Where there's smoke

Ruidoso firefighters are on the scene Tuesday to extinguish a blaze in the smoke house of Red Rooster Barbecue. Three firemen and one unit responded to the call at 4:52 p.m. and spent about half an hour containing the fire. The cooking fire in the smoke house got too hot, according to the Fire Department report on the incident. A department spokesman said units responded at 7:43 p.m. Tuesday to a smoke call in the Upper Canyon area. She said a fire wasn't located.

'I'll no longer be your chief': Police Chief Richard Swenor

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor resigned his post Tuesday, effective October 15.

The Ruidoso Village Council, after reading a letter from Swenor in executive session, unanimously accepted the chief's resignation.

Swenor, who has served as chief of police for six years, said he resigned for personal and professional reasons. He revealed plans to remain on the Ruidoso Police force, reverting to his old rank of detective sergeant.

"It will be up to the new chief where I'm assigned," said Swenor during a Police Department staff meeting Wednesday.

"Effective October 15 of this year I'll no longer be your chief," said Swenor in announcing his resignation to the entire police force. "You know how I feel about all of you and the department," he added.

"I'm just going to step out of the catbird seat," said Swenor. "I just don't want to keep fighting the stress."

"I've been all the way to the top in this state," noted Swenor, a former president of the New Mexico Police Chief's Association.

"I tried to argue with him after the fact," said deputy chief Jim Alston. He asked members of the force to support the chief's decision and make the transition as easy as possible.

"Assure yourselves ... the decision is mine," said Swenor. He told his staff he appreciates their "all hanging in and giving 1,000 percent" through budget cuts.

Swenor said he delayed his job switch until October 15 because he has several projects he wants to complete while he's chief. He said that also gives the Village of Ruidoso time to recruit a replacement.

Village manager Frank Potter said plans call for advertising for the chief's slot, so that qualified applicants, internal and external, may apply.

Swenor told his officers that he has been "mulling" over the progress made in the Police Department under his leadership.

"We've come a long way," said Swenor.

Top horses meet in Futurity

The middle jewel in the quarter horse Triple Crown caps this weekend's horse racing action at Ruidoso Downs as the 10 finalists for the $600,000 Rainbow Futurity face off down the mountain track's straightaway.

A special noon post time has been set for Sunday's program to accommodate the live telecast of the Rainbow Futurity by Winner Communications of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Friday's lineup at Ruidoso Downs reads like a Who's Who in quarter horse racing as the nation's top older dashers vie for 10 starting positions in the $100,000 (est.) World's Championship Quarter

Horse Classic.

The $10,000-added Sierra Blanca Handicap shares Saturday's marquee with the $90,000 consolation of the Rainbow Futurity.

The Florida-bred filly Elans Special heads the field for the $600,000 final of the Rainbow Futurity on Sunday. Lining up against the No. 1 qualifier are Wick-dash, Dash For Speed, Chrises Smash, Miss Daylight Run, Dash S Diamond, Dance Hall Maskee, Its Called Class, Sailontown and Oh Bid Go. The winner of the Rainbow Futurity pockets more than $200,000.

Council OKs new airport agreement

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Village Council took action Tuesday to finalize $2.7 million in municipal sales tax revenue bonds.

In a regular meeting Tuesday, councillors OK'd bonds to be paid with the .50 percent sales tax hike implemented on July 1. Funds from the bond sale are earmarked for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

Also Tuesday councillors approved a new airport joint powers agreement, terminated a long-term contract with Boyle Engineering and, after an executive session, accepted the resignation of Police Chief Richard Swenor (see related story).

Village attorney John Underwood recommended accepting the new airport agreement which includes a complete change in make-up for the five-member commission formed by the 1978 joint powers document.

"It's basically ... put up or shut up," said Underwood explaining that fiscal responsibility is clearly defined in the new agreement, which calls for six members—three elected officials from the Village of Ruidoso and three elected officials from the Lincoln County Commission.

According to the agreement adopted by the council, the villages of Ruidoso Downs and Capitan and the Mescalero Apache Tribe will each have an ex officio member of the new commission. Corona and Carrizozo also will be asked to name an ex officio member.

Underwood said the present five members have gotten the airport through its early development stages, and now the project is moving into the operational phase when the entities will be required by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to be responsible for airport funding over the next 20 years.

Underwood said the agreement calls for Lincoln County to take on developmental fiscal responsibility and the Village of Ruidoso to take over operations.

"I would like it to be more at large rather than elected officials," said Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr., and Councillor Larry Simon agreed. But Underwood said the County Commission felt strongly that elected officials should serve since they are more accountable to the people.

Approval of the joint powers agreement stipulated that it be adopted by the Lincoln County Commission and approved by the FAA and Department of Finance and Administration.

Later in the meeting councillors voted unanimously, upon the recommendation of village manager Frank Potter and Underwood, to terminate the long-standing engineering contract with Boyle Engineering.

Potter said the contract for the Grindstone Canyon Dam and related facilities has been in effect since 1982. He said that contract was negotiated differently than the way the village now does business.

"I had some grave concerns regarding the ongoing relationship with Boyle Engineering," noted Underwood.

Although Boyle engineers have designed the next two phases in the Grindstone project, a treatment plant and a five-million gallon storage tank, Potter said those designs will be included in work to date that will be turned over to the village upon termination of the contract.

Potter said Boyle representatives asked to renegotiate prices established in the 1982 contract.

While a new engineer might require additional time to study and update the Boyle designs, Potter said Boyle Engineering also had indicated plans to study and update those designs.

He said the village now ties an engineering amount to any project contract with "absolute numbers."

Also Tuesday, Village Councillor Jerry Shaw lambasted Lincoln Cablevision, saying she regrets voting some months ago to extend the company's franchise for 15 years.

Shaw, noting that she has spent a great deal of time lately at the hospital and nursing home, said people have asked her why Cablevision no longer televises council meetings. She said people who are unable to attend meetings have told her they liked watching them on television.

County votes for mil levy to meet airport shortfall

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

Speculation ended on Wednesday when the Lincoln County Commissioners voted to enforce a one-year-only one mil levy to pay for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport budget shortfall.

The tax, which adds up to $1 per $1,000 assessed property valuation, will begin November 1, 1987. In order for the mil levy to continue past October 31, 1988, the commission would have to approve another tax levy, but could not extend the one agreed upon today.

The one mil tax will net the county $248,827.

The new county tax was one of three items acted upon by the commissioners in their special meeting. It was a public hearing, and county voters were encouraged to speak out for or against the levy.

Glenn Ellison stated, "There must be something good about this airport ... but Lincoln County sure does need to wage a successful PR campaign to get people to believe that."

"I agree with you, Mr. Ellison," said Commission Chairman John Hightower.

"I hope this isn't a continual drain on us," said Sarah Gnatkowski, a county rancher.

When Mary McDonald, of Carrizozo, stated that in her opinion the residents of Carrizozo were overlooked when the airport plans were made in the mid-70s and now those same residents will be taxed to pay for it, Chairman Hightower answered her, "We're trying to get the whole county involved, is the point," he said. "Sometimes you have to bury the hatchet."

When a resident asked if there was any guarantee that the airport wouldn't cost county taxpayers any more money, Chairman Hightower admitted that there is no way to foresee the commercial success of the airport. "But," he added, "there is a limit to how much we can afford to spend. You can't buy a Cadillac if you can only afford a Toyota."

Referring to previous discussion about paying to pave the airport parking lots, Commissioner Ralph Dunlap remarked that safety is the major concern, not cosmetics. "I don't mind walking in the mud if I've got a safe place to land," he said.

Another order of business was approving the joint powers agreement on the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport, tentatively approved Tuesday night by the Ruidoso Village Council. The agreement establishes an airport commission, which will oversee final development and operation of the airport.

Unlike the old agreement where the five powers (Lincoln County, Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs, Capitan and the Mescalero Apache Reservation) had equal say, the new joint powers agreement stipulates that the entities of Lincoln County and Ruidoso will now each have three voting members of the airport commission (all elected officials of the districts) and that the entities of Ruidoso Downs, Capitan, Mescalero, Carrizozo and Corona all have one ex officio, or non-voting member.

