Ruidoso council passes sweeping water ordinance changes

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Sweeping changes were made to Ruidoso's water conservation ordinance, including elimination of village regulation of residential wells.

The changes, which could take effect as soon as May 3, were approved following a public hearing at Tuesday's village council meeting.

The revised ordinance also amends the present code's restriction of watering of flower gardens with only a bucket during serious or extreme water conservation conditions to allow the use of a hand-held hose. It also establishes three phases of the water conservation plan, instead of the current four-phase water contingency plan. Outdoor watering for municipal water customers would move to an odd/even address requirement, and could be further restricted or prohibited when drought conditions exist.

The restrictions in the current water conservation ordinance have been imposed on both customers of the village's water system and on users of domestic wells within the village that were installed after July 1, 1996.

"It's still my opinion that the state is using us as scapegoats to do their work," Councilor Bill Chance said of the village's control over domestic wells, which are permitted by the state engineer. "I think we're better served by letting the state do their work and let's do ours and take this part of the ordinance out of the ordinance."

Council members Leon Eggleston and Ron Anderson agreed with Chance.

"I think the village's water storage will always be the problem when it comes to deliver it," Anderson said. "If there's water to be had that's underground a domestic well just takes it off our backs."

Several residents, who spoke at the hearing, agreed that the village should not be imposing restrictions on private wells.

Mayor Robert Donaldson said he didn't believe domestic wells in Ruidoso had much impact on the village's water collection sources.

Ruidoso has been the only municipality in New Mexico to place restrictions on domestic wells within a municipality's boundary, village officials said.

"If it is the decision of the council to go this direction, I do believe, to make it easier for us to enforce our ordinance, that domestic well users should be required to put a sign up in their front yard, a small sign, that just says well, or domestic well, so that our code enforcement people know," Donaldson said. "Obviously it will be the green grass versus the yellow grass."

The council agreed that the ordinance change allowing private well watering at any time will require the sign, which will be distributed by the village.

The new three phases of the water conservation code will be titled moderate, drought and severe drought, phases one, two and three respectively. Each phase will have a set of mandated conservation measures for residents.

Triggers for the present four phase conservation plan involve water production and stor-

Sheriff defends use of deputies

Commissioner questions why deputies don't investigate

BY DIANNE STALLINGS

When a vehicle rolled over on Gavilan Canyon Road Tuesday, deputies from the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office responded and handled traffic control.

But it was a state police officer who was dispatched from Alamogordo to fill out the report and conduct the investigation. The officer, who is stationed in Ruidoso, was in Alamogordo for court that morning, but drove back to the traffic accident, according to the agency's dispatcher.

County Commissioner Leo Martinez says that arrangement is not an efficient use of manpower and questioned why deputies don't fill out the reports and do the investigations.

The question was posed during the commission meeting Thursday when Capt. John Balderston, who supervises two state police districts, including the one that covers Lincoln County, explained the role of his officers.

"In accidents, the sheriff's deputies may arrive, but they call you," Martinez said.

"I don't have any records with me, but we will do accidents when called," Balderston said.

Sheriff Tom Sullivan, who mentioned that he had been a state trooper in Texas, said state police usually are called for accidents, "but we can work them, if no one is available. We don't dispatch the state police. They dispatch their own officers after we call them."

Martinez told Balderston, "I need to know when we can count on you so we're not charging the taxpayers three times for law enforcement. Your officers basically are looked at as ticket writers and I think that's unfair."

Local law enforcement agencies should be using the state police more when specialized training and sophisticated equipment is needed, but should not be tying up officers for accidents that deputies could handle, he said.

Balderston said the decision for the sheriff's office to be the lead agency receiving emergency calls was deliberate, although the state can act as backup if the county's system fails. His officers handle fatal accidents, because they

Commission moves closer to jail financing

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

The Lincoln County Commission Thursday moved two more steps along a three-year trek toward construction of a new 100-bed jail in Carrizozo.

Commissioners approved a resolution outlining the broad terms of a loan from the New Mexico Finance Authority, including that it will not exceed $3,968,458. They also authorized a hearing next month on an ordinance that will allow the board to accept the money.

County Manager Tom Stewart said money already is rolling in from a one-eighth of a cent gross receipts tax pledge instituted Jan. 1, for repayment of the loan. By the time the agreement is final in May, the county may have enough set aside to either reduce the amount to be borrowed or to pay some up front bills, he said. A third option would be to pay a portion of a reserve equal to one-year's debt payment that is required by the state, he said.

The tax will generate about $374,000. The annual payment is $281,722, according to county documents.

The excess left after debt payments for the first two years automatically will be set aside to complete the reserve requirement, said the director of financial analysis for the state finance authority.

Commissioners could borrow that reserve amount up front as part of the loan or could secure a

Officials suspect arson in recent fires

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

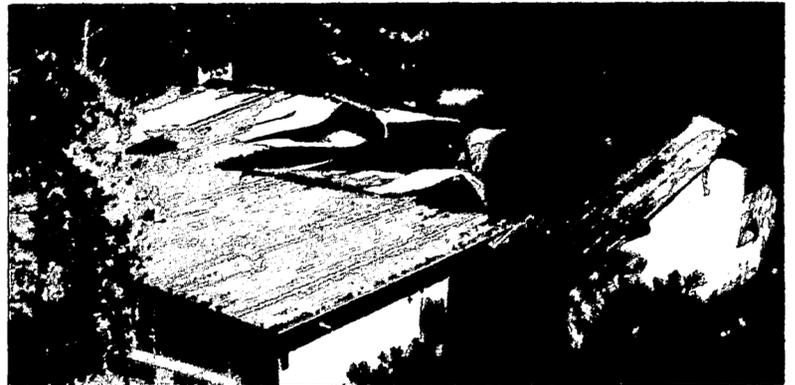

Arson investigators are working to determine the cause of two simultaneous home fires early Friday morning on Walton Circle in Ruidoso.

The fires followed an April 9 blaze, in the same neighborhood, deemed suspicious by fire officials.

The latest fires destroyed two structures, a seasonal home that was unoccupied at the time of the fire, and a guest house. The homes are about 60 feet apart.

"It is definitely suspicious when both houses go up at the same time," said Doug Babcock, a detective with the Ruidoso Police Department. "The next house down (the street) burned down two weeks ago. It's a little more than natural causes when three places go down on the same block."

The April 21 fire was detected about 1:33 a.m., following a report of the smell of smoke just off Sudderth Drive in the area of the Radio Shack store, according to police records. A

Mescalero puts on walking shoes to prevent child abuse

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Students filled their water bottles Tuesday and lined up for T-shirts with insignias calling for prevention of child abuse.

More than 200 Mescalero children from schools on the reservation and in Ruidoso milled about the parking lot at Apache Summit waiting for the signal to begin an eight-mile walk west to the Mescalero Post Office.

Accompanied by teachers, counselors and supporters, the students were calling attention to the prevention of cruelty to children in a walk-a-thon sponsored by the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Mescalero Apache schools.

"We just wanted to get the community aware, not just here, but other communities as well," said Lola Ahidley, a counselor at the Mescalero Middle School.

Social services director Mary Kihoga and high school principal Lynette Kanseah organized the event and joined the group walking down the southbound side of U.S. Highway 70.

A reception and speeches were scheduled for the end of the walk.

Students clean up river

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Eighth grade students from Ruidoso Middle School scoured the Rio Ruidoso Tuesday morning, as part of the sixth annual River Cleanup.

Equipped with gloves and trash collection bags, an estimated 120 students walked the river, collecting trash along and in the waterway.

"Each one got two bags, and some have already filled a bag," said Becky Austin, a science teacher at the middle school.

The Optimist Club of Ruidoso and the Ruidoso

River Association sponsors the annual event, held near Earth Day.

"It's been going real good," said Jackie Branum, of the Optimist Club.

Included in the trash was a crank shaft.

"When the bags got full, they're put up by the road," Branum said. "The village pick-up was right away."

