Playoffs here we come!

Warriors top Deming 31-14 as Michael Williamson scores four TDs

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Call it character, talent, good coaching, desire, or maybe a combination of all of the above.

Whatever the reason, the Ruidoso High School varsity football team is in the state AAA-division playoffs for the first time after dumping Deming 31-14 at Deming Friday night.

Ruidoso, which finished the district season in second place with a 3-1 mark and a 7-2-1 overall record, will play District 2-AAA champion St. Michael's Saturday afternoon, November 24, in Santa Fe.

The Warriors won the Deming game by coming from behind after a 14-0 first-quarter deficit. The fact that the scoreboard was not working didn't help matters either, and possibly cost the Warriors a touchdown just before halftime. Ruidoso also had to overcome the penalty bug, getting flagged 12 times for 130 yards.

It was typical of the Ruidoso season that the Warriors also won their opener over Lovington with a second-half rally.

"That's typical of the team's character all season long," said a happy Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson after the Deming contest. "We stopped them well in the second half after they got that lead."

Deming took the 14-0 lead on touchdown runs on two and three yards by quarterback Mike Viramontes in the initial period.

Kevin Hanna added the two extra point kicks.

Viramontes' touchdowns finished drives of 48 and 39 yards for the Wildcats. The Deming quarterback was effective early with short passes, but the Warrior defense shut him off well the rest of the game.

Ruidoso came alive in the second period and dominated the contest the rest of the way, with junior tailback Michael Williamson scoring all four touchdowns.

On the third play of the second quarter, Williamson took a handoff from quarterback Jeff Willingham, cut to his left and outsped a couple of Deming players for a 57-yard touchdown. Justin Smith added the two-point conversion and Ruidoso trailed 14-8.

The Warriors almost scored another touchdown just before the half ended. Willingham connected with split end Mike Smith for 46 yards and a first down on the Wildcat four.

However, time ran out on the next play as Willingham threw an incomplete pass into the right side of the end zone.

The Warrior defense buckled down in the second half and Ruidoso romped to the victory.

Deming received the opening kickoff of the second half but was held without a first down and punted from its own 15.

A poor punt put the ball on the Wildcat 30, and Ruidoso scored in three plays, with Williamson dashing 22 yards for the touchdown.

Chuck Jarrell scored the two-point conversion and Ruidoso took the lead at 16-14.

On the ensuing kickoff came perhaps the biggest play of the contest.

A Deming player received the kick at the Wildcat 19 but fumbled the ball. Bubba Miller recovered for Ruidoso at that point.

An offside penalty against Deming moved the ball to the 14, and Williamson ran for eight yards to the six. Williamson carried the ball the next two times, the latter play a two-yard touchdown run.

Jarrell kicked the ball through the uprights for the one-point conversion and Ruidoso took a 23-14 lead.

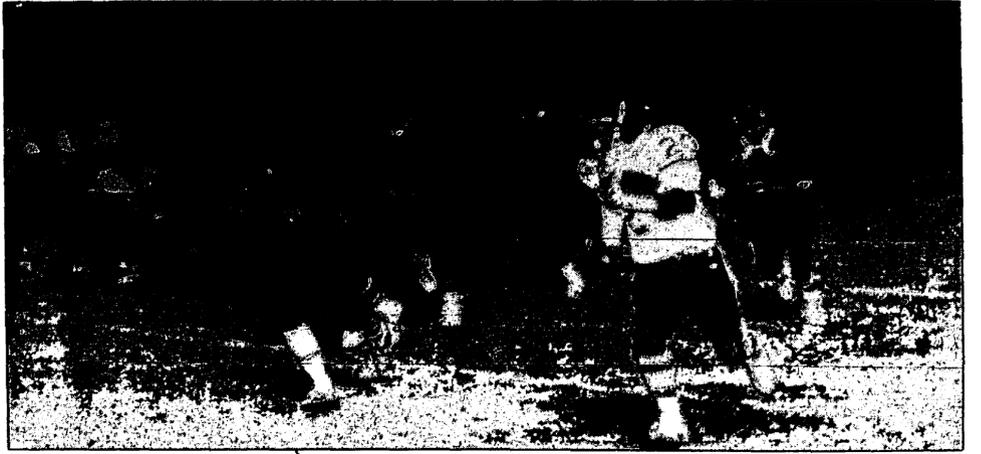

The Warriors added their final touchdown on a seven-yard run by Williamson in the fourth quarter. Fullback Manuel Montano threw an excellent block to spring Williamson for the score.

After Ruidoso was penalized 15 yards on the extra-point attempt, Willingham still managed to complete an 18-yard pass to Mike Smith for the two-point conversion.

The Warriors held Deming to 153 yards total offense while rolling up 343 yards of their own.

Williamson carried the ball for 150 of the Warriors' 193 rushing yards. Willingham completed nine of 21 pass attempts for 150 yards.

Willingham, only a sophomore, did a good job at quarterback substituting for the injured Russell Easter. Easter is out with a broken collarbone.

Michael Williamson (20) of the Ruidoso High School varsity football team turns on the speed en route to the Warriors' first touchdown Friday night against Deming.

Williamson scored all four Warrior touchdowns as Ruidoso won 31-14 to clinch a playoff berth. For players' comments, see page 5A.

Willingham and Toby Rue (another sophomore) also came up with interceptions. Willingham has six interceptions on the season to lead the Warriors in that category. All wasn't bright for the Warriors, however. Jarrell hurt his knee in the final quarter. The extent of his injury is undetermined. Now the Warriors will have two weeks to prepare for the St. Michael's game. "We accomplished the goal we set out to do at the start," Henderson said. "As for the playoff game, St. Michael's is bigger than us but we're probably a bit quicker than they are." The players won't work out in pads today, as the coaches are going to have them watch films and do some light running.

State advertising funds more than expected

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso will be receiving about $45,000 in state Economic Development and Tourism Department (EDTD) matching advertising funds this fiscal year—about $5,000 more than expected—reported Epstein Enterprises account executive Polly Welden at a Thursday meeting at village hall.

The meeting, called by EDTD to discuss the state's advertising campaign and to gather local input, was attended by Ruidoso village councilors, representatives of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and village officials.

Epstein Enterprises is the advertising agency that represents Ruidoso and the rest of the southern part of New Mexico.

Welden noted that she was conducting the meeting instead of EDTD official Ed Jungbluth due to Jungbluth's required attendance at a Legislative Finance Committee meeting in Santa Fe.

The account executive gave those at the meeting a brief outline of the changes that have been made this year in the state advertising program. Among those changes is the percentage the state will fund local entities, set at 50 percent of the estimated advertising budget each participant submitted to the state.

In Ruidoso's case, $45,000 would be the figure supplied by the state, based on an estimated $90,000 promotional budget for the village.

Local entities must, however, only spend the state matching monies on media advertising, Welden reported. She noted television, radio, magazine, newspaper and billboard advertising, brochures, films, videos and slides as acceptable uses of the funds.

Welden pointed out that uses of the monies were less restricted last year because allowances were made for start-up costs of conducting an advertising campaign.

Also allowable this year are the costs of the creative part of a campaign, including art preparation fees.

Another change outlined by the Welden is the provision that local officials be informed of what the agency bills the state for—information that was not readily ascertainable last year.

Answering a following question and answer period, Welden was asked if any attempts were being made to judge the effectiveness of the advertising.

"This year, we're making it a priority," she replied. She explained that reader response advertising and returnable coupons are being used to gauge the affect of the advertising. Welden said Epstein Enterprises would be willing to conduct an independent survey if so directed.

Councillor Rick Evans asked Welden if any determination had been made of where the advertising should be directed to be most effective.

She replied that nearby, established markets are not being ignored, but about two-thirds of the total campaign is being directed toward new markets.

Welden complimented the officials on the efficient manner in which Ruidoso has participated in the state advertising campaign thus far.

"You have your ducks in a row," she said. "I'm basically not telling you anything new."

Michelle Morrow, Ruidoso High School Student Council president, led guests in the Pledge of Allegiance during dedication ceremonies for the new high school Sunday.

Ruidoso High School dedicated Sunday

"As I look at this school, I share with you your visions of the future—the ambition, hopes, dreams of the community of Ruidoso," said Garfield Gutierrez, associate director of the New Mexico Office of Education at Sunday's dedication ceremony for Ruidoso High School's new building. He went on to say, "I commend you, the office of the governor commends you."

More than 200 persons attended the dedication ceremony in the Ruidoso High School commons area. Among the special guests were Gutierrez, Dr. A. L. Clemmons, executive director of the New Mexico School Board Association, James Whitlow, Professor Emeritus of Music from the University of New Mexico, Ruidoso Mayor George White, and P. T. Valliant, former superintendent of schools.

Whitlow opened the program with the "Star Spangled Banner." Michelle Morrow, student council president, led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Ronny Maskew presented principal Tom Hansen with a United States flag that was flown over the United States capitol building on January 30, 1984. Senator Jeff Bingaman gave the flag to Maskew and a group of students who visited Washington last spring. Don Swalander, vice president of the Ruidoso Board of Education, welcomed guests. Mike Gladden, associate superintendent, introduced special guests. Clemmons commented on the beauty of the setting for the high school. "I am delighted that you have chosen this spot, what a fitting spot for a school," he said. Clemmons, Gutierrez and Bonnie Brock Wood served on the Capital Outlay Committee through the years that funds were being acquired and disbursed for the high school facilities.

Wood, who is now business manager for Ruidoso Municipal Schools, told the group that $4.7 million in capital outlay funds was used for phases I, II, and III. She continued, "Without this assistance, this facility would not have been possible." She commended the citizens of Ruidoso on their willingness to support education by approving five bond issues in four years.

