Carrizo land dispute near settlement

BY RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF

Settlement of a 3-year-old lawsuit between the village of Ruidoso and the Mescalero Apache Tribe may be reached by next month, a village attorney said this week.

The lawsuit centers on a move by the tribe in 1996 to expand the Mescalero Reservation by seven acres along Carrizo Canyon Road. The Mescalero Inn, formerly known as the Carrizo Lodge, sits on the land, which is inside the Ruidoso village

A settlement, in which terms and water rights are agreed on rather than a money amount, could be final as soon as Aug. 2, Chay Rennick, a village attorney, said Tuesday.

"If, in fact, everything goes as anticipated, we would look for it by then," Rennick said.

Last week, the Ruidoso Village Council came out of a closed session to approve proceeding with the settlement.

As proposed, the village would drop its objections to the land's incorporation into the reservation. In return, Ruidoso would receive the transfer of six acres of water rights, as agreed between the village and a previous owner of the land.

A company called C-Net, which owned the lodge several years ago, asked the village for sewer and water service to the lodge. The village agreed to provide the services in

Police collar suspect in rape/kidnap

Police arrested a Capitan man and charged him with the kidnapping and rape of a woman over the week-

Deputy Rudy Saiz of the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office arrested the 35-year-old man Sunday and charged him with kidnapping and three counts of criminal sexual penetration of a 35-year-old Carrizozo woman, said Sheriff Tom Sullivan. He was arrested at his residence in Capitan, Sullivan said.

Sullivan said the kidnapping occurred late Saturday night, and his office was called Sunday morning.

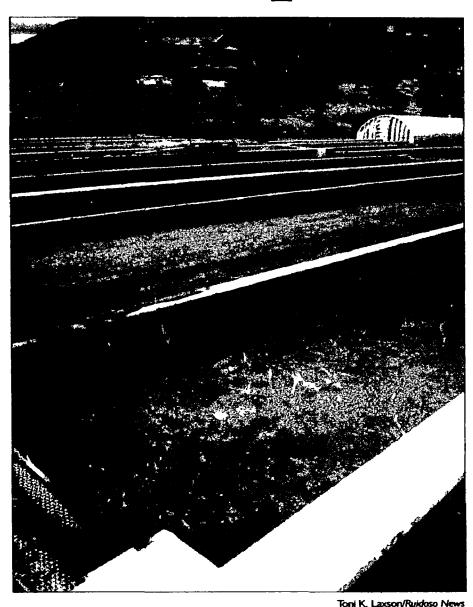

Two detectives from the Ruidoso Police Department, as members of the Lincoln County Major Crime Unit, were called in to help Saiz with the investigation, said Ruidoso Police Det. Bob Layher.

Dist. Atty. Scot Key said the suspect had a record for a misdemeanor in California. Key said the case has been divided up among the members of the Major Crime Unit.

"We're continuing our investigation of that crime," Key said. "The kidnapping allegedly occurred in Ruidoso, and the rape as in Capitan, so the Sheriff's Office is handling that. We've got pretty good cooperation with all the agencies, including the State Police (who) ... are volunteering manpower to be used at our discretion."

Flood wipes out Mescalero hatchery

Only a couple of hundred "very tough" rainbow trout survived Friday's flood waters. Those survivors filled only one of the 24 outdoor raceways at the U.S. Fish Barbara Giesecke on Monday afternoon looked down at one outdoor tank at the federal hatcnery in Mescalero in which fish still swam. The 23 other outdoor tanks, called raceways, were empty.

Those are the tough ones," said Giesecke, project leader at the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service hatchery, indicating rainbow trout of varying sizes in the raceway. "Either they were in the right place at the right time ... or they were just tougher."

Friday afternoon, flood waters a foot high swept through the middle of the hatchery, causing the loss of 230,000 rainbow trout in the outdoor raceways. The lost fish represent the majority of the hatchery's annual rainbow trout production of roughly 290,000, Giesecke said.

It is expected the loss of those trout will affect the amount of recreational dollars spent on the state's 11 Indian reservations, including Mescalero, whose creeks and lakes are stocked by the fishery, Giesecke

Other than lost fish and a broken spring line, the hatchery suffered little structural or equipment damage in the flood, the first at the facility in her 16 years there, she said.

"It's only because of the burn, the Telephone Fire," she said. "We knew we were going to have trouble, but we didn't expect this level of devastation ... Mother Nature called this shot."

Two situations actually contributed to the flood, land left barren from May's 2,200-acre Telephone Canyon fire and a cloudburst Friday afternoon. Telephone Canyon is located above the patchery. Two inches of rain fell in 45 minutes on Mescalero and the Telephone Canyon area, said Tony Recker, forest manager with U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs in Mescalero. Though steps had been taken to reduce erosion and flooding because of the fire, there had not been enough time for vegetation to grow on the burnt slopes, Recker said.

These devices were not designed for 2 inches of rain in 45 minutes," he said.

Toni K. Laxson/Ruidoso New

Bý Monday, a-pile of dead rainbow trout was one of the few remaining signs of the flood waters that swept through the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service hatchery in Mescalero on Friday wiping out almost all the facility's stock for the year.

"Normally, you have a thunderstorm coming down for 10 minutes, the kind where you don't want to go out in it because you can't even see through it - imagine that happening for 45 minutes."

The Mescalero Tribe has declared an emergency because of the flood and is requesting assistance from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), Recker said.

"A couple of homes were damaged we don't know to what extent at this time." Recker said. "We have four families that have been put up by the (American) Red Cross until we find out how much more water will be coming out of there."

No injuries resulted because of the flood, he said; however, some roads were damaged and impassable because of debris. The small Tulaross Creek running through Mescalero and next to the hatchery overflowed its gully and caused considerable erosion in the flooded area

In Ruidoso, almost 3 inches of rain over entire the weekend was recorded at the Ruidoso Police Department, a dispatcher said. Most of that rainfall, 1.7 inches, occurred Friday.

Gas station clerk fends off would-be bandit

BY SANDY SUGGETT RULDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A gas station attendant was bruised but unbowed following an attempted robbery from a midtown service station.

A man attempted to rob the Diamond Shamrock Station, 1901 Sudderth Drive, at 9:37 p.m. Sunday, police report.

The clerk, who was working outdoors and had heard noises for five to 10 minutes on the west side of the building, had just opened the door to enter the business when the perpetrator ran toward her with a knife extended.

"Open the door. I want the cash," he told the clerk. She managed to get inside and pull the door closed, but he pulled from the outside and they struggled for a short time before she was able to lock it. She picked up the phone and dialed 911 and he ran off in an unknown direction.

The clerk described the suspect to police as a male, 5 feet 6 inches, with a thin build and brown eyes and probably of Indian or Hispanic origin.

She said he wore a red ski mask under a hooded blue sweatshirt with the hood pulled up around his head and his eyes visible. She said he spoke perfect English with no accent, according to the police report.

The assailant carried a knife with a 6-inch blade that could have been a switch-blade, she told police.

Police found a ground wire cut outside the building and said that it appeared the suspect tried to cut alarm or telephone wires.

The clerk hurt her back while try ing to close the door, but refused treatment, the report states.

Venus is sinking lower in the western twilight each week. By the end of July it almost completely disappears from view. Mars is higher in the southwest after dusk, fading and gradually moving to the left, away from Spica. Much higher in the sky after dark are the two brightest stars of summer: blue-white Vega east of the zenith, and pale yellow-orange Arcturus to the southwest.

was at the Adobe Plaza at Sudderth and Mechem drives, where as much as 2 inches of water entered some parts of the shopping center over the week-end, said Dick Wisner, head of the Ruidoso River Association housed at the plaza.

