good track and against a headwind, was 27.36

Sgt Pepper Feature, a former stakes star on the West Coast (the gelding is now six years old), is leased by W.C. Chaney of Midland, Texas. The trainer is Leo D. Wood.

Fans who backed the gelding collected mutual payoffs of $11, $4.60, $4.40. Sgt Pepper Feature is by the quarter horse, Truckle Feature (who holds the 440-yard records at both Ruidoso and Sunland Park), out of the thoroughbred mare, Marketina (still co-holder of Sunland's two-furlong record). Sgt Pepper Feature was bred by Tom Neff.

Truckle Wings, ridden by Steve Harris, earned $2,546 for second and returned payoffs of $4, $3.40. The gelding appeared to run out of wind while pulling up in the backstretch, and collapsed.

Truckle Wings was later revived, and seemed okay, but jockey Harris was taken by track ambulance to Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital.

Truckle Wings returned $4, $3.40. Coda Mundi finished third, returning $1,157. The show payoff: $3.80.

For the fourth straight day, no fan was able to get six winners in the Pic-Six Saturday's Consolation Pic-Six produced five five-win tickets, each paying $1,730.60.

Black Jack Mack takes his revenge

Black Jack Mack got his vengeance on Groton Going in Friday's $9,400 Futurity Prep Handicap at six furlongs.

Ruidoso Downs patrons evidently felt Black Jack Mack was in for an uphill battle and made him a 6-1 shot. But Groton Going, gunning for his fifth straight win (and his third straight stakes conquest), was bet down to a 3-5 favorite.

The betting public was also swayed in Groton Going's favor by the fact that he had trounced Black Jack Mack by nearly 10 lengths in his last-out conquest of the Pocket Coin Handicap at Ruidoso.

But it was obviously a different ballgame in Friday's off-track going in the Futurity Prep. Black Jack Mack, ridden by Joe Martinez for Mack Yates of Cherokee, Texas, was right at home on the surface listed as good. The colt accelerated sharply during the backstretch run and left the eager filly, Old Broad, struggling in his wake.

Groton Going, who likes to take the lead and hold it, did not seem to appreciate the off-track conditions. He was third (under Salustio Burgos in the top lead of 124 pounds) early in the backstretch run.

At the turn for home, Groton Going moved up willingly under a hand ride and reached a near even position with the rail-hugging Black Jack Mack.

The real running began in the upper stretch, and when Jockey Martinez gave Black Jack Mack a few right-handed whacks with the whip, the issue was quickly settled. Black Jack Mack pulled away sharply and cruised under the wire with a five-length lead in a clocking of 1:16 1/5 seconds. The colt, by Barrera out of Affecting (he was bred in Kentucky), earned $5,640, which pushed his career earnings to $23,533. His record now stands at 3-0-1 from six starts. William F. Leach, Ruidoso's leading trainer, handles Black Jack Mack.

Fans who had supported Black Jack Mack collected $15.80, $4.40, $3.40. The colt enjoyed a big pull in weights from Groton Going, carrying 115 pounds.

Groton Going, a $10,000 acquisition in the 1983 Ruidoso Downs Summer Sale for Selected Thoroughbred Yearlings, earned $2,068, and this hiked his total earnings to $64,399. The tote payoffs: $2.80, $2.80.

Groton Going is owned by Bob Haynsworth of El Paso and Edwin Mayer Jr. of San Angelo.

Fair Grecian Lady, an 18-1 outsider owned by Philbert Richardson of Ruidoso, hauled 114 pounds to a third-place finish (under Manuel Toquinto) and earned $940. The show payoff: $7.80.

The Futurity Prep was jockey Martinez' fourth win of the afternoon. Earlier, he won on Score ($7.80), Sexy Socialite ($9.60), Hard And Bold ($11).

Kauai Kannon booms

Kauai Kannon took a hike in class for Thursday's seven-furlong headliner, went off at odds of nearly 7-1, and fought gamely for a head victory.

The gelding was ridden by Pedro Benitez for Grady D. Hopper of Dallas.

In his previous start, Kauai Kannon faced easier company and won by more than seven lengths as a 24-1 longshot. But Ruidoso fans evidently felt the 10-grand claiming competition in Thursday's headliner was a bit steep for the six-year-old gelding.

Kauai Kannon proved them wrong, grabbing a three-length lead at the start of the muddy journey, then refusing to give in to the 5-2 shot Jet Time when that one launched a prolonged stretch challenge.

Kauai Kannon was clocked in 1:26 2/5 seconds and returned $15.60, $5.40, $3.40. Yet Time, piloted by Carlos Rivas, refunded $3.60 to place, $2.60 to show. Spy's Delight, an 8-5 favorite handled by Kenny Lewis, wound up third. The show price was $2.80.

Thursday's Pic-Six wagering proved to be a tough nut to crack. There were no six-win tickets. It took four winners to score in Thursday's Pic-Six Consolation, and each of such 30 tickets returned $116.00.

A-A Futurity trials this week

The first step toward the $2,500,000 All-American Futurity will be taken Wednesday at Ruidoso Downs as first-round elimination trials get underway.

The first-round will cover 12-race programs on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Each race in the period will be a 440-yard dash for All-American hopefuls.

Those finishing in the top three in each race will advance into the All-American time trials on August 22. At that point, the clock comes back into play—and those 10 hanging up the fastest times will meet in the televised Labor Day finale, aiming at that fabulous victory purse of $1 million.

The All-American Futurity is the culminating event—and the richest—in the Triple Crown series for two-year-olds.

The turf weekend in the cool pines extends through Sunday, as usual. Saturday's program is topped by the $15,000-added Ruidoso Sprint Championship (for three-year-olds and up) at six furlongs, plus the 440-yard elimination trials for the $500,000 (estimated) All-American Gold Cup. The Gold Cup is the exclusive domain of four-year-olds.

On Sunday is the $12,000-added Three Bars Handicap at 870 yards, plus the $29,121 Ruidoso Thoroughbred Derby at one mile.

