Injured tourists flood hospital ER

The emergency room staff at the Lincoln County Medical Center was swamped over Labor Day weekend tending the cuts, burns and broken bones of tourists.

Enjoying the great outdoors carried a pricetag of pain and medical treatment for campers who injured themselves in the forest around Ruidoso, a hospital spokesman said.

One person fell into a campfire.

"We had lots of lacerations from campers falling, and a couple of fractures," the spokesman said. "A few came in with altitude sickness, and a lot with stomach flu."

Nine out of 10 treated over the holiday weekend were tourists, she said.

Wild horses find new home

Thirty wild horses from White Sands Missile Range have arrived at their new home, the Wild Horse Sanctuary in Shingletown, Calif.

Transportation and arrangements at the northern California sanctuary were arranged by the International Society for the Protection of Mustangs and Burros, based in Scottsdale, Ariz.

These horses were among the 150 which were available for adoption from the military test facility this summer. More than 75 horses had already adopted in July and August. Those horses not adopted or taken to the sanctuary were turned back out onto the two-million-acre test facility.

Missile range officials and ISPMB have worked together on the feral horse issue since 1994. The ISPMB was part of a state and federal agency task force set up by the New Mexico governor. The purpose of the task force was to prevent future die-offs of missile range horses from overpopulation and overgrazing.

During 1995 more than 1,500 missile range horses were successfully captured, then adopted by members of the public. White Sands officials plan to keep the missile range horse population at about 200 animals. Environmental studies indicate a herd that size should be able to survive, even in drought conditions.

Even pre-teen eyes were glued to the track Monday to see the world's richest quarterhorse race at Ruidoso Downs. This year's track attendance was 181,561, up 3%, but betting was down 14%, at $15.6 million. Monday's big race attracted 10,327 fans.

Ruidoso Downs still won't close, owner promises

 1996 attendance at Ruidoso Downs Race Track finished a neck ahead of last year, but it's not enough to win the race of survival in the long run, track officials say.

Drops in total handle and per capita betting mean the track will lose $2.3 million this year. The track lost $2.3 million in 1995 and $1.2 million the year before.

Still, Ruidoso Downs Race Track owner R.D. Hubbard says he'll keep the track open next year.

"The numbers need to be about twice that as far as attendance," said Ruidoso Downs Race Track General Manager Rick Baugh. Twice the attendance might make up for individuals betting less at the windows, he added.

"I don't think there's anybody in the state that tried harder than we have. We could spend a whole lot of money on marketing and on other things, but it's a proven fact that we've got to have the relief," Baugh said.

The relief track officials seek is video slot machines, Baugh said. For the last two years, tracks

Prisoner escapes through Ruidoso hospital's window

by KATHLEEN McDONALD

A female prisoner remained loose last night after escaping from the Ruidoso hospital Saturday and allegedly burglarizing a home.

The woman escaped from a Torrance County sheriff's deputy, who took her to the Lincoln County Medical Center because she said she drank disinfectant while being transported to the Lincoln County jail, police said.

Tara Spangler, 22, is suspected of burglarizing a Monjeau Drive home after escaping early Saturday, detective Wolfgang Born said.

Spangler is blonde, about five feet, six inches tall, and 170 pounds. She was last seen wearing a hospital gown, but is believed to have changed into black jeans and a blue exercise jacket, Born said.

Anyone encountering Spangler should use caution and contact police, Chief Lanny Maddox said.

"There's nothing to indicate she's dangerous other than her suicidal tendencies," Maddox said. "But any escaped prisoner has the propensity to be dangerous if cornered."

The woman had been arrested in Moriarty for violating her probation on an assault conviction, and was being taken to the jail in Carrizozo because Torrance County lacks a female holding facility, Born said.

Enroute to Carrizozo, Spangler told the officer she drank some cleaning disinfectant she found in the restroom at a rest area in Corona, Born related.

She was taken to the hospital in Ruidoso around 5 a.m. Saturday. The deputy, Don Lyles, uncuffed the woman while she was in an observation room. Lyles stood outside the room so Spangler could change into a hospital gown. He soon learned, however, that as he waited outside, his prisoner crawled out the window.

About 20 minutes later, police responded to a residential alarm. They found a window had been shattered and lights in the unoccupied house illuminated. Officers searched the area for a suspect and contacted the homeowners in Texas, Born said.

On Sunday, the homeowner said he found a bloody nightgown and some of his wife's clothes near the house. A navy blue warm-up jacket with turquoise stripes, black jeans and white tennis shoes were missing from the house.

Police believe Spangler has the clothes, Born said.

Downs officer disciplined for selling off camcorder

Patrol supervisor Ray Montes of the Ruidoso Downs Police Department could lose his job for pawning village equipment, Police Chief David Hightower said.

The investigation will be turned over to an agency outside the Downs Police Department, probably the district attorney's office, and Montes could be charged with embezzlement, Hightower said.

"I am exhausting administrative remedies first," he said. "We're handling it interdepartmentally."

Montes has been placed on administrative leave and Hightower is recommending his dismissal. The Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees must vote on whether to fire Montes based on Hightower's recommendation.

Hightower concluded Montes pawned a camcorder with an estimated value of more than $250.

Embezzlement of more than $250 is a fourth-degree felony, with a maximum penalty of 18 months in jail and/or a $5,000 fine. People convicted of felonies are not allowed to be police officers in New Mexico.

The camcorder was issued to Montes for use on DWI traffic stops.

Montes could not be reached for comment about the allegation. Hightower said Montes told him a friend loaned him a similar camcorder, and it was that camera Montes thought he was pawning. The friend confirmed this with Hightower and said he didn't mind if Montes sold the equipment.

Montes has been with the Ruidoso Downs Police Department since March 1991. He has received several commendations for police work.

Cat rescued after five long days in tree

by DIANNE STALLINGS
 Ruidoso News Staff Writer

For five days and nights, Milo cried his unhappiness from his precarious perch on a limb 40 feet above the ground on Second Street.

Chased up the tall Ponderosa pine by a larger cat, eight-month-old Milo was stranded, and no amount of coaxing by his owner or neighbors could dislodge him.

Firemen from the Ruidoso Fire Department drove over Sunday to see if they could help, but their ladder was too short. The pine tree's proximity to live electrical wires also complicated rescue attempts by neighbors.

People who lived as far as several streets away congregated below the tree each day and well into the evenings to talk to Milo. They were worried he would become dehydrated and weak from lack of food and water.

Attempts to enlist the help of the electric company, which had the necessary equipment to reach the cat, failed, neighbors said. Several other agencies either didn't have the personnel and equipment or didn't think the orange, short-hair tabby needed to be rescued, they said.

