Spencer tosses his hat in the ring for state land office

Two-term Lincoln County Commissioner Stirling T. Spencer has announced his bid to seek election to the post of New Mexico Land Commissioner.

The Republican, who has background in ranching and farming, oil and gas production, government and engineering, contends he would bring a balanced approach to the office.

Owner of the Bar W ranch near Carrizozo, Spencer previously submitted his name for consideration by Democratic Governor Bruce King when Jim Baca resigned from the position earlier this year to take over the Bureau of Land Management. King appointed Ray Powell Jr., a Democrat.

Lodgers tax boards to meet on Tuesday

Area lodgers tax boards are scheduled to meet early next week to review funds received and discuss possible requests for funding.

The Ruidoso Downs Lodgers Tax Advisory Board is set to meet at 5:30 p.m. Monday at the Downs fire station. No agenda is available yet for the meeting.

Ruidoso will have its regular lodgers tax advisory committee meeting at 3 p.m. Tuesday at village hall. Two items are on the agenda at this time. The Lincoln County Rural Economic Development through Tourism group will request funds for a county-wide map of attractions.

Ruidoso Downs raises purses

Ruidoso Downs' purses will increase an additional $150 per race this Thursday in addition to a $200 boost announced last week.

The $350 total increase for all overnight races is the first time in three years that the track was able to raise purses after the start of the meet, according to General Manager Max Johnson.

"Our daily on-track average handle is up 6 percent and we are also up considerably in off-track handle from the daily simulcasts to Albuquerque and Santa Fe," said Johnson.

Schools offer a deal on tickets

To ensure the price of a ticket doesn't keep anyone away from Warrior games, admission charges will go down this year.

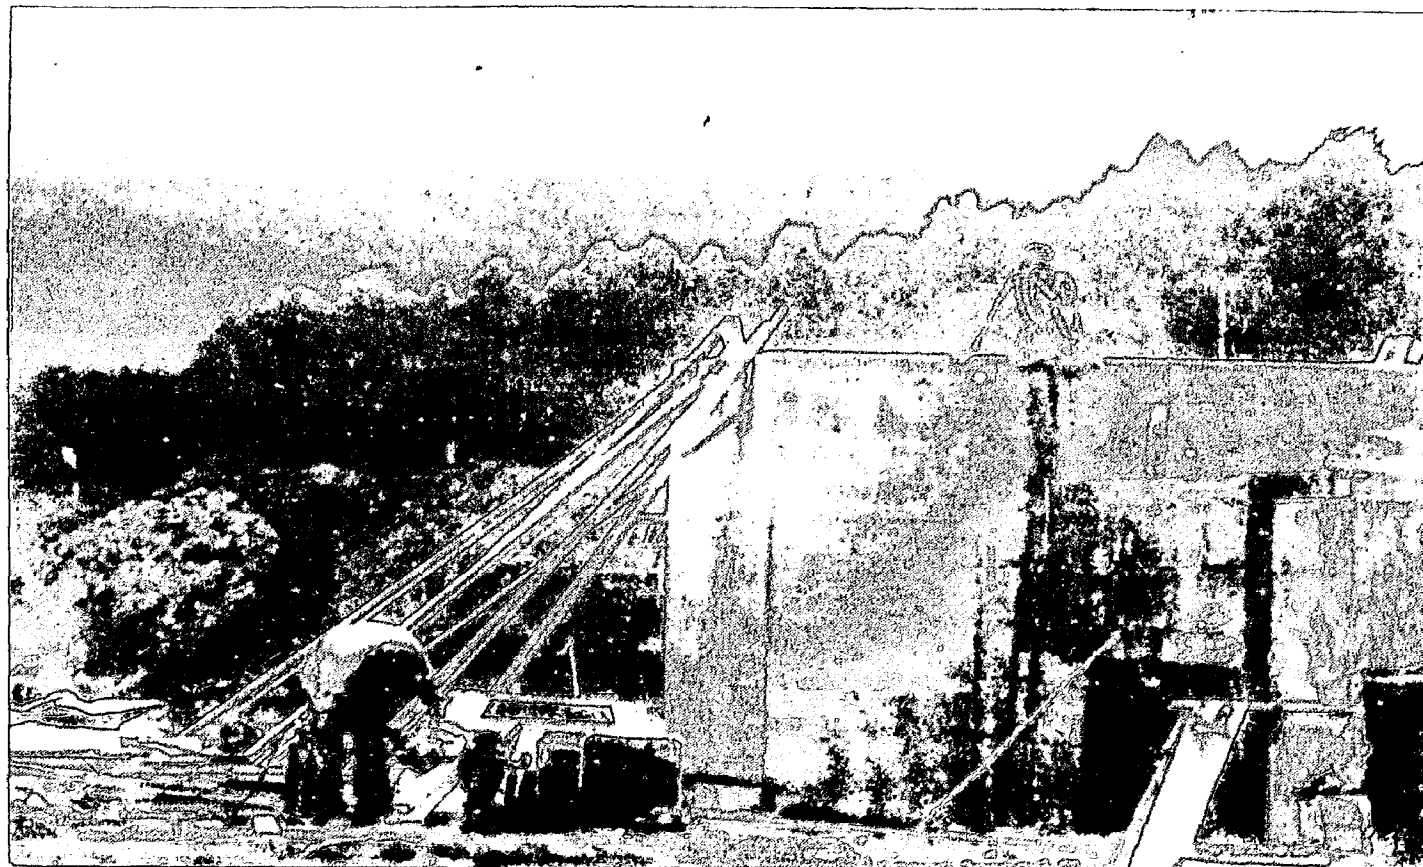

The Ruidoso School Board Tuesday congratulated athletic coordinator Juan Baca and Superintendent Mike Gladden for coming up with lower prices for season passes and special deals for students.

Family season passes will be the best deal around at a reduced price of $50 instead of $85.

"We sold 20 last year and we're hoping to sell a lot more at $50," Baca said.

With the purchase of one reserve seat season football ticket, a family pass may be purchased for $40 and with the purchase of two reserve

Council puts new lawyer right to work

by FRANKIE JARRELL
Ruidoso News Editor

H. John Underwood, a former member of the Ruidoso Village Council and its former village attorney, is back in the "hot seat" as legal adviser to the Ruidoso Village Council.

Underwood, who also serves as state representative for this district, took his place Tuesday as the village lawyer after the council unanimously endorsed his selection by the village committee that rated proposals and interviewed candidates.

After Underwood was sworn in by village clerk as Tammy Maddox he took his place as legal adviser for Tuesday's meeting, and said he felt right at home returning to his old job.

Four lawfirms made proposals on a request by the village, and Underwood's firm of Underline, Ltd. was the top choice. Other proposers were Don Dutton of Dutton, Griffin, Stevens and Haranson, Ltd.; J. Robert Beauvais, P.A.; and David

A. Thomsen, attorney at law.

A committee consisting of Mayor Jerry Shaw, village manager Ron Wicker, village clerk Tammy Maddox and personnel department clerk Terri Ward rated the proposals using a 100-point scale giving 25 points each to four different areas:

—25 points allowed for yearly rate of routine legal services;

—25 points allowed for yearly rate of additional legal services;

—25 points allowed for experience as legal counsel for local government (applies to lead attorney only);

—25 points allowed for office facilities and support staff.

Underwood was given a rating of 380, with Dutton next at 354, Beauvais at 352 and Thomsen next with 280 points.

While price isn't the primary consideration when rating proposals for professional services, in this case the successful proposer also was the overall low bidder.

COUNCILOR BARBARA DUFF

Underwood's proposal is for a yearly rate for routine legal services (624 hours) of $36,000. The hourly rate for additional legal services is $70, with no additional charge for out-of-town trips.

Underwood, who will be backed up in this job by his partner, Mike Line, listed his background in local government as beginning in 1979, when he served as the attorney for the village of Old Mesilla, and continuing in Ruidoso and as Captain's village lawyer.

Underwood was elected to the Ruidoso Village Council in 1984, and resigned May 1, 1985, when he took the job of village adviser. During his term as village legal adviser, from May 1985 to 1990, he worked on a series of lawsuits, overseeing the legal department during the busiest time in this village's history.

That period was a costly one for the village, with several cases making their way through the court system, and the village attorney having to spend an unprecedented amount of time in court.

Underwood also was the village attorney who drafted the golf course and hotel site leases on the old airport site. He led the village through the legal morass of putting together and adopting the new master plan, and worked with an alphabet soup of federal agencies who were in partnership with the village and county in developing and financing the multi-million dollar Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

Beauvais' yearly routine services rate came to $36,691 for 624 hours. His hourly rate for additional legal services was $60 per hour, with a $60 per hour rate for out-of-town travel.

Beauvais, who had 14 years of experience in government before entering private practice, is the former county attorney, and still serves as legal adviser to the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority and the villages of Capitán, Ruidoso Downs and Corona. He represents Eagle Creek Inter-Community Water Supply Association, Inc. and Capitán-Carrizozo Natural Gas Association.

Thomsen's yearly rate for legal services, figured on 624 hours, was $37,440. His hourly rate for additional services and out-of-town travel was listed at $60.

Thomsen was Ruidoso's village attorney, hired to fill the staff position when the legal services were moved into the village operations as a staff position. He resigned that post, but has been finishing off those responsibilities consulting on litigation that began before his resignation.

Thomsen has experience as city attorney for Farmington and Alamogordo, and has done projects for the Village of Ruidoso and Eagle Creek Inter-Community Water Supply Association.

Dutton's firm offered a yearly rate for routine legal services, 624 hours, of $40,000, with a phased hourly rate of $90 and $65 for additional legal services. Dutton proposed half of the hourly rate for out-of-town trips.

Dutton has served as village attorney for the villages of Ruidoso Downs and Capitán, as well as the town of Carrizozo. He was assistant village attorney for Ruidoso from 1984-90.

Dutton offered his entire firm as backup, listing Lee Griffin, a former assistant attorney general representing the New Mexico Municipal League, as his first-line backup.

The final contract, which is being hammered out now with Underwood, is for a one-year period.

The council authorized Mayor Shaw to sign the final document, and put Underwood right to work.

"Sworn in first and sworn at later," said Underwood before raising

Civic center rules revised

by FRANKIE JARRELL
Ruidoso News Editor

Shopkeepers complained last month that the kinds of events being booked into the Ruidoso Civic Events Center are hurting their business, and a new policy presented to the Ruidoso Village Council Tuesday is designed to take care of that problem.

Don Dutton, chairman of a committee that drafted a proposed policy, reminded the council that the center is the village's public building.

"You have the right to place reasonable restrictions on it," said Dutton.

He detailed the kinds of restrictions that he, civic center director Kathleen Michelena and Planning and Zoning Chairman Robert Donaldson designed.

The council didn't act on the committee recommendations Tuesday, but voted to publicize the plan and schedule further discussions for the September 14 meeting. That's when the public will have a chance to speak out on the policy.

The committee was instructed to take a look at the booking policies after business owners told the council that a string of arts and crafts festivals had cut into the local economy.

Dutton said it may have seemed that there was an arts and crafts fair every weekend, but in truth there had been only three such fairs with two more scheduled.

Dutton's document laid out the statement of purpose for the center, which responded specifically to the local merchants' complaints.

The Ruidoso Civic Event Center is to be used primarily to bring people to Ruidoso and Lincoln County, reads the statement of purpose.

Rental of the facility should be for the benefit of Ruidoso's private citizens, business community and governmental entity. Events should not be scheduled which may be detrimental to the economic health and welfare of the village, it continues.

Dutton and his committee are recommending the center name be changed to Civic Event and Convention Center, but Mayor Jerry Shaw and Councilor J.D. James said the word "convention" had al-

H. John Underwood, sworn in Tuesday as the Village of Ruidoso's contract attorney, reviews some paperwork during that same meeting at village hall. Underwood is a former village councilor, one-time village legal adviser and serves as state representative from this district.

Mayor Jerry Shaw and Councilor Bill Karn discuss the intent of a 1992 ordinance setting current rates of pay for elected officials. Karn, who makes $250 a month, was pushing for the new mayor to take a cut in pay from the $500 in place at the time of her election to the $250 drawn by former mayor Victor Alonso.

ways been in the name.

They recalled that the original plans were for a convention center, not community center. They said it was important that it serve tourists and visitors for the village to have qualified for state funding.

"A name, is a name is a name," said Dutton. He and the council seemed to agree that the name used is very important to the future of the center.

Dutton also stressed that operational decisions should be left in the hands of the director, and his committee endorsed the current operational policies.

But, they went on to line out a priorities schedule with a simple appeals process, with conventions getting top priority.

Next will be trade shows/exhibitions, then conferences/special events, next local non-profit organization and then others.

The director will categorize and make the scheduling decisions, with an appeals process directly to the Village Council in cases when an event is turned down or bumped.

