Casinos may stay open for two months at least

Casino Apache and other state Indian casinos can keep slots running for at least another two months without threat of closure, a court explained Friday.

The 10th Circuit Court of Appeals clarified its stay protecting the Indian casinos, as requested by U.S. Attorney John Kelly. The stay was issued along with a Jan. 10 decision that Indian gambling is illegal.

The court said the stay, which protects Casino Apache near Ruidoso, will remain in place until it puts its order in writing for the lower courts.

The written order is expected in April or May, Kelly said.

The order will reflect its Jan. 10 decision that the 14 state Indian gambling compacts are illegal because they were entered without legislative approval. The decision upholds the rulings of three lower federal courts.

The stay could be longer if the nine state Indian pueblos involved in the court case appeal the decision to the U.S. Supreme Court, a Kelly spokesman said.

The tribes and pueblos have until mid-April to file an appeal. Those involved in the court case are waiting to appeal because they hope the state Legislature will resolve the issue by ratifying the Indian Nation gambling compacts.

Man gets one-year sentence for using brother's name

Before the drug trafficking case against Andrew Powell was bound over to district court Friday, Powell was sentenced to 364 days in the county jail for contempt of court.

Ruidoso Magistrate Judge William Butts issued a summary judgment against Powell because he lied about his name to law enforcement officials.

Powell, of Ignacio, Colo., had claimed to be his brother Ross when arrested Jan. 28 in Ruidoso Downs for possessing 40 pounds of marijuana.

In addition to the 364 days in jail, Powell faces an additional six years behind bars for conspiracy to distribute a controlled substance, possession of marijuana with intent to distribute, and evading police officers.

Charlie White shows off the new locally designed DWI poster that officials hope will catch on nationwide.

Local DWI program creates new slogan

Lincoln County's DWI program officials have created a new slogan and poster to catch people's attention.

The "Don't Drink and Drive" posters and slogan have been around for quite a few years. Lincoln County DWI program director Charlie White wanted something with punch.

"We wanted something with a little different message, something the public wasn't used to, that hadn't become so familiar they weren't paying attention," he said.

The slogan chosen was, "If you insist on drinking and driving, it's better to leave them behind than to take them with you."

It's played against a photograph of a young girl looking down at the grave of her father. She holds a stuffed animal in one hand and a book of fairy tales in the other. At the bottom of the poster is the reminder, "Dead men tell no tales."

The poster's $400 production cost was paid for by part of a $75 fee assessed to DWI offenders for DWI prevention. The Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce also contributed $50 and Third Eye Photography handled the camera.

The posters will be available at the DWI office in Carrizozo. White also is sending some to the state Traffic Safety Bureau and E-mailing to the National Highway Traffic Safety Bureau.

"It's a local product, but we hope to go nationwide with the campaign," White said.

Gang party busted

A Parsons Canyon keg party thrown by youths in honor of an imprisoned Ruidoso gang member was crashed by about 15 area officers Saturday, Ruidoso police said.

Ten teenage males were arrested by the Ruidoso gang intervention unit, state police, sheriff's deputies and Forest Service law officers at the site in the Lincoln National Forest near Nogal. Police also seized two .22 rifles, a machete, a buckknife, one 30-gallon keg of Budweiser beer, 10 bottles of tequila, and less than an ounce of marijuana.

Among those arrested and charged as minors in possession of alcohol were four 18-year-olds: Bradley Beavers and Vincent Robles of Ruidoso Downs, and Leon Shim and Kent Sparks of Ruidoso.

Shim, who had the rifles in his car, was also charged with possession of less than an ounce of marijuana, and was later released in lieu of a $1,630 bond. Beavers, Robles and Sparks were released in lieu of $500 bonds.

Three 17-year-olds and one 16-year-old were charged with minors in possession of alcohol, and later released to their parents. One of the 17-year-old boys arrested is the son of a Ruidoso police officer.

Police don't know who owned the machete or knife, which were found near a campfire when officers arrived around 4:40 p.m.

Police became privy to the Parsons Canyon party site and date about a week ago, when they got hold of one of the invitations.

The invitations were written in block lettering similar to calligraphy that gang members like to use, police said. The party notice referred to the gang name of Marcello Silva, a 16-year-old Ruidoso boy sent to Springer for shooting a 20-year-old Ruidoso Downs man Dec. 31.

When preparing for the bust, officers in plain clothes went to the north side of the canyon and blocked the road. The other officers then descended on the 10 youths, who never tried to run, police said.

Most of the youths hadn't drank any beer because the keg was too foamy from its recent trip up the canyon, police said.

Officers found out later they arrived at the party too early.

Alto man killed while allegedly terrorizing family

by KATHLEEN McDONALD
 Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The son of a Ruidoso police officer was shot dead early Saturday after allegedly trying to break into a Capitan woman's home.

The victim, Charles David Wyche, 21, of Alto died from a single .32 caliber gunshot wound to the chest. Married and the father of an infant girl, he was the only child of Ruidoso police officer Roxann Pfeffer.

The shooting occurred around 1 a.m. Saturday after Wyche and two other men terrorized Margaret Renita Freeman, her 13-year-old daughter and the girl's neighborhood friend for about 30 minutes, Undersheriff Cliff Macsas said.

Ironically, Macsas lives next door to the Freemans. The houses are about 100 yards apart, Macsas said, so he couldn't hear the small-caliber gunshot and windows breaking.

Wyche's death appears to be a case of justifiable homicide, and no charges have been filed, Macsas said.

"He knocked the phone line out, and the power, smashed five windows and was ordering her to come out or he'd kill the children," Macsas said.

After the incident, the sheriff's office has become aware of revenge threats against Freeman, Macsas said.

Freeman didn't know Wyche, but Wyche was previously contracted to work on a barn or shed next to Freeman's house, Sheriff Tom Sullivan said.

And Wyche had been convicted of crimes similar to the events described by Freeman, Sullivan said.

Police believe the incident was not random, and they know the identity of the other two men, Sullivan said.

Police haven't yet learned why Wyche threatened her or damaged the residence. Witnesses at a party in Capitan earlier Friday night said Wyche had been there drinking, Macsas said. A toxicology report will determine if he was intoxicated.

The shooting occurred about a half hour after Freeman first heard noises outside. She stepped out the back door which opens outward, and when she did, Wyche was about six feet from her against the trailer wall, police said.

As soon as he saw her, he knocked the door against her, injuring her ankle, she told police. But she was able to get back inside, slam the door shut and lock it.

A short time later, the phone and electricity were cut dead, and then five windows were broken in a fast sequence. Wyche continually threatened Freeman, yelling for her to come out or he would kill the two girls, Macsas said.

Freeman grabbed her gun while the girls hid in a closet, and she warned the prowlers she would shoot. When they continued with threats and smashed windows, Freeman shot towards "a silhouette in the dark," Macsas said.

Wyche went down, but Freeman didn't realize the bullet struck him. Terrified, she spent the night on guard in the hallway with the gun cocked, Macsas said.

When light broke around 6:30 a.m., the girls ran about 100 yards to the nearest neighboring residence, which happened to be Macsas' home.

The undersheriff, who had heard nothing other than barking dogs during the night of the assault and shooting, couldn't decipher what the hysterical girls were trying to say, except that there was a man laying in the driveway. He found Wyche dead with a bullet to the chest, just beneath the throat, police said.

"This reeks like a horror novel," Macsas said, adding that it is especially disturbing to have happen in Lincoln County.

Rep. Williams seeks to close local hospital board meetings

by DIANNE STALLINGS
 Ruidoso News Staff Writer

A bill that would exempt private firms managing publicly-owned hospitals from New Mexico's Open Meetings Act was introduced in the legislature last week by State Rep. Dub Williams.

The Glencoe Republican serves on the board of directors of the Lincoln County Medical Center, which is managed by Presbyterian HealthCare Systems based in Albuquerque.

The amendment is tailored to exempt the center and two to three other hospitals from provisions of the act, Williams said.

The hospital meetings had been closed to the public until the attorney general's office issued an opinion last year agreeing with The Ruidoso News that the hospital is subject to the Open Meetings Act.

Lincoln County Commissioner Wilton Howell said he is outraged about the bill, as is the director of the New Mexico Foundation for Open Government (FOG).

"(Williams) didn't tell us he might do this," said Commissioner Wilton Howell. "It's not constitutional. I hope there isn't a chance it might pass. We told them they shouldn't do business that way and the attorney general said the same thing."

WILTON HOWELL

ed to strengthen their competitive position, it goes much too far.

"We've always agreed public hospital boards should be able to devise competitive strategy privately, but after all, this is a public hospital. This and other public hospitals of the same kind belong to the public. They are on public property, they're in public buildings and they receive public funding. Everything they do should not be secret."

He and his staff will examine the bill and determine the intent, Johnson said, adding, "Then we'll see what can be done."

County Manager Frank Potter confirmed that Williams never consulted the commission before moving ahead with the legislation.

"No, he didn't tell us ahead of time," Potter said. "We have two or three people in Santa Fe watching for us, and we learned about it last Thursday through one of them."

Calling from his office in Santa Fe at the end of the legislative session Monday, Williams said he just didn't think about telling the commission ahead of time.

"I must tell you sometimes when I introduce legislation, I don't get in touch with everyone (it may affect)," he said.

Before sending the proposed amendment to the Legislative Council Services to be drafted, he met with officials from Presbyterian in Albuquerque and from the local medical center, he said.

"When you look at all the litigation, there are times when you need some things done in privacy," Williams said, explaining why he introduced the bill.

Caught between two laws

Miller said the amendment is an attempt to clarify the position of the hospital board, which finds itself caught between two state laws.

"The problem is that if we fully comply with the Open Meetings Act, we violate a whole bunch of other laws" dealing with the need for private review of physicians by their peers and employee performance reviews, Miller said.

Public employees are protected under the state Open Meetings Act, she pointed out. Their reviews or disciplinary actions are conducted during closed executive session. But employees of the hospital don't have that protection.

State Labor Secretary Clinton Harden heard a variety of concerns at a public forum Monday at the Ruidoso Civic Events Center.

Local officials relate concerns to state Labor Secretary Harden

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

He came to Ruidoso to discuss the governor's seven goals for the state, but left with a notebook full of questions and suggestions from local officials.

Looking at his audience of about a dozen people Monday, State Labor Secretary Clinton D. Harden, Jr. good-naturedly observed that it's the governor and lieutenant governor who draw the big crowds.

The group gathered for the meeting included Ruidoso Village Manager Gary Jackson, Village Councilor Robert Donaldson, Jim Miller, director of the Ruidoso campus of Eastern New Mexico University, and Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce director Joan Bailey.

Jackson said he was worried that money may be cut from the state budget for community/state cooperative road projects recommended by the Citizens Highway Assessment Task Force, in order to fund the governor's plan.

