School measures pass

by C.E. REUTTER
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Board of Education meeting Tuesday evening was short and sweet.

Within a handful of minutes, four members convened, certified a resounding election victory for two school funding issues, and left.

Residents of the Ruidoso Municipal School District had voted that day by a margin of more than 10 to 1 to approve a million-dollar bond issue. They voted 398 to 37 for the first measure.

The second measure wasn't approved by quite so lopsided a margin, but extension of the two-mill capital improvements levy for three years still passed 366 to 49. That margin was better than eight to one.

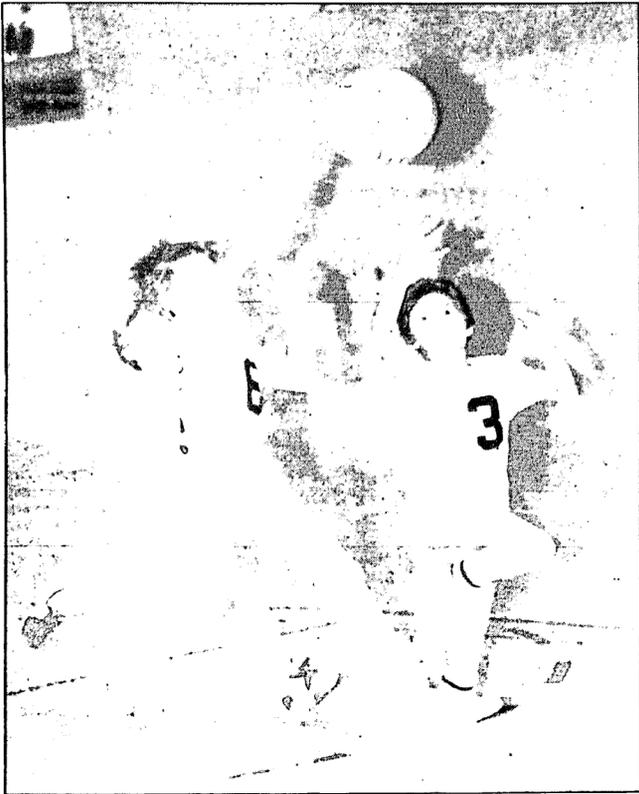

Voters cast 440 ballots, including seven absentees.

The canvass tabulation sheet lists five people as entering but not voting on the bond question. One absentee voter did not make a choice on the levy extension, and 24 people entered the voting booth but did not cast a ballot for that question.

Residents of the district have a long history of strongly backing school funding proposals.

Board members unanimously accepted the results of the voting Tuesday. Then Stormy Edwards, Donald Swalander, F. Lynn Willard and Mike Morris adjourned the meeting. Lamar Osbourn was out of town, they said.

The election night meeting lasted about nine minutes. The next regular session of the board is scheduled for Tuesday. It is expected to last a little longer.

Water protest settled

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

The State Engineer has made a decision on the valley water protest that appears to please both sides of the dispute.

Although no official documents have been received in Ruidoso, State Engineer Steve Reynolds said Tuesday he has approved Ruidoso's application to discharge treated wastewater into the Rio Ruidoso at the Biscuit Hill treatment plant. He said he has also restored Ruidoso's right to effluent credit for Eagle Creek water discharged into the Rio Ruidoso. Ruidoso plans to use water from the effluent credit to fill the Grindstone reservoir.

Ruidoso will be able to use all of its effluent credit for nine months of the year, said Reynolds. During May, June and July—historically the period of lowest flow in the river and greatest irrigation—Ruidoso will be able to take the effluent credit water out of the Rio Ruidoso only when water is flowing past the Hollywood gauging station at a rate of 6 cubic feet per second (cfs) or more, said Reynolds.

When the flow is less than 6 cfs, the village can take its credit out of wells away from the Rio Ruidoso, said Reynolds. Ruidoso will not be able to use the Hollywood well or the one in the Upper Canyon near the Mesalero Apache Reservation, said assistant village manager Frank Potter.

Reynolds also retained the right to reevaluate the 6 cfs figure, said Ruidoso's water attorney Neil Stillinger, who had a copy of the decision.

Ruidoso will have to make daily measurements to record the amount of Eagle Creek water discharged into the Rio Ruidoso so that the effluent credit can be accurately determined, said Reynolds.

Ruidoso owns rights to 220.27 acre feet of water on the Rio Ruidoso. It also has rights to divert 6 cfs from Eagle Creek as a member of the Eagle Creek Inter Community Water Supply Association. Ruidoso has diverted an average of 1,550 acre feet of water per year from Eagle Creek in recent years.

In 1966 the State Engineer granted Ruidoso partial credit for Eagle Creek water it discharges into the Rio Ruidoso as sewage effluent. The village can use that credit to divert water from the Rio Ruidoso. In recent years that credit has been slightly more than 600 acre feet, but has been used only very slightly.

"I think it's a fairly balanced decision," said Stillinger.

The protesters had originally asked the village to take its effluent credit only when the Rio Ruidoso flowed at 10 cfs or more. By the time of the hearing before the State Engineer's representatives in November, that figure had been changed to 7 cfs.

The village's consulting engineer, Ralph Vail, estimated that the protesters needed approximately 4 cfs to satisfy their irrigation requirements.

"I am pleased. I think it's a decision that everybody can live with," said protesters' attorney Ray Sage.

Neither the protesters nor village officials had received written notification of the decision by Wednesday afternoon. They were reluctant to comment until they saw the written document, but Ruidoso councilmen, village officials and the protesters were pleased with verbal reports they had received.

"It sounds good. We're real pleased," said protestant Leonard McCutcheon.

McCutcheon said Hondo Valley farmers who have water rights on the Rio Ruidoso will probably still suffer periodic shortages of water, but that the decision will prevent Ruidoso from exacerbating the problem. "I'm thrilled about that deal," said councilman Al Junge also said he was pleased with reports he had heard on Reynolds' decision.

Councilman Al Junge also said he was pleased with reports he had heard on Reynolds' decision.

Village manager Jim Hine said he thought it was fitting that the protest had been cleared while the present council was still in office. The present council was involved with the protest since it was first filed in June 1982. The council also authorized the Grindstone reservoir, which was threatened by the protest.

The valley farmers originally filed their protest to Ruidoso's application for a change in sewage discharge plants from the old sewage treatment plant to the Biscuit Hill Treatment Plant six miles downstream.

The protesting farmers have irrigation ditches on the Rio Ruidoso. They claimed the change in discharge points would be detrimental to their water rights.

The State Engineer suspended Ruidoso's effluent credit upon receipt of the protest.

"The solution of this protest does not, however, completely clear the way for the construction and filling of the reservoir.

The Carlsbad Irrigation district has filed a protest against Ruidoso's application to change its point of diversion on the Rio Ruidoso. The village applied for a permit to change its point of diversion the 126.5 feet downstream from the present diversion point at the Mesalero Apache Reservation boundary.

The new diversion point is for a water transmission line to fill the Grindstone reservoir.

Village manager Hine said Carlsbad was waiting for reports from its hydrologist before deciding whether to pursue the protest.

Clark to visit state, discuss airport

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

Interior Secretary William Clark will visit New Mexico Friday to discuss public issues and attend a Republican fund-raiser.

He will most likely discuss the proposed regional airport on Fort Stanton Mesa during a morning meeting with Governor Toney Anaya, said New Mexico Transportation Secretary Judith Espinosa.

Clark will meet privately with Anaya at 10 a.m., said Anaya's assistant press secretary, Vickie Phillips. Espinosa said the airport would definitely be among the subjects discussed during that meeting, but she held little hope for any announcements on the airport land transfer application submitted to the Interior Department.

The Sierra Blanca Airport Commission submitted an application for the transfer of 1,660 acres of federal land on Fort Stanton Mesa from Bureau of Land Management (BLM) to Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) jurisdiction. If transferred to the FAA, the land would be used for a regional airport.

New Mexico State University (NMSU) currently leases 26,000 acres on the mesa from the BLM and uses it for long term range research. The land of the proposed airport is in the middle of the land now used for research. NMSU opposes the transfer, claiming that valuable research will have to be terminated if the airport is built.

Espinosa said the application is just about to be delivered from the U.S. Transportation Department to the Interior Department for Clark's consideration.

U.S. Representative Joe Skeen has recently been a strong supporter of the airport and may be in New Mexico Friday, said Skeen's press secretary Jerry McKinney. The congressman will probably not discuss the airport with Clark since he has already made his views on the subject clear to Clark, said McKinney.

Mescalero Apache Tribe President Wendell Chino plans to meet with Clark and discuss the airport and Indian claims to Fort Stanton Mesa, said McKinney.

Assistant village manager Frank Potter said he and Mayor George White planned to travel to Santa Fe to listen to Clark address the Legislature. Councilman Frank Sawyer said he was sure some of the council members would also travel to Santa Fe, but that they had not decided as of Thursday morning who would go.

Sign ordinance hearing Friday

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) will have a public hearing at 3:30 p.m. Friday, February 10, at the Ruidoso village hall on proposed sign ordinance amendments.

A P&Z subcommittee has been working on the sign ordinance for more than four months. Friday's meeting is intended to solicit public input on the sign ordinance.

After listening to public input the commission may make changes in the proposal, said P&Z enforcement officer Paul Davis. The commission will then present the proposed amendments to the village council for approval as soon as possible, said Davis.

Some of the major proposed changes include moveable letters, sign sizes, signs for shopping centers, prohibited signs and signs within a building.

One of the major sources of contention among business owners and P&Z has been permissible sign sizes. The existing ordinance limits permanent identification signs to 32 square feet except for large projects which may have larger signs if needed for reasonable identification.

Proposed amendments remove the 32-square-foot limit and establish "the formula .076 times the square footage of the front of the building" for sign size.

In the past, P&Z has approved larger signs by saying that the business is in a shopping center. The exact definition of a shopping center and actual regulations concerning those centers have been unclear.

In the proposed amendments, a shopping center is designated as containing four or more businesses on one premise. A center would be allowed one free-standing sign computed from the formula of one square foot of sign space per each linear foot of the designated front of the property, with a maximum of 150 square feet allowed.

"At least 50 percent of the center sign shall designate the shopping center and the remaining 50 percent shall or may be used for riders to advertise the individual businesses within the center."

The proposed amendments also include provisions for combined signs in centers of less than four businesses.

The proposed amendments allow signs with moveable letters, which are prohibited under the existing ordinance.

"The moveable letter portion shall not exceed 30 percent of the total sign area," states the draft copy of the proposed amendments.

The proposed amendments include new prohibited signs, such as neon signs and those with missing letters, or signs in state of disrepair.

The proposed amendments also include provisions that exempt from Architectural Plans Review Committee approval signs inside a building which are "conspicuously visible and readable" from outside the building.

Copies of the proposed amendments are available at the Planning and Zoning office at village hall for a free reading. Copies are also available for reading within the office.

P&Z tables zoning of old sewer plant

by TIM PALMER
News Editor

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) Monday dealt another delay to plans for a trash compactor-transfer system at the old sewer plant.

P&Z members voted 3-1 in favor of Tom Kelham's motion to table the village's request for an industrial zoning designation for the site. Kelham, Milt Alcorn and Margaret Gaddy voted in favor of the motion; Ray Bishop voted against it.

Kelham had expressed concern about the possibility of the site being zoned industrial and then not being used as a compactor site. He spoke in favor of the study of possible industrial zoning for the whole area, which includes the village hot mix plant and municipal barn.

He also suggested asking the council to state whether it definitely intended to put the compactor at the old sewer plant. He noted that to zone it without that assurance would be "putting the cart before the horse."

Councilman Al Junge told P&Z members they were the ones who brought up other sites, and claimed the council had never considered any other site. He stated that it was council's intent to put the compactor at the old sewer plant.

Acting chairman James Paxton said P&Z had found three possible village-owned sites for the compactor.