The committee also provided definitions for convention, conference and so forth that should help simplify the job of categorizing and prioritizing center scheduling requests.

Dutton said he and his committee drafted a plan to provide support for village business using reasonable restrictions.

Also Tuesday, in other discussions over municipal property, the council voted unanimously to keep Wingfield Park (the old Hall property) to be used for parks and recreation or some other village purpose.

Councilor Bill Karn made the motion, seconded by Councilor Joe Gomez, and it passed with all ayes.

Wingfield Park, acquired through a close to quarter of a million dollar court settlement, is downstream from the Grindstone Dam. A previous council designated it as a park, and the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board conducted a contest to give its new park a name, with the winning name being Wingfield Park.

The park, which includes a rolling grassy lawn, a creek and a log cabin that was in perfect condition at the time of the acquisition, has since been used to store pipes and old materials and has fallen into disrepair.

About a year ago, the council voted to have the park appraised and sell it, using the proceeds for recreation. It appraised for just over half of what it cost, and Mayor Shaw said Tuesday she and the council didn't see any reason to dispose of it at that low appraisal.

Even though Wingfield Park has been set aside as a park, the council may have opened the door for a change in use with Karn's motion that called for retaining it for "parks and recreation or any other village use."

In other regular business Tuesday, the council:

—Corrected typographical errors in an ordinance increasing village sewer rates by $2 a month. In the same ordinance, the council approved increasing the residential water deposit by $10 to $60.

Accounting department head Leean Boswell said that increase brings the customer deposit up to a level where it would cover an average two-month bill.

Councilor Karn voted against the motion, mainly because he wants to lower water rates. He questioned why the council has increased the sewer rate twice ($2 each time) to make up for a past practice of subsidizing the sewer fund with big profits from the water fund, and yet water rates haven't been decreased.

If the profits from the water fund supported the sewer fund for so long, Karn apparently wants to know what is happening to that extra money now that sewer rates have been increased.

—Approved a vacation of right of way on Embury Drive.

—Canceled the August 31 meeting because five or six members of the council will be attending a meeting of the New Mexico Municipal League. The council scheduled a special meeting for 10 a.m. Tuesday, August 17, in conjunction with a previously scheduled workshop session.

—Eliminated the 6 p.m. study sessions preceding regular council meetings.

—Heard Mayor Shaw report that she and village deputy manager Alan Briley had attended a Municipal League resolutions meeting. Briley said the league has drafted 29 resolutions to take before the State Legislature.

—Heard village manager Ron Wicker report that the rains have caused some drainage and water problems. He asked the council to direct complaints to him and Briley for them to handle. Even though not all problems are easily repaired, Wicker said he wants to hear about them.

—Approved the consent agenda in total, but not before Councilor Barbara Duff tried to remove one item from that list so it could be discussed during the meeting. Her fellow councilors split on whether or not to take an item off the consent agenda for discussion, and Mayor Shaw broke the tie with a "no."

Duff had something to say about a request to approve out-of-state travel for the airport manager. Another travel item on the consent agenda was to approve out-of-state travel for the new parks and rec director.

Airport manager Lloyd Wayne gained council approval, through that consent agenda vote, to travel to California and review surplus material being sold by the U.S. government. The approval didn't go a step further, giving Wayne permission to purchase used materials at that federal "garage sale," and his request didn't say what kind of used equipment he's shopping for, and it didn't indicate how where in California he's going or how much it will cost.

The new parks and rec director is going to San Jose, California, where she's on the program for the National Recreation and Parks Association Congress.

"Not to brag, but the Village of Ruidoso should be commended on the fact that I am one of a handful of recreation professionals in my position who is a female and Hispanic," wrote parks and rec director Debbie Jo Almager in her request. "I am very proud of that fact and my goal is to have Ruidoso known nationally as a leader in recreation."

Almager said the village will "benefit greatly" from her attending this meeting each year, but she didn't describe what those benefits will be.

She estimated her five-day trip will cost $648.

The council, also as part of the consent agenda, set a public hearing for September 14, to re-dedicate the Environmental Gross Receipts tax.

Attorney to village council: leave your pay as is

by FRANKIE JARRELL
Ruidoso News Editor

Elected officials in New Mexico can't give themselves a pay increase, and that means they can't cut their own pay either, according to village attorney H. John Underwood.

Resignations and appointments to the current Ruidoso Village Council have complicated a simple pay increase ordinance passed by a former council. The intent of that ordinance, passed in 1992, was that all future elected officials would be paid at the rate of $500 a month.

But, the ordinance's wording was interpreted by some to tie pay to a particular term of office, not a person serving out that term.

Mayor Jerry Shaw and her council, in an attempt to take care of what seemed to be a glitch in that ordinance, offered an amendment Tuesday, but their brand new attorney recommended they turn down that change, leaving the ordinance alone.

The council agreed, and the end result of not amending that ordinance is that Mayor Jerry Shaw's pay remains at the $500 level in place when she was elected.

Appointed Councilor Joe Gomez, who filled Shaw's place when she was named mayor, also will be paid at that $500 rate.

But appointed Councilor Frank Potter will be paid $250 a month—the same rate as Councilor Ron Andrews, whose office Potter filled after Andrews resigned.

The unequal pay began with the first election after Mayor Victor Alonso and his council passed an ordinance increasing council and mayor pay from $250 a month to $500 a month.

The mayor and councilors in office then stayed at the old rate and the newly-elected officials—Shaw, J.D. James and Frank Cummins—came on at the new rate of $500.

Pay for the rest of the council, and the mayor, would have caught up on its own at the next regular election, but the process was disrupted with the resignations of Mayor Alonso and Councilor Andrews.

The amendment would have brought all pay up to the $500 level, meeting the intent of the law, but Underwood said, in his opinion, Potter's pay was stuck at the Andrews' level.

Since Shaw was elected by the people at the $500, and since the Constitution and an AG's opinion don't allow a council to lower its own pay, her rate should remain rather than drop back to Mayor Alonso's pay, explained Underwood.

Gomez was appointed to a $500 slot, and that's where his pay should stay, according to Underwood's legal opinion.

Councilor Bill Karn, who is stuck at the old $250 rate, questioned Underwood, noting that he believes pay is tied to position. Karn apparently wanted Shaw's pay to be cut back to the Alonso level, but Underwood was firm—a mayor and council can't increase or decrease their own pay, so Shaw's pay should stay right where it was when she was elected, even though she has taken on a new job as mayor.

"There is an apple and an orange here," said Underwood, noting that you have terms of office on one hand and you have the fact that an individual was elected on the other hand.

"The intent was that anyone elected after 1992 would have benefit of that raise," said Underwood.

The council agreed, with Councilor Cummins offering a motion, and James seconding it with the net result of following Underwood's advice.

Now Mayor Shaw and councilors James, Cummins and Gomez make $500 a month, with councilors Karn, Potter and Barbara Duff making $250 a month.

ing his hand to take the oath of office as administered by clerk Maddox.

The council, which just last month made the change from a staff attorney back to a contract attorney, had scheduled a closed session over pending litigation during Tuesday's meeting.

Underwood joined the mayor and councilors in the mayor's office for a conference telephone call with another attorney scheduled as part of that executive session.

Councilor Joe Gomez made the motion to retire into the closed meeting, reading the prepared motion that has been provided by the attorney to comply with the new open meetings act.

After the closed meeting, the council reconvened and approved a motion authorizing the attorney to negotiate with somebody about some lawsuit up to a specific but unnamed amount of money.

The council's new attorney gave the nod of approval when asked about the vague wording of that motion made and voted on in the open meeting.

The attorney also was called into action when the council listened to a lengthy appeal from a village resident whose request for a variance to village setback requirements was turned down by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Bob Hollis said he wants to build a carport into the setbacks to within two feet of his neighbor's property, and offered a letter showing that his neighbor supports his request.

But Hollis, whose garage already extends into the setbacks, doesn't want to ask for his variance under the hardship provision allowed in the village ordinance. He insists that his right was "grandfathered" from the time he bought his house and added on the garage.

Hollis said this carport had been his intent since the house was built in 1947, and the garage was added in 1960.

"I have the right to complete the intent," said Hollis.

"You're making all these laws retroactive," said Hollis. "(You) rolled back and took the rights away that were established in the first ordinance."

But attorney Underwood, asked for his opinion, disagreed with Hollis' interpretation of zoning. Underwood concurred with planner Cleatus Richards and the P&Z in their assessment that the "grandfather clause" covers only structures in place at the time the last zoning ordinance was adopted, not some right tied to the property from the time it was purchased.

Hollis continued to make his case, but in the end—mainly because of the new information he provided with his neighbor's letter—the council opted to bounce the appeal back to P&Z again. Councilor Frank Potter made the motion to send it back, seconded by Councilor Bill Karn, and passed with all "ayes."

Hollis, who had spoken to the council during last month's meeting when he requested the appeal that was heard Tuesday, was disappointed. He also had appeared before P&Z when they turned down his request.

"This will be my fourth time," said Hollis.

season football tickets, a family pass may be purchased for $30.

Adult season passes for all sports are $45.

Student passes will drop $5 to $25 for the year for all sports and elementary student passes will be cut to $15 from $20.

New this year will be a winter sport pass covering basketball and wrestling for $10.

Individual ticket prices will remain essentially the same for varsity football, $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students, except for a designated blue/gold day when students will be given a break.

Students with a 2.0 grade point average or better will receive $1 off the $2 ticket for varsity volleyball, varsity wrestling and varsity basketball if they present a Renaissance card.

Weekday games will be designated as free admission for any student wearing blue and gold.

Athletes will receive an ever bigger bonus by being allowed to enter games for free in their sport.

Other adult ticket prices are $3 for varsity volleyball, varsity basketball and varsity wrestling.

All employees will receive a season pass to athletic events in Ruidoso free of charge and may purchase a season pass for any immediate family members for $5 each.

Midschool contests will be $1 or 50 cents for those on the principal's list, the honor roll, signature list or merit list. Weekday events will be designated free admission for any students wearing blue and white.

Baca also announced that members of the football team should show up at the high school field at 3 p.m. Saturday, August 14, for photographs and cheerleaders should be there at 4:30 p.m.

Council considers cutting ties with two committees

A workshop Tuesday morning on the procurement and purchasing codes of the state and village, led to more discussions Tuesday night on freeing two village committees to operate as independent organizations.

During that purchasing workshop, discussions turned to village boards, such as the Arts and Film Commission and the Transportation Board.

It was noted that both those boards operate as free agents, but the arts group has used the village finance department causing a possible problem with accountability.

Leean Boswell, finance department head, told the council, during the workshop session, that she doesn't have the staff to work with groups like the Arts and Film Commission, and without overseeing the finances, the village can't maintain its standards of accountability.

During Tuesday's council meeting, Mayor Jerry Shaw said that those two committees don't meet at village hall and don't work with a staff person as liaison. She said the village can endorse their purposes, but free them to operate as independent boards rather than village entities.

The other alternative, if procurement codes are to be followed, would be to provide a staff person to work with them.

Since Boswell doesn't have any one she can spare, that would require hiring a new employee, said Shaw.

The Transportation Board, apparently is involved in a couple of studies, but hasn't been meeting at village hall and hasn't reported to the mayor and council.

Councilor Frank Potter said if a village board is out there conducting transportation studies, then the village council should be informed.

After discussions on the future of the Arts and Film Commission and the Transportation Board, the council set a public hearing for September 14, to take action to remove them from the village or bring them into conformity.

Most of the procurement code discussions occurred during the morning workshop which Councilor Bill Karn missed. He tried to catch up on Tuesday night by asking questions about discussions and materials from the session he skipped.

Put on notice that the Ruidoso Village Council is considering cutting the Arts and Film Commission loose, member Jerry Perry was present to report on the group's accomplishments.

Perry, a member of the commission, presented the council with a packet of materials, and reported on a series of events that he characterized as successful in spite of low attendance.

"It probably takes three years to really get cranking," said Perry.

He also read a letter from Gerard Martinez of the New Mexico Arts Division. In returning a tape to the Arts and Film Commission, Martinez wrote that, according to the written reports and telephone conversations, the group's events "appeared to be successful" and "appeared to benefit many."

Later in the meeting, Rhonda Brown, representing the Arts and Film Commission, attempted to make a case for why that group should remain a village commission, rather than operate as an independent group.

Brown, speaking on behalf of the Arts and Film Commission Tuesday night, said her group doesn't handle any money. Boswell had described receipts from ticket sales in her presentation, but Brown wasn't familiar with that.

Councilor J.D. James said that Boswell had told the council of $2,000 brought in and handed to her (by the Arts and Film Commission). James said Boswell told the council it wasn't properly documented. It was described as from ticket sales, but the tickets were printed without numbers, so there was not an audit trail.

"It caused a lot of trouble," said James.

"It's just the accountability," added Shaw.

