On the side

Hospital leaders talk accountability

Sparks flew at the Wednesday meeting of the Lincoln County Medical Center board as board member Gary Mitchell and County Commissioner L. Ray Nunley butted heads.

Nunley assured board members the commission is pleased with the way the hospital is being run, but would like more accountability on the necessity of the special property tax it levies for the hospital's operation.

Watch for the story Monday.

DECA to survey Lincoln County

A labor survey of the county will be performed by the DECA students at Ruidoso High School.

This survey will be conducted in conjunction with the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County from 6 to 8 p.m. March 8, 9 and 10.

"Please support the students and the project, and give them a couple minutes of your time if you are called," asked Eddie Parker, DECA sponsor.

"All information is confidential and phone numbers are picked at random," he said.

EDCLC meets for annual get-together

The Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County meets at 6 p.m. tonight in the North Forty Room of Cree Meadows Country Club.

President Scott Shafer will give a "State of the Corporation" speech to certificate holders, and new directors will be elected.

Municipal elections scheduled Tuesday

Area voters will go to the polls to elect municipal leaders on Tuesday, March 1.

Polls will be open in each village from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Read all about it in our election special, Section C, in today's paper.

State rep reports on session

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Every community in Lincoln County benefited from the surplus accumulated by the state this past year. State Representative H. John Underwood saw to that.

The Ruidoso Democrat sat down in his law office Wednesday to discuss the fruits of his 30 days of labor in Santa Fe. He made it clear that the job wasn't accomplished alone in many cases.

"When I say we, I mean State Senator Pete Campos and myself, because the two of us were able to work in tandem," Underwood said. "Whatever I can't file or get over in the House, sometimes we can get over in the Senate due to the way the budgetary process works."

"Everything I'm telling you about is subject to line item veto by the governor, so if anyone wants to write a letter to the governor about any of the items, feel free."

"We've worked so hard to get these, we sure wouldn't want the governor to line item veto anything."

Ruidoso village

"We were able to get $570,000 dedicated to the water plant to be put in at Grindstone Canyon, $470,000 out of the House and $100,000 from the Senate. Both are severance tax bonds," Underwood said.

The whole project is estimated at $1.3-million.

"Getting funding for projects between one-third and one-half of the total cost is good, because the legislature is of the opinion that if a community can help itself, it should," he said. "I think that probably is the proper approach. If it is a good project, they certainly will help."

"At any rate, I was pleased with the $570,000 and the Village of Ruidoso will either go ahead and issue bonds this year for the rest of the project, or if they choose not to do that, they could go back to the legislature next year for additional funding. Because I expect it will take some time to do the engineering for that. We may well be in a situation where we could phase that and get the balance of the funding next year without interruption to the project."

Although the village had submitted other projects for state money, Underwood said the highest priority "was turning an $11-million investment into what it was meant to be, that is to provide water to Ruidoso, even when we have the dry times. So we put every penny we had into it."

Legislators who heard the bill were very impressed by the need,

Please see State, page 2A

State Representative H. John Underwood buddies it up with New Mexico Governor Bruce King during the recent session of the State Legislature in Santa Fe. The Ruidoso Democrat brought back bundles of benefits for Lincoln County. Once the bills are signed by King, each community will see dollars for roads and most will be able to start other new projects.

MainStreet project suffers a series of changes and setbacks

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer
Part 2 of a series on MainStreet Ruidoso

On March 11, 1991, a Ruidoso News headline read, "Banks offer low-cost loans for MainStreet."

Former Mayor Victor Alonso asked local financial institutions for $750,000 to be provided in loans to revitalize downtown.

Pioneer Savings and Trust, United New Mexico Bank, Sun World Federal Savings Bank, First National Bank and Ruidoso State Bank all participated.

The mayor said that low interest loans would encourage businesses to "invest now rather than later in projects to beautify, add parking, gain access to businesses' back doors, etc."

Contacted by The News last Friday, former MainStreet president Herb Brunell said to his knowledge, no businesses participated. But the demands on village hall continued.

A few months earlier in May of 1991, consulting and engineering firm, Carter and Burgess completed the master plan for the downtown redevelopment and were in Ruidoso June 13 to make their final report.

The master plan was a 58-page document on file at Village Hall for inspection.

The plan covered parking, pedestrian traffic, a river trail system, proposed park areas, traffic control, landscaping, existing land uses, need for public restrooms and many other topics.

In case of increased traffic, five alternatives were outlined, with a one-way pair of Sudderth and Wingfield streets, going opposite directions, offered as the best solution.

The planners noted that such a move would require a major capital investment and additional acquisition of right of way.

The State Legislature allocated $36,000 for the study.

The following month, July 22, former MainStreet director Mary Maul said that a recent membership drive resulted in $10,800 in pledges to help support the organization. She said the main support continues to come from Ruidoso village government.

On Friday, July 19, representatives of three engineering firms were interviewed at village hall.

On the following Monday, July 22, although no official action was taken, the MainStreet Board agreed to meet at 3 p.m. to decide on what engineering firm the board would recommend to the Ruidoso Village Council for the redevelopment project.

Board officials said they would make the recommendation at the July 30 meeting of the village council.

At that council meeting, Maul reported that contract documents were not complete for the engineering services, but negotiations were under way with LeedsHill-Herkenhoff, Inc.

Maul reported that the top three firms rated were LeedsHill-Herkenhoff, Inc., 433 points; Bohannon-Huston, Inc., 377 points; and Carter and Burgess, Inc., 350 points.

On August 27, Maul presented an agreement with Bohannon-Huston, Inc. She explained that LeedsHill-Herkenhoff had withdrawn from negotiations and presented the letter of withdrawal. Councilor Bill Karn then moved to approve the contract for $70,644.

Maul then updated on the River Walk Trail and stated that attorneys Mike Line and Don Dutton were contacting property owners for the easements. She said the MainStreet board was seeking funds from the Altrusa Club for the project.

Barbara Luna of the State Forestry Division had requested to be on the agenda to discuss a beautification project and grant application, but was unable to attend. Then deputy manager Gary Jackson stated on her behalf that the Legislature had allocated grant funds for tree planting and beautification projects. He said there was no in-kind match required by recipients of grants for the minimum of $5,000 and the maximum of $50,000. Jackson noted that parks and recreation employees had developed a plan for trees to be planted at School House Park and Grindstone Lake in the amount of $6,901.49. MainStreet's plan for irrigation and the planting of 55 of 75 trees needed in phase one cost $42,850. Councilor Karn moved to submit a grant for up to $50,000 for the two projects. The motion passed unanimously.

Two days later, George Radnovich and James White of Bohannon-Huston met with several village departments and the public to show maps of the planned development.

Master plans, completed by Carter-Burgess, served as a base in creating the maps which gave a more accurate view of the spatial organization, Radnovich said.

He said to equalize the space on each side of the street, they established a construction center line down the middle of Sudderth, which may or may not be the same as it is on the present street.

He said traffic lanes would be a minimum of 11 feet and sidewalks would be a minimum of six feet wide.

(The first section just completed contains sidewalks that are four-feet wide.)

Radnovich said to increase safety for drivers and pedestrians, the number of parking spaces would be reduced from 270 spaces to 197.

(Recently, merchants were told that instead of a 30 percent reduction in parking space, the plans actually called for a 70 percent cut.)

Maul said there will be better sight distance and less clutter. She said drivers and pedestrians will both feel safer.

Another important feature is the crosswalks, which could be pigmented and textured differently than the sidewalks to alert drivers and pedestrians of their location.

(Current plans do call for pigmented interlocking pavers.) Radnovich said the crosswalks also would have handicap access with lighting from ballards, which direct the light down.

Maul said electric and telephone lines are one block behind Sudderth and won't be bothered by improvement plans. (One of the first change orders was to extend time because of problems with a utility pole.)

On November 24, 1991, MainStreet officials were concerned about developing off street parking and restrooms, but as a group, noted they were not financially in the position to take the necessary steps.

The board decided to send a letter to village officials asking them to consider the problem before widening sidewalks and installing fire hydrants.

A dynamite blast detonated by the police from an abandoned mining shaft sent clouds of dirt particles billowing skyward, overturning boulders and splintering tree branches. Bomb experts said the explosives were unstable and represented too great of risk to move.

Big boom blasts big stash of dynamite

by CHARLES STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

A two month long Ruidoso police investigation ended in a big boom Wednesday, destroying 732 pounds of dynamite and approximately 400 electronic blasting caps.

The earth shook and enormous billows of smoke shot skyward as bomb experts detonated the unstable sticks stored in an abandoned mineshaft of Ski Run Road.

Witnessing the event were enforcement officers from the U.S. Forest Service, The Lincoln County Sheriff's Department, The White Mountain Narcotics Task Force, The New Mexico State Police, The United States Customs Service and the United States Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

Jason Brillante, 19, of Ruidoso Downs, led the officers to the volatile stash he found in an abandoned mining shaft off Ski Run Road. Detective Pete Esquibel of the Ruidoso Police Department said that Brillante was arrested in August 1993 for unlawful possession of explosives and was currently on probation when he was arrested Wednesday for unlawful possession of explosives, a fourth degree felony in New Mexico.

Esquibel said that all of the dynamite and all the blasting caps had to be destroyed by bomb technicians from the state police and Albuquerque Police Department, due to their very unstable state.

Esquibel said that the dynamite and blasting caps were owned by Coonie Coyle of Hobbs.

Charges are pending from both state and federal authorities on Brillante and possibly other charges not disclosed, according to Esquibel.

Chamber exec screens area promotional film for Ruidoso Council

Joan Bailey, director of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, unveiled a 16-minute film created by On Track about the Ruidoso area that captured all the attractions within a short drive of the village.

The film started with the general flavor of mountain living; pine trees, rippling brooks and snow. Then as the pace picked up, attractions began to flow like the Rio Ruidoso.

Golf, tennis, horseback riding, fishing, skiing, race horses, art, museums, Billy the Kid, Geronimo, The Apache Indian Nation, Smokey Bear, Cloudcroft, White Sands National Park, Petroglyphs at Three Rivers, the malpais at Valley of the Fires, the Space Hall of Fame at Alamogordo.

The message was clear. Ruidoso may not have everything within the village limits, but from the village limits, everything is a short distance away.

Some film viewers felt the movie should be reviewed over and over again so that residents could see what a tourist town looks like if it really had all the amenities displayed and talked about in the film.

The trend, according to candidates running for office and Mayor Jerry Shaw, is toward tourism, and much is expected next year in parks and recreation improvements.

In other business the council tabled indefinitely the public hearing on Ordinance 94-2 regarding the loan agreement with the New Mexico Health and Environment Department.

Village manager Gary Jackson said he was told that the Regional Wastewater Joint Use Board made up of members from Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs had to take out the loan.

Jackson said the village and Ruidoso Downs officials first had to meet to come to an agreement, then the joint use board had to make an application.

The council also:

—approved Ordinance 94-3, an amendment to the excavation ordinance in the municipal code.

—approved a beer and wine license for the Texas Fajita Patio Cafe.

Village clerk Tammie Maddox noted there were several letters of protests by residents living near the new eatery.

Village attorney John Underwood said that the beer and wine license is used as a companion to the food, which is the primary purpose of the fajita restaurant.

State

he said.

"I kind of expected them to give us engineering money only and we would come back next year for the rest, because they want to see that the project is real," Underwood said. "But they felt that the need was there. That's a good sign and if we need to go back next year, I'm sure they'll have an open view."

"We also got the $150,000 of the Main Street sidewalk project reallocated from phase two to construction and parking on both phases. So it allows us to use what we need of that to resolve our parking challenges on phase one, allows us to use it on construction challenges in phase one, if we want to widen sections of sidewalk. But the primary thrust was parking."

In the valley

The legislature approved an additional $200,000 to finish the new Ruidoso Downs village hall.

"So we were successful getting that job accomplished on behalf of Ruidoso Downs," Underwood said. "It's a great project that's sorely needed and Ruidoso Downs doesn't have the ability to bond or secure other funds."

"We also were successful in getting $35,000 for the Department of Tourism to advertise the Museum of the Horse (in Ruidoso Downs). So we continue to promote that enterprise."

A project that has spurred controversy on a local level fared well with the legislature.

"A lot of people had contacted us about the Super Select Sale Barn being available in Glencoe," Underwood said. "The Lincoln County Commissioners had given me a resolution that if we could secure the money to purchase it and some operating capital, they would be supportive of that."

"We got a total of $290,000 for that project, $250,000 that can be used for the purchase price and $40,000 for the first year operational expenses."

Even though the county had requested a great deal more than that, the legislature felt that once again, if the county was interested, truly interested, in operating it, they should fund some operational expenses themselves. The experience being, it's just like welfare that somebody begins to depend upon somebody else providing all the money, that the pride in the project is not quite the same as somebody providing their own money.

"I think it will be a good deal for the county, because number one, I would hate to see us lose the (Lincoln County Annual) Cowboy Symposium. With the interest that's been shown (in the building) with the Cowgirl Hall of Fame, the interest shown by New Mexico State University, the interest shown by people wanting to do horse shows and so forth there, it could end up being a very good thing, not only for the county, but particularly for that side of the mountain, which has not a lot of Lincoln County facilities down there."

Next in line down U.S. 70 was a the proposal for the future of Fort Meigs in San Patricio.

"I got more letters supporting this project than any other, about 100," Underwood said.

John Meigs is donating Fort Meigs to the State of New Mexico Office of Cultural Affairs (OCA) for use as a museum and that donation includes all of the art and books located within Fort Meigs, appraised at somewhere around $2-million.

"The only contingency is that Mr. Meigs will stay on as curator during his lifetime. To accept that donation, it's necessary that the state put up some money to start the ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) compliance so that the public could go in and out of Fort Meigs.

"The legislature approved an initial sum of $50,000 to accept the donation and get the OCA funded to start working with Fort Meigs. That will be something funded every year."

"That basically gives us a major art museum in the Hondo Valley."

Underwood said he received many letters from Santa Fe residents who contended Hondo Valley qualifies as an art center in New Mexico and Fort Meigs would be an opportunity to give it a centerpiece.

"Of course, the funding is contingent on the donation being completed and all indications are that the thing will go through," he said.

"I think in years to come, that will be a wonderful addition not only to the state museums of New Mexico, but to southern New Mexico. We have a great deal of history here that needs to be emphasized, along with our art culture."

The legislature also responded favorably to Underwood's bill requesting money for walkways in the settlement of Lincoln.

"We received $50,000 to start their sidewalks," Underwood said. "In talking with (Lincoln) county manager Andy Wynham, he believes they can turn that money into two or three times as much by applying for federal highway grant money, which may turn our $50,000 into $150,000, what we need for that entire project."

"We're real pleased to get our foot in the door on that project."

Lincoln also will be the beneficiary of $100,000 for the Montana Store.

"The Office of Cultural Affairs wants to remodel that and turn it into more of a museum with artifacts from the area," Underwood said. "That's a good deal."

The future of Fort Stanton Hospital and Training Center looks better than it has in years, he said.

"It remains at full funding and in addition, we got between a half million and a million dollars for remodeling and additions to Fort Stanton, which means that Fort Stanton's future is secured as a state facility," Underwood said.

When I first came on board, we were within six months of having Fort Stanton shut down. The transition now is on-going from a DD (developmentally disabled) to a geriatric center and whatever usage the state may decide to put it to. We're not only at full funding, we're at more than full funding, because they are remodeling and fixing up and doing the things that need to be done out there to make it a first class state facility."

Switching to another state facility, Underwood said he sits on the judiciary committee and was able to include Camp Sierra Blanca Adult Rehabilitation Center, a minimum security prison near Fort Stanton, in a review program.

"A representative from Los Lunas had introduced a bill to ask the Corrections Department to review these honor farms and the work release and honor practices, these types of things at Los Lunas, because they've had a lot of walk-aways."

"I was successful in getting that bill amended to include Sierra Blanca also, so that we can have our corrections policy in regard to all of our honor farms reviewed. And I think that will be real beneficial to our area."

In connection with corrections, Underwood added that a chunk of money was funneled into Springer Juvenile Detention Center for a secure visitors center.

"In the past basically, the young men visited with families in cars and so forth and so, girlfriends were getting pregnant during visitations and drugs were being passed," he said. "It was a very lax situation and I think we put about $1-million into starting a secure facility at Springer. I think we've got to do something with that situation."

"We also passed a gun law that prohibit minors from carrying guns on school premises or to be in possession of loaded weapons without being on the way to a shoot or ... We protected the recreational use of firearms, which had to be protected, but we realized that the laws were so lax in regards to minors having firearms on school premises, that we passed a law against that. I think it's a good start."