Branum said the extremely low level of the river allowed students to collect things from the bottom of the river.

Among the trash, eighth graders said they had collected tires, a wagon, small batteries and even a syringe.

age levels. The new triggers are labeled "environmental conditions," which take into account winter snowpack and expected river flows.

The new phase one would allow system customers to water outdoors according to their street address, with odd numbered addresses able to water on odd days of the month. Even numbered addresses would correspond to even days of the month. Phase two, called drought conditions, would limit outdoor watering to Tuesdays only. Phase three, dubbed severe drought, prohibits all outdoor watering except for hand-held hose watering. Watering is prohibited between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. in any of the three phases.

The hand-held hose watering amendment to the conservation ordinance followed testimony from Myrtle Arrington, a resident who has been critical of the watering restrictions at previous council meetings.

"Why do we have to carry water from inside?" she asked the mayor. "Why not use the hose outside (by the flowers) and fill the bucket there? What's the difference?"

Donaldson responded that

Arrington raised a good point.

The hose watering of flower gardens, potted plants and tree wells would require the resident to be "physically present and in control of the watering device," according to the amended ordinance. The hand-held hose watering of the three plant descriptions would be disallowed between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. whenever the village was in phases two or three.

"Hand watering means physically standing there with the hose, not laying it down," Eggleston said. "If you lay it down, you're not hand watering."

While environmental conditions are established as guidelines for movement between the three phases of the water conservation plan, village officials will make the decision as to when the restrictive phases go into effect.

"That will be Richard's (Richard Sanchez, the village's water department director) job to do that," Donaldson said.

The approved ordinance changes are expected to be published in legal advertisements on Friday, meaning they could take effect five days later, said Alan Briley, the village's manager.

POLICE: The question of more deputies comes in light of budget sessions

have more specialized training in that field, he said.

Balderston prefaced his remarks with the agency chief's policy that officers are not to engage in any controversy or undermine any law enforcement group's efforts to obtain additional manpower. Balderston added his officers are there to assist the sheriff's office and police departments, but are trained to handle all types of crimes, not just traffic.

The state police number 500 statewide, he said. After two years in a patrol car and uniform, officers can branch into specialties such as the dive team, search and rescue, drug undercover and violent crime investigation.

Tony Seno, former head of the county Libertarian Party, asked if any of the special teams have been called to Lincoln County.

"In my eight years, I've never received a request for a special team," he said.

"Has the special crime unit ever been requested?" Seno pressed.

"Not to my knowledge," Balderston responded.

Martinez explained that he began questioning the need for more deputies because of budget sessions starting this month. He ticked off a list of crimes, asking each time if state police officers would respond. Balderston replied that they would.

The captain said he has four officers on each shift in the district that covers Otero and Lincoln counties, but more are scheduled in special situations.

"We do have an added police force we've overlooked when we think of 24-hour service," Martinez told other commissioners.

Kathleen Phillips, a Capitan resident, said it seems the state police are as understaffed as the sheriff's office.

The county needs all of its police departments, the sheriff's deputies and the state police to protect the public, she said.

"I don't know where you're going, Leo, but I don't think we need fewer deputies," Phillips said.

Balderston said officers aren't in competition "because there are so few of us. We have to work as a team."

Martinez replied, "I don't mind more deputies either, if they will respond to every thing."

Sullivan said the first officer on an accident scene handles traffic control.

Commission Chairman Rex Wilson pointed out that Balderston emphasized cooperation.

"I don't think it's my position to tell the sheriff how to respond," he said.

Oscura resident Jerry Carroll said he monitors law enforcement radio channels "and hear cooperation all the time."

Village, schools consider joint outdoor recreation plaza

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A possible joint powers agreement between Ruidoso and the Ruidoso Municipal School District could produce a playground, plaza and expanded recreation area adjacent to the White Mountain schools complex.

The idea was presented at a recent meeting of the Village/Ruidoso Municipal Schools Joint Powers Committee.

"It's what we had originally proposed for a recreation center," Robert Donaldson, the village's mayor, told the committee.

The envisioned center would include a playground, tennis courts, jogging paths, plaza area, picnic tables, bathrooms and parking.

The school district would have to approve an agreement, allowing the village to construct the outdoor center on district property.

Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Director Rafael (Rifle) Salas, reviewing a plat of the area south of the schools complex with the school's superintendent and two school board members, said the outdoor plaza would encompass just over 37,000 square feet.

The Parks and Recreation Department presently has $200,000 in its budget for capital improvements, said Alan Briley, Ruidoso village manager.

The money is earmarked for new tennis courts and other projects, largely at the neighboring White Mountain

Sports Fields.

"It would be a real enhancement," said Mike Gladden, Ruidoso Municipal Schools superintendent. "We would use it."

"The whole recreation plaza idea, whether we ever have an indoor pool up here or not, is (because) we have plenty of kids up here," Donaldson said.

The school property being considered for the plaza is just north of the village land that had been seen as a site for a community recreation center, with an indoor pool.

Voters earlier this year turned down a $6-million bond issue to finance the community center.

Circle and Pearl Avenue., just off of Paradise Canyon Road, according to a police arson investigation report. The home discovered engulfed in flames was at 217 Walton Circle. The neighboring guest house, at 215 Walton Circle, was also found burning.

According to preliminary information, the fire at the main house is believed to have started in the back of the structure. The guest house fire is thought to have begun in a water heater closet, Babcock said.

When firefighters attempted to enter the guest house, they discovered chairs had been placed in an arrangement to block entry. Bedding material was also found against a window.

An investigator with the New Mexico State Fire Marshal's Office was on the scene of the fires Tuesday. Char samples were removed from the homes, which will be analyzed by a crime lab, said Gilbert Archuleta, a state fire investigator.

He said the lab results might shed light on the possible use of flammable materials in the fires as well as other information pertaining to the incident. A report from the fire marshal's office is expected in several weeks, Archuleta said.

A special investigative unit, through the property owner's insurance company, was expected to join the investigation as well, Babcock said.

While a dollar damage estimate from the fires was not available, Ruidoso fire officials deemed both homes a total loss. A fire report has not been assembled, with the case under investigation as arson.

The April 9 fire destroyed a home on property adjacent to the recent fires. The loss from the blaze at the seasonal dwelling, at 268 Pearl Avenue., was estimated at under $75,000.

That fire was discovered shortly after 5 a.m.

Police declined to say if they have any suspects in the purported arson.

bond guaranteeing payment, but either of those options could cause delays and revamping of paperwork, the official said.

Commission Chairman Rex Wilson said he was thinking about using the money to help with jail operational expenses. That would free up money in the general fund budget now diverted to the jail, he said.

Once the debt service requirement and reserve is satisfied, the excess money each year will be returned to the commission, the state official said. The amount collected could exceed expectations and the reserve could be paid off faster, she said.

"Legally, can we use the money for general fund obligations?" asked Commissioner Leo Martinez.

Morel said when the gross receipts tax was approved last year, commissioners only specified that it first is pledged to repay the jail debt service and reserve. The rest could be used for any purpose.

The county will pay three percent interest on $200,000 in initial cash and 5.741 percent overall on the loan. The closing is set for June 27 and the first interest payment is due Nov. 1, with pay-off in 30 years.

Any money the county spends from its general fund before the loan is approved will be reimbursed from the bond issue sold to generate the loan money, Morel said.

The state also requires that an amount equal to 25 percent of the first one-eighth of a cent tax allocation to the county be held back by the state for one year. The money is reimbursed if everything is in order after that time, Morel said.

Bid requests for jail construction will be released April 20. The deadline to submit a bid is May 16 and ground breaking is planned for May 30.

Three proposals were received last week to operate the existing jail in the county courthouse over the next year, two from firms and one from an individual.

They will be reviewed with commissioners at their May meeting after being scored by a committee composed of Stewart, Sheriff Tom Sullivan, Commissioner William Schwetmann, Treasurer Joan Park and purchasing officer Jane Williams.