Brown went on to say that it's easier to obtain grants as a village group, and added that it takes two years to get a 501-C3 designation to be non-profit. She said it's very expensive, too.

Mayor Shaw asked why the commission couldn't work with a related group, the Friends of Music, a non-profit corporation which sponsors concerts and has obtained village lodgers tax funds to promote those events.

Brown said she wasn't familiar with that group, and Councilor Barbara Duff added that she didn't know about it either. Friends of Music founders, Paul and Barbara Westbrook, were in the audience, but didn't volunteer information on the Friends of Music.

In other business relating to boards and commissions, the mayor appointed Councilor J.D. James and herself to the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority, replacing former councilor Ron Andrews and Alonso appointee Dave Dale.

Shaw said with the major decisions before that authority right now, she wants to be sure the village is well-represented by elected officials.

She also appointed Councilor Frank Potter to the Eagle Creek Inter-Community Water Board.

All three appointments were unanimously endorsed by the council.

Councilor Frank Potter stresses the importance of state procurement codes.

Downs calls for bids on new village hall

by KRISTIE SAATMANN
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Ruidoso Downs trustees quickly dispensed with business, including the approval to go out to bid on a new village hall, during a regular meeting Monday.

Trustees were elated to be able to take this step forward in getting a village hall, but Mayor Joe Hayhurst said they still have to wait for word from Santa Fe on the $200,000 they received in the last legislative session. Going out for bids now will allow them to be ready when the money becomes available, he said.

The village is renting a modular building now and would like to get into a permanent building as soon as possible, after renting for about three years. The modular also houses the police department, which would make the move, too.

The new village hall would be placed on the lot on U.S. Highway 70 where the old village hall was torn down in 1991 because of a problem with a sewage leak.

In other general business, trustees awarded a bid for a new backhoe to Rust Tractor of El Paso, Texas, who had the lowest monthly rate and did not require another payment for 16 months. Four bids were received to replace the 12-year-old backhoe the maintenance department is using now.

Trustees approved a request by citizen Delbert Posey to close an alley between Harris and Wright streets, which his neighbors also would like. The alley has never had a utility right of way and it is not owned by any one.

Code enforcement officer Tom Armstrong said there would be no problem in closing it because right now people dump trash in it.

Police chief Will Hoggard agreed that it would not interfere with his department either.

Posey will now move his fence 10 feet to the east so the back yards of the two properties meet.

The street department will no longer maintain the lower one-third of Palo Verde but will still have the right of way. Mayor Hayhurst said the road requires a lot of dirt and gravel, which the rain has washed down the street and onto the highway.

No one lives in that section, while others have access out in another direction.

The group selected the price quote from Tuff Shed to supply a building to house radio equipment for the Downs police department. Another quote was $125 more and a local builder did not respond.

Chief Hoggard said the equipment has been loaned to the department indefinitely by a governmental agency. He said it is equipment they couldn't have afforded to buy themselves.

"This should get us on line for the next 10 to 15 years. We won't have to do anything major to it, just update it," Hoggard said.

He also told the board that another class has begun for the reserve officer program. The first class graduated in the spring and has been assisting the department since then.

Hoggard said most of the students in the training are either from Ruidoso Downs or work in the village.

Trustee Margie Morales complimented Hoggard and the police department.

"I think Will deserves a pat on the back. I'm glad to see our little police force moving up," she said.

Deputy clerk Marilyn Kite was hired on as a permanent full-time employee after she completed her probationary period for the position.

Mobile home variances were approved for Juan Castillo with a 1963 mobile home and Beatriz Ontivero with a 1980 home. Both will be placed on Second Drive.

A variance is required to allow any trailers more than 10 years old to be moved into the village limits.

Helena McCoy reported to the postmaster and the Ruidoso Police Department that her business box had been broken into when she checked it Monday morning.

Ruidoso police chief Dick Swenor said such a crime has federal penalties, as well as those for the state statute of breaking and entering. He said it was reported that the box had been rifled through, but the boxholder and police are not sure what might be missing.

Postmaster Gordon Rowell said after the local police report is made it is turned over to a postal inspector who also investigates the incident. The box is repairable, but will cost about $25-$50.

Swenor said, although a break-in happens occasionally, it has been about two to three years since the last incident at the post office.

Rowell said he has had only one other case of vandalism in the year he has been here, but if it continues they may have to close the box lobby during the night.

"It would be an inconvenience to our customers, but we have to protect the mail," Rowell said.

If anyone has information about the breakin of the box, they should call the Ruidoso Police Department at 257-7366.

Ruidoso School Board leases new vehicle for district administrative staff travels

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

A new approach to administrative travel is being tried this school year in Ruidoso.

Instead of paying mileage to Superintendent Mike Gladden, special education coordinator Paul Wirth and finance officer Caron Snow for trips to Santa Fe and other travel, the board has decided to lease a vehicle.

"We feel this will be a cost savings to the district," Snow said Tuesday.

But, if it doesn't prove to be, we can turn the car back (to Sierra Blanca Motors) at any time. The lease is contingent on the availability of state and federal money.

Snow said the amount of money budgeted for Gladden's travel last year was about $3,500 and has been cut to $2,000 this year.

"We don't think he will spend that much, but we wanted to be conservative," Snow said. "We had a dire need in this area for years and there is a direct correlation between the cuts in mileage reimbursement and the lease expense."

The vehicle is being leased at $325 a month, Gladden said Tuesday, after a school board meeting.

Four trips to Santa Fe in one month will cover the lease cost in mileage and if the district increases the reimbursement level (from the current 20 cents a mile to 25 cents) it further would justify this approach," Gladden said.

Another car, also under lease to the district, rarely has been available to administrative staff in the past, he said.

Gladden and Snow reported to the board Tuesday about the car lease during a budget adjustment review.

Snow said the board should consider increasing the level of reimbursement for mileage, possibly to the state rate of 25 cents or the IRS allowed rate of 28.5 cents. In line with that, the per diem also should be raised from $50 a day to a more realistic level, she said.

In other business, the school board:

—congratulated White Mountain Intermediate principal Helene Kobelnyk for the facility's designation as a charter school.

Out of 25 schools that applied, 10 were selected to use $5,000 to look for innovative programs," Kobelnyk told the board.

The charter program is managed by the School Program and Professional Development Unit of the State Department of Education.

In her application for the planning grant, Kobelnyk wrote, "We envision our school to be a kind of 'academic oasis' for our students, their last chance to 'catch up' and at the same time, the exciting threshold to their future and their dreams, and it is toward this end that our efforts in restructuring will lead."

—gave permission for radio stations KBUY and KRUI to broadcast Warrior sports games.

Mescalero woman is speaker at nuclear waste protest rally

A Mescalero woman, Rufina Laws, was scheduled to be one of the speakers when Native American groups gathered yesterday in Albuquerque to rally against nuclear waste on Indian lands.

Laws, a member of the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe, is president of Apaches Against Nuclear Waste. She was one of three speakers scheduled for the rally and news conference to protest the U.S. Department of Energy's efforts to store nuclear waste on Indian lands.

Grace Thorpe, a member of the Sac and Fox Tribe of Oklahoma, and the daughter of Olympic medal winner Jim Thorpe, was also scheduled to speak. Thorpe is president of the National Environment Coalition of Native Americans.

Bradley Angel of Greenpeace was the other speaker on the program.

Skeen to visit the home folks

Congressman Joe Skeen (R-NM) will visit the 2nd District during the congressional recess where he'll conduct three town meetings to hear from his constituents.

Skeen will host meetings in Carlsbad, Deming and Alamogordo; and will make stops in other towns, including Ruidoso.

On Tuesday, August 24, Skeen will address the Ruidoso Rotary Club in its noon meeting at the Bull Ring.

Warrior sports teams gear up for great fall seasons

On Monday, the New Mexico Activities Association rules allowed coaches to let the games begin and start practices for fall sports.

The coaches were allowed to have two practices per day until school begins.

Ruidoso High School had four teams, soccer, volleyball, cross country and football, kick off their seasons.

All of the coaches and their teams will prepare for the regular season which starts in a little over two weeks for all of the squads.

Here is the lowdown on the fall teams of RHS.

CROSS COUNTRY

The cross country team is off to a slow start with several of its members still busy with summer time activities, such as the Lincoln County Fair.

Coach Ronny Maskew said they should have a full team of boys and girls out by Monday. The team members will do some standard work the first two weeks of practice to make sure they are in good condition before the first meet in September.

The Brownfield, Texas, meet on September 4 isn't real hilly, Maskew said, and will be a good one for the team to begin with. The team has eight varsity meets this year, including one in October at Ruidoso.

With just three days out of the practice season gone, RHS football coach Mike Gaston already sees some improvement in his team.

"We've come along really well so far," said Gaston. "Better than even I expected."

Gaston said that his team had little problem remembering all of the schemes and plays that they learned during the spring training.

"As far as retention, I've been real impressed. The things they did in the summer and spring really did pay off."

With the reconditioning, comes some injuries, such as sprained ankles, but the Warriors have had minimal setbacks according to the coach.

"We've had a couple of dings, but nothing really major," said Gaston.

Although no team can be completely sure that they are ready, Gaston said that his team will be as ready as it can be in the short period before the opening game of the season on August 27 in Artesia.

"We're asking them to learn a lot of things in a very short period of time," said Gaston. "They've responded well."

To continue that preparation, the Warrior football team will put on their pads for a scrimmage this Saturday at 9 a.m.

SOCCER

Experience may be in the feet of the younger players for the soccer team in its second season at RHS.

The biggest portion of players will be coming from the sophomore class, which was able to flow from league soccer to the high school program. Eight players out of about 18 will be returning from last year.

"We should be fairly strong if it all materializes like we hope it will," said Coach Dean Hood.

The team received the sanction of the New Mexico Activities Association, but will not enter a district until next year. Opponents this year will include Gadsden, Santa Teresa and Oñate who are all beginning a varsity program too. They will also compete with Carlsbad, New Mexico Military Institute, Socorro, Belen and Portales who have established programs.

The soccer squad will get in its first kicks at an all-day scrimmage in Alamogordo on August 28. They will compete against junior varsity squads from Albuquerque, Las Cruces and Alamogordo.

The first match will be September 2 against NMMI here.

"The first games should be pretty interesting," Hood said.

VOLLEYBALL

A lot of familiar faces are gone from the girls volleyball team, but a new group is hard at work to keep the Lady Warriors strong in their district.

"We lost a lot of seniors last year. I don't know where we will be playing everyone yet because we have to fill a lot of positions," Coach Jody Blanton said about the young team.

She said some of the players put in some time practicing this summer, and she is pleased with how they are doing. The first preliminary test of the season will come this weekend when the team participates in a scrimmage in El Paso against the three other El Paso high schools.

The season opener will be the Denver City, Texas, tournament on August 27 and 28. The Lady Warriors did well last year in both the pool play and tournament round.

During practice this week the girls have been doing skill tests, which will help coaches determine who will play on the varsity and junior varsity. The varsity will have eight team members while the JV will have 10 members.

Two young soccer players clash over the ball during a recent practice for the two-year-old soccer program at RHS. Warrior teams have put in a full week to begin preparation for intense competition this fall.

Ruidoso Warrior cheerleaders show off the winning style that earned them a bid to the national cheerleading contest later this year. The group also won several team awards during the camp in Las Cruces including the spirit award, an honor voted on by all squads competing. About 200 girls attended the event.

RHS cheerleaders make nationals

For this second time in as many years the Ruidoso High School cheerleading squad earned a bid to the national cheerleading competition set for December.

The 16-girl team attend a National Cheerleading Association camp July 20-23 at Las Cruces and won the bid along with several other awards.

"I am real pleased with the girls. The judges commented that they have lots of talent and worked good together," said Rebecca Durham, sponsor of the group along with Karen Reader.

The RHS group won the spirit award for the first time by being voted by all squads as the team that added the most to the camp. Durham said it was a real honor for them because their peers made the selection.

During the camp the girls also won three superior ribbons with a cheer they had created and practiced until it became perfect. To be marked as superior the cheer must have no evident mistakes.

The team won the spirit stick twice and then earned the right to take it home on the last day of the camp. The spirit sticks are awarded to squads showing sincere spirit and enthusiasm, promptness, cooperation and leadership among other traits.

Again this year they were just one of two teams to pick up the Safety First Certificate for demonstrating excellent safety standards. They also received the T.E.A.M. award for their teamwork.

The Ruidoso squad was just one of two teams from the camp to receive the bid to nationals which will begin December 27 in Dallas, Texas. Last year the girls placed 62nd out of more than 200 squads at the contest. They hope to make it to the top 40 finals, which would be telecast on national television.

Hanks High School of El Paso, Texas, also qualified for nationals.

Another honor for the Warrior cheer squad was to have one of its members, Jody Randle, named to the All American Cheerleader Team.

