

News survey finds readers prefer college for airport site

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Editor

A Ruidoso News survey revealed that residents and visitors prefer a college as their number one choice to be situated at the present airport site when the Sierra Blanca Airport is completed and opened on Fort Stanton Mesa.

The News polled readers in three issues (July 13, 16 and 27) with an identical survey that asked readers to rank 12 possible uses of the airport land on a scale from 1-12, with 1 being the most preferred choice and 12 the least. Readers did not have to rank all suggested uses, and could add and rank any unlisted use in an space and rank "Other."

Uses suggested by the News survey included College, Cemetery, Soccer fields, Corporate training center, Events center, Parks/open space/playgrounds, Animal safari, Hotel/motel/restaurant training center, Municipal golf course, Auto racetrack/mud bog/tractor pull, Outdoor amphitheater, and Theme park.

The uses were selected from those suggested at several public meetings and individuals' suggestions to The News of what can be done with the 160-acre site now occupied by the Ruidoso Municipal Airport when the Sierra Blanca Airport opens (scheduled for late this year). The issue came to the forefront last year in July when the Ruidoso Village Council opted to raise gross receipts taxes to generate the $2.7 million appraised value of the airport land. But a negative referendum put the decision in the hands of voters, who in December 1986 reaffirmed (by a vote of 435-329) the council's desire to retain the site for village use.

Merchants around town began collecting the half percent higher sales tax last month.

In the Ruidoso News survey, readers voted time after time to use the land for a college as their first choice. Of 221 surveys returned, 67 readers picked College as their first choice. See News survey, page 2A.

P&Z clamps down on timeshares

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Time may be running out for timeshare solicitations on the streets of Ruidoso.

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z), during a regular meeting Monday, voted unanimously to recommend revoking business licenses and conditional use permits that allow timeshare sellers to operate from booths within village limits. The recommendation will go to the Ruidoso Village Council.

"We have had a continuing problem with timeshare booths," said planning administrator Margaret McDonald Lahey in her report to commissioners. "We've finally just decided that enough's enough," she added.

Village attorney John Underwood said the village has initiated a moratorium on business licenses for timeshare information booths. He said a public hearing will be scheduled for Tuesday, August 11.

Underwood said he and Lahey each have been receiving from 10 to 20 calls a day complaining of the timeshare sellers.

He recalled problems that began soon after both P&Z and the Village Council adopted policies governing the booths and their occupants. That policy requires, in part, that employees work from inside the booth, not walking along the street. Lahey said the Ruidoso Police answered a number of calls and wrote incident reports naming violations. Underwood said he wrote the companies letters notifying them of the alleged violations.

"They have violated those conditions many, many times," said Lahey. She said just finding the specific timeshare company responsible for the violators is a headache.

"Trying to catch them is like trying to shake hands with an octopus," said Lahey, adding the companies have a variety of names.

"They simply have chosen to take a mile when we gave them an inch," said Underwood, adding he has seen at least one promoter stopping people on the street.

Lahey said a review of village ordinances indicates the timeshare sale contacts are not a permitted use in commercial zones.

Underwood said the practice of handing out literature on the street is also covered in an ordinance against obstructing movement on public right of way.

In other regular business Monday, the commission:

—Approved with new conditions a property line setback variance approved conditionally during the last meeting. Eugene Duvall got approval to build a deck on his house at Lot 39, Block CC, Central Subdivision as long as the new construction doesn't impede access to the river behind his property. Commission Chairman David Smith and Commissioner Eddie Nichols voted against the variance.

—Approved unanimously a property line setback variance on Lot 2, Block 4, Town and Country Estates (105 Morgan). The variance covers the original structure, built in 1974, and new construction.

—Approved a property line setback variance on Lot 22, Block 10, Forest Heights Subdivision (141 Kalbab). The encroachment has existed since the structure was built in 1979, and inspected by the then building inspector. Commissioner John White cast the lone dissenting vote.

—Authorized a sign for the Upper Canyon Lodge Association after the application was denied by village staff because it doesn't conform to provisions of the village sign ordinance. The Upper Canyon Lodge Association gained approval to place a 42.25-square-foot sign with a three-square-foot arrow at the entrance to the Upper Canyon area.

"Hallelujah! It took us 60 days," said Upper Canyon lodge owner Clark Carpenter when the sign was approved. He said P&Z was the first group to make a decision after others involved "passed the buck."

—Rescheduled the next meeting for 2 p.m. Tuesday, September 8, since the regular meeting date falls on a village holiday.

—Heard Lahey report that she is still working on the proposed zoning ordinance.

County clerk keeps custody of historical lawman's wallet

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

U.S. Deputy Robert Olinger once, "in the line of duty," shot a man with a gun in one hand while he shook hands with his victim with his other hand, according to local legend.

It's a good thing Olinger was gunned down by Billy the Kid as he made his last escape from the Lincoln County Jail on April 28, 1878, or else Lincoln County Clerk Fran Siddens might be in big trouble.

Siddens is refusing to relinquish Olinger's wallet from the vault in the County Clerk's office. "It's part of the county probate file and I'm not going to release it to anybody until I am so ordered by a higher authority," said Siddens. The clerk indicated that only a court order would force her to relinquish the relic of the man who is best known for being shot by Billy Bonney as many Lincoln citizens stood by and watched. No one came to his aid.

Robert Olinger, spelled in his identification documents with one

"L", was an interesting personality. It is said that he copied the clothes and style of Buffalo Bill Cody, from the buckskin fringe to the long golden locks.

According to a book written by Lilly Casey Klasner entitled "My Girlhood Among the Outlaws," Olinger was humane, brave, and just doing his job. It must be born in mind, however, that Casey (Klasner) was engaged to be married to Olinger.

Other reports describe him as ruthless, cowardly, deranged and ultimately deserving of his bloody end.

"He was obnoxious and overbearing, as far as I can tell," said Ralph Dunlap, Lincoln County Commissioner and resident of Lincoln. Dunlap is a local historian and has seen and handled the wallet.

"It's about four and a half inches wide and eight inches long, made of leather, two pieces sewn together with a flap. It has a little decorative stitching but other than that, it's very plain. He carried it in his hip pocket, and most likely carried 'saddle blanket dollars' in it."

"Saddle blanket dollars" were paper money printed before 1928. The size of dollars then was around four inches by seven inches, larger than folding money is today.

Dunlap believes Siddens should give up the artifact to the Heritage Trust Museum in Lincoln. "It needs care, it needs to be kept in an acid-free humidified environment or it will deteriorate even more than it has already," he stated.

The commissioner has photocopies of the documents that were originally inside the wallet when Sheriff Pat Garrett handed it over to the County Clerk in 1881. "One is a document declaring him (Olinger) a deputy U.S. Marshal, and there are notes relating to his work. Nothing too interesting, but they have historic significance."

According to Dunlap, State Representative Ben Hall is helping the Historical Trust to acquire the wallet, and has promised that if the State takes possession, it will be in Please see County clerk, page 2A.

Educators are honored

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE

Two Ruidoso educators, who have received their own education solely in the state of New Mexico, have been singled out for honors by the New Mexico School Administrators Association.

White Mountain Intermediate School Principal Don Weems was elected president of the association at an Albuquerque meeting of that group last week.

Weems has served as president of the New Mexico Association of Elementary School Principals in 1986-87. That organization is a subgroup of the School Administrators Association. He will serve as first vice president in 1987-88, and president elect in 1988-89.

"The president coordinates all the committees under the umbrella group," Weems explained. "We work with the governor, and disseminate information of legislative concerns of education throughout the state. I hope to be directly involved in getting legislation information to all the members of the association."

Weems has lived in Ruidoso for 12 years, coming from Portales, and he began his local career by teaching second grade at White Mountain Elementary. For the past 10 years he has been a school principal in Ruidoso. His wife, Kathy, teaches seventh grade at the middle school, and his daughter, Jeanette Morel, attends Washington University in Topeka, Kansas.

"Don Weems' election to president is a real honor," said Ruidoso Schools Superintendent Sid Miller. "His leadership has catapulted the Elementary Principals' Association to the forefront of all the School Administrative groups. Now, that group has a great influence on legislative issues and solving many statewide school problems."

Also singled out for honors by the association is Karen Tillman, who was awarded "Special Education Administrator of the Year." She is particularly knowledgeable in state, local and federal special ed regulations and methods of teaching handicapped students.

Tillman has been in Ruidoso for 10 years, coming from Clovis. In the local school system she has served as a regular teacher, a special ed teacher, a counselor, a diagnostician, and as director of special ed. She has four grown children.

"Ruidoso is an outstanding school district in the State of New Mexico.