"It's getting dangerous out there. Last week, before I left, there were two separate stabbings at junior highs in Santa Fe."

Roads and more roads

"Basically, for Capitan we got a total of $110,000 for street improvements," Underwood said. "Capitan, kind of like Ruidoso, has miles and miles of roads and most are unpaved. This will go a long way in helping Mayor (Frank) Warth get matching funds to pave more roads and he was real pleased with that."

"In every community, we had $20,000 put in for roads. So the Capitan monies represent $90,000, plus the $20,000. Ruidoso also got $20,000 to use from the intersection of Sudderth and Mechem to the traffic circle (by the U.S. Post Office), the county of Lincoln will also get $20,000. Corona will get $20,000."

"In Corona, we also got $100,000 for the beginning of a water line. We've been successful in negotiating with El Paso Natural Gas a lease of their water well that used to serve their compressor station."

"The water in Corona is not too potable, very hard, it's not good."

"So I think the lease negotiations will be successful, basically for the cost of the electricity to run their pump. To do that, we have to run a water line from the well into town. The estimated cost of that is $400,000. So we got $100,000 funding from the legislature and feel like we can get the rest from grants and so forth. So we've got that project started, which will secure the future of water to Corona, which sorely needs it. There is no future for Corona unless it has a municipal water supply."

The flatlanders

"In Carrizozo, we got $50,000 for their swimming pool, which needs to be repaired and fixed up," Underwood said.

"This is the only swimming pool on that side of the money. There's really no focal point of recreation and I'd like to see this become part of a whole recreational park and movement and so forth at Carrizozo for the kids of that part of Lincoln County and senior citizens."

The money will ensure the pool is in compliance with the ADA, he said.

"And maybe next year we'll go back and put a bubble on it," Underwood said.

"Then we got $35,000 for the old Carrizozo city hall on U.S. 54 that's in a state of disrepair. They don't have any room where they are for the municipal judge or police department. This money will be used to remodel and improve the old city hall to create a municipal police-court complex."

New jobs

"On FTEs, which are full time employees, we were able to get an additional magistrate clerk for the Ruidoso Magistrate court office," Underwood said.

"We're hopeful that he or she can fill in over in the Carrizozo office also, because they both need help.

We hadn't really gotten help from the AOC, the Administrative Office of the Courts. They really ignore small districts, so we're really pleased. We had to file a bill, because we weren't getting any cooperation from the AOC."

The second employee will be a full time juvenile probation officer.

"Jane Parnell has been overworked. She probably will continue to be overworked, but at least she'll have a comrade in arms to share her misery," Underwood said.

"This again is something that we had requested in the past and hadn't been able to get. It is full time and assigned specifically to the Ruidoso office."

"I feel like this is really important, because of the issues involving juvenile crime that we've got going on and I think it's really important to pay more attention to the juveniles at this point in time of our history, so we can start catching it early and nip it in the bud rather than having the problems that some of the big cities are experiencing."

Both positions will be funded effective July 1.

Help for schools

"We were successful in getting a $150,000 appropriation for the Ruidoso school district for an adolescent day treatment center," Underwood said. "Basically, we're going to be a pilot program in the state for helping troubled youths, who we don't want to have to send to Springer, but are having problems in the schools also. Basically, we're starting a program to help those students succeed and not fail."

"We're real proud of getting that done. We need to pay a lot of attention to our kids."

Capitan schools received an appropriation of $100,000 for computers.

"School district superintendent Diana Sonnamaker came up to Santa Fe and testified and made a good impression," Underwood said.

"There are additional sources of funding for computers that I think she will be able to tap into, but we got $100,000 appropriated to get them started, because they simply don't have an existing system on which to build."

"This, again, is a focus on the kids, because we're really lucky in Lincoln County not to be experiencing some of the problems, but we've got to stay ahead of the curve, not behind it."

Retention amendment

"A few years back, we passed a state constitutional amendment to move the election of judges from a political race to a retention race," Underwood said.

After being selected one time, judges at the district level and higher only have to win more than 50 percent of the vote to be retained.

"There was testimony in the judiciary committee on which I sit, of a great deal of dissatisfaction with that," he said. "It appeared that judicial retention choice had basically turned into a lifetime job. Once appointed they were in for life."

"The president of the New Mexico Judges came up and testified that there's a great deal of dissension among the association itself as to whether it was or wasn't good."

"The bill filed originally was that to be retained, a judge had to get 65 percent of the vote. We amended that in judiciary committee down to 57 percent. And I wish I could tell you there was a rational reason for coming up with 57. We had some talk about 55, some talk about 60 and I think probably 57 was halfway between the two."

"I think the general impression was that if it had been at 57 percent since judicial retention was passed, there were seven judges who would not have been retained.

"I think it's probably good to move away from a simple retention situation, because it doesn't seem to be working."

"The hope was that we would get more competent judges. The result is that we are, but we retain even the incompetent ones."

"I would expect next year there would be filed a bill to do away with judicial retention all together and go back to the old situation of having a person run against a person, put the issues out to the public, and be able to debate them freely and openly and let the chips fall where they may."

The proposal will be on the November ballot as a constitutional amendment to require 57 percent for retention.

"Three strikes you're out was passed, which is a good start," Underwood said, continuing with judicial and law enforcement issues. "In some ways, it's more symbolic than actual, because some states with it have not found it a deterrent. It's going to be something we have to watch closely. But it does send a psychological message that if you commit the crime, you're going to do the time with a mandatory 30 years with no probation or parole on the third serious offense that causes bodily harm, including criminal sexual penetration."

Racing, video gambling and the lottery

He won a delay on a movement to get rid of the tax credit that a race track may get for advertising, Underwood said.

"We were successful in delaying that for an additional year, because a lot is going to depend on what happens to the racing industry and its health or lack thereof in November," he said.

"We have on the ballot then video gaming and lottery. Should that pass, the racing industry will be affected and will need to be made a player one way or another either in the lottery or video gambling, because the experience has been once you do those, the immediate hit to the racing industry is 20-50 percent the first year. It goes down thereafter."

"So what I asked them to do was to not fool with the tax credits of the racing industry until we found out what was going to be the results of this."

Underwood said he's seeking re-election this year because he wants to see the lottery/video gambling issues through to the end.

"One of the reasons I ran four years ago, this was one of the issues I felt like we needed to at least have the opportunity to decide on," he said. "I didn't necessarily want it to be mandatory, but to go to the people. I feel really good that one of the things I've been successful at in the four years has been to get this issue before the people. If they decide they want to vote in favor, they need to get out and promote it, because this is it. The current governor we have won't sign the bill."

"One of the reasons I'm running for re-election in 1994 is that I feel there's still some work that needs to be finished. If this passes, the enabling legislation will be in the first session thereafter in 1995. How that legislation for this is drawn up is extremely important to this area, to its future economically, tourist wise, and to our racing industry."

"All interests need to be protected and all interests need to be valid. If that were used in a way that wasn't beneficial to this area and hurt our current industry of racing, it would not be beneficial for us at all."

Underwood said he also was successful in pushing a $90,000 appropriation to start a pilot program on drug and alcohol abuse counseling for those in the racing industry.

"I think it will be real beneficial, because it has been shown that industry needs attention," he said. "We started in New Mexico improving the credibility of racing by testing for drugging of the horses and being very strict about that and now we want to focus some attention on helping the people involved in the racing industry."

"There will be other grants and contributions from private individuals to help fund it."

Parks and recreation

On behalf of Charlie Griffin, chairman of State Parks and Recreation, Underwood said he was successful in getting $100,000 funded to the State Water and Conservation Fund.

"What this program provides for is matching funds for communities under 15,000 population to use for parks and recreation programs," he said.

"The way it works, a community puts up 25 percent, the state puts up 25 percent of the total project and the federal government puts up 50 percent. The $100,000 is the initial amount for the state to use for its matching funds to get that going."

"Of course, all of the communities that I represent would qualify for that. I was real excited about that, because Ruidoso had a request for $160,000 for parks and recreation. We put all of the money into the water treatment plant. Through this, we can put up 25 percent instead of 50 percent like we were proposing."

It's time communities learn how to work the system and get back their tax dollars from the federal government through grants and other programs, he said.

Two memorials with local impact also were approved.

After a fun debate on the floor, replete with songs and an appearance by Smokey Bear, the House passed a memorial for the governor to declare the month of July, Smokey Bear Month, Underwood said.

The legislature also passed a memorial asking the U.S. Department of Interior to pay more attention to the Mescalero need for education and help the Tribe rebuild the elementary school that burned down on the reservation four years ago.

Long term impact

"We're real lucky, because we (the state) had about $320-million (surplus) and we ended up spending $220-million of that, so we left some money for reserve. I felt real good about that," Underwood said.

"And the projections are this is going to continue, so that's real nice."

"I think that part of my job or any official in coming to Santa Fe and bringing what is irreverently referred to as the pork back home is to make sure that those projects are something that are going to make a difference in the long run and aren't simply a personal agenda type situation."

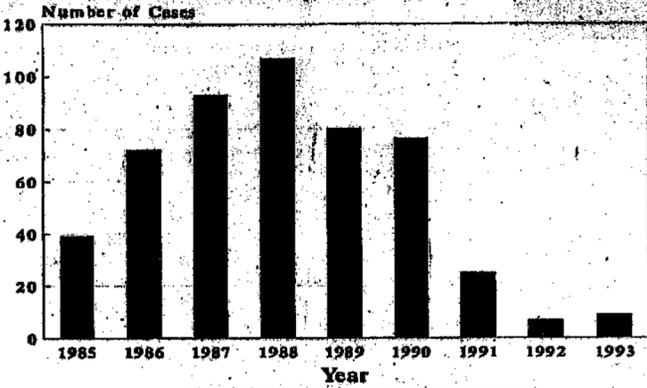

"I think the monies not only brought back to Lincoln County, but throughout the state, will be helpful to kids, will provide jobs."

"All of these projects basically mean more prosperity for all of these communities instead of just throwing it down a rat hole."

"I think the money for Lincoln, with Fort Meigs and especially with the Glencoe Rural Events Center may start a whole new thing for Lincoln County and the Hondo Valley and is a wonderful opportunity."

Number of Cases of H. influenza by Year

The chart shows the number of H. influenza cases (a type that only attacks children and can evolve into spinal meningitis) reported by year in New Mexico, according to the State Division of Epidemiology. The cases hit a high in 1989, dropped to a low in 1992, after a vaccine was approved and distributed, but saw a slight increase in 1993.

Vaccinations save children's lives

At the turn of the century, thousands of children caught pertussis, nicknamed whooping cough because of the strange sound emitted as a child tries to catch breath between coughs.

Despite the fact that pertussis now can be prevented, 43 cases were reported in New Mexico in 1993.

Two school-age children who had never been vaccinated, were among those infected. In less than two months this year, the state has received reports of two cases of pertussis, one in a three-month-old baby.

"People don't hear about these diseases, because immunizations have been so successful," said pediatrician Charles Anderson, who has seen several cases of pertussis every winter in his Taos practice.

"They are lulled into a false sense of security."

Unfortunately, some of these parents decide it isn't necessary to immunize their children.

Vaccinations vital

"The whole point is to start vaccinating babies at two months of age," says Martha Tanuz, registered nurse and surveillance coordinator with the New Mexico Department of Health.

Immunizations are the only way to minimize, and eventually eradicate many childhood diseases. Approximately half of New Mexico's babies had all the shots they need by the age of two, she said. That leaves another 50 percent without the proper protection.

Babies with pertussis can easily develop pneumonia and 41 percent require hospitalization, Tanuz said. Fortunately pertussis, along with eight other serious diseases, can be prevented by shots.

Babies should get vaccines to protect them against diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, polio, haemophilus (H-influenza, which only attacks children and can evolve into spinal meningitis), hepatitis B, measles, mumps and rubella, she said. For some of these diseases, babies need a series of shots before they are protected fully.

Infants should be seen by their doctor or at a clinic beginning at two months of age, but any child who is behind schedule should still be vaccinated, she said. A special shot schedule can be made for children who start a series after they are two months old.

"Immunizations should be viewed as essentials for good health in the 1990s. We recognize that clean water, proper food and shelter have eliminated many health problems," said Karen Armitage, a district health officer for the New Mexico Department of Health. But immunizations still are not reaching many children at high risk.

She has listened to parents' fears when their children were hospitalized with preventable diseases, Armitage said.

"Having seen a lot of little kids with haemophilus, I was cheering when the vaccine came out," she said.

A conjugate vaccine for haemophilus licensed in 1987 dramatically changed the impact of this disease on children.

"I remember that it went from about 100 cases a year to nine or so. It was unbelievable," said Dr. Armitage.

Polio vaccine also had an amazing impact and has virtually eradicated the disease in this country, she said.

Dr. Anderson said he knows the consequences when children are not vaccinated.

"Thirty years ago, when I went to Alaska, all the children in this village under the age of five had died," he said. They had died from pertussis the year before he arrived, because they had no public health nurse, who had traditionally given the children shots.

"The kids had no immunizations for a five-year period," he said. Anderson doesn't want to see a similar tragedy in New Mexico.

To set up an appointment for children to receive the immunizations, call the Lincoln County Health Office in Ruidoso at 258-3252 or Carrizozo at 648-2412.

Lincoln County is plagued with abuses of garbage disposal regs

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

In all of the communities where he has collected garbage, Joe Lewandowski said he has never seen such flagrant abuses of the system as occur in Lincoln County.

Residents should be angry about the illegal dumping at dumpster sites, because that and special collections have cost the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority $48,000 for far this year.

Collection rates are determined by the expenses of the authority, manager Lewandowski pointed out. He's already targeted several habitual offenders and is building cases against them, he told authority board members Tuesday.

He personally will file complaints against violators for illegal dumping, Lewandowski said. To ensure conviction and the full $500 per incident fine, he may use a video camera or a still camera with a long distance lens.

Residents who live near dumpster sites that are spots of frequent illegal dumping also are being encouraged to report violators by turning in their license numbers.

Board members suggested contacting the local Crime Stoppers organization to offer rewards to those reporting offenders.

"You have to make a few cases and let people see it could cost them $500 for each offense," Lewandowski said. "All it takes is a couple of people getting fined and they start listening."

Authority member Wilton Howell said he would speak again with Sheriff James McSwane about help from deputies. Howell, a county commissioner, represents his board on the authority, which is a coalition of the county and its five municipalities and handles collection and disposal of garbage.

"When we first put decals (stating the fine and what could not be left) on the dumpsters, it stopped for about three to four weeks," Lewandowski said. "But it's started up again. There were a couple of recliners and a couch there this week."

No one showed up for the weekly special collection of construction debris and large items last week in Hondo, "yet there was plenty of stuff around the dumpsters," he said.

"One of our biggest headaches is people who fill the dumpsters with things like large cartons and then others just drop their trash around the outside of the containers. Some don't even check to see if there's room in the dumpsters. We'll find them nearly empty with trash bags around them."

"What do the drivers do when extra debris is left on the ground?" asked member J.D. James, a Ruidoso village councilor.

"They report it on their run sheets," Lewandowski said. "We send back another crew. With side loaders, they can't stop to pick it up or they would never finish."

"It seems like there is a delay in reporting," James said.

"Right now, we are picking up within 24 hours after receiving the report. But for example, we did the four-lane section and within an hour, couches and other furniture were back."

"Do the drivers ignore the debris that falls as they lift the bin?" James asked.

"They have orders to go out and pick it up, but with the side loader, they can't always see the debris that falls out," Lewandowski said.

"We get (criticism) that we are not doing our job, but we're more than doing our job."

Some people requesting special collections in some areas are being charged "because they have been totally outrageous, like commercial lawn and tree trimmers leaving behind their debris or a contractor clearing property," Lewandowski said.

But he added, "I don't ever see the Ruidoso residents being charged for picking up pine needles."

He is trying to institute a more set schedule of special collections, handling a section at a time.

"In Alamogordo, people call in and (the collection company) does one section of town at a time. Their ordinance requires that items be placed outside after 5 p.m. Monday. Then Tuesday morning, it's gone. Most of the time here, we just find them (discarded items)."

Part of the problem locally is timing, he said.

"Items will be put out right after the regular collection time, but we won't be back until the next week and they will sit there for six days," Lewandowski said. "I'll put together a proposal (about scheduling special collections)."

Member Bill Allen said he also sees illegal garbage dumps starting up in areas off the main streets.

Lewandowski said he's aware of one behind Frank's Fruit Market. It's up to the owners to close off and post such areas, because they will be responsible for any clean up expenses, he said.

Member Bill Schwettmann said he had received complaints about the debris landfill in Capitan being closed on Monday. Lewandowski said Monday historically is the slowest day of the week and the best day to close.

