

First spadeful will be start of new airport

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

When Governor Toney Anaya turns the first spadeful of earth Friday for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport (SBRA) on Fort Stanton mesa, it will signal the end of a long and arduous task and the beginning of a whole new stage in acquiring a safe new airport.

Groundbreaking for the new regional air facility is set for 11 a.m. Friday, October 31, at the Fort Stanton site, and a luncheon will follow at 12:30 p.m. at Cree Meadows Country Club.

"The groundbreaking is primarily a tribute to Governor Anaya," said airport administrator Fred Heckman Wednesday. He said the governor's support was the key factor in putting the airport project on the road after all these years.

Jim Marquess, general counsel for the Secretary of Transportation, and Richard Montoya, assistant secretary of the Interior Department, will also be in Ruidoso for the groundbreaking and luncheon.

Governor Anaya will speak at both the groundbreaking and luncheon, and Marquess will present the keynote address at Cree Meadows.

"I'm very happy that we have a chance to honor Governor Anaya before he leaves office," said Heckman.

He recalled a time in 1983, before Governor Anaya adopted the airport project, and things looked bleak for ever replacing the Ruidoso Municipal Airport. The local airfield is said by many to be the most dangerous in the Southwest.

"That was our darkest hour," Please see First spadeful, page 2A

Rrrready for Halloween?

A number of haunted houses and Halloween carnivals around the village promise sights just as scary as this spooky subject (the negative image of a photo taken at a carnival last year). See the Coming Up section on page 3A in today's Ruidoso News for times and places of this year's celebrations.

Council moves ahead on Eagle Creek wells

The Ruidoso Village Council gave the go-ahead Tuesday on Phase 2 of the Eagle Creek well field project.

Jackie Atkins of Atkins Engineering Associates in Roswell gave an engineers' estimate of $421,331.75 for the second phase of the four-well field located on U.S. Forest Service land on the eastern slope of Sierra Blanca.

He said the estimate includes a 10 percent contingency as well as contract management, inspection and testing.

"Some of that you may be able to do yourself with your own engineering staff," said Atkins.

Village manager Jim Hine said the original estimate was for less, but added the engineer didn't know then the village would be required to replace the Forest Service road.

Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. questioned why the village is being required to replace the road, and heard it is a requirement of the Forest Service.

Atkins noted the Forest Service was supposed to do some of the surveying of the area, but his firm had to complete that work. He said the current estimate is above the second estimate he prepared but below his very first calculations.

"We keep bouncing around," said Atkins.

Phase 2 includes relocating 7,525 linear feet of primitive roadway up Eagle Creek Canyon and installing 8,379 feet of 14-inch pipeline from the two equipped wells to the existing pipeline at the diversion point.

Also included in Phase 2 is installation of 7,790 feet of power cable in the roadway and construction of water level recorders in wells two and four.

Although wells one and three were equipped in Phase 1, Atkins said they still lack remote recorders to be added in the pump house.

He estimated it will cost $700,000 to bring the Eagle Creek water to municipal storage tanks at Alto.

"Just to make sure we understand exactly what we have," Atkins said Eagle Creek water rights on 5,648 acre-feet are currently being adjudicated with the priority date left open.

He said the village could conceivably sell Eagle Creek water in excess of municipality needs, and added he already has had inquiries from prospective buyers.

"$1 million gross water sales would result annually from 1,000 acre-feet pumped," said Atkins. He said pump costs average $50 an acre-foot, or 15 cents per 1,000 gallons pumped.

The engineer said by pumping the Eagle Creek wells the base flow of the Rio Ruidoso will increase substantially, and the village will earn more effluent credit. Noting that the village has only 220 acre-feet per annum of surface rights on the Rio Ruidoso, Atkins said effluent credit earned could help to fill the Grindstone Canyon dam.

Atkins said increased pressure from the Mescalero Apache Tribe on Rio Ruidoso water rights could make the Eagle Creek find even more important.

"It may be the only water supply Ruidoso has to offer for any significant production," noted Atkins.

In discussing details of the project bid documents, Councillor Victor Alonso remarked that the 14-inch ductile iron pipe was the most expensive item. He wondered why PVC or asbestos concrete pipe wasn't recommended.

Atkins said there was no significant difference in cost, but PVC is not readily available.

"I feel asbestos concrete pipe is going to come under great scrutiny from the Environmental Improvement Division (EID) shortly," said Atkins. He said after a certain amount of pressure asbestos fibers are released into water.

Alonso said the village was assured there was no significant health hazard when asbestos concrete pipe was installed from the Rio Ruidoso diversion point to the Grindstone Canyon dam.

"You didn't ask me," said Atkins, adding he would advise staying away from it.

Councillors also discussed advantages of transporting the water through a pipeline rather than along the creekbed, and were reminded that the Forest Service opposes freeflowing the water through the bed.

Assistant village manager Frank Potter recalled it took 10 days to recharge the creekbed when water was pumped on an emergency basis and released into the village system via the creek bed. He said two wells yielded 91 million gallons in 30 days but an "appreciable amount" was lost to the stream bed.

Atkins then reported the State Engineer completed 40-year drawdown calculations on the wells and came up with a complete drawdown model showing water still available after 40 years.

If the wells eventually fail to yield water, Atkins said other wells may be drilled or the present wells may be deepened.

"It will pay for itself," said Atkins.

Councillors voted unanimously in favor of proceeding.

Water association promises fight against Indian claim

Members of the Water Defense Association have circled November 17 in red on their calendars.

"Everybody that has a water right on the Pecos River System has till November 17 to join in a lawsuit with the Mescalero Apache Indians," said association member Calvin Wesch Wednesday.

"If they don't do it now they're finished," noted Wesch. He said either a form electing to participate or another form designating a lawyer-agent must be signed and submitted to the U.S. Attorney by that day.

Although all water right holders should have received information on the case in the mail, Wesch said he knows of some who haven't. He said forms are available from Mike Hurd at Rinconada or from valley resident Gabriel "Sonny" Sanchez.

The Water Defense Association was formed after two meetings at Hondo High School—one with representatives from the State Engineer's Office. Wesch said the name for the large group of regional residents was chosen because it describes the group's purpose.

The water right holders fear a plan by the Mescalero Apache Indians to divert as much as 91 percent of the Rio Ruidoso at the point where it leaves the reservation could dry up users from Ruidoso down through the Valley and on to Roswell.

The November 17 filing is a preliminary to a hearing set for 9 a.m. November 24 in Roswell. Petitioners will then be entered in the case that will be heard next year by presiding Judge LaFel Oman, a former State Supreme Court justice appointed for the water case.

Since the association sees the case as regional rather than local, 10 members from throughout the area have been selected for an executive board. Mike Hurd of San Patricio and Ken Nosker of Glencoe are co-chairmen of the executive group.

The first step in the association's fight to retain its members' water supplies was to hire attorneys Doug Perrin of Roswell and Richard Simms of Santa Fe.

Simms was in Ruidoso Wednesday to present the Defense Association's case to the Multiple Listing Services.

"We're just trying to make people aware of the seriousness of this," said Wesch.

"We intend to fight for our water," said co-chairman Nosker Wednesday. He said the Water Defense Association has no intention of restricting the Mescalero Apache tribe from continuing to use water from the Rio Ruidoso.

"We object to the excessive amount," said Nosker, alluding to plans the Indians presented for using as much as 13,600 acre-feet of additional water each year for several irrigation projects.

Although the project plans are very much a part of the 22 volumes of testimony from the first phase of this case, Nosker said the tribe won't have to complete those plans if it is successful in obtaining the water rights.

The Water Defense Association has set a meeting for 6 p.m. Monday, November 3, at the Rinconada Gallery in San Patricio.

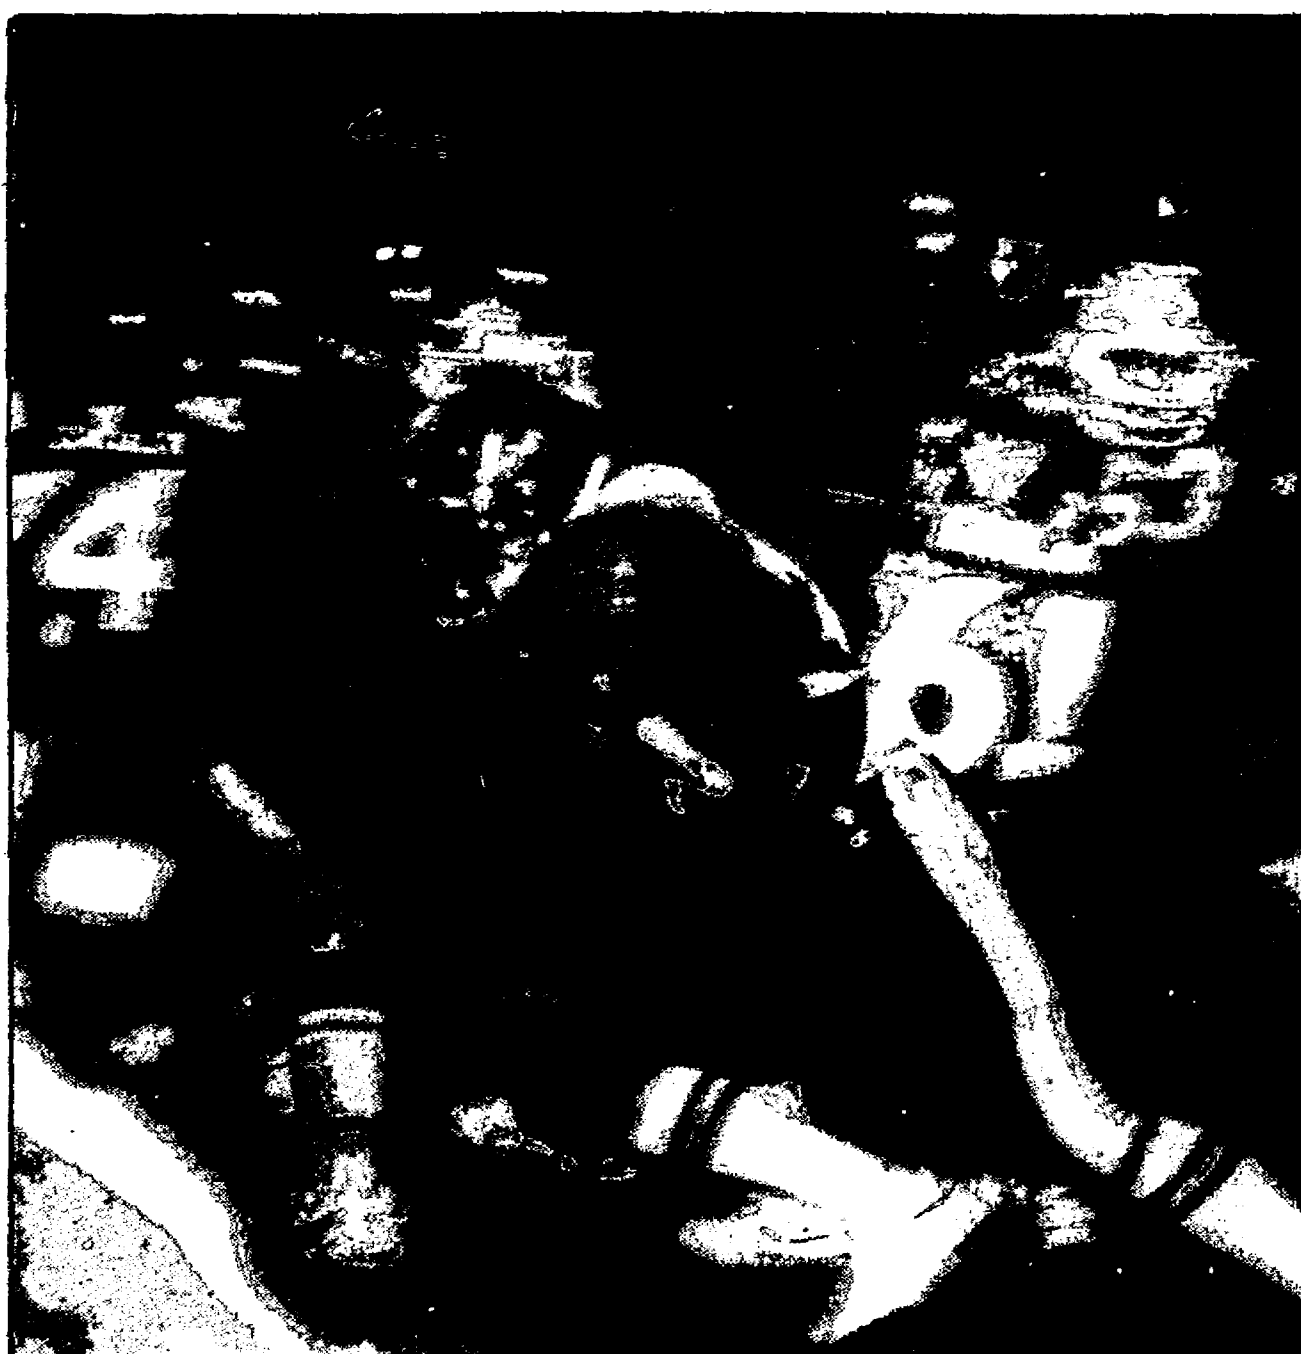

"It's our intention to take it as far as it takes to prevent the devastation of this whole area," said Nosker.

Planning and Zoning to meet

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission will meet at 3 p.m. Monday, November 3, in council chambers of Village Hall. Items on the agenda include an award presentation by Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. and one commercial development review. Agent Billy G.

Neece will present plans for Cattle Baron Restaurant on lots 5 and 7, Block 2, Palmer Gateway Subdivision.

The regular meeting will be preceded by a workshop session at 2 p.m. Both meetings are open to the public.

Pushing for the championship

Ruidoso High School's varsity football team hopes to be able to run the ball like Billy Harrison (center) did in a recent game when they host Silver City Friday night. The championship of District 3-AAA probably will be on the line. See page 6A for story.

