Village faces court, EID on Grindstone

Village officials will be faced with questions over the Grindstone Canyon Dam this week.

A deadline set by the Environmental Improvement Division (EID) passed Sunday, and a court case involving the dam is set to begin at 9 a.m. Wednesday, May 18, in the Municipal Courts Complex.

Fill operations at the massive reservoir have been blamed for a white substance in Grindstone and Carrizo creeks, as well as in the Rio Ruidoso. The Surface Water Quality Bureau of EID determined recently that water quality is being impaired by the discharge from Grindstone Canyon Dam.

In a letter dated April 29, EID notified the village of water quality standard violations and set a deadline of May 15 to cease.

Fill operations have continued, and village manager Frank Potter responded to the EID letter by asking that agency to visit Ruidoso and offer solutions to the water quality problems.

In a related case, Van A. Brown et. al. claim the dam discharge is greater than the natural inflow, and asked the court to enjoin the village from continuing to discharge more water onto the adjacent property than the amount diverted from the Rio Ruidoso.

Rick and Jane Hall live adjacent to the dam on property they own with Jane Hall's father, Van Brown. They claim the dam discharge has polluted their ponds. District Judge Sandra Grisham ordered the village to pay the defendants $50 a day until the municipality is in compliance with her order.

That case is set for trial Wednesday, with jury selection to begin at 9 a.m. Attorney Richard Hawthorne said his clients have been receiving payment from the village according to the judge's order.

Hawthorne expects the case to be in court for as long as three days.

Opening day winner

Bully Bullion, four-year-old son of Triple Crown winner Special Effort, speeds along the rail to capture the $20,000 Jet Moore Allowance Stake on opening day at Ruidoso Downs. With the victory the stallion, owned by E. Jean Chavers of Colorado, boosted his career earnings to $80,000. Darrell Blevins guided the Shirley Montgomery-trained horse to the finish line. Ruidoso Downs officials reported a bigger crowd and higher handle than that recorded on opening day of last year.

Court: Mitchell can't represent commissioners in dispute; no $ for clerk, sheriff legal fees

by DORIS CHERRY
 News Staff Writer

The ongoing dispute between the Lincoln County sheriff, clerk and commissioners prompted a response last week from District Judge Robert M. Doughty II in the form of a legal opinion.

In the opinion he disqualified county attorney Gary Mitchell from acting as counsel for the commissioners in this case and denied the allocation of county funds for legal representation for the clerk and sheriff.

In the opinion Doughty stated that the issues "strike the very heart of the relationship of elected officials who, by their very election to office are given the public trust, and who, ... must become a part of a cohesive overall institution if the ends of government are to be carried out."

He further wrote that an opinion is useful in "combating trial of public officials or attorneys at law by rumor." He stressed that the court apply the laws to the facts, "not to personalities."

In the ongoing dispute, a motion was filed by the clerk and sheriff's attorney Dan Bryant on March 2 to disqualify Mitchell, a member in good standing of the State Bar of New Mexico, who filed the Applications and Petitions on behalf of the commissioners. Mitchell represents the commissioners due to a legal fee agreement renewed in April 1987.

On March 14, the court heard the two motions, to disqualify Mitchell and allocate funds for legal representation, and the testimony involved. At that time, the court was asked by all counsel to refrain from ruling on the motions pending settlement negotiations. As the recent negotiations were not successful, the court was asked to rule on the motions argued on March 14. Doughty ruled by issuing his opinion.

The opinion stated the authority of the legal fee agreement was not questioned. The disagreement arose over whether there is created, under the legal fee agreement, an attorney-client relationship between Mitchell and the clerk and sheriff. Doughty wrote that, "flowing from that issue is the issue of whether there exists a conflict of interest upon which the Court should disqualify Mitchell from representing the county commissioners."

Doughty's opinion explained that there is a "conflict in evidence" presented on the issue of whether Mitchell ever gave legal advice to the sheriff and clerk. In the testimony given by Mitchell, Clerk Fran Siddens and Sheriff Don Samuels, Mitchell denied giving advice to the clerk and sheriff except during an open meeting of the commission or during an executive session when personnel matters were discussed.

