SBAC hears shocking news

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Sierra Blanca Airport Commission (SBAC) voted Wednesday for an Otero County Electric Co-operative proposal that will result in a $6,013 minimum monthly electric bill at the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport (SBRA).

The Village of Ruidoso, airport operator, and the County of Lincoln, developer, will be faced with paying those hefty monthly bills.

During a regular SBAC meeting, Bill Mershon of Otero Electric said the cost to install power to the regional airfield will be about $200,000. He said the installation cost will be borne by users, either initially, or through a monthly minimum like the one he recommended.

"I need to sell $6,000 of power a month out there in order to justify my installing power," said Mershon.

Mershon, calling his estimates conservative, said he calculated 44,234 kilowatt hours per month will be needed to supply power to airport facilities. Those hours total from $4,500 to $4,900 a month, he said.

By agreeing to the $6,013 minimum monthly charge, commissioners avoid the initial expense of constructing the line.

Village attorney John Underwood recommended the village pay actual monthly utility costs and the county pay the balance incurred as a development cost.

Commissioner John Hightower opposed the action.

In other regular business Wednesday, the commission:

—Heard a financial report from county manager Suzanne Cox, showing $97,448.56 in the improvement fund and $8,192.64 in the current fund.

—Authorized paying bills to The Ruidoso News—$2.79, Lincoln County News—$15.10, and Bixby Electric—$14,026.26.

—Heard engineer Earl Cook report airport construction is on target, and warn of overruns of up to $400,000 on the earthwork contract with Tricon-Kent. Local share on the overruns could be as high as $20,000, said Cook.

—Heard of efforts to gain federal funding for a crash-fire-rescue unit at SBRA.

—Accepted Southern Avionic's low bid of $14,770 for radio equipment to be paid for by the state and installed by SBAC. Cook said installation will be about $9,200, and can be done by electrical contractors working on the site, or through advertising for bids.

—Adopted the open meetings act.

—Recommended a joint powers agreement on building inspection between Ruidoso and Lincoln County authorizing the village building inspector to issue permits and do inspections at SBRA.

—Discussed concerns over the transition period between closing the municipal and the regional airport to private hangar owners.

Majestic mountain

Sierra Blanca's 12,003-foot peak is framed by a grove of brilliant yellow aspens. The mountain trees are in varying shades of color, some still green-leaved, others a vivid yellow, and some already bare. A surprise snowstorm a year ago next week covered the big peak with an eight-inch mantle of white. (Photo by Darrell J. Pehr.)

Parks & Rec doesn't meet

The Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Commission failed to meet for the second month in a row Wednesday.

Commissioner Lynn Willard was the only member of the five-member group present for the regularly scheduled meeting at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday. Parks and Recreation Department head Bobby Bailey and Willard waited about half an hour Wednesday, but a quorum failed to materialize.

Council narrows police chief hopefuls to four

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

After an executive session Wednesday, the Ruidoso Village Council voted to interview four applicants for chief of police.

Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr. said William Patrick Fuller Sr. of Dallas, Texas; William Jack Newman of Austin, Texas; and Lanny Maddox of Ruidoso will be invited to interview for the position. Davis said one more applicant will be given the opportunity for an interview, but since he isn't sure whether the applicant will agree, he didn't reveal that person's name.

Although minutes from the meeting indicate all councillors favored the motion for the action, Councillor Ray Dean Carpenter already had walked out on the meeting.

"I just didn't like what was happening," said Carpenter when contacted by telephone Wednesday. "It's not a big deal that I walked out ... I don't think it's newsworthy," he added.

Councillor Victor Alonso said the mayor objected to the rating system used to evaluate the candidates for chief, and that's when Carpenter left.

"That's dangerous," said Alonso, noting he would be in trouble if he left every time he was at odds with the mayor. Alonso said he didn't have a problem with the rating system.

"The majority of the applicants that were selected for interviews fell within the system that the administration chose to use," said Alonso.

Personnel director Debbie Rogge said 30 applications were received for chief, and the normal personnel policy rating system was used in evaluating the applicants. She said minimum requirements are used as a basis for grading applicants on education, work experience and directly related certificates, training and such. Rogge said a team of four—with one reading and three grading—ranks applicants.

Rogge said numbers are used in rating candidates so the grading team members don't know who they are evaluating. She said people who interview and hire for a particular position are not included on the evaluation team.

Although she usually provides the top five to seven candidates' names to any department head interviewing for a position, she gave the names of the top 10 candidates for chief to the mayor.

"So far they've always been able to pick out of the top," said Rogge. She said if a department head can't find a suitable employee from among the top five to seven, the personnel policy calls for an explanation to be given.

Rogge said she didn't know whether the council's choices to interview for the chief slot were among the top 10 or not.

But Alonso noted that the mayor is under no obligation to consult with the council before offering his nomination, anyway. He said the mayor, as police commissioner, has the prerogative of choosing a chief and submitting the name for council approval.

"He's being magnanimous," said Alonso. He said the mayor is involving the council in the interview process.

Police Chief Richard Swenor's resignation is effective Thursday, October 15.

Library observes Columbus Day

The Ruidoso Public Library will be closed on Monday, October 9, to observe Columbus Day. The library will reopen on Tuesday for regular hours.

The Museum of Natural History traveling exhibit is still on display in the multi-purpose room of the library.

Sign-ups are continuing for the pre-school story hour, with openings still available for Wednesday and Thursday sessions. For more information, call the library, 257-4335.

Teachers Frank Smart and June LeCrone discuss their experiences and viewpoints since joining the faculty of White Mountain Intermediate School. The two transferred to WMIS this fall.

LeCrone, Smart transfer to White Mountain

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

White Mountain Intermediate has no new faculty this year, but they do have two teachers who have transferred from the elementary school this fall.

Frank Smart used to teach third and fourth grade at White Mountain Elementary. Before then, he taught sixth grade and coached in Abilene, Texas. "The Ruidoso system is much more unified," he says. "There is a closeness here that larger schools don't have. I miss big city life, but I do love the climate here. And, I ski. Do I have to say more?"

June LeCrone transferred from WME and Nob Hill, where she taught language. At WMI, she teaches special education. She is the mother of three, Joe, 12, Jennifer, 10 and John, 6, and her husband, Daniel, is a partner in High Country Agency insurance.

Previous to coming to Ruidoso, LeCrone was a social worker in Albuquerque.

"The staff here is excellent, and have been really helpful to me. I teach a variety of kids with different capacities. Each day is different."

A team of evaluators from the State Department of Education join Ruidoso educators for a three-day policy and site evaluation. Left to right are: Muriel Grubbs, John Whitcamp, Nancy Mandell, Superintendent of Schools Sid Miller, Mary Jane Vinella and Associate Superintendent of Schools Michael Gladden.

Evaluators visit Ruidoso schools

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

A team of four evaluators from the State Department of Education are spending this week in Ruidoso, checking out the schools.

"It's mandated through state statutes that each school system in New Mexico must be evaluated every three years," explains spokesperson John Whitcamp.

Whitcamp and Nancy Mandell, Mary Jane Vinella and Muriel

Grubbs will be doing a document review, curriculum study, checking on class schedules and school board policies before they leave today (Thursday), October 8.