Funds for Phase IV will be requested from the Capital Outlay Committee next week. "Garfield, we will need your help," Wood said to Gutierrez. She said that project completions normally receive priority on funding requests.

Phase IV will include physical facilities for the music department. Wood commented, "This will make life a lot more harmonious for (music director) Danny Flores and his students." Wood explained that the school illustrates the foresight of Ruidoso educators, and is a symbol of hope, growth and progress.

Policeman of the Year nominees announced

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

Nominations for the Policeman of the Year were announced at the Thursday meeting of the Ruidoso Crime Stoppers.

Nominated were Lincoln County Deputy Sheriff Charles Cox, Ruidoso Police Department officer Pete J. Esquibel, Ruidoso Downs Police Chief G. L. (Skip) Hazel and New Mexico State Police officer Clayton Floyd.

Cox became a deputy for the county when present sheriff Tom Sullivan first took office in January 1983. In his nomination letter for Cox, Sullivan notes Cox's involvement in the reorganization of the Sheriff's Office; work in the writing of an operations manual and jail manual; leading role in the organization of the Sheriff's Reserve Program; and work as coordinator of the Carrizo Crime Stoppers as reasons the deputy sheriff should receive the award.

Esquibel was hired by the Ruidoso

Police Department in February 1983 as a communications-detention officer. In September 1983, he became a patrol officer. In his nomination letter, Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor noted that Esquibel "is a valuable person to have around in an emergency or unusual situations because of his ability to make sound decisions and follow through with correct procedures."

Esquibel was recently chosen as the "Officer of the Quarter" by the Twelfth Judicial District Law Enforcement Association.

Hazel joined the Ruidoso Downs Police Department as chief in July 1984. He began his career in law enforcement as a police dispatcher for the Village of Ruidoso in April 1977. By October 1978, Hazel had moved up to the position of patrol officer for Ruidoso.

In March 1979, he graduated from the New Mexico Law Enforcement Academy and was advanced to the rank of corporal of the Ruidoso Police Department.

Ruidoso Downs Police Sergeant Roger Riley noted Hazel's leadership abilities and coordination efforts with other agencies as reasons Hazel should become Policeman of the Year.

Floyd is a 10-year veteran of the New Mexico State Police. In his nomination letter for Floyd, State Police Lieutenant Bob Miller noted Floyd's participation in the Police Athletic League and Ruidoso Downs Explorer Scouts; responsibilities as a hunter safety instructor and as fleet safety officer; and academic background, including graduating from the Medical Examiner's School and the earning of degrees in business administration, as reasons Floyd should receive the award.

Miller also noted Floyd's 200-plus hours of advanced training in his nomination.

According to Crime Stoppers presi-

Ski race looking bigger all the time

by MATT BOSISIO
News Staff Writer

An effort that continues to unfold at a furious pace as it steams toward February took several steps closer to making the All-American Pro-Ski Classic the largest and most prestigious event to sweep into Ruidoso.

At a Thursday meeting of the organizers' board of directors, a variety of updates were reported, including the announcement of media sponsors and national media exposure.

According to Tommy Morel, acting executive director of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and one of the local organizers of the classic, said KOAT-TV of Albuquerque, an ABC affiliate, and the El Paso Times, have signed on as official media sponsors of the race.

An official radio station sponsor will also be lined up, he said, probably within the next few weeks.

The ESPN Cable Network, with 33 million subscribers, has agreed to air a one-and-a-half to two hour special on the race a minimum of three times and a maximum of six.

In addition, Metromedia Syndicated Networks may pick up the event, airing it to 50 million households.

Morel said daily television coverage is expected from Albuquerque, EL Paso, Roswell, Lubbock, Midland-Odessa and Amarillo.

In the print media, coverage is expected from national and regional publications, including Skiing, SKI Magazine, Sports Illustrated, Texas Monthly, New Mexico Magazine and Albuquerque Living.

Major newspapers and radio stations in Ruidoso's primary and secondary tourist market areas will also be invited to attend the race.

In total, said Morel, $50,000 to $60,000 in free media sponsorship has been assured to date.

Harvey Foster, representing the Junior Racers, offered to coordinate the production and selling of official race T-shirts, and possibly caps, to help raise money for the young racers.

The board agreed to the proposal, suggesting that some of the sales be conducted at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort if manager Roy Parker has no objections.

The board also agreed to bid specifications for a 32-page race program that will incorporate the use of black and white and color graphics, and be produced in quantities of 10,000 or 15,000 copies.

Included in the reports at Thursday's meeting was an account from Emmitt Mundy on the auction committee, which is planning a silent auction and a noisy auction during the ski classic.

Among the items already collected or anticipated or being worked on for the auctions are a helicopter ski trip to Sun Valley; a weekend in Cloudcroft; a balloon ride in Albuquerque; a ski weekend in Taos; a week or weekend in Aspen, Colorado; two tickets to a Dallas Cowboys football game; a party for 500 catered by Sonny's Barbeque; and numerous hunting and fishing trips.

Morel suggested that the group consider getting involved with Winter Carnival Week, an event planned to coincide with the ski classic, sponsored by the Spirit of Ruidoso.

Morel also noted that many of the professional skiers, as well as some national celebrities, should be in Ruidoso by Wednesday, January 30. He suggested organizing some athletic events to help raise the spirit of the race.

"We want to keep these people visible," he said. "We want to keep the celebrities visible around town."

Becky Durham, of Sierra Blanca Motors, said she might be able to provide scheduled van travel up and down the mountain for the skiers, celebrities and press.

Sierra Blanca was one of the major sponsors of last year's race, providing transportation for race and state officials, skiers and others involved with the event.

Morel ended the meeting by urging that a presentation be prepared to give before the Ruidoso Lodgers Association asking for housing assistance throughout the four days of the ski classic, January 31 to February 3.

The All-American Pro-Ski Classic is the premier event on the Peugeot Grand Prix Tour, and is sanctioned and conducted by the North American Pro-Ski Corporation of Bath, Maine.

The total prize purse, as of Friday, stands at $80,000.

'Doctor' run resumes Thursday evening

The Ruidoso Little Theatre (RLT) production of "The Good Doctor" will continue this weekend.

Bob Hedgecoke, an officer at Moncor Bank, draws on his real-life job as he portrays a banker in the play. However, in this comedy, Hedgecoke plays a comical, grumpy banker who is not very tolerant of a whining client.

In "The Seduction," another vignette in the play, Hedgecoke portrays a naive husband who inadvertently delivers greetings of love from his lecherous friend to his beautiful wife.

Hedgecoke was born in Germany and raised in Las Cruces. He has lived in Ruidoso for the past year.

Last year, Hedgecoke played Roy in the RLT production of "The Odd Couple."

When not at work or on stage, Hedgecoke enjoys piloting one of his two airplanes.

Sandy Ward plays Julia, a shy and withdrawn governess who has a hidden strength which she cleverly hides from her employer.

A Capitan native, Ward works as bookkeeper at Moncor Bank in Ruidoso.

This is Ward's first experience with Ruidoso Little Theatre. "It's exciting," she said. "It brings out your personality and eliminates shyness."

Terrie Webb plays Sonya in "The Sneeze," the opening skit of the play. She describes her character as "a typical wife who would probably do everything her husband wanted."

Webb has lived in Ruidoso for the past 10 years. A Ruidoso High graduate, she is currently employed as a bookkeeper.

Webb's previous roles include Kate in "Never Too Late" and Nurse Glynn in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

Wood expressed gratitude to all the people involved in the project's completion, and particularly to Valliant, former school board member Dave Parks, Superintendent Sidney Miller, State Representative Mickey McGuire and Hansen. She concluded her address with "Today is indeed a celebration and a thanksgiving."

Miller then officially dedicated the building to "learning and pride of worth." White presented a plaque bearing the year and names of administration and school board members involved in the school building project to Valliant, who is credited with originating the idea that a new school should be built.

Valliant closed the official ceremony, and Swalander encouraged guests to attend a reception in the Home Economics Department and tour the building.

A spirit of pride in accomplishment that was common to all the platform speakers' remarks was echoed by school personnel. One staff member remarked, "I didn't realize that a wonderful new modern environment would make such a difference in attitudes."

Hansen singled out several people for words of praise. "Bonnie Brock Wood is the one person most responsible for this building," he said, and explained that she was director of the Office of Education Capital Outlay

Committee during the crucial time that funds were being allocated.

He went on to commend Parks and Valliant for their foresight in encouraging architects to work with the building's future users as they made plans. He said he felt this kind of involvement by school personnel was very effective and unusual.

Architects were Alley Connell-Strain, and contractors were John Connell, Incorporated, of Clovis and Seegee Engineering of Albuquerque. Current Board of Education members are W. R. "Stormy" Edwards, Swalander, Fred Lynn Willard, Lamar Osbourn and Mike Morris. Former board members recognized on the program were Parks, C. L. "Bones" Wright and the late Charles McClellan.

The building committee was comprised of Kathy Travis, Judy Radtke, Karen Wharton and Hansen.

The dedication program included a special note that "The design of Ruidoso High School was a collaborative effort with all teachers and staff members having an opportunity for input. Many other staff members graciously gave of their time and effort in assisting with the design of classroom and specialized areas. The Building Committee wishes to acknowledge their contributions."

We are deeply grateful to the entire community for the support it has so generously offered."