OUR OPINION

foot-dragging

Institutional memory is a fancy-sounding concept that simply means somebody is on the scene who remembers what happened involving that institution in the past. It's most valuable for businesses, trade associations, civic groups, local governments... It is invaluable when records are lost, or people don't bother to read the dusty old, too-often sketchy, minutes of long-ago meetings.

Government, it seems to us, above all needs institutional memory, because commitments made in the past don't disappear when new office-holders move in, when new employees take over, when human failings inevitably crop up.

Such apparently has been the case all too long with county funding for the Hondo Valley Health Clinic. The voters in 1992 authorized county funding for a Hondo clinic as well as those in Carrizozo and Corona. County managers changed, county commissioners changed, time passed... The Hondo school district - literally the only government entity in the Hondo Valley - was in turmoil until new Superintendent Barbara Casey took charge.

A former legislator and community activist, Casey recognized the need for that clinic, and was pleased when the county passed along a small metal building and $20,000 to renovate it in 1998. She didn't know, and nobody in county government reminded her, about the 1992 mill levy for operations. She got busy anyway and came up with almost $160,000 in grants and money from other sources to finish renovation, get equipment, and prepare a parking area.

Last week, county commissioners after much agonizing finally acted and authorized a $180,000 government-to-government transfer from county to school district, subject to approval by the state Department of Finance and Administration.

And now Casey can move on, seek proposals for operation, look for additional funding. But she and many others in the Hondo Valley will ponder a long time about what happened to the institutional memory in county government. Institutional Alzheimer's?

YOUR OPINION

'Do like I say'

To the editor:
If the administration of the Village wants its residents to comply with its water restrictions and conserve water, they must set some better examples. Besides their recent circumvention of ordinances that they enacted (as you pointed out in a recent editorial) they continue to set other bad examples.

Specifically, I live near a new little league ball field on White Mountain Drive and have observed watering of the field with sprinklers on days and times of day when we are not allowed that privilege at home.

Recently, on Wednesday and Thursday of last week, they have been watering some newly installed sod from the back of a truck that has a large water tank on it. The ball field is a wonderful facility for the youngsters and I understand that new sod needs water. I question the wisdom of installing new sod during drought conditions.

There appears to be an attitude of arrogance with this behavior. They are saying "do as I say, not as I do." Residents will soon be, if not already, fed up with this administration's attitude that (it is) above the law. Additionally, there are some of us that believe, unlike our mayor, that our water crisis goes beyond the current drought and that year-round water-hog facilities like indoor pools and hundreds of motel rooms may not be in our best interest at this time.

Considering the millions allowed, this additional a giveaway is another part of the package developed by our Mayor.

No one on the village manager's staff, the council, or the Ruidoso News came forward to correct the manager's statement before being published.

This letter would not be necessary if those responsible for creating and publishing news concerning our village operation would do their job in the proper manner.

The hotel final lease is available to everyone interested in seeing that it took a lot of hard work to get the job done. Facts are facts and should be accurately reported.

Rushing the third hotel lease to completion to be approved to include all pending amendments does not serve well to promote confidence in the taxpayers. Apparently we have learned nothing from the questionable golf course lease.

Extended family

To the editor:
We adopted him at 2 years old. He was large for his age, yet he immediately wanted to crawl into our laps. He loved company, warming to them, and they to him. He rarely got into trouble, always trying to please.

Those big brown eyes could melt the toughest of hearts. He was wary of competition, making sure he was always closest in proximity to us. He would follow us around the house. As soon as you sat down, his head would be in your lap, nose nudging for more attention. He saw me to the door when I left for work and was awaiting my return at the end of the day. He loved the sun, following its warmth and falling into a deep snoring sleep. His only fault was never learning to fetch.

He was family. He left a void when he left our world this Friday. We believe anti-freeze

A hotel lease SNAFU

To the editor:

The 4-7-00 Ruidoso News quoted the Village Manager, Mr. Alan Briley, "The Company (hotel) would also forward to the Village 2 percent of its profit once a break-even of $2.6 million is reached." This statement is not true.

The original break-even point of $2.4 million (was) increased to $2.6 million, with the final lease of $2.9 million breakeven. Each increase is a free ride for the new hotel.

More important, the breakeven was based on gross, not net, income.

The final lease amendment was included to assure that the hotel would pay nothing on gross sales. It read, "If the hotel increased gross sales income due to expansion: 1. The base amount - $2.9 million and any additional base amounts created by the exercise of the option

GUEST COMMENTARY

Defense attorney responds to DA Scot Key

BY J. ROBERT BEAUVAIS
ATTORNEY AT LAW

As a criminal defense attorney representing individuals who are or will be suing Lincoln County police officers, I read the Guest Commentary by District attorney Scot Key, which appeared in the April 12, 2000, issue of the Ruidoso News with considerable interest.

Key's premise is that criminal defense attorneys try their cases in the press before the cases go to trial to influence, if not poison, the jury pool.

I am sure Mr. Key remembers the photograph of the Ruidoso Police Officer referred to in his article being led in handcuffs into magistrate court for his first appearance. I will guarantee that individual did not arrange for that photograph to be taken.

That case is on appeal and I have a great deal of confidence the Appellate Court will find the local police violated that officer's constitutional rights in multiple respects.

I also represent a former criminal defendant the Lincoln County Narcotics Squad charged with a second-degree felony. The judge threw out the charge before it got to the jury, finding the State had no case. The civil wrongful imprisonment and malicious prosecution case was recently filed in the Federal Courts.

Lastly, I represent two individuals who were the recipients of alleged improper police conduct by a Ruidoso Downs police officer.

One defendant's charges were thrown out and the other goes to trial in Carrizozo on May 24, 2000. I urge any citizen of Lincoln County to come watch as the evidence proves one of its finest beating up a man who was standing with his hands behind his back. In that case, the District Attorney has requested a change of venue because the police officer has gotten such bad press for beating people up!

Attorneys learn in law school the very heavy burden placed on the State in criminal cases is a result of the virtually limitless resources the State brings to bear in criminal prosecutions including police officers, investigators, crime labs, expert witnesses and salaried assistant district attorneys.

The fortunate defendants are the ones who can retain private counsel; otherwise, a criminal defendant in Lincoln County is represented by a contract public defender who receives less than $1,000 a case to defend the accused—no investigators, no crime labs, and no salaried defense attorneys.

I agree most of the law enforcement officers of Lincoln County are dedicated professionals who perform a necessary and dangerous service to the citizens of the state. However, the print media also provides a valuable service in making the public aware of the police misconduct that occurs in the county.

Once again, I welcome anyone interested in following up on Mr. Key's theory of criminal defense attorneys misusing the media to come to court in Carrizozo on May 24. This case is State of New Mexico v. Hernandez. Mr. Hernandez is charged with aggravated battery of a peace officer. His defense is the police officer used unnecessary and excessive force when Hernandez was cooperating in being handcuffed by another police officer. I trust you will get a first-hand view of the appropriateness of the actions of at least one Lincoln County police officer.

Then, when you read the newspaper's account, you will be in a better position to comment to your neighbor whether Mr. Hernandez was innocent or he himself a victim of the practices of certain law enforcement officers and the Office of the District Attorney.

The writer has a law practice in Ruidoso.

LETTERS POLICY

The Ruidoso News encourages letters to the editor, especially about local topics and issues. Each letter must be signed and must include the writer's daytime telephone number and mail address. The phone number and mailing address will not be printed; this hometown will be. The telephone number will be used to verify authorship. No letter will be printed without the writer's name.

Letters must be no more than 300 words in length, of public interest, and free of libel; editing will be only for grammar or spelling. Shorter letters are preferred and generally receive greater readership. The Ruidoso News reserves the right to reject any letter. Longer by-lined "Guest Commentary" articles will be considered; call the editor at (505) 257-4001.

Domestic violence cited

Two domestic violence incidents were reported to Ruidoso police last weekend.

