

Southwest Airlines shows interest in new airport

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Southwest Airlines has expressed an interest in serving the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport, said airport administrator Fred Heckman early today. He said a letter is on the way with that news.

"We are ecstatic," very pleased," said Heckman.

"I think it shows how important this airport is to a major supplier of transportation services," he added.

Heckman said a group of local businessmen deserve credit for this major step. He said John Hall of SDC Coldwell Banker, Ralph Petty of The Bank of Ruidoso, and Ken Green of The Ruidoso News have been working behind the scenes to acquire major commercial service to the regional facility on Fort Stanton mesa.

Green confirmed that the three have worked behind the scenes to gain the interest of commercial carriers with Southwest Airlines as their first big pitch.

"We just felt that it (Southwest Airlines) was a natural," said Green. He said Southwest is the largest carrier in Ruidoso's market area.

After hiring a consultant, Kevin Clear of Clear and Company, the group contacted the Jackson Hole Airport manager in Jackson, Wyoming.

They found that Southwest Airlines serves that resort area, which parallels Ruidoso in size, altitude and economic base.

"We thought, if they can do it why can't we," remarked Green.

He said they then added Jackson, Wyoming, consultant Mark Altman to their team.

After months of gathering statistics and figures about the Ruidoso area, the men met with Southwest officials in late April.

Clear said a letter is on the way from Southwest Airlines indicating an interest in this resort area as a destination. He said the southwest officials have reviewed the company's facts and figures the local group provided.

Clear said Southwest indicated an interest in offering input into the proposed facility so that it will meet Southwest's minimum standards.

Heckman said he and members of the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission are prepared to meet with Southwest. He said he'd like to talk with their technical people before going out for construction bids.

Before we made contact with anybody, we talked to the airport commissioners and individually noted Green, John Hall and they will continue to work with the commission.

"I'm feeling very good," said Hall in a telephone conversation this morning. He said the group has plans to contact other airlines, and will meet soon with another major carrier.

Hall said any airline service, even just chartered flights, could boost the area economy by $500,000 a year.

"I would like to see the town get behind making a major package deal with one or two of the major airlines," noted Hall.

Rains wash out bridges

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Editor

A sudden storm on Sierra Blanca late yesterday sent torrents of water down the already sodden Rio Ruidoso drainage, washing out bridges and stranding several homeowners.

Ruidoso assistant village manager Frank Potter reported the damage and amount of washed-down debris was the most he had seen since 1978.

Bonito Volunteer Fire Department Chief Howard Puckett reported this morning that 14 to 15 homes in the Shangri-La area of Eagle Creek Canyon Road were cut off by flooding waters.

All of us are stranded," Puckett said. The chief reported that no one was in imminent danger, though.

Puckett said the first bridge on Eagle Creek Canyon Road was completely washed out and the second, under water, condition unknown. In the Shangri-La subdivision, the whole roadway was underwater.

Puckett said the cut-off area is still in telephone and two-way radio contact with other areas.

Reports say the problem began early last evening. Potter said Ski Apache Resort officials called to warn of heavy rains on the mountain last evening. Later reports put the total rainfall on the mountain at more than nine inches.

Puckett said Eagle Creek rose two and one-half feet from 6 to 7:30 p.m., and continued rising until 2 a.m. He said the waters subsided gradually until about 7 a.m. when they appeared to rise again.

In Ruidoso, several calls of high water were received by Ruidoso Police about 11:30 p.m. Deputy Chief Jim Alston reported this morning that no Ruidosoans were stranded or in danger.

The Paradise Canyon Drive bridge, out and all bridges down to and from Paradise Canyon are temporarily closed due to the high waters, Alston reported.

Ruidoso officials gathered this morning at Village Hall to plan a strategy to deal with the flooding. Potter was hopeful all damage would be repaired by the weekend, if the rains subside.

Waters of the Rio Ruidoso and Eagle Creek rose to a peak this morning, washing out several bridges and cutting off access to the Shangri-La subdivision. Village officials gathered this morning in efforts to remedy the damage.

Airport planners believe airport land may be paid for by FmHA loan

by FRANKIE JARRELL

The Ruidoso Village Council Tuesday restored its earlier intent to retain the Ruidoso Municipal Airport land when the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport (SBRA) is opened, and began exploring funding possibilities for the airport.

Heckman said the village is in a position to pay for the airport, but the village is not sure it can keep the airport open. He said the village is not sure it can keep the airport open, but the village is not sure it can keep the airport open.

Planning and Zoning, schools, chamber to meet

The Ruidoso Board of Education will meet at 8 a.m. Friday, June 27, in a special meeting at the school administration building to accept bids for the proposed new lighting system at W.D. Horton Stadium.

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will meet at noon today (Thursday, June 26), at the chamber. The board usually meets every third Wednesday of each month. The meeting is open to the public.

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce-Economic Development Task Force will meet at 4 p.m. today at Texas-New Mexico Power Company.

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission has scheduled a special meeting at 10:30 a.m. Friday, June 27, in council chambers of Village Hall.

Items on the agenda include: Introduction of new members: Marie Rooney, Edith Nichols and Pete Thompson.

County Commission will be lead agency on airport road

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

The Lincoln County Commission got the go ahead Monday from the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission (SBAC) to serve as lead agency in the planning and building of an access road to the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport (SBRA).

That agreement came during a joint meeting resulting from last week's dispute over whether the county or the SBAC would control a State Highway Department grant of $600,000.

The grant was announced recently by State Highway Commissioner Bill Lee as seed money for a feasibility study or whatever else is needed to engineer and design an access road to the proposed airport on Fort Stanton mesa.

The first problem at Monday's joint meeting was who would sit where as county and airport commissioners vied for seating at the head table. That problem settled, with county commissioner Bill Elliott and A.W. Galt, Gnatkowski seated in the center of the table and airport commissioners Leonard Buchanan, Jim Morris and Benny Coker crowded around one end. SBAC Chairman Ker Nosker, also a county commissioner, first took a seat with the airport group and then moved to join the county commission.

After calling the meeting to order, Elliott told the standing-room-only crowd that the County Commission had a personnel problem and the three commissioners retired for the next hour and a half into executive session.

Airport contract administrator Fred Heckman later suggested to Morris, SBAC vice-chairman, that the county commission should not take any action on the road project until the county commission had a personnel problem and the three commissioners retired for the next hour and a half into executive session.

Three plea for relief to council

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Village Council, during a regular meeting Tuesday, heard emotional pleas from citizens on three unrelated subjects.

Rex Vaughan of the Hollywood Inn asked the council to stop Ruidoso Police officers from stopping in his parking lot. Charlotta Stewart related a problem she had with the Water Department and a group of Humane Society members questioned municipal animal control procedures.

"I don't really believe that this council knows what's going on," said Vaughan. He said it hurts his business to have police cars in his parking lot and driveway, and asked the council to stop the practice.

Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. read a memo from Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor instructing officers not to park in the lot or driveway of the Hollywood Inn.

Stewart's problem arose over a village ordinance requiring property owners to pay a minimum monthly charge to the Water Department or have their water meter removed. She explained that the ordinance cost her over $500 when she finally sold a building on Mechem Drive.

"To me it's extortion and it's unjust gain," complained Stewart. She said she was also treated rudely by a Water Department employee.

Village councillors sympathized with Stewart over the rude treatment, but stood by the ordinance.

Heated exchanges between Humane Society of Lincoln County members and animal control contractor Jim Wooldridge preceded a council decision to amend Wooldridge's animal control proposal before awarding a new contract for his services.

Wooldridge submitted a proposal for a three-year contract at $48,536.33 per year, but the council added a clause calling for a yearly review with the option to renew or terminate before accepting the proposal.

Village Councillor Jerry Shaw opposed the contract. She proposed negotiating with the Lincoln County Sheriff, who submitted a letter stating he could provide the service for $30,000 a year.

Please see Three, page 2A

Shaw said by accepting the lower bid, the village could help the Humane Society complete a facility to house abandoned and abused animals locally.

Humane Society members expressed a desire to work with animal control by providing confinement facilities. It was learned that the group needs $20,000 to complete a building under way on Gavilan Canyon Road.

Berney Farwick, a Humane Society member, said conditions at the Fort Stanton pens utilized by Woodriddle are "deplorable." He challenged Woodriddle to "clean up his act" before asking for a new contract.

Woodriddle and his wife, Jan, said they want to work with the Humane Society, but have been rebuffed. Jan Woodriddle said she provides the services the Humane Society professes to provide reuniting owners and animals and finding homes for abandoned animals.

"So many of you don't know what we do," said Jan Woodriddle. She said her office often is called into the county because the county animal control officer can't be found.

In other business Tuesday, the council:

—Approved a land exchange in Midway Townsite previously approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

—Unanimously approved an amendment to a village ordinance, lessening requirements for building permits on structures not adding square footage.

Repealed the Abatement of Dangerous Buildings ordinance.

Adopted the village budget for the 1986-87 fiscal year.

Accepted Mayor Davis's appointments to various boards and commissions. The mayor said some members will continue to serve and some are new appointees.

Adult Recreation Advisory Board—Burdette Stampley, Flora Elliott, W.O. Rucker, Florie Rapp, Cece Suddehr Griffin, Ellen Long and Leo Romero. Airport Advisory Board—Roy Parker, Wayne Dacy, Howard Tate and Myrt Vitow. (Still one member short.)

Cemetery Advisory Board—Alma Russell, Helga Haake, J.D. James, Charles Lane and Jeanne Moore.

Economic Development Board—Jerry Shaw and Slover Cape.

Library Board—Betty Foster, Jo Leland, Howard Tate, Ken Green, Ann Denton, Ruth Shockley and Emadair Jones.

Lodgers' Tax Advisory Board—Dan Kelley.

Parks and Recreation Committee—Rick Davis, Demaris Howell, Dick Shaw and Ray Nunley.

