

Village councillor resigns; weed control measure takes root

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

There was an empty chair at the council table Tuesday, and before the regular meeting was over, Ruidoso Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. read aloud a letter of resignation from Councillor Ray Dean Carpenter.

According to the letter, Carpenter resigned because his position as the head of New Mexico Masons requires a great deal of time and travel. Carpenter was out of town Wednesday, and unavailable for comment.

Tuesday's meeting was characterized by confusion over procedure with Mayor Davis and the council getting bogged down in the process of passing motions, with and without seconds, and amendments to the motions.

"The clowns met again and the circus started," quipped the mayor during discussions over a proposed weed control ordinance that was amended and adopted with Councillor Victor Alonso casting the lone dissenting vote.

Agreeing with Alonso's contention that the ordinance will be unenforceable, Councillor Jerry Shaw joined fellow councillors Elmer Pirelli, Larry Simon and J.D. James in passing it. "We sit here and create these monsters," said Shaw, recalling the hours of debates that led to a leash law that she said is largely unenforced.

The weed control ordinance makes it unlawful "to allow weeds, grass, bushes, deleterious, noxious or unhealthful growths to lie, grow or be located upon" property in the village. The amendment, offered by Alonso, excepts property which has never been developed and is existing in its natural state.

Councillors discussed whether the ordinance is enforceable, and what will be considered a weed.

"You know what I wonder is what ever happened to common sense," said village attorney John Underwood. "It's easy ... it's very simple," he added. "You have weeds or you don't have weeds ... I don't think it's necessary to make it complicated."

Before Alonso moved to kill the ordinance, and later added the amendment, Underwood suggested he "move to Albuquerque where you don't have that problem."

"I resent that," responded Alonso.

In a separate matter, where a citizen was asking for compensation for a village street that passes over her property, Underwood suggested the council "instead of being 'legal-legal' be 'win-win'" and say "enjoy ... or move to San Antonio where you have curbs and gutters."

"I have a problem with you saying if people don't like it here move to San Antonio," inserted Councillor J.D. James, but Underwood said what James heard wasn't what he said.

Theresa Walker told the council that village employees cut down trees on her property two years ago as they were preparing to improve the street where it is built on her property rather than on the platted right of way. She asked for $2,000 in compensation—50 cents a square foot for the property and just over $400 for the trees.

Councillors were reluctant to set such a precedent, noting the many such cases within the village. The council opposed a motion to pay Walker, with Alonso and James voting in the affirmative, and instead opted to adopt a policy based on prescriptive easement.

The policy, as described by Underwood, will state that if a road has been used for a certain length of time, and the property owner was cognizant of that road then "that's a road and we're not going to buy that road from you."

"It doesn't seem fair," said Walker.

"Then sell it," replied Underwood.

A heated exchange between

Underwood and Walker was interrupted as Alonso suggested discussions be between Mrs. Walker and the council, noting the village attorney doesn't have a vote.

Also Tuesday, village manager Frank Potter reported on negotiations with Bill Rawlins to acquire five feet of right of way to improve the first Upper Canyon bridge. Potter suggested a property exchange between Rawlins, who owns Ruidoso Lodge, and the village. When Rawlins said he disagreed with that plan, Potter recommended initiating condemnation proceedings to get the bridge redone.

But the council told Potter to continue his discussions, and report back at the next meeting.

"We tried ... I've been up there many times," said Potter, but Rawlins said the village manager needs to listen as well as talk. The council, after some confusion over the motion, instructed Potter, the village engineer and the attorney to enter into negotiations with Rawlins.

"I'd hate to see what you write about this meeting," said Councillor Pirelli to The News reporter as the council finally settled on a motion.

"I wouldn't worry about it, she'll never get it straight," responded the mayor.

In other regular business the council:

—Authorized village staff to proceed with the legal requirements of establishing a paving assessment district for Pinecliff, Town and Country North and the streets on a list in the village clerk's office. The council also OK'd researching the availability of funding sources for providing sewer in those areas.

—Unanimously approved transferring a dispenser's (liquor) license at 721 Mechem Drive and a retailer's (liquor) license at 205 U.S. Highway 70 from Safeway to Furr's Beverage Company of Texas.

—Adopted a resolution changing village pay periods from twice monthly to every other Friday.

—Adopted a joint powers agreement with Lincoln County authorizing the village building inspector to issue building permits and perform building inspections at the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport. Councillors turned down a request by Ruidoso Municipal Airport manager Tim Morris to waive permit fees on the project.

—Awarded a bid for animal shelter to the Humane Society of Lincoln County, the sole bidder at $2,000 a month. Potter said he'll advertise for bids on a vehicle and hire an animal control officer, reminding the mayor and council of previous discussions on that subject.

—Awarded the bid on portable transceivers to the low bidder, Francis Communications. Purchasing agent Fonda McClains provided information showing that four bids were received, with Francis the lowest at $11,209.60 for 20 units. Other bids listed were: Alpha Communications, $16,600; Lincoln Communications, $14,420; and K-C Marketers, $16,810.

Man is killed

Lincoln County law enforcement officers are investigating a homicide that was discovered about 7 p.m. Tuesday in Glencoe on the Storm Ranch.

The News has learned that a man in his mid 20s to early 30s, whose name has not yet been released pending a positive identification, apparently was beaten to death. An automobile raced from the scene of the homicide to Ruidoso Downs Police Department, where a man and a woman reported a murder had occurred. A few minutes later, at 7:18 p.m., Downs police logged a telephone call also reporting the incident.

"The alleged homicide resulted in the death of a male victim," said Harry Wilcox Jr., senior trial prosecutor for the 12th Judicial District Attorney's (DA) office.

Deputy medical investigator Jim Stover said the man was pronounced dead at 8:24 p.m.

A 25-year-old suspect, John Richard Baudino, is in custody at the Lincoln County Jail on an open charge of murder, said Wilcox. He said Baudino, whose address is unknown, was booked into the jail shortly after midnight Tuesday.

"Mr. Baudino did voluntarily consent to speak to Sheriff (Don) Samuels after being advised of his legal rights," said Wilcox.

"I'm unable to confirm or deny the use of a deadly weapon," answered Wilcox, when questioned over the manner of death in the homicide. "I can't say if a weapon was taken as evidence," he added. Wilcox, who was at the murder scene late Tuesday night, said he hadn't reviewed any of the physical evidence by late Wednesday afternoon.

Wilcox said he and Samuels decided to summon the New Mexico State Police crime lab to process the scene for forensic evidence. He said the lab arrived at about 3 a.m. Wednesday and gathered evidence for a report that should be available to the DA soon.

Wilcox said the investigation will continue with formal charges to be filed within a few days. He also revealed plans to call a Lincoln County grand jury in two weeks.

The man's body has been sent to Albuquerque for an autopsy.

Although the name is expected to change in early November at Ruidoso's two Safeway stores, apparently the faces will stay the same if an agreement worked out between Safeway workers' union negotiators and representatives of Furr's is finalized. Furr's announced August 14 it would buy the grocery stores in Safeway's El Paso Division, which includes Ruidoso.

Safeway staff may stay Proposed deal ensures jobs after takeover

by DARRELL J. PEHR

Workers at Ruidoso's two Safeway stores will be able to retain their current jobs when Furr's supermarkets takes over in November, if votes by union members around the state continue to be positive and final negotiations between Furr's and the union go as expected.

A meeting Tuesday night in Ruidoso of Safeway workers here resulted in an "overwhelming" favorable vote to ratify a proposed agreement reached by representatives of the United Food and Commercial Workers Union Local 1564 and Furr's representatives.

According to union President J.E. "Eddie" Eyer, the tentative agreement proposes that present Safeway employees across the state will keep their jobs and their seniority status when Furr's takes over Safeway stores in the El Paso Division (which includes Ruidoso's two Safeways), expected to be about November 7.

"Qualified Safeway employees will have preferred status for hiring by Furr's—in other words, they will be first in line to get their old jobs back under the new employer, with most of their seniority rights protected," Eyer said in a press release. He added that most employees will be retained at present salary levels or higher. Some will be retained at reduced levels. He said Furr's will make the determination of salary levels.

"It's hard to describe it as a victory," Eyer said in a Tuesday interview. But he pointed out that in two other instances when Furr's bought out grocery chains—in Corpus Christi and Dallas, Texas—all employees were terminated upon takeover.

"To that extent, it's an excellent agreement," Eyer said of the Safeway proposal.

Union members across the state voted this week on the proposal, and Eyer said most areas responded heavily for the agreement. Final tallies will be made Friday or Saturday at Local 1564 headquarters in Albuquerque. If the results show ratification of the agreement, as Eyer expects, union negotiators will then meet again with Furr's representatives to draw up formal contracts.

The tentative agreement was the result of weeks of negotiations capped by an all-night bargaining session Friday. Union and Furr's representatives finalized the agreement about 11:15 a.m. Saturday in Albuquerque.

Eyer praised Furr's President Jan Friederich, who Eyer said negotiated "honestly and honorably."

"Our agreement has struck a fair balance among the needs of all the parties concerned, and in particular has provided a reasonable level of job security for the employees of Safeway," he added.

