Artesia snaps RHS string

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

A rugged Artesia Bulldog team put a temporary halt to the Ruidoso High School varsity football team's Cinderella 1984 story as the Warriors lost a 23-6 decision to the visitors Friday night.

Artesia scored on the game's fourth play from scrimmage and never trailed in the non-district contest. The Ruidoso Warriors are now 5-1-1 overall (1-0 in district), as are the defending state AAA-division champion Bulldogs. Still, the Warriors have already clinched their first winning season in three years.

On the Bulldogs' first possession, quarterback Bobby Ballew broke through a hole in the Warrior line and ran 55 yards for a touchdown. Jonas Pitt kicked the extra point and Artesia led 7-0 before many of the spectators had even taken their seats.

After a Warrior drive stalled at the Artesia 39, the Bulldogs came back and drove 61 yards in six plays for their second score.

All Artesia's yardage in the drive (and the game) came on the ground. Fullback Tom Harvey busted over from the 11 for the second score. Pitt's extra point attempt was wide to the left and Artesia led 13-0.

The Warriors came back on the next series and scored their only touchdown. Ruidoso drove 83 yards in seven plays, with a 40-yard pass play from quarterback Russell Easter to Brian Davis that put the ball on the Bulldog 27 being the big play.

From there, tailback Michael Williamson and fullback Manuel Montano shared ball-carrying duties to the 10. Montano then busted through the Artesia line for the score. Chuck Jarrell's extra point kick was no good and Artesia led 13-6 with 10:49 left in the second quarter.

Later in the quarter, the Warrior defense had probably its best goal line stand in several seasons.

Artesia running back Roy Gabaldon had run to the Warrior four. From there, the Bulldogs had a first and goal.

Harvey gained two yards up the middle, but Artesia did not get much farther than that. Three more running plays netted about a yard and a half as the Warrior defense rose to the occasion and stopped the Bulldog threat.

Harvey injured his leg on one of the plays and did not play much in the second half. That took something out of the Bulldog defense, but Artesia had too many weapons for the young Warriors.

On the first series of the second half, Easter ran for 24 yards on a keeper to put the Warriors on their own 41. But the drive stalled there and Artesia took over.

The visitors added their final touchdown after a 45-yard drive late in the third quarter.

Shaun Standard ran for seven yards to score the touchdown and end the drive. Gabaldon then ran in for the two-point conversion.

Artesia added its final two points late in the final period when the Bulldogs tackled Williamson in the end zone.

Despite the loss, Ruidoso moved the ball well. The Warriors gained 121 yards passing and 167 yards on the ground for a 287-yard total, four yards above their seasonal average.

Easter completed 10 of 21 passes for all the Warriors' air yardage. He also threw one interception, only his second of the season.

Artesia finished with 292 yards, all on the ground. Gabaldon led the Bulldog attack with 119 yards.

Defensively, the Warriors had several bright moments. Besides the goal line stand, Mitch Mullican recovered a fumble for the Warriors. Patric Pearson and Davis also did well defensively.

While disappointed with his team's loss, Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson found one reason to be proud of the Ruidoso defense.

"That was an outstanding goal line stand," he said. "However, you can't say we played well defensively overall when you give up a 55-yard touchdown run."

Ruidoso will now return to the District 3-AAA wars when the Warriors host Cobre Friday night. Cobre blanked Hot Springs 7-0 last Friday. The Warriors defeated Hot Springs 15-8 last week.

NOTES: The Warrior coaches named Easter offensive player of the week. Davis the top defensive player. Ryan Frost the kickoff team player and Jeff Maxwell the top scout team player.

Blood drive at hospital this Friday

Volunteers in Ruidoso are spreading a strong plea for blood donations this week.

Representatives of United Blood Services will accept donations at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, October 26.

Their goal this time is 125 pints of blood. Even with three blood drives a year, people in Ruidoso use more blood than they donate.

The area is overdrawn at the regional blood bank, and the situation is getting worse. In 1983, the hospital used 651 more blood components than it supplied, said Dotti Quaid. At the end of September this year, it already had used 725 more components than it supplied.

The hospital auxiliary has sponsored blood drives in October in recent years. In 1982, they attracted 105 donors. In 1983, they received blood from 101 people.

Ruidoso High School also has sponsored blood drives each year. In February 1983, about 115 people gave blood. In March 1984, donors numbered 122.

The 1983 total was 216 donations. In 1984, the high school drive and one at a church in May totalled 200 donations.

At the hospital this week, donations will be scheduled every 20 minutes. People may call 378-4810 for more information or to schedule an appointment.

Parks and Rec looks to Halloween

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

The success of the recent Street Festival and plans for the upcoming Halloween Carnival were discussed at the Thursday meeting of the Village of Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Commission.

Although none of the commission members were present at the meeting, Parks and Recreation Department director Pam Graves reported on several activities of the department.

She reported that the Street Festival, which took place on Saturday of Aspen Festival weekend, went very smoothly. Businesses in the downtown area stayed open until about 5:30 p.m. and crowds were heavy.

"I just think it's really going to grow," Graves said of the Street Festival. She predicted the festival will become a yearly part of the Aspen Festival festivities. Graves said she would like to see some commercial group take advantage of the festival and bring in professional entertainment next year.

Graves said a significant benefit of the Street Festival was that it gave the crowds of people who were there for the chili cookoff something else to do after most of the chili events concluded.

"I can't believe they haven't done it before," she said of the festival. "I'm really excited about it."

Graves also reported on the Halloween carnival, scheduled for 6 to 9 p.m. Wednesday, October 31. She said the carnival, a joint effort between the Parks and Recreation Department and the newly formed Spirit of Ruidoso group, will be at The Gazebo Shopping Center.

Activities planned for the carnival include a costumed monster march through the downtown area, spook house, skeleton sponge throw, balloon dart throw, fortune teller, pumpkin bean bag throw, fishing pond, cat and hoop throw, and hayride. Food and drink will be available through a supper wagon and snack stand.

Cost of the event will be 25 cents per ticket, and each booth will charge one ticket. There will be a separate charge for food and drinks. The event also is planned to feature a bonfire and the appearance of the Great Pumpkin.

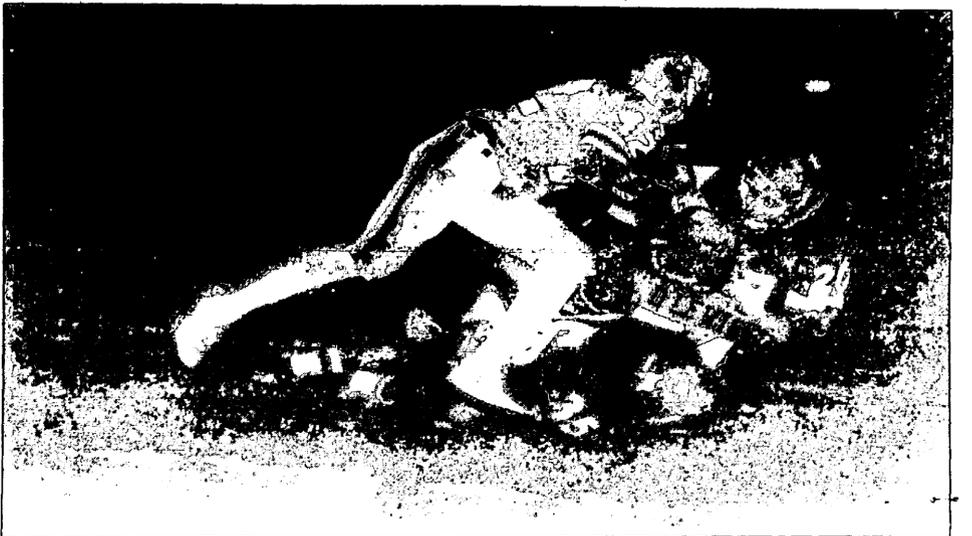

Decorations for the carnival will include tree-ghosts, luminarias and seasonal flags. Plans call for Halloween music and the Jerry Perry Band to play during the event.

Also discussed at the meeting were the programs currently under way at the newly opened Parks and Recreation center on Wingfield Street. Graves reported that classes in gymnastics and other areas are proving to be very successful. Lighting at the center is expected soon.

Progress on the Eagle Creek Sports Complex also took a step forward Thursday afternoon as the Ruidoso Village Council voted to approve a lease with the Eagle Creek Intercommunity Water Supply Association for acquisition of a 22-acre site for softball fields.

Next step in the process is to get approval from members of the Eagle Creek board of directors of an addendum to the lease added by the council. It clarifies ownership of planned improvements on the site.

The Parks and Recreation Commission next is scheduled to meet Thursday, November 15.

Council takes next step for Painted Lady bonds

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Village Council voted during a special meeting Thursday to pass an industrial revenue bonds (IRB) inducement resolution for the Painted Lady Square hotel project.

That resolution is the second in many steps toward the sponsorship by the village of the issuance of IRBs by Gary Hall, Melinda Hall and Tommy Morel of H. H. & M. Enterprises, the group behind the project.

At an earlier special meeting of the council Monday morning, the councillors voted to send a letter indicating an "expression of intent" to apply for IRBs to the state Department of Finance and Administration.

According to Morel, the deadline for the inducement resolution was Friday, October 19, instead of Friday, October 26, as earlier thought. This necessitated the Thursday special meeting.

Councillors questioned Gary Hall and Morel for over an hour during the Thursday meeting about details of the project and the IRBs needed for funding.

A primary concern was whether the exact location of the project had to be spelled out in the inducement resolution. At Councillor Sherman Atwood's question, Morel said location of the project would be along the north side of Sudderth Drive, somewhere between Casey's Cabins and Aspen Interiors.

Morel was asked if the project would be located at the site of the old Chris' Lounge, at Center Street and Sudderth Drive.

