It's U.S. Open Ski Race time!

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

Close to 10 months of discussions, preparations and negotiations will come to a head this week as Ruidoso and Eagle Creek Ski Area host the U.S. Open professional ski race.

Over 50 of the world's best professional ski racers, plus celebrities, Governor Toney Anaya, national television crews and press from all over the country will be on hand for four days of racing and celebrating.

According to local organizers of the race, preparations are running right on schedule.

"It's gone extremely well," said Chamber of Commerce executive director Ed Jungbluth of community efforts to prepare for the race.

"The cooperation between different groups in town has been tremendous," said Gary Hall.

Race Chief Ray Heid said the slope at Eagle Creek is in excellent condition, with the two six- to eight-foot pro bumps already in place.

"The hill is holding up great," said Heid, who noted that crews at Eagle Creek have been making snow, packing it and even wetting it to harden the surface.

Although Heid has garnered numerous volunteers, he said he could still use seven or eight more gatekeepers during any of the four days of racing—Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Ski racers from all over the world will begin arriving Tuesday, with preliminary qualifications Thursday morning.

The U.S. Open will consist of both slalom and giant slalom races. Pros will race head to head in elimination races, with the winner having to run 10 races to claim his prize money.

The giant slalom race will be Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. The slalom race will be Sunday. The winner of the slalom and giant slalom races will race each other in a final match on a combined slalom and giant slalom course to determine the U.S. Open Champion. The final match will be for a $10,000 grand prize, added to the champion's winnings from the previous races.

Amateurs will get their chance to race with the pros at 1:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon during the Celebrity Pro-Am. Competing on a triple course, 27 teams, consisting of one pro and three amateurs, will vie for the Pro Am championship.

Sprinkled among the amateurs will be 10 celebrities on hand for the event. Singers Trini Lopez and Ralna English and television stars Lyle Waggoner, Christopher Holder, Tim Culbertson and Adam West will be among the celebrities in Ruidoso for the weekend.

Governor Toney Anaya, Economic Development and Tourism Secretary Alex Mercure, and close to 30 others from the state capital will also be in Ruidoso for the race.

Amateurs will get a chance to meet their pro captains during the Opening Ceremonies and Pick the Winner Party at Cree Meadows, beginning at 7 Friday evening.

The Pick the Winner Party and Saturday night's Pro Am awards dinner will both be fund-raisers for the Sierra Blanca Handicapped Skiers Association. Celebrities Lopez, English and Holder will also entertain during the awards dinner at Jerry Dale's.

There are still some spots for the Pro Am available. The $250 entry fee includes a luncheon with your pro before the race, a short racing clinic with your pro, racing, and two tickets to the awards dinner Saturday night. Tickets are also available for the awards dinner for $30. The Pick the Winner party has no cover charge and is open to the public.

The public is also invited to a victory party at The Carrizo Lodge Sunday evening.

Two one-hour shows of the race will be broadcast three times by U.S.A. Cable Network, which reaches 20 million homes. Reporters and photographers from SKI and Powder magazines, UPI and AP wire services, the El Paso Times, Albuquerque Journal and other newspapers will cover the race.

Albuquerque television station KGGM is sending a television crew that will plan a three- or four-part news series on the race, reported Ed Jungbluth.

Rounding out the list of expected celebrities are Robert Walden, Adam West and Bruce Penhall.

Activities are planned in the Duke City for the Hollywood personalities before they travel to Ruidoso.

Lyle Waggoner plans to emcee a Saturday evening Pro Am Awards Dinner show at Jerry Dale's. Lopez, English and Holder are expected to be featured.

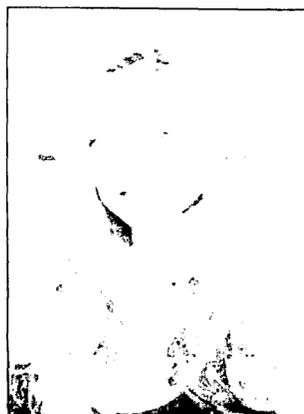

The visiting celebrities include at least two Texas natives, English and Lopez. He was raised in Dallas.

More details about the celebrities include: Tim Culbertson plays a member of the S.W.A.T. team on "Hill Street Blues." The tall, blue-eyed blond is a stunt man, a snake handler and an athlete.

ROBIN MATTSON

Ralna English sings pop music now, but fans of "The Lawrence Welk Show" link her to former singing partner Guy Hovis.

Christopher Holder plays Kevin on "The Young and the Restless" on daytime television.

Trini Lopez grew up in the Dallas barrio of "Little Mexico." The veteran entertainer's first big hit was "If I Had a Hammer." He followed that with other tunes, including "Lemon Tree."

Robin Mattson plans Heather on the long-running daytime drama "General Hospital."

Bruce Penhall is a motocross world champion.

Lyle Waggoner has appeared in motion pictures and television series, including "The Carol Burnett Show" and "Wonder Woman." He was a regular guest on "The Sonny and Cher Show" and "Dinah's Place."

He has also acted on the stage. Lyle and Sharon Waggoner have two sons. She is a beauty contest winner. His leisure interests include classical guitar and cabinet making.

Other celebrities may also visit.

Snow conditions ready for ski racing

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

"Right now the hill's in fantastic shape," said Ray Heid of the slopes at Eagle Creek Ski Area. Heid, Race Chief of the upcoming Pro Ski International U.S. Open pro ski race, said conditions at Eagle Creek were perfect for the race.

Heid said two piles of snow collected at Eagle Creek measure up to 18 feet deep in places. He said those two piles of snow alone could be used to cover the entire race run. Eagle Creek is presently reporting a snow depth average of 24 inches, so it is unlikely that there will be a snow shortage problem. "All those guys need is two inches of ice," Heid said of the professional skiers who will compete in the event. "The harder the ice the better."

Heid said any fears of not having enough snow for the event at Eagle Creek are unfounded.

"If we get 80 degree weather and three days of sand storms, then we're in trouble," he said.

According to Heid, if extreme weather conditions do deplete or degrade the snow at Eagle Creek, there are several options available to race officials.

If the snow becomes slushy during the race due to high temperatures, Heid said ammonium nitrate, commonly used as a fertilizer, can be spread over the race surface. The chemical will cause the snow to freeze at a higher temperature in a matter of seconds.

"That will make it rock hard," Heid said of the snow conditioning technique.

Should Eagle Creek experience a severe loss of snow through melting, Heid said, snow can be trucked in to the area from higher on the Ski Run Road. He said a similar technique was used this year in Yugoslavia and at past Olympic competitions in Innsbruck, Austria. This year, a week prior to the Olympics, very little snow had fallen in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia. Snow was trucked in and spread over the runs, forming a proper surface for racing. Heid estimated that 50 area volunteers could gather and distribute enough snow to cover the race run at Eagle Creek.

Heid said volunteers from this area, more than improved snow conditions, are necessary for the success of the event.

Heid said Eagle Creek is ready for the event.

"It's the best racing hill in the country," he said. "We've got an ideal setup. We're ready!"

Capitan lands Smokey issue

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

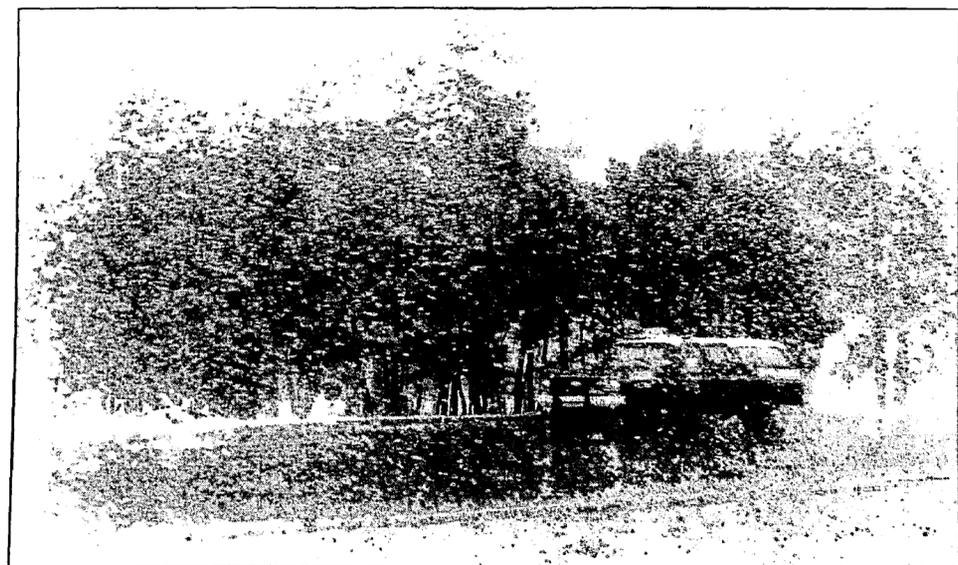

It's official! The Smokey Bear commemorative stamp's first day of issue will be at Capitan, according to the New Mexico Congressional Projects office.

A group of Capitan residents have been pushing for the stamp to be issued there since the U.S. Postal System announced the stamp would be issued.

