RUIDOSO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO 88345

MONDAY, APRIL 2, 1984

P&Z to meet

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission will consider Ruidoso Land Company's petition for annexation of property adjacent to Alpine Village Road and Forest Heights Subdivision during its regular meeting set for 3 p.m. Monday, April 2, at village hall. The commission will have an hour-long study session beginning at 2 p.m.

The commission will also have a public hearing on Jerry Bigham's request to change the use of his business (Jerry Dale's) from a night club to a bowling alley, which is a conditional use.

Also on Monday's agenda are:

- Public hearing, administrative review to rezone from C to C-1 lots 1-20, block 6; lots 1-28, Block 2, Hamilton Terrace; lots 1-5, Block 3, Young Heights; lots 1A-7, block 1, Cree Meadows Country Club. The property is generally located along Mechem Drive between Terrace Street and Course View Drive.

- Front lot line variance of 18 feet for T. G. Herring of Lot 38, Block Q, Ruidoso Pine Lodge.

- Taco Villa sign demal appeal, Lot 5A, Block 1, Woodland Ridge.

- Vacation of right of way for the Laboratory of Clinical Medicine of Lot 10, Block 1, Woodland Ridge.

- Side lot line variance of two feet, four inches for the Laboratory of Clinical Medicine of Lot 10, Block 1, Woodland Ridge.

- Division of commercial property for John Pennington part of Tract A, Tract B, Tract C, Tract D and part of Tract E, Pinecliff.

- Replat of Lot 133A, Block BB and Lot 107, Block B, Sleepy Hollow Subdivision for Jack and Betty Ricks and Moore South Financial Corporation.

Rite of Spring

Young LaToya Rainwater was one of hundreds of anglers trying their luck as fishing season opened Sunday at Bonito Lake. Some fishermen were taking limits of rainbow trout and catching a few brook trout, while others reported very slow fishing. LaToya and her father, Ollie Rainwater, drove up from Holloman Air Force Base to fish.

BRW program

Representatives from the BRW planning company will present a program on downtown revitalization and seek input on local downtown problems at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 4, at Ruidoso village hall.

BRW is currently preparing a Comprehensive Transportation Plan and Comprehensive Master Plan for Ruidoso.

BRW vice president John McNamara said his slide presentation would show what numerous other towns have done with their downtown areas. He mentioned such things as murals, off street parking, sidewalks and furniture as items addressed in the slide presentation.

McNamara also hopes downtown property owners and merchants will attend the meeting to identify some of the local downtown issues that need to be addressed. He said suggestions offered at the meeting would be incorporated into the transportation and master plans.

ET meeting

Members of the Lincoln County and Ruidoso governing bodies and planning and zoning commissions will meet with the Ruidoso-Lincoln County Zoning Commission at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 5, at the Ruidoso village hall to discuss extraterritorial zoning.

Lincoln County manager Suzanne Cox said the meeting is intended to help coordinate efforts of the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Commission, the Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission and the Extraterritorial Zoning Commission. Cox said the meeting would serve to brief the new Ruidoso village council about the Extraterritorial Zoning Commission's activities.

Filing day

The filing day for candidacy for all elected county offices is Tuesday, April 3. Candidates must file in the County Clerk's office in the County Courthouse in Carrizozo between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Winds of change at Chamber of Commerce?

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

"We're at a major crossroads in our growth and development," said Ed Jungbluth, executive director of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce. Jungbluth said he believed the chamber was approaching a time of major decision-making that will deal with the direction of the chamber in the future.

Jungbluth said he was hopeful the upcoming chamber board of directors retreat would provide a time for chamber officials to look closely at some issues the chamber currently faces. The newly elected board members will meet with Jungbluth and the present chamber board in a retreat April 27 and 28 at the Holiday Inn de Las Cruces.

A major concern Jungbluth has is the problem of adequate staff at the chamber. He said other chambers of commerce with comparable numbers of members and comparable budgets commonly have twice the number of employees as the Ruidoso chamber.

Jungbluth said the current level of activity at the chamber was extremely taxing on the staff. As the volume of daily activities at the chamber increases, he pointed out, it is more and more difficult for the employees to handle the workload.

Jungbluth said because he was away from the chamber more and more—attending state chamber meetings, state Economic Development and Tourism Department meetings, Sun Country U.S.A. meetings, and being involved in a multitude of other activities—the need for more staff was felt even more.

Water situation okay

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

"We're not going to run out of water," promised water superintendent Richard Sanchez.

In fact, Ruidoso's water situation looks fairly good in spite of a dry winter, according to Sanchez.

The new Hollywood well—combined with a nearly full Alto Reservoir—makes Sanchez and other village officials optimistic about the village's water supply this summer. Precipitation and runoff during the next few months will determine whether Ruidosians drink soft surface water or hard well water.

"It looks better at this point than it did," said assistant village manager Frank Potter.

The Alto Reservoir, fed by Eagle Creek, is five feet short of being full and should top off before summer, said Sanchez.

"I don't see any problem filling that before summer," said Sanchez.

Eagle Creek flowed at approximately 100 gallons per minute (gpm) through much of the winter, but has recently increased to 750 gpm, said Sanchez.

The 750 gpm is just about enough to supply Ruidoso right now. But the water department is letting some water run into the reservoir and feeding some directly to the Alto Crest water treatment plant.

The new Hollywood well, which came on line last July, is now providing a large part of the village's water supply. Depending upon Rio Ruidoso flow during May, June and July Ruidoso may not be able to use that well.

According to a recent State Engineer's ruling, Ruidoso can use the Hollywood well during those months only if the flow at the Hollywood gauge is more than six cubic feet per second. That only happens rarely, said consulting engineer Jack Atkins. Ruidoso does have other supplemental wells it can use, although they supply less water, said Potter.

Most people would agree, however, that the Hollywood well water and other supplemental well water is much less desirable than Eagle Creek or the Rio Ruidoso water. The Hollywood well water is very hard. It tested at almost 900 parts per million (ppm) hardness, compared to 130 ppm for the Rio Ruidoso.

Potter said he was hoping to use the Hollywood well as little as possible this summer. Sanchez is non-committal about the chances for supplying softer water to Ruidoso through the summer.

The amount of well water used will depend upon several factors. Runoff, precipitation, water line replacement and the outcome of a protest with the State Engineer will all affect the village's water supply this summer.

Sanchez figures the Alto reservoir will be completely full by the end of April. He hopes to keep it full until the heavy demand periods of July and August.

Once the reservoir is full, all the Eagle Creek water will be put directly into the water system. At the current rate of flow, Eagle Creek could completely supply Ruidoso until the summer begins.

But the flow will depend upon runoff from melting snow, plus precipitation during the next three months. Last year, after a snowy winter, Eagle Creek supplied Ruidoso until July.

But last year at this time the undisturbed snow base midway at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort was 90 inches. A week later, after a huge snow storm, it was 133 inches. This year, the resort is closing today with 34 inches of snow at midway.

The National Weather Service's recently released 90-day forecast calls for a normal amount of precipitation during April, May and June. And that is not very much. Ruidoso averages 2.01 inches of precipitation during April, May and June, according to retired meteorologist Bill Hostetter.

There are other hopes for a soft water supply, however.

The village recently purchased 66.34 acre feet of water rights on the Rio Ruidoso in the Hondo Valley. It has applied to the State Engineer to transfer those rights to wells in the Eagle Creek basin. It has also applied for the right to use those wells to supplement 1,404 acre feet of its Eagle Creek rights.

Tests on the wells drilled in the Eagle Creek basin have provided promising results, said Sanchez. During a 48-hour test, the wells pumped 500 to 600 gpm, said Sanchez. The Hollywood well supplies approximately 700 gpm, he said. Continuous pumping for a longer period of time may reduce the well's output, said

Sanchez. Although he stated no figures, Sanchez said the Eagle Creek well also supplied considerably higher quality water than the Hollywood well.

But, as with any water-related activities, protests have been filed against these applications.

Several Rio Ruidoso water right owners, Alto Village Service Corporation, Lakeside Corporation and M. H. Blaugrund have all claimed that the use of the Eagle Creek wells would be detrimental to their water rights.

Potter said he expected the protest to be resolved this summer. If the decision is made in favor of Ruidoso, Potter said, the village should be able to use the wells sometime this summer.

Sanchez said his department also was planning on replacing 15,000 linear feet of water line this summer. Some of that may be in the Upper Canyon, depending on how the pipeline looks when it is examined this week.

If the pipe is in poor shape and is replaced, Sanchez said, water treatment plant number 1 in the Upper Canyon possibly could supply Rio Ruidoso water to more people in Ruidoso. Due to pressure problems, the plant now supplies water only to Upper Canyon residents. If a new line can deliver more pressure, the Rio Ruidoso water could be supplied further into town, said Sanchez.

A new filter system and turbidimeter should also ensure high quality water from that plant this summer, said Sanchez. The two improvements were requested by the Environmental Improvement Division after a mysterious gastrointestinal disease raised suspicions about the plant's filtering capability.

The turbidimeter will shut down the plant anytime heavy rains cloud the Rio Ruidoso water too much for the plant to properly filter, said Sanchez. While the new filter should provide better quality water, Sanchez was skeptical that it could completely prevent giardia cysts—one suspected cause of last summer's disease outbreak—from slipping through the system.

The real key to a steady supply of high quality water will be the Grindstone reservoir. Until that is full, Ruidoso will watch a large portion of its entitled Rio Ruidoso water flow downstream unused.

McGuire discusses legislative session

by TIM PALMER
News Editor

State Representative Mickey McGuire liked the second session of this year's Legislature more than the first.

In fact, he liked it well enough to decide he would try for a second term in the New Mexico House of Representatives.

"Well, I can certainly say I feel better at the end of this one than I did at the end of the 30-day," McGuire said last week.

It was back to the drawing board for McGuire and other members of the House Appropriations and Finance Committee when they started the second go-round in Santa Fe March 9. The committee's omnibus funding bill had been shot down by the Senate in the 30-day regular session.

In the special session, a House-Senate conference committee helped hammer out a funding bill acceptable to both chambers. It was decided at 12:30 a.m. Thursday, March 15, that the compromise was ready to be voted on, and the House was convened.

They adjourned at 2:30 a.m. McGuire acknowledged that working those hours as a legislator was new to him, but that he was very glad to wrap up the business.