By Monday, his owner Mark Masters, who has a construction/painting background, decided to risk climbing a 32-foot extension ladder to knock the cat down with a pole. About five neighbors gathered to hold a large tarp as a safety net.

As Milo fell, they were ready, and he landed safely with a bounce. The fearful feline was back on the prow Tuesday, but neighbors said they hope he will stay away from tall trees.

Milo waits anxiously for help.

ALL AMERICAN Festivities

□ Labor Day weekend concludes month-long events with ball, art, races and food

Joanna Dodder/The Ruidoso News

Lines of bettors reached their peak Monday when the 9th race — the All American Futurity — was next on the card. Labor Day attracted 10,327 fans and total betting hit a combined $1.2 million at the track and off-track betting sites.

across the state have lobbied the state legislature to approve video gambling. Profit from the video slots would boost purses and attract better horses, track lobbyists contend.

Total per capita betting, including simulcasting, finished 14% below last year, Baugh said. Attendance, however, was up 3%. In 1996, 181,561 race fans turned the gates during the 49-day race meet at Ruidoso Downs. The track drew 176,010 fans in 1995 over 68 days of racing. That means average daily attendance improved from 2,588 in 1995 to 3,708 this summer.

Total handle, including all simulcasting, for the 1996 meet was $15.6 million versus $17.6 million in 1995. That roughly $2 million drop in gambled dollars can be attributed to 19 fewer days race days and fewer simulcast signals, Baugh noted.

Ruidoso Downs closed out the 1996 season Monday, with the running of the world's richest quarter horse race the All American Futurity, won by Streakin Flyer.

The All American attracted 10,327 fans to track Labor Day, about 600 fewer than last year's attendance. More than 26,500 people watched four days of racing during the holiday weekend.

Baugh said he wasn't disappointed with the attendance figures for the Labor Day weekend.

Tracks and off-track betting parlors in Southern California, Colorado, Wyoming, Oklahoma and Texas picked the Ruidoso signal and helped boost the Labor Day total handle to $1.2 million.

All in all, the weekend went without a hitch, Baugh said. "The staff, everybody did an excellent job," he said.

Now that the 1996 meet is over, Baugh and his staff will close up the grandstand, prepare the Sports Theatre for fall and winter simulcasting cards, and organize its lobbying efforts for the 1997 legislative session.

"I'm just excited. We kind of had a Cinderella story with the winners (Mike and Danella Green of South Carolina)," Baugh said. Streakin Flyer is the first racehorse for the Greens, who own barrel racing horses.

"I wish we could have 10 winners and run an All American every weekend. This is the best way I know to prove that if you run quality races, the people will come," Baugh said.

If the legislature OKs video slots for the tracks, Baugh said, horse racing will still remain the focus of Ruidoso Downs.

"We're not trying to become casinos. That's not true. We will focus all of our efforts on horseracing," Baugh said.

U.S. Highway 70 widening delayed at least two years

By KATHLEEN McDONALD
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Widening of a 13-mile stretch of U.S. Highway 70 running west out of Ruidoso has been delayed for two years or more.

A shortage of funds has delayed the project, which will turn the narrow two-lane stretch into four lanes, state highway department secretary Pete Rahn said last week while in Ruidoso for the New Mexico Municipal League's annual conference.

The $8 million project will run from the Inn of the Mountain Gods turnoff to the Ruidoso "Y" intersection with Sudderth Drive.

"It's being delayed until at least 1998-99 with a hope, the hope being that there is money then or it will get moved again," Rahn said.

The first three years of the department's current five-year budget have been cut by $164 million, putting $40 million worth of projects on hold, Rahn said.

The decision to delay the U.S. 70 project came down the pike about three weeks ago, a highway department spokesperson said.

Expansion of State Highway 48 (Mechem Drive) in the Ruidoso area is still being funded this year, Rahn said.

That road widening and grading project is broken into two segments, both estimated to cost $6.3 million. The first part, planned from Sudderth Drive to White Mountain Drive, will likely get underway in the spring after land appraisals and acquisitions are completed. The second half runs from White Mountain Drive to the Ski Run Road turnoff in Alto, and is planned for fiscal 1998-99, Rahn said.

About 980 miles of state roads need to be expanded to four lanes, but only five miles of two-lane highways will be doubled in width during the next year, Rahn added.

"Roads mean safety," Rahn said. "When two-lanes are changed to four lanes, crashes are reduced by 40%."

A comprehensive, seven-year road improvement plan, funded by a $1.2 billion bond issue, might be the only way to catch up on all the state's road needs, Rahn said.

The plan, named CHATT after the Governor's Citizens Highway Assessment Task Force which helped put it together, failed to gain legislative support during the last session. CHATT will be resubmitted to the Legislature next year, he said. It includes $2.4 million worth of roadwork for Lincoln County.

"The solution is, the public has to let our leaders know that roads are a priority and they need to be addressed," Rahn said.

State highway department seeks ways to stop mudslides on Mescalero lands

By DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

State highway engineers are looking at ways to stop mudslides and flooding along U.S. 70 on the Mescalero Apache Reservation, a state highway engineer says.

After spring fires cleared ground cover above the highway, heavy summer rains have caused mudslides and flooding, causing the highway to be closed several times while heavy equipment removed tons of rock and mud.

But any correction project will have to wait until the rains stop and the ground begins to dry out, said Tom Dick, Roswell district engineer for the state highway department.

"We do have some drainage recommendations, and they involve a lot more than digging a ditch," Dick said Tuesday from his office in Roswell. "We are prepared once we free up some people to go in and do the work."

This is the first year flooding has occurred on the highway, he said.

"The first big rain carried down trash, mud and everything else. That started blocking up our (drainage) structures," Dick said. "We have reduced capacity right now."

With less vegetation, more runoff is occurring in several locations where no problem existed in the past, he said.

"The water is rushing off the Microwave Mountain from the top of the hill onto the road," Dick said. "A man that lives there said water has never run that way before. So water is entering the roadway in locations where it never occurred before, and they happen to be where there are no (drainage) structures."

Criticisms that drainage structures such as culverts along the highway were downsized during construction in the 1980s are erroneous, said Dick, who was project manager at one time and construction engineer at another on the U.S. 70 rebuild from 1983 to 1988.

"We didn't downsize anything because of the cost or anything like that," he said. "We've never had this problem until the fires."

Motorists have suggested the state post signs in Tularosa and Ruidoso to warn motorists when the highway is closed.

