

Construction crews begin remodeling at school

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Mounds of dirt are piled around White Mountain Elementary this week as bulldozers tear out the old to make way for the new.

A $1.3-million renovation and addition project was started last week at the school in a race against time and the weather to finish by the beginning of the next school year.

School Supt. Mike Gladden and Principal Frank Cannella said they want to assure parents that they have taken safety precautions to protect the students during this period of disruption.

"We just wanted to alleviate the concerns of parents. With all the machinery moving around, we certainly can understand," Cannella said during a tour of the school last week.

"The biggest immediate concern is the deep holes dug to install the underpinnings," Gladden said. "We plan to finish that portion of the work before spring break is over and the students return. We're trying to do everything we can for safety."

Because the school was built in a "soft" area, it needs to be stabilized. Large cracks have appeared along walls and floors as sections have settled into the yielding ground.

Deep holes are being dug every 25 feet for installation of 35-foot poles that literally are being screwed into the bedrock, Gladden explained. The poles are attached to supports tied into the building.

"A few years ago, we spent $12,000 on another corner and poured a 25-foot column of concrete," Cannella said. "This is less radical."

It's worth the confusion and mess to get started early on the construction project, Gladden said. He was pleased to see bulldozers on the job just days after Cheyenne Building Contractors was awarded the contract.

"It has created some distractions but it will be worth it to have the school ready (by the start of the next school year)," Cannella said. "The kids are great. They think it's neat seeing all the heavy equipment. We're trying to use it as a learning opportunity."

Since the third grade students are studying geology, they were briefed on the efforts to stabilize the school.

Teachers in other classes showed students blueprints for the project to illustrate the process required before construction begins.

Cannella said he appreciates the understanding of teachers and the cooperation of parents.

"This is difficult, but once it's finished, it should serve for another 25-30 years," he said. "We're not doing anything makeshift."

By May 10, work will start on the cafeteria area.

"It's too small," Cannella said. "We will incorporate the existing office area and enlarge it. The kitchen equipment is 25 years old. It will be updated and improved."

The school will serve lunch through May 10 using its own facilities, but after that date, the food will be prepared elsewhere and transported.

That same day, work will start on removal of asbestos from the school, Gladden said. After that job is finished at White Mountain, workers will move to other schools in the district that were built in the 1960-70s.

"There's no problem at the high school because it was constructed in the 1980s after the danger of exposure to asbestos was known," Gladden said. The elementary school was constructed in 1966 when asbestos was used around pipe joints and for insulation.

Gladden said left alone, the asbestos poses no danger because it is sealed.

"We've met all of the state safety standards and recently passed an inspection," he said. "It's all encapsulated, but when it is bothered in remodeling, we have to remove it."

At that point, the cafeteria will be off limits to students and employees. School should be out for the year before renovation work begins in other sections of the complex.

New construction will tie sections of the school together and provide passage under roof for students to the cafeteria, classes and administrative suite.

The administrative offices, including a conference room and nurse's room, will be added to the front of the building on the west.

"With the administrative complex at the front, the school will finally have an identity," Gladden said. "For the first time, people will know where the principal is instead of wandering around."

Four classrooms are being built around a hallway that will provide protected passage from the cafeteria building to the rest of the school. Another proposed addition to enclose an exposed area to the west will have to wait, Gladden said.

"We had hoped to enclose the whole thing, but we could only do half," he said. "At least this will get them out of the elements.

The existing school also will receive a facelift.

The ceiling will be lowered and airlock doors installed for energy conservation. New carpeting and new lights will be added. The school will be repainted and stuccoed in places.

"It will look like a new school when it gets done," Cannella said. "Everything will be up to state standards and fire codes."

To verify that students could be evacuated from the school during construction in case of fire, a drill was conducted before spring break.

Cannella said nearly 400 students were clear of the school in 59 seconds. To reduce confusion, arrows pointing out the exit route have been glued to the carpet that is scheduled to be replaced.

Another $300,000 will create a three-classroom addition to the back of White Mountain Intermediate School, bringing the total project to $1.6-million.

"That work will not be as disruptive," Cannella said. "They addition will be to the back. Our construction is right in the middle."

The intermediate school needs the extra space because the elementary school will be graduating big classes in the next few years.

"It has 200 students in one and about 190 in the other," Gladden said. "They will be moving through the system and impacting all the grades as they progress."

Two of the four portable classrooms now used at the elementary school will be retained, Gladden said. The other two may be moved to Ruidoso Middle School or Nob Hill Elementary.

The renovations were designed by Greer/SJCF, Inc. based in Albuquerque.

Commissioners could vote Tuesday on expansion plan

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

A public hearing set for 1:30 p.m. Tuesday may be the only opportunity for residents to comment on a proposed ordinance that would expand the Lincoln County Commission from three to five members.

Commissioners could vote to approve or reject the ordinance, or they could decide to schedule more hearings for additional input.

The session will be part of the commission's regular meeting that begins at 9 a.m. in the County Courthouse in Carrizozo.

County Attorney J. Robert

Beauvais said the expansion would have far-reaching consequences.

"In my mind, the most important impact (if the commission is expanded) is that the county will be separated into five districts and each commissioner will have to live and be elected within his/her own district," Beauvais said. "There would be more accountability to their district constituents."

