Women inmates approved at fort

It's final: women inmates will be housed at Fort Stanton for 16-20 months beginning Dec. 1.

General Services Department Secretary Steven Beffort announced Tuesday he has approved the request by the Department of Corrections to temporarily use the fort to relieve prison overcrowding. The GSD has had jurisdiction over the fort since the governor closed it as a state hospital early in 1995.

The announcement came after state officials met Friday with a group of Lincoln County residents interested in eventually turning the fort into a living history museum.

"We wanted to listen to the concerns of Lincoln County residents before making a decision," Beffort said.

Meeting day changes for county commissioners

Breaking a long tradition, Lincoln County Commissioners voted last week to change their meetings to the second Tuesday of each month, instead of the first Tuesday.

The change will avoid conflicts with elections (which usually fall on the first Tuesdays of the month), and reduce pressure on the staff from reports due the first week of the month, said County Manager Frank Potter.

Commissioners now meet at 9 a.m. the first Tuesday of each month in the county courthouse in Carrizozo.

The new schedule will take effect in January and will include three meetings per year in Ruidoso.

Council considers luxury hotel lease extension Monday

The Ruidoso Village Council will consider a nine-month extension on a lease for a new hotel at a special meeting at 3 p.m. Monday, Nov. 19. Councilors were scheduled to act on the request at Tuesday's council meeting, but decided they needed more time.

Allhub Investments wants more time to build the luxury hotel. It also wants an extension to construct 125 rooms instead of 150, as required in the existing lease.

The lease expires at 5 p.m. Monday. The extension would run from December 1996 to Aug. 31, 1997.

Allhub, the project's only bidder, was awarded the 50-year lease to the land in November 1994. Construction had to begin within two years. The company hoped to build a casino in the hotel, but the state Legislature never legalized gambling at hotels.

County to fund LCMC additions

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The Lincoln County Commission agreed Friday to squeeze $1.2 million out of its budget over the next three years to use for improvements at the Lincoln County Medical Center.

The changes will focus on out-patient services, where demand is the highest. Expansions are planned for the emergency room, the laboratory and X-ray, as well as surgery recovery areas.

Hospital board member Tom Battin said usage at the hospital reflects a trend toward out-patient services. He noted that only 50% of the population in the county has medical insurance, and because of that, more people are using the emergency room and are arriving sicker than if they were being seen in a physician's office.

Construction won't begin for at least six months, hospital officials said. The work should take about two years to complete and will be accomplished in phases. This will coordinate with money availability and keep disruption of services at a minimum, Presbyterian representative Kevin McMillan said.

The commission will take $400,000 out of its facility fund (for building improvements) and $400,000 from its general reserve this fiscal year, ending June 30.

In the 1997-98 fiscal year, the hospital in Ruidoso will receive another $200,000 from the commission and the same amount again in 1998-99.

The county contribution toward the Ruidoso hospital it owns will account for about half of the total project of $2,351,000. The hospital is managed by the Albuquerque-based firm of Presbyterian HealthCare Systems.

Hospital finance officer Greg Kampsky told commissioners the balance of the money needed for the project would be drawn from a projected $200,000 a year contribution from the hospital auxiliary group and $300,000 a year from the proceeds of a special property tax levy collected by the county for the hospital.

Commissioner Stirling Spencer voted against the commitment, saying since he would no longer be on the board after Jan. 1, he could not obligate future commissioners to a debt.

County Treasurer Joan Park presented a review of the county's historical, current and projected financial standing. She estimated that tax revenue gains from any increase in taxable property values next year will be canceled out by expenses, if they grow at historical rates.

Overall for the past few years, expenses have been running ahead of revenues when all funds are lumped together, Park said. Revenues in the general fund, which covers county operation with the exception of the road department, has stayed in step with revenues, she noted. However, the general fund reserve has been depleted to supplement road work.

Commissioner L. Ray Nunley pointed out that only one new commissioner will be on the board for the next two years, and the majority favoring the hospital debt will serve until it is repaid.

"I think we all agreed at the last meeting the proposed expansion is badly needed," Nunley said.

Spencer said he also would like to find out what kind of financial contribution Presbyterian plans to make toward the project.

"It was not anticipated in Presbyterian's budget (this year) since the facility is owned by Lincoln County," said McMillan. "It was not a question before, but that does not mean we're aren't willing."

Sources of construction grants have dried up, he said. The only additional financial support outside of the commission, the auxiliary and Presbyterian would be philanthropic, McMillan said.

County Commissioner L. Ray Nunley encouraged the hospital to treat patients at home and not ship them out to other Presbyterian facilities in Albuquerque unless absolutely necessary. He doesn't want

Fort group hopeful after meeting with state officials

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

After meeting Friday with state general services officials, members of a citizens group promoting Fort Stanton say they're encouraged the state will cooperate with future plans for the historic fort.

Instead of considering the temporary use of the fort as a women's prison a setback, members said Monday it could be just what they need.

They're optimistic that the 18 months to two-year use of the fort northeast of Ruidoso will be a plus for their goal of turning the fort into a living history museum and convention center.

Prison officials will ensure the historic fort is maintained, repaired and in some cases, improved during the time the minimum security women inmates are kept there, members said. And it will give the group time to solicit financial backing and sponsors for a proposal to turn the fort into a living history museum and conference center.

Best of all, General Services Secretary Stephen Beffort told the group a memorandum of understanding is being prepared by his department with the county commission.

"We are grateful that at least one state agency (state Department of Corrections) has stepped up with the funds required to keep Fort Stanton in excellent repair while we prepare for the eventual acquisition of the property through the auspices of the county of Lincoln," said steering committee members Dick Weber, Sally Burkstaller, Jerry Matton, Trink Edmonds and Van Shamblin.

"The interim period will allow us time to prepare grant applications and do fundraising to acquire the required capital to demonstrate good faith to the state," they stated in a summary of their meeting with Beffort. "We feel the time frame is perfect for us as a public, not-for-profit group to assist the county in preparing for a joint partnership with the state."

While in Santa Fe, Operations members also registered the name "Fort Stanton, Incorporated" with the state as a not-for-profit corporation.

They spent 1.5 hours with Beffort, running a half hour longer than their scheduled appointment while both sides explained their positions.

"Neither the county nor Fort Stanton, Incorporated has current funds to immediately take over operation and ownership of the fort, and neither does the GSD (general services department) have funds to keep it open for more than a few months," Operation president Burkstaller said.

Corrections Acting Secretary David Harris proposed using the fort for a 16-20 month period until a new women's prison is completed in Santa Fe.

"During that period, corrections will maintain the whole entity, keeping it in perfect repair and replacing necessary boilers, water heaters and plumbing as required — all according to historic preservation standards," she said.

Beffort also assured them his department is drafting legislation for the 1997 state Legislature, asking to give the fort to the county as soon as the prison lease expires and the county can prove it is able to

Zia Gas wants 7.5% utility rate increase

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Customers of Zia Natural Gas in Lincoln County will see their bills increase by 7.5%, if the New Mexico Public Utilities Commission approves the company's proposed rate increase.

A customer who uses the average 53,000 cubic feet of gas per month would see the bill go up from $29.02 to $30.13.

Zia serves about 6,000 customers in the combined area of Lincoln County and Jal, and another 11,000 in Hobbs. The Lincoln County service area includes Ruidoso and areas around Capitan.

The utility filed an application with the state Nov. 1 for a uniform rate in all their service areas. It could take as long as nine months for the case to be processed, said state case coordinator Steve Schwabke.

The rate being charged for service by the company actually would go down in Lincoln County under the proposal, from $1.96 per million cubic feet of gas to $1.77 per mcf.

