Motorcycle rally draws thousands

Ruidoso will rev up for thousands of motorcycles this week as the 26th annual Golden Aspen Rally gets underway.

Wednesday is the first day of the five-day motorcycle trade show at the Civic Events Center.

The trade show will run from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday; 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday; and 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday.

Booths with motorcycles, hiking equipment, t-shirts, leather clothing, jewelry, and art for sale will be displayed at the civic center.

"There will be something there for everyone," said rally organizer Ron Andrews. "Even if you're not into motorcycles, motorcycle clothing has become a fashion statement these days."

The bikers will parade through town at 10 a.m. Saturday, with motorcycle stunt artists leading the pack.

The Best Biker Buddie contest will be held at 7 p.m. Friday at the civic center. Pets in leathers, etc., will ride with their owners and be judged for their uniqueness.

A motorcycle stunt show will begin at 8 p.m. Friday in the civic center parking lot, with a repeat performance at 3 p.m. Saturday.

"Motorcyclists from 37 states and two foreign countries were represented at last year's rally," Andrews said. "So we expect anywhere from 10,000 to 14,000 during the span of the shows."

The rally has enjoyed the distinction as the American Motorcycle Association's Western National Road Riding Convention for the past three years, Andrews said.

County EMS units collect state bucks

Lincoln County's emergency services received $62,295 from the New Mexico Department of Health this month.

The money is slated for operation, training, system improvements and to purchase vehicles. A total of $2.6 million was allocated statewide. The money comes from the Emergency Medical Services Fund Act.

Ruidoso EMS received $19,925, the highest amount, and the village fire department collected another $4,080. Ruidoso Downs received the least at $3,410. Five collected about $5,000 and Carrizozo received $8,005.

Kidnap story has policemen baffled

by KATHLEEN McDONALD
 Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Police remain baffled by reports from three people at a downtown Ruidoso restaurant who said they saw a young man thrown hog-tied into the back seat of a car Tuesday.

No missing persons have been reported to area police, Detective Wolfgang Born said Friday.

Using a license plate number supplied by one of the witnesses, Albuquerque police questioned a Rio Rancho man Thursday who owned the vehicle. It closely matches the teal-colored vehicle allegedly seen at the Begonia Road kidnapping, Born said.

However, the man who owns the car did not match descriptions given by the abduction witnesses, and he told police he's never even heard of Ruidoso.

Three witnesses (a cook at Chef Lupe's and a married couple in the restaurant) told police they observed the nighttime abduction.

They told police they saw three Mexican or Indian "young looking" men with short hair put another man in the back seat of a teal, compact car.

Witnesses thought the kidnapping victim was a male, but could only see his backside inside the car. He was wearing light-colored pants, they said.

The kidnapping victim had his hands and feet tied behind his back, two witnesses said. The third said his limbs were behind his back, but that witness was unsure whether the limbs were tied.

One of the witnesses asked the car's driver, "What are you doing?" The person was told, "He's really sick."

Meanwhile, a female witness went behind the car to look at the license plate. One of the suspects yelled "Why are you looking at the plate?" and the car sped away, witnesses said.

After the abduction report, police combed village streets and alerted police across Lincoln and Otero counties, but the car was not seen.

The Rio Rancho car owner is 36 years old and wears his hair long, police said. He also has a criminal record, having served 90 days in the state penitentiary for a drug conviction. The sentence included three years probation, police said.

Born said he asked Albuquerque police to photograph the car and forward the picture. The Albuquerque man's car is a Mercury hatchback. Witnesses described the abduction vehicle as a Toyota Celica.

RHS policies change after homecoming fight

by DON HIXON

Ruidoso News Staff Writer
 Because of two fights during the Ruidoso High School homecoming dance Sept. 8, school policy about dances has changed.

Ruidoso High School Principal Ron Hodges addressed the problem at the Ruidoso Municipal School Board meeting Tuesday. Also attending the meeting were five RHS student council members.

"Please don't draw a mental picture of the homecoming dance being a barroom brawl," Hodges said.

The five people involved in the two fights have been either suspended, expelled, arrested or face criminal charges, and three of those were from one family, Hodges said. "No one was hurt and those involved in the fighting were immediately stopped by other students and administrators," Hodges said.

Three of those involved in the fighting were from one family, he said.

"Please don't draw a mental picture of the homecoming dance being a barroom brawl."
 RON HODGES

High school administrators halted the homecoming dance at 10:30 p.m. instead of midnight because of the fighting.

"I want to reassure the parents that there is no safer place for students than RHS," Hodges said. "The people who were suspended and arrested are not indicative of Ruidoso High School students nor do they represent RHS students; as a matter of fact, they can barely represent themselves."

Two of those involved in the fighting were not students, Hodges said, causing a new dance policy to be implemented.

- New rules include:
 — only RHS students in good standing may attend future dances;
 — dance hours will be from 8:30 until 11 p.m.;
 — no one will be admitted after 9:30 p.m.;
 — and all sponsors will be given a list of students who may not attend special events.

"I have zero tolerance for violence, and if you violate the policies you can expect punishment, usually more severe than anticipated," Hodges said. "I would be most surprised if it happened again."

The student council and teacher sponsor Pixie Arthur should be complimented for their hard work for homecoming, he said.

RHS Student Council President Kara Castanon reassured school board members that students at the school are dedicated to keeping the school safe.

"Those who were fighting don't represent the student body," she said.

Consultant reviews danger of skateboard ramps

by KATHLEEN McDONALD
 Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Skateboard ramps donated to Ruidoso's new "North Park" were evaluated Thursday by a private safety consultant.

The consultant will report to the village's liability insurer, New Mexico Self-Insurance Fund, Village Manager Gary Jackson said. The insurance company will then decide if the ramps would create a "substantial increase" to the village's insurance rates.

Jackson predicted the insurance company would offer to cover the ramps, but he didn't know if rates would increase. He said word is expected from the insurer sometime this week. Then village councilors said they will decide whether to put up the ramps.

Currently, the skateboard park (recently named North Park by city officials) has only a flat asphalt surface.

The village is also investigating a specialty insurance to cover the ramps. But this coverage might be difficult to acquire, Jackson said.

"Specialty insurance usually covers business activities, where this is a park," Jackson said.

