Council bans smoking in meetings

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Village Council took steps Tuesday to clear the air in council chambers of Village Hall.

During the regular council meeting Councillor William A. "Dub" Holt proposed that the public meeting room be declared a "no smoking" area when the New Mexico Clean Air Act becomes law on January 1, 1986. The motion, which passed unanimously, also calls for hourly five-minute breaks during council meetings.

Village manager Jim Hine reported that the Clean Air Act will be enforced throughout all village buildings, with "smoking" and "no smoking" areas being selected and designated in cooperation with appropriate department heads and workers.

Also during the meeting, Councillor Bill Karn proposed that the council design a "green-space" zoning designation to be used for the municipal airport land and for parks in the village.

Shaw asked Karn if his proposal called for setting aside the entire airport tract as "green space," and Karn reminded councillors of their decision in a recent special meeting to try to keep the airport land for municipal use.

He said creating a zoning classification just for the airport "might look a little strange" so he suggested including parks and other municipal lands.

He recommended that the governing body "zone that land out there and cover the value of that land," alluding to possible differences of opinion on the value with "a certain governmental agency."

Councillor Ray Dean Carpenter, naming the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) as the agency, said that the FAA will contract for their own appraisal if the village's appraisal is lower than expected.

Councillor Victor Alonso reminded the group that the motion calling for an appraisal on the airport land specified that the appraiser would evaluate the airport land as "municipal use."

"The FAA's not going to buy that, gentlemen," said Evans. "They're not going to care if we put a hog farm out there," he added. Evans said the appraiser will evaluate the land according to the "highest and best use."

Village attorney John Underwood said the term "green-space" could be a misnomer, and suggested considering a "municipal use" classification with a sub-zoning for parks.

"It's an interesting concept," remarked Underwood.

Mayor George White suggested that councillors think about the proposal and discuss it further at a later meeting.

Karn also told the council that representatives of Lorimar Productions, both the motion picture and television divisions, will visit the village next February. He said he's "trying to get Ruidoso the same kind of name mention as Aspen and Vail."

While the Lorimar group is in the area, Karn said he hopes to offer them an aerial tour to see the scenery around Ruidoso. He said some financial aid may be offered by the New Mexico Film Commission, and added that the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce may entertain the visitors with a reception.

In other business Tuesday, the council:

Heard Ruidoso Mountain Tops coach Robyn Johnson introduce members of the competition gymnastics team Tara Candelaria, Tricia Evans, Kristin Leslie, Terri Kennedy, Rachel Garrett and manager Bethany Jarrell. Johnson told the council that the entire team qualified for the state gymnastics meet, and enumerated the many awards the gymnasts won during the current season.

Reviewed blueprints of the Humane Society of Lincoln County's building. Cyndy Livingston, Humane Society president, diverted in a letter to the council, that dirt work is under way and a building permit application has been filed.

Took under consideration a proposal from the Utility Council to require excavators to mark proposed excavation sites before calling the council's one-call number. Paul Crown, Utility Council chairman, said various utility companies waste valuable hours locating underground cables when an exact spot for a dig is not identified.

Approved a rezoning in the Camelot area. Paul Davis, village enforcement officer, revealed that the rezoning was approved by the Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) on July 2, 1980, after the required public hearings were conducted and the rezoning fee was paid. Council action was required to complete the administrative process.

Heard Davis report that P&Z is working on some recommendations for changes in the village sign ordinance, specifically to amend the section dealing with off-premise signs. Davis said he'll bring the commission's recommendations to the next regular council meeting.

Was reminded by Mayor White of a special meeting at 11 a.m. Friday, December 13, in council chambers of Village Hall, and that the regular meeting scheduled for December 31 has been cancelled.

Approved Resolution 85-25, allowing the village to borrow $389,389 from the Water Department to be used in an escrow fund required for the previously approved refinancing of general obligation bonds. The money is to be paid back by March 20, 1986. Hine revealed that the village receives city property taxes remitted through the county tax assessor the month after they are paid. Since taxes are due by the end of December, Hine said tax revenues will be available in January and February to repay the water fund.

Received a report from Hine that the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation approved a grant of $15,000 for the village Parks and Recreation Department.

Heard from Hine that First Baptist Church has donated to the village the old school bell that used to "sit on the old Village Hall." Hine said the bell will be cleaned up and displayed in the Village Hall foyer.

Authorized the Environmental Improvement Division to drill test wells on village property to gain hydrological data on gasoline contamination.

Heard Holt suggest a proclamation honoring the Ruidoso High School Warriors, 3-AAA State Champion football team. White said he had already sent a letter of commendation to the Warriors.

Received copies from Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor of a security alarm ordinance that will be proposed next month.

Were questioned by audience-member Al Junge on requirements for removing a grave from the cemetery. Junge reported that he saw a piece of heavy equipment digging up a grave in Forest Lawn Cemetery, and learned that the remains from a grave were being moved to El Paso, Texas. Councillor Carpenter said the state Health Department issues the only required permit to disinter remains from a grave.

"If I hadn't gone up there I don't think we'd have known about it," remarked Junge.

Downs Mayor Day says trustee is 'on his case'

by SHARON MAKOKIAN
News Staff Writer

This man has been on my case, here, pretty near regularly, and I don't intend to take it anymore," said Ruidoso Downs Mayor J.C. Day about Downs Village Trustee Jake Harris.

The mayor stated his feelings at Monday's meeting of the village board of trustees. Day's statements came from a discussion of village needs and the possibility of presenting a "Christmas bill" to the state legislature to request appropriation of funds. Day said he had not yet written the bill proposal because he had been distracted by Harris.

"He's got my Scotch-Irish background stirred up," said Day. "I made a mistake I let him frustrate me and discourage me," he added.

"He was trying to agitate me into resigning," said Day. "It took me a long time to figure it out."

The mayor said he is afraid to make an out-of-town trip, leaving Harris as the mayor pro-tem.

"This man has four people (village employees) he wants to fire. He's waiting for me to leave town," said Day.

Day said he felt the village of Ruidoso Downs is 20 years behind the times because "people would rather fight than switch."

In reply to Day's accusations, Harris reminded the council and audience that he had been a charter member of the volunteer fire department, a trustee for three terms and mayor for one. Harris said he helped incorporate the village, lobbied for the water and sewer systems and did the legwork to incorporate the Ruidoso Downs Race Track into the village.

"I've never done anything but work for Ruidoso Downs," said Harris. "I'm still working for Ruidoso Downs and will until the day I die," he added.

Harris said that Day had not served the village until he became mayor.

After the exchange of opinions, Day said that he acted childishly in discussing his feelings at the meeting.

Harris later said that he felt Day hurt himself more than anyone else by making his public statements. Harris would not discuss the specifics of the statements.

Tuesday, Day said he felt that village residents should attend council meetings to obtain first-hand information.