After a review of the authority's financial statement, members said they appreciated the new form Lewandowski is using, which allows them to compare the percentage of year gone by with the percentage of budget spent or revenue generated in each category.

Warning to drunk drivers: the BAT returns

Law enforcement agencies throughout New Mexico will conduct nearly 100 DWI checkpoints statewide during Operation D.W.I.'s second blitz from February 25 through March 6.

Twenty-nine municipal police departments, five sheriff's departments and all thirteen State Police districts will participate.

Operation D.W.I. is a two-year enforcement and public information campaign designed to reduce the rate of drunk driving.

"The B.A.T. is out!", the slogan for this campaign, stands for Breath Alcohol Testing, which is a term and experience suspected drunk drivers will learn when they pass through a checkpoint.

The December blitz resulted in 182 arrests at 71 checkpoints statewide.

Equally important, officers in several jurisdictions reported seeing more designated drivers than usual, an indication that drinkers were choosing other ways to get home rather than driving themselves said a recent new release.

The release went on to say that this was the whole purpose of the campaign. The police are not saying people shouldn't drink; just that they don't want them driving afterwards.

So from February 25 to March there will be checkpoints everywhere for those who drink and drive.

Lady Warriors advance in playoffs

by KENT BEATTY
The News Sports Correspondent
The Ruidoso High School Lady Warriors advanced in the district playoff and got a little revenge on the way. The locals handed Las Cruces Oñate a 53-40 thumping Monday night on the opponents home floor.

The Lady Warriors met Silver High Wednesday night in Silver City in the second round. The Warriors met with defeat 51-37. Silver defeated Cobre in the first round of the tournament.

Silver defeated Cobre in the first round of the tournament.

The Lady Warriors' game against Oñate was perhaps their best of the season as the Warriors taller, quicker post players Sarah Dix, Brandy Pfeffer and Kristie Ryan had a field night against Oñate. Twice so far this season, Oñate has beaten Ruidoso — but the third time was a charm for the Lady Warriors. They got the one that counted.

With obvious pre-game jitters, the Lady Warriors fell behind early in the game with Oñate taking a two-point first quarter lead, 11-9.

But the locals shook off the butterflies and went to work, finding the powerful tandem of Dix, Pfeffer and Ryan inside the paint.

The game was a reversal of the last affair, where Ruidoso shot the ball miserably and Oñate scorched the nets. Monday night's clash saw the Lady Warriors shoot the ball well, but more importantly, the guards, Dawn Moore, Danielle Morris and Crystal Taylor did a masterful job in the backcourt.

The second quarter saw the Lady Warriors draw away to a 24-19 lead at the half, as time and time again the girls found the open player, and the open player found the basket.

Some minute defensive changes in the third quarter and their continued excellent play, stretched the Warrior lead to 11 points, 36-25.

But it was the fourth quarter that the girls did the job.

Being competitive through three quarters has not been the problem in most of their games this season. Holding on to fourth quarter leads has.

This time, when it was do-or-die, the Lady Warriors responded with a nearly flawless performance.

The scoring was provided by: Sarah Dix, 16; Brandy Pfeffer, 14; Kristie Ryan, 8; Laverne Platta, 4; Ramona Bell, 4; Lindsay Willard, 3; Crystal Taylor, 2; and Dawn Moore, 2.

"We just did what we've been trying to do all year, work the ball inside to our post players, and when they got the ball, they put in the hole," said head coach Dennis Davis.

"We have a size advantage over most of the teams we play in our district and our post players are definitely quicker than most ... we just clicked Monday on both sides of the court ... our halfcourt defense was excellent," said Davis.

The surge in the defense was certainly noticeable by looking at just one line in the scorebook. Oñate's Veronica Madewell, who score 19 points in the two teams last encounter, was shut out by the Lady Warriors this time around.

Warrior boys end season

Fresh off their first district win in three years, the Ruidoso Warrior Boys basketball team will end its regular season far from the comfort of the Warrior Gym. The team travels to Silver City this weekend for a Friday night game against Cobre, and a Saturday night affair with Silver, the State's top-ranked team.

Last Saturday, the Warriors knocked off Deming 69-37 in an overtime thriller to get one of the world's largest monkeys off their backs. Monkey might not be the right word ... let's try King Kong.

The team's last District win was in 1991, when current members Cory Hood and Rex Comanche were 7th-graders.

Well, that's all over now and the Warriors have a very legitimate chance to start a new streak, a win streak, as Friday the Warriors will get their rematch with Cobre.

The Indians beat Ruidoso at home earlier in the month in a game that saw the then 4-10 Indians shoot the ball impressively and the Warriors, who were without two starters, lose the game by five points.

Since that time, however, Ruidoso has played very well and Ruidoso's Raul Davis has been All-World. The 5-10 junior has scored 26, 26, 30 and 19 points respectively in the last four games and Cobre, or anyone else for that matter, doesn't have anyone that can stop him.

But it's not a one-man show either as Ruidoso gut-checking performance in the Deming game from seniors Jeff Chapman and J.R. Chino. Throw that in with the play of ever-consistent Cory Hood, and the Warriors could give Cobre nightmares.

Both Daniel Espinosa and Rex Comanche made big free throws in the Deming game and the Warriors took care of the ball, so a close game is a situation that Ruidoso should welcome.

At just six deep, plus the JV players, Ruidoso will have to stay out of foul trouble to beat Cobre on their home court, but with exception of a couple of games, that hasn't been a real problem so far this year.

Saturday night's clash against Silver will be a different ball of wax however as the Colts are ... just awesome.

Something will really have to go wrong, for these, big, fast athletic guys: not to win the State Championship next month.

Their second team, which plays a lot, is better than most squads making the Colts heads above everyone in the district.

Game time is expected to be around 7:30 for the varsity games, and both will be carried live by KRUI Radio.

Flores brothers impressive at state tournament

by KENT BEATTY
The News Sports Correspondent
Guided by a second and fourth place finish by Julian and Johnny Flores, the Ruidoso Warriors scored more points as a team than any year in its history last week at the New Mexico State High School Wrestling Championships in Aztec.

The Warriors finished in 12th place in the 25-team AAA division with most of the kids turning in winning records.

Aztec came away with first place followed by Silver, Bloomfield and Deming. In fact, all of District 3-AAA members finished in the top 12.

It was a bittersweet tourney for the Warriors 103-pound dynamo Julian Flores, who finished second in the tournament in his feather-weight class.

The powerful junior finished 4-1 at State, including a 19-6 trashing on his Aztec opponent in the semifinals. That was sweet.

The bitter part for Flores was that his opponent in the finals, Adam Berrago from Silver, was the same guy that Julian has defeated twice in the last two weeks — at the District Quad and the District Tournament.

But an early mistake and perhaps good coaching from Silver as to what Julian's strategy might be, cost Flores early in match as he quickly fell behind Berrago 5-0 and could never catch up.

Julian's brother Johnny finished fourth in his weight class (119) as a sophomore. That performance was a real surprise to the Warrior coaching staff, who have seen Johnny at his best and worst this year.

His 6-2 record included losses to the eventual first and third place finishers at the 119-pound class.

Beau Jarvis (4-2), also had a good tournament defeating some high seeds early, but losing to the eventual runner up in the 130-pound class.

Sophomore Shaun Cobb won his first-ever match at State as he shocked the tourney's fifth seed and coming from behind to do it with an impressive pin.

Matt Bates, the Warriors 152-pound over-achiever wrestled very well, but lost his first match to an opponent from powerful Bloomfield. But the junior then reeled off three-straight matches before being upset in the final eight seconds with a reversal, while Bates was nursing a slim 8-7 lead. Bates lost his final match 9-8.

Sophomore Scooter Bussell also lost his first match and won three-straight en route to a 3-2 record at the Championship event.

It was the same story for 160-pound Sergio Guerrero and heavyweight Eustace Gallerito. Both grapplers have seen impressive improvement throughout the season and both finished 3-2 at State.

Other wrestlers representing the Warriors at the tournament included Gunner Johnson, Bill Cash and Jose Prieto.

"It's the first time we have place two kids at state since 1988, and the first time in the past two years that we've placed anyone in the top two," said Warrior head coach Gerald Ames.

"We gained a lot of experience with kids that will be back ... and that experience is invaluable.

"Our problem in the past has been that we've brought seniors to State, with just one shot, but we've got kids winning matches as sophomores now ... We will be very strong in the years to come because the administration is behind our program.

"We're get kids now at an age where they can both learn the physical part, and when they're older, the mental part. Wrestling is a unique sport, there is no one to blame but your self if you don't do well. It's one-on-one," said Ames.

Obviously, like the other sports at the high school, wrestling has made a big turnaround. The Warriors who have had many exceptional individual wrestlers in the past will in the next few years get a chance to make an impression as a team.

And Ames is right — getting sophomores and juniors winning matches at the State level is the secret. Soon, the State tournament isn't a dream, it's a place to go to take care of business. And with two or three trips at state those kids will learn it.

Scorebusters lead league

In Tuesday Night Mixed League bowling, the Scorebusters and the Inn at Pine Springs restored their top ratings and intensified their rivalry.

Throughout the last several weeks, Pine Springs has stayed one slot ahead of the Scorebusters. Last week, though, the Scorebusters broke through to number one with Pine Springs two games behind in the number two space. Scorebusters stand now with a 18-6 record, Inn at Pine Springs is 16-8.

"Achy" Breaky Hearts slipped from first to third, one up from the Underdogs who fell from second. The Hearts have a 16-8 record, and the Underdogs are 16-9.

Smokey Bear Motel and Restaurant and the Lincoln County Medical Center held their places at fifth and sixth with records of 14-10 and 12-12 respectively.

Cut Above/Obsessions traded places with Double Deuce, leaving the beauticians in seventh with a 11-13 standing and Double Deuce in eighth with a record of 9-15.

United New Mexico Band and Rick's Auto Tech kept their order in ninth and tenth places.

Jan Bergeron bowled a whopping 547 over three games, replacing Rayarr Dickerson as women's second highest series scorer. Dickerson's single game score of 270 put her in Mary Allen's place as women's highest game scorer.

Mitchell's Irish Emeralds top the Ruidoso Women's Bowling Association's city tournament

The Ruidoso Women's Bowling Association held its city tournament February 5 and 6. Mitchell's Irish Emeralds topped the list of scratch winners with a score of 2291. Team members Flo Maul, Lucy Servies, Tricia Tully-Mitchell, Connie Behringer and Mary Greer received a team trophy.

First place handicap winners were the Super 8 Motel. Team members Terri Sanchez, Claudia Morales, Debbie Jacobsen, Carole Sanchez and Debra Ingels compiled a score a 2921. Mitchell's Irish Emeralds also came in second. In doubles scratch, Gloria Wheeler and Sandra Mancha topped out at 965. In handicap doubles, Terri Sanchez and Claudia Morales took first place. Mary Blackmon took first place in both singles scratch and handicap competition. She bowled a 583 scratch and 682 handicap.

Across all events, Kathy Hanson's score of 1552 made her the first place scratch winner and Lucy Savadra's score of 1878 made her the first place handicap winner.

Bronze sculpture to stand at new Capitan school

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

A design by Phil Bob Borman was selected from among four proposals submitted by local artists for a bronze sculpture slated to be placed at the new Capitan Middle School.

"It will be the only public art work in Lincoln County, so there is a good chance of getting some money from the state. It will take a year to finish it," Capitan school district superintendent Diana Sonnamaker said during a recent school board meeting.

The three-quarters of life size sculpture will depict a teacher with a child on a rock type base.

"We're putting in for a grant from the New Mexico Arts Division, Public Arts Special Projects fund," Sonnamaker said. "The cost is more than we thought and T.E. Arrington (the middle school contractor) is working with a couple of foundations."

The sculpture is projected by Borman to cost $31,700.

"We're asking $10,000 from the state and are talking to local art groups for another $17,000," Sonnamaker said. "The district would contribute about $5,000 by creating the wishing well base and landscaping around the concrete benches."

"I hope this is only a beginning and that we will be getting other art pieces on campus," said board President Tom Trost.

Howard Shanks, with the South-central Mountain Recreation, Conservation and Development Council, is chairman of a committee to pursue that project and others.

"We won't know until June on the state grant," Sonnamaker said.

"Howard also is seeking $2,800 in grant money for trees on campus."

Teacher swap

In another issue, Sonnamaker received board concurrence to pursue a swap of a teacher with the Menomonee, Wisconsin school district.

A teacher at the elementary school has expressed interest as have some in the Wisconsin system.

"The main thing is if (elementary principal) Jerry (Newsom) is willing," said board member Tim Worrell.

Each district would continue to pay their own teacher and supply benefits.

In other business, the school board members:

—thanked Sonnamaker for her diligent effort and voters for passing the continuation of the special two-mill capital outlay/equipment property tax levy February 1.

—asked for a representative of Architecture Plus to attend the next board meeting to discuss a $13,000 charge for extra top soil for the new middle school and who now is supposed to be in charge of the $1-million project. The previous supervisor has left the firm.

—proposed some changes necessary in a proposed policy regarding the duties, contract and line of command of the superintendent.

Sonnamaker said she would take the directives and suggestions back to her advisory board to complete the changes.

—heard a report from Sonnamaker that she had presented the board's request for $188,000 in computer equipment to the State Legislature, but was told to pinpoint $55,000 in priorities, because the chance of receiving the full package was minimal.

"We won't turn anything down," she said. "If we can get $50,000, you bet we can use it."

—reviewed two proposed calendars for the 1994-95 school year.

"The staff will vote and then I will recommend," Sonnamaker said. She pointed out that on one calendar, teachers would report August 17 (students the next day), two weeks of vacation at Christmas and one week at spring break are included. Classes would end May 26 on both calendars.

On the second choice, the first day would be delayed until August 22 (students the next day), the Christmas vacation would be shorter and not start until December 21 and spring break would be shorter.

Hours required

She explained that students must attend 1,080 hours at the secondary level and 180 days. Hours above the minimum may be used for in-service and parents conferences.

"We go more than 1,100 hours," Sonnamaker said. "That's why two snow days don't have to be made up."

Parent Sherry Underwood suggested starting the school year after Labor Day. With the earlier starting dates, no family time is left after the end of the county fair and the beginning of school, she said.

Sonnamaker said if school didn't begin until September 6, students and teachers wouldn't get off until June 9. That would result in teachers getting to their college classes late, since most start around June 5.

"Getting out earlier also gives our kids a jump on finding jobs," Trost said.

"After May 29, they're mentally not there," Sonnamaker said. "It's good for them to get out before then."

Late fee discussed

Board members discussed the possibility of imposing a $250 a day late penalty for Van Winkle Roofing of Roswell.

The company started a re-roofing project on the schools nearly one month late. The gymnasium was to be completed by February 13.

"They missed a lot of good weather during the month they were late," Trost said. "It would have been done, if they had arrived on time. They never offered a reason."

Sonnamaker also asked the board to consider opening a separate polling place in Alto for school elections next February, because of requests she had received from residents of that community. She estimated the training and labor costs of a new polling place at $500.

"It's important to accommodate Alto residents, because they're paying a large part of our tax support," said board member Russell Shearer.

Sonnamaker said the board may want to open a separate polling place in the settlement of Lincoln, although she added that with the new regulations governing absentee ballots, anyone can vote ahead of time.

Briefs

Capitan school board awards Newsom new 2-year contract

After an early morning closed-to-the-public session of the Capitan School Board Wednesday, board members returned to an open special meeting and approved a new two-year contract for elementary principal Jerry Newsom.

The contract will cover the school years of 1994-95 and 1995-96. The board took no action on a contract for high school principal Darrel Stierwalt, whose contract will run out at the end of the 1994-95 school year.

School district superintendent Diana Sonnamaker explained that state law does not permit contracts to be extended to three years. The board decided to cancel Newsom's previous two year contract at the mid-point and approve a new contract for two years.

Busy schedule for trustees

Capitan trustees will be busy in early March with two special meetings in addition to their regular session at 7 p.m. March 14 in village hall.

A public hearing is set for 6:30 p.m. March 3 to review projects for a Community Development Block Grant application and to formal a labor relations ordinance. The board has decided to allow the state to handle labor hearings, a decision that means the village probably will be dropped from a suit challenging the validity of ordinances passed by several communities that planned to run their own labor hearings.

An organizational meeting is set for 7 p.m. Monday, March 7 in reaction to the results of the March 1 municipal election.

Meeting on discipline set

Parents of students in Capitan junior and senior high grades are urged to attend a meeting to discuss discipline in the school system set for 7 p.m. Monday, February 28, in the multi-purpose room.

