He's thinking about arming himself in future Ruidoso trips

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A semi-truck driver whose route includes Ruidoso said he might arm himself in the future.

Police photographs confirm what trucker Demetrius Garza told Ruidoso officers. The semi was hit by gunfire on the village's far north side.

"It's kind of scary," Garza said. "I hate to face violence with violence, but I'm tempted to have my own pistol with me from now on."

Garza told police he was driving north on Mechem Drive about 11:45 p.m. Sunday, behind a pick-up truck.

"I had been following the pick-up up the hill," Garza said. "The speed limit through there is 25 miles per hour. She'd been hovering around 15 to 20 miles per hour. Near the top of the hill it was going 15 and slowing. I needed to keep up my speed to keep from going in a gear that would put me under five miles per hour. I flashed my brights, and she tapped her brake lights. I then tapped on my horn."

Highway 70 project riles both contractor and state overseer

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Road construction in Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs is wrapping up, but the contractor and state still could be in for a long, bumpy ride.

The New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Department and Meadow Valley Contractors, Inc., have traded barbs and litigious letters in recent months. Negotiations dealing with change orders, added costs, and delays could drag into years and into court, both sides have hinted.

Change orders added up during construction of new roadways along U.S. Highway 70 in Ruidoso Downs and State Highway 48 in Ruidoso, and were a big part of problems that brought delays, MSCI argued. Officials with the road contractor are speaking out, in the wake of criticism by the state's transportation chief.

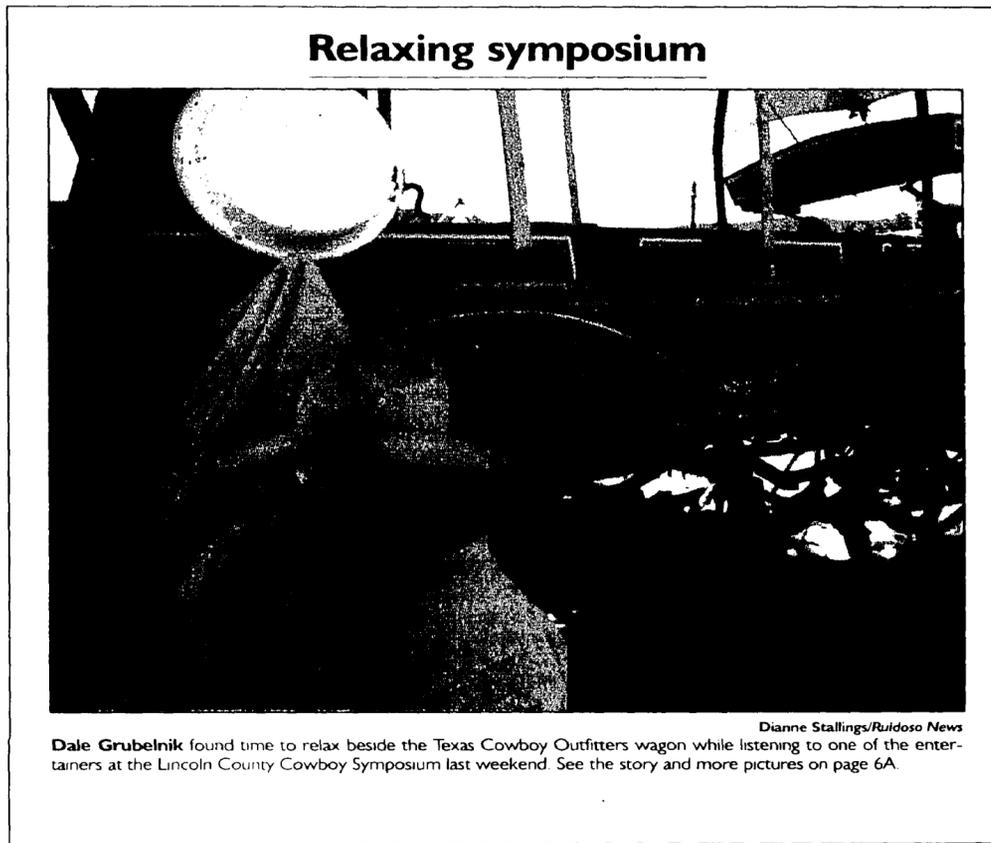

"We don't have these problems in other states," said Mike Davenport, Meadow Valley's project manager on the essentially completed U.S. Highway 70 project. "There have been so many changes. A schedule is in place, and then everything ceases because the highway department makes a change."

Davenport said there have been more

Village closes underground theater, but a revival vowed

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

An underground (literally) theater in operation since February has been shut down for fire code violations and operating in an area not properly zoned.

Following his appearance in Ruidoso municipal court Monday, Brian Tucker, the chief organizer of the theatrical gathering, said the setback won't stop the effort to provide an alternate venue for people in the arts to get together and express their creativity.

"This was an attempt by friends and myself to stimulate ourselves," he said. "We all are artists and realize the lack of culture in the community and are trying to establish something to bring it here. Although plenty of people are interested, there is nowhere to gather."

After Tucker pleaded guilty to the violation of municipal code, Judge Mike Line suspended his $117 fine on condition that no further offenses occur within the next 90 days.

Line asked Tucker why he didn't shut down the show when code officer Thomas Chavez gave him the chance on Oct. 10.

Tucker said he owed his patrons a performance and that obligation came first.

"This is a gathering of artists to express themselves for others to take in, to do something this community has not done before, and to inspire something to continue," he told the judge. "One hour before the show, Thomas Chavez asked me to shut down. I understand he has a job to do, but I had a responsibility to those who came."

Tucker pointed out that a fire exit was unlocked and signs were posted at the underground theater site on the bottom floor of a Mechem Drive building that houses a title company.

Tucker said he now is aware that art shows must be staged in public places properly zoned.

After the hearing, Tucker said the first show took place in February with about 45 people present to watch and listen to music and spoken performances. The last show featured an African percussion band from Taos and drew more attention, he said.

Originally from Orange County, Calif., Tucker said he studied theater in college and has worked with other theaters since 1993.

"Through this, possible investors saw something happening and want to continue it," he said. "The main thing next is to create a legitimate place."

Lt. Gov. Bradley to help open Hondo health clinic

HONDO - The effort to create a health clinic for the Hondo Valley area of Lincoln County spanned three years, but residents and officials will celebrate the clinic's official opening Friday with Lt. Gov. Walter Bradley.

The clinic will be operated under contract by La Casa de Buena Salud, a non-profit agency that already manages clinics in Roswell, Portales and Clovis.

The ceremony is set to begin at 10 a.m. at the clinic on the grounds of the Hondo Valley Schools.

"Local health care clinics are becoming a vital part of the health care industry," Bradley said in a prepared statement about his appearance. "Providing access to health care in communities like Hondo and other rural towns in New Mexico is very important. I'm glad to see La Casa de Buena Salud is able to fill some of those needs."

Translated as "the house of good health," the agency opened its newest clinic in Hondo last month.

"Our goal is to provide the very best in health care services to all the residents in the area," said Seferino Montano, chief executive officer of La Casa.

Besides accepting Medicare and Medicaid, the clinic will use a sliding fee schedule under which payments for services are based on federal poverty guidelines for income and family size.

Beth Stilwell, a registered nurse from Lincoln, and Doug Barlow, a family nurse practitioner, head the medical staff. Rebecca Sanchez is officer manager.

La Casa also is part of Share the Care, a pharmaceutical service involving the National Governors Association, Pfizer and the National Association of Community Health Centers.

If trees must fall, replace with bears

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

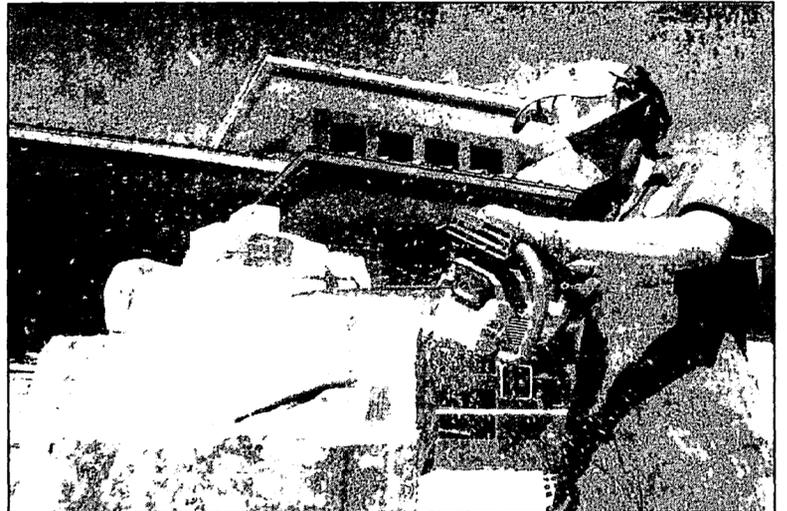

When three trees at the entrance to the Ruidoso Public Library died, head librarian Nancy Osterberg realized they must be removed for safety. But she and many library patrons didn't like the idea of the property looking so bare.

Under a new landscaping plan, "bear" still will be the effect, but of a different kind.

The Macho family, who operate Josephland, a bear-carving and art projects business off Sierra Blanca Airport Road, were called to the rescue. They were on site Monday, chain-saw carving remaining portions of the tree trunks into smiling bear. Carved bears are becoming a Ruidoso area trademark.

"We're having the soil tested to see what caused the problem with the other trees and make sure we replant the area with trees that are compatible with the soil conditions," Osterberg said.

John Macho said the family works together on a project. Pat Macho carved the major shapes and the women in the family put on the finishing touches.

SHOTS: Police confirm three hits on the back of the 65-foot-long rig

Garza said he hoped his actions would prompt the pick-up to speed up or pull over to let him pass. The semi driver said the passenger in the pick-up truck then leaned out of the vehicle and pointed a gun. Garza told police he initially thought the passenger was just "horse playing," until the gun was aimed at him. The driver said he passed the pick-up near the Swiss Chalet-Best Western. About the same time Garza said he heard four or five shots. "I was very shaken and upset," Garza said. "I drive an 18 wheeler, 65 feet long. I could hear the bullets hitting the trailer. It was loud. I always wondered what it would sound like." Three separate indentations, mostly near the back of the semi, were documented by police as bullet hits. "It looks to me like it was a revolver," Lanny G. Maddox, Ruidoso's police chief, said. "It was a totally unlawful act. It was like a fit of rage, almost like road rage." Maddox said no spent cartridges were found at the location and the caliber of the firearm is unknown. The semi driver believed the driver of the pick-up truck was a woman, and the passenger a man. Garza said he stopped near Alto Lake to call 911 on his cell phone. The pick-up truck, Garza said, stopped about 100 feet to the south. Then the pick-up turned around, heading back into Ruidoso. Maddox said he cannot recall a similar incident in the village limits. Last summer another shooting incident, involving two vehicles, occurred in Alto. "We do have some leads," Maddox said. "It is being actively investigated." The police chief said the three bullet impacts were at the rear of the semi's trailer. "It was pretty close to point-blank when he first popped out of the window," Garza said. "I grew up in L.A. and moved out here (to New Mexico) seven years ago. I never experienced anything like that."

than 1,000 changes on the project. One of the more recent changes involved a curbed median in the Wal-Mart Super Center area of the highway. With the median in place for weeks, and paving taking place, Davenport said the highway department decided a part of the median needed to be taken out and the center paved. "As the paving machine was coming around the curve they (NMSHTD) said tear out the median here," as Davenport, at the location, pointed out from the eastern exit road of the Wal-Mart parking lot. "We were going like crazy to take out the median before the paver got there."

