NO. 66 IN OUR 46th YEAR 50 CENTS

Lincoln County reels in big bucks from state

As the legislative session ended on Thursday, several Ruidoso groups who had requested funding were in good shape.

The Museum of the Horse in Ruidoso Downs received $100,000 for the marketing and advertising of the museum which is scheduled to open in late May. Frank Potter, representative of the museum, said the bill for funding was sponsored by State Representative John Underwood. Potter said he had gone before the legislature and people seemed to be really receptive of the idea.

In late January, Potter had gone to the Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees to get approval to apply for $150,000 of funding because the village will serve as the administrator of the funds. The money will go through the Department of Finance and Administration to Ruidoso Downs who will contract it out to the museum.

Ruidoso Downs had also approved the application for funding last year by the museum to do a study on what impact the museum would have had on the community, but the legislature turned it down. The museum is planning a grand opening on May 24 and will house more than 10,000 articles that represent not only history of the horse, but also information on the western way of life. The bulk of the pieces are from the Anne C. Stradling collection of Patagonia, Arizona.

Another group that hit it big was Ruidoso Main Street's redevelopment plan for Sudderth Drive. The group was requesting $1,272,585 for the construction of phase I and the design of phase II and III, and received $358,000 from general appropriations and House Bill 2, according to Underwood.

Phase I of the Main Street project covers Sudderth from Fern Street to Country Club Road. Phases II and III include Country Club to Carter Lane and Mechem Drive to Fern Street. Mary Maul, Main Street project director, was in Santa Fe last week to make the group's requests.

The Ruidoso Civic Center received a total of $225,000 for equipment purchase. The state provided some funding for the center in past sessions, and the village sent three representatives to make this request.

Planning administrator Cleatus Richards, deputy village manager Gary Jackson and Convention and Visitors Bureau director Kathleen Michelena made the pitch for the village.

Other Lincoln County groups receiving money were Capitan Smokey the Bear, $5,000; Corona streets, $15,000; and Fort Stanton Hospital cottage renovations, $262,498.

Underwood said this area was extremely well treated considering the average for each legislator is about $100,000, while the Main Street project alone received more than $300,000.

Otero rate hike draws protests

More than 11,000 customers of Otero County Electric Cooperative Inc. will be affected, if the New Mexico Public Service Commission approves a rate hike requested by the utility earlier this month.

The cooperative serves 11,181 customers in a two county area of Otero and Lincoln, according to John Vaughn, spokesman in the cooperative's Cloudcroft office.

Those customers have until March 3 to file protests with the commission (PSC) to the proposed rate increase and the reactivation of demand billing.

The majority of the accounts, 10,018, are residential, Vaughn said. The cooperative is asking the PSC for a 10.76 percent increase in rates for that classification to generate an addition $615,655 in revenue.

The total increase being sought by the company is $1,003,308. Non-residential customers, which include 199 irrigation accounts and 936 small commercial, would see a 13.71 percent increase in their rates, if approved by the PSC.

Rates for the company's 103 large industrial customers would go up 6.86 percent, producing an additional $167,194. Vaughn said the size of the transformer needed to serve a client company determines whether it falls into the small or large designation.

Rounding out the requested rate hike, an increase of 2.04 percent would be instituted for five street light systems, generating $3,157 more than current revenues.

In addition, customers would continue to pay a $10 base charge for everyone hooked up to a meter, and those who use in excess of 10 kilowatts per month would be charged a $6 demand fee.

"Our average residential customer runs between 400-450 kilowatt hours, which equals about three-and-a-half kilowatts," Vaughn said Friday. "When we had the demand rate before, we billed roughly the same number of customers per month. Out of 10,000-11,000 customers, 600-800 fell into the demand category, depending on whether it was winter or summer. I think it's only fair they pay their portion."

Buddy McDowell, a compliance specialist with the PSC in Santa Fe, said the cooperative filed for the increase February 10 and customers have 20 days to protest. If no protests are filed, new rates automatically take effect 30 days from the end of a protest period.

"All it takes is one complaint to stop that process and we have received protests," McDowell said Friday. "There will be no automatic increase or automatic demand metering."

At the end of the protest period, the letters will be counted, answered and go into the file for the administrative hearing, he said. When the case goes to hearing, every customer will have the opportunity to intervene, to become an active participant in the case, McDowell said. Customers will be notified of the procedural schedule.

"Individual customers don't need a lawyer, but organizations must have one to intervene," McDowell said. "But individuals must spend some time learning how to properly intervene, such as how to file testimony stating their position, how to ask questions in interrogatives, to get answers and to develop a position. Then at the hearing, they can cross examine witnesses."

McDowell explained that demand metering was stopped after a lengthy case in front of the PSC in which customers participated.

"It was decided in an administrative hearing and with the Otero cooperative that (demand metering) would stop and (the cooperative) would perform a two-year study (of whether that approach is justified)," McDowell said. "It's their contention after finishing the study that demand metering should be in place."

Vaughn offered the following examples of how the rate increase would impact customers.

A customer using 250 kilowatt hours would see his bill increase by 4.7 percent from $36.40 to $38.12; one using 500 KWH would experience a 7.4 percent increase from $60.31 to $64.75; a 750 KWH user would pay 8.9 percent more, from $83.59 to $91; a 1,000 KWH customer would pay $117.25 instead of $106.88, a 9.7 percent increase; and a 2,000 KWH customer would see a 7.1 percent increase on the bill from $195 to $208.89.

Protests should be mailed to the New Mexico Public Service Commission, 224 E Palace Avenue, Santa Fe, NM 87501.

For more information, call the PSC at 827-6940.

Council to vote on pay

by BUDDY BAKER
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

At its regular meeting Tuesday, February 25, the Ruidoso Village Council will consider doubling mayor and council salaries from $250 to $500 per month.

Ordinance, 92-6, relating to the increase in compensation for governing board members is scheduled for public hearing. The public is invited to voice their opinions on the ordinance.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. following a study session beginning at 5:30. The study sessions are open meetings and the public is encouraged to attend.

During the study sessions, business that is coming before the council that evening is discussed. The setting is less formal and organized than at the regular session.

Other items to be considered by the council are:

—Ordinance 92-5 relating to the waster and sewage rates and usage.

—Request for an ordinance for spraying and neutering of animals.

—Award of contract for demolition and removal of buildings at 204 Forest Lane and 107 San Miguel.

—Request to schedule public hearing for zone map amendment, lot 1-K, Block A, Navajo Subdivision, (C-2 to R-1).

—Bid award for water pipe fittings and accessories.

—Resolution 92-6 regarding substance abuse and testing.

—Proposal for opening and developing Wingfield Adult Park.

—Addendum to the agreement with Franklin Aviation.

—Agreement with Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority regarding employees.

—Resolution 92-8 regarding long term disability for village employees.

—Appointments to boards and commissions.

—Request for public hearing on Ordinance 92-7 regarding business registration and licensing.

Task Force keeps pressure on

by BUDDY BAKER
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane said Friday the White Mountain Task Force (WMTF) will continue operations into the investigation and arrest of persons dealing in illegal drugs in Ruidoso and Lincoln County.

The Task Force was responsible for the indictments and arrests of some 19 persons in a January operation. It was also successful in the arrest of two Mexican nationals January 31. In that operation 49 pounds of marijuana were confiscated, along with two late model pickup trucks.

McSwane said he has good reason to be serious about this fight.

"Children are our tomorrow," he said. He has two children in the area schools, and that keeps him determined to carry on this war.

"We owe the coming generation a concentrated effort in the war on drugs," he said.

"In addition, at a time when the country is worried about our balance of payments with Japan and other countries, we should consider the billions of dollars that are being sent abroad in the illegal drug trade."

