Downs special election requested

by STEVE STEIN
News Staff Writer

One-hundred-eleven Ruidoso Downs residents signed a petition which asks the Village of Ruidoso Downs Trustees to conduct a special election, according to one of the petition organizers, Sandra Perry.

Attorney for the petition organizers, Gary Mitchell, delivered the petition to the board of trustees last Monday.

Downs Mayor J.C. "Jake" Harris told Mitchell at the regular trustees meeting last Monday he would see the petition was responded to in a proper fashion.

New Mexico Municipal Code 3-12-2.1 says, "... members elected to the governing body (the Village of Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees in this case) may adopt an ordinance increasing or decreasing the number of councilmen or trustees of that body and calling a special election on the question of approving or disapproving the change."

The petition had to be and was signed by at least five percent of the number of registered voters of the municipality of Ruidoso Downs, Mitchell said.

The state municipal code also says the "... petition shall specify the number of councilmen in addition to the mayor which shall constitute the governing body of the municipality. The petition shall be validated by the municipal clerk by verification that it contains the required number of signatures of registered voters. The election resolution shall be adopted within ten days after the petition is verified by the municipal clerk." The special election must be held within 90 days of the day the petition is either adopted as a resolution by the trustees or verified by the municipal clerk, according to the state municipal code.

Newly appointed village clerk JoAnne Jenkins said she hoped to have the signatures on the petitions verified by Monday afternoon.

"The municipality shall pay for the cost of the election," according to the state municipal code.

Mitchell said if the trustees call for an election to increase the size of the governing council, but don't include the mayoral issue in that election, he will challenge their decision in a legal forum.

If the trustees choose to ignore the petition altogether, Mitchell said he will go to the District Court, and if necessary the New Mexico State Supreme Court, for a "writ of mandamus."

A writ of mandamus is a legal order from a higher court to a lower court or to an official agency which orders an action, in this case an election.

"If they ignore the petition completely, it will be political suicide," Mitchell said.

When former Ruidoso Downs mayor Carlton L. "Bones" Wright was asked if he would run for mayor if the voters in the Downs approved a new trustees and mayoral election, Wright responded, "You're damn right!"

Residents protest actions of Downs Mayor Harris

by STEVE STEIN
News Staff Writer

Though an air of compromise seemed to exist between Village of Ruidoso Downs trustees and new Downs Mayor J.C. "Jake" Harris at last Monday's regular trustee meeting, a number of Ruidoso Downs residents walked out of the meeting in protest of some of Harris' actions at the meeting.

Harris appointed JoAnne Jenkins as the new village clerk for Ruidoso Downs.

But it was necessary for former village clerk Wilma Webb to attend the trustees meeting to sign certain documents before her official duties were ended.

After most of the business of the meeting had ended, Webb was recognized by the board and began to give a pre-prepared farewell address.

A few lines into her address to the board and the residents of the Downs, Harris pounded on the table with the gavel and said, "Ms. Webb, please put that in the form of a letter and submit it to my office tomorrow."

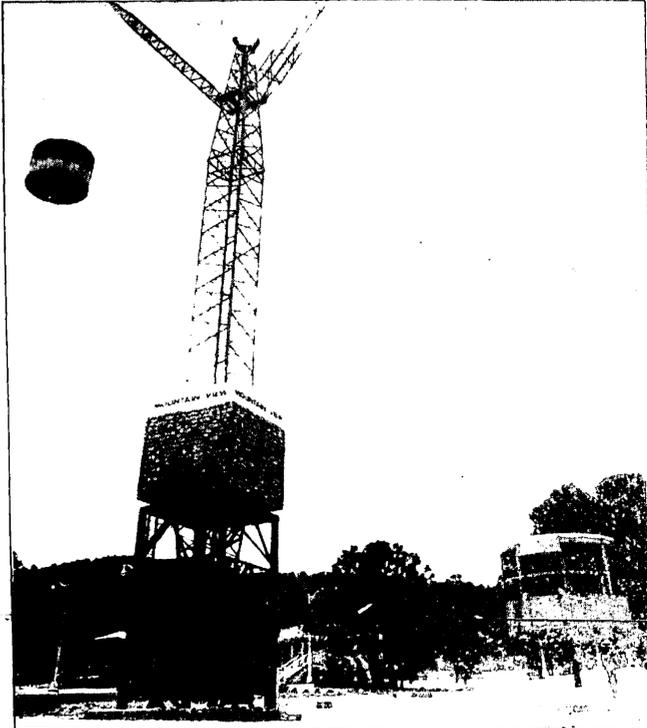

But before Harris could finish his sentence to Webb, a majority of the people in the village meeting room walked out to protest the mayor's treatment of Webb.

As they left the hall and while they were outside the meeting room, some of the residents shouted at Harris when the trustees recessed before going into executive session.

"Is this America or Russia?" asked one disgruntled resident.

"There is no freedom of speech in Ruidoso Downs!" another resident shouted.

Before Harris interrupted Webb, he had also informed several

Petitioners still seek grand jury investigation of McKnight double murders

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Frank "Pancho" McKnight has asked attorney Gary Mitchell to file a "writ of mandamus" forcing District Judge Richard A. Parsons to call a grand jury to review evidence in the murders of Thomas "Cotton" and Judy McKnight.

Pancho McKnight said Monday he'll continue his efforts to get the evidence in the double slayings before a grand jury, and expects the writ to be filed today (Thursday).

McKnight, Cotton McKnight's brother, and Terri Bussey, Judy McKnight's sister, last week presented Parsons with a petition, signed by the required number of registered voters, calling for a grand jury.

Although the State Constitution provides citizens with that option, Parsons didn't call a grand jury, but instead asked the opinion of the Attorney General (AG). The AG opined that not enough evidence has been uncovered for a grand jury presentation.

Judge Parsons Monday filed an order in Twelfth Judicial Court in which he officially denied the petition, listed his reasons and referred the matter to the AG to "determine whether there is sufficient evidence to submit a criminal matter to the requested Grand Jury and to determine whether there is a constitutional or statutory officer to prosecute the same."

Parsons cited portions of the State Constitution including provisions for the AG to assist the grand jury and for the DA to attend the grand jury. He noted a section stating the DA "shall prosecute and defend for the State," and a section empowering the DA to appoint a Special Assistant District Attorney.

Parsons said New Mexico law allows the AG to act in place of the DA "upon the failure of the District Attorney to carry out his duties."

Noting that convening a grand jury is a function of the courts and citing separation of branches of government, Parsons said the court has no authority to appoint a special prosecutor.

He said the Constitution "does not delineate the scope of inquiry by a Grand Jury nor the manner in which the investigation will be conducted or in which evidence will be produced or presented."

He added the court should "direct and guide the Grand Jury so that the proceedings will not develop into a fishing expedition."

Parsons listed expense and inconvenience to the public and interference with the normal functioning of public officials and bodies caused by such investigations.

"The Grand Jury system should be utilized in its traditional and historical sense: an extraordinary proceeding designed to protect the public from illegal abuses and also to protect the innocent from unfounded accusations, all by means of secret proceedings which protect witnesses as well as those wrongfully accused," continued Parsons.

Judge Parsons told The News last week he would ask the Lincoln County Clerk to review the signatures on the petition, but Mitchell said the petitions were not in the Clerk's office on Monday.

For purposes of his judicial order, Parsons assumed that at least 200 registered voters signed the petition.

But Mitchell said he needs the signatures to be verified so that he can attach the petition to his writ.

"People have asked why a grand jury," said Mitchell, who listed several reasons his clients want a grand jury to review the case.

Mitchell said a grand jury review may be the only way to gather the evidence of all three investigating bodies for a thorough review.

"The (Lincoln County) sheriff's office has certain evidence that points to at least two prime suspects," noted Mitchell. He said nobody knows what evidence the District Attorney (DA) and the AG have gathered, but Charlie Cox, Lincoln County Undersheriff, has said those two groups have shared nothing with his office.

"More important the AG and the DA have a conflict," said Mitchell. "There are members of certain state agencies who may be suspects in this particular case," he added.

"I think that once the public finds out who the suspects in the case actually are, they will understand why members of law enforcement agencies outside this county and outside the State of New Mexico were brought into this case," noted Mitchell.

Joe McKnight, father of the slain Cotton McKnight, told The News last month that he and another person are suspects in the case.

Mitchell questions whether the AG's office should be involved in the prosecution of the case because it works so closely with "this particular state agency."

"Lawyers are supposed to avoid even the sense of any impropriety," remarked Mitchell. He said justice would be better served if a special prosecutor is appointed to handle the case, and carry further investigations.

"I'm astounded and somewhat ashamed that the AG and the DA haven't said let's let a special prosecutor take the case," said Mitchell. He said at least six lawyers in Lincoln County have experience in prosecuting double murders. Mitchell said he would like to see a special prosecutor appointed to handle the case, and carry further investigations. Council allows public use of compactor

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Village Council Tuesday made quick work of a Tuesday agenda before thoroughly discussing a proposed usage policy for the trash compactor.

Councillors finally approved Victor Alonso's recommendation to adopt an "open" policy and instructed the village engineer to address concerns presented earlier by sanitation supervisor Leonard Corona.

"I do believe we can compact all the trash in Lincoln County," noted Alonso after listing Corona's concerns and telling what he learned from the El Paso, Texas, compactor operation.

Alonso said the El Paso system is in its 15th year and lists maintenance costs of $13,000 a year. He said El Paso, using two compactors, processes nearly 40 times Ruidoso's volume of trash.

"Higher productivity means higher efficiency," said Alonso as he pushed for maximum utilization of the system. He suggested opening the facility for paid users from private citizens to commercial enterprises to other governmental entities.

"We're not going to wear it out," remarked Alonso.

Concerns Corona listed in a letter he presented during budget workshops include:

-90 percent of people pulling trailers don't know how to back them properly, users might slip and fall in the equipment.

most people hauling trash have children with them, and the youngsters could get hurt.

-with a village truck making neighborhood pickups, there's no reason for individuals to use the facility,

-sanitation trucks use the compactor from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m., and other traffic could affect the route schedules,

-insurance liability.

But Alonso said there are "overriding reasons" to address those concerns and open the compactor as a service.