We maintain excellent involvement in the state Department of Education, and I'm gratified to have the recognition of my peers," she stated.

Both Weems and Tillman graduated from Eastern New Mexico University.

choice. Events center scored a distant second in number of first-place votes with 30, followed closely by Parks/open space/playgrounds with 25 first-place votes.

Survey results were scored, with first-place votes being assigned a value of 12, second-place votes being valued at 11, third at 10 and so on down to 12th-place votes, which were assigned a value of one.

Those totals also saw College come out on top, with readers giving College a combined value of 1,618. Events center followed with a value of 1,395, and Parks/open space/playgrounds came in a close third with a value of 1,351.

Other totals saw Outdoor amphitheater as readers' fourth choice, with a value of 1,151, followed closely by Corporate training center with a score of 1,124. Sixth-place choice of readers was Hotel/motel/restaurant training center with a score of 908, followed by Municipal golf course in seventh place with 725 points and eighth-place finisher Theme park with 629 points.

Ninth place was taken by Soccer fields, with a score of 556 points, 10th place went to Animal safari with 495 points. Readers selected Cemetery as their 11th choice for the airport site. It earned a score of 336 points. Auto racetrack/mud bog/tractor pull was readers' least favorite use for the airport land. It scored just 179 points, and readers put the use as their least favorite 33 times (more last-place votes than any other use).

More results from the survey will appear in following issues of The News, including specific statistics, which uses attracted the most second- through 11th-place votes, and a complete listing of readers' comments and other suggested uses of the land which ranged from "Helicopter shuttle and car rental" to "Casino gambling."

Trail repair not easy, but rewarding

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

It's been a busy summer for the Youth Conservation Corps in the Forest Service Smokey Bear district.

Five Lincoln County young people were selected randomly by computers to participate in the minimum-wage, federally funded summer job program.

Mike Luna, 16, of Capitan had to leave before the end of the season because of an injury. This left Michelle Gober, 17, Capitan, Corina Sedillo, 17, Capitan, Jennifer Jimenez, 16, Ruidoso, and Christopher Sales, 15, Ruidoso, to clear the trails of the Smokey Bear forests.

The Corps worked four days per week, from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sometimes the location of their work demanded many miles of hiking.

Was it worth it? "It was a lot harder than I thought it would be," admitted Sedillo. "It's mostly moving and loading rocks. Big, heavy rocks."

"... and clipping oaks," added Jimenez. Oak roots often grow up and block the trails and have to be chopped out.

Michelle Gober is the second year person on the Corps, and plans to make forestry her career. "I love being in the woods," she said.

Sedillo was less sure when asked if, knowing what she knows now, she would do it again. "I've never worked so hard before," she stated. "And I had to invest about $100 in clothing and shoes. But I think the things I learned in the Corps will help me to work on my dad's ranch, now that my brother isn't here."

Jimenez said that she probably would do it again, and so did Sales.

A lot of funny things happened while on the trails and in the woods, the trailbuilders reported. One day a large boulder rolled downhill, out of control. "It was humorous to see Mr. (Bob) Palko, he's our trail boss, running down into the arroyo after it yelling 'stop, stop!'" laughed Sedillo.

"We've drilled a few postholes in the wrong places," added Jimenez.

One of the most interesting things the group did was to participate in a controlled burn in the Ancho area. They burned 500 acres, starting the fire with drip torches. Finally the burn got rained out. "I set fire to my shoes a couple of times," recalled Sedillo.

The students also went to "My House of Old Things" museum in Ancho to learn more about the history of the area.

Another highlight of their tenure in the Corps was a three day, two night camping trip up to Capitan Peak, which has a 10,083 foot altitude. "There were over 81 go-downs," said Sedillo. Go-downs are fallen trees that must be removed from the paths. "But the sunsets were so beautiful, all orange and red."

The crew trimmed scrub oak and aspen, moved rock, rebuilt switchbacks, repaired gabions and built signs without the use of power tools. They used cross-cut saws and ate canned ravioli.

"Toasted marshmallows were our specialty," remarked Jimenez.

The Capitan Peak trip was attended by the Corps and also members of the Trail Crew, and a wilderness ranger, Chris Mason.

"We saw one tree that was packed with ladybugs, inches thick," said Sales.

"There was a dead mouse in the trick tank," added Gober. The trick tank contains water for forest animals, and the mouse made it unsuitable for human drinking. This wasn't a problem though because each member of the group toted her or his own drinking water as well as a tent, food, clothes and first aid kits.

"Something ate my work gloves up there," chuckled Jimenez.

"Something was chewing on my hair," laughed Sedillo.

Another interesting trip the group took was to the top of the cinder cone of the malpais lava flow, Little Black Peak. It was a two mile hike to the cone, and a two mile hike out again.

"You really get to know the forest, better than campers will ever know it," stated Gober. "And, you really get to know the people you're with."

The adult version of the YCC is the Trail Crew. This group works the same time period and hours as the YCC, and members come from many walks of life.

William Wagner, Roswell, is a retired person who has just finished his fourth year with the crew. "He is a volunteer, he does this all for free," explained team mate Bob Messick, Ruidoso. "And he is an amazing person. No one can out-hike Bill Wagner. He is the pacesetter for the entire group."

Messick is a retired chemist who now runs a landscaping business in Ruidoso. This is his second year with the crew.

Darrel Stierwalt, who teaches driver's ed at Ruidoso High School, is in his 15th year with the crew.

"It's hard manual labor," he said. "That's good to do now and then." "Don't forget to mention Beth Gordon," the man said. "She had to leave because of an injury, but she was a very hard worker and a good sport. We miss her. She took a job as receptionist at Dr. Harris' office."

When asked what qualifications are necessary to be a Trail Crew member, Stierwalt joked, "You need a strong back and a weak mind."

The adult crew uses dynamite and fire to get their job done, and members are proficient with saws and knives.

Now that the summer season is over, crew members will be going their separate ways. Wagner, the retired volunteer, will be hiking down the Grand Canyon with his son and daughter-in-law.

Crew members estimate that they have walked a total of 186 miles during this year's season to repair trails. The Smokey Bear Forest District incorporates 370,000 acres of forest and has around 200 miles of trail.

Former Lt. Gov. Runnels to face Alb. DWI charge

Former Lieutenant Governor Mike Runnels is scheduled for arraignment at 1:30 p.m. today (Thursday) in Metro Judge Elizabeth Love's court in Albuquerque, according to Metro Court records.

Runnels, a Ruidoso resident, is accused of driving under the influence, careless driving and possession of open containers, according to Albuquerque Police Department (APD) records. The charges resulted from an accident recorded by APD at about 10 p.m. Friday.

A spokesman for Albuquerque Police said Runnels, 41, was reportedly northbound on Morningside Drive approaching Indian School Road NE when his 1984 Chevrolet Blazer "inexplicably drifted to the right approaching vehicle one (a parked vehicle)."

Police said the Runnels vehicle subsequently struck the parked vehicle and rolled over onto its left side. The report shows Runnels' vehicle left skid marks for about 30 feet before striking the parked pickup.

APD Officer Romero, in his report, said Runnels was out of the vehicle when police arrived at the accident scene. His report indicated Runnels "offered no explanation."

Romero said he detected a strong odor of alcohol and found four open 12-ounce Coors beer cans inside the vehicle. He said the containers appeared to have contained beer, but due to the rollover, contained only a small amount of liquid.

He said Runnels was treated at the scene for minor cuts, apparently received on broken glass when he exited the overturned vehicle.

Romero reported conducting a field sobriety test, arresting Runnels and booking him into the Batmobile (a field alcohol testing van). Runnels recorded a breath alcohol level of 0.24 percent, according to the official report.

A spokesman for Bernalillo County Detention Center said Runnels was booked following his arrest, and released on his own recognizance at about midnight Friday.

A Metro Court spokesman said Runnels is expected to enter a plea during his arraignment today.

Runnels served as lieutenant governor in former Governor Toney Anaya's administration, and is currently associated with a Ruidoso law firm.

A published report said Runnels was fined $300 three years ago for reckless driving.

Efforts to reach Runnels for comment Thursday morning were unsuccessful.

Schedule of Aspenfest released by chamber

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce has announced tentative plans for Aspenfest '87. Aspenfest this year will be an umbrella slogan encompassing a number of events.

A chamber committee has been formed and Joan Bailey has been named chairperson.

These are the events scheduled thus far. Many have tentative dates which are subject to change.

September 11-13, 9th Annual Mule Races at Ruidoso Downs Race Track. Admission will be $2.50, all proceeds go to charity.

September 12, a possible Harmony Songfest, featuring barber-shop groups.