The sale of the El Paso Division of Safeway to Furr's was announced August 14 after Furr's reached an agreement with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

The sale involves 39 Safeway stores in New Mexico and 20 Safeway stores in West Texas. Under the FTC agreement, Furr's will divest itself of 10 New Mexico and two West Texas stores. New Mexico communities in which Furr's must sell either the Safeway or Furr's include Alamogordo, Artesia, Clovis, Hobbs, Las Vegas, Lovington, Portales, Roswell and Silver City.

FTC requires that a 30-day period be provided for public comment after Furr's makes arrangements for divestiture, and since no arrangements yet have been made to sell the 10 New Mexico stores, Eyer believes the actual takeover date may be later in November than the expected November 7 closing date.

School board sets special meeting

The Ruidoso Board of Education has scheduled a special meeting on Wednesday, October 21, at the Ruidoso Middle School Library. The meeting will begin at noon to discuss the lack of enrollment in Ruidoso schools, subsequent funding problems and the appropriate procedures that need to be taken to remedy this problem.

O-Bar-O case subject of legal entanglement

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

"It is my understanding that there is a delicate balance between federal and state law," said Harry Wilcox Jr., senior trial prosecutor for the 12th Judicial District Attorney's office.

Wilcox was discussing court actions between the United States Forest Service (USFS) and the State of New Mexico arising from a complaint filed by a Lincoln County rancher after she arrested two USFS employees and charged them with trespassing on her posted land, the O-Bar-O Ranch.

Carrizozo rancher Carolyn Leitzman on August 19 arrested two USFS workers and transported them in her vehicle to the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office. She filed complaints naming the two, Mario Ramirez and Lindberg Abney.

"A criminal action has been brought against the defendants Mario Ramirez, Lindberg Abney and the U.S. Forest Service in Magistrate Court for the County of Lincoln, State of New Mexico," said Wilcox. Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean scheduled a first appearance hearing in that case for last week, but before that date arrived a motion was filed in Albuquerque to remove the action to federal court, according to official records.

The U.S. Attorney's office also filed a motion for a continuance of the Magistrate Court action, asking the court to delay the first appearance hearing pending a determination of the petition for removal.

The District Attorney's office has been served notice to appear at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, October 22, in federal court in Albuquerque for a first appearance and arraignment on the petition of removal, said Wilcox Friday.

He said "the removal from our state, although pursuant to federal statute, is improvident." Upon the federal court taking jurisdiction, Wilcox revealed plans to file a motion to remand it back to state court where he believes it belongs.

"I will ask the federal court to abstain and to avoid the hazard of unsettling some delicate balance in the area of state and federal relationships," said Wilcox. He cited a court case that offers legal precedent for abstention.

Wilcox noted the substantive law at trial will be state law, even though the federal court will apply its own law on procedural matters.

Leitzman, whose action instigated the court battles, has said she is simply "fed up" with USFS employees trespassing on private land. She just wants that practice stopped, regardless of in which court.

Homecoming means memories and more

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Homecoming always is a big event on the Ruidoso High School campus, and this year's celebration could be even bigger.

The school (in different buildings) has been in operation for 40 years.

Ruidoso will have its homecoming Friday, October 16. The king and queens will be crowned at 7 p.m. at W.D. Horton Stadium before the Warrior football game with St. Pius.

"I'd say it's one of the biggest events of the school year, along with the prom," said Ruidoso principal Tom Hansen. "I'd say on campus, it hasn't changed much the past two or three years."

"But this year the booster club has been trying to get the alumni more involved than before. They're trying to get more older people involved this year."

There will be a bonfire in Ruidoso State Bank's free parking area on Sudderth Drive at 7:30 tonight (Thursday), October 15, along with a homecoming dance for Warrior students and recent alumni at the high school following the football game.

Former Warrior football players are being asked to begin lining up on the football field at 7 p.m. Friday to form a victory line for the present Warriors.

Older Warrior alumni and friends wearing homecoming registration tags will be special guests at The Barn beginning at 9 p.m. Saturday, October 17.

There also will be an ice cream social from noon to 1 p.m. before the undefeated Warrior volleyball team's match with Deming.

Former alumni can register at the gate to the football game or at a reception in the public meeting room from 9:30 to 11 p.m. at the high school.

"We're trying to get a record of every graduate from every class, where they live and what their phone number is," said Hansen. "In that way, we can get reunions together better."

The homecoming festivities involve a majority of the students, according to Hansen.

"Probably about 300 of the 520 students usually attend the dance," he said. "We've had real good spirit the past two or three years."

"The building of the new school (in 1984) and the fact we had a state championship football team probably have contributed to that."

So look for a better-than-ever homecoming this year.

White Mountain Schools ready for Halloween

The White Mountain Schools will be having their Halloween Carnival on Friday, October 30, at the schools' gymnasium.

The elementary school's part will take place from 8:45 to 11 a.m.; the intermediate school will take over from 1 p.m. till dismissal.

This year, the parents will be in charge of staffing the booths, running the concessions and supervising various activities.

Everyone will be in costume, and all parents are invited to attend. Admission is free, but tickets must be purchased for games and concessions.

Historic county sites to be study topic

The historic buildings and communities of five southern New Mexico counties, including Lincoln, are to be the focus of a study funded by the Historic Preservation Division of the State Office of Cultural Affairs.

The division has awarded a grant to architectural historian Chris Wilson to conduct the study in Dona Ana, Otero and Lincoln counties and eastern Sierra and southeastern Socorro counties.

"This study will provide the first general overview of the history and historic architecture of the area," said Mary Ann Anders, architectural historian with the Preservation Division. "It will expand upon what we already have learned from the historic building survey of Las Cruces and from the National Register nominations on individual properties and historic districts in Lincoln, White Oaks, Tularosa, La Luz and Mesilla." The study will also discuss priorities for future historic preservation activities.

This week, a questionnaire to help identify historic resources in the area is being mailed to more than 100 area organizations and individuals. They will be asked to identify unregistered historic communities and buildings which deserve recognition. A draft of the study will be presented at a public conference in May, at a time and place to be determined at a later date.

The project team members, in addition to Wilson, include former State Historian Stanley Hordes and historic archaeologist Henry Walt.

"We will synthesize the existing writing on the history and archaeology of the region, and conduct a number of field studies of local architecture," said Wilson. Students at the University of New Mexico School of Architecture and Planning will participate in the architectural studies. Wilson, who is Adjunct Assistant Professor of Architecture and Planning at the university, has previously conducted architectural studies in Las Vegas, Mogollon, the Mimbres Valley and Albuquerque.

Downs trustees table CDBG loan request

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Editor

The proposal of a former Ruidoso Downs trustee to participate in a Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program faced another delay during the Tuesday meeting of the Ruidoso Downs Trustees.

Conrad Buchanan's proposal to participate in the CDBG gap-financing program, which provides loans to businesses through local governments to spark economic development in communities, was narrowly approved two weeks ago to be sent to the Community Development Council (CDC) in Santa Fe.

But at Tuesday's meeting, Mayor J.C. "Jake" Harris reminded trustees the motion they actually passed was approved on the condition that the proposal met all regulations of the program. When Harris called Steve Massey, of the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District, he said Massey indicated the application did not yet meet the regulations.

"So in effect, it means you disapproved the application," Harris told the trustees.

Trustees agreed after some discussion, and further talk centered around whether the village would be liable for the loans. Despite Buchanan's suggestion that problem areas with the proposal could be worked out once the application reaches Santa Fe, trustees still insisted on waiting until written documentation can be secured clearing the village of liability for the loan.

The request was tabled, with the possibility left open of having a special meeting to reconsider the application.

The proposal has been under discussion for almost a year. Trustees also have questioned it in the past because Buchanan is not eligible to participate due to his status as a recent elected official. He intends to seek a waiver from the CDC on that requirement.

In other business, the trustees: —Voted to hire Kent Eaker as sanitation driver.

—Voted to send village clerk Jean Stillman to election school in Albuquerque.

—Approved the animal control report. Trustees also learned from Trustee Wilma Webb that a child was bitten on the way home from school by a white dog with black spots.

—Accepted the Fire Department report after learning department members spoke to schoolchildren during Fire Prevention Week.

—Heard Trustee Leonard Bergeron speak of the necessity of purchasing a pre-hike kit for one of the fire trucks. Trustees asked Bergeron to provide documentation on the effectiveness of the device.

—Heard Harris read a letter of commendation of Downs Police Chief Skip Hazel from Larry Martin, who sent a check for $30.

—Accepted the Municipal Court report and learned Judge Harold Mansell and Debbie Floyd have just completed a training course via video.

—Heard Harris proclaim Saturday, October 24, as United Nations Day.

Commission: Airport buildings will get Ruidoso inspections

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

A special meeting of the Lincoln County Commissioners in Carrizozo Tuesday saw commissioners consider a joint powers agreement with the Village of Ruidoso.

The agreement, adopted by unanimous vote of the commissioners, requires that buildings constructed at the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport be inspected using Ruidoso standards and by a Ruidoso building inspector. According to the commissioners, Ruidoso codes and standards are "more stringent" than state codes.

Commission members stated that they hoped the inspection fees would be waived for expedition of the building; however, at the Ruidoso Village Council meeting later that night, it was voted not to waive the inspection fees.

Commissioner Ralph Dunlap asked ed Ruidoso Airport Manager Tim Morris if there was any truth in the rumor that there was too much caliche in the earth to enable the airport to meet federal standards.

