Five jailed on drug charges

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

The Lincoln County Sheriff's Department, State Police narcotics agents and Ruidoso Police executed a search warrant on Thursday, on a residence located on Papoose Trail in Ruidoso, according to Chief Deputy Sheriff Rex Skellett.

Located inside the trailer home was a clandestine lab set up for cooking methamphetamines, said Skellett.

Three males, Elmo Silva, Curtis Walker and William Stengel, all Ruidoso adults, and two females, Jennifer Walker, and Alexandria McCullough, also adults residing in Ruidoso, were arrested and booked on a charge of manufacturing and intent to distribute a controlled substance, Skellett reported.

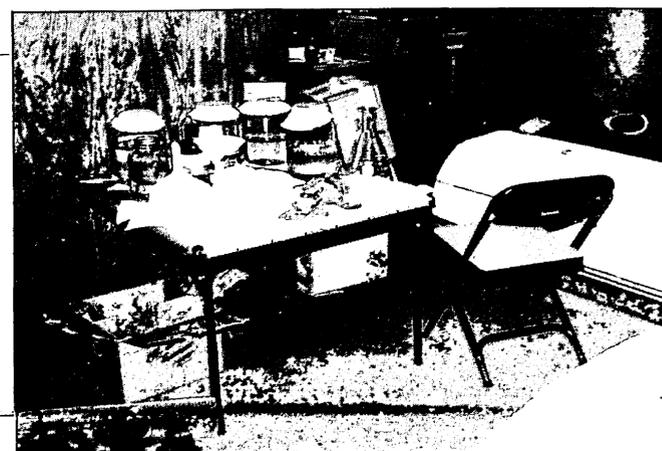

Curtis and Jennifer Walker were also charged with child abuse.

The New Mexico State Police crime lab was contacted but was unable to respond because of weather conditions.

The investigation is continuing by sheriff's Investigator Paul Wersich and special agents of the New Mexico State Police.

All suspects went before Judge Jim Wheeler Friday morning for their first appearance, Skellett said, and bond was set at $20,000 each. There is no reduction of bond for any of the five. All were then transported to the Lincoln County Jail.

This alleged methamphetamine lab was discovered by the sheriff's department, Ruidoso police and the State Police narcotics division in a mobile home on Papoose Trail in Ruidoso. Five people were arrested and booked.

Hughes handles pooch problems

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Mark Hughes has gone to the dogs ... and the cats, skunks, raccoons and assorted wildlife in the Village of Ruidoso.

Just five weeks into his job as village animal control officer, Hughes has already rounded up over 100 stray animals, and that's not counting the 45 to 50 skunks he has trapped and hauled into the forest.

A Lovington native, Hughes has lived in the Ruidoso area for the past three years. He is married and has two daughters.

Hughes had the animal control contract in Whiteface, Texas, before moving to New Mexico. Besides his on-the-job experiences in Texas, Hughes studied wildlife biology for two years in college in Colorado.

Animal control is under the Ruidoso Police Department, with calls routed to the animal control officer by calling the police dispatch area at 257-7365. Hughes spends his days on patrol, and can be reached by his vehicle radio when dispatchers get a call regarding a loose or a dead animal.

Hughes is scheduled to work Saturday through Wednesday, but is called in if the village receives an emergency call. The village and county animal control officers cooperate, filling in for one another on days off, to keep overtime costs down.

"It's been busy," said Hughes, who is charged with enforcing the village animal control ordinances. Although Hughes is authorized to issue citations for violations of that ordinance, both he and Police Chief Bill Newman stressed their preference for voluntary compliance.

So far, Hughes has mainly been warning pet owners that in Ruidoso animals are to be, not only licensed, but also confined or on a leash.

When Hughes picks up an animal with current tags, he tries to return it home. "If their tags are current, then it's real easy to get pets back to owners," noted Hughes.

