Roadblocks used to cut down on DWIs

Don't drink and drive unless you're prepared to go to jail. The New Mexico State Police will be conducting sobriety check points in the Ruidoso area during the weekend of November 19-21. According to a news release, police are using the traffic check points as a tool in reducing alcohol related accidents in this area.

Como se dice turkey?

The Spanish class at Ruidoso High School is offering chances on a Thanksgiving turkey. Class members are raising funds by selling tickets at $1 each for a drawing on Monday, November 22. For more information, or to buy tickets, contact Kevin Clawson at 258-4910.

Pet lovers sponsor booth at the jubilee

When browsing through the Christmas Jubilee at the Civic Events Center this weekend, stop at the Lincoln County Humane Society booth. Antiques and other valuable and unique donations to the society thrift shop have been rounded up to entice shoppers. Gloria Graham, an independent art and jewelry designer with the Candle Power shop, put together the display. Photographs of some of the wonderful pets up for adoption will be featured on a Christmas poster.

Get your flu shot at Health Fiesta Friday

The flu season is here, and it's time to get those flu shots. You'll get your chance this Friday when Lincoln County Medical Center and the Lincoln County Public Health Department provide flu shots during the Health Fiesta at the Sierra Mall. Besides flu shots, a series of health screenings will be offered. Transportation for senior citizens and people with physical disabilities will be provided free by the Ruidoso Senior Citizens Center. Any eligible, interested persons needing transportation may contact Sandy Dutchover at the Ruidoso Senior Citizen Center by calling 257-4565.

RHS basketball boosters to meet

The Warrior Basketball Booster club will meet at 6:30 p.m. today (Thursday), November 11, in the public meeting room at Ruidoso High School. All parents of basketball players and persons interested in basketball are invited to attend. For more information, contact Paul Kirkwood at 258-4910.

According to the National Weather Service in Albuquerque, today will be cloudy with a chance of showers. Precipitation chances are 20 percent today, 30 percent tomorrow. The extended forecast for Saturday through Sunday calls for cloudy and cooler. Lows will be in the low 30s and highs will be in the low 50s.

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas!

The holiday shopping season will get a big sendoff this weekend when the Ruidoso Valley Greeters present the Christmas Jubilee at the Ruidoso Convention and Civic Events Center. Close to 70 shops will exhibit and sell their wares at the jubilee Friday, Saturday and Sunday, which offers free admission, entertainment and food booths. The Christmas Jubilee unfolds Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 12, 13 and 14. The doors open at 5 p.m. Friday, and will close at 8 p.m. Hours Saturday are from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m., and Sunday from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. "The best thing this year is that we have a record number of participants," said Sally Burkstaller, who is organizing and coordinating the spectacular shopping event. Besides the shopping, the Greeters will present Breakfast with Santa on Saturday morning, a fashion tea on Saturday afternoon and a drawing Sunday for a long list of valuable prizes. Parents and children are invited to have breakfast with the jolly old elf between 9 and 11 a.m. Saturday at the civic center. Youngsters will have a chance to talk to St. Nicholas, and he'll have a gift for each little visitor. Cost for the breakfast is $3 each, with a hot breakfast to be prepared and served by Rebecca Durham's talented crew from the Teepee Lounge at Ruidoso High School. Tickets for the breakfast are on sale now at the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and from Greeters. Tickets also will be available at the door. Make a day of it at the Fashion Tea at 3 p.m. Saturday. The Village Buttery, Ruidoso's newest catering company, will serve finger sandwiches, cookies and tea, while guests view the latest fashions displayed by some of the local shops taking part in the jubilee.

Tickets to the tea are just $6 each, and can be purchased in advance at the Chamber of Commerce or from Greeters. Seating is limited, so buy your tickets early. Prizes offered in this year's drawing include a bronze sculpture by Dave McGary and original artwork by Linda Smith. The list includes a signed print by Teri Sodd, a quilt handmade by Pat Guthrie and a denim jacket decorated by Jean Kuykendall. Other prizes include meals donated by area restaurants and entertainment. Tickets are $2 each or six for $10, and are available from member of the Ruidoso Valley Greeters. Tickets will be on sale at the jubilee, too; and you need not be present to win. Start your holidays off right at the Christmas Jubilee where you'll find something for everyone on your shopping list, and something for yourself, too.

Parents demand discipline in schools

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer
Parents and teachers of students in Ruidoso schools cried out Tuesday for more common sense regulations, consistency in enforcement of rules and swift consequences for violators. Helen Higgenbotham told members of the Ruidoso School Board that her daughter had been sexually assaulted in a classroom last Wednesday and the offender still was attending classes Monday. Before an audience of about 100 parents, teachers and students, Mrs. Higgenbotham explained that the boy grabbed her daughter between the legs and said lewd things to her. Terrified and outraged, her daughter went to a trusted teacher and then to a counselor.

Mrs. Higgenbotham said school authorities did not notify her of the incident that day. However, after a conference the following day, she felt reassured that action would be taken against the boy. But when her daughter attended the class again, the boy was there and the teacher was not aware the assault had occurred, Mrs. Higgenbotham said. After another meeting with school officials, she again was reassured. "So I waited until the following week to give it a couple of days, until Monday," she said. The boy still was in class Monday.

"My daughter said, 'Mom, we were lied to,'" Mrs. Higgenbotham said. "I told my daughter there would be action. How do you tell your daughter to believe in a system and it didn't work for her?" "My daughter is exposed to more violence in Ruidoso than in El Paso. I have petitioned the board. I want answers," Mrs. Higgenbotham said. "I want answers to the accountability of the people who are responsible for our children's welfare in school. I am frightened for the other kids. I think you will allow this to grow, if it's not stopped now."

"A pat on the hand does not stop sexual crimes," she said. "They grow and get bigger." Mrs. Higgenbotham later told The Ruidoso News that Coach (Mike) Gaston was the only one

Airport contract analyzed

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer
A Sierra Blanca Airport contract and the recent village auction raise several new concerns for the Ruidoso village administration. Village records indicate a year and a half has passed without receiving any aircraft royalties from overnight rentals. Plus, two airport items valued at about $1,000 were auctioned off recently without state auditors' approval and without being listed in the legal advertisements as pres-

Village Council offers manager's appointment to a former assistant

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer
The Ruidoso Village Council, after 30 minutes in closed session Tuesday, voted to offer former deputy manager Gary Jackson the position of village manager.

Mayor Jerry Shaw said that Jackson's fine work performance as deputy manager while he worked with the village earned respect from both the council and employees. Shaw said the council felt he deserved a chance at the village manager's position and that his familiarity with Ruidoso should be a plus in integrating into the job. Jackson left Ruidoso for a similar city manager's position in Texas.

Shaw, who appoints the village manager with the concurrence of the council, said that she expected an answer from Jackson within a week. Earlier, in the short one-hour regular session, Shaw read from a list of objectives submitted by the mayor and council on the expectations of a city manager.

Leadership headed the list, emphasizing strong day-to-day operations, carrying out the ordinances, resolutions, and policies enacted by the governing body. The day-to-day operation should be administered without interference from the council.

Councilors said communication is a necessity with the council, employees, public and news media. The manager should be an official public relations spokesperson. They stressed openness in dealing with media, citizens and employees. For community involvement, the council said the manager should maintain a high profile, work with the Chamber of Commerce and service clubs while creating a positive image for the village through these organizations.

Total quality management was discussed, saying the manager should encourage continued education for employees; has the ability to say no to employees; encourages performance with recognition; and provides for cross training of employees.

The council wrote that the manager needs to be fiscally responsible, a budget manager; follow state procurement codes; establish audit trails on all accounts; prepare, present, and administer the annual budget, being mindful of the best use of tax dollars.

Capital improvement projects, infrastructure, setting goals and objectives, pride in the municipal image and grants proficiency were all part of 10 points the council viewed as important to a village manager's job.

In other business, the mayor announced the MainStreet ground breaking ceremonies will take place at 10 a.m. Monday, November 15, in the parking lot of Fenton's Gallery near Fern Street and Sudderth Drive.

The council expressed both happress that the project has started and concern over several telephone calls they have received from merchants regarding disruptive construction work during the holidays.

I had several calls from MainStreet merchants concerned about the busy season coming and construction in progress," said Councilor Joe Gomez. "In answer to those requests, there is no good time. If we don't do it now, we'll be going into June, July and August. It will be bad then as well."

Gomez said if an apology helps he will apologize. "This project has been delayed long enough, I think we should proceed," he said.

The mayor agreed with Gomez, saying she also received similar calls. She said a healthy Ruidoso business climate has tightened the shoulder seasons. State Representative H. John Underwood (D) told the council he regrets that prior commitments will keep him from the ceremony.

Underwood was instrumental in obtaining money through the State Legislature for the project. Deputy manager Alan Briley, village staff liaison with the MainStreet project, said the project dates back to late 1989. He said many dignitaries throughout the state have been invited.

Briley said MainStreet membership is hosting a breakfast prior to the groundbreaking. In other business, the preliminary plan and plat for the 141-acre Cree Meadows Country Club Subdivision with 94 planned units was approved as recommended by planning and zoning.

The council said they were impressed with the architectural renderings submitted by developer Glenn Neans that pays special attention to the handicapped, and features all underground utilities.

Although Neans expressed a desire to rough cut roads immediately to assist layout, the council agreed with village planner Cleatus Richards, not to consider a change in the ordinance.

Neans said the delay would cost him about 30 days, but he was not dissatisfied with the council's decision.

Neans said between 30 and 40 percent of the area will concentrate on the handicapped. He said a six-foot privacy wrought iron fence with security gates will add protection.

In other items, the council and mayor: —proclaimed November Respect Ruidoso month and presented the proclamation to litter fighter Stephanie Chastain.

—approved the vacation of right of way for Debra Gonzales and David Warner to cure an encroachment of deck and steps.

—approved a request for proposals for hangar lease at Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

—approved an agreement with the county for a meals program.

cribed by law.

According to Franklin Aviation's agreement with the village, if space is available for overnight transient aircraft in the 6,000 square foot hangar, the company leases from the village, those rents are to be divided equally between the village and Franklin.

Both entities reserve the right to rent overnights.

Some royalties from rent were collected in 1991, but since April of 1992, the village has received no royalties for that hangar's overnight airplane storage.

Airport personnel said perhaps space was never available, because planes were always under repair in the hangar.

If that was the case, business would have been good.

However, airport manager Lloyd Wayne told the village council during its last regular Tuesday meeting that Jim Franklin and his mechanic worked hard to make a hangar rental and airplane repair business work, but they couldn't under the current situation.

A call to Jim Franklin by The Ruidoso News verified that the new business has struggled over the past two years.

Franklin, who is gone much of the time for airshows, appeared surprised that he did not receive or turn in revenue for overnight aircraft rental. He said he is sure that there has been airplane storage since that time.

Village officials think a loophole in the contract is the culprit.

The overnight charge for transient aircraft is $40, split between Franklin and the village. But one source said overnight storage was offered in exchange for an inexpensive service purchase. That purchase would be construed as airplane repair and, therefore, never show up on the books as storage, undercutting what both Franklin and the village could have received.

Regarding the village auction held at the Sierra Blanca Airport recently, two large items auctioned never made the legal ads. They are a "cherry picker" hoist to lift plane parts and airplane air jacks.

Earlier in the year, The Ruidoso News learned Wayne was negotiating a trade with Franklin for those two items in exchange for a World War II aircraft preunit heater owned by Franklin.

The District Attorney's office was investigating village practices at the time regarding trading without proper bids.

At that time, The News asked Wayne about the trade of the hoist and jacks for the heater. After he researched the matter, he said the trade never materialized.

On October 16, the village, joined by the Ruidoso school district, conducted an auction of hundreds of items at the airport. The village cleared nearly $15,000.

Auctioned items in the legal ad were approved by the state auditor as surplus, according to Terry Ward of village purchasing.

The "cherry picker" hoist and the air jacks never made that legal notice.

Nevertheless, they were sold at auction and the highest bidder was Franklin Aviation. The jacks sold for $600, the hoist for $325.

Wayne said he did not include the items on his original list of equipment to be auctioned.

Ruidoso Downs trustees get down to the basics Monday

by RENITA FREEMAN
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Trustees turned their attention to the three R's when the Village of Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees met Monday in regular session.

Routine was the word that best describes the meeting that dealt with reports and regular business.

Trustees approved monthly reports for the fire department, police, maintenance, court, animal control and code enforcement.

The fire department report showed three calls for the month. Two were the result of fuel spills and one was a dumpster fire. The total time reported was 47 minutes.

Downs police reported 21 arrests and 35 investigations for the month. Citations were issued for 30 traffic infractions. For October there eight traffic accidents without injuries were recorded.

Listed on the report were five agency assists. Miscellaneous calls on the report listed two burglaries, one assault/battery, three juvenile problems, 10 general disturbances, eight domestic disturbances and one suspicious person.

The village maintenance report listed several main and service line leak repairs, roads graded and backhoe work.

The court report showed a total payment summary of fines, $918; corrections, $453; and detox, $102.

Animal control report listed the number of animals boarded and number of animals returned. The total number of 50 animals had been handled for the month.

The code enforcement report listed nine violations. Four were reported as having complied.

Other business included the approval of publishing Ordinance 93-11 Amendments to Uniform Traffic Ordinance.

Ruidoso Downs Police Chief Will Hoggard explained that the ordinance was for the most part mandatory from the state dealing with such subjects as children in seat belts.