First post through Saturday is the usual 1 p.m., but Sunday's program begins at 12:15 p.m. (That same early starting time will be in effect each Sunday for the rest of the season.)

The highpoint of Wednesday's card figures to surface in the second race, as the outstanding filly, Miss Miledo, launches her All-American dream out of the number five post. Larry Byers will be at the helm.

Miss Miledo, owned by J.W. Ham of Odessa, Texas, caught the attention of the quarter horse world during the spring portion of the last Sunland Park meeting. She won her trial heat for the $192,547 West Texas Futurity by two lengths as an 11-1 shot. In the 330-yard finale on March 25, she was made the people's choice at 2-1 and flashed to a half-length win and collected $67,391. That also put her career record at three wins against no defeats. (Before shipping to Sunland, she had won her debut against allowance company on the Texas non-pari-mutuel circuit.)

Heavenly, the upset winner of the $776,620 Rainbow Futurity, launches her All-American Futurity bid on Thursday at Ruidoso Downs.

The filly, owned by Roy Browning of Fort Worth, surged into quarter horse prominence with a blockbuster 1 1/4-length win in the 400-yard Rainbow.

First place in the middle jewel of the Triple Crown for two-year-olds was worth $276,059. The filly raced as a 21-1 outsider with Steve Harris at the helm.

On Thursday, Heavenly (by All-American Futurity winner, Pie In The Sky) will explode out of the number seven post in the eighth race.

Thursday's program is the second of three straight days of first-round elimination trials for the $2,500,000 All-American Futurity. Those finishing in the top three in each trial heat will advance into the All-American time trials on August 22. On that day, the clock becomes a factor—and those hanging up the 10 fastest times will meet in the Labor Day finale. The winner of the All-American Futurity collects a staggering $1 million.

Weekend action at Ruidoso continues through Sunday, culminating with the $29,121 Ruidoso Derby at a mile. First post through Saturday is 1 p.m. All Sunday programs for the rest of the meeting begin at 12:15 p.m.

Heavenly began her racing career in Oklahoma, finishing second (by a head) in her first two starts. At Ruidoso, she won her trial heat for the $605,384 Kansas Futurity by two lengths and qualified for the Consolation. She wound up seventh.

Mrs. Glen Cox (third from left) accepts the victory trophy from two members of the Ruidoso Downs board of directors, Mollie B. Kelly and Dick Worley, following Generalissimo's conquest Sunday of the $45,024 Rio Grande Futurity for New Mexico-bred two-year-olds. Glen Cox is at right. At center are trainer Dooley Guinn and jockey Mike Lidberg.

The fiddlers' contest is one of the most popular events in the festival.

Who is that masked man in the photo at left? Could it be Lincoln's own Billy the Kid? Skilled horsemen added to the special effects of the pageant Friday night.

Magic hours crowd Lincoln

by Sharon Makokian
News Staff Writer

"One magic hour ..." was how the narrator started the "Last Escape of Billy The Kid" pageant Friday night at Lincoln. Indeed, it was magical, but it was more than one hour. The festivities Friday night were just the beginning of the Old Lincoln Days weekend.

A sharp half-moon and scattered stars brightened the evening of the Old West. Smells of popcorn, gunsmoke and horses mingled with the scent of freshly rained-on grass. Mounted cavalry, brightly dressed Indian maidens and Civil War generals strolled the grounds. It was no longer the 1880s, but a night in the 1980s.

Along the main street of Lincoln, visitors from the present century chatted with participants from the past. History enthusiasts came from as far as Tennessee to be part of the festivities.

Members of the New Mexico Territorial Volunteers, a group that dresses up and re-enacts the Civil War, cooked their dinner over an open fire near the courthouse and discussed historical events with interested onlookers.

A definite excitement filled the air as the pageant began. Children sat hunched at the edge of their seats, waiting to see what would happen next in the story of Billy the Kid.

While the fabled sheriffs shot down the "bad guys" on the stage, the real-life policemen were enjoying the show while patrolling the pageant grounds. This was the third year for State Police Officer T. C. Burke.

"I've never had a problem (with Old Lincoln Days)," he said. "And that's the way I like it!"

This weekend marked the 44th presentation of "The Last Escape of Billy The Kid." The pageant was directed by Betty Bennett. Betty was pleased with the way things were going and "really proud" of the new things that were added to the pageant this year, such as music and fiesta dancers.

This was Bennett's second year as pageant director. She felt that the rehearsals (about a week's worth) went well except for a few nights of heavy rain. She said that the cast was "great," and that the people had fun doing the show.

Cast member Mike Walstad agreed. He said that the cast members shared an "affinity for Lincoln," and that they enjoyed getting together, dressing up, and putting on the play.

Mike was pleased with the number of people participating in the show. Last year, he had to play a few different parts; this year, there were enough people for all the parts. Over 40 people—from Lincoln, Capitan, Ruidoso and surrounding areas—acted in the play.

In total, more than 100 people volunteered their services to Old Lincoln Days this weekend. President Matt Borowski and 40-year veteran Betty Shrecengost (herself a past president) were both pleased with the pageant and the entire weekend's events.

When asked why they go through all the work of producing Old Lincoln

Days, both gave similar answers.

"We enjoy doing it and hope that everyone who comes has a good time. That's the bottom line ... our primary concern is that the people (who come to the festival) have a good time," said Borowski. He estimated that more than 2,500 people passed through Lincoln this weekend.

Tradition and preserving history are also a main reason for Old Lincoln Days.

"Why do we do it?" Shrecengost echoed the question. "Those kids," she said, pointing to some children playing—20th century children whose lives are enriched with the town's 19th century heritage.

A smiling Ginny Martin got the job of passing the hat at Saturday's breakfast prior to the start of the Pony Express race at Double Crossing near Lincoln.

Mike and Alison Walstad proudly display their award for being the best couple in the parade. The parade's frontier theme brought out the best in period costumes and traditional rituals.

