Broader support for MainStreet is sought

Ruidoso MainStreet Task Force members are asking citizens to invest in the future of the village.

The eight-member group organized recently to come up with pledges of funds and in-kind services to support an application for a Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) enabling the village to become a part of the state and federal MainStreet programs.

The grant, besides paying the first $12,000 annual salary of a project director, would fund three-year contracts with the state and with the National Heritage Trust. Those programs, already working with hundreds of towns in the nation, offer a variety of resources to participants.

But to obtain a MainStreet CDBG, the village must show a commitment to support the program financially and otherwise. Members of the task force are gathering pledges of funds and support to accompany the application due in Santa Fe on December 1.

MainStreet is described as a self-help partnership between government and the private sector. Key elements include promotions, design and economic restructuring of downtown areas.

"We are confident that this program will make a difference for all of us in Ruidoso," says a letter soliciting pledges. Besides money, the group is asking for letters of support from citizens to show a broad-based commitment.

Task force members have volunteered to present details of the MainStreet program to their neighbors. To learn more contact one of the following:

Economic impact debated in Mescalero water case

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso officials are keeping close watch on a water rights court case under way in federal court in Roswell.

Village manager Frank Potter and Infra-structure Division head Becky Durham took turns last week listening to testimony presented by expert witnesses hired by the Village of Ruidoso to present evidence in the ongoing trial involving water users in the Pecos River Basin. By Friday afternoon the village's case was finished, and the torch was passed to the Water Defense Association (WDA). That group will begin presenting its case at 10 a.m. Monday, November 30, since the court will be in recess this week. WDA is an organization of water rights owners represented by Richard Simms of Santa Fe.

In the ongoing water case, the United States and the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe are claiming the tribe has the right to 17,931 acre feet of water to be used in irrigation and recreational projects on the Mescalero Indian Reservation.

Village water attorney Neil Stillinger, and his associate Kay Marr, put a string of witnesses on the stand last week, all testifying that the economic feasibility study for the tribe's proposed projects didn't address the question of "economic opportunity cost."

U.S. attorney Herb Becker and tribal attorney Leslie Seckler, after successfully persuading Judge LaFel Oman in pre-trial hearings to limit testimony by the Village of Ruidoso over the "dollars and cents" impact, objected to testimony by economists last week. Seckler said since the village does not claim any agricultural water rights, it cannot present evidence over loss of fishing, tourism and property values. She reminded the court that any testimony over the increased cost of water to the municipality would be within the limitations already set.

"The tribe's claim to additional water rights is based on economic feasibility... we want to show that the study is flawed," said Marr.

On Thursday Judge Oman, overruling objection after objection by Becker and Seckler, allowed much of the testimony by economists from the University of Wyoming. Some of the testimony was "tendered," with the judge noting he won't consider "dollars and cents" in his decision, but allowing the evidence to be placed in the record.

The two economists, Gary Watts and David Brookshire, after being qualified by the judge as expert witnesses, faulted the tribe's feasibility study for neglecting to compute the effects of moving resources from one place to another. One of the projects proposed by the Mescalero Indian tribe includes moving water through a pipeline to irrigate high-yield crops.

Watts and Brookshire testified that losses to fishing and property values are primary, while Becker and Seckler claim any such benefits or costs are secondary, and inappropriate to be considered in the water rights dispute.

Brookshire placed a dollar loss to property values on the Rio Ruidoso at between $3.2 million and $9.4 million. He called those losses primary, noting the figure would be increased if his calculations were extended beyond the 196 properties above State Highway 37 located on the river.

Village water engineer Jack Atkins, qualified by the judge as an expert witness on hydrology, testified on Wednesday and Thursday, and his figures were used again by the economists in calculating the probable effects on the Village of Ruidoso if as much as 91 percent of the Rio Ruidoso is diverted as it leaves the reservation. Watts, using a 20-year flow study, said flow reductions caused by the Indian project would range from 33 percent to 93 percent in a dry year.

"The way we measure economic feasibility is how it affects the consumer," said Watts, who was asked over and over by Becker and Seckler if his calculations are for effects on or off the reservation. "Tourism and economic growth are interrelated between the village and reservation," said Watts.

In testimony over effects to fishing on the Rio Ruidoso, it was noted that Ruidoso ranks sixth among trout fisheries. Miles McInnis of the New Mexico Game and Fish Department offered testimony of that department's stocking prac-

—Approval of the Lincoln County Fair Grant Agreement, Steve Massey

—Approval of the lease agreement with the New Horizons Developmental Center, Inc.

—Road review committee report, County Roads A-034 and A-035, Crandall and others

—Appointments to the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Commission

—Appointments to the Lincoln Historic Preservation Board

—Approval of the payroll register

—Approval of the accounts payable register.

The Ruidoso Village Council will meet at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, November 24, in council chambers of Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center.

Items on the agenda include:
—Request from the Lodgers Tax Advisory Committee for funds from the Council Approved Advertisement Contingency Fund.

—Request by T.E. Arrington for vacation of right of way in Singing Pines Subdivision, Tract H-1, Lot 21A and Lot 60, Block D.

—Consideration of a resolution endorsing the MainStreet program application and agreement to participate in the development and financial support of the proposed program.

—Introduction of an election resolution.

—Reports from village manager Frank Potter and village attorney Mike Runnels.

—Update on the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe litigation.

—Request for authorization to call for bids on the first bridge in the Upper Canyon.

