Commission appoints U.S. 70 aesthetics advisory board

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

The new committee is not scheduled to have any members of a local Hondo Valley preservation group, but does represent both sides of the four-lane issue.

A nine-member advisory board to give input on aesthetic considerations tied to the design of U.S. 70 was appointed last week by the Lincoln County Commission, but not without lengthy debate.

Members of the Valley Community Preservation Commission, a group that sought compromise on the design of the highway to better preserve the history and atmosphere of Hondo Valley and cover safety concerns, said they were disturbed not to see any of their representatives named to the board.

Rex Wilson, county commission chairman, explained that the five names suggested last month weren't a final list, just a starting point.

Dave Pennington of the Albuquerque-based Parsons

Brinckerhoff, project consultant, said the role of the task force would be to advise on tree replacements and such items as the appearance of retaining walls.

"They will not replace public information requirements," he said. "But they will be part of the overall public involvement."

"We have no intention of delegating that to a small group."

Susan Jimenez, whose husband, a well known sculptor and professor of art at the University of Houston, is active in the valley group, and asked what type of qualifications candidates for the task force must have to advise on aesthetics.

"Nothing more than to be appointed by the board and to have expressed an interest," Wilson said.

Pushing for at least two representatives on the board, Jimenez said, "We represent a lot of families in the valley. We have about 175 members."

Pennington stressed that the task force would look at project enhancement, but would not be discussing the basic design, which by that time will have been approved by the Federal Highway Administration.

"It's not a decision-making body," Wilson agreed. "It's there to provide local input."

Pennington said separate task forces may be assembled

Proposed lower ambulance funds could hurt county, village taxpayers

The new reduction would affect reimbursement for ambulance services

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A proposed reduction in the federal reimbursement for ambulance service would significantly impact Lincoln County, says the director of the county service.

To cover the deficit, higher rates or an increase in county subsidy may be required.

Jim Stover, who through the Lincoln County Medical Center manages Lincoln County's emergency medical services as well as those for the village of Ruidoso, told county commissioners Thursday the Congressional Balanced Budget Amendment is shrinking federal dollars.

To meet requirements of that amendment, a cut of $1.1 billion, or about one-third of Medicare's previous cost for ambulance service reimbursement, is anticipated. Toward that goal, the federal government wants to establish a standard reimbursement for ambulance runs no matter where the location, the distance to hospitals or the size of the department, Stover said.

"San Diego would be the same as Corona," he said.

The standard was suppose to be set by Jan. 1, 2000, but was postponed several times. Last year, federal health officials proposed a fee of $157 for basic life support ambulance runs, although the actual cost is closer to $270, he said.

"There was a lot of turmoil in the industry and many private services closed their doors," he said. Other services such as the county's, which are subsidized, are hanging on trying to get members of Congress to realize that disparity between the figure on which federal reimbursements would be based and the actual cost.

"It would devastate the ambulance industry," Stover said.

Small rural services must keep crews on call although the number of runs is low. Ambulances also must travel much greater distances compared to cities, where hospitals are close and multiple calls are run every hour, he said.

"Three ambulances running all day long generates a lot of revenue," he said. "In a rural county, you staff all day long and may only have one run."

The county is helped because many of its emergency medical workers are part-time paid employees, Stover said, but standards costs such as gasoline, equipment and operation of EMS stations can't be adjusted.

Federal discussion also has included increasing by 50 percent the $5 per mile transport fee up to 17 miles for rural services, he said.

"That shows the East Coast mentality," Stover said. "Seventeen miles doesn't begin to cover the usual distances here. Twenty-five to 30 miles is more likely and if we're going to Corona, it could be more than 90 miles."

"Services around the country are waiting for the newest numbers, Stover said. Once they are released, the department will have to file for new rates with the state. The Public Regulatory Commission has agreed to try to act quickly to approve the new rates, Stover said.

Some of the anticipated changes in federal reimbursement included:

- The federal government will pay only for one patient reimbursement even when multiple patients from an accident are transported.

"We used to help subsidize the department" with multiple patients, Stover said.

- If only basic life support is needed, but a paramedic is part of a crew that intercepts a run from a remote area like Corona to finish the ride to the hospital, reimbursement only will be for basic life support.

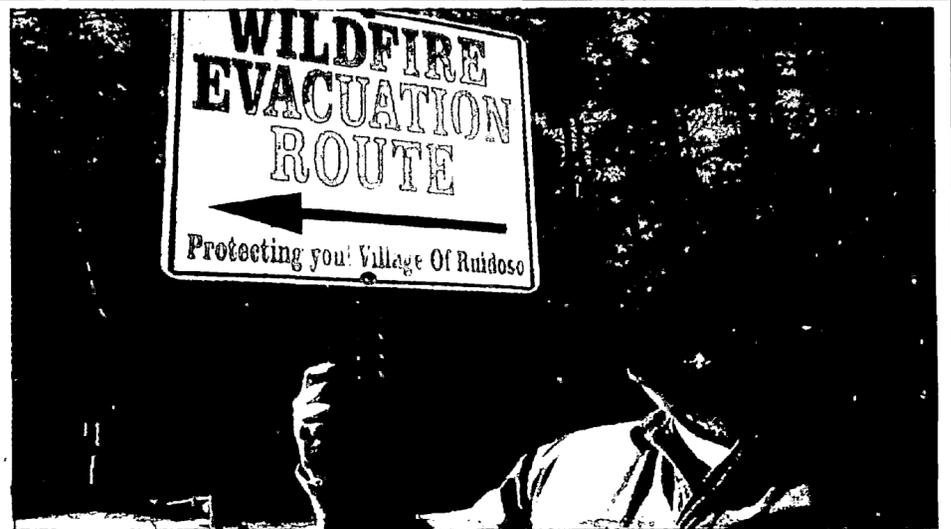

"We no longer will be paid on who is providing the care, only for the level of care that was needed," he said. "That's no problem for a metropolitan department because they can staff with tiered responses. We can't do that in a rural area. These changes have some long-range implications."

He told commissioners he hopes the decision is delayed again.

"It would be better to fix it first then try it and go back in to fix the problems," Stover told commissioners.

"It would devastate the ambulance industry."

POINTING THE WAY

70 signs to mark emergency route out of Upper Canyon

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

An escape route from Upper Canyon through Ponderosa Heights and exiting on Mechem Drive will be marked by 70 signs, said Thomas Chavez, Ruidoso emergency manager.

Although village and emergency officials, along with representatives from the Mescalero Apache Reservation that abuts the end of Main Road in Upper Canyon, have discussed possible emergency exit routes in case of fire or flood, legistics, terrain and costs have stood in the way.

The escape route outlined with signs by Chavez is toward the beginning of Main Road and is a few miles away from those staying in homes farther up the street, but it provides an alternative to heading all the way out to Sudderth Drive.

The route also would help people in Ponderosa Heights, which is more heavily populated year-around, Chavez said.

"We started putting up signs Feb. 18 and probably will be finished by March 1," he said Friday. "There are so many roads up there, it would be confusing in case of an emergency for seasonal residents and tourists. The signs will spell out exactly in which direction to head and where to turn. This is a one-way canyon with no exit. An alternate route is needed."

The escape route heads up the mountain on Ebarb Drive, then right on Maple Drive onto Brady Canyon, left to Ponderosa Drive and onto Mechem.

About 130 people ended up attending a candidates debate in Capitan Monday, even though it was called off by the organizer after rumors of threats surfaced.

Lincoln County Sheriff Tom Sullivan said Tuesday he was planning to attend the session anyway, because every position up for election is hotly contested. But before the designated time, he began receiving calls from friends who heard that the meeting was canceled because of threats.

"I told them, this is Capitan, not Chicago and we'll have the meeting," Sullivan said.

By the time he arrived at the Capitan school complex, where the session was scheduled, the superintendent had put out signs about the cancellation, Sullivan said.

But seven out of the 10 candidates for the board of trustee were there, two of the three mayor candidate and some for the judge position, he said.

"Everyone clapped when they said I would take over the meeting," he said. "I laid out the ground rules and it went off without a hitch."