Planning and Zoning Commission—Ken Carr, Eddie Nichols, Pete Thompson and Marie Rooney.

Personnel Board—Don Samuels, Don Weems and Jim Carpenter.

—Heard village engineer Mike

Davalos report that Grindstone Canyon dam is slightly behind schedule.

—Heard the engineer's recommendations for public use of the trash compactor, including a suggestion that public use be limited to 1-4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

—Agreed to apply for a beer license for next year's softball season after hearing a report from Underwood.

—Awarded the bid on electrical generators at the Eagle Creek well field to low bidder Sandia Diesel of Albuquerque at $13,344. The equipment will be leased for two months and two weeks to provide power to utilize the wells.

—Awarded the bid on asphalt concrete aggregate and base course to low bidder Bonnel Sand and Gravel of Glencoe at $232,500.

—Postponed discussions of a change order on the Eagle Creek well field project.

—Adopted personnel policy guidelines suggested by Village Councillor Larry Simon.

Teacher-student reunion

Chester and Gladys Stricklin will be the guests of a reunion with students they taught 50 to 55 years ago in Cress, Texas. The "This is Your Life" celebration is set for August 23 at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock, Texas. Chester Stricklin spent 41 years in education in Texas, and has a junior high school in Denton, Texas, named after him. The two part-time Ruidosoans have been guests of Tall Pines RV Park every summer for 17 years.

Task force devises strategy to diversify Ruidoso

by SHARI LEWIS

News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce Economic Development Task Force (EDTF) said Thursday one of its goals will be to establish a four-year college in Ruidoso.

"Our focus, in relation to the already existing airport land, is to attempt to attract a college, a privately funded, four-year college," co-chairman Rick Evans said.

Evans stressed that the committee will actively pursue other possibilities to help diversify the economy in Ruidoso.

"We need to bring jobs into the community and make Ruidoso a more year-round place to live.

"Beginning today, we're looking at three to five years before we get any results," Evans said.

Guest speaker Terry Beck, of Fort Worth, Texas, presented an introductory program on economic development to the committee. Although his presentation was primarily focused on industrial development, he said there are four basic steps to developing a successful task force of any kind.

"First, there needs to be organization, which Ruidoso already has. Second, you need preparation. Third, you need actual implementation of training members of the group, and finally, once the committee has started, you need to go out into the community and evaluate the problems and assets it has," Beck said.

Many communities are actively looking into economic development of their areas, Beck said.

"What Ruidoso needs to do is go out into the community and focus on what is unique about Ruidoso and sell that aspect hard," Beck said.

Ruidoso's primary assets include the aesthetics of the town itself and the existing airport land, Evans said.

"The land is so unique. It is the only game in town, in terms of its size and utilities available. That land could be available to us," Evans said.

He said the EDTF was originally designed to serve only the Ruidoso area.

"Originally, we were limiting the task force to Ruidoso, but the door is open to anyone who wants to come in and participate," Evans said.

Evans said the EDTF will have four subcommittees: a budget committee, a contact team, a communication group and a research committee.

He's mad about mud

Joe Wheatley says he is "fed up" with being flooded out.

His mobile home lot, located in River Park, a subdivision behind the Bill Pippin Real Estate building in Ruidoso Downs, is subject to constant flooding.

The recent rains in the area have brought the problem to what looks like a beach head.

By Monday, his front and backyard were soaking in pools of water.

"I have spent a lot of time and money trying to solve the problem myself, but I want the Village of Ruidoso Downs to do something about it right now," Wheatley said.

When Gary Mitchell gets back into town, I am going to instruct him to file a lawsuit against the village of Ruidoso Downs for both property damages and my mental anguish," the Lincoln County tax appraiser said.

"I have called everyone in the village since September of 1985 and have gotten no satisfaction," Wheatley said.

"All last Monday I got the run around, so Monday night I called Jake Downs mayor J.C. 'Jake' Harris," Wheatley said.

"At first he explained things to me that made sense, but I got mad and told him the village was going to pay for the damage to my property," Wheatley said.

"He just said 'we'll see about that,' and hung up," Wheatley said. Ruidoso Downs Trustee and street commissioner Conrad Buchanan said, "I have to admit he (Wheatley) has come to my office at least three or four times to discuss his drainage problems."

"They do have a serious problem in River Park, but I hope in two or three weeks we will have a solution for him," Buchanan said.

The village is seeking permission from private property owners above Wheatley to dig a ditch to temporarily solve the problem, Buchanan said.

Ruidoso Downs Village engineer Barrett Atkins said, "We will have a short-term solution."

But, though it will take quite a bit of planning and money, a long-term solution, such as a master drainage plan for the entire village, is the only answer," Atkins said.

Joe Wheatley's mobile home lot in the River Park subdivision in Ruidoso Downs seems to flood when there are heavy rains. He said he will sue the Village of Ruidoso Downs because they have not done anything about the drainage problem on his street for over a year.

"It's just a constant problem," added Weldon, explaining that he has designated one staff member, Renee Lee of Alamogordo, to work full-time with worthless checks.

Before submitting a returned check to the DA, Weldon said the receiver should send a 10-day certified notice as required by law. If there is no response after the 10 days, he said the check and the certified receipt should be taken to one of the collection points for resolution or prosecution.

Weldon said the problem is no worse than usual, but he wants to remind Lincoln County residents that his office is working to collect worthless checks and prosecute the writers.

"The reason we are publicizing it is because the sheriff is going around saying we are not prosecuting," remarked Weldon. "That is just not true," he added.

"We intend to carry on as we always have," noted Weldon.

Post office to celebrate July 4

Ruidoso Postmaster Terry Hayes said the staff of the main post office will celebrate Independence Day early this year.

Hayes invites everyone to drop by and have coffee, donuts and cookies in the lobby of the main post office from 8 a.m. until noon, Wednesday, July 2.

The main post office staff will be dressed in the traditional red, white and blue.

Spirit plans to welcome Texans

Thank you Texans. The second annual Texas Appreciation Weekend, June 27-29, is just around the corner with festivities planned for the entire weekend.

Spirit of Ruidoso members, area merchants and citizens of Ruidoso want our neighbors to the east to know they are appreciated. A schedule of events follows:

Friday... Quality Inn and Tierra Del Sol are co-sponsoring a wine and cheese party in the courtyard of the Quality Inn, east Highway 70, at 6:30 p.m.

Friday afternoon and Saturday morning... Twelve couples will be chosen at random to be Texas ambassadors for the day. Ruidoso police officers will stop 12 cars with Texas license plates. The occupants will receive a bottle of champagne, a yellow rose and tickets to be eligible for prizes later that day.

Saturday... A party and dance is scheduled from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Sierra Mall parking lot on Mechem Drive. Music will be provided by the Clay Mac Band and area service clubs will sponsor game and food booths with everything from tamales and sausage-on-a-stick to corn-on-the-cob and watermelon.

Sunday... Race Day at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track will feature a Spirit sponsored "blanket race." Winners from Saturday night's drawing will be guests of the Turf Club.

Visitors are asked to look for red hearts and Texas flags in area merchants' windows throughout the weekend. The hearts and flags are part of a package purchased by more than 180 area merchants to promote Texas Appreciation Weekend. Participating merchants will be offering specials to Texan visitors.

An article in last Thursday's issue of The News listed area service clubs that will be sponsoring booths at Saturday's party and dance. The Ruidoso Woman's Club, sponsoring a cake walk booth, was inadvertently omitted.

Area merchants gear up for Texas Appreciation Weekend this Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Herbert Brunell (left) receives a "We Love Texans" heart and flag from Spirit of Ruidoso member Ron McWilliams. Brunell's is one of 185 area businesses participating in the appreciation celebration.

Lifetime love for horses brings watercolorist sudden recognition and praise in the Southwest

by STEVE STEIN
Staff Writer

Watercolorist Gay Stokes may finally be hitting her stride.

She is sure the first picture she ever drew was of a horse, and now horses may help her prove her ability as an artist to the public.

Her love for horses began when Bill Nicholas, her grandfather, gave her a Shetland pony when she was three years old and living in Littlefield, Texas.

Nicholas had a profound influence on both her personal and professional development, Stokes said.

In her late 20s, after being a secretary in Houston, Texas, for most of her adult life, she decided she needed a change, even though she was married and had a child.

Everyone in her family, including her husband, Ted R. Stokes, who is now a racehorse trainer at Ruidoso Downs, knew she had artistic

Just as Stokes began her college career, her grandfather—the man who had always had faith in her—died.

Stokes was depressed, and the abstract and surrealistic form of art being taught at UH seemed to be well suited to her state-of-mind.

But when she recovered from the depression caused by her grandfather's death, she returned to equine and western themes in her work.

Most of her neo-expressionist classroom peers at UH were shocked by her choice of seemingly common subject matter, but her professors were complimentary and encouraging.

A ceramics instructor at the University of Houston, Huey Beckham, was one of the first people to tell Stokes she had a lot of artistic potential.

And as she began to gain confidence in her work, she realized she needed to challenge herself as painting of their horse for $75. She sold about 20 commissioned paintings from her photo efforts.

Eventually her husband became a full-time trainer in Ruidoso and Stokes found herself working in jewelry repair for Ruidoso goldsmith Tim Wishard.

Wishard was working on an electroplated bronze saddle series for an art project by Snidow, and Stokes knew how to clean waxes on

Out of 500 entries, only a handful were chosen to be displayed in the well-known show. All three of Stokes' pieces were selected for the show.

In March of this year, she entered the Llano Estacado Art Association competition in Hobbs.

One of her pieces, which she executed especially for the show in Hobbs, was honored with a special "Top Five In Show" prize.

Stokes poses with "Bandana," the painting that won special honors and a $250 cash award, in a Llano Estacado Art Association competition conducted recently in Hobbs. This detailed, layered watercolor demonstrates Stokes' meticulous-but colorful and bold watercolor style. It is on display, along with several other of her works, during gallery hours at the Carrizo Art Lodge.

bronze molds.

