RUIDOSO, NM 88345

NO. 88 IN OUR 46th YEAR 50 CENTS

Voters speak Tuesday

Voters in Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs, Capitan, Carrizozo and Corona will go to the polls from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 3, to elect municipal officials.

Some changes in voting precincts will be in effect for Tuesday's municipal elections, as well as county and state elections in the fall.

Lincoln County Clerk Martha Proctor said letters in English and Spanish have been mailed to voters who are affected by the changes.

In the village of Ruidoso, two polling places will be open for the first time.

Voters in precincts six, eight and ten, should go to the school gymnasium at the White Mountain school complex on White Mountain Road.

Voters in precincts seven and nine should cast their ballots at the Ruidoso Public Library on Sudderth Drive.

To realign the county based on updated population figures obtained in the 1990 census, it was necessary for Proctor to recommend changes in precinct numbers and polling places.

The Secretary of State, noting that the U.S. Justice Department has approved the legislative redistricting plan and the creation of five Lincoln county commission districts, concurred with Proctor's recommendations.

Those recommendations were that:

—Precincts five and seven become precinct seven.

—Precincts nine and ten be consolidated to become nine.

—Precinct four be divided to create new precincts four and five.

—Precinct eleven be divided to create new precincts ten and eleven.

—The boundary between precinct eight and the newly consolidated precinct nine be altered.

To ask about the proper polling place or precinct boundaries, contact the clerk's office at 648-2394.

Candidates campaign for votes

by BUDDY BAKER
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Three incumbent councilors and two aspiring councilors were out looking for votes at a candidates forum on Thursday evening.

The five are candidates for three Ruidoso Village Councilor seats up for grabs in Tuesday's municipal election. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

For the first time, Ruidoso will have two polling places, one at Ruidoso Library and the other at White Mountain School. Anyone unsure of their polling place may contact the village hall at 258-4343 to find where to vote.

More than 40 persons gathered Thursday at a forum sponsored by the Lincoln County League of Women Voters. All candidates in the county were invited, and all five Ruidoso candidates and three candidates from Ruidoso Downs were present to express their views on the issues.

Ruidoso candidates were given several blocks of time to speak and to respond to specific questions gathered from the audience.

They were asked their position on study sessions before the regular council meetings, making meetings more open, what to do with excess funds when a municipal bond of $250,000 is paid off in July, and if they favored sending a representative to the state Business Advisory Council and the Border Authority.

Jerry Shaw

Ms. Shaw was a councilor from 1984 to 1988, and has lived in Ruidoso for 20 years.

She supports the MainStreet shopping area and the river walk, a walking-bike path paralleling the Ruidoso River and Sudderth. She was on planning board that established plans for the convention center on the old airport land.

Shaw recalled when she was a councilor and a group of citizens came before the council and demanded the village build the Grindstone Dam. Later, another group demanded the relocation of the airport after a fatal crash.

"We responded and accomplished both projects," she said. "I respond to the people."

In reference to the four questions, Shaw said even though work sessions are open, many people cannot get away from their homes or businesses to attend them at 5:30.

And addressing the openness question, she said perhaps many people feel the council meetings are not open in that the council has already made up its mind when issues are opened to the public for their comment.

In regard to the maturing bond, Shaw feels that any excess funds should be used to stem the current trend of cutting village services.

Sending a representative to the Business Advisory Council and the Border Authority is one of the things that Shaw is campaigning for. She feels that this will keep the village aware of new businesses that can be brought to Ruidoso.

In her final statement Shaw said she is opposed to the MRS being studied by the Mescalero tribe, but would like to settle it as quietly as possible in order to keep adverse publicity to a minimum.

She feels that the motorcycle rally was worse than just "one little incident" as described by Councilor Stinson. She said the police were put into a dangerous position.

She added that she wants to see the police force adequately funded and to keep up the neglected parks system.

Ms. Espinosa has served on the council for the past six months having

Wilcox free to head for Australia

District Attorney Bert Atkins announced Friday that after an intensive investigation, charges against former prosecutor Harry Wilcox have been dropped.

Atkins said the United States Attorney has dismissed all charges against Carolyn Lietzman Wilcox, and she is now in Australia.

Wilcox and his wife were arrested in Alto when a federal warrant initiated by the IRS was served on Mrs. Wilcox. Cocaine was found in the subsequent search, and Wilcox was charged. He has maintained his innocence throughout, and a witness corroborated his statements.

Atkins said he will not seek prosecution against Wilcox. He said he understands that Wilcox had plans to leave for Australia this weekend.

Fort Stanton's future holds promise

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The decision of the New Mexico State Legislature to allocate money for renovation of Fort Stanton Hospital amounts to an endorsement for its future, says administrator Ervin Aldaz.

"By passing the proposed budget, the legislators said they agreed that Fort Stanton should remain open in some kind of service for New Mexico," Aldaz said Thursday.

Gov. Bruce King's blessing on the proposal to convert Fort Stanton from a facility for the developmentally disabled (DD) to a hospital for geriatric and other patients needing long term nursing care helped immensely, he said.

"I'm happy about it, but it means a lot of work ahead for all of us," Aldaz said.

Specifically, the legislature approved a base budget of $5,121,000 to continue to operate the portion of the facility serving DD patients, and it allocated $2,522,000 to begin proposed changes needed in the cottages to meet nursing care standards.

The changes are a result of a 1990 court order, stemming from a lawsuit filed by an advocacy group. The federal court order directed the state to remove the DD patients from Fort Stanton and from Los Lunas Hospital. They are to be placed in community-based programs.

But the state lacks programs of that type. The families of many of the clients who have lived at Fort Stanton and at Los Lunas near Albuquerque have appealed the decision based on the lack of alternate programs.

It's not the first time an effort has been mounted to close Fort Stanton. One of the arguments against the move is that the hospital is an economic mainstay of the community of Capitan and surrounding areas. It employs 250 people and uses the services of local businesses.

Last November, Secretary of Health Mike Burkhardt recommended that the hospital stay open as a long-term geriatric facility. Estimates at that time were that 95 percent of the staff could be retained under the new designation. More than 100 clients now live at the hospital/training center.

The legislative appropriation will take effect July 1 and the state property control department will put out a proposal to bid on the work, Aldaz said. He anticipates it will take about six months before remodeling begins.

"However, we at the facility will start planning on how this will be accomplished from the beginning," he said. "We will have to move clients around as construction is done on one cottage at a time."

"We're in the process of developing a plan to get clients from the institution to the community. We will start the transition in June with the original clients mentioned in the lawsuit for placement."

A dispute resolution procedure needs to be part of that plan to ensure that relatives have input, he said.

"As long as the guardian or parent feel satisfied that their relative is getting the services they need, this will work," Aldaz said. "We need to have them involved. What I've seen out of the State Department of Health is that agency is taking extra effort to get input and to set up a coordinated approach. There is a committee that meets regularly. I think they are establishing a sound system and it's been needed for a long time."

In response to the court order, the state is not building a bunch of group homes, he said.

"They are leaning more toward purchasing the services needed to get the clients back into the areas from which they came," Aldaz said. "That's a little different than the historical approach."

A group home for DD clients that may open in the Country Club Estates subdivision of Ruidoso has no connection to Fort Stanton or the court order, Aldaz said.

"It is just an individual trying to establish a group home," he said.

State lawmakers oppose MRS

State Rep. John Underwood (D-Ruidoso) said he was pleased by the overwhelming support shown for his bill opposing a temporary nuclear waste storage facility in New Mexico.

"When I was asked who was responsible for getting the job done (in the recent session of the State Legislature), I pointed out several people, but I also know there was a tremendous letter writing campaign," Underwood said.

"I wrote back to the residents who corresponded with me and encouraged them to write other representatives."

"There were many, many letters and they helped a lot."

The Mescalero Apache Tribe is studying the possibility of installing an Monitored Retrievable Storage (MRS) facility on tribal-owned land. Potential sites that include land in or near Lincoln County have been mentioned, although tribal officials contend they are not at the point of selecting a location.

"There were many, many letters and they helped a lot."

Out of 70 members, the state representatives who voted against the House Memorial to oppose a MRS facility are:

—From Bernalillo County, Republicans Paul D. Barber and Democrats Robert M. Hawk, Ramon Huerta and Gary K. King.

—From Eddy County, Democrats Robert S. Light and Joe M. Stell Jr.

—From Lea County, Democrat Donald L. Whitaker and Republican Earlene Roberts.

—From Los Alamos, Republican Jeannette P. Wallace.

The memorial recognized the Tribe's right to study the proposal, but contended New Mexico already has done its part with the Waste Isolation Pilot Project (WIPP) in Carlsbad.

Underwood said some representatives voted against it because they are associated with the nuclear research field or have significant related businesses among their constituents. They view the MRS as a safe technology that could create new jobs in the state.

They were concerned that objections to the MRS could send a message to the federal government that the state was not interested in future nuclear research projects and investments.