"We were never provided with a clear answer whether this would be a trade-off," Jackson said.

The governor's bond proposal might cover more miles, but seems to concentrate more on four-lane roads, Donaldson said.

The councilor said instead of taxes handed down from the state level, he would like to see more local decisions on what projects should be funded.

Harden said New Mexico has the third-highest per capita tax in the nation, including sales, Medicaid and income tax, while it has a relatively low population per square mile.

The last thing the state should cut is tourism promotion, Bailey and others agreed.

"The state needs to help us advertise," said motel owner Dick Weber. "We have scenery in abundance and we have the resources and assets that people want."

Promote different areas of the state more, instead of constructing more buildings, he urged.

Summarizing Gov. Gary Johnson's State of the State address, Harden listed indicators of growth and economic good times: gross receipts tax revenues are up 23% from last year, personal income is up 6.5% and population growth ranked seventh in the nation at 1.8%.

The big increases in gross receipts taxes and employment have occurred in Albuquerque and one or two of the other more urban areas, Bailey said. To get a true picture of what's happening in most of the state, which is rural, figures from those large cities and Roswell should be removed, she said.

Revisiting where the state stands on the governor's seven "summits," Harden said, the goals are:

- to reduce violent crime and construct prisons;
- to reform the welfare system;
- to improve health care for the poor;
- to settle the gambling legalization issue;
- to develop government that delivers the best services at the lowest possible cost;
- to foster long-term economic growth through highway programs and tax cuts;
- and to develop an education system that is accountable, continuously improving and adequately funded.

Integral to welfare reform is requiring those who receive government assistance to begin searching for jobs, he said.

The result may be that benefits will not be necessary and that's a top goal for the state, because it spends more per recipient than any other state in the nation, he said.

Some Lincoln County welfare recipients won't have to work

by HELEN GAUSSON

Food Stamps recipients in Lincoln and Otero counties and among those who will be exempt from a welfare reform work requirement because of a "labor surplus" in the area.

The federal welfare reform act allows states to apply for a waiver to exempt certain Food Stamp recipients in areas of high unemployment, or areas that have been designated by the U.S. Department of Labor as having more workers than jobs.

Without the waiver, all able-bodied adults without dependents would be required to work at least 20 hours a week, or they would be eligible for Food Stamps only three months out of every 36 months.

Lincoln County and Otero County, excluding Alamogordo, are among 18 areas in the state that are covered by a waiver, either because of an unemployment rate above 10% or because of designation as a "labor surplus" area. The other 18 areas are the city of Roswell and the counties of Catron, Cibola, Colfax, Dona Ana, Eddy, Grant, Guadalupe, Luna, McKinley, Mora, Rio Arriba, San Juan, San Miguel, Socorro and Taos.

Roberto Salazar, director of the state income Support Division, said the state has about 1,500 Food Stamp recipients, mostly men, who fall into the category covered by the waiver, but more than half of those have jobs and would not have been sanctioned otherwise.

The state initially resisted applying for the waiver, he said, because parents receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families — the cash assistance program generally thought of as welfare — would still be required to go to work or get training to receive benefits.

"Single mothers with dependents have to find work within two months. It didn't seem right if able-bodied men didn't have to go to work," Salazar said.

But, he said, the Human Services Department decided, after talking to advocates for the poor and others, that they would focus on getting women with dependent children into jobs.

"We decided perhaps it would be best to not saturate the labor market with job seekers and focus on mothers on (cash assistance) to get them into the workplace first," Salazar said.

He said the department also "rethought" its position when it realized many of those affected would be Native Americans with few job opportunities. Although some have predicted men in areas that don't qualify for the waiver will move to areas covered by the waiver to avoid going to work, Salazar said administrators are confident migration will not be a problem.

There is always a potential for migration. We've experienced that under Project Forward (a mandatory work program in effect in some counties). That's always a possibility but I don't expect it," he said.

He said the waiver will cover "sweeping areas" of the state.

Ruth Hoffman, an advocate for the poor, said she was pleased the department decided to apply for the waiver.

"That's great. That's all we wanted," she said.

She called the group that will be exempt from the work requirement "the poorest of the poor."

The $40 a week they receive in Food Stamps will not be enough of an incentive to prompt any migration, she said.

"I don't think that's a big motivator to migrate someplace else," she said.

Hoffman said the bottom line is, that the adults in the waiver areas have no jobs to go to.

Ruidoso teen dies from apparent suicide in home

A 17-year-old Ruidoso girl, Morgan Hounsel, died after ingesting a caustic substance Monday night at her home on Porr Drive, police said.

The substance possibly burned her internal tissues, police said. A toxicology report will confirm the cause of death.

There was no sign of foul play in Hounsel's death.

"It appears it was self-induced," said Police chief Lanny Maddox. There was no note found at the scene or any chemicals, he said.

Morgan Hounsel's mother found her laying unconscious and close to death around 9:45 p.m., police said. She was taken to the Lincoln County Medical Center, where doctors tried for about two hours to save her.

Roping arenas bucking mad about Glencoe competition

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

The threat of a lawsuit against the county by owners of local private roping arenas sent Lincoln County Commissioners behind closed doors Tuesday.

They were discussing policies for the use of the Glencoe Rural Events Center and its new outdoor arena when County Attorney Alan Morel urged commissioners to call an executive session.

Lawyer David Stevens, who said he represents several private roping arena owners in the county, had asked whether key holiday dates already were booked at the center for one or two years by roping events that would compete with those at his clients' private arenas.

"Our concern is the potential of this to compete with local businesses," he said. "It's an unfair advantage not to have to invest money in a place to stage events. There's enough local arenas to handle local ropings."

"Are we going to be forced to do something about it?" he asked commissioners.

The question prompted Morel to advise commissioners to stop the conversation.

When commissioners emerged from the closed session on threatened litigation about 45 minutes later, they were ready for a motion.

Commissioner Wilton Howell proposed approving the policies as submitted by Glencoe manager Linda Wallace and Morel. He added that the adoption would be temporary until an advisory board is appointed to ensure competing interests are represented in the final policies.

The motion passed 3-1 with Commissioners William Schwettmann voting against it. Commissioner L. Ray Nunley left earlier in the meeting.

Howell's motion also specified that deposits to reserve a specific date would not be refunded, if an event was canceled.

He then offered a second motion to honor all dates reserved for 1997 where deposits had been collected, but to come up with a policy for 1998 that would give more groups a chance to reserve important holiday weekends. That motion also passed 3-1 with Schwettmann voting nay.

Later in the meeting, Capitan arena owner Jody Roberts asked Howell to restate his motion.

He pointed out that Howell tied approval of the 1997 reserved dates to deposits being paid, yet no one has paid a deposit.

Howell said his intent was to honor the 1997 reservations, but to open the calendar for 1998 under the new rules requiring non-refundable deposits.

To avoid a debate, Howell asked to reconsider his own motion. Chairman Monroy Montes then stepped in and offered a new motion not tying 1997 reservations to whether deposits already had been paid. It passed with the same 3-1 split. Schwettmann traditionally has opposed county ownership of the center.

Lindy Montes, who owns a roping arena in the Hondo area, asked who reserved the prime holiday weekends for 1997 under the name of Lincoln County Team Roping.

Potter said it was Gerry Tully, a well-known Hondo Valley rancher who stages roping events in New Mexico and Texas.

"I've put on roping events for the last 20 years," said Robert Beavers. Having a competing roping event at the larger Glencoe center on Labor Day and Memorial Day "is going to kill my facility," he said.

After the meeting, Stevens said the commission action was a good news-bad news situation.

"I guess the good news is that commissioners decided to intercede and not let one entity that is competing with private roping (groups) in the county book up the center for 1998 and 1999," he said. "The bad news is that they are giving the keys to the kingdom to a favored son by giving him a competitive advantage over (other private roping promoters who may want to use the center or stage events at their own arenas)."

It's not the commission's role to favor one group over another in leasing out a county facility, he said.

Reached at his home, Tully denied that his bookings were anything out of the ordinary.

"I've done nothing different here," he said. "I used the same procedure that I use when I book any private or government arena. I call up and reserve dates that are open."

County wants bigger Glencoe events

It was never the Lincoln County Commission's intent to compete with private arenas or to use the Glencoe Rural Events Center arena primarily for roping events, the commission chairman said Tuesday.

"Our ambitions are bigger than that," Chairman Monroy Montes said. "We want a regional facility that will be a showcase for Southeast New Mexico."

Commissioner Wilton Howell said the deposit for holiday weekend events should be higher than other times of the year. Commissioners also agreed to give priority consideration to large events, advertising nationally or at least regionally.

Howell said if several similar events want to book on the same day, a drawing or lottery system may have to be developed.

Glen Barrow of the Lincoln County Cowboy Symposium and pro rodeo promoter Rusty Hamilton emphasized that large annual events that draw thousands of people to the county need consistent dates year to year.

In renting its civic events center, the village of Ruidoso gives preference to conventions, then trade shows over conferences and local non-profit groups, said Sandi Kuykendall with the Ruidoso Convention and Business Bureau.

Village councilors did not rule out events that would compete with private stores or existing businesses, but they did restrict them to certain times of the year, she said. Some major events are given protected status and can reserve dates years in advance, she said.

Bill

To comply with the Open Meetings Act, their reviews must occur in public, as would those of physicians. But other state laws prohibit such public exposure of physicians' actions, she said.

"Rather than go to court and force a rewrite of the whole law, the purpose of the amendment is to point out these issues that are very real and to exempt (the hospital) from some portions of the act," Miller said.

The bill as presented by Williams would completely exempt the Lincoln County Medical Center from the Open Meetings Act, so the public would be excluded from all the board of directors' meetings.

"I just think we are obviously caught between two laws and it is not a position we enjoy. In some ways we could be held in violation of the Open Meetings Act, because we don't discuss physician performance publicly and we don't discuss employee performance publicly. So we're legally in a position of being neither one thing or another. I wanted it clarified one way or the other."

Before he introduced the bill, "there was a lot of discussion about what an amendment needed to do," Williams said after being told what Miller defined as its purpose. "I had no problem providing protection (for employees)."

He expects the contents of the bill to be debated in the House Judiciary Committee and in the House Voters and Elections Committee before, or if, it sees light on the House floor for a vote. By that time, it may be modified or be more specific, he said. Since opening their meetings last year after an attorney general's opinion was requested, few people have attended their meetings, Miller said. She questioned the value to the public of keeping the meetings open.

Howell called the proposed amendment "counterproductive to openness in government" at a time when people are suspicious of government already.

"This is a time to throw open the drapes and expose everything to the light, not make deals in a back room," Howell said. "We fight all of our lives to be part of the process and for an elected official to want to control everything is unthinkable."