"The problem with putting up signs is, a lot of the stoppages are only 35 to 40 minutes," Dick said. "So do you send someone an hour and a half out of the way when potentially there may be no stoppage?"

Even if it rains elsewhere on the reservation, if Microwave Mountain doesn't receive rain, flooding won't develop on U.S. 70, he said. The mountain is about three miles northeast of Mescalero, between the Highway 244 cutoff to Cloudcroft and the main settlement of Mescalero.

The lack of vegetation may continue to be a problem for two more years, Dick said.

"You've got to get enough growth to where the rains won't wash the growth away," he said.

While waiting for that growth, the Mescalero Tribe has built a series of dams up on the mountain and if they work, less water will flow down to the highway, Dick said.

When his crew in Tularosa no longer is busy with emergencies on the highway, it also can start working on solving the problem, Dick said.

New cuts on the mountain could redirect water to the south into a small canyon.

"But about 400 to 600 feet down, there is another hill we cut and there is no place for water to go, because there are no (drainage) structures under the highway," Dick said. "There wasn't any need for them previously."

With the tribe's permission, new slopes can be carved on the hill outside of the road right-of-way to channel the water, he said, adding, "Of course, then we've got to look at what that potentially does downhill from there."

Former county animal control officer sues over loss of job

By DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Former Lincoln County animal control officer Charlie LaBelle has sued Lincoln County commissioners contending they eliminated his job in retaliation for his demands for overtime and equal pay.

LaBelle sued the five commissioners in U.S. District Court in Albuquerque asking for unspecified compensatory and punitive damages.

County Attorney Alan Morel said Tuesday he has not seen the suit and could not comment. J. Robert Beauvais, the attorney representing LaBelle, was in Albuquerque Tuesday and could not be reached for comment.

In the suit filed last month, LaBelle claims commissioners violated the federal Fair Labor Standards Act by wrongfully cutting his position and by not paying him overtime or granting leave time. LaBelle was hired in September 1990 as an animal control officer.

In the suit, he said he worked about 191 hours in each 28 consecutive-day period, but was not properly compensated.

On May 7, 1993, Sheriff James McSwane issued a deputy sheriff commission card that authorized LaBelle to act in his place and "to take any and all actions necessary to preserve the peace and to protect the public," the suit states. By that time, he was performing full time law enforcement duties, LaBelle contends.

In March 1995, he attended the state Law Enforcement Academy and returned to work June 19 commissioned and certified. On June 20, 1995, McSwane announced LaBelle would assume full time deputy sheriff duties, the suit states.

Although LaBelle never was promoted to a regular deputy position, several deputy jobs were filled by less qualified persons hired by the sheriff, the suit alleges.

On May 8, 1996, Beauvais wrote a letter to the county manager stating LaBelle's grievance. Soon after, commissioners eliminated LaBelle's job in retaliation for his decision to exercise his legal rights under federal law and in response to his requests for overtime and equal pay, the suit contends.

Other allegations in the suit include:

— even after LaBelle became certified as an officer and was performing all the duties, he remained in the animal control position at a lower rate of pay than other deputies;

— LaBelle did nothing to warrant dismissal;

— the position of animal control officer is mandatory under law (and the county is operating without one);

— and that county personnel policies mandate layoffs by seniority.

Highway chief seeks more funding for deteriorating roads

By KATHLEEN McDONALD
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Every New Mexican pays an average $214 a year more for car maintenance than other states' residents because of poor highway conditions, the state highway department secretary said last week.

Most of those roads will likely stay in bad shape because money isn't available to fix them, Secretary Pete Rahn said.

Rahn spoke of the state's road needs and his department's budget woes while in Ruidoso for the New Mexico Municipal League Conference Aug. 28.

New Mexico has the sixth-highest population growth rate, spurring the need for about 175 miles of state highways each year as volume on existing state roads has increased by 290% over the past decade. But the department's road fund has dropped by 10% during that same decade, Rahn explained after the league conference.

"About 20% of this system is in bad condition," Rahn said. "If we continue at the current trend, about 40% of our roads will be in bad condition in 15 years. Bad — not fair, not tolerable — but bad."

This is partially because $164 million was cut from the first three years of the highway department's 1996-2001 five-year budget plan, Rahn said.

About $350 million in spending had been planned for each year of the budget, Rahn said. It's funded by gas taxes and registration and license revenues.

State highway department Secretary Pete Rahn

When roads fall into disrepair it costs about five times more than normal to repave them, Rahn said. But the department's budget crunch only allows for maintenance work on about 17 miles of roads this fiscal year, Rahn said.

After hearing about the budget woes Aug. 28, league members passed a resolution to close a gas tax loophole that Rahn says allows Indian distributors to sell untaxed gas on reservation lands to non-Indian retailers.

The governor called a special legislative session last spring to close the loophole, but legislators took no action to change the law.

When the special session was called, there were three state Indian gas distributors, Rahn said. Today there are 11.

"To date we haven't seen a significant loss from the loophole," Rahn said. "But the money lost in that time will never be regained."

From March through June, the tax exempt gas sales cost the highway department about $200,000, Rahn said. But the loss in July and August is estimated at $1.5 million, he said.

"This will further inhibit our ability to address the roads in New Mexico," Rahn said.

All American excitement

If you watched the All American Futurity on TV or didn't watch it at all, you missed the excitement. If you spent a night at home instead of a night at the ball, you missed the excitement. If you had lunch at work instead of at the Call to Post Brunch while watching the All American post positions getting chosen, you missed the excitement. Combined with the nearly countless other All American Festival activities over the past few weeks, attending these events makes one hearken back to a half-century ago when the Futurity began, the days that people like Ray Reed remember. We wondered what it was like then, and we were grateful to still have these magical festivities in our backyard. We feel like the magic is still there, and will return again next year.

GUEST COMMENTARY

Animal damage control needs oversight

by RAY POWELL, M.S., D.V.M.
New Mexico
Commissioner of Public Lands

As a veterinarian with a major interest in wildlife rehabilitation, and as a plant ecologist, I know that the issues involved in predator-prey relationships are very difficult and complex. I would much rather observe and study animals in the wild than try to heal their wounds.

When you target an animal as a livestock killer, you have literally issued that animal's death sentence. I am working to minimize the killing of wildlife while developing the most biologically sound and humane management practices possible for domesticated animal production.

Over the last three years, Animal Damage Control has been operating as usual on virtually all of New Mexico's public lands — all except state trust lands. Meanwhile, our trust land leases have had the legal right to use any approved methods to control and kill predators without supervision or documentation of any kind.