House fire kills woman

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A local woman died in a fire about noon in a trailer on Sunday at 1003 North Street in Ruidoso Downs, according to Ruidoso Downs Fire Chief Charles Anderson.

Delia V. Hardee, 42, was in the bedroom at the time her 14-year-old son smelled smoke and tried unsuccessfully to open the door, Anderson said. Two others living there, Sandra Ortiz and Sonia Luna, were not home at the time of the fire.

"The Fire Department was already there before I got there," Anderson said. "They called me at 20 minutes to 1 p.m. and had contained the fire to the one bedroom. The young man woke up at noon, checked his mom, but he couldn't get in the door so he laid down again. Then he smelled smoke, tried to open the door and couldn't get it open, so he went to neighbors and called 911."

Windows were broken and there was smoke damage. The cause of the fire is still unknown as the case is still under investigation, the fire chief said, and the New Mexico State Police were asked to assist in the investigation.

Changes abound at Ruidoso News

A changing of the guard is taking place at the Ruidoso News this week, as the newspaper has a new editor and sports editor.

Former editor Michael Scanlon, at the paper since November 2000, has moved to take a job at the Las Cruces Sun-News. Wes Schwengels, formerly the sports editor at the Ruidoso News, has been selected to take Scanlon's place at the editor's post. His first day as editor was Monday.

Schwengels moved to Ruidoso as sports editor in February 2001 from Arizona, where he had worked as sports editor for the Tombstone Epitaph.

"Michael will certainly be missed, both here at the newspaper and in the community, but I aim to try my best to replace him and continue to improve the Ruidoso News," Schwengels said.

Todd Fuqua has been hired as the new sports editor, taking on the task of covering Lincoln County's five high schools, as well as Mescalero and the racetrack.

Fuqua comes from Roswell, where he worked for three years as a reporter and, eventually as sports editor of the Daily Record. Fuqua covered several high schools in Roswell, as well as other professional and amateur sporting events.

"I look forward to following the teams in the Ruidoso area," Fuqua said. "The fact I have several family and friends living here helps."

by the state highway department to comment on specific issues. Safety concerns such as ensuring access for emergency vehicles and providing escape routes during flooding, should be covered by companies bidding on the project, he said.

Charles Reed objected to wording in the resolution forming the task force that it was to "serve" at the pleasure of the county commission, but Wilson said that language is standard for any appointed board. Reed pointed out that one member already named tried to stop efforts for a bypass away from the valley and to erect billboards along the scenic byway.

Commissioner Leo Martinez noted that some individuals being proposed actively oppose the four-lane concept.

"So we have both sides," he said. "I thought this was to represent people along the road as problems came up. I'm not advocating for the highway department, but if that (four-lane) design is picked, that's the way it will go."

The task force shouldn't be arguing about that basic design, he said. After learning that the preservation group joined litigation filed by rancher Gerald Ford against the FHA over the project, he asked that his name be removed from the task force because he doesn't want to be part of an on-going debate on the design issue after it is settled. Instead, he will continue to intervene on behalf of people who have specific problems with the project at their property as he has in the past, Martinez said.

Commissioner Rick Simpson said the task force was designed to relay the feelings of the community as a liaison, not to make decisions.

Someone suggested that each settlement along the highway be given a representative, but commissioners said the board would be too large to be effective.

Commissioner William Schwettmann said such groups are public relations entities with the job of alerting people to days when blasting or road closures may occur and to explain why.

Members named to the advisory task force are artist Joe Dunlap, Glencoe store owner Ray Sanchez, San Patricio contractor Dennis Noeker, RV park owner Johnnie Van Winkle, state Preservation Officer Elmo Baca, Gerald Ford ranch foreman Royce Griggs, Billy the Kid National Scenic Byways representative Margie Morales, Commissioner Simpson and Valley Community Preservation Commission member Reginald Richey.

Why talk about a Family Disaster Plan?

- Disaster can strike quickly and without warning. It can force you to evacuate your neighborhood or confine you to your home. What would you do if basic services, such as water, gas, electricity, or telephones were cut off? Local officials and relief workers will be on the scene after a disaster, but they cannot reach everyone's right away.
- Families can and do cope with disaster by preparing in advance and working together as a team. Knowing what to do is your best protection and your responsibility. Learn more about Family Disaster Plans by contacting your local EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT OFFICE AT THE NUMBERS BELOW.

Here is how to create your Family Disaster Plan:

- Meet with your family and discuss why you need to prepare for disaster. Explain the dangers of fire, severe weather, and earthquakes to children. Plan to share responsibilities and work together as a team. Keep it simple enough so people can remember the important details. A disaster is an extremely stressful situation that can create confusion. The best emergency

- plans are those with very few details.
- Discuss the types of disasters that are most likely to happen. Decide what to do in each case. Everyone should know what to do in case all family members are not together. Discussing disasters ahead of time will help reduce fear and anxiety and will help everyone know how to respond.
- Pick two places to meet:
 - Right outside of your home in case of a sudden emergency, like a fire.
 - Outside of your neighborhood in case you can't return home or are asked to leave your neighborhood. Everyone must know the address and phone number of the meeting locations.
- Develop an emergency communication plan. In case family members are separated from one another during floods or other disasters, have a plan for getting back together. Separation is a real possibility during the day when adults are at work and children are at school.
- Ask an out-of-town relative or friend to be your "family contact." Your contact should live outside of your area. After a disaster, it is often easier to make a long distance call than a local call. Family members should call the contact and tell him or her where they are.

- Emergency plans must know the contact's name, address, and phone number.
- Discuss what to do if authorities ask you to evacuate. Make arrangements for a place to stay with a friend or relative who lives out of town and/or learn about shelter locations.
- Be familiar with escape routes. Depending on the type of disaster, it may be necessary to evacuate your home. Plan several escape routes in case certain roads are blocked or closed. Remember to follow the advice of local officials during evacuation situations. They will direct you to the safest route; some roads may be blocked or put you in further danger.
- Plan how to take care of your pets. Pets other than service animals are not permitted to be in places where food is served, according to many local health department regulations. Plan where you would take your pets if you had to go to a public shelter where they are not permitted.
- Post by phone emergency telephone numbers (fire, police, ambulance, etc.). You may not have time in an emergency to look up crucial numbers.
- Out your beds every six months so they remember what to do, meeting places,

Cearley pleads no contest

The former Lincoln County deputy entered the plea on two felony charges Friday.

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A former Lincoln County deputy pleaded no contest to two felony charges Friday in Carrizozo.

Larry Cearley, who worked from 1993 to 1999 for the sheriff's office and was hired as Magdalena marshal in January 2001, was charged with 12 counts of forgery and one count of attempt to defraud.

He entered a plea of no contest to one count of forgery, a third-degree felony, and to attempt to defraud, a fourth-degree felony.

Judge Karen Parsons of the 12th Judicial District ordered a presentence review and a forensic evaluation.

Cearley was arrested March 28, 2001, in Socorro County. According to court documents, the charges stemmed from a court hearing in which Cearley was accused of introducing false evidence in the form of altered check duplicates to reflect he had paid child support.

The amount of money exceeded $2,500.

After leaving the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office, Cearley sued for wrongful termination, but Sheriff Tom Sullivan said that case was dismissed in federal court.

Shear fun: See sheep get shaved

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

For those who might wonder about the origin of the wool in their favorite sweaters, the owner of Laughing Sheep Ranch in Lincoln will provide some answers Saturday.

By calling Sally Canning, people can arrange to stop by to see the shearing of the ranch's commercial Blackface and registered Rambouillet sheep starting at 9 a.m. and running through most of the day.

Head shearer will be David Cunningham, who also is a member of the U.S. Forest Service's Hot Shot wild fire fighting team.

The shearing is a chance to learn more about the vital agricultural industry in Lincoln County, an integral part of the area's history, that is battling drought conditions and market fluctuations to survive, Canning said.

For more information about the ranch's location, select a good time to visit, or Canning at (505) 653-4011.