"The changes were made as subscribed by the contractor." Mohammad Moabed, District highway engineer. He said many changes required rescheduling machinery or using time-intensive equipment because a more efficient piece of equipment could no longer be maneuvered into place. In some cases asphalt had to be hand-worked because a change was in an area surrounded by completed work. "That impacts adjacent work items or next work items," Dan Cook, a field supervisor for Meadow Valley, said of the "surprises" created by state changes or undocumented obstacles, such as utilities at unknown depths.

eight pavings. Dozens of access drive-ins were added after curbs and sometimes sidewalks had been put in place, he said. "The changes are pretty much normal to every project we do," said Mohammad Moabed, district engineer for the NMSHTD office in Roswell. He contended Meadow Valley dragged their feet. He said both projects face possible sanctions because of delays. "The changes are made as subscribed by the contractor," Moabed said. Meadow Valley officials said state plans were flawed at the onset with differences in pavement sections of as much as 6.5 inches elevation. Davenport said a resolution those problems, detected when the project was supposed to start in summer 1998, was not approved by NMSHTD until February 1999.

Village staffer hurt in accident

A Ruidoso village employee was injured Friday, after being struck by a vehicle. Rudy Lugo, of Ruidoso, suffered a broken thumb in the 6:59 p.m. incident in the 600 block of Hull Road. A 1994 Buick, driven by Etta Muse, 67, of Alto, was southbound on Hull when the vehicle struck Lugo and then a back hoe, according to a New Mexico State Police accident report. The accident happened in a construction area. Lugo was transported to the Lincoln County Medical Center, complaining of pains. He is the village's wastewater supervisor. State Police officers rather than Ruidoso Police investigated the case because it involved a village employee.

Davenport said there were numerous changes commanded after sections of the 3.1 mile project were completed.

Underground utilities - most often water lines, some-time sewers - were often casualties in the road project.

The highway department was supposed to get a right-of-way for a drainage pipe," Davenport said, to handle underground storm water collectors that merge in the Circle K convenience store area. "They said put the pipe in, do the road, and we'll get the right-of-way over the winter. In the spring there was no right-of-way. They never got it and we had to tear up the road to realign the pipe." That involved a 38-foot strip of highway.

most often water lines, some-time sewers - were often casualties in the road project. Davenport said of the five states where Meadow Valley builds roads, only New Mexico excludes underground utility maps from the plans. "It's like experimental construction," Davenport said. "It's see if it works, and if not, let's do something different." He pointed to multiple paving exercises because of changes. One was the Heights Drive approach to the highway, where he said drainage changes resulted in

"If there were design changes, we did all the stuff and they'd say yes or no," Davenport said. "And it would take a lot of time for a yes or no. You know, you make a schedule, you want to maintain that schedule."

On Friday MVCI officials on the Ruidoso-to-Alto road project will voice what they said has been frustration in building a new State Highway 48.

There are several important steps to consider. First, you must choose a primary care physician (PCP) or family doctor. You must also choose which Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) you wish to belong to. In most cases, the doctor you choose will determine which HMO you will belong to, or the HMO you select will determine which doctor you will see. There are three HMO's available through SALUD, Cimarron, Lovelace, and Presbyterian. There are differences between each HMO, but Vision Service Plan (VSP) coordinates all routine vision care and requires prior approval. As the co-ordinating agency for routine vision services, VSP has set up strict guidelines with limits on frequency of routine eye examinations and criteria for authorization of lenses and frames. Authorization from VSP is required for more frequent examinations, replacement frames, lenses or repairs. If any needed referral and authorization is not obtained, the patient is responsible for services and materials. # Spencer Theater's 'Class Acts' for students features television star

The ongoing project offers theater-going experiences through school participation, and at minimum cost

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

The first of the Spencer Theater's Class Acts series for students will be with award-winning actress Stacy Keanan at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Oct. 26. Seats are available, so anyone from the public is welcome to attend for $3.50.

Keanan, now an arts-history student in a California university, starred as "Dana Foster" in the seven-season television series "Step by Step," co-starring Suzanne Somers and Patrick Duffy. Her show biz career, however, started when she was four.

Growing up in King of Prussia, Pa. ("When everyone has lists of craziest names of towns, King of Prussia is always on it," Keanan said), she went to the Queen of Prussia Charm School at age four to learn tap dance and baton twirling.

"I was at a recital (when) an agent picked up my sister and I, and we started doing local commercials," she said. "Then we were going to New York a lot to audition there for commercials, so eventually we moved there."

Her family moved to Los Angeles when Keanan was 11, and she made her television debut as Nicole Bradford, the daughter in the NBC television series, "My Two Dads," which lasted three seasons.

Then she was cast in "Going Places," which lasted one season but resulted in her being cast as Dana Foster in "Step by Step."

The first series was scary, she said. She'd done many commercials, print ads, voice-overs and jingles, performed in an operetta and appeared at the Stockbridge Theater Festival. She also performed on television in a CBS mini-series, a Captain Kangaroo special and a two-person PBS short with Peter MacNichol.

"I loved to dance, sing and put on a show in general. That's a lot different from acting per se," she said. "It was very exciting to get that job, but it was very scary because I had never worked in that format, even though I had done a lot of television work."

She got over it, though, and figured out what was going on by the time she was cast in "Step by Step."

"I was very happy and comfortable with it by then," she said. "Step by Step was a great thing to work on, it was your ideal workplace where everyone likes everyone else, everything was happy, fun, peaceful. It was amazing."

Keanan was still performing in "Step by Step" when she started college, and she couldn't give her full attention to both, so after a year, she quit school, and returned when the series ended.

"Since then, I've done things here and there, but nothing steady," she said.

Weekends, she performs in the show "Vanities," talking the show out of town to New York, Indiana, New Hampshire, Washington, Hawaii and other places. This doesn't interfere with her studies, but took some getting used to after television work, she said.

"The stakes are a lot higher because you can't go back and fix it," Keanan said. "You can't do it again. It has to be right the first time. Also, the audience is very far away (with television)."

With a live audience "practically sitting on the stage so close, you can see every twitch, so it's a lot more intensive."

Keanan said it's getting better with every performance, and there's "a huge rush of energy (from the audience) from the very beginning before we actually start the play, and it continues when we go offstage. People say 'You must be exhausted,' but I'm not; I'm revved up. I feed off the responses from the audience. With television too, but it's more distant, physically further away."

At the Spencer Theater Oct. 26, Keanan will talk about how she became an actor, juggled her career while still being a student and what it's like to be on television series.

Keanan said she's also willing to talk with students about ways theater and arts benefit people, whether or not they pursue it as a career — and she has some advice for those thinking of making a career in theater.

Class Acts performances are presented for the benefit of students of all ages to inspire them to learn through the theater arts, a vital part of programming at the Spencer Theater. Transportation will be provided for students in the Ruidoso area through a grant provided by the R. D. & Joan Dale Hubbard Foundation. Study guides are issued to students prior to the performances. All Class Acts performances are priced at $3.50 except for the Broadway musical, "Crazy For You," at 2 p.m. on March 30, which costs $25 for classes of ninth through 12th grade students.

The children's librarian was a year from retirement when the village dismissed her Schmitz case due EEOC mediation

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Probable cause exists to believe a violation of federal labor law occurred when Ingrid Schmitz was fired as Ruidoso children's librarian in March. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission officials will attempt to mediate a resolution to the situation, said Michael Cadigan, the attorney representing Schmitz.

"They try to get people to sit down and fix the problem," he said.

Failing that, the agency can go to federal court to seek an order for action or clear the way for the aggrieved party to file a lawsuit.

"No dates have been set," Cadigan said. "It's still a long process."

He explained that when the agency was sent Schmitz' complaint, its first job is to determine if probably cause existed.

Village Attorney John Underwood said Roswell attorney Steve Bell will represent the village in the EEOC case.

"He's out of the office today, but I can tell you that the village will respond to the finding and will pursue the case diligently," Underwood said.

Village human resources director Debbie Rogge, in a letter cited the reasons for Schmitz's firing were failure to meet prescribed standards of work, inefficiency, negligence, insubordination and lack of cooperation with other employees.

During a village hearing on the firing, Head Librarian Nancy Osterberg contended she had tried for years to correct Schmitz' deficiencies without success and that Schmitz' inability to master a computer system caused major operational disruptions for the library.

Schmitz countered that she was harassed by other employees, intimidated by superiors and criticized in front of patrons, was the brunt of jokes and was given conflicting instructions on computer procedures.

She claimed she was directed to work an undesirable shift in retaliation for taking time off under Family Medical Leave provisions. Osterberg contended she asked Schmitz to take the shift to be fair to other workers who covered Schmitz' work while she was gone.

Schmitz, 60, was one year from retirement when she was dismissed after 19 years with the village. But Underwood emphasized she would be eligible to collect retirement contributions when she turns 61, although the amount would be reduced because of the reduction of her income.

Schmitz now is employed as a public school librarian.

"...the village will respond to the finding and pursue the case diligently."

Federal funding for airport landing system in works

Ruidoso's Sierra Blanca Regional Airport may be in line for federal funding for an improved landing system.

Funding for a "glide slope indicator," described as a guide to direct a pilot onto the center of a runway, was included in the final version of the fiscal year 2001 Transportation Appropriations Bill.

"It will give aircraft the ability to land at our airport during inclement weather," said Tim Morris, airport manager.

The $350,000 appropriation is considered a safety upgrade. Currently the airport northeast of Ruidoso does not have an adequate instrument landing system for use in inclement weather. Planes approaching Sierra Blanca Regional are required to rely on Federal Aviation Administration air controllers at Albuquerque for part of their landing approach into the Ruidoso area. Morris said the equipment would be owned and operated by the FAA.

The project is currently awaiting the president's signature.

OUR OPINION

It's possible, technologically speaking

If it is true that 60 percent of the big rigs hauling merchandise on U. S. Highway 70 through Lincoln County are carrying hazardous material, and each is marked with those yellow warning labels, then it makes perfectly good sense for some sort of notice system to advise officials when they're coming through.

It would, if nothing else, allow law enforcement officers the time to divert traffic in case of an accident.

Unfortunately, a county or two can't dictate to the feds (as ranchers keep learning); putting up roadblocks on federal highways at county lines for trucks just isn't feasible.

But an effort could start here that might lead to a national Internet-fired, computer-based system to track all hazardous material haulers as they cross the country. Then law enforcement people anywhere could get a picture of the danger probabilities in their own territory.

Traffic efficiency would benefit in case of accidents, but most importantly lives could be saved.

YOUR OPINION

Joining from admiration

To the editor:

After visiting Ruidoso for several years, my husband and I decided this would be our retirement haven. A priority had been to check out the hospital rating on the internet and with our insurance company regarding coverage and available care. (We are no spring chickens.)

We moved here permanently in April, 1999. Dr. Martinez took me as a patient: I was so blessed. She diagnosed serious health problems and I was in Albuquerque at Presbyterian Hospital having carotid artery surgery the first week of June and heart valve replacement the middle of July, 1999. The first week of July I spent in Lincoln County Medical Center Hospital. The attention and care I received was exemplary. What a great group of personnel. It was like one big family showing "are and amiles."

Those smiles will help you heal! I have gone to emergency once this year and was given immediate attention. I go in once a month for lab tests. (It doesn't even hurt.) I was impressed so much with the facility and care, I joined the LCMC Auxiliary.

It is so important to maintain a not-for-profit facility. It is imperative to keep care costs down and clinics open to meet the needs of everyone.

