On the Side

Plan ahead for '94 chuckwagon show

The Flying J Ranch has been selected to host the Chuckwagons of the West Jamboree May 18 and 19, 1994.

Sounds like a long time in the future, but Chuckwagons of the West Jamboree is so popular that tickets always sell out and they always sell out early.

When the Jamboree unfolds here, the Flying J Wranglers will be joined on state with groups from the six other members of the chuckwagon supper organization.

Expect the same great cowboy cooking with more than seven times the music and fun! Call 336-4330 to reserve tickets for next year's Chuckwagon Jamboree.

Twin trifecta winner cashes in $78,538

A single handicapper chose the correct trifecta combination in both Ruidoso Downs' third and fourth races to win the $78,538 twin trifecta jackpot Thursday.

The unidentified bettor cashed his winning ticket at the Sunland Park simulcast outlet.

The correct twin trifecta combination had not been chosen since May 15.

Garbage is a mess

It's Murphy's Law in spades. A few residents complained to The Ruidoso News Monday that their garbage wasn't picked up last week.

A spokesman for the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority said the garbage compactor broke down. After waiting for parts, the wrong ones arrived. Workers hoped to double up on trips to the landfill with a new trailer, but then an old one broke down.

"They're doing the best they can," the spokesman said. "They can only do two runs a day to Roswell (landfill). They hope after Wednesday to see a little relief."

Art show is a huge success

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The quality of the watercolors dazzled visitors who flew in from as far away as Massachusetts and Georgia.

Within an hour after the Santa Fe Watercolor Society Show opened Saturday at The Museum of the Horse for a select assemblage of collectors and other guests, 43 of the 60 pieces were sold, representing $323,000 in contracts.

"And for most of these people, it was their first trip to Ruidoso," said R.D. Hubbard, owner of the Ruidoso Downs Race Track and part of the Hubbard Foundation with his wife, Joan Dale Hubbard.

Bringing the prestigious watercolor society show to the foundation's museum in Lincoln County is part of the Hubbards' continuing promotion of the arts in New Mexico. In previous years, they have drawn top artists from around the nation to their Hubbard Art Award for Excellence, which is the largest cash prize for a single piece of representational art.

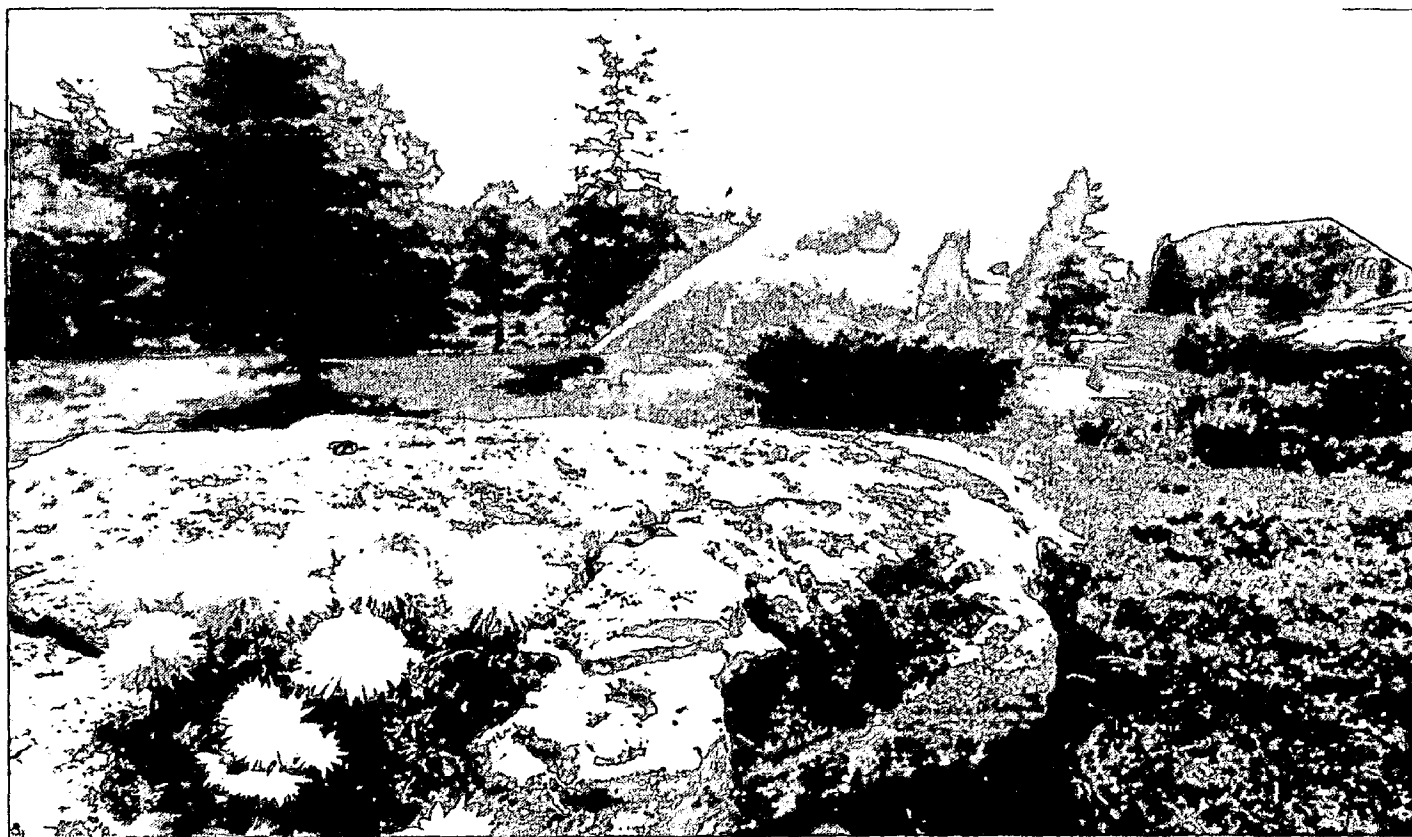

Once visitors see Ruidoso, many of them will return for visits in the future, Hubbard said.

