FBI investigates brutal slaying

by AL STUBBS
Ruidoso News Business Editor
Eight FBI agents are working daily to try and determine who is responsible for the brutal death of a nine-year-old boy, Kelvin Ray Davis, of Pena Canyon, on the Mes-calero Apache Indian Reservation.

"The investigation is continuing," FBI agent Frank S. Qujada, supervisor, told The Ruidoso News. He said that is all he can say at this time.
The body of the youth was discovered behind his home, about 200 yards away, in a wooded area, Saturday morning by a search team after the boy was reported missing by his parents.

Although reports have been going around that the body had several stab wounds, The News

Uncle Sam calls Rethmel

Deputy Sheriff and Ruidoso Downs Village Trustee James D. "Jim" Rethmel got the call Sunday — Tuesday he was on his way to active military service.

Rethmel will report first at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, and, later, at Fort Sill, Oklahoma where he will be an artillery instructor.

Rethmel was in the reserves and will be assigned to the 4153rd Training School and later into a field artillery training brigade at Fort Sill.

Ruidoso Downs Mayor Bonnie Addy announced at a regular meeting of trustees, Monday night, that Rethmel has been called to active duty.

He was honored at a reception following the regular trustee meeting. The sheriff's office personnel had said "goodbye" at a luncheon affair earlier Tuesday.

Rethmel said he isn't resigning but is on leave as a trustee.

He said, however, he will keep his options open if his length of active service becomes prolonged.

"Everything I see is in the right direction," Rethmel told his fellow trustees Monday night.

Progress, he said, "takes time, takes money and it takes cooperation."

Rethmel has been a deputy sheriff in Lincoln County for three years. He was in law enforcement in Kansas before moving to Lincoln County.

His wife, an education major at Eastern New Mexico University, will continue her studies there. Their son, Josh, will join his mother in Portales "during the interim."

"I will keep in contact," Rethmel told fellows trustees, Monday night.

"We had a full board for two meetings," Mayor

JIM RETHMEL

Andy said.
She had appointed Karen Stevens to the board of trustees earlier in January.
The board still is "full," but participating will be long distance as while for Deputy Sheriff Jim Rethmel.

Village manager resigns

Claiming he is a victim of "burnout," Ruidoso's village manager turned in his resignation and prepared to head back home to Texas.

Charles Norwood had only been in his Ruidoso job for seven months, but in that short time he has developed a loyal following of the village staff and his last day will be Friday, February 8.

He was very much involved with working on the common area of the new civic events center and hotel.

He was also a member of the first Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority.

One of Norwood's first acts as village manager was to implement cutbacks on overtime and comp time. In order to instill a higher morale, he was instrumental in forming the Employee of the Month.

Norwood became involved in the drainage study for the golf course for flood control. Recently he was working toward cutting down the infiltration of waste water.

Norwood settled in a city called Wylie, Texas, last year and that is where he's going back.

After 29 years of assisting councils, keeping peace between departments and showing calm in the heat of battle, Norwood said he just couldn't give the 100 percent anymore and he thought a rest from the burnout would be in the best interests for everyone.

Deputy manager Leon Eggleston will serve as Norwood's replacement until a new village manager is found.

Fort Stanton Hospital's future is up in the air

State officials, reacting to a court decision mandating changes at Fort Stanton Hospital and Training Center, is discussing the future of the Lincoln County facility. Several changes are being proposed, including a plan to move 24 developmentally disabled clients out into some community-based program. Whatever happens, changes will have a major impact on the county since Fort Stanton employs 230 people.

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Fort Stanton is scheduled to be phased out over the next two years as a treatment center for developmentally disabled, but Administrator Ervin Aldaz is optimistic that the facility will survive in another health service designation.

The change means some jobs will be phased out as well, but the state hopes to keep the impact at a minimum, he said.

"It's much too early to say, but at least two to three uses have been mentioned," Aldaz said Tuesday. State officials have suggested using Fort Stanton as a nursing home for geriatric patients with behavioral problems, as an alcoholism treatment center and as a correction unit for mentally retarded offenders, he said.

Earlier this week, Aldaz met with members of the State Senate Finance Committee, Health and Environment Secretary Dennis Boyd and with area legislators to discuss the future of the facility in the aftermath of a federal court decision handed down in December.

U.S. District Judge James A. Parker directed Fort

Stanton and Los Lunas training centers to transfer a portion of their developmentally disabled clients to community programs and to take other corrective action.

Although the state chose not to appeal the decision, an appeal was filed Monday by the Families of Fort Stanton and Los Lunas, who were interveners in the suit and represent the clients of the two institutions.

Kent Winchester, the Albuquerque attorney handling the appeal for the families, said he has seven days to file information with the court detailing the exact sections of the decision under appeal.

"Until I finish discussions with my clients, I can't release any specifics," Winchester said. "But obviously, we aren't appealing the whole case."

Ima Cooper, chairman of the Fort Stanton group, said she still is optimistic the institution will continue to serve her son and other developmentally disabled clients.

"The same people have been further with it (attempts to close Fort Stanton) several times before and it didn't happen," she said.

Health department officials are proposing that the legislature create a task force to come up with alternate uses that would allow as many employees as possible to remain at Fort Stanton, Aldaz said. That would minimize the economic and emotional impact on the community.

"I have to admit that I'm very disappointed (about phasing out), because I know the level of care that our clients have received," Aldaz said. "Our main concern is the clients' welfare. But many of the employees are third or fourth generations there. This is their home, it's more than a job."

Aldaz was scheduled to leave Santa Fe by mid-week and he back at Fort Stanton to talk to his employees. "I want to discuss possible options for them. I am optimistic that something can be developed in a health services area," he said.

As clients are transferred out of Fort Stanton to community-based programs or elsewhere, staff reductions will have to occur, he said.

"But we hope to maintain the professionals that we have worked so hard to get," he said. That way the hospital also can hang onto its certification as the number of clients goes down and until the state comes up with some other alternative, he said.

Although a health-related use is the first choice to allow most of the staff to be incorporated, Aldaz said, "If there is no need, the state also will look at anything that could provide X number of jobs."

Fort Stanton now employs about 230 people.

Dan Balduini, public relations officer for the state health department, said, "The only thing I can tell you is that the bottom line consideration is the welfare of the clients. What Secretary Boyd was telling the Senate Finance Committee is that Fort Stanton will be phased out as an institution for the developmentally disabled, not that the center is totally closing."

Aldaz said the Fort Stanton staff has a difficult job ahead.

"But that's nothing new," he said. "We've been under a microscope so long. State officials have complimented the job that has been done by our employees, but it's a philosophical thing nationwide, large institutions are being phased out."

The state decided last Friday not to appeal the decision since it agreed with the basic philosophy favoring community-based options.

"We are trying to plan now (on the transfer of clients) and it's difficult with most community programs at capacity," Aldaz said. "All the agencies involved were talking (Tuesday) about where they could come up with slots."

The first 24 clients to be moved will be the mild or moderately retarded, he said. After a transfer plan is approved, the institution will have 200 days to implement the plan.

"We will have 127 clients left and will then start working on each client individually," Aldaz said.

The last to leave Fort Stanton will be those who are severely and profoundly retarded, and those who have mental health psychoses in addition to disability, he said. It may be that those clients will be moved to Los Lunas, if the decision is to keep that hospital open.

Aldaz said he would encourage residents of the area to call their state legislators and let them know their concerns about the future of the Fort Stanton facility.

Board candidates pinpoint problems and strengths of the Ruidoso Schools

Ruidoso School District voters will select three school board members and decide the fate of a mill levy to fund a branch college here on Tuesday, February 5. Candidates for the three school board positions spoke Tuesday during a forum.

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Ten candidates for the Ruidoso School Board tried Monday to pack their education philosophies into five minutes at the microphone.

About 75 people, many teachers or members of the candidates' families, sat at high school cafeteria tables during the forum sponsored by the Ruidoso Education Association and the White Mountain Intermediate School Parent Council.

The candidates were asked by monitor Mickey McGuire to summarize their qualifications for the board.

POSITION ONE

DENNIS R. LOVERIN said his commitment to the Ruidoso school system is deep and he is willing to spend his time getting involved in the education of the community's children. As a real estate broker, he will be able to set his own schedule to accomplish what needs to be done, he said.

"I felt I needed some time in the trenches," when he decided to run for office, Loverin said. He visited special education classes at the elementary level. He was offended at the high school to see a student keep his cap on during the pledge of allegiance.

If students lack respect for the flag how can they respect the educational process, Loverin said.

With an estimated 50 percent or more of the students in Ruidoso coming from single-parent families, Loverin said the board must be sensitive to special needs, including counseling on teenage suicide.

"Newsweek magazine calls the upcoming years the Age of Anxiety because we don't know what to expect," he said. "I want what is best for the students, but we need to maintain balance in the way money is allocated."

JEFF CHAPMAN, a real estate agent, said he decided to run because decisions by the school board affect the future of the community.

"I have no ax to grind or hidden agenda," Chapman said. "I think it's an excellent system, but we need to continue to improve, not step backward."

Elected officials should be accountable for their decisions, he said.

"I would be the first to admit when I'm wrong," Chapman said. "The other board members will always know where I stand on an issue. But I will come to the board ready to listen."

He said board members have an obligation to spend tax money wisely and prudently, to provide the best possible education for children and, as the largest single, year-around employer in the village, to provide the best possible wages and working conditions for employees.

The war in Iraq has proven the value of high technology, Chapman said.

LEE BUCHHAGEN said he has donated many hours to the school system serving on the White Mountain Intermediate Parents Advisory Council, the committee for drug free schools and coaching soccer.

His successes in operating several businesses in Ruidoso, which he listed as a Sears catalog outlet, a Southwest design manufacturing operation and a sweeping/snow shoveling service, testify to his fiscal qualifications, Buchhagen said.

"I have the business expertise to handle future financial problems," he said.

"The election is of the utmost importance to the children and the taxpayers, because it will directly affect them both," he said. "And it will impact the business and economic climates as well."

Buchhagen said he would like to see better coordination among teachers, students, the

Ruidoso Council meeting is knee-deep in concrete

When the Ruidoso Village Council met in regular session Tuesday, much of the meeting was spent hearing from business people protesting plans to install a rock crusher for use by the Street Department.

by CHUCK STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Village Council was blistered by area concrete interests for trying to pave its way into private enterprise.

The council, in attempting to seek a permit for a screen and a future rock crusher, drew harsh criticism from four area businessmen who said the council should stay out of concrete.

Village manager Charles Norwood was asked by the council to explain the village's position.

Norwood said that in budget deliberations last spring, it was decided that it might be an economical move for the village to purchase a screening plant and conveyor belts to divide materials on different projects of the village.

Norwood said the village employed an engineer for a study now on file with the Environmental Improvement Division (EID). He said the primary purpose of the study was to obtain a permit to use the screening plant. The permit also would make provisions for the purchase of a rock crusher so the village could make its own materials in the future.

"Today the permit was primarily submitted for the screening device, nothing else. Although the rock crusher is also included," he said.

Norwood said the engineer's study indicated the type of rock on the village's 40 acres is suitable enough to develop quality material. He also said the dust level will be virtually untraceable outside the 40 acres the village owns.

All materials would come from the 40-acre street department area, Norwood said. If a rock crusher was purchased, the material would come from that same area.

Dave Bonnell of Bonnell Sand and Gravel said he was opposed to the village getting into private enterprise. Bonnell, a graduate of Ruidoso High School, said he knew the council was trying to do what's right with the taxpayers' money, but after being in the rock crushing business for over 17 years, he wanted to bring to the council's attention some problems they would face.

"First, I think you're sending the wrong signals to private enterprise," he said. "You the government are competing unfairly with private enterprise. You don't have to make a profit, all you have to do is tax the people for it ... if the tax base is still there," he said.

"What has me puzzled, we have all kinds of committees to try to get private companies to come to this area to do business. On the other hand, you're trying to put some companies out of business that are already here."

Bonnell asked if the people of Ruidoso would be willing to have the village put a rock crusher in downtown Ruidoso.

"The people in Ruidoso Downs weren't," he said. "They complained of the noise and the dust till that company had to move out of town."

"I've never been around a rock crusher that doesn't make noise and dust," he said.

Bonnell said he didn't understand the size of the crusher to be purchased.

"All I know is what I read in the paper," he said. "You want one that puts out 300 ton an hour for eight hours a day, forty hours a week. That's 12,000 ton a week, 48,000 tons a month, 432,000 tons for the nine months you propose to run. The village has never used that much material. What are you going to do with the excess?"

"Are you going to sell it in direct competition with private enterprise to the county, state, whoever to help pay for your rock crusher?"

"Where are you going to get this much material. Are you going to tear down our mountain?"

"I'm not too sure the people of Ruidoso want to leave a scar on our mountain for the tourists to see as they make their turn into Ruidoso. How much money is it going to cost the taxpayers?" he asked.

"A crusher in good condition will cost at least $500,000. That's not to mention all the trucks, loaders and other equipment to handle this much material," Bonnell said.

"Also, little things seem to break on crushers that can cost you thousands of dollars. The taxpayers need to know what the bottom line is. What is the material going to cost us?"

"Why go out in direct competition with enterprise and eliminate more taxpayers, because that's where you get your money," Bonnell said.

John Stowe, president of Valley Transit Mix, Inc. of Ruidoso, White Sands and Las Cruces, said he has been in business and a property owner in Ruidoso and Lincoln County since 1984.

"I have some concerns about the village going into private enterprise, competing with local businesses," Stowe said.

He said that with rock crushing, it would require the village to drill and shoot dynamite blast the area.

"I would say to you right now, that I have never seen a situation develop yet where a governmental entity, whether it be state, federal or a city corporation that can set up and compete on a local basis with small businesses."

"A person can have thousands and sometimes millions of dollars invested already in the industry and in Lincoln County and Ruidoso. So I would question the village getting into this business," Stowe said.

Norwood said he would not recommend ever selling outside to any private companies or contractors. He said the material would be exclusively for Ruidoso.

Norwood said he was concerned that last year only two bids were submitted for base material. One of those firms is now out of business. Norwood said a sole supplier is not conducive to good purchasing procedures.

Stowe said he did not bid last year, but he will be in the position to bid this year.

Tom White of McCarty Paving Company Inc., said he has been a resident of Ruidoso for 40 years, and he feels some of the practices of the village are really hurting private contractors in the area.

He said he is opposed to the rock crushing plant for three reasons. The number one reason is pollution, he said.

"Whether you're talking about a rock crusher or a screening operation, I assure you it's going to put out a lot of dirt. And there's no way to control it with today's technology," White said.

Another form of pollution would be the big scar on the landscape in the gateway area where visitors could see.

"There's no way a public entity can compete with private enterprise. They're not dealing with the same set of rules," White said.

"Private enterprise has to produce base on their performance," he said. "A public entity, well, you get paid regardless ... OK?"

White said if the village bypasses the local rock crushers in the area, they're not recognizing local business. "I believe it is our (village's) job to support local business. The Village of Ruidoso owns its own hot mix plant. Really you are in direct competition with us," he said.

White said the village needs to be in the street maintenance business. A little bit of equipment to plow some snow, a crew to do some pot hole patching and some general maintenance. "I believe you're way over staffed," he said.

"You figure out new ways to get industry in our area and I think that's good, but at the same time you turn around and strangle some of the industry we've got, and that's what this is. Our hot mix plant and crushers that we've got, that's industry. If we don't support that, it hurts the economy of the whole area."

Judy Miller, a local concrete pumper, was against the crusher because it adjoins her property and she considers it a health hazard and ugly. Noise pollution, dust pollution and river pollution are her concerns and she vowed court action if the village's plan was implemented.

Contractor Barney Rue said the material was not there to take.

"The rocks are up high and if you blast them you're going to jar the whole mountain, and the mountain will be coming down on other peoples' property," he said.

Councilor Ron Andrews said he had previously requested the feasibility of owning and operating a hot mix plant.

"One of the things this council wants to make sure of, is that any operation we get into is economically feasible. For reasons of budget, I questioned whether or not the hot mix plant is economically feasible as it stands. That same study would go into anything proposed whether it's a screener or a crusher or whatever," he said. "Hopefully, administration will get coming back to us with some answers."

Councilor Jess Stinson said "We've always fought for free enterprise. I support these businesses."

J.D. James said he was not for going into competition with private enterprise.

Also during Tuesday's meeting, the council discussed the civic event center (watch for update and story in Monday's edition.)

In other business the council also awarded the bid for electrical services, heard and took action on a last-minute addition to the agenda regarding an arts council and discussed street lighting on Highway 48.

foster and maintain a positive attitude among the administration, the staff and the students. He has seen improvements in the system over the last decade, but he would work to ensure that the trend continues, Buckley said.

His background as a county appraiser for nine years should be valuable on the board, he said.

Buckley has served as president and secretary of the Evening Lions Club and as a member of its scholarship committee.

Teachers have to let the board and administration know what type of equipment they need, he said.

POSITION TWO

Incumbent board member MIKE MORRIS, who has background in banking and owns a pest control company, would like to add another four years to the eight he already has spent on the board.

An important quality for board members is to be able to maintain focus when under criticism and in the midst of controversy, he said.

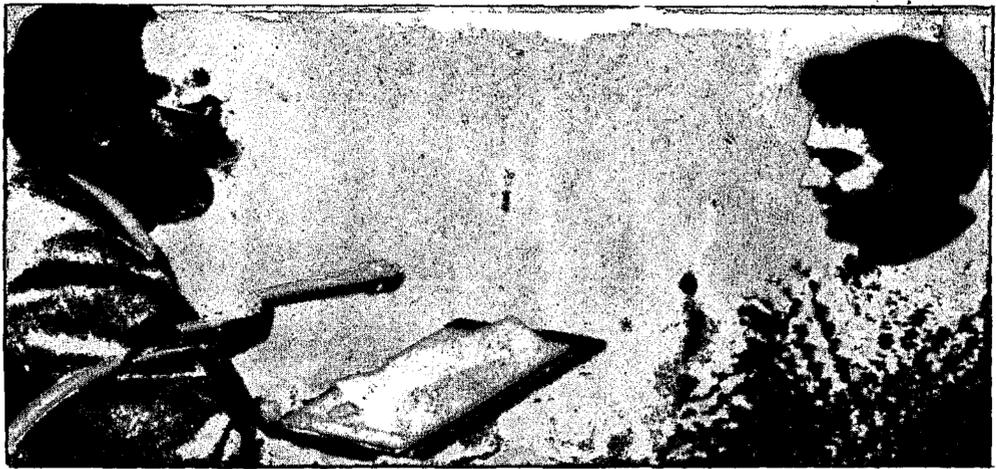

They must be open to community input and follow a code of ethics. But most of all, "They must know the difference between policy and administration," he said.

The answers are not always easy to problems facing the district, he said. Keeping the system's curriculum relevant will be more challenging each year.

"The board needs to be honest, reflective and willing to take flack," he said. "Equality in education is what multi-cultural education is all about."

