Aspen Parade entries open till Thursday

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce announced that entries for Saturday's Aspen Festival Parade will be accepted through Thursday.

Floors, mounted units, bikes, marching bands and antique cars are just a few of the categories available for the fall celebration. The theme of this year's parade, scheduled for October 6, is "Anything Goes."

The grand marshal will be Gordon Snidow, cowboy artist, Western art pioneer and local resident.

Other entries include politicians Pat Ward, Anita Sanders, Ben Hall, Sandra Grisham and Wilton Howell, Roy Nakayama, the father of chili, the Ruidoso High School Band and the Ruidoso Middle School Band; floats by the Rio Grande Soaring Association, the Ruidoso Police Department, the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital Emergency Department and the Texas Club; the Rocket Riders Shrine Club of Alamogordo, the winner of the New Mexico Cinderella Pageant, and the 17-member drill team from New Mexico Military Institute.

As a special treat for the kids, McGruff, the crime-fight hound, will be on hand to ride the Police Department float and wave to the crowd.

The parade departs at 11 a.m. from the corner of Sudderth and Mechem, and terminates on Bishop Street. Parade entries are being taken at the chamber office on Sudderth.

Preparations also continue for two other events scheduled Saturday—the state championship Chili Cook-off and the midtown Street Festival.

Chili Cook-off organizer Gail Adams announced that Lieutenant Governor Mike Runnels will be one of the judges for the event. Site of the cook-off is the parking lot of Nottingham's Pub in midtown, beginning at 11 a.m.

Besides the cooking and tasting chili, several games are planned for chili aficionados attending the cook-off. These will include an egg toss, a lemon roll, "plumber's friend," chile punt, pass and kick. Billy the Kid look-alike contest, tortilla toss, and wet T-shirt and ugly foot competition.

The only charge for spectators at the cook-off is one dollar to buy a bowl for tasting chili.

The Street Festival, also set for the midtown area, gets under way at 2 p.m. Featured entertainment will include square dancers, break dancers, jugglers and a clown. Various musicians will perform, too.

Gymnasts and firemen will give demonstrations, with the firefighters rappelling.

Warriors tie Rams, stay unbeaten

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

They may not have ended up on the long end of the score as they did in their first three games, but the Ruidoso High School varsity football team gained a giant measure of respect by tying host Portales 20-20 Friday night.

The game was played in steady rain and hail, which made footing treacherous and holding the ball tough for both teams.

Ruidoso, now 3-0-1 on the season and sixth ranked in the Associated Press state AAA division poll, gained the tie against the state's fourth-ranked AAA team by driving 40 yards for a touchdown and two-point conversion with just over five minutes left in the contest.

Quarterback Russell Easter finished the drive with a one-yard plunge on fourth down for the touchdown.

The Warriors then went for the two-point conversion and Easter found senior tight end Chuck Jarrell all alone in the right side of the end zone for the two points and the tie.

The drive was set up by a Ram fumble on the Portales 40.

Easter ran for 15 yards to the 25, but a pass was incomplete on the next play.

The Warriors then moved 21 yards in four plays to the four.

Ruidoso appeared to be over the goal line on a couple of plays, but the referees ruled the ball short. However, Easter bulled over on fourth down for the score.

The Warriors had to hold off two more short Portales drives to preserve the tie.

After holding the Rams on the next series, the Warriors received a short punt but the ball was fumbled on the 30.

Ruidoso held the hosts and ran the ball for four plays before punting again. Time ran out before Portales was able to get into good field position.

Ruidoso started the game off in impressive style.

On the second play from scrimmage, Easter ran 51 yards down the sidelines to the Portales four.

After a short gain and offside penalties on both teams, Michael Williamson ran over for the touchdown from the one.

The run for the extra point was short, but the Warriors led 6-0 with 10:35 left in the first quarter.

But Portales struck back quickly, driving 61 yards in six plays for a touchdown.

Halfback Tony Pena, who scored all three Portales touchdowns, ran in from the 10 for the touchdown.

The run for the two-point conversion failed, and the score was tied 6-6 with 7:20 left in the opening period.

Williamson put the Warriors ahead with 15 seconds left in the first period when he dashed 63 yards for a touchdown.

The Warrior junior, who led Ruidoso with 110 yards rushing, broke through a hole, cut to his right and outran several Ram players for the score.

A pass for the two-point conversion was incomplete, but the Warriors led 12-6 at the end of the quarter.

Pena tied the game with a 15-yard run to finish a short drive in the early part of the second period.

Quarterback Rod Emerson then threw a pass to Von Buzzard for the two-point conversion, and Portales led 14-12.

The Rams went ahead 20-12 in the closing moments of the first half on a two-yard run by Pena. A pass for the two-point conversion failed, and Portales led 20-12 at halftime.

At the beginning of the second half, Portales picked up where it left off by driving 50 yards to the Ruidoso 12.

However, Ruidoso's Kevin Jameson recovered a Ram fumble there and the Warriors started a drive of their own.

Easter, who did not complete a pass in the first half, completed two in the drive. One was a 19-yarder to Mike Smith, and the other was a 26-yarder to wingback Justin Smith, who was stopped at the Ram 10.

Williamson ran for two to the eight, but the drive stalled there and a quarterback sack ended the threat.

On the next series, Portales fumbled. The Warriors then drove in for the tying touchdown and extra point.

Ruidoso gained 312 yards total offense while the Rams had 318. Besides Williamson's running, Easter completed three passes for 60 yards and gained 89 yards on the ground.

The Warriors again proved tough in the turnover department, forcing four Portales fumbles and intercepting a pass when sophomore Jeff Willingham picked one off in the first half. It was Willingham's fifth interception of the season.

"I guess the biggest thing we did was we proved we could play with a very good ball club," Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson said. "They're a big, physical team, the best we've played this season."

Henderson also praised the Warrior defense for stopping the Portales offense in the second half after it had scored three touchdowns in the first half.

Now the Warriors will host New Mexico Military Institute Friday in Ruidoso's homecoming game.

New Mexico Military Institute lost to Tularosa 14-6 Friday. The Warriors clubbed Tularosa 28-6 last week.

NOTES: The Warrior coaches selected tackle Chris Woodul as the offensive player of the game. Willingham was named the top defensive player, and Steve Gonzales was the top scout team player of the week.

Petition calls for pediatrician at local hospital

by C.E. REUTHER
News Staff Writer

Hundreds of people have signed a petition asking for a pediatrician in Ruidoso, says the woman who circulated the document recently.

Last week, Andree Cohen presented the signatures to Ken Moore, Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital administrator.

"Being pregnant myself, it came to my attention that we do not have a pediatrician in Ruidoso," Cohen said with a wry smile as she presented the petition Thursday.

"There's no reason we shouldn't get the best pediatric care right here in Ruidoso," she added.

Cohen noticed an ad in The Ruidoso News for BCA Medical Associates. The Roswell doctors plan to send a pediatrician to Ruidoso every Wednesday, beginning October 3. The doctor would use Dr. E. V. Stalzer's office on Sudderth Drive.

She would like to see a full-time pediatrician here, and started the petition with that aim. She said she gathered hundreds of signatures of backers in a little more than a week.

"I have not been to the schools, or out to the day care centers," she said. Cohen believes she could easily gather more support. "This is just from a week to 10 days of running into people."

She sees a couple of possible problems with the Wednesday pediatrician plan. First, the Roswell doctors cannot admit their patients to the Ruidoso hospital.

Moore said they had not yet asked for permission for that. They would have to send seriously ill patients to hospitals out of town.

Second, if a child became sick on a day other than Wednesday, visits to the doctor might be delayed up to a week.

Moore generally agreed with her, and said hospital board members discussed the Roswell doctors' plan at their recent meeting. "Having a pediatrician here one day a week is better than none," he said.

The hospital board instructed Moore to discuss a full-time practice with the Roswell group. He plans to ask if they would consider expanding into a full-time practice in Ruidoso.

He said they might want to gauge demand, or seek office space near the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

Moore said the hospital might also consider recruiting a full-time pediatrician for Ruidoso. If either the doctors' group or the hospital does that, they would be likely to approach members of the medical class who will graduate next June, he said.

Ruidoso might get a full-time pediatrician next summer, Moore said, but the hospital would not want to settle for just any doctor. "To get the background we're after, it could be August," he said.

"It'll either be those guys, or we'll bring somebody else in," he predicted.

However, he indicated he would hate to see a doctor come into the area without access to needed equipment. Moore used his discussion with Cohen as an opportunity to urge support of the hospital levy placed before voters this November.

"Equipment is one thing we'd spend the mill levy on," he said.

Moore also mentioned results of an examination of income and expenses from the last fiscal year. "We made a whopping $18,000 profit," he said.

The hospital had operating expenses of $4,764,519, so that profit represented money to stay in operation for two days, he said.