My view is that predators and other wildlife are highly vulnerable without appropriate accountability from one answerable government agency.

The agreement with ADC, which took more than three years to reach, provides the highest level of scientific and administrative accountability of any similar program we have seen in the western United States. This is a starting point for developing better and more effective predator-prey programs in the future.

The data obtained during the five-month duration of this agreement will be evaluated to determine the severity of the predator problem, and whether our program is effectively targeting specific predators that are attacking livestock. The evaluation will help refine our program and further minimize the killing of wild and domestic animals.

Working hard to develop the best predator management program possible is but one aspect of a broader issue, perhaps the most important issue — how we interact in a healthy and positive manner with the world around us.

That was my theme three years ago when I opened our first attempt to find a resolution through mediation. It is the theme that I have taken to ADC, our livestock producers, and to the Secretary of Agriculture, in my pursuit of satisfactory agreement.

I have made this theme central to very initiative my administration has undertaken, such as: — The urban/rural transitional environment is where most interactions between humans and wildlife occur. For this reason, our urban planning concentrates on ensuring that these interactions remain positive and that the greatest amount of natural habitat is preserved by the use of ample open space and wildlife corridors.

— Biological/natural resources/water inventory of state trust land. One of my top priorities has been, and continues to be, assessment of what is presently found on and in the trust land. Using basic field studies and the latest technologies, such as geographic information systems and global positioning satellite technology, we will be able to monitor and manage these precious resources for the benefit of generations yet unborn.

— Sponsoring legislation to reduce willful cruelty to animals. The evidence is clear that children who abuse animals and are not helped to stop this abuse, often grow up to abuse and sometimes kill other humans.

— Mexican wolf reintroduction. I strongly support a sound, scientific planned reintroduction effort.

— Wolf/dog hybrid breeding restrictions. These animals are uniquely unsuited for interaction with humans, companion animals and wildlife. These human-bred animals are a disaster waiting to happen.

As New Mexico becomes increasingly urbanized, we need to remind ourselves that America's agriculture industry comprises just 2% of our population, yet provides food for all of us in the United States and a large part of the world. Without these hard-working, honest and decent people in agriculture, we would be in dire straits.

We're working hard to maintain rural communities and a healthy agricultural community, while enhancing the quality of life in our cities and towns.

What we do every day is work to bring our constituents together to solve problems. Our diversity is our strength, and it is what makes us so unique as a state.

Fond recollections of brother Mark Storm

Happy Birthday to Brother Mark

Marcus Kennedy Storm was born Sept. 4, 1911, in Valdez, Alaska to Lynn Whippo Storm and the former Bertha Catherine Kennedy.

He was baptized in the historic little Episcopal Church of the Epiphany, in Valdez. At a very early age he showed his destiny of becoming a western painter and sculptor.

Before he could talk he was drawing with pencil and crayon; and before he was 2 years old he had a collection of pictures of horses, dogs, sleds, Christmas trees, wagons and sea gulls — all quite recognizable for a child at such a young age.

His life-long fondness for horses also showed up early in his life.

Our groceries in Valdez were brought by Mr. Perkins in his one-horse wagon. Mark would be at the window when the wagon would arrive and would laugh with delight. Then he would be carried outside to pet the horse.

Later when we went to "the states" to visit our grandparents, our grandpa John Calvin Kennedy would take "Markie" out for a brief ride on his horse.

Grandpa Kennedy was a captain of cavalry in the 13th Illinois Cavalry Regiment in the Civil War. Mark has inherited his grandpa's qualities: a devout nature, courage, compassion and a fondness for horses.

When we moved from Alaska to Ashland, Ore., in the center of a ranching area, Mark admired the famous rodeo riders of the day: Verne Dolarhide, and Sunlight and Roland Jackson, the Modoc Indian Rodeo Riders.

Leaving Oregon we went to Mexico where we lived for a year; and here Mark took great interest in the Mexican vaqueros (cowboys) and the ox carts, mule caravans, and pack burros. All became subjects of his later painting.

From Mexico came the move to Lincoln County, and here began Mark's cowboy days.

In the Fourth of July Ft. Stanton Rodeo of '33, Mark won the bronc riding on a horse named "Military Bay." Johnny Thomas, in recent a conversation, said "I remember Mark's ride like it was yesterday."

Besides Johnny, among the rodeo performers of Mark's day were: Bill Dick Browning, Dude Browning, Gerald Tully, Cecil Massey, Jack Forrester, Claude Walker, Alan Reynolds, Jack Shaw, Buzz and Jack Casey, Joe Herrera, Juan Sanchez, Ralph Bonnell and R.C. Lett.

Studies at University of Texas

When we moved to Austin, Texas for the winters, Mark studied architecture at the University of Texas and took courses in Life and Literature of the Southwest under Dr. James Frank Dobie.

He also illustrated several annual publications of the Texas Folklore Society. In 1941, Mark drew the illustration of a book of Mexican folk tales which I translated, entitled "Picture Tales from Mexico." The book went out of print a number of years ago, then was re-published last year by Gulf Publishing Company of Houston, Texas.

At the University of Texas, Mark met his wife-to-be, the former Fernie Sweeney. They were married in 1936 and have two children, Carol Jane Elliot and Tommie Lou Schewe, along with six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

In Houston, Mark has been active in the Houston Stock Show and Rodeo. Here he has met the champion rodeo riders out from around the country; and has made sculpture and paintings of many of them.

Happy Memories of Lincoln County

Although Mark has spent most of the time since his Lincoln County youth in Houston, his heart and his memories often stray back to the land of many of his happiest days.

His adobe house across from the old corral is almost finished, and he looks forward to spending more and more time here in the land of pinon and pine.

We wish our brother, Mark, many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

CARRIZOZO

Historian describes life after infamous Lincoln County War

Want to hear what happened in Lincoln County AFTER the Lincoln County War? Who got what? Who were the winners? Who were the losers? What were the aftereffects of the war? Who killed Pat Garrett? Who killed Colonel Fountain?

For answers to these endlessly fascinating questions and more, come to the Carrizozo Historical Society meeting at 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 4 at the Women's Club.

One of Lincoln County's most knowledgeable and entertaining speakers, Bill Thorp, will be featured. Thorp will begin his talk with the death of Billy the Kid and end with the death of Pat Garrett, covering a lot of ground in between, particularly about the life of Garrett.

Thorp is a native New Mexican who has been steeped in New Mexican history all his life. Born in Artesia, his first teaching job was in Carrizozo back in 1957. For the past several years he has been teaching a popular course in New Mexico history at Eastern New Mexico University in Ruidoso. Thorp resides in Nugal with wife Beverly.