Some money from a bond issue passed by Ruidoso voters paid for a portion of the computers used in classrooms, Morris said.

His challenger, J.A. BERTRAMSEN, was critical of aspects of the existing school system management.

Rudy Lugo gets a handshake from Mayor Village of Ruidoso's first Employee of the Month. Victor Alonso and a plaque for being the Month.

Rudy Lugo is named village's first employee of the month

Rudy Lugo of Waste Water Collections became the first Employee of the Month for the Village of Ruidoso. He was honored in a ceremony at the Village Council.

Lugo spoke to the Council. "I feel privileged to receive this award. There were so many deserving employees."

Lugo said his accomplishment was achieved only because of the support of the staff, the crews, administration "and most importantly, the people who we work for...the public."

Village manager Charles Norwood said that Lugo was a reliable, hard worker who really knows his job.

He is dedicated to the village and to his department. Many of Lugo's ideas, such as acquiring an inflow protector for manholes to cut down on infiltration to the waste water system, saves the village thousands of dollars.

On several occasions, citizens have stopped by the waste water department and have written letters thanking Lugo for his courteous and prompt behavior in correcting their problems.

Lugo has lived in Ruidoso since 1986, and started to work for the village in that year.

Lugo has a wife, Elizabeth, and two daughters, Erika, 4, and Danielle, 2.

Former News employee settles lawsuit

Former Ruidoso News business manager Rolland Ramos, in a lawsuit claiming wrongful termination, asked for lost wages, actual and punitive damages, but settled on paying his former employer $2,500.

Ruidoso attorney and Municipal Judge Charles Hawthorne filed the suit on behalf of Ramos in January 1990 in Twelfth Judicial District Court in Carrizozo. The suit alleged that Ramos was terminated on October 2, 1989, even though he had "faithfully and diligently performed all the duties specified by his contract."

Ramos further claimed racial discrimination, but later dropped that portion of the suit.

The Ruidoso News' defense attorney Leonard Espinosa of Albuquerque responded with a counter claim that alleged unauthorized expenses and paychecks. Rajlon Publishing Inc., The News' parent company, claimed that Ramos was not improperly fired and his employment was not under a contract.

Ramos, in a stipulation and order entered January 28, agreed to dismiss his claim against Rajlon and agreed to pay a judgment for $2,500 for costs.

was able to determine that there was only one wound, a slashed throat.

Some reported scratches on the front of the torso indicated the body had been dragged from somewhere to the wooded area.

Agents here and in Albuquerque were close-mouthed about giving any details of the crime other than those released early in the week.

The boy's name first was reported by the FBI as "Calvin," but the correct name is Kelvin Ray Davis.

He was a student at White Mountain Intermediate School. Principal Donny Weems said he has heard many stories from students on what happened, that essentially each one was different.

Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor said the FBI is investigating, that he has no information on where the investigation is heading.

"I know they have been interrogating several suspects," he said. Swenor, too, said rumors are rampant around Lincoln County and on the reservation about the case which has caused shock, disgust and fear throughout the county.

The Davis boy reportedly was babysitting two sisters, Friday night and early Saturday morning.

When Kelvin's parents returned home about 3 a.m. Saturday morning, the boy was missing.

A search was instituted and the boy's body was found after daylight Saturday. Published reports indicate the boy's bedroom window had been broken.

The FBI first reported that the slaying occurred early Sunday morning instead of Saturday.

The death certificate says the cause of death was an "incised wound to the neck," according to Dr. Ross Zumwalt, medical examiner in Albuquerque. He declined to publicly give any opinion on what type of weapon might have been used, but said that a report had been sent to the FBI.

Davis was the son of Zandra Smith and Douglas Davis of Mescalero. He has three sisters and three brothers. He was in the fourth grade at White Mountain Intermediate School.

The FBI asks that anyone having information about the apparent murder, please call (505) 247-1555, or contact Mescalero police at 671-44512.

Crimestoppers is offering a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and magistrate court bindover or grand jury indictment of the person or persons who committed the crime.

Citing the impact of the crime on the community and considering the fact that the perpetrator of the crime is at large, "anyone having information ... is urged to call Crimestoppers, 257-4545. Persons calling Crimestoppers needn't give a name to be eligible for a reward."

Anyone calling outside the telephone exchange may call collect."

Questions which the FBI refused to answer include whether or not any witnesses to the crime have been pinpointed or where the actual murder might have occurred since a large amount of blood had to be in evidence.

Obviously the body was dragged from somewhere.

Mescalero police referred all inquiries to the FBI.

board and parents "so we know what we are purchasing" in scientific equipment.

SUSAN MARIE LUTTERMAN comes from three generations of Ruidoso school board members. She said she'd like to make it four generations.

"My roots are firmly and proudly planted in our community," she said.

"I've worked with your children in several different ways," Lutterman said. She's been a Brownie leader, a school bus driver, a substitute teacher and a language art teacher. She has served on the parents advisory council and received a Friend of Education award in 1989 from the National Education Association.

"I'm an independent thinker, capable of standing on my own two feet," she said. "I have two goals: communication and representation. I will listen to and respect the opinion of others. I will represent all groups in the district and be willing to work as a team for the good of the students."

As a computer operator, she realizes that high technology is here to stay, Lutterman said. She would be guided by school officials on what equipment to order.

ROGER W. BUCKLEY said as manager of a local convenience store for the past seven years, he is used to dealing with tight budgets and constant changes for improvement.

As the father of children ranging from pre-kindergarten to a freshman, he will have children in the Ruidoso system for quite some time, he said.

He is proud of the schools and would attempt to definitely need on the board, which historically has been an all male club.

"For the past 13 years (as owner of Dial Electric), I have worked entirely with men, so given the composition of the board, I should fit in well," she said. "Women are a necessary element of the board if it is to reflect the society it serves. I can be that voice."

Her dedication is evident in the hours she has spent attending school functions, sitting in on class sessions, judging science fairs, and being a DECA sponsor, she said. "I have the time, ability and enthusiasm," Gann said.

KENT BEATTY, assistant golf pro at Cree Meadows and a Ruidoso Downs racetrack announcer, said one of the most important qualifications he would bring to the board is being a good listener with an independent point of view, who's always looking for a better way.

"I'm going to be there to listen," he said. "I can't tell you I'm going to be able to solve the problem, but I will offer a friendly ear and an open mind."

"I might not tell you what you want to hear because board policy is to serve the interests of all children. But I won't say yes to you and then do something else."

Although he has no children of his own, when he coaches the golf team, it feels like he has 35 kids, he said.

The teachers he wants in the Ruidoso system are the ones who love to teach, "not for the money," he said. "Once I hire professionals, I will let them do their jobs."

Teachers have told him they are short of equipment, he said. "To give our kids a better chance in a technological society, we have to make room, whether it takes one or five computers in a classroom."

He would use his construction background to save on renovation, repairs and new building projects, Bertram said.

"Every dollar added to construction increases the fee to the architectural firm," he said.

Through painful first-hand experience with his son, Bertram said he learned that transfer students are not always given timely notification by the district when credits earned elsewhere are not applicable toward graduation in Ruidoso.

High technology may be intriguing, but "academics is the priority," he said. "I sent a young man to measure the trim on a window. Twenty minutes later he hadn't come back. He told me he couldn't read the tape. That doesn't speak well for the system."

Although he has no quarrel with technology, Bertram said, "If students don't have a basic background in math with pencil and paper, I don't see much value for computers."

POSITION THREE

RONNIE L. HEMPHILL, a certified public accountant for the past 13 years, said his experience in auditing, reading budgets, dealing with bonds and managing employees of his own firm should be an asset on the school board.

"I am a concerned parent with moral, ethical and social values and a mature character," he said. His character has been developed through many successes and failures, but always in a positive environment, Hemphill said. He would like to see that same type of positive environment for Ruidoso students.

As a school board member, he would exhibit a management presence at school facilities and functions, he said. "I will be an involved board member."

ROSEMARY A. GANN said she would fill a Chamber board zeroes in on its civic center proposal

by AL STUBBS
Ruidoso News Business Editor

One pressing matter occupied the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce board of directors at a meeting, Monday afternoon.

The board went over a rough draft of a proposal for marketing the new civic events center when built. The Chamber seeks a three-year contract from the Village of Ruidoso for marketing the center.

The 23-page proposal was due in the hands of the village government before closing time, Wednesday.

A draft of the proposal prepared by a Chamber committee was presented to the board, Monday, along with a separate draft, prepared by or under the direction of Craig Rawlings. Monday and Tuesday afternoon the drafts were reconciled into one document which was produced via laser printer, Wednesday and collated for delivery by the deadline.

Any entity was eligible to deliver a proposal by the deadline.

The Chamber proposal carries a cost figure, but that is negotiable, Jerry Watts, chamber executive director, said.

Highlights of the proposal:

- Actual physical management will remain with the village.
- The Chamber through a mixture of staff and volunteers "is able to take on new activities without incurring additional costs."
- Chamber staff is rich in experience in organization management and marketing.
- Part of the proposal is creation of a Village Contract Advisory Committee to take advantage of municipal experience found within Chamber membership.
- Chamber has been a vital element in the promotion of the area, using all available community resources including the best use of advertising.

—Physical location of the Chamber lends itself to excellent sales opportunities to many visitors to the area. The Chamber is the "oldest player in the promotional game."

—Chamber offers a detailed marketing plan, will establish the advisory council, will increase Chamber staff by one, will remodel Chamber facilities and will utilize an 800 toll free number.

—Chamber through recognized advertising agency has organization in place for detailed marketing plan. CVB director is key person and with added assistant director, machinery is in place to effect and execute a marketing plan.

The proposal details the marketing plan, lists the types of activities to be sought for the events center and states the probable economic impact of the center on the county.

Ruidoso Downs resident will have to pay a big water bill

Ruidoso Downs trustees reluctantly told a resident that she'll have to pay a $184.86 water bill, but that she can pay over a period of time.

Trustees took care of several routine items of business at a regular meeting, Monday, January 28.

Since a water leak was on the property owner's side of a water meter, Gary Mitchell, village attorney, said the village cannot legally forgive a water bill. But a time payment plan can be devised, he said.

In other business, trustees took care of the following:

- Heard Mayor Bonnie Addy report that the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority member will meet in Ruidoso Downs, February 8. The meeting will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Inn at Pine Springs Canyon.

—Will hear from the village attorney on possibly shifting village employee health insurance to a different carrier. He also will research whether or not a part-time municipal judge and/or the mayor can be legally carried and part of premiums paid by the village on such a policy.

—Approved attendance at a Water and Waste Water School in Las Cruces by maintenance employees Dennis Riddle, B.J. Page and David Weibrecht.

—Approved Bernie Lammers, village mechanic, attending a school in Hobbs, February 13-14.

—Accepted the bid of Albuquerque Engine Rebuilders to rebuild the engine on a power broom. The amount was $1,100.

—Heard that animal control is 188 percent better under Bill Heineken, animal control/code enforcement officer.

Mayor Addy had requested a statistical comparison.

Total animals handled from May of 1989 to May of 1990 were 331. Animals handled from June through December of 1990 were 97. Fines and/or fees collected from July through December, 1990, totaled $1,013. Fees and/or fines collected from May to May added up to only $95, a report shows.

Art Commission plan raises questions; gets the go-ahead

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce board of directors approached a last-minute proposal for establishment of an arts commission with some reservations at a meeting Monday.

Barbara Westbrook, who has California Colors here, asked that the Chamber endorse a plan, which included suggested members' names, before she presented the proposal to the Ruidoso Village Council.

Several board members said they had reservations about rushing into an endorsement.

The Ruidoso Village Council, however, agreed in a regular meeting Tuesday evening to form the council, apparently as outlined by Westbrook.

Mickey McGuire, Chamber board member, said he had reservations about endorsing the plan when commission members already have been named.

Board member Valerie Miller asked, "Why the big hurry?"

Westbrook had stated in the letter she intended to go before the Village Council in two weeks, but apparently decided to go the next day instead.

The Chamber board Monday agreed that Jerry Watts, Chamber executive director, and Brenda Buckner, board member, should visit Westbrook for additional details and how the planned performing arts center would fit into the plan.

The Village Council approved the proposed plan and the names submitted by Westbrook. They are Stan Cape, Bernita Hall, Jane Deyo, Westbrook, Candace Garrett and Jacqueline Kastor. Two other members plus an alternate appointee would be chosen by the Village Council.

Westbrook writes that the council would "promote an artistic image of Ruidoso, promote the arts in the public sector and encourage a cooperative effort with the community at large in all civic artistic efforts."

Downs trustees OK commercial development plans

by AL STUBBS
Ruidoso News Business Editor

Learning that the Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees will still have a veto power over any planned development, trustees Monday night approved a zoning change for Johnnie Burke who owns property in the vicinity of the Sports Theater in the Downs.

Burke has requested that his property be zoned from R-1 to PD-C (Planned Development-Commercial).

After being advised by Gary Mitchell, village counsel, that planning and zoning can control any future commercial development on the property, the trustees voted to approve the request.

Trustee Jim Rethmel cast the only dissenting vote. Burke originally planned to put in a trailer park on the property; objections were raised because there is only one road into the property, past the Sport Theater. Pat Powers was on hand Monday night to protest approval of the zoning change, citing traffic problems in Ruidoso Gardens Subdivision.

During the Monday meeting, Frank Potter of Ruidoso Downs Race Track said State Senator Jim Martin will introduce the bill calling for a $150,000 planning grant to determine support for developing a permanent museum and art center in Ruidoso Downs.

The trustees took care of several items of routine business during the Monday night meeting. (See separate story).

Lore trial date is set

A trial date has been set for George Lore of Ruidoso on charges relating to bank transactions.

The case will be heard starting at 9:30 a.m., February 19, in the court of Howard Bratton, U.S. District Court, in Las Cruces.

Lore was scheduled for trial in December but a continuance was granted by Judge Bratton.

Lore faces 15 counts of structuring bank transactions to avoid federal reporting procedures.

Charges against Lore allege he structured bank transactions to avoid federal reporting requirements that transactions of $10,000 or more must be reported to the IRS.

According to the indictment, Lore conducted a series of 15 such transactions at The Bank of Ruidoso between November 14, 1988, and September 22, 1989. The maximum penalty for each of the 15 counts is a fine of up to $250,000 and five years imprisonment.

Lore was a director of the defunct Bank of Ruidoso. Late in 1990 he declared Chapter 11 bankruptcy which requires reorganization of finances.

Furr's sells New Mexico outlets

Some 70 Furr's supermarkets in New Mexico and West Texas, including the two Furr's outlets in Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs, have been purchased by a buyout group headed by Jan Friederich, the chain's chief executive officer.

The chain is splitting and is moving the headquarters of the 70-store segment of Furr's to Albuquerque from Lubbock. The remaining 24 stores in Texas will continue to be headquartered in Lubbock.

Lloyd Fannon, manager of Furr's on Mechem, was out of town today, apparently to be briefed on any changes, and was unavailable for comment.

Inquiries made locally were referred to Lubbock.

We're solid. And that's a fact.

Capitan

Tiger girls top 'Zozo

Those high flying Capitan Tiger girls ripped the hearts out of the Carrizozo Grizzlies 70-20 at Capitan.

Coach Norman Cline's squad led a well-balanced attack with three players in the double digits.

The Tigers jumped off to a commanding first quarter lead 14-2. The Grizzlies mounted their own charge in the second frame and the half time ended 25-10, still a ball game.

The Tigers broke the game open in their 26-point third quarter with unstoppable fast breaks and a porous Grizzly defense. The Grizzlies couldn't buy a bucket and with a quarter to go the score stood at 51-14.

The final frame was ho-hum with another 19-6 edge in favor of Capitan and the final score of 70-20.

Lesley LaRue found the center of the rim for 20 points to lead all Tigers. Vicki Sedillo dropped in 7 buckets for 14 points and Cindy Castillo also hit the twin digits with 13 points.

Karie Cox, playing one of her finest games, dropped in eight points for the Tigers.

The Tigers are now 11-6 and will take on the Loving Falcons again Friday. The Tigers beat the Falcon's last Friday 37-31.

BOYS

The Tiger boys were less fortunate than the girls, dropping their tilt 78-37.

Coach Pat Ventura said the 41 turnovers killed the Tigers who are in a rebuilding mode with two seniors, one junior, two sophomores and three freshman.

The boy Grizzlies have a good team that starts four seniors and a junior. The boys have played together for a long time and their experience is evident. Zozo could easily be state bound.

The Bears wasted little time in proving their superiority jumping to a quick 10-point first quarter lead and then expanding that to 20 at halftime.

Ventura said his squad is still learning how to play together, and although the boys lost, he felt they had come a long way from their earlier defeat to Zozo of 106-36.

Capitan musician earns state honor

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

She flashes an All-American smile and takes a deep breath. A row of melodic notes flow from the gleaming French horn pressed to her mouth.

Lori Longbotham is Capitan's 16-year-old wizard with a horn. Over the last two years, she has been selected for the All District Band, the prestigious American Southwest Honor Band and just last November, for the State Concert Band.

On top of that, the 16-year-old junior is attractive and intelligent, a participant in the school's mock trial program. That experience has convinced her that her future lies in law enforcement, specifically, a career as a criminal justice attorney.

But Longbotham's music may help get her there.

Capitan High School music instructor Dick Valenzuela said Longbotham's accomplishments and honors may be her ticket to valuable college scholarship money. She'll also have a chance to join a touring concert band in Europe.

Longbotham competed against 70 other New Mexico French horn players in November. She was selected along with 23 others to become part of the state concert or symphonic bands. Each band consists of 120 students.

They performed in Albuquerque last January. She will be on stage again as first French horn with the Southwestern Honor Band when it plays February 10 at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces.

Longbotham has been playing the French horn for about six to seven years, she said. They found each other in the fifth grade after a little help from Valenzuela.

"Mr. V asked what everybody wanted to play," she said. "Most of the kids said clarinet or flute. I said I didn't care. His son played the French horn so he signed me up for that."

She comes from a musical family. Her mother, Lee Ann Longbotham, plays piano. Her father, Jerry, plays guitar and they both sing. Her brothers and sister play other instruments.

Valenzuela hopes Longbotham's example may spark interest in the rest of his band members.

"She was the only one who tried out from the 12 students at Capitan who were eligible," he said. The school band has 25 members.

The state competition is open to students from ninth to twelfth grade.

Longbotham said Valenzuela may get his wish at the next audition.

"I think (my selection) accomplished what he wanted it to do," she said. "Some of the other kids are really anxious to try out the next time."

Only you can make Smokey Bear's celebration a big success in 1993

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Promoters of the Fifty Year Smokey Bear Celebration hope the New Mexico State Legislature will send them $132,000 for improvements to Smokey Bear State Park.

State Senator James Martin, (R-Socorro) has submitted a request for the financing to ensure that the park is in top condition for the 1994 celebration.