Moore said he planned to pass the petition along to hospital medical staff and board members.

Motorcycle Festival a success, despite the weather

by MATT BOSISIO
News Staff Writer

Despite the generally miserable weather, the Ruidoso Motorcycle Festival managed to send home delighted motorcyclists and vendors, many of them promising to return next year.

Nancy Radziewicz, one of the organizers of this year's festival, reported low participation in certain events, but overall success throughout the four days of the festival.

"It was fine," she said. "We had very positive responses from the vendors. Many of them already put down a deposit for next year ... But the weather was a problem."

The Scavenger Hunt-Poker Run Friday, intended to draw the motorcyclists into local shops, met with mixed reviews from business people, and a suggestion for next year.

"We had a few (bikers) dribbling in this morning," said Florence Wilson of the Roadrunner. "Probably 30 today."

She said a few of the visitors had stayed and shopped, but many were in a hurry to continue the hunt.

"I imagine we got a few we might not have gotten otherwise," she said. "So it's a good idea."

Herb Brunell of Brunell's seemed to think the concept was good for business, particularly his.

"In fact," he said, "for the cost involved—which is nothing to me—the return's been good."

About two dozen motorcyclists stopped in his store to select from sets of buttons offered for the scavenger hunt. Several browsed and made purchases.

At Old Mill Curios, Donna Druss reported that about 20 people showed up for the event and made off with the postcard she provided for the hunt.

"But as far as people staying and purchasing things, no," she said. "They come in, pick up the postcard, look around for a minute and leave."

She wasn't sure whether the scavenger hunt did any more than simple curiosity would to draw people into town and into the shops.

According to organizers, motorcyclists were to be given a blue, pink or white sheet of paper with the names of the shops they had to visit on it.

Jean Stillman of SJS Lock & Safe Company said she was down on all three lists. As a result, she recorded 75 different visits from participants in the event.

She said she made some keys and sold a few padlocks and key rings. But she got the feeling that the motorcyclists were rushed.

"They felt a little pressured to find what they were supposed to and get on to the next place," Stillman said. "A lot of them said, 'I just wish we had a little more time.'"

She suggested that the hunt begin next year on the first day and be stretched out over two or three days. In that way, she said, the bikers would stick around and do some shopping.

The idea, though, was great, she said. "The bikers really enjoyed it. The first-timers saw Ruidoso, and the old-timers saw what's new in Ruidoso."

Throughout much of the festival, the weather played havoc with participants. Many riders reported foul weather in all directions, said Radziewicz, with snow in Colorado and rain, high winds and fog elsewhere.

"It was just a freaky thing," she said, which may have added to a lower-than-expected turnout for the scavenger hunt.

Radziewicz also reported that there were no incidents or accidents on the grounds—at the Super Select Sales Arena—festival headquarters.

Winner of the McDonald's Gigantic $1,000 Poker Run prize was Charles Griffin of McLean, Texas.

Betty Albert of Covington, Louisiana, was the winner of the first grand prize, a custom-dressed touring Honda, complete with a Poly Tron Cargo Trailer, valued at $15,000.

The second grand prize, an Eagle HI Cargo Trailer, worth $925, went to Larry Reed of Hill City, Kansas.

And the third grand prize went to Bob Moliene of La Luz. Moliene won the European tour package, valued at $2,500.

Public television station KENW of Portales, Channel 3, was on hand for the festival. The station filmed numerous events, including Saturday's parade. Broadcast of those events will begin today (Monday) at 5 p.m.

Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor estimated the number of motorcycles at about 7,500, with the total number of people attending the event set at more than 9,000.

Swenor said there was one minor accident before Saturday's parade, but nothing major. He said the accident amounted to two bikers bumping each other and dropping their motorcycles.

"Overall, as far as we know from incident reports and accident reports," he said, "we had no trouble at all. It was one of the best ones we've had."

The huge numbers of cyclists who arrived for the festival discount this rider's claim.

Saturday's festival events were highlighted by the "Caravan of the Boulevard." From the beginning flag-carrying cyclists (above), to this moto-family (below), to the wide-eyed good-bye of Wichita Falls, Texas, rider Jerry Agrima's trailer companion (right), the parade was a vivid image of the essence of the festival.

Business

Taco Villa breaking new ground

by MATT BOBISIO
News Business Writer

Regarding Ruidoso as a test market with an unusually high growth potential, Taco Villa came to town recently, armed to do business.

Craig Van Amburgh, director of marketing at the company's corporate headquarters in Midland, Texas, said some early basic research convinced the company that the area is far from stagnating in terms of business and capital investment.

"The main reason we picked Ruidoso is that our growth goals over the next two years are in Texas and New Mexico," said Van Amburgh. "And our growth plans dictated ... that Ruidoso is a very good place for us to go."

He said the company examined traffic flow, per capita income and gross potential, and that all three aspects pointed to a strong market.

Even the company's sales people had noted the physical potential during drives from Alamogordo to Roswell, he said.

But because the town relies heavily on tourism, he noted, there was uncertainty about whether the Ruidoso outlet could expect the type of growth other Taco Villages register, particularly during the off-season.

"So it's a test market in a sense, since it's the first time we've started up in a tourist industry town," Van Amburgh said.

Two other firsts at the Ruidoso outlet, on lower Sudderth Drive, relate specifically to design.

Van Amburgh said the company has studied interior and exterior store design over the last couple of years to make their outlets nationwide more attractive and functional.

The two design changes at the Ruidoso store, which may be carried to other stores, are a covered drive-through window and an exterior playground.

Both changes have worked well for the local store. Manager Chris Beard said the covered drive-through is "one of the best things they've incorporated in years. And the playground is a nice thing. It adds a nice touch."

Beard said the covering over the drive-through protects customers and window employees from rain and wind, and makes the ordering and pickup process more reasonable.

And the playground has been so

Pitching in on the burrito line, Chris Beard says he wants to serve local residents and the community at large. The new Taco Villa on Sudderth is one of six in New Mexico and 49 nationwide.

popular, he said, that a daily maintenance schedule has been established to straighten up after the kids.

Van Amburgh said each Taco Villa store has a monthly goal of $40,000 gross. While the Ruidoso store has had no difficulty matching or surpassing that goal as yet, he said, it is anticipated that some of the slower months will require bolstering from the summer and skiing months.

He emphasized that the local trade, though, would be as aggressively sought as the tourist dollar. Beard agreed.

"We're a community-oriented company and we're here to serve the community," he said. "We're here full time and we want to relate that to the community."

Beard said as one of the year-round businesses, Taco Villa wants to be a part of the growing town.

"We're not here to take the money and run. We're here to put something back into the community."

Both Van Amburgh and Beard said the next major thrust for the Ruidoso store would be the marketing of its breakfast line.

Breakfast is an increasing tradition with fast food franchises, including other Taco Villages. Beard said the breakfast items available now naturally complement the overall product line of the company.

For example, he said, Taco Villa offers a menu item known as the breakfast burrito. The burrito comes wrapped around eggs, eggs and sausage, eggs and ham, or eggs and meat. All are offered with a choice of sauces.

In addition, said Beard, orange juice, Danish pastry and hash browns are available, as well as the company's full product line.

"It's for people who normally don't have time for breakfast," he said. "And they can eat the burrito in their car without making a mess."

Beard expects the breakfast business to take hold before long, particularly since a fast-food type breakfast is served in only one other location in town.

Described by Beard as a Mexican-style family restaurant, the local Taco Villa employs 20 persons and is open daily. And though it is less than two months old, the customers are finding it pleasing to the palate.

"It's coming along real well for us," said Beard. "And we expect, in the next few months, that it'll pick up in line with our projected goals."

Yule tree permits

The Lincoln National Forest will again this year sell Christmas trees to individuals for their personal use. A total of 3,900 trees, mainly pinon pine, will be available for cutting in five areas of the forest.

Fir trees will be sold only in the Mayhill District, due to the damage caused by the current spruce budworm infestation.

Permits will sell for $5, and will entitle the holder to a tree up to 10 feet in height. Applications for a permit will be available about the first of November.

The application will contain the location of the cutting areas and the number of trees available. As the time approaches, additional information will be made available by the offices of the Lincoln National Forest.

Buildings sold

First Capital Corporation, a national real estate investment company, has acquired five bank buildings that belonged to Moncor Bank, N.A., of New Mexico in a long-term sale leaseback transaction for a total of $11,943,099.

Moncor Bank, including the Ruidoso-based branch, has become the lessee of the buildings.

Moncor president James Atwood said the sale "was simply, primarily, a business move." He said the leaseback transaction provides the bank with the option of buying the buildings back a few years down the road.

Atwood said the transaction was a profitable move, intended to allow the bank "to take a profit on the real estate."