September 23-25, 18th Annual Golden Aspen Rally Motorcycle Tour at the Gibson Building.

September 19-20, Aspen Trail Volksmarsch, tentative.

October 2, tentative street dance.

October 3, Aspenfest parade.

Last February, the museum asked to have the wallet on temporary display, and Siddens turned down their request. At that point, State Representative Maurice Hobson contacted the Attorney General's office for help.

Under the direction of Attorney General Hal Stratton, that office did a study that declared the wallet to be owned by the State Treasurer's Office.

"I have never seen any report to that effect from the Attorney General's office," said Siddens.

Duncan Scott, assistant attorney general, said that he has concluded that the wallet does indeed belong under the auspices of State Treasurer James Lewis.

State Treasurer James Lewis has just received the report, and has set one of the people in his legal department, Corliss Challey, to doing research to find out what to do next. "Generally, abandoned property belongs to the Taxation and Revenue, which is under our department in the state of New Mexico," said Lewis.

Lewis believes that by the middle of next week he will have an idea of how to proceed in the case.

Meanwhile, Clerk Siddens is adamant in her refusal to consider giving up the wallet. "It's been in this office for a long time," she said, "and as far as I know, it's going to stay here."

Airport commissioners conduct T-hangar negotiations

The Sierra Blanca Airport Commission (SBAC) met briefly in open session Wednesday before going into executive session to discuss a proposed contract.

With just three of five members present, commissioners retired to negotiate with Ed Garland, the contractor chosen to develop T-hangars at the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport (SBRA).

It was learned before the regular meeting that airport administrator Fred Heckman had submitted a letter of resignation. That letter wasn't mentioned during the meeting, and apparently wasn't acted on in executive session.

During the open session, Chairman Tim Morris said pay estimates from contractors Tricon Kent and Bixby Electric had been reviewed and approved by the engineer. Morris didn't read the amounts of the estimates, but after a whispered conference with engineer Earl Cook, commissioners unanimously approved paying the invoices.

Commissioners unanimously authorized Morris to instruct Smith Machinery to install an interim pump at no cost to the commission in the water well at the airport site. Morris said Smith is waiting for a pump that will meet specified gallons per minute pumping standards.

After a whispered conversation between Morris and Commissioner Bill Karn, all three voted to go behind closed doors for the negotiations, that Morris predicted could be lengthy.

"We are still in negotiations," reported Morris after the meeting was adjourned at nearly 6 p.m. Wednesday. He said commissioners, along with SBAC attorney Steve Sanders, spent the afternoon going over the lengthy documents included in the proposal.

"We feel we've got a good thing," said Morris, adding there are still some final items to be settled before the contract can be signed.

Commissioners set a special meeting to sign the T-hangar development contract at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 19, in council chambers of the Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center.

Commissioners Conrad Buchanan and Wendell Chino were absent from Wednesday's meeting.

A Wild West time in White Oaks

A little boy (left) watches the action in the corral, waiting for the rodeo to begin, and some other kids and moms (below) take a wagon ride down White Oak's street. Saturday was a family affair in White Oaks and there was something for everybody. The weekend activity surrounded the 19th annual running Saturday of the Pony Express Race from Capitan to White Oaks.

These two boys practiced their ropin'. Later, at the rodeo, they got to see how the pros do it.

Two dances were held at the White Oaks Saloon, Dance Hall and Museum, one on Friday night and one on Saturday. The inside of the bar features a pool table and many old framed photographs of White Oaks' forebearers.

To the Printer:

The Convention, I am told, have unanimously agreed on a system for the future government of the United States - which will speedily be laid before the several legislatures for their acceptance and ratification. What this system is, is not as yet known but to the framers of it - that it will be of a system founded on justice and equity - in which the rights of the citizens, and of the rulers, will be properly balanced, considering the characters who have formed it, none can doubt: That consistent with these, it may be energetic none can but wish.

Occasion, therefore, now presents itself, in which that good sense of the people can produce the most desirable events - for the people will NOW determine, whether a Nation possessing every advantage which nature can bestow to make it Great, and to which nothing is wanting but to improve those advantages, to make it such, shall be so, or not. But, my respected fellow citizens, can we have a reasonable doubt - Are we to behold a new thing under the sun? Will the nature of things be reversed? NO - the EXPERIENCE we have had, answers the queries in the Negative, and bids us anticipate the wished-for event of its meeting the approbation of all ranks of citizens - those excepted, who are, and ever will be, enemies to the prosperity of our infant empire. - Against such it behooves us to be on the guard - Be assured they will artfully cast stumbling-blocks in your way to national happiness and honour, and under the mask of patriotism, will endeavor to work your political destruction - That such are among us is certain - But, I trust your penetration will discover their designs - however thick their cloak - however specious their hypocrisy.

That this country may long remain under the guardianship of him who raiseth up, and putteth down nations, is the fervent prayer of, AN AMERICAN.

News from Europe ...

Clouds of War Gathering!

The crowned heads of Europe again seem set upon renewed war; the Great Powers have, it seems, gained too little profit from the late American War. All Europe seems determined to seek advantage through fighting over some new pretext.

Events in Eastern Europe grow ever darker with Turkey crying for revenge upon Russia because of Catherine the Great's seizure of the Crimea. Should war ensue, Joseph II of Austria is certain to join with Russia against the Turk.

PATRIOT PARTY

The eyes of Europe must also turn toward Holland. There the Stadtholder William V, Prince of Orange, hath been plagued for two years with protests and riots led by a Republican faction. This so-called Patriot Party wishes constitutional reform to destroy the authority of the House of Orange by erecting a democratical government free of aristocratic influence in any form.

PRINCESS DETAINED!

This prospect is particularly displeasing to the autocratic Frederick William II of Prussia, for his sister is the Princess of Orange, wife to the Stadtholder. Now word hath come here that the Princess, in attempting to journey from Nieuwpoort to the Hague, was detained by troops of the Patriot Party and held for several hours by a band of vulgar and insolent Dutch burghers, the captain of whom held the princess at sword's point for some time, before conducting her to an inn. There, it is reported, the militiamen most disrespectfully smoked their pipes and drank beer while holding the Princess in doubt of her fate.

At last, receiving orders to free the Princess, the Patriot forces still forbid her to continue her journey, and made her return to Nieuwpoort.

PRUSSIAN TROOPS STAND READY!

Frederick William of Prussia, we understand, considers this affair an outrage and seems certain to demand satisfaction from the Dutch. Failing a conciliatory response - which seems unlikely - Prussian troops stand ready to move into Holland to restore the Stadtholder to his full authority. In this, France seems likely to support Prussia. England is certain to view a combined Franco-Prussian attack on Holland as a most dangerous provocation. While peace is yet maintained, an outbreak of war on several fronts is quite possible by summer's end.

London ... June 25, 1787

has imported from London a general collection of SEEDS for the KITCHEN GARDEN, which he will sell upon moderate terms, the greater part have been tried and turn out very good. Any orders for fruit trees, forest trees or shrubs, will be thankfully received, and every exertion made to give satisfaction. He is to be found at Mr. GRAY'S Ferry.

Congress Reduces Salaries

The Congress continues its struggle to reduce its budget by decreasing salaries of government employees. The ongoing money problems of Congress were stressed again this month when Secretary of War Henry Knox reported on continuing attacks by Indians on Virginia villages. Secretary Knox told Congress there was not enough money in the National treasury to create an armed force large enough to protect the frontier.

The Congress has proposed the following reduced salaries:

The President of the Congress	$8000
Secretary of Foreign Affairs	$3500
Secretary of Congress	$2600
Commissioners of the Board of Treasury (3 members)	$2250
Comptroller of the Treasury	$1500
Treasurer	$1250
Auditor	$800

The President must pay a private secretary ($300) and a steward ($300). He must also pay house rent and expenses.

All salaries, except the President's, are to be paid by employee's states.

New York City ... July 25, 1787

The Grand Convention Is in Recess;
Appoints A Committee of Detail

The Grand Convention has recessed for ten days to allow a committee to produce a detailed Constitution. So far the Convention has produced twenty-three resolutions, but they are mostly of a general nature. The work of the Committee is to give substance and detail to those resolutions. Although the delegates have worked strenuously for eleven weeks, many details of the new government remain to be worked out.

What is clear, however, is the main structure of the proposed New Government. As several gentlemen have hinted, it is not unlike that of Great Britain. It will have three separate branches: Executive, Legislative and Judicial. These Arms of Government will check each other in order to guard against the instinct which causes men in power to seek to gain more by encroaching on the rights of others. The Strong Executive will correct the weakness revealed in the first Constitutions of the State Governments as well as in the Articles of Confederation.

