Warriors dump Tularosa, 54-30; will take on Hot Springs, Colts next

Coming through with their most impressive performance of the season, the Ruidoso High School girls varsity basketball team dumped visiting Tularosa, 54-30, Tuesday night.

Ruidoso, now 4-11 on the season, will travel to Hot Springs for a District 3-AAA game Friday, February 7. Saturday, February 8, the Warriors will host Silver City in another district contest.

But Tuesday night it was all Ruidoso as the Warriors shined in almost every aspect of the game. The Warrior junior varsity lost, 49-40, to the Wildcats.

In the varsity contest, Ruidoso jumped off to a 12-6 first-quarter lead over the shorter Wildcats.

With 6-0 Katherine Sanchez and Mavis Geronimo dominating the boards, Ruidoso was able to get its fast break going. The Warriors had a 24-17 lead at halftime.

But Ruidoso broke the game wide open in the third quarter.

Sanchez scored 10 of her 14 points in the third period. The Warrior press forced numerous turnovers and Ruidoso outscored the visitors, 20-4, for a 44-21 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Coach James Sanchez emptied his bench in the final quarter as Ruidoso outscored Tularosa, 10-9.

Besides Sanchez's scoring, Lillian Duffy also scored 14 points for the Warriors.

Tammy Osborne and Geronimo each added eight points. Amy Osborne scored six points, and Berdine Smith and Kandi Cain each scored two points.

Sanchez pulled off 21 rebounds. Geronimo added 16 and Tammy Osborne grabbed seven.

"It was the best we've played all season," Sanchez said after the game. "We've got a lot of young players."

"It was just a case of getting them used to all playing together and executing together. They did that tonight."

Sanchez also praised his bench. "We played everybody," he remarked. "Everybody is just as tough."

Ruidoso's junior varsity almost pulled out a victory over the Wildcats.

After trailing, 20-10, at halftime, the Warriors fought back and tied the game at 36-36 with a few minutes left.

However, the Wildcats rallied for the victory.

Stacy Gear led the junior varsity Warriors with 18 points on nine field goals.

Sonja Urdiales added eight points and Amanda Samuels scored seven.

The junior varsity was hurt when Jennifer Jimenez fouled out.

Now the Warriors must prepare for a rugged Hot Springs team. Hot Springs scored over 100 points in defeating Tularosa earlier in the season.

"They're tough," said Sanchez. "And they like to press."

Silver City also is usually one of the better teams in the district.

But Ruidoso will be going into the weekend games on an upswing, after the Warriors' impressive victory over the Wildcats.

Ruidoso boys to meet tough Tigers

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Cutting down on mistakes will be a key for the Ruidoso High School boys varsity basketball team when the Warriors travel to Hot Springs Friday, February 7.

Ruidoso, 0-1 in District 3-AAA action and 7-8 overall, is coming on a hard-fought 51-47 loss to Deming last weekend.

The varsity game will follow the boys junior varsity and girls varsity games. The junior varsity game will start at 4 p.m.

The Warriors only made five of 14 free throw attempts against Deming, a contrast to the previous two games when Ruidoso had excellent free throw shooting to beat Tularosa and Portales.

"We've got to improve on our shooting," admitted Warrior head coach Gene Segura. "We've also got to cut down on our turnovers. We're averaging 19 a game, and that's too much."

One area where Ruidoso has shown steady improvement has been its field goal shooting.

Ruidoso made over 39 percent of its field goal attempts against Deming and 44 percent of them against Tularosa, much better than the 24 percent the Warriors shot against New Mexico Military Institute in an early-season game.

But the Warriors are in for a tough game anyway against the Tigers, ranked second in the state Associated Press poll with an 11-4 record.

Hot Springs is the defending district champion and finished fourth in last season's state AAA-division tournament.

The Tigers have a rugged inside game with 6-3 Pat Harrison and 6-5 Todd Mannon.

"They've got a lot of power inside with those two guys," said Segura. Perhaps the best part of the Warriors' game recently has been the play of starting guards Jeff Willingham and Kirk Ryan.

Willingham scored 12 points and Ryan had 10 against Deming. Both are good outside shooters and are effective on the fast break.

Brian Davis, Russell Easter and Trent Tolbert are the Warriors' starters up front.

Tolbert is 6-4, Davis is 6-2 and Easter is 6-1, giving the Warriors almost equal height with Hot Springs' big men.

Wrestlers go to Deming

Ruidoso High School's wrestling team will get a better idea where it stands in district competition after it competes at Deming Saturday, February 8.

The Warriors will take on District 3-AAA rivals Deming, Silver City and Cobre in dual matches. The first match probably will start at 11 a.m.

Ruidoso is 9-2 in dual-match action and already has clinched its best dual-match record in history.

But Saturday's competition, plus other matches with New Mexico Military Institute and Goddard, will determine the individual seedings for each weight class at the district tournament in Ruidoso Friday, February 21.

"It will definitely give us a good idea of what we're doing, district-wise," Warrior head coach Gerald Ames said. "It's hard to say how well we'll do there."

"We've had problems at this meet in the past."

Ruidoso has not competed against the three opponents much this season.

Cobre finished second in the district tournament last season, but probably has a young team this season.

"They've got two pretty good wrestlers that I know of," Ames said. "One at 107 pounds and one at 157 pounds."

Silver City is traditionally tough, and has a lot of students to draw from. Deming also is traditionally tough, but may not be as strong as in recent seasons.

Ruidoso will go with a wrestler in every class except 128 pounds.

Jeff Schmidt will go at 100 pounds, Mike Valenzuela will be at 107 pounds, Scott Yeatman will be at 114 pounds, Cory Garner will go at 121 pounds, Ruben Herrera will be at 134 pounds, Zach Swalander will be at 140 pounds, Kerry Jameson will be at 147 pounds, Kyle Jameson will be at 157 pounds, James Herrera will go at 169 pounds, Jason Hill will be at 187 pounds and Phillip Herrera will be at heavyweight.

Kerry Jameson and Valenzuela won their classes in last Saturday's Ruidoso Warrior Invitational.

Community basketball results

The Ruidoso Little League basketball program began Monday night with three games at Ruidoso Middle School.

In major-division competition, Tim Wishard Goldsmith topped Contel, 28-20.

Action will continue tonight at the middle school.

PAL will meet Ruidoso State Bank at 5:30, and Coca Cola will take on McDonalds at 6:45 in minor-division games.

The Noon Lions will play Mescalero at 8 in the major-division contest.

Games also will be played Friday and Saturday nights at the middle school.

Silva's shot gives Braves win over Capitan

Rusty Silva hit a 10-foot shot with four seconds left to give the Ruidoso Middle School boys A basketball team a 65-64 win over the visiting Capitan freshmen Tuesday afternoon.

Silva's shot finalized a rally for the Braves, who outscored Capitan, 22-15, in the final quarter. Ruidoso is 11-4 on the season.

Capitan led 49-43 entering the final period. The visitors also had a 37-33 lead at halftime.

Cody Willard scored 13 points to lead the Braves. Silva added 11 points. Kenny Trapp and Alfred Rue each had 10 points, and Ira Sago scored nine.

"We used three different defenses in the final quarter," said Brave head coach Dean Hood. "We just did everything we were supposed to do in the final period."