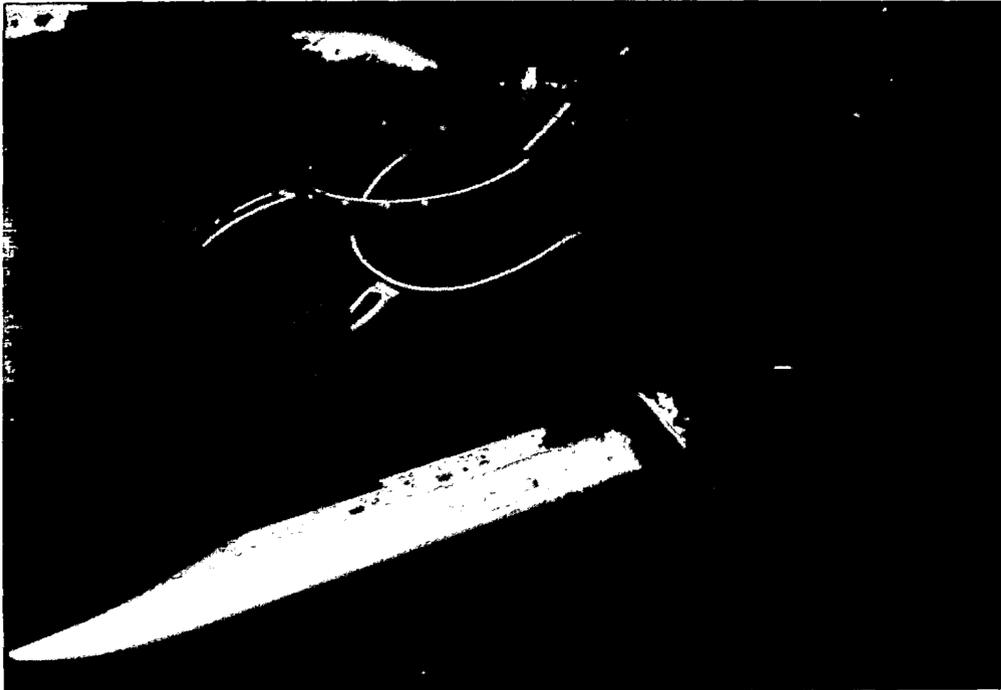

"We check all school-related issues, programs, building levels, and we visit all the sites within the district," said Vinella.

"We need to know that things comply with state statutes."

This group of four is based in Santa Fe. All members of the committee have worked in public schools, have advanced degrees and are certified as teachers in the State of New Mexico.

They will present their evaluation at an exit conference scheduled for 3 p.m. today at the offices of the Board of Education. The public is invited. "We expect to find grand and great things here," spokesperson Whitcamp said. "You know, Ruidoso has a reputation throughout the state for being an excellent district."

Realtors play benefit golf tournament

Proceeds from a golf tournament played Wednesday afternoon in conjunction with the annual installation of officers of the Ruidoso Board of Realtors will go to support the "Casa Esperanza" project by the Realtors Association of New Mexico.

The project's goal is to furnish housing for patients and families of patients receiving cancer treatment in Albuquerque. The housing will feature a home-like atmosphere and fees will be based on ability to pay. In some cases, housing will be free to qualified families.

The Board of Realtors has previously participated in the Ronald McDonald house, which is a similar plan to Casa Esperanza.

The board has also sponsored the "Safety Through Songs" program in the Ruidoso Public Schools, in which children learn about traffic safety and the danger of poisons and household hazards. This ongoing program has been in existence for several years.

Scholarships for graduating high school students have always been a part of the board's community service commitment.

Area accident leaves two dead

Two Fort Bliss soldiers died late Wednesday in a one-vehicle rollover north of Carrizozo.

New Mexico State Police Officer Steve Standridge said one man was pronounced dead at the scene and the other died enroute to Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC). Names are being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Standridge said the two were southbound on U.S. Highway 54 just past the White Oaks turnoff about 9:48 p.m. when the driver apparently lost control and the 1987 two-door Ford overturned three times.

"They were driving at an extremely high rate of speed," said Standridge.

A 49-year-old Ruidoso man was injured in a three-car accident about 1 p.m. Monday at the "Y." He was transported by Emergency Medical Services to LCMC.

Ruidoso Police said Carlross Adams, driver of a 1983 Chevrolet, was injured when his car collided with a 1982 Cadillac driven by William J. Edgar, 73, of Capitan, and a 1973 Ford driven by Antonio Flores Cortez, 39, of Ruidoso Downs.

Police said Adams and Cortez were westbound on U.S. Highway 70 and Edgar was negotiating a left turn from the eastbound lane of U.S. Highway 70 onto Sudderth Drive. Investigators said the Edgar vehicle was three-fourths through the intersection when the Adams vehicle crashed into the right rear passenger side, and then swung into the right side of the Cortez vehicle.

Adams was charged with DWI and reckless driving, and Edgar was cited for entering the intersection, according to official reports.

Dr. Everett Kennedy is Ruidoso's newest ob-gyn practitioner. He works in conjunction with Dr. William Harrison, 2622 Sudderth. A native of Houston, Texas, Dr. Kennedy comes to Ruidoso from a practice in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He is married to Gretchen, and they have a 16-month old daughter, Rachel.

New physician Dr. Kennedy opens ob-gyn practice

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

When Dr. Everett J. Kennedy decided to leave Pittsburgh and set up an obstetrics and gynecology practice, he toured a half-dozen cities across the country—and then settled in Ruidoso.

"I guess my wife and I kind of fell in love with the place," he admits.

Kennedy is originally from Houston, Texas, and earned his undergraduate degree at the university there. He went to medical school at the Universidad La Salle, then practiced for a year at the Department of Family Practice at University of Texas-Memorial Hospital Southwest in Houston. He then practiced at the Internal Medicine Internship at St. Francis General Hospital and Allegheny General Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Kennedy's wife, Gretchen, was the director of consumer affairs for Western Pennsylvania prior to the family's Ruidoso location. The couple have a sixteen-month-old daughter, Rachel.

"Living here is a drastic change from life in a big city, but we really love it," Kennedy says. "I get along well with my associate, Bill Harrison, and I'm looking forward to developing my own clientele."

He chose obstetrics and gynecology as a specialty because "it's a happy field." His interests are surgery and medicine, and both practices can be combined in ob-gyn. His particular interest is in infertility work and laser surgery. "I would like to bring laser surgery to Ruidoso," he says. "It's a new science but it can be tremendously helpful with surgical procedure."

Dr. Kennedy is trying to adjust to the slower pace of life in Ruidoso. "I think my practice has good growth potential," he says. "I guess you could just say that I'm happy to be here."

Economic Dev. Corp. adds members

Membership in the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County is up 47 percent in just one month, Vice President Ronnie Paulger reported when that group met on September 17 at the Texas-New Mexico Power offices on Mechem Drive.

Membership in the organization is now up to 76 different groups and individuals. The group would like to bring membership to 150-200 members through recruitment during its current membership drive. The Economic Development Corporation functions to attempt to draw businesses and corporations into the county.

Treasurer Roy Crocker declared the financial statement stands as follows: deposits plus interest, $10,990; expenses paid out, $1,789; balance to date, $9,191.

Chairman of the Board Buddy Bundick congratulated Al Junge for his recruiting efforts. Junge has recruited 10 memberships, in addition to his own. Junge spoke and stressed the importance of personal contacts plus follow-ups as the secret of his success.

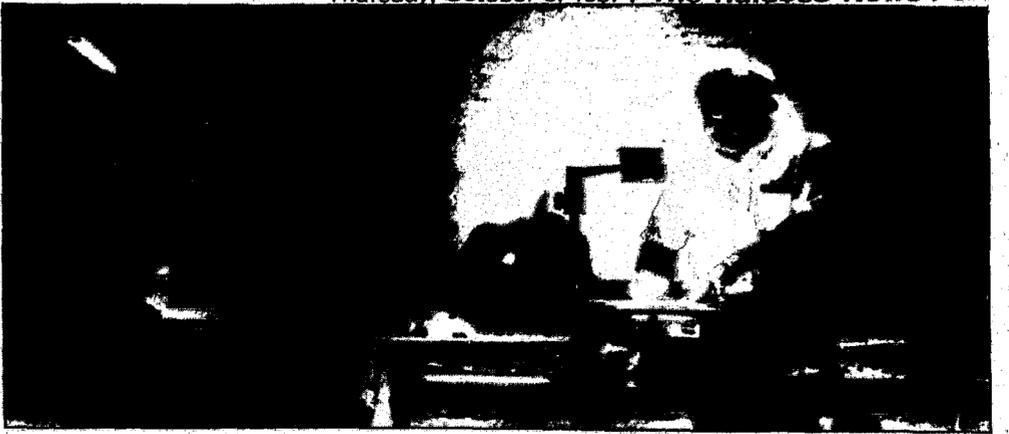

The Promotions Committee, chaired by Richard Mound, has scheduled several public promotions on at least four TV stations through Lincoln Cablevision.