Before councillors approved Alonso's motion, former council member Al Junge asked that they wait until July. He said he and village manager Jim Hine have designed a production report which will be available then.

"The first thing we ought to do is take care of our own trash," said Junge. He listed problems with the system, including dust, and predicted many workmen's compensation claims by employees if that is not addressed.

"It's still Al's baby—he's still babysitting it," remarked Village Councillor Elmer Pirelli, before the new policy was adopted unanimously.

The council Tuesday upheld the Ruidoso Planning and Zoning's (P&Z) decision on an appeal by William Wyland of Tiara Del Sol. P&Z allowed just two of the five information booths Wyland requested in Midtown Ruidoso, and the council agreed.

Wyland was on hand to appeal the denial of the booth beside Caprio. He said P&Z based its denial on parking considerations, and contended the booth in that location doesn't impact parking.

However P&Z Chairman Mike Callaghan disagreed, noting that each booth requires a parking space. Callaghan said the structure also would affect ingress and egress to a parking area beside Caprio.

Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. questioned Callaghan on where such booths fit into the overall zoning regulations. He said the questions of having the booths, who may place them and how many are allowed should be addressed.

Although Callaghan said those questions aren't answered in the zoning ordinance, he added a precedent was established last year by allowing a booth.

"Maybe we ought to come to grips with it," said Mayor Davis.

Wyland averred his program is a professional operation, but depends on booths so that sales representatives are not "streetwalkers." He said if he has to use "streetwalkers" he'll be forced to hire less professional and younger workers.

Alonso opined a "$300 temporary little shack" doesn't project a professional image.

Approved a full dispenser liquor license for W.T. Averitt III at 721-D Mochem Drive, the Sierra Sinema building.

Authorized out-of-state travel for village clerk Leon Earliest to attend a computer training class in San Antonio, Texas.

Appointed Councillor Pirelli to the board of the South Eastern New Mexico Economic Development District, with Hine as alternate. The two will serve until July. Hine said membership costs will increase from $250 to $950 for the next year.

Approved a new contract for Midwest Air Traffic Control Services at Ruidoso Municipal Airport. Airport manager Tim Morris said the increased cost from $72,000 last year to $78,900 this year was caused by insurance rate hikes.

Sent best wishes to Barbara Duff, who is in Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital.

Expressed concern for Ray Dean Carpenter's stepfather, Art Blazer, after Morris announced that Blazer was flown to Albuquerque after he "suffered a massive heart attack." Carpenter was not present for Tuesday's meeting.

Instructed Eggleston and village attorney John Underwood to write specifications for bids on the beer concession at Eagle Creek Sports Complex.

village employees and residents their questions to the trustees were out of order and would be more appropriately discussed in his office at another time.

"He asked for questions from the audience and then he cut people off in the meeting," said Sandra Perry, one of the leaders in a movement to force another mayoral election in the Downs.

Many of the people who walked out of the meeting were angry when the trustees went into seclusion for an executive session to discuss personnel.

The right to adjourn to go into executive session to discuss certain matters is granted in the municipal statutes of the state of New Mexico, and is standard practice for most official municipal agencies throughout the United States.

Most of the meeting was characterized by the normal routines of village government.

"We want some positive coverage somewhere down the line, some balanced information. We have been a stepchild to Ruidoso for too many years and we are tired of it. We want to build some things up and show people we are moving in the right direction in this village," Harris said.

In other business the board of trustees:

—Appointed attorney Richard Hawthorne as the interim village counsel until the position can be legally advertised in compliance with state hiring statutes.

—Discussed a petition from some of the residents of Ruidoso Downs that calls for a special mayoral election and a vote to decide if the size of the governing body of the Village of Ruidoso Downs should be increased. (See related election petition story).

—Discussed a railroad feasibility study which deals with a proposal for a new railroad, which if built, would link the new airport to Ruidoso Downs, Ruidoso and Ski Apache.

—Heard an extensive report from village engineer Barrett Atkins on road construction and paving projects in Ruidoso Downs.

—Adjourned into executive session to discuss personnel matters.

Speaker pushes ad program

Maureen Pippen, regional advertising manager from Dallas of the Hotel and Travel Index told members of the Ruidoso Lodgers Association (RLA) Wednesday she wants to help promote the Ruidoso area.

Pippen was guest speaker at the association's meeting at the Swiss Chalet Inn on Highway 37.

"I'm here on a personal thing because I want travel agents to know you're here. I want to promote Ruidoso with you," Pippen said.

The Hotel and Travel Index, published by K. Rupert Murdoch, is a large directory used by travel agents that lists the names and general information of hotels and other lodging facilities around the world. It contains 35,000 listings and 7,000 advertisers, Pippen said.

The directory is 47 years old and began as a collection of brochures for convenience. It is now published four times a year and has 55,000 subscribers, Pippen said.

All lodgers present were given questionnaires from which free listings will be provided in the next edition of the index.

Pippen proposed what she called a co-op advertisement whose cost would be split between the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce Advertising Committee and interested area businesses.

"Depending on how much participation there is, the promotion could cost as little as $150 per issue per year," Pippen said.

In other business, RLA voted to have a float in the upcoming Aspen Fest Parade.

"I think it is a good idea. It will help to get us more exposure in the community," RLA president Clabe Webb said.

Spirit of Ruidoso representatives Pat Breedlove and Merrijon Newton presented the Texas Appreciation Day promotional "We love Texas" heart and flag. The heart and flag are designed to be placed in area merchant's windows and visitors from Texas may stop by participating businesses for discounts on Texas Appreciation Day, June 28. The hearts are part of a package available for $20. Anyone interested should contact Newton.

Texas Appreciation Day also will include a picnic and dance featuring Clay Mac at the Sierra Mall parking lot.

Ruidoso police will stop at random 12 cars with Texas license plates. Each will be given a bottle of champagne and a yellow rose.

Also during the meeting, RLA members elected Cal Leitch as secretary.

Clerk clarifies statements

Lincoln County Clerk Fran Siddens said the June 2 and June 9 editions of The Ruidoso News misrepresented her May 29 testimony in the Harris vs. Wright contest in District Court.

Both issues alluded to the fact that the number one slide or slot was the only proper write-in slot in accordance with the elections laws of New Mexico.

Though the number one slot was the only proper write-in slot for the March 4 mayoral election in Ruidoso Downs, Siddens said write-in slide or slot numbers are designated by position by office, and may fall in any slot number, depending on the position of a candidate or candidates on the voting ballot in any particular election.

Siddens said the number one slot is not the only slot where a write-in vote can be cast in a New Mexico election.

The Ruidoso News regrets any misunderstanding that may have arisen from the June 2 and June 9 editions, as well as any misrepresentations of Siddens' courtroom testimony.

Festival nixes two concerts

Mary Margaret Petty announced Monday that Summer Festival Inc. has cancelled the two New Mexico Symphony Orchestra concerts originally scheduled for June 28 and 29 at the Inn of the Mountain Gods.

"There was a lack of early interest," said Petty. She said money will be refunded for tickets sold to the two concerts.

Tickets are still available for the other three Summer Festival events, she said.

"These three concerts will definitely go on," remarked Petty. The Mendelssohn String Quartet will present the first of the summer concerts at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 12, at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track Sale Pavilion.

Bill Monroe will be in Ruidoso on July 21, and Doug Kerstow will be in the village on August 2.

Tickets for those three concerts are $10, and may be purchased at Services Unlimited, the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, Pioneer Savings & Trust, Ruidoso State Bank and The Bank of Ruidoso.

For further information, or to order tickets by telephone, call 257-7929.

Stadium to be renovated before new school year

Renovation of W.D. Horton Stadium at the Ruidoso Middle School is scheduled to end in mid to late August, according to Steve Strain of the architectural firm of Alley-Connell-Strain and Associates.

An "action plan" has been devised for the summer stadium renovation program, Strain told the Ruidoso Board of Education at a regular meeting last night (Wednesday).

A remodeled pressbox, new entries to the bleachers, new goalposts, a new lighting system, a new scoreboard and several other changes are planned as part of the stadium renovation this summer, Strain said.

The stadium renovation will be paid for with revenues generated from the sale of $1.5 million in school bonds, the first phase of the bond issuance, which took place yesterday (Wednesday).

School board financial agent Charles Casey, vice president of Rilee and Associates, Inc., told the members of the board the bond sale went very well yesterday.

Last night's meeting was conducted by board member Don Swalander, who acted on behalf of absent board president W.R. "Stormy" Edwards.

In other business the board: —Opened bids on maintenance of office machines for the 1986-1987 school year.

Pfeffer refutes charges of wrongdoing

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso Police Captain Dave Pfeffer Monday issued a challenge to people he says have accused him of wrongdoing.

"Bring forth the evidence," said Pfeffer emphatically.

"There have been allegations and rumors of my being involved in narcotics in this community and county," said Pfeffer. In an interview Monday Pfeffer invited his accusers to face him the same way he faces people he accuses.

"In my job I have to establish proof, and then I put them (the accused) in jail," said Pfeffer.

He said he'd like the opportunity to answer charges he usually only hears second- and third-hand.

Pfeffer said he has never in his 11 years as a police officer or in his lifetime sold or given narcotics to anyone.

"I have arrested more narcotics dealers and people for possession of narcotics than anyone else in the history of this department," remarked Pfeffer. With that kind of record he said the idea of his dealing in drugs is "ludicrous" and "silly."

"That would be cutting off your nose to spite your face," he noted with a laugh.

Pfeffer recalled two intensive investigations of him and the Ruidoso Police Department, the first by the New Mexico State Police seven years ago and the second by the Attorney General four years ago. No charges were filed after either of those investigations, said Pfeffer.

Pfeffer said those investigations cleared him, but the rumors continue to surface.

Pfeffer speculated the only way a criminal can "get to" a law enforcement officer is by rumor and innuendo.

"I am very straight forward in my approach to police work," said Pfeffer, adding that and his determination to treat all "equitably" may have made some people angry.

"There are some people in this community who believe the laws are not written for them," said Pfeffer.

"I believe in equity and the law," he added seriously.

He recalled the "tragic gambling raid" last summer in which the Ruidoso Police assisted the FBI and the New Mexico State Police. He said the Ruidoso officers were called upon to assist an agency that already had obtained a valid search warrant.