The reception drew about 275 guests. Gary Niblett, president of the watercolor society, introduced the other members of the group: James Asher, Joseph Henninger, Thomas William Jones, James Kramer, Eric Michaels, Dean Mitchell, Morris Rippel, Gordon Snidow and Paul Strisik.

On Sunday, a champagne brunch followed by an afternoon at the races punched up a poster signing session by artists.

"The artists said it was so much more fun than going to a boring signing with nothing else to do," said Laura Doth, public relations spokesman for the museum.

"The artwork will continue to be on display at the museum through July 4 and then will be moved to the racetrack to complement the Hubbard's western art exhibit through Labor Day," Doth said.

Every day is gardening day!

The "Y" welcomes visitors to Ruidoso thanks to the continuing efforts of the Ruidoso Garden Club, Ruidoso Rotary and, especially, Jim and Smokey Stover. Ruidoso Garden Club is celebrating gardening week, and club president Dorothy Freiley contributed her thoughts on daisies: "He loves me. He loves me not. This beautiful white long-stemmed flower does great in our town of Ruidoso. In the morning it opens with the light of day; and when the sun goes down, some varieties fold up as if going to sleep. Daisy means the day's eye, or the eye of the day." The closeup of the daisies pictured below represent a small portion of the hundreds of flowers that surround one of the oldest pines in the village near the front office of The Ruidoso News. Owners of local nurseries say daisies are their largest seller for this time of the year because of their prolonged flowering season.

Council views roofing

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Wood shake or wood shingle roofing is prohibited within Ruidoso and outside of Ruidoso within the three-mile extraterritorial area, according to village planner Cleatus Richards.

Enforcement of that prohibition is an agenda item Tuesday at the regular village council meeting starting at 6:30 p.m.

The Architectural Control Committee of Alto Lakes Golf and Country Club, represented by attorney Richard Hawthorne, notified Richards that it is not opposed to the village's proposal and does not plan to attend Tuesday's village council meeting regarding the matter.

Hawthorne wrote that after June 1, the architectural control committee will not approve any building plans which include wood shake shingles as roofing materials in Alto.

Three public hearings will lead off the agenda items.

The council will vote to approve or disapprove an application by Neal Germain and Fred Poulos for a beer and wine only license to be used at Cafe Rio, located at 2547 Sudderth Drive.

The second public hearing is Ordinance 93-08, dedication of municipal gross receipts tax.

The ordinance is designed to return to the general fund any gross receipts tax in excess of actual needs of the airport.

Ordinance 93-09, the last public hearing of the evening, creates provisions for requiring a State of New Mexico Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity for all towing businesses.

The basis for the ordinance was a complaint by four village towing agencies who are state certified while other towing services are not.

Under regular items, the council will hear a proposal from the Humane Society of Lincoln County for a long-term lease that will allow

Game warden warns against feeding the bears

They look cute and cuddly when they're young. When they come silently down out of the mountains to explore, the temptation to feed them is great.

But game warden Ron Moore of the New Mexico Game and Fish Commission warns that it's against the law to feed bears or to store garbage in a way that encourages them to become a nuisance.

"Improper disposal of garbage or careless storage of food may lead to fines and could also lead to a bear's destruction," he said.

"Bears are intelligent creatures and it doesn't take them long to realize that an improperly maintained garbage area is an easy source of food," Moore said. "When a bear locates improperly stored garbage or food, the pattern of events is predictable. A bear feeds on the garbage, and we enjoy the spectacle. After a few visits, the bear loses its fear of humans because the lure of the easy food source is stronger than its natural aversion to man."

"When the bear no longer fears humans, it becomes increasingly aggressive and it must be destroyed before it threatens a life."

"In plain language, the person who does not properly care for his or her garbage creates a situation that forces destruction of the bear."

Transplanted nuisance bears often return from great distances to their home territory and continue their activities, he said. Those that do not return may just take their raiding habits with them to new areas.

"If you live in forested areas of New Mexico or enjoy outdoor activities here, you are in bear country," Moore said. "As New Mexico's population grows and more people come to the state to enjoy recreation opportunities, humans will encroach into areas where bears have lived for thousands of years."

"We cannot expect bears to change their habits. If man and bears are to continue to live near each other, we must change out behavior to accommodate the bear."

This hungry bear heads for some food dishied out lovingly by area residents who enjoy watching the gentle looking giant eat.

But feeding wild bears is not such a good idea, according to game warden Ron Moore.

Doctor files suit in federal court against hospital management firm

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

A Ruidoso doctor filed suit in the United States District Court last Friday against the local hospital's management firm, the administrator and a husband and wife physician team.

Defendants named in the suit, brought by Dr. Arlene Brown, are Presbyterian Healthcare Services, the management company that operates Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC); LCMC administrator Valerie Miller; Sierra Blanca Medical Associates; Dr. Vickie Williams and her husband, Dr. Gary Jackson.

Contacted by The Ruidoso News, Dr. Brown confirmed filing the lawsuit which alleges LCMC officials abused economic power directed at destroying her obstetrics practice. She said the suit is against Presbyterian Healthcare Services, not against LCMC, the county hospital.

The suit, handled by the firm of Keleher and McLeod of Albuquerque, claims that officials at LCMC participated in a scheme to promote the business of certain hospital-recruited doctors who were in competition with Dr. Brown, while preventing Brown from pursuing that service.

According to Brown, a family practitioner, the hospital imposed a restriction on her hospital privileges requiring her to obtain specialist consultation "when possible" in complicated or high risk obstetrical cases.

According to court documents,

Dr. Brown objected to any decisions about her competence or hospital privileges; however, she agreed to the restriction after hospital committee members informed her that any attempt to argue against the restriction or to defend her treatment decisions would be pointless and disruptive.

Brown's attorneys said the revocation of the doctor's privileges lacked clinical justification or other good cause. The documents indicate those privileges were revoked on the grounds that Brown failed to obtain consultations for an obstetrical patient treated in her office in November and for another patient admitted to LCMC in January.

According to Brown, both of those patients had healthy deliveries.

Joe Gutierrez acquitted in drug case

Gary Mitchell was crowing Friday.

His client, Joe Sedillo Gutierrez, 40, was acquitted in Lincoln County district court on two counts of trafficking cocaine and two counts of conspiracy to traffic cocaine.