Principal Darrel Stierwalt said school officials want to hear input from parents and students on discipline, attendance and retention policies.

Capitan High School Lady Tigers claim the district basketball crown

Three of Capitan's Lady Tigers walked away with all district honors after the team spiked the Loving Falcons for a 55-24 district championship victory Saturday.

The 1994 district confrontation exploded on the courts with two old foes facing off again.

Game play

After Tycie Traylor batted the ball to her team in the opening jump, the Tigers continued on the offensive, scoring nine points in the first quarter. Their defense displayed some of the style that helped bring the team to the district, holding Loving to seven points.

Loving bounced back in the second quarter, posting 13 points and nearly squeezing out Capitan, which mustered only three field goals and three free throws for a nine point total, which kept them in the lead.

Third quarter thrust

The Tigers charged back tough in the third quarter and ran the scoreboard up to 33 points, while sitting on Loving, which couldn't get past 22.

In the fourth quarter, the Tigers geared up their offense and defense for the big win, corralling Loving while the Tigers raced in to rack up 22 points.

Capitan ran away with six of the individual awards. Tycie Traylor, Stacy Gowen and Jessica Cline received all district recognition and honorable mention went to Catherine "Cat" Sidwell and Anita Aldaz.

Coach Norman Cline carried off the biggest award after being name

Coach of the Year.

Boys best

Ending their first winning season since 1988, the Capitan Tigers edged past a stunned Tatum Friday, 53-50.

It was the first time Tatum had tasted defeat at the paws of the Tigers, whose pumped up offense and defense combined for one of the most memorable victories of the year.

Coach Ron Becker said Capitan performed well, masterfully blocking out and posting a good field goal percentage. A great team effort showed in fewer turnovers for the Tigers.

No breather

Fans didn't have a second to relax until the last buzzer. In the final 30 seconds of the game, Jay Roberts popped a spectacular 10 footer, putting Capitan ahead 50-52. Tatum tried to shoot a 10 footer, but missed.

Jamil Mahboub rebounded and was fouled. He sunk his first shot and missed the second, but sealed the game for Capitan.

Not only was the win especially sweet against Tatum, but slipping away with the game catapults Capitan into the district semi-final game at 4:30 p.m. Friday.

If the Tigers win in the semi-final, they will advance to the regional tournament. If not, they finish the regular season 15-7, with the first winning record in five years.

Contributing to this report were Capitan high school sports writers Amanda K. Bird, Andrew Longbotham and Klay Jones.

Friends, family bid farewell to Luvin Sanchez

Luvin Sanchez

Services were held February 19 in St. Eleanor Catholic Church for Luvin "Louie" Sanchez who was called home by Our Lord on February 16. Lector Albert Richardson read from the Book of Isaiah, "And it should be said in that day, to us thus: Our God. We have waited for him and he will save us."

Lector Betty Ruppels led the 23rd Psalm, "The Lord is my shepherd I shall not want... Also from the First Epistle to the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians... and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore comfort one another with these words."

Father Richard Catanach read from the Gospel according to St. Luke, "And Jesus said unto him, verily I say unto thee, today thou shalt be with me in Paradise."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robles sang "Amazing Grace" accompanied at the organ by Kay Olvera.

At the graveside

At the graveside, Father Richard Catanach prayed "may the angels welcome our brother Luvin into paradise."

Special music was played and sung at the graveside by guitarists Bob Richardson and Jose Angel and singers Elodia Alamager and Joe Torres. Numbers played were "Bonito, Bonito" (Blessed, Blessed), "Llorar Llorar" (Weep, Weep), "Adios".

Military honors

A color guard and rifle squad under the direction of Romeo Klein performed military honors. The color guard was composed of Bob Stevens, Mike Brillante and Fred Gamboa. In the rifle squad were Ruben Sandoval, John Miller, Margarita Trujillo and E.C. Chavez. The American flag which draped the casket was presented by Romeo Klein to Luvin's son David.

The memorial crucifix was presented by Father Catanach to Luvin's wife, Susie.

Fall bearers were Gene Hoyt, Rudy Loye, Andra Mackey, Ernest Hammett, Johnny Durham and David Montes.

Honorary pallbearers were Joe Lopez, Jay Gomez, Daniel Storm, Orlando Montes, Manuel Lanford, Roberto Gomez, Albert Richardson and Richard Rascom.

A kind man

Luvin's trademark was his bright and cheerful smile which came from his kind heart.

He loved life and helped others to be happy. He was a devout man who lived a Christian life.

Luvin will hold a fond spot in our hearts and we rejoice that he is now joined with loved ones who have gone on before in Heaven with Our Lord.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

MARCH 3, 1994 • VILLAGE OF CAPITAN

The Village of Capitan invites you to attend a public hearing on March 3, 1994 at 6:30 p.m. at Village Hall Bldg., 114 Lincoln Ave. Capitan, New Mexico. The purpose of the public hearing will be to discuss the 1994 Small Cities Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program - to advise citizens of the program objectives, range of activities that can be applied for and provide other pertinent information: to obtain the views of citizens on community development and housing needs to include the needs of low and moderate income people. The CDBG program is designed to meet activities which will address one of three state and national objectives.

1. Benefit principally low moderate income families.
2. Aid in the prevention or elimination of slum and blight.
3. Meet other community development needs of recent origin which pose a serious and immediate threat to the health and welfare of the community.

All counties and incorporated municipalities under 50,000 population are eligible to apply. Applicants may apply for funding assistance under categories including Community Infrastructure, Housing, Public Service Capital Outlay, Economic Development, Emergency, Planning and Colonias.

Complete information concerning this program can be obtained at the public hearing along with information on how to receive technical assistance on preparing a proposal for consideration. For further information, contact Deborah Cummins, Village Clerk at 354-2247 at the Village of Capitan, Capitan, New Mexico.

Eroica Trio

Erika Nickrenz, Adela Peña and Sara ruary 28, at the First Christian Church as Sant'Ambrogio, the Eroica Trio, will perform in Ruidoso at 7:30 p.m. Monday, February 28, at the First Christian Church as part of the Ruidoso Community Concerts season. Admission is by membership only.

Parks & Rec board meetings are open to public

If you're interested in the future of recreation in the Village of Ruidoso, you might want to attend meetings of the Parks and Recreation Commission at 6 p.m. the first and third Tuesday of each month.

Meetings of this advisory board are conducted at the Parks and Rec office at Wingfield Park, 801 Grindstone Resort Drive.

Parks and Recreation Department director Debbie Joe Almager reminds the public that they are invited and welcome at the open meetings.

PARC is an advisory committee appointed by the mayor to make recommendations regarding the programs, rules and regulations of the department, and assist in forming decisions for future growth of the department.

According to a news release, PARC is working on the department's master plan and is seeking input from citizens. The master plan is being developed to provide a framework for orderly and consistent planning, acquisition, development and administration of the Village of Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department.

Anyone wishing to assist in the master plan or wanting to place an item on the agenda should call Almager at 257-5030, a week prior to the meeting.

Historic site is perfect setting for Carrizo Lodge Art School

Art and history form the perfect partnership when Carrizo Lodge opens its doors to the annual art school.

Artists in various media find inspiration when staying and working at the peaceful lodge with its diverse history.

Carrizo Lodge, named by the Indians for the abundance of bamboo that grows in the creek, is a registered historical landmark. The lodge is on the outskirts of the Village of Ruidoso, on Carrizo Creek Road, just before the road goes onto the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation.

It was 1879 when Rutherford B. Hayes put his signature on a patent giving title to some 180 acres along the Carrizo Creek to Colonel George A. Purington.

Purington came to New Mexico as commander of the army post, Fort Stanton.

The Carrizo land had intrigued him, but he didn't have long to enjoy the property or its mountain setting, for Purington died in 1896, a year after his retirement from the army.

The property remained with his widow until 1923, when she sold it to Horace Carter for $25 an acre.

Carter, then, sold 40 acres to the New Mexico Military Institute in April 1925, and that same year the institute built the original lodge to serve as a summer retreat for the young cadets. Young athletes and scholars used to crowd into its dining hall and run formations on the fields outside.

Over the years, the thick walls of Carrizo Lodge have evolved from military tan to tones that hearken back to the red reed grass for which it was named.

When Carrizo Camp conducted its first summer school, supervised by Lieutenant Colonel E.L. Lusk, from June 13 to August 6, 1927, 30 boys from seven states enrolled.

They enjoyed their summers in an attractive and spacious camp building with large lounging room, dormitory, kitchen and dining room.

"The forenoons were given over to study and the afternoons to recreation. Nearby Ruidoso offered a spark of social life. It was a vacation combined with work for boys who enrolled."

The institute and the State of New Mexico owned the property until 1943, when World War II disrupted the lives and times of the cadets and this nation.

From 1943 to 1952, the Lodge and property were owned by Annie Coe Titsworth of the Hondo Valley. Reportedly, Titsworth was an excellent roper and rider and was niece to George Coe, who became close friends with Billy the Kid.

In 1952, Herb Greggerson, who was noted as the country's number one square dance caller, purchased the Lodge.

The Greggersons moved their square dance operation from El Paso, Texas to the Carrizo Lodge where they remained an integral part for the next 30 years.

During the 1980s the Lodge went through several changes in ownership.

Today, the beautiful and historic Carrizo Lodge and Art School is owned and operated by C-Net Resorts, Inc. whose principals have spent the last several years working to restore the hotel and have revitalized the popular art school.

The Art School, established in 1956 by Fred Taubes, is operated May through October.

Artists and art students will gather this summer for a series of workshops and classes conducted in the historic lodge where the past and present blend.

Nestled in the cool pine forest, beside a sparkling mountain stream, the Lodge offers a long tradition of relaxation and good old-fashioned Southwestern hospitality.

The spacious art studios include a wonderful natural north light in this ideal setting to study art or just kick back and enjoy.

Art School registration is under way now. Call Carrizo Lodge at 257-9131 for details on the various sessions and to make reservations.

Handicapped ski race, fundraisers planned

by YVONNE LANELLI
Special to The News

Skiing without sight or hearing? Skiing on only one leg? Skiing without using any legs?

If that sounds impossible, check out the action at Ski Apache when students and instructors of Ski Apache Handicapped Skiers Association (SAHSA) hit the slopes.

Then check out the action at next month's SAHSA fundraisers.

The fun program

For 18 years, an elite cadre of specially trained instructors, both paid and volunteer, have brought the joy of motion on snow to those who would otherwise not know it.

Those who lack the use of their eyes or ears, for example, ski with guides, one on one, utilizing the sense that work.

Skiers who lack the use of one or both arms or legs use imaginative adaptive ski equipment. These include, but are not limited to, outriggers, sit-skis or mono-skis.

Outriggers are short forearm crutches with short skis attached. A person who skis on one leg will use outriggers instead of ski poles, thus creating a three-point balance on the snow.

A mono-ski or sit-ski allows the skier to sit in a sled-like device and steer with either short poles or by shifting body weight from side to side. Paraplegics and quadriplegics enjoy this device.

Fun fundraisers

Instructor time and equipment cost far more than the very nominal fee students pay. So SAHSA holds an annual fundraiser.

For the next two weeks, volunteers will be canvassing local businesses for items for SAHSA's silent auction Tuesday, March 8, from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Ruidoso Convention and Civic Events Center. At the conclusion of the auction, some lucky ticket holder will win a Ski Apache season pass for next year.

The next morning, Wednesday, March 9, the annual Businesspersons-Handicapped Ski Championship Race runs at 11 a.m. on East Easy Street at Ski Apache.

Local businesspersons team with SAHSA students in a fundraising event that emphasizes fun as the businessperson skis on only one leg and uses outriggers.

Since most businesspeople don't usually ski this way, SAHSA will conduct free clinics on race morning beginning at 8:45 a.m. running every 15 minutes.

Fun for you

If you'd like to help out the SAHSA program, there's lots you can do. If you're a businessperson, be generous when an SAHSA volunteer asks for an auction donation.

Or consider teaming with a SAHSA student on race day. It's only a $25 entry donation.

If you're a shopper, art lover or bargain hunter, check out the many goods and services at the silent auction.

Or buy a $2 ticket on the $700 Ski Apache season pass.

Lastly, volunteer to collect auction merchandise, help out auction night or at the races.

For further information, call SAHSA headquarters at 396-4416. To donate an auction item, call Teri Sodd at Mountain Arts Gallery, 257-9748.

To race, call Cindy Lynch at Gary Lynch Realty at 257-4011.

You'll be glad you did.

Ski writers make the most of Ski Apache visit

by YVONNE LANELLI
Special to The News

Mix prominent travel and ski journalists with a day and a half of Ruidoso hospitality plus Ski Apache fun and what results?

A plethora of positive publicity, pray promoters.

Last Friday and Saturday (February 4 and 5), five members of the North American Ski Journalists Association visited the area on the first of two trips this winter arranged by the New Mexico Department of Tourism and Ski New Mexico.

The writers' itinerary included visits to Albuquerque and Santa Fe as well as the ski areas of Angel Fire, Red River and Taos, then ended the trip here.

For the veteran journalists who hail from Washington, Ohio, Colorado and Canada, the trip represented a skiing New Mexico first. And although skiing conditions were less than optimum, all pronounced the trip a success. Several wish to return to further their research.

Their Ruidoso stay included visiting the Museum of the Horse, dining at the Enchantment Inn and overnighting at the Inn of the Mountain Gods, as well as skiing with Roy Parker, Ski Apache's general manager, and members of his staff.

Their impressions of southern New Mexico skiing?

"More laid back and cheaper than Colorado," assessed photographer Yvette Cardoza from Washington.

Cardoza and her husband, Bill Hirsch, are a freelance photographer/writer team who already have interest from several papers for stories coming out of this trip. They contribute to Ski Impact/Touring America and Hirsch's byline appears in national skiing magazines.

"How interesting that part of Ski Apache is on Indian reservation land," observed Hirsch. In the U.S., most ski areas occupy either private or U.S. Forest Service land. Almost all of Ski Apache lies on the national forest, portions of Apache Bowl and Elk Ridge as well as two lifts are on Mescalero Tribal property.

In the 11,000-foot high Gazebo, the visitors drank in the imposing 360 degree views while Parker and Denny Grover, Ski Apache's mountain manager, pointed out the White Sands National Monument, Malpais lava flow and Trinity Site, where the world's first atomic bomb exploded.

"What a view," praised Robert Choquette of Toronto, Canada. He is the editor of Le Ski, a Canadian publication.

Claire Walker of Colorado wants to include Ski Apache in the next edition of her book, "Rocky Mountain Skiing." This extensive guide presently lists only Taos and Santa Fe ski areas.

"And I love your New Mexican food and the Indian and Spanish decor."

Walker also serves as western editor of Skiing Magazine.

Hungarian-born Bert Fischer of Ohio, a well-traveled ski writer, sought the area's personality.

"You're Indian-owned and operated which is unique in the ski world," he enthusiastically pointed out. Gesturing to massive Sierra Blanca Peak, sacred to the Mescaleros, he continued.

"Your holy peak and that road with its magnificent view. It reminds me of the Alps in northern Italy."

Fischer did his own research before skiing here. As a certified instructor of the disabled — one of his many accomplishments that led to his nomination to skiing's National Hall of Fame — Fischer knew that Ski Apache's handicapped skiing program is the third largest in the nation.

How much is a visit such as this worth to the state and our area?

Mike Pitel of the Department of Tourism and Steve Lewis of Ski New Mexico stand ready with facts and figures.

"In the years we've done these tours, both skiing and non-skiing, we've traced 12,000 separate articles about our state. That represents $18 million worth of publicity. And although we've spent $2 million in advertising, these articles are more credible. In fact, for every dollar of cost we'll see return of $16 in publicity," said Pitel.

Last week's trip was the first of two scheduled trips this ski season. A new group of journalists will arrive February 26 through March 3, beginning their state skiing tour in Ruidoso.

This is the third consecutive year the tourism department and Ski New Mexico have sponsored ski journalists' visits, said Pitel.

Workshop provides information on prescribed burns

A workshop targeted for private landowners who are considering prescribed fires on their property is scheduled for May 29-31 at the Inn at Pine Springs in Ruidoso.

The session is sponsored by the New Mexico State University (NMSU) Cooperative Extension Service and the New Mexico State Forestry and Resources Conservation Division.

The workshop is open to the public. Interested landowners are encouraged to attend. The registration fee is $24 with checks payable to NMSU.

For more information, contact Dr. Chris Allison at NMSU, 646-1944, or the Capitan district state forestry office at 364-2231.