The first (Paxton said they were in no order of preference) is adjacent to or near village hall. The second is at an abandoned water treatment plant on Hull Road. The third is at the old sewer plant.

The first two are well located for access to the village landfill on Fort Stanton Mesa, it was noted, while the third would be convenient if Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs were to use the facility jointly.

Junge said the old water treatment plant was considered, but that an engineer declared it unsuitable. He pointed out that a $75,000 concrete "shoebox" that would hold the compactor is already in place at the old sewer plant.

He said the council has not conferred with Ruidoso Downs on joint use of a compactor.

In response to a question of why the system is needed at all, Junge cited wear and tear costs on village garbage trucks. He pointed out that there was already industrial use in the vicinity of the old sewer plant, and that it was easier to have industry in one part of a city.

"We seem to be stuck with it out there," he said. He added that street and sanitation superintendent Jack LaMay would be able to supervise the activity "from under a cyclone fence where it abuts other land uses."

Margaret Gaddy said her main concern with that site was its location in relation to residential area and schools. "The place is not of the object—it's getting in and out of it," she said.

Paxton had opened discussion by stating that it was P&Z's job to make a decision based on zoning rather than use. But persons opposed to the proposed use were present and had their say.

Gary George read a letter on behalf of nearby property owner J. B. Close, who said the compactor would be detrimental to the market value of his land. Judy Miller, whose property borders the plant, cited visual impact, flies and smell as negative factors.

"If the city wants to turn Ruidoso into El Paso, that's up to them," she said.

"We just don't want it down there—that's all," said Harlan McCraw.

Jim Wimberly questioned the economics of putting the compactor so far from the landfill, and said he doubted Junge's claim the old water plant site was not feasible.

P&Z members Kelham and Bishop again reported on their visit to the trash compactor in El Paso, Texas.

"We wouldn't feel bad with it next to our house. We wouldn't feel bad with it next to city hall," said Bishop.

"Based on our examination in January, the thing appears to be a good neighbor," said Kelham.

When Kelham made his motion to table the industrial zoning request, Junge said he thought P&Z was trying to do something it did not have the prerogative to do. He said it stood in good common sense the whole area would have to be zoned industrial, and predicted that would follow the sewer plant rezoning automatically.

The vote then put the request in limbo, presumably until the council makes its intentions clear.

At the end of the meeting, P&Z members discussed the need for industrial land in the village. The need for general commercial land and the possibility of an industrial council were also mentioned.

In other business Monday, P&Z:

—Approved a rezoning of the 5.3-acre Havens Tract from R-3 (mobile homes) to I (industrial) for Bill McCarty. It was noted the property has had industrial use since 1969.

McCarty employee John Russell said the land will be used for night storage, a repair shop and a storage site for sand and gravel. Kelham said the difference between that land and the old sewer plant nearby was that the former had a 15-year history of the same use.

—Approved two lot line variances for Tom McNeil on lots 19, 20 and 21, block 1, in Paradise Canyon after McNeil agreed to put his garage-shop building farther from the roadway than he had planned.

—Approved a rear lot line variance on lot 12, block 16, Ponderosa Heights Unit 3, for Ron Harris.

—Did not act on vacation of road right of way on lot 11B, block 1, Lookout Subdivision, for Fred A. Boyd. The request was to be resubmitted after modification of a corner.

—Approved first replat of portion of Airport West Unit 3, tract D, for Bob Dolgener.

—Approved replat of lot 16, Middle Cedar Subdivision, for Paul A. Pearson.

—Approved replat of block B, Red Cedar Subdivision, for Paul A. McClendon.

—Approved replat of lots 20A and 20B, Middle Cedar Subdivision, for John Shaw.

Welcome new $-sports complex

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

It looks like Ruidoso will have at least one softball field this summer and possibly more.

Governor Toney Anaya announced last week that the Recreation Priorities Advisory Committee has allocated $30,000 for the construction of a sports complex near the White Mountain schools.

If a lease for the property south of the school can be worked out, construction should start as soon as contour maps are completed, said Parks and Recreation director Pam Graves.

Ruidoso originally applied for $75,000 in matching funds to build the complex that will include two soccer fields, one football field, four softball/baseball fields, a track and bathrooms.

The total estimated cost of the project is $168,000. The village council allocated approximately $30,000 of lodgers' tax funds now held in a certificate of deposit for the construction of the complex. The village also has budgeted $32,500 for the paving work.

Village manager Jim Hine said construction of the complex will proceed in phases. The first phase calls for the construction of two softball fields, one soccer field, an irrigation system, and paving of a parking lot and access road.

Graves and assistant village manager Frank Potter said they hoped to have one field completed for the summer.

Construction will not begin, however, said Graves, until a lease for the property is signed with the Ruidoso school system.

"We need to finalize the lease with the school," said Hine.

Although the village council agreed to fund the complex in August, village and school officials have not been able to agree upon a lease. Hine said the lease is almost complete with only "minor legal language" remaining to be worked out.

Hine and councilman Frank Sawyer both said they were pleased with Ruidoso's allocation, which is more than many other communities received.

The Recreation Priorities Advisory committee received 115 applications for $6.6 million worth of projects. The committee had only $1,117,685 in federal and state funds to allocate.

Capitan received $7,875 to resurface tennis courts. The Capitan school system received $4,875 for a play area and track.

January building permits number 22

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

The Village of Ruidoso issued 22 building permits in January valued at $1,658,174.

Although the valuation is almost 50 percent higher than December's figure and 100 percent higher than the January 1983 valuation, a change in valuation procedure makes it difficult to compare the figures.

This January, Ruidoso began using a variable valuation scale of $42 and $50 per square foot, depending on the type of construction. The village used $27 per square foot for valuing construction before.

Lincoln County Home Builders president Slick Graham said he thought January had been a relatively slow month. Extremely cold temperatures during the first two weeks of the month prevented most new building starts in the last half of January, however, may have increased construction, said Graham.

The 22 permits issued in January 1984 were more than the 17 permits issued the previous month or the 15 in January 1983.

Ruidoso building inspector Kaare Haddeland left his position abruptly early in the month. Former building inspector Don Hendricks filled in as the inspector before the village named Jimmie Neeley temporary inspector, said village manager Jim Hine.

Neeley is not yet certified as an inspector, said Hine. He will be performing inspections under the direction of state inspector Buddy Mullins or Hendricks until he takes a certification exam, said Hine.

Permits issued by the Village of Ruidoso in January are listed below by subdivision, type of construction, and estimated cost of construction.

Candidates night set at Capitan

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

Members of the Capitan Chamber of Commerce decided during their Monday lunch meeting to hold a "Meet the Candidates" night for the residents of Capitan, according to Chamber President Pat Shear. The meeting, scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, February 14, will be at the Smokey Bear Restaurant meeting room in Capitan.

Invitations to the meeting have been sent to all candidates for the two four-year village council seats and the one four-year village judge term.

According to village clerk Virginia Spall, four people are running for the two trustee seats and three candidates are running for the judgeship.

The candidates for trustee are Pat C. Huey, Norman Calvin Renfro, Vernon Kelly Neavers and Larry E. Caywood. Candidates for judge are Alfred Leroy Montes, Johnnie Romero Johnson and Michael D. Points.

According to Shear, the public is invited to attend and ask the candidates questions during the meeting.

The Chamber also discussed the upcoming Smokey Bear Parade. Shear said applications for the arts and crafts fair are ready. Anyone wanting to enter work should call 354-2240 or 354-2665. The fee will be $15 for a 10-foot by 10-foot booth. The fair will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, May 26, the day of the parade.

Shear said plans for the event are progressing well.

"We have 15 entries for the parade already," she said. "It's going to go pretty good."

The next meeting of the Chamber will be at 11:30 a.m. Monday, March 5, in the dining room of the Smokey Bear Restaurant.

Home Builders hear from 16 village council candidates Tuesday

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

Lincoln County Home Builders Association members listened Tuesday night to 16 of the 21 candidates for Ruidoso village council address issues of water, annexation, city planning and growth.

The candidates all spoke five to eight minutes during the association's regular monthly meeting at Cree Meadows Restaurant. The candidates' comments, in order of appearance on the ballot, are summarized below.

Al Junge. Water is probably the key to everything the village does in the future, said Junge. Unfortunately the quality of Ruidoso's water is gone since the village will not be able to purchase enough water rights and will have to drill wells instead. The hard subsurface water will require expensive filtration systems.

"Growth is here and you are going to have it," said Junge. He said the village council would have to take care of the growth. He noted that increased rates during his tenure as a councilman have put the water, sewer and solid waste departments on a sound financial basis that eliminates much of the need for bonds to finance improvements.

Jerry Shaw. Shaw agreed water is Ruidoso's "number one priority." She said she would listen to people and try to make intelligent decisions. "I am certainly in for growth," said Shaw, who recalled the 1960s when it was much harder to make a living.

Jon Denny. Denny said Ruidoso should seek out alternatives to its water problems. He suggested possible cooperation with the Mescalero Apache Tribe, but mentioned concern that Ruidoso might become dependent upon water from others, as the United States has done with oil.

He said he is neither for nor against growth but that it cannot be stopped. He said he did not know the answers to Ruidoso's problems but was willing to listen and seek out alternatives. He said a village council member should represent the people and not special interests.

Ray Dean Carpenter. "I am definitely in for growth," said Carpenter, who added that the growth must be planned. He agreed that Ruidoso may have to go to the Mescalero Apache Tribe for additional water, and called for more cooperation among all governing bodies of Lincoln and Otero counties. He said he would listen to anyone.

"I want to hear both sides before I attempt to make an intelligent decision," Carpenter said.

Alma Russell. Russell agreed that water rights are the controlling factor in growth throughout the Southwest. She gave a short historical synopsis of the necessity of access to water in the Southwest. "Be strong or hear as we search for our water holes," said Russell.

She said she was familiar with possibilities and problems confronting the building industry since her late husband was very involved in the industry.

Michael Radziewicz. Radziewicz said he thought more emphasis should be placed on water conservation as an inexpensive way to increase our water supply. He also said he was in favor of commercial growth which leads to more jobs and demand for new homes.

Bill Karna. Karna said Ruidoso should be able to buy more water rights with revenues from water bills. He suggested looking seriously at increased utility expansion charges and increased water tap fees. He also suggested alternative water right deals such as leases and lease-purchase agreements. He warned that Capitan owns half of the Alto reservoir and may someday demand its share of the water.

John Carver. Carver warned that water is going to get expensive. He said he did not know the answers to water problems and that the council should trust honest, responsible hydrologists to supply answers. He said expansion was necessary but should be controlled, and things such as parks within the city should be taken care of before annexing more property.

Carver also said Ruidoso needs more affordable housing and that tighter control should be exercised over unlicensed builders.

Bill Streeter. "I think it's an exciting time to be here," said Streeter. He said he is for growth and believes Ruidosoans should work together. He said Ruidoso will have to spend money on water, and that he saw a new airport, a junior college and more paved roads in Ruidoso.

Clark Carpenter. Carpenter said Ruidoso's only problem was that it was growing so fast that many decisions must be made on short notice. He said he thought Ruidoso was in pretty good shape with water but should start thinking about possibly using Flume and Perk Canyons for reservoirs. He said he was disappointed the present council did not annex Sleepy Hollow and that that decision may cause problems in the future.

Michael Pirelli. "You gotta be for water," said Pirelli, who noted that he had been a council member before, as well as serving on the Planning and Zoning Commission and the Eagle Creek Inter Community Water Supply Association. He said he wanted to act as a catalyst on the council, instigating less arguing and more cooperation. He said he was a strong advocate of deed restrictions.

John Underwood. The only person against water was W. C. Fields, said Underwood. He said he saw growth as a challenge and that he wanted to gather as much information and facts possible to make decisions and run Ruidoso just like any private business. He said he wanted to harness the energy within Ruidoso to find answers to the problems it faces.