In the opinion, Doughty stated that Siddens testified that Mitchell did give her legal advice on the issue of taking minutes and Samuels testified that Mitchell gave him legal advice on personnel matters, both issues which were the subject of litigation in the district court.

Doughty stated that "things are not so easy." He further wrote that there was no question Mitchell discussed personnel matters with Samuels, and the matter of taking minutes with Siddens. "The issue here is the effect of rendering such advice."

The opinion stated that Mitchell "voluntarily placed himself in a position of mediating disputes between the Board of County Commissioners and the Clerk and the Sheriff." The opinion quoted a ruling on a case in San Diego, California, where the attorney may act as an adviser, explaining the legal options to the clients, but the attorney must preclude himself from representing either client if the matter results in litigation.

Doughty wrote that cases involving a disqualification of counsel for prior representation may "indeed be the sharing of confidential information between attorney and client."

To avoid problems, Doughty wrote, many courts have developed the "substantial relationship test." The test, based on a 1980 Supreme Court case, requires disqualification "where an attorney represents a party in a matter in which the adverse party is that attorney's former client...[and] the subject matter of the two representations are 'substantially related.'"

Doughty wrote that "the Court finds that ... Mitchell, in his capacity as the contract County Attorney, perhaps in a spirit of compromising disputes, represented the County Clerk and the Sheriff, by counselling them and giving them advice on the very issues that are the subject matter of the Applications and Petitions for Writs of Mandamus. Under the substantial relationships test, ... Mitchell is disqualified from acting as Counsel for the Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County in the within causes."

Siddens and Samuels also filed a motion on March 2 to seek a finding by the court whether the county is duty bound to provide legal representation to the clerk and sheriff and to have the county pay for the representation.

Doughty cited an opinion filed in 1959 by Frank Zinn, who was the New Mexico Attorney General at that time. Zinn stated that the district attorney (DA) is not authorized to represent a county sheriff in a civil action arising out of the performance of his duties. The DA only has the duty to advise county officials. Judge Doughty stated that since there is no statutory authority for the county to provide legal representation to any other county official (other than the commissioners), there can be "no appropriation to the respondents (sheriff and clerk)."

Judge Doughty concluded his opinion with the statement that an order be prepared "denying the Motion for Stay and for Allocation of Funds" for Siddens and Samuels.

The opinion directed Bryant to request a setting on the county clerk's motion for Enforcement of Settlement Agreement within a time set by the court's rules.

Today is last chance for say on zoning ordinance

by FRANKIE JARRELL
 News Staff Writer

Today's public hearing could be the last in a long series over a proposed comprehensive plan and zoning ordinance for the Village of Ruidoso.

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) is expected to put final touches to the plan, ordinance and maps during a regular meeting at 2 p.m. today (Monday), May 16, in council chambers of Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center.

Planning administrator Cleatus Richards said P&Z has no regular agenda items for the regular meeting, but will spend the time in a final review of the planning documents that have been in the works since 1985. P&Z has just finished a long series of hearings, and Richards will present an action summary Monday with changes the commission may want to consider in response to citizens' protests.

"It's a very brief summary," said Richards. The Planning Department recently notified every property owner of the upcoming zoning ordinance. The response was so great that three to five village employees spent more than a week answering questions and providing information to property owners.

"We addressed all responses, both legal protests and letters and comments," he added.

P&Z then conducted its series of hearings, and will now act on the proposals before sending them on for council action.

"We're trying to bring back zoning to be in conformance with the way the town has developed," said Richards, who joined village staff when the whole process was well under way. He said the main problem encountered was an excessive amount of commercial property for a village this size.

"We found many well-established residential subdivisions that were zoned commercial," said Richards. Even after the zoning map is modified to conform with development and use, the village will still have enough commercial to

Bartlett trial ends in mistrial

After three days of hearing testimony and eight hours of jury deliberation, the case of New Mexico versus Boyd Bartlett ended in a mistrial Thursday, at the district court in Carrizozo.

