Domenici and Skeen meet with locals this week

Lincoln County's congressional representatives will be in Carrizozo and Alamogordo this week during their break from Washington.

U.S. Rep. Joe Skeen (R-NM) will meet at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday with county officials and village officials from around the county, at the commission meeting room of the county courthouse in Carrizozo. The meeting is open to the public.

Skeen also will be at the Corona Schools at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday to meet with Corona Supt. Bob Richardson, talk to the student body and have lunch with them.

U.S. Sen. Pete Domenici (R-NM) will attend a Character Counts luncheon for Otero and Lincoln county participants at noon Saturday at the Alamogordo Holiday Inn on White Sands Boulevard.

Oklahoma parents killed in accident

An Oklahoma couple was killed and their children injured early Saturday when their pickup truck struck a semi.

Andres Flores, 30, of Clinton, Okla., died at the scene of the accident on U.S. 54, about 15 miles south of Carrizozo.

Hilda Lopez, 22, died at about 2 p.m. Monday at University Hospital in Albuquerque.

State Police Officer Ricky Virden said Flores' 1989 Chevrolet pickup was headed south when it veered into the path of a 1996 Freight Line semi-truck heading north and driven by Harry Campbell, 48, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Campbell attempted to avoid the pickup, but Flores hit the left front wheel of the tractor and struck the trailer, Virden said.

Sandy Flores, 4, was stabilized at Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital in Alamogordo and transferred to the University of New Mexico Hospital in Albuquerque.

She was listed in serious condition Monday, according to a hospital official.

Andres Flores Jr., 3, received minor injuries, was treated and released, Virden said.

Campbell and his passenger, Janice Spoehr, 56, were not injured.

Liquor was not involved in the accident and seat belts were not in use, according to Virden.

Williams bill changed to keep meetings open

Public tells him not to close hospital meetings

by HELEN GAUSSOIN
AND ANN MOORE
News Capitol correspondents

Rep. Dub Williams has backed down on a bill that would have closed Lincoln County Medical Center board meetings.

The bill would have changed the Open Meetings Act to exempt boards of privately operated county hospitals from the act. Williams (R-Glencoe) said he has amended the bill to just exempt Presbyterian Healthcare Services board meetings, not meetings of the individual county hospital boards. Presbyterian runs Lincoln County's hospital and others.

Williams said he has received numerous calls from people who are worried the bill will close meetings of the hospital board, which Williams has chaired for at least six years.

"People are concerned, they're asking, 'Is this going to close the meetings?' No. They'll be exactly the same, exactly as they have always been as long as I've been on the board," Williams said. He said he has been on the board for 16 to 17 years.

Pat Rogers, a lobbyist for the New Mexico Press Association, said Tuesday he has been working with Williams and a lobbyist for Presbyterian to draft an amendment that ensures the local meetings stay open.

"We're still tinkering with the language," Rogers said. The intent of the amendment would be to exempt from the Open Meetings Law any private corporation running a public hospital "as long as there is a local board which is subject to the Open Meetings Law," he said. "I believe that we're going to be able to work something out," Rogers said.

Dub Williams

Williams said the bill as originally written was too broad.

"It painted with too broad a brush across the state," Williams said.

Tom Horan, a lobbyist for Presbyterian, said lawyers for the company are concerned the private corporation's meetings might be subject to the Open Meetings Law because it operates a public hospital.

"With a very broad interpretation, they could say that since the corporate board makes some decisions that affect the hospital...they could extrapolate that we are still a county hospital," he said.

Horan said the issue was raised by the company's lawyers.

"We're not trying to hide anything. We're just trying to make sure we don't run into any unexpected legal problems. We don't want the attorney general mad at us," he said.

Bob Johnson of the Foundation for Open Government said his group supports the amendment.

"Big outfits, like Presbyterian... probably should not be required to open their private corporation meetings and records but, when they run a local public hospital, (the local board) should be subject," Johnson said. "As long as the local public hospital boards are subject to the act, I think that's all we can expect."

The House Voters and Elections Committee last week endorsed the bill and sent it to the House Judiciary Committee.

Campos once again dubbed 'King of Pork'

Fellow state senators give him pink pig puppet

by ANN MOORE
News Capitol correspondent

Ruidoso's senator has once again been given the dubious distinction of being the "King of Pork" by fellow senators, but he says he doesn't mind carrying the title because it represents the needs of his district.

Sen. Pete Campos (D-Santa Rosa), a Democrat whose expansive district encompasses San Miguel, Guadalupe, De Baca and Lincoln counties, repeatedly earns the King of Pork moniker because he usually sponsors a record number of local capital improvement projects — projects like senior citizen centers or bal-fields that are often called "pork."

"I can't shake the title," Campos said with a smile that meant he is not unhappy with his pork-heavy reputation. "It comes from peoples' needs, the tremendous needs of rural New Mexico communities. It is our lifeblood. These things are needed to upgrade our infrastructure."

Local power company offers electricity from around U.S.

PUC hears plan this week

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Customers of Texas-New Mexico Power will choose their own power providers under the state's first electric deregulation proposal, if it is approved by the state Public Utility Commission.

That means customers could even choose providers based on what kind of power they prefer, from solar to wind to coal to nuclear.

And for the next three years, their electric bills would freeze at a rate 3% lower than they paid in December 1996. Then they could start buying power from various providers.

A hearing before the Public Utility Commission is planned for Thursday. The commission's approval is the last step before the plan can be implemented in phases over the next three years.

The electric company serves about 10,160 customers in Lincoln County, the majority in the Ruidoso area.

