Two people convicted in Texas of kidnapping and rape are in Lincoln County Jail, charged with first degree criminal sexual penetration and kidnapping.

Harold Rairdon, 40, and his 20-year-old wife, Bobbie Sue Rairdon, were transported Wednesday from El Paso, Texas, to Carrizozo, to stand trial on charges originated by Ruidoso Police Detective Lanny Maddox.

The two appeared late Wednesday afternoon before District Judge Richard A. Parsons, who explained the charges against them and informed the Rairdons of their legal rights.

Parsons said the Rairdons are charged with five counts of first degree felony criminal sexual penetration and one count of kidnapping, a second degree felony. He said the first degree felony charges have a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison and/or a $15,000 fine, while the kidnapping charge could result in nine years in prison and/or $10,000 fine.

Judge Parsons pointed out if the defendants are found guilty, and if

Airport site ideas abound

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

About 40 people gathered at Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center Wednesday to share hopes and dreams for the Ruidoso Municipal Airport land.

In a public meeting called by the Airport Land Use Advisory Board, members of the public heard a presentation from airport planners and had the opportunity to throw their ideas out for consideration.

John Petronis, president of the planning firm of Architectural Research Consultants, Inc., displayed a huge array of maps, charts and visual aids that add up to a huge list of constraints and opportunities for the 160-acre tract of land.

"We're very much in the planning phase," said Petronis, stressing that no decisions have been made on developing the prime property.

Wednesday he presented an overview of existing site conditions, a market analysis and recommendations from the marketing firm, other ideas for the site, preliminary planning concepts and planning alternatives.

Petronis said two months remain on the planning contract, and his team is about three-fourths through. He said he'll make final recommendations in September, following at least one more public meeting and a couple of task force

Cable's Crown confronts councillors

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Emotional appearances by an angry citizen, the village attorney and the chairman of the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission peppered a regular meeting of the Ruidoso Village Council Tuesday.

Paul Crown of Lincoln Cablevision faced the councillors to rebut charges he claims were leveled against him during a previous meeting.

"I'd appreciate it if when you want to talk about me, I be invited to give some response instead of reading about it in the paper," said an angry Crown during the council's regular meeting.

Crown commented on his 15-year franchise, a recent rate increase, no longer filming council meetings and cable rates for Ruidoso Care Center.

During the last meeting Village Councillor Jerry Shaw said she regretted voting for the Cablevision franchise and listed a number of concerns. Shaw said many citizens have complained to her since the council meetings are no longer televised.

Shaw said she had learned Cablevision furnishes its service free to Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC), while Care Center patients are charged full rates.

Crown said his 15-year non-exclusive franchise was drafted to meet village specifications, and is the shortest of any utility company in town. He said a viewer survey discussed during franchise agreement negotiations is being written and will be sent to customers in October.

"I'm a little different than the city... when I implemented the (rate) increase I gave a product," said Crown. He said his customers got seven new channels.

He said the village even netted a $800 a month franchise tax revenue increase with the new rate structure.

As for filming council meetings, Crown said he's stronger than some of his employees who were subjected to "snide comments" over the Cablevision equipment and their own attire when operating the camera at past meetings. He said the administration repaired the sound system and discontinued using a table that put speakers with their backs to the camera only after filming was stopped.

But Councillor Elmer Pirelli disagreed, saying the table was removed and the podium brought back the day he discussed the problem with Crown.

Crown read a portion of his franchise that constrains him from granting an "advantage" to any person, and noted that LCMC, where he provides free service, is a non-profit organization, while the Care Center is part of a multi-million dollar organization.

He added that just two months ago he learned of the financial circumstances of many of the Care Center patients, and began working with the administrator on an agreement. Crown announced that an agreement had been reached whereby the Care Center administration will pay for cable in the facility.

"It happened the day the newspaper came out," noted Shaw. Crown then read a letter from Mary Lou Gooch, librarian at the Ruidoso Public Library, thanking him for providing free service to the library.

Councillor Victor Alonso, who was absent from the last council meeting, told Crown, "Not everybody talks behind your back," and then called on him to "work with us on this deal."

"I really believe you're missing an opportunity to provide a public service," added Alonso.

Before the heated interchange was finally called to a halt, Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. told Crown his $600 is "no tax dollars at all in comparison to what you're taking," and called his new channels "gimmick stations."

"Mr. Mayor, this could go on all night," inserted Councillor J.D. James.

Crown left the podium and the council chambers followed by about half a dozen people.

"That's a pretty tough act to follow," noted Sierra Blanca Airport Commission (SBAC) Chairman Tim Morris as he took the microphone. He added his progress report on the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport was a more "positive note."

After that report, Morris, with a catch in his throat, tendered his resignation as Ruidoso's appointed representative to the commission. He made his termination effective with the final signing of the new joint powers agreement.

"I think that I and the commission have effectively and efficiently implemented the master plan," said Morris, thanking the mayor and council for giving him the opportunity to serve.

During a break in the meeting, Morris said resigning was a very emotional thing for him as his service on the commission has meant a great deal to him.

In discussions of the new joint powers agreement, village attorney John Underwood announced that the fifth and final member of the group, the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe, approved the document on Tuesday.

Citing an editorial in The News that he said "painted a very bad picture" of the make-up of the new six-member Sierra Blanca Commission, Alonso asked Underwood

Downs Trustees name new judge in wake of absence

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Editor

Harold Ray Mansell was sworn in as acting municipal judge Wednesday morning in Ruidoso Downs after the Ruidoso Downs Trustees learned Municipal Judge Martin Valenzuela's whereabouts apparently were unknown.

Mansell was appointed as acting judge after an executive session that followed the trustees' Monday night meeting.

"We had to have a judge," said Mayor J.C. "Jake" Harris in a Wednesday interview. He reported that Valenzuela had not conducted court as usual Thursday evening, and apparently had not gone to work. Efforts to reach Valenzuela by telephone were unsuccessful, his Downs telephone number is disconnected.

Harris said Mansell, who has a background in law enforcement and was runner up to Valenzuela in the last election, will serve until the next municipal election.

Also Monday, the trustees called for a complete state financial audit of the courts on the recommendation of village auditor Donald Wingfield. Harris said Wingfield was doing the regular village audit and found the court records were "messed up so bad" a more thorough audit would be necessary.

Harris believes the state probably will appoint Wingfield to conduct the special audit.

Also during their Monday meeting, the trustees accepted the letter of resignation, effective August 25, of Trustee Conrad Buchanan. Contacted Monday, Buchanan reported he submitted the letter to the mayor a week and a half ago, and was resigning due to a need to spend more time on his business.

Buchanan has served more than four years in village government. August 25 is the day voters in Ruidoso Downs will fill seven seats on the Board of Trustees, and Buchanan had been a candidate for reelection.

In other business, the trustees:

- Approved the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission budget as submitted.
- Approved Resolution 87-15, correcting budget overruns from the previous village budget.
- Approved an agreement with the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District. Dues for a year are $215, based on population.
- Agreed to advertise for bids on a lawn tractor.
- Agreed to direct Harris to meet with the village attorney to draft a resolution to uphold the restrictive covenants in Spring Park Subdivision.
- Gave approval for as many as nine Ruidoso Downs Volunteer Fire Department members to attend an annual fire school in Hobbs Saturday through Friday, August 9-14.

—Tabled a request by Fire Chief Chet Southard for purchase of a pre-lube kit for a fire truck engine until a representative of the Caterpillar company can meet with the mayor.

—Heard Harris read three letters of commendation, one from Ruidoso Downs Police Chief G.L. "Skip" Hazel to village clerk/treasurer Jean Stillman and village deputy clerk Janice Polk for their fine work since the recent change in administration. Letters from Stillman and Polk commended Hazel for his help in making the transition in administration.

—Heard audience member Ruben Sandoval inquire when paving will be done on Heights Drive. "It's in the works," Harris replied, who said the engineer and contractor are working on the project.

Saying farewell

Ruidoso Police officers say farewell Monday to Municipal Judge John D. Cupp, who died last week. The Reverend Wayne Joyce conducted services, then pallbearers (above) carried a flag-draped casket from the services at White Mountain School. Police officers from Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs, Capitán and the New Mexico State Police formed an honor guard at the services and led the large crowd of mourners in a procession (below) to the cemetery. Leading the honor guard are (right) Ruidoso officers B.J. Barnes and Robert Achterberg.

if the group will constantly be in a "deadlock" situation.