Stokes was honored when Wishard asked her to become more involved with Snidow's saddle series, because she had always admired Snidow's work.

When the bronze saddle series was completed, part of which is now on display at Gray Fox Gallery, Snidow returned the compliment.

After seeing Stokes' watercolors, he encouraged her to become a full-time artist.

When Stokes' husband began training horses in Del Rio, Texas, she kept busy with freelance work.

Since Stokes had never had problems selling her work, she decided to enter some art shows.

In February of this year, she came back to her Ruidoso residence and sent three pieces of her work to the prestigious Irving Arts Board/Texas Neighbors Art Competition in Irving, Texas.

Stokes was also awarded $250 for this piece, entitled "Bandana," from the Llano Estacado Art Association.

"Bandana," and several other watercolors by Stokes, are now hanging in the gallery at Carrizo Lodge, which was recently reopened by its new management.

"As soon as I asked the owners if they were interested in displaying Gay's work, everyone wanted to know how much they were and how soon they could get one. And the guest artists are impressed, too," new Carrizo Lodge art director Carla Tam said.

Stokes' works can be seen during gallery hours at Carrizo Lodge. She welcomes commissions and inquires.

FESTIVE WATERMELON BOAT

For a festive buffet, a party, a barbecue or any special gathering ... what could be more attractive and delicious than a tasty fresh fruit salad in a watermelon boat? Be creative with your watermelon half or boat! When carving mine, I leave a "handle" of sorts in the middle of the half I will use for the boat, and I carve a decorative border on the watermelon's edge. Don't let summer go by without making one of these! It's such a colorful and refreshing addition to any summer meal.

Festive Watermelon Boat

- 1 watermelon
- 1 cantaloupe
- 1 honeydew melon
- ½ fresh pineapple
- 1 quart strawberries
- 2 lbs. peaches
- 1 lb. seedless red or green grapes
- one-quarter cup sugar
- poppy-seed dressing (see recipe below)

Cut watermelon in half, leaving the "handle" in the middle and removing the meat. Carve a decorative border on the edge and cut the watermelon into bite-size chunks. Peel the cantaloupe and honeydew melon and cut into chunks. Peel and core pineapple; cut into bite-size pieces also. Wash and stem strawberries, leaving whole. Peel and slice peaches; sprinkle with lemon juice. Wash grapes and remove from stem.

Mix all fruits and sugar together in a large bowl. Pile into watermelon half. Extra fruit may be refrigerated until needed to refill "boat." Serve with poppy-seed dressing (below).

Poppy-Seed Dressing

- 1½ cups sugar
- 2 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. mustard
- 5 Tbsp. grated onion
- ¾ cup vinegar
- 2 cups salad oil
- 4 Tbsp. poppy seeds

Combine all ingredients in a food processor with the exception of the oil and the poppy seeds. Mix well. With machine running, gradually add oil. Stir poppy seeds in by hand. Refrigerate.

talent.

She decided to go to college to become an art education major so she could at least teach art in school.

Her grandparents believed in her and her talent enough to help finance her college courses.

She entered the University of Houston (UH) in 1978.

much as possible.

She enrolled in a difficult bronze casting course at Rice University, which would later enable her to help well-known artist Gordon Snidow with one of his art projects.

After Stokes graduated from UH with an art education degree, she taught art classes in the Galena Park Independent School District near Houston for about two years.

On weekends she and her husband, who was not a full-time conditioner at the time, often went to Louisiana to enjoy the horseraces.

Gay Stokes approached horse owners with photos of their horses and asked them if they would like a

Lee family has Ruidoso reunion

For the last 22 years in a row, the Lee family, descendants of General Robert E. Lee have met at various Ruidoso lodges for a family reunion.

In about 1911, three covered wagons from East Texas stopped in Plainview, Texas.

Addison and Grace Lee and two of their children were on one of the wagons. They decided to start a crop in Plainview according to 77-year-old Harry Lee, the oldest living descendant of Addison and Grace Lee.

But the elder Lee did not see any real future in Plainview and he came to New Mexico to look for a place to raise his family.

He got a job as a mailcarrier in Redlake.

Addison and Grace had 10 children. Eight are still living and attended the reunion at the Blue Spruce Cabins last weekend.

Four generations of Lees were in Ruidoso last weekend. Harry Lee was the oldest representative of the family and three-week-old Cheyanna Rose Akins was the youngest Lee descendant at the reunion, according to Steven Lee of Sandy, Utah.

These are the daughters and sons of Addison and Grace Lee, pioneers in Southeastern New Mexico. They are descendants of General Robert E. Lee, and have been coming to Ruidoso for the last 22

Four generations of descendants of General Robert E. Lee came to Ruidoso for their 22nd annual Lee family reunion. In the third row at far right is three-week-old Cheyanna Rose Akins (in her mother's arms), the youngest Lee at the reunion. Next to her, with his arm around Cheyanna's mother, is 77 year-old Harry Lee, the oldest Lee at the family reunion. Lee descendants came from as far away as Miami, Florida, for this year's Lee family reunion.

Tucker, Hall win Cree ladies title

Terry Tucker and Kay Hall carded a 74 to win the Cree Meadows Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament overall gross title Wednesday afternoon.

The Carlsbad players shot a 34 on the front nine and a 40 on the back nine, playing in the championship flight. Tuesday's round was cancelled because of the rainy weather.

"We helped each other out," Tucker said. "We played good partnership."

Claudine Morrison and Dorothy Burgess won the overall net crown, shooting a 56.

Joyce Vanlandingham and Wanda Hardy won the championship flight gross title with a 76. Melba Draper and Marian Senteno were second at 78.

Kaki Schwetzmann and Karon Petty won the championship flight net title with a 63. Maxine Mitchell and Alyce Van Tussenbroek were second at 65.

Bobbie Abel and Pat Walter took the first flight gross crown with an 84. Helen McDaniel and Ann Cunningham won the net championship with a 60.

Fran Russell and Betty Wright won the second flight gross championship with a 94.

Terry Tucker (left) and Kay Hall were the overall gross winners in the Cree Meadows Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament Wednesday.

Warrior tennis players have busy summer

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Some Ruidoso High School tennis players are staying busy during the summer competing in tournaments.

A total of six Warriors competed in the Sun City Invitational in El Paso, Texas, June 9-12. Glenn Westergren, Marnie Warlick, Eric Collins, Candice Makowski, Mikki Roller and Chrissy Crocker participated in the El Paso tournament.

All those players plus Dusty Skellett competed in the Southwestern Junior Closed (sectionals) Tournament in Albuquerque June 14-18.

Warlick and Westergren did the best in the tournaments. Warlick competed in the girls 16-singles division and Westergren participated in the boys 18-singles competition.

Warlick will be a sophomore and Westergren a senior in the fall.

"I would say right now Marnie is probably among the top 18 players in her division in the Southwest right now," Ruidoso head coach Mike Crocker said. "Glenn probably is in the top 25 players in his division."

"Marnie is only 15 and Glenn is only 17. Those tournaments were probably as tough or tougher than a state high school tournament. There probably were around 800 players in each tournament."

Westergren teamed with now-graduated Zach Swalander in the state high school AAA-division doubles competition last month. His singles game also has improved.

The netters plan to stay busy the rest of the summer, competing in a tournament at least once a month.

NOTES-The Inn of the Mountain Gods will have the Lipton Iced Tea Mixed Doubles Tournament Saturday and Sunday, June 28-29. The next tournament on the Warrior players' schedule probably will be the Apache Junior Open Friday through Sunday, July 4-6.