TNP does not produce power in New Mexico. It buys and distributes power to customers. The company voluntarily submitted the proposal called "Community Choice" to the PUC, because company officials anticipate a restructuring of the power industry and want to be in the lead, said Dave Warren, PUC executive director.

About eight to 10 states are engaged in some form of restructuring for a competitive market, Warren said.

A similar approach initiated in New Hampshire has yielded an average of 15% lower electric bills for about 17,000 customers in that state, he said.

Legislation for competitive suppliers in California and Maine mandates a 10% reduction. TNP has projected a 9% savings in New Mexico, Warren said.

If the plan is approved, the average local customer using 505 kilowatt hours a month during the three-year freeze period would see bills drop by $1.28 from $43.84 to $42.56, according to Valerie Smith of TNP's Texas office.

"TNP submitted their plan to us close to a year ago. We started serious negotiations last fall when the (PUC) said sit down at the table and see if you can work something out," Warren said.

Already signing off on the stip-

DAVE WARREN
PUC EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

ulation are the PUC staff, the New Mexico attorney general, New Mexico Industrial Energy Consumers and two of the power company's largest New Mexico customers, the city of Alamogordo and the Cobre Mining Co.

"We are trying to meet the needs of our New Mexico communities by moving our plan for competition forward with the PUC," said TNP Chairman and CEO Kevern Joyce.

TNP has 218,000 customers, with about 43,000 customers in southern New Mexico and the rest in Texas. The company submitted a customer choice plan in Texas, too, but failed to reach agreement. Talks recently have started up again, Warren said.

Power

"Three years from the date of PUC approval, the entire service territory will be available for customer choice," he said.

"We'll probably see names like Pacific Gas and Electric out of California and a lot of other power marketers spring up as they see the market become available. They will have to pass a financial test and we're going to have reliability contracts so the lights won't go out.

"There will be a lot of customer protection, because there will be companies out there forming right and left."

Explaining the purchasing process, Warren said, "You can't track electrons as you can a phone call from beginning to end. We're connected to the entire western power grid. Marketers buy power and take the risk. They will put it into the grid somewhere and TNP will deliver it to customers.

"If a customer wants to pay more, maybe to get better service or an alternate method of generating power, such as the wind (or nuclear), that will be their option."

TNP will remain the source of power delivery, but the company won't have a lock on negotiating power contracts for all of its customers. The customer will be able to go out and shop around for the best price, Warren said.

"That prospect may be intimidating for many people, he acknowledged.

"We will have a huge education campaign ahead of us so that customers can form choices," Warren said.

Initially, TNP envisioned towns negotiating for their residents in a block, but since New Mexico municipalities don't regulate electric rates as they do in Texas, the plan includes individual customers.

"Nothing would preempt an individual from shopping on their own, but we believe residents will go through an aggregator," Warren said. An aggregator would gather groups of residents and companies by advertising and signing them up in a fashion similar to long distance telephone companies, he said.

Also, customers will have the choice of allowing TNP to continue to buy for them even at the end of the three-year period, he said.

"TNP will go out to the market and on behalf of what I predict will be a fairly larger percentage initially, 50-75%," Warren said. "Those people are going to want to feel out this whole thing before they go out.

So TNP will have a fairly good (customer base) to go out and bid to the market, the same as they're doing now, buying their power on contract."

'Dirty' power must be offset by 'clean' stuff

Companies that purchase power from a dirty coal generator to save a penny will have to offset that emission with clean power or some other environmental offset, under the electric power deregulation plan.

Parties must agree to work toward a goal of 25% or greater reduction in atmospheric emissions, while retaining a substantial majority of the economic benefits to customers.

"We have to work out how compliance will be handled," New Mexico Public Utilities Commission Director Dave Warren said.

Other elements in the proposed agreement include:

— TNP will be required to restructure so that its transmission and distribution function is separate from its power supply function;

— TNP will develop a program within one year to allow small commercial customers a chance to choose energy suppliers in a experimental program for both sides to gain some experience and learn before the three-year period is up;

"We've written in a lot of checks and balances," he said.

— and there will be no earnings cap for TNP.

Consumers shouldn't worry about that last provision, because it is based on a rate freeze for three years at 3% below the rate in December, Warren said.

If the company becomes more efficient during that period and reduces its operating costs, it will be able to keep its increased profit, he said.

Boy, 11, lost in Hale Lake area

A search was launched Tuesday evening for an 11-year-old boy who became separated from his father while hiking in the Hale Lake area a few miles southeast of Ruidoso Downs.

Information about the boy was sketchy Tuesday night. New Mexico State Police only knew the boy's first name, Robert, and the undersheriff said he may be from Louisiana.

The boy was described as being 5 feet tall and weighing 80 pounds. He was dressed in a green waterproof military jacket and was carrying food and water. He also was traveling with a dog, according to information from the Ruidoso Downs Police Department.

The boy was reported missing at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, about five hours after he was last seen by his father, law enforcement officials said.

Officers from the Downs, Ruidoso, sheriff's office and State Police were involved in the search Tuesday night in steady rain.

Commissioner has second thoughts about law change

After listening to the experts in Santa Fe Friday, Lincoln County Commissioner Wilton Howell has changed his mind about the state's 1995 Subdivision Act.

It's too late for a quick fix to undo the law in the current New Mexico state legislative session, the commissioner said. Besides, the act has more flexibility and allows more local control than he originally thought, Howell said.

The revelation came during a meeting of commissioners from all over the state at the Association of Counties. Howell came armed with a resolution urging the immediate modification of the subdivision act, with the backing of many local real estate agents.

