A wheeling weekend

Warriors topple Rams in 13-6 homecoming game

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School's varsity football team stayed undefeated when it turned back a stubborn Portales club, 13-6, in the Warriors' homecoming game Friday night.

Ruidoso, now 5-0 on the season and still the top-ranked AAA-division team in the state, had to overcome a number of mistakes to win.

The Warriors had six turnovers in the contest, including three intercepted passes and three fumbles.

And one of those interceptions almost won the game for Portales.

With just over two minutes remaining in the game, Portales' Lee Walker picked off a Russell Easter pass and rambled 70 yards down the sidelines for an apparent tying touchdown.

But Portales was called for clipping and the ball was put back on the 45. A pass interference penalty kept the Rams alive, but the Warriors held and time ran out.

A bit of deception put the Rams on the scoreboard in the opening series of the contest.

On a fourth and down situation, Portales set up to punt but quarterback Rod Emerson instead passed the ball to a wide-open Danny Terry for a 56-yard touchdown play.

The Warriors blocked the extra point try, but Portales led 6-0, with 7:23 left in the first quarter.

However, those were all the points Portales was to get.

After Portales scored, the Warriors came storming back.

Ruidoso drove downfield behind Easter's passing, including a 21-yard effort to Brian Davis.

The Warriors were on the 20-yard line, when tailback Michael Williamson sprinted through a nice hole to the goal line.

However, the Warrior senior fumbled the ball and the Rams recovered, giving them possession on the Portales 20.

Two plays later, Ruidoso's Randy Reynolds recovered a fumble on the Portales 29.

But the Warriors returned the favor on the next play when Davis fumbled after catching the ball on the Ram 17.

Ruidoso finally hit the scoreboard midway through the second quarter.

Easter sneaked over from the one to finish a 73-yard drive in eight plays. Garret Henson's kick was good and Ruidoso led, 7-6.

Easter opened the drive with a 13-yard pass to Davis which put the ball on the Warrior 40.

Fullback Billy Harrison ran for two yards and Williamson added seven to put the ball on the Ruidoso 49.

Then Harrison rambled 26 yards to the Ram 23. Five plays later, Easter scored and the Warriors were ahead to stay.

Ruidoso added its second touchdown in the closing moments of the first half.

Safety Jeff Willingham returned an interception to the Ram 25. Two plays later, Easter found tight end Bobby Dickinson in the right side of the end zone for a 21-yard touchdown pass.

The Warriors tried a two-point conversion, but Portales intercepted Easter's pass.

Ruidoso had three good drives in the second half, but the Warriors failed to score on any of them.

The Warriors finished with 328 yards total offense.

Easter completed 11 of 18 passes for 130 yards, one touchdown and three interceptions.

Williamson led the Warrior rushers with 107 yards in 11 carries. Harrison added 55 yards in eight carries.

Portales finished with 218 yards total offense.

"We moved the ball well, but a good team just can't turn the ball over six times," said Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson. "That's one thing we've got to work on."

Henderson was pleased with the work of the defensive secondary.

"They showed a lot of poise on Portales' last possession when they threw the ball every time," Henderson remarked.

The Warriors will travel to Roswell this Friday night for a 7:30 game with New Mexico Military Institute. The Colts defeated Tularosa, 6-0, Friday.

NOTES: Other non-district games involving District 3-AAA clubs saw Silver City beat Cathedral of El Paso, Texas, 53-6; Deming roll over Clint, Texas, 34-0; Coche beat Lordsburg, 16-6; and Hot Springs fell to Socorro, 25-6.

Track for sale is in California

An advertisement that has appeared in The Ruidoso News offers for sale a Southwestern racetrack, apparently in Southern California.

The advertisement states "Southwestern U.S., now running, total price: $4,500,000," and gives a Beverly Hills, California, phone number. When called, the respondent would not divulge the name or location of the track.

Richard Lidberg, Ruidoso-Sunland assistant manager, reported that the track for sale is not Sunland Park. He said there had been some discussion of selling the park, but it had been limited to discussion only.

Lidberg said Bobby King, Sunland Park Controller, called the California number and was told the track for sale is located in California.

Old-Timers to gather

The "Old-timers" of Ruidoso will have a potluck supper, and get-together for all members. The supper will take place in the Ruidoso Public Library, all-purpose room, at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, October 5.

Each family is requested to bring a covered dish, with some food in it.

That's where the luck comes in, event organizers said. What, exactly, is an "Old-Timer"?

Anyone who has lived in the area 15 years or longer.

If you are interested, and qualify, be there.

Disaster aid is sought

Donations of milk and disposable diapers for child victims of the Mexican earthquake are being accepted in Ruidoso by Toni Soto.

Soto said donated items can be brought to Ruidoso Trailer Park, Space 8, or those interested in making donations can call ahead at 257-4760.

The local effort is part of a larger campaign, organized in Juarez, Mexico, in which different donation centers accept different items that are needed by the disaster victims. Soto said she is concerned especially about the child victims, so collections here are for the children.

Items collected will be transported to Juarez periodically.

Editorial

Inviting state government to come in and handle our finances for us is certainly inviting our own embarrassment.

Village councillors voted four to two Tuesday night to request that the state auditor monitor expenditures on the Grindstone Canyon dam project.

Why did they do that? Certainly we can handle our own affairs!

Asking the state auditor to watch the Grindstone project is as much as saying that those responsible for such projects can't handle their jobs. Councillors have apparently admitted, then, that they can't do the job we elected them to do.

And seeking state involvement on a project that was conceived locally, struggled with locally, debated locally, hoped for by locals and finally realized locally, seems somehow to be improper.

We believe that the council should have settled any problems they had with the Grindstone project finances locally, and avoided the embarrassment of asking the state to hold come and "hold our hand" on this project.—DJP

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—Voice of a member entering Governor Anaya's Cabinet meeting early this week: "Does anybody have a photograph of this Cabinet? I am not sure I shall recognize all its members."

Answering voice of an Anaya aide: "No. The latest photograph we have was taken last week, and so is no longer applicable."

Just a little joke there, folks, to lighten up your week.

Two thoughts concerning next year's election, toward which we are already moving inexorably, partly to distract ourselves from what is presently going on in Santa Fe:

—First the view of Richard Koster, longtime member of the national committee, who says the Democratic party is "morally, spiritually and intellectually dead." He goes on to add, "It's just lying there like a piece of hamburger on the griddle."