Assistant District Attorney Scott Key filed an order of mistrial and asked the court for an immediate setting of a new jury trial. The court will have up to six months to determine when the case goes back to trial, Key said.

Bartlett was arraigned and charged with the first degree charge of criminal sexual penetration September 1, 1987, in Ruidoso. After arraignment Bartlett was released on a property bond and is currently out on this bond, stated Key.

Book business

Christina Lawrence is shown shopping at the annual books sale at the Ruidoso Public Library. The Friends of the Library sponsors the sale as a fund raiser for library needs. The sale netted over $600 this year. Librarian Mary Lou Gooch said a large number of books were left from the sale, and are still available at the library at $5 for a grocery sack full.

Workshop topic: risk mgmt.

by FRANKIE JARRELL
News Staff Writer

Risk management, an issue of major concern for all levels of government, was the topic for a workshop Tuesday at Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center.

Village officials, division and department heads heard from Tom Raborn, risk management consultant, over laws impacting municipal liability. Raborn has been working for the last year and a half to maximize the village's protection and cut insurance costs.

Last September, when Raborn began his contract, the village had 20 separate insurance policies. He said the number of policies has been reduced to just three, and the new coverage has resulted in a savings of over $31,000 for the fiscal year. Raborn said he hopes to increase the savings to $50,000 next year.

He said six statutes impact government liability, with the three major laws including the New Mexico Tort Claims Act, a public building statute and the state procurement code.

Under Chapter 41 of the Tort Claims Act, limits have been established over how much the injured can recover from a public entity with the maximum for one accident set at a half million dollars, according to Raborn. He said in such cases, public employees and elected officials have some protection, with the governing body required to supply an attorney and pay the settlement.

Throughout his presentation, Raborn stressed that liability is lessened when employees and elected officials are operating within the normal scope of duty.

Areas of vulnerability for a municipality are the normal situations where people could get hurt doing their jobs.

While there are 14 areas where immunity has been specifically waived, Raborn said public officials are covered from errors of omission that could cause a money loss.

"The tort claim act puts the responsibility on the corporate entity rather than councillors," said Raborn. He said if a case ends up in federal, rather than state court, New Mexico law doesn't apply.

Councillor Al Junge questioned Raborn over the vulnerability of the personal resources of people who hold public office, and Raborn assured him the liability is with the city, not the elected officials.

"I would feel comfortable in your position that I'm adequately protected," said Raborn.

"The administration could not be held at fault if they build the wrong kind of dam and it bursts?" asked Junge. "Say that thing craters, is the present council liable?" he asked.

"The private organization that did the design work, I think, would be more vulnerable," said Raborn.

In discussions over civil rights, Potter said officials and employees get into trouble when they act out of the normal scope of duties.

"The minute you step out of the sandbox, that's when we get nailed," cautioned Potter. "We have to be real careful what we say to people... how we treat people," added Potter, describing the village's commitment to its own personal rules and regulations.

"If we'll stick to our normal scope of duties we're fine and dandy," reiterated Potter.

last for 20 years, according to Richards.

Although attendance at the many hours of P&Z hearings has been sparse, the meeting where Upper Canyon zoning was discussed drew a large number of people. Richards said Upper Canyon residents opposed more commercial zoning in that area.

When P&Z puts its stamp of approval on the package, it will include the comprehensive plan; a transportation plan; the airport land master plan; the zoning code and map; and sign ordinance, flood control and subdivision ordinances. Richards expects to have the zoning materials on the council agenda on May 31, when the village governing body will schedule its public hearing.

Trustees OK agreement on paving project

The Ruidoso Downs Trustees approved an agreement with an engineering firm for the upcoming paving project in the village, during their meeting May 9.

The firm of Molzen-Corbin & Associates will handle the engineering of the street paving planned for this summer in Ruidoso Downs. Money for the project, to be obtained through the sale of bonds, is expected to be available by May 26.

Also during the meeting, the trustees:

—Heard Mayor J.C. "Jake" Harris proclaim May 8-14 as Municipal Clerk's Week, and recognize Downs Clerk Jean Stillman for her outstanding dedication and contributions. It was learned that Stillman will be leaving her post in a few weeks.