"In my opinion the paper would do well to hire their own legal counsel to interpret agreements," said Underwood vehemently, continuing with a long explanation of the background of the new agreement. Underwood said the agreement is the first time in a long time Lincoln County and the Village of Ruidoso have been able to put "political squabbles" aside.

He said the arbitration process, as laid out in the agreement, will not result in costly legal fees, as predicted in the editorial.

Councillor Shaw recalled asking Underwood about the votes, noting her question wasn't mentioned in the paper. "Then we have this editorial," said Shaw.

Mayor Davis, noting that Ruidoso alone accounts for 60 percent of the taxes collected in the county, and if the Alto area is included, the two make up 80 percent of the county taxes, said funds for all the county come from this small geographic area. He said surely six grown people can try to cooperate.

After accepting Morris' resignation, Davis learned from Underwood that the three new commissioners need not be appointed until the agreement is signed by the Federal Aviation Administration and the Department of Finance Administration.

Before going into executive session at the end of the regular meeting, Davis said he hasn't identified who will be appointed, but held up an ashtray with folded bits of paper, saying the members might draw straws for the job.

In other regular business Tuesday the council:

—Adopted unanimously an ordinance bringing municipal traffic regulations into conformance with the Uniform Traffic Code.

—Unanimously adopted a resolution making changes to personnel rules.

—Voted unanimously in favor of a resolution to renew membership in the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District.

—Authorized village manager Frank Potter to negotiate with the county on an animal control contract.

—Accepted the low bid for asphalt concrete aggregate submitted by Beaver's Sand and Gravel. Bids were also received from Bonnell Sand and Gravel and Valley Transit.

—Adopted recommendations on changes in risk management after hearing a detailed report from Tom Raborn.

—Went into executive session to discuss pending litigation, and came back into regular session to authorize Jackie Atkins of Atkins Engineering to proceed with a water research contract not to exceed an additional $25,000. Atkins is under contract to do research in preparation for an upcoming water suit involving the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe and other Rio Ruidoso users.

meetings. Goals for the land were restated, with the recurring theme of diversifying the local economy.

Board members of the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County were out in force to agree with the diversification goal, and to remind the group of the Ruidoso Village Council's commitment, through a resolution, to retain the airport land for that very purpose.

Corporation Chairman Buddy Bundick said the group is researching performing arts colleges to be developed in conjunction with a cultural center.

Ideas discussed include strengthening the Ruidoso area as a visitor destination and meeting public needs that are unmet elsewhere.

Noting that few recreational facilities exist in Ruidoso, a recreational community, Petronis listed recreation ideas, including: amphitheater, cross country skiing, hang gliding, bicycling, snowmobile area, park for small children, camping, lake with fishing, recreational fields and courts and horse trails.

Merle Miller, a member of the audience, reminded Petronis that Ruidoso is surrounded by recreational facilities in the Lincoln National Forest. Village planning administrator Margaret McDonald Lahey said those areas don't meet the needs for small children.

Commercial ideas listed by Petronis include resort hotel, drag strip, RV camping, industrial, a college and horse activities. For public uses he named a culture center, cemetery, heliport, postoffice and village office expansion.

After presenting a number of statistics on residential and commercial property already available, Petronis said the village will need to apply common sense in deciding what's supportable on the land.

Petronis stressed his preference for multiple uses in a flexible development plan. He showed maps with different combinations of preferred uses, all with a perimeter of green space reserved for trails and amenities.

The study recommends a focus for the land, such as a pond or lake in a visible area near the center. A road is discussed as an opportunity to connect Mechem Drive and Gavilan Canyon Road via Warrior Drive.

After members of the audience heard from Petronis and his associate, Tim Price, and had their say, advisory board member and Planning and Zoning Commission Chairman David Smith noted it's up to the task force to communicate ideas to the Ruidoso Village Council.

Petronis stressed, early in the meeting, that the council is his company's client, with the task force in an advisory role. Smith noted that councillors "are largely not here tonight."

Councillor Elmer Pirelli, a member of the advisory board, and Councillor Jerry Shaw were present at the meeting.

"I think that public input is important," said Pirelli.

Petronis said the public will have at least one more chance to meet, adding that task force meetings also are open to the public.

aggravated circumstances are shown, the maximum sentences can be increased by a third. He said if mitigating circumstances can be shown the sentences could be reduced by a third.

"Ordinarily the sentences could be either deferred or suspended," noted Judge Parsons. He said they can be served consecutively or concurrently.

Parsons told the Rairdons they will appear Monday before Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean, who was on vacation Friday.

Public defender Richie Askew was on hand to advise the Rairdons. He told the judge the accused are unsure whether or not they have an attorney in Carlsbad who will represent them on the charges.

Harry G. Wilcox, Jr., senior trial prosecutor for the 12th Judicial District, said Judge Dean will set bond on Monday, but the Rairdons won't be eligible for release. He said they are in Lincoln County on an extradition order from Texas, and have "holds" on them from both Texas and Oklahoma.

The Lincoln County charges involve an incident in which a 15-year-old Carlsbad girl was allegedly raped to Ruidoso, held hostage and raped repeatedly, according to Wilcox.

He said he'll coordinate with Eddy County prosecutors, since the Rairdons are charged with crimes in that jurisdiction, too.

The Rairdons were sentenced earlier this month in Texas to 60 years each after pleading guilty to kidnapping and raping a University of Texas at El Paso student. She was reportedly robbed, threatened with a knife, driven to a motel, sexually assaulted and kept overnight.

Chamber considers big role in pageant

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Editor

The decision of whether to take on a big part of the November Miss New Mexico USA pageant was referred to a committee by the Board of Directors of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Board members learned that the pageant again will be conducted at the Inn of the Mountain Gods, this year from November 10-14. The pageant determines who will be Miss New Mexico USA, and that person will go on to represent New Mexico in the national pageant. Last year, the Miss New Mexico USA pageant took place at the Inn for the first time, and pageant planners have indicated this area could become the pageant's permanent home. Previously, the pageant was conducted in Las Cruces.

During their meeting Wednesday, the board heard a presentation from Helen Kowall, state director of the pageant. She proposed that the chamber board take on sales of tickets to two pageant activities and sales of advertising in the pageant brochure. In exchange, Kowall asked for guarantee of a "negotiable" $25,000 from the chamber.

She said ad sales in the brochure for the recent Miss New Mexico Teen USA pageant brought in between $16,000 and $18,000, and predicted the Miss New Mexico USA brochure would bring in even more revenue. Last November at the Inn, the two pageant activities brought ticket sales of more than 300 for the presentation show and more than 550 for the pageant itself. Kowall said tickets sold for $5 to the presentation show and $10 to the pageant.

She predicted several hundred people will accompany the 40 to 50 pageant contestants during their stay, which will bring added revenue to the community.

"I'm sold on Ruidoso," Kowall said in seeking the chamber's help. "I want you to be with me."

Board members adjourned into executive session and board President Barbara DiPaolo appointed a committee to consider the request and report back to the board by Monday. A meeting for the committee was set for Friday.

In other business, the chamber board:

—Heard Convention and Visitors Bureau director Liz Groenendyk report on the promotion of the 1987 Art Festival. She listed publications, radio stations and television stations by which the festival was promoted, and made note of other promotional efforts such as posters, postcards and the Ruidoso Downs RaceTrack scorebook.

"She did a fantastic job on this," DiPaolo commented. The chamber president pointed out that attendance at the event was up 15 percent from that of last year.

—Heard DiPaolo report on the success of the festival, and note the many volunteers who helped out. "For the most part, the artists were extremely happy," she added.

DiPaolo also asked that the Art Festival Committee start considering new locations for the event.

—Voted to retain the food booth as the property of the chamber. Board member Charlie Smith reported that the food booth netted more than $2,600, but costs to build the structure overran estimates. A committee was formed to oversee usage of the booth, including members Smith, Bill Hirschfeld and Becky Durham.