"As I see it, the biggest mistake I see the voters in Ruidoso Downs making is not attending the council meetings, getting second-hand information," said the mayor.

Village pushes to boost water judgment

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Although the Ruidoso Village Council neither accepted nor rejected an offer of judgment on Eagle Creek wells dated November 25, members and water advisors were not too surprised about the terms.

The offer was announced in a letter from Ann Finley Wright, special assistant to the Attorney General. Besides offering the village 60 percent (5,648 acre-feet per annum) of the water rights requested, the offer also established priority dates of September, October and November, 1984. The offer didn't address any effluent credit.

"They (state water engineers) have a rule that they have applied in many instances," said Neil Stillinger, water rights attorney for the village. Stillinger in a recent telephone interview said the offer, which was for 60 percent of the proclaimed water fund, was in keeping with that rule.

Village councillors, contacted after they voted not to accept the offer, were optimistic that Jack Atkins of Atkins-Landfair in Roswell will be successful in obtaining an amended offer from the state.

"That's pretty much what we expected to get... we expected the State Engineer to be conservative," said Village Councillor Rick Evans, stressing that though the offer was not accepted, it was not rejected either.

"We overcame the first hurdle and got an offer of judgment," commented Village Councillor Victor Alonso. Alonso said the council was still hoping to get rights to 100 percent of the huge water fund.

"Roswell went to court and got 100 percent," noted Village Councillor Ray Dean Carpenter.

Village Councillor Jerry Shaw said engineers had warned the council that the first offer might be a minimum.

"Everything in this water thing has pretty well gone just like those engineers (Atkins-Landfair) have said," added Shaw.

"It's our intention to defend our water rights," said Evans emphatically.

That defense began Monday, December 9, with a meeting in Santa Fe. Jack Atkins of Atkins-Landfair in Roswell met with representatives of the state engineering staff and went over the entire Eagle Creek well project.

"They were very receptive," said Atkins in a telephone interview Wednesday.

Besides asking for more than a 60 percent allotment from the wells, he said he stressed the village's intent to supplement the old Eagle Creek water rights.

Atkins explained that the village has Eagle Creek water rights for 4,300 acre-feet with a priority date of 1913. If the intent to supplement those rights can be shown, then a 1913 priority date might be applied to the new Eagle Creek wells, he said.

Since, historically, only 1,600 acre-feet can be diverted from the old Eagle Creek wells, Stillinger said recently that the village can justify its intent to fill out those 1913 priority rights with water from the new wellfield.

Besides trying to substantiate the 1913 priority date and asking for more water rights, Atkins planned to petition state engineers for 50 percent effluent credit on the rights.

Atkins said last week that gaining the effluent credit allowance is very important.

Please see Village, page 2A

"Ruidoso's intention would be to discharge our excess water into the Rio Ruidoso thereby increasing the flow of the river," said Atkins. Since effluent credit is earned by doing just that, Atkins may be able to justify the village's request.

"It was a good meeting," said Atkins, who said state engineering representatives agreed to consider his presentation and notify him as to whether or not the offer will be amended. "It's just a matter of settling what we think is equitable to both the state and the village," remarked Atkins.

Meanwhile, water engineers are working on plans to equip the Eagle Creek wells. Mayor George White instructed engineers during a special council meeting to proceed with the well design, and council members confirmed that the project is under way.

It was learned during that meeting that U.S. Forest Service District Ranger Steve Sams will have to review the plans and obtain authorization through the Forest Service before construction begins.

"As soon as we get those pipelines on line, we're going to start pumping water," said Carpenter, who explained that the village may operate those wells before water rights are finalized. He said the council expects a report from Atkins on the offer of judgment within 30 days.

Downs still battles over permit dispute

by SHARON MAKOKIAN
News Staff Writer

The unsettled question of whether Ruidoso Downs Village Trustee Jake Harris has illegal sewer taps arose again at Monday's trustees meeting.

Harris told the board that he recently tried to buy more sewer permits, but a Downs office clerk refused him and said that code enforcement officer Mark Milford told her not to sell any more permits to Harris.

Village attorney Don Dutton said that Milford spoke with him about the permits. Dutton and Milford said an attorney for the New Mexico Municipal League advised them not to issue any additional permits until the matter is settled in court.

After hearing the reading of a letter from the state Construction Industries Division at its last meeting, the board of trustees decided to recommend that the charges against Harris be dropped. The letter stated that Harris is not in violation of the state plumbing code.

However, the board does not have the authorization to clear Harris, it was learned. According to Dutton, Harris must be heard through the judicial branch of government. The only people who can drop the charges are the citing officer, the judge or the prosecuting attorney (in this case, the village attorney).

Downs Municipal Judge Martin

Valenzuela removed himself from the case last month. Dutton said that District Judge Richard Parsons will choose another Downs resident to hear the case.

Trustee Conrad Buchanan reminded the council of their recommendation at the last meeting.

"Let it be known that we, as a council, wanted to drop it," he said. As the water and sewer commissioner, Harris presented a petition about water and sanitation rates which he said contained more than 100 signatures. The petition questioned the uniformity of charges. Harris said he felt the board should address this problem.

Dutton recommended that the board appoint a commission to look into this issue. He suggested that some of the people present who had signed the petition, such as Opal Armstrong and Alice Allison, serve on the committee. Village clerk Wilma Webb reminded everyone that they may make appointments to discuss their bills with her at village hall.

The board approved a request by the police department to add another officer to the force. Police dispatcher Joanne Jenkins said that crime is up by 22 percent in the village. The trustees also authorized the purchase of three hand-held radios for the police department.

The board briefly discussed the audit report for the 1984-85 fiscal year, which had been prepared by an independent auditor. Day said he felt the village is in "good shape" financially.

Day said that the Water Department showed a profit, the Sanitation Department broke even and the Sewer Department lost money. Day said the latter would have to generate an additional $18,000 annually to cover repair and depreciation costs. The audit report will be sent to state officials for approval and discussed at future board meetings.

In other business, the board: —Approved a request for the animal control officer to take the village vehicle home for nighttime calls.

—Discussed the remodeling of the village shop, necessary to bring it up to insurance codes.

—Approved Ordinance 85-3, amending the Uniform Traffic Ordinance.

—Tabled action on purchasing the Geaslin property.

—Kept the next meeting date as scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday, December 23.

Day later told The News that village employees had chipped in their own money to purchase gifts for residents at the Care Center. They will deliver the presents before Christmas.

"I think it's an extremely nice gesture," said the mayor.

The village Christmas party for Downs' employees and their families will be at 1 p.m. Monday, December 23, at the council room at village hall.

Ministers plan to meet, share ideas

Baptists, Episcopalians, Roman Catholics, Methodists, Presbyterians and members of the Assembly of God will gather Saturday in an Ecumenical, Interdenominational Faith and Order Conference, according to the Reverend Burdette Stampley of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Mount.