—Approved the hiring of Lee Ann Weibrecht as utility clerk/bookkeeper. At an earlier meeting, trustees approved the hiring of Robin Surguy, also as a utility clerk/bookkeeper, and Billy Page as a temporary water laborer.

—Conducted a discussion of the village park and initial construction of a pavilion at the park. Baseball fields will be moved to the west side of the park. Tennis courts and basketball facilities also will stay.

—Approved an amendment to the minutes of the previous meeting to add the name of an employee who was terminated.

—Thanked all involved for their help in the recent clean-up campaign.

—Agreed to send a village worker to check the water line of a resident who attended the meeting, seeking to have a large water bill, caused by an undetected leak, adjusted.

Fund set up for Chavez investigation

An account has been set up at Ruidoso State Bank to raise money to fund the investigation of the murder of Katina Chavez.

The Katina Chavez Investigation Account is number 446637 at the bank.

Chavez was found dead in late February near her San Patricio home. The Lincoln County Sheriff's Office arrested Matt Surratt in connection with the case. Surratt is being held in the Otero County Jail awaiting a hearing.

Dash For Speed leads Derby trials

by JON SLOTNICK
Ruidoso Downs Race Track

Dash For Speed, last year's Rainbow Futurity champion, posted the fastest time of Sunday's nine Kansas Derby Trial races run at Ruidoso Downs. More than 6,800 fans attended the mountain track's opening weekend races, wagering a two-day total of $675,000. Both the attendance and betting figures surpassed last year's opening weekend marks.

A field of 10 qualifiers is now set to compete in the $300,000 Grade I Kansas Derby, scheduled for May 29.

Dash For Speed, a 3-year-old Dash For Cash filly owned by Blakeman Farms and Thomas H. Bradbury of Ft. Worth, Texas, went wire-to-wire in 19.825 seconds. It was her fifth career victory in eight tries. She finished third in her other three starts. Trainer Larry Keiter sent Dash For Speed postward with pilot Steve Fuller on board. The win, worth $1,020, boosted her lifetime earnings to over $290,000.

The second-fastest qualifying time of the day belonged to Mame Smashed, a filly by Easily Smashed.

Mame Smashed won her Derby Trial division in 19.920 seconds, raising her career winnings to $52,000. Jockey Steve Fuller guided the speedster down the 400-yard straightaway for his second Trial win of the afternoon.

Mame Smashed is owned by Jayne L. Clark of Aubrey, Texas, and trained by Randall R. Sanders.

It was an impressive day for the sons and daughters of World Champion Dash For Cash. They won four of the nine Derby Trial races and will make up half of the Kansas Derby field. In addition to Dash For Speed, the super-sire's victorious offspring included Wicked Dash (20.035), Meddlin Dash (20.110), and Dashing Love (20.130). Dash S Diamond, another Dash For Cash product, qualified for the Derby with a second-place finish to Dashing Love in a time of 20.130.

Blane Schvaneveldt, quarter horse racing's all-time winning trainer, saddled Derby qualifier Shawne Music Man, who won the sixth race in 20.165 seconds. Rounding out the field of Derby qualifiers are Dance Hall Maskeo (20.005), Available Now (20.030), and Spring Action (20.100). Rider Jacky Martin and trainer Jack Brooks teamed up to win two Derby Trial divisions with Spring Action and Dashing Love.

Racing resumes at the mountain oval Friday, May 20, when freshmen quarter horses compete in the Kansas Futurity Trials. The Trials continue on May 21.

Bully Bullion tops field in Jet Moore

Ruidoso Downs Race Track

An opening day crowd of 3,539 wagered $375,305 for the day and watched 5-1 shot Bully Bullion pull off an upset in Ruidoso Downs' feature event, the Jet Moore Allowance Stake. The 4-year-old stallion sped down the straightaway to finish in front of longshot Doctor Bright, and heavy favorite Will Be Easy. The daily handle represented a $10,000 increase over 1987.

Bully Bullion, son of 1981 Triple Crown winner Special Effort, took advantage of an alert start, then battled three other contenders down the lane to finish a neck in front.

