

Big fire destroys 2 houses

by C.E. REUTER
News Staff Writer

Charred timbers and crumpled metal were about all that remained of two homes Sunday, the day after a fire of undetermined origin on Quince Circle in Ruidoso.

Fire fighters poured into the area off Brady Canyon Road after 9:30 p.m. Saturday. Red, yellow, green and white trucks from Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs, Bonito and the U.S. Forest Service departments crowded onto twisting back roads.

They didn't save the homes near the western intersection of Quince Circle and Redwood Drive, but did keep flames from jumping into nearby pines.

John A. Sheldon and his family owned one of the homes. He stood and watched the five-story flames engulf their cabin at 102 Quince Circle.

The Sheldon home caught fire from the house at 100 Quince Circle. It had belonged to the late Lillian Margaret Ferguson, who died April 2.

As he watched the fire, Sheldon described how his family and guest reacted to the fire.

He had gone to sleep early Saturday, before a planned fishing trip Sunday. His son, John R. Sheldon, had been playing cards with others in the house, Sheldon said.

His son woke him and they all left the cabin, Sheldon said.

"We live in Roswell. We were going to move up here. This was going to be our retirement home," he said. The Sheldons bought the home in 1970.

Family members said they had spoken with members of Margaret Ferguson's family on Saturday who had come to Ruidoso for her funeral.

Her sons and daughter live in Oklahoma and Texas. They apparently were not at the home as the fire raged.

Fire fighters are investigating the cause of the blaze. The state fire marshal has been called, and may arrive in Ruidoso today.

For about 90 minutes Saturday, firemen struggled to contain the flames.

Towering flames dwarf Ruidoso fire fighters and a lamp post on Quince Circle Saturday night. The blaze destroyed two homes in the Ponderosa Heights area.

Hoses from scattered hydrants and water tankers snaked along roads. Water was played on the blaze as a pillar of white smoke, grey ash and red sparks was visible across a wide area.

Orange flame would jump into the branches of trees beside the two houses, turning green into black.

The fire engulfed Ferguson's white Cadillac convertible. Blue flames licked up from the dashboard at times.

Seen from more than a half-mile away on Mechem Drive, a scarlet patch glowed against the low clouds. Along Brady Canyon Road, people could smell burnt wood. Many said they were glad rain had damped the area during the day.

Knots of neighbors watched the conflagration from across Redwood Drive, except for the Rains family.

They and a guest were in the home at 204 Redwood Drive, directly across from the fire. Friends arranged for them to spend the night away from the blaze and the noise.

After a few hours John and Kay Hatcher brewed coffee for the firemen and strung an electric light out their front door. Their home at 205 Redwood is directly across from Quince Circle.

Other area people helped the firefighters, including Joe Jarvis. The Ruidoso Downs resident climbed the utility pole at Quince Circle and cut the lines.

He is service supervisor for Texas-New Mexico Power Company and happened to be on call Saturday night. "I've been doing this 18 years," he said matter of factly.

ET zoning modified

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

Several changes to the Ruidoso-Lincoln County Extraterritorial (ET) Zoning Commission were outlined at a joint meeting Thursday night of the ET Authority, the Extraterritorial Zoning Authority, the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners, the Ruidoso village council, the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Commission and the Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission.

Leading the meeting was county commissioner Bill Elliott, who is chairman of the ET Zoning Authority, the group responsible for implementation of the zoning recommendations made by the ET Commission. In addition to Elliott, the ET Zoning Authority is made up of Ruidoso village councilor Ray Dean Carpenter and county commissioner Kenneth Nosker.

According to Elliott, seven changes to the way the ET Commission currently operates were drafted by the ET Zoning Authority. The changes, according to Elliott, were:

—That the funds supporting the ET Commission be deposited with the county offices in Carrizozo. Those funds have so far totaled $14,000, with $7,000 each coming from the county and the Village of Ruidoso. The funds had been handled by the Ruidoso village administration.

—That the county manager's office will handle all notifications and will obtain a secretary for all meetings of the ET Commission and the ET Zoning Authority.

—That when actual zoning is done, records of that zoning will be kept at the county manager's office, and that a duplicate set of the records will be kept at Ruidoso village hall.

—That the zoning descriptions currently in use by the ET Commission will be modified for greater clarity.

—That the zoning enforcement officer will officially be the zoning enforcement officer of the Village of Ruidoso. No formal agreement had formerly existed between the ET Zoning Authority and Ruidoso outlining the specific enforcement provisions.

—That no disbursement of monies from the ET funds will occur without prior approval of the ET Zoning Authority.

—That the ET funds will be included as a separate line item in the county's general fund.

Ruidoso village manager Jim Hine said he supported all the proposed recommendations, but he noted he first wanted to meet with Ruidoso Planning and Zoning enforcement officials Ollie Cuddy and Paul Davis regarding the recommendation concerning the enforcement of the zoning done by the ET Commission.

"I have no problem with any of these," Hine said of the recommendations. "I think they're excellent."

Also during the meeting, several groups gave reports on their progress in ET-related endeavors.

According to Walt Young of the ET Commission, preparations are being made for the Thursday, April 19, public hearing on zoning recommendations for the Gavilan Canyon area. "I think we're up to date," he said of the commission.

Bill Seelbach, a member of both the ET Commission and the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Commission, gave a report on the progress of the ET Commission.

Seelbach said this was the second time an ET Commission had been established. The first attempt, according to Seelbach, failed soon after it began about seven years ago, due to a lack of participation. He said the success of the current ET Commission had been tremendous.

"What is being done is being very well received by the landowners," he said. "This is a very great help to us in the county."

Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission chairman Greg Masters noted the importance of the one-mile radius area around Ruidoso for which the ET Commission is currently recommending zoning.

"That is a very potential future Ruidoso," he said of the area. "This area is one of the most important for Ruidoso."

Masters also appointed himself as a representative to the ET Commission from the Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission. He said the recent illness of ET Commission chairman Mill Alcorn, the importance of the areas to be zoned, and the great need for the ET Commission and the Village of Ruidoso to work together motivated him to join the group.

He said that in the future, a report from the Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission members who are also ET Commission members would be included on all Planning and Zoning meeting agendas.

Carpenter stressed the importance of the work of the ET Commission to the Ruidoso village council.

"The new council members feel that the job of the Extraterritorial Zoning Authority is vital," he said. "It is essential that we have that one-mile radius zoned."

Also attending the meeting were Capitan village government representatives Vernon Goodwin, chairman of the Capitan Water Advisory Board, and Capitan village trustee Kelly Beavers. According to Goodwin, the Village of Capitan is currently in the process of setting up a planning and zoning commission.

He said he looked to the Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission for leadership in the Capitan effort. Masters said he would do anything he could as Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission chairman to help in the Capitan plans.

Other officials sounded their support for the efforts of the ET Commission.

"From the county, I really appreciate the work that's been done by all these groups," county commissioners chairman John A. Hightower said. "We really do appreciate it."

"You have our support one hundred percent," said Ruidoso Mayor George White.

"The people in the zone are finding that the zoning is helping," Seelbach said. "It gives a tremendous stability to property values."

The public hearing for the Gavilan Canyon will be held on Thursday, April 19, at the Ruidoso village hall auditorium.

Villages' governing bodies to meet

The Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees to meet at 7 p.m. today in regular session at the village hall.

Items on the agenda include: —A request by Municipal Judge Paula Smith to pay court clerk Jo Ann Jenkins a salary of $150. Trustees decided last month to pay up to that amount.

—An appearance by a representative of the Men's Fast-Pitch Softball League to discuss with trustees the number of nights per week on which the league can use the village ball field this summer.

—A proposal by Jim Wimberly for a mobile home park behind Quality Inn.

—A proposal for a village water department maintenance shop to be built on public land.

—A closed session by the trustees to discuss certain acquisitions and litigation.

The Capitan village council will meet at 7 tonight (Monday) at village hall. Items on the agenda include:

—Ordinance 84-3, concerning adoption of the increase in membership of the Capitan Cemetery Board.

—A petition to vacate a road as requested by Leon Eggleston.

—A replat of a tract in Thunderbird Hills as requested by Jerry Lobb.

—Award of the auditor's contract.

