Call before putting out extra bags

Before hauling those sacks of pine needles and yard debris to the dumpster, call the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority.

Otherwise, those sacks may sit there for weeks.

"We're starting to catch up on pickups," foreman Calvin Griffin told members of the authority last week. "Everyone was cleaning their yards at the same time and we fell behind," he added.

"People need to call if they have a special pickup or else it might sit there until the route driver sees it and reports it."

The authority number is 378-4797.

Short meeting grows for Ruidoso School Board

Members of the Ruidoso School Board will call for bids on five items during a special meeting at noon Wednesday, June 29, in the central office board room.

The board is looking for bids on a sprinkler system for the new Sierra Vista Primary School at White Mountain, kitchen equipment, visitor bleachers for W.D. Horton Stadium, a Suburban vehicle for activity travel and meat products for the school lunch program.

Board members also will consider recommendations for employment for a band teacher, a bilingual teacher, a gifted education teacher, food services director, speech therapist and business education/computer teacher. A joint powers agreement for the adolescent day treatment center is scheduled for action. An executive session on pending legal action is the last item on the agenda.

Spend the Fourth of July with Smokey

A full holiday weekend of fun as part of Smokey Bear's Fiftieth Birthday Celebration will kick off Friday, July 1, with a special day at the races in Ruidoso Downs and then will shift to Capitan for events through July 4.

The Annual Smokey Bear Stampede and Rodeo is set for 7 p.m. Friday through Monday at the fairground in Capitan.

Weather

The National Weather Service forecast for the south central mountains calls for fair this morning, partly cloudy and quite warm this afternoon.

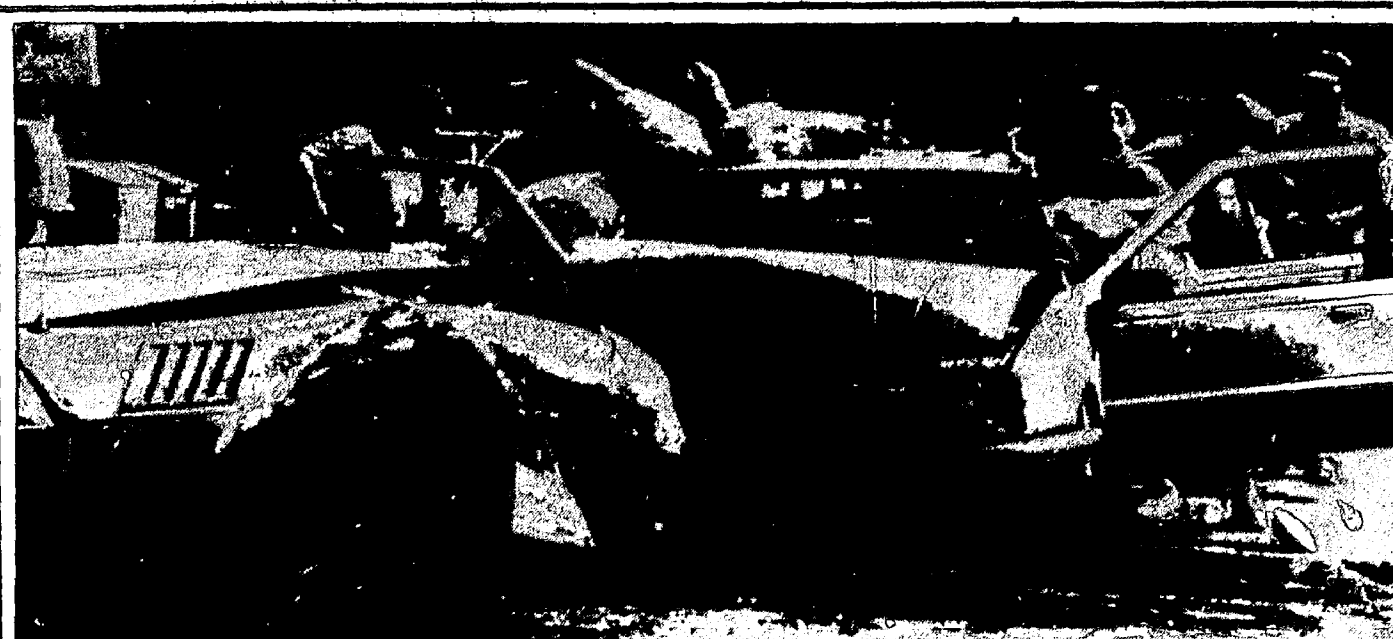

A few afternoon thunderstorms with little rain and gusts to 40 mph. Chance for rain is 5 to 10 percent today.

Tonight's forecast calls for partly cloudy.

Tuesday's forecast is for partly cloudy with isolated afternoon showers. Chance of rain 10 to 20 percent.

Ruidoso's predicted high for this afternoon is in the mid 90s with the low in the mid 60s. Expected high on Tuesday in the low 90s.

Three injured

Three people were treated at LCMC and one man was arrested after a two-car crash in front of Hand-Hanks. Ilenda Youpee, driver of a 1986 Isuzu, and her two passengers were transported by ambulance after the midafternoon crash. Larry Padilla, 31, of Ruidoso, was arrested and charged with DWI, careless driving and driving on suspended license after he reportedly drove his 1979 Chevrolet out of the parking lot onto Mechem and into the side of the Isuzu. Padilla, shown taking a sobriety test, was jailed and bonded out on Sunday.

Feeding bears can be fatal

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Every year Game Warden Ron Moore delivers the same lecture: Don't feed the bears.

"I thought I'd spoken to everybody in town, but every year they act like it's the first time they've heard it," the frustrated Moore said Friday.

The prospect of black bears lumbering into neighborhoods to visit dumpsters filled with garbage seems to be one of the major attractions for summer visitors.

To encourage those visits, many seasonal residents and tourists leave tempting food treats outside, or even throw food to bears they encounter.

For the bears, the end result could be death.

When they lose their fear of humans and become destructive or threatening, bears may have to be shot or relocated, which for a young male could mean ending up in another dominant male's territory.

"I receive about three calls a day on bear problems," Moore said.

Judge declares war on DWI

The first meeting of an eventual Lincoln County DWI Counsel met Thursday in the Ruidoso municipal courtroom with key law enforcement officials attending.

Magistrate Judge William Butts called the meeting in order for Lincoln County to meet a July 1 deadline to participate in grant allocations.

Last year, the DWI project was allocated $1,078,352 for: prevention, $328,663; enforcement, $550,488; screening and assessment, $16,555; teen court, $22,067; coordination, planning and evaluation, $81,028; alternative sentencing, $18,979; and sentence compliance, $60,572.

For 1993-94, Otero County received $76,508; $15,550 for prevention and $60,958 for enforcement.

Butts said that Lincoln County

Mescalero maidens celebrate traditional rituals

The Fourth of July celebrations will mark the turning point in the lives of six Mescalero girls.

The 11- to 15-year-olds will make the traditional journey from girlhood into womanhood in the traditional coming of age ceremonies and feasting July 1 through July 4 at the ceremonial grounds in Mescalero.

The families of Marjorie Chino, 14; Yvonne Morgan, 13; Krystal Enjady, 12; Juette Dolan, 15; Carol L. Evans, 14; and Eustine Murphy, 11; have planned for years for this special time when they'll provide feasts for friends and family who attend the rituals to wish their daughters well.

Marjorie E. Chino is the daughter of Cecil B. Chino and Delilah Compos of Mescalero. She will be a freshman at Ruidoso High School this fall.

Her paternal grandparents are Riley Chino and the late Margie Chino. Her maternal grandparents are the late Marcus and Ethelene Pena.

Marjorie's medicine man is Arden Comanche, and her medicine woman is Delphine Kinzhuma, with Nathaniel Chee Sr.'s dance group.

"Marjorie is the descendant of many great leaders, including Mr. Wendell Chino," according to her biography.

Yvonne Marie Morgan is the 13-year-old daughter of Daniel and Gerlinda Morgan. Her grandparents are Gerald Magoosh Sr.

and the late Linda Lou Balatche, and Dan and Mable Morgan of Arizona.

Yvonne attends school at Pinon Middle School in Arizona. She enjoys playing volleyball, basketball and dancing at pow-wows. Her favorite subjects in school are math, science and history.

Yvonne's attendants are Zelda Yazza and Gery Comanche.

She said she welcomes everybody to attend the ceremonial.

Krystal Dawn Enjady, a member of the Mescalero Apache Tribe, is the daughter of Olinda Blake and Harry Enjady. Her grandmother on her father's side is Lorraine Moquino and her other grandmother is Mabel Blake.

The 12-year-old attends Tularosa Mid School. She enjoys skiing and reading.

Juette L. Dolan, a Mescalero Apache, will be a sophomore at Ruidoso High School this fall.

Please see Mescalero, page 2A

Ruidoso Magistrate Judge William Butts outlines a community DWI grant to enforcement officials and representatives working with DWI programs in Lincoln County. Butts asked for ideas and needs for their departments received $5,333 for enforcement last year on an approval by Ruidoso police chief Richard Swenor. He said the program's money is normally approved by the county and he wasn't sure how Swenor managed to get the money.