"We think it's great," Smokey Bear Committee chairperson Rose Garner said of the news. "A lot of people worked real hard for a long time for this." Garner and other Capitan residents have organized a special day, set for May 26, to celebrate the 35th anniversary of the Forest Service's Smokey Bear Fire Prevention program and the issuance of the stamp. Smokey Bear Day will be held in Capitan, and will include a parade and an arts and crafts fair. The stamp will be officially issued sometime in August.

Garner said some type of celebration will surround the ceremonies the day of issuance.

The New Mexico Congressional Projects office includes Senators Pete Domenici and Jeff Bingaman and Representatives Manuel Lujan, Joe Skeen and Bill Richardson.

Near blizzard conditions

Weather conditions in Ruidoso approached blizzard levels at times during Sunday's snowstorm, with visibility reduced drastically due to blowing snow. The storm brought much-needed snow to area ski resorts, with two new inches of snow reported at Eagle Creek and approximately eight inches of snow at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort.

Ruidoso firemen Robby Hall and Steven Parks look more like spacemen as they don oxygen masks and prepare to fight a fire Friday afternoon at a residence on Spruce Drive.

Firefighters kept busy

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department had a full schedule of firefighting late last week with three house fires and a grass fire in just over 24 hours.

No one was injured in any of the fires.

The grass fire burned most of one lot at Rainbow and Barcus drives Thursday afternoon before firefighters could extinguish it.

Hot ashes dumped on the lot started the fire, according to firefighters at the scene. The department also fought two dumpster fires earlier in the week caused by improper disposal of ashes.

Just before 10 Thursday night, the department received another call to a house fire on Socorro Drive. The cause of the fire that almost completely destroyed the house is under investigation. According to firefighters, the fire started at two separate ends of the house.

The string of fires continued Friday when the department answered a call to the home of L. C. Burt at the corner of Spruce and Davis drives at 12:45 p.m. Fire damage was contained primarily to the living room, but smoke damaged most of the house. The fire apparently started in a kerosene heater, said fire chief Virgil Reynolds.

No sooner were they putting away the hoses from that fire when firefighters were called to another house fire on Juniper Road. The fire was confined to the bedroom, but smoke damaged much of the rest of the house rented by "Irish" Dave Hobson and his family. It was apparently caused by faulty wiring, said Ruidoso fireman Collie Parks.

Bars to close election day

Ruidoso village clerk Leon Eggleston reminds all bar and package store owners that they cannot sell any alcohol between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. on election day, Tuesday, March 6.

Eggleston explained that New Mexico state law prohibits the sale of any alcohol while residents are voting in an election that has people running for office. Alcohol may be sold when residents are voting for a bond election or referendum, said Eggleston.

The Ruidoso News informed readers last week that absentee voters must have their absentee ballot applications notarized by a notary public. Republican County Chairperson Pat Hume pointed out that a Deputy Registration Officer may also also notarize the ballot.

Teachers' in-service days a success

by C.E. REUTER
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso Municipal Schools officials had nothing but praise for three days of in-service workshops last week.

Students were dismissed from classes to allow their teachers to become students on February 22, 23 and 24.

Topics ranged from curriculum and computers to banking and first aid. Teachers of the workshops included local business people, district employees and educational consultants.

Superintendent Sid Miller called the workshops "just tremendous." The district has always had three to five in-service days each year, he said. "We just scattered them out before."

The continuous in-service days will be repeated next year, he said, with some refinements. District officials believe three days in a row at this time provide a good break for teachers, he said.

They weren't always a good break for parents. Children were home for five days, counting the weekend. Some of the high school students worked added hours at jobs, or slept late. Students in knots of two or three shopped for everything from comic books to clothes. Others stayed home and watched cartoons, or did chores.

Those were on the agenda for teacher Jim Dickinson's family. While the children were home, he was teaching two groups of colleagues about computers.

Computers were new to him, five years ago when one was installed in his classroom. Now he's looking forward to a computer laboratory in the new high school.

His adult students blocked out about nine hours of time during the workshops. "I needed three days in a row, for continuity in what I was teaching," Dickinson said.

He did wish he could have been a student in some of the other workshops, he said, because they looked interesting.

Other teachers who led workshops were Galen Farrington, who spoke about cameras in the classroom, and Jim Ramsey, whose topic was the group process in education.

Consultants also came to the workshops from as far away as Colorado. In addition, teachers thinking about retirement scheduled individual sessions with a state official. Teachers who became students were generally enthusiastic. White Mountain Elementary teacher Jim Hickerson said one session was terrific.

He walked out of "Good Morning to You" recharged with ideas about how to teach language arts in a fun way. Hickerson also attended a cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class.

About 25 or 30 teachers participated in the CPR class. It will continue on Wednesday, February 29, from 1 to 4 p.m. Miller said teachers will be relieved of classroom duties then to complete their training.

Ed Jungbluth, Chamber of Commerce executive director, and others taught the first part of the CPR class. The instructors included Bill and Yvonne Adams, Yvonne Lanell, Jack Miller and Caroline Lechel. Many of them are emergency medical technicians.

Local business people also taught seminars, including lawyer Gary Mitchell and banker Lamar Osbourn. Osbourn, a Board of Education member, is senior vice president in charge of real estate, lending at Ruidoso State Bank.

Osbourn spoke about mortgages and car loans to a score of district employees. He also called the three in-service days a good break for the teachers.

Miller said workshop topics included "fun things and very serious things that are depressing but necessary." The workshops included one about physical and emotional abuse and another titled "Care for the Mechanically Handicapped."

Both the personal-oriented workshops and the ones on professional topics will enhance teaching, Hickerson believes.

Miller said providing a range of workshops that might be characterized as continuing education for the teachers is not a duty of a school district.

However, the state does encourage it, he said. Santa Fe education officials congratulated the district on the planned topics. The workshops also follow the trend of big business offerings, Miller said.

In addition, the three continuous days without students had a side benefit, he said. "They open avenues for cleaning and repairing schools we can't do while the kids are there."

Things looking up with Highway Dept?

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

In a rare note of optimism, village officials reacted positively after a meeting with State Highway Department representative Lou Medrano.

Both village manager Jim Hine and assistant village manager Frank Potter expressed guarded optimism after meeting with Medrano Thursday morning.

"I think there's a lot of hope there with Lou," said Potter Thursday afternoon.

Medrano was making his first visit to Ruidoso as the newly appointed District II highway engineer. Medrano is in charge of District II, which encompasses the southeast corner of the state. He recently transferred from Santa Fe, where he was the head of the Traffic Services Division.

Hine said he thought Medrano recognized the needs of Ruidoso and would cooperate with the village on matters of importance. Hine also said he thought Medrano would not make false promises about what the Highway Department would do.

Medrano agreed to try an experimental program to slow down traffic in the midtown area of Sudderth Drive. The village will put up flashing signs somewhere near Lincoln County Wrecker at one end and Continental Telephone Company at the other end. The signs will warn drivers of heavy pedestrian traffic and advise them to slow down.

The meeting, attended by Ruidoso police chief Dick Swenor, Planning and Zoning Commission chairman Greg Masters, street superintendent Jack LaMay, citizen Don Samuels, Hine and Potter, did not start out so positively.

"It seems like we're regressing instead of progressing," said Potter, in reference to a two-year delay of widening Highway 37 from Bennett's to Ski Run Road.

Potter also mentioned unsuccessful attempts to work out an agreement for the maintenance of Sudderth and Mechem drives, along with drainage, signing, lighting, striping and snow removal problems on state highways. Sudderth and Mechem are technically considered part of State Highway 37 and are maintained by the State Highway Department.

Potter asked Medrano how projects around Ruidoso could be set back in light of the fast growth reflected in gross receipts and building permits. Medrano acknowledged that more work needed to be done to assure that proposed studies and projects were followed through to their conclusions.

He also mentioned political realities determining which projects are funded and completed.

Medrano suggested Ruidoso work more with its state legislators, who he said can have an effect on Highway Department funding. He said Ruidoso has to emphasize and make known what is going on here and its economic impact on the state.

"I think the key word is communication," said Medrano.

Medrano and village officials also discussed needed improvements on Gavilan Canyon and Carrizo Canyon roads. Although both are county roads, they mentioned the possibility of joint ventures between Ruidoso, the county and state.

Police-courts complex opens

by BILLY ALLSTETTER

In an emotional ceremony, Ruidoso Friday paid tribute to former Municipal Judge Sam Nunnally with the official dedication of the newly remodeled police-courts complex.

Over 100 people gathered at the front of the complex to listen to State Representative Mickey McGuire, Mayor George White and Ruidoso Police Chief Dick Swenor honor Nunnally, who served as municipal judge for 10 years. Nunnally died last year of cancer. "He was nothing but a gentleman from the word go," said White, who fought back tears during his speech.

Keynote speaker McGuire told an anecdote about radically different service in the back corners and in the window seats of a restaurant.

"Sam did good deeds in the cosy corners as well," said McGuire.

"A nation reveals itself not only by the men it produces, but by the men it honors," said McGuire, quoting President John F. Kennedy.

As others broke into tears, Swenor unveiled a bronze and wooden plaque dedicating the building to Nunnally.