If he is unable to locate owners, or if the animal hasn't current tags, then Hughes delivers the stray to the Humane Society of Lincoln County where it is sheltered until owners are located, or the animal is adopted. Animals are destroyed after staying at the shelter a specified length of time.

Hughes encourages pet owners to keep their animals vaccinated, licensed and confined because of the health risks, as well as the village ordinance. Just recently Hughes has picked up a raccoon and a skunk that appeared to have rabies. He said one animal was trapped near Lookout Manor and the other in the Ponderosa Heights area.

Dogs running loose, especially those without tags, make up the biggest problem confronting Hughes in his new job.

The animal control officer also is responsible to enforce ordinances against cruelty to animals, and Hughes already has issued a citation in a case where three dogs, a cat and a pigeon were found confined in a small travel trailer.

Hughes is licensed, through the State Health Department, under the supervision of a licensed veterinarian, to dispense a tranquilizer to animals he can't catch or has reason to fear. While the drug is approved for use, Hughes said he is still very careful when using it.

The Village of Ruidoso has a policy that precludes shooting animals except as a very last resort when a human life is threatened. Hughes is unarmed as he carries out his duties.

Another problem facing Hughes when he joined village staff, was a pack of wild dogs that already attacked and injured two deer. He said he has captured six wild dogs, putting a stop to that problem. Two of the dogs were "absolutely vicious," and had to be put to sleep, said Hughes.

Pit bulls, while a problem in other places, apparently aren't a problem in Ruidoso. Hughes said he knew of just one call involving a pit bull, and in that case a loose dog entered a pit bull's yard. "It wasn't the pit bull's fault," said Hughes.

After chasing down dogs and cats all day, Hughes goes home to pursue his hobby—breeding and training hunting dogs.

Chief Newman, noting he already has noticed a decrease in the number of stray animals in town, had some words of praise for the new animal control officer.

"I think the village is very fortunate to have found someone with Mark's qualifications, love of animals and ability to work with people," said Newman.

Sullivan campaigns to be county sheriff

Former Lincoln County Sheriff Tom Sullivan has announced his candidacy in the Democratic primary for sheriff in the 1988 election year. Sullivan served as sheriff from 1983 through 1986.

Sullivan graduated with honors from Wayland Baptist University with a Bachelor of Science degree in criminal justice. He has over 2,000 additional classroom hours of training in law enforcement courses. Sullivan has taught law enforcement courses at five different colleges and universities as a guest instructor, and has taught at the Texas Department of Public Safety law enforcement academy and Amarillo Police Academy.

He holds an advanced and instructor's certificate in law enforcement and is a certified New Mexico peace officer.

Sullivan has over 20 years experience in law enforcement, 11 of those as an administrator. He worked for the Texas Department of Public Safety for 14 years, six years as a state trooper and eight years in the criminal investigation division. He supervised a 31-county district for the narcotics service for seven years.

Sullivan has been employed at Camp Sierra Blanca, the New Mexico Department of Corrections for the past 13 months as chief classification officer. He also served in that capacity from August of 1979 to August of 1980.

He graduated from the Southwestern Police Institute, School of Police Supervision, at the University of Texas at Dallas, and the International Association of Chiefs of Police School of Management, in Austin, Texas.

He has attended two 40-hour

National Homicide Investigator's seminars, one at the University of Texas, and one at the National Law Enforcement Institute, Denver, Colorado. Sullivan is a graduate of the Texas Department of Public Safety Law Enforcement Academy in Austin, Texas, and the Dept. of Justice Drug Diversion School in Washington, D.C. and has attended numerous other law enforcement related schools and seminars.

Sullivan is past president of the New Mexico Sheriff's Association (1984-85) and past president of the Texas Narcotics Officers' Association (1976-77), a 1,100 member organization of federal, state, municipal and county law enforcement officers primarily involved in drug enforcement. He is a past director of the New Mexico Narcotics Officers' Association.