The sheriff says that drug enforcement has always been a high priority with all of the Lincoln County law enforcement agencies, but it was not until the Sheriff's Department received a federal grant and established the task force were the departments able to combine their intelligence and efforts into a cohesive attack on drugs.

"As long as I am sheriff we will continue that attack," he said.

WMTF is headed by Gonzalo Cordova. He is assisted by Paul Wersich.

Cordova was a Ruidoso Police officer for six years in the '80s. He quit to return to college. He graduated from the University of Texas at El Paso with a bachelor's degree in criminal justice.

According to Sheriff's Department sources, he was an ideal candidate to head the task force, having had experience in undercover drug operations.

"Previously there has not been a concerted, organized effort in working narcotics," Cordova said. "We now have the organization in place and with our recent successes we intend to continue day to day operations against all illegal substances at all levels, from the street users and dealers to the major traffickers."

"We feel that we have to work at the street level to reduce the market of the larger dealers."

Sheriff McSwane said 37 drug related arrests have been made this year and that is four times the average number arrested for the past six years. He attributed this success to the Task Force.

Cordova noted that the Ruidoso Police Department has included the cost of a full-time narcotics officer in next year's village budget.

"There is a state and federal focus to keep productive task forces in operation," said Cordova. "We feel that we've been productive in the Lincoln County area."

"We appreciate the support that we have received from the community and from the elected officials. We hope that concerned citizens will continue that support by contacting their law makers at all levels of government."

Arson suspect indicted in Capitan house fire

A former Capitan resident was indicted on a charge of arson Friday by a Lincoln County grand jury.

Edward Fowler, 21, now living in San Marcos, Texas, is accused of setting his family's home on fire on May 7, 1991, according to assistant district attorney Viola Rhodes.

She presented the case to the grand jury in a closed session Friday. She also presented evidence in a case Thursday, but no indictments were returned in that session, Rhodes said.

Just a few weeks before the fire, Fowler's father, Jim Fowler, had learned that the Capitan School Board voted not to rehire him as a teacher for the next school year.

He submitted his resignation, but had said he planned to stay in the area and teach somewhere nearby.

The large wood frame home in Turkey Creek burned to the ground despite the efforts of firefighters from five agencies.

Rhodes said she expects the younger Fowler to be summoned into court, not arrested.

The investigation started the day of the fire when state fire marshal Paul Nay came to the site, she said. Assisting the fire marshal on the local end was Connie Hopper, a deputy with the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department.

Late winter storm surprises Ruidoso and delights skiers

Following a beautiful springlike Sunday morning, residents of the South Central mountains became aware of an impending winter storm when radio reports told of a winter storm watch.

In mid-afternoon increasing cloudiness, thunder, and lightning ushered in an evening of wet snow that dropped four inches on Ruidoso.

The snow began as rain and then changed to sleetlike snow pellets before changing to large wet snowflakes, as darkness approached.

State Policeman Mike

Howard said that the sudden storm created some busy times for his department Sunday evening.

Ruidoso Police were busy with calls concerning several vehicles off of the road Sunday evening and Monday morning, however there were no major accidents involving injuries.

The wet snow caused some brief interruption of cable TV services but no reported power outages.

The new snow was welcomed by the ski area and the village as the area prepares to entertain "Spring Breakers" during the month of March.

LCMC gears up to sell area voters on extending mill levy

by KRISTIE SULZBACH
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The campaign is already beginning to make people aware of how much the Lincoln County Medical Center needs to continue receiving the county mill levy which will be on the ballot in November.

At the LCMC Board of Trustees meeting Thursday president Dub Williams said it is important for the board members to be informed about the issue so they give the right information to the voters. Williams said he would like to get the information out to as many service organizations as possible so a committee will be formed from a list of names submitted by the trustees. They will serve as contact people within communities, he said.

Valerie Miller, hospital administrator, and Teresa Whiteman, Presbyterian Healthcare Services marketing assistant, developed a fact sheet for the trustees to study about the county mill levy. This tax for the hospital was voted on in November 1980, but it will expire June 30, 1993 so the vote this November will be to continue it on July 1, 1993.

The fact sheet states that they are not asking for an increase in the 4.25 mills currently being collected, with one mill going toward the support of the Carrizozo and Corona clinics and 3.25 going to support operation of LCMC. These clinics improve healthcare services for northern Lincoln County.

It also states LCMC's rates are among the lowest in the region and they have been able to maintain these low costs without sacrificing quality or efficiency. The center has also not had a rate increase since April 1990.

Miller gave the trustees a chart created by the New Mexico Hospital Association which compared the cost per patient stay in Lincoln County, New Mexico, the Rocky Mountains and the United States. She said from 1981 to 1990 the cost has increased in Lincoln County from a little less than $2,000 to only $3,000, while the others increased from less than $3,000 to at least $6,000.

One thing the people must know about and be educated about is that LCMC provided nearly $1 million in free care last year. Miller said just because some one gets free health care doesn't mean they don't contribute to society. She said in many cases these people have two or three jobs in the community and are barely holding on but they need the care. Williams said that it is necessary to provide care to everyone.

Miller has pointed out before that there may be national healthcare reforms planned in Congress, but they won't be a quick remedy for LCMC or other rural hospitals. Even if a plan is adopted it would take years to implement and in the meantime LCMC wouldn't survive, she said.

The board will meet with the medical staff on March 6 to discuss the fact sheet with them, so they can also have input on what they think is important to tell people about.

The administrator also told the group about concerns the hospital has in meeting the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act which went into effect in January. Miller said just two years ago the hospital was remodeled to meet state and federal codes, and meeting these new standards would be an enormous cost.

She said she absolutely believes in handicap access, but the changes may have to wait until they need to remodel. Trustee Gary Mitchell said the government knew this was coming and should have let the center know before it finished its remodeling two years ago.

Some areas that need changes to meet the ADA include the parking lots, drinking fountains, telephones, vending areas, entrances, hallways, restrooms, cafeteria and patients rooms. One stall will have to be removed from each of the public restrooms to make the handicap stall meet requirements, Miller said.

Besides complying with the ADA the hospital also has to meet other new federal standards, such as rewriting all contracts with the use of an attorney and supplying information on advanced directives. Miller said. The cost of meeting these and other requirements cost between $75,000-$100,000, she said. In a study she did about 12 years ago it cost about $27 per patient day to comply with federal regulations, but now it is probably closer to $75 to $80, Miller said.

In other financial business, Miller reported that activity in January continued to be strong compared to previous months. The net revenue was up $136,908 from January 1990 and up $25,268 from December 1991, resulting in a positive bottom line of $31,905. The figures seem to indicate they are headed in the right direction.

The dental rates at the Carrizozo clinic will be increasing for the first time in four years, Miller said. This is the only place in the county that takes Medicaid so they keep very busy, she said. Dr. Arlene Brown, chief of staff, said about 75 percent of the children in the county are on Medicaid so they can't get in at Carrizozo they would have to go to El Paso or Albuquerque to someone who does accept it. Miller was questioned on whether the Carrizozo clinic could support another dentist or if one could be established here in Ruidoso. She said she wasn't sure, but she would talk to the dentist in Carrizozo to see what he thought and to get information on how many people he has to turn away.

In the first two weeks of April Miller said the clinics will be having a colorectal screening in the county. People will need to stop in at the Ruidoso, Corona or Carrizozo clinics to get a kit and instructions. She said if people don't follow the dietary restrictions they may get an abnormal reading. The kit can then be mailed back into the clinic, she said.

Inez Tanner, LCMC Auxiliary president, reported the auxiliary has donated 2,032 hours in various areas at the clinic. The group also collected 33 units of blood on the drive Wednesday, which was better than they had been getting. She said they also nominated three of their members for a state auxiliary honor roll.