Asked to summarize how the business of the Legislature affected Lincoln County, McGuire pointed first to funding for Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School. He noted that besides himself, Lincoln County lawmakers Charlie Lee and Maurice Hobson were involved in the effort to allow Fort Stanton to continue as a center for the developmentally disabled.

The local school system is affected by action on pay for school personnel. Starting in the fall, local school districts will pay a greater share of employees' health and accident insurance premiums.

"This is something I think is good," said McGuire. He explained that the percentage paid by the school district would be greater for employees on the lower end of the salary scale.

They will get a cost of living increase of about six percent.

That might not hold true in Ruidoso, he noted, because the opening of a new school will necessitate hiring of more employees. A committee of school administrators will work out the specifics of pay raises, according to McGuire.

In the area of capital outlay, McGuire pointed out that the Legislature had been able to keep some cooperative highway funding in the budget—important to Ruidoso. Money was budgeted also for renovation work at the Wortley Hotel and Tunstall Store in Lincoln.

McGuire noted that Camp Sierra Blanca was affected favorably also in that state Corrections Department funding was not severely cut, as had been proposed.

Capital outlay funds for school construction were cut back, and McGuire feels this could have a direct effect on the building program for the Ruidoso schools. Competition for the $6.5 million (cut from $15 million) in schools capital outlay funds will be fiercely competed for, he indicated. Also, the $6.5 million is included in Ruidoso government. He said such topics as changing the meeting day for the chamber board, changing the official name of the chamber and qualifications for election to the board had to be dealt with as changes to the by-laws.

Jungbluth said he also was looking forward to better relations between the chamber and the village government, especially with the recent election of assistant village manager Frank Potter to the chamber board. Jungbluth said because the two groups share so many common interests in Ruidoso, they should work closely together.

One area where Jungbluth does not foresee any changes is his involvement with the chamber. He said he was still very content with his position as chamber executive director.

"I still love what I do," he said. "I love the job, it's the best thing I've ever done."

Creativity distinguishes fourth grade teachers

by C.E. REUTER
News Staff Writer

Nobody can accuse the fourth-grade teachers at White Mountain Elementary School of lacking creativity in their approaches to teaching.

Two of them split the duties of teaching a class, one taking the morning session, the other taking the afternoon session.

Two more teach their two classes together, in a team-teaching situation that meshes their students and allows the teachers to complement each other.

Another two teach their classes using approaches as varied as the opposite ends of the building in which their classes meet, but they share a definite enthusiasm for their work.

The fourth-grade aide rounds out the group of seven women, and has been working as an aide since her kids were in grade school.

Jane Tully and Nan Wierwille

Jane Tully teaches one class of fourth-graders each weekday morning, then spends the afternoon with her son Mackey, 5.

She and her husband, Gerald, also have a daughter, Malaika, who is a first-grader. Mackey is in pre-school, but that only meets in the morning.

She and Nan Wierwille decided to split a classroom and be with their own children. "It seemed it would be a good year to have some time with him," Tully said of her young son.

The unusual arrangement has been an answer to a prayer, she said. "It came at a good time for Nan and me both." Wierwille took time away from teaching their class to have a baby last fall.

Teaching a half-day instead of a full day doesn't exactly cut the task in half, but it does reduce the work considerably. The number of papers to grade is cut in half, for instance. Both teachers go to sessions such as in-service days, however.

Both are also classroom veterans. Tully has been in Ruidoso 11 years. She is in her 12th year as a teacher. Her classes have included high school special education groups and fourth and eighth grade.

She likes working with fourth-graders, compared to older students. "Eighth-graders have so much on their mind out of school. It's easier to capture the attention of fourth-graders," she said.

Tully is a native of Carlsbad and taught for a year there. She earned a bachelor's degree in special education from Loretto Heights College in Denver, but decided she didn't want to stay in that city.

Since her return to New Mexico, she has earned a master's degree in elementary reading from New Mexico State University.

She and Wierwille plan a camping trip to Carlsbad April 12-13 with most of their 27 students.

The camping trip will be a shared project. So was the idea to share the class. Wierwille said. "It's worked out very successfully. There haven't been any snags," she said.

She is in her 13th year of teaching, including nine in Ruidoso. Wierwille has taught kindergarten and first-grade classes, as well as about seven years of fourth-grade classes.

Wierwille holds a bachelor's degree in elementary education from Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee. She is working on a master's degree from the University of New Mexico.

The native of New Jersey said she deliberately went out of state for college. "I wanted to live someplace I'd never lived," she said.

After getting her degree, she taught in Los Alamos, then moved to Ruidoso.

This year, she wanted to spend half a day teaching to have more time to nurture her own children. Their early developmental ties are important, she said.

Wierwille and her husband, Tim, have two children, three-year-old Chloe and five-month-old Nathan.

Teaching half a day means she gets half the salary she would normally earn this year, of course. That's better than no salary.

Besides, "I need the job security. I'd hate to put my job completely up for grabs (by quitting)."

One big project on the job this year involves silhouettes of people. Each of her students cut out a white paper body and named it.

As they study intestines or hearts, for example, they cut them out of colored paper and add them to the silhouettes lining the hall near their classroom.

"I've really enjoyed doing that," she said, "and learned a lot about anatomy."

She also enjoys her work with the fourth-graders. They are experiencing a transition pre-teen year, she said.

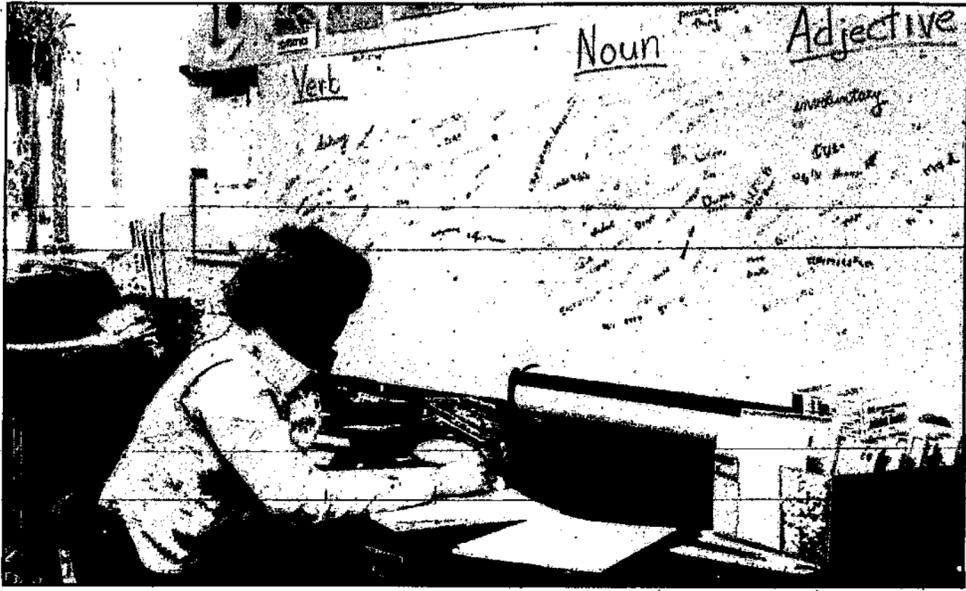

"They're not babies and they're not pre-teens, they're just nice, normal kids." They retain some innocence, she said, but "they can carry on an intellectual conversation."

Cindy Simmons and Kathy Crane

Finding a team that meshes more completely than Kathy Crane and Cindy Simmons would be difficult. Ask them a question about their jobs and one may finish what the other starts.

CINDY SIMMONS and KATHY CRANE

CINDY GEYER

Their experiences do differ.

Crane is a first-year teacher in Ruidoso, although she has been teaching for 11 years. She spent six of those years in Capitan, including last year in the first grade. She has also taught kindergarten, fourth grade, special education and seventh grade.

The Roswell native has a master's degree in special education from Eastern New Mexico University. She is married to Glen Crane.

Simmons has taught for eight years, including the last three in Ruidoso. She taught first grade for two years in the district before moving up to the fourth grade.

She is also a Roswell native and also has a master's degree from Eastern New Mexico. Her subject was elementary education. Simmons also has a bachelor's degree in education and music.

Simmons and Crane discussed the team teaching idea with principal Don Weems. "We're excited about it," Simmons said. "I had been in that kind of situation."

This year, "It all came together so beautifully" for the two friends. They have 50 students in a double classroom.

They split classes according to ability levels and according to their interests. "We've had to adjust," Crane said. "I teach physical education, she teaches music."

They also alternate teaching high-ability and low-ability reading and math groups. For nine weeks Crane will teach one group, then for the next nine weeks Simmons will teach it.

"It's not as chaotic as you think," Simmons said. Crane added, "It's structured. It has to be."

Team teaching has benefits for the teachers. Simmons said it's nice to have someone off of whom to bounce ideas and problems.

She said this year has been the most enjoyable teaching year she has had. "This district is so progressive, it lets you teach the most effective way you can. It's not rigid," she said.

She likes teaching 10-year-olds, and likes the more abstract feelings they have compared to younger students. She makes a basket of her fingers and continues, "You can reason with them."

Crane agreed. "You can get into deeper subjects." As a bonus, "they catch your jokes."

During the last month of fourth grade, Simmons said, many of the students begin to change. Well before then, however, "fourth-graders have adapted to the social aspects of school."

In contrast, she said, first-graders need much more mothering.

Arlene Bogard

Arlene Bogard has been reading the Chronicles of Narnia to her fourth-graders for years.

"I'll meet kids on the street who are now juniors or seniors (in high school)," she said.

CARLA SWANNER

school)," she said. Her former students ask, "Are you still reading the Chronicles?"

Seventh- and eighth-graders ask, "Which one are you on?" she said. She names one of the seven books she's reading to her students at the moment. Whenever she has a few minutes or half an hour to spare, she reads aloud from the books.

"One way to make the children want to learn to read is to read to them," she said. Bogard hams it up when reading aloud by using different voices.

She wishes more parents found time to read to their children, and thinks TV is passive.

Her favorite Narnia tales have Christian overtones and include the adventures of Aslan the Lion. It's no coincidence that her own children are working in Asian Youth Ministries in New Jersey.

She and her husband, Ira Bogard, have two children. Dusty Neergard and Craig Bogard both live in New Jersey. Both have two sons. Ira Bogard is a retired high school teacher who taught U.S. Senator Jeff Bingaman.

Arlene Bogard has been teaching for 21 years, and started teaching fourth-graders in the fall of 1975 in Ruidoso. Before that, she taught second and third grade in Portales.

