Trash problems? Call 378-4697...

Complaints about garbage collection and dumpster repairs or calls for special pick ups should be directed to 378-4697.

No complaint calls will be accepted at the transfer station number, said Joe Lewandowsky, the new general manager of the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority.

"I can't control the handling of the complaints when they are split between two numbers like that," he said.

Lewandowsky has initiated a new system, which includes a map with each trouble spot pinpointed.

State land boss will speak here Tuesday

State Land Commissioner Ray Powell Jr. will speak at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 22, to the Lincoln County Democrats.

Powell was appointed when former Commissioner Jim Baca was called to Washington D.C., and this will be his first trip to Lincoln County since taking office.

Everyone is invited to attend the dinner meeting at Cree Meadows Country Club.

Trash group gets a bargain on landfill

Solid waste officials in Otero and Lincoln County can breathe a sigh of relief and move ahead on plans for a regional landfill south of Alamogordo.

They were the only bidders Thursday at the public sale of a 622.5 acre parcel 13 miles north of Oro Grande.

With the city of Alamogordo as the bidder, the groups purchased the land for its appraised value of $30,000. The authorities already have spent nearly $200,000 on tests to ensure the suitability of the ground and subsurface for a landfill.

"We're glad it happened and that Otero County can move out of the Dog Canyon landfill to a more conducive area," said Bob Langsenkamp of the State Public Lands Commissioner.

Hubbard says he's moving on

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Bargaining without council approval late last week, Ruidoso Mayor Pro-Tem Barbara Duff and Councilor Ron Andrews attempted to exclude R.D. Hubbard's attorney from any future hotel extension talks.

The action so angered the racetrack owner, it closed any possible negotiations to build a Hubbard hotel in Ruidoso.

"I have no more interest, period, in the hotel," Ruidoso Downs Race Track owner R.D. Hubbard told The Ruidoso News Saturday.

Hubbard's last extension, granted in December of 1992, was for a hotel to be completed on the village owned site by July 1, 1993.

"I have no more interest, period, in the hotel." R.D. Hubbard Hubbard had told the council that poor economic times nationwide had forced delays.

At the last regular council meeting, councilors met with Hubbard attorney Don Dutton in closed session to discuss a new extension on the hotel lease agreement. Returning to open session, a 3-3 vote left the July 1 deadline on default intact.

Councilor J.D. James was angered that the meeting was closed to the public and called for a special open meeting.

At that special meeting last Tuesday, business leaders packed village hall overwhelmingly in support of allowing the lease to continue. Consensus statements from the leaders emphasized that Hubbard was the best and only opportunity for a much needed convention hotel at this time.

But the council again voted down the request with the same split votes. Nay votes were cast by Andrews, Duff and Councilor Bill Karn.

Karn voted against the extension, although he admitted he told Hubbard several weeks ago he would give him a vote of confidence. Karn now insisted the contract be changed first.

Hubbard said Saturday that he talked to Karn a few weeks ago.

"I told him if they offered to extend the contract, I would be interested in that," said Hubbard. "But I was not going to go in and renegotiate; they've had plenty of time," he added.

After that conversation, Karn pushed for amending the lease agreement.

Andrews, at the end of the Tuesday meeting, said he wanted the legality of an extension verified, but then unilaterally pushed for a private meeting to renegotiate with Hubbard through Councilor Frank Cummins.

Duff held a two-page list of contract changes in her hand during the public meeting, but didn't choose to discuss them openly.

Andrews and Duff both tried to meet with Hubbard later in the week to discuss renegotiation of the original contract.

According to several sources, the new special meeting was conditional that it be without the presence of Hubbard's attorney Don Dutton, and that negotiations could not proceed as long as Dutton was the legal representative.

According to Councilor Cummins, Andrews first approached

Building booming

A big increase in building permits this May over last May is proof of Ruidoso's mini-building boom.

"Things have really picked up this year," said Cleatus Richards, Planning and Zoning Department director for the Village of Ruidoso.

His office issued 54 building permits in May for a total valuation of $1,755,985.49.

A year ago, in May 1992, just 37 permits were issued for $841,013.

The May total was close to April's $1,789,730 for 50 permits.

This May eight permits, valued at $1,301,609.51, were issued for the construction of single family dwellings.

In April 11 permits, totaling $1,303,936, were issued for single family homes.

Most of the other permits this April and May were for remodeling and additions, with 16 permits issued in May for reshingling (roofing) projects.

New commercial building is still slow, with two permits issued totaling $53,000. One of those was for a metal building ($35,000) and the other for commercial storage/office building ($18,000).

The Village of Ruidoso issues building permits for construction valued at $500 or more. Those permits are required for projects within the Village of Ruidoso, and within the three-mile planning and platting jurisdiction — that includes Alto and Agua Fria.

"We don't go into other municipal areas," said Cleatus Richards.

Building permits for the Village of Ruidoso Downs are handled by the state since that village has no building inspector.

Below are listed all building permits issued in April and May of this year by the Village of Ruidoso. They are listed by property owner, contractor, lot/block/addition, address, type of construction and cost.