The Department of Energy has offered high dollar grants and future community benefits to any city, county or tribe willing to act as host to an MRS. Tribes have evolved into an attractive alternative because they are viewed as sovereign nations and not subject to the censure or regulations of state officials and agencies.

Underwood said some represen-

Reception honors writers

The Friends of the Library is sponsoring a reception at 6:30 p.m. today (Monday) March 2, at the Ruidoso Public Library. Authors who write about Lincoln County and the surrounding area have been invited.

According to Wayne Bergeron there will be 20 writers present. Their books will be displayed and the writers will answer questions in an informal atmosphere.

The public is invited, and refreshments will be served.

Otero's rate request on hold

The New Mexico Public Service Commission (PSC) Wednesday suspended the rate request of Otero Electric Cooperative, opening it up to customer intervention.

If eventually approved, the request could mean a 10.76 percent hike in rates for the cooperative's 10,000 residential customers, as well as increases for commercial clients.

PSC compliance specialist Buddy McDowell said a hearing officer has been appointed to the case and letters of protest have been entered in the file. Notices will be mailed to customers to let them know when and how they may intervene in the case. McDowell said it may take as long nine months for the case to be settled.

Twenty-three eye county post

By the deadline Friday afternoon, the Lincoln County Commission had received 23 applications from people interested in becoming the next county manager.

Nick Pappas, who had served in that position for nearly three years, was fired last month when two commissioners decided they wanted a manager with a philosophy and management style more in line with their new direction.

Commissioners will meet at 9 a.m. March 9 in a special session to review the applications and line up interviews with the most promising candidates. They also will be talking with representatives from the Lincoln County Medical Center. Commissioners meet in the county courthouse in Carrizozo.

Travel writers visit here

The New Mexico Department of Tourism and Ski New Mexico are hosting nine ski writers on a press trip to five ski areas, including Ski Apache, in early March.

The tour will include overnights in Red River, Taos, Santa Fe and Ruidoso. The ski areas visited will be Red River, Angel Fire, Taos Ski Valley, Santa Fe and Ski Apache.

The group, which will include writers from California, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Washington D.C., New York, Massachusetts and Illinois, will arrive in Albuquerque on Sunday, March 1, and depart from Albuquerque on Sunday, March 8.

On Friday, March 6, the tour will arrive in Ruidoso and will stay at the Inn of the Mountain Gods. The next day they will have a chance to visit and enjoy Ski Apache.

Pat Morrison, marketing director of Ski Apache, will host the group.

This is the second of two press trips for ski writers this winter involving the state agency and nonprofit Ski New Mexico, Incorporated.

League of Women Voters hosts candidate forum

The Lincoln County League of Women Voters invited all candidates for the March 3 municipal elections in Lincoln County to a forum on Thursday evening.

More than 40 people gathered at 5:30 in the Ruidoso Public Library to hear two mayoral candidates and one municipal judge candidate from Ruidoso Downs, and all five candidates for the three opening positions on the Ruidoso Village Council.

Frankie Jarrell welcomed the candidates on behalf of the Lincoln County League of Women Voters and Hannah Latman, state league president, acted as moderator.

Jackie Branum and J.L. Wilson were the Ruidoso Downs mayoral candidates who appeared. Joe Hayhurst, the third candidate for the post, was not present. Branum and Wilson spoke for three minutes each and answered questions that had been submitted by members of the audience beforehand.

Harold Mansell was the sole candidate for Ruidoso Downs municipal judge who appeared at the forum. Failing to appear were J.C. "Jake" Harris, Margie Morales and Fred Bernard.

Ruidoso Downs Ladies Auxiliary had hosted a forum for the Downs candidates last Tuesday.

Appearing as candidates for the Ruidoso Village Council were incumbents Jess Stinson, J.D. James and Patricia Espinosa. Aspiring councilors Jerry Shaw and Frank Cummins also appeared.

Each of the Ruidoso Village Council candidates spoke initially for three minutes addressing subjects of their choosing. They were then given two minutes to respond to two specific questions, and then one minute for another question. As a finale the five candidates were given three minutes to address their priority issues for the village.

The formal portion of the meeting then adjourned and coffee and pastries were served.

Edna Comanche celebrates leap year birthday with feast

Edna Teenah Comanche celebrated her 96th birthday at the Mesalero Community Center on Saturday, February 29. Mrs. Comanche is a great-niece to Geronimo, not a niece, as identified in Thursday's edition of The News.

Ms. Comanche was born in Fort Sill, Oklahoma, on February 29, 1896. She is a member of the Chiracahua Apache tribe.

Art critics visit Ruidoso

When the Journal of the Print World sent writers Charles and Sophia Lane on a tour of New Mexico, they discovered something that Ruidoso art lovers already know.

Teri Sodd, whose watercolors and pastels are a favorite throughout the Southwest, was a choice of the Lanes. Sodd owns Mountain Arts Gallery at 2530 Sudderth Drive in Midtown Ruidoso.

Her limited edition print series presentations at Christmas and Easter are anxiously awaited each year.

The Lanes visited galleries, museums and ateliers in Albuquerque, Alamogordo, Cloudcroft, Carlsbad and Roswell, as well as in Ruidoso.

Noted in the Ruidoso entry also was Dallas Fine Art at 662 Sudderth Drive, where the Lanes said they found excellent watercolors by various artists, woodcuts, linocuts and lithographs.

Police bust party, arrest 15 juveniles

by BUDDY BAKER

Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Ruidoso Police broke up a party Tuesday in a house that had been "borrowed" without the permission of the owners who live in Texas.

Police arrested 15 juveniles and charged them with curfew violation. Some of the juveniles were charged with "allowing themselves to be served."

Deputy Police Chief Mike Lovelace was on routine patrol late Tuesday when he spotted two girls walking in the vicinity of Wal-Mart.

Questioning them on their curfew violation, he was told that they had just left a party. He took them to the location of the party, 97 Swallow Drive, a house belonging to a Ruidoso non-resident.

When Lt. Lovelace approached the house, individuals began to leave the house through all exits, some carrying cans of beer. He called for assistance and with the help of police officers Will Hoggard and Pete Esquibel soon rounded up 15 juveniles in the area of the house.

The officers took them to the police station, interviewed them, and booked them on various charges, primarily "allowing themselves to be served (alcoholic beverages)" and "violation of curfew."

Curfew on week nights in Ruidoso is 10 p.m.

It was discovered during the investigation that the house had allegedly been broken into by a member of the party, Tyson Sanders, 15.

Questioning Sanders, the officers were told there had been another house broken into three or four weeks previously and a similar party thrown there. The second residence was a condominium in Innsbrook Village, #57, owned by Phil Mote.

Arriving at the Innsbrook address, the officers Hoggard and Esquibel found a two story condo completely trashed. The carpet was destroyed, walls bashed in, and unknown substance splashed all around the rooms. Damage has been estimated at $20,000.

Charged in the Swallow Drive incident were the following people listed with their dates of birth, parents name and address, and the charges filed:

—Isauro Villalba, 5-1-75, Raymond Villalba, 143 Paradise Canyon, Ruidoso, allowing self to be served and curfew violation.

—Louis Roy Jiminez, 3-7-74, Louis Jiminez, 386 Spruce Drive, Ruidoso, allowing self to be served, curfew violation and burglary.

—Aaron L. Lauban, 2-17-75, Jim Biggs, Alto, curfew violation.

—Tyson Keith Sanders, 8-13-77, Cindy Sanders, 104 Tomahawk Trail, allowing self to be served, curfew violation and burglary.

—Jackie Brandon Roe, 10-11-77, Richard Roe, San Miguel Street, Ruidoso, allowing self to be served and curfew violation.

—Robert Edgar Surguy, 8-25-77, Richard Surguy, 827 Colorado, Ruidoso, curfew violation.

—Randy Wayne Surguy, 7-14-75, allowing self to be served and curfew violation. Richard Surguy, 827 Colorado, Ruidoso, allowing self to be served and curfew violation.

—Richard Wayne Surguy, 3-31-73, Richard Surguy, 827 Colorado.

Ruidoso, allowing self to be served —Golden Leaf Anderson, 10-11-77, Ron Anderson, 803 Hull Road, curfew violation.

—Terina Val Lara, 3-13-76, Renee Cochise, 215 Grove Drive, allowing self to be served and curfew violation.

—Robyn Elaine Hursh, 2-23-75, Candace Hurst, Drawer D, Ruidoso, allowing self to be served and curfew violation.

—Crystal Dawn Pfeffer, 5-3-77, 2323 Sudderth Drive, Roxann Pfeffer, curfew violation.

—Candie Lynn Barber, 2-16-76, Agnel Pascale, 2523 Sudderth, curfew violation.

—Christie Kay Ryan, 4-19-76, Wes Ryan, 100 White Mountain Drive, curfew violation.

—Michael Brian McIntosh, 8-15-74, Judy McIntosh, Champions Run, Ruidoso Downs, allowing self to be served, criminal trespass.

Police questioned a number of other Ruidoso juveniles who reportedly attended the party. The ones who were not caught at the party were not charged.