Jackson said parks department director Debbie Jo Almager has asked the Santa Fe parks department about its skateboard park insurance, but hasn't yet received a response.

Village staff also checked with Farmington's park department and learned that city is self-insured, Jackson said.

The four, two-foot-high ramps (Jackson described them as platforms) were donated last month by local sport shop owners Lana and Derrel Robertson. But the Robertsons were told to hold onto their gift until the village learns its liability risk.

At Tuesday's council meeting, councilors debated about whether the ramps would be too big a risk, and about what was originally promised to skateboarders.

Mayor Pro-tem J.D. James ran the meeting while Mayor Jerry Shaw was on vacation. Shaw's return from the Caribbean was delayed by hurricane Marilyn.

Jackson told the councilors installation of the ramps hadn't been "absolutely denied" in past discussions with the insurers. Rather, staff members were told "a flat surface will not increase liability."

N.M. Self Insurance Fund provides all the village's liability insurance. Staying with the fund "is our best bet," Jackson said, because it offers a good rate structure.

Councilor Joe Gomez predicted that just one ramp accident insurance claim could result in cancella-

County drops road manager position

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

In a money-saving mood, the Lincoln County Commission has decided to operate without a road department manager.

Instead, they promoted Albert Hernandez to road foreman Tuesday. Hernandez has been running the road department since Bill Cupit resigned earlier this year.

They authorized hiring one person to fill Hernandez' previous position. Fred Serna was named assistant foreman.

In another road issue, commissioners agreed to meet with representatives of the City of Alamogordo and the U.S. Forest Service at 9 a.m. Sept. 27 in the Smokey Bear District headquarters to continue a discussion on the Bonito Lake Road.

Forest Service Engineer Geri Rivers said the three entities need to firm up design specifics.

Commissioners have indicated they will contribute labor and equipment toward construction of the road if the other two pay for the materials. The county also will maintain the road, but not without a commitment from Alamogordo and the Forest Service to help with future repair and reconstruction expenses, said Commissioner Wilton Howell.

Of the 8.5 miles of Bonito Lake Road from State Highway 37 to the Argentine-Bonito trailhead, 3.5 miles cross the Lincoln National Forest and 5.3 miles fall under Alamogordo or private ownership, Rivers said.

The county signed an agreement in 1986 that it would maintain the road, Rivers said. To date, the county has only handled snow removal.

Enough money to reconstruct the road — or at least a portion around the lake — has never been available. The threesome lost $200,000 in federal money last year when they failed to move ahead with the project after an apparent miscommunication about a meeting time. Rivers said the amount allocated to the Forest Service is shrinking, down to $150,000 this year.

The project can be done in phases as money permits, Rivers said. Details on road design and financial responsibility can be hashed out during the meeting later this month, commissioners agreed.

Depending on the surface treatment, the project could cost $253,000 to $427,959 for the three miles around the lake, according to estimates from Hernandez.

In other business, the county commission promoted René Montes to full-time status as site manager of the Zia Senior Citizens program in San Patricio (before the unanimous vote to approve the change, Chairman Montes told board members he is related to René Montes by marriage).

White Oaks residents request formation of fire district

Residents of White Oaks told Lincoln County Commissioners Tuesday they want a fire department of their own to protect the historic settlement.

Ruth Birdsong said most of the 65 residents of the settlement are asking the commission to form a fire district. She said a representative from the state fire marshal's office reviewed the community Aug. 18 and determined with 50 houses and commercial buildings, many of historic value, the community was eligible to receive money for the district from the state. The community lies 12 miles northeast from the nearest fire department in Carrizozo.

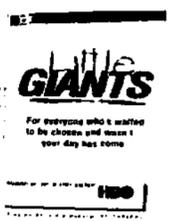

Thirteen volunteers have signed up to train as firefighters and they have elected Curtis Pinson as fire chief and Paul Wetzel as assistant chief.

Commission Chairman Monroy Montes suggested the group consider becoming a substation of Carrizozo initially.

Walt Birdsong said as a separate fire district, the department would be eligible for more money ($21,771) than it would as a substation ($9,000). If the county creates the district, the fire department will petition the U.S. Forest Service to donate or sell a used pumper truck.

Before they consider an action, commissioners asked the group to put together a packet of all of the information and to meet with Connie Hopper, emergency services director for the county, who was not in her office Tuesday.

THE DREAMER

The Mountain World Rejoices after the Rains

The recent heavy rains, with sunny days in between, have put the finishing touches on Mother Nature's picture of a summer wonderland.

From here at Storm Vale you can look over to the north and see the hills shining in pure emerald green, the greenest in many a day.

And over here on the south side of the valley you see mountain meadows of waving grass stretching up to the foot of hills of pinon and cedar, with patches of oakbrush in between.

It has been a long time since I have seen the oakbrush in such full leaf and so bright green. The oakbrush is the pride and joy of the deer, and the standby food for cattle when the grass is scarce.

The favorite summer wildflowers got off to a slow start on account of the dry winter and spring. However, now they are appearing months late. These include the wild four o'clock, the wild snapdragon, the Indian paintbrush and the black-eyed Susan.

The emblems of the prime of summer — the sunflowers — cheer you as you journey up and down the valleys, smiling with their golden faces, waving on their long stalks as you pass them by.

Mid-September Morning

This morning, Sept. 14, after a cool night,

The Dreamer

DAN STORM

the sun appeared over the hill behind light, misty clouds turning them pearly and light purple while the awakening vale below was radiant with sparkling drops of dew decorating pinon, cedar, oakbrush, and the river trees — oak, box elder and walnut.

Cedar branches and grass tops were still, and all the vale was quiet in the peaceful hush of sunrise on the new day.

As the sun rose higher in the sky of light clouds, a light breeze began drifting out of the east, waving the seedpod banners of the gramma grass on their slender stems a foot-and-a-half high.

The Sacred Grass

These little purple flags waving on their grass stems are in their glory today, fringed by golden pollen. The gramma grass is sacred to the Mescalero Apache Indians, who use it in their ceremonies.

These banners waving over the green mountain meadows and up and down the hillside are a living symbol of the approach of the ripening season.

You can understand why the Apache Indians hold the pollen as sacred; for indeed the grass is a true source of life.