with Gary Brown

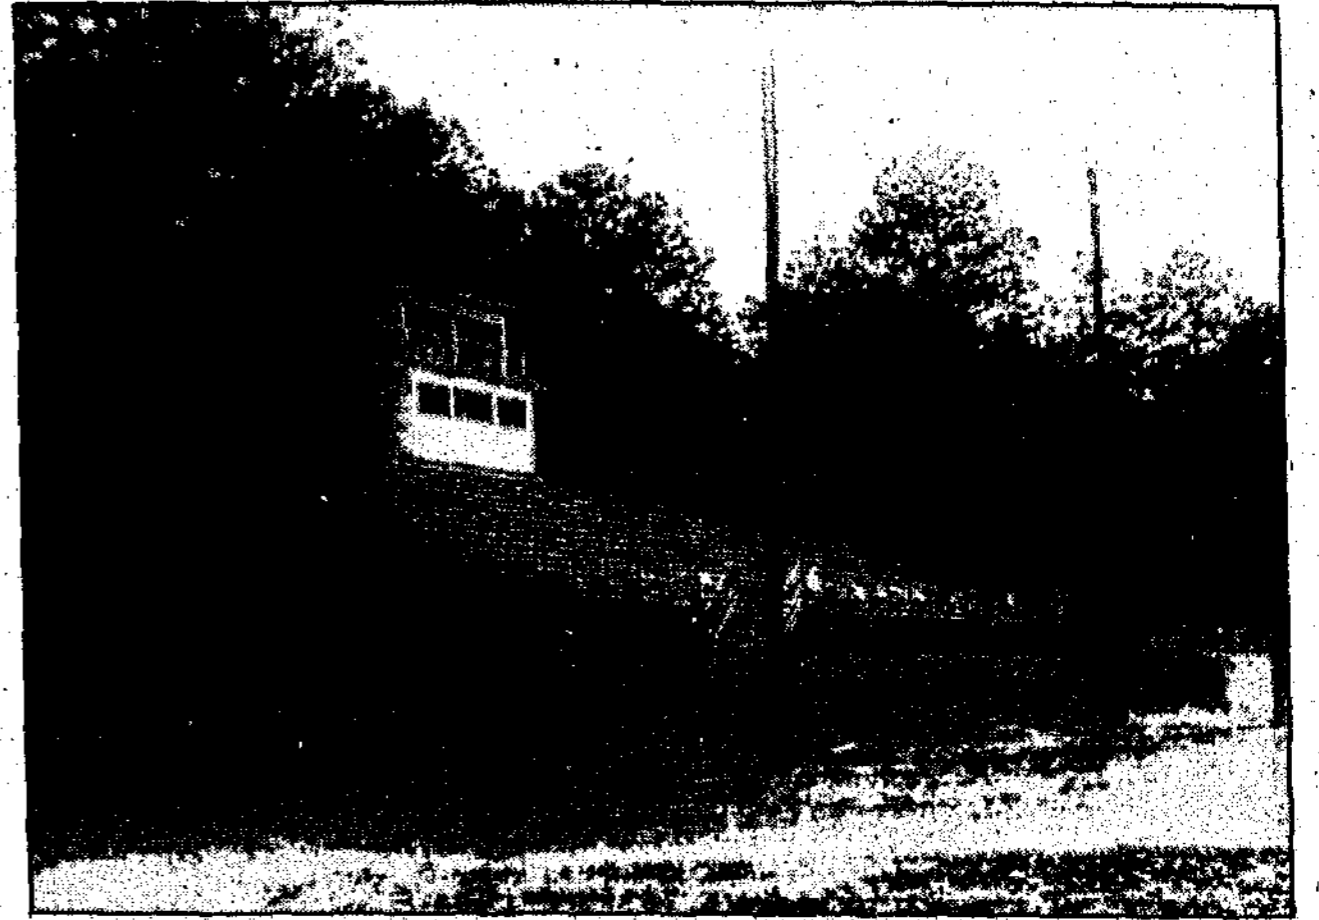

Perhaps the biggest improvements will be the new bleachers. About 1,000 more seats will be added to the home side and 700 will be added to the visitors' side. The present visitors' bleachers also will be remodeled.

There will be four new steel poles with lights on them in place of the current wooden poles. The lights will be behind the bleachers and have more power.

The current press box will be moved from the home side to the visitors' side, and a bigger one will be put on the home side. New walkways, a retaining wall and metal fences also will be added, among other things. It will make it easier for people to move around.

"Hopefully the project will be done by the first football game (Friday, August 29, against Artesia)," Ruidoso School Superintendent Sid Miller said. "If the lights aren't ready, we'll just use the old ones."

The entire project should cost between $150,000 and $200,000. All in all, the new improvements should make an evening of watching football at W.D. Horton Stadium even more enjoyable.

W.D. Horton Stadium is due for some major remodeling this summer.

Softball Results

Monday and Tuesday night's action in the Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League and Lincoln County Men's Softball League was postponed because of heavy rains.

The games will be made up later. Tonight's (Thursday), June 26, men's action will see the Mountain Pest Control Terminators take on the Nads and the Ginks play Super 8 at 6:15; the Knights will play Ski West and the White Mountain Ex-on Tigers will take on the Amigos at 7:30; and Roybal Electric will play the Aces and the Cut Above Clippers will take on Alto Construction at 8:45.

Men's action will continue Friday, June 27. There will be women's games and men's games Monday, June 30.

A Safe Choice

We're here to Help

Incorporating our electrical safety tips into your lifestyle is a safe choice for ensuring the security of your family. If you want to make a safe choice, remember to follow our advice below.

- Avoid the use of water around electrical outlets or appliances. Water conducts electricity, so keep all electrical wiring away from water, especially around bathtubs or sinks. Child proof your electrical outlets with Child Safety Plugs, too.

- Teach your children about power line safety. Never touch a power line with anything, including antennas, tree pruning tools, ladders, kite strings, or sailboat masts.

- If you see a fallen power line, do not get close to it. Report it to either our office or the local law enforcement officials.

You can use and enjoy the benefits of electricity—the safest and cleanest power choice—but you have to make sure that it is not used carelessly. Call our office today for more information.

Was Billy the Kid really killed by the guns of Pat Garrett in 1881?

by STEVE STEIN
News Staff Writer

(Second in a three-part series)

The next sequence in the life of "Brushy" Bill Roberts, or "Billy the Kid," covers Roberts' story of his escape from Sheriff Pat Garrett and a Fort Sumner posse in July 1881.

Once again, Roberts' story is based on research by historians C.L. Sonnichsen and William Tunstall. Roberts' led an active and bizarre life, parts of which Tunstall has documented, until his death in 1950.

Many people believe Roberts was Billy the Kid, many do not, but Roberts' story of his escape from Fort Sumner and his actual life after 1881, the year Billy the Kid was supposedly killed by Sheriff Pat Garrett in Fort Sumner, is fascinating.

As Roberts told it, he and Garrett had a very secret arrangement planned that would enable him to leave New Mexico.

The "Kid" was considered a killer by some, but Garrett had family ties to friends of Billy the Kid, and considered the "Kid" a friend.

The fact that Billy the Kid and Garrett had drinks together in El Paso, Texas, Mesilla and Roswell is documented.

So who was killed the night of July 14, 1881, in Fort Sumner?

As the legend goes, Billy the Kid had been dancing with other young people at a friend's house near Fort Sumner the night he supposedly died.

As is often the case with young people, when the food is gone they believe the party begins to dull.

The Kid and his good friend Billy Barlow, a fun-loving, Spanish speaking teen-ager, knew the Maxwell family—who were friendly with Billy the Kid—had food.

The Kid was supposed to leave the territory that day or night and Garrett was secretly in Fort Sumner to see his political problem (the Kid) headed for Texas. He knew he might talk to the Kid at the Maxwell's and he waited there for him.

Garrett did not inform any authorities he was in Fort Sumner, and a posse led by U.S. Deputy Marshall John Poe was also keeping tabs on the Maxwell house to try and capture Billy the Kid.

The Kid feared Poe and Garrett because both were under tremendous pressure from territorial Governor Lew Wallace to capture him.

But, since he was having a good time, he sent Barlow down to the Maxwell house to ask for food while he waited on a nearby hill.

Barlow stumbled into the dark Maxwell house and sensed someone was sitting in the bedroom.

"Who is it?" he asked in Spanish. "Who is it?" he asked again.

Garrett got nervous because he believed the stranger (Barlow) had pulled out his knife.

He shot and killed Barlow.

Billy the Kid, hearing the shots, ran to check on Barlow, and Poe's posse had also headed toward the shots at the Maxwell house.

The Kid called to the posse to tell them he was alone, but he also began to fire at them.

The posse unloaded a barrage of bullets in the direction of the Kid. One went through his mouth and out his jaw.

As he ran away clutching his jaw, another bullet grazed his scalp.

The Kid escaped to the safety of friends in the area who treated his wounds and suggested he go to Mexico.

He entered Mexico through Anthony, Texas, about 10 to 15 days after he was shot, and was known as Ollie L. "Brushy" Bill Roberts the rest of his life.

Barlow was secretly buried by Maxwell and Garrett.

The funeral for the Kid was carried out under mysterious circumstances.

The Fort Sumner townsfolk wanted to attend, and press from the The Las Vegas Optic, then the paper from the largest city in New Mexico, were in the area on another matter.

But, the funeral was carried out secretly, and the man buried was not Billy the Kid, not Billy Barlow, but according to Poe—and witnesses who saw the casket before the funeral—not even a man at all, but a side of beef!

Garrett needed a coroner's report to collect his $500 reward from the state for the death of Billy the Kid.

Much to the dismay of Garrett, Poe said he had killed the wrong man to witnesses at the scene of the Kid's supposed death.

Garrett filed two separate death reports after the incident.

Garrett never filed a certificate with the local sheriff's office which stated he had slain the Kid in the line of duty.

Much to the surprise of recognized historians, no coroner's report was ever completed or filed with the state, and Garrett was denied his $500 reward by state officials, but Wallace paid him from miscellaneous state funds.

In 1949, the Secretary of State of New Mexico, Alicia Romero, told William Morrison of El Paso (who had tried to prove Roberts was the Kid until his death) there was no coroner's report in state records on the Kid's death.

She said, "Our records failed to disclose the report or coroner's report with reference to the purported death of William H. Bonney, alias the Kid, alias William Antrim."

Also in 1949, the clerk of the District Court in Las Vegas in San Miguel County told Morrison in an official document, "There is no record in this office of any coroner's verdict in the purported death of William H. Bonney."

Some historians say they have seen a coroner's report on the inquest into the Kid's death.

But it appears the only official documents on the incident in Fort Sumner were generated by Garrett, who gave Wallace an official report in order to collect his $500 reward for killing Billy the Kid.

Was Billy the Kid actually killed that July night in 1881, or was he the wounded victim of a secret plan that backfired?

Did Billy the Kid escape to Mexico, and eventually live out his life under the alias of Ollie L. "Brushy" Bill Roberts?

(Next—the strange, strange life of "Brushy" Bill Roberts after 1881—which includes fighting in the Spanish American War along with a man who claimed to be Jesse James, fighting for Pancho Villa, rounding up Indians who would not stay on the reservation, joining a rodeo, joining an anti-horse thief society, marrying five times and finally, making the Governor of New Mexico for a pardon for crimes he committed as Billy the Kid, just before his death in 1950).

"Brushy" Bill Roberts not only spent time serving in the Spanish-American War, but also fought for Pancho Villa, (in the middle of the photograph surrounded by two of his top generals). Roberts' life after 1881 will be explored in the last part of the series on this adventurous man. A picture of Roberts together with a man who claimed to be Jesse James will be included. Downs Trustees don't act on 'invalid' petition

Based on a legal opinion by acting Village of Ruidoso Downs attorney Richard Hawthorne, the Village of Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees decided not to act on a petition which asked them to consider a resolution to change the size of the governing body in the Downs.

At a regular meeting of the trustees last Monday, Ruidoso Downs Mayor J.C. "Jake" Harris read the petition from the Ruidoso Downs residents to the other trustees and those present at the meeting.

He also read Hawthorne's legal opinion on the petition.