"A 12-member jury came back with a verdict in 10 minutes," Mitchell told The Ruidoso News. "This was prosecuted by the district attorney's office and the trial took a day and a half. They called a line up of law enforcement officers, about nine, as witnesses. I called the defendant and his wife."

"I got the distinct feeling most people thought it was a waste of taxpayers' money. They just didn't have a case and after spending four years on it, according to them."

Although not all of Mitchell's clients arrested in the massive raid through Hondo Valley last October have walked away free, Gutierrez was accused by law enforcement officials of being the ring leader, Mitchell said.

"Some have struck deals and others have gone to trial. Some are facing sentencing," he said. "But this is the big one. They told the jury, he was the head of the organization. That was a bunch of nonsense."

Assistant district attorney Scot Key said he was disappointed with some of the court's rulings in the Gutierrez case.

"Without certain evidence, the jury didn't get the full picture, we felt," he said. "I think the evidence still showed the defendant's fingerprints were on the packaging of the cocaine. Despite that, (Mitchell) presented a defense apparently, the jury felt was plausible."

Key said up until Gutierrez, every defendant who has gone to court in connection with the raid has been convicted. More trials are scheduled for July and August.

Gentle friends are waiting at the animal shelter

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

With a gentle face and brown eyes that look onto visitors at the Lincoln County Humane Society animal shelter, Chickums' brave little heart and earnest devotion have won him special attention from volunteers.

His name is derived from an unusual feature, six toes on each of his back legs. This arrangement reminded someone of chicken toes.

CAJUN

The 10-month-old male appears to be a cross between a smooth collie and a Podenco Português. He was brought to the shelter by a concerned resident who found Chickums and with a three-month-old unrelated pup wandering in the White Oaks area.

Chickums was very protective of the pup and they were kept together in a cage until recently when the smaller dog was placed with two others of the same approximate age.

"He's good with kids and is very loving to everyone," said shelter secretary Kathy Tetraault of Chickums. "He's also less excitable than many of the dogs here."

Chickums' puppy friend is a strikingly good-looking Australian shepherd female called Cajun by shelter workers.

She's about three months old with classic markings and lots of energy. A bit shy with new faces, she easily can be won over with food.

Among the healthy puppy population available for adoption (from six weeks of age to four months), the shelter has two black cocker spaniels with accent markings; several German shepherd mixes, including a blue-eyed knockout named Zodiac; an adorable white pup with terrier blood; three brown retriever/spaniel mixes with medium-length hair; three fluffy, ivory-colored golden retrievers and a gray pup who appears to have Husky blood.

Still up for adoption is Adobe, a clean-looking blonde Akita Inu mix with erect ears and curled tail. Loving and in need of a break in life, Adobe is spayed through a sponsorship. Ballyhoo, a great looking Walker hound also has been spayed and is looking for a caring owner.

Chickums and Cajun (when she's six months) will have to be sterilized to ensure they are not responsible for producing any more puppies who may end up abandoned and eventually, destroyed. Chickums is sponsored for the cost of his neutering by an out-of-town visitor to the shelter.

When families adopt dogs and cats from the shelter, they sign a legal contract that obligates them to neuter the animals. The village also passed a mandatory neuter ordinance and a new state law requiring all adopted and reclaimed animals from shelters to be neutered effective July 1.

The public and elected officials are beginning to realize that not only is mandatory sterilization a humane solution to the problem of pet over-population, it also is a cost-effective way of handling the situation.

One of the best ways for people to improve an abandoned animal's chances for adoption, is to sponsor it for neutering. A sponsor pays the cost of the surgical procedure, which is the major expense associated with adoption.

The humane society meets at noon on the third Wednesday of each month at the Texas Club. All persons interested in the humane movement or in becoming a volunteer are welcome.

For more information about Chickums, Cajun, Zodiac, Adobe Ballyhoo or any of the other dogs and cats, call 257-9841 or stop at the shelter on Gavilan Canyon Road.

State senator calls for review of state finances

Senator Pete Campos (D-Santa Rosa) has called for a thorough discussion of the revenue projections for the current and coming fiscal year, as well as the possible uses of the projected surplus.

"It's time to end the talk of calling a special legislative session to lower the gasoline tax and begin a serious debate about the problems facing New Mexicans today — in my district that means more jobs, affordable health care and better schools.

"Lowering the gasoline tax may make short-term political sense, but that doesn't mean it's the right thing to do for the long haul," said Campos.

"The gasoline tax increase will cost the average driver less than a dime a day. That's a small price to pay for better education and better roads."

Campos noted that he drives more than 1,300 miles a month, just to meet with constituents in his sprawling, four-county district.

But, Campos said he doesn't expect the gasoline tax increase to cost him much more than a few dollars for those trips.

"Besides the direct benefit to our schools and roads, we shouldn't overlook the fact that this type of tax also helps us reduce our dependence on foreign oil, spur energy conservation and keep air quality standards high," Campos said.

"A decision to lower the gasoline tax should only be made after careful consideration of the project general revenue increases, including whether those increases are recurring, and a serious study of the state's needs."

Reinstating low-income tax credits, putting more money into anti-DWI efforts, improving roads and highways, narrowing the gross receipts tax, boosting tourism advertising and improving airports in small cities and increasing aid to local governments, particularly in the area of law enforcement and welfare, are just a few of the possible uses for extra revenue that deserve study, Campos said.

FRITZ MAGNUSSON New agent joins local realty firm

Fritz Magnusson has joined RE/MAX of Ruidoso, the 100 percent commission real estate office located at 1096 Mechem, Suite 3-G.

Magnusson has nearly 13 years of real estate experience in El Paso, Texas, where he was formerly with John T. Hallard Realtors, specializing in commercial real estate and business brokerage.

He is a member of the El Paso Board of Realtors, Commercial Investment Division (CID).

Magnusson is a former restaurateur and businessman in El Paso. He is an active member of Kiwanis International and past member of the board of directors of the El Paso Restaurant Association and past member of Texas Restaurant Association and National Restaurant Association.

He was one of the founding board members of the North-East El Paso Drug Task Force.