AG says Sunday liquor okay at track

by MATT BOSISIO
News Staff Writer

The state Attorney General's Office reported Thursday that Sunday sales by the drink, a measure defeated by voters in Ruidoso Downs, will not affect Ruidoso Downs Race Track.

According to Kenneth Baca, assistant attorney general involved with the Department of Alcohol Beverage Control, the racetrack is protected by a state statute that specifically addresses horse racing facilities.

"Assuming the referendum is by the drink on Sunday sales, this statute will supercede that," he said.

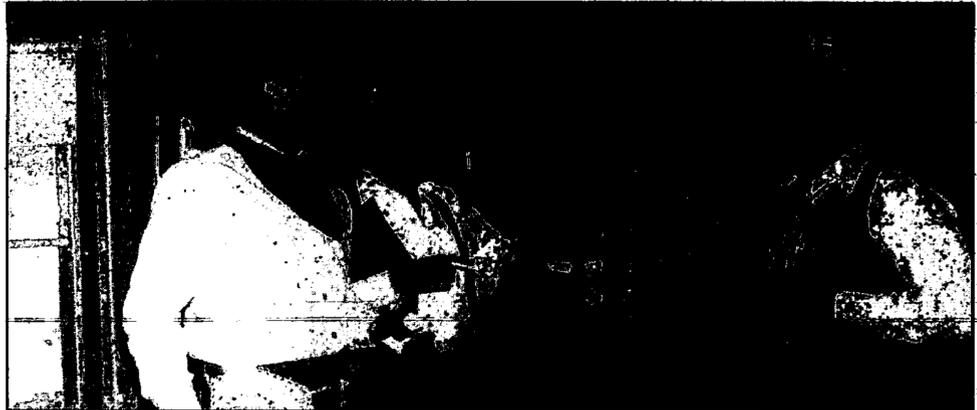

The statute, 60-7A/2, allows for "a dispenser whose licensed premises are located on a public horse racing track licensed by the State Racing Commission to sell, serve or permit the consumption of alcohol beverages by the drink on Sunday during the racing season between the hours of 12 noon and 11 p.m."

Baca said the statute effectively exempts the track from defeat of the measure, which was voted down by a margin of 18 votes.

"And again," he said, "it's got to be a dispenser's license issued by the Department of Alcohol Beverage Control. And it has to be a racetrack licensed by the state Racing Commission."

If both conditions exist, Baca said, as they do at Ruidoso Downs, "I don't think there will be a problem at all."

From left, Garrett Myers, Curt Boles and Ron Smith are held at gunpoint by Paul Vordermann. Vordermann has adopted the three smokers for Thursday's Smoke-Out.

Adopt smoker for Thursday's Smoke-Out

The "Marlboro Man" image may have bitten the dust. Eight of the nine men who have portrayed the cool, tough Westerner with his chaps and ever-present pack of cigarettes have been buried, anyway.

These men, a symbol for the "macho" smoker, have all died of emphysema or other lung diseases, according to Paul Vordermann, Lincoln County's Great American Smoke-Out chairman.

If that isn't enough to smoke a cowboy out, Marlboro Man number nine suffers from chronic health problems.

Vordermann plans to "corral" some of Ruidoso's toughest smokers and "brand" them "KWIT" for quit smoking as part of the Great American Smoke-Out on Thursday, November 15.

Non-smokers may "adopt" a smoker for the day, and Vordermann has official adoption certificates. He can provide extensive information on the effects of cigarette smoking on health.

Vordermann is adopting Curt Boles, Garrett Myers and Ron Smith.

"These guys are really tough, three packs a day smokers," he said. "This year's Smoke-Out will emphasize the large number of teens who smoke. Boles, Myers and Smith said they all began smoking as teens.

Some teen smokers say they smoke because their friends, a parent or older brothers and sisters smoke. According to government figures, there are three million teenage smokers in the United States.

Recent statistics show that if a teenager hasn't started to smoke heavily by age 15 or 16, chances are he or she won't become an addicted smoker. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop has set a goal of a "smokeless graduating class of high school seniors in the year 2000," and he has challenged health agencies to make that goal a reality.

"BREATHING EASY," a television special designed to encourage teen-agers to join the smoke-free generation, will be shown by Public Broadcasting Stations as part of the Smoke-Out.

KENW cable channel 3 of Portales will broadcast the film at 8 p.m. Wednesday, November 14. KNME cable channel 18 of Albuquerque will air the movie at 2 p.m. Sunday. The American Lung Association, American Cancer Society and American Heart Association are providing funding for the program.

The film emphasizes the negative physical and financial side effects of smoking in an entertaining format. "Breathing Easy" features an imaginary network with a game show, a situation comedy, a newscast and a variety segment with comedy, interviews and break dancing.

Starring in the one-hour special are Joan Van Ark of "Knots Landing," Mark Harmon of "St. Elsewhere," and Paul Reiser from "Diner."

Smoking is recognized as the leading cause of heart disease among Americans, but some surprising facts about smoking are revealed in "Breathing Easy." For instance, there are 15 different cancer-causing substances and 4,000 chemicals in the average cigarette.

A new dimension to the Smoke-Out is the toll-free "KWIT-line," 1-900-210-KWIT. The American Cancer Society has prepared a one-minute recording with tips to facilitate smokers who want to quit, either permanently or just for the day.

Callers may hear the tape, just by dialing the KWIT number. The telephone company will charge each caller 50 cents.

Vordermann is challenging his friends to quit smoking, and offering a reward if they succeed. He suggests that everyone in Lincoln County "adopt" at least one smoker for the Smoke-Out.

Call Vordermann at 257-7712, or local American Cancer Society president Ken Moore at 257-7312 for more information on the Great American Smoke-Out.

Bill may affect home buyers, sellers

by MATT BOSIJO
News Business Writer

The U.S. Congress has put the real estate industry into a precarious position, one that local Realtors say could affect the market drastically.

At issue is legislation on seller financing.

"It's hurting the small people, the buyers and the sellers," said Ron Smith, of Ron Smith & Associates of Capitan. "The small property owners—it's hurting them. And I don't think it was meant to be targeted at the small property owners. I think it was directed at the large real estate transactions."

The action in Congress surrounds the new imputed interest provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1984. The new rules, which were to have gone into effect January 1, 1985, would restrict the ability of property owners to sell their property through affordable seller financing.

Under the new provision, a seller providing financing must charge an interest rate of at least 110 percent of the rate on federal securities of a similar maturity to avoid being taxed at 120 percent for the interest income.

In other words, if the rate of federal securities is at 13 percent, the law would require the seller providing financing to charge the buyer interest at the rate of 14.3 percent.

"Just about any sales, or most sales—that is to say, land, small businesses, lots, acreage—that you want to sell and finance yourself, including second homes, would be affected," said Smith.

Since approximately 80 percent of his sales involve some type of owner assistance to the buyer, the bill would be, in his opinion, "disastrous."

Primary homes sold at less than $250,000 and farms sold for less than $1 million are not touched by the provision. Both forms of property remain with the old rule, which requires that owner financing be at a rate no less than 9 percent.

At the present time, the new bill is in limbo. A temporary solution was approved by the Congress October 11 which raises the price floor to $2 million for any piece of property.

But unless further action is taken to establish a permanent solution by July 1, 1985, Smith said, the new imputed interest provision will become law.

"What they were trying to do was keep the Savings and Loans strong," explained Greg Masters, president of the Ruidoso Board of Realtors. "They wanted to protect them from owner financing."

He said he was fairly confident that action would be taken on the bill before July, possibly maintaining the $2 million selling price floor outlined in the temporary solution. "They've changed it around so that it concerns top-dollar properties now," Masters said. "And I don't know that it will affect sales in Ruidoso. But in other areas, it will affect sales greatly."

According to James Paxton of Century 21 Aspen Realty, unless the provision is acted upon, it will kill incentive for owner financing and turn away potential buyers.

"More and more I've seen that my clients have realized that one of the incentives they need to offer is some type of financing," he said. And the buyers, he noted, are looking for ways they can afford to buy a home.

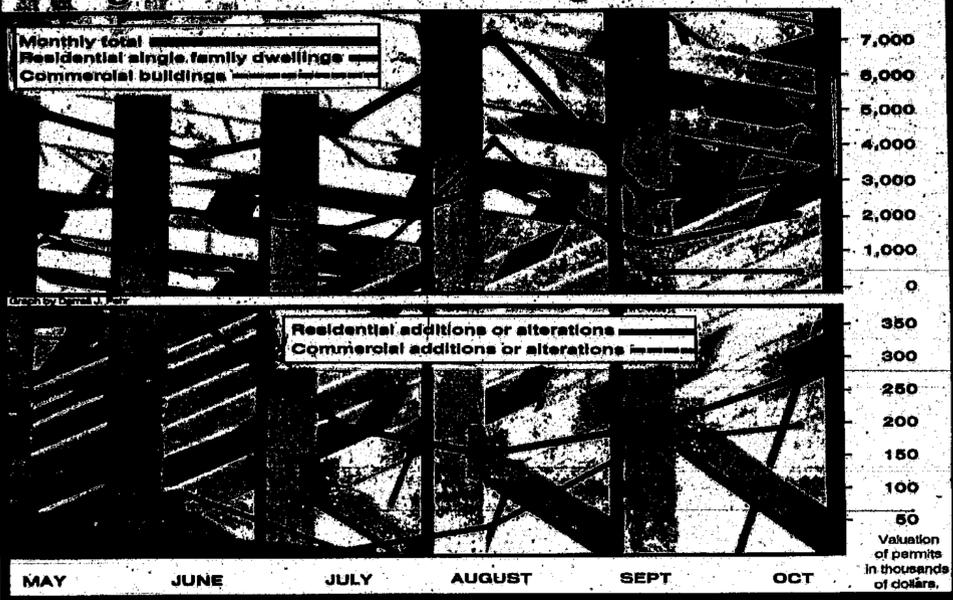

Without that advantage, Paxton said, some of the 20 to 30 percent of sales that are owner financed will not be available.

