Carrizozo man dies in one-car accident

A 20-year-old Carrizozo man died at 9:10 p.m. Wednesday after he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Fernando Medina was headed west on U.S. 380 toward Carrizozo when his 1994 Chevrolet went off on the north side of the road, according to a report by State Police Officer Steve Standridge. Medina over-corrected, the car skidded and it began rolling.

Medina, who was not wearing a seatbelt, was ejected from the vehicle and died when the vehicle rolled over him

David LaMay was driving 50-60 mph in a 35 mph zone on Lower Eagle Creek Road when he wrecked his car Friday and was killed, said New Mexico State Police Officer Steve Standridge, who investigated the accident

"He was driving pretty fast and couldn't make a curve. Standridge said Speed tests were conducted this week

LaMay was the only one killed in the accident. Three of his friends re in the vehicle when it went off the road, hit a culvert and rolled just north of Ruidoso None of the teens were wearing seat belts, and LaMay was partially ejected out of the driver's window and pinned when the Nissan rolled Friends said LaMay's seat belt was broken, Standridge said A blood test on the Ruidoso High School senior's body will take about two weeks, Standridge said LaMay's friends said LaMay had been drinking beer, but they didn't know how much, related Standridge.

Speaker attempts to cancel compacts

by PETER EICHSTAEDT The News Correspondent

An appeal has been made to the federal government to cancel the Indian gaming compacts signed Feb. 13 by Gov. Gary Johnson with 13 New Mexico Indian tribes

House Speaker Raymond Sanchez (D-Albuquerque) wrote a letter dated March 1 asking President Bill Clinton to direct Interior Department Secretary Bruce Babbitt to reject the recently-signed compacts

"I urge you to direct the Secretary of the Interior to reject this compact and return it to New Mexico for further study," Sanchez wrote "The breadth of this compact, its lack of enforcement and accountability, and its indefinite term will deleteriously impact New Mexico's future.

Sanchez complained that Gov. Johnson overstepped his authority by signing the compacts

The Governor has exercised a power that is not his to exercise unilaterally," Sanchez wrote. "He has acted in haste; this action will prove to be a source of serious soeconomic and domestic prob lems in New Mexico." Please see Compact, page 3A

Officers write 7,000 tickets in seat belt blitz

Police officers wrote more than 7,000 tickets during last month's recent Operation Buckle Down seat belt enforcement blitz, but people are still dying on the state's roads and highways.

Two young Lincoln County men died in the past week in car accidents, and neither was wearing a seat belt. Both were ejected from their vehicles and killed.

The state's law enforcement officials have conducted five seat belt blitzes since the Operation Buckle Down program began in February 1994, writing more than 35,000 citations.

Last month's blitz recorded 6,511 seat belt and 533 child restraint citations.

"The blitz is now over, but enforcement continues on a daily basis throughout the state," said Calvin Shields, enforcement coordinator of Operation Buckle Down. "Too often people get the wrong idea that they need to wear seat belts only during blitzes. That's not true. Everyone should buckle up every time they travel."

Capitan teenager commits suicide

by DIANNE STALLINGS Roidoso News Staff Writer

An 18-year-old Capitan high school student committed suicide in the school parking lot Wednesday by shooting himself in the forehead with a shotgun.

The body of Waylon D. "Buddy" Walker was found about 6:15 a.m. his stepfather, Kenneth by Maynard, who lives near the school.

Capitan Police Chief Tony Cano said Maynard and the boy's mother, Kelly Maynard, started looking for Walker after they went to his bedroom to wake him for school and found a note from the boy.

According to friends, Walker was distraught over several recent events. His great-grandfather had died Monday and Walker was scheduled to be a pallbearer at the funeral tomorrow. He had wrecked Please see Suicide, page 3A

by KATHLEEN McDONALD Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Easing the way for amicable annexations, Ruidoso Village Council members have approved recommended maneuvers from an ad hoc committee.

Also at their Tuesday night meeting, the council agreed to schedule a hearing for 9 p.m. March 7 on airport land lease policies.

With council approval, the annexation ad hoc committee is now authorized to send property owners letters asking them to request annexation by the town.

A prioritized listing of candidate areas — the pockets of land surrounded by the village and receiving some municipal services — was also approved by the council.

Further promoting the friendly annexations, as opposed to long and costly state Boundary Commission annexation hearings, is the council's decision to waive fees for initial zoning. Survey requirements for Areas under consideration are Forest Lawn, Lincoln Tower, land around the airport, Sleepy Hollow, the Hale tract, north and south sections of Galivan Canyon and Paradise Canyon, among other areas.

According to Village Planner Cleatus Richards, who serves as an valuable and overdue process. ex-officio member of the councilappointed ad hoc committee, the petition method could speed up the annexation process to three months time. A Boundary Commission decision could take six months or longer.

"Each area will be thoroughly reviewed according to the village's ability to serve it," Richards said.

Those parcels listed in the first priority will likely appear as practical annexations (the property owners receive services like water or police protection, but only paycounty taxes), Richards said. However, some of the pockets listed in the additional phases of priorities the annexed land would also be may present themselves as being again at 9 a.m. March 13 to further too costly (i.e., water hookup could be exorbitant in cost) for the village to annex.

Councilor Robert Donaldson, who sits on the ad hoc committee. said the very discussion of whether or not the village wanted to extend services beyond city limits was a

He said the reviews allowed the village to be proactive in the steady and controlled growth of Ruidoso," and appeared necessary because the county did not appear willing to implement zoning laws.

State statutes allow the consideration of annexation when an area is being served or can be served by a municipality, Donaldson said.

"We may find that the cost to serve some of these pockets is beyond anything we can gain," he said. So, just as Councilor Frank Potter cautioned, each land area will be individually reviewed. Donaldson said.

Councilors decided to set up a workshop after reviewing a proposed 40-year lease that would almore hangers on 30,000 square-feet of land at the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

There may be a broader issue here," said Village Manager Gary Jackson, who recommended the workshop. "We may want a philosophy establishing what our leasing policy is."

The lease agreement was reviewed and approved by the Airport Advisory Board, as well as vilage attorney John Underwood, who recommended changes to a section involving ownership options at the end of the lease period.

"Conditions may change at the airport," Jackson explained. "There may be more commercial factors at some time...We may want to put more thought into this."

Irishman performs at museum

Gerry Carthy

To get residents of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs in the St. Patrick's Day mood, Gerry Carthy will play traditional Irish folk music at the Museum of the Horse at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Listeners can rest assured that this presentation will be "authentic." Gerry Carthy was born in Castlebar, County Mayo. on the west coast of Ireland. His musical career started at school with a fife and drum band.