Village clerk JoAnn Jenkins read a letter on an interpretation of the intent of the statute to change the size of a mayor-council governing body from New Mexico Municipal League (NMMML) lawyer, Steve Barshov.

Barshov's letter simply explained the procedures by which governing boards can be increased or decreased, and which members are subject to a special election.

In a phone conversation yesterday (Wednesday), Barshov stated from his Santa Fe office he could only interpret the intent of municipal statutes (many of which he wrote) on changing the size of certain governing bodies, not comment on actions by the trustees or the petitioners.

However, he did say he did not believe there was a way to recall a mayor in a mayor-council form of government in New Mexico.

Barshov said people in villages who feel unhappy about a certain law, or a lack of a law on a particular subject, should make their feelings known to state legislators.

Organizers and supporters of the petition to conduct a special trustees and mayoral election in the Downs said the trustees had not heard the "end of things."

Gary Mitchell, attorney for the petition organizers, could not be reached for comment.

Harris told those present at the regular meeting, "We have determined the petition is invalid and not subject to debate."

In other business the trustees: —Adopted an ordinance on new business registration. —Adopted an open meetings act.

Evangelist will preach

—Heard the Downs was in need of better drainage facilities, streets and curbs from residents at the meeting.

—Discussed the best procedures to apply for Federal Community Development Block Grants and funds from the New Mexico Community Assistance fund.

—Accepted the lowest bid for a new four-wheel-drive vehicle for the Downs street department.

—Heard there were problems with the DiPaolo Hill Road paving project.

—Accepted the lowest bid for maintenance on the Ruidoso Downs Municipal Building.

—Adjourned into executive session to discuss personnel and other matters.

The Silver Lining

Happy Birthday To Rene Parker

Rene Parker, daughter of Troy and Phyllis Parker, celebrated her fourteenth birthday, June 19, at a party at the Parker home in Ruidoso Downs.

Rene was born in Ruidoso June 17, 1972. She has completed school work in Ruidoso Middle School, and will be a freshman in High School this fall. She is a top student, making all A and B grades.

Rene's aunt, Mrs. Jo Ann Reininger flew in from her home in San Antonio, especially to be present at the celebration. Also present to help Rene celebrate were her sisters, Pam Parker, Patricia Buckley, and her brother Troy Dale Parker, also her young friend and school mate, Jason White.

It seems only yesterday that Rene, as a beautiful baby, used to come by Troy's Chevron Station there at the Y, and smile and shake hands and embrace me.

I have watched her grow up from a lovable child to a beautiful little girl and now a charming and lovely young lady. She has always been my little pal, and the pride and joy of the Parker home.

We all admire and love Rene, and we wish her many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

Troy Parker Will Leave His Service Station
On June Thirty.

We come now to an event that will be a turning point in the life of Rene's father, Troy Parker; and a land mark day in the life of us here in Lincoln County, and folks also in all the surrounding area, as well as people from all parts of our country.

Troy will call a halt (at least temporarily) to most of a lifetime of serving folks at service stations.

He has been owner and operator of Parker's Chevron Station there at the Y, katty-cornered across the highway from Hollywood Junction Post Office, for almost twenty-five years.

During this time, Troy's station has been a land mark all in this wide neighborhood, and from coast to coast for good service, a willingness to help in any way, and always a million-dollar smile.

Troy was born May thirty-one, 1932, in Bogata, Texas, near Paris, to William Henry Parker and the former Bennie Hill.

He had a happy childhood on the farm, and says "I remember the farm and the days picking cotton." From his home in Bogata Troy went to a small town near San Antonio where he worked in a filling station. This was in 1946.

In 1953 he entered the Army and served in Korea till 1957.

In 1957 he was married, in Seguin Texas, to the former Phyllis Bullard.

Through a friend, Troy heard of a good opportunity in Lovington; and here Troy and Phyllis lived for about two years, and Troy became sold on the State of New Mexico.

He later went to work for a short time for Chevron Company in El Paso, and then for three years in Alamogordo.

On February seven, 1962, Troy made the big move of his life when he came to Ruidoso and became owner and operator of Parker's Chevron.

So on Saturday, June Thirty, when he says good-bye to the spot where he says he has spent some of the happiest days of his life.

Troy's love of people has come shining through all the days he has operated his service station "in sunshine and in shadow" in summer's heat and winter's snow and ice.

During these almost twenty-five years Troy has helped thousands of people in every way within his power.

His natural-born friendliness and his sunny outlook has always cheered us through the day.

Johnny Montoya, his right hand man, has said, "Troy Parker is the finest boss a man could have."

"I have loved every minute of it," says Troy of his long service at his station. "I love people, and I love Ruidoso. I am going to rest a while. (He surely does deserve a rest). Sort of enjoy my home, take care of my yard, my trees and flowers.

(Troy is a great lover of trees). Then after a while I will just see what turns up."

Troy's wife, Phyllis, said,

"Troy has been always the most devoted and loving father and husband. His family is the blessing of his life and means more to him than anything in the world. But he is too active and he loves people too much to remain on the side lines very long. He will get into something close by, for he would never leave Ruidoso. He has enjoyed the racing season people, the winter people, and all the local folks, and is very grateful for their friendship."

As one who has been helped hundreds of times, through Troy's kindness, I wish to remind him that he is a very fortunate man, born under a lucky star, with his wonderful family and with the respect and fondness we all feel for him.

We thank Troy for all his years of good work for us, and we wish him every good fortune and happiness.

Altrusa officers

History expert

Historian-writer T. Lindsay Baker (left) shows slides at a meeting of the Lincoln County Historical Society at the LeVerne Cole/Bill McCutcheon ranch in San Patricio Saturday. Baker is a curator at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, Texas. He showed slides and gave an oral history on American windmills. He also has written several books.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF HEARING ON CERTAIN STREET IMPROVEMENTS AND PROPOSED ASSESSMENTS WITHIN THE PROPOSED LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO
SPECIAL ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 1
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN TO THE property owners within the proposed Lincoln County, New Mexico Special Assessment District No. 1 (the "District") and to all interested persons that: The County Commission (the "Commission") of the County of Lincoln (the "County"), New Mexico has provisionally ordered that the following streets, and parts thereof, shall be graded, regraded, oiled, surfaced, graveled, excavated, paved, backfilled, repaved, leveled, and improved in any manner otherwise improved (the "improvements") as designated:
Del Monte Drive (from Spruce Lane south to High Mesa Road)
Spruce Lane
El Camino Drive (from Spruce Lane north until Stable Road)
El Camino Drive (from Stable Road west to edge of High Mesa Subdivision)
Stable Road (from Buck Drive south to El Camino Drive)
Sunrise Drive (from High Mesa to east boundary of High Mesa subdivision)
Mira Monte Drive (from Sunrise to High Mesa)
High Mesa Lane
Rainbow Court
High Mesa Road (from Sunrise Drive along south boundary line north to High Mesa Road)
Twin Tree Court
Twin Tree (from Spruce Lane east until El Camino Drive)
El Camino Drive (from Buck Drive east around loop to El Camino Drive)
Deer Park Drive (two lane portion)
Shanger Lane Drive
Sun Valley Loop
ALL IN THE COUNTY OF LINCOLN, NEW MEXICO.
2. Except as more particularly shown on the plans on file in the office of the County Clerk, the improvements substantially consist of and include:
A. The Improvements in the High Volume Use Area shall include grading, regrading, surfacing, excavation, paving and repaving to consist of 4-inch crushed aggregate base course and 3 inches of asphalt cement, or 4-inch sub-base and 7 1/2-inch roller compacted concrete, backfilling and otherwise improving streets. The pavement shall be approximately centered in each street right of way.
B. The Improvements in the Medium Volume Use Area shall include grading, regrading, surfacing, excavation, paving and repaving to consist of 4-inch crushed aggregate base course, and 2 inches of asphalt cement or double penetration surface treatment, or 4-inch sub-base and 6 1/2-inch roller compacted concrete, backfilling and otherwise improving streets. The pavement shall be approximately centered in the street right of way.
C. The Improvements in the Low Volume Use Area shall include grading, regrading, surfacing, excavation, paving and repaving to consist of 4-inch crushed aggregate base course and 2-inch asphalt concrete or double penetration surface treatment, or 4-inch sub-base and 6 1/2-inch roller compacted concrete, backfilling and otherwise improving streets. The pavement shall be approximately centered in each street right of way.
The estimated total cost of the improvements, including engineering, construction and necessary incidentals expenses is $3,037,500 of which it is estimated that $-0- will be defrayed from sources other than special assessments, and $3,037,500 may be assessed against the tracts or parcels of land in the District as hereinafter provided.
The assessments, based on a zone basis, will be computed by determining the proximity of each tract or parcel of land to the improvements. The volume of assessments for individuals and tracts of land is subject to change during final design activities to help balance initial investment costs with longer term reduced maintenance costs.
3. The estimated total cost of the improvements to be assessed is $3,037,500 of which $3,037,500 may be from assessments levied against those tracts or parcels of land within the District and $-0- will be paid by the County as an unassessed cost.
The methods of levying assessments set forth herein have been determined by the Commission to be equitable and proportionate to the benefits received. An assessment will be levied against any tract or parcel not specially benefited by any of the improvements, so that assessments according to benefits are equal and uniform.
All persons interested in the improvements shall be notified by the Commission by first-class mail, showing typical sections of the type of materials to be used and the approximate thickness and width of the material for the contemplated street improvements; an assessment and a schedule of assessments to be levied and the description of the tracts or parcels of land in the District to be assessed; and an estimate of the total cost of constructing the improvements, said estimate being based on the best information available, including without limiting the generality hereof, the expenses, as in the judgment of Pejo Technical Services, Inc., professional engineers duly licensed under the laws of the State of New Mexico, which are necessary for the completion of construction of the improvements and the payment of the costs thereof, are on file in the office of the County Clerk and may be inspected by any property owner or any interested person during regular office hours. Any interested person may also ascertain the office of the County Clerk a description of the property to be assessed and the maximum amount of benefit to be estimated to be derived from these tracts or parcels of land by the improvements. Reference is hereby made to such documents on file in the office of the County Clerk for further detail.
On July 18, 1986, at 1:00 p.m., at the Ruidoso Village Hall Ruidoso, New Mexico, in the County of Lincoln, the owners of the property to be assessed or any other person interested therein may file a written protest or objection and may appear before the Commission and may be heard as to the propriety and advisability of constructing the improvements, as to the estimated cost thereof, as to the manner of payment therefor and as to the amount thereof to be assessed against individual tracts or parcels of land. Any person desiring to appear before the Commission and be heard, shall be asked to register with the Clerk of the Commission prior to consideration of matters pertaining to such hearing.
Any person filing a written protest or objection, as aforesaid, shall have the right within thirty days after the hearing to file a written protest or objection with the Commission, which shall determine the advisability of constructing the improvements, has determined the type and character of the improvements, and has created the District, to commence an action or suit in any court of competent jurisdiction to correct or set aside such determination, but thereafter, all action or suits attacking the validity of the proceedings and the amount of the benefit shall be perpetually barred.
After such hearing, the Commission shall determine the advisability of constructing the improvements. If the Commission determines that constructing the improvements is in the best interest of the County, the District and shall proceed to advertise for bids for the doing of the work therefor and shall enter into a contract with the responsible bidder making the lowest bid for the doing of such work and for the purchase of all necessary materials, all in accordance with Sections 4-55A-1 through 4-55A-39, NMSA 1978, as amended and supplemented.
By order of the County Commission of the County of Lincoln, New Mexico, dated this 17th day of June, 1986.