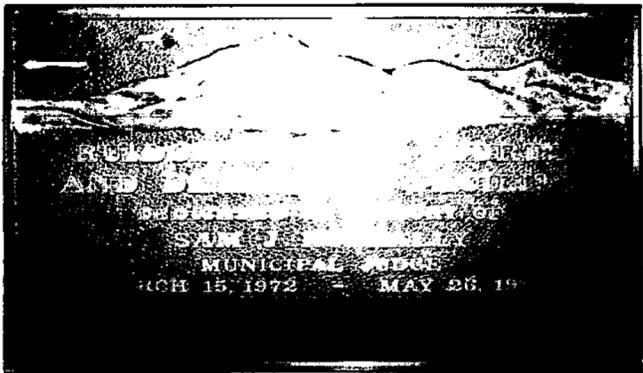

The 10,000-square-foot building retains little of the appearance of the original building. The remodeled complex includes more offices, additional jail cells, a state of the art communications area, and a larger courtroom that can accommodate jury trials. The remodeled building has 4,000 additional square feet.

The remodeling was financed by a $650,000 bond issue approved by taxpayers in 1981.

Charolette Hill boosts 4-H Clubs

Charolette Hill is enthusiastic about her new six-month position as Extension 4-H home economist in Lincoln County.

She wants people to know all the positive aspects of her work with teens and youngsters in Ruidoso, Hondo, Capitan, Carrizozo and Corona.

A certain light comes into her eye when she describes a recent trip for about 30 junior 4-H members from Lincoln County. They attended the Legislature February 9-10 in Santa Fe.

The youngsters were pages in the state House and the state Senate.

She is staying in temporarily for Mary Ellen Payne, who is working out a statewide project.

Hill plans to work with the clubs in each of the county's communities. She rapidly outlines projects each maintains. Everything from child care to wood working comes up, along with the familiar animal projects.

Those could lead to victory in the county 4-H project contest, or prizes at the county fair in Capitan in August.

Her main focus will be "people things." She will adapt to the character of each club. That varies, she said, based on the character of each community.

CHAROLETTE HILL

One is a shooting sports project. It is designed as a fun way to learn about safe riflery and use of shotguns, pistols and bows and arrows. She notes interest in the area.

The other is the rodeo, which has been revised. Plans are being made for a state 4-H rodeo November 2-4 this year in Farmington.

To participate in that final rodeo, members must be enrolled in the rodeo project. They must also earn points in 4-H rodeos. Top contestants in assorted age groups will be eligible for the state rodeo.

The county deadline for enrollment is May 1. Anyone with questions about 4-H may call the County Extension Office, 1-648-2311.

Hill says that in 4-H, she is an educator, connected with the New Mexico State University Cooperative Extension Service. Previously, she worked as a health educator.

Her own education includes a bachelor of science degree in home economics from the University of Arkansas.

In addition to her 4-H work, Charolette and her husband, Buster, own and operate Hill Country Restaurant in Ruidoso. Their two children are Jason, 15, and Dawn, 10.

Visiting specialists also provide variety. April may be a month to focus on clothing, for instance. In May, housing may be the topic, including everything from decorating a teen bedroom to insulating an attic.

She runs through a list of events for 1984, a year she calls an exciting one.

An early event was the 1984 Southwestern International Livestock Show and Rodeo in El Paso, Texas, on February 3-11.

Three Lincoln County 4-H members competed in the Market Lamb Division. They included Alice Booky of Hondo.

Two new areas of interest also are being offered to 4-H members in Lincoln County.

Peso, LaRue place at state mat tournament

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Gervase Peso and Joe LaRue came through with excellent performances to give the Ruidoso High School wrestling team one of the Warriors' best performances ever at the state AAA division tournament Friday and Saturday at Tucumcari High School.

Peso, a junior, finished second in the 155-pound division, and LaRue took third in the heavyweight competition. The Warriors scored 36 1/2 points to finish 12th in the team scoring.

Scott Ciraulo at 167 pounds and Gary Burgess at 185 pounds also did well for Ruidoso, although they didn't place.

"The guys did real well, all of them," said Ruidoso coach Gerald Ames. "We doubled our state meet total in this meet. Before this year, we had a third and a fourth, and we added two more this time."

Peso's performance was especially impressive. The Warrior athlete won three matches Friday in superb style before losing the final Saturday night to Brian Gonzales of St. Michael's.

In the first round Friday, Peso took an impressive 18-8 decision over Tim Archuleta of Goddard.

According to Ames, Peso jumped off to a big lead against the Goddard wrestler, tired a bit in the second round, then came on strong in the final round.

Peso took a third-period pin in the second round and a second-period pin in the third round of the tourney.

Against Gonzales in the final, Peso jumped off to a 5-0 lead in the first period.

"I thought we had him then," said Ames. "But that other kid was tough. He came back strong. He was as quick as Gervase and as strong as him and he was also a senior."

LaRue gained third-place honors by defeating Daniel Sedillo of Grants 9-3.

The Warrior matman got two takedowns, an escape, a reversal and a near-fall in his victory over Sedillo.

LaRue wrestled three times Friday and twice Saturday.

He defeated Edwin Cohoe of Tohatchi 8-5 in the first round, and topped Joe Givens of Kirtland Central 5-3 in the second round.

In the third round, LaRue had to wrestle David Lopez of Tucumcari and was pinned.

Saturday LaRue came back to pin Bob Slaughter of Deming in the second period to gain a spot in the third-place competition. LaRue also pinned Slaughter in the finals of the District 3-AAA tournament last week.

Burgess won one of three matches and gained the Warriors a point in the team scoring.

The 187-pound senior competitor was pinned by Patric Marquez of Tucumcari in the opening round of the tournament. Marquez was one of the top-rated wrestlers coming into the tournament.

In the second round, however, Burgess came back to defeat David Allessandro of St. Michael's 7-3.

Burgess was eliminated from further competition when he lost a tight 9-7 decision to Shane Rodgers of Albuquerque Academy in the third round.

Giraulo lost his first two matches and was eliminated. However, he wrestled well against tough competition, losing a 9-4 decision in the first round and getting pinned in the third period of his second match.

"I'm very satisfied with the way we wrestled," Ames remarked. "Particularly after we were kind of disappointed with our district meet. It shows how tough our district is now."

"We've got most of our guys back next season. We had a lot of sophomores and freshmen this year who wrestled against mostly seniors and juniors."

Ruidoso will lose LaRue, Ciraulo and Burgess to graduation, but the rest of the Warrior wrestlers will return.

Bloomfield won the team championship with 109 1/2 points. Los Lunas finished second with 92 points; Kirtland Central was third at 84 1/2; Aztec was fourth with 79; and St. Michael's was fourth with 77 1/2.

Warriors lose to Silver City, teams meet again in tourney

by GARY BROWN

Hoping the third time will be the charm, the Ruidoso High School boys varsity basketball team will open the District 3-AAA tournament Tuesday night at Silver City.

Ruidoso lost to the Colts 74-54 in the Warrior gymnasium Friday, the second loss in as many tries for the Warriors against Silver City. Ruidoso ended the regular season with a 1-7 district mark and was 4-18 overall.

Silver City finished second in the district and earned the right to host Ruidoso by edging Cobre 51-48 in overtime Saturday night.

Silver City, Cobre and Deming actually finished in a three-way tie for first, but a coin flip made Cobre the third-place team. Deming had beaten the Colts twice this season, so the Wildcats were given the top berth and a bye until the finals Saturday.

Ruidoso will have to play four complete quarters to top Silver City Tuesday night. The Warriors failed to do so last Friday and that was a big reason Ruidoso lost the game.

The Warriors started out the game with one of their best quarters of the season, holding a 17-16 edge at the first-period break.

Ruidoso got 6-5 Dan Ullmann loose under the basket for three field goals in the opening period and the Warrior guards were moving the ball well up court.

But the quick, well-balanced Colts didn't quit and came back to take the lead in the second quarter.

The lead switched back and fourth in the second period before the Colts made a long jump shot at the buzzer to give them a 35-33 edge at halftime.

Silver City built up a six-point edge several times in the third quarter as the Colts' fast break was working well. The Colts finished the quarter with a 51-43 advantage.

Ullmann picked up two fouls in the third period and sat out the last three minutes of that quarter with four fouls.

Sophomore Russell Easter hit a jump shot to close the Silver City edge to 51-45 early in the final quarter.

But from then on the Colts dominated the game, outscoring the Warriors 23-11 for their final margin. Silver City increased its margin as the Warriors fouled in order to get the ball back.

Ullmann led the Warrior scoring with 20 points on nine field goals and two free throws. Easter added eight points, while Patric Pearson and Gilbert Rivera each tallied six for the Warriors.

Gus Sierra led Silver City with 18 points on nine field goals. Oscar Franco added 15 points.

Ruidoso head coach Ron Geyer was naturally disappointed with his team's defeat.

"We stood around on offense in the second half," he said. "We just didn't move the ball well."

"But Silver City has to take credit for some of that. They played excellent defense. Still, we played pretty well until the last part of the game. We then had to foul to try and catch up."

Now the Warriors must make the long journey to Silver City Tuesday night to play the Colts again. The contest will start at 7.

What will Ruidoso have to do to win the game?

"We're going to try and work the ball inside to our big men like Dan (Ullmann), Russell (Easter), Kenny (Espinosa) and Tracy (Gann)," Geyer answered. "They (Silver City) are not so deep with their bigger people and we're going to try and get them in foul trouble."