On April 22, at 2:08 a.m., police received a phone call from a woman who said she had been battered. The victim told police that James S. Dunsmore, 44, of Ruidoso arrived home intoxicated and an argument began. The victim said she was pushed around thrown across a room and hit in the face. Dunsmore was arrested for battery against a household member.

A separate incident of battery against a household member involved a 19-year-old husband who said he was injured by his 16-year-old wife. The April 21, 2 a.m., incident alleges the woman began throwing items at their residence, following an argument. The victim said he was cut above the eye after being hit with an alarm clock.

Ruidoso Police are investigating a criminal damage to property and breaking and entering case. The break-in apparently occurred between Feb. 19 and April 19.

A Heath Drive residence was believed to have been broken into sometime since March 1. A resident said a window was discovered broken, though it was unknown if anything was missing when police were called on April 21.

A broken living room window at a Nogal Lane home is being considered a case of criminal damage to property. Police determined entry had not been made to the residence.

PRELIMINARY NOTICE OF AN ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT

The USDA, Rural Utilities Service has received an application for financial assistance from the Village of Capitan, NM. As required by the National Environmental Policy Act, the Rural Utilities Service has prepared an Environmental Assessment that evaluated the potential environmental effects and consequences of the proposed project. This notice announces the availability of the Environmental Assessment for public review and comment.

The proposed project consists of improvements to the water distribution system including additional storage capacity and increased pipeline sizes within and near the Village boundaries. Specific improvements include: construction of a new standpipe water tank (Tank #5) at the southeast corner of the intersection of Marla Drive and Main Road; connection of existing water supply lines at two locations along Mt. Capitan Road; and replacing existing pipelines with larger diameter pipes at several locations. The proposed improvements will result in no long term significant impacts nor conversions to:

- Important Farmland/Formally Classified Lands
- Floodplains
- Wetlands
- Cultural Resources
- Biological Resources
- Water Resources
- Coastal Resources
- Socioeconomic Conditions/Environmental Justice

To mitigate potential impacts associated with the above items, the following activities are proposed:

- Minimizing the land to be acquired;
- Designing project elements within existing rights-of-way and easements;
- Maintaining traffic, noise, stormwater, runoff and dust controls during construction;
- Scheduling construction outside of the nesting season of migratory birds (April 1 through August 15) or conducting field reconnaissance for nesting sites;
- Minimizing impacts to existing trees and other natural vegetation and to existing animal burrows;
- Immediately ceasing construction if historic or cultural resources artifacts are identified in project excavations; and
- Reclaiming disturbed areas upon completion.

The alternatives considered to the proposed project described above include:

- No action
- Upper/Intermediate Storage Tanks and Main Distribution Pipeline

Copies of the Environmental Assessment and detailed summaries and drawings of the proposed improvements are available for review at the following locations:

Capitan school board to decide ACT's future at May meeting

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

CAPITAN - The school board here will make a decision at its May 11 meeting whether to continue to recognize a district-wide volunteer parent group that has been the focus of community controversy in recent weeks.

Two parents spoke at the regular board meeting April 14, Vonna Stevens defending the group, Action for Children and Teachers (ACT), and Rene Cupit asking that it be disbanded, said Diana Billingsley, superintendent of schools. A communications task force, which was formed about a year ago as part of ACT, came up with a list of issues and concerns about the school district. The task force presented the list to the school board and superintendent and asked them to prioritize it, said Stevens, a member of the task force.

Some of the items on that list indicated that "handbooks not followed, too wordy, not understood," "no clear communication to middle and high school parents of student progress," "enthusiasm is not always encouraged."

Unfounded rumors

Rumors also started that ACT wanted to fire the football coach and get rid of football when an ACT member "innocently" asked at the budget meeting what the district does when something has to be cut to meet the budget and how they make a decision between programs, such as golf and football, Billingsley said.

"The coach (Ed Davis) encouraged (the students) to sign (the petition)," Billingsley said, "and ... anytime the students think someone is attacking Mr. Davis, they will go to his defense. The parent petition had already been going around. The rumor mill was running rampant among kids ..."

Stevens said her daughter was threatened at school by other students and that the rumor mill was saying that she wanted to get rid of football, even though it was a different parent who had asked the question at the budget meeting.

Stevens received a letter from high school principal Darrell Stierwalt stating that he had talked with the high school students to inform them that neither Stevens nor the ACT leadership was requesting that Mrs. Billingsley cancel the football program or fire the coaching staff.

"I have told Mr. Davis," Stierwalt's letter concludes, "to be sure of his facts before saying anything to any of his students ..."

Asking the teachers

Stevens said the issues raised by the task force came from suggestion boxes in the schools, e-mails and faxes, but the list of issues was not intended to go to the staff.

Billingsley said the only way the administration could know about those issues "was to ask the teachers, and that's why we took it to the teachers, so we could respond to the parents."

She said the staff took a couple of the issues as being negative and said they may have been relevant to an individual staff member rather than the entire staff. Some were district-wide concerns, she said, as in the case of the handbooks. In the case of progress reports, she said, the list "made it look like there was no communication going home on middle school and high school students."

The school board asked Billingsley to disband the communications task force "because they had had teacher complaints," she said. Those issues that were district-wide were dealt with, and the board recommended to her that the group be disbanded and remaining issues be dealt with at the individual schools.

Parent involvement sought

Concerning the communications task force set up about a year ago, Billingsley said, "We were looking at ways to increase parent involvement at all levels. The elementary level had been successful, and I made the recommendation to the board that the elementary ACT be turned into a district-wide organization."

Rene Cupit, an ACT board member, submitted a petition by some parents requesting that the school board rescind their recognition of ACT at their April 13, 2000 school board meeting, citing that "a negative atmosphere currently surrounds the ACT organization and its board members. ..."

"We the undersigned are in support of the staff and the administration of the Capitan Municipal Schools," the petition states. "We will handle these problems with the appropriate parent advisory committee or through the current chain of command."

Four of the parents signed, 29 individuals or families were put on the petition by Kimber Ioviero under a column "Authorization per Phone," and one name had "no personal contact" under "Authorization per Phone."

"What's going on with parents vs. parents has negative effects..."

Diane Billingsley, Capitan school superintendent

"I told them I don't know why we can't operate just as parents," Cupit said about speaking at the school board meeting and petitioning that ACT not be recognized by the board.

"The people I visited with were telling me they had no problem communicating with the school," Cupit said. "I told them there's a negative atmosphere surrounding ACT at this time; it's going to hinder any and all projects they're involved in."

Stevens said that at one of the parent meetings called by the task force, parents said they were uncomfortable expressing concerns about the school because if they did, "they or their children would pay for it." Boxes were set up in each of the schools so written comments could be made, and it was from these comments, as well as those e-mailed and faxed, that the initial list of "concerns and issues" was made.

"There were other issues and concerns on the list to be discussed by Diana, the three building principals and members of the communications task force, that were never addressed," Stevens said. She cited insufficient supervision on a field trip to Lincoln at which a student was injured and a mat in front of the elementary building on which a teacher and a student were injured. She added that mats of the same type are in front of the other two schools.

Cupit said she did object to all the questions the members asked at a budget meeting called by ACT. "The staff has been doing it for a long time, I trust them. ... I don't need to know where every dollar went. It comes down to I trust them," she said.

Billingsley said ACT has done some really good things for the school, "but what's going on with parents vs. parents has negative effects, and that's what we're trying to solve."

Rio Hondo fire contained after burning 375 acres

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

The Rio Hondo Complex fire, finally determined to be a 375-acre blaze, had been declared snuffed out Thursday morning (April 20), according to state forestry officials.

"There was no visible smoke," said Lynn Hutchison, a field technician with the New Mexico State Forestry Division.

"The rate of spread was stopped Wednesday," she said. "They felt confident enough at 1800 hours (6 p.m.) Wednesday night to leave."

A check of the area Thursday morning deemed the fire out.

The fire, which began early Tuesday afternoon, had, by nightfall, been estimated to have burned some 1,000 acres by the on-scene incident commander.