The Brave B team lost, 33-20, to the Capitan eighth-grade team.

Tony Leppert and Brent Scott each had six points for the Braves.

The Brave boys A and B teams and the unbeaten girls A team are tentatively scheduled to host Tularosa today (Thursday), February 6.

Rick—What About Economic Development In Ruidoso?

Rick Evans

From an economic standpoint Ruidoso is at a turning point. To insure continued prosperity, the next governing body must make ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT its NUMBER ONE PRIORITY.

Oil and agriculture are the primary industries within the regional economies that support Ruidoso. And, as you know, the future of oil and agriculture is less than bright. Unfortunately farmers are facing an economic crisis nationwide and the price of oil has been steadily declining with no end in sight.

The point is, Ruidoso cannot take its economic future for granted. Informed, aggressive leadership is needed to take on the task of economic development as follows:

First, continue to lay the foundation for economic development by completing ALL the major capital improvement projects presently underway in the Village, particularly Grindstone Dam and the Eagle Creek Wells.

Second, continue to work hard, in TOTAL COOPERATION with the FAA and the SBAC, to complete our new regional airport ON SCHEDULE.

Third, work to diversify our economy by attracting soft industry to Ruidoso. Specifically, we should work hard to locate a "PRIVATELY FUNDED" college and a CONVENTION CENTER on our existing airport land. To be continued.....

If you would like to discuss economic development, I would like to visit with you. Call 257-9057.

Ruidoso resident since he was six years old and graduated from Ruidoso High School in 1964, before serving 11 years on the Ruidoso Police Department—going from patrolman to deputy chief.

Simon said he doesn't feel village employees are given adequate tools to perform their jobs well, and promises logical, impartial and rational leadership.

"I don't mind bending a little and giving a little to make what's right right," said Simon.

MICHAEL W. CALLAGHAN, a candidate for four years on the village council, talked of the growth he's seen during his four years in Ruidoso.

On water, Callaghan warned that Eagle Creek wells offer no guarantees, and recommended that money be spent on Grindstone Canyon dam instead.

Callaghan wondered whether Ruidoso can afford the proposed airport right now.

"Let's keep this within our means," said Callaghan. "There's no sense in taxing ourselves out of existence," he added.

ELMER R. PIRELLI, a candidate for a four-year council term, talked of his service on a previous village council and as chairman of the planning commission that drafted the first village master plan. He also served as mayor pro tem under George White.

"I'm quite interested in how it's (Ruidoso) going to grow," said Pirelli, a 30-year resident of the village.

Pirelli stressed the importance of people agreeing together "instead of working at cross purposes."

MICHAEL J. RADZIEWICZ, a candidate for village council, four-year term, said that he has been in the tourism business in Ruidoso for eight years.

He talked of building new markets—naming Tucson as having good potential—and wondered why the two-year-old issue of building a convention center is still unresolved.

"I feel strongly on the growth of Ruidoso," said Radzewicz, stressing the importance of leaders understanding the economy.

RICHARD A. DAVIS, a candidate for a four-year council term, introduced himself as a young, aggressive businessman, who has run two successful campaigns for an elected official in Bernalillo County.

Davis, a two-year Ruidoso resident, said his family has roots in New Mexico dating to before statehood. He said he is concerned about village growth.

MILTON R. ALCORN, a candidate for four years on the village council, gave his 32 years in administration as qualifications for the council. He told of serving on the village and county planning and zoning boards, and of things he has learned—like the meaning of the word "aquifer."

"Serving on your council we will have fun," said Alcorn. "You will also have it with us ... and we'll also be successful," he added.

Audience members came prepared to ask questions of the would-be city officials, and they questioned them on present policies at city hall.

James, apparently not satisfied with present operations, said he would analyze each department and set up "face-to-face" meetings with city personnel.

Evans and Karn both said they are mostly satisfied with the workings of village hall, with Evans expressing concern on the budget, and Karn with free flow of information.

Mayoral candidate Davis stated that he is not satisfied with the way the village is currently operated.

One audience member wondered, along with candidate Junge, why the trash compactor, "this money-saving device," is not in operation.

Shirley Atwood asked about the relationship between the village council and the Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z), citing complaints about the "dictatorial powers of the P&Z."

Pirelli explained that the P&Z serves at the pleasure of the council, and Alonso opined that the commission has "good intentions" but is "having difficulty applying the law fairly and equitably."

Candidates heard questions about the Eagle Creek well field, Grindstone Canyon dam, uses for the airport land, how the village can afford the airport land, tourism and plans for a tourism director.

Karn was handed a note during the question and answer period, and later told the audience that he had been notified that a bill to help Ruidoso afford bonds to pay for the dam project had just progressed through two important committees in Santa Fe.

He said he was supporting the bill to release the one percent supplemental gross receipts tax revenues to pay for a bond issue, whereas those proceeds are currently limited to capital improvements.

Cal Cowden narrated the candidates' forum for the Friends of the Library.

Audience member Jack Koch questions the village council and mayoral candidates on one of several issues during the candidate's forum Monday evening at the Ruidoso Public Library.

Chamber drive is a success, 110 new members sign up

Although the team of the "good guys" beat the "bad guys" in the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce membership drive Wednesday, it was the chamber that was the real winner of the day, acquiring 110 new members.

Chamber executive director John Jeffers said the chamber exceeded its goal in what he called a "phenomenal success." Jeffers said the drive appears to be the best in the past eight years.

Chamber president Paul Crown concurred with the success of the day. To his knowledge, the most new members gained in any past drive was 78.

Jeffers said approximately $14,800 had been pledged in chamber dues, with $8,600 brought in on the day of the drive.

The "good guys," led by Charlie Kemp, beat Buster Hill's "bad guys" team by a narrow margin of two members. The final score was 56-54.

The big day began with a kickoff breakfast at Whispering Pines and ended with a tabulation party at the chamber. Red Booster Barbecue donated the dinner.

A complete list of all the new chamber members will appear in Monday's issue of The News.

P&Z works on sign recommendations

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) Monday cancelled two agenda items, reviewed a commercial building plan and granted temporary approval for a portable sign before agreeing on recommendations to the Ruidoso Village Council on sign ordinance amendments.

During Monday's regular meeting, village enforcement officer Paul Davis announced that requests for a commercial review and a vacation of right of way were postponed. Commissioners voted to reschedule the two items for the next P&Z meeting.

The group unanimously approved commercial building plans on Tract 2, a replat of the Morgan Tract for Howard Tate.

Jim Wilkerson, speaking for Tate, said a 366-square-foot addition and deck were being added to the back of dental offices on Mechem Drive.

The commission discussed parking for the building, and found it to be adequate before approving the request.

Mike Callaghan, P&Z chairman, reminded Wilkerson that a building permit is required for the project, after it was learned that the project was already under way.

A request for a sign variance was added to the agenda at the request of Conrad Buchanan, who asked to display a lighted portable sign at his new Firestone Store on Highway

70. "This is strictly just to let people know that we've moved," explained Buchanan, asking for the variance for 14 days only. He said his permanent sign, when it arrives, will conform to the village sign ordinance.

