Moratorium ends on gas line hookups

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso Natural Gas Co., Inc., as a public utility, is obligated to serve new customers, according to Robert Castillo, executive director of the New Mexico Public Service Commission.

The state commission ordered the Ruidoso company in a "show cause" order dated August 3 to "cease and desist from continuing its alleged moratorium on new hookups to its system."

A public hearing has been scheduled for 9 a.m. October 29 in Santa Fe, but in the meantime new service connection requests will be honored, according to Ken Johnston, manager of Ruidoso Natural Gas.

Johnston said he received the order on August 4, and his company already has honored several requests for new hookups.

"We're still fighting the battle," said Johnston. Ruidoso Natural Gas officials contend the present transmission line system is inadequate to serve more customers.

Castillo said the utility company will get a chance to present its arguments and answer questions raised by the commission in the "show cause" order at the October hearing.

Ruidoso Natural Gas declared the moratorium on new hookups in a letter dated June 16, signed by Robert L. Maddox, president. He said the company has experienced difficult problems concerning the capacity of the four-inch transmission line owned and operated by the Capitan-Carrizozo Gas Association.

Maddox said the solution to the supply problem is the construction of a new transmission line as proposed by Ruidoso Natural Gas. Plans announced recently include a contract with Apache Mountain Pipeline, Inc. for a $2.5 million transmission line. That contract is awaiting approval by the commission, and Ruidoso Natural Gas officials contend the delay could cause a gas shortage this winter if Ruidoso experiences more than normal amounts of cold weather.

"If we have a severe winter somebody's going to be in the cold," predicted Johnston.

Ruidoso resident Jimmy Neeley, one of seven people reportedly denied gas hookups, said Wednesday he hasn't been notified by the gas company of the moratorium curtailment. Neeley, who is constructing a new house, said he'll contact the company and apply for service.

Timeshare booths get Council OK

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

"If you have a toothache, you work on the tooth, you don't cut the head off," said Gene Duvall Tuesday, encouraging the Ruidoso Village Council to allow timeshare solicitors to continue work in the village.

Councillors agreed unanimously to allow the timeshare sales booths to remain in operation as a conditional use for one month as long as salespeople wear nametags identifying themselves and the company they represent. Village Councillor Ray Dean Carpenter, in making the motion, specified that policies will be adhered to and citations will be issued for infractions.

The action followed a recommendation from the Planning and Zoning Commission and village staff that timeshare conditional uses be curtailed and business licenses revoked. Planning administrator Margaret McDonald Lahey presented a detailed report of problems her department has had with timeshare off-premise contacts (OPCs) and booth operations.

Council's final decision came after a short executive session and a long parade of speakers with a variety of views on the subject.

Duvall, a timeshare developer, explained that sales are handled through contractors. He and other proponents of street contacts by timeshare solicitors talked of the numbers of people the industry brings to town and the millions of dollars it generates.

Bernie Costello, general manager of Western Sun Corporation, said his company sells a product "honestly, ethically, enthusiastically and energetically." He said the company has created, since 1984, $50 million in sales.

"I shudder to think what may have happened if that $50 million were a void," said Costello.

Councillor Victor Alonso, noting the problem is not a new one, said he is impressed by the figures presented. He reminded the timeshare proponents that those contacts made at the booths are people that "found their way here."

While the timeshare companies have precisely measured the dollars, Alonso wondered how the losses can be measured if solicitors sell seven out of 100 and "aggravate" as many as 50 people.

"People are harassing our tourists ... that's our bread and butter," said Alonso.

John Raulerson, owner of the Shirt Haus, led off a line of merchants complaining that timeshare solicitors cause congestion on sidewalks. He said he's seen people turn around and go the other way or cross the street to avoid being stopped by the solicitors.

Raulerson gave the council pictures he said he had taken of timeshare solicitations in Midtown Ruidoso.

Laura Hoover of Mitchell's Gems and Margie Pereteo of You Nique, both in Serenity Plaza, complained of solicitors approaching people in the covered area outside their shops.

"They're not going to want to sit there ... with someone hounding them," said Pereteo. "I'm really fed up with them," she added.

"I feel like I'm in another country ... I'm so disappointed," said Marion Treat of the Covered Wagon. "I can't believe you're harassing a company ... that has done nothing but good for Ruidoso," she added.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I'm the one who's cashing the checks these people are being given," said Treat, adding the money the timeshare companies give tourists stays in town.

"I wish to God you all would take an hour of your time and come in my store and hear what tourists are saying," said Treat, listing companies. Please see Timeshare, page 2A

Airport group sets meeting

Sierra Blanca Airport Commission Chairman Tim Morris has called a special meeting of the commission at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 19, in council chambers of Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center.

The purpose of the meeting is to approve the final lease agreement with Airspace, Inc., and other business that may come before the commission.

Meetings of the airport commission are open to the public.

Local softball team takes state

by GARY BROWN

Lincoln County has a state softball champion!

Super-8, a team made up of players from some teams in the Lincoln County Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League, won the state E men's softball title in Carlsbad last weekend.

Super-8 came back through the losers' bracket to defeat the IBM Raiders of Carlsbad twice for the crown. A total of 40 teams competed in the tournament.

Players from the Incredible, CattleBaron and the Diablos made up the Super-8 squad.

Some clutch pitching by Dave Pfeffer and a home run by Brian Richardson keyed Super-8 to an 8-7 win over the Raiders in the title game Sunday.

Super-8 rallied from a 6-2 deficit with five runs in the bottom of the fifth for a 7-6 lead.

Richardson added his home run in the sixth before the Raiders scored one run in the top of the seventh to fall one run short.

Earle2, Super-8 defeated the Raiders, 7-5, scoring three runs in the sixth inning. That forced the final game.

Super-8 started the tournament by losing to Carlsbad Sports, 8-7. The Lincoln County team then beat Lovington Coke, 7-5; topped the Roswell Doughboys, 6-5; belted Artesia Michelob, 14-1; beat Roswell Establishment, 13-0; topped Roswell Sun West Buccaneers, 9-1; beat the Carlsbad Dukes, 9-3; beat the Hobbs Brew Crew, 11-7; topped Carlsbad Budweiser, 7-5; and defeated Carlsbad Conoco, 6-1.

That set up the two games with the IBM Raiders.

"We just stuck together as a team," said head coach Ron West. "There were other teams there that were as good or better, but we played together and got hot."

Catcher Phil Kasl was named the tournament's most valuable player and also made the all-tournament

Other Super-8 players who made the all-tournament team included outfielders Bobby Wright, Mike Long and Donny West and Pfeffer as a pitcher. Pfeffer controlled the mound in all 13 games.

Tim Eckerdt assisted West in coaching the team.

The coaches expressed their thanks to Super-8 Motel for sponsoring the team in tournaments.

 Plaintiffs of merchants raising prices and improper treatment at Ski Apache.

Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. told Treat those things are outside the council's jurisdiction, and the string of speakers continued with Alden Deyo of The Aspen Tree noting, "You'd be surprised how many visitors complain" of being stopped on the street.

Tracy Freeman of Tracey's in Four Seasons Mall said she carried timeshare coupons for a year and never had one turned back in.

"There should be a way to work it out with constructive criticism," said Curtis Temple of the Broken Drum. He said guidelines should be clear and enforced, but noted the timeshare business helps the economy.

"If we get complaints on Realtors are we going to close down all Realtors?" asked Temple.

"This is America, and a person has a choice," noted James, an OPC, who didn't state his last name.

"This is America, people have a right to keep walking ... say no," said Curt Temple, manager of the Broken Drum. He said with business down some people are looking for a scapegoat.

Acting village attorney Don Dutton agreed "we are in America," noting people have the right not to be confronted while walking down the street.

 After hearing Duvall admit he can't supervise his sellers all the time, Councilor Jerry Shaw asked, "Can we?"

Carpenter said business owners will be able to make complaints.

"I think we're getting closer to either solving the problem or shutting them down," said Alonso after the council voted. Mayor Davis asked that the motion be typed up on Wednesday, and Dutton agreed to distribute the information to the affected groups.

Councillors agreed to reconsider the subject in a month.

In other regular business, the council:

—Approved the transfer of a liquor license from T&P Investments to Cree Meadows Country Club, Inc.

—Approved a liquor license for Legend's Liquor, Ltd. at 2600 Sutherland Drive.

—Set a public hearing on an appeal of P&Z's denial of a property line setback variance at 202 Main Road.

—Heard a division report from Becky Bell Durham.

—Discussed variance regulations and instructed Lahey to write up a policy, after Mayor Davis said past discussions weren't recorded in the minutes. "I'm not going through this anymore," said Davis.

—Approved Shaw as the voting delegate to New Mexico Municipal League Annual Conference.

Downs Trustees opt for court 'cleanup' measures

by DARRELL J. PEHR
 News Editor

Steps to "clean up" the court system in Ruidoso Downs received unanimous votes by the Ruidoso Downs Trustees during their Monday night meeting.

Newly appointed Municipal Judge Harrold Mansell suggested three changes to the court system, and trustees gave complete support to the trio.

Affirmed as assistant municipal judge was Debbie Floyd, who also serves as court clerk for Ruidoso's Municipal Court. Her expertise in working with the Ruidoso system apparently impressed the trustees.

"I know that there's nobody in the town that knows the courts better than Debbie," commented Trustee Jackie Branum.