The conference, sponsored by the Ruidoso Ministerial Alliance, will begin at 8:30 a.m. and continue until 2:30 p.m. Saturday, December 14, at St. Eleanor's Catholic Church. It is open to the public, and planners encourage all area residents to attend.

The Reverend Nancy Bowen of the Capitan and Carrizozo Methodist Churches will open the meeting with a "shared worship service."

Dr. Wallace Ford, executive director of the New Mexico Council of Churches will speak on the history of the faith and order movement, and participants will see a video-tape presentation by Dr. William Lazarus.

Conferees will be divided into three groups and move through three different discussion workshops.

The Reverend Ken Cole of First Christian Church will lead a discussion on baptism, Father David Bergs of St. Eleanor's Catholic Church will lead a discussion on the eucharist (communion) and Stampley, along with Ann Gaddy, will lead a discussion on ministry. "These are areas in which we have differences with each other in meaning and practices," said Stampley, who added that "common roots" will be identified.

"We'll simply try to learn and grow and come to a greater understanding with one another," said Stampley.

Cost of the conference is $4, and lunch will be served by members of St. Eleanor's Guild for $3 each.

Group studies Ruidoso's first 100 years

by SHARON MAKOKIAN
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce's committee for the identification and development of historical sites had its initial meeting at the chamber Tuesday under the direction of chairman Frank Potter.

Potter, assistant village manager, is a history buff who has studied the Southwest. Other members of the committee include chamber executive director John Jeffers, village councillor Jerry Shaw, Joe Corff, C.C. Griffin, Mildred Crocker, Barbara Downs, Coni Foster and Lloyd Davis.

The purpose of the committee is to identify, catalog and promote historic sites in and around Ruidoso. Since 1986 will mark Ruidoso's centennial year, the group also will serve as the centennial committee.

"Anything we do in 1986 can be tied in to the centennial," said Potter.

The group discussed historic sights and ways of compiling them. Jeffers suggested the formation of a pamphlet describing the locations and mapping them on a walking-tour route.

"There's nothing for tourists to do. If you don't ski or race or like to catch six-inch fish, there's not much to do," said Jeffers, of the need for a historical tour to be made available to tourists. "We need entertainment in this town," he added.

Corff suggested bringing in students from New Mexico State University (NMSU) to do an archaeological study. Corff said he spoke to NMSU officials, who would supply the students if Ruidoso would provide room and board for the students. Corff will lead the subcommittee to investigate this possibility.

The committee will meet next month to further plans and form more subcommittees. Meanwhile, members ask that anyone having knowledge of historical stories, names, places, events—anything having to do with Ruidoso—contact the chamber, as they begin to compile the information.

Getting ready

Members of the Ruidoso High School choir practice Wednesday in preparation for next Monday's Christmas Concert. The concert will start at 6 p.m. The program is one of the highlights of the season.

Ruidoso Village Councillor Jerry Shaw (fourth from right) points to the founding year 1886 on the Ruidoso historic marker as members of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce's committee to identify and promote historic locations and the centennial

Lincoln County Homebuilders Association (LCHA) installed 1986 officers and presented special awards during a recent meeting. Dennis Fisher (left) is the organization's new president and Slick Graham (center) is secretary-treasurer for the New Mexico Homebuilders Association. George Perry (right) was named Builder of the Year by the local club. Ross Fowler (not pictured) was named Associate of the Year. Other local officers include Bill Blaney, vice-president, and Jack Reed, secretary-treasurer.

Group will oversee offenders' community service

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Municipal Judge John Cupp has recruited a committee of citizens to work with him on a project he recently described to the Ruidoso Village Council.

Cupp explained during a council meeting on November 12 that he utilizes community service in lieu of jail time as often as he can, and asked for community support.

He said the project benefits both the community and the offender, and explained that the village saves money by keeping people out of jail. Another benefit Cupp mentioned was in getting jobs done either for the village or for individuals.

The welfare of those convicted of misdemeanor crimes can often be best served by staying out of jail. Community service also can be performed if the convicted person is unable to pay a fine, said Cupp.

Laura Ashley, a concerned citizen who has volunteered to coordinate the community service project, said she and other committee members met Monday to make plans and form policies. As coordinator, Ashley explained that she'll receive a list of work to be done from members of the Community Service Committee.

She said she'll match up that list with available workers, whose names and hours of work will be provided by Judge Cupp and by Magistrate Judge J.R. "Jim" Wheeler. Scott Reidel, a local attorney, will assist Ashley.

Ashley said Wheeler and Cupp already have a backlog of hours to be worked against sentences and fines they have imposed, and are "ready to go" with the expanded program.

Paul Vordermann has volunteered the use of his computer equipment so that lists of hours for workers and jobs to be performed can be maintained and kept up to date.

Community service already is being assigned, mainly through the Village Parks and Recreation Department, but the new committee plans to provide the judges with a continuing list of work projects.

Ashley said projects will be assigned to workers on a priority basis, and added that the committee will follow up on assignments to see that the work was completed as agreed.

Besides assigning workers within the village, Ashley said she'll be making assignments throughout the county. She said the ones contracting for work to be completed will also act as supervisors for the worker assigned to their jobs.

"These are all misdemeanor offenders," she stressed, noting that felony offenders are not processed through the Municipal and Magistrate Courts.

Several members of the committee have volunteered to prepare a list of proposed work projects. To propose a project, or arrange to have work done, contact David Morin, Cal Cowden, Father David Bergs, Ken Buckley or William A. "Dub" Holt.

Mescalero boy is killed

A 12-year-old Mescalero boy, Jason Troy Sam, died Wednesday, December 11, after a shooting incident at the Daniel Espinosa residence in Mescalero, according to Richard LaFountain, agency special officer.

Mescalero police received a call at 11:49 a.m. Wednesday, and found that a 10-year-old boy had "apparently shot" his brother, Sam, with a gun belonging to their stepfather, Daniel Espinosa, according to LaFountain.

Police declined to release the 10-year-old's name, however Etta Espinosa is the mother of both boys, police said.

"At this time it appears to be accidental," said LaFountain, who added that his office, the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) are still investigating the occurrence.

The victim's body has been sent to Albuquerque for an autopsy, according to police reports.

Shooting suspect is released

Riley Sloan, 44, of Ruidoso arrested Monday, December 9, after a shooting incident at his 102 Cedar Place home, appeared before Magistrate Judge J.R. "Jim" Wheeler on Monday and was released on his own recognizance.

Sloan was charged with aggravated battery after the occurrence in which two men were injured, according to Ruidoso Police reports. Wheeler scheduled Sloan for a preliminary hearing on January 14, 1986.

Police said the shooting apparently began as a family fight.

Jerry Dwight Blaney, 22, Sloan's son-in-law, was treated and released at Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital (RHVH) after the shooting, said police. He remains in jail after being charged with violating the conditions of his probation, according to Wheeler.

J.C. Day Jr., the other shooting victim, remains in RHVH in "very stable" condition, according to a hospital spokesman.

