Water is chief council concern

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Water again.
In a three-hour session followed by an hour-and-a-half executive session Tuesday, the Ruidoso Village Council discussed water.

Neil Stillinger, the village water attorney, was scheduled to report during the regular meeting on an offer of judgment from the State Engineer on water rights in the Eagle Creek well field.

Although Stillinger took the floor at the request of Village Councillor Rick Evans to answer water rights questions raised by citizen J.D. James, he didn't report on that offer.

Later in the meeting, however, as councillors retired into executive session to discuss litigation, Stillinger revealed that he preferred to hold off on any public discussion of the offer until after the closed meeting.

It was learned that the offer of judgment was for 5,648 acre feet of water with priority dates on those rights to be set at September, October and November, 1984. The Village had filed a declaration on 100 percent of the Eagle Creek well field, over 9,000 acre feet of water rights per annum.

After the closed session, councillors unanimously approved a motion not to reject the offer of judgment. However, in his motion Councillor Ray Dean Carpenter stipulated that village water engineers, Atkins and Landfair, be authorized to negotiate to increase the percentage offered, establish earlier priority dates for the four wells and address the effluent credit allowed.

James, John Schuller and Al Junge were also on hand to talk about water.

Mayoral candidate James, who made a lengthy presentation at a recent council meeting, read a prepared statement in which he again asked councillors to review the facts and figures surrounding their contract with Atkins and Landfair.

James and Schuller asked the council to hire an independent hydrologist to confirm the Eagle Creek water find.

"Would you like us to continue this project or abandon it?" asked Councillor Evans, who asked the citizens to make their wishes very clear.

James declined to answer, but asked if his attorney could meet with the council and the village attorney.

Evans voiced concern over making an extensive hydrology report available to anyone who might wish to protest Ruidoso's claim to the Eagle Creek water. He explained that the burden of proof in a protest is on the complainant, and said he didn't want to furnish potential protesters with a $75,000-100,000 report for ammunition.

Schuller opined that a Texas versus New Mexico water case regarding water rights could nullify the village's "junior" water rights.

"Before we get hysterical about the Texas-New Mexico litigation we ought to know how it comes out," remarked Stillinger. "All water rights may be used in priority," he added.

Stillinger explained that all right holders, junior and senior, are allowed to take their allocations when water supplies are plentiful. In times of shortage, Stillinger said that the courts can require junior users to curtail rights until senior rights are taken.

Village Councillor Bill Karn said that even if rights are limited to certain times of the year, with proper water management supplies could be pumped from the Eagle Creek wells and stored in the Grindstone Canyon dam.

Carpenter reminded councillors of a previous commitment to proceed with the wells, and suggested that the group continue in that direction.

In another water-related subject, Junge took the floor to remind listeners that Mayor George White and The Ruidoso News opposed his 1982 efforts to purchase the water slide at the municipal swimming pool from Ralph Rush.

He related how, in spite of opposition, he and Frank Saynor, both councillors at the time, negotiated the purchase for the village.

"The slide was a very good deal," said Junge, who quoted figures on the past summer's pool revenues. "The slide put us in the black," he said.

"I still think it's a monstrosity," remarked the Mayor.

In other business the council:

—Approved a request by John Jeffers, executive director of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce to encumber $2,500 in lodgers' tax funds from the council approved advertising line item to be used for a reception in Austin, Texas, planned as part of the chamber's winter advertising campaign.

Agreement is reached on polluted well clean-up

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

A settlement agreement on the Hollywood well contamination was discussed November 18, in Albuquerque, in a meeting involving representatives from the New Mexico Environmental Improvement Division (EID), McCarty Construction Company, Dan Stephens and Associates and the Village of Ruidoso.

Pat Longmire, a groundwater specialist with the EID, explained in a telephone interview Tuesday that the legal document includes a long-term groundwater and soil restoration program for the area around the municipal well that was contaminated with diesel fuel last July.

Representatives at the meeting were in general agreement, said Longmire, who added that hydrologists from the Socorro-based Stephens firm recommended some changes in language on the groundwater cleanup.

The hydrologists, hired by McCarty to come up with a clean-up and restoration plan, also proposed some changes in the timetable, said Longmire.

That timetable, said Longmire, sets a 20-year deadline for restoration of groundwater and soil contaminated by the fuel leak. He said the project might be completed much sooner.

Presently clean-up operations are under way at McCarty Construction, explained Longmire, who said those operations entail at least 13 separate steps. Current operations include pumping contaminated water out of the ground, he said.

Longmire said the cleanup crews are waiting for permission from the village to dispose of the contaminated water in Ruidoso's sewer system.

After that phase is concluded, Longmire said a reclamation proposal will be submitted to the EID. "We'll be monitoring all stages," added Longmire.

Jim Hine, village manager, recently told the Ruidoso Village Council that a bill for $72,000 had been presented to the McCarty Company. That bill is for "out of pocket expenses" caused by the Hollywood well contamination, he said.

Hine said McCarty's insurance representatives, also at the November 18 meeting, accepted the bill and are reviewing it.

Longmire said that all parties are cooperating and working together toward a reasonable solution to the well contamination problem.

The Hollywood well was called into service in July to supplement village water supplies during peak water demands. Within a half hour after the well was turned on, Water Department employees discovered that the water being pumped was contaminated.

A great deal of water was pumped into village distribution lines during that short time, and citizens were instructed by village administrators to flush home water lines.

Hine and assistant village manager Frank Potter have speculated that the Hollywood well may be lost forever.

Downs trustees vote to settle Harris case

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Editor

Ruidoso Downs Trustees voted Monday night to recommend that Mayor J.C. Day drop all charges against fellow Trustee Jake Harris for alleged illegal sewer lines.

Day said he would confer with the village attorney, then drop the charges if he finds that action to be proper.

Harris read a letter during the Monday meeting from the state Construction Industries Division that concluded that Harris was not in violation of the state plumbing code.

The letter and move by the trustees came after Harris was charged last month by the village with violations of the code in connection with some sewer taps.

Harris went on during the meeting to ask that the trustees seek the resignation of village plumbing inspector Don Edwards. Harris charged that Edwards acted improperly when supporting the charges against Harris.

"He's arrogant, he's insulting," Harris said of Edwards. "He don't know the law or this would never have come up. I submit that this was mishandled from the start."

Other trustees, however, gave Harris little support in asking for the resignation. Trustee Conrad Buchanan said he would like to have more time to consider the situation before taking any action.

Reached Wednesday morning, Edwards declined to comment on the Monday meeting events.

Also during the meeting, the trustees agreed to direct village enforcement officer Mark Milford to compile a list of all the questions he has of the construction history of the Inspiration Heights Apartments project and forward that information to village attorney Don Dutton. Dutton was instructed to include the questions in a letter to Farmers Home Administration Regional Housing Authority Joe Ortega.

Milford reported that he has had difficulty tracking down information about the project's beginnings.

In other business, the trustees: —Learned of a petition filed by spokesperson Alice Allison, who reported that she and about 300 signers were protesting the rate rise in Downs sewer rates. At the suggestion of Day, the trustees agreed to discuss the matter at the next trustee meeting when the village audit also will be available complete with sewer cost figures.

—Approved Election Resolution 85-22, calling for a municipal election in the spring for two trustees, a mayor and a municipal judge. Polling day will be Tuesday, January 8 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

—Learned of an update from the Municipal League on the handling of overtime payments to municipal officials. Attorney Dutton said he will study the recommendations and report back to the trustees.

—Voted to allow the Ruidoso Downs Ladies Auxiliary the use of a room at the old fire station after repairs are completed. Also, Day said he will answer inquiries from a village insurance company of safety shortcomings of the aged building.

—Voted to allow Harris to begin an excavation in a village alley.

—Approved Resolution 85-23, requesting a Community Development Block Grant for sewer and water lines.

—Approved Resolution 85-24, requesting a Community Assistance Street Improvement grant.

—Heard Buchanan report on the progress of the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport. Buchanan, a Sierra Blanca Airport Committee member, passed out a copy of the committee's budget, which calls for $8.9 million in expenditures in 1985-1986 and $6.6 million in expenditures in 1986-1987. He said the project will be ready for construction bids by mid January 1986. Also, Buchanan said "numerous, numerous airlines" are showing an interest in the future airport.

Federal Funds to support county riverbank project

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Editor

An area of the Rio Ruidoso near San Patricio will be the site of aid from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, according to Brett Gray, acting press secretary for U.S. Senator Pete Domenici.

Domenici praised the actions of Robert K. Dawson, acting secretary of the Army for Civil Works, for authorizing an allocation of funds to a project near San Patricio by the chief of the Army Corps of Engineers.

The Section 14 Stream Bank Protection project is planned to curtail riverbank erosion along the north and south banks of the river.

Total federal contribution to the project is $69,000, and no state or local funds will be required, Gray said.

The Lincoln County Road Department will be responsible for annual inspection and maintenance of the improvements, Gray said.

The project will extend for 200 feet north of the county road bridge B-015 at the junction of U.S. 70 and B-015. The bridge is about three miles west of San Patricio.

An agreement detailing the project is ready to be authorized by the Corps and the Lincoln County Commissioners, and work will begin within two and a half months after the agreement is signed, Gray reported. He said construction is expected to take 60 days to complete.

The project will involve reinforcing both river banks to train the river back into its original course.

Village board tours vacant racquet club

The Economic Development Board met Tuesday and toured the Sierra Swim and Racquet Club, considering the facility as a possible site for a village convention center. At the close of the meeting, board members agreed to seek guidance from the Ruidoso Village Council of whether or not to go ahead with serious consideration of the facility.