A Faint Breath Of Fall in the Air

Daybreak is the coldest hour of the 24; and at the break of day the morning of Sept. 14, I pulled up another blanket.

A little after sunrise the temperature was 48 degrees; not cold, but still a great change from the day before when the early morning temperature was 70.

At sunrise outside, the misty air today was not really frosty, yet reminded me of frost. It made me think that Jack Frost, up at his home at the North Pole, was getting ready to head south on his annual journey, painting the leaves in Alaska, Canada, the United States and northern Mexico.

In fact, along the upper reaches of the Ruidoso Valley, one can see where a few of the leaves on the box elders along the river are turning a very light gold.

Still, fall is quite a way ahead, and let us be grateful for each day and enjoy it to the fullest, and thank God for all our blessings.

Teacher, school district negotiations still unresolved; subcommittees formed to help

by DON HIXON
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Subcommittees of the Ruidoso School District and teachers' collective bargaining teams were formed last week to try to hash out differences this month.

Ruidoso teachers have been working since August without a new contract. School district teachers signed last year's contract so they'd be under some kind of agreement.

The size of the subcommittees are smaller than the complete collective bargaining teams in an effort to make negotiations easier. Both sides hope to come to an agreement on salaries, transfers and reassignments by October, then reconvene with the larger teams.

Cathy Jones and Diarly Stierwalt will be on the Ruidoso Education Association (REA) subcommittee.

"Nothing is negotiated or tentatively agreed to unless it's at the formal meeting with both full negotiating teams," Jones said.

School district Superintendent Mike Gladden and district Director of Instructional Support Paul Wirth will be on the subcommittee negotiating for the school district, Gladden said.

District Business Manager Caron Snow and Ruidoso High School Principal Ron Hodges, who are on the district's team, will not be participating in subcommittee discussions, Gladden said.

Having a principal on the district negotiation team sometimes causes problems because principals have to go back to supervise teachers at school, Gladden said.

The changes prompted the school board to table a Tuesday vote on whether to replace Gladden as district negotiator for collective bargaining procedures with an outside paid professional negotiator.

Collective bargaining officials from the REA and the school district met a week ago to discuss ways to smooth out the process, Gladden said.

Gladden said he was originally considering removing himself from the collective bargaining process, but after the meeting with REA officials a week ago, he changed his mind.

"We had discussions about how to change the direction (of negotiations), and I'm optimistic from the things we talked about that we can turn things around," Gladden said.

Crisis plan revisions

The school district has revised its crisis management plan to address several issues, Gladden told the school board at its Tuesday meeting.

Included in the revised plan are: metal signs for school parking lots asking visitors to report to the principal's office, visitor sign-in sheets at each school, and walkie-talkies for each school site.

"I think that because of the hard work of administrators, we have a definite plan to follow should we face any of these situations," Gladden said. "And we must be prepared at all times."

The potential for drugs on campus, traffic accidents on or near campus, drive-by shootings, unauthorized persons on campus and armed or possible intruders on campus were all mentioned as reasons for the revisions.

The next regular meeting of the Ruidoso Municipal School Board will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 10 at the administration offices, 200 Horton Circle. Call 257-4061 for more information.

School board goals set

The Ruidoso School Board adopted the following goals for the 1995-96 school year during its Tuesday meeting, based on information gathered at an Aug. 18 retreat:

- ensure a safe environment for all students, with an attitude of zero tolerance toward violent or destructive students;

- provide professional development activities for staff, pursue a valid accreditation process, and continue a curriculum to ensure student success;

- nurture a culture which reflects respect for individuals, positive communication and responsible decisionmaking to promote a spirit of open and honest communication between parents, staff, students, community and the Ruidoso Education Association;

- research and update the five-year plan for facilities development; building maintenance;

- and collaborate with the Village of Ruidoso and the New Mexico State Highway Department to develop a plan to ensure student safety and relieve the traffic situation at the White Mountain school site.

AREAS OF EMPHASIS

- continue to implement and monitor a district-wide technology, management, communication and networking system;

- pursue resources for development of programs in Spanish and English, resulting in a comprehensive bilingual program for grades K-6;

- and communicate with area legislators and the community, the need for state funding for salaries, facilities, equipment and supplies.

Five Ruidoso High School sophomores suffered minor cuts and bruises Thursday morning after a car flipped on Gavilan Canyon Road.

State police officer Chad Davis said he issued driver Dawn Rankin, 16, a citation for reckless driving.

The driver and the 15-year-old passengers, Jeremy Patchen, Christie Smith, Cory Brown and Jason Candellia, were all wearing seatbelts.

The victims were taken to the Lincoln County Medical Center after the 11:41 a.m. crash and later released the same day, police said.

The accident occurred about 300 yards south of the county animal shelter, police said. The sophomores were on a lunch break from school.

Rankin was driving her 1990 Ford Escort at an excessive speed eastbound and passed two vehicles in a no passing zone, Davis said.

After returning to her lane, her car left the road toward the right embankment.

Rankin overcorrected her steering, and the car turned sideways. It slid across the road to the northbound lane, rolled over twice while going up an embankment, and became airborne. The car then made a complete turn in the air, and came to a rest right side up facing the northwest, Davis said.

Planning commission may be cut

by KATHLEEN McDONALD
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Two seats on Ruidoso's Planning and Zoning Commission might be eliminated, decreasing P&Z's size to seven members.

Village councilors voted Tuesday to hold a public hearing on the proposal at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 26.

"We're having a hard time finding nine good members at this point," commission chairman Mike Radziewicz said. "But we do have seven good, dedicated members."

Currently, there are only eight members on the commission, but often only seven or fewer show up for the bi-monthly meetings. Reaching a quorum of five members is difficult at times.

Until last month, the commission had nine members, but Chay Rennick stepped down to serve as its legal councilor.

If the reduction proposal is approved at the hearing, Mayor Jerry Shaw will either request a commissioner volunteer to leave, or will dismiss a person.