Planners to meet today

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission will meet at 2 p.m. today, Monday, to hear a favorable recommendation from village staff for the annexation and C-2 business zoning designation for tracts of Carrizo Lodge Condominiums.

Ruidoso fire chief Virgil Reynolds said the Carrizo canyon residents are not in a known district. He said if Carrizo Canyon is annexed, they will have fire protection from Ruidoso Fire Department.

The village is now installing an adequate water supply and hydrant system to better the protection in Carrizo Canyon.

The meeting also will cover three replats, three variances and a commercial site development.

MainStreet shocked by loss of resort hotel

MainStreet Ruidoso's board members are shocked and appalled at the idea of losing the resort hotel planned by R.D. Hubbard.

During a regular meeting Thursday, Village Councilor J.D. James, an ex-officio MainStreet board member, announced that plans for a hotel near the village civic events center are being scrapped.

James said that, due to a three-to-three vote during a special council meeting last Tuesday, Hubbard decided it is too much trouble to continue with his hotel development in Ruidoso.

MainStreet executive director Don Miller said he doesn't understand how he can be going to Santa Fe asking for money for a $1.3 million dollar project when the community doesn't have something like the hotel as an anchor.

In an attempt to encourage Hubbard to reconsider, the board unanimously approved a resolution to be sent to Hubbard thanking him for all that he has done for the community.

All but two members were present for Thursday's meeting with Mike Radziewicz and Stan Cape both absent.

Cape, who was not present due to a six-month job in Albuquerque, submitted his resignation at the meeting.

The board now has a pair of vacancies, with Cape's resignation and the removal of Walter Merchant during last month's meeting.

Directors agreed to gather names and discuss possible appointments during the July meeting.

Also Thursday, Miller explained that the timetable of funding from the village will leave MainStreet about $5,000 short in operating funds for the last part of June and most of July.

He asked for and was granted authorization to establish a line of credit with an area bank to cover the lack of funds.

Miller also reported to the board that he and village deputy manager Alan Briley were going to Albuquerque Friday to meet with the Bohannon-Huston Engineering Firm in Albuquerque to discuss the original bid estimates for Phase I of the MainStreet construction program.

Miller and Briley are trying to find alternates in the construction plan that would bring the project budget down. Miller said he wants to bring the budget down so that it will be passable by the Village.

An additional item presented by Miller was an outline of a Respect Ruidoso anti-litter campaign prepared by Ruidoso resident Stephanie Chastain.

Chastain is concerned about the

Smoked Turkey

Clouds of smoke covered an area of Turkey Canyon across from the Ruidoso Downs Race Track during the early afternoon of last Thursday. The fire, of unknown origin, covering an undisclosed amount of acreage, was eventually put out by the forest service, assisted by the Ruidoso Fire Department.

Garbage group will hash out rules and regs for dumpsters

What to do with red, white and blue dumpsters at Frank's Fruit Market in Ruidoso Downs will be one of the main topics during a meeting of the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority today.

The situation at the market also has focused attention on other businesses in the Ruidoso-Ruidoso Downs areas that may have been receiving more than the weekly collection covered in the monthly charge.

Members will try to come up with a policy on the color of dumpsters and on what to charge for extra collections.

The board will get together at 10 a.m. in the administration building of the recycling center at 222 Second Street in Ruidoso Downs.

Other items on the agenda for the first meeting with new general manager Joe Lewandowsky include a request for service for county containers near Oscura and Carrizozo, assistance on container maintenance by recycling personnel and equipment purchases of recycling equipment.

Get ready for big garage sale

Get rid of those old lamps. Cast off that exotic vase in the corner or jewelry cluttering your drawers.

The Ruidoso News' annual garage sale to pay for spaying and neutering of animals up for adoption at the Lincoln County Humane Society shelter is set for late August.

The newspaper will begin accepting items in early August.

level of litter throughout the community. Among Chastain's concerns are a lack of interest among the village's merchants, and a possible long-term affect on the perception of the village by it's visitor's due to the trash.

Miller asked for the board to approve a possible purchase of temporary receptacles until the permanent ones are put in place during the streetscape construction.

Director Audean Franklin suggested putting the permanent trash cans in immediately, instead of wasting money on buying a set of temporary receptacles.

The board agreed, and told Miller to look into placing the permanent receptacles in the Midtown area immediately.

The board also discussed the crosswalks on Sudderth in the Midtown area. The group agreed that during high traffic times, pedestrians are greatly at risk on the crosswalks.

One suggestion to improve the safety of the crosswalks, was to increase their visibility.

Board member Margaret Lahey told the board that crosswalks in England are painted with large black and white alternating stripes, which greatly increases their visibility.

The board agreed to ask the village to repaint the crosswalks at the soonest possible time.

The board also agreed to draft a letter to the police chief in an attempt to get stricter but reasonable enforcement of parking laws in Midtown.

Hubbard

him to set up the meeting with Hubbard. Cummins said the meeting was to include Andrews, Cummins, Frank Potter and Max Johnson, general manager of the racetrack.