"We couldn't tell them no," said Pfeffer. He admitted he would have handled it differently, but stressed that one agency can't dictate to another.

Besides the allegations of his involvement in drugs and organized crime, Pfeffer said he has heard of people wondering how a Ruidoso Police officer can afford a van and a Corvette.

He explained that he was awarded a cash settlement after an automobile accident five years ago, and used those funds to purchase a van and a boat. Pfeffer said he recently traded the boat for a Corvette.

"It's ironic, but the day I was released from the hospital I went back to work with my arm in a cast," noted Pfeffer.

He said he loves his job and is determined to continue as a police officer.

"I consciously give 150 percent to the people of this community," added Pfeffer.

It's because of his determination to do a good job that he said he must dispel the rumors and allegations that could have an adverse affect on his performance.

Pfeffer said the false stories about him also affect his wife, Ruidoso Police Corporal Roxann Pfeffer, and their four children.

He said his children, all good students, are further evidence that his family is not involved in narcotics.

"We have a really neat family," said Pfeffer with a big smile. He said his children have heard the stories about him, and he has encouraged them to discuss their feelings with him.

"They're learning to deal with it," he noted.

Pfeffer confirmed that his wife, Roxann, was once married to a man who has since served time in the state penitentiary for narcotics trafficking. Pfeffer said the crimes were committed after the two were divorced.

He said he doesn't have access to drugs and contraband confiscated by police officers, and explained that two other investigators maintain security in that area.

Pfeffer said he is a strong believer in honesty, and maintains that he is "honest, sincere and professional" in all he does.

Although he stressed that his remarks were not motivated by any political ambition, Pfeffer said positively that he'll run for sheriff again someday.

"I will be the sheriff of this county someday," said Pfeffer.

Lodger's Tax group OKs $2,500 for Spirit function

by SHARI LEWIS
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Lodgers' Tax Committee (LTC) Wednesday approved a $2,500 request from the Spirit of Ruidoso to help fund an advertising campaign for the upcoming Texas Appreciation Day picnic and dance.

The committee released frozen Contingency Funds to grant the request.

The request was presented by Spirit of Ruidoso representative Dan Kelley who said the $2,500 would be used as part of a joint advertising package with Ruidoso Downs Race Track and KHEY radio station in El Paso, Texas.

The package includes more than 100 30-second spots on KHEY radio. The Downs will match the $2,500 to advertise KHEY Race Day, June 27. KHEY will also match $2,500 with radio station air time.

"I believe the result of the advertising in El Paso will be strong if we work with the race track and KHEY," Kelley said.

The LTC also heard from Clark Carpenter of Dan Dee Cabins. Carpenter presented figures he received from the New Mexico Hotel and Motel Association.

"These figures show that the Lincoln County lodgers industry had a gross receipts tax increase of 40 percent for the first quarter. Your figures show there was an exact 40 percent tax decrease," Carpenter said.

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce checked the figures with the Taxation and Revenue Department in Santa Fe. They contend the figures are correct, John Jeffers, chamber executive director said.

Committee members discussed the possibility that some lodger operators were not paying their fair share of lodgers' tax and this possibility may account for the difference in percentages.

"Why would someone pay all of their gross receipts tax and not pay the lodgers' tax?" Lodgers' Tax Committee member Phil Hamilton asked.

"I'll tell you why," said Leon Eggleston, secretary of the committee. "There is a 10 percent or $10 penalty, whichever is greater, for not paying lodgers' tax. The penalty for gross receipts is much greater. It can be as much as 50 percent" of the unpaid tax, he said.

LTC has tried to verify with the Taxation and Revenue Department the amounts of gross receipts tax and lodgers' tax.

"They will not disclose the information when asking for specific accounts," Eggleston said.

Another explanation was offered for the difference in percentages.

"These people may be plugging in time-share sales and that's where they are getting the high percentage," committee member Rod Adamson said.

The committee agreed that Eggleston should look into the figures more closely.

In other areas, the Chamber of Commerce Advertising Committee mail-out brochures were presented to the committee by Jeffers.

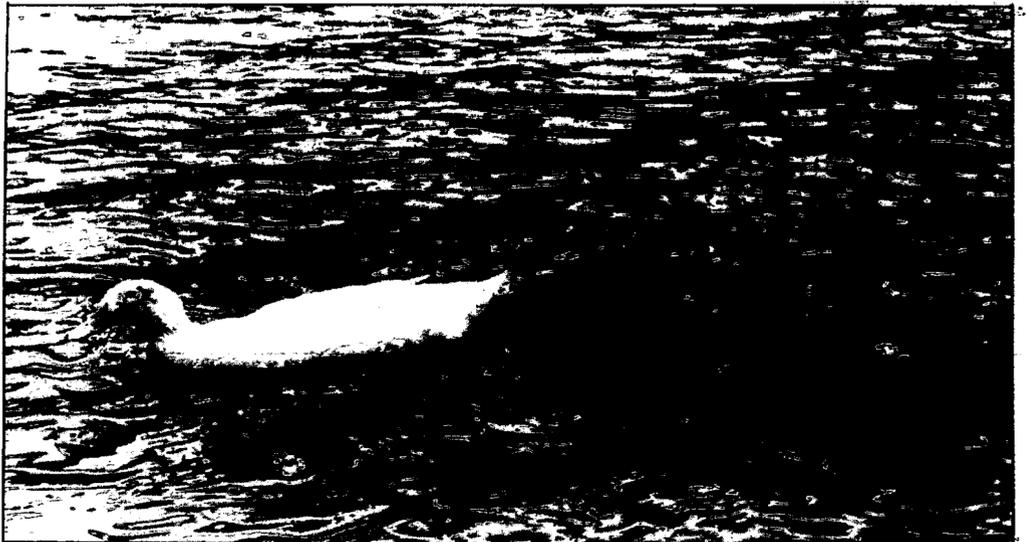

"These brochures are an outgrowth of a co-op program between the Ruidoso Downs and the advertising committee," Jeffers said.

Ruidoso Downs Race Track and the advertising committee each paid for half of the cost of the brochures, including mailing lists and postage.

The direct mail-out brochures were sent to 135,000 homes in areas including, in part, Lubbock, Dallas, Austin and Albuquerque.

Artists to gather for chamber's festival July 25-27

by SHARI LEWIS
News Staff Writer

The 1986 Summer Art Festival featuring 110 artists representing seven states is scheduled for July 25-27.

"The 110 artists were selected from 280 applicants," said Charlie Smith, chairman of the Art Festival.

A jurying committee, made up of five people, viewed three slides submitted by each artist as a representation of their work. The committee then made their decisions based on the slides, Smith said.

Categories of artistic works included in the festival will be hand-made fabrics, original leather designs, metal work, photography, woodwork, sculpture, oils, water-colors, pencils and pastels.

The festival will be in the Ruidoso Middle School parking lot.

Many artists will be demonstrating their works, Smith said. Prices of the art will range from $3 to $2,000, he said.

Some of the local artists who will be participating include Denise Dorn, Paul Crown, Randy English and Karen Barrow.

The festival, sponsored by the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, is expected to bring a net profit of $20,000.

"I'm excited about it. The Chamber of Commerce has been working hard this year to get out of debt. We hope the festival will be very successful," Smith said.

In addition to the art displays, local non-profit organizations will provide food and refreshments.

"We limited the food booths to non-profit, local organizations to help the groups raise money. We have also asked the groups to decorate their booths with a pioneer theme to celebrate Ruidoso's 100th birthday," Smith said.

Musical entertainment also is scheduled including local and regional groups as well as solo artists.

A poster will also be on sale promoting the festival.

were in support of their program. The middle school student council felt the board cared more about the cheerleading program than the student council, according to school superintendent Sid Miller.

—Heard a report from Ruidoso High School (RHS) counselor James Sanchez on student performance on standardized tests at the high school last school year.

Students at RHS are doing very well on the New Mexico High School Proficiency Test, at or above state levels on the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills—except in reading vocabulary and language mechanics—and above the state level but below the national norm on the ACT test, Sanchez said.

"Last year's best of show winner produces this year's poster," Smith said.

Terry and Cindy Burleson won best of show last year with their acrylic painting and sculpture work. The two will be incorporated into the poster.

Organizers hope to have a more accurate count of visitors to the festival this year.

"We should have a more accurate gate count this year by using numbered tickets. This way we can let people in town know how many people attended each day," Smith said.

The festival should generate about 75 to 80 room rentals and approximately 100 meal purchases per day. Also, purchases at the festival are taxable, drawing sales tax money for the state, Smith said.

The chamber will host a dinner on Sunday, July 27, for all participating artists.

Pirelli charged with DWI

Ruidoso Village Councillor Elmer Pirelli has entered a plea of not guilty in Magistrate Court to charges of driving while intoxicated, second or subsequent offense, and reckless driving.

Magistrate Judge J.R. "Jim" Wheeler said he'll set a trial date in late August or early September to consider the charges filed early in May.

Wheeler said Pirelli is represented by local attorney Gary Mitchell on the charges made after he was arrested by the Ruidoso Police on May 6.

According to police reports Pirelli was observed "driving left of center" before he was stopped. Police reported that Pirelli was given a breath test and incarcerated.

Hosmer withdraws to nature to fuel the fires of both his personal and artistic inspiration

by STEVE STEIN
News Staff Writer

It's not hard to imagine what Ruidoso artist Ken Hosmer's life would be like if he had lived 100 years ago.

Somehow, he would have found the boat fare to France to study and intellectualize with the likes of the then struggling impressionists Monet, Renoir, Pissaro, Cezzane, Cassatt and Morrisot.

Hosmer, long time director of the Carrizo Lodge Art School, retired from that position recently to devote more time to his artistry as well as his art workshops, which are now featured in most regions of the United States.

"Workshops offer the opportunity to share knowledge, make new friends and visit exciting locations. These things are as important to my personal growth as an artist, as on Hosmer's early development as a painter and as a person interested in art, Hosmer said.

He took a variety of art courses at the University of Texas at El Paso which eventually led to an art degree.

After a stint teaching art in the public schools of El Paso, Hosmer found his way to a position with the Carrizo Lodge Art School.

But now, between raising a daughter and teaching art workshops, Hosmer is a fulltime painter.