"It was a real successful camp for us," Durham said.

The squad has now settled down to regular practices to prepare for the football and volleyball seasons. A new addition this year will be the 10-member junior varsity team who will cheer at JV A and JV B football games this fall.

The group will also begin preparation for the state cheerleading competition and the national contest.

"This is probably the best varsity squad we have ever had. We were great last year, but this year we're even better," Durham said.

ENMU regents to meet here

The Eastern New Mexico University Board of Regents will meet at 2 p.m. Monday, August 16, in the Aspen room of the Swiss Chalet Inn on Mechem Drive in Ruidoso.

Agenda items include approval to submit a request to the commission on Higher Education for the 1994-95 funding of several research and public service projects, the review of a five-year master plan for the ENMU-Roswell campus and an interim deadly weapons policy.

Regents also will act on a two-day operating agreement for the continuance of the ENMU-Ruidoso Instructional Center and review a revised interim family medical leave or absence policy that adheres to recent federal legislation.

JODY RANDLE

Randle is All American

For the first time in Ruidoso High School history, a Warrior cheerleader won a spot on the All American Cheerleader Team at a camp recently.

Jody Randle, a senior this year, was one of five competitors to receive the honor at a camp July 20-23 in Las Cruces. Ten girls tried out for the team by performing a cheer for the 200 participants at the camp.

Randle may now choose to participate in the Aloha Bowl in Hawaii, the Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade or a St. Patrick's Day parade in Ireland. She said she will probably go to the Macy's parade because of the timing.

She also received a National Cheerleading Association jacket and letter patch and a sweat shirt.

The honor will also open doors for Randle to get scholarships at major colleges. Members of the All American team are also eligible to become NCA coaches for camps.

Randle has been a varsity cheerleader at RHS for three years.

The Deadline for the All American Tab is Friday, August 13, 1993.

Area golf courses are endangered by confused drivers, vandals

by GARY CAMPBELL
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Don't drive on the greens could soon become the new rally cry around area golf courses.

The problem comes not in golfers on the course, but in people driving their cars on the courses.

It happens more than one might think.

For example, on Sunday morning, at around 2 a.m. four Mexican nationals, drove onto a cart path on the Cree Meadows Country club.

When the police were called at about 2:30 a.m., the car had come to a stop at a house near the course. The officers followed the tracks and found the four suspects.

"It was like following an elephant in a snow storm," said

Ruidoso Police Chief Richard Swenor. "The tracks were hard to miss."

The officers made the men, who were intoxicated at the time, according to police reports, agree that they would contact the head groundskeeper and pay for the damages done to the course.

The four men reportedly left town without contacting Doyle Gregory, the head groundskeeper at Cree Meadows.

"Our course is just really attractive to people in the early morning," said Cree Meadows' golf pro Kent Beatty.

Gregory said that this case appears to him as more of an accident than most.

"They stayed on the cart path and the only damage they did was when they turned around to get off the course," said Gregory.

Gregory said that late at night in an area that people aren't familiar with, it wouldn't be that difficult to mistake.

"I am not convinced there was any intent to cause damage," said Doyle.

But, even if that incident was nothing more than being lost, there are always others that aren't.

About three weeks ago, at The Links at Sierra Blanca, golfers witnessed a woman driving a Ford pickup on the cart paths at the course.

"She was drunk and driving around looking for her husband," said Dan Casey.

Golfers took to their carts and chased the woman around the course until she was cornered and had to come to a stop. She was kept there until the police went to pick her up.

"Luckily, she stayed on the cart path," said Casey.

But, that is not all that The Links sees in the way of damage.

"We have a fence that gets plowed into pretty regularly, over by the fire station," said Casey.

The fence is often hit by drunk drivers according to Casey.

"It happened again about a week ago," said Casey. "They only take out about 15 to 20 feet. We replace it regularly."

Sweetie Express tops Friday feature race; purses increased again

Sweetie Express and Wedding Silver who both made their last appearances here in the $12,775 Aspen Cup Handicap in June, should be a formidable duo as they drop down to allowance company in Friday's feature.

The 5 1/2-furlong sprint is for 3- and 4-year-old fillies and offers a purse of $4,550.

Sweetie Express, who resides in the Jimmie Claridge barn, ran a respectable fourth behind the classy filly Blushable in the six furlong Aspen Cup in June. Prior to that outing, the 3-year-old daughter of Gypsy Express won an allowance contest and placed in another.

Sweetie Express' last victory was an impressive 3 3/4-length score over a field that included Under Mining who is also entered in Friday's race.

The filly has been a consistent performer throughout her career with two wins and a place in five outings. Sweetie Express is owned by Thomas McCray of Denver City, Texas, and will be ridden by Oscar Ceballos.

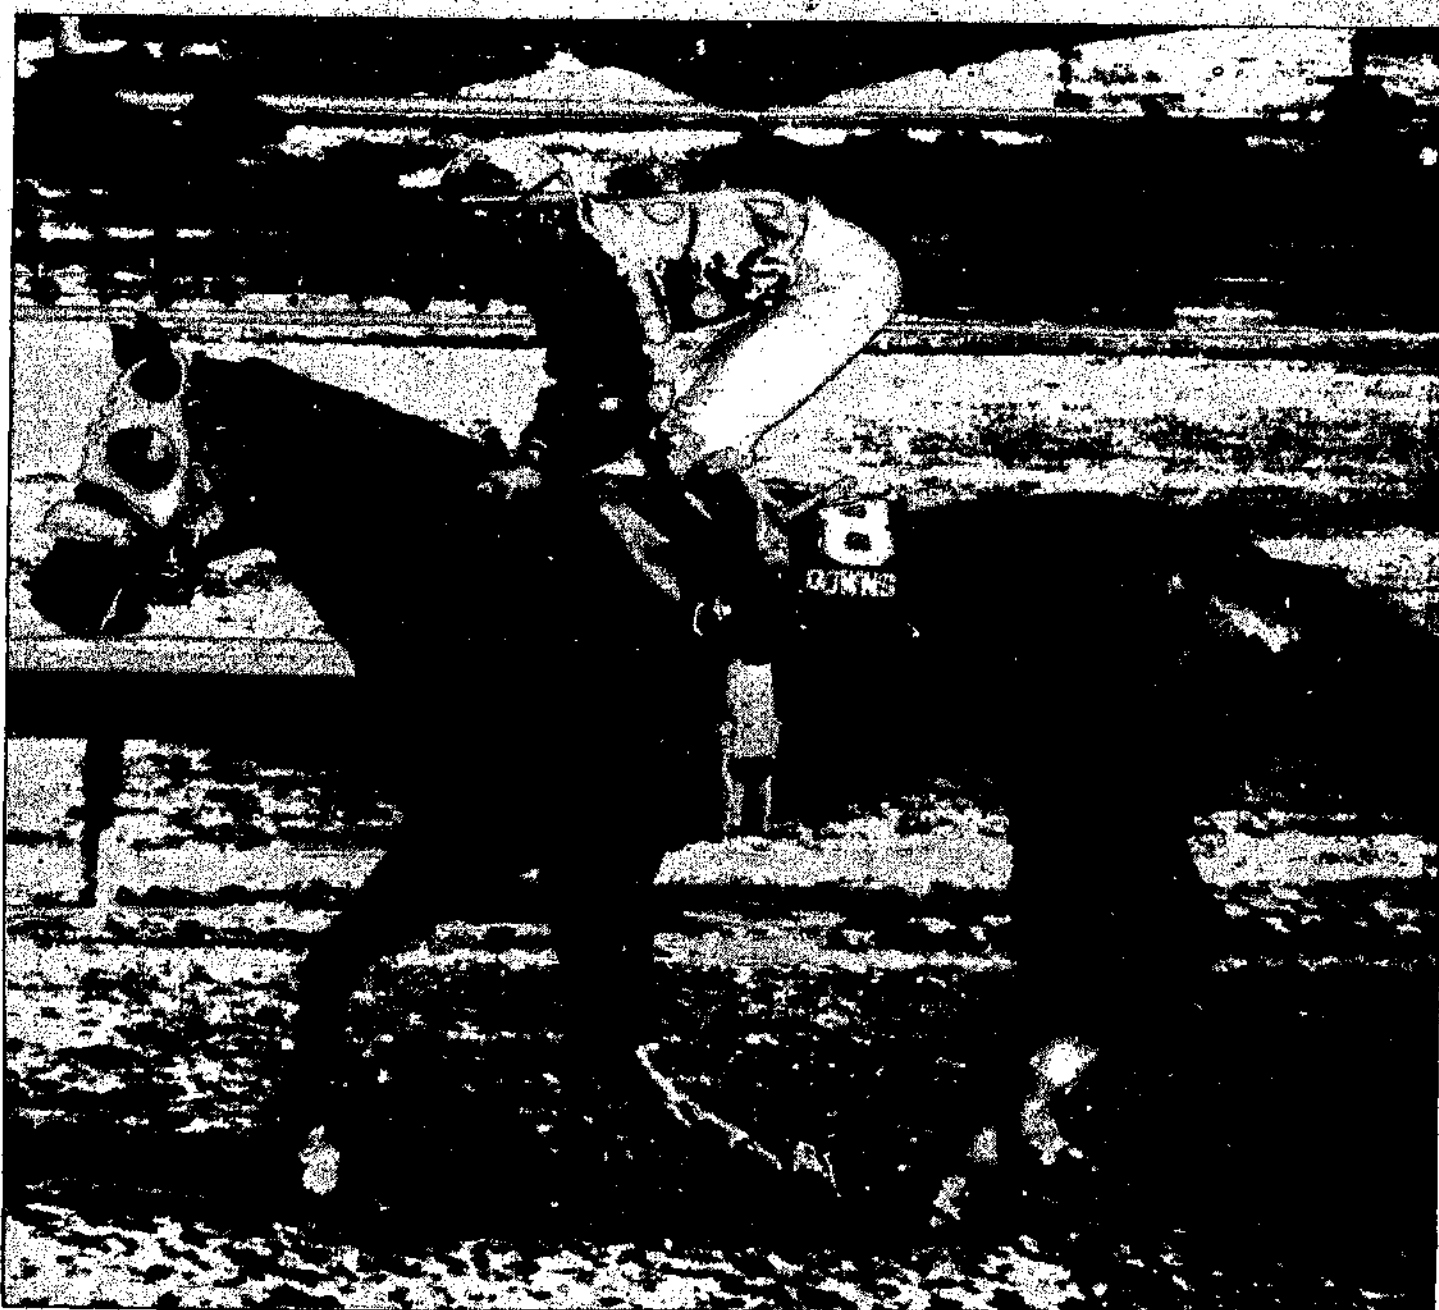

The Jann Jones-trainee Wedding Silver ran eighth in the Aspen Cup, but has run well against easier company this year. The Illinois-bred filly by Zen won a maiden special weight contest by 4 1/4-lengths here in her Ruidoso debut and followed that up with a solid third place effort against allowance foes in mid-June.

Wedding Silver is owned by Jeanne McCarron of Pilot Point, Texas, and Carlos Rivas will ride.

Friday's co-feature is a $3,950 allowance sprint for 3- and 4-year-olds. The six furlong race is headed by consistent allowance competitors Oyster Bay and Pistolario. Oyster Bay, trained by Don Farris, finished only a neck behind Arabo in a tough allowance race on July 26 and should be the one to beat Friday.

The Robert Meyer-charge Pistolario ran a fast-closing second to Special Cutie in a 5 1/2-furlong allowance July 24 and also must be respected.

The 14-race program concludes with four simulcasts from Del Mar near San Diego. All wagers made on Del Mar simulcasts are common pooled. Trifecta wagering is also offered on all simulcasts from the seaside race track.

Chargin Forth won the $23,100 Zia Freshman Championship by a nose over A Daydream Believer, Saturday at Ruidoso Downs. Jeff Williams was aboard the two-year-old New Mexico-bred gelding by Bar

Forth. Fred Danley trains Chargin Forth, who ran the 400 yards in 20.50 seconds. The horse is owned by W.L. "Sunny" Edwards of Ruidoso. Racing continues at 1 p.m. today.

89 horses change hands during '93 Ruidoso Thoroughbred Sale

A total of 89 horses were sold Saturday at the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Sale for a total of nearly $255,000 in the Ruidoso Super Select Sales Pavilion in Glencoe.

The sale topper was an unnamed colt by Dawn Of Creation out of Fiftythird N Win, which was sold by V.J. Callaway to Fletcher Hall for $20,000.

Another notable purchase was a Bold Ego filly named Hershey Hurricane which was sold by W.L.

Mooring to James Lewter for $15,500. Callaway, the largest consignor at the sale with 23, also sold an unnamed colt by Country Manor out of Draconic's Lady to Phillip Mote of Alto for $13,000.