Wayland Burk, broker/owner of RE/MAX of Ruidoso welcomes Magnusson to the office.

"We are very excited about having Fritz join our team and know that he will be a definite asset to RE/MAX of Ruidoso," said Burk.

NMSU studies state airports

The Sierra Blanca Airport and the Carrizozo Municipal Airport are two of 31 airports statewide to be studied this month in a New Mexico State University assessment of aviation's impact on the New Mexico economy.

NMSU will send more than 5,000 questionnaires June 7-20 to large and small businesses, government agencies and airport tenants, said NMSU geography head Robert Czerniak.

NMSU's Geographic Applications and Research Laboratory with geography and government departments will conduct the survey.

The study will estimate the direct and indirect benefits of each airport including jobs, sales revenues and wages associated with aviation-related services. Researchers will use complex mathematical modeling and computer simulation techniques, Czerniak said.

Local officials and economic development agencies expect to promote aviation with results of the study, which was funded by the New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Department's Aviation Division and the Federal Aviation Administration, he said.

Czerniak encourages everyone who receives a questionnaire to fill it out and return it to the university.

For more information, contact airport planner Vicki Taggart at 646-5755.

Local doc continues education

Arlene M. Brown, M.D., of Ruidoso has completed continuing medical requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), the national association of family doctors.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years.

The Academy, the country's largest medical specialty association with more than 69,000 members, was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

Dr. Brown has been an active AAFP member since 1983. As a family physician, Brown is qualified to work in all major medical areas and trained to treat up to 90 percent of all patients. Family physicians care for all family members — all ages and both sexes.

The organization works to preserve and promote quality, cost-effective health care. It promotes the science and art of family medicine and works to ensure an optimum supply of well-trained family physicians.

The academy also provides advocacy, representation and leadership for the specialty of family practice.

Grateful graduates

Jim Miller, director of Eastern New Mexico University-Ruidoso, proudly shows off his campus' first two associates degree graduates, Michelle Ashcraft (left) and Ruth Guthrie. The women participated in graduation ceremonies in Portales and later, were honored at a reception in Ruidoso. They plan to continue their educations.

Mountainmarschers map out permanent Volksmarch trails

Get out the comfortable sneakers or sturdy hiking boots, a relaxing and scenic walking route is now marked in Upper Canyon.

The Ruidoso Mountainmarschers has started a year round Volksmarch — a free, non-competitive walk for everyone, every day of the year.

Situated in Ruidoso's historic Upper Canyon, the six-mile tour along Main Road may be walked any day of the week during daylight hours. The route begins at Shadow Mountain Lodge, where maps are available.

Walkers must finish before dark, and may walk for credit (by paying a $1.50 fee) or for free.

Reflective blue disks mark the walking trail over the 6.2 mile route.

Sponsored by the Ruidoso Mountainmarschers, this type of family sport activity is enjoyed by persons in all age brackets worldwide, said Jim Miller, director of Eastern New Mexico University-Ruidoso and an enthusiastic supporter of the walking group.

Miller helped work out the route of the year-round volksmarch and put up the disks.

"The Ruidoso event already has been advertised through national publications," Miller said. "Local inquiries already have been received from Oregon and Colorado. Walkers from all over the United States will begin coming to the Ruidoso area to walk the Upper Canyon route. That's going to benefit the local tourist industry."

Miller said the Upper Canyon route is one of more than 300 year-round walking routes in North America and one of four in New Mexico.

"Many retired couples spend part of each year traveling from one volksmarch route to the next," he said. "They spend their money in the host towns, stay at the local motels and eat at the local restaurants. It's a good, clean and health-promoting attraction."

For more information, call Genevieve Duncan at 257-3168, Jim Miller at 257-2120, or Shadow Mountain Lodge at 257-7526. Ruidoso Mountainmarschers is a club sponsored by the Ruidoso Federated Wagon's Club and ENMU-Ruidoso.

Ruidoso athlete wins Duke City track title

Eric Evans, the son of Rick Evans and Rita McCaslin of Ruidoso, has been named the Male High School Track Athlete of the Year in Albuquerque by the Albuquerque Tribune sports writers.

The award was presented during the fifth annual Albuquerque Tribune/Gardenswartz High School Sports Banquet May 19, at the Holiday Inn Pyramid Hotel.

Evans, a track standout at Ruidoso High School before he transferred to West Mesa High School in Albuquerque, has signed a national letter of intent to attend Fresno State University in Fresno, California. He was awarded a full track scholarship, according to a news release.

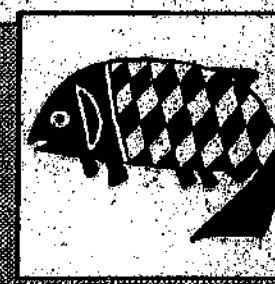

Fresno State head coach Red Estes said that his staff will be working to develop Evans as a decathlete. As a decathlete, Evans will have to become proficient in several new events, including the pole vault, high jump and long jump.

Fresno State is recognized as one of the top schools in the United States for track and field. Until joining the WAC in 1993, Fresno State was the Big West Track and Field champion for nine out of the last 10 years. They year the school finished second in the WAC behind BYU.

In addition to his track and field awards, Evans also received the U.S. Army Reserve Scholar Athlete Award for academic and athletic excellence at West Mesa High School. This prestigious award is given to the top male and female scholar athletes from all sports at the various Albuquerque high schools.

Anglers head for their favorite fishing holes

by Ben Hanson

June 7 through 13 has been declared National Fishing Week. This week is used to highlight fishing and also to educate folks about the conservation and management of our fisheries resource and the lakes, rivers and streams where fish live. This might be a good time to sit down and see just what this sport is all about.

For the bass angler, it seems easy to tell folks about the thrill and excitement that comes when that lunker largemouth flashes up to take the bait and then heads back for the brush. Or for the fly fishermen to relate that same feeling as a huge rainbow swirls to the surface, grabs the fly and heads for swift water. Both anglers can tell of the fight, whether they win or lose; and folks who don't fish will listen, but can't feel the experience.

