Ruidoso police to equip with 'stun guns'

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

Stun gun. Although it might sound like something Mr. Spock would use against a Klingon during an episode of Star Trek, the stun gun actually will be used by the Ruidoso Police Department in the near future.

Chief Richard Swenor recently demonstrated the unique device, which is designed to subdue uncontrollable people. The stun gun resembles a "walkie-talkie" without an antenna. When the operator squeezes the trigger, a small blue electric arc flashes between two electrodes protruding from the top of the device, and an electric crackling sound is produced.

Swenor said the stun gun is held against the skin or clothing of a person, and a two-second burst of the gun's 50,000-volt power is applied.

"The guy's going to go down," Swenor said of the effects of the stun gun. He explained that the voltage disrupts the signals from the brain to the skeletal muscles, "turning the person to jelly."

Swenor stressed that the weapon is basically harmless and has no lasting effects since its power is based on voltage and not amperage. He said a person who has been zapped by the stun gun loses all control of his muscles and becomes dazed and disoriented for several minutes.

The chief predicted the weapon would be extremely useful when handling belligerent subjects and those under the influence of drugs.

"It's one of the best things I've seen in 25 years," Swenor said of the gun. Ruidoso police officers will be carrying the guns within a short time. Swenor said the item is optional for his officers as an individual equipment item, but that all in the department had indicated they would get them.

Most law enforcement groups in New Mexico are becoming equipped with stun guns, and use of the weapon is spreading across the country. Legislation that will establish stiff penalties for use of a stun gun during a crime will be introduced in Santa Fe, as it has in other states.

Swenor also reported on the success of the recent Labor Day weekend in Ruidoso. He noted that during a three-hour period, 14,000 cars were counted passing through the intersection of highways 70 and 37 at the "Y."

In spite of that huge volume of traffic, only 10 accidents were reported during the weekend. Four involved injuries.

"It's unbelievable with the number of cars we had here this weekend," he said.

Other areas were equally as smooth, with few arrests made.

"We had no real rowdy-dows," Swenor said. "It really was a good weekend."

Warriors whip Lovington

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Combine a couple of trick plays, a little psychology and some last-minute heroics, and you have the ingredients of the Ruidoso High School varsity football team's 21-16 opening-season win over Lovington Friday night at Lovington.

It was the Warriors' first opening-season win in three years, and it could not have come in more dramatic fashion.

With 45 seconds left in the contest, junior quarterback Russell Easter fired a 26-yard pass to wingback Justin Smith for the winning touchdown. Chuck Jarrell kicked the extra point for the final margin.

Smith caught the ball at the five, broke loose from one of the defenders and ran into the end zone for the score, bringing a roar from a crowd of about 50 Warrior supporters who had traveled to the game.

"I didn't know how many players were around me," a happy Smith said. "He lunged at me and I just got away somehow into the end zone."

The touchdown play came on a third and 11 situation and culminated a 50-yard drive.

With just over two minutes left in the contest, Ruidoso forced the Wildcats to punt and Tracy Gann returned the ball to the 50.

The Warriors scored in seven plays, with a fourth down 16-yard keeper by Easter putting the ball on the Lovington 25.

Ruidoso then picked up two five-yard penalties, putting the ball back on the 35. On second down, Easter hit Mike Williamson for nine yards to the Lovington 26. On the next play the Warrior quarterback found Smith for the winning score.

The Warriors then held off Lovington in the final seconds, with the hosts getting as far as the Ruidoso 40 before time ran out.

But perhaps the most dramatic plays of the night were 78-yard and 81-yard kickoff returns for touchdowns by Easter and Williamson in the first half.

Both came on trick plays, with Bubba Miller catching the ball and handing off to Easter and Williamson. More importantly, both scores kept the Warriors in the ball game.

The Warriors also played a psychology game, warming up in their practice yellow uniforms. However, they came out on the field for the start of the game in their new white and yellow jerseys and blue pants.

"We thought that helped us psychologically," said Warrior coach Cooper Henderson. "A couple of our coaches thought up the idea."

Lovington struck first in the contest midway through the first half.

the Warriors' territory. But the snap from center was high and the ball went into the end zone for a Wildcat safety.

Lovington added a touchdown early in the second quarter when speedy Tony Homer ran in from 13 yards out. The extra point kick was good and Lovington had a 9-0 edge.

But then the Warriors showed their first trick play.

On the ensuing kickoff, Miller caught the ball, turned to his right and handed the ball off to Easter. The Warrior quarterback found a clear lane down the left side and outran a couple of defenders for the 78-yard score.

The attempt to go for a two-point conversion failed when the ball was fumbled on the snap. However, Ruidoso was back in the game, trailing 9-6.

The Wildcats put their final points on the scoreboard with just over three minutes remaining in the first half.

A 41-yard touchdown pass from Alan Jones to Chris Trujillo finished a 60-yard drive. Trujillo caught the ball on the two-yard line and went in for the score.

But on the next kickoff, the Warriors struck again.

Miller caught the ball again and handed it off to Williamson, who then sprinted down the right side for an 80-yard score.

A couple of Lovington defenders gave chase but the Warrior junior pulled away at the 10 and ran in for the touchdown.

Despite the two kickoff returns, Ruidoso did not pick up its initial first down until Williamson ran for 10 yards with 15 seconds left in the first half.

The remainder of the contest saw a defensive struggle until the Warriors' winning drive.

Ruidoso's defense did a good job controlling the quick Lovington running backs. Lovington outgained the Warriors in total yards 263 to 149, but Ruidoso made few mistakes and stopped the Wildcats in key situations.

Ruidoso fumbled just once and did not throw an interception. The Warriors stopped one Wildcat drive when sophomore Jeff Willingham intercepted a pass in the first half.

"That pleased me a lot," said Henderson. "We didn't have many penalties and we didn't make many mistakes.

"We've got to work on our offense. We didn't move the ball well in the first half, although we weren't on offense much.

"But it's a good win. Our whole defense played well. We've just got to keep on improving if we hope to have a championship ball club."

Ruidoso will travel to Clint, Texas, Friday night for a 7:30 game. The Warriors will open the home season the following week against Tularosa.

NOTES: The Warrior coaches named five players for individual awards after the game. Easter was named the top offensive player, Bobby Dickinson was selected the top defensive player, Miller was named top kickoff return team player, Mark Flack was picked as the top scout team player, and Smith won the Golden Helmet award for scoring the winning touchdown. The first four awards will be given after every game, while the Golden Helmet award will be given after each victory to the player who scored the winning points.

County, village agree to agree on Gavilan road

by MATT BOSISIO
News Staff Writer

Gavilan Canyon Road may be assured continued progress, thanks to a new understanding between the Village of Ruidoso and Lincoln County.

In a special meeting of the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners, the county and village agreed in principle to pool resources and allow the village to complete the road.

The agreement came at the suggestion of commissioner Kenneth Nosker, who noted, "One entity can do it better than two entities going different directions with different ideas."

He also noted that the village produces roads that are consistently of good quality, and said he would like to see Gavilan Canyon given the same consideration and outcome as roads within the village.

Louis Medrano, district engineer of the state Highway Department, agreed with Nosker's proposal, and suggested that the county contribute some of the labor and equipment while the village oversees the project.

He said the state portion of the funds slated for the project would not be affected by the change in the scope of work, if both entities could complete the job by the technical deadline of July 1985 or an extended final deadline of December 1985.

The agreement calls for the state, county and village to draw up a package of funds totaling $320,000. The county's share would be $104,000, the village's would be $33,000. The remainder would be state monies.

The new understanding followed some confusion on whether the village or the county would subsidize work on the county's portion of the road.

Assistant village manager Frank Potter said the village would complete work on that part of the road within the corporate village limits, but would not spend funds on the county portion.

It was Potter's understanding that the split of monies dictated that the county pick up the tab with the funds drawn from the state.

Nosker's motion ended that discussion and directed the village and county to draw up a joint powers agreement spelling out the scope of work.

The motion passed on a 2-1 vote, with chairman John Hightower dissenting.

In other business, the commissioners:

-Approved replats of the Enchanted Valley Estates subdivisions

-Approved the 1984 tax year property tax-setting order. The certificate of tax rates is sent to each county from the New Mexico Department of Finance and Administration.

-Heard from District Ranger Steve Sams concerning a joint cooperative agreement on roadwork within the Forest Service system. Sams said he felt that many of the roads belonged in the county road system, where they would receive maintenance and improvement as other county roads do.

Hightower asked Sams to draw up an inventory of roads and allow the commissioners time to look over the inventory. The commissioners agreed to continue an earlier cooperative agreement, and to make revisions as needed.

Regents relent

The New Mexico State University (NMSU) Board of Regents took a step Friday that may help bring a swifter solution to acquiring Fort Stanton Mesa Site B for the Sierra Blanca Airport.

In action during a Friday meeting, the board passed a resolution that re-stated the university's concern to continue needed rangeland research currently under way on the mesa. But the resolution also expressed the regents' willingness to negotiate for exchange of the Site B land.

The regents noted that they expected to be fully compensated in exchange for the Fort Stanton land, but specific conditions of a land trade were not outlined.

Apparently those negotiations will occur later this month when NMSU President James Halligan and others travel to Washington, D.C., to meet with top Bureau of Land Management and Department of Interior officials.

The resolution comes as a dramatic change in the university's stand over the past years in the airport controversy. Previously, regents had been steadfast in their refusal to consider any release of land on the mesa.

Regents noted after the Friday meeting that safety of the airport is a concern of theirs, but that more issues are involved in the airport situation, especially that of their reluctance to disrupt important agricultural experiments.

Also in the resolution, the board asked that compensation for the land be separate from other university funds and that legal guarantees be made that no further interruptions of other research that is continuing on the mesa would occur.

Sierra Blanca Airport Commission chairman Fred Heckman saw the development as a significant breakthrough in the long effort to get Ruidoso a new airport.