Our choices for Ruidoso

"If it ain't broke, don't fix it," is the way one Ruidoso voter responded to questions about the March 1 municipal elections. We couldn't agree more, and that's why Mayor Jerry Shaw has our wholehearted support in her bid for election. In a situation that could be compared to test driving a car before purchasing it, Ruidoso has had the opportunity to watch Mayor Shaw at work on a "test drive" basis since she was appointed to replace former mayor Victor Alonso when he resigned.

Mayor Shaw is a strong leader. She has taken the lead to clean up the town, open village government with better communications within village hall and without. She also hired an outstanding professional village manager, recommended and supported a raise for village employees and conducted a series of in-depth workshops to get the village back on track. Mayor Shaw conducts village meetings efficiently and fairly, putting an end to marathon sessions where little or nothing was accomplished. She has represented the village in Santa Fe, too; lobbying successfully for more than a half million dollars to build a water treatment plant.

Mayor Shaw has done a good job, and even her challenger endorsed her candidacy during last week's candidates forum, saying he wouldn't do things any differently than she has. Mayor Shaw is doing a good job for this village and she deserves your vote.

For the three four-year council terms, we narrowed our choices to four. We know you can only vote for three, but any combination of these four would make for a diverse and efficient council.

Incumbents Joe R. Gomez and Frank Potter, parliamentary procedure expert Leon Eggleston and attorney Charles "Chay" Rennick are our choices. In the case of Gomez and Potter, both men were appointed and have taken the challenge of serving this village. They're doing a good job. Gomez brings many years of business experience to the council, and Potter brings his years of working in village government enhanced with his more recent experience in the tourism industry.

Eggleston's knowledge of village government, grants, municipal finance and, best of all, parliamentary procedure, would go a long way to round out the board. Charles "Chay" Rennick has a diverse background that combines "new blood" with strong ties to this area. Both Eggleston and Rennick have served on volunteer boards and have experience making the kinds of choices elected officials make. All four men are firmly committed to the future growth and prosperity of Ruidoso.

For the two-year term we're supporting Robert Donaldson. The most logical track leading to election to the council is through service on the Planning and Zoning, where Donaldson has served for seven years. On P&Z, Donaldson has shown that he can be fair and has the ability to communicate, negotiate and compromise, and he would be a terrific addition to the council.

For municipal judge, vote for Mike Line. He's even-handed, fair and compassionate in his business and legal dealings, and he will make a good judge. Line has the education, the experience and the sincerity to make the tough decisions that face judges every day. We agree with incumbent Judge Hawthorne that the municipal judge should be an attorney, and we believe Line is the best man for the job.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Tuesday, March 1, at the Ruidoso Convention and Civic Events Center. Today's the last day to cast an absentee ballot in the race.

Be sure and vote Tuesday to be sure you have your say in the future of Ruidoso.

A note to readers:

In today's mail, a letter arrived filled with the very kind of mudslinging we were so happy had been avoided thus far in this campaign. We opted to run the editorial, "Campaigns take the high road," anyway as a reminder of what could be and what nearly was.

Our choices for Capitan

Our choice for Capitan mayor is incumbent Frank Warth. A few of his rough edges could stand some smoothing. Residents attending Capitan village meetings have complained that he doesn't listen and sometimes moves ahead without waiting for input, but it's hard to argue with success. And Mayor Frank Warth certainly has been successful over the past four years bringing in state and federal dollars for major village projects.

He also has assumed a leadership role on other regional boards that impact his community, such as the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority.

His opponent, Norman Renfro, appears more people oriented and patient, and has put in his time doing public service. But sometimes, the person in charge has to take the hits and keep on going. Warth has proven that's something he can do.

Jack Johnson said it best. Three good people are running for the job of Capitan municipal judge and voters have to decide whose credentials fit the job best.

We believe Johnson is the best choice. He knows the community and its residents, and he also is familiar with court proceedings and the law. He already has offered two good suggestions for enhancing the system; conducting one night session a month to accommodate working people and using community service as a means of helping the village and deserving defendants.

Fresh perspectives, a willingness to listen and an awareness of the need for residents to work together for common goals are attributes that John Lunsford and Connie Hopper would bring to the Capitan Board of Trustees.

Although new to the community, Lunsford, as a construction business owner, has a stake in the future of the village. He already has pledged to donate his time toward the construction of a building for young people in the community. He says he stands ready to unite bickering factions.

Hopper has proven her public relations ability, heading the county's drug abuse awareness program. Unfettered by political alliances, but with a background in the tough field of law enforcement, she would represent a segment of the community now without a direct voice on the board.

Campaigns take the high road

Congratulations to the candidates in the Ruidoso municipal election for running a campaign that has been clean, fair and aboveboard. It's been refreshing to see that candidates have sold themselves on their qualifications, experiences and hopes for the future rather than dragging their opponents through the mud.

In the past, especially four years ago, fringe groups jumped into campaigns, sending out radical mailings with incorrect information and vague accusations. But, this time none of the candidates or their supporters have fallen to that low level.

This higher level of campaigning is good for the candidates, for the voters and for this village. As of this Wednesday, this election is headed into its last few days without any backstabbing or mudslinging — and no nasty, hate-filled letters.

The whole community can be proud of taking part in a democracy that runs on openness, honesty and integrity.

Hein, Cooper engagement announced

Robert J. and Patricia F. Hein of Alamogordo have announced the engagement of their daughter, Robyn Jenise Hein of Sedona, Arizona, to Kevin Rainer Cooper of Sedona.

Cooper is the son of Elke T. Cooper of Ruidoso Downs.

The bride-to-be is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mona Stone of Alamogordo, and the groom is the grandson of Jim Cooper Sr. of Grand Junction, Colorado, and Heinrich Schmidt of Frankfurt, Germany.

The couple plans to marry at 7 p.m. Saturday, March 19, at St. Jude Mission in Alamogordo. A reception is planned following the ceremony at the enlisted club at Holloman Air Force Base.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of New Mexico State University with a bachelor of science in hospitality and tourism services. She is a management associate at L'Auberge de Sedona Resort.

Cooper is a 1985 graduate of Ruidoso High School and attended New Mexico State University in

ROBYN JENISE HEIN AND KEVIN RAINER COOPER

Las Cruces before serving as an apprentice with master pastry chef Gunter Schillalies.

Cooper is now executive pastry chef at L'Auberge de Sedona Resort.

RLT schedules workday

Ruidoso Little Theatre has issued a call for volunteers to help get the new building in shape during a work day starting at 9 a.m. Saturday, February 26, at 2961 Sudderth.

The new bathrooms are almost completed, but there is lots of work yet to be done, according to a news release.

The main projects that need to be finished are a rear exit, sorting and storage of costumes and props, and setting up a makeup/green room. If all goes as planned RLT should be announcing a show for April-May.

Anyone who can lend a hand is urged to attend. Help in any capacity would be greatly appreciated.

For more information, call Steve Norbury at 258-3417.

Caution Around Power Lines Is A Safe Bet.

Avoiding contact with power lines is a safe bet for preventing accidents. Whether the contact is direct or indirect - through something you're holding - you could be seriously injured. Make sure that you stay clear of power lines when you're working outdoors with ladders, television antennas or anything that could touch the line. Also, remind your children to keep kites away from power lines and to stay out of trees that could come into contact with a line. For more information about electrical safety, call or visit your local TNP office and ask for your free brochure, "Straight Talk about Electrical Safety."

Mid-school musicians rate high

On Saturday, February 8, members of the Ruidoso Middle School Band attended the Solo and Ensemble Festival in Las Cruces and brought back a van load of honors.

Twenty-six soloists and eight ensembles received Division I ratings. Their instruments ran the gamut from flutes, clarinets, and saxophones to trumpets, trombones and percussion.

DeAnn Shade, who plays alto saxophone, was selected as Seventh Grade Honors Soloist, the highest honor a soloist can earn.

The festival is a district conference that invites music students from southwestern New Mexico to play and be judged. About 20 middle schools participated in the event. "They don't compete against other schools," said band director Rob Lovett. "They're rated on their performance."

Students received ratings from Division I to Division V, with Division I being the best.

Ruidoso sent 46 students, a number of parents, and two piano accompanists, Jamie Gieb and Michael Murphy, to Las Cruces.

"I really appreciate the students who went," said Lovett. "And our accompanists are invaluable."

The students performed remarkably well, and none of the musicians came home with less than a Division II rating, he said.

"It was one of those rare times when everybody did extremely well," said Lovett.

Participation in the festival was open to all sixth, seventh and eighth grade band students.

"I don't have to make them do it," said Lovett. "It's become a tradition to go, and they have a good time."

Lovett helped students select their music and arrange ensembles. He said for the most part the kids had to prepare for the festival on their own.

Lovett said the students' ratings were that much more impressive because many students in Las Cruces take private lessons. Ruidoso students have class time and then just themselves.

Seventh grade band students at the festival included (from left) DeAnn Shade, who earned a Division I rating in solo, trio and octet; Elizabeth Flores, I, solo, trio and octet; Felicia Frizzell, I, solo, trio and octet;

Amy Hemphill, I, flute solo, piccolo solo and trio; Brynn Lawing, I, solo and trio; Jayme Paxton, I, solo, trio and octet. Not shown: Chris Lopez, II, duet and octet; Kaye Christensen, I, solo and octet.

Seventh grade band students who traveled to Las Cruces to perform included (from left) Tomas Centeno, Division I rating for solo; Silvestre Vargas, I for duet, II for trio; Austin Koontz, I, solo, quintet and octet;

April Hoffer, I, solo; Nick Born, I, solo and quintet; and Garvin Grant, I in duet, II for trio. Not shown is seventh grade band member Chris Lopez, who earned a II rating for duet and solo).

Sixth grade band students bringing home honors from Las Cruces include (from left) Deena Evans with a Division I rating for solo; Tiffany Skinner, I for solo, II in trio; Autumn Gieb, I for solo, II in trio and duet;

Evan McClendon, I, solo and quintet; Ben Andrews, I, solo and quintet; Jenny Hart, I in solo, II for trio; Heather Nunley, I for solo, II for trio. Not shown: Stephanie Tyler, I, solo; Deena Dolan, II, solo, trio.

Eight grade band students include (top, far left) Isaac Pinson, II, solo; Elizabeth Comanche, II, duet; Miranda Torres, I, solo; and Katie Adams, I, solo. Not shown: Lanna Dolan, II, duet and trio; Carol Evans, I, solo. Seventh graders (far left, bottom) include Roslyn Enjady, II, solo; Jorge Reyes, I for octet and II in duet and solo; Richard Gray, II, solo; Adam Sanchez, II, trio and solo. Mid-school musicians include (at left) Brienne Dolan, I, duet; Cori Adams, I in duet and II in trio; Pam Shows, II, trio; Frizzell Frizzell, I in quintet, II for solo; Deana Rae Evans, I in solo, II for duet; Cody Sanchez, I for solo and quintet; Elizabeth Silva, II, trio; Jeremy Phillips, II, solo. Not shown: Christina Knight, I in solo, II for trio; Laura Mitchell, I, solo and duet; Ebony Cummings, II.

Ruidoso Mayoral Candidates

Frank T. Cummins

Frank Cummins, a retired educator from Arizona, said he is running to offer a choice and his issues are water and the wastewater treatment plant.

He currently is employed at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track, but will be retiring from that position.

Cummins came to Lincoln County from Scottsdale, Arizona, but visited Ruidoso for the first time in 1955.

In Scottsdale, Cummins worked as an elementary school principal in Phoenix, where he also participated on a number of boards and in civic service positions.

Cummins said being principal taught him teamwork.

"This is what I think is needed to make Ruidoso go forward. We've had many controversies. It seems everyone seems to get personal agendas to the front. What we need to do is pull together as a town. Once elected as council, the whole village should support them.

Cummins said it isn't necessary to agree with all ideas, and notes that the village has a forum that people can voice their opinions.

"If you do have a difference of opinion, at least speak your piece, because the council needs to know.

"In my past experience, issues are not decided over a cup of coffee, but after careful thought," Cummins said. "You can't just keep going back and saying, if we would have done this or if we would have done that. I'm encouraging you to pull together.

"No matter how this election goes, I will support the city council, whoever is elected and the mayor as well. Although he admits acceptance of the mayor would be easier if he was the mayor.

"The issue is water and we really need to do something about that.

We have $11-million invested. It's like buying a house and then not being able to open the doors to use it.

"Grindstone was supposed to be the answer for a lifetime. We can't continually go back to the legislature and ask for more support dollars. We didn't get everything we were supposed to this year."

He said after the top priorities of water and wastewater, all other projects are equal in importance.

Cummins said he feels that he is the best qualified candidate to help build the cohesiveness that is necessary for the continuing progress of this village.

Jerry Shaw

Mayor Jerry Shaw is a retired businesswoman running in the March 1 municipal election to continue the change in direction and growth that Ruidoso has experienced since her appointment as mayor six months ago.

Her main issues, she said, are "water, water, water," the compliance of municipal buildings with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), senior citizen services, the wastewater treatment plant and parks and recreation.

"I was appointed mayor last July and when I took that appointment, I gave up the two more years I would have had on the council in my term," Shaw said. "My opponent, Councilor (Frank) Cummins, has another option. He's running for mayor, but if he loses, he will still serve on the council.

"I chose to take that chance, because I felt it was important to have someone take the appointment who knew what our issues were and the ongoing things that were happening; and because I believed I could make a difference.

"Some people didn't think so, simply because I am a woman. I don't know why more women don't run, but I can assure you that gender has nothing to do with being a mayor," Shaw said.

"Being a mayor has to do with leadership, being able to unify a council, public relations, and I don't think gender has anything to do with it. I hope you will remember that.

"I was a councilor from 1984 to 1988. I served with two different mayors at that time. In 1992, I came back as a councilor, under another mayor, so I have served with three mayors, about 20 different councilors and four different city managers.

"I felt I had the knowledge and the background from those experiences to do the job.

"Whether I was serving as a councilor or on the airport planning board or many other boards and commissions that I sat on, I have always let it be known where I stand on issues.

Shaw said issues she spoke out on included objecting to councilors reaching informal consensus before regular meetings, mixing private and public funds, the auction practice of buying unneeded items without inventory and many others.

"In July when I took over as mayor, I said the two main ingredients I would strive for were communication and open government. I think we have managed to get both of those."

Candidates for Ruidoso Village Council

Four-year term (three seats open)

Joe Gomez

Joe R. Gomez
Candidate: Four-year term for Ruidoso Village Council
Occupation: Sales Manager of Sierra Blanca Motor Company
Mailing Address: PO 4172; Ruidoso NM 88345
Home phone 258-5669
Work phone 257-4081

As a recently-appointed incumbent councilor, Joe Gomez said he wants election to a four-year term to complete the ongoing village projects with which he's been involved, and to continue with the direction of the village's growth.

His three top priority issues are water distribution/the Grindstone Dam project, the police department and compliance in municipal buildings with the American Disabilities Act (ADA).

A resident of Ruidoso for more than 17 years, sales manager for Sierra Blanca Motors and a member of the chamber board of directors, Gomez said he's seen the village in its up and down years.

"I feel we have a direction going presently that is only positive," Gomez said. "I'd like to see that carried through, looking forward to Ruidoso's future."

"When I was asked to accept the appointment of village councilor, I did it with open arms and I'm doing it with an open heart."

Gomez, on the board of directors for the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and president elect for 1994-1995, said "we have lots of good things that we are counting on doing at the chamber, because Ruidoso is in a growth mode and I'd like to see it continue."

Gomez said he wouldn't make any false promises.

"We're going to have hard times. Money is our greatest problem. It always has been our greatest problem. We will continue to try to work with Santa Fe and all the federal agencies that will help us," he said.

"Some of the things accomplished during the small time I've been on the council, not by myself, but working with other councilors, is the good news that we are going to get money ($570,000), for the water treatment plant at Grindstone.

Gomez said money should be spent wisely with input from knowledgeable people.

"We've got to have joint cooperation, and not just with those that we like, but all of those around us," he said.

On the subject of youth, Gomez said by providing recreational activities and facilities to the community, young adults will occupy their time in a more constructive manner. He said information from other communities on how they handle their delinquency problems should be beneficial.

As an appointed councilor, Gomez said, "I like what I'm doing, and I hope all of you will see that and be willing to help me continue as a councilor."

Bob Sterchi

Robert P. "Bob" Sterchi
Candidate: Four-year term for Ruidoso Village Council
Occupation: Actuary, Employee Benefit Consultant, Sterchi and Associates
Mailing Address: PO 4305; Ruidoso NM 88345
Home phone: 258-4418

Declaring his freedom from any prior commitments to any individual, entity or groups, Robert Sterchi said as a councilor, he would continue the recent direction the village has taken.