Lewter, a cattleman from Clovis, was the biggest buyer at the sale as he purchased three head for a total of $29,500.

The average sale price of $3,729 was down slightly from last year when 131 head were sold at an average of $3,825.

Top graduates from last year's sale are Rio Grande Futurity winner Amandas Nice Boy who was repurchased for $2,000 and A.J. Echo, winner of the Kachina Stakes, a $3,000 re-purchase.

The 1993 Ruidoso Yearling Quarter Horse Sale, the premier quarter horse sale in the nation, is scheduled for September 3 and 4 in Glencoe.

More than 225 head are expected to go through the sales ring during the two-day event.

A.J. Echo dominates Kachina

14-1 longshot A.J. Echo layed just off the early pace, then exploded down the lane to score an impressive 7 1/2-length victory over some of the Southwest's finest 2-year-old fillies in the $86,976 Kachina Stakes, Sunday at Ruidoso Downs.

The Texas-bred by Wayne's Crane broke well from the #1 post and was only three-lengths behind early leader Saint Patties Lucy who set blazing early fractions of :21.3, :44.3. In the turn, the filly accelerated past the pacesetter and had a four-length lead at the top of the stretch before cruising home to an easy victory. The time for the six furlongs was 1:11 flat, only a fifth of a second off the stakes record set by Reflections Of You last year.

A.J. Echo pressed the pace in the July 29 Kachina trials, but came up just short to be beaten by Kasi's Cash Queen.

"She was sick with bronchitis before the trials so we couldn't train her too hard," said trainer Edward Thompson.

"It turned out that the trials were just to tighten her up and she ran a beautiful race today."

Jockey Carlos Rivas said that he felt confident in his mount because it was the first time in her career that she ran two races without a month layoff.

"It was the first time she was really fit," said the veteran rider. "I was just sitting on her comfortably before we reached the stretch, then she moved on her own in the turn. At the 3/16th pole I asked her and she gave me all she had."

The win was the second in four career outings for A.J. Echo and the $43,488 winner's share of the purse raised her bankroll to $45,810 for owner Tommy Williams of Big Spring, Texas.

The filly was a $3,000 re-purchase by breeder Williams at last year's Ruidoso Thoroughbred Sale.

Kasi's Cash Queen came from well off the pace under jockey Oscar Ceballos, but ran out of ground in the stretch to finish second. The California-bred by Our Michael earned $19,134 for owners Lynn and Ravena Alexander of San Angelo, Texas. Jon Arnett trains Kasi's Cash Queen.

9-5 second choice Vegas Sis also closed late to finish third, two lengths in front of 8-5 favorite Saint Patties Lucy in fourth. Third place was worth $10,437 to owner Buck Abbott of Oro Grande, California.

Vegas Sis is trained by Bob Arnett and was ridden by Melinda Clark.

A.J. Echo proved much the best as the 7 1/2-length winner of the $86,976 Kachina Stakes Sunday at Ruidoso Downs.

Chargin Forth nabs a nose win in Zia Freshman race

Chargin Forth broke on the lead and valiantly hung on by a nose to edge A Daydream Believer for the victory in the $23,100 Zia Freshman Championship for New Mexico-bred 2-year-olds, Saturday at Ruidoso Downs.

The gelded son of Bar Forth, part of a three-horse entry trained by Fred Danley, broke first from the gate and was a head in front of stablemate Red Tag Sale halfway through the 400-yard dash.

Under a strong left-handed whip by Jeff Williams, Chargin Forth clung to the lead nearing the wire and just held off the fast-closing A Daydream Believer for the narrow win. The time was :20.50 over a fast track.

"Fred told me he was a little bit lazy and that he doesn't break good, but if you keep after him he usually runs good," said Williams who rode Chargin Forth for the first time in the Zia. "The seven horse (Red Tag Sale) had me beat by a long neck early, but I got after him the first 100 yards and used the seven horse to keep him running at the end."

Owner W.L. "Sunny" Edwards of Ruidoso bred the son of Bar Forth who earned $13,860 for the win. The gelding had a win and a show in four starts prior to the Zia while campaigning primarily in futurity trials versus open company.

A Daydream Believer, owned by Mike Abraham and Richard Grebe of Pena Blanca, earned $5,082 for the place.

The Sparling Moolah colt finished in the money for the fifth time in six career outings for trainer Richard Fry.

Jerry Rodriguez rode A Daydream Believer.

Robert Haynsworth and Edwin Mayer Jr.'s Red Tag Sale was a nose behind in third with Eric Pernier aboard. Third place was worth $2,310.

Well-bred stakes winners head field in Higheasterjet

Stakes winners Shes Gotcha, Celadon and Willies Lily, top a classy group of older quarter horses expected to go to post in the $10,000-added Higheasterjet Handicap Saturday at Ruidoso Downs.

The 350-yard dash is named in honor of the gelding who won the 1980 All American Futurity and went on to become the sixth richest quarter horse in history with earnings of $1.6 million.

Victor Lozano's Shes Gotcha is in top form lately with two straight wins including a narrow victory in the Grade III Go Together Handicap on July 10. The 4-year-old filly by Sail On Bunny most recently scored a 3/4-length score over a talented allowance field going 550 yards here July 31.

Shes Gotcha, trained by Jimmie Claridge, was sent off a 7-1 longshot in the Go Together, but closed late to nose Cream To The Top at the wire in the 350-yard race. It was the first career stakes win for the Texas-bred filly.

Earlier in the year, Shes Gotcha ran a respectable fourth behind Vital Class in the Grade I Rainbow Silver Cup. The filly has ten wins in 31 career starts and earnings of nearly $55,000 for owner Lozano of Denver City, Texas.

The Fred Danley-charge Celadon comes into the Higheasterjet off an impressive neck-length win August 7 over a solid allowance field which included multiple stakes winner Ed Grimley.

The 5-year-old Dash For Cash gelding had failed to win in four prior starts over the local racing strip this summer. Celadon ran fifth in both the Grade III Jet Deck Handicap and Grade III Mr Jet Moore Stakes after winning the Ruidoso Handicap at Sunland Park in April. The gelding is owned by Rancho Jamil Inc. and has earned almost $90,000 in his career.

Friends bid fond farewell to Manuel Gomez

Manuel Gomez

Services were held August 6 at Saint Jude's Catholic Church in San Patricio for Manuel N. Gomez, who was called home by Our Lord on August 6.

Father Richard Catanaeh read from the Gospel according to Saint Matthew:

"For the Kingdom of Heaven is like a man traveling into a far country, who called his own servants and delivered unto them his goods."

Josie Gomez read the Twenty-third Psalm: "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want..." Also from the Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Romans: "And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Spirit which is given to us."

The church choir sang the funeral mass.

Military Honors

A military ceremony including color guard and rifle squad was presented under the direction of Romeo Klein.

Veterans present for the ceremony included: Doug Houseton, Julius Fitzer, Lemuel Clarke, Frank Koehler, Ida Koehler, Clement Skinner, Victor Jaramillo and Bob Eastaday.

The American flag which draped the casket was presented by Romeo Klein to Manuel's widow, Della.

Manuel was a veteran of the Korean War, and a member of the Disabled American Veterans. He spent almost his entire life in San Patricio, and had many friends throughout Lincoln County. He will always hold a fond spot in our hearts because of his Christian character and kind and helpful nature. We rejoice that our good friend is safe and happy with Our Lord in Heaven.

Happy birthday to Romeo Klein

Romeo Klein reached another mile stone along life's pathway when he reached age 72 on August 11. His brother, Artie Sr. and

by Daniel Agnew Storm nephew Artie Jr. are up from Rio Grande City to help Romeo celebrate. We wish Romeo many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

Old Lincoln Days very well attended

Crowds of good folks from nearby and distant places gathered last weekend in historic Lincoln town for the forty fifth anniversary of the celebration.

The weather spirits brought us perfect weather for the three days, and once again the record held that although the Pageant is held in the middle of the rainy season, the show has never been completely rained out. Friday and Saturday nights, clouds moved overhead and then drifted away.

Director Dianne Shrecengost welcomed the large crowds at the Pageant. And John Shrecengost, her son, received applause from the crowd, and got congratulations from his fellow actors for his first performance as Billy The Kid. John, age 14, is kid number nine.

The parade was led by John and Mickey Thomas riding a buggy. John has played Billy the Kid in the show for many years and Mickey is a former director for several years.

The parade drew support from a wide surrounding area, with horseback rider groups and individual riders, antique cars, and horse drawn vehicles.

A feature of the parade was a group of Crown Dancers from Mescalero who danced through the parade to the beating of the apache drum and to ancient chants.

Nathaniel Chee was the lead drummer accompanied by his son, Abraham Chee, also a drummer.

They were followed by Samuel Chee, Nathaniel's son, and Earnest Kadayso, his nephew, in full crown-dancer costume, then came little Freddie Apache Jr. who looked to no more than six years of age, a crown-dancer clown in full costume. The group received great cheers from the crowd which lined the streets of Lincoln.

Large crowds show great appreciation

It is a heart-warming sight to see the folks of all ages along the parade route, with the young children and infants waving with their tiny hands. Everyone cheered the many entries of the parade, you heard many a voice of recognition and welcome along the way.

A spirit of neighborly good will, extending over a state wide and even nation-wide area, prevailed throughout the days and nights of the celebration.

After the Pageant performances, folks from everywhere came up with their children to express their appreciation to the actors and to ask them to autograph their programs. Some came from as far away as Florida, California and New York.

Now where could you find a crowd of folks more appreciative, considerate, and kind than those who come to the Pageant year after year? There is a bond of fond friendship and understanding between the actors and voices of the Pageant and the audience. The show carries a closeness and friendly spirit all its own, which grows stronger and more widespread through the years.

So I send out thanks to those who have come to the Pageant, and to those who have taken part in the show with me — all these forty two years. May God bless you one and all.

Cowboys & Indians ride again during symposium

If the smell of the campfire and the glow of an evening sky appeals to you, then the Lincoln County Cowboy Symposium has the trail ride for you!

Trail ride organizers have expanded the trail rides to include a special overnight ride through historic Lincoln County and the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation.

The three day, two night ride leaves Ruidoso Downs Race Track the morning of October 5, 1993. Riders will enjoy the scenic beauty of the mountains as they enter the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation on their way to an overnight camp site at Encino Tank.

While there, they'll be fed off the chuckwagon of world champion cook Jimbo Humphrey and entertained around the campfire by Indian storytellers and dancers as well as cowboy performers.

After camping under the stars, riders mount up again and head for the Tunstall Monument, site of their second night on the trail.

Supper is again served from the chuckwagon and traditional cowboy performers are on tap to entertain the riders.

The registration deadline is September 17. All interested parties should contact Craig or Connie Whipple at PO Box 2951, Ruidoso NM 88345, or give them a call at 257-2520 day or night.

Three picked to interview for police chief

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News St. Writer

Three candidates for the position of Capitan police chief will be interviewed Tuesday in an attempt to hire a certified law enforcement officer.

Former police officer Lance Zink resigned last month in a dispute over pay, title and philosophy. That left the village with one uncertified officer.

Ten applications for the chief's position were received, but one was withdrawn.

During a Capitan Board of Trustees meeting Monday, members went into a closed to the public executive session and narrowed the list of applicants down to three men to start the interviews.

"We'll begin with these three and if they don't work out, we'll move on to the others," Mayor Frank Warth told The Ruidoso News Wednesday after confirming their availability for interviews.

The candidates are:

—Richard Skanse, a lieutenant with the El Paso Police Department and a recent graduate of the FBI National Academy, who is preparing to retire from his current job.

—Ray Dailey, a captain with the Alamogordo Police Department, who also is preparing to retire.

—Jackie Raines, a corporal in the Chaves County Sheriff's Department in Roswell.

During Monday's meeting, Warth took out a few moments to present certificates of appreciation to Dorothy Smith and Dr. Bernhard Reimann in recognition of their many hours of volunteer work for the village.

Smith has been active with the chamber of commerce and on the planning and zoning board.

Reimann proposed the concept and research the wetlands effluent treatment project being financed by a Community Development Block Grant. He served as chairman of the planning and zoning board and currently, is compiling technical information to be given to the state about the closing of Capitan's Class B landfill (garbage) and continuing designation as a Class C landfill (construction debris).

The board also approved a joint powers agreement as a member of the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority. The agreement provides that Lincoln and Otero County are equal partners in the new regional landfill to be built south of Alamogordo, even though Lincoln entities only produce 18 percent of the waste and a fourth of the collateral pledge.

Capitan will benefit from a lower dumping fee as a member, plus a differential for the extra mileage to haul to that site. In return, Capitan offered its environmental gross receipt tax as collateral for the issuance and repayment of bonds to build the landfill.

However, Capitan attorney J. Robert Beauvais, who also represents the authority, pointed out that tax should be rebated to the village as operating revenues pay off the bonds.