"Well, it's the key—it's the key action that's been taken," said Heckman Wednesday.

He noted that Senator Pete Domenici had been asking the university what they would need to compromise, starting about the time a delegation of Ruidoso officials went to Washington, D.C., in June.

Representatives of the university did meet recently with Federal Aviation Administration officials to say what they would need, Heckman noted.

"The Sierra Blanca Airport Commission wishes to thank President Halligan, chairman of the regents Houston McKenzie and Governor Toney Anaya for the help and cooperation and far-sightedness they have shown in working with this particular problem. We and all the local governments we represent will cooperate with the university in helping them obtain alternate lands that they need to continue and expand their research. We are strong supporters of NMSU and their support of the agriculture industry, and we look forward to a long period of cooperation and mutual assistance for the benefit of our local communities, our regional market and the state of New Mexico," said Heckman.

He stressed the commission's gratitude to Anaya, Congressman Joe Skeen and Domenici.

Mules

You gotta know 'em to love 'em

by MATT BOBISIO
News Staff Writer

Given the propensity of a mule to be a mule, it was one heck of a weekend. Mules gathered from all across the Southwest to catch the sights, horse around a little, and compete in the world's richest mule race at Ruidoso Downs Race Track.

Every color and pattern, every temperament imaginable, every age category was represented as mules were revered and honored for three days as the smarter cousin of the horse.

"They don't overeat, they don't overdrink, they don't let themselves get hurt. They just got a lot of common sense."

Chip Johns spoke those words as he squinted into the afternoon sun. His jockey, Angel Cedeno, was atop Miss Elegant Ass, headed onto the track.

"I'd rather be racing mules than quarter horses," Johns, of El Paso, continued. "They're a lot more fun."

Cedeno trotted out of sight. He and Johns' mule were having a good day so far—two seconds and a third. The mule seemed to take it in stride.

Brian Adair of Farmington smiled as if he was also into a fairly decent day. Though busy, he paused to try to explain that sure, some mules are stubborn and cantankerous.

"But the thing about a mule is that all it takes is a little TLC," he said, "tender loving care."

As Adair hurried off, Wayne Bair came into view. Bair, of Oroville, California, had a shirt on that read, "1984 World's Champion Mule Shoer." He had biceps that suggested it was true.

"You just gotta be better than any of the other shoers, and turn out quality," Bair said about his skill. "Me, I've been plating the mules here and following them for six years now."

And he plates them fast. His own personal record, though not a world record, is 3 minutes and 26 seconds for four shoes. He figures he's about 15 seconds behind the fastest record of time.

What Bair doesn't say is what the attraction is about mules that would make him aspire to mule shoeing fame, and make Adair mention love in reference to these crosses between a donkey and a horse.

Hector Gomez of Ruidoso claims they're unpredictable. "You never know what they're going to do," he said. "One day you can ride them; the next they buck you off."

Well, the explanation started with Gerald Tully of Glencoe. The 81-year-old Tully had just gotten through in the team roping event, where he had roped and ridden like he was 60 years old.

"Mules," he said slowly, "are just about as good as some horses." He said he was speaking from experience, having roped calves and dealt with horses a good part of his life.

Watching him rope from a mule proved his point. The mules were fast, agile and quick to turn. The problem, Tully said, was not the mules but his shoulder.

"I got arthritis in this one," he said, shrugging his right shoulder. "Gotta put some Ben Gay or WD-40 on it."

So mules were good like horses. Hank Debold, who owns "a bunch of 'em" back in Chandler, Arizona, said it's more than that. It's that they're smarter than horses.

"Don't compare mules with horses," Debold cautioned. "You want to compare them, compare them with humans."

Jim Flake was a little more detailed. Recalling that as a youth, his father used mules to plow the field, Flake said mules are intelligent animals that have to be outsmarted.

He breeds mules in Lancaster, California, and said mules have to be treated right.

"A mule, you don't force him," Flake noted. "You can force a horse to do something. But with a mule, you have to go slow and easy. You have to treat them decent. You got to make them think that your idea is their idea. Kind of like reverse psychology."

He said mules can be trained to do more than horses, and are healthier than the average horse. "You have less vet bills with a mule than you do with a horse," he said.

The fact that a mule is a mule is itself an unusual event. Crossed between horses and donkeys, the poor mule is an oddball that has no capacity to reproduce itself. It cannot continue its own kind without the help of humans.

The freakish birth early this summer of a mule to a mule was just that, mule people claim—a freak.

"That's just something that's hard to explain about Mother Nature," Flake said. "It may be another 100 years before it happens again. But there'll sure be a lot of people trying."

Auctioneer Tom Marricle of Snyder, Texas, said it was hard to imagine that a mule could pull off that type of event.

"That was probably one in a billion," he said. "I don't know how many million," he said. "It was a freak thing. May never see it again in your lifetime."

Obviously, nature and mules are not close associates. But that matters not to the dedicated mule people who make sure there are plenty of mules to go around.

That's probably why they all get together. They have a secret that is hard to share with people who haven't the slightest affection for the lovely mule.

That secret is that the mule is not lowly at all. It is a caring and sly animal that is truly unlike any other kind of animal.

Like a horse but unlike a horse, the mule is more than just a mount. It is a special breed of character. And the annual mule races bring it out all over again—thousands of people celebrating the uniqueness of the mule.

Two participants in the roping event, these steers take a minute to catch their breath Saturday at an arena not far from the racetrack. Roping teams from across the Southwest entered the competition, which had to be worked by mule.

County gets federal disaster declaration

President Ronald Reagan signed a proclamation Thursday declaring Lincoln, Otero and Eddy counties as federal disaster areas. The declaration was in response to flood damage to public and private property during last month's heavy rains.

"What it means, in this case," said U.S. Congressman Joe Skeen, "is that for any public works, such as dams and roadways, there'll be a split of 25 percent and 75 percent, with the state putting up the 25 percent and the federal government putting up the 75 percent."

He said the money is intended to help local governments return their communities to pre-flood standards, and allow private residents to apply for low-interest loans to repair their property.

Skeen said the declaration is effective immediately.

U.S. Senator Pete Domenici also commented on the presidential declaration.

"I was in Ruidoso during and immediately after some of the flooding," he said. "In fact we saw some of the damage, including a mud slide and damage done by the river to local residences and businesses."

"I'm pleased the president signed the disaster declaration for additional assistance for these hard-hit areas of our state, and I hope this will expedite the cleanup efforts so that those affected can get back to their normal activities."

The actual method of disbursement of the federal funds will be outlined by the Federal Emergency Management Agency at a meeting scheduled at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the National Guard Armory in Alamogordo.

According to Governor Toney Anaya's news secretary David Roybal, FEMA will open a claims office in Alamogordo this week to handle claims for disaster relief from area governmental bodies. He said no federal aid will be available to private interests, according to the declaration.

Altrusa Flea Market spaces available

Members of the Altrusa Club of Ruidoso will present their second annual flea market in the parking lot of the Safeway store on Mechem Drive from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, September 15.

Market items can be practically anything, including clothes and furniture. Booths are 15 feet by nine feet. Participants should bring their own tables and chairs. No electric power will be furnished.

Spaces are still available. To obtain a registration form and information, call Ingrid Schmitz at the Ruidoso Public Library, or call 258-3150 during the evening.

Downs, Capitan governing bodies to meet

The Ruidoso Downs board of trustees will meet in regular session at 7 p.m. today (Monday) at the municipal building.

Items on the agenda include: —Reports from the Planning and Zoning Commission and the New Mexico Municipal League Conference

—Discussion of the joint powers agreement with the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department.

—Proposed ordinance on private security for nightclubs.

—Request from Bill Harvey concerning subdivision of property.

The board of trustees of the Village of Capitan will hold their regular meeting tonight (Monday) at 7 at village hall. Agenda items include:

—Adoption of Ordinance 84-5 (amending business registration penalty).

—Adoption of Ordinance 84-6 (amending of traffic code).

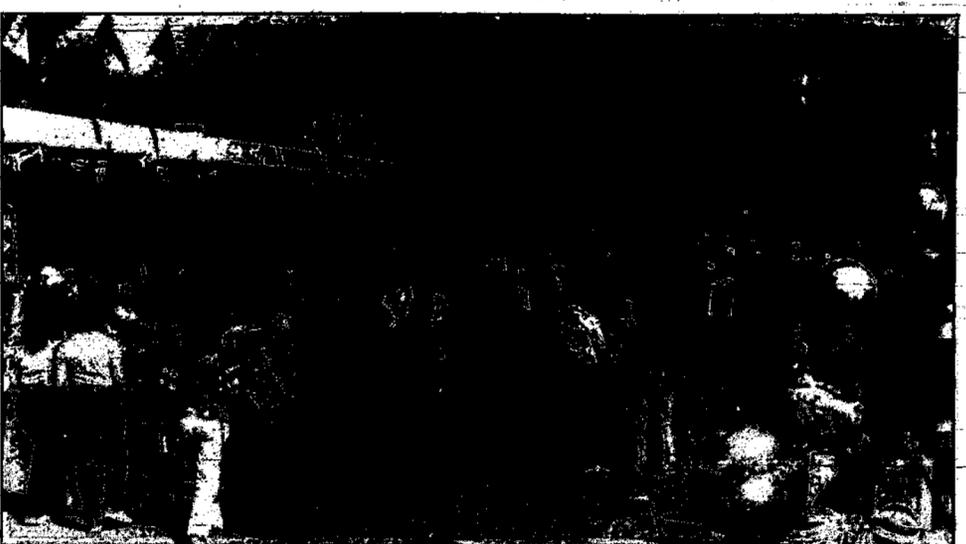

—Adoption of Resolution 84-12 (un-collectable accounts).

—Blaine Miller, street repairs.

Santa Fe Fiesta

Crowds fill the streets in the Santa Fe plaza during the weekend activities of the Santa Fe Fiesta. Events included the Friday burning of Zozobra, "Old Man Gloom," the Entrada Saturday, a reenactment of the Spanish recapture of the city in the early 1700s from the Pueblo Indians; and the final parade Sunday.