Legislative power will, therefore, be shared between the county and Ruidoso, with the county responsible for the capital improvements, and Ruidoso responsible for operation costs.

Under this new agreement, present airport administrator Fred Heckman will no longer be part of the management staff.

"I believe this new agreement will cure the administrative problems we've had in the past," said Commissioner Dunlap.

"It's been an agonizing thing to come up with a suitable agreement, but I do agree with this one," stated Chairman Hightower.

"I like it," said Commissioner Bill Karn.

When questioned about the accountability of the new airport commission, attorney Gary Mitchell stated, "You'll have to rely on the good judgment and common sense of your elected officials."

Also during the meeting, the county commission approved and signed the Federal Aviation Administration grant agreement, which is due in Santa Fe on Friday, July 17.

Rairdons, now convicted, will return to face charges here

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

A couple sentenced in Texas to 60 years each after pleading guilty to kidnapping and rape face additional charges in Lincoln and Eddy counties, according to Harry Wilcox Jr., senior trial prosecutor for the 12th Judicial District.

Wilcox said Harold Rairdon, 40, and his 20-year-old wife, Bobbie Sue Rairdon, have been charged in Lincoln County with five counts of first-degree felony criminal sexual penetration and one count of false imprisonment, a fourth-degree felony.

The Rairdons were arrested in December 1986 in El Paso, Texas, on a Ruidoso warrant entered in the national computer system, said Wilcox.

Detective Lanny Maddox of the Ruidoso Police Department said the local investigation began when a Carlsbad girl was allegedly kidnapped by the Rairdons, who are accused of bringing her to Ruidoso and raping her numerous times.

Maddox said El Paso detective Ed Camacho recognized the Rairdons in a shopping mall and arrested them. Maddox said when the two prisoners were in a hallway at the El Paso facility, a University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) student recognized them as the two who had abducted her and raped her the night before.

The case involving the UTEP student led to the Rairdons' guilty plea and sentencing Tuesday in El Paso.

Wilcox said he has notified Texas authorities to place a hold on both Harold and Bobbie Sue Rairdon.

"We will extradite both suspects back to Lincoln County where they will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law," said Wilcox. He said the allegations against the Rairdons include holding the 15-year-old Carlsbad girl hostage, binding her hands and feet, gagging and blindfolding her, raping her repeatedly and forcing her by threats of death to engage in various "lewd and lascivious acts."

Since the two also are charged with crimes in Eddy County, Wilcox said the two officers will "coordinate to ensure the efficient expenditure of state funds in prosecuting the Rairdons for the multiple county crimes."

According to published reports, the UTEP student told police Bobbie Sue Rairdon approached her claiming to have car trouble. The student went to the car and Harold Rairdon was reportedly in the back seat. She was robbed, threatened with a knife, driven to a motel, sexually assaulted and kept overnight, the report continued.

Reports indicate the Rairdons face a number of charges in Eddy County, including some dating back to 1985 involving a 16-year-old girl who allegedly traveled with the couple for three months through Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado. The Rairdons were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and conspiracy.

Other Eddy County charges reportedly include bribery by intimidation of a witness, attempted fraud and conspiracy involving a false report of a burglary to collect insurance money and issuing worthless checks.

Economic Development Corp. meeting is tonight

The Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County will have a public presentation at 7 p.m. today (Thursday), July 16, in the North Forty Room of Cree Meadows Country Club.

Several speakers will give presentations on the topic of economic development. The Economic Development Corporation (EDC) of Lincoln County will present their new organization to the public at the meeting.

The group has formed a non-profit corporation now approved by the state Corporation Commission. EDC was a result of the area's concern to diversify the economy by attracting revenue generating entities that can create more jobs and help stabilize the economy year-round, according to a press release from the group. The original task force consists of representatives from many segments of the community. EDC has been endorsed by the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and governments in Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs and Lincoln County.

Property and business owners in the county are invited to become certificate holders in EDC, and the public is invited to attend the event, "considered to be a milestone in our area's future," according to the release.

Lodgers' Tax Committee lacks members for quorum

by KARL F. MOFFATT
News Staff Writer

Wednesday's regularly scheduled meeting of the Lodgers' Tax Committee was canceled due to a lack of enough members to provide a quorum.

The previous June 17 meeting of the committee was the last for three of the five board members, and according to Tammy Maddox, Ruidoso village deputy clerk, "There was no meeting due to the lack of appointments being made by the mayor to the committee." Maddox added that the mayor had said he would have appointments made if a special meeting comes up or at the next regularly scheduled council meeting.

Ruidoso Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. said in an interview Wednesday afternoon that the tardy appointments were "a matter of a lack of time."

Davis said that he had not spoken to the retiring members about returning and that he had an agreement with the village council not to appoint anyone "without visiting with the council."

Maddox said that no one had contacted her about putting anything on the LTC agenda anyway.

Davis said, "If there was anything earthshaking going on I would have got it done."

Shaw said she found that Cablevision furnishes television free of charge to Lincoln County Medical Center, but charges patients at Ruidoso Care Center $40 installation and a monthly charge.

"I think it's terrible and I want to make a public statement," said Shaw vehemently.

Care center administrator Patsy Fox confirmed that residents are charged an installation fee even though hook ups are already in the wall in the rooms. She said monthly bills are paid by family members and amount to $17 or $18.

"I've tried to work with Mr. Crown to get a special rate," said Fox. She said many care center patients are on Medicaid and have only $30 or less a month to spend.

Councillor Elmer Pirelli agreed, adding Cablevision has "acted very independent" since the council extended the franchise.

Crown confirmed furnishing cable service free to the hospital and charging an installation fee at the care center.

Although he didn't know until Wednesday night of council Wednesday, Crown said he tried Wednesday to contact Fox to discuss a contract he proposes.

"Other than that, I really don't want to say anything," said Crown. "I'd rather talk to the council face-to-face rather than talk behind their back the way they did mine," he added.

Members of the council disagreed with suggestions that Cablevision discontinued airing council meetings because of the sound system in council chambers.

"I don't think it's our sound system as much as it's Cablevision," said Shaw. "If they had the best kind of equipment they'd pick it up," she added.

"They may have taken us off the air in their great consideration of viewers," suggested Mayor Davis. He asked village staff to check into problems, and agreed that a public meeting should be called.

Finally Shaw was given a round of applause from the audience when she said, "anyway, I said it and I'm glad."

In other regular business Tuesday the council:

—Heard details of an agreement reached during a meeting on the traffic circle. It was agreed the Ruidoso Federated Woman's Club will landscape and maintain the area and the business association won't dispute the club's prerogative. The village agreed to assist in getting the area cleaned up and obtaining directional signs.

"Everyone walked away very happy that day," noted Potter.

—Heard from Potter that the Hollywood well replacement is 99 percent complete. He said the final agreement calls for a series of tests over the next 12 months.

—Received a written report on various projects from division director Becky Durham.

—Went into executive session to discuss personnel, and back into regular session to act on Chief Swenor's resignation.

Councillors Victor Alonso and Ray Dean Carpenter were absent from the meeting.

Call 257-7365 to reach Family Crisis Center

Victims of domestic violence in Lincoln County can now call 257-7365 to reach the Family Crisis Center.

Volunteers are on call seven days a week, 24 hours a day, to respond to calls for information or help. The emergency hotline is answered by dispatchers at the Ruidoso Police Department, and callers are asked to leave a number for a crisis center advocate to return the call.

Kathy Cheney, executive director for the Refuge in Roswell, announced recently the area crisis program was approved for a federal grant to implement the emergency program. She said Betsy Seiler has been hired as part-time site coordinator.

Seiler, who can be reached by leaving a message at 257-7365, is available to answer questions about the program or make presentations before clubs and organizations.

The Family Crisis Center advisory board, a subsidiary of the Refuge in Roswell, recently completed a series of training sessions for crisis center advocates. Five volunteers completed the course.