"This is all about openness and participation by the public in a public hospital."

Sometimes trying to help creates major mischief in the Legislature

We're struggling to understand Rep. Dub Williams' sponsorship of a bill appearing to slam the door on the people's right to know what's going on in county-owned hospital facilities, like Lincoln County Medical Center.

Such appears to be the intent of House Bill 579, a proposed amendment to the state Open Meetings Act, which Williams introduced last week. As written, it would close Medical Center board meetings to the public—despite the fact that a large part of the money that goes into its operation is from tax revenue.

It would prevent reporters from sitting in on board meetings and writing about them. The Ruidoso News worked long and hard to let a little light into those closed rooms, and if that access is not always utilized, it must be remembered that the press' right is no greater than any citizen's right.

It is disturbing that the lawmaker we elected also is a member of the LCMC board, and didn't choose to inform the county commission (the owner of the facility) of the bill in advance.

Valerie Miller, LCMC administrator, says the intent actually is to clarify a couple of issues peculiar to hospitals: Employee reviews and peer reviews of doctors. (They're private employees in a public facility, and do not have public employee protection under the Open Meetings Act.)

If that is the intent, then the bill should narrowly focus on those problems. As drafted, it will be a red flag in communities where county-owned facilities are operated by private-sector health care providers. (Yes, Dub Williams agrees.)

LCMC is operated by Presbyterian Healthcare of Albuquerque. Presbyterian now is in the throes of expanding its operations state-wide with a health insurance program that now covers thousands of state employees, among others.

Hospitals might indeed have exceptional circumstances that beg special treatment. But just about everybody has at one time or another made that argument, because the fact is that organizations want as much leeway as they can get, without tipping off competitors (or, sometimes, regulators).

The timing of HB 579 is not auspicious, to say the least. We'd suggest that Williams either withdraw that bill for a re-draft, or make sure the judiciary committee fixes it before it sees the light of day.

THE CREATION OF POLITICAL ACCESS

Another view of 'child abuse'

TO THE EDITOR:

I am not an attorney, but have found several federal laws which your readers should be made aware of. Appropriations bill H.R. 3610, which was passed in September, amends Title 18, Chapter 44, Section 922, to include the following:

(1) "The Misdemeanor Domestic Violence Act." Any person who has been convicted of a misdemeanor offense of domestic violence, has lost the right to purchase or possess a firearm. If you fall into this category, you may wish to contact an attorney to find out about having the court record amended.

I object to this change; in that someone has decided that a misdemeanor conviction is sufficient for you to lose rights previously only lost for felony convictions. I don't want to make light of the serious problem of domestic violence, but liberal interpretation now means that a domestic violence conviction can include offenses like disciplining your child in a manner which someone else disapproves of. How many parents have been told by a smug teenage child, "You can't touch me or I'll have you arrested."

(2) The Gun Free School Zone Act." If you drive within one thousand feet of a school, which is about 3 and 1/2 city blocks, any firearm that you have in your vehicle must be unloaded and locked in a container...

Please contact your federal legislator and ask how you can help him work toward removing these laws. I'm sure the New Mexico senators and representatives don't want laws like this in their home state.

Please talk to your local police officers. They can lose their jobs if they have a domestic violence conviction, and they are under the same restrictions for off duty weapons as the rest of us. I think it is in the best interest of all of us, if these laws are not used against New Mexicans.

It's the family, Mrs. Clinton

TO THE EDITOR:

It takes a family. It takes unconditional love, it takes parents who teach by word and deed.

What is a family? My dictionary says, (1) parents and their children, (2) relatives.

Our first lady, Hillary Clinton, the author of "It Takes a Village," says differently.

Mrs. Clinton says that children should be put on an equal footing with parents and that disputes between children and parents should be resolved by attorneys and judges. Mrs. Clinton is an attorney...

I differ. It takes a parent to teach a child moral values, honesty, truthfulness, self-discipline, compassion and respect for his fellow man and his property...

It takes a parent to teach a child to watch a sunrise, a sunset, to hike a trail, to plant a tree, to catch a fish, to hold a puppy gently, to care and learn about our wild life, both plants and animals, and to care for the environment.

It takes a parent to teach a child to love and care for his brothers and sisters, his grandparents, his neighbors.

It takes a family to put up the Christmas tree, to picnic on the 4th of July, to eat together on Thanksgiving, to go on a family vacation to the mountains or the seashore.

Mrs. Clinton, it takes a family to build a village, and a nation.

Lookin' for beauty in our own oasis

TO THE EDITOR:

Am sendin a little doins I write in a couple of papers, I used to live there in the Mountain Oasis with my fat little wife and our children. My first visit to Ruidoso was in the '30s and being from the Panhandle of Texas I was in awe of the beauty of the mountains, trees, and the river and the natives.

I still treasure the beauty I first remember and can see it in my mind even though the Village has grown out of proportion and this and that have either been replaced or changed. There are still niches that remain the same and always will, a feller just has to hunt them out.

Please excuse my penmanship as these eyes and these fingers just don't want to cohabitate or whatever, they remind me of Republicans and Democrats both parties are tryin' to run things their way and ain't got time or patience to respect the other parties' opinion. Ha.

An anniversary and a birthday

Happy golden anniversary to Ray and Rosale Dunlap

Ralph Ray Dunlap, son of E.T. Dunlap and Buelah Keithley Dunlap of Wilcox, Ariz. was married to Mary Rosa Lee Chaulk, daughter of James A. Chaulk and Christina Blundell Chaulk of Portales on Feb. 9, 1947 in the Methodist Church in Lordsburg.

They renewed their vows at services on Feb. 9 at the Church of San Juan in Lincoln. The Reverend Jan Davey was in charge of services.

Among those present at the church were Rosalie's mother Christina McKinney of Portales; Ralph's brother Kenneth Dunlap and his wife Carol of Wilcox, Ariz.; daughter Lois Coleman and her husband David of Portland, Texas; granddaughter Patricia Coleman of Playa; and son Carl of Massachusetts.

Brother Kenneth was best man at the wedding 50 years ago.

After the services a reception was held at the home of Tom and Pat Sullivan west of Capitan.

Among those present I was pleased to make the acquaintance of Tom Sullivan's mother Maureen.

Ralph and Rosalie have lived in Lincoln many years, and are prominent in the Old Lincoln Days.

Ralph has played the voice of Buckshot Roberts for most of the years that I have played the part of Buckshot (43 years).

Ralph was Lincoln County agent from 1952 through 1979. Then for two years he was sheep adviser for the Tunisian government. He was then for a year county agent at Largo and then retired.

We all wish Ralph and Rosalie all God's blessings on their golden wedding anniversary.

Birthday of Lincoln

Abraham Lincoln, our 16th president was born in a log cabin in Kentucky Feb. 12, 1809. It has been said that more words of praise have been written about Abraham Lincoln than of any other mortal man. Though raised in a life of ruitic toil" on the farm, and having very little education he rose to be not only one of our greatest presidents but also one of the most beloved men of all time.

Surely he must have had some intuition about his destiny, because early in life he showed a great desire for learning. He taught himself to read and figure by the light of the fireplace, and would walk miles to borrow a book, something scarce on the early frontier.

The books which most influenced his early life are: the Bible, "Pilgrim's Progress," "Robinson Crusoe," "Aesop's Fables," the poems of Robert Burns, "Mason Weems' Life of Washington" and "The Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin."

Lincoln was a giant in strength with a moral character to match. Compassion was a guiding light of his life. And his bounty is legendary, giving the name of "Honest Abe" which is handed down to us to this day. The story is told of how he walked miles in a driving rain to pay back a few pennies he had accidentally overcharged a lady in a store where he was working.

I am remembering back in the third grade in Juneau, Alaska when we bought homemade log cabins to school before Lincoln's birthday and copied down Lincoln's Gettysburg Address off the blackboard to be memorized and recited.

This address is considered to be one of the great utterances of all time. It is inscribed in granite at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington D.C. And it is inscribed also in the hearts and minds of America.

Lincoln County's legacy of Honest Abe

The entire state of New Mexico was almost named Lincoln. However, the southeast corner of the state was named Lincoln, the largest county in the nation comprising seven present-day counties—the size of the state of Indiana.

We still have our beloved Lincoln County as a legacy from "Honest Abe." Let us send up a prayer of thanks for Abraham Lincoln.

U.S. 70 annexation put off

By KATHLEEN McDONALD
Financial News Staff Writer

After looking at the cost of annexing 135 acres of land along U.S. Highway 70 West, Ruidoso annexation committee members decided to call a halt.

However, as the community and its neighbors grow, the annexation might make sense down the road, they said Monday.

Meanwhile, standards in the planning code for areas within 3 miles of village limits need to be bolstered on unincorporated growth areas can be smoothly absorbed by the village in the future, committee chairman Robert Donaldson said.

"We need to push on the extraterritorial ordinance," he said. "I see it as the least expensive thing to do from a political standpoint."

The code is currently being updated by village attorneys.

"That's a whole lot cheaper than annexing these areas," Donaldson said.

The decision not to force annexation of the U.S. 70 land mirrors the opinion of the majority of property owners along the corridor: nine of 13 opposed annexation, one said yes, and three didn't respond to an inquiry, said Ruidoso Planning Director Cleatus Richards.

The land lies along U.S. Highway 70 West between the Mescalero Apache Reservation and the village. It's mostly undeveloped land, but also includes Twin Spruce Trailer Park, Yogi Bear Trailer Park, The Barn auction house and "The Farm."

Concerned about their taxes going up, about 10 of those landowners and residents attended Tuesday's meeting to hear the annexation study results.

The cost of tying in water and sewer lines to the 13 properties would be around $1 million, and the impact to those village systems would be too great, committee members said.

If the land is ever developed into commercial property, the developer would likely have to approach the village for utility services, so the village has "the luxury of time" to wait, Donaldson said.

Committee members opted in January to study the annexation prospect because of the land's potential for a large commercial development. Few sites on the outskirts of Ruidoso remain for large developments.

But the committee came to the same conclusion as it did last month about Gavilan Canyon, incorporating the land right now just doesn't make sense.

"Part of the reason the committee exists is to look at all the pockets in and around Ruidoso for planning purposes, not just for taxes," Donaldson told citizens. "We have to go through this process to see what the expenses are."

Committee members will still continue researching the annexation of pockets completely surrounded by Ruidoso, they said.

But the Extraterritorial P&Z code is currently the way to gain planning control over neighboring parcels, Donaldson said.

Donaldson, who is also a village councilor, will recommend changes to the ETP&Z ordinance at the village council's Feb. 25 meeting.