I would like to give my thanks to all who helped me during and after my accident on Feb. 11, 2002. Starting with the gentleman on the motorcycle who tried to make a difference in calling in the fast racing suburban. To my friends and the strangers during the wreck before police and paramedics arrived. And while laid up in the hospital, for all the visitors, the flowers, phone calls and all the prayers said for me.

Unfortunately three young lives were taken. The lives of a student and myself were pardoned. The good Lord works in mysterious ways. I thank the Lord for saving our lives. And again I thank you all.

OUR OPINION

Municipal election time approaches

It's time for all the villages' citizens to make decisions

Citizens in all the municipalities of Lincoln County will renew an exercise in democracy next Tuesday when they go to the polls to elect mayors, trustees or council members and — in Capitan — a municipal judge.

Every village has issues its citizens need to help resolve by voting for those candidates they believe will best serve their interests.

It is worth remembering (whatever the election outcome) that at every level of government, lawmakers are elected as representatives of all the people, not merely those who voted for them.

It follows, therefore, that every citizen must make it his duty to keep those elected representatives informed about how they are doing their job.

It is the duty of every elected person — mayor, trustee or judge — to abide by their oaths upon taking office, and to the best of their ability meet the obligations of that office — and to keep in touch with their constituents.

Anything less cheats the people, the office, and the institution of democracy.

Gov's not a total whacko

It is not that Gov. Gary Johnson is a total whacko or anything. He isn't.

Look at the evidence. You don't build a company from scratch into a cash cow that enables you to catapult into the governor's office, without a lot of smarts and a lot of drive.

LOOKING ASKANCE
NED CANTWELL

Johnson fans, too, will point out he is a straightforward fellow who is not afraid to stand up for his principles, totally oblivious to the harsh spotlight shined upon him by a flabbergasted public.

Wait a minute, though. Could it be that just a tiny bit, just a sliver of his motivation to adopt controversial positions might be to attract that spotlight?

So here we see Governor Johnson, with boneheaded stubbornness, waving a silly toy pig above his head as he repeats the refrain, "If pigs could fly, maybe I could sign this budget."

Newspaper photographers loved it. Television photographers loved it. And you just know Johnson loved it, too.

Never mind New Mexicans spent tons of money sending scores of their representatives to Santa Fe to develop the state budget, a process of intense liberal and conservative thinking. Johnson's own party had plenty of input. Makes no difference. So what if the state government could be heading toward shut-down? Where's my silly pig? Where's the camera?

Governor Johnson's celebrated stance on legalizing drugs puzzled most of his constituents and horrified those in law enforcement. Even top Republicans, those who would normally be his primary defenders, started crossing the street when they saw him.

But, look. Who is that on the talk show? And we don't mean the obscure Dyson Report on Albuquerque TV, we mean national showcases such as Meet the Press. Well, darn if it isn't Governor Johnson of New Mexico talking about legalizing drugs.

Governor Johnson seems so intent on making a spectacle of himself that, by comparison, Governor Jesse Ventura of Minnesota almost starts looking like a normal guy.

Folks over in Carlsbad first became aware of Johnson early in his first campaign when the quiet of a Sunday morning was shattered by the roar of a speedboat. There was the water-skiing future chief executive in a skimpy Speedo. Pecos River matrons, depending on their predilection, were either dismayed or delighted. Governor Hunk.

New Mexico's top dog was in Utah last week; and, because he is an incredible physical specimen, you half expected him to show up in Salt Lake, ready to compete in some sport. You just know it would have been huge. Governor Spandex.

Johnson is, for sure, the Governor Different in the City Different. And that is all okay until it starts getting in the way of New Mexico's progress. That is exactly what is happening with his nutcase refusal to sign a state budget.

The next time the governor promises to sign the budget only if a pig could fly he needs to use another prop. He needs to prop up a stuffed Dumbo.

Ned Cantwell (cantwell@zianet.com) is a retired newspaperman living in Ruidoso. He says, "If Governor Johnson ever has legislation before him forbidding Cantwell to wear a Speedo, he should sign it at once."

LETTERS POLICY

The Ruidoso News encourages letters to the editor, especially about local topics and issues. Each letter must be signed and must include the writer's daytime telephone number and mail address. The phone number and mailing address will not be printed; the hometown will be. The telephone number will be used to verify authorship. No letter will be printed without the writer's name.

Letters should be no more than 300 words in length, of public interest, and free of libel; editing will be for length, grammar or spelling. Shorter letters are preferred and generally receive greater readership. The Ruidoso News reserves the right to reject any letter. Longer by-lined "Guest Commentary" articles will be considered; call the editor at (505) 257-4001.

Letters may be delivered to the Ruidoso News office at 104 Park Avenue, mailed to P.O. Box 128, Ruidoso, NM 88856; faxed to 257-7099; or sent by e-mail to: ruidosonews@zianet.com.

Taxpayers should be allowed to speak

To the editor:

The Ruidoso News article, "Council to let taxpayers speak," was a welcome reversal of the Ruidoso council's policy over the past four years, when speakers have been tightly controlled.

While this promised change in policy is acceptable, an examination of the 1994 election will disclose similar promises made to allow speakers at council meetings, only to be ignored after the election.

There were letters to the editor complaining of this fact.

The current control of speakers wishing to speak at the council meetings is very evident to the writer.

Case in point: At the time of the 1998 mayoral election, I approached the council to speak... Here is what actually took place:

As I approached the podium, the newly elected mayor asked if I had permission to speak. My answer was, "No," as I was following the same approach... as I had over many times in the past. I said that I considered my remarks to be important. I was then told that since I had not followed the new guidelines in place... I could not speak.

I left the council meeting and have not returned since 1998.

I discovered that the new rules... included, among other restrictions, a plan where a potential speaker would submit a letter to the village, five days in advance of a meeting... asking permission to speak and explaining the topic and details of the subject involved. An approval of rejection would follow.

The taxpayers have the right to address their council. To allow this as a concession is patently wrong.

Our county commission has a plan which works very well. Speakers not involved in agenda items are invited to speak at a point midway on the agenda. Neither the speaker nor the subject is known at that time. Speaking time is limited if necessary.

Ruidoso's plan to "let taxpayers speak" is a good idea, but flawed in implementation. Waiting until the end of the council meeting is too late. Midway is better. Establishing a rule as to what can be said is wrong, and instead of building a bridge of cooperation between the council and the taxpayers, a negative effect is the result. The Ruidoso plan is a Band-Aid, and should be recognized for what it is.

To further erode the village council's attitude toward the speaking of taxpayers, it was announced after the 1998 election that locks had been placed on the two doors leading from the Village Hall foyer into the administrative offices. This act stretches the imagination.

There was no bomb threat (in 1998) and the only result of installing the locks was to inhibit the taxpayers' access to village employees who work for the taxpayers.

In the recent past, it has been said that the locks have been removed, but as of a few weeks ago the locks and controls were yet in place.

These locks should be removed as of NOW; there was no reason to install locks in the first place.

Finally, elections promote two ideas: 1. A way for the politicians to explain why promises were not kept for the four years past; and 2. a time to promise improvement for the four years to follow.

A new ordinance on cell towers to be heard Monday

To the editor:

The cell tower issue looms again. Approximately two years ago, residents protested against the construction of a tower that would have dominated a hilltop overlooking the town.

The ETZ Authority and staff postponed a variance request. A new ordinance has been drafted and will be presented to the Authority on Monday, March 4, at Village Hall at 6:30 p.m.

It appears that this ordinance favors the telecommunication industry and that towers which were only allowed in industrial zones earlier may now be allowed in residential neighborhoods. If this ordinance passes, you may be faced with your own battle to stop a tower from going into "your neighbor's backyard."

The No. 1 reason that citizens live and visit here is the natural beauty, which would be tarnished by towers on our mountains. A stricter city ordinance than this proposed one in dealing with the wireless companies in meeting RFCC guidelines would save our town from this travesty.

Santa Fe, and Sedona, Ariz., have ordinances that meet FCC requirements, but are strict enough to protect private property rights while keeping environmental concerns its highest priority. We can learn from these areas, where property values soar much higher than in Ruidoso.