Carthy's parents owned a "public house" where traveling musicians often dropped in to play a few tunes, have a drink, and pass the hat, so he was exposed early to the vibrancy of Irish traditional music.

At the age of 18, Carthy went to work in England, where he took up the Tin whistle again and then the mandolin. In 1969 he moved from London to the West Country and formed a folk trio.

The West of Ireland and its "Celtic Twilight" atmosphere always beckoned, so he later moved back to County Mayo and learned the tenor banjo.

In 1973, he enrolled at University College Galway, where he took a B.A. in modern languages. It is in Galway City where he truly learned his trade over a 10-year period. During the summer months, Carthy and friend roamed continental 8 Europe, playing on the streets and in cafes.

In 1981, Carthy traveled from Connecticut to North Carolina. He returned to Ireland for two years, but America called again. August 1995 marks nine years in the Southwest.

Carthy primarily plays traditional Irish music, but likes to learn traditional tunes from whatever culture he finds himself in. He is adept at playing dance tunes, jigs, reels, hornpipes, polkas and laments.

Admission is $4 for adults. $2.50 for seniors and children, and members are free. For more information, call 278-4142.

Gifts, awards highlight Monday Ruidoso Downs Council session

Ruidoso News Staff Writer Members of the Ruidoso Downs Auxiliary presented two checks to the Downs Village Council at its Monday meeting.

Shirlene Roberts, president of the auxiliary, gave a $1,000 check to the council for the remodeling of the kitchen at the Ruidoso Downs Senior Citizen's Center, and another check for $900 to help the fire department purchase a new Jaws of Life tool used to extricate victims from crushed vehicles.

"We are presenting the checks in memory of Evelyn Miller," Roberts said. "Evelyn was a volunteer who was always helping out at the center and auxiliary events." Miller died earlier this month at the age of 88. Roberts said the kitchen remodeling project would enable the Senior Citizen's Center to be brought up to state code so a five day per week hot food program could get underway.

The auxiliary conducts fundraisers throughout the year. Its biggest fundraiser is an annual arts and crafts festival.

Also at Monday's regular meeting, David Hightower, Ruidoso Downs police chief, presented plaques of appreciation to Downs police officer Chris Condon and Ruidoso detective Jim Biggs for the part they played recently in the arrest of suspects in a robbery and assault at the Inn at Pine Springs.

Nick Herrera, Ruidoso Downs fire chief, presented the Fireman of the Month award to volunteer fireman Chris Marquez and read a citation from the State Forestry for the department's achievements in wildfire protection. Herrera also presented an award of appreciation to fire department secretary Tennie Swanner for her service.

The council voted to cap membership on the fire department to 15 until more equipment is available to volunteers.

The next Ruidoso Downs Village. Council meeting is at 7 p.m. on Monday, March 13 at Village Hall.

Ruidoso, Capitan schools try to deal with students' deaths

by DIANNE STALLINGS Ruldoso News Staff Writer

The deaths of two Lincoln County high school students within a period of five days has school officials reeling and counselors working overtime.

Friday, a popular football player at Ruidoso High was killed in a car accident and Wednesday, a Capitan junior committed suicide in the parking lot of the high school.

Talking about the deaths of school friends is the best step toward healing, according to psychologists contacted Wednesday.

Sally Flores, of the Mesilla Valley Hospital Crisis Team, said her people often go to schools and conduct group sesgiong.

"People need to talk about it so they don't feel they are in it by themselves," she said. "They know others are going through it too, and they don't feel as isolated as they felt they were. The more they talk about it, the faster people get back to normal.

School officials and others must guard against glamorizing the death, said psychologist Bob Walters of Ruidoso.

"We certainly don't want to glamorize suicide or other destructive behavior, but you have to balance the kids' need to say goodbye with some sobering thoughts," he said. "Look, this is a tragedy and it happens sometime without warning. But it's a myth that things run in cycles of three. That's an idiotic notion, something out of the movies."

Walters said some children on the edge may try to imitate.

"Kids being impressionable and over-dramatic, on top of problems in their own lives, may be tempted to imitate," Walters said. "Parents need to be sensitive and alert, but not paranoid.

"This is an emotional slam dunk for kids, whether they were friends of the two boys or not. Something like this creates a tremendous amount of stress and scares them.

"One thing that needs to be avoided is to attach fatalism or glamor to the deaths."

Funerals are needed to give friends and family a chance for closure and to express their grief, Walters said, adding, "That's the purpose they serve."

One-on-one counseling is one of the best approaches, Walters said. He also recommended the use of counselors from outside the school system.

"The school staff is stressed after something like this and in a situation like this, with two deaths in quick succession, they need some outside support that can be supportive and understanding," he said.

Capitan Superintendent Diana Sonnamaker said she and a school contract counselor met with teachers Wednesday morning, a few hours after the body of Waylon D. Walker was found in the back parking lot.

"We told them to take care of themselves first, because they would have to be emotionally strong to deal with students Thursday," Sonnamaker said.

The district had no plan in place to deal with this type of crisis, she said.

"It was fly by the seat of our pants," she said. Counselor Birgit LaMothe helped by sharing the Ruidoso School District's crisis plan.

Ed Vinson of the nondenominational Christ Community Church next to the school opened his doors as a place for students to congregate Wednesday since school was canceled.

"The officers were cleaning up the parking lot and we didn't think they needed to be around that," Sonnamaker said.

School officials will meet in assembly with Capitan high school and middle school students this morning, she said. Staff from The Counseling Center in Ruidoso will stay at the complex to offer one-on-one counseling to students throughout the day.

Capitan students will not be in classes Friday, because of a previously scheduled in-service training for teachers, Sonnamaker said.

The scheduled basketball game Thursday evening will be played as planned.

"We're trying to get everything back to as normal as possible for our kids and try to alleviate their fears," Sonnamaker said.

Sanchez said the Legislature was unable to do its duty because the compact was "negotiated behind closed doors in the Governor's office.

"The compact should be returned to the state for open, public discussions under full media view and scrutiny."

Sanchez requested a meeting with Clinton and Babbitt to discuss the issue.

Also on Wednesday, Sanchez introduced a resolution, which if passed, would be an official statement from the Legislature asking that the compacts be withdrawn and renegotiated.

The resolution asks Interior Secretary Babbitt to reject the compacts.