Members Sid Miller, Jerry Shaw, Slover Cape and Ralph Petty Jr. toured the racquet club, then attended a presentation by Michael Booth of Akashic Enterprise, a contractor and developer who represented the racquet club for owner State Savings and Loan of Dallas, Texas. Also present at the meeting were Jim Watkins, senior vice president of State Savings, and Gary Lutz, vice president and R.E.O. marketing of State Savings.

Booth presented a history and update on the condition of the racquet club. He noted the 12.9 acre site the club occupies, the eight tennis courts, swimming pool, possible meeting rooms and restaurant facilities the club includes.

Booth reported that the club was foreclosed on in March, and now is wholly owned by State Savings.

Board members discussed the feasibility of locating a convention center at the club, and most agreed that the possibility of expansion on the choice land the club occupies is a more attractive course of action than is use of the club itself. It was suggested that a large convention center building could be built near the club, and the club could be used to supplement the larger building.

Board members agreed that the club would serve well in its present condition as a center for small conventions or conferences, but felt a larger building would be needed in the future to accommodate larger groups.

A concern of the board's was potential rezoning of the club land, currently zoned R-2 (multi-family), to C-1 (commercial). Booth recounted that plans to locate a Hilton Hotel on the site several years ago were thwarted by neighborhood protests against the zoning change to commercial.

But Petty pointed out that a village-operated convention center would present a much different situation than would a commercial hotel.

"There's a lot of difference between a Hilton and a convention center that's owned by the city," he commented. He pointed out that an area of the tract could be left open as a park as a compromise to the local community. Board members voiced their feelings that a change to a convention center would at least be an improvement over letting the facility remain vacant and unused.

Board members also discussed the possibilities of locating a convention center at the present municipal airport land, the old Gibson's and a tract of land near Cree Meadows Country Club. Chairman Shaw, also a member of the council, reported that the future of the airport land is still unsure, and the village probably will have to sell—and possibly buy back—the land to help pay for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

Members adjourned after Shaw said she would bring the matter up before that evening's meeting of the council to "get a feeling" of what direction the council would like to see the board pursue.

Board member Preston Isaacs was absent from the meeting.

Thousands overdue

Librarian issues request for return of overdue books

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Public Library has been "robbed," and the names of the "robbers" are on file at the library.

Librarian Mary Lou Gooch said that over the past three years the Ruidoso library has lost $7,687 worth of books—not really to "robbers" but to citizens using library cards who have failed to return the borrowed books.

"This is our townspeople," said Gooch, who is distressed over the loss of the books. "We know exactly who has them," she added.

She said recent cuts in the library budget have increased the urgency for regaining the grossly overdue library books.

The library book buying budget was cut from $22,000 to $20,000 in a recent Ruidoso Village Council meeting. Gooch said her budget for purchasing books has remained at the $20,000 level for several years.

The cost of books averages $22 each, but other costs involved in lost and overdue books include personnel time and postage costs, said Gooch. She said one library employee spends one day a week calling patrons with overdue books.

If the books are not returned after several notices are sent, then a letter is mailed requesting that the addressee pay for the book or books, said Gooch. After that the village has been taking no action to regain the books.

In some cities, said Gooch, the police work with municipal libraries to recover the items of public property. She said the loss of books is a problem everywhere.

"We just want to get the books back," said Gooch, who added that if all books were returned the number of books in the library would nearly double.

When a book is replaced, said Gooch, it usually costs more than the price of the book that was lost. In addition to the replacement cost, she said processing costs about $2 a book.

Some books listed as long overdue on the two full Rolodex files in the library office were brand new when they were checked out. Gooch reflected that it is a shame that just one or two library patrons had the opportunity to enjoy some volumes.

"Please return overdue library books," said Gooch. Other citizens may be waiting for those books.

Warriors to take on Tigers in state semi-finals

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Wanted. A fast start. That is something that has avoided the Ruidoso High School varsity football team in the past four games.

But it is something the Warriors hope to accomplish when they play host Aztec at 1:30 Saturday, November 30, in a state semi-final game.

Silver City will meet visiting Grants at 7:30 Friday night, November 29, in the other AAA-division semi-final contest.

The Warriors have not scored a first-quarter touchdown since crushing Hot Springs last month. In last week's 36-21 win over St. Plus, Ruidoso scored two second-period touchdowns but still trailed, 21-15, at halftime.

A fast start may be all the more important against Aztec if the weather conditions are bad. A cold front is expected to hit the state this weekend.

But football is still football, and the 10-1 Warriors probably will be favored over the 8-4 Tigers, last year's state runners-up.

"We have to play the way we have all season and be very physical," said Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson.

Henderson expects the Tigers to use the run more than the pass. Aztec edged Robertson, 6-2, last weekend and is a power-oriented ball club.

The Tigers run out of a multiple offense and have a 4-3-4 defense.

"We're about equally strong on offense and defense," said Aztec head coach Jerry Bailey. "I think we'll have to play our best game all season to even be in the game."

Still, Aztec could be a tough opponent. The Tigers won the District 1-AAA title, beating second-place Bloomfield, 10-0.

Scott Steffan will go at quarterback for the Tigers. He is a 6-2, 185-pounder who can pass and run with the ball.

Fullback Simmon Rudder is another fine player. He is a 6-3, 185-pounder. On defense, middle linebacker Mitch Chatman is a top prospect.

Tackle Ronnie Reid is probably the best Tiger offensive lineman, weighing a solid 190 pounds.

The Warriors can counter with a lot of talent themselves.

Quarterback Russell Easter has thrown 14 touchdown passes and run for 12 touchdowns.

Tailback Michael Williamson has 12 touchdowns and has rushed for over 900 yards. Split end Brian Davis has caught 10 touchdown passes and is regarded as one of the best receivers in the state.

Wingback Kirk Taylor, fullbacks Billy Harrison and Bryan Alexander and tight end Bobby Dickinson also have rung up yardage for the Warriors.

The offensive line has blocked well all season. The Warriors average over 180 pounds per starter in the line, with 220-pound Phillip Herrera the biggest player.

Defensively, Ruidoso has given up 114 points in 11 games. However, two of St. Plus' touchdowns were scored on, or as a result of, turnovers. The other score came on a punt return.

Safety Jeff Willingham has intercepted nine passes and is strong against the run. Bubba Miller, Mitch Mullican and Randy Reynolds are the other starters in a talented secondary.

Tackle Shayne Fedrick leads a potent Warrior defensive line. Fedrick recovered a fumble to set up the Warriors' go-ahead touchdown against St. Plus.

Chuck Daniels, Jeff Maxwell and Dickinson form a tough threesome at linebacker.

"We're ready," Henderson said. "They do have a power offense and we're kind of concerned about that."

"Their quarterback is an outstanding athlete. He was a high placer in the hurdles at state (track) and is an excellent basketball player."

Following are the probable Warrior starters on offense and defense (with class level and weight).

Offense: Quarterback, Russell Easter, senior, 180; tailback, Michael Williamson, senior, 140; fullback, Billy Harrison, junior, 160, or Bryan Alexander, senior, 144; wingback, Kirk Taylor, junior, 156.

about Saturday's playoff game at Aztec. At left is assistant coach Gene Segura. The game will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Basketball meet set for Monday

The Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Adult Basketball League will have a meeting Monday, December 2, at the White Mountain Intermediate School gymnasium.

The meeting will be at 6:45 p.m. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the upcoming season. Things to be discussed include the league starting date, team fees, team rosters deadline, league playing dates, referees and rules. For information, call Bobby Bailey at 257-2795.

FROM PINSTripES TO PRISON STRIPES

Joe got caught stealing cable TV and almost traded in his executive suit for a not-so-executive suite—at the county jail.

Cable theft is a crime punishable by a stiff fine, imprisonment, or both. And cable thieves can get caught, because improved technology makes it easier to identify homes that are illegally receiving basic and premium services.

We don't want anyone to go to jail for stealing cable TV, so we're offering a painless solution. Just report improper hookups by giving us call at 257-5121 or come by our office at 117 Wingfield Avenue. Until December 16 there will be NO QUESTIONS ASKED. Act now. Our "amnesty" offer runs for a short time only. A prison sentence could run a whole lot longer.

Make no mistake about it, District 3-AAA probably was the toughest AAA-division district in the state this football season. Ruidoso and Silver City are both in the state semi-finals, and stand a good chance of playing each other in the finals.

Both Ruidoso and Silver City only have one loss on the season, the best records in the AAA-division.

Deming finished the season with an 8-2 record and Cobre was 7-3. Only Hot Springs did not post an overall winning record, but even the Tigers won two non-district games.

Traditionally, District 4-AAA has been the strongest in the state. However, this season, both champion Artesia and runner-up Lovington lost in the pre-playoffs.

In addition, always-tough Portales had a down year, losing to Deming as well as the Warriors.

Goddard and Tucuman did not have good seasons.

In the north, District 5-AAA had some good teams in St. Pius, Grants and Belen. But the Warriors defeated St. Pius last Friday and Silver City probably will knock off Grants this Friday.

Districts 1-AAA and 2-AAA generally have been far behind the south in quality, and this year is no exception.

However, Aztec has been a consistent participant in the playoffs, having made it to the state finals last season.

But in the end, look for Ruidoso and Silver City to meet in the state finals—with the Warriors winning, of course.

That would be a fitting end to a strong season for District 3-AAA teams.

Warrior girl hoopsters to begin season Saturday

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School's girls varsity basketball team will have a new look when the Warriors host Cloudcroft in the season opener Saturday, November 30.