"It's like one of those things that we say, 'We can wait until June.' But we can't wait," he said. "We have to do something now."

Smith pointed out that in addition to undeveloped property, small businesses and second homes, the new provision would apply to multi-family buildings and all commercial property.

"I think unless people are made aware of this now," he said, "it will hurt the real estate industry drastically."

Village of Ruidoso Building Permits

The number of building permits issued by the Village of Ruidoso was up from September in nearly all categories, particularly in residential additions. Total valuation of all permits issued in October was a little over $3 million. The total valuation for the year to date stands at just over $38 million.

Bob, Tam finish one-two, but Warriors nipped at district

Cisco Bob of the Ruidoso High School cross-country team crosses the finish line a winner at the district 3-AAA meet in Silver City Saturday. Bob's time was 15:23. Ruidoso will compete in the state AAA-division meet next Saturday in Albuquerque.

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Cisco Bob and Gabe Tam finished one-two in the race, but the Ruidoso High School boys' cross-country team lost a tight decision to host Silver City in the District 3-AAA meet Saturday. Silver City scored 28 points to 30 for the Warriors. They were the only teams entered. Both squads qualified for the state AAA-division meet in Albuquerque next Saturday.

Bob took about a 10-yard lead in the first 300 yards of the three-mile race and gradually increased it throughout, recording a 15:23 time.

Tam, only a sophomore, ran a personal best of 16:02 to beat third-place finisher Sal Garcia of Silver City by 20 seconds. Garcia is the defending state 800-meter champion.

Tam was in fourth place at the beginning of the race, but took over third halfway through. He gained second place with less than a mile left and finished strong. Ramon Garcia of Silver City took fourth in 16:34 and Curt McClellan of the Warriors was fifth in 16:40. David Ordirica of Ruidoso took 10th in 17:11. Wayne Richardson of the Warriors was 12th in 18:46, and Hamilton Carter of Ruidoso finished 13th in 19:07.

Silver City's depth proved to be the difference as Colt runners finished third, fourth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth in the competition. Two Silver City runners came on strong in the last 400 yards to help clinch the win.

Bob, who is the defending state track champion in the 3,000 and 1,500 meters, finished 11th at the state AAA-division cross-country meet last season, but should do better this time.

What time will it take to win at the state meet?

"I'm not sure, I'm just going to do the best I can," Bob answered. "The course here (Silver City) was easy."

Tam, who has improved greatly over the course of the season, was happy with his performance.

"I'm real happy with my time and place," he said. "The course wasn't hard. There were a couple of steep hills but the rest wasn't bad."

Saturday's state competition will be in conjunction with the other divisions. Last season the Warriors finished seventh, with Grants winning the championship and Goddard taking second.

Gabe Tam of the Ruidoso High School cross-country team finishes second in the district 3-AAA meet Saturday in Silver City. Tam, only a sophomore, ran a personal best of 16:02. Silver City won the meet 28-30.

Grizzlies win, Eagles lose in prep grid state playoffs

Carrizozo's hopes stayed alive but Hondo's died in high school football action over the weekend.

The Carrizozo varsity team topped visiting Tatum 18-7 to advance to the state A-division championship game against Reserve next weekend.

However, Hondo lost the state six-man championship by a 34-24 score to host Vaughn Saturday. The Eagles finished the season with a 6-3 record. Carrizozo used a run-oriented offense led by Steve Stearns and a tough defense to top Tatum. The Grizzly victory was revenge for last year when Tatum beat Carrizozo in the semifinals.

Stearns scored all three of the Grizzly touchdowns on runs of 24, one and 71 yards. Larry Hillard scored the Tatum touchdown on a one-yard run.

In the other A-division semi-final, district 1-A Reserve dumped Texico to earn a berth in the finals against the 9-1 Grizzlies.

with Gary Brown

The Ruidoso High School varsity football team has qualified for the state AAA-division playoffs after its impressive 31-14 victory over Deming Friday night.

Now the fun begins! The Warriors will have a weekend off while preparing for their Saturday, November 24, meeting with St. Michael's in Santa Fe. No exact time has been scheduled yet, but the game probably will be played in the afternoon.

Meanwhile, speculation abounds as to how the playoffs will come out. Artesia is the defending champion but will be in the playoffs as a second-place team. The Bulldogs tied Portales in their district 4-AAA "biggie," but the Rams topped the Bulldogs in the tie-breaker at the end of that game.

Still, Artesia might be the team Ruidoso and the other teams in the playoffs will have to beat for the title. Artesia was probably the most physical team the Warriors played during the regular season, and the Bulldogs have the added advantage of plenty of playoff experience.

St. Pius has been ranked at the top of the AAA-division Associated Press state poll most of the season, but the Sartans haven't played as tough a schedule as Ruidoso and some of the other southern teams have.

Silver City and Portales are also tough teams—probably on a par or close to it with Artesia and St. Pius. St. Michael's won the District 2-AAA championship, beating West Las Vegas 13-0 Saturday. They're a big team, but Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson thinks his team has more speed and quickness than the capital city squad. It's hard to evaluate the northern teams, since they don't play many of the teams in the southern part of the state and they don't play many common opponents.

However, most people think that the best football in the state (in both the AAA and AAAA divisions) is played in the southern half of the state.

Therefore, Ruidoso could have an advantage over St. Michael's going into the first playoff game.

The Warriors played Portales, Artesia and Silver City during the regular season. They tied Portales 20-20, lost to Artesia 23-6 and fell to Silver City 33-22.

With a bit of luck, Ruidoso might have done better against Silver City and Artesia, and those two teams are probably two of the best four in the state's AAA division.

However, nothing is sure until the playoffs begin; injuries, weather and other factors could have a bearing on any of the contests.

But the Warriors have made the playoffs, and that in itself is something for Ruidoso fans to be happy about.

Staying on the subject of football, Carrizozo and Hondo also have had outstanding seasons this year.

Carrizozo qualified for the state A division finals by defeating Tatum 18-7 Friday night. The Grizzlies will play Reserve for the title next Friday. Hondo made it all the way to the state six-man finals before losing 34-24 to Vaughn Saturday on the winners' field.

Here's a tip of the hat to both teams.

Ruidoso varsity spikers drop tournament opener, team should have large group returning next year

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

The Ruidoso High School varsity volleyball team concluded the 1984 season on an unsuccessful note Thursday night, losing the District 3-AAA tournament opener to Silver City in three sets on the Colts' court.

Silver City won 15-3, 15-4, 15-4, but Warrior head coach Pixie Arthur felt her team showed improvement against the Colts, second-place finishers in the regular district season.

"We really played a lot better," Arthur said. "The score was not indicative of how we played."

"The kids were aggressive and their mental attitude was very positive."

"What hurt us again was that they didn't beat us. We beat ourselves."

Ruidoso trailed throughout in the first and third sets. However, the Warriors had a 4-1 lead in the second set before the hosts scored 14 straight points for the victory. Arthur praised the play of Diane McClure, Lana McClure, Kerry Gladden and freshman Shannon Lee.

"Shannon did a great job," the coach said. "She was very aggressive and did a good job bumping. She didn't let any ball drop near her."

"Kerry did a good job all-around."

Arthur felt the Warriors ended the season on a good note.

"We showed improvement," she said. "During the season, other coaches and referees told us they felt we were the most improved team in the entire area, not just the district."

Ruidoso's prospects for next season look bright. Of the six starters against Silver City, three were sophomores and one is a junior. There are only three seniors on the entire squad—Diane McClure, Gia Rose and Shella Espinosa.

"I think we'll do better next season," Arthur said. "We're looking forward to the district tournament next season."

Warrior players jubilant after win over Deming

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Happiness flowed from the players on the Ruidoso High School varsity football team after their 31-14 playoff-clinching victory at Deming Friday night.

The players crowded around the team bus after the win, cheering each other and accepting congratulations from their families and friends.

The 7-2 overall record, the second-place district finish and a berth in the state AAA-division playoffs for the first time in the school's history showed on the players' faces.

What was the difference between this season and the 1-19 record of the past two years?

"We wanted it," shouted happy senior defensive tackle Patric Pearson. "We were hungry and we really wanted it. Man, did we want it."

Pearson and another senior, fullback Manuel Montano, led the team in a post-game cheer that ended with Montano jumping on Pearson's shoulders.

Another senior, offensive tackle Chris Woodul, felt the potential for a good season was there before the season started.

"At the beginning of the season, I felt we had the capacity to do well," he said. "But I wasn't sure if we'd be able to blend it together or not."

"But we worked real well together. We were like a family and worked hard together."

Junior tailback Michael Williamson scored all four Warrior touchdowns, and his happiness was shown with a quiet smile on his face.

"I'd say this was my best game," he said. "But the whole team played well. We had excellent blocking."

The Warriors trailed 14-8 at halftime, but came storming back in the second half for the victory.

"At halftime, the coaches just told us we were the better team and to just go out and do our best," Williamson said.

Ruidoso junior varsity topped by Deming, 34-24

The Ruidoso High School junior varsity football team lost its season finale to visiting Deming by a 34-24 score Saturday afternoon.

Ruidoso, which finished the season 2-3-2, led 18-14 at halftime. However, the undefeated (8-0) Wildcats came back in the second half to score 20 unanswered points for the victory.