—Award bid on a diesel four-cylinder V8 engine.

—Discussions over Eagle Creek wells Phase 2.

—Adoption of 1988 holiday schedule.

The Ruidoso Downs Trustees will meet at 7 p.m. today (Monday), November 23, at Ruidoso Downs Village Hall.

District Attorney names assistant

Twelfth Judicial District Attorney James Weldon (DA) announced Thursday the appointment of Bob Laughlin as his assistant for the Carrizozo office.

"He's had a lot of experience," said Weldon. "He's been in practice for 10 years," he added.

Laughlin is in private practice in Carlsbad, and has had experience working as an assistant to the Fifth Judicial District Attorney, said Weldon.

The new appointee will succeed Harry Wilcox Jr. who was terminated last week after he refused to dismiss a case on the orders of the DA. A factor in Wilcox's dismissal was a vision he revealed in a telephone interview with The News, but the main reason he was fired was his failure to obey an order, according to Weldon. Wilcox said he would ask Weldon to reconsider.

"I just advised him I'd made my decision, and that was it," said Weldon.

Wilcox will leave office on December 11, and Laughlin is slated to take over on December 14.

The National Weather Service in Albuquerque has predicted today will have high clouds and will be slightly cooler, with variable winds under 15 miles per hour. Highs will be in the mid 50s, lows in the low 20s.

Tuesday will be partly cloudy and winds will be from the west at five to 15 miles per hour. High will be around 55. Chances of precipitation throughout the period are less than 10 percent.

The extended forecast for Wednesday through Friday calls for mostly fair and dry conditions with clouds building toward the end of the week. There will be a slight chance of rain or snow showers. Thanksgiving day should be cloudy with a chance of light rain or snow.

tices and the possible impact of reduced flow. Describing the requirements of water temperature and chemical properties, McInnis said fishing in the area is "put and take," so if stocking is curtailed "there simply wouldn't be any fish there to catch."

To questions by Becker over whether the stocking and catching of the fish take place below the reservation line, McInnis responded, "fish have a tendency to go upstream." He said he couldn't say whether the fish are caught on or off the reservation.

Testimony was presented late Thursday and again Friday by Ron Greene, who was qualified by the judge as an agricultural expert.

Stilling and Marr have said they'll continue to press to have the economic impacts considered by the judge, but Judge Oman turned down their third such motion on Thursday.

"The Village of Ruidoso has been very imaginative in how to get economic impact into this case," said Seckler. "It has no relevance," she added.

But witnesses for the Village of Ruidoso painted a bleak picture of the possible effects on the area if the tribe is successful in diverting the river before it makes its way through the Village of Ruidoso and on through the Hondo Valley.

Testimony is scheduled to continue later this month on the third floor of the federal courthouse in Roswell.

A verdict isn't expected in the case until all the parties present their testimony.

Village manager Frank Potter (left) is shown outside the federal courthouse in Roswell with two of Ruidoso's expert witnesses, Gary Watts (center) and David Brookshire. The two University of Wyoming professors testified over economic impacts if the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe is successful in obtaining its claims to additional water rights on the Rio Ruidoso.

Priority dates in question

A motions hearing on the Mescalero water case scheduled for Tuesday, November 24, in Santa Fe, will deal partly with the question of water rights priority dates.

"The tribe is trying to leapfrog over all your priorities," said Water Defense Association executive director Hubert Quintana during a public meeting Sunday. Quintana said the tribe has filed a motion asking that all stream system priority dates earlier than 1873 be denied.

If attorneys for the tribe are successful in their efforts, then every water right holder with a priority date of 1872 and earlier would still own the water right, but the date would be moved to 1873.

"Mechanically, I don't know how that would work," said village water attorney Neil Stilling. He said both village priorities on the Rio Ruidoso are earlier than 1873, and could be impacted by the judge's decision.

Stilling said one village water right is acknowledged as 1866, while the other is in dispute. "We're claiming 1866," said Stilling.

One motion scheduled for the Tuesday hearing will be entered by the City of Alamogordo, claiming that all Indian claims were extinguished the date that Fort Stanton was established. Stilling said a number of other motions will be entered on Tuesday.

The water case will be in regular session in Roswell on Monday, November 30.

Locals attend conservation district meeting

Area soil and water conservation district representatives attended the 41st annual meeting of the New Mexico Association of Conservation Districts in Las Cruces November 4.

Howard Shanks and Greg Haussler, Capitan, Clem Weindorf, Hondo, and Sue Stearns, Nogal, were among 115 conservationists, mostly officials representing the state's 47 soil and water conservation districts, attending the three-day meeting.

Keynote speaker was Dr. Thomas Bahr, cabinet secretary of the New Mexico Energy, Minerals, and Natural Resources Department. During his address, Bahr announced that the state is saving $1.5 million through reorganization of the Energy, Minerals, and Natural Resources Department. "These savings, mostly in administrative services, are the result of merging the two departments under one cabinet secretary," said Bahr. The reorganization provides for more efficient operation within the department. The former Soil and Water Conservation Division has merged with the Division of State Forestry.

Betty Awards set for December 4

Ruidoso Little Theatre will honor its own and present the "People's Choice" winners during the third annual Betty Awards on Friday, December 4, at Cree Meadows Country Club.

A cash bar will open at 7 p.m., with dinner at 7:30 and the awards ceremony at 8:30.