Andrews verified that he had asked for the meeting. He said he preferred Dutton not be part of the meeting, because his past experience taught him it was better to negotiate without the middleman.

Cummins said he delivered Andrews' request to Johnson and Johnson then talked to Hubbard.

"They came to me demanding," said Hubbard. "Demanding that I have a new representative to meet with them other than Don Dutton. That was Barbara Duff and Andrews that demanded this. The word was that they demand."

Hubbard said a meeting had been set.

"I told Mr. Johnson he was not to meet with them, that I had no interest in meeting with them, and that Don Dutton represented me in regards to this project. They can demand whatever they want, but that's a fact. That is who is representing AllHub (the Hubbard/Ed Allred corporation) in this deal," Hubbard said.

Hubbard told The Ruidoso News Saturday that there would be no further negotiations with the village council.

Asked if there was any way the hotel deal could be salvaged, Hubbard said, "no."

"They've had plenty of time," he said. "They've looked everywhere in the world for someone to build a hotel, and nobody is going to build a hotel."

"You can't finance a hotel in a resort area, or anywhere, right now," he said.

Hubbard said he was involved with the hotel developer in New Orleans who formerly headed the Holiday Inn chain.

"I had him send his man here to do a complete evaluation," Hubbard said. "His man came back with a report that said it's just not feasible."

"I had decided that if we cut the size of the project, rather than trying to finance it, I'd be in the position later this year to pay for it without financing. That's what I told (Councilor) J.D. James."

"When J.D. called, I told him that I would go ahead and build, if they extended the lease on the same terms, and cut the size of the hotel, so I could purchase without financing. I would go forward."

James delivered that message to the council during last Tuesday's public meeting. He told the council that Hubbard had agreed to pay for the hotel out of his pocket, if the extension and downsizing was allowed.

"Then the deal came down like it did last week," Hubbard said. "As far as I'm concerned, I have no more interest and I've told them all that, and there's no re-opening from my standpoint."

"We have asked for an accounting of the money that has been spent on the common area. We paid all the cash (about $850,000), they were to have contributed one-third in work in-kind. We've asked for an accounting of the city's cost. We've asked to have that before July 1 so we can pay them $100,000 on July 1 and go forward," said Hubbard.

"I had an interest. They've turned it down, that's fine. I have other things where I can use my money, and I'm going forward in the other areas outside of Ruidoso," he said.

Hubbard was asked if the Museum of the Horse, started by the Hubbard Foundation, was going to be moved.

"I've had an offer to move the Museum of the Horse to California where there would be no further financial burden on my part, but I'm not going to do that," Hubbard said. "The Museum of the Horse will stay in Ruidoso."

The Dreamer

Blue skies open up for a summer rainfall

The Drought Breaks in the Middle of the Dry Month

This is being sent to you between twilight and dusk of June 18, and a few clouds are drifting down bringing a light shower to the vale. This is just the eastern edge of the best rain of the years.

The day began with a pure blue sky and a west wind that carried the breath of rain. At noon clouds began forming out of nowhere over Storm Mountain, and then very soon the whole picture changed.

All across the western sky up the valley, blue and purple clouds began a thunder and lightning pageant. The sweet voice of the thunder sounded and echoed from hill to hill away up the valley as the rain storm moved in against the east wind. Suddenly the wind changed and began blowing from the west, and you began to inhale cool moist air flavored with pine, piñon and cedar which told you of hail driving down with the rain among the evergreens.

You could see the gray and purple curtains of rain streaming down from the dark clouds as the rain moved down the valley, casting the hills on either side in silvery veils and purple rain streamers.

The small drops of rain moved into the vale bringing a gentle shower which was soon soaked up by the thirsty ground.

As you drove up the valley, you could see that heavy rain and hail had fallen in Ruidoso Downs and the surrounding area. The whole countryside seemed to blossom forth in response to this pleasant surprise — this drought-breaking rain in the middle of June, the driest month.

When I arrived back home, here was the river, reddish-brown with flood water, a strange and very welcome sight here in the dry month of June.

And so, here in early nightfall, the rain is pattering a cheerful tattoo on the roof at the close of the day of good rain in the middle of the June drought.

Cloud Pageants

Much the same as yesterday, the day of the good rain, the east wind has been singing up the valley. The air is laden with the smell of rain and over toward Lincoln to the north, a great fan-shaped cloud — purple gray next to the horizon and show white at the top — is advancing over the mountain. Now the thunder resounds through the cloud, and the lightning flashes gold and light crimson.

Now a great long cloud travels out of the south overhead to join the fan shaped cloud in the north. And all the vale is fresh under cloud shadow and the thimder's cheerful voice you hear to the north, south and overhead.

Let us count our many blessings and thank Our Lord for a glorious summer.

Confused dog wonders why he was left behind

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

He's well behaved, housebroken, neutered and can't figure out why he was left behind when his owner moved out of town.

Conan was one of two dogs dropped off at the Lincoln County Humane Society animal shelter by a man on his way out of town.

Some people apparently have a difficult time telling the difference between a pet and piece of furniture that no longer is useful or doesn't match the decor in a new apartment, said new shelter director Esther Harper.