The 20-year-old code was modeled after a Roswell planning code and doesn't set zoning conditions in Ruidoso or the county. It doesn't mention RV parks and addresses street, water and sewer standards differently from Ruidoso planning codes.

"It's basically unenforceable," said Donaldson, because enforcement is left up to the county, but the county has no zoning.

Village attorneys have been working on changing the ETP&Z code since last fall. The work involves seeking a compromise between village and county planning ordinances, Donaldson said.

The council resolution may be two-tiered, he said. It would pursue reworking the ETP&Z ordinance, and request the county fund a special fire district for unincorporated areas. With a special "no-man's" area fire district, Ruidoso firefighters and police could be first responders to emergencies without threat of liability, Donaldson said.

County and Ruidoso officials have opposing views about planning, Donaldson said. Ruidoso has a stack of ordinance restrictions and the county's view is basically "everyone should be able to do whatever they want," Donaldson said.

When the new ordinance is ready for review, probably this spring, citizens like those along U.S. 70 should attend the public hearing, Donaldson said.

"One of our major concerns is, there's no planning in the county at all," he said.

The El Paso chapter of the National Aeronautics Association were here this week returning the gracious hospitality extended to them by flyers of Chihuahua in September by entertaining a group of thirty-three members of the Club Aero de Chihuahua for two days in El Paso and Ruidoso. After checking into the various lodges, the group went to Nob Hill for a chicken dinner. The dinner was followed by a dance at the Navajo Lodge with music by Scott Hagee, Mrs. Hagee, Wilbur Coe, Elay Parr, Jr. and Harold Coe, with Wilbur Coe announcing the numbers in Spanish and English. Although our "good neighbors" explained they had never danced to music such as we do all the time, they thought it was wonderful! They requested some of their own dances which the orchestra gladly played.

ENMU-Ruidoso enrollment jumps 7%

by DIANNE STALLINGS
Ruidoso News Staff Writer

Enrollment at Eastern New Mexico University in Ruidoso increased by 7% over last year's winter semester.

The number attending credit or community courses at the college's 40,000-square-foot building on Mesam Drive hit 638 on Jan. 31, said Jim Miller, administrator of the Ruidoso campus.

That's quite a feat, especially when Miller recalls his first days with the new instruction center in 1991. The offices then were at 1400 Suddeth Dr. and classes were conducted at Ruidoso High School.

Miller had just arrived when he stopped long enough to pose in his empty office on a pile of boxes. The big goal that year was to enroll 135 students.

By 1992, the enrollment had jumped to 389 and the campus was on its way.

Today, the curriculum has expanded to include work on bachelor's and master's degrees,

"We believe state welfare reform is going to drive the community college business in New Mexico."

JIM MILLER
ENMU Ruidoso Director

along with the two-year associate's degrees.

"We have 45 enrolled in the BA and MA level through TV classes, and that's up from 30 last fall," Miller said.

One of the major areas of growth occurred in the GED high school equivalency program, he said.

Seventeen to 20 people each month take courses to prepare for the GED test, and about the same number take the test.

"I think that program will continue to grow quite a bit," he said. "We estimate that one third to one half of the adults in this county haven't finished high school (including migrant workers)."

"We believe state welfare reform is going to drive the community college business in New Mexico."

The reform will emphasize that those receiving federal aid must get a job or train for a job, he said. By the time the reform is in place, the college also plans to have a child care center functioning to help single parents attend classes.

Three classes started this semester in Capitan to serve the growing population in that area about 23 miles north of Ruidoso, Miller said. Psychology, Introduction to College and Developmental Algebra are this semester's choices.

Two math classes also are set for Mesalero on the Apache reservation that abuts Ruidoso to the south.

"We're going to provide the basic academics for the Mesalero vocational program," Miller said. That program has been highly successful for the Mesalero Tribe.

Senior citizens continue to show interest in computer classes and nearly any afternoon, several can be found hanging out at the college's computer lab. Some have volunteered to work at the college through RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program).

About 138 seniors currently are enrolled. Genealogy has become popular with that age group, Miller said.

About 80-85% of the total enrollment consists of people above the age of 25, with 30% attending from outside the college's taxing district. About 30% of the students are Mesalero or Hispanic.

Forty part-time instructors handle the classes. Of that number, six are permanent staff members.

With more than a little pride showing in the accomplishments and growth of the campus, Miller said, "We're approaching working with 1,000 people each semester, one way or another."

Local electric company displays power of arc

Texas-New Mexico Power Company employees from Ruidoso manned a graphic "arc demonstration" at the Rocky Mountain Ground Water Users Association annual convention in Laughlin, Nev. Feb. 8.

Energy Technicians Shane Huffman, Bobby Arnett, and Ronnie Lawing from the Ruidoso Construction Center offered the demo. The purpose of the arc demonstration is to graphically show the effect of electricity on various materials that may come in contact with power lines. Materials used in the demonstration range from kite string and balloons to dead tree limbs.

The demonstration has been popular in school presentations throughout TNP's service areas in New Mexico and Texas. The program has been available for the past eight years.

The most recent demonstration was staged by TNP Mountain Region Training and Safety Coordinator John O'Loughlin. The company hosted 55 fourth graders Silver City.

Contact Jim Bassett in Ruidoso at 505-258-5511 to schedule an arc demonstration for your community.

Ruidoso boys fall twice on road trip

The Ruidoso boys basketball team suffered heartbreak twice, and just in time for Valentine's Day, when it dropped both games last weekend in Silver City and Bayard.

Silver's Colts rallied in the final two minutes of the contest to steal a victory from the Warriors, 57-53, Friday.

"We really outplayed them for three and a half quarters. We let it get away from us," said Ruidoso coach Ben Sanchez.

The Warriors kept Silver's top two scorers under 20 points combined for the game, but untimely turnovers late in the game gave the Colts the opportunity to rally.

The next night, Cobre jumped to an early lead and then held off the Warriors for a 78-76 overtime victory. Arthur Rojas paced Ruidoso with 26 points. Cory Saenz added 22 points.

Ruidoso falls to 8-11 overall and 1-3 in District 3AAA play.

"It puts us in a tough position at 1-3," Sanchez said. "It's never impossible to recover from that, but we're going to need some help. We're going to need somebody to beat Silver and Hot Springs."

Little league meeting for baseball season scheduled for Feb. 25

Ruidoso Little League will have a baseball organizational meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 25 at the White Mountain Elementary cafeteria.

All previous volunteers, officers and directors are invited to attend. Newcomers are welcome also.

Ski Apache preps for Presidents' weekend

by LAURA CLYMER
Ruidoso News Sports Writer

Friday marks the start of Presidents' Day weekend, and skiers are checking out ski and snow reports to find out which area has the best skiing.

And there is no better advertising campaign than a report of new snow, says Ski Apache general manager Roy Parker.

Parker hopes he'll be able to offer a great ski report for skiers who are on the lookout for fresh powder as one of the traditionally busiest ski weekends approaches.

Last year's four-day holiday weekend drew 14,700 skiers to Ski Apache, but Parker wouldn't speculate how many are anticipated on Ski Apache's slopes this year.

He doesn't have any new snowfall to report in February, but that doesn't mean he can't report good to excellent skiing conditions on the 53 trails open at Ski Apache.

Cold nights combined with snowmaking on one-third of the terrain helps.

"The skiing is great. It's fair to go on top and excellent on the bottom," Parker said Monday. "Everyone is having a wonderful time."

SKIING

The Elk Lodge lift runs are especially good, he added. Parker skied the entire mountain Sunday to check the conditions five days before the expected rush of Presidents' Day Weekend visitors.

"They take advantage of a three-day weekend whenever they can," said Parker, who expects a mixed crowd of students and families.

To add onto the natural snow, Ski Apache crews are making manmade snow three nights a week because it's been cold enough to do so, Parker said.

Mountain manager Denny Grover's crews have added snow depth to 17 of the area's 55 trails.

"In some places, it's 10 to 11 feet deep," said mountain manager Denny Grover, who is in charge of the snowmaking and grooming crews. "It's really skiing real well. It's holding up well."

"The cold weather also helps preserve the snow we have," Parker added.

Parker's hoping this three-day holiday will bring as much snow as the last one. Ski Apache's last significant snowfall came just prior to the Martin Luther King holiday weekend, when two snowstorms dumped more than two feet of snow on the area. More than 10,500 skiers hit the slopes that Saturday and Sunday of the three-day weekend, resulting in the best two-day totals of the season. Since then, however, the weather hasn't delivered more than three inches of new snow in any one storm. Last week a system brought snow to the state's northern ski areas, but didn't swing far enough south to add fresh snow to Ski Apache's slopes. In the north, Angel Fire received 13 inches and Taos Ski Valley netted 14 inches. Parker is pinning his hopes on another weather front expected to arrive midweek.

Tiger Kris Davis' head fake gets his Tulle defenders airborne Friday. Davis netted 21 points for Capitan, but the Tigers lost to the District 6AA-leading Wildcats.

Tulie tops Tigers

by LAURA CLYMER
Ruidoso News Sports Writer

After Friday's narrow loss to district-leading Tularosa, 74-69, the Capitan boys basketball team's objective for the rest of the regular season became distinctly simple: win two of the next three games and they sew up the district's runnerup spot.

Capitan started toward that goal Tuesday night when it hosted Dexter in a District 6AA contest. Whether it completes the goal depends on how, consistent Capitan (8-11 overall, 1-2) is on the hardwood.

Putting together four solid quarters of basketball is the key for the Tigers, said Capitan coach Gerald Montes.

They needed that kind of effort against the Wildcats Friday, but didn't get it.

Some chilly Capitan shooting late in the second quarter and a few too many Tiger turnovers at the start of the third quarter allowed the state's No. 9-ranked Class AA school to build a 16-point lead midway through the third period.

"We did a lot of things right, but it's still Tularosa and they're tough," Montes said.

The Tigers cut the Tularosa lead to 11 by the start of the final eight minutes, but they also had cut into their energy reserves.

"We talked about having a good effort and not getting blown out and we proved that. But we've got to play four good quarters," Montes said. "If you turn the ball over, they take full advantage."

The Wildcats also proved they are a balanced team. Six Tularosa players finished in double figures, including David Prelo who hit two crucial, fourth-quarter three-pointers which seemed to break the back of Capitan. Prelo, usually a role player, finished with 10 points.

It didn't help that the Tigers were shorthanded, either. Raymond Harris missed the Friday game because he was recovering from a viral infection. Teammate Eric Ferguson was sidelined also. Ferguson was out with the flu.

"We were tired at the end of the game. With Ferguson and Harris both out, we didn't have anyone to substitute for (Kris) Davis," Montes said.