"The proposals (one by the state association of home builders) to modify the subdivision law were worse than the original 1995 bill," Howell said. "The association is not going to support any change this year."

Howell said the association's opinion that it's too late to try to force a change in the law this year has the backing of commissioners William Schwettmann, L. Ray Nunley and Chairman Monroy Montes.

With an assembly of lawyers at the association session, including one from the attorney general's office, the meeting became an educational process, he said.

"We do have some tools in the current law to leave some autonomy to counties, more than I realized," Howell said. "It's not one shoe fits all, as I originally thought. We need to explore ways to make this law friendly for our people."

If modifications are to be made, the work should start now for next year, or the year after, he said.

Tuesday was Lincoln Co. War's 119th anniversary

Tuesday marked the 119th anniversary of the start of the Lincoln County War, and the 118th anniversary of the final murder of the War.

On Feb. 18, 1878 at approximately 5 p.m., John Tunstall was shot dead near present-day Glencoe. His death marked the start of the Lincoln County War.

Exactly one year to the day later, on Feb. 18, 1879, lawyer Huston Chapman was shot dead in the street in Lincoln. His death was the last official fatality of the most famous range war the Old West ever knew.

Campos

Campos was the object of a little ceremony in the Senate, in which he was given a fuzzy pink hand-puppet — a pig — to designate his "royal" status.

"May the pork be with you," Senate President Pro Tem Manny Aragon reportedly told Campos, playing on the frequently-invoked phrase from the movie "Star Wars."

At last count, Campos has introduced 69 bills calling for $54 million in appropriations to pay for projects in "every small community" within his district.

For Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs alone, Campos has introduced at least six projects: a ballfield, youth center, water system and fire station for Ruidoso; and a ballfield and sewer system for Ruidoso Downs.

Campos said he knows he won't get all the money he's requesting for all the projects, but it helps "establish a record of need in rural New Mexico." The bills involve not just state money but other funding sources, he added.

"My intent is to help smaller communities," Campos said. "We want to show the general public some of the unemployment figures in these sparsely populated areas, that the integrity of these small communities needs to be protected." In Ruidoso, for example, the racing industry is in jeopardy, Campos said.

State financial experts estimate there will be $63 million available for capital projects from severance tax revenues — those that come from the oil and gas and mining industries. They estimate there will be another $130 million for capital projects spending from the general fund, the budget for ongoing state expenses.

Campos bills would fund county school, village projects

Other Lincoln County projects Sen. Pete Campos is seeking funding for include:

- Hondo Valley Schools, SB 284
- Capitan Water System, SB 436
- Carrizozo Schools, SB 285
- Carrizozo Water and Sewer, SB 294
- Carrizozo Computer Network, SB 437

Public input sought by members of Solid Waste Authority

Ruidoso residents will have a chance next month to air complaints and praise for garbage collection in the village.

The governing board of the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority voted unanimously Tuesday to allow its member entities to ask their residents for feedback.

The results of public hearings or surveys are to be brought back to the authority at its meeting March 18. Only Ruidoso officials indicated they definitely would hold a hearing.

The board consists of representatives of the county and its five municipalities. Ruidoso is the most heavily populated town in the authority and has the most members on the 11-member board. The group has come under fire in the past few years by some Ruidoso residents who contend the collection system has deteriorated.

Jim Miller, administrator of the Ruidoso campus of Eastern New Mexico University and a consultant to the authority, questioned the timing of the hearing. He is compiling a study on the authority's operation, the type of service residents want and options for obtaining those goals.

It's important that the authority members show a united front to receive a $183,000 loan from the state to pay off equipment debts and ease its financial situation, Miller said.

Ruidoso Village Councilor Robert Donaldson, who serves on the authority, said if residents want the village to collect its own garbage, that doesn't mean it would pull out of the authority or not use its landfill in Alamogordo.

Charlotte Craig

Visitation for former Ruidoso Downs trustee Charlotte Darlene Craig, 55, will be from 9 a.m. until noon Thursday, Feb. 20, at LaGrone Funeral Chapel in Ruidoso. Cremation will follow.

She had served the village of Ruidoso Downs as a trustee from 1991 until 1996, and mayor pro-tem from 1992 until 1996.

Mrs. Craig died Monday, Feb. 17, at Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso. She was born May 18, 1941 in Ruidoso and had lived in the area all of her life. She was a member of the Ruidoso Baptist Church, a former member of the Municipal League and was a volunteer at the Ruidoso Downs Senior Citizens Center.

She married Tony Craig on Aug. 29, 1969 at Ruidoso.

She is survived by her husband Tony of the home; a son, George Lester Hancock; two daughters, Norma Jean Pinkston and Dixie Louis Morris; two brothers, Ernest Burgess and Clifford Burgess; five sisters, Rachel McMenamy, Dixie Burgess, Geneva Weygandt, Mary Burgess and Ina Jean Miranda; and nine grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by two brothers, Douglas and Raymond Burgess, and a sister, Ruth Bretz.

The family has requested memorials to your favorite charity.

Mary Fatty

Prayer services for Mary Magdalena Magoosh Fatty, 77, of Mescalero will be at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 19 at the Mescalero Reformed Church. The funeral service will be at 2 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 21 with the Rev. Bob Schut officiating. Burial will follow at the Mescalero Cemetery.

Mrs. Fatty died Sunday, Feb. 16 in Albuquerque. She was born June 8, 1919 in Mescalero and had lived there all of her life. She was a member of the Mescalero Reformed Church and was a retired cook for the Mescalero Headstart and Elementary Schools.

She married Gibson Fatty on May 10, 1954 at Mescalero.