Deadline hurries village to start bridge project

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

With the clock ticking away on State Highway Department funds, the Ruidoso Village Council Tuesday authorized Mike Davalos to negotiate with the lone bidder on rebuilding five village bridges and repairing Center Street.

During Tuesday's regular council meeting, Davalos said the project to rebuild bridges at Reese, Paradise and Hart drives, repair Center Street at Sudderth Drive and possibly replace two Upper Canyon bridges didn't generate much interest among contractors. Although normal advertising procedures were followed, he said just three firms picked up plans and only Hasse Contracting Company Inc. submitted a bid.

And that bid, for a total of $669,540.55, was well over direct appropriation funds available of $512,459.78. Davalos said by including engineering and construction funds along with state cooperative funds, the total available is $844,124.

The base bid, for all projects except the two Upper Canyon structures, was for $445,540.05, said Davalos. The bid jumped to $554,628.55 when the first Upper Canyon bridge was included, and on to $669,540.55 for the entire project.

The village engineer said the contracting company is highly respected by the State Highway Department, but "didn't understand the scope of the job."

He said a detour at Hart Avenue, estimated by design engineers at $3,000, was bid for $30,000 by Hasse.

Davalos recommended awarding the base bid less any negotiated price differences, and councillors agreed to call a special meeting on 24-hours' notice after the engineer has completed talks with the contractors.

Also Tuesday councillors unanimously approved renaming Bog Springs Road to Warrior Drive.

Councillor Larry Simon, wearing his Ruidoso High School letter jacket in honor of the occasion, said Ruidoso has a high school its citizens can be proud of, particularly in the areas of athletics and academics. He suggested the change would be "fitting" since the school is the only building on the road.

In other regular business:

—Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. proclaimed Tuesday, October 28, as Murray Martin Appreciation Day and thanked the part-time Ruidoso resident for providing transportation for village officials in the Aspenfest parade.

—Mayor Davis proclaimed Ruidoso Hunger Day for today (Thursday), October 30. Gene Sellers accepted the proclamation on behalf of the Lincoln County Food Bank.

recalled Heckman. He said Congressman Harold Runnels, who had been the project's "flagbearer," had died, Harrison "Jack" Schmitt had taken over and then had been defeated in his bid for election.

"We didn't have a flagbearer," noted Heckman. "Over the past 10 years, before Anaya, we had gotten nothing but a lot of lip service out of governors," he added.

He said much of that time was spent in fighting Interior Secretary James Watt, who didn't change his attitude about the airport until Anaya "came out strongly and resolutely" in favor of it.

"Governor Anaya's decision brought state, local and federal governments together," said Heckman. "Everybody's behind us now," he added.

Heckman praised Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole, who gave Marquess the responsibility of overseeing the project; Marquess, who was the "key man on the Hill"; and Montoya, who has been the SBRA advocate in the Department of Interior.

Heckman and members of the SBAC expressed a hope that many area residents will be on hand for the groundbreaking to show appreciation to the people who have been instrumental in making it possible.

To reach the airport site, take Highway 37 to Alto Village, then take Coal Mine Canyon Road to the top of the mesa. Heckman said a flatbed truck will be set up at the groundbreaking location.

The luncheon, sponsored jointly by the SBAC and the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, will be open to the public. Although reservations are not required, anyone planning to attend the luncheon is encouraged to call the chamber.

Deadline

—Sierra Blanca Airport Commissioner Tim Morris invited the mayor and councillors to groundbreaking ceremonies for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport at 11 a.m. Friday, October 31. Morris, Ruidoso's representative to the five-member commission, reported on its last meeting.

—Councillors set a public hearing on proposed changes to the village sign ordinance after discussions of those proposals. Enforcement officer Sandy Hall recommended deleting portions of the ordinance that have never been enforced.

—The council authorized Harold Klous of Klous and Company to proceed on possibly refinancing joint water and sewer bonds. Klous revealed the city could save from $850,000 to $1,149,000 over the life of the bonds.

—Village attorney John Underwood reported meeting with Fred Heckman, SBAC attorney Steve Sanders and representatives from the state Department of Finance Administration to discuss the possibility of using village property as collateral for a Farmers Home Administration loan. Underwood said all talks of the airport commission borrowing funds on behalf of the village should be postponed until an Attorney General's opinion is obtained.

—Councillors told Davalos and Jackie Atkins of Atkins Engineering Associates to proceed on Phase 2 of the Eagle Creek well field. The project was discussed in detail during a workshop session before the regular meeting. (See related story.)

Search and Rescue plans haunted house

by SHIRLEY BOWINGTON
News Staff Writer

There'll be fun, food and screams this Halloween at the 4th Annual Haunted House and Carnival in the Gazebo Shopping Center, sponsored by White Mountain Search and Rescue.

"The Spirit of Ruidoso gave us the event this year for fund-raising purposes," stated Rick Osborne, team member.

The Halloween Carnival, Friday, October 31, from 6-8 p.m., "is mainly for young kids, with fishing and tossing games," reported Mike Pritchett, president. "The spook house is for adults—it gets kind of gory, or has in the past. We've got some people in our club that like to gross people out."

Operational hours of the Haunted House are Thursday, October 30, from 7-10 p.m., and Friday, October 31, from 7 p.m. to midnight.

"The Warriors play Silver City Friday," continued Pritchett, "Anyone coming by after the game with a program will get two-for-one admission—Friday only."

Proceeds from the event will be used to buy lifesaving and communication equipment for the non-profit volunteer organization.

"We go out anytime day or night to rescue hunters, hikers or missing airplane crash victims," said Pritchett. "This year to date we have attempted and succeeded in 22 rescues."

Pritchett emphasized that anyone wishing to volunteer can be useful to the operation. People not wishing to participate in the actual "ground pounding" could be useful in the base camp or communications. "We'll find a place for willing participants," he added.

For more information call 257-2906 or 257-5389. Regular open meetings are held at the Lincoln County Sub-office behind Ruidoso Village Hall the third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

Director asks chamber board for additional manpower

At October's regular monthly meeting of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, executive director John Jeffers expressed a pressing need for additional personnel to handle Ruidoso's promotion of convention activities and special events.

In a survey he conducted of various other chambers in New Mexico, Jeffers found this chamber to be "number two in budget size, with half the employees."

He expressed frustration at the difficulty of his staff in accomplishing vital chamber functions that a personnel increase could alleviate. "We've made a heroic effort, but there's so much we can't get done, because we just don't have the time," he said, as he held up the "Program of Work" scheduled for 1986-87.

Board members expressed appreciation of the "great job" the chamber staff has been doing. "You're doing more than expected," stated Frank Potter, who indicated the chamber's successes have resulted in the greater need. The suggestion was made that a Convention and Visitors Division of the chamber be formed, and housed in the same building. Details will be discussed and action taken at a special board meeting set for noon, Monday, November 10.

In other business:

—John Jeffers thanked all for their efforts to solicit new members, and credited the President's Club with three of the seven new additions. Total membership stands at 425.

—Buster Hill reported that the President's Club is initiating a membership drive to enlist the support of some of the 8,000 non-resident property owners in the Ruidoso area.

—Don Shaw gave a report on the Economic Development Division.

—Becky Durham reminded the board of the Business After Hours scholarship fund raiser at Sierra Blanca Motors Tuesday, November 18, from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

—Frank Potter announced the lighting of this year's Christmas tree at the "Y" will be at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, December 7.

—Robert Boverie provided ad samples created by a Dallas P.R. firm, which will be featured "in an impressive list of TV, radio and newspapers," and gave a report on advertising expenditures.

—Flo Maul reported that this year's motorcycle festival was a "great success" although no profit was realized. A facility is needed for next year's event, as the Carrizo Lodge is too small, she indicated. She also requested about $275 for a Ruidoso booth at an upcoming motorcycle trade show in Southern California. The board agreed to approach the Lodgers' Tax Committee for approval of the funds.

—Tim Morris provided a tentative construction schedule for the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission, reporting that to date they are on schedule.

—Don Shaw, John Jeffers and Bill Hirschfeld will appoint a committee to promote the board's support of the gross receipts tax increase referendum.

—Paul Crown reported that the Chili Cookoff profit of $228 will be donated to the Ruidoso Humane Society.

—Kerry Boyd will head a forum to inform the public of the facts of the Mescalero Apache Tribe water rights claims.

Sierra Blanca Airport Road route

The dashed line follows the 7.3 miles of road to the proposed new airport. Lincoln County Commissioners approved this road (Option 2), because it will be the least expensive and the most efficient according to Bohannon-Huston Incorporated, the firm selected to conduct the study and investigation on the road. They presented three options at the first public meeting, last month. There will be one more public hearing concerning the road on December 2.

New Safeway opens

Ken Baldwin, construction director for Safeway, smiles at the sight of the almost-ready-to-open Safeway store on Highway 70 West. The grand opening of the store will be Saturday morning. Among several items to be given away in connection with the opening will be this mini race car (right). See more opening information in the final section of today's issue of The Ruidoso News.

Hot Milk Sponge Cake

This recipe is another "family antique." It has been in my husband's family for about forty years. It is easy to see why. This is a very light and flavorful cake ... and it is uniquely versatile. You can make a pineapple upside down cake from this recipe, or you can simply top the cake with a luscious topping made from brown sugar, pecans and coconut. Which do we like best? Both! I just keep making them, and we keep trying to decide. What could be more fun?

Hot Milk Sponge Cake

2 eggs (at room temperature)	1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup sugar	1/2 cup milk
1 cup flour	1 Tbsp. butter
1 tsp. baking powder	1 tsp. vanilla

This is so easy! Heat milk, butter and vanilla just to the boiling point and reserve. Beat eggs until fluffy. Add sugar, flour, baking powder and salt to egg mixture. Add milk mixture and mix well. Bake in a greased and floured 9 x 9 inch pan at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

For pineapple upside down cake ... Do not grease and flour pan. Simply melt 2 Tbsp. butter in 9 X 9 inch pan. Sprinkle 1/2 cup of brown sugar over melted butter. Arrange five pineapple slices on top of butter and sugar (cherries and pecans also, if you wish). Bake as directed. Cool 10 minutes. Invert pan on platter and serve.

Or ... top with "Nuttty Icing" ...

In a small saucepan combine the following ingredients:

1/2 stick of butter	a dash of salt
1/2 cup brown sugar	1/2 cup coconut
2 Tbsp. cream	1/2 cup nuts
1 tsp. vanilla

Stir over medium heat until well combined. Spread on top of finished cake and broil for three to five minutes.

Local officers attend conservation district meeting

Conservation district supervisors from throughout New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Utah met in Flagstaff, Arizona, recently, to discuss critical soil and water conservation issues affecting the Southwest. Clem Weindorf and Jim Hiles attended from this area.

According to James W. "Bill" Harrison of Silver City, chairman of the Regional Executive Committee, attendance at this meeting was excellent. Several challenges for continuing to expand and strengthen the soil and water conservation programs in the supervisors' home districts were issued by the various speakers.

Highlighting the meeting was an address by NACD Vice President Robert Wetherbee, who identified key issues facing conservation districts throughout the country. Of particular concern was the need to ensure a Soil Conservation Service technical presence in every district. Wetherbee attributes the continuing success in implementing conservation programs to the three-way partnership between districts, state conservation commissions and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service. He indicated the loss of any one partner would seriously diminish the efforts of the others. With tightening government revenues, district supervisors and their cooperators must stay on top of the issue and encourage national and state legislators to maintain adequate budget levels for this technical support.

Another prime issue addressed by Wetherbee and a panel of representatives from each of the four states concerned absentee landowners. Barnard White, president of the Utah Association of Conservation Districts, stated, "absenteeism is a serious problem whether it occurs in our schools, our businesses, or on our farms. When a landowner does not live in the local area, he is not aware of problems or their solutions. He also does not participate in incentive or assistance programs designed to solve the problems. Finally, when an emergency occurs, they are not there to make decisions about immediate actions needed to protect the land or the community."

Dean Weatherly, Pinal County Supervisor, Casa Grande, Arizona, listed four categories of land purchasers in his area. They include displaced farmers from more rapidly urbanizing areas, investors who lease land back to the previous owner until they are ready to develop the land, immediate developers and cities and developers purchasing land for the water rights.

"This situation is wonderful for maintaining or increasing land values," Weatherly said, "but the attitudes toward the land and its conservation are changing. District supervisors must get on their soapboxes and tell people about the importance of maintaining a base of agricultural productivity."

Sherman Lewis, special assistant to the Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, DC, brought good news to the supervisors when he told them it appeared the national budgets for conservation in fiscal years 1987 and 1988 would probably stay near the same level as the 1986 budget. He also indicated that Deputy Peter Myers was seeking additional funding to speed up the soil survey program in 1988. This program is particularly important in meeting the conservation compliance provisions of the 1985 Farm Bill. Lewis added the full impact of the Gramm-Rudman bill is not known at present and may be a major issue in the final budgetary process.

Other panel discussions at the meeting dealt with water quality, the sale or transfer of water rights and conservation legislation at the state level.

Attendees also got a look at space age technology when Ron Jones, water supply specialist, Phoenix, Arizona, described the Snow Survey and Water Supply Forecasting Program. Jones stated, within a year or two, anyone with a computer will be able to receive snow and water supply information directly from SCS's Portland office instead of waiting for the usual published reports. This network will allow more rapid decisions about spring runoff and water availability for reservoir managers, irrigation district officials and other water users.

Class works for spring field trip

by LINDA PONDER
News Staff Writer

For the third year, Jackie Branum's eighth-grade Ruidoso Middle School Marine Biology class will be going on a field trip. They are beginning to raise the funds it will take to finance the trip they have planned during spring break to the Texas coast.

The first stop will be Galveston, Texas, where the class will visit Ridley Sea Turtle Farm, a preservation for sea turtles which are being threatened with extinction. Next stop will be Sea-Arama, then Sea Wolf Park where they will tour ships of all kinds.