A chow/golden retriever mix, Conan is on the small side in size, but his heart is huge and ready to bond with a caring new owner.

"He's good with other dogs and with children," Harper said. "His coat is heavy enough to primarily be an outdoor dog, but, like any members of the family, he should be brought into the house at night."

At the cattery next to the main shelter, an attractive tortoise shell/Persian female given the name of Cashmere is up for adoption.

Brought to the society as a stray after being caught in a trap near U.S. 70, she recently had been a mother, but no kittens were found. Shelter volunteers clipped off matted hair and this week she is regaining her trim shape and luxurious coat.

"She's a little shy, but very affectionate, loves attention and would make an extremely good pet," said volunteer Josephine Strain, who primarily is responsible for giving the cattery a comfortable, homelike atmosphere.

A sweet white kitten with light blue eyes and dark markings on its ear, tail, muzzle and paws also is looking for a new home. Called Mirage, she was one of four in a litter brought in with their mother, who appeared to have Siamese blood. Cashmere and Mirage will be featured on the front page of The Reporter Wednesday.

Visits can be painless
Some people are reluctant to visit shelters, because they think they will have to walk passed cages full of animals while looking for a new special friend.

That's not necessary. If a person is looking for a particular size or appearance in a pet, visit after 1 p.m. A shelter attendant can look through the current occupants and bring potential adoptees one at a time outside on a leash for visitors to view.

Harper was hired last week as the new shelter manager. She's no stranger to the area, having relatives in Ruidoso and Carrizozo.

She also has several years of experience caring for animals in the laboratories of the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque.

"My main reason for working there was to make sure the animals are treated humanely and all I saw were," she said. "I'm an animal lover. I've always had animals around. I want to make sure as many as possible in the shelter find homes."

Unfortunately, Harper arrived at a time when many negligent owners, who failed to have their pets sterilized and allowed them to run loose, brought in the resulting unwanted litters.

Several found new homes, but 13 puppies representing many different breeds, were destroyed because the cages were overcrowded.

Pet owners need to be aware that the county has a leash law, the village of Ruidoso has a mandatory spay and neuter ordinance and a new state law takes effect July 3 that requires all adopted or reclaimed animals from a shelter to be sterilized. Violations carry heavy fines.

A one-time surgical procedure is the humane answer to pet overpopulation. Euthanasia is not. For every human born, 15 dogs and 45 cats are brought into the world. In the United States each year, 14-million of those are destroyed in shelters.

Esther Harper, the new manager of the Lincoln County Humane Society shelter, gets to know friendly Conan.

Sponsors can help a pet's chance for adoption from the shelter by paying for the sterilization procedure.

For more information about Conan, Cashmere or Mirage, call 257-9841 or stop at the shelter on Gavilan Canyon Road.

PROPANE GAS FIGHTING FOR FAIR TREATMENT IN WASHINGTON TAX DEBATE, LOCAL OFFICE SAYS

Las Cruces, New Mexico - "While much of the current tax debate in Washington is dominated by major energy lobbies, such as oil and natural gas, federal lawmakers are learning more about the importance of propane gas to the national energy picture," said Ray S. Parsons, President for Ikard and Newsom, a multi-branch propane gas dealer located in the Southern New Mexico area.

"Here in New Mexico, clean-burning propane gas is used extensively to heat homes and run farm equipment in rural areas, and we have been very concerned with the energy tax bill. Federal lawmakers know very little about this fuel, and we have been waging an all-out effort to make them understand what propane gas is and why it is important to our economy and our costumers," Parsons said.

"We are opposed to a tax on energy; however, if a tax is to be implemented, we want to ensure it is fair to people who rely on propane gas. We recently won one fight to make sure propane users weren't taxed more than those who use natural gas, but more needs to be done to ensure fair treatment," Parsons said.

For example, the industry is now fighting to have the collection point for propane gas be the same as that for natural gas--at the point of final sale. "This will keep the product price as low as possible to the consumer," Parsons said. The industry is also fighting for the fairer tax policies for propane gas used as an alternative motor fuel.

Propane gas is one of the most diverse energy products, with more than a hundred applications. Under a relatively low amount of pressure, propane gas turns to a liquid, efficiently storing more BTU's in a smaller space. It is this property that makes propane gas portable, practical and economical. When released, propane gas burns clean like natural gas.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, there are 64,582 households in New Mexico using propane gas.

The president's energy bill passed the House recently, and is now pending in the Senate. "We have tried to impress our two U.S. Senators, Sen. Domenici and Sen. Bingaman. When the bill comes up, I urge them to remember the state's many propane gas consumers," Parsons said.

Bent Tree Jamboree serves up family fun

Tired of sitting at home with the family week after week without a good wholesome place to take them?

Well, grab the kids and your cowboy duds and head for the Bent Tree Jamboree.

The Bent Tree Jamboree features a buffet style dinner with catfish, steak fingers and chicken, a long with other favorites.

And to help that food digest, the Bent Tree offers a full plate of after dinner entertainment.