Morris replied that he, too, had heard the rumor but that current load bearing specifications rate the airport land at being able to take 3,200 pounds per square inch of pressure. Standards demand 2,000 pounds per square inch, so the Sierra Blanca Airport land is, according to Morris, well above standards.

In other business, county road engineer Joe Shane presented an update on the Alto road project and asked commission authorization to purchase 90 grade oil for sealing of the roads. He said that it would result in an $11,000 savings, which could be diverted into culverts.

The commission gave him their approval.

County commissioners Bill Karn, John Hightower and Ralph Dunlap take a turn sitting in the audience at the County courthouse hearing room as Ruidoso Judge Bill Payne hears protest testimony from New Mexico Neilsons, Inc. on Tuesday.

Airport road Company protests bidding procedure

Ruidoso Municipal Judge Bill Payne sat as designated hearing officer as New Mexico Neilsons, Inc., presented their protest against the second bid letting procedure for the contract for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport access road.

New Mexico Neilsons, Inc., claimed that the specifications and contract documents for the airport access road conflict with New Mexico state law. According to company President Chris Eastin, the "Instructions to Bidder" portion of the documents require the bidder to include all applicable taxes in his or her bid amount. Effective June 19, 1987, the Procurement Code in Section 13-1-108 of state law requires that bids exclude gross receipts or local option taxes, it was learned.

The company was entitled to a hearing in accordance with Supplemental Specification 103.021, "Bidding Dispute Resolution Procedure." Lincoln County manager Suzanne Cox was designated chief highway administrator, and then designated Judge Payne to hear the grievance.

New Mexico Neilsons, Inc., was represented by attorney Frank Salazar of Albuquerque, who claimed that the second letting of the bid was made necessary by "ambiguities in the first bidding procedure," and that bids should be relet due to conflict between the procedure instructions and state law.

"What we have here is a material violation of state code," said Salazar.

Judge Payne asked what harm had come to New Mexico Neilsons, Inc., through the second bidding procedure, since all bidders followed bidding instructions. Twin Mountain Rock of Albuquerque had been awarded the bid.

"I'm not an attorney, and I don't have a bunch of fancy words," stated Twin Mountain Rock representative Mark Massmann, reiterating Payne's question. "We bid according to instructions, just like New Mexico Neilsons. I don't see what harm has been done to Neilsons through the procedure."

Judge Payne stated that he sees no ambiguities in the second bid letting.

"We believe state code requires nothing less than a third rebidding," insisted attorney Salazar.

Attorney Michael McCormick, representing the county, stated that there was no ambiguity or inconsistency in the second bidding.

Judge Payne declared that he will notify all interested parties within the next two days with his decision.

Following Plato with just three incorrect picks were Trevor Cox and Ronald Servles.

Group arranges foreign exchanges

A representative of American Field Services (AFS), a student exchange program, will be in Ruidoso Monday.

Ruidoso resident Jacquelyn Collins said the representative will be available to explain AFS to interested students and their families.

Collins, herself an AFS exchange student at one time, said the two key words to describe AFS are "school and family." She said AFS offers a one-year or a summer program, and young people who participate in either plan stay with just one family in one of 53 countries throughout the period.

"It's not for travel—sometimes you travel and sometimes you don't," said Collins. The program, coordinated in the United States by a network of volunteers, is not a direct exchange.

Participants must be good students, and are selected through an extensive interview process, said Collins. She said the students pay their own way, but scholarships are available.

Collins invites anyone interested in AFS, either as an exchange student or a host family, to call her at 258-3540.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

Solo Vino Goes To Meet Shady Logan

On January seventeen, 1963, just at sundown I crossed the ice at the crossing and began walking home, leaving the pickup on the highway side.

On December twenty-four, 1962, our father Lynn Whippo Storm had been called Home by Our Lord.

On January sixteen, 1963, the temperature had gone down to seventeen below, the coldest I have seen here at the place. Just as I reached the house, the sun went down behind the hill, and like a blow from a hammer the cold fell upon the vale; and as I looked at the house a chill fell also upon my spirit. I looked at the house. Neither Mother nor Father came to the door. The most lonesome moment of my life was upon me, and I hesitated to go in the house, bitter cold though it was outside.

Just then I heard a little dog voice: "Yap, Yap"; and here at the front door next to a snowbank was a tiny half gold colored puppy about a month old with a white stream on his forehead. He looked at me a moment, and as I approached he came wagging his tail and rolling over and over in the snow with delight.

He had been raised up at the Buckhorn, just up the way along with nine brothers and sisters. His mother was a Scotch Collie, with almost human intelligence and the extra intuitive knowledge of dogs.

This little child of hers had come all the way over crossing on the ice and somehow miraculously jumping the chasm of about five feet between the shores of ice on both sides.

From his actions later I knew the puppy was half Coyote, and at first sight, it was clear that he was overjoyed that he had completed a mission, a pilgrimage.

Suddenly the cold and lonesomeness was gone and there glowed within me something new in my life—a great revelation that this little dog had been sent from Heaven by Our Lord to cheer me—that he was a Little Spirit Dog. This he proved during fourteen years with me night and day. He rode the pickup wherever I went, and was widely known throughout Lincoln County.

"He Came Alone All By Himself"

In late 1975 up near the front gate four black puppies appeared near the highway. When I approached they would run. The two largest ones wandered off, and probably found homes. The smallest stayed over across the creek, making his living I don't know how. He just went wild, living off the land.

About the tenth of October, 1976, an early snowstorm blew into the valley, and in mid-morning there appeared at the yard gate a black dog, skin and bone, wandering, dazed and stumbling in the blizzard. When I went out he limped down to the barn. When I went down he lay there looking at me with yellow eyes, much as I say, "Thank God."

I gave him milk and dog food, and from that moment he had a home. Shady accepted him in friendship, something new for Shady, because he never had welcomed a dog on the place up to that time.

Perhaps Shady had whispered to the black dog: "I am glad you are here, because I am not long for this world. So you take care of The Ridge Runner." Shady showed signs of failing, through the next days, and on December twenty-six, 1976, he was called Home.

Faithful Solo Vino

My life-long friend Mike Gonzales named the dog "Solo Vino" which is Spanish for, "He Came Alone" or "He Journeyed By Himself". He was faithful to the charge given to him by Shady; for he never in eleven years left the place, but had a circle of his own territory with a radius of a half mile.

He was a perfect watch dog, staying home all the time. He refused to ride in a car, perhaps because as a pup he had been carried in one to be left homeless.

About the first of October this faithful friend began to fail. And after care by Dr. Lynn Willard, and several days at home here, on October ten, eleven years almost to the day since he came here, he was called Home by Our Lord.

Mike Gonzales who gave him his name and his wife, Crescenciana, helped with his funeral held October twelve by making a little casket, and helping select the location for his grave, close by Shady's, at the Storm Ranch Cemetery.

So now Solo Vino has gone on after serving faithfully, a beloved companion and protector, to be welcomed into Heaven by his friend, Shady Logan.

Superintendent of schools counters News account

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

Superintendent of Capitan Schools Scott Childress directed much of his presentation to the news media at the regular Board of Education meeting October 8.

Dr. Childress, apparently perceiving that a Ruidoso News feature story about him placed him in a negative light, tried to explain what a written curriculum is in contrast to a delivered curriculum by using "The Superintendent's Relations With the News Media" as an example.

Through process of documentation, Childress began his curriculum model citing that, as an example, a particular news story about the superintendent might have listed his previous address as being from "Bloomington" instead of "Bloomfield," and therefore the reader would assume the entire report to be inaccurate. This would start the model with unsatisfactory relations between the superintendent and the media, Childress said.

However, he stated, there might actually be some truth in the rest of the story. Since the curricular goal of the written model was to be "positive news coverage," there were several methods to achieve this end, including the superintendent memorizing pat answers to all possible questions directed to him, "like politicians do."

Childress intended this example to be used as an illustration to the Board of Education. "There are differences in curriculum, and written curriculum," explained Childress. "Written curriculum contains strategies on how to teach certain objectives. A written curriculum has scope and sequence, so as not to have gaps in the process."

Addressing the board, Childress said, "I'm not saying that we don't have a curriculum. Of course we have a curriculum. We've had a curriculum for a hundred years."

Childress then said that Capitan schools always score among the highest in the state, and directed the Ruidoso News reporter at the meeting to "get this down."

In other business, the board approved the payment of outstanding bills, approved the agenda, approved Childress' supervisory model, approved the Activity Transportation Contract and approved the Senate Memorial 45, stipulating that no transcendental meditation or occult shall be taught. "Not in Capitan schools," emphasized board President James McDaniel.

The board also approved the revised teacher termination policy, modeled after the Alamogordo policy. It had been approved by a committee of teachers' representatives, although many individual teachers had not yet seen the policy. There was a November 20 deadline for the policy to be sent to the State for official filing, and the board elected to approve it although some members had not yet had a chance to read through it thoroughly.

Architect Jim French presented a report on the progress of the athletic field, stating for the press that "everything is going smoothly." The site work is almost complete, some reseeded will have to wait till spring on account of weather conditions this fall, and the new track surface has an "exciting laydown."

There is still a problem, however, with the football field lighting. Some of the lights have burned out and will have to be replaced and realigned in order to achieve the desired footcandle rating. French stated that there would be more floodlights installed, tentatively this week.