She is survived by her husband Gibson of the home; a son, Cornel Gibson Fatty of Mescalero; five daughters, Claudine Cansler Klinekole, Rufina Marie Magoosh Laws and Ruby Pena Walsh, all of Mescalero; 13 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Mary Powell

Mary Louis Powell, 90, died peacefully at her home in Palisades, N.Y., on Feb. 6. She and her husband, Victor Powell, lived on the Woods Road in Sneden's Landing for more than 50 years.

Born in McMinnville, Tenn., on Aug. 26, 1906, she earned both Bachelors and Masters degrees in Comparative Literature from the University of Texas at Austin. She taught English at Bellhaven College in Jackson, Miss., prior to her marriage. She was organist at Grace Episcopal Church in Nyack during the year of her marriage to Victor Powell. She was a long-standing member and past president of the Thursday Reading Class of Nyack.

An avid reader, lover of the theater, and devotee of the arts, she spent the majority of her life raising her three children and supporting her husband's music profession. Summers at the family home in the high Rocky Mountains of Ruidoso and frequent trips to Europe (especially Paris) were important to her.

She is survived by her beloved husband Victor Powell; two brothers, Ernest and Robert McDaniel of Glencoe; three children, Helen, Ernest and Robyn; seven grandchildren; and a growing number of great-grandchildren.

She was the daughter of Ernest McDaniel Sr., long-time resident of Ruidoso. Her son Ernest and wife Anita Powell live in Ruidoso now.

Sometimes one must wonder about 'modern' education

A bit removed from the legislative lever that balances precariously on the Roundhouse in Santa Fe, it is difficult to fathom just what's going on with something called Senate Bill 155.

The sponsor, Sen. Pauline Eisenstadt, a Corrales Democrat, said she introduced the bill because the state Board of Education hadn't done its job. The job undone, it appears, was a board decision not to adopt National Academy of Science standards for the teaching of science in the state's public schools.

Those standards include the teaching of evolution in biology classes, something that presumably was settled once and for all in the public consciousness with the Scopes monkey trial of the 1920s.

Not so in New Mexico, apparently. In the Senate, the bill was approved by a 24-17 vote and sent along to the House of Representatives. What might happen in the august lower house is anybody's guess, but since the Senate historically in New Mexico has been more of a zoo than the House, presumably that body will give the bill a quick and unanimous passage and send it on to the governor.

If evolution remains an issue as the 20th Century stumbles into a new millennium, everybody in the country needs to look hard at public education. It obviously has lost its way. Not teach the glories of growth and change and adapting to change that has let homo sapiens raise his sights to the point he can walk on the Moon and reach for the stars? Not recognize that evolving brain power was a factor in Handel's "Messiah" as well as Einstein's theory of relativity?

Turn back the clock and the spirit of man to an age of superstition and dread?

The shock to us was that the Senate vote was along party lines; so political that President Pro Tem Manny Aragon had to ask whether Jesus Christ was a conservative or liberal (and nobody had an answer).

It's time to wake up, Santa Fe. Or maybe former Gov. Toney Anaya was right when he concluded a bit bitterly one time that New Mexico was a "banana republic."

THE BRIDGE TO THE 21ST CENTURY

Praising one who praises Dan Storm

TO THE EDITOR:

While on a weekend visit from Alamogordo where I've lived for over 20 years I picked up a Ruidoso News at my sister-in-law's home dated Jan. 7... Here was a letter to the editor that made me happy to read from Emmett Downes, Alto (I'm a native of Alto, Emmett!) praising our own Dan Storm of Glencoe. What a great dedication to Dan!!

I've read his column, like many, for all these years, and too, he has been honored before by Ruidoso people for his writing that I appreciated. The whole Storm family were and are great, but Dan's determination is unbelievable; thanks be to God for Dan.

Cost too high

TO THE EDITOR:

The president should give us, the people, credit for just a little intelligence. Can anyone think the era of big government is over when he is instigating more expensive social programs? How can the budget be balanced when he is increasing spending? The president is setting us up for an explosion of welfare benefits. Now, after scaring the elderly to death because of spreading lies about Medicare cutting by the Republicans (now called savings by the Democrats) he is again spreading lies about Social Security. He is saying that a balanced budget amendment would threaten Social Security, and that lie is scary, but certainly not true.

Where is the tax cut for everyone, including a capital gains tax cut? A knowledgeable person knows this would help everyone, not just the rich, about which the Democrats love to distort the truth. No poor person ever gave anyone a job — targeted tax cuts as the president wishes, would benefit a very few, some of those already receiving benefits.

His excessive raise for education gives 90% to colleges and only 10% to lower grades, which need it most. A college education is not advisable for everyone. In order to balance the budget, cuts should be made each year and not wait until four years to start, when President Clinton is out of office. Balancing the budget should start now.

Chipping away at people's rights

TO THE EDITOR:

Along with others, my husband and I attended the Senate Judicial Committee hearing in Santa Fe for Senate Bill 4, a bill that addresses one of the problems that people, particularly rural people, are experiencing when federal bureaucratic agencies, as the Bureau of Land Management, want more power and excessive authority by assuming law enforcement in our state.

The people in my county have a duly elected sheriff who was elected to take care of the law enforcement in the county. We elected him, and we can "un-elect" him if he doesn't do his job, but when a federal agency like the BLM assumes the law enforcement, we have someone who wants leverage against the people; therefore, the people lose control of their lives and their government.

New Mexico is a sovereign state, and we the people of the state of New Mexico must uphold that sovereignty. We must stand firm against unelected federal bureaucratic agents who wish to destroy our dignity, our freedom and our liberty — thus destroying us.