Hosmer said he cannot see himself burning out as an artist because he draws energy from both his work and the subjects in nature he portrays.

When Hosmer does question his role in life and his goals as a painter he said he refers to a book by Robert Henri which is called "The Art Spirit."

Hosmer feels watercolors are well-suited to his artistic needs to not only represent what he sees, but what he feels when he paints. Notice how he uses both his subject matter and medium to make a quiet artistic and personal statement in the watercolor above.

Artist Ken Hosmer said this lighthearted watercolor scene of pigs in a pen seems to draw very favorable reactions from both gallery owners and friends. Hosmer said he is not sure where his real inspiration to paint the pigs came from.

is painting," Hosmer said in a recent publication about New Mexico artists.

The former El Pasoan says he has drawn "as long as I can remember."

But when he was in fifth-grade at historic Ascarate Elementary in Ysleta, Texas, he won a combined art school sweepstakes contest that was sponsored by both the El Paso and Ysleta Independent School Districts.

Hosmer said though he did not pursue art during high school, that contest prize in the fifth-grade seemed to focus his interest on pursuing a career as an artist.

In 1969 Hosmer first came to the Carrizo Lodge Art School to study oil painting with Carl Cogar.

"This also had a lot to do with me being an artist," Hosmer said. Cogar had a profound influence

"But nature is my thing," Hosmer said.

Hosmer said he is currently in a watercolor phase in his work because he is fascinated by the color options inherent in that medium.

But Hosmer is never sure which direction his artistic instincts will take him.

"Art is a growth process, a continuum. An artist should constantly be growing and taking new directions which are sometimes not even obvious," Hosmer said.

Hosmer's work can currently be seen at the studio in his home, Jernigan Galleries in Ruidoso and in galleries all over the Southwest.

Hosmer is represented by Wilmar Associates.

He is scheduled to conduct workshops in Texas, Washington D.C., Mississippi and California in the months to come.

MOIST COCONUT POUND CAKE

This cake is delectable with freshly brewed coffee, and improves in texture and flavor for several days after baking. If you are looking for a cake to take to the lake or a family reunion, this is it! This is my youngest daughter's favorite cake. The subtle hint of almond flavoring makes it special, and the sour cream makes it very moist!

Moist Coconut Pound Cake

1 cup butter	1-8 oz. carton sour cream
1/2 cup margarine	1 cup coconut
3 cups sugar	1/2 tsp. coconut flavoring
6 eggs	three-quarter cup sugar
3 cups flour	three-quarter cup water
one-quarter tsp. soda	1 tsp. almond flavoring

Cream butter, margarine and sugar for 5 minutes. Continue to beat, adding eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift flour and soda together and add this alternately with sour cream. Fold in the coconut and coconut flavoring. Pour into large tube pan and bake at 325 degrees for 1 1/2 hours. Cool for 10 minutes and turn out onto cake plate.

Almond Sauce

Combine three-quarter cup sugar, three-quarter cup water and 1 tsp. almond flavoring in a small saucepan. Boil five minutes. Pour over warm cake.

There are new small sized bundt cake pans available in many kitchen shops. Divide this recipe between two of these smaller pans, cut the cooking time, and this recipe makes beautiful gift cakes. Or you may eat one and hoard the other in the freezer until company comes!

Barrett has been heavily involved in dramatic productions since 1972. He has traveled extensively as a one-man dramatist and with a six-person drama group. He is presently an independent real estate appraiser in Roswell.

This presentation is made possible by grants from the Lincoln County Heritage Trust and the Institute of Museum Services. The Lincoln County Heritage Trust is a private non-profit organization which began in 1976 to assist in maintaining the historical integrity of the town of Lincoln and the colorful events of its past.

The Trust has charge of a number of historically significant buildings and has recently completed a new Historical Center.

Life on the ranch comes alive for Ranch Tour spectators

An antique spinning wheel, called a "walking wheel," keeps Janice Gnatkowski busy and tour guests fascinated. Three generations of the Gnatkowski family were on hand to demonstrate the art of spinning.

Ruidoso's Jesse Foster hopes to improve two places when he competes in the state bicycle road-race competition this Sunday.

The Ruidoso High School sophomore just missed qualifying for the national competition in last Sunday's state time trials in Moriarty. He placed a strong third, but only the first-place finisher qualified for the nationals.

Now Foster hopes to take first in the state 35-mile road-race competition from Mountainair to Estancia.

The road-race competition is his favorite event. If he takes first in the state race, he will advance to the national race August 1, in Boise, Idaho.

Jesse has worked hard in competition for the local Alpine Shifters Bicycle Club. Here's hoping he makes the national meet.

Turning to baseball, Lincoln County relatives of Roswell's Kerry

Richardson are pleased that the former Goddard High School athlete has been drafted by the Cleveland Indians.

Richardson has reported to the Indians' Class A farm club in New York. He will play third base, according to his cousin Albert Richardson, a softball player in the Lincoln County Men's Softball League.

Kerry was a pitcher for Goddard, but was switched to the outfield when he attend Lubbock Christian College in Texas.

Later in the season, he was switched to third base and that's where the Indians want him to play.

Seven Ruidoso High School football players and two players from Capitan are attending the Four Corners Football Camp at Fort Lewis College in Durango, Colorado.

The camp features team play and offensive and defensive programs.

The Ruidoso players include Jeff Willingham, Brian Davis, Chuck Daniels, Gene Mowdy, Shawn Mowdy, Matt Evans and Dusty Beavers. Sean Seay and Paul Whipple are the Capitan players.

Don Boss of High Sierra Condos lent his bus so the youths could drive to the camp.

A number of local businesses donated money for the youths' camp experience.

Besides Boss, they were Alto Alps Country Store, Sullys, J.M. Brooks Co., Crazy Horse Beauty Salon, Jack Kannady of Ruidoso Bowling Center, Pizza Hut Number Two, Shaw Engineering, Ruidoso Rental, Morgan Ski Sports, Western Auto, Printing Press, Coldwell Bankers SDC, Cochera, Revco, Ski West and Carriage House.

Pitching the ball

The Incredible's Pat Spurlin throws the ball during a Lincoln County Men's Softball League game with the White Mountain Exxon Tigers Tuesday. The Incredible won, 12-2. Other games saw Alto Construction top the Amigos, 15-9; Aspen Pharmacy defeat the Knights, 18-5; Mountain Pest Control beat the Aces, 22-6; R&E Electric topple the Ginks, 23-1; and the Clippers defeat the Nads (no exact score available). See page 10B for more photos and a story on men's and women's softball.

Cree pro has distinguished career

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Johnny Palmer brings a distinguished professional golf career to his new job as Cree Meadows Country Club golf professional.

Palmer, who has been the Cree Meadows pro since the second week of April, was a member of the Pro Golfers Association tour from 1946 to 1960.

"I won $128,000 and took eight tournaments," he said. "I guess the closest thing to a major tournament I won was the Western Open in 1947. I also won the Houston Open in 1948."

Another big tournament Palmer won was the Colonial National Invitational in 1954.

Palmer played with some of the best golfers in the history of the game, including Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Arnold Palmer (no relation) and others.

"I think Snead had the best swing," Palmer commented. "Hogan didn't have as good a swing as Snead, but he had better concentration, the best of anyone I knew."

"Palmer came on in the latter stages of my career."

The Cree Meadows pro thinks a golfer must do well in several areas to be successful.

"You have to be disciplined," he said. "You have to concentrate a lot and block out bad shots from your mind. You can't let it bother you."

"The game is as much mental as it is physical."

Palmer grew up in Badin, North Carolina.

He became interested in golf in the 1930s when he was a caddie at Stanley County Country Club in North Carolina.

He became a pro in 1938 but did not join the tour until 1946 because of World War II. He was a tail gunner on a B-29 bomber during the war. After leaving the pro tour in 1960, he was the pro at Tulsa Country Club in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

In 1969, he returned to Badin for four years. In 1973, he became head pro at Statesville Country Club in North Carolina and stayed there for 10 years.

He semi-retired in 1983 and returned to Badin before coming to Cree Meadows two months ago.

Palmer does not play much golf now, but enjoys teaching the game.

"Sometimes I may play twice or three times a week, sometimes not even once a week," he said. "It varies."

The Cree Meadows pro has some objectives as far as the club goes.

"I'm trying to get more people involved with the club," he remarked. "I'm trying to get more people to join the club, more people playing golf and more guests to come."

With the successful career Palmer has had, he should not have much trouble reaching those goals.

Johnny Palmer is the new head golf pro at Cree Meadows Country Club. He was a member of the Professional Golfers' Association tour from 1946 to 1960.

Coach speaks

Fishing report

Rio Ruidoso: The fishing is slow. Some rainbow and brown trout are being taken on worms and small Panther Martin spinners.

Alto Lake: The fishing is fair. Some trout are being taken on fireballs and Velveta cheese.

Bonito Lake: The fishing is fair. Some trout are being taken on fireballs and marshmallows.

Little League results

Randy Moore went eight innings, struck out 10 batters and walked just one in leading Sierra Blanca Motors to a 13-10 win over Pioneer Western Construction Tuesday night in Ruidoso Little League major-division play.

This week's games are make-up games due to the heavy rain last week. Thus, the games were played under tournament rules. The regular schedule will resume next week.

Brent Henderson pitched six innings for Pioneer Western Construction. Louie Jimenez pitched the final two innings.

In Monday night's major-division game, league-leading Bank of Ruidoso topped the Elks, 4-1. Ricky Wohlgenuth clubbed a home run for the winners.

Chamber sets goals for new year

by SHARI LEWIS
News Staff Writer

The second annual Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors retreat was "extremely productive," said chamber executive director John Jeffers.

About 20 members, new members and representatives from the Ruidoso Valley Greeters attended the retreat, at their own expense, in Albuquerque last Friday and Saturday.

The retreat, a two-day seminar, was designed to create a "program of work," including ideas and goals, for the chamber's 1986-87 fiscal year. The 1985-86 fiscal year ends June 30.

Terri Maisel, executive vice president of the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce, offered the orientation Friday.

Dr. Eddie Dry, of Anderson Schools of Management at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, served as moderator of the seminar.

The group agreed that the chamber should take a more active part in decisions made in the community, county and state by providing input to decision makers, and should have a more visual image in the community.