A custom picked group called the Regulators provides folks with a full slate of country music favorites. The group also provides a little comedy to keep the audience on their toes.

All of the eight musicians in the band were hand picked for their musical ability and personality. They were all found at South Plains College in Levelland, Texas.

Jones said that South Plains is known for its music program, so it was only natural to pick a band there.

The only exception to that Levelland training is a local musical talent, Joni Autrey, who was recently added to the show.

According to Jones, the show will probably change from week to week as the group tries different combinations and styles.

But according to manager Phil Jones, the fun at the Bent Tree Jamboree does not stop with the music.

At the end of the season Jones says there are plans to add a selection of shops to the property.

"We wanted something that we thought people could come out and spend a whole day at," said Jones.

In the plans is an old fashioned ice cream parlor, a shooting gallery and arcade, and possibly a craft store as well as other things for people's enjoyment.

Jones said that the decision to bring the Bent Tree to Ruidoso was a simple one.

First of all Jones expects Ruidoso to become the next major tourist spot.

"We thought Ruidoso was going to be the next hot spot," said Jones. Secondly, Jones said that this seemed like a perfect place to bring up his family.

Jones said he wanted his daughter to grow up in a nice environment and have a good school to go to.

With that kind of attitude, it is obvious that Jones is looking to create an atmosphere of family fun and entertainment.

Good Vibes brings the best of the '60s to '90s

by GARY CAMPBELL
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Looking for something new and out of the ordinary to do tonight?

The Good Vibes Cafe offers folks something a little different for evening and lunchtime entertainment.

"I think we are really different from what Ruidoso already has to offer," said James Boren.

Boren and his wife, Ite, are trying to create an artsy atmosphere with a twist of sixties folk music.

But more importantly the Borens want to create a relaxed family atmosphere.

"We are totally non-smoking and non-alcoholic," said Boren. "We're going to be more family oriented."

To encourage that, the Borens plan to have a kid's night, a mid-school night and a high school night. Those night's however have not been set in stone.

The current schedule for the Good Vibes Cafe includes a comedy and poetry night on Tuesdays, an open mike on Wednesdays, an artist showcase on Thursdays, James Boren and Friends on Fridays and Saturdays, and a jam session on Sunday afternoons.

The poetry and comedy night will feature area poets and comics looking for a place to share their work.

The open mike will be an opportunity for anyone to perform.

This will include just about any kind of performance by anyone interested. James Boren said that he was the originator of the open mike night at the Hide Away Lounge and would like to continue the tradition at the Good Vibes.

Thursday night's showcase is expected to bring in accomplished artists for an extended show. The featured artists will be a variety of singers and groups from the Ruidoso area and throughout the southwest.

As a special treat for the artist, Boren plans to make a demo tape from the performance along with a videotape of the show.

Sunday's jam session will just be a spontaneous mixture of any artists wanting to jump in.

Lunch entertainment will be provided Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays by local artist Adrian Henry.

Along with the music, the Good Vibes Cafe plans to have an area with games like chess, checkers, backgammon for their patron's enjoyment.

As for food, the Good Vibes has a wide variety of soups salads and sandwiches. There is also a soup and sandwich special for each day of the week.

To help budget minded people of Ruidoso who eat out every day, the Good Vibes is selling a meal ticket. The ticket will be good for five specials along with a dessert.

The Good Vibes Cafe also specializes in a wide variety of coffees teas and juices.

"We have whatever kind of juice people would like," said James Boren.

But, above all else the Borens' main focus is on providing a different place in town for people to go.

"We're just a little different than everybody else," said James Boren.

The Good Vibes Cafe, located at 2814 Sudderth in the Pinetree Square, is open Tuesdays through Thursdays 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. to midnight, Fridays and Saturdays 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 4 a.m., and Sundays 3 to 7.

The Regulators (above) put on their show for the Bent Tree crowd, while the hungry group (right) heads for the Bent Tree's buffet line.

Researcher Surprised by Weight Loss!
WASHINGTON -- A researcher at National Dietary Research, an organization committed to the research and development of nutritional solutions to world-wide health problems, is surprised at how successful a natural food tablet has become in helping overweight people lose weight.
Dr. William Morris is surprised because the chewable tablet, called Food Source One, was originally developed to help feed the world's undernourished people. Relief organizations, however wanted a more conventional method to ease world hunger so they opted for more traditional food sources. Dr. Morris then reformulated Food Source One to enhance its potential for weight loss.
Just why does FS-1 work so well to help people lose weight? Some may say it's the natural plant colloids that Finnish scientists say interferes with the intestinal absorption of calories. But there is not agreement in the scientific community on this theory, so it can only be considered speculation pending further study. So why are some people losing weight with FS-1 -- lots of weight? According to Dr. Morris, it's the Food Source One Plan that allows you to lose weight without giving up your favorite foods. With the FS-1 Plan there are no forbidden foods. Although individual weight loss varies, one woman from Niagara Falls, New York lost over 70 pounds without giving up her favorite foods which included chocolate, pizza and chicken wings.
A Florida company has exclusive distribution rights to this powerful pre-meal snack. Food Source One is available through pharmacies and other health care professionals.