"I really enjoy fourth-graders. What I can teach them is more interesting," she said.

She tries to make her subjects interesting. When the students studied Mexico, for instance, they culminated the unit with a fiesta. She plans to cap a unit about Israel with dancing.

She has a main goal for the year. "I want to take a child where I find him, and help him progress as much as he possibly can," she said.

She doesn't merely relay information. "You can't isolate teaching from behavior," she said. "The old Golden Rule works," she added. "I'm going to do everything I can."

Bogard said, "I give plain old reading, writing and arithmetic." She relies on traditional fundamentals, but isn't confined by old-fashioned ways.

"I graduated from college when my daughter graduated from eighth grade," she said. She now has a bachelor's degree in education and has studied for a master's degree.

The parents of today's grade school students face a difficult task, she said.

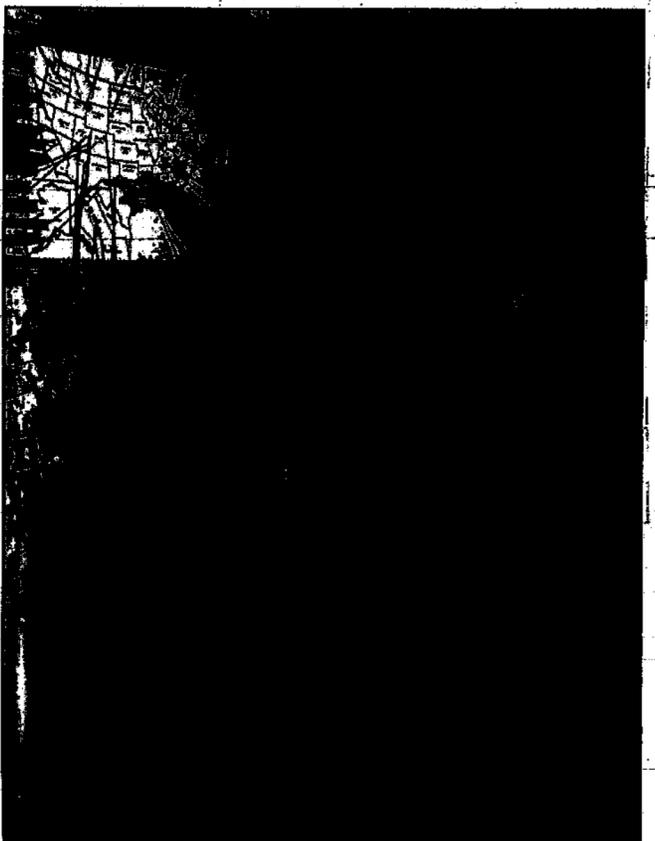

"Parenting is difficult, even more than it used to be." Women are working at jobs so much, she added, it takes them out of the home. Time is also precious in single-parent families.

Bogard also believes that students mirror their teacher. She puts enthusiasm into her corrective spelling class, so "I rarely have a child who is bored in corrective spelling."

She also strongly stresses that, in school, "As much as learning, half of

ARLENE BOGARD

school is learning where to find things."

The veteran teacher also stresses memorization and concepts. She thinks they're important in the lower levels.

With her fourth-graders, "I find quite a bit of ability to think," even though they don't have enough experience with life for many abstract ideas.

"You're trying to give them concrete things," she said, for building those abstractions.

"I do enjoy teaching," she said.

Bogard was born in Texas. Her family moved to New Mexico when she was 14 years old.

Cindy Geyer

Cindy Geyer started teaching in Ruidoso three years ago, and has been a teacher six years.

She has taught remedial math to seventh- and eighth-graders and taught second grade for a year, but she likes her fourth-graders.

"They're not too immature, and you can do a lot with them," she said. By that age, many are independent readers and independent workers.

Geyer enjoys the diversity of subjects she teaches. "I like 'em all. If I had to teach one subject all day long, I'd be bored stiff," she said.

One of her recent projects was a unit about New Mexico history. Her students researched famous New Mexicans from former eras. They dressed like them and painted backdrops, then gave presentations to other students.

She and her husband, Ron, moved into New Mexico three years ago from El Paso, Texas. He is the Ruidoso High School basketball coach.

Cindy Geyer likes Ruidoso better than El Paso. "I missed the cold weather and skiing. We're outdoors people," she explained.

Geyer is from Terre Haute, Indiana. She earned a bachelor's degree in elementary education from the University of Idaho and a master's degree in curriculum and instruction from the University of Texas at El Paso.

"I love the West, I'd never go back East," she said.

Carla Swanner

When Carla Swanner and her family moved to Ruidoso in 1979, she became the fourth-grade aide. She's had the job ever since.

Swanner has two spelling classes, administers reading tests and works on grading. Year by year she is working to become a teacher via the New Mexico State University summer programs in Ruidoso.

She and her husband, Dwight, who is a plumber, have four children. Robert is a Ruidoso High School senior, David is an eighth-grader, Michael is a seventh-grader and DeAnna is a fifth-grader.

The Swanners moved to Ruidoso from Houston, Texas, because they wanted to raise their children here. "Houston was just getting too big," she explained. "The smallness of the school district is really important to us."

The move was a homecoming for her, because she is a graduate of Ruidoso High School. "I'm really happy here. We might go to Alamogordo twice a year." Other than that, she stays around town.

"Ruidoso is getting awfully big now," she observed. Her high school class had 35 members.

Coming Up...

Library Friends

The Friends of the Ruidoso Public Library plan a meeting at 7 tonight (Monday) at the library. Members will discuss summer projects and elect officers. The public is invited.

For more information, call Ellie Keeton at 258-4059.

CONNIE KIRK

Women's Aglow

Connie Kirk of Roswell will speak to members of the Women's Aglow Fellowship at 7 tonight (Monday) in the La Paz Room at the Ruidoso Inn.

She and her husband, Phil Kirk, teach Bible courses in Roswell. They have four children, ages 17-26. Mrs. Kirk will share testimony and what God's word means to her and to her family. She has been a homemaker and wife for 27 years.

Her talk is titled "Becoming a Godly Woman."

Stuffed pets

Participants in the Ruidoso Public Library pre-school story hour are sponsoring a stuffed pet show from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. today through Friday, April 6.

The entries by the three- to five-year-olds will be judged during the program.

Missionary talk

Janie Semlar will speak at Angus Church of the Nazarene at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 3.

The Angus church is hosting services for members of other area congregations. Members of the public are also welcome. Refreshments will be served after the service.

Semlar has been a missionary and nurse in the Republic of South Africa since 1975. She is on furlough to lead deputation services in the United States and Canada.

She is a Wisconsin native who graduated from Mennonite Hospital School of Nursing and Olivet Nazarene College.

Home Builders

The Lincoln County Home Builders Association plans a hospitality hour and dinner meeting Tuesday, April 3.

Fowler Electric Company and Builders Lighting and Fan Shop will sponsor a hospitality hour from 6:15 to 7 p.m. A dinner meeting will follow at Cree Meadows Country Club.

Area building inspectors will speak, as will David Steele, head of the New Mexico Construction Industries Division in Santa Fe.

The association urges builders, subcontractors and building suppliers to attend. Call 378-4123 for reservations.

Pink Ladies

The Pink Ladies, or Ruidoso-Hondo valley Hospital Auxiliary, will meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, April 3, in the hospital conference room.

The auxiliary invites any man or woman who is interested to join the meeting.

The Pink Ladies' Thrift Shop at 140 Nob Hill Drive will also start summer hours Tuesday. The shop will be open Tuesday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Wednesday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. For information, call 257-7051.

Hart backers

Presidential candidate Gary Hart's supporters plan an organizational meeting for Lincoln and Otero counties at 6 p.m. Thursday, April 5, in The Carrizo Lodge.

Gary Hart's state coordinator and national committeeman will help form a network for the area. Organizational workers, committee members, position paper drafters and campaign leaders will be selected at the meeting. Hart faces Walter Mondale in the New Mexico primary in June.

Woman's Club

The Ruidoso Evening Woman's Club plans a welcome coffee at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 3, in the Woman's Club building near Sudderth. The evening group will be a chapter of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

At the coffee, SuAnn Simon will review goals and purposes of the new club. She is president pro tem. The meetings are planned on the fourth Tuesday of each month, except during summer.

Speakers at the coffee from Ruidoso State Bank will be Andree Cohen and Nancy Walizer.

For information call Simon at 257-2887 or Cindy Arnold at 257-9737.

Dill Gandelaria and Carol Simpson were among school bus drivers honored recently.

Bus drivers honored

Red Ludwig accepts his service and safety pin from Ruidoso school district transportation head Don Weems at a recent breakfast in honor of bus drivers. Others who were honored include Sally Rue, Rick Simpson, Estelle Mitchell, Imogene Miranda, Mary Ruth Burgess, Sara Austin, Jack Kennedy, Robert Eamello and Nancy Chavez. Drivers who received pins after the breakfast include Milton Jackson, Earl Allison, Irene Nosker, Alice Allison, Dennis Allward and Trudy Brooks.

Altrusa plans 'Prime Time'

The Altrusa, Club of Ruidoso will sponsor "Prime Time for Women," seminars about issues important to women. The conference is planned Monday, April 30, at First Christian Church in Ruidoso.

Registration will begin at 6:30 p.m. The conference will end about 9:30 p.m.

Planned seminar topics are "How to Dress for Success," "Small Computers and You," "Stress Management" and "Small Investments."

Cost per person for the conference will be $3. Refreshments will be provided.

Babysitting will be available at a charge of 50 cents per child for the entire evening. Various fine arts also will be displayed.

Both men and women are welcome to attend. For information or to register, call 257-7992 after 4 p.m.

FCC DELAYS ACCESS CHARGES FOR BUSINESS CUSTOMERS UNTIL JUNE 1984

The Federal Communications Commission last week voted to delay for three months a monthly access charge system for most business telephone customers.

On April 3, business customers with more than one telephone line were to begin paying a $6 per-line monthly access to their local phone company for connection to the long distance calling network. Under the latest FCC postponement, the second three-month delay ordered since the beginning of the year, those charges won't take effect until June 13, said Contel Telephone Services Manager John Van Tussenbroek.

Earlier this year the commission postponed implementation on a separate interstate $2 monthly access charge for residential customers and single-line businesses until June 1985.

Originally, the FCC had set January 3, 1984 as the effective date for access charges that applied to all telephone customers.