Participating in the meeting were: Katherine Cooper, Coordinator of the Counseling Center; Wilton Howell, County Commissioner; Charlie White, Carrizozo Chief of Police; William Butts, Magistrate Judge of Ruidoso; Bert Atkins, District Attorney, 12th Judicial District; Henry Davis and Shawn Day, probation and parole officers; Maggie Bohks, EMS director; Patsy Sanchez, EMT; Cheryl Scott, para-legal in the DA's office; William Hanson; sergeant with the state police; Wolfgang Born, detective of Ruidoso; Brian Brock, attorney with Parson, Bryant and Morel; Kathy Echols, D.A.R.E.; Gerald Dean, Magistrate Judge, Division I in Carrizozo; Richard Dickson; Michael Line, Municipal Judge, Ruidoso; Chris Weatherford, coordinator with M.A.D.D.; and David Hightower, chief of police for Ruidoso Downs.

No representative of the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department was present.

Sheriff James McSwane later told The Ruidoso News that he declined to participate because of a lack of manpower.

"I'm obligated to county roads, burglaries, larcenies, felonies, crimes of that nature," McSwane said. "I honestly feel that with the state police and other law enforcement in the municipalities, there is adequate enforcement to do the job."

McSwane said if his small staff worked a DWI road block, it could serve as an unintentional invitation for crime in another area.

McSwane said although he didn't participate in the meeting, he would arrest a driver for DWI. Butts stressed time to the group. He said a plan had to be put together by Friday and in the hands of Mike McCann, director of Southeast Economic Development based in Roswell, by Monday. McCann is to hand carry the proposal to Santa Fe by July 1.

Butts appointed Charlie White to coordinate the project from Lincoln County.

Butts said the county commission has the responsibility for appointing a DWI council and their designee has final approval.

A monthly meeting to discuss problems with the court, enforcement or anything that effects the criminal justice system was suggested.

Butts asked the officials to keep in mind that Lincoln County borders Mescalero and the native Americans make up a large part of the county's case load.

He also mentioned special community events as an area where extra DWI enforcement could prevent problems. He said during the Fourth of July, the Ruidoso area would rival larger New Mexico cities in population.

Butts said that Ruidoso has 50 to 60 DWI cases pending.

Cooper of the Counseling Center said statistics show that a DWI driver has driven in that condition 500 times before being caught.

Flower project planned

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Who could possibly disapprove of flowers in the downtown area and the joy the blooms would bring to the tourists?

Realtor Cindy Lynch told a local television talk show host last Friday that she saw lots of flowers on her international vacation recently and determined flowers are what is needed for MainStreet.

So, courtesy of Lynch and the Ruidoso Board of Realtors and working with Bonnie Mattox of MainStreet, 40 cedar tubs were purchased from Wal-Mart and will be dispersed in the downtown area as a tribute to the patience of the merchants.

Lynch told the television audience when she returned from her vacation, the first thing she read in the paper was about the disgruntled downtown merchants; and she decided to do something about it.

Lynch and company didn't waste time.

"They wanted things to go zoom, zoom, zoom," said village deputy manager Alan Briley. He said they approached him sometime after the last village council meeting for him to coordinate the project so it wouldn't get in the way of construction.

It represented a shift from normal procedure, where any changes or additions to the million dollar MainStreet sidewalk project would be hashed over in a village council meeting.

Mayor Jerry Shaw said she briefly had heard of the flower project, so had Councilor Frank Potter, also on the village ad hoc landscape committee. But neither had input, and the project was not brought before the council, planning and zoning or the landscape committee.

Concerns were raised to Briley about tubs placed on pigmented concrete and resulting possible discoloration; about size and design; and of maintenance once the flowers had died. Briley was asked if sidewalk artists would be allowed to paint the sidewalks if some citizen visiting San Francisco thought it would look good in Ruidoso.

He was asked about procedures that the normal citizen would have to walk through in order to effect changes in the downtown area.

Briley said procedures should be followed, but the Realtors were pressing to get the their project done before our project was done on July 1. Although it is not an agenda item for Tuesday's council, Briley said he intended to bring it to the council's attention under his regular MainStreet update.

He said he didn't think the tubs were meant to be permanent, just an interim until the entire project is done. He said the more he thought of it, the more it sounded like they thought it would be permanent.

Realtor Cindy Lynch and garden club member Jan Hatch stand at the "Y" and discuss 40 tubs of flowers they plan for the streetscape project. Volunteer planters will gather at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 29, in the parking lot next to House of Kelham on Sudderth.

Bears

"Most want the bears moved, but that's not the answer. The answer is to stopping trying to attract the bears, stop feeding them."

"One person the other day insisted that nobody was feeding this bear. Yet, every time I threw a rock at him, he tried to eat it. Obviously, he was being fed."

"He's probably dead now. Bears are real territorial. He was relocated and it probably was another male's area. That established bear won't allow him to stay. And humans by feeding that young male bear caused the problem."

Upper Canyon and Alto seem to be the worst areas, Moore said.

Ben Hanson, information officer for the Roswell office of the State Game and Fish Division offered some advice:

To discourage bears, make sure that all garbage is inside the dumpster and none is scattered on the outside. Hanson said double bagging won't help, because bears have a keen sense of smell.

"All it will do is create more plastic that they can swallow," he said. "Sometimes, the plastic will stop up their digestive systems."

Ammonia could be sprinkled around the dumpsters or on the bags. That keen sense of smell should work against the bear in that situation.

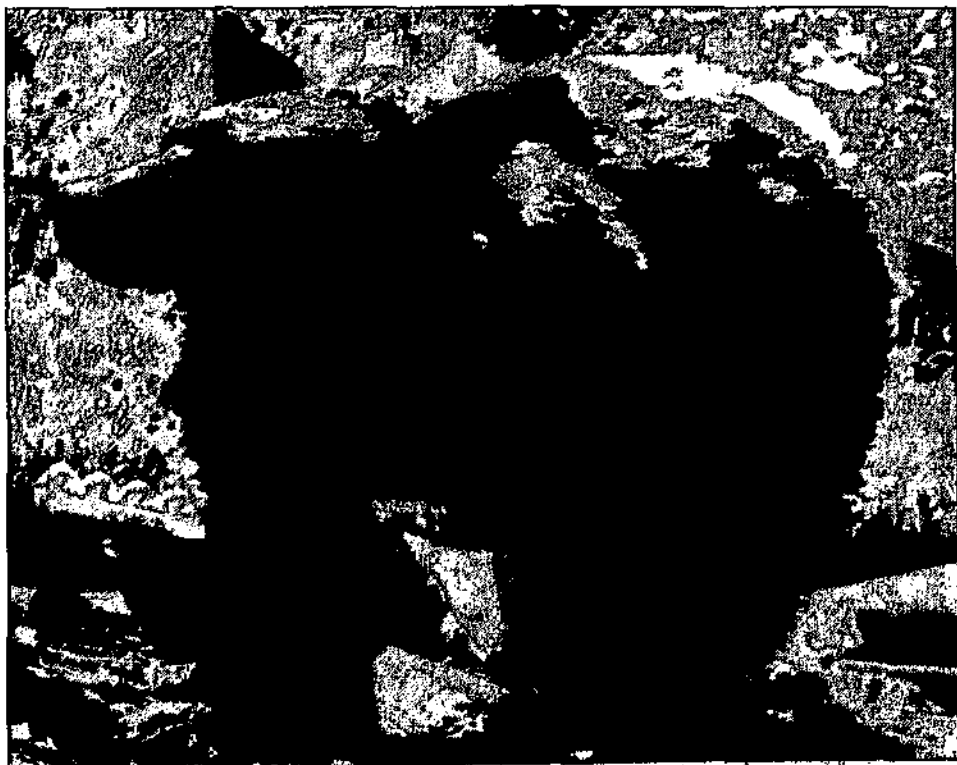

"If people can latch the garbage bin, that would help," Hanson said.

He also recommended removing hummingbird feeders, which definitely draw bears; pick up dog and cat dishes at night and don't leave other types of food or objects with food traces in the yard, such as grills.

"And pray for rain," Hanson said. "With rain, there will be more green plants and insects and those are their natural food source. However, for some bears, it's just easier to raid dumpsters than forage for food."

Moore said it's up to people to change if they want the bear population to survive.

"People keep telling me they don't have to change, the bears should," Moore said. "I've always been a firm believer that we're supposed to be the intelligent species. We should be able to recognize the root of the problem and change."

The black bear, one of Ruidoso's biggest summer tourist attractions, quickly can switch from an exciting oddity to a dangerous nuisance when encouraged by snacks from seasonal residents and visitors. This bear may end up being shot or being moved to a new territory, where he could be killed by a dominant bear already in residence.

Village manager to propose longer days, shorter weeks for some Ruidoso employees

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

A major work schedule shuffle for village hall employees that includes a 10-hour day, four-day work week will be heard Tuesday by the Ruidoso Village Council.

Village manager Gary Jackson wrote the mayor and council that he was proposing that hours of operation for village hall be extended by an hour each day to 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Jackson said his proposal would help citizens who work the normal 8 p.m. to 5 p.m. hours and it would help those people calling from Texas.

He said most of the employees at village hall would be scheduled to work 10 hour days, four days a week, 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Jackson said all departments have a tentative schedule that will guarantee coverage on a daily basis. He said the extra half hour before and after operating hours will help each department stay caught up by not being interrupted with phone calls and walk-ins.

Jackson said the receptionist's position would continue to be 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. He said phones will be answered by other departments for the extra half hour each morning and afternoon that the offices are open.

In a public hearing, the council again will hear the appeal of William Blaney.

Blaney requested a replat of a tract that the village planning and zoning department approved with the condition that a sewer service be extended to one of the lots.