The meeting will kick off another year for the Carrizozo Historical Society, a chapter of the Lincoln County Historical Society. Anyone interested in history is cordially invited to attend, and also to join the society. Dues are $15 per year.

Members whose dues are up for renewal are urged to renew at the meeting. Raffle tickets for a toaster oven will be sold at the meeting. Lincoln County Historical Society publications will be available for sale. Refreshments will be served. There is no admission charge.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

by PAULA PAPPONI
Carrizozo schools superintendent

Carrizozo students are back at school and hard at work. Teachers have spent lots of time and energy giving classrooms that final touch, in order to create a positive and motivating learning environment for our returning students.

Some might think that with the children back at school, it's vacation time for parents. Actually, a parent's hardest job begins with the beginning of school. Of all students retained once, 50% drop out of school. Of all students retained twice, 98% drop out of school. Parents need to work more diligently than ever to help their children have a successful school career.

In the past you might not have needed a high school education to get a job that paid a living wage. Today, a high school education is the minimum that workers will need to become self-supporting.

The schools must do their part, and we all need to work together. However, parents play a vital role in the academic success of their children. Often parents will ask me what they can do to help ensure that their child will do well in school and graduate. Here are four things parents can do to help make sure their teen stays in school and enjoys the experience:

1. Help your child set goals. Whether your child wants to go on to college or not, help your child see that what he/she learns today will be needed in the future.

2. Let your child know that failure is something that happens, not something you are. The important thing is to try again.
3. Make sure your child attends school regularly. They can't learn if they are not in school.
4. Get involved with your child's school. If you do, your child will get the message that school is important.

Some people believe that "it takes a whole village to raise a child." I'm sure it does, but I also know that it takes caring and loving parents to raise happy and successful children.

ARTS SCENE

by ANN BUFFINGTON
Carrizozo Newsletter staff

Carrizozo is the source of AN-OTHER Newsletter, THE CREATIVE CONNECTION is a newsletter for Carrizozo artists and craftspersons and those who support the arts in our area.

The purpose of CREATIVE CONNECTION is, to quote Michael New from the first issue, "to build a bridge between us...to introduce creative people from the outlying areas to each other, to act as a catalyst to help us meet and learn about each other...As more artists get involved, the shape, span and colors of the bridge will take form."

Other Carrizozoans on the staff are Ken Payne, Suzanne Donazetti, John West, and Ann Buffington, with Michael New from White Oaks and Georgia Legg from Nugal. Capitan, Lincoln and Ruidoso all have representatives on the staff as well.

THE CREATIVE CONNECTION will be published monthly, and $12 annual donations for subscriptions to cover printing and mailing costs are eagerly sought! Send check or money order to THE CREATIVE CONNECTION, Box 825, Carrizozo, NM, 88301.

There are lots of creative happenings in Carrizozo these days. Ken Payne and Suzanne Donazetti departed for the prestigious American Craft Council Show in San Francisco, Calif., loaded down with unusual and beautifully crafted items they have been busy creating all summer. Included are Suzanne's beautiful screens, mirrors and frames, Ken's fanciful boxes, fountains, and jointly created clocks, including one superb and whimsical free-standing clock depicting Time Going Backwards. There was some doubt among bystanders whether they could fit it all into their van.

Cynthia Shaw plans to join them in San Francisco and help out in their booth. She will stay on a few days to visit relatives in California before returning to Carrizozo.

Ken and Suzanne, Lee Oberg and Cynthia Shaw, and John West and Ann Buffington all trekked up to Corrales to participate in the annual Arts and Crafts Show in historic San Ysidro Church there.

Frankie Simons won third place in the Fine Arts Division of the High Country Art Festival at Eagle Nest Lake for one of his photographs.

Carrizozo Newsletter staff

SURPRISE, SURPRISE! I am really back to the business at hand. As you may know, I have moved out of Thoreau after 49 long years and am now in Tome, between Los Lunas and Belen off Hwy 47.

You would think that I would have everything unpacked and in order. WRONG. I not only try to get more done every day in the house, but also move outside trying to get it looking halfway decent, and I think I am making progress.

I also work three days a week at VALLEY GARDEN CENTER for my son. Sometimes I think I made a BIG mistake moving over here, since I have had so many problems. The thing that upsets me the worst is getting my mailing address wrong. I've written so many people saying it is 10 Albert Lane. However, now the mail carrier says it should be 10-B Albert Lane, Los Lunas. It doesn't make sense to me, since I am the only one sitting on this acre.

There are a number of alumni living in this vicinity, but I haven't been in touch with them yet. I did have a long visit with Myrtle "Hobbs" Smith (42) several days ago. She will be going to the Hobbs Reunion in Coyote in August. Organizers are expecting a large gathering.

I talked to Roley Ward recently. He had back surgery several months ago and is doing pretty good now. Betty Lou (46), his sister from Elephant Butte, has been staying with him since her husband Doyle had a heart attack and went through a quadruple bypass surgery. I need to check in again and see how Doyle is doing. At this writing, Roley was planning to attend the Ward-Leslie reunion at the White Oaks school and planned on going all out on the dance floor.

I also talked to Raymer and June Shaw recently. Their oldest son, Herk, is now Lt. Col. in the New Mexico National Guard and will retire in four years. Herk and family are living in Santa Fe.

Nellie Callegos Guevara (30) is doing fine. She was on her way to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of her brother and sister-in-law in Bent.

I also visited with Jack Key (51) over the phone, and we will be meeting for lunch in Albuquerque. Jack and Virgie live in Sandia Park now. They are planning a trip to Iowa to visit Virgie's relatives. Jack told me that Barbara Jeanne is in Paris gathering more family information, and having a blast I'm sure.

For some past several months of information: Willi "Kelt" Bilbo (32) had been in Lubbock hospital for several weeks. I haven't heard from her since she was to be released, which should have been about six weeks ago. She isn't able to write much, but said she had a lot of letters that needed answering. If you wrote her, you lifted her spirits.

I haven't heard from Dorothy Leslie in a month, but she and Robert stay busy, busy. Robert is busy with the White Oaks school house and his "fan mail" from all over, from people that have been to the school. Dorothy has her art classes at the senior center and is very pleased to have new people in the class. Their garden was thriving in spite of the winds and dust.

Carralene "Zumwalt" Stewart (51) and Jimmie have been to Houston to visit family. They also went to Galveston shopping and really enjoyed that. Homer (51) and Shirleen (53) had been in town and were on their way to Tucson to move Shirleen's mother out to Titusville, Fla., where they live. Mrs. Branum will be living next door to Shirleen and Homer, which will be nice for all.