"That is exactly where we want to put it," he replied. Morel and Hall indicated that they were reluctant to name an exact location, since needed land transactions to acquire a site for the project had not yet occurred.

Later in the meeting, Atwood again asked the bond seekers whether an exact description of location of the site had to be included in the resolution. Village clerk Leon Eggleston reported that he had spoken directly with state officials about the issue and was told that exact location of the project was necessary.

Hall, however, disagreed, saying that H. H. & M. bonding lawyer Don Monheimer also had spoken with the Department of Finance and Administration officials and had been told exact location was not necessary.

Councillor Ray Dean Carpenter then asked if a change would be made in the location stated in the inducement resolution. Chris' Lounge.

"It's not going to be changed," Morel said.

"This is where we would most like the project to be," Hall added.

Councillors also inquired of the feasibility of the project.

"Does it look good?" Mayor George White asked of the market for sale of the bonds.

"Very," Morel replied. He pointed out the attractiveness investors will see in the tax-exempt status the bonds will have. The two also indicated that investors have been tentatively approached who have the ability to buy the bonds "in million-dollar lots."

"If we didn't feel like we could sell these bonds we wouldn't be here today," Hall said.

Atwood also questioned village attorney Lee Huckstep on ramifications the village may feel from sponsorship of the issuance of the bonds.

Huckstep affirmed the councillor's belief that the village would incur no financial liability from issuance of the bonds. Atwood also asked if the village's ability to issue other bonds, such as general obligation and revenue bonds, would be affected if the project failed.

RAY DEAN CARPENTER

for the project be passed. Attorney Huckstep said such an attached condition would be better oral than in writing, as state officials might balk at accepting the resolution if conditions were attached.

The two groups then orally agreed on such a stipulation, and after a long pause, Councillor Bill Karn made a motion to pass the resolution as written.

"I guess I'll stick my neck out here," he said as he made the motion. Carpenter seconded the motion. The councillors then questioned the exact arrangement between the project and the village, and it was pointed out that the village would actually own the project and lease it to the developer until the bond was paid off.

"That building is just as much the Village of Ruidoso's as village hall is," Huckstep said of the future project.

Councillors John Underwood and Rick Evans chose to abstain from the voting—attorney Underwood because he represents H. H. & M. Enterprises and Evans because he is broker and president of a company that represents property that could be considered for purchase by H. H. & M. Enterprises for the project.

The remaining councillors gave unanimous approval of the resolution. "This is a golden opportunity year for Ruidoso," Morel said of the project.

In other business, the councillors approved a lease with the Eagle Creek Intercommunity Water Supply Association for acquisition of a 22-acre site for the Eagle Creek Sports Complex.

In addition to the lease, the councillors approved an addendum which stipulated that all improvements on the site will be owned by the Village of Ruidoso until expiration of the lease.

Candidates have pie old time Saturday at political supper

by C.E. REUTTER
News Staff Writer

A modern dancer and tots wearing "He's My Grandpa" T-shirts were among more than 110 people at a political pie supper Saturday, October 20.

Republicans and Democrats gathered at the White Mountain schools cafeteria to hear candidates they support demonstrate talents. The pie supper was newly bipartisan this year, and was in Ruidoso for the first time.

The entertainment was an added feature. Candidates delivered speeches, of course, but they also demonstrated talents, or asked supporters to help them. Some sang and played guitar. Others read poetry, told jokes or danced. One woman lip-synched to "Mule Train."

Between the talent presentations, members of the two major political parties auctioned homemade pies. The Republicans and the Democrats split the earnings equally.

Towering Gary Mitchell for the Democrats and diminutive Yvonne Lanelli for the Republicans carefully handled the cream and fruit pastry desserts before selling them to the highest bidders.

As members of the audience watched the auction and talent demonstrations, they picked up political materials scattered generously along the tables.

Red, white and blue were the predominant colors for the political buttons; emery boards carrying slogans; pamphlets; and bumper stickers. Yellow sample ballots spaced along the walls provided an accent. One candidate even distributed chocolate kisses in silver foil with her cards.

Early in the program, a few Democrats who failed to bring six supporters with them had to pay fines to the Republicans. At the end of the program, Travis Elliott led the audience in singing the national anthem.

During the evening, members of the Democratic and Republican women's groups introduced candidates. They had organized the evening together. The women announced candidates in the order their names appear on ballots for the election on Tuesday, November 6.

Talents which candidates and their supporters demonstrated included:

•Wilton Howell telling jokes about his campaign experiences. One town he visited had 87 voters and 487 dogs, he said. Howell is the Democratic candidate for the state senator in District 39.

•Anita Sanders reading poetry she wrote. Sanders is the Democratic candidate for state representative in District 56.

•Ben Hall introducing band members. Hall is the Republican candidate for state representative in District 56.

A four-man band played for both Democrats and Republicans, solo or as a backup group. Guitarists were Travis Elliott, Mark Gray and Quinn Martin, with Dale Darnold playing drums. They selected country and political tunes.

•Norman Bloom introducing his daughter and her husband, Nancy and Frank Wilson. They sang a tongue-in-cheek tune. Bloom is the Democratic candidate for district judge in Division I of the 12th Judicial District.

•Sandra Grisham introducing

Wayne Jordan and Ron Ratkevich. Their tune was, "Thank God I'm a Good Old Boy." Grisham pointed out that she was not such a person. She is the Republican candidate for district judge in Division I of the 12th Judicial District.

•Billy Gene Payne introducing his wife, Mary Ellen Payne. She asked the audience questions, including whether people were from New Mexico, Texas or Oklahoma, and whether they voted in the last election. He is the Democratic candidate for district judge in Division III of the 12th Judicial District.

•Richard Parsons introducing his wife, Judy Parsons. She danced to modern tunes. He is the Republican candidate for district judge in Division III of the 12th Judicial District.

•James J. Weldon humorously describing the difference between Democrats and Republicans. For instance, he said Democrats don't make good polo players. Weldon is the Democratic candidate for district attorney in the 12th Judicial District.

•James "Richie" Askew playing a Johnny Cash song on the guitar and singing. Askew is the Republican candidate for district attorney in the 12th Judicial District.

•Ralph Dunlap spinning a yarn about his politics as he created thread from wool on a spinning wheel. He is the Democratic candidate for Lincoln County commissioner from District 1.

•Pat Ward singing before her supporters demonstrated roping and down-home dancing. She is a write-in candidate for county commissioner from District 1.

•Kenneth Nosker, the Republican candidate in the race, even got up to take a few turns across the dance floor with Fern Sawyer, a Ward supporter.

•Frankie Silva singing and playing guitar. Before he performed, he announced, "Ladies and gentlemen, I'm scared." He is the Democratic candidate for county commissioner in District 2.

•Bill Elliott singing and yodeling with his son Travis. "I can carry a tune if I want to, I just don't feel like it tonight," the candidate quipped. Bill Elliott is unopposed as Democratic candidate for county commissioner in District 3.

•Charlotte Jarratt introducing Barbara Minnick in a drover's costume. Minnick lip-synched while a record of the "Mule Train" song played. Jarratt is the Democratic candidate for county clerk.

•Eran Siddens dancing in a red, white and blue outfit while her brother Bob Marsh strummed the banjo. She carried a "Siddens for Clerk" poster. She is the Republican candidate for that county office.

•Marian L. Schlarb thanking the Democrats for allowing her to run unopposed as the Republican candidate for county assessor.

•Tom Sullivan reciting poetry about being sheriff and other aspects of life. One verse ran something like this: Never pull the kitty's tail, you can't hurt him much like that. If you want to hear him wail, sock him with a baseball bat. He is the Democratic candidate for county sheriff.

•Ernest Sanchez introducing his daughter and five other Hondo Fiesta Dancers, who presented a few numbers. He is the Republican candidate for county sheriff.

During the evening, audience members ate countless slices of every sort of pie while they drank coffee.

Foundation speakers bureau formed

The public relations committee of the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital Foundation has named Mickey McGuire head of a new speakers bureau.

Don Swalander, who chairs the public relations committee, named McGuire to the post.

McGuire said speakers will be available for clubs and organizations in the area. They will carry foundation literature to club members when they make presentations.

The speakers will make no solicitation of financial support of the foundation during meetings, he added.

The speakers bureau committee also will include Sally Avery, Tom Sullivan and Nell Trout.

Council sets special meetings

The Ruidoso Village Council will have two special meetings Tuesday, October 23. The first meeting, scheduled for 7 p.m., will concern a request by Don Dorman for discussion of a letter of credit.

The second meeting, scheduled to follow at 7:30 p.m., will concern public hearings of several appealed or protested planning and zoning items. Those items include:

—A rezone from R-1 to R-2. Tract

A-A, being a part of the SE 1/4, Section 2, T11S, R13E, Ruidoso.

—Abandonment of Center Street between lot 4, block O, and lot 1, block F, Ruidoso Springs subdivision.

—A rezone from R-1 to R-2 of the north 100 feet of lot 6, block 3, First Addition to Cree Meadows Heights subdivision.

—A rezone from R-1 to C-1 of lot 6, block 1, Young Heights subdivision.

Downs trustees set meeting

The Ruidoso Downs Village Council will meet in regular session at 7 p.m. today, October 22, in the municipal building.

Items on the agenda include:

- Computer bids.
- A request from David Sailor to exchange water for water rights.

—A report from the municipal enforcement officer on sewer hookups.

- Discussion of per diem mileage charges.

- A hearing on a community development block grant for street improvements.

- Discussion of a resolution supporting passage of New Mexico Constitutional Amendment 1.

Levy subject of Carrizozo town meeting

The directors of the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital Foundation will host a town meeting at 7 p.m. today (Monday) in the county commissioners' room at the Lincoln County Courthouse.