Leaving Galveston on Wednesday, they will travel to Port Aransas where they will board a research vessel, owned by the University of Texas, to actively participate in collecting marine specimens.

The Middle School students have begun studying textbooks, from the university, explaining the use of machines used on the vessel, procedures for collecting specimens and procedures on board the vessel.

The Ruidoso class is the only eighth-grade class in the nation participating in this program, said Branum. The majority of participants are college students working on their graduate degrees.

While in Port Aransas, the students also will visit islands where they will collect specimens for use in the classroom.

Branum did extensive research trying to find this sort of experience for her "honors" students. The Marine Biology class is an elective class, becoming so popular that this year the class was increased to two classes a day.

The students are proud of their aquarium projects and excited about being able to collect their own specimens in a working environment.

Everything in use today in the aquariums and displays in her classroom, except the fish, was collected two years ago by Branum's class on a similar trip.

The trip will cost $360 per student. They are beginning fund raisers

Warriors, Colts battle Friday

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

The probable District 3-AAA championship and a rematch of last season's state AAA-division final will be featured when the Ruidoso High School varsity football team plays Silver City at W.D. Horton Stadium Friday, October 31.

The game will start at 7:30 p.m. Halloween night, and there should be plenty of chills and thrills for football fans. Additional home seats have been finished, allowing enough room for 1,000 more general admission fans.

Ruidoso is ranked second in the Associated Press state AAA-division poll and the Colts are rated third.

The Warriors topped Silver City, 21-19, in last season's state championship game. Silver City won the regular-season battle, 17-13, as the two teams tied for the district title with Deming.

"The key should be whichever team makes the least mistakes and plays consistent football," said Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson. "The kicking game should be important."

"Last year we allowed 50 points via the kicking game and 25 points of those points were scored by Silver City."

"The key? It should be turnovers," said Silver City head coach Gary Gibbs. "We'll have to play the best we've ever played to beat Ruidoso."

Ruidoso comes into the game on a roll, having scored 215 points and allowed just 25 in the last five games.

For the season, the Warriors have scored 313 points and allowed 91.

Quarterback Jeff Willingham has thrown 16 touchdown passes and passed for over 1,400 yards. He also has scored six touchdowns.

Split end Brian Davis has caught 13 touchdown passes and run for four more.

Fullback Billy Harrison and tailback Kirk Taylor have sparked the Warrior rushing game of late.

Harrison is one of the state's leading rushers and Taylor scored three touchdowns in last week's 43-0 victory over Cobre.

Wingback Bubba Miller, tight end Bryan Richardson and split end-kicker Garret Henson have done a good job catching passes. Miller also is a threat to run with the ball.

The Warrior offensive line is an all-senior unit, but only one player (tackle Jason Hill) saw much varsity action last season. They have improved greatly as the season has come along.

Middle linebacker Chuck Daniels, end Matt Evans, tackle Colby Day and Willingham at safety have sparked the Warrior defense.

Daniels also has done a good job sharing tailback duties with Taylor. Silver City has some weapons of its own.

The Colts' only loss of the season was to Bowie of El Paso, Texas, by a 21-20 score.

Junior Willie Gardner, who played well in the Colts' regular-season win over Ruidoso last season, is the quarterback.

The 6-3, 170-pounder has a strong arm and also can run with the ball in the Colts' Wing-T offense (the same as Ruidoso).

Tight end Joe Quintana (6-3, 217 pounds) is a great prospect who played well against Ruidoso in the state championship game last year.

Tackle Duane Trewern (6-0, 190 pounds) is the biggest Colt offensive starter outside of Quintana.

Quintana also plays end on Silver City's five-man front.

Danny Miranda, a 5-9, 190-pound nose guard, is the second biggest Colt defensive starter.

"They're not as big as last year, but they're quick," said Henderson of Silver City. "They'll probably be the quickest team we've played so far this season."

Following are the Warriors' probable offensive and defensive starters (class and weight included).

Offense: Quarterback, Willingham, senior, 165; fullback, Harrison, senior, 160; tailback, Taylor, senior, 160; Daniels, senior, 165; wingback, Miller, senior, 160.

Defense: Middle linebacker, Daniels; outside linebackers, Jeff Sherwood, junior, 165, or Matt Griego, junior, 140, and Dusty Beavers, sophomore, 185.

Tackles, Sean Mowdy, junior, 170, and Day, senior, 155; ends, Evans, senior, 205, and Sean Moore, junior, 167; cornerbacks, Alan Kirgan, senior, 148, and Taylor; safeties, Willingham and Miller, or Toby Rue, senior, 130.

Ruidoso spikers play twice; aim for district second seed

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

A chance to get the second seed for the District 3-AAA tournament is the goal of the Ruidoso High School varsity volleyball team this weekend.

The Warriors will host Silver City Friday, October 31. Saturday, November 1, Ruidoso will travel to Cobre for the regular-season finale.

Against Silver City, the varsity match will be at 3 p.m. followed by the junior varsity match. Against Cobre, the competition will start at 2 p.m.

The Warriors defeated both opponents in five games earlier this season.

Ruidoso is 4-2 in District 3-AAA play and 10-4 overall. Hot Springs leads the district with an undefeated record, while Silver City is in third place.

The Warriors are guaranteed a home-court advantage in the first round of the district tournament next week regardless of how they do this weekend.

But if Ruidoso gets the second seed, the Warriors will host the fifth-place team (probably Deming). The third place team will host the fourth place team in the first round.

Ruidoso has been led by seniors Lana McClure, Kerry Gladden and Ashley McIntosh this season. Gladden and McIntosh both made the all-district team last season.

Sophomores Mikki Roller, Dari Stierwalt and Kristin Tidmore round out the starting lineup.

Other players who should see some varsity action this weekend include Hillary Heid, Chantel Bowen, Tara Miller, Lori Walker, Stacy Mobley and Ginger Parker.

What will the Warriors have to do to win both matches?

"Against Silver City, we'll have to be aggressive," said Warrior head coach Pixie Arthur. "We'll have to be intense. Their offense is stronger than their defense."

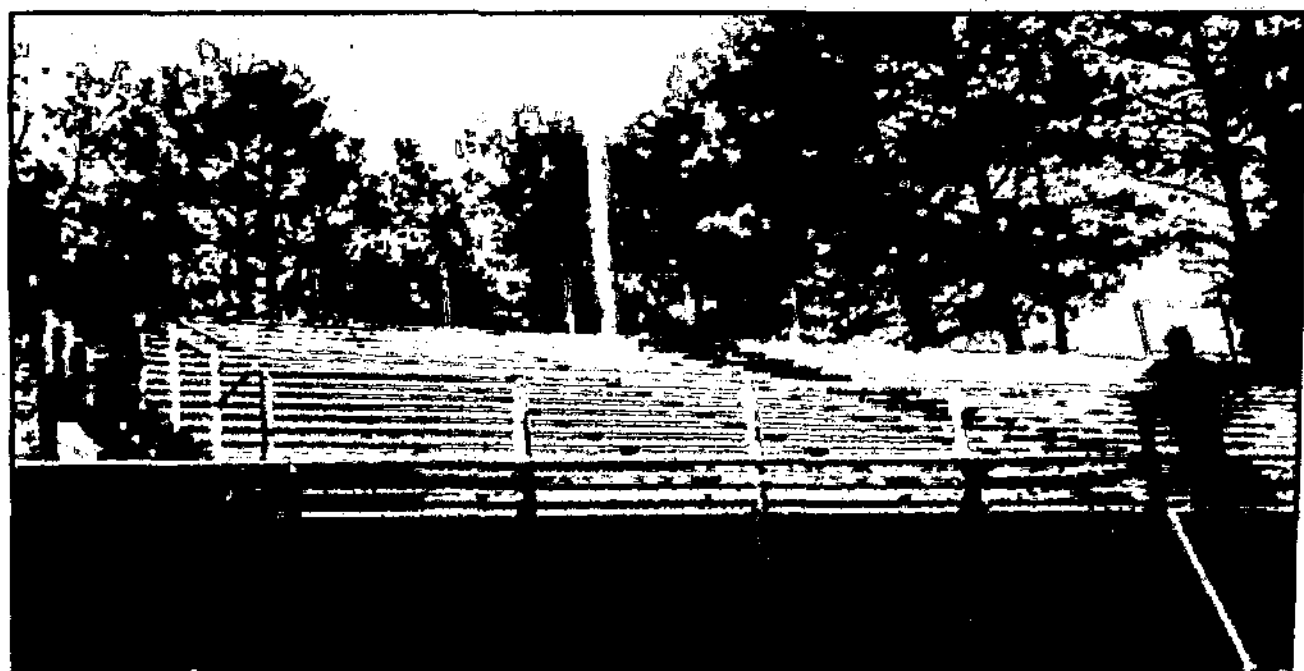

"Against Cobre, we have to play our game. If we do that, we should have no problem."

Ruidoso is healthy for the matches. Against Hot Springs last Saturday (a four-game defeat), the Warriors were bothered by injuries to Roller and Gladden.

The Warrior junior varsity is undefeated in district action and should clinch the first seed for the district tournament.

WARRIOR NOTES—If Ruidoso gets the second seed, the Warriors also will host the second round of tournament action Thursday providing they win the opener Tuesday. The finals will be at Hot Springs Saturday, November 8. The top two teams in each district qualify for the state tournament. Before next Tuesday's 7 p.m. home tournament opener, the Ruidoso Middle School seventh-grade intramural team will play an exhibition at 6 p.m.

For another volleyball story and photos, see page 18A.

New general admission seats are ready for the Ruidoso-Silver City football game Friday night. The seats should provide room for 1,000 more people.

with Gary Brown

The 1986 World Series is over, and it must rank as one of the better series in recent years. The series went seven games and the last two games were very exciting. New York's come-from-behind victory in the sixth game probably paved the way for the Mets' final win Monday night. And it probably was appropriate that the Mets won the series over the Boston Red Sox. They had the best overall record in base ball and almost certainly the best talent. The league playoffs were even more exciting. California had the Red Sox against the wall, leading three games to one, and just one strike away from the pennant.

But the Red Sox came back, keeping the Angels' pennant-less history going. New York won the National League series over Houston in six games, but three of their four victories were by one run. The closeness of the playoffs and World Series this year should send the popularity of major-league baseball soaring. The division races weren't close this season, but the post-season play more than made up for the lack of competition during the regular season. Here's hoping the 1987 baseball season will be even better than this year's was.

***** This will be a big weekend for Ruidoso High School sports teams, with both the varsity football team and volleyball team engaged in competition which could decide their post-season hopes. The football team will host Silver City Friday, October 31, with the District 3-AAA title probably on the line. Ruidoso's varsity volleyball team will host Silver City Halloween afternoon and travel to Coche the following day. The Warrior spikers have an excellent chance of finishing second in regular-season play, and will host a first-round match in the district tournament next week. Both Warrior teams will need a lot of support this weekend. Let's hope the community will come out and support them.

Tigers play Carrizozo for state playoff berth

A place in the state A-division playoffs will be on the line Saturday, November 1, when the Capitán High School varsity football team hosts Carrizozo at 2 p.m. Capitán is 5-4 on the overall season and 1-1 in District 1-A action. If the Tigers beat Carrizozo, they will have the same district record as Cloudcroft and Carrizozo but will have the edge in point differentials between the three teams. Capitán is coming off an exciting 29-26 victory over non-district foe Santa Rosa last week. Jay Eldridge and Troy Padilla sparked the Tiger victory. Padilla threw three touchdown passes and completed nine of 18 passes for 173 yards. Eldridge led the Tiger rushers with 89 yards and caught a 46-yard touchdown pass from Padilla. The Tiger varsity volleyball team will compete in the district tournament at Cloudcroft Saturday, November 1. Coach Bill MacVeigh's young team has shown gradual improvement over the course of the season.

Youth grid, soccer continues

The Ruidoso Little League football program will have its major-division semi-finals and minor-division finals Saturday, November 1, at W.D. Horton Stadium. In major-division play, the round-robin champion Steelers will play Ski Apache at 1 p.m., and the Cowboys will take on the Colts at 3 p.m. The defending champion Raiders will play the Redskins in the minor-division title game at 11 a.m. At 9 a.m. the Lions and Bears will tangle in the consolation game. Last week's major-division results saw the Cowboys dump Ski Apache, 32-0, and the Colts blank the Broncos, 28-0.

Minor-division semi-final play saw the Raiders beat the Lions, 12-6; and the Redskins topple the Braves, 20-6. In youth soccer action, Ruidoso's Road Warrior under-10, under-12, and under 14 teams had mixed results in the Otero County Soccer Association. The under-14 team beat Holloman, 5-0; the under-12 team lost, 2-0, to an Alamogordo team, and the under-10 team lost, 1-0, to another Alamogordo team. The regular soccer season will end Saturday, November 8. Tryouts for the league All-Star team will be Sunday, November 9, in Alamogordo.

Brave spikers

Harriers to run at Hobbs

Ruidoso High School's boys cross-country team will compete in the Hobbs Invitational Saturday, November 1. The invitational will start at 10 a.m. Most of the top teams in Southern New Mexico probably will compete in the meet. Ruidoso took third in its own invitational last Thursday. Senior Gabe Tam led the way with a second-place finish in 16:58. Sergio Hernandez was 11th and Daniel Martinez finished 12th. Other top Warrior runners include Hamilton Carter, Michael Randolph and Trey Von Trotha. Ruidoso will have a runoff today (Thursday), October 30, to decide the official competitors for the Hobbs meet. Following the Hobbs meet, Ruidoso will compete in the District 3-AAA meet at Silver City the following week and the state AAA-division meet in Albuquerque the week after that.

Hunger Day focuses on the hungry in county

Today (Thursday), October 30, is Lincoln County Hunger Day, and members of the Lincoln County Food Bank have asked area citizens to remember that food is sometimes in short supply for some of their neighbors.