Junior Ryan Frost scored three touchdowns and Randy Reynolds scored the only touchdown for the Warriors.

"The team played pretty well overall," said coach Ed Davis. "I'd say Deming ranked with Artesia as the best team we've played this season."

Under as no Warrior player was under a sophomore quarterback Jeff Willingham. Willingham was starting his first game after regular quarterback Russell Easter broke his collarbone in the 39-22 loss to district champion Silver City last week.

Willingham came into the second half of the Silver City game and threw two touchdown passes. He didn't have any touchdown passes against Deming, but threw for 150 yards and a two-point conversion.

Willingham also intercepted a pass from his safety position on defense. "I'd say there was more pressure in this game than the Silver City game," Willingham commented.

Did he think the Warriors could come back from the 14-0 deficit?

"I thought the offense could but I wasn't sure about the defense," he answered. "But we just sucked it in and all did a good job."

The Capitan volleyball team opens play Friday in the state tournament at Albuquerque. First-round opponent for Coach Bill Tatum is Tatum. MacVeigh's spikers is Tatum.

Volleyball team to state Thursday

The Capitan varsity volleyball team will head to Albuquerque Thursday to compete in the state tournament. They will play their first game, against Tatum, on Friday morning. Capitan is the second-place team in its regional division. Cloudercroft won the regional title Thursday afternoon, but Capitan beat Mountainair, earning the second-place seed. Capitan won the match against Mountainair in three games. The scores were 15-10, 15-4, 15-13. Coach Bill MacVeigh said his team passed the ball well and ran a good offense.

In the championship match against Cloudercroft, Capitan won the first game, but lost the following three. The scores were 7-15, 15-9, 15-10, 15-10.

The Dreamer

by Dan Storm

Shorty Stoneman
"He spent his whole life, ever since he was a boy, doing for others."
These few words, uttered by his devoted life partner, Thelma Roper Stoneman, put our great friend, George H. Stoneman, in a nutshell. No more unselfish and open-hearted man ever lived. And the host of friends and loved ones at his services, November seven, at Forest Lawn Cemetery, spoke clearly of how much we all think of our beloved neighbor of many years.
Thelma was telling me a little about the military record of Shorty, as he was affectionately known to thousands.
She said, "I never did learn all I should have about his war record, because it was so hard to get him to talk at all about those years."
Shorty volunteered into the military service in World War II. I think Thelma said, first in the Army Air Corps. He later was transferred to the Army and stationed at Fort Bliss, where he could have stayed for the duration of the war. Instead he volunteered for overseas duty and saw action in many battles of the European theater: Italy, Sicily and the European continent. He received five battle stars, both bronze and silver. He stayed for the duration of the war.
Raised on the ranch in the Jicarillas, Shorty married Thelma in 1939. Then he went to work in the Capitan coal mine, owned by Mr. Wiley and Bill Kelt. In 1940 Shorty and Thelma bought the mine, and they delivered coal to all the school houses in the area, and to other homes and places of business. They even took coal to Texas. Shorty saw to it that there was coal to heat the schools, whether they could pay or not.

When butane gas came into the picture, Shorty made the transfer from coal and got in on the ground floor, and had been operating Stoney's Gas Company for thirty-five years that I know of.
I was talking to Troy Parker the other day and he said, "Shorty helped lots of people. He delivered gas to lots of people who couldn't pay."
Thelma said the same thing, "When Shorty saw anyone in need, he made sure they had gas."
Shorty Stoneman's "bread cast upon the waters, has returned a thousand fold."
He will hold a very high spot in our affections always, and therefore his reward is great here among us and also in heaven with Our Lord.
The Last of the Birthday Celebrations
Maybe this is the last of the celebrations, and maybe they will just continue right on up to the next birthday. Anyhow, Buck and Diana Meyer have been planning to have me out to dinner for some time.
So on Friday the eighth, Diana took me up to Nottingham's Pub, and you never saw the like of fancy grub. First on the menu was Nebraska pheasants under glass; then came Alaskan salmon with wild blueberry jelly-sauce; and just to complete the international picture, here came Russian caviar with a little relish made from wild strawberries from the windswept Siberian steppes.
Catching the spirit of the day, Nottingham's Pub trotted out a plate of cheese cake of French design, on the house, flavored with vanilla, pineapple, tropical mango and other flavors that I think must have been flown in from Paris by plane.
So I thank Buck and Diana Meyer and little Bret, and Nottingham's Pub for this birthday dinner of such elegant chuck.

Welcome Home
Dr. and Mrs. Kaiser

If you will forgive me, I will mention this one more time. The eighth was the eve of the thirteenth anniversary of the day in 1971 that ambulance driver Albert Jay wheeled me into the emergency room of the hospital. There I was met by a stalwart Nordic type of fellow who turned out to be Dr. C.D. Kaiser. He was on semi-retirement, just pinch-hitting for the other doctors. He called up Dr. Edward Stalzer, who came and sewed up the legs. For one hundred days, almost to the hour, Dr. Kaiser was my main doctor. During this stay, Dr. R.L. Annala made a skin graft.
So after the birthday dinner, I drove by Dr. Kaiser's office, right next to Dr. Annala, where Dr. Howard Tate used to be.

Here was the good doctor and his beautiful wife, looking even younger and more handsome than ever. We had a grand visit, and I was filled again with gratefulness for Dr. Kaiser and Mrs. Kaiser.

Dr. Kaiser has begun office practice here, after having retired from several years at William Beaumont Hospital in El Paso. We welcome this well-beloved couple back to Ruidoso. Legionnaires Celebrate

Veterans Day
A good turnout of more than sixty people gathered Sunday afternoon, November eleven, at the Veterans Hall in Ruidoso Downs to celebrate Veterans Day.

The meeting was opened with American Legion messages for the day by commander of post number 79, Ruidoso, Merrill Peet.

A feature of the occasion was the dedication of the veterans Hall and the handsome new flagpole, constructed by Rick Simpson, past commander of the Legion post. Sargeant at arms, Pat Huffsmith, offered a tribute of appreciation to Rick, which was well received.

The flag flying on the flagpole was the one which draped the casket of Calvin Cowden's brother, Major Bert E. Cowden, of the United States Air Force, one of the outstanding heroes of the Vietnam War. Major Cowden received every decoration except the Congressional Medal. We all appreciate the honor of the loan of this flag for this year's Veterans' celebration.
Mayor pro tem, Sherman Atwood, a Legion member, represented George White at the ceremonies.

School board retains Blea

by TIM PALMER
News Editor

The Capitan school board Thursday declined by a 3-2 vote to terminate junior high teacher-coach John Blea. Blea had been accused of using physical punishment and profanity in disciplining students.

Board members James McDaniel and Preston Stone voted in favor of McDaniel's motion to terminate Blea. Members Robert Rannels, Isidro Peralta and chairman Mark Delgado voted against the motion.

Superintendent of Schools Leonard Hays confirmed, "He (Blea) has been retained as a teacher," after the vote. His statement was greeted with a burst of applause and cheering by about a dozen students present in support of Blea.

The board adjourned into closed session shortly after convening

Thursday, and remained closed for two and a half hours. After they emerged, discussion of Blea was opened to the packed classroom.

Reverend Harold Perry, a parent and driver of the schools' activity bus, said a discipline problem existed in the schools. He indicated that if Blea was to be removed, a general house-cleaning was in order.

"You sure got a problem when your kids come to school and the teachers cuss 'em," said parent Jimmy Jeter. Dan Carter expressed concern that Blea was not a fit role model for children.

Armando Quimones said most people were not aware of the "real mayhem" of which schoolchildren were capable. He suggested compassion for Blea.

Parent Judy Seals said her son had been on the receiving end of Blea's discipline.

"If a big man cannot handle a little-bitty seventh-grader without kicking him or hitting him in the face, then something is wrong," she said.

Delgado acknowledged that something needed to be done, but said it was not fair to take one man and make an example of him.

Hays' recommendation to the board was to terminate Blea. It had been reported that Blea was admonished by his superiors and failed to change his methods afterward. Hays gave "insubordination" as the reason for his recommendation.

In other action Thursday, the board approved a series of resolutions relating to a bond issue election for capital improvements.

The board also discussed problems on school bus routes, and suggested Hays meet with bus drivers. (See related story.)

Bus incidents investigation to continue

According to chief sheriff's deputy Charlie Cox, the Sheriff's Department will continue to work full time for another month on the Capitan school bus molestation case.

Cox said that the District Attorney's Office met with the parents of the alleged victims Friday morning. Cox said it was "a very productive meeting."

According to Cox, the district attorney explained to the families that, at this point, the authorities do not have enough evidence to press charges of sexual molestation.

However, he said the office does intend to refer a boy who admitted to threatening the children with a knife to the juvenile authorities when the investigation is completed.

There will be a special meeting of the bus drivers and School Superintendent Leonard Hays to discuss ways of patrolling the bus routes. The meeting will be at 8:20 a.m. Wednesday, November 14.

County orders action on Carrizo sewer

by SHARON MAKONIA
News Capitan Bureau

In a special meeting Friday morning, the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners canvassed the votes from the November 6 election.

According to county clerk Jane McSwane, there were no problems or complaints with the election. County manager Suzanne Cox said Lincoln County was the second county in the state to have returns processed and completed.

Also at the meeting, Steve Sanders, attorney for the county, was asked by the commissioners to file charges against Petroplex Home Sales to allow Carrizo Canyon residents to tie on to the sewer line that the company had installed for Carrizo Lodge two years ago.