Set Records dominates Norgor

Father's Day was good to trainer Doyal Roberts Sr. who saddled three winners on the 10-race card including the promising juvenile Set Records who dominated his foes by 7 1/2-lengths in the 15th running of the $77,279 Norgor Futurity, Sunday at Ruidoso Downs.

"It's about time I had a good day," said Roberts who has been Ruidoso Downs top trainer for five straight years.

"He's a real nice colt who does everything right. He doesn't get excited like a lot of 2-year-olds. He's one of the better 2-year-olds I've seen in a long time."

Jockey Flavio Martinez and 3-5 favorite Set Records broke sharply from the gates in the 5 1/2-furlong sprint and layed just off the early pace set by Amandas Nice Boy and El Paso Special. Nearing the turn, Martinez veered his mount to the outside and hooked 3-1 second choice Amandas Nice Boy at the top of the lane.

By the eighth pole, Set Records had disposed of Amandas Nice Boy and drew off to win in impressive fashion. The time was 1:03.4, the fastest of the meet for the distance and only one second off the track record.

"I've been babysitting him in his last two starts, and I never got a chance to turn him loose until today," said Martinez.

Roberts and Martinez won the race for owners Margaret Du Pont and Margaret Bloss of El Paso. They also bred Set Records at Pillar Stud in Kentucky, which is owned and operated by Du Pont's son.

The gelded son of Sauce Boat is out of the Star de Naskra mare Super Set.

"We expected a lot out of him because he's out of one of the best mares we have," said Du Pont.

The gelding's earnings now stand at $40,799.

Super win

Super Duper Couper noses out First Down and Ten (#5) and Perfect Sign (#4) to win the third trial division for the $233,043 Rainbow Derby. The colt ran the 440 yards Thursday in 21.43 seconds to become the fastest qualifier in the Grade I race which will be run July 4 at Ruidoso Downs. Steve Fuller directed the three-year-old son of Coup De Kas for trainer Carl Draper and owner Fredda Draper of Ruidoso Downs.

Set Records, with jockey Flavio Martinez aboard, triumphs in the 15th running of the $77,279 Norgor Futurity June 20 at Ruidoso Downs. The two-year-old gelding crossed the finish line by an easy 7 1/2 lengths in front of runner-up Amandas Nice Boy. The time for the 5 1/2 furlongs was 1:03.4. Set Records is trained under the watchful eye of J. Doyal Roberts. The Kentucky-bred son of Sauce Boat is owned by Margaret Du Pont and Margaret Bloss of El Paso, Texas.

Blushable upsets Baby Let's Dance

The ever-consistent Blushable scored her third straight victory and upset 6-5 favorite Baby Let's Dance with a five-length triumph in the $12,775 Aspen Cup Handicap for 3-year-old fillies Saturday at Ruidoso Downs.

Blushable was sent off the 5-2 second choice in the ten-horse field in the six furlong sprint. Jockey Donald Sandoval hustled his mount out of the gates and was in fifth midway down the backstretch behind pacesetter Chelsey's Weave.

Heading into the turn, the filly made a strong move on the outside of Chelsey's Weave and took a one-length lead. Sandoval and Blushable had a commanding lead in the stretch and coasted home in a time of 1:11.3.

"I never expected it to be that easy," said Sandoval who has ridden Blushable in all seven of her career starts. "She's always done exactly what we asked of her. He (Bringhurst) doesn't run her too often and keeps her fit."

Trainer Owen Bringhurst shipped the California-bred daughter of By In The Swing in from Arapahoe Park near Denver for the race and galloped her over the track Friday morning.

Blushable scored her third career stakes victory Saturday and earned $7,665 for owners Willard

Wilkinson and Bringhurst of Salt Lake City, Utah. The filly also won the Highland Canal and Colorado Starlet Stakes at Arapahoe and has never finished out of the money in her career. She is undefeated in three starts this year and her career bankroll now stands at $47,080.

Hubbard and Allred's Baby Let's Dance was the overwhelming favorite in the Aspen Cup after beating the boys in the Norgor Derby here June 5. The New Mexico-bred by Full Choke looked as if she would overtake Blushable in the turn, but her bid fell short and she finished a distant second.

Does this make sense?

At least three Ruidoso councilors apparently don't believe that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. Mayor Pro-tem Barbara Duff and councilors Ron Andrews and Bill Karn dealt the death blow to a resort hotel that R.D. Hubbard had agreed to build next door to our civic events center.

We hate to report negative news, but in a trend that has continued for months now, this village leadership gives us little choice. Mayor Pro-tem Barbara Duff used the word "positive" over and over during Tuesday's special meeting and then joined with Andrews and Karn in slamming the door on the hotel.

Like most business leaders in our little village, we're still in shock that half our council would set out to shut out the ONLY developer with the money and inclination to provide the third element in the economic development package on the old airport land.

While advocating spending thousands to support an economic development group that is looking for business, councilors Duff, Andrews and Karn gambled with the only sure thing — a much-needed hotel paid for with somebody else's money.