Had it up to "here" with the real estate market?
We are a new office but you will like our experience and service!
Today's real estate market can be very frustrating, especially if you're selling your home. We've all heard the bad news about interest rates and the scarcity of qualified buyers. But don't give up! There are many different ways to find qualified buyers, and many different types of financing. We're selling a lot of homes, using creative financing methods you may never even have heard of. We're trained professionals, and we can find the home buyer you're looking for. Give us a call!

At just $47,00 a square foot, it's a super buy! $139,000. MLS#61455

A HEFTY PRICE REDUCTION on this appealing 3-bedroom, 2-bath home makes it a good buy! Situated on two pine-studded lots with lovely landscaping, the home also has a roomy, separate studio that offers tremendous potential. Excellent terms! Reduced from $69,500 to $55,000! MLS#60680

SMALL RANCH OF UNSPOILED BEAUTY is just minutes from Ruidoso and Capitan. Approximately 300 acres of deeded land adjoining Lincoln National Forest is a rare find! Southern exposure assures sunny days, and the terrain is level enough for a one-mile training track. The views of Sierra Blanca, Nogal Peak and Fort Stanton Mesa are magnificent, and the opportunities for this lovely land are dazzling. Excellent owner financing. $420,000.

A BEAUTIFUL SIERRA BLANCA VIEW is just part of the charm this immaculately-maintained condominium offers! With two bedrooms and two baths, it's just the right size for a mountain retreat. There's a fireplace, of course, and the home is completely and handsomely furnished...move right in and start enjoying! $62,920. MLS#60787

SITUATED IN ALTO VILLAGE'S MOST PRESTIGIOUS AREA, this magnificent mountain contemporary is built to take utmost advantage of its spectacular Sierra Blanca and Alto Lake views. Its 2,000 square foot floor plan includes three spacious bedrooms, two baths, and a large game room. Fireplaces provide a warm focal point for both the living area and the master suite, and an expanse of covered redwood decks (complete with hot tub!) form an ideal area for outdoor entertaining. Listed at $145,000, but owners say, "Get us an offer!" NEW LISTING

HONDO VALLEY ACREAGE at an affordable price is difficult to find, but we have ten (10) acres with highway frontage priced at just $9,000 for the entire parcel. Good terms, too! MLS#61252

$29,950 IS THE PLEASANTLY LOW PRICE for this cozy 2-bedroom log cabin with fireplace. It's fully furnished, and has a Sierra Blanca view that's breathtaking! Just $5,000 down will give you possession. MLS#61357

JUST $25,000 WILL PURCHASE this 3-bedroom, 1 1/2-bath mobile home on two heavily wooded lots. The home's in excellent condition, and the owner's willing to finance...so what are you waiting for! MLS#61251

LOG CABIN, BEAUTIFUL UPPER CANYON LOCATION...a hard combination to beat! This delightful home offers two bedrooms and 1 1/2 baths upstairs, plus a comfortable guest quarters with 1/2 bath downstairs. Other things to admire: the knotty pine interior, Ben Franklin stove, garage. Good assumable. $57,500. MLS#60858

THE RUSTIC CHARM OF A LOG CABIN, set within a profusion of summer flowers, is a sight that never ceases to delight even the most jaded viewer. If you think you can resist its appeal, let us show you this Upper Canyon beauty! The owners have remodeled for the sake of convenience, but carefully preserved the "old Ruidoso" feeling. There are three bedrooms and two baths, and the gracious living room is highlighted by a wonderful old rock fireplace. There's a double garage, and this commercially zoned property also has an attractive separate office and/or studio that can serve a number of uses. $179,500. MLS#61337

Editorial

The Rio Ruidoso. Three days ago it was a placid, clear-water stream—a beautiful backdrop to a day in the park or a sparkling surface of intrigue for the wading trout fisherman.

Three rainy days later, it became an awesome brown-water floodway, churning furiously along at the limits of its riverbed, frantic in its rush downstream.

And it became a dangerous thing, too, quite capable of sweeping away any who venture too close. Such was the case near Hope earlier this month when two people were drowned in the swift waters of the Hope Community Ditch.

With clearing skies, and a slowdown in the rain, the river once again seems to be returning to normal levels.

Let's keep the Rio Ruidoso an asset, not a liability. A few days of rain can change a friend into a wild beast of nature, unpredictable and potentially dangerous.

Respect the power of the river.—DJP

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—They were called Omegas in Salt Lake City, but their real name is Amigos. They're a serious group, whose tours almost certainly do New Mexico a lot of good.

This is the 24th year the organization called New Mexico Amigos has been in existence; it was started by Ed Mechem and Merle Tucker (remember them?) back in 1962, while big Ed was in the last of his four terms as governor of our state. Each year, its members, all of whom pay every cent of their own tab as well as picking up the check for breakfasts, luncheons and dinners for a variety of groups in the towns they visit, make a trip aimed at upping the balance in New Mexico's goodwill account.

This year they were 110 strong, and they went to Denver, Salt Lake City, Boise, Seattle and Calgary, aiming to tell the residents in each of those cities some things they might not previously have known about our part of the world and to thank them for their continued relations with us and our business communities.

Many members say this year's was one of the best excursions ever.

Led by Richard Kazlaric of Gallup, this year's president, the 1986 contingent represented 26 different New Mexico communities. That means they can speak up in response to questions of almost any kind, to let those in the cities they visit know more about this state which seems to be such an unknown to so many of our fellow citizens. It also means that not all the emphasis during the presentations is on only one or two towns, as some of us are inclined to suspect it may be under other circumstances.

Along for the trip as guests of the membership this year were former Governor Jack Campbell and Economic Development Secretary Bob Gold, both chosen for their skill in telling our state's story. Amigos report the message they delivered was exceptionally well received.

And that's the point of the whole thing—to acquaint leaders in a variety of communities with New Mexico. It isn't to sell them on moving their factories here—though Bob Gold admits it's a temptation for him to take that line when he's on his feet before such prime targets for that message. It is purely to act as what the organization's title declares its members to be, friends and neighbors.

Gary Blakeley is this year's man in charge of arrangements for the tour. He admits that job isn't easy. To get everything from hotel reservations to meeting rooms to entertainment set up in a half dozen towns, and then see to it that nobody gets left behind and no detail is overlooked takes considerable skill. Those on the tour say Gary has it.

And for those who have tended in the past to think this is maybe just a fun time for a bunch of good old boys, the schedule for one day in Seattle tells how much hard work goes on. It began with a breakfast for about 20 business executives, including the president of El Paso Natural Gas, in town just to meet with the Amigos, and the vice-chairman of the board of Burlington Northern, of which EPNG is a subsidiary. Then there was a tour of the Seattle harbor, followed by a large luncheon for civic leaders, and then an extensive tour of the plant where Boeing builds its passenger aircraft. That doesn't sound like the kind of activity that would be very attractive to the social butterflies in the state's business community.

Next year, under the guidance of Vic Worley, the new president, the group will make its 25th anniversary tour to New England.

The extra bonus to the annual trip, one who made it this year tells us, is in getting to know New Mexicans from all parts of the state on a familiar basis. "There's no better way to develop lasting friendships," he says, "than to share transportation and rooms with people over a good period of time." He went on to add that he was especially pleased that the presidents of New Mexico State and Eastern had chosen to make the tour this year. "I am sure their schools will benefit from the contacts they developed and the acquaintances they deepened," he says.

As for the Amigos, after a day or two of rest and recreation in Lake Tahoe to complete their tour, they are looking forward to next year.

Reporter's Round

By Gary Brown

Riding a bicycle? That's something I haven't done for almost 20 years.

But a desire for physical fitness and some savings on car gas and mileage prompted me to buy a three-speed bicycle last week.

And it was quite an experience getting used to riding the bicycle.

When I tried the bike out at Western Auto, I couldn't remember how you were supposed to get on and off it.

The seat seemed higher than it was when I was a young teen-ager, and getting on and off it seemed like stepping off a skyscraper.

I started to ride the bike and it wobbled back and forth as I kept the brakes on and tried to coast on level ground.

But gradually I got used to riding bicycles again.

Friday morning I rode the bike to work, going downhill from my apartment near Cree Meadows Country Club to Sudderth Drive.

It was downhill most of the way, and it was fun coasting down the street.

But riding back to my apartment was a different matter entirely.