His three priority issues are water distribution/the Grindstone Canyon project, the MainStreet project and the convention center, working actively to attract a hotel.

Sterchi said he's visited Ruidoso for 40 years, has owned a local business since 1989 and became a permanent resident in 1992.

"My background is that of a businessman, primarily a banker," he said.

"For 21 years, I was associated with Sun West Bank, the largest financial institution in the state of New Mexico. I retired as a senior vice president of Sun West in 1992, and then moved to Ruidoso."

Since that time, he has been acting as an employee benefit consultant both for a national firm and for himself and has worked the last year and a half for the state of New Mexico, New Mexico Retiree Healthcare Authority and New Mexico Public Schools Insurance Authority. He was appointed by Governor Bruce King New Mexico Health Policy Commission.

Sterchi has a B.S. in Math and a B.B.A. in Insurance both from Southern Methodist University.

He is a member of the Western Pension Conference

"Where I see Ruidoso headed, our most critical problem is water. We have to solve the water problems of this community," Sterchi said. "I think Mayor Shaw, State Representative (H. John) Underwood and the current members of the council should be commended for the work they've done these past few months and certainly the past few weeks in Santa Fe.

BOB STERCHI

"Assuming that we have the water problem under way, I think it is imperative for this council to find someone, somebody or some company to build and manage a hotel in connection with and adjacent to this convention center.

"Secondly, we need to follow up with MainStreet. MainStreet is a good idea, a good project.

"Finally, I would like to see the council develop a long term project to plan a managed, modified growth in development for the village that will take us into the next century."

"That planning should be ecologically sound and should include "total and complete opposition to any type of nuclear storage facility on Mescalero Indian Reservation," he said.

Frank Potter

Incumbent Frank Potter
Candidate: Four-year term for Ruidoso Village Council
Occupation: Development Director of the Museum of the Horse
Mailing Address: PO Box 31; Ruidoso NM 88345
Home phone: 378-4114
Work phone: 378-4142

Former Ruidoso village manager, Frank Potter, now serves as an appointed member of the village council and said he is seeking a four-year term on the board so he can continue to contribute to the community.

With 27 year's experience with the village as an employee and manager, Potter rates his priorities as water distribution/the Grindstone Canyon project, the MainStreet program and Parks and Recreation, including expansion of the jogging and walking trails.

He said he started with the village in 1964 in utilities, but there was a crossover policy then, allowing employees to work in different departments. He worked 10 years at the airport and became assistant village manager in 1974. In 1986, he became village manager until 1990.

"I'm a fourth generation New Mexican and a fourth generation Lincoln County resident," Potter said. "I love Ruidoso, but at this point, I want to run because I am not satisfied with the level of service Ruidoso offers. I never have been. You always strive in city government to deliver service of the product, that being water, sewer, streets, airport, parks and recreation.

"The needs of Ruidoso have always dictated the policies that we had to follow. Ruidoso was incorporated in 1946. It didn't have a water system until 1962. It didn't have a sewer system until 1964. Those will have to be improved.

"Tourism is one of those things we have always depended on. We've always hustled and worked hard together and it's great to be a part of that."

In answer to a prepared question, Potter agreed that the village should evaluate all its contracts for services, including plumbing, electrical, engineering and auditing. He also agreed that contractual services should be rotated with a limit to the number of years one person can fulfill one job.

He is married to Donna and has a son, Chad, in Mesa, Arizona.

Leon Eggleston

E. Leon Eggleston
Candidate: Four-year term for Ruidoso Village Council
Occupation: Office manager, Lincoln Cablevision
Mailing Address: Not Available
Work phone 257-5121
Home phone 257-9450

Leon Eggleston served in local government more than 15 years, first as village clerk/treasurer in Capitan, then with Ruidoso and most recently, as finance officer with Lincoln County.

"I do have a good experience in government and especially in the needs of Ruidoso, working for them as long as I have," Eggleston said.

He plans to use that experience to help the village, he said.

He rates water distribution/the Grindstone Canyon project as the number one priority, along with the regional wastewater treatment plant.

"These projects take money and our number one priority is water, because without available water, we can't develop our tourism program," Eggleston said. "We also know we are out of compliance on our wastewater treatment plant. That's an issue this council needs to address very heartily."

Eggleston spoke about other issues needing council attention.

"The MainStreet project, we're hearing a lot of outcry on the project that has been started," he said. "Whoever is elected to the council will have to complete the project to please as many people as they can."

Eggleston stressed the need for heavy support in the police department.

"I feel like the village should support our fire department and our police department to the fullest."

"We also have to address the youth of Ruidoso. I don't have a lot of ideas of what we can do about that right now, but ... the council should definitely look at (the youth problem). But water is the first priority. We've got to get Grindstone on line. We've got a well field that needs to be brought on line.

"We also have to be fiscally responsible and I do have a background in the financial theories of Ruidoso and understand the financing and budgeting. With a good council, we can spend our money wisely.

"That's why I'm running for council for Ruidoso. I have earned my living in Ruidoso for many, many years. I feel like I can give something back to the village."

Bill Karn is a former Lincoln County commissioner who wants another term on the village council.

He says he wants to continue to fight the MRS (Monitored Retrievable Storage of nuclear waste on Mescalero land) and to continue the capital improvement projects that have been a part of his time on the council.

His issues are water distribution/the Grindstone Canyon project, the regional wastewater treatment plant and the MainStreet project.

Karn said as a child he grew up along the Ruidoso River. He graduated from the New Mexico Military Institute and UTEP.

A full-time resident who spent two years on the county commission and six years on the village council, Karn said his public service includes being chairman of the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission, chairman of the Grindstone Dam

For Ruidoso Village Council • 4 Year Term
 March 1, 1994
 27 years dedicated experience

Paid for by candidate

To The Citizens Of Ruidoso,

I have lived, worked, and owned a business in Ruidoso for the last 15 years. I've been married to my wife Darcy for 19 years. I have a daughter, Kristy in Ruidoso High School and a son, Sean in Ruidoso Middle School.

My family, my business, and my life are invested in Ruidoso. When Ruidoso is successful, my family and I benefit in that success. When Ruidoso falters, we share the tough times with everyone else. I seek this office to help Ruidoso be successful.

People look to government to solve problems. Sometimes it can, sometimes it can't, but if government cannot be part of the solution, then we must make sure government is not part of the problem.

ROBERT DONALDSON HAS SHOWN EFFECTIVE LEADERSHIP AND THE ABILITY TO MAKE DECISIONS THAT WILL BENEFIT THE PEOPLE OF RUIDOSO.

QUALIFICATIONS

- 15 year resident and business owner in Ruidoso.
- Graduate of UTEP with BBA in Finance and MBA with minor in Economics.
- Appointed to Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission in 1987. Reappointed 1988, 1990, 1992.
- Elected Chairman of Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission in 1989. Relected every year since.
- Appointed for 2 year term to Ruidoso-Lincoln County Extrajurisdictional Planning and Zoning Board.
- Served on numerous advisory committees for Ruidoso Village Council.

- Currently Vice President and long term member of Ruidoso Rotary Club.

PLATFORM

- EMPHASIS ON LONGTERM CAPITAL BUDGETING
- DEVELOPMENT OF GRINDSTONE FOR WATER AND RECREATION
- POSITION RUIDOSO TO COMPETE IN THE TOURIST INDUSTRY.
- MORE EMPHASIS ON RECREATIONAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT.
- IMPROVE COMMUNICATIONS BETWEEN THE VARIOUS SEGMENTS THAT AFFECT OUR ECONOMY (County Commission, Mescalero Apaches, Ski Apache, Ruidoso Downs Racetrack, the Ruidoso Business Community and Residents of Ruidoso and surrounding communities.)

the U.S. Forest Service, the Village of Capitan, and the Village of Lincoln.

All provide activities or attractions that bring people to Ruidoso. We must begin a new era of respect and dignity with this communication. While we argue back and forth on one issue, we can work hand in hand on another. We must seek common ground and move forward for the benefit of all citizens. For these reasons and more, I seek the office of councilman for the Village of Ruidoso and I ask for your vote on March 1st.

chairman of the MRS Committee. As village councilor, he was appointed by the New Mexico Municipal League board to serve on its taxation and revenue committee and resolution committee. Karn listed other council accomplishments while he served as construction of Grindstone Dam, the civic events/convention center, Sierra Blanca Airport and the Eagle Creek wellfield, which created 4,000 extra acre feet of water rights. He's on the committee to build the Ruidoso Riverwalk. "I just want to continue some of these projects to their fruition," Karn said.

Norman Smith

Norman R. Smith
Candidate: Four-year term for Ruidoso Village Council
Occupation: Retired
Mailing Address: PO 2544; Ruidoso NM 88345
Home phone: 257-3098

NORMAN SMITH

Self-employed for 30 years, Norman Smith has been a farmer, rancher and retailer. For 10 years he was a production manager and fleet manager, and has been active as a scout leader, with 4-H projects, a bank director and a past president of the Chaves County Farm Bureau.

Smith said that a lifetime of business experience should help with policy making for village business.

His priorities are water distribution/the Grindstone Canyon project, the MainStreet project, and municipal building compliance with the American Disability Act.

Smith said other candidates for the position had produced worthwhile ideas, but that, realistically, all couldn't be performed immediately.

"It's a matter of how much money is in the budget and what are the priorities," Smith said. "That's one of the things I could offer you. I was in business most of 40 years for myself. I spent most of the time as a consultant for a very large corporation, directing over 200 people.

"I think we have an excellent staff and we should let that staff direct the employees. But I do believe we should have someone that is very interested and cares for the community.

"Due to my retirement, I do have the time and I really care about Ruidoso. Ruidoso has been very kind to me. I've been 16 years in Ruidoso as a permanent resident.

"I first started coming to Ruidoso when at quarter to nine they blinked the lights, and at nine o'clock, the lights went out. And so we have come a long way. We have a beautiful, beautiful community. I am really impressed with the staff. The people who are running for this office, I think we are going to have a good council.

Smith said the most pressing issue he expected to face as a councilor was balancing needs with available money.

"The needs of the village far exceed the funds available. Priorities must be set, and we must strive for more efficiency and better communication," he said.

"I'd like to offer you my services and I would appreciate your vote."

Charles "Chay" Rennick

Charles Rennick

Occupation: Lawyer, self employed

CHARLES RENNICK

Looking to the future, not the past, attorney Charles "Chay" Rennick said Ruidoso is experiencing a period of change.

"I would like to participate in planning for the future," said Rennick. "I have been involved in recreational and tourist activities, and would like to enhance those activities to create better opportunities for Ruidoso, its economy and its quality of life."

Rennick visited Ruidoso for many years and recently moved here.

He lists his issues as water distribution/the Grindstone Canyon project, the regional wastewater treatment plant and planning and zoning for the village.

He said although some items such as ADA are mandatory, the five-year state capital improvement plan is an excellent process in carrying out the planning of other priorities.

Originally from El Paso, Rennick graduated from the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque and law school at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, Texas.

He has 16 years legal experience, Licensed in New Mexico and Texas, he worked for the attorney general's criminal division in Santa Fe and as law clerk for the United States Court of appeals before relocating to Ruidoso.

Rennick said he has lived in Ruidoso, either part-time or full-time, for 20 years. In addition to practicing law, Rennick has worked on the ski patrol at Ski Apache continuously since 1967, conducted legal seminars, emergency medical care seminars, and bar committee work.

"This is a resort town, built on tourism and continues to thrive on tourism," Rennick said. "When we're having a season like we're having now, when the weather is uncooperative, we see the need for increased and diversified recreational opportunities. To do that we must communicate with and cooperate with the various agencies outside of this jurisdiction — federal, state, county and tribal.

"These activities cannot prosper without Ruidoso and we cannot prosper without them. As we continue to grow and increase these activities, we must be aware of our natural resources, principally, water."

With the addition of Grindstone to the village's water distribution system, and with the expansion of the regional wastewater treatment plant, the village should be adequately covered.

"It is equally important to preserve the beautiful environment that most of us came here for in the first place," Rennick said.

"Finally, in terms of government, I'd like to see a little bit better communication in the government. We have a good village staff that handles its job well. We need to continue to support them. The village council must function openly, and it must remain responsive and responsible to the citizens of the community.

"I would like to work toward those goals with your support."

Candidates for Ruidoso Village Council

Two-year term (one-seat open)

Richard Merle Mound

Two-year candidate, Richard Mound, announced that he wanted to withdraw from the race, but was too late to get his name removed from the ballot.

Allen Full

Allen J. Full
Candidate: Two-year term for Ruidoso Village Council
Occupation: Independent agent in marketing and management, Corporation of America
Mailing Address: PO 2733; Ruidoso NM 88345
Home phone: 257-5495

ALLEN FULL

Allen Full said he is running for office because, "I firmly believe a person should not complain about conditions if he is not willing to get involved with the idea of changing and bettering the conditions."

He said it was with a sense of pride that he served 25 years with the Boy Scouts of America.

Full said one of the most important services he has performed was heading three Wolf Badge courses, national training courses for adults, for the scouts.

Full, whose interest was civil engineering in college, said he worked eight years for the state of California on a franchise tax board as senior tax representative in compliance.

Full listed his past elected offices as Exalted Ruler of the Elk's Club, Ranger, Texas; President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Ranger; and President of the Cree Meadows Country Club Men's Golf Association.

He is organizational affiliations include the Knights of Columbus-St. Eleanor Catholic Church; secretary and treasurer of the East New Mexico Senior Golf Association; and the AARP.

"We've been in Ruidoso for 10 years," he said. "I'm not a politician, but a concerned citizen. I have ideas, that if elected, I may be in the minority, but I would like an input with the rest of these councilors on what I would like to see happen to this town."

He said his family in California does not know too much about Ruidoso and he would like to see more advertising directed toward the west.

He said the most pressing issues he expects to face as councilor are the parking problem on Sudderth, the Regional Wastewater Treatment Plants and the village streets.

"I'm not a 'yes' man. I don't owe anybody in this town anything. I'm not obligated to anyone. I do know there are things to be done here. We all love Ruidoso, but we can make it much better."

Work phone: 257-5096

Robert Donaldson, a local ski shop operator and Ruidoso Realtor, chairs the planning and zoning commission and has been a member for seven years. He also has volunteered with the ski patrol at Ski Apache for 15 years.

Donaldson said one of his special areas of interests, if elected, will continue to be planning and zoning. He wants to work on the various issues such as wastewater treatment, but wants input from the public on what they think is a priority of the community.

"I have lived, worked and run a business in Ruidoso for the last 15 years," Donaldson said. "My family, my business and my life are invested in Ruidoso. If Ruidoso is successful, my family and I benefit in that success. If Ruidoso falters, we share the tough times with everyone else."

"I seek this office to help Ruidoso be successful."

Donaldson graduated from the University of Texas-El Paso (UTEP) with a BBA degree in finance and with a master's in business administration in 1978.

He served a two-year term on

the Lincoln County Extraterritorial Zoning Board and sat on numerous advisory committees. He is currently vice president of the Rotary Club, a member of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Realtors.

"We must continue positioning Ruidoso to compete in an increasingly competitive tourism industry. We must advertise ourselves with ever more success and aggressiveness. We must attract private enterprises that enhance the opportunity of activities that are available for tourists and citizens alike.

"I see a need to put greater emphasis on long term capital budgeting for roads, water, sewer, parks and recreation.

"I see a need to move forward with the development of the water treatment plant for Grindstone so as to increase our sources of water, but also to offer an alternative to the main treatment plant. If it ever had a failure for one reason or another, we would be without a source of clean water.

"I see a need to put more emphasis on recreation and tourism by economic development. While we all would like to see some diversification of our economy over all, we cannot ignore the diversification within our tourism industry. Provide more and better things to do and see, and more people will come.

"I see a need to rebuild our spirit as a community. Ruidoso does not and cannot stand alone. We must cooperate and communicate with our neighbors and economic partners, for if we don't, we'll never achieve what we can together."

"We must begin a new era of respect with dignity with this communication. While we argue back and forth on one issue, we can work hand in hand on another. We must seek common ground and work toward the benefit of all."

Strand M. "Mac" McDougal has been a resident of Ruidoso for 32 years, and sees the top priority for the community as MainStreet and has served as a director on that group's board.

He also sees priorities as the wastewater treatment plant and water distribution/the Grindstone Dam project.

McDougal is a graduate of Pecos High School in Pecos, Texas, and the University of Texas in Austin with a BA degree, as well as post-graduate work at Sul Ross, UTEP and New Mexico State University (NMSU).

He formerly taught school in Pecos and Yaleta, Texas; and in New Mexico at Alamogordo, Mesquero and the sixth grade at Ruidoso.