Trustees also gave permission for the courts to hire Floyd on a temporary basis at a rate of $3.50 an hour to reorganize the Downs court system.

Also approved was the raise in salary for court clerk Ramona Wheeler to $300 a month from the previous $150 a month.

"We have a lot of work," noted Mansell, who predicted the eventual gains the village will experience in collection of fines will more than offset the increases in wages.

"There is a lot of monies that could be collected on outstanding fines," Mansell said.

The changes followed the appointment late last month of Mansell after previous Municipal Judge Martin Valenzuela failed to show up for court as scheduled. In the meantime, Valenzuela has apparently not returned to the Downs nor notified authorities of his whereabouts.

"This is the first time we've ever had a judge just to disappear," Downs Mayor J.C. "Jake" Harris commented during the meeting.

In other business, the trustees: —Approved the suggestion that Harris research and compare bids received on a tractor mower for the village, then call trustees when a decision is reached. Bids announced during the meeting included:

Smith Machinery, Roswell—$13,108.55, for 27 horsepower (hp) John Deere; Estes International, Roswell—$9,903, for 24 hp International; Romney Implementation, El Paso—$9,965, for 24 hp John Deere; Morrison's Int'l, Fabens, Texas—$12,125 for 31 hp International and $11,050 for 24 hp

Newly appointed Municipal Judge Harrold Mansell (left) suggested several changes to the court system during the Monday night Downs Trustees meeting. One change was the appointment of Debbie Floyd (right) as alternate judge.

International.

—Approved a request by Police Chief G.L. "Skip" Hazel to purchase 500 citations from G.A. Thompson of Dallas, Texas.

—Approved a request by Trustee LeVerne Cole to use $500 from the Parks and Recreation Department funds for gravel at the park where the Ruidoso Downs Ladies Auxiliary Arts and Crafts Fair will take place Friday through Sunday, September 4-6.

—Heard an audience member report that a forum for candidates running in the August 25 trustees election will take place from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, August 16, at Ruidoso Village Hall.

Reeves gets probation, fine in embezzlement case

Raymond Reeves will spend two years on probation and make restitution of $4,000 after entering a plea of "nolo contendere" to charges he embezzled $13,700 from a special fund established to benefit injured jockey Steve Harris.

District Judge Sandra Grisham approved a plea and disposition agreement Wednesday that replaces the one entered on May 11, according to court records. The judge will now sign a final judgment in the case, according to a court clerk.

Harry Wilcox Jr., senior trial prosecutor for the 12th Judicial District, said the defendant, Raymond Reeves, pled no contest to three counts of embezzlement pursuant to a plea and disposition hearing yesterday before Judge Grisham.

He confirmed a requirement in the agreement that the defendant repay $4,000 to the Steve Harris Trust Fund.

"The agreement left sentencing in the discretion of the court," said Wilcox. "After hearing arguments of counsel and being otherwise fully advised in the matter, Judge Grisham deferred the sentence and placed the defendant on probation for a period of two years," he added.

Wilcox said the investigation is still pending and Reeves has agreed to cooperate with both the 12th Judicial District Attorney and the Attorney General. He said he will consult with Ruidoso police detective Lanny Maddox to focus the investigation as it relates to other defendants.

"I couldn't confirm or deny on the perjury charges at this time," said Wilcox when questioned on the possibility of such charges.

Reeves' two-year probation period was set to begin on the date the first agreement was entered—May 11.

Mike McCormick, Reeves' attorney, said the original agreement was approved by the judge, but after some legal questions arose, the new order was entered "nunc pro tunc," or "this for that" on Wednesday.

The 51-year-old Reeves was indicted by a Lincoln County grand jury last year after funds were reported missing from the Steve Harris Trust Fund. Reeves was arrested September 22, 1986, and remained free on $25,000 bond.

Detective Maddox began investigating the missing funds after Charles Hawthorne, attorney for Harris, filed a complaint on his client's behalf. According to police reports Maddox learned from bank officials that $13,700 was withdrawn from the fund without Harris' knowledge.

Funds were raised at a benefit organized by Reeves when he was manager of The Barn. Although the exact amount raised was never announced, Hawthorne said last year that bank records indicate the Harris account totaled $24,181.50 at one time.

McCormick said "an incredible amount of money" was raised at the party, mainly because the liquor costs and other expenses were borne entirely by The Barn. He said his client "acted naively" in trying to recover those expenses for his employer.

To further complicate matters, The Barn apparently was involved in bankruptcy proceedings.

"He was trying to get the money back, and he thought he had the right to do it," said McCormick. "Everybody agrees that my guy didn't get a penny of it ($13,700)," added McCormick.

Judge Grisham is expected to sign a final judgment on the plea and disposition agreement within the next few days.

RHS band rehearsals start Monday

Summer band rehearsals for the Ruidoso High School 24-Karat Gold Marching Band will be Monday through Thursday, August 17-20, and Monday through Thursday, August 24-27, at the high school.

It will be from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. each morning. Members should bring band items, pencils and tennis shoes.

For information, call Brett Argo at 257-7114.

Dazzo to be honored after 50 years in law

Attorney Samuel L. Dazzo, who lives in Ruidoso in the summer, will be honored for 50 years of service to society and the profession as a member of the State Bar of New Mexico by members of the Board of Bar Commissioners at the group's annual convention in Santa Fe on Friday, September 25.

Dazzo was born in Dawson, Colfax County, Territory of New Mexico, in 1909. He received his law degree from the University of Colorado in 1935. In 1936 he practiced law with the John F. Sims law firm in Albuquerque. The Sims group represented the Cree family in Ruidoso in 1937 and helped them to acquire the land Cree Meadows Country Club now occupies.

Attorney Dazzo served in the Army in the Pacific, and acquired the title of major. He is listed in the "History of New Mexico," 1960, "Who's Who in New Mexico," and

"Who's Who in the West."

Dazzo is a member of many service organizations, including the International Platform Association, the Elks Club, Albuquerque Country Club, Museum of New Mexico Foundation, Sixty for Opera in Santa Fe, and he is a founder and member of the Albuquerque Petroleum Club.

Two years ago, Dazzo was one of four Ruidoso residents who purchased the bankrupt Cree Meadows Country Club, and then turned it over to its membership.

He is married to Frances Joy Dazzo, and they have one son, Sam Jr., and three grandchildren, Hallie, Adam and Sam C. Dazzo.

In addition to their Ruidoso home near the 16th green of the country club, the Dazzos maintain homes in Albuquerque and Scottsdale, Arizona.

County protests Bonito lake water use

Lincoln County has filed a protest in Judge LaFel Oman's Roswell court against the use of water from Bonito Lake by Alamogordo and Holloman Air Force Base.

County attorney Gary Mitchell reported that in the Lewis water case proceedings, an opportunity arose for the county to file an objection to the Bonito Lake uses or waive any objection. The county chose to object, said Mitchell, specifically against the amount of water taken from the lake and the fact that water is being transferred from this water basin to the Tularosa Basin.

"It's not illegal," Mitchell said of the water being taken to the other area, but it's not good water management, he added.

Alamogordo shares the waters collected by Bonito Dam with several other users including Nogal, Capitan and Fort Stanton.

The attorney said water originating in Lincoln County should stay here, and that Alamogordo and Holloman should develop their own water sources from mountains nearer those communities.

"It doesn't make a lick of sense," he said of the transfer of Lincoln County water to Otero County users.

He suggested that senators Jeff Bingaman and Pete Domenici and Representative Joe Skeen could become involved in the situation and help work out the two areas' water situations for the good of all.

"Some good, common sense would go a long way to helping everybody solve their water problems," Mitchell commented.

The county apparently hopes to have unified Otero County users' practice of transporting water to another basin. If that happens, Mitchell said the county could be in a position of purchasing the Bonito Lake water rights.

"They need to develop their own cotton-pickin' water," Mitchell said.

The attorney estimated the case will come before Oman's court in January or February, after the November culmination of the Mescalero Apache Tribe portion of the Lewis case.

School board prepares for school's start

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
 News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Board of Education officially accepted their federal grant monies for the 1987-88 school year at their meeting Tuesday night.

The grant money received was a higher total than last year's, and can be broken down into four grants: Chapter I (reading and grammar education), $56,481; Chapter II (to purchase 13 computers for the school and three for the office) $17,516; Title IV (Native American education), $34,096; and 94-142 (handicapped education), $262,803.

This last figure is shared between all schools in the region, it is not all Ruidoso's money.

In other business, Gonzales Dairies of Ruidoso was awarded the milk products bid for this year. The dairy will charge 14 cents per half-pint of two-percent milk. Board member Don Swalander injected a bit of humor into this part of the meeting when he said, "I moooooooove that we award the grant to Gonzales Dairies." Gonzales Dairies were the low bidders. Other bids for meat products and cafeteria equipment/supplies were opened and presented to the food service managers for scrutiny prior to the board making a decision.

In personnel action, Margaret Holt was hired, contingent on funding, to replace June LeCron as language development aide. As an aide, her salary will be $7,000 per year, and she will work in four schools in the district. Debbie Langworthy was hired as custodian for Nob Hill, and Robert Eamello was hired as activity bus driver. The resignation of Sue Vinsant, second grade teacher at White Mountain Elementary, was accepted.

Associate Superintendent Mike Gladden presented a report on changes in the board policies, which he called "minor changes," most of which are being effected because of changes in the New Mexico Legislature.