Recycling efforts are off to a slow start

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Until public response and the market for recyclable materials are tested, the Lincoln County recycling center should remain a lean operation, members of the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority say.

During an authority meeting last week, members voted not to take advantage of a price break by ordering more recycling collection igloos than originally planned.

"There are too many unpredictable things," said member Dave Dale. "It's very iffy."

The board decided to try receptacles for different materials such as glass and aluminum at just six sites within the county instead of 18.

Recycling coordinator Kerry Krumsiek said he had found a source that would lease containers at a significantly lower price if a five-year commitment was approved. The price would allow him also to pay $450 a month for a one ton truck, all for the budgeted $1,000 maximum monthly figure.

"Recycling is volume dependent," Krumsiek said. "The greater the volume, the closer we will come to break even."

Ruidoso is getting its own igloo containers and has decided to go for 18 instead of nine, he said.

But out in the county, some additional sites with good potential have been offered at places like Camp Sierra Blanca, the schools and even some bars.

But members warned that if igloos are placed where people will dump other trash and they contaminate the load, the entire contents may have to be dumped in a landfill and that would defeat the purpose.

They also questioned whether Krumsiek by himself with one truck could service all of the containers if the number of igloos was increased.

Frank Warth, vice chairman of the authority and mayor of Capitan, said he's still not convinced the State Environment Department is committed to recycling.

"I'm still not convinced they're not going to change their minds and start putting it all in landfills," Warth said.

Recycling and composting have been an important factor in the authority operation since its inception. Part of the coalition's goal is to reduce the flow of waste to landfills.

Krumsiek said he believes the state will stay behind the plan because in New Mexico and other low population states, there is no glut of recyclable materials on the market.

"The problem is we're not carrying enough volume to (operate) without the state's help," Krumsiek said.

A grant has been the primary source of finance for the recycling operation this first year.

At one point, the board considered tabling action on purchasing the igloos, but Dale pointed out that a postponement also would delay the start-up date for a full-fledged recycling program and any earned income.

"Let's start with 36 igloos leased for 36 months and in three years we'll know (how the program fares)," said member Bill Elliott, a county commissioner.

"Recycling is just a satellite of what we're into. The price for the material is going down, but we're also trying to keep it out of the landfill."

Board members agreed. In other action, the authority: —Heard a report by Ralph Jones of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on a $50,000 grant of manpower that has been offered to the authority. It's an opportunity, without spending any or much money, to demonstrate the economic feasibility of a two-county landfill. Action was delayed until Jones can talk to Otero County officials.

—Set a meeting with the Otero County Commission and municipalities officials for 8 a.m. February 26 at the authority headquarters on Second Street in Ruidoso Downs.

Green said Otero agreed Wednesday to create a joint powers agreement for garbage collection and disposal among the governing entities in that county.

The next step is to discuss joining efforts with Lincoln County. Jones also will attend the meeting.

—Agreed to pursue a market survey for compost that may be generated if the authority's pilot program is successful. They also agreed to pay per diem and mileage expenses for Dr. Bernie Reimann, scientific consultant to the board, to attend a demonstration in Albuquerque on equipment used to turn compost piles.

Garbage graphic is sought

Everybody needs a nickname or trademark. Government is no exception.

Officials of the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority are inviting people to submit ideas for the organization's logo.

The design chosen will appear on the authority's trucks, dumpsters and recycling containers.

Best of all, the winner will be paid $250. The deadline is 5 p.m. Monday, March 2. Entries should be delivered to the authority's main office at 222-Second Street, Ruidoso Downs, or mailed to P.O. Box 2405, Ruidoso Downs, NM 88346.

A person may submit more than one entry, they should not exceed 8x10-inches and should be able to be enlarged or reduced without significant loss of resolution. The winning logo will be used on posters, brochures and stationery as well as large containers.

Logos should be drawn in black and white. Suggestions for colors, should be specified on a separate sheet with the entry form. Entry sheets are available at the authority office.

For more information, call director Gene Green or recycling coordinator Kerry Krumsiek at 378-4697.

Downs candidates to answer questions at free chili supper

Residents of Ruidoso Downs will have the opportunity to ask questions of the 12 candidates who are running for offices in the March 3 election.

A free chili supper hosted by the candidates and the Ruidoso Downs Ladies Auxiliary will begin at 6 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday at the Ruidoso Downs Senior Citizens Center. Each of the candidates will give a three to five minute presentation starting at 7:30 p.m. After the presentations audience members will have a chance to ask questions for the candidates to answer.

Jackie Branum, Joe Hayhurst and James Lee (J.L.) Wilson are running for the position of mayor. Tracey Brewer, Charlotte Craig, Travis Hicks, Judy Miller and Tony Parker are running for the two open positions on the board of trustees. Running for the position of municipal judge are Fred Bernard, Jake Harris, Margie Morales and Harold Mansell.

Elks Lodge honors Wardwell

The Ruidoso Elks Lodge #2086 honored Ruidoso Police Department Detective Corporal Cindy Lou Wardwell as law enforcement "Officer of the Year" in a surprise dinner on Wednesday night.

The dinner was attended by Elks members and law officers from various agencies in Lincoln County.

According to Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor, this is the first award of its type from the Elks in several years.

"We are honored that Det. Wardwell was chosen for the award. She is a deserving officer," Swenor said.

Senator's staff to be here

Members of Senator Pete Domenici's staff will be in Ruidoso from 10 a.m. to noon Wednesday.

They will be at the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce to answer questions and talk to anyone having difficulty with a federal agency.

Anyone who would like to convey an opinion to the senator is invited to stop by.

Glencoe firefighters to meet

The Glencoe/Palo Verde Volunteer Fire Department and the newly-formed sub-station will meet and conduct a training session at 7 p.m. Tuesday, February 25, at the fire station in Glencoe.

The meeting is open to the public and new volunteers are encouraged to attend.

Donation to help fund this project can be mailed to the Glencoe/Palo Verde Fire Station; PO Box 1735; Ruidoso Downs NM 88346.

Meeting this week

RUIDOSO DOWNS BOARD OF TRUSTEES meets at 7 p.m., Monday, February 24, in the Ruidoso Downs village hall.

RUIDOSO VILLAGE COUNCIL will meet at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, February 25, in council chambers of Ruidoso Municipal Administrative Center.

LINCOLN COUNTY COMMISSION will meet at 9 a.m. Tuesday, February 25 in the county courthouse in Carrizozo.

LINCOLN COUNTY SOLID WASTE AUTHORITY will meet with the Otero County Commission and municipal officials from that county at 8 a.m. Wednesday, February 26, in the authority's headquarters on Second Street in Ruidoso Downs.

County Commission digs in for a long meeting

If the sheer volume of agenda supporting documents is any indication, the Lincoln County Commission meeting Tuesday will be a long one.

During the morning session that begins at 9 a.m. in the county courthouse in Carrizozo, commissioners will tackle several road-related requests and will receive a report from the County Lodgers Tax Committee.

They will make appointments to the fair board and will consider a proposal by Rose Garcia, director of Tierra Del Sol Housing Corporation to seek more money for housing rehabilitation.

Former governor Garrey Caruthers, representing the Martin Group Administration Services, will be on hand to answer questions about the health insurance coverage offered by Nationwide, the county's current insurer.

Scheduled on the afternoon session that starts at 1 p.m., Lincoln County Solid Waste director Gene Green will be asking for some temporary financial help for that garbage collection coalition during its first few months of operation.

County Treasurer Janice Ware will conduct a board of finance meeting and Commissioner Bill Elliott will report on a recent meeting of the Extraterritorial Zoning Authority (ETZ). Elliott learned at the ETZ authority meeting last week that instead of building a $10-million performing arts center in the Village of Ruidoso, community benefactor Jackie Spencer instead may construct it in Alto, which is part of the unincorporated portion of the county.