The view, please note, is not that of this columnist, but of a man who may be presumed to know his own political aggregation from the inside.

—And second, this reminder, which does come from the writer of these words: The picture a party presents to the electorate is now forming, and gets itself well set before a campaign ever begins. Campaigns, as those of us who have been intimately involved in many of them know, have a very limited impact on the outcome of elections.

For that reason, what is taking place in New Mexico politically this moment may in fact have more direct effect on what the voters do by way of choice next November than all the speeches and the TV ads and the hoopla that will take place during the actual campaign of 1986.

That may also be why word now reaches us that Bruce King will delay an announcement about his decision on the governor's race till after the first of the year. Those making that prediction say he wants to see what further indictments of Democrats take place between now and that time.

Why would these months see a sudden increase in the amount of advertising being done for Dura Bilt, an Albuquerque firm selling steel buildings?

Because each ad when it appears gives the company a chance to feature Bill Sego, the company's owner, and so refresh the memories of New Mexicans about Sego's existence in case he decides to get into the Republican race for governor.

Such ads, of course, are chargeable-off as a legitimate business expense, and are not counted as political expenditures.

Governor Anaya, speaking to Democratic women in Las Cruces, said the right wing is waging war on him.

That's hardly surprising. In America, the political arena is one in which those who disagree with one another's philosophy can carry on a species of war to see which prevails.

The Governor is undoubtedly accurate when he observes the right wing's goal is to achieve political realignment by winning governor's offices and legislative seats for conservatives. That's not new either; it's been going on a long time, and will continue after Anaya has left the political scene. Hence it's not nearly so personal as the Governor would make it seem.

But it is a lot easier to say, "Somebody's out to get me," than it is to apologize by saying, "I may have screwed up just a little here."

In that same speech, Governor Anaya, while implying federal prosecutors give extra-close attention to his actions while neglecting to look for failings in Republicans, said, "We have national figures here in New Mexico that are not being held accountable."

It's hard to think of any plurality of "national figures" we have here in the state at the moment. Pete Domenici is about the only one who comes to mind.

If Anaya knows of any accusations of the kind made against his administration that will stand up to scrutiny when applied to the Senator, he ought to speak out with some details. He hasn't, which allows us to suspect he doesn't have any such information.

On the Village Beat

Maybe we'll wake up some morning next week to the first snow of the season ... or maybe a mid-October snowstorm will flash down the mountain and surprise us all ... or maybe late Halloween evening, after all the trick-or-treaters have gone to bed, the fluffy white stuff will silently cover Ruidoso with a blanket of white. Who really knows when we'll have the first snowfall of the season?

Of course, no one can actually be certain of the date of the first snowfall on Sierra Blanca, and then the first snowfall here in the village. Most people you talk to are looking forward to early snows on the mountain, and the resultant early start to this year's ski season. But not as many are as eagerly anticipating the first signs of the powdery mischief-maker on roads and walkways in the village.

I think we all experience a thrill, no matter how we might feel about snowfalls, at the sight of the first frosted covering of Sierra Blanca and then the view of those first magical flakes drifting down and turning everything into a dazzling sea of white.

A fun part of this time of the year is trying to guess when the time of the first snowfall on Sierra Blanca, and here in the village, will occur. Just about anyone you ask is eager to speculate on when the big event will take place.

"I had to turn my heater on last night," reported sports writer Gary Brown, as he mulled over when the appearance of the snows will be. When pressed to name the date when snow will be visible on Sierra Blanca and when measurable snow will last at least five minutes before melting in the back parking lot of The Ruidoso News, Brown finally chose October 10 as the day during which "some snow will fall within ten miles of Ruidoso." He predicted measurable snow in The News parking lot on November 20.

"I wouldn't be surprised if it comes a month earlier," he hedged after announcing his decision. He added that he expects an early winter and an early spring.

Dan Storm has seen many winters from his valley ranch near Glencoe. The longtime resident said determination of when it will snow first depends on weather patterns.

"I got the reputation of being able to guess it," Storm said of the decades of first-snows-of-the-year that he's seen.

"You know, a whole lot depends on the snows up north," he said, while pointing out that most of our snows come from the east as do our rainshowers. Storm said if the frequent rain pattern continues, we could be in for substantial snows.

"I kind of think it might be a snowy winter if this moisture keeps up," he said. Storm said he expects the first snows to appear on Sierra Blanca around the first of October, and snow in the parking lot by October 9. But he stressed that predicting snow is no easy task.

"It's a very chancy thing," he said.

Village manager Jim Hine was as efficient about predicting snowfall as he is in his handling of village workings. Why choose two days when one will suffice? With little hesitation, he boldly chose November 15 as the day snow first will appear on Sierra Blanca and first will appear in The Ruidoso News parking lot.

In making his decision of the first snowfall dates, News business manager Rolland Ramos used a combination of readings from the Farmer's Almanac, personal experience, a peek at what happened last year and stories of past years' first snowfalls he's heard from his native Ruidosoan wife, Elizabeth. He chose October 15 as the day we'll be able to see the snow on Sierra Blanca and October 20 as the day for measurable snow that lasts at least five minutes in The News back parking lot.

Ramos predicted a winter with lots of snow but relatively mild temperatures. He pointed to "extremely high humidity counts" during the past three months as evidence that the snows will be frequent. Let's hope so!

Roswell Record writer Matt Bosisto predicted Sierra Blanca snowfall by October 18 and snow in town by the week before Thanksgiving. News writer Frankie Jarrell picked October 28 for the mountain and December 6 for The Ruidoso News parking lot. News business writer Sharon Makokian predicted October 14 as the day for the first snow on the mountain and "out in the outskirts," and November 15 as the date of measurable snow in the parking lot. She went on to make an unsolicited prediction of Thanksgiving Day as the time when we'll have "shoveling snow."

Just about anyone you talk to will be eager to hazard a guess at what is usually an exciting time of the year—the season's first snowfalls.

So ... when do you think it'll snow first this year?

Tam leads Warriors in Mayfield meet

Gabe Tam again was the top Ruidoso High School finisher as the Warrior boys cross-country team took 20th out of 25 teams in the Mayfield Invitational in Las Cruces Saturday.

Tam finished fifth out of 150 runners in the varsity competition with an excellent 13:29 time. He was the top New Mexico finisher in a meet that featured some excellent runners from El Paso, Texas.

Sophomore Clint Bob finished 60th, Travannon Ash was 128th, Daniel Martinez was 129th, Lance Hawthorne was 131st and Michael Randolph was 132nd. No times were available for these runners.