We must be able to lay our head on a pillow for a night's rest without wondering what harassment the morrow will bring. What new regulations, what new penalties, will come with the new day.

Dear Lord, help us to understand why a federal government that was created by the people to protect them from all enemies wants to take our guns away, and without statutory nor constitutional authority delegate law enforcement powers to federal agencies. Once again we say to the BLM, "since governments exist for men, not men for governments, all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed." (John Locke)

Prompt action wins mom's praise

TO THE EDITOR:

I feel the need to speak out concerning the efficiency of the entire staff of Ski Apache. Friday, Feb. 7, my six year old son was injured on the playground at school. The school contacted my mother who then called the ski area.

Within 15 minutes of the call from the school the staff at Ski Apache had located me. They were exceptionally efficient as well as professional in their manner in which they informed me. They were very calming and caring while assuring me that the injury was very minor. They also cautioned me to take care driving down the mountain. The care and concern expressed as well as their efficiency made me feel safer for myself as well as for my children.

It is good to know that I can feel free to enjoy my sport and still be available in case of emergency. My heartfelt thanks and appreciation for all of the hard work and the professionalism of the entire staff of Ski Apache.

Moving out of the depths of a long winter

This is being sent to you a half hour after midday on Feb. 16, halfway through the birthday month, on a day of sunshine and clouds floating on a light northern breeze.

The temperature is 64 degrees out at the gate, and some of the cows and calves are lying stretched out on Blue Bird Meadow soaking up the moving sunshine which beams down among the drifting clouds.

We have moved out of the deep of winter which ended Feb. 5, and soon will be on the halfway ground between winter and spring. All the vale is in a quiet mood of deep contentment with this day in the late wintertime looking over into the first signs of spring.

This will reach you on Feb. 19, the eve of two birthdays of great ladies: Della Bonnell and Eudocia Burk.

Let us say a few words first about Della Bonnell.

Happy Birthday to Della Bonnell

Della was born Feb. 20, 1927 in Roswell to Leo and Louise Joiner.

In 1955 she was graduated from Hondo High School as salutatorian. She was a majorette in the school band which played at games, parades and fairs.

She attended Eastern New Mexico where she studied art. She paints in oil and watercolor and her favorite work is portraits.

As a child she was a model in some of the paintings of Peter Hurd, who encouraged her to study art.

On Dec. 14, 1957, Della was married to David Bonnell. They have three children: Ruth Bradley, Joel and Paul, and three grandchildren.

On her birthday in 1982, Della was appointed postmaster at Glencoe. She is looking forward to the 100th birthday of the post office in 2001.

We wish Della many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

Happy Birthday to Eudocia Burk

Eudocia Burk was born Feb. 20, 1917 in the village of Cueneo in the state of Michoacan to Placido Cervantes Ambriz, and the former Esther Ruiz.

In November 1920, at the age of 3 years, she and her father and mother and elder sister Mary walked across the bridge at El Paso. Her younger sister Camerina was a babe in arms, carried by her mother.

They were taken first to Hagerman where her parents worked on a farm, later to Roswell and then to the Frank Coe ranch.

Eudocia remembers the kind treatment from Frank Coe. "I can see him yet," she remembers, "coming through the snow with his pack horse loaded down with candy and other presents for the children and gifts for her mother and father."

Later they worked for George and Phoebe Coe, Bert and Sidney Bonnell, and Elzy and Mamie Perry.

Eudocia has fond memories of the kind treatment and fond friendship of the Glencoe families.

In 1937 she was graduated from Hondo High School as valedictorian.

In 1932 her parents bought a small fruit farm in Glencoe, where her parents lived until 1970.

In 1940 Eudocia was married to Otho Burk, and they settled in Ruidoso Downs. She still lives in their home.

She is a charter member of the Ruidoso Baptist Church. We are all proud of Eudocia and wish her many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

A glimpse into Lincoln County's past, compiled from local newspapers by Polly E. Chavez.

Ruidoso News

February 21, 1947.

Thursday night of February 13, the ladies of the canyon who attended the "Ladies Night Out" donned their best dresses, cooked their favorite dishes and entertained their husbands with a dinner at the Legion Hall in a true Valentine's Day manner. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. A.W. Shaw, Mrs. Joe Dryden, Mrs. Tom Coffee and Mrs. Bob Whitted and 50 guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. H.F. Ellis from Morton, Texas, several months ago purchased the Bonnell Ranch Store and Cafe, located at the junction of Highway 70 and Devil's Canyon, down the valley. The store was built in 1937 by Bert Bonnell and was run by them until the recent change in ownership.

The "White Cat Bar" in San Patricio, has recently been purchased by Mr. W.H. Sparkman and Mrs. M.C. Haines. The new owners plan to do extensive remodeling and redecorating and have one of the nicest night clubs in this area.

STARDATE

Signs of spring's approach are everywhere. Lengthening days and lingering twilight delay our skywatching until later in the evening, so the seasonal turning of the constellations seems to quicken. Orion marches westward. He looks smaller now that he's at his highest. In fact anything in the sky looks smaller when it's high up than when near the horizon. Most people are familiar with this effect in the case of the full moon, which seems to loom big when low and shrink when high.

State wrestling tourney bound to mature Warriors

Beavers pins down District 3AAA laurels

by LAURA CLYMER

Ruidoso News Sports Writer

Senior heavyweight Brad Beavers of Ruidoso spinned and pinned his way to the District 3AAA title at the district tourney hosted by New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell Saturday.

Beavers improved to 21-5 overall by posting a 3-0 record Saturday. The Warrior recorded two pins on the way to the district championship.