Gov. Johnson said late yesterday that he's confident the compacts will stand as written. Johnson signed the state's 13th Indian gaming compact with Nambe Pueblo Gov. Tony Vigil yesterday.

Meanwhile, a wide-ranging bill that would allow video gambling at horse racing tracks and throughout the state along with a state lottery appeared ready for approval by the Senate Select Gaming Committee.

If approved as expected today, it would be the first gambling bill to leave the committee so far. The bill is being proposed by Select Gaming Committee Chairman John Arthur Smith (D-Deming) and Vice Chairman Don Kidd (R-Carisbad).

Ruidoso Downs Racetrack manager Scott Wells said the track could survive if Senate Bill 1052 is passed.

"I think we'd be able to compete... and do additional investments here," Wells said. "That's the bill we support now, along with SB526, although we think 526 has been put by the wayside (by the legislative committee on gambling) right now."

Wal-Mart awards local scholarship

Jennifer Ames, a senior at Ruidoso High School who plans to attend the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, has received the 1995 Wal-Mart Foundation community scholarship. The $1,000 scholarship is awarded each spring to an area college or university bound high school senior.

"It is with great pleasure that we announce Jennifer Ames as the winner of this year's scholarship," said Mike Daulton, Ruidoso Wal-Mart store manager. "It was a difficult decision for our local judges, who had to select from many outstanding students."

More than 2.000 scholarships totaling more than $2 million are being given by Wal-Mart throughout its 49 state trade territory.

Teachers receive study grants

Ruídoso Municipal Schools have received three Action Research Grants from the Center for Teaching Excellence at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

Providing grants up to $8,000, the Action Research Grant program encourages each team of researchers to develop new methods to increase student learning.

Team leader for the first grant, awarded $1,750 and titled Learning Enhancement Through Music Appreciation, is Eva Clark of Nob Hill Elementary.

Richard Berglund of Ruidoso Middle School is the team leader for the second grant, awarded $500 for New Mexico Rural Education Enrichment Space Program.

Frank Cannella, principal of White Mountain Elementary, is team leader for the third grant, Hands-on Science Discovery Learning Taught by the Building Principal, awarded $1,575.

After completing research, team members go to Taos in June to present findings to other New Mexico teachers.

Primary students help raise money

The Math-A-Thon was started to raise activity funds for the new school. Money was generated by incorporating mathematics with pledges. Children joining in the project were given a booklet of 200 math problems to complete. After the problems were checked by parents, students asked for community pledges for each problem they answered correctly. Participating students receive prizes for helping with the project.

Ervina Jo Herrera, a second grade student at the school, earned the most money by bringing in $442.

Money will be used for special classroom projects and student awards.

FFA member wins writing contest

Debbie Bond, 16, of Carrizozo is the state winner in the FFA New Horizons magazine's Up With Agriculture writing contest. Bond received $50 as the state winner.

More than 1,300 students competed in this year's contest.

"Agricultural education and FFA activities help make students more valuable employees and business owners and operators," Bond said.

The Up With Agriculture writing contest is sponsored by ICE Seeds. Inc., as a special project of the FFA Foundation for FFA New Horizons magazine, the official publication for FFA agricultural education students.

Carrizozo will host big judging contest

Carrizozo's FFA chapter will host the Carrizozo Invitational judging contest on March 18 at the Carrizozo schools. Eleven areas of competition will be featured at the contest including meats, wool, livestock and horses. The Carrizozo Invitational is widely known throughout the state for its central location. facilities and contest quality. In past years, the competition has been the most highly attended contest in the state, with 35 high schools and 17 4-H teams competing.

The Mountain World Begins To Awaken From Its Winter Sleep

The Mountain Land bids a fond farewell to the Birthday Month, and extends a hearty welcome to the Month of Spring.

On the 23rd the fruit buds on the small apricot tree next to the house began growing larger and turning pink. Then on the 25th, I noticed one bud half open, forming a tiny silken pure white cup.

A little later it opened out into a five-petal bloom with a golden center — the first flower of the year.

Now today in mid-morning of Feb. 27, the eve of the last day of February, there is one branch with several crystal white blooms growing close together like little white faces smiling in the bright sun, shining in the blue aky.

The rest of the tree is filled with buds in all stages of opening and preparing to open.

Bees are humming their little work songs among the blossoms, while two or three snow birds rest in the branches.

fruit blooms of the year, you feel your heart give an extra beat of joy, as your memory in an instant takes you back to many a happy spring time

This sweet delicate aroma which carries a trace of the flavor of the apricot itself, is the very breath of spring.

The Awakening Spirit

Some years ago I became acquainted with a Mexican poet and composer who recited some of his poems. Most are forgotten except a few lines of one poem written to the lady who not long afterward became his wife: "Tu has despiertado en mi el sentimiento de el boton en el momento que realiza que va ser flor." (You have awakened in me the emotion of the bud in the moment it realizes that it is about to become a flower).

These lines come back to me as I stood looking at this tree, which is a living symbol of our mountain world -- still half dreaming yet aware of the stirring within its soul of the first raptures of this glad awakening to the morning of spring, the dawn of new life.

Saint Patrick's Day

After February, with so many special days, follows March, with only Saint Patrick's Day all by itself out in the middle of the month on the 17th, with its only companion the first day of spring on the 20th.

Saint Patrick's Day, although alone, is not lonesome.

It does not mind being the only celebration day in the month of spring. All the more attention of the world to the Emerald Isle.

Saint Patrick's Day is celebrated worldwide and has special meaning for Texas, New Mexico and Lincoln County.

Remember to wear your green on the 17th. And let us be glad and thank our Lord for our blessings.

Ruidosoan sentenced for beating his wife

Roy Dale Silva of Ruidoso has been sentenced to four months in prison for aggravated battery and disorderly conduct by Magistrate Judge William Butts.

Silva, 38, was convicted of battering his wife. Her nose was severely broken in the September beating.

Judge Butts initially allowed Silva's release from jail after six days, on the condition he abstain from alcohol and obey the law. He allegedly violated both conditions, however, when he was charged with failure to appear in court and arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct.

He was held at the Lincoln County Detention Center for 58 days following his second arrest.

At his Feb. 22 trial, Judge Butts found Silva guilty on both the initial arrest charges, aggravated battery and disorderly conduct. The judge sentenced him to 90 days behind bars on each charge, but credited Silva with the 58 days already served.

Combined, Silva sentenced to 122 days at the county jail, followed by a year of probation. He must also pay $1,015 for the cost of his wife's treatment at the hospital.