Anyone who has seen four or more Ruidoso Little Theatre productions within the past year is eligible to cast votes for the "People's Choice." Categories are best play, outstanding actor, outstanding actress, best supporting actor and best supporting actress. A ballot is published in today's issue of The News.

RLT will present Betty Awards to those selected by people who have seen all six of this season's plays and have worked on any production. To receive a Betty Awards ballot, call 258-4545.

Betty Awards nominees are:
—Best actor—Dan Barrow, Jett Crouse, Chris Langley, Al Radtke and Roger Sowder.

—Best actress—Shirley Bruski, McKenzie Green and B.J. Tooley.
—Best director—Betty Bennett, Eric Berg, David Hall, Sandy Knox, Carl Mori and Sandra Weber.

—Best supporting actor—Jett Crouse, Ron Harris, Bill Don Knox, Roger Sowder, Keith Walker and Shannon Wooldridge.

—Best supporting actress—Sheila Harris, Sandy Knox, Teri Sodd, Sandra Weber and Karen Wharton-Barrow.

—Production of the year—"Barefoot in the Park," "Half Pint Window Rides West," "Harvey," "Last of the Red Hot Lovers," "Melody Hall" and "Laura."

Awards will be presented for production manager, production worker, business manager, business worker, design and "Itty-Bitty Betty." Other awards include "The Show Must Go On," the Sherman Atwood Memorial, Joan Marie Griffith and Founders.

Tickets for the dinner and show are $12, with show-only tickets priced at $3. Tickets may be purchased (before December 1) at Don's Pharmacy and Schlotzsky's.

Thinking of Thanksgiving

Ruidoso Kiwanis Club members Gene Crossland and Dean McAnally stop by Lincoln Cablevision to pick up food donations for Happy Holidays. Kiwanis members make regular pickups of the food being gathered at various local businesses. Happy Holidays will provide Thanksgiving food baskets for the needy of Lincoln County.

School band offers trees for Christmas

The Ruidoso High School Warrior 24-Karat Gold Marching Band is selling Christmas trees for the holiday season.

People will be able to choose from potted or cut trees.

Cut trees are both pinon and fir, six feet tall. The pre-order cost for pinon is $20 and the lot price is $25. The pre-order cost for fir is $25 and the lot price is $30.

Potted trees include blue spruce, black hill spruce and Norway spruce. The blue spruce trees are three to four feet tall and cost $40 pre-ordered and $50 lot.

The black hill spruce are four feet tall, $50 pre-ordered and $60 lot.

The Norway spruce are five to six feet tall, and cost $65 pre-ordered or $75 lot.

Special orders also will be filled, including douglas firs up to 20 feet high for sale. Prices are at $35 a foot, delivery included, in the Ruidoso area. They require a 50 percent deposit.

All pre-orders must be made by Wednesday, November 25, with a 50 percent deposit. Balance due and pick-up can be made at Swap Mart, December 6, from 1 to 5 p.m.

People can pre-order by calling 338-8174 or 257-5123, or by going to Steppin Out, at Sierra Mall, or Lincoln Cablevision, Channel 11.

Flapjacks

Ruidoso Kiwanians (from left) Don Samuels and Fred Ayoub are all set to serve pancakes at the club's Pancake Supper on Thursday at Whispering Pines Restaurant. Kiwanis is raising funds for the Lincoln County Food Bank and Camp Kiwanis. Members reported the Pancake Supper was a big success.

Warrior girl cagers open season against Artesia Bulldogs Tuesday

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Ruidoso High School's girls varsity and junior varsity basketball teams will open the season at Artesia Tuesday, November 24. The junior varsity game will start at 6 p.m., followed by the varsity contest.

"I know they (Artesia) beat us two out of three times last season and they've got almost everybody back," said Warrior head coach Sergio Castanon. "So they should be tough."

The Warriors impressed in scrimmages with visiting Weed and Tularosa Saturday at the Warrior gymnasium. Ruidoso looks to be on the right track for the opener.

Ruidoso's varsity scrimmaged

Tularosa twice and Weed once. The Warrior junior varsity scrimmaged Tularosa's junior varsity twice and Weed's varsity once (Weed does not have a junior varsity team).

"I thought we did well, especially in the second scrimmage with Tularosa," said Castanon. "I think our inside game was good and our fast break worked well."

Ruidoso's varsity has several starters back from last season's team, including Tammy Osborne, Norma Murillo and Tara Miller. Osborne was one of the leading scorers and rebounders for Ruidoso last season.

Murillo is a good rebounder and Miller is a playmaker.

Following the Artesia contest, Ruidoso's girls will compete in the Roswell Tournament Thursday through Saturday, December 3-5.

The Warrior boys varsity and junior varsity teams will open the season Friday, December 4, at New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell.

Ruidoso's boys varsity and junior varsity teams are coached by Gene Segura and Ridge Bowden.

Senior Kirk Ryan is the only returning starter on the varsity, but 6-7 Sigurd Schmitz and 6-4 Peter Gable give the Warriors plenty of height.

The boys freshman basketball team will begin the season Thursday, December 10, at Goddard.

Weightlifters

These weightlifters competed in the Ruidoso Athletic Club Third Anniversary Bench Press Contest last Thursday. Back row (from left) are Steve Morgan, fourth place; Tommy Valdez, fifth; Angel

Tiger gridgers have seven on all-district first team

Capitan High School's varsity football team had seven players on the District 1-A first team offensive and defensive units recently selected.