Beer bottles and food scraps litter the kitchen (left) of #57 Grenoble in Innsbrook Village. The debris is the remnant of intruders who trashed the two-story condominium. At right a torn picture, ruined walls, furnishings, and a destroyed TV lie in disarray in the living room of the home. Damage has been estimated at $20,000. Police have charged a Ruidoso juvenile with breaking and entering. In a related incident, a group of Ruidoso juveniles were arrested at a party in a "borrowed" house that apparently was broken into by the party "hosts."

ing been named by Mayor Victor Alonso to replace Al Junge who resigned.

She is a New Mexico native and has lived in Ruidoso for eight years.

"I feel that I brought something new to the council," she said.

"The village staff has been a great help to me and so has (Councilor) Barbara Duff."

She said she feels free to speak on any issue and she says it is important to be able to speak her mind.

She said she has recently been appointed to the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County.

Councilor Espinosa is opposed to the MRS facility but feels that any opposition to the proposed nuclear dump should be done legally and calmly in order to maintain a friendship with the Apaches.

Addressing the four questions she said "We love it when people come to the meetings. We want people to take part and give their input."

The study sessions give the councilors an opportunity to work together and eliminate small things, according to Espinosa.

On the maturing bond, she says that the extra money will give the village a chance to do some things that the village needs, citing the necessity of spending some money on the wastewater treatment plant.

She thinks the idea of sending a representative to the Business Advisory Council and the Border Authority is a good one, and indicated that if she is not re-elected she will still get involved and help get representation.

In her last segment, she said the problems with the motorcycle rally last year will be addressed by the special events committee and worked out.

Regarding the recent pay raise for the council, she feels strongly that the office of councilor should not be open to only those with money and people who work for a living will now better be able to serve.

She closed by saying that the village can use volunteers in a variety of areas.

J.D. James

Councilor James has served on the council continuously since May 1987.

He is against the MRS facility being located in this area but is opposed to demonstrations and picket lines to protest it. He wants to oppose it within the legal system.

He hopes that with the $250,000 bond that is maturing in July the village will be able to reduce taxes.

He is in favor of holding the motorcycle rally again and thinks that the recommendations of the special events committee will help prevent problems.

James addressed the four questions by saying that the study sessions were former councilor Al Junge's ideas and at the time they were initiated he disagreed with the idea.

He now feels like that they are important to the work of the council. "If we brought up everything in the regular meeting we would be there all night."

"All of our meetings are open," he said.

Regarding the maturing bond he said that the bond maturing in July 1992 is one of five maturing in the near future and should be used to reduce taxes if at all possible.

He says that he agrees with sending a representative to the two state commissions but in a way the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County does that. "They seem to drag their feet but it takes time."

Finally, James said that he helped pass the anti-fireworks ban in the village, and is in favor of continuing it.

Reminding the audience that he works for the funeral home, he said that there is a need in the village for additional cemetery land. "It is very difficult to put two plots together at the present cemetery."

Jess Stinson

Councilor Stinson has been a councilor since November 1987. He got a good laugh from the audience when he prefaced his remarks by saying everyone should know who he is, since he's in The Ruidoso News every other week.

He pointed with pride at the present council having lowered the taxes in the village two mills and their having cut the budget $775,000.

Stinson stated that he was for the recent council pay raise because, in essence, the council was not being asked to serve for nothing but actually had to pay for the privilege since out of pocket expenses were always more than the salary.

In reference to a Ruidoso News editorial criticizing the salary hike in which it was suggested that Stinson volunteer to haul street repair material for chuck holes he said, "Maybe that is not a bad idea. In Lubbock they once had a volunteer program called 'adopt a pot hole' in which citizens would help repair their particular adopted hole in the pavement. Perhaps that will work here."

He thinks study sessions are necessary to help clear the agenda at the meetings. He reminded the audience that the public is welcome to attend.

He went on to say that regarding the meetings being more open he didn't know how this could be accomplished since they are as open as possible with two newspapers and a TV station covering them.

The maturing bond will offset the loss of gross receipts tax that was taken by the state, and that the council is looking at not only the bond maturing in July but all of the bonds with coming maturity dates.

He thinks that the Chamber of Commerce is doing an adequate job of representing the community in business procurement.

In his summation statement he defended the motorcycle rally. He said that the tavern owners had recently had a meeting and decided against having picnic licenses (a special use permit where beverages are served in parking lots of a bar or tavern) at future special events.

"There have been 47,000 motorcycles in town over the past 10 years and this is the first major incident. It consisted of two people having a disagreement and one shooting himself in the leg when he drew a pistol and then shooting the other one in the leg."

"We had to pay $2,250 to the Sheriff's Department for their assistance on that one incident and that weekend produced $83,000 in gross receipts taxes for the village."

He lauded the Ruidoso Police Department and said that they had control of the situation at all times.

Frank Cummins

Cummins has lived in Ruidoso for 10 years having moved here from Phoenix, where he was an elementary school principal. He and his family had been coming to the area for many years and decided to retire here.

"I fell in love with the place," he said "I feel that I need to become more involved and so decided to run for the council."

"After attending a number of council meetings, I don't begrudge the councilors their recent raise, however with the present economic times there could have been a better time for the raise."

"I think that we should keep our services up and keep a balanced budget but should consider a long range plan: We must consider how to raise money, perhaps go to the state and explain our problem, they have a broader base."

He said that he could guarantee the voters that he would work hard and do the best job that he can do.

Addressing the study sessions he said that he has problems with them in that some things in the study session are not brought up in regular session.

He stated that he would do his homework before the meetings.

About the maturing bond he says that he would be in favor of lowering taxes but not at the expense of lowering services. He cited the shortage in police manpower, lack of an animal control officer and said that by looking at the village he could see a need for other services.

He agrees that representation on the Business Advisory Council and Border Authority is something that needs to be looked at.

Addressing his priorities he said that he was opposed to the MRS and felt that it would be harmful to the community, but that the Mesalero Tribe did have a right to study the prospect of putting in the facility.

He said that the motorcycle rally could have done considerable damage and that the rally needs controls to ensure no endangerment of the citizens.

"It is good for business and we are a resort town, but our permanent citizens need protection. The police were put into a bad position."

"This is the best place I've lived, and I'll do the best job I can."

BLM rejects county's letter

A certified letter from the Lincoln County Commission to Cy Jamison, head of the Washington D.C. office of the Bureau of Land Management, came back marked "refused." It was sent January 21 and returned February 20. Commissioners aren't used to having their official letter to government agencies returned unopened. It's especially annoying when the letter contains vital points outlining their opposition to a land transaction that would affect the county. The bureau is contemplating a swap that would allow the agency to acquire 1,100 privately-owned acres along the Rio Bonito by trading 30,000 acres of federally-owned parcels elsewhere. This time, the letter will be hand delivered by Commissioner Monroy Montes, who left for the nation's capital last Thursday to attend a conference of a coalition of western counties. He is scheduled to deliver the letter today. "We have no idea why the agency would refuse our letter," he said. "But his time, I place it in Jamison's hands."

Wastewater meeting canceled

A meeting of the Regional Wastewater Treatment Plant Joint Use Board scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday was canceled at 10:30 when a quorum failed to show. The board members are Ruidoso village manager Ron Wicker, Maurice Duggins, Lincoln County Commissioner Monroy Montes, Ruidoso Mayor Victor Alonso and Ruidoso Downs Trustee Jackie Branum. Montes and Branum had previously said they would be unable to attend the meeting. Wicker and Duggins were present, but Alonso failed to show up and could not be reached by phone. In the absence of a quorum the meeting was canceled.

Study in Ruidoso's cool pines

Summer college courses will be offered for the first time by Eastern New Mexico University in Ruidoso, taking advantage of the tall pines and cool weather that attract seasonal residents. Starting June 8 and running through July 20, the courses will meet between the hours of 8 a.m. and noon, and again from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Tuition for the six-week session will be higher than that for the regular term and financial aid will not be available. A variety of courses will be available including mathematics, psychology, computer sciences, art, gymnastics and weight conditioning. Several unusual college credit classes are planned including a six day high country trail ride and a backpacking course. Non-credit community education such as hospitality training also will be offered.

Hounds howl for a home

A lively bunch of walker hounds are howling for attention and affection at the Lincoln County Humane Society animal shelter. The pups are about 10 weeks old and have been in the shelter about two weeks. "They were brought here by their owner, who failed to get his female dog spayed and said he just couldn't find homes for these five," said shelter manager Randy Basch. That's a familiar excuse for getting rid of litters when owners have not been responsible by spaying their female dogs and cats or neutering their males. Often, they bring Basch the mother dog too, blaming her for getting pregnant. "Walker hounds were introduced to the United State by President George Washington, so they have quite a history here," Basch said. "Being hounds, they would be better off not in a highly residential area. They will pay for little or no reason. "But they're good working and hunting dogs. They need a lot of exercise to keep them from getting too destructive."

Full grown, the pups should weigh about 45-50 pounds each. They will need to be neutered in a few months. All animals adopted from the shelter must be spayed or neutered to ensure they are not responsible for producing more litters that could be abandoned or have to be destroyed.