Pet adoption clinic Saturday at Gibson's

A puppy and kitten adoption clinic will take place at 10 a.m. Saturday, September 15, in the Gibson's Discount Center parking lot. The giveaway will be in conjunction with the Village of Ruidoso Animal Control department.

For more information, call Mac McClond at 257-2027. This will be the second such giveaway. The first resulted in the placement of about 14 animals.

Motor home office cuts cost of doing business

by MATT BOSISIO
News Staff Writer

Considering the high cost of overhead when running a business, Rex Skellett's innovation makes sense. Leaving behind the monthly rent routine and spiraling utility bills, he opted for ownership and transportation rolled into one.

The result has been a comfortable office. And when he's on the road, it is an office that doubles as a comfortable home.

Simply put, Skellett's office is a motor home, a fully equipped 22-foot Dodge Jamboree that sleeps eight, carries blueprints and transports Skellett to the remote sites of his work.

He is a draftsman, designer and general contractor, and the motor home has given him mobility and control in the world of home and commercial building.

"It's nice to go right to a job site, meet the clients and go right to work," Skellett said. "The clients really love it. That's the neat thing about it."

Another neat thing, he said, is "you don't end up with a handful of rent receipts." Skellett figures it costs him 15 cents more a month to own the motor home than it did to rent office space on Mechem.

But since he's the owner of the home, he's building equity, providing himself with work-related transportation and, for the fisherman in him, securing a spot for his fishing rods during a weekend in the wild.

Skellett has taken his office to work sites in the desert of southern New Mexico, to the plains of western Texas, and to Sierra Blanca.

"You can really get your mind right sitting at Windy Point watching the sun come up at four o'clock," he noted.

The portion of the motor home that hangs over the cab and acts as the main sleeping area serves as his desk. Skellett sets his drafting board where the mattress had been, and places a tall stool between the driver's seat and the front passenger seat.

In back, on a flat counter across from the refrigerator, sits a blue-line printer, which reproduces the drawings he completes on the drafting board.

Next to the refrigerator are storage closets and drawers that Skellett converted into a filing system for his drawings and supplies.

The advantages are obvious, but he emphasized that the real benefit of actually being on the work site with his office is speed.

While working on a medical office recently, for example, it was discovered that the architectural plans were 12 feet short. Normally, Skellett said, such a discovery would Leaning against the drafting desk at the front of his motor home, Rex Skellett relaxes before beginning work. The home acts as office, storage place and recreational vehicle while reducing the costs of overhead.

Pig out on popcorn

A new shop specializing in popcorn has opened in The Gazebo Center on Sudderth. Called Country Corn, the shop offers six flavors of popcorn, including Sunny Cinnamon, CoCo Crunch and Honey Bunny. Teri Sodd, above, runs the store with her mother, Billie Rutherford. The shop can gift wrap popcorn and ship it anywhere in the country. Country Corn is next to Sodd's Mountain Arts Gallery. Hours are 10 to 6 Monday through Saturday, 10 to 2 Sunday.

in brief

Board plugs vote

The Ruidoso Board of Realtors has designated September as "Realtor Voter Registration Month." During the month, Realtor firms are encouraged to make available in their offices voter registration information.

Realtors and Realtor-Associates are also asked to urge at least five people to register and vote in the November general election.

Realtors has made it a sort of pet project to get people to register and vote," said Jim Carpenter, president of the Ruidoso Board of Realtors.

"And we're sort of making it a convenience to help people do that." He said New Mexico, and Ruidoso in particular, has consistently produced a poor voting record over the years.

"I think everybody should get behind the project and encourage people to register and vote," he said. "Realtor Voter Registration Month" is part of a national, non-partisan voter registration project called "Register Five ... for Freedom."

It is being sponsored by the Ruidoso Board of Realtors, the Realtor Association of New Mexico and the National Association of Realtors. Voter registration for the November election must be accomplished no later than September 25. Registration can be completed at the Ruidoso village hall, the Ruidoso Downs village hall, the Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo, and the county suboffice in Ruidoso.

What a win!

Ruidoso High School football players and cheerleaders celebrate after winning their season opener against Lovington Friday night. The Warriors took a 21-16 decision on a last-minute touchdown pass.

Warrior Ruidoso volleyball team loses, will travel to Tularosa Tuesday

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

The Ruidoso High School varsity volleyball team opened the 1984 season on an unsuccessful note Saturday, losing to visiting Cloudercroft in four sets.

Ruidoso won the first set 15-13, but lost the next three, 11-15, 11-15 and 9-15. A new format this season has the matches being decided in best three of five sets rather than the former two of three sets.

The Warriors will travel to Tularosa Tuesday night for varsity and junior varsity matches. The junior varsity match will start at 6, with the varsity match following.

Inconsistency hurt the Warriors as it did often last season. Ruidoso served well but had problems setting up and blocking.

In the first set, the Warriors trailed 10-5, but scored six straight points to take an 11-10 advantage and the eventual set win.

But Cloudercroft, which is one of the state's top teams in the A division, came back strong to win the match. In the final set, Cloudercroft trailed 9-8, but served seven straight points to take the victory.

After Ruidoso won the first set, Warrior head coach Pixie Arthur changed her lineup for the second set, and it seemed to backfire.

"We usually start off slow," Arthur said. "But we won the first set this time. I think it was a mistake when I put another group in in the second set. I think from now on I'll keep the first group in if we win the first set."

Despite the defeat, Arthur was pleased with the team's serving. "That was our strong point," she remarked. Sheila Espinoza scored on eight of 10 serves, and Lana McClure scored on 14 of 15 serves.

"But we had problems setting up and spiking. Our setting was a big set-back for us."

Now the Warriors must travel to Tularosa, where they have had problems in the past.

"They're always tough," said Arthur of the Wildcats. "I talked to their coach and she said they lost most of their players on last year's team. But I still think they'll be tough."

After the Tularosa match, Ruidoso will compete in the Cloudercroft Varsity Tournament Saturday. They will play Hatch in the first match.

NOTES: The Ruidoso Middle School volleyball team will open the season Thursday, hosting Chaparral Middle School of Alamogordo. The match will begin at 4 p.m.

Capitan spikers impressive in opening win over Eunice

Junior Varsity beats Cloudercroft

Both the Capitan High School varsity and junior varsity volleyball teams won matches against Eunice Saturday. Both teams played two matches against Eunice. The varsity won one and lost one; the junior varsity won both of their matches.

The varsity team won their first match with the following scores: 15-7, 12-15, 15-7, 12-15 and 15-9. The second match, won by Eunice, scored 10-15, 18-14, 9-15, 15-10 and 10-15.

In both matches, the teams played the full five sets. Varsity teams play for the best three out of five sets.

Capitan had three high-scoring servers. Audrey Joiner scored 31 points; Becky Huey scored 30; and Stephanie Stowe scored 18. Joiner and Huey also did some impressive spiking, and Bobbi Rogers did a good job setting, according to coach Bill MacVeigh.

MacVeigh felt that Tracy Herd did some good setting and defensive playing. "Tiffany Huey made some nice saves," he said. "Michelle Otero did an excellent job playing the net."

"We ran our plays well and we ran our offense well," said MacVeigh. "But we have work to do on some fundamentals ... passing and serving."

The Capitan junior varsity team won both of their matches against Eunice. In the first match, the scores were 15-12, 15-8 and 15-11. In the second match, Capitan beat Eunice in two games: 15-2 and 15-8. Junior varsity teams play for the best two out of three sets.

Coach Dana Adams said she was really proud of the girls, noting that they did a good job and had good spirit. Adams noted Chantille Points as a good all-around player. Brenda Griego and Joan Leslie did a good job setting, and Leslie also made some notable serves, according to Adams.

The day's star hitters were Poco Phillips and Merry Sue Hogan.

The volleyball teams will play Carrizozo at 4 p.m. Tuesday, September 18, at home.

There were mixed results for the Ruidoso High School junior varsity and freshman volleyball teams in the season opener Saturday against visiting Cloudercroft.

The Warrior junior varsity rallied from a 15-1 first set loss to win the next two sets, 15-6, 15-13, and the match. Ruidoso's freshmen fell in three sets, 15-15, 15-13, 6-15.

Linda Orasco served the only point for Ruidoso in the first junior varsity set. However, Orasco and Zeba Morris rallied the Warriors for the win.

"Linda did a good job serving and setting," said coach Terry Turner. "Zeba Morris also did a good job. Lori Walker did well for the freshmen."

Capitan loses to Tatum in opener, will host Texico next Friday night

The Capitan Tigers lost their opening football game against host Tatum Friday night by a score of 40-0. Coach Gary Thompson attributed the loss to the inexperience of his team. For many of his players, it was their first game.

Tatum took the ball at the start of the game and scored 13 points by the middle of the first quarter. By halftime, Tatum was ahead 27-0.

"We weren't able to get anything going because they got ahead so quick," said Thompson. He said the Tigers had problems with execution on offense.

"The closest we got was the 15-yard line," said Thompson. Capitan had a few first downs.

Thompson noted that Capitan had no offensive penalties. "Our punting game was good," he said. Capitan suffered no injuries in the game.

The Tigers "showed a lot of character," said Thompson. He added that he was glad to have gotten

"one of the toughest games out of the way."

Their good attitudes and persevering natures should help the Tigers through this week's practices for the game against Texico.

That game is at home Friday evening. Kickoff is at 7:30.

Local fishing report

Ruidoso River: It was recently stocked. The fishing is fair. A few fish are being caught using worms and Panther-Martin lures.

Alto Lake: It was recently stocked.

The fishing is good. Fish are being taken using garlic-flavored marshmallows and fireballs, fishing off the bottom.

Football

Fall is a special time for Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce acting executive director Tommy Morel. Morel played football at Louisiana State University (LSU) in the late 1960s, and then went on to play one year for the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League as a flanker in 1969.