The day wasn't as successful for the rest of the Warriors. As a team, the young Ruidosoans finished fourth in the round robin event, going 0-4 in dual matches with NMMI, Santa Teresa, Cobre and Silver. Cobre's Indians outdistanced the rest of the competition to claim the District 3AAA team title with a 4-0 record. Silver was second at 3-1, while NMMI was third.

"I'm more excited than disappointed, just to know what we have coming back in the next two and three years," Ruidoso coach Jerrett Perry said. "We had some very inexperienced kids come through (this year)."

One of those inexperienced wrestlers is junior Johnny Adams, who is in his first year of wrestling. It didn't slow him Saturday when he finished as the district runnerup in the 215-pound weight class.

"He's been a tremendous asset to us this year," Perry said of Adams.

Beavers and his teammates now focus their attention on the Class AAA State Wrestling Meet, which begins Friday at the Tingley Coliseum in Albuquerque.

Ruidoso leaves for the Duke City at 9 a.m. Thursday. Perry will attend a seeding meeting at noon, and the Warriors will practice at 6 p.m. Then, at 9:30 a.m. Friday, the two-day event begins.

Perry thinks Beavers should be seeded in the top three of the heavyweight division.

"Brad has a fantastic opportunity to place in the top three at state. If he plays his cards right, we feel he can be a state champion," Perry said.

Beavers played his cards right at the district meet. In his first match of the day against, Beavers avenged a previous loss to Santa Teresa's entry with a pin at the 1:25 mark of the first period. Beavers circled the Desert Warrior, setting him for one of Beavers' lateral drops. Beavers got the drop and then pinned the Santa Teresa wrestler.

Hot Springs dumps mistake-prone Warriors

The Warriors were their own worst enemy Friday in Truth or Consequences, committing 37 turnovers and shooting just 22% from the field. District 3AAA's second-place Hot Springs took advantage of the Ruidoso miscues and misfirings, and improved to 5-2 in the district with a 55-31 win.

Ruidoso's girls basketball team fell to 5-15 overall and 2-5 in the 3AAA.

"We didn't rebound well. We didn't shoot well. We just didn't perform," said Warrior coach Dwayne Rogers.

Rogers has the statistics to prove it.

The Warriors' leading scorers, Althea Palmer and Mandi Lewallen, had a mere six points each. Their leading rebounder was Jana Morris, a guard, with four boards.

"The enemy is us, and that's easy to fix. It wasn't so much them, it was us. We just had way too many turnovers," Rogers said. "We just need to be the aggressor, and not wait to see what the other team will do to us."

Ruidoso has one more regular season game - Saturday at home versus Hot Springs - before beginning the District 3AAA tourney next week. As it looks now, the Warriors will finish in either third or fourth place, behind or ahead of Santa Teresa. A fourth-place finish means they travel to Desert Warriors. A third-place finish results in a first-round district tourney home game.

RUIDOSO GIRLS

But before the Warriors look to the district tourney, they have plenty to do this week.

"I have a laundry list of things we need to do - work on our passing, head fakes, ball fakes. We telegraph everything. You can see it from the sidelines," Rogers said.

Ruidoso was on a roll of sorts in January. The Warriors were playing .500 basketball, picking up a pair of district wins. But since the start of February, it's been a different story.

"Right now it seems the girls are mentally tired. We need to get focused," Rogers said. "We're going to have some workouts this week and find out where our hearts are."

Second-place Grizzlies secure home court

For the first time in five years, Carrizozo's Grizzlies will be playing their first two district tourney games at home.

Gerald Horacek's boys clinched second place in the District 3A and the home court advantage with a 49-39 victory over Corona's basketball squad Thursday.

Fort Sumner finished the 3A campaign with an unblemished mark of 8-0 after downing the Grizzlies 55-44 on Valentine's Day.

Carrizozo, which has gone 6-6 since the new year, ends the regular season 9-12 overall and 5-3 in the 3A.

District tournament play begins at 6 p.m. Tuesday. Carrizozo welcomes Lincoln County cousin Corona, which finished 1-7 in the 3A.

Even though they already have a pair of victories over the Cardinals, Tuesday won't be easy, said Horacek.

The Grizzlies need to work on Gerald Horacek has directed the Grizzlies to a second-place District 3A finish.

their zone offense because they need better ball movement, Horacek said.

Carrizozo's defense has been steady, and that's main reason the Grizzlies downed the Cardinals Feb. 13.

The Grizzlies shot a tepid 15 for 62 from the field that night - a 24% success rate. But they owned the boards, collecting 38 for the game.

If the Grizzlies win Tuesday, they will play the winner of Mountainair (4-4 in 3A) and Vaughn (2-6 in 3A) at 6 p.m. Thursday. Horacek described Mountainair as "one of the better teams around" when it's hot.

Horacek hopes the home court will give the Grizzlies an advantage both Tuesday and Thursday.

"We needed to get the home court if we want to get in the regionals," Horacek said.

The top two district 3A teams play in the Region D tournament. The Grizzlies enter Tuesday's game coming off a loss to the Foxes. Fort Sumner held just a 48-42 lead with two minutes to go before pulling away and winning 55-44.

Grizzlies senior Willie Silva emerged from a four-game slump with 25 points to lead Carrizozo.

"The players sure would appreciate a good fan turnout Tuesday and Thursday," Horacek added.

Capitan boys avoid the 'pumpkin' in upset of Tulie

by LAURA CLYMER

Ruidoso News Sports Writer

The Capitan boys basketball team executed its game plan to perfection, and then executed a 79-69 victory over District 6AA powerhouse Tularosa Friday on the Wildcats' home court.