There will be a new student insurance plan available for parents to participate in, being designed by Pertee-Parks insurance. The state has legislated that schools carry catastrophic insurance for students in grades 10 through 12 participating in interscholastic athletics, and Superintendent Sid Miller stated, "We want to take this a bit further," and offer insurance for students in grades 8 through 12. Parents will be informed of costs and options of this new program.

Gladden also reported on the progress of the construction on Nob Hill Elementary and Ruidoso Middle School. "I went to see it today, and I was impressed. I don't know how in the world they can finish it in time for the beginning of school, but I am impressed."

Superintendent Miller stated that the classroom spaces will be finished by September 1, even if there is still work to be done on the band hall. "The construction has gone more for these buildings than I ever could have hoped," he said. "Keeping them instead of building new structures was a good decision."

Fundraisers set to cap animal shelter project

The Humane Society of Lincoln County has announced that "within the next couple of weeks, the finishing touches will be made" to the animal shelter located on Gavilan Canyon Road.

Full operation of the facility is expected by the first of September.

Two fundraising events are scheduled during August, which will help to defray expenses incurred in the construction of the building.

The first will be a fun-filled evening at Cree Meadows Country Club on Tuesday, August 18, according to a news release. "Race Tracker's Revue" will be a fashion show presented by jockeys, trainers and families of Ruidoso Downs Race Track.

Local merchants have graciously offered the apparel to be worn, decorations are being donated and the Cree Meadows Club and dining room are cooperating to the fullest, according to the release.

Cash bar will open at 6:30 p.m., dinner will be served at 7 and the show will begin at 8. Tickets for this gala event are being sold at Ruidoso Bus Depot, Plaza D'Oros Mall, Sierra Blanca Motors, Ruidoso Downs Race Track, El Mercado and The Ruidoso News. For more information, call 257-4547.

The other event will be a Flea Market Sale at Wal-Mart Friday through Sunday, August 21-23. Everyone is urged to please clean out garages, closets, etc. and bring used or unused articles to the Patio Annex at Wal-Mart. Also, volunteers are needed as sellers.

To the highest bidder!

Horse sale features top trainer's holdings

Ruidoso Downs will host the inaugural Black Type Affair Broodmare Sale on Aug. 15 at the track's All American Sales Pavilion featuring the complete dispersal of quarter horse broodmares owned by Eclipse Award winning trainer D. Wayne Lukas.

The Lukas dispersal comes on the heels of his announcement this summer to take his stable public. An offer of 500,000 units of stock in Mid-America Racing Stables was reportedly sold out in 20 minutes. The Oklahoma-based operation was formed to purchase thoroughbreds and quarter horses.

The Black Type Sale marks the dispersal of Lukas' private holdings in quarter horse broodmares and yearlings. Forty-nine of the 62 horses catalogued for the sale are consigned by Lukas. They include 33 broodmares and 16 weanlings.

Bob Standish, director of the All American Sales Co., a subsidiary of Ruidoso Downs Race Track, said the Lukas consignment features "one of the most outstanding selections of blue hen broodmares ever to be offered at public auction."

"These mares and their offspring have been preeminent in their performances in the most prestigious races in quarter horse history," Standish said.

Highlighting the Lukas consignment is 1972 All American Futurity winner Possum Jet. The 17-year-old mare earned more than $400,000 in her two years on the track and has produced two stakes placed runners from eight offspring of racing age. The daughter of World Champion Jet Deck sells bred to 1966 All American Futurity winner Mr Trucka Jet.

"It is an extremely rare occurrence to see a winner of the All American Futurity at auction," Standish commented. "Less than a handful of All American winners have changed hands over the past 30 years."

The 11-year-old mare Some Romance is another proven producer that will draw considerable interest at the auction. A stakes winner of $177,000, Some Romance won the Bay Meadows Futurity and finished second in the Kindergarten Futurity at Los Alamitos Race Course.

The daughter of Fleet Kirsh is expected to be among the top sellers. From six offspring of racing age, Some Romance has produced Throb, who has earned $119,000, and Some Power Play, a winner of more than $200,000.

Lukas' weanling consignment includes the unnamed 1987 foal of Some Romance by the great World Champion Easy Jet. The colt is a full brother to Some Power Play and a half-brother to Throb.

At the fair

Select sale shows gain over last year

Operators of the Ruidoso Super Thoroughbred Sale reported that this year's sale was up 38 percent over that of last year.

The August 1 sale at Glencoe reached a top price of $46,000 and all but six of the 46 yearlings offered found new homes as buyers spent $256,900 at the event. Eight thoroughbreds sold for $10,000 or more.

The average price for the 40 yearlings sold was $6,422, up a full 38 percent from last year's average of $4,651.

"We had a lot more enthusiastic buyers than last year," said Richard Thompson, president and general manager of the Ruidoso Super Select Horse Sale Company. "What impressed me was that there were so few repurchases. I think we are beginning to see a trend in our market toward a more stable, growing market."

The high seller at $46,000 was Club North, a Staff Writer colt, out of Supper Club, consigned by Butch Wise as agent for Billingsley Creek Ranch of Hagerman, Idaho, and purchased by Pat Sorrells of Odessa, Texas. Staff Writer has sired earners of $6.7 million, and Supper Club, a winning daughter of New Providence, is a stakes producer.

Sorrells was the sale's leading buyer, taking two head for a total of $61,000. Billingsley Creek Ranch, which sold three head for a total of $62,000, was the top consignor.

A colt by Bold Ego out of Profitability brought the sale's second highest price of $35,000. He was offered by W.S. Day and Ben McCutchin, and purchased by Joel Luis Rueda of El Paso, Texas. Profitability won six races, earning $46,000.

The top price for a filly was $15,000, paid by Pat Sorrells for a Barrera-Dashing Dyna filly offered by J.L. Perkins' Fairweather Farms. Dashing Dyna is a half-sister to Iron Pegasus, an earner of $285,000.

Future sales include the 7 p.m. Yearling Sale, scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday, August 16, in the Canyon Gallery at Carrizo Lodge. The exhibit will continue during gallery hours through August.

Artist employs versatility in Carrizo show

An exhibition of works by Ruidoso artist Gay Stokes will open with a reception at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, August 16, in the Canyon Gallery at Carrizo Lodge. The exhibit will continue during gallery hours through August.

Stokes, a versatile realistic artist, works in a variety of media, specializing in watercolor. She has designed and made jewelry, ceramic sculpture and Indian kachina dolls.

"I've painted everything from John Deere tractors to portraits," said Stokes. She combines her lifelong love of horses and art through horse portraiture, and has been commissioned to do a number of horse portraits.

Stokes also has designed covers for several special sections in The Ruidoso News. She won a cash award for her Best of Showentry in a Hobbs Art Show, the second show she ever entered.

A native Texas, Stokes grew up in Littlefield, Texas, attended Sul Ross State University and earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in art education at the University of Houston.

Before moving to Ruidoso, the artist taught high school art for two years in a Houston suburb.

Stokes has two children, Marcie and Randy, and is a member of The Ruidoso News staff.

Committee of Detail Submits Outline For New Constitution to Convention

I am but a Farmer kep poor by the bankers an merchens who dont want tp lone me money nor give me a fair price for my goods, so I bring my stuf to Fildelphie to sell it to people here. I stoped in City Tavern to have a taste, and herd them city-types talkin and shoutin around a table there, so I asks Dolly - shes a barmaid there - who they was an she says theys delegats to a convenshon which is gonna change the contry, so I figure I better listin for maybe theres somethin for me init.

This fat fellow - he werent no farmer for sartin - gets up an starts shoutin at the others bout somethin called a senat an how its gonna be part of a congress, an how men elected gotta be good men - now I agres with that part - then this fellow says to be a good man you had to live in these united states for 14 yrs, and another fellow with the reddess face I ever seen inside a buildin says yes, an to be a good man you gotta be 30 yrs ole, an you gotta own a bunch of propertie. Thats when I stoped listenen an started gettin angry a little, an decided to write you this letter which you aint gonna print in your paper anyways.

Where I come from therer all farmers an good men to, but aint more than haf of em thats over 30 yrs. olde, an aint haf of em thats been here more than 5 yrs, and aint none of em what owns propertie ful-out. But theys still good men you can count on. Even Dabney a fellow what works for me - when he aint sleepin an aint good for nothin cept tendin animals, noes it dont take no 14 yrs nor 30 yrs nor ownin somethen to figure out if you a good man or not.

We got us a good neighbor named Robt. Johnson whose smart an cant do much cause he left an eye, his nos an arm up to his elbo, an his foot at a place cald Prinston in jersie fightin the D - d blodiebacks. He got us this book by Jon Adams about them constitushons which he reads, then in the evenins we all get togethr an Johnson xplains it to us. Then we discusses it.

Johnson says we gotta make sure none of our children end up like him - we all agre on that - an in order to do that, we gotta make sur we elect good men to this new congress who will speke for us and be one of us. Johnson didnt say nothin bout age nor livin here along time nor bein rich.

Johnsons a good man, we figured hes a-bout 50 with his wite hair an sad eies an all. Samuel up an ast him onse an he says hes 29, an he dont own nothin cause he cant work much, so if we wanted Johnson to represent us he couldnt, but hes a good man.