Besides Ruidoso, First Capital purchased the Moncor buildings in Carlsbad, Rio Rancho, Artesia and Roswell.

'85 cars coming

New car and truck prices are going up, but both Ruidoso new car dealerships report that plenty of 1985 models will be on hand this month.

Clark Scott, vice president of Buck's All-American Ford-Lincoln-Mercury, said he expected to have a full line of new cars and trucks on the lot by October 4.

He said he also expected the accompanying price tag to average about 10 percent higher than last year for the same model.

Ted Durham, general manager of Sierra Blanca Motors, said he would be fully stocked with 1985 models between the middle and the end of the month.

He said he was looking for an average increase of approximately 2.2 percent over last year.

Both men said their stocks of 1984 model cars and trucks were lower than usual, attesting to a strong year in sales.

Warrior spikers to take on Dexter, lose district opener to Hot Springs

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School's varsity volleyball team will take a break from District 3-AAA action to travel to Dexter Tuesday night.

There also will be junior varsity and freshman contests. The freshman match will begin at 4:45 p.m., with junior varsity and varsity matches following.

Ruidoso, which dropped its varsity district opener in three sets to tough Hot Springs last Tuesday, lost to Dexter at the Cloudercroft Tournament earlier in the season. The Warriors are 1-5 on the overall campaign.

But head coach Pixie Arthur thinks the Warriors will do better this time against the Wildcats.

"After the Hot Springs defeat, we've had three great practices," she said. "I like the way the girls have come back and worked hard."

"We can't play down to their level (Dexter's), that's what we did last time. They're not as strong as Hot Springs. Hot Springs is without a doubt the strongest team we've faced so far this year. They clobbered Silver City."

Indeed Hot Springs is strong. The Tigers finished second in the state AAA division tournament last season, and only lost one player from that team.

In the match against Hot Springs, the Warriors lost 15-9, 15-7, 15-3.

After trailing 11-1 in the first set, Ruidoso came back on the strong serving of Sheila Espinosa and scored eight straight points for an 11-9 deficit. Espinosa served all the points.

But Hot Springs hung on for the win and took the next two sets for the match victory.

"I was disappointed," Arthur admitted. "I thought we might do better. But they're a very good team."

The Ruidoso junior varsity and freshman teams also lost to strong Tiger squads. However, they have shown steady improvement this season.

The Warrior junior varsity is 1-2 on the season and the freshmen are 0-2.

Bowling leagues start action

League play at Jerry Dale's Bowling Center will begin Wednesday, October 10.

Several leagues will be competing at the new bowling center. There will be league play every day of the week. Several leagues are also playing at Drumm's Holiday Bowl.

Brave gridders have mixed breaks in 6-6 tie with Hagerman Bobcats

The Ruidoso Middle School A football team got both bad and good breaks in a 6-6 tie with visiting Hagerman Thursday night.

Ruidoso, now 0-1-1 on the season, led 6-0 with 3:30 left in the game. The Braves were on the Hagerman two-yard line. A fumbled handoff was picked up by a Bobcat player and returned 98 yards for a touchdown. The run for the extra point was no good, and the game ended in a tie.

In the third quarter, Hagerman had a long touchdown run called back because of a clip.

The Braves scored their only touchdown on a 90-yard run in the first half by fullback Dusty Beavers. Beavers broke through the line of scrimmage and outran two Hagerman players for the touchdown.

Beavers' run from scrimmage was probably one of the longest in the school's history.

The run for the two-point conversion was short, but Ruidoso led 6-0 at halftime.

Ruidoso ran the ball well, particularly in the second half. Beavers and Charles Smith both reeled off long gains.

"I felt we played better," said Brave coach Terry Wharton after the game. "Our running game was better. We got it going in the second half. Our defense also played pretty well. They had a lot of playing time in the first half."

"Matt Beatty did a great job at quarterback. He fired the guys up and helped keep us in there."

The Braves will play their next A contest this Saturday, hosting Moriarty in a 1 p.m. game. The Ruidoso B team, 1-0 on the season, will host Carizozo Saturday, October 13.

Warrior junior varsity battles Tularosa to tie

The Ruidoso High School junior varsity football team took a 6-6 tie with host Tularosa Saturday afternoon.

Bubba Miller scored the Warrior touchdown on a pass from Rod Wright in the third quarter. That score tied the game, but a Ruidoso run for a two-point conversion was stopped short and the game ended in a draw.

Tularosa had taken the advantage in the second quarter on a touchdown pass, and led 6-0 at halftime.

The Warrior defense was especially impressive in the contest, stopping several Wildcat drives.

"I felt the defense played really good," said Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson. "The offense was a bit inconsistent in the first half."

"In the first half, the defense played with its back to the wall several times, and did a good job holding them."

Ruidoso, now 1-0-2 on the season, will travel to Artesia Thursday for a 6 p.m. contest. The two teams played last Saturday in Ruidoso, with the Warriors taking a 22-19 victory over the Bulldogs.

Ray, Hudson win honors

Mary Hudson won the low net title and Winnie Ray took the low gross crown in Cree Meadows Ladies Golf Association action last Tuesday.

Play was called after nine holes because of rain.

In action September 19, Bobbie Abel won the low gross championship and Ray took the low net crown.

Action September 11 saw Claudine Morrison and Mary Hudson win the team low net title.

In play September 4, Marilyn Bloodworth won the low gross championship and Ann Cunningham took the low net crown.

Mary LeCrone won the low gross title for nine holes and Dorothy Dale took the low net championship that date.

Broncos, Cowboys win again

Both the Broncos and the Cowboys took shutout victories Saturday in Ruidoso Little League major division football action at White Mountain School.

The Cowboys will play the Broncos next Saturday in a battle of undefeated teams.

Fishing Report

Ruidoso River: The fishing is fair. Some trout are being taken on fireballs and worms.

Alto Lake: The fishing is fair. Some trout are being taken on fireballs and marshmallows, fishing off the bottom.

Bonito Lake: The fishing is good. Some good-sized trout are being taken on worms.

In the minor division contest, the Lions continued undefeated with a 12-0 victory over the Raiders.

The success of the United States gymnasts at the recent Summer Olympics is helping to encourage young gymnasts in the Ruidoso area.

Over 90 youths have signed up for the fall gymnastics classes offered by the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department in conjunction with the Ruidoso School of Gymnastics and Creative Fitness.

"Things are going great," said Robyn Garrett Johnson, who is in charge of the recreation gymnastics program. "A lot of kids have signed up."

"The Olympics have definitely helped spur interest in our program. It's always that way in an Olympic year. Everybody has heard about Mary Lou Retton (the United States gymnast who won the Olympic women's all-around championship)."

Classes will begin Monday, October 8, in a building near the Upper Canyon. The building will be called the Village of Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Center.

The kinds of classes offered include a class for tots one and a half to two and a half years old; pre-gymnastics classes for youths three to four years old and five to six years old; a class for youths seven years old and up; and an intermediate class for more advanced gymnasts seven years old and up.

There will also be a class for boy gymnasts, with particular emphasis on the parallel bars, rings and trampoline.

Most of the gymnasts that have signed up so far are girls. About one-sixth of the youths who have registered are boys.

"There are a number of boys in the younger classes," Johnson said. "It just seems that as boys get older, they turn to other sports, like football and soccer."

Besides the recreation gymnastics program, the Ruidoso School of Gymnastics and Creative Fitness will have a competitive program when it gets a permanent building.

The recreation building is somewhat limited in space for the floor exercise. However, there is ample room for a good tumbling program and other exercises.

The school's competitive gymnasts are working with the Pecos Valley Gymnastics Club in Roswell until the new building is available. Funds are being raised for the new building.

"We're looking at three parcels of land—where the building might be located," said Bonnie Richardson, president of the gymnastics school. "However, we haven't made a decision yet."

"We're hopeful of having a place within a year."

Regardless of when the new gymnastics school building is completed, the future of youth gymnastics in the Ruidoso area is definitely on the rise.

And much of the credit can go to those outstanding performers we saw on the television screen during the summer.

A Ruidoso High School freshman football player is tackled after a short gain during Thursday afternoon's game with the Alamogordo eighth-grade team on the Warrior field. The Warriors lost a tight 8-6 decision and are now 0-2 on the season. Ruidoso will play Thursday against visiting Tularosa in a 6 p.m. contest.

Ruidoso frosh lose cliffhanger to Alamogordo

In a game highlighted by hard defensive play, the Ruidoso High School freshman football team dropped an 8-6 decision to the visiting Alamogordo eighth-grade team Thursday night.

Ruidoso, now 0-2 on the season, trailed 8-0 in the first quarter. The Warriors scored their only touchdown on a five-yard run by fullback Jef Sherwood in the second period.

The run for the conversion was stopped short of the goal line, and Alamogordo held on for the win.

Sherwood's score finished a 40-yard drive.

