Cyclist killed in U.S. 70 collision

A motorcyclist from San Patricio died Sunday when he apparently turned into the path of a van filled with illegal aliens.

David Lucero, 31, was killed about 6:50 p.m. at the intersection of U.S. 380 and U.S. 70, according to a report by State Police Officer Chad Davis.

Lucero was heading east on his Harley Davidson when he attempted to turn left onto U.S. 380 and struck a 1979 Ford van that was westbound.

The people in the van ran from the scene of the accident. Davis did not know who was driving or who owned the van, which bore Arizona license plates.

Commissioners discuss predators, regional water plan

Agenda items for the Lincoln County Commission Tuesday include consideration of ankle bracelets for convicted offenders under house arrest, and the county's predator control program.

The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. in the county courthouse in Carrizozo.

Commissioner Bill Schwetmann will report on the initial meeting to develop a regional water plan for the Tularosa and Sacramento river basins. The first meeting of the group was conducted July 24-25 in Carrizozo.

The South Central Recreation, Conservation and Development Council received a $20,000 grant to begin the process in Otero and Lincoln counties.

A similar organization is being formed to handle the planning for the eastern part of Lincoln and Otero counties, which drain into the Pecos River Basin.

Daniel L. Contreras from the Albuquerque-Bernalillo Economic Opportunity Board is scheduled to discuss possible benefits of such an organization for the county.

Mescalero grant for health program

The Indian Health Service has awarded $42,890 to the Mescalero Apache Tribe for the development of a tribal health management structure.

IHS grants totaled $313,748 for health programs in New Mexico.

Pony Express rides again

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The brief life of the Pony Express will be celebrated locally this year with new faces, new places and a new approach.

The weekend event, set this year for Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 5 and 6, will no longer be a speed race over treacherous ground that has spurred injuries to riders and horses in past years.

Instead, the short route from White Oaks to Lincoln will be extended to a two-day trail ride under the sponsorship of the Lincoln County Sheriff's Posse. Although it will be open to the public next year, this first run-through will be limited to posse members.

They will leave the "notorious" White Oaks Saloon at 7:30 a.m. Aug. 5.

The ride will culminate with the delivery of the mail at 11 a.m., Sunday, Aug. 6, during the Lincoln Days parade in the historic settlement of Lincoln.

"Over the past 26 years, the race drew a large number of participants and competition grew more keen, the horses (became) more exotic and (bred) for speed," said Roland Caster, who heads the revamping effort. "They experienced a lot of accidents and serious injuries, and that can be costly when the horses are worth up to $10,000."

The route was strewn with rocks and edged steep slopes, especially through Capitan Gap, he said.

"It was a chance to ruin a good horse if you were pushing, and that was the object of the race," Caster said.

Participants started dropping out in the last two races. Only one entered in 1994.

"It seemed there would be no sponsor this year and the demise of the race was imminent," Caster said. "Betty Joiner, postmistress at Fort Stanton, didn't want to see that happen. The race was one of her loves and part of New Mexico's heritage and history. She approached the posse."

The 140-member auxiliary group to the sheriff's office voted to take on the challenge.

"They felt it was an activity good not only for the posse, but for the goal of perpetuating the heritage of the Pony Express," he said.

Express short-lived

The first Pony Express existed for a brief 19 months, from April 1860 to October 1861. The riders, as young as 15, hauled mail 1,966 miles in their mochilas (leather mail sacks) from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento, Calif.

Horses were changed every 10 to 15 miles and riders took breathers every 75 miles, according to a history of the Pony Express compiled in 1993 by local historian Dorothy

Water lines head list of election items

(This is first in a series of seven stories about proposed bond issues for the Village of Ruidoso Aug. 22 election.)

by KATHLEEN McDONALD
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

When water lines burst in mid-July along Ruidoso's Country Club Road, dozens of residents were left without running water for a good part of the day.

Meanwhile, village water department crews struggled to clamp the bill with higher rates.

"You either pay out of this pocket or that pocket," Jackson says. "The general obligation bond is the cheapest method."

Revenue bonds are the less attractive route, he says, because they have a higher interest rate than general obligation bonds.

"With the bond issue replacement, we'll be allowed to catch up on regular replacement of other the corroded two-inch pipes shut. Members of the crew spent seven hours on one 35-year-old pipe section alone, fastening cracks shut only to have it burst open with another hole.

Replacement of the dilapidated two-inch lines with six inch (minimum) non-corrosive lines will be done if a $2 million bond issue is approved by voters Aug. 22, Village Manager Gary Jackson explains.

The $2 million water bond issue can be voted on separately from the remaining six other capital projects. All seven issues total $6.65 million in general obligation bonds and will be paid off in seven years.

The water bond issue is broken into two costs — $1.2 million for replacement of the lines, and $800,000 for expansion of the Grindstone Treatment Plant.

The plant expansion will further improve water pressure, while the water lines will improve volume.