The board has had, and continues to have, serious reservations about the lighting system in that there is no way to change burned out or damaged bulbs locally. School Board President McDaniel stated that the only company with a truck equipped to change the lights is in Amarillo, Texas, and charges $75 per hour from the time they leave their facility until the time the truck returns. "We have to be able to change those lights," mandated McDaniel, suggesting that spikes be installed on the poles for access.

French said that he would look into the matter.

Vickie Hall made a presentation to the board suggesting that classes and programs for gifted or accelerated students be instituted into the Capitan system. "Some of our kids are bored and need something more challenging," she said. "We help those students who don't have special education, but we don't have anything for the gifted students."

Dr. Childress explained that any changes in the program would not take place until the next budgetary year, and said that he would consider the suggestion and report on it at the regular December meeting.

The board was informed of Jim Ann Rasco's early leave of maternity absence, that his driver Roger Garner would soon resign and would be replaced by Billy Mowell, and that enrollment in Capitan schools has remained stable.

This was one of Capitan's entries in the recent Aspenfest Parade in Ruidoso on Sudderth Drive. Also featured in the parade was Capitan were its firetruck, football team and cheerleaders.

Griego attends leadership conference

Gina Griego, a junior at Capitan High School, participated in Student Body Peer Education Training during the 1987 National Leadership Meeting of Future Homemakers of America, held in Washington, D.C. from July 20-23.

Student Body is a national education program of Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by several corporations including the National Dairy Board. The convention featured hands-on workshops including teaching methods and learning to use computers and videos. Griego will now be able to inform her peers how to eat right, be fit and feel good about themselves, according to a news release.

Peer education is teen-to-teen communication. Student body peer educators help others understand how mental and physical health depends on decisions they make today in terms of nutrition and exercise.

Griego will give workshops in different schools on the motivational-nutritional diet of athletes, informing players on different aspects of health and nutrition, such as what to eat before the game, and how to motivate themselves.

She is the president of the Capitan Future Homemakers of America/HERO state association. Her parents are Mary and Nick Skogland, and Laura Jones is the Capitan chapter advisor.

Other topics covered during the four-day leadership sessions include teen-age pregnancy, substance abuse, fitness, family relationships, teen stress and suicide, AIDS prevention, community service, and intercultural communications.

Future Homemakers of America is a national vocational student organization of about 315,000 home ec students through grade 12.

Trustees join Economic Development Corp.

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

The Capitan Board of Trustees played a full house at their regular meeting Tuesday night, and voted to become Class A members of the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County (EDCLC).

"I feel it's a step forward, and I don't think we should be left out," stated Trustee Norman Renfro. The vote was unanimous, except for Trustee David Rouleau, who had been called away by a medical emergency and therefore did not vote.

Ronnie Paulger and Buddy Bundick of the EDCLC made a presentation, promising to promote Capitan as an entity in its dealings with potential developers, rather than just highlighting Ruidoso. "The county itself is a member," explained Paulger. "We are committed to the economic development of the entire county."

When questioned by trustees as to how the corporation will spend its membership money, Paulger replied that it would be put to use printing brochures and questionnaires to potential developers. "We're a real conservative-spending group," Paulger explained. "We're a don't-spend-much-money organization."

"$200 is not a bad investment," commented Mayor Benny Coker. "I feel Capitan is an area that will be growing. And as far as Ruidoso goes, whether or not we'll all admit it, we need Ruidoso, and Ruidoso needs us."

The trustees also voted on which phases to pursue next for the Capitan water project. Engineer Jack Adkins was present and explained all the options, which are as follows:

—Phase I-A: Redo the 100,000 gallon storage tank behind the school, and build a new 200,000 gallon surface water treatment steel tank (cost estimated at between $100,000 and $200,000)

—Phase I-B: Build a booster system to get groundwater to the upper elevation storage tank, and pipeline design (cost estimated at between $100,000 and $200,000)

—Phase II: Refurbish current booster plant

—Phase III: Drill an additional well east of Capitan, to serve the community's water needs during repair of the original system

—Phase IV: Looping and pipe network and fire hydrants

—Phase V: Purchase of additional water rights.

The trustees, after hearing public opinion input, voted to proceed on Phases I A and B, and Phase II. Discussion on future phases will take place at an appropriate time.

Water supervisor Terry Cox reported that the current water situation in the village is in good shape. "Everything right now is working fine," he said.

The Planning and Zoning Commission submitted two plans to the trustees, drawn up by architect Jim French, to deal with the water runoff from the school athletic field that streams down Fourth Street. Lou Medrano of the state Highway Department appeared to answer questions.

"I am very surprised that no provision was made in the design of the (athletic field) facility itself to control water flow," he said.

Mayor Coker explained that this year's flooding was a surprise to everyone, including Capitan Schools and architect French.

Trustees elected to review both plans, and declared that provisions will be made for this problem in the near future. Medrano offered the highway department's help if needed. He also said that the department would work out a new school crosswalk, so that students are not led straight into a drainage ditch when they cross the street in front of the school.

Mayor Coker informed the group of his plans to attend the National Rural Water Conference in Charleston, South Carolina, October 20-22. The trustees voted to pay for his airfare and registration fees.

Mayor Coker asked for input from the audience and listened to several people state opinions on the state of things. "I'd like to thank everybody for coming out tonight," he said in conclusion.

It was mistakenly reported that Superintendent of Capitan Schools Scott Childress and Capitan School Librarian Jacques Childress came to Capitan from Bloomington, New Mexico. (The name of their prior residence is actually Bloomfield, which is just east of Farmington. The News regrets the error.)

Gridders to host high-flying Sartans

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School's varsity football team will take a break from District 3-AAA play when the Warriors host St. Pius in the homecoming game Friday, October 16.

The game will start at 7:30 p.m. Ruidoso is 1-5 on the season and 0-1 in district play.

The Sartans are 4-1 on the season and are ranked fifth in the latest Associated Press AAA-division state poll.

"They run out of several formations, particularly the I with the slot," said Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson. "They pass a lot, in fact, better than anyone we've faced so far."

George Koury, a 160-pound junior, is the St. Pius quarterback. The Sartans also run out of a five-man front.

"That's something we're excited about," Henderson said. "Silver City does a lot of passing and they also run out of the five-man front a lot."

"So we feel this game could help us get ready for Silver City."

The Warriors will host Silver Friday, October 23, in the next District 3-AAA game.

The Warriors will again go with Michael Swanner at quarterback.

Other members of the backfield will be Rusty Shelton at tailback, Jeff Sherwood and Kenny Trapp at fullback and Michael Dickinson and Dusty Beavers at wingback. Matthew Griego also could see a lot of action at tailback.

Tackle Steve Terry is the biggest Warrior offensive lineman at 6-3, 210 pounds.

Leading the Warrior defense will be Sherwood at middle linebacker, Griego and Beavers on the outside, Sean Moore at end and Shawn Mowdy at tackle.

"We feel we haven't had our best game yet," Henderson said. "We're looking for our best game and also to enjoy playing football."

Following are the probable Warrior starters on offense and defense (class and weight included).

Offense: Quarterback, Swanner, junior, 155; fullback, Sherwood, senior, 172, or Trapp, sophomore, 160; tailback, Shelton, senior, 175; wingback, Beavers, junior, 165, or Dickinson, senior, 140.

Defense: Middle linebacker, Sherwood, or Turner; outside linebackers, Beavers and Griego, senior, 165.

Ends, Moore, senior, 175, and Trapp; tackles, Mowdy, senior, 150, and Augustine Apache, sophomore, 190; cornerbacks, Jeff Schmidt, senior, 130, and Bubba Lane, sophomore, 170; safeties, Kirk Ryan, senior, and Logan Stirman, sophomore, 165.

WARRIOR NOTES Warrior award winners of the week were Chris Airington, offensive player; Sean Moore, defensive player; and Zach Chavez, scout team player...The other District 3-AAA game saw Cobre top Silver, 20-16. Socorro beat Belen, 14-0, in a non-district game...The Ruidoso Warrior Booster Club will have meetings at 7:30 p.m. every first and third Tuesday of the month at the high school.

Warrior spikers stay undefeated

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

The Ruidoso High School varsity volleyball team continued its undefeated district record with a 16-14, 15-9, 15-8 victory over host Socorro Tuesday.

The Warriors, now 4-0 in district action, will host Deming Saturday, October 17. There will be a junior varsity match at 1 p.m., followed by the varsity match and the freshman match.

Ruidoso trailed Socorro, 9-0, early in the first game before rallying for the win.

Shannon Lee served eight points in the first game as the Warriors rallied. Mikki Roller served the final two points.

The next two matches came easier as the Warriors got to play their type of game, according to Warrior head coach Pixie Arthur.

"We started out flat," said Arthur. "That happens sometimes when you have to play an away game and travel."

"But after the first game, we got our rhythm and played our type of game."

Arthur praised members of her team.

"Kristin Tidmore was very effective at the net," Arthur said. "She killed a lot of their (Socorro) oversets."

"Lee helped us get back in the first game with her serving and served well the rest of the way, too."

The Warrior junior varsity raised its district record to 3-1 with a 16-14, 16-14 victory over Socorro.