In junior varsity action, Trey VonTrotha was the top Warrior finisher, placing 101th. Mark Reynolds was 137th, Jeremy Lane was 174th and Levi Lueras was 175th.

There were 150 runners in the varsity competition and 180 runners in the junior varsity competition. "Considering that there was a lot of good runners from El Paso, I think the guys did a pretty good job," said Warrior coach Ronny Maskew. "They're all improving and I think they're going to improve each week since they're all young."

The Warriors will participate in the Carlsbad Invitational next Saturday.

NOTES-Bob ran a 16:07 for 17th place in last week's Roswell Invitational, not 17:23 and 36th place, as was reported in last Thursday's Ruidoso News.

Ruidoso junior varsity dumps Tularosa, 29-6

The Ruidoso High School junior varsity football team scored all of its points in the first half in taking a 29-6 victory over visiting Tularosa Saturday.

Ruidoso, now 2-2 on the season, opened the scoring midway through the first quarter when quarterback Rod Wright connected with Garret Henson on a 72-yard pass play. The two-point conversion was good and Ruidoso led, 8-0.

The Warriors scored their second touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Wright to Jeff Arvizu. Todd Morris' extra point kick was good and the Warriors led, 15-0.

That touchdown finished a drive which was highlighted by Eric Eastep's 34-yard run.

Ruidoso scored its third touchdown on a 19-yard run by Jeff Sherwood. The extra point kick was wide, but Ruidoso led, 21-0.

The Warriors scored soon after that on a four-yard run by Eastep. Wright set the touchdown up with a 16-yard burst to the four and some fine passing.

Wright completed a two-point conversion pass to Arvizu and Ruidoso took a 29-0 lead into the lockerroom at halftime.

Tularosa scored its only touchdown in the second half, but the Warrior defense hung tough and prevented another score in the late going.

Ruidoso had several chances to score in the second half, but fell short.

Braves beat Hagerman

The Ruidoso Middle School football team raised its record to 2-0 when the Braves belted host Hagerman, 32-6, Thursday night.

Ira Sago led the Braves' offense with two touchdown runs. Rusty Silva and Logan Stirman each added a touchdown. The Braves made all four two-point conversion attempts.

David Dickinson and Kenny Trapp led Ruidoso's excellent defensive effort.

The Braves B team will host the Capitan Tigers at 3:30 Thursday. The A team will travel to Moriarty Saturday for an 11 a.m. contest.

Following the Moriarty game, Ruidoso will host Portales Thursday, October 10, in a 2 p.m. A contest.

the fourth flight with a 227. Tony Parker and Johnny Papin took second with a 230.

A total of 51 teams competed in the tournament, the last of the season in the Ruidoso area.

NOTES-There were two hole-in-ones during the tournament, both on the eighth hole. Wayne McPeak got a hole-in-one Saturday, and John Jordan got a hole-in-one Sunday.

Warrior freshmen win, 6-0

The Ruidoso High School freshman football team evened the Warriors' record at 1-1 with a 6-0 victory over Chaparral Junior High School in Alamogordo Thursday on the losers' field.

Bubba Lane scored the only touchdown of the game on a six-yard run in the second quarter.

Lane's touchdown ended a 60-yard drive, highlighted by some excellent offensive-line blocking.

The Warriors had several other drives in the contest stopped by penalties. Ruidoso did a good job passing and running the ball on the touchdown drive.

"We had some good drives," said coach Clendon Kirkpatrick. "Our defense played well."

"Chris Long had a interception. Dusty Beavers and Dusty Skellett did a good job on defense. Michael Swanner did a good job of leading the offense at quarterback."

Ruidoso will travel to Tularosa this Thursday for a 2 p.m. game with the Wildcats.

Around Sports

with Gary Brown

Little League sports are an important part of many individuals' youth.

They help to build character and give youngsters a chance to meet other kids their own age. The programs also give the kids a chance to participate in competitive sports at an early age.

Ruidoso has had competitive sports for youths in football, baseball, basketball and soccer for a number of years.

However, the Little League basketball program has been canceled, and unless someone or some group comes to its rescue, there will not be any program this winter.

The Ruidoso Sertoma Club has organized the basketball program in the past and done an excellent job. But due to its many other commitments, the Sertoma Club is unable to organize the league this winter.

A number of Ruidoso High School's players have come from the Little League basketball program and it would be a shame to see that program ended.

No one has yet come forward and agreed to organize the program this year.

Here's hoping that someone gets the basketball program started again in time for the winter season.

Let's do it for the kids.

Turning to high school football, Ruidoso High School football fans will have a chance to see two excellent games this weekend.

The Warriors will travel to Roswell Friday night to play the New Mexico Military Institute Colts.

At 2 p.m. Saturday, Ruidoso's W.D. Horton Stadium will be the site of an excellent AA-division contest between Jal and Animas.

This game could well be a preview of the AA-division state championship contest. Both teams are rated as prime contenders for the championship.

The game is being played in Ruidoso because of the great driving distance between Jal (in the east) and Animas (in the west).

Besides Tularosa, there aren't any AA-division schools close to the Ruidoso area. This game will give local football fans a chance to see probably the top two AA-division teams in the state battle on the gridiron.

Warrior C spikers, Braves top Cloudcroft; varsity will meet Dexter Tuesday night

It was a good day for Ruidoso teams Thursday as visiting Cloudcroft fell three times in the Ruidoso Middle School gymnasium.

The Ruidoso High School C volleyball team topped the Bears, 15-11, 3-15, 15-12. The Ruidoso middle school A team defeated Cloudcroft, 10-15, 15-7, 15-4, and the Brave B team topped Cloudcroft, 15-5, 15-13.

Misty Strickland served the winning points for the Warrior C team in the final set, breaking a 12-12 tie.

Amber Nunnally served eight points to lead the Warriors in the first set. Ginger Park had six serve points in the third set.

Linder Rad did an excellent job serving and spiking the ball. Stacy Gear also did well.

"Linder really did a good job out there," said Warrior junior varsity coach Jim Hofstad.

After losing the opening set, the Brave A team rallied to stomp the Bears. It was the second time within a week the 2-2 Braves had defeated Cloudcroft.

Chantell Bowen served nine points for the Braves in the second set. Ruidoso had a balanced serving attack in the third set.

Dorley Patton and Donna Garcia were the Braves' best receivers.