—Preparation of a call for bids for village insurance.

—Discussion of proposals for a new village hall.

—A report from the Water Advisory Board.

—A presentation from Lincoln County manager Suzanne Cox on the organization of a planning and zoning commission for the village.

—Mayoral appointments for the positions of alternate judge, the cleanup committee and the proposed planning and zoning commission.

Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) items make up the bulk of the agenda for the Tuesday, April 10, meeting of the Ruidoso village council.

at village hall. The meeting begins with a study session at 5:30 p.m., and the regular meeting starts at 6:30 p.m.

Postmaster Bernie Lechman also is scheduled to address the council.

Other agenda business is:

—Ordinance 84-5, Ponderosa sewer ordinance.

—Ordinance 84-6, penalty assessments.

—Ordinance 84-7, changing designation from councilmen to councilors and increasing governing body from five to seven members, repealing parts of the Municipal Code.

—Rick Evans, discussion on annexation policy.

—Frank Potter, regarding school property improvements.

—Pam Graves, report on White Mountain recreational complex and community recreation center.

—Public hearing on restaurant beer and wine license for Cypress Bold Venture, doing business at 2811 Suddeth Drive as Wingfield's Wharf.

—Bids and contracts on carpet for municipal library, labor on water lines (review of bids acted on and awarded March 27), dump truck for sewer department.

—Request for executive session to discuss land acquisition and pending litigation.

The P&Z items are:

—Petition for annexation for Ruidoso Land Company of property adjacent to Alpine Village Road and Forest Heights subdivision. This is not a public hearing on the annexation. The village attorney is expected to be instructed to draft the annexation ordinance, as required before it can be considered by the council.

—Sign appeal from Bobby Cox for Taco Villa.

—Rezoning request, commercial to light commercial, on 60 lots. Part of general upgrading of commercial property.

—Conditional use request from Jerry Bigham to operate bowling alley.

—Vacation request for right of way for Laboratory of Clinical Medicine.

—Division of commercial property for John Pennington.

—Replat in Sleepy Hollow for Jack and Betty Ricks and Moore South Financial Corporation.

—Lot line variance in Town and Country North for Paul and Darlene Hart.

—Change in use of Ruidoso Inn from motel to condominium project.

P&Z members move to town

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

Two Ruidoso Planning and Zoning (P&Z) members have moved inside the Ruidoso village limits to remain eligible for positions on the commission. The move, however, does not appear to have had any effect on Mayor George White's plans to replace them.

P&Z chairman Greg Masters and member Ray Bishop both have moved their families from north of town to within the village limits after village attorney Lee Huckstep delivered the opinion that all P&Z members must live within the village limits.

"What we're doing in P&Z is so critical," said Masters. "I just didn't feel like it's a good time for a big change."

Masters mentioned the Comprehensive Master Plan now being formulated, efforts to solve the downtown parking problem, and annexation questions as three of many issues the commission is now addressing.

Although he gets no money for serving as P&Z chairman, Masters mentioned "civic pride" and a desire to help Ruidoso through a critical period in its growth.

Bishop mentioned a desire to vote in municipal elections, as well as remaining on P&Z, as impetus to move into a townhouse he has just finished building.

"It really bothered me not to be able to vote in the last election," said Bishop.

The P&Z question, however, was the catalyst for the move, he acknowledged.

He said he has been visiting Ruidoso for more than 20 years and has lived here for 13. He said he had seen many changes—many of them for the worse—in that time, and that he wanted to do his part to help make Ruidoso a good place to live.

"I think we can have a big impact on them with P&Z," said Bishop.

He can have an impact if he remains on the commission, but Mayor White indicated Friday he would not recommend either Bishop or Masters for positions on the commission.

"I'm still holding with my original appointments, period," said White Friday, shortly after learning of Masters' and Bishop's moves.

White recommended Reed Stirman, Karon Petty, John Howden, James Paxton and Don Shaw for P&Z appointments during the last village council meeting. Stirman, Petty, Howden and Shaw would replace Margaret Gaddy, Tom Kelham, Masters and Bishop.

Paxton now serves on P&Z and is being reappointed for a second term. He is planning on moving to a new home outside of the village limits. Paxton said Huckstep's opinion about residency requirements would not change his plans to move to Homestead Acres.

He said that he owns two condominiums within the village limits, and speculated that he could technically list those as his residence.

Margaret Gaddy lives outside the village limits but said she did not plan to move into town. She also commented that she owns several pieces of property in town, works in Ruidoso and receives her mail here.

The village council tabled White's recommendations until it can review ordinances requiring village commission and board members to live within village limits. The council has scheduled a special meeting to address the issue at 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 10, at village hall.

One question it will have to review is White's plan to replace Bishop. Although White has recommended a replacement, Bishop's term does not end until March 1985, according to village clerk Leon Eggleston.

Ruidoso fire department changes with times

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

"What I am looking at is cutting response time," said Ruidoso fire chief Virgil Reynolds.

"Response time." The phrase is repeated over and over when talking to people about the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department.

In a village surrounded by pine forests, with homes for five times its permanent population, the fire department faces a larger problem than at first appears. Every minute's delay in responding to a fire increases the chances of a larger fire.

"The quicker you get there and start fighting it, the better chance you have of fighting it," said Reynolds.

In an effort to cut the department's response time, Reynolds and his advisory committee, the Fire Commission, have been making some big changes at the department.

"It's been changing quite a bit," said Rick Hall, volunteer fire chief.

For the first time in more than 10 years, the department bought a new Class A pumper truck last summer. A new ladder truck should be delivered by the end of this month. Various other equipment, including six new airpaks, four portable radios and a base station recently have been purchased.

Four new people have been added to the payroll in the past year. Construction should begin soon on a new fire substation near the airport.

"You have to stay with the times," said Reynolds.

The times have brought a much larger Ruidoso and many, many more fire calls. In 1964, the department answered 43 fire alarms. It has answered 78 calls in January and February of 1984 alone. Calls doubled from 1980-81 to 1982-83.

As much as anything, Reynolds seems excited about the increase in paid employees. The increase has allowed the department to have at least two paid men on duty at all times

Two-men shifts work 24 hours on and 48 hours off. One fireman and Reynolds work a 40-hour week—in addition to answering all calls, night or day.

Secretary Debbie Bryant answers calls, handles paperwork and coordinates fire prevention classes.

"Two men can fight (fires) a lot more than one can," said Reynolds.

The paid men are often the first ones to a fire, since they are stationed near the trucks and ready to respond at a moment's notice.

When one man arrived at a fire, about all he could hope to do was start pumping water at the fire. Using the Class A pumper trucks, he could only spray water for less than a minute before he ran out. With two people at the scene, one can begin to hook up to fire hydrants and prepare for more fire fighting efforts.

With two men at the fire, rescue efforts become possible much sooner, too, said Reynolds. The second man can begin preparing airpaks and back up the man who goes into a burning structure to save a stranded person, he pointed out. One man could not enter a burning structure alone.

The two men on duty also improve the maintenance program for the trucks. When someone's home or life is in danger, firemen cannot afford to have a breakdown. The department personnel do almost all the repair and maintenance work on the trucks.