Services available through the Family Crisis Center include information and educational programs, emergency shelter and referrals to other agencies.

The advisory board recently elected Frankie Jarrell, president, and Jennie Dorgan, secretary. Burdette Stampely continues as vice-president and Reva Tallman is treasurer.

Rev. Kerby leaves a trail of accomplishment

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

When the Reverend Cleve Kerby preaches Sunday at First Baptist Church in Ruidoso, it will be for the last time as its pastor.

Kerby, who has led the Ruidoso church for the past four years, has accepted a call to a congregation in Carlsbad, and will soon be leaving the Lincoln County area.

"It's been a tough decision," said Kerby, who spent two years in Carlsbad before coming to Ruidoso. The young pastor recalls coming to the Carrizozo church right after his graduation from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas.

Kerby, a Plains, Texas, native, had strong ties to the Ruidoso area even before coming to Lincoln County as a minister in 1981.

"Anytime we vacationed, we came to Ruidoso," said Kerby.

In addition to his duties to his own congregation, Kerby has acted as chaplain for the Ruidoso Police Department over the past few years.

"That's been a vital part of this church's ministry to the community," said Kerby, or "Chaplain One" as he's known at the police department.

The young minister smilingly recalls going by and introducing himself to Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor. About that time the chief had received information from the International Police Chaplains, and soon the department had its first chaplain and Kerby had a new job.

Swenor, who is quick to praise both the chaplain and the program, announced at a staff meeting Wednesday that the Chaplain One badge has been retired. He thanked Kerby for his service to the department and presented him with a plaque. On the plaque is Kerby's Chaplain One badge.

Kerby is quick to say that the chaplain program is in good hands with Father Dave Bergs, Chaplain Two.

Since Carlsbad has no police chaplain program, Kerby is hoping to renew his efforts in his new home. He also is developing a training program entitled "Equipping Ministers to Develop and Implement a Comprehensive Police Chaplaincy Program." That program, which includes recruiting and training volunteer police chaplains, will serve as Kerby's dissertation in his doctoral program.

When doing research for his own chaplaincy skills, Kerby said he discovered very little had been published on the subject.

FIRE AND TIMBER
STAFF OFFICER
STEVE MAKOWSKI

Steve Makowski points out the debris and scrub trees that he hopes to clear with Tuesday's prescribed burn in the Dry Eagle Lake area.

When burning is beneficial

by KARL F. MOFFATT
News Staff Writer

Something seems to have gone wrong in the Lincoln National Forest.

Several firefighters were seen Tuesday putting the torch to an estimated 300 acres of land. And this is the height of the forest fire season?

There really isn't anything to worry about, said Steve Makowski, a Forest Service fire and timber staff officer with the Smokey Bear Ranger Station. "We are just cleaning up a lot of trash," he said.

A prescribed burn in the Dry Eagle Lake area is being used to clear scrub juniper and pine trees that are encroaching onto grasslands. The idea is to open the forest to more grass growth which benefits cattle who feed there. If expanding, the scrub trees would totally occupy the area and win out over the grass in the competition for nutrients and space, Makowski said.

The Forest Service manages the forest for five reasons: timber, recreation, forage, wildlife and watershed. The prescribed burn is a management tool for weeding out unnecessary timber and clearing debris while promoting grass growth for forage and watershed.

"We want people to know what we are doing, that we have resource objectives," said Makowski. "Hopefully the negative aspects of the work, scorched and burned trees, is more acceptable if the reasons are understood."

This is a good time to have prescribed burns because of the same reasons that the fire danger is so high, the forest is dry. Makowski has a handheld calculator that helps him conduct prescribed burns. The computer can calculate fire behavior based on information such as wind speed, weather conditions, combustible materials and personnel available. The computer then spits out data on how fast the fire will spread, how high the flames may go and how big the perimeter may get in so much time.

"Fire can be a management tool when used properly," Makowski said.

Road grader flips; two are injured

A road grader accident at 2:45 p.m. Wednesday on State Highway 37 left two Capitan men hospitalized, according to official reports.

Larry Brinkley and Henry Morris were seriously injured when the grader failed on Morris' road, braker travelling down Angus Hill, said New Mexico State Police Officer Steve Standridge. He said the men put down the blade to stop the heavy equipment, it caught in the pavement and flipped the grader.

Hospital personnel said Brinkley is in serious but stable condition in the intensive care unit of Lincoln County Medical Center. Morris was transferred Wednesday to St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell where a spokesman said he remains in stable condition.

Standridge said Brinkley is a deputy with the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office and Morris is his father-in-law.

The Reverend Cleve Kerby takes a few moments to reflect on his four years in Ruidoso as he makes plans for a move to Carlsbad.

Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor (right) presents Chaplain Cleve Kerby with an award for his service to the community and the Police Department. Kerby, who is moving to Carlsbad, resigned his volunteer post as the department's first chaplain. Swenor praised Kerby for his dedication.

Southwestern Seminary library, and they were two copies of the same book," said Kerby with a laugh. And so he began a program he hopes to complete in December.

"I hope this training will be able to assist each officer in New Mexico as ministers become involved in this important avenue of ministry," said Kerby in his letter of resignation to the Ruidoso Police Department.

Kerby and his wife, Sharon, plan to take a few days off before reporting on August 2 to his ministry in Carlsbad. The Kerbys have two children, a 10-year-old son, Chris, and a six-year-old daughter, April.

In spite of being on call 24 hours a day for the police and his congregation, Kerby said he takes time for his family.

"My boy and I make time to go fishing," said Kerby with a small smile. "Your job's never finished—you just have to."

Thrilled with the response he has had in this community and church, Kerby is looking ahead to serving the Carlsbad congregation. It's about twice the size of the Ruidoso church.

"The local church is very important—that's where the hurts are ... the fellowship ... people with common hurts and pains," said Kerby.

Young artist

Zack Beehner, a sixth-grader this year at Ruidoso Middle School, displays a pen and ink Christmas card he designed and entered in the New Mexico Arts and Crafts Fair Youth Exhibit in Albuquerque. He won first place for his age group, following a third-place showing in his age group last year for another pen and ink. The drawing was used as the family Christmas card, and features a commemoration of the first Christmas of Zack's brother and sister, Mack and Katie, now 18 months old.

Happy Birthday To Leo Joiner

A birthday get-together celebration in honor of Leo Joiner is planned for Sunday, July 19, at School House Park - next to the library - in Ruidoso - from 2 till 5 in the afternoon. Everyone is invited to come by and share this important milestone along life's pathway with Leo and his family.

Leo was born in Hico, Texas, July 20, 1907, to Homer Joiner and the former Maggie Lora Killian. At the age of seven he was brought to Hondo, where he has been a widely known and beloved personality ever since that year, 1914.

In his coming up days Leo worked in apple packing plants, as a chuckwagon cook for the Flying H ranch, in the C.C.C. camps and W.P.A. during the depression, and with the highway and County roads. With the C.C.C. he worked in helping farmers and ranchers, building fence, and doing soil conservation. With the W.P.A. he worked, in veterans training programs.

On March thirty, 1935, Leo's happiest dream came true, and his star of good fortune shone brightly in the heavens when he was married to the former Mary Lou Hall. Mary Lou's parents also came from Texas, and homesteaded in the Ancho ranching country. Mary Louise and Leo have been and still are an inspiration to all of us - fondly devoted to one another and their children - and greatly admired by all the wide community for their kind and helpful deeds to friend and stranger alike. They have raised five children: Della Bonnell, Patsy Racher and her twin brother, Pat Joiner, Ruth Lawrence, and Edie Lawrence. Also fifteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Leo was Justice of the Peace for many years in the Hondo area, and postmaster for a year or so in Hondo also. He retired from the State Highway Department after many years of work of outstanding service.

Leo and Mary Lou's home in Hondo has been a landmark for hospitality and community good will. Their fiftieth wedding anniversary drew one of the largest crowds in the history of Lincoln County.

Leo is a great favorite with his Hispanic neighbors, speaking their language and singing their songs. He was a companion of Peter Hurd in singing Mexican songs.