It was learned that presentations have been made to 11 groups and there are others scheduled in the next two weeks, and that letters have been mailed out to all those expressing an interest while talking to Mildred Crocker at the Lincoln County Fair.

Appointments are now being made with Carrizozo businesses to give them the opportunity to join the corporation.

Discussion followed the reports, and it was agreed to hold regular meetings every two weeks. The next meeting is scheduled for 6 p.m. today (Thursday), October 8, at Texas-New Mexico Power Company offices.

Repeat picker

Jeff Chapman was the first to win the Ruidoso News Football Contest twice in one season last week when he correctly chose 19 of 20 contests. Two other pickers, Louwanna Simmons and Trevon Cox, also had just one wrong choice, but Chapman won on the tie-breaker.

Church plans

St. Eleanor's Church Pastor Fr. David Bergs draws in about where walls would be on a proposed addition/renovation of the church. Bergs presented to the church Parish Council and Finance Committee the church Planning Committee's ideas for remodeling the present building. All at the Monday night meeting indicated favoring the plan, and Bergs said as plans evolve, future meetings will be scheduled to keep church leaders informed.

Course on safety for hunters is scheduled

A Hunter Safety Course will be taught at the Smokey Bear Ranger Station, 910 Mechem Drive.

Course times are 6 to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, October 20-23, and 8 a.m. to noon Saturday, October 24.

Students must be at least nine years old, and children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult. The class will be limited to 25 students and registration will be on a first-come, first-serve basis. Registration fee is $5.

Parents may register their children at the Ranger Station Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The dark side of portable generators

Portable generators help keep your house bright during power outages. But there's a dark side to this convenience. If portable generators are not installed to meet the National Electric Code, they're dangerous to the public and to linemen working on power lines.

Improperly installed generators backfeed into power lines leading to your house and energize seemingly dead lines. This creates a hazard for linemen trying to restore service and to others who might come into contact with a line lying on the ground. Portable generators can also slow restoration efforts, and the generator itself can even be damaged when power is restored.

If you have a portable generator, please make sure that it is installed properly. If you have any doubts, don't risk a life by using it.

Income support office reopens

An Income Support Office to serve Lincoln County re-opened on September 21, at 419 Mechem Drive.

The office, staffed by Hazel Hayes and Mary Crenshaw, is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and shares space with the Social Services Division.

Services of the Income Support Division include Food Stamps, commodities, child support enforcement, low income housing energy assistance and Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC).

Income support services were provided in Ruidoso until two years ago when the Department of Human Services closed the local office, along with others in the state. Applicants and recipients have traveled to Alamogordo or Carrizozo since the local office closed.

A small group of area citizens, concerned over the hardship caused to income services clients, visited Santa Fe last spring and asked Human Services Secretary Lou Gallegos to bring the services back to the people of Lincoln County. They prepared a proposal for his consideration, which included housing the Income Services office in the Social Services Division.

Gallegos and Governor Garrey Carruthers, in the area for Government Day some months ago, announced plans to reopen the Income Support office in Lincoln County.

For information on Income Support services, call 257-9731.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

Jack Frost's First Visit

This is being sent to you on October six, and the magic of Jack Frost's paint brush can be seen on every hand—high and low. Because in the early morning hours, the little fellow who has been painting autumn landscapes since the world began, paid us his first visit of the year, here in the vale.

The slopes of the White Mountain are among the favorite spots in the world for Jack Frost. Our mountain land has a vast variety of leaves, stems, branches, twigs, and other features of plant life, all of which play their role in the autumn picture.

Our mountain country has some of the plant life of thousands of miles to the north: Michigan, Canada, Alaska. Also we have many of the favorite plants of the desert: cactus, yucca, and mesal. From the prairies, mesas and foothills on up to the mountain, we have trees, shrubs, and herbs of the lowlands and the alpine country of the mountain top.

Even the grass of the mountain meadows is turned colors of fall, autumn and Indian Summer.

All this makes for an October picture that is a new and pleasant surprise each day, and these autumn color pageants—changing from day to day, and often even during the day before your eyes—are something of our very own, not to be seen anywhere else in the wide and beautiful God's world.

In this section of the Ruidoso Valley, just about where the pinon and cedar begin, one of our favorite October scenes is the patches of oak brush placed harmoniously amongst the evergreens by Mother Earth.

Here in early afternoon the oak brush, high upon the hillsides and along their very tops, is all under a mantle of October purple haze which softens the blending colors into a dreamy glow. Crimson, gold, maroon, and light green—all blend in harmony with the individual shades of green of the pinon, pine, cedar and juniper.

This first visit of Jack Frost here in the vale is just a little early. Usually he does not arrive until about the twelfth. So now he has brought in his colors a bit early, giving promise of an autumn season long to be remembered.

October The Apple Month

The apples of the valleys winding down from the White Mountain are stepping up their pace of ripening—gaining their size and flavor day by day. The warm October sun is doing its work well shining down upon the trees bending with their load of scarlet, crimson and gold. In the lower and middle reaches of the Ruidoso Valley, the early fall rays of the sun are beginning to bake out into the mellow air the flavor of the ripening apples. Our local apples are as fine as you can find anywhere.

Next time or so we will go over some of the main varieties of the apples, and their strong points.

Meanwhile, now is a good time to visit the orchards.

Keep smiling, and God Bless you.

Six join faculty in Capitan schools

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

Capitan Schools have six new teachers and staff members this year on the roster.

Tim Reese, who teaches math and social studies, came from Dora, New Mexico, where he taught for five years. He received his undergraduate from Brigham Young University, and his masters from Eastern New Mexico University (ENMU). "This is a nice community," he says. "We have a good administration here, and a good bunch of kids."

In addition to his teaching duties, Reese coaches all junior high sports, including football, basketball and track. He and his wife have four children, ages 9, 6, 4, and 1. "It's nice to be here," he comments.

Annie McKay teaches seventh- and eighth-grade English and seventh-grade science. She comes from Melrose. She coaches girls varsity basketball at Capitan, and received her masters degree in physical education from ENMU. "I think we're going to win state titles in volleyball and basketball," she declares.

McKay and her husband have two children, Lora, a sophomore, and John, a junior. "I don't have time for hobbies," she admits. "But I do like to read and sew, and I play the harmonica."

Pam Allen attended Capitan schools as a student, but left town for a while to teach in Hobbs. "I've always wanted to get back here," she says. "I enjoy a small school system, and the students here are so courteous and well-mannered. This is home, and I'm glad to be here."

Allen and her husband, Clayton, have four children, in third grade, fourth, sixth and seventh. "It was difficult, trying to raise children in a big city like Hobbs," she explains.

Allen teaches physical education and driver's ed at Capitan and is also volleyball varsity coach.

Clayton Allen was raised in Roswell and has his degree in special education from ENMU. Now he teaches in his wife's hometown. "I've been up and down that highway from Roswell to Capitan a million times," he admits.

He runs horses in his spare time. They are Papa Smurf, Easy Million and Angel Wings.

Jacque Childress is the Capitan School librarian. She came from Bloomington but was raised in Las Vegas. Her husband, Scott, is superintendent of schools. "I love the mountains very much, and enjoy my work tremendously." She and her husband have a five-year-old daughter, Stephanie.