"I think we played better the first time we beat them," said Brave coach Jody Hopkins. "But it shows something when the team can still win when it's not playing its best.

"I think the long wait (the C game was between the two middle school matches) might have hurt the team. But we've improved a lot since the start of the season."

"The team is getting three hits at the ball and we're serving better."

The Warrior varsity and junior varsity will host Dexter Tuesday night. The Braves will travel to Captain Tuesday for A and B matches against the Tigers. The first middle school match will start at 4.

Warrior clubs meet this week

Can You Name Something That's Gone Down in Price Lately?

How about oil and gas?

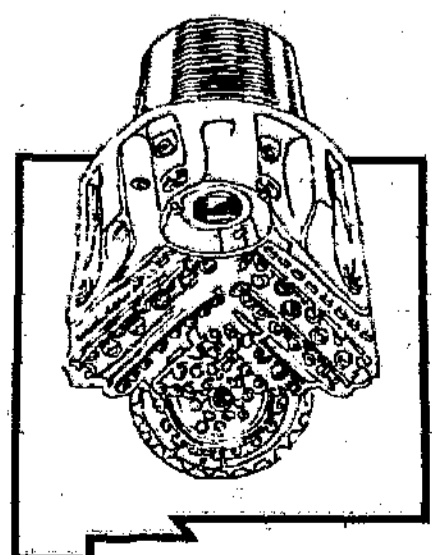

When President Reagan removed price controls on crude oil and gasoline in 1981, some critics predicted spiraling oil prices and $3.00 gasoline.

However, since that time oil has dropped from $37 to $27 a barrel and is still falling. Gasoline went from $1.39 to $1.24 a gallon between June 1981 and 1985. (That meant the consumer paid less despite a 54% jump in gasoline taxes during that same four-year period.)

So too with natural gas: When the 1985 New Mexico Legislature voted to eliminate State price controls on intrastate natural gas in July for the first time in eight years, opponents predicted a price fly-up.

However, utility and producer reports indicate that natural gas prices, which had been rising steadily for several years, are now declining in New Mexico.

Although one may argue about the economic factors underlying oil and gas prices, one thing is certain: The American private enterprise system operates most fairly and efficiently when it is most free of political and bureaucratic interference. With the eventual lifting of all federal price controls, the petroleum industry will be able to rejoin other businesses in selling its products in the competitive market place.

Architect wins at local convention

Ruidoso architect Alan E. McChesney was elected 1986 president of the New Mexican Southern Chapter of the American Institute of Architects at a recent state convention at the Inn of the Mountain Gods. McChesney also serves as a director of the state association.

mittee, more than 300 people attended the conference, which he said was one of the best state conventions within the past 10 years.

One feature of the convention was the "Art by Architects" show. In the art competition, McChesney took first place in the painting category for his free-form abstract art piece, "Impressions."

McChesney has a local office in

County delegates attend convention

Attending the international convention in Las Vegas, Nevada, with 2,300 other Alpha Delta Kappas was a highlight of the summer for three Lincoln County women.

Angelina Provine, Greta Cabot and Nellie Ruth Jones, members of the Lincoln County Eta chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa (ADK), attended the convention at Caesar's Palace in July. The three reported to their chapter at a recent meeting in Capitan.

The convention was comprised of a week of meetings and sessions similar to national political conventions. The voting delegation, consisting of members from the United States, Puerto Rico, Mexico and other countries, elected new officers and passed by-laws and resolutions. Cabot was the voting delegate for the Eta chapter.

Jones was named a "Silver Sister" at the convention, for her 25 years in ADK.

The Eta delegates attended sessions for area groups. They also participated in banquets honoring the last surviving ADK founding member—93-year-old Agnes Shipman Robertson.

ADK sorority was founded in 1947 and has grown to an international organization of women teachers, both working and retired.

ADK International donated $380,000 to Saint Jude's Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee. $80,000 was donated in Robertson's name. ADK annually sponsors the research hospital.

Provine said she was glad she went to the convention. She said that everything the Eta group encountered at the convention will come back to the local chapter as by-laws and resolutions. Each chapter must fulfill certain annual public service requirements.

Delgado leaves Fort Stanton

by DORIS CHERRY
News Staff Writer

Mark Delgado, administrator of the Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School, will become the administrator of the Los Lunas Hospital and Training School in Los Lunas on October 1.

Delgado was administrator at Fort Stanton for almost nine years. He said that at first he was reluctant to apply for the opening at the Los Lunas facility because he was content with his position at Fort Stanton. He said the Department of Health and Environment invited him to interview for the job.

Delgado said he was interviewed before an eight-person screening committee consisting of employees from the department and outside mental health associations. Delgado said he was notified by Alfredo Santisteban, director of the Office of Institutional Coordination, on September 3, that he was selected as administrator.

Delgado said that administration of the Los Lunas facility is "going to be a challenge." The facility employs 652 and has 355 clients. Delgado said the facility serves infants to adults, with more medical involvement than Fort Stanton.

Delgado said he will concentrate on reconditioning the staff at the Los Lunas facility, since the former administrator served there for 16 years. Delgado said his administrative methods differ from prior ones at the facility.

"Basically, I'll be starting over again," he said.

Irving Aldaz will serve as temporary administrator at Fort Stanton until the position is filled.

Delgado said he will resign from the Capitan Board of Education and the New Mexico State School Board Association, of which he is president. He said he regrets having to leave the positions, but plans to spend more time with his family as he settles in Los Lunas.

Delgado expressed his appreciation for support from his staff and from the three governors in office during his years at Fort Stanton. He said that more than $4 million has been spent on capital projects at Fort Stanton and the annual budget grew from $1.9 million to $4.7 million during his administration.

Delgado said that without the state's support, Fort Stanton would not be "in the position as an extremely viable service provider for the mentally retarded in New Mexico."

He added that he wanted to recognize and express his appreciation for all the hard work and support from his staff during his nine years at Fort Stanton.

Counselor provides services

by DORIS CHERRY
News Capitan Bureau

Professional Counseling Associates (PCA), formerly known as the Lincoln County Mental Health Association, has increased its services to county residents with the addition of Dr. Birgit LaMothe to the staff.

LaMothe has joined the state-supported counseling group in a half-time position. She will see clients in Capitan each Tuesday at the Capitan Health Center and Thursday in Carrizozo. She also will take cases from the Fort Stanton, Lincoln and Hondo areas. All sessions are by appointment only.