Does this time of year bring back memories for the ex-player? "Yes, it does," answered Morel. "When I first got out of football, it didn't because I was interested in other things. However, as I got older I found myself having more memories."

Morel was named most valuable player at LSU in his senior season. With the Saints, he played behind Danny Abramowicz. After the 1969 season ended, Tommy decided to get out of football and go to graduate school in English at LSU.

"I had played football since I was 12 years old, and I just felt it was time to get out," he said. "I wasn't enjoying it quite as much. Plus they were thinking about trading me, and you're always unsure about where you'll end up."

Morel still follows his former teams whenever he can. "I try to watch them on TV as much as possible," he said. "If I miss the games, I watch television Monday morning to find out the scores." LSU will have a reunion of all the most valuable Tiger players of the 1960s after its October 27 home game with Notre Dame University. Morel will be there.

"I'm kind of excited about that," he said. "It should be a lot of fun."

Morel is optimistic about the Saints' and Tigers' chances in 1984.

New Orleans plays in the National Conference's well-balanced Western Division. All has improved considerably in recent seasons.

"As far as the Saints go, they've got an excellent coach in Bum Phillips," he said. "They've got a good chance to do better than 50-50. They should be contenders and have a good chance to make the playoffs."

"They've got good players like Richard Todd (quarterback) and George Rogers (running back). But the big difference is the coaching. They've got good coaching now and they didn't have it before."

Morel is also high on LSU's season, even though the Tigers play in the Southeastern Conference, probably the toughest in the country.

"They could be tough," he remarked. "They don't play Auburn this year even though they're in the same conference. Auburn and Alabama are always tough."

Morel has many fond memories of his football career, and you can be sure he will be following his favorite teams a lot this fall.

Perteet Parks beats Nads for slow-pitch crown

Perteet Parks and Associates combined a well-balanced hitting attack and the strong pitching of Lee Buchhagen to defeat the Triple Crown Nads 6-3 and win the Ruidoso Men's Slow-Pitch Softball League' Tournament title Sunday at All-American Park Field.

Perteet Parks and Associates entered Sunday's final competition undefeated in tournament play. The Nads beat Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital 18-5 in the first game of the day to gain a berth in the finals against Perteet Parks. The Nads then topped Perteet Parks 17-3 to force an extra contest.

The hospital team finished third, and regular-season champion Gateway Assembly of God Church took fourth.

In the championship tilt, the Nads scored twice in the top of the first inning. However, Perteet Parks came back with four runs in the bottom of the second to take the lead for good.

The winners added a single run in the third inning and four in the sixth to conclude their scoring. The Nads added a single run in the fifth inning for their total.

Buchhagen and Bob Senter led the Perteet Parks attack with two hits apiece. Both teams played good defense. Kerry Joyner pitched for the Nads.

In the first Nads-Perteet Parks game, Dave Matier's bat was the difference.

Matier smashed two home runs and added a double to lead the Nads' attack.

John Garbutt added a home run for the Nads, Jim McGarvey and Alan Morel clubbed home runs for Perteet Parks. Morel was also named most valuable player.

In the first game of the day, the Nads scored seven runs in the top of the first, and were never headed against the hospital squad.

Perteet Parks gained a bye for the first Sunday game by defeating Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital 12-3 Saturday night.

In other action Saturday, the Nads eliminated Gateway Assembly of God Church from further competition 6-3. The Nads scored all their runs in one inning. Gary Boyd belted a three-run home run for the losers.

The Nads also beat Alto Construction 4-1 and Bentley Construction 18-3 to advance to the game against Gateway Assembly of God Church.

Earlier Saturday, Perteet Parks beat Alto Construction 11-7, and Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital topped Gateway Assembly of God Church 14-8.

Gateway Assembly of God Church defeated the Pumas 23-7 before being eliminated. The Pumas beat Moncor 6-5 before dropping out of the competition with the loss to Gateway Assembly of God.

In action Friday night, the Pumas blanked the Hammerheads 11-0; the Nads crushed the T.L. Wilson Turbos 24-5; Moncor beat Concrete Products 24-3; and Bentley Construction topped the Aces 10-4.

Thursday night's second round saw Perteet Parks beat Bentley Construction 16-1; Gateway Assembly of God crush Moncor 16-2; Alto Construction top the Nads 12-9; and Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital beat the Pumas 9-3.

NOTES: Moncor won the sportsmanship award for the tournament. The league had its all-star game last Tuesday, with the Even team beating the Odd team 17-2.

There was plenty of action at All-American Park Field over the weekend as the Ruidoso Men's Slow-Pitch Softball League Tournament came to an end. Lee Buchhagen (top) pitched for Perteet Parks and Associates and Kerry Joyner hurled for the Triple Crown Nads. Perteet Parks topped the Nads 9-3 for the title after the Nads won the first game. Photos of the top teams will be in Thursday's News.

Carrizozo gridders roll over Hatch in season opener

Steve Stearns is setting up to prove that last year was not a fluke.

The Carrizozo High School running back, who ran for 1,152 yards and scored 21 touchdowns last season, scored three touchdowns Friday night to lead his team to a 42-6 season-opening win over visiting Hatch.

Stearns gained 145 yards in 12 carries. He scored the first two Grizzly touchdowns on runs of 70 and two yards, giving Carrizozo a 14-0 edge at the first-period break.

From then on, Carrizozo coasted over the visitors. The Grizzlies led 38-0 at halftime and 42-0 at the end of the third period. Hatch scored in the last quarter.

Kenneth Crenshaw added two touchdowns, Stearns had another score and quarterback Dominic Vega added a touchdown to close out the Grizzly scoring.

Joe Candelaria caught three passes for 56 yards and linebacker Duane Zamora did well on defense, making 15 tackles.

"I thought we played a good first quarter," said Grizzly coach Dennis Sidebottom. "But we seemed to lose some intensity in the second period."

"I wasn't totally happy with the game. Our defense played pretty well."

Carrizozo, which had a 7-3 mark last season and went to the A division playoffs, will host Fort Sumner Friday night at 7:30.

"I think they'll be tougher than Hatch," Sidebottom said. "Hatch had a lot of young players."

Cree Meadows will have golf tournaments this month

Cree Meadows Country Club will host two golf tournaments later this month.

The Eastern New Mexico Seniors Tournament will be Monday, September 17, to Wednesday, September 19. Some of the top senior golfers in New Mexico are scheduled to compete.

The seventh annual Johnny Williams Memorial Partnership Golf Tournament will be Friday, September 21, to Sunday, September 23. There will be a practice round the day before the tournament for the golfers.

The partnership tournament is one of the biggest tournaments in the area, and Cree Meadows pro Charley Riley expects about 60 teams in the tournament.

"The first 60 teams to sign up will play," Riley said.

There will be six flights in the partnership tournament. Tommy Hornbuckle and Ronnie Jumper won the championship flight last year.

The Bank of Ruidoso, Ruidoso State Bank, Moncor Bank and Pioneer Savings are helping to sponsor the partnership tournament.

Local sports briefs this week

The Lincoln County Women's Slow-Pitch Softball Association will have an organizational meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, September 17, at the Ruidoso Public Library.

The purpose of the meeting is to elect new officers.

There will be a meeting for anyone interested in the Ruidoso School of Gymnastics and Creative Fitness at 7 p.m. Tuesday, September 11, at the Nob Hill Elementary School cafeteria.

Baby sitters will be provided at the meeting.

Capitan schools faced with large budget cut

By SHARON MAKOKIAN
News Staff Writer

The Capitan school system will face a $47,000 budget decrease, in state funds, if enrollment does not increase 10 percent by October, according to Superintendent Leonard Hays. Hays told the school board the news at their regular meeting Thursday night.

The budget was planned by figuring projected enrollment. Hays took last year's 40th day figure and added five percent growth to arrive at the projection for this year to plan the budget. But this year, enrollment has dropped by five percent, making the calculations off by 10 percent.

Hays expects more students to enroll before the cutoff date, October 15. He noted three new students arriving this week.

"We don't have much leeway," said Hays of the budget. He said that almost 85 percent of the budget goes to salaries.

Hays noted that the budget could be cut "a bit" in the area of supplies and sports equipment and transportation. The expenditures in those areas would be held at present levels.

Because of the money shortage, the board voted not to approve a new bus contract that would increase the cost of the activities buses from $1.25 to $1.30 per mile of each trip. High school principal Jay Dark noted that the school will require four tightly packed buses for their trip to Cloudcroft when the football and volleyball teams play.

The board adopted the revised policy handbook. The book was completely revised because some of the policies had not been updated for many years. The old handbook contained some references to 1983 statutes.

Hays said that a revision of the policies "should be done every year and will be from now on." The board has been reviewing chapters since last spring.

The handbook will be finished by next week, in time for the state's accreditation visit. Without a current handbook it was noted, Capitan schools might not receive accreditation.

One update in the handbook is the attendance policy passed last year by the board. The policy states that if a student misses over 10 days per semester, he will lose his credits.

Board member Preston Stone questioned this rule in relation to 4-H activities. Stone asked that 4-H be recognized by the school's activity association so that participants would not be penalized for missing school for such things as the State Fair.

Stone contended that qualifying for State Fair was as much an achievement as making the all-state football team. Stone also cited that similar groups, such as FFA, take school trips that do not count as absences.

Board members sympathized with Stone, but cautioned that loosening the attendance rules would open a whole "Pandora's box" of people wanting to miss school for various other "good" reasons.

"I've got a heart on one side and the attendance policy on the other," said Dark of the dilemma he faced. "The attendance policy is for one reason—to get kids in school."

Both Hays and Dark stressed that they would work with parents however they could if a problem were to arise.

The board voted to enter into a cooperative agreement with the Cooperative Education Service, a non-profit organization that helps the school save money on purchases through group buying power.

The renovation of the old elementary building is nearly completed and the building will be ready for use next week, it was reported. The board seemed impressed with the work done as they toured the building.