—Heard Jeffers report on the Membership Focus Meetings. Conducted every other Thursday at lunchtime, the meetings include Jeffers, DiPaolo, President's Club Chairperson Peggy McClellan and a dozen invited members of the chamber. The meetings are intended to give members a chance to offer input on how the chamber is being operated. Jeffers said comments so far have been mixed, and attendance has been 50 percent over the first two meetings.

—Heard Jeffers report Advertising Committee Chairman Robert Boverie's announcement of Phil Price Advertising of Lubbock, Texas, as the successful candidate to become the chamber's new ad agency. Six companies made presentations to the committee, and the Lubbock company was selected. Members of the Advertising Committee for the coming year were named, including Boverie, Carla Trapp Beasley, Tony Wilcoxson, Bill Hirschfeld, Mike Warren and Roland Ramos. Requests also have been made to Mescalero Apache Tribe President Wendell Chino and Ruidoso Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. that they or a representative join the committee.

—Learned from DiPaolo that she, Jeffers and Duane Byars had a meeting with Chino in which the tribal president spoke of several projects he'd like to see accomplished, which the chamber representatives agreed with. A circle tour of the reservation and surrounding areas was suggested, which would include signs designating points of interest. Chino also pointed out the benefit of having a billboard at the San Antonio exit (near Socorro) from Highway 25. Chino apparently will designate a representative from the tribe to work on projects with the chamber.

—Heard Jeffers report that the chamber annual meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. today (Thursday), July 30, at Cree Meadows Country Club. The evening will include a presentation by the new chamber advertising agency.

—Heard Durham remind board members that a meeting for that evening (Wednesday) was planned to gather public input on uses of the present airport land when the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport is opened. The meeting has been conducted by the mayor's committee on the land use and members of Architectural Research Consultants.

—Heard Groenendyk give a report on the numbers and types of groups she's working with that visited in July and plan visits in August. Group sizes range from 30 to 150 people.

P&Z sets meeting

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission will meet at 2:15 p.m. Monday, August 3, in council chambers of Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center. The regular meeting will be preceded by a workshop session at 2 p.m.

Items on the agenda include: —Variance request on Lot 2, Block 4, Town and Country Estates Subdivision (105 Morgan).

—Variance request on Lot 22, Block 10, Forest Heights Subdivision (141 Kaibab).

—Appeal by Upper Canyon businesses on a denial of a sign permit request for a sign to be placed on the embankment in front of Western Sizzlin'.

Meetings of the commission are open to the public.

Airport commission to meet

Sierra Blanca Airport Commission Chairman Tim Morris has called a special meeting for 1:30 p.m. Friday, July 31, at the Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center.

Purpose of the meeting is to award the proposal for T-hanger development at the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

Pony Express ride clarified

The Pony Express Race, which will be run on August 1 from Capitan to White Oaks, will be featuring teams of four horses and 1-2 riders per team, not five people and two horses as previously written.

Cash donations are still being accepted for the cash prizes; however, the $2,000 mentioned in the previous story is a hoped-for goal that has not yet been reached. Other prizes include a pair of leggings for the first-place winners.

On the campaign trail

William R. "Bill" Valentine has announced his candidacy for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Senator Jeff Bingaman. Bingaman will come up for reelection in November 1988, and Valentine was in Lincoln County this week to persuade voters that he should be elected to the post. The candidate, a Republican, is from Albuquerque and has served in the New Mexico Senate for 11 years. While here, he spoke to the Republican Women of Lincoln County, a Woolgrower's convention at Swiss Chalet Inn and a meeting of the County Clerk's Association at the Inn of the Mountain Gods. "My whole campaign is based on commitment and concern for the state of New Mexico and the people who live in it," he said. Valentine is married and has a four-year-old daughter.

Warriors well-represented on South All-Star team

South hopes to repeat 1986 win

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School will be well-represented when the South plays the North in the 44th annual All-Star Football Game at the University of New Mexico Stadium in Albuquerque Friday, July 31.

The game will start at 7:30 p.m. Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson and his assistants will coach the South team. Joining Henderson are assistants Ronny Maskew, Gene Segura, Mike Speck, Ridge Bowden, Clendon Kirkpatrick, Rocky Willingham and Herman Fox.

Former Warrior stars Brian Davis and Jeff Willingham will be among the South players.

Davis made all-state first team as a split end the past two seasons. Willingham made all-state first team as a defensive back the past two seasons and made all-state as a quarterback last season. He will play defensive back in the All-Star game.

Both played well in the Warriors' 21-19 victory over Silver City in the 1985 state championship game.

Lovington, which defeated the Warriors, 20-7, in the state AAA-division title game last fall, has three players on the team.

They are wide receiver Hal Roueche, quarterback Robert Arreola and defensive lineman Aaron Ochoa.

Roswell, the AAAA-division runner-up to Highland last fall, has six players on the South team.

They include offensive tackle Mike Bratcher, quarterback Derek Coffman, running back Pete Sanders, defensive lineman Marvin Smith, defensive end Bryan Cain and linebacker Brian Clark.

Del Norte head coach David Williams and his staff will coach the North team.

Highland will have running back Kevin Caldwell, defensive end Sam Morse and defensive back Kim McCall on the squad.

Caldwell was the state AAAA-division 100-200 meter sprint champion in track.

The South won last season, 40-20, and leads the series with 26 victories to 14 for the North. There have been three ties.

NOTES-The AAAA-AAA and AA-A basketball games will be played tonight (Thursday), July 30, at the University of New Mexico arena (better known as the "Fit")... The AA-A game will be at 6 p.m., and the AAAA-AAA game will be at 8:30 p.m.

Brian Davis (in left photo) and Jeff Willingham (right, throwing a pass) will represent Ruidoso High School in the North-South High School All-Star football game in Albuquerque Friday night. Both 1987 graduates will play for the South. Ruidoso's coaching staff will coach the South.

Physicals, ticket sales set for August

Free physicals for all Lincoln County high school and middle school athletes will be given at Ruidoso High School at 7 p.m. Thursday, August 6.

Also at Ruidoso High School, people who had season tickets for Warrior football games last season will have their last chance to buy their seats from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 to 6 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, August 4-5.

Anyone will be able to buy seats Thursday and Friday, August 6-7.

Around Sports

with Gary Brown

The beginning of high school fall sports practices are not far off. Football and volleyball practices at Ruidoso High School will begin Monday, August 10.

"It should be a very interesting season," said Warrior head volleyball coach Pixie Arthur. "We've got some rebuilding to do because we had some good seniors who left a void. But we do have some talent returning."

Warrior head football coach Cooper Henderson was not available for comment because he and his staff are in Albuquerque for the North-South All-Star football game.

But the Warrior gridgers have built a winning tradition in the past three seasons, garnering a 32-6-1 record, one state title and two district titles (in 1986, they shared the district title with Silver City). Ruidoso lost a lot of players to graduation, but should be competitive, particularly on defense.

Capitan High School's sports teams also will start practice soon. The Tiger football team made the playoffs last season and should be tough again this year.

Capitan's volleyball team won the district title and made the state playoffs last season. The Tigers are always tough in volleyball and this year should be no exception.

The fourth annual Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Runners Classic will be Saturday, August 15.

There will be 10-K and 5-K runs. The race will start at 8 a.m. at Village Hall and end at the same location.

There is an $8 fee the day of the race and a $6 fee in advance. T-shirts will be given to the first 75 entrants and medals will be given to the top two finishers in men and women's age divisions.

Age divisions will be from 13 and under to 50 and over and open.

This is usually one of the best races in the area, so it should be fun to both watch and race in.

More fish stocked

Fish have been stocked above the second bridge in the Upper Canyon for about 10 days. This sign (at left) across from the Nolsy Water Lodge is one of several signs that enable fishermen to fish along the Rio Ruidoso.

Volleyball camp set for Warrior gymnasium

The second annual Norm Brandt Volleyball Clinic will be at Ruidoso High School Tuesday and Wednesday, August 4-5.

It will start at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. The fee is $25 per youth. Any youth, boy or girl, can attend the clinic.

Brandt is the University of Texas at El Paso head volleyball coach. He will bring his staff and Junior Olympics players.

Last year's camp attracted a lot of players, including Ruidoso's high school and middle school athletes.

Ruidoso head coach Pixie Arthur expects about 35 to 40 Ruidoso high school and middle school athletes to attend the camp.

For more information, call Arthur at 354-2290.