While that might encourage parochialism on one hand, no one commissioner could push through road repairs or other projects in his district without the cooperation of the majority of the board.

Under a five-member system, no more than three commissioners would be up for election in any one year, barring premature resignations, removals or the death of a member.

"It would ensure continuity on the board," he said, noting that the last election for the commission resulted in all new board members.

And with the two-term limit on public office, an official only has four years to accomplish goals.

If the commission is expanded, the terms would grow to four years each for a maximum eight consecutive years. The longer terms also would apply to all other elected officials, such as county clerk and sheriff.

If the commission decides to expand, the county must notify the Secretary of State by December 31. To create staggered terms, that office then will determine by drawing the initial length of each position's term. Two commissioners will serve two year terms, two will serve four and one will serve six years.

"Another thing that is real troublesome is that with a three-member board, two commissioners basically can't get together for coffee because they constitute a quorum of the board," he said.

With five members, two commissioners could not swing a decision on an issue.

With a larger board, it would be more difficult to put together a political coalition that would vote as a block on multiple subjects.

One of the most mentioned negatives against expansion is the $25,000-$30,000 increase in commission salaries and associated costs. Commissioners are paid $10,000 annually.

Some residents of less populated areas also are apprehensive that the redistricting may create a situation in which all five commissioners could live in or around Ruidoso.

"The law requires that voting districts be within 10 percent of each other in population," Beauvais explained. "This is a large county, but the major population center is Ruidoso. There is obviously concern that the districts may have to dip into the Ruidoso area to balance."

Beauvais said he has been working with County Clerk Martha Proctor to come up with several different redistricting plans. But approval of the districts could wait until a subsequent public hearing.

Mayor

"Anytime you go from a little project to a bigger project, with new people going into different directions is a difficult process."

Along with new people and new input, new architects, changed concepts, negotiations of the needs of the hotel developer and councilor opinions impacted the project, he said.

"You have to give everyone a chance for input to hopefully come up with something the majority can live with," Alonso said. "It's not an easy process. It looks easy. People get angry. People say things that they don't mean. And the newspaper sometimes doesn't help. They express their viewpoints early on without a full knowledge of what the hell's going on."

"Am I pleased? Heck, yes, I'm pleased. Twelve months into it and we're still progressing. We got our money in line. We've agreed on what we want. That's progress. That's great."

But operating a center may require increases in the lodgers tax, Alonso said.

"Let me express my personal view. Yes, we do need to increase lodgers tax. I've expressed this to the hospitality association in a meeting at Swiss Chalet. I think the additional $150,000 that we would raise would go a long way," he said.

"First of all, we've got to realize that the civic events center will not be a profit making center. It will not be like water or sewer that generates funds in excess of their expenditures."

"The civic events center will generate funds distrib-municipal governments, Alonso was asked if studies were completed and if estimates were available on start up costs and user fees.

"Your question is really narrow," Alonso said. "What you really want to ask is what is the short-term and the long-term cost benefit of the Village of Ruidoso handling its own solid waste or working together? The answer involves many things that are unforeseen at this point. Plus some things that are known that will increase as costs of disposal."

While the council is very concerned about keeping individual rates as low as possible, Alonso said he believes that costs will never be as low as they are now.

"I have done some preliminary studies by taking the existing budget of solid waste, making assumptions and projecting to the total Lincoln County Area," he said. "I predict increases on the order of $2-3 dollars a month. Studies indicate an increase will be required."

"If you factor in that we are going to have to buy a landfill, that's an additional cost that we're not incurring right now."

The authority plans to pledge the annual environmental tax for the sale of bonds to finance the cost of assembling a solid waste collection system. Alonso said the authority may have to issue more bonds, up to the maximum in excess of a million dollars, or turn to other sources of revenue to cover the high expenses associated with starting its own sanitary landfill later.

According to Gene Komo who heads the solid waste department for the City of Albuquerque, some of those we're automatically going to generate additional income."

Alonso went on to say the authority has many ways of generating revenues. The gross receipts from the larger county base will generate $120,000. To get into business, revenue bonds can be issued in excess of $1-million dollars, he said.

From then on the fees that are generated can be pledged and additional revenue bonds can be issued for the purchase of a landfill, Alonso said. The authority ultimately has the power to increase property taxes up to 10 mills.

"That's a recognition that solid waste is a serious problem," he said. "We don't intend to use (millage) except as a last resort."

The authority is not interested in confining its operation to the collection of trash and garbage, Alonso said.

"We're well aware that we have to balance needs with resources. We'll address those needs without taking the easiest route, raising taxes."

"No, it's politically not acceptable in this county," he said. "The leaders in this county, myself included, want to have a say in the disposal arena. I don't think the people would want to be left at the mercy of private enterprise who can manipulate those costs at will."

"Roswell is charging 60 cents a cubic yard at their landfill. That's an artificially low cost. They're talking about increasing that cost by $1-1.50 per cubic yard."

"Waste Management in Alamogordo is charging in excess of $3 a cubic yard," he said.

"The cost of disposal is going to be in the neighborhood of $1.50 to $2 per cubic yard if you own your own landfill."

Alonso said several years ago the village had no landfill costs. "We're going to have to come up with an additional $150,000 we never had to worry about," he said.