The subject of the meeting will be the hospital mill levy, which appears on the ballot of the November 6 general election.

Mary Spencer, foundation president, said people's lives may well depend on the outcome of the mill levy vote.

"If our people really want to be knowledgeable about the hospital mill levy," she said, "they can learn firsthand all of the facts. Everyone is invited to attend, receive all the information and ask any questions they wish."

DECA seafood sale this weekend

Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) members at Ruidoso High School plan a Truckload Seafood Sale on Friday and Saturday, October 26 and 27.

Salmon, halibut, walleye, red snapper, cod, scallops, king crab and imitation crab sticks, shrimp, lobster and seafood batter mix are available. Most of the products are from Alaska.

Customers may order seafood in advance and then pay for it when they pick it up in the Gibson's Discount Center parking lot. They also may buy it during the sale.

The Ruidoso club makes a higher profit on advance orders, so members are taking orders now. For information, people may call Eddie Parker at the high school, 256-4910, extension 325. The best time is between 8 and 9 a.m. on a school day.

Prices on most of the seafood are based on weight and tax will be charged. Totals may change without prior notice.

Students will use proceeds from the sale for DECA projects.

From concrete to elegant face-lift

by MATT BOSIBO
News Business Writer

Take a concrete block that's virtually gutted, put up siding, walls and a new floor, rewire the whole thing and give it some accent, and what do you have? A jewelry shop, of course—one with subtle elegance and an affordable mortgage.

Consider the case of Dennis Johnston, owner and operator of Johnston Jewelers. Confined to 100 square feet for his sales area and work area in a small shop in the Ski West Center, Johnston's customers found themselves at close quarters.

"Two people couldn't fit comfortably up front," Johnston said. "I had one customer tell me he would leave so another customer could come into the store."

The shop was so small for his purposes that it wouldn't accommodate a regulation safe to protect the valuables within the shop. Instead, Johnston resorted to storing valuables in his locked bathroom, making it one of the most valuable rooms in town.

He was at that same location for five years before he came across a concrete structure on Sudderth that offered 1,100 square feet of space. The building had previously served as a brass and copper shop.

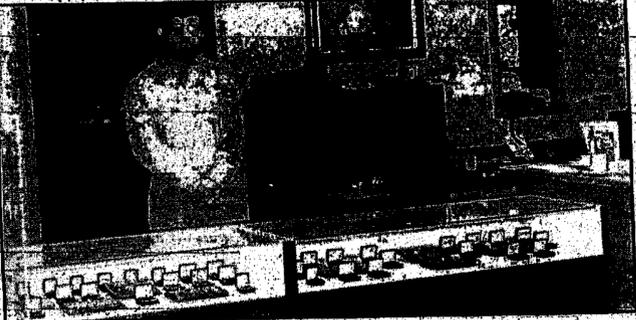

"It was reasonable looking in the front in terms of having a floor that could hold you up," Johnston remembered.

But in back, the floor was laced with holes. And other problems needed attention before it could be turned into a jewelry store.

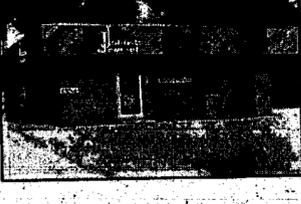

Johnston made a decision that he thinks may have saved him $20,000 in the long run. He bought the building and turned it into an asset with real value appreciation.

In two months time, the building was renovated. A new floor was put in back, and the floor beams rejoined. The electrical system was rewired and a dropped ceiling put in place.

Six- by eight-foot windows were replaced by small display case windows. New sheetrock walls were fitted and wood moldings attached. New carpeting, paint and handmade display cases finished the inside.

Dennis Johnston gazes out from his recently renovated sales area, where two months of effort and vision were turned into a warm, carpeted showroom. The jeweler transformed a concrete building into a redwood-sided success story.

On the outside, redwood siding was nailed to 2x4s that had been power-driven to the concrete. And below the siding, cedar sheets were stretched across the bottom.

"It turned out really good, I thought," Johnston said. "And it's very much more comfortable for people. They can browse."

The cost of the building, the lot and a rental trailer on the lot was $115,000, to which an additional $30,000 was invested in the renovation.

Johnston figured a similar situation and location purchased new would have run him about $165,000.

In terms of security, he has installed a five-foot high-quality safe and a state-of-the-art security detection system.

Johnston moved into the building last month, but he has scheduled his grand opening for tomorrow (Tuesday). Mayor George White is expected to cut the opening ribbon at about noon.

Open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9:30 a.m. to noon Saturday, the store sells and services jewelry, custom jewelry and watches.

Johnston said renovating the worn building was an excellent alternative to building new—one that has resulted in dividends of value appreciation and improvement of an existing structure.

"I think more people should really consider doing the same thing," he said.

Warrior varsity volleyball team loses matches to Tularosa, Deming

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

The Ruidoso High School varsity volleyball team lost a couple of matches over the weekend, which brought mixed feelings from head coach Pixie Arthur.

Thursday night Ruidoso lost in four sets to visiting Tularosa. The Warriors won the first set 15-5, but lost the next three by 15-2, 15-2, 15-9 scores.

Saturday the Warriors traveled to Deming and lost in four sets to the Wildcats. Deming won the first set 15-1. Ruidoso took the second 15-7, and the Wildcats captured the next two sets, 15-4, 15-1.

"Against Tularosa we played well," Arthur said. "We came back well in the fourth set after losing the second and third ones badly. That's the first time we've ever done that this season. "But we played just awful against Deming. We were attacking well but did not follow the ball well on the court. We let too many balls fall on us."

In the Deming match, Ruidoso won the second set largely on the serving of senior Gia Rose.

With the Warriors leading 9-7, Rose served six straight points for the set victory. Four of Rose's serves were aces (impossible for anyone to return).

Ruidoso took a 5-0 lead in the set and led the entire way.

"Gia played well the entire match," Arthur said. "Liberty Pittman also did a good job. She had her best game all year."

Against Tularosa, the Warriors looked like they were going to blow the Wildcats away. Ruidoso led most of the way in the first set and took an easy victory. However, Tularosa switched the tables on the Warriors in the next two sets, taking easy victories.

The Warriors trailed most of the way in the final set, but kept the competition close with some gutsy play.

Arthur praised the play of senior Diane McClure and Zeba Morris.

"Diane always plays well," Arthur remarked. "We brought Zeba up from the junior varsity and she did a super job of serving."

Ruidoso is now 0-5 in district 3-AAA action and 1-11 overall. The Warriors will host undefeated Hot Springs next Saturday. Hot Springs won in three sets the first time the two teams met in Truth or Consequences.

Bob wins race with 15:29, Warriors take invitational

Cisco Bob again led the way as the Ruidoso High School boys varsity cross-country team won the title at the Lovington Invitational Saturday.

Bob won the individual competition with a 15:29 time, defeating the second-place finisher (from Lovington) by 44 seconds. Bob is the defending state track 3,000-meter and 1,500-meter champion in the AAA division.

The Warriors captured the team competition with 62 points, 11 points ahead of second-place Tatum with 73. Roswell was third with 83 points; Goddard took fourth with 103 points; New Mexico Military Institute finished fifth with 112 points; Carlsbad and Lovington tied for sixth with 118 points apiece; Clovis had 219 points; and Hobbs had 229 points.

The Warriors also received a good effort from Gabe Tam, who finished fourth in 16:34.

Senior Curt McClellan took 12th in 17:09, David Ordorica finished 14th in 17:16 and Kevin Yuzos was 31st to round out the Warrior places. McClellan took second in the state 800-meter run in track last spring.

In boys junior varsity competition, Ivan Scott took second in 17:16 to spark a fifth-place Warrior finish.

Wayne Richardson was 16th with an 18:48 time. Hamilton Carter took 18th with an 18:58 clocking. Trey VonTrohan was 30th in 19:50, and Michael Randolph ran a 20:17.

The Warriors scored 102 points. Clovis won with 51 points; Roswell had 79 points; Carlsbad had 80 points; Jal had 94; Goddard had 134; and Lovington picked up 163 points.

"Everybody just improved their placing and times," said Ruidoso coach Tony Mackay. "Gabe improved some, Curt and David improved quite a bit, and Kevin improved his placing four or five spots."

"It has been a very successful season for Ruidoso. Besides Saturday's team win, the Warriors have finished second in three other invitational meets."

What has been the secret to the team's success?

"The guys have worked real hard and except for one, they've all had one year's experience in cross-country," Mackay answered.

Carlsbad won the girls varsity competition with 49 points; Lovington was second with 58 and Roswell had 62 for third place.

Ruidoso probably will resume action Saturday, November 4, in a Hobbs meet.

Ryan Frost of the Ruidoso High School junior varsity football team goes down the sidelines for the Warriors' first touchdown in Saturday's game with Coronado of El Paso, Texas. The Warriors lost 16-14 to put their record at 2-2-1.

Junior varsity loses, 16-14

The Ruidoso High School junior varsity football team lost a hard-fought 16-14 decision to visiting Coronado of El Paso, Texas, Saturday afternoon.

Ruidoso, now 2-1-2 on the season, scored first when Ryan Frost ran 35 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter. The two-point conversion was not good but Ruidoso had a 6-0 advantage.

However, the visitors came right back on the next series when one of their running backs ran 65 yards for a touchdown. The two-point conversion was good and the El Paso school led 8-6.

Both teams exchanged touchdowns and two-point conversions in the second half. The Warrior touchdown came on a pass from Jeff Willingham to Brian Davis. Rod Wright threw for the two-point conversion.

Although Ruidoso lost the contest, the Warriors did a good job against Coronado, an AAAA-division school and one of the biggest schools in El Paso.