AN IMPORTANT CHANGE!

The Convention has already agreed to an important change in the original proposals of the Virginia delegation: the Upper House will represent the states equally, not the people directly. This was a great victory for the Small States and a bitter pill for the Large States to swallow, but swallow it they did. Nevertheless, we have heard that the Small States, in the person of Mr. Luther Martin of Maryland, still hope for further concessions from the Convention. Perhaps they hope to restore, or rather retain the present one-house Congress which represents only the States!

It seems more likely that, if the Committee appointed to draw up a detailed document makes any changes at all, they will be on minor issues like the qualifications of members of Congress and of voters. Neither of these matters have been settled in full detail, so the Committee would be doing the Convention a service by attending to them.

SLAVE TRADE PROVISIO

Governor Randolph of Virginia and Mr. Rutledge of South Carolina, both members of the Committee, wish to include in the Constitution a proviso against interference in the African slave trade for a period of years, and they may be successful in persuading the other members to agree with them. Also, the southerners would like to have included a clause forbidding or limiting export taxes and navigation acts, both measures being abhorrent to the economic interests of the southern states.

When the task is complete, a fair copy will be sent to the printer who will produce sixty copies for the Delegates. Until now the gentlemen have been obliged to make their own copies of the various documents by hand, a laborious task very wearisome to the Delegates. On Monday, August 6th, the Convention will reconvene to study the revised resolutions and to continue debate. Gentlemen are encouraging each other to return to Philadelphia in good time for the re-opening of the Convention. Efforts are being made to persuade the two New York delegates, Mr. Yates and Mr. Lansing, to return for the final phases of the Convention, but there is so much hostility among the followers of Governor Clinton to the Constitution that it is doubted that they will return. Colonel Hamilton, of course, will come back, but his vote cannot be counted without the rest of his delegation. The gentlemen from New Hampshire are now in attendance after so long a delay, but nothing has been heard of a delegation from Rhode Island - a shame to the citizens of that state!

MR. MADISON'S LEADING ROLE

In the past weeks the delegates have had many opportunities to display their talents in debate, but no one has done so as brilliantly as Mr. Madison of Virginia. His contributions have been extraordinary.

We can best show his quality by indicating the general standard of discussion among the gentlemen. There are several brilliant men present - Mr. Gouverneur Morris, Mr. Wilson, Mr. King and Colonel Mason have made valuable contributions. However, many of the Delegates are quite silent - they sit and listen and say never a word. In some cases this is becoming modesty, but other men who are ready enough to hold forth (dare we say at length?) in their state legislatures are shamed into silence here. They cannot hope to compete with the intellectual quality of the leading Delegates. One or two have tried, driven by the fervor of their opinions, but none have been able to sustain arguments against the likes of Mr. Madison and Mr. Wilson in Particular. Few will forget the lamentable efforts of Mr. Luther Martin of Maryland to interest the members in his opinions, or the efforts of Mr. Gunning Bedford of Delaware to fire the cannons of bombast at them!

WASHINGTON'S INFLUENCE FELT

Mr. Madison's qualities show even more brightly because, to the surprise of some, His Excellency, General Washington, has made no contributions to the public debates. He was elected as Chairman of the Convention, a position which makes it impossible for him to speak. However, even when the Convention meets as a Committee of the Whole and His Excellency is relieved of the chair, he still does not participate. His influence is felt, however. First, his very presence here assures that the proceedings will have weight and authority. Secondly, he makes his opinions known as a member of the Virginia delegation, with which he votes. Thirdly, he has been observed while in the Chair to reward those speakers whose ideas he favours with smiles and nods.

Doctor Franklin of Pennsylvania, whose standing in America is almost on a par with Washington's, is in a very feeble state of health. Nevertheless he attends the Convention Hall regularly and has made several long speeches supporting his views on the Presidency and attempting to win compromises from the delegates when tempers have become frayed. Doctor Franklin's words are read for him by Mr. Wilson and, while they are received with respect, they cannot be said to have been on the forefront of the debates on crucial issues. It is clear that the Great Philosopher has somewhat the same role here as the Great General: they lend their wisdom and reputations to the proceedings, but they allow others to fight out the battles.

MADISON'S REPUTATION HIGH!

Mr. Madison has been one of the chief fighters. That is not to say he has forgotten the decorum appropriate to a Gentleman. He has taken part in the debates day after day with learned speeches drawn from political theory and historical reality. He always speaks to the point and he is often persuasive. His reputation among the delegates is very high. He continues his practice of recording the debates for future generations. Other gentlemen have started on similar projects but have ceased through fatigue or absence, but Mr. Madison continues indefatigably. He has had his disappointments here. The Compromise over the New Jersey plan was a bitter blow to him. Nevertheless he recovered and, for the good of the Nation, continues to work persistently to remedy the defects of our Constitution.

Philadelphia ... August 3, 1787

If it is true that the United States are heavily indebted, and the lands in the West are the only thing of value they possess, then the individual states should be permitted to sell those lands for the purpose of paying their debts. It is strange to me that the wise people who form the sovereignty of the United States should not do as others who seek a market, in all ages and countries, by courting the buyer with terms which are as easy and agreeable. These lands are currently occupied by hordes of wild Indians who frequently terrorize innocent white people and disrupt commerce by attacking our frontier settlements, murdering women and children, and killing unwary travelers. It is also widely believed in these parts that Spanish agents have deliberately agitated the uncivil passions of the Indians for the purpose of prohibiting our navigation and commerce on the river Mississippi, which has for the past several years been claimed by their Catholic Majesty. For these reasons, the Western country should be taken forcefully away from the Indians without the benefit of a treaty, since they do not abide by the terms of these agreements such as these anyway, and sold to our honourable, energetic, and virtuous citizens, who are waiting impatiently for the opportunity to move westward toward the Mississippi and the bay of Mexico.

Dr. Johnson Leaves Philadelphia
for Connecticut

Dr. William Samuel Johnson left the stifling heat of the city today for his native Connecticut. Calling Philadelphia "a city where the damp heat lies heavy on the spirit," Dr. Johnson retreated by stage to his home in Connecticut, escaping the inclement accommodations of his lodging at the City Tavern.

Dr. Johnson, newly appointed President of Columbia College, has emerged as an engaging person although quite modest and scholarly. The lawyer participated in the Stamp Act Congress in 1765, as a Connecticut Agent in England and on the Connecticut Council. Many people doubted his loyalty to the Revolutionary Cause in 1776. He refused to support the Patriots, although he likewise refused to aid the Tories. He declined to serve initially in the Continental Congress, although he has been a member of that body since 1784. Most delegates accept Dr. Johnson, and he has been named to several important committees. However, Mr. Pierce noted that he found "something in the tone of his voice not pleasing to the ear."

JOHNSON'S DIARY

Dr. Johnson has become noted for the Diary he is keeping on the weather and living conditions in Philadelphia. The heat, flies and roaring bullfrogs make sleep difficult for the Delegates, causing them to awaken unrefreshed, only to face another day of closed door (and window) sessions in the State House. This is complicated by the close-fitting powdered wigs, tightly buttoned woolen coats and knotted cravats typical of the Delegates attire. Certainly Dr. Johnson will not be the only person glad to see the end of summer and the onset of cooler autumn weather.

Dr. Franklin's Sedan Chair

The distinguished assembly at Philadelphia has been made yet more distinguished by the presence of Dr. Franklin. Little needs to be said of Dr. Franklin's many services to Pennsylvania and to his country, nor is it any more necessary to mention his wisdom and practicality. A curious instance of the learned doctor's inventiveness has recently been observed at the convention. Old age, and the many infirmities that often accompany it, especially the gout, have caused Dr. Franklin to order a sedan chair in which he can be comfortably carried to and from the convention.

Affair of Honour Averted

We hear from New York that the duel which was to take place between Major William Pierce, delegate from Georgia to the Grand Convention, and Mr. John Auldjo, a citizen of Great Britain, has been averted.