But four other factors will result in an increase on customer bills. They are:

— the cost of the gas to be purchased by Zia as projected for the coming year;

— a reconciliation factor for last year's underprojection of gas consumption and cost;

— and a public utility commission (PUC) requirement to "unbundle" Zia's customer service charge to distinguish between distribution and gas transmission costs.

"The main reason rates would be changing is that the cost of acquiring, constructing and operating the transmission line will be included in calculating the rates," said Mercedes Fernandez-Wells, attorney for Zia.

The gas utility passes along fluctuations in the cost of gas directly to its customers, Schwabke said. Last year, the company underestimated that cost and the amount of gas consumed, and it is allowed to reconcile the difference this year, he said.

The price the company pays for gas also is going up, Hernandez-Wells said.

Statewide, the company wants a 30.7% increase to generate an additional $2.84 million in revenue.

That request would hit the Hobbs area the hardest. Since its rates are lower, the major increase would come from those customers, Schwabke said.

Downs employees get $200 for Christmas

by PAMELA CROMWELL
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Employees of the village of Ruidoso Downs will each have an extra $200 before Christmas. Trustees approved a one-time bonus for all full-time village employees at their regular meeting Monday.

The bonus is given every year and is usually $100, but Mayor Joe Hayhurst asked the council to give every employee $200 this year since no one got pay raises.

Trustees Ray Hayhurst and Margie Morales voted against the $200 bonus, saying not all employees deserve it.

"Some deserve it and some don't," Morales said.

Mayor Hayhurst broke the tie with a vote in favor of the one-time increase.

The council also received October reports from police, animal control, fire, code enforcement and maintenance departments.

Chamber of Commerce executive director Joan Bailey made her quarterly report to the Downs council.

Ruidoso Downs is one of the few New Mexico communities to see an increase in lodger's tax collection during the summer drought, Bailey noted. "New Mexico Business Weekly" reported in September that places such as Angel Fire, Taos and Red River lost big money because of the summer fire scare.

Council may outlaw noise from brakes

by KATHLEEN McDONALD
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

If truck drivers obey Ruidoso-area speed limits, they don't always need to slam on their "jake brakes," a village councilor says.

Councilor Joe Gomez asked other councilors Tuesday to consider outlawing the noisy brake retarders at a Dec. 10 public hearing.

Other communities, like Santa Fe, have ordinances in place prohibiting the use of jake brakes within city limits, Village Manager Gary Jackson said.

But after hearing street inspector Bob Tate explain the importance of using jake brakes on hills like Alto Crest, councilors agreed it's the noise that's the problem, not the brakes.

"In this area with the terrain we have, jake brakes are almost a necessity for safety," Tate said. "Just about any direction you come into Ruidoso, except from the east, there's good (hilly) terrain."

When holding the December hearing, councilors said they'll instead consider prohibiting the excessive noise from the brakes. It would be the first noise ordinance applied to motor vehicles in the village, said police chief Lanny Maddox.

"A lot of guys are coming off of (U.S.) 70 full blast into the city, which has a 45 mph limit," Gomez said. "They're waiting until they turn into here before braking."

Gomez first received a complaint about the jake brakes from a U.S. 70 homeowner about seven months ago. He has since received additional complaints from people living along upper Gavilan Canyon and Hull Road, he said.

The deafening brakes, which utilize the truck's exhaust and/or engine system, are "annoying," Gomez said.

Banning excessive noise from trucks or motor vehicles could be installed in the village's nuisance ordinance. Signs would be erected at the entrance of the village notifying truckers that the excessive noise from the brakes is illegal, Councilor Robert Donaldson suggested.

But it could be "a hit or miss" ordinance, Jackson said, because many of the noises are from passing trucks gone by the time code enforcement officers would receive reports.

"This would not be the easiest ordinance to enforce," he said.

Donaldson said the signs could encourage "self-enforcement."

Jake brakes are vital for truckers traveling down steep roads when standard brakes can get too hot, reducing the stopping power, Tate said. They also help prevent runaway trucks.

The village has three new trucks with jake brakes which create little noise, he said.

Grievance board won't hear officer's complaint

The Ruidoso government's personnel board Friday refused to hear a police sergeant's grievance.

"They determined that it was not something that they needed to hear," said Human Resource Officer Debbie Rogge. "So (the meeting) was short and sweet."

The seven-member board met in closed session for about 20 minutes Friday before determining that the complaint of Sergeant Truman McBride was not a valid grievance, Rogge explained.

After the session, McBride, a 25-year department veteran, declined to publicly comment about the board's ruling or to describe his complaint.

A grievance hearing must involve working conditions or the loss of job, pay, seniority, or a reprimand, according to the village's personnel rules and regulations. McBride's complaint didn't meet this criteria, so the board wouldn't hear it, Rogge said.

The board consists of public-at-large members Pinky Jones, Elwood Gradine, Mike Daulton, Erlene Phillips and Roger Sowder; and ex-officio members Rogge and Assistant Village Manager Alan Briley. All but Sowder were at the meeting.

Deputies' union files complaint vs. commissioners

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

A prohibited practice complaint has been filed against the Lincoln County Commission by the union representing sheriff's deputies.

The state Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) contends the local group has been treated unfairly by the commission because it refuses to recognize the local bargaining entity.

Commissioners contend they were told that employees had elected the organization to represent them for collective bargaining. But when the local unit was asked to produce records of the election, they couldn't be found.

"When the county hired a representative for negotiations, he asked for evidence," explained County Attorney Alan Morel. Without evidence, the commission can voluntarily recognize the group or insist on another election. The commission is insisting on the latter and union members don't like starting at ground zero again, the attorney said.

"The complaint said we treated them unfairly," Morel said. The union will present its case in front of the local labor board Nov. 20 and ask for the board to rule that commissioners should recognize the union without an election, he said.

The union also wants to include dispatchers along with about a dozen deputies in the local bargaining unit, Morel said.

Union representative Greg Williams said the FOP has been active for three years locally. The union represented deputies in a threat to sue that resulted in a settlement between the county and the deputies for payment for lunch time hours when deputies were on call.

An election was conducted for the union. Williams insisted Tuesday. He contended when a previous county manager was fired, the documents may have been destroyed.

The union was within 80 days of being recognized as the bargaining unit when county negotiator John Martinez asked for the election documents, Williams said.

"We were to the point we were sitting down at the table and negotiating," he said. "We had given them our proposals and everything."

Now we have filed a prohibited practice and filed another petition for recognition while we wait for the hearing Nov. 20."

Hospital

the local hospital to become merely a feeding tube for Presbyterian hospitals elsewhere, he said.

McMillan also acknowledged that the hospital may not be able to continue to pay for the county's Medicaid contribution out of the property tax levy.

"Are you going to come back in one year and say you can't handle (it)?" Commissioner Bill Schwettmann asked.

"I can't tell you what will happen in five years. I can't guarantee anything," McMillan said.

"It was a year-to-year deal when they first agreed to take over the Medicaid payments as a favor to the commission," Commissioner Wilton Howell point out. "At some point, we may have to vote on the Medicaid issue and tax the people."

"If the hospital hadn't paid for the Medicaid contribution for the last four years, it would have accumulated an additional $800,000 from the (special property tax levy) in capital reserves."

Lincoln County is one of more than half the counties in the state that hasn't set aside a portion of their gross receipt tax to create a Medicaid fund toward financing the statewide system.

Fort

support the fort's operation, she said.

Operation representatives will meet with correction officials to discuss access to the buildings for restoration research, members said.

The GSD received 172 letters and three times that many phone calls of support for the Operation proposal before the meeting with Burkstaller and members. A resolution from the Lincoln County Commission was sent, but only after some verbal arm wrestling among commissioners.