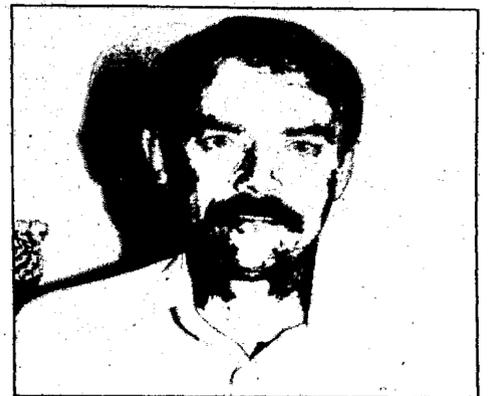

Judi DeWees is a new aide, on lunchroom duty. "I am amazed how respectful Capitan children are of adults," she comments.

Warriors open district at tough Deming

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School's varsity football team will be facing a tough assignment when the Warriors open the District 3-AAA season Friday, October 9, at Deming.

Deming is ranked first in the latest state Associated Press AAA-division poll. The Wildcats are 5-0 while the Warriors are 1-4.

The game will start at 7:30 p.m. "They don't beat themselves," Warrior head coach Cooper Henderson said of Deming. "They don't make many mistakes and they make the most of turnovers."

The Wildcats run out of the Wing-T offense (same as Ruidoso), but the Warriors defeated Deming, 56-14, last season.

However, Deming has a lot of talent this season.

"They're big like Portales (a 6-0 winner over Ruidoso two weeks ago)," Henderson remarked. "They've got good running backs who run real hard, although they don't have exceptional speed."

But Ruidoso should be healthy for the contest.

The Warriors will have the services of senior tailback Rusty Shelton for the Deming contest.

Shelton separated his shoulder in the 27-22 victory over Tularosa three weeks ago and missed the Portales game.

Shelton is the Warriors' leading scorer with two touchdowns.

Michael Swanner again will be at quarterback while Jef Sherwood and Kenny Trapp probably will see a lot of duty at fullback.

Matthew Griego also should see some time at tailback. Dusty Beavers will share time with Michael Dickinson at wingback.

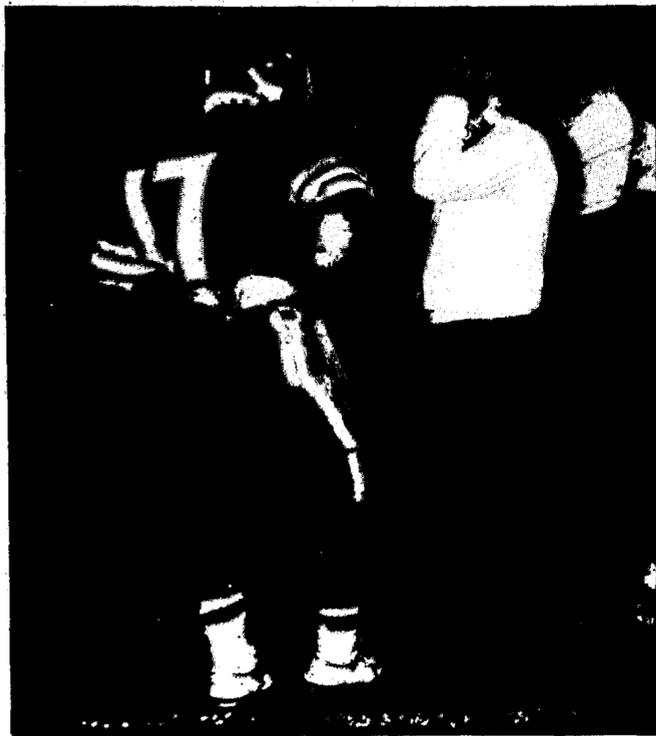

The Warrior offensive line is healthy and ready to go after last week's bye.

Defensively, Sherwood at middle linebacker, Griego and Beavers at outside linebacker, Shawn Mowdy at tackle and Sean Moore at end all have done well for Ruidoso.

They are all starters from last season.

Ruidoso has scored 40 points and

Warrior spikers take on Indians; put unbeaten district mark on line

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

The Ruidoso High School varsity volleyball team will seek to raise its District 3-AAA record to 3-0 when the Warriors host the Cobre Indians Saturday, October 10.

Ruidoso, 6-4 overall, already has defeated Silver (three games) and Deming (four games) in district competition.

There will be a junior varsity A match at 1 p.m., followed by the varsity match and finally a junior varsity B match.

The Warriors have shown steady improvement all season, playing against tough competition.

Three of the Warriors' defeats were to last year's state AAA-division runner-up Portales, and the other loss was to defending state AAA-division champion Goddard.

Ruidoso took Portales to five games before losing in the last match-up between the two teams.

Although Cobre probably is not in the caliber of Portales and Goddard, the Indians could be tough, according to Warrior head coach Pixie Arthur.

"I heard Deming beat them in five games last night (Tuesday)," Arthur said. "But we should have beaten Deming in three games."

"I expect them (Cobre) to be tough. They're real go-getters."

"We'll have to play our game. We'll have to play as a team."

"We don't have any really outstanding players, but as a unit, we're pretty unbeatable."

Arthur will go with her usual starting lineup of Kristin Tidmore, Mikki Roller, Dari Stierwalt, Chantel Bowen, Jennifer Jimenez and Shannon Lee.

Tara Miller and Ginger Parker will rotate with the other starters.

The Warrior junior varsity team lost to Deming, 15-1, 15-4, last Saturday.

Freshman, Brave spikers play today

The Ruidoso High School freshman volleyball team and the Ruidoso Middle School A and B volleyball teams will host Capitan today (Thursday), October 8, in the Warrior gymnasium.

The first match will start at 3:30 p.m.

Ruidoso's freshmen are 0-4 on the season. The Brave A team is 4-5 on the season while the B team is 2-6.

Jvs, frosh, Brave gridgers to be active this weekend

There will be plenty of other football activity besides the varsity game at Deming going on for Ruidoso athletes this weekend.

The Ruidoso High School freshman football team will travel to Truth or Consequences today (Thursday), October 8, for a 4 p.m. game with the Hot Springs freshmen.

The Ruidoso Middle School football team also will play today, hosting Portales at 3:30 p.m. Ruidoso High School's junior varsity will travel to Las Cruces Saturday, October 10, for a 4 p.m. game with the Silver junior varsity.

Ruidoso's junior varsity is 3-2 after a convincing 26-6 victory over visiting Artesia last Thursday.

The Warrior freshmen are 1-2 on the season and the middle school Braves are 3-1.

Soccer team wins again

The Ruidoso Road Warriors under-14 soccer team raised its Otero County Youth Soccer Association record to 4-0 with a 3-0 win over the Alamogordo Thrashers Saturday at White Mountain School.

Jorge Marquez, Aaron Laubhan and Shane Foglesong scored the Road Warrior goals. Dan Seay had two assists and Walburto Murillo one assist for Ruidoso.

Sunday the Road Warriors lost a 3-2 match to the powerful Carlsbad Kickers in Carlsbad.

Laubhan and Brian Andrus scored the Ruidoso goals. Seay had two assists.

In other action Saturday at White Mountain School, the Road Warriors under-10 team blanked the Holloman Blue, 3-0, and the Road Warriors under-12 team lost to the Alamogordo Panthers, 5-1.

Jimmy Stover, Brandon Eamello and Jake Smith scored goals for the under-10 Road Warriors. Brent Buchhagen had two assists.

Richard Urban scored the under-12 Warriors' goal.