Citizens who have volunteered to work with staff in researching and evaluating proposals have been ignored. Adversaries who have questions at an open meeting are made to feel intimidated by lawyers or accountants from the cellular companies. Citizens who attend Monday's public meeting should voice concerns to the Authority. We can ask the Authority to disallow towers in residential areas, or give a delay so that a citizen's group has time to evaluate this tower ordinance. Solving problems in a collaborative effort is a more democratic approach.

Administration and the Authority respecting its residents will help save our village from the possibility of long-term tower eyesores.

One point missing in legislative review

To the editor:

I would like to thank Rep. Dub Williams for his review of what happened in Santa Fe during the 30-day legislative session.

However, while there was no room in the budget for raises for teachers, the Legislature managed to fit an increase for elected state and county officials in the bill that deals with the redistricting of the state's 42 senate districts.

I guess that minor detail wasn't important enough for Mr. Williams to comment.

Shuttle Camp registration near

Registration for the New Mexico Museum of Space History's popular summer space science education program opens Friday, March 1. Classes will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis, so early registration is encouraged.

Registration will be in the museum's new Education Department offices in the Tombaugh IMAX Dome Theater and Planetarium. To receive a brochure or more information, contact the New Mexico Museum of Space History Education Department at 437-2940 or (877) 333-6589, or download from www.space-fame.org.

Shuttle Camp offers classes for children from pre-kindergarten through college. It is held at the New Mexico Museum of Space History in Alamogordo, near the birthplace of America's space program.

LULAC scholarships

Lincoln County LULAC council No. 8048 announces its scholarships for Hispanic students. Applications may be picked up at Eastern New Mexico University-Ruidoso.

The local chapter will offer General Awards of $250 or $500 to currently enrolled ENMU students from the Lincoln County area. Academic performance, character, need, community involvement and leadership activities will be considered. Applications must be returned to ENMU-Ruidoso by March 31. For more information, call Jim Slocum at 336-7931 or Cynthia E. Orozco at 258-2212.

The League of United Latin American Citizens has offered scholarships to Hispanic students attending colleges and universities since 1932 and formed the LULAC National Scholarship Fund in 1975. About $20 million in scholarship monies have been awarded. The Lincoln County chapter was formed in 1999.

Bilingual support

The New Mexico State Department of Education and the government of Spain renewed a memorandum of understanding Jan. 31. Jesus Cruz, education counselor at the Embassy of Spain, and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Michael J. Davis were the signers.

Through the memorandum, New Mexico and Spain are keeping New Mexico's bilingualism alive and promoting the Spanish language, said Gladys Herrera-Gurule, director of the SDE's Bilingual and Multicultural Education Unit.

The agreement provides such programs as the Visiting Teachers Program.

Newest GED equivalency test requires more preparation

On March 15, the first test of the new and revised 2002 Series GED exam will be given. Created in 1942 to help returning World War II veterans complete their studies, the last exam update was in 1988, and students were required to complete their testing before Jan. 1, when the new exam went into effect.

Changes came about as states undergo standards initiatives, and the level of the exam needed to reflect those standards. Among the changes: A calculator must be used on half of the math test; the essay on the writing portion will be more rigorously graded; and more "prior knowledge" is required in all portions of the test. Examinees are now required to register in advance to taking the exam by filling out an eight-page questionnaire. The pre-registration must be completed at least two days prior to the testing date.

One example of the "prior knowledge" needed is familiarity with documents in U.S. history, such as the Declaration of Independence, the Gettysburg Address and important

Supreme Court decisions. It is now more important for potential examinees to attend GED preparation classes in order to learn what is needed for the exam, as well as to prepare for the use of the scientific calculator that will be provided for the math section.

The Adult Basic Education Program of Eastern New Mexico University-Ruidoso offers GED preparation classes throughout Lincoln County. Classes offered are:

Carrizozo — 1-4 p.m., Monday and Wednesday, at the Otero County Co-op Building; 8:30-11:30 a.m., Monday through Thursday, Lincoln County Detention Center

Ruidoso — 9-11 a.m., 3:45-5:45 p.m. or 6-8 p.m., Lincoln County Works Center in the Sierra Mall on Mechem Drive.

Classes are multilevel and individualized so students may enter at any time. For more information, call 630-8181.

This year's GED graduation will be at 3:30 p.m. May 11 at the Ruidoso Convention Center. The community is invited.

Nogal sibling students at Capitan High School both attended a national conference on defense, intelligence and diplomacy in Washington this month.

Andrew took the role of Joint Chiefs chairman.

Nicole played a member of the news media.

Brother, sister get the big picture

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Both Murtaughs arrived late for an interview at their home in Nogal. Andrew, a senior at Capitan High School, had to get a fresh crew cut. Nicole, a junior, was returning from seminars on international affairs, environment and education through the Student Leadership Institute in Roswell.

Why an interview? Both Murtaughs were in Washington, D.C., Feb. 5-10 for the National Youth Leadership Forum on Defense, Intelligence and Diplomacy, where they and about 360 students from around the country attended a forum with all four branches of the military, all the military academies, the FBI and the CIA.

Andrew Murtaugh said he's planning to go into the military — the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. — and so found the conference useful, learning how defense, diplomacy and intelligence work together to exercise foreign policy.

"What surprised me was mainly how much diplomacy affects things in comparison to military power," he said. "Military force is your last resort. You don't want to put people on the ground unless you absolutely need to — and if you're going to, you've got to deliberately use too much, and not only will you save your own lives, but the enemy's as well."

Early and later wars were compared at the conference so students could see how diplomacy, intelligence and defense were used.

Students also toured various sites in the nation's capital. The Murtaughs toured all the war memorials, including the new Korean War Memorial and the FDR Memorial, and they toured the monuments at night. The siblings both chose to spend a day at the Marine Corps Combat Development Command, the U.S. Naval Academy and the War Gaming and Simulation Center.

"We fired on a simulated range," Nicole Murtaugh said, adding that she did fairly well with the M-9 Baretta semiautomatic pistol. Her brother explained that the simulation room was 50-feet by 50-feet with black projection screens, and using an M-16 and compressed air, even the recoil from shooting was felt. The students simulated long-distance combat in an urban area with a sniper on a building and close-quarters, searching a building.

Nicole Murtaugh said she plans to attend the Coast Guard Academy to prepare for a career in law enforcement.

"I'm also very much an environmentalist, so I believe I can contribute in marine sciences. I would rather be with animals and managing oceans," she said.

Andrew Murtaugh said he'd acquired a new respect for the Marines, who seem to be more highly trained than the Army.

Two to three times a day during the six-day conference, the 360 students gathered in groups of 21 to work on their final project: a national security simulation exercise "to pique their interests and test their problem-solving skills," as stated in a press release. Each student was issued a role. Nicole Murtaugh's role was in the media, and Andrew Murtaugh's, in another group, was as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The issue was an oil pipeline that the U.S. was trying to extract in the Caucasus region, raising disputes among the five surrounding countries, two of them almost at war.

The groups worked two hours Friday night to manage the conflict and gave a one-hour press conference on Saturday. Four floors and an entire wing were devoted to the plottings of the student groups, with Defense in one room, the president across the hallway and Intel (Intelligence) downstairs in the banquet hall.

"Saturday morning the president made his final decision," Nicole Murtaugh said. Everyone stood in as the press, grilling the commanders.

The students were up at 5 a.m. every day, in group meetings by 7:30 a.m., and a second supper was served at 10 p.m. because they were kept up so late, Andrew Murtaugh said.

"What I found useful about the conference was that it helped me realize that even after I get through the little stuff, later on I can become a politician and make policies on different environmental issues, power I can wield later on," Nicole Murtaugh said.

"I understand five times as much as I did before," her brother said.

Learning about democracy

Capitan Elementary School students gathered in the new library for a pre-election forum of mayoral candidates with an introduction by Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean, at right. Official ballot boxes were set up in the hallway for the "election." Three of the four candidates for mayor of Capitan were present — write-in Barbara Ann Sanchez, Steven M. Sederwall, and incumbent Mayor Norman C. Renfro. Sederwall got the most votes, having performed magic tricks for the students. School principal Dick Clevenger got a write-in vote, even though he lives in Ruidoso Downs and is ineligible.