The junior varsity game will start at 5:30 p.m., followed by the varsity contest.

The Warriors do not have any starters back from last season's 8-14 team. New head coach James Sanchez has a number of sophomores and freshmen playing on the squad.

"We're inexperienced," he admitted. "But the kids are working hard and I think we'll become a real solid ballclub."

"They have a real good attitude and are working well in practice," Ruidoso will have some height with 6-0 Katherine Sanchez, daughter of the coach. Another top prospect is Collette Waconda.

Other players scheduled to play on the varsity in the first game include Berdine Smith, Zeba Morris, Amanda Samuels, Lynette Scott, Veralyn Platta, Ellen Graham, Louanna Simmons, Stacy Gear, Brandi Snodgrass and Jennifer Jimenez.

Graham, Gear, Snodgrass and Jimenez probably will see playing time in the junior varsity game, also.

Other players certain to play in the junior varsity contest include Lori Walker, Norma Murillo, Lynette Harris, Sonja Urdiales, Melissa Lawrence and Linda Orosco.

The team has been working out this week, but will not practice today (Thursday) because of Thanksgiving. However, the squad will resume practice Friday.

"We've been working on our offense and defense in practice," Sanchez remarked. "Especially our man-to-man defense, I like to see a lot of action."

Cloudcroft is usually one of the better teams in the A division and could be tough again this season.

"I don't really know that much about them," Sanchez said. "I hear they have two experienced guards there who have probably played for them for four years."

Following the Cloudcroft game, Ruidoso will compete in the Roswell Tournament December 5-7. Some of the better teams in the state will compete in the tournament.

Katherine Sanchez (right) shoots over teammate Collette Waconda in Ruidoso High School's girls basketball practice Tuesday. Both players should see plenty of action in the Warriors' opener Saturday against visiting Cloudcroft.

Brave cagers beat Tularosa

Ruidoso Middle School's boys and girls A basketball teams took wins over Tularosa Tuesday on the losers' court.

Ruidoso's boys A team raised its record to 3-0 with a 49-14 win. No exact score was available for the girls game at press time. Ruidoso is 2-0 in girls A play.

Cody Willard led the Brave boys with 13 points. Abraham Chee and Kenny Trapp each added eight points.

The Brave boys B team lost a 39-35 decision. Mashon Swenor led Ruidoso with 10 points.

"I was very pleased with the way we played," said Brave boys head coach Dean Hood.

Ruidoso will host a tournament for boys and girls the weekend of December 6-8. No exact date has been set yet because of the state high school football playoffs.

most impressive victories this season. Dallas is 8-4.

4-New York Giants: The 8-4 Giants have an excellent chance of making the playoffs. This is probably New York's best team in 22 years.

5-Tie between New England, Miami and the Los Angeles Rams: All three teams have been up more than down this season.

Honorable mention: Denver and the Los Angeles Raiders lead the honorable mention list. Both teams have been involved in a number of close games this season and have 8-4 records.

Other teams on the list are Washington and San Francisco, both with 7-5 marks.

1-Chicago: The Bears have scored 80 points and allowed none in the past two games. That is an example of how good this 12-0 team is.

2-New York Jets: The 9-3 Jets are a near clinch to make the playoffs and probably will win their division.

The biggest reason for New York's improved performance this season has been the outstanding play of quarterback Ken O'Brien.

3-Dallas: Just when everybody thinks the Cowboys are dead, Dallas comes back.

The 34-17 win over Philadelphia Sunday was one of the Cowboys'

Ruidoso boy cagers to scrimmage Highland

Ruidoso High School's boys varsity basketball team will travel to Albuquerque Friday, November 29, for a scrimmage against the Highland Hornets.

The scrimmage will start at 2 p.m. Highland, an AAAA-division team, is usually among the better teams in Albuquerque.

Ruidoso has some good height this season in 6-4 Trent Tolbert and 6-4 Carl Lueras. Tolbert is a senior and Lueras is a junior. Justin Shaw, at 6-1, is another returnee from last season.

Sophomore Kirk Ryan is an excellent prospect at guard. He started the last half of the 1984-85 campaign. Ryan is a good outside shooter and playmaker.

The Warriors will have some more players available when the football season is over. Ruidoso's entire starting five from the last half of the 1984-85 season is returning this campaign.

Ruidoso will open the season Tuesday, December 3, at Roswell. The Warriors will travel to Portales Friday, December 6.

The Warriors' first home contest will be Tuesday, December 10, against the Goddard Rockets.

We all should be thankful for the land our God has given us. He made us people to be free. He gave us food that has lasted for over millions of centuries. God has been good to us all, and we have enough land for everybody.

That's why people from all over the world come to our beautiful country, America. I'm glad there are no slaves. Because without slaves being made, it makes our country a better place to live. I hope there is not a World War 3. It will just make our beautiful country terrible.

We have beautiful mountains and beautiful seas and oceans. I give thanks for our churches and chapels and pastors and monks priests all over the country.
Faustino Miranda

I am proud to be an American and for the freedom to live your own life. We have the right to speak freely. We have the right to talk about government officials. Everybody has the right to vote for the president, governor, mayor, and senator. There are not any slaves in the U.S. like there was in the Southern colonies. We have many kinds of people in the United States like German, French, Spanish, Oriental, Greek, and English. Everybody in the United States has an equal opportunity to become what ever they want to be. There is one symbol known world wide. It is the Statue of Liberty which stands in New York Harbor.

Rance Rush

One of the most important parts of America is freedom of choice. People that live in America are free to choose things that are important to them.

We can make important decisions and unimportant decisions. We can choose what church we want to attend and when we want to go. We're able to decide where we want to live and if we want to move. We can decide what school we want to go to and what we want to study if we go to college. If we want to be a lawyer, a doctor or own our own business, no one decides for us. We are free to pick our own leader of our country. If we want to, we can try and be a leader too. I think freedom of choice is very important for a person to be happy with his life and his country. I choose life in America.
Lee Nany

What I like about my country is Breaking. Breaking is fun! The reason I like it is because you and your friends can get together and Break out. It is my opinion that Breaking has class.

My hope is that in the future people come together. And nobody would have war!

I think the Statue of Liberty was put here for a reason and that reason is that people should be peaceful. I'm proud of my country for being peaceful, free, fun, and having lots of leisure time. American spirit is like a chain, through the grape vine people follow one another. Our country is unique because there's no other country like it.

My friends and I like soccer, football, tennis.
Fields, and trees! They're so fresh! They're great! Fresh is Mother Nature, she is like the love for our land.

Another symbol of America is the Liberty bell. It is a sign of freedom. My opinion of life is that you should not slave, but you should run your errands, pay your bills, and go do things you enjoy.
Ali Freeman

The Statue of Liberty is a very beautiful symbol of freedom and liberty. It was built many years ago in the harbor of New York. The flag is another symbol of the U.S.A. It shows our fifty states. The United States has many things like nature. Nature is a very big part in the world. Game preserves are very helpful things. It helps animals like rabbits, deer, and other animals. It mainly keeps animals out of parks and places. The game preserve is mainly used for protecting animals.

It is also used because cities are growing bigger.

If I could go anywhere in the United States I would go to any state. The United States is my dream. In my heart I feel that the United States is the most beautiful place in the world. The United States has a lot of people. If those people would just think of where they live they may be surprised. Places like New York is just one of our great states.

Our president who is a very great man, is one of our people who knows that we live in a great country. He is a man who is trying to protect us and the United States.

That's my way of looking at the USA.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

Happy Thanksgiving
"Come, ye thankful people, come,
Raise the song of harvest home:
All is safely gathered in,
Ere the winter storm begin

God, our maker, doth provide,
For our wants to be supplied
Come to God's own temple, come,
Raise the song of harvest home."

This old favorite hymn, is based upon a custom of our forefathers across the water, going back to time out of mind. Harvest home, that is the bringing of the crops to the house and barn, was celebrated with great rejoicing in songs and prayers, dances, plays and reunion of families.

It was only natural then, that our Pilgrim Fathers back in Plymouth Colony on the east coast, in 1621 held a Thanksgiving festival in gratitude to God for surviving through a difficult year, and for the blessing of a bountiful harvest.

It was at this first Thanksgiving Day, that a new dimension was added to the ancient harvest celebration. That is a great sense of gratitude for everything; for all our blessings.

Where do you begin being thankful for blessings? And there is certainly no end to the goodness of Our Lord.

Of course one of our greatest blessings is our family and kin folks. There is probably no other day in the year in which there are so many of our great family reunions.

One of our great privileges is our chance to help someone else have a Happy Thanksgiving.

That is why this time of year folks will ask you, "Do you have some place to go on Thanksgiving?"

A Double Celebration

For me this year, Thanksgiving Day is a double celebration, the 28th is also the birthday of our brother Lynn, born on this date in Juneau, Alaska in 1914 to Lynn Whippo Storm and the former Bertha Catherine Kennedy. His middle name, Walter comes from our uncle Walter Kennedy of Denver Colorado, a very handsome and well liked fellow in Denver. He was a great humorist, and used to keep his nephews in stitches laughing at his comic imitations.

Brother Lynn is a chip off the old block, very much like our father. Our Uncle Jerome used to say of our dad, "When they get Lynn, they get brains and they get honesty." Brother Lynn fills this bill. Also Uncle Jerome once paid me a great compliment when he said, "You have the Storm quality of being liked." This goes for brother Lynn double.