The state has not sent the entire ordinance to Ruidoso Downs officials yet, Hoggard explained. The vote to publish the ordinance was to comply with the regulation required to post a public notice.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Joe Hayhurst and trustees Judy Miller, Ray Hayhurst, Margie Morales and Charlotte Craig; and village clerk Leann Weibrecht.

strong enough to do anything. He pulled the boy off the football team.

"Five hundred kids got the message this week that sexual assault is OK. That scares me."

She said she had contacted the Ruidoso Police Department about pressing charges.

"I had hoped it would be handled within the school system," she said.

After the meeting, high school principal Don Weems and vice principal Danny Flores said the day of the incident, the boy's mother took him to the police department. He also is receiving counseling.

But Higgenbotham said the police were not notified until she contacted them.

The police officer handling the case could not be reached for confirmation Wednesday, but another officer said the boy and his mother had been in to see the investigator that day.

During the school board meeting, Frank Sawyer urged the board to do something immediately.

"There has got to be some action in the morning," he told the board.

"Four of you have daughters in school."

Turning to member James Paxton, he said, "Paxton, my friend, you'd still have your hands around his neck if that had been your daughter. That's tragic."

A member of the student council told board members such incidents are common.

One out of three girls is harassed everyday and I've never read anything about it in the policy book," the student said. She blamed the "action on 'tax discipline'" and urged the board to pay attention to what was being said by students and parents.

Teacher Pixie Arthur, who served on a school disciplinary advisory committee that sent recommendations to the board, said 39 out of 41 faculty members signed a petition calling for the administration to implement what's written in their rules.

In selecting a second committee to review proposed rule changes and tightening, she asked the board to include students, teachers and some who are considered troublemakers.

Jami Mulholland asked that several members of the student council executive board be allowed to serve and Superintendent Mike Gladden agreed.

Mulholland said she fears for the safety of her younger brother who has just started attending the high school.

"There's a lot of talk and nothing gets done. It's really scary for me," she said. "You should start tomorrow and not three years from now when my brother is a senior and he says the same things I am today."

Respect is the key, one parent said. Respect for property, teachers and rules begins at home.

"If they don't set the rules there, teachers can't do it at school," she said. "If they disrespect the counselors. Where did they learn that? At home."

Student council president Jenny Ames said "about 10 percent (of the students) don't have that respect."

It's up to the board to do something to improve the learning atmosphere for the other 90 percent, she said.

"We trust you and put you in charge of our futures," she told board members.

"That 10 percent is not going to go anywhere anyway. That's a terrible thing to say. Maybe we should come up with a plan to help the troublemakers learn respect. We need more positive reinforcement."

A substitute teacher suggested creating an alternative school.

"I want our children to feel safe and I don't think they do right now," Arthur said.

Another teacher said the rules should not apply to only one or two schools. They should be district-wide.

Kent Beatty, a golf coach, said things are happening at Ruidoso schools that aren't supposed to.

"Our school is so intent on money, we put up with a lot of bad stuff," he said. We have the fifth highest paid teachers in the state, yet our students turned in below average performance in a state that is below average in the nation.

We have a beautiful campus. When taxpayers give you everything you want, they expect above average performance."

What people seem to want to see is "more kick butt and less kiss butt," he said.

"Maybe we're too fearful of lawsuits and we may need to relook at our philosophy," Beatty said.

"The problem is we all want hard discipline except when it's our own child."

Parent Tim Hoyt said many private schools turn out better students for less money than the public system.

"The problem is our kids who do have respect have to go to school with those who don't," he said.

School administration responds to criticism

Superintendent of Ruidoso Schools Mike Gladden was instructed by the board of education Tuesday to take immediate steps to achieve a consistent discipline policy and enforcement at all levels.

Gladden sent out the following letter to the staff at the high school Wednesday. He stressed that it is only a first step, and noted that he's asking for the help and cooperation of the entire staff and student body.

Gladden said he'll meet soon with groups of students and faculty members to get their input on revising the current discipline policy.

Following is the entire text of that letter:

"Successfully resolving the issues discussed at the Board of Education meeting held on Tuesday, November 9, 1993, should be the shared goal of our community, our staff, our students and our administration. In order to attain that goal, every individual must commit time and effort to developing and implementing actions designed to ensure safety for our students and staff, effective discipline policies and consistent enforcement, and the mutual support and respect among the Ruidoso High School staff and students to effectively meet the day-to-day challenges that are inherent in education today.

"Combining the talents and expertise that each member of the RHS staff possesses with the talents and expertise of our community members, parents and students will provide the elements of a team that can and will resolve those issues that are negatively impacting our educational process.

"In regard to the specific staff and student situations that were commented on from the audience last night, be assured that a fair resolution of the issues and the rights of every individual involved have been of primary concern. Statutes relating to confidentiality of information and the legal rights of students and personnel does not always allow for public sharing of all details regarding the matters.

"I have been aware of the issues regarding student and staff accountability, in general, at the high school during recent weeks and have been communicating with students, board members, staff, parents and administration to address the concerns.

"After careful consideration, the following actions will be immediately instituted:

"1. At the direction of the Board of Education, I will convene a secondary committee (middle and high school) composed of students, staff members and parents to evaluate the issues of discipline and develop recommendations for modifications where needed;

"2. A full report, with recommendations of the secondary committee will be presented to the Board of Education on Tuesday, December 14, 1993;

"3. Consistent compliance with the current procedures of discipline as specified in the 'Student Handbook' is to be followed until modifications, if any, are made. Staff accountability for the consistent enforcement of the policies will be monitored; and

"4. In the near future, I will be convening meetings to review elementary discipline issues and develop a parallel system.

"I anticipate your cooperation and appreciate your efforts and commitment to successfully meet the challenges we are currently facing in providing an encouraging and safe learning environment for our students."

"I think the campus ought to be closed.

"My son got suspended for defending himself several years ago and here's a boy sexually assaulting a girl and nothing happens. Something has flip-flopped."

Another student council member said she objected to being punished with a closed campus for the sins of that 10 percent.

Dwight Andrews said he doesn't expect school board members to be in classrooms everyday, but he is concerned about the attitude of administration toward major items such as damage to the boy's locker room, the cafeteria, the elevator, broken windows, and to teachers and students being hit and harassed.

With rights, come responsibilities. To allow a student to swear at a teacher and stay in school "I find unbelievable," he said.

"I believe in the last four years, we've let a few ruin it for the many. I've seen a substantial change in the conduct allowed on campus.

"If a child can't respect and has no fear, we can't do him any good. He must realize that there is a consequence for bad actions, otherwise we'll read about him in the paper later, There's an alternative school and they call it jail."

Lisa Jensen asked the board to consider adding more lights around the school for the safety of people leaving classes at night.

The serious situation soon was lost in a litany of less significant complaints.

Former school board member Rod Adamson called for the closing of the high school campus, saying he had favored it for a long time. He became convinced it was necessary when a car load of students on their way to lunch, driving recklessly, passed him in a no passing zone on a curve. He pulled off road to let them by, Adamson said.

"I've been advocating closing it for several years. What will it take, a death?" he asked.

He listed the advantages of closing the campus as slowing down noon day traffic, cleaning up the parking lot, reducing tardies and increasing revenues in the cafeteria.

"It is not a cure all, but it's a start," he said.

Teacher Gerald Ames honed in on another angle.

"We hold our children to a double standard and a much higher standard than for ourselves," he said. "We shut the campus down a few weeks ago and the kids went out and cleaned it up. One of the funny things that happened was, the Rotary (Club) had their dinner and the adults of this community trashed that parking lot."

"I was run off the road the other day by a lady of about 60 years old. Another thing, a policeman drove through our parking lot smoking a cigarette. A student asked him to stop, because it was a tobacco free campus, and he said 'So what,' and

"I wonder if some of the problems we're having with discipline is that we're asking our students to do something our adults won't."

He urged members of the board to spend a week at the school "to see the confrontations we have to go through, the things we have to do to try to survive there to enforce the rules that you put out."

"Did you people realize we have a rule against public displays of affection. I have to interpret and enforce it, heaven knows."

He said teachers also are exposed to potential injury trying to break up fights.

"And it's something I think I am going to stop doing," he added.

"We have people who are not nice at our school," Ames said. "They're your children. We have a bunch who never do homework. They're your children. The question I have for the community is, when are you going to make sure they do their homework?"

"Somewhere along the line, we are told to do things, but we don't get any support for it."

Several students contended about 10 percent of the enrollment cause the problems on the campus. They opposed closing the campus and recommended eliminating rules prohibiting caps or hats during certain hours of the school day.

When one boy wearing a knit cap rose to speak, board president Ron Hemphill told him to follow the rules and remove his hat.

But Ames pointed out, Hemphill was in error. The rule only applies until 3 p.m. on school days. That's one of the major problems in enforcing it, he said.

Hemphill took exception to Ames' statement and said as board president, it was his prerogative to require those addressing the board to remove their hats. He told Ames to sit down.

The boy went on to suggest that students serving detention be required to use their time picking up litter around the campus.

"Maybe you should worry more about big issues like this woman's daughter than the little things like hats," the boy told the board.

"Hats have nothing to do with gangs here," a substitute teacher said. "Our heads get cold. Hats are not disrupting the educational environment."

Tying hats into respect, a teacher said she counted 38 men who left their hats on during graduation ceremony two years ago.

"It would be a wonderful opportunity at graduation to ask the men to please remove their hats at a public function," she said.

Several teachers and students said either ban hats or leave it up to individual teachers how to react in their classrooms.

Teacher Galen Farrington submitted a list of suggestions from the discipline committee that repeatedly emphasized enforcement consistency and spelling out consequences for students.

Tim Hoyt (above) offers his ideas about room (left) was packed with parents, discipline problems in the Ruidoso school teachers and students concerned about system to school board members. The discipline, primarily at the high school.

Domestic violence: getting to the root of the problem

by FRANKIE JARRELL
The Ruidoso News Editor
Part 3 in a series

Maybe it's time to back up a little. Is there any way to avoid ever getting into a relationship with a batterer?

It's been established that beating your mate is a crime, and volumes of research show that it's a violent and recurring crime that usually follows some sort of a pattern or cycle.

Men who beat their wives once are very likely to do it again — and again — and again...

Without some outside intervention, the vicious cycle doesn't get better — it just gets worse, and finally a victim is maimed emotionally, psychologically and sometimes even physically.

In the end, the violence is likely to escalate until one partner kills the other. And, over the last few years, the public has learned through some highly publicized cases that it could very well be the victim who kills her tormenter.

Either way, at least two lives are destroyed. In most cases the damage circles out to destroy entire families.

Look before you leap

But, to go back to the beginning, one way to avoid becoming a victim of domestic violence is to know what signs to look for in a battering personality.

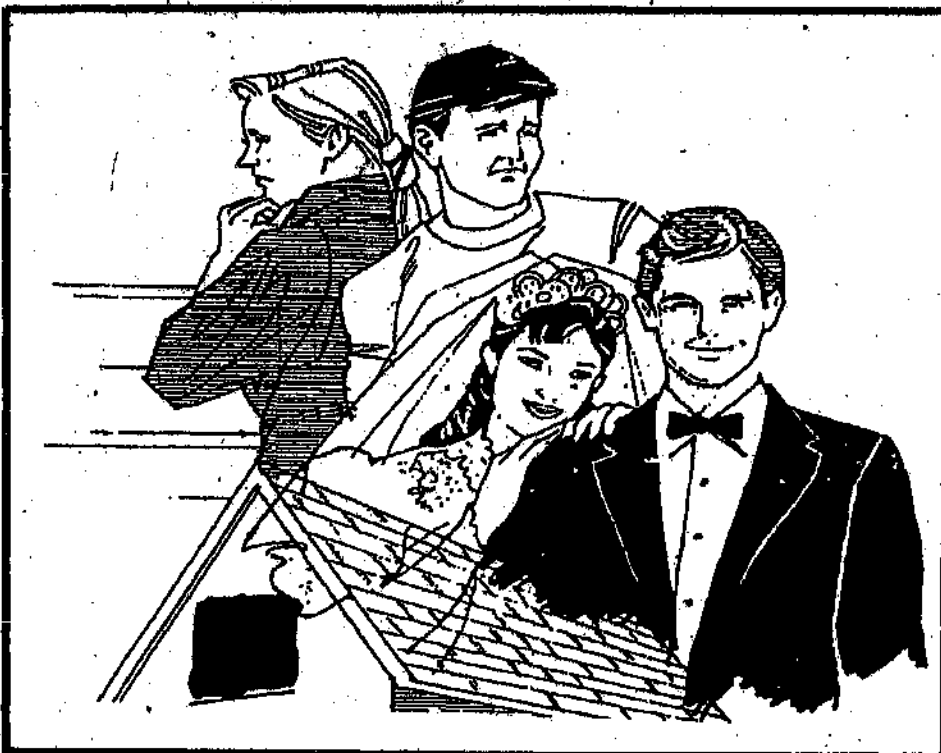

If you or someone in your family is "dating," then that's the time to take a close and objective look at that man who may be trying to sweep you off your feet.

Take off the rose-colored glasses and analyze some characteristics listed below. If the person has several of the behaviors, there is a strong potential for physical violence.

The following list of signs to help identify a potential batterer are included in the Family Crisis Center training manual:

Be on the alert

1. Jealousy: Sure, it's flattering to think of jealousy as a sign of "love," but the truth is extreme jealousy is dangerous to a relationship and to a woman's health and well-being. In the extreme, this kind of jealousy leads to endless questions over who you talk to, who called, where you went; and as it progresses an overly jealous partner may not even allow his mate to work for fear she'll meet someone else. If your lover checks your car mileage or questions your friends, then he's likely to become a batterer.