Howard Shanks, coordinator of the event, met with other committee members Tuesday to discuss preparations.

"About 30 people attended the meeting," he said. "We heard some ideas from Dr. Tom Woods and some of his students about ideas to increase tourism in the Smokey Bear area. And we decided we will probably be working with Woods and his students, who are from the Division of Tourism and Hospitality of New Mexico State University in Las Cruces."

Other avenues of financing being explored by the group include rural development programs in conjunction with the U.S. Forestry Service, Shanks said.

Shanks, who works in the Resource, Conservation and Development program of the Soil Conservation Service, said the observance of a half-century of forest fire prevention will begin October 1, 1993, and culminate with a birthday celebration in Washington D.C. and in Capitan on August 9, 1994.

"It will be a national, 10-month long celebration with high visibility, celebrity and corporate involvement," he said. Capitan, as the birthplace of the living bear, will play an important role in the celebration.

"The benefits will go beyond the celebration by providing long-term economic benefits to the community, the region and the state," Shanks said.

"Murder Most Fowl" opens on Saturday

The Inn of the Mountain Gods will cater the desserts and the Capitan High School drama club will serve up the entertainment Saturday when they present "Murder Most Fowl."

The one-act comedy written by Colleen Neuman will be staged at 7:30 p.m. in the high school multipurpose room.

Drama instructor Molly Weber said 20 students are taking part in the production, which also will be presented to the residents of Fort Stanton Training Center and at Eastern New Mexico University's Drama Festival in Portales.

Stephanie Vinson will play one of the lead roles, that of Lily Belle Pruitt, a hillbilly Harvard graduate, who becomes entangled in the mysterious murders of a neighbors chickens. Tickets at the door will be $4 for adults and $2 for students.

Sally says it's time to get a head start on the tomato growing season

DEAR SALLY:

You had some very good columns last year about growing tomatoes. I got started too late and the cold weather caught up with me just as the plants were setting fruit. Would you please get us started this season in plenty of time to see and eat fresh tomatoes grown on our decks in containers here in the Ruidoso area? Also I have read about a new type of "Tree Tomato Plant," do you have any information about this plant?

We enjoy your column and will wait to hear from you before starting our tomatoes.

Thank You,
Dana and Mike

September and wheel them back inside for the winter.

The Tree Tomato makes an excellent indoor plant. Its exotic shaped leaves that are up to one foot long lend themselves to a very pretty house plant. The Tree Tomato makes an interesting house plant because of its constant changing. First its large exotic shaped leaves appear followed by a shower of delicate, fragrant flowers and finally a beautiful array of red fruit. Then, as if this is not enough, as one crop ripens, Mother Nature sees to it that another crop is taking place and this fruiting period goes on for a period of about five months.

As leaves get old or bruised looking, just pick them off and a new leaf will follow shortly. Now, does this sound too good to be true or what?

This delicious tasting tomato is about twice the size of a cherry tomato and has a long storage capacity after it's picked, up to six weeks in the refrigerator, if some of the stem is left attached to the fruit.

Given proper growing conditions, each plant can produce up to 40 pounds of fruit annually.

On the patio, the plant must be warm and sheltered from any strong winds. The plants will not tolerate excessive moisture or dryness. Therefore, a fast drainage soil is essential. Staking is also very important. Place your four- or five-foot stake in the center of the half-barrel size pot at the time of planting.

Tree Tomato plants will bear fruit in about three years given proper growing conditions. Growth can be controlled from three to eight feet, but the first year's growth requires some training, pruning and pinching here and there to shape and get strong new growth.

They are greedy feeders and love most any well-balanced fertilizer plus a little bone meal thrown in now and then, after planting, feed about once a month. They love consistency—an even moisture, temperature between 60 and 85 degrees, same amount of light. Inside they must have an overhead light, either a gro-bulb or sky-light. A common pest is aphid, which can be treated with malathion, just check often for pests and correct immediately. Never let the pest get a head start.

I've used my space and must continue with growing regular tomatoes next week.

Send questions to Sally Black, c/o The Ruidoso News, P.O. Box 128, Ruidoso, N.M. 88345.

Hondo voters rule on mill levy

When Hondo School District voters go to the polls on Tuesday, February 5, they'll select school board members and decide whether or not to renew the Capital Improvements Levy.

According to a news release provided by the schools, current needs of the district can be financed through a continuation of the levy which has been in place since 1976. Voters have voted to re-issue the levy every three years.

The monies provide for construction, remodeling and additions to buildings; they help purchase equipment and furnish classrooms, offices and shop building as well as improving and maintaining buildings and grounds. Proceeds can also be used to purchase activity vehicles for transporting students to and from extra-curricular activities.

The election will be from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. Tuesday, February 5, at the Hondo Gym. Additional information may be obtained by calling the school at 653-4411.

"Let's get out and vote! Education is our best investment," concludes the news release.

The Silver Lining

Storm flag flies at half-mast for old friend

Lloyd Coe Perry
The flag was flying at half-mast on January 26 at the Storm Ranch in honor of my life-long friend, Lloyd Coe Perry who was called Home by Our Lord on January 18.

Services were held at the George Coe Cemetery on the hill overlooking the ranch where he was born to Elzy and Mayme Perry, May 25, 1927.

W. Leroy Perry, Lloyd's brother, conducted the services. Leroy recited the Twenty-third Psalm. He said the American flag on the cas-cket was testimony that Lloyd was willing to give his life to defend our Country. The flag was presented to Lloyd's widow, Dora.

Of his brother Leroy said, "His monuments are all over the southwest in the form of water wells, the source of life-giving water."

"How Great Thou Art" and "Just a Closer Walk with Thee" were sung by Betty Carrol Perry, Leroy's daughter-in-law; and Tamera Sands, his granddaughter.

Leroy read a poem written about Lloyd by his granddaughter, Amy Perry.

Concluding the service, friends and loved ones joined hands and recited together The Lord's Prayer.

Pall bearers were James Ray Taylor, Leroy Wayne Perry, Greg Perry, Ewell Ross, Nathan Perry, Lowell Nosker and Jim Reagan.

Happy Birthday To Romano Chavez

November 26 was the seventh birthday of Romano Chavez, of San Patricio, born on this date in Ruidoso to Angel and Cynthia (Cindy) Chavez.

His grandparents are the Reverend Ben-jamin and Luz Elva Chavez of San Patricio; and Ernesto and Minnie Silva of Glencoe. Benjamin is pastor of the Church of the Living Water in San Patricio, and Luz Elva is direc-tor of singing. They own and operate Ole Taco restaurant in Ruidoso.

Romano is in the first grade at Nob Hill Elementary School, where he is a very good student, and is well liked by his school mates. We wish Romano many happy returns of the day and all God's blessing.

Services at Saint Anne's

At last Sunday's services at Saint Anne's Chapel, Glencoe, Father John Penn gave a sermon based on the apostle Paul's Epistle to the Corinthians: "Let everyone lead the life which the Lord has assigned him, and in which the God has called him...."

Lay reader Nellie Ruth Jones gave bless-ings for the birthdays of the Reverend Robert Batton, Robert Bucchagen, Kathy Echols, Jenny Northrop, Kasey Thompson, Merle Bryant and Susan Penn.

Also for the anniversaries of David and Cynthia Whatley, Tom and Pat Sullivan and Phillip and Nancy Wright.

Atwood & Portillo star in Ruidoso Invitational

The Warriors matmen always seemed on top of things in the invitational tournament at Ruidoso last week. Top to bottom and on top is James Atwood, Louis Jiminez and Mario Portillo.

James Atwood and Mario Portillo led the Ruidoso Warrior matmen with championship victories in the Ruidoso Invitational Wrestling Match, the last home match of the season.

Ten squads hit the mats early Saturday morning and didn't cry uncle until 6 p.m. Cobre, Silver City and Carlsbad finished one, two, three.

The Warriors were without the benefit of two fine wrestlers because of injuries. Shawn Mendosa at 189 pounds and Steve Dankert, 145 pounds, were sidelined. Without their usual point total, the Warriors were destined for a low team finish.

Warrior spirits were uplifted with the fine performance of Atwood. His final match against Cobre in the championship flight was very tightly contested. Atwood, a point down with only a few seconds remaining, reversed his opponent to win by a point.

Portillo's victory was more definite. Portillo had not wrestled well the past few weeks and Ruidoso coach Gerald Ames was extremely happy when he pinned his opponent to reach the championship flight. His performance in that flight was nearly as flawless, tossing his opponent like a piece of cotton candy and pinning him easily during the first period.

Other Warriors who did well were Poncho Portillo at 160 pounds. Poncho took third and wrestled hard, his only loss was by a point. Shane Eidson had his best day in his short heavyweight career. Shane won three and lost one to Hill of Silver City earning a third place finish.

Other Warriors who contributed to the Ruidoso point total were Fernando Lopez, 119 pounds; Louis Jiminez, 125 pounds; and Able Montelongo, 171 pounds.

Keith Henson, 152, Chris Carusona, 130 and Gunner Johnson, 103, all showed improvement in technique and intensity.

The Warriors finished fifth in the tournament.

The wrestling matches mangled mess of arms and legs continued from early morning into the evening where basketball took over. There were more sports in Ruidoso last week than on ESPN.

Girls JV basketball team splits a pair

Close, but no cigar for the girls' Ruidoso JVC team (and aren't we glad) as Socorro nipped Ruidoso 22-21 in the flatlands.

Ruidoso had dropped behind 16-10 after three quarters in what appeared to be an insurmountable lead for Socorro. Ruidoso caught fire, outscoring Socorro 10-5 in the final frame, just a point shy of sending the game in to overtime.

Herbina Muniz scored five of the final 10 points. Muniz was also leading scorer with 11 points.

Adrian Ames scored four points; M. Jones, two; Danielle Morris, 2; Mandy Parker, 1; and Leslie Rankin 1.

Hot tempers flared and etiquette stumbled to the point the referees cried forfeit with Ruidoso JVC's leading Onate 33-24 late in the fourth quarter at White Mountain gym last Saturday.

The Warriors led the Knights

23-19 after three quarters of play. During the fourth frame, questionable calls in the minds of the Onate coaches led to technicals. A clock that malfunctioned several times didn't help matters. Finally, frustrations erupted into a word war.

Witnesses at the event say that a tighter control by the officials during the game might have prevented the verbal assaults that contributed to the forfeit.

Coaches from both teams met with Ruidoso athletic director Ronny Maskew after the game and settled their differences.

Nine players scored for the Warriors. Mandy Parker led the team with 10 points on five buckets.

Melissa Richardson scored five points; Leslie Rankin, D. Moore and Herbina Muniz scored three each; C. Taylor and K. Ryan sank two each and Robin Line contributed a point.

Help! NMAA needs refs

The New Mexico Activities Association (NMAA) is actively seeking interested individuals with an athletic background to become NMAA-registered sports officials.

The NMAA presently registers officials in seven different sports and sponsors 17 NMAA state championships for its 134 member public and private high schools.

With more than 65,000 students participating in activities annually, the need is great for qualified individuals to officiate these programs.

Presently, the NMAA has 1,801 registered sports officials statewide. However, with the growth of athletic programs, the state is facing serious, immediate shortages of baseball and softball officials.

NMAA is also seeking multi-purpose officials for 1991-92.

NIGHT COLD SYMPTOMS

EVER WONDER WHY YOUR CAR IS SO SLOW TO START IN COLD WEATHER? ONE REASON IS THAT YOUR BATTERY GROWS WEAKER AS THE THERMOMETER DROPS. FULL POWER AT 80° HAS DROPPED TO 65% AT FREEZING AND ONLY 40% AT ZERO.

A BATTERY CHECK-UP IS THE BEST WAY TO BE CERTAIN YOUR BATTERY IS FULLY CHARGED. A BATTERY THAT'S WEAK TO BEGIN WITH WILL EVEN FURTHER REDUCE YOUR CHANCES OF GETTING STARTED.

AND IF YOUR CAR NEEDS A TUNE-UP YOU'RE REALLY ASKING FOR STARTING TROUBLE. THE CAR CARE COUNCIL ADVISES RELAXING A WARM BATTERY AND HAVING YOUR ENGINE TUNED BEFORE THE COLD WEATHER SETS IN.

Hubbard Art Collection is traveling the world

While the volunteers and staff of the Hubbard Museum are busy getting ready for the Second Annual Hubbard Art Award for Excellence, the Hubbard Collection has been making its way around the world — telling the story of the Hubbard Museum, the Hubbard Art Award for Excellence and of its home — Ruidoso.

After the Hubbard Art Award in June 1990, the 40 works chosen for the Hubbard Museum Collection began a world tour — first stop: Moscow.

In Moscow the collection was exhibited at the Central Artist's House at Grimsky Val, one of Moscow's leading exhibition halls.

A spokesman for the Union of Artists of the Soviet Union reported that enthusiastic crowds commonly waited two hours to gain admission to the show.

The Moscow exhibition opened October 1 and concluded November 4, when the 8,500 pound of art were packed up and moved to Berlin.

The Hubbard Art Collection was the first American art exhibit in the newly-united Germany, opening at the Amerika Haus, November 13. The Berlin show closed December 11.

Since the completion of the Amerika Haus exhibit, the majority of the collection has been arriving back in Ruidoso and then being dispersed individually to owners across the country who made purchases at last year's multi-million dollar art award sale.

Two pieces, Howard Terpning's "Transferring the Medicine Shield," and Dean Mitchell's "Rowena," are now being exhibited in separate shows in Kerrville, Texas, and Kansas City, Missouri.

Howard Terpning won the $250,000 1990 Hubbard Art Award for Excellence for "Transferring the Medicine Shield," presently on display at the Cowboy Artist of America Museum in Kerrville as part of the "Ride Like the Wind" exhibition.

The Cowboy Artist Museum is using the current exhibition, including Terpning's painting, in its efforts to maintain the image, history and myth of the American West.

Terpning's award-winning work will be on display through April 24.

Dean Mitchell's "Rowena," one of the six finalists for the Hubbard Art Award last year, is in a completely different showcase at the Bruce R. Watkins Cultural Heritage Center in Kansas City.

The exhibit, featuring Mitchell's work, is titled "The Making of Rowena," and continues through February 28.

"This is an absolutely fascinating exhibit," said Wilhelmina Stewart, assistant director of the Center. "It shows Dean's true ability and style," she added.

About 5,000 people are expected to view the exhibit that includes a series of drawings and several watercolors of Rowena, a 94-year-old woman who has been a strong influence in Mitchell's life.

"She has a spirit very similar to my grandmother's," said Mitchell.

"For some reason I refrained from painting her, even though I wanted to immediately after I met her," added Mitchell, who went on to say that his nomination to the 1990 Hubbard Art Award was his sign that the time was right.

The Hubbard Collection continues to be seen by hundreds of thousands of people throughout the world — from Kerrville to Kansas City to Moscow and Berlin and back to its home base in Ruidoso Downs.

That international exposure for realistic art, includes the same kind of exposure and attention for Ruidoso, as people view the art and hear all about the Hubbard Collection from Ruidoso Downs.

"The Hubbard Museum works for Ruidoso throughout the year, whether it's being shown as a collection or as individual pieces," said a spokesman for the Museum.

The proof of that international exposure is in the many inquiries that are answered daily by the Museum's staff members and volunteers.

exhibition that features sketches and drawings of his 94-year-old subject. Mitchell's painting was one of six finalists for the first $250,000 Hubbard Art Award for Excellence.

Ruidoso, New Mexico

Section B

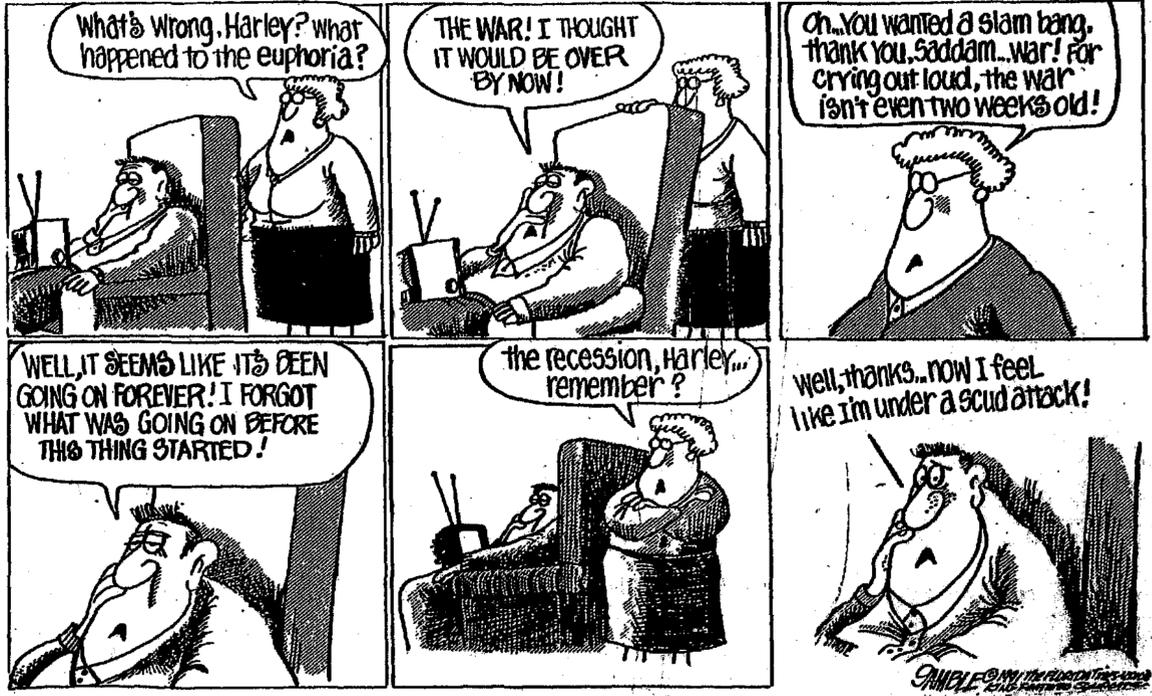

Editorial

Government has no business competing with private enterprise. The last thing the Village of Ruidoso needs right now is to start a sand and gravel business, or any other business, for that matter. The Village has enough to do just serving the public in the areas appropriate to a municipal government — like law enforcement, streets, solid waste collection and disposal and the like.

In a difficult business climate, private enterprise doesn't need to have added competition from tax-supported government agencies. On the one hand the Village of Ruidoso, along with Lincoln County and other municipalities in the county, is providing money for the Economic Development Corporation to recruit businesses into the area. And on the other hand, the Village is contemplating a plan to go into a business that will compete against about a half dozen companies already in business here.

The cost savings of a plan for the village to put in its own rock crusher might shrink considerably if the competition drives a private contractor out of business causing loss of taxes and jobs.

As taxpayers (shareholders?) in this village, let's tell our elected officials to stay out of private enterprise and stick with the business of government.