That's what National Fishing Week is all about. Folks who haven't ever fished should use this time to get out and try to experience the thrill of fishing. Those who already fish should use this time to invite a non-fishing friend or neighbor out on a fishing trip.

Through this experience, these folks may join the millions of Americans who fish each year. According to a survey done by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, one in every four adult Americans goes fishing. This means that about 35.6 million adults fish each year. Add to this the more than 12 million youngsters who fish, and there are about 50 million anglers in this country.

In New Mexico alone last year there were almost 270,000 licensed fishermen. Considering the youngsters who don't need a license along with the people who don't bother to buy a license, and this figure may be as high as 370,000 anglers. This many people taking part in a sport makes it not only popular, but also important economically.

Anglers in New Mexico spent nearly $113 million to go fishing. This included $51 million on trip-related expenses, $23.3 million on food and lodging, $17.3 million on transportation, $56.2 million on equipment and $3.67 million on miscellaneous expenditures that include licenses, stamps, tags and permits. That's quite a chunk of money!

This points out how important the guy who's out there trying to catch a fish is to our state and local economy. Each angler adds his or her part to the hotel, restaurant and service station industries just to name a few.

Of course, fishing is a lot more than just an economic boon to our country. Millions of Americans are out there pursuing a pastime they truly enjoy while at the same time forming friendships and family bonds that may last a lifetime.

Private land hunts require state license

Hunters who purchase private land elk and antelope permits will be charged an additional $15 fee above the cost of the license, according to information from the New Mexico Game and Fish Department.

The permits are issued to landowners based on the estimated number of elk and antelope on their land. In turn, they sell the permits to hunters.

Private land licenses to hunt elk for residents of New Mexico will increase to $50. Non-residents will pay $365.

Private land antelope permits will cost $36 for residents and will increase to $201 for non-residents.

The added fee should generate about $100,000 that will be combined with an additional $100,000 from the department to help pay for a Landowner/Sportsman Relations program.

The focus of the program is to improve wildlife habitat, to improve sportsmen access to public lands and to encourage sportsmen to respect and support landowner habitat management efforts. Department officials also hope the program will encourage respect for private property rights and improve cooperation and communications among landowners, sportsmen and the department.

Cleveland Indians recruit in Cruces

The Cleveland Indians major league baseball team will be holding open try-outs in New Mexico on Thursday, June 17.

The try-outs will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Presley Askew Field on the campus of New Mexico State University. Players should allow at least 30 minutes before the start of the camp to complete registration forms.

The Indians are looking for players between the ages of 16 and 22 years old, according to a news release.

Each player will be required to have their own shoes and gloves. Uniforms are preferred, but not required.

Players on a Connie Mack or American Legion team must have written permission from their coach if this camp is in conflict with their team activities.

Register now for sports sessions

Broken Drum sports camps will present two volleyball and basketball skills camps this summer.

Coaches Robyn Johnson and Jody Blanton and their staff invited area youngsters to sign up for either or both of the training sessions, the first is June 14 through 18, and the second July 19 through 23.

Campers also can take part by the day or half day, with the cost $50 for a five-day week, $10 for a day or $6 for a half-day. Sessions begin at 8 a.m. and end at 6 p.m.

To register, call Johnson at 378-8232, or send a check to the Broken Drum, ATTN: Jody Blanton, PO Box 4094 in Ruidoso.

Racing

Baby Let's Dance, with Duane Sterling aboard, triumphs by three and three-quarter lengths in the $14,825 Norgor Derby, Saturday at Ruidoso Downs Race Track. The Don Farris-trainee became the first filly in history to win both the Norgor Futurity and Derby. The time for the six furlongs was 1:10.1. Don Farris trains the three-year-old for co-owners R.D. Hubbard and Ed Allred. Photo courtesy of Ruidoso Downs Race Track.

Baby Let's Dance waltzes in for win

R.D. Hubbard and Ed Allred's Baby Let's Dance became the first filly to sweep both the Norgor Futurity and Derby as she cruised home by 3 3/4-lengths under a hand ride by Duane Sterling to win the $14,825 Derby Saturday at Ruidoso Downs.

The New Mexico-bred daughter of Early Choke was reserved in the full going of the six furlong sprint and layed just off the quick early fractions of :21.4 and :44.0 set by Dark Liberty and Bold Arrival. In the turn, Sterling moved Baby Let's Dance around the tiring pacesetters, took the lead at the eighth pole and ran unchallenged down the stretch. The time was a speedy 1:10.1.

The Don Farris-trained filly who had not started since the Sunland Park Fall Futurity in December, was sent off the 9-5 second choice in the field of nine 3-year-olds. "I hated to run her in this race after the layoff, but I don't regret it now," said Farris.

"Don told me to stay three or four lengths off the lead and hope that the speed died," said Sterling who last rode Baby Let's Dance when she won the Norgor Futurity last June.

"Every time someone came and hooked her she kept on going. I hit her in the stretch, but no one came after us and we won pretty easy."

Baby Let's Dance, a $20,000 purchase at the 1991 Ruidoso Thoroughbred Yearling Sale, is only the third horse to win both the Norgor Futurity and Derby since the races were created in 1979-80. Adios Mundo in 1989-90 and Talent Connection in 1990-91 also accomplished the feat. The win was worth $8,895 to owners Hubbard and Allred of Fort Worth, Texas.

The filly also received a $1,250 bonus as a state-bred winning against open company. Baby Let's Dance's earnings now total $60,167 from three wins in eight starts. The filly has yet to finish out of the money in her career.

Buyimback, a stablemate of Baby Let's Dance, closed late under Jockey Carlos Rivas to out finish Show courts by a 3/4 length for the place position. The colt by Copelan won a maiden race here May 29 and earned $3,261 for Hubbard and Allred. The Doyle Roberts trained gelding Show courts was sent off the 8-5 favorite in his Ruidoso Downs debut and earned $1,482 for his efforts.

The son of Phone Trick is owned by Margaret Dupont and Margaret Bloss of El Paso, Texas. Flavio Martinez was aboard.

Special Cutie, recent maiden winners, look tough in Thursday racing action

Scott Willoughby's Special Cutie, who ran third in his Ruidoso Downs debut against $8,000 claiming company on May 27, stands out among a field of $5,000 claimers entered in Thursday's feature.