My sister Jacque (52 D.O.) is now retired as of June 14. She went to Riverside, Calif. last month for her grandson's high school graduation and had a wonderful time. She will be coming up to spend some time with me and inspect my new place at a later date.

Dick and Norma "Compton" Roberts are staying busy in Texas. Dick is commander of the VFW there again for another year, and is doing a great job. His main project is to erect a wall about 121 feet long and 5 feet high that contains black granite blocks with veterans' names and branches of service. This is to be available to all persons who are or were in the Armed Services. This whole wall will be outlined in white brick. His problem was trying to find a bricklayer, but hopefully he has been able to locate one by now. Dick is always asking me about that is happening in Carrizozo, saying he never hears from anyone there.

I try to keep them up to date on what I hear. I haven't heard from very many folks the past couple of months myself.

For all who know Viola "Bates" Wilkerson, I learned from Myrtle "Hobbs" Smith that she has moved to Texas to be close to a son. Her address is Rt 2, Box 483, Wolf City, Texas, 49669. Viola had a stroke several years ago, and wasn't able to do much. I'm not sure that she will be attending the Hobbs reunion, but Myrtle is expecting Dorothy "Bates" Trapp (42). Their brother Elbert (40) has a new address: P. O. Box 203, Duncan, Ariz., 85534.

I will be starting to work on my address books in the near future. I know a lot of alumni have moved and I need new addresses for them. I would appreciate hearing from anyone with addresses. We had a super gathering at last year's reunion and I hope even more will attend the next one in June '97.

Until next time, stay well!

Creative management keeps Ruidoso budget in the black

by PAMELA CROMWELL
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso School District has hired an additional nurse and two social workers, thanks to help from a Medicaid II grant.

The district received $363,795 in special revenues this year, with $98,000 from Medicaid. This funding source has been more productive than Superintendent Mike Gladden ever anticipated.

"We first thought Medicaid would generate about $80,000," Gladden said. "We're the first region to really succeed at using this."

Other districts have had difficulty taking advantage of Medicaid funds because the filing process is complicated, school district business manager Caron Snow said.

Ruidoso has been collecting Medicaid reimbursements for two years, and other districts are now following Ruidoso's lead. Silver City, Clovis, and even the State Department of Education are using Ruidoso as a model for managing Medicaid funds in schools, Snow said.

Medicaid reimbursements not only cover the salaries of health providers in Ruidoso schools, but they also help pay for many other health-related services. For example, Medicaid dollars salvaged an after-school care program that lost its state grant this year.

With only a minor increase in state funding this year, special revenue sources like Medicaid become very important to the district.

"We couldn't do this without state support," Snow said. "We try to be creative and make this a good place for kids."

State funding per student unit only increased by 6% this year. State legislators expect school districts to bring 2% teacher salary increases out of this 6% increase, Gladden said. Only growing dis-

Where It Goes

Here is a breakdown of various portions of the Ruidoso School District budget, excluding capital items:

— $6,087,330 for direct instruction (teacher salaries and benefits, materials and textbooks, travel and training)

— $1,836,115 for instructional support (principals and other specialized staff salaries and benefits, library and software materials, purchased services such as contracted speech therapists)

— $158,806 for administration (salary and benefits for superintendent and secretary, purchased services such as auditing and legal services, supplies, and travel and training for board of education)

— $207,107 for business and support services (non-teacher personnel salaries and benefits, purchased professional services, office materials, travel)

— $1,274,140 for operation/maintenance of plant (custodial and maintenance salaries and benefits, insurance, and utilities)

— $920,553 for transportation (bus driver salaries and benefits, bus rentals)

— $36,897 for food services (food)

— $233,138 for athletics (salaries and benefits, general supplies)

Students graduate from Mescalero vocational school

by PAMELA CROMWELL
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The Mescalero Vocational Training Program graduated a record 36 students Thursday from a three-month course in basic electrical, plumbing, and carpentry work.

It is the largest single class to receive vocational certification in Mescalero since the program began in October.

Mescalero President Wendell Chino spoke at the graduation, encouraging graduates to use what they've learned for the benefit of the tribe.

"Apply yourselves," he said. Representatives from several tribal industries, including Inn of the Mountain Gods, Indian Health Services, and Mescalero Metal Fabrications, invited graduates to apply for jobs that pay as much as $16 an hour.

Ray Beck, of Mescalero Metal Fabrications, said he needs electricians and welders, and he echoed Chino's reminder of tribal service. "The tribe is here to help you, so you help the tribe back," he said. "Do it now."

Inn of the Mountain Gods general manager John McCullough said he was glad to have new qualified skilled laborers.

"I feel better," he said. "Now when room 145 calls and says to fix the air conditioner or give back their $120, I know help is on the way."

McCullough added that it is important to keep the Inn and other tribal facilities in top condition because people from all over the world visit Mescalero. If facilities aren't up to par, McCullough said, those people will just go somewhere else.

Graduate Percy Benally said he learned a lot in his 496 hours of training.

"It's a pretty good program," he said. "I could probably tear my house down and build it back up."

The vocational training, directed by Frank Buchler, provides up to 1,300 hours of education. Since the school began, 50 people have earned certification in vocational skills. Buchler has expansion plans for the school.

"I hope in the future this will be a two-year program, like any junior college," Buchler said.

Eventually the training will include courses in math and English, Buchler said.

The following students graduated from the Mescalero Vocational Training Program Thursday:

Juan F. Aldava, Rita Balthasar, Jerry Belin, Shelley E. Belin, Percy Benally, Andreat Botella, Ganova Botella, Stephanie Chico, Swanlyn Chico, Merita (Changosa), Anne M. Evans, Mary Evans, Shane Evans, Matthew Escalanti, Lariat Geronimo, Lyle Geronimo, Desiderio Gutierrez, Jr., Roger Kasha, Isaac Klinekole, Carmen Lopez, Juanita Mendiola, Cory Martinez, Elizabeth Mendenhall, Larry Mendenhall, Jerry Mendenhall, Robert Picazo, Loren Sage, Patricia Schut, Fred Second, Leland Second, Ina Shanta, Everett Smith, Oral Spitz, Jr., Thomas Tain-nijinnie and Kaycee Yahnabki.

A glimpse into Lincoln County's past, compiled from local newspapers by Polly E. Chavez.