Earlier in the game, the Warriors had a good drive that fell short. The big play of the drive was a 40-yard pass from quarterback Bobby Lane to Sean Moore.

The second half was dominated by both defenses.

Coach Ridge Bowden felt his team's passing game was improved, but that the running game suffered in comparison to the Warriors' opener against Roswell.

"Our defense played good in the second half, however," he said. "We stopped them several times when we had to."

Ruidoso will host Tularosa this Thursday night at 6.

Brave volleyball team defeats Hagerman, will host Capitan Tigers Tuesday afternoon

The Ruidoso Middle School A volleyball team continued its steady improvement with a 15-8, 15-11 victory over visiting Hagerman Saturday at the high school gymnasium.

Ruidoso, now 1-4 on the season, never trailed in the first set but had to come from behind to win the second set.

The Braves jumped off to a 9-2 lead in the second set, but the Bobcats scored eight straight points for a 10-9 edge. However, the Braves settled down and came back to win the set and the victory. Bertha Chavira served the winning point.

Mikki Roller served nine points in the second set for the winners. Jennifer Jimenez served six points in the first set.

The Brave B team lost a 15-9, 15-4 decision to Hagerman. Leslie Spencer served well and Felisha Casteel did a good job passing the ball for the Braves.

"I think we played much better," said Brave coach Jim Hofstad of his A team. "We've improved quite a bit. We made 94 percent of our serves in the first set and 80 percent for the whole match."

Ruidoso will host Capitan at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Brave gymnasium. Capitan won the first match between the two teams two weeks ago.

Ruidoso boosters to meet Tuesday

The Ruidoso High School Warrior Booster Club will have a meeting at 7:30 Tuesday night in the conference room at the new high school.

There will be meetings every Tuesday night at 7:30 during the football-volleyball season.

Everyone interested in helping Warrior athletics is encouraged to attend the weekly meetings.

Unbeaten Grizzlies romp

The Carrizozo High School Grizzlies varsity football team raised their record to 4-0 with a runaway 68-34 victory over visiting Anthony, Texas, Friday night.

The Grizzlies jumped off to a 32-0 first-quarter edge, and head coach Dennis Sidebottom played reserves the rest of the game.

Kenneth Crenshaw scored four touchdowns to lead the Carrizozo offense. Troy Hollis added two touchdowns, while Hal Roueche and Joe Candelaria each added one.

Crenshaw and Charles Zamora anchored the Grizzly defense, each getting a number of tackles.

Anthony had a 2-1 record entering the contest, but the Grizzlies put the game away early.

Carrizozo has now scored 167 points while holding its opponents to just 40

Under-12 tie highlights action in soccer league competition

The Sierra Blanca Bandits and Coulston and Associates Realtors United battled to a 2-2 tie in Ruidoso-Optimist Soccer Association under-12 action Saturday at White Mountain School.

In the other under-12 Saturday match, the National Door Celtics nipped the Blackhawk Electric Blackhawks 2-1. In a match Thursday, the Bandits topped the Celtics 5-1.

In under-eight action Saturday, the Radio Shack Raiders blanked Coulston and Associates United 9-0, and the Tigers defeated the Wranglers 3-0. Under-eight action Thursday saw the Wranglers top United 2-0. In a Wednesday match, the Raiders edged the Moncor Cosmos 1-0.

Ruidoso's only under-14 team, the Warriors, dropped a 2-0 decision to a Roswell team Saturday.

The Warriors, who are sponsored by Pioneer Savings and Burke Collins Associates, are 1-1 on the season.

Action will continue this week at White Mountain School. Matches will be played Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Camp Sierra Blanca danger downplayed by state official

by SHARON MAKOKIAN

Although the minimum security prison at Camp Sierra Blanca houses the "least dangerous" inmates in the state, according to Corrections Secretary Mike Francke, it does not comply with the county commissioners' April resolution asking that no prisoners convicted of violent offenses be placed there.

At a town meeting in Capitan Thursday night, Francke and other Corrections officials discussed the prison, which is near Fort Stanton, and the community.

"We've received indication that some local citizens were unhappy about having a prison in the area," said Francke. "We wanted to come down and open the lines of communication—to talk turkey."

Attending the meeting were Lieutenant Governor Mike Runnels, Camp Sierra Blanca (CSB) warden Bob Marrs, various Corrections officials and Corrections Commission members, Capitan Mayor David Cummins, County Manager Suzanne Cox and Lincoln County Sheriff Tom Sullivan. Only a handful of local residents attended.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the prisoner classification system. This system determines which prisoners are placed at CSB.

"I suspect that people prefer the least dangerous prisoners and this is the lightest weight institution," said

Francke. "The other two minimum security institutions have tougher prisoners." He noted that CSB has no rapists or murderers—first or second degree.

However, 16 of the 45 inmates at CSB are currently serving time for violent offenses. According to Marrs, one prisoner is there for voluntary manslaughter, four for armed robbery, four for robbery, one for false imprisonment, two for aggravated battery and two for aggravated assault. Crimes of the other inmates include shoplifting, forgery, fraud and drug trafficking.

CSB has a work furlough program for which prisoners with three years or less left to serve on their sentences are eligible. Marrs stressed that all prisoners working in the community are carefully screened, and that work furlough is "a privilege, not a right."

Escapes from CSB usually average five or six a year, but there have been no escapes so far in 1984. Marrs attributes this to the new (as of 1983) classification system.

"I think this is the best classification system ever," he said. "If you get the wrong people, there are escapes."

Allen Sherman, director of classification, explained the system and the changes. The current system began in the spring of 1983.

When a prisoner is first convicted in the state, he is sent to the state's reception and diagnostic center for one or two months. After evaluative tests and medical and psychological screening, a recommendation is made on where to place the prisoner.

Several committees review the recommendation before placing of the inmate. If a warden feels that a prisoner should not have been sent to his institution, he can appeal the decision.

Sherman described the breakdown of prison divisions. There are three types of prisons: minimum security, where the prisoners are not considered risks to the community; medium security (such as at Las Cruces and Los Lunas); and maximum security—the penitentiary in Santa Fe.

Sherman stressed that no prisoners are sent to CSB without psychological evaluation and clearance. All prisoners at CSB must be physically fit to work.

A few years ago, before the new system was implemented, there were some problems at CSB, it was noted. In 1981, there were a murder committed in the camp.

Sheriff Sullivan said that in 1979 and 1980, "There were some pretty bad horrors in there."

Sherman said that when he took over the Classification Department in 1983, he moved the last of the dangerous prisoners to the state penitentiary.

The community, however, would prefer that there were no inmates convicted of violent offenses placed at CSB. Because of this concern, the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners passed a resolution on April 24 asking that none of those prisoners be sent to CSB. Yet, as noted earlier, 16 inmates are there for violent offenses.

Once again, Francke stressed that CSB houses only the "lightest" criminals. He explained, "I've got 70 beds (at CSB) and a full system. If we take those 16 out, they'll be replaced with 16 that aren't as nice. I can't afford to let beds go vacant."

Francke also said that CSB "looks like a Boy Scout camp to me. If I were a prisoner, I wouldn't act up, because they won't get transferred to another minimum security facility."

Warden Marrs said he felt comfortable with the prisoners at CSB.

"No one is more interested in this than me," he said. "My family lives right on the grounds."

Also discussed at the meeting were Corrections Industries and volunteers. Jim Mickelson, director of Corrections Industries, told the group that plans are under way to produce "high-tech, state-of-the-art" furniture at another facility. CSB would serve as a research and development center for the furniture plant.

Marie Porter, coordinator of volunteer services, expressed her appreciation to the volunteers who were in the audience, and stressed the need for volunteers. Prisoners need contact with volunteers from the outside world because most will eventually return there, she said. There are 700 prison-volunteers in New Mexico.

Towards the end of the meeting, Mayor Cummins commented on the lack of local attendance at the meeting.

"If something's going good, they don't give a damn," he said. "But if something goes wrong, then they're on your can."

Dorothy Guck and a life in good company, from Smokey to Jerry Ford

An artist as well as a writer, Dorothy Guck paints many beautiful scenic pictures. Dorothy never sells any of her artwork, but she does donate some of the miniatures

by SHARON MAKOKIAN
News Capitan Bureau

What does Nogal resident Dorothy Guck have in common with former President Gerald Ford? They have both received the "most distinguished alumnus" award from South High School in Michigan.

Dorothy was in Grand Rapids for her class reunion earlier this month. Every year, the city of Grand Rapids has a "Celebration on the Grand," complete with a parade. In this year's parade on September 6, Jerry Ford was the grand marshal. Behind him rolled a double-decker bus covered with banners proclaiming that it contained "Jerry's 1931 classmates." Dorothy rode in that bus.