Petroplex had received an easement from the county in April 1982 to install a sewer line. According to Sanders, the corporation agreed to allow county residents to tie on to the sewer line for a reasonable amount of money for a period of at least five years.

Carrizo Canyon residents Jim Woolridge and Ann Greger were at the meeting to tell Sanders and the commissioners that they had been refused access to the sewer line. Woolridge said that at the time the line was installed, local residents were told they could tie on for $1,200 to $1,500. Woolridge said the owner is now charging $4,000 for the tie-on right.

"What you have done is given this guy a monopoly to Carrizo Road," said Woolridge. "He can't keep us off, but he can raise it so high that we can't afford it."

Commissioners' chairman John Hightower, who sat on the board when the easement was given in 1982, said the original intention was that the sewer would serve the entire road.

"I'm sick and tired of the same old rat race when people want to tie on," said commissioner Bill Elliot.

The commissioners also said the road had never been properly repaired after the sewer was installed. They asked Sanders to include road repairs in the charges he is to file.

During Friday's meeting, the commissioners also:

-Discussed obtaining an easement from Barbara Rudd to move the county road by her house to a better location.

-Accepted lot 14 of the Gavilan South Industrial Subdivision as a green area deeded to the county.

-Approved an agreement with the Community Development Block Grant for the Nogal water system.

-Approved the treasurer's report for October 1984.

The commissioners also looked at the new ambulance for the Alto area. Devill Bill Adams, director of Emergency Medical Services in Lincoln County, showed the new four-wheel-drive vehicle to the commissioners.

With the exception of outgoing commissioner John Hightower (who was ineligible to run for re-election this year), two of the commissioners will remain at their jobs for another two-year term. Commissioners Ken Nosker and Bill Elliot were both re-elected last week.

Elliot, who ran unopposed in District 3, was very pleased to be able to serve another term.

"I'm looking forward to getting on with the business of the county and doing the best job I possibly can," he said. Elliot also said he was glad to continue working with county manager Suzanne Cox. "She's a super county manager," he said.

Ken Nosker, who beat opponent Ralph Dunlap by a close 165 votes, said he appreciated the support of the voters. "Considering the fact that I had two opponents (Pat Ward was the other), I think that I did reasonably well," he said. Nosker added that he would continue to work for the progress and growth of Lincoln County.

Meetings

The board of trustees of the Village of Capitan will hold their regular meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, November 13, at city hall. The agenda includes:

Reporter's Round

by Matt Boislo

Most of you will not finish reading this column. The figures that will be cited are not pretty, and they reflect a world many of us are not prepared to face.

It's not that we're unfeeling. It's just that we're too busy, too well off, too detached to get involved. It's a natural response.

At the same time, though, it might be a response we can suspend for a brief time, particularly now as Thanksgiving approaches. Maybe it's a response we can take into account when we reflect next week on all we have to be thankful for.

Our health, our families, our financial situations, our lifestyles and surroundings—all of these things we traditionally give thanks for when sitting down at the Thanksgiving table.

And yet there's more to ponder than just our own good fortune, and that brings me to the complicated topic of this column: hunger.

It won't be for lack of food, certainly, or because of ignorance or laziness on the part of the dying, as some like to think. It's much more complex than that.

The reasons behind continued hunger relate to governments, class structures and foreign policies. But also, it relates heavily to attitudes and the way we view the world.

Compassion comes to mind, or rather, the lack of compassion. It's easy to feel pity for these people because pity is an emotional response. But compassion is an action response, and to take action means to dip into our busy lives and make some sort of commitment.

Again, it's a natural response to back off. After hearing so many pleas to feed the hungry, and after seeing so many bloated and crying children march across the TV, the real importance begins to fade.

It's not exactly a popular subject of discussion, but it's a daily way of life for tens of millions around the world. That seems a strange statement considering the prosperity outside our doors: It is, nonetheless, a statement of fact; confirmed again and again by numerous world organizations, including the United Nations.

Here are some other facts that really paint the picture:

- Approximately 15 million people will die this year of hunger or its related causes. Of those, three out of four will be children.
- Some 700 million people suffer from hunger and abject poverty. That's about three times the population of the United States.
- One out of four human beings in the world has no access to safe drinking water. And that figure jumps to seven out of 10 in the 40 poorest countries.

A decade ago, the dream of ending world hunger by the year 2000 was swept up and carried by millions of Americans shocked by a devastating famine in Africa.

Today, that dream, if not dead, is without hope. World hunger will continue, most experts agree, well into the 21st century.

On Thursday, November 15, is an opportunity to do something about the problem—something small, granted, but a positive action regardless.

That day is the 11th annual Fast for a World Harvest. It's sponsored by a group called Oxfam America, an organization that funds self-help development projects and disaster relief.

The idea behind the fast is to provide a symbolic way of sharing in the plight of the starving while not making too big a deal out of it. A person can fast for a day or for simply a meal. Or just go light on the usual meals eaten.

Then, ideally, the person can donate the money saved to help combat the problem of hunger. It doesn't have to go to Oxfam or any other major group. It can be donated to organizers of community Thanksgiving dinners for the needy, or to fill a Christmas basket with food.

The Fast for a World Harvest does not require a commitment, only a desire. We Americans, and we Ruidosans in particular, are very fortunate. Even the least of us is wealthy in the eyes of most of the world.

Maybe we can share a little of that good fortune this year, even as we give thanks for having it at all.

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—By three days after the election, you can bet the phone calls have gone back and forth between the paleoconservatives who head the Republican party in New Mexico.

And what is the content of those calls? Are the biggies in the GOP rejoicing that the people at the head of their ticket did so well on Tuesday?

No. They are griping about Pete Domenici.

Without having a wiretap on any of the phones, it is possible to write your own version of the kind of thing that is being said:

"Oh, sure. He did very well, and I suppose we are all expected to be proud of him. But did he pull all the rest of our people in with him? No. He was too busy just taking care of himself. Hardly lifted a hand for any other Republicans."

"If he had really put his mind on it, he could have gotten every other Republican on the ballot elected."

"And' all that money he had. He drew lots of that from the general public in New Mexico, which left too little for the rest of us. Then who did he use it all for? Himself."

money he had with which to run his campaign?

Someone here observed that, despite Judy Pratt's poor-mouthing, she had what anyone would consider a totally adequate TV campaign. In fact, Domenici's was not all that much more extensive, even if he did have ten times the dollars Judy had.

That was pretty shrewd. If Domenici had dominated the airwaves for months like a fat cat, that would have been a turn-off to the voters.

But there are lots of other ways for a well-planned campaign to use its money, though the common wisdom of the day would have you believe television does it all.

The Domenici staffers, for instance, made effective use of newspapers, which hardly any statewide candidates bother with anymore. That medium actually allows a campaigner to localize his message to the area in which it appears, instead of being trapped in one of those generic-brand, talk-to-everybody-at-once type presentations which are the only kind TV can accommodate.

There was also a serious and effective behind-the-scenes Domenici campaign, conducted entirely on the telephone. If, when your opponent accuses you of neglecting senior citizens, for example, you can have supporters place phone calls to 40,000 such seniors to explain what your stands really are, you have a big advantage.

Domenici had that, and the people who organized his campaign used it well.

It took a lot more than TV spots to get Pete the support he showed on Tuesday.

You get the idea, which is very simple. There is no way the old fogies who still keep most of the top posts in the state's second party can ever accept any young whippersnappers who come along and get elected without their permission.

Now, when there is momentum built up and the possibility of further growth for their party, will they take advantage of it?

Not likely. They are still busy administering the litmus test: Were you for Goldwater in 1964? In their book, if you can't prove you were, you don't have the proper credentials.

Maybe it's time for a younger crowd, not so bent on self-destruction, to rise up and take control of New Mexico's Grand Old Party.

Just possibly, such an insurgent group could include a few people with no gray in their hair, who were not even old enough to vote in 1964—which is, after all, 20 long years ago.

It's worth noting that the man in over-all charge of that Domenici campaign was Frank Bond, former Santa Fe county legislator, who is admittedly taking a close look at running for governor in 1986.

If he decides to do that, he now knows, as almost no other local Republicans do, how a big-time campaign is really conducted.

That's valuable hands-on experience, which few in our state have.

Where did Domenici spend all that

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to express my disappointment at the passage of no liquor sales on Sunday in the Village of Ruidoso Downs.

I have worked as a waitress at the racetrack the past three summers and have relied on tips I receive serving cocktails as a major source of my summer income. There are many other year round residents employed by Ruidoso-Sunland who will be affected by this law. Many will not be needed to work on Sunday. This can lower monthly income as much as $500.00 or more. The village itself will feel the loss as well, for it is my understanding that the more revenue the racetrack takes in, the bigger the profits are for the village.

It will hurt the restaurants and lounges in Ruidoso Downs. These people paid a lot of money to obtain their liquor licenses. It should be their privilege to serve drinks to customers who should have the privilege to enjoy a cocktail with their dinner. In the spring and summer most of these people are visitors or part-time residents whose business we greatly depend on during those months.

This will not stop the residents of Ruidoso Downs from drinking if they choose to on Sunday. They can either buy it the night before and drink at home or they can drive to Ruidoso and those who drink will still be on the roads.

I think this law will benefit no one except the people who will find a false sense of righteousness by having it passed.