The semi-finals will be Friday at the gym of the top-seeded team from Tuesday's winners. The finals will be at Deming Saturday. The top two teams will go to the state AAA tournament Wednesday through Saturday, March 7-10, at Albuquerque.

An era ended Friday night in the Ruidoso High School gymnasium.

The last high school basketball game to be played in the 25-year-old gymnasium ended the same way the first game did, in a loss by the Warrior boys varsity team. Ruidoso fell to Silver City 74-54.

The Warriors will move to the new high school plant next fall and will play their games in the new gymnasium, if it's ready. There's a slim chance the Warriors would play again in the present gymnasium if the new one isn't ready.

Assuming the new gymnasium will be ready, White Mountain Middle School's teams will take over use of the present facility.

A game between Ruidoso and Capitan in 1959 was the first contest ever played in the gymnasium.

Capitan won that game, but the Warriors were to go on to win plenty of games at the gymnasium.

A bundle of memories stayed alive after the buzzer sounded ending the Ruidoso-Silver City contest Friday night.

Even though the Warriors lost, a lot of the people who attended the game could look back on many Ruidoso victories in the gymnasium.

One of the most recent high points of the gymnasium's history, of course, was Ruidoso's drive to the District 3-AAA boys varsity championship and fourth place in the state tournament in 1981.

Ruidoso clinched the 1981 district regular season title with a 62-57 victory over Cobre on Saturday, February 28, that year.

That victory gave the Warriors a bye in the first round of the district tournament. Ruidoso then defeated Silver City 50-48 in the semi-finals and Tularosa 65-54 in the finals to gain the overall district championship and a birth in the state AAA division tournament.

Ruidoso went on to finish fourth in the state tournament, but the big key to the Warriors getting to Albuquerque was that home win over Cobre in the final regular season game.

There were plenty of other victories for Ruidoso in the Warrior gymnasium.

In the last two or three seasons, victories haven't come that often for either the boys and girls basketball teams and the girls volleyball team.

Still, there have been some bright moments.

Ruidoso's boys team took one of the Warriors' best victories of the 1982 season with a 43-39 win over archrival Tularosa at home.

Another big Warrior victory came this year when the girls varsity team took a 57-40 win over Deming in January. It turned out to be Ruidoso's only district victory in this campaign. Deming was ranked fifth in the state at that time.

Ruidoso's volleyball team also had several exciting moments in the gymnasium.

The new Warrior gymnasium will resemble the University of New Mexico's "Pit," one of the toughest places in the country for a visiting college basketball team to play.

Maybe "The Pit" image will rub off on the Warriors and visiting teams will have a hard time winning here.

People who enter the new Warrior gymnasium will walk down into it like people attending Lobo games at "The Pit" do.

The new facility will be one of the most modern school buildings in New Mexico, and will surely be a source of pride for Ruidoso residents.

But long-time Ruidoso residents still will have many fine memories of the old gymnasium, win or lose.

Tigers defeat Cloudcroft for title

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

The Capitan High School boys varsity basketball team picked the right time to peak, and as a result, the Tigers are the District 5-A champions.

Capitan came from behind to defeat Cloudcroft 68-62 in overtime Saturday night at Lake Arthur for the district crown. Cloudcroft was the regular season district champion.

Both teams will play in the regionals this Friday and Saturday at Fort Sumner.

Capitan, now 17-8 on the season, capped 36-29 at halftime before making its surge at the Bears.

The Tigers outscored Cloudcroft 21-18 in the third period and 10-6 in the last quarter to tie the score at 46-46 at the end of regulation time.

Cloudcroft won the opening tip of the extra period but missed a shot. Todd Proctor—who scored 25 points on the night—then hit a jump shot to give Capitan the lead for good.

The Bears had to foul to catch up and the Tigers hit six of eight free throw attempts. Proctor, Eddie Davis and Dewey Keller each made two charity shots.

Besides Proctor, Davis added 17 points and Keller had 16 for the Tigers. Three Cloudcroft players scored in double figures.

Capitan got to the finals by defeating Hagerman 54-49 in overtime Thursday night and rolling over Weed 66-44 Friday night.

Against Weed, the consistent Davis led Capitan's attack with 21 points. Proctor added 19 and Keller scored 14.

The game was tied 9-8 at the first-period break but the Tigers pulled away after that.

Capitan also had a well-balanced attack against Hagerman.

Davis scored 16 points, Keller 14 and Proctor 11. Senior standout Danny Cummins was injured in the Hagerman game and didn't play against Weed or Cloudcroft.

Are the Tigers peaking now? "Yeah, it seems like we are," said

Capitan head coach Kendal Lawlis. "Our offense played better and we got our fast break going. Our defense has always been good."

Lawlis also praised the play of Keller—a junior—and sophomore Eric Hamm.

The all-district team was announced at the tournament and Capitan had three players named to the squad: Cummins, Proctor and Davis.

Other players named to the team include John Roueche and Kenneth Crenshaw of Carrizozo; Cary Cox, Tim Scott and Tom Bell of Cloudcroft; Philip Segura of Lake Arthur; Paul Palatta of Hagerman; and Wade Hutchins and Chan Peters of Weed.

Grizzlies drop finale

Carrizozo High School's boys varsity basketball team lost a hard-fought 55-50 decision to Weed Thursday night in the second round of the District 5-A playoffs.

Carrizozo, which ended the season with a 9-14 record and was 3-3 in district play, trailed by 13 points in the third quarter but fought back gradually to almost win the contest.

Weed, which won the district crown last season, led by 10 points at the third-period break. The Grizzlies cut the margin to two points before falling just short.

John Roueche led the Carrizozo scoring with 23 points. He was averaging almost 16 points a game entering the contest.

Both Roueche and sophomore Kenneth Crenshaw made the all-district team, which was announced at the tournament.

"We were behind the whole game and fought back," said Grizzlies coach Ron Becker. "It was a case of too many turnovers again."

But Carrizozo should have a veteran team returning next season. Roueche and Robin Beltran are the only seniors on the team. Most of the returning players are sophomores.

Spring sports teams will continue practice

Spring sports practices are going into full swing at Lincoln County high schools this week.

The Ruidoso High School boys and girls tennis teams are continuing practice at Sierra Swim and Racquet Club while the Ruidoso boys track team also continues to practice.

Ruidoso's girls track team and boys golf team will begin practice this week. Many of the girls on the track team also played basketball, and that season ended last week.

Doyle Howell is the Warriors' new head golf coach, taking over for Leroy Geoch, who retired last year. Steve Fey and Chuck Dunn will be the instructors.

The golf team will work out at Cree Meadows Country Club, the Inn of the Mountain Gods and Alto Lakes Golf and Country Club.

Ruidoso will compete in the Alamogordo Invitational this Friday.

Carrizozo and Capitan are also getting their boys and girls track teams ready for the season.

Capitan is the defending state champion in the boys A division and Carrizozo has several excellent athletes back.

Ruidoso junior varsity nipped by Silver City

The Ruidoso High School boys junior varsity basketball team ended the regular season on a losing note Friday night, losing to visiting Silver City 48-45.

Ruidoso, 6-14 on the season, will play in the district tournament Saturday.

Against the Colts, the game was close all the way.

Ruidoso led 17-12 at the first-quarter break and 24-20 at halftime. The game was tied 31-31 at the end of the third period before Silver City gradually pulled away in the final minutes of the last quarter.

Brian Davis, Chuck Jarrell and Jeff Willingham each scored eight points for the Warriors. Davis and Willingham are both freshmen.

Jarrell got four of his points in the final three minutes as the Warriors were nipped at the end.

"Our free throw shooting hurt us again," said Ruidoso coach Jim Hofstad. "We made just 12 of 26."

"We really got after it on defense and we put up plenty of shots. We just can't seem to make them."

Monreal wins open single title at handball tournament

Pancho Monreal of El Paso, Texas, won the open singles title at the second annual Ruidoso Handball Tournament at Sierra Swim and Racquet Club over the weekend.

Monreal also teamed with his brother, Tony Jr., to win the open doubles title.

In Masters (over 40 years old) competition, Roland Konig of Roswell topped Sam Zamora for the singles title. Gary McVay and John Peer took the masters doubles championship, defeating Jerry Wright and Tony Monreal Sr. Monreal is the father of Pancho and Tony Jr.

Louis Cordova won the B division singles title, while Morris Porras won the C division crown, beating Marco Blancas.

In C division competition, Porras and Blancas teamed to top Jim Streak and Jorge Hernandez. Streak is from Ruidoso.

Downs residents hear from candidates

BY C.E. REUTTER
News Staff Writer

Eight people seeking political offices addressed about 30 Ruidoso Downs residents at a candidates' forum Friday night in the village hall. Roy Norman of radio station KREE acted as moderator and introduced the candidates.

Six people are running for two four-year terms as village trustees. Another four people are seeking a two-year term. Two more oppose each other to become municipal judge.

Although judge candidate Harrold Mansell strongly criticized opponent Paula Smith's positions, most of the candidates spoke briefly and amicably.

Norman called upon them in approximately the order they will appear on the ballot.

Yolanda Flanagan, who is first on the ballot for a four-year term, came into the hall after the meeting began, because of another commitment. Like most of the candidates, she spoke about her family and her experience.