Many people lined the main street of Lincoln Sunday to wait for the annual Old Lincoln Days parade. Although the dark clouds were threatening, the rains fortunately held off. Bands, horses, floats and mountain men participated.

Bands, Smokey, antique autos fill parade

by MATT BOSISIO
News Staff Writer

A military band, a high school band and horses aplenty filled the street just after 1 p.m. To the signal of a police car siren, participants in the Old Lincoln Days parade Sunday fell into line and slowly made their way toward the pageant grounds.

Though it was short by most standards, the parade was colorful and rich in tradition. The theme was the old frontier, and riders as well as spectators showed up in large Mexican hats, studded boots and the elegant gowns of the 1880s.

Not from the era but equally welcomed was Smokey Bear, who is celebrating his 40th birthday this year. Waving to children from the back of a U.S. Forest Service truck, Smokey brought up the rear of the parade as it moved in the direction of the Capitan Mountains, his place of birth.

Other participants in the parade included Mary Jane Ferguson, this year's Lincoln County Fair Queen, the Sacramento Mountain Men, the Billy the Kid pageant cast and the Chaves County Sheriff's Posse.

An hour after the parade ended, the awards were announced to a near-capacity crowd awaiting the start of the pageant.

The sweepstakes award, for best of the parade, went to the Lincoln Heritage Trust. The pageant cast was awarded the best float award, while the best mounted rider award went to Peg Pfingsten, who served as color guard.

Ralph Dunlap received the best antique auto award. Juan Baca, with his dog on a pony, took the honors for best single entry.

The best frontier woman was Pat Ward; the best frontier man was Bill Shrecengost; and the best frontier group was the Sacramento Mountain Men.

Mike and Alison Walstad were recognized as the best parade couple; the Chaves County Sheriff's Posse, were judged the best mounted group; and the Hondo king and queen were named the best entry of royalty.

Special recognition went to Mary Jane Ferguson, who will appear at the Lincoln County Fair later this month before going on to Albuquerque to represent the county at the New Mexico State Fair.

Following the awards ceremony, parade official James Sanchez pronounced the event a success.

"It's been hectic, but it's been a wonderful turnout," he said. "The people have been great and very cooperative. It's amazing how many volunteers we had that really helped out during the three days."

Homemaker wins ribbons

At a recent Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Extension Club luncheon, Mary McKay displayed three ribbons she won in county, regional and state competition.

The former Massachusetts resident won the extension homemaker cultural arts awards for a collage of 20 photos, titled "My Beloved New Mexico."

She said, "I've found a lot of joy and pleasure in my photographs, and I owe it all to my son Bill." The photography buff, who still lives in the East, taught his mother about cameras.

She shot the photographs that became her ribbon-winning collage to show to friends back East.

"I had worked at Wheaton College. They said, 'How could you leave this to go to that dried up place?' " she said. McKay shot the pictures to show them the beauty in her new home.

Mary and Bob McKay live in Ruidoso. Their children, Bill, Stephan and Janice, live in Massachusetts.

Extension homemakers across the county are preparing entries of many types for the Lincoln County Fair August 15 through 18.

Hornbuckle hopes to get fast start in match-play tournament

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

If Tommy Hornbuckle can get by his first hurdle, he may have a good shot at winning the 36th annual Cree Meadows Men's Match-Play Golf Invitational championship flight this week.

The veteran golfer, who is playing in the qualifying round for the championship flight today, has won the consolation title of that flight the past three years. He lost tight decisions in the first round all three years.

Hornbuckle also took second in the championship flight in 1980. He has won the tournament crown twice, but not since the 1970s.

"I can't recall exactly when I won it last," he said. "Probably about six or seven years ago."

"I think I've got a chance of winning it this year if I can get by that first round. It's hard to say."

The Ruidoso golfer had mixed feelings about how he has played this year.

"I haven't played that good really," he said. "The weakest part of my game has been my putting. The rest of my game has been pretty good. If I can improve my putting, I might have a chance."

In 1983, Hornbuckle had one of his better years. Besides the match-play consolation crown, he won the Cree Meadows men's club title and shared three partnership tournament victories.

Last year Hornbuckle lost to eventual champion Jake Broyles of Texas in the first round of the match-play tournament. However, he came back to play excellent golf the rest of the tournament and took the consolation title.

"Jake's a good golfer and he should be tough again," admitted Hornbuckle. "I've also heard that a couple of new fellas in the tournament could be awfully tough also."

Hornbuckle first started playing in the tournament in the 1950s when he was a teenager. He has competed in it consistently since 1975.

Is this tournament his favorite? "Oh, definitely," Hornbuckle answered. "It's the best tournament in this area, and they've attracted a pretty good field. Plus it's my hometown course."

Hornbuckle also said the Cree Meadows course can be both hard and easy for golfers, depending on the situation.

"It's a lot tighter than the other courses," he said. "If you don't hit the ball straight, it's easier to hit it out of bounds. But if you hit it straight, it's easier."

First-round competition in the tournament will begin at 7:30 Tuesday morning. About 180 golfers are entered, making it the largest field in the tournament's history.

Mule Skinners ready for September racing

The Ruidoso Downs Mule Skinners discussed plans for the September 7, 8 and 9 Mule Racing Days at Ruidoso Downs Race Track in an organizational meeting at the Ruidoso Public Library Thursday night.

About 20 people attended the meeting. Group organizers started working on a list of possible sponsors. They also named Larry Leighton, Charlie Pruitt and Percy Hodge as stewards for the races. Benny Roller will be the racing secretary.

The racing will be all three days.

There will be a mule pony express race, a balloon bust and an all-distance championship race.

Chariot races probably will be run at a site near Honda. They cannot take place at the main racetrack because of a new plastic barrier on the side of the track. There is a possibility the chariots could damage the barrier, it was noted.

Roping events will also be a part of Mule Days.

General admission to the races will be $2 per person.

The North led most of the way in taking a 117-100 decision over the South in the New Mexico boys AA-A division all-star basketball game at University Arena in Albuquerque Thursday night.

