Mescaleros take their case to county

Commissioners hear plans for N-waste storage feasibility study

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

In an effort to calm the fears of their neighbors and to win backing, representatives of the Mescalero Apache tribe Tuesday answered Lincoln County Commission questions about a controversial proposal to store nuclear waste on the reservation.

Tribal Council Secretary Frederick Peso pledged to keep the county informed of any new developments. He pointed out that the tribe has only embarked on a first step, applying for a $100,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Energy to study the feasibility of a temporary monitored retrievable storage facility (MRS) for spent nuclear fuel rods.

POSSIBLE SWAP

During questioning by the commission, Peso and representatives from two consulting firms acknowledged that the 450-acre site may end on Indian-owned land, but not necessarily on the 460,661-acre reservation adjacent to Ruidoso and Lincoln County.

Consultant Miller Hudson from Pacific Nuclear Systems, the builder of containment casks for spent nuclear fuel rods, said the tribe has been approached about swapping land around Hobbs with an agency such as the Bureau of Land Management.

But it's too early to talk about specific sites, Peso said. It could take more than one year for the initial study.

The site finally recommended will require about 450 acres for an above-ground storage pad, offices and rail access, said Jim Tollison, program manager for the consulting firm of Science Applications International Corporation.

THE SITE SEARCH

The Department of Energy (DOE) has not been successful in the past finding sites for these temporary facilities Tollison said.

A negotiator was appointed by the U.S. Office of Nuclear Waste to line up some agreements for Congress to approve or reject. That negotiator, David H. Leroy, sent out letters in May to all governors and tribes, which are sovereign entities.

"He was hoping some would see the opportunity and step forward. The Mescalero were the first," Tollison said. The DOE has set aside more than $1-million for grants to be awarded through December.

"It's important that everyone understands this is a safe and clean industry," Tollison said, noting that he has been working with the Mescalero for more than one year on projects.

A MRS is needed to hold the overflow of nuclear waste from electricity-generating plants for up to 50 years until a permanent facility at Yucca Valley in Arizona is ready, possibly the year 2010, Tollison said.

County attorney J. Robert Beauvais said the federal government has targeted reservations because it should be easier and faster to get a facility approved there than to persuade states to approve plans.

Tollison agreed. "They have fewer people and more control over their destinies," he said.

Beauvais questioned why "if it's just for 50 years" the spent nuclear fuel rods could not be spread across 34 states at the more than 100 pond-type and dry facilities onsite at nuclear generating plants.

Tollison said since some of those plants might close, the government wants the waste gathered into one or two storage areas for better monitoring.

Bizarre Bazaar beckons ghoulies

The words is out on what will happen October 31 for children of Lincoln County.

Children 12 and under will participate in the Bizarre Bazaar from 3 to 4:45 p.m. Halloween day in fun activities being planned for them by MainStreet Ruidoso.

The location is the former Ski West Center now known as Le Claire's Mountain Village.

Activities will include a costume contest following the activities at Sun World Savings, 2713 Sudderth.

Judging will be for The Most Grotesque, The Best Witch, The Most Inevitable, The Scariest, The Prettiest and The Best Walt Disney Character.

Activities at Le Claire Mountain Village will include bobbing for apples, face painting, haunted house and free balloons.

Children may trick or treat MainStreet merchants who will have Halloween goodies on hand for them.

LTC turns down call a call for accountability

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Jay Francis of the Ruidoso Lodgers Tax Committee (LTC) asked Tuesday for a system of accountability in receiving due bills to be paid. He was flatly turned down by the rest of the committee.

In a recent Ruidoso Village Council meeting, Francis was asked to bring more detail when asking for approval for plans and money.

In line with those instructions, when Commission Chairman Mark Doth submitted the Phil Price Advertising Agency's bill for the All American Festival, Francis asked for invoices or verification of the bill.

Francis said that everyone couldn't afford an advertising agency and that other applicants asking for money submitted an invoice. He said there was a need for consistency in submitting bills and that invoices (tear sheets or affidavits) from the media placements of ad agencies should be attached to an advertising agency's bill to prove accountability.

Doth, who works for Ruidoso Downs Race Track, said that Price, also used by Ruidoso Downs, was a reputable firm.

Francis said it wasn't a matter of an ad agency like Price being reputable, but of being consistent with all requests in requiring a system for accountability.

"We ask the chamber to turn in invoices for everything they've done. I think we need to hold the consistency," Francis said. "We don't need $17,000 worth of invoices, but $5,000 worth of invoices from newspapers or radio for our files (because LTC voted to approve only $5,000 for the All American)."

Doth said it wasn't necessary to prove such accountability with ad agencies. Board member Patricia Morrison agreed and Francis's request was overruled.

Francis asked if the All American had been a success. He said a report summarizing the event was to be submitted.

Doth asked Morrison to read the written report from Price.

Overall, the 1991 All American Festival went extremely well. We are looking forward to an even bigger 1992," said Morrison reading from the report.

The report, however, differed slightly from Morrison's reading. It actually read, "We are looking forward to an even bigger budget in 1992."

The first course of action for the Lodgers Tax Committee (LTC) that evening was to recess and move to go into the Regional Advertising Board (RAB).

Betty Beachum, new member of both the Regional Advertising Board and Lodgers Tax Committee, was introduced. About an hour and several hundred explanations later, RAB adjourned and moved out of recess back to LTC. At that point, several visitors noted they could have cared less.

Village attorney David Thomsen was brought in to explain the various steps needed to request and receive approval and money from the Village Council.

About half an hour later, the commission began to wade through the agenda.

The agenda long and rambling meeting began to wear down several visitors. After an unrelenting battery of questions, vague answers and introspective hypothesizing, several visitors could stand it no longer and left.

The village clerk, who by law had to stay at the meeting, reported Wednesday that a request for funds for the chamber of commerce and the New Mexico Connection, a business venture of Nancy Radziewicz, would be brought before the Village Council at the next meeting.

The Downs drafts dog agreement

by AL STUBBS
Ruidoso News Business Editor

Ruidoso Downs trustees will vote in two weeks whether to enter into a joint powers agreement with Ruidoso regarding animal control in the Downs.

A rough draft of such an agreement was provided trustees at a meeting, Tuesday night, a regular meeting postponed from Monday until Tuesday because of the Columbus Day holiday.

Under terms of the proposed agreement Ruidoso Downs would compensate Ruidoso $700 per month for its share of the cost of animal control operation. Animal control is farmed out to the Humane Society of Lincoln County currently by the Village of Ruidoso.

Ruidoso Downs Mayor Bonnie Addy pointed out the savings that could be realized from not having to pay a salary and vehicle expense for an animal control officer per se in Ruidoso Downs.

With the savings, she said, the Downs could afford a code enforcement officer, a position which had been eliminated because of budget restrictions at a prior trustees meeting.

Trustees approved advertising for bids for razing the old village hall. No bids were received from anyone who might want to raze the building for salvage.

Trustees were advised that certain roads have been rejected for co-op road work due to the inability to obtain full and complete right-of-way cleared.

Not meeting width requirements are Palo Verde, .2 of a mile; Turkey Canyon, 1; Burke Lane, 2; Thompson, 1 and North Lane, 2.

Approved for co-op road money were North Parnell, 3; Hilltop Drive, 1, and Wood Lane, 1.0.

Trustees approved a request for sewer service from Palo Verde residents. The line would run from manhole 26 on Allison Lane down Palo Verde 700 feet to Manhole 17 on Harris Lane. Three residences would be served.

Denms Riddle, maintenance superintendent, advised trustees that the return in revenues would average about $125 per month with a yearly total of $1,500. Initial cost would be about $900.

Riddle was presented a citation by village clerk Maurice Gudgel for superior service to the village the past year.

Trustees adjourned into closed session at 8 p.m. to discuss personnel matters.

WEATHER REPORT

Wednesday's low.....31

Wednesday's high.....74

Thursday's low.....35

Thursday's predicted high.....near 80

Friday's low.....upper 30s

Friday's high.....middle 70s

According to Ruidoso meteorologist Bill Hostetter, the weather for today will be sunny and warm. Tonight will be fair and mild. Friday will be fair to partly cloudy and not quite so warm. Precipitation probabilities are zero percent today and tonight and two percent Friday.

Precipitation totals year to date, 10.86, minus 1.20; month to date, 0.05, minus 0.75. The outlook for Saturday through Monday, Fair to partly cloudy with temperatures above the normal low of 30 degrees and high of 65.

From the Almanac: Ruidoso's maximum temperature of 70 degrees on Wednesday was the warmest ever recorded for October 10; the previous record was 70 degrees in 1987.

Regional ad board races the clock

by AL STUBBS

Ruidoso News Business Editor
The race continues to get Ruidoso advertising efforts on track.

"The races are getting shorter," Joan Bailey told other members of the Regional Advertising Board at a regular meeting of RAB, Tuesday afternoon. Bailey is chairperson of the Visitors Promotion and Service Committee of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Bailey told members that her committee will be meeting with ski shop owners and others today at 5:30 p.m. to get input into what needs to be done to promote the winter season in Lincoln County.

Pat Morrison said RAB needs to start immediately on planning spring and summer events advertising.

She also said planning should be done currently to map out promotion and advertising for the next entire fiscal year.

Mark Doh, chairperson of RAB, introduced a new member, Betty Beachum, who replaces Rex Beatty who resigned from the Lodgers Tax Committee and consequently from RAB. LTC members automatically serve on RAB.

Beachum accepted the treasurer's job on RAB, a position held by Beatty.

Advertising of Ruidoso seasons and events got a late start this year because of the creation of RAB by the Ruidoso Village Council and the demise of the Chamber of Commerce Advertising Committee.

Procedures now call for RAB to approved advertising and promotion plans created by the Chamber Visitors Promotion and Service Committee. Advertising funding proposals must be approved both by LTC and the Village Council. Those unfamiliar procedures take time.

RAB member Jay Francis said RAB must have more detail from the promotion committee on newspaper advertising "inches" and costs.

"We're going to give you dollar amounts," Bailey said.

Member Jerry Watts said it's difficult to be too specific until an "agency review" is complete.

Four advertising agencies were being considered for handling "creative aspects" of advertising for the village and Chamber.

A decision was to be made today on what agency's proposal will be accepted. The agency accepted will be retained on a "job-by-job" basis but will be an "agency of record" on a year-to-year basis. RAB members discussed trade shows, printing of additional Ruidoso brochures, how brochures will be distributed and other aspects of promoting the events and seasons in Ruidoso.

The board approved a bill for $562.76 for New Mexico Connection. Nancy Radziewicz, who has New Mexico Connection, attended a trade show in Monterrey, Mexico, this month and distributed literature from a booth promoting Ruidoso, the ski area and individual clients.

The money will come from $2,300 earmarked for trade shows. RAB adjourned and the members of the Lodgers Tax Committee were convened at the LTC.

That group had the job of affirming some of the actions taken in the RAB meeting.

Ruidoso Village Council set to meet with Wendell Chino

The Ruidoso Village Council is meeting with Mescalero President Wendell Chino at a special workshop meeting this morning, Oct. 17, in the village chambers.