Village planner Cleatus Richards said that where sewer was available, connection was mandatory. He also pointed out that water and sewer service had been extended to other lots through an easement established for utility extension and a private roadway. He said subdivision of the tract was approved without frontage of dedicated public right of way.

Blaney complained that in order to connect to the sewer line, it would require a lift station because of the terrain. He said there are no plans for improvement of the lot where the commission wants a sewer line extension.

At the previous council meeting, village attorney John Underwood reminded Blaney that the original plat was approved with the stipulation that the private road DeBaca Street was improved and maintained by Blaney. Underwood said the village had an obligation to require subdivisions to meet village standards adopted. He said developers should take the terrain into consideration when subdividing.

Michael Radziewicz, planning commission chairman, said unreasonable financial burden was not a consideration to allow a private septic system when sewer was available.

The hearing Tuesday is based on the sewer accessibility issue.

In other business, the council will hear:

—a request for authorization to enter into an agreement with the New Mexico Self Insurers Fund (NMSIF) for Health/Vision/Dental Insurance.

Jackson said the change would represent a total savings to the taxpayer in premiums to the village, as well as in deductibles for the employee.

Currently, an employee has an annual deductible choice of $400 or $1,000. The annual employee deductible with NMSIF would be $200. Additionally, the NMSIF also includes a prescription card, not covered under the existing premium.

—a discussion and possible action and update of Highway 48 project and bike path.

Allen Whitesall of the New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Department will lead the presentation.

—a request to approve the cooperative agreement with the New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Department for fiscal 1994-1995.

The program, worked through local governments, provides money for various village projects on a 60 percent participation, with a 40 percent match from the village.

In the past, the village provides the work and materials for the work, and requests 60 percent

CSB inmate walks away

An inmate walked away from Camp Sierra Blanca Adult Rehabilitation Center early Monday, leaving a jacket and pillow behind as a bribe for guards at the minimum security prison near Fort Stanton.

Lou Armijo, spokesman for the New Mexico Corrections Department, said Joseph Homer Beard, 26, was serving a 10-year sentence for aggravated burglary, being a habitual offender. He had been at the camp since November 1993 and was due to be released around October 1995.

Beard was discovered missing during a bed check at 6 a.m.

Beard was described by authorities as being 5-foot, 10-inches tall, with brown hair and brown eyes, an olive complexion, receding hairline, a mustache and weighing 187 pounds. He was wearing civilian clothing.

Although his build was described as slim, authorities said Beard was a weight lifter. A demon or creature is tattooed on his back.

It's possible Beard is heading back to his home in Carlsbad.

Crowded shelter spells death sentence for pets

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

As fast as shelter manager Esther Harper can adopt out a few dogs, twice as many are brought into the Lincoln County Humane Society shelter.

They are picked up wandering the streets by animal impounding or concerned residents, or are dropped off by their owners like pieces of no longer needed furniture to face an uncertain fate.

While Harper tries to hold dogs and cats as long as possible, overcrowding is her biggest enemy, especially during the current construction to enlarge the shelter. Although adoptions have increased recently and several featured pets and others have left for new homes, a few familiar faces were destroyed to make room for more animals.

Blue-eyed wheaten terrier Whitey and freckle-faced chow mix Sassy weren't among the lucky ones.

It's understandable why Harper gets a little irritated at people who argue about the wisdom or the need for the state law that requires all animals adopted from a shelter to be altered.

With 45 cats and 15 dogs born for every human, millions are doomed each year to be killed, some while they still are puppies or kittens. If a friend is thinking about letting a pet have one litter, bring him/her to the shelter to see the animals who are being robbed of a potential home.

One of those waiting is Chelsea, a stunning Rottweiler mix female, who appears already spayed.

She was found last month wandering in the Gavilan Canyon area wearing a light tan halter with no tags.

"She's very good natured, is about two years old and gets along well with other females," Harper said. "She probably was more of an outdoor dog, but she's affectionate enough to be inside and smart enough to be trained."

If a small working dog is more appealing, the shelter is temporary home to several blue heelers, and a red heeler named Beau, who sports a bob tail, is about two years old, is sturdily built and soaks up attention.

Kiwi is a special case. Adopted from the shelter last October as a companion for a spayed hybrid wolf, the owner was effusive in his praise for her intelligence when contacted a few months later by the society. He was able to perimeter train her and she helped calm the wolf.

But the dog with the memorably sweet face came back to the shelter last week, this time with the hybrid. The owner is moving out of town. The two females already are buddies and would make an instant pet family.

"If really small is your preference, try Ginger, a long-hair dachshund mix, who was rescued by forest service employees from Mechem Drive. She's a perfect lap size, is very alert and would warn her owners of anyone on their property.

For more information about Chelsea or any of the other dogs and cats, call 257-9841 or stop at the shelter on Gavilan Canyon Road from 1-5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Because of manpower and financial limitations, the shelter will no longer be open to the public on Sunday. A cleanup crew will be there in the morning in case of emergencies. Donations should be sent to PO Box 2832, Ruidoso NM 88345.

Dropping coins into the dog banks at various businesses in Ruidoso is another way to directly benefit the abandoned animals. The banks are a significant source of support for the shelter.

New shop features unforgettable vintage fashions

Fashions come and fashions go, and fashions come back again. The brokers of nostalgia are capitalizing these days on 1970s vogue, not to mention '90s reincarnations of every era since the '30s. Even the 1980s are already being recycled.

Susan Hixon appreciates the contributions of history to today's fashions. At Forget Me Nots, her new vintage clothing store in the Gazebo Shopping Center, Hixon revives the real thing for authentic, nostalgic accents.

"I like old things," Hixon said. "I enjoy the comments I get when I wear vintage."

Rather than dress head to toe in the clothes of yesteryear, Hixon said she likes to use one or two items, maybe a brooch or a hat, to accent her everyday wardrobe.

"It's a look that's not about fashion, but about personal style," she said. "You can put your own spin on the trends and still be unique."

Hixon said the items in her store are truly one-of-a-kind.

"You may see something similar, but you can be pretty certain you won't see someone else in the same outfit," she said.

Her merchandise comes from estate sales, from sources in New York, Brazil and Nebraska, and from a network of sources in El Paso, Texas. Hixon is selective. She is not interested in run of the mill garage sale or thrift store candidates.

Clothing and accessories at Forget Me Nots are not necessarily antique, but they are special and of good quality. Their best features are low prices.

"I try to buy low so I can sell low," Hixon said. "Prices in here range from $5 to $150."

The $150 is for real fur. Hixon said it is politically correct to buy vintage fur because the purchase does not contribute to today's destructive trade. Jewelry prices range from $3 to $40, and the styles go from funky to elegant.

Hixon also buys in a variety of sizes, aware of the misconception that vintage clothing is for small people. For clothes that are too big, Hixon does alterations.

"A vintage outfit is really perfect for occasions when you need to dress up, but you don't want to spend a lot of money on something you'll only wear once," Hixon said. She expects Forget Me Nots to be come extremely busy around Christmas. She saw a good turn-out for high school dances.

"These are wearable clothes, not museum pieces," said Hixon.

Anything Victorian or Edwardian Hixon considers too fragile for casual wear. She stays predominantly in the 20th century, mostly from the '40s to the '70s. For added interest, Hixon also carries vintage books on fashion.

"They're kind of campy fashion history," she said. "One is a line of paper dolls from the Victorian era to the 20th century."

Forget Me Nots is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Stop by for a trip through the past and for great 1990s bargains.

Locals raise funds for radio station featuring family life programs

Mountains are an integral part of south central New Mexico's landscape, but mountains can play havoc with FM radio signals — especially, radio signals coming from Albuquerque.

KFLQ-FM, Family Life Radio, wants to do something about that, in particular, to provide a strong signal for KFLQ, via a "translator radio station."

According to a news release, Family Life Radio was granted a construction permit for a translator in Ruidoso by the Federal Communications Commission, back in October of 1993.

This spring, KFLQ and a group of Ruidoso residents have begun in earnest garnering prayer and financial support to get the translator on the airwaves, continues the release.

KFLQ is a 24-hour, non-commercial, listener-supported Christian radio ministry, part of a seven-station network called Family Life Radio. KFLQ provides family-building programs, Bible studies, news and weather, while still devoting 60 percent of the broadcast day to uplifting and encouraging Christian music.

KFLQ's broadcast signal out of Albuquerque can be heard in segments of the Ruidoso area, but is spotty at best. The translator antenna will receive the signal from Albuquerque, boost it, and rebroadcast the same signal to the Ruidoso community, with hopes of also reaching Capitan and Alto. The translator will be heard on FM radios at 107.3 on the dial.

There is a need for funding, reads the release. The translator will cost between $8,000 to $10,000 and the money must be raised soon because, due to FCC rules, the translator must be on the air by April of 1995.

For information on this project, call Dan Rosetrans or Jeff Nelson at KFLQ Radio, 1-800-776-1050.

Four charged with removing crystals from national forest

Four suspects have been charged by U.S. Forest Service law enforcement officers with the theft of smoky quartz crystals in two separate incidents.

The crystals, which are unique to the Lincoln National Forest, are valuable on the open market.

Officer Charles "Hoot" Murray said he and Officer John F. "Poncho" Smith seized about 100 pounds of crystal from Wayne Charter and John Dorough on May 11. Murray said the crystals had been dug out of a site in the White Mountain Wilderness in the national forest.