Water Lines

Ruidoso has 25 miles of the out-moded water lines that are clogged and split by corrosion. They fail to produce adequate water volume for homeowners and for fire hydrants in several subdivisions throughout town.

Sometimes water volume is so poor, taps offer a mere dribble of liquid. Even worse for thirsty homeowners, the water coming through the faucet may be discolored by the mineral-coated lines.

Emergency repairs of the lines also cost the village hundreds of dollars annually, and prevent city water crews from doing regular line maintenance, Jackson says.

"One way or another, they're going to have to be replaced," Jackson says.

The old pipes have already exceeded their life span of 25 years and will not last another three years, he predicts.

Jackson says they're in such dire need of replacement, that if the water bond fails to pass in the election, the city will be forced to issue revenue bonds for the capital project.

Revenue bonds don't require voter approval, and they are paid off through water and sewer rates — so residents would have to foot lines. Now we're just fixing and repairing," he says.

Grindstone Expansion

With the water bond, the new Grindstone Treatment Plant will be doubled in capacity from treating one million gallons of water a day to two million.

The plant was designed for the addition because village officials knew there would be a need to expand it, Jackson says.

"Our need is based on our peak demand," he says. "We're not meeting it now and have to push the system beyond its design to meet that demand."

In past summers, peak demand reached as high as six million gallons a day, Jackson says. The surface capacity of the village's treatment plants (the other is in Alto) are designed to produce half that amount.

Straining the system can cause turbidity (cloudiness) in the water, which is a violation of Environmental Protection Agency clear drinking water standards.

The village violated turbidity standards nine times last year because of the system strain and high water demand, EPA officials have reported.

It was also fined $10,000 last summer by the EPA after a backwash of polymers, used to treat high turbidity levels at the Upper Canyon Plant, caused a massive fish kill downstream in the Rio Ruidoso. The plant, which has an older design, has since been shut down as a water treatment operation.

The cost of refurbishing the 300,000-gallon plant to meet current drinking water codes could be excessive, Jackson explains, making the expansion of Grindstone the more practical option.

Grindstone treats the same Rio Ruidoso water source as the Upper Canyon Plant did, and is producing some of the best water in the state, city officials say.

The water general obligation bonds will not raise current property tax rates, because the bonds will be replacing existing debt that is expiring.

"It's a very unique situation," Jackson says.

River, groundwater drown dilapidated village sewer system through Ruidoso's sewer lines.

Every day, an estimated 500,000 gallons of fresh river and groundwater join the waste as it flows east to the sewage treatment plant in Ruidoso Downs, Assistant Village Manager Alan Briley says.

Clear water infiltrates the system as it pours through the many holes and cracks in the brittle clay pipes — old lines which haven't handled the shifting of ground very well, Briley adds.

At some sections, river water pours through cracks at a rate of up to 40 gallons a minute, every hour, every day, he says.

Concern over the infiltration and inflow (I&I) problem has prompted the village government to place a $1.5 million general obligation bond issue before voters Aug. 22.

Money from the sale of sanitary sewer improvement bonds would replace sections of the old line with new, seamless lines, he says.

The clear water I&I costs the city about $180,000 extra in treatment costs each year, Briley says.

If the water bond fails to pass in the election, the city will be forced to issue revenue bonds for the capital project, Village Manager Gary Jackson says.

Revenue bonds don't require voter approval, and they are paid off through water and sewer rates, forcing officials to raise these same rates for homeowners.

Revenue bonds also receive a higher interest rate than general obligation bonds, making it the more costly funding option.

Line repairs have been done through the annual village budget, but because of their rapidly-deteriorating condition, the pipe sections just continue to break further down the line, Jackson explains.

"If overflows in the system occur — which infiltration causes the probability of — the Environmental Protection Agency is empowered to issue fines of $10,000 day," Jackson says.

The sting of fines hasn't been felt in recent years because it has been so dry, he says, but the threat is always there. Overflows have occurred in the past, he says, and prior to his tenure with the city government, the village was fined for the violations.

Of the village's 75 miles of sewer lines, 16 have been identified as the main interceptors of the ground water, and all are at the bottom of canyons, river and creek beds.

For gravity's sake, the new lines will still be laid along those wet beds, he adds, but the plastic-like material of the pipes won't allow the inflow the 40-year-old clay lines receive.

Without the replacement of the worst sections of lines, the lines in drier areas that are splitting from the intrusion of tree roots will grow worse, Jackson says. The city will therefore fall even further behind in the regular replacement schedule, and officials say it will reach the point where it can't continue to add new customers on to the system.

"There are subdivisions in town that have a significant number of septic systems failing," Jackson says. "The environmental department really wants to have those areas connected to the system, but we can't connect them when we don't have the capacity."

He says the most logical step is to eliminate the infiltration, and although the entire replacement job would cost $2.4 million, the $1.5 million of work done on the worst lines will reduce infiltration by 50%.