Elk head

Roper Brewer, 10, holds the head of an elk he shot last Sunday at Apache Ranch. Brewer, a student at White Mountain Intermediate, used a 30-30 on the 750-pound animal. The elk had five points on one antler and four on the other. It was the first elk he ever shot.

winning four of them. Minnesota's victory has to rank with one of the biggest upsets in baseball playoff history. The Twins had an 85-77 regular-season record, worse than four Eastern Division teams. It was only the second time a team with less than 90 victories made the World Series since the league playoffs were started. The Twins weren't supposed to have any pitching. They showed more than enough pitching. Minnesota wasn't supposed to be able to win on the road, particularly against the tough Tigers. They won two out of three in Detroit. Whether the Twins will have enough to beat the National League champion (either San Francisco or St. Louis) remains to be seen. But they surely have made a mark on major-league baseball history with their stirring victory over the Tigers.

Well, how about those Minnesota Twins? The Twins were heavy underdogs going into the American League baseball playoff series with the Eastern Division champion Detroit Tigers. But Minnesota took the more experienced Tigers in five games,

Hondo gridders beaten; play Mountainair next

The Hondo High School football team will host Mountainair at 2 p.m. Saturday, October 17. Hondo's volleyball team also will host Mountainair, starting at 10 a.m. Hondo's football team is now 1-5 after losing to Bethal Christian of Carlsbad, 50-0, last Friday. The Eagles were hurt by 13 turnovers and had the ball at least eight times inside Bethal Christian's 20-yard line. "They were a big, physical team," Hondo coach Joseph Sanchez said of Bethal Christian. "We were hurt by turnovers." Quarterback David McTeigue was the leading offensive threat for Hondo. He ran 10 times for 87 yards and completed four of 16 passes for 31 yards. McTeigue also returned four kickoffs for 46 yards. Joseph PonceDeLeon completed one of two passes for 11 yards and Eddie DeBaca completed one of three passes for no yards. Tito Montoya was the Eagles' leading receiver, catching four passes for 31 yards. On defense, the Eagles intercepted one pass and recovered four fumbles. PonceDeLeon intercepted one pass and recovered a fumble. Ronnie Aragon, Montoya and Fabian Prudencio recovered the other fumbles for Hondo. Montoya had 14 tackles. Prudencio and Aragon both had 11. The Eagle volleyball team lost in three games to Lake Arthur last Friday.

Tigers host Cloudcroft in key game

The Capitan High School varsity football team will host the Cloudcroft Bears Friday, October 16, with a probable district championship on the line.

The game will start at 4:30 p.m. Both teams are undefeated in district action. Capitan dumped Reserve, 35-0, last Friday. Cloudcroft has beaten Reserve, 21-0, and Carrizozo, 48-8.

After Cloudcroft, Capitan will play Carrizozo in the district finale.

The Tigers are only 2-5 on the overall season, but showed great improvement in the victory over Reserve last week.

Anthony Sanchez scored two touchdowns and Tino Gallegos had two touchdown passes to spark the Tigers over Reserve.

The Capitan varsity volleyball team will host Estancia in a non-district match Saturday, October 17.

Capitan is 8-3 on the season after defeating Fort Sumner last Saturday and Tularosa Tuesday. Both victories came in three games.

The Tiger junior varsity volleyball team was defeated by both Fort Sumner and Tularosa.

Farmer Brown brings home the bacon

Farmer Brown impressed the largest opening day crowd in Sunland history and showed the rest of the field his heels in racing to an easy 1 1/2 length win in the Mr. Vale Handicap at Sunland Park.

Witnessed by a record opening day crowd of 5,345, the four-year-old broke on top then continued to improve his advantage while covering the mile in 1:39.2. Owned by Guy Bowers, Farmer Brown was handled by the trainer-rider combo of Lewis Germany Sr. and Jr. The highweight at 121, Farmer Brown won his sixth race this year to collect the bulk of the $9,400 purse and paid $4.00, $3.60, $2.60. Addendum, $7.20, $3.60, outdueling K. Jack, $5.00 for second place money. The crowd on hand wagered the second highest opening day total in Sunland's 29-year history, pushing $376,411 through the windows. Parrothman ran the fastest qualifying time of :20.32 to lead the field in the Shue Fly Quarter Horse Trials at 400 yards.

Ridden by Gary Sumpter, Parrothman paid $4.40, $3.20, $2.20 to his supporters. The gray two-year-old will get much support for the $13,363 final that will be run on October 23. The other finalists will be: Brief Interlude, :20.45; Liberty Class, :20.475; Ima Truck Man, :20.675; Easy Bitty Bar, :20.665; Candido De Taos, :20.675; The Silver Moolah, :20.69; Tonys Talent, :20.79; Straw Spark, :20.845; Yours My Jamaica, :21.02.

Rider Salustio Burgos jumped out on top of the rider standings with a triple. Burgos rode Coin Keeper to a come-from-behind victory in the second race, then won his Shue Fly trial aboard Liberty Class, and then topped off his day by bringing in the afternoon's longshot, Sea Prophet, in the twelfth. The trainer standings are led by Richard Fry, who had his picture taken twice.

Track 'N Tack

By Bill Donati

Boosted by a record-breaking opening day crowd of 5,345, Sunland Park's attendance and mutual handle got out of the gates quickly for the new season. Attendance is up over 21 percent while handle is ahead of last year's opening weekend by some 27 percent.

The opening day feature was the $9,400 Mr. Vale Handicap and Guy Bowers' Farmer Brown easily handled the rest of the field to post an 11 1/2 length win. The mile was timed in 1:39.2 as the four-year-old took the lead out of the gate and never looked back. In winning his sixth race of 1987, Farmer Brown returned pays of $4.00, $3.60, and $2.60 and helped boost the opening day handle to $376,411, second highest in the track's 29-year history.

Robert Esquibel's Parrothman turned in the fastest qualifying time of :20.32 to lead the qualifiers in Saturday's Shue Fly Trials. The gray two-year-old will get much support in the 400-yard final on October 23. Total purse for the final is $13,363. The other finalists are: Brief Interlude, :20.45; Liberty Class, :20.475; Ima Truck Man, :20.675; Easy Bitty Bar, :20.665; Candido De Taos, :20.675; The Silver Moolah, :20.69; Tonys Talent, :20.79; Straw Spark, :20.845; Yours My Jamaica, :21.02.

Rider Salustio Burgos jumped out on top of the rider standings with a triple on Saturday, then added another on Sunday to bring his win total to four. Pedro Benitez is a close second with three wins from six starts. Three others are tied with two.

The trainer ranks are also very close:

	Starts	1st	2nd	3rd
Richard Fry.....	9	2	2	1
Lewis Germany.....	5	2	0	3
Gerald Marr.....	3	2	0	0

Sunday's Jess Burner Series No. 1 was won by Eddie or Karen Jacobs' Up Front Runner. The jet black stallion was clocked in a good :17.63 for 350 yards and paid $9.60 to win. Texelka was second in the 10-horse field and Interstate Ten finished third. Up Front Runner won the opening race of the same series last year when it was named the Savannah Swinger.

Rider Eugene O'Neill piloted Gramp's Champ to the longshot win in Sunday's fourth race to return $110.40 to win.

Handicappers will have something extra to shoot for next Friday, Oct. 16. The Twin Trifecta was not cashed this weekend, so $12,295.56 will give the pool a good start next race day.

The rhythm of polka music, the sight of tall glasses of beer foaming over and the colorful spectacle of German costumes will be on hand Saturday and Sunday at Wurstfest, at the old Ben Franklin's in the Plaza Center.

Wurstfest's roots date back to 1810

Ruidoso is getting ready to celebrate the final event of Aspenfest this weekend with Wurstfest, a German festival honoring the making of sausage. For all purposes, Wurstfest could be called Oktoberfest, for they are relatively the same. Oktoberfest is traditionally celebrated the last two weeks of September, due to better weather, and is held in Munich, Germany.

Throughout the years, I have gone to many Oktoberfests, yet this year I found myself wondering about the festival's origin. Did it start within the past 50 years, or does it date back into the medieval days?

According to folklore, the first Oktoberfest was actually a royal Bavarian wedding which took place in 1810. King Ludwig II, known today as "Mad King Ludwig" because he literally drained Bavaria of its wealth in order to build opulent castles, threw a big wedding party for his daughter, Princess Maria Theresa.

The day featured plenty of "drinking and spirits," food, games and dancing. One of the highlights of the day was a huge horse race in which horsemen from all over Europe participated. More than 40,000 people witnessed the grandeur of the day. Little did they know they had watched the birth of a new celebration that would survive the annals of time.

In the aftermath of the festival, the townsfolk renamed the location of the festival in honor of the Princess to "Theresien Wiese," meaning "Theresa's Place." Royal decree turned the fest into an annual event, and thus Oktoberfest began.

Although Oktoberfest is a German festival, its origins are Bavarian. In line with tradition, Oktoberfest officially begins when the town mayor or "Burger Meister" taps the first keg. This is followed by a costume parade, carnivals, rides and games. Estimates put the two-week consumption of food at one million chickens, one half million sausages, scores of roast oxen and two million quarts of beer.

So come and enjoy Wurstfest with us this weekend and take a small trip back into history. Remember, you will be participating not only in Wurstfest, but in a royal wedding anniversary which took place one clear joyous day 177 years ago.

Have a great weekend.