The workshop was called late Wednesday by Mayor Victor Alonso to discuss possible future storage of high level nuclear waste on the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation.

A representative of the Mescalero Tribe has discussed the possible grant application of a feasibility study for the storage with the county commission Tuesday.

Buy a red ribbon to raise funds for drug free schools

Members of the Peer Assistance League and Indian Club at Ruidoso Middle School, along with Ruidoso Rotarians, are raising funds for the red ribbon campaign Oct. 18-26.

Tickets, $2 each, will give the purchaser a red ribbon and a chance to win two season ski passes or a $500 shopping spree at either Bennett's Shur-Sav or at Brunell's. The winning ticket will be drawn during the Warrior football game Friday, Oct. 25.

According to Rotarian Bert Brunell, all proceeds will go to the red ribbon campaign for your drug free schools.

Crimestoppers tip solves rash of vehicle vandalism cases

If you're missing a hood ornament off your car, it might be in the custody of the Ruidoso Police Department.

Sgt. Lanny Maddox reported Wednesday that several juvenile suspects have been arrested and referred to juvenile probation officer Jane Parnell in connection with 12 to 15 cases involving missing or stolen hood ornaments. Maddox said in some cases vehicles were damaged when the hood ornaments were removed.

He credited the Ruidoso Middle School Crimestoppers program with solving the rash of vandalism and thefts, and added that several unclaimed hood ornaments are at the Police Department.

Winter recreation hours set

Winter hours went into effect this week for all recreation areas in the Organ Mountain northeast of Las Cruces.

The Dripping Springs Natural Area, including La Cueva Picnic Area, will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. Hikes on the Dripping Springs Nature Trail must begin before 3 p.m. for visitors to complete their hike and be out of the area on time. The A.B. Cox Visitor Center will continue to remain open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Aquirre Spring Campground Area, including the Pine Tree Trail and eastern one-half of the Baylor Pass Trail, still are closed to the public due to recent storm damage. The western one-half of the Baylor Pass Trail is open to the public. Repairs to the campground and trails are underway and the campground is anticipated to reopen by mid-November.

Cakes, pies and cookies are needed for Carnival Night

Ruidoso Care Center Auxiliary is asking for donations of baked goods — cakes, cookies, pies and cupcakes — for Carnival Night.

The Center also is seeking canned goods and homemade goods to be sold in the Community Store during the annual Halloween fundraiser and country party.

Call Sandy Dutchover at 257-4565 or bring them to Ruidoso Care Center by 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 24, Carnival Night.

Downs Trustees delay action on annexing roads

Ruidoso Downs trustees delayed action on annexing Spring Road during a regularly scheduled meeting, Tuesday night.

The plan originally was to annex the county portion of the road (the east half) and residential property along the road.

Half the road is in the county and half in the village. The county apparently has requested that the village annex the county's half and that the village maintain the road.

Mayor Bonnie Addy said the village already has been maintaining the road. She suggested that a meeting be held inviting residents who live on the east side to the road to see what their reservations are about becoming a part of the village.

There was a question raised at the meeting whether the road annexation would include the "upper portion" of Spring Road. So action was deferred until the exact portion of the road to be annexed can be determined. During the Tuesday meeting, four volunteer firefighters reported on their training at the training center out of Socorro.

The four are Chief Humberto Maldonado, Tom Hall, Mike Walters and David Weihbrecht. Also attending were Nick Herrera and Tom Johnson who were not present Tuesday night.

Mayor Bonnie Addy said that the rental rates for the new Older American Center will remain of administration decision because of variables. She indicated hard and fast fee schedules don't fit. She said there should be no charge for some groups, who may use the building just two hours, say, for a meeting. No trash is generated.

"We want to make it very accessible," Addy said.

Trustee Charlotte Craig said that a cleaning charge should be charged in most cases.

Craig also suggested that an "Employee of the Month" program should be instituted with possible cash awards.

Trustees indicated they would study the proposal; lack of funds was cited.

Mayor Addy said she would like to see a city flag designed through a contest.

She said she talks to people who don't realize that Ruidoso Downs the town is separate from Ruidoso Downs the track, that "they are separate communities."

The name of Ruidoso Downs (the town) should never have been changed from Palo Verde or Green Tree, Craig said.

Addy said the contest idea was just thrown out to trustees for consideration. She said $150 left over in a float fund could be used to award the winning flag design.

Addy praised the Downs police department for the reduction in DUI cases in the Downs this year.

Ruidoso Downs volunteer firemen reported to trustees at a meeting on Tuesday on training they received when attending Fire School at Socorro recently. Pictured are David Weihbrecht, Mike Walters, Tom Hall and Fire Chief Humberto Maldonado. Also attending were Nick Herrera and Tom Johnson.

BROKEN PROMISE

Beauvais said once the storage facility is constructed, it may become permanent.

"I don't put much stock in any guarantees by the federal government," Beauvais said. "I was in the Governor's office 17 years ago when the Department of Energy absolutely guaranteed if New Mexico accepted the Waste Isolation Pilot Project (WIPP at Carlsbad), we would never see another nuclear storage facility in the state.

"I just don't like the parochial way they treat New Mexico. They think it's all right to put nuclear waste here among the cactus and desert."

If the Mescalero Tribe decides to move ahead with a site, all conditions had better be spelled out on both sides in a contract because federal laws and regulations change, he said.

"It just seems to me with WIPP being just 100 miles away and the expense involved in training the special nuclear disaster health teams, the federal government would say what a deal (to have both facilities close together)," Beauvais said.

"The tribe is not going to negotiate an agreement without a date when the facility must be gone," Hudson said.

"And the lease cost could go up if they exceeded the timeframe," Tollison added.

One spectator questioned since the Mescalero Tribe is a sovereign nation, what authority the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) would have over the facility. County and state law enforcement, health and rescue officials have no power on the reservation and often are denied access.

"They have to abide by federal laws even if they are an autonomous nation," Tollison said.

Beauvais said the NRC also could spell out its control in a contract with the Mescalero.

ECONOMIC BOOM

"I think this is a huge opportunity," Tollison said. "They already have $3-billion in the MRS fund. Each nuclear facility puts in one mill per kilowatt hour of power generated. And 20 percent of the nation's electricity is nuclear generation. I think we may be talking an $8-billion to $25-billion opportunity."

"The negotiation terms are wide open," Hudson said. You can put in demands for schools, roads. We only get one opportunity to cut the cake and we want to make sure everyone gets a piece of the cake."

Listening to the glowing picture of economic benefits, Commissioner Monroy Montes said, "I hope the Mescalero and their consultants do not try to sanitize this nuclear waste with billions of dollars."

"It's just waste and it's dangerous waste."

Montes also questioned whether most of the estimated 500 jobs to be generated by the project would be filled locally or by a work force imported from outside.

The consultants acknowledged that many jobs will be filled by people already trained in the technology.

Peso said the Mescalero Apache

Tribal Council will not be swayed by the prospect of billions of dollars of economic benefit in deciding whether to become home to a nuclear waste storage facility.

Commission Chairman Stirling Spencer said he hopes the tribe takes into consideration the social impact on adjacent communities.

"I only speak for myself," he said. "Nuclear waste doesn't bother me. The concern I have in particular is that a lot of people may not care for it out of fear and that could affect the ski and tourism industry."

Peso pointed out that his tribe, like the community of Ruidoso, is in large part dependent on tourist dollars through its operations at Ski Apache and the Inn of the Mountain Gods.

"I think that would be one of our greatest concerns also," Peso said. "We're in the tourist business and we're not going to endanger that."

Tollison said his firm urged the tribe to be open about the process. "We think it's very important they work with other surrounding communities," he said. "That's one of the reasons we recommended this meeting."

"We plan to set up an advisory commission as time goes on," Peso said. "It's part of our being open (on this issue)."

TECHNOLOGY

A repository such as the type proposed at Yucca Valley must be certified that it is environmentally protected for 10,000 years, Tollison said.

"Here (on the reservation) we're talking 50 years," he said. "The technology exists for proper transportation and storage. We know the material. There is no new science here. It's so much simpler than what the repository faces at WIPP and Yucca Valley."

However, unlike the low-level type material slated for WIPP, the proposed Mescalero facility would receive spent fuel rods filled with radioactive pellets, a high hazard material, Tollison said. "It has a high degree of penetrating generation, but it is all well-shielded."

The waste is generated at electric plants across the country, he told Montes.

It probably would be stored above the ground in protective modules constructed as needed by a company such as Pacific Nuclear.

"You only need a pad, not even a building," Hudson said. "The modules are certified to withstand a severe earthquake, tornado or fire."

The fuel rods would be transported by railroad in huge casks with thick walls.

Before any construction could begin, plans would have to be approved by the DOE, the NRC, the U.S. Department of Transportation and Congress. An MRS project also must meet the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act, which includes an extensive analysis and review of the project's environmental, social and economic impacts.

"We're not asking you to support this today," Hudson said. "We're saying this is a big opportunity with some downside risks. If you don't think it can be accepted throughout the community, it would be hard to get passed."

Warriors vs. Knights in Las Cruces tonight

The big game! The Oñate Knights, number two in the state, meet the Ruidoso Warriors in Las Cruces tonight in a crucial district game for the Warriors.

Kickoffs at 7 p.m. The Warriors, down one game from their district loss to Deming, would be hard pressed to get a playoff berth with another loss.

With a loss, Oñate and Deming would have to lose twice. The Warriors would likely be eliminated from playoff competition if Cobre, Socorro and Silver City were the Knights' and Wildcats' only obstacles.

Silver also has greatly improved since the beginning of the season.

The Warriors play them in Ruidoso after Oñate on Oct. 25.

Oñate's only loss this year has been to the highly touted Goddard Rockets by a 13-6 score. That was early in the season and they have improved much since that loss.

Ruidoso head coach Mike Speck knows the importance of this game and that his season may well hinge on the outcome.

"We feel they are a very formidable foe," said Speck. "We respect them, but we sure don't fear them. Last year we were outmanned, but we made our own breaks and beat them big, 35-18.

"We need to go out and play with a very high intensity for four quarters. "We'll need some big plays and we need to make our own breaks.

"If we play up to our potential or even peak tomorrow night, it could be one great close ball game."

Speck said last week was the Warriors' worst performance of a first half since the Goddard game. "We can't duplicate that," Speck said.

The coach said Oñate is definitely a better football team than the Warriors faced last week.

"If we come out flat, we'll get crushed," he said.

Speck said a lot of illness hit the team this past week.

Mario Sanchez has been down with a respiratory infection. Shane Eidson is still nursing an elbow injury from the Deming game. Sam Gumbert has a hip injury. Anthony Torres sprained an ankle in practice this week. Richard Rippey is still nursing a knee injury.

Jorge Marquez, who usually starts at corner for the Warriors, will not make the trip this week.

Speck said Oñate only passes 30 percent of the time, because of their size up front. He said Oñate is more of a running team.

"They have a trap up the middle or sweeps both ways," Speck said.

Scouting reports have Ty Farnsworth, quarterback and safety, shifting as a receiver for the big play. Farnsworth was all-district as a safety and receiver last year with the Knights.

Speck said the Knights have an excellent secondary with big people up front.