Commissioner William Schwettmann submitted a new resolution supporting the "grassroots" movement to preserve the fort.

When Commissioners Wilton Howell, L. Ray Nunley and Chairman Monroy Montes balked at approving the resolution, Schwettmann accused them of "political animosity" directed toward him.

Howell said Schwettmann's resolution improperly would put the commission in the position of supporting the proposals of one group to the exclusion of others.

But Schwettmann pointed out his resolution did not specifically support any one group, only a citizens grassroot effort to preserve and develop the fort.

Nunley recommended sending a copy of an earlier resolution of support approved by the commission. Although no motion was offered, the resolution approved previously was faxed to the GSD during the lunch break, Howell later confirmed.

EDITORIAL

Maybe almost everyone is happy about fort now.

Possibly the best thing about the final decision to allow women inmates temporarily at Fort Stanton is, we won't have to argue about what to do with the thing for awhile.

But there are other advantages: the women say they'll be excellent caretakers of the fort. Since its 80 buildings have been empty for 1.5 years, they could use some tender loving care and cleanup.

State officials say they'll negotiate a written agreement with Lincoln County, then propose a joint resolution to the Legislature to transfer Fort Stanton to the Lincoln County government after the prisoners move out in fewer than two years.

It's important to note this will be a written agreement. Leaders move on, as we've seen in the corrections department. New leaders have different ideas.

Groups trying to create a living history fort in the future are happy with the arrangement, especially since state officials have agreed to provide money for historically-correct repairs and maintenance. They say they'll have time to work on their plans now. It's good to hear they're happy, since they've worked so hard (and plan to work harder in the future) to make their wonderful dream come true.

Let's hope nothing changes again, for awhile.

Remarks about inmates were insensitive

TO THE EDITOR:

The women incarcerated at Camp Sierra Blanca would like to respond to a quote printed in the Oct. 16, 1996 issue of The Albuquerque Journal.

While we are not proud to be incarcerated, we are proud of the progress we have made while at Camp Sierra Blanca. We have repaired, cleaned and greatly improved the facility for future inhabitants. We are proud to be in Lincoln County, a beautiful part of New Mexico where locals have treated us with kindness and dignity. We are proud to be moving to Fort Stanton where we can assist in restoration and upkeep of an historical landmark. Above all, make no mistake that we are appreciative of the property's beauty, history and value. As an objective, we have a common interest with you in preserving Fort Stanton.

Perhaps you did not mean for your comments to be insensitive or hurtful. With all due respect, please know that we are intelligent and feeling human beings. We are women who are mindful that there is some local opposition to this plan, as well as some support. We are also women with some knowledge of economics and feel this plan would make economical sense for Lincoln County and the State of New Mexico. Furthermore, we would like to credit the Department of Corrections for their efforts in trying to solve the many issues facing the state's correction system and particularly overcrowding.

To those who oppose our presence here, we humbly ask that you accept our apologies for residing in Lincoln County. Likewise, we would like to accept your apology for your insidious remark involving pigs and lipstick. It was hardly applicable. We regret your failure and negligence to see the positive aspects of our residency in this community.

Legislature needs to encourage tribal self-sufficiency

TO THE EDITOR:

Now that the elections are over it is time to get on with the business of New Mexico politics. It is time for the Legislature to come through for the people of New Mexico.

Jobs are being lost because of your past inaction to get the gaming issue resolved. Whether or not Gov. Johnson's compacts with the Indians are legal or not is no longer the issue.

The Legislature could remedy the situation by leaving personal grudges and jealousies at home and resolve this key issue for the people of New Mexico. I have read that leaders in both the House and Senate are ready and willing to do something about this problem. Come on people, let's be heroes — pass a gaming bill for New Mexico.

We can continue to debate the merits of gambling, but voters approved it at the polls in 1993. Legislators must establish a bill in support of New Mexico gaming so that Indians and racetracks in New Mexico have the ability to survive. There is no argument whether or not Indian nations are now central to economic development. The Indian tribes in New Mexico have stated that they are willing to give the state a larger cut of their profits as well as other concessions. With this, all New Mexicans will be able to be winners.

During the militant days of the '60s and '70s, minorities were told to "work through the system." In the last decade New Mexico Indians have worked through the system to achieve what they have today. They seek self-sufficiency and their enterprises ensure jobs for tribal members and surrounding communities. Let us encourage their progress, not hinder it.

Pianist was sensational

TO THE EDITOR:

Gabriela Imreh, in her piano concert with the Ruidoso Community Concert Association, was superb. Especially brilliant were the five Liszt waltzes which she played following the intermission.

Coupled with her artistry, were her comments about the composers, as well as comments about her travels in the western United States.

Ruidoso is fortunate to have the Community Concert Association, and year after year of top quality musicians.

TO THE EDITOR:

This past summer, I was fortunate to attend a basketball camp in Tucson, Ariz., with several of the Ruidoso High School basketball players. It was a great time and we played teams from all over the southwest. We stayed at the University of Arizona in the dorms.

To Lanny and Tammie Maddox, Coach and Mrs. Roberts, Coach and Mrs. Carter, Brian and Janey Lasley, and John Underwood, I say "thank you for sponsoring me. I could not have attended without your generosity."

Veterans honor service to country

Flag Raising Ceremony On Veterans Day

Members of local veterans organizations held a flag-raising ceremony followed by a meeting and lunch, at 11 a.m. Nov. 11, at the Legion Hall in Ruidoso Downs.

State Rep. Dub Williams said the flag to be raised was the one which draped the casket of Jerome Don Klein, who fell in the service of our country in the Vietnam war. Jerome Don was one of his pupils. Dub said, and a member of a well-beloved family.

This flag was then presented by Dub to Elwood Gradine, who carried it to the flagpole.

The flag was then raised by Lémuel Clarke, and Romeo Klein led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

At the meeting, Dub reminded those present that there was one number they would never forget: their military serial number. He asked each of the veterans to state his serial number and give a brief review of their military service.

Each veteran said they were grateful for the opportunity to serve, and for the experience, and also the learning of self-discipline, and working for a great cause.

In his address, Rep. Williams mentioned that Armistice Day was set aside for remembering veterans of World War I, but the name was later changed to Veterans Day in honor of veterans of all wars.

Mr. Williams further stated we should remember the blessings of living in our country, and also remember our veterans and be grateful for their service to our country.

Among the veterans present were Romeo Klein, Elwood Gradine, James Welch, O.E. Chavez, Dan Rivas, Joseph Mulqueen, Charles Metzger and Victor Shiserer. Ladies Auxiliary members present were Virginia Armstrong, Patsy Klein, Carrol Rus, and Anita Ordorica.

We thank all those who attended this ceremony, and remind those unable to attend that they were remembered.

Ruidoso Women's Club Presents Veterans Program

I was honored to be present at a meeting of members of the Ruidoso Women's Club, together with husbands who are veterans, at noon, Nov. 11.

The meeting was under the direction of president Gladys Dandy, who invited the veterans present to state where they served, and to give a brief account of their experience. All the veterans said they were grateful for the opportunities to serve their country, they had good memories of friends made, and they appreciated our country.

Mrs. Andy Patterson, past president of the organization, offered the prayer before the dinner. She gave thanks to God for our country, and for those who have served so bravely. She asked the Lord's blessing on the food of the dinner, and prayed God's will be done in our lives.

Mrs. Patterson then introduced me, and I led in the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States.

We all express our thanks to the members of the Ruidoso Women's Club for this special day tribute to our veterans, and we all wish them continued good fortune in their work on behalf of our community and our country.