It dont seme rite that this convenshon should tel us what kind of good man shoud represent us, we noe beter then them, an the people in Carolina an jersie an other plases noe beter to. They oughten to make that kinda rul.

Some of the other stuf there doin semes all rite to me.

Respkfulie
Jaype Walsh

(N.B. PLAUTUS agrees with Mr. Walsh; this Grand Convention should stay away from deciding who should represent the people. The gentlemen should concern themselves only with the form of the legislature, not the individuals therein; that is for the citizens of the States to decidel)

When the Convention re-assembled on Monday morning this week, it had before it a printed document which included a preamble and twenty-three articles covering seven large pages with a wide margin to the left of the text for its Delegates to make notes on. Two of the articles were introductions, seven dealt with Congress and its powers, one covered the Executive, one the Judiciary, three provided for interstate commerce, and the rest covered such miscellaneous topics as the admission of new States, amendment, ratification, and setting up the new government.

This outline of a New Constitution for the United States is the product of the work concluded last week by the Committee of Detail while the Grand Convention was in recess. Upon receipt of the document, the Delegates decided to adjourn for the rest of the day to consider it and make their further recommendations.

MERCER REVEALS LIST!

We hear that at least one delegation, Maryland, met as a group to plan which articles they would support and which oppose. Mr. Luther Martin is still opposed to the whole plan, but he indicated at the meeting that he would be in New York all of this week, so he cannot hope to influence the direction taken by the Convention for a time at least. The Maryland group was amazed at a paper shown to it by Mr. John Francis Mercer, who is attending the Convention for the first time this week. He had a list of Delegates and had marked those whom he knew to be in favor of a MONARCHY for the United States! The other gentlemen were intrigued and some made copies of the list.

The delegates decided, when they met together again, to hasten proceedings by discussing the Constitution as a Convention, not as a Committee of the Whole. If they had gone into Committee again, the process would have been prolonged because everything would have had to have been discussed twice. This decision indicates the desire of the Gentlemen to facilitate the completion of their task. Many of them are tired of living in Philadelphia and some fear the effects of their long absence from home on their business affairs.

Stop, Burglars!

Last night the Dwelling-House of the Subscriber was broken open, and the following articles stolen therefrom, viz.

- 1 Silver quart Can, marked S.E.
- 2 Salts, marked F.S.
- 1 (silver) Cup, with a cover
- 1 Spout for ditto, marked S. Elliot
- 10 large Table Spoons, 5 marked S.E. and 5 F.S.
- 12 Tea Spoons
- 1 plated Butter-Boat and Creampot.

Whoever shall detect the Thieves, so that they may be brought to justice, and the articles recovered, shall receive FIFTEEN DOLLARS.

Silversmiths, and others, are desired, should any of the above articles be offered for sale, to stop them, and give notice thereof to

Mail Service Expanded

Congress authorized Postmaster General Hazard to contract for carrying the mail from Portland to Savannah, Georgia. He was also authorized to contract for carrying the mail in 1788, and to establish "cross post" facilities from Fredricksburg, Virginia to Hobb's Hole to Yocomico land on to Urbanna. It is expected that these new routes will help tie our Country together.

Financial Problems

It has come to our attention that the American Philosophical Society is in financial disarray. Samuel Magaw, Chairman of the Society's Building Committee, has contacted the directors of the Library Company to ask them to buy the Society's unfinished building on the State House yard, or agree to a joint possession. The Library Company is considering the proposal.

Seneca Warrior Stricken! (by God?)

A short time since; about eight miles from this place, on the Allegheny river at an Indian camp, it is reported that the following extraordinary affair happened:

A young warrior of the Seneca nation who had escaped taking the small-pox, which is currently raging amongst his people, being much incensed at the feelings of so many of his friends seized with the malady, expressed himself in this effect. That if the Great Man above dared to give him the small-pox he would tomohawk Him as he would a stump, which he pointed out, and to shew how he would act, began cutting the stump in a most serious manner. In a few minutes he was struck entirely blind and his head swelled to such a degree that his eye balls burst from their sockets and he expired in a few hours.

Virginia Governor Edmund Randolph Describes How To Write A Constitution

Hon. Edmund Randolph

His Excellency, Governor Edmund Randolph of Virginia, today described what an ideal Constitution should consist of. The occasion was the presentation of the Committee on Details report to the Grand Convention at the Pennsylvania State House. The report, presented by Governor Randolph, along with fellow Virginia George Mason, Esq., the Honourable James Wilson of Philadelphia, and former Governor of South Carolina, the Honourable John Rutledge of Charleston, opened the Convention after a two week recess.

Governor Randolph suggested that a Constitution should contain only essential principles and should be worded in simple, precise language because "the construction of a Constitution of necessity differs from that of law." Preambles are for the purpose of designating the Ends of Government and Human Politics. Said Governor Randolph, "here we are not working on the Natural Rights of Man not yet gathered into Society, but upon the rights, modified by Society and interwoven into what we call the Rights of States."

"The thirty-three year old Governor has been an insistent supporter of a strong national government throughout this Convention. His tall frame, flowing dark hair, and dark, flashing eyes in a handsome countenance has been present in the midst of all the debates this summer. He introduced the Virginia Resolves in May and has defended his position ably. His attractive appearance, modest manners and well born status have won many supporters. Some of Mr. Randolph's fellow Virginia delegates are suspicious of his support for a stronger national government and the diminution of state governments but the Governor believes it necessary "to restrain the fury of Democracy and the Democratic Licentiousness of the State Legislatures."

DIFFICULT OBSTACLES

Now that the Grand Convention is back in session, Governor Randolph and his Committee on Detail will face many difficult obstacles before their work is concluded. Many delegates at the State House want to include far more detail in this Constitution than the Committee has recommended. Certainly the summer heat will be supplemented by the debates on Chestnut Street.

Philadelphia ... August 6, 1787

As the Convention proceeded through the articles of the Constitution one by one, it was halted by a motion of Mr. Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania. Mr. Morris wished the privilege of voting in elections to the House of Representatives to be limited to those who hold land - to the freeholders of America. Colonel Mason pointed that eight or nine states at least had extended the right to vote in state elections much more widely - that is, they had permitted many people to vote who were not freeholders. If these people were deprived of the privilege they would, with justice, be hostile to the new government, he said. Mr. Dickenson of Delaware supported Mr. Morris saying that he feared too, lest the government fall into the hands of those "multitudes without property and without principles." However, Colonel Mason's position, that the electorate could safely be extended to include those who have a permanent common interest in the nation, was accepted by the Convention. The franchise for the lower house, then, is to be quite broad.

SHARP ATTACK MADE!

A sharp attack was made by Mr. King of Massachusetts and Mr. G. Morris on the plan to include slaves in the calculations which determine the number of representatives each State will have in the House of Representatives. Mr. King expressed a Horror of Slavery and Mr. Morris pointed out what an economic blight it was on the States where it existed. In spite of the sentiments of these two gentlemen, the Convention declined to change the basis for representation because it had been an important part of the arrangements which brought about the Grand Compromise and permitted the Convention to continue to work for a new Constitution. There is among the delegations a strong feeling that agreements already made must be honoured no matter what.

The qualifications for membership of the Senate include a period of residence in the United States of four years. Mr. G. Morris objected and moved that it be extended to fourteen years. Mr. Wilson, Mr. Morris' fellow-delegate from Pennsylvania, was distressed since such a change would make him ineligible for the Senate. Mr. Wilson was born in Scotland and came to this country as an adult. He told the Convention that it was odd that he should not be eligible when he had had the Honour of taking part in writing the Constitution.

Mr. Morris was not moved by his plea, and when the Convention voted against a fourteen year requirement, he at once moved for thirteen years - when that was rejected, he moved for ten years! Perhaps in exasperation the gentlemen agreed to a requirement of nine years, and then the discussion ended.

PROPERTY QUALIFICATIONS SUGGESTED

Mr. Pinckney of South Carolina moved that there be a property qualification for members of the national legislature. Mr. Rutledge of the same state seconded the motion, but pointed out how difficult it was to set such a qualification when economic conditions varied so much between the States. It seems that the problem is insoluble and the issue was dropped with so general a "no" that a vote was not called for.

Philadelphia ... August 11, 1787

The Committee of Detail preparing the draft constitution which was printed by the prominent Philadelphia printers John Dunlap and David Claypoole for use by the Delegates.

Gen. Greene Medal Distribution

John Jay, Esq., Secretary for Foreign Affairs, reported to Congress today on what should be done with the medal struck by Congress to honour our Great American General, Nathaniel Greene. Secretary Jay proposed the following distribution:

- 1 Silver to each European monarch, except Great Britain;
- 1 Silver to Morocco, to each state, to the Emperor of China and to General Washington;
- 1 Copper to each European university except those to Great Britain, to each American college, to each American Major General, and to Lafayette, Rochambeau, D'Estaing and Degrasse.

Franklin's Experimental Orange

Doctor Benjamin Franklin, as an amusement away from the rigours of the Grand Convention, has invented a new and delightful way to enjoy the sweetness of an Orange. According to the good Doctor, the Orange is a most misunderstood fruit, lacking its proper place in our American diet. He suggests the following formula for enjoying the Orange to its fullest.

We suggest you enjoy this "secret" formula in moderation.