Ruidoso will take on another El Paso school this Saturday when the Warriors travel to Bowie. The game will begin at 1 p.m.

Volleyball continues

Adult volleyball sessions go on at White Mountain School every Monday and Wednesday evening.

The sessions are from 6:45 to 9. There is no fee to participate.

Grizzlies defeat Hagerman, stay unbeaten

The Carrizozo Grizzlies raised their varsity football record to 7-0 with a 39-8 victory over visiting Hagerman Friday night.

Steve Stearns again paced the Grizzlies, running for 125 yards and scoring four touchdowns.

Hagerman scored first on a recovered fumble in the end zone and a two-point conversion, but Carrizozo took command after that.

The Grizzlies will host Reserve this Friday night at 7:30 with the District 1-A championship on line.

Around Sports with Gary Brown

Well, it won't be long until the hard courts of local schools will be vibrating with the sounds of bouncing basketballs.

It know we're in the middle of football season, and not too many people are thinking about the roundball sport now. But the beginning of high school practice is only about a week off.

The Ruidoso High School girls basketball team will begin practice Monday, October 22, and the Warrior boys will begin Monday, November 5.

Warrior head girls coach Sergio Castanon is already excited about the season. There are rumors going around that Castanon has picked up an "outstanding" transfer. But when asked about it, the veteran mentor only smiles and says, "We'll be lucky to win a game."

Old Sergio may be jesting about that. The Warriors only had a 6-17 record last season. But they have a good number of veterans returning and could be one of the tallest teams in the district this time around.

Returns Diane McClure and Stacy Ivy help provide that height. Guard Gia Rose and some other returns should help the Ruidoso cause.

New head boys basketball coach Gene Segura is probably thinking about football now (he's also an assistant coach), but the Warrior boys have several returns from last year's team.

Segura will have to find a replacement for 6-6 Dan Ullmann, who transferred to Alamogordo over the summer.

But the foundation for a good team is there.

Capitan and Carrizozo will also begin their cage practices soon.

Capitan's boys team—like the Tiger football team—probably will be rebuilding this season. Most of the Capitan varsity players of last season graduated.

But Tiger head coach Kendal Lawlis has led his team to the state A division playoffs the past two seasons, and that has to be a plus for Capitan's chances this year.

The Tiger girls have a number of returns back from last year's team. They should be a strong contender for the district title.

Both the Carrizozo boys and girls teams have several players back from last year. However, the Grizzly girls will have to replace multi-sports standouts Mary Jane Ferguson and Christetta Chavez, who both graduated.

Besides the high school teams, there will be action on the middle school front, and in Little League basketball and the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department men's winter league.

According to Parks and Recreation director Pam Graves, there may be two divisions this season—compared to just one last year. The season probably will begin in early January.

There's a lot of interest in men's basketball in Ruidoso. Anyone who saw the competitive action during the summer league at White Mountain School can testify to that.

So the upcoming winter will offer people of all ages a chance to play the roundball sport.

Quarterback Rusty Silva (11) of the Broncos tries to evade a Steeler tackler during a Ruidoso Little League major division game Saturday at White Mountain School. The Steelers defeated the Broncos 20-6. The Broncos finished with a 3-1-1 record and the Steelers were 2-3. The playoffs begin next Saturday.

Youth soccer, football near playoffs

Playoff time has almost arrived in the Ruidoso-Little League football program and the Ruidoso-Optimist Soccer Association.

Regular season play ended in the football program Saturday at White Mountain School with the Evening Lions Cowboys having an unbeaten record at 4-0-1.

The Cowboys topped the Bank of Ruidoso Colts 32-0 Saturday while the Moncor Steelers beat the Ruidoso State Bank Broncos 20-6.

The Broncos finished the regular season with a 3-0 record, and both the Steelers and Broncos ended up 2-3. Mesalero did not win a game.

Playoff competition will begin next Saturday at the Ruidoso High School football field, with the Cowboys playing the fourth-place team. The Broncos will meet the third-place team. Since the Steelers and Colts tied for third, a decision will have to be made to decide the playoff pairings.

The finals will be the following Saturday at the high school field.

In soccer action Saturday, the Coulston & Associates United under-12 team topped the Blackhawk Electric Blackhawks 8-0 and the Sierra Blanca Bandits blanked the National Door Celtics 5-0.

In under-12 action Thursday, United nipped the Celtic 2-1. Wednesday play saw the Bandits shut out the Blackhawks 9-0.

Under-eight action Saturday had the Radite Shack Tigers beat the Wranglers 2-0. Thursday United edged the Wranglers 1-0. Wednesday the Tigers nipped the Moncor Cosmos 1-0.

The championship matches will be next Saturday at White Mountain School. The Bandits and United will play for the under-12 title. The under-eight pairing has not been decided yet as there are some makeup matches this week.

Sports Activities This Week

Tuesday: Ruidoso Middle School volleyball team to host Hatch, starting at 1 p.m.

Wednesday: Adult coed volleyball at White Mountain School, 6:45 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Thursday: Ruidoso High School freshman football team to host Alamogordo eighth-grade team, starting at 3:30 p.m. Ruidoso Middle School A football team at Tularosa, starting at 6 p.m. Capitan and Carrizozo volleyball teams in district round-robin tournament.

Brave gridders crush Tularosa, 32-2

Using a balanced offense, the Ruidoso Middle School A football team topped visiting Tularosa 32-2 Thursday for the Braves' first victory of the season.

The hosts jumped off to a 16-0 halftime lead and cruised in from there. Ruidoso is now 1-3-1 on the year.

Ruidoso scored first when quarterback Michael Swanner threw a pass to Dusty Beavers for the touchdown. Swanner then threw a pass to Rusty Skellett for the two-point conversion.

and Ruidoso led 8-0. The Braves added another touchdown in the second quarter on a run by Swanner. Beavers added the conversion and Ruidoso had a 16-0 lead at halftime.

Bubba Lane added the third Ruidoso touchdown on a short run in the third quarter. Swanner ran for the two-point conversion.

The Braves concluded their scoring when Swanner threw a short pass to Skellett, who broke loose for a 65-yard touchdown. Charles Smith ran for the two-point conversion. Ruidoso also forced several Tularosa fumbles and intercepted two passes. Tularosa scored its only two points on a safety in the final minutes of the game.

In a B contest Saturday, the Braves lost to host Capitan 12-8. It was the Brave B team's final game of the season. Ruidoso finished with a 1-1 record.

The Brave A team will finish the season this Thursday with a 6 p.m. game against the Tularosa ninth graders on the Wildcat field.

Dear Voters:
 I have practiced law in the Twelfth Judicial District for some 25 years, beginning practice in Ruidoso as an Assistant District Attorney for four years in Otero and Lincoln Counties.

Since then, I have been engaged in general civil and criminal law practice in both state and federal courts. My daughter, Karen, joined my firm in 1978; Dan Bryant became a partner after he left the District Attorney's office in 1980, and I am currently engaged full-time in the practice of law with my two associates.

During various periods of time over the past 25 years, I have served as the Village Attorney for Ruidoso Downs and the Village of Capitan; have represented three School Districts; numerous banking institutions in New Mexico and Texas; one newspaper, and several abstract and title companies. I have been a lecturer at New Mexico State Bar and Rocky Mountain Mineral Institute Conventions, and am presently the Lincoln County Bar Association President. For a number of years, I was one of the Directors of the Continuing Legal Education Committee of the State Bar of New Mexico. I have taught real estate law at college credit level, through certification by New Mexico State University and New Mexico Military Institute.

With respect to my reasons for seeking this position, I believe that my experience and background in Otero and Lincoln Counties will provide the most effective and efficient administration of justice as the Division III District Judge. Having both prosecuted and defended criminal cases, I feel that I can approach the criminal law enforcement aspect of the Judgeship with impartiality and a no-nonsense attitude, and contribute materially toward making the Twelfth Judicial District a very inhospitable place for criminals. In the process, I will maintain an attitude of fairness and justice that allows me to exercise my discretion as set forth by statute to be lenient in those instances where the circumstances of the case clearly warrant such leniency.

Warrior frosh beaten by Roswell, 44-16

Despite an improved showing on offense, the Ruidoso High School freshman football team lost to Roswell 44-16 on the winners' field Thursday night.

Luis Orocco scored all the Warriors' points. He tallied the first Ruidoso touchdown on a two-yard run, added the second on a 70-yard run in the second half, and scored both conversions.

The first Warrior touchdown ended a 75-yard drive after Roswell had taken a 22-0 lead in the first half. The drive was kept alive by a 20-yard pass from quarterback Bobby Lane to Sean Moore.

The score was 22-8 at halftime. The hosts added another touchdown before the 5-9, 145-pound Orocco scored his second touchdown.

"We're showing improvement," said Warrior coach Ridge Bowden. "We had a lot of improvement on offense. I don't want our kids to get down because we're losing."

"We're playing bigger schools and that's going to help us in the long run."

Ruidoso, now 1-4 on the season, will travel to Alamogordo this Thursday afternoon to take on the Tiger eighth-grade team. The game will begin at 3 p.m.

Water rates going up

by MATT BOSISIO
News Staff Writer

Faced with a projected budget deficit of $46,885 for the current fiscal year, the Capitan Board of Trustees approved proposed amendments to the village water ordinance Thursday night during a spirited, and sometimes heated, special meeting.

The proposed changes include a new fee for water meters used only part of the year and increases in other fees.

Trustees called the special meeting to examine proposed water rate increases, the first in two years. Mayor David Cummins said the increase is needed to help defray the unexpected shortfall in funds.

"One way the village could cut back on the deficit," he said, "is to cut back on services, or cut back on personnel, which would ultimately cut back on services."

The proposed increases could prevent both by raising more revenue through amended charges across the board and through a series of new standby charges for part-year residents.