Leo can reach back into the old days of the chuckwagon and the sheep camps and the Apache Mescal pits. He has told of being present when the mescal was cooked by the Mescalero Apaches, among whom he numbers many friends.

Leo is perhaps the only survivor of the original cast of the Last Escape of Billy the Kid - held in Lincoln in 1940 as a celebration of New Mexico's four hundredth birthday or Cuarto Centennial. And for many years since he has brought down the house on playing "Old Man Goss" in the Lincoln Pageant.

The late and beloved Mayme Perry used to say: "I see my lilac and rose bushes and iris everywhere I go," in mentioning the many times she had given friends a "start" of flower, bush, vine or tree.

Leo has a natural way with all growing things, gardens, flowers, and especially fruit trees. He has grafted and budded different peaches, apples, cherries, plums, and all other fruits, developing superior fruit trees. He has a keen eye to outstanding peaches, plums and other fruits that have just come up by themselves here and there. Some have turned out to have great size and good flavor. Also these selected varieties are faithful producers year after year - blooming late so as to escape the frosts. And the whole countryside is covered here and there with trees - now fifty and sixty years old - given to neighbors, and still bearing fruit.

These are emblems of Leo himself - a beloved man who has "cast his bread upon the waters" - and these Christian deeds have returned to him many times over in the deep fondness we all feel for him. We wish Leo many happy returns of the Day and all God's blessing.

NUMBER X

His Excellency Gen. Washington attended James Towley's play "High Life Below the Stairs" last evening at the Southwark Opera House, south of the City.

Due to the Pennsylvania Sumptuary Laws banning theaters and plays as "unbecoming republican virtue and frugality," the Play was advertised as a "concert" entitled "The Servants Hall in an Uproar." In attendance also were a number of State Legislators, presumably to blink in the Great Man's Light, which must have blinded them to the fact they were breaking Their Own Laws.

The Call for abandoning these nefarious Laws has been noised about by many. It is claimed, rightly, these Laws are false piety flagrantly violated by the Better People in our society.

We wonder how William Shakespeare would have felt about the disguise used to change "Hamlet" into a moral lecture by advertising it as "a Moral and Instructional Tale called Filial Piety: Exemplified in the History of the Prince of Denmark," as was done last year in Philadelphia.

Our theaters are "opera houses," our plays are "concerts" or "lectures" and our theater goers are criminals - some of our richest criminals we might add, including judges, merchants, legislators and many Men of God.

According to the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania his Excellency is now a Criminal. Shall we give him up to the Hangman?

Mrs. Korbmacher, A Witch?

Malicious persons in the Spring Garden section of this City attacked old Mrs. Korbmacher on account of being a Witch. These vengeful persons long believing her a practioner of sorcery, grabbed her and cut her forehead (this being an ancient treatment of witches). This old and peculiar lady, fearful of her life, appealed to the Authorities for Protection. It was not forthcoming.

Quakers Fined For Refusal

Two Quakers were summoned this day by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to serve as Jurors. The Two men disqualified themselves saying their Faith prohibited them from taking Oaths.

The Chief Justice refused to accept their position, and quickly fined them 61 pounds each, and sent them to Jail until they paid the penalty. With a writ of habeas corpus, the Quakers have challenged the decision. They question whether the Judge has the authority to impose the fines and commit them to Jail for non-payment.

Upper House Ignored; Lower House Representation Discussed

Last week this report ended on a gloomy note since no solution seemed to be possible in the dispute between the large and small states over the method of representation in the proposed new Congress. A committee composed of one representative of each state met last week and proposed a compromise which so favored the Small States that the Convention was in danger of collapsing in disarray. Many members said that they feared that no solution could be found because the large states are so adamant in their conviction that only a Congress based on proportional representation will meet the needs of the United States.

HARSH RECRIMINATIONS

When the report was presented harsh recriminations were indulged in, even by gentlemen noted for their restraint. But when that thunder had died down, there was a disposition to turn to discuss the details of the compromise suggested. To the surprise of your reporter, the delegates did not take the most contentious issue, which is whether the states will be equally represented in the upper house, but instead fell to discussing the Rule of Representation in the lower house which will stand for the people, not the states. Another committee of delegates was selected to give substance to the recommendation that each representative in the lower house should be chosen by 40,000 people, with three-fifths of the slaves being counted. The committee reported that such a plan would produce a Congress of fifty-six members, but this was not satisfactory to the gentlemen. Some thought that such a ratio, and such a Congress, would soon lead to the old Atlantic states being overwhelmed by the new states expected to be formed from the territory to the West.

A further calculation was then made which would produce a Congress of sixty-five members. This calculation appeared to have been adjusted to secure higher representation for the Small States, as some gentlemen said. Even this plan was not to the liking of the delegations. While the debate continued in a confused way, there was a dramatic development. The representatives of the state of New York withdrew their attendance at the Convention.

NEW YORK IS SPLIT!

It is well known here that Mr. Alexander Hamilton disagrees with the other two members of his delegation, Mr. Robert Yates and Mr. John Lansing. Mr. Hamilton withdrew from the Convention at the end of June, possibly in chagrin over the tepid reception of his Own Plan of government, but more likely over his frustration at the behaviour of Mr. Yates and Mr. Lansing. On no occasion have those two gentlemen agreed with Mr.

Hamilton's vote, which has always therefore been lost: Mr. Yates and Mr. Lansing have persistently taken the Small States' position, although they represent the large and prosperous state of New York. Therefore, when they left Philadelphia on Tuesday of this week, their state was without a vote, and the Small States' group without two of its leading advocates.

RATIO OF REPRESENTATION

The reasons for their departure are mysterious. One gentleman said they had left merely because of the opening of the Courts in New York; Mr. Yates is a judge and Mr. Lansing a lawyer, but surely they knew their presence in Philadelphia might be prolonged? Another group of gentlemen believe they left because the Convention is going beyond its powers and hence beyond their commissions. A more knowing, and cynical man intimated that they left because the Convention is likely to succeed! If it does, then New York's commercial powers will be limited by the powers given to a stronger Central Government! They left to hinder, then, the hopeful outcome of the Convention.

For the rest of this week the Convention continued its discussion of the ratio of representation. The two lower states, Georgia and South-Carolina wish slaves to be counted as the Equals of Free Citizens because they are good indicators of the wealth of a state. Although many delegations wish the ratio to represent wealth as well as numbers of people, no state would support this motion in the end except the two who proposed it.

Their move nevertheless raised an important issue.

How can wealth be taken into account? Many delegates thought that population would be the best indication. It was agreed that a Census would be made at intervals to determine changes in population so that Congressional representation could be adjusted accordingly. Mr. Gouverneur Morris satisfied those who wish wealth to be relevant by moving that direct taxation should be in proportion to population. This seemed to satisfy the delegates, when taken in conjunction with a ten-yearly Census.

SENATE IGNORED

But the key issue of the Senate was not taken up in any detail. All the energy has gone into calculations of the representation of each state now and in the future in the proposed lower house of Congress. Many of the gentlemen are very selective about what is going on and some other newspapers are so misguided as to report that there is complete agreement within the Convention Hall: Unanimity Hall they want to call it! Your reporter has tried to speak to some of the more forthright gentlemen, especially those who have given information in earlier weeks, but now everyone is silent. Even Doctor Franklin who is so responsive to the Cause of Truth and Candor is silent! At the Indian Queen where many gentlemen stay, they dine apart in their own hall and entrance is strictly by invitation. What is going on? Are they moving to a resolution of their conflict? Has one already been reached?

Philadelphia ... July 13, 1787

The Convention recessed today so that the Delegates might visit Bartram's Garden. Rufus King (Massachusetts) and Daniel of St. Thomas Jenifer (Maryland) confer, while John Bartram Jr. comments on his Father's layout of the Garden to his Excellency Gen. Washington. Nathaniel Gorham (Massachusetts) just enjoys the resplendent solitude of this magnificent Garden.

New York Delegates Abandon Grand Convention Today!