Orange Shrub

To a Gallon Rum, two Quarts of Orange Juice and two pounds of Sugar - dissolve the Sugar in the Juice before you mix it with the Rum - put all together in a Cask and shake it well - let it stand 3 or 4 Weeks and it will be very fine & fit for Bottling - when you have Bottled off the fine pass the thick thro' a Philtring paper put into a Funnell - that not a drop may be lost.

To obtain the flavour of the Orange Peel pare a few Oranges and put it in Rum for twelve hours - and put that Rum into the Cask with the other - For Punch thought better without the Peel.

KEYSER'S GENUINE PILLS.

So well known all over Europe, and in this and the neighbouring waters, for their superior efficacy and mildness in perfectly curing every degree of a Venereal Disease without the least trouble or confinement; they are also of known efficacy in the cure of Rheumatism or any abstraction of occasional pains in the side, the Asthma, Apoplexy, Palsy, Lethargy, the Hip-Gout or Sciatica, and red pimples Faces, and any Hysterical Disorders in either sex. These pills are now available at any Printer here of for 10, 30, and 40 schillings a box with ample directions for taking them.

Mr. Matthew Carey announces that the JULY ISSUE of his AMERICAN MUSEUM magazine is now for sale. This issue contains several letters to and from Doctor Franklin on northeast storms, whirlwinds, and water spouts.

Ransom Demands!

Congress today heard a report from the Board of the Treasury requesting money to redeem Algerian captives. Currently there are 2 captains, 4 mates and 15 seamen being held captive by the Barbary state. The ransom demanded is $6,000 for each captain, $4,000 each mate, and $1,500 each seaman.

No decision has been reached, but in the past the Congress has agreed to ransom demands.

In related testimony, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, John Jay, Esq., reported on a motion to have the United States join the European powers in a war against the Barbary pirates. Mr. Jay stated that Congress didn't have and couldn't get the money for such an effort.

A NEW PRINT FROM

Snidow

She can ride and rope and brand with the best of them. She drinks only Coors Light and is known as the "Silver Bullet." So says Gordon Snidow, thirty years a chronicler of the contemporary cowboy and creator of the famous COORS COLLECTORS SERIES, a series of six prints commissioned by the Adolph Coors Company. He now introduces "JOE AND THE SILVER BULLET," his eighth print in the tradition of the series.

Signed prints of "Joe And The Silver Bullet" are now available at the Gray Fox Gallery along with a large variety of earlier prints by Gordon Snidow including the entire "Coors Collectors Series."

The gallery also features original paintings, sculpture and pottery by other artists including: Mimi Jungbluth, Peggy Jones, Gary Garrett, C. D. Bond, Christopher Quintana.

The gallery also carries a large selection of prints and posters and features on the spot custom matting and framing.

RC softball wins twice for softball title

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

RC Softball unleashed its power Tuesday night, defeating CattleBaron, 19-10 and 27-5, to win the Lincoln County Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League Tournament title at Eagle Creek Sports Complex.

The winners came into the night's play having to win twice, since CattleBaron won the first game between the teams, 10-7, last Friday. RC Softball had one loss in tournament play and CattleBaron was unbeaten going into the title games.

RC Softball jumped on CattleBaron for 11 runs in the opening inning of the first contest, and never gave up the lead.

CattleBaron came back with two runs in the bottom of the first for an 11-2 CattleBaron lead.

Both teams added one run in the second inning and RC Softball's Dewey Keller clubbed a fourth-inning home run for a 13-3 lead.

RC Softball built up a 19-4 lead in the bottom of the seventh. CattleBaron came back with six runs in the bottom of the seventh, but it was not enough.

Ron Roybal pitched for RC Softball and Charlie Luna pitched for CattleBaron. In the second contest, RC Softball jumped off to a 4-0 first-inning lead and never trailed.

The winners exploded for seven runs in the third inning on home runs by Keller, James Guevara and Terry Cox.

RC Softball had several more scoring busts before the game was over.

Roybal again pitched for the winners. Luna and Jock Palmer pitched for CattleBaron.

"We just came out this season to have fun and play some ball," said Cox.

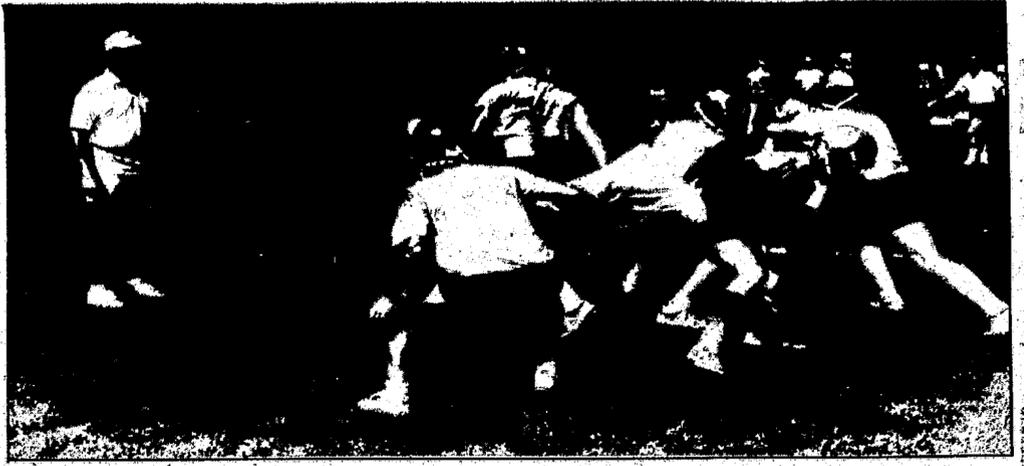

RC Softball ended the league season with a 19-3 regular-season record and a 5-1 tournament record. It won the Black Division title.

CattleBaron won the Red Division title. Both teams will compete in the state D division tournament Friday through Sunday, August 14-16, in Albuquerque.

Other Lincoln County Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League teams that will compete in the state tournament include the Merchants, Radio Shack and Aspen Pharmacy.

NOTES-The Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League

Tournament will be Saturday, August 22. The All-Star game will be Sunday, August 23. The Flamingo Club won the regular-season title with a 17-1 record. The Capitan Fire finished second.

Warrior gridders, spikers continue practices

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School's football and volleyball teams are in the middle of their first week of practice. Warrior head football coach Cooper Henderson has 46 players out for the team this season, less than he had hoped for.

However, Henderson is excited about the upcoming season.

"We're about where we expected to be this time," he said. "We're working hard and the attitude is good. We've got a lot of work to do, but we're excited about starting the season."

Ruidoso lost all its offensive starters of last season, but returns five defensive starters.

They are end Sean Moore, tackle Sean Mowdy, and linebackers Jeff Sherwood, Dusty Beavers and Matthew Griego.

Moore made the All-District 3-AAA first team last season.

Those brave and hardy souls who like to run will get a chance Saturday when the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department's fourth annual Runner's Classic will take place. The classic will consist of 5-K and 10-K runs. It will start and finish at the Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center, beginning at 8 a.m. There will be different categories with medals awarded to the top finishers.

T-shirts also will be given to the first 75 finishers. A lot of people have run in the event the past three years, whether they be experienced, competitive runners or first-timers. I once thought of competing in the classic, but I decided that embarrassment from finishing in last place would not be worth the physical effort.

But the classic should be fun to both watch and run in.

Although high school football and volleyball are beginning practice sessions this week, let's not forget the cross-country team at Ruidoso High School.

The Warrior harriers will begin practice when school starts in early September.

Ruidoso's cross-country team always is competitive, and this year should be no exception, with most of the runners returning from last season's team.

Things have been busy at Alto Lakes Golf and Country Club this week.

The final round of the Lincoln County War Couples Golf Tournament is today (Thursday), August 13. The first two rounds were Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mike Massey and Karon Petty are leading the Billy the Kid flight with a 113 score.

The first round was a scramble with half of the team handicap subtracted from the total. The second round was a chapman scotch with half of the team handicap subtracted from the total. Today's final round is a net best-ball competition.

Petty and Massey are leading the flight by six strokes over Gordon May and Wanda Hardy, who have a 119.

Babe Vanlandingham and Kaki Schwettmann are tied with Leroy Gooch and Joyce Vanlandingham for third, both teams shooting a 122.

"The weather's helped," said Petty. "Mike's a very good golfer. We've partnered well."

Gary Derrick and Trouba Derrick lead the Pat Garrett flight with a 109. Sam Spencer and Jayne Spencer are second with a 113.

First-day competition in the Alexander McSween and James J. Dolan flights were cut to nine holes because of rainy weather. However, Wednesday's second round was 18 holes.

Rod Fraser and Melba Draper carded an 88 to lead the Alexander McSween flight. Hayes Mitchell and Maxine Mitchell are second with a 90.25.

Gary Crutcher and Glenda Thornton lead the James J. Dolan flight with an 89.25 score. John Van Tussenbroek and Alyce Van Tussenbroek are second at 91.

Monday, Alto Lakes had its Pro-Member Golf Tournament.

Earl Baca won the pro sweepstakes title with a 67, two strokes ahead of Steve Mack at 69. Dudley Wysong was third at 71, while Daniel Nunez, Fred Bond and Cree Meadows Country Club pro Chuck Harris were tied for fourth at 72.

Baca and Laverne Williams won the pro-pro title with Wysong and Bill Eschenbrenner second.

Dave Donachne and Steve Mack tied with Nunez and Harris for third.