The suspects, who are from Bisbee, Arizona, were apprehended by the officers as they returned from the forest to their vehicle parked at Ski Apache resort. Murray said about 80 pounds of the crystal were contained in their backpacks and the rest was found carefully packaged in boxes inside the vehicle.

Charter and Dorough face multiple charges, including theft of government property, collecting or removing quartz crystals, and littering.

The second incident occurred June 2, when Murray and Smith seized about 100 pounds of crystal from Brian Huntsman of California and Kevin Lessau of Socorro.

Murray said the men had come specifically to a site on the Lincoln National Forest to dig for crystals. Huntsman had been cited for a similar offense related to the removal of crystals in 1989. Since that time, Special Order Number 08-64, "Closure of White Mountain Wilderness to the Collection and Removal of Quartz Crystal," has been put into force.

"This federal order clearly states that the removal of the quartz crystals is illegal," Murray said. "Mr. Huntsman said he did not call the Forest Service to ask if it was all right to dig crystals, because he knew the answer would be 'no' and because it was such a hassle to call," Murray said.

Huntsman and Lessau will answer in federal court to charges of theft of government property and collecting or removing quartz crystals, he said. The maximum penalty for these charges, when the value of the stolen property constitutes a felony, is a $10,000 fine and up to five years imprisonment.

Lions raise funds with magic

The Ruidoso Evening Lions Club is continuing its tradition of summer magic for the children and families of Ruidoso.

The Lions will present the David Hira Show at 1 p.m. Saturday, July 2, at the First Christian Church on Hull Road.

A spectacular performer, Hira adds mime and ventriloquism to his magical performance to provide a variety show extraordinaire.

The show is a benefit to support the Lions Club charities and civil projects in the community which include the Lions Eye Bank, buying glasses and providing eye care for the needy, the eyesight and hearing conservation programs and scholarship for local students.

Tickets for the show are available free from many Ruidoso merchants, businesses and professionals who have purchased tickets as a donation to Lion causes. Tickets will be available at the door and from Lion Club members. For further information, call 257-9920.

On Campus

GARRY R. BLOSSER of Ruidoso is among 396 students to make the dean's list at Eastern New Mexico University-Roswell for the 1994 spring semester.

SUE ANNA SAILOR of Ruidoso is among 1,165 students to receive a bachelor's degree from Baylor University-Waco, Texas, at the close of the 1994 spring session.

MORTON & HASCHETS Engagement announced

Gary and Suzie Morton of Ruidoso Downs announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cody Lynn Morton, to John Christopher Haschets of Carlsbad, the son of Rodney and Debbie Haschets.

The couple will wed at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 9, in the First Baptist Church in Carlsbad. A reception will follow in the fellowship hall.

Family and friends of the couple are invited to attend the wedding.

Local woman celebrates 101st birthday

Velma Stanley Holloway Johnson will be 101 years old on July 1.

She remembers when automobiles were called horseless carriages and looked like boxes, she saw the first airplanes and dirigibles when they were going to revolutionize the world. Then men walked on the moon for her.

Her eyes are the same cornflower blue as they were in those wonderfully frivolous summers when she was a girl and twirled a beaded belt and danced the Charleston in size three and a half shoes.

According to her family, the blue eyes fade occasionally to the vagueness of old age, but even then, they keep the sparkle of mischief she so loves, like banging on the wall at 3:02 a.m. to announce to anyone listening that "Evil Kneivel killed the Boll Weevil," then jumping back into bed and covering up before anyone can answer her summons.

VELMA JOHNSON

She is back in her own home at 416 First Street with her daughter, Carolyn Leasure.

Her family and friends will be celebrating her birthday on Sunday, July 3, this year and invite everyone who remembers her from years past to come for cake and ice cream around 1 p.m. that afternoon.

"It is guaranteed she will remember you," said her daughter.

In The Service

MICHAEL S. MANLEY, U.S. Air Force Airman, recently graduated from basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

Manley is a 1993 graduate of Fleming County High School in Flemingsburg, Kentucky. He is the son of Larry D. Manley of Ruidoso and Priscilla A. Crump of Ewing, Kentucky.

Longest day ushers in beautiful summer days in the Vale

On the Longest Day the Beginning of Summer

The days of late spring just before the 21st were typically warm days of the hottest month of the year.

Then, early in the morning of the longest day of the year, a cool breeze moved in from the east. By midmorning, the clouds gathered and a light rain came sprinkling down into the green vale.

More clouds, light gray and white cam floating in bringing us a pageant of gray, white, blue and green.

In midafternoon, solid dark gray clouds made a ceiling over many shades of green on meadow, hill and valley bringing you into a world of gray and green, two matching colors.

Then up the river you saw the lighting flash silver, blue and light crimson and the thunder echoed through the hills.

And the cool breeze from the showers of rain up the way cooled the valley.

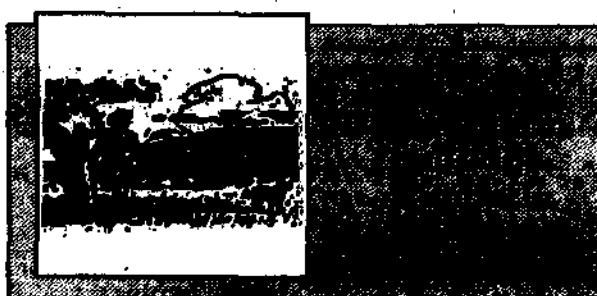

Then toward evening, the clouds all moved away and a golden sunset sent its magic rays over the eastern hills on this longest day of the year, the first day of summer.

Green Pastures

There is a spot on the Storm Ranch named "The Knoll" by our mother. It is a flat meadow at the foot of Storm mountain.

Coming East you will see it after you pass the house with a flag pole and Mark's new house.

Traveling from the west you may see it just after you pass the Canyon Trading Post.

It is the scene of many fond memories and the birthplace and playing field of many a little calf, where they learn to run.

When I am on the Knoll, I feel very close to Heaven.

On the evening of the 22nd, I stopped over on the highway and looked over across the river at the Knoll, now glowing in emerald green.

Two groups of cows were lying down resting close together, about 200 feet apart. They were positioned so that hardly any of their white faces showed, only the orange-red Hereford coloring.

Then, all by itself, midway between the two bunches of resting cows, was a small round spot of pure white shining on the green meadow.

This was the head and face of Tinita, the little Hereford calf, age one month. The rest of her was hidden in the deep grass.

Little Tinita seemed to be watching the highway waiting for the pickup to arrive.

She is always the first to take notice when "Old Santa Claus" comes in sight.

Little Tinita has brought one more benediction to this blessed spot.

At the sight of this idyllic pastoral scene, the words of the Psalm came to mind.

June Full Moon

Think of an evening in June Under a crystalline moon, Singing an old Spanish tune, You are in Avalon Town. So goes the old song of years back.

The night of June 22, a small cluster of clouds was in the round golden moon's pathway just as it appears over Sunrise Mountain.

Behind these clouds the moon turned them into pearl, opal and purple bordered with gold.

As the moon rose halfway above this group of colored clouds, they became trimmed with an airy green circle which now surrounded the full moon.

Soon the round golden disc cleared the clouds and shown in the night sky surrounded by green, purple and rainbow shafts.

Later in the night, I looked up and here was a vast pattern of small round clouds, all about the same size and the same distance apart, appeared all across the night sky.

Through this motionless mass of small clouds set in the dark purple of night which resembled a giant quilt covering the sleeping world below, the golden moon shone through turning the clouds nearby to softly-lighted cloud jewelry of amethyst, pearl and emerald. Nearby a silver star comes twinkling through, helping the solitary moon in keeping watch over the world peacefully, and safely dreaming below.

Leger Cat dominates once again in $82,200 Ruidoso Bud Breeders Cup

R.D. Hubbard and Ed Allred's Leger Cat made a sweeping move heading into the turn for home then blew by the tiring pacesetters to take the lead and went on to score a 1 3/4-length victory in the $82,200 Ruidoso Budweiser Breeders' Cup, Saturday at Ruidoso Downs.

The 8-year-old Argentine-bred horse by Logical, has won all three of his starts here this summer in impressive fashion including the Governor's Handicap on May 28.

Leger Cat, sent off the 1-2 favorite, was content to trail the field of 10 at the start of the mile contest while Capitalimprovement and Mr. Lister set blistering early fractions of :22.2 and :45.4.

Midway down the backstretch Lidberg asked Leger Cat for run and he responded with a rally that took him from last to fourth at the quarter mile pole. At the top of the stretch, the seasoned veteran had a commanding three-length lead and proved much the best at the wire. The John Bassett-trained charge covered the distance in 1:39.4 over a fast track.

Run John also closed from far back to get up for the place, 5 3/4-lengths in front of early leader Mr. Lister who held on for third.

The $49,320 winner's share of the purse raised Leger Cat's career bankroll to $929,398 from 14 wins in 45 starts.

Lidberg, who has piloted the graded stakes winner in all three of his starts here this summer, said that he had to ride Leger Cat a little harder today compared to his seven-length win in the Governor's Handicap.

"I asked him a bit early this time because when those two speed horses hooked up I didn't want them to steal it. When we made the lead he picked his ears and was looking around too much so I hit him three times to ensure that we got there."

Both Lidberg and trainer John Bassett said Leger Cat is one of the finest thoroughbreds they have ever worked with.

"I can't take any credit for it because I just sit on him and stay him. It's fun to be partners with him," said Lidberg. When Bassett took over Hubbard's stable earlier this year, he didn't expect to get Leger Cat along with the many well-bred quarter horses that were formerly under the care of Don Farris.