Ruidoso Downs Race Track owner Hubbard asked for a little more time on the lease he'd already negotiated. He has spent millions on the golf course, and the hotel was to be the next step. The village and state have invested millions in the civic center that can never reach its full potential until meeting and convention planners can count on a full-service hotel nearby.

The damage of this latest action is far-reaching. The civic events center is under-utilized, and the kinds of events that are booked into the center often compete with local businesses. Without a resort hotel, it's difficult to attract new, non-competing events, and so traveling arts and crafts fairs are being scheduled in the center. Their wares are similar (sometimes exactly the same) as those in local stores, and the local economy has already been hurt. These arts and crafts fairs also will hurt annual festivals used as fundraisers by the chamber, Ruidoso Downs auxiliary and gymnastics association.

The civic center needs to be filled with events that will enhance local businesses, boosting our gross receipts, lodging and gasoline taxes by bringing more people into town.

Ruidoso business people turned out in force Tuesday to plead with the council for some economic relief. The message was resounding: we need the Hubbard hotel. But, Duff, Andrews and Karn were unmoved, and the village economy is the loser. What happened to government by the people, for the people?

Why ask why? If it's right, just do it

TO THE EDITOR:

Several years ago, at some social gathering, the woman's question to me was: "Did you really marry the very first man that asked you?" I was taken aback, not so much by the question itself, but more so by her self-satisfied smirk and the condescending tone of her voice. Her demeanor shouted "Poor fool, you didn't play the field long enough!"

It's true — I didn't "play the field" very long. The right man asked me first, I was smart (or lucky) enough to recognize it, and I'm happy to say we'll enjoy our 25th anniversary soon. He was and still is the right man.

For Ruidoso, I believe R.D. Hubbard was and is the right man. Like my husband, he does not walk on water, nor does he ride a white horse. He does, however, reasonably hope and work to make a profit on his investments. Not unlike the rest of us!

Who of us purposely invests in something we know is a losing proposition? We all make investments — be they energy, time or money — with aspirations of a positive return, a profit. We work, expecting a salary and (hopefully) personal gratification for a job well done. We plant, expecting something to grow. We write a check

- for a house
- for employees, equipment and business inventory
- for a lawn mower so a teenager can earn summer money
- for a 4X4 with a blade to plow snow-packed driveways and be our own boss
- for something we can play with, expecting the pleasure of recreation.

We expect something in return, a benefit from each and every investment we make.

The village has invested in the former airport location, we as taxpayers have invested, Hubbard has invested. There is a lot at stake, and we all expect a return. I served on the original airport board; it was an honor, frustrating at times, but a privilege none-the-less. Our recommendation was for a complementary development package, each facet to augment the others. The whole to be greater than the sum of its parts.

Regretfully some members of our current village council just voted against an integral part of that package. Some things in life are unexplainable. Why ask why?

Nationwide and (must I point out the obvious?) locally we overbuilt nearly everything in the '80s. This was true in the lodging industry as well. Wall Street Journal articles point out the national trend to pull back, recommending that investors wait until existing facilities are more fully utilized before building more hotels where there is no true need.

The Ruidoso area, however, legitimately needs another resort hotel in conjunction with the civic center and The Links, to expand more fully into the lucrative convention market. One of our "parts" is missing from the package for now but only because of national economic trends. Hubbard was wise to delay building a resort hotel within the original timeframe. The key word here is delay. He did not drop the ball, play games, or invest recklessly. You and I would have done the same thing if we were smart and in his position.

I owe no allegiance to Mr. Hubbard. He wouldn't know me from Adam, and that's OK. But I do owe allegiance to a community and area that I feel strongly and positively about. We just lost our ace in the hole, and I'm downright nauseated about it!

Sometimes the first man that asks is the right man. Do you turn him down just because he happens to be first? That was my response to the woman at the party. Sometimes the first offer you get on your property is the best one you'll get. If it's a legitimately good offer, who do you hurt when you reject it? Or when you up the ante? Hubbard's offer was legitimate, reasonable and mutually beneficial. He didn't hurt us, Ruidoso — but some village councilors have made a bad decision and the damage is far-reaching.

Anyone who knows me knows that I, too, have made mistakes. But I can forgive, respect and appreciate anyone who admits their mistake, learns from it, and does all within their power to rectify the wrong as best and quickly as possible. I pray that those who voted against the hotel extension will see their error, apologize and make things right for the benefit of all investors! PDQ

Proud petitioner angered by inquiry about his objections

TO THE EDITOR:

You recently published my name as one of the signers of a petition complaining about the biased content of The Ruidoso News.

Thank you! I am proud to have my name on this petition, and my only regret is the petition was not more strongly worded to demand the removal of persons on the staff of The News that have forgotten that newspapers were originally founded to give the public access to facts in order to form their own opinion. Unfortunately, the contents of this paper seem to be designed to tell people what they should think, as if they were incapable of independent thought.

I was called by Mr. Stallings about my signature on the petition. I was only too happy to tell him I clearly understood and freely signed the petition, but the conversation did not end there. He proceeded to engage in McCarthyistic tactics in an effort to intimidate me into confessing that I didn't know what I had signed.