It was mostly uphill and the joy I had had riding downhill disappeared.

I had to walk the bike uphill near Pan-O-Rama Miniature Golf and the rest of the ride was gradually uphill.

My legs strained as years of driving a car had trained them to do little work on their own.

I walked with the bike about two-thirds of the rest of the way to my apartment.

Over the weekend, I had the same problem riding uphill.

However, I gradually found a solution to the problem.

When I was young, I sometimes peddled with my body off the bicycle seat. That way I would get more power, particularly going up steep hills. It also would put less strain on my legs.

But it's an awkward and funny way to ride a bicycle.

In my younger days, other kids would tease their peers who rode a bicycle that way. I had a friend who rode his bicycle constantly with his body off the seat, and he was always teased about it.

But it's still easier to peddle with your body off the seat, so I tried it. As I was riding through Cree Meadows, I looked around to make sure no one was watching me, particularly someone I knew.

I pushed my body off the seat and peddled as fast as I could. I imagined myself looking like a horse jockey as I rode up the road toward my apartments, my body leaping forward and my back in the air.

It helped, though, and I made it back to my apartment with a minimum of "rest breaks."

It still took me about 15 minutes to rest up from the ride, but at least I was getting in shape.

I've probably lost a few pounds in less than a week of riding my bicycle and it's fun riding through the mountains on it.

Add to that the money I save not driving my car unnecessarily and the bicycle seems like a good investment.

Now if I can just avoid anyone seeing me ride the thing uphill with my body hanging in the air.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

I have followed with interest The News' coverage of both the McKnight murders and the Ruidoso Downs Municipal election. While I will reserve comment about the blandness and generality with which The News has presented each issue, I must say that the letters to the editor have more than compensated.

Specifically, I refer to the letters printed in your June 19, 1986, edition from Neale and Karen Williams (nee Parsons) and from attorney Charles E. Hawthorne. Although each writer has an obviously biased view, given the fact that the former are relatives of the judge and the latter enjoyed a favorable ruling from him on a controversial case, I feel that they each presented the clearest picture of our District Judge since his election. To the reader who may lack the legal sophistication of an attorney, it may have been easy to form the opinion that Judge Parsons was exercising his personal preferences in the referenced cases. Such an impression would be mistaken. I certainly would not presume to state what the judge's personal feelings are, but for a person to believe that his rulings are based on anything but statutory or case law is patently wrong. The parameters within which a judge must operate are strictly controlled and subject to the closest scrutiny.

Additionally, he is effectively unarmed due to restrictions by statute and professional ethics from discussing, debating, or publicly reacting to the barbs thrown at him by his critics. Some tend to forget that, although a District Judge is an elected official who runs on the ticket of a particular political party, he is expected to discharge his duties in an impartial and non-partisan manner; just as we expect of a county clerk, a village councillor... or a sheriff. Political expediency must take a back seat to justice. In this district it does.

Sincerely,
RICK AUSTIN
Ruidoso Downs

DEAR EDITOR:

Friday June 13, 1986, was a very sad day for our family, as that was the day our father, George D. Reynolds, was called home by the Lord. He will be greatly missed, not only by his children and wife but by all his friends, friends he had made years ago when he came here to live and raise a family, he will be missed by the friends he had made at the car wash, on Sudderth where he gave out change, and always had a smile to meet anyone coming in there, you couldn't help but to smile back.

We will always remember Dad, and thank the Lord he had him as long as we did, for he had been sick for a long time, he fought long and hard but at the end he truly won the battle, for now, there is no more pain, and Dad is where he wanted to be.

Though it will be hard for us, we will in time feel a little better, I don't think it'll ever get easier, but because he gave so much, he loved us and we loved him and that alone is very comforting, now we have a lot of good memories and they will always be with us, as Dad will, in our hearts and in our thoughts.

To all the great people of this town, thank you, those of you who knew Dad, and took a little bit of your time to stop by and see him or just the fact that you took the time to smile back and let him know you cared, it made my Dad's life a good one, knowing that so many people cared.

And to those of you who have come by and helped with food, flowers or just a shoulder to cry on, thank you from all of our hearts. We are proud to be from a community that has so many understanding and caring people.

DEAR EDITOR:

The Ruidoso Valley Greeters would like to take this means to thank all the merchants who purchased barrels planted with petunias to make our village more beautiful. We would also like to thank June Spooner, president of the Garden Club and club members and Smokey Stover for all the hard work they did to deliver and plant all the barrels. This has been a very successful project for both the Ruidoso Valley Greeters and the Garden Club for the past two years. Thanks Ruidoso for your support.

Top Rainbow qualifier

Rider Jacky Martin takes Mr. Victory Devil to a four-length victory in trials for the $640,000 Rainbow Derby, scheduled for Sunday, June 29. The son of Victory Stride, owned by the Circle M Ranch of Manor, Texas, stepped the 440-yard heat in 21.255 seconds to earn the top qualifying spot for the rich stake. Off that impressive effort, he'll head postward as the likely choice to share the role of favorite with Raise A Secret and Dashing Phoebe in the Rainbow Derby. Jack Dube trains Mr. Victory Devil, who was bred by Oklahoma-based Bud Boschert's Stables Inc.

Germany and Zeviken could combine for win in Friday's feature race

Beth Rodgers' Zeviken fires back off a commanding victory two weeks ago to head the field for Friday's 5 1/2-furlong main event at Ruidoso Downs Race Track.

The feature race, which headlines a 12-race card that gets under way at 1 p.m., spotlights ten 3- and 4-year-old thoroughbreds chasing a $4,200 purse under allowance conditions.

Trainer Lewis Germany opened Zeviken's sophomore campaign on June 8 off a nine-month layoff, sending the colt against high-dollar claiming horses at 5 1/2 furlongs. The Texas-bred turned in a respectable fifth-place finish with Lewis Germany Jr. taking the riding assignment.

Germany lowered the horse into the $6,250 claiming ranks for his next race on June 15, where Zeviken found the company much more to his liking. He drew out to a 2 1/2-length margin to step off Ruidoso's 5 1/2-furlong course in 1:05 4.

Although Friday's climb into allowance company may appear to be a tough assignment for Zeviken, he ran with some of Ruidoso's top juveniles last summer and should fare well with Germany Jr. going out with a light 110-pound load.

The two likely choices to upset Zeviken appear to be Natayo Prospect and Wolfbane.

Natayo Prospect was a finalist in both the Riley Allison and Norgor Futurities last year, and already has notched one second with allowance horses at Ruidoso this season. Following that good effort, trainer Doyal Roberts Sr. entered the colt with extremely tough horses for the Memorial Day Handicap on May 26, where Natayo Prospect finished last in the 12-horse field beaten by more than 32 lengths.

He went 5 1/2 furlongs under allowance conditions three weeks ago to finish eighth. But the son of Be A Prospect sports a bullet 4-furlong workout since that race (46 3) and should improve under the handling of jockey Casey Lambert.

Wolfbane is a lightly-raced Noble Kingdom gelding who went wire-to-wire for a 7-length victory at 6 furlongs his first start at Ruidoso on June 14. The speedy thoroughbred finished the three-quarter mile race in 1:11 3 and must be considered a threat off that impressive effort.

Optical delusion at Cliffs Place

Jockey Casey Lambert outduels Larry Byers and Big Bold Boz to post an incredible whisker-of-a-win aboard Cliffs Place (No. 6 on the inside-white ankles) in the $154,000 Norgor Thoroughbred Futurity on June 22 at Ruidoso Downs. Cliff Lambert Sr., Casey's father, trains the Raised Socially colt for the partnership of Stanley Beard, John Dietz and James Schroeder of Brenham, Texas. The final time for the stake was 1:05 and two-fifths seconds. The winning purse was $77,223. Though jockey Larry Byers looks like Casey's shadow, he and Big Bold Boz (No. 1A on the outside) finished a heart-breaking second.

Special thanks for Special Hank

Jockey Salustio Burgos runs down Geers Pat (No. 5 on the inside) aboard Special Hank (No. 9) to post a close "in front" margin, as Ruidoso Downs track announcer Bob Dudich would say. Special Hank broke as the favorite in the $10,050 Master Salls Handicap on June 21, despite a poor post position. Doyal Roberts Sr. saddled the nine-year-old son of Special Secret for owner Lowell Hankins of Rocksprings, Texas, who collected $6,030 for Special Hank's winning effort. It was the third stakes win for the Texas-bred this year.

Handle Hotline

The current handle at Ruidoso Downs, after 23 race days and 279 races, is $8,664,843. The current daily wagering average is $376,732 with current wagering per race at $31,057. At the same time last year, after 24 race days and 293 races, the total handle was $9,577,065. The wagering average at this time last year was $399,044 with average per race wagering at this point last year $32,686. The daily wagering average is down 5.59 percent and the wagering per race is down 4.98 percent when compared to last year at this time. Average attendance at the track is down 4.01 percent below that of last year.

Track Talk

Only three of the 72 horses who advanced into the time trials for the $700,000 Rainbow Futurity managed to break 20 seconds for the 400 yards in the first round of elimination heats this week at Ruidoso Downs. Lil Bit Shiny posted the fastest time with a 19.75 seconds in the 34th division, which was run on Friday, June 20. On Thursday, June 19, Jet Go Chick was clocked in 19.84 and Bunny Rockette in 19.99.

Trainers Jack Brooks and Dwayne Gilbreath each qualified nine horses into the time trials, to be run on July 3. Jacky Martin was the leading qualifier among the jockeys with 14, while Alex Baldillez Jr. had nine before being injured during the second day of trials.

Baldillez fractured a leg when he fell from his horse during the 11th race on Thursday, June 19. The quarter horse specialist, who was ranked fourth in the jockey standings going into the week's action, said he hoped to be riding again in three weeks.