Former Capitan High School star-touts Todd Proctor and Eddie Davis played for the South team.

Donald Flores of Pecos hit 22 points to lead the North's scoring. Joseph Gonzales of Pojoaque added 19 points, and Tim Rehoboth scored 18 for the North.

Tony Bell of Cloudercroft led the South with 24 points. Sal Lazos of Lordsburg added 17 points and Cloudercroft's Gary Cox tallied 11.

In the AAAA-AAA division contest, the South broke a three-game North winning streak with an impressive 97-89 victory.

Former Hobbs players led the South win. Clark White tallied 19 points and picked off 13 rebounds. Dennis Taylor and Shelby Reeves each added 16 points.

Todd Thomas of Del Norte led the North squad, scoring 14 points. The South also won the all-star football game Friday night, taking a 30-9 decision over the North. It was the South's third straight win in the series.

with Gary Brown

A large part of the Ruidoso High School coaching staff took in the New Mexico High School Coaches Association convention in Albuquerque last week.

Head football coach Cooper Henderson, head basketball and assistant football coach Gene Segura, assistant football and head track coach Ronny Maskew, and assistant football coach Mike Speck got a lot out of the convention.

A number of speakers, including coaches from the University of New Mexico, and New Mexico State University, gave lectures at the convention.

"It was good," said Henderson. "Of course, by this time most of the coaches have already got their offenses and defenses set for the season."

"A lot of the coaches exchanged ideas. The Clovis (defending state AAAA division football champions) coaches talked a lot about their program."

A large number of the state's coaches were in attendance at the convention, which was held at the Clarion Four Seasons Hotel. For some, it was a time to take a break from work, and for others, like the Warrior staff, it was a time to catch up on a lot of work.

"We did a lot of work up there," Henderson remarked. "With a new staff, we've got a lot of work to do. This next week should be pretty busy for us."

The Ruidoso coaches also got a chance to see the all-star basketball and football games in the Duke City.

The North won the AA-A division basketball game, and the South took the AAAA-AAA cage contest. The South captured the football all-star tilt.

Richie Sanchez, the Warriors' student trainer, also went to the clinic and got to work in the all-star football game.

But the convention is now history, and the Warrior coaches are getting ready for the beginning of fall football practice Monday, August 13, at White Mountain School. Physicals for the athletes (for all sports) will be this Thursday at White Mountain School.

The new high school facility isn't ready for practices yet, but the Warrior head coach and athletic director hopes it will be soon.

"We won't start working in pads until Saturday (August 18)," Henderson said. "I'm hoping we'll be able to practice at the new high school by then."

Some of the Ruidoso football players will also be playing in the Ruidoso Summer Basketball League tournament this week at White Mountain School.

Most of the Warrior varsity players are on the Blue Demon squad, and the junior varsity and freshman players compete for Gold Fever.

So the Warrior coaches and players will be pretty busy from now on.

People who have been watching the Olympics on television might be interested in knowing that Ruidoso High School girls volleyball coach Pixie Arthur is attending the games in person.

She's due back in Ruidoso next week. Look for a story in The News on how she viewed the Los Angeles competition.

The physicals are for boys and girls sports. Local doctors will be giving the examinations. It will be the only time for the free physicals. The doctors ask athletes to wear short pants for the physicals.

Sports Activities This Week

Nearly 100 people turned out Saturday for the Lincoln County Artists Show, which featured pastels, oils, pen and ink, acrylic, watercolor and bronze. Many of the artists were on hand to discuss their works during the showing.

Local artists' show draws crowd

by MATT BOSISO
News Staff Writer

Nearly 100 guests gathered Saturday in the Canyon Gallery at The Carrizo Lodge for the first peek at an art show dedicated exclusively to local artists.

The Lincoln County Artists Show, hosted by the lodge and gallery director Ellen Long, featured at least six different art forms and 10 area artists.

Guests were served champagne, fruit and cheese as they strolled the open rooms and rubbed elbows with many of the artists whose work was on display.

"This pleases me to death," exclaimed Long, glancing over the crowd. "I think it's a wonderful response."

She said the idea of the artist showing was to publicize the fact that there is exceptional local talent in this area. "We wanted only area artists for this showing," she said. "It's to their benefit, but to ours also."

The two-hour showing featured Carrizo Lodge art director Ken Hosmer (oil and watercolor); Dorothy Bell Knapp (pastel); Martin Rose (acrylic); Dave McGary (bronze); Walter Rawley (bronze); Ted Robertson (pen and ink, watercolor and pastel); Teri Sodd (pastel); Joe Dunlap (watercolor); Tom Knapp (bronze); Joe Pasternack (glass); and Gaylon Gillem (bronze).

The art show will continue at the gallery through August.

Teri Sodd holds her "Little Secrets," done in pastel. Sodd was one of several local artists displaying their work at the Canyon Gallery at The Carrizo Lodge.

Hosmer said a similar public opening will take place Thursday to unveil a collector's poster featuring artist Ann Templeton. Only a thousand copies of the poster will be available.

He said the poster is an annual celebration of the lodge's art school, which is in full swing. The unveiling is scheduled for 6 p.m. Thursday at the gallery.

Ruidoso Downs man hurt when car hits tree

Ruidoso police reported that a one-car accident in the Upper Canyon last night left a man injured after his car left Main Road, traveled about 100 feet and struck a tree and fence. The driver of the car, Rodney Rose, was treated and released by the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital for scalp, facial and arm lacerations he received as a result of the accident.

According to the Ruidoso Police Department, the accident, which took place at about 7 near 116 Main Road, also resulted in some downed power and telephone lines when the top of the struck tree broke and fell on the wires.

According to Buddy Bundick of Texas-New Mexico Power Company, service in the area was interrupted temporarily.

Rose was cited for careless driving and no proof of insurance, according to police reports.

Inside the Capitol by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—You have to give Toney Anaya credit for one thing. He talks plain English.