No decision on subdivision water systems

Lincoln County Commission tosses several opinions around, but nothing final on future communities

BY NANCY STALLINS
Times Staff Writer

No decisions were made, but many opinions were expressed last week in a debate over when the Lincoln County Commission should require community water systems in subdivisions.

State Engineer Tom Turney favors such systems because they are easier to monitor than hundreds of individual domestic wells, they require a more intense review by his office and can provide fire protection for a subdivision.

He suggested that rules adopted by the counties of Bernalillo and San Miguel would fit well for Lincoln County. They require systems for subdivisions with 20 or more parcels when any one parcel is two acres or less. Bernalillo also requires a community system for all subdivisions located in areas where well yields may be two gallons per minute or less.

Existing rules also should be revamped to require developers to provide all hydrological information necessary for a water availability assessment, Turney wrote. Commissioners approved that requirement last month for lots of six or more parcels.

While the county has no zoning outside municipalities, subdivision regulations are used to try to keep a handle on growth.

Last month, the commission also considered requiring a community sewer system for certain types of subdivisions with lots less than one acre in size, and a community water system for a subdivision containing any lot smaller than five acres or with 100 or more parcels. The consensus appeared to be that density and lot size should be part of any formula, as well as an area's water condition.

Coy Webb, an engineer with Livingston Associates, a firm hired by the county to design a proposed large development called Rainmakers, agreed with Turney that the county should see what other similar areas are doing and use that information as a starting point.

Commissioners agreed to continue the discussion with a special meeting, but no date was set. Commissioner Leo Martinez asked that it be conducted in Ruidoso, which is more accessible to real estate representatives and the county's heaviest population.

Commissioner L. Ray Nunley said he would like a task force to work with the county planning commission on the issue, although that board already offered two proposals. Planners first suggested community water systems be required for developments of 50 or more lots. When that was rejected by the county commission, they upped the figure to 100 or more lots.

Rex Wilson, county commission chairman, said he's like to see the county attorney, a well driller, surveyor Tim Collins, and a member of the Board of Realtors on the task force, as well as representatives from an engineering firm and the U.S. Geological Survey, which Thursday received approval to prepare a hydrological model for the county.

Rose Peebles, who often speaks for the local real estate industry, said in the past, the planning commission has "ignored us." She preferred sticking with current county law that doesn't require a water system until subdivisions hit 500 lots. That created the potential at Ranches of Sonterra subdivision for 499 individual domestic wells — a situation commissioners have said they want to avoid in the future.

But Peebles said the figure is legitimate. To go smaller would drive up the cost of development to the point that the land could become more expensive than the homes.

County Manager Tom Stewart said the commission needs the task force and planning commission to "boil down" all of the information to several options.

"But I'd like to set time lines," he said. "They should gather the available science and put together options with a common-sense approach."

County Attorney Alan Morel said he would research why state law was changed to require community water system owners to purchase water rights, instead of lot owners within a development being able to agree not to dig a well and transfer that "water" to the central system.

Peebles said the governor asked the New Mexico Home Builders Association to form a water coalition. Part of the aim would be to change that statute, she said.

County Planner Patsy Sanchez said commissioners must have a hammer and that hammer is the ordinance.

"If you don't have a rigid law, that's when you start getting compromises and variances and all are not treated the same," she said.

"If you don't have a rigid law, that's when you start getting compromises and variances..."

RUIDOSO COUNCIL

Consultant gets more

A water consultant to the village of Ruidoso will receive an additional $10,000 for his work this year.

In a 5-1 vote of village council members, with Leon Eggleston voting against the motion, the board approved the pay boost because of extra hours Leon Stokes spends attending Pecos Valley Compact-related meetings.

Those hours were not anticipated when a contract for professional services was approved for $25,000 to run until June 30.

Eggleston earlier questioned the legality of increasing the amount of a contract previously approved with a payment cap as a result of seeking proposals for professional services.

Village Attorney John Underwood explained that the change is an amendment to the agreement with Progressive Environmental Systems Inc. was signed on July 11, 2000 and renewed July 10, 2001.

Waste contract altered

A seven-month agreement with Sierra Contracting to dispose of yard and organic waste from village, residents, and municipal land, was altered last week by the Ruidoso Village Council to reflect accurate numbers for a 12-month period.

Village manager Alan Briley explained that in February 2001, the council approved the shorter agreement with a dollar amount of $3.90 per cubic yard for up to 15,000 cubic yards. The amount was to be pro-rated for the short year only. Annual renewals and subsequent fees were to be based on a fiscal one-year basis starting July 1, and ending June 30.

IDENTIFYING VISUAL IMPAIRMENT
Glaucoma

The exact cause of glaucoma is not known and cannot currently be prevented. It is one of the leading causes of blindness in the U.S. today but if detected early and treated promptly, it can be controlled and vision loss can be minimized. Most frequently, glaucoma occurs in people over 40, those who have a family history of glaucoma, persons who are extremely nearsighted, or who are diabetic. Glaucoma is more common among blacks than whites.

Glaucoma is an eye disease in which the passages that allow fluid in the eye to drain become clogged or blocked. This results in the amount of fluid in the eye building up and causing increased pressure inside the eye. This increased pressure damages the optic nerve which connects the eye to the brain. The optic nerve is the main carrier of vision information to the brain. Damage to it results in less information sent to the brain and a loss of vision.

Regular eye examinations are an important means of detecting glaucoma in its early stages and will include:

- Tonometry - a simple and painless measurement of the pressure in the eye.
- Ophthalmoscopy - an examination of the back of the eye to observe the health of the optic nerve.
- Visual field test - a check for the development of blind spots.

Glaucoma can usually be treated effectively by using eye drops or other medicines. Unfortunately, any loss of vision from glaucoma usually cannot be restored.

FUNERALS DEATHS

Lessie Mayes Clark

Graveside services for Lessie Frances Fisher Mayes Clark, 85, of Lincoln County, were Saturday, Feb. 23, at the Mayhill Cemetery in Mayhill.

Mrs. Clark died Friday, Feb. 15, 2002, after a battle with lupus and hepatitis, at her home on the Bonita River near Alto.

She was born Aug. 19, 1936, in Artesia and was the daughter of the late A. J. and Wanda Jones Fisher.

She married Homer Ray Clark April 22, 1994.

She was an accomplished musician, accompanying her father, who played the fiddle, on the piano, and she worked with her father building fiddles and could build or rebuild anything with wood. After losing two houses in fires, she and an elderly friend, "Pops," could remake the furniture from memory.

She worked for Mountain Bell Telephone Company in Artesia following graduation from high school in 1953. She retired after 32 years of employment in Artesia, Roswell and Albuquerque. During those years, she and her former husband, Don, were active members of the Eastern Star in Roswell. She also belonged to the Quilters Guild in Otero and Lincoln counties.

Survivors include her husband, of the family home; uncle Lincoln and aunt Temple Cox of Alamogordo; cousins Eula Harrison and family of Las Cruces, Ruthann Carner and family, of Cloudcroft; Dub Cox and family, of Mayhill; Shirley White and family, of Moriarty; stepchildren Kitty Solomon and family of Estancia, Ray Clark and family, Cassie Caster and family, all of Mountaineer, Sherry Pinson and family of Artesia, Monty Coe and Bonnie Coe and their family of Ruidoso; and friend and former husband, Don Mayes, of Roswell.

The family suggests donations to Lincoln County Health Care Services, Ruidoso.

Penny Cannon

Visitation for Penny Cannon, 59, of Ruidoso, was Feb. 22, at LaGrone Funeral Chapel, with a graveside service at Bestlawn Memorial Park in El Paso, Texas.

Ms. Cannon died Saturday, Feb. 16, 2002, at her home in Ruidoso.

She was born April 25, 1942, in El Paso, and lived there until moving to Ruidoso 10 years ago. She was a retired school teacher and an avid golfer.