Parolees released, head back to prison

Within hours after being paroled from Southern New Mexico Correctional Facility in Las Cruces, two men were back behind bars, arrested for auto theft.

According to Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane, Jerry Joseph Brice, 30, and Manuel Valencia Jr., 41, got off a bus in Carrizozo Friday afternoon.

They allegedly stole a pickup off the street and headed toward Capitan where Capitan Police Officer Lance Zink noticed them speeding in a 50 mph zone. He checked the license number and found the vehicle was stolen.

"They ran from me and one guy jumped from the truck," Zink said. "I didn't see it at the time, but some citizens told me. I figured that I might as well get one."

"He was walking down the road and I caught up with him. He was real belligerent."

When Zink put Brice in the patrol car, the man allegedly kicked out the back window.

Brice, who listed his address as the correctional facility, was booked into Lincoln County jail in Carrizozo on charges of receiving stolen property, conspiracy to steal a motor vehicle, resisting arrest, assault on a peace officer, disorderly conduct and two counts of criminal damage. Bail was set at $10,100.

Meanwhile, Valencia allegedly stole a one-ton white Chevrolet pickup owned by Ramey Drilling Company and headed toward Roswell, McSwane said.

The Roswell Police Department had been alerted to watch for the pickup. The driver reportedly had stopped in Hondo and skipped without paying for gas, Zink said.

Roswell Detective Clifford Frosch and patrol officer Dane Kyser spotted the vehicle abandoned west of Roswell, according to Kyser's report. The engine had been blown.

A short time later, a 1974 Chevrolet cream-color pickup was stolen in Roswell. The officers saw the pickup heading through town. They stopped it at First and Main Street at 6:05 p.m. Valencia was driving and offered no resistance, according to the report.

Valencia was booked into the Chaves County Jail at 8:35 p.m. on a charge of unlawful taking of a motor vehicle. No bail was set. He listed his home as Portales.

More charges are pending in Capitan.

"I just finished the paperwork," Zink said Monday morning. Valencia will be charged with a second count of unlawful taking of a vehicle and with receiving a stolen motor vehicle, he said.

"I'd really like to give special thanks to the citizens," Zink said. "Without them, things could have gone real bad real quick. I was the only officer within 20 miles."

Coco Chanel would make classy pet

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

A bouncy mix of chihuahua and bull terrier, Coco Chanel is a bundle of love wrapped in a small package.

Just 10 months old, Coco was brought to the Lincoln County Humane Society shelter about three months ago as a stray.

"I can't for the life of me figure out how someone would let a dog with such a sweet personality and one that requires such low maintenance get away," said shelter manager Randy Basch. "But no one has come looking for her."

"She's very affectionate and outgoing. There's no behavior problem that I can see."

Coco weighs about 15 pounds and is a short-hair dog. She appears to be housebroken.

She is spayed. The procedure was performed without charge by Ruidoso Animal Clinic under the supervision of Dr. Lynn Willard.

"There's no reason somebody won't see her, grab her and run to sign the adoption papers," Basch said.

SYLVIE

In the cattery next door is another terrific pet waiting for a new home.

Sylvie is a spayed female cat and already is declawed.

"She's very affectionate and definitely a lap cat, not real demanding," Basch said. "She just likes to sun herself."

The one-year-old cat came to the shelter as a stray about eight weeks ago.

If a prospective owner would prefer a male cat, one with similar black and white markings also is available.

It would need to be neutered, but would be sponsored by a supporter of the shelter.

All animals adopted from the shelter must be spayed or neutered to ensure that they are not responsible for the production of more litters of pups and kittens that may be abandoned or have to be destroyed.

This past winter has been unusually bad in terms of litters and unwanted animals being turned loose or brought to the shelter, Basch said. That has required more tough life and death decisions as the shelter became overcrowded on several occasions.

HELP IS NEEDED

Contributing to the spay and neutering fund of the shelter is one of the best ways to directly help the animals find new homes, Basch said. The cost of the procedure is the biggest expense associated with adoption.

Volunteers also are needed to help with telephone checks on past adoptions to be sure they are working out and that the animals have been spayed or neutered. The phoning can be handled in the volunteer's home.

Dogs always are eager to be walked, cuddled and given treats. The cats enjoy a romp in the cattery and some extra-special petting.

Society members also appreciate shows of support for the daily upkeep of the shelter or toward their building fund for an enlarged shelter to accommodate dogs from the unincorporated portions of the county. Those animals now are housed in a facility without heat or running water and usually are destroyed usually within 72 hours of being impounded. Despite the effort of the county impounding officer to find them homes, their chances of adoption are much lower.

Visiting the society's thrift shop, Kit 'N Kaboodles on Sudderth near Arby's also is a way of helping the animals. Besides the items there for sale, several large pieces are on display outside the shelter, including a refrigerator, a workbench, a wheelbarrow and a charcoal grill.

TAKE A LOOK

Several former pets from the humane shelter that were featured in stories still are available for adoption. They illustrate the variety of breeds that can be adopted from the facility on Gavilan Canyon Road.

Misty the greyhound remains as sweet tempered and friendly as ever. She has been spayed and still is looking for a home with a large fenced yard and room to run. Doc is an attractive bird dog with classic markings, a good personality and the ability to follow the most obscure scent. He has been neutered.

Wilma, a flat-coated retriever with a calm, undemanding outlook on life, shows a willingness to befriend anyone interested in giving her some attention. She doesn't quite understand why after five years as a family pet, she was discarded by her owners through no fault of her own.

Flecks, a neutered blue heeler mix, survived a confrontation with a car and is looking for a master who would give him some attention for the first time in his life.

Amigo, a neutered flat-coated retriever, is excitable when first approached, but melts with a few affectionate strokes.

Maggie is a spayed catahoola mix with the characteristic intense appearance, but an outgoing and affectionate personality. She's smart and responds well to commands.

A German short-hair pointer, Specks is full of life and looking for a pal who enjoys the outdoors. He recently was neutered and is ready for adoption.

Squirt, a pint-sized black spaniel with a gallon-full of love, is housebroken, bright and a good lap size dog.

In the cattery are Hazy, a laid-back gray tiger-striped Tom with full-moon cheek pads and Hardy, the remaining sister of the Laurel and Hardy duet. Her sister was adopted, but Hardy is the shy of the two and needs someone who likes to shower attention on an animal looking for love.

All of the past pets who have not been altered are sponsored for the procedure if adopted.

For more information about Coco or Sylvie, or any of the other dogs and cats, stop at the shelter or call Basch at 257-9841.

EDC elects directors, hears progress report

by KRISTIE SULZBACH
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County shareholders voted in four new board members at the annual meeting Thursday night.

New members Dick Mound, Rick Evans, Tom Rigsby and Glen Crane will fill two vacancies and replace Mike Line and Frank Sayner, who go off the board. Although the election of new officers was on the agenda, the group decided to wait for awhile to do it so these new board members and others who have filled recent vacancies can get comfortable with their new positions, according to Ronnie Paulger, current board president.

"We want them to be comfortable that they are the person for the job," Paulger said.

He said these new board members could help make the organization live up to its potential by stepping in and being willing to work. Nomination committee chairperson James Hobbs said he was also really excited about what they have to offer the organization.

Hobbs said this project (EDCLC) is in a lull, but as they continue they shouldn't apologize for what they haven't been able to accomplish.

"Dollar for dollar, you would be hard pressed to find another organization with this much success," he said.

Paulger, who gave a state of the corporation presentation, said this year the group worked with extremely limited funds, after losing money from the county. The Village of Ruidoso has continued to support the group so it can operate, but the corporation is not at the level that it was in the first few years, he said.