"Our offensive line is coming around, and all we're asking tonight, is that they play up to their own abilities," Speck said.

"We're going to throw the ball a bunch tonight," Speck said. "And we may show a similar offense to the Buffalo Bills, no huddle."

He said, the team will work out of a shotgun with lots of receivers working routes.

Game time is early this week — 7 p.m. in Las Cruces.

Tam cruises to win in Las Cruces

Luisa Tam, Ruidoso's cross country runner supreme, cranked off another winner in the Las Cruces Cross Country Meet last Monday.

Tam's first place win was not enough to raise the average of the rest of the team and the Warriors finished sixth among the toughest competition they've run against all year.

Tam ran a fine 16:58 for her blue ribbon.

Stephanie Haas, an excellent runner in the shorter distance runs, finished 24th at 19:32; Catrina Gabaldon, 33rd, 20:18; Amanda Bell, 38th, 20:50; Rachelle Holstein, 43rd, 20:50 (talk about a tight bunch); Kami Bailey, 53rd, 22:09; Trini Langworthy, 54th, 22:21.

Evidence of the toughness of the meet, Nick Nanz ran a 15:18 and finished in 16th place. Nanz has won meets running that time.

Nanz was still 11 places ahead of the next Warrior, Jackie Lynn. Lynn ran one of his better races at 15:47.

Faustino Miranda finished 14 seconds behind Lynn and wound up in 35th place at 15:33; Jermie Livingston finished 46th at 16:10; Eric Evans, 56th at 16:24 (Evans has been ill); Josh Norbury, 83rd, 17:36; and Jason Dix, 85th, 17:44.

Both Warrior teams finished in sixth place.

Sarah Echols, a first year runner who has stayed with the program and shows a lot of heart, grabbed 21st with the Ruidoso JV team at 24:01.

Aaron Driskill had a personal best at 17:19 for 40th in the JV's and David Biggs finished 74th at 18:41.

Top cross country runner Luisa Tam achievement from coach Ronnie Maskew received an award for her academic at last year's awards ceremonies.

Pros beaten

A pair of 59s jumped all over Jeff Miller's and Dode Forrester's best ball 70 to win at the Beat the Pro's two-man best ball tournament at the Links of Sierra Blanca.

The team of Lee Griffin and Steve Stroud tied with the team of Leo Martinez and Joe Cofran. Each player won $57.50.

Two teams also tied for third. Billy Mitchell and Morgan Clough tied with Felix Padilla and Gary Padilla at 60. All four players received 19 bucks each.

Dave Krezer won an 18-hole green fee for closest to the pin on hole six. Billy Mitchell dropped a shot near the 8th hole, good for a dozen Ram balls.

Leo Martinez also won an 18-hole green fee for a great 11th hole green shot a few feet from the pin.

Dave Krezer, talk about great day, nearly missed holing out the 17th, to pick up the last closest to the hole award, a dozen Ram balls.

Forrester said 38 players participated in the tournament.

Pigskin pollsters Weems and Simmons win

Don Weems and Leilla Simmons, both winners in the last two Ruidoso News Football Contest.

OCTOBER 4-6

We forgot to run the Pigskin Poll for the weekend games of October 4-6.

Tough as nails! That's what the contestants said about that Pigskin Poll two weeks ago. Maybe that's why we only had 52 entries.

Don Weems and Ed Turner were the only two pollsters to get 18 right and Weems won the whole enchilada by guessing Ruidoso would win by seven points over St. Pius.

Weems had Ruidoso winning 20-13. Turner had Pius 21-7. Winning score was 17-10 Warriors.

Goddard's win over Hobbs fooled a bunch of people, but how easily they beat Hobbs should have fooled everyone. Eight prognosticators picked 17 winners. They included Hemanth Pai, Bob Lueras, Linda Cox (close twice in a row), Frank Gallegos (sorry Frank, close again), Ron Servies (last week's winner), Angel Montoya, Jeff Chapman (Jeff or Jeffrey, who's better?), and Jesse Fromknecht (always in the ball park).

The best of the rest had 7 picking 16 winners, 9 with 15, 10 with 14, 5 with 13, 4 with 12, 3 with 11, 2 with 10, 1 with 9 and 1 with 8.

Low for the season is still seven winners. High is still 18.

OCTOBER 11-13

A couple of colossal upsets knocked off dozens of pollsters last week and left only two persons with 17 wins each, Liella Simmons and

Daniel Sanchez. Sanchez, who often includes the mascot names with his entry, had Deming winning by a 21-14 score. Simmons picked the Wildcats by a 32-12 figure. The Warriors lost by 14 points, 24-10. Simmons beat out Sanchez on the tie-breaker by a point.

Can you believe Cooper Henderson's Artesia Bulldogs whipped the Goddard Rockets 29-28 after three overtimes? Goddard lost despite rolling up 458 total yards to 179 for Artesia. Only four out of the 55 entries believed it would happen. Winner Simmons was one of those Bulldog believers.

Texas's win over Oklahoma and Atlanta's victory over the Niners were also big upsets, according to our pollsters.

The Baylor-Rice game wasn't included on our poll because we didn't think Rice had a beggar's change. The Owls won 20-17.

Phillip Ortiz was all alone at 16 winners, missing SMU, Goddard, Niners and NMMI.

Ten guessers bunched up at 15. All ten had one thing in common, they picked Goddard and the Niners.

These tough luck artists were Joan Lueras, Beatrice Morales, Jim McGarvey, Leroy Randolph, Jim Turner, Janice Polk, Ricky deVera, Jeff Chapman, Steven Curran and Shelley Floyd.

Notice five of the top 11 are women.

The tally this week included two pickers with 17 winners, one with 16, 10 with 15, nine with 14, 17 with 13, eight with 12, four with 11, three with 10 and one with nine.

Low for the season is still seven wins and high 18.

Lady Warriors are six and 0

The Lady Warriors traveled to Socorro Tuesday to play the Warriors in Socorro.

The varsity won the match in three straight games: 15-9, 15-10 and 15-8.

"The girls didn't play very well, but still beat Socorro," said Coach Jody Blanton.

"We missed 21 serves and definitely need to improve our serves," she added.

Monica Martinez served seven points; Kansas Miranda served six, Betsy Cull and Mandy Parker served one point each.

In the second game, Amy

Wishard served six of the winning 15 points.

Mandy Parker and Kansas Miranda served four points each, and Cicelee Makowski contributed one point.

The third match winning game was won 15-8. Amy Wishard and Mandy Parker served four points each, Kansas Miranda contributed three points, Cicelee Makowski added two points and Monica Martinez served one point.

Coach Blanton said that they are looking forward to playing the Oñate teams at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19, in the Warrior gym.

RMS Braves drop two games to Alamogordo

by ROBYN JOHNSON
Special to The News

The Ruidoso Middle School Braves Volleyball team played Alamogordo's Chaparral Junior High School at the RMS gym Tuesday.

Alamogordo won both matches, scoring 15-5 and 15-11 in the B-team games and 15-13 and 15-6 in the A-team match.

Audra Allison served five points and Amy McManus served four points with Becca Wozny and Heather Blosser each serving one point in their B-Team game 15-11.

B-Teamers Corrie Garcia and Jouree Muniz each contributed two points and Maya Mascarenaz served one point in their 15-5 loss to the Chaparrals.

In A-Team action Tuesday, Meghann Valliant served four of the 13 points, while Heather Stover served three and Lindsay Willard, Kendra Eggleston and Frankie Leigh Reynolds each scored two points each in their close game with Alamogordo.

Excellent teamwork and three-hit volleyball was again exhibited by this team.

The second A game, with a score of 15-6, was a better game than the score indicates.

Jessica Dixon and Heather DeBusk served two points each and played superior defensive volleyball.

Amber Livingston and Heidi Johnson served a point apiece for the six-point total in this game.

JV wins in Socorro

The Lady Warrior JV is five and one in district after winning the Socorro match Tuesday with scores of 15-3 and 15-6.

Kim Floyd served seven point the first game; Angela Haas served three points; Kerrie Cubberly served two points and Kristie Ryan, Brandy Pfeffer and Laverne Platta served one point each.

In game two, Laverne Platta served six points and Brandy Pfeffer served five points. Kim Floyd served four points.

The C-Team lost its match in two games, falling 15-1 and 15-3.

Jillian Bustamante served the lone point in game one. Rose Murry, Anna Tidmore and Lucinda Blaylock served one point apiece for game two.

Braves wrestle Wild Kittens to 8-6 win

The Ruidoso Middle School Braves football team played its toughest game so far this season against the Tularosa Wild Kittens Wednesday in W.D. Horton Stadium.

But the Braves pulled it out and won 8-6 in a last-minute safety, moving the season record to five and 0.

Coach Borde Williams said he is very proud of his team's performance.

"Obviously, with a score of 8-6, it was really a defensive ball-game," said Williams.

"The offense moved well, but little mistakes kept us from scoring," he added.

The RMS Braves will travel to Moriarity Saturday, Oct. 19, for an 11 a.m. game.

Show your car you care.

Tune Up And Save.

Driving a car that needs a tune-up is like smoking in a roomful of non smokers. It's just bad manners, polluting the air others breathe. A neglected engine does more than pollute: it wastes gas and it is undependable, accounting for many of the road service calls due to starting failure. Ruidoso Ford reminds motorists that properly maintaining one's vehicle is a civic responsibility in terms of air quality, energy conservation and, of course, highway safety.

Sunland Park season opens with promising field

Sunland Park's season opened Saturday, Oct. 12, and the season is looking good if early arrivals are any indication.

Two-time Sunland Park training champion, J. Doyal Roberts returns with a powerful thoroughbred contingent.

A Bit Of Style leads the list of Roberts' campaigners. The durable chestnut has competed successfully against the best in the state. He is a two-time winner of the Governor's Handicap at Ruidoso Downs and a Cutarusty Stakes holder in 1988. He was named Horse of The Meet during the 1990 season at Ruidoso Downs. He finished second to Lincoln Logger in the prestigious Ruidoso Mile.

Roberts' 30-head stable also includes Mount Capitan, Sunland Park's leading three-year-old from last season.

The fast closing son of Dawn Of Creation polished off a good field in the 1991 Riley Allison Derby and collected an impressive 3-length win in an Invitational Handicap on Aug. 25 at Ruidoso Downs. He should be a pre-race favorite for the $20,000-added Texas Breeders' Cup Handicap on Dec. 7.

Valeme is one of Roberts' top two-year-olds. The swift son of Valid Appeal beat Jose Poncho in the Norgor Futurity and ran third in the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity. Valeme is one of the most promising freshmen in the Southwest. Eleo, Exclusive Goer, Rista and Apache Summit are also two-year-olds to watch.

Ruffetta, Hatchetta, Trijeme and Scout Beauty are other notable stakes contenders from the Roberts' barn.

H. Don Farris has received 30 stalls and brings one of the classiest assortment of race horses.

His Quarter Horse stars include Cowboys Rodeo, a finalist in the $2 million All American Futurity; Quick Fun, 1990 World Champion two-year-old filly; The Regency Diamond, finalist in the Rainbow Derby and Star Of Sierra Leone, winner of the Rainbow Silver Cup.