Davis reminded the commission that the current sign ordinance specifically prohibits portable signs before P&Z approved the variance by a four to three vote with commissioners Ken Carr, David Smith and Don Shaw voting no.

"You have set a precedent," said Davis.

Commissioners then discussed last week's workshop session that was attended by John V. Hall and his attorney, Mel O'Reilly.

Callaghan reminded the group of an agreement to give the real estate industry a 30-day grace period before rigidly enforcing current restrictions regarding real estate signs.

He said Hall's suggestion that his attorney meet with the village attorney to design Board of Realtors by-laws leading to self-regulation of signage by the real estate industry ran into a "stumbling block" when it was learned that the village was expected to pay for O'Reilly's services.

"We are not going to be responsible for Mel O'Reilly's fees," said Callaghan.

Members agreed that they'll cooperate with the Board of Realtors and abide by the 30-day grace period discussed with Hall at the workshop.

"If something's not done in 30 days that's Mr. Hall's fault; we've done all we can," said commissioner Reed Stirman.

P&Z member Melody Vuicich then made the following suggestions for recommendations P&Z is preparing for the Ruidoso Village Council:

—Delete a recommendation to the Ruidoso Village Council to rescind all off-premise signs.

—Change allowed size on off-premise signs to "not to exceed 32 square feet."

—Send recommendations on tip sheet signs and seasonal signs back to the council as previously amended.

—Leave the wording as currently written on size of sign, allowing the owner to designate which side of the building is the front.

—Change wording on shopping center sign regulations to say "no more than" instead of "at least" 50 percent of the allowed signage shall designate the shopping center.

Vuicich asked Davis to get a new ruling from the village attorney on a "grandfather" clause in the sign ordinance, after suggesting that a change in owner should nullify the grandfather allowance on signs that are outside the current ordinance.

Commissioners voted against eliminating off-premise business signs by a vote of five to two.

They agreed with Vuicich's suggestion to limit the size of off-premise signs by a vote of six to one.

Shaw suggested that the commission should handle requests for re-appropriating signage on shopping centers on a case by case basis.

Members agreed with Smith's recommendation that language in the current sign ordinance be clarified on the signage allowed if a business has a two-sided sign so that business owners will know that the signage is calculated using just one side.

Foresters prescribe necessary burning

Residents in Lincoln County may have noticed quite a bit of smoke coming from the area of the Mon Jeau Lookout in Lincoln National Forest lately, but there is no cause for alarm according to Andy Hale, assistant fire management officer for the Smokey Bear District.

The U.S. Forest Service (USFS) is trying to reduce the chances for a forest fire by burning down and dead branches—and other debris—in various portions of Lincoln National Forest, Hale said.

Burning away debris that promotes forest fires is a routine part of the forest rangers work, however it does carry a certain amount of risk with it, Hale said.

The firefighters must file a prescription with the USFS supervisor in Alamogordo that states all the safety measures the firefighters will take before beginning to burn away debris. If the prescription for safety is approved at the Alamogordo office, the burning begins, Hale said.

In the past the burning of debris was called a "controlled burn" but Hale said the (USFS) prefers the procedure to be called a "prescribed burn" because of the many new innovations in fire safety techniques.

Before beginning to burn off the debris, Hale writes a prescription related to humidity levels, flame heights, wind direction, area of the burn, firefighter numbers and burn treatment centers in the region.

Hale said he coordinates his firefighting and conservation efforts with local government agencies, regional weather bureaus and private property owners in addition to the regional (USFS) office.

Texas Instruments has invented a special calculator that allows USFS supervisors to see if condi-

It may look like the beginnings of a forest fire, but the Smokey Bear District firefighters clear away fallen branches and other debris by a scientific method they call "prescribed burning." Shown is an area near Mon Jeau Lookout, where the firefighters were working last week.

tions on the days that debris is scheduled to be burned away are in accordance with the fire-safety prescription, Hale said.

However, according to Hale, the most recent innovation that has made "prescribed burns" much safer is a chemical flame retardant that actually puts out a fire when it reaches a certain point that the firefighters have designated, Hale said.

Before a "prescribed burn" begins, the firefighters place a rose-colored chemical substance in the open areas of the section they are going to work on. In most debris clearing fires that Hale has witnessed, the flame retardant works perfectly.

Though conditions are within prescribed levels for the USFS to perform these burnoffs in tree-laden areas, Hale warns private land owners to obtain a city fire permit and be very cautious before they burn off debris on their own property.

Hale has heard of "prescribed burns" that have gotten out of control, even under the strictest USFS guidelines, and believes it still may be too dry for private property owners to begin burning off debris on their land.

Petition protests phone rate boost

Ruidoso residents Charlotte Jarratt and Jackie Rawlins are circulating petitions to protest the $4 monthly rate increase imposed by Continental Telephone of the West (Contel) on November 1, 1985.

The increase still is pending a final decision from the New Mexico State Corporation Commission. Official hearings will begin on Tuesday, March 4, in Santa Fe.

Rawlins and Jarratt said the petitions will enable more local representation, in the form of signatures from people who cannot go to Santa Fe. Anyone who lives in the Contel service area may sign the petition.

"In the rural, mountainous areas of New Mexico, telephone service is a necessity—not a luxury," states the petition.

Jarratt said she decided to become involved in the issue because she has many friends who are on fixed incomes.

"I'm willing to spend time passing petitions in order to make them more aware," she said.

Rawlins said she is involved as a businesswoman in Ruidoso.

"I'm concerned about the financial situation in Ruidoso," said Rawlins, owner of Ruidoso Lodge Cabins.

Rawlins and Jarratt will circulate the petitions and deliver them to anyone who wants one. They will send the signed forms to Eric Serna, chairman of the New Mexico State Corporation Commission. Serna will present the documents at the official hearing.

The commission passed the interim increase, subject to final approval. The money is held on bond, and could be returned to Contel customers if all or some of the increase is rejected.

To obtain a petition, area residents may call Rawlins at 257-2510 or Jarratt at 257-5522.

Practice fire

A Ruidoso Fire Department firefighter watches Monday as flames consume a vacant structure near Sherwood Forest Cabins in the Upper Canyon. The department burned the structure as a training drill especially to give firefighters real life experience in using firefighting equipment.

Commodities distribution is cancelled for February

The Albuquerque-Bernalillo County Economic Opportunity Board and Lincoln County announced that the commodity distribution has been cancelled for February.

According to county advisor Marie Griego, the cancellation is due to a shortage of commodities by the commission bureau until further notice.

Basketball, basketball, basketball.

There's plenty of roundball action going on in the Ruidoso area this week.

In fact, everywhere you turn, you probably can see a basketball game. From now until the end of the season, basketball games will be played every day of the week except Sunday.

Besides the high school cage activity, the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Adult Basketball League is going into high gear and the Ruidoso Little League program started this week.

The adult league is played two nights a week at White Mountain School. The Little League program is scheduled to go four days a week at Ruidoso Middle School, with some games scheduled for White Mountain School and Hondo.

The Little League program should be better than ever this season. There are 10 minor division teams and five major division teams in the league this season, both up from last season's totals.

The kids play hard and make mistakes, but that's to be expected at their age. They're learning for the future.

On the other hand, the adult league has many players who were standout high school players in past seasons.