When deciding how you will vote on the mill levy please consider your neighbor and what their needs might be, not just yourself. For those of us who can afford this reduced tax, let's show the county we care about one another. I know many of you live here on a part-time basis but someday you may be as grateful as I that this is not only a beautiful place but has beautiful caring people. Let's keep it that way by voting yes on the mill levy for all those children and elderly who need our support.

A telephone ordeal

To the editor:

For any of you that have had to deal with our new phone company, Valor Telecom, I pity you and sympathize with you also. For those of you who have not had this pleasure, let me warn you.

After going through the litany of pressing 1 for English, 2 for whatever, 3 for .... You will be put on hold (one hour is average).

You will then speak to at least three representatives, you will start over with each new representative, explaining the same thing that you explained to the prior representative. You will be told by the service representative that they don't know how to do what it is you are requesting of them because they just started.

Your order will be deleted from the system because the representative was so confused that they thought it better to just delete your order than try to figure it out. You will probably be hung up on because the representative is too frustrated to continue, or you will get a rude and unaccommodating half attempt to let you know by the representative that they know how to fix your problem, that the last representative you spoke to didn't do something right with your order, then all of a sudden, you realize that you have been put back into their answering system, pressing 1 for English etc...

I have placed my order again today with Valor just like the past nine times this month. I have spent over 14 hours on the phone with them. I timed it.

In practically every situation in life, we are given choices, Chevy or Ford, Cell One or GTE, Furr's or Thriftway. These companies must compete for our business. If they can't deliver, or if we would like a change, we have a choice to go with another company, or shop at another store. But we have no choice when it comes to our phone company. After one month of this, I have given up. This time I have been told that they will be here on Wednesday, but I truly believe that there is no way that Valor Telecom will install two lines for me. I firmly believe that they do not know how.

But they will continue to be our phone company, bad service, incompetence, and all.

Anyway, for those customers and friends who think we have dropped off the face of the earth, we haven't, we have just been Valorized. Call us on the phone number listed "Blue Sky Cabin."

Why not three parties?

To the editor:

Democratic chairman Chay Rennick's response to third party viability got me thinking. Mr. Adamian was fair and just in his criticism of the two-party system. Who else got us into this jam? Who else brought us

OUR RIGHT TO KNOW

The First Amendment

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

Open Meetings

In recognition of the fact that a representative government is dependent upon an informed electorate, it is declared to be public policy of this state that all persons are entitled to the greatest possible information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of those officers and employees who represent them. The formation of public policy or the conduct of business by vote shall not be conducted in closed meetings. All meetings of any public body except the legislature and the courts shall be public meetings, and all persons so desiring shall be permitted to attend and listen to the deliberations and proceedings...

NMSA 1978, Section 10-15-1 a multitude of programs costing the taxpayers billions? Who bought us prohibition for the second time?

The statement that compromise and moderation being necessary to consensus is a cop-out deluge. Voters should not have to compromise their principles and consensus is what you get when you don't get what is right. Insofar as stability being the result of a two-party system, take a look at the price of a gallon of gas then speak of stability.

Your invitation to join in continuing the prosperity and ever-expanding opportunity with a Democratic administration I must turn down. The prosperity you wrote about is evidenced by the fat wallets of politicians, and the ever-expanding part must relate to the over-bloated size of government.

This is one voter who has realized, if we vote the same way we've always voted, we'll get what we've always got. I say, no thanks to bigger government and more of the same. I'll vote a third party and maintain my principles, thank you.

The 20 percent factor

To the editor:

Of the 25,000 bikers who recently visited our town, I would estimate that 80 percent were reasonably well-behaved.

Unfortunately, according to my reckoning, that leaves 5,000 arschöchers (a quaint German expression meaning "ash soles"), which is far too many to tolerate.

GUEST COMMENTARY

The harvest is in flames in North Dakota

BY TOM STEEVER
AMERICAN FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

Fires dot the North Dakota landscape. Unlike the Montana wildfires that destroyed thousands of acres of grass and timber this past summer, these are controlled burns that are putting a disappointing end to the durum wheat growing season. By all appearances farmers in the northern part of North Dakota were on their way to producing a good crop of durum this year. But just as the crop was heading, the area was soaked by weeks of relentless rain. That damaged the crop from a fungal condition known as scab as well as vomitoxin which hurt the crop's feed value.

When it was time to harvest the wheat crop, more rain. Some of the crop had been put into windrows for the combine; some stood through the showers. In most cases the rain caused the wheat kernels to sprout on the stalk.

With that amount of damage, most of the crop was destined for the feed grain market at best, and at a severely reduced market value. Some of the crop was damaged to the point that it would simply not pay to be combined.

That part of North Dakota's wheat crop is being burned instead of being harvested.

It is rare to hear a North Dakota farmer complain about rain, but the laments have become common in the face of a lost durum crop. "The rains definitely were a problem," said Crary, N.D., farmer Paul Becker. "Our yields have been real poor. We're probably going to average not much over 10 (bushels to the acre)." The potential for a good wheat yield was pushed away by the rain. "There was some (wheat) crop that we harvested early this year that was prior to all the rain and there was some of that that was approaching 50 bushels (to the acre)," said Becker. But anything that stood through the extended period of moisture was either severely damaged or lost. Although the wheat is still in the field and on the stalk, the damage caused by the rain has rendered much of it with very little value, even for feed. "We burned two fields just because there wasn't enough out there to even pay the harvest bill on it," said Becker. The fields are burned because the remaining vegetation is too thick to plow and could prevent seeding in the next growing season.

Some of the growers covered by crop insurance either must wait for the damaged fields to be adjusted or leave a small portion unburned that can be adjusted later. "We don't know what to advise the farmers," said Julie Schemionek, an agent in Devils Lake, N.D., with Nodak Mutual Insurance Company. In the interest of not making adjusting errors, Schemionek says crop insurers are reluctant to hastily adjust the crop "and yet they want to be able to help the farmer," said Schemionek. "And that's frustrating."

For those producers who have had their ruined wheat crop adjusted, their harvest is marked by smoke on the North Dakota horizon.

Two trustees sue Nogal water and sewage association

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

NOGAL - The not-for-profit association that provides water to more than 80 Nogal customers is named as defendant in a lawsuit brought by two of its trustees.

Robert A. and Susan E. Moeller filed suit against the Nogal Mutual Domestic Water Consumers and Mutual Sewage Works Association on Oct. 5, in Lincoln County District Court. Also named as defendants were association president James N.

Crouse and trustees Keith Kessler, Caroline McCoy, Michael Lagg and Everett Greer Sr.

The action asks for an accounting of corporate money, appointment of a receiver and for an injunction against future injurious acts such as denying membership to qualified property owners in Nogal and from dealing in water tap rights that belong to the association.

The Moellers accuse the rest of the board of mismanagement and abuse of corporate authority.

Attorney Archie Witham, who was consulted by Crouse after news of the lawsuit, said he has not had time to study the contents in detail, but "this type of lawsuit, even if it is based on erroneous information, is expensive to defend and could force the association out of business."

The association was incorporated in October, 1978, to drill, construct and install water and sewage works facilities. Each member pays $1 and has one vote per dwelling, according to information in the lawsuit.

The water is provided by the city of Alamogordo from its pipeline con-ected to the Bonito Lake Reservoir and is sold to members by the association for domestic purposes.

The couple in the suit claim that in addition to 31 taps being billed, another 14 were added for which the association pays the city of Alamogordo for water used, but does not bill the individual users.

They also contend, the association board:

- Over the objections of Robert Moeller, treasurer of the board, denied admission to membership of additional qualified residents of the village.

- Allowed the sale by board members of water tap rights owned by the association for their personal gain.

- Limited the number of taps to 31, depriving the association of tap fees for water sales and violating the purpose and mission of the association.

The Moellers also claim an August board election was illegal and designed to remove Robert Moeller from his position.

The couple ask for punitive damages for acts of mismanagement and for abusive exercise of corporate power.

SYMPOSIUM 2000

The eleventh annual Lincoln County Cowboy Symposium attracted thousands of visitors, but it was the individual performers who brought it alive.

Record-breaking crowds inundated the Ruidoso Downs Race Track over the weekend for the 11th Annual Lincoln County Cowboy Symposium, an event that was the dream of the late musician and cowboy Ray Reed.

"We estimate more than 18,970 visitors attended the event this year, up from 17,700 last year," said Bruce Eldredge, director of the Hubbard Museum of the American West, which organizes the celebration of cowboy life. "It was a great weekend."

The Darsey Wagon from Texas took top honors as overall winner in the chuck wagon competition that drew 33 entrants and hordes of people eager to sample the trail cooking. The grounds and track building were bursting with the wares of 136 vendors.

Dillon Davenport, one of several Wrangler Boys who demonstrated their skills last weekend at the cowboy symposium, spins his lasso while he's encircled by the rope of Jeremiah Miles.

Cowboy poets and singers were part of the entertainment spread throughout the race track and casino complex for visitors to enjoy.

Victor Hermanson, owner of Custom Saddles & Tack Repair of Bishop, Calif., rests on one of the intricately tooled leather saddles he displayed during the symposium.

Reception for new arts coordinator Thursday

The first paid arts coordinator in Ruidoso will be available to meet the public at a reception 5-7 p.m. Thursday at the Spencer Theater.

Mary Lea Lane was hired by the Ruidoso Arts Commission to administer and promote public arts programs designated by the Ruidoso Arts Commission, and to:

- promote the area as an arts community;
- assess artists' needs and those of arts presenters, and the community's needs for the arts;
- develop at least six new exhibitions for the Art in Public Places program;

- coordinate New Mexico Arts grant applications and report on them;
- act as liaison for the state-mandated Art in Public Places program, which commissions artwork for new public buildings;
- promote the arts through programs, festivals and events.

Artists, patrons and anyone interested in the economic impact of the arts, increased arts education in our schools, arts and cultural promotion and public arts programs is invited to attend the reception to meet Lane.

Hors d'oeuvres will be served.

RUIDOSO POLICE

Theft in midtown

Ruidoso police are looking for a suspect in a Sunday theft from a car parked in midtown. A Capitan woman discovered her auto with a broken out passenger door window when she returned to the car about 1:40 a.m.

The auto had been parked in a lot on Rio Street.

A bag, containing a calculator, cellular phone, textbooks, a checkbook, $200 in cash, some clothing and a CD player, was taken from the vehicle. The items were estimated at $739 in value. In addition, damage to the window and door were set at approximately $650.

The incident is under investigation as felony burglary, felony larceny, and misdemeanor criminal damage to property.

Property sprayed

An Oct. 13 case of misdemeanor criminal damage to property, at a Fern Trail dwelling, was reported to Ruidoso police.

The house was spray painted with wording at three different spots. Damage in the vandalism case was pinned at $45.

Broken vehicle stolen

A vehicle left at a Mechem Drive convenience store after it broke down was reported stolen on Oct. 12. The owner of the vehicle said it was left for almost three weeks at the Allsups at 725 Mechem Drive while repair were being arranged.

The owner told police the car was found missing on Oct. 12. The vehicle had a value of $1,000.

One stop, many charges

A Ruidoso man was arrested Oct. 15, in the aftermath of what a police report said was a #### speeding stop of a vehicle.

Jeremy Nunnekamp, 27, was taken into custody on an outstanding warrant for allegedly failing to pay fines. An officer report stated when the vehicle Nunnekamp was driving was stopped for traveling 50 miles per hour in a 25 zone on Carrizo Canyon Road, alcohol was smelled inside the vehicle.