Architect Jim French will present more ideas on the master plan for future growth at the next meeting. Superintendent Hays read a report on Capitan graduates in remedial college classes. Of the nine Capitan graduates in college last year, two were in remedial math and one was in remedial English.

The Dreamer

by Dan Storm

From the slopes of the White Mountain to Starvation, Oregon, the first horse I owned was a half-bred pure dun Mustang from the plains around Klamath Falls. Since I had wanted to have a pony as far back as I can remember, this little fellow was my pride and joy. However, although he was as gentle as a dog, it was thought best to buy a Shetland pony instead. Yet I never forgot my first horse, the little dun Mustang, although the Shetland pony, Prince, became a beloved part of the family.

When first we came to the Vale, and I learned of Mustangs on the reservation, I have wanted one, especially since the horses Chapo and Sox and the saddle mare Caedonia had left me several years ago.

For several years I have been asking Cowboy Srimshire at his riding academy in Ruidoso Downs to find me a Mustang. He has told me that with the years passing it would be hard to find a Mustang gentle enough for me. Then, just the other day I happened by and Cowboy said, "Dan, I finally have found a little Indian Mustang that is just right for you."

He was just the image of the dun Mustang of my boyhood, and we made the deal; and on September six Cowboy brought "Dunny" down and we came across the creek over to the little barn.

So now, Corina the cat, and Solo Vira the dog, and all the cows and calves have a new friend on the place. And Dunny is very much at home, although he keeps looking up to the hills south of the house.

He is a "High Mountain Boy" and I look forward to many trips with him into the hills.

He arrived here just when the gramma grass was in the prime.

The Gramma Grass

Along with the pinon tree, the pinon jay, the yucca, and the road runner, the gramma grass is one of New Mexico's favorite citizens—a fond and darling child of Mother Earth. For grazing and browsing creatures of all sizes and varieties there is no more nourishing feed in all the world. When this grass matures in its little golf-club shaped heads, you can see the grass-eating creatures of all kinds blossom out into the very picture of health, contentment and well-being.

This wild crop of hay and grain—and by the way, it is grand grub for the songbirds in the dead of winter when the snow is a foot or so deep; you can see the snow birds across the meadows clad in white, feeding on seeds of the gramma grass, heads extending up through the snow—this wild crop, Issy, is eagerly looked forward to by all the dwellers in the Mountain Land.

Responding to the rains of the summer very closely, the gramma grass is an index of the amount of moisture received by the land, and is the very picture of pastoral prosperity, and a true thing of beauty as well.

A field of gramma grass, with its little purple banners with lights of rainbow colors faintly showing, is moved by the slightest breeze on its long slender stems. A good breeze blowing across a gramma grass field this time of year remind you of gentle waves on a lake of purple water.

And today, September nine, in mid-afternoon, the stems of this favorite grass are one and one-half to two feet tall, with still many days to grow. And down under these waving little banners, the blades are a mass of glowing new green and emerald.

The little flagpoles, trimmed on the lower edges with the green and golden fringes of pollen—sacred in the Apache tradition as the benediction of a bountiful year—wave gently over the late summer fields, little pennants of a victorious growing season, little gladsome flags celebrating glorious summer in the hills.

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 64-24
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 12-4-12.1 OF THE 1983 UNIFORM TRAFFIC ORDINANCE RELATING TO DWI AND ADDING A NEW SECTION 12-4-12.1. THE PROVISIONS OF THIS ORDINANCE RELATING TO MANDATORY FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND REPEALING ORDINANCE 64-24 AS AMENDED BY THE GOVERNING BODY OF THE VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO.

Section 1, Paragraphs K, P, and S of Section 12-4-12.1 of the 1983 Uniform Traffic Ordinance, as amended, is hereby amended to read:

K. If the blood of the person tested contains: (1) five one-hundredths of one percent or more by weight of alcohol, it shall be presumed that the person is under the influence of intoxicating liquor; (2) more than five one-hundredths of one percent but less than one-tenth of one percent by weight of alcohol, no presumption shall be made that the person is under the influence of intoxicating liquor. However, the amount of alcohol in the person's blood may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor; (3) one-tenth of one percent or more by weight of alcohol, the arresting officer shall charge him with a violation of this section.

L. If the blood of the person tested contains at least a plus of guilty to Subsection A of this section, and no other disposition by plea of guilty to any other offense in violation of this Ordinance shall be authorized if the results of a test performed pursuant to the Implied Consent Act discloses that the blood of the person charged contains at least a plus of guilty to Subsection A of this section, the person shall be held in custody for a period of 24 hours, unless the person is released by a court of law.

M. If a person under arrest for violation of an offense enumerated in the Motor Vehicle Code refuses upon request of a law enforcement officer to submit to a test for the presence of alcohol or chemical tests as provided in Section 12-4-12.1B and C, a person shall be administered, except when a municipal judge, magistrate or district judge issues a search warrant authorizing chemical tests, a test for the presence of alcohol or C, upon his finding in a law enforcement officer's written affidavit that there is probable cause to believe that the person has driven a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, a chemical test as provided in Section 12-4-12.1B and C will produce material evidence in a felony prosecution, (66-8-111 NMSA 1978 as amended).

N. A new Section 12-4-12.1E is added to read as follows:

12-4-12.1E. MANDATORY FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY. A. Every owner or operator of a vehicle subject to the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code shall carry evidence of financial responsibility, as defined in the Act and in this Ordinance, in the vehicle at all times when the vehicle is operated on the streets, public ways and highways of the municipality.

B. "Evidence of Financial Responsibility", as used in this Ordinance, means evidence of the ability to respond in damages for liability on account of accidents occurring subsequent to the effective date of the evidence, arising out of the ownership, maintenance or use of a vehicle of a type subject to registration under the laws of New Mexico. Evidence of financial responsibility includes a motor vehicle liability policy, a certified motor vehicle liability policy, a surety bond or evidence of a cash deposit with the state treasurer in the amount of $25,000.

(1) Twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident.

(2) Ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) because of injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident.

(3) Evidence is in the form of a surety bond or a cash deposit with the state treasurer, the total amount shall be sixty thousand dollars ($60,000.00).

C. Exemptions. Exemptions from the mandatory financial responsibility provisions of this Ordinance are the following:

(1) a motor vehicle owned by the United States government, any state or any political subdivision of a state;

(2) an implement of husbandry or special mobile equipment which is only incidentally used on the streets or highways within the limits of the municipality;

(3) a motor vehicle operated upon a street or highway within the limits of the municipality only for the purpose of crossing such street or highway from one property to another;

(4) a commercial motor vehicle registered or proportionally registered in New Mexico and any other jurisdiction, provided such motor vehicle is covered by a motor vehicle liability policy or certified motor vehicle liability policy or other form of financial responsibility in compliance with the laws of any other jurisdiction in which it is registered.

(5) commercial motor vehicle approved as self-insured by the State Corporation Commission.

D. The Division of Motor Vehicles of the Transportation Department of the State of New Mexico shall have the right to inspect any person violating the provisions of this Ordinance.

E. Penalty. Any person found guilty of violating this Ordinance shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or imprisoned for a definite term not to exceed 30 days, or both by such fine and imprisonment; provided however, that no person charged with violating this Ordinance shall be convicted if he produces in court evidence of financial responsibility at the time of issuance of the citation. (66-8-201 NMSA 1978 as amended).

Section 3, Ordinance 64-24 is hereby repealed with the repeal to become effective when this Ordinance becomes effective.

PASSED, APPROVED AND ADOPTED THIS 28th day of August, 1984.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING CHAPTER 2, ARTICLE 2 OF THE RUIDOSO MUNICIPAL CODE MAKING THE DECISIONS OF THE PLANNING AND ZONING COMMISSION CONCERNING SUBDIVISIONS, RESUBDIVISIONS AND VARIANCES FINAL UNLESS APPEALED FROM.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE GOVERNING BODY OF THE VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO, THAT THE PROVISIONS OF THIS ORDINANCE ARE HEREBY AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

1. That the provisions of Section 2-3-14, Subsection E (Planning and Zoning Ordinance) are hereby amended to read as follows:

B. The Commission shall approve or disapprove a plan within sixty-five (65) days of the date of final submission of the plan. If the Commission does not act within sixty-five (65) days, the plan is deemed to be approved and upon demand, the Commission shall approve the plan. The person seeking approval of the plan may waive this requirement and agree to an extension of the three month period for review for disapproval. A plan shall be entered in the minutes of the Commission. The decision of the Commission shall be final unless written notice of appeal to the Governing Body is filed within fifteen (15) days of mailing to the applicant written notification of the decision of the Commission. When the fifteenth (15th) day falls on a Saturday, Sunday or a legal holiday for employees of the Village, the following day shall be considered the closing date for appeal. The written notice of appeal shall be filed in duplicate with the Planning and Zoning Enforcement Officer on the appropriate forms and shall set forth specifically wherein the Commission erred in its determination. Upon receipt of an appeal, the Governing Body shall, at its next regularly scheduled meeting, set a date for hearing the appeal. The Governing Body may hear the appeal at its next regularly scheduled meeting. The concurring vote of a majority of all members of the Governing Body shall be required to overrule the decision of the Commission.

2. That the provisions of Section 2-3-17, Subsection A(1) (Planning and Zoning Ordinance) are hereby amended to read as follows:

B. The Commission shall approve or disapprove an application for a variance from the strict application of any height or setback requirements. Each application for a variance from the strict application of any height or setback requirements shall be accompanied by a plan and other necessary drawings or photographs which indicate the design, and nature of the proposed variance. The Commission shall approve or disapprove an application for a variance within sixty-five (65) days of the final submission of the application. If the Commission does not act within sixty-five (65) days, the application is deemed to be approved, and upon demand, the Commission shall approve the application. The Commission shall be required to overrule the decision of the Commission. When the fifteenth (15th) day falls on a Saturday, Sunday or a legal holiday for employees of the Village, the following day shall be considered the closing date for appeal. Copies may be obtained at the Village of Ruidoso by depositing $50.00 per set, which deposit will be refunded if they are returned in good condition within 15 days after the opening of bids.