Scott Tillman, who spoke first, is running for a four-year term. He said the village should fill out the forms needed to receive state and federal aid.

Conrad Buchanan, also a four-year term candidate, was appointed to the board to complete an unexpired term. He said, "I would like to see this town prosper and I would like to prosper with it." He also praised fellow candidate Jackie Branum.

Camilie Mansell said she decided to run for council when her husband chose not to seek reelection to that position. "We have a lot of problems here, and have to try to find answers."

Lorna Parnell also seeks a four-year term. She focused on cleaning up the village and the water problem. Her husband, Ray, is a water well driller.

Jackie Branum completes the list of four-year candidates. The teacher believes the village should improve services, including water. Ruidoso Downs should also consider annexing nearby land to increase the tax base, she said.

Barry Smith seeks the single two-year term. The former Walt Disney World worker said he has seen some innovations that could be implemented in the village.

Joe Southard also seeks that seat. He said, "The city has problems in nearly every department and I'd like to try to solve them."

Candidates Laverne Cole and Rick Simpson also seek the two-year term, but did not attend the candidates' forum.

Harrold Mansell, who is now on the village board, is running against Paula Smith for the seat as municipal judge.

His speech came closest to reaching the 10-minute limit Norman had set for each candidate.

Mansell passed around to the audience newspaper photos to demonstrate he had been a uniformed officer. He said he wanted to halt claims he had no police experience.

He said he would ask for an annual budget of $775 and criticized his opponent's spending. Mansell also cited budgets from surrounding cities of similar size.

"On any issue, I'm never in the middle of the road," Mansell said. He said he nominated Paula Smith to replace Fred Bernard as municipal judge in July, but now regrets appointing the wife of a police officer as judge.

Husbands and wives influence each other, he said. "I influence Camilie, she influences me."

Paula Smith then spoke. She said she has been criticized for modern views, but that they follow strictly the position of the New Mexico Supreme Court.

Smith has been municipal judge for six months. She said her family has owned land in the area all of her life. She also cited a degree in criminal justice from Eastern New Mexico University and six years of law enforcement work.

In response to a question from the audience, she said she proposes an annual budget of $2,500. That is higher than it has been in recent years, she said, because in the past, the police department has paid three-fourths of the court's actual costs.

3 charged with burglary during busy weekend

Ruidoso police arrested and charged three people with aggravated burglary Saturday evening after answering a call that was stopped in mid-sentence when the caller's phone cord allegedly was ripped out.

Catherine Ann Sanders, 30, of Ruidoso Downs was arrested and charged with aggravated burglary, criminal damage to property and driving while intoxicated.

Edgar Torres, 43, of Mesalero, and Joe Gonzalez Sanchez, 55, of Ruidoso Downs were both charged with aggravated burglary and criminal damage to property.

Police said Ruth Wimberly called the department shortly after 6 p.m. and said someone was trying to enter her house at 342 Country Club Drive. The call, however, was abruptly ended before police arrived at the residence.

Officer Danny Steward wrote in his report that he discovered a 1971 blue Volkswagen station wagon leaving the scene just as he arrived. He said he stopped the car, then searched the house while officers detained the three suspects in the Volkswagen.

Steward said he found no one in the house, but did observe a broken window, the phone off the hook and the phone cord ripped out of the wall.

Wimberly was later found at a neighbor's house.

According to Steward's report, Wimberly said she was awakened by her dog barking at someone trying to enter her house. According to Steward, Wimberly said a woman used a log to break a window and forced her way into the house.

Wimberly told Steward that the woman demanded money from her and ripped the phone cord out of the wall. Wimberly said the woman then fled the house.

The three suspects remained in the Ruidoso Downs jail Monday morning. Police answered another burglar alarm on Sudderth Drive Sunday night that almost ended in the shooting of Ralph Treat, said Lieutenant Dave Pfeffer.

Police arrived at the scene of the alarm shortly before 9 p.m. and saw a man running into the darkness holding a shotgun, said Pfeffer. Officers told the man to stop for the police and the man turned toward them with the shotgun, said Pfeffer.

Just as the officers were about to fire on the man, they recognized Treat, owner of a nearby gift shop. Treat was apparently searching for a burglar, police said.

"We don't need that kind of citizen involvement," said Pfeffer. "Somebody's going to get hurt."

Two other burglaries were reported at the end of last week. Robert Lewis Mooney reported a missing white purse containing $1,000 cash. He said he thought the purse was taken from his vehicle sometime between 2:30 and 4 p.m. Friday.

Dusty L. Casey also reported the theft from 213 5th Street of two Mitsubishi speakers valued at $200; one two and a quarter-inch Rolaflex camera, $1,200; a Titleist golf bag, $200; and assorted golf clubs worth $100.

Police officer Hugh Smith commended citizen Roy Ranne, who found and attended to Deborah McCarty late Friday night after she fell off a bridge on Mechem Drive near Sudderth Drive. According to Smith's report, Ranne saw the woman stumble and fall off the bridge.

Smith's report said Ranne, an emergency medical technician, found the woman lying down in the river. He pulled her out of the water and attended to her while waiting for an ambulance. McCarty was treated at the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital for a laceration on the head and released the next morning.

Action possible on unfinished building

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

Village building inspector Jimmy Neeley said he thinks a half-finished building across the street from the post office is structurally unsound, but he is unsure what will be done about it.

The building, owned by Lloyd L. Davis Jr., has been pointed out by village councilman Don Dale as a potential health hazard and an eyesore. He said he is concerned about children playing in the two-story building.

"It's always been an eyesore," said Dale.

He reasoned that if Ruidoso has a sign ordinance controlling the kinds of signs put up in town, it should also be concerned with half-finished buildings. The building now stands as a concrete shell with no roof, windows or doors.

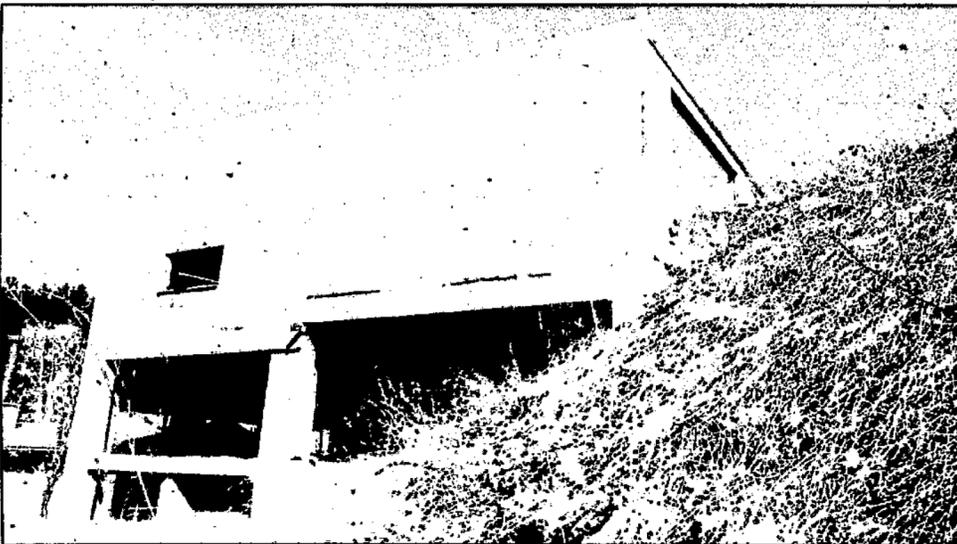

Dale has asked the Planning and Zoning office to see what it can do to have the building completed or torn down.

Neeley said the Planning and Zoning office asked him to inspect it.

He said he discovered beams in the building that had begun to bend, and that he found some parts of the structure out of plumb.

He said he was not sure what he can require Davis to do, and that he wanted to be very careful about demanding any kind of action on the building. He mentioned one phrase in the New Mexico Uniform Building Code that requires owners to maintain buildings.

He said Friday he planned to meet with the state building inspector to talk about possible action. Davis said his father, Lloyd Davis Sr., began the building a number of years ago, but used up available funds before completing it. Not wanting to borrow money, the senior Davis stopped construction, said his son.

The elder Davis died last fall. His son, who had owned half the building, inherited the other half. Davis said he has no plans for the building.

"I find the big catches. Block finds me the big refunds."

"Big refunds are the best catch of all at tax time. That's why I go to H&R Block. My preparer is trained to know where to look for every deduction and credit. And he doesn't cost me much. He does hundreds of tax returns every year — seen it all. And over the long haul, that means more money in my pocket."

The Dreamer

by Dan Storm

The Tinnie Baptist Church was filled to overflowing last Friday for services for Raythe L. Gipson, who was called Home by Our Lord on February twenty-one.

Services were under the direction of the Reverend Benjamin Chavez of San Patricio who, as usual, gave a very inspiring and comforting message.

Two favorite hymns, "Peace In The Valley" and "Beyond The Sunset," were sung by Melanie Werner, accompanied at the piano by her Mother, Ethel Lynn Phillips Werner.

"I Come To The Garden Alone" was sung by Luz Elva Chavez, wife of the Reverend Benjamin Chavez.

At the church were members of the Hondo High School Future Farmers of America, an organization in which Raythe Was active in his high school days. He graduated from Hondo High School in 1979.