"At this point we just need to play hard and things will take care of themselves," Wright said after Ruidoso's 104-85 loss to the Indians.

top-ranked Class AAA ballclub.

"I want them to play smart basketball and play hard. We played sidering the Ruidoso defense surprobably our best game of the year against them," Wright said, refer-ring to the Warriors' 89-67 loss to Silver on Feb. 4.

Unfortunately for the Warriors. they are coming off their weakest performance of the year. Wright called it his team's "worst game we've played all season.

"We let them have the game," he said.

But that hardly mattered, conrendered 64 points in the second half alone.

The Warriors' defense effort frustrated Wright.

"I don't know how bad the kids. want it. There's only so much a coach can do," Wright said, who added that it's been his toughest season in coaching.

"It comes down to 'want to' and they didn't 'want to' bad enough,' he said.

It also didn't help the Ruidoso cause that its players had attended the funeral of a classmate earlier in the day.

"I know yesterday (Tuesday) was a tough day here," Wright acknowledged. "Certainly it affected my seniors."

Wright also credited Cobre's effort. The Indians improved to 3-6 in the 3-AAA and 6-14 overall.

"Cobre is lot better. They are the second or third best team in the district right now," Wright said. "They are playing better basketball than anyone, except maybe Silver."

Wright hopes the Warriors can regroup in time for their last regular season game against Silver. A strong showing could help their confidence as they begin the district playoffs Monday.

An upset of the Colts Friday night would assure the Warriors of a home game Monday night. A loss could create a three-way tie for third place among Ruidoso, Hot Springs and Cobre.

We need everyone to come support us and not sit on their hands," Wright said. "We need them watch. and cheer."

SAHSA fundraiser a success

by LAURA CLYMER

Ruidoso News Sports Writer Steady snowfall didn't prevent a throng of people from enjoying the opportunity to find a bargain at the Ski Apache Handicapped Skiers Association silent auction Tuesday night.

Nor did the snow keep disabled students from participating in the businessperson's race Wednesday, like it did last year.

Although the final dollar amount won't be determined until later today or tomorrow, SAHSA director Lisa Maue said the fundraiser should come close to matching last year's $12,000 total.

Maue said the auction featured more items last year, but this year, patrons were more generous with for more than a third of SAHSA's total budget.

'On a scale of one to 10, it was a seven or eight," Maue said.

Eighteen teams competed in Wednesday's businessperson's race. In that competition, two Ruidoso businesspeople team with a disabled skier and race for first place on the east side of the Easy Street course. The businesspeople can use only one leg and must use out-riggers when they ski.

Ruidoso Lodge's Dan Wimberly and Jeremy Livingston teamed up with Tim Sims to take first place. Sims posted the best time (18.71 seconds) among the disabled student skiers.

In second place was Ron Ander son, Carl Bartley and Shanti Cox,

Fishing report

Here's this week's fishing report for the southeast quadrant of the state, provided by the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish.

Sumner Lake - Hot spot. The lake is receiving lots of angling pressure, but fishing continues to be good to excellent for both crappie and walleye. Most fish are being caught on jigs and spoons near the rip rap.

Grindstone - Fishing is fair using power bait and salmon eggs for trout.

Ruidoso River - Fishing is fair using amall, dark colored wet flies for brown trout. Fishing is slow for rainbows.

RST plays host to first qualifier in years

by LAURA CLYMER

Ruidoso News Sports Writer For the first time in a decade, the Ruidoso Ski Team will host an age-class racing qualifier at Ski Apache.

Ski Apache will host a United States Ski Association (USSA) age-class qualifier this weekend. It's the first age-class racing qualifier here in 10 years, said where skiers can earn a spot in " the divisional championships later this month.

RST competitors won't have a home-course advantage over members from six other teams in town for the qualifier, Seigmann said, but they will have a psychological advantage.

"They will feel good because they're at home and they want to do good. It (the course) is no secret," Seigmann said, likening the course to a basketball court where the dimensions are standardized.

At least 17 RST members will race in the giant slalom and slalom events Saturday and Sunday. The qualifier is for 10-to 15-year-olds who are in classes JIII, JIV and JV.

The giant slalom will be run Saturday, with rounds at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. The course starts on the lower portion of Lincoln Trail and finishes on the Smokey Bear Run. The "Austrian-style" awards ceremony starts at $:30 p.m. by the Elk Day Lodge.

Sialom competition is Sunday with the same start times as Saturday. That course, shorter than the giant slalom, is run exclusively on Smokey Bear.

Seigmann said the team has been training hard and performing well this season. He sees this weekend as opportunity to en-hance the entire Ruidoso Ski Team program.

Competing in addition to RST are teams from Purgatory, Taos, Santa Fe, Sandia, Los Alamos and Red River.

Racing for Ruidoso this weekend are: Keely Burnett, Juan Arreola, Michael Kelly, Holly Kelly, Rebecca Conley, Shannon Conley, Bryan Davis, Chris Duncan, Trey Gerth, Les-lie Gerth, Ashley Hendricks, Cody Jones, Ben Pruden, Salinas Deet, James McDonald and Heidi and Aria Winterburn. The Winterburns hail from France and now live in Austin, Texas.

Two from FFA to compete at state speaking contest in June

Five members of the Capitan chapter of the FFA competed in the district speaking contest last month, and two will be headed to state competition in June.

Terry Hill placed third out of 17 contestants in "Greehand" speaking. In chapter speaking, Joni Autrey came in third, Julie Barham placed ninth and Casey Cunningham claimed 10th place out of 18. contestants.

In extemporaneous speaking, Jill Lunsford placed fifth and Casey Cunningham was sixth out of 15 competing students.

Autrey and Hill both qualified for state.

The Capitan FFA has moved up into second place in the leadership contest out of 15 schools.

Rewards for seatbelts

A visual survey of the Capitan community during the town's first Seatbelt Week, Feb. 20-24, showed that only 40% of the drivers and passengers in the 80 cars checked were wearing their seatbelts.

Members of the Future Homemakers of America also surveved teachers and students. They found that 55% of that group wore their belts.

Students Sabrina Honeyfield, Jennifer Brockman and Amber Rini planned and carried out seatbelt awareness activities; such as handing out fliers, hanging posters and conducting a contest at the elementary level.

B SECTION

Dimension

Helping to heal the pain

Our community lost two young men full of potential this past week. It is a reminder of the fragility of life.