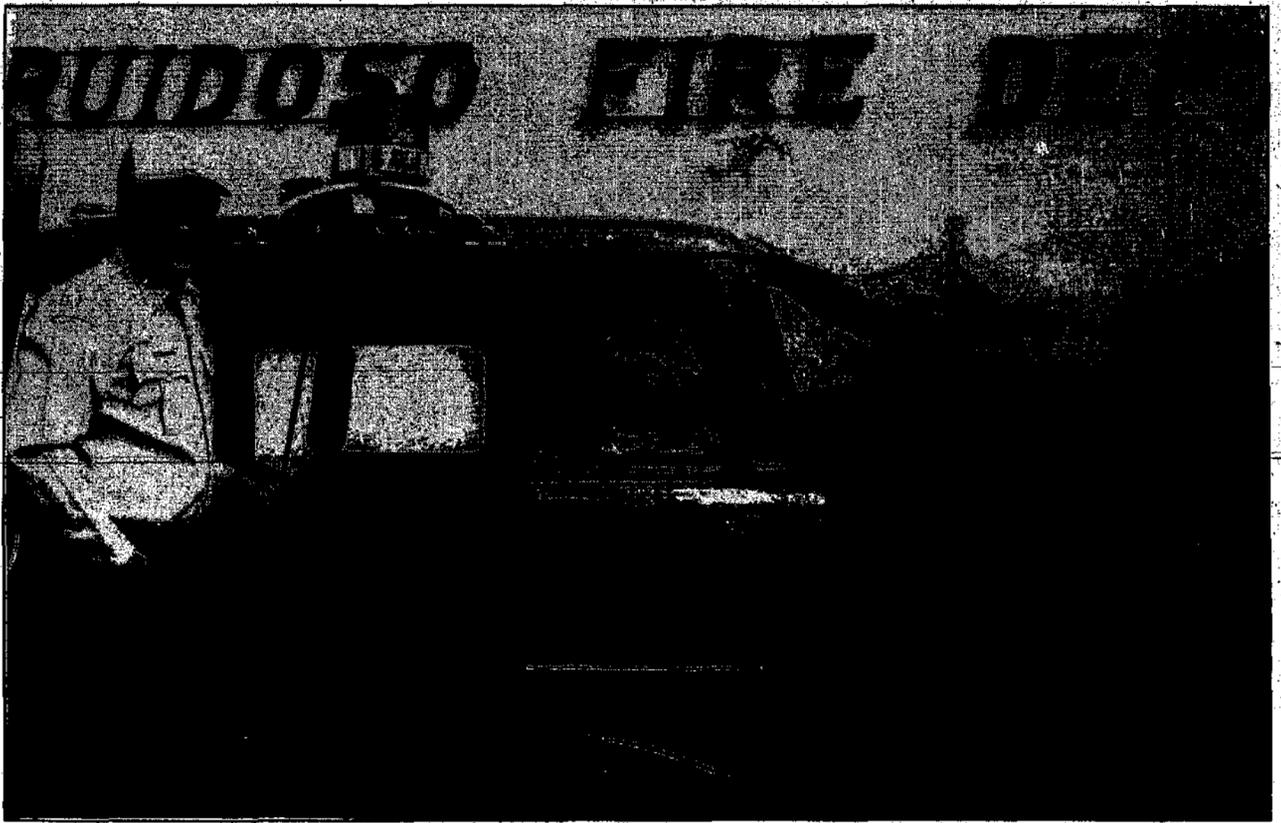

Two men can do larger jobs while the secretary and the third man on duty during the day can attend to phone calls, purchasing and fire prevention classes.

Volunteer fire chief Hall indicated the additional paid men gave the department more time to prepare training sessions for volunteers.

"They're really coming up with some pretty good training on Monday nights," said Hall.

"You feel a lot more at ease at night," said Captain Jesse Reynolds, who explained that most structure fires occur then.

Jesse Reynolds (Virgil's first cousin) also probably feels more at Recent improvements to the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department have helped the department men and new equipment have helped the department reduce response time to local fires.

ease at night because new sleeping quarters recently have been added at the main station on Country Club Road.

If Chief Reynolds has his way, the department will continue to increase its number of paid men. Reynolds' budget for 1984-85 will include a request for two more men on the payroll beginning this July.

Adding those men will allow the department to have a paid man at the new substation on Highway 37.

The village council has awarded a contract for construction of the new substation. Reynolds hopes to begin construction as soon as possible. If everything goes according to schedule, the building should be completed by early summer.

It will be on Ruidoso Municipal Airport property just north of Rocky Mountain Builder Supply.

The building will have four truck bays, two offices, sleeping quarters and a physical fitness room.

That substation will improve the department's all-important response time to the fast-growing north part of the village. It is just one part of a system of manned substations Reynolds would like to see built in Ruidoso over the years.

Reynolds' five-year plan calls for the addition of a paid man every six months until the department reaches 20 to 25 personnel. He said he eventually would also like to see stations in areas such as Camelot, Hull Road and the Upper Canyon. More men in more places around the village ready to respond immediately to a fire is Reynolds' objective.

The additional employees also would be able to lead more programs. Reynolds wants the department to conduct.

In addition to the fire prevention program, which has recently been picking up steam, Reynolds said he would like to institute more building inspections and arson investigations.

That all depends on money. A bond issue approved by voters three years ago has made possible the purchases and construction so far. But that bond money will be pretty much exhausted by the time the new substation is built, said Fire Commission member Dave Parks.

A very positive attitude at village hall also has helped Reynolds more than double the department's budget in the two years he has been fire chief.

"The city has really been good to me," said Reynolds, citing both the administration and village council.

The changes have pleased both Jesse Reynolds and Lieutenant Danny Garcia.

"During these two years (of Reynolds' leadership) the department has grown far above our expect-tations in men and equipment. Our opinion is that Chief Reynolds has done an outstanding job and his leadership should be lauded," wrote the two men in a recent letter to Mayor George White.

"I've been here 16 years and this is the best I've seen it," said Jesse Reynolds.

Of course, the increase in the paid men brings into question what will happen to the close to 30 volunteers the department so heavily depends upon now.

"We need the volunteers," said Reynolds. With the addition of two men a year, it will be some time before there is a substantial change in the department personnel.

Volunteer chief Hall said even with five paid men on at a time, the department still will depend heavily upon its volunteers. He said anywhere from 15 to 25 volunteers show up to fight larger fires.

A few of the volunteers at first were concerned about the increase in paid men, said Hall. Volunteer Charlie Spooner said some volunteers were concerned that the increase in paid men might siphon funds away from the volunteer squad.

It's not that the volunteers receive any lucrative compensation. They receive nothing for fires attended, but do receive five dollars for each weekly meeting attended, plus a dinner with the department once a month.

But department funds do provide equipment and training materials for the volunteers. Hall said efforts now are being made to improve the outfitting of volunteers.

He also mentioned a few changes the department was instituting to make the volunteers more of an organized group. It is now becoming tougher to become a volunteer, and each new volunteer must have a sponsor within the department. Those who do not regularly attend meetings can be voted out of the department, said Hall.

Hall said the department was also trying to keep closer track of volunteers' attendance at fires and their fire fighting efforts, so a Fireman of the Year can be selected each year.

Hall, who has been a volunteer for nine years, appears pleased with the changes at the department and its effect on the department's response time.

"It's cutting down all the time," said Hall.

And short response time is what it's all about when your home catches on fire.

Ready to roll, one of the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department's Class A pumper trucks waits in a bay at the main fire station for the next fire.

Paid fireman Barry Cole refills air tanks that power a pneumatic jackhammer stored on one of the fire trucks. When not fighting fires, the paid men keep busy cleaning and servicing equipment that must be ready to use at any time.

Building permits (68) reflect busy March

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso builders continued to stay busy in March, with the village issuing 68 building permits valued at $3,668,437 for the month.

That is a substantial increase from February's 40 permits valued at $2,845,198, and from January's 22 permits.

The increase appeared to reflect a different permitting procedure and seasonal fluctuation, as well as a strong market.

"Now is the perfect time to be starting a house," said contractor Ray Bishop.

Ruidoso's winter has all but ended with three months of traditionally dry weather coming up.

The village also is requiring permits for any construction over $500 and any time concrete is poured. Numerous permits for decks and roof renovations appeared on the village permit list for the first time in March.

Building Inspector Jimmy Neeley said he was surprised at the amount of building in Ruidoso, but could not comment on the relative strength of the industry since he had been on the job only two months.

Former building inspector and current Ruidoso Wholesale Lumber and Carpet owner Don Hendricks said he believed the permits reflect a strong market.

"The market is good," said Hendricks. "Everybody that comes in is pretty optimistic."

Hendricks said most contractors that were building speculation homes during the winter have sold them and are now starting on more. He and Bishop both mentioned concern over rising interest rates, which may slow down the industry.

Of the 68 permits issued in March, 38 of them, valued at $2,707,932, were for new single-family dwellings. Residential additions or alterations accounted for 17 permits valued at $149,293.

Permits for three new commercial buildings valued at $233,468 were issued in March. Commercial alterations or additions accounted for four permits valued at $190,240.

Four multi-family dwelling permits were issued, with a valuation of $378,294. Two demolition permits with a valuation of $9,210 were also issued in March.