A chance for a go-cart

Ruidoso Sertoma Club president Lanny Maddox displays a Dr. Pepper Special go-cart which will be given away December 24 for Christmas. Tickets for the car are $1 each, and can be had by calling Maddox at the Ruidoso Police Department or any other Sertoman. Half of the proceeds from the sale of tickets will go toward helping defray the medical costs of young Michael Malls, who suffers from a liver disorder.

Ruidoso's Mike Valenzuela is about to pin his opponent in 112-pound competition of the Warriors' wrestling match with visiting Roswell Wednesday night. The Warriors pinned eight Roswell athletes to win the match, 48-24.

Warrior matmen 'pin' visiting Roswell

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School's wrestling team took eight victories, all by pins, to defeat visiting Roswell, 48-24, in the Warriors' home opener Wednesday night.

What made the victory all the more impressive was the fact that four of the pin wins were by athletes who had just finished competing for the Warrior state championship football team and had just two days of practice at the most.

"I was very satisfied with the team's performance," said Warrior head coach Gerald Ames. "The football kids came out, gutted it out and did the job."

Warrior athletes who picked up pin wins were Jeff Schmidt, 105 pounds; Mike Valenzuela, 112 pounds; Scott Yeatman, 119 pounds; Cory Garner, 126 pounds; Kerry Jameson, 157 pounds; Kyle Jameson, 167 pounds; James Herrera, 185 pounds; and Phillip Herrera, heavyweight.

Schmidt, Valenzuela, Kyle Jameson and James Herrera all picked up first-period pins. Phillip Herrera, Kerry Jameson and Yeatman got second-period pins, while Garner gained a third-period victory.

Ruidoso wrestlers who lost included Brian Harris at 132 pounds, Bubba Lane at 138 pounds and Jeff Harvey at 145 pounds. Ruidoso also had to forfeit the 98-pound division.

The Warrior junior varsity won four of six non-weight class matches. There was no official scoring in the junior varsity competition.

Ruben Herrera, Jason Hill, Dustin Volquardsen and Mark Reynolds all took pins for the junior varsity.

"This ever had," Ames said. "We've got kids with two to seven years' wrestling experience out there."

The Warriors will be even stronger when Zach Swalander returns to the lineup at 138 pounds. Swalander is currently out of action with a broken arm.

Ruidoso will compete in the Las Cruces Tournament Friday and Saturday, December 13-14. The Warriors will host Goddard Tuesday, December 17, in the final home dual match of the season.

Depth-thin Ruidoso beaten by Goddard

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Depth-thin Ruidoso High School boys varsity basketball team dropped a 61-44 decision to visiting Goddard in the Warriors' home opener Tuesday night.

Ruidoso only used six players as the Warriors' record dropped to 1-2. The Warriors were without the services of 6-4 senior Trent Tolbert and some players who had just come out from football. Tolbert was not available because of a death in his family.

"I'm proud of the kids' efforts," Warrior head coach Gene Segura said after the game. "They never quit."

"Their (Goddard's) game plan was to wear us down and they did that."

Ruidoso jumped off to a 12-6 first-quarter lead, but got in trouble when sophomore guard Kirk Ryan picked up his third foul in the second period and left the game for a while.

Ryan scored nine of his game-high 17 points before getting his third foul.

Goddard then outscored the Warriors, 22-11, in the second quarter to take a 28-23 halftime advantage.

At the start of the third quarter, Warrior guard Mark Arrington hit a jump shot to pull Ruidoso within three points, 28-25.

However, Goddard then outscored the Warriors, 17-8, to take a 45-33 lead at the third-period break.

The Rockets gradually pulled away from Ruidoso in the final quarter as the visitors rotated their lineup extensively.

Arrington scored 10 points as he and Ryan were the only Warriors in double figures.

Carl Lueras added nine points, Chris McAdams scored five and John Walker had three to round out the Warrior scoring.

Joe Delamater scored nine points to lead a well-balanced Rocket attack. A total of 10 players made the scoring column for the winners.

Ruidoso's junior varsity saw its record drop to 0-3 with a 94-41 loss to Goddard.

Ruidoso's Mark Arrington (11) puts up a shot during Tuesday night's varsity basketball game with visiting Roswell. Arrington scored 10 points as the Warriors fell to Roswell by a 61-44 score.

Jeremy Lane led the Warriors with 11 points. Sigurd Schmitz added eight. Wade Scott led Goddard with 15 points.

Now the Warriors will host New Mexico Military Institute Saturday, December 14, in varsity and junior varsity action.

NMMI is 2-1 on the season, having defeated Tularosa, 60-55, Tuesday night.

Segura is hopeful Tolbert will be back for the NMMI game. Most of the football players also should see action against the Colts.

Brave cagers defeat Capitan

Ruidoso Middle School's boys A basketball team made 27 of 42 free throws in taking a 60-47 win over the host Capitan freshmen Tuesday.

Ruidoso is now 7-0 on the season. "The kids played a great game," said Brave head coach Dean Hood.

Ira Sago led the Braves with 19 points. Alfred Rue added 16 points, including 10 straight free throws.

Abraham Chee scored 10 points.

The boys B team fell to Capitan Junior High School by a 25-18 score. Carlos Gandarilla led the Braves with seven points.

Today (Thursday), December 12, the Brave boys and girls B teams will host Carrizozo. The first game will start at 4.

Around Sports with Gary Brown

Making predictions on football games is both a challenge and fun to most sports fans.

That's probably one of the reasons why The Ruidoso News' first yearly football contest attracted so much interest from local readers. Many people asked me each week about the picks and who won the contest.

An average of over 50 people participated each week in the contest. Only one person won more than once, so the weekly $25 checks were well spread around.

A lot of people (including some of our staff pickers) said the contest gave them a chance to pick teams they were emotionally tied to.

That's part of the fun of picking teams in a contest. You get a chance to win some money and pick your favorite teams.

As far as our staff picks go, I managed to take first place in the final standings with a 190-83 record.

However, I struggled a bit after a fast start. I took the lead in the second week and gradually built it up over the first half of the season.

But my picks over the last half of the season were not something to be proud of.

Composing manager Gary Scott put on a strong finish to take second with a 179-94 mark.

Reporter Frankie Jarrell was third at 177-96 and editor Darrell Pehr was fourth at 174-99. Business manager Rolland Ramos was fifth at 155-118, but he finished strong after a slow start.

But picking winners of football games is fun, and it also gives our readers a chance to win some money.

Next year's contest should be even better.

Brown's NFL rankings

by GARY BROWN Sports Writer

Miami is 10-4 on the season. 3-New England and the Los Angeles Raiders: Both teams have 10-4 records.

1-Chicago: The Bears are still the top-ranked team despite a close 17-10 victory over Indianapolis Sunday.

Chicago is 13-1 on the season and has a good chance of tying San Francisco's 15-1 regular season record for total wins (set last year). However, the Bears must play against the New York Jets this week on the Jets' field.