The five and a half furlong spring is open to three-year-olds and upward and offers a purse of $2,200.

Special Cutie, a three-year-old gelding by Hawkins Special, came in from Blue Ribbon Downs in Salinas, Oklahoma, for his last outing.

The gelding closed late under jockey Vickie Smallwood in the five and a half furlong race to finish a length and a half behind second place finisher Justin Tate.

Special Cutie campaigned against allowance and stakes company in Oklahoma after a three and a half length win against maidens mid-March. The gelding is owned and trained by Willoughby and Nicky Madrid will ride Thursday.

Fountain Of Jewels, Winds Of A Gail and La Campana, all recent maiden winners, also merit some consideration in the 10-horse field.

The LaRae Sumpter-trained filly Fountain Of Jewels comes off an impressive four and three quarter-length win here May 27, and is a big threat to score back-to-back victories.

The filly led nearly from start-to-finish after breaking from the #12 post position and stopped the timer in a respectable 1:12.3 for six furlongs.

Vickie Smallwood has ridden Fountain Of Jewels in all three of her starts this year and has the mount once again Thursday.

Winds Of A Gail, from the Jimmie Claridge shedrow, rallied late to beat Over The Levee by a head to graduate from the maiden ranks on May 29.

The six-year-old mare scored her first win after 21 unsuccessful outings and seems to be in top form now.

Todd Fincher gets the return call on Winds Of A Gail.

La Campana went wire-to-wire to defeat her foes in a $5,000 maiden claiming event on May 22 in her first start in nearly a year. The Gilbert McClanahan-trained filly had a three-length lead early in the five and a half furlong sprint and held off a late charge from Andy Truman for a half-length victory. Harla Webb will ride.

The 13-race program is concluded by four simulcasts from Hollywood Park.

All bets made on Hollywood races are common pooled which allows local handicappers access to the large mutual pools and exotic wagers offered at the Los Angeles-area track.

Brooks dominates 1993 Silver Cup

Trainer Jack Brooks is best known for his success with two-year-old quarter horses, but Sunday Brooks won one of the more prestigious stakes for older runners when the four-year-old colt Vital Class took the Grade I $90,632 Rainbow Silver Cup by two and a quarter lengths.

Brooks was no present Sunday because he was in his home state of Oklahoma with Remington Park Futurity Consolation winner Good Bye Norma Jean.

Assistant trainer Bob Williams saddled the Clarence Scharbauer-owned entry of Vital Class and Pullasix as well as Walt Fletcher's Design Express who finished a game third behind Fortune Of Delight in the 440-yard dash.

Vital Class, by Easily Smashed, broke on the lead from the two post under jockey Kenneth Hart and was never seriously threatened at any point of the race. The time was :22.13.

"When that bugger left the gates he was gone," said Hart, who has won three Grade I stakes races this year.

"The gate crew did a super job and so did Jack's crew. I just carried out the orders Jack gave me before he left."

Williams, who has been Brooks' top assistant for many years, said that Vital Class trained well all week and did everything right in the gates and on the track.

"This is a big thrill for us," said Williams.

Owner Scharbauer, who is better known for his connections to the great Thoroughbred Alysheba, bred Vital Class at his ranch in Midland, Texas.

"He's been a nice colt ever since he was a two-year-old and he ran his heart out today," said Scharbauer.

"He's out of one of the best mares (Vital Link) I ever raised," he added.

The first place check in the Silver Cup was worth $45,316 to Scharbauer who also picked up $2,718 for Pullasix's seventh place finish.

Vital Class finished a neck behind fasted qualifier Dash Master Miss in the May 28 trials, but was sent off at six to one odds compared to even-money favorite Dash Master Miss who finished sixth.

Vital Class has now won seven of 20 career starts with earning of $175,160.

Fortune Of Delight rallied late along the rail to edge out Design Express by three quarters of a length for the place.

Fortune Of Delight, ridden by Jerry Rodriguez, won the first of two trial divisions and qualified with the second fastest time. The Richard Fry-trainee earned $15,407 for owner Gwendolyn Eaves of Midland, Texas.

The four-year-old Texas-bred daughter of Six Fortunes most recently ran fourth in the Alameda Handicap in Albuquerque.

Design Express was the ninth fastest qualifier in the field of 10 after making her 1993 debut in the trials. The four-year-old Merridoc filly closed late on the outside of the track to beat Shes Gotcha by a head for the show position.

The Brooks-trained filly earned $9,053 for owner Fletcher of Lakin, Kansas. Todd Fincher was aboard.

Vital Class and jockey Kenneth Hart won the Grade I $90,632 Rainbow Silver Cup by an impressive two and a quarter lengths Sunday at Ruidoso Downs. The four-year-old son of Easily Smashed covered the 440 yards in 22.13 seconds. The Jack Brooks-trained colt is owned by Clarence Scharbauer Jr. of Midland, Texas.

Malice In Dallas romps over the finish line first

The consistent gelding Malice In Dallas broke on top and led from start-to-finish for an easy two and a quarter length score in the $3,300 allowance feature Friday at Ruidoso Downs.

Malice In Dallas was sent off the 3-5 favorite in the 400-yard dash and did not disappoint his backers as he was never threatened at any point of the race.

Incas Gold finished a half-length in front of Stoney River to reserve the place position. The time for the race was a speedy :19.90.

The gray California-bred gelding by On A High made his first start at Ruidoso this year after finishing a nose behind Royal Down Dash in the Grade II West Texas Derby at Sunland Park in April.

Malice In Dallas has won only two of 11 career starts, but finished in the money in eight of those outings with earnings of $21,000 for owner Howard Moore.

Joe Martinez was the winning rider.

Chelsey's Weave set a blazing early pace and held off a late challenge from Oyster Bay for a wire-to-wire win in the $3,600 allowance feature Thursday at Ruidoso Downs.

The three-year-old daughter of Rougemont had a half-length lead along the back stretch in the six furlong spring, then increased her advantage to a length at the top of the stretch.

Under a strong handling by jockey Flavio Martinez, Chelsey's Weave outfinished Oyster Bay and held on for a and a half length score.