Permits issued by the Village of Ruidoso during March, by subdivision, type of structure and estimated cost of construction, were:

Ball tickets still on sale

Tickets are still available for the First Annual Ruidoso Summer Festival Ball, set for 7 p.m. Saturday, April 14, at the Inn of the Mountain Gods.

The Gordie Kilgore Orchestra, playing "big band" tunes, will perform at the benefit ball. The popular Wichita Falls, Texas, band features many original arrangements from the bands of Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey, Harry James, Woody Herman and Count Basie.

A donation of $60 per person, which goes to the Ruidoso Summer Festival, entitles ball-goers to a sit-down dinner with wine, as well as dancing to the orchestra.

For reservations or further information, call 257-7926. Though invitations say black tie, suit and tie is acceptable for men.

Coming Up...

Concert

Ruidoso school district musicians will present a concert at 7 p.m. today in the Ruidoso High School gym.

The high school band will present selections from music they plan to play in Hawaii.

Also, Sue Sherwood will sing. In addition, Churchill Cooke's students will sing "Kids for America" and the White Mountain Elementary School choir will sing "Tall Tales and Heroes."

Admission is $1 per adult and 25 cents per student.

Class reunion

The Ruidoso High School Class of 1974 has set a meeting to plan a reunion. It also seeks addresses of graduates.

Anyone with information about class members may call Susan during the day at 258-3431 or Darcy after 5 p.m. at 378-4234.

The meeting to plan the reunion is at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 10, at White Mountain Middle School.

Meanwhile, Ruidoso High School graduates also are planning an all-class reunion.

Cancer film

The area American Cancer Society chapter plans to show a breast cancer film at 2 p.m. Thursday, April 12, at First Christian Church, Ruidoso.

Verna Adams of Home Health Services of Lincoln County will present a program. The group encourages all area women to attend.

"Rustic Follies"

The Ruidoso Woman's Club will entertain its members and guests with "The Rustic Follies" during a regular meeting at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 11.

The song and dance program will feature the "Corny Dolls," local club members including Genevieve Duncan, Wynona James, Tillie Daubs, Frank Fowlkes, Charlotte Jarratt, Jackie Rawlins and Barbara Minnick.

Following the program, the regular business session is planned.

Rabies clinic

The Village of Capitan is sponsoring a rabies clinic at the village hall from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, April 14.

April 15 is the deadline for having dogs and cats within the village vaccinated and licensed. Cost at the clinic for the shot is $4.

Other vaccinations are available at a discount during the clinic. Horse vaccinations and deworming also will be available.

For information call 354-2247.

Rock-a-thon

The Gateway Assembly of God Youth Group rock-a-thon is planned for Saturday, April 14, in the church parking lot.

The students will start rocking their chairs at 8 a.m. and continue until 6 p.m. They are taking pledges for every minute they rock.

Anyone who wants to pledge may call 257-9312. Proceeds will be used to buy food and equipment for overseas missionaries and tribes. All pledges are tax deductible.

G.O.P. women focus on voting

Voter registration will be the focus of the Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County (FRWLC) until the June 5 primary.

In a meeting March 28 at Gregson's restaurant in Ruidoso, the members decided to stress voter registration. The deadline for registration for the primary is April 24.

President Dorothy Smith said 14 of the FRWLC members are deputy registrars. They live throughout the county, she said.

They have been certified by the county clerk to register voters and receive absentee ballot applications. Any citizen who needs to register but cannot go to the clerk's office may call a deputy registrar, Smith said.

In other business, Martha Thieft was named chairman of the Working Partners program. It is designed to demonstrate how Republicans help their communities by being book drivers, providing food for needy people and being involved in other projects.

Smith and two other delegates to the state Republican convention in Albuquerque March 17 reported about the program.

"We heard Joe Skeen, Pete Domenici and Manuel Lujan," she said. Skeen and Lujan are U.S. representatives. Domenici is a U.S. senator.

The 1984 convention was the first one for FRWLC associate member Bill Rawlins. He called it a fun part of the political process.

One candidate there "didn't know where Lincoln County was, not even Ruidoso," Rawlins said. "I talked to him and he sure does now!"

The second half of the program in Ruidoso was an introduction to cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) by member Yvonne Lanelli. She is an American Red Cross volunteer instructor.

"This is not to teach you CPR today; but to encourage you to take the course," she added. "The life you save could be someone you love."

She and FRWLC member Maggie Bohks, who is CPR certified, demonstrated one-rescuer and two-rescuer CPR using a mannequin. They also demonstrated aid for a blocked air passage on each other.

The Republican women plan their next meeting on Tuesday, April 24, in Carrizozo. It is planned in conjunction with the county commissioners meeting.

Teenager plans drama study

BARBIE LIVELY

Barbie Lively, a summer resident of Ruidoso, has been accepted to attend The American Academy of Dramatic Arts in Los Angeles, California, this summer.

She is a junior at Midland (Texas) High School, where she is active in the Back Packer Squad and student council.

Lively is a symphony deb and does volunteer work for The Door of Hope Mission and other organizations. She is also a former Miss Texas Teen and plans a drama, TV and communications career.

Lively is the daughter of Mrs. Suzanne Richards of Aberdeen, Scotland, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Del Baucum of Ruidoso and Odessa, Texas.

Restaurants and Ruidoso mark library week

When Ingrid Schmitz reads a book suitable for bedtime, Melissa Serna can't hold back a yawn. Listeners during the Ruidoso Public Library story hour for three-year-olds last Tuesday include, from left, Jimsey Krieg, Todd Marquardt, Melissa, Rhiannon Ross, Amber Dugger and Jonathan Larson.

Mayor George P. White has proclaimed this National Library Week in Ruidoso.

Area businesses also are helping the Ruidoso Public Library celebrate National Library Week through April 14. The restaurants are offering free items and discounts to adults or children who show their Ruidoso library cards.

Participating businesses offering a free medium Coke are:

- Kentucky Fried Chicken, on Sudderth Drive in Ruidoso.
- Ole Taco, 319 Sudderth.
- Bart's Better Burgers, 418 Sudderth.
- McDonald's Restaurant, 144 Sudderth, is offering a 12-ounce drink with any purchase. Others participating are:
- Schlotzsky's Sandwich Shop, 2818 Sudderth, a free 16-ounce drink.
- Dairy Queen, Highway 70 in Ruidoso Downs, one small ice cream cone.
- Baskin-Robbins of Ruidoso, 149 Sudderth, double ice cream cone for the price of a single cone.
- Sonic Drive-in of Ruidoso, 102 Sudderth, a 10 percent discount on orders.
- Big T Family Restaurant, 340 Sudderth, a 20 percent discount on one dinner.

DECA winner

Ruidoso High School junior Justin Smith won $400 from Chevron Oil Company for his high finish in state Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) competition. At a New Mexico DECA convention a month ago, he placed third in service station retailing master employee division competition. Chevron gave $400 prizes to the top six finishers in two service station categories for use during their trips to national competition.

Crow leads Ruidoso golfers

Junior Tommy Crow shot an 83 to lead a well-balanced team effort as the Ruidoso High School golf team finished sixth in the Roswell Invitational Thursday at Roswell Municipal Golf Course.

The Warriors scored 343 as a team. Billy Taylor added an 84, Kenny Espinosa and Jeff Bender each shot 88, and Paul Hamilton fired a 90.

"The kids just went out there and shot well," said Warrior coach Doyle Howell. "Now they're real enthused and hoping to drop their scores a bit and qualify for state."

Carlsbad won the team crown with a 285. Roswell followed with a 310, Alamogordo shot a 318, Clovis had a 323 and Hobbs scored a 341. All are AAAA-division schools, while Ruidoso is an AAA-division school.

Eunice finished behind Ruidoso, shooting a 344. Several AAAA-division junior varsity teams also finished back in the competition.

The Warriors will host the Ruidoso Invitational Thursday and Friday, April 19-20.

Brave tracksters place in strong competition

The White Mountain Middle School boys and girls track teams ran into some tough competition at the Portales Invitational Thursday, but still had some fine individual performances.