Raythe was born April fifteen, 1961, in Roswell to James and Frankie Gipson, and lived most of his life on the Gipson Ranch south of Glencoe.

Just a few years ago Raythe lingered between life and death after an accident while riding horseback. Through the prayers of his many friends, and his own faith and courage, he regained his health, much to the joy of us all.

His grave is in the George Coe Cemetery, next to the grave of his grandfather, Lloyd Siringo Gipson, well-beloved pioneer Rancher.

Raythe will always hold a special spot in our hearts and we rejoice that he is safe and happy in the care of Our Lord in Heaven.

through rugged foothills country in which his ranch is located. On top of this, his road crosses and re-crosses the Black Water Draw which is impassible by car or pickup when in full flood stage. Never mind the weather, John will get to church if it is humanly possible.

One of the reasons for the perfect attendance is that John is a grateful man, wishing to give thanks to Our Lord for his many blessings, among which is to live like a king in his own country on his remarkable beautiful ranch estate.

When the rains come, The Cooper Ranch does indeed "blossom as the rose" with all the colors of the rainbow in wild flowers, notably the Yucca, Purple Wild Verbena, Morning and evening Primrose, and many a brilliant cactus flower.

Among the cactus blooms, a favorite flower of the Southwest, and in a class by itself among the world's blooming plants, is the Scarlet Cliff Cactus. Early in the Summer high on the side of a cliff you will see a solid mass of sparkling crimson blooms — in semi-circular shape, from a foot to two or three feet wide. There they are on the sheer rock wall high above the ground, a marvel in the flower world, like something in a dream. These flowers are especially beautiful on the Cooper Ranch, and now after these late snows, the cliff cactus and all the other flowering plants will make a showplace of John and Mary Cooper's rangeland home.

February Snow

On the morning of Sunday, February twenty seven, the day this is being written, the air was calm and still with the Robins singing. Then, to the north appeared the "light cavalry" of the air, riding hard, and before you knew it, Winter had suddenly re-appeared, springing suddenly from its ambush just over the hill, catching the peaceful Spring-like vald unawares, and covering the ground in the space of ten minutes with two inches of snow.

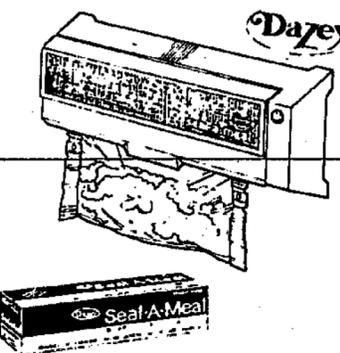

Now in early afternoon the light flakes are still falling, messengers of a green Spring and flowery Summer.

District Attorney reports legislation

by DARRELL J. PEHR News Staff Writer

District Attorney Steve Sanders spent a considerable amount of time in Santa Fe during the recent session of the New Mexico State Legislature, both as District Attorney for Lincoln and Otero counties, and as president of the New Mexico District Attorneys Association. Sanders recently reported on the success of the session.

New Mexico legislators passed a bill during their session in Santa Fe that will provide for an additional district judge position for Lincoln and Otero counties, according to Sanders.

Senate Bill 40 was approved by the Senate by a vote of 33-1 and by the House by a vote of 57-1 in the last week of the 30-day legislative session.

According to Sanders, the measure will allow for a judge who will be required to maintain an office and live in Lincoln County. Sanders said the candidates for the position will be elected by votes from both Otero County and Lincoln County. He said the first such elected judge will take office in January 1985.

In other action, the legislators passed House Bill 199, which deals with prohibition of the sexual exploitation of children, according to Sanders. Sanders said the bill increases penalties for crimes such as child prostitution and child abuse or neglect. The bill now makes it a crime in New Mexico to photograph children engaged in sexual acts or to allow children to possess any visual material of such acts.

It also prohibits the manufacture of such material. According to Sanders, this is the first legislation dealing with some of these offenses that has been enacted into law in New Mexico.

Sanders said the District Attorneys Association drafted the measure and House representatives including local representative Mickey McGuire sponsored the bill.

Sanders said the legislators also passed stiffer penalties in a new Driving While Intoxicated bill. Sanders said the most significant provision of the bill deals with the actions of a law enforcement officer upon stopping a DWI suspect.

According to Sanders, if the officer determines the driver has more than .1 percent by weight of alcohol in the blood, he can immediately take away the suspect's driver's license.

The officer may then issue a temporary 10-day license to the driver, which expires unless the driver contacts the courts within 10 days. That way, Sanders said, drivers suspected of drunk driving will be off the road in a short period of time.

He said that in the past, he has seen drivers accumulate as many as seven or eight DWI offenses before they were required to appear before the courts for their first offense.

"We couldn't get them off the roads," Sanders said of the situation.

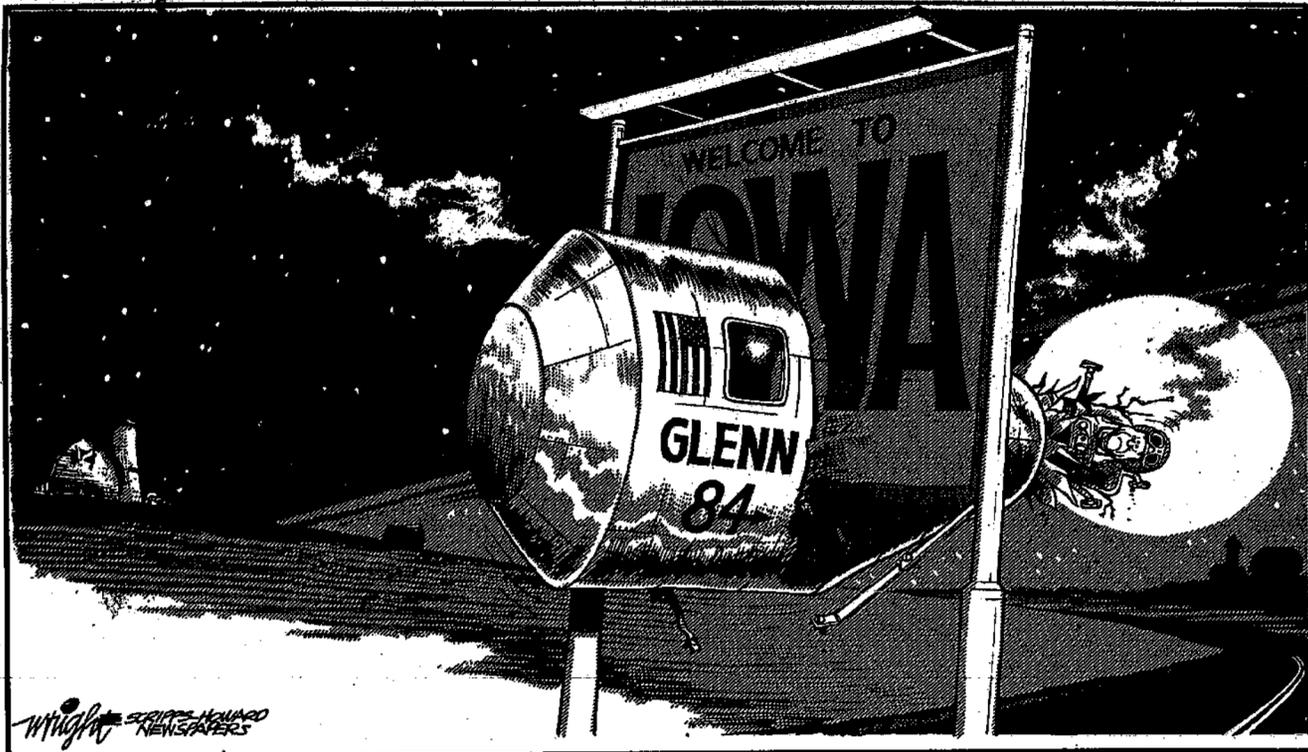

Sanders said the legislation also makes it mandatory that a police officer arrest a person found driving with a blood alcohol level of more than .1 percent. It is also now mandatory that the person be prosecuted and go to trial.

Sanders said arrest and prosecution decisions were formerly left up to the discretion of the arresting and prosecuting officials.

The bill lowers the allowable level of alcohol in the blood of drivers under the age of 18 to .05 percent, Sanders said. He said that measure takes into account the fact that drivers that age are not supposed to be drinking anyway, and the lack of their driving experience.

Sanders said the bill also made it mandatory that a driver lose his license for a period of five years on the third DWI conviction. Sanders said the previous penalty was three years for the third conviction.

Opinion

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—The tune has changed. It started out "excellence in education." Now it's just plain "money."

Early this year, most of the state's educators marched behind Toney Anaya, with his slogan, his blue ribbons and his two fake commissions to study our schools.

By connecting their desire for higher pay with the notion of excellence, they implied what they were smart enough never to promise directly: give us more money and we will give you better schools.

Cold and unfeeling people asked some simple questions:

—How come the raises we have already given you didn't produce better schools?

—What are you planning to change now so you can achieve that goal?

Turned out they weren't planning to change anything. This miracle was to be accomplished with the same tired old top-heavy administrations; the same teachers, with the same competencies or lack thereof; and the same ways of doing things, which have miserably failed to improve education in the past.

All that was really going to change was their pay.