"It's simply a deal, you can't beat," he said.

The only entities in Lincoln not as enthusiastic are the towns of Carrizozo and Corona, because they still use a commercial garbage hauler. However, if they do not pass the joint powers agreement, they will be dropped as owners of the landfill and in the future, will have to pay the higher non-member dumping fee.

In other business, the trustees: —awarded a contract to Theresa Engleking to run the Smokey Bear Museum for $75 a month plus 3 percent of the gross revenues, an increase of 1 percent over the previous operator.

The shop is to be kept open seven days a week and to be well-stocked. The effective date is September 1.

—noted that the planning and zoning board will meet on the first and third Wednesday of the month instead of the second and fourth.

—approved three water taps for Patricia Seymour on a recommendation from planning and zoning.

Seymour is to apply for annexation of her lots at the next zoning meeting. The trustees will have to advertise an annexation ordinance if they want to include the lots in the village limits.

The motion passed 4-1 with trustee Alfred Leroy Montes voting against it. He objected to the taps being approved before annexation has occurred, saying it would set a bad precedent.

Seymour explained that out of an entire development only her tract and one other were left out of the city limits.

"This is a hardship case to keep them from spending $7,000," said David Posley.

Beauvais pointed out that the trustees provided in their ordinance that outside hookups would be allowed at double the rate on in-village service.

"I disagree with Trustee Montes," Beauvais said. "The precedent already was established in your ordinance."

—directed staff to advertise an amendment to a prior agreement to allow the swap of land between two property owners. A contractor improperly installed a mobile home and services on the wrong lot.

State's first woman warden heads Camp Sierra Blanca

Sandra McFadin was appointed Tuesday as the new warden at Camp Sierra Blanca correctional facility near Ruidoso. She is the first woman to be appointed warden of a men's prison in New Mexico.

In announcing McFadin's appointment, Corrections Secretary Elroy L. Mondragon said she has served as acting warden for several weeks since the retirement of Robert Marrs from the minimum classification facility for 77 inmates.

McFadin's lengthy career began as a correctional officer and then a classification officer at the Roswell Correctional center in November 1978. The Arkansas native, whose grandfather was a prison warden, also worked as a parole officer in Washington before moving to New Mexico.

She began working at Western New Mexico Correctional Facility at Grants in 1986, filled several positions including chief of classification and then was named deputy warden in 1989.

McFadin and her husband have five children.

No smoking, please

A new smoke free campus policy will be the main topic on the agenda of the Capitan School Board at its meeting, which begins at 7:30 p.m. today in the school library. A workshop is scheduled a half hour earlier.

"It's a smoke free, tobacco free policy that would apply to all events on school property, to all school vehicles and buildings, and any away functions," said Superintendent Diana Sonnamaker. "And it applies to staff as well as students, and to patrons at school games and functions. They will have to go off campus to use tobacco or smoke."

Other items on the agenda include a discussion of school building roof repair and an agreement with the Lincoln County Road Department for the repair of some asphalt surfaces.

Teachers will be back on campus Tuesday and students will arrive Wednesday. The first football game of the season is set for August 27 at home against Hatch and the first volleyball game also will be at home against Tatum September 3.

Voting machines at fair

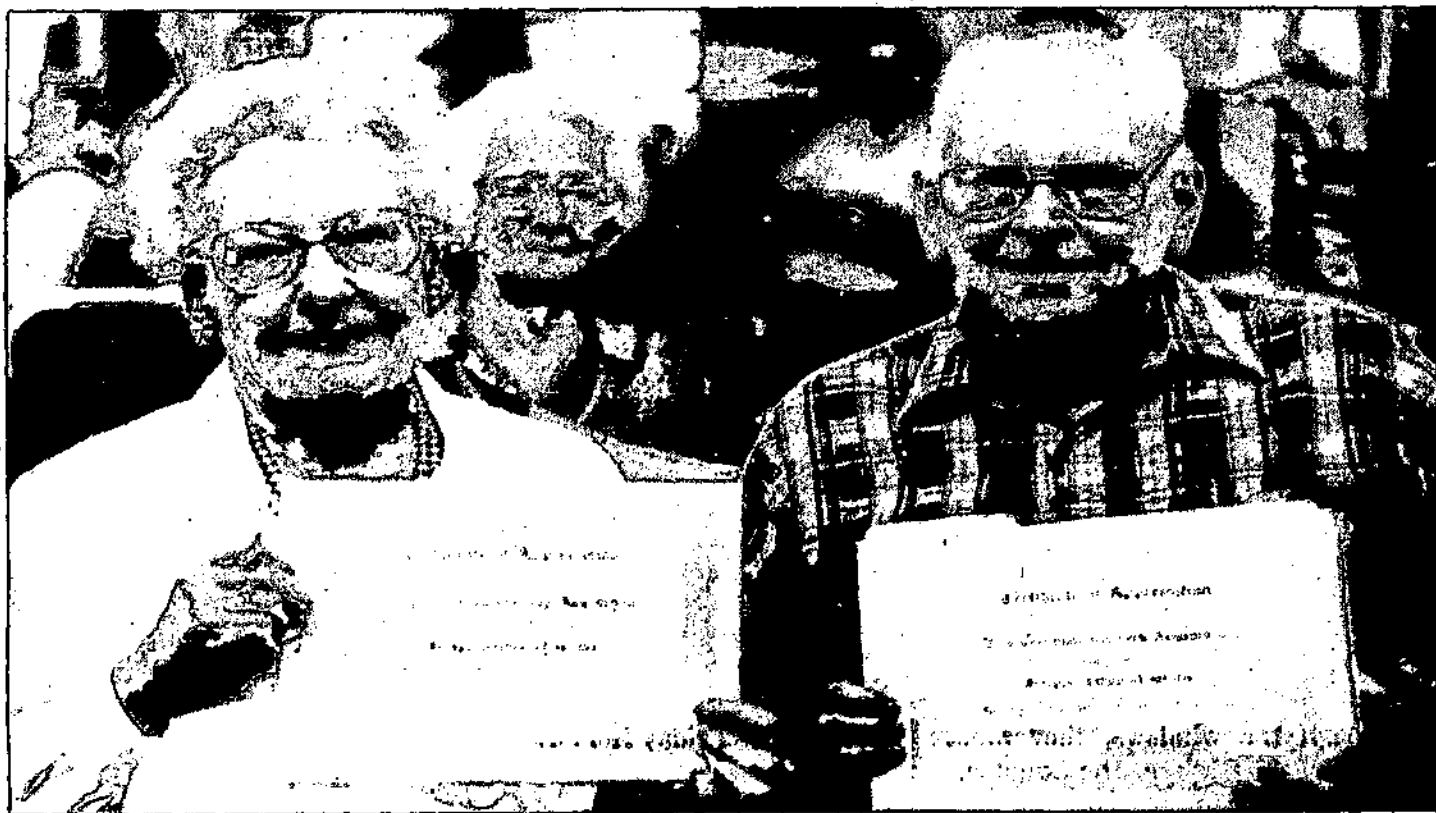

Lincoln County Clerk Martha Proctor invites residents to stop by her booth at the annual fair this weekend in Capitan to try out the county's new electronic voting machines.

Demonstration models will be set up from Thursday through Saturday.

Rodeo and dance coming up

The First Annual Old West Ranch Rodeo in Capitan is set for August 21-22 at the Lincoln County Fairground and is expected to draw teams from throughout New Mexico and Texas to compete for $3,600 in prize money.

Events will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday and a dance is planned for 9 p.m. For more information, call Waddy Hobbs at 505-849-1419.

Dorothy Smith and Dr. Bernle Reimann show off certificates of appreciation presented by Capitan Mayor Frank Warth on behalf of the Board of Trustees.

Trail blazers

Trail boss Randle Easley, (immediate right) straddling a mule, prepares to head 'em out on the first Smokey Bear Rescue Site trail ride last Saturday from Capitan Gap. About 40 riders took to their horses to retrace the rescue of the cub that came to symbolize forest fire prevention. Riders came from as far away as California to participate in this the first of what organizers hope to make an annual event. It's all leading up to the Smokey Bear's Fiftieth Birthday celebration in 1994. Kathleen Hellman of Capitan handled publicity and helped pull the ride together. Clockwise from bottom right, a rider saddles her horse, both appropriately attired for the day. Dr. John Obermiller and his son from Austin, Texas, consented to ride drag in case of any injuries or stragglers needing help. They were back on their horses Sunday to ride in the Old Lincoln Days parade. Patricia Coleman and Clifford Washington from Albuquerque packed slickers in their saddlebags as a storm threatened overhead. The ride was organized by Friends of Smokey. The idea for the horseback trek was proposed by Larry Bandy at Smokey Bear State Park.

It's back to school time in the Capitan district

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Starting about 8 a.m. Wednesday in Capitan, good old school days are back.

Registration at Capitan elementary and the high school already has produced 40 new students and several days are left for more to sign up.

Elementary principal Jerry Newsom said his school ended last year with 308 students.

"We've been enrolling a lot of new kids, 22 so far (not including kindergarten), but we don't know how many we may have dropped," he said.

Three new faces will greet returning students at the elementary school. Donell Merchant will be teaching a sixth grade class since Ruby Johnson, at her request, was reassigned to the third grade class previously taught by Nancy Lock, who resigned.

Replacing Tommie Neal as speech pathologist will be Liz Wheeler, who was part time last year. Gretchen Becker will fill Wheeler's vacant post.

Gloria Witham will be behind the new smile in Newsom's office. Her son Keith will be a freshman this year.

At the high school, principal Darrel Stierwalt said registration shows about 20 more students. The ending enrollment figure last year was 235.

Becky Borowski will be taking over as librarian. In the classrooms, Chad Merchant will be teaching social studies; Jeannie Miller will handle music; and Todd Proctor will be the new vocational agriculture teacher.

"Registration will continue all through this week and before school starts Wednesday morning," Stierwalt said. "We're all anxious to see their bright and shiny faces."

The first day will begin with a general assembly in the gymnasium, he said.

Another new face for returning students will be that of Diana Sonnamaker, the new district superintendent. Hired earlier this summer, she already has tackled building repair problems and has put together a no smoking/no tobacco policy for school board review.

Schedules

Elementary students and those in Headstart and pre-school programs will begin classes at 8 a.m. However, the starting date for Headstart and pre-school will be September 7. Busing will be provided.

A 15-minute period from 8 a.m. to 8:15 a.m. has been allotted for breakfast at the elementary level.

Lunch is scheduled from 11 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. for kindergarten through third graders; and from 11:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. for fourth through sixth graders.

Classes will be dismissed at 3:10 p.m.

Headstart and pre-school students will be served lunch from 11 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., followed immediately by dismissal.

The schedule for Capitan High School starts at 8:10 a.m. with a five-minute passing period. First period rings in at 8:15 a.m. and lasts until 9 a.m.

A half hour study hall runs from 9:05 a.m. to 9:35 a.m.

Each period thereafter is 45 minutes long. The 40-minute lunch break begins at 12:05.

Classes will be dismissed at 3:15 p.m.

Immunizations

All students in Capitan schools must present complete immunization records when first enrolling or show evidence that the immunization series has been started and is being followed.

Information about scheduling immunizations may be obtained from private physicians or the New Mexico Health Department, 105 Kansas City Road in Ruidoso, or call 258-3252.

A child should have completed or be in the process of completing the diphtheria-pertussis-tetanus series (DPT), polio series, measles and rubella after the age of 12 months.

A booster of DPT is required after the age of four years.

Bring proof when registering.

Supply lists

The kindergarten supply list is available at Wal-Mart or at the school.

It consists of one box of tissues, one box of basic eight crayons, a large tube of "O Glue," a school box preferably plastic, a scissors, a smock or child-size shirt, a backpack to carry papers and books, five fat pencils, a pillow and, for Mrs. MacVeigh's class only, one plastic water bottle.

The first grade supply list includes: a 16 count box of crayons, a large Elmer's glue, a large box of tissues, a pair of pointed scissors, a school box, five #2 pencils each nine weeks, five top erasers, a large eraser and a backpack to carry papers homes.

The supply list for second grade consists of five pencils for each nine weeks or 20 total, one large eraser and five pencil top erasers, a large box of crayons, a pointed metal scissors, a large bottle of glue, one spiral notebook with no perforated pages, a large box of tissues, one school box (cigar size, not large), a box of watercolor paints, one folder with pockets, not a binder notebook.

Third graders should bring the following supplies: two sturdy pocket folders, notebook paper, two thick spiral notebooks with no perforated paper, crayons, large glue, pointed scissors, pencils, red ballpoint pen, package of pencil top erasers, plastic school box (for Johnson's students), plastic pencil bag for Holland's students, two large boxes of tissues, a backpack, a ruler with standard and metric measurements, and colored pencils. As the students get older, the number of pencils required gets higher.