"We want to be more visible by adding input to entities which make decisions that affect area businesses and the community," Jeffers said.

"Along with maintaining our committees and goals from last year, the group took action to be more involved in community development. We also want to take a more active part in community decisions by community, county and state entities," Bill Hirschfeld, president-elect of the board said.

The group also discussed concerns regarding the village's dependence on tourism.

"We decided to broaden our view from just tourism to tourism and the possibilities of diversifying the economy in Ruidoso," Hirschfeld said.

On Friday, participants broke into groups to discuss ideas under each of four main divisions that encompass chamber activity. They are: the economic development, community development, organizational development and advertising promotional divisions.

On Saturday, committees were formed under each division and goals for each committee were set.

Under the Economic Development Division, an Economic Development Task Force was established, with a goal, in part, to solicit revenue-generating entities for economic diversification; a Legislative Awareness Action Group to maintain awareness of legislation affecting business; an Airport Promotion Task Force to monitor and report progress of the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport; and a Small Business Committee to sponsor a series of seminars of interest to local, small businesses.

Committees established under the Community Development Division included a "Ruidoso Image" Action Committee with one goal to encourage enforcement of Planning and Zoning regulations; a Beautification/Clean-up Committee to establish a beautification awareness program; a Committee for Identification and Signing of Historic Sites to identify historic sites and buildings in the Ruidoso area; and a Public School Committee to support local groups having drug and alcohol awareness programs.

Under the Organizational Development Division a Membership Committee was established to, in part, reach and maintain 500 members of the chamber; a Finance Committee to conduct a semi-annual budget review; a United States Chamber of Commerce Accreditation Committee to accomplish accreditation of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce; a Plant and Equipment Committee to identify problems and establish a budget for future needs; and a Convention Bureau Development Task Force to create and seek funding for a convention bureau within the chamber structure.

Finally, under the Advertising Promotional Division an Advertising Committee was established to, in part, research and identify potential new markets; a Special Events Committee, to develop spring tourism events; and a Film/Video Promotion Committee to encourage development of a sound stage.

The Chamber of Commerce's next Board of Directors meeting will be June 25.

Capitan will see 'Chariots of Fire'

"Chariots of Fire" will be shown in Capitan at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 14, at the high school multi-purpose building.

Admission is free. The film was winner of four Academy Awards.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

It Couldn't Have Happened To A Nicer Guy

It was great to read in the June fifth issue of The Ruidoso News that, Newton Page, one of our all-time favorite folks was awarded the Distinguished Achievement Medal from his school, The Colorado School of Mines.

The story pointed out that Newton has established one of the nation's outstanding records as a oil geologist. He got his degree from "Goden Tech" as the School of Mines is also called, in 1942.

It so happens that our father, Lynn Whippo Storm, was graduated from this school forty years earlier, in the class of 1902, as class president. He also followed the career of geologist, working many years for the Sun Oil Company.

A year or so ago up at the Church of the Holy Mount during the coffee hour, it came up that Newt and our father were schoolmates, though years apart, and we had a few laughs about one of the songs of the School of Mines.

Some of my earliest memories are of our father singing old favorite songs, some of them humorous, to the accompaniment of the little pump organ, which now is restored and has an honored place in the home of Lynn and Maxine Storm in Dripping Springs, Texas.

The University of Texas patterned their famous song, "The Eyes of Texas" from the old song, "I Been Workin' On De Railroad."

We are very happy for Newton Page and his wife, Lucie, that our good friend has received this well-deserved honor.

The Frank Coe Reunion
The annual Reunion of the descendants of Benjamin Franklin Coe and the former Helena Tully, sponsored by Paul and Nellie Ruth Jones, was unusually pleasant, this time. A supper of grand grub was attended by a great crowd of friends and relatives of all branches of the Coes at the Jones home, Saturday night.

Then a feast of chuck out of this world—from roast beef to blue berry pie—was all ready at the picnic grounds in front of the home of Dan and Cathy Ogden, when the rains moved in.

Then the banquet was held on the long front porch of Dan and Cathy's home—seemingly special made for just such a celebration.

In all there were seven children raised by Frank and Helena Coe; Daughters: Sydney Bonnell, Annie Tittsworth, Winnie Hunt, Agnes Bonnell, Edith Rigsby, and Helena LeMay. And one son, Wilbur Franklin.

I felt very much at home at the gatherings as I am since the early days, sort of an adopted son of the proud clan of Coe. It was grand to see all the relatives and friends of all branches of the Coe family; and I thought we might mention those who came returning to the valley of their childhood and youth from where they now reside.

Annabelle Holzbierlein, daughter of Winifred Coe Hunt, and her daughter Clarabelle Meyer, made the trip from Norman, Oklahoma. Another daughter of Winifred, Jenny Helena Baldwin, came up from Houston.

Four children of Agnes Coe Bonnell were present: Orilla Bonnell Casper, Mills Valley, California; Annie Bonnell Mills, Kermit, Texas; Mary Bonnell Brooke and her husband, Ike, Albuquerque; Lee Bonnell and his wife Naomi, Albuquerque.

Dan Lucas, son of Helena Coe LeMay, and his wife Phyllis, came over from Deming. Also making this trip was Vickie Wood, daughter of Dan, and Shey, daughter of Vickie.

Jan Dean Reardon, granddaughter of Edith Coe Rigsby, and her children Courtney, Sydney, Anne and John, came down from Fort Sumner.

I was especially glad to see Joe Coe, with whom the Storm boys were raised, who came from his home in Silver City, his brothers, Lloyd and Melvin were on hand to welcome him back, along with his sister, the one and only Bonita City Lou. These folks are grandchildren of Jap Coe, founder of the Bonnell Ranch.

The beautiful weather added to the joy of the occasion, and we thank all those who came and added so much to this very happy reunion.

Sports Complex is ready!

"They're going to play ball on the new softball fields today (Monday)," announced Bobby Bailey, Ruidoso Parks and Recreation director, to the Parks and Recreation Committee.

Bailey said workers were putting finishing touches to the field even as the committee was meeting Monday afternoon.

Over the past 75 days, Bailey said the Parks and Recreation Department has laid 23,000 square yards of sod, erected 18 light poles, installed concessions and completed backstops and fencing on the Eagle Creek Sports Complex.

Two softball fields and one Little League baseball field are included in the municipal sporting area.

Vicki and Emmett Autrey were the successful bidders for concessions at the fields, said Bailey. They'll pay the village $1,700 for the season, he said.

Permanent concession facilities and bleachers will be constructed with capital outlay funds requested during the next fiscal year, explained Bailey.

Committee members discussed organizing softball tournaments at the complex, and Bailey said a small tournament is being planned by the softball association for late July. With better facilities next year he predicted softball organizers will have two events a month at the complex.

Bailey reported the municipal pool opened on May 26, but because of rainy weather has experienced lower attendance than this time last year.

Dick Shaw, a member of the committee, suggested keeping a weather log along with other pool records.

Next month members will make plans for a "10K Fun Run" scheduled in Ruidoso on August 2.

All four members of the committee were present Monday.

file that," said Mitchell. He said he asked her to give the three agencies time to coordinate their investigations and evaluate the accumulated evidence.

"She finally became fed up with it," said Mitchell.

Bussey said recently she waited eight months from the time the AG put the investigation in the hands of the State Police. Since she knew of no progress toward an arrest and indictment, she asked for a grand jury and special prosecutor.

"To say that this was politically motivated is just improper," said Mitchell.

Bussey, who has received telephone threats each time she initiates any action on the case, has stated privately that she knows who the sheriff suspects.

Cox announced Friday that he has assigned two investigators to the McKnight case. He also felt that eight months was long enough to wait for some word from the AG.

Although Deputy Attorney General Steven Westheimer is unwilling to comment on the investigations, he said last week "many investigators in both our (AG) office and the State Police are out there working on it."

But Bussey and McKnight are tired of waiting—they both aver they'll pursue every legal avenue until the case is resolved.

Cotton and Judy McKnight were slain in November 1984. Their bodies were found on November 15—both had been shot.

Police reported no signs of forced entry and no evidence of burglary of the isolated ranch house.

Since their deaths bitter disputes have occurred among the investigating agencies and some members of their families.

Joe McKnight, who has stated publicly that he has no confidence in the sheriff's office investigation, recently offered a $5,000 reward in the case.

If your home is to get a second look from buyers it must make a good first impression. Good housekeeping and repair, spacioussness, light and pleasant aromas bring faster sales.

- Spruce up the outside (particularly the front entry).
- Attention to "curb appeal".
- Basic repairs and replacements.
- Check all of the mechanicals (lights, switches, appliances).
- Avoid an overstuffed look in rooms, closets and storage areas.
- Remove all dirt, soap residue and stains.
- Sniff out unpleasant odors.
- Offer a bright, cheerful look.
- Pets out of the house.
- Don't mask a problem with the house. Be candid.

Be out of the house when the property is being shown.

Opinion

Editorial

The attitude in Santa Fe that New Mexico only extends as far south as I-40 still seems to prevail.

An example is the announcement of the June 9 to July 4 exhibition of Expressionist artwork at the Governor's Gallery in the State Capitol.

The five exhibiting artists hail from Santa Fe, Taos and Albuquerque.

No one from this region, or anywhere from the entire southern half of the state, was included in the exhibition.

But last month's Lincoln County Show of Art displayed the rich level of talent in this area. Our region of the state boasts many Expressionist and neo-Expressionist artists, but this apparently is overlooked in the Governor's Gallery.

The exhibition in the Governor's Gallery will be perceived as being representative of the leading art talent in the state.

But without representation of the best of the remaining half of the state present, how can that be? We believe those in the Capitol have once again turned blind-eyes our way. DJP

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:
Enclosed is a copy of an article that appeared in the El Paso Times on June 2, 1986, the day before the New Mexico primary elections. Apparently candidate Don Samuels has chosen to engage in a personal attack on me by his statement that the Sheriff's Department lacks "Professionalism and Honesty."

I resent Mr. Samuels' allegations, and would challenge him to name the instances of dishonesty or lack of professionalism that he is referring to. I feel that honesty, integrity and professionalism within the Sheriff's Department are at an all-time high and I am personally proud of my employees and their accomplishments during my administration.