If the sewer bond passes, it will cost property owners with property assessed by the county at $60,000 about $43 a year (in taxes they are already paying); if all seven of the bond issues pass, the annual cost will be $192. For those with property valued at $90,000, the issue will cost about $65 in annual taxes, and $288 for all seven bond projects.

VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO BOND ISSUES FOR AUG. 22 ELECTION

Number	Purpose	Village Reasons	Value
1	Water Improvement Bond	Replacement of 25-year-old, 2-inch water lines that are corroded and provide inadequate volume; expand the Grindstone Treatment Plant, doubling capacity to 2 million gallons per day.	$2 million: ($1.2 million for water line replacement $800,000 for expansion of Grindstone)
2	Sanitary Sewer Improvement Bond	Replace sections of wastewater lines that have cracks and holes, allowing hundreds of gallons of already clear rain and groundwater into the lines each day. Village could be fined $10,000 per day by Environmental Protection Agency when exceeding the system's capacity and treatment of the already clear water costs the city about $180,000 each year.	$1.5 million
3	Library Bond	Build new library; present one is overcrowded.	$1.6 million
4	Senior Citizens Building Bond	Rehabilitate and remodel existing library as a senior citizen center. Library will become available upon relocation of village library.	$100,000
5	Convention Center Addition Bond	Additional storage is needed at convention center to store tables and chairs during major events.	$100,000
6	Village Hall Addition Bond	Expand city hall because office space is inadequate; add restrooms to comply with American Disabilities Act.	$350,000
7	Athletic Fields Bond	Construct 8 multi-purpose, 1 baseball and 1 softball field adjacent to White Mountain and Sierra Vista Schools.	$1 million

Each bond issue can be voted on separately at the Aug. 22 election.

Passage of any or all the issues will not raise residents' property taxes, but replace taxes already being paid (because of retirement of existing bonds).

Guck. During that 19-month period, express horses ran 650,000 miles and carried 34,753 pieces of mail, losing only one sack, she wrote.

The man who created the express, Will Russell, never received a penny of government support for delivering the mail, even though the service kept East and West in touch during the Civil War. The original charge of $5 per half-ounce letter was dropped later to $1, and that never generated enough money to cover expenses. The company lost $200,000 and went bankrupt, Guck wrote.

Russell looked for young, small riders, preferably orphans, according to his newspaper advertisements.

In exchange for their bravery, endurance and suffering through frigid weather, the riders earned board and keep, $100-$150 a month.

The completion of the transcontinental telegraph line in October 1861 spelled the end to the Pony Express. The speediest time set for the total ride was seven days and 17 hours, to bring President Lincoln's Inaugural Address to Sacramento. The same trip by stagecoach took 23 days.

Express letters for sale

This year will be a trial run for the posse. For that reason, the trail ride will not be open to the public, Caster said.

But he already has received reservations from five Texas residents for next year's trail ride.

"At the crack of a gun, (posse members) will leave, carrying a pouch of mail addressed for delivery and authorized by the postal service," he said. They will ride to Bonito Park, across the stream from Fort Stanton.

Instead of camping overnight the first year, members will return home for a bath and a good night's rest, he said.

At 8 a.m. Aug. 6, they will continue from Bonito Park to Lincoln to join the parade by 11 a.m., then pass the mail to a retired postmaster from Lincoln County. The mail will be postmarked "Fort Stanton" and then delivered.

The public still will be able to participate in this year's event. People can purchase a commemorative letter and envelope to be carried on the ride from White Oaks to Lincoln.

Two types of envelopes are for sale.

The $5 version, which bears New Mexico ranch brands, a Pony Express seal and two stamps that will interest collectors, can be purchased from Caster by calling (505) 257-6767. Only 214 were printed and about 40 are left, he said.

A letter that can be included in the envelope contains the history of the Pony Express and the local event.

Each envelope bears a 1960 Pony Express Centennial stamp and a 1994 Buffalo Bill stamp that now is out of print.

Other envelopes also may be purchased without the stamps, for $2. They can be found at chambers of commerce around Lincoln County; at the post offices in Fort Stanton, Capitan and Carrizozo; or from posse members.

New state engineer details water plans

by JUNG WHA YOON
Ruidoso News Intern

New state engineer Thomas Turney told members of the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau Wednesday he is not interested in taking away water rights.

Turney addressed the Bureau at its 1995 Summer Leadership Conference.

"I have never been in politics in my life, and I don't intend to pursue it," Turney said.

A New Mexico native, Turney said he wants to bring a fresh approach to government and to the management of the state's water resources.

Turney feels much of the state's water problems can be solved by simply conserving.

"Certainly the state has always had the idea that you cannot waste water. One of my beliefs is that we need to pull the water back into the adjudicated amounts.

"Again, I'm not interested in taking anybody's water away. But it is the law and I have to administer it," Turney said.

Asking the audience for its help developing regulations to conserve water, Turney warned the Bureau that if he didn't receive help, he was going to develop his own rules on conservation.

"You aren't going to like it if I do, because I don't have the intimate knowledge all of you have," Turney said.