The officer said he observed an open bottle of beer and a spilled can of beer. After Nunnekamp was arrested, a police "pat-down" found alleged drug paraphernalia.

Nunnekamp was charged with speeding, having an open container of an alcoholic beverage in a vehicle, and possession of drug paraphernalia, all misdemeanors.

Telephone line cut

A Robin Road resident notified police of an incident of criminal damage to property. The victim told police a phone line to her home had been cut again, a situation that has occurred several times this year.

A Ruidoso police officer said the phone line had been "pulled out of the box." The damage was estimated at $50.

Church sign missing

One of the pastors of the Crosspoint Christian Fellowship, 501 Sudderth Drive, reported to police a church sign was missing from the property.

The misdemeanor larceny case was believed to have occurred overnight Oct. 12 - 13.

Upset over billing

Charges have not yet been filed against a woman who is accused of injury to property and battery, both misdemeanors.

The woman, apparently unhappy with a medical billing, allegedly broke a glass office divider at a Sudderth Drive doctor's office.

The woman also was accused of striking an office manager.

Auto stand-off ends

An Otero County man was taken into custody for a mental evaluation after allegedly keeping police at bay for nearly five hours.

The 51-year-old reportedly threatened suicide Oct. 13 in a vehicle in a parking lot at Casino Apache, according to New Mexico State Police. Police said the man was armed with two weapons. A handgun was eventually passed by the subject through a motorhome window to an officer during the negotiations that took place from 1:45 p.m. until 6:25 p.m.

A shot gun was retrieved by police when they entered the motor home.

Possible hit-and-run

New Mexico State Police are looking for the driver of a vehicle found in a field along U.S. Highway 380 near Lincoln. The damaged vehicle was discovered by a patrol officer the morning of Oct. 14.

While blood and hair were found in the vehicle, the driver was not around.

An investigation surmised that the vehicle left the highway and traveled about 130 feet before going airborne for about 30 feet.

The vehicle then landed, blowing out all four tires from the impact, police said. Police are investigating the incident as hit and run.

Village development regulation enforcement receives affirmation

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Ruidoso's Planning and Zoning chief said his department will enforce development regulations.

The stand was spelled out in a memorandum delivered to those involved in the building trades, said Joseph Patoskie, planning and zoning administrator.

"What initiated this was hillside protection," Patoskie said. "I started with our own code book. There was a wealth of information that allowed my department to enforce what was in there."

The memo went to surveyors, architects, contractors and others.

"We received a lot of calls and met with some," said Alan Briley, Ruidoso's village manager. "They were saying we're setting new rules. But they are in the code. They just haven't been enforced so much. It's time to say we're going to start implementing the ordinances."

Alan Briley,
Village manager

ing with some involved in the planning and construction sectors.

"Our intention is to focus, as the code does, on hillsides of greater than 20 percent slope," Patoskie said. "That where the problems have been."

Recent discussions in the Planning and Zoning Commission have involved hillsides, and development impacts on neighboring properties.

"We want to prevent erosion and other problems I've been faced with," said the relatively new planning administrator. "If we can deal with this' up front, before problems start, that's the time to treat this."

Increased use puts strain on village treatment plant

Septic disposal to cost more

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Residents of the Ruidoso area having a septic tank pumped by a sewage hauler will be paying more, because the dumping charge at the regional wastewater treatment plant has more than doubled.

Ruidoso village councilors Tuesday upped the dumping charge from 7 cents per gallon to 17 cents per gallon.

"In August we decided to do away with septic in the plant," said Alan Briley, Ruidoso's village manager.

Briley explained that the wastewater treatment plant has had a continual problem digesting septic waste. The high concentration of solids in septic waste, coupled with the anaerobic effluent, created problems. The treatment plant utilizes aerobic digestion, which was described as inconsistent with septic waste.

"It was killing us at the plant," Briley said. "It was really hurting us bad."

Briley said it is imperative, however, to have a place for waste to be deposited to avoid having it illegally dumped in a ditch or other undesirable location.

"It (septage) comes from all over Lincoln County," Briley said. "We have to be the solution."

A storage facility will allow septic waste haulers to dump their loads and a contractor will then haul the septage for spreading on land at a farm outside Roswell.

The charge of 7 cents per gallon fell far short of the expense of treating the waste. Briley added that the charge also failed to cover the estimated $650,000 cost of expanding the plant to cover modifications that would be required to continue to treat septage. The cost of hauling waste pumped from septic tanks to the Roswell location was listed at just over 16 cents per gallon.

Briley estimated a typical 1,500 gallon septic tank would require a $220 to $230 charge for disposal. He figured the increased cost at approximately 120 percent.

"It's going to hurt," said Doug Haynes, owner of Ruidoso Septic Tank. "We'll hear about it from people. We hear it now."

Haynes said his firm would pass on the $120 additional charge for a 1,200 gallon septic clean-out. That would raise the cost to $345.

"All this does is offset our actual cost," Briley said. He defended the change, saying sewer rate payers in Ruidoso should not be forced to pay for treatment plant upgrades that would otherwise be required to deal with septic loads that come from everyone in the county.

Hearing delayed for Herrera; DA's Downs investigation nearly finished

BY JAMES KALVELAGE
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A grievance hearing for terminated Ruidoso Downs fire chief Nick Herrera was postponed Tuesday, in part on the belief a criminal investigation is in the final stages.

Herrera's attorney, Robert Beauvais, said Tuesday that he and the village's attorney, Dan Bryant, agreed to delay the hearing.

"Dan called and said he had a call from the DA saying the investigation was complete or very close to complete," Beauvais said. "That would take away the impediments we had."

Beauvais has been pressing the village for documents the village contended warranted Herrera's dismissal. He said the conclusion of the investigation should provide the documents he sought, which Beauvais said have been denied.

Bryant agreed that information from the DA's office suggested the five month probe was nearing an end.

"A suggestion has been made that this administrative (grievance) process be put on hold, pending the outcome of the criminal investigation," Bryant said. "I've not agreed to put it on hold pending the outcome."

The village attorney said investigative records could impact the hearing one way or the other.

Beauvais contended the close of the investigation could also fulfill Herrera's desire that the post-termination hearing be in public.

"There was also the conflict that Herrera wants an open hearing, and (District Attorney) Scot Key would not honor any guarantee that hearing testimony could not be used in the criminal investigation," Beauvais said.

The attorney said an additional reason for delaying the hearing was the unavailability of village clerk Gladys Dillard and former village manager Bob Durrett. Both were to testify in the grievance hearing.

Bryant called the unavailability of the two the main reason for postponing the hearing.

Herrera was placed on paid suspension by former village manager Durrett on May 4. The village council voted to terminate the eight-year fire chief on Aug. 28. The reason was not publicly disclosed on the stand that it was a personnel issue. Herrera said at the time he was not told why he was terminated.

A felony criminal probe was undertaken in May by Key's office and the New Mexico

State Police. Bank records of a fire department account were subpoenaed. Public access to an audit of the fire department earlier this year village was denied because it was said the audit was part of the investigation. Village officials had claimed there was mismanagement in the fire department.

Herrera and other former members of the mostly volunteer department charged a new Ruidoso Downs administration was bent on getting rid of Herrera and others.

District attorney Key was unavailable Tuesday to confirm a completed investigation.

Beauvais and Bryant said they would like Herrera's post-termination hearing to take place before Thanksgiving.

Abandoned vehicle burns

CARRIZOZO - An abandoned vehicle was destroyed by fire Tuesday, on U.S. Highway 54 about 15 miles north of here.

The Ford pick-up truck was believed to have been disconnected from a car hauler who was transporting the vehicle south, said Lincoln County Undersheriff Ricky Verden.

A motorist who called 911 to report the fire reportedly said another vehicle was leaving the location. That call was received at the sheriff's department dispatch center at 9:29 a.m.

The Carrizozo Fire Department responded to the fire. Verden said just the frame of the pick-up truck remained after the flames reached the vehicle's gas tank.