Softball Results

The Capitan Fire gave the Flamingo Club their first league defeat of the season, 10-8, in Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League action Monday night at Eagle Creek Sports Complex.

The Fire took a 7-0 lead after five innings, but the Flamingo Club came back with three runs in the top of the sixth for an 8-7 lead.

However, the Fire scored three runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to clinch the victory.

Bennie Long clubbed a home run for the Fire. Sandy Riggs had a triple for the Flamingo Club, but it was called back because of an illegal pitch.

Rhonda Newcomb pitched for the Fire and Vickie Eckerdt pitched for the Flamingo Club.

Other games Monday night saw the Fire defeat the RACettes, 11-10, and the Lady Braves take two victories, 13-3 over the Unicorns and 12-2 over the Shady Ladies.

The Flamingo Club is now 16-1 on the season. The Fire is 11-5, the RACettes are 9-6; the Lady Braves are 9-7; the Shady Ladies are 6-8, the Unicorns are 5-10; and Bingo is 0-17.

The Flamingo Club won the league championship last season while the Fire finished second in the league tournament.

The women's league tournament probably will be in late August, although no definite date has been set.

In Lincoln County Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League action Tuesday night, the CattleBaron defeated B&B Feed, 13-3; and the Cyclones took a forfeit victory over The Incredible.

Charlie Luna had three hits in four at-bats for the CattleBaron.

Red Division champion CattleBaron and the runner-up Merchants will join Black Division champion RC Softball and runner-up Radio Shack in the men's state Class D tournament in Albuquerque Friday through Sunday, August 14-16.

Super-8, a team made up of players from different teams in the Lincoln County Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League, will compete in the state E division tournament next week.

Softball tourney scheduled for this weekend

The Lincoln County Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League will host a state-qualifying tournament Saturday and Sunday, August 1-2, at Eagle Creek Sports Complex.

The tournament will start at 9 a.m. both days. It will give teams a chance to qualify for the state Class D tournament in Albuquerque Friday through Sunday, August 14-16.

Teams from New Mexico and Texas will compete in this weekend's tournament. Some Lincoln County teams who have already qualified for state will compete along with some teams who have not qualified.

Stars Tell All, Arabian Big Shot headline Friday

Joe Kirk Fulton's impressive filly Stars Tell All will face the consistent gelding Arabian Big Shot in Friday's allowance feature at Ruidoso Downs. The 5 1/2-furlong sprint will put $3,100 on the line as the entrants go for their second lifetime win out of the claiming ranks.

The action kicks off with the first field breaking from the gates at 1 p.m. and the track's gates opening at 11 a.m.

Stars Tell All devastated a group of maidens on July 10 with a front-running daylight victory under Carlos Rivas. The filly, by Scout Leader and out of former track record holder Fine Loom, has displayed considerable early speed and should be sent to the front again for Friday's contest.

Trainer Jan Jones has again given the riding assignment to veteran Carlos Rivas as Stars Tell All breaks from post position six.

Arabian Big Shot may be the betting favorite in the sprint as the Cut Shot gelding has been a consistent performer this summer. A two-time winner at the meet, Arabian Big Shot has been heavily backed in each of his outs and was claimed after his 6-length victory over $5,000 claimers on July 5. In seven appearances this year, the sophomore sprinter boasts three wins and three second-place finishes.

Trainer Simon Buechler named no rider for his charge as Arabian Big Shot breaks from post four.

Facing Arabian Big Shot and Stars Tell All in the test are Victory Princess, no rider named, 113; Requested Shot, Pedro Benitez up, 118; Yates State Park, Joe Martinez, 118; Native Mom, Quyet Bui, 113; Aquifer, no rider named, 111; and Gardy Loo, Glen Murphy up, 116.

Hoofbeats

by MIKE HYMAN
The 15th Annual Summer Select Sale for Thoroughbred's was declared a success after total sales reached nearly a half-million dollars and the average sales price rose 18 percent over last year's edition.

The All American Sales Co. is now preparing for the inaugural Black Type Affair Broodmare Sale scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 15, in the All American Sales Pavilion at Ruidoso Downs.

The Black Type Affair is expected to be one of the premier auctions of the season featuring the broodmare dispersal of Eclipse Award winning trainer D. Wayne Lukas.

The Twin Trifecta paid one lucky fan $37,000 on Thursday's program. Another single perfect ticket was cashed on Friday for $6,069.40. The exotic wager wasn't tapped again for the remainder of the weekend, however, and will open with a $23,000 carryover when racing resumes on Thursday.

J. Doyal Roberts has had a good summer so far, taking trainer-of-the-week honors four times. His percentage of horses in the money to date runs about 42 percent and with just more than a month of racing remaining Mr. Roberts stands a good chance of taking weekly crown again. From the infield Mike Lidberg and Joe Martinez are tied with the honors of being the top jockey of the week three times each. These two guys have had a running battle for most of the season. We'll all have to wait until Labor Day to find out who will nab the honors.

A weekend of action

Horses dash along the track at Ruidoso Downs during racing action earlier this month. Racing this weekend features the Big Profit Handicap Saturday and the Hondo Valley Handicap Sunday at the mountain oval. Racing gets underway at 1 p.m. today (Thursday) through Sunday. Racing on Wednesdays begins next week.

Quarter horses go 550 yards in Big Profit 'Cap

Ruidoso Downs offers its first 550-yard stakes event of the season Saturday as the $12,000 Big Profit Handicap brings out nine distance-loving quarter horses to compete for the $6,000 first-prize check.

Racing gets underway with the regular 1 p.m. post time and the track's gates open at 11 a.m.

Jerry Rheudasil's Big John Mito will shoulder the high weight in the dash at 123 pounds. The speedy 5-year-old gelding has earned over $100,000 in his career and won the Jet Deck Handicap earlier in the season before finishing seventh in last Sunday's World Championship Quarter Horse Classic to Florentine.

Lightly raced for a 5-year-old, Big John Mito owns six lifetime wins from only 19 starts and has competed against the best horses in the nation throughout his racing career.

Trainer Dwayne Gilbreath will give the leg-up to veteran Luke Myles for the Big Profit as Big John Mito breaks from the outside post position.

Ozzie Carlton's vastly improved Rocket Raiser looms as Big John Mito's major threat for the Big Profit trophy. The 4-year-old speedster owns three-straight wins at the meeting with two of those tallies at 550 yards.

The son of Raise Your Glass opened up the season at Ruidoso by daylighting a group of $4,000 claimers at 400 yards. His last two efforts have indicated the gelding holds a liking to the longer distances and his quick burst of speed from the gates will make him hard to catch.

Regular pilot Nicky Wilson will be aboard from post three for Carlton, who also trains Rocket Raiser.

Halyn Cotton, a 6-year-old invader from Blue Ribbon Downs, should also merit watching as he is one of that track's best handicap horses. The Cotton Pac 2 gelding has participated in stakes events from 250 yards to 870 yards and has done well at both ends at the distance scale.

Hurry sundown

Some of the best sundowns in Lincoln County are worth driving for. This was one spotted about eight miles west of Capitan. If this picture was in color the patch of "light" sky to the left would be flaming red. It's said that

Jason Hill (left) of Ruidoso won first place in the prepared public speaking contest during the July 13-16 State 4-H Conference at New Mexico State University. Hill was among a group of Lincoln County 4-Hers to attend the conference. Dr. Emroy Shannon, Extension plant pathologist, makes the presentation.

County 4-Hers awarded

Sid Gordon, Charolette Hill and 10 Lincoln County members went to the State 4-H Conference at New Mexico State University on July 13-16.

Some 850 senior state 4-Hers attended the conference.

County 4-H member Beverly Bell won state record book competition in achievement. Sandra Copeland won a $750 scholarship and a trip to Chicago, Illinois, from the Santa Fe Railroad. Both Bell and Copeland will attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago in December.

Jason Hill took a first in Public Speaking, Leah Patterson took a second in Impromptu Public Speaking. Dawn Hill took a third in Clothing Demonstration, and Marsha Hecker took first in Meat ID.

Sandra Copeland took first high point individual in Crops. Warren Russell got fifth high sheep showmanship.