2-Miami: The Dolphins are coming on strong now.

Quarterback Dan Marino is throwing the ball almost as well as he did last season and the defense is playing tough in clutch.

The Bears beat the Patriots earlier in the season, but New England has generally won its games in more impressive fashion. Thus, the tie.

5-New York Jets, Dallas Cowboys and Los Angeles Rams: All three teams have been erratic this season, but have been up enough to probably make them factors in the playoffs.

Los Angeles is 10-4 after its stunning come-from-behind win over San Francisco Monday night.

The Jets are 10-4 and the Cowboys are 9-5.

Warriors lead selections on All-District grid team

by GARY BROWN Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School's state championship varsity football team capped off a great 1985 season by having nine players named to the All-District 3-AAA first team recently.

Warrior players on the first-team offense included senior quarterback Russell Easter, senior tailback Michael Williamson, junior split end Brian Davis, senior tackle Phillip Herrera and senior guard James Herrera.

Warriors named on the first-team defense included junior lineman Shayne Fedrick, senior linebacker Jeff Maxwell, senior defensive back Randy Reynolds and junior defensive back Jeff Willingham.

Easter, Williamson and Davis were among the state statistical leaders all season.

Easter scored 16 touchdowns and passed for 17. He was a first-team selection last season.

Williamson gained almost 1,200 yards rushing and scored 15 touchdowns. He was named to the second team last season.

Davis, who should be one of the state's top prospects in any division next year, caught 13 touchdown passes.

Phillip Herrera and James Herrera provided excellent blocking for the Warriors. James Herrera made the second-team offense last season as a center.

Willingham led the Warriors in pass interceptions with 10 and also made the first team last season.

In the state title win over Silver City, the 5-10, 180-pound athlete knocked down a two-point conversion pass which would have tied the game, and blocked an extra point.

Maxwell was tough against both the run and the pass as was Reynolds. Maxwell intercepted two passes in the Tularosa game.

Fedrick, a 205-pounder, effectively clogged up the middle.

Ruidoso had four players named to the second team and five players selected for honorable mention.

Guard Kerry Jameson was named to the second team offense. Kerry's twin brother, Kyle, made the second team defense as did junior linebacker Chuck Daniels.

Junior Garret Henson made the second team as a kicking specialist.

Warriors receiving honorable mention status included senior tight end-linebacker Bobby Dickinson, senior center Mark Flack, senior offensive tackle Jimmy Frost and senior defensive back Mitch Mulligan.

District co-champion and state runner-up Silver City followed the Warriors in first-team selections with five. The Colts also had nine second-team selections.

Deming had four first-team selections and Cobre had two. Last-place Hot Springs had four second-team selections.

MIKE VALENZUELA

Wrestler of the week

Mike Valenzuela is the first Wrestler of the Week as selected by Ruidoso High School school wrestling coach Gerald Ames.

Valenzuela, a senior, placed third in the Los Lunas Tournament 112-pound class last Saturday. He won his first match, 12-4, lost his second, 7-2, won his third match, 7-2, and took his fourth one, 4-1.

Valenzuela should be one of the top matmen for the Warriors this season. A transfer from Capitan, he competed for Deming two years ago and made it to the state semifinals in the 98-pound division.

He probably will compete in both the 112-pound and 105-pound classes this season.

"I think my chances are real good at district," he remarked. "And my chances should be pretty good at state."

"I like the sport in general," Valenzuela said. "It's an individual sport and I like the one-on-one aspect of it."

"All the hard work and effort is worth it when you win."

The Wrestler of the Week will be selected each week by Ames and announced in The Ruidoso News.

A Warrior weekend in Las Cruces

Ruidoso High School's offensive unit begins a play out of its Wing-T formation in the state championship game against Silver City. Quarterback Russell Easter (center) gets set either to pass the ball or hand it off to tailback Michael Williamson (20) at the far right.

An enthusiastic Ruidoso Warrior crowd (right) cheers their team on to a victory and the state AAA-division championship. Senior quarterback Russell Easter (above) cuts around a corner in an attempt to gain yardage against the Silver City Colts. Ruidoso Warrior cheerleaders (above right) kept the crowd lively during the game last weekend. Enthusiasm also was supported by the Ruidoso High School Marching Band.

Lodgers' Tax Committee sees drop in tax collections

by SHARON MAKOKIAN
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso lodgers' tax collections are 23 percent behind last year, reported Lodgers' Tax Committee (LTC) treasurer Don Parsons at LTC's meeting Wednesday. Parsons said this figure does not take into account the one percent increase in the tax that went into effect at the start of this fiscal year. The tax increase should make collections even higher, said Parsons and committee member Phil Hamilton. LTC chairman Budgie Green urged the committee to study the budget carefully before next month's meeting, because cuts may be needed as the fiscal year progresses.

LTC, which is responsible for deciding how the tax money will be spent, approved two motions regarding the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce's advertising committee, which receives a big chunk of tax collections to promote Ruidoso. LTC requested that chamber executive director John Jeffers or advertising committee chairman Bill Hirschfeld attend LTC's monthly meetings and update the committee on village advertising.

LTC also requested that the advertising committee inform them of any new projects before committing money to them. The motion was made after discussion of the RV Jamboree planned by the advertising committee to attract spring tourists.

Hamilton said he was under the impression that the entire $15,000 spring advertising budget would be used for event. He said he was concerned about spending that much on one event, especially one with little planning time.

Jeffers, who was present later in the meeting, said that the committee is not planning to spend $15,000 on the recreational vehicle promotion, which he felt would bring many new tourists into the area. Jeffers invited LTC members to attend advertising committee meetings.

Middle School students plan marine biology trip

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

California or bust! That's what 18 Ruidoso Middle School (RMS) science students are saying, and they're backing that statement with lots of hard work to earn money for the big trip.

Jackie Branum, RMS science teacher, already has an itinerary arranged for a spring study-trip for her marine biology class. The eighth-grade students will be attempting to raise over $300 each.

Branum said this trip will cost much more than last year's science excursion through Texas. Students who participated in that trip were enthusiastic about the tremendous learning opportunities, she said.

Gathering salt water specimens was one opportunity the trip afforded the young marine biology students. Branum said many of the specimens are still living in her classroom aquariums.

Besides gathering specimens along the California coast, this year's students also will visit Seaworld in San Diego, the San Diego Zoo, Marineland, Monterrey Bay Aquarium and the Grand Cooley Dam.

Branum said the group will get much more than a tourist's view of those attractions, though.

"They get to go behind the scenes and see things that no everyone gets to see," she remarked.

At Marineland they will have the chance to swim through the Baja Reef equipped with wetsuits and snorkels. They'll also participate in "Project Discovery," a science program presented by professionals in various marine fields.

Branum, whose class she said is possibly the only junior high level marine biology class in the United States, says the trips really open some new horizons for her students.