The adult league features a lot of fast-break action that often is intense.

Both leagues offer exciting action for the spectator on different levels.

If you like basketball, take in either league sometime.

The Elks and Coca-Cola tipped off the Ruidoso Little League basketball season Monday night.

Ruidoso's John Walker (44) grabs a rebound in Tuesday's junior varsity basketball game with Roswell. Roswell won, 51-26.

Wrestler of the Week

Kerry Jameson is the latest Ruidoso High School Wrestler of the Week.

Jameson, a senior, won the 147-pound division at the Ruidoso Warrior Invitational last Saturday. Jameson won two matches, including a 15-7 victory over Irvin's Joe Valenzuela in the finals.

The Warrior athlete has a 12-6 season record. He also was a member of the Warrior state championship football team last fall.

KERRY JAMESON

With Propane, you get the energy you pay for.

With electricity, you just pay.

Electricity is expensive and it's costing more all the time. To generate electricity in most areas, monstrous quantities of fossil fuels burn, and almost 87% of the heat energy is lost forever. But you pay for all of it. And pay. And pay. Use electricity where it should be used — lighting and small appliances. For big energy jobs like hot water, heat and cooking, use cost-efficient propane gas.

THE COUNTRY GOURMET

FILET MIGNONS IN BRANDY CREAM SAUCE

If you're a steak lover you'll be delighted with the special flair of this recipe. If you're not particularly wild about steaks, this recipe may change your mind. It did mine! The elegant Brandy Cream Sauce, along with the process of marinating the steaks in brandy, produces a markedly tender and delicately flavored entree ... very special. My original recipe called for cognac, but brandy is an excellent substitute, and is about half the price. I'll be sharing other recipes that call for brandy with you in the future, so your investment in a good quality brandy will be justified. If you've been searching for an entree for a special Valentine's Day dinner, this is it!

Filet Mignons in Brandy Cream Sauce (serves 4)

- 4 small filet mignons, cut 3/4 to 1" thick
- Freshly ground pepper
- 1/2 cup brandy
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1 Tbsp. unsalted butter
- 1 Tbsp. vegetable oil
- 2 shallots
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1 tsp. fresh lemon juice

Season filets liberally with pepper and marinate them in 1/4 cup of the brandy at room temperature, for at least 30 minutes, turning occasionally. Remove steaks and reserve marinade.

Season filets with salt and brown in a large, heavy skillet in which you have melted 2 Tbsp. of unsalted butter and 1 Tbsp. of oil. Sear the filets about two minutes on each side. Lower heat to moderate and continue cooking (six to nine minutes) until desired doneness is reached. Remove filets to a platter. Cover with foil and keep warm while preparing Brandy Cream Sauce.

Brandy Cream Sauce

Pour off fat from the skillet. Melt the remaining 2 Tbsp. of butter in skillet and saute shallots for two minutes in butter. Add reserved marinade and the remaining 1/4 cup brandy. Bring to a boil while stirring and combining browned bits in a skillet. Cook for two minutes. Add lemon juice and cream—then season to your taste with salt and pepper. Spoon sauce over warm steaks and serve immediately!

ASK FOR KERRY!

As Vice-President and Chief Loan Officer for First National Bank of Ruidoso, Kerry Boyd keeps abreast of the ever changing money market, always looking for new ways to serve customers. If there is a new and better way to borrow, Kerry can help you.

A native of Artesia, Kerry is a graduate of N.M.M.I. and N.M.S.U. He and his wife have lived in the Ruidoso area for nearly three years. He believes in being active in community affairs and is Past President of the respected Sertoma Club.

Kerry would be happy to live and work here forever, because, as he puts it, "Having conducted business in sixteen states and three countries, I've spent a few years becoming familiar with 'big city' life. But actually I'm still a 'country boy' at heart and am more comfortable in a small town, where I feel it's easier to enjoy people and friendships. And, I like being a part of a relatively young bank, where I can get to know our customers personally."

William L. Karn For Mayor

After the severe floods of last year, the Council voted unanimously to apply for a direct appropriation to replace our flooded bridges with new and better ones.

Realizing the importance of this project and the Village's budget shortfall, I went to Santa Fe five times at my own expense to lobby for your new bridges.

When the Legislature adjourned, our legislation died. Later, when the Governor called the special session, our City Manager told me that he had been advised that we did not qualify.

I made a phone call and found, not only could we qualify, but if we made it to the Governor's desk, we would not be vetoed.

Since the Council had voted unanimously to request the direct appropriation (and I had testified in front of both Senate Finance and the House Tax and Revenue Committees), I went back to Santa Fe for the entire special session, without cost to the village, to lobby for our bridges.

When the bill was ruled 'not germane' to the session, I worked with Representative Hall and Senator Martin to have the legislation included in a Senate Substitute Bill.

A member of the Senate negotiating committee told me that I could only have one bill passed; I chose the Ruidoso Bridge Bill for $583,600.

Construction of new bridges for Paradise Canyon, Reese Drive and the first two bridges in Upper Canyon will begin this summer.

As your elected representative, I acted on your behalf. I would like to continue to represent you as your Mayor.

Ruidoso Mayor Pro-tem Jerry Shaw (right) Nash with a proclamation naming February presents Ruidoso DECA president Lisa Nash as DECA "Free Enterprise Week."

DECA marks 'Free Enterprise Week'

Ruidoso Mayor Pro-tem Jerry Shaw declared February 3-7 as "Free Enterprise Week" in Ruidoso, in honor of the Ruidoso High School District Education Clubs of America (DECA) program.

"Free Enterprise Week" is part of Ruidoso High School's (RHS) bid for more state and national awards through the initiative shown by its school DECA program, which is sponsored by Eddie Parker.

Lisa Nash, RHS senior, and DECA member in charge of publicity for "Free Enterprise Week," said the club is working to maintain the standards DECA members have set in previous years.

For the past nine years the RHS DECA organization has won first place in the state for the "free enterprise" category of competition.

The RHS DECA members also have been ranked among the top eight DECA organizations in America for their abilities to comprehend and demonstrate the meaning of free enterprise in American business for the past nine years in a row.

March 7-9 members of the RHS DECA chapter will be in Albuquerque to compete at the DECA state convention for honors. For those members who finish in the top three in one of the 16 categories of state competition, there will be a trip to the Marriott in Atlanta for the national DECA convention and competition, April 23-27, Nash said.

As many as 15 RHS DECA members may go to Atlanta this year, according to Parker.

Nash said though DECA has been a source of pride for Ruidoso Municipal Schools, funds for DECA events, such as the national convention, are scarce.

But, true to the organization they belong to, the students manage to find enterprising ways to fund the expenses associated with their success, Nash said.

PepsiCo Inc. (makers of Pepsi) has supported DECA clubs throughout the nation by encouraging their local distributors to support local DECA chapters in any manner possible.

The DECA chapters have incorporated the PepsiCo Inc. support as a part of their yearly chapter events in a program called "Pepsi Learn and Earn." Chapters also are judged in both the state and national DECA contests, in part, on the strength of their individual "Pepsi Learn and Earn" project, Nash said.