Mr. Samuels has never been in the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department headquarters in Carrizozo to the best of my knowledge, yet he makes public statements ridiculing the operation of the Sheriff's Department. Perhaps Mr. Samuel's lack of any experience as a police administrator is a contributing factor to his obvious ignorance of the daily operations of the Sheriff's Department.

Mr. Samuels obviously has a good following of the Lincoln County rumor-mongers and malcontents who for one reason or another have a grudge against the Sheriff's Department.

Before Mr. Samuels makes any statements about honesty, integrity, or professionalism, perhaps he should examine his own conscience.

Sincerely,
TOM SULLIVAN
Lincoln County Sheriff

DEAR EDITOR:
The Ruidoso News recently quoted Judge Parsons as suggesting that the petition for a grand jury investigation into the murders of Cotton and Judy McKnight was politically motivated. Although I concede that James Weldon, Paul Bardacke, and Judge Parsons are experts on political motivations, I'm certain that the voters of Lincoln County will recall that neither Mrs. Bussey nor I ran for any political office on June 3rd. I'm certain that voters with whom I spoke will recall that I did not actively campaign for any candidate. I can assure Judge Parsons that the murders of Cotton and Judy were more than an "h" motivation.

But, I must admit, upon reading his comments of the past several days, in reference to our petition, I am now politically motivated in at least one direction: Should Judge Parsons seek another term, he had bloody well better grab his political aspiration with both hands because I've every intention of kicking it from one end of the county to the other.

How dare he make such an asinine comment! Are we the people of Lincoln County now to enter the 12th Judicial and trust in justice dispensed by one who shows such a lack of judgment?

We've been inundated with backbiting and bickering for over 18 months. The Sheriff claims he knows who the murderer is and that his department has the evidence necessary to convict, the DA calls the evidence "tainted", the AG's office claims that there isn't enough evidence, and we've now a judge who denies us our right to petition.

The credibility gaps existing amongst our elected officials has become not only intolerable, but unforgivable. I, for one, am by God tired of the insipid behavior of the lot of them; and judging from the signatures on the petition, there are well over 400 others who feel much the same. That is why I've been involved with the petition. Turn the evidence over to the grand jury; let them review it and decide whether or not there is enough to go to court.

PANCHO MCKNIGHT

DEAR EDITOR:
Even though we have moved from the village limits of Ruidoso Downs since the village election, we still have a business there and feel we have an interest in what goes on. And when we go to a meeting like the one we went to on Monday night 6-9-86, it makes our Blood Boil to see it being ruled like a Dictatorship and that we have no rights at all. What happened to freedom of speech? What has happened to the Peoples Rights? Do we not have any rights at all anymore? Is this not still the country where the people have a right not only to choose this Governing Body? But also to know why the officials make the decisions that they make? Are we to be under the same rules that Hitler used by saying I don't like what you are saying so shut up? These are not the words that Mr. Harris used to several people including Wilma Webb who was giving a farewell speech when Mr. Harris banged on the desk and stopped her, but it meant the same thing.

What could Wilma have possibly been going to say that Mr. Harris did not want the public to hear?

We feel that if Mr. Harris is so sure that he is the people's choice that he will agree to a new election with his and Mr. Wright's name on the ballot. And let the people choose who the best man is.

In our opinion with both names on the ballot, Mr. Wright would win by a landslide. What do you think, Jake, you think you could stand up to it?

Back some time ago when we were pushing for a dog catcher and had a petition going for it, Mr. Harris made the statement Quote "Nothing derogatory meant but things like this petition and the way the Garbage Department is being run" (By the way Jackie Brunim was over the Garbage Department) "Is why I think that women should stay home and keep their mouths shut and stay out of politics" unquote. Now it appears like he wants everyone to do this not just the women.

Village of Ruidoso Downs can we stand for this? Not only no but hell no!
TONY and CHARLOTTE CRAIG

DEAR EDITOR:
I would like to give a big THANKS to all the people that contributed to the renovation of the Carrizo Canyon Road, including Mr. Wendell Chino, President of the Mescalero Apache Tribe. As an employee of the Inn of the Mountain Gods, I can assure you that the new road was one of the most needed projects in this area, and I'm sure I speak for all who travel it that it is now a pleasure instead of a disaster area!

Sincerely,
FREDDA DRAPER

The family of Mr. Daniel D. Gomez wishes to express their sincere gratitude to all relatives and friends who attended the rosary and funeral and also for the many expressions of sympathy extended to them. Arrangements by La Grone Funeral Chapel, Ruidoso, New Mexico.
MRS. JUANITA S. GOMEZ

Dear Editor:
My hat's off to the management of The Barn, the good folks of Ruidoso and all the jockeys, trainers, owners and track people who contributed to make the June 1 benefit for injured jockey Steve Harris such a tremendous success. The $22,000-plus deposited in the Steve Harris Trust Account at Ruidoso State Bank sends a memorable message to one of the sport's most accomplished and personable riders. Special thanks are in order to Erik Satté and Raymond Reeves of The Barn—two very special people who deserve all the credit for nursing this project from infancy; auctioneer Clay Mac, a great entertainer with a heart as big as Texas; and The Clay Mac Band and Revolver for donating their musical talents.

Acknowledgments are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Blue for their gracious purchase of the Bold Ego breeding donated by Double B Ranch; and to Bobby Whitener, the compassionate horseman from Oklahoma. My personal thanks to Casey Lambert for shouldering the 30 days of mare care my wife inadvertently bid. (She thought it was "nail care.")

DEAR EDITOR:
We had a problem that seemed useless to fight. However we didn't quit, and it really helped to have some caring people on our side.

If any of you come across another person who is extremely unreasonable and strives to be the lower back-end of a Human's Anatomy.

Please don't give up! There are people who can make a difference. Our many thanks to some caring people:

John Jeffers-Chamber of Commerce; Chief Alston-Police Department; Victor Alonzo-City Council; Buddy Carter-Lodgers Association V/P; Mike Davalos-Engineering; George Williken-Concerned summer visitor; Jan Evaro-My beautiful pregnant wife.

Reporter's Round

By Shari Lewis

As a graduate of the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, I have been a part of the university community for some time. Lately the institution has been plagued with problems involving the administration. These problems have unfolded on the students and community outside the university.

It has been said many times that the state's largest university needs a fresh start. I agree, it needs a new panel of regents appointed by the new governor to search for a new president.

UNM President Tom Farer was trying to initiate his plan for the university. Unfortunately, circumstances involving the board of regents, and other factors, have led to his decision not to renew his contract.

A state university achieves high academic standards in part by having prominent faculty, students who wish to learn, support from the legislature and a president and board of regents who will work together to serve the university. In order to maintain these standards, the university needs a president who will see that the needs and best interests of the university are met and who will make changes where necessary to meet these needs. I feel the university had such a president in Tom Farer.

The board of regents, headed by Jerry Apodaca, is a five-member panel installed by the governor to oversee the university's operations. It has been reported many times that the working relationship between the regents' president Apodaca and Farer has been unsettled. Much of the controversy stems from Farer's attempts to change certain management positions and policies to better the educational function of the university. Some regents thought it was their place to step in when they disagreed with what Farer was doing, regardless of the outcome on the university as a whole. How can the university operate as a credible institution when Farer, or anyone in his position, is not allowed to perform the duties of university president?

The faculty and students have made their views clear. At the biggest turnout of UNM faculty ever, 700 faculty members placed a vote of "no confidence" in the board of regents. Students gathered more than 1,500 signatures on a petition asking for the regents' resignations. It is clear the university community wants and needs a new governing body.

Morale at the university is very low. Some faculty members are looking elsewhere for employment due to the below national average salaries they make, and many students are looking to other universities to complete their educations.

Albuquerque relies heavily on high-tech and other industries to create jobs and generate revenue in the city. Many industries that locate in the city rely on university graduates to fill positions in their companies.

I fear some companies may hear of or see for themselves the bad feelings spewing from the university and decide to locate elsewhere. I fear the present situation at the university will create a bad reputation for the school and the city.

UNM is a credible university. It is an important state institution that brings faculty and students alike to the state. Higher education is also important to the state. We must insist on high academic standards to attract industry, faculty and students here.

The UNM Board of Regents are not serving the university's needs. I feel they are damaging the credibility of the school and should step down to let officials who are concerned about the needs and interests of the university take over.

Letters to the editor

you, and the Ruidoso News for the wonderful story you did for our beloved father and husband. You will never know how much we and Dad appreciate this special memorial. And also to Dan Storm, Romeo Klein, and all the members of the American legion who honored Dad with a military funeral. Dad was so proud of the years in the Service and of America itself. He would have been so happy. Again, thanks just enough to express our feelings.

DEAR EDITOR:
We the family of H.B. Flanagan would like to express our thanks and appreciation to all our many friends, the staff and doctors of Ruidoso Hondo-Valley Hospital, especially Dr. Ron Annala for their devotion and time to our husband and father during his last days with us. Also, to our church family who went out of the way to support us during this stressful time. For all the food and flowers and phone calls, the sitting with dad, and all the prayers. Especially to Brother Cleve Kirby, who without, we would have been lost. And, to the many, many friends and loved ones, who are too numerous to mention in this space, who helped us over the rough time. Again, many thanks, May God bless you.

Big Bold Boz rides again seeking brotherly revenge

Sid's Ego and Big Bold Boz will be looking for another chance to go against each other when they head a field of 64 horses competing in trials for the $125,000 Norgor Futurity on Friday at Ruidoso Downs.

Sid's Ego handed Big Bold Boz his first loss when he outdueled the Riley Allison Futurity winner down the stretch to take a 1-length win in the $41,000 Rio Grande Kindergarten Futurity on May 31 at the mountain track. Both colts were sired by Bold Ego.

Sid's Ego, who is trained by Clifford Lambert Sr. and will be ridden by Casey Lambert, competes in the sixth trial division. Big Bold Boz, who will be ridden by Larry Byers for trainer T.E. Davidson, goes off in the fifth. The top two finishers in each division advances into the finals, which will be run on June 22.

The 5 1/2-furlong trials highlight a 12-race card at Ruidoso Downs, which opens with a 1 p.m. first post.