For one young man, David LaMay, life probably seemed unending. For the other, Waylon Walker, life seemed unbearable enough to end it.

Neither suffers anymore, but for the loved ones who survive, the suffering will continue. We can't do anything about the two young men who have died, but we can do something to prevent deaths in the future.

We all share in the grief, albeit at different levels. and in a way, we all share in the responsibility.

We adults all remember our teen years. For many of us, those years were fraught with events that seemed overwhelming. Yet, as we look back on those years now, we realize how inconsequential many of these events were in the scheme of things.

Still, teens take the events in their lives very seriously, and we adults must understand that and avoid trivializing them. ----

We can make a point to talk to the children we know ---- talk about what has happened, ask them how they feel about it, and listen to what they say.

And we can make a point to teach by example. If adults don't buy or sell youngsters alcohol, if we don't drink and drive, if we wear our seatbelts, and if we are optimists who express our love of life, that's the best way to teach.

Chastizing teenagers usually won't work. None of us can cast stones - most of us adults probably drank alcohol at some time or another in high school, and many of us had our bouts with depression.

The feelings some teens have already expressed in pictures and writing on the Ruldoso High School parking lot, show they have taken the first step in healing their pain. The rest of us can help them take the next step.

Laws should get Nobel Peace prize TO THE EDITOR:

The courage and initiative shown by Rufina Marie Laws in getting voters to say a firm "No" to the storage of nuclear waste in New Mexico is a lesson for all Americans that one person can do a lot to defeat evil - even when working almost all alone.

The storage in the open of iclear was stes is starti Minnesota. The power utility fools have placed the casks on Prairie Island in the Mississippi River. If an accident or flood breaks open one of them, death will hit millions downstream, and cities and agricul-tural lands will be contaminated for 25,000 years! I nominate Rufina Marie Laws for the Nobel Peace Prize! What a woman! What a fantastic human being. I'm so proud of her.

group. This is a cowboy's way of explaining something a profound man once said.

As the days pass, it becomes more apparent the gaming com-pacts did just that. Every group that had some gaming are flinching and writhing, disturbed at the amazing turn of events.

What the race horse industry can't figure out is why would you take a $4 million revenue promise and gut a $20 million tax income. Isn't this the state that is looking for jobs for its citizens? Under any circumstances, I bet we would offer all kinds of tax incentives for an industry that employs 9,300 and delivers environmentally friendly jobs and $20 million in tax revenues.

Ouestions about track concerns

TO THE EDITOR: ·

Would Ruidoso survive if Mr. Hubbard died tonight? Is Mr. Hubbard receiving preferential attention from our mayor, city council, chamber of commerce and Dub Williams? Should Mayor Shaw and Councilman James be rude to those who disagree with them? Will our gambling tourists have enough money to eat, spend the night and do a little shopping in Ruidos when Mr. Hubbard gets finished with them? If prostitution were legal on the reservation, would you fight for legal prostitution in Ruidoso? Is it wise to subject our visitors to overpriced products and services? Will the proposed MRS attract as many tourists as do our washboard roads and brown water? Who will be held responsible for increased crimé, i.e., purse anatching, robbery, burglary, prostitution and drugs? Where is your sense of reason, Ruidoso? If Sierra Blanca were leveled and all of our pine trees felled, how many tourists (gamblers) would visit this city? What really attracts tourists to this area? This is a democratic society where the majority rules, but it is a sad situation when the majority attempts to silence the minority by whatever means they deem necessary. It is disgusting to watch politicians kiss up to a rich man. This is not an invitation to: phone my house and shout expletives in my ear. We all have a constitutional right to express our opinions.

The telephone number will be used to verify authorship. No letter will be printed without the writer's name.

Libelous letters are not protected by the rules of privilege or fair comment and will not be printed.

Thanks to Bingaman for budget opposition TO THE EDITOR:

Hats off to Senator Jeff Bingaman for his decision to oppose the Balanced Budget Amendment. Evidently Senator Bingaman saw it for what it was - the first stop in an attempt to get the working people of our country to pay for Ronald Reagan and George Bush's corporate welfare programs of the 1980s.

That four trillion dollar deficit was run up for corporations and corporations should pay it back, not the hard working people of Amerîca.

Hold your ground, Jeff. We are proud of you for seeing what Newt and Company's Contract ON America is really all about.

Contact HANDS for information on nuclear storage TO THE EDITOR:

On Jan. 31, the Mescalero Apache people voted on a referendum which allowed them their choice of acceptance of rejection of the nuclear waste issue. The vote was to reject and the referendum was conducted under supervision; therefore, it was an honest measurement taken of the will of the people.

The media has reported the petition, which began circulating two days after the Jan. 31 referendum, has been accepted by the Mescalero Apache Tribal Council and another referendum date has been selected for the nuclear waste issue. Amid statements that are misleading and therefore half-truths, which is un-fair to the tribal members and/or the public in general, the fact remains: If nuclear waste is so safe, why are the eastern power com-panies so annious to ship it all the way out west? Why not keep it back east and save billions of dollars?

pronunciation often wrong, too

TO THE EDITOR:

Many thanks to Sarah Cole for her letter regarding the often incorrect pronunciation of the name of our fair village.

Equally annoying to me is the three syllable pronunciation of "Sud-der-reth" Drive. I mentioned this to a friend who knows a little about local broadcasting, and his explanation was that the local advertisers prefer these pronunciations to attract our visiting Texas friends who tend to pronounce these words in this manner. Surely they are not that desperate for business

My next question was, "are these pronunciations incorporated in the new broadcasts as well for our visitors?" No response.

More important than these minor irritations is the MRS issue. Deep down, after the first election when the Mescalero Tribe defeated the proposal, I felt Mr. Chino would not give up on MRS. I hoped I was wrong, but I wasn't:

We cannot afford to be complacent for a moment about the storage of nuclear garbage in our backyard. We can expect no support from our governor, who is pro business at any cost.

As citizens of this lovely community, please stay informed on the issue and take a stand. Do not cially the citizens of Chavez, Lincreated by mankind. It will last by decide whather or not it is ap so many people are guilty of forever and, as yet, no one knows propriate to transport any type of making. Morton is statewide arts chair

A nationally known painter, who is the current chairman of the New Mexico Arts Commission, has been named the Cultural Affairs Director of the Gary Johnson Administration.

The new director is also a Lincoln County resident — Gary Morton of Ruidoso Downs.