WATER, SEWER AND ROAD MAINTENANCE

Alonso was asked if the council was going to have to restore the tax levy to its original level or higher to solve the infrastructure problems that seem to be building?

"If you assume that the tax levy was efficiently spent, I can see where you would reach that conclusion," Alonso said. He said before taxes would be increased, the council would have to be convinced that they have done everything in their power to see that costs were cut and prioritized in the correct way. He said they had not reached that conclusion.

Noting that councilor Andrews has suggested a 10 percent reduction in the next fiscal year, Alonso said, "Whether or not Ron wants a 10 percent reduction in the overall budget can be his individual goal, but that's not policy at this point."

"We're well aware that we have to balance needs with resources. We'll address those needs without taking the easiest route, raising taxes."

"In private industry you either sell more or you get more efficient. Governments are notorious for taking the easiest way out and creating additional revenues out of thin air. Private industry does not have that as an option. You work harder or smarter and we're not done doing that."

PERSONNEL OVERTIME VERSUS COMPENSATORY TIME

Alonso said he is not worried about building up too much compensatory time under the council's new approach that grants employees time off instead of overtime pay.

"I think it is working," Alonso said. "It's not been something easy to accomplish because people who traditionally receive overtime get used to it. They see that as part of their salary. To take back that overtime, resistance is natural."

"If the lack of complaints is an indicator, I would say it has been generally well received," he said. "I'm not aware of any mass defections from the work force. It's something we needed to get control of. A management tool that will allow us to operate more efficiently with less cost to the taxpayer."

He acknowledged the new system may not be a popular thing. "But we're not necessarily elected to do what's popular. We serve the electorate and what's in their best interest."

Alonso said he is satisfied with the results. "I want to stay on the same course," he said. "Time is money. There are people who value time more than money. We're in a money crunch, and should continue to use ways that allow us management options. Money is hard to come by. Time is more flexible."

uted among the community, but it won't have an identifiable source of income. One has to think of it as a center that will require subsidy."

That subsidy at the outset could be as high as $300,000, he said.

"Initially, I see the center as a money loser that will have to be financed to the tune of $150,000 to $300,000 annually," Alonso said.

The worst thing the village could do would be to spend $2-million on a facility, and then not spend the additional $300,000 to start earning a return, he said.

Alonso was sure hotel and motel owners would fight the tax, but would also listen to reason. He was hopeful that the council could come up with an alternate method of obtaining the operational money.

ON SOLID WASTE AND USER FEES

Concerning the formation over the past year of the solid waste authority, a coalition of county and costs will include start up construction, setting aside money to repay long term debts and reserving money for monitoring wells and other closing costs, a state requirement.

Additional income will be generated when a countywide population of approximately 10,000 pays user fees, he said. About 4,000 people in the county have never paid solid waste fees and they will be a new source of revenue, Alonso said.

"When you go from 6,000 customers in the Village of Ruidoso to an approximate number county-wide of 10,000, those 4,000 people out there in the county have never paid a solid waste fee. They've always done something with their garbage. The county is providing a very limited number of dumpsters. What happens to the rest of the garbage? Most of them bring it in to the separate communities and dump them into the municipal dumpsters. And they don't pay for it."

"So by enlarging from the collective municipal base,

Princess wants to be your royal pet

Some owners view their pets as possessions instead of loving and loyal companions.

When nine-year-old Princess became a problem for a local couple, they took her to the shelter operated by the Humane Society of Lincoln County.

"She was brought in by people who had owned her since she was four," said shelter manager Randy Basch. "They said they couldn't housebreak her. But for the two weeks she's been here, she never once has done anything in her pen."

"I suspect the owners were gone most of the time, leaving Princess alone in the house."

Basch said Princess, a Pekingese mix, is very affectionate and performs tricks such as sitting on her hind haunches and begging.

"She would be an excellent companion for an elderly couple or someone living alone," Basch said. "I think she may be a little old to be around a lot of running kids. And she would do best if her owner was usually home."

Princess already is spayed. The adoption fee at the shelter is $27.50. For more information, call Basch at 257-9841 or stop at the shelter on Gavilan Canyon.

Princess is just waiting at the local animal shelter to brighten the life of an elderly couple or single person who wants a loving little companion.

The Dreamer Spring comes smiling through snow

Wheeler Gayton
With the wind in the pines and spruce trees overhead, singing tree hymns, services were held at the Mescalero cemetery March 18, for Wheeler Gayton, who was called home by Our Lord on March 14.

The Reverend Bob Schut of the Mescalero Reformed Church gave a sermon based on the Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Romans: "For to this end Christ both died and rose that He might be Lord both of the dying and the Living."

The eulogy was given by Henry Stonerod, who had known Wheeler since they were children. Their paths had crossed many times in the years since both were in the military in World War II. Wheeler was in the Army Air Corp in the North African campaign.

Military Honors

A former commander of the Mescalero Post of the American Legion, Wheeler was given full military honors complete with rifle squad and color guard.

Legion members in the military services were: John Fossum, Gervase Pesa, Ray Mendez, Donovan Bigmouth and Martine Enjady of the Mescalero Post 48; Lou Gomez of Post 108 Tularosa; Homer Scott Post 34 Alamogordo; and Julius Fitzner and Lemuel Clarke of Post 79 Ruidoso.