Take this quote, from a recent informal news conference over the early-morning coffee cups:

"Kay Marr is still trying to run the state out of the Attorney General's office."

Or this one, from the same time and location:

"Nothing I do or say can satisfy Al Romero."

Those are both comments more notable for their candor than for their tact. Neither sounds like it comes from a man who is anxious to get along well with the branches of state government over which he does not have direct control.

Ms. Marr, in case you miss that reference, is an assistant attorney general (one of many), who is perceived by the Governor as having it in for him.

When we ask why, he provides more fodder for the newspeople to scribble down rapidly.

He explains that, early in his administration, when he sent in a Santa Fe attorney to attempt to clean up what they saw as a mess in the state's Property Control Division, Marr got ticked off at him.

In the King administration, she had headed Finance and Administration, of which Property Control is a part.

Anaya suggests Marr has what he calls "lots of animosity" over that event. He goes on to say, "Now she's enlisted the support of Alice Hester in the affair."

Hester headed Property Control when Anaya and Montoya thought it was ill-managed. Now she has joined Marr on the Attorney General's staff.

The Governor claims the dislike for him emanating from the two women can be seen in relations between his staff and that of the AG "over and over again."

He goes on to say that he and Paul Bardacke, the AG himself, get along well. Apparently he has decided that whenever he runs afoul of the office of the Attorney General (and he does that frequently) it is this aging feud which is at the heart of his problem.

"I've told Bardacke many times what the problem is," he adds grumpily, "but he doesn't agree with me."

As for Al Romero, that's a different story.

He's the State Auditor, though you may not have recognized his name, either.

Auditors generally tend to take a low profile and stay off the firing line. Not Romero. He is into so many things that some have come to suspect he does not look upon his present post as the capstone to a political career. They expect to see his name on another ballot somewhere down the line, after this tour of duty is over. But that's a story for another day.

What's got Anaya all snarled up at this moment is that Romero has been saying that the Public Employees Retirement Association gave a contract to Tim Kraft, one of Anaya's old buddies, only after crumbling under heavy political pressure. The implication is clear that the pressure came from Toney.

Not so, the Governor says—and this writer, who cannot be beaten at viewing Anaya with suspicion, tends to believe him.

What's more, if you can stand a second shock to your system, we can't even find anything much to complain about in the contract given to the firm Kraft represents in New Mexico. Some Santa Feans have been going on about all this as though it were a second Teapot Dome, but that seems a little steep. The contract's a legitimate one, and the company wants to perform the service it will get paid for. Unless there is something in its offering to do it for part of whatever funds it recovers for the state which violates the Constitution, we'd say give them the contract and let Kraft pocket his profit.

But Anaya's handling of the matter, like his comments on the team of Marr and Hester, seems unlikely to ease tensions between him and those to whom he is delivering the public chops.

You can bet reporters were on the phone to all concerned within minutes after the Governor retired to his office. You can't beat a good long-running name-calling match for providing lots of colorful copy.

With Toney around, our jobs are almost too easy.

Clipped Comment

ALL the boycotting, drug problems and controversy surrounding the 1984 Summer Olympics were laid well into the background Saturday night with one of the most impressive opening ceremonies in the history of the Olympics.

Where else but near Hollywood could you find 84 pianos rising out of nowhere to George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue"? And where else but America would you find a card display depicting all the flags of all the competing countries with every paying customer involved?

You perhaps noticed that some flags were missing—those of the U.S.S.R. and some of its playmates. They decided they wouldn't come play with us this year, and then denounced our opening ceremonies as "propaganda."

If that was propaganda, let's have some more. The boycotting communists are the losers in these, what could be the greatest Olympics ever. Let the games continue.

VITAL INDUSTRY
With some elements slapping at the "developers" and "builders in the area, we would like to say a good word about the home building industry in Otero County.

People who say Alamogordo shouldn't grow and that we are big enough aren't paying attention to what is happening at Holloman Air Force Base. New families are moving into the area, and they must have housing. With many of the homes on base being renovated, this helps create a shortage of suitable places to live.

Home builders of Otero County (and townhouse and condominium builders) are keeping up with supply and demand—at least they are attempting to keep up.

We have had occasion to check out some of the new homes in the area and find the workmanship excellent in most cases. We salute the home builders for this. But there is another very plus factor in home building.

This is the payroll generated by this important industry. How many carpenters, masons, etc., are employed on any given day in Alamogordo. The number must be in the hundreds. This industry is an important part of our economy and primarily is a spinoff from activity at Holloman AFB and to some degree, White Sands Missile Range.

Of course the builders are out to make a buck. Who isn't? Their industry is providing bucks for the well being of the total community as dollars circulate. This is the good news. And there is no bad news on this front.

Mandatory Spanish language programs in the state's public schools?

We appreciate Governor Toney Anaya's desire to implement such a requirement—from the standpoint that school children should be exposed to foreign languages. There are several problems with the idea, however.

The first was raised by state School Superintendent Leonard DeLayo. "The single, most important function of the public schools is to teach kids how to read, write and speak the English language so that they may compete in the American marketplace," DeLayo said.

DeLayo evidently is concerned with the students for whom English is a struggle, and feels that having to take Spanish could deter their ability to master English.

Another problem is that the students' language-learning efforts would be directed toward one language, to the exclusion of others. Enriched programs in Latin and French and other tongues presumably would not be required by law.

Spanish is the best second language for most to know in New Mexico, obviously. It is encouraging that enriched Spanish learning programs like the one in Albuquerque that attracted the governor's attention are being started.

Nothing precludes a local school district that wants to from implementing such programs now. Therefore, there is no point in trying to make them mandatory statewide.—TP

Reporter's Round

by Matt Bosio

A pregnant cat strolled past my place the other day, hunting for a handout. It wasn't the first time I'd seen her outside my door, but it was the first time she appeared so close to giving birth.

She is a regular member of a troupe of cats that fight and lounge at leisure, sharing a common denominator that is unmistakable in its shaggy appearance: homelessness. If they ever had a home and owners that cared about them, they don't now.