Michael Callaghan. Callaghan said Ruidoso needed to update its existing water facilities such as the treatment plant in the Upper Canyon. He said water would be expensive, but that Ruidoso should not tax current residents to pay for more water. He said he was for sensible growth.

Milt Alcorn. Alcorn said success was dependent upon good relationships that he hoped to build with groups such as builders, the school board and Ruidoso Downs. He said council members should provide stronger administration and that everybody would have to work together.

Sherman Atwood. Atwood noted that he served on the council for eight years from 1974-82, and that he was running for council to provide "continuity." He noted that many of the present ideas being implemented in the village today were started during his tenure on the council. He called growth a "many-faceted problem," and said he was proud of the fact that he helped create the requirement for underground utilities in Ruidoso's new subdivisions.

Romeo Klein. Klein said he was for growth but that Ruidoso needed to secure resources before expanding. He said he thought Ruidoso would have to negotiate for more water rights with the Mescalero Apache Tribe or water right owners in the Hondo Valley. He also expressed concern about an airport and community center.

Candidates Elva Evans, JoAnn Farris, Terry Coe, Ralph Rusch and Joseph Collier did not address the association.

Michael Radziewicz village council candidate

Michael Radziewicz, motel owner and Ruidoso resident for six years, has announced his candidacy for the Ruidoso village council.

Radziewicz, who came to Ruidoso from New Jersey, has a bachelor's degree in business administration from William Patterson College. He completed half the requirements for a master's degree in finance.

He has worked in food service, electronics and quality control and has been a company controller.

He now owns the West Winds Lodge with his wife, Nancy. He has two children, Nicole, 6, and Gregory, 10.

He is a member of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department and the Rotary Club, and is on the board of directors of the Ruidoso Motorcycle Festival. He also helped organize the Golden Years Jubilee last spring.

Radziewicz said he has been involved in community activities since he arrived in Ruidoso.

He is a business owner in town and understands the importance of controlling government costs, he explained.

He said he would like to see a convention center built with existing funds. He is also in favor of a youth center and recreation facilities.

In the area of water, Radziewicz said, he would like to see more emphasis on conservation.

MICHAEL RADZIEWICZ
"It has worked for oil and gas and can work for water as well," said Radziewicz.

Ray Dean Carpenter council candidate

Mescalero native Ray Dean Carpenter has announced his candidacy for a seat on the Ruidoso village council.

Carpenter lived in Ruidoso from 1950 to 1961 before moving to Roswell. He returned to Ruidoso in March 1982. He is a graduate of Ruidoso High School, and later attended Baylor University and Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science.

He was a financial director from 1959 to 1977, and operated a nursery and garden center from 1978 to 1982. He entered the real estate business in August 1982 and is presently a salesperson with DiPaolo Real Estate.

Carpenter has been married to the former Pat Ray, owner of the Nook and Cranny in Ruidoso, since 1961. They have two children.

He is a member of Ruidoso Lodge 73, AF and AM; Scottish Rite Bodies in Santa Fe; York Rite Bodies in Roswell; Grand Lodge of New Mexico, AF and AM; the Episcopalian Church; Ruidoso Board of Realtors; Realtors Association of New Mexico; and the National Association of Realtors. He is past master of Roswell Lodge 18 and Felix Lodge 29, Hagerman, and is presently an officer in the Grand Lodge of New Mexico.

"The main reason why I chose to run was my love for Ruidoso—having been raised and grew up here," Carpenter said.

He stated that future growth and development needed to be coordinated among various agencies, including the Mescalero Apache Tribe.

"I think we need to have a very planned, comprehensive program of expansion," he said. He pointed to current problems of the village being water, sewer and sanitation.

"One thing that I definitely believe in is all open meetings," said Carpenter. "If I'm elected there will be no closed meetings to anyone."

Asked about major campaign issues, he said none have emerged yet, and predicted an assumption of ongoing problems. He mentioned the possible need for an industrial complex, and said the present airport might be considered if a new airport was built. Carpenter noted he was for the whole of Ruidoso and the betterment of the community.

Elmer Pirelli seeks seat on village council

Former village trustee Elmer Pirelli is seeking a seat on the Ruidoso village council in the March 6 municipal election.

He has lived in Ruidoso since 1954. He and his wife, Erol, have 21-year-old twins, Sam and Alicia.

Pirelli is a locksmith. Prior to going into that business in 1974, he was a building inspector for the Mescalero Apache Tribe.

Besides being a former trustee (four years) and mayor pro tem (two years), Pirelli has served on the Ruidoso and Lincoln County planning and zoning commissions and the Eagle Creek Water Association.

He was president of the Ambassadors Club (the "Gold Coats") and was charter president of the Noon Lions Club.

Pirelli cited his previous experience as one reason for running for the council. He said it enabled him to understand the situation better than someone going in cold.

He pointed out that he was involved in forming the original zoning regulations in the village and implementing the first comprehensive plan, in the 1960s.

"I'm perfectly in favor of a professional planner," he said. He called himself a "firm believer in deed restrictions" (restrictive covenants) except in cases of change in land use.

Pirelli said he thought he could bring some harmony to the council. He noted that he does not like executive sessions (closed meetings), favoring open meetings at all times except when litigation or personnel was discussed.

"The main thing is what's best for the town," he said. He pointed out that each elected official must act in concert with the others to achieve aims.

"If a politician tells you he's going to do this and do that, you'd better forget it," Pirelli said.

RMC plans annual Easter egg hunt

The Retail Merchants Committee of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce discussed the annual Easter egg hunt at their February meeting.

During the lunch hour session Monday, members present reviewed past egg hunts and decided to follow similar steps.

The egg event is planned Saturday, April 21, the day before Easter. Community groups including students and business people are expected to donate work and prizes.

At the end of the meeting, Larry Langford resigned. He had been chairman of the group for this particular meeting's meeting. After the session ended, he said business and other commitments kept him from devoting adequate time to the committee.

Duties as chairman of the group had been rotating alphabetically among members for the last nine months. At the meeting this week, they discussed voting for a permanent head of the committee.

However, at the urging of committee member Budgie Green, members voted instead to set criteria for the job first. Drawing up and approving the criteria would take two months, so a permanent head of the group will be named in April at the earliest.

Carrizozo measures pass

Carrizozo School District residents passed two monetary measures during voting Tuesday.

Up to $160,000 in general obligation bonds will be issued by the school. Voters approved that measure 190 to 39, or a margin of about 5 to 1.

A two-mill, three-year property tax was approved by an even more resounding margin. It passed 198 to 38.

Five absentee ballots were among the votes cast.

How Elephant Got Its Nose

WHY THE ELEPHANT HAS SUCH A LONG NOSE
by Chris Peza
7th Grade, Age 12
White Mountain Middle School

Long, long ago there were these two gigantic elephants. The only thing wrong with them was their nose—it was too short and pudgy.

One baking hot day they were on their way to the wide river when suddenly a voluminous python flounced out at them. The two huge elephants explained to the python that they were disgusted with their nose.

The python answered, "I don't know what to do. I can't make it any longer." So the depressed elephants walked on. They arrived at the wide river and noisily slurped up the water.

They were satisfied with the drips and suddenly two huge crocodiles slithered out of the water. One of the crocodiles told them, "Come, I'll give you one wish for drinking out of this river." The elephants agreed saying "OK."

Soon they were terrified at the thought of being devoured by crocodiles. They started backing away. Suddenly the two mean and hungry crocodiles leaped up at the elephants and snapped their noses.

The crocodiles pulled until the elephants started to weep and wince. The crocodiles jerked and tugged. Soon the crocodiles stopped and dove back into the water. The two poor elephants were in immense pain.

From that day on the elephants had long noses.

Contributions of household goods would also be appreciated. Donations may be taken to the Ruidoso Downs village hall or White Mountain Middle School.

Lady Warriors face key tilts after tough loss to Tularosa

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

After losing a tight 51-49 game to host Tularosa Tuesday night, the Ruidoso High School girls varsity basketball team must now meet tough Deming and co-district leader Hot Springs Friday and Saturday.

Ruidoso will travel to Deming Friday and come back to the Warrior gymnasium Saturday night to play Hot Springs. Hot Springs shares the lead with Coche. Both teams have 3-1 records. Deming is 2-2 in district play while the Warriors are fifth in the standings at 1-4.

Ruidoso, now 6-13 overall, lost the Tularosa game in the last second of play when the Wildcats' Trey Anderson was fouled near midcourt.

With the score tied at 49-49, Anderson hit both four shots to give Tularosa the victory.

Sophomore Mavis Geronimo had brought the Warriors even with Tularosa by hitting a short jump shot with eight seconds remaining in the game.

The game was close most of the way.

After Tularosa broke out to a 7-0 edge early in the first quarter, Ruidoso came back to score nine straight points, with forward Jackie Jefferson giving the Warriors the lead with a field goal.

Tularosa came back to take an 11-9 edge at the end of the first period. The Wildcats gradually increased their lead in the second quarter, holding a 24-19 advantage at halftime.

At the opening of the second period, Ruidoso's Gia Rose stole the ball and hit a layup to close the Tularosa edge to 24-21.

The hosts' lead then swayed between two and five points for the rest of the third period. Tularosa led 36-34 at the third quarter break.

Geronimo tied the game at 36-36 less than a minute into the final period with a short jumper.

The lead changed back and forth the remainder of the game. Ruidoso suffered a blow when center Diane McClure fouled out with 3:19 left.

Tularosa led 44-43 at that time, but Lillian Lopez came back to hit a field goal for a 45-44 Warrior edge.

The teams then traded free throws, with one by Tularosa's Anne Chavez giving the Wildcats a 49-47 lead with less than a minute left.

That set up Geronimo's bucket for the tie and the winning free throws by Anderson.

Rose and Geronimo each had 10 points to lead the Warrior attack. McClure and Lopez added nine apiece. Jefferson scored eight, Tami Goldsmith scored two and Yelena Seelbach had one.

Despite the loss, Ruidoso head coach Sergio Castanon felt his team played well.

"I felt they played real well," he said. "We cut down on our turnovers but the mental mistakes we made, I couldn't believe."

The Warriors were hampered by the absence of starting forward Stacy Ivy and backup center Katherine Sanchez, both of whom had the flu. Several other Ruidoso athletes who played in the game had been bothered by the flu in recent days.

Both Hot Springs and Deming present tough problems for the Warriors.

The Warriors beat Deming 57-40 in the first meeting between the two teams at Ruidoso. However, Deming has been highly ranked state-wide most of the season and will have the advantage of playing at home this time.

Hot Springs topped the Warriors 56-53 in Truth or Consequences two weeks ago and might be the best team in the district at this point.

The varsity games both nights will be played between girls junior varsity and boys varsity contests. The girls varsity games will start at 4 p.m. each day.

Flu-laden Warrior boys to play Deming, Hot Springs

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Another critical weekend awaits the Ruidoso High School boys varsity basketball team.

The Warriors, 1-3 during district play and 4-12 overall, will travel to Deming Friday night and host Hot Springs in the Ruidoso Homecoming Saturday night.

However, Ruidoso's toughest foe this weekend might not be either of the above teams, but the flu.

"We had 17 players out Tuesday," said Warrior head coach Ron Geyer Wednesday. "Today it wasn't quite as much, I think around 12 or 13."

"Hopefully we'll be able to put it together tomorrow (Thursday) at practice."

Sophomore Dan Ullmann is the Warriors' leading scorer, averaging over 19 points a contest. Senior Gilbert Rivera has also scored in double figures several times and is a good outside shooter.

Russell Easter, another sophomore, has scored in double figures the past two games and has also done well on the boards.

Other Ruidoso players who should see some action are Tommy Crow, Kenny Espinosa, Patrick Pearson, Cyrus Simons and Tracy Gann.