PAMELA Z. DAY

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

Being the mother of two children I am greatly concerned for the welfare of all children. Ruidoso has a major problem of their school busing pickup points in this area. Along highway 37 is the worst area. Between the hours of 7:15 a.m. to 8:15 a.m. the road is congested with people going to work and the children are on both sides of the road very close to the highway. If for some reason someone would go around a car turning, and pass on the right even though it is illegal, they would run into a whole group of children standing there. Also on icy roads the children are in danger of sliding cars. New pickup points should be established for these kids further off the main road. Also I have noticed small children being left alone on these major roads with no other children or adult around. This is also a dangerous situation and should be stopped!! Please relay this message to the school officials and to the drivers on this road so everyone can be aware of the situation. For the sake of our children!

Thank you,
CYNDY LIVINGSTON
CAPITAN

Adult winners were: scariest the Dragon Lady from Kaleidoscope, cutest Wendy the clown from New Beginning Hair Salon and most original the pregnant nun, Bernice Vaughn from Moncor Bank.

Children in the Monster March were also winners: the scariest was Dracula #26, the cutest a clown #22, and the most original a hobo #24. Runner ups, and there were some super costumes and kids, were: scariest #23, 29, 10; cutest #35, 34, 9, 14 and original #33, 6, 4, 11.

Winners, if you have not received your prize, please contact Mountain Arts in the Gazebo Center, 257-9748.

Store costume contest was a tough one with the winner being a hobo—Sonja Smith, Smith Limited Gallery. Runner up was a witch, Margie Elliott at Fashions D'Oros. Honorable mention went to Moncor Bank and Gibson's, spooky places to work on Halloween.

The Store Window competition was another hard one to judge with outstanding displays throughout the Village. The winner was the Texas Club, runner up Mannie's Toggery and honorable mention to House of Kelham, Nottingham's Pub, Jerry Dale's Bowling and Village Hardware. The business community really put "spiri" into celebrating Halloween, and we all enjoyed the extra effort.

The Halloween Hoedown was fun for all, and thanks to Teri Sodd and the Halloween Committee and all who helped to make it possible.

SPRIT OF RUIDOSO

DEAR EDITOR:

A SPECIAL THANKS

The Spirit of Ruidoso extends a heart felt thanks to the community and the area for the tremendous support and attendance at the Halloween Hoedown. Everyone had a fine time, including the Great Pumpkins. A note of thanks to the Parks and Recreation Department of the Village of Ruidoso which co-sponsored the event and the Gymnastics Association and the Optimists who helped man booths and the Spook House. The Gazebo Shopping Center hosted the event, and thanks, also to the many businesses who helped with things: Sweet Retreat, Country Corn, Neely James, Safeway, Ben Franklin, Don Victor, Ruidoso News and all the fantastic workers who helped.

Guessing the weight of the giant pumpkin was a challenge, with guesses ranging from the 40s to the 140s. Barbara Downs guessed the weight exactly—82 pounds! Prizes for guessing the weight were donated by Cochera Restaurant, Country Time Western & Casual Wear, Lincoln County Cafe, Sutphens Barbeque and Whispering Pines Restaurant.

The Monster March through midtown included some terrific costumes and characters, adults and kids.

DEAR EDITOR:

Our annual Halloween Carnival was a tremendous success. The faculty and staff at Nob Hill Elementary wish to thank all those who have contributed and helped with our fundraiser.

We appreciate the donations of these merchants and friends, as well as the support of the entire community. We also wish to give particular thanks to the Parent Steering Committee for all their dedicated help and many hours of work:

Carolyn Stover, Moe Masters, Jamie Stroud, Reggie Gray, Susan Lutterman, Susan Collins, Tom Potter, Jackie Bizzell, Lesah Silva, Kyan Kirby.

DEAR EDITOR:

I am writing this letter in regards to the city council meeting on Tuesday October 30, 1984 at the city hall.

First of all I would like to thank Rick Evans and John Underwood for their support on the proposal to re-zone Paradise Canyon from R1 to C1. I am glad to see that not all the members of the city council are influenced by people who can hire attorneys and engineers. I voted for the people on the city council right now because I thought that they were fair and honest people. Well I found out at this meeting that I was wrong. They were not fair and they were not honest. They allowed the people involved to influence them instead of the issues at hand. We vote for the people that we have known to be fair and honest and will do the right thing when the facts are presented.

Well we got a raw deal. We had our facts together but the city council that voted against us had their minds made up before they heard the facts.

They didn't even listen to our side of the issue because if they had listened they would have voted to re-zone it C1.

The people who opposed this area commercial do not even live on the main road. They live at least 500 ft. or more from the main road in Paradise Canyon. Some live up on the hill, completely away from the road. We, the people that want to be commercial, live right on the road and we have to put up with the traffic. This road in question is traveled by everyone in Ruidoso because it is the only other thru street in the Ruidoso area. The traffic problem is there and these people are not going to stop the traffic by trying to keep it residential. It is more dangerous for this property to be R1 than what it is to be C1.

The traffic problem that we face in Paradise Canyon is not only here. It is all over the Ruidoso area. Sudderth has four lanes and we have problems there as many people coming to a small town, you are going to have traffic problems.

As for the flooding in the area, all of Ruidoso had flood problems. I also feel that if the city did their job in keeping the culverts free from weeds and garbage that we would not have had this problem in the first place. Mr. Lite referred to the fact that we had to comply with the flood regulations. Well, so do the residents, not only the commercial end.

What more traffic problem than the upper canyon, or what worse flooding than the upper canyon, and how about the parking in that area? You go to the upper canyon and see all the C1 that is that traffic flood, and no parking area. I don't hear of the council giving them any hassle.

If the city council would have approved the re-zone, maybe we could have had some road improvements. Now what chance do we have?? Or maybe all these people who were there to complain are going to do something about the roads. I ask the people of Ruidoso if they think that this is fair. Do you all think with the increase in traffic that this area would be safe for R-1?

In my opinion the members of the council that voted against the re-zone were unfair. They are not doing the job that we elected them to do.

I ask the people of Ruidoso, do you think that with the traffic problem in Paradise Canyon that it is safe to be a residential area????

Property owner,

DEAR EDITOR:

This is written in response to "America Melting Pot." The writer shows a great deal of willful ignorance in her arguments for separation of Church and State. Any student of American History can read the first documents of government of the Nation to find the mixture of Church and State figured prominently in their drafting of governing papers. The writings of our forefathers contain many references to the Bible and statements of dependence on God. Every President invokes the aid of God upon receiving the oath of office. Examples of this kind are too numerous to relate in their entirety here, but all would serve to show that the writer's conception of the First Amendment is completely opposite the intention of our constitutional framers. But one can expect such gross misunderstandings from an individual who places Christianity and Hinduism on the same level and believes the results of Christianity and politics would be identical with the results of Hinduism and politics.

The writer's interpretation of separation is not in the American Constitution. It is in Article 124 of the Soviet Constitution. Since living in a society of separation is so dear to her heart perhaps a transferal of citizenship may be arranged.

SPIRIT OF RUIDOSO will meet at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, November 13, at Hill's Waffle House on Highway 37. Anyone interested in promoting Ruidoso is urged to attend.

Wednesday,

November 14

"Come Fly with Us to a State of Thankfulness" will be the program at the FEDERATED WOMAN'S CLUB of Ruidoso at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 14, at the Woman's Club building on Evergreen Road. The regular monthly business meeting will follow the program. Frank Potter, Ruidoso assistant village manager, will speak on conservation and what is being done about beautification in Ruidoso. The public is invited.

Thursday, November 15

The RUIDOSO WRITERS' GUILD will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday, November 15, at the Ruidoso Public Library. Bill Smith will lead a discussion on "Symbolism in Prose and Poetry." Published and non-published writers are welcome to attend. Call Cathy Palmer at 257-9835 or Herb Seckler at 671-4597 for information.

The Senior Citizens Center's annual CHRISTMAS BAZAAR begins at 9 a.m. Thursday, November 15, in the center behind the Ruidoso Public Library, and will continue on Friday, November 16. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days. Handmade crafts will be displayed for sale.

"THE GOOD DOCTOR" continues at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, November 15 through 17, at the Studio Lounge of Carrizo Lodge. The Ruidoso Little Theatre production tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for senior citizens and children.

A buffet, which starts at 6:30 p.m., is available for an additional $10. Reservations are requested 24 hours in advance for the buffet. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Sunday, November 18

A COMMUNITY THANKSGIVING WORSHIP SERVICE will be conducted at 7 p.m. Sunday, November 18, at the First Baptist Church on Mechem Drive in Ruidoso. The Reverend Ken Cole will be the guest speaker. Ruidoso Ministerial Alliance is sponsor for the joint service. Ministers from First Baptist Church, Community United Methodist Church, First Presbyterian Church, Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, First Christian Church, Gateway Assembly of God and Episcopal Church of the Holy Mount are members of the Alliance.

Thursday,

November 22

A community THANKSGIVING DINNER will be served at 2 p.m. Thursday, November 22, at White Mountain School. Wendy Knight and Ruth Vail are coordinating efforts to provide the meal, and are accepting donations of food, money and time.

Volunteers will be asked to drive some guests to the dinner.

Knight said, "This is at no charge and is really for anybody who doesn't have anybody to be with on Thanksgiving, not just on financial need."

Call Knight at 354-2906 or Vail at 257-2922 to make a contribution or volunteer to participate in preparing and serving the meal.

Now till Christmas

The Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department and the Ruidoso Police Department have begun their annual HAPPY HOLIDAYS DRIVE. Food, clothing, money and toys will be collected for distribution to needy families in the Ruidoso area for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. This is the third year for the drive. Donations may be taken to the main fire station in midtown. For information, call the fire station at 257-4116 or the police station at 257-7365.