Reporter's Round

Rackin' up miles on mountain roads

Ooooooh! ... Where'd I put that scraper ... Iced over windows are sure tough on finger tips ... There! ... Gee, only four inches-square ... Should be good enough ... Please, God, don't let anyone come by while I'm backin' out of this driveway ... Hey, not much ice on the road this morning. Good thing, running a few minutes late.

Never anything on this radio ... Wow! ... Didn't see that little patch on the curve ... These bald tires have got to go ... Was that a side road? ... Should have scraped those side windows ... Whoops, goin' a little fast ... Looks like something big and fuzzy is following me ... Too big for a cop car.

I told Dianne to have that defroster fixed ... Paradise Canyon, someone's idea of a joke ... Ahhh, that must be Cree Meadows ahead.

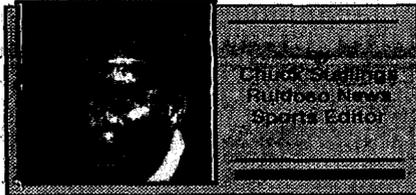

Stop, stop, stop! ... WOW! Just missed that stop sign ... The road department sure put that close to the street.

What's left? Who knows what's left? C'mon window, roll down ... Awww, rats ... Frozen! ... There! An inch ... Nothing that way, I think ... Ooooo, cold out there.

That a car or a tree? ... It's not movin' ... Look for oncoming shadows ... Don't see any ... Here goes ... One, two, three, Go! ... Made it.

Ooops! Sorry fella ... Gee that was a pretty loud horn ... He was going fast, too ... What a lunatic. That guy is a menace to the roads. Totally irresponsible.

A thousand years ago, when gas was 16.9 or less, Ruidoso High School had a football team that traveled throughout New Mexico.

That was then, this is now. The school still has a varsity football team, a JV football, varsity girls basketball with a JV and JV-C team, a varsity boys basketball team with a JV and JV-C, a cross country girls and boys team, a wrestling team, a boys and girls middle school basketball team and, with gas bouncing around the $1.30 per gallon, we are still busing these students on day long journeys throughout the state of New Mexico.

And that's just Ruidoso. The whole state is like that. Last week I covered a game in Capitan where the Tigers were playing Animas. The next street down from Animas is the Mexican border.

When it comes to sports, we are the dumbest people on the face of the earth.

It stands to reason then, that a sports crazed group of people called the New Mexico Activities Association is a notch below the rest of us.

Why this obsession with traveling?

"That's the way it's always been done," is the statement I get most often from responsible people like state representatives.

We're talking hundreds of thousands of miles per year by schools transporting students around the state, day and night, not always in the best weather conditions, on yellow school buses like they were Greyhound luxury liners.

Sure, we want students to have a well-rounded education. Sure, active students are the better students. Yes, there has to be a better way.

The golf club (Did I mention golf?) travels to its matches midweek because the golf courses need their links open for the weekend golfer. We play basketball games during the week.

A couple of Tuesdays ago, I climbed into bed, dead tired after covering a game in Ruidoso against the Lovington Wildcats. While I was watching Johnny Carson, the Lovington players were still on the bus going home. They had school the next day. Their coaches taught classes the next day. (Did I mention our tennis team?)

We're not talking 30 minute trips. We're talking eight- and nine-hour round trips as in the case of Deming, and Silver City and Coche.

The Ruidoso school system last year bused students more than 350,000 miles to and from their regular school sessions. So what's another 40,000 miles of extra curricular activity for Ruidoso? (Did I mention band travels?)

When will there be a better plan? Will it take a headline that no one wants to read?

Letters

Insurance rates raise questions

TO THE EDITOR:
Mr. Greg Carey's letter of January 24 raises interesting points. There can be no doubt that we in New Mexico need to deal with our outrageous alcohol abuse rate, and the consequences that brings about. Equally, there can be no doubt everyone would like insurance premium rates to go down.

However, we need to remember the insurance lobby's earnest assurances to the Legislature a few years back that mandated auto liability insurance would result in lower auto insurance premiums. So far, insurance premiums have only increased to the point New Mexico has one of the highest rates in the country. While this undoubtedly is tied, to some degree, to the traffic accident problem noted by Mr. Carey, it is also tied to the struggle of insurance companies to offset losses they have incurred from unsound investments.

When insurance companies address criticism of their exorbitant premium rates, they always seem to offer the same solution: reduce or restrict rights of victims of negligence to recover damages. Despite the propaganda produced by the Insurance Institute, close analysis of insurance company statistics (and especially those reflected in their annual statements to shareholders) reveals that high damage awards in lawsuits do not account for high premiums. Indeed, there are numerous instances of insurance companies spending more than twice or three times the amount of a damage claim in legal fees and expenses to deny the claim!

Last year's revisions to the Tort Claims Act, and other legislation to reduce workers' compensation insurance claims expenses — heavily lobbied for by the insurance carriers — has resulted in less than a year in 23 percent increase in workers' compensation insurance premiums. So much for the premium reduction argument!

If victims of negligence, or of unsafe working conditions are to have their rights to recover damages restricted, then let's have the Legislature (or Congress) restrict the profits of insurance companies, and regulate them like public utilities are (supposed to be) regulated! Fair is fair.

You can count on death, taxes...

TO THE EDITOR:
Death. Taxes. And oh, yes. There is something else you can always count on. When Ruidoso finds an event that achieves national exposure and brings in a wealth of people, somebody is sure to find fault in that event.

Of course, this is not usual. Difference in opinion is what makes each person unique. I personally, have had absolutely no trouble with the rally. Quite frankly, I find the additional revenue a welcome friend, 'knowing slow times' are nearly upon us. I must admit that Mr. Stallings does have a way with words. Most people would not be able to get their opinion across, and still maintain that 'Harlequin' flair in their writing.

Keep up the good work Mr. Stallings. I can't wait to see you go after those mean and nasty Rodrunners with their bratty wives and busty kids.

Tie a yellow ribbon ...

TO THE EDITOR:
I would like to take this time to thank the Rotary Club for allowing the Mid-East Support Group to put yellow ribbons on the trees during Christmas. I would also like to thank Virgil Reynolds for letting the Fire Department come and help us put the ribbons on and for taking the ribbons off for us. Thanks to all the merchants and the many friends for their concern during the trying times. God bless each and everyone of you.

Encore for music program

TO THE EDITOR:
I can't remember the precise moment I felt the first tingle up my spine, but the season was the Ruidoso Chamber Music Festival. Such fabulously talented young artists! You expect to enjoy a concert since these are professional artists and yet you are not always fortunate to sit for an evening of inspired music. How lucky we are in Ruidoso to have The Chamber Music Festival as an adjacent to the already successful community concerts. Encore! Encore!

Meet the artists in old Lincoln

The newly-formed Lincoln Hospitality Group invites the public to be the first in a series of events to be offered the first Saturday of each month.

The first event will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday, February 2, in Dr. Wood's Annex in Lincoln. It will give area residents a chance to meet and talk with and see the paintings of Gary Morton at the "Meet the Artists" affair.

Morton, a native New Mexican, lives in Lincoln and paints the contemporary cowboy. He is a former wagon boss on the historic Bell Ranch. He knows his subject well.

The artist is at present the chairman of the New Mexico Arts Commission.

During the same hours Saturday a display of quilts will be on display at the Old Community Church.

Also, the Lincoln Fire Department Auxiliary will have a brisquet plate available for a nominal charge at the firehouse.

Walter Henn and Russell Waterhouse are scheduled to appear in subsequent First Saturday programs.

Artist Gary Morton will be featured in Lincoln's first meet the artist event from 1-5 p.m. Saturday, February 2, at the Dr. Wood's Annex.

Sign up for the library's big Battle of the Books

If you missed out on the original Lincoln County Wars, get into the heat of battle when the Ruidoso Public Library presents the Battle of the Books from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, February 9.

The Library and Friends of the Ruidoso Library, to encourage reading among young people in grades six through eight, have issued the challenge.

Students are encouraged to read books from a list prepared by the Ruidoso Middle School librarian and the public librarians.

The day of the "Battle," teams will be made up from the students who are registered, with two students from each grade included on each team. The students will be asked 25 questions during each elimination, with the answers being the title of the book. Extra points will be given for knowing the author, too.

Battle of the Books will be presented with a T-Shirt with the book's logo, and each winning team member will receive a medal. Students and volunteers will also be served refreshments during the morning event.

For more information, or to volunteer or register, call the Ruidoso Public Library at 257-4335.

CRIME STOPPERS

"CRIME OF THE WEEK"

The Ruidoso-Lincoln County Crime Stoppers will pay up to $1,000.00 for information that leads to the arrest and Grand Jury indictment or Magistrate Court conviction of the person or persons who committed the crime or any other unsolved felony crime in Lincoln County. Let's work together to call a stop to crime.

Phone 257-4545

On the morning of January 26, 1991 the brutally murdered body of a nine year old child, identified as Kaitlyn Foy Davis, was found in a wooded area behind his home in the Pecos Canyon housing area on the Mesquero Reservation. The murder occurred Friday night or the early hours of Saturday morning. The concern that the perpetrator of this vicious crime is still at large is impacting our community, and causing feelings of fear throughout the area.

Crimestoppers realizes the brutality of this crime and its impact on the community, and wishes that any information pertaining to this crime should be forwarded to Crimestoppers immediately. Anyone having information relating to this crime or any criminal activity is urged to call Crimestoppers.

School Board Elections

County voters elect boards

Capitan school district's 1,604 registered voters are being asked to reauthorize the levy of a two mill capital improvement tax. The property tax, which must be endorsed by voters every three years to continue, would generate an estimated $119,500 a year.

The money must be used for construction, remodeling and additions to buildings; for equipment and classroom furniture; or to improve and maintain public school buildings and grounds.

Carrizozo's school district contains 911 registered voters.

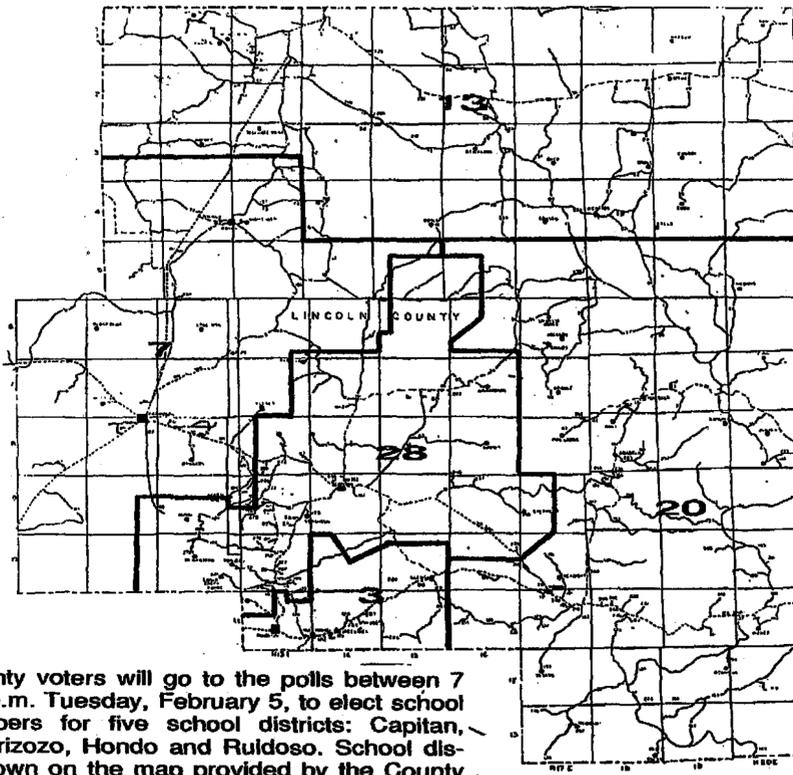

Voters in that district will be electing three board members, but will not be considering any mill levies.

Corona school district's 248 registered voters are being asked to continue a two mill capital improvement levy.

An estimated $18,200 will be generated each year by the property tax, which must be reauthorized by voters every three years.

Hondo school district's 446 registered voters are being asked to reauthorize a two mill capital improvement levy first passed in 1976.

The property tax levy will generate an estimated $28,000 a year and must be approved by voters every three years to continue.

Lincoln County voters will go to the polls between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. Tuesday, February 5, to elect school board members for five school districts: Capitan, Corona, Carrizozo, Hondo and Ruidoso. School districts are shown on the map provided by the County Clerk's office.

Ruidoso to elect three members

Ruidoso school district's 3,852 registered voters will be asked to decide whether to levy a one mill property tax to generate $150,000. One mill is equal to $1 for every $1,000 of taxable property value.

The money would be used toward the operation of an off-campus instructional center to provide local college and technical classes.

The mill would be levied annually unless the center ceased to exist or another avenue of funding was established.

Ruidoso voters will elect three school board members. Profiles are included on this page, by position, in alphabetical order.

For Position 1, candidates are Lee Buchhagen, Roger W. Buckley, Jeff Chapman, Dennis R. Loverin and Susan Marie Lutterman.

For Position 2, candidates are J.A. Bertramsen and incumbent Mike Morris.

For Position 3, candidates are Kent Beatty, Rosemary Gann and Ronnie Hemphill.

Lee Buchhagen
Age 38, Position 1
Owner of local Sears Catalog Store
Wife: An Buchhagen
Two children
In district 7 1/2 years
Attended ENMU, WNMU

The main issues facing the Ruidoso school system are meeting the demands created by increasing enrollment and finding the money for more classrooms and higher teacher salaries, Buchhagen said. He would address those issues by developing a long range plan and seeking the necessary financial and legislative support from the state.

He is a member of the White Mountain Intermediate School Council, is vice chairman of the Impact Committee on Drug Free School and has been active with Little League and soccer. For two successive years, 1988-89, he received Friend of Education awards.

His involvement with the school district and his background in business should give him the necessary background to handle the future economic challenges of the school system, he said.

Roger W. Buckley
Age 34, Position 1
Allsup's manager
Wife: Patti Buckley
Three children
In district 18 years
High school graduate

Better communication is one of the key elements to keep the Ruidoso school system one of the top in the state, Buckley said. He would like to see parents attend more school board meetings and board members attend parent council sessions to keep lines of communication open. Updating of curriculum should be based on recommendations from a committee of teachers who stay informed about changing academic and vocational requirements.

Buckley said teacher salaries should be increased. "Our teachers are the backbone of the school system and the board should be looking for extra money in the budget to improve their salaries," he said. "I am used to dealing with tight budgets in my job and I am familiar with the tax structure of the area."

Buckley has served as president and secretary of the Evening Lions Club.

Jeff L. Chapman
Age 39, Position 1
Real estate agent
Wife: Sue Chapman
Four children
In district 20 years
Three years college, B.A.

Participating in school activities while his four children moved through the Ruidoso system has given Chapman an excellent understanding of the operation, he said. He knows many of the teachers personally and believes he could provide balance on the school board.

Finance tops the list of issues facing the district and he would work with local economic development groups as well as the State Legislature to ensure that necessary money is available. Recent irritation between the school administration and top ranking officials in the Mescalero reservation needs to be soothed through better communication and negotiation, he said.

Chapman said he also would foster better communication within the school system between teachers and the administration. Chapman is past chairman of the Lodgers Tax Advisory Board.

Dennis R. "Denny" Loverin
Age 41, Position 1
Real estate broker
Wife: Susan Loverin
Three children
In district 17 years
B.A. Business Admin.

As a Ruidoso School Board member, Loverin said he would work to retain quality teachers, improve facilities and expand the curriculum. While he believes in equal educational opportunities for all students, he would support special attention to those "at risk." Extremely important is more parent involvement in the learning process and school life.

"I hope we not only mold young men and women with knowledge, but also with character for what good is an individual with knowledge but no character," Loverin said. He believes his educational background and involvement in the business community, coupled with a his drive to serve the community, would be valuable assets on the board.

A past member of the Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Board, he advocates in long range planning tempered with common sense.

Susan Marie Lutterman
Age 35, Position 1
Banking
Husband: Tom Lutterman
Three children
In district 30 years
High school graduate

Lutterman comes from a long line of Ruidoso school board members dating back to her great grandparents, Ike and Lula Wingfield. She represents no special interest groups in her bid for a seat on the board, Lutterman said. "I'm an independent thinker," she said.

A substitute teacher and president of the Parent Advisory Council for two years, she is familiar with the internal operation of the district. "I cannot make promises, but I will pledge to be a hard working board member," she said.

A board member must be flexible and able to ignore pressure, she said. While they have the right to obtain facts, Lutterman said board members should not expect the administration to spend time gathering data or making reports to individual members. She is a supporter of school sports and academic extra-curricular activities.

J.A. Bertramsen
Age 65, Position 2
Owner construction company
Wife Margaret Bertramsen
Two children
In district 15 years
Two years college

His background in construction would help the Ruidoso school board get full value for every construction dollar spent, Bertramsen said. As job superintendent on a recent remodeling of the sixth grade building, he saw expenditures he didn't think were necessary.

He advocates "back to the basics" education for students and a "get tough" attitude toward drug use, punk rock and improper dress at school. If elected, he would be more than a "yes" man to the administration.

"I intend to ask questions, not just vote on things that are presented at meetings," he said. While visiting the high school last year, he was offended by the off-color graffiti on buildings and in the parking lot, Bertramsen said. "I asked teachers what kind of control they have over students and it seems their hands are tied. I'd like to know why," he said. Bertramsen is past president of the Lincoln County Sheriff's Posse.

Mike Morris
Age 49, Position 2
Owner Mountain Pest Control
Wife: Karen Morris
Four children
BS in Psychology

His eight years on the Ruidoso School Board and 16 years as a banker should provide the experience needed to help guide the board in the upcoming four years, Morris said. He is concerned about the district's student drop out rate and feels that more staff interaction with students could help them develop a commitment to finishing high school.

Parent involvement also is a necessary ingredient for a successful school system, he said. Parent advisory groups serve a vital function in that area. The board relies on its teachers and administrators for guidance on maintaining a progressive curriculum and an open line of communication is mandatory, Morris said.

"The board must continue with our district mission of ensuring that all children can learn," he said. "In the end that is what multicultural education should be about."

Kent W. Beatty
Age 33, Position 3
Cree Meadows Country Club & Ruidoso Downs Race Track
Single, no children

As a candidate for the Ruidoso School Board, Beatty strongly endorses the proposal to create an off-campus instructional center in the village.

If elected, he would work to resolve differences that have surfaced between the administration and the Mescalero leaders by attempting to improve communications, he said. He also would try to continue to improve the quality of the staff and facilities by hiring the "best" people and pursuing a progressive building plan, he said.

"I've been involved with our schools for a long time," Beatty said. "I deeply care about our kids and their futures. I will encourage open communication with parents, teachers and administrators on all school issues." His involvement with the district includes serving as a school golf coach and helping in money-raising activities.

Rosemary Gann
Age 44, Position 3
Owner Dial Electric Company
Husband: Ray Gann Jr.
Three children
Associates Degree

Gann's three children were active in sports and earned honor grades, and as they attended school, she became acquainted with the Ruidoso school system. Her business and construction experience, as well as her exposure to dealing with the public and employees, should be valuable serving on the school board, Gann said.