Sullivan has a proven record as Lincoln County Sheriff. During his tenure the sheriff's department served 5,654 civil papers, worked 638 traffic accidents, answered 1,386 animal control calls, recovered over a million and a half dollars worth of stolen property, filed 196 narcotics cases and recovered drugs valued at over one million dollars.

Over 3,000 marijuana plants were seized that were grown by Lincoln County pot farmers and the department confiscated eight vehicles and one airplane in drug related cases. The sheriff's department, under Sullivan's direction, investigated four murder cases. Three were solved and a fourth was taken to a Lincoln County grand jury.

During Sullivan's term, the department installed a National Crime Information Center

TRACEY MORAN

Moran takes reins as CVB director

by BONNY CHRISTINA CELINE
News Staff Writer

Tracey Moran is the new director of the Convention and Visitors Bureau of Ruidoso. She began her position on March 21, replacing previous director Liz Groenendyk.

Moran has her bachelor's degree from Texas Tech, majoring in advertising and minoring in Spanish. She worked in the consumer loan department of Ruidoso State Bank as executive secretary from October 1987 until March 21.

"I also did ads and public relations there," she says. One of her biggest accomplishments at the bank was conceptualizing, creating, initiating and implementing the "Light Up a Life" Christmas fundraising project for the needy of Lincoln County.

"I thought it would be good if we could raise around $2,500," she says. "But we actually raised over $4,500. It was a very successful project."

Prior to working at the bank, Moran worked with the Phil Price Advertising Agency in Lubbock, Texas. That agency is the advertising agency that is now under contract with the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Moran will be working hard to promote Ruidoso as a convention center. "That's my primary responsibility," she says. She is currently developing a convention packet in cooperation with the ad agency. "These will be distributed through the mail, through trade shows, and to all convention bidders."

She is also making a personal inventory of facilities in Ruidoso that would be suitable for groups of people, such as lodging facilities and restaurants.

"We're not just after big companies," Moran says. "We want to promote tourism to individuals, too."

Among conventioners on the calendar for Ruidoso in the upcoming months are the New Mexico Bar Association, The New Mexico Automotive Dealers, and the Elks Club Golf Tourney.

Moran's parents, in Lubbock, Texas, are family therapists. When Moran's not working, she is playing racquetball at the RAC or horseback riding, and, she admits, she does a "little sketching."

"I am open to hear all ideas and suggestions of how to make the CVB a success," says Moran. "I think that each year it exists, it will get stronger. Sometimes people want immediate results, but I see the bureau, it is something that will build as time goes on."

TOM SULLIVAN

(N.C.I.C.) terminal which gives the department immediate access to nationwide intelligence information and data. The communications network for the department was redesigned and additional repeaters were installed at strategic locations eliminating "dead spots" in the county.

"My achievements as sheriff were the result of a team effort by employees who were proud of their department and took pride in its accomplishments. Responsible leadership produces responsible employees," says Sullivan.

A 10-year Lincoln County resident, Sullivan has owned and operated Sullivan's Security Service, a private patrol and private investigation business since 1978.

He and his wife, Pat, reside in Capitan, where she is a first-grade teacher. They have three sons, Mike, who is self-employed in Albuquerque, Brian, a senior at the University of New Mexico, and Paul, a senior at Texas Tech University.

Tom Sullivan is past president of the Carrizozo Rotary Club and is presently a director of the Ruidoso Noon Lion's Club.

"With professional, responsible leadership, the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department can once again become a respected, effective law enforcement agency," Sullivan says.

Sheriff Samuels seeks second term

Sheriff Don Samuels announced his candidacy for re-election as Lincoln County Sheriff.

Since taking office, Samuels has become a certified New Mexico law enforcement officer.

He has attended many seminars, furthering his education, on homicide investigations, child abuse, sexual assaults, search and seizure and a two-week seminar at the FBI Academy on management.

Samuels said, "Despite undue political pressures applied by the incumbent County Commission, County Manager and County Attorney, my office has maintained professionalism, and I believe I've made many accomplishments and achievements under my administration."