"He's a great horse to train because he loves to train. He's the kind of horse a trainer dreams of having and he's by far the best thoroughbred I've ever had," said Bassett. "He makes my job a heck of a lot easier because sometimes it seems like he knows more about it than I do. Bassett added that Leger Cat will be pointed towards a possible start in the $100,000 Arapahoe Park Handicap in Denver on August 14.

Run John, a 7-year-old Kentucky-bred gelding by Muttering, earned $7,084 for second. The Larry Byers-trained horse is owned by Benjie Wester of Midland, Texas.

The Charles Smith-owned and trained Mr. Lister was ridden by Chris Zamora.

Third place was worth $6,220.

Major Rime runs his win streak to five with Zia Futurity victory Sunday

Robert Driggers' impressive 2-year-old Major Rime won his second career stakes with an easy 1 1/2-length score in the inaugural running of the $79,437 Zia Futurity, Sunday at Ruidoso Downs.

The victory was the fifth in as many starts for the son of Rime who also won the Clovis Classic Futurity in Albuquerque last month. Major Rime easily clocked the fastest qualifying time of :17.75 in the June 16 trials and was sent off the 1-5 favorite in the 350-yard final which is restricted to New Mexico-breds.

Major Rime broke a step slowly from the gate, but once he hit stride he burst to the lead and was a length in front 50 yards into the race. Midway down the stretch, the colt had a commanding lead and was never touched by jockey Bobby Don Harmon as he cruised under the wire much the best.

The time of :17.48 was the fastest of the meet for the distance and was only 26/100ths off the track record set by Deceptively in 1992.

"He left a little flat footed, but by the second or third jump he had the lead," said the veteran rider Harmon who has been aboard Major Rime in all but one of his career outings.

"I've only ridden a couple of horses like him that break a little slow, then explode through the stretch. Chingadero, who I rode at Los Alamitos, was like that, and he was a champion," added Harmon.

Being compared to Chingadero is quite a compliment considering he was named champion aged gelding in both 1988 and 1989.

Major Rime was bred by Driggers who also trains the colt. The win was worth $32,826 to Driggers who resides in Clovis. Major Rime has now earned $79,202. Major Rime is from the first crop by Rime, a Dash For Cash stud who was a solid graded stakes competitor in New Mexico and Oklahoma in the late 1980s.

Jerry Lee's Flash Over finished second, a neck in front of Burping Moolah.

Flash Over, ridden by Kenneth Hart, earned $15,000 for Lee of Aztec.

The Pyromaniac colt is trained by Jimmy Jones.

Burping Moolah, a gray colt by Sparkling Moolah, is owned and trained by Ben Torres of Alamogordo. Third place was worth $7,690.

Warrior golfers lead All-Stars on the home courses this week

The Ruidoso Warriors will be well represented in the New Mexico High School All-Stars Golf Tournament when the five-year-old event gets under way here Tuesday.

The 36-hole event will take place at all four area golf courses with Jeff Chapman, Ryan Wall, Jimmy Varnadore and Eric Stephens representing Ruidoso High School in the 32-player tournament.

The All-Stars selection committee selected the top 32 players that entered the tournament with 16 players representing the West team and 16 players representing the East Squad.

The Warriors will play on the West squad which won for the first time last year.

The All-Stars follows the PGA's Ryder Cup in format with four exceptions.

Tuesday's action will begin at 7 a.m. at Cree Meadows with the second 18-holes taking place at Alto Lakes Golf and Country Club at 2 p.m. The opening day will be medal-match play, with two teammates combining their scores against two opponents.

The top-10 scores from Tuesday will qualify for the Shootout on Thursday afternoon at Cree Meadows.

Wednesday will see the format switch to Best Ball for the morning matches (8 a.m.) and Alternate Shot in the afternoon (2 p.m.). All 36 holes on Wednesday will be played at the Links at Sierra Blanca.

Thursday's final round (7 a.m.) at the Inn of the Mountain Gods will see one-on-one singles match play as the format. Then it's on to the Shootout for the qualifiers.

Jeff Chapman will start the day teamed with Grants' talented topman Matt Murdoch. Those two, perhaps the best two players in class AAA last year will meet Tucumcari's J.W. Norris and Mark Terry from Lovington.

Norris lost in a playoff for the Assistant golf coach Kent Beatty checks the course with Warrior golfer Eric Stevens.

AAA Medalist this year at the State and Terry was very consistent throughout the year, but had a disappointing State Tournament.

Ryan Wall will team up with Grants' Todd Wilcox against Lovington's Jordan Burt and Tucumcari's Edgar Shipley.

Warriors Jimmy Varnadore and Eric Stephens will meet Lovington's Kevin Jones and Tucumcari's Justin Coons.

The afternoon will see Stephens and Chapman try Norris and Coons while Wall draws Silver's Aaron Salars against Burt and St. Pius' Erik Swanson.

Varnadore and Murdoch will meet in Terry and Jones in the afternoon.

Wednesday's pairings will be made based on Tuesday's performances but the AAA and AAAA teams will be mixed as partners unlike the first round.

Wednesday's Singles pairings will be the best possible matches, no matter what size school a player is from.

Summer fun

Small anglers sink their lines into the water at Grindstone Reservoir as part of the activities supervised by the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department this summer. Once crack fisherman hooked five fish and a two-pound bunch of seaweed.

RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO

Editorial

Drunk driving is a disgrace

Even as New Mexico takes aim at drunk drivers, impaired drivers continue to get behind the wheel and turn our streets into collision courses.

The laws are on the books, the police officers are on the streets, the judges are on the bench and jail cells are waiting — what's it going to take to put the brakes on drunk driving?