Junior Ken Davis scored 22 points and senior Cody Turnbow chipped in 21 to lead Capitan past Tularosa for the first time since both schools started playing Class AA ball.

Gerald Montes' Tigers outscored the ninth-ranked Wildcats 24-10 in the third quarter and hit 11 of 13 free throws in the final eight minutes to secure the upset victory.

"I knew we could play with them. I just didn't know when," Montes said. "It was a fairy tale."

I was waiting for us to turn into a pumpkin and we didn't."

Capitan upped its record to 10-11 overall and 3-2 in the 6AA.

"They did exactly what I told them," Montes said. "Every time we broke the press we took it right to them."

The Tigers made the Wildcats pay for pressing.

It also helped that Capitan didn't slip into its usual third-quarter lapse. Instead, the Tigers swallowed a five-point halftime deficit and took an eight-point lead into the final quarter with a 24-10 third quarter outburst.

"Now Johnny (May, Tulie's coach) has something to think about. We did enjoy it. I guarantee it. We celebrated Friday," Montes said.

With second place secured, the Tigers will try to maintain their momentum Friday when they host Cloudcroft. The Bears upset the Tigers in their first meeting, so no doubt Montes' troops will be itching for revenge.

"If we can continue in playing and improving then we've got a shot (at the district title)," Montes said.

The Bears will sport a little bit of a different look the second time around, Montes said. Cloudcroft is pressing more and playing more man-to-man defense.

The key for the Tigers will be taking advantage of Davis' height in the middle, and playing as well as they are capable, Montes added.

Tipoff Friday's game is at 7 p.m.

Saturday night was a banner evening for Ruidoso softball. Claudia Brannum picked up "Sportswoman of the Year" honors, and Ruidoso was named "Area of the Year" by the New Mexico United States Slo Pitch Softball Association. Ruidoso catches a pair of state softball awards

by LAURA CLYMER

Ruidoso News Sports Writer

Three years of work paid off for the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department Saturday when it won the United States Slo Pitch Softball Association's "Area of the Year" award for New Mexico.

Ruidoso sports coordinator Claudia Brannum and softball area director Patsy Page accepted the award at the USSSA state meeting, which was held here in Ruidoso.

"We've always been in contention with Las Cruces, but this year we finally prevailed," Brannum said. "It means that Ruidoso has become one of the premiere softball area in the state of New Mexico."

Six Ruidoso tournaments at the Eagle Creek diamonds attracted 220 teams to the area in 1996 for a 36-team average. Additionally, the area registered 14 local men's teams, six women's teams, and six youth teams, giving it one of the highest per-capita registrations in the state.

Also on hand at the Saturday night awards banquet was former softball area director and Ruidoso parks and recreation director Debbie Jo Almager, a main architect in Ruidoso's emergence as a softball destination spot. Almagar resigned in November 1996 to accept a position with the Los Alamos Parks and Recreation Department.

"This was one of the main awards Debbie Jo really wanted. We're excited," Page said.

More than 100 area directors and umpires attended the day-long meeting and clinic held at the Ruidoso Civic Events and Convention Center.

Branum also honored

Ruidoso softball received another feather for its cap when Branum was named the state's "Sportswoman of the Year."

Branum was recognized for her efforts in promoting softball in the Ruidoso community, as well as her duties as umpire in chief for the area. She is the only female UIC in the state.

Tourney sites announced

Sites for the 1997 state tourney were announced at Saturday's meeting. Las Cruces will host the women's Class B, C and D state tournament July 26 and 27. Albuquerque has the men's Class B/C state tournament Aug. 2-3, and the men's Class D state tourney Aug. 8-10. Clovis will host the men's Class E state tourney Aug. 8-10.

Ruidoso was awarded 11 tournaments, beginning with the Amy Miller Memorial One-Pitch Tournament slated for April 12-13, and ending with a coed tournament Oct. 11-12.

"He was mentally and physically focused. He knew what he had to do," Perry said of Beavers' opening match.

He followed up that performance with a pin over the Silver City heavyweight. In his final match of the day, Beavers took on a lighter and quicker Cobre heavyweight. This time Beavers took his time, measuring up his opponent. The match was tied at four going into the final period. Beavers maneuvered a takedown for two points, and claimed a 6-4 decision.

At the state meet, Perry expects Beavers to be challenged by the Santa Teresa and Cobre heavyweights and the entry out of Aztec. Aztec is back to defend its 1996 team title.

District foe Cobre impressed Perry.

"Cobre is just unbelievable. They're loaded. Cobre's only obstacle in state is Aztec," he said.

Perry said the Warriors have a chance to place at the state meet if they receive favorable seedings for the tourney. Warriors who could sneak in include Jason Leadingham, Richard Grey, Stephan Pietrangolo and Reny Reidhead, Perry said.

Leadingham and Gray both took third place at the district meet.

Perry will take a full squad to the state meet because he wants his young wrestlers, like Pietrangolo and eighth-grader Cade Hall, to experience the state meet. Hall finished 0-3 at the district meet in his first varsity action of the year.

"He did an outstanding job," Perry said of Hall's effort.

Justin Martinez

John Yocum

Hondo spelling bee winner on to El Paso

Justin Martinez has won Hondo Valley School District's spelling bee, and he'll compete for the regional title on March 18 in El Paso.

John Yocum came in second at Hondo. Y. Torrez-Troy is the school spelling bee director.

Martinez, 9, is a fourth grader from San Patricio. He is the son of Valerie Nunez and Danny Martinez.