Samuels lists the following:

- 1) Cooperation among all law enforcement agencies.
- 2) Investigated four homicides, with two cases solved and the other two involving arrests with bound-overs.
- 3) A kidnapping which involved a manhunt and subsequent arrests.
- 4) Numerous arrests relating to drugs and burglaries, including recent arrests and confiscation of a methamphetamine lab.
- 5) A task force has been formed in Lincoln County among several law enforcement agencies, including municipal, county, state, and federal agencies. This cooperative effort is directing its resources toward known criminals and it is working, he said.

"I have approximately 13 years in law enforcement and would like the opportunity to continue as the sheriff of Lincoln County," he said.

"For over a year I have not gone to the news media with certain things because my attorney has advised against it. Our legal system will indicate the facts happening in our county government, therefore making allegations to the news media does nothing but destroy confidence in the minds of our tax paying citizens and I will not participate in such negative activities.

"I have done a good job as your sheriff, therefore, I am asking for your continued support for honesty and integrity."

DON SAMUELS

Samora a candidate for county assessor

Chief deputy assessor Julia Samora announced that she is seeking the position of Lincoln County Assessor in the June 7 primary.

Samora is a member of the Republican party. She is presently chief deputy as-essor for Lincoln County and has held that position for many years.

She has also served as assessor for four 2-year terms.

"My many years of experience so far have not only developed my qualification for assessor but have also developed all the practical experience needed to run the assessor's office."

Samora is a lifelong resident of Lincoln County.

She is married to Rito Samora, and is mother of five sons and one daughter, all of whom attend school in the Carrizozo district.

Simpson seeks commission seat

Rick Simpson, Ruidoso Downs, has announced that he will be running in the Republican primary for Lincoln County Commissioner.

The commission district he seeks is number one, currently represented on the commission by Ralph Dunlap, a Democrat.

Simpson, 39, is a lifelong resident of Lincoln and Otero counties. He runs two businesses, Simpson School Buses and Simpson Charter Service.

He is married to Carol, and has one son, Clifford, 17.

"I don't really have any experience as an elected official," says Simpson, "but I am a successful businessman, and if a person can run a business, and they're honest, that's what it takes to be a good commissioner, isn't it?"

Simpson has been a school bus contractor since 1972. He came from a farming family, and was educated in Tularosa and Ruidoso. Prior to becoming a bus contractor, Simpson was a farrier.

He is a veteran of the Vietnam War, and served as Commander of the American Legion in 1980 and 1981.

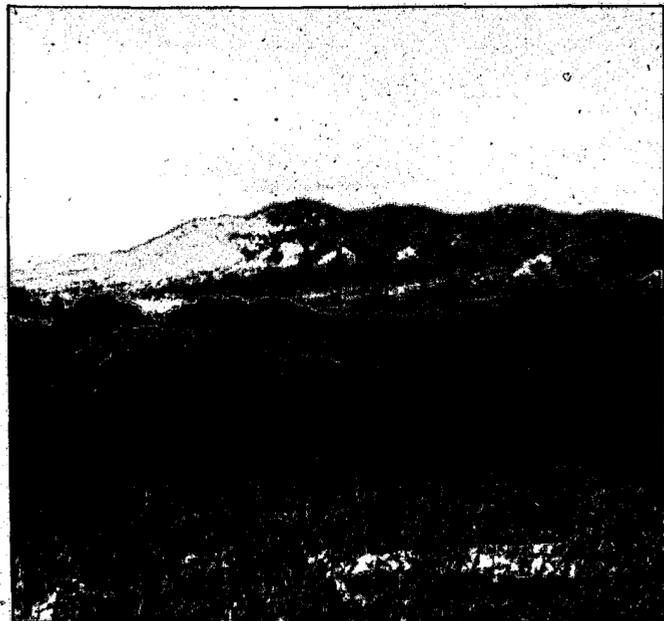

Simpson enjoys all outdoor activities, including hunting, fishing and roping.