Also, Turney told the Bureau he needs its support and help because the federal government's Bureau of Reclamation wants to take over water conservation within the state of New Mexico.

"And if they do it, we won't have any control at all," Turney added.

Another reason for New Mexico's water problems is that previous state engineers have turned over large amounts of water rights to the Department of the Interior, Turney said.

"It's an issue that's very, very, very concerned about. The federal government believe they are exempt from my office. All I've got to say about that is, we'll see," Turney said.

Turney went on to speak of Indian water rights.

"The courts will give water rights to Indian tribes based on anything that historically an Indian tribe has used, going back to the 1880s," Turney said.

Several tribes have made water rights claims around the state.

"I think negotiation is an important issue on Indian water rights. Legislation is out there and we have to face it. We have to be careful on how we decide how much water rights Indian tribes will be awarded out here," Turney said.

In closing, Turney once again underlined his commitment to respecting water rights by talking of the Pecos River Purchase Program.

The State of New Mexico didn't make all of its required water deliveries to Texas and ended up before the Supreme Court, Turney said. The Supreme Court ruled New Mexico has to send Texas the water it owes.

"In our state laws, we have what is called the priority system — first in time, first in line. Logically, what we could have done is call in all the junior water rights. It would have put the Roswell area out of business. They are the junior water right holders.

"The economic consequences to the area would have been enormous," Turney said.

Instead, the entire state was chosen to participate in solving the problem, because it was recognized as a statewide responsibility.

Certain water rights were purchased or leased to see if New Mexico could increase its deliveries to Texas.

This is a new concept, Turney said. Called integrated water management, it brings all the areas such as water rights, priority calls, environmental considerations, game and fish, and agricultural users together to solve problems.

Snidow art at museum

Renowned western artist Gordon Snidow will have a special exhibition at the Museum of the Horse throughout this week.

Entitled "I Can Do It All," the exhibition displays the many faces of the artist. From traditional western scenes to modern pieces, "I Can Do It All" is a showcase for Snidow's talent.

The limited exhibition runs through Sunday, Aug. 6.

After studying at the Art Center College for Design in Los Angeles, Snidow moved to Albuquerque, where he worked as an illustrator at Sandia National Laboratories.

Snidow created the famous "Coors Cowboy Collector Series," and he is widely known for his realistic portrayal of the American cowboy.

Recently, Snidow expanded his subject matter to include images of all American people in all walks of life.

Burgess Family Reunion

The home of Raymond and Catherine Burgess in Ruidoso Downs was a joyful place July 22 when 69 descendants of Ernest and Maudie Burgess gathered for a family reunion.

Seven of the nine living children of Ernest and Maudie were present: Raymond and wife Catherine, Charlotte Craig and husband Tony, Mary Burgess, and Ima Gene Miranda, all of Ruidoso Downs; Ernest and wife Pat, Roswell; Clifford and wife Dorris, Baird, Texas; and Geneva Weygant, Tulsa, Okla.

Rachael McMenemy and Dixie Burgess of California were unable to attend, but sent their best wishes by telephone. Two of the eleven children, Douglas and Ruth, were called home by our Lord a few years ago.

Also present were 18 grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren: Kasie Rue and Casey Paul.

We fondly remember Ernest and Maudie; and we congratulate the Burgess family on their happy reunion.

A Special Prayer

St. Anne's Chapel at Glencoe through the years has become a roadside international shrine, because people from all over the world step in for meditation and a prayer.

Oftentimes when I am down that way, I stop in for a prayer.

On the 25th when I was down there, three ladies were visiting the church. We talked about the history of the church and of the early members, about our mothers playing the organ. These ladies were Ruby Steele, Evelyn Kakuska and Helen Olson.

We joined hands and Ruby led us in prayer: a prayer that the Lord would help me to keep on writing the columns in the paper; and that I might play this year in the Lincoln pageant. Thanks were offered to the Lord for the blessings St. Anne's Chapel brings to the community and the world.

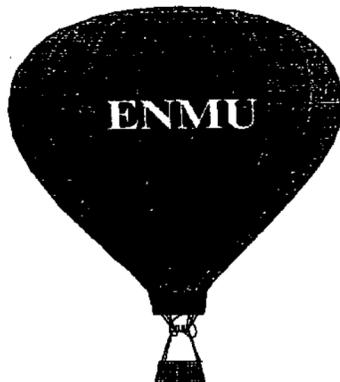

The Kid's Escape

On April 28 it was 114 years ago that the Kid, in handcuffs and leg irons while being guarded night and day by guards armed to the teeth, made his break to freedom, surprising everyone except himself and setting off celebrations all over New Mexico and other parts of the southwest.

This last may be difficult to understand by those who do not know that the Kid had many friends, and New Mexico at that time was one big neighborhood, even though travel was restricted mostly to boat, horseback and wagons.

Be careful during the warm days, and let us say a prayer for those living where it is really hot.

Let me tell you...