Steve Mack and Pat Innerarity won the pro-member competition with a 60.

Alto assistant pro Chuck Dunn and Kent Beatty tied for second with Baca and Fred Hanson and Baca and Bob Berry. All three teams shot 62s.

Beatty won the amateur net title with a 64. Fred Hanson was second at 67, Joyce McBride and Pete Bayless tied for third at 68, and Joe Zaggans was fifth at 69.

Dwight Andrews won the gross crown with a 70. Gary Christensen was second at 72, Leroy Gooch was third at 73, Howard Hassell was fourth at 75 and Danny Wimberly was fifth at 77.

Softball runner-ups

Middle school practices open

Ruidoso Middle School's football and volleyball teams will begin practice Monday, August 17.

The Brave volleyball team will practice from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Jody Hopkins is the coach.

The Brave football team will begin practice at 2 p.m. Players must bring shirts, shorts and football shoes.

Ruidoso High School's freshman football team also will begin practice Monday. Practice will begin at 1 p.m. and the players must bring football shoes.

Soccer clinic set tonight

The New Mexico Youth Soccer Association will have a referee's certification clinic at 6:30 p.m. today (Thursday), August 13, at White Mountain School.

People who pass the test will receive associate referee's certifications and will be eligible to referee matches.

Warriors

Beavers made All-District honorable mention.

Junior Michael Swanner appears to be the heir-apparent to Jeff Willingham at the quarterback position.

The Warriors are currently working out twice a day. Ruidoso will go into pads Saturday, August 15.

Ruidoso's varsity football team will have a scrimmage at Hobbs Thursday, August 20, starting at 7 p.m. The Warrior junior varsity will host Capitan's varsity at 9 a.m. Saturday, August 22.

The Warriors will open the season at Artesia Friday, August 28.

Ruidoso's volleyball team has 40 players out for practice.

"That's the most we've ever had," said head coach Pixie Arthur.

The Warriors finished second in the district last season and made the state AAA-division tournament.

Returning starters from last season include Tara Miller, Mikki Roller, Dari Stierwalt and Shannon Lee.

However, replacements must be found for graduated standouts Ashley McIntosh, Kerry Gladden and Lana McClure.

The Warrior spikers will open the season at Tularosa Thursday, September 3.

Capitan High School football and volleyball teams also opened practice this week.

The Tiger gridders have a new head coach in Blane Miller and are coming off a 6-5 1986 season in which they made the state A-division playoffs.

Capitan's volleyball team is coached by new mentor Pam Allen. Capitan made the state A-division tournament last season and has an experienced team returning this season.

Jockey / Trainer Of The Week

Jockey Mike Lidberg drew within a single win of tying leading rider Joe Martinez over the weekend at Ruidoso Downs, while Fred Danley overtook Jack Brooks in the trainer standings. Lidberg took the weekly honors after booting home eight winning mounts over five days of racing. Five of the wins came on Thursday's program. The young rider was forced to pass his mounts on Friday after an accident that saw him rushed to Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Medical Center for observation. He was back in the irons on Saturday, however, and appeared no worse for the wear while winning Sunday's Rio Grande Futurity. Martinez managed to make seven trips to the winner's circle to boost his tally for the season to 45 wins. His weekend was highlighted by an easy score aboard Cuffin A

Rug in the Ruidoso Speed Handicap that saw a new 5-furlong track record. Lidberg checks in with 44 wins, followed by Jacky Martin (34), Glen Murphy (32), Mike Clark (28), Duane Sterling (26), David Lidberg (23), S.A. Dolphus (23), Casey Lambert (23), and Salustio Burgos (22). After chasing Jack Brooks for most of the season, Fred Danley finally took the No. 1 spot on the trainer's list after taking the weekly honors by saddling four winning mounts. Danley now holds 26 wins, with Brooks at 25 and Doyal Roberts at 24. Hugh Tucker and Bill Leach are tied with 19 wins each. Brent Davidson has 18, followed by Dwayne Gilbreath (17), Cliff Lambert (17), Lewis Germany (13), Ozzie Carlton (11) and Emmitt Burelsmith (11).

Successful horse campaigners

Clarence and Dorothy Scharbauer, the owners of Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner Alysheba, will probably be back at Ruidoso Downs on August 23 after their quarter horse Josies Super Sound qualified for the $250,000 All American Gold Cup in trials last week at the mountain track. The Scharbauers have campaigned many horses at Ruidoso Downs over the past 30 years and are shown attending the races a week after Alysheba made his bid for the Triple Crown in the Belmont Stakes this summer. Dorothy's Figure Five won the Thoroughbred Derby at Ruidoso Downs in 1953, and Clarence won the first running of the Rainbow Futurity in 1964 with Double Queen. Vim And Vigor flew the Scharbauer's colors while winning the 1975 All American Derby. "I'd like to win the All American Futurity," said Clarence in a recent interview, "it's the highest you can get in quarter horse racing. I've had more horses in it than anyone else. I've been trying to win it ever since it started."

Sprinters chase $10,000 in Gene Hensley Handicap

Jerry Rheudasil's stakes winning quarter horse Big John Mito takes his first official trip around the turn when he faces Cherokee Lake and eight other rivals in Saturday's Gene Hensley Handicap at Ruidoso Downs.

The Gene Hensley features a full field of 3-year-old and older sprinters chasing a $10,000 purse over Ruidoso's 870-yard course. Big John Mito will carry top weight of 120 pounds, while Cherokee Lake shoulders 119. First post for the 12-race program is set for 1 p.m. The track's admission gates open at 11 a.m. With a first and second in stakes competition this summer at Ruidoso Downs, Big John Mito is likely to be the wagering favorite for the Gene Hensley Cap. The grey son of Mito Paint opened his 5-year-old campaign placing second to Barbarys Pokey in the Mr Jet Moore Stake on May 9 at Ruidoso.

A month later, trainer Dwayne Gilbreath was in the winner's circle of the Jet Deck Handicap after Big John Mito and rider Luke Myles posted a head verdict to upset odds-on favorite Barbarys Pokey. Big John Mito went on to qualify for the $100,000 World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic, but could manage no better than seventh against the flashy California import Florentine. Big John Mito makes his bid from the No. 4 post in the Gene Hensley after checking in third to Rocket Raiser in the 550-yard Big Profit Handicap earlier this month. Myles will be in the irons for Gilbreath. Although Cherokee Lake will be spotting Big John Mito two years experience, the sophomore gelding rates as a definite threat after downing a strong field of older horses in the $11,000 Master Salls Handicap on June 20.

Jockey is hot in All American eliminations

Jacky Martin, one of the top quarter horse riders in the nation, set his sights on an unprecedented fourth All American Futurity trophy after qualifying six horses in Wednesday's first-round trials for the $2.5 million dash at Ruidoso Downs.

Martin qualified six of seven horses that he rode on Wednesday's card and made four trips to the winner's circle. The three-time All American Futurity winner joined trainer Jack Brooks to qualify Dashing Encounter, Reverend Jonah Black and Stepping Georgious.

His final score came aboard Jody O Toole, a colt supplemented to the trials by San Antonio owner Robert Douglas for $50,000. Martin went on to qualify My Queen Of Beauty with a third-place finish in the 10th race and Brooks trainee My Mr Special Bug with a second in the 11th.

Jody O Toole was one of four $50,000 supplements to Wednesday's elimination trials that made the first cut for the 1987 All American Futurity. Kisses To Yawl, who is owned by Jack Hall of Abilene, posted a half-length victory in the 11th race under West Coast rider Bruce Pilkenton. Elaine Rae and Send The Gals Candy, two horses with Oklahoma connections, finished second in their divisions to also qualify.

Back To Cash turned in the fastest clocking of the day while winning the final division on Wednesday's program. Jockey Billy Wainscott piloted the Master Hand colt to a three-length victory over the mountain track's 440-yard course in 21.86 seconds. Jann Jones trains Back To Cash for owner and breeder Joe Kirk Fulton of Lubbock.

Those horses with major stakes experience qualifying from Wednesday's divisions include: Dash For Cash Futurity winner Special Shake; Kansas Futurity finalist Special Volley; Make Jos Day, who captured the Sun Country Futurity Consolation; Kindergarten and Dash For Cash Futurity finalist Kisses To Yawl; and Montana Del Rey, third in the Sun Country Futurity.

Freshman sprinters to battle in Friday feature

D.V. Cook's California-bred sprinter Seventh Game fires back off an impressive maiden victory to face eight freshman fillies in Friday's allowance headliner at Ruidoso Downs.

The 5 1/2-furlong main event highlights a 12-race card that gets under way at 1 p.m. The track's admission gates open at 11 a.m.

Seventh Game took her bow at Ruidoso Downs with a 2 1/4-length romp over maidens on Aug. 1. Racing as the 2-1 favorite in that 6-furlong race, jockey Kevin Cogburn moved the filly up from fifth in the early going to take command as the field hit the top of the stretch. There were no challengers in the final furlong as Cogburn rode handily to the wire with a final time of 1:14 over a muddy track.

Prior to that effort, Seventh Game campaigned at La Mesa Park in Raton, where she finished seventh in the Land Of Enchantment Futurity. With her come-from-behind tactics, Cogburn will have to keep Seventh Game within striking distance when he breaks from the four post in Friday's feature. Don Maines conditions the daughter of Crow.