She is a strong supporter of an off-campus college-level instructional center. Gann said she would work to establish better communication by visiting the schools to talk to teachers and students. One of the major issues facing the district is to improve the rate of student graduation, she said.

But Gann said she is up to the challenge and optimistic. She said children "must be taught to use their minds to think, as well as to learn facts and figures."

Ronnie L. Hemphill
Age 36, Position 3
CPA
Wife: Terri C. Hemphill
Two children
In district 11 years
BBA in Accounting

As a CPA with past government auditing experience, Hemphill said he would bring to the Ruidoso board an ability to understand the budget process and to read financial statements. Spending in various areas of the educational program should be examined not from a nationwide or statewide perspective, but from the community's perspective, he said.

Education does not stop with book knowledge. Moral and social values also should be taught. Teachers are role models by example. Their attitudes, appearances and ethics are important, Hemphill said. Proper communication of board policies on sensitive issues is mandatory for community understanding. He said board members must be strong enough to stand against attempted manipulation by special interest groups.

Hemphill has served on the chamber board of directors, with the Sierra Blanca Handicap Skiers Board and is president elect of Rotary.

Capitan, Position 3
Terry L. Cox
 Age 41, Position 3
 Water Div., Capitan
 Wife: Linda K. Cox
 Two children
 In District eight years
 High school graduate

Cox advocates a common sense approach to the operation of the Capitan school system and pledged to keep an open mind about issues. One of the main issues facing the district is a proposal to construct a middle school to separate those students from elementary and high school-age students.

Cox said as a board member, he would research the need and if it is justified, he would support the proposal. He would work to guarantee that same high level of education for other students that his children received in the district, he said. Cox would encourage the development of programs to ensure that all students have a chance to join in extra-curricular activities. They provide motivation and keep children busy, he said.

Cox is a second lieutenant with the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department and a volunteer coach at the high school.

Capitan, Position 3
Thomas R. Trost
 Age 42, Position 3
 Fort Stanton,
 director social services
 Wife: Ruby Montoya Trost
 Four children
 In district 15 years
 BA in liberal arts

The past six years as a Capitan School Board member have been a valuable learning experience for Tom Trost. He'd like to continue to apply what he's learned on the board and at various state seminars to the problems facing the school system.

The district needs more classroom space. One of the ways to ease the crowding and allow sixth to eighth graders separate facilities would be the construction of a middle school, he said. The computer lab needs to be expanded to keep up with technology. The district should push to involve all students in school functions to enhance school spirit, he said. Trost's wife has been employed by the Capitan school system for the past 10 years.

Trost is a member of the American Legion and serves on the Foster Care Citizens Review Board for Lincoln and Otero counties.

Capitan, Position 4
Kenneth A. Cox
 Age 44, Position 4
 Corrections Department
 Wife: Joyce M. Cox
 Four children
 In district 18 years
 BBA

Cox wants to stay on the Capitan School Board another four years to follow through on improvements in progress, he said. That future role is assured since he is unopposed in his bid for re-election.

Cox said he supports the continued updating of equipment in the computer lab program to ensure that students can compete in the computerized world outside school. The board must remain sensitive to students who fall into different levels of comprehension and may need special academic material, he said. Cox favors continued financial assistance for extra-curricular activities such as drama and mock trials.

"The main criteria for a board member is to keep an open mind," Cox said. He also brings to the board a background in construction.

Capitan, Position 5
Jack A. King
 Age 35, Position 5
 Owner construction company
 Wife: Wynn King
 Two children
 In district 10 years
 BS degree in agriculture

King worked as a high school teacher and coach for three years before starting his own construction firm in 1982. His background in education and his three years on the Vocational-Agricultural Advisory Board would be valuable in dealing with issues facing the Capitan district, he said.

King would work with administration to give equal emphasis to all aspects of student education, blending sports and academics. He would like to see a policy established for maintenance and improvement of facilities. King was president of the Lincoln County Fair Board.

Capitan, Position 5
Robert Sims Jr.
 Age 72, Position 5
 Retired Air Force
 Wife: Sally S. Sims
 No children
 In district six years
 High school graduate

Sims said he entered the Capitan school board race because he thought it would be a challenge and a way to stay active. He has formulated no platform because as a board member he would need time to sift fact from fiction before taking any action, Sims said.

He would support the current administration, unless something occurred that caused him to doubt its effectiveness, he said. "When you hire someone, you should let them do the job. If they don't do it to your satisfaction, they should be replaced," Sims said.

Board members must be sure that their administrators have the necessary information to offer solid recommendations on all aspects of the systems operation, including hiring, he said.

Vote! Tuesday, February 5

Carrizozo, Position 5
J.C. Richmond; Age 58, Position 5
 Juvenile Probation Off.; Wife: Clairetta Richmond; 2 children
 In district 12 years; BA Social Studies and MA, School Admin.

With 20 years of experience as a teacher and elementary school principal, Richmond believes he would come to the Carrizozo School Board well equipped to meet its challenges. Some of the challenges the board faces are declining enrollment, ongoing curriculum development and a growing community dissatisfaction with the current administration.

Richmond said he would try to foster positive public feelings about the schools and to instill in students, parents and staff members that they are of vital importance to the success of the system.

"I adhere to the philosophy of the 18th century German philosopher Immanuel Kant that we are responsible for our actions," Richmond said. Each person has a moral duty to treat others as they would like to be treated, he said and he would apply that as a board member.

Carrizozo, Position 5
Omer L. "Hoot" Gibson; Age 47, Position 5
 Contractor; Wife: Linda Gibson; Two children
 In district 15 years; BS Degree

Carrizozo School Board member for the past eight years, Gibson would like to stay for another four to continue the programs and projects already started. He cites the major issues facing the district as declining enrollment, budget restrictions affecting teachers pay and the need to continue to improve the achievement levels of students.

Recruitment of industry for the community would improve the financial condition and enrollment. Better pay will allow the district to hold onto its good teachers and attract others. He will work toward that goal, Gibson said.

"I feel the only reason the board, administration and teachers are there is to promote the education of students. Their interests come first in any decision," he said. Gibson served 10 years on the Lincoln County Fair Board and as an emergency medical technician for 12 years.

Carrizozo, Position 1
Jan Barham
 Age 40, Position 1
 Homemaker, former teacher
 Husband: Gordon Barham
 Two children
 In district nine years
 BS Elementary Education

Her experience as a volunteer in the Carrizozo school system and as a second grade teacher in Las Cruces would provide an informed frame of reference for decisions, Barham said. She hopes to strengthen the community's confidence in the school system and to address issues in the framework of the needs of students, parents and school personnel.

The next four years will be especially challenging to improve the system in view of decreased enrollment and possible budget cuts, she said. Aside from those issues, children, teachers and parents are facing tougher problems than four decades ago.

"Now it is pregnancy, drug and alcohol abuse and suicide," she said, not gum chewing and talking in class. "The foundation for future living and dealing with problems of the times is molded during the school years."

Carrizozo, Position 2
Gary Hightower
 Age 43, Position 2
 Rancher,
 Mechanical Engineer
 Wife: Beth Hightower
 Four children
 In district lifelong BS in Engineering

For education to be effective, it must be a partnership between the school and the parents, and a top priority of both, Hightower said. With four children, he has that commitment and dedication, and would like to put it to use on the Carrizozo School Board.

"I think ideally, the school board members should have students in the school systems they are serving," he said. He hopes to offer a positive influence on the children and teachers by giving them the best opportunity to do their jobs. He would emphasize communication among administrators, teachers, parents and students and would be sensitive to needed changes in the curriculum.

Hightower served nine years on the Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District Board and was selected as Outstanding Rancher in 1985 by the State Association of Conservation Districts.

School Board Elections

Hondo, Position 1

Thurman Sanchez
Age 42, Position 1
Teacher at RHS
Wife: Cecilia Sanchez
Six children
In district 42 years
BA in Education

With a tight budget, but a need to expand programs to deal with changing technology, the Hondo School Board faces a tremendous challenge over the next four years. Sanchez hopes to use his 21 years of educational experience to meet those challenges.

"I will be an independent thinker but at the same time, I will be able to work as a team for the benefit of our students and our total educational program," he said. More community involvement is needed and the existing parents, teacher, student organization should be expanded, Sanchez said.

He would like to see a cooperative program established with state universities that would allow concurrent enrollment for capable high school students. Sanchez is a member of the State Industrial Technology Advisory Board and director of the Hondo Basketball Little League program.

Hondo, Position 4

Alberto G. Montez
Age 43, Position 4
Tinnie Silver Dollar Restaurant
Wife: Irene Montez
Two children
In district 20 years
High school graduate

Recipient of the New Mexico School Association's Exemplary Board Member Award, Montez is seeking re-election to the post he has held for the past six years in Hondo. The award is presented to board members who have attended all training sessions provided by the state and is a sign of commitment, he said.

One of Montez's top priorities is that the district provide the best vocational training available by seeking more money from the state. The board also needs to work on upgrading the curriculum in academic programs. It should promote a good working relationship with law enforcement agencies and institute drug awareness programs to ensure a drug free school, he said.

Montez, who currently is board chairman, said citizens and educators share responsibility for the success or failure of the school system.

Corona, Position 1

James M Parker; Age 47, Position 1; Bogle Farms; Wife: Ellen Parker; Four children; In district three years;
High school graduate

His exposure to a variety of school operations would bring a broad perspective to the Corona School Board, Parker said.

"I'm concerned that our children have a chance for higher education," he said. "A college degree today is like a high school degree when I graduated." Within the district's budget constraints, Parker said the board should examine all types of alternatives such as bringing teachers into the classroom through satellite systems, sharing teachers and cutting back to a four-day week, an experiment now underway.

Corona, Position 1

Beatrice Chavez; Age 40, Position 1; Village clerk-treasurer;
Husband: Henry Chavez; One child; In district 16 years;
HS graduate, Business school

Chavez believes her 13 years as Corona village clerk will prepare her well for the challenges on the school board. "During those years, I've associated with the state and the Department of Finance," she said. "It's given me a great deal of business background."

She decided to run for the post because she wanted to be sure every child receives a good education. "I feel a young person today has to go to college or some advanced training to really achieve something," Chavez said. "High school is just preparing them for further education."

Corona, Position 2

Jeffrey L. Wells; Age 29, Position 2; Ranch foreman; Wife: Carol L. Wells; Three children; In district eight years
High school graduate

Wells is unopposed in his first bid for election to a post on the Corona School Board. "Several former board members and business people in town asked me to run," he said. "I hope I can do some good. I feel common sense can do it more than anything."

Holding onto the bus route for the school district is a top priority, because every student is important when enrollment is less than 100. Finances are a major problem affecting the entire system including the cafeteria, Wells said.

Corona, Position 4

Jim H. Rose; Age 33, Position 4; Rancher;
Wife: Michele N. Rose; Three children; In district right years
HS grad, diesel mechanic voc-tech

Rose said he'll apply his old-fashioned values if elected to the Corona School Board. "When it comes to money, I think I can do the board some good. Some up there think the state can foot a big bill, but we end up paying anyway," he said.

"They expect too much from the school. They expect the district to haul and feed the kids, sometimes twice a day. School is not welfare. The money should be spent on teachers and education, and let parents take some responsibility." Rose's wife is a teacher in the system, but he does not see that as a conflict because she was employed before he decided to run.

Corona, Position 4

Joe Allen Sultemeier; Age 36, Position 4
Rancher; Wife: Kristin L. Sultemeier; In district lifelong
Two children; HS grad; ENMU auto mechanics

With children in school, it was time for him to get involved by running for the Corona School Board, Sultemeier said. The board faces some tough decisions on whether to continue with a four-day school week to cut operational costs. The community is very divided on the issue, Sultemeier said. "It's not working as good as some thought," he said. "Especially for the younger kids, the extra 45 minutes makes them much more tired."

Hondo, Position 5

Alberta J. Sena; Age 46, Position 5; Home Health Services; Divorced, one child; In district lifelong;
High school graduate; Vo-tech Business, Bookkeeping

Concern over the management of the Hondo school system and the education of its students prompted Sena to run for a position on the school board. She would like to see more community involvement in schools.

"We have a real low parent participation in the parent-teacher-student organization," she said. "We need to get parents more concerned with the educational process." Sena, who is bilingual and knows sign language, said the board must overcome budget limitations to offer students the best possible education. Until she is a board member, she can't cite specifics, but an approach might be to better utilize the resources of the area and to squeeze more out of each educational dollar, she said.

Sena was dorm counselor at the State School for the Deaf and was involved in bilingual programs for the Roswell school district.

Hondo, Position 2

Modesto T. Chaves; Age 53, Position 2; Retired,
State Highway Department; Wife: Ursulia M. Chaves;
3 children; In district lifelong; High School graduate

Chaves has no opposition in his bid for election to the Hondo School Board. He was appointed about six months ago to finish the unexpired term of Beatrice Gomez. But this isn't his first time on the board. He previously served 12 years and then was off for about 10 years.

The main issues facing the district are declining enrollment, staff turnover and a need for student and parent cooperation, he said. Chaves said he would work with the school administration and teacher, and be a willing listener to parents and students. In recruiting new staff members, he would look for people who care about the community and are willing to stay.

His granddaughter currently attends school in Hondo. Chaves is a member of the Knights of Columbus and has served on the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Board.

Hondo, Position 4

Victoria E. Garrett; Age 36, Position 4; Former instruction, assistant and school secretary; Divorced, two children;
In district six years; Attending ENMU, elementary ed

Garrett hopes to set a good example by returning to college 18 years after her high school graduation. She wasn't idle during those years. Besides working for the school district, she was vice president of a construction company and a school volunteer.

She would like to use her talents to continue a family tradition of serving on the Hondo School Board set by her grandmother. "I'm a doer and a very resourceful person. I will search out the answers I need," Garrett said. "I want to talk to the parents who are taking their children out of our district to find out why. We may need to broaden our curriculum, but we can't change unless we know there's a problem."

The board also needs to address low high school academic scores on state tests to determine if the current curriculum covers the subjects on those tests.

Carrizozo, Position 1

Nat Palomarez; Age 52, Position 1; NM Highway Dept.
Wife: Viola L. Palomarez; Three children; In district lifelong
High school graduate

Calling Palomarez a veteran Carrizozo School Board member is an understatement in view of his 27 years on the board. But he'd like to use his experience to serve another four years.

Curbing the decline in enrollment is the major challenge facing the board, he said. Recruitment of new industries appears to be about the only way to offset the loss of about 15-20 students a year, he said. On the bright side, Carrizozo students rate in the top 15 out of 88 school districts in New Mexico on college academic entrance tests, he said.

"We must maintain the good teachers and staff because they deserve the credit," Palomarez said. All small school districts have budget problems, he said. The board must figure out how to retain its teachers and how to continue to improve its program within the confines of a tight budget.

The CONTRACT DOCUMENTS may be examined at the following locations: Otero County

Administrators Office, County Courthouse, Alamogordo, NM, (505) 437-7427
 The Trebor Group, P.C., 1100 S. Main, Ste. 10, Las Cruces, NM (505) 527-1409
 FW Dodge, 1615 University Ave. NE, Albuquerque, NM (505) 243-2817
 FW Dodge, 7500 Viscount, Ste. 106, El Paso, TX (915) 778-5097

Copies of the CONTRACT DOCUMENTS may be obtained at the office of The Trebor Group, P.C. located at 1100 S. Main, Ste. 10, Las Cruces, NM 88005, (505) 527-1409, upon payment of $50.00 for each set.

Any BIDDER, upon returning the CONTRACT DOCUMENTS promptly and in good condition, will be refunded his payment, and any non-bidder upon so returning the CONTRACT DOCUMENTS will be refunded $25.00.

/s/ Robert M. Ortiz, Chairman

INFORMATION FOR BIDDERS

BIDS will be received by The County of Otero, New Mexico (herein called the "OWNER"), at purchasing office, 1000 New York Ave. RM. 105, until 3:00 p.m., February 13, 1991, and then at said office publicly opened and read aloud.

Each BID must be submitted in a sealed envelope, addressed to the director of purchasing at 10th and New York Streets. Each sealed envelope containing a BID must be plainly marked on the outside as BID for SB-561-91, New Water System for the County of Weed, New Mexico and the envelope should bear on the outside the name of the BIDDER, his address, his license number if applicable and the name of the project for which the BID is submitted. If forwarded by mail, the sealed envelope containing the BID must be enclosed in another envelope addressed to the OWNER at 1000 New York Ave. RM. 105, Alamogordo, NM 88310.

All BIDS must be made on the required BID form. All blank spaces for BID prices must be filled in, in ink or typewritten, and the BID form must be fully completed and executed when submitted. Only one copy of the BID form is required.

The OWNER may waive any formalities or minor defects or reject any and all BIDS. Any BID may be withdrawn prior to the above scheduled time for the opening of BIDS or authorized postponement thereof. Any BID received after the time and date specified shall not be considered. No BIDDER may withdraw a BID within 60 days after the actual date of the opening thereof. Should there be reasons why the contract cannot be awarded within the specified period, the time may be extended by mutual agreement between the OWNER and the BIDDER.

BIDDERS must satisfy themselves of the accuracy of the estimated quantities in the BID Schedule by examination of the site and a review of the drawings and specifications including ADDENDA. After BIDS have been submitted, the BIDDER shall not assert that there was a misunderstanding concerning the quantities of WORK or of the nature of the WORK to be done.

The OWNER shall provide to BIDDERS prior to BIDDING, all information which is pertinent to, and delineates and describes, the land owned and rights-of-way acquired or to be acquired.

The CONTRACT DOCUMENTS contain the provisions required for the construction of the PROJECT. Information obtained from an officer, agent, or employee of the OWNER or any other person shall not affect the risks or obligations assumed by the CONTRACTOR or relieve him from fulfilling any of the conditions of the contract.

Each BID must be accompanied by a BID bond payable to the OWNER for five percent of the total amount of the BID. As soon as the BID prices have been compared, the OWNER will return the BONDS of all except the three lowest responsible BIDDERS. When the Agreement is executed the bonds of the two remaining unsuccessful BIDDERS will be returned. The BID BOND of the successful BIDDER will be retained until the payment BOND and performance BOND have been executed and approved, after which it will be returned. A certified check may be used in lieu of a BID BOND.

A performance BOND and a payment BOND, each in the amount of 100 percent of the CONTRACT PRICE, with a corporate surety approved by the OWNER, will be required for the faithful performance of the contract.

Attorneys-in-fact who sign BID BONDS or payment BONDS and performance BONDS must file with each BOND a certified and effective dated copy of their power of attorney.

The party to whom the contract is awarded will be required to execute the Agreement and obtain the performance BOND and payment BOND within ten (10) calendar days from the date when NOTICE OF AWARD is delivered to the BIDDERS. The NOTICE OF AWARD shall be accompanied by the necessary Agreement and BOND forms. In case of failure of the BIDDER to execute the Agreement, the OWNER may at his option consider the BIDDER in default, in which case the BID BOND accompanying the proposal shall become the property of the OWNER.