2. Controlling behavior: Initially, out of concern, a batterer will help with all decisions, and as his need to control gets worse he may keep all the money or even require his mate to ask permission before going to the grocery store or to church.

3. Quick involvement: Watch out for the whirlwind romance and love at first sight. If a new boyfriend comes on too strong and moves too fast, back off and get acquainted before getting too involved.

4. Unrealistic expectations: If he's too dependent on that "perfect" wife, mother, lover, friend to meet all his needs he may be looking for an emotional crutch. If he begins a sentence with, "If you loved me..." then run for cover!

5. Isolation: the man tries to cut the woman off from all resources — family, friends, neighbors co-workers.

6. Blames others for his problems: If the devil didn't make him do it, then somebody else did — and it's likely to be you.

7. Blames others for his feelings: Batterers say "you make me mad" and other such statements to show that your behavior led to his feelings which could likely lead to violence.

8. Hypersensitivity: life is never fair to these guys who are ready to list all the things that have happened to them, from losing their jobs to getting a traffic ticket.

9. Cruelty to animals or children: anyone who punishes animals brutally or is insensitive to their pain or suffering is likely to beat or emotionally batter the women and children in their lives. A batterer often expects children to be able to do things they can't (for instance, whipping a two-year-old for wetting his diaper) or he may tease youngsters so cruelly that they cry. 60 percent of men who beat the woman they are with, also beat their children.

10. "Playful" use of force in sex: a batterer wants his woman to know he's in control in this area of their lives, as well as in all others.

11. Verbal abuse: in addition to saying things that are meant to be cruel and hurtful, this can be seen by the man degrading the woman, cursing her, running down any of her accomplishments. This may involve waking her up to verbally abuse her or not letting her go to sleep.

12. Rigid sex roles: The man expects a woman to serve him. The abuser will see women as inferior to men, more stupid, unable to be a whole person without a relationship.

13. Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde: it's confusing when Mr. Nice Guy is happy one minute and explodes the next, but explosiveness and mood swings are typical of men who beat their partners, and these behaviors are related to other characteristics such as hypersensitivity.

RED ALERT! RED ALERT!

*These last four signs are almost always seen only if the person is a batterer!

*14. Past battering: You may hear about this from relatives or ex-spouses, but take such accusations seriously. He may admit he has hit women in the past, but claim they made him do it. A batterer will beat any woman he is with; situational circumstances do not make an abusive personality.

*15. Threats of violence: this would include any threat of physical force to control the woman. Most men do not threaten their mates, but a batterer will try to excuse this behavior by saying everybody does it.

*16. Breaking or striking of objects: This behavior is used as a punishment (breaking loved possessions), but is mostly used to terrorize the woman into submission. The man may beat on tables with his fist, throw objects around or near the woman. Again, this is a very remarkable behavior; only very immature people beat on objects in the presence of other persons in order to threaten them.

*17. Any force during an argument: This may involve a man holding a woman down, physically restraining her from leaving the room, any pushing or shoving. If he grabs your arm to make you listen, then he's likely to hit you or beat you.

Families in crisis

If you're not sure how to read some of these signs, get help.

Family Crisis Center volunteers will listen to your concerns and discuss options and possible scenarios without making judgments or giving advice.

If you'd just like to talk, call the Family Crisis Center telephone line, 257-7365.

That number is answered 24 hours a day, seven days a week by the Ruidoso Police Department. The dispatchers will take your telephone number and a crisis center volunteer will call you back.

Family Crisis Center also presents a weekly women's group session at Dr. Birgit LaMothe's office in Compound 1401 at 1401 Sudderth Drive.

The free, and confidential, group meets at noon each Monday at Dr. LaMothe's office.

It's open to the public, and all women are welcome to attend.

WATCH FOR PART 4: Shall I call the police? What to expect from the legal system.

Family Crisis Center

Victims of domestic violence in Lincoln County are served by the non-profit Family Crisis Center.

The organization was formed some 10 years ago in response to the growing number of domestic abuse incidents being reported in this area.

Family Crisis Center's board includes Paul Vordermann, Arlene Brown, Lila Goodman, Jennie Dorgan, Debi Jeter, Frankie Jarrell, Kathy Anderson, Frances Berry and Dorothy and Don Ellis.

A very small group of trained and dedicated volunteers works with the board and answers emergency calls from area police departments and the Sheriff's Department.

More volunteers are always needed to answer calls, to provide transportation and to spend time talking with victims at the police department or the hospital.

Volunteers never (NEVER) go to the homes of victims of domestic violence, and they don't give out their last names. Police officers work closely with volunteers.

Family Crisis Center also has a contract with mental health therapist Birgit LaMothe who provides individual and group counseling. LaMothe helps train volunteers and also volunteers her time for a weekly women's group session at noon Mondays in her office at 1401 Sudderth Drive.

Family Crisis Center relies entirely on donations to pay for emergency housing in area motels, food and transportation for victims and their families. Motel owners help by providing housing at very low prices, and food can be obtained through the Food Bank.

Once a year the Family Crisis Center raises funds with a spaghetti dinner at the Inn-Credible, and this year's dinner on Tuesday was a huge success. The final figures aren't in yet.

If you have some time, and would like to help break the cycle of domestic violence, call Arlene Brown at 257-7712 and sign up for the next training session.

Auditors criticize Ruidoso Schools for lack of accounting controls

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Failure to follow established purchasing policies could be a weakness in the Ruidoso School District's internal control system, according to state auditors.

Five irregularities in expenditure transactions were cited in the district's 1992-93 audit, which was approved by the School Board Tuesday.

Similar irregularities were detected last year. They were discovered during a random sample as part of the annual auditing process.

The irregularities listed were: an invoice date preceding a purchase order date; a purchase order without the date or the amount; a purchase order with no authorized amount or approval, purchase order; invoices and checks issued that were not in agreement; and proper documentation or invoice was lacking.

The auditors stated that in some cases, purchases originated outside of the central purchasing office, sometimes through the district's emergency procurement procedure. Possible lack of training and fiscal management oversight also may be a cause, the auditors wrote.

The auditors recommended that the purchasing procedures be reviewed and revised to meet the district's policies. All purchase orders should originate through central purchasing, following prescribed purchasing procedures established by the district, they said.

In the district's response to the state auditors, finance officer Caron Snow said when invoice dates precede purchase order dates, solid reasons for the purchases exist.

"Closer care will be taken to address the issue of incomplete purchase orders," she wrote. "All district purchase orders are authorized. Closer scrutiny will take place to ensure that district procurement meets compliance."

A second cited deficiency dealt with a random sample of personnel files, which showed a significant number of files lacking the required federal withholding form and a federal immigration form.

"In some cases, the required forms were found, but were completed incorrectly," the auditors stated. Both are federal requirements.

The auditors noted that because of an effort to consolidate personnel files and include all information in a central location, some payroll forms might have been misplaced.

"The possibility of a lack of fiscal management oversight also exists," they stated.

Snow responded that the district will review all personnel files for their completeness. Additional district personnel will be charged with completing this review on an ongoing basis.

The last deficiency cited was that school activity funds records do not contain year-to-date receipt and disbursement amounts.

"This has resulted in various errors in recording transactions," the auditors wrote. "Timely reconciliation of year-to-date aggregate receipts and disbursements for these funds has not been attained," they stated.

Timely reconciliation would be within 30 days of the end of an accounting period, the auditors said.

"Possible causes would include the lack of a fiduciary or agency accounting system, which provides aggregate detailed fund information on a year-to-date basis," they stated. "The possibility of the lack of fiscal management oversight also exists."

The condition "has resulted in various errors, which have not been corrected on a timely basis."

The auditors recommended installing general detailed accounting control accounts for all revenue and expenditures at the central office, also requiring the site schools to maintain subsidiary records on a year-to-date basis for revenue and expenditures so that timely reconciliation is possible.

The district responded that all student activity funds are reconciled jointly and monthly by the central office business manager and/or designee and school site secretaries in accordance with the district's fiduciary and custodial policies.

"The district has established new accounting procedures and reporting formats in accordance with the new manual for budgeting and accounting, which addresses this finding subsequent to June 30, 1993," said Snow.

P&Z to rule on an orthodontist's request to operate an office in a residential area

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission will hear a request for an orthodontist to operate out of a residence during its regular meeting at 2 p.m. Monday, November 15, in village hall.

The request is for property located in a single family residential area (R-1) on Country Club Drive which formerly housed Red Door Antiques.

According to village planner Cleatus Richards, use and frequency of use in the area would be reduced and would be allowed under guidelines of Non-Conforming Uses.

Mike Taylor has a full practice in Roswell and will have part-time office hours in Ruidoso for adjustment of braces. Hours currently proposed will be two days per month, but could increase with business in the future.

The antique shop previously operated five days a week.

In other business, the board will consider:

—a conditional use for Tract Z, Anderson Tracts, requested by Ron Andrews. Andrews wants to construct a 40 by 56 feet accessory building prior to construction of a principal residential building.

According to Richards, a conditional use permit is needed for a no occupancy building.

Andrews proposes to use the building for storage, workshop, tackroom and to facilitate home construction by providing storage for building material and tools.

—a variance for the side yard of Dorothy Holt Kimsey.

Kimsey is requesting the variance to construct a carport addition attached to the existing residence with side yard setback of one foot where 10 feet is required.

Richards recommends the board deny the variance and Kimsey be directed to pursue alternate locations within the required setbacks. He said lot topography and flood plain limits do not preclude development conforming to district regulations.

—a variance for the side yard of Dr. and Mrs. T.A. Ritch in the Sleepy Hollow Subdivision.

Richards said on October 5,

1992, the planning commission granted a five foot side yard variance and 3.66 foot front yard variance for a new residence on Ritch's property. Existing decks were allowed to remain within 6.33 of the front property line.

Richards said an error was discovered in the survey which placed the structure within 8.5 feet of the easterly property line where 10 is required. Ritch has obtained consent of adjoining property owner and is requesting additional side yard variance of 1.5 feet.

Richards recommends favorable consideration for the variance because the error was not the fault of Ritch.

—a front yard variance for Sue Taylor of Ruidoso Acres.

Taylor is seeking an 18 foot variance to allow a 19 by 20-foot open carport in the existing parking area.

Taylor also seeks approval for a second open carport for two vehicles which would extend into the Hill Road right of way.

Richards said Taylor's plan for two carports appears to be excessive for development as a matter of convenience. He said reasonable use of the property would be accomplished by allowing one carport. Richards recommends favorable consideration of the Main Road request and denial of the Hill Road request.

—an amended commercial site development for B&P Enterprises.

Bill Tiller's property contains approximately 30,000 square feet. He is requesting approval to allow change in use of a portion of the lower level of the Four Seasons Mall from retail use to restaurant use.

—an amended commercial site development for Paul and Pat Martin in the Navajo Subdivision.

Martin's property contains approximately 7,400 square feet developed as a restaurant. He is now requesting approval to cover and enclose the deck area to provide year around seating.

Richards said seating capacity will not be increased and development is within the required setbacks. He recommends approval as requested.

Hit and run suspect arrested in Ruidoso Downs

by RENITA FREEMAN
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Lee A. Hardaway, 36, of 29 Pines on Sudderth Drive, has been charged with seven misdemeanor offenses after being accused in a Midtown hit and run accident.

Hardaway was arrested for driving while intoxicated (a second offense), no driver's license, careless driving, open container, no insurance, duty upon striking a parked vehicle and immediate notification of accident.

Hardaway was transported to the Ruidoso Detention Facility where he was given an Intoximeter 3000 (breathalyzer) test three times. The results of the test showed a .25, .27 and .25. The amount considered legally intoxicated is .10.

According to Ruidoso Downs patrol officer Minerva Davalos, the Downs Police Department was notified at 10:40 p.m. that a white Mustang had hit a parked car in Midtown and had left the scene.

The report stated that the Downs officer was asked to watch for a white Mustang with extensive front end damage that may have been involved in the crash.

Officer Davalos noticed a small white car that had front end damage on highway 70. The vehicle in question seemed to have steam coming from under the hood, the police report stated.

The vehicle was followed to Westview and River Lane in Ruidoso Downs where it stalled. Davalos' report stated a strong smell of alcohol was detected.

Davalos stated in the report that the driver of the vehicle had red watery eyes and no driver's license.

The report then went on to state that Hardaway was given a field sobriety test and the heel-to-toe test before being taken to the Ruidoso Detention Center.

The charges against Hardaway are all misdemeanors. Each charge is assessed differently, according to Ruidoso Downs Police Chief Will Hoggard.

Santa Cops workshop is open

Christmas will be brighter for hundreds of children thanks to Santa Cops. The organization has opened its doors to begin preparation for the Yule season.

Santa Cop's workshop is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday to Saturday.

Area groups are pitching in to help. Tuesdays the Ruidoso Woman's Club mans the shop. United New Mexico Bank workers help out on Wednesday and The Alrusa Club are helping out on Thursday.

Volunteers are needed. Anyone who has a spare hour and would like to put it to good use is welcome to stop by Santa Cops. Help is needed in wrapping according to Freda McSwane Santa Cops coordinator.

The workshop is in Pinetree Square beside KBUY radio station at 2818 Sudderth Drive.

Donations of canned goods, bows, wrapping paper, tape, ribbon, pampers, infant formula and toys are needed.

For more information on Santa cops contact the James McSwane at the Lincoln County Sheriff's office 257-2716.