Speaking of Uncle Walter, I remember one time at a family reunion in Denver. It was a Thanksgiving type gathering, but I think it must have been in the summer because a fly came buzzing around Uncle Walter and he made a great show of shoofing the fly away and said:

"Shoo fly, don't bother me, For I belong to company B."

I was four years old and a few days later when a fly came at me at the table I repeated this verse, which brought down the house in laughter.

I didn't mean to be funny, I just thought that was what you were supposed to say when a fly comes around you.

Speaking of things for which to be thankful, I am grateful for the honor, and the blessing of reaching you, the reader, on this great American Day of Thanksgiving, and I wish you the greatest Thanksgiving Day of your life.

El Paso Handicap

La Leona romps to victory in the $11,800 City of El Paso Handicap at Sunland Park on November 23. Jockey Mike Lidberg is aboard the three-year-old filly as she runs down the pacesetter Giboulee Wood, who finished second. Jack Palmer trains La Leona for owners Willard and Shirley Turner of Monahans, Texas. The owners collected $7,080 for the filly's win.

Milly Miller wins Friday

Milly Miller fought off a bold stretch drive from Ali Blue to post a whisker win in Friday's featured six-and-a-half-furlong allowance sprint at Sunland Park.

Milly Miller broke as the third choice of 1,977 on hand for the afternoon racing program, with Son To The King the overwhelming favorite and Ali Blue second in the wagering.

Over The Edge, a 23-1 longshot, turned in a surprising performance, showing the way to the half-mile mark as Milly Miller stalked the leader around the lower bend under rider F.O. Martinez. Martinez took Milly Miller around Over The Edge as they approached the head of the stretch, and nabbed the lead about one-and-a-half furlongs from the wire.

Jockey Larry Hunt had started a big move aboard Ali Blue as the field rounded the turn, coming from well off the pace to catch the two frontrunners in the final furlong.

Over The Edge, with Jerry Rodriguez at the reins, began to fade from the early going and the winner's share boiled down to a stretch battle between Milly Miller and Ali Blue.

The photo-finish camera separated the two horses with Milly Miller out front by a nose to collect $1,440 for owners Lynn Dubose, Sylvia Walsh and Milly Miller of Hobbs.

La Leona takes El Paso Handicap

Willard and Shirley Turner's La Leona posted her second consecutive stakes win with a decisive three-and-a-half-length margin in Saturday's featured City of El Paso Handicap at Sunland Park.

Trained by Jack Palmer, La Leona broke as the seven-to-five favorite for the City of El Paso Handicap with Mike Lidberg at the reins. Gibeoulee Wood, under veteran jockey Larry Byers, was the second choice of 2.853 on hand for the afternoon program. Miss Sun Tag left the gates third in the wagering with Andres Malvdez aboard.

Gibeoulee Wood took a quick lead on the seven-horse field for the five-and-a-half furlong sprint, showing the way around the turn to the top of the lane as Lidberg moved around horses on the bend to catch the leader at the head of the stretch.

La Leona blew past a tiring Gibeoulee Wood to post a widening three-and-a-half-length victory in 1:05 seconds. The winner returned mutuels of $4.80, $2.80 and $2.20.

The Turners, from Monahans, Texas, collected $7,000 from the $11,800 gross purse for the City of El Paso Handicap. In her last three appearances, La Leona has earned more than $17,000. She accounted for the Cutarusty Handicap in her last appearance at Sunland on November 9, and collected runner-up money in the That's Julie Stakes on October 26.

Gibeoulee Wood held on for second, with Miss Sun Tag three lengths back for third. Gibeoulee Wood paid $2.80 and $2.20. Miss Sun Tag's show was worth $2.20.

Sunland Park Hoofbeats

A TOTAL OF 5,603 FANS turned out for Sunday's racing program—the seventh biggest crowd in Sunland Park history. The largest attendance ever was 7,052 on May 9, 1971. One of Sunday's fans held the only winning ticket in the Pic-Six and went home with $11,500, while Julian Ganem of El Paso drove away in a 1986 Mazda SE-5 truck, which was given away in a drawing following the final race.

HORSEWOMEN UNITED INC.

awarded trainer Alfred Fontenot the first Barn Of The Month honor this season at Sunland Park.

Sunland Park's leading jockey Eugene O'Neill had a three-win day on Friday, making it two weekends in a row he has pulled off triple victories in a single day. Riding for trainer Cliff Lambert Sr. he won with Salida Lida in the fourth race and Jeff W. in the sixth. On board for Cliff Lambert Jr. in the ninth, he won with Malachi Jones. O'Neill added another win on Saturday for four wins over the weekend to earn him Jockey Of The Week honors for the third straight week.

TRAINER GERALD MARR collected three wins and a second on Saturday. He won the fifth with Aces Rule, then came back to win the sixth with Vicki's Envoy and the 11th with Miss Bite. The three wins moved him to one victory behind leader Cliff Lambert Sr. and earned him Trainer Of The Week honors. Lambert had two winners to hang on to first in the standings.

Lucky fans win money, car at Sunland

Sunland's Pic-Six carryover pool was busted on Sunday, when one perfect ticket selecting the winners of the fifth through tenth races returned $11,500. Another lucky racing fan, Julian Ganem of El Paso, was the winner of a 1986 Mazda SE-5 truck in a drawing held at the track following Sunday's program.

Bourbon And Blues embarrassed a strong field of thoroughbreds, romping to a four-and-a-half-length victory in Sunday's featured allowance race at Sunland Park.

A total of 5,603 fans, the seventh largest crowd in the history of the track, backed Bourbon And Blues down to the second choice to win Sunday's five-and-a-half-furlong main event. Stakes standout Pop's Spirit was the slight favorite with Yallah Zip third in the wagering.

Yallah Zip took a quick jump on the 10-horse feature field, showing the way to the half-mile mark with O.A. Martinez aboard.

Apprentice jockey Mike Clark stalked the leader to the lower bend under Bourbon And Blues to take command of the sprint as the two horses battled around the turn. Clark was a clear winner for the remainder of the journey, racing to the wire unthreatened to post a four-and-a-half-length victory in 1:06.4 seconds.

Bourbon And Blues returned mutuels of $6.60, $4.20 and $2.80. Coy Hendrix trains the winner for Gerald Roberts of Lamesa, Texas, who collected $1,620 for the victory.

Ask Muhammad, a 19-to-one longshot ridden by Darrell Blevins, made a strong bid from well off the pace in the final furlong to steal runner-up money from Pop's Spirit, finishing one length ahead of the nine-to-five favorite.

Ask Muhammad, a Larry Dunbar trainee, paid $14.80 and $5. Pop's Spirit, owned by the Double B Ranch of Anthony paid $2.60.

Editorial

Today is Thanksgiving, a traditional time to reflect on things we have to be thankful for. In Ruidoso, Thanksgiving also represents the end of one season—the "slow" fall season—and the start of another season—the beginning of about four months of winter snow skiing activity.

In this issue, we include the 1985-86 edition of The Ruidoso News Ski Special, a tabloid we think you'll find full of interesting and informative articles on the great sport of skiing. It is our way of saying "welcome" to the ski season and all who are involved in it.

Certainly we can be thankful this Thanksgiving that the beginning of the ski season and the first significant snowfall of the year occurred at the same time. Ski Apache Resort manager Roy Parker reported that four to six inches of snow fell during the Monday-Tuesday storm, nicely supplementing the areas already covered by manmade snow at the resort.

To the skiers and all others who involve themselves in skiing Ruidoso-style, we say "we're glad you're here." For the snowfall, and the successful beginning of this ski season, we say "thank you."—DJP

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—Somebody plastered our capitol city, and perhaps other parts of the state as well, with posters that declare Thanksgiving a "Day Without Hunger" in New Mexico.

That's a laudable aim, but will it come true? Will tomorrow be a 24-hour period in which nobody goes hungry anywhere in our state?

Will the fact that our Governor proclaimed this cause it to be so?

Hardly. Such proclamations are not worth the paper they are Xeroxed on when it comes to generating changes in reality. They may even be detrimental insofar as they give the Governor who issues them and the supporters who distribute them the impression that they have accomplished something, when nothing real has been done.

Changing our state into one in which no one goes hungry, not even for a single day, requires a level of dedication and a lifetime commitment of a sort politicians who are merely trying to create "images" for themselves never achieve.

When most New Mexicans hear of trouble at the top in state government, they won't make lots of fine distinctions.

If they are told something embarrassing has happened in the office of the State Treasurer, they are not likely to say, "Well, this has nothing at all to do with the way that office was performing its fiduciary obligations. The accusations were only that there was some hanky-panky in connection with a meeting of state treasurers that had nothing to do with the care being given our state funds."

Instead, they are much more likely to say to themselves, "Here is another example of one of this state's politically run offices doing things that clearly shouldn't be done. Is there something in the air in Santa Fe these days that causes so many to go wrong? Maybe we ought to just sweep them all out of office."

Result: A further deterioration in the small amount of respect New Mexicans still feel for their elective officials, and another sharp drop in the prospects for the Democratic party that has given us these people.

A further example of that last thought is clear in the following story.

A group of us who watch politics and politicians were whiling away time recently with some speculation on whether Governor Anaya might be swept out of office by some action still to be taken by that federal grand jury which returns to duty early in January.

One of those gathered with us said, "I hope not. Have you ever looked at that line of succession?"

He went on to point out that if something did happen to Governor Anaya, we would have the happy privilege of being ruled by Mike Runnels. If something happened in turn to Mike, we would be taken over by Clara Jones. And if something happened to her, gubernatorial power would pass to Les Houston.

On that chilling note, the conversation ended, and the depressed participants dispersed.