This one about to give birth ended up the following morning in a wire trap set by the landlord. There was enough room inside the trap for her to sit halfway comfortably if she had resigned herself to capture.

But instead she spent her time struggling to get free and, finally, managed to get her head stuck outside the cage, the trap door lodged against her throat.

It looked serious enough to be called an emergency, especially since she made no movement once the trap door was lifted. A call to Ruidoso Animal Control eventually brought Animal Control officer Buddy Dean to the scene, angry and disgruntled.

The problem was that the cat had gotten herself captured and injured on a Saturday, which didn't sit too well with Dean.

To top it off, the trauma of the episode had induced premature labor. The cat lay twisting and turning, trying to find relief. She was having some kind of day.

Dean put her in the back of his truck and carted her to his office, where she gave birth that evening to a healthy litter of five.

A few days later, I called up to learn more about Animal Control, the policy on weekends and the quantity of cats and dogs that patrol the village.

Jan Merrill patiently explained to me that Buddy Dean works a 60-hour week, not including weekends. He goes out into the village and seemingly does it all, from shooting injured strays (which is not his responsibility) to tracking down lost canines.

She said Dean only responds on weekends if an emergency exists. Emergencies include injured animals, dead animals and cases of dog bites.

Since Animal Control logs 15 to 20 calls a day, that makes for a lot of work for one man in the field. And since all animals are lodged at Fort Stanton, transported by Dean, the ritual can get old quick.

Jan said the majority of calls concern lost pets and strays. Because Dean has a knack for reuniting loved ones, lost pets and grieving owners are not usually long separated. But the strays are another story.

"People are not very conscientious," Jan pointed out. "They'll get a pet, but if it's too much trouble, then they don't want it."

The simple solution, of course, is to release the dependent pet in the Upper Canyon and forget about it. The animal, now a chubby stray, will revert to its natural instincts and survive. Might even enjoy being out in the woods with its friends.

It is exactly that mentality that angers Jan. She said it's a way of thinking that prevails with summer transients, and because it does, next month will see the usual abundance of loose dogs as people head back to their home states.

"These people just flat leave their dogs," Jan said. "And then (the dogs) start migrating up from Ruidoso Downs into Ruidoso."

The result is "tons and tons of strays," she said. They move through town in packs and tear up garbage and gardens.

Some have even been known to attack people. And all because someone couldn't live without a dog for three months, and now wants to leave it behind.

There are three doberman pinschers that have not been left behind. They are collared and well cared for. But every morning they are allowed to run free and terrorize at will. Who owns those dogs?

Jan said the pet ordinance specifies that all animals, including cats, must be contained, even on private property. She said any pet caught running at large will cost its owner $25 for starters, compounded by the number of days the animal sits at Fort Stanton.

The village will soon be considering a new ordinance that could tighten up many of the weak provisions of the current ordinance.

But without solid and aggressive enforcement, the new ordinance will be no more useful than the one currently on the books. In fact it will be worse, since it will have tried to improve something halfheartedly and failed.

In rewriting the ordinance, the lack of respect a person has for an animal will have to be balanced by the respect a person has for cash. In other words, make the fines heavy and frequent. Put a dollar sign on irresponsibility.

And give Buddy Dean some helping hands so that weekend work considers not only the people at Animal Control but also the plight of so many strays.

One pregnant stray got fortunate and delivered in the warmth of an office. Without some real concern on the part of the village council, it's not likely to happen too often.

County commissioner Bill Elliott (left) gets a few pointers on the operation of the Bomag Recycler from Guy Henley, county Road Department superintendent.

Magnificent Bomag arrives

by MATT BOSISIO
News Staff Writer

The Bomag Recycler finally has arrived and been put to work. And after years of frustration and bewilderment, the residents of Gavilan Canyon Road can begin to breathe a collective sigh of relief.

Cutting the basecourse to a depth of five and a half inches, the mighty Bomag began moving south to north along Gavilan Canyon early last week. It has been chewing up pavement at a rate of 60 feet per minute downhill and on level ground, 45 feet per minute uphill.

The idea is to scrape off the current surface and replace it with one that can be improved and strengthened over the next three years, the expected time frame of the county road project.

"I feel like by the time phase three is over with (in 1986), it will be by far the best road in Lincoln County," exclaimed county commissioner Bill Elliott. "And it will be at least as good as the state roads."

He said Gavilan Canyon is one of the most traveled roads in the county.

Guy Henley, superintendent of the county Road Department, said the Bomag, which resembles a giant roto-tiller, weighs in at somewhere between 31,000 and 35,000 pounds.

The rented Bomag, operated by Jake Lueras, will be dominating the scene on Gavilan Canyon for approximately a month.

County Road Department operator Jake Lueras checks to see that the Bomag is cutting correctly into the pavement. Rented by the Road Department, the giant roto-tiller will be available for road work through the end of August.

Exotic boots are a specialty at R.J. Regalia of Ruidoso. Snake, lizard, ostrich and kangaroo are among the available selections.

These boots are made for buying

by LOIS JEAN GRUSHKA
News Staff Writer

"Where did you get those boots?"
"I bought them at R.J. Regalia!"
R.J. Regalia of Ruidoso has come to town. This Western store brings a line of Larry Mahan and Lucchese Boots, The Mummy's Bundle jewelry, sheepskin articles, and custom and designer clothing.

Owners Larry and Janet Vernon opened for business May 26. The store is stocked to the brim with just about any kind of boot a boot fan could want. Crushed goat, French calf, ostrich, snake, lizard, and ah ... frog, are some of the exotics. Larry was wearing a pair of kangaroos.

"We feature Larry Mahan because whenever anyone tries a pair on, they won't wear anything else," he said. He added that women seemed particularly pleased with the fit.

They also have good of working man's boots, he said. Prices have a wide range. Factory seconds are available at $79.99, but you can spend up to $475 for brown full-quill ostrich.