Berle Kanseah at the graveside thanked all those present for their devotion and for bringing flowers, and expressed appreciation for the faithful service to the Mescalero Tribe that Wheeler had given for many years.

A relative from Oklahoma thanked the Mescalero people for the kind treatment they had given Wheeler during his almost 60 years of happy life on the Mescalero reservation.

The Reverend James Huse gave the message at the prayer service in the church the evening of March 17.

Pallbearers were: Vernon Scott, Gerald Rice Sr., Bruce Klinkole II, Wendell Duffy Jr., Doyle Escalanti and Simon Sims.

Honorary pallbearers were: Amos Gaines, Clarence Burma, Wilbur Parker, Henry Stonerod, Vernon Doyeto and Ringlin Martine.

Wheeler was a devoted husband and father and a faithful friend, and we rejoice that he is safe and happy with Our Lord in Heaven.

Spring Comes Smiling Through the Snow

This is being sent to you on the first day of spring, March 21. I say the first day because spring came in at two minutes after eight the night of the 20th.

In the early morning today the very finest of mist came drifting the vale, then came little white balls of sleet mixed with rain, as winter in a last visit to the vale guided spring into the mountain land. Now in early afternoon here come the large snowflakes flying down the valley, with the large apricot tree in full pink and white bloom out near the bluebird tree.

The snowflakes fall lightly to the warm ground and melt away bringing life giving moisture to the children of Mother Earth so she may bring a green and flowery day for Easter. Now the clouds drifted by, the sun shines down and spring comes smiling through the storm.

Happy Easter

This is the next to the last message to you before Easter, our Mother's favorite day. May the blessing of Our Risen Lord and Saviour abide with you as you prepare for this joyful day.

Local teen is nominated Congressional Scholar

Karen Hopko, of Ruidoso, has been chosen to visit Washington D.C. for the Congressional Youth Scholar Award.

Only two percent of students in the nation were picked to attend and Karen, a Ruidoso High School junior, was chosen by a board in Washington D.C.

The trip will cost $685 not including air fair to and from Washington D.C.

A special account has been set up at The First National Bank for any donations the community could offer to help pay for the trip. The money goes for Hopko's room and board at Georgetown University where the students will be staying during their week long program.

While in Washington D.C. she will visit the House of Representatives and meet the media who interview the president. She will also have an opportunity to visit all the monuments.

Hopko's money has to be sent in to Washington D.C. by April 15 and any donations would be greatly appreciated, said Hazel.

Obituary Fay King

Graveside services for Fay King, 72, of Carrizozo will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday, March 26, at Angus Cemetery with the Reverend Dan Wright of the Church of Christ in Carrizozo officiating.

Mrs. King was born August 26, 1918, in Hope, New Mexico. She married Mack King on March 15, 1937, in Roswell, and the couple moved to Lincoln County in 1940. They spent 33 years with the O-Bar-O Ranch.

Survivors include her husband, Mack King of the home; daughters, Linda King and Maxie LaMay of Carrizozo; and Nancy Mendheim of Alamogordo; and a brother, Son Mitchell of Hagerman.

She is survived by grandchildren: Billy LaMay, David LaMay, Kimberly LaMay, Jennifer Hoeve and Jay King; and great-grandchildren, Claudia Hoeve, Monica Hoeve, Britney LaMay and Courtney LaMay.

The family suggests memorials to Home Health Services of Lincoln County.

Arrangements are by LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Ruidoso.

TOM BATTIN

Veteran banker named Ruidoso State prexy

Ruidoso State Bank board chairman, Phillip Mote, announces the election of W.T. "Tom" Battin as president and chief executive officer of the bank. Battin was in his office a week ago today to greet customers.

Battin is a veteran banker from Eastern New Mexico and West Texas. He came to Ruidoso from the Plains National Bank of Lubbock, Texas, where he was president. He also has served as a senior executive officer of banks in Clovis, Roswell and Albuquerque.

Battin and his wife, Jaunice, are not strangers to the Ruidoso area. They have maintained a second home here for many years.

Battin says he and his wife are extremely pleased to make their permanent home here and look forward to becoming involved in the Ruidoso and Lincoln County community.

The new bank president is a graduate of Texas Tech University and the Southwestern Graduate School of Banking at Southern Methodist University. His wife is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University with a degree in elementary education. The couple has two adult children, Rhonda Battin McLeod of Lexington, Kentucky, and Kevin Battin of Monterey, California.

Battin has been very active in civic affairs, as has his wife. He has served on three hospital boards, in Lubbock and Roswell.

He has been a member of the President's Council at Texas Tech and has served on the Tech Foundation Board. He was a trustee of the West Texas Museum and was chairman-elect of the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra.

A Rotarian, he has been active in the Chamber of Commerce and in United Way. He was a supply officer in the Navy with the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

Mote says the board is extremely pleased to have a banker of Battin's experience and background, as well as his identification with this area. Mote says the bank has made excellent progress and that the board of directors is "most optimistic about the opportunities represented here by the improving economic conditions and positive business trends."

Ruidoso State is the largest and oldest bank in the area.

Mote invites everyone to come by and meet the new bank president.

River trail progresses

Little opposition has been encountered in requests by the Village of Ruidoso to survey river property with a view toward creating a river trail along the Rio Ruidoso.