That's okay. Maybe they need raises. But if they do, they should not be so heartless as to run a scam about that guaranteeing us excellence in the classroom.

That can't come without changes—substantial and deep philosophical and practical changes. Those they are not willing to make, because changes would imperil their jobs.

We aren't allowed to suggest even a study of the tenure system. To change that, they say, would leave them subject to unfair firing—something everyone else who holds a job is subject to at all times.

We shouldn't propose testing their competence, either as scholars or as teachers. That, they claim, would bruise their dignity—though other professional people have their competence tested daily in such arenas as the hurlyburly of the courtroom.

And we mustn't even direct school systems how to pass out the raises they have all along been after; to do that, we are told, is to imperil local control of the schools—the thing which may have done as much as anything else to produce the standardless schools of today.

No, no. All we citizens are really expected to do is put up the money and then stand aside and leave the schools alone.

Well, at least our misbegotten legislative assembly so recently ended made all that totally clear.

We can forget the prating about "excellence," and we can stop kidding ourselves that more bucks will move our schools from low mediocrity to the top of the heap.

Now we know all there is to consider is raw question of whether or not to grant the educators raises.

Some of them won't even be sensible on that score.

A press release from the National Education Association-New Mexico, one of the teacher's unions, was delivered the day after the legislators went home. It commits their organization to continue pressing during the coming special session for a 15 percent salary increase for employees in education.

Don't they know by now that a raise of that magnitude would require a $173 million increase in taxes?

Don't they understand we are long past the stage where an increase of that size could even be seriously considered?

Don't they comprehend that Anaya, the teachers' friend, is now wheeling and dealing in an attempt to get a minuscule tax increase on the order of $35 million?

And how do they intend to accomplish this clearly impossible task? Possibly with the team they boast about in that same news release: "NEA in New Mexico averaged five lobbyists at the Capitol every day during the 30-day session, and members sent thousands of letters and phone messages to legislators."

True. But the question is, did any of that do any good? If it didn't in the regular session, the likelihood of it affecting things in the short special session still to come is almost too small to be discernible.

If they and their supporters mismanage things further, they could end up without even the one thing they truly want—a raise in pay.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

I am writing this letter as a plea for all Ruidosoans to think long and hard before they cast their votes in the upcoming March 6th, City Council Election. The people that we elect to the city Council will determine the future of Ruidoso.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking all Ruidosoans to find out as much as they can about all of the candidates. Don't vote for a candidate because you have seen their name in the paper several times. Don't vote for a candidate because they write a lot of letters to the editor or because their family has been in the area for a long, long time. Don't vote for a candidate because they kissed your baby and gave that baby a lollipop.

Know who your candidates are and know that the candidates we choose will really benefit our beautiful little town. Please think about this between now and March 6th.

THANK YOU

PHIL AND GRACIE WILSON

DEAR EDITOR:

With Reference to the Editor of Ruidoso News, 2-17-84 from Martin Rose in Reference to Terry Coe's ability to be a Ruidoso City Council Member.

Of the surprising No. of people running for this position, I think Mr. Rose is pointing his finger at a man who would challenge he or any one running for this position with his ability to perform any of the skills Mr. Coe listed in his recent letter to the Editor, Ruidoso News. This young man, I might say "A young man in a hurry" hasn't let any grass grow on his back since he was 14 years old for learning. He has been in and around Ruidoso most all of his life keeping up with its growth and present needs.

True, he spent two or three years in Hawaii and South Pacific. He built three houses in Hawaii—adding much to many of his skills, knows financing, Real Estate, Maintenance, Construction—you name it.

Mr. Rose you would surely be a smarter man if you would make an appointment with Terry and have a talk with him. He is always glad to talk to older people and give them time-a helping hand or advice. This you can't say about most young people. Try him, You'll like him.

DEAR EDITOR:

As a person drives down main street, they can't help but notice all the "JoAnn Farris" posters tacked on 90 percent of the street lights. It looks really trashy. If all 21 candidates had their posters up in this manner it would look like a slum. I hope the people of Ruidoso think twice before voting for someone who would deface public property for their own personal gain.

DEAR EDITOR:

Our recent Science Fair was an excellent example of our Community and our schools working together.

The Gifted and Talented Parents organization collected the funds for the cash prizes for the over all winners. Mrs. Sue Dalgner and Mrs. Mary Bradley were instrumental in organizing this area of the Science Fair for us.

Mr. Tom Hansen and Mrs. Texie Cole, the principals of the high school and mid school respectively provided funds for the ribbons and trophies given.

Bonnie Coe, Rebecca Durham, Ellie Keeton and Dierley Stierwalt organized a pot luck luncheon, contributed to by all the teachers of the mid school, to show our appreciation for the judges.

The students did an excellent job of presenting their projects both visually and in their interviews with the judges. The students are also to be commended on their explanations of their projects to their students and parents.

Our special thanks to Buddy Bundick, Bill Burgess, Ben Casey, Doug Conley, Mike Tunston, Jim Gayle, Earl Leslie, Steve Makowski, Jvette Maskew, Bill McVay, Larry Schmidt, Bill Streeter, Lynn Willard and Dub Williams who took time from their busy schedules to be our judges. They were excellent judges who did a very thorough job of examining the projects and measuring the student's knowledge of their projects. We appreciate their consenting to be our judges.

Everyone working together made our Science Fair an over whelming success. Our thanks to everyone.

We are relieved to note progress in an area that long has been an understated concern in the Ruidoso area: lack of moderately priced rental housing.

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission last week revealed that a new zoning designation specifically for apartments is under consideration.

Density requirements in R-2 zoning, under which all multi-family housing now falls, have discouraged development of apartment housing.

For example, a local property owner had one acre on which he wanted to build efficiency apartments. R-2 requirements would have limited the project to 22 units.

He looked at the numbers and figured he could not keep the rent low ($300 a month with utilities paid was the plan) and have the project be cost effective.

The R-4 zoning designation under consideration would allow buildings to occupy half the total square footage of the property they sit on. This would have made that particular project a different ball game.

Instead of being limited to 22 units, the project could have had 54 units and been feasible.

Density and green space are two very important considerations in housing projects. But it is sensible to adapt requirements to property use, i.e., to treat condominiums and apartments differently.

Careful consideration of where R-4 zoning is appropriate will be needed, but this presumably will be addressed in the new comprehensive plan.

More rental housing will meet a pressing need—providing for the service work force of the ambitious development projects that regularly are announced.—TP

Reporter's Round

with Gary Brown

It's starting to happen to me again.

The restlessness, the counting of each hour, the tight management of my finances, and above all, the nervous excitement.

In less than two weeks, I'll be going on vacation. That's something I look forward to every year, but this year in particular.

Last year, it rained a lot during my week's vacation and I didn't get a chance to do much. In fact, it really didn't seem like I was on vacation at all.

Another reason I'm looking forward to this vacation is because it's been a long year since the last one.

A lot of things have happened on the local sports scene in the last year, and it's been quite a task (but an enjoyable one) keeping up with them.

I'm looking forward to a week off where I can be free of responsibility. I may just lounge around and not worry about anything.

But it's the idea of being able to do anything that is most appealing about a vacation. You don't have to worry about being on a timetable and you have a variety of options to choose from during that week.

I'm not even sure where I'll go on vacation—probably back to California to visit my family and friends.

I may go to the seashore, take off for the mountains or just do nothing. A lot will depend on what my finances are like when I begin my vacation. This year I got my income tax done early in hopes that I would get my refund back before I went on vacation.

That's unlikely. It generally takes at least six weeks for the refunds to return and I didn't mail my tax return until about three weeks ago.

If I don't get my refund before I go on vacation, I'll probably just cut down on my expenditures while I'm away.

Actually, some of the most enjoyable things to do on a vacation don't cost any money.

Walking along the beach or hiking is something I enjoy, and no money is required for those pleasures. Just being able to relax is a pleasure in itself.

I very seldom splurge during a vacation. One of the reasons is because I don't have to drive anywhere on an assignment and my car costs are down.

A few years ago I spent about 10 days in a resort town on the Central California coast and only drove my car two or three times. I just used my two legs to get around on.

I walked around the small boardwalk near the beach and spent some time at night in the local taverns, listening to the locals gossip (you can pick up a lot of ideas for stories that way).

That's what I'll probably do this year. Most of the time I'll just relax and enjoy simple pleasures.

I might go out on the town a couple of times and splurge, but otherwise I'll probably kick back a lot.

Generally, the last couple of days of my vacation I get too relaxed and yearn to start work again.

I don't know if that will happen this year. I don't think I've ever anticipated a vacation as much as I have this year.

The only thing I'm worried about is that it will be snowing the day I leave and I'll be delayed by the bad weather.

I can just see myself getting to the airport and finding out my flight has already left.

But I'm not going to let that happen. I'll find a way to get through the bad weather if I have to push my car half the way.

So I'll be counting the hours and minutes of the next 10 to 12 days with anticipation, pacing the floor of the News office and watching my money whenever possible.

That's all part of being a person getting ready for vacation.

ATTENTION HOME BUYER!

When you come to Ruidoso to buy a home it's hard to tell if you are buying a quality built house. So we have some things you should watch for.

A. Look At The Fireplace

1. It should be a high efficiency unit with glass doors and blower.
2. It should have a big firebox, at least 35" wide and 21 1/2" deep.
3. Don't settle for some small inefficient unit.