A former secretary and treasurer of the Ruidoso Evening Lions Club and vice president of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, McDougal also has served as a director on the MainStreet Board and is presently a member of the New Mexico State Highway 48 Citizens Advisory Committee.

STRAND M. MCDUGAL

He is a member of the First Christian Church, Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and the Roswell Runners Club.

"The reputation I have established as a businessman is one of honest and work," he said. "My family works and what I have to share with you is a program of work."

"I will work to establish better communication between local government and the news media and to encourage responsible reporting by all parties concerned.

"I will work to create a better business environment. We must take steps to make it easier for small businesses to operate. Ruidoso must encourage the business person and encourage future growth and development. This needs to be responsible growth, without the burden of additional taxes.

"I will work to protect the individual rights of village residents. Freedom to live and enjoy without fear of violence. I will support adequate police and fire protection in our community. I am especially concerned about the young and the very old.

"I will act on behalf of individuals and small businesses, as state and federal projects continue to affect our community. Business interruptions should be held to a minimum as MainStreet and Highway 48 projects continue to enhance our village.

"I will work for cooperation between all city, county, state and school personnel. I would like to challenge all of us to go to work to improve ourselves, our homes and families, our schools and churches, and in so doing, our village, because that's what our village is. Let's be the best that we can be."

Mailing Address: PO Box 519; Ruidoso NM 88345
Home phone: 258-4317
Work phone: 258-9090

Mike Line has lived in Ruidoso six years and operates a private law practice in the Stroud building.

Line said the first requirement for any judge is to be honest, to apply the law and to act independently.

"In applying the law, a judge must be able to make unpopular decisions in which justice is done," he said.

Line attended the University of Texas in Austin and Texas Tech University Law School. He served four and half years as a state prosecutor in Texas, served as a municipal judge in Snyder, Texas, served as municipal attorney in Snyder and, along with associate John Underwood, served as municipal attorney in Ruidoso.

Line, who worked in a bank when he first moved to Ruidoso, said dedication also is a qualification and that shows up in service. He has served on various public entities in Ruidoso, including being a member of the blue ribbon committee for the school district.

In answer to questions regarding drugs and gang problems in the village, Line suggested a new regional facility.

"First of all, jurisdiction is with the district court," Line said of criminal juvenile delinquency. "But what would I do, personally? I'm regularly in the juvenile courts in Carrizozo, and there is simply no alternative out there, but to send a kid to Springer.

"We have no intervention process to get a young boy or young girl out of a situation where maybe a cousin or relative is the only one supervising them. They basically run wild.

"I think it will take a community effort, in addition to an effort of the judiciary, to attempt to get a regional facility, a halfway house, to his part of New Mexico."

He said he would pursue avenues, with the assistance of the district court and local officials, to promote a regional facility where intervention can take a child out of the situation where the main people governing their lives are the gangs and others that are the source of the problem.

"I am willing to spend the time to make a good judge for the court," Line said. "I want to make a contribution. I was asked what could I give that other candidates couldn't, and after thinking honestly about that, all I could give you is myself. I would appreciate your support."

Jerry R. Propsner

Jerry R. Propsner

Occupation: Amusement park equipment broker
Mailing Address: PO Box 4212; Ruidoso NM 88345
Home phone: 257-8600

Jerry Propsner said he is running for the office of judge because he wants to put an emphasis on victim rights in our courts.

"A victim should not be twice a victim, once in the community and again in the courts."

A long-time Ruidoso resident, Propsner is a lifetime member of the National Rifle Association (NRA).

If elected as judge, Propsner said, "I am a life member of the NRA, so that kind of gives you my viewpoint if you come before the court ... in the court, you come in before me and you defended yourself with a pistol, because I am a life member of the NRA, you already know my feelings on it."

Propsner said he was trained in work at a hospital as a suicide prevention and crisis counselor (500 hours).

"There are four candidates running against me. I think you should ask yourself why this incumbent has four people running against him," Propsner said.

"I also come from a lot of work and my volunteer service to the community and to us voters, and to us candidates as a member and a working committee person in the state organization of United We Stand America (Ross Perot's group).

JERRY R. PROPSNER

"A lot of people have their opinions, but let me clarify right now that United We Stand America is dedicated to education and voter turnout. A typical member is someone who hasn't voted in a long time, who has been disgruntled over the current crop of candidates or the current crop of people that are actually serving in office.

"As stated here earlier, it is important that we have ethics in court. The state has mandated that we pay special attention to victims, not only in our local jurisdiction, but also in Carrizozo. I understand there is negligence on the part of the courts in that (victim rights). So I will be very careful victims are taken care of."

Jerry Wright said he is seeking to serve, not looking for a job as municipal judge.

A graduate of West Texas State University, he has attended the Harvard Graduate School of Business. Wright has been a resident of Ruidoso for 16 years.

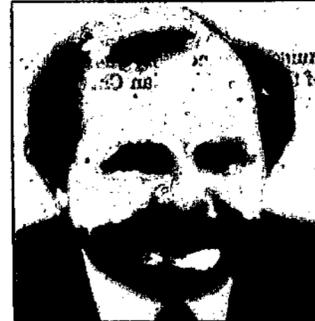

Wright said he intends to use a portion of his salary to help the young adults of Ruidoso.

"I understand the problems that kids have growing up in this town. I understand the problems they will have coming before this court.

"This job pays $18,000 a year. I think it is ridiculous that we're paying $18,000 per year for a municipal judge, especially if we are looking at five or six hours a week and that's what I understand we're looking at for both sessions."

"I understand, once elected, you can't reduce a salary. I would like to use part of that money to help institute youth programs in this community, either with activities or a speaker coming in to motivate young adults. I think we have good youth in this town. Sometimes, I think we overwork them and expect too much.

"We expect them to park our cars, bus our tables in the summer time, and we probably give less back to them then any other demographic group in the community.

"If you look at what the radio station has done in the past six years, I've tried to keep the radio station neutral to the issues of this community, and this is the way I think a court should be. It should have a good neutral judge that goes in there and doesn't express a lot of opinions that have personal vendettas."

Wright said he has been involved in several community and civic activities in town. He is cur-

Work phone: 257-9630

A candidate with heavy volunteer credentials, Danny Garcia served on the village personnel board, was a volunteer firefighter, organized the group now called SantaCops and coached a Little League football team for 14 years.

Garcia said he was born and raised in Ruidoso, and plans to live here the rest of his life.

A U.S. Navy veteran and a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7072, Garcia said his interests are to make sure that Ruidoso remains the best place in the world to live and raise a family.

His professions in Ruidoso have included being a firefighter since 1968, a plasterer, a stone mason, cutting meat, owning an auto repair business and being chief of security at the Inn of the Mountain Gods.

"All of these diverse jobs have one thing in common, knowledge of people, human behavior and local attitudes," Garcia said. "It also gave me an invaluable experience of how people react under duress at times of crises."

"I'm personally building on that experience by working toward a degree in criminal justice here at Eastern New Mexico. I carry a 3.8 grade point average, unlike my high school endeavors, I believe my GPA (grade point average) was 1.6. That will tell you something. I don't have a law degree at this time. That's an asset, not a detriment, especially in being a municipal judge."

"What we have here in Ruidoso, like the rest of the United States, is ignorance. We've all been taught about our rights, but we never hear about our personal responsibilities.

"All elected officials, especially judges, have an obligation to constantly emphasize the responsibility side of our democratic freedoms. This is especially important with young people. For that reason, I would like to set up office hours, with the schools, so we can talk one-on-one with our youth before they get in trouble."

"It's almost a criminal act itself that people get to know law enforcement and judges only after they become offenders. Any time spent in prevention, will be saved many times over."

"Almost anyone can read state statutes and village ordinances and sentence offenders. But a judge should apply the intent of the law based on the circumstances and what is best for the offender, the victim and society."

Municipal Judge Charles "Chuck" Hawthorne is a practicing Ruidoso attorney with his brother Richard Hawthorne, and has been in the area for 16 years.

Hawthorne attended Texas Tech University, taught school for several years, joined the Army in 1966, and served three years as an infantry lieutenant, before re-entering Texas Tech law school.

He practiced law in San Angelo, Texas, for six years. His fondness for Ruidoso brought him to the village in 1978.

"I've been here ever since, and they're going to plant me across the street. I plan to be here forever," Hawthorne said.

"As a judge, you need to be honest, you need to be fair, you need to be qualified. And I am qualified," he said.

"I don't think that there is anyone in this room that believes that a lawyer can't be a better judge than someone who is not a lawyer. Most of the little trials that I have in my court right now deal with just a complainant and a defendant, no lawyers are involved. If it were not for my legal education and experience of 21 years of being a trial lawyer, we would have some real fights and some injustice going on in that courtroom."

"I know what is hearsay evidence, and I'm not going to allow it. If you have two lawyers, one side is going to object and you're not going to get that kind of evidence in. But when you don't have lawyers, you need a lawyer on that bench to make sure the trial is conducted properly. I can do it. I've done it for 21 years, the last four years as municipal judge.

Hawthorne said he is aware of juvenile problems.

"I do everything that I can for juveniles when they come in to see me," he said. "If they come in on a traffic ticket for speeding, I always give them the option of doing community service, rather than a fine."

"The reason ... if they get a fine, that goes on their record and if it goes on their record, their insurance rates go up. So they and their families have to pay twice and I don't think that is right," he said.

With 20 hours of community service within 60 days, Hawthorne said he will dismiss the ticket.

Hawthorne said he lectures teenagers not to come back to his court again, promising they would not like the results. He said very few have returned.

Paid for by Chuck Hawthorne to Re-Elect Chuck Hawthorne

MY FELLOW CITIZENS OF RUIDOSO

"My name is Danny Garcia and I want to be your next Municipal Judge.

I am one of the few true locals from around here. I was born and raised here around 41 years of age, went to school here and married a Hondo Valley girl who was also my High school sweetheart; bought a little property here and made up my mind long ago, that I would live here for the rest of my life. I have one daughter who graduated from Ruidoso High in '62 and one son who is presently a sophomore at RHHS.

I was the original founder of the HAPPY HOLIDAYS FUND DRIVE, that has evolved into the current highly successful annual "SANTA COPS" program for needy families. We fed 20 families that first year - look at what that fine group of concerned individuals accomplish in Ruidoso a total of 14 years, a record equaled by none. I'm a U.S. Navy veteran and member of VFW post 7072. My family and I are not special people - just folks that have a vested interest in making sure Ruidoso remains the best place in the world, to live and raise a family.

Over the years I have had a number of different jobs, ranging from Firefighter for the Village of Ruidoso since 1968, to hauling rock and being a stonemason, to plastering and laying block, to cutting meat for R.A. and Bennett's Grocery, to owning my own auto repair business, to Chief of Security at the Inn of the Mountain Gods. All those diverse jobs had one thing in common however, they gave me a knowledge of people, human behavior and local attitudes. They also gave me an invaluable experience of how people react under duress and in times of crises. I am presently building upon that experience by working towards a degree in CRIMINAL JUSTICE at ENMU-Ruidoso. I have no law degree in my background but I believe that to be an asset instead of a detriment to being a local judge, especially the Municipal Judge!!

We have all been educated on our "RIGHTS" but we almost never hear about our "PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITIES" in the same paragraph. All elected officials, especially Judges, have an obligation to constantly emphasize the responsibility side of our Democratic Freedoms. This is especially important with young people. For that reason, I would like in conjunction with our School system, to establish some sort of "OFFICE HOURS" for the Judge in each of the schools to meet and talk one-on-one with our youth "BEFORE" they get into trouble with the law. "Folks, don't be misled by the current politically popular rhetoric that profess to developing programs with our schools and youth. If the intent was ever there why not 4 years ago??? Why now, just prior to elections???" It is almost a Criminal Act in itself that most people get to meet and know Law enforcement officers and Judges only after they become offenders. I strongly believe in reversing that!! Any time spent in prevention will be saved 10 times over.

Contrary to Judge Hawthorne's contention, you don't need to be an attorney to read State statutes or Village ordinances to sentence offenders. As a matter of fact, neither of the two current Magistrate Judges, both superior to the Municipal Judge, nor any of the announced candidates for the upcoming Magistrate election are attorneys. A wise Judge needs to be able to apply the INTENT of a law based on the circumstances and what is best for the offender, the victim and society. When one leaves the courtroom there should not be any feelings of winning or losing, rather an understanding of the cause, effect and necessity to correct the problem. I realize that is not always possible, but I pledge that it will always be my goal. None of this should be interpreted as being lenient or soft on those who break the law. Quite the contrary-it often takes time in jail or a hard to pay fine to impress some people, but the goal should be the same; if possible, any sentence should be instructive and constructive as well as punitive. An effective Judge needs to take the time to find the best resolution. Less than a full time effort demonstrates minimal commitment and certainly doesn't exhibit qualities of compassion and caring for our youth and citizens.

That brings me to my final point. The salary of the Municipal Judge is presently $1,500 per month; an amount in line with the wages of most skilled workers in this area of the country. Those who know me know that I have never accepted something for nothing, so if I am elected, I will devote at least 40 hours per week to the job - more if necessary - for the same salary. I will be a full time Judge like Sam Nurnally and John Cupp both were - Men that both I and the rest of the community loved and respected. Judges that were respected because their position demanded it but because they earned it.

I am not a sit-behind-the-desk sort of person. I believe in talking to people wherever they are and not in a courtroom. So, the 40 or more hours per week that I will put in will be spent, not simply sitting behind my desk in a courtroom but involved with offenders, victims and the citizens, as well as in the schools, to resolve or prevent problems before they get to court. Again folks, don't be misled into thinking a Municipal Judge cannot do much with juveniles and today's problems. He can if he has just half the motivation and spirit encased within a Scoutmaster of Educator and places his values on job satisfaction ahead of his pay rate. I believe the Judge himself should also be an advisor and counselor, especially for first-time offenders; and to be effective he should be able to counsel with experience from within, rather than from academic expertise. People see right through phonies, so if you're not sincere in wanting to help, every academic degree and title you might have is useless. "Please folks, I submit to you, I don't just want a job - I want to help people and serve my community!!"

Ruidoso needs a full time INVOLVED MUNICIPAL JUDGE!!! We are paying enough to have one - lets get what we pay for.

I ASK FOR YOUR SUPPORT AND VOTE BUT REGARDLESS OF YOUR CHOICE, THANK YOU FOR EXERCISING YOUR DEMOCRATIC RESPONSIBILITY."

Candidates for Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees

Ray Hayhurst

Incumbent Ray Hayhurst
Candidate: Four-year term as Village of Ruidoso Downs Trustee
Occupation: Marketing Admissions Director
Ruidoso Care Center
Mailing Address: PO Box 2029
Home phone 378-8130
Work phone 257-8071

RAY HAYHURST

Ray Hayhurst is running unopposed to keep his place on the Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees. He was appointed to the board in July 1992.

Hayhurst rated code enforcement in the Downs as his number one priority.

"We have a good code enforcement officer and he's doing a good job," said Hayhurst. "But there needs to be more follow through on citations and enforcements."

His second priority is the streets, and his third priority is the senior citizens center.

"I want to get our senior citizens operations going in full force," he said. He also wants to see the new municipal building completed.

When asked if the village has enough employees or needs fewer or more, Hayhurst said, "We're doing fine with what we've got."

In response to the issue of graffiti and juvenile crime, Hayhurst said he would support new ordinances that might be called for.

"It is the responsibility of the police department to control juvenile crime, and the board should back them up (by considering new legislation if necessary)."

Hayhurst said he is running for this office because he wants to maintain the board's good team atmosphere.

"After being appointed and getting into the workings of Ruidoso Downs, I just felt that it would be beneficial to the village to keep a consistent, harmonious board to follow through with everything we've got going right now," he said.

Hayhurst is married to Billy Ann Hayhurst. He is the father of five grown children: Kim, Kenny, Kevin, Sherry and Karen, who live in Arizona, Colorado and Texas. He is the stepfather of Kelly and Carl Neil, who live in Ruidoso Downs.

Margie Morales

Incumbent Margie Morales
Candidate: Four-year term as village of Ruidoso Downs Trustee
Occupation: Legal assistant at UnderLine Ltd.
Mailing Address: PO Box 1674
Home Phone 378-4069
Work Phone 258-8090

MARGIE MORALES

Margie Morales is running unopposed to keep her place on the Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees.

Morales has been appointed to the board twice, once in May 1990 and once in June 1992.

Morales is unmarried. She is a member of the Ruidoso School Blue Ribbon Committee, the Economic Development Corporation Board of Directors and the Ruidoso Downs Auxiliary.