Get real, Chuck! The petition was clearly worded and presented in a manner that left no doubt about its purpose.

I am disappointed 17 people were intimidated enough to let their names be removed, but I understand some of them cannot afford the pressure that can be brought to bear by this newspaper.

Ruidoso will be a much better place to live when this sort of yellow journalism is no longer practiced by The News.

David G. Shultz
Irving, Texas

EDITOR'S NOTE: Yes, Charles Stallings did call Mr. Shultz and ask him what prompted him to sign the "petition." Since he listed his address as Irving, Texas, the staff was interested in learning what specific policies he wanted changed. Stallings had two telephone conversations with Shultz and he played the tape of those calls during an editorial staff meeting. Shultz was not asked to remove his name, but in the first of the two talks he volunteered the information that he and his wife had dropped their subscription to The Ruidoso News. A five-year file search showed that Shultz had not been a subscriber during that time. Stallings, confused, called back and asked when Shultz had subscribed. Shultz called out to his wife, asking her when they dropped their subscription to The Ruidoso News, and the tape picked up a woman's voice as she informed him it was the Lincoln County News. Then Stallings repeated to Stallings what the woman said, that it was the Lincoln County News, and said that he was sorry for the mistake. He said he owns property in the area, visits Ruidoso several times a year and reads The Ruidoso News when he is in town. He said he objected to coverage of the motorcycle rally.

One of our freedoms

TO THE EDITOR:

Re: Petition to curb the newspaper.

Question: Whatever happened to that great American (Democratic) truism?

"I may not agree with what you say (write), but I will fight for your right to say it."

C.E. Chavez

Determination:

The Life and Times of Governor Tom Bolack

This documentary traces the life of a dying breed of Western pioneers whose extraordinary achievements make him an American original. With narration by Ed Ames, country music, and interviews, the program weaves a tapestry of one man's accomplishments toward improving the world.

Patterning himself after Teddy Roosevelt, Tom Bolack evolved from an inquisitive Kansas farmboy into an oilman, rancher, committed conservationist, big game hunter, museum curator, businessman, philanthropist, and politician. At the hub of New Mexican politics since the early fifties, Bolack was elected Lt. Governor in 1960 and later served as the Governor of New Mexico.

Determination visits Bolack's B-Square Ranch, a Full Multiple Use experimental farm/wildlife preserve in Farmington, New Mexico.

Paradoxically, two large trophy rooms in Bolack's Wildlife Museum brim with preserved animals, mammals, fish, birds, and reptiles, including a 17.5 foot crocodile and the world's largest polar bear. They are the result of six major safaris in Africa, India, Alaska, and Australia.

Using philanthropy in practical ways while maintaining conservationism has been a consistent cornerstone of Bolack's life. And his spheres of influence are many. The program visits the Navajo Dam Project, and then travels to Albuquerque to visit the Rio Grande Zoo, the Sandia Peak Tramway, and the Albuquerque Sports Stadium—home of the Albuquerque Dukes, the AAA Farm Team that Bolack sold to the L.A. Dodgers.

Determination: The Life and Times of Governor Tom Bolack will be broadcast Tuesday, June 29th at 1:00 p.m. and Wednesday, June 30th at 9:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

Ghost Trains of the Old West

Ghost Trains of the Old West features the last surviving steam railroads. These work horses of the past operate today as tourist railroads and scenic lines. The program provides viewers with a tour of over 16 different steam engines on 10 different lines.

Viewers start the tour with Utah's famous Golden Spike National Historic Site, where replicas of Union Pacific Engine 119 and Central Pacific's "Jupiter" recreate the famous meeting of the lines and the driving of the Golden Spike on May 10, 1989.

Next on the tour are the three-foot narrow gauge freight and passenger trains that climb Colorado's Rocky Mountains, the Cumbres and Toltec, and the spectacular Durango and Silverton railroads.

Viewers will then experience Nevada's famous "Ghost Train of Old Ely," Northern Number 40, as well as Virginia and Truckee engine Number 29 operating in Virginia City.

Last on the tour is a climb through Utah's Wasatch Mountains on the Union Pacific Engine Number 618 and a ride through Provo Canyon on Southern Pacific Engine 1744, or the "Heber Creeper."

Ghost Trains of the Old West will be broadcast Sunday, June 20th at 5:00 p.m. It will repeat Saturday, June 26th at 6:00 a.m. and Wednesday, June 30th at 8:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

PRICE COMPARISONS: The advertised prices in this advertisement are only for a limited time. The other retail price shown under the X, example $179.50, would have been the price if McMahon's paid a supplier the same cost charged another retailer and we marked up the retail price using McMahon's usual and customary mark up for product in that category. Some price comparisons are made to prices other retailers refer to in advertising as their regular price or the manufacturer list price. McMahon's advertised prices are not meant to infer that McMahon's ever previously sold the product at a higher price. Only when McMahon's quote Sale Savings do we mean that the product has been previously sold by McMahon's or another retailer at the higher price. Some advertised prices are compared to prices in effect after the promotion period.