Local teen joins youth conference to offer solutions to problems

by PAMELA CROMWELL
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

New Mexico high school student leaders want state legislators to study the pros and cons of legalizing drugs, especially marijuana. This recommendation is one of many formed at the "On Youth By Youth" conference held in Glorieta, just outside of Santa Fe, Oct. 24-27. A report created by the students in the New Mexico First Town Hall's "On Youth By Youth" conference will be sent to state legislators. It contains their recommendations for changes, some of which are dramatic.

New Mexico teens spoke out on the hottest issues/facing schools, issues that apparently haven't changed much since their parents were in school.

Ruidoso High School junior Bay Hirschfeld was one of 125 young people from around the state attending the Town Hall.

Teen discussions about drug testing became so heated they had to take breaks, Hirschfeld said. The general view was that if drug testing is to be done, it should be done on everyone, including faculty, a view Hirschfeld supports.

"I know people who don't try out for sports because they know they won't pass the drug test," she said.

Ruidoso is the only school district in New Mexico to require drug testing of student athletes, said Karen Honeycutt, assistant director of the New Mexico Activities Association.

Student leaders volunteered to attend this conference through Youth Link, a project of New Mexico Advocates for Children and Families. Others were recruited by New Mexico First.

For the first time, adults stepped back and let teens run the show at the "On Youth By Youth" conference. Student leaders ran small group sessions without adult intervention, and teens were free to speak their minds on alcohol and drug abuse, violence and crime, gangs, teen pregnancy, and other school issues.

"They thought the best way to solve teen problems is to get teens to talk about it," Hirschfeld said. "I think that's the best way, too."

To address the problem of teen pregnancy, many students support distribution of condoms in the schools, Hirschfeld said. Awareness and sex education is the main problem, she said.

"Some girls think it can't happen if you only do it once," Hirschfeld said. "Or they do it to keep their boyfriends."

The boys in Hirschfeld's small group didn't have much to say on the subject.

"It's more of a girl's thing," Hirschfeld said.

The students in Hirschfeld's group ranged in age from eighth-graders to college seniors. Most were from the Albuquerque and Santa Fe areas, and Hirschfeld was the only student from this area.

Compared to schools in New Mexico's larger cities, Ruidoso was almost ideal, Hirschfeld said.

"It sounded like our school was a saint school," she said.

While other schools are dealing with armed security guards in the halls, one of Ruidoso's main controversies is the dress code. This issue came up at the Town Hall, generating a split vote. One thing everyone agreed on, though, was that the rules at one school should be the same at another, Hirschfeld said.

"Policies should be statewide," she said.

Hirschfeld's group extended that equality to funding for schools. There should be no such thing as a "rich school" or a school with better facilities than another, Hirschfeld said. Some of the students in her group come from schools that have no central heating or air conditioning, and others come from schools where every desk is equipped with a computer terminal.

"Funding was the issue in every topic," Hirschfeld said. "Education (facilities and resources) shouldn't be competitive."

Hirschfeld learned that New Mexico spends $24 a day on every prisoner, while it spends one-fourth as much on each student.

Hirschfeld and her peers also

gave the thumbs down sign to the practice of expelling or suspending school rule-breakers.

"Kids want to be at home anyway," she said.

The teens recommend an in-school suspension akin to solitary confinement, giving rule-breakers a packet of work to complete alone. Hirschfeld said Ruidoso High School hardly has a problem with violence anymore.

"My freshman year I was so scared because of fights in the halls," she said.

Principal Ron Hodges has put strict controls on that.

While Ruidoso is in good shape compared to other New Mexico schools, Hirschfeld said she hopes legislators actually read the "On Youth By Youth" report and listen to the young people.

"Older people have opinions, but they sometimes make it out to be worse than it is," she said. "They get these ideas from TV."

Hirschfeld also cautioned adults to give up the idea of completely wiping out problems like teen pregnancy and drug use.

"No matter what we do, we can't solve the problem," she said. "We can only help when it happens."

The New Mexico First Town Hall was held in collaboration with New Mexico Advocates for Children and Families.

The Ruidoso High School Orpheus Chamber Choir performed at a funeral mass for Jenny Ames.

Family encourages others to keep daughter's spirit alive

by PAMELA CROMWELL
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

There is a parable about a mountain climber who finds himself out on a limb, and shouts to the cliff above him, "Is anyone up there?"

A voice replies, "Let go."

The mountain climber then says, "Is anyone else up there?"

Just as the congregation is chuckling at Rev. Dave Berg's joke, his voice breaks as he asks everyone to let go of Jenny Ames.

Berg's uplifting sermon gave equal weight to the healing powers of humor and grief at Monday's memorial service at Ruidoso High School for Ames, a 19-year-old Ruidoso High School alumna who died in a car accident Thursday.

The service was a celebration of life and learning to let go, as approximately 1,000 mourners filled the high school gym to say goodbye to Ames.

Ames was killed in a one-car accident near Socorro Thursday afternoon, Nov. 7. A University of New Mexico sophomore, Ames was a 1995 graduate of RHS. Her former classmates, teachers, and family attended the Catholic funeral mass in the high school gym.

Jenny's father, RHS history teacher Gerald Ames, spoke to the congregation, sharing his own sense of loss and reconciliation. Everyone expected great things of Jenny, he said.

"She was going to be president or something," he said. "Now she won't be president. Now we have to do it."

He encouraged everyone to seek strength in Jenny's spirit to help them achieve their own best.

Several of Jenny's friends and family members offered their own memories and prayers. The RHS Indian Club gave Gerald and his wife Catherine a blanket and prayer. Jenny's friend Scott Christensen read his poem "A Woman and A Friend."

Gerald's sister-in-law Lee Ames played guitar. Brother-in-law Harold Ratcliff led the congregation in "Tears in Heaven," "Wind Beneath My Wings," and "How Great Thou Art."

Jenny Ames

The RHS Orpheus Chamber Choir sang "The Peace."

As the service ended, Tina Turner's "Simply the Best" gave a bittersweet testimony to the loss this community suffered and, for those who knew Jenny, gratitude that she graced their lives.

First-graders star in anti-crime book

McGruff the crime dog recently visited Sierra Vista Primary School, along with Ruidoso police officers and firefighters.

First and second grade students at Sierra Vista learned about crime prevention and fire safety.

Each of Sierra Vista's 207 first-graders received a personalized book titled "McGruff and Me," which depicts that child as the main character of a story.

The child's friends are supporting characters, and the story emphasizes the value of safety and being drug free. Officer Trevanon Ash accompanied McGruff to the school.

Several local businesses and clubs sponsored the book publication, including the Ruidoso/Lincoln County Crimestoppers, the Ruidoso Police Department, Region IX-Drug Free Schools, and the Ruidoso Kiwanis Club.

First-grade teacher Kay Carter and her class at Sierra Vista Primary show off their McGruff book stressing safety in Ruidoso.

The Ruidoso Fire Department gave a fire prevention program to all classes and passed out materials stressing the imporance of fire drills at school as well as having a fire emergency plan at home. The firemen demonstrated fire safety equipment and procedures. Each child was given a pencil case with emergency phone numbers and procedures written on it.

Teachers' dreams could come true

Teachers who have a dream to make themselves a better teacher can get $1,000 to help.

Four Ruidoso teachers won federal Teacher Dream Fund money last year. Pixie Arthur won $400 to attend an advanced placement conference in El Paso; Jackie Tobias won $1,000 to take two computer classes in Oregon; Lisa Vasquez won $1,000 for an autonomous learners conference; and Terri Hardeman won $1,000 to study learning through movement in Michigan.