The society urgently needs sponsors willing to pay the cost of spaying and neutering to help animals be adopted. The special fund reserved for that purpose nearly is exhausted.

The cost of the procedure is the biggest expense associated with adoption. When an animal is sponsored, its chances of adoption are greatly increased.

Local veterinarians will give special clinic prices for shelter-adopted animals, plus a free first examination.

Spaying or neutering runs from a low of $18 for a male cat to a high of $45 for a female dog. A donation to the society and earmarked for that use is tax deductible.

In connection with the society's efforts to cut the population of stray and unwanted animals by stopping the production of litters, a follow up program is being initiated.

Volunteers with a few free hours a week are needed to telephone owners about 30 days after an adoption, longer in the case of puppies and kittens. Their job will be to check to see if the adoption is working out and if the animal has been

Forget-Me-Not club ensures against missing the big day

Remembering a special day, such as a birthday or anniversary, for all the people you care about can be difficult, especially if you begin looking for something at the last minute, but the Ruidoso Flower Shop has a way to make it simple.

Through the Forget-Me-Not Club, the shop will send family, friends and co-workers a thoughtful gift or card of the member's choice on their special occasions. Gifts include flowers, plants, gourmet baskets, candy, balloons, stuffed animals or a combination of these, all available in a wide price range.

When they join the club, the members tell the Ruidoso Flower Shop the information about the dates they want deliveries and then the shop will be responsible for taking special care that each one of the people on the list is remembered on their important day.

Owner Jane Terrell said a club members' orders also get top priority treatment at peak holiday times.

Right now the shop has a special offer for signing up for the Forget-Me-Not Club. For every five gift orders they send out for a person through the club, the shop will send a sixth order to any local address free. Each out-of-town or local order done through the club will count for the free order.

Membership is currently free, so the only cost is for the gifts and cards. All floral products also have an enjoyment guarantee, so if the product doesn't meet the expectations of the sender or receiver within 48 hours, they can call the Ruidoso Flower Shop immediately.

"We can save you time and money and make sure you never forget your anniversary again," Terrell said.

Call the Ruidoso Flower Shop or stop in to become a member of the Forget-Me-Not Club so you can forget about the worry of missing a special date.

Spring is in the air at the flower shop as Cookie Flack, Jane Terrell and Linda Edwards finish a beautiful display in the shop. The shop has begun a new club for people to remember their loved ones with a special gift from Ruidoso Flower Shop.

Stylists at A Cut Above, Joseph Garcia, Sonya Urdiales and Manny Lanfor, take time out from hair cuts and perms to celebrate the shop's ninth anniversary. Another stylist, Anna Marie Shultzaberger, also works at the shop. A Cut Above is located in the Sierra Mall and is open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

A Cut Above celebrates 9 years of serving this area

Scissors and combs have been busy as stylists at A Cut Above in the Sierra Mall celebrate the shop's ninth anniversary in March.

Joseph Garcia began the Cut Above nine years ago in the Gateway Shopping Center as the only stylist, but moved to Sierra Mall seven years ago when the mall first opened. He said it was originally a barber shop where men could get regular cuts, but now it is more of a barber/beauty salon.

The Cut Above is more well rounded and flexible now, and people can get any styling service they ask for.

And, customers have a good time, while they're getting a new look. Garcia's high-energy and enthusiastic approach to his business sets the tone for a cheerful and friendly salon. The atmosphere in the bright, clean salon is enhanced by pleasant and relaxing background music.

One barber, Manny Lanfor, is a master of the trade in barbering and offers the regular cuts men are used to. He has been in the profession for 44 years.

Besides Garcia, the shop has two other stylists, Sonya Urdiales and Anna Marie Shultzaberger.

People don't just stop in for a haircut or style, but also to pick up hair care supplies. Garcia said the shop carries Nexus, Paul Mitchell, KMS and Matrix products so people have a good variety to choose from.

For the convenience of customers, appointments are not required so they can walk in at any time. Making an appointment, though, will guarantee a time.

A Cut Above is open six days a week and the shop's hours, from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., help working people find a time to get their hair cut.

For an anniversary special A Cut Above is offering 20 percent off any salon service with a coupon from the advertisement in The Ruidoso News. The shop is the second one in from the front doors of the mall.

Downs postmaster edits magazine

Shirlene Fitzner, postmaster in what may be one of this nation's most peaceful post offices, just published a story on "Violence in the Workplace" in the Postmasters Gazette.

Fitzner, Ruidoso Downs Post Office postmaster, is the editor of the Postmasters Gazette where her interview with Postal Inspector Charles Clauson was published.

Fitzner and her husband, Julian, are active in their quiet little community and in their church. She's also taken a leadership role in regional and national postmasters' organizations, where she was selected to edit its national publication.

Fitzner and Clauson talked of the mass murder at Royal Oak, Michigan, and what postmasters can do to help prevent future violent incidents.

Clauson mentioned incidents in Edmond, Oklahoma, and Ridgewood, New Jersey, stressing that what the postal service did or didn't do had no bearing on the results of those mass murders.

Fitzner commented that security checks used to be stricter than they are now within the postal service, wondering if that's where problems could have started.

Clauson responded by emphasizing the importance of hiring decisions.

As far-removed as Ruidoso Downs is from the violence that Fitzner and the postal inspector discussed, the postal service itself has recognized that it has a problem.

Since 1981, 14 violent incidents have occurred at postal service facilities.

Prevention is the postal inspection service's chief objective.

Wrestlers end season with hard work at state

by KRISTIE SULZBACH
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Warrior wrestling team ended its season at the state meet this weekend at Aztec High School and did fairly well, although none of the five Warriors placed in the competition.

As a team the Warriors finished the event in the bottom third of more than 20 teams, but Coach Gerald Ames said the state tournament provided some good experience to his young team members. Gunner Johnson at 103 pounds, Sam Gumbert at 130 pounds, Matt Bates at 152 pounds, Poncho Portillo at 160 pounds and Robert Murry at heavyweight all competed well at the tourney against some tough competition.

Johnson, who is a sophomore, lost in his first match to Jacob Faiz from Aztec, the eventual third place winner. In his second match he wrestled Brandon Miera from Moriarty, but lost. Ames said the meet was a big experience for Johnson, and he did an excellent job.

In his first year out for wrestling, Gumbert, a junior, had to meet the number two seed of the tournament, Arsenio Garduno from Las Vegas Robertson. Garduno pinned Gumbert in the first period. Gumbert then met and pinned Elton Laranner from Moriarty and continued his streak with a pin over Chancy Burbank from Shiprock. He then had his chance to revenge the earlier loss when he came up against Garduno again.

Gumbert kept it close in the first two periods, but Garduno overpowered him in the third period for a pin. His final record for the tournament was 2-2.

Bates, a freshman, was up against the number three seed in his weight class, Johnny Olguin from Taos, and was defeated. He was then beaten by Hans Aspaas from Shiprock. Ames said Bates had some pretty tough competition that was a good experience for him.

Portillo was the 3AAA district champion coming into the meet, but he had hurt his arm in a match at that contest. When he first started the state meet, Portillo didn't let the injury bother him, and he pinned Edsitty from Fort Wingate. In his second match Portillo beat Mike Layton of Belen, 13-9, but in a match earlier this season Portillo had pinned the wrestler, so Ames said he could tell the injury was beginning to take its toll on Portillo.

Portillo wrestled well to begin with in his next match against Tim Weahkee from Aztec, who eventually placed second. In the second period Portillo was down 5-7, but he couldn't continue so Ames stopped the match. He did continue in the tournament, though, and faced Kirk Denetclaw from Kirtland Central but was pinned. This was the first time this season Portillo had been pinned.

Ames said Portillo, who is also a junior, and Gumbert were really close to placing, but couldn't quite pull it off. The meet had a lot of good, exciting wrestling with tough competition which will help give the wrestlers the experience they need, he said.

The wrestling team will only be graduating one senior, Jerry Romero, who wrestled at 119 pounds this season. Next year's squad should have four or five experienced seniors on it, but Ames said the team still has a long way to go before it is really strong.

He said they need to work on their technique and find some leaders, on and off the competition mat. He said besides the two juniors who went to state, he has seen several others start to show that leadership, like Chris Carusona and Scott Stricklin.

At the district meet in Goddard on February 22, four Warriors placed fourth to qualify for state. Gunner Johnson at 103 pounds, Sam Gumbert at 130 pounds, Matt Bates at 152 pounds and Robert Murry at heavyweight competed in the state meet this weekend. Poncho Portillo also went to state as the district champ.

Chris Carusona takes control of his opponent in a match at the district contest in February. Carusona, who is a junior, wrestled at 140 pounds.

Poncho Portillo receives his medal for placing first in the 160 pound weight class at districts. Portillo wrestled well at the state meet, but wasn't able to place.

Warriors begin districts tonight

The Warriors basketball team dug itself into a hole it couldn't quite get out of against Silver City on Saturday in the last regular season game.