And what better time to remember the needs of the hungry than when dining out or buying food?

With that in mind, the Lincoln County Food Bank has been joined by area restaurants in commemorating Hunger Day in Lincoln County.

Owners and proprietors of various eating establishments have agreed to participate in various ways—from donating food or money to feeding receipts from coffee or food sales or placing a donation can at the register for customers to contribute to. Among businesses participating in Hunger Day activities are Los Amigos, Whispering Pines, Pizza Hut, Bull Ring, Gus' Seafood, Apple Tree Terrace, Don Victor's, Great Wall of China, Cree Meadows, Carrizo Lodge, Red Rooster, Handi Hanks, Ole Taco, Taste Freez (Ruidoso), Incredible, K-Bobs, Kelley's, Schlitzsky's, Great American, Four Winds, Outpost, Coffee Cup, Corona Cafe, Village Cafe, Country Inn... and Copa d'Oros.

Members of the food bank encourage everyone to patronize participating businesses and thank them for their concern for the hungry of this area.

For more information or to make a contribution to the Lincoln County Food Bank, write P.O. Box 1735 in Ruidoso.

Reaching the membership

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

Charles Newton Page Memorial services were held at eleven a.m. October twenty-seven in Church of the Holy Mount for Charles Newton Page, affectionately known as "Newt", who was called Home by Our Lord on September twenty-nine in Midland.

Father Burdette Stampley, in charge of services, said that life is an eternal force which is victorious over our physical death; and that Newt was now in the greater and eternal life with Our Lord, after a life of great service to his fellow man and to God, here among us.

Lay reader Walter Rawley read from the Book of Job:

"For I know that my redeemer liveth and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth, and though this body be destroyed, yet shall I see God."

Walter also read the twenty-first psalm, one hundred and twenty-one: "I to the hills will lift mine eyes..."

Lay reader Pat Delhotal read from the book of Revelation:

"For the Lamb shall feed them and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters; and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes."

Pat also read the twenty-third Psalm:

"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want..."

Four hymns from the Episcopal hymnal were sung by choir and congregation: "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today", "How Firm A Foundation", "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" and "He Is Risen."

Newt was born April 29, 1913, in Sharon, Massachusetts to Maurice Page and the former Laura Barton.

He was selected from West Midway, Massachusetts High School for a scholarship to the Colorado School of Mines. He received a degree in Geological Engineering in 1942, and began a career which carried him to the top of his profession.

His star of good fortune shone brightly when he was married to the former Lucie Barton November thirty, 1946. They have raised one son, Doug, who is a landscape architect in Midland. Newt's sister, Margaret Johnson, of Kennebunk, Maine was present in spirit at the services.

Earlier this year Newt was honored in being this year's recipient of the Distinguished Achievement Award from The Colorado School of Mines. He is recognized as one of the top petroleum geologists in the nation.

Newt and Lucie have been valued and beloved members of The Church of the Holy Mount for many years. And their hilltop home in Agua Fria has been the center of hospitality and sincere friendship. Newt has served as Water Board Chairman of Ruidoso and director of the Alto Lakes Country Club.

Newt has been greatly blessed during his long life full of accomplishments, by his devoted wife and son, and countless friends.

He has been an inspiration to all of us for remaining cheerful, helpful, and full of good will and faith during his long illness.

The highlight of my seventy-seventh birthday was the honor of having a part in the services of a beloved friend. We rejoice that Newt has gone on to meet loved ones with Our Lord in Heaven.

School bus is hit; nobody is hurt

Students riding bus #18 were barely late to school Wednesday after that bus was involved in a minor accident in Ruidoso Downs, according to White Mountain Intermediate School principal and bus supervisor Donnie Weems.

"It was a real minor scrape," said Ruidoso Downs Police Chief Skip Hazel, whose department didn't file a report on the incident after estimating that damage to the bus and the private vehicle involved was less than $100.

Hazel said the bus was heading into Ruidoso Gardens when a driver pulled out of a private drive and collided with the side of the bus causing a scratch. Weems said the bus was completely stopped when the accident occurred.

Weems said Connie Hilton was the bus driver. He said the police were called immediately, and it was apparently their decision not to file an accident report. He said his office will file a report of the "unavoidable" accident through the state.

Hazel said he didn't know the name of the other driver involved.

Weems said Wednesday's accident was the second minor "unavoidable" school bus accident this year.

He praised his drivers' good driving records, adding one driver hasn't had an accident for 30 years.

In a separate incident at about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday a Ruidoso woman suffered minor injuries in a two-car accident in Ruidoso.

Verna Allen, 57, of Ruidoso was transported to Lincoln County Medical Center after the vehicle she was driving was involved in an accident at the intersection of Mechem and Brady Canyon drives, according to Ruidoso Police reports.

A hospital spokesman said Allen was treated and released.

Police said Allen was northbound on Mechem in a 1982 Chevrolet when her vehicle was hit in the rear by a 1985 Ford pickup driven by Mary Maxwell, 39, of Ruidoso.

Maxwell, also northbound on Mechem, told police she didn't see Allen's vehicle stopped in front of her, according to the report. Police said Maxwell was cited for following too closely.

Ruidoso Police responded to three minor accidents on Tuesday. No injuries resulted from those incidents.

State Racing Commission gives conditional OK to Sunland sale

Ruidoso-Sunland Inc., recently plagued by financial problems, got some good news Wednesday when the State Racing Commission gave prospective buyers a conditional license to take over Sunland Park Race Track.

United Tote, a Montana pari-mutuel equipment company, has offered $3.5 million for Sunland Park Race Track, but negotiations have been complicated by Ruidoso-Sunland's $9 million in debts. The license approval is contingent upon a successful sale agreement.

United Tote lists $18 million in assets, $17 million in stockholder equity and was expecting revenues of $10 million in 1986, according to a report in The Albuquerque Journal.

The purchase agreement sets a November 1 closing date, but both parties told the commission that the closing may be delayed, according to that report.

Ruidoso-Sunland attorney Dick Minzner reportedly said the $3.5 million sale price wouldn't be enough to clear the Sunland Park title and renegotiation of a first mortgage to Fortuna Corporation is in arbitration.

Fortuna Corporation is the California firm that sold the New Mexico tracks to Ruidoso-Sunland. A second mortgage for $3 million is held by First National Bank, according to The Journal.

United Tote reportedly has formed a subsidiary, Nuevo Sol Turf Club, to run the track if it is successful in making the acquisition.

Sunland Park racing season is from October through May.

The long haul

Ruidoso firefighter Robby Hall is hoisted up a cliffside along with a Stokes rescue basket containing volunteer "victim" Mark Gowdy. The firefighters and members of White Mountain Search and Rescue participated in the demonstration rope rescue operation Saturday near Two Rivers Park. The exercise was part of the weekend New Mexico Emergency Services Council annual fall meeting October 24-26.

TV monitor aids judges, thanks to bank

A new addition to the municipal courtroom could help the presiding judge make a better-informed ruling in some cases.

Ruidoso State Bank recently donated a television monitor for use in the courtroom shared by municipal, magistrate and district judges.

Municipal Judge John Cupp said the electronic equipment is used with the Police Department VCR to view tapings of interviews, arrest bookings and other video materials. He said it is a welcome addition to the Ruidoso Police Courts complex that was built with funds provided by a local bond issue "without one cent of state or federal money."

During one recent court hearing the equipment was used to show the defendant as he was booked after being arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs. The attorneys disagreed as to whether the defendant showed signs of intoxication.

The judge was able to observe that behavior and evaluate it, along with the testimony of the defendant and police officers.

Jim Alston, deputy police chief, said the need for a monitor was identified some months ago, but no funds were available.

"Knowing full well that monies for such were not in the budget and would not be forthcoming in the near future, Ruidoso State Bank very generously donated the funds necessary to equip the courtroom with the VCR and receiver, without fanfare," said Judge Cupp.

"It is a distinct honor and privilege to be a part of a community that pulls together," added Cupp.

TO THE VOTERS OF LINCOLN COUNTY STATE REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT 52

(Alto, Nogal, Carrizozo, Corona)

DEAR VOTERS:

I believe that the state legislature must make major changes in this state's Criminal Justice System.

First, my background in criminal justice. I served as a criminal prosecutor from 1975 to 1986. From 1980 to 1984, I was the district attorney for the 12th Judicial District. From 1983 to 1985, I served as president of the New Mexico District Attorney's Association, a position elected by the other district attorneys in the State.

As president of the District Attorney's Association, I worked hard with the legislature to get tougher laws on the books. I worked for training programs for prosecutors and against proposed laws that would reduce penalties for convicted criminals. I worked for laws against child pornography and I also worked with victim's rights organizations. In fact, I currently serve on the board of directors of the New Mexico Coalition for the prevention of Sexual Assault.

STIFFER PENALTIES: I will first work to increase the penalties for violent crimes and hard drugs. For instance, a person convicted of rape can serve as little as 1 1/2 years. A person convicted of second degree murder can serve as little as three years. A person convicted of first degree-premeditated-capital murder is given a LIFE SENTENCE—and is back on the streets in 30 years (possibly 15 years of good behavior). In my book, 30 years is not a life sentence.

I intend to introduce laws which will dramatically increase the time violent criminals must serve. I will also introduce a law to make life imprisonment mean what it implies—the rest of a person's natural life.

Steven K. Sanders

GOOD TIME: In New Mexico every sentence handed out by a judge can be cut in half if the criminal's behavior is good while in prison. The people are being misled by the system into thinking a convicted criminal will be off the streets for the length of a judge's sentence. NOT SO! The criminal serves only one-half of the time the judge imposes.

I believe the sentence should be exactly what the judge said—not one-half of what he said. If a criminal's behavior in prison is not "good" he should be further punished—not rewarded for doing what he is supposed to do by getting out of prison early.

BAIL: No violent criminal should be allowed to post bond and remain out of jail. I will sponsor a law to keep these criminals in jail.

PLEA BARGAINING: When I was elected district attorney in 1980 the plea bargaining rate was in excess of 85 percent of all cases filed in the 12th Judicial District (Lincoln and Otero counties). Without increased staff we immediately reduced the rate to 15 percent.

I believe there needs to be tighter controls placed on plea bargaining by prosecutors. First, a plea bargain should NOT be entered into for violent crimes or hard drug offenses unless the prosecutor has first consulted with the victim. Second, the prosecutor should be required to certify to the court that he has consulted with the victim and the victim agrees, or if the victim does not agree, the prosecutor should be required to prove to the court that the plea bargain is necessary. Third, no plea bargain should be allowed for second or subsequent felony offenders.

These are just a few of the changes I advocate. If you believe as I do that there must be a major overhaul of our criminal justice system, then please vote for me, Steven Sanders for State Representative on November 4th. I look forward to discussing these and other problems with you in the coming weeks.

Respectfully,

STEVEN SANDERS

LET'S TALK WATER

Dear Voters:

New Mexico's water is under attack from all directions. El Paso is seeking major quantities of water which will have untold consequences for wells in the Tularosa Basin. Possible effects include salt water contamination, lowering of the water table or drying up of wells.

Further, Texas is threatening to take 10 years' worth of water from the Pecos and its tributaries. We cannot allow this to occur.

I am committed to fighting for our water. Water is a life line that no amount of money can replace.

My opponent, Maurice Hobson, has openly argued that New Mexico should give up and let El Paso take our water. He has urged the Lincoln County Commissioners to settle with El Paso and allow it to drill wells in New Mexico. He has called other state representatives in Lincoln, Otero and Dona Ana counties with the same request because El Paso has agreed to pay a small sum of money to the state for settlement—a sum much smaller than the cost of litigation to El Paso. I will not sell out to Texas.

You have the choice...a fighter for New Mexico's water or a person who wants to sell out to Texas. The choice is yours!

Ghosts and goblins

This haunted house adds to the Halloween atmosphere at the Ruidoso Public Library every year. Ingrid Schmitz of the library staff created the spooky mansion filled with ghosts and pumpkins about five years ago, and adds to it each year as it decorates the wall of the multi-purpose room.

Banquet Saturday will recognize Shrine Club

The Ruidoso Shrine Club was honored recently by being named outstanding club in New Mexico due to the success the club experienced in their paper drive. Club member J.D. James said the club was awarded the distinction because they had the largest percentage increase over last year's paper drive. James said the proceeds from the paper drives go to the Shrine Crippled Children Hospitals and Burn Centers. Shrine Potentate Dick Driskill will visit the Ruidoso club Saturday, November 1, to give a recognition banquet in honor of the achievement. The 7 p.m. dinner will be at Cree Meadows Country Club and all Shriners and their spouses are invited.

Campaigning together

U.S. Representative Joe Skeen (right) and his wife, Mary, share a quiet moment on the campaign trail. The Skeens, just back from Washington, D.C., stopped by The News last Friday on a tour through Lincoln County. He visited Corona, Carrizozo, Capitan, Hondo and Ruidoso, ending his day at the Inn of the Mountain Gods for a Sertoma dinner honoring Mescalero Apache President Wendell Chino.

Downs judge proposes relocation of courtroom

Ruidoso Downs Trustees agreed Monday to consider a proposal by Municipal Judge Martin Valenzuela to move the court to a building across Highway 70 from Ruidoso Downs Village hall.

The trustees heard Valenzuela's proposal during their regular meeting Monday evening. The judge reported that the vacant Ruidoso State Bank building in the Downs has been made available to him rent-free.

The trustees and Downs Mayor J.C. "Jake" Harris asked that Valenzuela research the costs of moving, utilities and insurance the proposal would entail, and report back.

"I'd like to see the judge over there ... as crowded as it is over here," said Trustee Conrad Buchanan. The trustee expressed his gratitude for the bank's offer of use of the building.

The trustees were cautious of the move, however, reporting that more was spent on recent projects than was expected, leaving the village with less money for other costs.