Tiger players named to the first-team offense were junior Clay Guck, lineman; senior Jeremy McCarty, lineman; senior Kerry Clements, offensive back; junior Anthony Sanchez, offensive back; and senior Mike Shanks, split end.

Tigers on the first-team defense were Guck, lineman; McCarty, lineman; Clements, defensive back; Sanchez, defensive back; junior Tino Gallegos, defensive back; and junior Jarod Martin, linebacker.

Capitan players on the second-team offense were junior Johnny Castillo, tight end; junior Luke Hall, lineman; Gallegos, quarterback; and Martin, offensive back.

On defense, Castillo as a lineman, freshman Larry McEuen as punter were named to the second team.

"We dominated the selections," said Tiger head coach Blane Miller. "Most of our guys are returning next year."

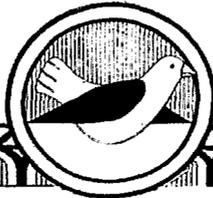

"Next year's programs (Capitan's) should be darn good for both boys and girls."

Capitan finished second in the district and lost a tight 6-3 overtime game to eventual champion Tatum in the state semi-finals.

Brave box supper scheduled tonight

There will be a box supper benefit for the Ruidoso Middle School girls basketball team at 6:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria today (Monday), November 23.

People will bid for the box supper with the proceeds going to the basketball team.

Local runners enjoyed competing in recent New York Marathon

by GARY BROWN
Sports Writer

Running in the New York Marathon November 1 was quite an experience for three local runners. Dr. Paul Whitwam, Dr. Savero Sava and Bob Clarke all competed in the 26-mile, 385-yard race. About 22,500 runners competed in the event, with more than 21,000 finishing it. The race was run in all five boroughs of New York City. Sava was timed in 3:39 (hours and minutes), Whitwam was timed in 4:10 and Clarke was timed in 4:28. It was Whitwam's third marathon and the first for Clark and Sava. Ibrahim Hussein, a Kenyan who has lived in New Mexico recently, won the race. "It's sort of the granddaddy of all marathons," Whitwam said about the New York competition. "It's the largest of all the marathons." The race began in Staten Island, then went into Brooklyn, Queens, Manhattan, the Bronx and back into Manhattan again for the finish. The runners went across five bridges during the race and the race was run in front of hundreds of thousands of people (the main estimate had as many as two million people watching the race). The three local runners were especially impressed with the crowds. "There was a tremendous outpouring of support by the people in New York City," said Clarke. "Their spirit really buoyed you up." "There was a lot of enthusiasm among the people running and the people watching," Sava said. "We found New York people were very pleasant," said Whitwam. "Another thing was that 6,000 or 7,000 of the runners were from other countries." The three local runners each have different amounts of experience running. Whitwam has been running competitively for two and one-half years, starting in the summer of 1985. He has competed in such local events as the Ruidoso Runners'

Classic, the Smokey Bear Run in Capitan (sponsored by Whitwam's Ruidoso Athletic Club), and others. Clarke, an insurance adjuster, has been running for three years, mostly fun runs around Ruidoso. Sava, a Mescalero doctor, is a native of New York City so the race was sort of a homecoming for him. He was a competitive runner for two years in high school. Now that the big marathon is over, the three runners have other goals on their minds. Whitwam, Clarke and their wives plan to compete in the Reindeer Run Saturday, December 12, in Roswell. The race will consist of a 10-kilometer run and a two-mile. Whitwam and Sava then will compete in the difficult Winter Quadrathlon at Mt. Taylor February 13. The race is about 50 miles long. That competition will go up and down the mountain and will be in four parts; bicycling, running, cross-country skiing and snowshoe racing. But a race that will stick out in the three runners' minds will always be the New York Marathon.

Brave boys win; girls beaten twice

Ruidoso Middle School's boys and girls basketball teams will host Tularosa at White Mountain School Tuesday, November 24. The boys B game will start at 3 p.m., followed by the girls A game and the boys A game. There were mixed results for the Braves last week. The Brave boys A team dumped Holloman, 59-17, and the boys B team topped Holloman, 43-18. Saturday the Brave girls A and B teams traveled to Roswell and lost to Mt. View and Sierra (no exact scores were available). In the boys A game, Ricky Wohlgenuth scored 18 points and Manny Guardiola added 12 to spark the Braves. In the boys B game, Neal Thornley and Nick Nantz both scored eight points for the Braves. "I thought we played well," said Brave boys head coach Dean Hood. "Maybe we'll find out how good we are Tuesday." Brave head girls coach Jody Hopkins also felt her team had improved. "We're playing a lot better," she said. Ruidoso is 2-0 in boys A play and 2-0 in boys B play. The Brave girls A and B team are both 1-4.