Sid's Ego's frontrunning speed will be given a good test in his division, which includes Proud Cup, who finished third in the Riley Allison Futurity at Sunland Park; Autobahn, who took seventh in the Rio Grande Kindergarten Futurity; and Browning, who showed good stretch speed in breaking his maiden earlier this season at Ruidoso.

Big Bold Boz also faces a tough field in his division. Senco De Mayo ran fourth in the Rio Grande Kindergarten Futurity, Cliff's Place fifth in the Riley Allison and Primo Lark was timed in a swift 59.1 seconds over 5 furlongs in breaking his maiden last month.

Norgor Derby featured Saturday at the Downs

A Rulers Cinch and Mr. Nicholas head a field of 12 sophomore sprinters racing for $43,000 in prize money in Saturday's Norgor Derby at Ruidoso Downs Race Track.

The Derby, which headlines a 12-race card, spotlights 3-year-old thoroughbreds testing their abilities over the mountain track's 6-furlong course. The winner earns $21,534. Racing gets under way at 1 p.m., with Ruidoso's gates opening at 11 a.m.

A Rulers Cinch and Mr. Nicholas will line up in Saturday's Norgor Derby off upset victories in their respective trial divisions for the stake run on June 5. Facing the two speedy sprinters will be Western Schley, Sunny Lawton, Sticky Native, Flamed, Madam's Pleasure, Jesse Jim, Miss Pecos County, Master Envoy, Draconic's Dream and Yu Snake Yu.

A Rulers Cinch turned in a sharp performance two weeks ago to upset favored Jesse Jim in the opening division for the Norgor Derby. Jockey Henry Uriegas took the Crimson Ruler gelding to a head margin after hitting the top of the stretch nearly two lengths behind pacesetter Sticky Native. Sticky Native finished another four lengths ahead of Jesse Jim.

Always in charge

Barbarys Pokey, ridden by Jerry Nicodemus, crosses the finish well in front as he won the $10,100 Mr. Kid Charge Handicap on Saturday (June 7) at Ruidoso Downs. It was the second stake victory at the mountain track this season for the colt, who won the Mr. Jet Moore Allowance Stake in May. Barbarys Pokey is trained by Arnold Simmons for owner John Kitzmann of Cypress, Texas, who collected a winner's purse of $6,060. Barbarys Pokey has not been defeated in seven races.

No cavities for Candy Store as track records brushed away

Candy Store made short work of a star-studded field of allowance horses in Sunday's feature race at Ruidoso Downs posting a commanding victory in track record time.

Racing as the 2-1 second choice to win the 6-furlong sprint, jockey Pedro Benitez took Candy Store to an early lead on the backstretch showing the way past every pole with a sizzling pace that took its toll on the nine-horse field.

Benitez passed the half-mile marker in 45 seconds, taking complete command of the race at the top of the stretch. There were no challengers in the final furlong. Candy Store crossed the wire with a 3/4-length margin in 1:11 1/4 - eclipsing the former 6-furlong track standard by two-fifths of a second.

Owners Robert Haynsworth of El Paso and Edwin Mayer Jr. of San Angelo collected $3,180 for Candy Store's impressive effort. Fred Danley trains the 6-year-old gelding who is sired by Against The Snow.

Barrtime, who raced at 5-1 odds under rider Joe Martinez, nosed out favored Copper Case for second-place money in a dramatic photo-finish. Trained by Bill Leach, Barrtime earned $1,166 for owner Mack Yates of Cherokee, Texas.

Copper Case's third was worth $530 to Jinx Graham of El Paso. Cliff Lambert Sr. trains the son of Hopeful Venture, who was ridden by his son Casey Lambert.

Racing resumes this weekend at Ruidoso Downs with programs, scheduled Thursday through Sunday beginning at 1 p.m. each day.

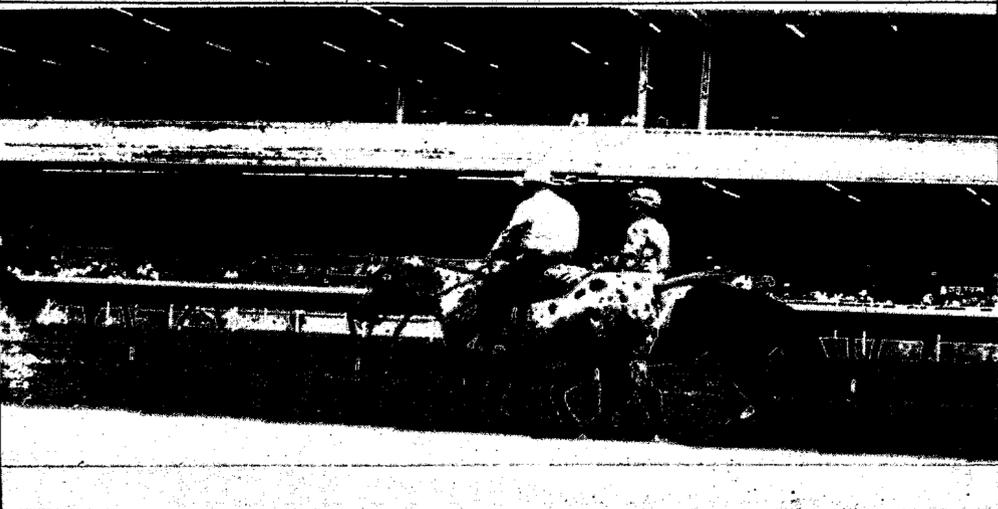

First-race jitters

Before last Saturday's first race, conditioners begin to put the colors on their horses as they await the "riders up" call from one of the track stewards.

Several hands high

Jockey Jessie Longoria gets rocketed aboard Hy Pass Em last Saturday as track officials called for the post parade to begin. Hy Pass Em is owned by Gerald Nicks of Sonora, Texas, and conditioned by Ted R. Stokes.

Just one race

Conditioner Ted R. Stokes (on the gray "ponies" Hy Pass Em to the starting gate. Jockey Jessie Longoria rode "Hy," who has an impressive speed rating, to a seventh-place finish in last Saturday's opening race. Hy Pass Em got locked in the pack and could not shake a 15-1 longshot status, or run to full potential.

Track Talk

Arnold Simmons described Jerry Nicodemus as "the best quarter horse jockey in the nation" after he rode Barbarys Pokey to a win in the Mr. Kid Charge Handicap on Saturday (June 7) at Ruidoso Downs. Nicodemus had never been on the horse before climbing aboard in the paddock before the race. Simmons gave Nicodemus a last-minute call to ride Ronas Ryon in the Kansas Futurity last weekend and it paid off in a trip to the winner's circle.

The Mr. Kid Charge Handicap was the third stakes win at Ruidoso this season for both Simmons and Nicodemus. Simmons won the Mr. Jet Moore Allowance Stakes with Barbarys Pokey on May 24, while Nicodemus won the Kansas Derby on May 31.

Candy Store has found Ruidoso Downs' new 7-furlong oval more than to his liking. On May, he set the track track for 5 1/2 furlongs when he was timed in 1:03 4/5 seconds. On Sunday, June 8, the speedy 4-year-old gelding set the 6-furlong mark at 1:11 1/4.

Million Dollar Bug, a full brother to 1983 All American Futurity winner Mr Master Bug, broke his maiden on Thursday (June 4) on Ruidoso 400-yard straightaway. The colt, who was sired by Master Hand and is out of Flick Bug, is owned by Marvin Barnes of Ada, Oklahoma, who also owned Mr Master Bug.

Norgor frontrunner

Jockey Richard Bickel heads for the winners circle aboard Mr. Nicholas, who turned in the fastest time of the 12 finalists for the $43,000 Norgor Derby in winning his trial division on Thursday, June 5. The colt ran the 6 furlongs in 1:14 2/5 seconds. Finals for the stake race will be run this Saturday, June 14. Mr. Nicholas is trained by Clifford Lambert Sr. and is owned by Charles Smith of Arlington, Texas.

Parks and Recreation sets Day Camp schedule

Shimmering

A sea of grass shimmers in the sunlight alongside a Ruidoso lane. Recent rain has "greened up" Ruidoso substantially, after a dry spring.

The Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department Summer Day Camp schedule began June 9, and will last until August 14.

"Why take your kids to the babysitter, when they can have an educational program as well as fun," said Luann Hill, activities director of the department. "For only $65 a week, or to break it down, $1.45 an hour, plus if you have two or more children in your family, there's a 30 percent discount."

"We offer walks in the park and studies, swimming, yoga, tumbling, arts and crafts, creative dramatics, dance, music, games and also a field trip on Friday. So don't miss out. Come join the fun and learn too."

The camp is two weeks out of each month, Monday through Thursday, with the field trip on Friday.

Camp weeks are as follows: June 9-12, June 16-19, July 7-10, July 14-17, August 4-7 and August 11-14.

The field trips began June 6, and will last until August 15.

For more information, call Hill at 257-2795, or stop by the Ruidoso Municipal Swimming Pool.

Lincoln County Seniors excel at Olympics

by YVONNE LANELLI
Special to The News

Belying advanced years and aging stereotypes, 22 active Lincoln County older citizens competed in the physically demanding New Mexico Senior Olympics May 28-31 in Roswell. They brought home 18 awards.

"Out of 27 events entered, we won nine gold medals, three silver, three bronze and three ribbons for fourth- and fifth-place finishes," said Beulah Moore, activities director for Zia Senior Center.

"It was just fantastic!" exclaimed Barbara Ward, Zia Center director. Zia Center serves the communities of Capitan, Carrizozo and Corona. Participants were from those communities and Alto.

"There was tough competition, but our small group brought home a large share of the medals," said Ward. Most of the competitions are single eliminations. "You don't get a medal for just showing up," she emphasized.

Gold medals were won by Bella Killingbeck in bowling; Dorothy Payne in 50-, 100- and 400-yard dashes and the 440 walk; Beulah Moore, pool; Lucia Griego, basketball free throw; and the team of Lester Lanelli and Amy Barton in mixed doubles table tennis.

Silver medals were won by Payne in horseshoes, Lanelli in men's singles table tennis and Barton in women's singles table tennis.

Chevo Baca and Paul Ortiz won bronzes in golf. Bucky Baer won his bronze in pool.