In other business, the trustees: —Heard Harris proclaim today (Thursday), October 30, as Ruidoso Downs Hunger Day at the request of the Lincoln County Food Bank. A collection bin for canned goods will be set up at village hall.

—Voted to allow the use of village polycarts by the Happy Holidays Food and Toy Drive.

—Passed Resolution 86-19, regarding a water grant.

—Passed Ordinance 86-17, regulating the cutting of village streets.

—Conducted an executive session to consider engineering proposals, then returned to regular session and announced that engineers Molzen-Corbin of Albuquerque and Las Cruces were selected.

—Approved sending police officers Bobby Angermiller, David Hightower and Frank Hopper to a DWI training class in Artesia.

Good times have come for Warrior spikers

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Years of frustration and hard work are finally paying off for the Ruidoso High School volleyball program. Ruidoso's varsity team is 4-2 in District 3-AAA play and 10-4 overall this season. Last year, the Warriors won only one district match (and one match overall). The previous two years Ruidoso went without a district victory. And it's been a long road for varsity coach Pixie Arthur and junior varsity coach Jim Hofstad. Arthur became head coach in 1983 after coming from Fort Stockton, Texas. "Oh yes, it's been frustrating," Arthur said. "But I felt all along that this year's seniors would be the leaders we needed to be a winning team." Seniors Kerry Gladden, Ashley McIntosh and Lana McClure have been solid fixtures on the squad this season and have added an air of stability to the team. But Arthur thinks the biggest key to the team's success this season was an off-season program started after the 1985 campaign. "We had a real intense off-season program," Arthur explained. "We did weight lifting, mat work and plyometrics." "The mat work helps our quickness and the plyometrics help strengthen the ankles, legs and increases our quickness," Arthur praised Hofstad for the off-season program. "He's been a real important factor in our volleyball program," Arthur said. "Much of the credit for our off-season program should be given to Jim."

Hofstad has been the Warrior junior varsity coach for two seasons, and the team is undefeated in district action this year. In 1984, he coached the Ruidoso Middle School volleyball program. Arthur also had praise for Jody Hopkins, the present middle school coach. "She teaches the fundamentals well," Arthur said. "She teaches the kids to pass, set and spike. She's teaching the kids the correct way to play, not just to win." Both Hopkins and Hofstad before her have done a good job at developing the middle school players' skills.

Freshman Tara Miller is a member of the Warrior varsity this season, while sophomores Dari Stierwalt and Mikki Roller are starters. All three played middle school volleyball in Ruidoso.

Kristin Tidmore, another sophomore, moved to Ruidoso in her freshman year and now is starting for the Warrior varsity.

The Warrior head coach also credited the team's participation in a wallyball tournament at Ruidoso Athletic Club as helping the development of the squad.

"Wallyball is similar to volleyball and actually it's even faster," Arthur said. "That definitely helped us."

Arthur had limited volleyball experience before coming to Ruidoso from Fort Stockton.

She had some experience refereeing matches and helping coach a junior high school team.

"But I never was head coach before coming here," she said. "It's definitely been a learning experience."

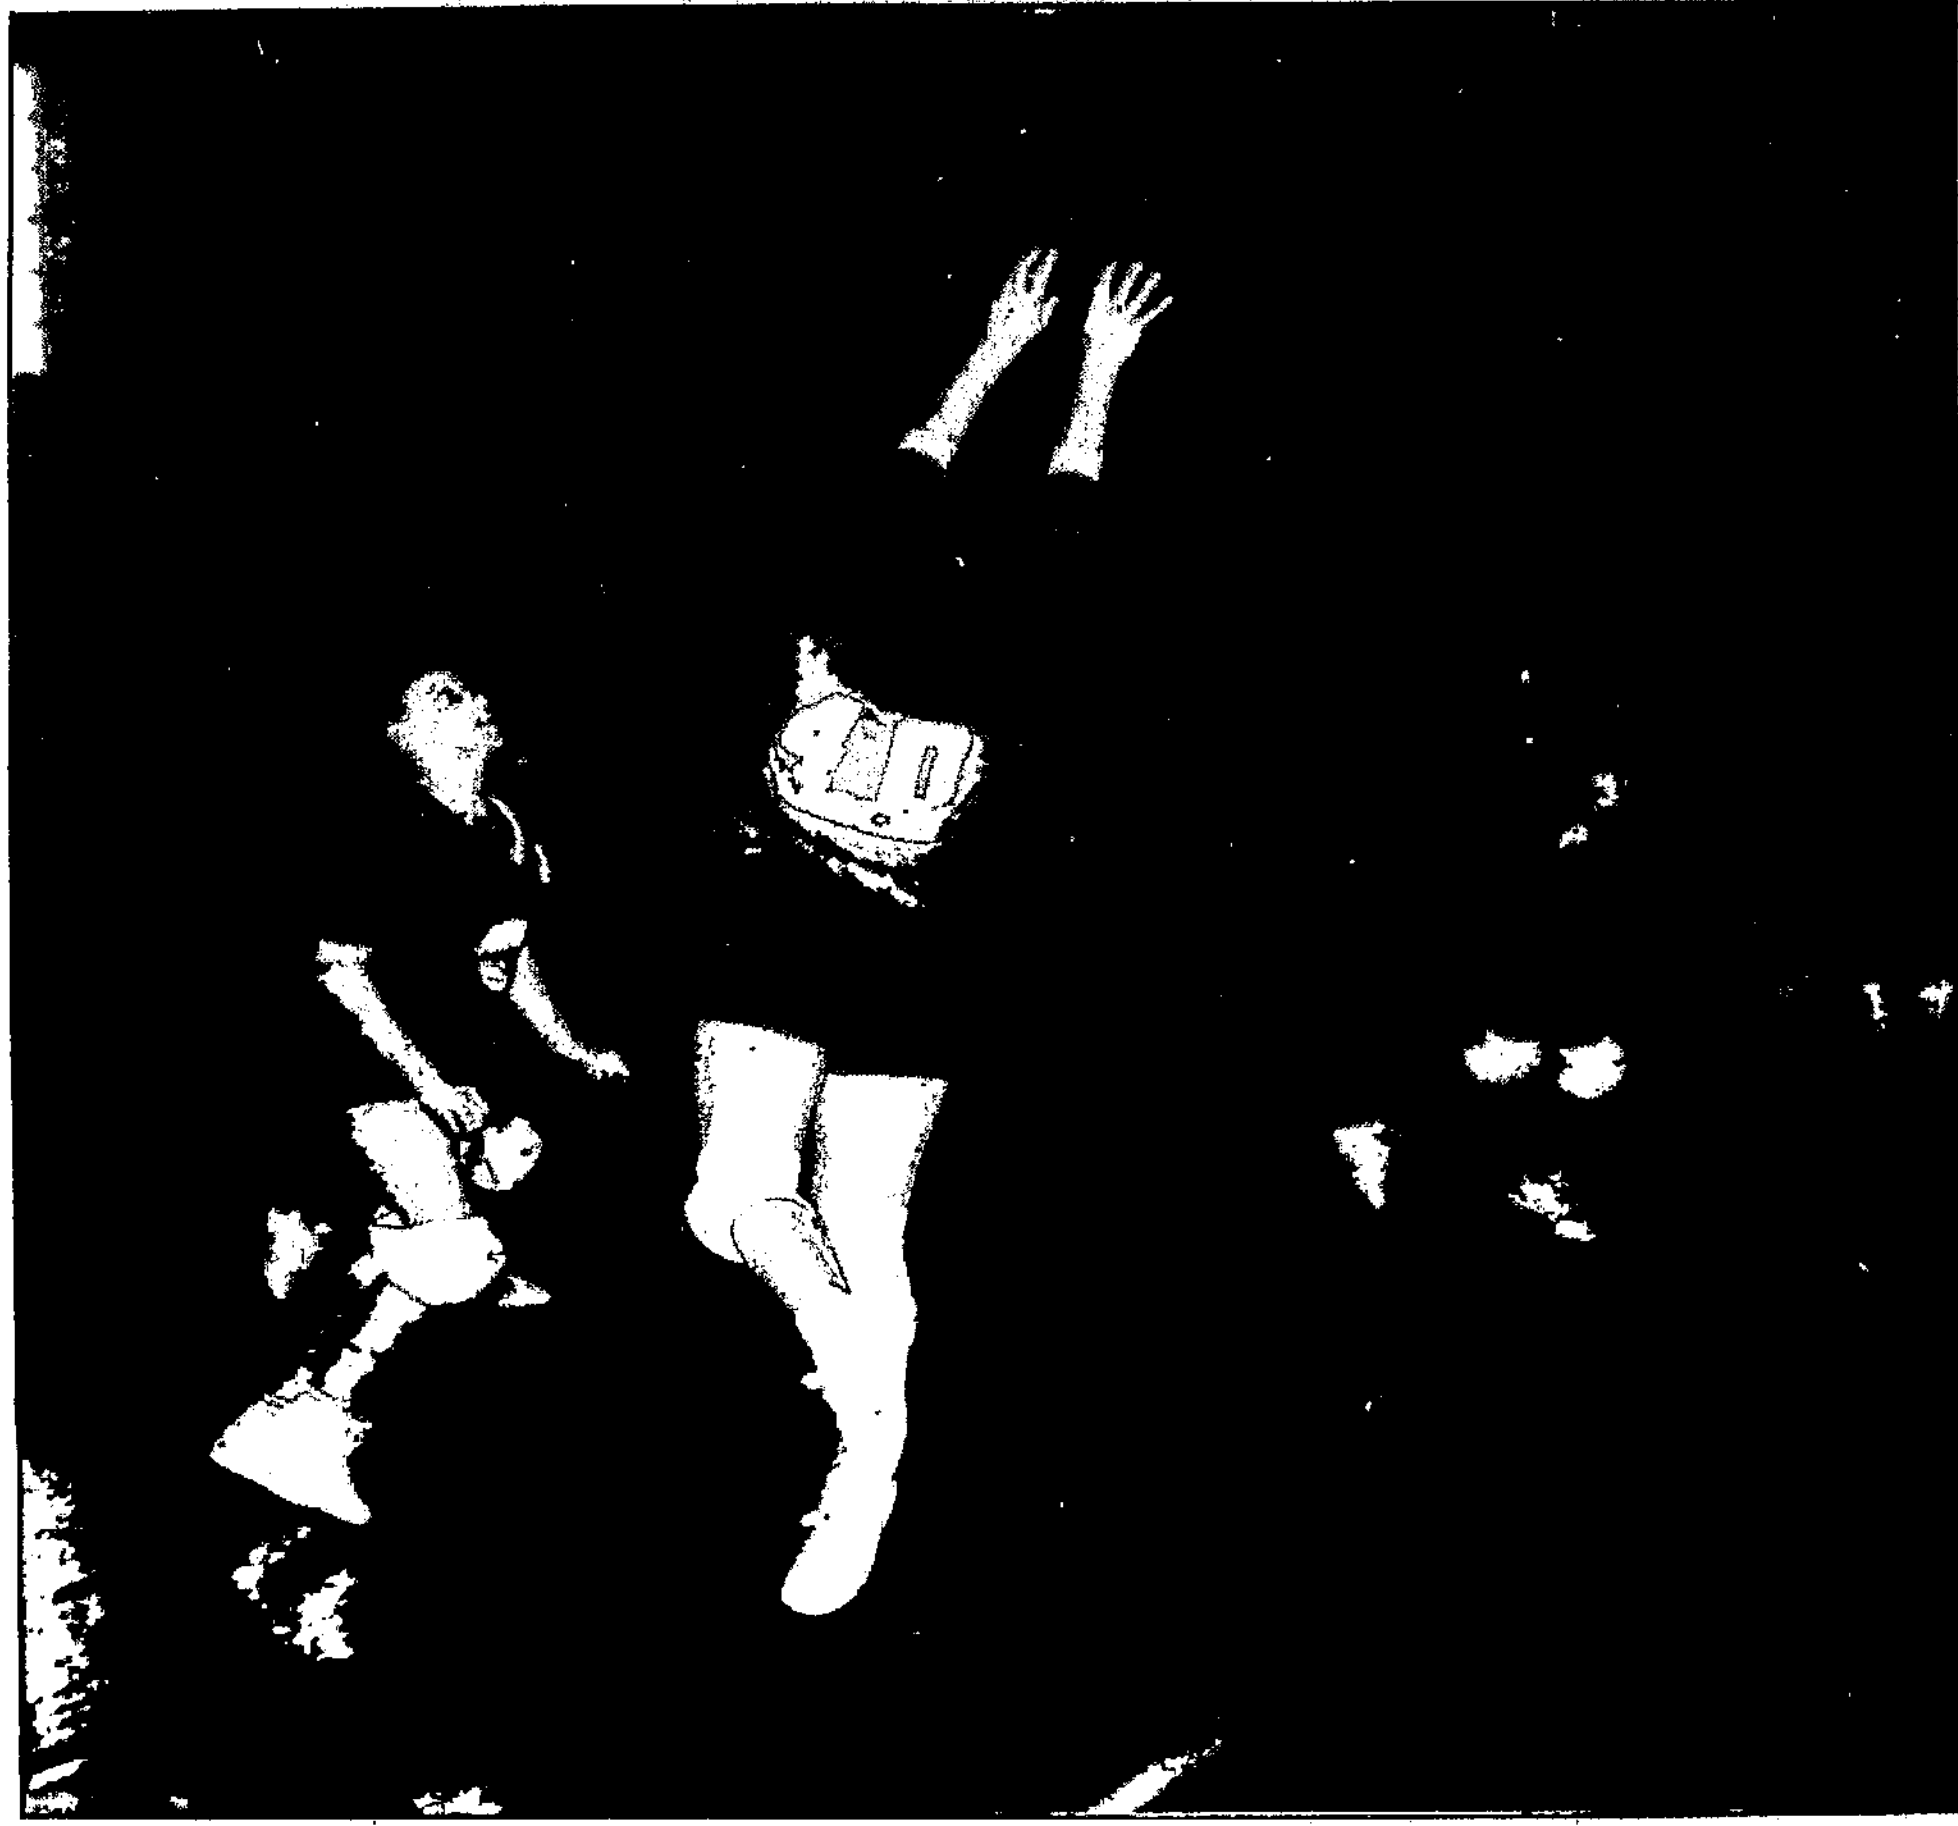

But Arthur has learned a lot in the past three years, enough for her to be asked to be a member of the selection committee from District 3-AAA for the South All-Star team next summer.