Dawn Hill, Terry Kirby, Lisa Hightower and Dan Bell did Consumer Decision Making judging. Dan Bell also judged Crops. The Lincoln County Delegation also helped with programs and spotlights during the state fashion review.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

Henry Loss Morris

Services were held July twenty-eight at the Ruidoso branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and at the Tinnie Cemetery for Henry Loss Morris who was called Home by Our Lord on July twenty-five.

"Buddy" as he was affectionately known to his many friends was born of a pioneer Lincoln County family near Lincoln, at the foot of the Capitan mountains. And he spent almost his entire forty-eight years in Lincoln County.

He was a rancher, heavy equipment operator, farmer and had worked in the logging industry, as a young man. He was a missionary in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and one of the founders of the Ruidoso branch of the church.

Buddy lived a truly Christian life, always, as his devoted wife, Laura Sue, says: "Ready to drop whatever he was doing to help anyone in need."

Along with his parents, Minnie and Loss Morris, Buddy for many years was a mainstay in the Lincoln Pageant, "The Last Escape of Billy The Kid." He played many roles in the show during his years, and was a great help to the other actors. He was cut out of the same cloth as his pioneer forefathers; therefore his acting brought realism and color to the show.

One of the most beloved men in Lincoln County, Buddy will always hold a fond spot in our hearts. And we all take comfort in knowing that our dear friend is safe and happy with our Lord in Heaven.

Annual Outdoor Service On Saint Anne's Day

Members of The Episcopal Church in Lincoln County gathered on July twenty-six at the Paul Jones Picnic grounds for the annual Saint Anne's Day outdoor service and picnic.

Under the giant oak and walnut trees just across the river and in front of the residence of Dan and Cathey Ogden, Father Burdette Stampely led the service, helped out by folks from all over the county.

Rene Burton from St. Mathias Church, Carrizozo, read the Old Testament lesson; Paul Jones, representing Saint Anne's Church, lead in reading the Psalms; Barbara Rizzo, from Church of the Holy Mount, Ruidoso, read the new testament lesson; and Deacon Bob Barton read the epistle.

This was the fourth annual church service and picnic, held on the day of Saint Anne, mother of the Virgin Mary.

Hymns were sung to the accompaniment of the guitar music by Ron Harris.

Father Stampely offered special prayers for the day, and gave thanks for the great inspiration and blessing that serving the people in Lincoln County has brought into his life.

The food, some cooked on the open fire, was great; and the beautiful day added a special blessing to the day.

Nellie Ruth Jones Attends Convention

Nellie Ruth Jones, teacher for thirty-one and one-half years in the Ruidoso Schools, and Dottie MacVeigh and Angie Provine, both of the Capitan Schools, returned July twenty from Atlanta, Georgia, where they attended the annual international convention of Alpha Delta Kappa, a teachers' sorority.

Nellie says there were people from Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Australia, Jamaica, and all fifty states.

"It was a very valuable experience," said Nellie, "to be able to talk to people from so many places, and to discuss problems in education. It is remarkable that the problems in education are much the same in so many places. Anytime you talk to people you learn something, and we all three appreciated this opportunity."

We are glad that Lincoln County was well represented by these three fine ladies.

Obituaries

Henry Loss Morris died Saturday in the Veteran's Hospital in Albuquerque. He was 48.

Morris, a longtime Capitan resident, was born October 5, 1938, in Lincoln. He was a construction laborer, and served in the U.S. Army.

seven years ago.

The daughter of Edythe Idella Sutton Tasker and William Spaulding Tasker, Tapper was preceded in death by her husband, Forest R. Tapper. The two were wed on January 5, 1922, in El Paso.

The Davis family has had a home in Alto for many years.

A retired night supervisor with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Davis was a past Worthy Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, a member of the Lincoln County Medical Center Auxiliary and the Ruidoso Federated Woman's Club.

Davis is survived by her husband, Carroll Davis, of the family home, and a daughter, Betty Dean Williams of Morgan Hill, California. Survivors include two sisters, Mary Wineburg of Longview, Texas, and Anna Mae Boulware of Miles City, Montana, and a number of nieces and nephews.

ART FESTIVAL '87:

A showplace of color and form

The Ruidoso Art Festival saw attendance increase by 15 percent over last year as crowds gathered to view the artwork of some 110 craftspersons. A set of pottery canisters (below left) features different bird designs. The artists are W. and J. DeMay of Albuquerque. Kathy Sallee of Las Cruces (above left) displays some of the bread-dough kachinas she makes. They are formed, baked, painted and glazed. Some are trimmed with feathers and beads. Sculptor Shirley Brown of Boerne, Texas, made this clay sculpture (right) of an Indian madonna and child.

Rick Hall of Ruidoso has created many deep relief sculptures from wood. This one (above) portrays a stylized Indian. Caroline Koons (below), Albuquerque, models a pair of the earrings she has created from clay. Her work has bright, clear colors in geometric designs.

Betty and Fred Vance of San Antonio, Texas, have developed a unique new artform they call "nouveau madonnas." Their clay figures (above) seem to be unfolding from flowers or cocoons. The photographer, Bonny Celine, takes her own picture (below) in a mirror crafted by Steve and Liz Peuser of Howard, Colorado. Their beveled-edged mirrors are combined with stained glass to create an art-deco effect.

Let's all band together

Three saxophones, two vocalists and a drummer are part of the band that played at the Saint Joseph's Apache Mission's Annual Bazaar in Mescalero last Sunday. The bazaar took place on the grounds below the church, here rising to the sky against the clouds. The famous mission church was constructed by Father Albert, a legendary missionary priest who made Mescalero his home.

Opinion

Editorial

The village of Ruidoso has suffered a great loss with the passing of Judge John Cupp.

His work as a municipal judge in the village was without measure.

Cupp was a pioneer in the Community Service Program in Ruidoso, in which minor offenders could substitute jail time or fines for hours spent on community service projects.

His day-to-day workings as judge gave many troubled people a new viewpoint on their problems and how to solve them.

Cupp's ability to reach out to other people and have a positive influence was well-known. His passing is perhaps best summed up by the words of his six-year-old granddaughter Sandy.

"I don't know why everyone is crying about Grandpa. God needed him to be judge of all the angels, and say order in the court."

Judge John Cupp: July 20, 1931—July 21, 1987. He made a difference in many lives.—DJP

Inside the Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Nobody knows the hysteria I've seen. Nobody knows but Santa Fe residents.

It's a platitude of a popular gospel song, I know. But it's true. Santa Fe residents are hysterical about the four prison escapees who remain at large. And the hysteria isn't just limited to Santa Fe County residents nor will it be in the future.

There have been reports of the escapees in other parts of the state. Some have committed crimes in other parts of the state. There are now satellite prisons scattered around the state which house criminals whose escape should strike fear in the hearts of nearby residents.

Most Santa Fe residents are being a lot more careful about locking their houses and cars and about venturing out alone at night. That is good.

Many Santa Fe residents are buying a firearm for the first time. That is scary. The possibility of an untrained person having the advantage over an escapee with or without a weapon is not great. The possibility of an untrained, hysterical person using a gun in an inappropriate manner and hurting innocent people is more likely. It should be enough to discourage much of the hiking and jogging that normally takes place in the hills of Santa Fe.

This time it wasn't just the southeast part of Santa Fe that was affected by the escape. By the time the prison break was a week old, two escapees were captured on the affluent north side of town, one of them only two blocks from the governor's residence. There were reports of another escapee being with the two who were apprehended. He apparently fled into the pines and juniper covered hills which hide many residences that could be easy pickings for a desperate escapee.

The effect on the Miller household has been a bit more subtle. Our children have always loved helicopters. On nearly every summer vacation we have happened across some location of scenic beauty that can only be truly appreciated by means of a helicopter tour of the area. So Dad has shelved out the necessary bucks and the kids come home to tell their friends about the helicopter ride. Somehow the part about Miami Beach or South Padre Island or Mt. St. Helen's crater being so beautiful from the air gets lost in the excitement of the copter ride description.

Their feelings about helicopters started changing during the 1980 prison break when 11 inmates escaped. For days, whether at school or at home, the sound of helicopters was constantly present as they combed the arroyos looking for the escapees. Less than two months later the prison riot was in full swing and the sound of choppers overhead was again an all-day, all-night phenomenon as they brought the dead and mutilated to nearby St. Vincent's Hospital. For many hours the sound of the helicopters was accompanied by radio reports that no one had been hurt in the riot.