In October the RHS DECA chapter held a seafood sale near the new Safeway which served as their "Pepsi Learn and Earn" project, or marketing project, for the year. The sale netted the DECA students $1,000, which is a sharp drop in the net in comparison to past years, Nash said.

For their yearly free enterprise project the DECA chapter conducted a contest in Sarah Garrett's first-grade class at Nob Hill Elementary School.

The students were required to color a picture as a response to the statement, "What I Am Proud Of," Nash said.

Many of the Nob Hill first-grade class contest pictures will be displayed at Hanging Tree Antiques & Gifts. The top three winners of the DECA coloring contest in Garrett's class will be given free sundaes supplied by Baskin Robbins of Ruidoso, Nash said.

The Silver Lining

Ordination Services For Anna Gaddy

It was an inspiring experience to be present at the ceremonies held February third in Saint Clement's Church in El Paso at which Anna Gaddy was ordained a deacon in the Episcopal Church.

I rode down in Rex Skelley's motor home with a lot of good folks from the Episcopal Church of Lincoln County including Bob Patton as "Co Pilot."

Several dozen other members of the church went down in their cars. The church was filled to overflowing with clergymen and church members from all over the Diocese of The Rio Grande, including friends and relatives of three other folks who were ordained. These were Clark Paul Wallace Lawenfield, priest, Alpine; William King Daugherty, Deacon, Trans Pecos; and Jeannie Mae Freeman, Deacon, Truth or Consequences.

It was great to visit with Father Delbert Achuff, our former priest here in Lincoln County, and his wife, Louise. Father Achuff is on the staff of Stan Clements and took part in the ceremonies.

Also it was a delight to visit with Mrs. Greta Eshanks, widow of the late and beloved James Eshanks, former priest of Lincoln County.

Services were under the direction of The Right Reverend Richard Trelease, Bishop of the Diocese of the Rio Grande.

The sermon was delivered by The Reverend Michael Stone, of the Church of the Holy Apostles, who said that the calling of those ordained was to follow the words of Saint Paul and above all:

"Do not lose heart in your mission to bring hope to all people."

Father Stone said that the ministry of hope is in a constant battle against the feeling of despair which threatens to engulf the world; and that through the efforts of the clergy and also the members of the church, the struggle for hope shall and must win.

Several favorite hymns were sung by the large choir and the congregation, accompanied by the pipe organ including:

"Christ is made the sure foundation," "King of glory, king of peace," And "Lord, you give the great commission; Heal the sick and preach the word."

We are all grateful that our dear friend, Anna Gaddy has taken this great step in her life, and she is born for this work of ministering to the poor, the sick, the lonely and the needy.

Many Congratulations To Troy Parker

On Friday the seventh it will be twenty four years to the day the Troy Parker took over the Chevron Station, there on highway seventy in Hollywood.

He was born at Bogata, Texas close to Paris, May thirty first, 1932, to William Henry Parker and the former Bennie Hill. He first went to work in a service station in San Antonio in 1946 and has been in this work ever since, except for two years in the United States army in Korea.

In 1957 in San Antonio he married the former Phyllis Bullard. They have three fine children, Patricia Buckley, Pamela, Troy Jr., and Rene.

Troy says: "I want to thank all those who have made it possible for me to stay here this long the old timers, and the new folks, and the ones from coast to coast."

Johnny Sanchez is Troy's right hand man and he says "Troy is the finest boss I ever had."

"I love Ruidoso," says Troy: "I love the people here and all this whole wide neighborhood. I don't know any place in all the world where I had rather live."

And we all hope Troy does stay here "forever and a day."

Happy Birthday To President Reagan

This will reach you on the birthday of Ronald Wilson Reagan, born on this date in Tampico, Illinois.

At age seventy five he is the oldest president ever to hold office, and yet has weathered this toughest job in the world a lot better than most, in spite of the being severely wounded in an attempt on his. In this he is a tremendous inspiration to senior citizens all over the world.

Like all Irish, Reagan is proud of his ancestry going back to the Emerald Isle; and from his father he has inherited the Irish wit which has become one of his trademarks, and which has carried him through many a narrow pass, including his bullet wounds.

From his Scotch Presbyterian mother he inherited a devout nature and a respect for all human life. He and his wife, Nancy, are the ideal American couple, an inspiration to us all.

President Reagan is also the first actor to become president, perhaps his greatest role being that of "The Gipper" in the story of Knute Rockne, the immortal coach of Notre Dame.

Let us all wish our president many happy returns of the day and God's blessings.

Fast horses thrill fans at Sunland and Albuquerque

Sailing Master wins Sunday

Sailing Master held off a surprising stretch drive from 14-1 outsider Devilsdam to post a half-length victory in Sunday's feature race at Sunland Park.

The allowance sprint looked like a runaway win for Need The Cash when jockey Carlos Rivas took the colt to a three-length lead as the field rounded the turn for home. But the Mississippi-bred tired from the swift early pace and could not muster a strong finish in the final furlong.

Mike Lidberg held Sailing Master just off the pace to the half-mile mark, moving within striking distance on the turn. After racing wide to the head of the stretch, Sailing Master ran down Need The Cash and fought off the late surges of Devilsdam to post a half-length win in 1:13.3 seconds.

Racing as the odds-on favorite to win the sprint, Sailing Master returned $3.20, $3 and $2.40 across the board. Owner Guy Bowers of Ruidoso collected a winner's purse of $1,488. Lewis Germany trains the son of Master Salls, who was notching his third straight victory with Sunday's main event.

Devilsdam, under leading rider

Eugene O'Neill, paid $9.40 and $1.90. Second-place was worth $530 for owners Ernest Kuehne and Eddie Miligan of Celina, Texas. Cliff Lambert Sr., Sunland's top trainer, conditions the horse.

Majestic Duchess, with Danny Sorenson aboard, crossed the wire another half-length back of Sailing Master to pay $3.40. Jess Alley trains the filly for Alan Antwell of Hobbs.

Racing resumes next weekend at Sunland, with 11-race programs scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday beginning at 1 p.m. each day. Friday's card opens with a Pic-Six carryover of $6,872.

Sticky Native takes N.M. Handicap

Sticky Native posted a 3-length victory in Saturday's $9,000 New Mexican Handicap at Sunland Park, surviving an objection by the rider of 6-5 favorite Sam's Wish.

Jockey Jimmie Hunt urged Sticky Native to the lead of the seven-horse field for the New Mexican from the far outside post to take command of the 5-furlong sprint a dozen strides out of the gates.

As the horses straightened out for home at the top of the lane, Sticky Native held a decisive 2-length lead on the field. He gained another length in the final furlong to win by 3 lengths in 59.1 seconds—only one-fifth of a second off the season's best clocking at 5 furlongs.

"He's a real nice colt," trainer Richard Fry commented after the victory. "And when he gets on the lead he's hard to beat."

Sam's Wish raced just off the pace around the turn and made a valiant bid in mid-stretch, but never mounted a serious challenge to the speedy Sticky Native. Jockey Lyndell Rutherford filed an objection following the race, which was disallowed by the stewards.

Draconic's Dream, a 14-1 longshot ridden by Mike Lidberg, closed strongly in the final going to capture third and finish a length back of Sam's Wish.