The Dreamer

by Dan Storm

A BELOVED TROUBADOUR REACHES ONE HUNDRED

Early in the morning of May eleven, Irving Berlin was awakened by the voices of his friends and neighbors outside his window, serenading him by singing the songs dear to the heart of Americans — composed by the beloved troubadour himself — wishing his a happy one hundredth birthday.

Just as Irving's songs touched the hearts of all Americans, we in turn respond in fond gratefulness to the troubadour himself. In spirit we were all there as his friends and neighbors sang: "I'm dreaming of a White Christmas," "The Easter Parade," "God Bless American" and "Always."

Irving began work as a signing waiter at the age of fourteen to help his folks make a living. Here he began making up songs of his own, both words and music. His first hit was "Alexander's Ragtime Band" composed in 1911. As a very small child I remember our Father singing this song to the rest of us, while playing on the small pump organ which went with us on all our travels.

Irving's gift for sending a responsive chord of happiness strumming through our hearts sprang from his devout nature, his deep patriotism, and his compassion for all mankind. He felt deep in his heart the hopes, dreams, yearnings, the values, the faith — and all that we cherish.

The birthday serenade for Irving on the eleventh of May reminds me of a Mexican custom of great charm.

On your birthday a group of musicians and singers gather under your window just at the break of day and play and sing, "Las Mananitas De San Juan" (The Daybreak serenade of Saint John).

ENDURING QUALITY OF BERLIN'S SONGS

Springing as they do from the wholesome, uplifting and hopeful elements in our lives, Irving's songs, most of all keep their charm through the years. They will remain treasures always.

Therefore, let us go over the words of one of his most beloved and enduring songs.

ALWAYS

"I'll be loving you always
With a love that's true Always.
When the things you've planned
Need a helping hand,
I will understand, Always.
Skies may not be fair always.
That's when I'll be there, always.
Not for just an hour
Not for just a day,
Not for just a year,
But Always."

WILD BLOSSOMS SWEETEN THE AIR

This is being sent to you on May the fourteenth in early afternoon. There is a gentle east wind carrying a breath of moisture all through the vale. The temperature is eighty-six. The balmy breeze is heavy with the aroma of the wild blooms which have come out to cheer the world now that the orchard blossoms have had their turn and gone on to beginning to make fruit.

The Algerita is a mass of golden blooms sending a slight taste of honey over hill and dale. This aroma is blended with the sweetness of the wild grape blossom, and the vanilla-like fragrance of a small four-petaled flower, which covers a bush about head high with a shower of glistening snow white. I have forgotten the real name of this flower but I call it the "Sacred Flower" because it is formed like a small cross.

The wild blooms have made this day full of the Heavenly sweetness of May. Mother Earth is saying a prayer of thanks to Our Good Lord.

Manager Potter invited to New Mexico First meeting

Village manager Frank Potter has been invited to participate in New Mexico First's second town hall meeting May 15-18, at Angel Fire.

"Water: Lifeblood of New Mexico," is the topic for the meeting of 125 prominent New Mexicans. Attendance is by invitation only and participants must attend all four days.

The first New Mexico First meeting was conducted at the Inn of the Mountain Gods and dealt with economic development. United States senators Jeff Bingaman and Pete Domenici both spoke during that meeting.

The second meeting will include five discussion panels. According to the invitation letter, participants are expected to be vocal in developing a series of conclusions and recommendations concerning water in New Mexico.

A background report prepared by the Water Resources Research Institute at New Mexico State University was sent as background material.

Potter, who has a particular interest in water and water issues, also serves on the Water Conference Advisory Committee for the Water Resources Research Institute. That group is assessing state water problems, and is in the process of preparing a five-year plan.

Although Potter was looking forward to taking part in the discussions over water, a water case involving the Village of Ruidoso may keep him home. A case brought by property owners who own land adjacent to the Grindstone Canyon Dam is set for trial on Wednesday.

Republicans gather for First Monday

Nearly 40 Republicans and guests gathered last week for "First Monday" at the Incredible Restaurant in Alto.