B. Inspect The Cabinets

1. They should be oak or comparable.
2. They should have double drawer guides.
3. They should have a top quality finish.
4. They should have wood sided boxes.
5. They should have backs, made of masonite or wood but never press board.

C. Look At The Appliances

1. They should be major lines such as:
 - A. Thermador
 - B. Jenn Air
 - C. Hotpoint
 - D. Roper
 - E. General Electric
 - F. Whirlpool
2. Don't settle for some brand that you might have trouble getting service for later.

Please Watch For Our Products As You Look For Your New Home.

When you find the fireplace is a DF41 MARCO, the cabinets are beautiful oak by PRESTIGE and the appliances are from the major manufacturers you know you are looking at a home that was built by a builder who cares enough to use the very best.

Diamond Mart, located at 1901 Sudderth Drive, opened Thursday, February 9. The business hours of the store are 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. every day.

Diamond Mart offers convenience

"We're a convenience store with fast in and out service," said Bob Swain, manager of the newly opened Diamond Mart. The store, located at 1901 Sudderth Drive, is a combination convenience store and Diamond Shamrock gasoline station.

"We've got good prices on milk, bread and cigarettes," Swain said. He said the store will be having special prices on grocery items as part of its grand opening celebration.

The store also offers air and water for automobiles; and has groceries, canned and fountain soft drinks and microwavable meals for drivers.

"We've got everything to fill you up," Swain joked. He and his wife, Virginia, manage the store. The station also employs two other people. Swain said he had owned the station several years ago, and was eager to see many of his former customers again.

"A lot of people around here know us," he said.

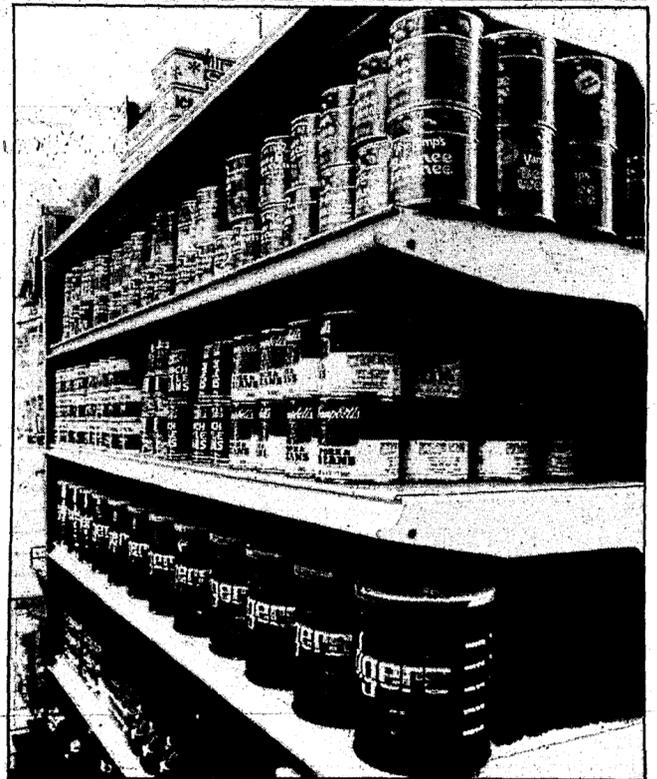

Swain said his goal was to provide quick service and reasonable prices.

"We're going to try to keep our prices right," he said.

The station is open from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. every day. Both regular and unleaded gasoline is available at the station. The phone number at Diamond Mart is 257-5033.

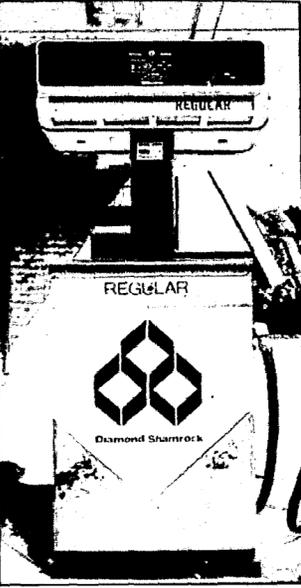

Diamond Mart managers Bob Swain (left) and Virginia Swain coordinate the daily activities of the store. Fast service, according to the Swains, is of vital importance.

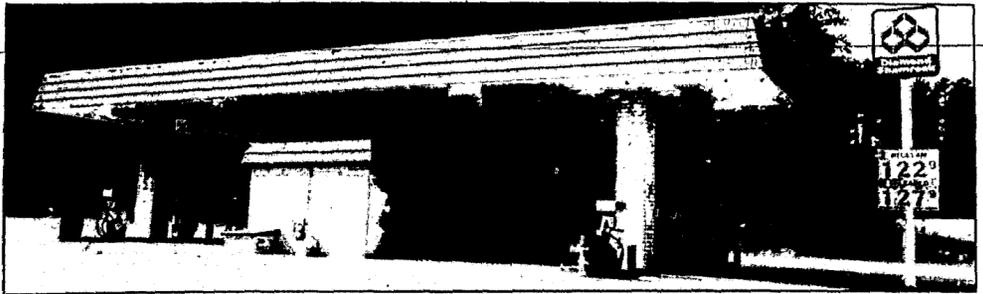

The Diamond Mart offers a wide selection of groceries. In addition to canned and fountain soft drinks. Also offered are hamburger, chicken and club sandwiches that can be microwaved at the store.

"We're a convenience store with fast in and out service," says Bob Swain, manager of the Diamond Mart.

The store offers both regular and unleaded gasoline.

The Diamond Mart has four regular and four drive-up lanes, accommodating the "fast service" the store strives for.

Almost one-third of the members of the Grand Ole Opry — including Hall of Fame members Roy Acuff, Bill Monroe and Hank Snow — have donated time and talent to help produce a series of public service announcements.

The PSAs were videotaped for the Combined Federal Campaign (CFC). They included a major effort directed at American military personnel to raise funds for the USO, the American Red Cross, the International Services Agencies and the National Health Agencies. The spots will be aired by the American Forces Radio and Television Service.

"It has been several years since the CFC has utilized country music stars, but I knew without hesitation that the Grand Ole Opry was the place to come work on the project," said Jim McDonald of Saturday House, the New York production firm that taped the spots.

While McDonald said he knew the Opry members would be easy to work with, he was surprised at how much effort the Opry members put into the project.

"Porter Wagoner came in on Friday night and was willing to read a prepared script right then. However, he asked whether there was a jingle he could sing, too. We weren't prepared for that. We had an audio cassette of the jingle, but no charts. He just told us to wait until Saturday night to do his spot.

"Using only that cassette for guidance, he came back Saturday night and sang the CFC jingle a cappella. It's going to be a tremendous spot," McDonald said.

Other Opry members who taped PSAs were Ernie

Ricky Skaggs

Ashworth, Jim Ed Brown, Lewis Crook, Jan Howard, Stonewall Jackson, Jimmy C. Newman, Stu Phillips, Jeannie Seely, Jean Shepard, Ricky Skaggs, Connie Smith, the Four Guys, Billy Walker and Charlie Walker.

The two-hour "Hodag Country Music Festival" TV special starring Mel Tillis, Janie Fricke, John Conlee, Razy Bailey, Leon Everette, Jim Ed Brown and Reba McEntire. Also appearing will be Boxcar Willie, Charlie Walker, Jana Jae, Tamara Constock and Bobbi Smith. The special is currently airing in 116 markets nationwide.

The show was taped last year during the annual three-day Hodag Country Music Festival in Rhinelander, Wis. The Hodag Festival takes its name from the mythical Hodag, which might be described as "an animal bearing fangs from its feet and horns growing from its back and tail." The creature is said to "yodel and eat bulldogs."

Ask Kate

When Rosie was in bloom

By Kate Woods

What was the name of the Western series that Rosie Grier appeared in back in the '60s? — J.Y.

The former football player joined the cast of "Daniel Boone" during its 1969-'70 season as Gabe Cooper, a runaway slave.

MJ'S AGE — Is it true that Michael Jackson is 25 years old? I thought I read that he was, but my mother says he's only about 20. — B.C.

You read correctly. Jackson is 25 and a 22-year show biz veteran.

COUNTRY DISPUTE — I'm having an argument with my sister that there was a movie made about the life of Tammy Wynette. She insists that I'm thinking of "Coal Miner's Daughter." — C.T.

You're not thinking of the Loretta Lynn screen biography, but of "Stand by Your Man," a 1981 TV movie starring Annette O'Toole as Miss Wynette and Tim McIntire as George Jones.

HOST WITH THE MOST — We're going crazy trying to remember the name of the host of the old game show "Beat the Clock." Please restore our sanity. — A.L. & S.D.

Game show veteran Bud Collyer hosted the popular prime-time game show during its full CBS run (1950-1958).

BAGGETTA'S SERIES — Vincent Baggetta has been on "Hill Street Blues" as a corrupt cop. Can you tell me the name of the series in which he starred as a lawyer a few years ago? — D.M.

Baggetta has been on the right side of the law on two series. He was an attorney and amateur detective on NBC's "The Eddie Capra Mysteries" during the 1978-'79 season, then returned to the network in 1981 as a public defender in "The Chicago Story."