The Ruidoso News
Sept. 5, 1946

Bill Gallacher, former head of the OPA rationing board for Lincoln County, who resides at Carizozo and operates a ranch there, was a Ruidoso visitor during the week. Gallacher is a Republican candidate for District Three, commissioner of Lincoln County.

License plates for New Mexico automobiles in 1947 will be manufactured of aluminum metal according to an announcement by Howell Gage, New Mexico State Prison warden. The plates will be manufactured in Brown Bluffs.

Two days of horse racing will be featured at the Open Fair at Alamogordo on Sept. 14 and 15. Races will start each day at 2 p.m. and include a program of four races and several matched races. One race for two-year-olds and another for three-year-olds and upwards will be presented each day. On Sunday there will be a free-for-all race of all ages.

SPORTS SHORTS

Artesia outguns Ruidoso in prep football opener

Artesia's quick scoring offense and special teams play overwhelmed Ruidoso in the prep football opener for both teams Friday. The Bulldogs lit up the scoreboard for a 58-38 victory over the Warriors.

Ruidoso held a lead of 16-0 before Artesia rallied. The Bulldogs surged ahead. Then the Warriors staged their own comeback, tying the game at 30 midway through the third quarter.

But three onside kick recoveries and two long kickoff returns for the visitors proved too much for Ruidoso.

The Warriors were led by senior running back Arthur Rojas. He gained 151 yards on 19 carries and scored three Ruidoso touchdowns.

Ruidoso travels to Tucumcari Friday for a 7:30 p.m. non-district contest.

Ruidoso kickers open with 2-1 mark in Roswell

The Ruidoso Warriors soccer team won two and lost one match at the Roswell High soccer tournament Friday and Saturday.

First-year coach Sigrud Schmitz's team defeated Hatch Valley, 4-2, and West Las Vegas-Robertson, 2-1, in overtime. The Warriors then fell to Goddard, 4-0.

Senior Jimmy Stover led Ruidoso with three goals. Piper Adamian scored twice and Scott Sebastian accounted for the other Warrior goal.

Schmitz said his team played well without some of its top talent. The Warriors were without starters Isaac Sanchez, goalie Jose Maldonado and Gerald Gomez because all three had not participated in the mandatory 15 practice days. The three will become eligible by Saturday.

Eighth-grader Jess Anderson stepped into the keeper's position for the Warriors versus Robertson, and played well, Schmitz said.

Anderson is one of four eighth-graders to play varsity this fall.

The Warriors have another shot at Goddard Saturday when they play the Rockets at 1 p.m. in Ruidoso.

CAMPS & EVENTS

Ranch rodeo Saturday

The Lincoln County Ranch Rodeo Association will hold its seventh annual Ranch Rodeo Saturday at the fairgrounds in Capitan.

Teams will compete in team penning, horse catching, calf branding, team tying and wild cow milking events. All events are based in actual ranch work.

The ranch rodeo begins at 2 p.m. Cost is $3 for adults and $1 for children 12 years and under. A barbecue will be available starting at 5 p.m. for a cost of $5 per plate. A dance is also slated for 8 p.m. to midnight.

Hunter education class

A hunter education certification class will be offered Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 7 and 8.

The classes last from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. each day at the Ruidoso Police Department, 421 Wingfield St.

Ruidoso Hunter Education instructors will teach the class. Hunters under the age of 18 must take this class before they go afield. The class will provide valuable information to all hunters, regardless of age.

The course is approved by the New Mexico Game and Fish Department. It is recognized in all other states that require adults to pass an approved hunter education course. Students under the age of 12 must be accompanied by an adult for the entire class.

Class size is limited. Those interested should pre-register by calling the Ruidoso Police Department. A registrant's social security number is required. Cost is $5 and can be paid the morning of the first class.

For more information, contact Bill Heineken at the Ruidoso Police Department, 257-7365, or David Wheeler of the Ruidoso Ambulance Service, 257-8290.

Gamble pays off for first-time owners

Indeed, the last shall be first. Streakin Flyer, the final entrant to the All American Futurity trials just three weeks ago, was the first to cross the finish in the finals of the world's richest quarter race Monday at Ruidoso Downs.

The 2-year-old gelding, owned by Mike and Danelle Green of Pelzer, S. Carolina, ran a near flawless race to win the 38th running of the All American. Jockey Larry "Bones" Layton guided Streakin Flyer, who posted a time of 21.53 over the 440-yard sprint.

Streakin Flyer was a head better than second-place finisher Speedy Empress. Jack Brooks' Mr Special Express, one of three mounts for the trainer, was another half-length back in third.

The win did not come without moments of nervousness. Streakin Flyer's trainer Donnie Strickland was panic-stricken three weeks ago during the draw for the trials of the All American. Of the 148 horses contending, Streakin Flyer's entry card was the last one pulled.

"I was nervous," said Strickland, a 10-year veteran of horse training. "I was beginning to wonder if they were going to draw him or not."

So Strickland searched for his carbon copy of the entry card to make sure he properly entered the supplemental nominee. After all, Streakin Flyer is his first horse to run in the All American.

"I pulled my entry card and looked at it two or three times — I was just nervous," recalled Strickland, who trains primarily out of Oklahoma.

Streakin Flyer's name was eventually called — the final gate in the 15th and final trial.

The 2-year-old racehorse represented a gamble for owners Mike and Janelle Green, who are primarily in the barrel racing business. Streakin Flyer was the Greens' first dabble into racehorse ownership.

It was a costly dabble at first. In order to run in the All American Futurity Trials, they had to put up $50,000 late payment fee.

That $50,000 only gave the bay gelding by Strawfly Special an opportunity to qualify for the All American. He still had to post one of the 10 fastest times for 440 yards in the trials to be eligible for a return crack at the $1.078 million winner's share of the purse.

But the gamble paid off. Streakin Flyer posted the second-fastest qualifying time in the trials.

Layton, 46, first rode Streakin Flyer in the All American trials. He replaced Tommy Byrd, who had ridden the gelding in his four other starts.

"It's been a long time coming. I've been riding 30 years and won everything else. This one's finally come," Layton said of his first All American victory.

Streakin Flyer with Larry Layton in the irons held off Speedy Empress to win the 38th running of the All American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs. The 2-year-old gelding earned a cool $1.078 million for owners Mike and Janelle Green of South Carolina.

Alex Baldillez, Jr., the rider aboard runner-up Speedy Empress, thought his filly ran well.

"We had a good run. She tried to get out on me a little early and when we tried to open up on the winner, we couldn't. We never could get away from him. My hat is off to him. He ran a big race," Baldillez said.

Speedy Empress races for Sylvia Shaw Pitman and Phoenix Shaw, and is trained by John Buchanan. Buchanan and Baldillez hooked up in 1987 to win the All American with Elans Special.