"When you're looking through smoke and there's lots of flames, and the terrain is up and down, and up and down, it's hard to tell the size," Hutchison said.

"When they mapped it, from the air and on the ground, it was a less than 400 acres," he said.

Investigators Thursday revisited the believed origin of the fire, near the Rio Hondo east of Picacho. The cause of the blaze remains unknown, Hutchison said.

The fire, which jumped U.S. Highway 70 in its north-easterly movement, closed the highway for several hours Tuesday afternoon.

Fire officials said there were no injuries reported. The burned area contained no improved property.

In total, 170 fire fighting personnel were involved, Hutchison said. Firefighters from four Lincoln County departments responded to the call.

Hot Shot crews, from the forestry division, Mescalero Apache Reservation and Ramah, another Indian Hot Shot contingent, also used hand tools to stop the advancing flames.

Brady Canyon mobile home damaged

BY DIANNE STALLINGS

Vanessa Fabrizi was visiting her mother from Albuquerque Monday when she smelled something burning about 10:45 a.m.

Fabrizi looked outside her mother's home on Ponderosa Drive in Brady Canyon and at first thought the smoke she saw next door was coming from a chimney.

"But then I realized it was on fire," she said of the mobile home on the next lot.

By that time, Steve White from nearby Birch Street was on the scene. Fabrizi asked him to check to see if the renter was inside the structure and to force the door, if necessary.

At the same time, her mother, Janis Atkinson, called the emergency number and two fire engines and a rescue truck were dispatched with six to eight fire fighters, according to a spokesman for the Ruidoso Fire Department.

"They got here and got it out quickly," Fabrizi said, adding that neighbors were worried the flames would cause an explosion if they reached the propane tank or lines.

Officials haven't determined the cause of the fire, which gutted the back end of the mobile home. The name of the owner and an estimate of damages also were not available Tuesday.

USFS plans controlled burn north of Capitan

A controlled burn by the U.S. Forest Service is planned for today and Thursday about three miles north of Capitan off State Road 246.

Matt Reidy, fire manager for the Smokey Bear Ranger District, said 200 acres of grassland are targeted to eliminate snakeweed.

"We have to do it at this time of the year before it greens up," he said.

Snakeweed is an invasive vegetation, which forces out natural grasses and is detrimental to the health of range land, said Howard Shanks of the South Central Mountain Resource Development District.

The weed also can cause miscarriages in cattle that eat it.

Softball squad continues quest for state berth

BY KAREN BOEHLER
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

The Warrior softball team (9-10, 5-3) is close to earning a berth at the state tournament. Thursday, the team took another step in that direction with a 7-2 win over Cobre.

"We had a pretty good game again," said coach Brian Baca. "Defensively, we're playing better, more sound. Offensively, we're hitting the ball. We contacted it pretty well."

The Warriors jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning and never looked back.

Kathy Hightower tripped to left field, Sarah Fromknecht singled home and Julie Miller got Fromknecht home with another triple.

The Warriors made it 3-0 in the second when Simona Ramos walked, got to third on a passed ball and wild pitch, then came home on a single by Cassie Bednorz.

Ruidoso added to the tally in the third when Tiffany Brantley and Fromknecht walked then came home on an error by the Indian center fielder. The Warriors got their final run in the fifth when Fromknecht tripped and came home on a single by Crystal Gheer.

Warrior Timea Eckerdt slides safely into second base ahead of Cobre second-baseman Monica Moreno and shortstop Valerie Orosco. The fourth inning action eventually ended with Eckerdt stranded on third.

Gheer faced only two batters over the minimum through five innings, walking one and allowing one hit. The young Indians — with freshmen and eighth graders on the squad — scored two runs in the sixth on three singles and a walk. But Gheer set the side down in order in the seventh to preserve the win. "We had a very good sixth inning," said Cobre coach Pat Abalos. "We were able to put a few hits together and we were able to score a couple of runs on those hits. We just needed a few more of those along the way."

The Warriors had three triples in the game, which Baca said came from practice.

"We've been working a lot on hitting, and I think that's helped," he said. "It's allowed us to get some runners on base and do some things."

Gheer struck out eight, gave up two walks and four hits in going the full seven innings.

If Ruidoso can win its final four games — doubleheaders against Santa Teresa and Hot Springs — the Warriors will finish second in the district behind Silver, and earn a chance to play in the opening round of the state tournament. Baca knows his team is going to have to work hard.

"We've got to go out there and win every one of those games," he said. "We've just got to refine what we've been working on. Defensively, we've got to come out and play sound ball and offensively, we've just got to keep putting the ball in play."

Captain Tiger Chance VanWinkle races to the finish of the 110-meter hurdles. VanWinkle won both the 110- and 300-meter hurdles, qualifying for state in both.

TULAROSA — Weather and the Easter weekend combined to make Saturday's Slade Relays a little smaller in numbers than expected, but the Capitan boys used that to their advantage, taking an easy victory over their closest competitors. The girls took second, edged by the greater numbers of host Tularosa.

The Tigers finished 99 points ahead of No. 2 Cloudcroft and 119 ahead of Tularosa, both district rivals.

Truman Anderson finished first in the long jump and triple jump, second in the 100-meter dash and competed on two winning relays, earning him the high-point individual trophy for the meet.

Other Tiger first-place finishers included Scotty Kennedy in the 200-meter dash, Justin Jones in the 800-meter run, Tyler Haughness in the 1,600- and 3,200-meter runs, Chance Van Winkle in both the 110- and 300-meter hurdles, Ryan Switzer in the high jump and the 800-meter and 1,600-meter medley relay teams.

Switzer also took a title in the pole vault, setting a meet record of 11-feet-10.

"They ran and threw well," coach Ed Davis understated. "We got a few more things qualified."

Qualifiers included Armstrong in the 100, Van Winkle in both hurdles, Kennedy in the javelin and Switzer in the pole vault. The medley relay team missed qualifying by one second.

"We were just real tickled the way they're running," Davis said. "They're doing well. We're getting in shape just about right. Just about right."

Tracksters solid at Artesia meet

BY KAREN BOEHLER
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

Ruidoso had to face some tough competition Thursday at Artesia — some of the same competition the Warriors will see at state — yet managed to finish a close second on the boys side and fourth on the girls.

What assistant coach Ylena Temple called "the highlight of the running events" was a sweep by the Warriors in the sprints.

Solomon Barnett took first in the 100- and 200-meter dashes, Thomas Schiele won the 400-meter dash and Alfonso Rankin won the 800-meter run.

"A first place in all those running events, I think that's great," Temple said.

She said Schiele had "an outstanding performance" in the 400, setting a school record with a time of 49.47 and beating the expected winner and hometown favorite, Jacob Robbins of Artesia, by almost a second.

Rankin's time of 2:01.82 in the 800-meter run was enough to guarantee him a trip to state with a qualifying time.

In the field events, Brandon Brumlow had what Temple called "a real outstanding javelin throw," setting a personal record and improving on his state qualifying throw.

"He did even better this time," Temple said.

Once again, the boys had a solid finish without running every event. Jose Linares did not compete due to an injury, so the Warriors again scrapped the 800-meter relay.

"Right there, we gave Artesia 10 points, and they beat us by 17," Temple said.

In order to be truly competitive at district and state, Temple said there's still some work to be done.

"We've got to get our medley relay in shape and our mile relay," she said. "We've got to crack the whip on those two."

On the girls side, Ruidoso finished fourth behind Moriarty, Lovington and Kirtland Central.

Leah Miller was the girls only first-place finisher, taking the title in the triple jump. Amber Green finished fourth. Amanda Montes was fourth in the 800-meter run, but ran a personal best of 2:38.93.

"Our goal for her is about 2:35," Temple said.

Amber Green competed in more events Thursday. The coach said Green is "still a little sore, but she's trying to do all she can. She's trying to get back into more events each week, which is helping."