Extensive trip pays for tossed cigarette

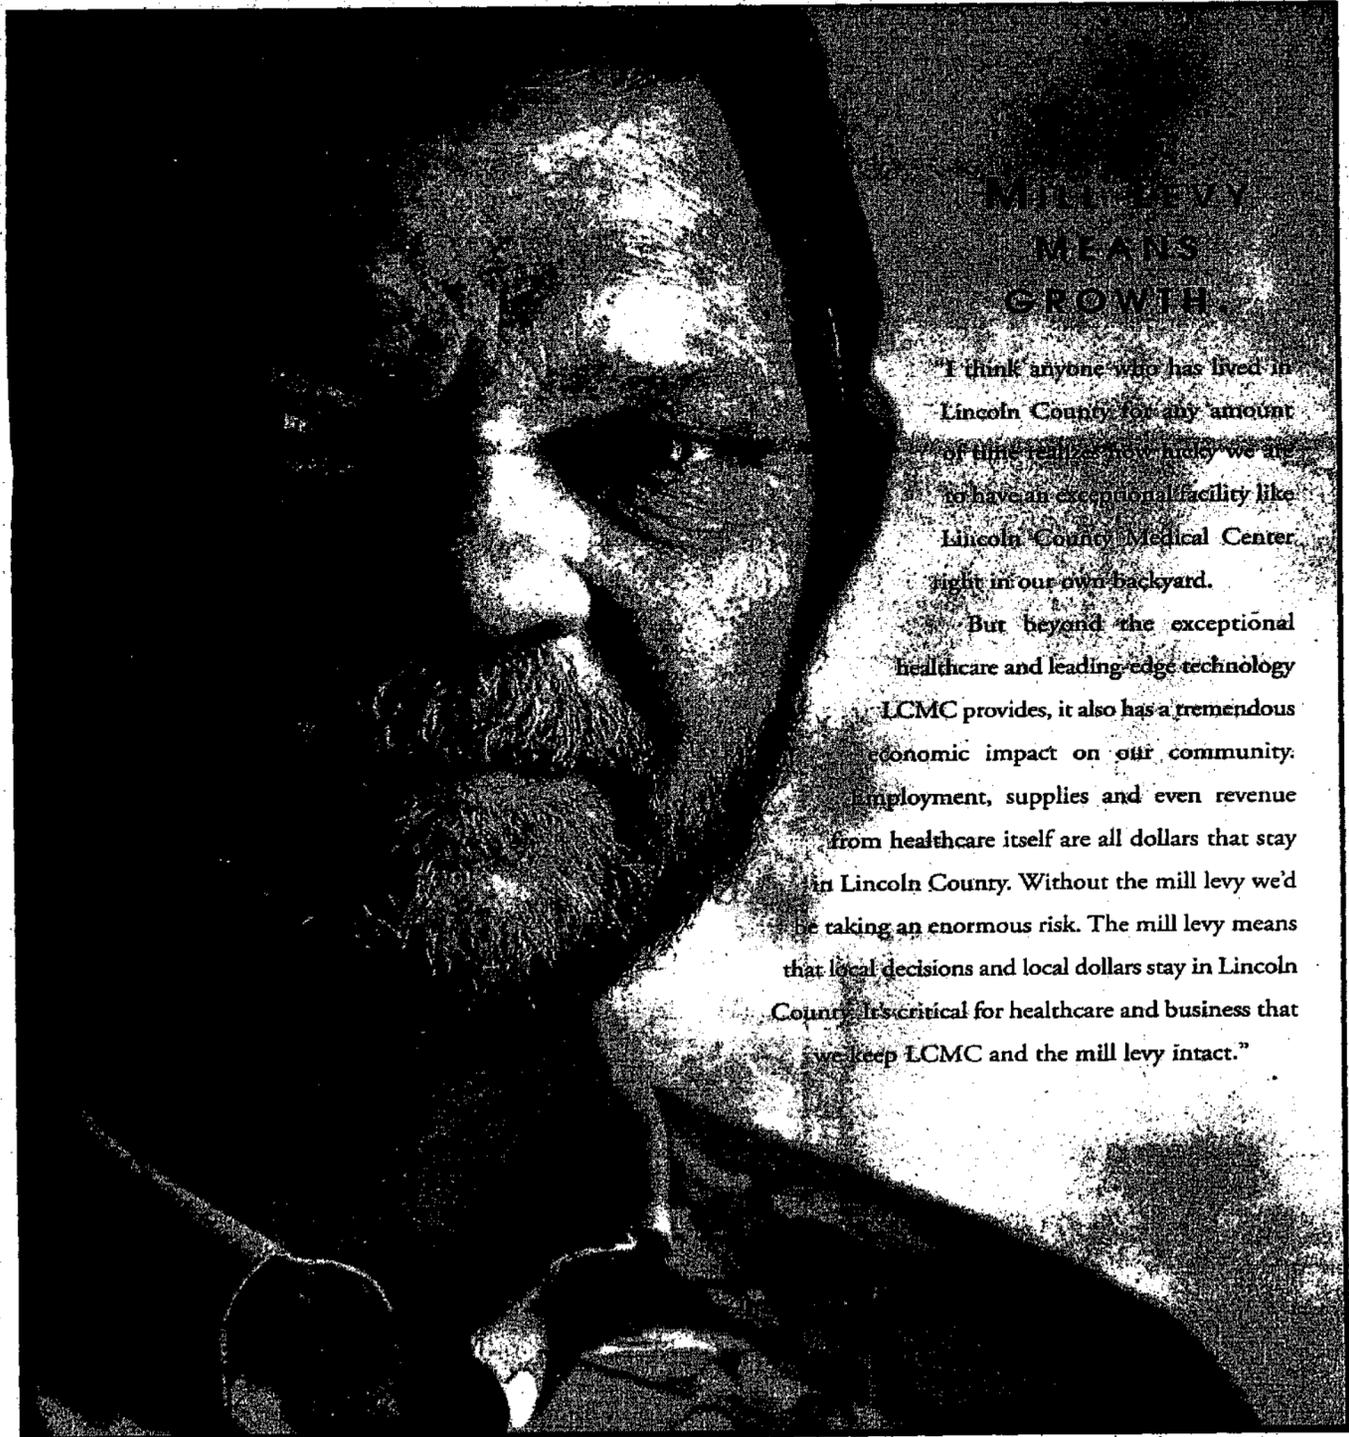

An Albuquerque woman cited during the annual motorcycle rally in September for tossing a cigarette into the street pleaded guilty to the charge Monday.

Municipal Judge Mike Line suspended her $117 fine on the condition that she has no future offenses.

Jackie Teal, 43, told Line she drove that morning from Rio Rancho and missed a day of work to come to court. She wasn't aware of the town's law against outside smoking and throwing cigarettes from a motorized vehicle, she said.

"It's been a pretty expensive lesson for thumping a cigarette," Line told Teal. "We're in a forest and during the summer when we're at high level of fire danger, this offense carries a $500 fine."

"But I think this is a lesson learned and this seems fair."

"I think anyone who has lived in Lincoln County for any amount of time realizes how lucky we are to have an exceptional facility like Lincoln County Medical Center right in our own backyard.

But beyond the exceptional healthcare and leading-edge technology LCMC provides, it also has a tremendous economic impact on our community. Employment, supplies and even revenue from healthcare itself are all dollars that stay in Lincoln County. Without the mill levy we'd be taking an enormous risk. The mill levy means that local decisions and local dollars stay in Lincoln County. It's critical for healthcare and business that we keep LCMC and the mill levy intact."

Ruidoso's soccer team (15-4, 4-2) got some practice in preparation for the state tournament Saturday.

The Warriors squared off against the Mayfield junior varsity Saturday in Ruidoso, downing the Trojans 7-1.

Facing a AAAAA team of mostly junior varsity players (with four Trojan varsity seeing some action), Ruidoso used the match as a chance to keep in shape leading up to state.

Coach Dave Anderson said he rotated his players around every five minutes, giving the starters a chance to play in different positions and the bench a chance to see some action.

"I tried to mix it up a little bit. I tried all kinds of things," Anderson said.

The Warriors still had an easy time, with Jesse Anderson, the team's regular goalie, scoring two goals, and Manuel Medrano, Daniel Duncan, Solomon Barnett, Mike Cichuniec and Ryan Blackman tallying one each.

This time, Warriors can't undo mistakes

BY KAREN BOEHLER
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

The full moon cast a golden glow over Horton Stadium Friday night, but the bad luck attributed to Friday the 13th put a pall on that scene, as neither Ruidoso (4-3, 0-1) nor Lovington played mistake-free ball.

And when the lights finally went out, Lovington had won the first District 4AAA matchup of the season, downing the Warriors 30-21.

Ruidoso took advantage of two big Wildcat mistakes, scoring its first touchdowns on interceptions: a short carry by Cade Hall following an interception by Chad Swanner and a Todd Schrader pass to Ben Lundquist after a pickoff by Josh Adams.

But Ruidoso failed to take advantage of other Lovington mistakes, including a fumble recovery and yet another interception in the first half, and a Ruidoso recovery of its own kick and another fumble recovery early in the second half.

"If we would have taken advantage of the turnovers our defense gave us, we should have scored more than 21 points," Ruidoso coach Rodney Webb said. "Our mistakes were we didn't tackle very well, No. 1. We allowed a team to do to us what we have seen on film all year. ... There wasn't anything different about what they did. We just gave up too much."

Webb said Ruidoso's problems were on both sides of the ball.

"We just didn't play very heady on that side (defense) of the ball," he said. "Offensively, we just didn't take advantage of mistakes, and we made too many mistakes. Dropped too many passes and missed too many blocks. The better team won. We've just got to get better."

The Warrior offense keeps an eye on the action while the defense does its job during Friday's District 4AAA opener against Lovington.

Wildcat coach Speedy Faith said his team didn't play as well as it should have, but credited the squad with never giving up.

"We made too many mistakes," Faith said. "It's something that was unbelievable, but our kids just refused to lose."

The 'Cats were relentless, marching down the field in short bursts and scoring on runs by Josh Faith and Gilbert Sanchez. Both tallied two TDs each, Faith's last after Joe Hart got the ball on a bounce that J.R. Floyd couldn't hold on to. Rusty Hargrove added to the Lovington tally with an eight-yard field goal.

Ruidoso got its final tally on a pass from Schrader to Floyd early in the third quarter.

Webb said the Lovington defense did what it needed to against Ruidoso. "The way they played us defensively was daring us to run," he said. "They were going to take away the pass. They started doing that in the second quarter, and when they got up by a field goal, we kind of felt like we really had to throw the ball at that point. We went to the well one too many times and they got that interception."

Faith gave credit to his receivers, but said they couldn't have done it without help.

"Josh ran the ball well, but he can't do it without that offensive line up there," the coach said. "He'll be the first one to tell you. Those guys blocked well and created a lot of holes."

Webb said the Warriors simply got beat by a better team, and now know what they need to do.

"Everything that we dream of and we dreamed of achieving this year we can still do it," he said. "We've just got to do it by winning out the rest of our games. If we lose again, our season's going to be over."

Capitan is two games away from a perfect district volleyball season.

Saturday, the Tigers defeated Hatch Valley 15-5, 15-12, 15-7, to up their season record to 13-2 overall, 6-0 in District 5AA.

"We did pretty good," said coach Sherry Gowen.

Gowen said both teams were strong at the service line, with Capitan missing only six serves in the match and Hatch four.

"It was just pretty good serving all the way around," the coach said. "We served in locations and kept them moving the whole time."

She credited Jessica Neal with some good service points and said freshman Candle Turner saw some playing time, doing "very well" at the net.

Gowen said she knew going into the match the Bears would be improved from the teams' first meeting.

"It was a good win," she said. "We knew they were going to come over here and be more intense. They had seen us already and they had made adjustments and we still just played our game. It didn't matter what they did."

Playing their game is what Gowen is proudest of, and said to win in district and beyond, Capitan needs to continue to bring their game to the opposition.

"We need to do what got us here," she said. "Where we're at right now. If it's not broke, don't fix it. I was pleased with them."

Capitan was scheduled to meet Dexter in a non-district game Tuesday, then wraps up the season at home against Cloudcroft Thursday, and travels to Lordsburg for a game that could decide the district champion Saturday.

Nagging injuries and a tough Ram squad led to a Ruidoso (4-12, 1-3) volleyball defeat in Portales Saturday.

Warrior coach Fran Webb said her squad played OK, but came out on the short end, 4-15, 7-15, 8-15.

"I'd say our passing hurt us," the coach said. "And Portales was hitting very well."

Senior Leah Miller also wasn't 100 percent, still recovering from a sprained ankle.

"So she wasn't as mobile in the front row," Webb said. "She had a little trouble blocking. Just moving as much as she had to move. That kind of hurt a little bit. But we played OK. We just needed a little more help because they were hitting well. We knew it was going to be a tough game."

The Warriors were scheduled to face Santa Teresa Tuesday at home, then wrap up the regular season Saturday vs. Lovington.

Warriors slow, Tigers solid at Hobbs run

BY KAREN BOEHLER

Ruidoso cross country coach Ronny Maskew was not pleased with his team's performance at Hobbs Saturday.

"We did terrible," he said. "We had two kids who looked like they tried to run at all. The rest of them, it was the worst we'd run in several years. But it will not happen again."

Maskew said only Josh Romero, who finished third, and junior varsity runner Lynette Jacobs, ran well. He said Jacobs showed a lot of improvement.

"She was one of our JV girls, and now she's probably going to be on the varsity this weekend," the coach said. "We didn't have everybody else run well at all. We had a little cup of tea and talked it over, and it will not happen again," he vowed.

In contrast, Capitan's Tigers ran as a varsity team for the first time this season, finishing seventh behind much bigger teams.

"It's just fun to look at the team totals and see Capitan up there," coach Zale Woodward said.

Armand Nicolet and Brit Ventura both had personal bests on the day, as did Randi Goss and Jessica Castenada. Woodward said Goss broke her best time by almost a minute.

"The girls really ran well," Woodward said. "They went out and ran the first mile in a real good time, and put themselves in the position to have a real good time."

Eighth grader Kyle Booty, who's new to the sport, felt ill after getting off the bus and ran with the junior varsity.

His time, however, was good enough to finish third among the Capitan boys.

Both teams and Mescalero will be competing along with another dozen AAAAA to AAA teams at the Ruidoso Invitational Thursday. With competition including Gadsden, Alamogordo, Clovis, New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, Roswell Goddard, Dexter, Artesia, Carlsbad, Hobbs and Tucumcari, Maskew predicts solid competition.

"It'll be a very good meet," he said. "We're looking forward to it," Woodward said. "The kids are excited. We consider this our home meet."

The meet begins with the boys varsity at 3:15 p.m., followed by the girls varsity at 4 p.m., and the junior varsities at 4:30 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Results of the Hobbs Invitational follow.

CARRIZOZO — Neither team in Thursday's volleyball match between Carrizozo (11-6, 5-1) and Mountainair — which was ostensibly for the top seeding in the district tournament — played like a district championship team.

After almost two and a half hours on the floor, Mountainair finally won out over the Griz-zies, 14-16, 15-12, 15-12, 9-15, 18-16.