The good news is that for these final three regular-season games, the Tigers will have both Ferguson and Harris. Last week it looked like Harris might miss the rest of the season recovering from the virus. But a three-day hospital stay and a steady prescription of antibiotics has put Harris back on the basketball court. Harris was released to play

Inconsistent offense dooms Ruidoso at Cobre and Silver

by LAURA CLYMER
Ruidoso News Sports Writer

Ruidoso girls basketball coach Dwayne Rogers is feeding his players a steady dose of offense this week as the Warriors prepare for their final two games of the regular season.

"We're going to run our offense, then run it some more, and then run it again some more," Rogers said with a touch of sarcasm in his voice.

Defense wasn't the problem, but offense was last weekend for the Warriors. Ruidoso dropped a pair of road games at Cobre and Silver to fall to 5-14 overall and 2-4 in District 3AAA play.

"We just didn't execute the offense," Rogers said of the Warriors' losses to Cobre, 53-46, and Silver, 53-28.

"When it comes to handling pressure situations, we're just not there yet. We're working toward it," Rogers said.

The second-year Warrior coach had no gripes with his team's defensive efforts, however. That's why Ruidoso will focus on offense this week before traveling to Truth or Consequences for a meeting with Hot Springs.

The Warriors' offense will have to be more consistent if Ruidoso is to have a chance at bumping off the district's second-place team.

Ruidoso is quite capable of putting together a winning offensive effort, Rogers said, if it plays as a team.

"We just went back to individual basketball," Rogers said of last weekend.

The Warriors handled the Colts' defensive pressure and limited the district leader to 53 points for the game, but the Ruidoso visitors had trouble finding the mark from the field. Ruidoso shot a paltry 11 of 41 from field goal range. Additionally, the Warriors' two leading scorers - Jana Morris and Bailey Bishop - attempted fewer than a dozen shots between them.

"Bailey had about five shots and Jana had about six. Those two need a whole lot more touches than that. But those guys also need to be patient and let the game come to them," Roger said.

The Warriors go to Truth or Consequences Friday, then await the Tigers' visit to Ruidoso Saturday, Feb. 22, marking the end of the regular season.

"We're going to have our game faces on Friday - that's a promise," Rogers said.

A split with the Tigers will give RHS a first-round home game in the district tournament, which starts the following week.

Decoupage demo

Carrizozo art students (left to right) Aaron Rahm, Anthony Beltran and Kevin Davidson are pictured during a decoupage demonstration conducted by Linda Burch, owner of Carrizozo gift shop High Hopes. Burch told the class she makes various crafts and gave them craft tips. Friend of the family Daniel Garner assisted Burch with the demonstration.

AROUND TOWN

by CARRIZOZO NEWSLETTER STAFF

The former Thornton home at the corner of East and 10th streets is being lovingly restored at every available moment by Johnnie and Judith Johnson.

"The restoration is going well" according to Johnnie, but deserving a break, they spent some of the holidays with son Johnnie, Jr., wife Linda and two granddaughters in Albuquerque.

Nearly 30 family members and friends of Mabel Zamora enjoyed traditional holiday fare, including tamales, at her home Christmas Day. All children and their families were present: Dorothy from Santa Fe, Susie from Alamo, Arthur from Tulie, and Margie and Veronica from Carrizozo. Mabel was truly blessed!

The new address for Alma Sherrill and Margaret Lane is: La Villa, 2725 North Pennsylvania, Apt. 123, Roswell, NM 88201. No doubt they will want us to "keep those cards and letters coming" as they adjust to their retirement lifestyle!

Audrey Calentine happily reports her grandson Guy Brown of Lubbock, Texas spent part of his Christmas vacation here. Guy and wife Kaylene both attend classes at Texas Tech. Kaylene also cares for her mother, who is critically ill. Their son is employed in Carlsbad, and their daughter graduates from high school in the spring of '97. How time flies! All were former Carrizozo residents.

Good News! Robert Schlarb came home again New Year's Eve and is doing well following hospitalization for a heart ailment at St. Joseph's Hospital in Albuquerque. The defibrillator has been reprogrammed, and he is recovering from pneumonia/bronchitis. His family is thankful for his progress. We wish him complete recovery and improved health in '97.

If you hear "by the grapevine" that Johnson Stearns has a bear, it is true! Bear is a 3-year-old collie now keeping him company! To quote Johnson, "The girls thought I needed him." Morning walks may be new to both of them, but it seems this is the beginning of a mutual "love affair."

Barbara Loveless of Clovis welcomed all her children and grandchildren at Christmas time. Visiting from Carrizozo were Gary Lee and Kelly Lovelace with daughter Krystal Winfield, and Jerry and Robin Lovelace and children.

Lorene and Ralph Baroz enjoyed Michael, Karen and Monica and four grandchildren over the holidays. Lorene's mother Ramona Sanchez spent Christmas day with granddaughter Becky Richardson and great-granddaughter Fawna in Las Cruces.

Lois Strickland spent Christmas week in Las Vegas, Nev., with Michigan friends. She returned to Carrizozo with money jingling in her pockets!

Virginia and Arden Burd vacationed with family in Michigan for a few weeks during the holiday season. Newcomers to Carrizozo, they are becoming a part of the community and we're truly happy they chose to settle here.

Ginny and Bob Curtiss happily entertained their three sons, and Ginny's mother Edith Howland and brother Jim, both from Michigan, during the holidays. Son Tim, wife Shauna and grandson Casey are spending a few weeks in the area before returning to their home in Italy. Son Joe and wife Brooke of Lubbock, and son Mike and wife Andi of Guymon, Okla., helped "fill the house and eat up all the pies" Ginny could put before them!

David and Barbie Roper, sons Shad and Ryan, daughter Renee and husband Lenny Beltran, and Kim and Sammy Roper gathered for Christmas Eve at the family home of Barney and Lois Roper. Daughter Barbara and three-generation family from Lovington had visited with Lois and Barney the weekend prior to Christmas. After New Year's, son Ray, wife Donna and sons Justin and Dusty of Fort Worth rounded out the holiday visitors with the Barney Ropers.

Hayden and Cheryl and children spent a few days after New Years with Hayden's parents in Portales. Also expected were Hayden's brother Elmo and wife Jodie, from California. The parents, Jim and Opal Luce, are both mail carriers for USPS and no doubt are glad the holidays are once again over!

Frances Boling is still unpacking, but enjoying her "new" home at 408 10th Street. She was pleased to have daughter Terri from Henderson, Texas here for Christmas. Terri helped to unpack Frances' 40-year accumulation from her RV trailer after Christmas Day.

Could 1996 have been the year of the Cataract? Yes, according to Ruth Armstrong, Agnes Hein, Dorothy Forsythe, Pat Baker, Phyllis Schlegel and Alice Hust and perhaps there are more! These ladies are benefiting from one or two successful eye surgeries with improved vision.

Everyone is so pleased to see Arlene Najer back at work at the post office after her long illness.

Suzi Fern and Barbara Culler can be spotted training their dogs, Nipper and Frito, in McDonald Park on nice mornings. All four of them are taking dog training classes in Tularosa.

Jane Browning is back from Alaska for a few months, working on her property on C Avenue, with help from friend Al Rule.

Our sympathy to Frankie Simons on the death of his mother. Frankie and Cathy will be moving to Maine in March.

Brittani Renee Wooley and Manuel D. Peralta were united in marriage Dec. 21 at Trinity United Methodist Church by Troy Grant, pastor of Berrendo Baptist Church of Roswell.

Prenuptial piano selections and the traditional wedding marches were played by Joan Park of Capitan. Parents of the bride are Janna Wooley of Carrizozo and Bobby R. Wooley of Tucson, Ariz. Parents of the groom are Sylvia P. Woods of Roswell and the late Manuel Peralta. He is the stepson of Virgil Wood of Roswell.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with overlays of lace appliques and seed pearls, fashioned with a fitted bodice and full-length sleeves. The attached train was fan shaped and designed with cutwork and lace appliques. The bride wore a short wedding veil of illusion net. Her attendants wore pencil slim gowns of hunter green panne velvet. The candle-lighters' and flower girl gowns of Christmas plaid and green velvet were fashioned by Alma Daniels of Roswell, maternal grandmother of the bride.

Ryan Wooley, brother of the bride, was groomsman. The bride's mother sang vocal selections during the impressive ceremony titled "I Will Love You," Malotte's "Lord's Prayer" and "I'll Be Here" by Steven Chapman.

Gwendolyn Barela, assisted by Tammy Fort, decorated the church sanctuary using gold bows, white poinsettias, greenery and candelabra. At the Country Club dinner/dance reception, decorations were similar, with the addition of angels throughout. The dinner was catered by Mary and Albert Najer, and Carmen Hill baked and decorated the wedding cake. Photographers were Frankie Simons and Cathy Cordeira. The DJ for the dance was Adrian Guerra of Albuquerque.

Brittani and Manny honeymooned at the Inn of the Mountain Gods. They are presently living in Tampa Bay, Fla. where Manny continues his Air Force training as an Army technician and Brittani continues her education in the science field. Congratulations and best wishes!

by CHICKIE MAHLER Carrizozo Newsletter

I'm sure some of you have been wondering if you would hear from me again. I have just been snowed under for so long trying to get things in order since my move to Tome. Seems the harder I try, the behinder I get.

Aunt Dollie Ward went to her nephew's funeral in Phoenix with her niece and stayed with Roley and Roberta over in Peralta, and went with them to Elephant Butte to spend Thanksgiving with Betty Lou and Doyle.

I have been concerned about Willie (Kelt) Bilbo. She has been in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock, Texas at least five months if not more. I wrote to her son Paul at Hobbs. He said she is not doing well and was to be admitted to a nursing home and assured me he would let me know more about her.

I am also concerned about Lois (Stadtman) Headley as I have not heard from her in awhile, and she has been so good to write with news. I have written her brother Keith hoping to hear from him.

I am delighted to have a new correspondent, Lucille (Lacey) Waite of Escondido, Calif. Her parents moved from Nogal when she was very young (she hasn't said when). However, her two older sisters, Margie and Thelma Lacey graduated from CHS in 1918 she believes, and Margie was born in White Oaks and is still living at age 97. Isn't that wonderful? Her sister Florence Elzada Lacey was also born in White Oaks and may have graduated in 1919. She passed away in Escondido on Dec. 31, 1985.

Lucille wrote me names of people that she remembers, some I never heard of, but some I recognized, and sent her information about them. Some of you may recognize those she remembers: Albert Roberts, Don English, Walter LaFleur, Jeanne Reilly, Sara Osborne, Angela Whittingham, Helen Rolland, Irma Poque, and Sally May Ray. Her teacher was Mrs. Noral Massie. If anyone is interested in writing Lucille, let me know and I will send you her address. She is planning on getting started writing a LaLone-Lacey history and is to send me a copy.