Deming defeated Ruidoso 38-50 in the first meeting between the two teams last month at the Warrior gymnasium. Ruidoso's only win of the district season came against Hot Springs as the Warriors took a 50-49 decision.

Deming is 3-1 in district play and leads the district. Hot Springs is 1-3.

What can Ruidoso expect from Deming this time?

"The last time we played them we were able to go man on man against them," Geyer said. "Since then they've switched to a zone and they've been winning."

"We're going to have to be very patient and try to force them out of their zone."

Alpha Adkins is a 6-4 center for the Wildcats. Other top Deming players are 6-2 point guard Mike Veramontes and 6-2 John Creamer. Mike Nunley, another Wildcat standout, broke his hand after the last Ruidoso game and probably won't play Friday night.

Hot Springs is a young team like Ruidoso. Its biggest players are sophomores, 6-3 Chris Harrison and 6-5 Todd Mannon. Harrison scored 16 points in the previous Hot Springs-Ruidoso game.

"They're two outstanding players," Geyer said of the Tiger sophomores. "We're going to try to put the clamps on them and force their other players to beat us."

Geyer would like the Warriors to win now but he feels it's especially important that Ruidoso hits its peak the final week of the regular season before the district tournament starts.

"We're aiming to be playing our best when the final week arrives," he commented.

The top two teams from the district tournament will go on to the state tournament in Albuquerque March 7-10.

Tiger cagers claw Grizzlies, 46-41

The Capitan High School boys varsity basketball team raised their district record to 4-1 with a hard-fought 46-41 victory over host Carrizozo Tuesday night in Carrizozo's gymnasium.

Capitan, now 13-5 on the overall season, trailed the Grizzlies 11-10 at the first period break but outscored Carrizozo 13-11 in the second quarter for a 23-22 halftime advantage.

The Tigers increased their edge in the third period, outscoring the Grizzlies 13-8 for a 36-30 lead.

Carrizozo, 3-2 for the district season, fought back in the final period, closing the gap to five points several times, although it did not get any closer.

Todd Proctor led the Capitan scoring with 19 points. He also picked off seven rebounds to top the Tigers in that category.

Dewey Keller added eight points for Capitan, Troy Keller scored five and Eddie Davis tallied four. Davis had been averaging more than 20 points a game entering the contest.

James Guevara led the Grizzlies with 10 points. Kenneth Crenshaw, John Rouche and Robin Beltran each added eight points for Carrizozo.

"It was pretty close all the way," said Capitan coach Kendall Lawlis. "Both teams slowed the tempo down. We only committed 10 turnovers and that's pretty good."

Capitan will host Weed Friday night and travel to Magdalena Saturday. Carrizozo will host powerful Cloudercroft Saturday night.

Carrizozo girls upset Capitan in overtime

Christetta Chavez hit two free throws with 12 seconds remaining in overtime to give the Carrizozo High School girls varsity basketball team a 49-47 win over visiting Capitan Tuesday night.

The Grizzly victory turned the district race into a three-way tie for first place. Carrizozo, Capitan and Cloudercroft all have 4-1 records.

The score was tied 42-42 at the end of regulation time. Becky Huey of Capitan hit a short rebound shot as the buzzer went off to send the game into overtime.

Capitan took a 12-10 edge at the end of the first quarter, but the Grizzlies outscored the visitors 12-6 in the second period for a 22-18 halftime advantage.

The score was tied at the end of the third period 28-28. Carrizozo had led most of the third quarter, holding as much as a six-point lead.

The teams battled evenly in the final regulation period before going into overtime.

Chavez had an outstanding game, scoring 26 points to lead both teams. Mary Jane Ferguson added 16 points for Carrizozo, most of them coming from the outside.

Tracy Herd led the Tiger scoring with 17 points. Shelly Stowe added 10 points and Shelly Eldridge tallied eight.

Capitan will host Weed Friday and travel to Magdalena Saturday. Carrizozo will host Cloudercroft Saturday in a big district game.

The Bank of Ruidoso wins Little League tilt

The Bank of Ruidoso defeated Police Athletic League 22-13 in a Ruidoso-Sertoma Little League basketball Minor Division game Monday night at the White Mountain Middle School gymnasium.

Ronnie Aragon scored six points for the winners and James Larkin tallied five points for Police Athletic League.

In a Major Division contest Monday night, the Chiefs defeated Tim Wishard Goldsmith 29-22.

Friday the Little Braves topped defeated Pioneer Savings 33-20 in Major Division action and Gibson's nipped First City National Bank 11-9 in Minor Division action.

Shelly Hickerson led Gibson's with six points.

Action will continue Friday night at the White Mountain gymnasium. The first game will begin at 7:15.

Bobby Lane was the winner of last week's Junior Warrior of the Week honor. Lane is a standout player on the White Mountain Middle School basketball team that concluded its season last week.

Girls junior varsity beaten

The Ruidoso High School girls junior varsity basketball team saw their record drop to 7-4 when the Warriors fell to host Tularosa 51-34 Tuesday night.

Ruidoso stayed close with the Wildcats for the first half, trailing 24-18 at halftime. But Tularosa outscored the Warriors 19-8 in the third quarter to put the game away.

Both teams scored eight points in the final period.

Veralyn Platta scored 12 points to lead Ruidoso. Rachel Kaydahzine added 10 points and Kristal Enjady scored six.

Ruidoso will travel to Deming Friday and host Hot Springs Saturday. Both games will start at 4 p.m.

Around Sports with Gary Brown

Well, the start of the 1984 United States Football League season (USFL) is almost upon us and it's open to debate how much the new league will improve over last season.

Competition will begin early next month and the second-year league has already garnered some top talent from the collegiate ranks.

The USFL's biggest grab was Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier, the outstanding running back from the University of Nebraska.

The signing of Rozier by the Pittsburgh Maulers was a coup for the USFL against the established National Football League (NFL).

Rozier's entry in the USFL means the new league has a number of outstanding running backs.

Herschel Walker, the 1982 Heisman Trophy winner, plays for the New Jersey Generals of the USFL. Kelvin Bryant, another top running back from the 1982 college corps, plays for the Philadelphia Star.

However, the USFL still is weak at many other positions, particularly at quarterback.

Brian Sipe, the former Cleveland Browns quarterback, has signed with the Generals. But he and former Tampa Bay signal-caller Doug Williams are really the only established quarterbacks in the new loop.

The USFL still has some improving to do in its defensive backfields and at the kicking position. Those areas were weak spots last season and could be again this year.

The biggest problem the USFL faces, however, is one of its own making - expansion.

It was a mistake for the league to expand after just one season. Most of the franchises struggled last season and they could do so again this year.

The best thing for the USFL to do would be to solidify its original teams and look for expansion in three or four years.

The old American Football League (AFL) didn't expand until it was seven years old. That gave the AFL time to build its original teams close to the level of the NFL.

In adding new teams after just one year, the USFL is making a mistake which could cost it dearly in its battle with the NFL.

Whether this expansion will hurt the quality of play this season is something we'll begin to find out next month.

When the Ullmann family moved to Ruidoso in 1982, it was probably one of the best things to ever happen to the Ruidoso High School boys basketball program.

Dan Ullmann is the leading scorer and rebounder on the high school team and he's only a sophomore. He's already 6-5 and could get taller.

Dan's younger brother Dennis is a seventh grader on the White Mountain Middle School team. He's already 6-2 and has shown a lot of promise.

Now along comes Doug, a fourth grader at White Mountain Elementary School.

Doug plays in the Ruidoso-Sertoma Little League basketball program and this season became only the second player ever to make the Major Division in his first year of play. Cody Willard was the first.

It's too bad the three Ullmann brothers are six years apart in age (from the oldest to the youngest).

It would have been nice some day to hear the announcer at a Ruidoso High School game say, "and now starting for Ruidoso, the Ullmann brothers."

Kind of sounds like a rock band.

Warrior wrestlers defeat Colts, 42-17

Ruidoso High School's varsity wrestling team rebounded from a bad weekend by defeating New Mexico Military Institute (NMMI) 42-17 Wednesday night in Roswell.

The Warriors will return to Roswell Saturday for the NMMI Tournament. The competition will begin at 10 a.m.

Wednesday's victory over the NMMI Colts was meaningful for Ruidoso because the Warriors had lost dual matches to Deming, Silver City and Coble last Saturday. The Warriors ended their dual match season at 5-5.

"We wrestled fairly well," said Warrior head coach Gerald Ames. "We had a couple of penalty points that were taken away from us."

Ruidoso got pin victories from Zach Swalander at 140 pounds, Gervase Pesal at 155 pound and Phillip Herrera at heavyweight.

Herrera, who has been wrestling in place of the injured Joe LaRue, moved his record to 6-0 with a first-period pin. Pesal also pinned his opponent in the first period. Swalander's pin came in the second period.

The Warriors got forfeit wins from Cory Garner at 98 pounds, Bronson Rue at 107 pounds, Jeff Slatton at 121 pounds and Gary Burgess at 187 pounds. George Bristow got a 13-13 tie in the 115-pound division.

Scott Ciraulo lost a tight 7-5 decision in the 107-pound class, but the Warrior senior has been bothered by the flu. James Herrera also wrestled well, losing a 7-4 decision at 147 pounds.

The NMMI Tournament should be a good test of the Warriors' strength.

Always-tough Carlsbad, Roswell, Coble, Silver City, Goddard and NMMI will be in the tournament along with the Warriors.

Carlsbad is usually one of the best teams in the AAAA division, while Roswell is also competitive and Silver City is one of the favorites in the Warriors' district.

"We're pleased with our 5-5 dual match record," Ames said. "We've met some good competition, and I think we could have done better."

After this Saturday's competition, the Warriors will participate in the district tournament Saturday, February 18, also at NMMI.

Howell sparks Chiefs to first place in men's league

Gordon Howell had an excellent week in leading the Chiefs to two victories and first place in the Ruidoso Men's Basketball League.

Howell scored 21 points in leading the 5-0 Chiefs to an 88-73 win over the Barney Rue Eagles Sunday night in the White Mountain Middle School gymnasium. Steve Williams added 14 points for the winners.

Bill Richardson scored 23 points and Wade Wilson tallied 16 for the Eagles.

In another Sunday contest, the Cobras rolled over First City National Bank 77-53. Jim McGarvey scored 28 points for the Cobras while Chester Stone hit for 14 to lead First City National Bank.

In action Tuesday, Howell scored 39 points in leading the Chiefs past Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital 89-53. Richard Portillo scored 20 points for the losers.

The Cobras belted the Cochera Coachmen 83-69 in another Tuesday contest.

McGarvey hit for 28 points to lead the winners. Kevin Strobel tallied 29 for the Coachmen.

The Cobras follow the Chiefs in the standings with a 4-1 record. The Eagles are 3-1, Reynolds Electric is 2-1, Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital is 2-2, the T-Birds are 1-2, Cochera is 1-4, and The Incredible and First City National Bank are both 0-4.

Action will continue at 5 p.m. Sunday in the White Mountain gymnasium. Tuesday night's games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Junior varsity boys nipped

The Ruidoso High School boys junior varsity basketball team lost a 28-25 decision to the visiting Goddard sophomores Monday night.

Ruidoso, now 4-13 on the season, was paced in the scoring column by Brian Davis and Chuck Jarrell, each with six points. Jeff Willingham, Randy Reynolds and Trent Tolbert each added four points.

Goddard led by six points (19-13) at halftime, but the Warriors fought back to tie the score 21-21 at the third-period break.

However, the visitors pulled ahead in the final quarter to win.

"The players really got to it," said Warrior junior varsity coach Jim Hofstad. "But we just couldn't buy a shot. We have to really work on our shooting."

A huge seal of the State of New Mexico hangs on a wall of the circular meeting room of the House of Representatives.

McGuire finds Legislature busy

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

"Gentlemen, you may now vote," said Ray Sanchez, Speaker of the House, Monday. It was the 21st day of the Legislature in Santa Fe.