Possible racetrack merger is mentioned in state radio show

Ernie Mills, well-known syndicated columnist who broadcasts out of KSWZ in Santa Fe, peaked interest in his "Just asking" segment recently, when he asked what's going on between Ken Newton and R.D. Hubbard.

Newton owns The Downs at Santa Fe, which also runs the state fair meet. R. D. Hubbard owns Ruidoso Downs, Hollywood Park and others.

Representatives at The Downs race track said Newton was looking for investors.

No one could be reached for comment at Ruidoso Downs Race Track on Thursday morning.

Powwow honors veterans

Colorful costumes, fantastic displays of feathers and the rhythmic beat of dances created centuries ago by nomadic ancestors will ensure a terrific weekend of entertainment at the Veterans Memorial Benefit Pow-Wow in Mescalero.

The Friday and Saturday event will benefit St. Joseph Apache Mission, which was dedicated to the Veterans of World War I and II. Built by local people under the lead of Father Albert Braun, a chaplain in both wars, the church needs repairs.

Proceeds will help preserve the place of worship and memorial to veterans of future generations.

Saturday's events will start with a gourd dance.

The grand entry is scheduled for 7 p.m. and the public is welcome to come and bring their cameras. Take advantage of this opportunity to save memories of the Apache dance traditions.

On Saturday, November 13, the gourd dance will begin at 2 p.m. with a break from the entertainment at 5 p.m. for supper, picking up with the dance again at 6 p.m. and the Pow-Wow Grand Entry at 7 p.m.

Fry bread and other special treats will be on sale during the day. Supper menus vary, but traditionally consist of meat, chili, potato salad and fried bread.

Raymond Little Sr. of Mescalero will share the duties of master of ceremonies with Raymond Little Jr. of Page, Arizona, and Mark McNair of Kammath Falls, Oregon.

Five residents of Mescalero will take the lead parts in the dance: Dylan Téo from Mescalero will be the head man dancer, Claudia Saenz will be head lady dancer, Gary Ahidley Jr. the head little boy dancer, Starlen Bigrope, the head little girl dancer and George Klineko the head gourd dancer.

Bernard Duran from Laguna, New Mexico, will act as head gourd dance singer. Swift Eagle of Santa Domingo will be host northern drum and the Southern Eagles of Mescalero will be host southern drum.

Although many other dances are scheduled throughout the afternoons, the well-known gourd dance is a type of blessing dance, performed mostly by older men, who all dance at one time.

They wear a blanket and outfit of special design, and carry gourd rattles. They dance in their own space and in their own way.

"It's for a blessing, celebrating," said Charlene Morgan, a liaison with the Ruidoso School District for Mescalero students.

"For a veterans powwow, they will be saying we're proud of our veterans and those who passed on, dancing for them to keep their memory in place.

"It's really an individual thing how it is done. Only the men dance, not the women.

"The whole pow-wow centers around different dances at different times."

The grand entry is the big attraction, not just for viewers, but participants as well, she said.

"Everybody participates in the grand entry, wearing their best," Morgan said. "We all come together to bring us all back as one family, to meet with old friends, meet new ones and see family members."

"It's kind of a social thing."

For more information, contact Freddie Kaydahzinne at 505-671-4494.

The Pow-Wow is sponsored by St. Joseph Mission and Southern Eagles.

State requires tags on cut trees offered for sale in New Mexico

Every cut Christmas tree offered for sale in New Mexico in 1993 must be identified with a green tag.

The requirement includes cut trees that are shipped in by out-of-state, commercial growers and those sold by woodland owners, according to Bill Duemling, service forester with the state Forestry and Resources Conservation Division.

The tags are issued by the division. Christmas tree vendors can purchase them for 10 cents per tree. Before buying a cut tree from an individual, lot, grocery store, garden store or other businesses, look for the tag.

Anyone planning on cutting their own tree for personal use also is subject to regulation. A state forestry tree tag is not required, but the cutter must have proof of ownership of the property from which the tree is removed, or written permission from the landowner.

Living Christmas trees do not need a State Forestry tag. Balled and burlap-wrapped, potted and other containerized stock are regulated by the New Mexico Department of Agriculture, which monitors transplanted material to prevent the spread of contagious insects and disease pests.

Living trees that grow in the wild can only be collected and resold by a licensed nursery dealer and each tree must have a department tag. Controlled environment nurseries that grow living trees also are subject to department regulations and licensing.

Prospective commercial, cut Christmas tree vendors may obtain an application form for tags at any district office of the state forestry by mail or in person.

A request for tags should be accompanied by the following information and documents: a legal description of the property where the trees are harvested if within New Mexico; a bill of sale if another party owns the land or the trees are from out-of-state; the address and phone number of a landowner or official representative, and the amount and species of trees to be harvested.

A bill of sale can consist of a letter from the landowner or official representative that includes the landowner address and phone number, an authorized signature, a legal description of the harvest area, the authorized amounts and species to be removed, and the effective date and expiration date of permission.

Other examples of valid bills of sale include a U.S. Forest Service commercial Christmas tree harvest permit, purchase orders for out of state trees, or a completed signed New Mexico State Forestry woody products removal form, which can be picked up at any district office.

Having the proper documentation at the time of request for tags will speed up the process.

Landowners planning on harvesting trees on their own property for resale must provide proof of ownership when applying for the tags and should carry the documentation whenever they transport trees. A recent tax bill will suffice. An officially designated land manager can substitute for a landowner during the tag application process.

The forestry's one-page form can serve the purpose of written consent when completed by the legal owner of officially designated land manager.

The U.S. Forest Service has its own permit process and tags for personal use Christmas tree cutting.

Remember to carry permits, tags or permission letters when collecting or transporting Christmas tree or firewood.

For more information, contact the Capitan District of the State Forestry at P.O. Box 277, Second and White Oaks, Capitan, NM 88316.

Musical benefits Mescalero woman

A musical performance in Albuquerque will benefit Mescalero Apache tribal member Rufina Laws and the National Environmental Coalition for Native Americans.

The program, A Tribute to LeRoy Jackson starring native American poet, songwriter, activist and actor John Trudell, will be staged at 7 p.m. Friday, November 12, at the UNM Continuing Education Auditorium, 1634 University Boulevard N.E.

Special musical guests will be "Paintings" featuring Bob Nakaidinae and William Bluehouse Johnson.

Tickets are $15 $10, and $5 and are available at the door, or from La Montanita Co-op Supermarket, 265-4631; Salt of the Earth Bookstore, 842-1220; and the ASUNM Special Events Office, 277-5602.

Business education students to help chamber board solicit new members

by RENITA FREEMAN
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

In the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce board meeting last week, Joan Bailey reported that all chamber sponsored special events have experienced increased attendance.

Those events include Aspenfest, Oktoberfest and the Culpepper & Merriweather Circus.

Board member Joe Gomez has accepted the chairmanship for the 1994 Connoisseur Classic V wine tasting festival to take place at the Museum of the Horse.

L.J. Jameson was approved to take the place of Ron Wicker on the board.

James Hobbs and Danny Sisson will co-chair the Chamber's membership drive starting Wednesday, November 17.

The high school Distribution Education of America (DECA) students will join forces with the chamber to work as the focus of the national DECA program.

The one-day program will start with a kick-off breakfast. The students will accompany chamber members as they try and solicit new members.

The Chamber board will donate 10 percent of each new member's dues to the DECA program.

High kicking soccer team caps off year with a dozen wins

by RENITA FREEMAN
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Warrior soccer team finished the season with a 12-4 record.

A recap of the season shows a 1-4 loss in the first game of the year against Carlsbad. In the second game the Warriors fought back to take the win by 9-2 over Socorro.

Santa Teresa fell 6-2 in the match against the Warriors. The next two games were hard fought battles that the Warriors could not pull out. Carlsbad came back from the first defeat to down the Warriors 0-2. Gadsden barely pulled out the win with a 1-2 score.

The next three games went to the Warriors. Alamo JV, Mayfield JV and Portales were defeated with a 2-1, 3-0 and 6-0 respectively.

Belen topped the Warriors with a 1-3 score. The Ruidoso soccer team rallied to come back the next week with a 5-2 win over Gadsden. The winning streak continued with a 1-0 final in the Oñate match.

Santa Teresa tried a second time to take the win but fell flat as the Warriors took the match with a 2-1 final.

In the final four games of the season the Warriors blew away Oñate, NMML, Alamo JV and Portales with finals of 3-0, 3-1, 2-1 and 1-0.

Scoring stats for the season were Lief Anderson with 16 goals and five assists and Cory Hood with eight goals and nine assists. Danny Schrader racked up nine goals. Oswald Aleman was credited with three goals and one assist.

Jimmy Stover had two goals and five assists for the season. Isaac Sanchez had two goals. Daniel Espinosa was listed as having two goals and one assist. Matt Harshey and Matt Norbury both were credited with one goal and one assist each.

Matthew Ensor had three assists. Jared DeBaca had one goal credited to him. Dryller Hiseel had one goal and Brent Buchhagen was credited with one assist.

Keeper stats listed Harshey with having 1,205 playing minutes with 149 saves and 19 goals allowed, Norbury with 70 minutes with four saves and no goals allowed, Hiseel with 20 minutes of play and two saves and two goals allowed.

Keeper stats for Hood listed five minutes of play with one save and no goals allowed.

Soccer coach Dean Hood was pleased overall with the seasons results.

"We finished out our soccer season with two victories over Alamo JV and Portales. On October 26 we traveled to Alamogordo to play their junior varsity. We won that game by a score of 2-1 in overtime," Hood said.

"Goals were scored by Lief Anderson and Daniel Espinosa with an assist from Cory Hood. Matt Harshey at keeper had 18 saves, giving up one goal," Hood said.

"I would also like to clarify a little misinterpretation at this point. I think this is important for the players. Last year as a club team we competed against junior varsity teams. We posted a record of 7-7. This year we are competing against varsity teams with the exception of a couple of games in which we picked up junior varsity teams of 4A schools. Alamo's JV is as good as nearly any varsity we played this year," Hood said.

"On November 3 we traveled to Portales for our final game of the season. We won by a score of 1-0 with Danny Schrader scoring our goal off an assist from Lief Anderson. Matt Harshey had seven saves on goal. We controlled the game from beginning to end, taking 38 shots on goal to Portales' 11. We just couldn't seem to score. Basketball coaches talk about the bucket having a lid on it. That is the way soccer goal was to us on that Wednesday," Hood said.

"I would like to thank the administration of Ruidoso schools for the support they have given us the past two years to get this program off the ground," Hood said.

"Secondly, I would like to thank those seniors of a year ago; Wally Murillo, Aaron Laubhan, Jason Dix, Hemanth Pai and Casey Ward for coming out after years of not playing soccer to give us a great start that first year. Also, I would like to applaud the players of this season for a great first year as an New Mexico Athletic Association sanctioned team," Hood said.

"We ended this season with a record of 12-4, winning the last seven games of the season. We finished with the best independent record in the state. Oñate was right behind us with a record of 11-5.

Oñate split with Mayfield and Las Cruces High," Hood said.

"We defeated Oñate twice. After our loss at Belen we had a record of 5-4 and I told coach Baca that the loss might be the best thing for us if the players responded to the challenge. We were struggling at that time, not playing together well, being frustrated with each other, etc. I think that came from having some very experienced players on the team and other players with a lot of talent but not a lot of experience," Hood said.

"The only real change we made following that game was to move Danny Schrader to a defensive position. At that time he was our leading scorer. He is also our most talented and knowledgeable defender. We made a decision to sacrifice scoring for a more consistent defense. After the Belen game we had scored 29 goals and gave up 16, having four losses," Hood said.

"Following the Belen game we scored 17 goals but only gave up five, with no losses. I have to compliment Danny Schrader for giving up his role as a scorer for the benefit of the team. He really solidified the defense along with Daniel Espinosa, Earl Holstein, Matt Norbury and Matthew Ensor. This defensive unit, along with Matt Harshey in goal, really began to take a lot of pride in their defensive play. I really attribute our success down the stretch to this," Hood said.

"Overall, I am really pleased with what we accomplished this year. We're really excited about our first season of district play next year. Some of the players are already talking about next season. At this time it appears that we will be in a district with Portales, NMML and probably Silver City. Moriarty might be in the district rather than Silver City," Hood said.

The Warrior soccer team was made up of Oswald Aleman #8, Lief Anderson #12, Brijesh Bhakta #4, Brent Buchhagen #18, Matthew Ensor #12, Richard Enriquez #13, Daniel Espinosa #10, Matt Harshey #1, Dryller Hiseel #7, Cory Hood #3, Earl Holstein #20, Matt Norbury #17, Danny Schrader #19, Isaac Sanchez #16, Jimmy Stover #5, Matt Ward #15 and Jared DeBaca #9.

Football contest winding down

For the next to last week of the football picks the field was down to 26 entries.

Too many people must have read the directions to the newsroom. As an act of a goodwill, when you see someone wandering aimlessly please point them toward their homes.

The winner this week was in a class all by himself.

Manny Rivas from Alto is the winner of $25 by correctly picking 17 out of 20.

This week one missed three, four missed four, two missed five, four missed six, seven missed seven, two missed eight, two missed nine, two missed 10 and one missed 12. And, one lonely lost soul was still operating on last week's game.

Next week is the last chance to get those picks in. Remember the prize money is a whopping $25 cold hard cash. Actually it's a check. But, most of The Ruidoso News checks make it through the bank without bouncing so, don't delay get the entries in.