The Colts kicked in 23 easy points in the first quarter, including four, three point shots. The Warriors couldn't get the offense inside and had to settle for just one three pointer in the first quarter. Team members seemed to awaken though as they took the court for the second quarter.

The Warriors outscored the Colts, 22-15, in this quarter with three of those points coming from Jimmy Varnadore who was just approaching the half court mark when someone urged him to shoot with 13 seconds left in the quarter. He did, and the Warrior fans went crazy as the ball went through the hoop with a swoosh. The half time score was 25-38.

The third quarter was tougher for the Warriors and they were only able to score 12 points to Silver's

18. Silver began to pull away from the Warriors again in the fourth quarter to end the game 51-79.

Despite the lopsided score, Coach Norm Wright said the team played fairly well and did a better job against Silver City than in the last meeting of the two teams, which the Warriors lost 32-85.

In the game Saturday the high scorer was Jaime Ordorica with 23 points. He made nine out of 10 free throws and two, three point shots. Eric Evans scored 13 points, followed by Darin Davis with six points. Jeff Chapman had four points, while Varnadore contributed three. Jim Paul Whipple had two points.

The Warriors ended the season with a 0-10 district record and an overall record of 5-17. Wright said this shows the team didn't do well, but going into the season he knew the team was going to be young and inexperienced.

"We knew it was going to be a rebuilding year," Wright said.

In district play, the Warriors will face the Onate Knights at Las Cruces tonight. The game will start at 7 p.m.

"We are still alive if we can pull off a big upset. The two previous scores against them are not encouraging, but you never know what might happen," he said.

In the contest at home, the Warriors lost 43-74, while at Las Cruces they lost 52-88. In other district games tonight, Cobre will play at Socorro. The winners of the games tonight will meet on Wednesday to see who will play the teams tied for first place, Deming and Silver City.

In the junior varsity game Saturday against Silver the Warriors lost 43-60. In his first j.v. game, Zack Turner was the high scorer with 11 points. Jeff Chapman had six points, while Eric Evans scored five points in the one quarter he played. Jimmy Varnadore also scored five points. The j.v. team ended its season with a 5-11 record.

Eric Evans goes high for a shot over a Silver City player. The Warriors kicked it into gear after a devastating first quarter, but were not able to beat the Colts, who are tied for first place in the district. Evans assisted the Warriors with 13 points.

Ski excitement returns in annual race

by YVONNE LANELLI
Special to The News

Clicking cameras, split-second timing, fans cheering their favorite ski racers — and you thought the excitement of Albertville was over.

But Wednesday, the thrill of victory surged anew at the 14th annual Businesspersons-Handicapped Ski Championships (BHSC) at Ski Apache sponsored by Ski Apache Handicapped Skiers Association (SAHSA).

And just as fractions of a second decided Winter Olympic medals, so also did they decide BHSC trophies. Only 2.8 seconds separated the first place team from the fourth place.

Close Finishes

Striking to first place with a combined time of 62.02 seconds was the team of SAHSA student Chris Lopez of Capitan and Ruidoso businesspersons Dan Wimberly and Gary Lynch. Chris, a first-time racer, formed a lucky partnership with race veterans Wimberly and Lynch. Both have won previously, said Diana Person, SAHSA Executive Director.

Not far behind in second place skied another experienced team, SAHSA student Kevin Taylor of Fort Stanton and Ruidoso businesspersons Ron Anderson and Vince Campbell. Their combined time: 63.59 seconds.

The all-Ruidoso team of Jessica Gifford, Shelly Streck and Mike Steed skied smoothly to third place in 64.68 seconds. SAHSA student Jessica was skiing her second BHSC; "Shelly and Mike are old hands," said Person.

Capturing fourth place in a 20-team field was the team of SAHSA student David Barwick of Roswell and Ruidoso businesspersons Ted Durham and David Trambley. Their time: 64.80.

Barwick has been skiing with SAHSA for 14 years, said Person.

Experience paid off for the veteran racer who posted the fastest individual time of all 60 racers: 18.6 seconds. His nearest rival was Dusty Cociola, who posted 18.74 seconds. Cociola works for the Ruidoso Post Office and volunteers with Ski Apache National Ski Patrol.

Challenging, but still fun

Forty businesspersons partnered 20 SAHSA students in a random draw to form teams for the annual fund-raiser. The 20 teams came from several communities from New Mexico, Texas and Arizona.

SAHSA students represent a variety of physical and mental challenges. Most skied with traditional skis and poles, but some skied with equipment appropriate to their disabilities—guides for blind skiers, walkers with skis attached, etc.

They have been skiing all season under the aegis of Person and her large—mostly volunteer—staff.

These championships represented both a challenge and an opportunity for fun.

Adding to that fun were the efforts of the racing businesspersons. They were required to compete with only one ski and use outriggers instead of ski poles. Outriggers are forearm crutches with short skis attached.

"This is temporary insanity," joked the civic-minded racers lining up at the starting gate. But one competitor became reflective. "Skiing this way gives us a better understanding of what these kids go through in everyday life," she said.

At the post race awards ceremony, Person awarded trophies to the top four teams and participation medals to SAHSA students. In addition, Eric Csesznegi received a plaque for Most Improved Skier. Dennis Johnston and Jane Hernandez received plaques recognizing their many years of dedicated service as SAHSA volunteer instructors.

With a little help from friends...

SAHSA provides an opportunity to enjoy motion on snow to those who seldom do. This non-profit organization depends upon volunteers, contributions and fundraisers such as this race, an enchilada dinner and a silent auction held the night before the race.

"We had a most successful Silent Auction this year, thanks to Cree Meadows and the donations given by the merchants of Lincoln County and the surrounding area," reported Person.

SAHSA utilizes volunteers to teach its students, assist at fundraisers and to set up and run the race.

If you know of anyone who would benefit from SAHSA's services, or if you would like to contribute or volunteer, call Person at 336-4416.

Don't try this at home

Doing a daffy takes skill and balance, not to mention great physical strength and dexterity.

Ski Report for Ski Apache

The settled snow depth midway up the mountain is 63 inches. Skiing conditions on all trails are excellent. The surface conditions are packed and granular. All trails and lifts are open.

Area business people join up with students from Ski Apache Handicapped Skiers Association to race in the annual race that raises money for the non-profit ski organization that is operated at Ski Apache under the direction of Diana Person.

County investments get a good report from the state

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Lincoln County's investment money is secure, County Commissioners were told last week by state consultants.

And County Treasurer Janice Ware is doing a good job taking advantage of the best available interest rates and requiring one hundred percent collateral.

"In the past, I've been quite worried about county investments being fully covered and where the money was placed," said Commission Chairman Stirling Spencer. "If it hadn't have been for fast action in the past, we would have lost money (when one bank closed during a previous administration)."

"I keep us one hundred percent collateralized," Ware said. "Not all the banks want to. I watch it closely during the busy tax season. I send the money other places to make sure we're not exposed."

The bad news is that interest rates are coming down everywhere. The county is collecting about 3.97 percent, down more than 3 percent from June 1990. Last year, the county earned $360,000 in interest on its investments, but this year, the earnings will be closer to $200,000, Spencer said.

Pat Romero, government analyst, and Albert Apadaca, finance director, both with the New Mexico Association of Counties, complimented Ware on her handling of the county's money.

"She's doing a good job," Apadaca said. "She's being diligent with the use of the state treasurer's pool."

About $3.5-million has been placed in banks and $2.9-million in the local government pool.

In the state treasurer's pool, the county receives compounded interest instead of simple interest and the money can be in hand within 48 hours. The more money from counties, cities and schools that is invested in the pool, the better level of return the state will receive, Ware explained.

Apadaca said there are other options such as government backed mortgages. "They have a longer period of maturity, but pay out more," he said.

Even though the mortgages usually are for 30 years, most people sell within three to 12 years. "They're also subject to market conditions," Apadaca said. "If interest rates go low enough, people will pay out and refinance quicker. But they are one hundred percent backed by the government."

In any case, it is a subject that should be discussed extensively first. If the county is interested, an appropriate amount of money should be designated, taking care that it will not be needed, he said.

"My philosophy is that we ought not tax the taxpayer anymore than it takes to run the county operation," Spencer said. "That's not to say that long term investments aren't possible."

The commission approved keeping Ruidoso State Bank as the main repository for a portion of the county's excess money and to continue with the investment policy as outlined by Ware.

In another matter, county attorney J. Robert Beauvais recommended that the commission draft a policy regarding union representatives talking to employees during work hours.

With the State Legislature's passage of collective bargaining for public employees, it's inevitable that some union officials will show up in Lincoln County, Beauvais said. They will want contact with employees on county time because it's easier to get them together.

"If it's a union trying to expand, it's a business," Spencer said. "Let them do it on their own time, not at the expense of county taxpayers."

"They have all the rights under law, but not to disrupt county business."

"It's important that you implement a policy on how you are going to deal with them before they come," said County Clerk Martha Proctor.

"I don't look forward to working with that bunch," Commissioner Bill Elliott said of the American Federation of State, Federal and County Employees.