John Shaw, engineer and surveyor in a letter to Cleatus Richards, planning administrator for the village, makes that report.

The river trail system is a part of downtown renovation planned through Main Street Ruidoso. Sponsors believe such a trail would enhance the quality of life in Ruidoso and would draw more visitors to the village.

"Property owners continue to be contacted by telephone. Well over one-half of the owners have been contacted, and to date we have only one objection to the River Trail Project. One other owner we know objects, but has not yet been contacted," Shaw wrote.

Aerial surveys flights were made recently, Shaw reported.

Accessories are feature of new shop

Cynthia Williams has one of the most attractive shops in the village after a complete remodeling job and upgrading, including shadow box displays all along one wall.

Williams has been getting ready for her grand opening today of Accessory Street, featuring ladies accessories from A to Z, literally.

Williams had been involved with ladies apparel and accessories for nearly eight years. She has lived in Ruidoso for six years and was associated with Emerald Isle, ladies boutique.

Accessory Street will stock hats, sun glasses, purses, belts, in fact, everything imaginable in the way of accessories.

Williams came to Ruidoso from Las Cruces.

And she's given the old Buckhorn Barber Shop building a facelift like you wouldn't believe.

Hours will be 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The phone number is 257-4193. Check it out.

Ronnie Paulger (right), president of the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County, presents Don Shaw with a president's gavel at a recent meeting of the EDCLC board of directors. Shaw is now president of a bank in Springer and was manager of Pioneer Savings and Trust in Ruidoso. Immediate past president of EDCLC, Shaw was one of the founders of that organization.

Business workshop is last one

Location is in the Business Assistance Center Library on the Eastern New Mexico University campus.

A final workshop on how to sell to the government, including Cannon and Holloman Air Force Bases, is set for 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., March 26.

Economic Development, By George!

The area financial picture is looking good

Over the last few months this columnist has attempted to build a case for two very important points.

First, that the economic future of this county is very bright indeed, and second, the organization known as the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County stacks up in its performance with the best and in some cases the oldest off economic development efforts in other communities.

Those of you who read the Ruidoso News already know that I am resigning from my position as executive director of the EDCLC to pursue my own business interests. I cannot miss the chance to let the taxpayers of Lincoln County know what the inside scoop on the EDCLC really is.

The first bombshell is, that there are a number of the directors of the corporation who are involved in a love affair. Yep, now you know and it's all in the open. The love affair that generates so much passion on the part of the directors, is with Lincoln County. They are passionately serious about making this a better place to live.

We have directors like Hal Sims and Scott Shafer from Carrizozo who must have driven to Ruidoso at least one hundred times, frequently at 6:30 a.m. to attend executive committee meetings. Dorothy Smith and Pat Huey of Capitan have also made many trips to faithfully attend meetings. The advice and council from these fine representatives of the counties smaller communities has been invaluable.

Buddy Bundick and Don Shaw have provided the inspiration and served many volunteer hours (and a lot of lost sleep) as directors and each has served a stint as president of the organization. As the executive director I could not have picked bosses who are so completely supportive and helpful as these two outstanding individuals. Both have moved on to larger responsibilities and opportunities but they have left their mark. This county is far better off for their efforts.

EDCLC's current president, Ronnie Paulger, has been right here all along lending his support and wisdom as a director. Ronnie is in for a tough year, facing the hiring of new staff and another year of uncertain funding. He needs the support and assistance of city and county officials so that this very valuable effort can continue.

And there are other directors who have contributed greatly. To name only a few, Cindy Lynch, who served as director and secretary during the formative years and Frank Sayner who, as treasurer, has dedicated many hours to working with the corporation's books and making reports to his fellow directors. Roy Crocker served as a director and not only contributed computer equipment to the EDCLC but also provided invaluable assistance in computerizing the accounting records.

Gallery notes 10th anniversary

Warrior tracksters take aim at personal bests

by CHUCK STALLINGS

Ruidoso News Sports Editor
Ruidoso High School track team competed with 10 3-A, 4-A and 5-A teams over the weekend and 14 Warriors placed in events at the Carlsbad Relays last Saturday.

With this first Warrior meet, all members of the track team start with a clean slate, with goals each week to achieve a personal best.

Coach Ronny Maskew, who always seeks the toughest competition he can find early in the season, had his Warriors pitted against some of the biggest schools in Texas and New Mexico. The meet included teams from Odessa Permian, Midland Lee, Hobbs, El Paso, El Paso Austin, Goddard, Lovington, Jal, Carlsbad and Artesia.

Steve Dankert, fielding Warrior power, fired a dart in the javelin, traveling 164.9 feet for a first place win over the field.

Ryan Wright also finished a high sixth in the crowded field, hurling the spear 130.10.

Long legged freshman Eric Evans ran a sensational second in the 110 hurdles with a blazing 15.4.

Senior Nick Nanz, who keeps improving every race, finished third in the highly competitive 3200 meter run with a strong 10:21 run.

Gilbert Kayitah also received highmarks in the 3200-M with his fifth place finish and a time of 10:24. Only three seconds separated third and fifth place.

Nanz also grabbed fifth place honors in the 1600-M run with a time of 4:45.7, a sub-5-minute mile pace.

Chris Torres, who has been plagued with injuries throughout his high school sports career, ran a healthy 200-M dash at 23.35.