High kicker

Randy D. Byington, son of Eddie and Stacy Byington of Ruidoso and Cathy Clements of Alamogordo, has been selected by Bobby Moffat Enterprises, Inc. to go on the 1994 European Soccer Tour in August. Randy is 13 years old and attends Ruidoso Middle School. He'll be asking for some help from the community in his efforts to raise the $2,400 he'll need for the trip. To make donations contact Stacy Byington at 258-4379 or 258-3452.

Racing action continues all winter at the Ruidoso Downs Sports Theater

If you are looking for a friendly wager or the current score of your favorite ball team, then the Ruidoso Downs Sports Theater is the place to be this winter.

Located a half mile past the Ruidoso Downs main track entrance, the Sports Theater features all the races from Sunland Park's 102-day meet plus three to four races simulcast from either Santa Anita Race Course or Hollywood Park.

In addition the Sports Theater simulcasts select stakes races from around the country such as the Breeders' Cup, major three-year-races called "the road to the Derby" and of course the Kentucky Derby.

The Sports Theater also televises, on race days, top college and professional sporting events including football, basketball, baseball etc.

Major boxing title fights are also periodically shown on close circuit television and an Associated Press sports board keeps you up-to-date on the latest happenings in the world of sports.

The Sports Theater will generally carry Sunland Park races on Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays with a first race post time, through February 13, of 12:30 p.m. After February 18, the first race post time will be 1 p.m.

The doors open approximately one hour prior to post time.

Additionally, there will be two holiday Monday race dates on January 17 (Martin Luther King Day) and February 21 (President's Day).

Both quarter horses and thoroughbreds race at Sunland Park.

Types of wagering offered include regular win, place and show wagering along with daily double, quiniela, exacta, trifecta and twin trifecta. The twin trifecta is generally offered on the third and fourth race every day and has the potential for six-figure payoffs.

The current jockey standings, through November 3, show Ruidoso Downs leading rider Oscar Ceballos in the lead with 18 wins out of 72 mounts for a win percentage of 25 percent. Eric Perner is battling Vickie Smallwood for second place in the standings with nine wins out of 63 mounts for Perner and nine wins out of 41 mounts for Smallwood.

However, Smallwood's win percentage is higher than Perner's, 22 percent to 14.3 percent.

The trainers race is very tight at this point with Cliff Lambert and Bob Arnett at nine wins apiece. Arnett's win percentage is higher at 25 percent out of 36 starts while Lambert is at 20 percent out of 45 starts.

Another close race is being fought for third place with Jon Arnett, Bob Noel and Simon Buechler at six wins apiece.

Quality Care Preventive Maintenance.

Your car can't take care of itself. There are things you should do to help ensure it runs properly. Here are a few of them:

1. Inspect the brakes every 30,000 miles to help ensure safe stopping ability.
2. Change your oil and oil filter every 3,000 to 7,500 miles (depending on your driving habits) to maintain engine performance.
3. Check coolant, clamps and hoses annually to help prevent overheating.
4. Change spark plugs and tune-up engine every 30,000 miles to help your engine burn fuel efficiently.
5. Check air conditioning system annually for cooling efficiency and to help keep the environment clean.
6. Change air filter every 30,000 miles to help prevent a loss of power.

Of course, the first step is to stop by our dealership for Quality Care Preventive Maintenance. It includes the items listed here and it's expert service performed by Ford-trained Quality Care technicians. We use only genuine Ford or Motorcraft parts. And we do it all at a competitive price.

Warrior runners compete at state

by RENITA FREEMAN
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Three Warrior cross country team members qualified for state during the District 3-AAA meet hosted by Ruidoso Saturday, November 6.

The Warrior boys and girls teams both placed fourth overall in the meet.

For the Lady Warriors, Bridget Tam and Stephanie Haas qualified for the November 13 state championship meet in Gallup.

Tam also qualified for the 3-AAA All District team. This team is made up of the top five runners.

On the boys' team, Jeff Daniels qualified for state by finishing eighth in the race.

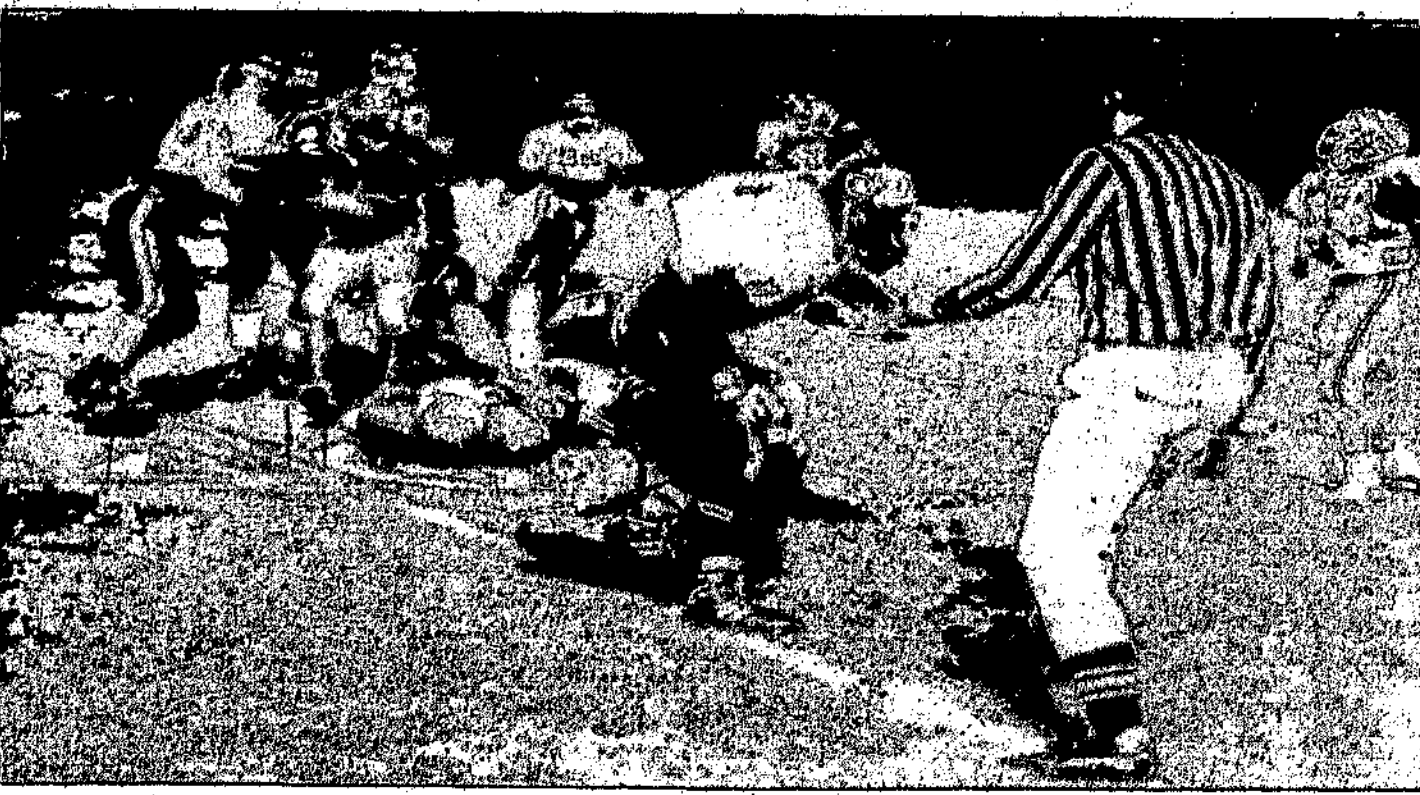

Lady Warrior individual results in the meet were Bridget Tam who finished fifth with a time of 21:55; Stephanie Haas who finished seventh with a time of 22:15; Christi Smith who finished 22nd with a time of 27:03; Sarah Dix who finished 25th with a time of 29:04; Stephanie Vigil Baca who finished 26th with a time of 30:57 and Dawn Rankin who finished 27th with a time of 32:56.

"The team ran their best races of the year but couldn't crack into the top three teams to qualify for state," coach Ronnie Maskew said.

Individual results for the boys' team were Jeff Daniels who finished eighth with a time of 19:08; Ezra Sandoval who finished 11th with a time of 19:25; Eran McManemy who finished 23rd with a time of 20:12 and Tim Skinner who finished 24th with a time of 20:38.

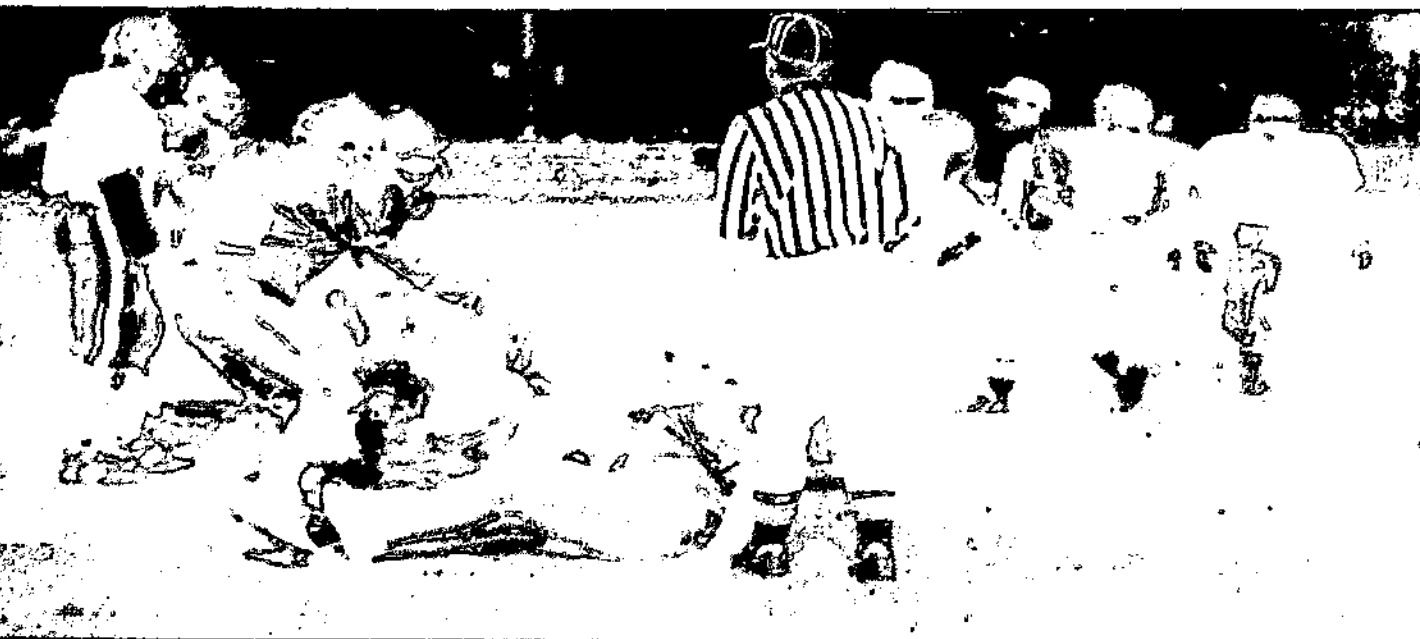

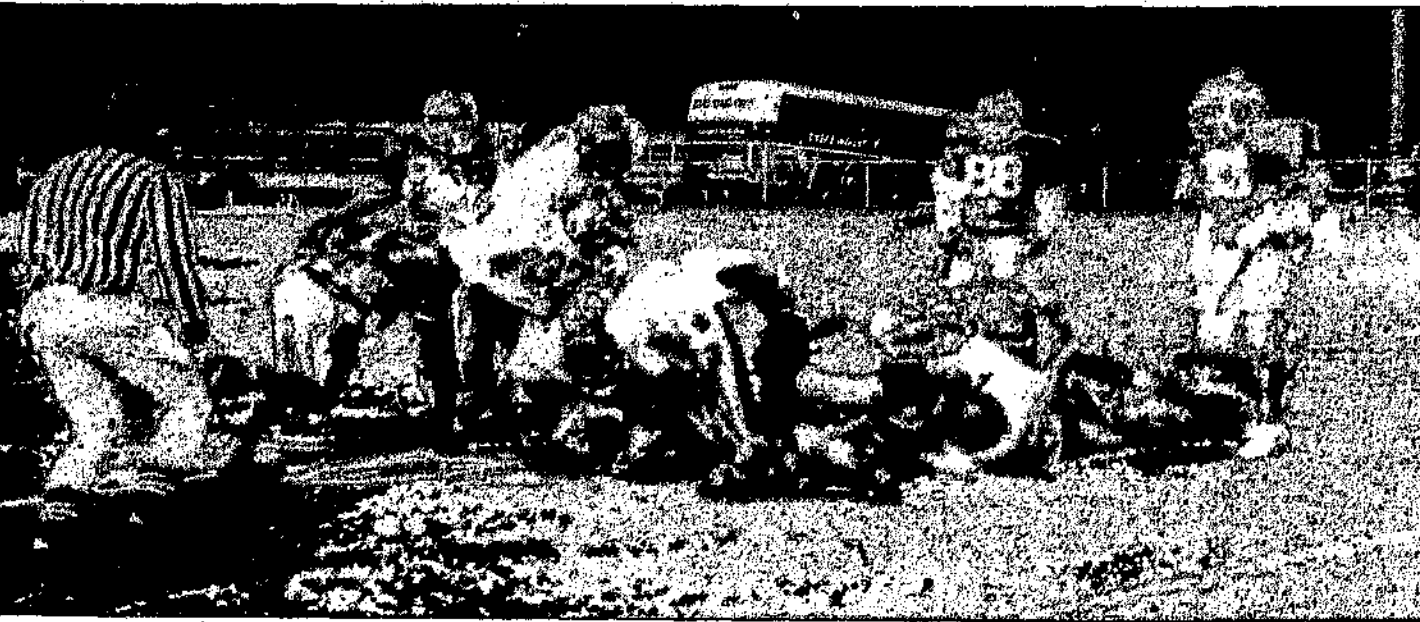

Alley Hosetosavit finished 25th with a time of 20:45; Johnny Martinez finished 26th with a time of 20:56 and Matt Bates finished 27th with a time of 20:58.