During 1986, the people of this state will not get a chance to see any changes in the makeup of their Senate, but they do get to choose those who will occupy all seats in the House of Representatives and all top offices in state government itself.

Maybe the Thanksgiving season, which is a time for more than ordinary amounts of contemplation and meditation, might be when we should all resolve to make those choices, and all that is attendant on them, with deadly seriousness for a change.

Maybe we ought to be getting firmly fixed in our minds the qualities (like integrity) we should look for in those who want to work for us.

Maybe, for a change, we should approach our duty as voters thoughtfully, even prayerfully, and not as though the whole choice were some sort of amusing political game.

Examples of what happens when we do not do that are, unfortunately, all around us now.

Reporter's Round

By Sharon Makokian

Did you ever have one of those days when nothing seemed to go right, and everything that could go wrong did (a la "Murphy's Law")? Lately, I've experienced a few of those days... actually it's called the month of November!

It started two weeks ago when I had to take a routine picture of someone I had interviewed. My trusty Nikon automatic decided it didn't want to work anymore, and the shutter stuck. No big deal, Frankie took good pictures... what else could go wrong?

A few days later, I was watching a program on my faithful 10-year-old television set. Suddenly, the machine made banging noises and smoke started rising from the back of the set. The cats were fascinated by this display of sound and smell, as I watched old faithful bite the dust. The next day, a friend lent me his portable. I watched it for two hours. Then, right before my weary eyes, the machine stopped working. Just died.

Feeling like a jinx, I tried to call a friend. No use—my inexpensive little telephone decided it was also ready for appliance heaven. Now my answering machine asks callers to leave messages, since I can't speak to them even if I'm home. (I'm knocking on wood that it doesn't break before I can get a new phone.)

I should explain (especially to those of you who wonder why you haven't seen me covering my "beats" lately) that I usually do not spend my time watching television or talking on the telephone. While everything around me was breaking down, I thought I had a bad cold which wouldn't go away. As Murphy's Law would have it, it turned out to be mononucleosis.

Now I know how Typhoid Mary felt! The mono virus is very contagious and everybody knows it. Nobody will come near me, even if I promise not to cough in their direction. One friend said that visiting me would be like playing "Russian roulette." My family leaves groceries and greetings on the other side of the screen door and has postponed Thanksgiving dinner until I'm less of a risk.

Actually, I don't blame them. I wouldn't want to be exposed to this if I wasn't struck with it. I told my friend (on the phone, before it broke) that I was not having fun. "You're sick, you're not supposed to be having fun," he said.

No kidding. I never realized how much I like my job, and the people with whom I come in contact, until I had to stay away for so long.

Being home has enabled me to catch up on the latest daytime and evening television shows. (Luckily, my old black-and-white is still working, at least for now.) As a Communication Arts major in college, I tried to follow the trends, but lately I haven't had the time.

Daytime soaps are reassuringly predictable. Robert Scorpio is on another life-saving mission as the doctors save lives on General Hospital. Bo and Hope are on another dangerous adventure to save society from some evil villain. The days of their lives seem to have the same scenes with different locations.

Segments of some of the soaps seem to look like long videos, using the action and music techniques which made "Miami Vice" so popular. Definitely a change from when my great-grandmother used to watch "The Granddaddy Light."

Game shows seem to be the same as always, with high stakes and screaming contestants. Inflation has taken its toll. I remember when the "$25,000 Pyramid" was worth only $10,000!

A new breed of syndicated courtroom shows has popped up on the small screen. Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but if I ever get divorced, I sure don't want to see it dramatized on television!

Evening shows seem to be riding high on the success of "Miami Vice," with a plethora of police and detective shows. I liked "Hollywood Beat" and "Moonlighting."

Family sitcoms seem to have made a comeback this season, but we'll see how many last in the ratings race. After all, how many times can you watch Junior borrow the car, or Mom try to surprise Dad on his birthday, with a joke before every commercial and a happy ending in 23 minutes. (I guess that's why we like them.)

And of course, there are the commercials. Many seem to focus on the holiday season, which is very depressing to someone who wants to go Christmas shopping, but is stuck in bed.

It's hard to believe that the holidays, which seemed so far in the future, are now upon us. Despite all the nuisances of daily life, I realize how much I really have to be thankful for. (A close call on a blood test made me thankful that I have just mono and not something more serious.)

I think that an unwritten law of column-writing says that it's OK to be corny on Thanksgiving. It's a good time to reflect on all the good things we take for granted every day, such as family, friends and even our jobs.

For now, it's back to the orange juice for me, as I sigh with relief that my typewriter didn't break down as I wrote this column. Happy Thanksgiving.

A pelican?!

This misplaced pelican was spotted in the Rio Ruidoso near McCarty Construction Company, according to Bill McCarty. The bird apparently was blown in with a storm, and left soon after having been spotted.

Warrior cheerleaders are active on and off the field

When Ruidoso High School's varsity football team tangles with host Aztec Saturday in the state semifinals, the Warrior cheerleaders will be on the sidelines cheering for their team.

Virginia Harrison and Rebecca Durham are the cheerleader advisors. The cheerleaders cheer at all the Warrior sporting events and pep rallies.

But the 10 cheerleaders also lead active lives off the athletic field. Kristi Douglass is a senior. She is the daughter of Jim and Carolyn Douglass.

What does she like best about cheerleading?

"I like the friends I get to work with," she said. "I also like the football games."

Kristi is a member of the Warrior volleyball team. She also likes skiing and swimming. Kristi plans to attend college and major in physical recreation.

Lana McClure is a junior. She is the daughter of Richie and Elaine McClure.

"I like supporting the Warriors, the pep assemblies, games and camp," she said.

Lana is a member of the Warrior volleyball team. She also likes to ski and swim.

She plans to attend college, but is not sure where.

Amie DeAngelo, a sophomore, is the daughter of Beth and Jim DeAngelo.

"I like being able to support the best school in New Mexico," she said.

She plays first chair clarinet in the Warrior band and enjoys reading. She would like to be a pediatrician (pre-med) after she graduates from high school.

Lori Morrow is a junior. She is the daughter of Stormy and Susie Edwards.

"I like supporting the Warriors and representing Ruidoso High School," she commented.

She likes cheerleading and tennis. She plays on the Warrior tennis team.

Lori plans to attend the University of Texas at Austin, but is undecided on her career.

Keri Pate, a junior, is the daughter of Mickey and Brenda Pate.

"I enjoy promoting school spirit," she said.

Her hobbies include ice skating and skiing. She is a member of the Warrior girls track team.

She plans on majoring in mass communications in college.

Ashley McIntosh, a junior, is the daughter of Gail McIntosh.

"I like supporting different sports and promoting school spirit at games and pep assemblies," she said.

She plays on the Warrior volleyball team and she also likes to ski.

Ashley thinks she would like to attend the University of Texas at Austin.

Janet Adams is a senior. She is the daughter of Bonnie Lore and Dan Adams.

"I like supporting the teams," she said. "Getting the crowd to yell with us. Meeting new people and attending cheering camp in the summer."

Her hobbies include gymnastics, swimming and lifting weights.

She plans on attending New Mexico State University and studying dentistry.

Mitzi Ferguson, a junior, is the daughter of Glen and Louise Ferguson.

"Cheerleading is a blast," she said. "I have enjoyed it greatly. I like it because I get to meet a bunch of people."

"I also like being involved in school activities."

She also likes to ski. She plans on going to college and having "a great time."

Amanda Samuels is the daughter of Don and Sheri Samuels. She is a sophomore.

"I like supporting the Warriors, cheering in pep assemblies and leading the crowds in cheers," she said.

Jennifer Hamilton, a sophomore, is the daughter of Dr. Phil Hamilton and Lawanna Hamilton.

"I like being able to support the Warriors and leading the crowd to support the Warriors also," she said.

Like many of the other cheerleaders, she likes to ski. Jennifer hopes to attend Baylor University and become a dentist.

So the Warrior cheerleaders are constantly busy, both supporting the Ruidoso teams and in social activities.

New name, new equipment highlight new season

With about $1.6 million in new improvements this year, Ski Apache Resort is ready for a successful season of skiing.

New improvements this year include a new triple chairlift that replaced the number 1 double chairlift. The lift has an increased capability—2,100 skiers per hour. The double lift had a capacity of just 950 skiers per hour, a state-of-the-art statistic when the lift opened in 1965, said resort manager Roy Parker.

The new lift has a vertical drop of 1,300 feet and a length of 5,000 feet. Closer spaced chairs and moving from double to triple chairs are factors that contributed to the lift's added capacity.

New trails this year include Wild Onion, an advanced trail, and Dead End, for expert skiers. Wild Onion is located between Geronimo and Rover and Dead End lies between The Terrible and Rover.

Parker said the new trails reflect the resort's push for more advanced and expert ski trails. Parker said the push is due to more and more skilled skiers visiting the area. Also, he pointed out that many skiers who grew up skiing at Ski Apache are now expert skiers and enjoy more difficult terrain.

Other improvements this year include about 100 new parking spaces in the resort parking lot. The burger stand on Lower Moonshine has been tripled in size, due to excellent attendance last year. Again this year, hamburgers and sodas will be sold at the stand.

The resort's extensive snowmaking system has been completed, and a large area can now be reached by Ski Apache's near two-dozen snowmaking guns.

Mountain manager Denny Grover said all beginner areas, the Capitan, Smokey Bear, Lower Deep Freeze, Snow Park and the lower Lincoln Lift Line all can be accessed by the powerful guns. Parker said about 2,500 to 3,000 skiers per hour can be accommodated at manmade snow areas only, if the area should not receive any natural snow early in the season.