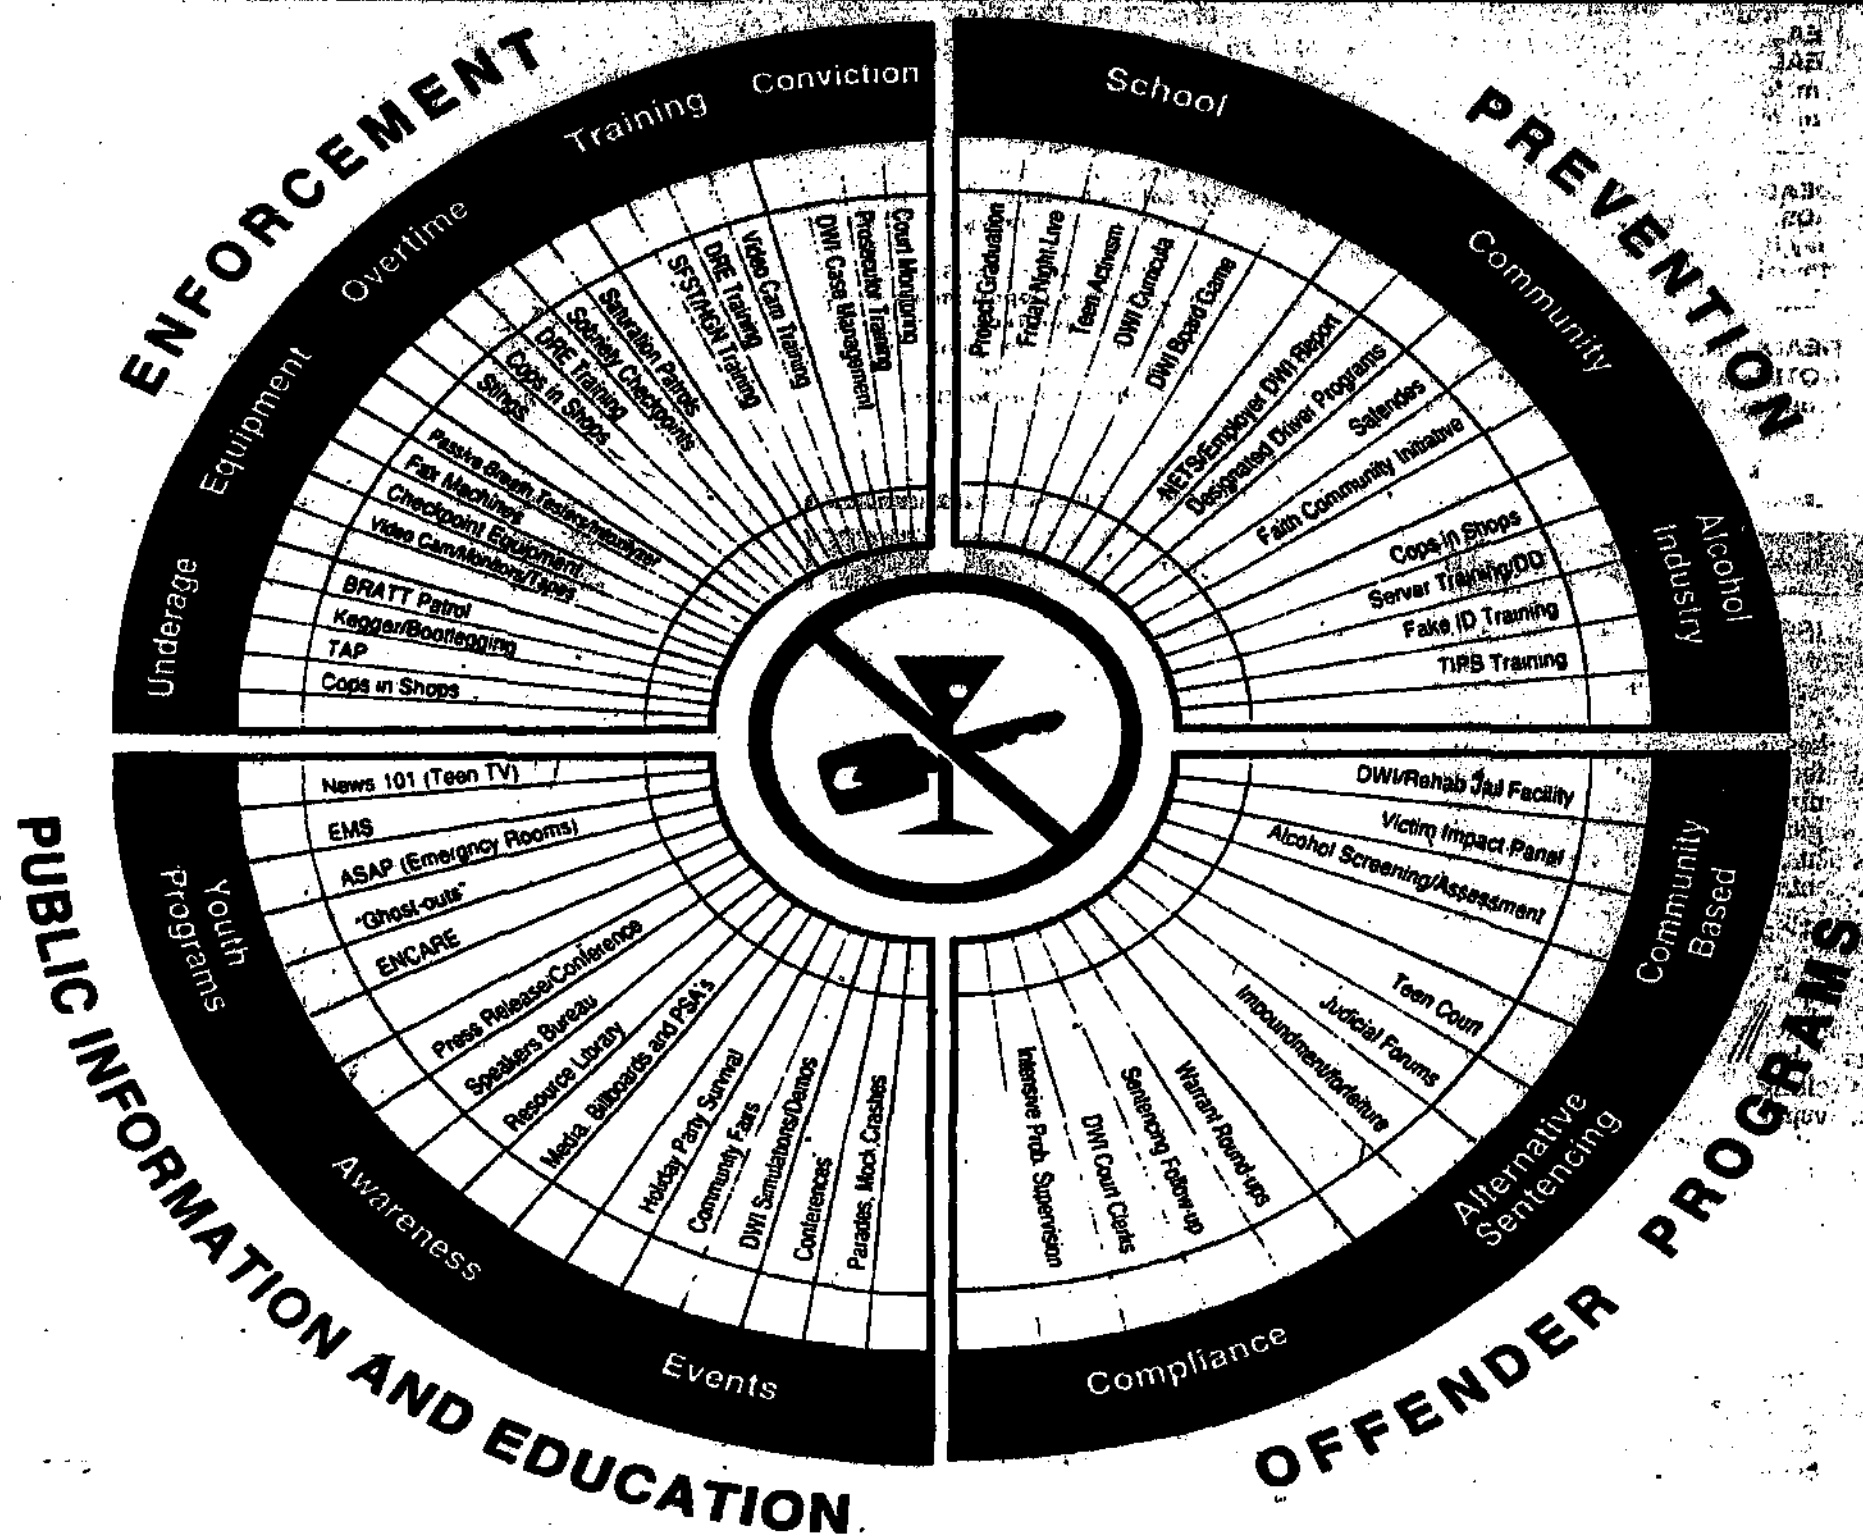

Ruidoso Magistrate Judge William Butts is convinced it will take all of us, and he's gathering the troops. Judge Butts has declared war on drunk drivers, and he's in a good position to make a difference. But, as with the lawmakers and the police, a judge can't do it on his own.

So, who can? It will take all of us, starting with individuals taking personal responsibility, with families caring for and educating one another, with schools providing useful information to youngsters from kindergarten on up and with employers maintaining strict drug and alcohol policies that promote responsible citizenship.

As drunk driving and its results continue to cause pain and suffering, it would be easy to panic and lose sight of the many directions where the problem can be solved. Judge Butts and the others in a regional enforcement group he has formed haven't lost sight of the fact that alcoholism is a disease, while driving drunk is a crime. Included in this new group are counselors and educators, as well as law enforcement officials.

The chart at right, provided by Judge Butts, lines out a comprehensive plan that attacks drunk driving from every direction in every segment of society.

Judge Butts is right — we all have a part in stopping the societal disgrace of drunk driving. Check out the chart at right, and find out where you can help. It's going to take all of us.

Talking trash: if you can't flush it, it's solid waste

With the present news reporting covering the MainStreet project, the demise of the EDC and other matters, solid waste management has taken a backseat among the important issues facing the citizens of Ruidoso and of the surrounding areas.

Waste management is an important and very special issue without which the city and the entire county will suffer in creating an atmosphere of trashy housekeeping which is not helpful to a town whose life's blood is tourism.

Solid waste is comprised of many elements from tin cans to junked cars, from small rocks to gigantic boulders, just about anything you cannot flush in a normal way.

Trash creates trash!

Consider: I happen to live now in a city whose streets are so clean that I will not throw a toothpick from my car window. It would be noticed in a super clean street. The clean street results from a well organized and managed solid waste disposal by an independent contractor. When pick-ups are made ALL of the trash is picked up whether bagged or not. The area is left clean.

So, Cleanliness begets cleanliness.

If the streets were dirty and full of trash, the tendency would be to say "A little more won't hurt."

How do you reach such a high standard for clean trash pick-ups?

You pay for the service.

My monthly trash removal cost is 50 percent higher than the rate in Ruidoso and double the rate paid in the County of Lincoln which is currently $5.

During the early stages of the LCSWA, the question of rates was discussed. An original budget projection set the county rate at $5 versus $7 for Ruidoso. As a member of the governing body of the LCSWA, I objected to the $5 county fee because I felt that the county trash collections would present many problems which would deserve a higher fee even to the extent of being higher than the fee charged for Ruidoso.

My objection was voted down.

Now the LCSWA finds itself in a position that was apparent from the beginning.

It is not possible to maintain the status quo and improve service as an objective if you have neither the personnel nor the equipment to do the job the public expects.

A comparison study, in other cities, of trash collection rates will prove the inadequate rates being charged at the present time.

In the meantime, all pick up collection rates should be increased, additional equipment purchased, additional personnel hired and objectives set to clean up what appears to be an unsatisfactory and unsightly trash condition in Lincoln County.

An integral component of how this job is accomplished in Lincoln County and elsewhere lies with the LCSWA management.

After an unsuccessful effort with a former manager hired initially, the LCSWA decided to hire a manager with a background in solid waste management who brought along a record of success with former employers. This was a man who was a capable manager but who bore a no-nonsense attitude toward getting the job done.

His name is Joe Lewandowski.

Improvements made in the local office of the LCSWA is evidence of his ability to take control. Now the manager is faced with pleasing ten members of the governing board. The makeup of this board tends to politicize its functions due to the fact that members, for the most part, are appointed by mayors or commissioners, which often results in members being appointed who know little or nothing about solid waste or the direction of affairs of a corporation.

This arrangement means that the manager must report to and please ten board members. This makes a difficult job more difficult.

In the early stages of the LCSWA, there was an executive board comprised of three members, who oversaw the operation. This arrangement worked very well, however, of late, there has been no mention of the executive committee.

Joe Lewandowski has the background and ability to perform in a way which will be a credit to Lincoln County in cleaning up a trash mess which will only get worse if not corrected.