Carrizozo residents may make appointments by calling the Lincoln County Health Department at 648-2412. Capitan, Fort Stanton and Lincoln area residents should call the Capitan Clinic, 354-2518, or LaMothe's home, 354-2761.

LaMothe said she met with faculty members at Capitan and Carrizozo schools and plans to meet with the Hondo faculty about services available to students. LaMothe has had nine years of experience in school counseling. She said she enjoys working with young people because results are seen more quickly than with adults.

LaMothe said she will provide services for school-age youths which go beyond the school counselor's range. She said she will concentrate with the students on crisis intervention and prevention. LaMothe said she tells the teachers her philosophy of an educational approach to counseling.

PCA employs two other counselors in mental health counseling and two alcohol counselors at the Ruidoso office. J.L. Wilson directs the office staff, which is located in the Sierra Professional Center.

LaMothe said PCA counselors confer with a psychiatrist weekly. Some patients need the services of a doctor, LaMothe added.

LaMothe has a master's degree in counseling from Lehigh University and a doctorate in social and educational change from Walden University. She also received family counseling training at the Community College of Philadelphia.

BIRGIT LAMOTHE

She taught school for 13 years and served as school counselor for nine years in New Jersey. Since she has been in New Mexico, LaMothe has conducted parenting classes as well as private counseling.

LaMothe will continue to operate her private counseling practice at the Capitan Health Center.

LaMothe said her counseling through PCA will be charged on a sliding scale based on income. She said she hopes this will encourage those who feel they need counseling.

LaMothe said she feels there is a "stigma to counseling" in the area. She said she considers counseling as an educational process.

"We expect people, most of the time, to have what it takes to plan their lives ... when sometimes they need professional help. Some hints, prompting and teaching can help," LaMothe concluded.

The Dreamer

by Dan Storm

Clotilde Lucero McTeigue

Services were held September twenty-five at the Church of Saint Jude in San Patricio and the Hondo Cemetery for Clotilde Lucero McTeigue who was called home by Our Lord on September twenty three.

Clotilde was born May twenty, 1901 in Puerta De Luna, New Mexico to Pilar and Sinfiora Lucero. She and her husband, Fred, were active in community affairs for many years in their farm and ranch home at Hondo. From the very beginning of the historical Lincoln pageant, Clotilde and Fred were members of the early Spanish Quadrille team which was a favorite feature of the play, "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid."

When Fermin Montes began organizing the now famous Hondo Fiesta Dancers, Clotilde helped out in making authentic early Hispanic costumes; and also taught the dancers some of the favorite dances of pioneer and colonial Spanish days in New Mexico. Among these was the original Handkerchief Dance.

Fred and Clotilde raised a very fine family who are a credit to them both and to the community.

At the church services the chorus and instrumental group from Saint John's Catholic Church in Roswell, played and sang several sacred numbers including "One Day At A Time."

Clotilde will always hold a special spot in our hearts, and we are grateful for her long-life Christian friendship. We rejoice that Our Lord has welcomed her to Heaven.

Happy Birthday

To Joyce May
This will reach you on the birthday of Mrs. Joyce Britt May who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Joy May Fowler, who, with her husband, Jack Fowler, owns and operates the Hollywood Food Mart.

Joyce was born a few years ago on September thirty in Exeter, California to Jack Britt and the former Frances K. Hettick. In 1950 in Lariat, Texas, she was married to Ruben Eldon "Bud" May. Besides daughter, Joy, they have raised four sons: Guy, Don, Lee, and Ross. For years Bud and Joyce have farmed in Levelland, Texas. We wish Joyce many happy returns of the day, and all God's blessings.

Walter and June Rawley Renew Wedding Vows

Last Sunday at Church of the Holy Mount, Walter and June Rawley, on their fortieth wedding anniversary, renewed their wedding vows in a service conducted by Father Burdette Stampley.

They were married September 29, 1945, in Coolidge, Texas, and spent their Honeymoon in Ruidoso. June is a member of the Altar Guild of the Church of the Holy Mount and Walter is a Lay Reader.