And Kammi Sparks finished second in the high jump, going 5-0. Temple thinks they can get Sparks to 5-3.

The Warriors have one more qualifying meet before district. Friday, they'll head to Lovington for another big AAA meet.

Baseball squad still looking for district win

BY KAREN BOEHLER
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

The Warriors (1-16, 0-5) are still looking for their first district baseball win, but are continuing to improve.

Thursday, Ruidoso fell to Silver 10-4 and 12-3, an improvement over the first loss to Silver early in April.

"The kids mentally are into it," said coach Mike Morris. "They never gave up. Our bats are starting to come around, they're just not where we need them."

The Warriors are starting to hit, but aren't stringing those hits together, stranding too many runners on base. Still, Morris said the team is doing better.

"I think the kids are getting more confident," he said.

In the opening game against Silver, the Colts scored two runs in the second and third innings and three each in the fourth and fifth. But Ruidoso came back in the fifth and sixth.

"They didn't give up," Morris said. "Right there at the last, they were still trying to come back."

The Warriors scored one run in the fifth inning when Ben Lundquist doubled, Matt Berry singled and David McNally doubled to score Lundquist.

In the sixth, Josh Adams walked, Willie Lundquist and McNally both singled, loading the bases, then Ben Lundquist tripled, scoring Adams and his younger brother.

Ben Lundquist was 3-for-3 in the opener with a single, double and triple, and McNally was 2-for-3.

On the mound, Matt Locke went all the way, giving up hits, one walk and striking out one. The fielding betrayed Locke as six Ruidoso errors led to six Colts runs.

The Warriors jumped out to an early 1-0 lead in the second game when Tristan Torres singled and came home on a Locke double.

Silver took a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the inning when they began to get the hang of Locke's pitching.

Torres then shut the Colts down for two innings, before giving up three runs in the fourth. Chad Swanner wrapped up on the mound for Ruidoso, giving up six runs in the sixth.

Ruidoso got its final runs in the fourth and fifth.

Willie Lundquist was hit by a pitch in the fourth and stole second. McNally singled, sending him to third then Lundquist came home on a Ryan Blackman single.

Pinch hitter Bryant Davis opened the fifth with a walk. Berry singled and Locke doubled to score Davis.

"They played good," Morris said. "They're starting to come around. If I can just get their hitting around. What I'm seeing is now they're maturing. They're thinking baseball. They know there's no more excuses and now they're playing baseball. They still have few errors here and there but they're starting to play better."

The Warriors have five more chances to earn some district wins. They were scheduled to play Santa Teresa Tuesday in Santa Teresa. They'll face Hot Springs Thursday at 3 p.m. in a solo makeup game. (The original match was rained out in the fourth inning.)

Then the Warriors travel to Hot Springs for a season-ending double header.

Carrizozo's Grizzlies traveled to Laguna Acoma Thursday rather than Tularosa Saturday in order to qualify two top athletes who are out of town on family business through next week.

Eighth grader Ariel Burr and junior Madalyn Burr will miss the district meet, so coach Pat Ventura decided to change the schedule to get them qualified. "The decision was a good one, as both athletes qualified in their final events, and the Grizzlies each finished second, just missing to AAA Shiprock.

The competition was solid at the Laguna Acoma Twilight Meet, with mostly AA schools in attendance except for Class A Zozo and Pine Hill.

Although qualifying was the reason for going, Ventura said the team set out to win the meet.

"They all did pretty good," he said. "We decided when we got off the bus whether we just wanted to qualify some things and look around or if they wanted to win the track meet. They said they wanted to win the track meet."

On both sides, Shiprock just won by a few points because of strong distance runners.

"That's where they got us,"

The girls finished well behind Tularosa, which loaded almost every event. The Tigers were handicapped because a number of team members were gone for Easter vacation. Still, coach Bryan Massé was pleased with the effort.

"They did real well," he said. "We had a few (personal records) and again got to run some people in some different events. We had some people come through, volunteers, so we wouldn't have to trash the mile relay."

Thrower Jessica Baker filled in as the final leg of the relay, and although the Tigers finished third, they still earned points.

Kaycee Gilson qualified in the pole vault, taking first with a jump of 7-feet, 1/2 inch. Lindsay Bush requalified in the discus, throwing a state-qualifying 105-foot-8 1/2 inches and finishing second behind a thrower from Hatch Valley.

"She's throwing consistent," Massé said.

Jessica Tully-Mitchell won the 800-meter and 1,600-meter runs, two races she's never run before.

"We're slowly getting better," Massé said. "The guys had some good performances. The girls had some good performances, so that's great."

Hondo, Mescalero

The Eagles and Chiefs also competed in Tularosa, improving both times and finishes.

With only three athletes at the meet, the Eagles finished fifth and Lady Eagles sixth.

Eddie Valenzuela finished fourth in the 200-meter dash and fifth in the 800-meter run and long jump.

Pam Fietek finished fourth in the high jump and sixth in the 300-meter hurdles.

"Not bad at all," said coach Julie Montoya. "Especially for eighth graders. They did good against the varsity teams."

The Chief girls finished fifth on the strength of runner Maggie Starr, who finished second in the 3,200-meter run — the highest finish all year for a Chief — and sixth in the 1,600-meter run.

"She ran strong today for her two miles," said coach Sheldon Fernando. "We all need a little bit more work this week before we go into district, and I'm pretty hopeful we will get some kids to state. I'm still trying to get them confidence in themselves that they can make it."

The boys didn't earn any points, but Fernando said he was happy with the effort.

"Josh (Valdez) worked hard," the coach said. "He'll be there next week. He'll be running hard. We all know we have to practice hard this week. It's the last week of the year so we're just going to have to bear down and get busy. They should have been doing that all year, but sometimes you just have to realize where you're at."

'ZOZO: Grizzlies close pre-district with seconds

Ventura said. "Shiprock had six (runners) in each one of (the distance runs), and they just took the points."

Still, the Carrizozo girls were second by only 26 points — 156 to 130, and the boys by eight, 133 to 124.5.

Both Burrs did qualify in all their events, and while no one else new qualified, Ventura said Ryan Roper had a solid effort in the discus, throwing his best ever.

The boys earned seven firsts — Roper in the discus, triple jump and javelin, Simon Beltran in the long jump, James Verdugo in the 110-meter high hurdles and the 400- and 1,600-meter medley relay teams.

For the girls, Ariel Burr took the gold in the high jump and 200-meter dash, Madalyn won the 300-meter hurdles, Ariel Vallejos won the 100-meter dash and the 400-, 800-

Corona wraps last non-district meet

BY KAREN BOEHLER
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

Corona wrapped up its final pre-district track meet Saturday, competing at the BVC Invitational in Estancia.

Only two Cardinals attended the meet — Rhiannon Alirez and Drew Bagley — but coach Bish Archer said both did well. "They did OK," he said.

"Rhiannon has improved. Drew, he did pretty good."

Neither managed to score any points for Corona, but Archer said the athletes, who both throw the discus and shot, continued to throw farther than they have.

Corona will bring its full squad to Capitan Saturday to compete in the District 3A meet.

Health summit for county scheduled

A health summit meeting is planned for Tuesday, May 2, to inform the community and health-care providers of services available and to identify key health priorities in the area for Lincoln County health plans.

The summit is from 5:30-8:30 p.m. at the Gateway Church of Christ. The first hour visitors can walk around reviewing information on services, missions and goals of providers as well as health statistics and trends in the county.

The last two hours, participants collectively will identify key health priorities for Lincoln County, with Jan Randolph facilitating. Randolph is knowledgeable about health care throughout New Mexico and Lincoln County, according to Wanda Gielow de Figueroa, coordinator of Lincoln County Maternal Child Health Council. The outcome of the meeting will be an outline of the county's Strategic Health Plan Update and the Maternal Child Health Plan Update.

Organizations that have information to be posted for the first hour of activities can provide them to Gielow de Figueroa or bring them to the Gateway Church of Christ between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. May 2. The presentation boards should be no larger than a poster board or two and may include mission, goals, numbers and populations served. Information on volume of indigent care provided, if applicable, should be included.