"We've got 600 people living here all the time and 700 in the summer," Cummins said. "Those 600 are paying for those extra 100."

To prevent that in the future, a standby charge would be applied to all water meters that are in place but not in use. Meters on lots, in homes or in businesses that are shut off but connected to the water system would be charged at least $10 a month.

For example, summer residents who live in the village for three months a year generally have their water turned off for the nine months they are away. The village draws no income from those residents while continuing to maintain the inactive meters at a cost to the village.

With the new proposal, the property owners would be assessed $10 a month for each month they are away if the water is shut off. A nine-month absence would cost them $90 annually.

Concerning the water rates, the trustees proposed the following changes:

- Increasing the minimum monthly charge from $10 for the first 3,000 gallons of water use to $12.50 for the first 4,000 gallons.

- Increasing the additional $1.25 charge per 1,000 gallons to $1.75 per 1,000 gallons in excess of 4,000 and up to 25,000 gallons.

- Charging $3.00 per 1,000 gallons for water use beyond 25,000 gallons each month.

- Instituting a commercial minimum water rate of $15, $25 or $50 a month depending on meter size for the first 4,000 gallons. And charging $1.75 per 1,000 gallons of water-use in excess of 4,000 gallons but less than and including 200,000 gallons.

Resident Pat Huey objected to the increase, saying it will hurt the prospects of new industry and encourage people to neglect their yards.

"I think you're going to find that people will not have a nice yard, just a junkyard," he said. "You're going to penalize people for wanting to have something nice."

Another resident complained that home owners will use less water on their properties, choking out the green appearance of the village.

"Capitan will begin to look like Carrizozo," he said.

However, Trustee Bill Allred pointed out that the village receives less than 20 inches of precipitation each year. He also said any resident who uses 25,000 gallons of water a month is using water to excess.

Cummins added that residents must conserve their usage, particularly as water becomes more scarce and expensive.

"The village cannot go on charging a low rate for water," he said, "and then expect services to improve or remain at the same level due to inflation. . . . I think the time has come where the citizen will have to pay for what they use if they want the services. The time of free services is over."

Changes to the water ordinance were then approved for inclusion in a new ordinance. Once prepared, the new water ordinance will be presented in a public hearing before final action is taken on it.

Also approved for ordinance wording was a $50 charge for meter removal and a $75 charge for installing or reconnecting a meter. In addition, the village is considering requiring a $50 water security deposit on all new applications for water service.

Prior to adjournment, the trustees approved a resolution authorizing a budget change in the water and sewer fund, adding a new line item. From meter tap fees totalling $500, the village will set aside $200 to cover emergency capital outlay expenditures.

Schools faced with $80,000 budget trim

by SHARON MAKOKIAN
News Staff Writer

Capitan schools will have to cut $80,000 from their budget this year, superintendent of schools Leonard Hays told the school board Thursday night.

Hays explained the reason for the deficit as twofold. First, the school district lost $30,000 of state funding because actual enrollment did not reach projected enrollment this year. Using a five percent increase scale, Hays had predicted there would be 544 students this year. However, the actual enrollment decreased by five percent, putting the number of students at 510.

The second bite in the budget came from higher insurance costs and new personnel. Hays explained that due to a mandate from the state Legislature, the school district must pay a higher percentage of its employees' insurance costs. Because of this benefit, more employees took insurance this year.

Hays also said that the newly hired personnel required higher salaries than the people they had replaced.

He said the budget will be cut across the board. The first cut will be what had been budgeted for new equipment—classroom items, office machines and furniture. Travel expenses also will feel the pinch.

"We're not going to pay any travel money for the principal and superintendent this year," said Hays. "Student travel money will be affected. Also some trips planned for athletics and activities will have to be cut throughout the year."

Money to cover the losses could come from various areas. The school has a $30,000 emergency fund that could be used to cover one-time expenses if the Department of Finance permits the use of it.

The school board voted to transfer a cafeteria worker's salary from the general fund to the cafeteria fund. This will lessen the deficit by $10,000, but may necessitate an increase in lunch prices in the future. Capitan currently has the lowest lunch prices in the area, it was noted.

If the schools can use the emergency funds and re-budget the $20,000 planned for equipment, the deficit could be lowered to $20,000. Hays said that due to contracts, teachers' salaries cannot be cut, but in an emergency, people can be laid off. According to Hays, 83 percent of the budget is used for salaries and benefits.

Another main topic of discussion at Thursday's meeting was Capitan's homecoming game, which had been cancelled by the opposing team, Mountainair. Bill McVeigh reported that he had contacted 15 schools in an effort to find a replacement, but no team had an opening in the schedule for the night of October 26.

The school board offered to pay the expenses for any team they could get (using funds budgeted for school board travel), but no team was available. McVeigh and Jay Dark tried again on Friday, but the attempt was futile.

The only other home game this year is against Carrizozo. Due to the intense rivalry between the two teams, Dark felt that it would not be a wise idea to make that Capitan's homecoming game. Homecoming will be in basketball season this year, tentatively scheduled for February 9.

Five seniors represented their class in a discussion of the senior trip. The seniors voted on Mazatlan, Mexico, as their destination this year. They wanted permission from the school board to take the trip after graduation. The board approved the trip.

The board must decide at the November 9 meeting whether they want to pursue a bond issue for adding onto the school. Architect Jim French presented several master plan proposals to the board.

Possible projects include building a new library, football field and track. Members of the school board will meet with the Forest Service to discuss the acquisition or trade of adjacent land. No decisions can be made until the land issue is settled.

In other business, the school board:

- Hired James Zumwalt as custodian.

- Hired Sharon Darby, a registered nurse, to work at the school three hours a week dispensing medication to students that require it.

- Contracted Julie Urlich to work four hours each week as an occupational therapist.

- Adopted special education procedures as mandated by law.

- Voted to accept a five-cent per mile increase for activity use, but left the total expenditure at last year's level.

- Approved purchase of a lawnmower.

- Approved a correction from the 1982-83 audit.

- Voted final payment to Bill McCarty Construction; Charles Nolan, architect; Jim French, architect; and Helper Construction for their work on the remodeling of the old elementary building.

P&Z wants fire departments' input

The Lincoln County Board of Planning and Zoning (P&Z) had its regular meeting Thursday night at the County Courthouse in Carrizozo.

The board discussed requiring that county fire departments give their approval on proposed subdivision plans. According to County Manager Suzanne Cox, the board wanted to bring the fire chiefs in on the proposals to make them more aware of developments. The fire chiefs would inspect the plats for water availability and fire safety. P&Z will discuss this idea more at its next meeting.

The board decided to re-schedule its next meeting from November 15 to November 29. On November 15, P&Z members will be attending a seminar in Albuquerque on land use planning and replats.

In other business, the board:

- Approved the preliminary plat review for the South Gavilan Industrial Subdivision.

- Approved the preliminary plat review for Twin Spruce Trailer Park.

- Approved the preliminary plat review for the Pine Point Estates subdivision.

- Approved the final plat review for the Manzana Valley subdivision.

Future Farmers of America chapter busy

The Capitan Chapter of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) has been very busy since the beginning of school in August, according to club reporter Merry Sue Hogan.

Several members of the group exhibited their animal projects at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair in Roswell. Toni Crain won fourth place in the Hereford heifer competition. Mike Lunn placed seventh in the Hampshire lamb division, and Robert Marrs placed eighth in the Crossbred Market Barrow class. During the New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque, the Capitan FFA chapter placed sixth in the booth competition.

At a meeting on September 20, FFA members planned their activities for the coming months. The chapter will hold its second annual Turkey Shoot (co-sponsored by the Capitan volunteer fire department) on November 3.

At the turkey shoot, entrants will take home frozen turkeys for winning three matches in competition in rifle and shotgun target shooting. The names of all local turkey winners will be placed in a drawing for a trip to Mexico offered nationwide by "Field and Stream" magazine.

The shooting competition is open to all men, women and children; entry fees are one dollar per match. The FFA will have a concession stand which will serve meals and snacks. Door prizes will include a fishing rod and reel and a men's watch.

Next month, six FFA members will travel to the largest youth convention in the world, according to FFA sponsor Mark Daugherty. On November 6, Robert Marrs (FFA president), Ronald Joiner, Ronnie Sanchez, Mandy Morton, John Parker and Merry Sue Hogan will travel to Kansas City for five days.

Because he could take only six people, Daugherty chose the six members who worked the hardest to raise money over the summer. To raise money for the trip, the members are selling firewood. For purchase and personal delivery of firewood, buyers can call Daugherty at 354-2233.

On November 3, the freshmen FFA members will compete in the Green Hand Parliamentary Contest to be held at Hondo. Winners will go on to state competition in Las Cruces. Also that day, three freshmen—Mandy Morton, Scott Dye and Travis Frey—will compete in a creed-speaking contest.

The FFA also is trying to win a national award in the "Beautify our American Communities" program by doing improvement projects in Capitan. The group intends to build a new announcer's stand for the football field; put wooden street signs in Capitan; and place park benches around the school grounds.

At the end of the year, they will submit pictures and a list of the improvement projects they have completed. "I think we have a real good chance to win an award for that," said Daugherty.

FFA members also will be selling sausage as their major fund-raiser this year.

Sports wrapup

The Capitan High School junior varsity volleyball team won its match against Cloudercroft Friday afternoon on the losers' court.

Coach Dana Adams cited Denise Ward, Poco Phillips and Chantille Points as excellent players in that match. Brenda Griego "did a good job setting," added Adams.

Unfortunately, Capitan's other teams did not fare as well this weekend.

The varsity volleyball team lost to Cloudercroft Friday and visiting Grady Saturday.