Clint Bob took second in the eighth-grade boys 800 meters with a 2:18.0 time. He was also sixth in the ninth-grade exhibition 1,500 meters in 5:06. Bob is an eighth-grader.

The Brave 1,600-meter relay team of Adolph Herrera, Brent Walsh, Stagger Pittman and Sean Moore took a fifth with a 4:16 clocking.

Moore also finished sixth in the 400 meters with a 59.07 time, and Herrera was seventh in 60.4.

Linder Rad was the top Braves girl performer, finishing third in the seventh-grade 75 meters low hurdles in 14.64.

Schools from Clovis, Roswell, Tucuman and Portales also were entered in the meet.

"The kids did pretty well," said coach Jim Hofstad. "We're improving. It was a real tough meet."

Ruidoso boys finish fifth, girls do well at Las Cruces

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Despite being hampered by bad weather, the Ruidoso High School boys and girls track teams did well at the Las Cruces Invitational Saturday.

Competing against a field composed mainly of AAAA-division schools, the Warriors, boys' took fifth with 28 points and the girls improved many of their times. Rain fell during most of the meet.

Mayfield of Las Cruces won the boys team crown with 77 points. Carlsbad was second with 61, Las Cruces had 56, and Parkland of El Paso, Texas, had 39. After Ruidoso came Hanks of El Paso with 26, Silver City with 22, Deming at 19 and Hot Springs with eight.

Ruidoso had the highest finish of any 3-AAA team, beating out Silver City, Deming and Hot Springs.

Cisco Bob and Curt McClellan each took first places to lead the Warrior effort.

Bob won the 1,500 meters in 4:19.2 and took the 3,000 meters in 9:32.9. The Warrior junior won both races with strong final-lap sprints. Bob ran a 4:08.90 1,500 meters last week for a school record.

McClellan took first in the 800 meters with a 2:05.5 time, over three seconds slower than his school record 2:01.30 of last week. Like Bob, however, McClellan was hampered by the bad weather.

Francisco Olvera added a fourth in the 3,000 meters for the Warriors. He ran a 10:05.0.

Ruidoso also did well in the relays. The 1,600-meter relay quartet of McClellan, Steve Snidow, Eric Strobel and Rodney Rose ran a 3:36.10 for fourth place. That time was almost five seconds faster than the Warriors' previous seasonal best.

The 800-meter relay team of Snidow, Strobel, Ryan Frost and McClellan ran a 1:35.20 for fifth, equaling their seasonal best. The same quartet ran a 46.60 in the 400-meter relay for fifth place. Ruidoso has run a 45.6 in that event this season.

Justin Smith finished sixth in the finals of the 300-meter intermediate hurdles and ran a 44.30 in the trials.

Boys coach Rodney Maskew felt his team did a good job. "The weather was bad most of the meet but I felt the kids did well," he said. "Most of the schools were AAAA division."

Ruidoso only had 12 girls entered in the meet as several didn't go because of illness or injury.

Still, the Warriors did well in several relay events.

Ruidoso's medley relay team of Kerry Gladden, Katherine Sanchez, Kim Daniels and Jackie Jefferson ran a 2:01.0 for fourth place.

Gladden, Jefferson and Daniels joined Deanna Pesp to take fifth in the 400-meter relay with a 55.7 time.

Pesp, Jefferson and Daniels teamed up with Sanchez to take fourth in the 1,600-meter relay with a 4:26.0 clocking.

Daniels, usually a 100-meter-200 meter runner, took a third in the 400 meters with a 55.2 time.

Sanchez had a good day. Besides her work in the relays, the Warrior freshman took fourth in the long jump with a personal best of 15-5, and ran a 56.0 in the intermediate hurdles. She knocked three seconds off her previous best in the hurdles.

"I felt the girls did really well," said Warrior assistant girls coach Pixie Arthur. "We had a lot of girls out because of sickness or injury."

Warrior girls head coach Sergio Castanon was also one of the no-shows. He was ill.

The Ruidoso boys and girls teams will compete in the Roswell Invitational this Friday. The meet will be an afternoon-evening affair.

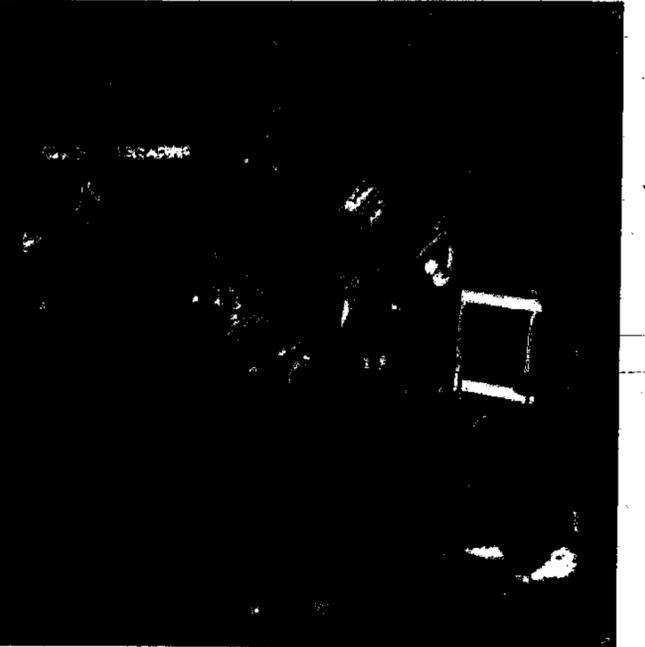

Mescalero to host tourney

Mescalero Community Center will host the third annual Braves Pee Wee Basketball Tournament Friday and Saturday, April 13 and 14, at Mescalero Community Center.

The tournament is for boys nine to 13 years old. The entry deadline is 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 10. There is a $30 entry fee per team. The first 12 teams will play.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three teams and the consolation winner. There also will be awards for sportsmanship and most valuable player.

T-shirts and all-tournament trophies will be given out. For more information, contact Albert Platta; P.O. Box 282; Mescalero, NM, 88340; telephone 671-4494.

Curt McClellan of the Ruidoso High School boys track team, shown here taking second at Portales last week, has been one of the state's top AAA-division 800 meter runners this season. McClellan, a junior, finished third in the state meet last year.

Around Sports

with Gary Brown

In a matter of weeks, the sounds of bats connecting with rawhide and runners sliding into base will be all around Lincoln County.

The adult softball season is almost upon us in Lincoln County, and there are several leagues offering people a chance to play.

Men's leagues are the Ruidoso Men's Fast-Pitch League, Ruidoso Men's Slow-Pitch League and the Lincoln County Men's Slow-Pitch League.

The Lincoln County Women's Slow-Pitch League is the only women's league.

All four leagues are currently having meetings to get organized and start the season.

The women's softball loop could have some extra teams this season.

There is also a possibility that the league may play in Mescalero and Carrizozo, as well as at All-American Park Field in Ruidoso Downs and the Fort Stanton field.

Attie and Friends won the league regular season crown last season and hasn't lost a regular season game in three years. The Rebels won the district tournament last season.

The men's fast-pitch league will probably start the season Tuesday, May 8, or Thursday, May 10, at All-American Park Field.

Last year's fast-pitch race was a balanced one with the Blues winning the league tournament and the Cardenas having the best regular season record at 17-7.

Some of the league teams might also compete in tournaments in other parts of New Mexico, as they have done in the past.

The Ruidoso men's slow-pitch league will also start soon. Precision Plumbing was the dominant team of last season, winning the title with a 22-0 record.

Both Ruidoso men's leagues will play their contests at All-American Park Field.

Fort Stanton's slow-pitch league was won by Carrizozo Balco last season. It's undetermined where the league will play all its games this season, but they might be played at both Fort Stanton and Carrizozo.

Finding adequate places to play softball in the past has been a problem. The county is somewhat limited in softball facilities.

However, in the near future the Ruidoso area should have more softball facilities as some fields will probably be built near White Mountain Middle School.

In the meantime, softball teams and fans will have to make do with the current facilities.

Playing and watching softball should still be fun, however. Softball is one of the highlights of the Lincoln County summer sports season.

Warrior netters to open home season

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

The Ruidoso High School boys and girls tennis teams hope the adage, "There's no place like home," proves true the rest of the season.