According to Van Tussenbroek, the commission's decision to delay implementation of the multi-line customer fees was the result of their inability to manage the volume of tariff filings associated with their order.

Ruidoso girl thinclads take fourth in Hagerman meet

A matter of just three points prevented the Ruidoso High School girls track team from taking first place in the Hagerman Invitational Friday.

Melrose won the meet with 45 points, Texico was second with 44, Mountainair third with 43 and the Warriors were fourth with 42.

The team championship was decided in the final event of the day—the 1,600-meter relay. Melrose took second to win the team championship and the Warriors finished third in a time 4:32.0.

Jackie Jefferson, Felicia Childress, Katherine Sanchez and Deanna Peso made up the 1,600-meter relay quartet. Jefferson also finished second in the 1,500 meters, running a 5:48.0. Peso captured the 800 meters in 2:40 and ran legs on the 400-meter and 800-meter relay teams. She was also fifth in the long jump with a 13-11 jump.

The 400-meter relay team of Peso, Kerry Gladden, Jefferson and Kim Daniels ran a 56.0 for fifth place, and the 800-meter relay team of Peso, Daniels, Gladden and Laura Trapp ran a 2:04.0 for second.

Trapp's performance was especially impressive since she had just finished competing in singles and doubles tennis matches for Ruidoso in Roswell Friday morning.

Berline Smith, running her first race of the season, finished fifth in the 3,000 meters in 13:36.

Sanchez had a good day, taking fourth in the 300-meter hurdles in 59.59 besides her relay work.

Daniels was fourth in the 100 meters (13.8) and second in the 200 meters (28.3). She ran a 13.06 in the 100-meter trials.

Diane McClure was third in the discus with an 81-foot toss and Lillian Lopez was second in the shot put with a 32-8 throw. Lopez has a best of 33-5 in the shot put this season.

Ruidoso was hampered by the loss of Rachel Kaydahzime. Kaydahzime, a top distance runner, has at least one more week out with an injured knee.

"We went to the meet to get some experience on a dirt track because the district meet will be on a dirt track (Cobre's)," said Warrior coach Sergio Castanon.

The Warrior girls will join the boys at the Las Cruces Invitational next Saturday. Some of the best teams in Southern New Mexico will compete in the meet.

Bob, McClellan set records as Warrior boys finish third

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

It was a record-breaking day for the Ruidoso High School boys track team as the Warriors finished third in the Portales Invitational Saturday.

Junior Cisco Bob broke his own school record in the 1,500 meters by winning that event in 4:08.09. Bob's previous record was 4:13.29, set last year.

Curt McClellan, another junior, broke a Warrior record in the 800 meters by running a 2:01.53 for second place.

Lovington won the meet with 110 points and Artesia was second with 56, four points ahead of Ruidoso's 52.

"All in all, I think the kids did a pretty good job," said Warrior head coach Ronny Maskew. "It was probably our best performance of the season. We improved a lot of our times, especially in the relays, where we figured we needed to improve."

Bob, who also won the 3,000 meters in 9:13.30, led by a slim margin entering the final lap of the 1,500 meters. Two other runners passed him in the middle of the lap, but Bob put on a strong closing sprint on the curve to win. Rick Boneau of Artesia was second in 4:10.07.

Bob's time in the 3,000 meters was impressive because a cold wind hampered the athletes in the latter stages of the meet, particularly on the curve and backstretch.

Bob led a Ruidoso 1-2-4 finish in the 3,000 meters. Francisco Olvera finished second in 9:59.8 and freshman Gabe Tam was fourth in 10:09.

McClellan barely lost in the 800 meters but still broke the former school record of 2:02.6 set by Joe Almager.

Another top performer for the Warriors was sophomore Ryan Frost. Frost was second in the 100 meters in 11.86 and third in the 200 meters in 23.98. He also ran on the third-place 400-meter and 800-meter relay teams.

"I think Frost can run an 11.1 or 11.2 in the 100 before the season is over," Maskew said. "And probably around 23.0 or 22.8 in the 200 meters."

The 400-meter relay team ran a 45.6, six-tenths faster than its previous seasonal best. The 800-meter relay squad also improved, running a 1:35.20.

Besides Frost, Steve Snidow, Eric Strobel and McClellan ran on the third-place relay units.

The 1,600-meter relay team of Strobel, Snidow, sophomore Russell Easter and McClellan also finished third, running a 3:41.30 in the strong wind.

Easter also picked up a fourth in the long jump, while senior Mark Johnston was fifth.

Justin Smith was fourth in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles with a 44.87 time, and Easter was fifth in 45.08.

Most of the other Warrior athletes who didn't place also improved their times.

What was particularly impressive about Ruidoso's performance in the meet was that the Warriors scored more points than schools with much bigger enrollments, such as Goddard and host Portales.

The Warrior boys and girls will compete in the Las Cruces Invitational next Saturday.

Several Capitan athletes stand out in Hagerman track meet Friday

The Capitan High School boys and girls track teams came through with several fine individual performances in the Hagerman Invitational Friday.

Tim McElhannon led the Tiger boys effort with a first place in the 400 meters and a second in the javelin. McElhannon, an all-state running back in football, won the 400 meters in 55.3 and took second in the javelin with a 141-foot toss. McElhannon also finished sixth in the 100 meters.

Todd Proctor added thirds in the shot put and discus and finished fourth in the javelin for Capitan.

Daron Armstrong came through in the distance races, taking a second in the 3,000 meters and a fifth in the 1,500 meters.

Tiger boys coach E. C. Jenkins only took seven boys to the meet. Many of the Tigers' top athletes were at Future Farmers of America and Spanish Club meetings.

The Capitan girls 400-meter relay team of Joan Leslie, Tracy Herd, Shawna McDaniel and Becky Huey finished first with a 55.6 time.

Huey also took fourth in the 400 meters with a 68.8 clocking and finished fifth in the discus with a 78-6 throw.

Becky Phillips was fourth in the 100-meter hurdles with an 18.77 time. Herd also made the finals, but had suffered a slight sprain in her thigh earlier and did not compete in the finals.

The Tiger 800-meter relay team of Phillips, Leslie, McDaniel and Huey took second with a 2:02.0 time.

"We kept her out of the 800-meter relay because of the injury. If she had been healthy and run on it, we probably would have won it."

"We had some good times and some things we have to work on," said Capitan girls coach Darrel Ray. "We should be at full strength next week. Tracy's injury doesn't appear to be serious."

Bender stars on links

Freshman Jeff Bender again led the Ruidoso High School golf team as he shot an 85-92 for the Mayfield Invitational last Thursday and Friday at Pico Hills Country Club in Las Cruces.

The Warriors shot 874 as a team to finish fifth in the seven-team AAA division field.

Besides Bender, other Ruidoso golfer's scores were Paul Hamilton, 97-96; Tommy Crow, 106-96; Verlon Edwards, 115-98; and Kenny Espinosa, 104-100.

The team shot a 392 Thursday and a 383 Friday.

Cathedral of El Paso, Texas, won the AAA division championship with a 677. Hot Springs had a 682, Silver City scored a 688, the Las Cruces B team was fourth (no score available) and the Warriors were next.

Deming and the Mayfield B team brought up the rear.

Gadsden won the AAAA division with a 656 score and host Mayfield was second with a 659 total. Las Cruces and Alamogordo tied for third with 668 scores.

The Warriors will compete in the Roswell Invitational this Thursday.

Little League baseball signups begin tonight

Around Sports with Gary Brown

Even though it's just the beginning of spring, Ruidoso High School girls varsity volleyball coach Phdie Arthur is already getting her team ready for next fall's season.

The players are currently raising money to go to a summer volleyball camp. They had a bake sale last week to get funds for the camp. The girls also are doing yardwork and will have a concession stand at the third annual Gerald Tully Team Roping Event this year to raise more money.

The camp is named the Al Seates Instructional Volleyball Camp, and it will be at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales July 21-28. The camp is named after the University of California at Los Angeles volleyball coach, one of the most successful volleyball coaches in the country.

Arthur is also enthusiastic about her team's chances next season. Most of last fall's players will return.

"I've never seen as much determination and enthusiasm from a group of young people as I have from this group," Arthur said. "We've got nowhere to go now but up."

Ruidoso has had problems in recent years, particularly during the district campaign.

Last fall the Warriors finished last in the District 3-AAA race with an 0-6 record, and were 3-13 overall. The year before under former coach Elmer Chavez, Ruidoso lost in the first round of the district tournament despite having a 5-5 district record and an overall 9-8 mark.

But the Warriors should have a good nucleus of players back next season. Starters Gia Rose and Diane McClure will return, as will Dana Stierwalt and Kristy Douglass.

Several excellent prospects from the junior varsity team also should help the varsity out.

Participating in a summer volleyball camp also should help the Ruidoso team. The players will get a chance to compete against other schools and players and will learn what they have to work on in order to be successful.

So don't be surprised when next fall rolls around to see a vastly improved Warrior volleyball team.

When Ruidoso High School moves into its new plant in the 1984-85 school year, the Warriors hope to build a track, although when it might be available is undetermined at this time.

Estimated cost of the track alone would be between $60,000 and $80,000.

The addition of a track would be a big boost to the Warriors' athletic program, particularly the track teams.

As it is now, without a track Ruidoso's boys and girls track teams have to travel to all their meets.

In many cases, this can put a team at a disadvantage when it goes to compete in a meet. After riding for 150 to 200 miles on a bus, the athletes can get tired and have a hard time warming up for the meet.

With a track here in Ruidoso, the Warriors would be able to host their own invitational and maybe a few dual meets.

Ruidoso netters lose to strong Goddard

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Despite losing in both boys and girls competition to host Goddard of Roswell Friday, the Ruidoso High School tennis team may have been helped by the defeats.

"They're the best team we've faced this season," said Ruidoso coach Mike Crocker after the Warriors dropped a 10-1 decision in boys action and a 9-0 decision in girls competition. "We played good tennis and are anxious to meet them when they come up here in two weeks."

Ruidoso is now 1-2 in boys action and 0-3 in girls play.

Glen Westergren picked up the only victory for the Warriors, taking a 2-6, 6-2, 6-1 victory over Steve Shannon in the number seven boys match.

The Warriors' number one boy and girl players, Ryan Brown and Laura Trapp, lost hard-fought decisions for their first defeats of the season.