By the end of the match, the players — and the large, loud contingents of fans from both sides — were clearly exhausted, but the problem, said Mountainair coach Brahm Hindi, was that the teams played like they were tired from the start.

Bears run over Tigers

Capitan and Cloudercroft faced off Saturday in what Tiger coach Ed Davis called "one of the best games in the state," but for Capitan, "best" didn't equate to a victory, as the Bears pulled off a low-scoring 12-7 District 4A win.

For three quarters, the Tigers held a slim lead. Justin Hunter put Capitan (4-4, 0-1) up in the first quarter with a 75-yard run.

Cloudercroft came back in the second with a touchdown, but missed the extra point, and the score stayed 7-6 for the Bears of the game.

The Bears played an offense that ground ahead yard by yard. "Their offense was the old type of football," Davis said. "Three yards and a cloud of dust. They just felt like for them it was four downs. They never would punt. Three yards, three yards, three yards. That's 12 yards. That's first and 10. And that's the philosophy they used on us."

Cloudercroft dominated the second-half offense, limiting the Tigers to two possessions, both in the fourth quarter. "We touched the ball twice in the second half, and I knew 7-6 would not win the game," Davis said. With 2:15 left on the clock, the Bears were 3rd and 19 on their 40, and the Tiger defense let them through.

"They got a first and 10, and I think that was probably the clincher of the game," the coach said.

Cloudercroft then threw its only pass of the game, a two-yarder that was run in 25 yards for the final score.

"They outplayed us," Davis said. "Our defense was just incapable of stopping them at critical times. We'd stop them, but whenever we needed to really stop them, they were able to come up with the clutch down. The clutch run."

Still, the coach was pleased with his squad's effort.

"They worked hard and busted their butts, and left everything on the field," he said.

Although the loss put the Tigers at 0-1 in district, Davis isn't calling the season over.

"There is always some room for improvement, we are not out of the championship," he said. "We can still be in the playoffs if we beat Animas, and you never know what's going to happen Friday night in Cloudercroft with Animas. So there's always hope. You don't ever give up. You keep plugging."

The Tigers close their home season at 7 p.m. Thursday in a non-district game vs. the Alamogordo sophomores.

MESCALERO — Early in Saturday's six-man football game between Mescalero (0-6, 0-4) and No. 2-ranked Ramah, it looked like the Chiefs might be able to pull off one of the biggest upsets of the season.

Mescalero got on the board first, recovering a Mustang fumble and scoring on a short run by Raymond Bigmouth. The kick by Tony Chimal was good, giving the Chiefs an 8-0 lead.

But that was all Mescalero could muster, finally falling 53-8.

"It's the same old thing," said Chiefs coach Roland Bradford. "We come out and score the first touchdown, and we get momentum then all of a sudden the wheels fall off."

The Chiefs recovered their own kick following the touchdown, but a fumble three plays later led to the first Mustang touchdown, and by the end of the quarter Ramah led 20-8.

Still, Mustang coach Ron Stevenson said his team didn't come ready to play. "We just came out flat," he said. "We didn't play good at all."

And he gave credit to the Chiefs. "They played a good game," he said. "They looked good, especially for as young a kids as he has."

Austin Clawson took care of most of the scoring duties for Ramah, tallying five of the Mustang's eight touchdowns. Tucker Simons, Ian Anderson and Ephraim Montague added one each.

Mescalero looked solid early in the game, but Bradford said the team needs to stay that way throughout its games. "A lot of things looked a lot better, but in order to become consistent, we've just got to get over those mistakes, and you could've very well see that," he said. "Just little mistakes. They're killing us."

'ZOZO: Grizzlies miss in five

all," he said. "We just get real lackadaisical and sit back and watch and we can't do that."

"There were a lot of mistakes," said Grizzly coach Jeanna Morton. "About the third game we got tired. We started picking it back up in the fourth and fifth game, but we had too many errors. ... It's all those small errors that got us every time. We had too many serving errors. We let balls hit the floor. We had some bad plays — choices on our hits. We just wanted to knock it through the wall and we did. And so therefore we lost the point there."

Mountainair led early in game one, with the Grizzlies coming back on five straight serves — the longest run in the match for "Zozo" — by Kayla Hammond.

Jane Garley got the Mustangs back on top with nine serves, but Mountainair committed four serving errors while needing only one more point, and Cheri Sanchez took Carrizozo over the top.

Mistakes continued by both sides through the fifth, rally scoring game. Neither side could hold a serve — giving the point to the opposition — until late, when Sanchez finally strung four together to go up 12-11.

But while the serving improved on both sides, play on the floor didn't, with the Mustangs finally gritting out the win. The Grizzlies were playing without senior starter Stella Brewer, and Christa Franck rolled her ankle in the first game. But Morton said that wasn't an excuse.

"(Franck) didn't get up on some that she normally would have gotten, but we had a lot of other mistakes to go along with that," the coach said.

The question is now which team will win district. Both Carrizozo/Mountainair matches went five games, with each team winning at the other's home court.

Assuming both teams win their remaining matches, Hindi said if his squad defeats Vaughn in three games (Carrizozo won in four), they'll take the home advantage in the tournament. If not, the winner will come down to a point spread.

Tatum 3, Carrizozo 0
Saturday, the Grizzlies fell to Tatum in a non-district match, 7-15, 2-15, 10-15.

Morton said the squad was missing two seniors, Kayla Hammond and Stella Brewer, which affected the game, "but not to the extent that we were beaten."

Morton said poor passing was the team's downfall.

"The girls were mentally and physically tired and were unable to make productive passes," she said. "In each game we failed to convert on just more than half of our serves."

The serving itself was not bad, Morton said.

Grizzlies stampeded by Mustangs

BY MATT WARREN
FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

CARRIZOZO — Mountainair's Mustangs broke down Carrizozo's defense Friday as they Mustangs crushed the Grizzlies, 63-18.

Mountainair visited Carrizozo for the Grizzlies fourth district game. The Grizzlies (3-4, 2-2) stayed with the Mustangs (5-2, 3-1) for a little while during the first quarter. However, after Grizzly Bryan Bartz injured his ankle late in the first quarter, Mountainair shot ahead and never looked back.

"After Bryan got hurt, the rest of the team just let their heads down," Pat Ventura, Coach and started walking toward the Carrizozo sideline. He reached the closest hash mark and collapsed, clearly in pain.

He limped off the field, supposed by a coach and player, and after returning from the locker room on crutches with a bandaged ankle, spent the rest of the game on the sidelines.

Ventura said Bartz suffered a broken tibial and torn ankle ligament, and is out for the rest of the season and probably most of the Grizzly basketball season.

Mountainair continued to score from there and Kintana scored another run of 30 yards in the first half.

Coming into the second half, Carrizozo player Richard West scored the last two touchdowns for the Grizzlies. When the Grizzlies did score, they attacked quickly, using only two or three plays to get to the end zone.

"Carrizozo's coach does a good job with his kids; we always come in expecting a hard hitting game," said Ventura.

"When you lose a kid who has an important role on the defense and a key role on the offense, what can you do?" said Ventura.

Carrizozo's Saturday last game is 2 p.m. Saturday in Ramah. Carrizozo's junior high will also play at 11 a.m. Saturday in Ramah.

Hondo splits in district Lincoln County cowboys, cowgirls earn honors

BY KAREN BOEHLER
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

Hondo (6-11, 4-2) had a split weekend in volleyball, defeating Mesilla Valley 15-9, 15-11, 16-14 Friday, then falling to Hagerman 3-15, 9-15, 12-15 Saturday.

Coach Ray Barela was pleased with the Eagle effort Friday.

"The girls all played very, very well," he said. "The service was great. Can't say so much for Saturday."

The reason for Saturday's loss may have been a tough travel schedule.

Hondo traveled to Las Cruces to meet Mesilla Valley, getting home at 1 a.m. Saturday. Then, they had to be back on the home court Saturday at 1 p.m. to face Hagerman.

"We just never could bring it back," Barela said. "I tried to get the girls pumped up, but they just never could come back. It was not a very pretty game. They did not play up to their potential."

Still, after a slow start to the season, the Eagles could finish tied for second in district with Mesilla Valley.

"I'm very proud of the girls," Barela said. "The improvement. (They've made) great strides. And it's all attributed to their hard work. They've been working very hard."

The coach is hoping the team can finish off the regular season on a high note, but isn't counting his chickens.

"Naturally, we were all disappointed about Saturday's loss," he said. "We did not play up to our potential and we were very, very sluggish. At this point, we're just looking ahead to the next two games. We're just going to take them as they come."

SOCCER: Warriors edge Trojans

"I was real pleased with them," Anderson said. "(Mayfield was) a little bit stronger (than when Ruidoso won 3-1) but we played them a little better."

The Warriors have three games remaining on the regular season, and Anderson is hoping to schedule a scrimmage against Santa Teresa late this month in Alamogordo.

The District 4A-AAA rivals will be in opposite brackets at the state tournament, and Anderson said he and Desert Warrior coach

Josie Francis are hoping to meet in the state championship.

"(The scrimmage will) be a good testing zone for both of us," Anderson said. "It's our advantage to keep them in top shape, because that way they knock out the better teams in their bracket. They want us to do the same thing. They want us to knock off the better teams."

The Warriors compete in the Alamogordo junior varsity tournament Saturday, then wrap up regular-season play with a makeup game vs. Artesia Monday at home.

Mescalero falls to 'Cats, Warriors

BY KAREN BOEHLER
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

Mescalero (5-12, 2-6) had two tough games last week, falling to Hagerman 2-15, 1-15, 9-15 Thursday and Gateway Christian 4-15, 4-15, 5-15 Saturday.

Chiefs coach Ardena Orocco said her squad "played pretty strong" vs. Hagerman, but was unable to break several Bobcat servers.

Saturday vs. the Warriors, Mescalero would stay close early but then fade, and several Gateway servers strung together long point totals.

Still, Gateway coach Sandra Roberson said the Chiefs made her squad work for the win.

"They gave us a good game," she said. "We had to scramble a lot, but I was pleased with the girls' play. They covered the court well."

After starting the season late, the Chiefs have been playing catch up with a minimum of two games a week. Orocco said the schedule is taking its toll.

"They did a good job," she said. "It's just getting to the end of the season and it's getting long."

RATING CAPITAN

The State Board of Education has provided details about how the Capitan Municipal School District won an "exceeds standards" rating in the state's first measure for accountability.

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

The State Department of Education sent out general "report cards" to school districts in New Mexico in August, and on Sept. 18, sent more detailed "report cards" showing ratings on specific study areas.

Capitan Municipal School District had received overall ratings of "Exceeds Standards" at the elementary and high schools, and "Meets Standards" at the middle school.

"I knew when the middle school got a 'Meets Standards' that the middle school had to have some problem areas," said Diana Billingsley, superintendent of schools.

The median percentile score for students on standardized testing is 50-60 percentile for schools rated as "Meets Standards," while it is 61-70 percentile for schools rated as "Exceeds Standards," according to a table provided by the SDE. Another table indicates that for the rating "Exceeds Standards," there are no data points in the probationary area.

Capitan Middle School received a "Probationary or below expectations" rating in math for students who were in the sixth grade in the 1999-2000 school year. This group also received an "exceeded standards" rating in science and a "met standards" rating in reading, language arts and social studies.

"The board asked me why they received probationary status in math," Billingsley said. "I told them a teacher had a baby and we had a long-term substitute for six weeks."

Academic growth between the 1998-99 and 1999-2000 school years was also evaluated by comparing the test scores for sixth-grade students moving up to the seventh grade. Capitan Middle School students in this group were rated as "exemplary" in social studies, "exceeded expectations" in language arts, "met expected growth" in math and science, but were "probationary or below expectations" in reading.