And you can not ask for a bigger honor than that in New Mexico volleyball.

That shows that Warrior volleyball is on its way to the top.

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—A New Mexican who holds high rank in the federal government lives and is kept busy in Washington. Still, he remains deeply interested in politics here and follows developments as closely as he can. He phones to ask a direct question: "Why are you guys in New Mexico's print media so hard on Gary Carruthers?"

A query of that kind deserves an answer, and since it refers to the print media, the answer should rightly be in print.

This writer, though, must quickly disclaim any responsibility for what others may write, as well as any obligation to respond on their part. He can speak only for himself.

From that point of view, the answer is not hard to find.

This columnist has taken such shots as he has at the Republican candidate for governor during the last few months simply because he finds that man's performance badly disappointing. It appears to at least this one observer that, given a rare opportunity for a high-level campaign, Carruthers blew it.

To be even more offensively specific, what this columnist finds most irresponsible about the Carruthers run for high office is its apparently deliberate superficiality.

From here, it seemed as though 1986 offered those who want to be our governor a rare opportunity to demonstrate their analytical ability by probing for the causes of our state's extremely poor political and fiscal health. As we have pointed out countless times, we also looked for candidates to describe their visions of how these disturbing unhealthy spots in our shared lives might once again be healed.

Instead, on Carruthers' part, we got lots of smiles and talk about being "upbeat." It was as though he had so thoroughly immersed himself in his surveys, which apparently showed him there was almost no way he could lose, that he found himself frozen there. Victory became all, and any effort on his part to talk sense to the people of the state was avoided because it might tip the canoe a little, might risk that victory he felt so nearly within his grasp. So, as it seemed to this corner, he and those who advised him decided to refrain from saying anything of substance. That attitude, if it is indeed his, is resented here. We give him the benefit of the doubt and judge that he is not really a superficial man—though that is not the conclusion many of our brothers and sisters in the press have reached. But we are then forced to conclude that he is pretending to be superficial for purposes of protecting his putative victory. That, we find insulting to the intelligence of New Mexico voters.

There are other things about the Carruthers campaign we also find disturbing.

We distrust over-glibness and the too-easy answer, and Carruthers has managed to produce great quantities of those. We find him evasive rather than direct in handling charges made against him; whether such charges are legitimate or not, they should be faced and disposed of. They will not go away merely by reason of a shrugged shoulder. To attempt to slide out from under them simply fails to generate trust—and for the next governor to successfully pull off the surgery he is going to have to perform, trust from a majority of the people of the state is an absolute necessity.

Through all the campaign after the primary, Carruthers has given the appearance of being too smugly confident. It is as though he senses inside himself that he has already pulled it off, and only has to tolerate all these useless exercises as he waits for the rest of us to find out what he already knows.

That same scent of victory in the air seems also to have turned the heads of some other normally sensible Republicans. Even before they get there, they seem to us to be a little drunk with power.

It's tough to fake humility if you're sure you have little to be humble about. Still, we have found that the voters like to be solicited for their votes and given some reason to choose one candidate over the other. To take us for granted and just sit back to wait for this silly little campaign to get itself over can be a serious error.

These are tough times in New Mexico, and we need as governor a lot more than a Dale Carnegie smile.

Reporter's Round

By Frankie Jarrell

Anybody who is "owned" by a house pet knows how much joy a domestic animal can bring into a home.

My personal preference is poodles. Pupcake, Bethany's little black poodle who sings, talks, kisses and understands just about everything that is said, rules the roost at the Jarrell house.

In spite of biological evidence to the contrary, I'm sure that poodles are much closer to humans than animals.

And I know other people who feel the same way about other canine breeds, as well as cats, hamsters, guinea pigs, birds and even fish.

But I maintained that poodles were the "only" human breed and never believed any of that nonsense about other animals until I got to know a saucy little schnauzer named Pretzel.

Now anybody who knows Conrad and Shirley Buchanan has probably seen Pretzel, because until his untimely death, he reigned over their Texaco distributorship office and traveled the town with Shirley.

Pretzel, his silver coat aglow, always held himself proudly as he walked from his home to the office each day. He seemed to know exactly what the day had in store for him.

And he did—it was barked greetings to the many customers coming in and out of the office, lots of visits to the grassy area between the Texaco station and Highway 70 and trips to the bank, post office and the like.

Everybody seemed to know Pretzel.

For lunch the frisky fellow got Chicken McNuggets and for dinner he ate a hamburger patty from K-Bob's. He'd wait patiently in the car as his family dined out—knowing they'd bring him his favorite dinner.

The Jarrell yard was one of Pretzel's favorite places. He would ignore Pupcake's hysterical barks as he pranced from tree to tree. After all, Pretzel had claimed that territory before the Jarrell family purchased the house from his folks. Pretzel knew his way around all his regular haunts, and wasn't always quick to answer Conrad's and Shirley's calls.

Looking back, Conrad said he wishes now the self-assured young dog had not felt so free to roam, for that sense of security was a big reason Pretzel fell victim to the wheels of a vehicle at the Texaco station on the very doorstep of his home.

"I wish now we'd kept him on a leash," said Conrad.

He cautioned other dog lovers to be aware of the many dangers that can threaten a four-legged friend.

Besides the memories the young

Spooks, spirits, geeks and goblins will materialize in Ruidoso this week as the village celebrates Halloween in a traditionally big way.

And, as in years past, there will be plenty of places for creepies to congregate.

A Halloween haunted house is scheduled for 7 to 10 tonight (Thursday) and 7 p.m. to midnight Friday at the Gazebo Shopping Center. A Halloween carnival is scheduled at the center from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday. The event is sponsored by White Mountain Search and Rescue and benefits that organization.

Also tonight will be the Ruidoso Care Center Halloween carnival, from 6:30 to 9:30. The public is invited.

The Ruidoso Fire Department has scheduled a haunted house at the number two station, behind Rocky Mountain Builder Supply on Mechem Drive. The haunted house will be open from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Thursday and is free of charge.

Halloween is a traditional time for locals to get together and have some fun. So whether you'll become scary or funny, gruesome or outrageous—celebrate. It's Halloween!—DJP

Conrad's mother summarized Pretzel's personality in a letter she sent after his death:

"He thought he was top dog—the way he carried himself when he walked—such a high stepper, so proud of himself, self-confident..."

The little silver dog will be missed, but as Conrad said, "He brought a lot of joy into our lives."

Jockey Steve Fuller takes Go Gabby across the finish line in Friday's $17,000 Shue Fly Stakes at Sunland Park racetrack. The win was worth nearly $8,500 for owners Richard Fry and Mary Contreras. Fry trains the racehorse.

Go Gabby takes $17,000 Shue Fly

A business decision based on numerology and horse sense turned a tidy profit for Ruidoso trainer Richard Fry and his partner Mary Contreras after Go Gabby posted a narrow victory in Friday's Shue Fly Stakes at Sunland Park.

The Shue Fly, which offered $17,000 in prize money, featured a field of eight New Mexico-bred quarter horses over Sunland's 400-yard straightaway.

Go Gabby went postward as the second choice to win the dash after turning in the fastest qualifying time in trials two weeks ago. The John Clemmons' owned entry of Little Bit Shaky and Another Bitty took the role of favorite at 6-5 odds. Jockey Steve Fuller got Go Gabby out a step slow on the break as Darrell Blevins and Interstate Ten took the early lead racing down the middle of the track from the No. 4 post position. Little Bit Shaky raced boldly alongside the leader under Lyndell Rutherford, while Go Gabby was forced to make up ground from the far outside post.

Fuller got Go Gabby in stride about 100 yards down the course and began to trim Interstate Ten's lead as Little Bit Shaky began to fade from contention.

Go Gabby caught Interstate Ten at the wire to post a narrow nose verdict in 20.40 seconds. Little Bit Shaky held on for third, finishing a length behind Interstate Ten. Rose Me Down checked in another half-length back in fourth.

Go Gabby is trained by Ruidosoan Richard Fry, who owns in the horse in partnership with numerologist Mary Contreras. They purchased the son of Mock Bird this spring in Albuquerque after evaluating his breeding and numerical values.

"If I like them and the numbers are right, we buy them," Fry commented after the race. "I like Mock Bird colts and he was the only one I could find."

Fry and Contreras picked up $8,400 for the Shue Fly victory. Fry said the gelding would be turned out for the remainder of the year and pointed to the West Texas Derby next spring at Sunland.

Interstate Ten's second earned $2,800 for Philip Clifford and Frank Snodgrass of Grand Prairie, Texas. J.B. Montgomery conditions the Truckee Feature colt. Little Bit Shaky's third was worth $1,700 to John Clemmons of Roswell. Jim Clemmons is the trainer.

Jockey/Trainer Standings

Jockey Jerry Rodriguez nabbed top riding honors this weekend at Sunland Park, while Lewis Germany took the crown in the training colony.

Rodriguez made four trips to the winner's circle over three racing programs - a performance that moved him to the No. 3 position in the overall standings after closing the previous week in the eighth slot.

Pedro Benitez continues to share the leading rider spot with defending champion Mike Lidberg. Each of the reinsman have seven wins for the season, but Benitez gets the nod on percentage points.

Danny Sorenson moved into fourth, while Joe Martinez checked in fifth.

In the trainer standings, Germany vaulted into the No. 2 spot after saddling four winners over the weekend. Fred Danley continues his domination with six wins on the season.

Challenging Germany with five wins each are: Cliff Lambert Sr., third; Jake Cascio, fourth; and Gerald Marr, fifth.

Sunland Park will offer simulcast wagering on Saturday's (Nov. 1) Breeders' Cup Turf and Classic from Santa Anita Park in California. Win, place, show and exotic wagering will be featured on the two most prominent races on the Breeders' Cup Day program. The $2 million Turf and the $3 million Classic - the world's richest horse race - will run as the seventh and eighth races on Saturday's card. Sunland's opening post has been moved up to 12:15 p.m. on Saturday to accommodate the live simulcast.

time for the 400-yard sprint. Fry says his partner Contreras is a "numerologist." He picks 'em out and she handles the numbers.

A couple of talented young riders accounted for last Saturday's $20,000 claiming feature. Sixteen-year-old Lewie Germany and 18-year-old Glen Murphy fought their way down the stretch in the 6-furlong dash with Germany's mount Golden Special taking command near the wire. Murphy rode the well-bred filly Ruffetta to the place while Mr Nicolas was a well beaten third.

Some of the Southwest's top young sprinters will be featured on Sunday's program at Sunland as Lightfoot Lil and Autobahn head the field for the $52,000 Thoroughbred Sale Futurity. Both horses sport local connections. Autobahn is owned by William and Bill Laursen of Albuquerque, while Lightfoot Lil files the colors of Jacqueline Spencer of Alto.

Ruidosoan Mary Contreras and Richard Fry's Go Gabby won the Oct. 24 running of the Shue Fly Stakes. The New Mexico bred gelding earned over $3,000 for his owners after setting the fastest Stanel and Spanish Reb accounted for the two divisions of the Rio Grande Marathon Series on Oct. 26. Stanel, a 7-5 shot, made a strong drive down the stretch to record a half-length decision while Spanish Reb posted a front-running head verdict holding off a fast charging Aggariva.

Jockeys Pedro Benitez and Mike Lidberg remain atop the jockey standings again this week. Both riders won two races last weekend for a total of nine wins each. Trainer Fred Danley continues his success at Sunland with six wins for the season.

Stanel, Spanish Reb are winners Sunday

Two divisions of the Rio Grande Marathon Series highlighted Sunday's program at Sunland Park with Stanel and Spanish Reb capturing both of the mile-long features in dramatic fashion.

Racing resumes next weekend at Sunland with 11-race programs scheduled Friday through Sunday. First post Friday and Sunday will be the normal 12:30 p.m. Saturday's opening post has been moved up to 12:15 p.m. to accommodate simulcast wagering on the Breeders' Cup Turf and Classic from Santa Anita Park.

With Arturo Valles taking the mount for apprentice jockey Lewie Germany, Stanel did not disappoint his supporters after being backed down to 7-5 odds in Sunday's first division of the Marathon Series. Valles drew Stanel within striking distance at the half-mile mark and held a half-length lead from deep stretch to win by the same margin. Sexy Socialite and rider Joe Martinez tried to close the gap in the final furlong, but had to settle for second.

Stanel, a Lewis Germany trainee, earned $1,500 for owner Grady Hopper of Dallas.

The second Marathon Series division found Spanish Reb setting all of the fractions under rider Juan Arteaga. Arteaga raced to a two-length advantage aboard Spanish Reb as the field rounded the final bend and then fought off a desperate stretch drive from Agarriva to win by a head.

Sale Futurity contenders

Autobahn (top) and Lightfoot Lil (below) are top prospects for this Sunday's $52,000 Sale Futurity at Sunland park racetrack. The winner of the race will collect $26,000.

Golden Special captures Saturday feature race

Golden Special, ridden by 16-year-old apprentice jockey Lewie Germany, showed the way past every pole to post an impressive daylight victory in Saturday's feature race at Sunland Park.