Their class reunion was the next day. It was held in John Ball Park—"140 acres of flowers, lawns, trees, ponds ... and the second largest zoo in Michigan."

"We gathered around the band shell and sang the old songs," said Dorothy. "They even had me sing 'Smokey the Bear.'"

"At 2:30 p.m., Jerry's car pulled up," she continued. "He grabbed me and hugged me ... I wouldn't wash my cheek for a week!" Dorothy said that she and Ford had kept in touch all this time, and that he remained the same friendly person after he became president.

The day that Ford became vice president had special meaning for Dorothy. In high school, they had been voted the boy and girl who achieved the most. "When he became vice president," she said, "I took out my trophy and shined it up."

Actually, becoming the president of the United States was hardly Ford's first crack at politics. In high school, Dorothy ran for vice president on Ford's presidential ticket.

He lost, but she won.

When Ford was choosing a running mate in the U.S. presidential election, Dorothy wrote to him that she was available. He didn't reply at the time, but they joked about it later.

That afternoon at the reunion, Dorothy was named Alumnus of the Year and was awarded a check from the class as a Smokey Bear conservationist. The check was to be presented to John Ball Park. In return, a 30-foot English oak tree was planted in the park, with a bronze plaque at its base inscribed with a dedication to Dorothy.

In 1981, Ford had received this award, and his $1,000 check went to the Gerald Ford Museum.

Dorothy's speech at the program covered anecdotes about her life as a forest ranger's wife and her involvement with Smokey Bear.

At the time of the big Capitan fire, Dorothy's husband, Ed, was the ranger in Ruidoso and was summoned to Capitan to be a dispatcher. Dorothy was a stringer for the Associated Press and a correspondent for the local papers.

Dorothy was the first reporter to cover the big fire. "I went there the day that Smokey was rescued and contacted the AP with the story," she said. At that time, the burnt bear was known as "Hotfoot Teddy."

"I had a little old box camera that didn't take very good pictures," she said, "but no one else took pictures until after the fire was over."

In 1954, her husband was transferred to the Capitan station. Over the years, Dorothy chaired many committees involved in honoring Smokey.

With the Capitan Women's Group, she put up the portals that honor Smokey. She also helped organize the big Smokey Day in 1955. Most impressively, Dorothy designed the Smokey Bear Museum.

Besides her involvement with Smokey and putting Capitan on the map, Dorothy also was very involved in helping her husband run the ranger station.

"When we first started in the Forest Service, the ranger's wife had so much work to help her husband run the district," she said. "There were no radios then, so when phone calls came into the station, the ranger's wife had to handle them ... call firefighters, et cetera. This is no longer the case now."

Dorothy titled the book she wrote, "The Ranger's Rib," because she helped her husband so much. The book tells about her life as a forest ranger's wife, and gives some amusing stories from those times.

One story tells of a time when her husband was cleaning up some campgrounds and a distraught man came running to him for help because his wife was stuck in the outdoor "privy."

Apparently they had been trying for hours to open the door, but had no luck. Dorothy's husband went for his crowbar, but he never had to use it. One shove was all it took; the couple had been pushing the door the wrong way.

An hour spent talking with Dorothy Guck provides one with a delightful insight into Capitan history and the spirited women who helped to create it. The class of '31 made no mistakes in honoring this year's most distinguished alumnus.

Forum Wednesday

On Wednesday, October 3, the Republican Party of Lincoln County will sponsor a meet-the-candidates forum. The forum will be at the Ron Smith and Associates Building on Highway 380 East in Capitan, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. All voters are cordially invited to meet and visit with the candidates.

Due to the recent redistricting, Capitan precinct 1 has been moved from District 56 to District 57, which includes part of Chaves County and 1 of DeBaca County. Republican Richard Knowles is running unopposed in District 57.

Headquarters for Lincoln County Republicans is open for assistance and information, in the Atwood building at 301 Mechem Drive in Ruidoso.

McGruff here to take bite out of crime

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

If you see a large dog wearing a trench coat roaming around Ruidoso and Lincoln County, don't be alarmed. It's "McGruff," the crime dog, "taking a bite out of crime."

A cooperative effort by the Ruidoso Crime Stoppers, Ruidoso Police Department (RPD), Lincoln County Sheriff's Office and Neighborhood Watch has resulted in the organization of a local crime prevention campaign to coincide with National Crime Prevention Month, as proclaimed by President Ronald Reagan for the month of October.

A major part of that campaign, according to RPD officer and Crime Stoppers member Mark Paz, will be the use of a McGruff dog costume recently acquired by the Ruidoso organizations. Paz said the costume will be used extensively in area schools, festivities and other functions to help promote the idea of crime prevention.

Ruidoso Mayor George White will proclaim a crime prevention week in Ruidoso to help kick off the month-long campaign.

Also coinciding with the presidential proclamation is the issuing of a special commemorative stamp of McGruff and his message of crime prevention. The Ruidoso Post Office has been selling the stamps, which are intended to promote the idea of crime prevention.

Other plans for McGruff include participation of the crime prevention symbol in the upcoming Aspen Festival parade and Aspen Festival street festival, and possible attendance at future Ruidoso High School basketball games.

Crime of the week

On September 13, 1984, sometime between 2 p.m. and 4:30 p.m., unknown person or persons entered the Camelot Theatre, pried open the safe and stole an undisclosed amount of money.

Sometime Friday night, September 21, the Panorama Golf, Holiday Golf, K.O.R., and the gameroom of the Ruidoso Inn were broken into.

Several game machines, two candy machines, and two cash registers were pried open.

Crime Stoppers is offering up to $1,000 for information that leads to the arrest and Grand Jury indictment or Magistrate Court bind-over of the person or persons who committed this crime. Crime Stoppers will pay cash rewards to anyone giving information that solves other felony crimes.

Anyone who has further information on criminal activity is urged to call Crime Stoppers at 257-4545 or State Crime Stoppers at 1-800-432-6933. Persons calling may remain anonymous and still be eligible for cash rewards.

Military pilot in stable condition

A military officer from White Sands Missile Range was in stable condition this morning after being transferred from Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital to William Beaumont Army Medical Center in El Paso over the weekend.

According to officials at the medical center, Lieutenant Colonel Pete Combs is being held in the fourth floor trauma ward pending further observation.

Combs crashed his Cessna 180 on Highway 54 south of Corona last Wednesday during heavy rains and fog. He was transported to the hospital in Ruidoso, where he was treated for his injuries and held in the intensive care unit before being transferred to El Paso.

October Birthdays

October first is the birthday of Jack Frost, Mother Nature's painter of October Autumn leaf scenes, beginning from the blueberry and alder leaves of Alaska, down through Canada's crimson sugar maples, on to the vast scene of golden aspens, all the way down through the Rocky Mountains and ending up at our own White Mountains where they are joined by the many-colored oak brush patches on the hillsides of the Ruidoso Valley.

October first is also the birthday of another brilliant painter of the Autumn scenes—the children of Mother Earth: Joseph Kyle Dunlap, known to his host of friends as Joe, born October first 1933 in Lordsburg, New Mexico, to Robert Kyle Dunlap and the former Mildred Horns.

His father was a veteran in the Department of Game and Fish, and with his farm upbringing he was well-prepared for his life's work as an artist specializing in dry watercolor and also oils. His favorite subjects are landscapes in all times of the day, even some in moonlight, and wildlife. He has created permanent records with his paintings of the beauties of land and sky of his native state, and has also brought to life in colors many of the creatures of the wild in the Land of Enchantment.

Joe says, "I throw in a cowboy once in a while, because this is what folks want."

He had his first one-man show in Ruidoso in 1971.

His work may be seen in the Smith Limited Gallery in Ruidoso. We all wish Joe Dunlap many happy returns of the day, and all God's blessings.

October first is also the birthday of Jack Fowler, born October first 1943 in Gladewater, Texas, to Ray V. Fowler and the former Waukena Edna Ethridge.

At an early age he was taken to Paul's Valley, California, where he attended school. He worked as a youth in the Broom Cornfields near Lindsay, Oklahoma, "The Broom Corn Capital of the World." It was here he learned the value of a dollar and became known far and wide as "The Broom Corn Kid."

Later he spent two years at the Oklahoma Baptist College studying mainly music and later he took a degree from the University of Oklahoma in finance and marketing, with a minor in music, in 1971.

He was music director of the Ruidoso First Baptist Church for five years.

Jack, with his wife, the former Joy May, own and operate the Hollywood Food Mart. We wish Jack many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

With October off to a good start with a little mention of these fine lads, we might go up into the month a little farther and say that October twenty-seven is the birthday of Mrs. Judy Heavers, President Teddy Roosevelt and one Over-The-Hill Ridgerunner.