Beauvais also recommended that the county establish its own employee grievance board to save the expense of going through the state.

In other business, the commission:

—In response to a request from Teri Sodd, agreed to conduct a traffic count survey to determine which road, Old Fort Stanton, or High Mesa carries the most vehicles. The outcome probably will determine where a stop sign may be placed by the commission.

Road Manager Bill Cupit said he watched the intersection of the two roads and about seven out of 10 coming out of Alto (on High Mesa) ignored the yield sign now posted there. "Most didn't even look back to check traffic," he said.

This was the second recent request for a stop sign at the intersection. The commission previously took no action when its planning and zoning board offered the same recommendation.

Elliott said the commission needs a statistic basis for its decision. In the past, residents from the two different areas reached by those roads, would dig up the traffic sign and replant it to suit their particular preferences.

Sodd said she didn't care which set of drivers would be required to stop, "as long as someone does."

—Heard a presentation by former governor Garrey Carruthers with the Martin Group Claims Service, which represents Nationwide Insurance, the county's health insurance carrier.

The commission accepted Carruthers' offer to reopen enrollment for 30 days. That would be possible because the commission recently increased its financial participation in the cost of premiums from 60 percent to 80 percent.

Employees who want to enroll will be required to fill out medical applications, but the company will not reject them for things like being overweight if they otherwise are healthy. The firm would reject any one with "shock claims," he said, and defined that as a condition such as cancer or heart disease that would run up huge medical bills.

Claims from Christian Scientists for treatment by licensed practitioners would be paid, he said.

In response to a comment by Monroy Montes that the process was a little complicated, Carruthers said he will arrange a briefing session with employees to give them a better understanding of filing procedures.

The Martin agency also handles the villages of Ruidoso and Capitan.

—Awarded a contract for a warehouse addition to the Capitan Senior Citizens Center to low bidder Sombbrero Construction of Capitan for $8,036.

—Approved an application for $18,000 under the state Dollars for Life program. Each of the county's six ambulance services would receive $3,000. This is the fourth year, emergency services coordinator Maggie Bohks has applied for the money. The money is generated by one dollar paid for each motor vehicle registration.

In appreciation

Leota Pflingsten and her husband, Fred, relax during a break at the Lincoln County Commission meeting where Mrs. Pflingsten was honored for her many years of service on the county road review committee. Mrs. Pflingsten has been a member since 1986 and recently resigned. She received a plaque of appreciation from the commission and letter of thanks from committee chairman Bill Rawlins. Commission Chairman Stirling Spencer noted that driving over miles of country roads is "not a fun job." Mrs. Pflingsten said she that she learned a lot about roads and enjoyed the work, even with often bumpy conditions. The honors were just "the frosting on the cake."

40 apply for CofC director post

by KRISTIE SULZBACH
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce has received about 40 applications for the position of executive director of the chamber after Jerry Watts resigned in February.

Chamber president Paul Crown told the chamber members at their meeting Wednesday night that the selection committee will begin reviewing the applications this week. At the end of the week the committee will meet and begin to narrow down the applicants.

Crown said they may be able to start interviewing the people in about two weeks and had initially set March 16 as a date to have someone selected. He said if it takes them longer to make the decision that will work out because Watts is not leaving his position until April 30.

Although the advertisement for the position was only in three newspapers, The Ruidoso News, the Albuquerque Journal and the El Paso Times, they have gotten responses from Texas, Colorado, Arizona and Oklahoma as well as New Mexico.

Crown said he has received about 10 calls from people who want to know what the salary is since it is not listed in the advertisement except to say it is negotiable. At an executive board meeting, he said they decided to send letters to the people who have applied already, stating that the base pay the first year is $27,000. The second year the director can get up to a 10 percent increase on the base, with five percent based on increased membership and five percent based on job performance. The third year will also be based on this formula.

Don Dutton, who is a member of the search committee, said he was concerned good candidates may be turned away from continuing in the process if they see only this amount. He said they should also be told the benefits, such as a car allowance, that will bump the total up a little. Dutton said he would hate to lose a good candidate, who could really improve membership, just because of the pay.

Tom Rigby said the 10 percent increase after the first year will bring the salary up quickly. The letter says this is the base pay, and it is negotiable so the applicants should understand there can be some change in this amount, he said.

Clark Carpenter said he thought the chamber members would be willing to listen to the selection committee if there is an applicant that merits more pay to keep that person interested.

In other business, the education committee recommended a change in the chamber's requirements for the annual scholarship.

At the last two meetings the members have discussed changing the criteria because it requires the applicant to keep a log on community service for several months. Valerie Miller, education committee chairperson, said students aren't aware of this requirement early enough to meet it. She said one student is currently applying for the one this year for $1,000 and has met this requirement.

In future years, Miller suggested not having the students do a log but write a short statement and give a resume that shows community work they have done. She also said the chamber should give out the $1,000 amount at $500 per semester, so the total amount in the scholarship fund can build interest. Miller said they gave these changes in the requirement to the high school counselor, Jean Forister, who will also review them.

The money for the fund comes from proceeds of the Art Festival, and chamber director Jerry Watts said they will set aside $1,000 each month beginning in March when artists start sending in their booth fees.

Board member Ron Wicker said since there is a local college, maybe the chamber could set aside some money for local business employees who would like to go back to school in their field for a few credit hours. The student could be reimbursed tuition if he or she passes the specific class. This could especially be helpful since the school is providing courses in tourism areas, he said.

Miller said they have discussed the possibility of helping older students, those who graduate from high school but don't go to college until they are older, but they haven't really looked into it any further.

Pallbearers were Elmer Wilson, George Walker, Raymond Lopez, Donald Franks, Ted McKinney, Chuck Clayton and David Vansickel.

Chavez Funeral Home of Fort Sumner is in charge of all arrangements.

The Dreamer

Friends remember Bessie Ybarra

Bessie Apache Ybarra Services were held February 26 at Mescalero Reformed Church, and the Mescalero Cemetery for Bessie Apache Ybarra, who was called Home by Our Lord on February 22.

The Reverend Bob Schut used Bessie's Bible for the centerpiece in the service. Many passages were marked in her Bible by Bessie, and these were shared in the meditation, one especially, from the Book of Proverbs:

"A good woman leaves an inheritance to her children's children."

Bessie's inheritance that she left to her husband, Frank, her children and her grandchildren and friends was her spiritual nature. She was a devout member of the Mescalero Reformed Church and a true Christian lady in her daily life.

The Reverend James Huse, for many years pastor of the Mescalero Baptist Church, came from near Dallas, to be at the services.

The Reverend Mr. Huse read from the Gospel according to Saint John:

"I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am ye may be also. And this is the will of him who sent me, that everyone which seeth the Son and believeth on Him, may have everlasting life."

Three hymns were sung: "How Great Thou Art," "When the Roll is Called up Yonder," and "Amazing Grace."

At the graveside, Nathaniel Chee gave the message that parents have an obligation to carry out regarding their children and all the younger generations, and said that Bessie had been very faithful in carrying out his sacred duty.

Pall Bearers

Pall bearers were Ross Scott, Vernon Scott, Franklin Torres, Orlando Cervantes, Terry Balderama, Dewey Shields, Frank Chinó and Jodie Rue.

Honorary pall bearers were Wendell Chino, Body Kayitah, Yvette Beutley, Magdalena Fatty, Jenny Menchango, Gilbert Kayitah, Henry Kayitah, Evelyn Martine, Mable Botello, Bernice Scott and Bessie Gallerito.

Bessie will always hold a fond spot in our hearts; we are grateful for the blessing she has brought to our lives, and we rejoice that she is safe and happy with Our Lord in Heaven.

Happy Birthday To Roman Nunez

I met Roman Nunez and his wife Lucinda up town on the 26th and remarked at how little he has changed in appearance through the years—that he looked so youthful.

He told me that on the 28th he would be 89 years of age. Roman was born at Sunset (now called Riverside); and lives not very far from his birthplace, on a ranch about half way between Riverside and Roswell.

Roman says he still rides horseback. Lucinda was born in Arabela. Her grandfather, Francisco Cordoba, was prominent in early day Lincoln County history.

Roman and Lucinda are two of Lincoln County's favorite people; and we wish Roman many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

The Mountain World Welcomes March

This is being sent to you one half hour after high noon on February 27, the eve of the birthday of our brother Joe, and I feel his spirit fondly close today, visiting me from Heaven.

This message will reach you on the second of March, and as I write this all the mountain sky is full of snow moving clouds drifting in an eastern breeze. Now and then a patch of blue appears overhead and the sun break through sending moving sun and shadow through the Vale.

The birthday month is ready to bid us a fond farewell for this time. And Mother Earth is ready to welcome in March, the month of spring.

Let us thank God for a wonderful February and the promise of a green and flowery spring—and all our other many blessings.

Math is fun for the regional champions

Three eighth grade students won top honors at the First Annual Regional MATHCOUNTS Competition staged at Ruidoso Middle School.