The winner returned mutuels of $9.60, $3.80 and $3. Richard Fry trains the 3-year-old gelding for Kenneth and Betty Brown of Austin, Texas. The winner's purse was $5,400.

Sam's Wish pocketed runner-up money of $1,900 and paid $2.60 and $2.40. Paul Smith conditions the colt for owner Bobby Preece of Las Cruces.

Draconic's Dream earned $1,000 for third. Wayne Buehrer is the trainer. William Burgess of Alto owns the son of Jerimi Johnson.

Pic-Sixers share $100,000 purse

Three fans shared a payoff of more than $100,000 on January 31 at Sunland Park when they were the only handicappers among 2,947 fans at the track to hold perfect tickets in the day's Pic-Six events.

A carryover pool of $65,265 went on the line for the afternoon horse racing card after no one had been able to peg the winners of the fifth through tenth races for the previous 10 programs. Friday's crowd pumped another $34,624 into the pot. When the dust cleared for the feature race, three lucky handicappers held winning tickets—each returning $34,448. The total handle for Friday's races reached a seasonal high of $380,438.

In the main event, Teatras Son made up ground in deep stretch to post a widening 2 3/4-length victory over Sunland's $20-yard coase.

Ridden by Mike Lidberg, the gelding stepped the distance in 45.38 seconds to collect a winner's purse of $1,200. Johnny Montes Jr. trains the 5-year-old, which he leases from Gary Rue of Ruidoso.

Running Angel, a 20-1 longshot ridden by Brenda Hartnett, pocketed runner-up money for owner Iva Zeigler of Anthony. Alkelbert Zeigler is the trainer.

Keyroom (9-1) was another 1 1/2 lengths back in third. Brooks Claridge trains the thoroughbred, who was ridden by Danny Sorenson.

Smooth O Bid wins Bernalillo Handicap

Smooth O Bid, under jockey Rick Thedford, scored a one-length victory over Hello My Darlin' in the $11,650 Bernalillo Handicap Sunday afternoon at The Downs at Albuquerque.

Trained by Ben Torres, Smooth O Bid led every step of the way in the 350-yard Bernalillo to earn his second straight victory at the meet. The son of Buzzy Bid won an allowance race by a half-length on opening day.

Smooth O Bid earned his first stakes victory for owner Homer Garza of Mesquite, New Mexico. The colt had qualified for the All American Sale Futurity at Saratoga Park where he finished seventh. For his Bernalillo win, Smooth O Bid earned $6,990 to move his earnings to more than $19,000.

Hello My Darlin' finished second under jockey Richard Bickel, a half-length in front of Gulfport Queen.

Smooth O Bid covered the 350 yards in :18.13 seconds in winning the inaugural running of the Bernalillo and returned $8.00, $4.20, and $2.80. Hello My Darlin' paid $8.20 and $3.40 while Gulfport Queen returned $2.60. Wind Director returned $2.20 to show while the $2.00 exacta was worth $92.00.

Save Our Desert surprises favorite

Save Our Desert, under a sharp ride by J.P. Maxwell, rallied for a hard fought victory in the featured race February 1 at The Downs at Albuquerque.

Sooner Run, under jockey Richard Bickel, led for most of the six furlong contest, but Save Our Desert outduelled the favorite through the stretch for the one length win.

Lyphardia passed red horses to finish in the field of six.

Trained by Duane Rosenberger, Save Our Desert was making her first start of 1986 and covered the six furlongs in 1:12.4 and returned $2.60, $3.60 and $3.00.

Sooner Run, the even money chance, paid $3 and $2.40 while Lyphardia returned $2.60. The $2.00 exacta 3-2 was worth $22.00.

Glorious Prince beats Tourist Attraction

Glorious Prince, under jockey Flavio Martiner III, rallied gamely through the stretch to narrowly defeat Tourist Attraction in the featured 11th race Friday afternoon at The Downs at Albuquerque.

Trained by Casey Darnell, Glorious Prince earned his second lifetime win in 11 starts. Glorious Prince covered the five and one-half furlongs in 1:03.2 while defeating Tourist Attraction by a half-length with Ima Pumpkin Pocket third.

For the win, Glorious Prince returned $10.00, $5.60, and $4.40 while Tourist Attraction paid $5.60 and $4.80. Ima Pumpkin Pocket returned $3.80 for the show. The $2.00 exacta was worth $94.

Reporter's Round

By Steve Stein

Last Tuesday, while I worked on some odds and ends for our Thursday edition, a six-year-old girl and a nine-year-old boy lost their mother. We don't have a wire service like most papers in larger cities, but only a few minutes after the shuttle had exploded, a sense of disbelief and an unwelcome silence filled our building as our staff reacted to the tragic news.

It wasn't until I saw the dreadful and breathtaking explosion over and over on television, that I realized a sense of loss much greater than the sorrow of a nation, of caring people, would follow the friends and relatives of the seven member NASA crew in some way ... forever.

In fact, 14 children lost a parent, a pathway to the responsibility of adulthood, last Tuesday, last month.

Some people urged the nation to go on with the space program to honor those men and women who died in the Florida skies. Others seized upon the moment to remind us we have other problems in our world that perhaps could better benefit from the billions of dollars spent on the launching of the ill-fated space shuttle called Challenger.

But I could not rationalize my feelings well enough to express any feelings on the merits of human sacrifice and the conquest of space, I am still mired in the scenes that followed the tragedy.

I do not react well to scenes of disaster on television. How can the same small box that brings us entertainment and fantasy also bring us devastation and reminders we live in an imperfect world?

What can we do when we see our Marines massacred by car bombs in faraway Beirut?

I still have to turn away when the networks show starving and suffering children in our world.

And who could find any solace in the devastated faces of New Hampshire high school students who saw their 37-year-old heroine sail in the glory she surely deserved for only 72 seconds?

But I don't react to scenes of grief on the television very well.

There were touching moments, First Lady Nancy Reagan genuinely attempting to soothe the grief of a crew member's family at one of many memorial services, a brave expression of thanks for the nation's sympathy by crewmember and teacher Christa McAuliffe's parents and the collective sorrow of thousands of NASA workers at a special memorial last Saturday at Cape Canaveral, Florida.

The NASA workers at the Cape Canaveral ceremony did not seem to be lifted by any expressions of sympathy or calls to continue the space program. I had the sense that of all the people who were not close friends or relatives of the seven Challenger crewmembers, these people were most numbed by the tragedy. Even as the memorial service ended, they seemed to be lost in their individual sense of the tragedy, even as the rest of us began to return to the safety of our day-to-day routines.

And now the search for answers to the mystery, not only the mystery of what caused the shuttle to explode, but the ultimate mystery of space, begins.

As Einstein said, "One of the most beautiful experiences we can have is the mysterious."

Whether we agree with Einstein or not, we know humanity will continue to explore space.

Viking sailors, Columbus, Alan Shepard, Louis Pasteur, Jonas Salk, and the crewmembers of Challenger were people who somehow needed to explore the unknown.

What happened last Tuesday was more than anyone's personal tragedy, or a national loss, it was a setback for humanity, and yet a horrible reminder that though we may master technology, we remain slaves to the unpredictable.