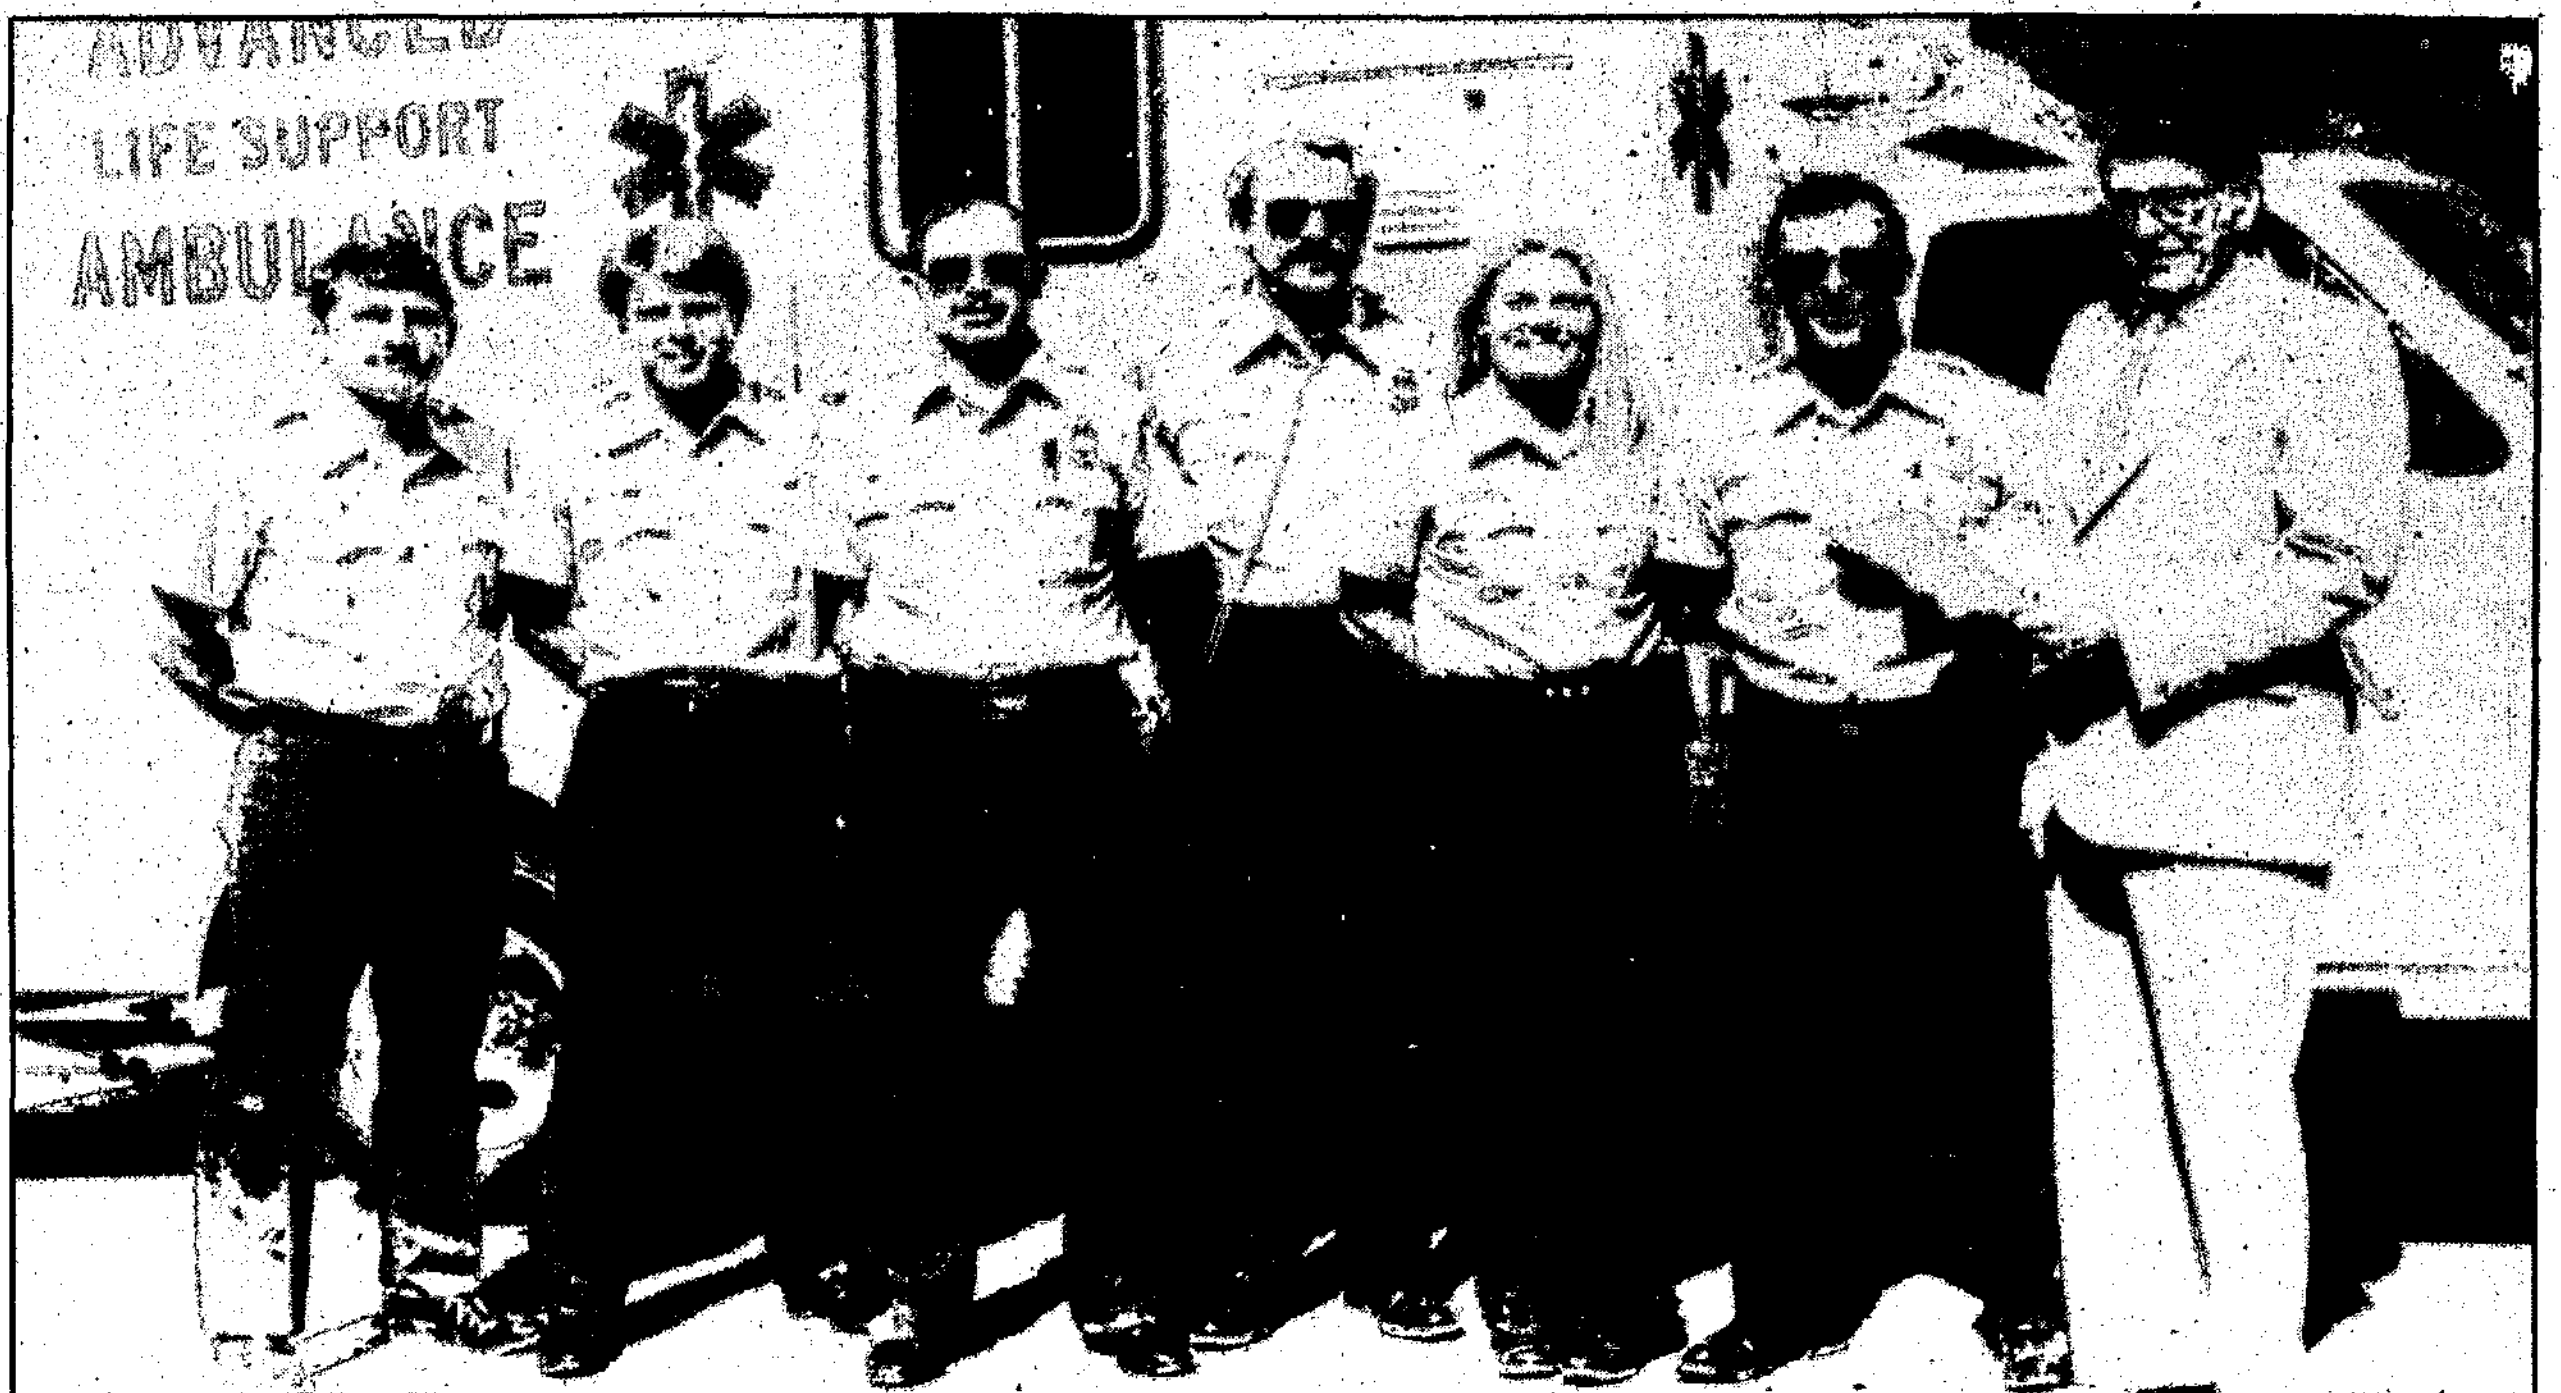

Walter and June are two of Ruidoso's favorite people and we offer them congratulations, and wish them many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

A Touch Of Fall

Jack Frost has just barely touched the land here at Storm's Crossing with his Autumn paint brushes.

You can see a little patch of sunlight yellow in the Box Elder trees by the riverside, and the woodbine has turned its light crimson. The wild grapes are turning purple among leaves still green yet just to turn their lemon yellow.

There is a cool draught in the air here in the afternoon of September twenty nine. We will all feel great when the life-giving Autumn weather arrives among us.

Convention center facilities a popular conversation topic

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Ask just about anybody in Ruidoso to talk about whether or not the village needs a convention center, and the answer is almost surely an emphatic "yes!"

Consensus ends at that point. Gather 10 "armchair convention planners" and discover at least 10 different ways to obtain and operate a convention center.

Ruidoso now has an Economic Development Committee charged with forming a tourist bureau and implementing plans for a municipal convention center. That group, chaired by Village Councillor Jerry Shaw, has had two meetings.

Shaw has recently been named chairperson for a similar committee appointed (soon after the municipal committee was formed) by the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce. That group, the convention center-visitors' bureau steering committee, has stated that it's purpose is to research possible sites for a convention center in Ruidoso and ways to promote conventions here.

The chamber committee and the village committee apparently share the same purpose and will be doing the same things, but since both committees are still in the organizational stages, no direction has been established for either yet.

Several private groups are following the same track as the two new committees.

During an informal coffee gathering at a local bank last week, Ed Hyman and Mike Mulholland talked of their two separate groups' plans and dreams for the future of Ruidoso, including two kinds of convention facilities.

Mayor George White, Village Councillor William A. "Dub" Holt, Bill Dunn, Larry Simon and Tom Payne shared in the lively discussion on promoting Ruidoso, getting tourists here and providing something for them to do while they're here.