The three top individual competitors in the February 22 competition were Tony Trujillo from Ruidoso Middle School, Desirae Maldonado from Hondo Valley Middle School and Ezra Sandoval from Ruidoso Middle School.

The Ruidoso Middle School eighth grade team also won the team competition. The members are Nicole Coca, Ezra Sandoval, Cody Sparks and Tony Trujillo. Kim Graham and Ron Wall coached the team.

Capitan's eighth grade team and Carrizozo's seventh grade team placed second and third. Capitan members are Kaylee Tejada, Meaghan Vinson, Jaylen Ware and Christina Worrell with Hazel Poisnot serving as coach.

Carrizozo team members are Julie Barham, Cindi Dobbs, Katie Hightower and Keri Shafer. Terry Flores coached the team.

Seventy-two students from six school districts competed in the regional competition: Capitan, Carrizozo, Cloudcroft, Corona, Hondo Valley and Ruidoso.

The regional MATHCOUNTS in Ruidoso was sponsored by Lincoln-Otero County Professional Engineers, Eastern New Mexico University-Ruidoso and Region IX Cooperative Center.

The top three teams will advance to the state MATHCOUNTS contest scheduled for March 14 at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque. The top two state winners will win all-expense paid trips to Washington D.C. for the National MATHCOUNTS competition in May.

Bond winners

Winners of the Ruidoso Middle School Science Fair receive $50 savings bonds from Ruidoso State Bank president Tom Battin. Kurt McGee placed second in global awareness. Sarah Hubbard won the principal's award and Kody Sparks won first in global awareness. Shannon Conley also received a $75 bond for best of show but was not at the presentation.

Scholarship to be given

One student at Ruidoso High School will be awarded a $5,000 scholarship on March 19 from the Horatio Alger Association.

High school counselor Jean Forister said 10 applicants were submitted and the association has now narrowed it down to two finalists. The winner will be announced and presented a check for $5,000 at a school assembly at the high school at 10:10 a.m. on March 19.

Mike Padilla, a former scholarship winner, and Francine Neff from Albuquerque, the 35th United States treasurer, also will be at the presentation.

Forister said the association wants to pick a student who has overcome great odds in life to succeed. They pick a student from one school in each state to award the scholarship to, with last year's New Mexico winner coming from Portales, she said.

The student is selected for demonstrating outstanding self-reliance, individual initiative and integrity, leadership in school activities, academic achievement and a commitment to public service.

The MATHCOUNTS team from Ruidoso Middle School strikes a winning pose after capturing top honors.

Carrizozo's team took third place.

Second place went to the Capitan team.

Corona students operate a school post office

Corona Elementary School has become one of thousands of schools across the nation participating in "Wee Deliver," a program introduced last year by the U.S. Postal Service to help promote literacy.

Head teacher, Betty Ann Bell, says "Wee Deliver" allows elementary school students to use the experience of exchanging letters through the In-School Postal Service to supplement their regular reading and writing lessons. At the same time, it gives them a glimpse of the responsibilities and challenges they will face in the work world.

The school's student post office, set up with the help of employees from the Corona Post Office, functions as much like an actual postal operation as possible. It has its own student postmaster, letter carriers and clerks. Hallways and classrooms have received street names, addresses and ZIP Codes. Students write and receive letters from each other using stamps they design. Their mail is collected, sorted and delivered by student postal workers.

"We think 'Wee Deliver' is a very useful tool for our students," says Superintendent George Langan. "With the help of Corona Postmaster Debbie Moore, and other post office staff, our student post office gives the children a chance to practice and improve on a variety of skills, enhance their self image and promote school spirit."

The In-School Postal Service is one part of the U.S. Postal Service's campaign to promote literacy. It also sponsors an adult literacy program and post offices nationwide serve as clearinghouses for information about literacy.

MainStreet Ruidoso celebrates this year's funding bonanza

by KRISTIE SULZBACH
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The good news keeps pouring in for MainStreet Ruidoso as it continues plans for improvements on Sudderth Drive.

At a meeting Thursday, Mary Maul, MainStreet project director, reported to the board members on the funding possibilities the group has for construction plans for phase I, Fern Street to Country Club Road. She said the group was given $325,000 in the legislative session that ended February 20. These funds also will be used as a match for a new source of funding from the federal government.

Maul said in January a federal Transportation Enhancement Act was passed and will make $176 million available to states in a six year period. Although specific guidelines are not in place, she said Main Street could get a minimum of $575,000 because she has met with state highway officials who have made this project a priority by placing it on the five year plan. These federal funds would not be available until October, she said.

Another possible funding source is the municipal arterial project funds (MAP), which are approved through the New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Department. The MAP funds will require a 25 percent match, but this also could come from the state funds, Maul said. MAP funds won't be available until July.

She said all this information may seem confusing to the board members, but she is keeping track of all the things that need to be done to get the money. Maul said from these sources they will have enough money to do the construction of phase I, but she is concerned about getting enough to cover the design of phase II and III.

Maul praised the hard work of State Representative John Underwood and Senator Pete Campos, both Democrats representing Ruidoso, in getting the money through the legislature.

The board members, though, praised Maul for the tremendous work she has done on the whole project. President Mike Line said Maul has done a great job.

This spring, possibly in March, the state highway department will do a cold mill overlay on Sudderth Drive as a part of Highway 48 which may take from four to six weeks, Maul said. Construction on the MainStreet project won't begin until the spring of 1993 because of the approvals needed for funding, bid specifications and other paperwork. Soil tests will also have to be done.

A public hearing is planned for 10 a.m. April 7, at the village hall council chambers for people to meet with the engineers of the project and to ask any questions they might have.

Maul said they do not have a specific time-line set out but they will not do the work during the village's busiest times of the summer. They will also not block access to any of the businesses, and they won't close out traffic, but if people have particular concerns the best time to get them answered is at the public hearing, she said.

"Our downtown is going to be the most beautiful in the state. It is really going to be first class," Maul said.

In other business the board set

March 30 as the day for the annual MainStreet meeting. The event will be at La Lorraine starting at 6:30 p.m. with a short meeting and a dinner planned. Maul said she will invite members of some of the committees that approved funding for the Sudderth project and other state officials. She said they hope to have Underwood and Campos as speakers at the meeting.

Line also announced the nominating committee's selections to fill four vacancies that will be coming up on the board. Audean Franklin of the Cabbage Rose, Madeline Shackelford of Mitchell's, Tom Battin of Ruidoso State Bank and Alden Deyo, who will replace Sally Reese in a two-year term.

Architectural services for Ruidoso businesses will be available soon from graduate students from the University of New Mexico, Maul said. She said she has spoken to Ed Norris, director of architectural services at the University, and these students could come to Ruidoso for the cost of per diem or give them a place to stay. Maul said the historical preservation division of the state is also willing to help out communities on questions and concerns.

During a recent state Main Street meeting in Santa Fe, Maul said they set up a state advisory board which will help individual Main Street communities on specific projects. They will help hire consultants and will offer workshops on such areas as marketing and advertising.

Maul also announced the National Townhall meeting will be April 13 in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and a quarterly training meeting is planned for May 19-21 in Gallup.

Vote Tuesday in municipal elections

Our choices for municipal office this year are all people who volunteered their time for community service before they ever asked voters to elect them to public office.

We believe that service through boards and commissions, through volunteering time in clubs or churches and showing up at village hall saying, "I think I can help," is the best way to "pay your dues" before taking the official reins of government.

Community service and community pride were our themes as we discussed and made our selections for municipal offices in Capitan, Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs. Here are our choices:

In Ruidoso, we believe that J.D. James, Jerry Shaw and Jess Stinson are the best candidates for village council. All three have logged many hours of service to their community before joining the council. Both James and Stinson were appointed first to the Planning and Zoning Commission and Shaw had already served through clubs and the Chamber of Commerce before running for public office.

All three have served on the Ruidoso Village Council, and while we don't agree with everything they've done, we believe they have responded to the needs of their constituents and voted their conscience for the good of the community.

We're endorsing J.D. James, Jerry Shaw and Jess Stinson.

In Capitan, too, the candidates we have chosen have spoken with pride of the past and the future of their little town. Our choices are L.C. Cozzens and Gordon Ross for the four-year terms and David Posley for the two-year term.

Ross moved to Capitan and immediately became active in the Friends of Smokey, Bare Roots Committee and the planning and zoning board. Cozzens graduated from Capitan High School and left his hometown for college and a 36-year career in education. When he moved home, he volunteered to advise the Capitan school board on finances. Posley, a relative newcomer to Capitan, has invested heavily in a new business and serves on the P&Z board.

We're endorsing L.C. Cozzens, Gordon Ross and David Posley.

In Ruidoso Downs, we selected candidates who put a high priority on cleaning up the little village that is the gateway to this area's biggest tourist attraction. For mayor, J.L. Wilson is our choice and for trustees, we support Charlotte D. Craig and Judy R. Miller.