"I knew she was a little green, but I think she's starting to peak now," Baldillez said. "She'd never really hooked the caliber of horses she beat in the trials."

It would have been tough for any horse to beat Streakin Flyer Monday.

"He broke the best he ever has. He picked a good day to do everything right," Strickland said.

All American Futurity Consolation

Corona Cartel, winner of the Kindergarten Futurity at Los Alamitos in May, found the form that made him one of the top 2-year-old colts earlier in the year with his win in Monday's All American Futurity Consolation. The bay colt stopped the timer in 21.45 seconds for the 440 yards.

With regular rider Eddie Garcia in the irons, Corona Cartel ran a perfect trip to reach the winner's circle in his third start at Ruidoso. The colt qualified to the Rainbow Futurity Consolation but opted not to run. His next start came in the trials to the All American, where he finished second behind The Ravin Maniac in the first trial heat of the afternoon.

Celina Molina of Tucson Ariz. bought the colt for $42,000 at the 1995 Vessels/Schvaneveldt Yearling Sale. Corona Cartel's $37,737 winner's share of the $184,375 consolation purse puts his earnings at more than $100,000.

Second place went to Dashinglys Dream, and Las Alamitos took the show position.

Las Alamitos had a slight lead into the final 100 yards but could not hold off the charge of the eventual winner. Rider Joe Badilla, Jr., said his mount found a wet spot in the track that slowed her a bit.

Mountain showers hit the track prior to the running of the consolation, but the track was listed as fast for the race.

Winalota Cash adds derby to All American laurels

Winalota Cash became only the third horse to win the All American Futurity and All American Derby. The 3-year-old gelding captured Sunday's derby in easy fashion. A year ago he won the futurity in record time.

Winalota Cash became only the third horse to win both the All American Futurity and Derby. He accomplished the feat Sunday at Ruidoso Downs when the World Champion Quarter Horse won the All American Derby. Last year, Winalota Cash won the All American Futurity as a 2-year-old.

The last quarter horse to win the All American double was Ronas Ryon in 1986 and 1987. Higheasterjet won both in 1980 and 1981.

Winalota Cash broke well under regular rider Billy Peterson to prevail by a length.

The win was the fourth derby victory of the year for the bay gelding by Light On Cash, and seventh win in eight starts for the Gregg Sanders trainee.

The $76,393 winner's share of the $185,031 purse pushes the gelding's earnings to nearly $1.7 million. Winalota Cash is quickly approaching Refrigerator's record mark of $2.126 million for quarter horses. Refrigerator's career spanned six years; however, so the Andra Meridith-owned gelding is well on his way to breaking the record.

Winalota Cash will make his next start in the Texas Classic Derby at Retama Park. By winning the All American Derby, he earned an automatic berth to the Champion of Champions at Los Alamitos in December.

Set Insight triumphs

Margaret Du Pont's and Margaret Bloss's Set Insight went to the early lead under Alfonso Fuentes and never looked back Sunday to take the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity. The Kentucky-bred son of Phone Trick out of Super Set was making only his third career start. Final time for the six furlongs was 1:11.1.

The $37,317 payday boosted the Doyal Roberts-trained gelding's bank account, which was a paltry $1,344 dollars prior to this race.

Morning line and post-time favorite, Demand Deposit ran into some trouble early and did not recover to finish fourth. Instead, the other horse from the Gilbreath stable, finished second while Dancethefinish took the show position.

PET CORNER

These pets are currently up for adoption at Lincoln County Humane Society
Call 257-9841

Puddin is an adorable female Schnauzer who is about one year old. She's on the small side and weighs only 15 pounds, but she is lively and full of curiosity. She would be an attention companion for a new owner.

Cody is blue-eyed, full-blooded Siberian husky male, about 10 months old. His former owners trained him well. He's housebroken, loves to interact with children and other dogs, and he knows commands.

The Lincoln County Humane Society will unveil its new Critter Clawset shop this Saturday.

From 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., stop by the shop next to the shelter on Gavilan Canyon Road.

Items offered will include T-shirts, tote bags, animal related crafts, pet treats and toys, dog bowls and leashes and unique collars - one decorated with silver conchos.

If you're looking for a way to help out stray and abandoned animals, volunteering to man the shop a few hours a week would be a good start.

Electric fences

Pet owners who buy electronic fences usually are seeking a less expensive and more visually pleasing alternative to a traditional fence.

They want to protect their dogs, but Animal Sheltering Magazine in the July-August issue pointed out some of the draw backs.

Electronic fences are thin wires buried along the perimeter of a piece of property that emit a low powered AM radio signal.

When a dog wearing a collar with a radio receiver attached approaches the invisible boundary line, it receives a "mild shock" from the battery-charged box on the collar.

But the magazine states that some pet owners have found the "fence" not only fails to confine their pets, it also may harm them.

The writers note, the system:

— trains with pain, forcing animals to obey by shocking them. They suggest that training should be positive, not negative reinforcement;

— may cause more than a mild shock, resulting in pain and numbness. The writers states that some owners have outfitted themselves with the device to test it and reported similar discomfort.

— may malfunction and the collar may short-circuit. The writers reported a veterinarian in Anne Arundel County, Maryland, recently treated a Labrador retriever for localized burns to the neck after the collar short-circuited and began continually shocking the animal resulting in burns and infection;

— may prevent pets from returning if a pet runs through the shock and then is afraid to pass back over the line;

— offers a false sense of security, because other animals and humans can enter the yard, opening up the possibility of someone stealing the pet;

— may put others at risk who unknowingly pass through an electronic fence intended to contain an aggressive dog;

— and the fence may malfunction because of dead batteries or severe cold temperatures.

FAMILY VISION CARE UPDATE

Dr. D. Joyce Sonnenmoser
Dr. Anatole F. Gutowski

Cosmetic Advantages

If you've been thinking about changing from glasses to contact lenses, probably the first thing that came to mind was the cosmetic advantage of contacts. They fit so closely to your eyes no one would know that you are wearing corrective lenses. However, this is just one of the advantages that contacts offer.

Another advantage is that contacts permit a wider field of vision than eyeglasses. There is no lens frame to get in your line of sight when you look to the left or the right, or up or down. Because they fit so closely, they also present a less distorted and more realistic size in the objects viewed. A tendency to allow for more care than glasses, because they must be kept clean and free of irritants. Your eye doctor will instruct you in proper care. If you think you'd like to wear contacts, ask your eye doctor if he or she would recommend them for you.