Other dreams that received awards last year included attending an International Technology Conference in Budapest, Hungary, and studying Spanish in Mexico.

The Center for Teaching Excellence at Eastern New Mexico University and Ruidoso Municipal Schools has received $129,352 for the Teacher Dream Fund this year, which is $4,752 more than requested.

The Teacher Dream Fund, a federal program, began last year. Out of 445 applicants statewide, 57 were awarded money. The award is given to individual teachers to help them reach their professional goals in education.

"A teacher knows what would make them more effective in the classroom (and), therefore, what their dream would be to help them reach that effectiveness," Hulett said.

ENMU and Ruidoso Schools received a larger grant this year because they have been asked to publish a book about the Teacher Dream Fund and distribute it statewide. The grant was written through the university's CTE Director Elwyn Hulett and Dr. Paul Wirth, associate superintendent of Ruidoso Schools.

The maximum grant available to an individual teacher is $1,000, but there is no limit to how many teachers from one school can receive the award. Teachers from any of the public school districts in New Mexico and some of the private schools on the Goals 2000 list are eligible for the award.

The deadline to apply for the latest funds is Dec. 9, and the dream idea must take place between January and August of 1997. Winners will be announced on Jan. 10, 1997. For more information call the Center for Teaching Excellence at (505) 562-2266.

Carrizozo teen wins 4-H award

Carrizozo High School senior Keri Shafer won an all-expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Youth Congress in Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 9 to Dec. 3, according to a release from New Mexico State University's department of agricultural communications.

Shafer earned the trip with her winning clothing project record book that summarized nine years of involvement in 4-H and the clothing project.

The Mal Pais Colts 4-H Club member also has participated in projects involving rabbits, braiding, needlework, baking, and market swine. In addition, Shafer is involved in FFA, basketball, volleyball, the National Honor Society, student council, and her church. During her trip, Shafer will participate in workshops, lectures, social events and area tours. The 17-year-old is the daughter of Scott and Rosemary Shafer of Carrizozo. Mayhill 4-H member Sam Gutierrez also won a trip to Memphis. His winning project involved the conservation of natural resources. Gutierrez is a senior at Cloudford High School.

Daytime GED classes beginning

Daytime GED classes will be offered for the first time in Lincoln County, at 8:30-11:15 a.m. Monday and Thursday mornings beginning Jan. 24 at Nob Hill Early Childhood Development Center. Classes are free.

Few changes to county purchasing policy

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The county manager doesn't need the power to approve up to $5,000 per month in unbudgeted expenses, the Lincoln County Commission decided Friday.

The commission considered a revision to the county purchasing policy that would have given the manager such authority. County Attorney Alan Morel submitted a budgeted version of the policy as an answer to questions raised by Commissioner Bill Schweitzmann.

The commissioner said he was worried it was illegal for the manager to pay unbudgeted bills before the commission reviewed and approved them for payment.

Paying recurring expenses such as utilities before commissioners review the monthly bills is acceptable, because they have been budgeted under operational expenses for various departments and are not considered unauthorized, Morel explained. The same is true for other specifically budgeted purchases such as equipment and supplies.

The county auditor has urged the manager's office to pay bills quickly when a discount is offered, County Manager Frank Potter said. Sometimes waiting for a commission meeting to secure approval made that impossible, he said.

Still, commissioners approved other technical revisions to the policy submitted by Morel.

"We didn't really change anything," said Commissioner Wilton Howell. "If (Potter) approves something not budgeted, it will be on his back, if commissioners don't approve. He better have a good reason."

Commissioners make appointments to boards

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

With the approach of each new year, Lincoln County commissioners review the membership of appointed boards and determine whose terms will expire in December.

Friday, commissioners appointed and reappointed members or took no action on nearly a dozen boards.

Duane L. Frost in District 1 and Robert Walters in District 2 were reappointed to the Agriculture and Rural Affairs Advisory Committee. Dick Cox was a new appointment in District 4.

Bessie Jones and Bart Young were reappointed to the Senior Citizens Olympic Committee and will serve with new appointee Henry Ernest.

Commissioners took no action to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of Colleen Salazar as a representative of the Lincoln Historic Trust on the Lincoln Historic Preservation Board. Salazar wrote that she thought her resignation would be appreciated by others on the preservation board.

Frank Sayner and Clifford Macenas were reappointed to the Labor Management Relations Board.

All current members of the Public Land Use Advisory Council were reappointed. They are Duane Frost, Joel Bonnell, Rex Wilson, Bob Hollis, Wayne Townsend, David Koch, Israel Miranda, Carl Stubbs and Tom Sidwell.

Commissioners reappointed Preston Stone, James Paxton and Brant Taylor to the personnel board.

Commission Chairman Monroy Montes and County Manager Frank Potter will continue to serve on the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District, but Potter switched into the regular member slot and Montes into the alternate position. Montes stayed on the Regional Wastewater Joint Use Board.

Elwood Gradine and Doyle C. Howell were reappointed to the property tax protest board.

John Ashcraft, Van Patten and Marshall F. Conover will continue to serve on the Extraterritorial Zoning Commission. Montes and Commissioner Wilton Howell will remain on the Extraterritorial Zoning Authority.

Free seminar on Alzheimer's disease in Ruidoso Saturday

Senior forgetfulness, mood swings and other behavior changes may be signals it's time for a check-up because they are not a normal part of aging, says a local geriatric care professional.

In recognition of National Alzheimer's Month, the Ruidoso Care Center will present a free seminar on Alzheimer's disease for caregivers and the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 16 in the public meeting room at Ruidoso High School.

Speakers and videos will review information and printed material will be available.

Alzheimer's disease occurs when nerve cells in the brain die. It is considered a type of dementia, according to Dawna Reyes, who also is coordinating the seminar.

Dementia is a major and growing medical and social problem, Reyes said. It interferes with a person's ability to carry out activities of daily living and affects the families caring for the individuals, she said.

"The expense of long-term care, either at home or in a long-term care facility, can be overwhelming financially," Reyes said. "It has been estimated that $40 billion a year for people age 65 and older. The duration of the disease can range from eight to 20 years."

Help and advice for home care givers are available from a variety of sources, including nurses, family doctors, social workers and physical and occupational therapists," Reyes said. "Home health care and respite services can provide much-needed relief to caregivers."

The Ruidoso Care Center operates a 24-bed Alzheimer's Living Center Unit, Reyes said. Support groups offer emotional support for family members who care for a person with dementia, she said. One such group meets 7-9 p.m. the first Wednesday of each month at the care center at 5th Avenue and D Street.

News sports reporter wins second-place award for sports writing

Sports reporter Laura Clymer of The Ruidoso News won a New Mexico Press Association award at the NMPA's awards banquet in Albuquerque Saturday.

Clymer earned second place for sports writing in the Class I weekly division. She submitted two articles for the sports writing prize.

One centered around the re-emergence of the Ruidoso girls volleyball team after the ouster of a popular coach, and the other article featured the efforts of a men's softball team composed of inmates from Camp Sierra Blanca, the Outlaws.

Both submissions demonstrated "excellent writing abilities," the judge wrote, adding they capture and keep the attention of the audience.

RAC offers six-week ski conditioning class

The Ruidoso Athletic Club is offering a six-week, progressive ski conditioning class, which started Monday. The class is open to non-members of the RAC for $40. It is free for RAC members.

The class will emphasize agility and muscle strengthening for skiing. It will meet at 7 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays beginning Nov. 11. Call the RAC for more information at 257-4900.

Ruidoso gridders earn right to keep playing

Warriors make grid playoffs for second time in three years with 49-14 win over Tigers

by LAURA CLYMER
Ruidoso News Sports Writer

The Ruidoso Warriors answered the call Friday — the call of the Tigers, and the call of the playoffs.