The OWNER within ten (10) days of receipt of acceptable performance BOND, payment BOND and Agreement signed by the party to whom the Agreement was awarded shall sign the Agreement and return to such party an executed duplicate of the Agreement. Should the OWNER not execute the Agreement within such period, the BIDDER may by WRITTEN NOTICE withdraw his signed Agreement. Such notice of withdrawal shall be effective upon receipt of the notice by the OWNER.

The NOTICE TO PROCEED shall be issued within ten (10) days of the execution of the Agreement by the OWNER. Should there be reasons why the NOTICE TO PROCEED cannot be issued within such period, the time may be extended by mutual agreement between the OWNER and CONTRACTOR. If the NOTICE TO PROCEED has not been issued within the ten (10) day period or within the period mutually agreed upon, the CONTRACTOR may terminate the Agreement without further liability on the part of either party.

The OWNER may make such investigations as he deems necessary to determine the ability of the BIDDER to perform the WORK, and the BIDDER shall furnish to the OWNER all such information and data for this purpose as the OWNER may request. The OWNER reserves the right to reject any BID if the evidence submitted by, or investigation of, such BIDDER fails to satisfy the OWNER that such BIDDER is properly qualified to carry out the obligations of the Agreement and to complete the WORK contemplated therein.

A conditional or qualified BID will not be accepted. Award will be made to the lowest responsible BIDDER. All applicable laws, ordinances, and the rules and regulations of all authorities having jurisdiction over construction of the PROJECT shall apply to the contract throughout.

Each BIDDER is responsible for inspecting the site and for reading and being thoroughly familiar with the CONTRACT DOCUMENTS. The failure or omission of any BIDDER to do any of the foregoing shall in no way relieve any BIDDER from any obligation in respect to his BID.

Further, the BIDDER agrees to abide by the requirements under Executive Order No. 11246, as amended, including specifically the provisions of the equal opportunity clause set forth in the SUPPLEMENTAL GENERAL CONDITIONS.

The low BIDDER shall supply the names and addresses of major material SUPPLIERS and SUB-CONTRACTORS when requested to do so by the OWNER.

Inspection trips for prospective BIDDERS will leave from the office of the Weed Post Office on February 4, 1991 at 10:00 a.m. The Pre Bid Inspection is mandatory for consideration as a responsible bidder.

The ENGINEER is The Trebor Group, P.C. His address is 1100 S. Main, Suite 10, Las Cruces, NM 88005 (505) 527-1409. Legal #7239 46(1)21,24,28,31

Just A Tab

Just A Tab stands at Oleson Ranches

After winning 15 of 32 starts, 11 stakes wins, six seconds, and five thirds, Just A Tab has been retired from racing and will stand the 1991 breeding season at Oleson Ranches near Belen, New Mexico. Just A Tab was bred in Kentucky by Domino Stud, Just A Tab is a gray, four year old son of Pass The Tab out of Zenia (Fr.) by Faraway Son. He was purchased privately, as a yearling, by owner-trainer Pat Baca of Albuquerque. Just A Tab did most of his racing in New Mexico and is still owned by Baca. Just A Tab won stakes at 2, 3, and 4, including the Santa Fe Futurity, Santa Fe Derby, and Red Earth Derby-NJA at Remington Park for nine furlongs, in 01:45.4. In 1988, as a two year old, Just A Tab won La Esperanza Futurity-0 and won Santa Fe Futurity-0. That year he had six starts, four wins, and one second. As a three year old in 1989, Just A Tab won Zephyr Breeders' Cup, Ruidoso Downs Budweiser Breeders' Cup, United States Derby, Santa Fe Derby, New Mexico State Fair Handicap, Earth Derby and Remington Green Handicap. With 11 starts, nine wins, and one third Just A Tab earned $220,423. In 1990 Just A Tab won the Kit Carson Breeders' Cup and the Clyde Tingley as well as making 32 starts and completing 15 wins, six seconds and five thirds. Just A Tab earned $451,045 in 1990. Just A Tab will stand the 1991 breeding season at Jack A. Oleson's Oleson Ranches near Belen, New Mexico. Oleson Ranches is already producing, Kinross and stakes winner, Paris Song. Just A Tab is already at Oleson Ranches. He was shipped to the ranch after finishing third in both of his last two starts - at Remington Park in the Remington Park Sprint Championship H. and the Remington Green H. on the grass. He will stand the 1991 season for $2,000.

AQHA sponsors PCRA, WPRO programs

For the second consecutive year, AQHA is involved in a sponsorship program with the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PCRA) and the Women's Professional Rodeo Association (WPRO) to recognize outstanding horses competing in timed events. These horses are selected by top AQHA and WPRO contestants and are considered to be superior in their events.
Charmayne Rodman's American Quarter Horse Gills Bay Boy, also known as "Scamper", was elected the top barrel racing horse for 1990. This marks the second year the Gait, Calif. duo has won the title.
Also returning for second year honors was Doc Bee Quick as the steer wrestling horse of the year. Larry Ferguson of Waco, Texas, owns this American Quarter Horse.
Power Key, owned by Johnny Edmonds of Mansfield, Texas, was the recipient of the 1990 calf roping title.
Phil Lyne and Mack Yates of Cotulla, Texas, own the 1990 steer roping horse of the year, Barely Neals River.
Yellow Bar Smug, owned by Bobby Hurley of Ceres, Ca., garnered the top votes for the best team roping (heading) horse, while Jet Interruption, owned by Dennis Watkins of Taft, Ca., captured the team roping (heeing) title.
Each "Horse of the Year" was awarded $1,000 and a trophy by artist Suzann Fiedler at the PCRA Awards Banquet, Nov. 29, in Las Vegas, Nev.

See Me Gone grabs attention

See Me Gone, owned by Jean Chavers and Peter Lobato, has certainly learned how to get her supporters' attention at the start of a stakes race.

For the second time in as many futurities See Me Gone overcame a very poor start to win as the odds-on favorite.

See Me Gone used another devastating closing charge to take the grade II, $133,695 Sunland Fall Futurity at Sunland Park on Dec. 16.

Sent off as the 2-5 favorite in search of her second stakes win, See Me Gone was bumped by By A Deck and Champus at the start of the 400 yard contest. By the halfway mark she was in contention and then rallied for a neck decision.

The impressive win, which should help the filly in consideration for 1989 Champion Two-Year-Old Filly honors, came over a sloppy racing surface in a seasonal best time of 19.69.

See Me Gone also got off to a terrible start in the Southwest Classics Futurity earlier this fall at Sunland Park. In that race she overcame the poor start to post her first stakes win.

A daughter of Behold A Beduino and Reddy Investment, See Me Gone was second in th

West Texas Futurity and third in the All American Futurity.

See Me Gone is trained by J. B. Montgomery and Joe Martinez was in the saddle for the late running Sunland Fall Futurity victory.

The Sunland Fall Futurity victory was worth $66,847 and pushed See Me Gone's earnings during her first year of competition to almost $280,000.

Terry Baber's Whiz A Way Lark held the lead, however was unable to withstand the closing charge of See Me Gone and settled for second.

Willie Talley's By A Deck, who was involved in the bumping with See Me Gone at the start, was able to rally under jockey Jerry Nicodemus to grab third.

See Me Gone overcame another rough start for her second stakes win.

New hot line is really hot

It's easy to get quick results. Just dial 589-8989. That's the new Sunland Park hot line.

The new equipment can handle three incoming calls at a time. It went into service at the start of the current season, and before the number had been publicized plenty of calls were pouring in . . . as many as several hundred a day.

The number is operational around the clock.

Stakes & handicaps at Albuquerque Downs

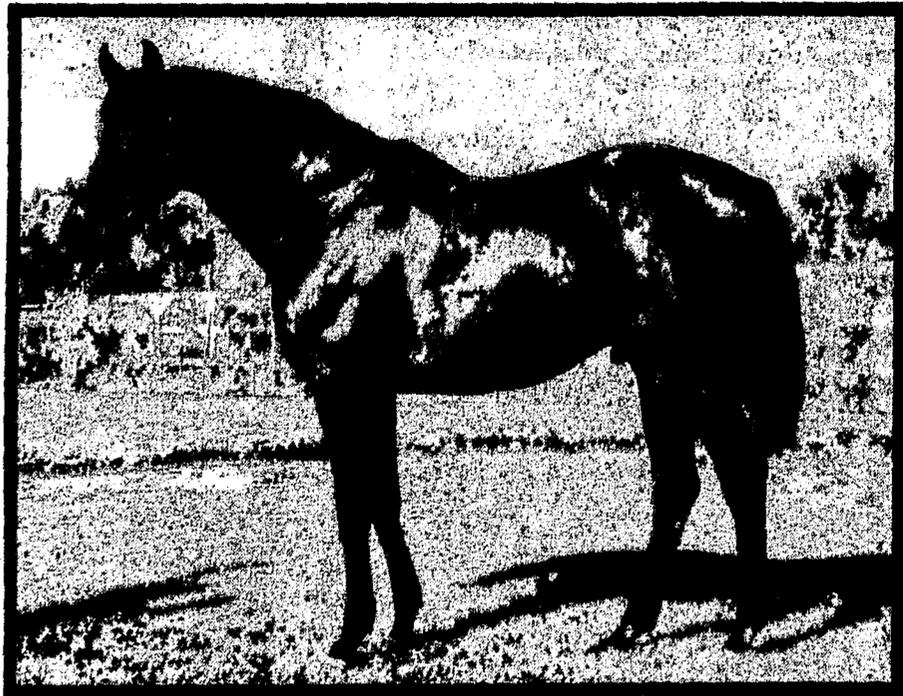

The upcoming events scheduled at The Downs at Albuquerque are set for Sunday, Jan. 20, Bernalillo, $10,000 added, three-year-olds, 350 yards.

On Sunday, Feb. 10, Sparkling Moolah, $12,500 added, three-year-olds, Registered New Mexico Bred, 350 yards.

Also, on Sunday, Feb. 24, Aspen Purse, $10,000, four-year-olds and upwards (no fees), six furlongs.

Horse racing terminology made easy

The following list is terminology used most frequently in horse racing circles.

Across the Board - Three bets—win, place and show—on one horse.

Added Money - Purse money with which tract management supplements stakes posted by owners and breeders.

Allowance Race - A non-claiming race for better quality horses in which published conditions stipulate weight allowances according to previous earnings and/or number of type of victories.

Also Eligibles - Horses entered in a race that will run only if one of the designated starters is scratched.

Also Ran - Horse that finished out of the money.

Backstretch - Straight part of track on far side; stable area.

Bandage - Leg wrapping.

Baseball - Daily-Double play in which bettor couples a horse in one race with all horses in the other; "wheeling."

Bear In - Run towards the inside rail rather than straight.

Bleeder - A horse that suffers from respiratory stress and bleeds after intense exertion, e.g. a race.

Bloodline - Pedigree.

Bolt - To abruptly alter course and head off in a different direction.

Breakage - Difference between true mutuel odds and lesser, rounded amounts given to winning players. The resultant millions usually are divided between track and state.

Breezing - Running with the rider exercising some restraint, usually during a morning workout.

Broodmare Sire - Male horse whose female offspring become good broodmares.

Bull Ring - Small track, because of sharp turns.

Call - To announce progress of race for purposes of official result charts (chart-caller); to describe race to audience; stage of race at which running positions are recorded, like "stretch call."

Caulks (or "calks") - A type of racing plate (horseshoe) frequently used when the racing surface is muddy. Caulks have cleats which improve the horse's footing on an "off-track" or on the grass.

Claimers - Horses which run primarily in claiming races.

Claiming Races - A race where horses entered can be purchased or "claimed" for a designated price by any licensed owner or trainer residing at that track. The most common type of race, constituting approximately 70 percent of all races run.

Clerk of Scales - Weighs riders and tack before and after race.

Daily Triple - A wager whereby the better must select the winners of three consecutive races.

Dam - A female parent of a horse.

Dark Horse - Underrated animal that wins or has good prospects of winning.

Deadheat - When two or more horses reach finish wire simultaneously.

Declare - To scratch out of a race before the draw.

Derby - Stakes race for three-year-olds.

Disqualify - To lower horse's actual finishing position by official act after deciding it interfered with others during race, or carried improper weight or was drugged.

DRF - The Daily Racing Form.

Entry - Two or more horses owned by the same interest, entered in the same race and coupled in the wagering.

Exacta - A wager whereby the better must select the first and second place horses in exact order in a single race.

Exercise Boy - Rider in training workouts.

Fast Track - Dry, hard strip on which horses run fastest, a track at which typical running times are relatively fast by comparison with most other tracks.

Field - All entrants in a race; two or more outside horses coupled in the wagering when starting more than 12 horses in a race.

Form - Of a horse, current condition; Daily Racing Form.

Furlong - 1/8th of a mile.

Futurity - A stakes race for two-year-olds with a prepayment schedule.

Gelding - Altered male horse.

Hand - Four inches of equine height.

Handicap - A race contested by better quality horses in which the Racing Secretary or Track Handicapper assigns weights designed to equalize the winning chances of entrants; to study horses; records in an effort to determine the probable winner of a race.

Handily - A workout where the rider is asked for speed, rolling his knuckles on the horse's neck in a pumping fashion; a race win with little urging at the end.

Handle - Total sum bet on a race or in a day or other period of time.

Hand Ride - Urging horse toward longer, faster, more rhythmic stride by rolling hands on its neck, lifting its head at beginning of stride.

Head of the Stretch - End of the fin turn; top of the stretch.

Hedging - The art of covering the original bet by placing an additional wager to cover the potential loss of the first. An example would be buying a $2 place or show ticket to ensure a $2 win bet.

Homestretch - Straight part of the track from final turn to finish wire.

Hook Race - One which goes around the turn, anything longer than 550 yards.

Horse - Technically, any entire male aged five or more.

Infield - The area on the inner circumference of the track, where grass and jump races are run and the tote board is found.

In the Money - Finishing first, second or third.

Inquiry - When either the stewards, rider or trainer makes a claim of foul against another rider in a race.

Inside Rail - Fence separating racing strip from infield.

Interfere - Of a horse, to strike a leg with opposite hoof; to impede another horse in the race.

Jail - A 30-day period following a claim when the claimed horse must run for a price at least 25 percent higher than the price at which it was claimed.

Jockey - A race rider.

Lead Pony - Horse on which outrider escorts Quarter Horses and Thoroughbreds to the post.

Length - Eight or nine feet.

Maiden - A horse that has not yet won a race.

Mare - A female horse age four or older.

Match Race - A race between two horses, winner-take-all.

Maturity - A stakes race for older horse with a prepayment schedule.

Minus Pool - In pari-mutuel betting, a situation in which so much money is bet on a horse (usually to show) that the pool is insufficient after take and breakage, to pay holders of winning tickets the legal minimum odds of 1 to 10 or 20. The track is required to make up the difference from its own funds.

Morning Line - The track's line-maker's best estimate of the probable post time odds for each horse.

Mutuel Pool - Total amount bet to win, place or show in a race; that amount bet on daily double, exacta, quinella, etc.

Objection - Complaint by jockey that a foul has been committed.

Odds On - Odds that are less than even money.

Off-the-Board - Failure to finish in the money, i.e., 1st, 2nd, or 3rd.

Off-Track - A running surface that is rated anything other than fast.

On the Nose - A bet that horse will win.

Outrider - Mounted employee who escorts horses to post.

Overnights - Tomorrow's entries, as released by the racing secretary's office.

Overweight - Pounds that a horse carries in excess of official assigned weight, because jockey is too heavy.

Paddock - At the track, the saddling area. On the farm, a fenced pasture, generally restricted to specific types of horses, e.g. mares or stallions.

Pari-Mutuels - From Paris ("Parce") Mutuels, system invented by Frenchmen, whereby winning bettors get all money wagered by losers, after deduction of house percentage.

Parlay - A wagering technique whereby the bettor re-invests the proceeds from a bet in one race into another race or races. (It is not a wager offered by the track, rather it is a technique or betting system).

DEADLINE: Noon, Feb. 4 for February Edition

AQHA members will gather on Hilton Head

AQHA members gather March 1-6 on the picturesque island of Hilton Head, S.C., for the 1991 AQHA Convention.

Convention registration begins at 8 a.m., Saturday, March 2, and resumes again the following morning at the same time. Open meetings for AQHA's standing committees follow that same day and may be attended by AQHA members and interested parties. Following the open meetings, committee chairmen will call for closed sessions to finalize committee reports.

Each standing committee adheres to and agenda, which is mailed to committee members prior to the Convention. Included on the agenda for the standing committee meetings are a review of the past year's progress, an update on current projects, items for discussion pertaining to rule changes or amendments and various proposals which have been placed on the agenda by AQHA members or members of that particular committee. Any AQHA member or interested person, upon recognition by the committee chairman, may introduce topics for discussion.

The general membership meeting on Monday, March 4, will feature remarks from Convention speaker Dr. Carl Hurley, who is touted as America's funniest professor, and the keynote address by AQHA President Sparks Rust Jr. Rust also will name members of the Nomination and Credentials Committee, which is responsible for the selection of 1991 AQHA Directors and Honorary Vice Presidents. This is followed by the announcement of Director allocations for the coming year.

Wednesday, March 6, opens with a final general membership meeting, in which AQHA Executive Vice President Ronald Blackwell and AQHA Treasurer Lee Callaway will make their reports. Subsequently, each standing committee chairman will present a final report to the general membership for approval. The membership then determines, by vote, whether to forward each committee recommendation to the AQHA Board of Directors for action. Amendments to each report may be made from the floor, subject to a majority vote of members in attendance. Any remaining old business is brought before the Convention after committee recommendations have been voted upon.

With this business completed, the Nomination and Credentials Committee will present its report for approval. This is followed by new business, resolutions and a report of the city to host the 1997 Convention. The Convention's final item of business is the President's appointment of the nominating committee for officers and the executive committee.