Trainers Clifford Lambert Sr. and Doyal Roberts Sr. are dominating thoroughbred stake races this season at Ruidoso Downs. Lambert won his fourth stakes race on Sunday, June 22, when Cliffs Place beat Big Bold Boz in a photo finish in the Norgor Thoroughbred Futurity. His other wins have been in the Rio Grande Kindergarten Futurity, Norgor Derby and the Mescalero Apache Handicap.

Roberts won his third stake race with Special Hank in the Master Salls Handicap on Saturday, June 21. He also has won the Barlaris Handicap and the Memorial Day Handicap.

In the winner's circle following Cliffs Place's win in the Norgor Thoroughbred Futurity, trainer Clifford Lambert Sr. said that he hoped to enter the colt in the Hollywood Juvenile, to be run next month at Hollywood Park.

"I wasn't really surprised," said Lambert of the upset win in the Norgor. "I thought he had a chance because he has so much early speed. He shipped in from Louisiana and has had some problems getting climaxed. He tired in the Riley Allison, but he ran a big race in the trials for this race. I felt the good race in the trials helped him today."

That's Incredible tied the season's best time for 7 1/2 furlongs Saturday, June 21, with a 1:32.3 seconds. He shares the clocking with Forever A Ruler.

Fans may find Ronas Ryon somewhere over the Rainbow

Kansas Futurity winner Ronas Ryon fired back for an easy victory in first-round elimination trials for the $700,000 (est.) Rainbow Futurity held Wednesday at Ruidoso Downs.

Ronas Ryon drew away for a 1 1/2-length margin in Wednesday's 11th Rainbow division with Jerry Nicodemus aboard to step off his 400-yard heat in 20.11 seconds. Glee Club, who won the Sun Country Futurity this spring at Sunland Park, was second under rider Salustio Burgos.

Ronas Ryon is trained by Arnold Simmons Jr. for owners Ben Benham and James Plummer of Arlington, Texas. Glee Club is the property of El Pasoan Robert Haynsworth and Edwin Mayer of San Angelo, Texas.

The trainer/rider combination of Dwayne Gilbreath and Alex Baldillez Jr. stood out in Wednesday's opening Rainbow trials. They teamed to qualify four horses by winning three of the divisions and running second in another.

Baldillez capped off the program equalling the day's fastest time while taking Cash Of Cash to a neck margin in the 12th Rainbow division. The final time was 20.08 seconds over a track listed as muddy from early afternoon rain showers. Baldillez also accounted for two additional wins with Mary Dash and Mr Trophy Hunter. He ran second to Simeon Comeon to qualify Streakin Rampage.

Cash Of Cash campaigns with the colors of B.F. Phillips Jr. of Frisco, Texas.

Jockey Jacky Martin and conditioner Jack Brooks had held a monopoly on the day's fastest clocking until Cash Of Cash's strong effort. The duo took Vital Dash to a half-length victory in the 6th division with a final time of 20.08. Vital Dash is the Dash For Cash filly who has qualified for every major futurity in the region this spring. She was a finalist in both the West Texas and Sun Country Futurities at Sunland Park, and then went on to finish in a dead-heat for third in the Kansas Futurity at Ruidoso Downs last month.

Brooks and Martin also joined forces to qualify Mr Macho Jet with a second to Marthas Six Moons in Wednesday's opening Rainbow elimination heat.

Also advancing to the Rainbow Futurity time trials by winning their divisions Wednesday were: The Widgeon, Lucksgay Ladyolene, Rare Night Out, Delightful Mary and Cold Johnny.

Those horses qualifying with second-place finishes included: Joadas Gold Six, Bold Champion, Bug Commander, Dialed Fury, Reflections Of Belle, Im Follies Girl, Cholin, Pass Em Moon Lady and Special Blond.

Jet Go Chick shows no fear as she circles track in fastest flight

El Pasoan George Houser's Jet Go Chick stepped off the fastest time in elimination trials for the $700,000 Rainbow Futurity on Thursday at Ruidoso Downs.

Jet Go Chick upset favored Mr Master Jet in the final trial division on Thursday, racing to a 4-length victory with Rudy Bustamante aboard. The Chicks Go Man filly stopped the timer in 19.84 seconds for her 400-yard heat. Ruidoso's racing surface had been upgraded from good to fast three races prior to Jet Go Chick's trial.

Trainer Johnny Bustamante was making his second trip to the Ruidoso winner's circle with Jet Go Chick. She gave notice on May 25 with a half-length win over allowance company going 400 yards in a speedy 19.83 seconds.

The Bustamante's teamed to also qualify Wrangler Time with a second to Rambling Effort in Thursday's fifth race. Rambling Effort was one of two Special Effort colts qualified by trainer Leo Wood and rider Donald Knight. They won the opening division with Flying Effort.

The trainer/rider duo of Jack Brooks and Jacky Martin continued their domination of the first-round Rainbow Futurity trials. After qualifying two horses on Wednesday, they moved another four head into the time trials with two wins and two second-place finishes Thursday.

Brooks saddled Million Dollar Bug - a full brother to former stakes standout Mr Master Bug - in the second race to watch Martin take the colt to whisker win over Darn That Alarm. Martin missed the winner's share by a neck in the fourth race with Storms Eye, then was a distant second in the 10th with Murphys Jet Barred. He capped a good day with a close victory in the next division aboard Some Power Play.

Trainer Robert Dimmitt and jockey Larry Layton also qualified two horses. Layton took Naviaux to a 2 1/2-length win in the seventh race and held on for a second to Jet Go Chick in the final Rainbow division.

Jockey Alex Baldillez was aboard three winners before suffering an injury after his horse bolted in the 11th race. He won with Fly Smashed for trainer Jerry Lazenby; Cash Wagon for Dwayne Gilbreath; and Bunny Rockette for Rodney Reed.

Also winning their first-round elimination heats on Thursday's program were Dashing Linda, Streak It To Em and Pie Prince.

Those horses qualifying with second-place finishes included: Moon Dancer Lark, Graniteer, Bully Bullion, Fols Fortune, Oh My Gee Whiz, Blulady Chick and Weekend Mystery.

Rainbow Derby highlights weekend racing

The $640,000 Rainbow Derby shares top billing this weekend with two added-money stakes events at Ruidoso Downs.

Twelve-race programs are scheduled Thursday through Sunday beginning at 1 p.m. each day.

Here's a preview of this weekend's highlights:

THURSDAY - Real Moody, the lightning fast quarter horse who earned nearly $400,000 last year, takes his first assignment at the mountain track heading the field for the $8,500-added Zia Handicap. The 400-yard test brings out 10 of New Mexico's top 3-year-old and older dashers, with Real Moody totting high weight at 123 pounds.

Facing the likely choice will be Shawns Pawn, The Future, Buy My Act, Jetsie Native, Easy Trek, Truckle Wind, Tef, Leading Jet and Running On Class.

FRIDAY - Beth Rodgers' Zeviken fires back off a commanding victory two weeks ago, breaking as the likely choice among 10 allowance contenders going 5 1/2 furlongs.

SATURDAY - The $92,000 consolation of the Rainbow Derby shares the marquee with the $15,000-added Aspen Handicap.

The Derby consolation features the second-fastest group of qualifiers for that Grade I event racing for a winner's purse of more than $19,000. Six Popper goes postward with the top qualifying time going up against Timeto Get Tuff, Racy Renee, Just Six, Josie Super Sound, King Of Sting, Sheza Danda, Sixarum, Zircon and Dark Thriller.

The Aspen Handicap spotlights 3-year-old fillies matching strides at 5 1/2 furlongs. The top 10 nominees are Cupids Prospect, Night Girl, Pinnikinnick, Classic Quality, Lady Arran, Winning Coin, Unfurls Princess, Flamed, Rare Maid and Modern Mongo.

SUNDAY - Hometown favorite Dashing Phoebe matches quarter-horse muscle with California invader Raise A Secret and top qualifier Mr Victory Devil in the $640,000 Rainbow Derby. The winner of this quarter-mile event earns $222,140. The remaining field includes Corporate Bug, Savy Edition, Cash Fever, Rhythm N Booze, Throb, Follow The Fox and Taballero.

Ruidoso Little Theatre issues call for cast

Ruidoso Little Theatre (RLT) has issued a call for auditions for an upcoming "Festival of Lovers" of Neil Simon plays.

Casts and crews for two Neil Simon productions will be selected in auditions scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Sunday and Monday, June 29-30, at St. Eleanor's Catholic Church.

Five men and five women are needed for the two plays, "Barefoot in the Park" and "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers," said Carl Mori of RLT. He explained that a big production crew will also be needed since the two shows will alternate on August 20-23, 27-30, and September 3-6.

"You'll be able to see different plays in one week," noted Dan Barrow, RLT board president.

Mori will direct "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers" and Eric Berg will direct "Barefoot in the Park."

"If you have any interest in any phase of theater, please show up for the auditions," said Mori. "We're looking for whoever's best for the parts," he added.

Mori stressed that newcomers are encouraged to try out for RLT productions.

Both Mori and Barrow said the festival is the result of many requests for Neil Simon plays.

Historical Society has June meeting

The Lincoln County Historical Society's (LCHS) Youth File added several papers by Ruidoso High School students this past school year.

Students from Ramona McAdams's English class and Linda Sanchez's history and Spanish classes wrote the reports.

The students were Pam Craft, Mike Trujillo, Lisa Bennett, Mike Valenzuela, Rita Clark, Tammy Clark, James Herrera, Wes Frost, Jana Johnston and Luis Orozco.

In addition, the LCHS presented a special grant last week to Leah Patterson and Tye Holborne, both of Carrizozo, for their trip to Washington D.C.

Patterson and Holborne represented Lincoln County in the National Competition of History Day, Monday, June 16.

They placed first in Lincoln County competition in April; then went to the state finals in Albuquerque, finishing first and second there.

The LCHS will have a series of summer programs and projects. The noted Dr. Wood's house and society headquarters will be opened during the summer months.

Individuals interested in supporting LCHS projects or in becoming members can call 653-4821 or 653-4676.