For him to continue, under present conditions, will result in his going where his abilities are appreciated and understood.

THE CIVIL WAR

Four years ago, for five nights in a row, America was captivated by the story of a young nation at war.

It's time for history to repeat itself.

The Civil War, an 11-hour television epic, will be telecast once again on five consecutive nights. With this work, filmmaker Ken Burns has put together the most ambitious, comprehensive, and definitive history of the War ever put on film. The series took five years to make, longer than it took to actually fight the war.

The producers of The Civil War have gone to more than 80 museums and libraries, filmed thousands of photographs and paintings, and culled literally thousands of moving and insightful first-person quotes. As much as possible they have sought to let this primary source material speak for itself, conveying meanings and emotions and stories of its own.

The Civil War series focuses not only on the grand sweep of armies, but on the daily life of private soldiers, the hopes and fears of men and women at home, and the countless daily tragedies that made the war the family drama it was.

The Civil War was fought in 10,000 places, from Valverde, New Mexico, and Tullahoma, Tennessee, to St. Albans, Vermont, and Fernandina on the Florida coast. More than three million Americans fought in it and over 600,000 men, two percent of the population, died in it.

The Civil War will be broadcast Sunday through Thursday, June 26th-30th at 8:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

Mark Kistler's Imagination Station

World famous drawing educator and cartoonist Mark Kistler (The Secret City) has taught over 40 million children how to draw in 3-D.

In his new 36-part series, Mark Kistler's Imagination Station, Mark guides viewers on extraordinary quests of imagination adventures.

Dancing Dinosaurs, Sir Lancelot's "Knight of the Drawing Table," and moon mobiles are just a few of the nearly one hundred drawing adventures the children are in store for. The only items children need to participate are a pencil and a piece of paper.

Two half-hour episodes of Mark Kistler's Imagination Station will air back-to-back Tuesdays at 1:00 p.m. beginning June 28th.

Channel 3 Television from Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, New Mexico

Building booms in Ruidoso

Construction continues to boom in the Ruidoso area, and that's not even counting the MainStreet sidewalk project in Midtown.

Construction in May nearly doubled the May 1993 total, keeping the year-to-date total of $9,038,969 more than 50 percent ahead of this same period last year. At the end of May 1993, the village had issued 221 permits totaling $5,990,225.

For May, 70 permits were issued in all categories with a total value of $2,236,226. Last May 54 permits were issued in all categories for a total of $1,755,985.

In May of this year 17 permits were issued for single family home construction for a total value of $1,820,642. In May of last year eight new homes were started with a dollar value of $1,301,610; that puts construction up 40 percent in the new homes category.

Year-to-date single family home permits total 37 at $7,391,584 for the year, up 77 percent over last year's 33 permits at $4,180,182.

Remodeling, refurbishing and generally "fixing up" always takes the lead in permit numbers during May, and this year was no exception. 39 residitonal addition/alteration permits were issued worth $337,434; up only one percent from last year when 35 permits valued at $398,581 were issued.

That puts year-to-date at 154 worth $1,255,113 in that category for 1994.

No new commercial permits were issued this May, and none have been issued this year. Last year just one, valued at $18,000 was issued in May, for a year-to-date total in May of $286,359.

Nine permits were issued this year for commercial remodeling projects — that's the same number of permits issued in May of 1993, but the total was up by 214 percent over last year's $24,254 to $576,150.

The year-to-date for commercial remodeling is down by 26 percent — 25 at $198,611 this year to 32 at $267,354 last year.

No permits were issued for apartment additions/alterations last month, but one, valued at $24,668, has been issued this year.

One demolition permit was issued as $2,000.

Realtors spruce up Midtown

The Board of Realtors, with the assistance and help of the Village of Ruidoso, MainStreet Ruidoso, Ruidoso Garden Club and Midtown merchants, is sponsoring a beautification project in the downtown area.

The Realtors are furnishing the planter boxes, soil, fertilizer, flowers and watering cans.

According to the project's creator and coordinator Cindy Lynch, the group has 40 to put together and distribute up and down MainStreet.

"We need participation from the community," said Lynch.

If you would like to relieve some stress, get some exercise or sunshine or just get the heck out of the office, don your tennis shoes and shorts and bring a happy face and give us a hand," said Lynch.

"It will be fun and well worthwhile."

Participants are to meet at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, June 29, at the vacant lot across from Brunell's and next to the House of Kelham.

Heavy construction

A powerful crane moves massive concrete inlets from the Free Parking Lot to their new home beneath Sudderth for the MainStreet project. Motorists were rerouted along El Paso Street for the work that lasted for about two hours.

REAL ESTATE ROUNDUP

Van Patton and Gregg Perteet, owners of Ruidoso Properties, Inc., recently attended a Better Homes and Gardens Management Orientation Session in Des Moines, Iowa.

"The seminar shows attendees how to benefit from the Better Homes and Gardens commitment to customer service," said Real Estate Service President Allen Sabbag. "It emphasizes implementation of the programs and services available through the Better Homes and Gardens real estate network."

"We belong to one of the premier real estate networks in this country," said owner Van Patton. "This session was a tremendous showcase for all that Better Homes and Gardens offers our firm, our associates and our customers. The sharing of ideas and techniques helps us make sure we're doing the best job possible for our customers here in the Ruidoso area."

The three-day program included tours of the well-known Better Homes and Gardens Test Kitchen, Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate Service headquarters and the headquarters of Meredith Corporation.

Other brokers, owners and managers of Better Homes and Gardens real estate firms from all over the United States and Canada also attended.

Ruidoso Properties, Inc. has been a member of Better Homes and Gardens since 1992. Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate Service was formed in 1978 and is a national network with more than 1,300 locations and 22,000 sales associates.

The Real Estate Service is an operating group of Meredith Corporation, a Fortune 500 diversified media company headquartered in Des Moines, Iowa.

The corporation's flagship publication is Better Homes and Gardens magazine, one of the nation's largest home and family publications with readership of 33.2 million. In addition to magazine publishing and residential real estate marketing and franchising, Meredith is involved in book publishing, television broadcasting and investments in cable

The Stanley H. Mathis Foundation and the Realtors Association of New Mexico announced that member Mary T. Austin recently completed the Realtor Institute in Albuquerque.

By completing all of the classes of the Realtor Institute, a student is awarded the nationally recognized graduate, Realtor Institute (GRI) designation.

With more than 80 classroom hours of real estate instruction with emphasis on topics such as legal liabilities, tax planning, construction and new home sales, and specialized areas such as appraisal financing real estate investments and property management, the designation is awarded exclusively to Realtors.

Austin has been a licensed Realtor for more than six years.

The GRI is a nationally recognized professional designation. The GRI curriculum and standards are governed by the National Association of Realtors, the nation's largest trade association with membership of more than 800,000.

On a national level, only 11 percent of the Realtors hold this prestigious designation.

Home inspections a good idea for houses buyers

The selling or buying of a home may well be one of the most important transactions in a person's life.

In an ideal trade, the seller, the buyer and the Realtors conclude a harmonious exchange and everyone lives happily ever after.

In order to facilitate the exchange the principals should not only understand the terms of the sale contract, but they should be well informed and in accord concerning the condition of the dwelling.

The seller wants to be above board in presenting the home, the buyer does not want to buy a pig in a poke and the Realtor does not want to worry about being party to a lawsuit.

Some states require the sellers to provide a seller's property disclosure statement disclosing the seller's knowledge of the conditions of the property. This is not required by the New Mexico Real Estate Commission.

Therefore, according to Cree Home Inspections of Ruidoso, it behooves the buyers of New Mexico properties to be aware.

Realtors have lists of people who provide inspection services. The inspector will go through the property, from the crawl space to the attic. A written report will address, in detail, the condition of the three main components of a building: structure, electricity and plumbing. Other elements such as heating, insulation, appliances, etc. are also covered in the report. Malfunctions and faults that need to be addressed are noted.

Home inspections provide a service to both the seller and the buyer of real property. It can help the seller in finding and correcting flaws that could create a problem during sale negotiations and it will assist the buyer in receiving value for dollar spent and avoiding future disappointment.

According to an article titled "Your Home" in the July, 1994 issue of Kipling's Personal Finance Magazine, "spending $250 to $275 on an inspection is good preventive medicine."

To learn more about home inspection services, call Cree Home Inspections of Ruidoso at 257-5596 and 258-5174.

BUSINESS ROUNDUP

Ruidoso Valley Greeters cut the ribbon on several new businesses last week.

The greeters did the honors for International Dry Goods of New Mexico, 2807 Sudderth, on Thursday, and then helped celebrate the first anniversary of the Blue Goose with a "long overdue" ribbon cutting.

On Friday, Greeters conducted a ribbon cutting for The Ranches of Sonterra at the Ruidoso office in Jira Plaza.

The Look, a beauty salon owned and operated by Amy Garner, had its official opening on Friday, as well.

The Greeters, a division of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, invite you to stop in these new businesses and welcome them to the community.

Ford Credit recently honored the top two percent of Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers from across the country at its first "Partners in Quality" awards ceremony.

Ruidoso Ford Lincoln-Mercury and owners Beverly and Christopher Carusona were among the 74 dealers recognized for excellence in customer satisfaction.

A special ceremony took place at Ruidoso Ford and Lincoln-Mercury on May 10, where Michael W. Farrington, branch manager for Ford Motor Credit Company, and Jerry R. Abeel, dealer account manager for the company, presented Carusona with a crystal sculpture.