Two New York Delegates to the Federal Convention deserted Philadelphia today, leaving the absent Alexander Hamilton as the only New Yorker who continues to represent that State. Judge Robert Yates and John Lansing, Jr., both of Albany, left the State House today vowing never to return! Both men have become fierce defenders of the States' supremacy over the National Government. Said Mr. Lansing, "Had New York suspected a consolidation of the States and the formation of a National Government, she would never have sent Delegates to this Convention."

Judge Robert Yates currently serves on the New York Supreme Court and has been known to defend Tories in their efforts to regain Property confiscated during the Recent War with Great Britain.

Williamson Suggest Slave Census

After heated discussion on the issue of counting slaves for purposes of representation in the National Congress, Dr. Hugh Williamson of North-Carolina proposed that the census enumeration include all free white inhabitants and three-fifths of "those of other descriptions." This curious terminology cannot disguise the fact that the North-Carolina delegate wants to bolster his state's representation in Congress by unjustly counting the numbers of unfortunate Negroes in the Southern States. This issue is sure to cause continued controversy!

Although Dr. Williamson is a notorious land speculator and favors a Monarchy for this Nation, he is a talented surgeon and experimental scientist of considerable promise. The fifty-two year old delegate has served as Surgeon General of the North-Carolina Militia, as a member of his State's Legislature and in the Continental Congress from 1782 to 1785 and is currently filling another term in the Congress.

Dr. Williamson is noted for his blunt assessment of situations. When Dr. Franklin suggested that the Convention employ local clergymen as chaplains to open the debates in the State House, Dr. Williamson retorted that "we simply don't have the money." He was, of course, right. The Convention and its Delegates have virtually no operating funds. Williamson and his fellow Carolinians have repeatedly had to ask for increases in their allotments to pay for their lodging at the Indian Queen, a commodious tavern on Fourth Street and Chestnut. Perhaps Dr. Williamson will have to sell off some of his Western lands!

Indians Attack Virginia Villages

Secretary of War Henry Knox informed Congress today that hostile Indians were plundering villages and murdering the inhabitants on Virginia's frontiers. Secretary Knox suggested that a 1500-man army could protect the frontier, but it is widely known that the Government could not afford to support such a large force.

The Secretary recommended that Colonel Josiah Harmer, commander and chief of the Armed Forces, attempt to make a peace Treaty with the offending Tribes. If this fails, Secretary Knox recommends that Col. Harmer call out the Kentucky and Pennsylvania Frontier Militia to attack the Indians.

Library Company Offers
Books to Delegates

Mr. William Rawle, Secretary to the Library Company of Philadelphia, in a letter to the Convention delegates has magnanimously offered to "furnish the Gentlemen composing the Convention now sitting, with such books as they may desire during their Continuance in Philadelphia." According to Mr. Rawle, "every worthwhile book of political theory, history, law, philosophy and revolutionary polemic can be found on the Library Company's shelves."

The Library Company has been housed since 1774 on the Second floor of Carpenter's Hall. It opened its doors to the Gentlemen of the First & Second Continental Congresses, and as many of those Gentlemen are present in Convention, it is hoped they will inform the others.

Mr. Rawle begs that the Gentlemen who borrow, return.

Mr. Printer:

I must insist upon the privilege of Free Press by demanding that you print this letter regarding the belligerent attitude which many people throughout the Republic entertain towards Indians. Indians have been represented by those who do not know them as beasts in nature, naturally ferocious, cruel, vindictive, treacherous, ungrateful, and deserving no better treatment than accorded Savages. But those who see Indians in that light, and represent them with the stigma of Savages, have closed their eyes to the unjust treatment Indians have received or do not know what they are talking about. The early settlers, of different persuasions, had an opportunity to become acquainted with them as far from giving them so odious a character; on the contrary, they say that Indians make good use of their powers of reason, that they are just; and are endowed with kindness and moderation; that they are prudent and faithful; that they are extremely liberal with each other; that they treat outsiders with respect and generosity, so long as the strangers act with justice and humanity towards them; that they worship the Great Creator of the Universe, with a degree of purity unknown to many hypocrites, who would be offended by being compared to them. To what cause, then are we to importune their (sometimes) savage conduct? Is it not in great measure, owing to the evil examples of those settlers who call themselves Christians? Did they not entice the Indians to take up the Tomahawk and Knife indiscriminately by perpetuating all sorts of heinous crimes? Did not the settlers start deadly wars? And did they not cheat them out of their land and treat them with injustice? If Indians are more prone to peace than the civilized part of the creation (which I think sometimes is the case, as they are free from ambition, avarice, blasphemy, and treachery) are they not deserving of better treatment? They have nothing but the Law of Nature as their guide, but we have the divine Precepts of the Gospel. Let us then, take shame and sorrow on ourselves and cease seeking evil against them; let us rather endeavor to win them by good examples, letting our light so shine before them, that they might see through our good and glorious work that we are the Benign Redeemers of the world.

Little League All-Stars open Saturday

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Defense looks to be the strong point of the Ruidoso Little League All-Stars as they approach the District 2 Tournament opener with Alamogordo Optimist Saturday, July 18, in Roswell.

The game will start at 5:30 p.m. at the Noon Lions Field near the old airport. The tournament is a double-elimination event.

"I'd say defense is our strongest point," said Ruidoso manager Ray Gann. "We're tight all over, both in the infield and outfield."

"But our hitting is coming along, too."

Gann and coaches Frank Sayner and Jeff Chapman have not decided on all the positions, but they will have five pitchers to choose from.

The pitchers are Lance Roe, Josh Norbury, Ricky Devara, Grady Rushing and Matt Escalanti.

"We haven't decided on a starting pitcher yet," Gann remarked.

Other members of the All-Stars include Robert Sayner, Erik Sams, Trevor Cox, Jeffrey Chapman, Jason Skinner, Victor Cocchiola, Raymond Wheeler, Gordon Yahnahki, Damian Roybal and Dathan Hull.

Sayner is the only player who made last year's All-Star team.

Ruidoso has a 0-4 record over the past two All-Star tournaments.

However, Ruidoso defeated Artesia, 4-2, in the 1984 opener after Artesia had won the 1983 tournament. Ruidoso had a 1-2 record in 1984, was 1-2 in 1983 and was 2-2 in 1982.

NOTES—The long road in the Little League tournament ends with the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pennsylvania. The odds of reaching the World Series are tough, but Roswell won the World Series in 1957.

Warlick, Smith win tennis sectionals

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School star Marnie Warlick and former Warrior standout Jim Smith will compete in the regional competition of the Lipton Iced Tea Mixed Doubles Tournament after winning the sectionals by default Sunday in El Paso, Texas.

Warlick and Smith won Sunday after Eric Alwan, one of the opposing players, did not show up.

Now the Ruidoso duo will compete in the regionals in Santa Fe August 22. A total of four teams will compete in the regionals with the winner going to the national tournament in Florida.

"I plan to practice every day for the regionals," said Warlick, a state meet competitor last spring. Smith also competed in the Anna County Open Saturday in Las Cruces.

He lost to Alwan (the top-seeded player), 6-4, 6-4, in the men's open singles competition.

Ruidoso High School tennis coach Mike Crocker had a bye in the first round, but lost to Alan Stephens, 6-0, 6-4, in the second round.

Crocker also teamed with Dave Walton in the doubles competition. They lost to another team, 6-3, 6-4, in the first round.

TENNIS NOTES—Some Warrior players will compete in the Roswell Coca-Cola Tennis Tournament at Roswell Country Club Saturday, July 18.

Soccer signups set for Friday

Co-ed soccer sign-ups will be from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Friday, July 17, at the Ruidoso Public Library.

Sign-ups also will be in age groups five-eight, nine-10, 11-14 and an open class 18 and under.

Coaches for all divisions should attend.

Around Sports

with Gary Brown

I'm becoming a cap man. I must have seven or eight caps that have been given to me by various people. I keep misplacing them, but always seem to find them eventually.

The latest one is a Maui cap that Ruidoso High School head boys track coach and assistant football coach Ronny Maskew gave me on his recent return from Hawaii.