A non-refundable mailing fee of $10.00 per set will be required for mailing.

Each bid shall be submitted on a form furnished as part of the contract documents and must be accompanied by a cashier's check, a certified check, or a bidder's bond in an amount not less than 10% of the amount of the bid made payable to the order of or for the benefit of the Village of Ruidoso. Each bid shall be sealed and delivered to the Village of Ruidoso at the location designated in this notice for the opening of bids at or before the time in this notice specified. The check or bond shall be given as guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract with the Village of Ruidoso and furnish the required payment and performance bonds and certificates of insurance and endorsements if awarded the work, and will be declared forfeited if the bidder refuses to timely enter into said contract or furnish the required bonds or certificates of insurance and endorsements if his bid is accepted.

It will be the sole responsibility of the prime bidders requesting consideration for Resident Preference at bid openings to have a certification of preference from the State of New Mexico in approval of their bid prior to the receipt of bids and which is included on the bid form. When bids are received only from nonresident and resident contractors and the lowest responsible bid is from a nonresident contractor, the contract shall be awarded to the resident contractor whose bid is nearest to the bid of the otherwise low nonresident contractor. If the bid price of the resident contractor is made lower than the bid price of the nonresident contractor when multiplied by a factor of ninety-five one-hundredths.

The Village Council has obtained from the Chief of the Labor and Industrial Bureau of New Mexico a determination of the general prevailing rate of local wages and overtime work in the locality in which said work is to be performed for each craft, classification, or type of worker needed. Not less than the minimum rates set on file with all workers employed in the performance of the contract. Such rates of wages are on file with the Labor and Industrial Bureau and in the office of the Village Council and are available to any interested person upon request.

The Village Council reserves the right to select the schedule(s) under which the bids are to be compared and contract(s) awarded, to reject any and all bids, and to waive any and all irregularity in any bid.

LEGAL NOTICE

16.1 VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION ACT OF 1973
Section 24
The Ruidoso Board of Education guarantees equal educational rights for all properly identified school age exceptional students residing within the district, and to protect the rights of handicapped individuals regarding equal employment opportunity as is projecting in Section 504 of the U.S. Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

16.111 Employment
The Ruidoso Municipal Schools' administrative staff has not and will not knowingly discriminate against any otherwise qualified prospective employee solely on the basis of a physical handicap or mental handicap.

16.2 Facilities
No qualified handicapped student has been or will be denied access to a proper education setting, provided he/she meets entrance requirements established by both state and federal educational authorities.

16.22223. Existing facilities are readily accessible to handicapped persons, or can readily be made so accessible by the use of aids, which conform with state building codes, accessibility. Any planned alteration for existing buildings will include provisions for accessibility for handicapped persons.

16.4 Educational Program
An on-going outreach program is conducted in order to identify and locate any qualified handicapped individual who is or will be of school age. Local community service groups are given verbal presentations of their availability for the school age handicapped as well as regional and state service availability.

16.43 Free appropriate public education
General. A recipient that operates a public elementary or secondary education program shall provide a free appropriate public education to each qualified handicapped person who is in the recipient's jurisdiction, regardless of the nature or severity of the handicap.

B. Appropriate education. (1) For the purpose of this subpart, the provision of regular or special education and related aids and services that (i) are designed to meet the individual educational needs of handicapped persons as adequately as the needs of non-handicapped persons are met and (ii) are based upon adherence to procedures that satisfy the requirements of 64.34 and 64.36.

(2) Implementation of an individualized education program developed in accordance with the Education of the Handicapped Act is one means of meeting the standard established in paragraph (b) (1) of this section.

(3) A recipient may place a handicapped person in or refer such person to a program other than the one that operates as its means of carrying out the requirements of this subpart. If so, the recipient shall ensure that the requirements of this subpart are met with respect to each handicapped person so placed or referred.

C. Free Education (1) General. For the purpose of this section the provision of a free education is the provision of educational and related services without cost to the handicapped person or to his or her parents or guardian, except for those fees that are imposed on non-handicapped persons or their parents or guardian. It may consist either of the provision of special education and related services to a handicapped person in or refer such person to a program not operated by the recipient as its means of carrying out the requirements of this subpart, or payment for the costs of the program, or a combination of the two. If a recipient places a handicapped person in or refers such person to a program not operated by the recipient as its means of carrying out the requirements of this subpart, or payment for the costs of the program, or a combination of the two, the recipient may be used to meet the requirements of this subpart. Nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve an insurer or similar third party from an otherwise valid obligation to provide or pay for services provided to a handicapped person.

Compliance Officer: Karen Tillman has been designated to coordinate the district's efforts to comply with section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. (25 U.S.C. 1783). The Superintendent has designated Karen Tillman as the person responsible for the administration of all policies regarding the handicapped.

These responsibilities shall include: (1) Preparation of assurances of compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and any further federal/state regulations directly involving handicapped students. (2) Development of all plans and reports required under this policy. (3) Administration of the grievance procedure established under this policy. (4) Administration of the Ruidoso Municipal Schools as outlined in section 3-A of this policy.

Chamber search continues

The search committee of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce has begun reviewing applications and scheduling interviews for the position of executive director.

Meeting Thursday, the committee examined the resumes of two local applicants and decided to ask both to appear for an interview before the committee.

To date, the committee has received 12 applications, the majority of which are from the northwestern and north central states.

The formal motion of soliciting candidates was started last month with the placement of classified ads in newsletters that circulate widely to chambers of commerce.

One such newsletter originated from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce regional office in Minneapolis, Minnesota. It was distributed to chambers in the general northwestern area.

Another ad has been placed with the Dallas regional office, and was published Tuesday, September 4. It is expected to attract applicants from Southern California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and other areas of the Southwest.

The qualifications for the position, as outlined by the committee, include three years of chamber experience, two years at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Institute, and a college education or its equivalent.

The committee has also drawn up a page and a half of official duties the new executive director will be required to fulfill. The list is available from the chamber office.

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—A determined man, with a new, firm hand on the tiller. That's the image of Governor Anaya we were expected to take away from a suddenly called Cabinet meeting earlier this week.

At it, the Governor gave his top appointees a message which boils down to this:

Almost half the time allotted this administration is behind us. So far, I have not been able to accomplish what I want. A large part of that fact is your fault—individually and collectively. It will not be that way from now on. I intend to leave office having made the mark on New Mexico I have always planned. From this day forward, you will work toward that aim or get out.

The meeting was clearly meant to be a watershed in his four-year term, as he made clear by numerous repetitions of his theme of the day, "Enough is enough!"

Enough what? Well, squabbling between Cabinet Secretaries was one thing clearly referred to. That seemed to be exemplified—though this was never clearly stated—by action from Juan Vigil's department to decertify one of the institutions run by Joe Goldberg's department.

As an example of fraternal relations, that's a little like those between Cain and Abel.

Another thing the Governor has evidently had enough of—he was explicit about this—is getting the blame for actions of others.

He used the naming of that sometime presidential applicant to the head job at the University of New Mexico as an example. "Even if I don't give the regents any directions," the Governor said, "I get blamed for doing so. I might as well go ahead and do it, and at least have things go my way."

Those regents at UNM were meeting while the Cabinet was in session, and the Governor was being passed notes reporting their progress—if that is what it can be called.

There were a couple of clear signs that this Cabinet gathering was to announce a departure from the old days and ways which were clear even before the meeting began.

One was that Shirley Scarafioti, usually in the far background during such meetings, was seated at the right hand of the Governor. That made it clear that certain media types who had supposed her power as an aide had been diminished guessed wrong.

Another was that almost every top official in state government had been invited to hear the words and heed them: Steve Reynolds, the state engineer, was there, for instance. So were all three members of the Public Service Commission, Bill Stephens, agriculture secretary, had come up from Las Cruces for the convocation, and so had Harry Zweifel of the Solar Energy Institute.

About the only top-ranker not present was Leonard DeLayo, superintendent of schools. He wasn't invited, evidently because the Governor was displeased that Leonard let slip some details about that hush-hush meeting with those same UNM regents with whom Anaya was feuding.

That all these people heard the message will be clear from the fact that there was no backchat. Most of those present sat like little soldiers and appeared to take their medicine. What they said to one another after they left may be quite another thing.

In his new mood, the Governor has also warned others who do not report directly to him. He dropped a heavy threat on members of the Legislature, whoever they turn out to be.

Here's what he told an Albuquerque reporter: If the Legislature doesn't appropriate sufficient funds to allow the Corrections Department to comply with promises it made concerning prisons, he will consider asking a federal judge to order the money seized from the state treasury.

Imagine with what joy Anaya's adherents in the legislative bodies welcome such talk, metaphorically holding a gun to the heads of lawmakers even before they are given a chance to act.

In Anaya's drive to have things his own way, it would appear that tact and diplomacy may have been the first casualties.

Clipped Comment

Full Study Won't Be Needed
Nearly 20 years of studying should be more than enough to determine the site of one, small airport. But it seems the federal government won't be satisfied until one, last study is made concerning Ruidoso airport.

The battle to decide an airport site has been long and hard. It finally was narrowed this year to two choices—Site A, a combination of federal, state and private lands, and Site B on Fort Stanton Mesa, where New Mexico State University is conducting range land studies. Naturally, NMSU officials preferred Site A, so experiments would not be disturbed, but when private land owners announced intentions of developing part of the Site A land, Site B was the obvious solution.

After a wrangle, which Sen. Pete Domenici entered to calm the waters, officials were reaching a satisfactory resolution with a suggestion that NMSU be compensated for its lost experimental land. All the details were being worked out when the U.S. Interior and Transportation departments announced plans to conduct a full-scale environmental impact statement of the proposed sites—an assessment some New Mexico officials say may take up to two years.