"I get along well with people," he says. "I work in a supervisory capacity, and I deal with the public daily. I work well with school officials, principals, teachers, students and parents, so I think I can get along well with elected county officials."

Simpson has a good knowledge of the county, and has a particular interest in keeping county roads open for sportsmen. "I think that we can work for the benefit of private land owners and the sportsmen together," he says. "If I'm elected to the commission, I will try to represent the best interests for everyone."

News from the Convention & Visitors Bureau

with Tracey Moran

(Editor's note: The following article begins a regular feature of The Ruidoso News, offering readers a look into the workings of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and Convention & Visitors Bureau, from the perspective of Bureau director Tracey Moran.)

So many times, we hear individuals speak of the constant need for a strong and consistent tourism/convention industry in Ruidoso. Although this industry is very diverse and unpredictable, Ruidoso has done a favorable job of promoting itself to visitors in the past. This year, advertising and promotion have also been well received and promise to continue in a positive direction at a fast pace.

The actual advertising and promotion of Ruidoso is one of the numerous responsibilities of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce through the Conventions & Visitors Bureau. The following article was written in hopes of better communicating the general advertising and promotional process that these two organizations undertake for our area.

The fiscal year for promotional dollars to be spent on Ruidoso begins each year on July 1st and ends June 30th. Unknown to some, the advertising budget originates from a 3% Occupancy Tax collected each time a guest spends the night in a local lodging establishment. As specified in the contract between the Chamber of Commerce and the Village of Ruidoso, 75% of this Occupancy Tax is remitted to the Conventions & Visitors Bureau specifically for its advertising and promotion budget.

With these available dollars, the process begins. An Advertising Committee is selected and approved by the Chamber's Board of Directors each year, and is overseen by the Vice President of Advertising/Promotion. It is the responsibility of the committee to seek out an advertising agency which will best suit Ruidoso's promotional needs with marketing strategies, creative ideas, and media placement. (Since July of 1987, the agency has been Phil Price Advertising, Inc. Recently, the agency received three advertising industry awards specifically for the Ruidoso campaign.)

Through combined efforts, the committee and the agency then select primary and secondary geographic markets. Additionally at this time, demographics (characteristics of populations used to identify markets), media, and budget figures are chosen which will best fit Ruidoso's needs. The next step for the agency is to prepare a detailed annual budget and media plan. This annual media plan should include specific media used (radio, television, newspaper, magazine, etc.) and the dates these advertisements will actually run.

Monthly committee meetings are held, with the agency in attendance, in order to accurately monitor the previously agreed upon marketing plan. Additionally, new marketing ideas and directions are discussed as well as revisions of the existing plan.

This year the committee's direction is easing into a more western geographic market, which includes Albuquerque, Tucson, Phoenix and Southern California. These markets are being targeted in addition to our more traditional markets of Austin/San Antonio, Dallas/Fort Worth, and El Paso. Less emphasis is being placed upon the West Texas area because of increasing local interest in the western part of the United States.

Next in this series of articles, we will cover more specific creative ideas and media used this year for the advertising and promotion of Ruidoso.

Tennis teams top opponents

by CHUCK JARRELL
Special to The News

The Ruidoso High School girl's and boy's tennis teams both came out on top in this Saturday's match-up with district rival Artesia.

The girl's squad won eight and lost only one, while the boy's finished 7-2.

Top-seeded Dusty Skellett won his singles bout, 6-0, 6-0, in what Coach Mike Crocker termed "his best performance of the season." Skellett paired with Eric Collins to take a 6-2, 6-3 doubles victory.

In the number two singles contest, Eric Collins split sets with Artesia's Eddie Leaton, but fell 6-4, 2-6, 3-6.