Maskew also has given me three or four Warrior caps. Once, during the Ruidoso Track Invitational two years ago, I was having trouble taking pictures with the cap's visor in the way.

So I gave the cap to Warrior wrestling coach Gerald Ames. Maskew didn't like me giving my caps away and I thought he might not give me anymore.

But Ronny has remained true with his cap-giving, and the Maui cap is a good one, particularly since it's a rare treasure from another state.

I also have a western-style cap and a Coors Lite cap.

To be simplistic, caps are a good thing.

They give you some shade and protect your head and face from the sun.

I'm extremely light-complected so the risk of possible skin cancer from the sun's rays is greater.

But as long as Maskew and other people keep giving me caps, I should be able to keep my body protected from the sun's harsh rays. I might even wear a different cap for each day of the week, riding on my new Yamaha.

*****
Ruidoso High School football players will host Alamogordo players in a passing league tonight (Thursday), July 16, at W.D. Horton Stadium.

The competition will start at 6:30 p.m.

This Maui cap is the latest of the Gary Brown cap collection donated by Ronny Maskew.

Alamogordo will then host the Warriors at the same time Tuesday, July 21.

The passing league gives players a chance to sharpen their offensive skills in preparation for the fall season.

*****
The Ruidoso High School gymnasium is open from 6 to 8 p.m. every Tuesday from now until school starts for athletes who want to play on the Warrior girls basketball team.

This will give the players a chance to sharpen their skills for the winter season.

Miller named Tiger coach

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Blane Miller has been named head football coach at Capitan High School.

Miller, a former Ruidoso High School football and basketball star, was an assistant football coach at Capitan last season.

Miller will be assisted by Clayton Allen, who has been an assistant coach at Hobbs.

"Yes, I am excited," Miller said. "In fact, I feel privileged to be a part of the program."

"We had two new administrators who have strong personalities, and as a result, I feel the program will be straightforward."

Miller was the quarterback on the Ruidoso football team which won the state AA-division championship in 1972 and finished second in the 1971 state AA-division playoffs.

He made all state in his junior and senior seasons.

After high school, Miller played five years of college ball at the University of Washington and New Mexico State University.

Following college, he played two seasons for the San Antonio Toros, a semi-pro football team. He also was in the Denver Broncos camp for a week.

Softball Results

Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League play Monday night at Eagle Creek Sports Complex saw some key games.

Undeclared defending champion Flamingo Club crushed Bingo, 20-3, and defeated the Lady Braves (no exact score available); the Fire topped the Unicorns, 12-7; the Shady Ladies dumped the Unicorns, 18-8; the Lady Braves defeated Bingo, 20-7; and the RACettes toppled the Shady Ladies, 26-16.

The women's regular season will end Monday, July 27.

In Lincoln County Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League action Tuesday night, the two division champions both won games.

Red Division champion Cattle Baron outscored Trinity Mountain Fellowship, 10-7; and Black Division champion RC Softball defeated Mescalero, 13-3.

World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic trials are set for Friday

Friday's lineup at Ruidoso Downs reads like a Who's Who in quarter horse racing as the nation's top older dashers vie for 10 starting positions in the $100,000 World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic.

This year's edition of the 440-yard Classic has drawn 45 hopefuls, including the unexpected nomination of recent Rainbow Derby winner Florentine - California's hottest sophomore filly. The five trial divisions for the Classic are carded as the 6th through 10th races. The 10 horses with the fastest times will advance to the final of the prestigious Grade I test scheduled for July 26. First post for Friday's 12-race program is 1 p.m.

West Coast trainer Russell Harris sends Florentine out in Friday's eighth race with Kenneth Hart piloting the Dash For Cash miss from the rail post position. The 3-year-old filly is generally regarded as the best in her age group this year and probably will be the overwhelming favorite in her Classic division.

Florentine has won five of seven starts this year to earn $533,000 for the White Oaks Ranch of Lake Hughes, California. She opened her streak at Bay Meadows taking the La Primera Del Ano Derby over 1986 Champion Two-Year-Old Filly Cash Perks. Florentine returned in the rich Golden State Derby at the northern California track and won by a half length in a fast 21.51 for the quarter mile. In her last assignment, Hart took her to a 1 1/2-length romp in the $500,000 Rainbow Derby at Ruidoso Downs.

Facing Florentine in her division are Blancia Viking and Big John Mito. Blancia Viking finished second in last year's edition of the Classic and will be making his first start at Ruidoso Downs this summer. Big John Mito loads back off a narrow victory in the Jet Deck Handicap on July 3, where he defeated Shawns Pawn.

Shawns Pawn is another tough mare who appears to be at the top of her form. Before missing the winner's share of the Jet Deck by a neck, Jeff Williams rode the St Bar daughter to a neck decision in the Zia Handicap. She's a lifetime earner of nearly $200,000. Williams takes the assignment aboard Shawns Pawn in Friday's first Classic trial.

Also making their bid in the Classic divisions are 1985 Kansas Derby winner Flow Of Cash; Pyromaniac, one of New Mexico's top competitors who earned more than $200,000 last year; multiple stakes winner Barbarys Pokey; and Savy Edition, who finished second to the brilliant mare Dashing Phoebe in the Rainbow Silver Cup.

Speedsters line up for Saturday's $90,000 Rainbow Futurity Consolation

Quarter horses and thoroughbreds take center stage on Saturday's program at Ruidoso Downs when the Sierra Blanca Handicap shares the marquee with the $90,000 Rainbow Futurity Consolation.

Multiple stakes winner Forever A Ruler carries high weight in the $12,000 Sierra Blanca, shouldering 122 pounds against Governor's Handicap winner That's Incredible and Candy Store, who accounted for the Mesalero Apache Cap last month. First post for the expanded 13-race program is 1 p.m.

Forever A Ruler will be seeking to avenge his disappointing performance in the Governor's Handicap on July Fourth. Regular rider Salustio Burgos checks in fifth that 7 1/2-furlong test before fading to finish fifth aboard Forever A Ruler.

It was the Florida-bred's first assignment this summer at the mountain track, however, and he should improve considerably in the Sierra Blanca Handicap. Before shipping to Ruidoso Downs, Forever A Ruler won four of five races including three stakes events at Sunland Park, Albuquerque and Santa Fe.

That's Incredible fires back off a short rest following his neck verdict over Curriobot in the $24,000 Governor's Handicap. Trainer Coy Hendrix has given the riding assignment to Lewie Germany, the young jockey who posted the third stakes win of his career with the Governor's Cap.

Candy Store, a lightning quick California-bred, goes after his second trophy of the season for trainer Fred Danley. Pedro Benitez romped to a 1 1/2-length victory aboard the 7-year-old gelding in the Mesalero Apache Handicap on June 13 at Ruidoso Downs. He missed the winner's share by a neck against allowance rivals last weekend and appears to be primed for a solid effort in the Sierra Blanca.

Here's the complete field for the Sierra Blanca Handicap with jockey and weight assignments: 1-Quickie Quick (Sterling, 111); 2-Moolah Smoke (GMurphy, 116); 3-Cuttin A Rug (DLidberg, 115); 4-That's Incredible (Germany, 118); 5-Jesse Jim (Rivas, 115); 6-Sonic Shucky (no rider named, 111); 7-Forever A Ruler (Burgos, 122);

8-Lovely Glass (Bui, 112); 9-K. Jack (no rider named, 114); 10-Candy Store (Benitez, 118).

The $90,000 Rainbow Futurity Consolation is carded as the 9th race co-feature. The 400-yard showdown brings out Sun Country Futurity finalist Dashing Encounter, who stepped off the top qualifying time for the consolation. From the rail out, the Rainbow Futurity Consolation field with jockey assignments includes: Dashing Encounter, no rider named; Uptown Swell, Jerry Rodriguez; Go Street Music, Jerry Nicodemus; Mame Smashed, no rider named; Meddlin Dash, Luke Myles; Trash And Treasure, Nucky Wilson; Sail On Shawnee, Rudy Bustamante; Mr Deck Lark, no rider named; My Mr Special Bug, no rider named; Seven Is An Effort, no rider named.