OFFENSE TO PIERCE

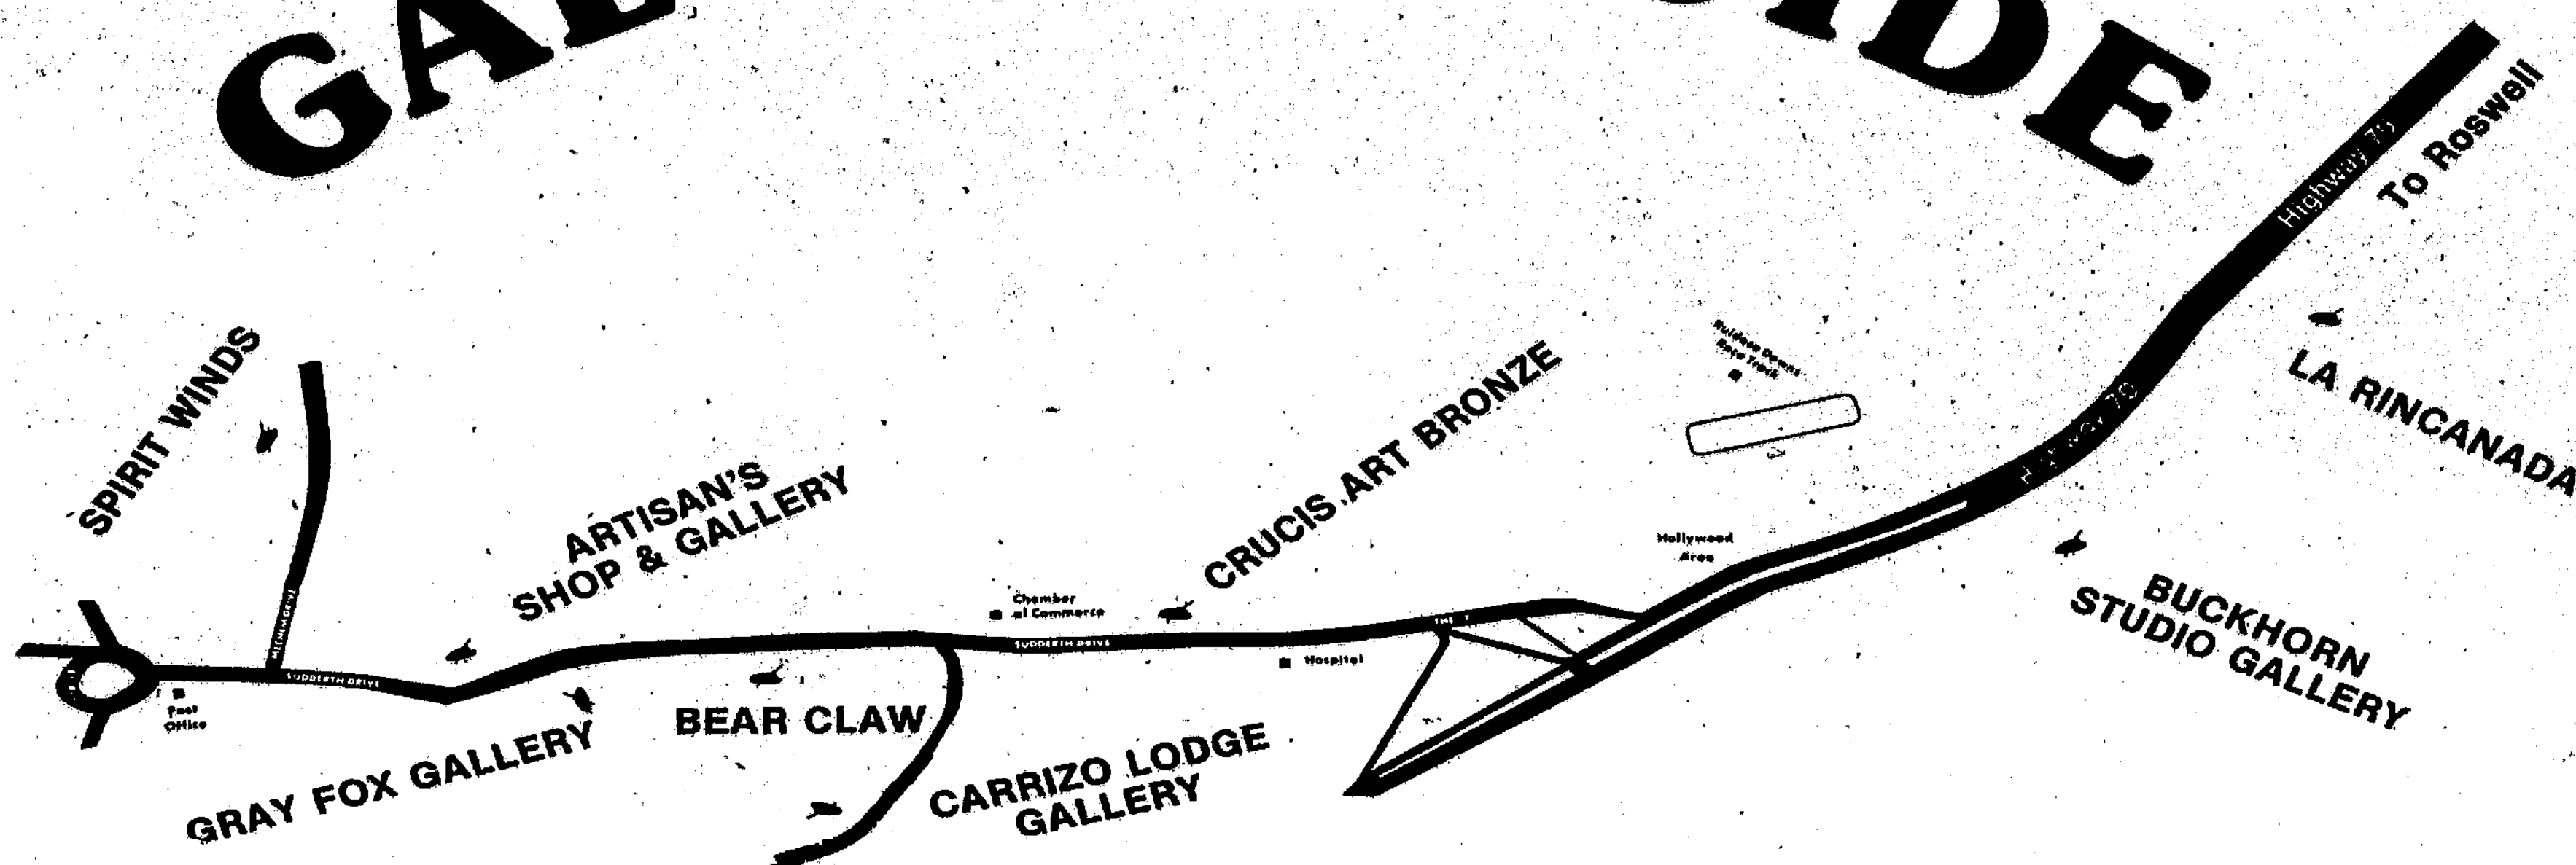

The circumstances that gave offence to Major Pierce involved a business transaction between his firm and that which Mr. Auldjo has the honour to represent in America. A debt dating back to the Revolutionary period was the source of the discord. Mr. Auldjo requested settlement from Major Pierce in Savannah and, finding none, cast aspersions upon Major Pierce so that his friends became cool toward him. In Philadelphia, while Major Pierce was deliberating on the Constitution, the quarrel was renewed. Failing to get satisfaction, Mr.

Auldjo made references to the character of the merchants of Georgia and to the people of the State. Major Pierce then asked Mr. Nathaniel Mitchell of Delaware to convey his challenge to Mr. Auldjo, who in turn requested that Colonel Alexander Hamilton act as his second.

Both Col. Hamilton and Mr. Mitchell attempted, as was their duty, to bring the gentlemen to an agreement. Mr. Auldjo requested to know in what exact way he had offended Major Pierce so that he could offer explanations. The seconds of both gentlemen were anxious to bring a settlement about and they succeeded. It seems that Major Pierce is satisfied, he has left the city of New York for a jaunt up the North River.

The South football victory especially was notable, since the North had a huge size advantage. The South moved the ball well in the first half, due largely to the passing of former Ruidoso High School quarterback-defensive back Jeff Willingham. But the North came back in the second half, outgaining the South almost two-to-one. A pesky South defense, particularly on pass defense, held back the Yankees. The South basketball victories also were big pluses, particularly the AAAA-AAA victory. The All-Star AAAA-AAA victory came on the heels of a one-two south finish in the state AAAA-division tournament last spring. Hobbs won the AAAA championship with Roswell taking second. It was the first time a South team had won the AAAA-division title since 1981. All of this points to increasing excellence by southern high schools in New Mexico athletic competition.

It was a good week for the South in state boys high school All-Star competition last week. Besides the South's 7-5 victory in football, the Rebels also took victories in the AAAA-AAA and AA-A boys basketball All-Star games against the North.

Flamingo Club second in state softball tourney

The Flamingo Club of the Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League took second in the state tournament for the second straight year in Hobbs last weekend.

Garnering a 5-2 tournament record, the Flamingo Club lost to Gold Works of Hobbs, 11-5, in the championship game.

The Flamingo Club earlier defeated Gold Works, 14-13, to force an extra game for the crown.