Billingsley said the probationary status in growth in reading didn't make sense to her, but "We're working on that by adding the Shurley System, a grammar-teaching program that encourages students to read for detail and sentence structure as well as doing more reading in the seventh-grade level."

Growth for students moving from the sixth grade in 1998 to the eighth grade in 2000 was rated probationary in science, also, and Billingsley said the district has "not quite figured out why those kids didn't do too well on that test."

Billingsley said she would have preferred to have more detail from the SDE.

"I'd like to have the identified content standard that the test tested and, specifically, what exact content standard that our kids are not doing well in, because there are lots of content standards that make up the test," she said.

"All we get is the scores as a whole. We don't know the specific areas the kids are doing well or not well in, so we know how to focus our instruction."

Capitan Elementary and High Schools were among only 8.3 percent of the state's schools to be rated as "Exceeds Standards," while the middle school was among 59.6 percent of the state's schools to be rated as "Meets Standards."

"What surprised me," Billingsley said, "was the number of exemplaries scattered out. Every grade has an exemplary (rating). That's nice to know. Of all the results, having only two problem areas is really quite good — only two things we need to work on in all these different grades and sub tests at every level."

The status of other public schools in the county will be reported as they become available.

EDUCATION BRIEFS

Evening with ENMU

"An Evening with Eastern" is set for Ruidoso at 7 p.m. on Nov. 2 in the conference room at the Ruidoso School Administration Building, 200 Horton Circle. The event is geared toward high school students, their parents and non-traditional students. The focus will be on financing one's college education as well as gaining information about Eastern New Mexico University. For more information, contact Sue Kluthe at ENMU Ruidoso at 257-2120.

Gifted session due

Ruidoso Municipal School District's Gifted Program Advisory Committee will meet at 4 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 26 at the Administration Building, 200 Horton Circle. The public is invited. For more details, call Paul Wirth at 257-4051.

Sierra Vista book fair

Scholastic Book Fairs come to Sierra Vista Primary School Oct. 18-26 to share exciting books and learning products with young readers. Parents and teachers will find plenty of items that will interest them, too. The fair will be from 8:30-11 a.m. and 12:30-3 p.m. A family event will be from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Oct. 26 and everyone is welcome. Look for the classroom wish-list display to see how you can help build your child's classroom library. The book fair helps promote learning while raising money for books for the library. Call Linda Proctor at 258-4943 for more information.

Celebrating 200 Years Presidents in the White House

This is a drawing of how the White House might have looked from the south entrance in 1800. At that time, it was grander than almost any house Americans had ever seen.

A photo of how the south entrance looks today. This view overlooks the huge back yard. A porch has been added.

John Adams moves in
John Adams, our second president, moved into the White House on Nov. 1, 1800. He was the first president to live there.

For 200 years the White House has been a home for the president and his family. The White House also is:

- a symbol that leadership can pass from one president to another in a peaceful way. For 200 years, every four years, we have decided who will live there.
- an office for the president and the people who work for him.
- a museum with many valuable objects.

When Bill Clinton moves out on Jan. 20, 2001, 40 presidents will have lived there. The new president will be moving in soon.

John Adams greeting his wife, Abigail, on Nov. 16, 1800. She arrived 16 days after he moved in.

The White House is open on a regular basis, free of charge. No other home of a leader of a country is so open to the public.

John Adams

John Adams was a lawyer from Massachusetts. He was a leader in the American Revolution and an outstanding founding father. He helped draft the Declaration of Independence.

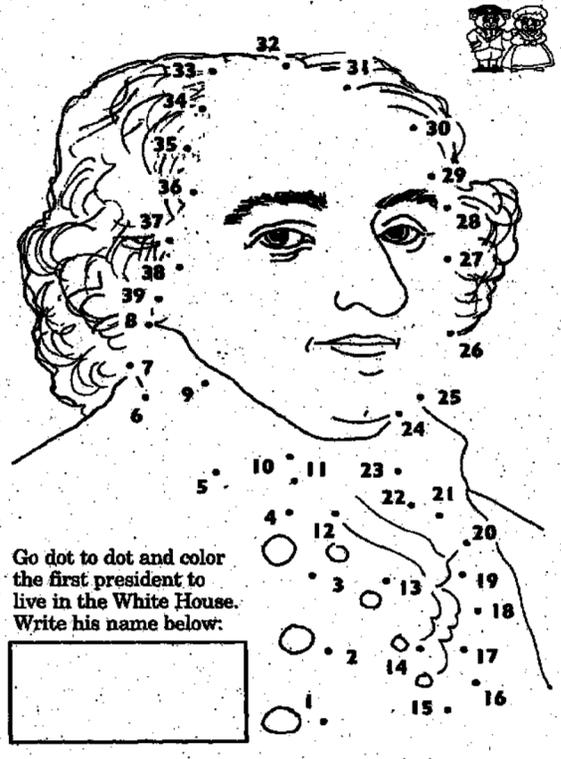

John Adams (1735-1826)

When George Washington became our first president, Adams served as our first vice president. He then served one term as president, from 1797 to 1801. During his second day in the White House, Adams wrote these words:

"I Pray Heaven to Bestow the Best of Blessings on THIS HOUSE and on All that shall hereafter Inhabit it. May none but Honest and Wise Men ever sit under This Roof."

MIGHTY FUNNY'S Funny Phonics

It's fun to learn phonics, or the way words sound. This week's target sound is the one made by the TR blend, as in the word tree.

- Q: Where did the tree go on a Saturday night?
A: To a lumber party!
- Q: What gives milk and has one horn?
A: The milk truck!
- Sue: A train just passed.
Lisa: How do you know?
Sue: I saw its tracks!
- Q: What do policemen have on their toast?
A: Traffic jam!

Go on a TR word hunt. How many words can you find with the TR blend? What sound do you hear?

WHITE HOUSE TRY 'N FIND

Words that remind us of the White House are hidden in the block below. Some words are hidden backward or diagonally. See if you can find: ENTRANCE, ADAMS, PRESIDENT, HOME, RECEPTIONS, FIREPLACE, GUESTS, ROOM, STAIRS, HALL, PLANS, DESIGN, OVAL, PUBLIC, SERVANTS, STYLE, SITE, SYMBOL.

The White House's First First Family

At left is the first known illustration of the north view of the White House, printed in 1807.

Levees
Like President Washington, John Adams liked to hold receptions called "levees." The president would usually stand before a fireplace. The guests would be ushered into the room, walk up to him and then bow as an aide announced the guest's name. Then the guest would bow back into a circle. The president then would walk around the circle and say a few words to each man. After a signal from an aide, the guests would walk up to the president, bow, and then leave the room. These were very formal, stiff occasions. The guests dressed in their best from head to toe. John Adams did not shake hands at a levee. He preferred that people bow to him, as they had to President Washington. President Thomas Jefferson stopped the bowing. He felt that a handshake would do just fine.

The Marine Band
The Adamses asked the Marine Band to play at the New Year's Day Reception. While bands from other services play at the White House, the Marine Band is known as the "president's own." It has played at the White House for 200 years.

Look through your newspaper for news of the presidential election. Next week: Read all about who haunts the White House. Also, vote for a safe Halloween.

Abigail Adams
Abigail Adams did not have much schooling, but she read a great deal and was well-informed. She often gave her husband her thoughts on matters. Some people called her "Mrs. President." She was known for her style and manners. She is well-known for the words, "Remember the ladies," which she wrote to her husband when he was in Philadelphia at the time the Declaration of Independence was adopted. John Quincy Adams, the son of Abigail and John Adams, became president in 1825. He is the only president's son to do so.

Abigail Adams (1774-1818)

John Quincy Adams (President, 1825-1829)

A drawing of George Washington looking over the building of the White House. Washington was the only president who never lived in the White House.

George Washington
George Washington was out of office before the White House was finished. He died before John Adams moved in. But he set a fine example and helped create a national monument that has lasted 200 years.

As he had done with the Capitol Building, Washington helped select the site and the architect for the White House and was very interested in its progress. He wanted our country to build a house that would last long past the present day — and it has.

Much of this issue is based on the book, "A Kid's Guide to the White House" by Mini Page editor Betty Debnam. It was written in cooperation with the White House Historical Association and published by Andrews McMeel Publishing. The Mini Page thanks the White House Historical Association for help with this issue. You can visit the association's Web site at www.whitehousehistory.org.

Joan's View From Two Rivers...

Part of a Chamber Exec's job description is to represent their business community at various state and local events. It's not only a productive way to promote your community, but you get to hear what others are involved with and do that "networking" thing we all hear so much about.

Last month I represented you at the 1st N.M. Economic Summit in Albuquerque. The majority attending were from north of I-40, along with a few of us from the south like Ruidoso Downs Mayor Bob Miller and Trustee Jim Bassett, aka TNMP.

It became clear that our state is faced with many of the same challenges regarding business development that we have here. One of the major differences, however, is that presently the state has more folks leaving than relocating which is not the case for us. Secretary John Garcia, a longtime friend to Lincoln County, began the Summit by saying "Economic development is driven by the policies and vision of the leadership and that it's quality is based on the earnings of the workforce--ie. good jobs equal a good economy. He illustrated his new buzz word "COOPERATION" - saying that we must quit our fighting and work together if our economy is to prosper. My all-time favorite quote during the Summit, because it literally said it all, was "We must have big, hairy, audacious goals! So true, so true.... No one ever got anywhere by looking down at the ground and thinking small."

Unlike our own state, we are not at the bottom of the rankings, BUT we do face some issues that if not addressed will begin to chip away at our crown. One of those is our workforce - how to improve the numbers and the quality. Another is the recognition of the importance of fostering a "Business Friendly" environment BOTH by the private sector, as well as by local government. We need to do all we can to move forward on the expansion of our technological infrastructure because change does not happen in an instant. Most importantly, because all of the above hinges on it, we need to prioritize the creation of public-private partnerships. We must be "CITIZENS 1ST and TAXPAYERS 2ND".

Why is this so important? Because it is community development that drives economic development.

On Thursday,

November 16 (8:00-5:00PM) the Chamber will be hosting our "Winter Mountain Summit" at the Swiss Chalet who will at 5:30PM host our monthly BAH's. For those of you new to our area, the Mountain Summits are held in the Winter and Spring to allow members to voice their concerns followed by their solutions and to hear from various individuals representing interests important to our membership. We should have much to discuss.....we usually do.

A big THANK YOU to all who have responded to the L.C. Business Survey! We are sincerely appreciative to all of you for sharing your story with us. For those of you who haven't completed yours, please take the time. You don't want to be left out of the process or the Business Directory that will be published.

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH..."It's always smart to remember that the Ark was built by a group of volunteers and the Titanic by a bunch of experts." Now go have a "Mountain Kind of Day!"

(**Thanks Wilton)

Joan

Do your business cards sell for you?

Markus Allen's tips suggest the following:

- Laminate your card - they're harder for others to throw away.
- List your services on the back or a testimonial.
- Avoid neon colors - they're harder to read.
- Give it the "grandma test" - if they can't read the type, it's too small.

Building a Disaster Resistant Community PROJECT

Wildfire... Are you Prepared?

There, home owners enjoy the beauty of the environment but face the very real danger of wildfire.

Wildfires often begin unnoticed. They spread quickly, igniting brush, trees and homes. Reduce your risk by preparing now - before wildfire strikes. Meet with your family to decide what to do and where to go if wildfires threaten your area. Follow the steps listed in this ad to protect your family, home and property.