Facing the recent winner are Daring Renee, Flying Joyce, Conquistita Classa, Jerrice's Ego, Pesudilla, My Vana, Unlimited Pearl and Precious Treasure.

Flying Joyce rates as a definite threat. The Johnie Jamison trainee lit the board in three consecutive races before finishing fifth to allowance rivals in her last appearance on Aug. 8. That was her first attempt at the 6-furlong distance, however, and she was racing over an off track. Jamison named no rider at entry for Flying Joyce, who will load into the No. 2 post.

Daring Renee should show considerable improvement after checking in seventh in the $100,000 Kachina Stakes on July 25, at Ruidoso.

Gospel singing is set for August 23

The Capitan United Methodist Church will be host to a community gospel singing at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, August 23.

Everyone is invited to participate in congregational singing and to share special music. Singings were held last summer and this past summer, and church groups in Capitan and other communities have presented special music. People are asked to request and to sing their favorite hymns.

High school field runoff flooding has trustees troubled

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

Capitan culverts and bar ditches are overflowing with water draining downhill from the high school football field, currently under construction, it was learned at the Monday night meeting of the Capitan Trustees. The lay of the land sends streams of water directly down Fourth Street, and onto people's property.

Before the area behind the school was dug up, vegetation helped prevent drain-off. Now that there is no vegetation, there is nothing to prevent water from streaming toward the village during heavy rains.

Architect Jim French, who designed the new football field, defended his design. "We'll have French drains, and that will take care of the problem," he stated, showing maps to the trustees. However, he admitted that the proposed drainage system will only reroute the water into the existing ditch system.

"Somehow, the water has to get past Highway 380 or Highway 48 to reach either of the creeks," French said. "I think the village has to settle on some sort of program."

Attorney Don Dutton believes that the Capitan School Board is responsible for property damage caused by current flooding while the football field is under construction. "Whenever you change your property and it affects others, you are responsible," he told French.

Trustee Dr. David Rouleau agreed with Dutton. "We have to look at what we've created here. We have changed the ecology, the hydrology. Putting in French drains in the future doesn't help those affected by this week's rains."

Village Mayor Benny Coker asked the Capitan Planning and Zoning Committee to study the problem with the existing drainage culverts and suggest how these can be improved. At it stands, culverts are on right of way land, not private property, and Capitan has a $25,000 grant to make improvements in their ditch system. Coker felt that standardizing the size of the culverts may improve the water situation.

In other business, the trustees were told that the new water well has passed its pre-final test and that it "looks really good," according to water superintendent Terry Cox. The final inspection is scheduled for Tuesday, August 18, at 11 a.m., when state officials will check it out and make a last determination. Construction is complete.

However, according to Cox, the village has already received a bill for $1,100 for the two acre feet of water pumped in the tests. This is because, Cox said, the Otero County Electric Co-Op Inc. has put a demand meter on the well.

"How can they put on a demand meter, when they don't even know what our demand will be?" demanded Trustee V. Kelly Beavers.

Mayor Coker said that the village would discuss metering practices with the Co-Op.

Pappy Coons was named animal control officer for Capitan. Coons has already been acting as control officer for the past three months, at no charge to the village. His contract agrees to provide 40 hours of animal control per month, at 10 hours per week. He will supply animal handling equipment, housing for animals, food and medication for disposal for animals. Coons' fee is $5,000 per year for this service.

It will cost Capitan animal owners $10 if Coons has to pick up an animal, $10 for dropping one off, $5 per day for day care and $15 adoption fee. For loose dogs, it will cost $25 in fines the first time your animal is picked up, $50 the second time, and $75 the third time, with all fees to revert to the village treasury.

Village dog licenses will cost $10 for un-neutered animals, $5 for neutered animals, and $2 for dogs of senior citizens. All fees revert back to the village.

N.C. Grantham submitted a proposal for new signage at the Capitan Cemetery. The new metal sign would be 14 foot, 6 inches high and will say "Capitan Cemetery." It will cost no more than $600, according to Grantham. He has also designed a square building to house cemetery equipment, which will cost $1,200, including labor. The cemetery fund has $2,500 in its treasury, so these improvements will be within the budget.

The trustees commended Grantham for a job well done.

Village clerk Janet Keel was voted to be the village representative to the Municipal League Annual Conference taking place in Farmington on September 1-4. Rouleau was elected to continue his seat on the Capitan-Carrizozo Gas Board.

Wayne Hobbs had his contract renewed to run the village dump. He stated that he would try to keep the dump open on Saturday mornings between the hours of 8 a.m. and noon. However, in the event that he cannot be there at that time, residents of Capitan may pick up the keys at the Smokey Bear Museum. They must show proof of residence (a water bill, for example) before the key will be given out.

The next Village Trustees meeting will take place at Village Hall at 7 p.m. Monday, September 14.

Capitan group for preschool tots may form

Suze Campbell is a mother of two who has recently moved into rural Capitan from Rockford, Illinois. Her son, Sam, will be five in October, and his birthday comes too late to enable him to go to kindergarten this year.

Campbell is interested in getting together a small group of children in a similar age group for preschool socializing a couple of mornings per week, possibly rotating at the children's different houses. Interested Capitan-area parents can call Campbell at 354-2488.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

The Rain Clouds Hold Back For Lincoln Days

For thirty-eight years now, the Old Lincoln Days have been held right in the middle of the rainy season, and yet neither the pageant nor the parade have ever been completely rained. Things have been postponed a little it is true. And several times a shower has fallen and folks go to their cars for awhile or get under other shelter. Then the rain is over and the show is continued.

On Saturday night the clouds came moving in from the north, east and west, the lightning flashed and the thunder boomed; and yet only a few drops fell on the pageant grounds, and the show went on in perfect weather before a large and appreciative gathering of good folks who made the journey to Lincoln from nearby and also places quite a long way off.

On Sunday, the afternoon performance of the pageant was well underway when a light shower came in from over the hill. Dave Parks, our veteran announcer, told the folks:

"These little mountain showers don't amount to anything, folks, so just stay where you are."

And sure enough, after just a few light drops which only cooled things off and freshened up the air, the rain cloud went on its way on across the valley.

Several times, just after the last presentation of the pageant is over, a great rainstorm descends upon the town. One year about five minutes after the last performance, a cloud-burst fell upon the hill south of the pageant grounds, and the rain came flooding down filling the streets of Lincoln with logs and large stones. However, the early pioneers wisely selected the location for the town—a place of no danger from flooding, little wind, much rainfall and a mild winter.

We are grateful for the rain spirits in bringing rain during the Lincoln Days, and holding back when the crowds are gathered.

Two good rains have fallen here in the vale since the Lincoln Days, and the clouds with lightning and thunder are advancing right now, just at high noon August eleven.

A Grand Parade

James Sanchez and his devoted helpers once again put on a grand parade through the town, one of the very best in all these years. James is now a college counselor at New Mexico Military Institute, and is a former counselor at Ruidoso High School.

With all the horses, buggies, wagons and folks walking in frontier costumes, the parade carried all the color and romance of the old days—very much in harmony with the theme of turning the clock back a hundred years. As the procession came through Lincoln, the town seemed to fit into the picture, being as it is little changed from early frontier times.

It was great to see Juan Baca and his wife, Josephine, in their small wagon pulled by the pony Roaney, and ridden by the small dog, Thirteen. The wagon is in good condition although it was in use in the 1880s. Juan and Josephine drew a hand from the crowd and a first prize.

The Mescalero Apaches were represented by this year's Mescalero Princess, Miss Mescalero—Gina Cochise, accompanied by Josephine Via, Kristi La Paz, and Abraham Chee. These four fine young people walked in the parade while Abraham carried Gina's banner.

I was privileged to ride in a buggy with Mrs. Bonnie Hillin, of Alamogordo, a school teacher for over 30 years. Mrs. Hillin is a descendant of Robert Olinger, one of the pioneer figures in early Lincoln County.

Driving the buggy drawn by the mule Rimestone, was Will Ellison, accompanied by Miss Josie Stoc-ton, an actress in the pageant.

Will and his father, Ron, brought the buggy and the stagecoach from Carlsbad.

Will and Ron are typical of the many, many folks who show such a fine spirit in bringing horses, wagons, buggies and other features that make the pageant and the parade and all the other activities something so highly appreciated. The folks who come year after year, acting, speaking voices from the sound booth and helping in many ways are appreciated from the heart by all of us. It was especially good to see so many children and young people this year.

It was an honor to visit again this year with Mrs. Margarita Salazar, daughter of Higinio Salazar, friend of Billy The Kid. Mrs. Salazar is a great favorite with all the folks of Lincoln County, an inspiration to all of us with her cheerful words and kindly smile.

Billy the Kid leaps to freedom from the porch of the Old Courthouse in this dramatic pageant scene. Ronnie Barone played Billy in this year's production.

Opinion

Inside the Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE—I spent last weekend down in Deming at a class reunion. I only went through the eighth grade in Deming but they still claim me and let me come to their reunions every five years.

The big political talk in Deming is whether or not 82 year old Ike Smalley will run for his Senate seat one more time. The Big Bear finishes his seventh term in the Senate next year. He was originally elected in 1957 and had several years prior service in the House of Representatives before that.

Counting just his Senate service Smalley has 12 years seniority on the legislator with the next longest tenure, Rep. Murray Ryan of neighboring Silver City. The two senators who follow Smalley in seniority are Ben Altamirano of Silver City and John Morrow of Capulin.