Survivors include a brother, Gene Cannon of Canoga Park, Calif., and an aunt, Phyllis Buncan of West Phoenix, Ariz.

Edna Burch

Funeral services for Edna Burch, 92, of Capitan, were Feb. 21, with Mel Gnatskowski officiating and burial following at the Capitan Cemetery.

Mrs. Burch died Monday, Feb. 18, 2002, in Las Vegas.

She was born June 20, 1909, in Halfway, Texas.

She had lived in Lincoln County since 1922 and was a homemaker. She was a member of Capitan United Methodist Church.

She married Tillman A. Burch in 1924 in Roswell; he preceded her in death in 1954.

Survivors include sons Charlie Burch of Capitan, Tillman Burch of Nogal and Spencer Burch of Las Vegas; 15 grandchildren; and numerous great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by daughters Ellen Lorene Means and Edna Loyce Morris.

Antonio Monreal

A memorial service for Antonio Monreal, 58, of Carrizozo, was Feb. 21, with the Rev. Franklin Eichhorst officiating. Mr. Monreal died Saturday, Feb. 16, 2002, in Carrizozo. He was born Nov. 15, 1943, in Alamogordo.

He lived most of his life in Carrizozo and was retired from the highway department in Carrizozo. He was a member of Santa Rita's Catholic Church.

Survivors include sisters Petra Gonzales of Alamogordo and Margaret Barela of Carrizozo; uncles Hipolito Monreal and Santo Monreal of Alamogordo; and an aunt, Sally Teresas of Tularosa.

Arrangements are under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Ruidoso.

Bob Woodard

A memorial service for Bob Woodard, 70, of Capitan, was held Feb. 28 at the Christ Community Fellowship in Capitan, with the Rev. Ed Vincent officiating.

Mr. Woodard died Wednesday, Feb. 20, 2002, in Ruidoso.

He was born July 9, 1931, in Carlton, Neb.

He moved to Lincoln County in 1995 from Depew, Okla., and was a member of the Lincoln County Sheriff's Posse and the Trinity Baptist Church. He was a retired mechanic and active cowboy.

He married Margaret Adams on April 3, 1953.

Survivors include his wife, Margaret, of Capitan; daughters Phyllis Ann Cantrell and her husband, Billy Gene, of Depew, Okla., and Teresa Jean Woodard of Capitan; grandchildren Billy Gene Cantrell Jr. and his wife, Twyla, Ben Cantrell and his wife, Misty, Bobby Cantrell and his wife, Jackie, Billie Woodard, Amy Fox Cantrell and Colton Fox Cantrell; a brother, Frank Ernest Woodard and his wife, Leona; and sisters M. Emma Smith and her husband, Charlie, and Georgia Antonio Verker.

The family suggests memorials to Lincoln County Medical Center, Department of Oncology, P.O. Box 8000, Ruidoso, NM 88345. Arrangements are under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Ruidoso.

Christopher Balkema

Christopher Lee Balkema, formerly of Nogal, died Feb. 17, 2002, in Cincinnati, Ohio. Survivors include his wife, Simone (Robbe) Balkema, and three sons, Jan Christian, Charles Christopher, and Nathan James Balkema, along with his brothers, sisters and father Charles R. Balkema. Memorial services will be in Michigan. The family residence is 477 Massey Court, Cincinnati, OH 45255.

Margaret Crown

Graveside services for Margaret Elizabeth "Betty" Hawkins Crown, 85, of Ruidoso, were Feb. 26 at Forest Lawn Cemetery, and a Service of Celebration at the First Presbyterian Church with the Revs. Shannon Webster, Cathy Caudle, Bill Sebring and Vern Edmonson officiating.

She died of a heart attack on Tuesday, Feb. 19, 2002.

Mrs. Crown was born April 29, 1916, to the Rev. Nelson and Clara Hawkins.

She grew up in Houston and Taylor, Texas, and was the oldest of four daughters of a Presbyterian minister and his wife. She graduated from Austin College in 1938 with a B.S. degree in mathematics and English and taught school for three years at the Presbyterian Orphan's Home in Itasca, Texas, where her father was president.

She met her future husband, Frank Crown, who was a student at Austin Seminary in Austin, Texas. After their marriage in June of 1941, she focused her energies on helping her husband in his ministry and on raising their four children. She often was the pianist in whatever church Frank was serving, made many visits to church members with him and taught Sunday school classes and women's Bible study groups.

When the children were of school age, she pursued her love of teaching by substitute teaching, later earning a certificate in special education and teaching in the Andrews, Texas, public schools. She continued to teach when she and her husband moved to Ruidoso.

Mrs. Crown was instrumental in training teachers across the states of Texas and New Mexico in the Presbyterian Church's Covenant Life Curriculum for Sunday School in the middle to late 1960s and was very active in the life of the church in Ruidoso, serving as an elder, clerk of session, Sunday school teacher, choir member and in many other roles.

She lived in Ruidoso for the past 37 years and was visiting her three sisters in the Dallas-

Fort Worth, Texas, area at the time of her death.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Frank; a son, David; grandsons Patrick Sims and Mark Crown.

RUIDOSO POLICE

Knife confiscated

Ruidoso police confiscated a knife and brass knuckles from a 15-year-old Feb. 24 after a traffic stop, citing him with driving without a license.

Arrest made

Police arrested Collins C. Hounsell, 19, from Denver, Colo., Feb. 24, charging him with driving with a suspended or revoked license.

Items shoplifted

Five girls between the ages of 12 and 14 were charged with shoplifting, tampering with evidence and receiving or transferring stolen property Feb. 24. Four of the suspects are from Ruidoso and one is from Tucson, Ariz. All were released to their parents after at least some of the $200 worth of items taken from Paradise Air Plants, Mustard Seed, J. Roberts, Silver Eagle Trading Company and 102 Center Street were returned to the stores.

Disorderly conduct

Victor Baca, 28, of Ruidoso Downs, was arrested Feb. 23 at the Center Street and Timbers parking lot and charged with disorderly conduct after police officers escorted him and several other men from Quarters Bar. Police had been called by staff at Win Place and Show Bar about people who were not wanted at either bar, and as they were being escorted to the parking area, Baca reportedly shoved one of the officers.

Assault charged

Police arrested Brian E. Jaramillo, 22, of Ruidoso, Feb. 25, charging him with four counts of assault, one count of battery on a peace officer, unlawful carrying of a deadly weapon and two counts of concealing identification. Police had been called to Win Place and Show Bar, 2535 Sudderth Drive, in reference to a bleeding man with a knife. Police found him at Quarters Bar, still in possession of the knife, and asked him to step outside so they could investigate. Jaramillo, 6 feet tall, gave the name of an individual who turned out to be 5 feet, 2 inches tall.

Once taken to the police department, Emergency Medical Services was called because the suspect "acted as if he was passing out and falling from his chair," the report states. The suspect was allegedly violent and assaulted a medic. Three officers tried to restrain him but he continued to be combative, and was placed in a cell after being sprayed with a chemical agent, to no effect, the report states. In the cell, he slammed his head into the metal bench, bleeding from the head, and "spat blood, saliva and mucus in the officer's face and all over the cell" when an officer went to ensure the suspect's safety.

Other officers were required to restrain him, and EMS was called to tend to self-inflicted injuries, the report states. When he was walked to the ambulance, the suspect reportedly once again tried to slam his head against a set of glass doors and then did slam his head against solid wood doors.

while intoxicated, first offense.

Warrant found

Lawrence Montoya, 29, of Tularosa, was arrested Feb. 22 on a warrant out of Otero County.

Speeding, DWI

Police arrested Kyndra

Coates, 23, of Tularosa, charging her with second offense DWI and speeding 9-10 mph over the posted speed limit.

DWI charged

Patricia Huband, 22, Ruidoso Downs, was arrested and charged with first offense DWI and speeding 11-15 mph over speed limit on Highway 70.

THEY AREN'T THE ONLY LIVE WIRES YOU HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT.