Ruidoso Art Festival is chamber's shining show

We hope all of you had a chance to attend the Ruidoso Art Festival and see a cornucopia of creativity gathered under one roof.

As the major Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce fundraiser for the year, it's important to support this event. Amazingly, the show produces enough income to cover one-third of the chamber's budget.

The new shuttle service is a great idea. Cooperative ventures between local organizations is the most economical way to improve business for everyone. The shuttle ran back and forth from the art festival to the Museum of the Horse, Ruidoso Downs Race Track and McGary art studio (where people could get off and tour throughout the downtown shops as well).

The shuttle service also reduced traffic on Sudderth and Mechem, and anything that fulfills this goal is worthy of everyone's support. It would be nice to see it stop even more places during next year's festival, and expand to other festivals.

After 24 years, the Ruidoso Art Festival has become firmly established in the area art scene. It is limited to 132 artists, and many more seek to be admitted. The selection jury aims to include a variety of art mediums, and this is one way to ensure the festival remains popular with the general public. Of course, the food and entertainment doesn't hurt, either.

The festival's past success — and the universal endurance of art — leads us to believe this community will one day be celebrating the 100th anniversary of this festival.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Carrizozo's loss is Ruidoso's gain

TO THE EDITOR:

This is the first time I have ever written you. I'm writing this letter to let Ruidoso know what a great teacher they're going to have next year, 95-96.

Last year I had a music teacher named Mr. Nathan Kruse. He was fair, kind, funny, tough, caring of his students, polite, he tried his very best, improved our educations with understanding, good listening, and a positive and fun way of learning. He's the best teacher I've had in years.

Each year I pick the best teacher out of my school, and I have picked Mr. Kruse to be "Teacher of the Year."

If you publish this letter, I will hope he reads it. All the teachers in Carrizozo liked him very much. We at Carrizozo hope you will welcome him into your town. I know for certain that Carrizozo's loss will truly be Ruidoso's gain.

Help children access technologies

TO THE EDITOR:

The people of this community need to look at their children and ask themselves if they are doing what they can to help their children compete in the high technology job markets of the future.

Parents need to see and realize the importance of advancing technologies to the children's future. Not just tomorrow, but today. The technology is out there. We in the community have to find a way to access it and provide it to the young, ambitious minds that desire to better equip themselves in the endeavor to move forward into this coming century of technology and change.

As the chief technician for the local cable television system, my position affords me with the opportunity to help the students and teachers in this community by providing them with a means of accessing the technologies of tomorrow today. By this I mean the ability to network the schools, as well as provide an onramp to the information superhighway (specifically the Internet).

I am committed to seeing that this happens, but it is not something that I can do alone. People need to see and realize the imporportance of advancing technologies to their children's future. I have developed a way to reach out of the community and into the technological avenues necessary to provide the students and teachers (as well as interested citizens) with the tools to learn and grow towards the technology of tomorrow. I have met a few people, primarily teachers, with the same goals and desire to move forward as my own. We are all working towards the same objective. Though we do not all agree on the best method for getting to this final goal, at least we are trying.

The one thing that we all do agree on is the need for community support. This avenue to the future will never happen if the community does not get involved and realize the importance of moving ahead. The biggest drawback that I have encountered is the initial cost for a venture of this size. The schools are not able to purchase the necessary equipment due to their limited budget. Because of this, they have been forced (for lack of a better word) to go out and look for funding through grant proposals. This source provides great potential and opportunity for the schools, however this will only cover a small portion of the total cost involved. Therefore it is imperative that the community get involved and help look for avenues of funding.

The people that are working to get this project completed need your support. I am committed to this project and to the future of the youth of this community. I fully support those individuals that have taken it upon themselves to bring the high-technology avenues of the world into Ruidoso. I hope that you will too!

Can the shooter hide behind, "I didn't think it was loaded," or "I didn't mean to kill 'em, it was an accident?"

Gun owners should know this and the other common sense rules, and it would almost guarantee that you never had an accident.

Maybe killing the elk in Ruidoso was not intentional, but a responsible person would never call it an accident!

Rebuttal to nuclear energy comments

TO THE EDITOR:

After reading Marshall Conover's commentary in the July 6 issue of The Ruidoso News, I felt compelled to respond. We are not the ignorants that voted yes to destruction. I have collected and saved almost every article I can find on this issue, watched every video and sought every source of information I could on nuclear waste.

You ask, do environmentalists seek the truth? I ask, can the power companies exist without lies? When nuclear power was first introduced it was under the lie that nuclear energy could be produced for much less than fossil fuel; this is a proven lie. When nuclear energy was first introduced it was with the stipulation that they find a way to permanently store the spent rods by a set date. This date quickly approaches and the energy companies are desperate.

I do not know who Dr. D.L. Ray is, but I will call him a liar if he says that the accidents harmed no living creatures. The incidents of cancer and leukemia rose dramatically.

You state that the environmentalists resort to violence to meet their needs. Let's look at Silkwood, murdered for uncovering radiation poisoning at a nuclear plant. It seems just recently an environmentalist was found dead in his van under suspicious circumstances. Both sides play dirty.