Also at Tuesday's meeting, councilors:

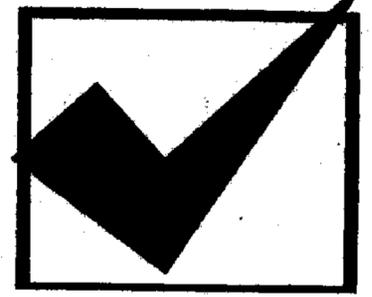

— approved a recommendation to redesign the Royal Drive and Cree Meadows Drive intersection;

— approved subdivision of the Driver tract (Sierra Mall) into four tracts. The approval is contingent upon a utility extension agreement with Century 21/Aspen Real Estate, shared parking among the four tracts, and easement covenants.

KNOW THE FACTS!

Why You Should Vote YES on Tuesday, September 26...

It's important that you know the facts!

FACT: Why Is This Election Being Held

The State Legislature is requiring all two year colleges or instructional centers in New Mexico to have a 2 mill or $2 per thousand dollar property tax approved by voters before June 1996. ENMU in Ruidoso currently has only 1 mill. Approval is required in order for the Legislature to continue sending the same level of State dollars to the Ruidoso Center.

FACT: Who Can Vote

Registered voters who vote in Ruidoso School District elections may also vote in this special college election.

FACT: Where To Vote

All voting will take place at the Ruidoso Schools Superintendent's office, 200 Horton Circle, behind Family Practice Associates and Varnadore Cleaners, between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

FACT: The Election Issue

"Shall an additional tax of $1 per thousand of net taxable value be collected to operate the ENMU-Ruidoso Instructional Center?"
For or Against

FACT: The Cost to the Voter

The college portion of your tax bill will increase by approximately $2 per month. This estimate is based on a change from the current $1 level to the proposed $2 per thousand dollars of the net taxable value, not the market value, of your property.

FACT: What The ENMU Dollar Does in the Local Economy

ENMU will spend nearly $1 million locally this year. Also, nearly $350,000 in two separate construction projects is being spent. The economic boost of these dollars is estimated to be more than $2.94 million in steady, non-seasonal, year-around business and employment activity.

FACT: The Human Story at ENMU

ENMU students are the working adults of our community—your neighbors, friends, and family—more than 500 of them each semester. Increasingly, it's our new high school grads, too!

FACT: If the Proposed Tax is Defeated

If the proposed tax is defeated, the Legislature will reduce its contribution to the operation of the Ruidoso Center from $308,000 in 1995 to approximately $50,000 in 1996. The University will have to significantly reduce its services to the community.

Call 257-2120 or 258-4089 for more information.

Ruidoso boots NMMI behind Schrader's five goals; Warriors now 6-3

Danny Schrader scored five goals to lead the Ruidoso Warriors to a 6-1 soccer victory over New Mexico Military Institute Saturday. The victory improved Ruidoso to 6-3 overall and extended the Warriors' winning streak to five games.

"Danny was just above himself. He was just in a scoring mode," said Ruidoso head coach Dean Hood.

The Warriors gave their best all-around effort of the season, Hood said. It was also the team's best defensive game, he added.

Leaf Anderson scored the other Ruidoso goal.

Hood also singled out the play of senior keeper Matt Norbury. Norbury had several key saves, including one off a penalty kick.

The Warriors will have a week of practice before hosting at 1 p.m. Roswell Saturday.

Carrizozo breaches Covenant in football

El Paso Covenant was no match for the Carrizozo Grizzlies in six-man football Saturday night. Zozo breezed to a 46-0 win in its home opener and improved to 3-0 overall.

"They were young and inexperienced," Grizzlies head coach Sid Wright said of his team's opponent.

Carrizozo led 40-0 midway through the second quarter. The Grizzlies scored a touchdown in the third quarter, and the game was called because of the 45-point rule.

Wright named junior end Justin Serna his offensive player of the game. Serna scored two touchdowns for the Grizzlies.

Junior safety Bud Maynard led the Zozo defensive charge, Wright said.

Carrizozo hosts No. 2 ranked Ramah Friday at 7:30 p.m.

"We will be tested against Ramah," Wright said.

Former Tiger standout earns coaches' award

Michael Fish, who was a three-sport star for Capitan, was given the "Pride Award" by Eastern New Mexico University coach Harold "Bud" Elliott last week. The Pride Award is given to the top scout team player.

Fish plays defensive back for the Greyhounds. The 1995 Capitan grad starred in three sports for the Tigers, and led the football team to the Class A state championship game as a quarterback last fall.

Cloudcroft evens mark at 2-2 with Tatum victory

The Cloudcroft Bears improved to 2-2 by beating the Tatum Coyotes, 27-6, Friday.

Senior tailback Neil LaSalle scored four touchdowns and rushed for 179 yards. Fullback Josh Turnage balanced the Bears' attack with 87 yards on the ground.

Cloudcroft scored a touchdown in each quarter. LaSalle's scores came from 50 yards, 18 yards, 20 yards and four yards.

The Bears visit undefeated Fort Sumner at 7 p.m. Friday.

Open gymnasium hours

Open gym hours for the fall at the Ruidoso Middle School gym are from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays.

Adult basketball league play and adult volleyball league play both begin Oct. 9. Basketball league play is Tuesday and Thursday nights; volleyball league play is Monday and Wednesday nights.

RHS 'smart bomb' surprises Tularosa

by LAURA CLYMER
Ruidoso News Sports Writer

OK, consider this.... You're the coach of a high school football team that likes to run the ball offensively and then cram it down its opponents' throat defensively. Your team is traveling to play a long-time rival. Your team lost three of six fumbles in its last outing, but still won.

By the way, it's been raining all day.

What do you do on your first play from scrimmage with the ball on your own 15-yard line?

Simple. Try to run the ball and get it away from your goal line.

Right? Wrong.

Ruidoso coach Les Carter and his coaching staff saw something they could exploit when they scouted Tularosa, and then they purposely avoided Ruidoso's tendency to run the ball.

What it all meant was an 85-yard touchdown strike from junior quarterback Pascal Enjady to senior receiver Brandon Emello on the opening play of the Warriors' battle with host Tularosa Friday night. The Warriors rode that momentum to a 15-0 shutout of the Wildcats.

"We saw that they had been beat deep," Carter said of the Wildcats. "If they were thinking run — which they were — we thought could get behind them (Tullie's defensive backs) and we did."

Emello's height and speed played a critical part, and so did the element of surprise. Carter said the play could be used only once, otherwise the Tullie defense would adjust.