On either side of Sanchez and the other leaders of the House, huge, wall-mounted display boards lit up with a yellow glow. Each board listed each of the 70 representatives' names. Tiny lights beside each name flicked on as each member voted; red for nay and green for yea, until the board resembled some gigantic stoplight. A digital clock ticked away 30 seconds of voting time, and then the lights went out and the voting was done.

The scene occurred again and again as local Representative Mickey McGuire (District 56) and the other legislators worked their way through a typical day of legislative business. In this, the 36th legislative session, business has been brisk.

"In addition to working during the week, I've worked the past two weekends in a row," McGuire said.

He said his average day includes committee work in the early morning, followed by a meeting of the House in session as a whole, and concluding, sometimes into the evening, with more committee work. McGuire said he also spends time after the day of legislating to brief himself on the issues.

According to the representative, his longest day of work at the Legislature began one day at 7 a.m. and ended at 9 p.m.

"We've been busy."

During the session, McGuire has sponsored two pieces of legislation. Bill 77 concerns the purchase of new furniture for the inmates at Camp Sierra Blanca. According to McGuire, the camp presently uses furniture that is surplus and of poor quality. McGuire's other bill, Bill 147, deals with funding for soil and water conservation districts around the state and in the Ruidoso area.

McGuire said he would make no predictions on how long the session would last, and added that he still hoped to be back in his White Mountain Middle School sixth-grade classroom by February 20.

McGuire said the pace of a 30-day session is much more hectic than a 60-day session. He said it was for this reason that he preferred last year's longer session over the present session.

"But we're enjoying it," McGuire said of himself and his wife, Ruth, who is staying with him in Santa Fe. He said he and his wife are anxious to return to Ruidoso, however.

"We're ready to get back, we're hoping to get back soon."

A huge, lighted board keeps track of legislators' votes at the House of Representatives.

The floor of the meeting room of the New Mexico House of Representatives is a scene of activity as representatives discuss pending legislation during the 21st day of the 30-day session Monday.

Ruidoso area State Representative Mickey McGuire ponders ensuing legislation during the morning session of the House Monday.

Bomb threat just a prank

An electronic trap on Principal Tom Hansen's telephone awaits anyone who might attempt to call in a bomb threat to Ruidoso High School.

A "young, immature male voice" made such a threat Monday, right before the lunch break was over, Hansen said. It sounded like a student's voice, he noted.

The boy may have thought it was a prank, but a telephoned bomb threat is a federal offense, Hansen said. Ruidoso Police Chief Dick Swenor called the crime a felony.

The high school has a detailed procedure if a bomb threat evacuation is needed, but did not use it Monday. That caused concern among some parents and officials.

Hansen stated firmly that "we wouldn't jeopardize the kids."

He decided the threat was a fake. "The school is still here, so we made the right judgment. I guarantee, if I felt there was any threat, I wouldn't have been at my desk all afternoon."

Both Hansen and Swenor said calling attention to the bomb threat might provoke mimics. "Like hijackings, if word gets out, there's generally a rash of them," Swenor said.

He added that if a school insists that time missed because of an evacuation be made up later, bomb threats stop. Hansen said such a policy is being considered by the board of education.

Any bomb evacuation would not be "one big party in the parking lot," he vowed. The administration will "prosecute the thunder" out of any suspect, he added.

Hansen said four bomb threats have been scattered across the 13 years in which he has been Ruidoso High School principal. He recalled the school was not evacuated for the other threats, which also were made during noon breaks.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

Bert Pfingsten
 "From this Valley
 They say you are leaving.
 We will miss your kind face
 And bright smile.
 For you're taking with you
 The Sunshine
 That has brightened
 Our path-way a while."
 These words from the Cowboy Song, "Red River Valley" are the way we feel about Bert Pfingsten, except that in the larger sense, he has not left us because he has left so much of himself with us.
 Services for Albert Thornton Pfingsten, affectionately known as "Bert," were held at the Pfingsten Ranch just up the Bonito Valley from Hondo on Sunday, February five. Bert was called home from his native valley on February two.
 Services were under the direction of Bob Jones, Pastor of the Tinnie Baptist Church; the Reverend Norman Grigsby, minister of Saint John's Methodist Church, Albuquerque; Father Burdette Stampley of The Episcopal Church of Lincoln County; and Masonic Lodges of Carrizozo and Roswell, under the direction of Albert Hudson.
 Pallbearers were: Richard Phillips, Frank Titaworth, Leo Joiner, Max Chavez, Ernest McDaniel, and Bob White.
 The Reverend Mr. Grigsby said that Bert was "A Johnny Appleseed sort of fellow," that he loved life, and was especially fond of apple trees, that he had planted trees all the length of the Bonito Valley all the way down from his native home at Bonito City. He further stated that Bert was "on intimate terms with God," that he lived to help people, and that Bert was grateful that he could say of himself: "I can sleep." Meaning that Bert was thankful that in his almost eighty-seven years he could face his Lord with a clear conscience.
 The Masonic services were beautiful and comforting, especially so because of the heart-felt messages of Mr. Albert Hudson, who for all his ninety years, reached the hearts of those present with a clear, ringing voice.
 "How Great Thou Art" was sung by Wes Grigsby. The Masonic closing prayer was recited by Bill Dunlap.
 Services were closed by Father Stampley, who asked the friends and loved ones to join him in reciting The Lord's Prayer, and then gave a few words from the Episcopal Burial Services.

 Bert was born in Bonito City February 27, 1897, and lived all his life in his native Valley except for College training in New Mexico Military Institute and back East. He served in the Marines in World War I, and taught school in White Oaks and Lincoln.
 His natural gifts were many, and he was active in all work for the benefit of his fellow man and the glory of God. As the Reverend Mr. Grigsby said, "He was a man of the land," and by his own description, "A man of the mountain."
 Bert's grave is on a special spot, a knoll overlooking the bend of his native river, looking across to his beloved hills. And now the spot is sacred, and at the foot of his grave is planted an apple tree.
 Bert's trademark was his cheerful sense of humor, and his spirit of making all those in his presence feel happy. And it was this spirit which was very much with us at the services, and will remain as a blessing with us always.
 And we all rejoice that Bert has been welcomed into Heaven by Our Lord with the words:
 "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."
February Birthdays
 A few local birthdays of February: February five, Ralph Dunlap; February Six, John Shrecengost, great-grandson of Bert Pfingsten; and February seven, Nell Crain Parks.
 The almanac lists a few: Feb. 3, Horace Greeley, famous editor; Feb. 4, Charles Lindberg; Feb. 6, Babe Ruth; Feb. 7, Charles Dickens; February 8, President William Harrison; Feb. 11, Thomas Edison; Feb. 12, Abraham Lincoln; Feb. 15, Susan B. Anthony; Feb. 15, Galileo; Feb. 21, Cardinal Newman; February 22, George Washington; Feb. 25, Enrico Caruso; Feb. 26, Victor Hugo; Feb. 27, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and Marion Anderson.
 Nell Crain Parks, mother of Dave Parks, was born February seven, 1900, in Spanish Fort, Texas, to Albert Crain, and the former Violet Berryman.
 Nell is a pioneer of Ruidoso, and one of our most beloved citizens.
 She has a long and distinguished career as a school teacher, and is an inspiration to all of us with her every-youthful and cheery nature, and her Christian life from day to day.
 We wish this great lady many happy returns of the day and all God's Blessings.

The Birthday Of Abraham Lincoln
 It has been said that more words of praise have been written about Abraham Lincoln than of any other mortal Man.
 Last year on the occasion of Lincoln's birthday, President Reagan said:
 "To understand the greatness of America, we need only look the life of Abraham Lincoln."
 Our sixteenth president, Abraham Lincoln was born February twelve, 1809, on a farm in Kentucky. From a life of toil and poverty he rose to become one of the great men of History.
 He lived to make the log cabin a sacred symbol of America—that here we can rise to the greatest heights from the humblest of beginnings—that an even break, a chance, is all that is asked of mankind. And that here in America we have an even chance, and more.
 At six feet three, Lincoln is our second to the tallest president along with Lyndon Johnson, the tallest being George Washington at six feet four.
 He had the next thing to super-human strength, being the champion wrestler of his time. To match this he had one of the giant intelligences of all time, and much more—a heart full of deep compassion.
 In his nature was something of the dreamer which he inherited from his mother, a devout Christian. Also he had a mystic sense of his own destiny.
 On a river boat trip down the Mississippi to New Orleans, he had a close look at Slavery.
 He told a companion:
 "If I ever get a chance to hit that, I'll hit it hard."
 He did get his chance and did "hit it hard" with the Emancipation Proclamation which freed the slaves.
 The state of New Mexico almost became named "Lincoln" and our own county bears his name.
 On his birthday, let us send up a prayer of thanks for one of our greatest and most beloved, Honest Abe.

Valentines Day
 Soon Valentine's Day will be upon us. So let us help Dan Cupid in his work.
 Do not forget that ten-pound box of Valentine Candy and the big bouquet of Red Roses:
 You remember the popular song of the thirties:
 "Give me one dozen Roses
 Put my heart in beside them.
 And send them to
 The one I love."
 This is your chance of a life-time, fellows; and it comes only once a year, so make the most of it.
 Do I sound as if I am a stock holder in one of the big international chocolate candy companies? Or on the board of Directors of the National Association of Florists?
 "I wish!" as they say nowadays.
 Here is a message I have just received over the thought waves:
 "On Valentine's Day
 You can't Go Wrong
 With a Message of Candy,
 Flowers, or song."
 Signed:
 Sincerely, Dan Cupid.

Middle school choir performs

by DARRELL J. PEHR
 News Staff Writer
 Although the White Mountain Middle School Show Choir did not place in their weekend competition at Rio Grande High School in Albuquerque, Music Director Churchill Cooke said the group performed well.
 "We almost made the finals, but got beat by an Albuquerque school," Cooke said. He added that he heard favorable comments from one of the judges on the performance of the White Mountain group.
 "She said it was very, very close," Cooke said of the judge. "She was very impressed with the group."
 The choir competed against similar groups from middle schools and junior high schools from all over New Mexico. The White Mountain group performed Friday afternoon at 4:30. The two top mid school choirs went on to perform in a "Best of Festival" concert Saturday night. The White Mountain group was also able to have another performance, combining forces with students from Durango, Colorado, Alamogordo and Albuquerque, to put on a special dance routine Saturday night, according to Cooke.
 Cooke also mentioned that White Mountain Middle School student Linder Rad received a special award for being choreographer for the show

SUPER SPECIAL OF THE WEEK

A major factor in the remodeling and restoring of this lovely older home was the flow of a crowd. The kitchen has room for a breakfast area, but is conveniently off the formal dining room, which easily flows on to the formal living room. These three areas alone can handle a small crowd. In the summer your guests can overflow out on the huge lighted terrace. This home also has a family room with its own fireplace. Four bedrooms, all large, make this a super family home. Add to all of this 1+ acres of great paved parking, beautiful trees and "running" room for the children and pets, a corner location and you've found a REAL home. Situated on the property so that the home is a nice sun catcher in the morning and shaded in the afternoon. Let's plan to look at all this has to offer. Appointments only please. Trades possible and terms.

Opinion

Editorial

Let's set the record straight.

There is no conspiracy to discredit Smokey Bear or otherwise cast aspersions on his good name, despite the fact his image was temporarily displayed upside down on an Alamogordo billboard last week.

The Albuquerque Journal prominently displayed a picture of the offending billboard, yesterday, and gave no indication in the caption that Smokey was not hanging there still.

The state's largest newspaper also raised the question, by implication, of whether this contumelious act had been done on purpose.

But our investigation dispelled thoughts of a conspiracy.