The flooding in Mescalero could have been much worse if not for the terraces and other control devices erosion installed, Recker said. Those devices caught and held logs and boulders that would have otherwise been carried by flood waters into Mescalero, he said.

Some flood water also poured down Mud Canyon, another location of spring forest fires, Recker said. However, flooding problems in that area were mitigated because of action taken to avoid flooding after a large fire in 1996.

Giesecke said Monday a stock of Gila trout, an endangered species, at the hatchery survived the flood as well as about 120,000 rainbow trout "fingerlings," or young trout.

Both stocks were kept in buildings and were fed from a different spring. The fingerling trout were in raceways inside a building that flood waters actually swept through, but the muddy waters never reached the top of the tanks.

The "intensively dirty, muddy and intensively fast" flood water entered outdoor tanks, which held the larger fish. While Giesecke ordered the raceways to be "unplugged," allowing the fish in the tanks to drain into Tularosa Creek, many suffocated in the tanks from muddy water, she said.

Giesecke on Monday expressed gratitude to the Mescalero Hot Shot fire crews and employees of the Bureau of Indian Affairs who assisted with clean up at the hatchery over the weekend.

tional rainbow trout from other hatcheries to make up for the losses, according to an agency

Giesecke said she did not expect Silver Eagle Creek or the Rio Ruidoso on the Mescalero Reservation to be stocked this summer. However, anticipating a possible problem with monsoon rains, the hatchery had stocked Mescalero Lake earlier in the season than usual, she said.

The loss of fish stock is expected to be felt economically in Mescalero.

"It's hard to sell fishing licenses if there are no fish, Recker said.

exchange for the water rights, according to information provided by village attorneys.

However, C-Net sold the property to Gaim-Ko, the company that formerly operated the slot machines at Casino Apache inside the Inn of the Mountain Gods in Mescalero. Gaim-Ko then gave the lodge and surrounded property to the Mescalero Tribe, which applied to the U.S. Department of Interior to "de-annex" the land from Ruidoso.

The village protested on the grounds that the tribe would have access to village water and sewer services, but Ruidoso would have no jurisdiction over the tribe's control of those services.

In addition, the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs had objected to the transfer of the water rights to the village of Ruidoso, and the village wanted the bureau to release those objections, according to information provided by village attorneys.

OUR OPINION

A higher plateau for library service

Libraries, it has been said, are almost anachronisms in this day of instant communication and information retrieval via the World Wide Web. True, anybody with a computer and with considerable patience can gather an almost limitless store of information on a given subject if they so choose.

But don't try to sell that scenario to the patrons of the Ruidoso Public Library. They want their books; the feel, the texture, the opportunity, the experience of words and pictures on a printed page in a quiet, relaxed setting.

With that, congratulations to the village administration and the staff of that splendid, 2-year-old library building next to Village Hall for easing one major irritant would-be patrons have complained about — the obstacle course, not to say invasion of privacy, that had been mounted in the past in an effort to prevent the disappearance of books.

Now, with the relaxation - but not elimination - of the rules, public library patronage should increase substantially;/that 8,000-patron total should be no more than a benchmark from which to measure growth. And growth in circulation of books and other materials is the way most libraries measure service to their communities; the more circulation, the more evidence of community service.

All that is necessary now is to present a valid drivers license, fill out a form, and get ye card - good for six months if you are a resident, f 30 days if you're a transient. Formerly, anyone with an out-of-county drivers license also had to show proof of property ownership in Lincoln County, with either a property tax bill or a property deed -- something reminiscent of how you registered to vote in the post-Reconstruction deep South, and almost ās demeaning.

The 30-day transient card makes much sense. The sixmonth card might arguably be defended as a means of keeping track of the comings and goings of the semi-permanent population, although it does add to the clerical load. (Can non-drivers check out books?)

As a matter of practice, the library staff still/copies your drivers license when you apply for a card, rather than looking at the picture on it to prove that you are you. You get your card, and the license copy is filed, presumably forever.

Yet, time and again, we've been warned by the powers that be that Social Security numbers, addresses and such on a drivers license should be kept private to prevent illegal use. So why copy it in the first place?

The library clearly is heading in the right direction, but maybe it should do just a tad more fine-tuning of the system.

Response to news

To the editor:

As I watched (TV) news egarding the Ruidoso Police Chief, and his officer who was caught stealing groceries from Wal-Mart, I thought there must be more to the story than I was receiving After reading Friday's paper and the letter from Ms. Green, it has become apparent that we may have major problems on our hands. Lanny Maddox declined an interview (on TV) but sent word "it was time to move on to more important things." What could be more important to a police chief than one of his officers being caught stealing? Why would Mr. Maddox refuse to be interviewed? Could it be he doesn't want the people of Ruideso to know what s really going on within the police department?

Judge Manzell and Officer Condon also deserve criticism in these matters. Condon's decision-making process should be challenged; of course you can't pick up a Ruidoso News without seeing his name splattered all throughout the paper from one controversial issue to another.

These public officials have moral obligations to lead by Observing Juag Mansell's leadership, we could assume every time the youth of our community commit a crime, Judge Mansell should bear part of the responsibility... He has shown the youth that there is no responsibility for their action. surely Judge Mansell is not the type of person who hangs around the coffee shops all morning, gossiping about everyone, and then holding court on the weekend. ... Is Judge Mansell someone you would want your children to grow up to be like? If not, why elect him judge

Little Creek raceway

To the editor:

I would like to bring attention to an ongoing problem in the (Little Creek/Rancho Ruidoso Estates) area where I live. It has been going on since I moved in here a year and a balf ago. I am talking about the outrageous speeding up and down my road.

Of course, I see this all over Ruidoso. No one heeds any speed signs or sign directions. So many don't use their signals to turn; just suddenly decide to turn causing you to hit your breaks Also taking curves on your side of the road or just plain driving in the middle like they are the only ones on the road.

Total disregard for the safeof themselves or others... Back to the problem at/hand. We have no speed limit signs out here so I guess that means drivers can drive as last as they want. I have contacted people who said they would see about posting speed signs, but that was eight or nine months ago: needless to say, nothing was done. We have more people moving in, so more speeders. What is surprising is the fact that most of them are driving business vehicles; also 18wheelers, school busses, dump trucks. Maybe one out of 53 aren't speeding....

Several of us are taking note of the ones who are speeding. We are hoping that this (letter) will make them take note of the problem and slow down. If not, we will have to take other steps to ensure the safety and quality of our area...

...I am seeing so many things changing here and a lot not for the better. Let's take a look around and ask ourselves why e came here in the first place, to bring everything we tried to escape from to this mountain, or to find a place slower in pace, less stress, kinder people, a little serenity...

Challenging government

To the editor.

The Ruidoso News' recent article concerning the delay in the post office construction brings to mind another article about the post office. It seems that there are questions that are being asked such as (1) Why destroy the natural contour of the land by hauling in dirt to level along with a 17-foot wall. (2) Why cut down and destroy all of the mature pine trees on the land involved? (3) Why build a structure that does not blend in with the western flavor of Ruidoso, using natural rock and landscaping?

When asked about these questions, the Ruidoso mayor opined that since this was a federal project "nothing could be done."