Morton is a self-employed artist who successfully markets all of his works in museum and gallery exhibitions throughout the country. It is that experience, Morton says, along with his many years serving the public on art boards and commissions in New Mexico, which have prepared him to serve the state well as the new Cultural Affairs Director.

Morton was appointed to the New Mexico Arts Commission in 1987 and became its chairperson in 1988.

"My position as chairman has required that I work closely with the division director and staff to develop strategic plans," Morton said. "I believe state and federal government must listen to the taxpayer and implement changes to better serve the public."

Morton has been an artist for 17 years and has worked in public relations, promotions and marketing.

He specializes in painting work-ing cowboys, and received first-

Frank and Mildred Gonzales of Ruidoso Downs announce the wedding of their daughter, Frances (Tiny) Gonzales, to Tracy Ochoa of Alamogordo. He is the son of Sandy and Retha Ochoa of Alamogordo.

The wedding will take place at 3 p.m. Saturday, March 25, at the Elks Lodge. A reception will follow at the Elks Lodge,

The wedding was postponed earlier and rescheduled for March 25. The honorable Judge Harold Mansell will officiate.

Sgt. Andrea Gonzales, sister of the bride, will be attending the wedding. She is currently stationed in Washington, D.C., and she will soon be stationed in England.

Local restaurant owners Joe and Rosalie Garcia will celebrate their 25th, wedding anniversary on March 7.

Joe and Rosalie (Burtzlaff) were married in Benton Harbor, Mich. on March 7, 1970.

Joe spent his childhood years following the crops in south Texas. At age 18 he said "enough," and went to work in a series of sales jobs with companies such as Whirlpool, Wendy's and Pizza Hut. He rose to the level of regional manager for Pizza Hut.

After 10 years in Florida, Joe and Rosalie moved west to southern New Mexico and opened their first "Si Senor" restaurant in November of 1993 in Midtown Chaplain W.W. Hays of Roland, Okla. will be guest speaker at Ruidoso First Assembly of God, 139 El Paso Rd. at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, March 5.

Chaplain Hays is coordinator of prison and jail ministries for the Oklahoma District Council of the Assemblies of God. Before accepting his present appointment, he was field representative for the National Division of Home Missions in Springfield, Mo. His ministry has spanned 31 years, during which time he has ministered in more than 100 prisons and jails in the United States. He has also ministered in Mexico and the Fiji Islands.

The ministry has distributed thousands of Bibles in both English and Spanish, along with as many Bible study courses.

Hays was converted from a life of alcoholism and drug addiction in 1959. His testimony of a miraculous deliverance has been translated into several languages and has been distributed on five continents.

He is the recipient of several awards for his years of service to

Typical of her efforts to meet this educational goal are plans to help restore an historic adobe homestead in the Lincoln National Forest. Cooper will direct students in the project as part of the handson learning in an introductory historic preservation class at NMSU-Alamogordo.

The restoration is in cooperation with Forest Service archaeologists, and Cooper will be assisted by anthropologist Peter Eidenbach.

"It was a great vacation, just spent with friends and working on a cabin in the pristine wilderness." Cooper said.

Cooper has a bachelor's in civil engineering from North Carolina State University and a master's in structural engineering from the University of Virginia.

She will be wearing a familiar hard hat when she assists in the construction management role of assuring quality control for construction of the engineering technology building at NMSU this summer. Cooper already has brought her students to design meetings for the new structure, assigning them to perform structural calculations, site design and project planning. She plans to continue involving her classes in local construction projects as well as the engineering

Girl Scouts celebrate 83rd anniversary March 12-18

March 12th marks the occasion of the founding of Girl Scouts of the USA, the largest voluntary organi zation for girls in the world.

Throughout its 83 years, Girl Scouts has maintained the mission of serving all girls and inspiring them to be their best.

Girl Scouts is open to all girls ages 5-17, with approximately 3,000 members in southeast New Mexico.

"The American tradition of Girl Scouts continues to have tremendous positive effect on the youth of today, and reaffirms the fact that our young people are doing a lot of good things in their communities. I see evidence of the contributions made by girls and women every day," said Jan Leonard, executive director of Girl Scouts in southeast New Mexico. Girls in southeast New Mexico will celebrate the week with community service projects, special parties, and ceremonies.

HOW MUCH WILL IT COST TO RETAIN THE SERVICES OF BUYERS REALESTATE SERVICES?

There is no need for you to incur additional cost for our services when Buyers Real Estate Services helps you buy a home. The most common way is exactly the same way other real estate agents are paid. The typical commission paid at closing is usually divided between the listing agent and the buyers agent. The only difference is that our contract says our portion of the commission is paid "on behalf of the buyer" and comes from the proceeds of the transaction

DOES BUYERS REAL ESTATE SERVICES HAVE ACCESS TO ALL RESOURCES LIKE THE MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE?

Absolutely yes, and more. "We belong to the local Board of Realtons and MLS, so we can show you homes listed with this service. In addition, we also show homes that are "for sale by owner" and "for sale by builder". We can show you any advertised property.

WHAT ABOUT NEW MEXICO?

and media hype over the past two years, you might think that healthcare reform is a new idea. Yet Presbyterian and its physician partners have been working on it for years. In fact, organizations like ours have alieady taken many concrete steps to address the difficult issues facing us, and we have plans to take many more.

As one of New Mexico's oldest and largest healthcare organizations, we feel com-pelled to speak on the subject of reform. It's a complex issue, but we hope in this brief report to make it clear where we think the solutions lie.

Because regardless of your political is too daunting. Is the federal government responsible, or the state? Is it social policy, budgetary policy, or health policy? Who should pay-employers, individuals or taxpayers? These are the types of complex, public-policy questions which have bogged reform down. And while the debate goes on, healthcare, which represents one-seventh of > the entire U.S. economy, mustcope with rapid social and technological changes.

In the past decade, hospitals nationwide have seen their inpatient days drop 20%, reflecting improvements and efficiencies in both diagnosis and treatment. Meanwhile, outpatient services have been increasing-an incredible 75% over the same period of time. This dramatic change in the Further, every day, healthcare professionals deal with some of our most difficult social issues such as teen pregnancy, domestic violence, and drunk driving. At Presbyterian, we provided over $25 million worth of free care last year alone.

Obviously, any organization which provides such a large. amount of service at no charge must maintain its financial health. It's the only way we can continue to meet the needs of those we serve.

OUR CHANGING ROLE.

Even with such a significant economic impact, we're just one part of New Mexico's healthcare sector. In total, healthcare constitutes about 11% of the state's economý.