Fourth graders need to bring 20 pencils each semester. They need two packages of pencil top erasers, one pair of pointed scissors, one metric/English measurements, a large bottle of Elmer's glue, colored pencils, two pens each semester for grading, a school box, a large box of tissues, a loose leaf notebook paper/binder, a box of 24 crayons and a set of five clear-tabbed dividers.

Fifth graders should bring two #2 pencils, loose leaf notebook paper, a large box of tissues, two grading pens, a sharp pointed scissors, a metric/standard ruler, a protractor, map colors, a spiral notebook with no perforated pages, a three ring binder that is not excessively large, a 48-count box of crayons, a small bottle of glue and two folders with pocket for Mrs. Fowler's students only.

The list for sixth graders includes notebook paper, wide ruled white only, two #2 pencils, a blue or black ink pen, a red grading pen or pencil, map pencils, a large box of tissues, a ruler with centimeter markings, a scissor, a plastic pencil bag, a small bottle of glue, two thick spirals, no perforated pages and crayons.

Bus rules

Transportation services are provided by the Capitan Transportation Company, owned and operated by Frank Silva. For information, call 354-2672.

Students who do not obey the district's rules may have their transportation rights revoked by school officials.

The rules require that students obey the driver promptly, they should never stand in the traveled portion of the roadway while waiting for the school bus, they should not carry on unnecessary conversation with the driver while the bus is in motion. The use of tobacco, drugs, alcoholic beverages or any mind-altering substances will not be permitted, students shall not get on or off the bus or move about within the bus while it is in motion.

Students are not allowed to ride on the outside of the school bus at any time. They must not extend their hands arms, heads or bodies through the windows, they must not open or close the windows without permission of the bus driver and they must occupy seats assigned to them by school officials or the bus driver.

Students are not allowed to throw any item inside or outside the bus while boarding, riding or leaving the bus. Rough or boisterous conduct will not be permitted. They can't leave the bus on the way to or from school except at their regular assigned stop without advance permission of a school official.

Students must cooperate with the bus driver in keeping the bus clean. Parents or guardians will be held responsible for malicious destruction on the bus.

Lunch prices

Great lunches will be available for students for $1.25 in high school and $1.10 for elementary students. Breakfasts are 65-cents.

Students who qualify for reduced prices will pay 30 cents for breakfast and 40 cents for lunch. A breakdown of qualifying incomes is available at the schools.

The price for adults is $2 for lunch and $1.25 for breakfast.

Board members

For those who may want to voice praise or complaints directly to school board members from time to time, the members are President Tom Trost, vice president Tim Worrell, secretary Beverly Payne, and members Jack King and Russell Shearer.

Probation office gets to stay in the Downs one more year

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

At least for one more year, the juvenile probation office will continue to operate out of Ruidoso Downs Village Hall.

And Lincoln County commissioners, angry at themselves for procrastinating, pledged Tuesday to move forward on renovations at the county suboffice in Ruidoso.

Commissioner Bill Schwetzmann offered the motion to pay Ruidoso Downs $350 a month for the next year "so we can handle the problems we know exist, but we haven't solved."

He noted that the commission already proposed paying $187.50 a month toward the juvenile probation service office, but that offer was rejected by Ruidoso Downs.

Paying the full $350 would amount to about $2,000 more for the year, he said.

"I don't think that will break the county and we have to be out by August 25 (if the arrangement is not renewed) and we won't be prepared to set up (the probation service elsewhere)," Schwetzmann said.

"I don't think we'll have time to do it."

His motion passed 3-2 with Chairman Monroy Montes and Commissioner Stirling Spencer voting against it.

Spencer favored removing all or part of the Sheriff's Department from the suboffice and consolidating the functions in Carrizozo at the courthouse complex.

That would open up more space for the health department and for juvenile probation officer Jane Parnell.

She needs to be in the Ruidoso area, because the majority of her 68 cases are located here. Only five are in Carrizozo, four in Corona and three in Hondo, she said.

The county is required by law to furnish space for the juvenile probation officer. Two years ago when space was tight at the suboffice where Parnell and a secretary were housed, commissioners struck a two-year deal with state officials to move them to Ruidoso Downs. The county paid $4,000 and the state kicked in $4,000 in repairs and renovations for the offices at Ruidoso Downs.

"Our main concern is enough room for the files and being in a building where law enforcement is available, because of the type of clients," Parnell told commissioners. Parnell is under great stress and sometimes help is needed to maintain control, she said.

"We're flexible," Parnell said. "Although with this case load, another person may be added two or three years down the road."

In pushing for a move back to the suboffice, Montes pointed out that several functions have been removed from that building, including planning and zoning and the rural addressing project.

"Last year we were talking about expanding planning and zoning, but the new manager consolidated instead in Carrizozo at a savings to the county," Montes said. "We could house her in the suboffice at no cost to the county."

"We've cut down in terms of personnel by five, so putting two back I don't think would be creating stress," he said. He noted that there are certain times during the week that are busier than others with health department clients lining up for shots and other services.

However, Sheriff James McSwane said he is using more space than before between storage of evidence and the interviewing of witnesses, victims and suspects. He said deputy sheriff Bobby Miller maintains an office there, as does the White Mountain Drug Task Force.

Mary Jo Stedry from the Roswell district office of the State Department of Health makes her bid for more space at the county suboffice in Ruidoso.

He needs a presence in Ruidoso and requires files there, because 70 percent of his activity deals with the Ruidoso population, McSwane said.

Representing the other side of the building, Mary Jo Stedry, Roswell district director of the state health department, told commissioners services are to be added and hours expanded. The health department needs more space to permit breast and cervical cancer screening.

"Since the last meeting (with commissioners several months ago when the health department was given assurance of more space), we have begun plans to increase the number of services," Stedry said.

"The amount of space will determine the degree and number of services. I have been in discussion with officials from the Lincoln County Medical Center about filling in the gaps between that facility and ourselves."

All three agencies interested in the suboffice, the health department, the juvenile probation officer and the sheriff, require confidentiality for some of their clients, she noted. Montes added that an unemployment compensation representative also uses the suboffice once or twice a week. The assessor's office only needs a small space for about 30 minutes in the morning and afternoon.

With a 30 percent increase in teenage pregnancies this past year in Lincoln County, the need for more services is obvious, Stedry said. The health department has been considering the possibility of turning the conference room into offices for programs that don't require plumbing.

Montes agreed that the conference room now is "dead space" and should be utilized. It has a back entrance and that could be converted into a separate primary entrance for the probation office, he suggested.

That would leave a side entrance for the sheriff and the front entrance for the health department.

"We've been throwing this football for three years and because of that we have the juvenile probation officer wondering where she will be and the sheriff looking at me," Spencer said. "Let's get it settled."

"We've been talking seven to eight months about doing something in the suboffice and I don't think it will be resolved in the next 17-18 days," Schwetzmann said. "Maybe by the time the year is up, it all will be settled."

After reading in the newspaper that his operation was mentioned (during a previous discussion about the probation officer) as occupying significant space in the courthouse annex for $150 a month, Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean took action, county manager Andy Wynham told commissioners.

Dean pointed out to Wynham that his court only occupies two small offices, the courtroom and a closet, Wynham said. And Dean contacted the state to arrange an increase in rent to $450 a month, retroactive to July 1.

In other business, the commission:

—approved requesting a 90-day extension on the deadline for completion of the Community Development Block Grant housing rehabilitation project.

—awarded a conditional contract on three resurfacing projects to Ruidoso Paving at a price of $114,443, about $2,963 under the estimate by road manager Bill Cupit.

However, because of delays at the state level and weather complications, the chip-seal projects may have to be postponed until early summer.

"If the temperature drops below 50 degrees at night, the state (highway department) is not willing to participate and recommends we wait until next May or June," Cupit said. "I've told the people at Deer Creek and Sun Valley that we'd do the best we can, but when we have these kinds of restraints, it's difficult."

Spencer said Wynham and Cupit should concentrate on getting the state to sign off on the projects and then work with the contractors, waiting until next spring, if necessary, to start construction.

"If the weather prohibits now, we can pick up the projects in the spring by either allowing him to lock in the price, going ahead and rebidding the project later or creating a sliding scale to reflect changes in oil and other material prices."

Cupit said, if residents don't object, he may tear up what remains of the road in Sun Valley and leave the base course for the winter. It would be better than driving around the many potholes, he said.

—after many delays and required corrections by the developer, gave preliminary approval to the roads in Fox Run Subdivision. Following a two-year period of wear, the developer may apply for final approval. Cupit will check the road condition periodically.

Jane Parnell, juvenile probation officer, and Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane wait to hear the commission's decision on who goes where and when. McSwane wants to hold on to the space he occupies in the county suboffice in Ruidoso, but at least one commissioner wants him to consolidate in Carrizozo.

Ruidoso Downs trustees review village activities recorded in July

Ruidoso Downs departments completed a busy month in July according to reports submitted to the Downs trustees for review.

The fire department responded to a grass fire and a trailer fire and also had four rescue calls. Two calls were in district and four were out of the district for a total time of four hours and 44 minutes.

Animal control officer Tom Armstrong reported 17 dogs and 13 cats were boarded at the new Ruidoso Downs animal shelter during the month of July. No owners turned up for the cats, but nine dogs were returned to their owners. Twenty-one animals were destroyed.

Armstrong, who is also the code enforcement officer, has sent a first or second letter to more than 15 people to ask for compliance to codes, such as abandoned vehicles and health hazards. Many of those are working to comply or already have.

The Downs police department made 28 arrests, including four felony arrests and 10 misdemeanor arrests. Officers issued 52 traffic citations and helped with four accidents with injuries. They also responded to 12 domestic disturbances and 12 general disturbances.

The department also assisted the Ruidoso Police Department 21 times and the Lincoln County Sheriff's department twice.

The maintenance department has been cleaning up rain runoff on roads, blading roads and mowing and cutting weeds. Maintenance supervisor Dennis Riddle reported the water use was lower in July possibly because of the cooler weather and rains.

LEGAL NOTICE
NOTICE OF PUBLIC AUCTION SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY FOR

DELINQUENT PROPERTY TAX

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the provisions of 7-38-53 thru 59, NMSA 1978 the Lincoln County Treasurer will offer for sale at public auction beginning on Sept. 2, 1993 at 10:00
a.m. at the County
Courthouse in Carrizozo,
New Mexico, the following described personal property, the sale to continue until all the described property has been offered for sale.

THE TERMS OF THE SALE ARE AS FOLLOWS:

1. A sale properly made under the provisions of 7-38-53 thru 59, NMSA
1978 constitutes full payment of all delinquent taxes, penalties and interest that are a lien against the property at the time of sale, and the sale extinguishes the lien. The property is sold subject to the lien for property taxes
for the year of the sale, provided those taxes are not yet delinquent. The buyer at public auction, or his successor in interest, will be liable for those property taxes when they become due.

2. The description of the following personal property is designed to permit the identification and location of the personal property by potential purchasers, or taxpayers. The Lincoln County Treasurer warrants

no title to properties purchased at public auction sale.

3. Section 7-38-74 NMSA 1978, prohibits officers or employees of the state or any of its political subdivisions engaged in the administration of the property tax from directly or indirectly acquiring an interest in, buying or profiting from any property sold by the County Treasurer for delinquent taxes, except that an officer or employee may purchase property
sold for delinquent taxes if he is the owner of the property and was the owner of the property at the time the taxes became delinquent. Any officer or employee violating
Section 7-38-74 is guilty of a fourth degree felony and shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or imprisoned for not less than one year
nor more than five years, or both; and he shall also be automatically removed from office or have his employment terminated upon conviction. A personal property sale in violation of Section 7-38-74 is void.

4. Successful bidders are required to make payment in full of the amount bid before leaving the premises on the day of the sale. Payment is required to be by money order,
certified check, cashier's check, or personal check which is accompanied by bank letter of credit for the amount of or in excess of the amount of the personal check drawn to the order of the Lincoln County Treasurer.

5. Upon receiving payment for the personal property sold, the Lincoln County Treasurer shall execute and deliver a certificate of sale to the purchaser. The certificate of sale transfers all the former property owners interest in the personal property as of the date of the sale. The purchaser takes the personal property free of any unrecorded or unfiled interests unknown to him at the time of sale.

6. The sale price of personal property at this public auction sale is not to be taken or considered as being the value of the property for property
taxation purposes.

7. All persons intending to bid upon property are required to register and obtain bidders number from the auctioneer and to provide the auctioneer with their full name and address.
Certificate of sale will be issued to registered names only. Conveyances to other parties will be the responsibility of the buyer as "agents" for other persons will register
accordingly and must provide documented proof
as being a bona fide agent at time of payment for property purchased.
Registration will close promptly at start of sale.