Brown lost to Mike McMillian 3-6, 6-3, 6-1, in the top boys match. Trapp was defeated by Laura Core 7-5, 6-4, in the number one girls match.

"Both Ryan and Laura played real well," Crocker remarked. "In a way it's kind of good that Goddard joined the district this year. Otherwise Ryan and Laura wouldn't have any competition."

"As I watched those matches today, I got the feeling that those will be the matchups in the finals of the district tournament."

The boys played eight singles matches and three doubles matches, while the girls played seven singles matches and three doubles matches.

In boys action, Jim Smith of Ruidoso lost to Dell Pletcher 6-0, 6-1; Zane Bergman of Goddard beat Mike Smith 6-2, 6-2; Zach Swalander of the Warriors fell to Kirk Dominic 6-3, 6-1; Craig Carson of Ruidoso was whipped by Tony Fletcher 6-0, 6-4; Tye Simons of Goddard topped Mitch Rhodes of Ruidoso 6-1, 6-1; and Cache Mundy of Ruidoso fell to Shawn Davis 6-1, 6-4.

Boys doubles action saw the Smith brothers fall to McMillian and Dominic 6-0, 6-1, in the number one match.

The other doubles action saw Swalander and Brown beaten by Del Fletcher and Bergmann 6-0, 6-2, and Westergren and Carson defeated by Tony Pletcher and Simons 6-3, 6-3.

Besides Trapp's close loss, other girls singles action had Ruidoso's Donna Moble beaten by Debbie Denison 6-0, 6-1; Loren Bassett of Goddard topping Michelle Morrow of the Warriors 6-1, 6-2; Marcie Mullican of Ruidoso losing a 6-0, 6-3 decision to Shawn Murphy; and Ruidoso's Rachel McCoy losing a 6-2, 6-1 decision to Kathleen Corral.

Melissa Henderson of Ruidoso fell to Mary Alice Walker 6-1, 6-3, and Bonnie Sisneros of Goddard topped Lori Morrow 6-2, 6-1.

In girls' doubles action, Moble and Trapp lost to Core and Denison 6-3, 6-2, in the number one match.

Other doubles action had Mullican and Michelle Morrow falling to Bassett and Murphy by a 6-2, 6-1 decision, and Corral and Walker topping McCoy and Tina Sanchez 6-1, 6-1.

Ruidoso will travel to Artesia Tuesday for a 2 p.m. match.

Bob again leads Braves

Clint Bob was again the standout as the White Mountain Middle School boys and girls track teams competed in the Hagerman Invitational Friday.

White Mountain finished third in the boys' division with 31 points and scored 10 points in the girls' competition.

Bob was first in the 1,500 meters with a 5:05.0 time and second in the 800 meters in 2:26.0. He also finished third in the high school exhibition 3,000 meters, running an 11:23.

The Brave 800-meter relay team of Brent Walsh, Adolph Herrera, Rusty Shelton and Sean Moore ran a third, and Walsh was third in the discus with a 106-8 effort. Moore was fifth in the discus with a 95-foot effort.

White Mountain was third in the medley relay with Jef Sherwood, Moore, Herrera and Shelton making up the team.

Moore also finished fourth in the 400 meters.

The Brave girls were led by Linder Rad, who finished second in the 55-meter hurdles and fourth in the 75-meter hurdles.

Rad also ran on the 800-meter relay team, which was fifth. Tricia Walsh, Shannon Lee and Amanda Samuels were the other members of the relay quartet.

Samuels was third in the 100-meter dash and Lee was sixth.

The Braves will compete at Portales Thursday.

Scuba classes will be offered

Anyone in the Ruidoso area who is interested in learning scuba diving is invited to contact the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department at 257-2795.

Class members are not required to have their own gear. Certified diving instructors from Albuquerque plan to teach the two-weekend training course.

The first weekend of instruction is planned in Ruidoso. The second weekend will include a trip to Santa Rosa.

The winners

The two teams above tied for the championship of the annual Ruidoso Golf Benefit Sunday at Cree Meadows County Club, each with 61 scores. The top photos has the team of (from left) John Howden, Kyle Kannady, Billy Taylor, John Massey and George McGill. They've won or tied for the title three of the last four years. In the bottom photo are Verlon Edwards, Lawrence Hill, Ted Martinez and Louis Herrera. A total of 47 golfers played in the event, which raised money for the Ruidoso High School golf team. Howden and Jack Warlick furnished the golf balls.

Construction on U.S. Highway 70 will force motorists to take a 6.6-mile detour for almost a year, beginning this summer.

Detour explained

Construction is progressing eastward on the U.S. Highway 70 expansion project. The second phase of the project starts 9.9 miles east of the Western Mescalero Apache Reservation boundary, continues over Apache Summit, and ends approximately one-quarter mile east of the Inn of the Mountain Gods turnoff.

Motorists will have to drive on a 6.6-mile detour around Apache Summit and Dark Canyon for eight months and possibly more than a year, according to Tom Dick of the State Highway Department.

Motorists will be directed onto the detour beginning in late May or early June, according to Ruidoso police chief Dick Swenor. Motorists will be able to drive on Highway 70 once work in Dark Canyon is completed, said Dick.

The detour will begin near the intersection of Highway 70 and Highway 24 on the west end. Eastbound, the detour will travel up Goat Canyon Road, then Salt Well Road. It will intersect Highway 70 near the Highway Department quarry on the east end.

Original plans to route the detour onto Carrizo Canyon Road have been abandoned, said Swenor. Although vehicles will be able to reach Carrizo Canyon Road from the detour, the Highway Department will direct vehicles back to Highway 70, said Swenor.

The detour will be a two-lane paved road, said Tom Dick. It will also be well posted and signed, according to Swenor. He predicted no significant traffic problems for Ruidoso.

Motorists are advised to use extreme caution throughout the construction zone, where the speed limit has been reduced to 40 miles per hour. Both State Police and Mescalero Tribal Police are enforcing traffic regulations in the construction zone.

Jones wins competition

Don Jones of Ruidoso and Mountain Automotive Service Clinic is gradually building a name for himself in drag racing.

Jones' 1982 rear-engine dragster took first out of 201 entries in the super pro dragster field at Lubbock (Texas) International Dragway Saturday and Sunday, March 24-25.

Jones' dragster averaged 150 miles an hour in the competition, close to its maximum speed. His elapsed time over a quarter-mile was 9.10 seconds. "It was one of my better wins," Jones said. "The car worked well. Everything worked well."

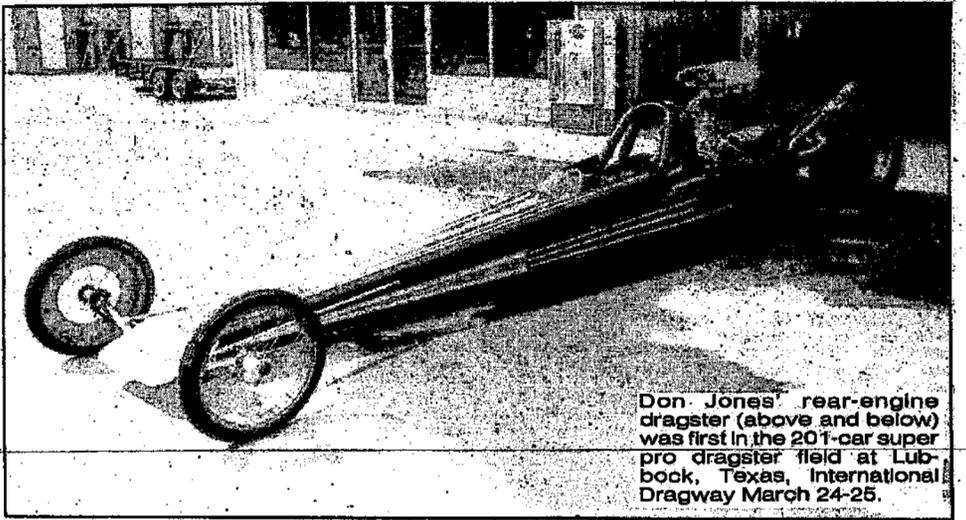

Roy Capps and Rick Armstrong were Jones' pit crew for the competition.

At the Winter Nationals in Tucson, Arizona, almost three months ago, Jones raced his dragster in the top comp class of the pro division.

He finished 17th among 32 drivers in the qualifying and won his first two rounds, beating the top qualifier in the first round.

However, in the third round Jones got a late start and lost by a few feet. The starter got the race off before Jones was in position, he said.

Jones recently painted his dragster dark blue on the main body, with yellow, medium blue and light blue stripes. The dragster is set low to the ground and gives an almost super-sonic impression to a viewer.

Jones and some other Ruidoso drivers compete in the Section Four Firestone-Centerline Series at Roswell Dragway each month. They also race at some other locations.

"We sometimes go to Alamogordo and other places," Jones said.

Skiing good to the end

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

Sierra Blanca Ski Resort closed out its season with a final week of surprisingly good spring skiing conditions. The resort officially closed Monday with 34 inches of snow left at midway, more than many ski resorts around the country have all year.

Conditions had deteriorated to official reports of fair to poor skiing overall, and some bare spots were showing. Skiing on some runs, though, remained very good right through the end of the season.

Runs such as the Terrible, Incredible and Geronimo retained good snow, and were helped tremendously by recent snowfalls. The Apache Bowl area was still mostly snow-covered, and Captain was icy but also completely snow-covered.

If you were able to get up to the area for one last day of enjoyable spring skiing in last week's beautiful sunny weather, be thankful. For many other skiers who were not so fortunate, it will be a long stretch until November.

Sergio Escobedo of Juarez, Mexico, smiles from the Lincoln double chairlift during a day of late-season spring skiing.

Jack Frost Plays
April Fool

Surely the world's champion April Fool Joke player, is the painter of Autumn leaf scenes long known to fame, the one and only, Jack Frost.

On March thirty first, it was a storybook Spring day, sunny and mild with only the slightest breeze. The lilac buds of the early pear unfolding. Just down the way the early peach trees were in pink bloom. From down at the river the incense of the opening buds of the Cotton Wood, and the Willow, and Box Elder were wafted up all through the banks and meadows of the valley. And at just after mid day that welcome leaf-bud breath-came reaching you, mingled with the many air-borne fragrances of the mild and mellow day, the opening buds of the Walnut, most cautious and latest of the river trees. When you smell this sharp and vivid message of the awakening Walnut leaves, a little thrill of joy is brought to you, as you feel sure that Spring is really here.