Contact Gielow de Figueroa at 258-9400 so she can arrange for space and food for all who plan to attend.

Redman Club site in Ruidoso Downs to become electrical supply business

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Some Ruidoso Downs residents raised questions last week, dealing with plans for a new business at the former Redman Supper Club building, located in a largely residential area overlooking the area.

Among the concerns expressed were those about traffic.

Carroll Godwin, the prospective new owner of the property, told the village's Planning and Zoning Board that his proposed business - an electrical supply firm - would bring mostly pickup trucks into the neighborhood. Godwin said he expected few semi trucks to make deliveries to the site. The building has been vacant for a number of years and has a large paved parking area.

As had been proposed earlier this year, some residents also asked the board about changing the commercially zoned property to residential use only, to conform with existing neighborhood properties.

Ron Ritter, a board member, said that prospective owners should be aware that the Redman Supper Club property would, in the future, fall under residential zoning.

He said that would likely impact the future salability of the property because it would no longer be commercial property.

The location, near Dipalo and Wood lanes, is presently zoned commercial, meaning Godwin can establish a business at the property.

Board chairman Mike Warren said because the business planned by Godwin falls under existing zoning and no changes or requests for variances were made, the planning and zoning panel did not need to vote on anything.

EDUCATION BRIEFS

Fraternity honors Hood

Cory Hood of Ruidoso was awarded the Lambda Chi Alpha Pledge Award at Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Mo., as a senior man who has for four years exhibited high scholarship, athletic accomplishment and campus service.

The award was established by the Lambda Chi Alpha Pledge Class of 1954.

GED diplomas due

The Ruidoso Instruction Center of Eastern New Mexico University (ENMU) and the South Central Mountain Adult Basic Education Program have announced that this year's GED graduation will be at 6:30 p.m. on May 4 at the Ruidoso Convention Center.

The event will honor all students who earned their GED diplomas between May 1999 and April 2000 through the testing center at ENMU-Ruidoso, and the public is invited to share the evening with the graduates.

Anyone who earned a GED diploma between May 1999 and April 2000 who has not been contacted about the ceremony is asked to call Sandy Kashmar at (505) 630-8181.

Summer registration

Registration for summer-session courses at the Ruidoso Instruction Center of Eastern New Mexico University (ENMU) is now under way daily through May 30 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Limited financial aid is available. A special tuition rate is available at Eastern campuses for Texas residents who take up to six hours. Courses that take advantage of Ruidoso's surroundings will be offered—pleinairs, painting, geology, hiking and wilderness survival.

More than 25 upper-division and graduate courses are also available via instructional television. New offerings will include three first-ever online courses, in which the entire course is taken over the Internet, and special short courses designed for public school teacher recertification.

For more information, visit ENMU online at www.ruidoso.enmu.edu or call 257-2120.

Scholarships available

New scholarship applications for the fall 2000 semester are now available at the Ruidoso Instruction Center.

More than 150 scholarships are available for local students through organizations, civic clubs, businesses, individuals, the Mescalero Apache Tribe or from the Ruidoso Instruction Center.

The application deadline for the fall 2000 semester is Aug. 1 for classes beginning Aug. 28. ENMU-Ruidoso students earned nearly $30,000 in scholarship assistance in the 1999-2000 academic year and more scholarships are available for next year.

For more information about scholarships or other types of financial aid, visit ENMU's Web site, www.ruidoso.enmu.edu, or contact the Ruidoso Center at 257-2120, or outside the Ruidoso area, toll-free at (800) 934-3668.

Non-credit class set

NASA Educational Materials and Opportunities is a non-credit class being taught at ENMU by Scott Nutter, Ph.D., who will introduce materials and opportunities available through NASA with an emphasis on access through the Internet.

Methods to obtain printed materials, grant opportunity notification, access to NASA workshops, student/teacher activities, including Space-camp, and ready-made lesson plans for all levels will be discussed. This class will be 9 a.m.-4 p.m. May 6. The registration fee of $40 will be paid by a grant for the first 24 participants who sign up. The location will be announced.

Call Jerry Everhart, Ph.D. for information or register by contacting the Office of Extended Learning at ENMU at (505) 562-2165 or (800) 537-LERN (New Mexico only). Extended Learning is open 8 a.m.-noon and 1-5 p.m. Monday through Friday, Quay Hall, Room 106, Highway 70 and S. Avenue K, Portales, N.M. 88130.

Camp accredited

Camp Sierra Blanca, Associated Marine Institutes, received accreditation from Geno Natalucci-Persichetti, chairperson of the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections (CAC). The award was presented in conjunction with the Correctional Accreditation Managers' Association Conference in Tulsa, Okla. April 16.

Natalucci-Persichetti and Richard Stalder, president of the American Correctional Association, complemented executive director Philip Adams and his staff on their professional level of operation and their success in completing the accreditation process. The agency is one of more than 1,250 correctional organizations currently involved in accreditation across the nation.

The accreditation program is a professional peer review process based on national standards that have evolved since the founding of the association in 1870. The standards were developed by national leaders from the field of corrections, law, architecture, health care, and other groups interested in sound correctional management.

The three-year accreditation award granted to Camp Sierra Blanca does not signal the end of the process. During the award period, staff will work to improve any deficiencies identified during the audit and maintain continuous compliance with the standards.

Tutor training completed

The Lincoln County Literacy Council sponsored a basic reading tutor training April 1 and 8, with Mary Cook Allen of Alto giving the training session.

Four people became certified through Laubach Literacy as basic reading tutors: Cynthia Bennett, Sarah Mayes, Keli Martin, Kate Winner and Betsy Hambrick. The training and the materials the tutors will use to work with students are provided free.

The Lincoln County Literacy Council, a special project of ENMU-Ruidoso Center, is an educational non-profit organization funded by the New Mexico Coalition for Literacy. It provides volunteer tutors who work with individuals or small groups to help them improve their ability to speak, read and write in English.

Anyone interested in more information on the council may contact Betsy Hambrick, Adult Literacy coordinator at 630-8181 or (800) 934-3668.

Gownsmen inducted

Shannon Conley of Ruidoso Downs was inducted into the Order of Gownsmen at the University of the South's opening convocation for the 2000 Easter semester. Conley is the child of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland D. Conley.

Students must achieve a superior grade-point average to become a member of this honorary student organization founded in 1873 to recognize Sewanee's ties with Oxford and Cambridge universities in England. The order appoints students to legislative, academic and faculty committees, and the students wear black academic gowns to classes.

The University of the South is between Nashville and Chattanooga.

A freshman at Ruidoso High School turned out a superior physics project good enough to rate a first-place at the State Science and Engineering Fair, and thereby win an all-expense-paid trip to the international fair in Detroit.

Glen Cheng, right, demonstrates his invention, a speed detector based on the Doppler effect. His ninth grade physical sciences teacher, Rick Overdorf, left, helped.

THE WINNER

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A freshman at Ruidoso High School will compete in the International Science and Engineering Fair in Detroit, Mich., May 6-13, all expenses paid.

Glen G. Cheng invented a speed detector as a science project at school, won first place in physics and a $50 cash award at the regional level in Portales March 11, and went on to place first at the state level, qualifying him for a $200 award and to compete in Detroit.

The Alliance for Transportation Research Institute awarded Cheng $200 "for projects that reflect an understanding of scientific principles and ethics and have an impact on society and the environment," according to a press release from New Mexico Tech at Socorro, which has hosted the New Mexico Science and Engineering Fair since 1953.

"He's only the third kid to go to the International Fair from Ruidoso," said his physical science teacher, Rick Overdorf.

Cheng's project title is "Non-intrusive Velocity Determination by Doppler Shift" and what makes his speed detector different from what the police use now is that it is non-intrusive, he said.