8. The auctioneer reserves the right to withdraw from sale any of the properties listed below; to sell any of the properties listed together; or to sell only a portion of any of the properties listed below. If any dispute arises between or among the bidders, the auctioneer's decision with respect to the dispute is final, and the auctioneer may auction the property
again, in his discretion.
The auctioneer reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Their personal property listed below may not be sold for less than the listed minimum price.

Keep enthusiasm alive

What an exciting time it is when kids start back to school each fall. It's fun to outfit the youngsters with new clothes, school supplies and the latest lunchbox. If somebody could market that back-to-school excitement, perhaps more students could keep it up all year and experience success throughout their school days.

The back-to-school excitement — new teachers, new classes, new friends — is over. What can parents do to help keep their children's interests in learning alive?

Teachers know firsthand that today's busy families are pressed for time. But emphasizing the importance of learning — and making it fun — doesn't have to take a lot of time or effort. It just takes a little thought.

National Education Association president Charles Bowyer has gathered teachers' tips for parents, and they're reprinted here:

—WRITING. If you need to jot down a grocery list or schedule for the week, let your child practice his or her writing skills by playing "secretary" as you dictate.

—READING. There are many subtle ways to help children see that reading is both fun and useful.

#If your child takes lunch to school, slip a surprise note into the lunch box or back with a word of encouragement or a friendly reminder.

#For birthday and holiday gifts, don't forget books.

#Take turns choosing an interesting newspaper item to discuss. Talk about the difference between fact and opinion, news story and editorial. If the item mentions an exotic location, find it together on a map or globe.

#Set up a "message board" in your kitchen or other popular spot. Notes hung there can be practical (phone messages, reminders) or just fun ("If you look in the microwave you'll find a snack").

—MATH. Today's math teachers emphasize problem solving, "patterning," and estimating. Help reinforce these concepts in daily life.

#When you're in the car together, have your youngster spot all road signs of a specific shape.

#Ask your son or daughter to help you multiply or divide recipe ingredients.

#As you plan your grocery shopping, ask your child to study the newspaper ads and find the best buy on a specific item that week. At the grocery store, as you head for a favorite food, ask your child to estimate the price, then look together to see what it really costs.

#In a restaurant, let your child estimate the bill. When the bill comes, have your child calculate the tip.

—ORGANIZATIONAL SKILLS. Becoming more systematic may require a family life-style change, but it's worth it. Together decide on one good spot to put anything coming from or to school — those forms and messages that come out of the backpack in the afternoon, as well as homework and anything else that must go back to school the next day. Having a specific spot really helps smooth the morning rush.

—BEING RESPONSIBLE. Work with your children to chart each one's responsibilities around the house, and post the chart in a prominent spot. Decide together what will be the consequences of not following through on these routine chores.

—DECISION MAKING. Let children share in as many family decisions as possible. For example, when planning a vacation, have them help choose the route by studying maps.

—CONVERSATION. Encourage your children to discuss what they'd like to be when they grow up. Don't put limits on their imagination or steer them toward traditional gender roles.

When talking about school, go beyond the ritual questions ("How was school today?") that gets only a perfunctory response ("OK"). Stay in touch by reading newsletters and other materials sent home, and by chatting with your child's teacher. That way you know what's going on and can ask specific questions that start a real conversation. Before the next parent-teacher conference, ask your child to name one thing he or she would like you to talk about with the teacher.

Too many parents communicate with their children's schools only when there's a problem. Take the initiative occasionally to write a note to the teacher when your child comes home excited about something that happened in school that day. This will not only help the teacher know more about your child and plan more appropriate activities for him or her — but will also lay a positive groundwork that will be a big help if there ever is a problem.

Thanks for helping the shelter animals

TO THE EDITOR:

Accolades to The Ruidoso News! The Humane Society supplement in the paper last week was great!

Not only did it offer welcome information for pet owners — but it provided much needed information for most of the general public. These are the people who prefer to turn a blind eye to the animal tragedies that occur every day in Ruidoso and in the entire country.

I wish all of our newspapers were as accommodating with constant reminders, perhaps we human animals could remember that He created them, too — and for their good and mankind's — I imagine He meant us to share.

TO THE EDITOR:

We enjoy The Ruidoso News, especially on Monday when the shelter animal article is in.

When I talk to friends in Ruidoso, they are enthused about Dianne Stallings very informative pet articles.

I'm sure this helps sell papers and is a big help toward the shelter animals' adoptions.

Every week I send the pet article to South Dakota. Recently, I sent the July 29 special section (just chock full of information for all the animal lovers) to five friends and two South Dakota Humane societies. They all like it.

Keep them coming.

Couple is married

Melissa Marie Abeita became the bride of Jeffrey Paul Knox in a double-ring ceremony the evening of May 22 at Faith Lutheran Church in Albuquerque.

The bride is the daughter of Fred N. and Priscilla Perea of Albuquerque and the groom is the son of Sandy Knox of Ruidoso and the late Billy Don Knox.

The bride was attended by her sister, Paula Abeita. Robert Knox, brother of the groom, was best man.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Durango, Colorado, and make their home in Albuquerque where the bride is employed by Cigna/Lovelace Sales and the groom by Barnhill Bolt Co.

Sweeter than Honey Ministry brings services to Ruidoso Word Church

Bob Buess, who has been ministering the gospel for 50 years, will lead special services this Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Ruidoso Word Church in Ruidoso Downs.

Sweeter than Honey Ministry is the name of Buess's organization, which will bring the revival to Ruidoso Word Church at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, August 13 and 14, and at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, August 15, at the church.

According to a news release, Buess preaches messages on the full unveiling of Jesus Christ as a must for every disciple of Jesus.

Buess was a Southern Baptist preacher and missionary before receiving the baptism of the Holy Spirit in 1962, continues the release. He and his wife, Lillian, have been married for 46 years.

Buess also is the author of 12 books, including "Favor the Road to Success." "Many have called his book, "The Laws of the Spirit," their second Bible," says the release.

Everyone is invited to attend the services where organizers say participants will be encouraged to walk in the faith that was once delivered to the saints.

"You will find yourself laughing and crying at the same time as Jesus Christ is ministered with a fresh anointing."

"Brotherhood" revival is planned here

Recognizing the brotherhood of man, there will be a bilingual crusade at 7 p.m. Monday through Friday, August 16-20, at the First Baptist Church, 420 Mechem in Ruidoso.

In keeping with the theme, "I Am My Brother's Keeper," evangelist L.E. "Chief" Lawson will preach in English and the Spanish Mission pastor Luis Gomez will translate into Spanish.

Elioref Barrios will be the soloist and Hiliqas Barrios will be the instrumentalist.

The crusade will include preaching, singing, testimonies and much, much more. All people are encouraged to attend and bring a friend.

This service is open to all people, all ages, all races. A nursery will be provided for children, three and younger.

For more information, call 257-2081.

Seniors athletes compete

For the first time in many years, the New Mexico Senior Olympic Games (NMSOG) came and went with no Lincoln County athletes bringing home medals.

According to Cheryl LaBelle, executive director of Zia Senior Centers, only Lester Lanelli of Alto, who plays table tennis, entered the annual competition.

However, Lanelli, defending silver medalist, tore an Achilles tendon in practice and elected not to play at the games August 4 through 8 in Las Vegas, New Mexico, on the campus of New Mexico Highlands University.

No other county athlete signed up.

"Some said they didn't like the facility," said LaBelle. "Also, this year, the organizers moved the bowling to next month in Albuquerque."

The local team traditionally fields many bowlers.

NMSOG offers yearly competition to men and women ages 55 and over in archery, golf, racquetball, tennis, table tennis, basketball, pool, track and field, horseshoes, swimming, racewalking, shuffleboard, cycling, badminton, volleyball and other sports.

Game sites rotate among different New Mexico cities having college campuses.

For information on next year's games, contact LaBelle at 648-2121.

Officers of the local Knights of Columbus installed recently include (kneeling, from left) Michael Brillante, Daniel Sanchez, Robert Nys and Robert Johnston; (standing, from left) Jose Lopez, Alfred Trujillo, Albert Richardson, Jack Reed, Allen Full, Christopher Carusona, Joseph Koegler Sr., installing officer Gary Fickes of Las Cruces, and Raymond Baca. Romeo Klein is not pictured.

Knights install 1993-94 officers

Knights of Columbus, Father Eugene Dolan Council, No. 6597, installed new officers for the 1993-94 fraternal year on July 27.

District Deputy Gary C. Fickes of Las Cruces traveled to Ruidoso to conduct the installation. He was accompanied by his wife, Valerie.

Robert Nys will lead the group as grand knight this year, with Michael Brillante serving as past grand knight and trustee.

Officers include Daniel Sanchez, advocate; Robert Johnston, outside guard; Jose Lopez, financial secretary; Alfred Trujillo, treasurer; Albert Richardson, trustee; Jack Reed chancellor; Allen Full, deputy grand knight; Christopher Carusona, recording secretary;

Joseph Koegler Sr., trustee and past state deputy; Raymond Baca, warden; and Romeo Klein, inside guard.

The Knights of Columbus is a world-wide Catholic family-oriented, fraternal organization devoted to charitable works for its church, community and members.

Raphael Christy will present more of Charlie Russell saga

This Saturday, August 14, the Museum of the Horse proudly presents Raphael Christy in an encore performance as famed western artist, Charlie Russell.

His first performance at the Museum of the Horse in November of 1992 kept the audience raptly enthralled as he discussed the art and humor of Charles M. Russell.

This Saturday night, Christy will present his world renowned rendition of Charlie Russell in "Charlie Russell's Yarns, Part 2."

His performance is a continuation of the first presentation and delves more deeply into the man, Charlie Russell.

The vivid stories and artworks of C.M. Russell will spring to life in Raphael Christy's one-man show. Christy's internationally acclaimed portrayal of Montana's cowboy artist will begin at 7 p.m. and is free to the public.

In his own lifetime, Charlie Russell (1864-1926) became world famous for his paintings and sculptures depicting the pre-civilized western frontier. Among his contemporaries, Russell was also a legendary jokester and storyteller.

Charlie and popular American humorist Will Rogers were personal friends for more than 20 years.

Will acknowledged several times that Russell was "the best storyteller I ever heard."

Raphael Christy grew up in rural Michigan and attended Stanford University in the late 1960s graduating with a BA degree in English Literature.

In June 1992, Christy received an MA degree in History from the University of Montana. Over the past eight years, Christy has performed the Charlie Russell stories in 22 states, Canada and Australia.

Now residing in Albuquerque, Christy is pursuing a Ph.D degree in History at the University of New Mexico.

Visitors to the Museum of the Horse will thrill to Christy's presentation style as he combines Russell's words with his artworks by showing hundreds of projected slides throughout his performance. Russell's amusing way with old-time Montana lingo combined with his paintings, drawings and sculptures create a stunning effect.

The Kalispell, Montana, Daily Interlake stated, "Hal Holbrook was Mark Twain, James Whitmore was Will Rogers. And Raphael Christy is Charlie Russell."

Recently, the Rocky Mountain

News stated, "It's an amazing performance ... Christy's timing is stage perfect, the acting professional."

The Edmontonton, Alberta, Journal said, "It's easy to become enraptured."

Just one hundred years ago, Charlie Russell was working the Montana cattle ranges as an itinerant cowboy who also happened to sketch, paint and model clay while he told funny stories. By the time of his death in 1926 at the age of 62, Charles M. Russell, with the business leadership of his wife Nancy, had become a millionaire from the sale of his artworks to such notable figures as movie star, Douglas Fairbanks and England's Prince of Wales.

Charlie Russell's clear perspective in his artworks and yarn-spinning gives us a fresh look at old-time Indians, cowpunchers, bartenders, city dudes, fur trappers, bronc riders, varmints, road agents, cayuses, and campfire coffee - an insider's view of a pivotal era in American culture.

Everyone is cordially invited to enjoy this tremendous performance this Saturday night, August 14, at 7 p.m. at the Museum of the Horse.

For more information, call 378-4142.

VACATION INTERVAL
CLOSE-OUTS AND BANK REPOSSESSIONS
IN NEW MEXICO'S FINEST RESORT!

"Don't just take a Vacation - Own it Forever"

This world of resort vacations is waiting and you can join all the fun, relaxation, and add of deeded ownership in your very own vacation interval for as little as $3000 for a 2 or 3 bedroom unit during the summer horse racing or winter ski season at Crown Point Condominiums in Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Crown Point is truly the finest condominium resort in New Mexico, featuring a heated indoor pool, jacuzzi, racquetball court, game room, exercise equipment, lighted tennis courts, and much more. As an added bonus, Crown Point is affiliated with the RCI exchange network where membership can open the door for you in over 2400 quality resorts worldwide!

These prices are a fraction of original cost and truly make these vacation intervals some of the best values in America. If you would like to know more, call or write Rick Evans for a free brochure.