Gymnasts 10th at state meet

The Ruidoso Mountain Tops Class IV team, despite good efforts by individual members, ranked 10th among the 16 teams at the state meet this weekend in Rio Rancho. Marissa Martinez, taking third in floor competition for nine- and ten-year-olds, was the only member of the Tops to place in the state United States Gymnastics Federation (USGF) tournament. Raquel Reiman and Nicole Webb competed in a field of seven- and eight-year-olds on Friday, with Martinez, Heather Stover and Kendra Eggleston in Saturday's nine- and 10-year-old morning action, while Gail Floyd and Bethany Jarrell were up Saturday afternoon in the 12-and-older category. More than 100 girls, who qualified in a series of regional meets, competed at Sun Spirit Gym in Rio Rancho. The weekend's competition was dominated by northern New Mexico gyms, with Gold Cup in Albuquerque taking home the most medals. But the Tops coaches, head coach Robyn Johnson and assistant Moe Masters, were pleased with the individual efforts of the gymnasts. "They looked good," said Johnson, noting it was quite an accomplishment just to qualify for state. This year was the first time the Tops have had as many as seven state qualifiers. Terri Kennedy and Tara Candelaria, veterans of two past state meets, will participate in the USGF Class III state tourney on December 5, in Gallup.

LL basketball meeting set

The Ruidoso Little League basketball program will have an organizational meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, December 1, at the Senior Citizens' Building. The building is located at 501 1/2 Junction Road, directly behind the Ruidoso Public Library. The meeting will be about the season's starting date, coaches and volunteers. For more information, call Bobby Bailey at 257-2795.

Sports activities this week

Jackie and Bill Rawlins stand in front of their Ruidoso Lodge in Upper Canyon. The original buildings, built in 1924, are gone now but the lodge still retains its old-fashioned atmosphere.

Ruidoso Lodge retains historical charm

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

Ruidoso Lodge: "A new homelike hotel on the scenic Ruidoso amid the tall pines of the White Mountains.

"American plan. Everything is new and clean. Excellent meals. Surroundings very delightful. An ideal resort for rest and recreation. "Driving distance from Roswell is 81 miles.

"Rates: $3 per day; $18 per week; $85 per month. Special rates for children.

"YOU WILL SURELY APPRECIATE THE BEAUTY OF THE RUIDOSO WITH ITS RAPIDS, FALLS, NICE SHADY POOLS, FINE ROADS, ITS WINDING TRAILS AND BEAUTIFUL PANORAMA.

"You will enjoy a summer outing with us.

"Mountain climbing, horseback riding, fishing and swimming."

This is the text of an ad dated May 20, 1924, for the Ruidoso Lodge, located in the Upper Canyon.

"The prices have changed," laughs owner Bill Rawlins. "But the panorama remains."

The old lodge, with its cabins hand-built by pioneer Lynn Sylvester Croissant, are gone now, torn down about 10 years ago. Now there are eight new cabins.

Rawlins and his wife, Jackie, claim to be "native New Mexicans," although Jackie was born in Kansas. "She was already on the way by the time her folks moved to Kansas from New Mexico," Bill explains.

Both are graduates of the former State A and M in Las Cruces (now New Mexico State University), Bill in animal and range science and Jackie in music education. They met and married while still in college, and then moved to Texas, where Bill worked as a scientist on a ranch and Jackie worked for the Texas Department of Human Resources.

They moved to Ruidoso in December 1980. "We do like it here," Jackie states. "But it's hard to be an innkeeper these days. For one thing, our insurance rates have increased three times since we bought the place. We do all our own work, but we have a hard time competing with those time-share condos."

"We're beginning to be old-timers already, so many have left," says Bill.

"You know," says Jackie, "the innkeeper is usually the first person a tourist makes contact with. They count on us to steer them to places to eat, places to see. We keep menus here from all the area restaurants, and we actually help people plan their vacations once they're here. In a way, we're Ruidoso's good-will ambassadors."

Dear Clients, Colleagues, and Friends of J. TIMOTHY QUIGLEY:

I'm moving to Arizona and closing my practice on December 4, 1987. I will miss you and wish the best for all of you. Your files will be available at the law office of David Greenhaw at 2918 Sudderth. ## 40 years of serving Ruidoso

Ted Bennett takes a minute out of his busy day to pose for a picture commemorating his grocery store's 40th anniversary. The store, located on Mechem Drive, carries food items, including gourmet, alcoholic beverages and cooking-related non-food items. Bennett's father began the business back in 1937.

Safety in driving

Ruidoso Transfer & Storage has announced another Driver Safety Award for one of their drivers, Eugene McFarland, who was awarded his third diamond on his Safe Driver Award ring for 800,000 miles of accident-free service with Ruidoso Transfer and Atlas Van Lines. McFarland's award brings Ruidoso Transfer's accident-free mileage to well over 1,000,000 miles of service.

Clarification is stated

Nancy Radziewicz of Ruidoso To You, a private trade show organization, clarified certain statements in the Lodgers' Tax Committee report that appeared in Thursday's News.

According to Radziewicz, her group will be representing Ruidoso at 10 trade shows, not at two as were discussed at the meeting.

Also, Radziewicz referred to information in a quote by Convention and Visitors Bureau director Liz Groenendyk stating that Ruidoso to You is charging the village 3.5 times as much to hand out their brochures. "There are 25-30 different prices we charge our clients, so there is no one specific rate," Radziewicz said. "We charge according to the size and type of business. There is no way to compare prices for handouts between small businesses, large businesses and the village." She said her company consulted with four different ad agencies to determine their distribution prices, and that 1.5 cents per handout is on the low end of the scale of pricing.

Thanksgiving Spirit Is In The Air

This is being sent to you on Saturday, November twenty; and will reach you on Monday the twenty-third. Then comes Thanksgiving Day on the twenty-sixth. During happy days, the time flies fast; so during this wonderful autumn season the days are speeding by on the wings of Indian Summer.