Ruidoso will open the home season Tuesday with a 10 a.m. match against Portales on the Sierra Swim and Racquet Club courts. The Warriors have played all their matches this season away, but will have the rest of their competition at home.

Last Saturday the Warrior boys trounced Lovington 9-1, but the Ruidoso girls fell 6-2 to the Wildcats. Ruidoso is now 3-2 in boys action and 1-4 in girls play.

"It was a real good boys win," said Warrior coach Mike Crocker. "They (Lovington) are stronger than Artesia" (a team Ruidoso beat easily last week).

Top boys singles player Ryan Brown led the Warrior boys victory, defeating Shannon Wood 6-1, 6-1.

Jim Smith of Ruidoso took a three-set decision to Gabby Rodriguez in the number two match. Rodriguez won 6-1, 1-6, 6-2.

But the Warriors captured the rest of the matches to win going away.

Mike Smith topped Dominic Via 6-3, 6-1; Zach Swalander defeated Jeff Wood 6-2, 6-2; Mitch Rhodes nipped Jeff Anstey 3-6, 7-5, 6-2; Glenn Westergren beat Scott Karger 6-2, 6-2; and Cache Mundy topped Rob Black 6-7, 6-4, 6-4.

In doubles action, the Smith brothers beat Shannon Wood and Rodriguez 6-0, 4-6, 6-3, in the top match.

Brown and Swalander defeated Via and Jeff Wood 6-0, 6-1, and Mundy and Westergren took Anstey and Karger 7-6, 6-2, in the other doubles matches.

The Warrior girls played without top player Laura Trapp, who was on a college visit.

Donna Mobley, who normally plays in the second singles match, competed in the number one match in Trapp's place and lost a 6-1, 6-3 decision to Lanette Grube.

The only Ruidoso player to win a singles match was Melissa Henderson, who beat Jill Hawthorne 6-3, 6-1.

Other singles results had Michele Morrow of the Warriors losing to Candi Buckley 8-0, 6-1; Laurie Smith of Lovington beating Marcie Mullican

6-2, 6-0; Rachel McCoy of Ruidoso losing to Shannon Chapman, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5; and Lori Morrow of Ruidoso falling to Schuller Marks, 1-6, 6-3, 7-5.

In doubles action, Grube and Buckley topped Mobley and Michele Morrow 6-1, 6-1, in the number one match.

Other doubles action saw Mullican and McCoy fall to Smith and Chapman 8-5 in a pro set and Henderson and Lori Morrow win by default.

Crocker was pleased with the play of Henderson, only a freshman.

"We worked on her foot speed this past week and she did real well this time," he said.

Crocker and his players must now turn their attention to Portales, their Tuesday opponent.

Warrior athletic teams will be discussed. The Boosters meeting will be every Thursday night until the end of the school year.

Anyone interested in helping Warrior sports should attend the meetings.

Slow-pitch league to have meeting

The Fort Stanton Men's Slow-Pitch Softball League will have an organizational meeting at 5 p.m. Sunday, April 15, at the Fort Stanton fire department building.

All teams entered in the league should have representatives at the meeting. Teams wanting to join the league should also have representatives there.

For further information, call Barney Mancha at 354-2121, extension 209, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.; or Albert Richardson at 257-4006 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Soccer openers postponed

The first weekend of the Ruidoso Soccer Association youth spring season was postponed by heavy rain Saturday.

The matches will be made up, possibly this week, but no definite dates have been set.

Next Saturday's competition will feature the second weekend of action, weather permitting. There will be action in under-14, under-12 and under-eight divisions. All matches will be played at White Mountain Middle School.

Travel agents like what they see here

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

Travel agents from as far away as California, Florida and Wisconsin visited Ruidoso last week as part of a statewide tour of New Mexico jointly sponsored by the state Economic Development and Tourism Department and Amtrak.

The 35 travel agents first boarded two Amtrak "Southwest Limited" trains in Los Angeles and Chicago, and arrived in Las Vegas, New Mexico, last Monday. From there they traveled to Santa Fe, and then on to Ruidoso, arriving Tuesday night.

The agents were treated to a tour of the Ruidoso area Wednesday morning, viewing such sights as the Inn of the Mountain Gods, Ruidoso Downs Race Track and historic Lincoln. Many of the agents said they were impressed with Ruidoso.

According to Judy Richman, of La Miranda, California, the Ruidoso area's scenery is very striking.

"It's more of a mountain community," she said of Ruidoso. Richman said she was also impressed with the level of activity in Ruidoso.

Los Angeles travel agent Charles Garven said he was surprised at the different facets of Ruidoso.

"The only thing anybody knows about Ruidoso is the racetrack, there's so much more here," Garven said. "It's a lovely little area. I like the country atmosphere."

Garven said Ruidoso's status as an unknown area for many tourists may work favorably for it.

"People are constantly looking for new places to go," he said. "People don't have any idea what is here."

Garven said he felt the tourism business is definitely improving over past years. He also complimented the travel agent tour sponsored by Amtrak and New Mexico.

"I think it'll bring dividends to the state," he said.

Travel agent Anita Caraker of Carbondale, Illinois, said she was more impressed with the Ruidoso area than most other parts of New Mexico.

"I'm a lot happier with this area here," she said. "It's so green and lush."

Caraker said she was most impressed by the beauty of Ruidoso.

"It's like an oasis," she said. Caraker added that although she had never been in Ruidoso, her parents had vacationed in Ruidoso while living in Alamogordo a short time before she was born.

"The idea of me was conceived in Ruidoso," she said with a smile.

Caraker said her clients in Carbondale were constantly on the lookout for new places to go. She said much of her clientele is made up of backpackers and artists, and that she would be recommending Ruidoso after she returned home.

Caraker agreed that the travel business is improving.

"We've never had such a big spring," she said of her travel agency. She added that the agency recently opened a branch office to handle the increased demand.

"I think travel is definitely on the upswing," she said.

The agents left Ruidoso late Wednesday morning, bound for Clouderoft, Alamogordo and Carlsbad. They were scheduled to return to Los Angeles and Chicago from their tour of New Mexico Sunday.

The shuttle stops here

CPR course at Carrizo Lodge

A course in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) will begin today at The Carrizo Lodge. One class will meet from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and another will meet from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday; Wednesday, April 11; and Friday.

The free course is offered as part of a Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital and Emergency Medical Service program.

To register, call Verna Adams at 257-5189.

Mule Skinners to meet

The Ruidoso Downs Mule Skinners will meet at 7 p.m. Friday, April 13, at the Ruidoso Public Library.

The meeting will include election of officers, discussion of the spring trail ride, barbeque and dance, and preliminary plans for the mule races in the fall. All Mule Skinners are urged to attend, as well as any interested parties.

County P&Z sets meeting

The Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Commission will have a special meeting at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, April 11, at the County Courthouse in Carrizo. The items on the agenda include a discussion of the hearing dates for the proposed Lincoln Historical Ordinance and a field inspection of a subdivision.

Grizzlies take second

Carrizo High School's boys and girls track teams came through with strong performances to each finish second in the Grizzly Relays Saturday on the Carrizo track.

The Grizzly boys scored 76 points but Tularosa garnered 77 to win the title. Tularosa also won the girls crown.

Carrizo's boys showed their strength in the running events, winning the 400-meter, 800-meter and medley relays.

The team of Stevie Stearns, John Rouche, James Guevara and Joseph Candelaria ran an excellent 46.4 to take first in the 400-meter relay.

Candelaria, Stearns, Guevara and Kenneth Crenshaw teamed to win the 800-meter relay.

Stearns also showed his strength in the open events, winning the 100 meters in 11.5 and the 200 meters in 25.5.

Crenshaw won the shot put with a 43-3 effort and Robin Beltran took the discus.

In girls action, Carrizo's Christeta Chavez won both hurdle events, the 100 meters and 200 meters.

Liz Beltran took the discus and was second in the shot put. Mary Jane Ferguson added a fifth in the shot put.

Carrizo coach Hal Rouche liked the way his athletes performed.

"I was very pleased," he said. "Of course, the weather wasn't very good. It rained most of the time on the track. But I felt they did a very good job."

Carrizo will compete in the Tatum Relays Friday, April 13.