Action will continue Saturday, October 10, at White Mountain School.

 given up 98 in five games this season. However, the defense looked strong in the close loss to Fortales.
 "We'll have to play our best game of the season to win," Henderson said. "But we've been really looking forward to this game."
 The other District 3-AAA game will see Silver at Cobre Friday. Socorro will host Belen in a non-district contest Friday.
 Following are the probable offensive and defensive starting lineups for the Warriors (class and weight included).
Offense: Quarterback, Swanner, junior, 155; fullback, Sherwood, senior, 172, or Trapp, sophomore, 180; tailback, Shelton, senior, 175;

Ah, the thrill of victory, the agony of defeat. That was shown in the major-league baseball series between the Detroit Tigers and Toronto Blue Jays in Detroit last weekend. Detroit swept the three-game series to win the American League's Eastern Division title by two games over Toronto and is playing Western Division champion Minnesota this week. The Tigers came into the series trailing by one game and had to win no fewer than two of the three games to have a shot at the title. The previous week Toronto had won three out of four games from Detroit in the Blue Jays' park. But the Tigers turned it around in their stadium and won the division for the second time in four seasons. All three games in the final series were decided by one run, so excitement was dominant in the series. Look for Detroit to defeat Minnesota in six games and make the World Series. The Tigers have better pitching and the tough division campaign should make them emotionally stronger in the playoffs. In the National League playoffs, Western Division champion San Francisco will pit its pitching and power against Eastern Division champion St. Louis' speed. St. Louis hitting standout Jack Clark has been injured, and his full-time status for the playoffs is uncertain. That should be the difference. Look for San Francisco to win in seven games. As for the World Series, wait for my prediction after the playoffs.

CoNads finish fourth in state coed tournament

The CoNads softball team of Lincoln County finished fourth in the state Coed Slo-Pitch Softball Tournament in Roswell last weekend. The CoNads finished with three wins and two losses. The team was composed of players from the Flamingo Club (state runners-up in the women's Class D tournament and Lincoln County Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League champions), CattleBaron, Radio Shack and Aspen Pharmacy.
 This was the highest placing a Lincoln County team has finished since first participating in coed competition three years ago. In this year's state tournament, the CoNads defeated the Roswell Thunder Cats, 17-2; beat the Roswell Pirates, 14-9; lost to the Roswell J'R's, 4-2; defeated the Roswell Ball Busters (last year's state runners-up), 5-4; and lost to the Roswell Warlords, 12-3.

 Kevin Fleharty clubbed a grand-slam home run to spark the CoNads against the Roswell Pirates in the second game. CoNads pitcher Albert Richardson had a good tournament. He only walked one batter in five games and did not give up any home runs. He also belted some key hits for the CoNads.
 The team was managed by Melinda Valliant, Vickie Eckerdt and Nancy Fleharty. Tim Eckerdt was the coach. Other members of the team included J.D. Yoakum, Sandy Riggs, Bobby Wright, Jack Valliant, Rocky Plato and Sue Keeton. In the big 5-4 win over the Ball

Busters, Jack Valliant, Plato, Vickie Eckerdt, Keeton, Melinda Valliant and Richardson kept the infield tight with key stops and defensive plays.

Hondo gridders, spikers to have homecoming games

The Hondo High School varsity football team will have its homecoming Friday, October 9, against visiting Bethel Christian of Carlsbad. The game will start at 7 p.m. The Hondo volleyball team also will host Lake Arthur at 5 p.m. Friday. Hondo's football team is 1-4 after losing to powerful Corona, 66-20, last Saturday on the winners' field. Corona jumped off to a 31-0 first-quarter lead and led, 39-0, early in the second quarter. Hondo scored its first touchdown on a 39-yard pass from David McTeigue to Eddie DeBaca in the second quarter. The Eagles added a one-point conversion and Corona led, 39-7. The hosts took a 46-7 lead into halftime. Hondo added a 60-yard kickoff return for a touchdown and a 47-yard touchdown pass from McTeigue to Joseph PonceDeLeon in the second half. McTeigue led the Eagles in rushing with seven carries for 27 yards. He also completed five of eight passes for 89 yards and one interception. PonceDeLeon completed two of three passes for 15 yards and DeBaca completed two of six passes for four yards. PonceDeLeon led the Eagle receivers with two catches for 46 yards. Ronnie Aragon led the Hondo defense with 11 tackles. Tito Montoya added eight tackles. "They're the best team in the state (six-man football), in my opinion," said Hondo coach Joseph Sanchez of Corona. "We went up there with just seven players. We were missing two of our players." In volleyball action Tuesday, the Hondo varsity lost to the Capitan junior varsity in three games, the Eagles winning one of them.

Tiger gridders host Reserve; spikers to play Ft. Sumner

The Capitan High School football and volleyball teams will face key battles this weekend. Capitan's varsity football team will open district action with a 2 p.m. game against visiting Reserve Saturday, October 10. The Tigers were 1-5 in non-district action, including a 45-19 loss to AA-division power Dexter last Friday. The Tiger varsity volleyball team will travel to Fort Sumner Saturday, October 10. The junior varsity also will play with the first match starting at 2:30 p.m. Both the Capitan varsity and junior varsity defeated Carrizozo in three games last Thursday. The Capitan varsity is 6-3 on the season.

LL football has a second week

Ruidoso's Little League football program will have its second weekend of action Saturday, October 10. Minor-division play will see the Raiders and Lions playing at 9 a.m. at White Mountain School. Another minor division game will see the Bears and Zotan (Capitan and Carrizozo players) playing at 10 a.m. in Capitan. Major-division action at White Mountain will see the Steelers playing Mescalero at 10:30 a.m., the Jets taking on the Broncos at 12:30 p.m. and the Colts playing the Cowboys at 2:30 p.m. In action last Saturday, the Steelers beat the Colts, 14-0; the Cowboys blanked the Broncos, 20-0; and the Raiders defeated the Bears, 8-0. Games also were played Wednesday night.

Harriers run in Las Cruces

The Ruidoso High School boys cross-country team will compete in a meet in Las Cruces Saturday, October 10. The meet will start at 10 a.m. and probably will feature a number of quality runners and schools. Clint Bob and Sergio Hernandez have been the top Warrior runners this season. Other Warrior runners are Daniel Martinez, Michael Randolph, Chad Kizer and Jason Willins. Ruidoso finished fourth in a seven-team meet in Carlsbad last Saturday.

Sunland to open season Saturday

Anchored by a 105-day racing season and an $835,000 capital improvement project, Sunland Park's added emphasis on the racing program already is reaping rewards as nominations to almost all major stakes are coming in record numbers.

Sunland will open this year's meet on Saturday, October 10. Post time is 1 p.m.

The 1987-88 stakes schedule will be one of the biggest in the track's history and includes six new events that will post their inaugural runnings this meeting.

The slate of big money thoroughbred events will again be headed by the Riley Allison Futurity. This year's renewal will be run on May 8 and with 276 original nominees entered in the five-furlong classic, the total purse is expected to reach $250,000.

The Sunland Park Fall Thoroughbred Futurity is an early season showcase for two-year-olds in which horsemen have shown a great deal of interest, according to Sunland's publicity department. A total of 86 head remain eligible for the final December 8 payment, which is far ahead of the 46 last year at this time. Officials are hoping for a gross purse of close to $100,000 for the December 27 final. Amber Branch's Crusher Run, a thrilling winner in last May's Riley Allison, was expected to run in the Fall Futurity, but suffered a leg injury in California this summer and will not make the race.

A new name on the early season stakes list will be the Tri-State Thoroughbred Futurity. The six-furlong contest will have an estimated $40,000 purse when run on November 29. It will follow the $50,000 (est.) Thoroughbred Sale Futurity, which runs on November 1.

The quarter horse stakes schedule will be bolstered by the addition of the West Texas Quarter Horse Maturity. The gates for the race will open for the first time ever for four-year-olds and up. The 400-yard sprint is an extension of the popular West Texas Futurity and Derby series, and will proceed those Grade II races when run on January 17.

The 1987 Sunland Park Fall Quarter Horse Futurity (Grade II) is another race whose purse is estimated to crack the $100,000 mark. An even 100 head have paid their nomination fee, compared to just 86 one year ago. The trials for the race will take place on the Sunland straightaway on November 27.

The Sun Country Futurity will be the climax of the quarter horse genre on May 1. The track will host the nation's finest sprint specialists that day, who will compete at 350 yards for a $250,000 (est.) prize.

Four brand new New Mexico-bred events will be on tap this year and they include the Mt. Cristo Rey Handicap for three-year-olds on October 17; the City of Alamogordo Allowance Stakes for freshmen on November 14; and the five and one-half furlong Santa Teresa Stakes on April 30. The other added race for home-breds is for quarter horses and is the Dona Ana County Allowance Stake on November 25 at 400 yards.