Today after several days of cold nights and crisp days, just before high noon, the temperature is sixty-eight. A west wind is singing down the vale out of the southwest, flooding the meadows, glens, mesas, and hillsides with warm and balmy air. The sky all around the mountain horizon is blue, tinged with a touch of purple around the horizons, reflecting a lilac and lavender glow all along the mountainsides.

This special color arrives every year at the Thanksgiving season letting us know that the time of counting our blessings is here. The warm wind sings Thanksgiving hymns along the hilltops, and strums sacred chords among the branches of the walnut, oak and box elder branches—all waving the last of their autumn leaves in a celebration of Thanksgiving season. The plover jays, crows and robins send their happy notes into the warm breeze, harmonizing with the chorus of the Indian Summer wind. All the mountain world is singing the song of Thanksgiving, and the spirit of this special day is glowing through this blessed land of ours; and our hearts are rejoicing more each day of the season of Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving Dinner At The Ruidoso News

On Friday, November twenty, the folks at The Ruidoso News gathered for a traditional Thanksgiving Dinner prepared by the women, children and men folks too. Turkey and dressing was prepared by Jack and Betty Muhn and Jack carved at the head of the table. Mrs. Li Martin brought pumpkin pie; and cranberry sauce and other typical Thanksgiving dishes were brought and greatly enjoyed. We were all like one big happy family. I want to thank Ken and Mary Green and all the folks at The Ruidoso News for this early Thanksgiving celebration.

Splendid Spirit Showa Throughout The Community

All over our wide mountain neighborhood, the Thanksgiving spirit is something to gladden our hearts.

Romeo Klein has reminded me that the Elk's Club is sponsoring a dinner for veterans on Sunday, November twenty-two. All of our local organizations are pitching in to see that everyone has a happy Thanksgiving.

And individuals and families all over our beloved homeland in the hills are doing many acts of Christian kindness to help others have a good Thanksgiving.

During the Thanksgiving season let us send out our prayers to each other, especially for Father Burdette Stampley, and for the friends and loved ones of James Capps, who was called Home by Our Lord during the Thanksgiving season.

Let us send up prayers also for the loved ones of Fabiola Rawlins, Joseph Cheney and Sebastian Mendez, who are now safe and happy with Our Lord in Heaven.

Let us do our best to make sure everyone has a happy Thanksgiving, and let us ask our Lord to show us the way to ever more gratefulness for His blessings.

Meloney raised $100 for MS!

Meloney Townley, a third-grader at White Mountain Elementary, raised $100 for multiple sclerosis through their Read-A-Thon program. She read 50 books and had nine sponsors, including her parents and grandparents. Of all those books, "Little Rabbit's Baby Brother" was her favorite.

September up, October down in building permits

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

A small decrease in village building for October, following a substantial increase in September, seems to indicate a stabilizing trend in local construction.

The Village of Ruidoso issued 27 building permits, totaling $544,435, for all categories in October, down slightly from September's 31 permits worth $728,021. But September's total reflected a hefty increase over August's 22 permits with a valuation of $340,993.

October's total trails October 1986, when 44 permits worth $1,234,506, were issued; but new construction starts in September have a slightly higher value than the 42 permits listed for September 1986, valued at just $706,304.

Year-to-date totals are lagging behind 1986 end-of-October figures by $4,831,789. In 1986 the village had issued 310 permits valued at $11,036,102 by the end of October, while this year those figures are at 245 permits worth $6,204,313.

This year permits were issued in October for six new single family residences, valued at $395,165, down from September's nine new home starts with a value of $580,933. In August permits were issued for just two new residences, valued at $169,844. In October 1986, the village saw seven single family residence starts totaling $735,818; and in September 1986, five such permits were issued for new homes valued at $410,831.

Residential addition and alteration permits continue to outstrip new home starts by three to one, with 18 such permits, valued at $127,032, issued in October; and 19 residential fix-up permits with a value of $106,288 issued in September. Remodeling permits were at 17 totaling $152,934 in August. The trend to redo continues from last year when, in October 1986, 29 residential fix-up permits valued at $225,017 were issued. September of 1986 saw 29 residential addition/alteration permits issued for $252,431.

This year the village has issued 155 residential remodeling permits valued at $1,145,860.

New commercial building is at a standstill in the village with no permits issued in that category over the past three months. Just two new commercial building permits have been issued in 1987, with a total value of $468,028. In 1986 the village had issued nine new commercial permits, valued at $1,452,440, by the end of October, but no such permits were issued in either September or October, 1986.

Commercial redo permits numbered three at $22,219 for October, bringing the year-to-date in that category to 30 permits worth $291,670. In September three commercial remodeling permits, valued at $40,800, were issued. Commercial addition/alteration permits numbered five at $189,567 in October 1986, and six at $33,192 in September 1986.

No permits were issued in any other categories in either September or October. Last year the village saw one new condominium project, valued at $82,104, started in October; and five new apartment/condo projects, worth $2,487,252, started in September.

Permits issued by the Village of Ruidoso during September and October, by subdivision, type of structure and estimated cost of construction were:

Students learn, earn in school restaurant

Ruidoso High School students are learning to become part of the free enterprise system while working at school these days.

A total of 24 Ruidoso students belong to the Tee Pee Lounge, a student-operated restaurant at the high school.

Rebecca Durham is the teacher-coordinator and the restaurant is officially a food-service class (in order to be a food-service class, its students must earn money).