Brian Harris came through for the Warriors in the third spot, stopping Johnnie Carter, 6-3, 6-2. Jeff Schmidt came back after dropping the first set of his fourth-ranked singles match to win 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Harris and Schmidt battled to a 3-6, 6-7 defeat in a doubles game, losing in the tiebreaker, 7-5.

In the fifth position, Martin Andersson won, 6-2, 6-3, and teammate Cliff Sears followed suit with a 6-3, 6-1 victory. Andersson and Sears completed Warrior scoring by winning 6-2, 3-6, 6-2 in doubles.

Marnie Warlick paced Ruidoso in the girl's action, winning 6-0, 6-2 in the number one singles showdown, and joined Cassie McIntosh to win the number two doubles bout, 6-2, 6-3. McIntosh won her singles match, 6-1, 6-2.

Second-ranked Mikki Roller lost her singles game, 5-7, 4-6, but came back with a 1-6, 6-3, 6-3 doubles win, aided by Candace Makowski. Makowski defeated her singles opponent, 7-5, 6-1.

Amanda Samuels scored an impressive 6-0, 6-2 singles win, while freshman Emily Chavez made her first appearance of the 1988 season with a 6-2, 6-3 victory. Samuels and Chavez continued their winning ways in the doubles bracket, smashing the number three Artesia squad, 6-0, 6-2.

Coach Crocker praised his team's efforts, especially that of his two top netters, Dusty Skellett and Marnie Warlick. The Warrior tennis team looks forward to a busy week, traveling to Roswell today (Monday) to face the always powerful Goddard Rockets, and going to Lovington on Thursday.

The Warriors match-up with Portales, slated for last Friday, was cancelled and re-scheduled on May 5. Also cancelled due to the weather was Saturday's track meet, which has not yet been re-scheduled.

"THE COST OF HEALTH CARE INSURANCE IS RIDICULOUS!"

A. J. Burgess

A. J. Burgess
President,
New Mexico Blue Cross and Blue Shield

The cost of health care insurance is ridiculous. So we did something about it. We completely redesigned our HealthSense program to introduce a brand new feature. Affordability.

With the newly redesigned HealthSense, the cost of health care insurance is reasonable, not ridiculous. You'll be able to give your employees the finest health care program available, at a price that fits sensibly into your budget.

If you have between 3 and 49 employees, HealthSense is for you. Call your broker, your local Blue Cross and Blue Shield office, or toll-free 1-800-231-7707. Or fill out the coupon below and mail it to us.

And, if you're not part of a group, or if you have more than 49 employees, call us anyway. We have affordable programs designed for you, too.

At least look into HealthSense. At a price like this, it would be ridiculous not to.

The cost of health care insurance is ridiculous.

CEASAR GARCIA
 Services were held April two at Saint Eleanor's Catholic church and Forest Lawn Cemetery for Ceasar Montoya Garcia Sr. who was called Home by Our Lord on March thirty-one.

Father David Bergs read from the Book of Isaiah: "Let us Rejoice that God has saved us..."

Also the twenty-third Psalm: "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want, He maketh me to lie down in green pastures, He leadeth me beside the still waters..."

And also from the epistle of the Apostle to the Romans: "Whether we live or whether we die, we are the Lord's."

Father Bergs said that Ceasar was a man of strong faith, and that is was a special blessing that our Lord had called him into Heaven during Holy Week.

Ceasar's granddaughter, Teresa Sanchez, gave a very fond eulogy for her grandfather saying that Ceasar was a man of great strength, and that he has passed on this to all his children and grandchildren - that he had a great sense of humor which cheered all his friends and loved ones through the trials of life. Teresa also recited a poem for her beloved grandfather entitled "Footprints."

Jessie Reynolds sang favorite selections to the accompaniment of the guitar, including: "Adios Reina Del Cielo," (Goodbye, Queen of Heaven), and "Las Mananitas," (The Morning Serenade).