Western styled clothing is also offered. So are hand-woven designs from Santa Fe, lambskin dresses, snap-button shirts, and Wranglers, of course.

"We're a Western store, but we have a lot of high fashion clothes ... and we have something for everybody's price range," Larry said.

In "the barn" are his discounts.

Factory seconds from the maker in El Paso are available for $79.99 a pair. There is a large selection, and it is often a challenge to find a defect in the boot.

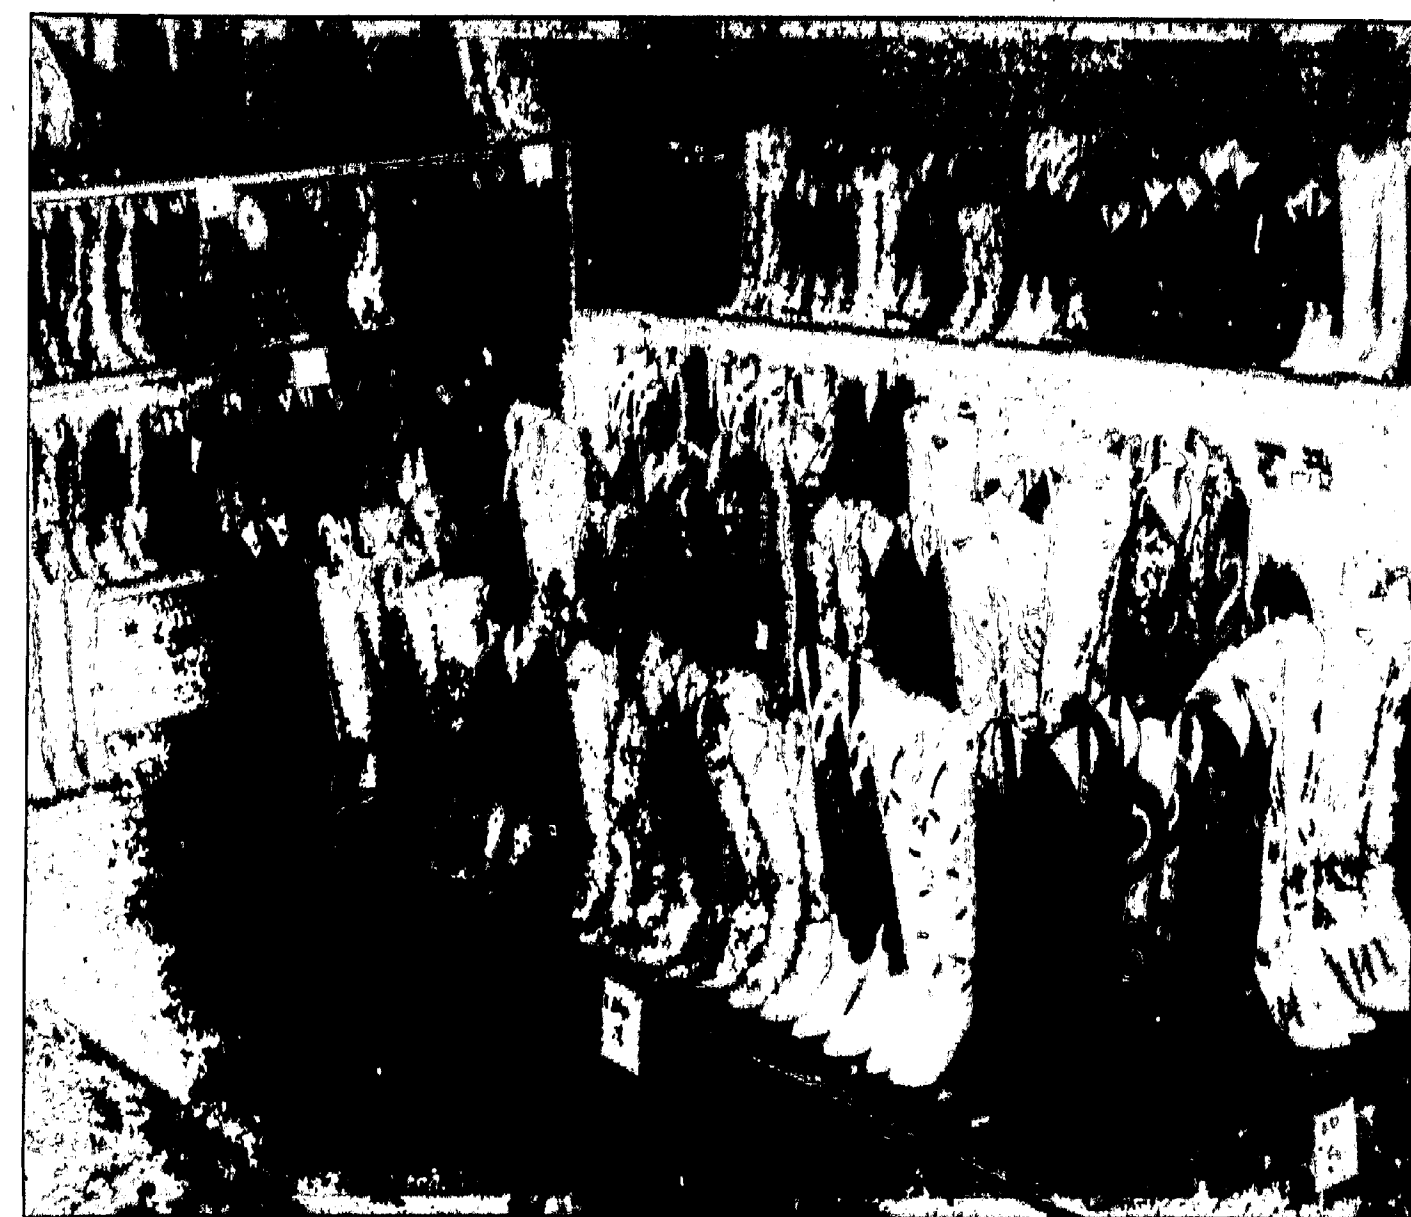

The Vernons stock a wide selection of hats, with the finest in Resistoils. Sheepskin men's and women's coats are for sale in the store, and can be custom ordered. Peltis are also available.