Hyman revealed that he is a member of a group that is negotiating for land on which to build a coliseum-type convention center suitable for a variety of activities that will bring visitors into Ruidoso.

"We just think it's essential in the community, and we're trying to get it done," said Hyman.

Hyman and his coffee buddies reminisced of past trade shows and bemoaned the fact that the village has no suitable place for a huge motorcycle trade show to enhance the annual motorcycle festival.

"How many tourists would be in town this weekend without the motorcycle festival?" asked Hyman. He said he knew of at least 20 special interest groups that would have events in Ruidoso if a suitable place were available.

The facility being planned by Hyman will be a large metal building, "maybe even with open sides at first" and with plenty of parking. He said it will be suitable for trade shows, rodeos, roping events, horse shows and, of course, the motorcycle festival.

"We're only looking at 5,000 seats," said Hyman, who added that plans include horse stalls as well as bleachers.

"We're a horse community ... our trade territory is horse oriented," added Hyman, who stressed "horse-type" events. He said one key to a successful venture will be to offer events that people want, like roping, which he said draws 10,000 people into San Angelo, Texas, once a year.

Hyman didn't reveal where the coliseum will be located, but confirmed that he and four others are negotiating for the 20-acre tract.

"Let's face it—the place to put a convention center is out at the (current municipal) airport," said Holt. He agreed that getting visitors into town in large numbers is important for Ruidoso's economic health.

"We can have more than one (center)," said Mulholland, who has well-developed plans of his own that include a convention center. He is president of the Ruidoso & Territorial Narrow Gauge Steam Railway Company.

The recreational railroad planned by Mulholland's group is designed to include, besides a four-mile steam railway ride, a combination shopping mall/depot, a historical village, a theme park and a hotel with convention facilities.

Mulholland agrees that a convention center is vital to the tourism industry, but he stresses the importance of "giving them something to do when they (tourists) get here."

"It's got to be done by private enterprise," added Mulholland, who said control of the railroad company will remain with locals. That combination of free enterprise with local control is why Mulholland is convinced his dream will become a reality.