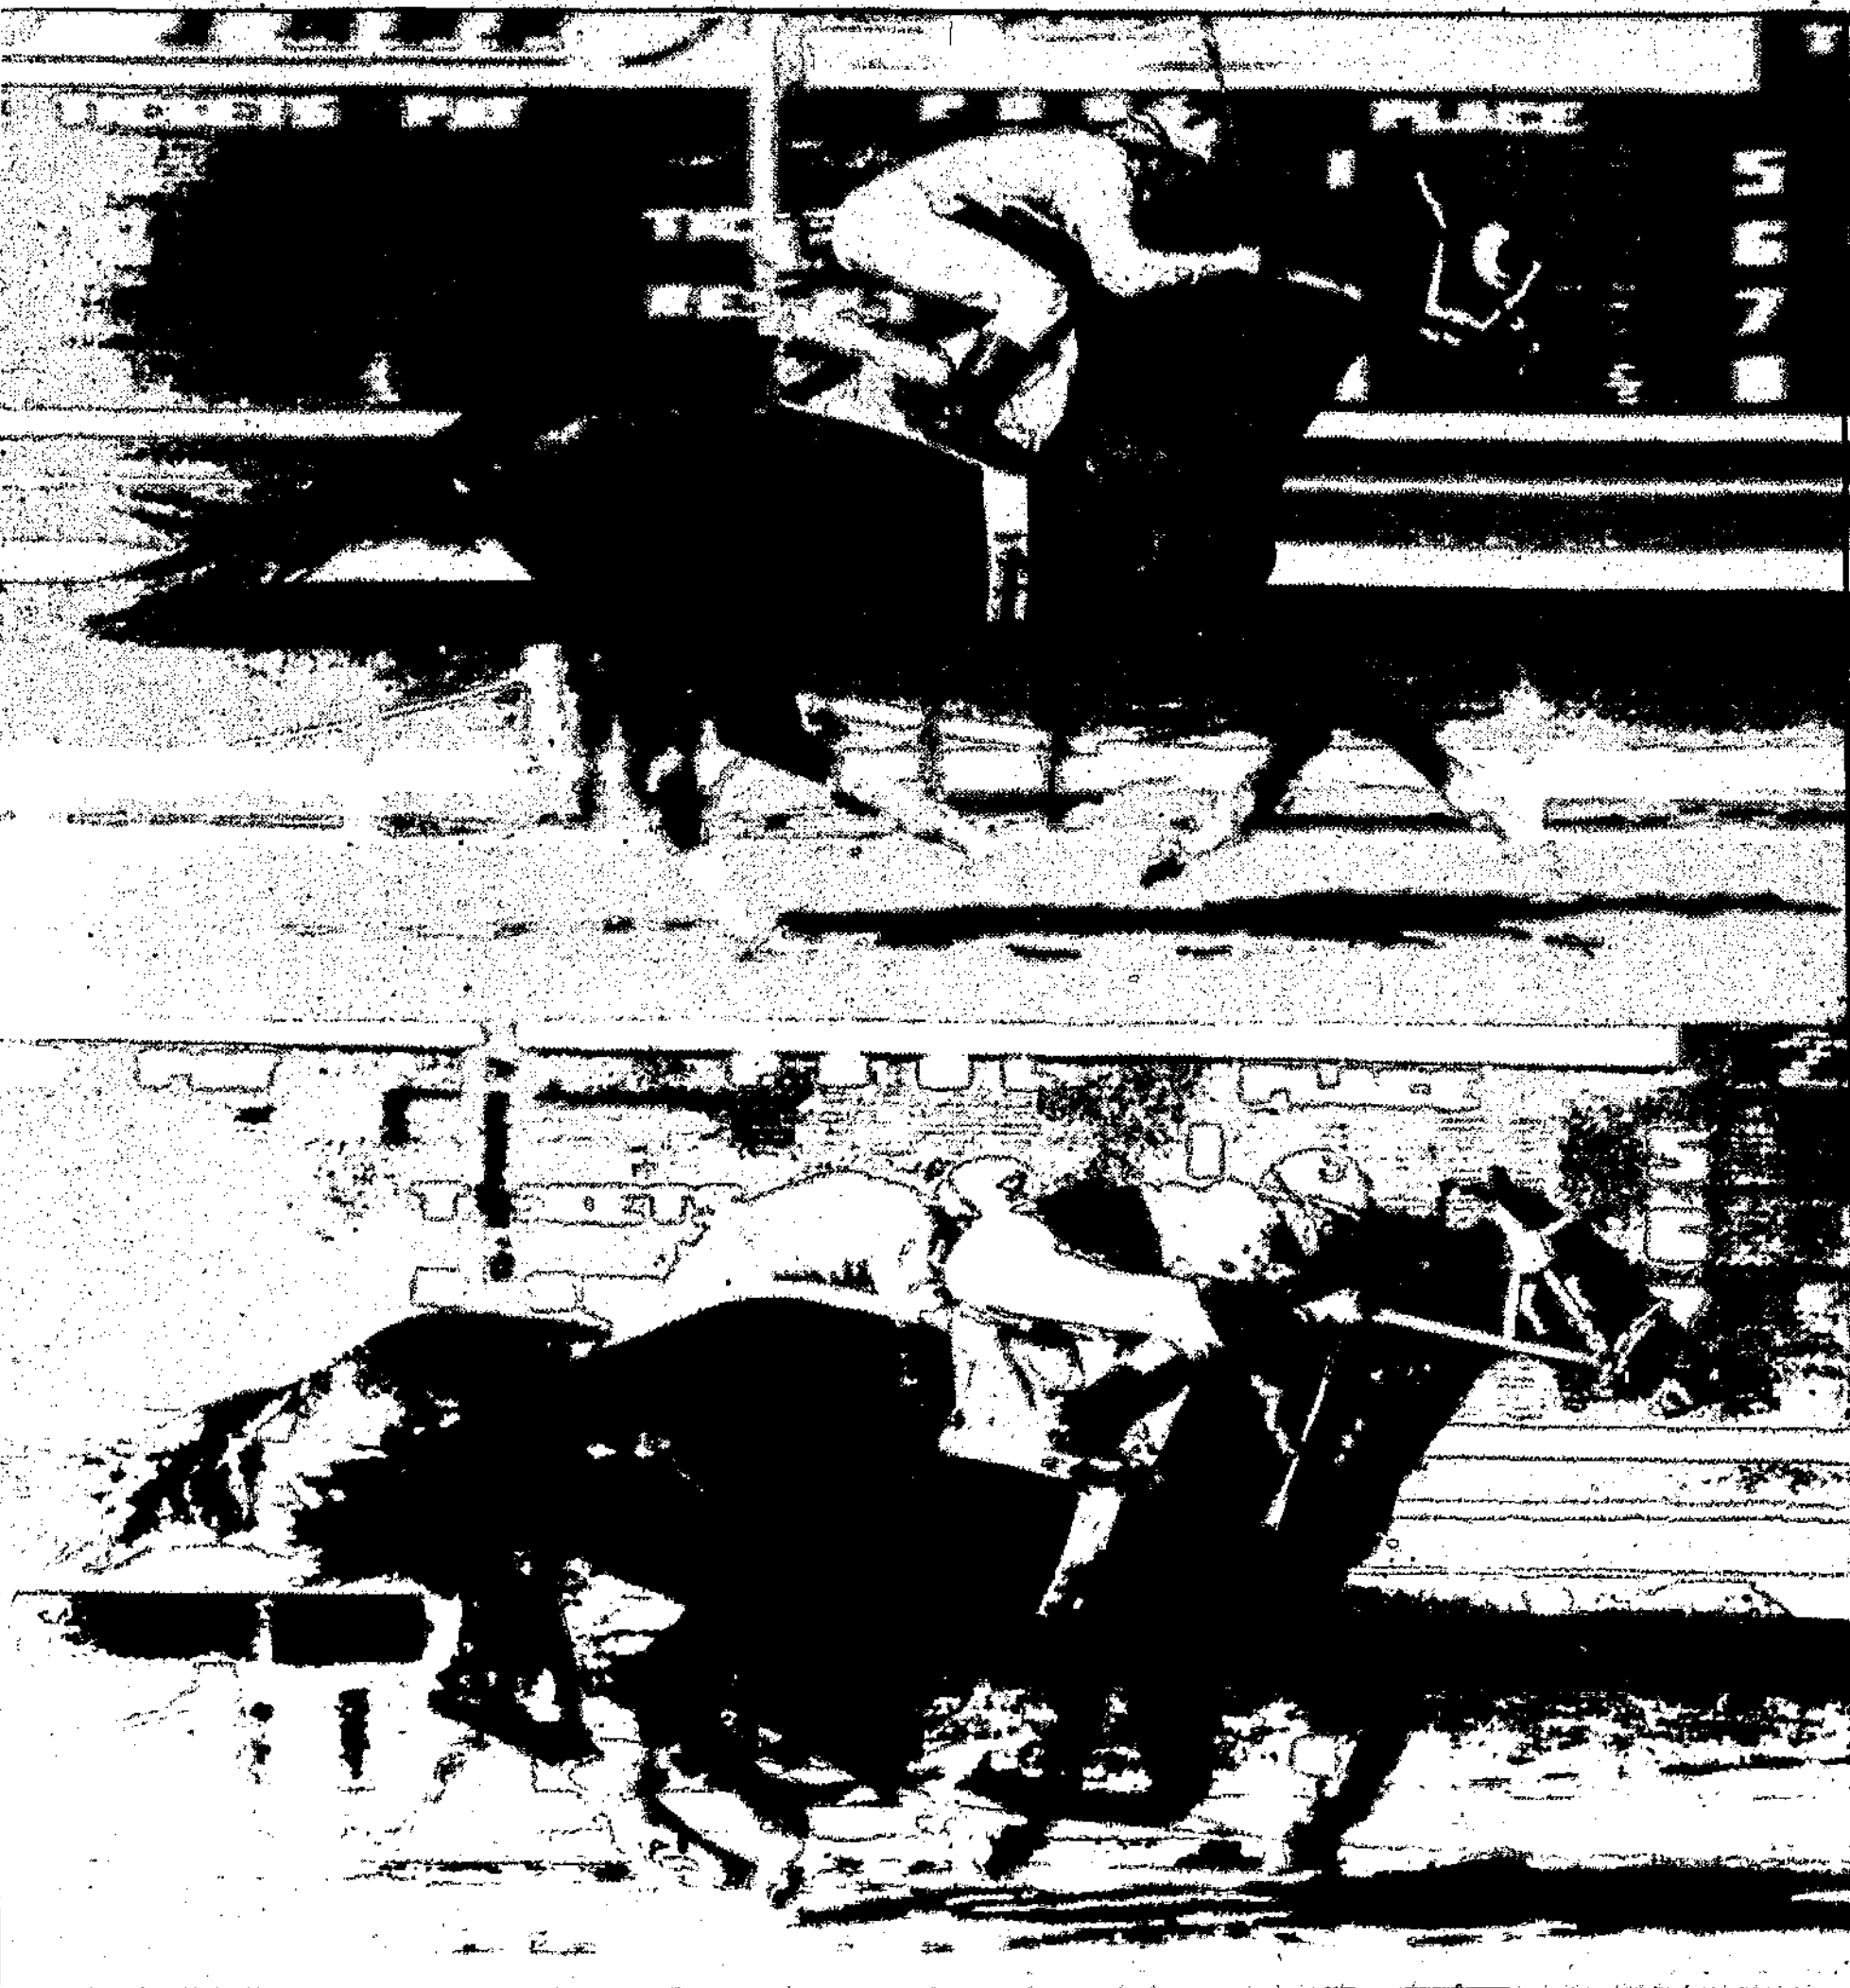

Saturday's main event featured a talented field of thoroughbreds chasing a $2,100 purse over 6 furlongs. While each of the contenders carried a $20,000 claiming tag, all but one had competed in tough allowance company on the Southwest circuit.

Medieval, a Kentucky-bred trained by Coy Hendrix, went postward as the 7-5 favorite in the eight-horse field. Golden Special checked in second in the wagering, while the swift filly Ruffetta was let loose at 3-1 on the board.

Germany sent Golden Special to the lead a short distance from the gates, while Ruffetta and Medieval stalked the leader through the backstretch.

Young jockey Glen Murphy drew Ruffetta alongside the leader as the field rounded the final bend. The two horses were head-and-head at the top of the stretch.

Cowboy quarterback Randy Moore calls the signals in second-half action during the game with the Ski Apache Jets while center Freddie Sanchez readies to make the snap. Little League action continues this weekend as the minor division Super Bowl is scheduled Saturday morning at W.D. Horton Stadium, and the major division Super Bowl follows Saturday, November 8.

Ski Apache Jets coach Cyrus Simmons gives his players a pep talk during halftime at the White Mountain School field. The players were unable to overcome the Cowboys lead, and lost 32-0.

Cowboy players break the banner after halftime. Cheerleaders Marnie Wallace, Amanda Robertson and Denise Enriquez kept the spirit high as the Cowboys went on to victory over the Jets, 32-0.

Bronco teammates stretch out prior to their game with the Colts Saturday afternoon at the White Mountain School playing field. The Little League matchups Saturday drew small, but enthusiastic support from family and friends of the players, accented by an occasional car horn toot at touchdowns.

A ballcarrier for the Jets eludes several defenders as he gains yardage for the team. Although the Jets had several near-successful drives under the leadership of quarterback Roger Kazhe, they were soundly defeated by the Cowboys, 32-0. Cyrus Simmons coaches the team with the help of Walter Wilson.

Shane "the Beef" Eldson runs for yardage against the Jets during first-half action. Eldson ran consistently well. Scott Strickland also was a leading ballcarrier for the team.

Chiropractor Don Johnson opens up shop in Fox Plaza

Don Johnson is one of Ruidoso's newest residents. Relax, folks, he's cleanly shaven, confines his white jacket to the office, and his roommate is his wife, Ruby—not an alligator.

No, he's not a Friday night television "Vice" officer from the streets of Miami; Dr. Johnson is Ruidoso's newest chiropractor, who opened his local office in Fox Plaza recently.