I made a phone call to ask how Ernie Phrem is going and was told he is doing rather well, however, his memory isn't very good.

Jack Key, one of my classmates, and I get together once in a while for lunch and gab sessions. Our last one, he brought me some photos he had taken during the Garrison Reunion. I learned Wanda had moved and by calling Dorothy and talking to her husband, I got the new address.

So many people are moving about so it seems I may have to drop them from my mailing or until someone sends me a new address. I hate to drop anyone, but it can't be helped.

Johnny and Jean Dobbs seem to be doing well. Jean stays extra busy with her Chihuahua dogs she raises. Johnny is into leatherworking.

Myrtle Hobbs has had the flu and was feeling better the last time I stopped by to check on her. Thanks to Vernelle Hightower, I was able to give Myrtle the address of Vena Mae (Johnson) Brakley in Phoenix. They were close friends in school.

I haven't heard from Dick Roberts in awhile, but I was told that Norma's sister Margie is now living with them in Hearne, Texas. Margie's husband Cossart passed away after a hard battle with cancer after they arrived in Hearne.

I have tried to contact several alumni in this area, but I must be calling at the wrong time of day. I did reach Patsy (Bennet) Horne recently and we had a very nice visit. She is looking forward to our next reunion, as are others. I have never been able to see and visit her sister Mary Ann (Nalda) Axe. I need to take time out and go visit people.

I planned on going to Carrizozo for Obie Simmons' funeral, however, I was feeling so bad Monday morning, I couldn't go anywhere. He and Dorothy's daughters are CHS graduates, Carol Ann living in Wisconsin and Shirley in Hatch. Dorothy got her GED at CHS. Obie will be missed by me and my children who thought so much of him.

Myrtle Hobbs Smith went to Socorro to join other family members for Thanksgiving. She has a new granddaughter that I got to meet earlier in the week. She is such a pretty baby.

Dorothy Leslie is so good to keep me updated about things going on in Carrizozo. Their grandson Orlen spent Thanksgiving with them at Ken and Sharon's home. Both Orlen and grandson Kenny spent Christmas with them.

Dorothy also told me that E.W. (Mooser) Dudley had been in town to visit the White Oaks School. He and his wife live in Santa Rosa and have attended several of our reunions.

I recently heard from Nellie Guevara saying she had been attending anniversary parties, first for her niece from Las Cruces and later for friends Martha and Albert Sanchez. I am thinking she may have meant George and Martha Sanchez. I will have to check that out. She is probably right, however, I don't have Albert listed in my books. As soon as I get directions I am going to take a day off and go visit Nellie and her daughter Maxine.

I am still hoping to get more addresses of alumni from all classes. I see a lot of names in the news that I can't send news to for lack of their address. I have people asking me about old friends they would like to contact and some I can help, and some I cannot. Until next time, Chickie "Wiggins" Mahler, Box 603, Tome, N.M. 87060-0603 (505) 865-5424.

Campus cleanup

The first project of Carrizozo's garden committee, made up of school staff and community members, will be to make the corner of the campus an attractive place for all to enjoy. The bell, once atop the first school, will be given a place of honor in the plans. The project will involve the students so they will take pride in their campus.

BEFORE THE NEW MEXICO PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

IN THE MATTER OF THE REQUEST FOR AN EXEMPTION FROM NMPUC RULE 640.8 BY ZIA NATURAL GAS COMPANY, A DIVISION OF NATURAL GAS PROCESSING CO.,

ZIA NATURAL GAS COMPANY,
Petitioner.

Case No. 2753

NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE is hereby given by the New Mexico Public Utility Commission ("Commission" or "NMPUC") that:

1. On December 18, 1996, Zia Natural Gas Company, a division of Natural Gas Processing Co. ("Zia"), filed a Request for Exemption from the application of NMPUC rule 640.8 to its January 1997 Gas Cost Factor Statement. NMPUC Rule 640 governs Purchased Gas Adjustment Clause ("PGAC") for Gas Utilities, and NMPUC Rule 640.8 provides for a mandatory hearing to be held whenever any gas cost factor statement shows an increase in the cost of gas from the previous gas cost factor statement of ten percent or more. Zia stated that it anticipated that its January 1997 Gas Cost Factor Statement for its PGAC will reflect an increase of more than ten percent in its gas cost factor from December 1996 based solely upon the anticipated increase in the PGAC of its gas supplier for the Hobbs system, PNM Gas Services, and requested that it be exempted from the mandatory hearing requirement. Zia also requested a variance from the requirement of NMPUC Rule 640.23 that the utility's gas cost factor statement be filed at least fifteen days before the effective date of the adjustment in the utility's charges for the cost of gas.

2. Under NMPUC Rule 640.12, Zia's filing of its Request for Exemption stayed the application of the affected provisions of NMPUC Rule 640 for a period of sixty days, or until further order of the Commission. Accordingly, Zia's statement of its public hearing in this proceeding, which is to begin at 9:00 AM on February 17, 1997.

3. On February 5, 1997, the Commission issued an Order on Variances and Scheduling Hearing, in that Order, the Commission granted Zia's request for a variance from NMPUC Rule 640.23 but denied Zia's request for a variance from NMPUC Rule 640.8. The Commission ordered that such a public hearing be held on February 17, 1997.

4. Zia provides gas utility service and is a public utility as defined in the Public Utility Act, NMSA 1978, Section 62-1-1, et seq. (Repl. Pamph. 1993 & Cum. Supp. 1996), which is subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission.

5. Any person who desires to intervene to become a party to this case must file a Motion for Leave to Intervene, pursuant to NMPUC Rules 110.58 and 110.57, on or before the commencement of the public hearing in this proceeding, which is to begin at 9:00 AM on February 17, 1997.

6. Zia shall provide oral direct testimony at the public hearing in this matter.

7. The Commission Advocacy Staff and any intervenors may submit oral direct testimony at the public hearing on this matter.

8. Any rebuttal testimony shall be submitted orally at the public hearing on this matter.

9. A public hearing will be held beginning at 9:00 AM on February 17, 1997, at the Commission's offices, Marian Hall, 224 East Palace Avenue, Santa Fe, New Mexico, for the purpose of hearing and receiving evidence, arguments and any other appropriate matters regarding PNMGS's Application for Variances and its January gas cost factor statement.

10. The Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (NMPUC Rule 110) apply to this case except as modified by Order of the Commission.

11. Any pleadings, documents or testimony filed in this case shall be served in accordance with NMPUC Rule 110.15 except as otherwise ordered.

12. Any interested person may examine Zia's filings together with any exhibits and related documents which may be filed at Zia's offices, 707 Short Drive, Ruidoso, New Mexico 88345, telephone: (505) 378-4277, or 110 South Fower Street, Hobbs, New Mexico 88341, telephone: (505) 393-5105, or at the Commission's offices, Marian Hall, 224 East Palace Avenue, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87501, telephone: (505) 827-8940.

13. Further information regarding this case may be obtained by contacting Zia or the Commission at the addresses and telephone numbers provided above.

14. Any interested person may appear at the time and place of hearing and give a written or oral comment, pursuant to NMPUC Rule 110, without becoming an intervenor. Such comments will not be considered as evidence in this case.

15. Interested persons should contact the Commission for confirmation of the hearing date, time and place since hearings are occasionally rescheduled.

16. Any person with a disability requiring special assistance in order to participate in this proceeding should contact the offices of the Commission 24 hours prior to the commencement of the hearing.

ISSUED at Santa Fe, New Mexico this 5th day of February, 1997.

Phil is a male beagle/red heeler mix with adorable spotted legs and paws. He's a comic at the shelter and loves everyone who comes by his kennel. Phil is about 2-years-old and is not a large dog, but he's powerful.

Valentine is a knock-out, good-looking male shepherd/collie/with possible malamute mix. He has a long gray and brown coat and an absolutely wonderful disposition. He's about 2-years-old. He needs a secure yard and a caring family.

POOP SCOOP

A new year means a new round of vaccinations for pets.

The shots protect cats from feline leukemia, dogs from Parvo, both from distemper and from rabies, the virus that started the vaccination program.

The incurable disease is caused by a virus that attacks the central nervous system of mammals. Only three hundred humans are known to have survived the disease.

Any warm-blooded mammal can contract rabies, but some are more susceptible than others including skunks, foxes, raccoons, bats, wolves and coyotes.

While less susceptible, cats and dogs are more likely to transmit the rabies virus from wild animals to humans.

Animals rarely afflicted includes rats, mice, squirrels, opossums, hamsters, guinea pigs, gerbils, chipmunks and rabbits. Non-mammals such as birds, reptiles, amphibians and fish can't be infected.

The virus, present in the salivary glands of infected animals, usually is transmitted through a bite or a break in the skin. Transmission through the air in caves with dense bat populations also has been documented.

Because the virus shows up only intermittently in saliva, ex-posure to a rabid animal does not necessarily mean the virus was transmitted.

The fragile virus can survive for about 10-20 minutes in direct sunlight, but may live for up to two hours in saliva on an animal's coat. The rabies virus is readily inactivated by heat, sunlight, detergents and disinfectants.

When the virus enters the body, it replicates in the muscle cells in the wound. No symptoms appear during this incubation period, which can last three to eight weeks, or in the extreme, up to one year.

Although it's not possible to tell if an animal has rabies by looking at it, symptoms could include foaming at the mouth, lack of coordination, lethargy or being violent without provocation, the usually behavior exhibited by infected cats. They drool because of difficulty swallowing and gradually lapse into complete paralysis.

Several other less fatal diseases, such as distemper, may mimic rabies, and complicate diagnosis.

The only way to verify requires the animal be killed and its brain tested - a needless alternative since a simple and inexpensive shot available is available.

Cosmetic Advantages

If you've been thinking about changing from glasses to contact lenses, probably the first thing that came to mind was the cosmetic advantage of contacts. They fit so closely to your eyes no one would know that you are wearing corrective lenses. However, this is just one of the advantages that contacts offer.

Another advantage is that contacts permit a wider field of vision than eyeglasses. There is no lens frame to get in your line of sight when you look to the left or the right, up or down. Because they fit so closely, they also present a less distorted and more realistic size in the objects viewed.

Contact lenses do have a tendency to allow for more care and responsibility than glasses, because they must be kept clean and free of irritants. Your eye doctor will instruct you in proper care. If you think you'd like to wear contact, ask your eye doctor if he or she would recommend them for you.

To Working Women

THE FIFTH ANNUAL SALUTE TO WORKING WOMEN IN LINCOLN COUNTY

Few people will argue these days that women don't carry their weight at home, in the military, in the workplace. 'Way back at mid-century we couldn't have said that. The 1990 Decennial Census report noted that 40 years earlier, in 1950, less than 23% of women in New Mexico worked outside the home. By 1990, more than half of all women were members of the state's labor force. It's predicted that in eight years, in 2005, that total will have reached more than 57%.