"The boys had the same problem as the girls in not being able to qualify as a team. The team ran their best times on the Ruidoso course. They made a lot of improvement over the course of the season. We are really looking forward to next year as all the runners will be back," Maskew said.

Looking back

Although the Ruidoso Warrior football season is over, the excitement and memories of the games lives on. Spectacular plays and games will be relived during the sports banquet at 7 p.m., Thursday, November 18, in the high school cafeteria.

Moving right along

Annie Dorgan, the daughter of Tom and Jennie Dorgan of Alto, was awarded the Ernie Blake Memorial Scholarship from Taos Ski Valley. Dorgan, who attended Ruidoso Schools, is attending the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque on the four-year academic scholarship. She hopes to ski at UNM as a "walk-on."

Conservation districts to convene this month

Thomas A. Weber will be the new man at the top when the 47th Annual Conference of the New Mexico Association of Conservation Districts convenes November 29 through December 1 in Santa Fe.

Weber was named state conservationist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service in New Mexico last month.

He replaced Ray T. Margo Jr., who retired in June. Weber is headquartered in Albuquerque. As state conservationist, Weber directs the agency that helps land users plan and apply conservation measures to control erosion and improve natural resources. In New Mexico, the soil conservation service (SCS) employees about 200 people who provide technical assistance to land users across the state.

Weber began his career with the SCS in 1972 as a soil scientist in Colorado. He worked as a budget officer in Washington after participating in the agency's administrative trainee program. In 1978, Weber was appointed assistant state administrative officer for SCS in Minnesota and in 1986, he moved to the top slot. He has served as assistant and deputy state conservationist in California since 1988.

He graduated with a master's degree from Stanford University's Graduate School of Business in 1989 and earned a master's degree in forestry at Northern Arizona University in 1972.

The annual conference, under the theme of "Adapting to Change," is expected to draw employees from across the state to the three-day session put together by the association.

State Representative Darla Whitney-Welch of Aztec will be the guest speaker Monday, November 29.

An awards banquet is set for Tuesday evening, featuring Governor Bruce King as guest speaker.

Committee meetings on legislation, district operations, conservation education, water resources, public land, wildlife, recreation, environmental quality and related issues are scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

The association is a private, non-profit organization of New Mexico's 47 soil and water conservation districts. Besides being an education group, it acts as a liaison between New Mexico's districts and the National Association of Conservation Districts.

Picacho ranch joins American Angus group

Lonesome Pine Angus, Picacho, is a new member of the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association with more than 24,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 11 million registered Angus.

Mark your calendar now for next year's elections

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The 1994 Municipal Election Calendar, a timetable for the regular municipal election to be conducted Tuesday, March 1, 1994, was sent to city clerks throughout the state last week.

Village clerk Tammie Maddox said a number of actions must be taken and deadlines adhered to by candidates to remain eligible for election.

Maddox said at the November 30 Ruidoso Village Council meeting, the council will adopt the election resolution calling for the election which must state the following:

—the date when the election will be held.

—the offices to be filled.

—questions (if any) to be submitted to the voters.

—the date and time of the closing of the registration books by the county clerk, as required by law.

—the date and time for filing the declarations of candidacy.

—the location of polling places and consolidation of precincts (if any).

—whether paper ballots or voting machines will be used in the election.

On this date of adoption, a copy of the election resolution will be posted in Tammie Maddox's office and will be left posted until election day.

Maddox said that on December 6, the first of two publications (printing in a local newspaper) of the Election Resolution will be mailed the Secretary of State and County Clerk.

By that date, Maddox also orders voting machines from the county clerk.

The final action by that date requires the village clerk to request, in writing, from the County Clerk registered voter lists and signature rosters containing only the qualified electors eligible to vote in this village election.

Maddox said on December 20, a second publication of the election resolution will appear.

On January 4, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. on the 56th day prior to election, Maddox said all candidates must file in person at the clerk's office in village hall the following documents required by law for certification as a candidate:

—a declaration of candidacy, and;

—a certified copy of the candidate's current affidavit of voter registration on file with the county clerk and which has been certified by that office on a date not earlier than the adoption of the election resolution, or;

—the triplicate copy of the candidate's current affidavit of registration which has been stamped by the office of the county clerk as accepted for filing on a date not earlier than the adoption of the election resolution.

All candidates' affidavits of voter registration must show their address as a street address or rural route number, NOT as a post office box.

This is the only date and time on which a person may file to become a candidate for municipal office unless the person files to be a write-in candidate.

Maddox will provide a form for the declaration of candidacy and shall accept only those declarations which contain:

—the identical name and resident street address as shown on the affidavit of registration submitted with the declaration of candidacy.

—the office and term to which the candidate seeks election and district designation, if appropriate.

—a statement that the candidate is eligible and legally qualified to hold the office she or he is seeking.

—a statement that the candidate has not been convicted of a felony, or if she or he has a felony conviction, a state that his or her elective franchise has been restored.

—a statement that the candidate, or his or her authorized representative, will personally appear at the municipal clerk's office during normal business hours on the 54th day before the election to ascertain whether the village clerk has certified the declaration of candidacy as valid.

—a telephone number at which the candidate or authorized representative can be reached for purposes of giving telephone notice.

—a statement that the declaration of candidacy is an affidavit under oath and that any false statement knowingly made constitutes a fourth degree felony.

—the notarized signature of the candidate on the declaration of candidacy.

Note that if a person who desires to be a candidate cannot personally appear on this day, a person acting solely on the candidate's behalf may, by a written affidavit signed by the candidate and notarized, file in the office of the Municipal Clerk all the required documents for the candidate.

As clerk, Maddox shall not accept a declaration of candidacy for more than one municipal elected office per candidate - each candidate may not run for more than one office.

Once filed, the declaration of candidacy is a public record.

On January 5, by 5 p.m. on the 55th day prior to election, the municipal clerk must have determined by this time whether the declaration of candidacy shall be certified. The documents submitted must prove that:

—the individual is a qualified elector as defined by statute.

—if districted, that the individual resides in and is registered to vote in the district from which she or he seeks election.

If an individual fails to submit on filing day the required documents in the form and with the contents as required, then the clerk shall not certify him or her as a candidate.

On January 6, by 9 a.m., the clerk posts in her office a list of the names of those individuals who have been certified as candidates as well as those who have not been certified with the reasons they have not.

During normal business hours, the candidate or authorized representative, shall personally appear at the clerk's office to ascertain whether his or her declaration of candidacy has been certified as valid.

At 5:01 p.m., Maddox, in the presence of the certified candidates (or authorized representatives) who desire to be present, administers an impartial and fair drawing by lot to determine the order the candidate's names will appear on the ballot. The clerk draws for any candidate or his or her representative who is not present.

In Ruidoso, the mayor and four councilor positions will be up for election. The mayor and three council slots are for four-year terms.

One position is open for a two-year council member.

The position of municipal judge also will be on the ballot.

Those candidates seeking the position of municipal judge have special educational requirements according to Jean Willis, acting director for the administrative office of the courts.

Willis said an orientation program for newly-elected municipal judges has been scheduled for the week of March 14-18, 1994, in Albuquerque.

All municipal judges who are elected for the first time, or those who may have been a municipal judge and have not served within the last four years, must attend this training session to qualify for office.

Farm Bureau convention will plan strategy to save the west

The battle to save the West will be at the forefront of the annual meeting of the state's largest agricultural organization when the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau (NMF&LB) convenes its 76th annual meeting, November 17-19 at the Albuquerque Hilton.

NMF&LB President John Van Sweden said delegates will address numerous issues especially "public land concerns, the attempt to wreck our range land laws, and the real battle to save the West as we know it." A special breakout session on public land concerns is set for 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 17.

Other agenda highlights include a program by one of the leading agricultural officials in the nation, Tim Prince of the American Farm Bureau Federation; an address by former governor Garrey Caruthers; and one of the leading experts in rural economic development Patricia Quintana, who was instrumental in the Caudos del Valle Coop project of northern New Mexico. Also on the agenda will be Dr. John Owens, Dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Ec at New Mexico State University (NMSU).

In addition, delegates will be treated to a special presentation by Gerald Thomas, president emeritus of NMSU. Thomas will present a unique look at New Mexico's role in World War II, including the development of the atomic bomb, the Navajo code talkers, the development of missiles, the armed forces units who were key elements in the war and the numerous military installations in the state that aided in the U.S. victory in Europe and Japan.

The Thursday session will also include a presentation titled, "The New Mexico Zone" by Elizabeth Martin, assistant to Governor King.

The annual banquet and awards program, Thursday, November 18, will feature the presentation of the President's Service Award, Distinguished Service to Agriculture Citation and the recognition of "Farm Bureau Family of the Year."

Friday, November 19, delegates will address numerous policy resolutions that are used to guide the organization in the legislature and Congress.

Electric wires, poles deadly to feathered friends

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The redtail hawk floated on the air currents, surveying the pastures below for prey and looking for a place to perch.

Unfortunately, like hundreds of similar birds in the Southwest, he picked the only tall object around, an electric wire pole.

A second later, he was lying dead on the ground, another victim of poles with unprotected "hot" wires. Several organizations in New Mexico want to locate such poles, correct the condition and save the lives of thousands of birds in the future.

"In the Southwest, birds of prey, are especially vulnerable to electrocution because of their size and hunting behavior," according to information from the Raptor Research Foundation Inc. in Hastings, Maine.

"Power poles that have inadequate spacing between the 'hot' wires, or unnecessary grounded metal, kill the magnificent birds, which are protected by state and federal law.

"Every eagle, hawk and owl killed reduces the chance that our descendants will watch these magnificent creatures soar."

The New Mexico Ecological Services office of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service recently has become involved in an effort to reduce the number of raptor mortalities on power lines in New Mexico.

"We want to inform as many people as possible about the problem and have produced a pamphlet that outlines the situation and offers a method of locating the small percentage of power poles that kill birds," said Jennifer Fowler-Propet, state supervisor of the service.

Ninety-five percent of all eagle electrocutions could be prevented by modifying two percent of all the poles, she said.

"We need help identifying the killer poles. They usually carry single or three phase distributors, often with transformers on the poles."

Power and telephone company linemen, surveyors, ranchers and other individuals in the field can help identify the problems poles. After locating one, the service will work with the power company or private system to make the pole raptor-safe.

Companies and individuals that install distribution lines, or tap lines from a metering pole or substation are responsible for "raptor proofing" their electrical installations.

Several recommendations included in an Albuquerque Journal article based on studies about the flying and perching habits of raptors include:

—prior to construction of a line, surveys should be made of raptor populations, particularly wintering eagles, and of small mammal populations and human activity.

—poles should be placed to encourage a preference for natural roosting sites.

—in agricultural areas, place poles on cultivated land, since prey populations are lower on this land than in adjacent areas of natural vegetation.

—wires on corner and transformer poles should be insulated.

—in constructing new lines or replacing older ones, power companies should follow the recommendations in "Suggested Practices for Raptor Protection on Powerlines" (Miller et al. 1974).

—when placing safety features on poles, consider all possible scenarios. When perches are added, they should be low enough to prevent raptors from sitting underneath them and should be perpendicular to the prevailing wind to encourage birds to use them and not the crossarm brace that supports the conducting wires.

Two simple and inexpensive methods to ensure safe lines are to install wooden perches 14-16 inches above any energized wire or objects, or by placing inverted perch guards of wood as a deterrent.

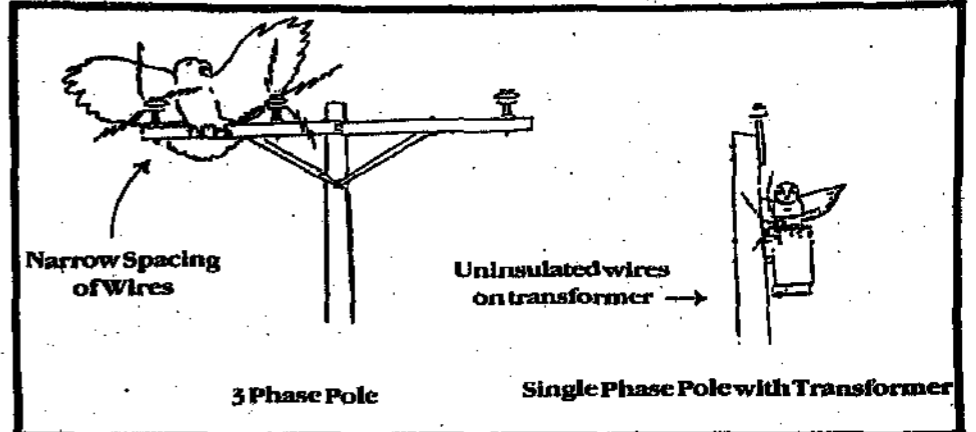

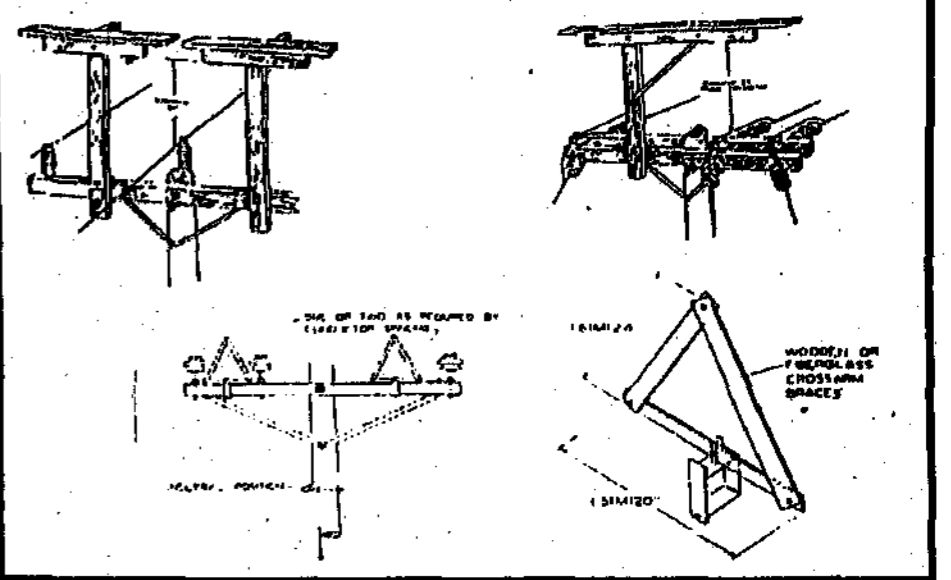

Harming raptors can subject the responsible party to fines in excess of $50,000. Fixing the problem is preferable to legal prosecution. New power pole installations should be equipped with inexpensive features that prevent electrocutions.