I disagree, and in my allotted 300 words would like to respectfully tell you why. Last month, on CNN, a congressman from an eastern state in a televised speech before Congress complained that a proposed post office in his town and in other towns in his state were experiencing the same problems as we have outlined in Ruidoso.

No local help was available. so the matter was brought to the attention of the Postmaster General in Washington. The result was to the effect that the Planning & Zoning (rules) in the towns affected would be the guidelines to be followed.

In 1983 our local post office began to install boxes in various locations autitione delivery." There was no village council coordination or approval. At one intersection, 264 boxes were located. I called this to the attention of the Ruidoso News. Photos appeared in the 10/6/83 edition of the News along with a factual story of the problem. When we received no help from the local postmaster we went up the lackier. The Village Council was contacted and involved in bringing the matter to a satisfactory conchision. You can't always accept "no" for answer. The United States government can be challenged.

GUEST COMMENTARY

Enjady states his case, defends his reputation

BY OLIVER ENJADY FORMER VICE PRESIDENT. MESCALERO APACHE TRIBE

I speak now to the Mescalero Apache people and all my other friends because I want to clear my reputation.

I still believe that I was illegally removed from office by the tribal council, as was President Ortega, and that our removal was a violation of the Tribal Constitution.

This also is in response to Fred Chino's article in last Wednesday's newspaper, in which he said he would not accept the $88,000 salary if he is elected vice president. But he did not mention that if he receives a salary he would give up full Indian Health Service health benefits. As vice president, he would be allowed to attend all subcommittee meetings, which could run 10 or more a week, and receive payment for each meeting. As to Mr. Chino's statement that the council could tell the President what to do, Chapter 24 of the Mescalero Apache Tribal Code clearly states that the President of the Mescalero Apache Tribe shall exercise the powers as the Chief Executive Officer of the Tribe, and no council member may give orders to a member of the executive department. Does he know the difference between a bresident and a council chairman?

The tribal code also states that no member of the Council shall discuss or vote on any mat#ter or issue while the Tribal Council is sitting as the Appellate Court "when he has prejudiced himself or has a personal interest therein arising out of family, kinship or marriage ties or by having any other direct interest or any substantial indirect interest therein." Yet the names of three present council members now appear on the special election ballot. Fred Chino himself then was on the ballot as a candidate for vice president.

I continue to hope that my name will be cleared by the peo-ple of the tribe and that I will be allowed to seek office in the November election.

We never were given a hearing. We had no chance to defend ourselves or our record in office. We never appeared before the tribal court or the council. As far as "sentencing" goes, I have not received any kind of sentencing. I understand from the mit-utes of the council that later, in a 5-2 vote, the council said I could run for office because there was not enough evidence against me to prevent me from running.

President Ortega, and States told their extended manages or be removed from office I did send a written resignation, and by resigning I should have been allowed to run for tribal office. We did submit our names for office, but the election board did not allow our names on the ballot, and we were never given a reason why we could not run. Another council candidate Ben Martinez, I understand, came to the election board to ask for the chance to run. I think I should have been allowed the same opportunity.

The tribal election board's rules state that a reason must be given if a name is not allowed on the ballot. The special election was on July 9, and I never received word that my name would not be on the ballot as a candidate. I have never been told by the election board why my name was not allowed.

The election results from the Friday, July 9, election were not posted until Monday, and a lot of people were asking ques-tions. I don't know whether anything was wrong but there have been a lot of shadows, lots of doubts about the election process. It is time to look at the process. It is time to look at the finture and it is time to accept change. I hope we accept these changes for the betterment of the people and not for the betterment of the people and not for the betterment of statisticals.

Chromsty, I am a political hurdle in some peoples eyes, and things were taken to the extreme to keep me off the ballot. I don't know whether I am popular with members of the popular with members of the tribe I don't know why so much effort was made to keep me off the ballot.

I am just someone who is for the people. I don't understand political games. I just want to help the people, and that's what I am about.

I would like to thank the people who have come forward for me, not only in Mescalero, but also the people from the surrounding communities, espe-cially Ruidoso. And we will see what happens.

Right now, I am going to paint, and fish a little. And I went to let the sunshine in. As we say in Apache, in the County trims assistance to 2 public libraries

by Mesha Smith FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

Both Ruidoso and Capitan public libraries received a cut in support from Lincoln/County when commissioners approved a budget for the 1999-2000 fiscal year.

"I'm disappointed that it's not as much as last year, but at least it's something," said Nancy Osterberg, director of the Ruidoso Public Library.

Linda Fox, Capitan Public Library's director, expressed a similar sentiment.

"We were pleased that we were included in the budget. We understand that many other programs weren't, but we were disappointed in a reduction of support." Fox said. "We weren't prepared for a decrease. It will impose a hardship on us."

At the July 15 county commission meeting, Commissioner L. Ray Nunley said that the $3,000 each library received from the commission was generous in light of the this year's budget.

The county is required to maintain a three-twelfths of the budget reserve fund and tion to distribute. The libraries received their support out of that $306.811 excess.

The county contribution last year helped to fund a new position, an assistant children's librarian. The village will pay the salary this year.

Osterberg said they asked the county commission for help because almost 50 percent of the library's patrons are from the county, outside Ruidoso. The Capitan Public Library

Menagerie of talents at pet show

BY SANDY SUĞGITT RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

About 39 animals showed off their humans Saturday at the Ruidoso Public Library's 20th annual PetShow, and all of them received ribbons and special recognition.

Unlike other animal shows, the ribbons were not based on complex systems of etiquette or showmanship. The judges merely put their heads together and chose an adjective that seemed to characterize each animal. Thus Mister Peso the llama was designated "regal," while Cinnamon the hamster was "most athletic." Itchy Bun the alpaca was "sweetest," while Sambo the goat was "best dressed" because of the red kerchief around his neck.

The judges were Vicki Eichelberger, Mary Young and Peggy Williams, and Bart Young announced each contestant and its human companion. Children's librarian Ingrid Schmitz helped position the animals and show them to the judges. If the animal could do a trick or perform, this was its chance. Sambo the goat drank out of a bottle of spring water.

Chelsey Jenson, 10, fights a battle of wills with her pet goat Gabriel, a 4-month-old with a mind of its own.

Cookie the dog shook hands. Guinea pig Rosie liked to walk, and parakeets Sky and Snowflake demonstrated "liking to be held."

The judges' job was to come up with a different adjective for each of these talented animals. In the dogs category, Sparky was designated "best beard," Sugar "wiggliest," Dink "curliest-tailed dog," Herbert "cool, calm, collected," and Abbie "most compassionate." Blacky Bear the cat was "playful" and Angelie goat was "most professional."

The most unusual animals were Mister Peso and Scooter. llamas from Alto, and alpacas Itchy Bun and Sambo. The menagerie included goats and miniature goats, a hamster, a guinea pig, gerbils, parakeets. and several cats, but the majority of the contestants were dogs.

"It was definitely one of our biggest shows," said Schmitz, who was around for the first PetShow in 1979. "We had more dogs than we've ever had, and ended up with some nice variety."

Students win change in dress code policy

BY SANDY SUGGITT RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

CAPITAN - The Capitan School Board has approved a change in the high school dress code that removes a time limit on when students may wear

Student Senate President Holly Schlarb, a senior, persuaded board members that high school students should have different privileges than middle school and elementary school students, said Diana Billingsley, superintendent of schools.