Stakes winning Thoroughbreds make up an important segment of the Farris stable. Jose Poncho, this year's Horse Of The Meet at Ruidoso Downs, is a winning machine. The $2,300 Ruidoso Horse Sale graduate won the Rio Grande Kingergarten and Rio Grande Futurities and has earned over $72,000.

Jose Poncho enjoyed four wins and 3 seconds from eight starts.

Dart, a son of Secretariat, is slated to run at Sunland Park. The quick starter won the Hondo Valley Handicap in 1990.

The Farris also stables Forever Best. The strong closer by Cox's Ridge won the Mesalero Apache Handicap and should be pointed towards Sunland's stakes races for older horses.

Piel Canela, Ruidoso Downs' top female runner, is scheduled to make her Sunland debut for Don Farris. The versatile four-year-old filly won the $18,800 First Lady Handicap and the $29,350 Sweetheart Handicap last summer. She should be a dominant force in the distaff category.

See Me Gone, 1991 World Champion Quarter Horse candidate, highlights the J.B. Montgomery stable. Since earning her 1990-91 Quarter Horse Of The Meet title at Sunland Park, the daughter of Behold A Beduino beat Refrigerator twice to win the Rainbow and All American Derbies.

She was named Quarter Horse Of The Meet for the 1991 Ruidoso Downs season.

Montgomery also conditions Piebyeu, who won the 1991 West Texas Derby.

Trainer Ben Torres returns to Sunland Park fresh off a memorable win in the All American Futurity. Royal Quick Dash earned $1 million for his upset victory in the All American. Royal Quick Dash in nominate for the $150,000-added Ruidoso Quarter Horse Sale Futurity on Nov. 3.

Angel's Appeal, the Petticoat Stakes winner is also high on the Ben Torres list.

10-time Sunland Park training champion, Bob Arnett, conditions

35 head for the new season.

His group includes Y Not Sizzle, the longshot winner of the $102,745 Kachina Stakes. Arnett also prepares the veteran stakes campaigner Classy Deer and the 1989 Riley Allison Futurity runner-up, Armed Response. The latter came through with a gutsy come from behind win on September 10 in an $8,000 allowance race at the New Mexico State Fair.

The 1991 Riley Allison Futurity winner returns to Sunland for trainer Dallas Barton. Egocentric is unbeaten in three starts and has earned over $67,000. The sleek son of Bold Ego was rested during the summer months and will be pointed to either the $60,000 est. Ruidoso Horse Sale Thoroughbred Futurity on November 9 or the $50,000 est. Sunland Park Fall Thoroughbred Futurity on Dec. 28.

Two-time Sunland Park Thoroughbred Horse Of The Meet, Grey Bed, is the star of the Marjorie McMillan stable. The popular gelding has won 9 races in two seasons at Sunland Park. His Sunland stakes wins include the Sahara Hotel and Casino, Winsham Lad Breeders' Cup, El Paso Times and Sunland Park Handicaps.

Trainer Billy Hitt has three menacing runners at Sunland Park.

Eight-year-old Dance Trainer comes off one of his best seasons at Ruidoso Downs. The rich stakes winner beat a tough field in the $14,450 Ruidoso Sprint Championship. Catonic Choer should also be a force in Sunland sprints. He clocked 5 panels in 57 3/5 seconds last season.

Chynna Doll is an auspicious two-year-old filly from the Billy Hitt barn.

Orvel Fletcher, a successful conditioner from Santa Fe and Albuquerque will bring 24 horses to Sunland. One of Fletcher's favorites is Domatilla. The reliable throughbred mare ran well in stakes company last summer.

Best Forum and Less Than Zero are other notables from the Fletcher barn.

Musical Answer blasts home

Sunland Park's thirty third season opened strongly on Saturday. Over 4,000 patrons wagered on the 13 race program.

Musical Answer looked devastating in the featured Mr. Vale Handicap.

The three-year-old Texas-bred and jockey Vickie Smallwood cornered the pace setters and took off down the lane to score and easy win in the $12,400 race.

The duo clocked the 6 furlongs in one of the fastest 6 furlongs in over ten years, 1:09.1 seconds. Musical Answer is unbeaten in his last 4 starts and appeared to have speed in reserve.

Musical Answer has earned over $53,000 for owner J.B. Rogers of Ruidoso Downs, Rudy Ramirez conditioned the winner.

Ramirez plans to continue his campaign at Sunland this fall.

Just Joe John came in second over 3 lengths behind. Charmin Abrecombe, the second favorite, finished a belated third.

Piebyeu posts a blazing win

Piebyeu used a powerful start to capture a rapid win in Sunday's $8,250 Jess Burner Handicap.

The winner set a Jess Burner stakes record for the 350 yards in 17.36 seconds. That mark was only .09 seconds off the track record set by Going Ladybug in 1974.

Piebyeu won last season's $80,000 plus West Texas Derby against Go Go By Yawl and Margos Easy. The strong stakes winner is owned by Andy Chavers of Broomfield, Texas. Trainer J.B. Montgomery indicated his horse would be pointed to the Sunland Park Fall Quarter Horse Derby. 1989-90 Jockey champion Joe Martinez won his second race of the season aboard the sleek quarter horse.

Piebyeu earnings stand at over $123,000 after Sunday's win. Real Bar Forth placed second.

Tickets now on sale for Community Update '91 lunch

MainStreet Ruidoso and The Ruidoso News invite area residents to learn more about this region during Community Update '91 at 11:30 a.m. Friday, November 1, at Cree Meadows Country Club.

Tickets, $10 each, for the fajita buffet and program are now available at The News, MainStreet office and from MainStreet members. No tickets will be available at the door.

Only a limited number of tickets will be offered since seating is limited in Cree Meadows dining room. Last year's Community Update was a sell-out, so planners expect this year's to be the same.

Information will be provided on local projects and the impact of county and state plans on this area.

Senator Pete Campos, who will represent this area for the first time under the recently approved redistricting, will be on the program. This will be the first chance for many Lincoln County residents to meet their new senator.

Speaker of the House Raymond Sanchez and State Representative H. John Underwood also are scheduled to speak.

Michael Cerletti, secretary of the Department of Tourism, will be on hand to talk about this county's major industry — tourism.

Speaking on county issues will be County Commission Chairman Stirling Spencer. Mayor Pro-tem Barbara Duff will speak about the Village of Ruidoso.

Steve Stroud, a member of the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County's board, will speak. Stroud also has moved his major crop insurance business into this area where it's headquartered in the Stroud Building.

Jim Stoddard, executive director of the Hubbard Foundation, will speak about the Hubbard Museum's programs and plans.

Pinky Jones, president of the Blue Ribbon Committee for Blue Ribbon Schools, will be on the program to describe the upcoming bond election.

Wendell Chino, president of the Mescalero Indian Tribe, has been invited to be a part of the program.

Mary Maul, project director for MainStreet; Bill Hirschfeld, former president of MainStreet; Don Dutton, member of the MainStreet board, and Frankie Jarrell, editor and general manager of The Ruidoso News, are coordinating the annual luncheon that provides area people a chance to hear what's going on from the people who are involved in various projects.

Last year's sell-out luncheon featured, among others, Ruidoso

Mayor Victor Alonso, State Representative Ben Hall, Ruidoso Downs Race Track owner R.D. Hubbard and Senator James L. Martin.

For further information on Community Update '91 or any MainStreet projects, contact Maul at 257-6346.

MainStreet Ruidoso, in the midst of a Midtown revitalization project, is also sponsoring the Bizarre Bazaar and Halloween trick or treating through Midtown on Thursday, October 31.

Spooks and goblins will also be invited to compete for prizes in MainStreet's annual costume contest.

Obituaries

Chris Starr

Services for Chris Starr, 86, of Ruidoso, a retired nurseryman, will be today, Thursday, Oct. 17, at 2 p.m. in the LaGrone Funeral Chapel. Starr died Monday at his home.

Starr, who was born Aug. 19, 1905, in Whitewright, Texas, moved to Ruidoso over 40 years ago from Portales, His parents, W.A. and Myrtle Starr, preceded him in death.

He and Johnnie Smith were married June 6, 1926, in Amarillo, Texas.

Survivors include his wife, Johnnie Starr of Ruidoso; two sons,

Chris Allen Starr Jr., of Pueblo, Colorado, and James F. Starr of Clifton, Arizona. Seventeen grandchildren, 29 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren also survive. He was preceded in death by two daughters, Louise Stewart and Betty McFarland.

Officiating at the funeral service will be the Rev. Wayne Joyce of the Ruidoso Baptist Church. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery in Ruidoso.

Arrangements are under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Ruidoso.

Norman Aragon

Rosary for Norman Aragon, 31, of Denver, Colorado, will be this evening, Thursday, Oct. 17, at 7 o'clock in St. Joseph's Mission in Mescalero. Funeral mass is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday, October 18. Officiating will be the Rev. Gary Swirzynski of St. Joseph's Mission. Burial will be in the Mescalero Cemetery.

Aragon died Thursday, Oct. 10, in Denver. He was born Sept. 5, 1960, at Laguna, New Mexico. Survivors include his brother, Lorenzo Aragon of Mescalero, and two sisters, Janell Verdugo of Mescalero and Delorna Begay of Albuquerque.

Arrangements are under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Ruidoso.

The Silver Lining Valley girl visits nation's Capitol

Nellie Ruth Jones Visits New England

Last Sunday at Saint Anne's Chapel we welcomed Nellie Ruth Jones home from a three week's trip to Washington D.C. and the New England states.

On the Sunday before last she had attended church in the National Cathedral in Washington D.C.

Nellie Ruth and Angie Provine of Capitan joined a group of 30 in Boston for a special tour during the peak of the world famous leaf colors of New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine. The fall colors in all the New England states lived up to their fame, Nellie said, especially those in Vermont, where the crimson sugar maple, the purple Japanese maple, the golden sumac and the yellow-orange birch and beech presented an Autumn pageant long to remember.

The aspens were not so prominent because the hills there do not have the altitude favored by the aspen.

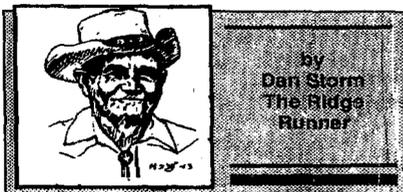

Nellie said she felt at home in the office of Congressman Joe Skeen when she noticed a print of Mark Storm's painting "Cool Water" on Joe's office wall.

The New England countryside had a charm all its own, Nellie said, with its covered bridges and different shaped barns — some round and some in the shape of a horse show, all adjoining the house with a small passage-way building between, to keep from going through the deep snow.

The New England people were friendly and helpful, Nellie said, real home folks.

The national Cathedral was truly inspiring, that people attend from all over the world and Washington D.C. is a beautiful city making you proud to be an American, Nellie said.

As a special welcome touch, Nellie's five-year old grandson Benjamin Coe Sanchez passed the collection plate for his first time. He and his younger sister Jo Marie put out the candles.

John Cooper Attends College Reunion

Also at church, John Cooper told us that he had recently attended the fiftieth anniversary reunion of his graduating class at New Mexico State University.