The John Phillips Memorial Handicap was an open event in years past, but will now be restricted to New Mexico-bred three-year-olds and up.

Another change on the schedule is in name only. The Savannah Swinger Series is a group of three quarter horse stakes races and was renamed this year to honor the late president of Sunland, Jess Burner. Burner was a prominent owner whose stable included the stakes winning runner Savannah Swinger.

Members of the group "Asleep At The Wheel" entertain passers-by during the Showmanship competition during Saturday's Chili Cookoff at Tall Pines R.V. Park. The group is from Mesa de Leon Ranch, New Mexico.

Churchill Cooke (foreground, second from left) and some members of his Ruidoso Municipal Schools music programs (background) team up with the Flying J Wranglers to entertain during Aspenfest on Saturday. The Wranglers (in cowboy hats) completed their set, and then invited the big group onstage for a giant sing-along.

Ruidoso village attorney John Underwood (above) enjoys himself at the Chili Cookoff with the help of a tall, black witch hat. Underwood also was spotted riding a bicycle during Saturday's Aspenfest Parade. Village deputy clerk Tamile Maddox (below) leans out from the gazebo at the Gazebo Shopping Center after a Wild West mock shootout with the "bad guys." Also on the "good guys" were Ron Andrews, Lanny Maddox and Richard Silva. The good guys won.

Jason Straugh shows the strain of the race as he pedals up Ski Run Road. Straugh raced to an early lead in the race and never looked back. His lead appeared to widen throughout the 12-mile course, which he covered in 48 minutes.

The twists of Ski Run Road's switchbacks wind through forests of aspen and evergreen, giving bicyclists a scenic course to follow on their way from Eagle Creek Sports Complex to Ski Apache Resort. Sunday's White Mountain Challenge Cup started at 8 a.m.

Galen Farrington, one of the organizers of the White Mountain Challenge Cup, presents Mary Noltensmeyer, of Ruidoso, with a trophy for her first-place finish in the women's division.

Cyclists compete in uphill battle

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Jason Straugh broke his own record by one minute in winning the overall championship in the second annual White Mountain Challenge Cup bicycle race Sunday.

Straugh, from Santa Fe, covered the 12-mile distance from Eagle Creek Sports Complex to Ski Apache Resort in 48:48.

Straugh led from start to finish. After taking the early lead, he struggled a bit going up the steep climb to the top but put on a blistering sprint down the final hill to the ski resort.

Most of the race was uphill before the final hill.

"It was a little harder race this year," Straugh said after the competition. "I climbed the hills a little better last year, but I came down faster this time. I think I was traveling five to 10 miles an hour faster than at the end of last year's race."

Greg Tafoya finished second in the overall standings with a 50:40 time. Andrew Gagny finished third in 50:41.

Ruidoso's Mary Noltensmeyer was the highest woman finisher, recording a 1:36:68 time. Kerri Frizzell of Hobbs took second.

Ruidoso High School student and Alpine Shifters cyclist Roger Marr was the top junior division finisher, recording a 54:50.

Teammate Scott Pilgreen was the second junior finisher, recording a 56:10. William Steffan finished third.

Another Alpine Racers competitor, Jesse Foster, finished fourth in the junior division while teammate Jeremy Beich finished sixth.

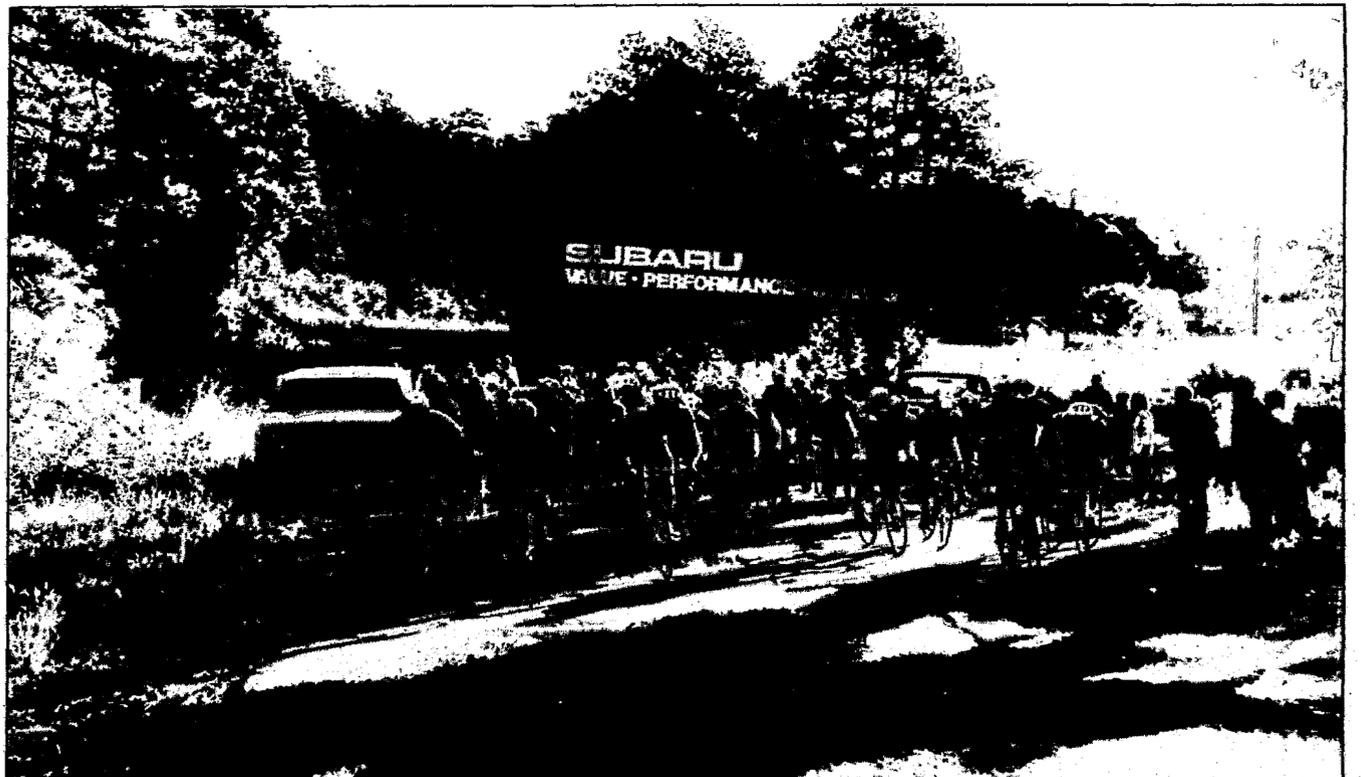

Paul Lyle won the masters' division, recording a 58:15. Dr. Paul Whitwam of Alto finished third.

Steve Garcia won the veterans' division, recording a 54:39 time.

At least 70 bicyclists participated in the event. Plans are to continue it next year.

A bicyclist negotiates one of the stretches of a switchback on Buck Mountain as he heads for the base of Ski Apache Resort, at 9,700 feet. The race started at Eagle Creek Sports Complex, at 7,300 feet.

Some 70 cyclists jockey for position as the second annual White Mountain Challenge Cup begins Sunday morning. Jason Straugh (second from left, in front) grabbed an early lead and appeared to lengthen that lead throughout the race, finishing with a sizzling downhill sprint at Ski Apache Resort. (Photos by Darrell J. Pehr.)

Editorial

Is Ruidoso on the brink of becoming the place to be for autumn celebrations?

We may already be there.

Last weekend was an astounding success!

The parade was as long and impressive as most of us can remember and the streets were crowded with spectators. Events like the Street Dance, Chili Cookoff, Street Festival and Arts and Crafts Fair were thick with crowds of money-spending visitors, and, more often than not, when driving around town the car just ahead bore a white license plate from the Lone Star State.