Ruidoso earned its second trip to the postseason in three years with a 49-14 pounding of Hot Springs in the final district game of the season for both squads.

The District 3AAA runnerup Warriors improved to 5-5 overall and 3-1 in districts. They will play Las Vegas Robertson, the District 2AAA champ, in a quarterfinal game at 1 p.m. Saturday in Ruidoso.

The key to Friday's contest was the Warriors' ability to answer every challenge the young Tigers threw at Ruidoso.

"They were ready to play us. They are a good ball team and very well coached," Ruidoso head coach Les Carter said of Hot Springs, which finishes 4-6 and 2-2.

The Tigers hung tough after Ruidoso built a 21-7 halftime lead, putting together a time-consuming drive in the third period. Hot Springs scored with four minutes left on a 16-yard pass from Anthony Flores to Bobby Allen. Juan Montoya's kick made it 21-14.

But Ruidoso responded with a drive of its own that culminated in a score early in the fourth period. Corey Saenz connected with Ricky Pacini on a 22-yard pass play for paydirt. Jimmy Stover's extra point gave the Warriors a 28-14 lead.

That's when the cave fell in for Hot Springs.

As they have most of the season, the Warrior defense created turnovers and scored off those Tiger miscues.

Billy Rogge scooped up a Hot Springs fumble, which led to an Arthur Rojas TD run, and Saenz picked off a Tiger pass and returned it 33 yards for another TD. Suddenly, it was 42-14 Ruidoso.

The Warriors closed out their scoring with an Adrian Herrera 23-yard TD scamper, and Ruidoso was in the playoffs.

"I felt like in the first quarter we were pretty tight. We weren't just playing real free like we had," Carter said. "But once we loosened up..."

Even though they were having success in the first half, the Warriors still had some adjustments to make at halftime, and they were the ones who pointed out the changes and made them, Carter said.

"That's a good feeling to see your kids adjust to what they see," he added.

The balanced Ruidoso offensive attack featured 263 yards of rushing, complemented by 120 yards of passing. Four Warriors paced in the running department. Junior fullback Brett Meyer led RHS with 85 yards on 11 carries, while senior running back Arthur Rojas carried the ball a dozen times for 72 yards and three TDs.

Quarterback Saenz was 5-for-11 for 120 yards, one interception and two touchdowns.

Carter admits his team's 5-5 record is a bit deceiving. Ruidoso has lost four games to top 10 Class AAA rated squads. The Warriors' other defeat came at the hands of Carlsbad, a Class AAAA school.

"It paid off playing the tougher teams," he said.

Whether or not it pays off Saturday when the Warriors take on the '92 Cardinals remains to be seen.

That's the next call Ruidoso will have to answer.

Warriors' aggressive play proves costly at state tournament

by LAURA CLYMER
Ruidoso News Sports Writer

The yellow and red penalty cards flew at the Ruidoso soccer team last weekend in Bernalillo like leaves off the cottonwoods lining the nearby banks of the Rio Grande.

The Warriors scored more player ejections than goals in three days of soccer at the state tournament, resulting in a fourth-place finish and plenty of questions in the minds of the Warriors, their fans and coaches.

"The Clovis and Alamogordo coaches said to me, 'It's hard to win state if you're a southern team,'" related first-year Warrior coach Sigurd Schmitz, leaving it to others to draw the conclusion that the Warriors were treated unfairly by the tourney's officials, most of whom officiate games in the Albuquerque area.

The upstart Warriors' hopes to upend Albuquerque's dominance of the state's soccer tournaments came crashing down in RHS' semifinal match with Sandia Prep Friday.

The Warriors' adventure in Bernalillo was more like a whirlwind tour from soccer's highest peak to its lowest valley.

Ruidoso was coming off a thrilling 2-1 win Thursday over Moriarty in the quarterfinals. The Warriors outshot the Pintos in a shootout to advance to the semis for the first time in the history of

Ruidoso AD investigates preponderance of penalties

Ruidoso athletic director Les Carter said he is conducting an investigation of the weekend's events.

"We're going to apologize for our wrongdoings and deal with that in-house, but we have some concerns so we'll be in contact with the NMAA," Carter said.

The Warriors' AD also has learned that the New Mexico Activities Association is sending RHS a letter about the weekend's events.

"We'll try to gather all the facts and review films before we do anything," Carter added.

the soccer program.

One day — and a half of a soccer match — later, the Warriors found themselves disoriented and without their top three players against eventual Class AAA runnerup, Sandia Prep.

The exodus of Ruidoso players began with senior Piper Adamian's red card foul in the 49th minute of the match.

What did Adamian do to the Sun Devil?

"I don't know. I think I got it for trying to help the guy up," Adamian said Saturday.

Adamian and the Sandia Prep player collided when he stole the ball from the Sun Devil. No foul was called and Adamian turned around to help up the fallen Sun Devil. That's when the match's head official red carded Adamian. A red card is immediate ejection from the game.

Twenty minutes later Stover, Class AAA's leading scorer, received his second yellow card and was ejected.

Stover said he picked up his first yellow card for a hard foul. The second foul occurred when he legally tackled a Sandia Prep player, but kicked his heel.

Without Adamian and Stover, who together have scored 50 goals this season, the Warrior hopes faded quickly.

In just one half of play, the Warriors had as many players ejected for fouls as they had through 17 regular season games.

Sandia Prep went on to advance to the finals with a 4-1 win.

"It seems like they don't allow real soccer up here," said Ruidoso assistant coach Dave Anderson while the Warriors ate lunch Saturday. "We're used to soccer more physical like collegiate and international play."

It was a trip through a galaxy of emotions for Ruidoso, with the season coming to an inauspicious end Saturday. Aztec defeated a short-handed Ruidoso squad, 5-1. Please see Soccer, page 12A

Volleyball season ends for Tigers

by LAURA CLYMER
Ruidoso News Sports Writer

A different Animas volleyball team came to Capitan Saturday, just as Tiger coach Bryan Massé feared.

The Panthers, minus a troublemaker who was dismissed from the team earlier in the week, responded with a solid match to eliminate Capitan in the semifinals of the Region G Volleyball Tournament. Game scores were 15-13, 10-15, 15-8, 15-13.

"They would have been better than most anyone that day," Massé said. "They put together a match when they needed to."

While Animas was hitting on all cylinders, the Tigers struggled passing the ball. As a result, Capitan could never really get its offense in sync, Massé said.

The Tigers nearly extended the match to five games when they sprinted to a 10-4 lead in the fourth game. But that's when the Orange and Black stopped being aggressive and started to play not to lose.

"We just got a little tentative," the Tiger coach said of Capitan's fourth game.

Both teams hustled, scrapped after balls and played hard, Massé added. "They just got up everything we hit at them."

Capitan's quick-hitting offense depends on consistent passing and strategic placement of the ball. The Tigers had trouble executing both of those aspects.

"We didn't hit the deep corners enough. We needed to play a little bit more intelligently," said Massé, who added that the Tigers relied too much on the dink.

The Panther victory gave Animas a trip to the Class AA State Volleyball Tournament in Roswell. It runs Wednesday through Saturday. Joining the Panthers from Region G will be District 6AA runnerup Dexter. The Demons advanced with a five-game victory over Hatch Valley in the other semifinal game. Dexter rallied from a 10-0 deficit in the fifth game to earn its trip to state.

In the Region G title game, coach Tina Chipman's Demons outlasted Animas 15-10, 5-15, 16-14, 10-15, 15-11.

"It's just extra hard — being the district champs and losing the thing and then not getting the job done," said a disappointed Massé.