Ike says he won't run again. His family firmly believes him. Luna County politicians know they had better be wary, however. Ike has indicated in the past that he was not going to run and then jumped into the race. Many people are guessing that if he had not recaptured the Senate President Pro Tem position last year he would definitely not have chosen to make the run again.

There are a number of possible candidates waiting in the wings if Ike does decide to retire. One of the names most frequently mentioned is former Republican Representative Von Rue Crawford, who has changed his party registration to Democrat since representing Luna County in the House several years ago.

Also mentioned as being interested is former Luna County Democrat chairman John Smith, who is also state party co-vice chairman for Congressional District Two. Some Luna County Demo bosses are trying to talk former Luna County Democrat, Chairman Dick Noyes into making the run but report they aren't meeting with much luck.

All of those expressing interest in running for the Senate seat are doing so with the caveat that they will only run if Smalley definitely announces his retirement.

Senate District 35 also includes Sierra and Hidalgo Counties which can't be forgotten when either party is looking for acceptable candidates. These two counties will probably always be victims of the numbers game when it comes to deciding on legislative representation however because their combined voting strength totaled about 800 votes less than Luna County in the last senatorial election. Neither county has its own senator or representative and the principle of one-person one-vote will probably keep it from ever happening without a colossal population increase.

A rumor which keeps surfacing in the southern part of the state is that U. S. Sen. Pete Domenici and Gov. Carruthers are going to pull a big switch in 1990. The scenario is that Domenici will resign his Senate seat. Carruthers will resign as Governor which would move Lt. Gov. Jack Stahl into the governor's office. Stahl would appoint Carruthers to the Senate seat. Domenici would then run for governor and Carruthers for the U. S. Senate.

I can think of no earthly reason why Domenici should want to run for governor when he has all that seniority built up in the Senate. It would hurt New Mexico to lose that seniority. Besides, in the political pecking order a U. S. Senator seat is considered much more prestigious than the governor's chair.

It sounds more like wishful thinking on the part of Republican loyalists who want to be assured of keeping the governor's office another four years. It would certainly accomplish that because Pete is unbeatable for any office he wishes to seek. In fact, it would assure a Republican governor for eight years because we voters approved a constitutional amendment last November allowing governors elected beginning in 1990 to run for a second term.

Carruthers has proven his strength as a candidate. If he has four decent years as governor, he might be able to win a senate race. History would be working against him though. No Governor in the last 20 or more years has left office with sufficient popularity to run immediately for dog catcher.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to take this opportunity to commend Humbert Maldonado, Toby Avila, Rod Wright from the Ruidoso Downs Volunteer Fire Department and Bobby Zamora from the Water Department for their assistance during the flooding of the Municipal Building in Ruidoso Downs last Tuesday night. Their quick response and hard work for the several hours it took to handle the situation, is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
J. C. Harris

Editorial

If a yield sign is decorating a bedroom in your house, or three stop signs are stacked in the garage after last week's scavenger hunt, or perhaps a "Do Not Pass" sign serves as a backboard for the driveway basketball court, now's the time to come clean and restore village property to the village—amnesty has been declared.

Of course, a lot of people see taking street signs as kind of a practical joke, the feeling is often strong that taking public property isn't really stealing.

People may think that the absence of just one sign won't be missed—they don't believe any harm could come from taking just one sign.

But taking street signs is really stealing, and in fact it's unlawful. Stealing tax-supported village property is like stealing from yourself. And while some traffic signs seem to be just a part of the landscape, many tend to play a critical role in keeping one car from having a bad meeting with another.

So don't be a part of a bad situation. Turn in village traffic signs during the amnesty period, which has been declared by Lincoln County Crime Stoppers.

From now until August 27, you can drop off signs at JT Yamaha, at the corner of Sudderth and Mechem drives. No questions asked—no charges filed.

Let's get signs back where they belong—on the streets—and get ourselves out of the position of harboring stolen goods. Return the signs. You'll be glad you did.—DJP

Reporter's Round

By Frankie Jarrell

Wait just a minute, Darrell!

I keep reading about this survey you made up about what to do with the Ruidoso Municipal Airport land when the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport opens in December, but I think you left out at least one of the most exciting options.

So, you and your readers prefer a college, events center and parks on the big flat land near the heart of Midtown Ruidoso. Great.

It's pretty easy to slant things just by what you don't say. For instance, what about a pig theme park? You didn't even give your readers that choice.

I can think of any number of colleges in New Mexico and the surrounding states—I won't bother to name all of them. But how many pig theme parks are located in this area? None—that's right, not one single pork plaza within at least a thousand miles. And that meets one major criterion for the land use—it wouldn't be in competition with other similar land uses.

Events centers, too, are a dime a dozen. You can find one in every town I know of, from the rodeo grounds at Mesalero to Madison Square Gardens in New York.

Nevertheless, the pig theme park ideally would have a large area set aside for an annual All-American Pig Futurity, possibly the world's richest pig race, and that space also would serve to house other events.

With pig racing gaining national attention, the All-American Pig Futurity would certainly be carried on all the television networks, and draw huge crowds to this little mountain village to watch the fleet-footed porkers.

The events area would feature a standard 150-foot oval pig racetrack: Robinson's Racing Pigs, a team of 48 swine runners, is the only pig racing stable travelling the pig racing circuit. Those poor pigs pound the pavement in 90 cities a year, clocked at upwards of 15 miles per hour. The Robinson pigs are said to cover the oval track in six seconds before gobbling down pounds and pounds of Oreos cookies.

So, here's our chance for a cottage industry, right here in Ruidoso. We can put Lincoln County on the map by breeding the fastest hogs on hooves.

And the theme park could have something for everyone—a pigmania roller coaster would be the main attraction in Hog Heaven—a hogwild amusement area. Visitors would feast on fish and beef at The Pork Barrel Restaurant. Families could relax at The Pigsty Vacation Hotel.

Locals and visitors would picnic in Swine Park by a rotund assortment of pig fountains placed as a focal point at the entrance to the open area on Pork Avenue. Bikers and hikers, of course, will have their own trails encircling the entire area from Swine Park to the All-American Pig Racetrack.

You may ask how we'll bring in the bacon to pay for the pig theme park. Or you may want to know how pig parks in other areas are doing. And some of you may ask who will come to a pig attraction, and do those prospective porcophiles have any money.

Well, those are good questions—the same ones somebody should ask about the other proposed uses for the airport land.

Let's not forget to leave all the options open—keep snouts out of the clouds and hooves planted firmly on the ground before embarking on a scheme that hasn't a chance in a pig's eye of succeeding.

Film series continues Sunday

The First Baptist Church of Ruidoso Downs will present "Prodigal Planet," the last in its four-part film series, at 8 p.m. Sunday, August 16, at the church on U.S. Highway 70.

A news release announcing the free film reveals that "Prodigal Planet" offers "a futuristic look at a nuclear charred world following the wholesale exchange of nuclear attack. The film follows the lives of a few survivors left in that radioactive wilderness."

Produced by Mark IV, this film continues the drama of the preceding three movies: "Thief in the Night," "A Distant Thunder" and "Image of the Beast."

The film is based on biblical prophecy of destruction and tribulation. According to the news release "the film offers a positive message of hope and reassurance amidst our current climate of pessimism and despair about the future."

"Prodigal Planet" is a true story that is yet to happen," continues the release.

The First Baptist Church of Ruidoso Downs invites everyone to attend the free movie.

Scholarships announced

As fall school terms begin in colleges and universities, several Ruidoso organizations are sending local students off to school with cash awards and scholarships. The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce presented two Ruidoso High School graduates with scholarships. Chamber president-elect Becky Durham (left) presents Jason Hill with a check for $1,500 and Mandi Spurlin with a check for $500. Durham, chairman of the Community Development Committee, initiated the scholastic awards this year. Winners were chosen by out-of-town judges on the basis of Journals they submitted. Hill plans to attend New Mexico State University (NMSU) in Las Cruces and Spurlin will attend NMSU-Alamogordo branch.

Darla Lathan (left), a member of the local chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa, a teacher's sorority for educators in Lincoln County, presents a scholarship check of $500 to Teresa Danley, Ruidoso, a senior at New Mexico State University. The sorority selects students who are majoring in the field of education and helps them in their education through the scholarship program. This is Danley's fourth scholarship check, and when she graduates, another student will be helped by the sorority. Lathan said selection of students is rotated among towns in the county.

Sandra Weber of the Ruidoso Little Theatre Board of Directors presents Sean Parker with a $350 scholarship check. Weber said Parker's participation in Ruidoso Little Theatre productions was one reason he was selected by the board. Parker, a Ruidoso High School graduate, will attend New Mexico State University this fall where he will major in business management and minor in speech.

PAULA RITTENHOUSE AND WADE WHITLOCK

Couple to wed

PAULA RITTENHOUSE and WADE WHITLOCK, both of Ruidoso, have chosen Saturday, August 15, as their wedding date.

The bride to be is the daughter of Donald and June Rittenhouse of Iron Mountain, Michigan. The groom's parents are Wayne and Jeannie Whitlock of Ruidoso.

Vows will be said at First Christian Church of Ruidoso at 1 p.m. Reception will follow the ceremony, at the church.

All family and friends of the couple are invited to attend.