School board to meet Tuesday

The Ruidoso Board of Education plans a regular session in the school district's administration building at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 10.

Agenda items include:

—Checks will be approved and items totaling $7,000 will be transferred within the budget.

—The new state per diem allowances will be reviewed.

—Bids for football uniforms will be opened.

—A report on budget progress is planned.

—Approval of a lease with the village by the state board of finance is also expected.

—Resignations of Pat Torrez and Mark Kashmar will be considered.

—Hiring a replacement for Torrez and approving new bus driver Sarah Austlin are also planned.

—Superintendent Sid Miller will report about names for schools in the fall.

—He also plans a curriculum development report.

—Approval of three additional buses for next school year is also expected.

—A closed session to discuss personnel is planned.

—The board also has scheduled a special meeting Tuesday, April 24, to open bids for athletic equipment and supplies and bids for site improvement at the new high school.

Opinion

Editorial

Let's make Ruidoso the "Seattle of New Mexico."

How? By having a large percentage of our population trained in the life-saving skill of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR).

Seattle, Washington, is known in medical circles because many of its residents know CPR. CPR can save the life of a heart attack victim by providing basic life support until advanced life support personnel arrive. Seattle's heart attack death rate statistics bear this out.

A new program of Ruidoso Honda Valley Hospital and Emergency Medical Service makes it easy as can be for Ruidoso residents to learn CPR. We encourage everyone to take advantage of the opportunity.

Local organizations and businesses may arrange a CPR course for their members and employees. EMS instructors will teach the classes at a time and location convenient to the students.

There is no charge for the course. What is required of people learning CPR is eight or nine hours' time.

That is not a lot when you figure the skill acquired could save a life, and that it will be with the student for a lifetime.

The Ruidoso News is going to arrange a CPR course for its employees. We challenge every other large employer—and every organization—to do the same.

Think about it. If someone walked into your place of business and had a heart attack, would you know what to do?—TP

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—It's always interesting to open the mail.

A Socorro reader writes after this column quoted some New Mexicans as saying, "Our taxes are not very high compared to most states."

He says that isn't accurate. As he puts it, "The truth is that New Mexico ranks fourth from the top in the 50 states, with a tax of $140 per $1000 of personal income."

That's not exactly the whole picture. Editors of the magazine from which he quotes took the amount of all taxes collected and the amount of personal income for New Mexico residents and divided one into the other. But the majority of New Mexico taxes are paid by corporations, not by individuals. So that system doesn't give a true picture of the tax burden we individual citizens bear. As long as the oil and gas industry contributes so significantly to the tax paid in, we as individuals don't suffer as much as some in other states do.

There were two interesting responses to a column here about a need for more women in the legislative process.

One from Las Cruces commented on the sexist aspect of America today: "If this is a 'man's world,' as it is, the next in all fairness should be the women's."

The other, also from a woman, this time in Artesia, asked a question:

"Were you kidding when you suggested that women legislators could dispose of legislative business more quickly and efficiently than men? I hope so. I suppose you have never had the opportunity of attending a meeting of women in their clubs or sororities or professional associations. Let me assure you that seldom is anything accomplished. There is always a good deal of time devoted to social chit-chat, and when the business session finally opens, there is long discussion of very minor items until everyone becomes so heated and weary that the main item must be shelved. There are, of course, intelligent exceptions to this prototype, which accounts for the few women in the legislature."

Those are not this columnist's words, remember, but those of a female reader.

And then there were the views of a school superintendent. We won't mention his home town, since he is the only one holding that post there.

He asks us to quit blaming school principals for all the educational problems. Obviously, he is a man who has spent part of his life in that position.

He thinks we vent too much of our spleen on these men and women just because they make easy targets.

He reminds us that "the public requires the principal to spend 50 percent of the time scheduling, attending and supervising extracurricular activities. If he or she is not in attendance at basketball games (boys' and girls'), at football games, volleyball games, track meets, National Honor Society banquets, FFA meetings, band concerts, spelling bees, etc., that principal is labelled as being unconcerned for the wellbeing of the student body; or anti academics and pro sports; or anti girls' sports and pro boys' sports; etc.

"Discipline problems," he adds, "occupy one-third of the principal's time, and that leaves approximately 17 percent to apply towards curriculum, classroom evaluation and in-service training."

Moral of that would seem to be that it's not a good idea to become a principal.

And another school superintendent, whose location we will also omit, speaks very strongly:

"I believe the tenure system should be abolished."

Then he goes on to touch on another form of pressure school people feel strongly: community pressure. He calls that "an equally difficult" form of pushing school people around, "which cannot be avoided."

Again, maybe the lesson is that trying to run things in the school system is not a great way to go.

If you're one of those who feels better when you can answer back those smartalecks who write the words in your paper, jot down this address so you'll have it when the mood strikes you: PO Box 711, Santa Fe NM 87501.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

I just read the 3-19-84 article covering this year's Summer Festival. Once again we are privileged to have eight days of quality entertainment. I kind of wonder, though, how many local residents will be attending this year. Whatever happened to the concerts in the park or the Dixieland Jazz performances? My impression from the Festival's schedule was that the whole thing was turning into a big-city, "high society" event.

I was thinking of the excitement of the first year of the Festival. The diversity of events was wonderful. I went out and bought my first of several classical music albums after one of the concerts in the park. Prior to that I had no knowledge of or interest in classical music. Unfortunately (for my own cultural expansion) this year I doubt that I will have little incentive to get dressed up and shell out $35 to attend one of the Chamber Orchestra's performances in the Wendell Chino Ballroom. Granted the Inn of The Mountain Gods is beautiful, but on my student's income this year, I'm afraid I will have to pass.

Next year I hope we can once again include one or two casual performances (not necessarily preceded by a Champagne Brunch) for those of us who may be ignorant of, but curious about classical music.

DEAR EDITOR:

This letter is an expression of thanks toward those people which have made donations to the Red Cross to benefit victims of the recent natural disasters in North and South Carolina.

I'd also like to remind others that it is not too late to make a contribution to this effort (any amount helps).

Many thanks to Jim Carpenter, Emmi Mundy, Gaye Morrow, Marsha Silver, Simon Gomez, Eric Campbell, Barbara Johnson, and Dave and Ron Anderson of Wild West Storage.

Tax deductible donations will be accepted at First City National Bank until April 14, 1984. When you stop at the bank just ask for the Red Cross account and do not forget to leave your name with the teller; so we may thank you too. If you would like to donate and can not go to the bank please call me at 336-4709. Let's lengthen the list!

DEAR EDITOR:

I want to express my appreciation to the Citizens of Lincoln County and specifically to Bones Wright of C&L Lumber for his financial support through a recent donation to Home Health Services of Lincoln County.

We provide service to the home-bound ill, and the frail elderly of Lincoln County who are in need of nursing care or therapy in their home. We are a non-profit corporation and have no corporate or governmental support. We provide services on the basis of need, not the ability to pay. In this time of economic difficulty, we are being increasingly called upon to provide services in the home as an alternative to hospitalization. Although our service is much less expensive than hospitalization, many families cannot afford to pay.

Mr. Wright has contributed to our Agency and our efforts in Lincoln County with donations and personal support the past two years. He also contributes through his active participation in the Lions Club. I would like to thank the Lions Club and its members for providing many services to our homebound citizens in this County. They have been very responsive to our request for help.

America's Collective Wisdom

Though you can't always tell it by the leaders we elect, the American people still can demonstrate a significant collective wisdom.

Per capita smoking by Americans dropped to a 34-year low and probably will decline again in 1984, the Agriculture Department said. The 1983 level was the lowest since 1949. The Agriculture Department attributes the decline to rising prices for smokers — perhaps as an oblique justification for the otherwise indefensible system of tobacco price supports paid by the government.

We choose to believe at least part of the decline is due to the growing realization by Americans of the undeniable health dangers in smoking.

Public health experts say quitting smoking is perhaps the most effective single act an individual can do to save his life and health. It's good to know more of us are doing it — or working toward it. Albuquerque Journal

Here's to Tack

Primarily through the efforts of Tack Baldwin, the Lovington Chamber of Commerce program has developed to a level that would be the envy of a town of 100,000. A major community function is being sponsored by the Chamber in every month of the year.