His class of 1941 had 180 members, and at the reunion 70 attended, from as distant places as California, Washington and Wisconsin.

John received a door prize of a wooden sculpture of a coyote howling at the moon. His wife, Mary, said, "John was the only sheep man at the reunion and he was presented with a coyote."

Many congratulations to John who has brought great credit to his school by his outstanding work in the fields of both agriculture and community service. We are all proud of John.

Meliton Sanchez

Services were held October 10 at LaGrone Funeral Chapel, for Meliton Sanchez who was called Home by Our Lord on October 8. At the services, under the direction of Father Richard Catanach, a sacred song was sung in Spanish: "Bendito, Bendito Sea Dios.

Los Angeles Cantan Y Adoran A Dios. (Blessed, Blessed by God, The Angels sing and adorn God.)"

Pall bearers were: Robert Langston, Mark Langston, Dino McCall, Candido Montoya Jr., Ben Montes and Juan Sanchez.

Meliton's grave is in the cemetery at the little church of San Ysidro, Labrador (Saint Isidor, The Farmer) the patron saint of farmers. When they had services in this church in the early days, Meliton was a devout member. The church had special meaning to Meliton because he was a farmer from boyhood through most of his life.

In the early days when we first came here, Jim Jackson and his wife, Grace, lived where Dub Williams and Kathryn live today.

All the meadows sloping down toward the river north of the house were cabbage fields. I and my brothers Mark, Joe, and Lynn, worked with Meliton and his brothers Samuel, Silvano, and Jose helping Jim raise cabbage. All that area was cabbage fields and we raised some of the finest cabbage fields in the world.

Meliton and his brother and his sister, Juanita, were good friends of the Storm family. Meliton was always a smiling, helpful neighbor and a Christian gentleman. And we rejoice that he is safe and happy with Our Lord in Heaven.

Five Hundredth Anniversary Coming Up

Speaking of anniversaries, on the 12th, was the 499th anniversary of Columbus landing in the new world where, "We all gave thanks to God, kneeling on the shore, and kissed the ground with tears of joy, for the great mercy received," as Columbus said. Columbus followed his star of destiny, with steadfast determination and faith, and with his three boats Nina, Pinta and Santa Maria changed the world and showed once more what one man can do to change the course of history.

One Thousandth Anniversary

I read by the papers that a group of Norwegians have landed some models off early Viking ship son the east coast to celebrate along with the Columbus anniversary, the discovery of America by Leif Ericson one thousand years ago.

Ericson was sent by King Olaf of Norway to bring Christianity to greenland, but he was blown off course and landed on the east coast, a place heretofore unknown.

Good neighbors with good advice for saving energy

Caulking and weatherstripping are two low-cost measures you can take at your home to reduce energy waste. To prevent unnecessary air leakage, caulk any cracks between windows and their frames and make sure you have full weatherstripping around doors, windows and the attic stairway opening.

For more information about caulking and weatherstripping, call or visit the neighbors at your local TNP office and ask for the free brochures, "Straight Talk About Caulking" and "Straight Talk About Weatherstripping."

Sixth grader Tawnya Reynolds improves her skills at one of Capitan Elementary's Apple computers. The school hopes to collect $275,000 in Furr's receipts that can be exchanged for Apple computer software and other equipment.

Capitan students save grocery tickets to trade in for computers

If Capitan Elementary students seem to be putting on a little weight, could be they're helping the school district acquire new computer software.

It's all part of a promotion by Furr's supermarket chain to donate computers, software and accessories to schools in exchange for grocery receipts from their stores.

"We've set our goal for $275,000 in receipts," said elementary principal Jerry Newsom.

"Parents can send the receipts to school with their children or drop them in the pit area in the entrance room of the school.

"At the end of the year, we'll put them together in $5,000 bundles."

This will be the third year the school has participated in the program. The first year enough receipts were collected to acquire IBM software for the high school computer lab. Last year, an IBM computer system was obtained to handle State Education Department reports.

"This year, Furr's switched to Apple computers and I'm glad they did because we have more Apple equipment," Newsom said.

The software will go directly into the classroom "because that's what we need," he said.

The major difference this year is that the receipts must be brought to the school or dropped into collection boxes at the senior citizens center or other sites around town. Furr's no longer will provide boxes at their stores.

Newsom is asking everyone to help the schools by saving their receipts and dropping them into the collection boxes.

Band leader honored

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Capitan band director Richard Valenzuela, long-acknowledged as one of the area's outstanding jazz musicians, has been selected to receive the Governor's Award for excellence and achievement in the arts.

Valenzuela was nominated for the award by Paul and Barbara Westbrook, who head Ruidoso Friends of Music and the Arts and own California Colors Art Gallery.

The 18th annual awards will be presented by Gov. Bruce King in a special ceremony in Santa Fe on Nov. 14.

In their letter of nomination, the Westbrooks said they admired Valenzuela's "dedication to bring to youth music. He is more than an educator. He is more than a musician. He is a human dynamo, incredibly talented, and related to his students the joy of making music."

Valenzuela taught in Deming for 17 years, where he accumulated awards for the school there. He continued that tradition in music excellence at Capitan.

His love of music started as a young boy when he played the violin. He graduated in 1966 from New Mexico State University, becoming director of bands at Deming High School in 1973. He moved to Capitan in 1984, becoming director of bands there.

He had to start from scratch, but has built a program that today is one of the finest 1A high school bands in the state.

Valenzuela is a woodwinds specialist in clarinet, flute, saxophone, oboe, bassoon and has performed on a string bass.

For the past three years, he has been involved in organizing and performing in a series of desert pops concerts.

Capitan Tigers tame the Panthers

The Fort Sumner Panthers were trampled underfoot Saturday by the stampeding Capitan tigers.

From eighth grade through varsity, the Tigers took home the honors.

Head volleyball coach Pam Allen said the junior varsity scores were 10-15, 15-9 and 15-6 with Pam Pacheco racking up five service points in the second game. Amy Cline topped Pacheco with seven points and Michelle Payton grabbed another five points.

The varsity team then shoved ahead with a three out of five game win and scores of 15-7, 11-15, 11-15, 15-5, 15-9.

"The girls played very well," Allen said. "I'm extremely proud of them, of their mental preparation and attitude on the floor."

"It was a tremendous team effort from the eighth grade through the seniors. I really felt the varsity played to their potential for the first time."

Senior Jennifer Eldridge nailed the most service points in the first game with four. The points were spread out in the second game. Kelly Cox and Anita Aldaz piled up the most service points in the third game with four and three, respectively.

Eldridge again scored high in the fourth game with five straight and Tycie Traylor pounded home four in the fifth game.

"We had a very good day at the net," Allen said. "I think it was our blocking game that eventually took its toll at the net."

But bottom line, everything was working well Saturday, serve and receive, offense — everything, she said.

The Tigers will meet Hondo at Hondo tonight and will tackle Melrose in a home game Saturday.

Trustees develop parking area

Capitan Fire Chief Pat Huey asked the Board of Trustees Tuesday to consider remodeling old city hall as a parking area for the department's biggest water pumper.

The major piece of equipment now is parked by the State Highway Department outside of town, but it should be in the downtown area, Huey said.

Mayor Frank Warth said the board would take the request under consideration. Meanwhile, the department should look for other alternatives because the old city hall is used for many meetings and for storage, Warth said.

In other business, the board: —Purchased 16.23-acre feet of water rights from Ted Anderson to cover any shortfall in its five-year allocation from the state.

—Passed a resolution in opposition to a proposed county utility franchise fee.

—Reappointed Dr. Bernie Reimann as chairman of the village planning and zoning board and David Posley to fill a vacancy left by William Crews.

—Officially formed the Bear Roots Community Beautification Committee to plan and handle plantings throughout Capitan in preparation for the 1993-94 celebration of the 50th Anniversary of Smokey Bear.

—Approved a resolution backing changes offered by the State Municipal League and the New Mexico Association of Counties to proposed 1991 Solid Waste Management Regulations.

Tigers score late, lose against Mountaineers

After a slow start last Friday, the Capitan Tigers dug in their claws and scored two fourth quarter touchdowns against the Reserve Mountaineers.

But early mistakes weighed down their game for a 40-12 loss, said Head Football Coach Pat Ventura.

"A couple of early interceptions were turned into touchdowns by Reserve," he said. "But we came out the second half and played some good football."

Running the ball home for the Tigers were Damian Roybal and quarterback Charlie Tracy.

The Tigers gained a total of 168 yards, but lost 60 yards to four penalties.

A blocked punt resulted in the first touchdown by Reserve, a replay of problems experienced in the previous game against Jal.

"I want to say that we're real happy with the support of the fans this year," Ventura said. "They're staying until the end of the games and this time, our boys came through for them and scored."

This Friday is Homecoming for Capitan. The Tigers will face Cloudford at 7:30 p.m.

Past Tense

If the going gets tough, hang onto your teeth

After World War II, several fellows who were stationed or worked at Holloman Air Force Base did a lot of hunting. Frequently, they hunted in parties of four people, hardly ever alone.

One weekend, a fellow was off work and couldn't find anyone to accompany him on a hunt, so he decided to go by himself. After thinking over several areas, he decided to try the place known as "the spud patch."

An old road led to the tract that extended three quarters of a mile along the Mescalero Apache Reservation before bearing to the northeast.

The hunter had reached the crest of the mountain and was soon to leave the fence. He looked off to his left seventy-five or eighty yards. Standing broadside to the pickup was a large buck among several does, lying down and standing.

He slowed the pickup as low as it would throttle, without stopping, reaching for his gun at the same time.

When he had grabbed the gun, he stopped the vehicle and jumped out, shooting as he exited.

by Herbert Traylor
Historian

The buck fell. The does ran toward the reservation fence. He started running toward the buck. When he was about half way to the deer, it jumped up and started following the other fleeing deer.

The man jumped the fence, ran through a saddle that separated two small canyons, one running east to the north and the other north along the fence. The does split, part of them turned east through the scrub sagebrush and sotol.

The buck continued down the ridge east of the canyon that had begun to get deeper and wider, penetrating further into the reservation.

The man had walked close to the buck where it had stopped by a large boulder. It was bleeding badly and wasn't hard to track. He had followed the buck probably two miles. The canyon was fifty yards across at the place where he had encountered the buck. As he continued to follow the tracks and blood, someone west of, and between him and the fence yelled, "H-e-l-l-o!"

He looked across the canyon and saw an Indian.

The Indian said, "Come over here, I want to talk to you."

The hunter replied, "You come over here."

When the Indian had gotten close to the bottom of the canyon and was out of sight, the hunter started up the ridge southwest toward the saddle and his car.

After he had gone through the fence, he reached for the cigarettes that he carried in his shirt pocket with his dentures.

Both items were gone. He had lost them while making his get-away.

And for the next two or three years, he teased him about the Indian who scared him so badly that he outran his teeth.

Forest Service recycles tons and tons of paper

Paperwork has taken on a new meaning at Lincoln National Forest where employees have become actively involved in a new recycling program.

Bond and computer waste paper is collected at individual desks and other central points, stored at the Supervisor's Office in Alamogordo then picked up on a regular basis.