One major problem for the group has been to retain a director. Paulger said in the last year they had lost a director and a replacement director and now they are searching for a new one. He said a selection committee has narrowed the candidates for the position down to five people, and they hope to continue interviews soon.

"Even though we have had no major new accomplishments in bringing businesses in, we do have things on the drawing board that we hope to bring to the table soon," he said.

"Many of us still believe in the EDC. We have fared well compared to other communities, but we can't continue to do it without your support," Paulger said.

He said the group does have some goals set to develop a five year program of funding which should be up and running in the next 60 days.

Paulger was asked by audience member Al Junge if EDC is receiving funding from all the villages in the county. Paulger stated again that Ruidoso is currently the only village contributing funds, but the organization was developed to help the entire county.

"We will continue to try to enhance the economic development of all the communities in the county," he said.

Paulger said the attitude of the county commission shouldn't override the work EDC is doing. In past years the county funded the organization with mill levies, but decided this last year to set aside $30,000 for specific economic development efforts. The EDC had access to the money if they presented a specific plan to use it. Up to the 1991-1992 fiscal year the county had put about $200,000 into EDC.

Paulger said EDC did recently receive $12,000 from the county from delinquent taxes generated when the mill levy was still in effect, but was not found until the county did a full audit. The corporation will continue to go back to the county for funding, but Paulger said he is not sure what approach they will take.

The commissioners have different priorities now that reflect the wishes of their constituents, so these won't change until other people take over, Paulger said.

Junge said it would seem a few thousand dollars to EDC would be peanuts to the county and villages' big budgets, but they may think Ruidoso is the only one that is benefiting from it.

"It is a shame when the towns don't realize how important EDC is to a community," Junge said.

Cindy Lynch, area Realtor and shareholder, said during the last election all the incumbents supported economic development, but it seemed to be a different story when they got into office. She said it is hard to entice new businesses to the area because it is extremely taxed. Under the new direction of the chamber, the Realtors and the banks, maybe they can put their heads together to cut costs to develop economic development to establish a stable economy, Lynch said.

Ken Nosker, a shareholder, pointed out another election is coming up for an even bigger commission. He said they should look at the commission and be cognizant of who they vote for. If they can't get a commitment on EDC from the candidates then they should consider that at the ballot box, he said.

"Everyone here should let their wishes and desires on EDC be known to these people," Nosker said.

"The county commissioners had the right to change their philosophy. They have to live with it. We have to live with it," Paulger said.

In other business a guest, Jack Barber, gave the group information on possible contracts that are farmed out by Sandia Laboratories of Albuquerque. Barber worked at the labs for 25 years but has been retired and moved here 10 years ago. He said he didn't know the specifics of what is available, but he did have the name of the contact person.

The lab has a substantial budget with a large amount going for civilian oriented jobs, Barber said. He said the corporation should call and ask what they want done and try to arrange to do it.

Sister Mary Catherine operates Our Lady of Mount Carmel Religious shop in the Village Plaza in Midtown Ruidoso.

Religious items featured in Village Plaza store

A new inspirational store, Our Lady of Mount Carmel Religious Shop, has opened in Ruidoso at the Village Plaza at 2306 Sudderth.

The shop offers a huge variety of items from the usual religious goods to the very special, including crucifixes, rosaries, statues and nativity scenes. Religious items are also available for occasions such as baptisms, first communions and weddings.

People can also get meaningful gifts with inspirational messages, such as plaques, key chains, magnets or cassette tapes. Sister Mary Catherine, who runs the shop for her mother "Pete" Bennett, said they also have a bigger store in Alamogordo and can bring more specialty items up from there. She can also take orders for special occasion professionally made cakes from the Alamogordo shop.

The shop also has a beautiful line of Christian jewelry and will soon have a display of Christian engagement rings and wedding bands. Our Lady of Mount Carmel Religious Shop is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday, but will expand its hours as the weather gets warmer.

Sister Mary Catherine said this shop is a little bit of ministry as well as a business. She said many people say they like the atmosphere of the shop, including the music that is played.

"We hope to get to know the local people and provide for their needs," she said.

Frank Sayner (far left), who is going off the board of the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County is pictured with President Ronnie Paulger during the group's annual meeting. Tom Rigsby and Glen Crane (far right) are two of four new board members elected. The board postponed electing new officers.

Lady Warriors begin district tonight at Silver

Amy Wishard goes for a shot over her opponent, while her teammates watch it sink through the hoop. Wishard scored six points during the Lady Warriors last game of the season against Deming. The girls lost 42-49 but begin district competition tonight.

by KRISTIE SULZBACH
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The Lady Warriors have finished their regular season and are heading into district play tonight at Silver City in an all or nothing contest.

The girls played one of their best games of the season on Saturday when they met Deming on their court. The Lady Warriors got off to a good start and led at halftime 25-22, but it wasn't enough to beat the Wildcats.

Coach Jody Blanton said the girls let things slip out of their fingers in the third quarter but still kept things close. The final score was 42-49.

"We really played one of our best games all season. Deming is always tough on their home court," she said.

This loss and the fact that Silver City beat Socorro in weekend action forces the girls to go on the road to begin the district competition. Blanton said she thinks playing so well against Deming will help them against Silver City.

"It should be a really close game, but if we lose we are out of it," she said.

The girls are 1-1 against Silver with the win coming in a game at home, 49-40. The loss was on Silver's court on January 18 with a final score of 37-47.

Cicelee Makowski was the high scorer in Saturday's game with 13 points, followed by Lalena Valliant with 10 points. Mandy Parker and Amy Wishard each had six points. Other statistics were not available.

The junior varsity team ended its season with a win on Saturday against the Wildcats. The final score was 37-32 to make the girls 6-4 on the season. The high scorer for the game was Sarah Dix with 12 points. Brandy Pfeffer scored 10 points, while Kristie Ryan had six points and Robin Hirsch had five.

Blanton said the varsity team has been up and down all season.

"The girls who stuck with it have really improved at the end of the season and that is when it will all count," she said.

The boys basketball team also took on the chin from the Deming Wildcats on Saturday on the home court. It was not a good night for the Warriors to be without their starter, Robert Sayner, who hurt his ankle in practice on Wednesday.

"Part of our problem Saturday was that Robert is really our leader on the court. We were lost without him," Coach Norman Wright said.

Deming is ranked third in the state and is an excellent team with an 8-1 district record. They just overpowered the Warriors, Wright said.

The first quarter deficit of four to 24 set the tone for the rest of the night, he said. The second quarter was even worse as the Warriors only made two points to the Wildcats 20, which put the halftime score at six to 44.

"We weren't getting many shots and those we got wouldn't go in. Deming couldn't miss, though," Wright said.

The Warriors came out fired up for the second half and outscored Deming 18-17 in the third quarter, but it wasn't enough to carry them through the fourth. The final score was 35-82, but Wright said the team did play a better second half.

The top scorers were Darin Davis with 11 points, Jeff Chapman with seven points and Eric Evans with six points. Jaime Ordorica scored five points, while Jeff Cox got four points. Daniel Espinosa scored two points.

The junior varsity played a good game against the Wildcats but came up short with a final score of 47-56. The leading scorers were Jimmy Varnadore with 12 points and Jim Paul Whipple with 11 points.

This varsity loss gives the Warriors a 0-8 record in the district and a 5-15 record for the season with two regular games remaining. On Friday the boys will travel to Cobre for what may be their chance to beat the Indians and tie for last place in the district. Cobre beat the Warriors on February 7 at Ruidoso.

On Saturday Silver City will come to Ruidoso for the last regular season game. Silver is tied with Deming for first place in the district and will be hard to beat.

Wright said the Warriors will start district action on Monday, possibly at Socorro.