The play worked as scripted and gave Ruidoso both a 7-0 lead and the momentum. Before the fired-up Wildcat crowd could dry off the wet bleachers, the Warriors led 7-0.

The unsuspected scoring strike gave the Warriors an edge for the first quarter, Carter said. It was enough to let Ruidoso establish its running game offensively and let the stingy Warrior defense settle in.

After the first-play fireworks, the game became the defensive struggle many predicted. Neither team mounted much of a scoring threat until the second half.

"We changed a few blocking assignments and we were able to move the ball (in the second half)," Carter said.

Tullie's defense started keying on senior running back Kyle Humphreys as well, and that opened up opportunities for fullback Rex Comanche. Comanche took full advantage, rushing for 108 yards on 20 carries.

Humphreys finished with 80 yards on 16 carries. His 24-yard touchdown run with three minutes left in the game sealed the win for the Warriors, who improved to 3-1 overall.

Ruidoso's Brian Moore sacked the Tullie quarterback in the endzone for a safety and made the final score 15-0.

Tularosa, ranked No. 2 in the Class AA poll, fell to 3-1.

"They played hard. They have a real solid ball team," Carter said of Tularosa. "They're going to do well in 2A."

Unlike last week, the Warriors were able to hold on to the ball despite the Wildcats' efforts.

"They had seen us, so they were trying to tackle the ball," Carter said.

Enjady was intercepted only once and the Warriors didn't lose a fumble.

Ruidoso finished with 287 yards total offense and 11 first downs, while holding the Wildcats to 110 yards in offense.

Tularosa's only real scoring threat came in the third quarter when the Wildcats got the ball inside the Warriors' 20-yard line.

Emello stopped the drive when he intercepted the ball on the 5-yard line and returned it to the 20-yard line.

Warriors use Roswell invite for good looks

by LAURA CLYMER
Ruidoso News Sports Writer

Ruidoso cross country coach Ronnie Maskew's objective at the Pecos Valley Invitational was to get a look at his Warriors — a good, close look.

"You always look at the competition, but we wanted to get away from that and watch our own runners more closely," Maskew said.

Just what exactly was Maskew and assistant coach Yelena Temple looking for in Roswell Saturday?

"Technique. Head movement, where their feet strike," Maskew answered.

Now is the time for Maskew and Temple to correct any running technique problems the Warriors have. Ruidoso has two of its biggest meets coming up Sept. 30 and Oct. 7.

"The kids ran well. We had a hard week of practice and didn't slack off like we normally do at the end of the week," Maskew said.

Usually the Warriors run hard on Mondays and Tuesdays for conditioning. Wednesdays are for a workout of medium difficulty, and then Thursdays are for light practices. The team doesn't do much running at all on Fridays, because that is usually the day before a meet, Maskew explained.

But the Warriors trained hard all week and will continue to until Wednesday, Maskew said. Ruidoso runs Saturday at the Clovis Invitational. Then the team will set its sights on the Sept. 30 Gallup Invitational and the Lubbock Invitational.

The Gallup meet is especially important for two reasons: 1) it is the same course used in the state championship meet, and 2) it is the first time Maskew's Warriors will run against the traditionally-strong northern New Mexico schools.

In Lubbock, the Warriors will compete with at least 300 other runners in their division. Every school in west Texas with a cross country program will run in Lubbock Oct. 7.

"Being in those big, tough meets gives you good experience," Maskew said.

Maskew's boys team split itself into junior varsity and varsity teams for the Roswell meet.

"We didn't run as a complete team," Maskew said.

The girls ran the 3-mile course for the first time this season. Ruidoso finished fifth of eight teams.

Erica Romero was the top RHS finisher. Her time of 22:45 was good enough for seventh overall of 50 runners.

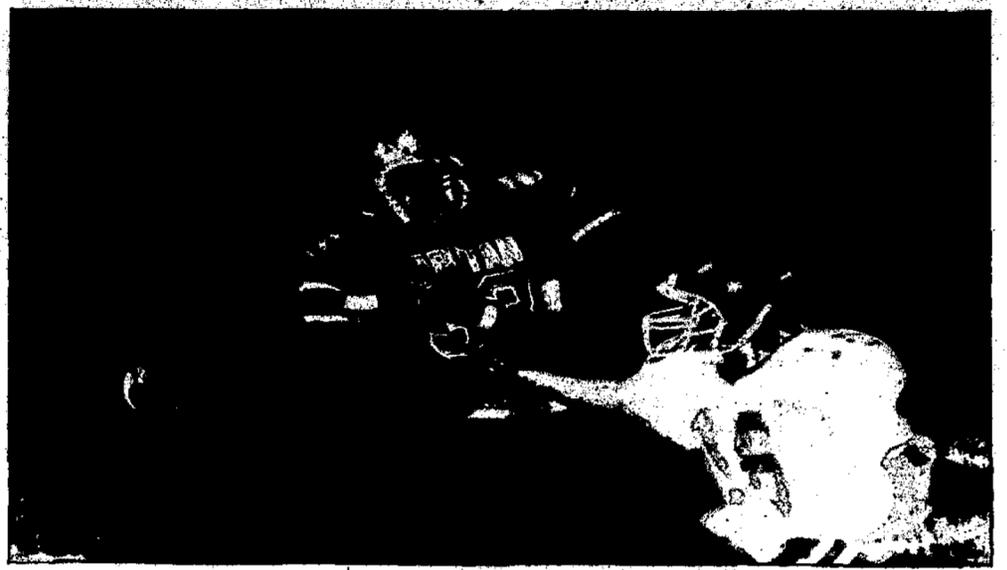

"They were real close to where we thought they would be," Maskew said of the girls' times.

The Warrior girls will work on "speed endurance" this week, Maskew said. "They can run the distance — we just need them to run the race at a faster pace."

Capitan's Alan Hazel couldn't quite find the handle of this pass from senior quarterback Josh Peralta during the Tigers game with Hagerman Friday. The Tigers didn't have any trouble with the Bobcats, racking up more than 350 yards in total offense.

Capitan blanks Bobcats, 21-0

by LAURA CLYMER
Ruidoso News Sports Writer

A soggy field and steady drizzle didn't slow down Capitan's football team in the first half of its Friday night contest with Hagerman.