October's Bright Blue Weather

For four days now it has been the misty-moisty cloudy weather with Jack Frost blowing a steady light North Wind, trying, it seemed like, to leave his mark on the leaves here in the Vale. But for reasons best known to himself he did not bring off the freeze, though he made a fire in the fireplace of an evening mighty comfortable for the household, especially Corina the cat, who curled up in front of the blaze, moving slowly toward the fireplace until the "wee sma' hours ayont the twa!" (the wee sma' hours after twelve) found her on the warm stone hearth hardly a foot from the red coals of the pinn logs.

And now, on the eve of the first day of October in mid-afternoon, the West Wind which began at noon has blown away all the fog and mist and drizzle and set the Autumn-colored gramma, grass heads to waving—an infantry of small banners celebrating the eve of the "Apple Month."

October, the Apple Month

What would October be without its apples? For a while it seemed the apple crop would be very slim, and yet here and there October began to show its colors in the orchards with the red and gold of the apples, although the leaves had shown not a sign of turning.

I asked Bill Pippin how he was fixed for apples and he said, "Dan, there are some trees on the place that are loaded down so heavily that the branches are ready to break. And I would appreciate it if you would pick some of them to keep the branches from breaking."

As I drove by, here came Bill out of his busy office and showed me the trees. The apples were the variety called "Rome Beauty," and they were certainly beauties, perfect in size and color.

Next day I went down to the orchards of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Estaville, and here picked up a bushel of Jonathans from this charming couple.

Over the fence in the Tull Stansell Orchard I noticed a large yellow apple with a red cheek and asked Eddie what kind it might be. He didn't know but went over the fence and got me two samples.

A day or two later I went by the Tull Stansell place and got two bushels of beautiful Jonathans, an all-purpose favorite through the years, from LaRoy Leighton. I also showed him the large yellow apple.

He said, "Oh, that is a Northwestern Greening."

Obituaries

Maria Montoya

Maria Josefita Montoya of Picacho died Sunday, September 30, at St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell, following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Montoya was born March 19, 1885, in Glencoe. She was a member of St. Jude Thaddeus Catholic Church in San Patricio. She was the daughter of Jose and Trinidad Benavidez, pioneer residents of the Glencoe area. Survivors include her sons, Charlie B. Montoya and Porfirio Montoya, both of Alamogordo; her daughters, Eufracia Montoya of Picacho and Ollia Sandoval of Lompoc, California; 41 grandchildren; 51 great-grandchildren and 20 great-great-grandchildren.

A rosary will be recited at 7 p.m. today, October 1, and a funeral Mass will be said at 10 a.m. Tuesday, October 2, at St. Eleanor's Catholic Church in Ruidoso, with Father Bernard Bissonnette officiating. Interment is planned in San Isidro Cemetery in Glencoe.

Palbearers will be Fidel Trujillo, Tony Trujillo, Caesar Garcia, Edward Silva, Fred Montoya and Pete Salas.

Arrangements are by Clarke's Chapel of Roses Mortuary in Ruidoso.

Adelaide McGill

Adelaide Esther Huston McGill, born in Saint Paul, Minnesota, to Harry C. and Mary K. Huston, died September 27 in Denver, Colorado, after a long illness. A family ceremony will be held in Denver.

She is survived by her husband, George B. McGill, a former resident of Alto, now residing in Tucson, Arizona; a son, Gary Huston McGill of Denver; a daughter, Molly McGill of Ruidoso; and three grandchildren, all of Denver.

In lieu of flowers, the family would like donations to be made to the American Cancer Society.

Rosalma Wiley

Rosalma Cornelia Wiley of Ruidoso Downs died Thursday, September 27, in the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital, following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Wiley was born on December 14, 1938, in Sharon, Kansas. She was a member of St. Eleanor's Catholic Church and had been a clerk in the Ruidoso office of the New Mexico Department of Motor Vehicles.

Survivors include her husband, Gary L. Wiley of Ruidoso Downs; her daughters, Karen Sue Wiley of Atchison, Kansas, Kathleen Bustamante of Ruidoso and Mary Beth Wiley of Ruidoso Downs; her mother, Hilda E. Fischer of Sharon, Kansas; her sisters, Elvira Rinke of Kingman, Kansas, and Burnett McCraith of Manteca, California; her brothers, Herman Fischer of Nashville, Kansas, Elmer Fischer of Wichita, Kansas, Vincent Fischer of Sharon, Norman Fischer of Sharon, Donald Fischer of Kingman and Eugene Fischer of Hazelton, Kansas; and two grandchildren.

A rosary was scheduled on Sunday, September 30, and a funeral Mass was scheduled this morning, October 1, in St. Eleanor's Catholic Church, with Father Bernard Bissonnette officiating. Interment was to be at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Ruidoso.

Mrs. Wiley's brothers served as pallbearers.

Arrangements were by Clarke's Chapel of Roses Mortuary, Ruidoso.

William Pierce

William Jess Pierce of Ruidoso died Tuesday, September 25, at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital, following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Pierce was born October 21, 1896, in Texas. He was a member of the Methodist Church. He was a retired building contractor and had been a longtime resident of Ruidoso. Survivors include his wife, Velma Pierce of Ruidoso, and his son, A. T. Pierce of Fort Worth, Texas.

Graveside funeral services were held on Wednesday, September 26, at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Ruidoso, with the Reverend Wayne Joyce officiating.

Palbearers were Harlan McCrav, Bill Allen, James Lackey, J. C. Hughes, Dan Swearingin and Tutt Shaw. Honorary pallbearers were Lance Kirkegaard, Stansell Jones, Les Crews, Bill Hart, Pick Allen and Mr. Fletcher.

SANTA FE—Taiwan wants to buy more corn than New Mexico can produce, at a price at which we can't afford to sell.

That's the net result of the Great Leap Forward in international trade arranged most recently by the Anaya administration.

It's not easy to arrive at a conclusion of that kind. To do so, you have to fight your way through a veritable cloud of blah and hoorah sent up around the subject by the Governor's drumbeaters. It's meant to convince us all that the Anaya people have brought the millennium one step closer.

For instance, the Governor was as breathless as a girl on the way to her first prom when he called that Taiwanese offer to buy 27,000 metric tons of corn at $130.27 per ton "a tremendous concession to us."

True agricultural experts, of whom Anaya is not one, say the reverse is true; for us to take that deal would be a great concession from us to them.

The Taiwanese visit, so carefully staged and dramatized, turned out to be lots of show, with little substance.

Even that firm contract to buy 80 buses for use on their island will do New Mexico little good if the buses get built in North Dakota.

Anaya and his team can't seem to get it through their heads that "economic development" means a lot more than whoop-it-up salesmanship to bring new industry and loads of tourists to New Mexico.

To be more than a hollow show, such efforts must be solidly based. They should be footed in a thorough understanding of the state's present economy and how it works, just to list one prerequisite. Have you ever seen any hard evidence that anybody in a policy-making position in the department to which the economic development role has been assigned is a true expert in that field?

Most students of the subject will further add that the major thrust of this kind of operation must be to expand and solidify the existing economy, not to concentrate only on the new and glamorous. But what do we hear from those who hold the job under Toney? Mostly a lot of glib talk about "high tech" and "turning New Mexico into the second Silicon Valley."

That isn't telling the taxpayers the truth; it's trying to seduce them.

The latest Anaya efforts, all conducted in a glow of spotlights, exemplify the weakness of the present system.

Put less-than-professional people in charge of such matters and you run the risk of having the whole process turned into a circus.

That happens, as in New Mexico at present, when appearance and show take precedence over genuine accomplishment.

Where the true but hidden agenda of a government department is solely to make the man at the top look good, almost every effort, even from those who are sincerely trying, is vitiated. The showbiz aspects will always exert a built-in bias in such circumstances and sensible priorities will be dropped to pursue those which are less desirable.

There's also a kind of contempt for the rest of us hidden behind the belief that we can be conned. "Tell 'em anything, as long as it sounds good" is not really an adequate position from which to operate government. Those who adopt it may well tell us more about themselves than about the way they regard us.

Right now isn't the time to call on New Mexico farmers to make up a clause for some mere politician. A recent survey shows almost half our farm families are operating with a debt-to-asset ratio which the United States Department of Agriculture says indicates disaster is just over the horizon. Many of them say if current trends continue, they expect to be in business only for one more year.

In those circumstances, it seems particularly heartless to be issuing boastful press releases making promises with little behind them.

After all, there are things which should not be sacrificed merely to build the image of our chief executive.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

Our second annual Altrusa Flea Market was a great success recently and we want to express our gratitude to the many individuals and businesses that made it possible. They are Mecham Safeway, The Ruidoso News, Cabelvision, KREE, KOAW, Thrifty Nickel, SJS Lockshop, Don Weems and Mr. Vinsant, the Carriage House, Panache, Morgan's Ski Shop, Polliwogs & Pigtales, Mountain Ski Shop, Ben Franklin, Brunell's, Pro Ski Sports, Mary's Fashions, the Rocking Horse Gifts, the Artisan's Shop, the Roadrunner, Barnett Carpets, Search and Rescue, the members of Altrusa, the Flea Market participants and all the fortunate people who found bargains! We hope to see you next year!