This is the third year the restaurant has operated at the school.

The students each invested $25 in the lounge at the beginning of the school year. They then operate the restaurant and earn money.

"They do a lot of work," said

Durham. "They do their own grocery shopping, too."

The restaurant is open from 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. every Thursday. Students must make reservations. There is a different type of food each week and the prices vary.

The restaurant students also are performing good deeds over the holidays.

They are making pumpkin pies for poor people. Future Homemakers of America students are delivering the pies to people.

By the end of the school year, the students also hope to have earned some money for themselves.

"They hope to earn around $2,400 total," Durham said. "That would leave about $100 for each student."

These Ruidoso High School students operate the Tee Pee Restaurant at the high school. The restaurant is open every Thursday at lunch.

It's the week of Thanksgiving: Time to ski!

But you say we can't be ready to ski since little snow has fallen, and the snow that did accumulate on Sierra Blanca appears to have already melted.

Yes, that's true, but we'll still be skiing on Thanksgiving Day.

Crews at Ski Apache Resort have been busy these past cold nights, cranking up the massive snowmaking system on the slopes and burying trails with seven-foot piles of crisp, white snow.

This week, they'll be smoothing out those piles like globs of frosting on a cake, coating all surfaces of more than a third of the trails at the resort.

Powerful snow groomers will then till the snow, working the white crystals into a packed-powder surface that will ski as well as if it had fallen naturally.

And this week, we'll have the best of both worlds, good weather and an excellent skiing surface.

Skiing this week at Ski Apache Resort? You better believe it!—DJP

Inside the Capitol by Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Aspiring Democrats are beginning to line up again to vie for the challenge of facing U. S. Rep. Manuel Lujan in the Congressional District I race.

At least three Democrats are talking seriously about the race. Last year's sacrificial lamb Manny Garcia has not regained sufficient good sense to keep him out of the race. Garcia has reportedly said he will keep running until he makes it.

That sort of campaign strategy is not one which tends to attract large sums of campaign funds or campaign workers. He must have found the secret to growing the proverbial money tree.

In 1986 Garcia garnered 29 percent of the vote, which is only a percent or two over what the political pros will tell you a Democrat can expect to poll even if he hides in a closet the entire campaign.

The only way Garcia can expect to win the primary again next year is if the other two candidates, both University of New Mexico faculty members, draw from exactly the same constituencies and knock each other off.

Professor Alan Reed is the only announced candidate so far. He teaches in the Public Administration Department at UNM.

Reed is distributing an impressive two pages of accomplishments to potential supporters. The list includes a term on the Albuquerque City Council in the mid 1970s. He did not seek reelection.

He has also been quite active in leading several legislative initiatives for education, arts and election law reform.

Like most university types, Reed is heavy into consultant and business enterprises. One pretentious-sounding business name caught my eye—he is president of Space Research Associates. I was about to decide this sounded like the short-lived take-off on James Bond movies, in which the hero was not only a secret agent but also an astronaut and a brain surgeon. Then I learned it has something to do with providing education and communications services to the research industry.

Reed has served some time in our nation's capital. He was employed by the Library of Congress in the Congressional Research Service. As such, he wrote speeches and performed special studies for members of the House and Senate.

He already has a campaign office and one of those impressive telephone numbers that end in 1988. But it doesn't appear his early entry into the race is going to scare out anyone else.

So far unannounced, but working the hardest of any candidate, to date, is Professor Steven Kramer. He teaches contemporary European history and some Latin American history at UNM.

Kramer jumped into the 1986 Demo primary race at the last minute and lost by 700 votes to Garcia. Reed had talked about getting into that race but decided against it in favor of pointing toward 1988.

Kramer is taking a very studied approach to this campaign. He spent several months working in Washington, D.C. last year learning the ropes and making many contacts. His campaign slogan is, "Steven Kramer listens to New Mexicans; Washington listens to Steven Kramer."

It sounds as though we have two pretentious professors on our hands. But then, aren't they all?

As a result of his experiences as a candidate last year, Kramer is doing a lot of things right this time around. He has lined up an impressive staff, including a full-time campaign manager, and can claim the support of some major elected officials.

He is busy raising some early money from the Washington contacts he has made and he has commissioned a baseline poll, to be done later this month, by a recognized Washington, D.C. pollster.