"They believe they know when it's inappropriate and too cold to wear shorts, and they didn't believe there should be a time limit set on when you can and can't wear shorts, Billingsley said. Previously, all students were allowed to wear shorts to school from the first day of school until Oct. 15, and from April 1 until the last day of school.

"Now at the high school, shorts may be worn at any time," Billingsley said, adding that the board thanked Schlarb for being involved in government at the district level as well as in the school, and invited her to come back and make monthly reports to the school board if possible.

Other minor changes also were made in the high school student handbook, Billingsley said, but middle school, students on the committee to revise the handbook said they didn't want to wear shorts at all. The principal of the mid-dle school, Bill McVeigh, said he would talk to other students before finalizing a new ruling prohibiting shorts in the middle school. The middle school handbook approved by the school board now requires that shirts be tucked in, Billingsley said.

Also at the July 15 meet ing, Billingsley updated the school board on plans for paving projects approved by voters May 11 to be funded by a $2 million bond issue.

She said a bidder's conference at 10 a.m. Thursday in the administration office of the school district will answer questions about plans for the bus loop and the paving of the new parking lot and Yard Road. Bids for these projects. must be submitted to the administration office by 2 p.m. Thursday, July 29.

Special board meetings are scheduled for Thursday to accept a food bid; July 29 to award the construction project to the lowest bidder and to name the new board member; and Aug. 5 to award the milk bid to the lowest bidder. The next regular school board meeting is Aug. 12.

Self-defense ruled in Mescalero killing

BY TONI K. LAXSON RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Seventy-four-year-old Andy Lopez of Mescalero acted in self defense last month when he stabbed his 47-year-old son with a small knife, Dist. Atty. Scot Key has concluded.

Key said no charges will be brought against Lopez, whose son Ricardo Lopez died July 8 from injuries stemming from a stab wound. At the time of the stabbing, which happened in the early morning hours of June 25, the younger man was beating his father with a large box fan.

"The important thing was that he had defense wounds on his arms from fending off the box fan," Key said this week.

The fight, said Key, was based on the younger man's perception about how his father was treating his stepmother.

pulled a 2 1/2-inch knife from his pocket and stabbed his son once in the left side of the chest, Key said. At the time, both men as well as two women at the home are believed to have been intoxicated.

"All of the witnesses, the defendant and the victim were pretty much drinking all day," Key said.

Ricardo Lopez died eight days after the stabbing from bronchial pneumonia and renal failure at the University of New Mexico Hospital in Albuquerque, where he was airlifted to after first being taken to Lincoln County Medical Center. The New Mexico Office of the Medical Examiner classified the man's death as a homicide because the injuries resulted from the original stab wound. Key said.

This was a state case because it was non-Indian on non-Indian," Key said. "If an Indian was involved either as the victim or the defendant, then it would have been investigated by the FBI." -

Instead, both the Otero County Sheriff's Department and the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs investigated the stabbing, which occurred at the Lopez home at B-6 Sumac Court, B Section Housing Area, in Mescalero.

Key complimented the coordinated investigation efforts between the sheriff's office and BIA police under the new leadership of Troy Bolen.

Based on the investigation, Key said it was his finding that Andy Lopez acted in self-defense "and therefore the homicide is justifiable and no charges will be filed."

He said the homicide was the first on the reservation in of his recollection, it also is the first time in his 2 1/2 years as/ district attorney for a homicide to be ruled justified on the basis of self defense, Key said. Andy Lopez was never arrested for the homicide. He is, however, currently charged with felony drunken driving, Key added.

Accident/victim improves

Cynthia Garcia of Capitan has been upgraded from critical to serious condition a week after she was involved in a head-on traffic collision, a spokesperson for the University of New Mexico Hospital said Monday.

Garcia, 51, whom State Police reported as being Cynthia Benally, was airlifted July 11 after a car accident on State Road 48 about 1.5 miles south of Capitan. according to hospital and State Police representatives.

Three other people also were injured in the accident, but' not as critically as Garcia, who received multiple injuries, according to hospital staff.

BY KAREN BOEHLER SPECIAL TO THE RUIDOSO NEWS

A trio of Ruidoso softball teams made it into the medal round of the Last Chance Qualifier softball tournament played at the Eagle Creek Complex Friday Sports through Sunday.

Nads took silver in the men's E division, the Flamingos were second in Women's open and the Merchants, stepping up a notch from E division, finished third in class D.

For excitement, Nads gave the local fans plenty to cheer about and more.

After opening play Friday night with a win against the Plano 60's from Plano, Texas, the Nads dropped into the loser's bracket with a 3 a.m. loss to hometown rivals the Bombers.

But the Nads weren't to be denied.

The team fought its way back to the title game with wins over Just Us from Roswell, Riff Raff, another Ruidoso squad, and the Sox from Artesia.

The Bombers, meanwhile, lost to Don Sanchez from Albuquerque, setting up a rematch between Nads and the Bombers. This time, Nads took the win, 13-3 in seven innings, but that merely set the table for a long day ahead. It looked as though Nads was headed to a fourth-place finish as the Las Cruces Kings held an 8-6 lead going into the seventh inning. But Nads rallied, taking a 14-8 lead in the top of the seventh. The Kings fought back, tying the match in the bottom of the stanza and sending it into extra innings. Nads picked up two runs in the bottom of the #ighth, then, to the disappointment of the large contingent of cheering Las Cruces fans, shut out the Kings for the win.

Nads went back on the field against Los Locos of Albuquerque, a team fresh off its first loss of the tournament.

Again, Nads took the match to the wire. In a deja vu game, Nads trailed through the fourth inning, when they took an 8-5 lead.

Neither team scored in its next at bat, but Los Locos tied the game at eight-all in the bottom of the seventh.

Scott Ingram of the Nads starts a double play by flipping the ball to teammate Jody Fromknecht. The Nads fought their way through the loser's bracket to take second place in the Last Chance Qualifier softball tournament over the weekend.

Nads again came through in the clutch, loading the bases then scoring the one run needed to move into the championship game.

That was where Nads' luck finally ran out. In its eighth game in 48

RHS cheer squad tops at camp

A rejuvénated Ruidoso School cheerleading squad returned a New Mexico State University camp with the top trophy.

Despite having eight newcomers to the squad of 12, the Ruidoso group outperformed nearly two dozen other squads for the Camp Champ trophy for best overall team cheer squad.

Throughout the week, the Ruidoso team picked up $1\overline{2}$ "superior" ribbons for performance categories such as dance, stunts and sideline cheer.

The Warriors competed against teams from AA to AAAAA schools. They also won the Sportsmanship trophy.

Hounded and harassed by more than two dozen newspaper, radio and television reporters and cameramen, Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana came to Ruidoso Saturday last week to attend the races at the Downs — and had fun for about seven races before he finally blew his top and left the Jockey Club in a huff.

His visit here was part of "western vacation tour" that has seen him stop off in Ft. Wort, Dallas, Big Spring, Texas, El Paso, Juarez and Ruidoso.

Gov. Long flew/to Ruidoso last Saturday, arriving here at 1:45 p.m. at the airport... (Reporters) began flying in an hour before Long's plane arrived, and they were on hand to see the. Ruidoso Downs' plane fly Dale Robertson, movie and TV star, here. Robertson didn't get much notice from the small crowd that had gathered —/Gov. Long's arrival held the attention.../

The Silver Lining by Daniel Agnew Storm

The annual outdoor service and picnic in honor of Saint Anne's Day was held on Sunday, July 16, under the giant walnut and oak trees by the riverside at the Paul Jones Campground in Glencoe.