Sincerely,
WILMA SANDOVAL
ALTRUSA PRESIDENT
LINDA SKELLETT
FLEA MARKET CHAIRMAN

DEAR EDITOR:

Your "On the Village Beat" for September 17th prompted me to dust off my "Bartlett's Familiar Quotations", Circa 1950, just for curiosity.

Could a quotation from William Lloyd Garrison, 1805-1877, possibly be the one for which you search?

"With reasonable men, I will reason; with humane men I will plead; but to tyrants I will give no quarter, nor waste arguments where they will certainly be lost."

This quotation from "Life", volume 1, page 188.

Correct or not, it was a great excuse to delve once more into all of those delightful quotations; it beats laundry any day.

Sincerely,
PATRICIA OGILVIE HUCKINS
P.S. Every parent with young children should read the aforementioned quotation!

Editorial

Though they won battles in the past, the group of Upper Canyon residents who opposed development in Sleepy Hollow subdivision probably lost the war last week.

A 42-acre tract of land there is one of several "pockets" in the village—areas surrounded by the Village of Ruidoso that have never been annexed. The Upper Canyon group successfully opposed two attempts to have the property annexed—in 1978 and 1983.

The 1983 request would have brought the property into the village with an R-1 (single-family dwelling residential) zoning.

The village council then in power did not approve the request, which meant the land stayed in the extraterritorial zone. When the Extraterritorial Zoning Authority considered a C-P zoning (commercial planned development) last week, the same group attempted to prevent that zoning.

This time they lost. Those folks, and perhaps the entire village, would have been better off to support a Sleepy Hollow annexation with an R-1 zoning.

Of course, what they really hoped was that the land would never be developed at all. And that would be great if the land were public.

"There is no way you can deny a property owner the use of his property," was the assessment of Paul Davis. That assessment is true, and the anti-development group may end up regretting they opposed the highest and best use.—TP

On the Village Beat with Tim Palmer

I didn't go down to Ruidoso Motorcycle Festival headquarters expecting to observe an artist at work, but that's what I spent most of my time doing.

Steve Kafka of Phoenix, Arizona, bills himself as "America's Best Pinstriping." Pinstriping is the painting of decorative designs on motorcycles and other vehicles.

I wondered how Steve could lay claim to being "the best."

He told me he had been so designated by Ed "Big Daddy" Roth, a legendary figure in the world of car shows.

Steve was doing a "$25 tank job" while we talked. He held a small brush in his right hand, and used his left hand to brace the right. He used the tips of his little fingers to guide the stroke.

"I'm the only one in the country who can work a brush like this," said Steve, demonstrating. "I did this in front of Ed Roth and his jaw dropped."

By pushing down on the tip of the brush, he varied the width of the stripe to achieve a design effect. Another effect was color.

The job I witnessed was a "grey fade-out." Steve's palette is a metal slab set on a well-used folding TV-type table. He mixed the oil-base enamel into darkening shades of grey.

Kafka is not a self-trained artist. He graduated from the Art Institute of Boston in 1969. He has taught art, and for a time was art director for a chain of stores.

"I didn't like the rat race," he said. As a youth, Steve sent a sketch to Norman Rockwell, and received a thank-you letter from the great illustrator.

"That's my most prized possession," said Steve. Kafka appreciates other artists' good work when he sees it. He told me he had spent 15 minutes admiring a Dave McGary bronze the night before.

As the design on the motorcycle tank took shape, I asked Steve if he worked up his patterns on paper before executing them for real. Nope.

"They're all spontaneous," he informed me. Having drawn the basic design in black and grey, he added complementing lines of red and gold.

I asked if the paint could be removed if the blker got tired of it.

"I've never had that happen," he replied. Steve issues instructions for care of his pinstripping jobs—"Do not put vehicle through pressure wash or car wash."

He told me jobs he did six or seven years ago look like he just did them. "I like people to protect their investment."

That investment could run from $25, like the tank job I was watching, to $500, like a Florida industrialist paid to have his bike striped in gold leaf.

A basic two-color job on a whole bike costs $150. Steve told me he and his fellow strippers at the festival made it a point not to undercut each other's prices.

They had competition from a stripper operating out of a campground. The people who paid that guy $20 for a stripe job got what they paid for, Steve indicated. He pointed out the incongruity of putting an inferior $20 striping job on an $8,000 motorcycle.

I got the feeling Steve was more upset by the fact that people were getting inferior work than he was by any loss of business to himself.

He stressed gratification as his major reward, and predicted the owners of the bike he was striping right then would ooh and ah when they saw it. "You thrive on it," he said. Sometimes when people are pleased with a job he has done, he gets goose bumps.

"This is an art form for me," Steve explained. He compared his gratification to that of a writer being told he had done a good story. I could relate to that.

He seems amazed that his customers give him the happiness of liking his work, then pay him to boot!

Steve's occupation takes him from one end of the country to the other. He is married and the father of two boys—ages 16 months and two and a half.

His family has traveled with him, he told me, but it is a hassle lugging playpens, formula and diapers to motel rooms.

"It's rough, being out on the road alone," he said. "It's lonely, y'know?"

So how long would he continue? "I can't see myself quitting," he said. "I keep developing my style. I've been developing it for 10 years."

If imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, Steve's fellow strippers in Phoenix flatter him greatly. He told me they photograph his designs and try to copy every line. "But they lose something in the translation."

Steve finished up the tank job and the owners showed up for their bike. I carefully watched the woman as she spied the design on the tank. She gave a delighted squeal. "Ooooh, that's pretty!"

THE MASONIC LODGE plans a light supper at 6:30 p.m. today, October 1, followed by a past masters night beginning at 7:30 in the Eastern Star Building.

The masons urge all members to attend, especially past masters, said Master Carl Ross.

The Ruidoso Public Library BROWN-BAG-IT BOOK REVIEW on the first Monday of this month will begin at 1 p.m. today, October 1. Anne Cunningham plans to review "Tiger in the Tiger Pit" by Janette Turner Hospital. The same author wrote "The Ivory Swing."

Phyllis Atadero will speak during the WOMEN'S AGLOW meeting at 7 p.m. today, October 1, in the senior citizen building behind the Ruidoso Public Library.

She was born again 13 years ago, and speaks to Christian groups with Andy, her husband. They have appeared on television and on the road. They live in Orange County, California, where Mrs. Atadero has been an Aglow officer.

Children ages three through five years are invited to participate in the Ruidoso Public Library STORY HOUR this fall.

Registration will begin at the library today, October 1. The eight-week program will cost $2 per child.

The story hours will start the week of Monday, October 22, and continue through Friday, December 14.

For more information, call the library at 257-4335, or stop by the building on Sudderth Drive.

Tuesday, October 2

NARFE, the National Association of Retired Federal Employees, will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday, October 2, in the First Christian Church on Hull Road.

The scheduled guest speaker for their first-Tuesday meeting is Magistrate Judge Jim Wheeler.

Retired federal employees and their spouses are invited to the meeting.

Thursday, October 4

The Republican Party of Lincoln County plans a MEET-THE-CANDIDATES FORUM from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, October 4, in the Ruidoso Public Library.

Voters are invited to visit with candidates.

Another forum is planned at 10 a.m. Wednesday, October 10, in the Ruidoso Woman's Club building off Sudderth Drive.

Friday, October 5

Area medical workers and volunteers will conduct a HEALTH FAIR from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Friday, October 5, at the Elks Lodge.

They will measure height, weight and blood pressure, take blood samples, and offer information about health and diseases.

Volunteers and medical professionals from two counties will participate.

October 5-7

The Southern New Mexico WOMEN'S AGLOW plans a fall-retreat Friday, October 5, through Sunday, October 7, in Sacramento.

The theme is "Growing Up Into Christ." Kay Roberts and Mary McLeod will speak.

For more information, call Sandy Keller at 258-3345 or Kathy Craig at 257-5667.

Saturday, October 6

THE OLD-TIMERS COVERED-DISH DINNER is scheduled this year at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, October 6, in the all-purpose room at the Ruidoso Public Library.

Anyone who has lived in the Ruidoso area for 15 years or longer is an old-timer. Longtime residents are invited to hash over old times while they savor the meal. Drinks and table service will be provided.

For more information, call Ruth Moore at 257-2073.

THE RUIDOSO PUBLIC LIBRARY will be closed on Saturday, October 6. Staff members hope people enjoy the Aspen Festival.

The library will also be closed on Monday, October 8, in observance of Columbus Day. It will open again during usual hours on Tuesday, October 9.