Clearly, any attempts to change the system are going to take time and patience. After all, what other business can you name that is expected to broaden its distribution, lower its prices and give more of its "products" away, all the while continually improving quality?

We must be doing something right.

Despite the national con-cern regarding healthcare costs, there are a significant number of positive trends in New Mexico. In 1993 HCIA and Mercer, two national consulting firms, conducted a comprehensive study of the nation's hospitals to evaluate them on the quality of their care and their fiscal efficiency. Of the 5,600 hospitals studied, two New Mexico facilities were recognized as being in the "Top 100" University Hospital and Presbyterian.

In 1994, Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso, a Presbyterian affiliate, was also recognized by the "Top 100" study by being named one of the top 20 rural hospitals. Presbyterian Hospital was again recognized through an Honorable Mention, making it the only facility in the state to make the list two years in a ro₩.

The 1994 study found that nationally, the average expenseper adjusted hospital discharge was $4,293. At Presbyterian, the expense was $2,523-just 59% of the national average.

But the good news isn't limited to Presbyterian. In New Mexico as a whole, patient care HMO membership alone has: more than doubled in New Mexico since 1986, making. managed care Albuquerque's dominant form of health insurance.

If the average Albuquerque employee health benefit cost were applied to the nation as a whole, America would immediately save $89 billion. That's nearly enough to cover the entire uninsured U.S. population.

Managed care forces a discipline on the system which . allows for more efficient delivfery of quality treatment. The interaction between primary care and specialist physicians results in better use of treatment and diagnostic resources. As a result, the length of -

At Presbyterian, we've taken a number of steps to provide better and more efficient delivery of care. While remaining faithful to our vision of serving individuals, families and communities to improve health, we've taken a no-nonsense approach to doing things more efficiently.

> We've improved productivity. Like any other business facing major market changes, we've had to increase productivity.We've developed a subacute-care unit, where patients who are still too sick to go home can be taken care of for less than acute-care costs. We also have the our PresAir ambulance system transported over 800 patients from rural New Mexico to Albuquerque in 1994. > We've expanded financial access.

Much of the reform debate about access to gare is really about access to financing of that care-after all, emergency room policy is to serve everyone in need, regardless of their ability to pay. Presbyterian's HMO, Health Plus, has taken significant steps to broaden access to affordable managed care. Our Small Business and Association products make it possible for companies as small as sole proprietorships to become members, and our Senior

> We've formed not-for-profit partnerships. We donate office space or other forms of support to other not-for-profit. organizations who can more efficiently provide certain services. HOME ON THE PLAINS

In 1993, Roosevelt General, the only hospital in the Portales area, was in bankruptcy proceedings, threatening access to healthcare services in that community. In April of that year, Presbyterian acquired the facility and merged it with our hospital in Clovis, forming Plains Regional Medical Center. Now residents in both communities benefit from local access to critical care and shared administrative and support service costs, making the combined operation both easily accessible and more efficient.

 We've focused on prevention. We regularly provide health screenings around the state. such as at the Curry County. Fair. Portales Peanut Festival and Española Community efficiently than in much of the rest of the country. In 1993, acute hospital admissions per thousand residents averaged 22% fewer in New Mexico than in the rest of America. In addition, the average New Mexico patient's hospital stay is nearly three days shorter than the average American's. The result is that New Mexico's cost per hospital admission is 12% lower than. the national average.

HMO members vs. non-HMO patients. And HMO members pay an average of 17% less than indemnity customers locally for health coverage, and an incredible 32% less than indemnity customers nationwide. The savings accrued by those hospitalized in Albuquerque are in stark contrast to neighboring cities which offer little or no managed care.

> Health Plan offers Medicare beneficiaries the benefits of managed care while reducing the healthcare costs borne by the government. These steps are complemented by the State

These efforts and others help us keep our state's children from needing expensive healthcare services in the future.

In short. Presbyterian is responding to community needs and market changes by moving from a hospital system to an integrated healthcare organization, reengineering

A major reason New Mexico outperforms its neighbors nationally, despite being a relatively poor state, is simple: managed competition. New Mexico is one of the nation's leaders in developing an efficient, competitive healthcare system. Across the nation, tradi-education program.

We know it's not enough.

Sespite the strides we've Jtaken, we know we've got a long way to go. With respect to changing the quality and treatment patterns of managed care. Jeff Goldsmith, a healthcare futurist, says "We have not nearly exhausted the possibilities; there's probably a good 15 years worth of improvements to be made at this stage." And that, we think, is precisely the point. It takes time.

We must continue to develop our physician partnerships. As essentiale providers of care, physicians control as much as 80% of the costs hospitals incur. With their social contract evolving as well, there's a great deal we can yet do to jointly manage our system for efficient, quality care. For example, working with physicians, our Quality Services Department constructs protocols outlining the highest quality. lowest cost treatment patterns for patients with given diagnoses

We readso looking to infor mation technology to improve both quality and service. One of our major mitatives is a system-wide computer information system that will allow quick and inexpensive transmittal of data to expedite patient care

We have no shortage of ideas on additional, incremental steps we can take to continue the process of reform. It's simply a matter of time, talent and resources.

This is expected not only to reduce the cost of transferring > information from, for example, physician to hospital and physician to physician, but to speed up customer service and improve patient care by maintaining diagnostic and treatment inforaccurately and completely.

WHERE DOES THE GOVERNMENT FIT IN?

Decent history has shown Nthat great, gains in quality and efficiency can be made if they are driven by healthcare. providers and their customers working together. Clearly, there is also an importantand limited--role government can take to further engender reform.

For example, we believe that legal barriers such as antitrust laws and regulations that. inhibit collaboration and constrain physician and hospital integration should be reevaluated. In addition, since the costs of defensive medicine add to every patient's bill, malpractice reform should be at the top of America's tort reform list. The government can also play a role in-prevention, encouraging wellness and health promotion education.

One of the most significant roles that government can play is continued recognition of the benefits of not-for-profit status for organizations such as Presbyterian. Rather than rewarding shareholders, we are required to reinvest in services for the community. And we do.

Presbyterian provides charitable services that greatly exceed our tax-exempt benefit, and we reinvest in technology, patient services and vital reform initiatives that are working to contain healthcare costs.