Checking with the forest supervisor's office in Alamogordo, we discovered the whole thing was a mistake. The poster includes a lot of solid black space ("This used to be a forest"), and the crew putting it on the billboard didn't realize it was reversed until they almost were finished.

They went back the next day and put it on right.

We are happy to report the successful outcome of this mishap. After all, it's our forest Smokey is talking about.

And, of course, Smokey is one of Lincoln County's favorite native sons, and this is his 30th anniversary year.

When Smokey's postage stamp is issued later this year—in Capitan, we hope—people around here surely will stick them on envelopes right side up.—TP

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

Let's set the record straight on raw milk. House Bill 105 (banning the sale of raw milk in N.M.) came about because of the Queso Blanco incident. This was an illegal dairy making cheese (which falls under the Food Act - not the Dairy Act.) If it had been a Grade A Raw Milk Dairy, the strep in the cows would have been caught indirectly from a high Bacterial plate count and a high mastitis count (most of the cows had mastitis also.)

The 2nd incident was campylobacter supposedly coming from 2 Grade A Raw Milk Dairies. The State Health department has reported 7-8 cases of campylobacter from an Albuquerque dairy. The only proof they can come up with is a case study - which they will not show to the dairy. This dairy sells over 200 gallons of raw milk a day.

If campylobacter was in a batch of milk almost everyone drinking it would have been ill. One thing that people fail to recognize is that this bacteria can come from prepared meat, chicken, lamb, pork, shell fish, beef, baked food - poultry, dogs (especially young ones), raw milk, fresh and salt water. Campylobacter can only get into raw milk if fecal matter from an infected cow get directly into the milk. This is why we clean the cow's udders so carefully before milking. Grade A Raw Milk Dairies are tested for a Coliform count (fecal matter in the milk.) Our's has always been less than 1 - the lowest you can get.

The other Northern N.M. dairy had 3 cases, that again, could only be proven? by case studies. Again there was no major outbreak and the cases were at different times of the month.

Sunday, January 29 the Albuquerque Journal ran an article which contained the following, "In 1979, 40 New Mexico school children drinking raw milk during a dairy tour came down with Campylobacteriosis." I immediately got on the phone and found out the facts. The dairy was a pasteurized dairy, but they had given the children raw milk. The bacterial plate count for raw milk for pasteurization is 100,000 per ml. to 300,000 per ml as commingled milk (raw milk B.P.C. is 20,000 per ml.) And the state runs no coliform count on it until after it is pasteurized.

It all points to the fact that the legal Grade A Raw Milk Dairies are being punished for something they had nothing to do with. Dr. Jonathon Mann, State Epidemiologist, has said raw milk is not and can not be made safe. His office did the case studies. We feel we can and have proven him to be wrong.

DEAR EDITOR:

As a relatively busy mother of 3 I'd like to set down a couple of words. First I'd like to thank The News for great coverage of most all events in this area. The Reporter's Round has been a pleasure and Billy Allstetter's last article was great. His interpretation of different types of news is as varied as The News itself but always thorough and somehow personal.

I also would like to suggest that we take a moment to really appreciate our home area here in Lincoln County. We can show that appreciation through a little active participation. For instance—would you spit on your kitchen floor? Most likely not, but the trash along the highway is as ugly. Let's wait for a trash can. We're privileged to live here let's keep it really nice - it's up to us. We need more input in our town - whether by attending meetings - making phone calls, suggestions about parking areas or many ways we can all help. Share your ideas - some are sure to be workable. There are lots of great ideas sitting around in people's heads so let's hear it. Those of us who live here can make it a real pleasure to live in Lincoln County. Let's also see more of our local skills and talents exhibited and marketed. There are lots of talented and skilled people around.

And let's CARE. And let's show it by helping and holding - whether it is your family or holding out a helping hand to someone needy every once in a while. Let's also remember the strength and love that a family can have. It can be so beautiful - the kind of beauty that comes loving and respecting each other - and faith that no matter what you'll never give up on each other.

And - would you believe if we all followed a few simple rules how much less complicated our lives would be - and how really gratified we'd feel. Those simple rules are the 10 commandments of course we'd have to cut out having affairs with each others spouse (even the desire to do so), We'd need to work for all the goods we come by and not ever let our anger carry us to cause someone to die. It would necessitate respect for those who have lived longer than we have and who gave us the gift of existence, recognize that a force who we'll call God created our entire universe and respect that force above all other things, take a day of rest every 7th day, tell the truth about anything that happens - if you should have much time to do any talking when your day is done. I surely can't say I personally follow these to the letter but, heck, it's surely alot smoother because I'm trying. Let's be the best that we can be. Why settle for anything less?

Something to think about. I hope that we are all sensitive to feel God's love and appreciate all the good here. So far as the rest that we find - well, at least we can make it better.

Sincerely
BETH MILLER

DEAR EDITOR:

Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital was recently faced with an emergency situation in which a critically injured patient was in desperate need of a particular type of blood. The response to our emergency call for blood donors was tremendous.

We would like to thank the many individuals who responded to this urgent call. It is the continued support from our community which enables our hospital to provide services normally found only in hospitals double our size, and enables us to provide the best possible medical care to our community, a service to which we are totally dedicated.

The physicians, nurses, and the entire hospital staff join together in expressing our very sincere appreciation for this willing response in a time of crisis.

Sincerely

DEAR EDITOR:

This is a letter of commendation for the traffic division of the Ruidoso Police Department.

The police by their increased visibility and enforcement are contributing to a safe environment for us all.

I appreciate and support their efforts.

JIMMY NEELEY

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to take this opportunity to once again thank the people of Ruidoso and surrounding communities for their great support of the Southern Winter Games for Special Olympics. The special athletes that I teach and coach had a very enjoyable stay and will never forget their skiing experiences.

The food was delicious. Special thanks to all the Service Groups who were so helpful and friendly and obviously good cooks! The Opening Ceremony Torch Light Parade was so beautiful. The athletes are still talking about the pretty pink lights. I would especially like to thank all the volunteers who worked directly with the athletes as their instructors. You were super! Special recognition to Diana Person, Hilde Strobel, Ray Bishop, Bob Peirce, Bobby Palm and the students from Ruidoso and Capitan High Schools. The medical team also did an excellent job whenever injuries did occur. There are so many individuals that contributed to this event that there is no way I can name everyone, but your efforts were very much appreciated.

My students and athletes look forward to the Winter Games every year. Thanks to all of you they have always had a very memorable experience. We all appreciate your open arms and friendly welcome. The Ski Shops have always been so helpful in arranging for equipment for the special athletes. Eagle Creek Ski Area has also been very receptive toward the Special Olympians.

All of you deserve a big THANKS for all of your volunteer assistance. So, from myself and my athletes - THANK YOU!!!!

Sincerely,
MARILYN KOUKOL

DEAR EDITOR:

Ruidoso is one of the finest places on Earth to live. The people who live here and the people that choose to return time and again deserve to have the best representation available.

I don't have the money to campaign, so in a nut shell I will tell you what I support: more water rights, water conservation, slowed growth, more tourism, more parks and recreation, a community center, reasonable utilities, Ruidosoan participation in Village Government, professionally planned growth, a council that can work together, an open ear to the general public, supporting our Honest Mayor.

WITH ALL HUMBLINESS, I submit my work experiences over the last twenty years which qualifies me to run for Village Council. Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—It's baffling how two people can look at the same set of facts and get different conclusions.

Admittedly, one of the two, in this case Governor Anaya, was creating something of a media event when he gave his observations on this particular topic.

He was trying to use a development in Washington to affect something in New Mexico.

Publication of President Reagan's budget, he was telling us, would force Anaya to press the Legislature here in Santa Fe to raise taxes even higher than they appear willing to go.

He dresses ideas like that up in all kinds of tendentious language. The national budget will have "disastrous effects" on New Mexico, "horrendous loss of revenues," "hundreds of millions of dollars lost to the state," and so on and so on.

Good for dramatic effect, but hardly factual.

What is factual of this: Every year since the present administration has been in office in Washington, the amount of federal money coming to our state government has risen—not fallen.

Somewhere ought to tell Toney that. Here are the exact figures, so you will know this is not just somebody joshing you.

In fiscal year 1983, federal funds coming to state government were $437,071,100. That is as compared with the $1,236,044,000 we spent from our own general funds that same year.

Given the fact that there is no real obligation on the feds to give us any support at all, that level, sanctioned and approved by the Reagan administration, is not too shabby.

The next year, fiscal 1984, we spent less of our own general funds on government. We dropped that total to $1,199,143,900. The bucks from Washington, however, went up—from the $437,071,100 mentioned above to $483,161,800. While our state Legislature was cutting its spending on services to our citizens, that old meany, Ronald Reagan, was actually giving us 5 percent more dough than we had gotten the year before. Again the next year, fiscal '85, while the state's appropriations to government rose to $1,318,726,700, the federal money went up as well, this time to $542,623,500.

All that makes it hard to see why we should be hearing such harsh words about how the people in Washington are mistreating us. While we have only been increasing our own contributions to those services the Governor is always describing as withering away by a mere 8 percent, the feds have upped their share by 25 percent.

It's hard to see why they are the bad guys here.

Maybe the moral of the story is this: Just because the Governor calls a news conference and welcomes the time he gets before the television cameras, it doesn't follow that what he is saying is the gospel truth.

In other words, sometimes media events are just that, and the real content of what is said at one of them should be carefully examined.

One action Governor Anaya has taken while the Legislature is in town got lost in all the attention given to the lawmakers.

He named a sort of oversight committee for the Department of Economic Development and Tourism, almost as though he isn't satisfied with the things that have gone on there under Cabinet Secretary Alex Mercure. This is the only department in state government to be given such a watchdog group.

Composition of the new body is also interesting. It includes Fabian Chavez, who was head of that department of government under another administration; Don Kerr, the boss of Los Alamos National Laboratories; and Stu Hill, a legislator from Albuquerque who is also a prominent member of the major political party to which the Governor doesn't belong.

It will be interesting to see what happens when the new committee moves into action. That should be almost immediately after the Legislature goes home.

Capitan graduate parks and rec expert

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Pat Westbrook has a big responsibility in Albuquerque's future.

The former Capitan resident is the superintendent of the design and development division of the Duke City's Parks and Recreation Department.

"I have a very exciting job," Westbrook said. "We design and construct new parks and remodel existing parks. It's a lot of service to the public."

About 45 people work in Westbrook's department, around 35 in the work crew and 10 on the office staff.

The city currently has 146 completed parks and at least five more under construction. About 20 of the completed parks are undergoing some type of remodeling.

New facilities are being built to accommodate the Duke City's growing population. Albuquerque's population has almost quadrupled since 1950 and is likely to double its size in the next 30 years.

Westbrook graduated from Capitan High School in 1970, where she was active in student affairs. Her older brother, Butch Grantham, is a former president of the Ruidoso Soccer Association.

She was a cheerleader, was president of the Future Homemakers of America, participated in girl's state and also belonged to the honor society. She currently belongs to Sigma Lambda Alpha, (the landscape architecture honor society) and Phi Kappa Phi.

Westbrook, who is married and has two children, graduated from Texas Tech University in 1979 with a bachelor's degree in landscape architecture. Her husband Mike is a structural engineer and an architect.

She has been with the Albuquerque Parks and Recreation Department since May, 1983, when she was park designer for the design and development division. Westbrook became superintendent in September of last year.

Although a lot of parks have been built in recent years, Westbrook admits it's becoming harder to get land for parks.

"There's still some land around," she said. "But the cost of it is going up and a lot of the available land is out of our price range."

Westbrook does enjoy her job. "Probably one of the best things I like about my job is that I'm working in my profession," Westbrook remarked. "It's really interesting work."

"We're helping the city and trying to improve the quality of life here."