Chelsey's Weave set early fractions of :21.2 and :43.3 behind a stiff tailwind on the backstretch and stopped the timer in an excellent final time of 1:10.2.

Oyster Bay ran a strong second with Western Hero third.

Arts and Crafts Festival planned for this weekend

The first Arts and Crafts Festival of Ruidoso will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 12, and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, June 13, in the Ruidoso Civic Events Center.

More than 150 artists and crafts people will fill the main exhibit hall and foyer with original art, limited edition prints and handcrafted items. There is no admission charge.

Mel Prather, organizer for the festival, said booths to the show have been full for several months.

"We're pleased with both the quality and variety of individuals applying for booth space," said Prather in a news release.

"Artists such as Kenneth Wyatt of Tulia, Texas, and David Brownlow of Fort Worth will be representative of the artists on hand," he said.

"In addition, there will be a good variety of well-known crafters," he continued. "They will be featuring everything from dried floral arrangements and wreaths to original crystal jewelry."

Prather said participants will offer original clothing, pottery, stained glass, quilts, cedar chests, tote-painted furniture and wall hangings. Others will exhibit original clay sculpture, tree spirits, antique replicas of antique cars, miniatures and toys.

Also scheduled are crafters with belts, ceramics, bolos, pewter, baby cradles, rocking horses and chairs, soft sculpture and painted porcelain. Potpourri, hair bows, calligraphy, porch swings, patio furniture, original jackets and fishing rod holders will also be available, as well as wind chimes, candy, purses, spice mixes and painted glass.

Rounding out the selection will be Victorian music boxes, painted gourds, 3-D art, tapestry and pens made from more than 40 exotic woods.

The Dreamer

Weather spirits match their moods to the months

Typical June Weather Begins Right on Time

It is remarkable to see how each month here in the mountain land begins to show its colors, its flavor and its general character right on the first day or two. This time the June weather took a running start with a temperature of 100 degrees on May 31.

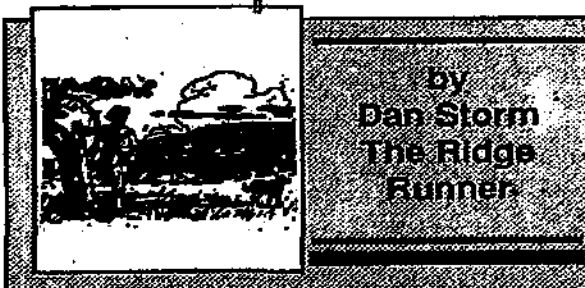

Today, June 2, began like a storybook June day — sunny and mild, with the warm, still air fragrant with the mingled fragrance of trees in full leaf and pison resin baked out of the bark with the warm sun of the day before.

The sky above was the deep, pure blue famous in song and story about June days. For many of the days during the last week or 10 days of May, the sky was filled with drifting thunder clouds, and the voice of the thunder could be heard among the purple clouds over the hills. Today not a single cloud has been in sight, and now it is late afternoon.

About midmorning the breeze began to be warmer. As the heat increased, so did the wind, so that at one o'clock the temperature was 100 degrees; and the wind was blowing straight down from the mountain, carrying a cool breath from the snow that you can still see shining on high. So it was that — in spite of the warm temperature — you felt cool, especially in the shade of the river trees.

Dry Valley

The vale has been dry this spring, while the snow on the mountain has stayed up there longer than usual in the late spring. Now the picture becomes clearer: there was unusually heavy snow on the mountain, while here in the valley the snow was very light. Therefore, you have the picture of a river full of snow-melt water running through a dry valley.

And the river is a beautiful sight singing along under the river trees while the cows rest under the high shade listening to the lullaby of the leaves overhead and the river's song of the snow. How grateful we are for the river and the cool breath off the mountain in dry June! Together they bring us perfect days. No wonder the ancient Apaches called Sierra Blanca their "Sacred Mountain."

June Moon

Now the sun has gone behind the hill; and suddenly the wind stops, just as if the weather spirits turned off the wind hydrant. And all the vale is quiet and still except for the evening song of the robin and dove. Cool air seems to drift down from the sky.

Now while the pale sunset colors are still lighting up the western sky, here is the golden moon almost full just over Sunrise Mountain. It sends an airy path of pure golden light all down over the tops of the cedar and pison trees on the hill.

A few minutes later it clears the hill top; and all around this shining golden ball, seeming so close, over the hill is a wreath of rainbow light — green next to the moon and purple at the larger outer circle — a special June moon with a cheerful message that uplifts your heart here in the gathering dusk at the close of a perfect day in June.

A Gold Day in June

Here we are in midmorning of June 3, with a light western breeze blowing down the vale singing a song of melting snow on the mountain and carrying a cool wave from the mountain top. The river, still colored golden amber from the snow-melt hums along under the leafy tunnel formed by the over-hanging branches of walnut, oak, box elder, wild cherry and giant willow and cottonwood.

The winding river, very strong and full for this time of year, together with the unusually heavy leaf growth of this year, adds a cooling touch to the wind as it sings through the valley on its way down from Sierra Blanca.

With bright sunshine and cool breeze, the weather spirits have brought us a day that makes your heart beat high with the pride and joy of life and gratefulness to Our Lord for all His blessings.

Friends Gathered at Ceremony

At the Veterans Ceremony on Memorial Day it was good to visit with many friends. I was pleased to see Lloyd P. Bloodworth Jr. whose father Lloyd Sr. and his mother Ida, established The Ruidoso News in 1946. Lloyd Jr. is recovering from heart surgery and doing fine. Lloyd Jr. and his wife, Nancy, have a fond spot in their heart for Ruidoso.

James and Dorothy Goodwin of Shreveport, Louisiana, told me that they subscribe to The Ruidoso News and read "The Dreamer" and the "Silver Lining" and had looked forward to become acquainted with me.

The Goodwins love Ruidoso and come up every year. It was an honor to meet James and Dorothy Goodwin, and I thank them for their kind words.

Let us thank God for friend, love ones, a beautiful month of June and all our other many blessings.

Check out summer fun at the library

Kids in Ruidoso surely aren't tempted to say, "There's nothing to do." Summer is a busy time for area youngsters who have plenty of choices when it comes to sports and outdoor recreation.