J.L. Wilson has a vision for Ruidoso Downs that includes making the most of the tourism base that is already in place. He has the knowledge and ability to pull it off. We believe that Wilson's opponent Jackie Branum is doing a great job on the board of trustees, and she should remain in that important job.

For trustee, we support Charlotte Craig and Judy Miller. Craig, an appointed member of the board, has studied the issues and spoken out. She has roots in the village that help her in making her own decisions for the best interests of her town. Miller, also a long-time Ruidoso Downs resident, is a newcomer to the political scene and will bring a new perspective.

We're endorsing J.L. Wilson for mayor and Charlotte Craig and Judy Miller for trustee.

Ruidoso Downs voters also will vote on a municipal judge, and our choice is incumbent Harrold Mansell. He has shown his dedication and commitment by studying hard to learn the many regulations involved in administering municipal law. He treats all the defendants who face him in a fair and equitable manner, and we believe he is the best choice for Ruidoso Downs municipal judge.

We're endorsing Harrold Mansell.

Another view on "white men's mentality"

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing this letter in response to the recent letters written by Native and Hispanic Americans, who have been writing letters about the proposed MRS station that is to go in on the Mescalero Indian Reservation. Also, in response to the one in particular that mentioned the "White Man's Mentality."

I am a white male over the age of 30, and have personally heard all my life about the white man and his mentality, profiteering at the expense of everything for the sake of personal gain and greed.

My ancestry traces back to England and Ireland, my family was ship builders and sheep herders. In the early years of the settlement of our Great Nation, my ancestors not only shipped slaves from Africa, but also formed plantations in the new world and used these enslaved people for their personal gain and profited greatly from the labor of these people.

This was not and never has been my choice for these people who were taken against their will and made to go to a new country and spend their lives in servitude. I did not do this to these people nor did I choose for it to happen to them. For their pain and suffering, as well as the American natives, I am truly sorry.

It has been generally accepted from before the time when Jesus was here that slaves were taken by the stronger race or the race with greater technological ability. I make no apologies for what my ancestors did, and I do not feel it is my fault nor do I feel responsible for anyone's state in life, past or present.

I personally and strongly resent the continual reference to the "White Mentality" and the "White Devil" by the liberal press and those who use it as a forum to attack that which they cannot understand, or refuse to try to understand.

I resent countries and their citizens like Iraq and Iran, or anyone who continually talk about the "West" and how bad we are and then turning their backs and taking the dollars. One of the precepts that made our nation great, is the fact that the founding fathers were willing to die, if necessary, for the ideas they believed in.

I also resent citizens of our nation that refer to the white man as the creator of all that is evil and bad that has happened to the natives of this land. The Spaniards were here long before any of the rest of the Western European Nationalities. The Incas and the Mayans were here as well and they enforced their will on the weaker natives whenever possible.

The Plains Indians, before the "White Influence," were warring among themselves without the help of the white man.

I resent the constant use of, and the representation that because of a few bad apples, we're all that way. I think that it does not matter what nationality our ancestors are, nor do I think a certain ethnic group has an advantage over the other.

We are at a point where the world has become so small that we must look past the past and to the future. We must all work together. It has become increasingly more evident by the fall of the mighty Iron Curtain, The Soviet Empire, the cradle of communism, that we are all vulnerable and there is a fragile, delicate balance for all things.

We are all in this game together. We must work together to right the wrongs of the past regardless of who is at fault. We must all band together, because what we do affects the rest of the world.

Recently, we fought a war in the Gulf, for what I am not exactly sure, but one thing I am sure of is that Iraq's aggression in Kuwait on the other side of the world affected me in my living room.

We must look for solutions together, to solve the problems of today and not point fingers blindly at other ethnic groups. This solves nothing for any of us.

We must be careful not to label any one certain group with any of the stereotypical exaggerations generally accepted by society. That is an over-simplification of the problem and, as I have stated, it solves nothing for anyone.

While I do not personally agree with Mr. Chino and his Tribal Council, I do understand the need and the drawing power the NRC has placed on this project.

My hope, like many of the Natives and Hispanics in this area, is that there will be no MRS station in this area. I think the people who benefit from the nuclear reactors, would be blessed with the problem and the danger of long-term storage and not spread the problem around.

I am afraid the mental giants in Washington D.C. have already decided that there are not enough people here and a little radiation won't hurt.

As for this being the creation of the white man, the last time I had a chance to see a cross section of the Congress and the Senate for a racial makeup, it looked like there were a lot of smart men and women trying to do a job.

Much ado about a simple MRS study

TO THE EDITOR:

What about our children and our children's children? That seems to be one of the numerous subjects that is concerning so many citizens from Ruidoso and neighboring communities regarding the proposed MRS study, or so it seems. Ever since MRS surfaced, boy, what an up-roar and over what? A study! Wouldn't it be wonderful if so much emphasis was placed on actually doing something for our children.

Come to think of it, has anything been done for our younger generation? Don't misconstrue what I'm trying to say! There are several fine programs offered here that will see you into the high school years. Besides the excellent athletic programs offered by our high school system, where can or what is offered so that our high school sons and daughters can hang out? Free Parking is about it, or maybe go to some party at somebody's house while Mom and Dad are out of town. Never has anything been offered to our high school age children by those who were or are in a position to do something. This is a problem that has been around for years and years before three-quarters of you ever heard of Ruidoso, Hondo or Mescalero.

How many have heard your children say they are bored because there is nothing to do? Why don't you appoint a special committee for this worth-while cause Mr. Mayor?

A little help on your part Ms. Editor would go a long way as it has against a proposed study.

There have been several commendable efforts by a few individuals and a few local organizations that have seen the need and tried to provide something for our kids and what has happened? You can sure as hell bet that it was not for a lack of interest by these few selected individuals and organizations. Who can we blame this on and for what reasons? Look around and you can see for yourselves.

Now, let's go back to the MRS study! Ever heard of anyone dying from radiation poisoning that was brought on by a proposed MRS study? What a bunch of nonsense over nothing at this stage.

Sure would be nice if newspaper coverage, time and money spent in opposition to this MRS study could be applied toward something for our sons and daughters besides an empty and muddy parcel of land.

Panic, Worry, Condemnation: Seems to be the order of the day after reading all the opposition against a proposed study. Want to give your readers something to really worry about Ms. Editor?

Drive on down to the "Y" at the intersection of Sudderth and 70 and count the hundreds of tractor-trailer rigs that pass by 24 hours a day, every day. Some of these rigs carry poisons and chemicals that would kill you and yours just as dead as any radiation around. Talk about lasting and devastating effects. Ever thought of moving or finding a different location for our hospital, Nob Hill school and middle school? Better hope and pray that certain rig doesn't crash and burn near this area or anywhere close by. After all the dead have been buried maybe you will realize that you are sitting on a time bomb and not even aware of it.

Don't believe me? Drive on down to your local fire department and ask what can they do should the day ever present itself in facing one of these deadly situations or better yet ask our Mayor or council what if? This is where your worries and concerns should rest. This is where money, time and newspaper coverage should be applied. Why not direct your attention to what is real and deadly and not on some study that is harmless?

Why not apply the increase in salary that is proposed for our council to our emergency response personnel? With more money to our emergency services they can better equip themselves and educate the general public about the dangers that are present and exist right now!

Why has so much attention been directed at the proposed MRS study? Most of us who really care know why and those who don't, just look in the mirror and answer that yourselves.

How about it Ms. Editor and The Ruidoso News and you, too, Mr. Mayor and the council. Put a stop to all the B.S. and war planning.

Mescalero started nothing but a study. You all are responsible for the height and elevator has traveled. Why don't you get your priorities straight! Push the button, stop the elevator before it goes to far and does something that will have a lasting effect for the people that really care about this area and for our "children and our children's children."

Danny Garcia
Ruidoso

EDITOR'S NOTE: Just a study, you say. So, why have a study if you don't intend to follow up on it? And, are you, Mr. Garcia, proposing that we block off U.S. Highway 70?

Better not bite the hand that feeds us

TO THE EDITOR:

The letter in issue of February 13 from D. Don Farris inspired me to write to you.

I fully agree with Mr. Farris. It seems as though this new tax on feed is another way to encourage the down fall and economy of the beautiful village of Ruidoso.

I am not a race horse owner, but have a dear friend of many years, who has for the past 21 years, raced her quarter horses and thoroughbreds at Ruidoso Downs. Since Oklahoma and Texas are now getting some good race tracks she says it is wise not to ship to Ruidoso due to the added expense trainers must charge to cover the G.R.T. tax. This is a shame as she also owns a home in Ruidoso, pays New Mexico taxes, shops and spend money with the local merchants.

My husband and I also own a home in Ruidoso and are very proud to spend time there. In the summer we are proud to see visitors come into town and shop and look at all that is offered in this beautiful village. The resentment of us who drive our cars without of state license is very discouraging, plus this new G.R.T. tax, makes some of us wonder, are we really welcome?

We have had people shout at us driving down the street, "why don't you Texans go back to Texas?" This, coupled with taxation really makes a person wonder whether to go and pack your suitcase and go to a place where you are not resented and taxed.