The only conclusion from that information at the time was that there must have also been a massive escape. Possibly the authorities felt their reports of no injuries would calm the public. The effect was just the opposite. And the sound of helicopters overhead still strikes fear into our family.

The coverage of the riot injuries leads to the reason for writing this column. Whether true or not the street word among those who have some reason to know is that there is again a coverage of the identity of the perpetrators of many crimes in Santa Fe during the three weeks since the escape.

The word is that there have been at least four and maybe as many as six rapes by escapees. There have been numerous robberies and there have been break-ins at which only food and clothing were taken. The charge is that the police blotter has eliminated the information that the description of the assailants matched those of some of the escapees. Residents are also wondering why the news media isn't asking more questions.

Be these charges true or not there is one certainty. Santa Fe residents are hysterical and are going to demand that the penitentiary start doing its job of keeping its "residents" on the inside. We also hear reports that the Los Alamos National Laboratory uses an electronic security system very similar to the one at the prison. They reportedly have no problem keeping the wrong people out.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

To the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission, attorneys for same, and the Lincoln County Commissioners.

Speaking as a Lincoln County resident for many years, but not of the village of Ruidoso, please permit me to express my feelings of anger, frustration, and sorrow. I am not an adversary of our new airport and my voting record will certainly bear this out.

As everyone knows by now, there are only two entities who will control the new airport and will make any decisions which will certainly have to be made in the future. These entities would be the village of Ruidoso and the Lincoln County Commission. The Mesquero tribe, Ruidoso Downs, and Capitan are now "Ex-Officio" members. The reason behind this decision was because these entities could not or would not contribute financially to the design and construction of the new airport.

On the contrary, these "Ex-Officio" members along with the other two, contributed $500⁰⁰ per year each for ten years. It wasn't much, but it was all we could afford, and it did serve to get the airport on the drawing board.

Since the county commission has passed a tax increase to further the construction and cover the short falls, every citizen in Capitan will continue to contribute to the cause, like it or not.

Now enters Carrizozo and Corona. These villages were asked ten years ago to become entities on the airport commission but due to their remote locations or other reasons, politely refused. But now, since their money is needed, they have been drafted, and the grand title of "Ex-Officio" members has been bestowed upon them.

Has anyone ever stopped to think what the combined population total of Capitan, Carrizozo, Ruidoso Downs, Lincoln, Corona, Hondo, Nogal, and all the other small communities of Lincoln County would be as opposed to the population of Ruidoso?

Consider where these communities do most of their shopping and also consider the taxes, both past and future, and tell me again who is paying the most on this so-called shortfall.

With six voting members on the new commission, sooner or later there will be a deadlock and the five other "Ex-Officio" members will be offered no say so what so ever.

Just for public record, I think our Mayor, Benny Coker, has done an outstanding job for you during the past several years on the airport commission and deserves at least some recognition for his contributions.

Speaking for myself, I feel that every resident of Lincoln County, Ruidoso not withstanding, has been violated to some degree.

All in all, I still feel we need this airport and I wish you well.

DEAR EDITOR:

I was very happy to read the article in Lubbock Avalanche Journal July 19 about West Texans or any Texan concerning how much people from the Lone Star State mean to Ruidoso.

We are from Lubbock and have always been aware of how many Texans visit the beautiful mountain resort and have owned property there plus spending most every summer there for many years.

But I have been very resentful for several years because of a statement I heard made in a shop. It was when business and visitors were plentiful and was nearing Labor Day at which time the races would end.

This is the "gracious"!! statement, "I'll be glad when these d-Texans go home." I have also heard Texans put down and slurs made about them in other shops and businesses.

With the economy like it has been for past 2 or 3 years I remarked to my husband that "I'll bet they would be glad to see some those d-Texans now."

Too bad the New Mexicans can't see that they are biting the hands that feed them.

I know the article of July 19th, 1987 in the Lubbock A-J was from Ruidoso Downs, but I'm hoping that Ruidoso proper can learn to appreciate business from us West Texans as much as we can appreciate being in Ruidoso.

Respectfully
JUANITA SELF
Lubbock, Texas

DEAR EDITOR:

Recently someone wrote an interesting letter about cleaning up the valley of Ruidoso in which we all enjoy part of our lives with you. Yes, I am a "TEXAN" but am a property owner there for several years and pay tax dollars. We dearly love Ruidoso and the friendly people. I hope the City can fine the people that is responsible for old junk cars, grown up lots, trash, building materials in which none of it will ever be used.

I live up Carrizo Canyon and there is junk that would fill the North Sea! Just you ride up there (whoever is in charge) and take a look at the unsightly mess. On all sides, front and back of places. We are next to a fire hazard. This we worry about and are concerned. One can go up just any of the canyons and find this, however. Isn't there something you can do to force people clean up or a huge fine???? Ruidoso is such a God's beautiful place, so let's all keep it picked up so visitors won't whisper huh?

CowBelles scholarship winner

Ruidoso Downs resident Vicky B. Conder, a 1977 honor graduate of Hobbs High School, was recently awarded the New Mexico CowBelles 1987-88 scholarship. The 27-year-old is a returning student at New Mexico State University majoring in dietetics management with a food and nutrition services option. The $500 scholarship is awarded annually to a New Mexico student from an agriculture-related background who is studying nutrition. "We (CowBelles) are the women of the beef industry," said scholarship chairman Glenda Price. "We believe that factual nutrition must be disseminated in this day of diet fads that can be dangerous to people's health. We want to help students learn the real story of good nutrition," she added.

Forest Service worker Woody Nielson works on a Forest Service sign that had been heavily worn by weather and vandalism. Nielson works for the service through a special program for senior citizens.

Help wanted: Smokey Bear seeks volunteers

If you need a little extra income, like working outdoors, are 55 or older and enjoy meeting people, the U.S. Forest Service may have just the thing for you.

The Smokey Bear Ranger Station in Ruidoso has openings for two senior citizens for part-time work. The opportunities are possible through the Department of Labor-funded Senior Community Service Employment Program, according to Forest Service Recreation Lands and Staff Officer Richard Carlson.

Woody Nielson and Mary Lavine are particularly pleased with the Forest Service program. They have learned a great deal about Forest Service work by participating in the program.

Mary, who's been a Ruidoso resident for 14 years and owns El Alto Lodge with her husband, Bob, has been with the program about a year. Her duties at the Ranger Station include answering the phone, typing, filing and serving as a receptionist. She says the variety of the work she does is a benefit.

"That's why I like mine, I'm running all over the place," she says with a broad smile.

Woody concentrates his efforts in the vast Forest Service-controlled National Forest. He works on reconstructing campgrounds, rebuilding campfire areas and hauling everything from garbage to hay for Forest Service horses.

"It's a real pleasant job," says Woody, a retired oil field worker and theater manager. After his retirement, he "was looking for something to do" and the Forest Service job filled the bill.

Woody says being outside and meeting people are his favorite parts of the job.

Also participating in the program are Maggie Rankin, Madge Rings and Jack Copeland. Carlson said the program still could use two additional workers.

He's seeking a senior citizen "yard buff" who could take care of lawns and operate an all-terrain brush mower. Watering and other outdoor chores would complete the job description.

Carlson also would like to hire a "range rider," someone who perhaps retired from ranching and knows the ways of fence mending and the care of horses.

For more information on the openings, call Carlson at 257-4095.

"It's the greatest job I've ever had, it is," says Lavine. "We all work but we have a good time."

Rotary Club announces exchange program

The Rotary Club District 552 is looking for a team of five non-Rotarian professional and businessmen between the ages of 25 and 35 for a Group Study Exchange to Brazil to take place in May 1988.

Exchanges are for the purposes of communicating information and insights through person-to-person contact. Visits last from four to six weeks, and all basic expenses are paid by the Rotary Foundation.

More than 10,000 persons from 147 countries have participated in the program since its inception in 1965.

While in Brazil, team members observe their host's way of life as well as study the nation's economic, social and cultural characteristics through travel and discussions. The men will then present their findings and experiences to the public and to various Rotary groups.

"I do hope to get some Ruidoso-area applicants, because this is a real good program," commented Michael Radziewicz of the Rotary. Interested parties should contact him at 258-4332.