Wurstfest offers best of Germany

The 2nd Annual Southern Rockies Alpine Wurstfest will bring song, dance, food and drink to Ruidoso Saturday and Sunday, October 17 and 18.

Wurstfest is the last event of Aspenfest, a two-month-long festival celebrating the fall season and the beauty of the golden aspen tree leaves.

In the German tradition, Wurstfest offers specialties of Germany: food, beverages, music and dancing. A polka band will perform, as well as three special German dance groups who'll whirl to folk dances which date back centuries.

The group Solheim Leikking, led by Arne Hansen, has been performing for 11 years. Although their dancing is primarily of Norway, the group also performs dances of Sweden and Denmark.

The Polonia Folk Dancers have been performing for 10 years. Unlike the first group, the Polonia dancers concentrate on Polish folk dancing.

Rudy's International Dance Ensemble (RIDE) has been in existence for 15 years. The group has danced in Germany and throughout the United States, and performs dances from all over the world. The Wurstfest is a chance to see spectacular dancing, and an opportunity to take part in the dancing festivities.

Wurstfest is scheduled at the former Ben Franklin's store, in the Plaza Center, from noon to 10 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Admission is $1, or free to those wearing a German folk costume. For more information, call the Ruidoso Conventions and Visitors Bureau at 257-7395.

Ruidoso Mountain Tops competitive gymnasts are in the midst of the fall compulsory competition. Cicelee Makowski, the newest member of the Class IV team, is shown on the balance beam during last weekend's meet in Hobbs.

Bethany Jarrell, a second-year member of the Mountain Tops Class IV team, completes her balance beam event during competition in Hobbs last weekend. Bethany was one of seven team Class IV members to qualify for state competition during the first meet of the season October 3, in Las Cruces.

Gymnasts qualify for state competition

With this season's first two qualifying meets behind them, nine members of the Ruidoso Mountain Tops gymnastics team already have racked up enough points to compete at the state meet November 21 in Albuquerque.

During last week's Whole Enchilada Festival Gymnastics Meet at the Mesilla Valley Gym in Las Cruces, Tara Candelaria, Kendra Eggleston, Gail Floyd, Bethany Jarrell, Terri Kennedy, Marissa Martinez, Raquel Reiman, Heather Stover and Nicole Webb scored over the 30 individual points in a meet needed to head for state.

The Mountain Tops won second place in that meet, and Coach Robyn Johnson said she's sure her team members who haven't yet qualified for the state meet will do so in upcoming qualifying meets.

Saturday the Mountain Tops Class III team took first place, and the Tops Class IV gymnasts tied for second in their category at a meet in Hobbs hosted by the Hobbs Gymnastics Whirlwinds.

Class III gymnast Terri Kennedy took first all-around in the 12-and-older division, winning first on bars, beam and floor exercise; and second on vault. Tara Candelaria, in the Class III 12-and-older, took second all-around, placing first on the vault, second on bars and third on beam and floor.

In Class III competition, ages nine to 11, Kristin Leslie won second all-around, after placing second on beam, third on bars, fourth on floor and sixth on vault.

Class IV competitor Gail Floyd won first all-around in the 12-and-older category, taking first on beam, second on bars and floor and third on vault. In the same category, Bethany Jarrell took sixth all-around after winning fourth on floor and fifth on bars; with Cicelee Makowski winning second on vault, fourth on bars and sixth on the beam.

In Class IV, nine- to 11-year-olds, Marissa Martinez took third in the all-around, winning first on beam and second on floor; Heather Stover won sixth all-around, placing third on bars; and Kendra Eggleston won fifth for floor exercise.

The youngest Mountain Tops, competing in Class IV seven- and eight-year-olds, Raquel Reiman won second all-around, taking first on vault, second on bars and beam and third on the floor; with Nicole Webb placing fifth in the all-around after placing fourth on floor and fifth on vault, bars and beam.

The Tops will compete in Santa Fe on Saturday, October 17.

Gail Floyd competes on the uneven bars during her successful performance at last weekend's gymnastics meet. Gail, who qualified October 3 for the state meet, brought home top honors in the Class IV 12-and older category at the Hobbs meet, winning first-place all-around.

Beatty is new Downs PR man

Kent Beatty has been hired as director of public relations at Ruidoso Downs Race Track, according to an announcement by Robert Standish, Ruidoso Downs' director of operations.

Beatty, who served as the track announcer last summer, has been involved with the publicity department for the past two seasons at Ruidoso Downs and served in similar positions at both Sunland Park and Blue Ribbon Downs.

"Kent's job during our down-time involves a great deal of travel, while talking with media and people in the horse business on a one-to-one basis about our races, results and sales," Standish said.

"Kent will continue to handle our announcing next summer, while heading up the publicity department and our results show. The board, Rick Henson and myself are very proud to have a young man of Kent's caliber on our team on full-time basis and we're looking forward to the coming seasons with Kent handling our public relations," Standish continued.

Lions Club contest seeks estimates of snowfall

The Lions Club is announcing their 2nd Annual Snowfall Contest for the winter of 1987-1988.

Four participants correctly estimated the official total snowfall of 59.0 inches recorded for the 1986-87 winter season, and one winner among these collected a check for $520.90 based on the March tie-breaker estimate of 6.1 inches.

This year the Lions are awarding three prizes, 60 percent of the prize pool for the nearest guess, 20 percent for the 2nd closest, and 15 percent for 3rd place.

You can purchase an entry book for $1 (or a book of 12 for $10), estimate the total Ruidoso snowfall to the nearest tenth of an inch for the period of October 1, 1987, through May 15, 1988, and save your ticket stub. Running totals will be displayed through the media.

As a tie-breaker, guess the total snowfall to the nearest tenth of an inch for the month of March 1988.

You need to furnish the Lions Club with your ticket stub if you win.

Listed here are some official Ruidoso snowfall records to help in your estimates:

—1986-87, 59.0 inches, 7.0 inches in March

—1985-86, 40.4 inches, 12.2 inches in March

—1984-85, 52.6 inches, 4.0 inches in March

—1983-84, 28.5 inches, 10.0 inches in March

—1982-83, 67.3 inches, 4.0 inches in March

Seasonal extremes range from 11.5 inches in 1956-57 to 101.5 inches in 1974-75. March totals vary from 0.0 inches in 1972 to 37.2 inches in 1975.

Deadline for entries is March 1, 1988. Awards will be given at the close of the contest in May 1988.

Mr. Baker died in 1977.

Mrs. Baker was born on December 15, 1908, to Thomas Paul and Mollie Pinson Frizzell, and she married Mr. Baker in 1929 in Knox City.

Survivors include a son, William Roy (Bill) Baker of Knox City; a grandson, William Roy (Billy) Baker II of Wichita Falls, Kansas; and a granddaughter, Temi Tanner Matthies of Snyder, Texas.

Armed services schedule student aptitude tests

The Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) will be given at Ruidoso High School on Thursday, October 22.

Ten separate timed tests are given during a three-hour period. The results of the ASVAB help counselors and students consider career possibilities. There are vocational scores in Mechanical and Crafts, Business and Clerical, Electronics and Electrical and Health, Social and Technology.

The test also gives indications of the students' strengths and weaknesses in Academic Ability, Verbal (English skills) and Math (arithmetic). These skills are very important for those students who expect to attend a college or vocational training school after graduation. "Exploring Careers," a workbook for students, will be available for the first time this year. This book can help students define their interests and consider their career possibilities.

Area doctors aid students

University of New Mexico students recently assisted practicing physicians in Capitan and Mesalero during a preceptorship, an apprentice period that the School of Medicine requires of all students seeking an M.D. degree.

Capitan's Dr. David Rouleau and Mesalero's Dr. Robert Baldor were assisted by Patricia Armell and Betty Prior, respectively. During the preceptorship, the students gained skills in the clinical assessment and management of patients.

An additional purpose of the program is to provide future doctors with personal ties to communities throughout the state, to encourage them to set up practices in New Mexico after graduation.

Rouleau and Baldor are two of 120 state doctors participating in the program.

Corrections are stated

Top prize winner in the Aspenfest 87 parade was a float entered by Contel, according to information provided by the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce. The name of the winner was previously reported as Condotel.

The most original float award went to the Village of Ruidoso.

The Ruidoso Downs Ladies Auxiliary was awarded second place, and the Ruidoso Downs Christian School took third.

Liz Groenendyk, director of the Convention and Visitors Bureau, said the parade had more than 90 entries.

"Trouble in Lincoln County," a one-man show by Boyd Barrett, took place in the Innsbrook Village Country Club October 3, not the Innsbrook Lodge as was incorrectly reported. The New regrets the error.

A wide variety of bulk natural foods as well as individual items are available to the food-buying members. This area is served by two food cooperatives, Little Creek Foods and Backwoods Food Coop. (Photo by Doris Cherry.)

Natural foods are available here

by DORIS CHERRY
Special to the News

Americans are returning to diets which include whole grains, soy products, nuts and low-fat dairy products. Yet many of these natural foods are not available in small communities, so two food buying clubs in Ruidoso and Capitan meet regularly to order a wide variety of natural foods and products from Tucson Cooperative Warehouse.

The Warehouse has distributed natural goods to many buying clubs and cooperatives throughout New Mexico, Arizona, California and Colorado. As members of the TCW, Little Creek Foods in Ruidoso and Backwoods Food Coop in Capitan order from a 39-page catalog. Inventory includes natural foods in bulk as well as small packages and mixes, personal products such as shampoos, tooth paste and deodorants from companies like Mill Creek, Tom's of Maine and Bon Sante.