There are some outside that can really cause trouble. As your power provider, it's our responsibility to warn you about them. Always assume power lines are live, even if they're down. Though power lines provide you with reliable electric service, they can cause severe injury if you touch them with your hands, a stick or anything else. Here are a few more situations to pay close attention to when you're outside:

- Climbing or trimming trees
- Retrieving balls and toys from rooftops
- Flying kites
- Installing TV antennas
- Using ladders
- Operating boats with tall masts

Talk to your family about power line safety today. After all, you've got enough unbridled energy to handle already.

Mayoral candidates air views

Donaldson, Eggleston discuss water, taxes and other issues on local radio morning show

BY MELANIE J. SATTLER
FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

Village mayoral candidates faced off Tuesday morning in a live radio debate aired on KRUI 1490 AM and KWMW 105.1 FM.

Listeners called in to ask questions of Leon Eggleston, village council member, and Mayor Robert Donaldson. Brad Treptow, publisher of the Ruidoso News, also asked questions.

In prior debates, the two candidates agreed on most issues. During the hour-long radio debate, however, some disagreements emerged.

Eggleston identified his goal as mayor to create a "more open government" by keeping village council members better informed.

Donaldson named water as his continued major concern.

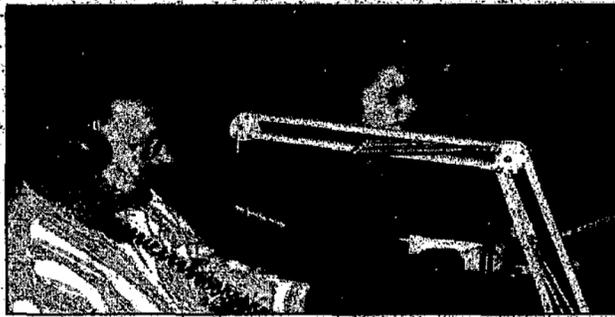

Eggleston listed his five major concerns as water, sewers, streets, government that would not be intimidated and to work with citizens to have their full input in governing.

Donaldson said his major issues were the water system, water supply, water rights, sewers and streets.

Many callers inquired about the subject of water.

"It's something we can't stop working on and we do have good people working on it," Eggleston said. "We're headed in the right direction."

Though the village is currently "not in dire trouble," Donaldson said, "We can never go back to where we don't work on it."

Both candidates agreed that tree thinning should occur in the long term, but that the village could not mandate such a project without the funds to help private landowners afford it.

Asked whether the village needs to purchase additional water rights and how much it might cost, Eggleston said he believes in defending our current water rights and that prices would vary depending on the current market.

Donaldson believes the village has enough water rights, but must better utilize them. Treptow asked the candidates whether Ruidoso's gross receipts tax, the highest in the state, drives residents to spend in neighboring communities. He cited a market study conducted by the Ruidoso News in 2000 that found that 27 percent of those polled went to Alamogordo or Roswell to shop.

This type of leakage occurs due to product mix, Donaldson said. At the time of the study, residents might have left town to find something they couldn't get here.

Residents understand that gross receipts tax income funds government and water, Eggleston said, and they don't leave Ruidoso because of the tax.

The mayoral election takes place Tuesday, March 5, and excerpts from the debate will be rebroadcast that morning from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. on KRUI 1490 AM and KWMW 105.1 FM.

Camp Sierra Blanca Day

Johnson honors six local students

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Gov. Gary Johnson proclaimed Feb. 8 Camp Sierra Blanca Day when six high school students visited the capital for their civics class.

Jamey Grover, executive director of the American Marine Institute juvenile detention program a mile from Fort Stanton, said the governor was unable to meet them but the lieutenant governor and the chief of staff met them, as well as state representatives W. Ken Martinez and Dub Williams, and senators Tom Rutherford and Pete Campos.

"We went on the floor at the House and Senate and each student was individually recognized, as well as the program as a whole, and their names were read off the roll and recorded in the minutes," Grover said.

The six students were chosen on the basis of behavior and performance in the program.

"The students asked questions about Medicaid and the budget; they were very well prepared. Then they went across the street to Children, Youth and Families Department and met with Secretary Hart and Leroy Garcia and had questions for them as well," Grover said.

The secretary of state and the governor signed a proclamation stating that Feb. 8, 2002, is "Camp Sierra Blanca Day in the Legislature." One of the conditions in the proclamation states that "Whereas, an investment of resources in Camp Sierra Blanca is a positive return on our tax dollars, and youths who were tax users are converted into taxpayers ..."

"... Each student was individually recognized, as well as the program..."

The program has about 50 residential students and 15-20 students in aftercare and about 64 employees. About 48 percent of the students receive GEDs or high school diplomas through the school. Three years after leaving Camp Sierra Blanca, 89.6 percent of the graduates have not committed crimes.

Lady Chiefs run into a defensive wall

Mescalero is still in the playoffs and will face Logan in the Region B Tournament at 6 p.m. Friday

BY TODD FUQUA
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

HAGERMAN — The Mescalero girls lost big in the District 8A championship basketball game here Saturday, but it wasn't for a lack of trying.

The Lady Chiefs succumbed to a smothering Hagerman defensive press and fell 50-29 despite a big supportive crowd packed into the Bobcats' home gym.

The Lady Bobcats used that press and easy transition baskets to go up 10-0 early and didn't allow any Mescalero points until Sasha Enjady put in a short jumper with 2:25 left in the first quarter.

"When you can't put the ball in the hoop, it's gonna hurt you," said Mescalero coach Rol have to beat the press," he added. "We worked on it, and it shouldn't have been a problem for us, but we didn't handle it."

Hagerman's defense may have been tough, but so was Mescalero's. The Lady Chiefs "forced" just about as many Bobcat turnovers, but were unable to convert at the other end of the floor.

Mescalero's defense and scrappy style of play rightly worried Hagerman coach Alicia Trujillo.

"We got out of control a little bit," Trujillo said. "We didn't play as well as I had hoped and threw the ball away a lot. We missed a lot of easy shots trying to rush it."

But the right shots fell at the right time for the Lady Bobcats, particularly for junior Kami Mason, who led all scorers with 22 points on the night.

The next highest for Hagerman were Amy Pilley and Audrey Pollard with six points each.

Sherlene Davis and Leslie Bigmouth each had seven points to lead Mescalero, followed by Nicole Dolan's six points.

The Lady Chiefs must now prepare for a road game this Friday at 6 p.m. in the Region B tournament at Logan.

"We're just gonna have to go back this week, work hard and try to make a better showing than we did here," Bradford said. "We didn't come with the same attitude we took to Mesilla Valley, we got intimidated by their press and things like that just took over our whole game."

Mescalero 57, Mesilla Valley 27
That "attitude" the Lady Chiefs had at Mesilla Valley served them well, as Bradford threw in a new defensive set against the SonBlazers which made all the difference.

"They would come down and overload one side of our zone and hurt us," Bradford said of the Mesilla Valley offense. "We went to a man and it just totally threw them off. They couldn't get in sync the rest of the game."

After going up by 14 points at halftime, Mescalero had to contend with a full-court press by the SonBlazers which brought Mesilla Valley to within 10 points in the third quarter, but the final period saw the Lady Chiefs outscore their opponent 22-4 and run away with the game.

Nicole Dolan had 18 points to lead Mescalero, followed by Davis' 14 and Augusta Lang with nine.

Tigers narrowly miss out on regional playoffs

"The kids played hard and played well together as a team. It's hard, but the kids have nothing to be ashamed of."

BY TODD FUQUA
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

Oh, so close. The Capitan boys basketball team, traveling to a tough venue for a District 5AA tournament game, forced Lordsburg into overtime, only to lose a nail-biter 58-56 and end their season at 12-12.

"It was very tough, we didn't shoot the ball well over there in the past, and shot about 40 percent this time," said Capitan coach Royce Brown. "We jumped out to an 8-0 lead, then they (Lordsburg) cut that to four at halftime."

The Mavericks, taking full advantage of their home court, went up by five after three periods, and Capitan worked hard to force a tie at the end of regulation.

J.R. Mitchell had 25 points to lead the Tigers, while Bo Sparks added 12 rebounds.