LIFETIME RESIDENT
 Ceasar was a lifetime resident of Lincoln County, and spent his days bringing happiness to us in many ways. He was a builder of homes in adobe, brick, stone or frame; and took great pride in his fireplaces. He collected especially beautiful stones in journeys through the hills to be used in adding to the charm of his fireplaces.

"I want people to remember me as they enjoy their fireplaces during the winter season," Ceasar often said.

He loved the out-of-doors and was full of appreciation for the children of Mother Earth. The tradition of his pioneer forefathers meant a great deal to him. He knew many of the foods and medicines of hills and vales.

Ceasar will ever hold a fond spot in our hearts and we rejoice that he was called Home to spend Easter with Our Lord in Heaven.

ON EASTER DAY

This is being sent to you on Easter, our Mother's favorite day; and all the vale is in a sacred reverent mood. After many cold days, the sky is blue above and the sun shines down bright and golden, blessing the quiet day.

You can feel the presence of Our Risen Lord on this Heavenly day; in this beloved land. May the blessing of This Easter Sunday abide with you and your loved ones always.

EDITORIAL

Tuesday will be a big day for candidates seeking political office, and the public that will elect them.

Tuesday is sign-up day for county, state and federal office seekers.

Tuesday also marks an official beginning of the campaign for political office, as all candidates will be off and running, hoping to gain favor with the electorate.

Tuesday is the beginning for that electorate to begin a careful scrutiny of those who seek office.

We have two chances to do this, at the June Primaries and then in the November General Election.

In June, we should select from our political party the person who is most qualified for the job.

In November, we should again select the most qualified person, regardless of political party.

Take the time to find out who really is the best choice for the job. The process begins Tuesday. -DJP

Eye On The Capitol

by Tom Warson, Ph.D.

NEW MEXICO'S LADY LEGISLATORS: PART III
 Representative Mary Thompson. Republican, Dona Ana. First elected in 1980: defeated Democrat Linda Parr by 28 votes. Parr in turn had beaten the incumbent, Bud Hettinga, in the Democrat primary.

Homemaker. Member of the Taxation and Revenue Committee and the Energy and Natural Resources Committee.

Thompson says she ran for office because she was "frustrated" by a lack of responsiveness. "I decided to take a shot at it."

Thompson, Steele, Dominguez, Tucker, Hansen, Linard: Dona Ana definitely has produced a large number of Lady Legislators in recent years. Why?

"We've got a bunch of reasoning voters down here," Thompson says. "They've got to be sold every election." Due to no tradition of unthinking allegiance to political incumbents, "There's more of an opportunity to break in."

She had no problem regarding committee assignments. Energy was "the committee I asked for." Thompson feels a major reason for not being type-cast is her own attitude: "I've made a real point of not being labeled as a female legislator."

Thompson was co-Whip for the House Republicans. She later became Minority Floor Leader. "In our party," she remarked, "a legislator is a legislator."

Among her legislative priorities in 1988, was a proposed constitutional amendment providing for a legislators' retirement program. The leadership, however, concluded "the voter wouldn't understand" her proposal, so it passed another measure that merely caps benefits to $6,000 per year. Thompson believes her version was "actuarially sound" because it had a formula for contributions and benefits.

Any political ambitions? If Congressman Joe Skeen had run against Senator Jeff Bingaman, Thompson might have campaigned for the vacant Skeen seat.

Representative Lynn Tytler. Republican, Bernalillo. First elected in 1982 to a vacant seat. Defeated James Gilman in the primary, and was unopposed in the general election.

Marketing Director. Member of the Education Committee and Voters and Elections Committee.

"Think through your personal motivations," Tytler tells would-be Lady Legislators. Victory on election night means a lot of time later away from home and family.

In her elections, Tytler had no problem receiving endorsements. She "doesn't like putting the arm on people for money." Nevertheless, the dollars have been there for her campaigns.