"Our purpose is just to get to know one another and enjoy a good dinner," said Republican County Chairman Rhonda Johnston. "Our emphasis is on fellowship instead of a formal meeting," she told the group.

Following dinner, Johnston reported on the success of the recent Leadership Conference held locally. "Several candidates and others attended the all-day session. They felt the experience was invaluable for their campaign," Johnston said.

In lieu of a program, Johnston introduced those candidates present running in the Republican primary.

Next First Monday will be June 6 at an area restaurant to be announced later.

Boy and girl track teams finish in top 10 at state

by CHUCK JARRELL
Special to The News

The Ruidoso Warrior track teams performed well in Saturday's state track meet, placing in the top 10.

The Warrior boys finished ninth, while the girls came in 10th in the 26-team competition. Bloomfield took first in the boys, and Lovington grabbed top honors in the girls' events.

Senior Rusty Shelton led the Warriors, placing second in the 300 meter hurdles, in just 40.68.

Shelton also took third in the 110 high hurdles with a time of 15.23. Javelin thrower Todd Morris turned in a 159'11" performance to finish fifth.

Top finishers for the girls were sophomore Dorley Patton, in the 300 meter hurdles, and the 1600 meter relay team.

Patton placed third in her event, in a time of 49.29. 1600 meter relayers Jennifer Parker, Tiffany Snodgrass, Trina Martin, and Shala Gosdin also took third place, in 4:15.78.

Fifth place finishers were Ardena Comanche, in the 3200 meter run, and Shala Gosdin, in the 400 meter event. Comanche's time was 13:20, Gosdin's was 60.27.

Ruidoso Coach Ronny Maskew praised both squads, saying, "We think the kids did an excellent job," and, "We have a bright future, and we are looking forward to next year."

The Ruidoso girl's track team, district 3-AAA champions, will have all but four team members returning next year.

Netter Warlick is fourth in state

by CHUCK JARRELL
Special to The News

Ruidoso High School junior Marnie Warlick finished fourth in the state tennis championships this weekend.

Warlick dropped Sandra

Benavidez in the opening round of play Friday at Albuquerque Academy, 6-2, 6-0.

Warlick fell in the semi-final round to Ilyse Ball, the eventual AAA champion. Ball, an Albuquerque Academy student, edged Warlick, 6-4, 6-1.

In the battle for third place, Warlick played well, but couldn't overcome Deming's Jennifer Diaz, and fell, 6-2, 6-1.

Marnie will return to the Warrior tennis program next year to defend her district title, and to bid for the state championship.

EDITORIAL

In Midtown, in the summer, caution is the key word.

The busy business area of Ruidoso becomes a favorite of pedestrian shoppers as spring turns to summer. Automobiles, too, become more numerous. Being cautious in the midst of this meeting of motorist and pedestrian is essential in avoiding accidents.

Midtown is marked on each end by large, flashing signs warning of heavy pedestrian use. Sudderth Drive is crossed by five crosswalks in Midtown, and all are clearly marked.

So motorists, if alert, will know where to expect foot traffic.

Pedestrians, too, have a responsibility to safety in Midtown. By using the crosswalks, they'll help keep an orderly flow of man and machine in Midtown.

All the precautions for a safe summer in Midtown are there. The rest is up to us. Please be cautious this summer in Midtown.-DJP

Eye On The Capitol

by Tom Warson, Ph.D.

HOT PRIMARIES: THE NUMBER ONE TARGET

Imagine you are the Republican Party. Your candidate knocks off a Democratic State Senator. Boy, are you thrilled. Your Republican goes to Santa Fe.

Then comes a slight problem. Your Republican senator switches to a Democrat.

Boy, are you thrilled. Senate District 40 in Otero is the number 1 target. That's the word I get out of the Republican Party."

So says Senator Bill Vandergriff. He's the Republican who changed parties.

Vandergriff, it seems, would rather switch, than fight. He has two opponents in the June 7 Democratic primary. The winner will face Republican Maurice Hobson in the November general election.

John Mobbs also thinks the Republicans are coming.

"Bill has basically a confrontational-type nature," Mobbs says. "He's alienated people, probably crippled himself."