You say that nuclear energy cannot be put back in the bottle but they can halt production until they truly find a safe way to live with it. You state that environmental activists are in it for the money. That's absurd. People oppose environmental destruction out of a moral calling, not for profit or as a job.

So now to adopt you're closing statement I say, what can we common everyday sensible New Mexican taxpayers do about power company's lies, propaganda, and coercive tactics towards us and our government?

1. Let your voice be heard in the legislative branches, demanding that we the people be heard above the greed of the power companies and their minions.

2. Don't yield to the lies of the power companies or the philosophy of "How do you know you're going to die of radiation until you try it?"

3. Always keep a sense of logic and reason. You do not have to die from something to gain the knowledge that it can kill you. Question everything, especially those who wish you to blindly follow them and tell you to abandon intelligent research for faith.

4. Remember that humans and animals cannot continue to destroy the ecosystem without that destruction eventually devouring them.

NOTICE

The Ruidoso News verifies by telephone every Letter to the Editor we receive, to be assured that the person who signs each letter is actually the person who wrote it.

We have letters waiting to be printed because the original letter did not include a telephone number, and there is no current listing for the author.

The Ruidoso News also has a policy that letters be 500 words or less. When we receive a letter that is longer than 500 words, it is our preference to have the author edit the letter. This is another situation where we need the telephone number of the author.

We appreciate contributions to our Opinion Page, and ask that authors take special care to include phone numbers where they may be reached for information or clarification purposes.

Be a responsible gun owner

TO THE EDITOR:

Be a responsible gun owner!

Two rules if followed would prevent thousands of shooting accidents from happening.

The first is: always treat a gun as if it is loaded.

The second is: never point a gun in the direction of anything you don't intend to shoot, especially if your finger is on the trigger.

Fatal accidents prompted our ancestors to pass this advice generation to generation.

Bullets go through walls! Bullets deflect! The result happens quicker Set Records, ridden by jockey Casey Lambert, set a track record of 1:37 for a mile at Ruidoso Downs Friday.

Set Records sets mile record at track

An aptly named Set Records took advantage of an easy early lead and powered on to set a track record of 1:37 for a mile at Ruidoso Downs Friday.

Jockey Casey Lambert never used his whip as he guided Set Records over the fast course to finish 6 lengths in front of Bolero Blue.

The 4-year-old broke away from his eight challengers in the first strides and just kept increasing his advantage en route to the course record clocking. The previous mark was held by multiple stakes winner Last Don B., who ran the distance in 1:37 4/5 on June 27, 1992.

The mile track record performance was yet another accomplishment for Set Records, who went over the $200,000 mark in earnings with the Friday allowance victory. The Kentucky-bred races for El Paso owners Margaret Bloss and Margaret Dupont, and is trained by Doyal Roberts.

Heavily favored in Friday's race, Set Records returned $3.60, $2.80 and $2.80. Second place Bolero Blue, ridden by Carlo Rivas, paid $6.60 and $4.40 and third place King Arthur's Song returned $4.20 to show.

Dancyville takes Ruidoso Oaks race

Favored Dancyville may have wanted to swing her partner into the grandstand on the turn for home, but jockey Quyet Bui got her back in step en route to a 4.5 length victory over Jena Jinsky on Saturday's $7,500 Ruidoso Oaks Handicap at Ruidoso Downs.

After challenging Jena Jinsky on the backside, Dancyville veered sharply towards the outside rail on the stretch turn. She proved she was the best after a slight correction course, by completing the one-mile test in 1:41 2/5 over a fast track.

The victory was the second stakes win of the season for Dancyville. She races for Amarillo, Texas owners Clarence and Walter Jackson, and is trained by Bennie "Chip" Woolley. The Kentucky-bred daughter of Seeking the Gold-Rose Russe won the Aspen Handicap at Ruidoso Downs June 17.

"She has a tendency to get out on the turn like that," said Woolley, who conditions Dancyville at his Albuquerque base and ships her down for her races at Ruidoso Downs. "But this was the first time she'd ever gone around two turns, and I almost think she thought it was time to quit."

"It was a good race for her though," added the trainer. "I was afraid that Jena Jinsky would burn us out with her speed on the front end, but when I saw Dancyville coast up to her and pull away on the backside I wasn't so worried."

The solid favorite in the short field of five three-year-old fillies, Dancyville returned $3, $2.20 and $2.10.

Top filly breaks Pies Royal Request's streak

The 4-year-old filly Special Phoebe rallied in the final 100 yards to overtake early leader Sixarunner nearing the wire and win the Grade II $37,724 World's Championship Classic, Sunday at Ruidoso Downs.

The victory extended the Chris O'dell trainee's win streak to three, but halted the 14-race skein of Arizona invader Pies Royal Request, who had hopes of breaking the all-time record of 15 straight on Sunday. Pies Royal Request finished seventh, 1.5 lengths behind, in the 10-horse field, all of whom were stakes winners.