Coach Bill MacVeigh felt that his team "was not playing consistently,"

In Friday's game, "the score was 10-5 (Capitan leading) in the final game, then they came back and beat us," said MacVeigh.

Capitan won the first set 15-10 and the third set 15-3. However, Cloudercroft won the second set 16-14, the fourth set 15-11 and the final set 15-10.

In the Saturday match, Grady won the first and second sets 16-14 and 15-8. Capitan came back to win the third and fourth sets 15-7 and 15-8, but Grady won the final set 15-9.

The junior varsity also lost their match to Grady Saturday.

The volleyball team begins district playoffs against Cloudercroft Thursday evening, and Hondo and Lake Arthur Saturday.

All of the round-robin district games will be at Cloudercroft this year. The varsity football team lost to host Cloudercroft Friday night 46-31.

Assistant coach E. C. Jenkins said that "we closed it pretty close and then they took it away."

Case against couple refiled

A child abuse case thrown out of court recently has been refiled in a Lincoln County magistrate court.

Nine counts of criminal sexual contact and criminal sexual penetration of minors have been filed against Israel and Dorothy Stephens of Capitan. A hearing is scheduled October 30 before Magistrate James Wheeler.

The couple were indicted October 9 on the same charges, but District Judge Robert Doughty dismissed the indictments after learning that prosecutors allowed an unauthorized person in the grand jury proceedings.

The charges stem from alleged sexual acts the couple performed on four children between June and December, 1983. The children are Israel Stephens' stepchildren.

Enchilada extravaganza

Rotarians served up plate after plate of tempting enchiladas to crowds of Ruidoso Mexican food lovers during the lunch and dinner Enchilada Day. Rotarian Pinky Jones reported 1,001 tickets were sold and 1,160 plates were served (including those to Rotarians.) Jones said the count was about average for the twice-yearly event. "It was a success."

Ski New Mexico meeting attracts dozen

About a dozen people turned out for the October meeting at the Inn of the Mountain Gods of Ski New Mexico, a Santa Fe-based organization devoted to promoting skiing in New Mexico. Executive director Ted Gendron informed the group that a ski insert advertisement sponsored by the organization will appear in the November issues of Ski Magazine and Skiing.

He also reported on the Ski Ball, scheduled for November 10 at the Albuquerque Country Club. Along with cocktails and dinner, there will be a fashion parade, live entertainment and a special tribute to Ernie Blake. Tickets are $30. About 500 invitations are being prepared for mailing. Gendron indicated that paid-up membership in Ski New Mexico stands at 50, including four Ruidoso area businesses or organizations—Pro Ski Sports, Sierra Blanca Ski Resort, the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and the Inn of the Mountain Gods. The group next meets in November in Albuquerque, with a planned Ruidoso meeting sometime before Christmas.

We Pray For Recovery Of Adelaido Chavez

I went by Sunday to look in on a longtime personal friend, Adelaido Chaves of San Patricio, who is recovering from an operation in the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

Descended from a long line of Lincoln County pioneers, Adelaido was born almost eighty two years ago on the famous Rancho Blanco, founded by his father in the area where the Hondo High School now stands.

Adelaido has lived almost all his life in his native Lincoln County. For many years he had an orchard in San Patricio and his wife, Lupe, operated Lupe's cafe, which became famous from coast to coast for fine Mexican home cooked meals.

You could not find a man who has a greater gift with growing things of all kinds—from vegetables to fruit trees. On his farm just below the highway from Lupe's Cafe he raised Bartlett pears which were real prize winners; several kinds of Apples, and peaches and plums.

He was a true artist at using all of his land to good advantage, planting corn and squash and cucumbers and green beans between the rows of his trees, and planting prune trees along the irrigation ditch.

His love for fruit trees of all kinds was plain to see from looking at his orchard. It was something beautiful to behold from the highway.

His lifetime of honest work out of doors has rewarded him with great health. At eighty years of age, this apple season you could see him doing the work of a man forty years old, and enjoying every minute.

On top of all this, Adelaido is a Christian gentleman loved and admired by all who know him, and we pray that he will have a speedy and complete recovery.

Brunswick Stew

As a feature of the birthday celebration, the well wishers joined in a feast of a highly nourishing and appetizing dish, handed down from American Colonial times, called Brunswick Stew.

These patriotic vittles were prepared by Christina Lawrence with the help of Cora Sweeney, Kathy Echols and Cathy Annala. Lucie Page and Laura Christensen helped out with the serving. I can tell you that our ancestors of colonial times knew how to put together good grub. It sure was appreciated, what with the cold blasts coming off the mountain helping to build up an appetite.

A Birthday Present Of Algeria Jelly
You may remember a while back I mentioned that the Algeria berries were very abundant this year.

Mr. W. L. Manire who lives out Alto way, called me up and said he had read the article, and that he had been on the look out for some and had accidentally run across them in La Luz Canyon. He said he had been familiar with Algerias back where he used to live between Lubbock and Post, Texas—in the little village of Slayton.

He said that he would have some jelly made, and I had planned to come by his home to pick up the jelly, and become acquainted. But he beat me to it. He came by the Ruidoso News office with a jar of sparkling crimson jelly made by his wife with the help of his sister.

This is one of my favorite kinds of jelly and takes me back to the days our Mother used to make it for us back in the twenties.

I appreciate this nice gift and look forward to meeting these good folks.

Winter Arrives On The Mountain

Without giving the season of Fall much of a chance to get started, Winter has impatiently moved in on the Mountain with both feet, today, Sunday, October twenty one. During the intervals when the clouds move aside just a little you can see the snow already one third of the way down the slopes of Sierra Blanca.

And the west wind blowing down the Ruidoso Valley is bringing its own unseen message of falling snow.

Lower down here in the valley the turning of the fall colors is stopped in its tracks. Some of the Walnut and Box Elder leaves had turned Lemon Yellow and Amber, but now the trees are bare after the unusual highwinds. The river Oaks are still only half bronze; the Apricot trees have just barely turned and there is still some green in the Oak brush patterns.

The fall wild flowers are blooming brightly, protected by the tall Gramma grass. The Autumn leaf picture is only half color. The nights have not been cold enough to put full color into the leaves, and yet the air all around is full of winter chill. With snow in the northern part of the state and snow on the mountain, it begins to look as if Winter has arrived here in just the beginning of fall. When this happens you may see the time when early fall and winter meet, with the half colored leaves wearing hoods of snow.

Then the warm Autumn interlude of mild, still weather will have to wait—bringing Indian Summer up into November or even December.

SHAWNS PAWN, a chestnut filly who came to town with a money line of $71,540, showed her stuff with an easy 3/4-length win in Saturday's trials for the Shue Fly Stakes.

The filly, who is by St. Bar out of Princess Rangler, raced in the second of three 400-yard trials for the Shue Fly and led all the way under Toney Swan. The win was made even more impressive by the fact Shawns Pawn set the top qualifying time of 19.970 seconds. She's owned by Larry Schwartz and Judith Swan of Albuquerque.

Shawns Pawn has now won four straight races, including the New Mexico Futurity in Albuquerque, and her record is 8-1-0 from 12 starts. She raced at 50 cents on the dollar in the Shue Fly trials.

HERE'S THE COMPLETE qualifying list: Shawns Pawn, 19.970; Torch Lighter, 20.075; Bloody War Chant, 20.125; Chaval Chabli, 20.250; Typically True, 20.370; Draconics Lady, 20.440; Ticks Request, 20.525; Super Saintbar, 20.535; Glorys Bold Miss, 20.600; Pino Springs, 20.610.

The two other trial winners were Chaval Chabli, who raced as a 6-5 favorite and won by 1 1/2 lengths, and Bloody War Chant, an odds-on favorite who scored by a ballooning two lengths. Chaval Chabli is owned by T & R Racing Stables of Las Cruces, and Bloody War Chant is the property of Mike Abraham of Albuquerque.

The Shue Fly, which comes up on Friday, Oct. 26, is the exclusive territory of homebred two-year-olds, and carries a purse of $24,015. The winner collects $12,007.

CHAVAL CHABLI, a daughter of Real Easy Jet, is another big breadwinner. The filly is 7-1-2 from 13 career outings, and at one point this year she ran up four straight wins. Her winnings now stand at more than $74,000. Torch Lighter has also shown a tendency to make money, having earned some $26,000. The gelding scored two close seconds (both times as the favorite) in recent stakes races at Albuquerque.

Fans who had made stakes-star Currihot a 1-5 favorite in Saturday's Mr. Vale Handicap (at a mile) probably had their hearts in their throats during the early portions of the route. In the early stages of affair, Currihot was more than 10 lengths off the pace. And the fact he was carrying 124 pounds didn't bode well. But the gelding moved with awesome ease throughout the stretch, winning by 4 1/2 lengths. It was his sixth win of the year, the 18th of his career. His total earnings are now more than $232,000. PIC-SIX PLAYERS were tripped up on Saturday when Does It Easy won the sixth race and returned a soaring $114.20 on a $2 win ticket. As a result, there were no six or five-win tickets. But 48 tickets with four wins returned $64 apiece.

When Shawns Pawn (1-2) and Torch Lighter (8-5) ran one-two in Saturday's fourth race, that wound up as easy pickings for quinela players. The return was $3—a figure which is likely to hold up for a while as a seasonal low.

JOCKEYS Casey Lambert and Brent Overton kicked off the season opener with Double wins on Saturday's card. Overton clinched the second half of the daily double with the odds-on favorite Now See This. The three-year-old filly took the six-furlong sprint in 1:12 3/5 seconds to pay her backers $3.60, $2.40 and $2.20.

Overton was in the winner's circle again in the ninth with the freshman runner Lord Rublic. Trained by Charles Allison (also the trainer of Now See This), the gelding stayed with the pace until taking the lead at the half-way mark of the six-furlong sprint. The winning time: 1:12 and 2/5 seconds.