Jockey/Trainer Standings

Jockey Joe Martinez drew away to a three-win lead in the rider standings last weekend at Ruidoso Downs, while Oklahoma horseman Jack Brooks continued to hold off Fred Danley for the leading trainer title.

Martinez shared weekly riding honors with David Lidberg after both jockeys booted home five winners. Martinez, capped a great weekend winning Saturday's Jockey Club Handicap with Big Bold Boz. He now has 30 wins for the season, followed by Mike Lidberg with 27 and Jacky Martin with 25.

David Lidberg was supple on Friday when the young rider won four of the 12 races on the program. The strong performance rocketed him to the No. 4 spot in the standings with 21 win pictures this season.

Salustio Burgos checks in fifth with 18, followed by Duane Sterling with 17 trips to the winner's circle. Jeff Williams, Luke Myles, Glen Murphy, Stuart Dolphus and Mike Clark each have ridden 16 winners.

On the backside, it was four-time champion trainer Bill Leach who took the weekly honors after saddling four winners. The effort pushed him to the seventh position on the list of leading trainers.

Brooks continues to dominate the paddock with 21 winning mounts this summer. His single tally over the weekend came with Spring Action, a full brother to Spring Lark pointed to this year's $2.5 million All American Futurity. The tally was good enough, however, to maintain a two-win lead over Danley in the trainer standings.

Hugh Tucker takes the No. 3 spot with 16 winners based on his high win percentage. Dwayne Gilbreath and Doyal Roberts are next with 16 each, followed by Brent Davidson (14), Bill Leach (13), Cliff Lambert (10), Lewis Germany (10) and O.S. Carlton IV (8).

Trustees take steps to clean up junk cars

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

The Capitan Board of Trustees voted Monday night to "put teeth" into the Outdoor Storage Ordinance to help clean up the village's image and get people to get rid of or hide their junk cars.

The five board members voted to require inoperable and unregistered motor vehicles, which are defined as those "incapable of being propelled under their own power," be properly disposed of or hidden behind a solid fence. Attorney Mike Runnels is helping the village to rewrite the ordinance.

"This means that six months from now, we should have a nice, shiny-looking city," commented trustee V. Kelly Beavers.

In other business, the trustees accepted two bids for services. The H.M. LaRue and Sons company was accepted to supply and deliver gravel for the village, and Joe Phillips of J & R of Hondo will supply gasoline to the village. These companies were the only bidders to submit bids to the village.

Atkins Engineering of Roswell was awarded the engineering bid for general engineering on the water well project. The firm was selected from five bidders. This contract will be discussed further at a special meeting to consider the general obligation bond set for 5 p.m. Tuesday, July 21, at village hall.

Mayor Benny Coker explained that the water well project is on budget and will be functional within a couple of weeks.

The business fee ordinance was amended to raise the daily fee from $15 to $25 per day. The $15 fee, according to clerk-treasurer Janet Keel, was the lowest in the state.

Propane handlers are penalized

Two area men recently were convicted on five charges of improper handling of liquid propane gas, according to records in Magistrate Judge J.R. "Jim" Wheeler's court.

Pat Hale of Ruidoso and Robert Turner of Capitán, both employees of Ikard and Newson, pled "nolo contendere" to charges filed after state liquid propane gas inspector Ruben Olivares issued citations naming five separate violations.

The two were charged with violations involving propane container markings, enclosed spaces, relief valves, remote fittings and no chock blocks.

Wheeler fined the two $500 and sentenced them to 90 days in jail, but deferred both the fine and incarceration for six months.

"I don't think it will ever happen again," said Judge Wheeler.

Ray Engstrom, liquid propane gas bureau chief for the state Construction Industries Division, said his department learned of the infractions because a flash fire occurred as propane was being placed in a container that doesn't meet state standards.

"We're to be notified anytime liquid propane gas is involved in an incident," said Engstrom.

He said his inspector found that Hale and Turner did handle the gas improperly by filling a tank on a pickup with a camper shell. He said the propane customer had installed both the propane tank and a gas fired refrigerator, that apparently precipitated the flash fire.

Under state statutes the gas distributor, not the customer, carries the burden of complying with regulations, said Engstrom. He said distributors are required to pass an examination to be able to dispense liquid propane gas.

He said violations are unusual.

"It was just a screwup on their part," he added. Engstrom said he learned, while in Ruidoso Tuesday, that the customer involved was turned down by several other propane distributors.

Engstrom admitted he was disappointed that both the fine and incarceration were deferred in the case. He said the jail time is normally deferred, but violators often are required to pay a fine.

"It makes our inspectors wonder if they should even enforce the statutes," noted Engstrom. "I'm sure this is the first such case in this judge's court," he added.

But, as of July 1, Engstrom said his department has the power to levy administrative fines. He said a new state statute has made administrative fines available with a process similar to that used by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

Downs Trustees talk funds, paving

by KARL F. MOFFATT
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Downs Trustees conducted a lengthy meeting Monday with newly appointed village clerk Jean Stillman taking over duties as the mayor's primary aide.

Talk of budgets and finances dominated the evening's agenda and an executive session was called before the board returned and approved an estimated $700,000 budget for the village's 1987-1988 fiscal year.

Kim Kemper, an engineer with Molzen-Corbin and Associates, which is overseeing Phase II paving projects for Ruidoso Downs, addressed the need for the village and the state to resolve contract differences and approve a McCarty Construction bid for paving before the winter sets in. The village had to drop plans to pave an area called Entrance North as was in the original co-op agreement because of lack of funds. The state wants the village to come up with the funds to install a water drop inlet at the base of Heights Drive before it would approve the paving bid.

The bid was approved by the board upon the condition that the state would pay for the drop inlet and the village could find funding for its share of the project.

The board reviewed bids from Pertee Parks Insurance and Fidelity Insurance for insuring the village and questioned the estimated $10,000 difference between the two company's bids. The board opted for the lowest bid of $19,579 from Pertee Parks, which is renewable upon a three year basis.

The question of money came up again when the board reviewed the fire department report. Fire Chief Chet Southard explained that the fire department was now maintaining a separate account for the use of donated funds. The village handles municipal and state supplied funds. The second account was established to reduce friction between the board and the firemen over questionable spending practices. The board cautioned Southard about maintaining proper paperwork for the account and offered the services of the village's bookkeeper.

In other business, the trustees: —Approved a budget adjustment to cover payments of sewer bonds. —Due to a lack of bids, tabled opening of fire truck bids.

—Added their approval to a grant for paving at the new airport upon final approval of the mayor.

—Approved payment for professional services provided by Leon Eggleston.

—Tabled discussion of Forest Service agreement about a loaned fire truck until the village attorney could clarify contract language.

—Reviewed the court, police and animal control officers' reports.

—Approved payment for expert testimony in a ongoing arbitration dispute between the village and Adkins Engineering, the engineering firm that oversaw the Phase I paving project. An estimated $50,000 is involved.

—Approved the mayor's appointment of Jean Stillman as village clerk and Janice Polk as deputy clerk.

THE FIRST ESCAPE!

Inside the Capitol by Jay Miller

SANTA FE—The opportunity to view New Mexico legislative committees in operation this past weekend, while also watching the Iran-Contra congressional hearings, produced a striking realization of the dissimilarities in the way these two bodies conduct themselves.

Whenever a congressional committee witness feels threatened by a question or hassled by a questioner's style, the witness is permitted to unload both barrels on the congressman and say just about anything, apparently without much fear of being held in contempt of congress. The talk is tough and mean and there is a lot of name-calling.

In New Mexico, on the other hand, legislative committee hearings are much more friendly and dignified. Any citizen wishing to come testify in Santa Fe need have no fear of being badgered by committee members. In stark contrast to our national counterparts, our state legislative committee chairs normally make an effort to assure that the witness is as comfortable and relaxed as possible despite the somewhat stressful experience of testifying before a legislative committee.