Robert Sayner, Eric Evans and Jaime Ordorica keep the Oñate Knights out of scoring range with an aggressive defense in a recent game. The boys team is having a tough season but have two more games left before going into districts.

Mandy Parker rips the ball away from a Socorro Warrior player so she can throw it to Michelle Morris. Both players have made major contributions to the team in the regular season which ended on Saturday in a loss to Deming.

Five Warrior wrestlers head to state tournament at Aztec

by KRISTIE SULZBACH
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Five Ruidoso Warriors wrestlers are on their way to the state tournament this Friday and Saturday at Aztec after placing this weekend at the district meet.

As expected Poncho Portillo dominated the 160 weight class at the meet at Goddard on Saturday. In his match for the championship he faced Coppelberger from the New Mexico Military Institute and the win put Portillo at 3-0 against this competitor and 31-4-1 for the regular season. His performance should rank him as the number one or two seed in the state competition, according to Coach Gerald Ames.

"He has a good chance of doing well at state," Ames said.

At 103 pounds Gunner Johnson also qualified to continue on. Ames said Johnson took fourth place in this very tough competition. He said everyone was trying their hardest to qualify so Johnson did a good job.

Sam Gumbert will be continuing his season as well at 130 pounds. He placed fourth in the tourney after having to face one of the toughest wrestlers in the district, Kevin Strand. In his first match, Gumbert was tied 14-14, when Strand took the edge and beat him.

The second match wasn't as close, but Ames said Gumbert did a really good job the whole day.

In the surprise of the tournament, Matt Bates, a freshman, beat his opponent from Cobre to get into the medal round and win fourth place at 152 pounds. Bates has been improving all year, and it is nice that he gets to go to the state meet, Ames said.

In another surprise Robert Murry at heavyweight also placed fourth. In a tough match, Murry beat a wrestler from Cobre, but then he lost to a Deming wrestler for the fourth place medal. Murry has had only a few matches on the varsity team, since replacing Shane Eidson who was injured in January.

Other wrestlers also did well but didn't place at the meet. At 140 pounds Chris Carusona had to beat his first opponent to be able to have the opportunity to go for a medal. He lost that match in overtime by a take down, and then he had to wrestle Skinner of Goddard. In this match Carusona was tied 2-2, but Skinner pulled away and won. Ames said Carusona almost pulled off some upsets, but it was an extremely tough weight class.

Scott Stricklin also had a tough class at 135 pounds. His record for the day was one win and two losses, but Ames said Stricklin will be back next year, while many of his competitors were seniors and will graduate.

Jose Peirto had a rough day and a long season as a freshman on the varsity team. He lost two matches on Saturday but wrestled well in those matches, Ames said. Jerry Romero lost two matches as well in his last year of wrestling.

Mario Sanchez ran up against a former state champion in the 171 pound weight class and wrestled tough but wasn't able to come up with a win. Joe Zinn at 145 pounds also wrestled well but was defeated twice in the tournament. Dylan Carusona wrestled at 125 but was beaten by his opponents.

Ames said it was really a tough tournament for the boys, but they did good. Oñate won the event and will be send at least 10 wrestlers to the state competition.

The state competition will begin at 9 a.m. Friday and continue Saturday at Aztec High School.

"Most of these kids are going to state for the first time and they will have to wrestle the number one seed in their weight class, so they won't be in a great position to begin with. It will give them a lot of good experience," Ames said.

Sam Gumbert puts on the pressure as he goes for a pin against his opponent at the New Mexico Military Institute tournament on February 15. Gumbert, wrestling at 130 pounds, was one of five Warriors who qualified at district to go to the state meet this weekend. Others who qualified were Poncho Portillo, who placed first at 160 pounds, Gunner Johnson, who placed fourth at 103 pounds, Matt Bates, who placed fourth at 152 pounds and Robert Murry who was fourth at heavyweight.

Miranda signs with Eastern Arizona

Another senior athlete has signed a letter of intent to play sports on the college level. Kansas Miranda will be playing volleyball at Eastern Arizona College in Thatcher this fall.

Miranda said she sent the letters on February 15, and she can play both volleyball and basketball but at this point she isn't sure if she will go out for basketball. She said she chose the school because it has gone to the national volleyball championships six years in a row and this last year Eastern Arizona won.

"I liked the coach a lot, and I thought he would be good for me," said Miranda.

She had seen the coach at several volleyball camps and also practiced with the team. Miranda said she has visited the campus, which was really nice. The school also has a good program in pre-law which is the course of study Miranda plans to go into.

She played volleyball at Ruidoso High School for all four years and was named the team's outstanding hitter the last two years.

Ski Report: New snow Sunday was 10 inches. The settled snow depth midway up the mountain is 70 inches. Skiing conditions on all trails are excellent. The surface conditions are powder and packed powder. All trails and all lifts are open. The road is plowed but snow packed, and chains are needed for two-wheel drive vehicles.

Movin' right along

The fastest skiers in Texas had their days on the mountain during the Texas Cup activities a week ago. A lot of them said they'll keep coming back to ski at Ski Apache, and some of them were back during this past weekend. It was a busy one with plenty of skiers and lots of people in town. Great skiing continues.

Handicapped skiers helped by 2 fundraisers this week

Ski Apache Handicapped Skiers Association presents its benefit silent auction from 6-9 p.m. Tuesday, February 25, at Cree Meadows Country Club.

Donated items will be auctioned with all proceeds to go to the Handicapped Skiers Association, a non-profit organization that operates solely on contributions. Hundreds of handicapped people are offered a chance to enhance their quality of life each year through the program. It costs the handicapped skiers nothing, with volunteers providing help and instruction and donations used to purchase specialized equipment.

Complimentary hors d'oeuvres and a no-host bar will be available at the party, which will also include bidding on racing teams for Wednesday's annual businesspersons-handicapped ski race.

The race will begin at 11 a.m. Wednesday on East Easy Street at Ski Apache.

Free ski tip sessions lead to better techniques, more fun

by YVONNE LANELLI
Special to The News

The sign read "Free Ski Tips at 9:15 a.m. at the Top of the Gondola every Saturday and Sunday."

Never ones to pass a potential bargain, my husband Rusty and I joined 14 other thrifty-minded skiers Sunday morning at Ski Apache's gondola terminal.

There, four certified Ski Apache instructors—Loree, Phil, Steve and Ken—greeted us and explained the routine:

We'd ski one at a time part way down Chino, a more difficult run. An instructor would critique each of us, after which we'd form groups to ski together down Chino and Moonshine.

All for free. Sounded good to us. I was the second to ski down and was directed to Ken.

"Real nice turns," he commented, boosting my confidence as I approached. "Let's work on better balance."

He suggested standing square on my skis, making rounder, smoother turns.

Sounded good to me. I looked up the hill to watch the rest of the group ski down.

Rusty was directed to Steve, who complimented his turns also and suggested working on upper body movements.

As the instructors watched each of the remaining skiers descend, they critiqued each skier positively. The skiers listened attentively and attempted corrections.

Soon all 14 of us had been divided among four instructors. Now we'd work in small groups.

As my group of three followed Ken, we practiced slipping our edges, finding a balance point, facing downhill and holding onto the turn, not rushing it. Ken's enthusiasm complemented his technical ability.

Soon each of us felt the effects of Ken's suggestions as our turns did indeed become smoother and rounder.

Gliding down Moonshine to end our one-run Ski Tip session, all three of us grinned and laughed. Just a few minor changes in our technique and look how we'd improved. This mini-lesson was fun—Ski Tips worked!

That's the beauty of skiing with an instructor, say the experts. It's an instructor's business to notice the subtleties that make the difference between grace and struggle. Although many mistakenly believe lessons are only for beginners, real skiers know one can always perfect a turn, be it on groomed, powder, moguls or gates.