Kindergarten students in Eva Clarke's Nob Hill Elementary class planted bulbs for spring flowers last week with the help of Moe Masters (fourth from right). The young gardeners' landscaping is in front of the building, and the floral display will be one of the first signs of spring. Each bloom's planter has been identified with a marker.

Mentor matches youth interest, adult skills

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Moe Masters didn't know about the Ruidoso schools' Mentor Program when she volunteered to teach bulb gardening to Eva Clarke's kindergarten class. She just happens to enjoy gardening and is willing to share her experiences and skills. About 20 five- and six-year-olds participated enthusiastically in Mrs. Masters' demonstration Monday. They carefully planted tulips, hyacinths and daffodils "exactly six inches deep" and "about a hand's width apart" in front of Nob Hill Elementary School.

Even though Mrs. Masters and the young gardeners aren't officially enrolled in the Mentor Program, they exemplify what the program is all about. Sandy Gladden, Ruidoso High School diagnostician, said, "We've always had such good response from the community, like a parent teaching a class how to plant tulips, or a surgeon allowing a student to observe him in the operating room, but it's always been informal. This program is meant to formalize this and give it some structure."

The Mentor Program has two purposes: first, to provide a roster of resource people available to the public schools; and second, to match students with particular interests and talents with members of the community who are willing to share their expertise in the same area on an individual or small group basis. It will provide a format for utilizing the talents and skills of the community to enrich the education of its youth. The concept is an offshoot of a 1982 cooperative endeavor of Ruidoso Rotary Club and the local schools. Altrusa Club has adopted the new program as an education project. Kathy Echols, Altrusa member, explained that her organization will organize and maintain records of community volunteers. Information will be computerized to expedite match-ups between students and mentors.

"We are seeking a wide variety of skills and talents from listening to children read, accompanying field trips, sharing travel experiences to instruction in foreign languages, professions, vocations, domestic skills, crafts, academic tutoring, hobbies," explained Gladden. There is a great deal of flexibility in format, group sizes and locations for program events.

While earlier mentor endeavors centered on older students, this revitalized program encompasses kindergarten through high school seniors. Echols stressed that all kinds of mentors are being sought. "We want to reach anybody who has extra time, for instance retired people," she said.

Gladden said that she and other Ruidoso educators appreciate the willingness of local service clubs to support the schools by promoting and implementing the Mentor Program. She mentioned that a hundred people have already completed information forms.

Anyone who wants more information on the Mentor Program, or who wants to become a mentor, should call Shirley Neuhaus at White Mountain Intermediate School, 258-4150.

Snow ranger Tom Heller a mover

by MATT BOSISIO
News Staff Writer

Given the choice to do it again, to pursue a different interest in life, Tom Heller said he wouldn't do it. His lifetime ambition has been a vision of constancy. There's never been anything else.

So goes the commitment of Heller, the new snow ranger on the Smokey Bear Ranger District. From the time he was a youngster until now, his goal has been to reach a plateau within the U.S. Forest Service. At age 30, he's already made it.

"My folks owned a nursery on Long Island (New York) and from then, I felt my job needed to be an outside job," Heller said, "something with resources."

He and his brother worked with plants, preparing seed beds, making cuttings and selling some of the plants for their parents.

Throughout it all, he was deciding that he wanted to be a snow ranger generally, and a snow ranger in Little Cottonwood Canyon near Salt Lake City specifically.

After fishing around for a university with a forestry degree, Heller turned down schools in Montana and Idaho for Utah State University at Logan, Utah.

He majored in forest watershed, and became a firefighter in the Logan Ranger District. From there he went to the Boise National Forest in Idaho as a smoke jumper firefighter.

Then finally, the opportunity hit. He transferred to the Salt Lake Ranger District and became the official district snow ranger. He was not yet 25 years old.

Now he brings his expertise to Lincoln County, another step up in the ranks of professional forestry. And he will be applying that experience to working with the Sierra Blanca Ski Resort.

"Officially," Heller said, "I will be the individual who will observe the ski area as a permittee (of U.S. Forest Service land), making sure the area complies."

He said his objective, as snow ranger, will be to "provide for the greatest amount of safety possible, be it with employees, the skiers, the ski area or the government."

In other words, said Heller, "I'll be another set of eyes."

Problems he'll be on the lookout for include snow buildup on roofs, ice buildup on stairways, and hazardous ski trail patterns that present skiers with blind intersections.

"The Forest Service has the final say on what takes place on Forest Service land," Heller said. If a problem exists, corrective steps will have to be taken so dangerous situations do not continue.

But he added that he would like to form a "partnership" between the ski area and the Forest Service. He wants to be flexible, he said, and work with the resort toward cooperative solutions to problems.

"The reasoning behind some of the decision-making processes needs to be made from the skier point of view," Heller said, "and from a background in ski management."

Married five and a half years to a New Jersey woman he met in Utah, Snow ranger Tom Heller said moving around the country has helped him to make better programs for public lands managed by the U.S. Forest Service.

Help for gymnastics

In the service

he would make all over again. "I've had an awful lot of wonderful times," Heller said. "And I've had them with some wonderful people."

Sergeant Cynthia M. Gonzalez, daughter of Modesto T. and Ursula Chavez of Modesto T. and Ursula Chavez of Tinnie, has graduated from the United States Air Force supply systems course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado.

Students in the course studied mechanized Air Force accounting procedures for purchasing and inventory. They also received credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force. Gonzalez, a 1980 graduate of Hondo High School, is scheduled to serve with the 416th Supply Squadron at Griffiss Air Force Base, New York.

AMESES
(March 21-April 20) The praise you will receive for recent accomplishments will serve as an incentive to develop new projects: Remember that there is more than one means to an end.

TAURUS
(April 21-May 21) You may find that the life span of some of your more costly possessions is not infinite: instead of holding off on replacing an old product, invest in a new one. There are breakdowns to come.

GEMINI
(May 22-June 21) A role model may disappoint you. Keep an open mind. Not all people are as they seem. There is more than one side to you.

CANCER
(June 22-July 23) An out-of-town excursion may rekindle old feelings. Keep emotions in check and out of the office. Family support may serve to encourage your rational side to prevail.

LEO
(July 24-Aug. 23) Getting involved with community affairs may prove fruitful. Leave yourself some leisure time to do what you enjoy most. Keeping physically fit will contribute to your overall good feelings.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24-Sept. 23) Use discretion when revealing personal information. Pay close attention to who your friends are. Look at the overall picture before making any major business decisions.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24-Oct. 23) You may be missing signs given from a friend or an acquaintance. Limit your activities as fatigue may bring on other annoying discomforts. Appreciate opportunities for solitude.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24-Nov. 23) You may start feeling sluggish toward mid-week. Watch your diet and your activities on your off-hours. Exerting some willpower may make you feel in control and on top of your problems.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 24-Dec. 21) Family concerns may interfere with romantic ties. Appreciate the importance of friendships. Don't bog yourself down with the hardships of others to the extent that you ignore yourself.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22-Jan. 20) Act, don't react to a problem given to you to solve. Consult outside resources if necessary.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Don't abandon old ideas that have been swept under the rug. Enlighten others with convincing arguments on relevant issues.

PISCES
(Feb. 20-March 20) Bad dreams may haunt some of your nights. Concentrate on daytime activities and try to make every minute count. Discuss personal concerns with a close friend.

Dining - Dancing - Entertainment

COUSINS' RESTAURANT KELLEY'S SALOON JERRY DALE'S

3 Miles North on Hwy. 37
258-3555

An evening at Cousins' is a unique experience offering a fine range of entertainment for the whole family.

At Cousins' you will enjoy outstanding food prepared daily in their kitchen and courteous service. When dining at Cousins' you have to choose between your favorite steak, tasty seafood, special chicken dishes, and of course, leave room for homemade cheesecake.

Cousins' also has accommodations for small groups or large banquets and can help in planning a menu for any occasion.

Next door, Kelley's Saloon has Happy Hour seven days a week from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. The live entertainment creates a special atmosphere for an after dinner cocktail.

So don't miss an evening at Cousins' while visiting in Ruidoso.

INN OF THE MOUNTAIN GODS

STARVIEW

By David Gabriel

TIMING — Jon-Erik Hexum competed with Anthony Hamilton to play opposite Joan Collins in last year's ABC TV-movie "The Making of a Male Model." Of course, American hunk Hexum won the plum role over Australian model-dancer Hamilton, who receded into relative obscurity. That is, until Hexum accidentally shot himself to death on the set of the CBS spy series "Cover Up," and the race was on for a replacement.

Hamilton won the role, and is now starring with Jennifer O'Neill on the show. You may remember him as Samson when he made his American TV debut last season in "Samson and Delilah." The 30-year-old Hamilton poses as a model for fashion photographer Miss O'Neill as they roam the globe on assignment for a secret U.S. agency to assist Americans in distress.

The Liverpool native, who was raised on an Australian sheep farm, impressed Executive Producer Glen Larson. "I feel he will shortly become a major international star," Larson said.

STREET SCENE — After growing up in front of 30 million people every week during nine years on "One Day at a Time," which ended last season, 24-year-old Valerie Bertinelli still gets stopped on the street for autographs — and loves it. "I don't mind," she says. "When I leave my house I'm public property. But when I'm home, I value my privacy."

Now that she is married to rock star Edward Van Halen, is there any chance that she will sing or he will act? "No chance," she says emphatically. "Eddie's much too shy a person to get up in front of a camera. But he did the music for my last TV film 'The Seduction of Gina,' last January on CBS. The only thing I did for him was appear in the background of his music video 'Panama,' which came out last winter."