Russ Romme, wildlife biologist and instigator of the Forest's recycling program, estimated a total of 15,000 lbs. (7.5 tons) of used paper will be collected annually from the Supervisor's Office. The paper is being donated to Alamogordo Cub Scout Pack 141, headed by Kevin Kern, Cub Master and Michael Lowe, Den Leader.

Besides the dollar return for the Scouts, recycling of 7.5 tons of paper will annually reduce air pollution by 450 lbs. and save 43 barrels of oil, 52,500 gallons of water, 31,500 kilowatts of energy, 119 trees and 600 cubic feet of landfill space.

The Lincoln National Forest employees are also testing the use of recycled paper in their printers and copiers.

"I am proud of the Lincoln employees for their concern for the environment and willingness to participate in recycling," said Forest Supervisor Lee Poague.

Conservation of natural resources is the basis of the Forest Service mission.

Concert is planned to raise funds for purchase of grand piano

A benefit to purchase a grand piano that eventually will end up in the projected Performing Arts Center in Ruidoso is planned for 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, October 30, at Cree Meadows Country Club.

The Ruidoso Chamber Music Festival will present a piano duo, Stephen Prutsman and Kwang-Wu Kim in concert. Tickets are $50; reservations can be made by calling the Episcopal Church of the Holy Mount at 257-2356.

Prutsman made his piano debut at the age of seven. Last year he was the winner of the Tchaikovsky Competition for Russian Music, staged in Russia.

Kim is a member and is on the faculty of the Peabody Conservatory of Music. He has performed in Aspen, Colorado, and at the Marlboro and Tanglewood Music Festivals.

He has played with the Baltimore and Milwaukee Symphonies.

Both performers have appeared at the Episcopal Church in the past. The grand piano, when sufficient funds are raised, will be located at the Episcopal Church until the Performing Arts Center is constructed.

Crowded Ruidoso schools prompt bond election

by FRANKIE JARRELL
Ruidoso News Editor

As the Ruidoso Municipal Schools completed a major add-on and upgrading project at one school, administrators and the board were faced with too few classrooms for the growing student body.

The Board, which always has taken a conservative approach in issuing bonds for new buildings and classroom, set an election for Tuesday, November 12, to raise $5.5 million for new classrooms and equipment.

That approach has kept property taxes at a fairly constant rate, and voters have responded over the years by passing every bond issue that has been proposed. That kind of support will continue to be needed as the state continues to make demands on schools systems without providing funds.

No state funds are available for capital projects, like the one proposed now.

Voters will be asked on November 12 to approve $5.5 million in bonds to be used for a number of projects around the school district to handle the increased student enrollment.

District enrollment has increased 11 percent during the last two years, and virtually all of this growth has occurred in grades kindergarten through eight, according to information provided by the schools.

Additionally, despite the recently completed expansion at the White Mountain site, this facility remains at capacity-plus. All other facilities except the high school are at capacity.

"The situations at the Ruidoso Middle School and Nob Hill Elementary have become critical with students being housed in portable classrooms," reads a brochure describing the upcoming bond election.

This current project will add six new classrooms, restrooms and support facilities ($1.2 million); a new school to house first and second grade and to allow the sixth grade to be moved from the Ruidoso Middle School ($3 million); computer, science and vocational equipment for all schools ($500,000); other remodeling and renovation at various schools ($270,000); replace the present structure at the district maintenance yard ($180,000) and establish a central receiving and storage area and add on at the Central Office ($350,000).

That plan will strive to keep ahead of the growing classes as this year's kindergarteners progress through the school. The crowding could be made worse if the state mandates all-day kindergarten, as has been discussed in the last few years.

Board members are concerned, knowing that all-day kindergarten is sure to come and also knowing that the state won't provide extra funds for classrooms to support that demand.

Ruidoso voters have always supported the schools, passing bond issues in 1975, 1981, 1983, 1984, 1986 and 1989. By issuing prudent amounts of bonds and paying them off as more bonds are issued to pay for the schools' continuing needs, those voters' property taxes haven't suffered any dramatic increases.

For instance, in this case, if voters approve these bonds, the mill levy will change by just 1.346 mills per thousand in 1992-93, 2.930 in 1993-94 and 0.243 in 1994-95. The estimated tax effect for the first year will range from 93 cents a month for a residence with a market value of $25,000 to $2.80 a month for a home valued at $75,000.

That impact will go up to $2.03 and $6.10 a month in 1993-94, and then drop to from 17 cents to 51 cents a month in 1994-95.

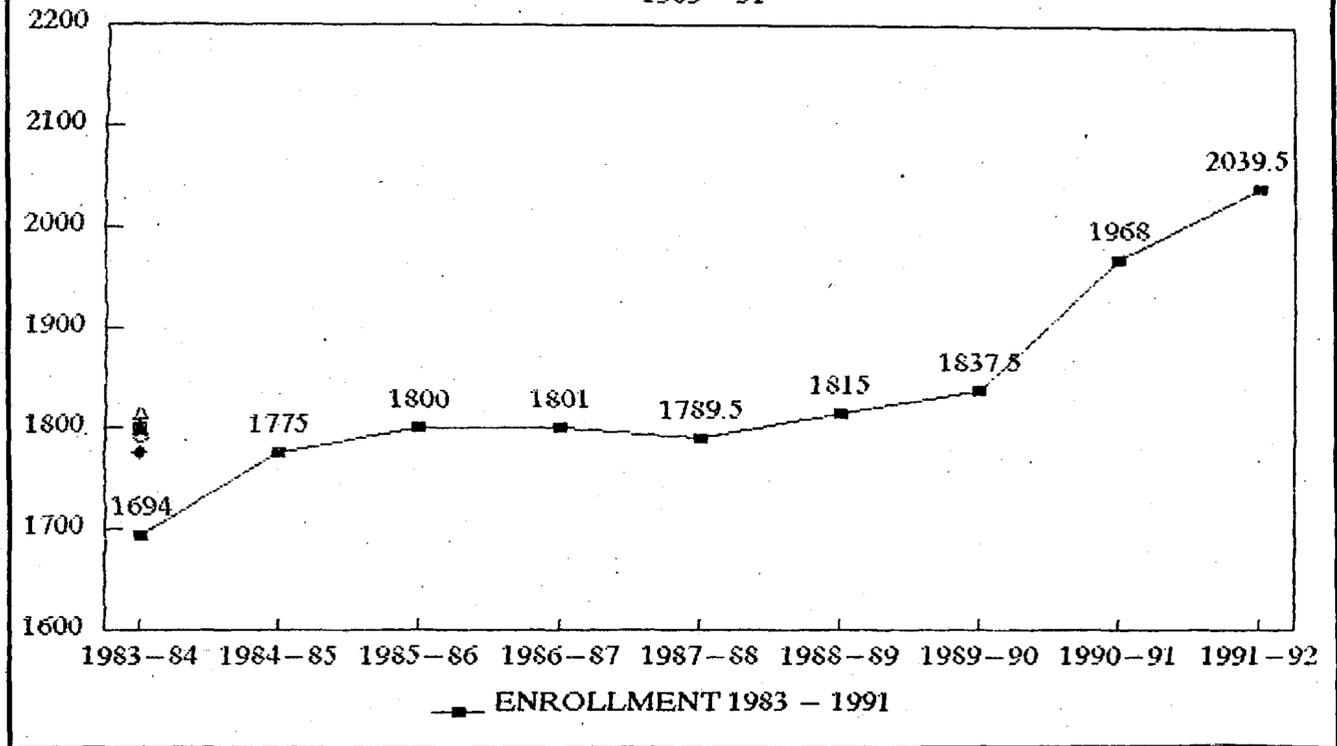

Complete information on the plans to upgrade and improve the schools is available from Supt. Mike Gladden at Central Office, 200 Horton Circle in Ruidoso, or by calling 257-4051.

Gladden and his staff also can provide statistics and detailed information on school growth patterns and the bond election.

All voters living within precincts within the Ruidoso Municipal School District No. 3 are eligible to vote, with balloting scheduled from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 12, in the gymnasium foyer at Ruidoso Middle School.

ENROLLMENT / 40TH DAY FUNDED

1983 - 91

Ruidoso's Board of Education, facing overcrowded Board has opted to take a conservative approach to facilities this year, determined that with zero growth, this year's kindergarten will continue to overfill school buildings as the youngsters move from grade to grade. The bonding, issuing the least possible to keep up with growing demands, in order to maintain a stable tax base for the school district.

Bond Election is set for Nov. 12

All registered voters in Ruidoso Municipal Schools District 3 will be eligible to vote in the school bond election from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 12, at Ruidoso Middle School. Balloting will take place in the foyer of the gymnasium. The question will be "yes" or "no".

BOND ISSUE OBJECTIVES

HOW WILL THE BOND MONEY BE USED?

The proceeds from the bond issue will be used for a number of projects around the school district to handle the increased student enrollment. District enrollment has increased 11% during the last two years, and virtually all of this growth has occurred in grades kindergarten through eight. Additionally, despite the recently completed expansion at the White Mountain site, this facility remains at capacity-plus. All other facilities, except the high school, are at capacity. The situations at the Ruidoso Middle School and Nob Hill Elementary have become critical with students being housed in portable classrooms. Accordingly, the school district plans to use the bond proceeds for the following projects:

WHITE MOUNTAIN SITE Add six new classrooms, restrooms, and support facilities.	$1,200,000
A NEW SCHOOL Construct a new school to house first and second grades and to allow the sixth grade to be moved from the Ruidoso Middle School.	$3,000,000
EQUIPMENT BUDGET Purchase computer, science, and vocational equipment for all schools.	$500,000
OTHER REMODELING Remodel various schools, including renovation of the science labs at Ruidoso Middle School, replacing the bleachers at the middle school gym, and other essential repairs.	$270,000
DISTRICT MAINTENANCE YARD Demolish and construct new facility.	$180,000
CENTRAL OFFICE Establish a central receiving and storage area, add office space, and enlarge the Board meeting room.	$350,000

How do you spell confused? Try LTC, RAB and VPSC

It's OK if the right hand doesn't know what the left hand is doing — so long as those two hands aren't handing tax money back and forth — from hand to hand, among themselves and to their friends.

That's just what the Lodgers Tax Committee (LTC), or maybe it's the Regional Advertising Board (RAB), or then again, maybe it's the Visitors Promotion and Services Committee (VPSC), is doing. That kind of discombobulated mixup of boards and commissions with a bunch of the same members is not at all what the State Legislature had in mind when it established a state law regarding the collection and distribution of a tax on lodgings.

Is that what the Ruidoso Village Council had in mind when it embarked on this strange course? Is the RAB really designed to ensure a regional scope, or is it just a way for the Ruidoso power brokers to reach out into the county for everybody else's money?

When the Lodgers Tax Committee meets, it may be meeting as itself, or then again, it may adjourn and meet as the Regional Advertising Board. Either way, its members make it very clear that they're very confused. In letters to the editor two members indicated they didn't know which board they were serving over specific issues.