The Tigers raced to a 21-0 halftime lead, and went on to win by that same score. It was Capitan's third victory in as many tries. Hagerman falls to 0-3.

After an impressive first half of play, it looked like the Tigers would give the homecoming faithful even more to cheer about when they took the second-half kickoff and drove to the Bobcats' 1-yard line. But two costly penalties helped to stall the drive.

Not only did the missed scoring opportunity pump up the Bobcats, but it also seemed to shake up the Tigers.

Capitan head coach Ed Davis sensed his team let up after that failure to score in the opening drive. In its three games, Davis said the Tigers have played well for just three halves. Yet despite the inconsistent play at times, Capitan is 3-0.

"We have the potential to be a good ball club," Davis said. The Tigers just need to be focused for four quarters, he added.

Capitan looked plenty formidable in the first half. The Tigers scored on their first drive when senior fullback Wayne LaBelle broke free for a 32-yard touchdown run with 6:10 left in the first quarter.

Hagerman's only real scoring threat came in that opening quarter. The Bobcats recovered a muffed punt in Capitan territory. Hagerman came away empty-handed when it missed a field goal.

The Tigers continued to control the ball and the clock in the second quarter. Senior running back Neil Montes scored on an 8-yard run with 9:23 left in the quarter.

LaBelle's run for the 2-point conversion gave the Tigers a 14-0 lead.

A Montes interception set up Capitan's final score. LaBelle's run to the left for 15 yards gave the Tigers first-and-goal from the 1-yard line. Senior quarterback Josh Peralta scored with 2:24 left in the half.

Davis attributed the Tigers' inconsistent play in the second half to the homecoming hoopla and poor timing.

Capitan was rusty offensively, not because of the Friday night rain but because of the layoff between games, Davis said. The Tigers' Sept. 8 contest with Estancia was postponed because of lightning.

"A week layoff definitely affected our timing," Davis said. "Those open weeks this early in the season can't help but put you back two steps."

The Tigers still managed to put up impressive offensive numbers. Capitan racked up 19 first downs on 334 yards rushing and 41 yards passing. Peralta was 3-for-9.

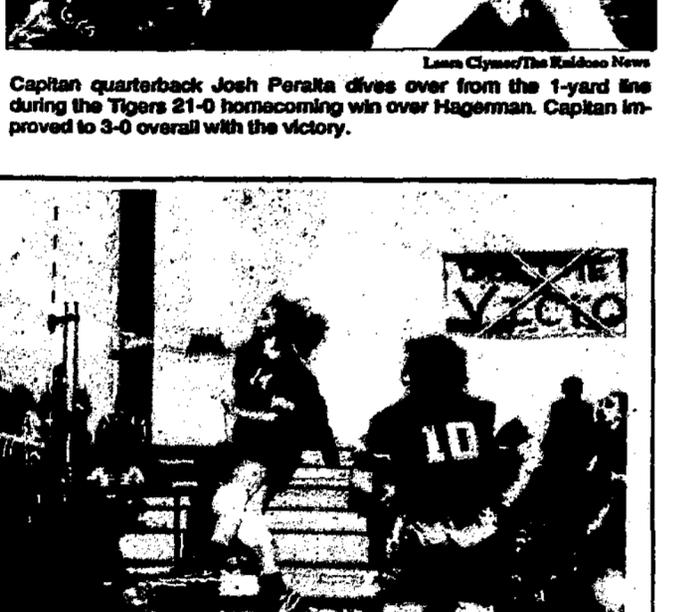

Montes, who is averaging more than 100 yards rushing a game, scampered in and around the Bobcat defense for 136 yards. His teammate, LaBelle, simply ran over the Bobcats for 101 yards. Together, they are averaging more than 200 yards a game.

The Capitan defense limited Hagerman to a mere 67 yards in total offense. It was the third time this season Capitan has held its opponent to less than 100 total offensive yards. The Tigers intercepted three HHS passes and recovered two fumbles.

"The one place where I felt like we really broke down — it has been a strong point for us the five years I've been here — was our kicking game," Davis said. The Tigers missed some coverages and fumbled a punt return.

"We'll work on the kicking game and staying in focus for four quarters," said Davis, explaining what the Tigers will work on in practice this week.

"I think we would be lot further along had we played at Estancia, but we have to put that behind us," Davis added.

Capitan quarterback Josh Peralta dives over from the 1-yard line during the Tigers 21-0 homecoming win over Hagerman. Capitan improved to 3-0 overall with the victory.

Lincoln County war

Carrizozo and Corona squared off Thursday for a volleyball version of the Lincoln County war. The Grizzlies got the better of the Cardinals, sweeping the hard-fought match 15-6, 15-7 and 15-3. Zozo improved to 5-0 overall. Corona suffered its first loss of the season and is 4-1 overall. Above, Corona's Shayla Marshall attempts to get a kill past Carrizozo's Kerl Shaffer.

Lack of health insurance called countywide problem

by DON HIXON
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Half of Lincoln County's residents have no health insurance, and that proves there is a need for more health care services in this county, a Lincoln County Medical Center survey consultant told the medical community Thursday.

Physicians, counselors and others involved in the health care arena met at LCMC Thursday to hear the findings of the survey during a community meeting. The meeting focused on the need for cooperation within the health care community.

The needs assessment survey was compiled by Rocky Mountain Consulting of Corrales. It is based on responses from 300 Lincoln County residents and has a 6% margin of error.

Consultant Jan Randolph told the gathering that 49% of those surveyed said they had no health insurance.

"That is a staggering number," she said.

Survey results indicate that 59% of those uninsured people used the hospital emergency room for their primary health care; 76% do not see a doctor on a regular basis or when they think they need to, because of the expense; 29% were turned away from a doctor's office because they couldn't pay; and 12% were turned away because the doctor's office had a full practice and could accept no additional patients.

"Other areas of the country are successful because they work together. What needs to be determined is if there is sufficient interest to develop a partnership form of health care system."