Practice Wildfire Safety

People start most wildfires... find out how you can promote and practice wildfire safety.

- Report hazardous conditions that could cause a wildfire.
- Teach children about fire safety. Keep matches out of their reach.
- Post fire emergency telephone numbers.
- Plan several escape routes away from your home - by car and by foot.

- Talk to your neighbors about wildfire safety. Plan how the neighborhood could work together after a wildfire. Make a list of your neighbors' skills such as medical or technical. Consider how you could help neighbors who have special needs such as elderly or disabled persons. Make plans to take care of children who may be on their own if parents can't get home.

When Wildfire Threatens

If you are warned that a wildfire is threatening your area, listen to your battery-operated radio for reports and evacuation information. Follow the instructions of local officials.

- Back your car into the garage or park it in an open space facing the direction of escape. Shut doors and roll up windows. Leave the key in the ignition. Close garage windows and doors, but leave them unlocked. Disconnect automatic garage door openers.
- Confine pets to one room. Make plans to care for your pets in case you must evacuate.
- Arrange temporary housing at a friend or relative's home outside the threatened area.

If advised to evacuate, do so immediately

- Wear protective clothing - sturdy shoes, cotton or woolen clothing, long pants, a long-sleeved shirt, gloves and a handkerchief to protect your face.
- Take your Disaster Supplies Kit.
- Lock your home.
- Listen for evacuation sirens. Intown sirens will sound in emergencies only, except for testing every other Monday night.
- Tell someone when you left and where you are going.
- Choose a route away from fire hazards. Watch for changes in the speed and direction of fire and smoke.
- Tune radio into KWES/KBUY.
- For Emergency Alert systems, listen for evacuation in the area and where emergency shelters will be placed.

If you're sure you have time, take steps to protect your home:

- Close windows, vents, doors, venetian blinds or non-combustible window coverings and heavy drapes. Remove lightweight curtains.
- Shut off gas at the meter. Turn off pilot lights.
- Open fireplace damper. Close fireplace screens.
- Move flammable furniture into the center of the home away from windows and sliding-glass doors.
- Turn on a light in each room to increase the visibility of your home in heavy smoke.
- Seal attic and ground vents with pre-cut plywood or commercial seals.
- Turn off propane tanks.
- Place combustible patio furniture inside.
- Connect the garden hose to outside taps.
- Set up the portable gasoline-powered pump.
- Place lawn sprinklers on the roof and near above-ground fuel tanks. Wet the roof.
- Wet or remove shrubs within 15 feet of the home.
- Gather fire tools.

Protect Your Home

- Regularly clean roof and gutters.
- Inspect chimneys at least twice a year. Clean them at least once a year. Keep the dampers in good working order. Chimneys and stovepipes with a spark arrester that meets the requirements of National Fire Protection Association Code 211. (Contact your local fire department for exact specifications.)
- Use 1/2-inch mesh screen beneath porches, decks, floor areas and the home itself. Also, screen openings to floors, roof and attic.
- Install a smoke detector on each level of your home, especially near bedrooms. Test monthly and change the batteries two times each year.
- Teach each family member how to use the fire extinguisher (ABC type) and show them where it's kept.
- Keep a ladder that will reach the roof.
- Keep handy household items that can be used as fire tools: a rake, axe, handsaw or chainsaw, bucket and shovel.

Before Wildfire Threatens

Design and landscape your home with wildfire safety in mind. Select materials and plants that can help contain fire rather than fuel it. Use fire resistant or non-combustible materials on the roof and exterior structure of the dwelling. Or treat wood or combustible material used in roofs, siding, decking or trim with UL-approved fire-retardant chemicals. Plant fire-resistant shrubs and trees. For example, hardwood trees are less flammable than pine, evergreen, eucalyptus or fir trees.

Create a 30 to 50 foot safety zone around your home.

- Within this area, you can take steps to reduce potential exposure to flames and radiant heat. Homes built in pine forests should have a minimum safety zone of 100 feet. If your home sits on a steep slope, standard protective measures may not suffice. Contact your local fire department or forestry office for additional information.
- Rake leaves, dead limbs and twigs. Clear all flammable vegetation.
- Remove leaves and rubbish from under structures.
- Thin a 15-foot space between tree crowns, and remove limbs within 15 feet of the ground.
- Remove dead branches that extend over the roof.
- Prune tree branches and shrubs within 15 feet of a stovepipe or chimney outlet.
- Ask the power company to clear branches from powerlines.
- Remove vines from the walls of the home.
- Mow grass regularly.
- Clear a 10-foot area around propane tanks & the barbecue. Place a screen over the grill - use non-flammable material with mesh no coarser than one-quarter inch.
- Regularly dispose of newspapers and rubbish at an approved site. Follow local burning regulations.
- Place stove, fireplace and grill ashes in a metal bucket, soak in water for two days, then bury the cold ashes in mineral soil.
- Store gasoline, oily rags and other flammable materials in approved safety cans. Place cans in a safe location away from the base of buildings.
- Stack firewood at least 100 feet away and uphill from your home. Clear combustible material within 20 feet. Use only UL-approved woodburning devices.

Emergency Supplies

When wildfire or any disaster threatens, you won't have time to shop or search for supplies. Assemble a Disaster Supplies Kit with items you may need if advised to evacuate. Store these supplies in sturdy, easy-to-carry containers such as backpacks, duffelbags or trash containers.

- A three-day supply of water (one gallon per person per day) and food that won't spoil.
- One change of clothing and footwear per person and one blanket or sleeping bag per person.
- A first aid kit that includes your family's prescription medications.
- Emergency tools including a battery-powered radio, flashlight and plenty of extra batteries.
- An extra set of car keys and a credit card, cash or traveler's checks.
- Sanitation supplies.
- Special items for infant, elderly or disabled family members.
- An extra pair of eyeglasses.
- Keep important family documents in a waterproof container. Assemble a smaller version of your kit to keep in the trunk of your car.

Wildfire and other types of disasters - hurricane, flood, tornado, earthquake, hazardous materials spill, winter storm - can strike quickly and without warning. You can cope with disaster by preparing in advance and working together. Meet with your family to create a disaster plan. To get started...

Contact your local emergency management at 258-4014 or your local American Red Cross chapter.

- Find out about the hazards in your community.
- Ask how you would be warned.
- Find out how to prepare for each type of disaster.

Meet with your family

- Discuss the types of disasters that could occur.
- Explain how to prepare and respond to each type of disaster.
- Discuss where to go and what to bring if advised to evacuate.
- Practice what you have discussed.

Plan how your family will stay in contact if separated by disaster

- Pick two meeting places:
  - 1) a place a safe distance from your home in case of a home fire.
  - 2) a place outside your neighborhood in case you can't return home.
- Choose an out-of-state friend as a "check-in contact" for everyone to call.

Complete these steps

- Post emergency telephone numbers by every phone.
- Show responsible family members how and when to shut off water, gas and electricity at main switches.
- Contact your local fire department to learn about home fire hazards.
- Learn first aid and CPR. Contact your local American Red Cross chapter for information and training.

POOP SCOOP

BY DIANNE STALLINGS RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Every time I received something in the mail from People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, I hesitate to open it. I know something gruesome lies inside the envelope, because PETA is fighting against the cruellest treatment of animals. But if they didn't, would the animals have anyone who cared? PETA takes on big corporate interests and the government, something that many other groups that focus more on pet rescue and humane treatment can't or won't do. Sometimes they may seem extreme, but they believe strongly that every minute they aren't fighting, another animal is suffering, possibly for the promotion of a new lipstick or face powder. Recently, I was polled as part of a national referendum conducted by PETA. I thought

I'd pass along a few things contained in the information sent along with the ballot. This year, millions of animals will be killed every month in commercial, military and federally funded university laboratories," wrote Ingrid E. Newkirk, PETA president. "That's tens of millions of innocent animal lives lost. Why?" At a cost of billions of tax and consumer dollars, animal experimentation has become a bad habit that is scientifically unnecessary, medically unreliable and shockingly cruel, she wrote. Particularly cruel are the tests to which about 10 million animals are subjected each year to test new products, she stated. Her examples were: "Household product firms determine the poison level of floor wax and detergents by injecting these substances into the stomachs or under skin of rabbits, rats, mice and guinea pigs, producing vomiting, diarrhea, convulsions and paralysis. The lethal dose ends only when half of the animals die with no pain killers." "Some cosmetic companies subject rabbits with the heads immobilized in 'stocks' to the infamous Draize test. Their eyes are smeared with skin creams, mascara, hair spray or shampoo. Since rabbits have no tear ducts, they cannot wash their eyes clean. The predictable results include corneal ulcers, hemorrhaging and blindness." The tests become even more nightmarish when its obvious that they are unnecessary, Newkirk wrote. "New technologies offer us proven alternatives that are far cheaper, more exact and more humane," she wrote. They include computer assays, simulated tissue and body fluids, live cell cultures, mass spectrometry and has chromatography, she stated. More next week on what you can do to help.

Text includes: 'Sponsored by the RUIDOSO NEWS', 'HOURS Tuesday through Saturday Noon - 4 p.m.', '257-9841', and descriptions of the dogs: 'Kilbasa and Hormel are 2 of 4 weenie dog mixes. Small and stubby at 6 months old, they are ready for a secure home and people to play with.' and 'Wilber is a gentle hearted young man. At 4-5 months old he will grow up to be a beautiful silky coated german shepherd mix. His personality is on the shy side.'

Week of Oct. 18-24, 2000

Libra: (Sept 23 - Oct 22) The moon is high - what will it bring? The past, present, or future? Don't let this "HIGH TIME" pass you by. Use it for the good!
Your thoughts will be full of questions but your questions don't give answers. Make three wishes come through by acting upon them now.
Cancer: (June 21 - July 22) You'll feel most unusual for now. Use this time for wishing for things you need and want. Don't play around! Go for the Gold!
Leo: (July 23 - Aug 22) Love and money are not the same. You have to work at both - not at the same time. Make a list of what's important in your life and go after it.
Virgo: (Aug 23 - Sept 22) Being right doesn't mean it's right for someone else. All you can do is love someone and hope they make the right choices for themselves.

NINE DAYS ONLY!

GATEWAY MOTORS

$4900 VEHICLE ACQUISITION EVENT!

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS: CHOOSE ANY NEW OR PRE-OWNED VEHICLE IN STOCK and you pay a $49 Acquisition Fee*. The title is then transferred to your name and you begin monthly payments which are clearly marked on over 100 new, factory auctioned, daily rental and previously owned vehicles. These vehicles have been brought together at this location, for Nine Days Only, for their immediate disposal! It's that simple - begin monthly payments on any new or used vehicle in stock and pay just a $49 Acquisition Fee!* Remember this is not a lease!

OVER $2.5 MILLION WORTH OF INVENTORY FOR DISPOSAL DURING THIS EVENT!

DO NOT THROW THIS INSERT AWAY!

IF YOUR NUMBER MATCHES OURS, YOU COULD BE THE WINNER OF $10,000 cash
YOUR LUCKY NUMBER IS: 08125**

Don't be concerned about your current pay off...when we make a deal, we'll pay off your trade no matter what you owe!

WITH DISCOUNTS AS HIGH AS $6,500, YOU MAY BE ABLE TO UPGRADE TO A NEW OR NEWER VEHICLE AT, NEAR OR BELOW YOUR CURRENT MONTHLY PAYMENT!

ALL CREDIT APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED***

SUBJECT TO BANK APPROVAL
BANK REPRESENTATIVES will be on hand to assist you with plans to fit your needs!*