The sunset, the gloaming, the twilight and the dusk each in their turn paid tribute to an idyllic spring-time day, as the world went peacefully to "contentment and rest."

April first awakened to a misty chilly blast of wind straight out of the North. Solid ice stood in the Bird Drinking fountains. Colder and thicker came the freezing mist out of the snow and ice fields stretching from the Rockies to the north Pole. All morning long, this blowing freezing, fog and mist kept up its relentless attack, chilling your limbs to the bone, and what is worse, beating down your morale by the minute and by the hour.

You see, every kind of weather has its place in the scheme of the seasons and this blowing, freezing, sun-hiding mist and fog is fine in the dead of winter. But coming as it did just when all the world was celebrating the season of the flowers, it was out of place.

Up until high noon the temperature did not get above forty. Then at one o'clock sharp came a lull; and without a word of warning the wind changed and began blowing from the West, bringing a great flood of warm air from the deserts where summer heat has already arrived. The temperature jumped up to sixty four in just one minute. And Spring returned, and Jack Frost's April Fool's Day joke was complete.

April Fool's Day
And "The Fool Killer"
They say April Fools day began away back with the celebrations of the Spring equinox when folks played all kinds of little games. About the eighteenth century, says the Encyclopedia Britannica, the custom of playing little innocent tricks on the first of April began. In Scotland the day was called "Hunting the Gowk." "Gowk" is the early Scotch word for Cuckoo, the bird that is supposed to be "coccoo, or goofy, or stupid. I guess this meant looking for someone gullible enough to fall for your silly pranks.

Anyhow, back in the South, particularly North and south Carolina, (not much joking there today, and may God help them), there sprung up a legendary character called "The Fool Killer."

Once a year for a few days right around April Fools Day, he came stalking through the land, a strapping fellow, armed with a club approximately the length of a baseball bat and many times the thickness, made of the stoutest oak — on his mission of thinning out the fools.

In the old times and even today, you may be sure, if someone makes a particularly stupid blunder, back in those states, he will surely be told: "The next time the Fool Killer comes around, you better hide out, hide way out."

"A Definition Of Terms."
Once upon a time, there was a teacher in a little one-room school house back in South Carolina. This was in the day when all teachers were men. It was getting summer and time for school to be let out to get the boys to the fields to help with the crops. The class, all boys, were not paying much attention, everybody looking out the window.

The Spell of the approaching hot weather reached the School master himself, and his temper became short.

Now the thorn in the side of the school master was one doll in his class into whose head it was next to impossible to pound any learning, Sylvester Amercrombie, who was at the moment sleeping at his desk with his mouth open.

Gathering himself together and collecting all his calm, the school master said,
"Let us devote the remainder of the hour to a definition of terms."

With that he raised his voice and said,
"Mr. Amercrombie!"

No response from the dozer. And the school master made the room tremble with a shout:
"Mr. Amercrombie!"

This roused the doll, to the state of half awakening.

"Mr. Amercrombie," asked the school master, "Can you define the term 'Self Evident?'"

"No sir, I sure can't," was the answer.

"Very well," replied the School master. "Let me see if I can explain the meaning of the term by way of asking you a question."

"Yes, sir, go right ahead."

"Mr. Amercrombie, have you ever met The Fool Killer?"

"Yes, Sir, now I sure haven't."

"That, youngman, is self evident!" (Raymona McAdams and all other English teachers, please take note.)

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS OF ASSESSMENTS FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN THE VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO SEWER ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 2. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to property owners and other interested persons that, by Ordinance No. 84-4, duly passed, adopted, signed and approved on March 27, 1984, there were levied and assessed against the tracts and parcels of land specially benefited by the sanitary sewer improvements in what is commonly designated as "Sewer Assessment District No. 2" in the Village of Ruidoso, New Mexico, the tracts and parcels benefited by the sewer improvements...

may, at the election of the owner, be paid in installments with interest as hereinafter provided. Failure to pay the whole assessment within the thirty-five day period shall be conclusively construed and held an election on the part of all persons interested, whether under disability or otherwise, to pay the unpaid assessment in installments. In case of an election to pay in installments, the unpaid assessments shall be payable in equal semiannual installments of principal until paid in full, with interest in all cases on the unpaid and deferred installments of principal from the 2nd day of April, 1984, etc., the date of publication of the ordinance, at the rate of twelve per centum (12%) per annum (provided that before the issuance of the special assessment bonds for the District, the interest rate may be reduced by ordinance, but not increased, to a rate which will not be less than the highest interest rate on the special assessment bonds for the District), both principal and interest being payable semiannually at the office of the Village Treasurer on May 1 and November 1 in each year, commencing on the first day of November, 1984. Failure to pay any installment when due, shall constitute an election to pay in installments and shall, after such delinquency, whether said option is or is not exercised, bear penalty at the rate of one per centum (1%) per month of the amount of the unpaid principal and accrued interest until the date of sale, the owner may pay the amount of all delinquent installments originally becoming due on or before the date of payment, with interest thereon and all penalties and costs accrued, and shall thereupon be restored to the right thereafter to pay in installments in the same manner as if default had not been suffered. The owner of any property not in default as to any installment or payment may at any time pay the whole or any semiannual installment of the unpaid principal with interest accruing thereon to the next interest payment date.

or other taxes shall not relieve the tract or parcel of land from such assessment or the lien thereon. Dated this 27th day of March, 1984.

ANAYA Governor of the State of New Mexico, on the 30th day of January, 1984, issued the Proclamation calling the Primary Election to be held on the 9th day of June, 1984, throughout the State of New Mexico, and in each county and precinct thereof, for the purpose of electing the Democratic Party and the Republican Party to nominate candidates for the offices described therein. Pursuant to Section 1-6-16, NMSA 1978, by virtue of the authority in me vested, I hereby amend those portions of Section B of the Primary Election Proclamation which provide for the nomination of Democratic Party and Republican Party candidates for District Judges, Magistrates and San Juan County Commissioners, as follows: 53 DISTRICT JUDGES, ALL JUDICIAL DISTRICTS - 5 YEAR TERMS. All divisions in Districts 1 through 13, including 5 new judicial divisions created by New Mexico Laws 1984, Chapter III, as follows: 1. Judicial District (Bernallillo County), Divisions 18 and 17. 2. Judicial District (Chaves, Eddy and Lea Counties), candidates for Division 4 shall run at large in McKinley and San Juan Counties but the judge shall reside and maintain his principal office in San Juan County only. 3. Judicial District (Otero and Lincoln Counties), candidates for Division 3 shall run at large in Otero and Lincoln Counties but the judge shall reside and maintain his principal office in Lincoln County. Declarations of candidacy and nominating petitions for District Judgeships shall be filed with the Office of the Secretary of State on April 3, 1984, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Declarations of intent to be a write-in candidate for District Judgeships shall be filed with the Office of Secretary of State on March 27, 1984 before 5:00 p.m. SIX MAGISTRATES - 2 YEAR TERMS. Catron County, Division 2. Coña County, Division 2. Lincoln County, Division 1. Otero County, Division 3. Rio Arriba County, Division 2. Declarations of candidacy and nominating petitions for Magistrate positions shall be filed with the county clerk on April 3, 1984, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Declarations of intent to be a write-in candidate for Magistrate positions shall be filed with the county clerk on March 27, 1984 before 5:00 p.m. TWO COUNTY COMMISSIONERS IN SAN JUAN COUNTY - 4 YEAR TERMS. District 3. District 4. Pursuant to United States of America v. the County of San Juan, New Mexico, United States District Court for the District of New Mexico, Civil No. 79-507-JB and resolution no. 81-82-33 of the Board of County Commissioners. Declarations of candidacy and nominating petitions for county offices shall be filed with the county clerk on April 3, 1984, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. All provisions of the Primary Election Proclamation issued on January 30, 1984, remain in full force and effect except those providing for election of District Judges, Magistrates and San Juan County Commissioners specifically amended herein. DONE AT THE EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF NEW MEXICO, MARCH 21, 1984. WITNESS MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO. /s/ TONEY ANAYA GOVERNOR

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF ORDINANCE. The Village Council (the "Governing Body") of the Village of Ruidoso, New Mexico, hereby gives notice of the adoption of its Ordinance No. 84-4 on March 27, 1984. THE TITLE OF THE ORDINANCE IS: AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO THE PROCEEDINGS TAKEN IN PROVIDING FOR SANITARY SEWER IMPROVEMENTS IN CERTAIN STREETS, RIGHTS-OF-WAY AND PARTS THEREOF IN THE VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO, SEWER ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 2; PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF THE COSTS AND EXPENSES OF THE IMPROVEMENTS; PROVIDING FOR THE FILING OF A CLAIM OF LIEN; ASSESSING A PART OF THE COST OF THE IMPROVEMENTS AGAINST THE TRACTS AND PARCELS OF LAND BENEFITED BY THE IMPROVEMENTS; DESCRIBING THE MANNER FOR THE COLLECTION OF THE COSTS OF THE ASSESSMENTS; PROVIDING PENALTY FOR DELINQUENT PAYMENTS; CONCERNING OTHER MATTERS IN CONNECTION THEREWITH; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY. A GENERAL SUMMARY OF THE ORDINANCE IS AS FOLLOWS:

The preamble recites that the Governing Body has previously ordered the construction, installing, improving and otherwise acquiring certain sanitary sewers in certain streets, rights-of-way and parts thereof in the Village under the designation of a claim of lien, and that the Governing Body's action in causing an assessment roll to be filed, in providing for a hearing on March 27, 1984, and in giving mailed and published notice of said hearing, recites that the hearing was held, that all written objections to the assessment roll were considered, and that the roll was confirmed by resolution of March 27, 1984; and review other action heretofore taken. The opening clause is then set forth. Section 1 defines, approves and confirms all prior action taken in connection with the District, the improvements and these assessments. Section 2 levies assessments against all specially benefited property in the District, as both in the assessment roll filed with the Village Clerk, January 16, 1984 except as modified by the March 27, 1984 resolution. Section 3 provides for the times and conditions for the payment of the assessments, including, but not necessarily limited to provisions: for the payment of the assessments without interest during a thirty-day period; for the election to pay the assessment in twenty substantially equal semiannual installments of principal at the rate of 12% per annum; for the option to accelerate payment of principal in case of failure to pay any installment of principal or interest; for payment of 1% of the unpaid principal and accrued interest as penalties; for the restoration of the right to pay in installments upon certain payments being made before the date of sale; and for the payment of any assessment in full at any time under specified conditions. Section 4 provides that the amounts assessed shall constitute a lien on the tracts and parcels of land co-equal with that for general, ad valorem taxes levied by the District and prior to all other liens, and that the lien shall survive other foreclosure sales. Section 5 provides for mailed notice to a representative of the original purchaser of the tract or parcel of land in case of delinquency in payment of any installment of principal or interest; for the duty of the Governing Body to foreclose such lien the same as if the foreclosure mortgages or as provided by law if the assessment is not paid within ten days after such notice; for the duty of the Governing Body to buy such property at a specified minimum amount if there is no other purchaser therefor; for any household or other person who is the owner of the Village or to proceed against the Village under the ordinance; that any such proceedings shall be for the equal benefit of all owners of the tract or parcel of land and shall not constitute a lien on the tract or parcel of land to foreclose any assessment or to proceed against the Village, or both, shall not relieve the Village or any responsible persons of any liability for its failure to foreclose such assessments. Section 6 authorizes the Village Clerk to execute and file a claim of lien for unpaid assessments with the County Clerk of Lincoln County within sixty days after publication of the ordinance, but after the thirty-day cash payment period; provides that thereafter all proceedings, mortgages and encumbrances shall be subject to said lien; and for the duty of the Village Clerk to release and discharge said lien and liability upon certain conditions. Section 7 specifies the form of the claim of lien to be filed. Section 8 orders the Village Clerk to publish once a week for two consecutive weeks a notice stating that the assessments have been levied and are due and payable. Section 9 specifies the form of notice for publication. Section 10 authorizes the Village officials to take any action necessary to effectuate this ordinance. Sections 11 and 12 are severability and repealer clauses, respectively. Section 13 declares an emergency and provides for the ordinance to take effect immediately upon its publication and for the effective date hereof. Section 14 specifies the form of publication. There is also contained a Statement by the Mayor in which he states that he is an emergency meeting being held for the purpose of this ordinance and that publication before adoption is unnecessary. COMPLETE COPIES OF THIS ORDINANCE ARE ON FILE IN THE OFFICE OF THE CLERK OF THE DISTRICT COURT OF LINCOLN COUNTY, CREE MEADOWS ROAD, RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO, FOR INSPECTION DURING REGULAR OFFICE HOURS. WITNESS MY HAND AND THE SEAL OF THE VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO, THIS 27th day of March, 1984. /s/ Leon Eggleston, Village Clerk. (LEGAL) 2545 11 (4) 2

Is apathy from the retailing community over the "floundering" Retail Merchants Committee a case of Nero fiddling while Rome burns?

Ruidoso is at a critical time in its development. Local retailers can and should play a very important part in that development. But they need to mobilize—through the RMC or otherwise.

Some very exciting ideas for improvement of the downtown shopping area have been advanced recently. For the most part, however, it has not been the downtown merchants who are doing the thinking and talking—at least not in public.

That seems strange, since they will be the ones most affected by changes. It is not strange that business people whose businesses are outside the downtown area are pushing for its improvement, though.

They realize that an attractive downtown would be a tremendous asset to the entire village, as it is to other resort towns—Scottsdale, Aspen, etc.

The downtown merchants—in fact, all the local merchants—can work together for progress. If the Retail Merchants Committee is no longer a workable vehicle, why not start a new organization?

There will be a meeting at 7 p.m. this Wednesday at village hall to discuss downtown revitalization, with members of Ruidoso's professional planning firm present. Attendance at the meeting will reflect the degree of interest in an improved Ruidoso.—TP

Inside the Capitol

SANTA FE—We got no day-care center and we got no heliport, but we did get a $4,617 flagpole.

That was in action at this month's meeting of the Board of Finance, one of those organs of government people are aware of but seldom understand.

It consists of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and three citizens chosen by the chief executive. It has heavy oversight responsibility for state government spending. That gives it lots of power.

That's what its members like—the feeling of power.

Just as one example, once the Legislature authorizes issuance of bonds, it's these people who accept the bids and sell the bonds.

Then they review and authorize the acceptance of construction contracts which spend the money the bonds generate.

That's where the cancelled day-care center (proposed for a state office building in Santa Fe, but turned down by lawmakers), the heliport (ditto) and the expensive flagpole (part of renovations to the Manuel Lujan Building in Santa Fe) all come in.

In addition, the Board of Finance loans or grants money to local government entities to handle emergencies which arise. They even have power to approve or withhold approval when your county or school board wants to sell excess property—a 1967 Chevrolet activity bus with 114,571 miles on it the Taos school want to turn, or an $800 Pitney Bowes copying machine they want to get rid of in Curry county.

All this involves saying yes or no to millions of dollars at one whack, and it gives the board members the illusion they are of great import.

In reality, of course, they are creatures of the Governor.

All three present public members—Albuquerque developer Lisa McDowell, Santa Fe real estate man Roman Maes and Hobbs banker Mike Fisher—were named to their posts by Anaya. (Maes is about to be unnamed, because he chose to run for elective office.) You can be sure the actions they take on any substantive issue is one the Governor wants taken.

In some cases, like this month, for example, they don't get their signals worked out in advance.

It was clear earlier this week that the Governor wanted them to say some harsh things about the contract to build a new state office building in Tucumcari. That happens to be a pet project of one of those men who stood up to him in the year's earlier legislative sessions. Anaya is not famous for wishing to reward his enemies.

Instead of going in for the quick, clean kill, the board floundered on this one.

They were also unprepared to discuss the problems of El Valle de los Ranchos water district. That wasn't even on the original agenda, and the typeface indicated it was added at only the last minute. No board action was requested, though the listing did give Anaya a chance to remind listeners that this one was a special project of Francisco (El Comanche) Gonzales of Taos. That sounded like a prelude to line-item vetoing that particular project from the big capital improvements list. Toney likes El Comanche, a turncoat Democrat, even less than he likes the Republicans who opposed him so successfully.

So it goes at the Board of Finance, where it looks as though great things are being accomplished, but the Governor's will is really being done.

Anaya isn't as blatant about that as Bruce King used to be. In Bruce's time there was a "secret" breakfast before every Board of Finance meeting at the Inn at Loretto, so all the decisions could be made smoothly later in the day, without embarrassing disagreement.

It took six minutes at one of Bruce's meetings of the board to grant all the architectural contracts for construction of the state's entire new prison system—probably the largest assigning of architectural fees in the history of the state.

If nobody's going to argue with you, there's no use lingering over such matters.

After all, if the Governor can't control the Board of Finance, what can he control?

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

As a Lincoln area resident I've been reading with interest the many articles and letters concerning the reevaluation of the ordinance on Lincoln's Historic District.

I take exception to the articles which make some of our old time residents look uncaring and unimformed.

That's far from true. Most of us should be knowledgeable enough to recognize some reporting just gives half quotes out of context to the full intended meaning and uses sensationalism to sell, regardless of the ill feelings generated in the affected community.

Some articles on our situation have been very well done. As an area resident who lived with kerosene lamps, hauled "Spring Ranch" water, chopped wood heat and out door toilets throughout my grade and high school years, I've certainly worked for modern progress.

Our forefathers were ingenious and used whatever was at hand to fill their needs. If they could afford and acquire better means they did not hesitate to do so. They did not feel they must move elsewhere in order to use those better means.

My Dad held a place together with baling wire. He would have been very proud to use chain link fencing if it had been available and he could have afforded it.

Should I now feel I will have to live elsewhere than my home community I've helped support in order to enjoy the fruits of my labor?

Will our children feel that way too? Am I uncaring about preserving American heritage for my children and grandchildren?

I feel the most important heritage we all share is freedom.

Freedom does not mean I can do whatever I want to the detriment of my neighbor, so freedom is therefore protected by equitable laws. But those laws must be determined by those it regulates or freedom is forfeited. I want to state that I will live by what the majority of my area neighbors agree to.

The needs of the town of Lincoln are different from the needs of the areas outside the town.

I for one feel only the town proper should constitute the "Historic District" and the majority of the residents outside the town should be able to decide if they want any ordinances or not.

I too, love Lincoln and believe it is unique, but I also believe its residents should be able to decide how it will go forward.

I also love the unique freedoms we enjoy in this land and don't want them completely eroded and finally taken away ordinance by ordinance. I want to be a good neighbor and be able to say "Hello—I'm glad to see you. If you need any help I hope I can give it."

That's what the whole area of Lincoln really needs the most.

SINCERELY,
RICHARD SHELLYN
P.S. I know this is lengthy but hope it finds value in your paper.

DEAR EDITOR:

Recently I had a conversation with a woman I considered to be intelligent and well educated, concerning the spelling and definitions of the words, since, sense, and scents. I explained the differences without a second thought, until the next morning when I realized how many times I hear people, in all walks of life, using words in the wrong context and obviously unaware of the true definition.

This incident confirmed my beliefs that the real issue in this great country should not be prayer in the schools, but the quality of the education.

Prayer ought to have a place in everyone's life, but there is plenty of time for religion outside the eight-hour school day.

Too much emphasis is placed on "extra curricular" activities in our public schools, and not enough on the basics of education, i.e. grammar, vocabulary, spelling and math.

Everyone, President Reagan, the Senate and the House of Representatives included, needs to work towards introducing New legislation to further education for the Future generations.

And, in closing, SINCE I have the opportunity, I would like to publicly thank and praise my parents for having the SENSE and spending the CENTS to send me to a private school.

I can't send them flowers, but I do send them the SCENTS!

SINCERELY,
MOLLY M. McBRINN

DEAR EDITOR:

I'm writing this letter to alert other parents that maybe "it can happen here." My daughter volunteers one afternoon a week at the Care Center, five blocks from our home. The other day as she and a friend were walking home down D St., a black jeep with 2 young men started following them. They started running and cut through a vacant lot, but these men went to the point of stopping the jeep, getting out and making as if to chase them. They ran into Whites in tears. A teacher happened to be in the store who gave them a ride home, one more block.

We don't know if these men were just high school kids scaring little girls or if this could have possibly been a serious incident.

What bothers me more than anything is that this is the "off" season. We don't have a lot of strangers in town. What will the possibilities be at the height of summer.

We are all aware of the thousands of missing children in this country; if this was just a case of big boys scaring little girls, it is NOT funny.

Although the results of our reader survey were summarized in a recent news story, some of the survey comments that I did not use in the story were too good not to publish.