HOOKEM LED VIRTUALLY every jump while upsetting Machisma in Saturday's featured New Mexican Handicap. Hookem looked superb in setting early fractions of :22 for the quarter-mile, :45 2-5 for the half-mile and completing the five furlongs in :59 1-5 under a well-judged ride by Betty Harless. The race drew eight three-year-olds competing for a purse of $8,975. Hookem only raced four times as a two-year-old yet qualified for the prestigious Riley Allison Futurity last May at Sunland Park. He was rested from June 5 until January 27 when he led throughout while scoring a two-length victory over Release The Wind at Sunland Park over six and one-half furlongs. That effort obviously prepared the Platoon Leader colt for his best effort. He broke alertly under Harless, grabbed the rail and then won with authority by three and one-half lengths as Machisma closed strongly to take second as the 2-5 wagering favorite. Harless also bred Hookem, so the victory was even more satisfying to her. Trained by Coy Hendrix, Hookem is owned by Agnes Irvin of Roswell. As the $3.10-1 second wagering choice, Hookem paid $8.20 to win. Machisma, ridden by Salustio Burgos, broke in fourth place from the outside eight post position and tried gallantly to take the lead. The Scout Leader filly loomed up from the outside entering the stretch, but still ran a strong race and showed courage in defeating Fleet Talk, a 60-1 outsider under Monica Stanley, for second place. Machisma was making her first start since winning the rich Sunland Park Fall Thoroughbred Futurity over six furlongs on December 31 by a head over San Simon. Machisma is owned by H.T. Hornbuckle of Albuquerque and is trained by Fred I. Danley.

SCRUTINIZE BECAME the season's first two-year-old quarter horse winner by capturing Friday's third race. The Sinn Fein gelding took a nose verdict over Gembro, who was a nose ahead of favored Chase The Rainbow in the 330-yard dash. Ridden by Larry Byers, Scrutinize is trained by Armando M. Quintanilla for owner Betty L. Lichty of Phoenix, Arizona. He was clocked in 17:59 with a tailwind blowing. As the $3.10-1 second-wagering favorite, Scrutinize returned $8.20 to win. Chase The Rainbow, the $1.30-1 wagering choice under Jerry Nicodemus, just missed while Gembro was a 7-1 outsider under Gary Sumpter.

AN UPDATE ON A HOOFBEAT from Sunday, January 29:

A veterinarian on January 14 administered the medicine, Dipyrone, to the horse, Blame It On David, for a bad case of colic. Seven days later Blame It On David won the seventh race at Sunland Park and the urine test came back positive, showing Dipyrone. Trainer Gerald Hobby, immediately, got a "stay" from Ron Bessera, executive secretary of the New Mexico State Racing Commission, allowing him to continue racing at Sunland Park until the next New Mexico State Racing Commission meeting in the near future.

NASHUA'S RICHES CONTINUED her fine streak of consistency with a frontrunning victory in Saturday's fifth race at one mile. The five-year-old Nashua's Rough 'N mare scored her second consecutive victory over a distance of ground when she won her second straight starter allowance for $2,500 horses. In eight outings this season at Sunland Park, the Oklahoma-bred dasher has won two races with five seconds and one fourth, she covered the mile in 1:43 1-5, again under regular rider Casey Lambert. Trained by Frank Cappellucci, Nashua's Riches is owned by Arthur N. Logan of Sayre, Oklahoma. As the $1.70-1 wagering favorite, Nashua's Riches paid $5.40 to win. She ran the quarter-mile in :23 2-5, the half-mile in :47, and the six furlongs in 1:13 1-5.

BEST OF BLUE CAPTURED his third straight victory when he scored a rallying win by a neck over frontrunning Ho Chi's Star in Saturday's eighth race at five and one-half furlongs. The 11-year-old Blue Cobra gelding started his streak on December 30 with a come-from-behind one and one-half length win over Irish Mannered and then won by almost one length over Nordic Barter on January 14. All three victories were against $2,500 horses at five and one-half furlongs. Dale Cordova rode Best Of Blue in the first two triumphs while F.O. Martinez was aboard on Saturday. Trained by James W. Curry, Best Of Blue is owned by James A. Grice of Socorro. As the $1.30-1 wagering favorite, Best Of Blue paid $4.60 to win.

IN STEWARDS' RULINGS: —Having received a report from the official chemist of the New Mexico State Racing Commission that the urine sample taken from the horse, Prince Gene, which finished first in the eighth race on January 29, proved positive for the drug, Benzocaine, trainer Gerald E. Marr was suspended and his case was referred to the New Mexico State Racing Commission. He is denied privileges of the grounds of racetracks in New Mexico. All horses owned or trained by him are denied entry pending transfer to a trainer or trainers approved by the stewards. Prince Gene shall be reinstated only upon written report from an official track veterinarian that it is capable of racing without medication. Payment of purse monies are withheld pending further order of the New Mexico Racing Commission. This ruling in no way affects the parimutuel payoff in this race.

TOP LEVAN CONTINUED his mastery at Sunland Park by tallying a head victory over Goin Geyser in Sunday's seventh race at 350 yards. The triumph was the seventh this meeting for the 10-year-old Top Moon gelding. It made him the season's winningest horse. Several others have five victories each. Top Levan's Sunday win was against $6,250 claimers, his second straight victory. He won his first five races of the season, ran fourth and then won two more. The Oklahoma-bred dasher was ridden for the second consecutive time by Kevin Coghburn for trainer Donald E. Mooney and owner Debra Ann Provench of Saginaw, Texas. As the $1.10-1 wagering favorite, Top Levan paid $4.20 to win. Top Levan has been a wagering favorite in six of his eight local appearances.

MR. GAELIC WON HIS THIRD straight race by taking a driving win over Knight At War in Sunday's eighth race at five and one-half furlongs. The Gaelic Christian gelding defeated $8,000 claimers by almost nine lengths at five and one-half furlongs on January 1, then won by five lengths over Miss Blue Blade on January 8 in an allowance race. Sunday's win was against allowance foes. F.O. Martinez has been aboard for all victories for trainer Ike Danley and the Macy Ranch of Post, Texas. As the 7-5 wagering choice, Mr. Gaelic paid $4.80 to win.

CASEY LAMBERT, Sunland Park's leading rider, captured three races on Sunday's program. He took the second with No Defeat ($26.00) for trainer Clifford C. Lambert Sr., won the fourth on Miss Denton ($3.20) for trainer L. LaRae Lovell and then took the sixth on Mark Ten ($3.40) for trainer Frank Cappellucci.

SUNDAY'S CROWD of 3,912, the second best gathering this season, wagered the biggest one-day mutuel handle this season. The total handle was $448,231. That total included two large pools for the trifecta wagering. The first trifecta pool was $57,282 while the twelfth-race pool reached $56,751. Saturday's crowd of 3,415 had wagered the previous biggest one-day mutuel handle of $418,414. Overall, the three-day weekend produced an excellent mutuel handle of $1,115,928, an average daily mutuel handle of $371,976.

TRAINER BOB E. ARNETT won two races on Sunday's program. He started with Stash It ($19.20) in the tenth for the Preston Farms of Burkburnett, Texas, and then took the twelfth with Bickers Boy ($16.40) for owner Anthony W. Williams of Albuquerque. David Lidberg rode Stash It while Eugene O'Neill was on Bickers Boy.

Getting hooked

Hookem, a 3-1 shot, stepped off an impressive three and one half length win in Saturday's $8,975 New Mexican Handicap at Sunland Park. Hookem was piloted by Betty Harless for Agnes M. Irvin of Roswell.

Never Love edges Vavavavoom

Never Love dropped down to an $8,000 claiming price for Friday's headliner at Sunland Park, and the fans obviously felt the gelding would have little trouble.

He raced as a 4-5 favorite, but encountered unexpected resistance from the 9-2 shot, Vavavavoom.

The latter fought for all he was worth during the stretch run of the five and one-half furlong sprint, then finally had to give in to the people's choice.

Never Love, who normally runs in $10,000 claiming races, ended Friday's duel with a neck lead. It was his third win out of his last six races, and produced mutuel payoffs of $3.80, $2.60 and $2.20.

Never Love was ridden by Casey Lambert at the top weight of 120 pounds in the eight-head field. He wasn't claimed. The winning time: 1:05 3/5 seconds. The winning owner is Warren N. Moore of Wagon Mount,

New Mexico. Vavavavoom, with Arturo Vallejo up, returned $3.60 and $3. Little Fellow, a 5-1 shot taking a hike in class, ended up third in a good try returning $2.60.

Sunland Park Results

The New Mexico way

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Irvin (at left) of Roswell were all smiles in the Sunland Park winner's circle over the weekend after their colt, Hookem, rolled up an easy win in the New Mexican Handicap at five furlongs. The victory presentation was made by John West (center) of the Sunland Park board of directors. At right, jockey Betty Harless and trainer Coy Hendrix.

Hookem whips Machisma

Hookem hugged the rail all the way and rolled up a surprisingly easy victory over heavily backed Machisma in Saturday's $8,975 New Mexican Handicap at Sunland Park.

The five-furlong sprint for New Mexico-bred three-year-olds ended with Hookem cruising under the wire with a fat three and one-half length lead as Machisma was all out to hold off the 60-1 longshot, Fleet Talk, for second.

The sprint was viewed by 3,415 fans who shovied a resounding $418,414 through the mutual windows on the 12-race program. It was the highest handle of the 1983-84 season. The previous highwater mark for the meeting was the $407,286 recorded on Sunday, January 15.

Hookem, ridden by Betty Harless for Agnes M. Irvin of Roswell, broke alertly out of the rail post and quickly assumed the lead in the New Mexican. The colt carried 118 pounds, as compared to 124 for Machisma (a career winner of $135,451).

Machisma, coming out of the number 8 slot, appeared to lag a bit in the early going. She found herself in fifth place, but not too far off the pace. Still, the slightly sluggish getaway proved to be costly, for Machisma remained on the far outside, and lost considerable ground in the turn for home.

It was the opposite situation for Hookem, who saved real estate all the way, reached the upper stretch with plenty of air still in his lungs, and required no urging from jockey Harless in the final romp to the wire. The colt was timed in 59 1/5 seconds (after doing fractions of 22 flat and 45 2/5) and collected $5,385. Hookem, trained by Coy Hendrix, returned mutual payoffs of $8.20, $2.60, $3. It was his second straight win.

Machisma, piloted by Salustio Burgos for H.T. Hornbuckle of Albuquerque, earned $1,974 and refunded $2.20 and $2.40. Fleet Talk banked $1,077 for third and handed back $9.20 in the wagering. The filly, piloted by Monica Stanley at 114 pounds, is owned by Loy G. Fletcher of Artesia.

The quickest route home

Star Route, better than 15-1 in the wagering, easily outlegs the hard-pressed 3-5 favorite, Bourbon and Blues Number 4, in Sunday's featured Ruidoso Jockey Club Purse at Sunland Park. The sprint covered five and one-half furlongs.

Star Route stars in allowance

Star Route, a seven-year-old gelding who had been running against high-priced claimers earlier in the season, boomed to a two-length upset over some strong handicap and allowance horses in Sunday's spotlighted Ruidoso Jockey Club Allowance at Sunland Park.

The five and one-half furlong sprint was viewed by a crowd of 3,912—second biggest of the 1983-84 season—who pumped a resounding $448,231 through the mutual equipment. This was the highest handle of the meeting, easily surpassing the previous mark of $418,414, set only a day earlier.

The strong surge in business over the weekend kept Sunland on course toward possibly its most successful season in history.

Star Route, cleverly ridden by Frank Pacheco at 120 pounds, showed plenty of early speed in Sunday's top-per—even getting the jump on the speed ace, Bourbon and Blues. The latter, going after his fourth straight win, was a 4-5 favorite under Betty Harless. The colt carried 116 pounds.

Pleasure Maker, a 4-1 shot handled by Casey Lambert, also flashed a lot of early power and joined Bourbon and Blues and Star Route in a heated struggle over the lead slot. Although Pleasure Maker held a slight advantage going into the turn for home, the power burst quickly took a lot of zip out of her sails.