Sunday's White Mountain Challenge Cup drew more than 70 bicycle racers, their families and a good number of spectators, and organizers are happy enough with the event's success to consider expanding to more than one race for next year.

But what may be the single most impressive aspect of last weekend's success was that we beat out the Big Boys.

People chose to come to Ruidoso over some very tough competition. Albuquerque started the Balloon Fiesta during the weekend, El Paso had the Amigo Airsto and Las Cruces attracted crowds with the Whole Enchilada festival.

Ruidoso in the autumn? We're truly becoming the place to be.—DJP

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

This letter is in reference to the Ruidoso Street Department's building of roads on Forest Service projects and the mayor's remark of "It seems to me the private sector is always very quick to scream." If it were not for the private sector screaming, then the village could do more of these outside jobs without the taxpayers' knowledge. It seems that the taxpayers have a right to know what the city departments are doing, as it is city tax money which helps pay for these projects. Our tax money goes for equipment to do the work and to pay village employees. People in private business must try and get these jobs to pay for their equipment and wages, and it doesn't seem they got much of a chance to do this. As for Mr. Potter's forgetting to tell the council of this project, is this the first time or have there been others?

Also I agree with Mr. Don Shaw on why so many city streets need repair while we are doing this? Why has a new paving machine been sitting idle at the first bridge for approximately a week?

As for improving relationships among governmental agencies and saving the public money, this is fine, but should this be done when the economy of Ruidoso is down and more and more private enterprise is having to fold up and leave? I believe the citizens of Ruidoso and the county deserve better answers than have been given to date. Thank you for this space to voice my opinion.

JERRY KANNADY

DEAR EDITOR:

If we lived in a perfect world, we wouldn't be writing you this letter ... we wouldn't need organizations like Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) ... and we wouldn't lose thousands of youths each year in alcohol-related auto fatalities.

But, we live in an imperfect world in a time when our young people are threatened by death and injury on the highways due to drinking and driving. With injury from alcohol-caused crashes the number one teen health problem today, it's time to face the issue head-on.

And that's just what SADD intends to do—take a realistic look at what's happening to our teens, and begin to deal logically and honestly with the issue.

Ruidoso SADD is offering area citizens the opportunity to learn more about the problem and some possible solutions by presenting Robert Anastas, SADD founder, at a public meeting at 7:30 p.m. Friday, October 9, in the Ruidoso High School gymnasium. His speech will be part of the SADD state conference, which will continue at 9 a.m. Saturday with seminars at Carrizo Lodge.

Anastas speaks throughout the United States inviting parents, teachers, community leaders, religious leaders and, of course, the young people themselves, to join him in his determined efforts to end senseless deaths due to drinking and driving.

SADD has four basic goals:

1. To help eliminate the drunk driver and save lives.
2. To alert high school students to the dangers of drinking and driving.
3. To conduct community alcohol awareness programs.
4. To organize peer counseling programs to help students who may have concerns about alcohol.

SADD doesn't condone teen drinking—but does face the fact that some young people, in our "drinking" society are going to drink.

"While some adults are content to wait for utopia to appear, it is the obligation of those of us who are truly concerned about the safety of our children and others, to not allow them to die and to allow them to work out a solution to their own problems," says Anastas.

Wouldn't you like to know more? Be on hand to hear Anastas on Friday—there is no charge to hear him speak, but donations will be accepted at the door.

Let's work together to combat the drinking-driving issue, remembering the SADD slogan: IF WE CAN DREAM IT ... IT CAN BE DONE!

Reporter's Round

By Bonny Christina Celine

Last April I attended a symposium on Contemporary Native American Art at the Heard Museum in Phoenix. One of the speakers was Edwin Wade, a curator at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. In his talk, Wade mentioned casually that the Smithsonian possessed "more than 14,000 Indian skeletons." I thought to myself: Why?

When the floor was opened for discussion, a young Native American from Oregon stood up and said, making his point gently: "14,000 Indian skeletons? I can't think of any Indian museums that claim 14,000 white skeletons."

I have been thinking about that for six months and a couple of weeks ago I heard a radio report on a program called First Person Radio, Native American News, which originates out of the University of Minnesota. A woman named Karen Funk was interviewed on the program; Funk is a Legislative Coordinator for the National Congress of American Indians in Washington, D.C.

Funk, articulate and realistic, addressed the problem of skeletal Native American remains in museums and universities. Her organization is backing Senate Bill S-187, the Melcher Bill (The American Indian Historical Preservation Act) that would impose strict limitations on artifact collecting by organizations and individuals.

(The N.C.A.I.) held discussions in late August with the Forest Service regarding policies on disposition of human remains. Forest Service representatives from two large districts, east of the Mississippi River and the Texas-Oklahoma regions, debated all aspects of human artifact collecting.

Funk said that two particular aspects were discussed; the protection of burial sites, and the repatriation and return of skeletal remains now in custody of collectors. "Since there is no policy right now, they are taking incidents case by case," Funk explained. "For example, Forest Service workers recently located burial grounds in the Shawnee National Forest and decided to leave them untouched, despite the fact that, legally, anything on public land belongs to the U.S. Government."

She indicated that communication between the N.C.A.I. and the Forest Service has been valuable and should lead to increased sensitivity between American tribes and the federal government. "Our talks have been very positive, and the Forest Service agrees that there should be a very limited confiscation policy of human remains," she stated, explaining how collecting human bones goes against most Indian religions.

I thought about that. I thought about how I would feel if some university had my grandmother's skeleton on display in a glass case, or locked in drawers with 13,999 other skeletons of unnamed grandmothers and grandfathers, parents, babies, brothers and sisters. I'd have trouble sleeping at night, I think. I'm not an expert on Native American religion but I find that most American Indian people that I know personally have a deep commitment to returning to the earth those things that belong to the earth. Human bones do not belong in closets. They must return to dust.

Funk stated that the Forest Service wants to know more about what individual tribes feel is best for their ancestral remains. Recently, she said, Service workers discovered an old Delaware burial ground on Ellis Island. The Service contacted the Delaware tribe in Oklahoma, and a mutually satisfying solution to the problem was worked out.

Karen Funk says that the Smithsonian holds 19,000 skeletal remains, not 14,000, because when the 14,000 number was released Canadian and Mexican Indians were not counted. "Remains should be tribally identified at the tribe's request, and the remains should then be returned to the tribes. Non-identifiable remains should be interred somewhere together, possibly in Washington D.C., with a suitable monument."

"This is a good time for compromise between the tribes and the museums. The Smithsonian, for instance, is willing to negotiate right now because if the American Indian Historical Preservation Act is passed, it will mean that their collections will be strictly regulated, and of course they don't want that. So now is the best time for tribes across the continent to approach these people and let them know their feelings and desires."

Funk stated the basis for this very directly. "It is a matter of human rights and the free exercise of religion," she said. "The desecration of graves and storage of people's ancestors very clearly violates religious practices. This sort of collecting is harmful to the deceased, and to the living."

Funk explained that the idea that whatever archaeological evidence found on public land belongs to the government is the kind of thinking leading to 19,000 skeletons in the Smithsonian today. "The Smithsonian has already agreed to take down several hundred Indian skulls from public display," Funk added.

These were kept on the second floor in the Natural Science section of the huge establishment. "There is a lot more negotiating left to be done. We urge people to be active in this at the tribal level. They can start by sending a letter to organizations housing human remains, stating simply, 'Do you have any Indian skeletal remains? If so, we want to recover those belonging to our tribe.' This is how to begin. Return of ancestors should not be legislated, but should instead be a matter of tribal responsibility."

The interview with Karen Funk made me feel sad about presuming if something is in a museum, it must be "right," "correct," or "scientific." The truth is that this overload of human remains, bones of people just like you and I, have been hoarded by institutions because they've gotten away with it up till now, presumably reasoning that if one skeleton is interesting to see, 18,999 should be even more so.