The event is sponsored each year on Saint Anne's Day by the Saint Anne's Chapel at Glencoe, and members of the Episcopal Church from all over Lincoln County gather for this special event.

A pretty thistle that spreads

 While the flower is pretty, the musk thistle can spread to the point where it crowds out native grasses and wildflow-

BY TONI K. LAXSON RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

It has a powder-puff purple blossom, a prickly stalk and a predisposition to take over.

The musk thistle that these summer days lines many area roads and fills grasslands is a predator of sorts in the plant world. With 20,000 seeds per plant, the invasive purple-flowered weed can take over entire meadows in just a few years, leaving no room for native grasses and wildflowers, a local forest ranger said.

"It seems that it does really well in the meadows at the same 1.000foot elevation as the Ponderosa pines," said Jerry Hawks, who heads the U.S. Forest Service's Smokey Bear Ranger Station in Ruidoso. "And if it is allowed to go unchecked with-out control, it will take over large areas of meadows. And then it becomes really expensive to control."

While the purple flower is attractive, and the sea of blossoms provides color, forest service and local authorities battle the weed because of its tremendous ability to propagate.

Hawks estimated that this year alone, roughly $50,000 of his budget will be spent trying to control the musk thistle in the Smokey Bear and Sacramento districts of the Lincoln National Forest. That amount covers not only the work to spray plants with a herbicide, but also for an environmental study on the effects of the herbicide and to monitor the plants after, spraying, Hawks said.

The weed, whose Latin name is carduus nutans L., covers about 800 acres in the Smokey Bear District and another 1,200 acres in the Sacramento District around Cloudcroft, Hawks said.

Over at the Links of Sierra Blanca, Bo Cichuniec, golf course superintendent, said the purple weed has to be taken out of the ground manually, which is very time consuming. It's a battle for everyone ... It has a 98 percent germination rate."

Rafael "Rifle" Salas, director of the Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department, said every year his department orders "post-emergent" weed killer with its fertilizer.

"The main thing to do is apply the herbicide before it flowers, because when it flowers, there's a new crop," Salas said. "I like to take care of it in

While his department tries to con_r trol the musk thistle on village lang, many of the areas where it flourishes are on private land, Salas said.

Toni K. Lauson/Ruidoso News

"It is a nuisance. People like how it flowers, but it can take over a field in a couple of years," he said.

The musk thistle is not native to the area, but has become a problem here in the past 15 years, he said. The weed's population seems to be about the same it has been for the past three years, according to Salas. The musk thistle as well as another invasive weed called the Dalmation toadflax are problems quickly becoming priorities of the forest service, Hawks said. However, to effectively control the plants' invasion will take a coordinated effort of the area's various land managers, he said.

"It is true that to be successful all the different authorities — the Forest Service, the village, the Mescalero Tribe and the highway department we all need to work together on this," Hawks said.

For owners of private property wanting to be rid of the thistle, Hawks recommends that those with only a few of the plants dig them up by the roots. "But if you have too/many to dig up, you can spray it with herbicide that can be purchased at the store,' he said, adding that the spraying should occur before the plant flowers.

The thistle cannot be controlled in

► The musk thistle

The Musk Thistle (Carduus nutans L.) is a biennial, or winter annual, and grows up to 7 feet tail. Rosette formed first year, flowering stem elongates second year.

- Leaves: Dark green ... long sharp spines.
- Stem: Hairless
- Flower: Solitary, terminal, nodding heads, 1.5-3 inches in diameter, deep rose to violet to purple in color.
- Seeds: Can be in excess of 20,000 per plant with 90 percent viability in first two years. Seeds may germinate after 10 years in soil. Reproduces by seeds only.

one year because each plant produces 20,000 seeds, Hawks said.

"And those seeds can lie in the ground dormant for 10 years before gernfinating," he said. "We may never get #id of it all."

eral taxpayers, who had property tax bills lower than $5, concerning the fact that they ended up paying more to mail their bill than the amount of tax they owed.

"I would rather just not bill them." Park said. "But the tax just can't be forgiven."

Park did find a statute that says that the county can make it so any property tax bill under $5, is automatically charged a minimum of $5 for administrative fees for billing. No administrative fee would be charged, however, if no tax was due. The administrative fee would go into the county general fund.

Pantomime and dancing workshop concludes summer series

BY SANDY SUGGITT RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Three weeks of arts classes in Lincoln wrapped up Friday the dance/theater workshop.

About 20 young people ranging in age from 7 to 14 learned the basics of pantomime and jazz dancing from Ruidoso High School (RHS)

divided the week-long workshop into dange with warmups in the morning and theater in the afternoon. Students were introduced to mat work, acrobatics and tumbling along with improvisational dancing.

Students learned to do the limbo, which gave them exercise and stressed coordination, and throughout the day games were interspersed that also taught grace, rhythm and coordination, and kept energy focused.

Some students were in all three weeks of the workshops, and weren't specifically interested in dance and drama, McIntosh said, but the workshop was beneficial anyway, because it teaches them to just be social."

"We have a lot of boys in the class, so it's hard to do a dance workshop (that lasts all day) unless you're a dancer," McIntosh said. "At this age, boys love to show off, so we have them getting out and doing their thing."

The afternoon drama workshop began with pantomime, McIntosh said, "Because that's the basis for everything." Students started miming charac-

Lead teacher McIntosh ters or situations individually, then went on to work in couples. Finally they opened it up to incorporate sound. The last step was to have students come up with their own characters and situations.

> We have ideas on cards, such as 'going fishing,' and they act it out," McIntosh said. "We're not having them memorize lines with just a week and such a wide range of ages."

> Students smiled and laughed and put all their energy into their dancing and dramatizing, and exuberant energy characterized their play.

> "We started out in the Pottery Studio," Maxson said, laughing, "and they ran us out because we made too much noise."

Hutchinson, who teaches educational programs with the New Mexico Jazz Workshop in Albuquerque and is also a tap-dancer with the Bill Evens Dance Company, was enlisted by McIntosh to teach the dance portion of the workshop in Lincoln.

The dance/drama workshop was a stretch for the instructors too, said McIntosh. "Sara's not a drama person and Mary's not a dance person, but we all did the workshop together, so this is great for all of us." McIntosh said.

The first week focused on arts and crafts, the second on music, and this last/week on dance and drama, but hands-on (and feet-on) were emphasized in all of them.

"We were able to touch the minds of 77 children," said Ray Barela, education curator for the Hubbard Museum of the American West that sponsored the summer program. The students came from Hondo, Carrizozo, Capitan, Lincoln.

An anonymous benefactor underwrote the cost of transportation, materials, stipends for the instructors. The Billy the Kid Casino donated money for the daily lunches and snacks, and Sierra Blanca Motors provided a van at a discounted price. The van picked up students from the surrounding areas. Barela said the museum will do something similar next year, adding more areas, scaling back on others, and incorporating other local artists that have contacted him since the program start 1.

EDUCATION BRIEFS

LCMC scholarship recipient selected

Brook Lewicki is this year's recipient of the Lincoln County/ Medical Center (LCMC) Board of Trustees Scholarship. She will be awarded the scholarship at the LCMC board meeting at 6 p.m. July 26.

Lewicki plans to attend the University of New Mexico and pursue a degree in medicine. The LCMC board has awarded a scholarship for students in health-related fields annually for more than 10 years. The scholarship is for $500 a year, and is renewable for four years, for a total value of $2,000.