October 6-7

Ruidoso members of the JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES plan to attend a circuit assembly Saturday and Sunday, October 6 and 7, at the El Paso Civic Center.

The programs will run from 9:45 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. each day. The theme is "Repudiate Ungodliness and Worldly Desires," said Kenneth Stone, spokesman for the local group.

Monday, October 8

THE RUIDOSO LODGERS ASSOCIATION plans a special monthly meeting at a noon Dutch luncheon on Monday, October 8, in Cree Meadows Country Club.

Frances Durkin, president of the New Mexico Hotel and Motel Association, plans to speak. His topic will be the state lodgers' tax act.

Old-timers call up memories before dinner

by C.E. REUTTER
News Staff Writer

In the old days, the Lincoln County telephone list filled just four short pages.

As Ruth Moore prepared for the old-timers dinner scheduled at the Ruidoso Public Library this Saturday, she found a 1949 directory.

The Ruidoso area directory for 1984 shows 39 full-size pages of telephone numbers. The area telephone leaflet from 35 years ago lists about 80

Capitan telephone numbers, fewer than 250 in Ruidoso, and just 28 at the U.S. Marine Hospital in Fort Stanton.

It also shows 13 phone signals for residents of Alto and its vicinity. They weren't numbers, but combinations of L for long and S for short. Some longtime Alto residents remember their telephone signals from those days.

"Ours was one long and three shorts," said Mrs. Nora Blood. "We had the old wall telephone. We put ours in '29."

She and her husband had to maintain a mile and a quarter of telephone wires as their part of the community line from Ruidoso to Capitan. "We all had to keep our own lines up."

Her family, the Hightowers, had lived in the area for years. "My father was one of the original owners on the line from Alto to Capitan."

Today, original owners and new residents alike have telephone numbers with seven digits.

The veteran area residents plan to bring covered dishes to the old-timers dinner. It begins at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, October 6, in the all-purpose room at the library.

People of all ages who have lived in the area for 15 years or more are invited to come to the dinner with their families. Beverages and table service will be provided.

For more information, call Ruth Moore at 257-2073. The 1949 directory doesn't list a telephone number for the Moores. They moved to the area the following year.

Pair plan fair

Friday, October 5. Area professionals and volunteers plan to measure height and weight, take blood samples, and offer information about various health matters.

Elks Club member Bud Allen mentally juggles space as Barbara Duff shows him plans for the annual health fair, scheduled at the Elks Lodge south of the highway "Y" from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Courts throughout county hear cases

by C.E. REUTTER
News Staff Writer

People can tell it to the judge before half a dozen people in Lincoln County, and then appeal a decision at different courts entirely.

Judges hear everything from speeding charges and small civil suits to murder cases. They sit in Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs, Capitan, Carrizozo and Alamogordo.

Some courts are organized into districts, some into divisions. Some judges are lawyers, others had no specialized law training before taking their seats.

Keeping straight who does what can be difficult. Here's a guide to the courts in the area.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

John Cupp is the municipal judge in Ruidoso. Paula Smith sits in Ruidoso Downs. Johnnie Romero hears cases in Capitan and Bill Payne hears them in Carrizozo.

Cupp said he hears criminal cases for offenses committed within the village limits of his community. He doesn't hear any civil cases. Similar rules apply to the other municipal judges.

Many of the cases Cupp takes involve speeding and other traffic violations, assault, battery or petty larceny. All of the offenses are misdemeanors. The major cases go to magistrate judges.

Romero said her cases generally involve citations by Capitan police officers. Voters in her community elect a municipal judge every four years, she said.

If people don't like municipal judges' decisions, they may appeal them to a judge for New Mexico's 12th Judicial District.

MAGISTRATE COURTS

Three magistrate judges hear cases in Lincoln County. James Wheeler of Division III sits in Ruidoso; Leroy Montes of Division II hears cases in Capitan; and Betty Dean of Division I handles them in Carrizozo.

The judges hear major criminal cases, or felonies, for arraignment and binding over to district court.

They also hear citations including speeding charges from outside village limits. In addition, they hear civil cases. People can sue in magistrate court.

If people don't like their decisions, they may appeal them to a judge for the 12th Judicial District.

DISTRICT COURT

Two judges hear cases in the 12th Judicial District of New Mexico, George Zimmerman and Robert M. Doughty II.

Voters will pick a third judge in the November election.

The district includes Otero and Lincoln counties. Since more people live in Otero County, the judges usually hear cases in Alamogordo, the county seat.

However, the judges take turns going to Carrizozo, the Lincoln County seat. They often hear Lincoln County cases on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

The district court hears appeals of all types of cases from municipal and magistrate courts.

It also hears some civil suits for the first time. Many of them involve a resident suing someone for damages or unpaid bills. Decisions can involve thousands of dollars.

If people don't like district court decisions, they may appeal them to the Court of Appeals of New Mexico or to the New Mexico Supreme Court. Both courts are in Santa Fe.

OTHER COURTS

In addition to the magistrate, municipal and district courts, others operate for people in the area. For instance, probate court handles estates after people die.

The federal courts are entirely separate from the state justice system. For instance, someone who robs a bank and goes into another state with the loot is tried in federal court.

What is a CMA?
 Competitive Market Analysis - critical to help sellers achieve their goals.
Why do you need a CMA?
 1. It compares your property to similar property that has sold.
 2. It compares your property to similar property now for sale.
 3. It compares your property to similar property expired, indicating incorrect pricing.
How do you get a CMA?
 Call DiPaolo Real Estate. We want your listing and we want to help you sell your property!

ANES
(March 21-April 20) Be patient when it comes to someone you love and who could be in trouble. You will find that this person will respond when your turn comes for love and understanding at a later date.

TALIESIN
(April 21-May 21) Be trustful with friends who contact you for financial aid. You will not be disappointed in their ability to repay you and you could add to your income just by saying yes to something they plan.

QUEEN
(May 22-June 21) Important relationships are about to develop in the area of your home environment. Domestic matters take precedence over anything else this week.

CANCER
(June 22-July 23) Contact your doctor or dentist if you are not feeling in the pink. This is a good time to air your differences of opinion with those who contradict your way of thinking at work. Be more aggressive with your own ideas.

LEO
(July 24-Aug. 23) Your mate or steady date may give you a hard time if you try to second guess them. Don't allow the staid side of your nature to overcome that wonderful side of you and cause a breakup with someone you care for.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24-Sept. 23) You may want to relocate to another apartment or even move to another part of the country. A better job offer may have something to do with your sudden decision. Once your mind is made up, stick with your plans.

LIRA
(Sept. 24-Oct. 23) If something is going wrong in your personal life, take steps to straighten out the matter right away. You should not put off to another time what needs to be taken care of now.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24-Nov. 23) You will meet someone who could make the difference between a week-to-week sort of living to one of luxury in which you can find yourself once more. Be gracious and show others how wonderful you really are.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 24-Dec. 21) If you indulge in an expensive hobby or wish to purchase expensive gifts for a loved one, you may find yourself without funds when it comes to the necessities of life. Be careful how you spend now.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22-Jan. 20) Taxes and estate matters are of some concern so be careful that you declare all your assets when asked to by those in authority.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21-Feb. 19) A family member could be undergoing surgery or have problems. You would do well to offer your assistance or some financial help as this person was very good to you in the past.

PISCES
(Feb. 20-March 20) A loss will be a blessing in disguise. Don't lose courage when you are faced with financial difficulties, they will disappear soon and you'll be able to recover in record time.

Ask Kate

A series for Sally Field

By Kate Woods

Sally Field

Everybody remembers "Gidget" and "The Flying Nun," but ~~for~~ the only one who remembers a series that Sally Field did in which she had ESP. What was it called and when did it air? — P.G.S., Sanford, N.C.

"The Girl with Something Extra" was Sally Field's last TV series. It ran on NBC during the 1973-74 season and co-starred John Davidson.

Is actor Jimmy Balo related to Scott Balo? — J.O., Guelph, Ontario, Can.

The two are first cousins.

Which show was on TV first: "The Munsters" or "The Addams Family"? I say it was "The Addams Family." — H.F., San Miguel, Calif.

You win, by six days. "The Addams Family" premiered on Sept. 18, 1964; "The Munsters" on Sept. 24. Both shows were canceled two years later.

Can you tell me where to write Shelley Duvall, producer and star of the "Faerie Tale Theatre" shows on Showtime? — L.E., Green Bay, Wis.

You can write in care of Platypus Productions, ABC-TV Producers Bldg., 4151 Prospect Ave., Hollywood, CA 90027.

What were the names of the actors who played the three sons on "The Brady Bunch"? — M.B., Woodstock, N.Y.

Barry Williams, Christopher Knight and Mike Lookinland played Greg, Peter and Bobby Brady, respectively.