And so in my attempt to deal with my personal sense of grief, I pay my tribute to Gregory Jarvis, Christa McAuliffe, Ronald McNair, Ellison Onizuka, Judith Resnik, Francis Scobee and Michael Smith.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

I just returned from the winter meeting of the National Ski Areas Association in Park City, Utah. I would like to share some observations.

First, they don't have a hell of a lot of snow, as in the case everywhere in the Rocky Mountains this season. In spite of the lack of depth, there was a concerted effort on everyone's part to promote the positive: namely, that skiing is fun!

By promoting, I don't mean ads and radio spots but that famous advertising system, word of mouth. Everyone I talked to was, "sure, we'd love to have more snow but what we have is fun skiing!"

That would be a little much to hope for from a town that considers itself the horse racing capital of the Southwest and nothing else really matters and that snow and skiing are inconveniences. We're trying real hard to give you a two-season economy and will succeed in doing so in spite of you, most years.

Some of the most vocal snow authorities I have heard this year regarding our skiing haven't even been up to the ski area. We've worked damned hard to give people the best skiing we can and our snowmaking has done that. It is really good on the lower mountain. We've had a smaller percentage of unhappy customers this year because it is better than most of them expected. We can't lie to them about our conditions, but we can stress the positive: that it is possible to have fun skiing on less than a record snowfall year.

And to those of you who find snow and winter a real inconvenience, all I can say is: I hope you are inconvenienced often and greatly. El Paso and Tucson are great places to spend winters because we are a ski town, at least part of the year, and that generally means snow and cold.

To those of you who like the ski town part of Ruidoso, if you can't be positive about skiing being fun, at least be informed enough to know we are open until Easter.

To those of you who are also working hard to stress the positive—skiing is fun and the SKI APACHE RESORT is open—let me thank you.

DEAR EDITOR:

An open invitation to all building contractors—

In case you hadn't heard by now—the Humane Society of Lincoln County is going to build an animal shelter in this town! This project is something you should take an interest in. The presence of our animal shelter will make this community a better place for you, your children, and your pets. I imagine if you'd put your paper down right now and glance around your home, the chances are a dog or cat would give you a nod. An estimated 80% of all American families own a pet. A Humane Society animal shelter will directly benefit at least 80% of the citizens in Lincoln County. Far more will gain benefit indirectly. This is a worthwhile public service which needs your input.

Bids are currently being taken for the construction of our building on Gavilan Canyon Road. Copies of the building plans may be picked up at Rocky Mountain Drafting and Design, located at 1140 Mechem Drive, or by calling 354-2570 evenings. Cost estimates may be mailed to The Humane Society of Lincoln County, Box 1189 Ruidoso Downs, 88346, or may be brought to a special meeting of the Society on Wednesday, February 12 at noon in the village hall meeting room. Board members and executive officers will be available during this SANTA FE—It's not correct to say that this Legislature has so far accomplished nothing. It did open the best shoeshine stand the Roundhouse has ever had.

Other than that, maybe, it left a lot of things to be desired.

What's more, its non-accomplishment could turn into something worse if the whole set of tenuous relationships explode somewhere around the time you read these words. The ominous silence about important issues which prevailed in the early days, with the two major sides involved unable to come to terms with one another, made an explosion more likely for every day that passes.

There are lots of reasons for pressure, of course, most notably the chicken-and-egg problem lawmakers cannot escape facing. Should they decide first how much they can get away with in the way of tax raises, and then decide how to distribute those funds; or is it better to make decisions about what money absolutely needs to be spent, and then raise taxes to cover that amount?

That's a toughie to decide, because either approach has some validity about it.

What was clearly happening behind the scenes here in the first week and more of the session was that those doing the negotiating could not find totals for spending and taxes that could be brought into balance. As a result, they apparently ended up acting much like the famous donkey located exactly between two bales of hay.

But at least those doing that kind of dealing with one another in various private cubicles around the building seemed able to grasp the essential problem, which is no more than the fact that the state's bank accounts are about to come up dry, while the Constitution strictly forbids us to issue rubber checks.

The other, or non-leadership, members of the second regular session of the 37th Legislature, it must be admitted, mostly went on acting as though they are oblivious of that harsh fact. They were gaily tossing bills into the hopper with great abandon, almost every one of which would require the expenditure of dollars we just don't have.

That's one of the bad effects of having leaders who insist on making all the decisions themselves, with the ordinary members merely notified what has been settled on and instructed to go along with the program. While they wait around to give the word, such people tend to push their private interests and cultivate their own specific gardens, and the workings of the session get all clogged up with needless bills that result.

As though that were not enough, Governor Anaya kept messaging down other items that are actually too hot to handle.

Given the context in which all this was taking place—a session that is supposed to last only 30 days and that has to face the toughest of tough fiscal difficulties—lawmakers should have been spared having to reach decisions on wrenching educational questions like salary raises and the abolition of tenure in elementary and secondary schools; whether or not it's time for New Mexico to allow interstate banking; and how to reform a whole worker's compensation system that threatens to topple some of the companies that are still operating at a profit in New Mexico.

Any one of those complicated issues could easily occupy two weeks of serious discussion, with nothing else even being considered at the same time. As you can see, a 30-day session would only allow for two two-week debates, not the four or more this program called for.

And while all this is going on in the center ring, who knows what snippy little bills are making their way through the process that will get signed into law, and then come back to haunt us?

Don't be of the illusion that we in the news media really cover everything that goes on up here. There just aren't enough of us, and some of those who are here aren't of much help when it comes to deciding what's really important. What you get in the way of reporting is more often marked by superficiality and minimal appreciation of the meaning of it all than is by punditry.

Well, we'll live through it. We always have, for 74 years now, without ever literally arriving at the act of self-destruction.

It's just that this year we're a little closer to that terminal state than we have ever skirted before.

If Ruidoso is to prosper, it must diversify.

Our economy is closely tied to the ups and downs of the oil and agriculture industries in West Texas. When those industries prosper, we tend to prosper. But when they do not, Ruidoso suffers.

The agriculture industry's struggle has been well publicized. The continuing drop in the price of crude oil, now at its lowest level since 1979 according to one report, also has had an impact on the Ruidoso economy. As one businessman put it, "When the price of oil drops a dollar a barrel, I lose ten customers."

Certainly those industries will continue to provide the bulk of this area's business, but sole dependence on them will be a bumpy road to travel. Ruidoso must diversify.

We must continue to look for and develop new markets, and foster other reasons for people to come here.

The cities of Tucson and Phoenix, Arizona, and Albuquerque as well as other parts of Texas have been discussed as areas to be more completely marketed. Many businesspeople reported recently that their Christmas traffic largely was made up of Mexican nationals.

Providing people with new reasons to come here, rather than as tourists or vacationers, also could make a big difference in Ruidoso's future.

Suggestions to locate university-level educational facilities or "soft" industry here certainly should be supported and pursued.

Our dependence on industries as temporary and unpredictable as the oil industry will certainly result in unpredictable and temporary prosperity in the village. Let's smooth our path to prosperity. Let's diversify Ruidoso.—DJP

DEAR EDITOR:

I am writing this letter in response to the article written in Thursday's paper concerning the college-level classes given by New Mexico State University at Alamogordo (NMSU-A). When NMSU-A first offered classes here there was a lot of excitement generated. The newspaper had printed advance notices of forthcoming possible classes, credit hours, price of each credit hour, days and times the class would meet and the books needed. Result? Success! The paper even took pictures and interviews and everyone was happy.