Other recent LCMC scholarship recipients include University of New Mexico students Gerald Gomez and Yesenia Figeroa, and Myra Romero, who is a student at Colby College.

The hospital is managed by Presbyterian Healthcare Services. Carrizozo Health Centers offer dental services and primary care in Carrizozo and Corona, and are also managed by PHS. A local community board of trustees governs LCMC.

State teaching openings now listed on web site

Information about education careers in New Mexico is now just a mouse click away. The State Department of Education Special Education (SDE) Office has created a new web-site that will list New Mexico education job opportunities by school district and allow teachers and administrators across the nation to learn about these job openings.

The website was created to address the shortage of teachers in New Mexico. The site, www.newmexicoeducationjobs.com, will allow public schools in the state to advertise any teaching or administrative job on line. The service is provided free to local education agencies and institutions of higher education. Positions available within the SDE can also be posted.

The SDE Special Education Office created and will maintain the website. The office took the leadership role in the project because the greatest personnel shortage exists in special education. The project is paid for by federal funds provided by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). "This is an excellent tool to help address the teacher shortage we face in special education and elsewhere. It will also be a great service to both New Mex-ico school districts who seek qualified instructors and for teachers," said Robert Pasternack, Ph.D., SDE special education director.

The website also has links to other sites, including those developed by local school districts.

Funding through NMSU to benefit Indians

The Educational Foundation of America (EFA) recently donated $46,120 to the New Mexico State University (NMSU) W.K. Kellogg Bridges Program for American Indians in the Social Sciences and Humanities.

The donation was encouraged by the high graduation rates obtained when Native American students attend two-year tribal colleges before transferring to a major university. The aim of the NMSU Kellogg Bridges Program is to increase the number of American Indians graduating from four-year institutions. Students are now recruited at the community college. level rather than the high school level, after studies revealed that American Indian students are more likely to finish their heads level. their bachelor's degree if they attend a tribal college first.

Gins Klinekole, NMSU's Bridges project coordinator, said the high retention rates at tribal colleges occur because the community colleges promote "a sense of cul-tural beliefs including protection, nurturance, wholeness and growth - all of which enhance motivation."

The Bridges Program recruits graduates from the four Native American community colleges located in New Mexico: the Southwestern Indian Polytechnic Institute, the Crown-point Institute of Technology, the Institute of American Indian Arts and the Dine Community College at Shiprock.

The EFA grant will help the program fulfill a summer research and education pro-gram at NMSU for tribal college faculty members. The program also presents workshops at the tribal colleges, coordinates a three-day orientation for potential tribal college transfer students, assists with support services for transfer students and runs a summer research program that links NMSU faculty mentors with tribal college students.

Klinekole said 12 students are staying on campus this summer and assisting NMSU faculty with research.

The Bridges Program has been in place since 1997, with a $724,064 grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation.

For more information on the Bridges Program, contact Klinekole at 505-646-3610 or e-mail gklineko@nmsu.edu.

Strategic education plan to seek public comment

The State Department of Education (SDE) has unanimously adopted its "Strategic Plan for Education in New Mexico" as a working document, and plans to take public comment on the plan through July and August. The Board intends to adopt a finalized version of the plan during its regular meeting in Chama

Aug. 26-27. The plan, which reflects the education reform debate of the 1999 New Mexico legislative sessions and focuses on student success based on a thoughtful review of educational issues at both the national and state levels, is an important document, said John A. Darden, SBE vice president. "It's going to become the fabric of everything we do," said Dar-

Board member Catherine M. Smith said, "I wholeheartedly endorse this document." During discussion of the strategic plan, board members indicated that they expected the plan to undergo changes as members of the public review it over the next two months.

The plan identifies seven "strategic issues for education" in New Mexico: academic achievement: constructive engagement; earning public trust; equitable access and opportunity; quality teachers, principals and administrators; return on financial investment; and safe schools and respectful learning environments.

The seven strategic issues are accompanied by strategic goals, which will direct New Mexico public education policy and specify to local school districts the SBE's expectations of how education will progress in the 21st century.

The SBE has constitutional, authority to set policy for New Mexico schools and to implement the strategic plan to improve schools.

For more information, or to obtain a copy of the "Strategic Plan for Education in New Mexico," contact SDE Public Information Officer Tom Trowbridge, 505-476-0309, or the deputy superintendent for instruction, Dr. Susana M. Murphy, 505-827-3876.

PET CORNER

These pets are currently up for adoption at Lincoln County Humane Society • 257-9841

Adopters must meet eligibility criteria.

Dagwood, a black Labrador/pit bull mix is extremely friendly and between one to two years old. He's very alert and attractive with wonderful big ears.

Rooster the cat is about six months old. He's dressed in a black and white tuxedo. He's super friendly and ready to make someone a life-long companion.

HOURS

Monday - Saturday I p.m. - 5 p.m.

POOP SCOOP

BY SANDRA S. WENZEL FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

Summer in Ruidoso began with some beautiful weather, a village full of visitors enjoying themselves and escaping the heat.

Here at our local shelter, we received in June alone a total of 232 animals seeking a safe haven and a possibility of a secure home.

What an astounding figure, a record for this animal shelter! We keep records so that we may analyze our impounds and try to figure out what is going on in the community. For instance, in June we received 123 dogs and 109 cats. Twenty-six dogs and puppies were adopted and 20 cats and kittens were also adopted. We returned 25 lost dogs to their owners and one cat went home.

In simple math, that would leave 160 animals in the building on July 1. And though we did not have 160 animals, we were at capacity, which is 55 dogs and 31 cats waiting for adoption. As for the last heart breaking number, 74, which would represent those animals that were euthanized.

I find these numbers interesting and alarming. We have given out thousands of dollars to the residents of Lincoln County to help defer the cost of spay and neuter. We have education materials in our schools through out the year. Our local veterinarians are superb advocates of spaying and neutering, taking the time to explain to their customers all the benefits of the one time, low cost surgery.

So, why in one month are there 232 stray or unwanted animals?

The answer might be in that our particular community is a resort that invites transient residents, many of whom bring animals in and often leave without them. Whatever the reason, I hate to think of it as job security when it is heartless and blatantly irresponsible over-breeding of companion animals for no decent reason.

So, thinking about these numbers and combining them with all the numbers in this country I only have one thing left to say. Please spay and neuter now!

Diverse troupe performs for 20th gala at Ford's Theatre

By Jacqueline Cutter OTVData Features Syndicate

At one point, the government wanted to make Ford's Theatre, site of President Abraham Lincoln's assassination, a museum. But Frankie Hewitt, a onetime speechwriter, lobbyist and consummate Washington insider, wouldn't hear of it. "It seemed like building a monument to (assassin) John Wilkes Booth," she says.

"What was Lincoln doing there in the first place?" Hewitt asks. "He went to the theater more than 40 times during his administration. And so I got into a whole thing with the government."

She went to work on the powers that be, and two years after she started, the refurbished building reopened ... as a theater. Now producing artistic director of the facility, Hewitt is co-executive producer of An American Celebration at Ford's Theatre. The annual television gala filmed at the historic site celebrates its 20th anniversary Thursday, July 29, on ABC.

This year's theme is American nuisic. The show opens with Tony Award winning actor Nathan Lane singing "There's No Business Like Show Business." True to form, Lane gets in a few jokes, including a reference to 1861, "when Bob Dole was just a tyke."

Charlotte Church, the 13-year old Welsh sensation, sings "Amazing Grace" in her pure soprano, sounding a lot like a young Joan Baez, and Canadian jazz singer Diana Krall also performs.