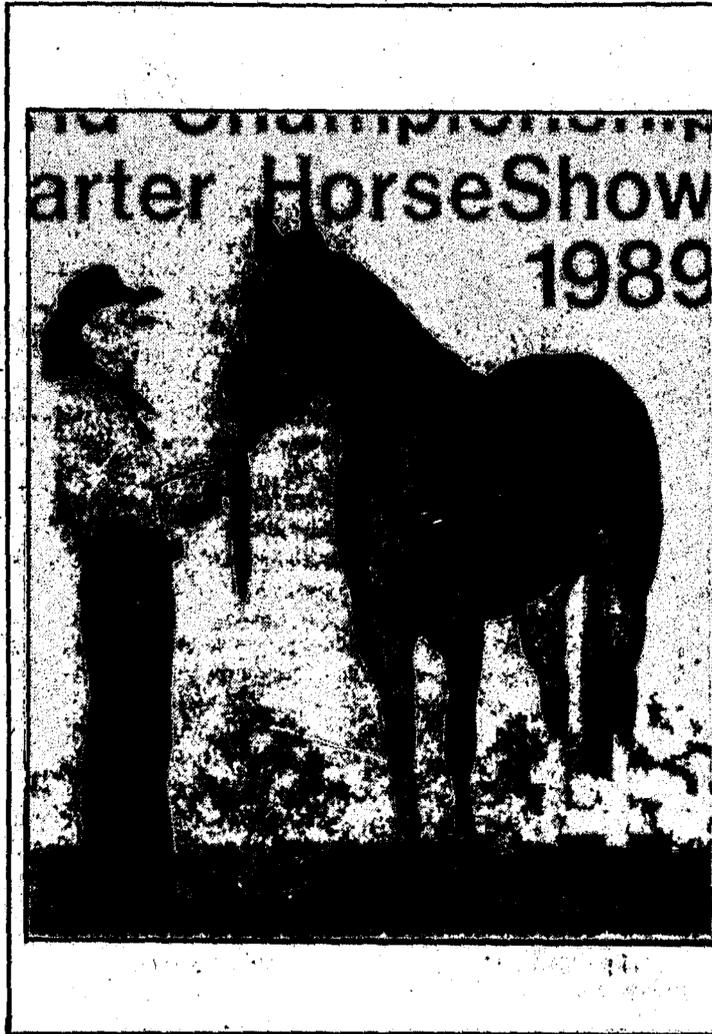

The AQHA board of directors will meet immediately after the general membership meeting, at which time committee reports and other business will be reviewed by the directors, honorary vice presidents and directors emeritus.

Other convention activities are scheduled to include a golf tournament, kick-off dinner and dance, international reception, awards banquet, Hall of Fame induction ceremony and American Quarter Horse Foundation benefit auction, quarter horse association workshop and ladies tours of Hilton Head and Savannah, Ga. Advanced tickets for all convention activities must be purchased by Jan. 25.

For additional convention information, contact Cindi Leer, AQHA, P.O. Box 200, Amarillo, Texas 79168 (806) 376-4811.

Show management schools scheduled

Show management schools have been scheduled throughout February, March and April to provide information on conducting and managing AQHA-approved horse shows.

The sites and dates for the two-day seminars include Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 2-3; Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 9-19; Wichita, Ks., Feb. 23-24; Portland, Or. March 16-17; Salt Lake City, Utah, April 13-14; and Billings, Mt. April 27-28.

The advance registration fee for each school is $25 per person, due in the AQHA office 15 days prior to the school, or registration may be completed at the school for $35. If advance registration is made and a participant is unable to attend the designated school, the fee will be credited toward a subsequent school. According to AQHA Director of Shows Dan Delaney, AQHA show management schools are recommended for anyone associated with AQHA-approved shows, including managers, show secretaries and ring stewards. The schools will cover areas from pre-show preparation to post-show evaluation, as well as provide information on AQHA rule changes and show procedures.

For more information about show management schools, contact Jackie Matthews, AQHA, P.O. box 200, Amarillo, Texas 79168, (806) 376-4811.

Post - Starting gate.

Post Position - Horse's position in the starting gate from the inside rail outward, decided by the drawing at the close of entries.

Post Time - The official time set by the stewards at which a race will start and at which horses are required to be at the gate and read to load.

Purse - The gross amount of money to be distributed in a given race.

Quinella - Form of mutuel betting in which player tries to pick first two finishers, regardless of order.

Racing Secretary - Official who prescribes conditions of races at his track and usually serves as track handicapper, assigning weights to entrants in handicap races.

Right Price - Among players, mutuel odds high enough to warrant risking a bet on a particular animal, among horsemen, odds high enough to warrant an all-out try with horse.

Scratch - To withdraw a horse from a race after it's been entered.

Sex Allowance - Weight concession that is given to female horses in races against males.

Shadow Roll - Sheepskin or cloth cylinder strapped across horse's nose to bar its vision of ground, prevent it from shying at shadows.

Shed Row - Racetrack barns; the backstretch community.

Sire - Father of a horse.

Stakes Race - A race in which the purse consists of nomination (not less than $50 and close 72 hours prior to race), entrance and starting fees, plus money added by the track itself with a purse not less than $10,000.

Starter - A horse shall be considered an official starter in a race when the stall door of the starting gate opens in front of it at the time the starter (the official) dispatches the field.

Starter Race - Races for horses which have started for a specific claiming price. Usually run over a distance.

Stewards - The three duly-appointed arbiters of racing law who judge human and equine conduct at a race meeting.

Stick - Whip; to whip.

Straightaway - Straight part of a race course; stretch.

Stretch Call - Position in stretch where call is made for charting purposes. Usually a furlong from the wire.

Tack - What goes on the horse in addition to the rider.

Tag - Claiming price.

Take Down - To disqualify a horse after it has finished in the money. Its number literally is removed from the list of early finishers.

Top Weight - Heaviest impost in race.

Tout - To give or selling betting advice; one who does so.

Track Conditions - Fast - A track that is thoroughly dry and at its best. Footing is even. Sloppy - During or immediately after a heavy rain. Water has saturated the cushion and may form puddles but the base is still firm. Footing is splashy but even, and the running time remains fast. Muddy - Water has soaked into the base and it is soft and wet. The footing is deep and slow. Heavy - A drying track that is muddy and drying out. Footing is heavy and sticky. Slow - Still wet, between heavy and good. Footing is heavy. Good - Rated between slow and fast. Moisture remains in the strip but footing is firm. Frozen - The track surface is frozen solid and unable to be maintained.

Training Track - Separate track where workouts are held.

Trial - A preparatory race; a workout in which horse is asked for speed.

Trifecta - A wager in which the winning bettor picks the first three finishers in exact order. Known also as triple.

Trouble Line - Words at end of each past performance line in the Eastern edition of the Daily Racing Form, appraising horse's effort or stating any legitimate excuse it might have had for losing.

Turf Course - A grass-covered track.

Valet - Employee who takes care of jockey's clothing, carries his tack.

Walking Ring - Oval near paddock enclosure, where horses walk and riders mount before start of post parade.

Warm-Up - Pre-race gallop.

Weigh In - Of jockeys, to be weighed with tack after race.

Weigh Out - Of jockeys, to be weighed with tack before race.

Wheel - To make either an exacta or daily double using a single "key" horse with the balance of the field or the second race.

Workouts - Serious training gallops whereby the rider asks the horse for speed. Usually run over short distances and recorded/reported by the track clockers.

Tax Supplement 1991

Tax Filing Reminders

- Write your correct social security number clearly on your tax return to avoid delay of your refund check.
- Be sure your completed tax form has enough postage.
- Double-check your math before mailing your return.
- Use the proper tax table for your income and filing status.
- Use both the peel-off label and envelope (if provided) from your tax package. Make needed address changes on the label.
- Sign and date your tax return (if filing jointly, your spouse also signs).

Since you last filed Form W-4 with your employer—

Did you:
Marry or divorce?
Gain or lose a dependent?

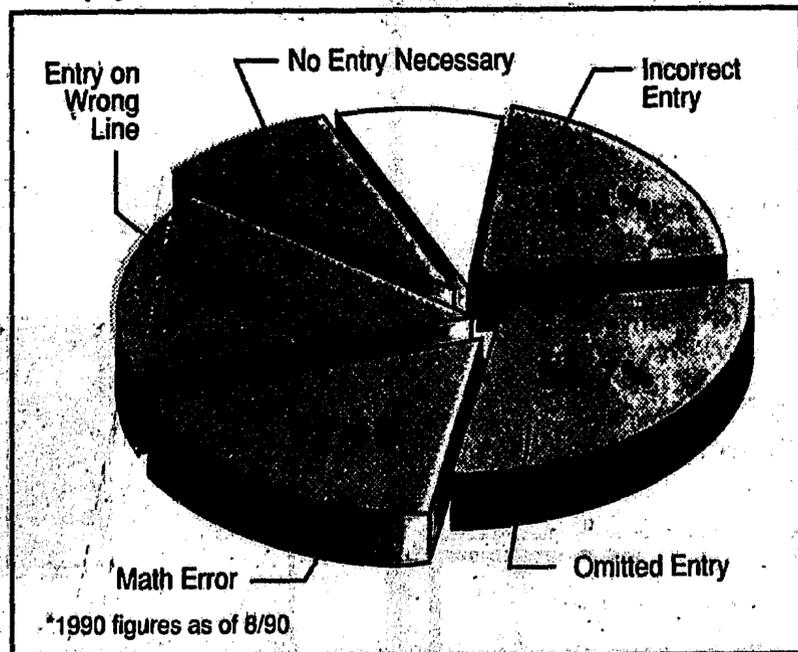

Or,
Did any of the following change?
Your nonwage income (interest, dividends, capital gains, etc.)
Your family wage income (more than one job or both spouses work)
Your itemized deductions (if a significant change)

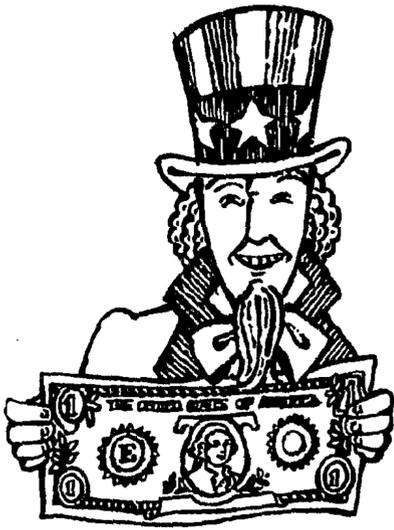

If you answered "Yes" to any of these questions or you owed extra tax when you filed your 1990 return, you may need to file a new Form W-4 for 1991. See your Employer for a copy of the 1991 Form W-4 or call IRS at 1-800-829-3676.

Now is the time to make next year's taxes less taxing. Check your withholding.

✓ Check Your Withholding!

Five Most Common Taxpayer Errors
These five most common errors make up more than half of all taxpayers' errors on their federal tax returns.

Most income is taxable

All income whether received in cash, property or services is taxable, unless specifically exempt.

Everyone knows that salaries and wages are taxed because the tax withheld is listed on your pay stub. But reimbursed moving expenses, bonuses and achievement awards may be included in taxable income. Even certain fringe benefits such as the value of the personal use of a company car should be included.

Alimony, canceled debts, bartering and other types of taxable income are covered in Publication 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income.

For free copies of the IRS publications, call toll-free 1-800-TAX-FORM OR 1-800-829-3676.

Need help? IRS conducts classes

In 1990, members of over 8000 groups and associations received help with their federal tax returns through a program called Community Outreach Tax Education. Major tax law changes, line-by-line preparation of federal tax returns and information of interest to fishermen and seniors were a few of the topics covered in seminars last year.

Convenient times and locations may be arranged through local IRS Taxpayer Education Coordinators. Call IRS toll-free at 1-800-829-1040 and ask for the Taxpayer Education Coordinator.

Don't abandon refund check

Thousands of taxpayers on the move leave behind their federal income tax refund because the Internal Revenue Service does not have their new address.

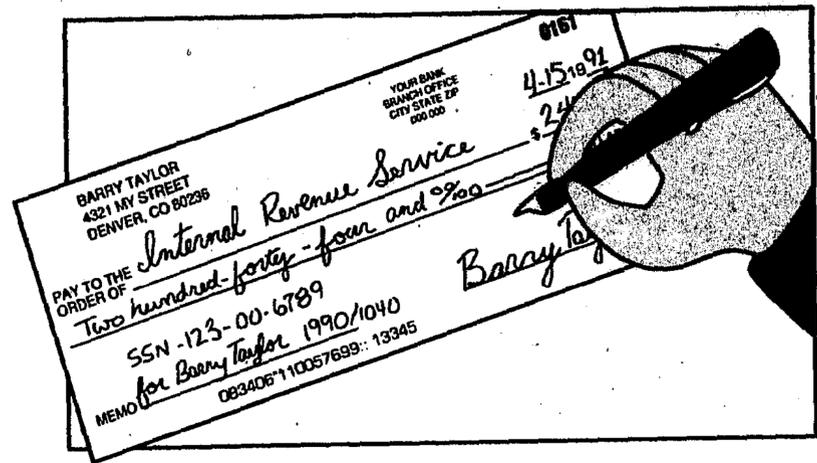

Last year the postal service returned more than $40 million in tax refund checks as "undeliverable" because there was no forwarding address.

Changing your address with IRS not only helps get your refund delivered to you, it also ensures that you will receive other important IRS correspondence. Bills or notices of tax deficiency sent to your last known address are legally effective, even if you never receive them.

If you have not yet filed your 1990 tax return and have a new address since your last year's return, correct the address on the mailing label and attach it to the return when you file it. The IRS will update your records when the return is processed.

When you move or otherwise change your address, write to the IRS service center where you filed your last return and provide them with your new address. The service centers are listed in the tax package.

To order Form 8822, "Change of Address," call IRS at 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676).

Keep that check from going astray

Thousands of checks are sent to IRS without proper identification and cannot be applied to taxpayers' accounts. Prevent your tax payment from going astray. Properly identify and complete the check with the following:

(1) your taxpayer identification number (social security number), and your spouse's number if it is a joint return, or employer's identification number if applicable,

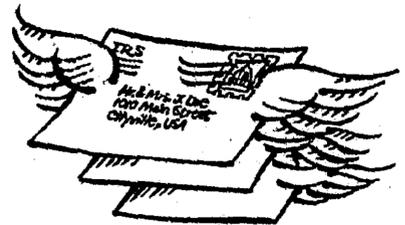

(2) the tax period (i.e., 1990, 09/90) and type of tax form associated with the payment (i.e., 1040, 941),

(3) current mailing address and daytime phone number and

(4) name and taxpayer identification number on the tax account if paying on behalf of someone else (i.e., your child).

Be sure to attach your payment to the front of the tax return. If the check is separated from the tax return or correspondence before the payment is recorded, the data included on the check will identify the payment.

From the Mail Box to Refund Check

The full cycle of processing federal tax returns.

Speed your refund with electronics

Weeks can be shaved off the wait for your refund by filing your federal income tax return electronically.

Once the IRS has accepted your return, your refund will be issued in three weeks. If you elect to have your refund deposited directly into your savings or checking account, you will receive your money even sooner.

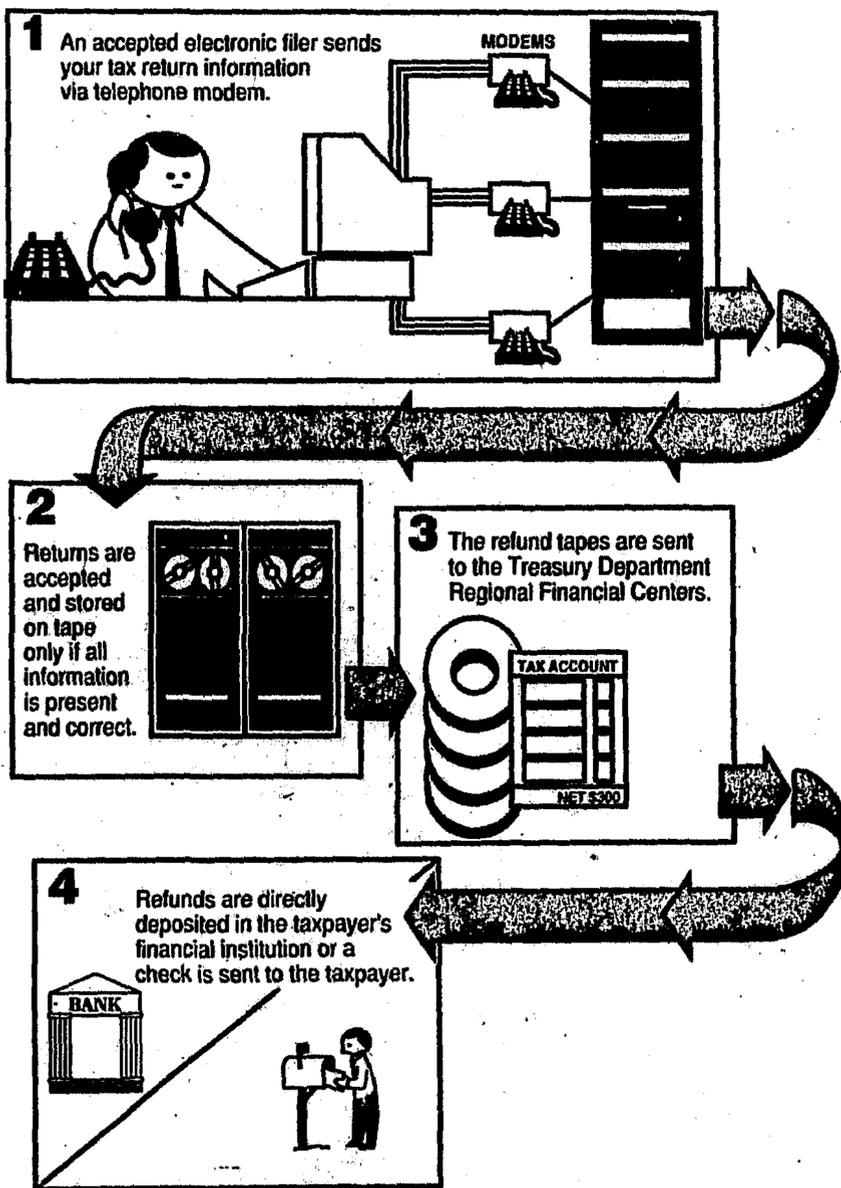

To participate in this exciting way to file your tax return, contact one of the many tax professionals in your community who are accepted by IRS as electronic filers. Most charge a fee for their services and transmission of your return.

You'll need to bring a completed tax return, copies of your Form W-2, "Wage and Tax Statement," and sign an authorization form for transmission of your federal tax return.

Four Steps to a Quick Refund

Traveling at tax time? No problem

Being out of the country may have its advantages, especially at tax time. If you are required to file a U.S. income tax return and are traveling or living outside the United States on April 15, you may be allowed to extend your filing deadline.

By filing Internal Revenue Service Form 4868, travelers can receive an extension until August 15 to file their federal income tax returns. Payment of additional taxes must accompany the request. Both Form 4868 and your payment must be filed with the IRS by April 15.

U.S. residents in foreign countries usually qualify for automatic extensions of time to file until June 17. They must attach a statement to their tax returns explaining that their home and main place of business were outside the United States or Puerto Rico on April 15.

Contributing is easy

Mark the "Yes" box on your tax return if you wish to have $1 go to this campaign. On a joint return, both you and your spouse may choose whether or not to contribute.

The contribution does not reduce your tax owed or the amount of your refund.

NOTE: Certain labels will have either a PP, SS, or PL directly under the "S" in IRS. They indicate:
 PP = Package (1st label in package)
 SS = Sack (1st label in a sack)
 PL = Pallet (1st label in a pallet)
 These are used by the USPS for control purposes.