Johnson, a graduate of Palmer College of Chiropractic, a four-year school in Davenport, Iowa, has been practicing in Lubbock, Texas, for the past 23 years.

"In a city that size, you get lost in the mob," said Johnson. "My wife and I would come up here and see people and know them."

Ruby Johnson, a high school friend of Tom and Pat Sullivan, received her B.S. and M.S. degrees from Texas Tech, and is currently teaching sixth grade in Capitan.

"We like Ruidoso, it's a friendly community and we want to make a contribution," stated Johnson, who plans to participate in Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce or other local service organizations.

Johnson is no stranger to New Mexico. He was born and raised in Silver City, where he served two terms as a city councilman, was past president of the chamber of commerce and a permanent member of the chamber's Board of Directors.

An avid photographer, Johnson was an organizing member, and is past president of the Photographers Association of New Mexico. He was also the second photographer in New Mexico to receive a master's degree, granted by the national organization of Professional Photographers of America.

The new chiropractic office is located at 1216 Mechem Drive, just north of The Cochera restaurant. Office hours are Monday through Friday from 10-12 noon, and from 2-6 p.m. "No appointment is necessary," stated Johnson. "If a fee is reasonable, people feel comfortable coming in and getting an adjustment."

"We are here to teach a way of life in which the entrance of Chiropractor Don Johnson's Health is the natural normal lifetime condition it was intended to be" reads the sign in office. Dr. Johnson, pictured above, advocates a wholistic approach to health.

Husband and wife Jan Counellis and Ida Brantley pose above with son, Joshua. They recently bought Burrito Express from Brantley's cousin Bobby Richardson, and added new food specials as well as a new name.

Burritos are their business

Family cooking with fast food prices is what you can expect when you stop at Burritos 'N More, the new restaurant half a mile east of the "Y" on Highway 70.

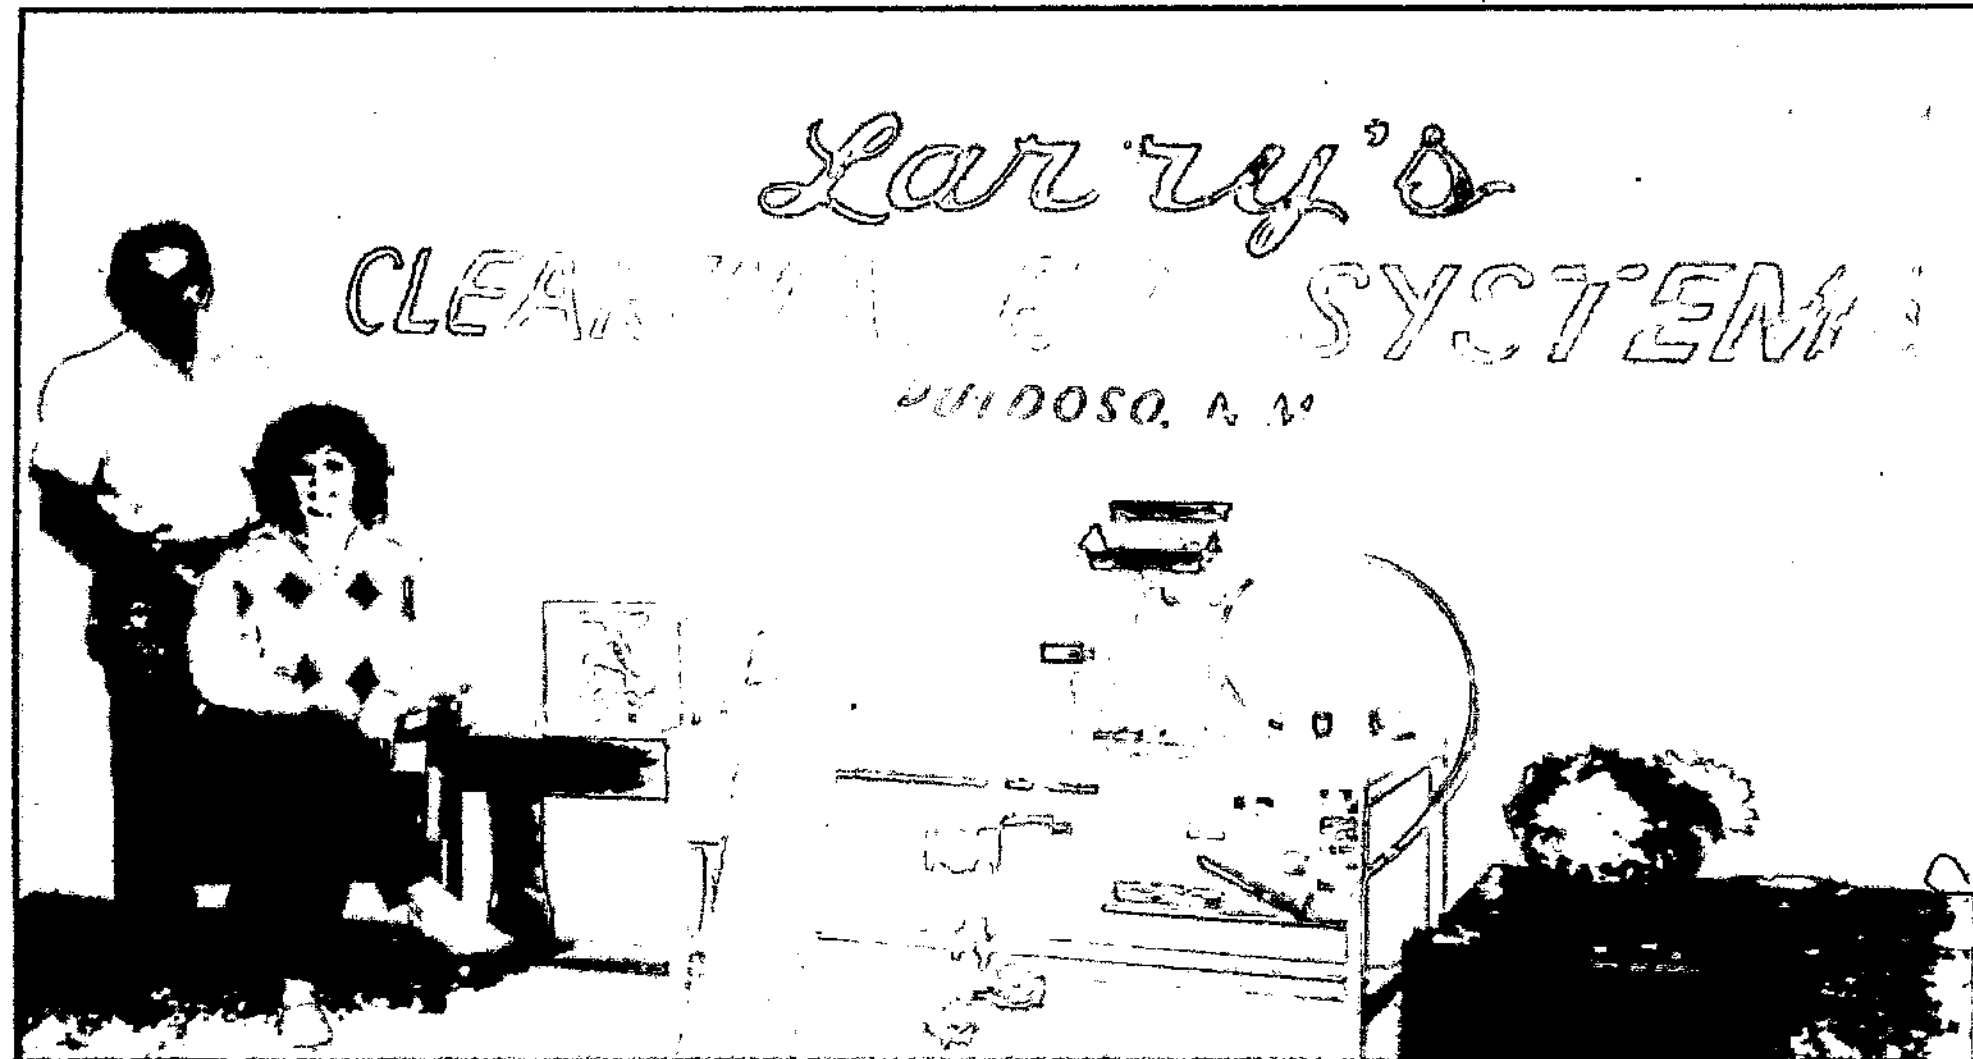

The restaurant was formerly Burrito Express, until husband and wife Jan Counellis and Ida Brantley bought it from Brantley's cousin Bobby Richardson. "We want people to know we're here to stay," emphasized Counellis. "We own the building, Ida, her dad (Albert Richardson) and I."

Though the specialty is Mexican food, there are also American breakfast specials, and soon to be hamburgers and fajitas. "We hope to get a beer and wine license, and plan to add a TV," stated Counellis. When asked about the piano at the far end of the room, Brantley explained, "This is a family restaurant. The piano is for our customers to play if they would like to."

Brantley was born and raised in Ruidoso where she has lived "off and on" throughout her life. Counellis most recently came from Florida, where he worked in restaurants doing "everything from dishwashing to short-order cooking. I started cooking when I was seven," he added, "for a family of eight." Brantley most recently has worked at the local Dairy Queen.

Burritos 'N More is open from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 5 to 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The restaurant is closed Sundays.

Clearwater Systems offers alternative to hard water

Larry Callahan, the local distributor of CARE-FREE (water) CONDITIONERS, believes he has the answer to Ruidoso's hard water problem.

"It's the newest technology in water conditioners," he said, enthusiastically, "which uses no electricity, no chemicals, no moving parts and is completely maintenance-free."

The conditioners are pipe fittings (brass or P.V.C.) which are installed directly into the main water line. Inside the fitting is a device through which the water directly flows, which conditions the water before it reaches the faucet.

The device "Eliminates the cohesion that exists between mineral particles in the water, by providing additional electrons to the water solutions. These electro-chemical changes progressively render scale binders ineffectual," said Callahan.

"It eliminates the need for bottled water," he continued. "Because it improves the taste and smell of drinking water, it prevents mineral stains from faucets, tubs and sinks, and it prolongs the life of appliances by inhibiting scale in pipes and valves."

Callahan and his wife, Shirley, moved to Ruidoso two years ago from Phoenix, Arizona. They operate Larry's Clearwater Systems out of their home at 516 Mechem Drive. The phone number is 257-4212.

Nancy Radziewicz, Sharon Gerald, Tanya Gerald, Jesse Gerald, Jerry Shaw, Steve Gerald, Amy Gerald, Georgia Griffin, Becky Rankin and Nancy Lore.

Cottage offers family atmosphere

The sign on the building reads "the Cottage" "a family restaurant." After a talk with new owners Sharon and Steve Gerald, that's exactly the feeling a visitor gets.

The Gerald's moved to Ruidoso from Hawaii, where they had 13 years of restaurant experience. They came here in search of a "wholesome" atmosphere in which to finish raising their children Tanya (14), Amy (12), and Jesse (8).

That attitude is reflected in their business, which opened May 1. "Spilled drinks, crumbs on the floor—that's no big deal to us," offers Sharon Gerald, regarding the spotless establishment. "This is a family restaurant, children are welcome. We provide a special menu for them, give them coloring books and crayons."

The restaurant offers daily specials at moderate prices. "Our goal is to build a good breakfast and lunch trade," said Steve Gerald. Breakfast, served from 7:30-11 a.m., starts at $1.25; and lunches, served from 11 a.m.-3 p.m., start at $2.95.

Located at 2821 Sudderth Drive, across from Mary's Fashions, the Cottage will be closed on Sundays.

Treasure's on Sudderth

Frank Guenther, managing partner, breaks from camera repair to smile a welcome to Treasure Isle visitors. The new store, across from the Ruidoso Post Office, features camera repair, black and white commercial developing, film processing, jewelry cleaning/repair/design and general consignment items.

Safeway store grand opening is Saturday

by SHIRLEY BOWINGTON
News Staff Writer

Safeway is not just a word, it's people—dedicated, hard-working people, pooling their knowledge and talents for a common cause. Such is the team of professionals that has prepared Ruidoso's newest Safeway Store for its grand opening Saturday, November 1.

According to Roland Konig, manager of the new establishment, the opening celebration, beginning at 8 a.m., will include refreshments, balloons, gifts, and a chance to register for free trips to the Caribbean and Las Vegas. There will also be a costumed clown and other characters for the amusement of the children present.

From the "old" store on Sudderth, scheduled to close at 6:30 p.m. Friday, October 31, Konig has transferred 29 of his former staff. The larger facility, which is 32,000 square feet in size, provided 19 additional jobs for area residents.

Employees interviewed enthusiastically described the company they work for as "fair," "supportive," "clean," "well-run," "friendly," "good," "fantastic," and "modern."

While the local staff seems quite capable of fully operating the store, district and division supervisors of each department will make regular visits to ensure that Safeway's image and standard is maintained. As if that's not enough, a Margaux control module in this store is tied into an Apple II at Safeway's division headquarters in El Paso—enabling that office to monitor and control the local phones, lights and even the various temperatures in the perishable departments.

Additions to the new store will include a deli, a bakery, tri-belt check out stands (to enable two-handed scanning of grocery items) and expanded inventories in all departments.

You and your family are cordially invited to join in the grand opening celebration at 205 Highway 70 West this coming Saturday. Regular store hours will be from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

Mike Staponavich scans a random item from each case entering the store to ensure the scanning information is correctly programmed. Pictured with him is Bill Lanchier of Quality Imports.

Ruidoso's newest Safeway, at 205 Highway 70 West, will celebrate its grand opening this Saturday.

The produce department features the "orchard bin" concept in lighting, designed to enhance the appeal of fresh produce.

The liquor department of the new store offers a variety of wine, beer, liqueurs, hard liquor and mixes.

Large photo-murals from Canada, which adorn the upper wall of each major department, provide colorful accents and entice customers to "Take me home."