Where we believe the government should not intrude is with market-distorting initiatives such as premium caps, "any willing provider". requirements or mandated alternative medicine coverage. By now it has been clearly demonstrated that market forces are working. Attempts to "help them" or "speed them up" would have unintended negative consequences and costs.

stant state of reform. While in recent years the call for and pace of that reform has increased, the fundamental nature of the challenge has not. Healthcare professionals must use all of the wisdom, knowledge and resources at their disposal to make the changes society deems necessary.

There is no single, simple solution that can be boiled down to a political speech or policy document. Reform is a process. It takes time. And it takes continuous attention and partnership from all sectors of, society-business, government and the citizenry.

So now what? s we look out our every day.

Presbyterian has been here since 1908, prior to New Mexico even becoming a state. We've evolved from an elevenbed tuberculosis sanatorium, to a leading multi-hospital system, to today's integrated healthcare organization. Through the years we've faced many circumstances and changes which havé left us challenged yet undeterred.

We must avoid the temptation to view healthcaré reform as a single event. As we've outlined here and demonstrated in practice, healthcare is in a con-

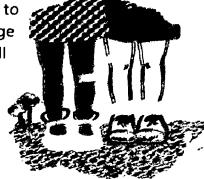

L window, the future still remains somewhat obscure. But at Presbyterian, . we know in what direction we're headed, and we know the steps we have to take. To us, it's getting a little brighter

10 Guiding Principles of Healthcare Reform

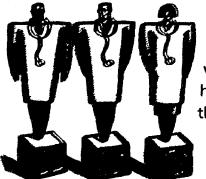

A reasonable system for uniform billing and common reporting of quality and outcome data and results should be established; to lower costs and assist consumers in healthcare decision-making.

There should be universal access to a standard, basic level of coverage which includes preventive as well as catastrophic coverage and no pre-existing condition restrictions.

The cost of basic health benefit coverage should be shared by employers and employees, or by government and sponsored individuals for Medicare, Medicaid and Veterans' programs to encourage responsibility and shared decision-making.

Where employers or government limit health plan coverage, individuals should have choices of health plans and physicians within those plans.

Private sector purchasing alliances should be organized for individual and small business access. Transfer of coverage should be ensured.

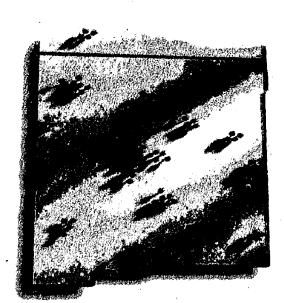

All citizens and their financing sources (including government programs) should pay for the cost of their care to minimize cost-shifting, Integrated systems which combine physicians, hospitals and financing should be encouraged, to foster seamless delivery, high quality, costefficiency and public accountability.

Medical education incentives should be implemented for physicians training in primary care and other caregivers committed to serving in underserved areas.

Tort reform should address med ical liability to provide . compensation to injured patients while reducing the costs of defensive medicine.

Who is Presbyterian?

Today's Presbyterian is nearly 5,600 employees and 1,000 physi-L cians serving individuals, families and communities to improve health. These dedicated professionals provide Presbyterian customers with health insurance, urgent care, primary and acute care, and rehabilitation. Presbyterian people serve customers and patients throughout New Mexico and Southern Colorado.

In addition to 11 hospitals and three rural clinics, we operate five Presbyterian Family Healthcare centers and have two on the drawing board for 1995. Presbyterian Hospital in downtown Albuquerque is the organization's flagship facility and is the largest tertiary care center in New Mexico, offering cardiac, medical, surgical, obstetric, neonatal and pediatric care services.

Over 800 of New Mexico's employers provide their employees with health benefits from Presbyterian Health Plus. In Albuquerque, members of Presbyterian Health Plus can be served by a primary care or specialist physician at over 220 locations. In short, Presbyterian is an integrated healthcare system committed to meeting New Mexico's healthcare needs.

Pineapple-Lemon Squares

15-1/4 oz. can crushed pineapple
6 oz. pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
1-1/2 cups lemon-lime soda
2 cups coarsely chopped pears
1/4 cup sugar
2 tbsp. all-purpose flour
1 slightly beaten egg
1 cup whipping cream
1/3 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Drain pineapple, reserving liquid, set aside. Dissolve gelatin into 2 cups boiling water. Add lemonlime soda. Chill until mixture is partially set, about the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Fold in the pineapple and pears. Pour into a 12 x 7-1/2 x 2-inch baking dish. Chill until almost firm.

Meanwhile, in a saucepan, combine sugar and flour. Add enough water to reserved pineapple juice to equal 1 cup. Stir into sugar mixture. Cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Gradually stir about half of the hot mixture into egg. Add to mixture in saucepan. Cook and stir until nearly bubbly; reduce heat. Cook and stir about 1 to 2 minutes more, but do not boil. Remove from heat. Cover surface with clear, plastic wrap. Cool to room temperature.

For Pastry: 2 cups all-purpose flour

Apple Pie

1-1/2 tbsp_all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
Pinch of salt
1 tbsp_ground cinnamon
1/8 tsp_freshly grated nutmeg
1 tbsp_lemon juice
Finely grated peel of 1 lemon
1/2 tsp_vanilla extract
1-1/2 tbsp_unsalted butter, cut into pieces
1 egg, beaten

Beat whipping cream until soft peaks form. Fold egg mixture into the whipped cream. Spread evenly atop gelatin layer. Sprinkle with cheese. Chill for 4 to 24 hours. Serves 10 to 12. 1/4 tsp_sugar
1/2 tsp_salt
Pinch of ground cinnamon
1/2 cup cold, unsalted butter
3 tbsp_cold, solid vegetable shortening
5 tbsp_cold water (approximately)
For Filling:
2-1/2 lbs_green apples (about 5 large)

For Pastry: Combine flour with the sugar, salt and cinnamon in a medium bowl. Cut in the butter and shortening, until the texture of coarse crumbs. Add water, a tablespoon at a time, and mix gently with a fork to form a soft dough. Do not overwork. Chill for 1 hour.

For Filling: Preheat the oven to 450°. Peel, core and slice apples into a large bowl. Sprinkle with the flour, sugar, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, lemon juice, lemon peel and vanilla. Toss to coat Roll out slightly more than half the pastry onto a lightly floured surface. Line a 9-inch pie pan with the pastry. Fill with the apple mixture and dot with butter.

Roll out the remaining pastry and place over the pie. Seal, trim and flute the edges. Cut several slashes into the top of the pastry to release steam. Brush with beaten egg. Place onto a baking sheet and bake 15 minutes. Reduce the oven temperature to 350° and bake until pastry is golden and the apples tender, about 50 minutes longer.