"They get a chance to see what the field of marine biology is all about," she said, adding that a broad range of career opportunities are introduced during the tours.

Although the trip isn't until the end of March, the students are already working to earn money. Branum said that anyone having a job suitable for an eighth-grade student to perform may call one of the students listed below or call her at 378-4364 or 257-7324.

CINDY LEIGH DURHAM

Durham, Jones are wed

Cindy Leigh Durham of Ruidoso and Ronnie R. Jones of Mobile, Alabama, were married in a ceremony Saturday, November 30, at First Presbyterian Church.

Reverend Winston Presnell led the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Laurie Durham and Johnny Durham, both of Ruidoso.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jones of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

The bride wore a white matinee length gown featuring a dropped waist, long fitted sleeves and a brush train. It was fashioned with a satin lining and Seville lace. The bodice, sleeves and hemline were trimmed in silk Venice lace. She wore a teardrop hat of Alencon lace and seed pearls highlighted by a face blusher of open weave French veiling to complete the ensemble.

For something old, the bride carried a lace handkerchief that belonged to her great-grandmother, something new was her dress, something borrowed were the pearl earrings and something blue was her garter. She carried a penny in her slipper for good luck.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white rosebuds surrounding white gardenias with lemon leaves and fern as greenery.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Cheryl Durham of Ranchos Palos Verde, California. She wore a mid-length mauve brocade satin dress with a Victorian neckline trimmed in ivory lace. Her bouquet was white rosebuds accented with lemon leaves and white ribbon.

The best man was Ernie Anderson of Mobile. The groom and the best man wore black tuxedos.

Ushers were Ted Durham, brother of the bride, and Ed Blount of Mobile.

The reception was at Cree Meadows Country Club. Becky Durham, sister-in-law of the bride, decorated the reception room with multi-colored anthuriums from Hawaii, miniature white lights and mixed evergreen garlands.

The three-tiered wedding cake featured bells and white doves on the top. The groom's cake was chocolate and also was decorated with white bells.

The bride attended the College of Santa Fe and until the time of her marriage was employed by the Bank of Rio Grande in Las Cruces.

The groom attended Southwestern State in Weatherford, Oklahoma, and now owns and operates Bama Bonding Company in Mobile.

The couple honeymooned in Acapulco and Ixtapa, Mexico, and will reside in Mobile.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

My Story" and "Rock of Ages." Delbert Posey and his wife Judy sang "Pearly White City."

The Reverend Mr. McCleskey in his message of comfort and reassurance quoted from the Revelation of Saint John, "Blessed are they who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

One of my best friends through the years is Roy Stierwalt. He was an especially valuable friend in need, as one of the best car fixers that ever lived. In his garage next to his house there in Ruidoso Downs, he worked on almost every car I ever owned beginning with the little Army Jeep that brother Lynn gave me, and following with a great parade of pick ups and a Corvair station wagon. He also worked on our father's cars and drew great praise from our dad.

Our father was great at making little off-hand remarks that would stay with you forever. He said once that there was nothing ritzy or swanky about Roy's garage, but that Roy himself was one of the best mechanics he had ever seen; that you would be lucky to find a man as dependable in a large and classy place in a great city. I agreed with father right off.

Looking closely at Roy the garage man, you could see beyond the man in his full character. He did not put on much show, or have much to say yet he was a fellow of outstanding ability in his line, honest and true to his word, and ready to drop everything and come to the help of friend or stranger.

He was a central figure in his home village, a modern day "village blacksmith" in the masterpiece by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The Village Blacksmith
by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow
Under the spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy stands.
The smith, a mighty man is he,
With large and sinewy hands.
Week in week out from morn till night
You can hear his bellows blow
You can hear him swing his heavy sledge
With measured beat and slow
Like sexton ringing the village bell
When the evening sun is low.
He goes on Sunday to the church
And sits among his boys
He hears the parson pray and preach
He hears his daughter's voice
Singing in the village choir
And it makes his heart rejoice.
It sounds to him like her mother's voice
Singing in Paradise
He needs must think of her once more,
How in the grave she lies
And with his hard rough hand he wipes
A tear out of his eyes
Toiling—rejoicing—sorrowing
Onward through life he goes
Each morning sees some task begin
Each evening sees its close
Something attempted, something done
Has earned a night's repose.
Thanks, thanks to thee, my worth friend
For the lesson thou taught
Thus at the flaming forge of life
Our fortunes must be wrought
Thus on its sounding anvil shaped
Each burning deed and thought.

Roy Stierwalt will always hold a special spot in our hearts, and we all take comfort in knowing that this greatly beloved man, our dear friend, has been welcomed into Heaven by Our Lord.

Roy Stierwalt Services were held December eleven at the First Baptist Church of Ruidoso Downs, for Roy William Stierwalt, who was called Home by Our Lord on December eight. The Reverend Mr. Dale McCleskey was in charge of services. Pallbearers were Bill Carpenter, J.C. Hughes, Robert Langford, Sam Puckett, Delbert Posey, and Robert Harkow. Honorary pallbearers were Jake Harris, Jesse Evans, Lawrence Tafoya, Reverend George Perry, Dr. Ron Annala, Wilbur Conley, Raymond Silva, and Bill Hart. The church choir sang "This Is IAM PEERLESS TOO and Roam On, a pair of 60-to-one longshots, combined for the biggest quiniela payoff in the history of Sunland Park Race Track Sunday, December 8. The winning combination for the fourth race paid $3,175.40 to better the previous high of $2,629.60, which was set on April 13, 1974, by Danny's Cap and Now We Can. Iam Peerless Too also returned $124.60 for the season-high payoff on a 2-dollar win ticket.

FOUR HORSES that came out of the 1984 All-American Select Quarter Horse Yearling Sale at Pindiso Downs will be running in the $114,930 Fall Quarter Futurity on December 15 at Sunland Park. Lookin Em Over was purchased for $37,000 and No White Shoes for $47,700. Repurchased in the sale were Rocky Jones for $11,700 and Pat Hatter for $2,300. The winner's purse for Sunday's Futurity is $57,465.

SENATOR BILLY B., the winner of last spring's Riley Allison Futurity at Sunland Park, appeared to be in top form while posting a half-length win in a 5-furlong allowance race on Sunday. The colt, who was raced for nearly six months after being eased in his last start on June 17 at Ruidoso Downs, will be entered in Friday's trials for the $100,000 Fall Quarter Horse Futurity. Jockey O.A. Martinez, who rode Senator Billy B. on Sunday and who will be onboard in the trials, said the horse is "running in excellent condition. He is one of the best I have ever been on."

JOCKEY MIKE LIDBERG moved into second place in the standings with six wins over the weekend, including four on Friday. Mark Hadley, who has yet to break into the top 10, rode three winners on Sunday. Eugene O'Neill added three wins to his lead in the standings.