Editorial

Editor's note: This letter appeared in "Dear Abby," and Mr. Dean submitted it to The News.

Dear Editor: I am your animal control officer. I am not the dreaded "dog catcher" or the "murderer" you call me.

It is not I who allows your pet to roam the streets, to contract diseases from other free-roaming animals, to be hit by passing motorists or poisoned by rotting garbage. I am the one who must look into those sick, pain-glazed eyes, try to remove the animal without causing it further pain, and then humanely "put it to sleep" to put an end to its suffering.

It is not I who allows your pets to breed, then dumps the unwanted puppies and kittens on roadsides and in shelters. I'm the one who must find the tiny animals before they die of starvation, exposure or disease, and as an act of mercy, exterminate them. It hurts me to be forced to kill hundreds of thousands of animals each year, but because of your irresponsibility, I have no choice.

It is not I who abandons unwanted animals on farm roads, telling myself some friendly farmer will surely take them in and give them a good home. But I am the one who must pick up the frightened animal who waits in vain for its beloved master, wondering why it has been abandoned. I am the one who must help that friendly farmer trap, tranquillize or kill that animal because it has begun to roam in packs with other abandoned hungry animals, killing livestock, fowl and game.

I am not the one who breeds and fights dogs in the name of "sport." But I'm the one who fights the breeders and participants, and must pick up the dead and dying animals that have been left behind.

It is not I who keeps a pet confined in an area too small without food, water, shelter or exercise. But I must deal with the irresponsible owner who does.

It is not I who refuses to spend the time and money to keep up regular inoculations that all pets require. But I am the one who must pick up the sick animal that is dying of a preventable disease.

So remember, the next time your child is bitten by a stray dog, your trash is dumped and scattered, your pet is lost, stolen, poisoned or hit by a car, it is the animal control officer you call—not the "dog catcher." The next time your pet is picked up, or you are cited for neglecting or abusing it, remember, I am only trying to get you to fulfill your responsibility to your pet, your neighbor and yourself.

Do not scorn me. Respect me, for I am the product of your irresponsibility. I love animals, and I care.

ANIMAL CONTROL OFFICER
BUDDY DEAN

On the Village Beat with Tim Palmer

Those of us with generalized jobs in journalism sometimes are envious of our specialized colleagues—the ones who do nothing but write columns, review movies or restaurants, stuff like that.

One job you couldn't pay me enough to do, though, is that of TV critic. I found that out when I stayed home the other night and subjected myself to two hours of situation comedies.

It seemed like an interesting idea to observe and comment on the programs. Besides, on a Thursday night after a big Thursday paper, some mindless entertainment seemed appropriate for my mental state.

Maybe that was part of the problem. I had pre-judged what I would see.

"The Cosby Show" was first up. The opening titles were a clue to what would follow. They showed Bill Cosby in various cute still shots that conformed to the image we have of him from Jell-O and Coca-Cola commercials.

Cosby is something of an institution as a comedian, of course. Fat Albert is probably in the Smithsonian with Archie Bunker's chair and Fonzle's jacket. If he isn't, he should be.

But in "The Cosby Show," Cosby is forced to try to act, as opposed to doing standup comedy. I guess he does as good a job as could be expected at reprising father in "Father Knows Best."

It's just that the suburban family formula is so tired.

Of course, this is a black suburban family, which I suppose is the twist the producers hope will make the show a hit. Cosby plays a doctor. His good-looking wife wears a jogging suit around the house.

The kids add to the upper middle class image of the family. Daughter has braces on her teeth, and we learn that she has taken up and abandoned numerous activities such as ice skating, tennis, yoga and ballet.

Son, age 14, has bought a $95 shirt for a date in the show I watched. Father puts his foot down and nixes the purchase, but gives son $55 to buy a different shirt. Daughter tells brother she will make him a shirt as nice as the $95 shirt.

One thing that was making it tough to stay with my project was that "Grease" was showing on another channel. Since I was making the rules, however, I simply switched over and watched parts of the movie in the middle of Cosby.

Guess what? I didn't miss a thing. Sitcoms always have happy endings. Maybe it's not fair to compare "Cosby" to "The Jeffersons" and "Sanford and Son," but when you do, Cosby is not even in the same league.

Someone could take that to mean whites find it easier to accept blacks as junk collectors or hustling businessmen than as doctors. But comedies are supposed to be funny, and this one is not. The only redeeming quality I found on the show was that it showed a loving family (lots of hugs and kisses).

Next up was a show called "Family Ties," which was basically indistinguishable from Cosby. The father in this show is a bearded producer of educational documentary films for a public TV station.

You get the feeling he used to be sort of a hippie, and has worked himself into a position of being able to enjoy the fruits of middle classdom while doing socially relevant work. The premise isn't bad, the show is.

In Ties, as in Cosby, I found it hard to suspend disbelief. It was a case of watching actors act—watching them say "funny" things. (The lines must have been funny because they invariably were greeted with rousing canned laughter.)

At 8 o'clock, I tuned in a proven hit—and the one show of the night I had seen before—"Cheers." Cheers is well acted and has likable characters, so it was much easier to take than the other two.

I don't know how long this Sam and Diane thing can be milked, however. The phone rang about halfway through the show Thursday, and it was a buddy calling long distance.

By the time I returned to the set, Cheers was over and something called "Night Court" was on. This appeared to be sort of a "Barney Miller" takeoff, set in a Manhattan municipal court.

Barney Miller it ain't, though. The show did have a message—a young woman-lawyer is jailed for contempt of court after refusing to disclose the whereabouts of her client's cat. (Like I said, I missed the start.)

"Court" evidently attempts to portray the human side of the judicial system, which I think is okay. The young judge on the show reminds me of Lee Huckstep.

At nine o'clock, I had had enough. I retired with a good book, which I should have done right after dinner. There ought to be a law aimed at the TV networks for "contempt of viewer."

All in all, the project was kinda fun, in a masochistic sort of way. I might do it again, but probably on a Tuesday.

That way I could watch another show I've never seen: "The A-Team."

Inside the Capitol by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—Of all the kids born to Old Town families in 1934, why would one turn out to be Julian Garcia?

It's the sort of question that can be mullied when death, with dramatic suddenness, strikes down an exceptional man.

"Exceptional" is what Garcia was—including being an exception to almost everyone else's rules.

He came of age at a time when Hispanic junk-truck and used-parts operators from Rio Grande Boulevard as it was then were not expected to become millionaire auto dealers. He didn't join clubs or give fiery speeches about how unfair that was; instead, he just became one.

He did that as he accomplished most of the good things in his life, by a rigorous kind of logic: You decide what it takes to make you the best, and then you just go do it.

"The best" was what fascinated him, in business and even more in his private life. He wore the best and bought the best and surrounded himself with the best, not for sheer display but for two other reasons. His instinct told him what was best, and his judgment told him that it mattered.

In a time when true quality often goes unrecognized, just that predilection he had for it made him exceptional.

It also caused resentment. Material success often does that just by itself. That reaction is multiplied when the resenter suspects he or she may have been personally judged and found wanting.

That's what really led to that "palace revolt" which removed Garcia from his post as head of the Highway Commission back in the Jerry Apodaca days. He was visibly impatient with others on the group who put their interest in the "vanity" aspects of their role, like being flown about the state in one of the agency's planes. He was also disturbed when they fought the initiatives of the man who had named them to their jobs. When he made those feelings clear, as he was more or less bound to do, they had to cut him down.

For that reason, we were never allowed to find out what would happen to the giant road agency if old, bad habits could be broken, and fresh ways and new ideas brought in.

Lately, as Garcia's interest in art, architecture and household decoration grew, he gave up most of his active participation in politics—though candidates with out-stretched hands always managed to find him. It was too bad he drifted away; he was a thoroughly political being. You could watch the light grow stronger in his eyes as he executed some complicated political scheme which intrigued him as much as chess does it's devotees.

As he simplified a life which had been too full of activity, his time and attention were freed for what he cared about most, the authentic arts and crafts of New Mexico. Seeing the world (he had just returned from one of his long tours, this one of Europe, when death struck him) seemed to increase the depth of his feeling about his roots and his heritage.

His purchase of the historic Borrego house on Canyon Road in Santa Fe was part of that impulse. It was an act of love—to restore and preserve this evidence of what our past had been, for the edification and enjoyment of the present.

Those who were Julian's friends in all parts of the state often jostled one another in an attempt to become, or believe they had become, his best friend. Said one of them recently, "Everybody wanted to own Julian, and not share him with anyone else."

Each of us felt we knew him well, but the fact was that we knew of him only what he wanted us to know; few knew him fully.

But what we knew, each of us will agree, merited that word "exceptional."

By all rights he should have been as ordinary as the rest of us are. But some extra spark was there—some spark of knowing and caring, some spark of valuing strongly what he saw as really mattering, some spark of knowing what most of us do not know.

Even those who were not his friends can understand how sad it is to see that spark die.

Frozen shrimp, lobster, king crab, salmon and walleye are among the items which will be available. Customers may pay for the seafood when they pick it up at Gibson's.

Proceeds from the sale will be used for travel expenses for state and national conferences.

Saturday, October 27

Nob Hill Elementary School plans a HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL from 6 to 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 27. Features include a hayride, games, door prizes and food.

TIMOTHY MACDONALD

Christian plans talk

Healing the anguish that comes from wavering morality is a topic Timothy MacDonald plans to address during a lecture on Thursday, October 25.

He will speak about "The Purity of God's Man" at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Christian Science church in Roswell. His hour-long lecture is open to the public.

During these times, when television, movies and books glamorize sensuality, MacDonald's approach to the subject may go against the grain. For example, he says moral laxity promises paradise but instead leaves anguish.