Other events and Warrior bests were: Kief Johnson, shot put, 34-10; Ron Wright, shotput, 32-4; Cisco Knox, shotput, 26-11; Saul Mendez, high jump, 5-6; Chris Torres, long jump, 17-4; Steve Dankert, long jump, 17-9; Jason Dix, longjump, 18-7;

Anthony Torres, long jump, 17-3; Eric Evans, 300M hurdles, 43.4; Jaspm Dix, 300M hurdles, 45.9; Heath Huey, 300M hurdles, 44.96; Saul Mendez, 800M run, 2:22; Anthony Torres, 800M run, 2:13; Randy Cox, 800M run, 2:45; Kief Johnson, 100M dash, 12.27; Jorge Marquez, 100M dash, 11.9; Jason Dix, 110M hurdles, 18.5; Chris Salas, 200M dash, 24.5; Gilbert Kayitah, 1600M run, 4:58.96; John Norbury, 1600M run, 5:18; Faustino Miranda, 3200M run, 10:59.

The Warrior relay times were: 400M relay, 45.7; 800M relay, 1:37; 1600M medley relay, 3:59 and the 1600M relay, 3:44.

Boys team results were: 1. Midland, 93; 2. Hobbs, 62; 3. El Paso, 45; 4. El Paso Austin, 40.5; 5. Goddard, 40; 6. Lovington, 39; 7. Jal, 31; 8. Carlsbad, 24.5; 9. Ruidoso, 24 and 10. Artesia, 21.

GIRLS RESULTS

Nine Warrior girls finished in the money at Carlsbad and the team finished fifth amid schools 3-4 times their size.

A lighter Missy Gosdin skimmed the 100M high hurdles for a second place and the great time of 16.5.

Luis Tam, showing speed in the distance runs, kicked her way home to a second in the 1600M run at 5:49.

The Warriors top endurance girl was Stephanie Haas who edged Tam by three seconds to grab second place honors in the 3200M run with a time of 12:21. Tam ran a 12:24 for third. Maskew has to be pleased to have two strong runs in this highly competitive distance race.

Long legged Jody Randle catapulted herself over the high jump bars at 4-10 for a fifth place.

Missy Gosdin's 50.45 in the 300M hurdles earned her a fifth place.

Sarah Dix shows great promise in the long jump and placed sixth with a fine 15-2. Dix is a freshman. Maskew was ecstatic that she did this well against all the seniors from the big schools.

Other girls results and the personal goals they will try to beat were: Monica Martinez, shotput, 29-4.5; Jolene Magee, shotput, 22-1; Kami Bailey, high jump, 4-6; Kim Floyd, high jump, 4-6; Monica Martinez, discus, 79-7; Kerry Cumberly, long jump, 13-10; Andrienne Ames, long jump, 14-9.75; Sarah Dix, 100M high hurdles, 19.48; Natasha Mulqueen, 100M dash, 14.0; Trini Langworthy, 100M dash, 16.29; Gail Floyd, 100M dash, 16.2; Rachelle Holstein, 200M dash, 28.9; Amy Randle, 200M dash, 29.8; Stephanie Haas, 1600M run, 5:58.4; Erin Russel, 800M run, 3:12.

Relay teams results were: 400M relay, 54.1; 800M relay, 1:54.4, fifth place; 1600M medley relay, 4:57.06 fifth place; 1600M relay, 4:32.21.

Girls team results: 1. Odessa Permian, 89; 2. Midland Lee, 77; 3. Odessa, 55; 4. Hobbs, 37; 5. Ruidoso, 28; 6. Carlsbad, 24; 7. Artesia, 21; 8. El Paso, 19; 9. Goddard, 11; and 10. Lovington, 8.

Warrior shotputter Monica Martinez, above, shows off the look and the form that is destined to win a host of gold medals during this year's track season. The high jumper below shows fine promise at clearing the bars, but will have to work a bit on the form necessary to walk away with a ribbon.

Golfers slice 45 strokes off game

The Ruidoso High School golf team played in its final scrimmage of the year before the regular-season tournament schedule begins Friday, April 1, at New Mexico Military Institute's golf course in the NMMI Invitational.

The Warrior team shot 345 in great golf weather, knocking a full 45 shots off last week's scrimmage in El Paso.

Individual scores included: Nathan Baudo, 83; Aaron Ford, 84; Jason Hightower, 88; Matt Cantu, 89; Robert Sayner, 90; Jimmy Varnadore, 96; Marc Beatty 96; Scott Christiansen, 106 and Scott Stricklin, 123.

In the girls division, newcomer Shannon Hathcock shot 96; Valerie Rankin, 111; Aimee Reynolds, 116; and Tabatha Parnell, 139.

"I thought we played pretty well. I know if we improve 45 shots in our next tournament, we'll have a great golf team on our hands," Warrior assistant coach Kent Beatty said. "Nate (Nathan Baudo) didn't play as well he can and we'll have Jeff (Chapman) back next time, so we should improve 10 or 15 shots in Roswell," Beatty said.

"I'm really pleased with our first timers Scott Christiansen, Scott Stricklin and Tabatha Parnell. All of these kids just started with the golf team and their scores were very good for their first time around the track," Beatty said.

The Warriors are off this week for spring break, but will return with a busy schedule next week with tournaments on Monday at Lovington (JV), Friday at Roswell (varsity and JV), and Saturday, here (JV).