But members of those boards are singleminded in their commitment to get the most bang for the bucks. Of course, that usually means a tag-on to their own individual business interests. Their bosses must be very pleased that these LTC members are in a position to use their influence to the benefit of their privately-owned businesses. It's too bad the little guys — those mom-and-pop local business owners who collect lodgers taxes, too — don't have a stronger voice.

Even if the Village Council knew what LTC was doing and if LTC knew what RAB was doing and if the RAB knew what the VPSC was doing and even if they all knew who they were, wouldn't this kind of process take a very long time? It could be that we'll be advertising Aspenfest weekend about the time the first snow falls, and we'll be promoting Springtime in the Rockies about the time the All American Festival is staged.

This new program just isn't working, and the sooner everybody faces it, the more quickly we can get it fixed and on track. After all, it's tax money these alphabet soup groups are spending. Let's bag the RAB and get back to basics.

State of Mind

Family's act is one of rare nobility

An amazing act of grace emerged from tragedy a few days ago, and it should not go unpraised.

Less than a week after the horrifying murder of 17-year-old Robert Steven Farley, his family instructed a lawyer to contact officials of the Roswell Independent School District, which turned him over to someone posing as a policeman. His stabbed and strangled body was later found at an abandoned tavern.

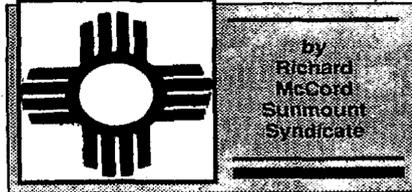

But instead of serving notice that they were planning to sue the district for every dollar it was worth, the slain boy's mother and other family members asked only that a meaningful legacy be created in memory of young Farley's death — and more important, his life.

The request had two parts. First, it spelled out five security measures for the school district to adopt as policy, to make sure that no other student is handed over wrongfully to anyone in the guise of a law enforcement official.

Second, it asked for $300,000 to create a scholarship fund in Robert Steven Farley's name.

That was it. No millions of dollars for "suffering, stress and grief," although God knows they have endured all those things. No strident language castigating the district for negligence, stupidity and the other usual accusations in matters of this sort. No transparent bid to immediately enrich themselves over a bizarre incident unparalleled in New Mexico history. Even their lawyer said he would donate his fee to the scholarship fund.

In their shock and pain, these people are seeking not revenge, not punishment, not wealth, but a tribute to endure through the years that Farley did not get to live. It is an act of rare nobility.

What stark contrast it presents to an episode that took place earlier this year, less than 200 miles away in Las Cruces.

There a woman posing as a nurse infiltrated a hospital and in the dead of night, when no one was looking, abducted an infant. Several days later the child was found unharmed and returned to its parents — who saw the incident as their chance to become instant millionaires, by filing a lawsuit against the hospital.

The technicalities of both abductions are indeed open to discussion. Whenever such events occur, no matter how unlikely or unprecedented, hindsight usually can point to mistakes that were made, things that could have been done better.

Maybe the Roswell school district and the Las Cruces hospital did err, in a legalistic sense, by not preventing the abductions. Maybe not.

Maybe they can be held liable. Maybe not. Maybe their security procedures do need a thorough overhaul. Maybe not.

Maybe they do owe the families some compensation. Maybe not. These are matters to be resolved in negotiations, in policy reviews and, as a last resort, in court. What seems beyond debate in comparing the two cases, however, is that the element of greed is singularly missing from the request presented in Roswell.

Farley's grieving family will gain nothing monetarily if the district, from now on, demands proper identification from anyone claiming to be a police officer; or takes a written record of the person's name and badge number; or contacts the police agency by telephone for verification; or notifies the student's parent or guardian; or demands to see a warrant in cases involving arrest. But the family may gain much in solace.

Nor will Farley's family profit personally from a scholarship fund. Yet each Roswell student whose education is advanced as a result of a boy whose life was cut short may indeed provide comfort of a different kind.

Yes, there is an element of pressure here, for the family has reserved the right to sue if the offer is not accepted. Yes, $300,000 is a lot of money — the maximum claim stipulated under the New Mexico tort claims act.

Yes, meeting the family's financial request would surely pose difficulties for the Roswell Independent School District. There could also be other considerations, not yet revealed, working against an acceptance of the offer. If so, they should be known shortly, for the family has set a deadline this week for a response from the district.

We will see. Before it is settled, this matter could get ugly, and go the way of the case in Las Cruces and so many other places. But at least it began with an amazing gesture. And that in itself should be recognized — recognized and appreciated.

Letters

Let's stick with old-fashioned moral values

TO THE EDITOR:

I feel I must respond to the letter from Cynthia "Law" Wardwell regarding "old-fashioned moral values."

I have listened to citizens gripe, grumble, and complain about the "biker gangs" problem for the last 10 days. To be honest, I've been one of them. Ms. Wardwell's bold stance has humbled me into writing this note of support for her convictions.

For many years I seldom missed any nights of "partying" in Ruidoso. Many of those nights including the violence, public drunkenness, and perversion mentioned in Ms. Wardwell's letter. The very real potential for chaos and destruction was often prevalent then, as it is today.

While I continue to struggle with many of life's problems I also have a newfound basis for my lifestyle and priorities, in my Christian faith in God.

I am in hopes that Ms. Wardwell's "fear of reprisals" will be calmed by the knowledge that myself and many hundreds of Ruidoso citizens share her Christian beliefs and concerns.

I also believe Ms. Wardwell's call for a review of our priorities in Ruidoso, and a return to "old-fashioned moral values," has not fallen on deaf ears.

For our community to continue in a "family oriented" direction, some very real and painful changes will be necessary in the near future.

Autumnfest: saddle up for the world's richest stick horse race Sunday

The world's richest stick horse race will take to the track during Autumnfest '91 on Saturday and Sunday, October 19 and 20, at Carrizo Lodge.

The world's best stick horses will line up to compete for a purse totaling 1,800,000 pesos. What better place for the world's richest stick horse race than right down the from the home of the world's richest quarter horse race?

Post-time is at 12:30 p.m. Sunday. Sign up to enter the stick horse race on the entry form published in today's edition.

The straight-legged steeds will race in five classes, and that fast-paced and exciting race will be just one of many activities planned for Autumnfest '91 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Carrizo's big fall celebration joins the regional calendar on October 19 and 20 as historic Carrizo Lodge's gift to the community.

It's free and fun for the entire family!

Arts and crafts will be on display and for sale both indoors and out, with artists working on site. Check out the Southwestern furniture and jewelry.

A great variety of foods will be available, with games, pony rides, music, dances, facepainting and much more.

Also planned during Autumnfest '91 is a Pops Concert at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, October 19. Concert tickets, $15.95 each, include a dinner buffet.

For information on Autumnfest '91 and reservations for the Pops Concert dinner, call 257-9131 or 1-800-227-1224.

Pizza Hut party promotes reading

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Mix a hearty helping of pepperoni and cheese with some interesting books, simmer for a few years and a good reader may emerge.

At least Hondo School Supt. Sergio Castañon hopes that's the end product of a new reading program jointly sponsored by the school and Pizza Hut on Sudderth Drive in Ruidoso.

"The pizza party is new this year for the class that reads the most books every month," Castañon said. "We want our children to be able to read, write and express themselves.

The program includes an oral or written presentation."

The competition is divided into kindergarten through third grade and fourth through sixth grade.

"The younger children get credit if their parents read them a book or if they read and then tell their parents about the story," Castañon said.

The first winner under the new program was the fourth grade class of Betty Eldridge. Her students read 100 books. In the younger group, the third graders read 76 books.

Eldridge said she added more incentive to her students by setting a goal on the number of books for each to read. She rewarded each student who reached the goal with a new book.

"But I think the pizza was the big key' in the competition, she said.

Hondo teacher Betty Eldridge and School Supt. Sergio Castañon celebrate with the winners of the first Pizza Hut pizza party under the district's new reading competition program. The students from Eldridge's fourth grade class read 100 books.

The Plant Corner

Please, please, don't eat the daffodils

DEAR SALLY:

I was told the other day that daffodils were not only dangerous but could be hazardous. I have grown daffodils for years and never had a problem. Is there any truth to this? If so, what part of the plant is poisonous?

Gail S.

DEAR GAIL:

According to the National Safety Council (NSC), in just one year, more than 75,000 American children were poisoned by such common plants as tomatoes, potatoes, rhubarb and daffodils.

Tomato and potato plants are related to "nightshade" also called "belladonna." Rhubarb leaves contain "oxalic" acid that crystallizes in the kidneys, have proved fatal. Jimson weed, also called stinkweed has caused more poisonings than any other plant, and some popular flowers pose hazards, too.

When eaten, daffodil bulbs, the underground stems of an Iris, the seeds and pods of wisteria, and all parts of azaleas, rhododendrons and oleander's are poisonous, to name a few. Foxglove flowers can also be deadly. And Jack-in-the-pulpit, autumn crocus, lily-of-the-valley, larkspur, English ivy, and the common garden hyacinth occasionally prove poisonous.

The NSC reports that 72,514 children under 6 years old and 5,171 children from 6-17

by Sally Black
Ruidoso News
Plant Specialist

were poisoned by plants in 1986.

A child who eats a poisonous plant should be given one teaspoon of syrup-of-ipeacac followed by two glasses of water to induce vomiting, says Dr. George S. Benjamin, a Chicago physician with the Safety Council. Then promptly seek medical attention.

Deadly nightshade is more than the stuff of murder mysteries—it's a real threat in backyard gardens.

There are several varieties of nightshade, black, horse nettle, silverleaf, devil's tomato and Carolina horsenettle.

In general all parts of these plants are toxic, although poisoning is usually associated with the ingestion of the berries. In the immature green state the berries are quite poisonous, but decrease in toxicity as they mature.

The toxicity of these plants is due to the presence of the glycoalkaloid solanine and related compounds.

Symptoms appear several hours after ingestion and initially include a harsh, scratchy sensation in the mouth and pharynx. This is followed by nausea, vomiting, abdominal pain, and diarrhea. A several degree rise in temperature is not uncommon; thus poisoning may be confused with bacterial gastroenteritis.

Dizziness, general muscular weakness, pupil dilation, mental depression, salivation, and sweating may be present. Headache is common and bloody stools are seen in the later stages of intoxication. Convulsions may occur, although death is usually associated with fall body temperature, coma, and respiratory paralysis.

If poisoned, demulcents such as milk, or vegetable oil may be administered to help protect the gastrointestinal tract and see a doctor as quickly as possible.

My reference book is from Poison Control Center, the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston, Texas.

Be most careful where you store those daffodil bulbs, etc. protect small children and pets.

Send questions to Sally Black, c/o The Ruidoso News, P.O. Box 128, Ruidoso, N.M. 88345.

Posters promote recycling

Ruidoso village manager Ron Wicker (left) and Lincoln County manager Nick Pappas rank some of the 420 posters submitted to the Solid Waste Authority's Recycling Poster Contest.

Winners will be named in five age divisions. Other judges were Chamber of Commerce director Jerry Watts and The Ruidoso News reporter Dianne Stallings.

DERMATOLOGY NOTES

PSORIASIS is probably my favorite skin disease, and that's undoubtedly because it is the most stubborn rash you ever don't want to get. Now I can believe that having a favorite skin rash sounds a little weird, but it is a love/hate situation. I love trying to help people with this frequently depressing disease, but I hate to see it coming in the door.