Such events as the car show, home show, arts and crafts fair, and oil and gas show build excitement for our town. Lovington is developing the reputation as a place where there is always something going on, and that's literally true.

Having these activities is great, but it takes a ton of work, and the guy who never quits working is Tack Baldwin. Anybody can have grand ideas, but it's the execution and follow-through that's tough. This is where our Chamber manager shines. He never lets down Hop Graham Lovington Daily Leader

On the Village Beat

with
Tim Palmer

A fellow Southern New Mexico city, Portales, has an ambitious event in the works for the week of April 23 through 29.

It is called the Living History Renaissance Festival. A pamphlet on the festival describes the concept.

"This week-long festival has been planned so that the audience will actually experience elements of Renaissance times. They will see broadsword fighting, an alchemist attempting to change base metals into gold with his chemical magic, and craftsmen and artisans selling wares of the period. They will hear the music of the time—both secular and sacred—instrumental and vocal, and they may dance a step or two with dancers doing authentic green dances. The senses of smell and taste will not be omitted as food and beverage vendors will hawk foods of the time and a Banquet will serve a royal feast of Renaissance cuisine." Sounds pretty neat.

Conversations on topics such as "Playing God or Plotting Evil: Control in Shakespeare's Plays," and "How Merry was Old England: The Social Climate and Humor of the Elizabethan Renaissance" will be presented in Portales and nearby Clovis during the week.

This will lead up to Saturday, April 28. That morning, Queen Elizabeth and her court will travel in a procession to the Bartholomew Faire Ground (a Portales park) to open the Bartholomew Faire.

The Faire will feature activities like fencing; scenes from Shakespeare; jugglers and acrobats; live music and madrigal singers. Renaissance-related wares, foods and services (such as having a flower painted on one's cheek) will be offered.

Saturday night, guests at Queen Elizabeth's Banquet will be served authentic food from the time of King Henry VIII and Elizabeth I. Guests may choose to attend in costume, and organizers have even listed commercial patterns that "would work nicely."

In conjunction with the festival, the annual Defenders Tournament of the La Plaine Jalonee (Clovis-Portales) Shire of the Society for Creative Anachronism (SCA) will take place. Members from the Kingdom of Ateneveldt (area in the Mountain States Time Zone) are expected to participate.

"The King and Queen of Ateneveldt will endorse the event with their presence which will attract a large following from SCA," according to festival organizers.

It will be very interesting to see how the Renaissance Festival turns out. I wonder about that from the standpoint of success at attracting visitors (Portales' Lodgers' Tax Committee is putting up part of the funding).

I also wonder what it will do for that city in terms of two intangible areas: self-esteem, and the locals having a good time.

Then there is the intangible that comes with the feeling of knowing "we pulled it off." Billy Allister told me that feeling just put a warm glow on everything the Saturday night of the U.S. Open pro ski race here.

Hearing about the Renaissance Faire started me thinking once again that Ruidoso needs some kind of distinctive event to call its own. Then I started thinking about the events we do have—Summer Festival, string workshop, Art Festival, Aspen Festival, mule races, Motorcycle Festival, ski race, next fall's hill climb and whatever I've left out.

Some people are never satisfied, though.

Wouldn't it be neat if Ruidoso had ...

What? If I knew, I'd sure as heck suggest it. But there must be something we could put on that would draw visitors, be fun for locals, and be different enough from other events in other places to help put us on the map.

Maybe the Lodgers' Tax Committee should sponsor a contest that would invite just such ideas. LTC recently invited proposals for lodgers' tax funding. They will discuss them at a meeting Wednesday, in fact.

But a contest would change the LTC role from passive—that of waiting for people to take ideas to the committee—to active—that of encouraging ideas, and perhaps rewarding the person who came up with the winning suggestion.

Anyway, I might try to run down to Portales and check out the Faire. And if anyone has an idea for a unique event for Ruidoso, please write me a letter.

Mountain Top Books and Gifts has The Word

"The goal of the shop is to spread the good news, Jesus is coming," said Charlotta Stewart, owner of Mountain Top Books and Gifts. The shop, which officially opened March 3, is at 415 Mechem Drive.

According to Stewart, the shop is "like a Christian department store" in its offerings. It offers Christian gifts, Bibles, books, T-shirts and music, along with children's books and music.

In addition, the shop features hand-made jewelry, greeting cards, quilts, stained glass works and dolls, most of which are made by local people. The shop also offers services such as book engraving and gift wrapping.

The shop currently has a special Easter display that includes gift book suggestions, Christian Easter baskets and surprise Easter eggs for children. Stewart said she and her husband, Greg, have wanted to open such a shop for a long time.

"We really have a need," she said, "this town's growing so much spiritually now. We have a big need to be fed spiritually."

Stewart receives a lot of personal satisfaction from the shop.

"It's my ministry, my way to spread the Gospel," she said.

Stewart said her family had lived in Ruidoso for the past 10 years. This is their first retail business. Stewart said the shop is nondenominational in nature. The shop employs Tammy Blackwelder, in addition to Stewart.

Stewart said each work day at the shop is a special one for her.

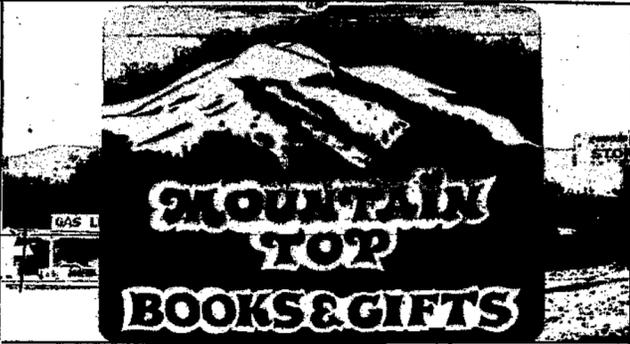

"Every day I come to work—it's a special blessing to be here," she said. "I feel wonderful about it, I love it."

When asked about the volume of business at the shop in its first month, Stewart said, "I just know the Lord will provide what we need. This is his store and he will provide what we need."

Mountain Top Books and Gifts is open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. The shop is closed Sunday. The phone number of Mountain Top Books and Gifts is 257-2876.

Gift items such as this stained glass work are available at Mountain Top Books and Gifts, a "Christian department store," according to owner Charlotta Stewart.

Mountain Top Books and Gifts is at 415 Mechem Drive. The phone number is 257-2876.

Television Schedule For The Week Of Apr. 9 Through Apr. 15

Week of April 8-14

Bono's Astro-Vue

© By Lillian Bono

ARIES
(March 21-April 20) Household problems you have been trying to resolve could suddenly disappear because of a change in circumstances.

TALIBUS
(April 21-May 21) Plan your schedule carefully so that you allow enough time to complete all of your tasks. Business ventures could get a boost from an ambitious and well-connected acquaintance.

GEMINI
(May 22-June 21) Your love life might become the chief topic of discussion due to a strange event. Keep new ideas to yourself.

CANCER
(June 22-July 23) Pacifying a family member could take patience and compromise. Act with caution so as not to start a feud. Social obligations might take precedence over other commitments.

LEO
(July 24-Aug. 23) Disregard advice offered to you from someone who is a bit of a know-it-all. A new approach to an old career goal could bring you success.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24-Sept. 23) Your perception of the lifestyle of a friend may not be accurate and this individual might be less fortunate than you imagine.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24-Oct. 23) Stay on top of financial ventures where the stakes are high or else you could find yourself in a different position from the one you expect.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24-Nov. 23) Cheering up a disappointed friend could have unexpected dividends. Career obstacles you have been facing may suddenly be removed with the assistance of a concerned associate.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Competing with someone you are romantically attracted to might be the only way to catch this person's roving eye. Consider redecorating parts of your abode rather than finding a new place to live.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22-Jan. 20) Someone from the past returns with surprising stories. Dive into the business affairs of a colleague you don't trust.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Romantic affairs may have to be put on the back burner because of deadlines at work that require your attention. Family issues should be addressed as soon as possible.

PISCES
(Feb. 20-March 20) Encouraging an acquaintance to develop as an individual could have unexpected repercussions. Handle this situation with a great deal of tact.