Mobbs is a certified public accountant. His degree is from the University of Texas at El Paso.

This is his "first time to seek office...[But] I've been on the edge of politics for some time." One campaign he assisted with fund raising: Aubrey Dunn's gubernatorial effort in 1982.

Why is Mobbs running?

"Otero has always furnished strong leaders to the legislature. Recently, that changed. "We fell down the line because of the people we sent [to Santa Fe]." Example: Otero is 10th in population, 31st in highway funding in the highway department's 5-year plan.

Mobbs thinks he can improve things. "Given my background in financing, in a couple of years I can be as knowledgeable as anybody on state finances."

Not surprisingly, his first choice of committee assignments: the Senate Finance Committee.

What about the senate leadership?

"It's my intention to stick with the Democratic leadership...[but] sometimes I've got to look at my district."

"Otero County is being short-changed in Santa Fe."

S. Thomas Overstreet is annoyed. "To me, Senate District 40 is a most key position...Aubrey Dunn held it for a number of years."

Dunn was the powerful Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. "He got projects and funds for Otero."

Overstreet is a lawyer and a certified public accountant. He has been active in the Otero County Democratic Party, serving in various positions from Precinct Chairman to County Democratic Party Chairman.

Over a decade ago, Overstreet was appointed to the Governor's Organized Crime Prevention Commission. He still holds the position today.

Along with crime, Overstreet's main concerns are jobs and education. "The local economy is heavily dependent on federal projects which are undergoing federal deficit cutbacks. The upshot: unemployment has risen remarkably."

"There are some things more important than a job," Overstreet says, "but the list is very short."

What's the answer? "Otero needs to diversify, to develop its retirement and tourism facilities."

Overstreet states he "very definitely" would like to be a member of the Senate Finance Committee. "With my CPA background, I think I could contribute to that committee."

"I think they just don't know the district."

Bill Vandergriff was commenting on Republican targeting of his senate seat. "They're going to put a lot of money in here."

A contract on him? Vandergriff doesn't sound worried. He is a retired contract administrator.

Vandergriff thinks "the Republicans saw me win in 1984, and figured they could do it now. But I won in a district I wasn't supposed to win. I won it with a heavy Democratic vote, and I probably still have it."

Vandergriff says he notified Republican senate leaders of his impending change. They put the heat on. But Vandergriff says he doesn't mind. "If you can't have fun at it, why be there?"

His legislative accomplishments: *1986: the Fund for Battered and Abused Children.

*1987: an age of consent change from 13 to 16. "That was the Dear Abby" bill. She was a big help in passing it."

*1988: the Dena Lynn Gore bill, to keep persons convicted of violent crimes from being released, pending appeal.

Vandergriff is preparing a bill to give criminal victims their day in court. Other states, he says, already have such a measure.

The Democratic candidates don't regard Maurice Hobson as a lightweight. Rather, they view him as a mini-bantam weight. That's especially bad for a sport in which there's no mini-bantam weight class.

Mobbs says Hobson "has never been a leader in the legislature." All the House Representatives in the Class of 1971 have held important committee chairmanships, except Hobson.

What about Hobson's membership on the House Appropriations and Finance Committee? "They keep him there because he's ineffective."

Vandergriff noted the same lack of chairmanships. He also remarked that many voters may "feel betrayed" by Hobson's sudden leap from the house into a senate race: "He threw 17 years of seniority down the drain."

The rumor in the Capitol is that Governor Carruthers will make one, if not more, journeys to Otero to help Hobson.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

An Open Letter to Governor Carruthers:

Your recent threatening remarks concerning the closing of Ruidoso Downs Race Track were irresponsible, inappropriate and offensive to me as a citizen and business person in the Ruidoso community.

I concur with your efforts to improve the quality of horse racing in New Mexico. Many others in this community and in this state are united in this common effort.

However, your verbal threats to the economy of this community and to the hard-working citizens of Ruidoso require a public apology. You and I are already aware of Ruidoso's relationship to the poor economy that exists in parts of the Southwest. To hear the Governor of the State further contribute to this negative situation is additionally discouraging.