Psoriasis is one of those skin diseases that just does not go away by itself unless you are very lucky. Most of the time it is not so bad but that patients can basically ignore it or learn to live with it with the help of something as simple as vaseline. Light therapy, cortisone or coal tar products and occasionally oral medications are the mainstay of treatment. And, by the way, if you have found something that works good and does not smell too bad, please let me know, particularly if you can use it on the scalp.

New Mexico connects at Chicago vacation show

New Mexico Connection took the Ruidoso story to the American Airlines Supermarket Vacation Show in September in Chicago and won Best of Show.

Nancy Radziewicz, owner and operate of the statewide literature distribution service, said her booth was seen and admired by 730 travel agents and 50,000 consumers.

The New Mexico Connection booth was one of 300 exhibitions in the world-wide show that was arranged by country and then by region.

"Naturally, we were in the Southwestern area, along with Texas, Arizona, Utah, Colorado, Oklahoma and Nevada," said Radziewicz. She said the Taos Lodgers Association was the only other New Mexico exhibitor.

Radziewicz said the New Mexico Connection exhibition also included Johnny Johnson of the Carlsbad Convention and Visitors Bureau who wearing his chaps, spurs and boots.

Regional entertainment included Jim and Jeanne Martin of the Ruidoso area western musical group, Western Sonlight, and Jerry Wiant of Fort Davis, better known as Washtub Jerry.

Elsewhere at the show, international entertainment was presented on five different stages.

"Western Sonlight and Washtub Jerry were a hit at the show and they were invited back to perform at the American Airlines Dallas Supermarket Vacation Show in March," said Radziewicz.

"They also played with a steel drum band from the Islands — Red River Valley — a real crowd pleaser," said Radziewicz, who went on to list other entertainers who were on stage with the Ruidoso singers.

"Lots of goodwill and fun were exchanged," said Radziewicz.

Winning Best of Show was a highlight of the show for Radziewicz who decorated the exhibition space with colorful ristras and bright chili lights. She also included two Native American costumed dolls in authentic Mes-calero Apache Indian cradleboards with Apache beadwork, jewelry, pinecones and more — all on a New Mexico woven rug.

"My effort paid off," said Radziewicz, pleased with the extra exposure that winning title gave her New Mexico Connection booth.

Radziewicz, who represents more than a dozen Ruidoso businesses who are shown in her New Mexico Connection brochure, attends shows throughout the United States and in Mexico.

"The interest was strong in Chicago for information on New Mexico," said Radziewicz. She said the State Department of Tourism office shows Chicago as among the top three areas asking for information on this state's tourist attractions.

"The interest level was certainly evident at this show."

Sharing the New Mexico story at the American Airlines Supermarket Vacation Show in Chicago, Illinois, last month were entertainers Western Sonlight, Jim and Jeanne Martin, and Washtub Jerry, also known as Jerry Wiant from Fort Davis. Nancy Radziewicz's New Mexico connection exhibition won best of show in the international show that included 300 exhibitors. The Vacation Show drew 730 travel agents and 50,000 consumers.

LEGAL NOTICE RESOLUTION AND PROCLAMATION

Section 1. A special school general obligation bond for Ruidoso Municipal School District No. 3, Lincoln County, New Mexico (the "District") shall be held on Tuesday, November 12, 1991, at which time there shall be submitted to the qualified registered electors of Ruidoso Municipal School District No. 3 the following question:

"Shall the Board of Education of Ruidoso Municipal School District No. 3, Lincoln County, New Mexico, be authorized to issue general obligation bonds of the District, in one series or more, in an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $5,500,000, for the purpose of erecting, remodeling, making additions to and furnishing school buildings, and purchasing and improving school grounds, said bonds to be payable from general (ad valorem) taxes and to be issued and sold at such time or times upon such terms and conditions as the Board may determine?"

Section 2. The polls shall be open between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. on the election day.

Section 3. Precincts shall be consolidated for this election pursuant to Section 1-22-6, NMSA 1978, and all of the area within the exterior boundaries of the District shall constitute a single consolidated precinct. The boundaries of the entire District shall constitute the boundaries of the single consolidated precinct and all voters of the District, except absentee voters, shall vote at the Middle School Gymnasium, Ruidoso Middle School, Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Section 4. Absentee voting will be permitted as authorized by Section 1-22-19 NMSA 1978, and the Absent Voter Act of the Election Code, Section 1-6-1 through 1-6-18, NMSA 1978. Application for absentee ballots may be obtained from the office of the County Clerk of Lincoln County, Lincoln County Courthouse, in Carrizozo, New Mexico; however, at 5:00 p.m. on November 8, 1991, the County Clerk is required by statute to destroy unused absentee ballots so completed application must be returned to the County Clerk prior to that time. Absentee ballots of District voters may be marked in person at the office of the County Clerk of Lincoln County, Lincoln County Courthouse, Carrizozo, New Mexico, and delivered to the County Clerk until November 12, 1991 at 5:00 p.m. At any time prior to 5:00 p.m. on November 12, 1991 any person whose absentee ballot application has been accepted and who was mailed an absentee ballot but who has not received the absentee ballot may execute, in the office of the County Clerk of Lincoln County, a sworn affidavit stating that he did not receive or vote his absentee ballot. Upon receipt of the sworn affidavit, the County Clerk shall issue the voter a replacement absentee ballot. Sealed envelopes containing marked absentee ballots of District voters will be received by the County Clerk of Lincoln County until 7:00 p.m., November 12, 1991. On the day of the election, the County Clerk of Lincoln County shall deliver the absentee ballots and other related material to the Absentee Ballot Precinct Board at the Absentee Voter Precinct Polling Place which shall be located at the Office of the County Clerk.

Section 5. The County Clerk of Lincoln County, New Mexico is required by law to close the registration books for the election at 5:00 p.m., on October 15, 1991, and a person will be allowed to vote only if he or she is an elector of the District and currently registered to vote in the District at that time. Any qualified elector of the District who is not now registered and who wishes to vote at the election should register during regular office hours at the office of the County Clerk of Lincoln County, at the County Courthouse in Carrizozo, New Mexico, or at the office of any deputy registration officer appointed by the County Board of Registration for the county in which the elector resides (including municipal clerks for municipalities in such county except Carrizozo), prior to 5:00 p.m. on October 15, 1991.

Section 6 Voting shall be by voting machine, except absentee voting which shall be by paper ballot. At least one voting machine shall be used at the polling place for the consolidated precinct.

Section 7. Notice is hereby given that the Board will meet in open session at the Administrative Offices of the District, Ruidoso, New Mexico, at 12:00 noon, Thursday November 14th, 1991 i.e., prior to November 16, to determine the results of such election and take other action relating thereto.

Apples for the Student program provides computer

Furr's Supermarkets is continuing its program to provide computers to schools in exchange for cash register receipts.

The company, with headquarters in Albuquerque, announced today plans to undertake a major program of initiatives to enhance the education of students in New Mexico and West Texas.

The program, Education First, is designed to help students in all grades and ability levels.

According to a news release provided by Furr's, the corporation is the exclusive area sponsor of the "Apples for Students" program which enables schools to get free computer equipment by saving Furr's cash register tapes.

"Furr's is the only grocery chain in the region which is providing schools with these valuable learning tools, which include Apple computers, printers, software, encyclopedias, VCRs, camcorders and televisions," continues the release.

The corporation also is sponsoring a Homework Hotline which enables New Mexico students to call teachers for free advice and assistance on their homework.

"We want the people in New Mexico to know that we take our commitment to the community very seriously. Furr's believes in giving our students the best possible education here so we can keep them here," said Jan Friederich, CEO of Furr's Supermarkets, Inc.

"We believe the key to local economic development is the education of our youth. Furr's is investing in our children's schooling so that businesses seeking a well-educated work force will come here, rather than having our children leave to find work elsewhere."

Furr's will be dedicating over a million dollars this school year toward improving education in New Mexico.

In addition to the chain-wide "Apples for the Students" program, Furr's education initiative includes major sponsorship of individual community-based programs. These programs include the Homework Hotline and Stay-in-School in Albuquerque, "The Heart Treasure Chest" with the New Mexico affiliate of the American Heart Association, Round Up for Education and Partners-in-Literacy in El Paso.

The Apples for the Students program puts computers at the fingertips of America's children without burdening the schools or taxpayers, continues the release.

When Furr's sponsored a similar IBM program from July 1990 to July 1991, 267 computers and other equipment worth $875,000 were awarded to schools in New Mexico and Texas.

This year information on the program has been sent to nearly 900 schools and a 75 percent are already registered. This year's Apples for the Students program was launched on September 4 and will run through March 6, 1992.

Furr's Homework Hotline is a network of teacher-operated after-school phone banks which dispense advice to students and their parents. An 800 number will be available for students statewide to use the hotline at no charge. The teachers help students develop the techniques necessary for successful problem solving, without actually doing the homework for them.

This community project also involves KOB-TV, Albuquerque Teachers Federation, MCI, PepsiCo, NM Educators Credit Union, Metropolitan Life and RECA Better Homes and Gardens.

In February 1992, Furr's will launch a state-wide education assistance program, Round Up For Education. Shoppers at all Furr's stores will be able to "round up" on their total bill at checkout to donate for the benefit of area schools. The money raised through this program will be used to support special scholastic projects of parent-teacher organizations at all public and accredited private and parochial schools statewide.

Furr's Supermarkets, Inc., moved the chain's headquarters to Albuquerque in July 1991, following a management-led buyout of 70 stores from Furr's Inc. based in Lubbock. Furr's Supermarkets employs approximately 6,000 people in New Mexico and Texas.

According to information provided by Furr's, free Apple computer systems, printers and educational software is given to schools which sign up and collect designated amounts of Furr's register tapes from any of the 77 Furr's Supermarkets. IBM systems are also available to schools upon request.

All accredited public, private and parochial schools, kindergarten through grade 12, throughout Furr's marketing area in New Mexico and West Texas are eligible to participate in Apples for Students.

Anyone wanting should call Sharon M. 800-658-2720.

In past years for boxes provided at Furr's for collecting register receipts, but new program, the receipts be mailed to Ruidoso Public Schools: 200 Horton. C. NM 88345.

Members of Ruidoso parent advisory group everyone who shops at supermarkets save their receipts and send to Ruidoso Public School (dress above).

"Save and send," release provided by group.

All the residents community and area are an active role in the our children by participating. "Computers for Classrooms"

GOD'S LOVE PAINTED THE FLAMING BRILLIANCE OF AUTUMN

The summer's heat is on the wane
 And clouds are promising with rain.
 The cooler air is filled with haze
 From pungent smoke of bonfires' blaze,
 And with the season in its prime,
 On fields and trees it's harvest time;
 While frost produces in the nights
 Our most magnificent of sights:
 The flaming leaves of red and gold,
 Before they turn to deepest brown,
 So winds can bring them drifting down.
 Your House of worship will convey
 The meaning of this bright display,
 Which shows the love that God has planned
 When brilliant autumn lights the land.