Quiniela pays record-breaking $3,175 Sunday

Follin Round accounted for the second leg of the Rio Grande Marathon Series on Sunday at Sunland Park, capturing the main event on an 11-race program that recorded the highest quiniela payoff in the 27-year history of the track.

A two-dollar quiniela ticket returned $3,175 in Sunday's fourth race when 61-to-one longshot lam Peerless Too won the 870-yard sprint and Roam On (68-to-one) finished second. The hefty mutual eclipsed the former all-time high quiniela payoff recorded in April of 1974 when Danny's Cap and Now We Can returned $2,630.

Reserved on the rail by jockey Mark Hadley, Follin Round stalked pacesetter Knight Of Gold throughout Sunday's featured Rio Grande Marathon Series, which spotlighted a full field of thoroughbreds.

As Knight Of Gold led the field around the final turn, Hadley moved Follin Round to the middle of the track at the head of the stretch as several horses emerged from the packed field to make their bid in the final furlong.

Knight Of Gold faded from the early going, and the winner's share boiled down to a stretch battle between Lord Beaumont, with Carlos Rivas at the reins; Gala Who, the nine-to-five favorite under Leroy Coombs; and Follin Round.

Follin Round was a neck the best of Lord Beaumont at the wire, with Gala Who three-quarter lengths behind for third. The final time was 1:48.3 seconds.

Ben James, who owns and trains Follin Round, collected $1,800 for Jockey Mark Hadley takes Follin Round to a neck verdict in the second leg of the Rio Grande Marathon Series on December 8 at Sunland Park. The victory was worth $1,800 for owner-trainer Ben James of El Paso. Follin Round finished the course in 1:48 3/5 seconds. The winner returned $20 on a $2 win ticket, racing at nine-to-one odds. Lord Beaumont, owned by Peggy Odom of Santa Teresa, was second. Gala Who, the number three horse, finished third for owner Jack Marsh of Ruidoso.

the win. Follin Round returned $20, $7.60 and $3.40.

Lord Beaumont paid $6.20 and $4.40. Gail Odom trains the gelding for Peggy Odom of Santa Teresa. Gala Who's third was worth $3.20. Gerald Marr saddled Gala Who for owner Jack Marsh of Ruidoso, who collected purse money of $360.

In Sunday's seventh race, 1985 Riley Allison Futurity winner Senator Billy B. posted an impressive win over five furlongs to stop the clock in 59.4 seconds. The Hy Lucky Jay colt is pointing toward another stakes win in the Sunland Park Fall Thoroughbred Futurity on December 28. Trials for that $100,000 stake will be held next Friday at Sunland.

Thats Incredible wins Texas Derby

Thats Incredible prevailed in a desperate stretch battle to capture the 27th running of the Texas Derby at Sunland Park on Saturday.

Breaking as the eight-to-five choice to win the mile-long stake, Thats Incredible stalked the pacesetter duo of Hail Eagle and Flemish Slipper to the head of the stretch under rider Richard Bickel.

Hail Eagle, a 19-to-one longshot, tired at the head of the lane and jockey Eugene O'Neill took the lead for a few short strides aboard Flemish Slipper as Thats Incredible and Classic Quickie emerged from a well-packed field.

The three horses matched strides down to the wire with Thats Incredible taking the winner's share of an $11,950 purse on the final jump by a head. The final time was 1:40.3 seconds.

Classic Quickie finished second with Salustio Burgos at the helm. Flemish Slipper held on for the show, crossing the line three-quarter lengths back of Classic Quickie.

Thats Incredible collected $7,170 for owner Forrest McAden of Millsap, Texas. The winner returned mutuels of $5.20, $3 and $2.80. Coy Hendricks trains the son of Platoon Leader.

Classic Quickie, at five-to-one, paid $5.20 and $3.20. Jess Alley trains the gelding for Alan Antwell of Hobbs. Antwell pocketed runner-up money of $2,629.

Don's Destiny beats Sand Hills Rusty

Don's Destiny saved ground in the early going to run down favored Sand Hills Rusty and post a one-and-a-third length victory in Friday's featured allowance sprint at Sunland Park.

Ridden by veteran Larry Byers, Don's Destiny broke as the second choice to win the 6-furlong main event, with Sand Hills Rusty the overwhelming four-to-five favorite under red-hot rider Mike Lidberg.

Lidberg accounted for four of the nine races run before Friday's feature, and it appeared the young rider would notch his fifth in the main event as he showed the way aboard Sand Hills Rusty around the lower bend to the head of the stretch.

Byers started moving Don's Destiny up around the final turn and caught Sand Hills Rusty at the top of the lane to draw away in the final furlong unchallenged.

Intemperance and K. Jack broke out of the pack as the field rounded the turn and also passed the tiring Sand Hills Rusty to nab second- and third-place money.

Don's Destiny returned $8.20, $4.80 and $3. Kelly Byers, daughter of jockey Larry Byers, trains Don's Destiny for owner Erwin Gallegos of Anaheim, California. Gallegos collected $1,500 from the $2,500 allowance purse.

Parks & Rec to receive $15,000

Bobby Bailey, director of the Village Parks and Recreation Department, was notified Tuesday that Ruidoso has been awarded $10,000 in federal and $5,000 in state funds. Bailey said he requested $27,500 in federal and $13,500 in state funds to be used for restrooms and concessions at the Municipal Softball Complex in the Eagle Creek area. "It's just about what we expected," said Bailey, who wasn't too surprised to receive less than the amount requested. He said funds available were limited, and were distributed throughout the state. The village also will be expected to contribute $5,000 toward the project, remarked Bailey. Although some modifications in the project may be necessary due to the lessened amount of funds available, Bailey said Tuesday he isn't sure what changes will be made.

SANTA FE—Political judgments aren't arrived at just by counting noses. If they were, the poll-takers would be in charge of government. This observation is made in response to a reader's comment, put like this: "Why would both Bruce King and Bill Segó decide not to run for office when their polls showed them leading in their respective parties? There must be more to this story than you guys are telling us."

There is. You can be sure both of those named made their decisions on the basis of something a lot more important to them than pollsters' figures. You can call it intuition, or political instinct, or just plain "feel." Regardless of the title, it's what a true politician actually depends on when a sweeping decision must be made. It's also what unsuccessful politicians are most often without.

Those high-priced political consultants some candidates are convinced they cannot operate without may spend a lot of their time poring over computer printouts showing what answers a "scientifically chosen" group of citizens has been giving lately. But to successful political operations, that is only one, and often a minor, element in the total decision-making process.

Pure old gut-type politics, we must remember, antedate the establishment of the pollster's art by centuries; and polls are only one of the tools a modern politician must know how to make use of. They are often misused, as a matter of fact, when those who want to get themselves elected utilize them only to confirm what they have already decided or to give them courage when they would otherwise lack it.