Governor Carruthers, you stressed improved relations between state government and the business sector in your campaign. You stressed the need to improve the image of New Mexico to outside investors and business people nationwide. However, threatening actions to close the race track at Ruidoso Downs or to close any form of private enterprise in this state reflects a lack of cooperation between state government and the New Mexico business community.

The racing industry provides jobs, tax money and lots of enjoyment for all those entities involved. People from Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Florida, Arizona, California and many other states contribute to the Ruidoso economy and to the economy of New Mexico as well.

Please help ensure the future of all these concerned parties by getting your "Racing Act" together, admit your mistakes and get on with the business of "Business Better Than Usual" in New Mexico.

Sincerely,
S.M. "MAC" McDOUGAL

DEAR EDITOR:

Both my grandsons were born in the Lincoln County Medical Center, but I have never had to use the hospital myself, until recently. And, I just wish to express my deepest appreciation and most sincere thanks to Dr. Lance Kirkegaard and all the nurses, and hospital staff, and emergency room personnel.

I am glad we have the Lincoln County Medical Center.

Sincerely,
SHERRY ENSOR

DEAR EDITOR:

This concerns the current race for County Assessor. It should convince the Republicans of Lincoln County to elect Joe Wheatley on June 7th. (Unfortunately, we Democrats will not have a vote.)

Mr. Wheatley last summer came to the Sherwood Forest, our rental properties in the Upper Canyon, to do an appraisal update. He spent considerable time and effort with us because he soon discovered that something was terribly wrong. And was it ever!

Even though he was not at fault, Mr. Wheatley was awfully embarrassed for his own office, and we were mad at ourselves for not giving more attention to our tax bills over the years. We, probably like most property taxpayers, had incorrectly assumed that the Assessor's Office had accurate appraisals that were up-to-date. But fifteen years had elapsed, according to the official records!

We have since learned that many similar instances have come to light, not to mention such things as assessments of buildings that had been torn down years ago.

We have good reason to believe that our "mess" is just one of many that persuaded Mr. Wheatley to run for Assessor. He cared, and he didn't ask what our party affiliation was. He knew we were taxpayers being wronged, so he took care of it.

As his campaign card reads, "after thirty years, it's time for a change." To that we add "Amen."

Lincoln County Republicans, if you have not yet met and talked with Mr. Wheatley, carefully examine the information on the back of his campaign card. We Democrats can at least spread the word and encourage all Republicans to vote for him on June 7th.

L.C. "COWBOY" STOKES

DEAR EDITOR:

You were an important part in making the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels For Life Bike-a-Thon a success. And though the campaign has ended, our appreciation of your efforts has not gone unnoticed.

We're proud of the thirteen riders, volunteers and the citizens of Ruidoso. Thanks to you and to them, we raised $1,362.15.

Because of the universal objectives of research and treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, be assured the money benefits children all over the world.

Knowing the people in our community are concerned enough to take quick action for children who need their assistance is heartwarming. You surely must take pride in helping maintain that humanitarian spark. On behalf of the children of St. Jude Hospital, THANK YOU!

Sincerely,
GARY M. LYNCH
Coordinator

DEAR EDITOR:

I am writing this letter on behalf of a number of athletes who participated in athletics before the change over in coaches and changes in administration that occurred after 1983.

We find the statement that Dr. Bill Harrison made during the board meeting on the tenth day of May, 1988, very offensive and untrue. Throughout the years we devoted to athletics and other school activities, the use of drugs, alcohol, and tobacco was never condoned by us, our coaches or their staff. Especially since the organization of FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) was very strong during this time period. We find it particularly offensive when the gentleman who made this statement was not a member of the community through the greatest period of time before the coaching changes took over.

We feel that fingers shouldn't be pointed at athletes and coaches of the past because of the problems that have developed within the school system, though the political battle that is taking place at this time.

Sincerely,
CLAUDIA BRANUM

DEAR EDITOR:
The family of Hank Evaro Jr. would like to express our thanks to the wonderful people of Ruidoso for your caring extra efforts to try and make our troubled time a little more bearable. You've all been terrific. Thanks so much.

Sincerely,