JAN RANDOLPH
CONSULTANT

Based on survey results, consultants listed several countywide concerns:

- need for health education activities like basic first aid information through school programs and social organizations;
- increased behavioral health services like additional family counseling programs, outpatient services and prevention of drugs and drinking while driving;

- more home health services for people age 65 and over, including adult daycare, transportation and pharmacy services with lower medicine costs;
- need for more doctors, dental services and alcohol and drug treatment facilities;
- wider acceptance of a sliding fee schedule for those with limited incomes.

"Now that we know the need, we have the opportunity to structure a response to the problem," Randolph said. "These problems can only be solved with a systematic effort."

Local medical personnel need a information clearinghouse, she added. The information source would need to be a continuously updated computerized listing of resources, she said.

"Other areas of the country are successful because they work together," Randolph said. "What needs to be determined is if there is sufficient interest to develop a partnership form of health care system."

Several medical officials at the meeting said they agreed with the consultant's recommendations.

Scenic committee hopeful about grant money

by DON HIXON
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Ruidoso's Scenic Byways Ad Hoc Committee members have their fingers crossed that October will bring good news about a half million dollar grant.

New Mexico's Billy the Kid route, which includes much of Lincoln County, was designated as an official state scenic byway June 8.

Because of the designation, Ruidoso is seeking a federal grant for $628,000 to pay for the construction of a regional interpretive center at a location yet to be determined. The committee hopes to hear a yes or no on the grant by mid-October, committee chairman

Bill Hirschfeld said.

The proposed interpretive center would be designed to provide insight and information about the Billy the Kid area for visitors, the project description says.

The grant project also includes the design, publishing and distribution of a regional brochure focusing on the cultural, natural and historic aspects of the Billy the Kid route, and signs for the interpretive center.

Committee members Bill Hirschfeld, Bill Chance, Jon Sherry, David Vigil and Frank Potter met Thursday to discuss the byways project. Ruidoso Village

Manager Gary Jackson was also present.

"Right now we are just going to wait and see what happens with the grant," Hirschfeld said.

The committee will also begin developing a visitor's profile to help decide where to build the proposed regional interpretive center.

At last week's meeting, the committee discussed ways to collect data about demographics and attitude profiles of visitors.

"We may use some of the information gathered by the racetrack," Hirschfeld said. "They check license plates as part of their own survey."

LINCOLN COUNTY SCRAPBOOK

A glimpse into Lincoln County's past, compiled by Polly E. Chavez with excerpts from "A History of Lincoln County Post Offices."

Bonito City

Bonito City, a silver mining town established about 1880, was located in the widest part of Bonito Canyon, the site of which is now covered by Bonito Lake. Charles Metcalfe was appointed postmaster on Aug. 24, 1882. Around 500 inhabitants populated Bonito City in 1882. After Metcalfe, other postmasters who followed were: Lewis W. Bourne, 1884; Herman Construk, 1901; George Braune, 1910; Jacob G. Huber, 1884; Chauncey R. Booker, 1899 and Jacob G. Huber, 1899. The office was discontinued on January 31, 1911. The mail was sent to Parsons. The most remembered incident about Bonito City was a mass murder. Seven people were killed, including four members of the Mayberry family.

You can look at Jupiter and Antares and test the old adage, "stars twinkle, planets don't." You'll see that it's not always correct. Planets do sometimes twinkle a bit when the night air is very unsteady, full of little heat waves where temperatures mix.

Property values signal this county's popularity

Local governments in Lincoln County have held the line on their 1995 taxes (you'll get your bill in November). Most actually have a cut in their mill levy rate and thus kept tax levels approximately the same, since property values rose significantly. It's not unheard of for some governments to have mill levy rates stay the same when property values rise, thus quietly collecting more tax money.

If you're selling your home, the 18% overall increase in county property values is great news. If you're trying to buy, the news isn't so great.

A sizable number of the buyers are from California and Texas; Ruidoso townhomes are popular with Mexicans, County Assessor Patsy Serna says. She's noticed an increase in the number of California buyers, who are still in a mass exodus from their state.

Such buyers often are willing to pay a pretty penny in states where homes don't have California prices, thereby inflating property values artificially at a quick rate.

It looks like the modestly priced homes are also remaining popular, witnessed by the 31% increase in residential values for the Capitan area. That's the largest increase in value for any area in the county. It's good to see that the loss of Fort Stanton jobs hasn't hurt home prices there.

It's been a decade since total property values rose 18% in a year, Serna recalls. It shows the popularity of Ruidoso and Lincoln County is at a peak. Hopefully, this peak doesn't signal a subsequent drop in values as it has in the past.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thanks for the warm welcome and enthusiastic help

TO THE EDITOR:

On behalf of the management and staff of Lone Star Airlines, I wish to thank The Ruidoso News, the business community and the Chamber of Commerce and their selfless volunteers for the enthusiastic reception you gave us on our inaugural flight into Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

It is our pledge to bring to Ruidoso, Mesalero and their surrounding communities the finest and most convenient air service possible linking this area to the hub city of Dallas/Ft. Worth, El Paso, Mexico, the nation and the rest of the world.

It is our hope you will think of Lone Star Airlines as your airline and give us your maximum support so we may grow and prosper together. I assure you we are looking forward to a long and happy relationship.

LCMC staff runs ER 'efficiently and with heart'

TO THE EDITOR:

Recently, during a visit to Ruidoso, my 12-year-old daughter had the misfortune of becoming ill. Her fever soared to an alarming 105 degrees and we began to panic.

What do you do when you're 300 miles from home and your family doctor can't be reached by phone because it is a Saturday?

Taking the advice of my aunt and uncle, with whom we were staying, we drove to the emergency room of Lincoln County Medical Center.

Now, I've been to emergency rooms before and must say I was not looking forward to the chaos usually associated with ERs.

In my experience, emergency rooms are usually associated with long waits, cranky personnel (can you blame them?), lengthy paperwork and more confusion.

Reluctantly, as I entered the front doors, a certainly different revelation began to unravel. Was I in the wrong place? The reception area was very appealing, nicely decorated and the atmosphere cool, clean and calm.

The volunteer sitting behind the reception desk was a gentleman. He was eager to help and treated us with kindness and concern. He led us back to admitting, and, once again, we were pleasantly surprised to find a warm smile behind the desk.

The paperwork took about 10 minutes and we were back in the waiting room. Soon, we were called to the emergency room.