"I have no excuses. We just got outrun by better horses today," said Pies Royal Request's jockey Larry Gamez.

The gelding's trainer Wayne Brasher was gracious in defeat.

"We just got beat. He ran super, broke good, and there was no interference in the race. He usually has a real strong kick in the last 200 yards and maybe it just wasn't there today," Brasher said.

Special Phoebe broke well from the eight post in the 440-yard dash, but trailed early leaders Ducky Fred and Sixarunner in the early stages.

Midway down the racing strip, Sixarunner continued to hold a slim lead over Special Phoebe, who had moved into contention. Nearing the wire, Special Phoebe grabbed the lead, then gained a distinct advantage at the finish.

The final time was :21.42, the fastest time of the meet for the distance and only 40/100ths off the world and track record set by Truckle Feature here in 1973.

Meter Me Gone nosed out Ducky Fred for the show position. The entire field covered a total of barely more than three lengths at the wire.

Nicky's (Wilson) horse (Sixarunner) had me beat for the first 350 yards, but she came on strong at the end," said winning jockey Casey Lambert.

"This mare has been awesome all summer," O'dell said. "This race gave her a chance to run with horses that have won a lot of money and she proved she can run with them. You won't find a field much tougher than this was today."

The victory was the third straight stakes win for Special Phoebe, who previously won the Grade II Rainbow Silver Cup and Grade III Jet Deck Handicap.

Today's win earned Special Phoebe an automatic berth in the Grade I Champion Of Champions to be run at Los Alamitos in December.

Special Phoebe earned $18,862 for the win to increase her career bankroll to $115,000 for owner Gwendolyn Eaves of Midland, Texas.

Timber Ghost wins by neck Thursday

Timber Ghost gave jockey Kenney Hart a double for the afternoon when he outran Casmar to post a neck victory in Thursday's $2,000 featured event at Ruidoso Downs.

The second favorite in the eight-horse field of older quarter horses, Timber Ghost, challenged the front-running Casmar in mid stretch and reached the wire in :21.80 at the end of the 440 yards.

Thursday's victory was the first of the season for the sophomore Timber Ghost, who is trained by John Basset and had run a close fourth in allowance company in his previous start. Basset and jockey Kenneth Hart also teamed up to win the Rainbow Derby Consolation July 22 with Evening Snow.

A Utah-bred son of The Signature, Timber Ghost returned $7.40, $4.20 and $3. Casmar, under Billy Peterson, returned $4.20 and $3.20 for his runner-up effort, and third place Chrome N Brass returned $5 to show.

Favored Bug A Bully finished a disappointing seventh in the $7,500 claiming event.

FINISH LINES: Trainer Doyal Roberts reported Thursday that his two-year-old charge Houseafire returned in good shape from his fourth place finish in Monday's Hollywood Juvenile Championship at Hollywood Park.

"He ran a decent race," said Roberts. "He got bumped at the starting gate and got a little far behind. But he came out of it alright."

Owned by El Paso's Margaret Bloss and Margaret Dupont, Houseafire won the Norgor Futurity here earlier this season. Roberts said he will either keep the two-year-old at Ruidoso for the Ruidoso Futurity or possibly send him to Arapahoe Park in Colorado for the Aug. 20 Gold Rush Futurity Trials...Following Thursday's final live race, All American Futurity hopeful Fishers Dash worked 350 yards in a prep for the All American Qualifying Trials, which will be held Friday, Aug. 18.

LINCOLN COUNTY SCRAPBOOK

A glimpse into Lincoln County's past, compiled by Polly E. Chavez with excerpts from "A History of Lincoln County Post Offices."

Ruidoso Downs

To add to the prestige of the already nationally-known Ruidoso Downs Race Track, the track officials wanted a postmark. The village council of Green Tree called a 1958 election regarding changing its name to Ruidoso Downs.

Dorothy R. Parnell, the only postmaster to serve Green Tree, continued in that office after the name change.

After the racetrack started routing its race volume of mail through this office, it soon outgrew its quarters. A new post office was dedicated in 1961, but that location soon proved inadequate, too.

In 1968 Sen. Joseph Montoya gave the dedication address when the post office moved to larger, newer quarters.

When Parnell retired in 1976, the postal service attempted to make the office a station of the Ruidoso office. The community opposed the proposal.

In 1994 Ruidoso Downs had 1,822 postal boxes.

NEW BUSINESSES

Marque Car Wash helps to take a bite out of grime

Every summer, Christopher and Gayle O'Dell would leave Albuquerque for the journey to Ruidoso.

Christopher's job as a racehorse trainer made the annual trip a necessity. Each year it became harder to leave Ruidoso.

The O'Dells researched business opportunities and realized there was not a full service car wash in the area. The idea for Marque Car Wash was born and the couple made Ruidoso their permanent home.

Marque Car Wash officially opened on July 12 of this year, and business has been steady ever since, Gayle said. It's located at 2259 West Highway 70 in Ruidoso Downs.