Upward economic mobility in New Mexico and everywhere else depends on education. There's no question that the state's women have caught on: In 1995, the last year for which figures are available, more than half of all college bachelor's degrees were granted to women; 242 more women earned master's degrees than men. Only with doctorate degrees did the men pull ahead—slightly.

So the reasons are obvious for The Ruidoso News to take time out for the fifth consecutive year to acknowledge the contribution of these super women who somehow balance homemaking, child-rearing and a career as they demonstrate once again the nugget of truth in an old, old joke:

"If you need two good men to do a job, hire a woman."

In the following pages, you will read about the 17 Lincoln County women nominated to be honored as the 1997 Woman of the Year. All are deserving. The winning nominee will be announced at Thursday's Valentine's Day luncheon at the Ruidoso Convention Center.

Verna Adams

Place of employment:

Home Health Services of Lincoln County

Submitted by:

Maureen Coleman and nurses of HHSLC

We believe that Verna Adams should be named Woman of the Year because she brought home health care to Lincoln County 20 years ago and remains in the forefront of health care as administrator of home health services of Lincoln County.

As a businesswoman she advocates for rights for the elderly, health care access for the indigent and is a spokeswoman for nursing amidst the changing health care climate.

This year she found time to build her own straw bale house in rural Lincoln County, a sign of her strong pioneering spirit.

Verna is a gift to this community.

Denise Dean

Place of employment:

Ruidoso Office Supply & Hallmark Store

Submitted by:

Cheryl Drake Wozny and Denise Imke

We believe that Denise Dean should be named Woman of the Year because Denise has exemplified the epitome of the "working woman."

She has operated the Ruidoso Office Supply and Hallmark Store since she and Gary moved to Ruidoso in 1992, and not only has the facility remained a viable business, it has prospered.

She has become an active of the community through participation in a "river clean-up" last April, being elected to the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and in actively promoting purchasing goods and services locally through her own business commercials.

During her first year on the Board of Directors for the Chamber she has been consistent in requiring accurate information on which to make logical and business-like decisions and in supporting the decisions thoroughly. During this first year she co-chaired the Ruidoso Art Festival and did an outstanding job in organizing the areas which were her responsibility... she made it easy for everyone to accomplish their duties because she approached her tasks early in the planning stages and organized them logically while following up on all the details.

She is the "working woman" in that she is logical, thorough, compassionate, organized and successful! Denise, by virtue of her love for Ruidoso, is a "natural ambassador."

Jane Deyo

Submitted by:
Kathy Garrett

I believe that Jane Deyo should be named Woman of the Year because of her active participation in Ruidoso. Over the course of many years she has greeted locals and tourists alike with a kind word, smile and positive outlook.

Jane has been active in local, state and regional volunteer organizations. She has served as member, president and District Governor of the Altrusa Club, member of the Zia Girl Scout Council (and served as president if that is the correct term for the office) and played the organ for the Episcopal Church of Lincoln County for many years. Jane also has instilled the love of music in her many piano students.

I nominate Jane with a great deal of pleasure and have enjoyed working with her in Altrusa since 1982, when I became a member.

I believe that Sandra Downes should be named Woman of the Year because she has almost single-handedly, seven days a week, any hour of the day or night, gone almost anywhere in southeast New Mexico to make Aspen Mountain Air/Lone Star Airlines a viable and integral part of Ruidoso and Lincoln County's infrastructure.

Her dedication to her commitment to the community and her vocation knows no limits or bounds. She has earned and deserves the designation of "Woman of the Year" and is worthy of commendation.

Helene Kobelnyk

Place of employment:

White Mountain Intermediate School

Submitted by:

Louise Hanson

I believe that Helen Kobelnyk should be named Woman of the Year because she is a person of high moral character dedicated to providing a safe, happy educational environment for our 5th and 6th grade children.

Firm but kind, she is not afraid to take a stand for good old fashioned values like: respect, manners, and providing a sound education.

This year she has implemented a new scheme of honor levels — designed to encourage and reward the 90% of the student population who aren't disruptive and oppositional. I think she deserves recognition for her hard work and professional dedication.

Women in the workforce

In the following pages, material prepared by the New Mexico Department of Labor Economic Research and Analysis Bureau spotlights the role of women in the state's workplace and looks at trends into the next millennium.

In "New Mexico 2005, Economic Projections," it was reported that "the cultural norm in our country has changed from one in which most women married at a younger age and worked in the home, raising several children while depending on the financial support of a husband.

"Now the norm is for women to marry later and have fewer children, while pursuing an education and a career. As a result, educated women have a much higher degree of economic independence. Today, many couples choose to maintain a two-income household in order to preserve their economic independence or reach a higher standard of living."

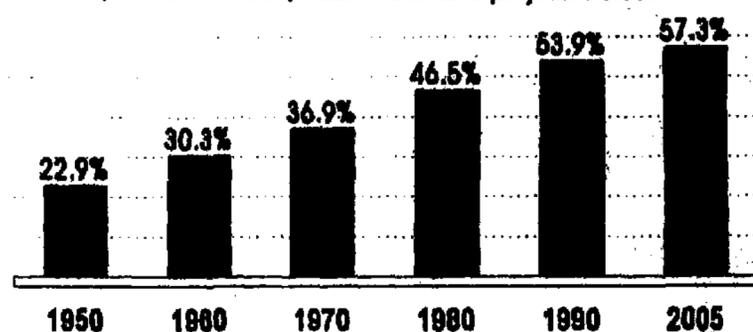

In the 1920s, less than 14 % of the state's women entered the labor force. By 1950 only about 23% were working. Since then the numbers have increased. By 1990, more than 50% of New Mexican women worked, accounting for about 45% of the labor force. This compares to almost 70 % of New Mexican men working in 1990 and encompassing around 55% of the labor force. The projection for the year 2005 is that almost 60% of women will be participating in the New Mexico labor force, bringing their percentage to 47%. With the force split almost 50-50 between men and women, employers will find that more women will be applying for jobs even in occupations where previously few women or only men worked.

GROWING BY DEGREES...

Women are now expecting to work at least during some part of their lifetime and they are making educational and occupational decisions accordingly. Women have received the majority of associate, bachelor and masters degrees in New Mexico since 1988. In the 1994-95 school year women obtained 62.8% of associates, 54.9% of bachelors and 55.4% of masters degrees. The only area where women lag is in doctorate degrees.

Molly Long

Place of employment:

White Mountain Elementary

Submitted by:

William and Amber Long

We believe that Molly P. Long should be named Woman of the Year because she is a major contributor to the community.

She is a teacher at White Mountain Elementary. Every day she demonstrates loving care and teaching professionalism towards her students and the faculty of White Mountain Elementary.

When her students need assistance with their homework or a problem at school, they have the freedom to call her at home where she takes the time to help them any way she can. She not only does this for her students, but also for students from years past.

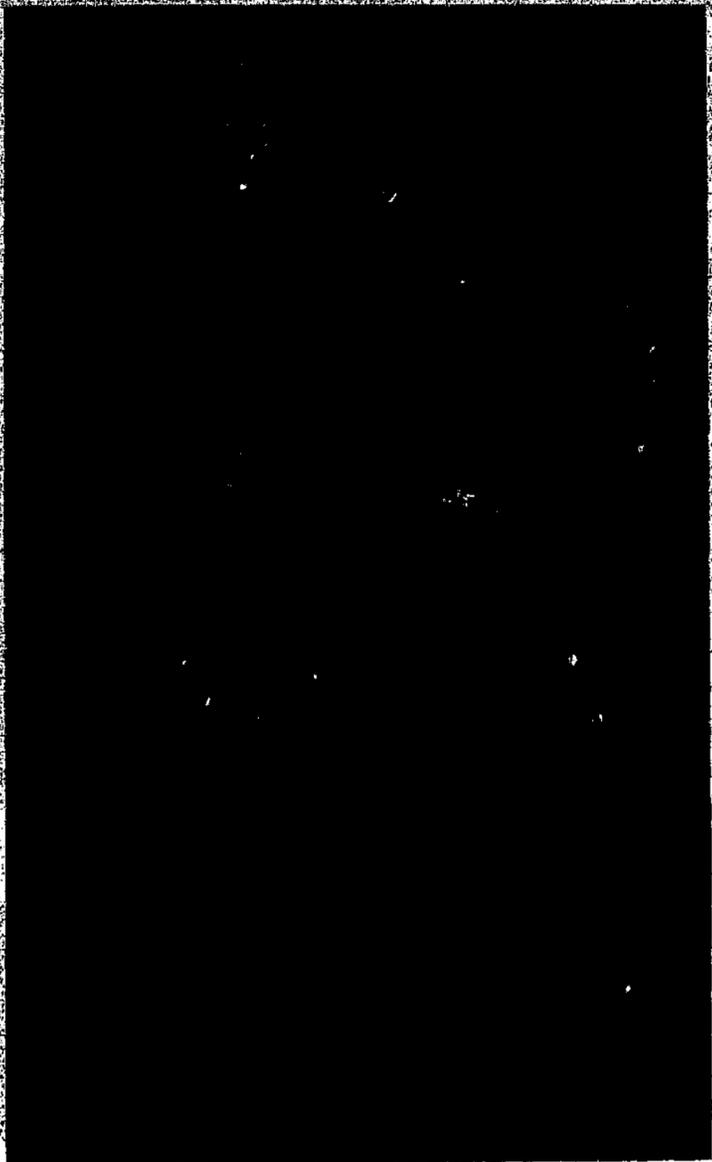

She makes the effort to attend games and special events to show her support.

She also has been on major committees over the years for making up grades for the Ruidoso School District.

Not only does she do all that for her students and friends, but still makes time for us, "The Family." She helps us with our homework, cooks dinner, and spends time with our dad. To us that is what makes our mom Woman of the Year.

P.S. We love her very much, too.

Susan Lutterman

Place of employment:
First National Bank

Submitted by:
Ronnie Hemphill

I believe that Susan Lutterman should be named Woman of the Year because she served as president on the New Mexico School Boards Association, as well as being in her 6th year on the Ruidoso School Board.

Susan's dedication to our local children, and her involvement at the state level, are commendable and deserve recognition.

Also, Susan volunteers as an official for Little League Basketball, and has served on parent councils at each school.

Dispelling the myths...

The following quotations address some specific reservations and stereotypes that employers may have when hiring women. As society changes regarding the expectations of women, so too will the perceptions and stereotypes of women workers.

"Women are not as committed to their careers."

But the Commission for the Status of Women reports that "only a third of the women had ever taken a leave of absence. Almost two-thirds of these leaves were for less than six months and 82 percent of these leaves were for maternity or other family reasons. If maternity is controlled, far more men in the Korn/Ferry surveys took leaves of absence than did women...."