Women attend convention

Three Ruidoso women attended the New Mexico Federated Woman's Clubs District IV convention in Silver City recently. The women who attended the 62nd convention October 12 and 13 are officers of the club.

Charlotte Jarratt is the district treasurer; Genevieve Duncan is chairman for the Harriett Donohoo District IV Scholarship; and Jacqueline Rawlins is the district legislative and public relations chairman. They are members of the Ruidoso Federated Woman's Club.

Concerns of people at the convention included child abuse and neglect, latch-key children, needs of the Girls Ranch at Lamy, nuclear waste sites in New Mexico, highway safety and family life.

They discussed projects (including the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation), free enterprise in America, patriotism and education.

Eva Parker, a university professor of foreign languages, announced the rejuvenation of the Epsilon Sigma Omicron Sorority in District IV. The sorority plans a program to encourage reading and study.

Members of the Ruidoso Federated Woman's Club received awards at the convention for entries in fine arts, crafts and needlework competition.

Groups plan Halloween

The Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department and the Spirit of Ruidoso are organizing a Halloween Hoedown.

The carnival is planned for Wednesday, October 31, in midtown.

Organizers plan a great pumpkin giveaway and are working on a pumpkin weighing contest. They are asking merchants to dress in costumes on Halloween.

Some participating shops plan to donate carnival tickets to customers. Service organizations also expect to participate.

For more information, call Teri Sodd at the Mountain Arts Gallery, 257-9748.

In a related matter, Members of the Spirit of Ruidoso plan to meet at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 23, at Two Rivers Restaurant in Ruidoso.

Old timers elect officers

The Old Timers Club elected Pat Valliant president for 1984-1985 during their recent meeting.

Members of the club are residents of the area who have lived here 15 years or longer. They gathered for a potluck dinner in the library on Saturday, October 6, during the Aspen Festival.

Herbert Lee Traylor won the prize for being the man who has lived in the area the longest. He has been here since 1914.

Gladys Nosker won the prize for being the woman who has lived in the area the longest. She has been here almost as many years.

Ezel Clarke, age 19 years, won the prize as the youngest old timer.

In addition to the new president, officers who were elected include Mrs. Pat Valliant as secretary-treasurer of the group. Deema Short and Boots Watkins will be in charge of the Aspen Festival Old Timers Dinner for 1985.

The club formed 18 years ago. Minutes from the first meeting show the group was organized on October 7, 1966.

W. A. Hart was the first president, Billie Clarke was the first secretary-treasurer and Dan Swearingin was vice chairman.

The club decided to host a Saturday old timers dinner during each Aspencade, as the festival was then named. The group meets once a year.

Membership cost $2 per person that year. The program committee for the next year included Swearingin as chairman plus Nolan Hart, Elsie Caylor and L. L. Davis Jr.

Charter members were people present at the first meeting or those who paid dues before the 1967 meeting.

Among those who paid their dues were those named above, plus Lloyd and Dalsey Davis, Dr. and Helen Snyder, Lloyd and Ida Bloodworth and Lottie Beth Davis.

Others were Harry Eckert, Bill and Violet Hart, Leo Payman, Loretta Miller, Lavern Walkup, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Horton and Gladys Hart.

More charter members listed in the minutes were T. J. and Dema Short, Wayne and Evelyn Estes, Louise Coe Runnells, Ross Coe and Vic Lamb.

Additional members were Mrs. Edd Ammonette, Pat and Louise Chubock, Dave Parks, Nell Parks, Iva Weatherby, and Fritz and Sallie Christian.

The list also included A. Ray Clarke, Corin Swearingin, Joe and Bert Dryden, Annie Lockley and Heavy and Dutch Cunningham.

In the service

Staff Sergeant Richard T. Nordland has been decorated with the Air Force Achievement Medal at Homestead Air Force Base in Florida.

Nordland is a telecommunications operations specialist with the 1942nd Information Systems Squadron. His wife, Vicki, is the daughter of Ann Jones of Ruidoso.

The Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital emergency room staff constructed a "Four Seasons" float for the aspen parade.

Emergency staff are people for all seasons

The staff at the emergency room of Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital can be cracking jokes one minute and completely serious the next. When they're off the job, they laugh about their four seasons. Staff members recently spent hours slicing up newspapers to decorate an aspen parade float depicting the seasons. In spring, they see awkward anglers; in summer, they treat hurt horsemen; in fall, they deal with injured motorcyclists; and in winter, they see hurt skiers. They are glad to avoid expected busy seasons. For instance, "this was a really safe motorcycle convention," said Dr. James Hopper. The aspen festival gathering can put them to work. They can also see crowds after rodeos. "This is a small emergency room equipped to handle big problems," Hopper said. The head nurse, Mike Murray, commented, "We're better trained than we were a few years ago." They described types of situations the staff handles. Their busy times are often during evenings, Murray said. Afternoons during ski season also can fill fast. From early morning to late night, doctors, nurses and clerks are on hand each day. Doctors, ambulance teams, five nurses and four clerks work all sorts of schedules.

"It's been seven years since I've had a Christmas off," Hopper said. He and the rest of the staff deal with plane crash victims, multiple shootings and patients from across Lincoln County and the Mescalero Apache Reservation. Ambulances come from Corona, Carrizozo, Alto, Ruidoso and Mescalero. In these high elevations, visitors can encounter heart problems. Hopper said the staff handles everything from children's disease to adults' trauma. About half of the cases result from accidents, the other half from medical emergencies. Whatever the season or reason, the ER staff stands ready.

Ruidoso pride

High school backers have placed yellow and blue "Home of a Proud Warrior" signs at houses throughout the Ruidoso area this football season. The signs are visible at homes of cheerleaders and varsity players, including Lori Morrow.

Extension offers tips

The extension service of New Mexico State University offers these tips for sensible living:

- Here are a few tips on what to look for in ready-to-wear garments: Check for true grainline. Do threads in the fabric cross at right angles? If they don't, the garment may hang out of shape after a time.

- Smooth seams should be of even width, usually about one-half inch. Also, they should be finished to prevent raveling. Avoid garments with puckered seams.

- On children's play clothes and other garments that will be washed frequently, seams should be flat-felled to be sturdy.

- About 10 to 12 stitches should fill an inch of seam, and they should be inconspicuous. Thread ends should be secured and cut off to prevent them from pulling out of the fabric.

- Reinforcements should be added at pocket ends, buttonholes and plackets. They can be metal rivets, double rows of stitching and bar tacks. Patches should reinforce knees and elbows.

Couple to marry

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Segler of San Angelo, Texas, are proud to announce the engagement of their daughter, Michelle Louise Segler, to Toby Levi Wilson, son of Ginger Castaneda of Ruidoso.

The couple plan to marry on Saturday, December 15, at Gateway Church of Christ in Ruidoso.

She is a 1982 graduate of San Angelo Lake View High School in San Angelo. He is a 1978 graduate of Eatonville High School in Eatonville, Washington.

CHARLIE ROBINSON

Week of Oct. 21-Oct. 27

Bono's Astro-View

© By Lillian Bono

ARIES
(March 21-April 20) Be responsive to your mate or you may find yourself on your own without warning. You need to remember how it was when you were by yourself.

TAURUS
(April 21-May 21) Business troubles may come home to roost, so don't count your chickens before they've hatched. You should not expect more out of something than you put into it, so be more productive these days for a jolly good harvest.

GEMINI
(May 22-June 21) You could be making a lot of telephone calls that are not answered. Try to be a bit more distant and you'll have better results with people who are taking you for granted.

CANCER
(June 22-July 23) An exciting fulfillment is possible and your creative energies could be at an all-time high. You will find that this is a very happy time of your life, one in which you will enjoy new friends and the company of children.

LEO
(July 24-Aug. 23) If you feel hemmed in by your mate, have a long discussion with that person and come to terms for your eventual good. A long-range plan will work to your advantage if you give it breathing room to expand.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24-Sept. 23) Scratch plans for a vacation that will not culminate as anticipated. You should stay in your own back yard and take care of minor home repairs.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24-Oct. 23) You may be assuming greater responsibilities for someone you care for but this will not be to your advantage. Try to maintain a certain amount of lightness in your relationships for your own good.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24-Nov. 23) Someone you have loved in the past may come to you for a favor that you cannot grant. Be specific when saying no to this person who expects the world from you.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 24-Dec. 21) You will have access to a private source of funds to carry out a project that is close to your heart. Enjoy a meeting of friends who want to help you with your success story.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22-Jan. 20) You will be satisfied with someone who has been a close associate as this person now becomes involved with you in another way. Some marry under present aspects with good and lasting results.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21-Feb. 19) A major purchase could set you back for a while but you will need to replace an automobile or an appliance that is no longer functioning. Take care of pets who may be ill or in need of lodging.

PISCES
(Feb. 20-March 20) Information that reaches you regarding a friend you have not heard from in a long while could be distressing. Do your best to help this person who could still be of great assistance to you in many ways.

Dining - Dancing - Entertainment

COUSINS' RESTAURANT KELLEY'S SALOON

JERRY DALE'S

3 Miles North on Hwy. 37
258-3555

An evening at Cousins' is a unique experience offering a fine range of entertainment for the whole family.

At Cousins' you will enjoy outstanding food prepared daily in their kitchen and courteous service. When dining at Cousins' you have to choose between your favorite steak, tasty seafood, special chicken dishes, and of course, leave room for homemade cheesecake.

Cousins' also has accommodations for small groups or large banquets and can help in planning a menu for any occasion.

Next door, Kelley's Saloon has Happy Hour seven days a week from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. The live entertainment creates a special atmosphere for an after dinner cocktail.

So don't miss an evening at Cousins' while visiting in Ruidoso.