"We use a brushless system that uses felt instead of brushes, so it eliminates scratches on a vehicle's finish," she explained.

Marque Car Wash prices are $10.95 for the "Show" package, $14.95 for the "Place" package, and $19.95 for the "Win" package, in keeping with the local race horse tradition.

One of the most successful services offered by Marque Car Wash has been the complete express detail, Gayle said.

"With the $59 express detail, you get a hand wax, the upholstery and carpets are steam cleaned, and protectant is put on the seats," Gayle said.

Marque Car Wash also has a pick-up and delivery service for people who don't have time to stop by in person.

The O'Dells have plans to install a quick-lube service during the next three months, Gayle said.

Marque Car Wash is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day and accepts all major credit cards. The phone number is 378-7166.

Stetson Art Center seeks to carve a different kind of niche

by DON HIXON

Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Plans for retirement in Ruidoso went awry for Bob and Elaine Lacouture.

Instead, they have opened a center for the arts that houses a host of activities.

"Bob worked for an oil company and was injured in an explosion in 1989," Elaine said.

Part of the Houston couple's original plan was to rent studio space, because "I took up art as therapy to try to get coordination back in my injured arm," Bob said.

But instead of renting studio space for therapy and enjoying retirement, the Lacoutures decided to lease the old Stetson School building, three miles east of Ruidoso Downs on Highway 70. They opened the Stetson Art Center on May 14.

Bob and Elaine wanted to try a different approach to the arts, they explained. That led them far from the path of retirement: Stetson Art Center combines a gallery with a custom frame shop, exhibition space, classrooms and artists' studios. The center also offers 700 square feet of multi-purpose rooms available for classes, meetings and art shows. More is on the way.

"We are putting in a darkroom for an upcoming photography workshop," Bob said. "That way, if photographers need a darkroom, one will be available."

The Richard Lind Photography Workshop will focus on camera basics and film developing Aug. 14-18. Several day trips will give students the opportunity to take photos during the workshop. The five-day fee is $275.

"We are hoping to serve the art community in different areas," Elaine said. "One thing we want to do is involve the artists in the running of the gallery."

Several other workshops are planned, including a sculpture workshop by David Smith and a pastel and oil painting workshop by Linda Smith.

Stetson Art Center also has live models available every Tuesday night from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

"People can come in and sketch and do portraits," Bob said.

Cost for a Tuesday night session is $8 per person.

Elaine operates the frame shop within the art center.

The gallery portion of the art center includes bronze and clay sculptures, oil, watercolor, acrylic and pastel paintings, pottery, and etchings.

Artists with works on display include James Mack, Rob Etigson, David and Linda Smith, Andreas Goff, Nick Moffett, Gary Morton, Sue Ann Reed, Sandy Scott, Allyn Germany and Dee Wescott.

Stetson Art Center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. every weekday (except Wednesday), and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekends.

Call 378-8475 for information.

A female collie/border collie mix with attractive markings, Cracker Jack is about 4.5 months old and will be a medium-size dog. She was rescued from traffic by the impound officer and she loves children.

Max was rescued by caring citizens who found him wandering loose. The small, three-month old bull terrier mix has short tan hair and a sweet, endearing personality. He needs some mothering.

The temptation to allow a dog the freedom of running loose while the owner hikes a trail or camps can have tragic consequences for the animal.

Some disappear in the wilderness, possibly dying from predator attack or starvation. Others are brought to the shelter, but without tags, said Jim Riggins, manager of the Lincoln County Humane Shelter.

"They may be lucky enough to be adopted into a new home, but the prior owners never know for sure," he said. "That is an agonizing uncertainty for an owner who loves a pet."

Over the July 4th weekend, a couple from Clovis lost one of three dogs they had taken along on a hike while camping in the national forest.

Luckily, 11 days later, the dog still was wearing its collar and tags when it wandered into the yard of a couple who live six miles away and cared enough to call the owners.

Rules governing pets in most national forests require them to be on leashes in many campgrounds, but allow them to be loose (under voice control) on trails.

Dogs who are not used to wild game often become so fixated on chasing a deer or raccoon, they don't realize how far they have run from their owners and then they become disoriented, Riggins said.

"Another element that can confuse the owners' search for a pet is that many of the visitors to the forest are from out of state," he said. "A friendly animal may jump into a pickup for a ride and end up in Lubbock."

Dogs must be kept on leashes in New Mexico state parks and are prohibited in some other areas, including caves open to the public under federal supervision and on some trails in national parks such as Carlsbad Caverns, Yellowstone and the Grand Tetons.

Garage sale Aug. 19

For the past three years, The Ruidoso News has staged an annual garage sale to benefit the spay and neuter fund of the humane society.

Animals that receive that sponsorship become more adoptable, because the fee is lower.

The sale is set for 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 19 in the back parking lot of the newspaper office.

Items for the sale will be accepted starting Tuesday, Aug. 15 at the office at 104 Park Avenue.