If a dead bird is found under a pole, leave it alone, because a federal permit is required to handle it.

Make a note of the pole number that often is stamped about waist high on the pole, the location of the pole relative to highways and mile markers and other geographic information that helps identify the pole location. As soon as possible, contact the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service at 1-800-299-0196 or the New Mexico Game and Fish Department 1-505-827-9904 or 841-8881.

Additional guidelines are available in "Suggested Practices for Raptor Protection on Power Lines: The State of the Art in 1981," which is available from the Raptor Research Foundation Inc. at 12805 St. Croix Trail, Hastings, Maine 55033.

BLM closes several Fort Stanton roads

Some roads in the Fort Stanton area are temporarily closed to motorized vehicles by order the Bureau of Land Management.

The closure took effect in December 1990, and will remain until the Roswell Resource Area's Resource Management Plan is completed, scheduled for early 1995.

The affected roads are in the west one-half of Fort Stanton, bounded on the east by State Highway 214. The roads are numbered and posted "Closed Area - The area behind sign is closed to all vehicle use."

Violators are subject to fines of up to $100,000 and/or up to one year in prison.

Silver Lining

People gather to say goodbye to friends

Connie Candelaria

Services were held November 5, at the First Christian Church for Connie Candelaria who was called home by our Lord on November 2.

The Reverend Al Lane read from Psalms 139: "Thou art about my path and my bed and are acquainted with all my ways," also from the Gospel according to St. Matthew: "For the son of man shall come in the glory of his father with his angels."

The Reverend Mr. Lane said that Connie's life was a life of faithfulness and of great concern for her family, and that now she is in a safe and wonderful place with our Lord. Cathy Craig sang "In the Garden."

Pallbearers were Pete Calderon, Juan Romero, Leo Medina, Fraquico Silva, Felix Gonzalez and Israel Medina.

Connie will always hold a fond place in our hearts and we rejoice that our dear friend is now reunited with loved ones who have gone on before with our Lord.

Jake Salas

Services were held November 5, at St. Eleanor Catholic Church for Jake Salas who was called home by our Lord on November 2.

Father Richard Catanach read from the Twenty-third Psalm. The church bilingual choir, under the direction of Kaye Olvera, sang "Bendito Bendito" (Blessed, Blessed), "He is Risen" and "May the Angels Carry Him to Paradise."

Pallbearers were Bobby Salas, David Gallegos, Ben Herrera, Philbert "Bert" Smith, Julius Silva and Melvin Kerchee.

After the graveside Lemuel Clarke, Victor Jaramillo, Julie Fitzner and Romeo Klein conducted military services. The American flag which draped the coffin was presented to Jake's widow, Rita.

Jake will also hold a fond spot in our hearts and we rejoice that he is safe and happy in heaven.

Aloysius Mendez

With the soft wind whispering wind hymns in the pine and fir trees overhead, services were held at the Mesclero Cemetery November 4 for Aloysius Mendez, who was called home by our Lord on November 1.

Military ceremonies complete with color guard and rifle squad were performed by members of veterans organizations of Mesclero and Tularosa. Ruben Sandoval and Romeo Klein represented Ruidoso at the services. Aloysius served our country in the Army in World War II and for many years was a member of the "Red Hot" firefighters.

He will always hold a fond spot in our hearts and we rejoice that he is safe and happy in heaven with our Lord.

Capitan

Roping duo hits it big

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Their hobby netted 15-year-old Mackey Tully of Glencoe and Cody Wilson of Capitan more than $12,000 in cash, two luxury horse trailers and assorted watches, shoes and accessories.

The two boys returned from the U.S. Team Roping Championships in Oklahoma last weekend as second place winners against 500 other teams of all ages.

Cody was riding his paint, quarterhorse horse, Tommy, and Mackey was on Utah. They had just come off a victory in the Team Roping of Champions in El Paso two months earlier where they won saddles and buckles.

Both boys started riding before they started school.

"Team roping always has been my interest," said Cody, who's in 10th grade.

His mother, Jerri Wilson, said

both boys went through many partners before they found the team-work that made them winners.

It took a lot of hard work.

Cody practices every afternoon after school and the two of them get together on weekends and ride from dawn until dusk.

"It's a matter of having similar attitudes and the horses work well together," Cody said.

"It depends a lot on the way the header drags the cattle," Mrs. Wilson said. "Mackey handles that great, and Cody can get right in there."

The matching three-horse trailers bear the championship title across the sides. Mackey's has red stripes and Cody's has blue.

"It's better than my home inside," Mackey joked as the boys examined the padded separators for the three horses, saddle mounts in the back, a changing room with mirrored cabinet, storage seat and

Mackey, the son of Gerry and Jane Tully, grew up around the Tully roping arena. John and Jerri Wilson live on a ranch.

"Gob blessed us very much and we couldn't have done it without our superb horses ... and our parents," Mackey said.

Their next competition will be in Arizona or Colorado, depending on the number of entries, the pay-off and how easy the travel, Cody said.

They plan on using the prize money for a college starter fund and to pay for more entry fees, the boys said.

"It cost them $200 apiece to enter the Oklahoma competition," Mrs. Wilson said.

The first place winners in Oklahoma each received a pickup truck in addition to cash and other prizes. The boys said they're not spending their money on a truck. They plan to win two.

Mackey Tully of Glencoe and Cody Wilson of Capitan test the ventilation on one of the two new horse trailers they won at the U.S. Team Roping Championships in Oklahoma last weekend. The boys have been team roping together for about one and a half years and have piled up impressive prizes, winning over adult teams.

Lady Tigers set their sights on state title

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The chances of bringing home the big state trophy to Capitan look good for the Tiger netters this weekend as they confront top volleyball teams at Goddard and Roswell.

"I think we're one of the four best teams in the tournament without question," said coach Pam Allen, who has guided the Tigers to an 18-1 season record.

"We need to play well, certainly, but I think there's a good chance to win it."

The Tigers are pitted against Magdalena at 3:15 p.m. today (Thursday) at Goddard High School. The winners of the first series of matches will move to Roswell on Friday and Saturday.

The other teams tapped for the state tournament contests are Roy versus Texico, Fort Sumner versus Quemado and Dora against Coronado.

"We played Magdalena in pool play here and didn't have much trouble, but I'm sure they have improved and will play great defense," Allen said. "They're not very big and without some height you're in trouble these days."

Allen sees Roy as one of the major threats. The defending state champions, they retained all of their players this year, but they'll have a tough competitor to get past in Texico. Dora, with outstanding athletes, and Fort Sumner, with a young and quick team, probably will take their initial matches.

Early in the season, Allen said she wasn't happy with what she perceived as a lack of work ethic in her team members. But as the fall wore on, she decided it was more of a lack of confidence that playing well and winning has erased.

"We could have been undefeated," Allen said. "Our only loss was the fourth match of the season and that was to the 2A powerhouse Dexter team. So we had a real good year."

With senior graduation, Allen will lose four solid players: Tycie Traylor, Stacy Gowen, Anita Aldaz and Alma Lively. But filling in those slots will be three juniors, Amy and Jessica Cline, and Stacie Sidwell. Four sophomore have turned in impressive performances this year: Shelby Gowen, Catherine Sidwell, Chris Worrell and Sheryl Dockery. The lone freshman is Andra Fish, who next year will be backed up by a strong team of eight graders who have been undefeated in the past two seasons.

The junior varsity also was undefeated this year.

"I appreciate very much the opportunity to work with the kids in this community," Allen said. "Because year in and out, they are fine human beings and highly competitive. For the most part, they have lots of heart and that's something you can't teach. They're playing with a lot of pride and determination."

"It appears the future for volleyball in Capitan is very bright, although I will be losing some people to whom I'm very attached, but that's part of the process."

"I also have appreciated the support of the coaching staff of Ron Becker, D.L. Merchant and athletic director Norman Cline."

Free vaccination program offered in Capitan

For the first time, free vaccinations will be offered in the Capitan area through the Alice King/Lovelace Immunization Program.

A team will be giving shots from 12:30 to 3 p.m. Monday, November 15, at the Capitan Elementary School.

Parents must accompany their children and should bring their shot records (if available) with them.

Officials with the federal Center for Disease Control and Prevention estimates fewer than half of the nation's children younger than two years receive all recommended vaccinations to protect them against serious, sometimes deadly, diseases such as measles, mumps, tetanus, polio, whooping cough and rubella.

That estimate also is true for New Mexico, according to a news release from Lovelace Health Systems. Many parents are not aware of the dangers of childhood diseases or the need to begin their child's immunization program as early as two months of age.

Parents in rural areas often have difficulty accessing services at clinics or doctor offices during traditional service hours.

Early childhood immunizations is a cost effective disease prevention measure that works, according the news release. President Bill Clinton recently called for a national free immunization program managed by the federal government, arguing that the cost of free immunization is far low than the cost of treating preventable diseases once they occur.

Parents who need more information should call their local school nurse or school superintendent at 354-2239.

Ya-hoo and food, too

The Second Annual Western Dinner Concert will be presented by the Capitan Future Homemakers of America (FHA) and the school annual staff at 7 p.m., Friday, November 19, in the new gymnasium. Local talent will perform current country hits, as well as a selection of old time ballads, country gospel and cowboy poetry.

While listening, the audience will be served a spectacular meal of lemon chicken, baked potato, green beans, roll, tea or coffee, followed by a dessert of cheesecake.

"You won't want to miss this," said FHA sponsor Jan LaRue. "Ask anyone who attended our first concert last July."

Tickets are available from any FHA member, annual staffers, at Cattle Country Hardware or Bear Country in Capitan, or by calling reservations to Jan LaRue at the Capitan High School office, 354-2567.

Tickets are $8 for adults and $4 per child sixth grade or under. Seating is limited.

Britos is named new officer

The appointment of Carlo Britos, 27, as Capitan's new police officer was approved Monday by the Capitan Board of Trustees. He was the choice of Capitan Police Chief Tony Cano, who had worked with him while Britos attended the police academy at Western New Mexico University.

Britos will be paid $1,400 a month and is on a one-year period of probation, Cano said.

"We worked for the campus police for awhile and did a fine job, but eventually moved back to Alamogordo," he said. Britos is a certified officer and started on the job last week.

Village hall open house set

The doors to Capitan village hall will be thrown open from 2 to 4 p.m. December 3 for everyone to come down and visit. Refreshments will be served.

The trustees also have called a special meeting for 7 p.m. November 17 to review the final audit of the village and the election resolution for the March municipal elections.

Take a second look

Alzheimer's disease is no joking matter. November is National Alzheimer's Disease Month, a good time to take a closer and sensitive look at a very serious disease.

For the estimated four million Americans who suffer from this progressive, age-related, incurable illness, being forgetful is far from funny. Alzheimer's disease, over time, impairs the brain's ability to function normally. The damage is irreversible. Last year more than 250,000 new cases of Alzheimer's disease were diagnosed, and the American Health Assistance Foundation reports that given the current trends, one out of two baby boomers could develop Alzheimer's as they reach their senior years.

Alzheimer's disease most often afflicts people in their sixties and seventies, and usually runs its course in from two to 15 years. Starting as minor memory loss, Alzheimer's eventually leads to complete disorientation, and toward the end, individuals are incapable of caring for themselves. Nursing home costs for one patient average more than $30,000 a year.

Alzheimer's is not a normal part of aging, and if someone you know is experiencing increased forgetfulness, decreased energy and drive and difficulty with words or familiar tasks, then it's time to take a second look. Unfortunately, these symptoms could be warning signals of Alzheimer's disease, and it's time to seek medical attention.

While there is no cure for Alzheimer's disease, much research is being conducted to solve the mystery and to find better methods of care and treatment. People with Alzheimer's disease need a safe environment where they can live with as much independence as possible. Even with the current limits, good care is important, and in Ruidoso it's available in the Alzheimer's Care Unit at Ruidoso Care Center.