The Ruidoso Warrior Benefit Scrambles have been a huge success according to Beatty.

Section B

Editorial

Governor Bruce King has declared March 1991 as "Be all you can be as a drug-free high school graduate month." What a great time, just before high school proms and graduation festivities, to remind young people that being drug-free is a viable choice.

Ruidoso parents of graduating seniors already have taken steps to ensure that the Ruidoso High School Class of '91 will have that choice.

Project Graduation was started last year by a group of parents, and a new group has taken up the project for this year. Those parents plan to throw an all-night drug-free celebration, complete with good music, foods and door prizes to entice Ruidoso grads.

High school graduation is a big deal and a very good reason to celebrate. Project Graduation wants seniors to know that there are lots of ways to celebrate, and the best parties don't end with fuzzy thinking, unsafe driving and passing out; and they're not followed the next day with a hangover.

Project Graduation is soliciting donations to help make this year's graduation party the biggest and best ever. Planners want to send graduates an invitation to a party they won't want to miss.

Businesses and individuals can help by making a donation of cash or merchandise; parents can help by encouraging their graduates to attend; seniors can help by speaking up for the safe, sane, drug-free choice.

To learn more about Project Graduate, contact Carla Swanner, 378-4231, or Linda Long, 257-7748.

Let's help our graduates be all they can be — drug-free on one of the most important nights of their lives.

Reporter's Round

Enough is enough of kicks and things

Wham! Wham! Wham! Kick-Kick! Wham! Kick! Wham! Wham! Kick!
I've got it memorized. The sequence shown nightly of the LA Police disciplinary action. The first hundred times was an R-rated horror. Now it's simply a PG skier flying crazily off the ramp, the agony of defeat. Too bad the footage wasn't closer and less grainy. The networks could have shown it in slo-mo. Whaaaaaaam! Whaaaaaaam! Kiiiiiiiick!

Teenagers are into some kind of weird sadistic activity that few people know about. You can never catch them at it, but it demands such exertion that their knees seem to break through perfectly good blue jeans. Just look around you. Hundreds of blue jeans with ripped knees. Expensive jeans. I know it's not from work.

"How did you rip those jeans in the knees?" You can ask.
"It just wore that way," they'll insist, even though the rest of the jeans look in pretty good shape.

In a half a century of wearing blue jeans, I never had the knees to wear out.
Maybe Levy Strauss just doesn't make jeans like he used to. And mine never cost more than $5.

Last night, while my son was asleep, I patched those perfectly good jeans. Imagine how happy he will be when he finds out. Maybe I should have used a dark thread.

Video gambling didn't pass, even though we've had a form of legalized gambling in Ruidoso for years. It's called insurance and the house is usually called an agency.

You place your wager and the house bets that you won't have an accident with your car. They usually win, but you keep giving them money anyway. The state insists, if you want to drive a car.

With a little luck and erratic driving habits, an accident is likely. You win, but you lose. The house pays off. The state says, "Play again or else!" This time you have to double your bet for the same stakes. Go figure.

You can change houses, but you must play - even if you don't have any money. There's lots of variations and you wouldn't believe some of the house rules. Remember, if you win, you lose. It's enough to make you reconsider gambling.

Insurance is not a popular form of gambling because it's more fun for the house.

And the odds would favor the gambler more with a $2 wager on the slowest nag that trots the turf at Ruidoso Downs.

You have to appreciate positive thinkers like Norm Wright. Norm is the Warriors basketball coach who was concerned about the winter sports banquet.

"Why?" I asked.
"It's scheduled for the same time as the state finals."

"So?" I asked again. The Warriors at that point were rock bottom in district, and 0-8 in games won.

"I know you might not think it, Chuck, but we still got a chance to make the state," he said.

"Norman, you haven't won a game."

"I know."
"You started the season with only 12 players, and six of them quit."

"I know."
"You've been blown out of the gym by teams most of the year."

"I know, but you should have seen us at our last game against Socorro."

"Norman, you lost that game too."
"Yes, but we played good enough to win. And if we played that well against Deming, who knows? And if we beat Deming, I believe we could beat Oñate and that would put us in the district finals against Silver, only one game away from playing in the state tournament."

You know, the man was convincing. He believed he had a chance to win the state with practically no players and a disastrous record.

The next game we played after that conversation was the first district game we won all year.

When we lost the next game in district tournament, it almost seemed like an upset.

New Mexico Perspective

Legislature's tax orgy is an outrage voters will remember

by RALPH LOONEY

Albuquerque Tribune Columnist

Outrageous! That's the best one-word description of the New Mexico Legislature's performance this year.

What else can you call it when our lawmakers seem hell-bent to raise every tax in sight in a time of severe economic recession?

At this moment they have sent legislation to the governor that will cost New Mexico taxpayers nearly $66 million in extra taxes!

Nor does it seem to matter to the Legislature that New Mexico is already among the nation's poorest states, with an average per capita income of $13,191. Or that it's also one of the most heavily taxed.

New Mexico's income tax is in the top bracket and ranks with New York State, where per capita income is $20,540!

Our gross-receipts tax is among the highest in the country as a percentage of personal income. It ranks No. 3. It's also among the greediest of taxes, tapping sales of services including food and medicine, which are exempt in most states.