So, if you are in the market for a pair of elephant hide boots, or you are "home on the range," trot on over to R.J. Regalia.

R.J. Regalia is on U.S. Highway 70, near the "Y," and is open seven days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Larry Vernon (pictured) along with his wife, Janet, and son Guy, keeps the doors open seven days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Pictured is the "barn," where factory seconds of Larry Mahan boots can be purchased for $79.99.

There is a wide selection, and finding a defect is as tough as the boot.

The finest in Western wear is stocked in the store. Regalia features lambskin wear and designer fashions, or good ol' Wranglers.

Stewart shines on cable

By Amanda Bruce

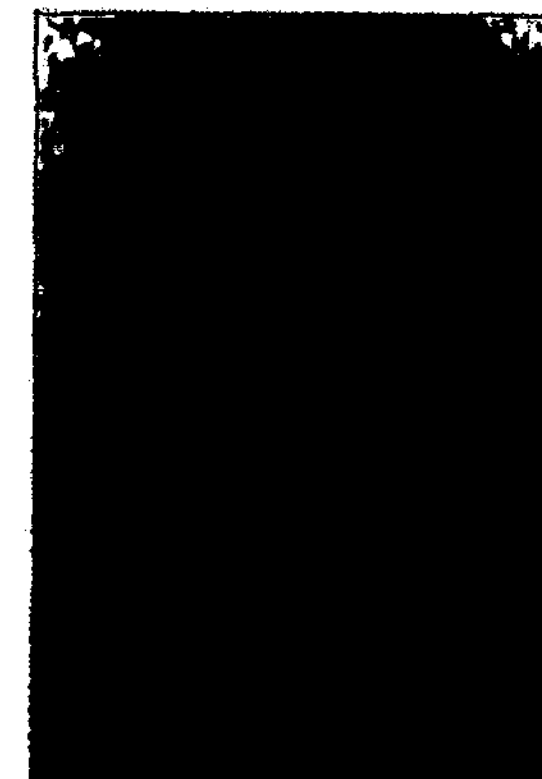

It's Jimmy Stewart month on The Movie Channel, as the tall, lanky actor plays a prize-winner, a concerned father, a family man and the famous Charles Lindbergh.

Stewart plays Lindbergh in the 1957 Billy Wilder film, "The Spirit of St. Louis," airing Aug. 12 and 16. The film is based on Lindbergh's own book detailing his landmark 33½-hour non-stop flight from New York to Paris.

In "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation," airing Aug. 13, Stewart plays a man who takes his family to the seashore and ends up wishing he hadn't. It's a good cast of co-stars, too: Fabian, Maureen O'Hara, John Saxon and John McGiver.

Later in the month, Stewart plays an unexpected father to Sandra Dee in "Take Her, She's Mine," airing Aug. 20, and a reluctant money winner in "The Jackpot," airing Aug. 27.

TEEN TV — Chris Makepeace, host of Nickelodeon's series "Going Great," interviews both celebrities and everyday folk who are of interest to teens. On Aug. 12, Makepeace interviews the youngest journalists on record when he talks with the staff of the Children's Express, a group of New York school kids practicing to become reporters. On the same show, Makepeace will also interview teens who are experts on the trapeze.

On Aug. 19, Makepeace meets the teen idols of Menudo, the Puerto Rican band that has American adolescents astir, and joins Justin Bateman of NBC's "Family Ties" for a baseball game in Los Angeles.

HALL OF FAMERS — It's time for pomp and circumstance in Coopers-town this week as the boys of summer honor their own, inducting baseball greats into the Hall of Fame on Aug. 12. The inductees this year are Don Drysdale, Harmon Killebrew, Luis Aparicio, Pee Wee Reese and Rick Ferrell. ESPN covers the two-and-a-half hour event on a same-day tape delay.

Television Schedule For The Week Of August 6 Through August 12

By Lillian Bono

ARIES
(March 21-April 20) Quietly take stock of your life and be sober about it. Others will assist with problems that lately have been heavy on your shoulders. Outside influences could help a relationship.

Taurus
(April 21-May 21) It is to your advantage to inquire about someone's background before becoming involved. You could be biting off more than you can comfortably chew. Be creative with your work.

GEMINI
(May 22-June 21) Your cheerful mood could be catchy as you draw new friends to your side. Being a live wire will help to improve someone's disposition and could save your position at home.

CANCER
(June 22-July 22) A job assignment could bring more responsibilities than you are willing to assume. Profitable activities are about to play an important role.

LEO
(July 23-Aug. 22) If you have been waiting for a job offer, now is the time to take advantage of a good one that comes your way. Health concerns can cloud your thoughts, but you will overcome anything negative.

VIRGO
(Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A message buoys your spirit and gives you the incentive to save a difficult week. You could be taking a trip to a far-off place that gives you a financial boost. A loved one offers help with projects.

LIBRA
(Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Chores can yield profitable benefits if handled properly. You could turn a hobby into a money-making situation. A new perspective on work and income helps mitigate some of the bad influences of the immediate past.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 23-Nov. 22) If you have recently broken off a friendship, this person will soon get the message that you are worth your weight in gold.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23-Dec. 22) A new romantic attraction could interfere with work. Be creative but down-to-earth when it comes to people who can't make up their minds about you and your future aspirations.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23-Jan. 22) An idea that has been gathering dust should be brought back to life. Social affairs pick up and could set the stage for romantic interludes that you may not be able to maintain.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 23-Feb. 19) Money dealings will flourish and will take the sting out of problems. Pay bills promptly for peace of mind.

PISCES
(Feb. 20-March 20) You may find it difficult to get through to others now as your ideas are neither clear nor precise. Realize that creativity isn't enough to keep you in the limelight — common sense is also important.