The Lincoln County team had to battle back through the losers' bracket after dropping a 13-10 game to St. Mary's of Roswell in the opener.

Flamingo Club topped the Black Widows of Alamogordo, 16-6; beat Bud Lite of Roswell, 7-2; defeated McVay Drilling of Hobbs, 10-6; and then came back to edge St. Mary's, 14-13, to gain the finals against Gold Works.

Sandy Riggs drove in two runs to give the Flamingo Club its win over St. Mary's in the semi-finals. The Flamingo Club rallied from an 11-0 deficit in the semi-final game.

Vickie Eckerdt and J.D. Yoakum pitched for the Flamingo Club. Debbie Myers got a key walk in the rally against St. Mary's and also hit the ball well.

Coach Tim Eckerdt could not make the trip, so injured player Ginny Pollock coached the team.

"To come all the way back through the losers' bracket and to play as good and as bad as we did, no newspaper article could describe it or give each girl the credit they deserve," said Vickie Eckerdt. "We were all heroes. You had to be there."

Road Warriors need players

The Road Warriors under-14 boys soccer team will begin its fall season Saturday, August 22.

Tryouts are beginning for the team. Youths born in 1974 or 1975 are eligible to try out for the team. Most of the matches will be in Ruidoso.

Youths interested in playing can contact Roy Seay at 257-4033 (office), or 354-2759 (home), as soon as possible.

Physicals set for tonight

Free physicals for all Lincoln County high school and middle school athletes will be given at Ruidoso High School at 7 p.m. (tonight) (Thursday), August 6. The examinations will be in the school gymnasium.

Booster meeting set tonight

The Ruidoso High School Warrior Booster Club will have a meeting at 7:30 tonight (Thursday), August 6, in the multi-use room at the high school.

It will be a general meeting. A number of items will be discussed.

The Booster Club supports all Warrior sports. People interested in high school sports are encouraged to attend.

Other players who did well were Cindy Pollock, Sue Keeton, Susan Ruch, Nancy Fleharty and Karen Anderson.

Lorena Rue and Liz Beltran, who normally play for the Shady Ladies in the Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League, joined the Flamingo Club for the tournament and played well.

An Investment in COMFORT

When you buy a new heating and cooling system, you're making an investment in comfort and in energy efficiency. Here is a free checklist of features your new heating and cooling system should offer.

1. Does the unit have a Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio (SEER) and Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER) of at least 8.0? The higher the rating, the better the efficiency.
2. Is the unit properly sized to serve the required cooling area?
3. Have you obtained information at your local Texas-New Mexico Power Company office about energy efficient cooling/heating systems? At TNP, we don't make or sell air conditioners or heaters, but we do have information on how to get the most for your energy dollar.

Senator carries top weight in Speed 'Cap

Senator Billy B., fresh off an impressive victory in the Santa Fe Opera Handicap, ships back to Ruidoso Downs to shoulder high weight in Saturday's $10,000-added Ruidoso Speed Handicap.

The Speed Handicap brings out a full field of 3-year-olds and older thoroughbreds at a distance of 5 furlongs. First post is set for the usual 1 p.m. with the track's gates opening at 11 a.m.

While Senator Billy B. loads into the eight post under rider David Lidberg, the remaining field from the rail out includes K. Rig, Cuttin A Rug, Cupids Prospect, Northern Writer, Quickie Quick, Master Player, Candy Store, Moolah Smoke and Poly's Director.

Trainer Paul Smith saddles Senator Billy B. off a recent nose verdict in the Santa Fe Opera Handicap at the Downs at Santa Fe. The son of Hy Lucky Jay stepped off that 670-yard stakes event in 45.45 seconds - the fastest time of the meet.

Prior to that effort, Smith sent Senator Billy B. out in the Master Salls Handicap on June 20 at Ruidoso, where he could manage no better than fifth racing as the 2-1 favorite from the advantageous rail post in that 670-yard test.

The two likely candidates to beat

Senator Billy B. to the wire are Northern Writer and Candy Store.

Northern Writer will try to take home the Speed Handicap trophy for the second consecutive year after romping to a five-length margin in the 1986 edition. Trainer Rick Anderson has named Vickie Smallwood to ride the 6-year-old mare.

Smallwood was aboard the daughter of Staff Writer on July 5 at Ruidoso when they posted a narrow upset over favored Lightfoot Lil in the First Lady Handicap. Anderson shipped Northern Writer back to Santa Fe to face tough allowance rivals on July 18. After showing early speed in that 6-furlong race, the mare faded to finish fifth. The shorter distance in the Speed Handicap should be more suited to her running style.

Candy Store has only been off the board once in seven appearances this year. The 7-year-old gelding won the Mescalero Apache Handicap two months ago at Ruidoso and finished fifth to Sonic Shecky in the Sierra Blanca Handicap on July 18. Trainer Fred Danley will give the leg-up to Pedro Benitez for Candy Store's bid in the Speed Handicap.

Jockey/Trainer Standings

Jockey Joe Martinez and trainer Jack Brooks cling to narrow leads in the standings at Ruidoso Downs as the mountain track moves into the final five weeks of the 1987 season.

Although Martinez passed his mounts on Sunday and only managed a single win during the previous three days of racing, he continues to hold his spot atop the rider standings with 38 winning mounts this season.

Mike Lidberg has been pressuring Martinez for several weeks and still is only two wins away from catching the leading jockey. Lidberg has made 38 trips to the winner's circle. Jacky Martin is the next closest contender at 32, followed by Glen Murphy with 27 wins.

David Lidberg is tied with Mike Clark and Duane Sterling with 23 wins each. They're followed by Stuart Dolphus and Casey Lambert with 22 wins. Salustio Burgos rounds out the Top 10 with 21.

Dolphus nabbed Jockey of the Week honors booting in five winners over the weekend.

Brooks continues to dominate the saddling paddock with 24 tallies at the meet. Doyal Roberts has been making a run at Brooks and is only a single win from tying the quarter-horse specialist. Fred Danley checks in third with 22 win pictures.

The battle heats up for the next four spots with Dwayne Gilbreath, Cliff Lambert Sr., Hugh Tucker and Brent Davidson each sharing 17 wins.

Bill Leach is next at 16, followed by Lewis Germany and Ozzie Carlton with 11 wins each.

Richard Nolen took the weekly training honors saddling three winners on a single program over the weekend.

Hoofbeats

by MIKE HYMAN

Ruidoso Downs' Twin Trifecta was smashed on Thursday when a dead-heat for first between Thousandsots and Epic Voyage paid $6,212 to five winners. The next two days of racing found the pool for Sunday's program boasting a $31,134 jackpot. One lucky ticket holder who had one exchange for the second-half cashed a $2 straight ticket for the $1 grand.

Next week marks the beginning of the five-day race week at Ruidoso Downs. The five-day weeks will continue until the climax of the season on Labor Day weekend, when programs will be featured Thursday through Monday. Post time has not been changed and will stay at the usual 1 p.m., with the track's admission gates opening at 11 a.m.

Jockey Stuart Dolphus was the man with the luck this weekend. While riding 15 races over four days he had 11 horses finish in the money - 5 winners, 4 seconds, and 2 thirds. The riding fete for Stuart garnered him the Jockey of the Week honors and placed him eighth in the top 10 riders at the meet.

Rocket Raiser won his 6th straight race Saturday afternoon in The Big Profit Handicap. Rocket Raiser is trained and owned by Ozzie Carlton and ridden by Nicky Wilson. The 4-year-old gelding's lifetime earnings were boosted to nearly $21,000 with the Big Profit purse.

Shen gets victory in Wednesday's feature

El Pasoan's Carol and Frank Tiedale sent their Florida-bred speedster Shen out for a wire-to-wire upset over favored Rawcut in Wednesday's feature race at Ruidoso Downs.

Racing at 9-1 odds behind even-money favorite Rawcut, Carlos Rivas took the early lead aboard Shen in Wednesday's feature and was never headed for the remainder of the 5 1/2-furlong journey.

Jockey John Cushing drew alongside the pacesetter as the field rounded the final turn and tried to outrun Shen when the two horses lined up for the drive to the wire.

Rivas got Shen rolling near the eighth pole and drew off in the final furlong to win by three-quarters of a length. The final time over a muddy track was 1:06 2/5. The Tiedales, who claimed Shen in his last race on July 23, earned $1,400 for the front-running victory. Albert Dominguez trains the 7-year-old son of Shenadoah River.

Rawcut's number stayed in the runner-up spot after Cushing filed an objection that was disallowed by the track stewards. Rawcut is trained by William Thompson for owner Ben Peeples of Odessa, Texas.