Also, some of the points readers raised deserve a comment.

"Lots of advertising for the size of the paper," noted a local reader. "Looks like more copy could be supported by this volume."

Another local reader wrote, "I realize you only print twice a week but that's no excuse for a local paper to carry 90 percent advertising. A newspaper is supposed to be a newspaper, not an advertising catalog."

A lot of people probably don't know it, but the amount of advertising dictates the amount of space for news. Federal postal regulations say that a newspaper cannot exceed 70 percent advertising and be distributed by mail.

We average about 60 percent advertising—keeping us well within the limit. And I'll stack up our paper against any other paper in the state when it comes to amount of local news per space available.

As I mentioned in the news story, letters to the editor were shown to be of very high interest. An Alto reader had the following suggestion, however:

"Be Selective in 'Letters to Editor.' Some recent letters were not even rational (sane)."

Then the writer must have stopped to ponder for a moment, because he or she added, "Hmmm, maybe the irrational need a voice too!"

Well, who's to judge who's rational? Several readers had definite ideas on what they DO NOT want The Ruidoso News to be.

"PLEASE don't change too much," wrote a Dallas, Texas, reader. "We wouldn't subscribe to 'small' version of 'The Dallas Morning News' or 'Dallas Times Herald.'"

"No one expects The Ruidoso News to be the New York Times ... Please don't change to become an angry watchdog or 'investigative reporter,'" was the advice of a Sunland Park reader.

We are looking at various newspapers, including a couple of those mentioned, for ideas on design and content. But I think our whole philosophy in the redesign project is not to change too much.

Our survey showed that by and large, our readers like us. So we sure don't want to alienate them.

I kind of like the "angry watchdog" analogy, though. Rrrruff, rrruff, grrrr.

It was interesting to have people verbalize what the newspaper means to them, especially out of town readers. Some were downright poetical!

"Thank you for giving my family something to look forward to every week," wrote a Conroe, Texas, subscriber. "We look at your paper and daydream about vacation and retirement."

"I spend more time with your paper than with my Austin paper," said a fellow from Texas' capital.

"We believe the paper adds a kind of a glow when we read it," wrote a Lubbock, Texas, couple.

An Irving, Texas, reader had this to say:

"I can't live there because I have to make a living here, but if the phone rings while I'm reading my paper, my friends say, 'What's the matter? You sound in a trance.' I say, 'Yes, in heaven, 650 miles away in Ruidoso, New Mexico.'"

Well, Ruidoso will be closer to the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex if we ever get a jet-capable airport. A couple of readers took us to task for our coverage the airport issue.

"The airport situation has been reported with extreme bias in favor of the airport," wrote a Las Cruces reader. An Alto reader wondered if we are really objective in "matters where real estate sellers and developers would benefit ... since so much of your ad revenue is generated from them." He or she gave our support of the Fort Stanton Mesa airport site as an example.

That gave me something to think about. David Sheppard from our staff won an award from the state Farm Bureau (I think) for thorough and unbiased coverage of the airport situation. And Billy Allstetter covered field day at the NMSU research station on the mesa and did a photo story on the work there.

It is true we have supported Site B consistently on the opinion page (that last fatal crash, remember, nearly fell on top of our building) and plan to continue to do so unless given a good reason to stop.

But it's worth asking ourselves whether our stand on something like the airport affects our news judgment.

Naturally the writers on our staff were interested in how they rated in the survey. I was looking at one survey form and noticed that the respondent gave Fred McCaffrey's column and Dick Wright's cartoon "ones" for interest and quality, while rating "Village Beat" and "Reporter's Round" "twos" for interest.

Something like, "This guy must be an arch-conservative," flashed through my mind. Then I got to the other side of the form and the question, "Why do you read The Ruidoso News?"

"Because my son is Editor and we're proud of him," I read. "Dad."

Record eight in science fair

Ruidoso School District students made a record eight entries to the regional science fair in Roswell Saturday, and four of them advanced to state competition.

At the 26th Southeastern New Mexico fair, Ruidoso High School student Hamilton Carter received a second-place award in the physics category. He will compete on the state level.

Three White Mountain Middle School students advanced to state competition in the junior division. At the fair at New Mexico Military Institute, Lance Willard placed first in medicine and health; Cliff Sears placed third in botany; and David Bushlow placed third in physics.

Bushlow also won a $400 scholarship to NMMI.

Another middle school student, Sigurd Schmid, won fourth in earth and space at the science fair. He also received a special honorable mention.

Candice Makowski also earned a fifth-place finish, in behavioral sciences. Todd Morris won fifth place in engineering, and Rusty Lott won seventh place.

The eight entrants were the largest number of entries from a school ever at the regionals, science teacher Jackie Branum said. They competed against students from seven counties.

"I was really pleased," she said.

Winners from other area schools include Jack Revey from Capitan High School, who placed first in the behavioral sciences senior division.

Gina Gonzales of Carrizozo High School placed second in that category.

In environmental sciences, Linda Garcia of Carrizozo placed second.

In engineering, Melissa Greer of Carrizozo took first place and Adrian Sanchez of Carrizozo took second.

In the junior division, Lisa Hightower of Carrizozo Middle School won first place in engineering.

First City National Bank executive vice president Garry Carter and Karen Morris, also of the bank, hosted a Wednesday breakfast for Ruidoso School District winners.

School board member Mike Morris, who is Karen Morris' husband, joined the students and school officials. Carter congratulated the young scientists.

Computer kids

Sixth-graders from White Mountain Middle School demonstrated the use of computers and microscopes to kindergartners at Nob Hill Elementary School last week. Shown in the back, from left, are John Nunn, Maria Moorhead and Jackson McIntosh. Kindergartners watching "Sesame Street" characters appear on the TV screen monitor include, from the front, Felsa Montes, Delaria-Smith and Nova Pena. Sixth-grader Ericka Corona and kindergarten student Robin Lynn Youse were also in the group.

Math and Science Bowl

Seventh-graders at White Mountain Middle School relax after defeating a team from the eighth grade in the recent Math and Science Bowl. From left are Julie Shaq, Amber Nunnally, Lesley Lopez, Toby O'Neil, Rees Garner, Jessie Foster and David Mitchell. Not shown is Cassie McIntosh. Teacher Page Hubbard helped set up the event. Some of the winners were to go on to competition at Portales.

Ruidoso Signs

If you need to have a sign painted, Don Eckland is a good person to see.

Eckland, owner of the newly opened Ruidoso Signs, has been a professional sign painter for six years. The business, located at 1007 Mechem Drive, was opened by Eckland and his wife, Roma, on February 1.

Ruidoso Signs offers a variety of services, including truck lettering; gold leaf sign work; real estate sign painting; redwood sandblasted sign making; window lettering; magnetic signs; and foam metal and plastic letters.

In addition, Roma offers professional graphic arts and design services. The business also features custom-designed silkscreening. According to Don, they can silkscreen almost any design by working from photographic images.

He said they can silkscreen up to four colors at a time, and that the most popular items silkscreened are T-shirts and baseball caps.

According to Don, they have also done custom logo design work, wall graphics and plastic faces of lighted signs. It is gold leaf application signs, however, that Don said he would like to specialize in.

He said the extensive gold leaf application process involves eight separate steps. Don said the process uses actual gold, up to 23 karat in purity. In addition to the high cost of the process, Don said it is also extremely time-consuming.

"Any gold leaf job will take you a full day, regardless," he said.

"You have to be trained," he said. "Someone who knows gold leaf has to teach you."

The extra time and cost demanded by the gold leaf technique is well worth it, Don said.

"If put on right, it can last 90 to 100 years," he said of the technique.

In addition to his extensive gold leaf training, Don went through an apprenticeship as a sign painter. He also holds an associate's degree in commercial art.

Don said proper training in sign painting is directly linked to the quality of a painter's work.

"If you want to do it right, you have to be taught," he said. "I'm a good sign painter and I don't mind saying so. I take pride in my work and what I do."

Don said the occurrence of the extent of training he has received is becoming more and more rare.

"A good sign painter is a dying breed," he said.

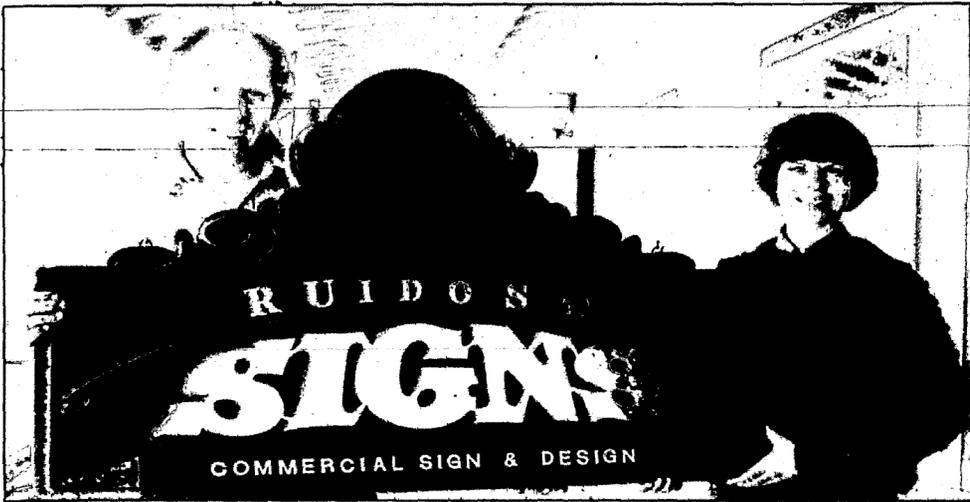

The Ecklands, who are both originally from Carlsbad, moved to Napa, California, where Don began sign painting six years ago. They said they had always vacationed in Ruidoso, and were happy to have the opportunity to return to this area to start a business.

"It's the same good old friendship feeling," Don said of Ruidoso. "It's really nice to be back."

Don Eckland works on a redwood sandblasted sign, one type of sign he makes. Eckland has completed an apprenticeship program in sign painting, holds a degree in commercial art and has received training in the application.

Ruidoso Signs is open from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The business is closed Saturday and Sunday. Don is also available at the convenience of the customer, by appointment. The phone number of Ruidoso Signs is 258-4388.

Ruidoso Signs owners Don and Roma Eckland hold up one of their company's creations. They also feature truck lettering, gold leaf, silk screening, redwood sandblasting, magnetic sign work and window lettering services.