"It could happen tomorrow," said Mulholland enthusiastically, displaying pictures of the proposed hotel and convention center. As soon as the stocks are sold, construction can begin, said Mulholland, who calls himself "a railroad nut."

"We need it 10 years ago," said Hyman. "The train is a natural, but we don't need two separate units 10 miles apart," he added.

Mulholland said the railway, the first incorporated by the State of New Mexico since territorial days, will be able to locate the depot almost anywhere in Ruidoso because of eminent domain. He is determined to keep it within city limits in order to strengthen the village tax base. He said the railway will employ about 200 people, another enhancement to the economy.

"You and I talked about this when I was mayor in 1976," White reminded Mulholland. He compared the concept to a railroad in Chama.

Careful planning and public input will be needed before the railroad and auxiliary attractions begin, said Mulholland. The railway-connected convention center will contain about 10,000 square feet, he said, enough to hold about 700 people.

"About 70 to 80 percent of convention business could be accommodated," said Mulholland quoting various convention studies available.

All agreed that the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport will soon boost village tourism. They reiterated that Ruidoso must have the means to get people here and then provide some kind of entertainment.

"I'm looking for something with a little pizzazz," said Hyman enthusiastically. Since several men mentioned a tight economy, Hyman said Ruidoso should go after the "upscale people ... the ones that are going to Vail."

Recalling the 20 or so groups he knows of who could bring from 3,000 to 10,000 into the village for special events, Hyman encouraged listeners to imagine that only 200 exhibitors came to a trade show on some quiet weekend, and each exhibitor brought one more person.

Hyman further said to figure those 400 people would stay five days, and if each one spent only $100 per day during the visit, that would be $200,000 spent in Ruidoso. If the turn-around was figured at five times, instead of the standard seven, he said that would be a million dollars.

"It's strictly a numbers game," said Holt.

The men all agreed that money appropriated by the village for a tourist bureau should be used to "get people here."

Hyman said that even without convention facilities, the village should get the message out to Texans who are sizzling in 100 degree weather that Ruidoso is "cool, relaxing, quiet and peaceful."

"We don't have an exclusive on that," said Mulholland, but Hyman reminded him that even if we only get 1,000 visitors in a month like October, that would be a benefit.

"There are people in San Antonio (Texas) who haven't even heard of Ruidoso," said Hyman.

Another aspect of tourism and a convention center to be considered is the overall attitude of the community, said Hyman, stating his approval of what he terms "enlightened self-interest."

He explained that we need to bring people here to make money. "You've got a bunch of people who remember what it was like 20-25 years ago and they want it to go back like that," speculated Payne. "Then there are people like Ed (Hyman) who want a metropolis," he added.

"I really don't want it (Ruidoso) to go back like it was," agreed Hyman, remembering the days when Ruidoso "wasn't a prosperous community."

"I don't want it to be a New York City," he added.

Hyman hopes to extend the tourist season by providing a facility for special events throughout the year. He reminded listeners that racing lasts just 16 weeks a year and skiing about 10 weeks. Few businesses anywhere could survive on just 26 instead of 52 weeks of business a year, he said.

Mulholland, too, has visions of extending the tourist season with his railroad and related attractions.

"Ruidoso is just one big shopping mall—it just doesn't have a roof over it, and it doesn't have enough customers," said Hyman.

"We have to find the customers or close the mall," he said.

New officers patrol Ruidoso Downs

by SHARON MAKOKIAN
News Staff Writer

Three officers of the five-person Ruidoso Downs police patrol—Robert Layher, John Fuselier and Todd East—are fairly new in their jobs as Downs patrolmen.

Robert Layher was a dispatcher in the Downs for two and one-half years before he became a patrolman in July.

Born in Canada, Layher is the son of U.S. Air Force parents, so he moved around a lot as a child. At 17, he joined the Air Force, where he was a military police dog handler, otherwise known as "puppy pusher."

After four years with the Air Force he joined the Downs police department as a dispatcher because there were no openings for patrolmen at the time. Layher said he enjoyed his stint as a dispatcher.

"After four years in the Air Force, I was glad to sit behind a desk," he said.

Layher said he grew up wanting to be a policeman, like his father and uncle. His uncle, John Layher, has been with the Ruidoso Police Department for more than 10 years.

John Fuselier has patrolled with the Downs police force for seven months. Prior to that, he worked as a truck driver for the village of Ruidoso.

Although this is Fuselier's first full-time police job, he spent two years as a volunteer with the Lincoln County Deputy Sheriff's Reserves. Before he moved to Ruidoso, he worked with the El Paso County Sheriff's Reserves.

In his volunteer police work, Fuselier said he did almost everything he does as an officer now. When with the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department, he often rode with Downs police.

Fuselier was born in Dallas, Texas, and raised in El Paso. As a child, he grew up next door to an El Paso deputy sheriff who taught him about the profession and inspired him to pursue police work.

Fuselier said he enjoys the variety of police work, which places him in different situations daily. He said he likes helping people and serving the community.

Todd East, the newest member of the Downs police force, said he knew he wanted to be a policeman since he was a small child. He started as a dispatcher for six weeks in the Downs while waiting for an opening in the patrol force, which he filled last month.

East graduated from New Mexico State University with a major in agricultural mechanics and equipment and minors in range science and forestry. He said he wanted a college degree as something to fall back on after a career in law enforcement.

East said he initially planned to join the New Mexico State Police, but found that there were more than 3,000 applicants (of which he said he made the top 50) for a few positions. He said he'll stay in the Downs for a while and maybe join the state troopers in a few years.

As with the other two new officers, East came to the Downs with a substantial police background. In 1984, he served on the Roswell force for three months until a major budget cut terminated his job. Prior to that, he spent three years as head of security at the Holiday Inn in Las Cruces and a year with security at the Mesilla Valley Mall.

As a participant in police ride-along programs, East patrolled with Las Cruces police and New Mexico State Police. He also worked as a firefighter with the state Forest Service in Capitán during his summers and other college vacations.

East said he enjoys the challenge of police work and the public service aspect of his job.

"You go to work knowing you could save a life that day," he said. All three new officers concurred that police work contains an element of risk and the possibility of getting killed on the job, but "you can't worry about it," they said.

Throughout the course of a shift, Downs police handle many types of calls. They said they see a predominance of traffic violations (speeders), drunk drivers and family fights.

Downs Police Chief Skip Hazel said all three of his new patrolmen are doing what he feels are good jobs.

"For three rookies, they're darn good people," said Hazel.