Kanituck Boom Town checked in third, followed by Sam's Unkie, Amber's Draconic, Pasa's Wink, Whose That Guy and Stash It Now.

Dashing Phoebe tops hopefuls in Gold Cup trials

Two-time national champion Dashing Phoebe makes her bid for the world title this Friday at Ruidoso Downs as she heads a list of 33 veteran quarter horses setting their sights on a starting position in the $250,000 All American Gold Cup.

The 12-race card spotlights four

Proud owners parade pals

Betsy Bassett, the Bellows family dog, surveys the pet-filled scene at the Ruidoso Public Library pet show on Saturday. Betsy was put through her paces by her three young owners, and then sat quietly watching as other dogs, cats, turtles, gerbils and a rabbit took center stage.

On the run to Ruidoso

Phil Price of Phil Price Advertising, Lubbock, Texas, leads a presentation last week at the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce annual banquet at Cree Meadows Country Club. The ad group, the successful bidder to handle this year's chamber ad campaign, presented a campaign based on the slogan "On the Run to Ruidoso," complete with print ads, radio jingle and video display. Also during the meeting, chamber President Barbara DiPaolo announced the winners of the Hn' Zhu' Ne beautification award, James and Phyllis Strathmann of Mountain Annie's.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

Epunoceno Sanchez

Services were held August three at St. Jude's Catholic Church in San Patricio and the San Patricio Cemetery for Epunoceno Sanchez who was called home by our Lord on August one.

E. P. as he was affectionately known by his hosts of friends, was born of a prominent Lincoln County family in the quaint and historic little village of Arabella. Here he made his home where he and his charming and devoted wife raised a family of fine children.

Father Larry Gosselin, in charge of services, said Epunoceno was a true Christian, and that the occasion was one of rejoicing that our well beloved friend has gone on to be welcomed into Heaven by Our Lord.

Pallbearers were: Sunny Sanchez, Frank Chavez, Lloyd Sanchez, Henry Sanchez, Humphrey Sanchez, Billy Sanchez, and Jimmy Rue.

Knowing that E. P. had spent his whole life as a farmer and rancher, Father Gosselin selected the parable of the sower, from the Scriptures, saying that the seed sowed by E. P. had fallen on fertile ground—that all his undertakings in life had been a blessing to others.

Remembering that E. P. as a youth had been a shepherd, and that he had raised sheep all his life, Father Gosselin mentioned the care of sheep being often mentioned in the Scriptures.

"Sheep are child-like creatures, completely dependent upon their shepherds. It is natural that we are often remembered as the sheep of the Lord's pastures."

Father Gosselin went on to explain that E. P.'s life as a sheep rancher had given him an insight into the Christian life, that he was faithful in his care of his sheep, and that this same faithfulness became a central element in his character.

E. P.'s granddaughter, Theresa

Sanchez, daughter of the late and beloved Jimmy Sanchez, presented a eulogy in which she thanked God for the blessing of Epunoceno in her life.

Jennifer Baca, another granddaughter, read the first lesson in the services. And Kateri Sanchez, also a granddaughter, led in the responsive reading of the Psalm.

As a man who lived in close communion with Mother Earth, E. P. was widely accomplished with all things to do with nature and the out-of-doors.

Della Bonnel, postmaster at Glencoe, remembered that E. P. was an artist at making adobe bricks.

Della said people would go over to Arabella to get the specially fine adobes from Epunoceno, for building the home of their dreams.

For many years E. P. had carried the mail from Tinnie to Arabella, faithful in all weather, high water and rough going.

E. P.'s brother Perfecto, for years carried the mail from Tularosa to the Valley. And another brother, Ben, ran a general store and filling station which became a landmark in the Ruidoso Valley.

E. P. was a devout member of the early Church of San Patricio, and later Saint Jude's.

Epunoceno Sanchez will always hold a fond spot in our hearts, and we rejoice that he has gone on to meet loved ones with Our Lord in Heaven.

Rain On The Way

For the last several days the east wind has been blowing through the Vale, and yet this area of the Mountain Land is warm and dry. The rain begins to move in and then wanders away over the horizon.

Today, in mid-afternoon of August four, the clouds are forming in every direction on the horizon—summer cloud pictures and pageants are everywhere to behold: white dream boats, floating air castles, tall white round-topped cloud towers full of rain ready to fall, dark purple and gray cloud masses with curtains of rainbow-tinted rain and mist. Mother Earth is everywhere waiting for the blessing of a rain all through the Mountain Land.

Parks and Rec committee seeks activity ideas

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Committee, along with department director Bobby Bailey, is calling on village citizens to bring activity ideas before the group. "Lots of people will come up to you with ideas," Bailey told members of the new committee during its second meeting Thursday. "We can't just ad lib on everything that's given as ideas," he added.

He suggested inviting people to come to a meeting and present details of their recommendations, including expected costs and a projected number of participants.

"If you do have a viewpoint, please come," invited Bailey. He said the committee meets at 11:30 a.m. the first Wednesday of each month at the Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center. Agenda items should be submitted a week in advance.

"I can think of a lot of activities ... but they might just reach a few people," said committee Chairman James Stephens.

"I just can't have program after program after program dumped on me—I just don't have the staff to support it," said Bailey. He asked committee members to consider the size of the Parks and Recreation Department budget and staff when proposing new projects.

Bailey said getting the most for the money is a goal for his department.

"We're not really concerned with making money ... (we) just want to provide activities," said Bailey. "I'd like to make every one of my programs self-supporting," he Service group learns of solid schedule of events til Oct.

The Service Club Council of Lincoln County (SCC) got together Monday to compare dates for a packed calendar of events that barely slows down between Old Lincoln Days this weekend and the Wursthof on October 17-18.

In her monthly letter to area clubs, President Barbara Duff, who was absent Monday, reminded representatives of the various organizations to call Jill Blanks at 257-4031 when an event is scheduled.

"It is regrettable when organizations schedule too many things for the same day, conflicting with one another and reducing each one's chances for success," said Duff in her letter. She said Blanks keeps a calendar of events on her computer, and can confirm whether the date selected is open.

Lanny Maddox, chairing the meeting, made a pitch for the Billy the Kid Pageant, a part of the Old Lincoln Days celebration Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 7-9, in Lincoln. Maddox, who plays Sheriff Pat Garrett in the pageant, said this year's enactment will continue the long tradition of exciting plays.

Performances are set for 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 3:30 p.m. Sunday, at the pageant grounds in Lincoln.

"Be there early," advised Maddox, warning of huge crowds that swell tiny Lincoln during the yearly commemoration.

Also Monday, Maddox announced a commendation was presented to Walterine Hughes for her continuing work to beautify a park area on Sudderth Drive.

He distributed descriptions of display cases at the Ruidoso Public Library, and explained their availability for use by service clubs. To learn more about the display areas, call 257-4335.

Charlotte Jarratt of the Ruidoso Federated Woman's Club invited everyone to "Fashion Frolics," a brunch and fashion show planned for 9:30 a.m. Saturday, August 8, at Cree Meadows Country Club. She said tickets, $10 each, will be available at the door.

Jarratt announced that Woman's Club Bingo has been discontinued. She said small attendance led the club to cancel the fundraising project.

Jarratt also announced the Mealcare program continues to gain more participants. She said Rio Ruidoso Lionsess Club now sponsors two dinners.

"Everyone has been generous," said Jarratt, adding the program can still use donations.

Volunteers were solicited for Family Crisis Center and the Lincoln County Food Bank.

Other events discussed include: —Lincoln County Fair, August 13-15, at the fair grounds in Capitán.

—Ruidoso Downs Ladies Auxiliary Arts and Crafts Fair, September 4-6, at Ruidoso Downs municipal park. Planners announced having more than 100 entries in the annual fair. Food booths are still needed. For more information call 378-4629, 258-5662 or 378-4396.

—American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) meeting,

10 a.m. September 8, at the Woman's Club. A program on insurance is planned.

—Aspenfest events scheduled October 3-4. Liz Groenendyk, director of the Convention and Visitors Bureau, said groups are being solicited to have food booths at Aspenfest.

"They bought a Ferrari! Things must be going well!"

It's amazing how a speech and hearing disorder can affect the simplest conversation.

If your speech is even slightly impaired, people just might misinterpret what you say. And a little bit of a hearing problem could make an enormous impact on how well you understand what people are saying. Both of which may lead to a confusing end to any conversation. That's why it's important that you be checked. And why the Mountain Bell Foundation is sponsoring free statewide speech and hearing screenings. Coordinated by the Department of Communicative Disorders, University of New Mexico—Albuquerque, these free screenings are designed to identify speech and hearing problems. And, if any are detected, the staff will refer you to further counseling and treatment.