Little Creek meets at First Christian Church on Hull Road on a Monday evening every four weeks. Members review the catalog and compile an order list. A week later the order arrives. After unloading, the members' orders are sorted and available for pick-up by the members.

Backwoods meets at the Capitan Senior Citizens Center on a Monday morning of each order period. Members submit their orders with the order person. The order is double-checked for the price total and is submitted toward the group order. On delivery day, all members are expected to come for their ordered items.

Cooperation helps unload the truck quickly and sometimes is fun. All the inventory is checked, down to the last small bottle of vitamins.

Many hard-to-find foods are offered by TCW, blue corn tortillas, vegetable pastas, raw honey and raw milk dairy products, maple syrup, sesame seeds, etc. The order catalog includes monthly sales on a variety of items. Some members purchase cheese by the five-pound block while others order packages as small as 8 ounces.

TCW offers a complete line of nutrition supplements and vitamins, herbs, teas, coffees (both ground and roasted) and kitchen supplies like plastic bags and laundry detergent.

Little Creek Foods meets next at 6 p.m. Monday, October 19, at First Christian Church. The public is invited. For more information about Little Creek, call Lillian Puckett, chairperson, at 336-4518.

Backwoods meets at 9:30 a.m. Monday, October 19, at the Capitan Senior Citizens Center. All are invited, no order is too small or too large. For more information, call Barbara Abbott at 354-2623 or Doris Cherry at 354-2673.

The Ruidoso High School Warrior 24-Karat Gold Marching Band has a long, successful tradition and new director Brett Argo hopes it will continue.

Ruidoso has won championships in both tournaments in the past, and Argo is hopeful the band can do the same this year.

"We have a lot of potential," he remarked. "If we play our to our potential, we could win it easily."

Seniors on the band roster include Hall, DeAngelo, Jennifer Baca, Marla Frye, Doug Miller, Scott Pilgreen, Deanna Currin, Jennifer Flores, Brenda Rue, Todd Dentler and Doug Friberg.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

If basic principles of character such as honesty, integrity and just plain human decency still mean anything in this day and age, I feel it is time we, the citizens of the Village of Ruidoso, take a long, hard look at how changing times and political influences appear to be shaping the future of our Village.

Dick Swenor was appointed as Chief of Police a little over six years ago. From the moment of his appointment, he wholly devoted himself to developing a standard of public safety both enviable by peer agencies and a credit to the Village itself. Whether a person is "pro" or "anti" law enforcement, an honest examination of this issue, it would have to be said that Chief Swenor and the Officers under his Command have indeed "fairly and impartially executed and enforced the laws of the Village, the State of New Mexico and the Federal Government," as is mandated by the oath they are all sworn to. As a former employee of the Ruidoso Police Department, I can vouch for the fact that Chief Swenor expects excellence from his personnel. He dedicates himself to help each individual employee grow and fulfill his or her greatest potential. All of these efforts, if you honestly stop and think about it, have served to enhance the overall image and reputation of the Department...a formidable asset to the Village of Ruidoso.

Ironically it was that same staunch belief in professionalism and an unwillingness to compromise ethical standards of conduct that was instrumental in forming the "beginning of the end" for Chief Swenor's service to the Village of Ruidoso. A service that this community will sorely miss. Particularly if the self-serving desires of our mayor and certain council members are allowed to dictate the police department's operations.

In July 1984, as you may recall, the Ruidoso Police Department was directed by the Federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms and the New Mexico State Police to assist in the conduct of a gambling raid at a private residence in the Village. As a police supervisor officer at that time, I had occasion to participate in the Arrest/Booking aspect of that operation. During this procedure, I was approached by a man who informed me that he had given Chief Swenor his job and that he could take it away just as quickly...then he informed me that that was for my job as well.

Some months thereafter, that man surfaced as a mayoral candidate, vowing as a campaign promise that if he were elected, nothing like that gambling raid would ever occur in Ruidoso again. Subsequently elected, Mayor Lloyd L. Davis has succeeded in executing those promises.

The intrusion into the Police Department's operations is demonstrated by examining some actions taken by the mayor and council. A vehicle was confiscated in a drug raid, and according to Federal drug laws, should have become the property of the Police Department for use primarily in its drug enforcement operations. Instead, the Mayor used his influence and the vehicle was taken from the Police Department and given to Village Hall for administrative usage.

One issue we should all be concerned about revolves around the headline in the Thursday, October 8th, edition of the Ruidoso News, regarding the selection of a new chief of police. It is well known that I am a former Captain of the Ruidoso Police Department, and as a result of this notoriety, I am frequently asked "what is going on over there?" To answer everyone's question, what "is going on over there" is as follows:

Political influences are in motion here as well. I am personally familiar with the selection process as well as the articles of the Village of Ruidoso Personnel Ordinance relevant to it. I have first-hand knowledge that one candidate was not included in the process after the first-round of selection procedures...so I cannot help but wonder how he suddenly became one of the final four applicants to be considered as was reflected in that article. That candidate himself told me he had been eliminated in the first-round and additionally said that he wasn't worried about it because Lloyd knew who he wanted. If this is true, the Mayor has once again bent the Department to his own convenience...a dangerous forewarning of possible things to come.

As a concerned citizen of this Village, I have presented these matters for your individual and collective consideration for two major reasons:

My primary and utmost concern is for Dick Swenor. He is without a doubt one of the finest men I have ever had the pleasure of knowing, much less the privilege of working for. Granted, as a supervisor under his command, we had our differences of opinion; however, in all earnestness, I have never known any individual to give so selflessly of himself, sacrificing his family and seriously jeopardizing his personal health/well-being to achieve goals and ideals he believed in. I cannot bear to stand by and see his sense of self-worth so needlessly damaged. He has given far too much to this Village for us to casually sit back and allow him to leave office feeling that he is the scapegoat for economic depression and every other adverse situation that may confront the Village. We cannot, with clear conscience, allow this man to step down feeling defeated and convinced that everything he ever strived for and believed in has been a mere exercise in futility. Come on folks...we owe him much more in return for all he has done than this!

Secondly, for the very sake of our own future existence as individuals and as a community, we all need to become more attuned to what is going on regarding issues of public concern. Even if you have never been concerned about politics before, it is time to start paying attention and realizing that decisions made today are indeed crucial to our tomorrows. We must insist that only the most highly qualified individuals with the foresight to think of what is best for the Village aside from their personal desires are placed and/or retained in positions of public trust. We must also consider the extent to which we will permit our elected officials to meddle in and handicap vital departments such as the police department.

Editorial

Whether you're a first-time visitor to Ruidoso or a longtime resident whose roots go all the way back to school days, this, the final weekend of Aspenfest '87, is the weekend for you.

Two events are scheduled for this weekend in the village. The 2nd Annual Southern Rockies Alpine Wurstfest is set to begin Saturday at noon, continue until 10 p.m., then resume Sunday from noon to 5 p.m.

The celebration of autumn in the mountains will feature the best in German tradition, including german song, dance, food and drink. Activity will center around the former Ben Franklin's parking lot, and admission is $1, or free for those in German folk costumes.

Also this week, Ruidoso High School graduates will be welcomed to the mountain valley in a celebration of Homecoming '87.

Events begin Thursday night with a bonfire at the Ruidoso State Bank free parking lot on Sudderth Drive next to Tall Pines RV Park. Registration for exes (alumni) and friends will take place Friday, just before the Ruidoso Warriors play St. Pius at W.D. Horton Stadium. Members of past Warrior football teams will line up on the field at 7 p.m. to form a victory line for the present Warrior players.

The game will be followed by a homecoming reception and dance. Students and alumni will be greeted at the reception from 9:30 to 11 p.m. in the public meeting room at Ruidoso High School, and alumni and students will dance until midnight.

Saturday, homecoming will continue with an ice cream social from noon to 1 p.m. at the parking lot at Ruidoso High School. An afternoon of high school volleyball action will follow, then homecoming participants will be guests at a dance at 9 p.m. at The Barn, to the sounds of the band Timberline.

Whether Homecoming or Wurstfest is your preference, the weekend is sure to be a resounding end to Aspenfest '87.—DJP

SANTA FE—Is Jeff Bingaman the most boring man in the U.S. Senate? The October issue of "Albuquerque Living" magazine asks the question on its cover over a blown up picture of the Senator, showing every one of his few whiskers and his few wrinkles.

The magazine cover is enough to cause a paranoid candidate to consider a lawsuit. The smallest print on the cover says, "U. S. Senator Jeff Bingaman." In much larger print and underlined in color are the words "boring" and teasers for two unrelated articles: "best to worst" and "couch potato."

But the low-key, unflappable Bingaman is the last person who would become upset at the unusual graphics the magazine chose for its cover. And that is the picture of Bingaman presented by the accompanying text.

Although the story does not answer its "boring" question, it presents a picture of quiet, shy, reserved, serious man, who would be very capable of winning the "boring" competition.

Bingaman appears to national Republican party wizards to be the most vulnerable Democrat senatorial incumbent in 1988. And that he may be. But don't stand around waiting for Jeff to concede the election, either.