"If you enjoyed our ski tip, we have an offer for you," said Ken, beginning what we jokingly called "the commercial."

"You may continue the lesson for only $20," Ken explained. "If there's one, two or three of you, the lesson will last an hour, like a private. If there are four or five, the lesson will be two hours. If there's six or more, the lesson will be all day."

A lesson from a certified instructor for only $20? What a deal—that's much less than the regular prices of $45 for a private and $33 for an all-day lesson.

Why the deal? "It's our way of promoting upper-level classes," says Rick Vincent, Ski Apache Ski School Director.

A skier who took advantage of the $20 offer earlier this season praised the lesson.

"I really learned a lot. I'm an advanced intermediate and thought I was pretty good, but that lesson really showed me how to ski bumps better—and crud, too. Ski Tips was good, but I'm glad I stayed for the whole lesson."

If you're an intermediate skier or better and this offer sounds good to you, join Ski Tips every Saturday and Sunday morning at 9:15 a.m. at either the gondola terminal or on the top of Meadows and Chino.

It's a great free deal you won't want to pass up.

(For more information, call the Ski Apache Ski School desk at 336-4357.)

A memorial service was at 2 p.m. Saturday at Atascosita Presbyterian Church.

The Dreamer

A.E. Hunt remembered for service above self

A. E. Hunt

Services were held February 20 at the First United Methodist Church in Portales for A.E. Hunt who was called Home by Our Lord on February 16.

A eulogy written by his daughters Mary Olenchak and Lila Roberson entitled "In Memory of our Father" was read by Lila. The eulogy traced the life of the sisters growing up with their parents and said that "No greater here ever existed for us, and our regard and love for him increased with the years."

The Reverend Dr. B.C. Goodwin, who had been pastor of the church when Mr. and Mrs. Hunt had been members, said that the three main elements of A.E.'s character were: 1. Optimistic outlook on life; 2. abiding faith in God and 3. service above self.

In illustrating the first characteristic, The Reverend Dr. Goodwin read from the Book of Genesis: "And God called the dry land Earth and the gathering together of the waters called the seas" and God saw that it was Good."

For the second he selected the Second epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy: "I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

And for the third, the gospel according to Saint John: "For so God loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Illustrating this "Service above Self" element in A.E.'s character the Reverend Dr. Goodwin quoted an old hymn: "Others":

"Lord help me in all the work I do
To ever be sincere and true
And know that the work I do for You Must needs be done for others.

by Daniel Agnew Storm

And when my work on earth is done
And my new work in Heaven begun
May I forget the crown I've won
While thinking still of others.

Lord help me to live from day to day
In such a self-forgetful way
That every time I kneel to pray
My prayers may be for others."

Favorite Hymns were played on the organ by Lois Cantrell.

War Record

A. E. was a veteran of World War I. His daughter, Mary Olenchak told me some highlights of his service.

He was a fireman on a mine sweeper in the Atlantic ocean when they were torpedoed by a German submarine, and the engine quit, A. E. was working to get the engine started, and the young officer kept calling down:

"Is the engine ready to start."
And A.E. kept answering:
"Not yet."

Then while A. E. had his hand inside the engine the officer became impatient, or misunderstood, and started the motor, with the result that A.E. lost half a finger.

All his life A.E. had been very interested in history, and when he arrived at Liverpool, England, he had money saved up to visit London. He leaned this money to a companion who lost it in a dice game.

So A.E. went walking around Liverpool and struck up a conversation with a man and told him of his interest in English history.

The man said "Well I will not go to church today, and will take you to some historical places."

With that the man took A.E. to landmarks of the time England was under Roman rule, bridges, buildings, and remains of ancient roads.

When A.E. came home to Boston, he saw many historical landmarks, and came upon some striking workers before a plant. One of them said: "You can cross this picket line and get a job. Your uniform will be honored."

A.E. said he did not think this would be the right thing to do, and went on his way. Here in Boston at Comsky park he saw Babe Ruth play as a pitcher before he became famous as a right fielder and home run hitter.

Back in his native East Texas, at the outbreak of the War A.E. wanted to be a flier, but he was turned down because they were taking only those who had experience flying.

His father thought A.E. should continue his education at a small teachers college. However A.E., out of his love of country and patriotism joined the Navy.

A Favorite Citizen

A.E. and his wife Mattie have always been two of Ruidoso's favorite citizens, always kind and helpful, and in the forefront of all activities for the good of the community.

Both A.E. and Mattie will hold a fond spot in our hearts, and we rejoice that A. E. has gone on to meet Mattie and other loved ones in Heaven with Our Lord.

Ethics in politics — is it just a dream?

Ethics in politics shouldn't be an oxymoron. It should be so commonplace that it just wouldn't be an issue.

The State Legislature didn't create a governmental ethics commission this session, but that doesn't necessarily mean lawmakers aren't in favor of ethics. A commission isn't needed. It would just add another layer of government in a world with too much government already. What is needed are ethical politicians and elected officials.

That's up to the voters. It's up to us to seek out and elect ethical and moral leaders.

On the other hand, voters have a right to expect their elected officials' behavior to be above reproach.

I'M WORKING ON IMPROVING MY IMAGE...

...MOST PEOPLE DON'T KNOW I'M REALLY SHREWD, VERY CALCULATING, AMBITIOUS, OPPORTUNISTIC. A CLASSIC POLITICIAN!

Water Committee chairman provides an update on village water system

TO THE EDITOR:

You will be interested to know that many improvements are being made in the village Water Department. Employees are being encouraged to study municipal water systems and several are taking tests to upgrade their qualifications status. A plan is being instituted for a more organized operation of the department which will stipulate priorities as well as routine procedure.

One of the major problems is to determine where major water leaks are in order to curtail the loss of approximately one-third of the treated water going into the system. It would appear that such a massive amount of water loss would be easy to find, however this is not the case. Several seemingly obvious solutions have been tried with no success.

Modern technologies have produced sophisticated instruments for this purpose. A contract will be let in the near future to one of these specialty contractors to pinpoint such leaks in order that they be repaired. It is well known that these water losses have been continuous for approximately 10 years without being repaired and must be stopped.

The largest plant for the treatment of village water is number three located on a hill above Alto Lake. Its purpose is to treat water for village consumption from the storage facility of Alto Lake, the Eagle Creek and Eagle Creek wells. Information about its capacity varies somewhat however, the figure of two million gallons of water per day seems to be most often quoted. Provided the plant is 100 percent operational, which has not been the case for several years. Poor maintenance and repairs had reduced the efficiency of this main plant to approximately 50 percent or less.

The problems with this plant are currently being corrected. Some changes in personnel have been made along with the hiring of a new plant manager. Much has been done, but it will be early summer before the plant is in top notch condition, once again.

The village has not only been faced with problems at plant number three, but the loss of approximately 700 acre-feet of water which is going downstream on the Rio Ruidoso. This is Ruidoso's water, which if the current dollar criteria was applied to it would indicate a loss of $2,310,000.00 to the village.

Currently, two year's supply of this water has been drained into Grindstone lake, which is providing additional fishing for the area. This was not the original intent, but is better than losing it altogether.

None of this is currently recoverable, since the treatment plant number one in the Upper Canyon on the Ruidoso River had been abandoned because of wear and tear and lack of maintenance. The building is still in fair condition, water lines are in place, tanks for the plant are in place and much of the original investment for this treatment plant can be salvaged by the village. By reworking electric motors, cleaning valves and general repairs, most of which can be done by water department employees, this plant will be restored to not only utilize the very best water available to the village but also to serve as a backup system to the main plant.

This work is currently in progress and although much is still to be done, it is hoped that this old plant will be able to treat water under the current strict turbidity requirements by this summer. This will add an additional daily supply of water for the village in the amount of approximately one half million gallons.