Free movie is Sunday at Ruidoso Downs church

"A Distant Thunder," the sequel to "A Thief in the Night," will be shown at 8 p.m. Sunday, August 2, at the First Baptist Church in Ruidoso Downs.

The film, featuring events foretold in the Bible as part of the "Great Tribulation," tells the further adventures of Patty and her two friends, Wenda and Sandy.

Montessori program to start in August

White is currently involved in a

This week in Convention the vexacious question of choosing an Executive to run our government was hotly debated. In past weeks suggestions have ranged from Col. Alexander Hamilton's proposed single executive to serve for life, to Mr. Roger Sherman's suggestion of three executives serving for three years. Thursday instant, a term of seven years with no eligibility for re-election had been agreed to by the Delegates.

We foresee grave problems with this decision. We think it is fair to assume that His Excellency G. Washington will be the Executive chosen to lead our Country. No other Gentleman in America can match his National Appeal. To whom do we turn in seven years? Doctor Franklin? Sadly, very sadly, he is too infirmed, and although his wit and genius still shine, it must be admitted that that Great Man is in decline.

Under the Agreement above, we are left in only Seven Years with the hope that another Washington or Franklin will emerge from a morass of sectional politicians which our Country, in its vastness, breeds so profusely.

No, Learned Reader, we must have the ability to keep the proven best in office if we choose to. The ineligibility for re-election could leave us a badly divided Country which has waged its very existence on the possibility of another Great Man of proven National Interest arising in only Seven Years!

As grave an issue as re-election, is the length of the Executive's term in office. Consider the quality of politicians available to us. What we have discovered so far in our coverage of this Convention, and what has caused the apparent failure in our Confederation Congress is the inability of our Sister States to develop and implement a truly National Policy. Generally it has been true that our politicians are more interested in Their State's interest than in Our National Interest.

To place in our Highest National Office for seven years a sectional politician would cause the dissolution of our Young Republic, whose Citizens must learn to be Americans first, instead of Virginians or Pennsylvanians. A sectional politician could easily fan the flames of discontent, playing one State against another. Our Country is weak, a child still learning, and it must be taught to be a Nation; and only an Executive with a National Vision can accomplish that.

If, elected under the guise of being a National Leader, we discovered a politician whose intent and purpose was parochial, the majority must be able to turn him out of office quickly to save the Country from ruin.

Also, inside our grab-bag of politicians, after General Washington, could be a Gentleman of Vision ... say for example, a Connecticut man whose mannerisms, style, and speech falsely suggest the limitations of sectional thinking, but who, through his experiences in dealing with other sections of the country, develops a genius for compromise and a feel for Union so vital to our very survival as a Nation; would we not be willing to "try him out" for a short period of time? Then, if he proved as honest and steady as he seemed when elected, would we not want to try him again, and possibly again, as long as he kept our Faith, enhanced our Republican Experiment, and helped develop a Strong America?

We suggest to the Gentlemen in Convention a shorter term for the Executive as being safer for our Country; and the ability to be re-elected if we wish him to be as being better for our Country.

Convention Discusses Resolves, Executive Strength and Election

This week the Convention continued its discussion of the remaining Resolves of the Virginia Plan. The unhappy divisions of past weeks between the large and small states seem to have been healed and the members, although disagreeing often, did so without threats or unseemly language.

On Monday, July 23, the delegates from the State of New Hampshire were present for the first time. Their delay was caused by the unwillingness of their Legislature to pay the costs of attendance. It was only when Mr. John Langdon agreed to pay that he and Mr. Nicholas Gilman were dispatched to Philadelphia as the State's Representatives. Mr. Langdon has a high reputation in his state, and in Congress where he has twice served, but Mr. Gilman is not so well regarded. One disgusted observer unkindly remarked that his selection cast a poor light on the other available gentlemen in the State of New Hampshire!

FEEDLE EXECUTIVE?

When the gentlemen of the Convention organized their procedures in May, they agreed that any question, even if members had already voted on it, could be reopened during their meetings. By this means, delegates may change their minds or suggest new ideas. Nevertheless, when Mr. Wilson of Pennsylvania took up the question of the Council of Revision again, Mr. Gerry of Massachusetts was exasperated. The Virginia Plan gives the chief executive, along with a number of judges of the Supreme Judiciary, a negative over the laws of Congress and the States. The idea is that the Chief Executive in our system of Republican government will be too feeble (as Mr. Gouverneur Morris put it) to stand against the Legislature and needs the additional power of the judges as a check. Mr. Madison, supporting Mr. Wilson and Mr. Morris, noted that Legislatures will always suck power to themselves, so that the Executive must be strengthened as much as possible.

Other gentlemen held to the maxim that the three powers must be kept separate at all costs. Mr. Luther

Boston Celebrates July 4th

The city of Boston held patriotic celebrations to mark the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. All who participated in the celebrations found them to be both stirring and elevating.

The military began its celebration first, commencing at nine o'clock in the morning. At that time, the regiments, both the select corps and the independents, assembled in uniform at their respective parade grounds. At ten o'clock, they all marched to the Commons where, at eleven o'clock His Excellency, the Captain General, together with the Lieutenant Governor, the French and Dutch Consuls, and other distinguished gentlemen, reviewed the troops. Later, after marching down School Lane and other streets of the town, the troops disbanded at the Commons. There they drank thirteen toasts, including toasts to the United States of America, to the Congress, to the convention assembled in Philadelphia, and to the Marquis de la Fayette.

The civil celebrations were conducted with no less honor. In the morning, the Supreme Executive and the members of the legislature assembled and marched to the Stone Chapel for the celebration. At the Stone Chapel, as was previously announced, the crowd heard an oration celebrating the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence delivered by Mr. Thomas Daws. Then an "Ode to Independence," set to music by Mr. Selby, was performed by a select company of singers. The solo parts were performed by Mr. Deverell.

At the same time, the Society of the Cincinnati held celebrations in the city. After their annual meeting, members marched to the Old Brick Meeting House to hear General Brooks speak. Their celebrations concluded with a meal, after which members offered toasts to the governments and the friends of these states.

Boston ... Lately Arrived

Royal Visit to Whitbread's Brewery

King George III, ever anxious to see whatever is new in mechanics or art, made a visit on May 26 to Mr. Whitbread's brewery in Chiswell Street. The time appointed was 10 AM, but, impelled by curiosity, the Royal Party arrived a quarter hour early. The King, Queen and three Princesses being received by Mr. Whitbread and his daughter, graciously declined an elegant breakfast prepared for them, so anxious were they to see the works. Their majesties spent some two hours inspecting the brewery, which is distinguished by a great new steam engine, which the King most judiciously explained in all its parts to his family. The Queen and Princesses were so amused by the huge storage cistern for beer that they all insisted upon entering the same, even though the doorway was so small as to hardly admit their entrance. The cistern has a capacity of four thousand barrels, and on this day held some three thousand.

The Royal Party also inspected the stables, where Mr. Whitbread maintains eighty horses, one of which, at upwards of seventeen hands, was shown to His Majesty as "the highest horse among his subjects." While being too polite to demur such a claim, the King nonetheless displayed his knowledge of livestock by noting that the horse's muscle was not in full proportion to his bone.

ROYAL FAMILY BELOVED

In passing on to the cooperate, the Royal Party paused to look out a set of gallery windows. Being recognized by the look in the street below, who cheered their royal parents with loud huzzas, their Majesties spent some minutes acknowledging the salutation, to the great pleasure of the crowd.

Having completed their tour, the royal party were offered a fine cold luncheon at Mr. Whitbread's handsome house adjoining the brewery. The King arose from dining at 2 o'clock and, expressing his highest satisfaction with the day's exhibition, took his leave in a most gracious manner.

Whatever Americans may think of George III, he is, as must be evident, very popular here. The people love him for his common touch, and hold the Royal Family as beloved grandparents or aunts and uncles. Monarchical Despotism in fact scarce exists here, and the English people have no taste to emulate their American cousins

Paine Takes Bridge Design to Paris

Thomas Paine is well known to Americans for his pamphlet Common Sense and the American Crisis papers. While these writings in defense of American liberty have earned Mr. Paine much fame, the approbation of men makes but a scanty support. So it is that Mr. Paine has arrived here in hopes of promoting a project both useful and remunerative.