I hope Native American tribes take Karen Funk's advice and begin to recover what is theirs. Even in the name of science or research, the Smithsonian and similar organizations should not possess so many bones that their humanity is stripped from them, and they become "just another skeleton." It's time for Americans of all races and religions to be offended by this outrageous practice and fortunately, it's not too late to return these remains of human beings to their rightful resting places.

Ruidoso couple meets 'Their Majesties'

Chances were slight of being invited to a formal dinner honoring the King and Queen of Spain when they visited Santa Fe last week. But Ruidoso resident Barbara Willard was undeterred. "On a whim," she placed her name and her husband Bryan's name in the hat with more than 6,000 others in the statewide lottery. Only 320 places were available at the formal dinner in the Anasazi ballroom of the Eldorado Hotel in Santa Fe.

When the invitation arrived it read:

Governor and Mrs. Garrey Carruthers request the pleasure of the company of Bryan and Barbara Willard at a dinner honoring

Their Majesties The King and Queen of Spain in the Anasazi Ballroom, Eldorado Hotel, Santa Fe, on Tuesday, September 29th, 1987, at 8:45 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Black tie Seating by 8:30 p.m. Regrets only 827-3028

Admittance by invitation card only

Willard said she was really surprised when she learned that her name was among those drawn. "I never win anything," she said with a small laugh. The Willards may have been the only Ruidosoans on hand for the sumptuous affair.

Since meeting royalty is far from a daily occurrence in New Mexico, the "non-transferable" dinner invitation came complete with some instructions on how to behave:

"Should you meet Their Majesties, first address both as 'Your Majesty'; thereafter, the King as 'Sir' and the Queen as 'Ma'am.'"

"Men should make a slight bow of the head when addressed by Their Majesties. Ladies may make a slight curtsy, only upon the initial introduction."

While there were no crowns or jewels to proclaim the Spanish couple's royal status, the two were greeted with bands, music, flags and, of course, a red carpet.

"They were very friendly," said Willard.

Guests were treated to valet parking, and greeted personally by Governor and Mrs. Carruthers, said Willard. The round tables, each seating 10 people, were set formally with all the glasses and flatware for a seven-course meal with five imported wines. Including the water glass, that makes six glasses at each place, noted Willard.

The food was color-coordinated centering around the Spanish flag, said Willard. The menu, printed in both Spanish and English, read:

Ensalada Escorial
Red and Yellow Bell Pepper with Crab Gazpacho Dressing

Salmon Lazarillo de Tormes
King Salmon in Herb Crust
Basil Pesto Sauce

Sorbete Valdepenas
Red Wine Granites of Spain

Tesoro de Asturias
Roasted Breast of Pheasant on a Bed of Belgium Endive
French Potatoes au Gratin
Broccoli Florettes

Peregrinos de Santiago de Compostela
Dark Chocolate Shell with White Chocolate Mousse
Raspberry Sauce

Coffee
Brandy

"Everything just melted in your mouth," recalled Willard.

The dinner menu revealed that "Their Majesties," along with the governor and his wife, would enter at 8:45 p.m. The Most Reverend Archbishop Robert F. Sanchez presented the invocation.

The elegant dinner was followed by a toast to the king and queen, given by Governor Carruthers, and followed by a response from His Majesty King Juan Carlos I. Willard said the King spoke in Spanish.

And, promptly at 11 p.m., the party was over, according to the dinner program; for at that time "Their Majesties" and the Governor and Mrs. Carruthers were scheduled to depart the festivities.

A short historical note, in both English and Spanish, was included in the program. It recalled the issuance in Madrid 394 years ago of a royal decree directing the Viceroy of New Spain to settle and pacify the land now known as New Mexico. The program also spoke of the pride of New Mexicans in a heritage "in which the Spanish connection predominates."

And in closing, the program proclaimed: "It is an historic moment, for since King Philip II issued his decree in 1593, this is the first occasion on which New Mexico has been honored with a visit by a King and Queen of Spain."

"Long live the King and Queen!
"Viva el Rey, Viva la Reina!"

SCC members look forward to busy fall

Members of the Service Club Council (SCC) compared notes of upcoming events, heard some predictions on the economy and participated in a mini-reading lesson during Monday's meeting.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Ron Collins of Edward Jones and Company, stock and bond brokers.

"Our business is working with conservative investors," said Collins, noting that his customers are "not looking to make a killing overnight."

Collins, quoting from an Edward Jones and Company economist, offered predictions on the overall economy that show the stock market reaching 3,500 before it is "corrected." He said the U.S. is not going back to double-digit inflation and interest rates.

Collins said, according to his sources, economic growth over the next few years will be on the industrial rather than the consumer side.

He predicted "more trouble for OPEC," and said consumers are likely to benefit from low oil prices for some time.

SCC president Barbara Duff said Collins is new in town, and is willing to speak to clubs and groups.

Also Monday, Kathy Barnett introduced the Altrusa literacy program by giving council members a reading lesson using the techniques used by literacy volunteers. She said Altrusa has taken literacy as an international project, and volunteers in Ruidoso already are trained and available to work with adults who are functionally illiterate.

An Altrusa objective, besides offering the services free of charge, is to form a county literacy council, said Barnett. She asked for anyone wanting to become a literacy counselor, or to provide the names of people who want to learn to read, to call her at Barnett Carpets.

In other regular business Monday:

—Duff announced Neeta Giddens, representing the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce Greeters, will serve as SCC secretary.

—Cindy Lynch, representing the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, told of a chamber board goal to put up a community billboard to announce special events.

—Opal Armstrong, representing the Ruidoso Downs Ladies Auxiliary, noted how helpful the Aspenfest schedules and brochures were in keeping merchants informed of the many activities.

—Frankie Jarrell, representing the Family Crisis Center, announced plans for the group's first fundraiser, a spaghetti dinner on November 10, at the Incredible. SCC members were asked to help sell tickets and serve at the dinner. Tickets are $5.25 for adults and $3.75 for children, for the all-you-can-eat dinner, complete with wine.

—Duff announced a meeting of the Water Defense Association for Monday evening, and encouraged people to attend to "find out what's going on and whether we're going to have our water shut off." Duff said that, apparently, the response from Ruidoso has not been too great.

"It seems like the village water attorney ... paid by the hour ... is going to the Water Defense Association to see what's going on and then reporting back to the city," said Al Junge.

—SCC members were given copies of a letter from Ruidoso High School principal Tom Hansen to Becky Plato, who is working to furnish a home living center for special education students. Anyone with household items to donate is asked to call Plato at 257-5066.

—Junge announced an Economic Development Corporation meeting for 6 p.m. (today) Thursday, October 8, at Texas-New Mexico Power Company.

—Duff said American Association of Retired Persons coordinator Louise Horton was in Ruidoso last week. To learn more about AARP services, call Horton at 622-1809, said Duff.

SCC will meet at noon November 2, and at noon December 7, at K-Bob's. Duff encourages groups planning special events to notify Jill Blanks at West Winds Lodge so the dates can be included in the SCC calendar.

IMPROVEMENT CAN BE COSTLY
You can make a million mistakes trying to sell your own home. And one of them is making the wrong improvements. Many times, an expensive addition or repair can be the kind of thing that'll cost you far more than you get back.
True, the house should present a favorable appearance—mowed lawn, trimmed shrubs, and no obvious indication of neglect, but it's rare when a large financial undertaking will bring more than its cost in the final selling price.
There is always the financial risk of miscalculation too. Home repair costs frequently end up a lot higher than originally anticipated. You may end up with a faster sale and less inconvenience if you lower the selling price an equivalent amount.
Instead of guessing as to how much, if any, repair work, to undertake, see a Realtor. He can tell you what to do to make your home more salable. And what not to do so you won't lose money.
If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, whether it's residential, commercial, or exchanges, please phone or drop in at INNSBROOK VILLAGE REAL ESTATE, 101 Innsbrook Drive, Phone: 258-4500. We're here to help!