Why, after 20 years of studies, does the government feel a full assessment might be necessary? It would be understandable if the government just wanted to update the earlier environmental assessments—a move Gov. Toney Anaya says he expected.

Fortunately, under federal guidelines, an assessment could be sufficient study—if it shows there is no significant impact. A detailed study only may be necessary if sufficient environmental impact is indicated from preliminary tests, according to a Department of Transportation official.

Thus, the problem may be resolved sooner than Ruidoso and New Mexico officials think. Twenty years of study already has produced the best possible site. Government officials should discover that after the preliminary assessment is completed.

Editorial

"Deplorable" is too good a word to describe the condition of the county stretch of Carrizo Creek Road. "Disgraceful" is better.

People who drive the road regularly learn where the potholes are and carefully avoid them. People who drive it once in a while but remember the potholes also exercise caution.

People who forget get their memory jolted soon enough. But what about the people who are driving the road for the first time?

Imagine visitors driving up through Mescalero to stay at the Inn of the Mountain Gods, then coming into Ruidoso to do some shopping or sightseeing. Their first impression of our fair village probably will be a bone-jarring, vehicle-damaging run-in with one of those potholes.

The problem is one of safety as well. Swerving, loss of control, and just plain anger at what the road does to one's car could contribute to a serious accident. School buses use the road, too.

One amazing thing about this particular road problem is that it has gone on for so long. County officials have dragged their feet in working out joint powers agreements with the Village of Ruidoso to maintain Carrizo Creek and Gavilan Canyon roads.

Does this reflect an anti-Ruidoso, anti-Mescalero bias on the part of the county commissioners? When you keep hitting those potholes year after year, it kinda makes you wonder.—TP

Reporter's Round

by Darrell Pehr

Your best friend ran away with your wife last night. This morning there is no milk in the refrigerator so you can't have any breakfast. While getting ready for work you find that all the clothes are wrinkled. Hurriedly you begin to iron a pair of slacks, but the phone rings. You rush to the phone—it is your wife calling from Las Vegas. She has all the credit cards and informs you she has emptied the bank accounts.

You slam down the receiver in disgust. Returning to the ironing table, you find your pants are completely burnt through where you left the iron.

You put on another pair of wrinkled pants and begin to search for your shoes. You discover someone let the cat in the house and she has "done her business" in one of your Florsheim wingtips. After a quick clean-up, you begin to put them on, but you break a shoelace. You leave the house, but the car won't start, so you jog to work, with one shoe flapping on and off your foot like a flat tire.

You're late for work, so the boss fires you. It hasn't been a good day so far.

On the way home from work, you're nearly run over while crossing the street by a commuter who is late for his job. While diving from the path of his speeding car, your half-laced shoe flies off and falls down a storm drain, never to be seen again.

One-shoed, you continue to stagger along the sidewalk, but a loose, vicious dog whose owner doesn't believe in animal control attacks you and tears one leg of your $110, wrinkled slacks. You try to kick the dog, but your shoeless foot has little effect.

A passing police officer sees you kick the dog and arrests you for animal cruelty. Seeing your disheveled appearance, he also arrests you for disorderly conduct. In an attempt to soften him up, you tell the officer you just got fired, your wife ran away and you have no money.

He arrests you for vagrancy. On the way to the police station, you hear on the police scanner that your house is burning out of control. You must have left the iron on.

After some delay, you bail out of jail with the $50 you had in your wallet, the last money to your name. You have only the clothes on your back and a car that won't start.

Rounding the corner to your burnt-down house, you find yourself face-to-face with the same dog that attacked you earlier.

You run for the safety of a nearby tree in your neighbor's yard. Climbing quickly, you are soon out of reach of the belligerent canine. After an hour in the branches, you see the dog is still guarding the foot of the tree, so you decide to try to climb from the tree to the roof of your neighbor's adjacent house.

A solid-looking branch of the tree arches over the edge of the roof of the house. You climb to the branch, position yourself carefully, and drop to the roof. A shingle gives way and you slide down the pitched roof to the edge.

Just before falling over the edge, you manage to grab the storm gutter with one hand. That end of the gutter gives way, and you swing down across the side of the house.

Fortunately, you come to rest hanging from the end of the gutter facing the upstairs bathroom window, which is open. Unfortunately, Mrs. Pittaluga, the owner of the house, is bathing at the time. Just as you reach one hand to the window sill, she screams, slams the window shut and calls the police. She has never liked you.

When the same officer who arrested you earlier arrives, he finds you hanging from the end of the storm gutter with one hand. Your other hand is still trapped in the bathroom window. It is 30 feet to the ground. Things don't look good.

You release the gutter and try to wedge the window open with your other hand. The weight of your body pulls the window from its frame and you fall, window and all.

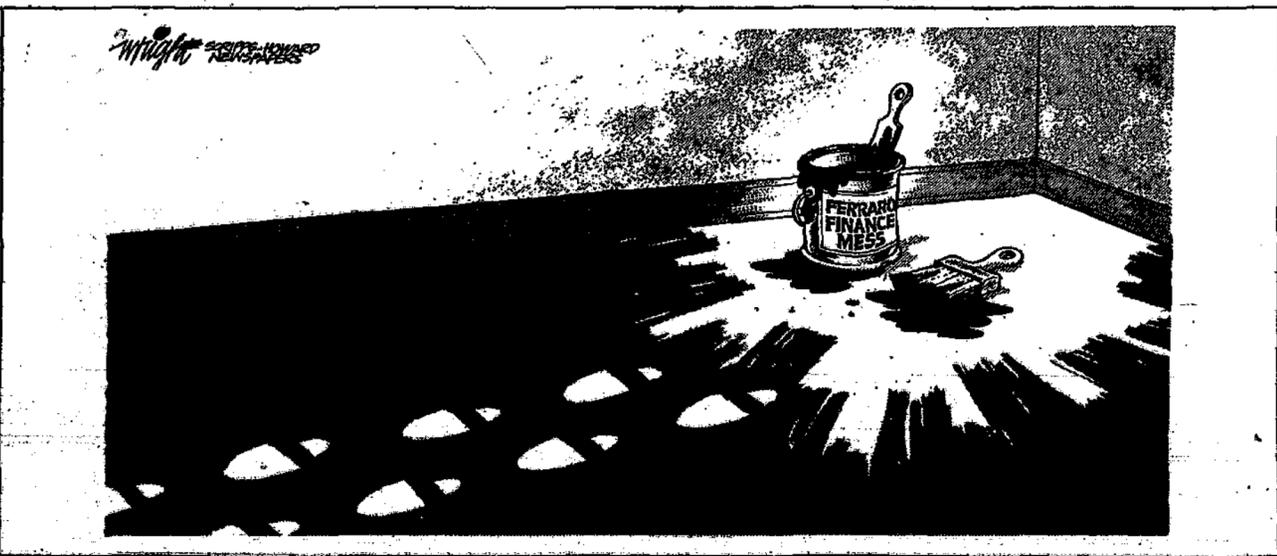

The police officer and Mrs. Pittaluga attempt to catch you, but your remaining wingtip shoe strikes Mrs. Pittaluga on the forehead and renders her unconscious. The police officer arrests you for assault.

After bailing out of jail with the travelers check you found buried in a remote corner of your wallet, you begin again to walk home. You are now truly penniless, one foot is bare and the other shod by a wingtip with no heel (it was dislodged when it came in contact with Mrs. Pittaluga).

Your pants are torn and wrinkled, and your hand is still caught in the window frame. You have no home, no wife and a car that won't start.

Nearly home, you begin to cautiously cross the street to your house. You are halfway across when a driverless, runaway bus bears down on you at a tremendous rate of speed. You try to run, but the window frame slows you down and the bus clips you just before crashing into your car that wouldn't start. The bus and your car explode in a ball of fire and black smoke.

Immobilized in the midst of the charred remains of your house, you begin to despair. Suddenly, the smoke begins to part, the flames recede and a ray of sunshine brightens the undamaged side of the bus. There is a message there, you see—an advertisement posted on the bus. You strain to read it... the smoke dissipates and you see it clearly... it is a smiling face with words beside it. They read "Things could be worse, have a nice day!"

THE RUIDOSO LODGERS ASSOCIATION has changed its meeting time to noon Tuesday, September 11. The lodgers will gather at Two Rivers Park for lunch.

The lunch is BYOM, or bring your own meal. Fires will be provided. The regular meeting after the meal will feature Magistrate Judge Jim Wheeler. He will present a program, "Services of the Magistrate Judge to Lodgers." In case of rain, the lodgers will meet at 2 p.m. in the Ruidoso Public Library.

The RUIDOSO SCHOOL FOR GYMNASTICS AND CREATIVE FITNESS plans an open meeting for parents and friends of the gymnastics program at 7 p.m. Tuesday, September 11, in the Nob Hill Elementary School cafeteria. Free baby-sitting will be provided. For more information, call 378-4661.

Wednesday, September 12

The Ruidoso National Federated WOMAN'S CLUB plans a noon salad luncheon for its first meeting of the fall-winter season. The luncheon is scheduled in the Woman's Club Building along Evergreen Road on Wednesday, September 12. Members of the program committee will present the program theme, "Come Fly With Us To Evergreen Road," as a skit, "Hot Air." The regular business meeting will begin at 1:30 p.m.

MARY JANE FERGUSON Carrizozo woman competes at fair

Mary Jane Ferguson will represent Lincoln County in the 1985 New Mexico State Fair Queen contest. The 18-year-old New Mexico State University freshman is the daughter of Anne and Wally Ferguson of Carrizozo. She is studying agricultural education. Ferguson is the 1984 Lincoln County Fair Queen. She will ride a five-year-old quarter horse named Bo in the mounted portions of the state queen contest. Judging is based 60 percent on horsemanship and 40 percent on personality. Women who compete must be single between the ages of 16 and 21 and must be permanent residents of the counties they represent.