Louis McHenry Howe never knew the kind of surveys we talk about today could exist. Yet he taught Franklin Roosevelt—and Franklin's wife—what they knew about politics, which is a whole lot more than the modern-day crop who lock themselves to the computers will ever learn.

Have you noted how little we are hearing from our legislative leaders these days? It would be easy to get the impression the cat's got their tongues.

Governor Anaya goes on telling us his plans for reshaping state government or for increasing the tax burden on the citizens, almost as though his proposals made some difference. Legislators, however, whose plans actually have a chance of coming into being, prefer not to reveal to us what is on their minds.

Strange—and much unlike the ordinary procedure from those among their number who find their pulses racing whenever an interviewer thrusts a microphone in their direction.

Les Houston silent? That's hard to imagine. But don't take taciturnity to indicate that these folks aren't scheming. You can be sure they are.

Republicans, for example, find themselves facing an almost classical dilemma. On the one hand, they are tempted to make use of the coming legislative session as an occasion to embarrass already-chastened Democrats further, hoping by that activity to increase their party's chances in the election that takes place later in the year. But on the other hand, if they do manage to slip one of their own in as governor when the people go to the polls in November, it would be better for that person not to have to take over a government in a total state of disarray.

It will be interesting, when they finally begin to make their moves, to see which side of that choice they come down on.

It's got to be tough to be on the staff of one of those legislative committees that have such people on their permanent payroll.

The problem is that, over the years, you come to learn much more about the subject your work is addressed to than legislators, who come and go, are ever able to learn. Yet your job in life is to assist those very lawmakers, who may remain almost innocent of knowledge, as they go about making a hash of the whole situation.

The thought comes to mind every time one of those legislative committees locks itself in "to give instructions to the staff," especially when you know the staff concerned should, if this were a perfect world, be giving the instructions to the committee members.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

I pay my water bill every month, but I'd like to know why. The only place water as bad as ours belongs is in the toilet bowl and then it looks so bad that I can't bear to look at it. I wash my clothes and they come out dirty. I use the dishwasher and my dishes don't come clean. My ice maker works but the ice cubes are a nice deep brown color. I can't even take a bath for fear of contaminating my body. I have to buy bottled water to brush my teeth. I wonder why I even have a water bill.

I've reported my problem to the water department several times only to have them flush the lines and make things worse. This has gone on for 6 months. My question is when will it end. I'd like to see nice clear drinkable water again someday.

We can really "breathe" a sigh of relief at the Ruidoso Village Council's decision Tuesday night to ban smoking during meetings of the council.

The unanimous decision was the proposal of Councillor William A. "Dub" Holt. He suggested that a five-minute break be taken each hour during council meetings to allow smoking time for those who wish it.

We believe the councillors' decision to approve Holt's motion was a wise one. Not only will the move be a boon to the health of meeting-goer smokers and non-smokers alike, but the five minutes each hour will undoubtedly serve as a time to gain a refreshed outlook on the important work of the council.

Indeed, Mayor George White has seen fit to call five-minute recesses during past council meetings especially after lengthy and stressful council debates.

The no-smoking decision follows what has become a state and nationwide trend toward limiting to themselves the effects of those who smoke. Keeping public places smoke-free is a practice that will continue to grow.

In limiting smoking during their meetings, the council has provided themselves and visitors with a real "breath of fresh air."—DJP

Reporter's Round

By Sharon Makokian

December 12. Only 12 more days until Christmas. 'Tis the season to shop, celebrate and visit friends and family.

I set out to write a whimsical column about shopping and other fun Christmas stuff, yet I can't help thinking about other people in other places who won't have a bountiful Ruidoso-style holiday.

I know that money is tight right now, coming out of our "slow season" with a snowless November, but most of us in Ruidoso are comfortable, not worrying about a roof over our heads or where our family's next meal will come from.

Sometimes it's easy to become engrossed with our community and forget about the world around us, but it is there, and its problems are not going away. One of the major issues on my mind today is the world hunger crisis.

It is hard for me to imagine living in poverty. Although I often complain about being broke, I, like most Ruidosians, am by no means poverty-stricken.

Yet, while we worry about buying Christmas presents, people are living in squalor conditions: in infested shacks without sufficient food or clean water. The problem exists not only in faraway countries such as Ethiopia, but right in our own backyard, in places in New Mexico and throughout the United States.

Sunday's "60 Minutes" showed a poor, black Mississippi community, with tar-paper shacks, no running water and wall-to-wall roaches. The image haunts me.

I don't have lots of answers, just concerns and possibilities. I think the local Happy Holidays food and clothing drive is a great way to help local people during this season. However, I can't help wondering what happens during the rest of the year.

It's easy to think that we, as individuals, cannot help the world situation. I even caught myself telling Frankie that I didn't think that my $10 or $20 contribution would make a difference in the global picture. Then I began to think ... if everyone who felt that way were to contribute $10 or $20, think of all the millions that could be collected.

USA for Africa and Live Aid were great in bringing public attention to the problems and raising money. However, we cannot lose sight of the issue when the popular movement fades. Unfortunately, it looks as if people will still be starving, long after pop stars stop singing about it.

As I stated earlier, I don't have all the answers. We can't let these mammoth problems ruin our daily lives, but I think we should do our part, whether it is making whatever donations we can or urging our congressmen to spend less money on arms and more on human services. One person or group may not make a big difference, but we have to start somewhere.

Sometimes, it's hard to take time out of our busy holiday schedules to keep up with the world around us. A favorite teacher of mine says that if you're not part of the solution, you're part of the problem. In a way, I think he's right; and the first step toward solutions is awareness of the problems.

So this Christmas (and throughout the new year), I am going to try to be more aware. I will still celebrate with my family and friends, and buy whatever presents I can afford, but this year will be a little different, as I intend to keep this issue in mind and do what I can to work toward a solution.

It's something to think about.

a very successful event.

Our sincere thanks to those people, and to name a few, The Ruidoso News coverage of the event before and after was outstanding and to Darrell Pehr for his excellent handling of the selection of Miss Pixable.

We can't say enough for the Inn of the Mountain Gods and their staff for their outstanding hospitality not only to the 40 teens in the pageant, but also to the pageant staff, judges, parents of the contestants and all others there for the pageant.

Thanks to the Ruidoso Greeters Committee, they made the teens feel so welcome; to Theresa Bates; to Mr. and Mrs. Harrison of Harrison's House of Flowers; to Mr. John Jeffers with the Ruidoso

Chamber of Commerce; and all of those who attended the pageant Saturday night.

We appreciate Mr. John Livingston, Diane Browning, Robert Boverie and Melody Vuicich who despite their busy schedules served on our judges' panel. Also thanks to Carl Mori for an excellent job done as the pageant's anchor host.

We look forward to returning next November for a larger and better event and we hope that Ruidoso will be watching your Miss New Mexico Teen USA on the Miss Teen USA telecast from Daytona Beach January 21 on CBS at 8 p.m.

Sincerely,
CASE AND HELEN KOWALL