The only admonishment usually received from a committee chair is a request to be as brief as possible. Occasionally, with a particularly long-winded witness, the chair may inform the witness that it is likely the committee will give the bill a favorable recommendation, at this point, but no guarantees can be made if testimony continues much longer. In other words, don't talk your bill to death.

On those rare instances when one of our state legislators does get a bit offensive, the custom for a committee witness in New Mexico is to bite your tongue and talk to the legislator after the hearing. To attack a legislator publicly, no matter how much distaste the person engenders among fellow legislators, is to invite scolding from the chair and probably many of the committee members.

I was a participant at one time of some particularly shabby treatment by a committee chair. I stifled my natural response and listened as several of the legislator's own party member's chastised him for his remarks. People in the audience from the Washington, D. C. office of the organization I was representing were aghast that I didn't wade into the battle and defend my organization's honor. They talked about our land of manana developing too much passivity in its citizens and making us too timid to stand up for our rights. I noted that sometimes discretion is the better part of valor and that the time would come for the score to be evened.

At the next election, the legislator was soundly defeated in his primary race.

I am proud of New Mexico's system. Shouting and rudeness don't belong in our state or national capitols. If a legislator's actions are reprehensible, our political system has a built in means of accountability. Our Washington lawmakers could learn some refinement from their country cousins.

Although investigations usually turn out to be witchhunts, an investigation appears to be warranted in the case of the penitentiary electronic surveillance system and the computer which is its "brains." The cost in terms of law enforcement overtime and diversion from other duties in order to track down the escapees, is small compared to possible loss of life at the hands of an escapee. Another very real but unseen cost is the fear an escape imposes on the lives of our state's residents.

Something must be done to put an end to the escapes. Either the staff is not properly trained or properly motivated or the equipment was not properly installed or the equipment was defective to begin with. There are solutions to all these problems. We must determine which are the problems. If it can't be done administratively, then an outside investigation is in order.

While we are investigating, let's also look at the procedure for awarding that bid and be sure everything was on the up and up.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

"Sour Grapes"
Anytime an individual steps to the front and center of any controversy, people with opposing viewpoints are quick to speculate as to the motives of their opposition. My recent letter to the editor regarding the sale of airport land to the Postal Service has been labeled by some as "sour grapes" because of my involvement in the issue as a Realtor and because of my past political experiences.

I can assure you, however, that my only intention is to help keep our community focused on the importance of the airport land to our economic future. Basically, the debate has been opened and the first question that arises is "What is an acceptable use of the airport land?"

My answer is "Any acceptable, non-competitive use that would cause economic development and bring jobs and families to Ruidoso that otherwise would not have located here," thereby, diversifying and broadening our economic base.

In my opinion, the proposed sale of land to the Postal Service is not an acceptable direction. The Postal Service came to Ruidoso with the intention of acquiring property and building a new distribution center. And, if the Village had not entered into negotiations, the Postal Service would be acquiring land from a private property owner and proceeding with their plans. Therefore, by their actions, the Village has done nothing more than to undermine a private property owner in the marketplace.

Proponents of the sale are quick to point out that other communities in NM sell land. While that is true, most of those communities have well-diversified economies, and consequently, those land sales don't impact the local economy as they will in Ruidoso.

Real Estate is second only to tourism in Ruidoso and when the Village takes a direction of subdividing and selling land at below market prices, it will do tremendous damage to Ruidoso's no. 2 industry. Property values will fall and demand for commercial land will decline so long as the Village is in the process of subdividing and selling off 160 acres of the best land in town at lower and lower prices.

There are those in town that rationalize that the "ends justify the means" and that the Village should offer whatever incentives necessary, regardless of who it hurts, to cause economic development. While that sounds good in theory, it is the easy way out. Anyone can develop land and keep lowering the price until it sells, or simply give it away in the name of economic development. But not every community has the vision to recognize and use its economic resources to the benefit of all without hurting the people it serves, and therein lies the challenge!

There is no reason for the Village to sell any of the airport land. I feel the Village should focus their efforts and monies toward identifying "non-competitive" uses of the land such as: a convention/events center (30 acres), a college (80 acres), and the balance to support community recreation and cultural facilities (50 acres).

While such directions are not as easy as subdividing and selling land, they will best serve the present and future needs of the community without hurting local property owners and tax payers.

RICK EVANS

Editorial

Since residents and visitors to Ruidoso are now paying for the airport property through the gross receipts tax increase, it seems only fair that they have some say on what that land is used for.

What do you think the 160-acre airport land should be used for when that facility is closed and the Sierra Blanca Airport on Fort Stanton is opened?

An advisory group of Ruidosoans has been set up to form opinions on what the land should be used for, and we believe citizens' input is vital in their decision-making process.

To collect that input, the following questionnaire again is published, surveying readers on how they'd like to see the land used. The questionnaire will be published for the third and final time in an upcoming edition. Readers are encouraged to fill out and return the questionnaire to The News office. Then, on August 6, The News will publish the results of the questionnaire.

Completed questionnaires can be sent to The Ruidoso News at P.O. Box 128, Ruidoso, 88345, or brought by the office at 104 Park Avenue.

All of us should have some input on how the present airport land is used. Complete and return the questionnaire.—DJP

While here and for health reasons, I walk two miles a day along your streets and river.

Right now in Texas we have an "Adopt a Highway" anti-litter program. The slogan is: "Don't mess with Texas".

I would like a lot of regular Texas visitors to join me in a similar campaign here.

Watson, Cape are married

Carole Leigh Watson and Stanley Thomas Cape were married on Saturday evening, July 11, at the First Baptist Church, Cotton Center, Texas. Rev. Raymond Jones, a pastor from Sidney, Texas, performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Joe Watson of Cotton Center. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Slover T. Cape of Ruidoso.

The bride wore a designer gown of white silk taffeta featuring a sweetheart neckline edged in Alencon lace. The fitted bodice was covered in Alencon lace beaded with clusters of pearls and iridescent sequins tapering to a slightly lowered basque waist. The short puffed sleeves of silk taffeta were accented with a self bow edged in lace. The full skirt of taffeta had a cathedral train, highlighted with Alencon lace appliques.

She wore a double-tiered fingertip veil and crown ruffle of silk illusion scattered with seed pearls. The veil was held by a wreath of silk flowers and lace appliques embossed with iridescent crystals and pearl filament sprays, beading, and lily of the valley. Her bouquet is a free-form bouquet of Japhet orchids, roses, and stephanotis laced with strands of pearls.

Cheryl Pecca, Irvine, California, and Sharla Waterson, Lubbock, Texas, sisters of the bride, were honor attendants. Bridesmaids were all cousins of the bride, all of Lubbock. They were: Kim Adams, LaShawn Zahn-Kackson, and Lisa Wiley.

Best man was Paul Kirkwood of Roswell. Groomsmen were Sean

CAROLE CAPE

Mound of Ruidoso, Larry Gruen and Mike Dinnin of Houston, Texas, and Brian Newby of Mountain Home, Idaho. Ushers were Monte Monroe of Lubbock, Bruce Laney of Arlington, Texas, and Randy Wynn of Temple, Texas.

Music was provided by Lillian McFerrin, organist, Lynly Mackn, soloist, and Jana English, cousin of the bride, pianist.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall with Lori Wiley of Stratford, Texas, registering guests. The couple took a honeymoon trip to Banff and Emerald Lake, Canada, and will reside in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Mrs. Cape is a 1985 graduate of Texas Tech University, where she received her bachelor's degree in Political Science, graduating Magna Cum Laude. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and attended Texas Tech School of Law and Lippert's Court Reporting College. SAFeway

Our produce is fresh-picked, not picked over.

After a long, hard day at work, you don't want to sort through produce that looks as tired as you feel. So, at Safeway, we restock our produce section with crisp lettuce, crunchy carrots, red tomatoes and ripe melons...not just once in the morning, but throughout the day. It's our "Fresh at Five" policy. And it means you'll find produce that's fresh-picked, not picked over...whether you shop early in the morning or after work. That's what we call an honest deal at Safeway, America's favorite food store.

You work an honest day...you get an honest deal at SAFEWAY.