Pleasure maker began to weaken in the upper stretch, but Star Route, despite losing some ground on the outside, took command eagerly. Jockey Harless tried to encourage Bourbon and Blues to rally out of second place but the four-year-old was unable to make much headway.

Star Route was under no pressure while cruising down to the wire, stopping the clock in 1:04 4/5 seconds (a second off Bourbon and Blues's seasonal mark) and refunding payoffs of $32.60, $7.60, $2.60. Star Route earned $2,100 out of the $3,500 purse. The gelding is owned and trained by Albino C. Valenzuela Sr. of Santa Fe. Bourbon and Blues, the property of R. Gerald Roberts of Lamesa, Texas, returned $2.80 and $2.20. Pleasure Maker ($2.40) got in third.

For Star Route, the win was his fourth of the season, and his second straight. Copper Case, a key Southwest handicap star, was never a factor as the 7-2 second favorite.

Super Select Sale interest high

Enthusiasm is mounting already for the fourth annual Ruidoso Super Select Horse Sale here this summer, reports general manager Richard Thompson.

Consignment inquiries are coming into the office at a record pace for both the yearling and broodmare sessions, says Thompson, and adds that the Consignor Award Program is drawing considerable interest.

"This summer's sale should be the best ever," predicts Thompson. "The market showed a definite increase last year and we feel the trend will continue."

Thompson cites improved quarter horse racing programs, the introduction of pari-mutuel wagering to Oklahoma and prominent stallion syndications as indicators to a successful market this summer.

The Super Select Sale last year solidified its standing as the nation's most prestigious quarter horse auction with a 41 percent increase in average yearling prices.

Eighty-seven yearlings passed through the ring and brought total sales (excluding repurchases) of $3,232,500 for an average of $44,896. In 1982 the average price was $31,419. The Super Select Sale record was set in 1981 with an average price of just under $65,000.

In last year's broodmare and stallion share session, 86 lot numbers brought total sales of $2,038,400.

The highest-selling yearling last year was Breakaway Baby, a filly sired by two-time world champion Dash For Cash and out of the champion-producing mare Larking Kit. She was sold to Mary Urschel of Canadian, Texas, for $390,000 from consignors Tom Dawson and Don Luciano of El Paso. It was the third-highest ticket in the Sale's history—topped only by the world record price of $510,000 for Hitmito Dancer and $500,000 for Hot For Cash in the 1981 sale.

The highest-selling mare last year was Summer Encounter, a stakes-placed daughter of Hempen who earned $221,538. She was consigned by Jerry Wells and sold to agent Butch Wise for $225,000.

Two sessions again have been scheduled for 1984 during All American Week at Ruidoso Downs. The yearling sale gets underway at 7:15 p.m. on Sunday, August 26, following the million-dollar All American Derby. The broodmare and stallion share vendue follows on Monday, August 27, at 2 p.m. Both affairs will be held in the 24,000-square-foot pavilion located 12 miles east of the race track on U.S. Highway 70.

"The response to our new sales facility has been tremendous," praises Thompson. "It's extremely comfortable for both the buyers and consignors since it's away from the congestion of Ruidoso."

This will be the second year the Super Select Sale is offering a $200,000 Consignor Award Program. The plan will pay $100,000 to the consignor of a yearling that qualifies to either the 1983 All American Futurity or Faberge Special Special Effort Futurity.

If more than one eligible horse qualifies to either race, then the award will be divided equally. Yearlings must pass through the ring to be eligible.

"There is considerable anticipation for this year's races. A number of outstanding yearlings were sold last year, and we're expecting a good showing from that group on the track this year," says Thompson.

Previous sale graduates have compiled outstanding records. Make Mine Cash, a Dash For Cash filly purchased by R.D. Hubbard in 1981 for $120,000, is a multiple stakes winner and has earned $1,086,122. She is the only quarter horse yearling sold at public auction to earn over a million dollars.

Only 100 yearlings will be accepted for this year's sale. To be catalogued each yearling must pass a pedigree evaluation and conformation inspection. Consignment deadline is March 1 and notification of acceptance will be made before May 1. Consignment deadline for the broodmare and stallion share sale is May 15 with notification by June 1.

For more information contact Thompson at P.O. Box 50, Glencoe, N.M. 88324; or call 505-653-4242.

'Goober' clowns for children, charity

Roy Stewart, alias "Goober" the clown, smiles with no makeup on.

His big red grin, powdery white face, arching black eyebrows, and green, yellow, red and blue-splashed baggy suit combine to produce an image of happiness. He reaches into a pocket, pulls out something that looks like an underweight string-bean, and blows it up into a long, skinny balloon that quickly becomes tied into a frisky pink noodle.

He smiles and hands the creation to a captivated onlooker. He is Goober the Clown and his name is Roy Stewart.

Stewart began clowning 10 years ago as a Hela Shrine clown in Dallas. After serving the apprenticeship he said every Shrine clown must complete, he rose through the ranks of the organization to become director of the 35-clown unit of which he was a member.

After his retirement from the welding supply business three years ago, Stewart and his wife, Marcille, moved to Ruidoso and bought a house. Since then, he has been active in area events as a clown. Stewart said he continues to go by the stringent guidelines he followed as a Shrine clown in Dallas.

"We're very particular about our makeup," he said of the Shriners. Stewart uses a makeup especially made for use by clowns. He said the makeup is extremely durable.

"I can eat and drink in this makeup," he said, running a finger across his cheek. "There have been times when I was in makeup for 18 hours at a time, and it lasts through everything."

In addition to using high quality makeup, Stewart said, the Shriners make it a point to let no naturally colored skin be visible to the public.

"Our makeup must be more defined than a circus clown's," he said. "Our contacts are one on one. Even in a parade we get very close."

Stewart said Shrine clowns also maintain a high code of ethics because they feel that they set an example for children to follow.

"You never smoke or drink while clowning," he said.

Stewart said children is the reason he clowns. "Kids can spot a clown clear across this mountain. If you could just see the look in those little kids' faces ... I do it just because of those kids. It touches your heart."

While performing as Goober, 90 percent of what Stewart earns goes to the Shrine Burns Hospital in Galveston, Texas, or the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital in Houston, Texas. He said he clowns for free for charitable functions.

Balloons are a big part of clowning for Goober the Clown. Stewart said he always carries a pocketful of balloons in case he may see an unhappy child during the day.

"If you see a little kid crying, you can take out a balloon and tie them something real quick." He said a balloon works wonders in cheering up a child. According to Stewart, balloons are especially valuable because they take such a short amount of time to create.

"You can only hold their attention for a short amount of time. It has to be 'bam, bam' and you're gone."

He pulls out another balloon, takes a deep breath, and inflates it. His fingers work quickly, tying and twisting the balloon. He finishes, and holds up the figure. This time it is a mouse with a long, wobbly tail. Stewart said he always carries an extra supply of balloons.

"The cardinal sin is to run out of balloons. You don't want to disappoint any little children."

Stewart's quick grin and warm eyes make it hard to believe he has ever disappointed any children. He said the job of clowning is often made easier by the help of others.

Stewart's wife, Marcille, is a valuable part of Goober's clowning. She makes all of his costumes and helps with moral support. In addition, she helps with the crowds of children that gather when he clowns.

"The women play as big a part in it as the men do," he said.

Stewart has performed all around the Ruidoso area. He has clowned in the Aspen Festival, the Ruidoso Care Center and several business grand openings. This year, he will be appearing at the Smokey Bear Parade in Capitan in May, and will serve as the Ambassador for New Mexico in the International Shrine Clown Association's Sneaker Fund drive.

"Everybody has a little clown in them ... I do it for that little gleam in the children's eyes."

The first step in the makeup process is the white grease.

Powder is applied over the grease to prevent smears.

Stewart's wife, Marcille, hand-paints the mouth, nose and eye highlights.

More powder is applied over the highlights.

Marcille applies final touch-ups.

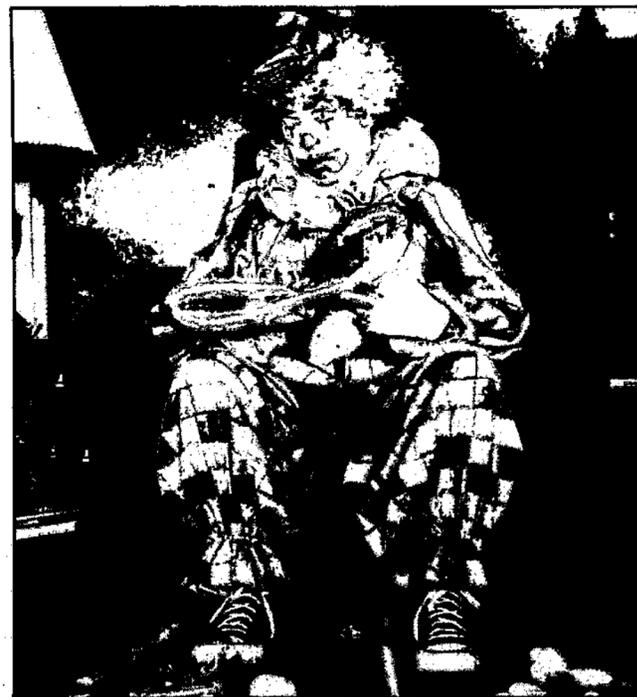

Stewart dresses in the clown suit and Marcille helps with the neck piece.

... Goober starts with a long red balloon.

An orange and red balloon forms the head and body of the creation.

The two balloons are twisted together.

The final product is a brightly colored hummingbird.

The final result of an hour-long makeup job is "Goober" the clown.

White Mountain Middle School students take trip up north

Dozens of students from White Mountain Middle School spent two days in the state capital and the state's largest city last week.

Sixth-graders from the classes of Frank Cannella and Mickey McGuire spent Monday and Tuesday, January 30 and 31, in Santa Fe and Albuquerque.

Their sponsors took the students to the capitol and the Palace of the Governors in Santa Fe, and to the University of New Mexico anthropology museum at Albuquerque.

The students brought back everything from Santa Fe T-shirts to memories of some boring moments during lawmaking sessions.

An exciting highlight of the trip for Stephen Tapp was meeting U.S. Senator Pete Domenici. "We got to shake his hand and everything," Stephen said.

He was one of six student pages for a two-hour stint during the state Legislature session. The other pages were Tresa Halbrooks, Shelly Hicker-son, Bev Keeler, Guymon Kaydahzinne and Elaine Najera.

Guymon said the pages fetched coffee, soft drinks and papers for lawmakers. Instead of hollering across the room, said Stephen, legislators would send a page with a note.

The long legislative sessions had boring moments, Guymon said, and "some representatives fell asleep."

Legislature, service as pages, meeting Domenici highlights

Stephen recalled cameras on a balcony and said pages "didn't want to be caught on TV sleeping." A highlight of the trip for another student, Teresa Harrelson, was a visit to the "biology greenhouse," of the University of New Mexico botany department. In addition, she said, they toured the secretary of state's office and the governor's office. Also, "we saw bills being passed. One bill was in a big green book this thick," she said, holding her fingers spread wide. An informal highlight was the visit to a pizza restaurant. Teresa and Jackson McIntosh agreed it had impressive video games. Jackson also mentioned playing tennis. The students and sponsors stayed in a motel overnight. Sponsors for the trip included Jerry Sailor; Cindy Morgan; Gail Jackson; Dan Holt; John Nunn; Shelby and Wayne Bradley; Frank, Marge, Donna and Michelle Cannella; Cora Sweeney; Libby Sears; and Sharon, Paul and Marcia Tapp. Teacher Mickey McGuire is a member of the Legislature, and he helped arrange for the half-dozen students to be pages. During the weeks he is in Santa Fe, Cindy Morgan is teaching his classes.