"That means it's not going to be harmful or come into contact with a person," Cheng said. "Police use radar, (an electronic impulse) which they send out. It bounces back. It's intrusive because radiation is theoretically harmful, and a commercial says it reduces sperm count."

The Doppler effect creates a change of frequency of sound or light waves that varies with the speed of the sound-emitter or observer, Cheng said.

Cheng's speed detector determines speed by the noise produced by passing cars. He built a device (pictured above) that he named "Bob," took it to the highway and pointed it at cars. The sound bounces off the round mirror at the bottom and focuses it on a microphone. He and Overdorf recorded the sound and took it back to the classroom to analyze with a "Logger Program" on a computer. The program gave frequency and then was calculated to speed.

He and his teacher took 12 measurements of cars passing and another set of 10 measurements with Cheng swiveling "Bob" to follow each passing car. The latter set turned out to be ineffective because Cheng's movement caused its own Doppler effect, he said.

"The sheriff drove by and saw what we were doing, so we asked him to drive by at 45 mph. When we calculated (his speed), we measured 44.29," Cheng said.

It took five computers and five months — he started the project in mid-October — to work out the wrinkles of measuring pitch change created by the motion of the cars. Between the regional and state competitions, Cheng continued to work on the project to filter out noises for a cleaner reading without background noise.

"It's somewhat undependable at times," Overdorf said. "Otherwise we'd be on the market now. If you're going to tell people they're speeding, you'd better be darn right."

"At Internationals, we're hoping to file for a patent," Cheng said. "After filtering (the background noise), it's just as reliable or more (than radar)."

Cheng said he became interested in the project after a drive with his dad during which his father was speeding and his "fuzz-buster" went off. Cheng had just gotten out of driver's education and is a very safe driver, he said. He started reading about speed detection using sound, and a cross-reference led him to the Doppler effect.

"So I talked to Mr. Overdorf, and he let me use his lab and equipment," he said.

Cheng videotaped the equipment and the process, then printed it out as part of his presentation. He will refine these for competition at the international fair in Detroit.

"Although his father wasn't happy with his son's project at first, he came around," Cheng said.

"He began to be very happy and proud in the end because I was making a difference to help the safety of the streets," he said. "And because at regional I did so well and won a $50 cash award and first place in the physics category and the grand award to compete in Detroit."

Cheng said that although science will be one of his majors, he really wants to go into veterinary medicine.

"But physics is always interesting," he said. "All science is great because it gives a better understanding of how things work."

Clues From the Past

Viking Sightings

We really can't sight any Vikings today. These hardy farmers, fierce warriors and seafaring shipbuilders lived more than 1,000 years ago.

What we can sight are the clues they left behind that tell us a great deal about their lifestyle.

The Viking trail leads from ...

• their homeland of what is today Norway, Sweden, Finland and Denmark. (We often call these countries Scandinavia.)

• to the coastal towns they traded with and raided in England, France and Ireland.

• to the islands they settled in Iceland and Greenland and areas they explored in North America.

We can also find out about them in the stories, or sagas, passed down through the years.

THE VIKING AGE LASTED FROM THE 700s to ABOUT 1000.

Transportation clues

The remains of ships

This ship was discovered in Oseberg, Norway, in 1903.

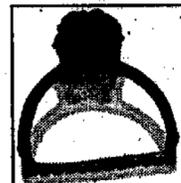

One day a farmer in Norway was digging for gold in a large mound. What he discovered was the greatest Viking treasure ever found: a ship that had been buried for more than 1,200 years.

A model of a Viking ship

Vikings believed in life after death, so they were often buried with the things they might need. Sometimes they were buried in ships. Included in the discovery were the skeletons of two women and several horses, three sleds, a huge bed, a cart and food.

A site to see after April 28: www.mpi.edu/vikings/

Horse stirrups

The horse gear that we use today is much like that the Vikings used. Horses pulled wagons, carried riders and plowed fields.

Skating bones

Vikings skated over frozen rivers, lakes and land. They used leather straps to tie skates made from cattle and horse bones to their feet.

The Mini Page Book of Presidents features a black-and-white picture of each president, along with such information as dates of birth and death, dates served as president, political party, signature and important achievements. It also features stories about the president's Cabinet, political terms, and a visit to the White House. To order, send $4.95 plus $1.50 each for postage and handling. Send only check or money order payable to Andrews McMeel Publishing, P.O. Box 419242, Kansas City, Mo. 64141.

More Viking Sightings

Religious clues

When the Viking age began, the people worshipped many gods. By the time it ended, most of the Vikings had become Christians.

A Viking god

Odin was the Viking god of war. He and the gods and the slain warriors lived in a place called Valhalla. Vikings believed that soldiers died and went there to fight all day and party all night.

A cross

This cross was found in the grave of a wealthy woman. It is one of the earliest pieces showing that Vikings were becoming Christians. This silver cross dates back to the 800s.

Clothes clues

Men's cloak pins
Men wore pins to fasten their cloaks. They wore wool cloaks, wool trousers and shirts made of linen.

Women's brooches
Women wore brooches of brass or silver to hold up the wool aprons they wore over wool or linen dresses.

Food and drink clues

The Vikings' ability to make tools of iron such as this plow helped them to be good farmers.

Iron tools

Vikings were farmers. They grew onions, cabbage, peas, and grains such as barley, wheat, oats and rye. They ate meat and seafood, and kept livestock including cattle, sheep, pigs and even horses. They also hunted deer and squirrels.

Drinking horns

Sometimes they drank beer or mead from hollow cow horns. Since drinkers could not get them down, they had to drink the whole thing or pass it around.

Shelter clues

Viking houses
The foundations of Viking homes were found in North America at L'Anse aux Meadows in Newfoundland, a Canadian province. In treeless areas, Vikings built sod or dirt homes. They cut blocks of dirt held together by grass out of the ground and used them as bricks.

Part of a Viking house wall, with stones at the bottom and dirt bricks on top.

Communication clues

The Viking alphabet was called the Futhark. The letters, called "runes," were made with straight lines, making them easier to carve in stone or wood. Stones with writing on them are called runestones.

POOP SCOOP

BY DIANNE STALLINGS RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Finishing up on advice from Monique Burns when camping with pets, the writer in Pet Life magazine said protect your animals from ticks and fleas. Those pests may not be much of a problem here, but in other parts of the country they carry diseases such as Lyme disease and Rocky Mountain Fever. Be sure your animal is taking an effective flea and tick repellent. Snake bites are rare, but bring along a snake bite kit and avoid disturbing piles of rocks and fallen logs where snakes often hide, Burns warned. She also advised buying a copy of Pet First Aids by veterinarian Bobbie Mammato, a soft cover manual published by the Humane Society of the United States and the American Red Cross. The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals recommends viewing a 41-minute video called "Pet Emergency First Aid for Dogs." To find out more about the first aid manual, contact the HSUS at 2100 L Street NW, Washington, DC 20037, or fax a request to 202-788-6132. The society also has an Internet site at www.hsus.org. New animal week Gov. Gary Johnson proclaimed Oct. 1-7 as New Mexico's week to honor, enjoy and celebrate the special part that animals play in our lives. New Mexico is the second state - Utah was the first - to dedicate a week to animal welfare. In the official proclamation, the governor names The Heart and Soul Animal Sanctuary as coordinator of the week's activities. Based in Santa Fe County, the sanctuary headed the effort to gain the governor's support. "I'll be glad to see students getting involved in literary projects during New Mexico's Week for the Animals," Johnson said. "The next best thing to playing with animals is reading and writing about them. I'd like to see a better understanding, appreciation and care for the animals of the state." Activities and events will focus on animal welfare education for children and adults and will include: • Pet adoption fairs • Children's art and literary contests • Discount spaying and neutering by some veterinarians • Humane education classes • Seminars for teachers and youth leaders • Museum displays and lectures • Library displays and special humane education reading racks Check with the Lincoln County Humane Society shelter on Gavilan Road to see what may be planned locally or to help organize an event. The number is (505) 257-9841.