"The kids played hard and played well together as a team," Brown said. "Had we had the home court, things might have gone our way, but you never know."

"It's hard, but the kids have nothing to be ashamed of and there's something for the kids coming back next year. We'll probably be in the running for district again."

Carrizozo cager teams both fall

BY TODD FUQUA
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

It's been a rough week for the Carrizozo boys and girls basketball teams, and for the girls it will only get tougher.

The Carrizozo boys fell Feb. 21 to Vaughn 53-41 in the District 7A tournament, ending their season on a down note. The Lady Grizzlies also lost in the district tournament, falling to Mountainair 61-58 in the championship game Feb. 22.

While it was the first district loss in a long time for the Carrizozo girls, they still get to play in the upcoming Region A tournament, but face a big obstacle in Des Moines Friday at 4 p.m.

Mel Holland, coach for both the boys and girls teams, said he was proud of his teams' efforts in spite of the losses.

"We played hard and played with no fear, it just didn't happen," Holland said following the boys' loss at Vaughn. "I was pleased with our effort. It just wasn't our time, I guess."

The Grizzlies actually played Vaughn, a team they had defeated earlier in the season, evenly throughout. That is, until they got to the third quarter.

The Eagles outscored Carrizozo 18-4 in that period, a deficit the Grizzlies were unable to overcome.

"Sometimes, the ball just doesn't drop in," Holland said. "We got the shots, they just didn't fall."

Brandon Langley had 17 points to lead Carrizozo, followed by Patrick Hightower with 15 as the only other Grizzly in double figures.

For the girls, a loss in the 7A championship game wasn't necessarily unthinkable, as Mountainair had always played the Lady Grizzlies close.

Holland believes his team's youth was the biggest problem.

"We played real tight, we played not to lose instead of to win," Holland said. "We'd beat them twice already, the third time we didn't, and all three were close games."

"It's not that big a letdown; we're still dancing, we just would have had a better draw if we had won."

Ariel Vallejos had 17 and Stephanie Brewer 15 points to lead the Lady Grizzlies in the losing cause.

Holland said he's more concerned with defense against a tall team like Des Moines, which boasts three players at six foot or better.

"What we have to do is play our game and make them play every inch of that court," Holland said. "We have to go heavy on defense, that's the only way we'll have a chance."

"I think we were overwhelmed with the high-pressure situation," he added of the district championship. "Hopefully, we can use that as we mature, anything can happen."

Fishing report for Ruidoso area, Feb. 27, 2002

Ruidoso River: The water level in the River is at the lowest flow reported for the past year. We are under 2 CFS and dropping. If you plan to fish the River, we suggest you concentrate your efforts below the confluence of Carrizo Creek downstream to the Gavilan Canyon Bridge. The fishing in this stretch of water has been quite good. The last droping of the river was eight weeks ago. The NMGFD has assured us that a droping will take place soon. Remember the state of NM is under great pressure in its efforts to provide stocked fish due to the closure of several hatcheries due to Whirling Disease and mechanical failures. This is just one more reason to please practice Catch and Release. Stoneflies are declining in numbers in the River. Rock Worms are declining in size and quantity. Pleasant fall nymphs will produce fish when about anything else fails. Tie a dry fly on as a lead fly then tie a nymph dropper about 12-18 inches behind. Use the lead fly as your strike indicator. This is an effective and fun way to fish small waters. Wear layers of clothes as the temperature near the water changes quickly. Remember to always wear eye protection. Southfork - Southfork is about done until Spring. The water flow rate is at a trickle. Bonito Lake: Bonito Lake is closed until April 1. Eagle Lakes: Eagle Lakes are closed for the season. Grindstone: No change from the past couple of weeks. Grindstone continues to offer spotty fishing. Woolly Buggers and Zonkers fished fairly deep have produced fish the past two weeks. For spin casters, tie on an Olive or Black propeller fly behind a bubble rig and enjoy catching fish. Please remember to squeeze the barbs down on all hooks; this will reduce injury to any fish caught and returned to the water.

Lake Mesquite: The lake level is quite low, but is fishing well. Dark woolly buggers continue to take fish late in the day. A few folks have been successful with Parachute Adams, Mosquito, or Hendrickson patterns and casting to rising fish. Remember to get your day pass at the front desk. Please practice Catch and Release whenever and wherever you can.

We have moved our local shop. New address is 2501 Suddarth Drive. Come see us for daily fishing information. Check out our improved and expanded website for community information.

Fly Fishing Tip: Before putting your fly rod together, take a candle and rub it over the male ferrul section of each piece of the rod. The candle wax acts as a lubricant and helps hold the rod together and makes it a lot easier to take the rod sections apart at the end of the day.

UNM men get big upset over Wyoming

ALBUQUERQUE — The UNM men, facing a must-win game against Wyoming in a crucial Mountain West contest, made good use of its man-to-man defense to defeat the Cowboys 74-65 in The Pit Monday.

Fouls were the difference, with a big one coming at 5:03 left in the game. Wyoming guard Marcus Bailey fouled out on Lobo guard Ruben Douglas. Before that, Bailey had driven the Cowboys to within three points.

Douglas made two free throws after the play, and the Lobos never looked back.

"It's a good win, we played hard, we beat a good team, we had a lot of people step up big for us," head coach Fran Fraschilla said.

After losing their last five games against the Cowboys, UNM used this upset to improve to 16-10 overall and 6-6 in conference play. Wyoming is now 18-7 and 9-3.

Wyoming and the University of Utah are now tied for first place, with University of Nevada at Las Vegas and Brigham Young University at 7-5 each. UNM is in fifth and one game ahead of San Diego State. The Lobos could finish third if they win their last two games and BYU and UNLV both lose.

UNM guard Ruben Douglas led his team with 28 points to continue his hot streak, having poured in 30 against Colorado State Feb. 23. Eric Chatfield and Senique Carey added 10 points each. Patrick Dehney had eight.

Jason Straight led Wyoming with 15 points, eight of which came in the final two minutes of the game, after the outcome had largely been decided. Bailey added 12 and center Uche Nsonwu-Amadi put in 11 for the Cowboys.

"It's a good win, we played hard, we beat a good team."

PSYCHIC PREDICTIONS

Judith L. Christopher

Week of February 27 - March 5

PISCES: (Feb 19 - Mar 20) Now is the time for all good men & women to come to the aid of their fellow countrymen. Start with you and you will see others things fall into place just right.

CANCER: (Jun 21 - Jul 22) They said it couldn't be done!!! You fooled them and yourself. You have what it takes, so get out there and get it done! Do it for you first.

SCORPIO: (Oct 23 - Nov 21) Your world as you know it can change in a few days or weeks. Find out what you need to know about what you want to know first of all.

ARIES: (Mar 21 - Apr 19) You will be ahead of the game, once you clean out things & people you don't need! You're starting something new, it's your! This could be a good year!

LEO: (Jul 23 - Aug 22) You may feel a little short changed, money too! You have to know what's going on to change what's going on! Something or someone needs to tell you.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov 22 - Dec 21) You'll find out you don't have time to day dream. The only way to make a dream come true is to wake up and make it happen.

TAURUS: (Apr 20 - May 20) What are you thinking? You will find that others can't look at your assets, and read your mind. Tell them what you want & need. Talk to your heart.

VIRGO: (Aug 23 - Sep 22) So you want a New Life? What's wrong with what you've got? Nothing! Think again! If you're really happy, you don't need to change a thing!

CAPRICORN: (Dec 22 - Jan 19) You'll feel like you're running in circles! Stop! Get away from everything! Take in a movie, go for a walk, do something to clear your mind.

GEMINI: (May 21 - Jun 20) A new change is in store for you! A good time to change jobs or move! Take the time to think over, make sure it's what you need not just what you want.

LIBRA: (Sep 23 - Oct 22) Old friends may need your help. The question is, do you want to help them? Let them come to you, so will know it's true. Stand by just in case.

AQUARIUS: (Jan 20 - Feb 18) Your money isn't doing what it needs to be doing! You should be making more, not spending more! Things will start looking better.