So please make a point of attending the screening when we visit your community. The date and location are listed below. You'll be amazed at what you can find out.

Opinion

Inside the Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE—It is good Fred McCaffrey is 4,000 miles away and will never read this. The time has come to say a few words about the governor and Fred wouldn't like some of them very well.

Fred seemed to find it quite natural to transfer his opinions about Toney Anaya directly to Garrey Carruthers. I have tried to prove this by digging out Fred's old columns and demonstrate that he merely changed the governor's name and reprinted some of the same columns during his last six months but thus far I have been unsuccessful.

True, there are a lot of similarities between Toney and Garrey in addition to not knowing how to spell their first name. Both conducted outstanding underdog campaigns in winning their primary elections. Both projected the vibrant image of young men on the move with lots of marvelous ideas to finally start moving our state quickly in the right direction. Both were going to reform a corrupt system.

Once in office both suffered from inexperience with being governor and from inexperienced staff. Both had problems with their first legislature because of not having been members of that body. Both seemed a little brash and maybe not quite well enough seasoned for the job. These coincidences prompted a few to start referring to the new governor as "Tall Toney" during his first few months.

Most similarities ended there. Anaya was accused of moving his ideas too fast, of being a one-man show and trying to steamroller his programs through the legislature. Carruthers has been accused of not really having many ideas, of suffering from the Gary Hart, "Where's the beef?" syndrome.

That could be true. Only time will tell. Apologists contend the governor is trying to avoid the previous administration's mistakes and proceed a little more slowly with any major changes.

Carruthers has been willing to delegate a lot of responsibility. In his first few months, Anaya insisted on having an unbelievable amount of paperwork cross his desk so he could get a feel of everything that was happening. State government nearly ground to a halt. Our new governor's problems have been the opposite with a few reins having to be pulled in when occurrences such as the party affiliation memo have surfaced.

The most refreshing aspect of the present administration is the governor's willingness to accept blame when he feels it might be due. He told those present at one of his press conferences of a meeting with his staff when he observed that every time the media criticizes his administration there seems to be a good reason to do it.

The governor's staff may wish for a little more administrative support for its actions but if he can get by with what he is doing without massive defections, the rest of us surely appreciate the apparent mature, accountable attitude. It is still early enough in the governor's four-year term that he can get away with admitting beginners mistakes and promising to improve.

Another hint of maturity was the governor's quick switch from an initial angry response about suing the suppliers of the prison electronic security system to a problem-solving mode of "Why don't you see if you can get this thing working for us one more time?"

It is unfortunate that the political parties can't provide the amount of training and support to new governors that they provide to their candidates. The Republican Party did try this for all its new governors last winter after the elections. Carruthers went. The first time he attributed a questionable action to something he had learned at the training session, he caught so much flak for going out of state to learn how to be New Mexico's governor, he has never made such a statement again. It seems there is no substitute for experience.

The time for the honeymoon is about over. The arduous task of appointments must be finished and the 1988 legislative initiatives begun. The jury is still out on the governor's overall performance. There is still plenty of time to have either a distinguished or a disappointing legacy.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

For a number of years, I and my family have enjoyed the spectacular scenery of the Ruidoso area, in addition to its friendly people, unique charm, hospitable atmosphere, and best of all the stimulating horse-racing adventure. Our pleasure has been such that we have purchased a vacation cabin in the area, our summer activities centered around busy weekend trips to the races.

While we realize that management of the track itself and the employees there have undergone changes, we can't help but believe that some changes have not been for the improvement of the horse-racing fan's enjoyment. We miss the former track announcer Bob Dudich. Over the years he has become an integral part of our pleasure at the races. Who can forget those interminable pauses when we were certain he had fallen asleep or undergone some disaster in his perch high above the crowd. He delighted us with his alternating sedate delivery between races and the complete fervored excitement of the contest itself, adding to our own considerable excitement, calling each and every race with such enthusiasm that we became more a part of the activity, rather than mere spectators. The loss of Bob Dudich's expertise and the enchanting quality of his address have diminished our enthusiasm for the sport and we would like to see him back. We are disappointed by his departure, feeling that his absence is a detriment to the sport.

Sincerely,
GEORGE ANN WINDHAM

DEAR EDITOR:

The surrender of American troops in the Philippine Islands at the beginning of World War II has tremendous effect upon the State of New Mexico. I am currently researching the impact the Philippine surrender, and in particular Bataan, had upon the communities of New Mexico—economically, socially, and emotionally. In order to have accurate information, I must know of all New Mexicans who were stationed in the Philippines in late 1941 and early 1942, and their New Mexico hometown.

I have a list of enlisted men in the 200th Coast Artillery as of March 1942, so those names are available to me. Were you (or someone you know/knew) an officer in the 200th, served in another branch of the United States Armed Forces, or a civilian in the Philippines? Please help me in my search by sending me the following information on a postcard: the name of the individual, the branch of service and unit, rank, age in 1941, New Mexico hometown, and if they survived or not (if you don't know all that information, give what you can). This would provide me with valuable information and help ensure that my statistics are as accurate as possible. My address is given below.

You need not be a survivor yourself or a relative of a survivor. If all you can provide is the name, service and hometown, that may be more than I currently have. This period is an important part of New Mexico's history and little has been done about it. Time is now the enemy, for the longer we wait the fewer there are who have first-hand knowledge. Thank you for helping spread the word.

Sincerely,
EVA JANE MATSON

DEAR EDITOR:

I just spent a most unpleasant night, listening to a neighborhood dog bark. This was not a few barks, nor barks of a protective nature; this was two and a half hours of solid barking less two five minute breaks...and, no - there are no bears around here. Actually, I understand the barking started at 1:00 a.m. It did not awaken me until 2:00 a.m....and then it continued until 4:30 a.m.

I cannot believe the owners of this animal could not hear this; I also cannot believe the people living close by (I'm probably a block away) aren't annoyed. Maybe they are and afraid to complain for fear of repercussions. Whatever.

I am very upset regarding the lack of consideration of the dog's owners for other people. Why do these people have a dog? They surely haven't trained it. If they have it for watchdog purposes - it is useless as it barks all the time. Incidentally, it also barks during the day a lot - sometimes for continuous hours - but we try to ignore this.

I have read where continuous barking is an attention getting thing with a dog. We also have some poodles around here that love to bark for usually an hour at a time. They, however, don't start until at least 6 a.m....that is, generally speaking! One time, I got upset, hollered out the window for it to "shut up" and - IT DID!

I simply cannot believe I am the only one in town annoyed by this. What I feel like doing is calling up the people in the middle of the night to let them know their dog is barking, if in fact, they are not aware of it. It would be much nicer if people were just more considerate. How does one handle this without starting a neighborhood feud?????????

What a lineup of activity is in store for Lincoln County over the next month!

This weekend, we'll thrill to the excitement of Old Lincoln Days. The Last Escape of Billy the Kid Pageant highlights the weekend with shows Friday and Saturday nights and an afternoon performance Sunday at 3:30. A fiddler's competition, parade, frontier demonstrations and more promise to take the visitor back to the days of the Wild West.

The flavor of the West continues next week as the Lincoln County Fair spotlights the best of the county in livestock, cooking and other contests at the fairgrounds in Capitán. Dates for the fair are Thursday through Saturday, August 13-15.

On Sunday, August 23, Ruidoso Downs Race Track will host the All American Gold Cup, a 440-yard competition for the fastest four-year-olds around. Estimated purse for the Grade I event is $400,000.

The following weekend features the $1.3 million estimated purse All American Derby, the second richest race of the season. The Sunday, August 30, event will feature the premier three-year-olds in a 440-yard sprint.

Labor Day weekend begins with the Ruidoso Downs Ladies Auxiliary Arts and Crafts Fair, a 100-artist extravaganza under the big top in the park across from Ruidoso Downs Village Hall. Dates for the fair are Friday through Sunday, September 4-6.

Also Labor Day weekend, three top-notch races will be run at Ruidoso Downs Race Track. Saturday's action features the six-furlong Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity, which sports an estimated purse of $140,000 for two-year-olds. Sunday's program will be highlighted by the Ruidoso Mile Handicap, a contest for three-year-olds with a $30,000 guaranteed purse plus an $8,000 Breeders' Cup Premium Award.

The month is capped by the traditional end-of-summer event, the running of the All American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs on Labor Day, Monday, September 7. The frontrunning two-year-old quarter horses in the nation will go head-to-head in the race, which features a whopping $2.53 million guaranteed purse with $1 million going to the winner.

Event after event, the next month will showcase the best in entertainment, Lincoln County style. Don't miss it!—DJP