The village maintains 14 steel tanks in various parts of the village for area water storage. This is particularly important for fire protection. Currently these tanks are visually checked each day to determine their water levels, as well as possible leaks. This is difficult, particularly under mud or snow conditions. A 24-hour delay in discovering a serious leak or other impairment could create a critical situation. Therefore, the management of the village has applied for and has recently received two radio frequencies from which radio signals from transmitter on these various tanks will provide a central source with instantaneous information concerning the water levels of these tanks at any time.

This information is valuable in many ways, such as: determining excessive uses of water in particular areas, breaks in transmission lines and especially the amount of water storage in each tank at any time.

Other projects are currently being done, and it is the hope of the village that the water department will never be in this poor condition again. Fixed procedures and firm maintenance schedules will accomplish this. The credit for this turnaround in our water department is that of the manager and dedicated employees, as well as the understanding of the governing body.

John C. Schuller, chairman
Village of Ruidoso
Water Committee

Current county commission is dismantling a successful management team

TO THE EDITOR:

The firing of Nick Pappas, Lincoln county manager, by commissioners Elliott and Spencer will prove to be a step backwards in county management if history is considered.

Since taking office January 1,

1991, the commission has systematically eliminated key people who were competent, honest and sometimes even brilliant. These people had evolved into a team. They were just beginning to pull the county mechanism into a cohesive unit — Mignon Simms, Tommy Hall, Nick Pappas.

Case in point: After the premeditated firing of Tommy Hall, road superintendent, the commission hired a 32-year-old man from Las Cruces...

There are many and varied skills required to be an efficient road manager. Most of these skills are acquired through experience. The present road manager does not have a handle on some of the most basic of these necessary skills.

Not the least of these needed abilities is the ability to lead a crew. Bill Cupit has had more employee problems in one year than any other road manager has had in the past several years.

The most senior road department employee with over 17 years service in Lincoln County quit.

In essence and in almost all aspects, Cupit was a very poor choice for the position of road manager.

Now the same commission will hire a new county manager. Hopefully, they will get lucky.

A commissioner cannot and should not try to be an expert in every profession it takes to create an efficient county government. They should recognize competence and honesty in their department heads and allow them to exercise their skill and experience to run their department.

I contend that the residents of Lincoln County lost a lot more by losing Pappas than they would have by losing someone like Elliott who was after all elected by the slimmest of margins.

The positions of county manager and road manager serve at the pleasure of the commission, but sometimes it is easy to forget that the commissions themselves serve at the pleasure of the constituency.

The alternative the commission could have taken would have been to support Pappas and the professional team he had created; and allowed them to improve on the services the county provides; allowed them to work their magic.

Spencer made the comment that maybe the commission was shooting themselves in the foot by firing Pappas. Perhaps it would have been to the benefit of the constituents if the commission had simply shot themselves in the head.

The primary elections are just a few months away and ultimately the voters are always the ones with the final right to "hire and fire."

P.S. After this letter to the editor was written, the commissioners made the road manager's position classified. This means that he no longer serves at the "pleasure of the commission." His job is protected by personnel policy bylaws. The commission can no longer fire the road manager at will.

I'd like to know how Bill Elliott would have responded if he had not had the power to fire Tommy Hall as one of his first acts upon taking office.

The commissioners asserted that they fired Pappas because of a difference in philosophy in their approach to administering county government. What if a future commission has trouble dealing with the road manager?

Who do these present commissioners think they are? They are encumbering future commissions in ways they were never restricted.

The position of road manager has always been by appointment of the commission. If a road manager did a good job he could be retained by an incoming commission. The Road Department realized certain advantages by having different managers. However, to hire an individual with limited experience in county road management and then make that position permanent is not only wrong logically and ethically, but exhibits a breach of trust between the commission and the people they serve.

Don't send the wrong message on nuclear waste

TO THE EDITOR:

"We don't want to send the wrong message to the government." A strange statement for a government body to make who are supposedly dedicated to the safety and well-being of the citizens of New Mexico. This so-called wrong message, "we do not want anything to do with nuclear trash," has been sent to the government by every state in the union as well as many progressive countries in the world. There is an Old Guard controlling New Mexico which is addicted to Nuclear Lust.

I find it extremely difficult to understand how one article in one paper could neutralize the months of information collecting and dedicated efforts by some of the finest people I have known. These people truly care for New Mexico. In addition, the article about Lawrence Livermore transferring their nuclear weapons development and production to Los Alamos was purely a suggestion by the democratic representative from California. If he can pull this off he will be assured of being re-elected to office. The people of California, wisely, want nuclear out of their state. I appreciate the efforts of John Underwood and Hubert Quintana for doing the best they could under the current legislative psychology. The people need to change this psychology in future elections or by recall petitions. The fission nuclear road is a dead end. We may have a future in nuclear energy but it must be based on fusion technology.

As long as the DOE can find states — there are only one or two including New Mexico, willing to store nuclear garbage — we will continue to delay development of fusion, natural gas, wind and solar energy sources. We cannot afford to continue producing the tons of nuclear pollutants we are today. The brilliant minds at Los Alamos and Sandia do not suffer from nuclear tunnel vision. Their genius will be as creative in other problem solving areas as they have been in nuclear weapons and fission nuclear power.

America, New Mexico and the world deserves more than more deadly nuclear weapons and more proliferation of fission nuclear power. New Mexico should be trying to get off their dead end nuclear road and find new creative endeavors for Los Alamos and Sandia.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on March 13, 1992 at 10:00 a.m. at the front steps of the Village of Ruidoso Administrative Building, 313 Cree Meadows Drive, Ruidoso, New Mexico, the undersigned Special Master will offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder, for cash, the following real estate (the "Property") located in Lincoln County, New Mexico:

Lot 22, Block 3, ALPINE VILLAGE, Lincoln County, New Mexico, as shown by the plat thereof filed in the office of the County Clerk and Ex-officio Recorder of Lincoln County, 8 May 1982.

(Street address: 22 Aspen Drive, Ruidoso, New Mexico)

"Cash" for purposes of this sale shall mean cash or immediately available funds.

This sale is held subject to any accrued but unpaid ad valorem taxes and subject to a one month right of redemption in favor of Tracy Lee Brakob a/k/a Tracy Lee Trigg n/a Tracy Lee Neil ("Neil") and Alpine Village Sanitation Division ("Alpine") and a one year right of redemption in favor of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC").

This sale is held pursuant to the Stipulated and Default Judgment and Decree of Foreclosure (the "Judgment") entered on January 30, 1991 in the above-entitled action for collection under a promissory note and for foreclosure under a mortgage wherein the Court awarded Plaintiff FDIC judgment against Defendant Neil, subject to the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court: (i) in the principal sum of $94,544.95, accrued interest on the principal amount through October 4, 1989 in the amount of $41,076.00, plus interest thereafter at the rate of 14.5% per annum until paid; and for FDIC's attorneys' fees in the amount of $900.00, for costs of this action in an amount of $197.02 plus interest accruing on costs and attorneys' fees at a rate of 14.5% per annum from date of Judgment until fully paid.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the proceeds of the sale will be applied: first, to all costs and expenses of the sale including the Special Master's fees; second, for payment of $156,821.22 for all sums due FDIC on March 13, 1992 by virtue of its mortgage; third, for all sums due Alpine on March 13, 1992 by virtue of its Claims of Lien; and fourth, the balance, if any, as the Court may further direct.

NOTICE IS FINALLY GIVEN that FDIC and other parties holding judgments or liens herein may bid and purchase the Property at the foreclosure sale subject to the payment of prior judgments and liens and that FDIC may apply all or a portion of its judgment toward the purchase price.