Candidates speak to GOP women

Nine area candidates spoke at an informal gathering of Republican women recently. Members of the Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County (FRWLC) and the Chaves County Republican Women (CCRW) attended the meeting in the home of Fred and Penta Pool in Honda. Club members and guests also enjoyed a covered-dish dinner at the second-annual outdoor meeting. "It's our fun meeting of the year," said Dorothy Smith, FRWLC president. In place of a business meeting, club members read announcements. Lincoln County Republican Chairman Pat Hume reported on the progress of voter registration. Yvonne Lanelli announced the planned state board meeting of the New Mexico Federation of Republican Women. It is scheduled in Ruidoso Friday and Saturday, September 7 and 8. Lanelli, Pool, Smith, and CCRW President Pat Glenn are board members. Candidates also spoke informally. Those speaking included Ben Hall, candidate for state representative in District 56, and Richard Parsons, candidate for district judge in Division III. Other candidates were Rhoda Goodloe, a candidate for Chaves County clerk; Richard T. (Dick) Knowles, a candidate for state representative in District 57; and Robert T. Corn, a candidate for state representative in District 59. Also speaking were Fran Siddens, a candidate for Lincoln County clerk, and Marian Schlarb, a candidate for Lincoln County assessor. Additional candidates were A. W. Gnatowski, running for Lincoln County commissioner in District 2, and James Lee Martin, running for the state Senate in District 39. The next FRWLC meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, September 25. For further information, call Dorothy Smith at 354-2499 or Dorothy Barber at 258-3348.

Pioneer really wants you to do some checking!
Because our Action Checking Account can't be beat.
FREE CHECKING
When it comes to picking a checking account you really should do some checking around. Some banks can charge you as much as $100.00 a year for their checking services. But at Pioneer, we don't think you should have to pay us for the privilege to do your checking. At Pioneer we give you free checking with a minimum balance of just $200 with our Action Checking Account. Now Check A Little Closer!
5-1/4% INTEREST PAID ON ENTIRE BALANCE
Most banks offer their customers checking and interest-bearing accounts. Often, the only way to earn interest is with a substantial minimum balance, but with the Pioneer Action Account, even if your minimum balance should fall below $200, we still pay you 5-1/4% interest on every cent in your account.

After cooling and an initial cleaning, bronzes can look like Klinekole II. Robert Harrison named his portrayal of a straight dancer for Bruce Klinekole II of Mesalero.

Towering men in rough shirts sweated to Bronze in Buldoso. Dick Hall, left, and Ernie more than 2000 degrees Fahrenheit. Walter Rawley helps and gives directions.

Pouring bronze

"We not only put on a good show, we do some pretty good bronze work, too," said Walter Rawley of Crucis Art Bronze. After hours of casting works, a final step in the show, above, is pouring left-over metal into an ingot mold. The ingots will be used again at the next Crucis casting. During the last one, on the Sunday morning before Labor Day, workers began by heating bronze. The carbon crucible, center, was placed in the furnace pictured behind it. Natural gas and a fan for the furnace sounded like a heavy-duty vacuum cleaner when they were in use. As in a car engine, the air and gas must be mixed precisely for best results. While the metal was heated, the white shells at lower right were warmed in a nearby barrel. Air shimmered over the barrel of molds and over the furnace during the warm summer day. When green gas escaped from the furnace, the metal was hot enough. Workers skimmed off gooey impurities, then quickly poured the metal into the shells, or molds. When the bronze cooled too much, it was reheated for another batch. Rawley tries to pour 60 to 80 pieces during a day, depending on factors including weather. Foundry workers wear leggings and treated mitts to protect themselves from stray metal. "One drop of that on top of your shoe, and you couldn't get your shoe off fast enough," said Ernie Roche. The bronze is hotter than 2000 degrees Fahrenheit during the process and looks like orange drink.

Photos by C.E. Reutter

Artists, art collectors and Buldoso residents climbed steps and stumps to peer at the bronze pouring, including the father and daughter at far left. People who want to watch the next one may call Crucis Art Bronze for information. At left, Robert Harrison hammers away the mold from a casting of his "Klinekole II." The shell, formally called an investment, is made of a silicon mixture. The same material is used in the nose cone of the space shuttle, Harrison said. Hardened metal like his work must cool for hours before it can be handled. After workers remove the cooled investment, they grind and polish the art. A patina can be added using acid.

Soap Beat

An explosive Zeller makes mayhem on 'AMC'

By Nancy M. Reichardt

What does a quiet-spoken chemical engineer have in common with soap operas? Well, if you're Gary Zeller, it's making monsters and arranging for people to fly through the air. It's explosives, fires and almost any other kind of mayhem a movie maker or TV producer wants.

Zeller, who's known to insiders as the "explosives" man, engineered the recent ski machine explosion on "All My Children" that claimed the life of Jenny Nelson (Kim Delaney), and the raging inferno which brought business at "AMC"'s Steam Pit disco to a screeching halt. Zeller's other credits include special effects for such films as "Silkwood," "Ragtime," "Wolfen," "Amityville II" and the soon-to-be released "Cotton Club." Zeller is also a certified plastics engineer who creates all kinds of sculptures and molds of creatures.

"I like to combine creativity with technology," says Zeller, a native New Yorker who majored in theater arts at the University of Miami. "This is a dangerous business. There's always the unforeseen. The important thing is safety. We have to see to it that the cast and crew are kept out of harm's way."

Zeller explained that the ski explosion on "AMC" was carefully calculated so that no one would be injured. Stunt woman-actress Sandy Richman triggered the blast herself with two switches on the handlebars of the ski machine, which in turn set off two cannons mounted on and welded to the machine. The fiberglass body of the ski machine was carefully pre-cut so that the debris flew high into the air over a radius of 200 feet on Star Lake in Passaic County, N.J., where the taping took place. As planned by Zeller, Miss Richman fell safely backward from the ski machine and then swam to shore after the explosion with a smile of accomplishment on her face.

Rigging a stunt, explains Zeller, "is a coordinated effort between stunt people and special-effects people. It's a combined effort. I discuss the steps of preparation, communications and the shopwork over the course of two months."

Television Schedule For The Week Of September 10 Through September 16

Bono's Astro-View

© By Lillian Bono

ARIES
(March 21-April 20) Quietly take stock of your life and be sober about it. Others will assist you with problems that have been heavy on your shoulders of late.

TAURUS
(April 21-May 21) It's to your advantage to make inquiries into someone's background before getting involved. You could be biting off more than you can comfortably chew. Be creative this week with your work.

GEMINI
(May 22-June 21) Your cheerful mood could be catchy as you draw new friends to your side. Being a live wire will help to improve someone's disposition and could even save your home situation.

CANCER
(June 22-July 23) A job assignment could bring more responsibilities than you are willing to assume. Profitable activities are about to play an important role in your everyday life, so take advantage of opportunities now.

LEO
(July 24-Aug. 23) If you've been waiting for a job offer, now is the time to take a good one that comes your way. Health concerns could cloud your thoughts but should not become paramount.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24-Sept. 23) A message buoy's your spirits and gives you the incentive to face a difficult week. You could be taking a trip to a far-off place that gives you a financial boost.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24-Oct. 23) Chores yield profitable benefits if handled properly. You could turn a hobby into a moneymaking situation.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24-Nov. 23) If you have recently broken up with a friend, this person will soon get the message that you are worth your weight in gold. A love affair that was supposedly dead comes alive again.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A new romantic attraction could interfere with your work or educational projects. Be creative but down-to-earth when it comes to people who can't make up their minds about you and your future aims.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22-Jan. 20) An idea that has been gathering dust should be taken out of obscurity and brought back to life. Your social life picks up and it could set the stage for some romantic interludes that you may not be able to keep up with.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21-Feb. 19) This week promises excellent trends in all areas of life. You have some money dealings that will flourish and take the sting off of problem areas that have been building up. Pay bills promptly.

PISCES
(Feb. 20-March 20) You may find it difficult to get through to other people now as your ideas aren't clear or precise. Make up your mind that creativity isn't enough to keep you in the limelight; common sense is also important.

Movie Week

SUNDAY

(NBC) SUNDAY NIGHT MOVIE

"MIAMI VICE" (1984) Starring Don Johnson and Phillip Michael Thomas. High-voltage action crackles through the electric avenues of Miami, as two decidedly different vice detectives join forces to pursue a dangerous Colombian drug kingpin who has murdered someone close to each of them. (Preview of new series.)

(CBS) SUNDAY NIGHT MOVIE

"SOME KIND OF HERO" (1982) Starring Richard Pryor and Margot Kidder. A Vietnam veteran (Pryor), who survived six years as a prisoner of war, finds that surviving civilian life is more of a problem than he anticipated.

TUESDAY

(NBC) TUESDAY NIGHT MOVIE

"HUNTER" (1984) Starring Fred Dryer and Stephanie Kramer. Detective Sgt. Rick Hunter (Dryer) teams with Detective Sgt. Dee Dee McCall (Miss Kramer) in an attempt to solve a series of vicious, seemingly unrelated homicides involving women. (Preview of new series.)

WEDNESDAY

(CBS) WEDNESDAY NIGHT MOVIE

"THE CANNONBALL RUN" (1981) Starring Burt Reynolds, Roger Moore, Farrah Fawcett, Dom DeLuise, Dean Martin and Sammy Davis Jr. It's an all-star drive cross country, and one of Reynolds' most popular efforts.

FRIDAY

(CBS) FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE

"BURNING RAGE" (1984) Starring Barbara Mandrell and Tom Wopat. Miss Mandrell makes her dramatic television debut as a government geologist, who, while investigating raging fires in abandoned coal mines in a town in Tennessee, finds herself facing a corrupt and deadly system.

(NBC) FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE

"TIME BOMB" (1983) Starring Morgan Fairchild and Billy Dee Williams. An action-adventure film about a hijack attempt against a super-sophisticated armored vehicle carrying "the deadliest cargo in the world" nuclear-weapons — grade plutonium.