Mr. Paine has spent several years now designing a new type of bridge, to be built of sections of cast iron bolted together. The design, to form a single arch, nothing more resembles than a section of a spider's web. Besides the durability of the material, the design has the Martin saw the plan to mix executive and judicial power as a dangerous innovation. Mr. Wilson's motion to include judges with the executive in the negative power was lost, so the executive will exercise his veto alone.

PEOPLE TO CHOOSE?

After a lengthy discussion the delegates agreed that for ratification, the New Constitution (as one gentleman now calls it) should be referred to Congress and then to assemblies chosen directly by the people. Mr. Mason could see no other course since, in his view, it is with the people that all power remains. Mr. Ellsworth of Connecticut believes that the State Legislatures are competent to ratify the Constitution, but Mr. Madison persuaded members that ratification by assemblies chosen by the people would give the new government validity and authority. As has so often been the case, Mr. Madison's argument carried the day.

Tuesday, Wednesday and part of Thursday were spent discussing the election of the chief executive. The delegates seem unable to agree on this question. Many fear that if he were elected by Congress, he would be dependent on that body. On the other hand, no satisfactory way of choosing electors can be found. The members have decided to leave the election to Congress for lack of a better scheme.

On Thursday the convention adjourned until August 6 in order to give a Committee of Detail, consisting of Mr. Rutledge, Mr. Randolph, Mr. Gorham, Mr. Ellsworth and Mr. Wilson, time to draw up a more detailed version of the Constitution. This ten-day recess will be much appreciated by the Delegates who have found the Convention tiring. Some have already left the City seeking diversion and cooler weather elsewhere.

Philadelphia ... July 26, 1787

Mr. Printer:

The Citizens of Philadelphia must awaken at last to check the vice which taints the atmosphere of our City. The profane and indecent language which assaults our ears in every street can only be restrained by extending education to the children of poor people.

The price of a bottle of wine or a single fashionable feather will pay the tax for an entire year to those schools; and by lessening the quality of vice, we shall moreover lessen the expenses of jails and of the usual forms of law which conduct people to them.

Washington Portrait Sold

Charles Wilson Peale, a Philadelphia artist and museum keeper, today filed an account for the sale of property confiscated from Tories with the Pennsylvania Supreme Executive Council. One of the confiscated properties was a portrait of His Excellency General Washington. It was valued at 21 pounds 5 shillings. Mr. Peale is the agent for these sales.

ORIGINAL MODEL DISPLAYED

An original model of Mr. Paine's design, built of wood, was strong enough to hold four men. Thus in 1786, Mr. Paine set to work on a cast iron model. This having been completed by the autumn of that year, Mr. Paine placed his model on display in the Pennsylvania State House yard on New Year's Day 1787. Despite much admiration expressed for the model and the endorsements of men such as Benjamin Franklin and David Rittenhouse, the Pennsylvania Assembly proved unwilling to provide funds for a full scale bridge of Mr. Paine's design to cross the Schuylkill River. Some feared that the cost - estimated at $330,330, would prove too great for the State to bear, while other parties wondered whence would come the 5200 tons of iron demanded for the task.

Much disappointed by this turn of events, Mr. Paine determined to take his model to Europe in hopes of discovering a more receptive audience in Paris or London. He departed New York City on April 26, reaching Havre-de-Grace this week. Just yesterday Mr. Paine came to Paris, bearing letters of introduction from Dr. Franklin which assuredly will obtain audiences with many important persons here. The Academy of Sciences is expected to look upon Mr. Paine's project with favor. A new bridge across the Seine has lately been commissioned, and Mr. Paine reports that his design would be cheaper and more durable than the stone bridge now contemplated.

MR. PAINE CONFIDENT

Nonetheless, the city of Paris is now attending more to politics than to bridges, for the Assembly of Notables was dismissed by Louis XVI on May 25. Despite the king's promises of financial reforms and greater voice to be given to the provincial estates, no one knows yet how events will proceed. Mr. Paine is confident, however, that the people of France will be wise and wealthy enough to build the bridge which Pennsylvania disdains. Perhaps Mr. Paine's arrival here will, as he hopes, mark the commencement of a new and brilliant chapter in his career.

Execution Postponed

Readers of this newspaper may recall that last month insurgents kidnapped Joseph Metcalf and Medad Pomeroy in a vain attempt to halt the lawful execution of Jason Parmenter and Henry McCulloch. We have by the recent mails heard more of that story.

The execution of the Shays' men has, to the consternation of all friends of justice, been delayed until the end of July or the beginning of August. As our correspondent noted, such action cannot help but produce evil consequences on all good government in these states. Moreover, the Days, accomplices in the recent kidnapping, have been allowed to return home and allowed to remain armed to the further discouraging of good order.

DAYS ARE CENSURED

The Days, most particularly Luke and Elijah Day, have not escaped completely without censure, however. As a patriotic measure and to demonstrate to the skeptical that they are not inimical to constitutional government in Massachusetts, the Society of the Cincinnati have unanimously voted to cast out the Days. The Society's resolution, dates July 4th, is most admirable.

WHEREAS LUKE and ELIJAH DAY, having served as officers in the late Continental Army, have not escaped completely without censure, however. As a patriotic measure and to demonstrate to the skeptical that they are not inimical to constitutional government in Massachusetts, the Society of the Cincinnati have unanimously voted to cast out the Days. The Society's resolution, dates July 4th, is most admirable.

And whereas the said LUKE and ELIJAH DAY have, by openly joining, leading and conducting the late Rebellion in this Commonwealth, rendered themselves particularly odious and obnoxious to the Society: ... Therefore,

THREAT OF VIOLENCE

As a final development, we have learned from the Worcester Magazine that Joseph Metcalf has brought suit against William Smith, the man who first abducted him. Smith, however, far from repenting of his crimes, has threatened Mr. Metcalf with violence should he persist in seeking justice. Claiming the Mr. Metcalf has broken into Smith's house, annoyed his family, and held Smith's son prisoner for some time, Smith told Mr. Metcalf that, if he presses his suit, he must "look out for Regulators." Mr. Metcalf, of course, justly denies Smith's charges.

As all these circumstances prove, the friends of good government and order must continue to be vigilant. Strong measures are in order to protect loyal citizens like Mr. Metcalf and Dr. Pomeroy from the likes of Smith, Parmenter, the Days, and other "followers of Daniel Shays."

Wilson Supports Equality For Western Territories

The Honourable James Wilson, Pennsylvania Delegate to the Grand Convention, has emerged as one of the most Eclectic and Persistent supporters of Equal Political Treatment of the Western Territories. Said Mr. Wilson, "I view without apprehension the time when a few states might contain superior members - the majority of people wherever found ought in all questions to govern the minority. If the interior country should acquire this majority, they will not only have the right, but will avail themselves of it whether we will or no."

COLD CUTTING LOGIC

Mr. Wilson's typical cold, cutting logic has raised his clear and powerful voice to a position of respect among the Delegates at the State House. Dr. Franklin always addresses Mr. Wilson as "my learned colleague." Dr. Benjamin Rush, noted Philadelphia physician, said that James Wilson's mind was like a blaze of light. "When he rises to speak it is like an electric charge - the hard, relentless light of intellect." Mr. Wilson wastes no man's time nor spares any man's feelings.

The forty-four year old Philadelphia lawyer was born in Scotland and educated in Jurisprudence at Edinburgh and Saint Andrews Universities. He came to America at age twenty-two and was immediately involved in the events leading to the War with Britain. He was a member of the Continental Congress and signed the Declaration of Independence.

The Honourable Mr. Wilson is not an imposing physical form. He possesses narrow, sloping shoulders, a plump chin and cheeks, and a squat, non-descript body. His round, steel-rimmed spectacles are always resting precariously low on his nose, held there only because the bows are embedded in his powdered wig. His Scotch burr is pronounced, especially when he becomes agitated.

For all of Mr. Wilson's admirable characteristics, he has become obsessed with speculation in Western Lands. He is the former president of the Illinois-Wabash Company and has wide-spread Business Interest as well as highly speculative land holdings. Lately, his investments have taken on the feverish proportions of gambling ventures. His friends fear for the health and reputation of this brilliant man.