The fun begins at one end of town and continues into the forest with amusement parks, horseback riding, the municipal swimming pool, miniature golfing and more. Summer sports include T-ball, softball and baseball, enhanced with sports camps for volleyball, basketball and fitness.

But, don't forget the library when you're planning a summer of fun.

Today's the day that signups begin for the Quest for Enchantment summer reading program. Stop in and register for a program that encourages children to read, a skill that can enhance the quality of life for anyone at any age.

Besides the reading program, the library offers classes, special activities and even a weekly family movie on every Thursday.

Some of the classes include health and beauty for teens, beginning French, enchanting fairy tales, youthful theater, in my own backyard, book buddies, beginning Spanish and star wizards. Readers will have a chance to get a head start on next year's "battle of the books," with some practice sessions in a new reading club.

Classes, most taught by volunteers, are for preschoolers through teens and many of them are free. If there is a charge, it is always minimal, just to cover cost of materials.

To learn more about classes and the "Treasure Reading" program, call Ingrid Schmitz at the library, 257-4335. Then, head on over to the library on Suderth Drive and check out the summer fun.

Fire spreads fear through neighborhood

The frantic knocking of our neighbor, Becky Vogt, on our front door and one dreaded word took me away from my typewriter.

Fire! The woods in the canyon next to our house were on fire, and the south wind was blowing it in our direction. Time: 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 1.

In what seemed like hours, but in reality were only moments, we were told that if the fire wasn't contained, we would have to prepare for evacuation.

That is another word that sends chills down your spine. What do you take with you other than the family pet? Pictures? Clothing? Mementos collected through the years from raising six children? What should go in the car first?

As we pondered this awesome task between taking turns peering down the canyon to check on the fire's progress, we could see many firefighters at work. With shovels and fire hoses filled with foam or "wet water" as the Hot Shots call it, the fire was quickly being contained.

Virgil Reynolds, Ruidoso fire chief, who was already on the scene with his crew, said that about one acre was burned.

Thanks to the cooperation of the Bonita Fire Department, a truck from Ruidoso Downs and Smokey Bear Hot Shots, it didn't spread.

Two homes closer than mine were not even smoke damaged, thanks to the quick action of the firemen. Several trees were burned, and two snags (dead trees) had to be taken down by Charlie Miller.

"If a fire is up high in a snag, the wind will throw sparks even to a live tree," Miller commented as he efficiently took down the two.

From the first call by Vogt, the time for containment was only about 30 minutes.

The mop-up operation took longer as dirt is turned under to extinguish the smoldering embers.

L.E. Rush, another neighbor who had just come into town from Odessa, and whose house was even closer than ours, said of the 40 dedicated men and women, "They did very good work."

After the initial panic had subsided, questions came. How did the fire start?

The fire originated by a tree house where children often play. A word of caution to all parents is in order.

"Our woods are very, very dry even though we had rain this past week; and it only takes a spark," commented Sam Murray and chorused by all the other fire personnel.

Three big engines which supply 500 gallons of water a minute were called to supply water to the 250-gallon mini-pumpers. Time is of the essence. A call for help is relayed to the fire crew via pagers. In this case the call came quicker than the scanner which is at Lookout Tower.

If you suspect a fire, don't hesitate to call the following number: for Angus, Alto and Bonito, 258-5608; Mescalero, 671-4511; Capitán, 354-2909; Ruidoso, 257-9111; and Ruidoso Downs, 378-4001.

To report a forest fire, call 671-4410. Don't assume that someone else has already called.

If Vogt had not called in, the fire might have consumed the two homes on Racquet Drive. As it was, the fire was contained within 30 yards of the dwelling.

"It would have been another Mayhill fire right here if we weren't able to contain it," Miller states with certainty.

The mementos have been returned to the cedar chest, the pictures rehung, and a grateful heart wants to thank all those who risk their life for others by putting out fires that their fellow man carelessly sets.

On the Issues

A Four-part Series

On the Issues, a provocative four-part series hosted by NBC News veteran John Chancellor, goes beyond the headlines to probe the bottom-line pressures and ethical dilemmas that are driving corporate America and the nation's economy.

Each one-hour program brings together a cast of individuals from U.S. senators to corporate CEOs, and from consumer advocates to media celebrities, to consider a hypothetical scenario that provokes candid, engaging, and at times startling discussion.

The series premieres with "Washington Under the Influence." Some claim that power and influence can be bought. Others feel that business is often the target of unjust reprimand. The panel follows the trail of lobbyists, press leaks, and PAC money as a corporation faces Senate hearings following allegations that the company's popular product causes injury.

In "Sexual Politics at Work," the second program, a panel engages in a discussion of sexual harassment and the role of business as arbitrator between the sexes.

"Battles in the Boardroom" and "Products on Trial," programs three and four respectively, give viewers insight into decisions that are usually made behind closed doors — decisions that affect stock values, consumer prices, unemployment, and product safety.

On the Issues will air Fridays at 9:00 p.m. beginning June 11th on KENW-TV.

George Marshall and the American Century

George Marshall, who led the Allied victory in World War II and created the Marshall Plan to rebuild Europe after the war, has remained an almost forgotten hero of the 20th century. He is the subject of a 90-minute documentary, George Marshall and the American Century.

The documentary traces the remarkable drama of the world's only soldier to receive the Nobel Peace Prize — a powerful yet modest patriot who served as Chief of Staff of the U.S. Army, Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, and as President of the American Red Cross.

Ironically, Marshall had considered quitting his military career when after 16 years of service he had risen only to the rank of first lieutenant. Then came America's involvement in World War I, when Marshall was promoted to captain. As Chief of Operations under Gen. John J. Pershing, Commander of the American forces in Europe, Marshall helped plan the great American offensive, including the unprecedented logistical feat of moving 220,000 French troops, 600,000 Americans, 3,000 big guns, and 900,000 tons of supplies — all in secrecy. FDR elevated Marshall to the position of army Chief of Staff.

George Marshall and the American Century will be broadcast Tuesday, June 8th at 10:30 p.m.

Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, New Mexico