Don't let time run out

If you're running out of time to file your federal tax return, you may qualify for a four-month extension. Remember, however, filing Form 4868, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," only extends the date you are required to file. You still must pay the federal taxes you owe by April 15, 1991. Underpayment of your taxes will result in interest and sometimes penalty charges.

To get a four-month extension:

1. Send in Form 4868 with
2. any taxes owed by April 15, 1991.

Once you are ready to file your return:

1. Use Form 1040 and remember to list any payment you made with your extension on line 58 by August 15, 1991, or
2. Use Form 1040A and write "Form 4868" on line 28d and list any payment you made with your extension by August 15, 1991.

Call IRS toll-free at 1-800-829-3676 to order Form 4868 if you need the automatic four-month extension. More information on getting extensions is explained in Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax, which is also available free from IRS.

To get your refund faster, use the preprinted label that comes with your tax package. The label contains the information IRS needs to promptly and properly process your tax return.

An illegible or incorrect social security number is one of the most common errors and slows down processing of your tax return. Your social security number, name, address and other relevant tax information are all contained on the label.

If corrections are necessary, make them directly on the label before mailing your federal tax return.

Medical expenses may be deductible

Prescription drugs or the annual dental check-up may be included in a medical expense deduction.

To deduct qualified medical expenses, taxpayers:

1. must itemize their deductions,
2. have unreimbursed medical costs that exceed 7.5 percent of their adjusted gross income and
3. have paid for the allowable medical services.

The costs of most visits to the doctor and dentist qualify as allowable medical expenses. Medical insurance, special care equipment and cost of transportation to obtain medical care may be considered medical expenses. Also, all medical payments for dependents and spouse may be included.

A record of all medical expenses should be kept so that you can decide whether there are enough expenses to itemize or to support the deduction on the tax return. Some pharmacies will provide monthly and year-end statements for charge customers that distinguish between medical and non-medical expenses. For tax purposes, receipts, canceled checks or a log are acceptable forms of record keeping.

For the specifics on medical expenses, order free IRS Publication 502, Medical and Dental Expenses. An order form is included in the tax package.

Tax credit is given for care expenses

Working taxpayers may qualify to claim a credit on their federal tax returns based on child or dependent care expenses.

Depending on the adjusted gross income, the credit could be as much as $720 for one qualifying person or $1,440 for two or more. To qualify for the credit: 1. The taxpayer, and spouse if married, must work or be looking for work, and 2. The qualifying dependent must be your child under age 13, disabled dependent or disabled spouse. There are some exceptions for students and disabled spouses.

To claim the credit, file your return on Form 1040 or Form 1040A. Married taxpayers must file a joint return. Remember, you must list the social security numbers for dependents that have reached 2 years of age and the name, address and social security number of your dependent care provider or be able to show that you tried to get the information.

Limitations, other important specifics and the calculation of the dependent care credit are in Publication 503, Child and Dependent Care Expenses. For a free copy of the IRS publication, call 1-800-829-3676.

Taxes reduced by home expenses

Taxes can hit you right where your live. But if you own your home, many of your expenses can reduce your tax bill.

Real estate taxes, mortgage interest and replacing a roof are some expenses that affect your taxes by increasing your itemized deductions or reducing a gain on the sale of your home.

Buying Your Home

Basis—Basis is a way of measuring your investment for tax purposes. It is important to know your basis when selling a home or figuring a loss as a result of a casualty. An explanation of "basis" may be found in Publication 551, Basis of Assets.

Points—You may deduct qualifying points if the loan is used to buy or improve your main home. The additional requirements that must be met to take this deduction may be found in IRS Publication 530, Tax Information for Homeowners.

Closing Costs—Your portion of property taxes paid at settlement is deductible.

Owning Your Home

Home Improvement and Repair Records—Keep receipts for your home improvements. They will be added to your basis. Repairs for ordinary upkeep such as painting or gutter repair are not deductible.

However, if you pay these costs as part of a remodeling or restoration project, the entire cost is considered "home improvement" and is ordinarily an addition to the basis.

Mortgage Interest—You may deduct qualifying mortgage interest as an itemized deduction on Schedule A (Form 1040). See Publication 936, Limits on Home Mortgage Interest Deduction, for any restrictions that may apply to you.

Taxes—The qualifying assessed property tax you pay is an itemized deduction listed on Schedule A (Form 1040). Be sure the deduction is for the qualifying assessed property tax, not the amount placed in escrow by your lender to cover property tax.

Casualty and Theft Losses—Although limited, personal property loss due to casualty or theft may be deductible. Insurance reimbursements will affect the deduction. Publication 530, Tax Information for Homeowners, discusses deductible loss and how to calculate it.

Selling Your Home

Postponement of Tax—Generally, paying the tax on the gain from the sale of your main home may be postponed if you buy a new home within two years before or after the sale and if the purchase price is at least as much as the adjusted sales price of the old home.

Selling Expenses—Selling expenses include commissions, advertising, loan charges (seller's points) and legal fees. These expenses are subtracted from the selling price of your old home in order to determine your realized gain, which is the amount you must spend on your next house in order to postpone the tax on any gain.

Fixing-up Expenses—Decorating and repairs done in order to sell your home may affect the amount of gain on which the tax is postponed, but the costs can't be deducted from actual profit. Publication 523, Tax Information on Selling Your Home, covers all the limitations to fixing-up expenses and many other tax issues related to selling your home.

Many IRS publications discuss the tax consequences of home ownership and other related issues. To order free publications and forms, call toll-free 1-800-829-3676. A few are listed below.

Injured spouse may retrieve refund

Taxpayers who have debts such as federal student loans or child support payments may have all or part of their refunds taken to offset the debt. Sometimes, not only is the debtor's refund held back, but also the spouse's.

In such a case, the "injured spouse" may file to get his or her refund back.

To be considered an injured spouse, the taxpayer must have:

- had income;
- made tax payments through withholding or estimated tax;
- reported both income and tax payments on the joint federal income tax return; and
- had all or part of the overpayment attributable to his/her income and tax payments offset to pay the spouse's debts.

A husband or wife who qualifies as an injured spouse should file Form 1040X, "Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," and Form 8379, "Injured Spouse Allocation," with the IRS.

Copies of IRS Forms 1040X, 8379 and instructions may be ordered by calling 1-800-829-3676 (1-800-TAX-FORM).

Many taxpayers who use their cars for business purposes find that deciphering federal tax laws about deducting auto expenses is like following a complicated road map.

Taxpayers who itemize their deductions may be able to deduct all or part of their auto expenses such as gas, oil, lease or rental fees, insurance, tolls and repairs if they are employee business expenses. Commuting expenses — going to and from work — are not deductible.

Taxpayers must choose the method they intend to use when calculating the deduction — either "actual expenses" or the "standard mileage rate." This election must be made in the first year the car was placed in service for business.

If the standard mileage rate is used for the first year the car is placed in service, either method of calculating the deduction can be used in later years. Special depreciation rules apply if the actual expense method is used in later years. However, if actual expenses are deducted for the first year, the actual expense method of calculating the deduction must be used in subsequent years.

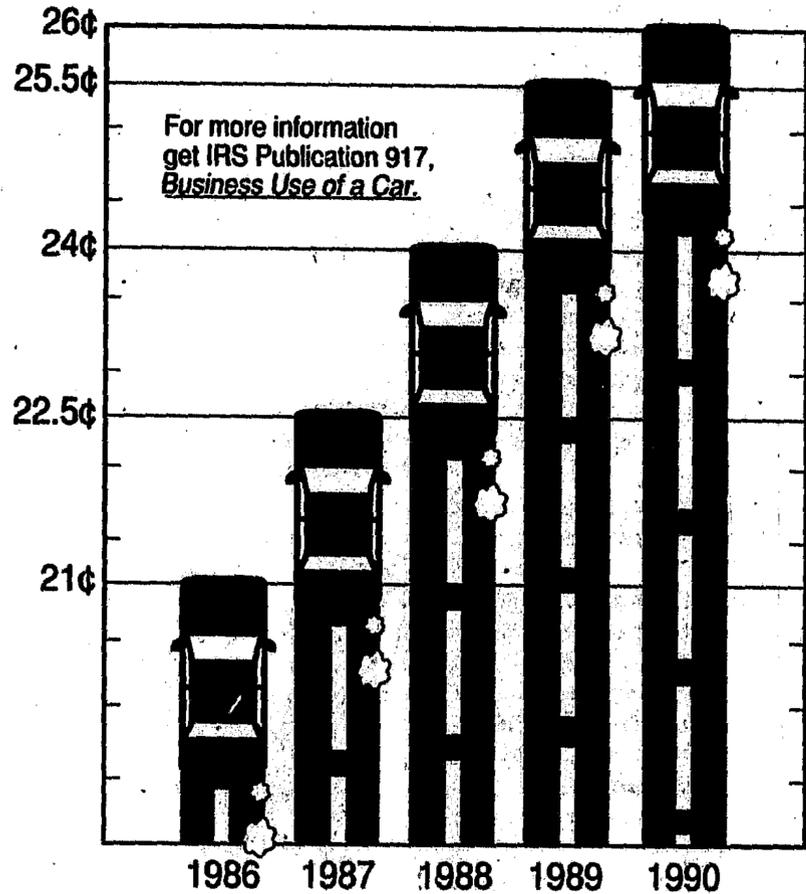

In order to use the standard mileage rate, taxpayers must (1) own the car, (2) not use the car for hire, such as a taxi and (3) not operate a fleet of cars.

The standard mileage rate for tax year 1990 is 26 cents per mile. The ceiling for using the standard mileage rate for only the first 15,000 miles has been rescinded for tax year 1990.

Report deductible expenses for business use of a car on IRS Form 2106, Employee Business Expenses.

Breakup impacts taxes

A divorce or separation changes many aspects of your life, including your taxes. Filing status, exemptions for dependents, alimony and child support payments are a few of the issues to consider.

Marital Status

Your marital status affects your filing status and influences the deductions and credits which you may claim. On the last day of the tax year, you are generally considered unmarried if you have a legal separation under:

- * a decree of divorce or
- * a decree of separate maintenance.

Claiming Dependents

Generally, you may claim an exemption for persons, such as children or relatives, who meet the dependency tests. If you're divorced or legally separated, a dependent child may be claimed by only one parent. You may claim your children if:

- * you are the custodial parent and the dependency requirements are met or
- * if you are the noncustodial parent and the custodial parent has signed Form 8332, "Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated Parents," or similar statement.

* Decrees or written agreements before 1985 have special provisions.

Income and Deductions Payments

* Alimony and separate maintenance payments must be included in the recipient's income and may be deducted from the payor's income on his or her tax return.

* Child support payments are not considered income to the recipient nor are they a deduction for the payor.

* Legal fees and court costs for getting a divorce are not deductible. However, if the legal fees included tax advice relating to your divorce, that portion may be an itemized deduction.

Withholding

Changes in filing status, exemptions and deductions impact the amount of tax that should be withheld from your pay. Review your Form W-4 to increase or decrease your withholding.

For a detailed discussion on tax topics relating to divorced or separated taxpayers, order Publication 504, Tax Information for Divorced or Separated Individuals, by calling the IRS toll-free 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676).

Everyone who contributes to an IRA enjoys the most important benefit of IRA investing: tax-deferred compounding of earnings. This can make a dramatic difference in the amount of savings available at your retirement. You can earn significantly higher after-tax returns by placing your savings in a tax-sheltered IRA.

Here are the results of a $2,000 per year investment over a thirty-year period in an IRA earning an annual rate of return of 10%, with earnings reinvested in the account.

Don't wait to estimate

You may have to pay estimated tax during 1991 if you receive income such as self-employment earnings, interest, dividends, prizes and awards.

Most taxpayers do not have to worry about estimating because tax is withheld from their paychecks all year long.

Plan to pay estimated tax during 1991 if you expect:

- * to owe $500 or more, and
- * the total amount of your tax withheld from 1991 income is less than either: 90% of the tax shown on the 1990 return or 100% of the tax shown on your 1989 tax return. Use whichever is smaller.

Estimated tax may be paid in full or in four installments. The first payment is due by April 15, 1991. Form 1040-ES contains instructions, a worksheet to figure estimated tax and payment vouchers.

When you file your 1991 tax return, use Form 1040 or Form 1040A to be credited for the estimated tax paid.

Further information about estimated tax is in IRS Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax. You may order the publication and Form 1040-ES by calling toll-free, 1-800-829-3676.

Pros come to the rescue

If you've tried to clear up a tax problem with IRS and haven't had any success, call the Problem Resolution Office. It's the job of the problem resolution officer to solve persistent tax problems.

CAN DO

The problem resolution officer can help you with:

—the status of your refund if it has been at least 90 days since you filed your return or claim for a refund and you've previously contacted the IRS.

—tax information and assistance if more than 45 days have passed since you requested help.

—notices to which you have already responded and have now received a third notice.

—problems that remain after discussing an IRS employee's recommendations or action with that employee's supervisor.

—IRS actions that are incorrect.

—suspending IRS actions if you are suffering a significant hardship.

CAN'T DO

The problem resolution officers' authority does not include:

—appealing technical determinations in an audit.

—resolving cases that involve Freedom of Information or Privacy Act requests, IRS employee conduct, personnel issues or cases under criminal investigation.

If you need the IRS "problem solvers," call the local IRS office and ask for the Problem Resolution Officer. Taxpayers with telecommunication device equipment for the deaf (TDD) may call 1-800-829-4059 to get PRP assistance.

Help for students

Many colleges and universities require information from students' tax returns and sometimes complete copies of the returns.

If students or their parents have misplaced their copies of filed federal tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service can help. It may take 45 days to get a copy of a federal tax return.

Send Form 4506, "Request for Copy of Tax Form," with $4.25 for each copy requested to the Internal Revenue Service Center where the original return was filed. Form 4506 can be ordered by calling the IRS at 1-800-TAX FORM (1-800-829-3676).

Tax account information is free. Usually within two weeks the student can receive information such as filing status, number of exemptions claimed, adjusted gross income, taxable income and income tax shown on the return. Account information can be obtained by calling 1-800-TAX-1040 (1-800-829-1040). Local IRS offices may have the forms and publications, too.

The student should allow at least six weeks processing time after a return is filed before requesting a copy or other information.

For the parent to claim a student's exemption, the student must meet certain dependency tests. Those tests are contained in this year's tax instructions and in free IRS Publication 929, Tax Rules for Children and Dependents, available by calling the IRS at 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676).

Why wait for federal or New Mexico income tax refund?

- receive your refund anticipation loan and your state refund within a matter of days
- no cash needed—all fees can be withheld from your check
- available whether we prepare your return or not

On Taxes

Who's an employee?

If you hire a housekeeper, companion or some other person to work in your home, you may be considered an employer. As an employer, you have certain tax responsibilities.

When you have the legal right to control what, where, when and how a worker performs a job, you are an employer even if you do not exercise that control. Generally, you will have to withhold social security tax from the worker's pay, pay an equal amount of social security tax from your own funds and, if the worker requests and you agree, withhold federal income tax. Some employers are also responsible for other taxes, such as federal unemployment tax and advance payment of earned income credit.

You are not liable for any of the above taxes if the individual who works for you is self-employed. Self-employed persons are in business for themselves. Someone who provides lawn care to a number of homeowners, using his own tools and helpers, would not be an employee of any of the homeowners.

Usually, workers you obtain through a private agency are not your employees. The agency is responsible for who does the work and how it is done. A nurse from a placement agency that comes in and cares for you is not your employee if the agency sets the fee and has control, such as providing rules of conduct and appearance and requiring regular reports from the nurse.

Also, if you are being cared for in the worker's home or place of business, you are generally not considered an employer.

U.S. TAX MAN "COVERS" WINNING BETS

When you visit the United States and "strike it rich" in Las Vegas or other legalized gambling areas in the United States, you may have a silent partner—the U.S. tax man. Generally, 30 percent is withheld from your significant gambling winnings at the time of your good fortune. Since this settles your tax bill with the IRS, you need not file a U.S. income tax return if this is your only U.S. income. For example, the IRS collects 30 percent from citizens of Canada, and no tax return is required. However, citizens of the United Kingdom are generally subject to a reduced tax treaty rate of 15 percent and must file a Form 1040NR, U.S. Nonresident Alien Income Tax Return, to request a refund of the excess withholding.

How Much Social Security Tax Did You Pay?

Employers withhold social security tax from wages, match the employee's contribution and report the whole amount to the Social Security Administration. Only the employee's contribution is reflected on a pay stub or Form W-2.

Calendar Years	Maximum wages subject to FICA	Employee's portion of FICA	Total FICA reported to Social Security Administration
1981	29,700	6.65	13.30
1982	32,400	6.70	13.40
1983	35,700	6.70	13.40
1984	37,800	6.70	13.70
1985	39,600	7.05	14.10
1986	42,000	7.15	14.30
1987	43,800	7.15	14.30
1988	45,000	7.51	15.02
1989	48,000	7.51	15.02
1990	51,300	7.65	15.30

Here's a one-time benefit

A lot of money and effort is invested in a home. For those 55 or older and selling their home, a tax break is available which could make that investment even more worthwhile.

A one-time exclusion of up to $125,000 of the gain from the sale of a principal residence may be taken by those who qualify.

This "once-in-a-lifetime" exclusion can only be taken by persons 55 or older on or before the date of the sale or exchange of the home. They must have owned and lived in the home for at least three years out of a five year period ending on the date of the sale or exchange. Married persons cannot exclude such a gain if either spouse has excluded a gain from the sale of a home after July 26, 1978. There are important exceptions for disabled individuals and widows/widowers.

Order IRS Publication 523, Tax Information On Selling Your Home, for more information on the exclusion and the exceptions. Call 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676) to order free publications.

Taxes and the working student

Students who have part-time or summer jobs need to think about more than what hours they should work or how to spend their earnings. High on their list of considerations should be whether to have taxes withheld.

Some of the many things which affect the need for withholding are:

* How much will the student make at this and any other job during the year?

* Does the student have a savings account or other investments which produces income?

* Does (or will) the student have a scholarship which will be partially or fully taxable during the year?

* Can the student be claimed as a dependent on someone else's tax return?

Each of these factors should be considered when students fill out Form W-4, "Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," to determine how much, if any, tax should be withheld from each pay check.

In general, a single student who can be claimed as a dependent by another person will owe no taxes if he or she:

* Does not have more than $500 in total income, some part or all of which is unearned income; or

* Is under age 24 at the end of the calendar year and earns up to $3,250 in wages, tips and taxable scholarships, provided he or she has no unearned income such as interest or dividends; or

* Is 24 or older at the end of the calendar year, has no unearned income, and earns less than $2,050.

Students who are 24 or older at the end of the calendar year and earn $2,050 or more can no longer be claimed as dependents on another person's return.

More information, Form W-4 and Publication 4, Student's Guide to Federal Income Tax, may be obtained by calling the Internal Revenue Service at 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676).