Ford Credit commissioned Rhode Island artist Steven Weinberg to create the unique crystal award. The company will commission a different artist every year to design a new piece, signifying the value of the Partners in Quality Award.

The Book Store in Ruidoso is a scheduled stop on a national book tour that includes all 50 states and over 150 cities and will end up at the United Nations.

The book is "Old Turtle," an award-winning, best-selling children's book, and the tour is a mission of peace.

Pfeiffer-Hamilton Publishers have sold over 250,000 copies of the book that critics proclaim a destined classic. "Old Turtle" was written by Minnesota author, musician and poet Douglas Wood and illustrated by award-winning American Watercolor Society signature member Cheng-Khee Chee.

The story is a simple one about peace and harmony. It tells how all the beings of the world came to see God in each other through Old Turtle's wisdom. When people arrive on the planet, they must learn the same lesson after a time of destruction and despair.

The publishers hope to deliver 1,000,000 peace messages to the United Nations at tour's end.

The Book Store owner Kate Winter is delighted that "Old Turtle" will be at The Book Store from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. July 9, to promote the book's message.

The Inn of the Mountain Gods golf course was rated four-star in the Golf Digest 1994-1995 Places to Play course guide.

The guide includes the most complete information currently available on more than 1,700 courses in the United States, Canada and the Caribbean, with an added bonus: candid ratings by Golf Digest's subscribers.

According to a release from Golf Digest, subscribers were asked to play the public and resort courses in their own areas and rate them on two criteria: the golf experience and value for the money.

More than 10,000 subscribers responded with more than 100,000 evaluations — some laudatory, some harsh. Each entry lists subscriber comments ranging from "Worth the loan it takes to play here." to "Lousy tees, lousy greens, lousy starts, lousy golfers."

Golfers said the Inn's course was: "a beautiful setting, located on Indian land and a national forest, a breathtaking experience, a fun course, pretty hilly, some great water holes, an island fairway, greens always 11-12 on the stimp-meter."

Though the Inn was not listed among the 125 "Great" or "Super Values," it was ranked the fifth best course in the state of New Mexico.

Piñon Hills Golf Course in Farmington was deemed the single greatest value among all the courses listed. Only six courses received a five-star rating.

The course guide was included free with all subscriber and newsstand copies of the April issue of Golf Digest.

Business people have a chance to become partners with the Ruidoso Schools through several programs.

The Youth Empowered for Success (YES) and Drug Free Schools invite parents and business people to work as volunteers in the schools.

Another project, the Renaissance Program, rewards students for good grades with discounts at local stores and restaurants.

The magic of flower power: planting tips for annuals and perennials

Playing dress-up isn't just for kids anymore. Gardeners interested in giving their landscape a new look can "dress-up" their yard with annuals and perennials to give it fashionable splashes of vibrant color.

Whether they're used as a temporary border or cut for fresh flower arrangements, plants such as petunias and impatiens are the perfect accessories to any garden ensemble. To harness the power of your own flower garden, follow these planting tips from Easy Gardener, manufacturers of WeedBlock landscape fabric.

Buying Healthy Flowers

Creating a beautiful flower garden really begins at your local greenhouse or garden center because healthy and colorful beds start with healthy plants. Gardeners should carefully inspect annuals and perennials before purchase to minimize potential problems with pests and disease later on. Remember, healthy, unstressed plants will grow stronger with bigger, brighter blooms.

To spot quality plants, look for ones that exhibit deep green leaves and bushy, compact growth. Healthy looking shoots are also a good indication a plant is strong and unstressed. Whenever possible, try to avoid plants that have yellowed foliage or a loss of leaves, overly dry soil and scraggly stems.

As a general rule, it's also best to buy flowers that have yet to bloom as plants should spend the first few weeks developing their root systems after being transplanted.

If you're buying pot-grown perennials, the root ball should hold together when the plant is tipped out. And always look carefully for signs of insect infestation and disease, such as aphids, spider mites, spotted stems and webby foliage.

The Planting Site

Even though you've purchased your plants, you're still not ready to put roots to soil. First you've got to prepare the planting site so transplanted flowers will have an easier time adjusting to their new home.

Generally, most flowers will thrive in well-drained, airy soil that is rich in organic matter. Whether your soil is sandy or clayey, adding compost, mulch and a balanced fertilizer, applied in recommended amounts, is the best way to condition soil with the nutrients flowers need to thrive. Compost also improves drainage and increases the soil's water- and nutrient-holding capacity.

Gardeners also know that great soil is almost completely weed-free. This is important because weeds are more than just an eyesore, they challenge plant roots for available water and nutrients, and usually win. To help prevent these unsightly garden pests from growing wild in your flower beds, install a landscape fabric, such as WeedBlock, atop conditioned soil before planting.

Unlike traditional black plastic, which can cause soil souring, WeedBlock is manufactured with thousands of tiny

A MAGIC GARDEN — A weed-free flower garden is a beautiful sight, and creating one is as easy as picking the right flower plants, preparing the soil and using a landscape fabric, such as WeedBlock from Easy Gardener to deter weed growth.

IT'S EASY AS 1, 2, 3

"microfunnels" that allow water and air to reach the soil and plant roots, while blocking out most of the light that broadleaf weeds need to grow.

To install WeedBlock, simply lay down the fabric in overlapping strips and secure them with plastic garden pegs or heavy stones. Using scissors or a garden knife cut x's into the material and place plants directly through into the soil. Cover the fabric with a two to four-inch layer of decorative mulch such as wood chips or colored stone. Applying a mulch will also prolong the life of the fabric indefinitely.

Watering

Watering new and established plants is crucial to their survival. But how much watering should be done has many gardeners perplexed. As a general rule, annuals and perennials should be watered deeply but not too often, taking into consideration the needs or the particular plant, its age, the season, the weather and the nature of the soil. If flowers begin to wilt, water immediately, thoroughly soaking the entire root zone. During hot spells, check soil more frequently to guard against plant drought.

From asters to zinnias, dressing up the landscape with beautiful annuals and perennials is easy for novice and expert gardeners alike. This spring, harness the power of flowers and be the envy of your neighborhood.

SUMMER LIVING

How to Care For Wood Furniture

News USA

(NU) - Summer sun and rising temperatures can wreak havoc on your furniture and floors. Pollen, dust and humidity can damage and shorten the life span of indoor and outdoor furniture. But with special care, it is possible to keep furniture looking beautiful for years.

Indoors

With open windows and doors, all kinds of dirt blows into the house. If furniture is not cleaned properly and often, pollen, dirt and dust blown in from the outside and air conditioning can cause permanent damage. By following these tips from the experts at Murphy's Oil Soap, you can protect your finished furniture through the summer months:

- Dust furniture often to remove surface dirt.
- Remove stubborn soil with a soapy solution of a gentle cleaner like Murphy's Oil Soap and a well-wrung sponge. This will keep the finish clean and protect the life of your furniture.
- Keep wood furniture dry by immediately wiping it with a soft, dry cloth to remove excess moisture.
- Keep wood furniture in cool, dry areas of the house. Moisture and humidity can cause wood to expand, split and crack.

Outdoors

Direct sunlight can cause wicker or redwood furniture to dry and crack. Excessive humidity can soften wicker glue joints and create a build-up of nasty mildew. Vinyl seating covers take a beating and accumulate dirt from outdoor elements, party spills and heavy summertime use.

The experts at Murphy's offer the following advice for preserving your treated outdoor furniture:

- Clean outdoor furniture, including wicker, plastic and vinyl seat cushions at least once a month with a mild soap such as Murphy's using a well-wrung sponge. Rinse and place furniture in the shade to dry.
- To remove mildew stains, clean with a solution of 1/4 cup household laundry bleach diluted with one cup water. Rinse with water and dry with a cloth. Be careful not to mix bleach with other household cleaners or dangerous fumes can result.
- Vacuum wicker furniture carefully to remove dirt caught between the fibers that can weaken the wicker. Clean with a soft cloth and a gentle cleaner.
- As always, keep all household cleaners out of the reach of children.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Keep Cool and Save During Hot Weather

By Jeff Keller

(NU) - Here are some tips to save money and stay cool during the hot days and nights in your area.

- Avoid opening outside doors when using the air conditioner. If doors are opened, the air conditioning must work harder as warm air enters the room.
- Close the doors to any rooms not in use.
- Clean the AC unit and change the filter. A high-efficient filter, such as the 3M Filtrete electrostatic micro particle air filter, can improve air quality. This filter removes dust, smoke and viruses while trapping pollen, mold, lint and pet dander. It is 20 times more effective than ordinary filters.
- Wear lightweight, light-colored clothes. This wardrobe enhances the evaporation of moisture from your skin and, in turn, cools you down.

- If it is a cool night, lower the electric bill by shunning the AC for a window fan to bring cool air into the home. Fans use as little as one-tenth the electricity of an air conditioner.

- If the AC has an "outside air" control to draw in air from outdoors, use it without turning on the unit's cooling section. The unit's compressor motor draws most of the energy and increases your bill.

Jeff Keller can be heard nationwide every Saturday morning on the "Mr. Handyman" show. Check local radio listings for time and station.

With your help, our children can have the same vision and excitement that we've enjoyed for years.

An important and exciting activity for every age group is to buy any Kodak product or the Erwin Schneider camera and contribute to the National Eye Foundation. For every $100 in purchases, we'll donate $10 to help our blind and visually impaired friends. For the next year, we'll Focus in on these great low prices.