Analysts see Bingaman as having several glaring weaknesses. The deficiency most often mentioned is the Senator's style—or lack of it. Jeff is intelligent and articulate but he is also quiet and non-confrontative. He does not have the profile of the typical successful politician.

Comparisons between Bingaman and unsuccessful Democratic gubernatorial candidate Ray Powell are often drawn. There are many parallels between the two but there is one very major difference. Jeff has won both primaries and both general elections he has been in by convincing margins.

There is something about Bingaman's quiet competence that appeals to New Mexico voters. These are voters who have rejected East Coast hard sell, negative campaigns at every opportunity.

Another frequently identified Bingaman weakness is his chief assistant Vince Murphy, whom many describe as another Jeff Bingaman—a low-key, cautious individual in a position which demands an aggressive, politically savvy advance man, who will spend his time tooting Bingaman's horn.

Many Democrat leaders would like to see the Senator dump Murphy. They don't seem to understand that Bingaman wouldn't have a chief aide who was anything else than a similar personality with whom he can feel comfortable.

Murphy is actually as different from Bingaman as the Senator can stand. Although their styles are similar, Murphy is a big, jovial Irishman who definitely knows how to smile. If Bingaman can't win with Murphy as his top staffer and campaign chief, then he is just not going to win because he will not have a loud, aggressive braggart anywhere near him.

If Bingaman and Murphy aren't tough enough, Jeff has someone near him who is. Wife Anne, also an attorney, is a ball of fire. Many top Democrats have wished out loud that Anne were the candidate but things seem to be working fine the way they are.

Since "Albuquerque Living" dodged the tough question of whether Jeff Bingaman is the most boring man in the U. S. Senate, I will give you the benefit of the knowledge I have gained about Jeff from having grown up with him in Silver City.

I can truthfully say, yes, he is boring, maybe to the point of being the most boring man in the U.S. Senate. If you're looking for a good-time Charlie to send to Washington, look elsewhere because Jeff really doesn't know how to have fun. His only activity that doesn't involve Senate work is running—and he's the type who would think about work even then.

With Jeff up there, we don't need to worry about our senator messing around or borrowing other politicians speeches or thinking up dirty campaign tricks.

But just because you don't want to invite him to your next dinner party, doesn't necessarily mean you won't want to vote for him. On second thought, invite Jeff, and maybe he'll send Anne and Vince in his place.

BORDE WILLIAMS

Six educators join Ruidoso Middle School staff

Besides a bright, new look inside and out, Ruidoso Middle School (RMS) has six new staffmembers this year.

RMS principal Texanita Cole said her staff now includes Brett Argo, instrumental music director; Beth Hardeman, special education teacher; Linda Pehr, sixth-grade teacher; Borde Williams, physical education teacher and coach; Herman Fox, part-time aide and part-time coach; and Margaret Holt, aide.

Instrumental music director BRETT ARGO spends part of his day at RMS, and the rest at Ruidoso High School, where he directs the RSH Warrior 24-Karat Gold Marching Band. He said he and choral director Churchill Cooke work together to form a total music program for the schools.

"The students need to have a continuous program ... the same emphasis all the way through," said Argo, adding it is "kind of essential" for him to direct all the instrumental music.

New to Ruidoso, Argo and his wife, Mary Argo, moved here from Cedaredge, Colorado, where he taught fifth-grade general music and directed the marching and jazz bands as well as the choir. He has seven years of teaching experience in Colorado.

Argo has a bachelor's degree in Music Education from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales and a master of arts from Western State in Gunnison, Colorado.

He plans to take his high school band to the Tournament of Bands this Saturday in Las Cruces, and to the Zia Marching Contest on October 31, in Albuquerque.

"As long as they keep a good attitude, things will go well," noted Argo.

BETH HARDEMAN and her family couldn't be happier to be in Ruidoso. "I love it here," said Hardeman, whose husband also teaches in Ruidoso schools.

"We wanted to get to the mountains," noted Hardeman, who added she likes to ski. She and her family moved here from Austin, Texas, where she taught deaf children for the past two years. "It's really been wonderful," added Hardeman, pleased with the town, the people and RMS staff.

Having grown up in a small town, moving to Ruidoso from Austin "is sort of like coming home," to Hardeman.

"Parents seem to be very concerned about the education of their children," said Hardeman. She said while teaching special education is a challenge, it isn't so very different from her previous experience working with the deaf.

The Hardemans' five-year-old son, Stephan Hardeman, just started kindergarten at Nob Hill Elementary School.

Hardeman has her undergraduate degree from the University of Texas at Austin, and her master's degree from Southwest State University in San Marcos, Texas.

MARGARET HOLT, new to the school system, has been a Ruidoso resident for the past 12 years. She and her husband, Dub Holt, have operated Ruidoso Playland Daycare during that time.

"After 12 years it was time for a change," said Holt, who is an aide for a federally funded program for Native American students. Holt has a degree in speech and hearing, and taught for four years before moving to Ruidoso.

She's happy with her recent change. "I'm still in the teaching field, and I enjoy teaching," noted Holt, who has a special desire to help children with special needs. Holt's emphasis with the 15 students in her program is on oral language.

The Holts have three children: Al, 18; Dan, 15; and Ann Marie, seven. Dub Holt is on the staff at Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School.

BORDE WILLIAMS feels right at home in the RMS gymnasium. The Ruidoso native graduated in 1979 from Ruidoso High School, when it was housed in the present middle school building.

Williams has both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, and coached for two years in Texico before joining the RMS staff this fall.

"It was a matter of time before I came back—I always wanted to," said Williams, whose parents Dub and Kathryn Williams retired last year after teaching in Ruidoso schools for 30 years. Williams said the opportunity presented itself this year, and he and his wife, Lisa Williams, made the move.

"We're happy to be here," said Williams, who is head football coach, assistant boys basketball coach and a physical education teacher at the mid-school. Williams works with RSH football coach Cooper Henderson on teaching the middle school athletes the basics to build a foundation before they enter the high school athletic program.

"I like this age group ... you don't have to change bad habits," said Williams. "A person could get stuck and love this age group—you could stay right here," he added.

HERMAN FOX is new to the RMS staff, but not really new to the school, since he was a substitute and part-time coach last year.

Fox said he is special education aide, assistant football coach, assistant to the girls basketball coach and head boys track coach.

After 18 years of working with "hardcore juvenile delinquents" in Texas, Fox said he loves working with the mid-schoolers. "It's mentally refreshing," said Fox. "I've never been associated with a better group of young people," he added.

Fox is a graduate of West Texas State University in Canyon, Texas, and coached and taught school in Texas before becoming a state parole officer. He was on the staff of the drug rehabilitation unit in Vernon, Texas. Before Fox retired, after 20 years, in August 1986, he was named Outstanding Parole Officer for Texas.

Fox and his wife, Patsy Fox, moved to Ruidoso just over a year ago. She is administrator for Ruidoso Care Center. The Fox's son, Jeff Fox, is a New Mexico State University student, and is helping with the RMS football team; their daughter, Jennifer Fox, is a hairstylist at Wohlgenuth's.

LINDA PEHR is teaching sixth grade at the middle school, after teaching math for the past three years in Alamogordo. Pehr has lived in Ruidoso for the past four years, and commuted to teach in Alamogordo.

"The biggest change is their level of motivation," said Pehr, in comparing her eighth-graders with the sixth-graders she now teaches at the mid-school. The sixth grade students rotate this year, with each teacher having a major emphasis, she explained.

Pehr is pleased to be a part of the RMS staff, noting the administration is very supportive.

A University of New Mexico elementary education graduate with a math minor, Pehr is committed to helping students overcome "math anxiety." She endeavors to foster personal responsibility and respect for others within her classroom.

A Santa Fe native, Pehr loves Ruidoso. She and her husband, Darrell Pehr, moved here when he joined the staff of The Ruidoso News. The Pehrs have a three-year-old daughter, Renee Pehr.

Real Estate
By BETTY BEACHUM
BROKER

WHAT GOES WITH HOUSE?

Real estate is usually defined as the land and everything attached to it, such as: buildings, trees, shrubs, etc. The buyer normally gets all of the real estate, but none of the owner's personal property. The problem arises when personal property has become a part of the real estate. This is called a fixture and does pass with the real estate.

There are three usual tests which must be satisfied. Has the personal property been permanently annexed to the real estate? Is it intended to become part of the real estate? And finally, what is the local custom? Usual fixtures local include: shades, heaters, ranges, screens, storm windows, lighting fixtures, etc. It is important that the seller spell out specifically in his sales agreement exactly what he intends to give to the buyer as part of real estate. This will save misunderstanding at the closing, and, sometimes save a sale.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, whether it's residential, commercial, or exchanges, please phone or drop in at INNSBROOK VILLAGE REAL ESTATE, 101 Innsbrook Drive, Phone: 258-4500. We're here to help!

Constitution bicentennial

Eighth-graders describe document through poetry

Ruidoso Middle School teacher Dori Stierwalt incorporated recent celebrations over this nation's 200-year-old Constitution into a poetry assignment for her eighth-grade language arts classes. The students were asked to write acrostics using the word CONSTITUTION.

Following are some examples of those poems:

Complete control
Over the colonies by Britain was
Not tolerated by the people.
So,
The people revolted.
In an attempt To Unite
The colonies Into
One, individual
Nation, free of Britain.