This is the third year in a row the Tigers have come up short in their quest to make the state tourney. Last year Hatch Valley dismissed the Tigers in the Region G semifinals.

Capitan has won back-to-back District 6AA titles, but that doesn't take away the sting of not playing this weekend, Massé said.

"It's just a heartbreak," said Massé, who found some solace Saturday night. "The kids were happy for Dexter. They showed a lot of class by going down after the championship match and congratulating them," he said.

Capitan ends the season with a 12-7 overall record.

Texico gridders rudely dismiss Capitan, 48-0

Wolverines capitalize

Not too long into the bus ride home from Texico, Capitan head football coach Ed Davis vacated his usual seat in the back and headed to the front of the bus.

There, he sat down with assistant coach Pat Ventura and the two started planning for the 1997 grid season. It was just several hours after Texico ended Capitan's season in the Class A state playoffs Saturday with a 48-0 shutout.

"Coach Ventura and I mapped out what were going to do in the off season and for next year," Davis said.

For Davis and Ventura, there never really is an off season, it seems.

"I'm going to tell you something, this is the first losing season we've had in four years, but we will be back. We will be back," Davis promised.

All season the Tigers have flirted with self-destruction during games. Saturday, they dated it and then went all the way.

Texico turned three Capitan turnovers and a blown Tiger punt coverage into touchdowns for a 28-0 halftime lead.

All of that came after a Tiger goal-line stand at the 4-yard line. The Wolverines drove the ball on their first possession and threatened, but the Capitan defense held. The Tigers took over offensively, couldn't muster much and punted the ball.

That's when Texico speedster Melvin Askew picked the pigskin and raced 42 yards for the Wolverines' first score.

The blown punt coverage sapped whatever confidence

OBITUARIES

Jenny Ames

A memorial mass for Jenny Ames, 19, of Ruidoso was Monday, Nov. 11, at the Ruidoso High School Gym with the Rev. Dave Berg officiating. A farewell gathering immediately followed in the high school cafeteria. An additional celebration of life will be held on the University of New Mexico campus at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 13. Contact the UNM Student Government in Albuquerque for more information.

Jenny died Thursday, Nov. 7 as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident near Socorro. She was born Aug. 11, 1977 in Albuquerque to Gerald and Cathy Ames.

Jenny was our sister, our daughter, our friend, our teacher, our strength and our love. She touched the lives of everybody in this community and her loss is felt by everyone.

Jenny had lived in the Ruidoso area all of her life. She was a sophomore at the University of New Mexico. She graduated from Ruidoso High School in 1995 where she was very active, but her love was in gymnastics and student politics.

She is survived by her parents,

Gerald and Cathy Ames of Ruidoso; two sisters, Sarah Brown and her husband Brian of Las Cruces; and Melissa Ames of Ruidoso, her grandmother, Mrs. Lucille Langley of Albuquerque; and many aunts, uncles, cousins and a host of friends.

In lieu of floral offerings, the family requests contributions to the Jenny Ames Scholarship fund established in her honor at the central office of the Ruidoso Municipal Schools, 200 Horton Circle, Ruidoso, New Mexico, 88945.

Frank Trujillo

Prayer vigil for Frank Trujillo, 83, of Ruidoso was Monday, Nov. 11, at LaGrone Funeral Chapel. The funeral mass was Tuesday, Nov. 12 at St. Eleanor's Catholic Church in Ruidoso. Burial followed at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Ruidoso.

He died Friday, Nov. 8, at Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso. He was born July 19, 1913 at Hondo to Cruzita and Juan Trujillo. He was a resident of Lincoln County all of his life and attended St. Eleanor's Catholic Church. He was retired from masonry-in construction.

He married Lugarda Peralta in June, 1958 at Capitan. He is survived by his wife Lugarda of Ruidoso; a daughter, Judy Gonzales of Alamogordo; two sons, Tommy Trujillo and Manlio Trujillo, both of Ruidoso; a sister, Martha Montoya of Ruidoso; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Sarah Cole

Sarah M. Cole, 48, of Alto died Saturday, Nov. 9, at her home. No services are planned at this time.

She was born Oct. 5, 1948 at Seward, Alaska to Florence and Ora Jones. She moved to Ruidoso in 1989 from Phoenix, Ariz.

She was a member of the New Mexico Real Estate Association. She was the office manager for Ruidoso Printing Co. and had also been co-owner with her husband Scott Jensen of the publication of "Cable Home Companion."

She is survived by her husband, Scott Jensen of Alto; a son, Bill Fischer, also of Alto; her mother, Florence Elliott of Crawfordville, Ore.; two sisters, Patty Williams and her husband Richard of Crawfordville, Ore., and Marilyn Ohide of Bremerton, Wash.; and two brothers, Danny Jones and Mike Jones of Albany, Ore.

The family has requested memorials to the Humane Society of Lincoln County.

Jack Tice

Memorial services for Jack Tice, 68, of Ruidoso were Tuesday, Nov. 12, at LaGrone Funeral Chapel in Ruidoso.

Mr. Tice died Wednesday, Nov. 6, at his home. He was born March 1, 1928 in Hollis, Okla. to Ruby and Perry Tice. He had lived in Ruidoso for the past six years, moving here from Roswell where he had lived since 1960. He was owner and operator of Southwest Bearing Company for 35 years. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

He married Mary Moore on Jan. 29, 1956 at Morton, Texas and she preceded him in death on May 28, 1994.

He is survived by three sons, James David Tice of Roswell, Perry Jack Tice Jr. of Corpus Christi and Michael Dean Tice of El Paso; and five granddaughters.

The family has requested memorials to the Humane Society of Lincoln County.

The family will be receiving guests at 106 Cochise or telephone calls at 257-7756.

Ruidoso News Nov. 8, 1948

Ike Wingfield, the man who dug the channel for El Rio Ruidoso last week added another accomplishment to his long list by killing the biggest bear of the season (so far). The bear weighed 325 pounds and its hide is one of the best seen hereabouts in many a year.

Road crews have been busy during the last week making center stripes on Highway No. 70 from Roswell to Ruidoso. In addition to the white stripes defining the middle of the highway, yellow caution stripes are being painted in at curves and on approaches to hills. When such a yellow stripe appears on the driver's side of the white center stripes it is a warning not to cross on to pass another car.

Spare Stamps 9 and 10, each good for five pounds of home-canning sugar, will continue to be valid through November 30, according to Fred R. Hopper, district O.P.A. rationing executive.

Tigers

the Tigers had gained after their goal-line stand.

"It was just kind of like we were out there in the ozone layer," Davis said. "We kind of went, 'Uh-oh, what do we do now?'"

"Our kicking game just wasn't there on Saturday," Davis added.

The Wolverines then returned two interceptions for touchdowns on the Tigers' next two possessions. Texico capped off its first-half scoring when it recovered a kickoff deep in Capitan territory and then punched in for the fourth TD of the half.

"I personally feel that we didn't play up to our mental and physical capabilities Saturday," Davis said. "You got to learn to handle pressure."

The Wolverines demonstrated why they are ranked No. 2 in the polls with their opportunistic play. They also made sure they kept that rating by playing their starting 11 most of the game.

Davis took a different approach once the game's outcome was decided.

"Everyone played," Davis said. "We were trying to get them some experience and overcome the lack of experience we had this year."

The Tigers lose a dozen seniors to graduation: Kyle Capitan-head football coach Ed Davis delivers instructions to senior quarterback Steve Wilson. Texico ended the CHS season Saturday.

Jones, Steve Wilson, Jayson McSwane, Jonathan McCarty, Sean McEuen, Randy Hutchison, John Shrencengost, Shane Carpenter, Drew Smith, Jeremy Hoover, Nolan LaRue and Duke Gibbs.