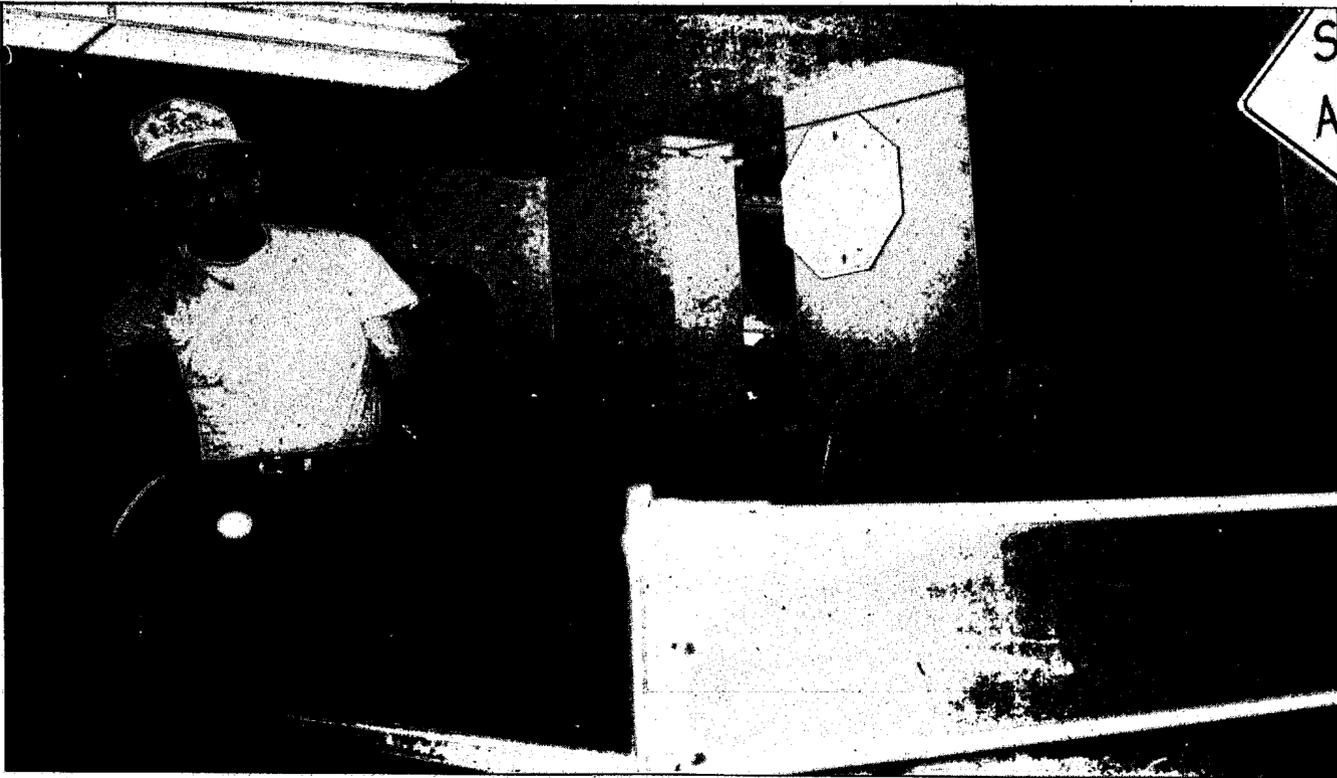

Elfigo Montana earned a fourth-place ribbon in softball throw. In the talent and dance divisions, Stanley Pew won a fourth-place ribbon and the dance team of Floyd and Virginia Danielson won a fifth-place in polka.

Events began Tuesday, May 28, with the lighting of the Olympic torch in Albuquerque. It was relayed to Roswell throughout the night accompanied by Zuni runners, arriving in Roswell at 5 p.m. Wednesday. The senior citizen tor-chbearer led the parade of participants to the courthouse where dignitaries welcomed the Olympians and declared the games open.

Over 800 men and women aged 55 and over from nearly every county in the state participated in the events which took place on the campus of New Mexico Military Institute.

Lester Lanelli volleys the ball in table tennis during action at last month's Senior Olympics in Roswell. Lanelli took a silver medal in men's singles table tennis and won a gold medal along with Amy Barton in mixed doubles table tennis. The group from Lincoln County scored 18 awards during the event. (Photo by Yvonne Lanelli)

Writer's Guild changes concentration

(Editor's note: the following statement was released by the Writer's Guild, noting the group's change in direction.)

"In June, the Writer's Guild intends to shift its emphasis from the writing of its own members to a more general study of literature. The purpose of this new approach is twofold. Hopefully, those who are interested in literature will become involved, as well as local writers. Also, our writers will be testing the theory that if we can discover what a good author does, stylistically, and how he does it, that knowledge will improve our own skills as writers.

"For the meeting on Thursday, June 19 (at 7 p.m. at the Ruidoso Public Library), Bill Smith will review 'Seeing Through the Sun,' a book of poetry by Linda Hogan. The book is available at the Ruidoso Public Library. Also, copies of several poems which will be the focus of the lecture/discussion may be obtained at the front desk of the library by June 16.

"The following poem, 'Turning,' a celebration of spring, is an example of Hogan's work. It is reprinted in The Ruidoso News with permission from the University of Massachusetts Press:"

Turning

The fevers of winter have flown away and we rest in the empty palm of the house like the shadows of animals that lived here, chameleons with starry fingers invisible on white walls, deer breathing in the shadows.

We were almost clenched in winter's fist but the green leaves are exploding from the trees. Across the way, a woman's voice is singing, the song arriving like silk and spice from Asia. Throw open the windows, it's spring! All I held in my winter breast turns back into the world, an inverse body, the universe turned inside out singing and breaking through the four red chambers of earth's heart.

Everything is alive. The deer hooves clatter out of the shadows, chameleons turn deep green.

I remember spring loves and drunk kisses in the hills. Things bloom in a woman's singing voice, through open windows and longing. Even nations are yielding and there is the moonlight and her stars, a flock of white cranes crossing the dark sky.

I would like to thank the many people who supported me in the primary on June 3rd and hope you will continue to support me in November.

Softball season opens as new complex is unveiled

It was the beginning of a new era in local softball Monday night. The 1986 season opened for the Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball Association and the Lincoln County Men's Softball League at the new Eagle Creek Sports Complex off Ski Run Road.

The complex has two softball fields and a soon-to-be-completed Little League field.

Thus, fans were able to watch two games at one time Monday night.

In women's play, the Unicorns stunned the defending league regular-season and tournament champion Flamingo Club, 8-7, the Lady Braves defeated Ole Taco, 12-2, the Shady Ladies belted the Cobras, 22-14, and the Fire clubbed the Inn of the Mountain Gods, 17-4.

Men's action saw the defending tournament champion Pumas outscore the Beavers Sand and Gravel Crushers, 10-6, and Trinity Mountain Fellowship nip Ski West, 12-11.

The games were played under the scenic foothills of the White Mountains, and numerous spectators and players praised the new facility.

Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department Director Bobby Bailey thanked the following groups and individuals for helping put the facility together.

He thanked Texas-New Mexico Power Company, The Village of Ruidoso Street, Water and Fire departments, the Lincoln County Men's Softball League, the Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball Association, the municipal court's community service program, Dave Matier, John Garbutt and Tim Eckert.

Action will continue tonight (Thursday), June 12, and Friday, June 13.

The new Eagle Creek Sports Complex was unveiled Monday night with the opening of the softball season. The complex is surrounded by scenic trees and mountains, as shown here in an opening game between the Flamingo Club and the Unicorns of the Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball Association.

A large crowd attended the opening-night games for the Lincoln County Men's Softball League and the Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball Association.

The Fire's Rhonda Newcomb makes first base safely in a women's game with the Inn of the Mountain Gods. Ruby Chlno is the Inn's first baseman. The Fire won, 17-4.

Photos and text by Gary Brown

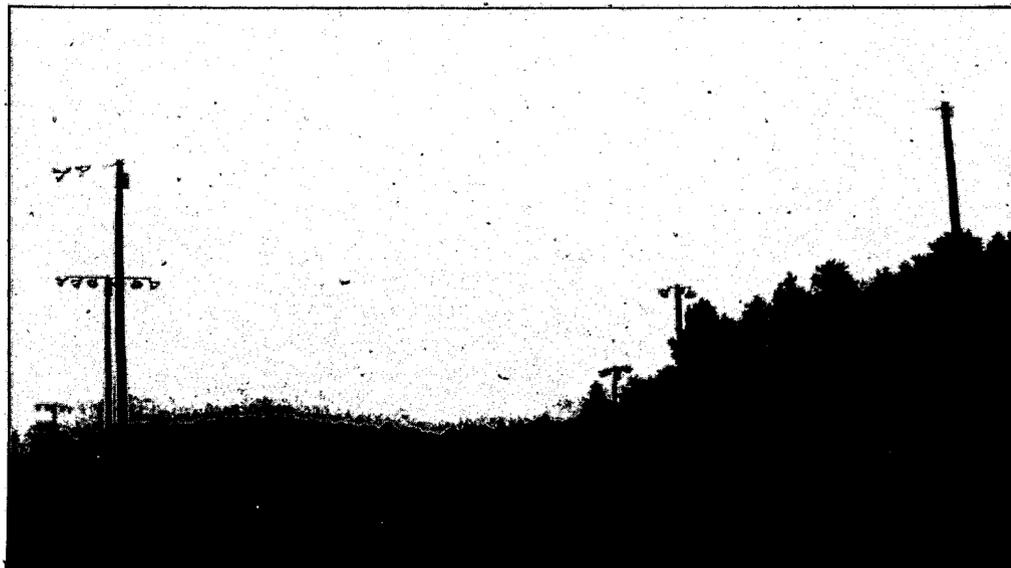

The Cobras' Renae Hicks slides into home plate safely in a game with the Shady Ladies. The Shady Ladies' catcher is Arlene Herrea. The Shady Ladies won, 22-14.

The Pumas' Tommy Thompson (number 6) hits the ball during Monday night's men's softball game with the Beavers Sand & Gravel Crushers. The Pumas won, 10-6, in the season-opener.

Modern lights brighten up the area at Eagle Creek Sports Complex. The new complex has two softball fields and a soon-to-be-completed Little League field.