Parker said manmade snow skis just like packed powder, an "excellent skiing surface."

Also new this year is the resort's new name—Ski Apache Resort. For over 20 years, the area had been known as Sierra Blanca Ski Resort, and last year Mescalero Apache Tribal officials and Tribal president Wendell Chino announced the name change.

Parker said the name change should not result in any confusion.

"I really don't think we've got a problem at all," he said. "We're the only ones here."

Parker pointed out that skiers associate the ski resort with Ruidoso, and since Ruidoso has only one ski area, no misunderstanding should occur.

The resort offers a complete ski school, lodge facilities and rental shop. Full-time ski patrollers add a measure of safety to the slopes. Also, the area will feature a full slate of racing activities this year, including NASTAR racing.

The ski season begins Thanksgiving day at Ski Apache Resort and runs through spring, ending sometime in late March or early April. Last year the resort set an state record for attendance, selling 274,000 tickets.

Daily snow reports from Ski Apache are available by calling (505) 257-9001.

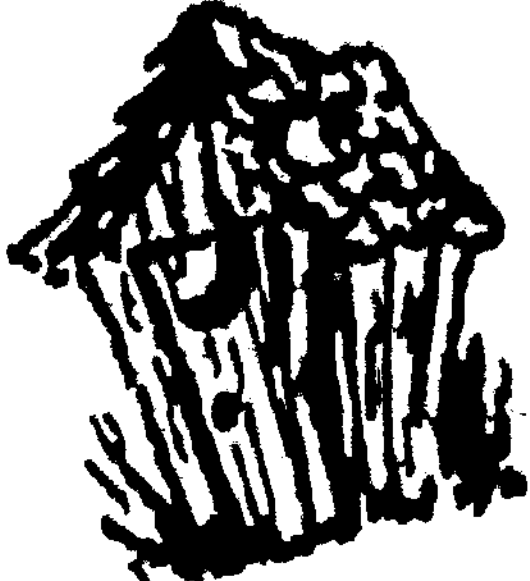

The new triple chairlift at Ski Apache Resort stretches upslope to its destination 5,000 feet away.

Ski School stresses fine tuning skills for more fun

The number one philosophy at the Ski Apache Resort Ski School is that students have fun and stay safe while learning, according to school director Rick Vincent.

The ski school offers a complete line of ski instruction for skiers of all levels. A beginner lift ticket is included in the price of classes for first-time skiers. Private and semi-private lessons also are offered.

Vincent said he expects to have about 100-105 full- and part-time ski instructors employed at the resort this season. Of those, he said 40 will be full-time and 60 part-time.

The director said all ski instructors will receive a minimum of 25 hours of training before being placed before a class of ski students. Most ski instructors have more extensive qualifications and some are members of the Professional Ski Instructors of America.

The ski school is fully certified, and all instructors are required to participate in ongoing training throughout the season, Vincent said. He noted that at least 15 hours of training will be completed by full-time instructors each week and part-time instructors will complete 9 hours of training each week.

"Training is an ongoing process," Vincent said.

Instructors for this season were to be hired during a special hiring clinic scheduled last weekend. In the yearly clinic, Vincent said teaching methodology and presentation, knowledge of teaching and psychology of teaching are covered. About 12 hours of training are accomplished by prospective instructors.

Vincent described the training of instructors as "an apprenticeship program."

Vincent stressed that all skiers should receive instruction, not just beginners. He said just because a skier is no longer a beginner, it doesn't mean the learning process has stopped.

Ski Apache Resort offers ski classes for advanced skiers as well as beginners.

"The more they learn, the more they have fun," Vincent said. "It (continual instruction) makes it much safer and easier."

All day adult, teen or child lessons are $23. Half day lessons for adults, teens and children are $16. Lessons over two consecutive days, with lift ticket included, are $55. Advanced lessons during two consecutive days are $38.

Private lessons all day for any age level, with a maximum of five persons with the same skiing level, are $200. Other lesson packages are offered.

Ski Apache Handicapped Skiers Association begins

As soon as Ski Apache Resort opens, Diana Person begins her tenth season as director of the Ski Apache Handicapped Skiers Association.

Person began the association (then known as the Sierra Blanca Handicap Skiers Association) in 1975. She said she was inspired by a program run by Hal O'Leary, in Winter Park, Colorado. After training with O'Leary, Person came to Ruidoso to begin her program.

The first season began after Christmas with nine students and three instructors. Last season Person, her aide Bobby Palm and 41 instructors taught 605 lessons to students with many different handicaps. Person said the association teaches students from schools in Roswell, the Alamogordo School for the Visually Handicapped, the Permian Basin Rehabilitation Center in Odessa, Texas, and the School for the Deaf in Santa Fe, Big Spings, Texas, and El Paso, Texas. Person also works closely with the Ruidoso schools. The program is funded with private donations and an annual Businessmen's Race in March. Person said she has received tremendous support from the local community and from others out of the Ruidoso area.

Person said anyone with an intermediate knowledge of skiing is very much needed as a volunteer. To prepare those who volunteer, the association is planning a clinic for December 2-6. The clinic deals with instruction for blind guiding, three-track skiing for amputees, dealing with mentally retarded students and four-track skiing for those students with severe handicaps such as cerebral palsy.

Person explained that three-track skiing involves the use of two crutches fitted with skis and a single ski on the foot. Four-track skiing involves the use of two crutches fitted with skis and two skis hooked together at the feet. The special equipment is very expensive.

Person said that lift tickets are included for the clinic time and for the time spent with the students for the volunteer

Adults with handicaps also are eligible for lessons. Person requests that anyone interested call her at the above numbers for an appointment.

The program is worth all the many hours of time when a brilliant student comes shining through. Person said Shane Watts, formerly of Ruidoso, is an outstanding example of a handicap skier. Watts, who lost a leg in an accident, raced in international handicap skiing contests in the 1983 and 1984 seasons. Person added that Watts is in the process of receiving an artificial leg this winter.

The next time a skier whizzes by on the strangest skis you've seen, there is a good chance that person is a student of the Ski Apache Handicap Skiers Association.

Where and why they like to ski

Skiers list sunshine, relaxation,

Something special draws skiers to the clean white slopes of Ski Apache Resort, sometimes it's the uncrowded New Mexico slopes or maybe it's the brilliant blue sky.

For skier and restaurant owner Dan Kelley, the blue skies have a lot to do with it.

"Like skiing on top of the world" is how Kelley describes the experience of skiing during a cloudless New Mexico day. Kelley said the New Mexico weather, usually 10 to 15 degrees warmer than that of his native Colorado ski haunts, is a big plus for him. Kelley said he also enjoys the individual aspect of the sport of skiing. The challenge in skiing, he says, is all up to the individual.

Kelley said Caliente is his favorite trail at Ski Apache Resort. The challenge of the course, its long length and narrow width and good moguls suit Kelley just fine. He said he also favors Roy's Run.

Ski resort manager Roy Parker, after whom Roy's Run was named, said his favorite trail at the area he has managed for nearly 22 years is Mescalero. He said he favors the run because it has a variety of skiing terrain throughout its length. Steep and more shallow areas are included in Mescalero's length.

"It's a very interesting trail," Parker said.

Another fan of the Mescalero trail is ski resort Ski School director Rick Vincent, although Vincent said he enjoys all the runs at Ski Apache. Vincent said he spends a lot of time on the lower trails, such as the Capitan, because he likes to watch the progress of student skiers and ski classes. Another of Vincent's favorites is Roy's Run.

"I like the variety, I really do," he said of all areas at Ski Apache.

Vincent said skiing is most attractive as a sport to him because he can recreate with his whole family while skiing, something that is not possible in other sports. Being outdoors and participating in a sport that attracts enthusiasts from all walks of life are also pluses of the sport, Vincent said.

Another Roy's Run fan is Ruidoso village attorney John Underwood. He said he likes the bumps and challenges of the run because "it has a little bit of everything" and "variety is the spice of life."

Underwood said he likes the sport of skiing because "it takes 100 percent of your concentration 100 percent of the time," leaving a skier little time for worries back on the job.

Also attracted by the challenge of skiing is Lisa Scott of Phyllis's. The 13-year Ski Apache skier said The Terrible is her favorite run because "it's daring, it's fast."

Scott said she also likes the sport because it's an individual activity and is physical.

"I like the cold," she said, "I like the snow." Scott said the competition in the sport also is an attraction for her.

"I like to beat people," she said with a smile.

and competition of skiing as attractive

A skier who enjoys the sport for its relaxing qualities is art gallery owner Ovella Estes. Estes said her favorite slopes, East Meadows, the Capitan and Apache Bowl, are calming areas for her. "I go up there to relax and recreate," Estes said. She reported that skiing has a "medicinal effect" on her, and leaves her "exhausted but refreshed" after a hard day of skiing. The skier said she goes skiing to "get my batteries charged." Local skiers and visiting skiers should have their batteries fully charged after the long summer away from the sport. And with the opening of Ski Apache on Thanksgiving day, the slopes are sure to be crowded with snow skiers enjoying where and why they most like to ski.

Maintenance a must for ski equipment

You can do it two ways, but either way, it should be done each season before venturing out on the slopes.

Tuning up ski equipment is a must after a heavy season of use, and very frequent skiers might find it helpful to maintain their equipment several times a season.

Do it yourself, or take the simple way out—take it to one of the ski shops and let them handle your ski equipment tune-up for you.