The rest of the story is similar. The nurses were very warm and treated us with concern. The physician on duty was Dr. Vandergriff. She diagnosed the problem and treated my daughter accordingly.

The staff was very professional, yet personable. It may sound to you as if my daughter was the only patient that day, but she wasn't. There were numerous cardiac patients and several others with problems of which I was not aware.

The staff simply knew how to run their emergency room efficiently and with heart. We are home and well now, but I will not soon forget Lincoln County Medical Center and its impressive staff.

Ruidoso and the surrounding area citizens are lucky to have such a wonderful facility.

Congratulations to your community for taking great pride in making your medical center one of the very finest.

ENMU provides opportunity to improve oneself

TO THE EDITOR:

As a student of ENMU, I would like to tell the people in the Ruidoso School District how important it is to vote for the mill levy Sept. 26.

The mill levy is such a small price to pay to keep ENMU functioning. If the voters decline this tax, ENMU will be crippled financially. Funding could be reduced from $308,000 to only $50,000, which would result in a severe reduction in classes offered.

Returning to school has been such a positive force in my life. ENMU has given me the opportunity not only to better my life through higher education, but has become a stepping stone toward a lifelong dream—a college degree.

If you are not seeking credit for a degree, take a class for fun. The instructors are great.

Remember to vote 'yes' on the mill levy Sept. 26. What a sad day for Ruidoso should the ENMU campus be forced to close.

Carolyn Tue

The human side of ENMU-Ruidoso

TO THE EDITOR:

The purpose of this letter is to encourage the voters of Ruidoso to vote 'yes' for ENMU on Sept. 26. By voting yes, you are giving education, knowledge, and opportunity to everyone in Ruidoso.

As a faculty member, I'd like to invite you to visit our administrative offices and learn about our academic operation firsthand. See the schedule of classes we offer, and the degrees that are available through our academic structure.

I'd also like you to take a minute and view the human structure of our college, namely the staff, students and faculty.

Everyone has a story to tell about ENMU. I have numerous stories I could share with you, but one stands out in particular—my own story.

As most of you know, professional jobs are not always plentiful in Ruidoso. When my job as village clerk in Ruidoso Downs terminated by law three years ago, I was grateful for my part-time teaching position at ENMU. During these past few years, there were times that teaching for ENMU on a part-time basis was my only means of support.

If ENMU had not been in Ruidoso, I would have had to leave my family, friends, and these beautiful mountains I love and the place I call home. Teaching has not only allowed me to live in Ruidoso, but as a profession, it has given me personal gratification in knowing I am helping others as well as myself, to grow and learn.

Being an instructor at ENMU gives me a front-row seat in observing students grow, in gaining knowledge about themselves and their environment. My reward is not so much monetary, but more intrinsically rewarding. Hearing, seeing, and watching students gain confidence in themselves and finding their ability to be productive citizens, in growing toward a goal of achievement is an intrinsic value that I find very rewarding.

Last, but not least, speaking as a professional counselor, education is one of our biggest coping skill techniques, in dealing with life's problems. When one is given the opportunity to be educated then the problems one faces can be more readily handled in finding a solution.

Education may not be a definite means to an end, but it is definitely a means for advancement economically, personally and professionally. Vote 'yes' for ENMU. Give our young people, and our working people an opportunity to grow in their own community.

Do it for you, your family, friends and neighbors. Do it the beneficial way, vote 'yes' for ENMU on election day, Tuesday, Sept. 26, 1995.

Hospital was there when it was needed

TO THE EDITOR:

I was recently an emergency patient experiencing heart failure while summering in Ruidoso. The treatment and care I received at the Lincoln County Hospital was unequalled.

The ICU staff and Dr. Christopher Robinson were excellent! Ruidoso and Lincoln County should be really proud of its hospital and staff.

If there is ever a city or county fundraising drive for expansion of the facility, I will be among the first to make a donation. (How about it Texans; let's show our appreciation if the need arises!)

Once again, I say "thanks" Lincoln County Hospital! You were there with professionals when I needed you!

Support election to keep college here

TO THE EDITOR:

It has been a privilege to attend ENMU-Ruidoso for the past two years. Ruidoso is my home and fortunately I can pursue my education without paying high tuition and travel costs.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Dr. Jim Miller and his staff for everything they have done for me. I would also like to encourage all registered voters to exercise their rights on Sept. 26 and support the mill levy that will keep our college here.

POOP SCOOP

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The corpses of skunks along the edge of the highways is grisly testimony to the movement of the near-sighted critters this time of year in preparation for winter.

The four different species of skunks in the United States all exhibit similar habits, said Jim Riggins, manager of the Lincoln County Humane Society.

All are considered beneficial animals. Skunks are nocturnal and they eat a steady diet of mostly insects, but will eat eggs, fruit, mice and smaller animals.

However, skunks do show a higher incidence of rabies. Skunks seen in daylight hours, especially those appearing fearless of humans, should be avoided and animal control called.

Mother skunks also will fight as fiercely as a badger to protect their young.

Five or ten young are born each May and remain in the burrow for two months. Skunks routinely switch burrows, which complicates their control, Riggins said.

The first sign of skunk infestation generally is the odor accompanied by a four to six inch hole at the foundation of buildings or woodpiles. Small shallow holes also will appear in lawns as the skunk forages for grubs.

Riggins recommended these steps to evict skunks:

1. Check suspected dens by piling loose dirt or pine needles over the holes. Except for the coldest times of winter, if the hole is undisturbed for two to three days, the den probably is vacant and the hole can be permanently sealed.

2. Install a one-way door over den entrances. The skunk can leave, but not re-enter. The simplest method is to build a square box frame out of scrap lumber and either bury it or stake it down to frame the hole. Stuff a piece of stiff mesh over the outside of the opening. Staple or wire it tightly to the box frame only at the top. This creates a hinge allowing the skunk to force it open from the inside, and it closes behind the skunk as it leaves. Do it in the early spring or after August to avoid trapping babies inside.

3. Remove things that attract skunks. Don't leave pet food out at night. Fill openings to sheds, foundations and other cavities with debris such as rock, concrete, boards or screening.

Skunks tend to be lazy opportunists and don't labor long to create a den.

If trapping is necessary, use a humane box-capture trap.