Morales rated construction and furnishing of the municipal building as her number one priority for the immediate future. The Downs has just been granted an additional $200,000 to complete construction.

Her second priority is the Older Americans Center and services for senior citizens. She rated code enforcement and cleanliness in the Downs as her third priority.

In response to a survey question about the number of employees the village employs, Morales said, "We presently have enough employees due to the versatility and willingness of the employees to do what needs to be done."

Morales also said that trustees should take some responsibility for discouraging graffiti and juvenile crime.

"This is an issue both trustees and law enforcement officers need to work together on," she said. "Individuals defacing property need to know there is a punishment for the crime which will be strongly enforced."

Morales is running for office because she has found her experience as a trustee rewarding.

"I have enjoyed the time spent as a trustee making decisions and policies for the residents of Ruidoso Downs," she said. "I am looking forward to an exciting and eventful four-year term."

Capitan Mayoral Candidates

Frank Warth

Incumbent Frank Warth
Candidate: Four-year term as Capitan mayor
Occupation: retired
Mailing address: PO Box 369, Capitan, New Mexico 88316
Home phone: 354-2699
Work phone: 354-2247
(village hall)

FRANK WARTH

Sometimes he's gruff and he's been accused of being too quick to take charge, but as mayor of Capitan for the past four years, Frank Warth also has gained a reputation for solving village problems and using state or federal money to do it.

Warth said he's running for re-election to try again for a $1.2-million village road improvement project passed over last year for a Community Development Block Grant. He learned recently that the State Legislature, acting on a request presented by Warth and the trustees, kicked in about $110,000 to do another section of streets.

Warth's list of accomplished projects is impressive: a wetlands sewage treatment operation, 40 new fire hydrants installed, improvements in the Eagle Creek pipeline, street signs and numbers, and membership in a regional landfill.

Warth currently serves as the chairman of the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority, which is responsible for garbage collection and disposal in the county. He also is chairman of the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District. He previously served as chairman of the village's planning and zoning commission.

He credits his success in wringing dollars away from the state and federal government in part to his past business experience dealing with government agencies, lobbyists and elected officials.

Management is second nature to Warth, who earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1947, and a master's of business administration from the University of Texas in 1971.

He served for 20 years in a series of management positions with LTV Aerospace before retiring in 1987, and moving permanently to Capitan, where he and wife, Jo, have owned property since 1980.

His last post was a design-to-cost manager in the Army tactical missile system.

Warth said in his view the village has the correct number of employees. He is optimistic that repairs and improvements in the Eagle Creek water line, which should not cost the village a penny, will answer most of its water needs.

His volunteer work includes the chamber of commerce, Friends of Smokey, the Smokey Bear Lions and the American Legion.

Norman C. Renfro

Norman C. Renfro
Candidate: Four-year term as Capitan mayor
Occupation: Retired
Mailing address: PO Box 370, Capitan NM 88316
Home phone: 354-2683

NORMAN C. RENFRO

Norm Renfro is no newcomer to politics. He served on the Capitan village board of trustees for 11 years, stepping down in 1992 when he did not run for re-election. He also served eight years as mayor pro-tem and was instrumental in seeing a new water well completed in 1988-89.

But Renfro said he's ready to get back into the fray, because factions in the village need to be drawn together to obtain goals and the board needs to listen to its citizens. He wants a more open government and communication.

"I want the people to express their ideas and offer suggestions," Renfro said. "I believe the more input you have on issues, the better chance you have of getting the best job done."

"I think communication between the village and organizations and departments such as fire, fair board and sheriff's office is necessary to keep a good, sound working relashould support our local businesses as much as possible."

Renfro said his specific concerns are to see street improvements and the village water system updated.

In order of importance, he ranked municipal issues as water distribution, wastewater treatment, street improvements, police department and fire department. At the less important end of the spectrum, he put animal control, code enforcement/cleanliness, parks and recreation and planning and zoning.

"I believe one more employee is needed in the street department and possibly one in the water department," he said.

Renfro is a member of the chamber of commerce and served on the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department from 1971-74. He's spent 13 years on the Capitan-Carrizozo Natural Gas Association and currently serves as the president of the board of directors.

Renfro graduated in 1951 from the New Mexico Military Institute with a bachelor of arts degree.

He and his wife, Maria, have three grown children and previously owned the Smokey Bear Motel.

Byron L. Carpenter

Byron L. Carpenter
Candidate: Four-year term on the Capitan Board of Trustees
Occupation: owner of Carpenter Electric
Mailing address: PO Box 357, Capitan NM 88316
Home phone: 354-2448
Mobile phone: 430-9017

BYRON CARPENTER

With children in the local school system, Carpenter said he would like to see more activities and resources of the village dedicated to children.

To show his sincerity, during a recent candidates night, Carpenter offered to donate his own labor to install electricity if a building could be found for a teen center.

"Being in business and long time resident of Capitan, I want to become involved in the welfare and growth of the village," Carpenter said. "I also would like to see more involvement in village government by both the younger people and the senior citizens."

As far as hiring more employees, Carpenter said, "I think we have a good balance of employees. I do realize that at certain times every department needs additional help."

The most pressing issues he expects to face, if elected, are the need for an increased water supply, consistent police protection, waste water treatment, the fire department and street improvements.

In a 13-item run down of municipal issues, he ranked lowest in importance, parks and recreation, planning and zoning, municipal compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and E911 (because it is near completion).

However, during a speech at candidates night, he said that activities for the young in the community and zoning are areas of special interest to him.

Carpenter said he served three years on the Fort Stanton Volunteer Fire Department. He is divorced and has two sons.

Alfred LeRoy Montes

Incumbent Alfred LeRoy Montes
Candidate: Four-year term on Capitan Board of Trustees.
Occupation: employed by the Alto Lakes Water Corporation
Mailing address: Box 473, Capitan NM 88316
Home phone: 354-2516
Work phone: 354-4333

ALFRED LEROY MONTES

By now, just about everyone in Capitan should know Montes.

He previously was elected as magistrate and municipal judge. He was hired as chief of police for the village, served on the Eagle Creek Water Board and the Capitan-Carrizozo Natural Gas Board.

He originally was appointed to the board of trustees and then was elected to a two-year term.

Montes proudly points to his defense of Capitan residents against higher water rates and property taxes as one of his major accomplishments.

Many residents are retired state employees or are working with ford such increases, he said.

Montes, who has an associates degree in business, has been a strong backer of continued financial support for the fair association and for keeping the county fairground and annual fair in Capitan.

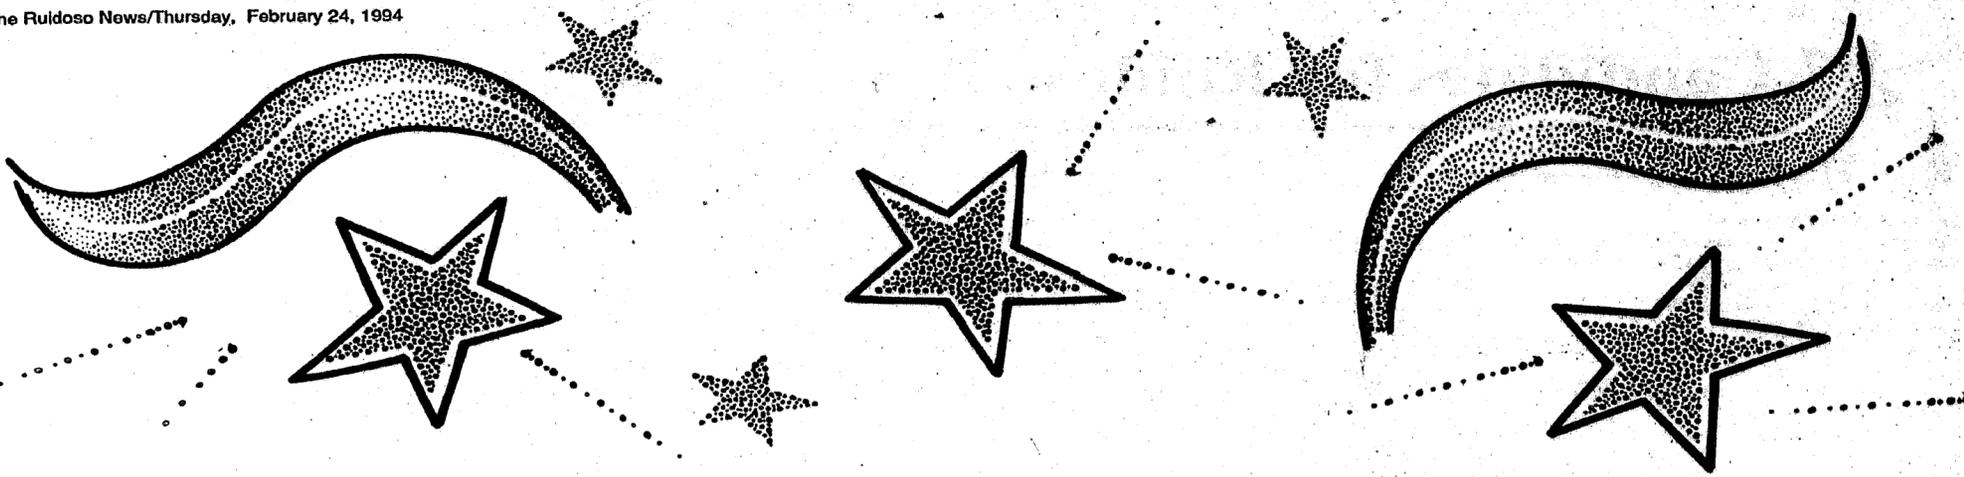

He considers himself a spokesman for the residents who otherwise may feel disfranchised from government.

The village should buy exclusively from businesses within its boundaries, if possible, Montes contends.

He would support zoning "as long as it's not way out of line." He said he is satisfied with the current operation of the police department.

Montes is married and has three children.

Vote March 1st

John Lunsford

John W. Lunsford
 Candidate: four-year term on the Capitan Board of Trustees
 Occupation: owner-Windwalker Construction and Mechanical
 Mailing address: PO Box 869, Capitan, NM 88316
 Home and work phone: 354-2724

Lunsford says his success in business for the past 13 years would benefit the village of Capitan, if he's elected.

"I have been self employed for 13 years, employing up to 30 people (in Carlsbad)," he said. "I have three years of college in business administration, a general contractor's license, a masters plumbing, heating and cooling license in both New Mexico and Texas, and environmental training from Georgia Tech of Atlanta, Georgia."

During a recent candidate's forum, Lunsford said he was disturbed by the divisiveness he saw among different factions in the village. Everyone should be pulling together to accomplish goals, he said, adding that he would listen to public input and encourage a group effort.

JOHN LUNSFORD

He noted street improvements at the top of issues he expects to face as a trustee, followed by solid waste disposal and expansion of city utilities. Out of a list of 13 items concerning the management of the village, he ranked as the lowest in importance animal control, parks and recreation and vehicle maintenance.

Lunsford listed his previous community involvement as serving as past vice president of the Carlsbad Softball Association and being named to America's Most Outstanding Young Men of America.

He operates Windwalker with his wife, Mary. The couple has four children. They moved to Capitan to get away from the Carlsbad heat and because the company was busy with work at The Inn of the Mountain Gods.

Connie Hopper

Connie Hopper
 Candidate: four-year term on the Capitan Board of Trustees Occupation: Lincoln County deputy sheriff, heading the drug abuse awareness program.
 Mailing address: PO Box 14; Nogal NM 88341
 Home phone: 354-4200
 Work phone: 354-2909

Connie Hopper said she decided to run for the board after sitting in on a few meetings of the trustees.

"Ever since I moved to Capitan, I had thought about it," she said. "I went to a meeting and saw how some of trustees were responding and thought I could do a better job."

Being active in the schools as director of the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program, she deals with the community's children and many of its parents.

"I feel I know their needs," she said. She, too, would like to see more opportunities and encouragement for parents to be involved in activities with their children.

CONNIE HOPPER

"I'm also interested in the way law enforcement works in Capitan, the fire services and the water situation," she said, adding that she favors hiring only certified police officers to increase the chances of them staying.

Also on her issues list is animal control, "which I think is an important issue that has been put on a back burner."

Hopper graduated in 1974 from the now-defunct Roswell police academy. She worked in the patrol division until she moved to Lincoln County 19 years ago, where she has worked for the Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs police departments, as well as the sheriff's office.

She also owned a security company. She has completed special training in child abuse cases, arson investigation and drug awareness.

Hopper said she bought property in Capitan last June. She's single and the mother of three grown daughters and has seven grandchildren.

Candidates for Capitan Municipal Judge

John Whitaker

John D. Whitaker
 Candidate: Four-year term as Capitan municipal judge Occupation: retired U.S. Air Force; employed by Brewer Oil at its Shell gas station and convenience store in Capitan.
 Mailing address: PO Box 337, Capitan, NM 88316
 Home phone: 354-3184
 Work phone: 354-2233

Whitaker thinks his years as a first sergeant in the U.S. Air Force prepared him to handle disputes and to hand down judgments.

Adding to his qualifications, for the past year, he has served as alternate judge when the elected judge was unavailable.

Whitaker said he is prepared to tackle the job full time for the next four years, if he's elected Capitan municipal judge.

He attended community college in the air force and retired after 26 years in the service. He is a member of the American Legion and participated in school projects and student organization activities.

Whitaker said he decided to run when the incumbent judge said he would not seek re-election.

In his last assignment as first sergeant for a detachment of 29 enlisted men and 11 officers, Whitaker said he had to deal with many community-related offenses.

"I believe as soon as I become totally familiar with the statutes, I could do you a pretty good job," he said.

Whitaker is married to the former Myrum Mayfield, who teaches social studies in the Capitan school system.

Their daughters, Melinda and Melanie, now attend Adams State College in Alameda, Colorado.

Jack Johnson

Jack E. Johnson
 Candidate: Four-year term for Capitan municipal judge Occupation: retired state police officer; employed as rural route mail carrier
 Mailing address: PO Box 626, Capitan NM 88316
 Home phone: 354-2464

Johnson said he accumulated his qualifications for municipal judge during his 26 years with the New Mexico State Police.

A 1948 graduate of Vaughn High School, he graduated from the New Mexico State Police Academy in 1959, and has completed more than 200 hours in specialized training in judicial law, public relations and law enforcement.

As a state police officer, he acted as department liaison with magistrate court and took part in thousands of court proceedings, Johnson said.

He would like to see two changes in the local municipal court. He advocates more use of community service instead of fines in some cases.

He also would conduct at least one night court a month to accommodate those who work.

This isn't Johnson's first bid for public office. He previously was elected to the Santa Rosa Board of Education. He has lived in Capitan for 21 years.

"I think the biggest thing (voters) have to decide is which of the three running fits the job best," Johnson said.

JACK JOHNSON

"I feel my background makes me qualified to handle the position of municipal judge. I can be compassionate, fair and just in rendering decisions on evidence presented."

His past community service includes a position on the Upper Hondo Soil and Water Conservation Board of Directors. Johnson and his wife, Marguerite, have four grown children.

Mary Lunsford

Mary Lunsford
 Candidate: four-year term as Capitan municipal judge
 Occupation: owner - Windwalker Construction and Mechanical
 Mailing address: PO Box 869, Capitan, NM 88316
 Home and work phone: 354-2724

Mary Lunsford is familiar with a judge's gavel. She already has served as a magistrate judge in Catron County, initially being appointed in 1979, and then elected to that position a year later.

She enjoyed the experience and would like to use what she learned in that position for the benefit of residents of her new community by serving as Capitan municipal judge.

As a magistrate judge, she frequently worked with the state police, the FBI, game wardens and drug enforcement officers.

She also served on the Pie Town village council as vice president and treasurer, and was vice president of the volunteer fire department there.

Lunsford said she has taken courses at New Mexico State University in Carlsbad and special judicial training courses in Santa Fe.

"I feel I can be an asset to the community," she said. "Being from and serving a smaller community, I'm aware of the fact that sometimes it's had to get recognized, and also (am aware of) the care and concern for one another."

MARY LUNSFORD

Her community involvement includes serving with the Pie Town volunteer fire department, helping to register voters, serving on the election board and distributing firewood for senior citizens.

Besides the construction business, Lunsford and her husband, John, operate a farm and raise registered quarter horses.

The couple has four children: daughters in junior high, high school and college and a son working in their construction business.

VOTER REGISTRATION

Voters have to have been registered by February 1 to be eligible to vote in these municipal elections. Books on voter registration reopen on March 7, and then to be eligible to vote in the June 7, primaries, voters have to be registered by May 10. Filing day for candidates in the county elections is 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, March 15.