If you choose to do it yourself, limit your efforts to the simpler repairs, leave the major jobs—like boot and binding repairs and adjustments—to the professionals at ski shops. After all, improper adjustments or repairs could jeopardize your safety while skiing.

A ski tune up is fairly simple. The first step is to clean the bottom of the skis of any dirt or debris left over from last season. The next step is usually to fill in holes and gouges on the plastic bottom surface of the skis.

P-tex, a repair material, is melted and dripped onto the damaged areas of the bottom of the skis. When hardened, the P-tex drippings are then scraped and leveled with the use of a plastic scraper.

Next, the metal ski edges are sharpened to give the skis a more true and sure grip on the snow. A file is drawn down the length of the skis from the tip to the tail (in that direction) until a 90-degree angle is achieved on the metal edge.

Then the edge is slightly dulled about four inches near the tip and tail of the skis. This step is done to let the skis slide more easily through turns.

Final step is to apply a base ski wax to the bottom of the skis. If you know the conditions of the snow and the temperature in which you will use the skis, you can apply corresponding waxes. Otherwise, an all-around wax should be applied.

No matter where you have it done—at home or at a ski shop—proper ski equipment maintenance is a must for successful skiing.

Hard skiing demands exercise

"The worst thing a skier can do is go on the slopes cold," said Bequi Parsons, assistant manager of the Ruidoso Athletic Club (RAC), who recommends starting an exercise program before hitting the slopes for this season's skiing.

"I would highly recommend doing aerobics classes," said Parsons, since aerobics conditions the heart as well as the muscles.

Bicycling is another good way to get in condition for skiing, said Parsons, adding that any program should include muscle conditioning, flexibility exercises and endurance building.

Jogging may be good conditioning for some skiers, but Parsons said many skiers have knee problems and have to avoid running and jogging. She added that jogging is most beneficial if the jogger is already in pretty good condition.

Stretching and leg strengthening exercises are also beneficial, she said.

Parsons said that skiing while out of shape may be a major cause of ski accidents.

Fred Pavlovic, director of the Ski Patrol at Ski Apache Resort, recommends playing hacky sack because it builds leg strength as well as agility. He said hacky sack also keeps the lower body limber.

"I recommend that everybody stretch—particularly the lower body, just before skiing," said Pavlovic. Skiing without proper warmups and preparation can cause skiers to tire easily, and suffer from unnecessary aches and pains after a day on the mountain.

He added that becoming acclimated is important before making the first run of the day. Pavlovic suggests doing some knee bends, back twists and rotations before catching the lift.

Tom Dorgan of Ski Cloudcroft has found that walking and moving heavy equipment around the mountain keeps him in shape for ski season.

Parsons stresses the importance of getting in shape now with a sensible exercise program.

There Are Elements Of Risk In Skiing That Common Sense And Personal Awareness Can Help Reduce.

- 1 Ski under control and in such a manner you can stop or avoid other skiers or objects.

- 6 You shall keep off closed trails and posted areas and observe

After a long day entertainment

Although the skiing day ends at 4 p.m. at Ski Apache Resort, the night is just beginning, as Ruidoso offers a variety of "apres ski" activities.

After an active day on the slopes, some skiers might be ready for dinner. Restaurants in and around Ruidoso range from fast-food takeouts to elegant settings where multi-course meals are served. Many restaurants and pubs feature "happy hours" with reduced-price drinks and free hors d'oeuvres for the pre-dinner crowd.

After dinner, skiers have a choice of live entertainment, dancing and other activities. Local clubs offer live and taped music in styles ranging from top-40 rock'n'roll to old-time sing alongs and relaxing piano bars.

If a night at the movies seems more appealing as an after-ski activity, Ruidoso offers a choice of two movie theaters—Sierra Sinema and Camelot Theater. Each theater has two screens with nightly movie showings and (usually) two evening shows on the weekends.

A number of video shops in town rent movies and video machines.

Spirit of Ruidoso brings celebrities to Ski Apache

Plans under way now call for members of the Dallas Cowboys and Houston Oilers professional football teams to compete on the slopes of Ski Apache Resort this winter in a celebrity ski race.

Tentatively scheduled for March 11 through 15, the events are being planned by the Spirit of Ruidoso in conjunction with the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and other organizations.

Organizer Joe Corff said Spirit will sponsor the Cowboys and the chamber will bring the Oilers to Ruidoso. Some of the proceeds from the activities will go to the Special Olympics and Handicap Skiers programs.

The football players are scheduled to arrive in El Paso, Texas, on Tuesday, March 11, for a press conference. After the conference, they will travel to Ruidoso by bus. Six members of each team will come to Ruidoso with their wives. Corff said some of the Cowboys could include Bill Bates, Fred Cornwall or Steve DeOssie.

Wednesday, March 12, the players will enjoy a day of skiing. An afternoon reception for the local youth to meet the football stars is tentatively scheduled for 5 p.m. that day at Ruidoso Public Library.

The football players will ski with Special Olympics and handicapped skiers the afternoon of Thursday, March 13. Friday, March 14, the players will make special appearances around Ruidoso during the morning. Corff said merchants will be able to "rent" players to appear in their stores by the hour.

The ski teams will hit the slopes Friday afternoon for trial runs at the NASTAR course at Ski Apache. That evening, the players and teams will be auctioned off "calcutta" style at a cocktail party.

The big race will take place from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday, March 15. That evening will feature a dinner and show of some kind at a place to be announced. Corff said he hopes to arrange to have a guest celebrity through the Special Olympics program.

Corff said he felt the race would be a good promotion for Ruidoso, as both the players and observers would tell people of their Ruidoso experience.

"It is the ripple effect," said Corff. "If you tell one person, it will effect 10 others."

Ski Apache Resort ski patrollers add

Fred Pavlovic and Charles Scott, director and assistant director of the Ski Patrol at Ski Apache, aren't just sitting back waiting for snow—they're doing something about it.

Pavlovic and Scott, besides getting the first aid room and emergency equipment all set for opening day on November 28, are also working with snowmaking crews at night. Pavlovic said everyone on the mountain pitches in during snowmaking operations—all their jobs depend on snow.

The two took time out last week to talk about the Ski Patrol.

"We provide care for customers," said Pavlovic who directs 17 professional ski patrollers and 60 volunteers from the National Ski Patrollers. All patrollers are advanced first aid qualified, trained in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and are proficient in pulling the sleds used to transport sick or injured skiers.

"Most members of the Ski Patrol are emergency medical technicians (EMTs)," said Pavlovic, a four-year Ski Patrol member, who is beginning his second year as assistant director.

Pavlovic spends his summers with the U.S. Forest Service. Scott, who works on the mountain year-round, is also beginning his fourth year as a patroller.

"We're up here before anybody else," said Pavlovic. He said that all lifts are skied each day by members of the patrol before the area opens to the public.

When Pavlovic reports that all is in order, then the mountain manager gives the word to begin daily operations.

Throughout the day, Pavlovic said, the Ski Patrol skis the mountain, with at least one patroller assigned to the lower mountain, one to the Apache Bowl area and several on the upper mountain. Those on the upper mountain rotation are available to respond to any emergency on the lower slopes.

At least 10 professional members of the Ski Patrol, each one with a two-way radio, are "constantly skiing the area to see if anybody needs help," said Pavlovic. That number is increased by 10-15 on weekends and holidays when volunteers from the National Ski Patrol are added to the staff, he added.

As patrollers ski, they are on the lookout for skiers in trouble. They advise people of the safety code and warn reckless skiers, said Pavlovic, who added that they also give skiing tips and advice on how to have a fun and safe day on the mountain.

"We see a little bit of everything," said Pavlovic, who said no two days are the same. One recurring problem is altitude sickness, he said.

Treatment for those with altitude sickness includes a few minutes of oxygen, a snack and hot chocolate.

an extra measure of safety to the sport

"Usually within half an hour the 'patient' is out on the slopes having a great time," said Pavlovic.

Anyone who is injured or becomes ill on the slopes is pulled into the first aid area on one of the patrol's 25 sleds. After passing a skiing test, patrollers receive specialized training on techniques for skiing while pulling a sled, said Pavlovic.

At the end of the day, the patrol does a "sweep" of the mountain, and instructs any skiers still on the slopes to head back into the lodge. Pavlovic said the patrollers ski down the slopes, pausing about every 50 yards and then calling out, to be sure nobody is ever left on the mountain.

When all patrol members report back into the office and the "sweepsheet" is completed, then Pavlovic notifies the mountain manager that the mountain is clear.

Pavlovic said he has meetings every two weeks in which patrollers discuss incidents, problems and events that have occurred. He said the ski school also helps the patrol by offering ski clinics throughout the season.

"The ski school has really been good to us," said Pavlovic.

Ski Apache, in cooperation with Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital (RHVH), has added an emergency clinic on the mountain this year.

"We're the first ski area in New Mexico to have this," said Pavlovic. He said the emergency clinic will include emergency room doctors, nurses and X-ray technicians as well as X-ray equipment.

EMTs will still be providing the kind of emergency care they have in the past, said Pavlovic, but skiers will now have a choice of care.

Pavlovic, who sees skiers at their best and their worst, stresses the importance of taking ski lessons to get the maximum enjoyment from the sport—and if help is needed, call on the Ski Patrol.

That's what they're here for, said Pavlovic.

Skiers' code includes courtesy, respect for others

Skiing safely and courteously are responsibilities of all skiers. The exhilarating sport of skiing is made far more enjoyable if all skiers respect a few simple rules, and in turn benefit from others respecting the rules, too.