But Capitan returns some of the best numbers in the state for a Class A program from its fresh-

"I would have liked them to have done better, but they did work hard," Davis said of his 4-6 Tigers.

The seventh-year coach also expressed his gratitude to the parents of the Tigers, noting "We couldn't do it without them."

Soccer

for third place that day. Ruidoso had to play without Adamian, Stover and Gomez because players ejected from any match must sit out the next one.

Through most of Saturday's match, Schmitz watched the future of Ruidoso soccer compete against older counterparts. The Warriors had as many as five eighth-graders on the field at a time.

Adamian, Stover and Gomez watched helplessly from the sidelines while the more experienced Aztec Tigers sprinted to a 3-0 lead despite the valiant efforts of Warrior keeper Jose Maldonado. Without several incredible saves, Ruidoso might have trailed by as many as six.

Ruidoso's Todd Strasser got the Warriors on the scoreboard. Aztec scored another goal right before half for a 4-1 lead.

Friday's flurry of yellow cards didn't affect the Warriors' aggressive style of play Saturday. They went right after the Tigers, and out came the yellow cards.

In the first half, the benched trio drew a card for its chatter from the sidelines. Adamian, Stover and Gomez were asked to leave the soccer complex for their comments.

"That was a legitimate yellow card. They deserved that," Schmitz said. "I'm not making an excuse, because there are no excuses, but I think it was a lot of frustration leftover from yesterday (Friday)."

Another Warrior was ejected from Saturday's game for getting two yellow cards, and Schmitz was ejected because Ruidoso had racked up too many yellows.

A teammate fetching the ball from the goal was an all-to-familiar sight for Warrior keeper Jose Maldonado.

Despite that, Schmitz said Saturday's head official called a good game.

"Our players were really upset," Schmitz said. "They were destroyed yesterday (Friday)."

After Saturday's game, the Warriors gathered for lunch at the Olive Garden and talked about the weekend. They exchanged recollections about Friday's match and discussed the variety of objects and verbal barbs the Prep fans tossed at them.

There were some laughs at the table too, and probably the realization that it had been a good season, all in all - a 13-7 record, a district title and the first trip to the tournament semis.

Just how something so good went to something frustrating so fast left Schmitz nearly speechless.

"I don't know what else to tell you," said Schmitz, shaking his head in wonderment.

Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Some emergency tips for pets recently were published by "Prevention for Pets Magazine," ranging from how to give medicine to pets to how to check your pet's pulse.

And experts answered the often-asked question about the dangers of chocolate to pets.

Calling it a tasty toxin, the magazine stated it is dangerous to pets when eaten in large quantities, especially baking chocolate.

Below are some of the other tips listed.

When trying to locate the pulse of a pet, the inside of the back thigh where the leg joins the body is the best place. The normal pulse for cats is 110-170 beats per minute and for dogs, 70-150 per minute.

The magazine writer's recommend using carrots and hard rubber toys to help keep pets' teeth clean.

When a pet has bad teeth, bacteria can enter the blood stream around the gums and could settle on the heart valve. They recommend brushing or scrubbing the teeth daily.

Bad breath also can be an indicator of a more serious problem.

A urine-like smell might mean kidney disease.

A sweet scent could indicate diabetes, coupled with a pet drinking or urinating more than usual.

A foul mouth odor could mean a liver disorder, if the pet also is vomiting, has lost its appetite, has a swollen stomach area or yellowing of the eyes or gums.

A short list of house plants that could hurt your pet includes philodendron, dieffenbachia, yew, caladium, spider plant, cyclamen, foxglove, holly, mistletoe, azalea and rhododendron.

But bottom line, house plants should be placed when pets can't reach them.

To give pets prescription medicines:

— wrap a towel around a cat's chest to ensure its feet are blocked;

— place the palm of your hand over the bridge of the pet's nose, circling the muzzle with your thumb and middle finger and fitting behind each upper canine tooth;

— gently press the lips against the teeth to make the pet drop its jaw;

— with the other hand, put the pill on the back of the tongue and hold the pet's mouth closed, stroking the throat until it swallows;

— as soon as the medicine is in place, gently blow in the cat's face and it will swallow as a reflex, or wait until it licks its nose, a signal it has swallowed.

Night Driving and Glare

When driving at night do you have problems with annoying glare from oncoming traffic? Do the lights in your place of business or from your computer cause a reflection or a glare? If you answered yes to either one of these questions Anti-Reflective Coating on your glasses may be the answer for you.

Anti-Reflective Coating is a special coating put on your lenses that helps to eliminate glare and reflections and allows up to 99% of the light to reach your eyes. Even if you don't wear glasses you can get lenses with no prescription on them and add the Anti-Reflective Coating just to help you with the glare of driving or office work. Call 257-5029 or drop in at Family Vision Center and speak to any one of our friendly staff members. They can answer any questions you may have on Anti-Reflective Coating.

Featured Athlete

Arthur Rojas
Ruidoso Warriors
Football

Arthur scored three touchdowns in Ruidoso's 49-14 rout of Hot Springs Friday. Rojas and his Warrior teammates earned a spot in the Class AAA playoffs with the victory. Ruidoso hosts Las Vegas Robertson Saturday in a first-round game.

Featured Athlete

Coye Robbins
Capitan Tigers
Volleyball

Coye's hitting efforts paced the Tigers at the Region G Tournament Saturday. Unfortunately, the Tigers couldn't subdue a fired-up Animas team in the semifinals. The District 6AA champs finish the season at 11-7 overall.

"Top Gun Over Moscow"

Strap into your katapultnoye kryeslo! That's "ejection seat" to you jet jockeys new to the MiG-29 and the Su-27, the hottest super-fighters in the Russian Air Force. Nova draws back the curtain on these sleek war machines and their once faceless pilots in "Top Gun Over Moscow."

Even with the Cold War over, it's a good bet that Western aviators will someday tangle with these aircraft, if not from the Russian Air Force, then from one of the many nations like China, Iraq, Peru, and Vietnam that are acquiring them.

Not so long ago, US spy satellites strained their lenses just to get a glimpse of the latest Russian mystery jets such as the Su-27. But now anyone can plop down $15,000 and ride one, courtesy of the cash-strapped Russian Air Force, which has had to resort to innovative fundraising to stay in the air.

"Top Gun Over Moscow" on Nova will be broadcast Tuesday, November 12th at 7:00 p.m. The program repeats Saturday, November 16th at 9:00 p.m., and Sunday, November 17th at 12:00 midnight.

Preminger — Anatomy of a Filmmaker

Preminger — Anatomy of a Filmmaker is a revealing look at the life and work of prolific and controversial filmmaker Otto Preminger. The program features interviews with many of the actors, writers, and behind-the-scenes players who worked with the mercurial producer/director during the 50 years of his remarkable career.

Preminger was the first filmmaker to declare independence from the Hollywood studio system. His films dealt with controversial subjects previously taboo in Hollywood movies: drug addiction, racial prejudice, rape, homosexuality, and political corruption.

Otto Preminger was born in Vienna in 1906, the son of the attorney general of the Austrian Empire. While earning a law degree, he became involved in the theater. After stints as an actor, director, and producer, he came to the United States in 1935 to direct a Broadway play. He then went to Hollywood to work for 20th Century-Fox. Preminger broke from the traditional Hollywood studio system and became an independent producer in the early 1950s. His bold and provocative talent left a legacy of "freedom of expression" for modern filmmakers. Preminger died in 1986.

Preminger — Anatomy of a Filmmaker will be broadcast Sunday, November 17th at 10:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.