Martinez's favorite school subjects are math and, of course, spelling. After school he likes to ride bikes, ride in race cars, and draw. He hopes to be a construction worker when he grows up.

Yocum, 10, also is a fourth grader from San Patricio, and he also excels in math and spelling. He likes to draw, read and ride bikes, and he hopes to be an Air Force pilot someday.

RHS Student Council works on Memorial Park

by AMBER WARREN
Special to The News

The Ruidoso High Student Council is doing a great job this year, and we're not through yet! We have a lot planned that involves not just the school, but the whole community.

One project that the Student Council is doing is the Memorial Park. A committee has drafted criteria for getting a person's name in the park.

We have decided on the following criteria: has to be presently enrolled at the high school or have graduated within five years of time of death. A plaque will be put in the park in remembrance of the person.

There have been many trees donated to the park by family and friends of Jenny Ames and David LaMay, and from the Indian Club, Pierre Shield, Sonny Geronimo, and Guyman Kaydahzinne. The Student Council has also spent more than $500 on trees, plants, and flowers. Grass will be coming in the spring.

Mr. Gladden has promised that a sprinkler system will be installed with new bond issue money. As of right now, the executive officers are in charge of watering and are in desperate need of volunteers!

One other project that the student council is working on is the selling of sweatshirts. They are navy blue with "RHS Warriors" across the front. You can get them with or without a hood, and the cost is just the same. We have large, extra large, and extra-extra large. The large and XL cost $35, XXL cost $40.

You can call the school and get one before they are all gone! All of the proceeds go to benefit the Memorial Park.

Teachers can learn about astronomy at Space Center

Teachers are invited to join the Space Center Education Department staff and volunteers and the Alamogordo Amateur Astronomers for the Space Center's Second Annual Teacher Camp-in Feb. 28 through March 1.

Teachers of grades K-8 are invited to experience a fun and educational overnight stay in the museum.

Attendees will take part in a variety of hands-on, activity-based workshops, interact with fellow educators and view the Omnimax film "Cosmic Voyage." Teachers will take home new ideas, lesson plans, activities, worksheets, educational packets and supplementary classroom materials.

Registration begins at 7 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 28. For more information, call the Space Center Education Department at 437-2840 or 1-800-545-4021.

February is Prevent a Litter Month for animal shelters across the country and for the Humane Society of the United States.

This is the tenth year for the group to wage the prevention campaign, but this year, it was moved up two months from April to February.

"The change was made to help prevent some of the unwanted litters that many animal shelters would start receiving in April, and to coincide with the Doris Day Animal League's 'Spay Day USA' on Feb. 25," said Martha Armstrong, HSUS vice president for companion animals.

"Eight to 12 million animals enter shelters around the country each year, and sadly, 30 to 60% will be euthanized," Armstrong said. "There simply are not enough loving, lifelong homes for all of them."

Many pet owners think sterilizing their animal won't impact the pet overpopulation problem, but The HSUS estimates that just one unsterilized dog or cat who reaches her maximum breeding potential spells death for thousands of other animals, she said. One female cat and her offspring can produce as many as 420,000 kittens in seven years. In just six years, one female dog and her offspring can produce as many as 67,000 puppies.

The only way to reduce these numbers is for pet owners to spay or neuter their pets.

"Spaying or neutering is not only a fool-proof way to prevent unwanted litters, but it is good for your pets health and behavior," Armstrong said. "Animals who have been sterilized live longer, healthier lives, roam less and are less likely to fight with other animals or bite humans."

The HSUS has fought for nearly 40 years to end the needless suffering of the world's companion animals. Armstrong urged all pet owners to join the nation's largest animal protection organization in the fight to stop pet overpopulation.

Some population facts from the HSUS:

— about 66.2 million cats and 58 million dogs live in households in the United States;

— cats are in 31.5 million households with an average of 2.1 cats per house;

— dogs are in 36.4 million households with an average of 1.6 dogs per household;

— The American Kennel Club, the largest breeder registration program, registered about 1.3 million new individual dogs in 1995;

— 25% of dogs that enter animal shelters are purebreds;

— and 25% to 35% of animals brought to shelters are adopted.

How Not to Read

When reading, you should be seated at a desk in a comfortable chair, not lying on your stomach or your side. This is why reading in bed, a favorite pastime for millions, is almost never a good idea. Your back should have a normal curve of the spine, and not be scrunched or propped up with one arm. If continued long enough, especially by children, the reading position in bed becomes the normal one and sitting in a chair at a desk becomes normal. The visual system gets used to operating from a distorted perceptive.

Now that we've got you in a chair, let's consider what kind it should be. It should permit the feet to be flat on the floor. If your feet do not touch, use a phone book under them. The lower back should be supported. The desk or table should be at waist level when the person is seated. Working at a surface that is too high gives a distorted view, much like you would get from watching a movie from the front row or far side. And we all know how uncomfortable that can be on your eyes. Be good to your eyes, their the only two you'll ever have.

Believability of advertising in the media*

On a scale of 1 to 5

Newspapers are the most credible, trusted advertising medium. Every week more than 7 out of 10 adults turn to our pages and rely on our ads.

Our customers take us personally. And advertising messages are an important reason they turn to our pages.

Unlike other media, newspaper readership increases on key advertising days...because of the ads, not in spite of them.

People want to see the ads and are willing to pay to see them in our pages.

Consumers frequently doubt ads in other media and go out of their way to avoid them. They find direct mail the least believable. And TV viewers, on average miss 62% of all commercial by switching to another station or leaving the room.

Other advertising arrives uninvited into the home. Our ads are welcomed.