Ski areas like Ski Apache Resort, nestled amid vast stretches of uninhabited forest areas, keep one rule very seriously. Skiing in bounds is vital to skiers' safety. At an area like Ski Apache, skiing out-of-bounds risks not only a good chance of getting lost, but a life-endangering situation if a skier becomes injured in a backwoods area.

The simplest way to avoid such trouble—SKI IN BOUNDS.

SKI IN CONTROL is another responsibility shared by all skiers. Not only do out-of-control skiers endanger themselves, but they jeopardize others' safety as well. Being in control means being able to stop at any given time, says Ski Apache Resort manager Roy Parker.

A good way to keep under control is to keep your speed down and to ski on trails at your ability level. This is especially important early in the season, when skiers' abilities don't always match the accomplishments possible at the end of the previous season. It takes a little while to get back in shape after a long summer—take your time.

A handy list of other points of ski etiquette are contained in the centerfold section of this ski tabloid (page 16-17) with the map of Ski Apache.

Among those points of etiquette are:
—When skiing downhill or overtaking another skier, you must avoid the skier below you.

—You must not stop where you obstruct a trail or are not visible from above.

—When entering a hill or starting downhill, yield to other skiers.

—All skiers shall wear retention straps or other devices to help prevent runaway skis.

—Keep off closed trails and posted areas and observe all signs.

Another good idea is to warn other skiers, when overtaking them on narrow trails, by calling "On your left" or "On your right." It prepares them for your approach and helps avoid collisions.

Probably the single best thing to remember while skiing, to have a safe and enjoyable day on the slopes, is to use common sense. A little common sense and respect for the responsibilities all skiers share goes a long way to making the sport of skiing the best it can be.

Ski Cloudcroft is Friendly and uncrowded are the two words Tom Dorgan uses to describe Ski Cloudcroft.

"Lift lines were about 10 minutes long on the busiest day last season," said Dorgan with a smile. "It's just a lot less crowded than some of the bigger areas," he added.

The Wisconsin native and his wife, Jenny, are beginning their third season as owners and operators of the area—the southernmost ski operation in New Mexico.

Over the past two years, Dorgan said, major changes have been made at Ski Cloudcroft. A chair lift, improved trails and increased vertical rise are major enhancements.

The upgrading has been so intense that the conditions of two years ago no longer exist, noted Dorgan, as he pointed out four different trails that begin at the upper terminal of the chairlift.

The wide variety of terrain on the mountain at Ski Cloudcroft offers skiers many choices among the 26 trails, said Dorgan—35 percent of the trails are beginner, 45 percent intermediate and the other 20 percent advanced.

Besides plenty of gentle slopes, the mountain offers several very steep advanced runs, said Dorgan, pointing out an advanced trail beginning at the top of the mountain with such a steep slope that the bottom is hidden from view.

Ski Cloudcroft is located at 9,600 feet, and averages over 10 feet of natural snow each season, but with or without that natural snow, the area provides good ski conditions with plenty of man-made snow, said Dorgan.

Snowmaking began in mid-November with Ski Cloudcroft's sophisticated equipment. Dorgan said he has eight snowmaking machines, including a snow tower. Since the man-made snow is somewhat denser and heavier than natural snow, it lasts longer, explained Dorgan.

Members of the National Ski Patrol, all trained in advanced first aid techniques and cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR), patrol Ski Cloudcroft and provide emergency aid to skiers.

Dorgan said the area's ski school employs 24 instructors, and offers group, private and semi-private lessons. A tot ski school package is offered for four to seven year olds.

Weekdays at Ski Cloudcroft are filled with school groups from Cloudcroft and Tularosa. Students may pay one price for equipment rental, lessons and lifts on designated days.

The equipment rental shop at Ski Cloudcroft is stocked with 600 pairs of skis—400 of those are brand-new, said Dorgan.

The area also has a clothing and supplies store and a snack bar which serves "basic ski area food." Besides hamburgers and hot dogs, that basic fare includes green chili stew and homemade burritos.

Special events planned for Ski Cloudcroft this season include Dr. Pepper Fun Series racing on January 18 and February 22. The ski area will also be the site for Southern New Mexico's Special Olympics for the second year.

Dorgan is working with the El Paso Jaycees on plans for a Muscular Dystrophy Ski-a-thon in February.

A big promoter of the sport of skiing, Dorgan said he and his family ski almost every weekend after January 15. The Dorgan's 10-year-old daughter, Annie, skis with the Sierra Blanca Ski Team.

Another daughter, Kelli, just 18 months old, will ski for the first time this season.

"I'm making her some boots," said Dorgan.

The Dorgans, who also own The Incredible on Highway 37, were in the ski business in Wisconsin before moving to New Mexico. Since he is enthusiastic about both the restaurant business and skiing, Dorgan said he jumped at the chance to operate the Cloudcroft ski area.

He's proud of the improvements he's made so far, but has plans for many more, including another chairlift to serve the east side of the mountain—maybe next year.

Dorgan invites all skiers, novice to expert, to try the friendly slopes at Ski Cloudcroft this season.

Junior skiers ready to race

The Ruidoso-Sierra Blanca Ski Team always has a number of outstanding athletes and this season should be no exception.

Head coach Schar Ward and assistant coach Lisa Maue have about 20 skiers out for practice this fall.

Some of the top returnees from last season include Vince Tognaci, Jesse Foster, Anne Dorgan, Hillary Heid and Neely Schwab.

They were among New Mexico's top age-group ski racers last season and should be even better this season.

"We also have some new girls who look pretty good," Ward said.

The team is currently undergoing dryland training at White Mountain School Tuesdays and Thursdays. The skiers play soccer and exercise.

The team is divided into five groups: J-5, nine years old and younger; J-4, 10-11 years old; J-3, 12-13 years old; J-2, 14-15 years old; and J-1, 16 years old and up.

However, once a skier reaches the J-2 level, he or she may compete on the J-1 level if they are good enough.

The ski racing season will go from late this year through early spring. The first scheduled home meet will be Saturday, January 11, at Ski Apache Resort.

The competition will be a slalom and it will be open to the general public.

"There's a chance we may go to some races in December," Ward said. "But I don't know for sure. I haven't got our complete schedule yet."

There also will be a pancake supper fund-raiser for the team Tuesday December 10, at Kelley's.

The team will compete in races all over the Rocky Mountain area, particularly in Colorado.

Races are set at Ski Apache

Ski Apache Resort will have a full racing program this winter season.

NASTAR races will be run every Wednesday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The program will begin Wednesday, December 4, depending on snow conditions.

The first of the Dr. Pepper Fun Series races will be January 4. There will be five races of this type conducted in New Mexico.

The Yoplait Fun Race will be January 25, at Ski Apache. Yoplait will sponsor the race with Yoplait Fun Day T-shirts, free Yoplait samples and Olympic-style gold, silver and bronze medals with ribbons for the top finishers.

The celebrated Texas Cup will be Washington's Birthday weekend, February 15-17. This race will bring the fastest Texas skiers to Ski Apache to compete for the honor of the fastest skiers in that state.

The Lubbock Cup will be March 1. Different teams and individuals will compete for the title of fastest skiers in that Texas city.

The Media Race will be March 8. Different radio and television stations will compete for top honors among team and individual members.

A Celebrity Challenge race involving Dallas Cowboy and Houston Oiler National Football League players will be conducted March 11-16.

Both teams are popular with local residents and tourists.

A Local Merchant's Race Series and the El Paso Cup also probably will be run during the ski season.

There will not be any professional racing at Ski Apache Resort this season.

Winter driving requires caution

Winter driving in Ruidoso enables drivers to enjoy some beautiful scenery. But to enjoy that beautiful scenery, drivers must take precautions and drive carefully.

Ruidoso police recommend that drivers reduce their speed during snowy or icy times.

Ruidoso Police Deputy Chief James Alston said the first thing drivers should do is be familiar with their vehicles. He said the second thing to be sure of is to slow down and not immediately slam on the brakes when you get in winter driving conditions.

Icy periods, in particular, can cause problems.

Drivers MUST drive with clear views through their windows. It is against the law to drive with your view obstructed. A scraper is recommended for taking ice off the windows.

It also is advisable to warm your car up for several minutes in the morning. This will help prevent stalling in cold weather.

Besides scrapers, it also is helpful to carry tire chains, flashers, jumper cables and brushes in your car.

All parts of the car should be working properly. A car checkup before the beginning of winter is advisable.

Winter drivers should carry chains and have studded or regular snow tires.

Chains provide the best traction in poor conditions, followed by studded snow tires and regular snow tires.

Chains and snow tires can be bought at almost any automotive store in the area.

One of the biggest fears of winter drivers is going into a skid on an icy road.

If that happens, drivers with front-wheel-drive vehicles should steer away from the skid and apply a little pressure on the gas pedal.

Drivers with rear-wheel-drive vehicles should steer into the skid, release their gas pedal and not slam on the brakes.

Of course, drivers should have their seat belts on at all times, especially in bad weather.

Police also recommend that drivers avoid bad roads or bad streets in Ruidoso during bad weather.

Try to stay on the main streets (like Sudderth Drive) as much as possible.

People should drive defensively in bad weather. Leave more than adequate space between your car and other vehicles.

Also be especially cautious after a bad storm. After the snow is scraped or melted, "black ice" can form which looks like the pavement. It makes driving difficult.

And above all, DO NOT DRINK.

If drivers follow the above steps, they should be able to handle winter driving—and enjoy some beautiful scenery.

Don't let this happen to you. These cars ran off the road during a hard snowstorm. During wintertime, people driving in the Ruidoso area should taken plenty of precautions and drive carefully.