Like Reps. Pat Baca and Pauline Eisenstadt, Tytler was assigned to Appropriations. Speaker Sanchez "didn't know me," she jokes. Even so, "I don't think being female had anything to do with it." Tytler later served as Vice Chairman of Appropriations, when Gene Samberson became Speaker.

Fiscal matters were her top priority for the first 4 years. While they are still important, she sees her main role now as "carefully scrutinizing bills...with attention to detail." On the House floor, she frequently asks tough questions: "I read the bills extremely carefully" -- as many an unhappy sponsor of legislation has discovered.

As for her own law-making priorities, "I never carried a lot of legislation." She is, however, a major opponent of the tobacco industry, and sponsored the Clean Indoor Air Act and tobacco tax increases.

Tytler is frequently mentioned in political circles as a candidate for everything from U.S. Senate to Lieutenant Governor. "Other people seem to have political ambitions for me...I want to do a good job where I am."

How long that will be depends on the balance of "enjoyment versus hassle." Whenever the scales tip too far toward the latter...

What would she like most to accomplish in public office? Find a "magic potion" to get voters more involved.

"Otherwise, we will get the government we deserve."

What conclusions can be drawn about New Mexico's Lady Legislators?

"I think you'll find," Representative Armijo said, "We're all a little different."

They are indeed very different people, but with a common problem. Legislative power comes with seniority. Senator Donisthorpe is moving up, but 15 men are ahead of her. So are Representatives Thompson and Lambert -- but 18 men were there first.

As Mary Beth King, the Las Vegas Optic staffer, would say: "Anyway, you get the idea."

From 1912 - 1988, there has been a total of 71 Lady Legislators in New Mexico. Only 8 were State Senators.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

So often we search for entertainment outside Ruidoso and, like the story goes, we have it right under our noses here in our own village.

Bravo! Bravo! for the production of Critics' Choice by the Ruidoso Little Theatre under the direction of Sandy Knox. What a wonderful way to spend an evening. Our only question - When can we expect the next production? We will be there.

Sincerely,
 "DUB" WILLIAMS

film industry what Ruidoso and its businesses have to offer. A New Mexico Special Report is being prepared by the Hollywood Reporter to showcase all the fine things we have to offer and the New Mexico Film Commission will use reprints of the Special Report throughout the year for promotional purposes. Here's a chance to support our Village of Ruidoso, our State and its Film Commission, and a chance to get those much needed dollars into our community. Let's not pass it by!

Sincerely,
 LARRY AND LILA
 GOODMAN

DEAR EDITOR:

We wish to voice our appreciation and thanks to the New Mexico Film Commission and particularly its director, Linda Hutchison, for their fine job of making our community aware of its existence and goals, through a special reception held at the Cree Meadows Country Club this past Friday, March 25th. Also Kudos to Dan Kelley for a bountiful buffet of hors d'oeuvres.

The reception, hosted by the Hollywood Reporter and encouraged by the Governor of New Mexico, brought to our attention the fact that the film industry generated $30 million for New Mexico in fiscal year 1986-87 and expects to generate $45 million this fiscal year. That's big bucks! Ruidoso can attract a good portion of this money by simply advertising to the

DEAR EDITOR:
 Through your newspaper, I wish to express my deep appreciation to all of the wonderful people who helped to fight the grass fire successfully, that came so near to my property in San Patricio last Sunday. Trucks came from Hondo, Lincoln, Ruidoso Downs, Ruidoso and men from Glencoe as well. Besides all of the neighbors and friends who turned out to help. There were still 5 trucks on a mesa west of me watching for outbursts caused by the high winds at 10:30 p.m. How thankful we here in the valley are for all they did.

Sincerely,
 MRS. TOM BABERS

WRITE IT AND REAP!

Writing a classified ad that gets results—whether it be for real estate, employment, announcements, transportation, or merchandise—is easy if you follow the guidelines below.

1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!
2. Include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.
3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall tires and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.
4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!
5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative. Run your ad for at least one week. Remember, you can cancel your ad as soon as you get the desired results!