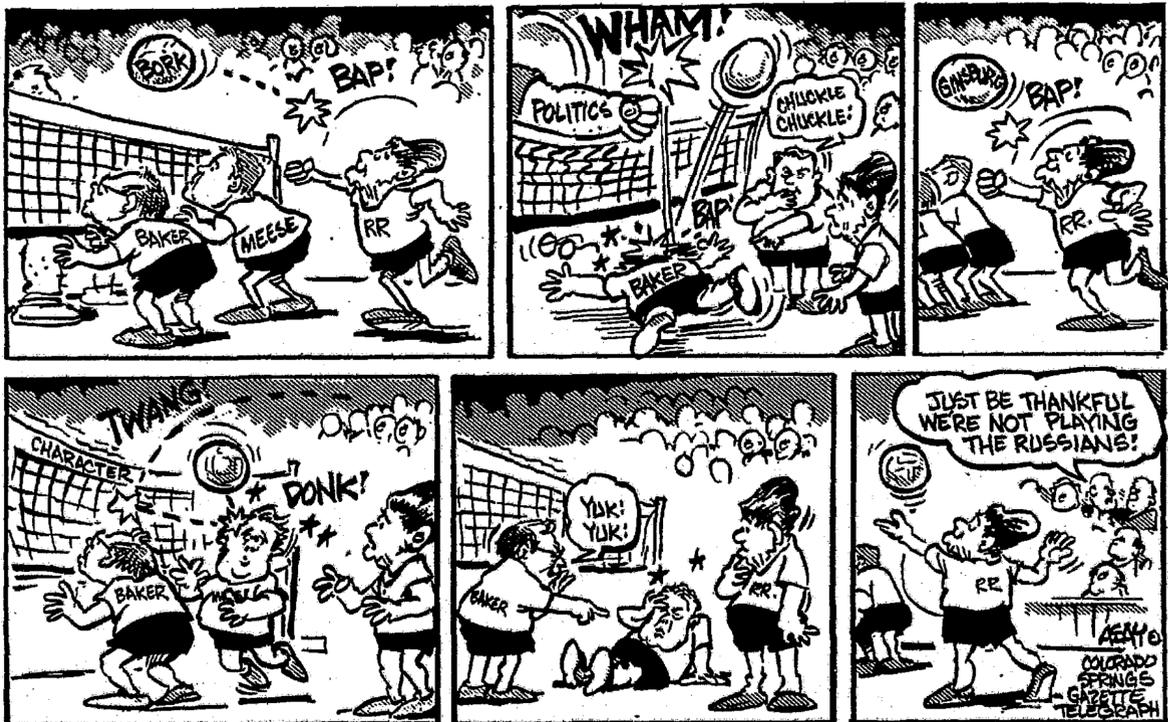

These are the type of things a serious candidate must do in order to attract the attention of the major political action committees—those with the big dough—and the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee.

During his short campaign last year, Kramer put together an array of long-time party faithfuls. He says he can keep them in the fold this year despite the entry of Reed, who has long worked side by side with many of these people over the years.

Kramer is a good tactician and organizer. He has organized his petition signature gathering, for instance, on a precinct-by-precinct basis so that he has a ready-made list of contacts and possible campaign supporters already broken down by precinct.

Kramer is proving he knows how to put a good campaign organization together. Now, he needs to show that he can go out and excite some people as a candidate. It takes both.

We've seen the professor put together a textbook campaign. Now, we'll see if he can carry it out.

On a mission of snowmaking

Ski Apache Resort crewmembers and their snowmaking machines are tugged up a hill at the resort, preparing for another night of snowmaking. Crews have been making snow each night since early this month, and plans are set for the traditional Thanksgiving Day opening. The high-power machines can cover about a third of the resort's trails with snow that skis as good or better than natural snow, according to Resort Manager Roy Parker.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

LINCOLN COUNTY PROPERTY TAXES DUE

Notice is hereby given that 1987 property taxes became due November 10, 1987 and will become delinquent December 11, 1987. Taxes may be paid in full by December 10, 1987, or in two equal installments, with the second half becoming due April 10, 1988 and delinquent if not paid by May 10, 1988.
Pursuant to Section 7-31-50 of the New Mexico Property Tax Code, a minimum penalty of five dollars ($5.00) or one percent per month must be charged on all delinquent taxes, and pursuant to Section 7-31-49, one percent per month must be collected on all delinquent accounts.
Owners of personal property such as mobile homes or office equipment, who have allowed taxes to become delinquent more than two years will be served with a demand warrant for collection of these delinquent taxes, pursuant to Section 7-38-53 of New Mexico Statutes Annotated 1978, if delinquent taxes are not paid in full.
Pursuant to Section 7-38-53, property taxes are the personal obligation of the owner of the property and the sale or transfer of property within that tax year does not relieve the former owner of personal liability for property taxes in that year. Failure to receive a bill is not sufficient cause to ask to have penalty and interest waived.
Should you have questions concerning your property taxes, please contact the Lincoln County Treasurer's Office at 505/648-2397 or 505/648-2525.

Mr. Ken Green
Ruidoso News
Ruidoso, N.M.

Dear Ken:

For over thirty years, Perteet-Parks & Associates, Inc. has maintained the image that was established early - honest, competent professionalism. Its associates are respected members of their community, active in their own individual areas of interest on the local, state and national levels.

And for thirty years the Ruidoso News has enhanced that reputation through quality advertising services. Professional service, cost-effective rates, and broad circulation combine to make the Ruidoso News our best advertising value.

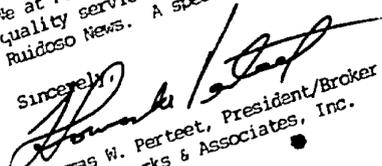

Perteet-Parks & Associates, Inc. is a member of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, Ruidoso Board of REALTORS and its MLS, the Real Estate Association of New Mexico and the National Association of REALTORS. Our company also works closely with the various community organizations through each of its associates.

Our company handles new and re-sale homes, mobile homes, lots, acreage, investment properties, commercial and income producing properties, and other parcels of real estate, along with "Property Management".

Our insurance firm provides coverage on home, auto, commercial properties, give our insurance agents a call to protect your investments with the proper insurance coverage.

We at Perteet-Parks & Associates, Inc. will continue to offer the highest quality service to our community and will continue to advertise in the Ruidoso News. A special thanks to you and your staff.

Sincerely,

Thomas W. Perteet, President/Broker
Perteet-Parks & Associates, Inc.