Gov. Bruce King campaigned successfully on a pledge of no new taxes. He proposed a budget apparently with that in mind.

So the governor's solid Democratic majorities in both houses have busily occupied themselves with eliminating exemptions. Of course, this still results in a tax hike on those who previously had the tax break.

The Legislature has concocted a formula designed to avoid raising state taxes by raiding local government treasuries, which will force local governments to raise their taxes.

A joint Senate-House committee that was supposed to draft a compromise revenue-raising plan last weekend wound up boosting the original package by $20 million.

One big gouge would force local governments to pay gross-receipts taxes on all equipment and other goods they buy except for education, health, hospitals and food.

Bill Fulginiti, executive director of the New Mexico Municipal League, says New Mexico cities will be forced to enact at least $10 million in new taxes this year to cope with the potential loss in 1992.

But that's only for openers. The Legislature also passed a law to charge additional fees for collecting and distributing local taxes. This will cost cities about $2.2 million and counties $200,000.

Another zinger will take away one-eighth of one percent of gross-receipts tax collections, now distributed among cities, effective July 1, 1992. This will cost cities — and ultimately the taxpayers — about $18 million.

But in its beneficence, the Legislature also decreed that cities will have authority to impose another one-eighth of one percent municipal gross-receipts tax in two stages.

This, says Fulginiti, will raise property taxes by $16 million statewide. In all, Fulginiti estimates the ultimate cost to city taxpayers at $65.8 million!

The Legislature also is tapping business to the tune of $10 million, eliminating a provision that allowed them to carry back losses to past years and receive refunds on returns.

Investors will be hit by eliminating the personal income tax exemption for interest earned from state municipal bonds. The loss will be about $6.3 million.

The Legislature took the actions behind closed doors Sunday in a House Senate conference committee meeting. The tax measures have been sent to Gov. King.

As eager as the Legislature appears to be to stick it to taxpayers, it is equally ready to spend their money.

The Senate Finance Committee last week added about $43 million to next year's proposed budget. One item was $750,000 to maintain a monument in Rio Arriba County honoring Juan de Oñate, the state's first governor — a monument that doesn't even exist.

Taxpayers must wonder if Gov. King allowed the Legislature to stage this $66 million rip-off of New Mexico taxpayers when he pledged no new taxes.

It isn't too late for taxpayers to tell the governor exactly how they feel about this rip-off in a time of deep recession. I'm sure he'd like to hear from you. His number is 827-3000.

Eat, drink and feast your eyes at Connoisseur Classic III

A champagne brunch is the newest addition to the annual Connoisseur Classic, sponsored by the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce.

The brunch will be catered by the Hummingbird Tearoom in Ruidoso, and champagnes by Domaine Cheurin and Moyer Champagne Company will be poured.

Gallery exhibitions will be a feature during the brunch, grand tasting and Saturday night ball.

The festival of fine food, art and wines will benefit the Children's Hospital of New Mexico, Family Crisis Center of Lincoln County and the Retirement Services Committee of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce.

The grand tasting, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Friday, April 5, will feature more than a dozen vintners pouring excellent wines. Guests will be treated to hors d'oeuvres, catered by Blue Goose in Ruidoso, as they try the fine wines and view the gallery exhibits.

Gourmet luncheons will bring together the area's finest restaurants with visiting vintners at noon on Friday and Saturday.

Tinnie's, located on U.S. Highway 70 just east of Ruidoso Downs, will be joined by Teyala Winery from Lubbock, Texas, on Friday.

La Lorraine, located in Midtown Ruidoso, will host Domaine Cheurin on Friday and Llano Estacado on Saturday.

The Bull Ring will be paired with Anderson Valley Vineyards on Friday and with R.W. Webb Winery on Saturday.

Cree Meadows Restaurant's menu will be complemented with wines by Moyer Champagne Company on Friday and by Blue Teal on Saturday.

Inn of the Mountain Gods in Mesalero, joining the line-up of fine restaurants for the first time this year, will serve wines from Domaine Cheurin on Friday and R.W. Webb Winery on Saturday.

Change's in Capitán will be joined by Arches on Friday and Moyer on Saturday.

Mountain Bayou will serve Blue Teal wines on Friday and Arches on Saturday.

Blue Goose will be joined by Anderson Valley Vineyards for a Saturday luncheon.

The InnCredible will have wine by Pheasant Ridge.

Vintners pouring for the Grand Tasting from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Friday will include those from all the lunc-cheons as well as Las Escaradas from 8:30 p.m. Saturday until 11 p.m. Sunday, will welcome spring Cordier Estates, Inc. (Ste. Genevieve Wines) of San Antonio, Texas; Sabinal Vineyards with a non-alcoholic wine from Bosque; and Tularosa Vineyards.

Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow, the Springtime Celebration, 698, Ruidoso NM 88345.

Tickets for any or all events are available at the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, PO Box 698, Ruidoso, NM 88345.

"I have been a member of the RAC since it opened in 1984. For me, a good aerobic workout is one of the best forms of stress release. Although aerobic exercise has changed over the years, the RAC has been constant in maintaining highly qualified instructors who offer the latest techniques and levels of aerobic exercise. Aerobics is my favorite of the many activities available at the RAC. IT'S GREAT!!!"