"Women lack quantitative skills."

"Women lack quantitative skills, yet 23 percent of women and 27 percent of men have spent most of their corporate careers in finance. Sixteen percent of men and 26 percent of women are in the commercial banking or diversified financial sectors."

"Women don't like to work."

The national survey "Working Women Count" paints a complex portrait of American working women in the 1990s. The voices of working women in this report reveal their pride and satisfaction at being breadwinners for their families and a significant part of the American workforce. Fully 79% of respondents tell us that they either "love" or "like" their jobs overall. (From Women's Bureau).

I believe that Raymona McAdams should be named Woman of the Year because Raymona (Miss Mac to her students) has taught English at Ruidoso High School for 32 years.

During that time she has been an outstanding teacher and role model and has affected thousands of young lives in a positive manner.

"Miss Mac" is respected by her former students, present students and peers alike. She is a most worthy recipient of this honor.

Carole, Karen and Jana of Michelle's of Ruidoso

We believe that Michelle O'Brien should be named Woman of the Year because having worked for other people and in other places most of our adult lives, we have come across a varied mixture of employers and we feel these experiences have given us a good overview of what a boss can or cannot be.

Michelle gives us an example of an exceptional woman with her patience, understanding and appreciation of our diversified personalities. Her commitment is personal and we know that she cares what is going on in our lives.

Her attitude is always cheerful, no matter what is going on with the pressure of two businesses and commuting back and forth between Ruidoso and Park City, Utah. She will roll up her sleeves and "dive" right in with us at the store. She never asks us to do anything that she is not willing to do herself. It is a refreshing feeling to know that when we walk into "Michelle's" we are not going to a job, we are a team working together and our opinions are valued. She expresses her appreciation of our own unique qualities and gifts that we have brought to the business.

Commitment for Michelle is a never-ending 25 hours a day, eight days a week. We feel that these are some of the qualities that the award represents.

She is always here for us and now we want to be here for her. She deserves the award of Working Woman of the Year. We want the community to know her as we do.

We believe that Nancy M. Osterberg should be named Woman of the Year because she has been an employee of the Ruidoso Public Library since August of 1991, and has served as the director since October, 1993.

She has been an active member of the New Mexico Library Association since 1991, and coordinated the 1997 conference at the Civic Events Center. She is currently running for a N.M.L.A. board seat.

Nancy is the wife of Terry Osterberg, D.D.S., retired, and mother of 2nd Lt. Dan, 24, who is currently in Germany serving with the U.S. Army, and Alex, 18, a senior at Ruidoso High School.

She is an active participant serving our community as a member of the High School Booster Club, the Library Board and the Friends of the Library.

She has been instrumental in automating the present library system and is a major force in the development of the new library due to open this year. Under her leadership, the library's collection has grown in volume and quality.

Nancy has earned the deep respect and enthusiastic loyalty of the library staff as both a professional and compassionate library administrator and manager. The staff solidly concurs that she is a model supervisor, considerate at all times, and elicits the best in those around her by her exemplary demeanor.

ENMU at Ruidoso

Trade a dead end job for a ladder to success at ENMU!

I believe that Karen L. Parsons should be named Woman of the Year because Karen has been practicing law in Ruidoso since 1978.

In addition to her legal career, she also teaches various legal classes at ENMU-Ruidoso as well as speaks to the students at Ruidoso Middle School and Ruidoso High School.

She is very active with her teenage daughters and has served as president for the Volleyball Booster Club the past two years.

Due to Karen's exceptional legal career, her name has been submitted to the governor to succeed her father as district judge in Lincoln County. The possible appointment will be made on or before Feb. 21, 1997.

Karen is a very energetic, hard working, loving and compassionate woman, who has impacted the community in a positive manner for numerous years and I am sure she will continue to do so for many years to come.

April Rue

Place of employment:

Pioneer Savings Bank

Submitted by:

Angel Gonzales and the employees of Pioneer Savings Bank

We believe that April Rue should be named Woman of the Year because of her loyalty and dedication to customer satisfaction.

Mrs. Rue is always eager to go that extra mile for her customers without hesitation.

April Rue started out at Pioneer Savings Bank in August 1991 as a teller and in a short period of time climbed the ladder of success to be promoted to Branch Savings Supervisor and Office Manager. In doing so she still manages to raise her two young children with her husband of 4.5 years, Bronson Rue.

April is never too busy to help out a co-worker or a customer. She is always willing to make the time for someone.

April is knowledgeable in every aspect of her career. She has established a loyal friendship between her customers and her co-workers.

Mrs. Rue makes banking with Pioneer Savings Bank a true pleasure; the assurance that she sets forth is a genuine quality.

Without Mrs. Rue we would be at a loss both professionally from her co-workers and personally from her customers.

I am proud to elect my candidate for the "1997 Woman of the Year" award.

Women in the workforce

Hiring women: good business

Think of yourself as a male employer.

You may be convinced that it is not a bad idea to hire women employees in non-traditional occupations. But you have concerns about investing time and money into actively recruiting qualified women.

A recent study of 500 large national companies found that those companies which had policies involving active recruitment and hiring as well as promoting women and minorities were more profitable.

"Companies which rated in the bottom 100 on glass ceiling related measures earned an average of 7.9% return on investment, compared to an average return of 18.3% for the top 100." (Source: A Solid Investment: Making Full Use of the Nation's Human Capital Final Report of the Glass Ceiling Commission, November 1995.)

'Women's Work'

"Despite the fact that their educational attainment is now roughly equal to men's, women continue to be concentrated in occupational fields which offer relatively low wages and limited opportunities for advancement. In 1990, one out of three New Mexico women was employed as sales or service workers, and one out of four worked in the clerical field." (Source: Women Workers in New Mexico.)

New Mexico's distribution is similar to that seen for the nation. These numbers show women have made advancements in the managerial, professional and technical occupational groups. However, many areas remain for growth. The occupational groups which continue to be male-dominated include precision products, craft and repair, and operators, fabricators and laborers.

In the managerial/professional, technical group women are still employed in female-dominated occupations such as nurses, elementary and secondary school teachers, social workers and librarians. Some of the higher paying occupations in this group are the areas which remain male-dominated such as engineers.

Sally Rue

Place of employment:

Ruidoso Senior Citizens Center

Submitted by:

Natalie and Jack Williams

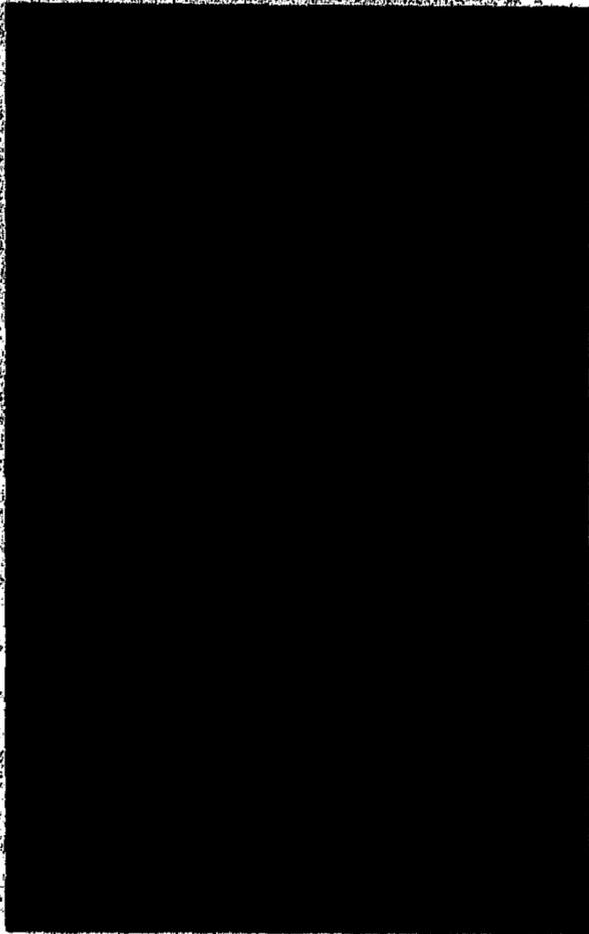

We believe that Sally Rue should be named Woman of the Year because of her virtues of dependability, sincerity, honesty, trustworthiness, caring, human kindness, responsibility, patience, ability to get along with others with or without difficult circumstances, true charity, self giving, giver of goodwill as demonstrated in her 10-year employment with the village of Ruidoso

She helps and serves her community and its persons, individually and as a whole.

Sally Rue truly deserves the title that she lives, "Woman of the Year."

P.S. She gets things done, always.

Diorly Stierwalt

Place of employment:
Ruidoso Middle School

Submitted by:

We believe that Mrs. Stierwalt should be named Woman of the Year because of the many contributions she makes to the children of Ruidoso.

Mrs. Stierwalt is a very positive teacher who is loved by all her students, present and past. She is also respected by her peers. She was chosen as the outstanding teacher in the middle school by her former students. She cares for her students and for the progress of the educational process to better serve the students.

Mrs. Stierwalt is a team player who cares for the whole school community.

Women: Hire 'em

Women are qualified and dedicated workers. Today employers should focus on recruiting and providing equal opportunities. Employers cannot afford to ignore female candidates for traditional male jobs. However, employers don't have to pass over the most qualified candidates either. They must simply insure the best methods of locating and hiring good employees.

Last year, the New Mexico Department of Labor Workforce Development Centers registered 16,114 women. Currently the labor force records only only 9% of women participating in the "precision production, craft and repair" group which has 31.5 percent of female applicants. This indicates that women are available for positions in many of the non-traditional occupations.

A final word to employers: Insist that employment agencies send a selection of applicants that are a balanced representation of the labor force. All society benefits from equal opportunity.

Virginia G. Vigil

Place of employment:

The Ellis Store Country Inn (owner)

Submitted by:

W.G. Jones

I believe that Virginia G. Vigil should be named Woman of the Year because she has become extremely active in efforts to expand tourism in Lincoln County through membership in the Rural Economic Development Through Tourism project, the Billy the Kid scenic byways program, and she was recently appointed by Gov. Johnson to the N.M. Tourism Commission.

She has been the presiding officer of the Lincoln County Republican Party and along with this has become a well-known gourmet chef and hostess at the Ellis Store. She is also a sustaining member of the Museum of the Horse.

Nan Wierwille

She combines a sharp wit with exceptional teaching strategies. Students and parents have consistently remembered her as their favorite teacher.

She was recognized as a Distinguished Teacher by the Ruidoso School Board at the 1996 RHS commencement exercises.

She has an exceptional work ethic and is tireless in inventing ways to make learning enjoyable and meaningful.