Queen Esther Marrow

Hewitt says although Church and Krall are from other countries, they perform quintessentially American music. Country star Alan Jackson, very much an American, also does a number.

But the show really bursts into life with gospel great Queen Esther Marrow's performance. Singing a medley with her group, the Harlem Gospel Singers, she moves the audience of 700 dignitaries.

Marrow has performed at Ford's Theatre several times before in plays and in past years' galas. She says standing on that stage "s something you lead about in history books at school, and to be a part of a piece of that history makes me feel really quite good."

From her home in Amityville on New York's Long Island, Marrow says she has fought to keep her traditional music alive.

"Although we have grown since the time of slavery, through all the turmoil and pain and suffering and being slaves ... we have always managed to have that strength to keep our heads above the water and survive," she explains, "and the pieces show a great deal of that."

The youngest performer at the gala is Cartier Anthony Williams, 9, who tap dances to "Yankee Doodle Dandy." A protege of tap star Savion Glover, Williams dances like his mentor, hitting the floor hard with flat, clean steps.

The most riveting part of the show comes from actress-choreographer Debbie Allen. Dressed in a simple black dress and carrying a stick, she transforms herself into abolitionist Harriet Tubman and gives a chilling monologue.

Opera diva Kathleen Battle closes the show with a stunning rendition of "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

President and Mrs. Clinton both offer brief comments in the course of the evening. During many of the performances, the camera lingers on the president, who truly appears to be enjoying the event.

"We always think about President Lancoln when we are here." Clinton tells the assembled theatergoers. "When they took his body home to Springfield, the bands along the way were all playing 'Battle Hymn of the Republic."

BLINK...blink

You probably never really thought about it, but most of us blink about once every six seconds. When nature demands anything that often, you might guess that it is pretty important--and it is, especially if you are wearing contact lens-

Blinking protects our eyes from the entrance of foreign particles, removes accumulated matter, and pumps tears to replace those which evaporate or have become contaminated. The eyelid acts as a wiper, polishing and wetting the sur-

Although blinking may be controlled, it is usually involuntary and occurs in two forms: the spontaneous kind which follows a regular periodic pattern, and the reflex blink which is in response to some stimulation such as dirt in your eye or drying of the surface.

It might seem that there is nothing to worry about. But, that is not always the case, especially when contact lenses are new. Because we feel the lenses when the lid moves over them, we tend to inhibit the natural urge to blink. Furthermore, soft lenses protect the eye so well that wearers do not even realize that the lens surface is drying out since they eye itself is still moist.

Good blinking habits can also ease computer eye strain. The blink rate during computer use drops by as much as 70% below the normal rate. Good blinking involves closing the eye, not just squinting. It is important to blink properly when reading, driving or performing any visually demanding task.

For all you eyecare needs, including a thorough eye health examination vision analysis, glasses and contact lenses, stop by Family Vision Center, 159 Mescalero Trail.

v from White Australia's Forgotten War in 1788 and 1938, approximately 2,000 settlers and at least 20,000 s died in armed struggle for the land of Australia. Frontier: rom White Australia's Forgotten War tells the gripping story cople who fought the war and the passionate debate that banied it.

38, as white Australia celebrated its sesquicentennial, aboriginal illed for a day of mourning and issued an open letter to white

Aust: "You are the new Australians but we are the old Australians ... Which is a work only for justice, decency and fair play. Is this too much to ask?" Today they are making the same plea — but now the struggle has moved to the low courts and the Australian conscience.

As aborigines continue to fight for their land rights, the history of he was settlement of Australia is being reexamined.

With the most settlers wanted to eliminate the aborigines, evangelical Christ has proclaimed that white and aborigine were equals before God and so ght a "civilized" resolution to the conflict. As that possibility the proponents of white racial purity became increasingly extreme in the proposals: eugenics, breeding programs, exile, and more. Yet aborical Australia has refused to disappear.

Frantier: Stories from White Australia's Forgotten War will be broad. It Sunday, July 25th at 10:30 a.m.

"The Double Life of Ernesto Gomez"

He is born in the United States, a Puerto Rican baby boy named Guillermo Mora But his "double life" began at 13 months, when his parents sent him away be raised in secret, under another name. So for years he grew up in Mexican parents told him the Gomez Gomez family. When he turned 10, his Mexican parents told him the truth about himself, about his birth parents, and why they sent him away. He was born the son of Puerto Rican revolutionaries has father, hunted by U.S. authorities, had escaped to exile in Cuba. His mother sentenced to a U.S. prison for 55 years, had him raised in Mexico for his own safety.

Years later, the stunning revelation of his double identity sends Ernesto Gome. Gomez, at age 15, on a complex and uneasy journey to pick up the threads of his life as Guillermo Morales, son of the imprisoned Dylcia Pagan and the fugitive Guillermo, Sr.

The story of this remarkable voyage of self-discovery is told in a stunning new film, "The Double Lifie of Ernesto Gomez Gomez," on P.O.V. It confronts the costs of profound political idealism on one family, along with issues of adoption, immigration, colonialism, and love merged into a single mesmerizing teen odvssey.

"The Double Life of Ernesto Gomez Gomez" on P.O.V. will be broadcast Tuesco of July 27th at 10:00 p.m.

Nightline: Brave New World looks at direction of mankind

By Josh Greene OTVData Features Syndicate

Anchor Ted Koppel and reporter Robert Krulwich take a thought-provoking eight-week journey into the world of science and human spirit in Nightline in Primetime: Brave New World, starting Thursday, July 29, on ABC.

From the ability to spawn creative thinking machines to cloning a human, the eight-part series sheds light on what could be the future of mankind and a vision of where life on Earth is headed.

The opening installment examines the accelerated pace of today's society. Machines help humans speed up their everyday lives, but the validity of the technology is questioned.

Another episode deals with man's relationship to machines and the growth in artificial additions to human bodies. Between artificial joints, organs and even the common contact lens, artificiality is becoming natural.

Here's a scary thought. Some machines are even beginning to "think" on their own.

For example, director Tim Burton wanted to put 1,500 missile-toting penguins in his film Batman Returns. He approached animators to create the evil fowl. The animators, in effect, let their computers do their work for them by allowing the machine to devise an army of menacing penguins marching toward Gotham City.

Reporter Robert Krulwich Investigates the effects of the changing world on the human spirit in the eight-part series Nightline in Primetime: Brave New World, starting Thursday on ABC.

Sure, they fed the computer a set number of possible motions for the birds, but the machine itself came up with the individual combinations of movements for each and every one of those 1,500 penguins.

In another experiment, a drummer puts his skills on the line against a cybernetic rival. Granted, the mechanized musician doesn't play as fast or with as much rhythm as his human counterpart, but the relevant point is that it has the capacity to play as well – if not better. It just needs time.

Future segments tackle such topics as the power of human cells, the building blocks of the universe, what extraterrestrial life could tell humans and what makes a family.

TV PIPELINE

By Taylor Michaels oTVData Features Syndicate

Q: Has the actress who plays Judge Hiller on The Practice ever played one of the apes in a Planet of the Apes movie? -Jeremy Elrod, Oakwood, Ga.

A: After winning an Oscar for her stunning performance in The Year of Living Dangerously, actress Linda Hunt unaccountably never felt compelled to don an ape suit. Go figure.