Alzheimer's disease is no laughing matter, and it surely isn't something a patient or family can deal with alone. Learn all you can by visiting the Ruidoso Care Center; writing the American Health Assistance Foundation, 15825 Shady Grove Road, Suite 140; Rockville MD 20850; or by calling 1-800-437-AHAF.

Streetscape is a dream come true for Ruidoso

A long term dream of merchants and civic leaders in Ruidoso is about to come true.

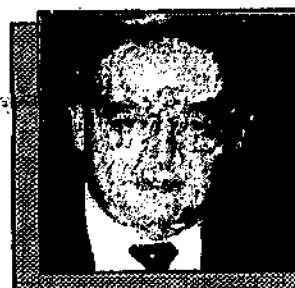

For years merchant members of MainStreet Ruidoso, along with volunteers civic leaders and government officials, have worked, dreamed and planned toward the day when a major renovation of the sidewalks, streets, lighting and landscaping in Midtown Ruidoso could be reconstructed in a manner to appropriately display one of Ruidoso's most important tourist attractions.

On Monday, November 15, the official groundbreaking of the streetscape construction will be conducted in Midtown, and soon thereafter the actual construction of the first phase of the streetscape will begin.

This project, an investment of $1.3 million, represents the joint efforts of the local community, the State of New Mexico and the Federal Highway Administration. In addition to providing a very attractive appearance, the construction will include widened sidewalks, marked and lighted crosswalks, new lighting, landscaping and adequate parking, as well as historic and cultural enhancements.

Of primary concern to those involved in planning this project is to allow for a system of construction which will minimize interference with merchants in the Midtown area and allow for convenient and safe access to each business location throughout the construction period. To accommodate this, construction will be done in eight separate phases starting on the south side of Sudderth Drive at Fern Street and working in one block sections on only one side of the street at a time.

This will mean that construction should be started and be complete within a period of four to five weeks in each phase with only one traf-

by
Tom Batten
MainStreet
President

fic lane closed and walkways constructed to each business entrance during that phase of construction.

Once a phase is completed, no further work or interference will affect that location and construction will then begin on the next block. Total construction should be completed within six months, barring unforeseen delays due to weather and the like.

The selection of an appropriate time for construction is difficult due to the seasonal nature of retail business in Ruidoso.

If construction were to start following the busy Christmas season, there would almost certainly be construction during the summer season. To avoid this interference with summer, it is considered essential that construction begin as quickly as possible.

Officials with the Village of Ruidoso, along with the members of MainStreet Ruidoso, have met with the contractor and have been assured of their maximum effort to minimize interference with any business operation.

They will ensure safe and convenient access bridges are provided to the entrance of each store location during the construction in that particular area.

In addition to the improved appearance of the Midtown area and greatly enhanced accessibility, the project will provide for handicap access and help meet the requirements for property owners and merchants to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) regulations which would otherwise be required at the owner's expense.

Parking is a primary concern and is currently being addressed by the Village of Ruidoso as well as the MainStreet organization.

Public meetings will be scheduled in the near future to receive any recommendations concerning providing additional convenient and adequate parking areas.

Visitors to Ruidoso are not only interested in recreation, history, culture and natural beauty, but also enjoying a pleasant and convenient shopping experience. Where most visitors have flexible travel plans, extending the stay of visitors to Ruidoso will add millions of dollars to the local economy.

Once the streetscape project is completed, visitors will find Ruidoso to be one of the most pleasant and attractive shopping areas in the southwest.

We should be grateful not only to the Village of Ruidoso, State of New Mexico and the federal government, but to the national and state MainStreet programs which has been extremely supportive in achieving this significant project for Ruidoso.

Our community will be a vital part of a MainStreet goal of revitalization, preservation and improvement of downtown areas of small communities.

We express our appreciation to all of the merchants and individuals who have worked long and hard to make this a reality.

Letters To The Editor

Trick-or-treating backfires on Midtown merchants

TO THE EDITOR:

At the risk of being the Grinch who stole Halloween, I would like to protest the "Trick-or-Treating" of the Midtown merchants on Saturdays.

This stupid idea was proposed and sponsored by the MainStreet leader several years ago and has now become a source of extreme aggravation to many of us.

In our slow periods between racing and skiing, we must depend on Saturdays, for the most part, for survival. When this selling day is removed from the calendar by hordes of children and parents blocking the sidewalks, darting across the streets, and congesting store entrances, there are no shoppers who will brave this milieu.

Many of the "Trickers" are not little children, but high school age and older "toughies" who make it extremely difficult for store owners and employees.

Last year I had 2,000 pieces of wrapped treats for the children; I ran out very early and encountered anger!

This year, anticipating the chaos, I closed my store and took the afternoon off, thus preventing the damage and destruction suffered the last time.

Halloween is a tradition of neighborhood children canvassing the homes in their neighborhood. It used to be a fun time for everyone. (See Webster's.) It has now turned into a contest with huge shopping bags to see who can collect the most loot.

In my opinion, a school carnival with parents and children involved, is a much healthier way to celebrate. If tricking the merchants is to be tolerated, let it be on a Friday afternoon (or any other weekday afternoon), but not on Saturday when tourists and would-be shoppers are appalled by the mobs.

On the following day — Sunday — tourists and out-of-town visitors to Ruidoso who entered my gift shop had nothing but negative comments regarding the day before. All noted that they would not again come to Ruidoso at Halloween and were amazed that merchants would tolerate this situation.

One gentleman added that we were "crazy" to accept the idea. Another couple from Alamogordo said they drove up, saw the mess, and returned to Alamogordo, preferring to come again on Sunday.

All in all, there existed a real turn-off to visitors in our village. Perhaps it is time for store owners to unite and put Halloween back in its place.

Perhaps MainStreet should concentrate on accountability, cost overruns, and the tearing up of sidewalks and streets in time for Thanksgiving and Christmas!

Barbershoppers tune up to perform

Hmmmmmmmm... Barbershoppers from Texas and New Mexico will harmonize in Ruidoso on Saturday, November 13. Ruidoso Valley Noon Lions Club presents an evening of Barbershop Harmony at 7:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church on Hull Road.

The Lions Club invites the community to take the whole family to the musical event, featuring the Sun City Slickers, El Paso's Quartet Champions; and Celebration, a ladies ensemble.

Also on the program will be the Border Chords, El Paso's chorus champions; and Guys and Dolls, a popular quartet that was a favorite with last year's audience.

Sounds of Enchantment, an Alamogordo chorus; and Bor-dertones, a quartet, will round out the evening.

General admission is $6 at the door, and $5 in advance. Student tickets are half price.

Funds from this concert will support the Lions many charitable activities.

For reservations and/or tickets, call Leo Mitchell at 258-4182.

Search and Rescue elects officers

Annual elections will be conducted at White Mountain Search and Rescue's (WMSAR) regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, November 15, in the public meeting room at Ruidoso High School on Warrior Drive.

The new officers will be installed on December 11. All members of WMSAR are encouraged to attend this meeting.

In addition to the elections, Major Carter Duke from Holloman, AFB, will conduct a short critique of the recent practice search conducted by HAFB in which WMSAR participated. He will also have a video of the search.

Melinda Headley and Cleton Pritchett will conduct a critique of the two-day search mission for a missing hunter near Cougar Mountain, west of Corona.

According to a news release, this successful mission involved six state agencies including the 542nd Air Training Command from Kirkland AFB, 40 searchers from the United World College in Montezuma, New Mexico, members from Cibola SAR, Chaves County Off Road SAR, Mountainair SAR, the U.S. Border Patrol SAR, Trauma Team and White Mountain SAR.

Headley and Pritchett were the NMSP field coordinators and State Police Officer Kevin McPherson was the mission initiator.

WMSAR members Kim Arnold, Melinda Headley, Kathy and David

Travis, Marion and Ed Fleck and Poncho Smith, USFS, distributed more than one thousand "PSAR" brochures to hunters during the past two weeks.

The PSAR (Preventive Search and Rescue) brochures have been distributed for the past two years in the hope they would lower the number of lost hunters in Lincoln County.

Officials have seen a significant drop in lost hunters during this period, continues the news release.

WMSAR invites new or potential members to attend this meeting.

New training classes in search and rescue will begin soon.

Members are needed as ground pounders, base camp operations, and stay-at-home call out persons.

On Campus

MATTHEW MACVEIGH, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacVeigh of Capitan, has been awarded the Truman A. Spencer, Jr. Memorial Scholarship by New Mexico Military Institute for the 1993-94 year.

MacVeigh, who attended Capitan High School his freshman year, will reported to NMMI in August as a high school sophomore.

This $1,000 scholarship is given in honor of Truman A. Spencer Jr., class of 1935, of Carrizozo.

It is awarded annually to a NMMI cadet from Carrizozo or surrounding area who has at least a 2.5 grade point average and an "A" in deportment.

Spencer served on the commandant's staff and the Board of Regents (of which his son, Steven, is now a member and former president) at New Mexico Military Institute.

Eastern Star installs worthy matron here

Suzie Matsler takes the reins

Suzie Matsler was installed worthy matron of Ruidoso Chapter No. 65 of the Order of the Eastern Star on October 14.

On Saturday, October 23, Matsler, who is married to James Matsler, was installed into the Grand Chapter of New Mexico OES as Grand Martha at the Holiday Pyramid in Albuquerque.

The local Ruidoso chapter meets at 7:30 p.m. on the second Thursday of each month in the Eastern Star Building on Nob Hill Road.

All local and visiting members are invited to attend.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BID

Sealed proposals for general construction of REPLACEMENTS AND REPAIRS, will be received at the Board Room in the Superintendent's Office, Capitan Municipal Schools, until 2:00 p.m. Monday, November 22, 1993, and then publicly opened and read aloud. Any bid received after closing time will be returned unopened.

Bidders are invited to submit proposals for construction work for the schedules listed in the Bidding Schedule of the Bid Form.

Drawings, Specifications, and Contract Documents may be examined without charge, in the office of the Architect + Plus, P.O. Box 2106, 401 N. Pennsylvania, Roswell, New Mexico, where they are on file for public inspection. Bona fide bidders may obtain two sets of drawings and specifications from the architect's office at the above address upon deposit of $50.00 per set (plus non-refundable shipping costs). Those who submit prime bids may obtain refund of deposits by returning sets and all addendas (prepaid) in good condition no more than 14 days after bids have been opened. Those who do not submit prime bids will forfeit deposits unless sets are returned in good condition along with all addendas at least one day before bids are opened. No partial sets will be issued. Sub-bidders may obtain one (1) set of drawings and specifications from the Architect upon deposit of $50.00 per set (plus non-refundable shipping costs). The sub-bidders will be refunded their deposit by returning set and all addendas in good condition no more than 14 days after bids have been opened.

Bid security, in an amount of not less than five percent (5%) of the largest possible total for the bid submitted, either cash or acceptable bidder's bond, must accompany each bid as a guarantee that, if awarded the contract, the bidder will enter into a contract promptly and execute the required performance and payment bonds.

Bidders are advised that the following is included in the contract:

1. Liquidated Damage Clause
2. Qualification of Contractor
3. 5% Resident Preference
4. Minimum State Wage Rates.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any or all informalities. The Owner also has the right, but not the obligation, to waive minor irregularities. All bids may be held 30 days.

PUBLIC NOTICE

THE CEDAR CREEK CABIN OWNERS ASSOC. PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM WISHES TO ADVISE ITS CONSUMERS THAT THE MAXIMUM LEVEL FOR TOTAL COLIFORMS IN DRINKING WATER WAS EXCEEDED DURING ITS MOST RECENT REPORTING PERIOD OF October, 1993.

The New Mexico Environment Department and the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) set drinking water standards and have determined that the presence of total coliforms is a possible health concern. Total coliforms are common in the environment and are generally not harmful to themselves. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, generally is a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and any associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in drinking water, but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water. EPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for total coliforms to reduce the risk of these adverse health effects. Under this standard, no more than 5.0 percent of the samples collected during a month can contain these bacteria, except that systems collecting fewer than 40 samples/month that have one total coliform-positive sample per month are not violating the standard. Drinking water which meets this standard is usually not associated with a health risk from disease-causing bacteria and should be considered safe.

We are disinfecting and flushing the affected well. Raymond Baca 257-3894 James W. Edwards 258-3272

Looking for Miss New Mexico USA

Miss New Mexico USA, Miss Artesia Jill Vasquez is all smiles Saturday night as she is crowned by last year's Miss New Mexico USA Daniella Johnson. The new Miss New Mexico USA is shown at left competing in the costume contest during opening ceremonies Tuesday at the Ruidoso Civic Events Center.

The Miss New Mexico Pageant is a stage show, as well as a competition, and singer/recording artist Taylor serenades the contestants during the big show. Miss Albuquerque (picture at left) was presented her trophy Saturday night for winning the costume contest on Tuesday.

An Island Paradise was the theme for the costume contest and the pageant production this year, with the stage decorated with palm leaves and a lighted "waterfall."

LETTERS TO COCHERA

Dear Cochera:

I am a patron of yours. Normally I order tacos and a beer. I am wanting to try some of your other dishes, but I have been scared by "morning after" stories I have heard from those who have consumed your chile sauces. Can you inform me as to the validity of such stories and what I might expect from say, an enchilada dinner?

Signed
Wanting More

Dear Wanting:

A taco is a taco, you can get one at any fast food place, Mexican or not. The real test of good Mexican food is the sauces; salsa, red chile & green chile for instance. Be brave, try some enchiladas, broaden you horizons. In regards to the "morning after" stories, those people need to eat Mexican Food more often so that they can adjust. As long as you come in three or four times a week you'll be fine.