So why such a negative attitude on the part of the University? Because they failed to do their job! Each semester there has been less and less advance notice of what was going to be offered here. Down to next to nothing! "...much as a marketing firm tests an area to market a product," you say Dr. Watson, I would have fired the firm representing your "company" a long time ago.

There is space available in this newspaper for community events at no charge. Yet our tuition is substantially higher and it is nice not to have to commute, but we also receive no help in the textbooks department. We do not have access to the reduced prices of used textbooks.

"All tuition must be paid before the first class", I was informed by the business office in Alamogordo, "because the school has been burned in the past." "Also, because we do not have an office up there and it is hard to collect long-distance." I personally have enrolled and paid for three classes in the past and this semester things being a little tight for all of us here in Ruidoso, it would be nice to see some system set up or someone hired to help out in this situation.

Instead of the same Freshman Comp. and Psychology 201 class, how about letting us all advance a little? When was the last time the University did a "market analysis" here on the students and the town. If a good business or organization keeps showing a loss it's time to sit at the conference table and do a thorough review. Only after giving a project your very best shot do you then close it down if it fails to meet your expectations.

In this case I do not feel the University has given Ruidoso its best shot. Many people have worked long and hard to see this program come to life here and I have benefited so much from the classes I have taken. I am also willing to help in any way to see this program stay here.

Sincerely,
MADY HOLSTEIN

Ministers hope to serve up 'Meals-On-Wheels' program

Last Friday at their meeting in Saint Eleanor's Catholic Church, the members of the Ministerial Alliance agreed to investigate the possibilities of making the "Meals-On-Wheels" program in Lincoln County completely independent of any governmental body.

"We don't want to just maintain the status quo of the program, we want to see some action, or make it ourselves," Saint Eleanor's Father Dave Bergs said.

The "Meals-On-Wheels" program is designed to identify and provide one or two hot meals a week for members of the community who may not have access to a warm meal for one reason or another.

But last Friday's meeting was an indicator of some of the problems that are associated with running a program like "Meals-On-Wheels," according to Mickie Reynolds, program director of Saint Eleanor's.

"I worked with the Lioness Club of Ruidoso when they helped with 'Meals-On-Wheels,' and to be honest, some of the members just started to burn out, and we couldn't get enough volunteers to keep it going," Reynolds said.

Father Burdette Stampley of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Mount wants to run an independent program in a manner that would show consistency to the community and the Ruidoso Village Council.

Stampley is a member of the Senior Citizens Advisory Board which serves the council regarding activities at the Adult Recreation Center (ARC).

Stampley told the members of the Ministerial Alliance he would like to see a "Meals-On-Wheels" program that could make meal deliveries to individual homes as well as to the ARC. Stampley said perhaps more of the elderly in the county would participate in the program if they could also enjoy the comradery of eating with other people.

But Pastor Charles Spooner of Community

Father David Bergs of Saint Eleanor's Catholic Church listens as a proposal is made to operate the "Meals-On-Wheels" program without governmental resources at a special meeting of the Ministerial Alliance last Friday at Saint Eleanor's Catholic Church.

United Methodist Church, and other members of the Ministerial Alliance thought some who regularly attend the ARC might resist having their routine interrupted by an organized program such as "Meals-On-Wheels." Spooner said the ARC kitchen is not certified by the state to prepare meals for large groups.

In other action, the Ministerial Alliance decided to:

—Reconvene at noon Monday, February 10.

—Find out the guidelines for the "Meals-On-Wheels" program.

—Ask Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital staff members for their input, and to help identify possible program recipients.

—Discuss the "Meals-On-Wheels" program with the members of their respective churches.

Spirited party

Animal shelter bids are sought

Bids are being sought for construction of an animal shelter by the Humane Society of Lincoln County (HSLC).

HSLC, a non-profit organization, encourages all contractors in Ruidoso and Lincoln County to become involved with the construction of the shelter.

"We're all excited about this undertaking," said John Hall, one of the project's volunteer consultants.

"There has been a critical need for a facility like this, and it's great to see everybody donating their time, pooling resources and ideas, and just doing what it takes to make it happen. It says a lot about the wonderful qualities of the people who live in this town and who want to make it a better place," Hall said.

Upon completion, the HSLC facility will provide many services for area residents. Besides being headquarters for HSLC, the building will serve as a resource center for public education on humane society topics.

The HSLC will provide sanctuary for homeless, neglected and abused animals.

Copies of the HSLC building plans are available at Rocky Mountain Drafting and Design which is located at 1140 Mecham Drive.

Arrangements to have the plans delivered may be made by calling 354-2570.

Cost estimates may be mailed to the Humane Society of Lincoln County, Box 1189, Ruidoso Downs, N.M. 88346.

Cost estimates also may be brought to a special meeting of the HSLC at noon Wednesday, February 12, in the village hall meeting room. Board members and executive officers will be available during this time to answer questions pertaining to construction of the shelter.

Michigan prison escapee is nabbed

An escapee from a Michigan prison was apprehended in Ruidoso Downs by a Ruidoso Police Department investigator.

Elwood Thornton Baldwin, 23, was arrested by Investigator Larry Maddox January 29 in Ruidoso Downs after Maddox received information from Western Wayne Correctional Facility superintendent Don Hoyne confirming that a fugitive warrant for Baldwin's arrest had been issued.

Maddox said Baldwin, also known as Vincent Bryan Roberts, apparently escaped from the Plymouth, Michigan, facility on September 24 by prying bars from a steam tunnel.

Maddox said Baldwin offered no resistance when apprehended. Baldwin was then transferred to the Lincoln County Jail. A fugitive complaint was issued by Assistant District Attorney Harry Wilcox Jr. and Baldwin is now awaiting extradition procedures, Maddox said.

Republican Women schedule meeting

The Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County (FRWLC), in an effort to increase membership, will have a champagne social from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, February 9, at the home of Opal Mills, 208 Mountain Shadows Road. The event will feature talks by two prominent Republican women in New Mexico.

Suzanne Cox, Lincoln County manager, will discuss "Women in Politics." She has had an active role in politics since accepting the position of county manager in 1982.

Before coming to the area, her political experience included two terms as Sierra County treasurer and two years as chief deputy assessor. She also served as secretary of the New Mexico Association of Counties. Cox has been recognized for her work with Emergency Medical Services and was recently named as "Woman of the Year" by the Carrizozo Woman's Club. She is married to Lincoln County Undersheriff Charlie Cox.

The president of the New Mexico Federation of Republican Women, Vivian Petura, will present "What NMFRW Offers Today's Woman." Petura has been an active Republican since moving to Rio Rancho from Washington D.C. in 1976. She was elected as president of the state Federated Republican Women in 1985, and previously served as a board member for that group.

Lois Aldrich, FRWLC president, will review the recent activities and accomplishments of the group. Membership chairman Noema Page urges all members to attend and bring other interested women. Music for the afternoon will be provided by Ron and Neil Harris. For more information, call 258-4148, 336-4050 or 258-5640.