Q: My wife and I were flipping channels the other night and came across a sitcom on TV Land that featured an actress we thought was Sandra Bullock playing a character named Tess. Do you have any idea what we saw? -Dave Parsons, Mount Vernon, Ohio.

A: Sure. Bullock played the Melanie Griffith role of Tess McGill when the 1988 movie hit Working Girl had a brief and extremely unsuccessful run as a series on NBC in the spring of 1990. The show also featured Nana Visitor of Star Trek: Deep Space Nine and George Newbern from the Father of the Bride movies.

Q: The recent passing of DeForest Kelley from Star Trek reminded me that the show's creator, Gene Roddenberry, also had died. But I recently heard that Mark Lenard, who played Spock's father, also had died. When and how? Is Jane Wyatt, Spock's mother, still alive? -Eric W. via e-mail.

A: Lenard was 72 when he died of multiple myeloma in November of 1996. As of this writing, Wyatt, who warns 87 on Aug. 12, is still with us.

Q: Can you clarify how the various Carradines are related? John is the famous father, I think, and his son David was in Kung Fu, but how are Keith and Robert related to them, if they are related? -A.M. via e-mail.

A: John is the father of David, Keith and Robert; Keith and Robert are brothers, while David is their half brother.

Q: I've been watching repeats of The Lone Ranger. I recall Clayton Moore in the title role, but lately I've seen episodes with John Hart as the masked man. What's that about? -Pamela via e-mail.

A: Moore, the most famous Ranger, played the part on TV from 1949-52. Hart played the role from 1952-54. Moore reclaimed the mask at that point and wore it until 1957, when ABC canceled the show.

Q: Can you give me info on the series of '70s TV movies based on Harry Kemelman's Rabbi mystery novels? –James Robertson, Colorado Springs, Colo.

A: Lanigan's Rabbi, the 1977 NBC series adaptation of such novels as Friday the Rabbi Slept Late, featured Art Carney as police chief Paul Lanigan and Bruce Solomon as his informal colleague, Rabbi David Small.

TRIVIA

Jack Nicholson, Dustin Hoffman and Warren Beatty were all offered the role of Michael Corleone in The Godfather but turned it down.

TRIVIA

In Goodfellas, Martin Scorsese requested that actor Joe Pesci write and direct the famous "You think I'm funny!" scene.

IN FOCUS

Timothy Dalton stars in Passion's Way, airing Sunday, July 25, on CBS, Dalton plays diplomat George Darrow, who, after many years of platonic friendship with the lovely Anna Leath (Sela Ward), realizes his true - and powerful - feelings for her.

The couple's journey to happiness is not an easy one. It's the early 1900s, and society frowns upon certain relationships.

Alicia Witt (Cybill) also stars in this adaptation of Edith Wharton's novel The Reef.

IN FOCUS

Best known for her Emmy-winning role as Mary Beth Lacey in the popular and critically acclaimed series Cagney & Lacey, Tyne Daly is the focus of Intimate Portrait Sunday, July 25, on Lifetime.

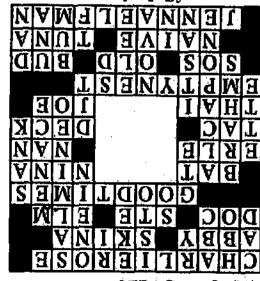

Narrated by her brother, actor Tim Daly (Wings, Storm of the Century), the episode looks at her life and career, beginning with her childhood in a showbiz household as the daughter of actor James Daly.

Interviewees include Cagney & Lacey co-star Sharon Gless.

TRIVIA

Craig Kilborn (The Late Late Show) came up with his idea for Five Questions after using it as a way to meet women.

"School Prayer: A Community at War"

Just how deeply the issue of organized prayer in public schools still divides America - some 36 years after the Supreme Court ostensibly outlawed school-sanctioned prayers - was discovered recently by one mother in a rural Mississippi county. When Lisa Herdahl's husband found work in Pontotoc County in the early '90s, she and their six kids followed him there only to be shocked that there were religious devotionals every morning at the local high school via the intercom. A Christian churchbred woman herself, Herdahl protested to the school board, who shrugged it off, citing Pontotoc's long tradition of prayer in the schools.

P.O.V.'s "School Prayer: A Community at War" documents how Herdahl, who took the school board to court, set off a protracted personal and moral battle that pitted her family against the overwhelming majority of Pontotoc.

Herdahl believes that the First Amendment protects her children from nonvoluntary participation in the prayers of others. Her opponents believe the First Amendment protects them from government interference in the practice of their faith. In the end, both sides pay a heavy price for defending their respective beliefs.

Ultimately, Herdahl wins her suit against the Pontotoc school board. But the conflict it engenders among neighbors remains.

The town, meanwhile, is bound by the state to pay Herdahl's substantial legal costs of $144,000 - an enormous sum for this county of only 24,000 residents. That they must raise money in their churches to pay for the legal actions that banned prayer in their schools is an especially bitter pill for the citizens of Pontotoc.

P.O.V.'s "School Prayer: A Community at War" can be seen Tuesday, July 20th at 10:00 p.m.

The Life of Birds by David Attenborough

At one time, birds ruled the land and skies with their size and speed. Today, birds continue to inhabit every single continent on Earth. These majestic creatures have captured the human imagination since the dawn of time with their ability to break the bonds of terrestrial life. Renowned British natural history filmmaker Sir David Attenborough hosts The Life of Birds by David Attenborough, a 10-part series about these conquerors of the air. Nearly three years in the making, the series takes a close-up look at how birds have evolved from prehistoric times and at the current battle many species face against extinction.

In July, Attenborough uses state-of-the-art computer animation to take viewers back through time to show how birds evolved from the dinosaurs and took to the air.

The Life of Birds by David Attenborough will air Tuesdays at 8:00 p.m. beginning July 20th. The series repeats Saturdays at 10:00 p.m.

Daytime alumna to replace Beach regular

SOAP TALK

By Candace Havens CTVData Features Syndicate

Many daytime TV actors have a certain amount of time off guaranteed by their contracts so they can work on other projects. But replacing an actor who is in the middle of a hot story line creates big headaches for the show's writers and execs.

Sunset Beach recently had the difficult task of finding someone to temporarily fill in for Susan Ward (Meg Cummings), who is leaving in August to film the feature In Crowd. The Sunset Beach execs count themselves extremely lucky that popular daytime actress Sydney Penny (ex-Julia, All My Children) has offered to play Meg. Penny and Ward have similar looks, which should make the adjustment easier for viewers.

Cast changes also are under way at General Hospital, which recently replaced the ultrapopular Tyler Christopher, who played Nikolas Cassadine.

There is a rumor that GH might try recast the role of Lucky Spence played until recently by Emmy Award winner Jonathan Jackson.

Both Christopher and Jackson have gone off to pursue their careers on the big screen.

It's tricky business trying to find someone viewers will accept. The soap opera has to decide whether to bring in an unknown who looks similar or a popular actor from another soap. Whatever happens, it will be tough for GH to find someone with the talent, looks and chemistry of either Jackson or Christopher.

Dear Candace On One Life to Live. Jessica (Erin Torpey) ran out in front of Dorian's (Robin Strasser) car. Dorian should just tell everybody what happened.

I don't see why everyone thinks Max and Blair (James DePaiva, Kassie De-Paiva) are so great together. They don't have any spark. I believe Maggie (Crystal Chappell) was the woman for Max: -Sylvia Mollicone, Livermore,

Dear Reader: Chappell is busy working, and she won't be back on OLTL any time soon.
