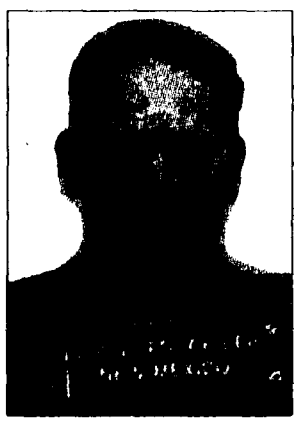
Runnels arrested for DWI

Village planner placed on leave after 1-car crash



Mike Runnels

Police arrested Ruidoso village planning head Mike Runnels for his second DWI after crashing a village vehicle into a telephone pole Thursday. He was also charged with not staying within the roadway.

Based on the police report reflecting a blood alcohol level in excess of .16 and the village's drug and alcohol policy, Runnels, 57, was placed on unpaid administrative leave effective April 25, according to a release.

Officer Brian Scramber arrived at the accident scene in front of the First Baptist Church on Country Club Drive at 9:45 p.m. and found the Dodge Durango facing east on the road under a telephone pole "sitting at a 45-degree angle over the roadway," the police report states. Runnels reportedly told the officer he had been trying to avoid another vehicle and crashed into the telephone pole. He admitted to drinking "a few glasses of

Students learn about forest life in conservation program

Fifth grade students from schools throughout Lincoln County showed up for Conservation Days, an event coordinated for the past decade by the state Forestry Division.

Staff from nine agencies took part in the two-day on-ground classroom experience at the group campground area of Cedar Creek. Students heard from an archaeologist representing the Mescalero Apache Tribe, ran a relay race with gear to put out imaginary fires, learned about insects that attack or benefit the forest and played the parts of mother bears trying to find food for their cubs in the spring.

Longtime coordinator Lynn Lovelace, who is stationed at the Smokey Bear Historical Park in Capitan, said the experience of being in the forest while soaking in information from experts can't be beat.

Participating agencies were the New Mexico Forestry Division, the U.S. Forest Service, the Mescalero Apache Tribe, the Anthropoid Museum of the Department of Entomology, Plant Pathology and Weed Science, the Bureau of Land Management, the Ruidoso Fire Department, the New Mexico Game and Fish Department, the Natural Resources Conservation Service and the state Environment Department.

Money requests ahead of revenue in early budget

Commissioners will review preliminary figures at a meeting Friday.

BY DIANNE STALLINGS .com
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Spending requests outweigh revenue sources by about $2.33 million in Lincoln County's $16.78 million preliminary 2003-2004 fiscal year budget.

The county's projected ending cash balance of $6.8 million would cover the difference, but would reduce the amount of money carried forward to the next fiscal year to $4.47 million.

The general fund, the major operations revenue source, poses the biggest problem for commissioners, explained finance officer Glenna Robbins. The ending cash balance of $914,921 falls $160,379 short of the state required $1,075,300 reserve.

"And this figure was achieved after removing last year's commissioner reserve of $268,112," county manager Tom Stewart pointed out in his memorandum to commissioners for review during a special budget session Friday. The meeting will start at 9 a.m. in the county courthouse in Carrizozo.

Although commissioners will focus on the county's budget, a half dozen other agenda items also are listed for action. They include an update on the Hondo Valley communications tower, an update on the county's DWI program, a proclamation for May 12 in conjunction with National Fibromyalgia Awareness Day and revisiting the county reappraisal plan.

Related to the budget, commissioners also will look at the infrastructure capital improvement plan and will hear presentations from external agencies seeking money for services totaling $143,441.66.

The deficit faced by commissioners in the general fund does not include $73,385 of the external agency requests, $271,000 in capital outlay requests, or $361,062 in personnel requests, which cover pay increases in the assessor's and clerk's offices, an additional assessor position, additional road department positions and a 3 percent increase for the sheriff's administrative secretary.

To cover the deficit, Stewart is recommending that commissioners:

- Not fund FAST Cops, a $20,784 request from the sheriff's office
- Ask the assessor to transfer back $23,400 of reappraisal expenses moved to the general fund
- Consider removing the fund-

Councilors to consider maxing out lodgers tax

But lodge owners want more information

BY DIANNE STALLINGS .com
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Plenty of projects are waiting in line for any lodgers tax increase the Ruidoso Village Council may approved during a May 13 public hearing.

Village Councilor Bob Sterchi, who brought up the proposal to increase the tax from 4.25 percent to the maximum allowed 5 percent, said the action also might avoid a hike in property taxes. But Jules Videau, who heads the Lincoln County Hospitality and Tourism Association, said some of his members question the timing and are calling for a task force to study the entire lodgers tax picture.

"What brought this up was that we increased the lodgers tax last year (by a quarter of one percent) in April or May, then we went into budget hearings and there was pressure to increase the property tax when things looked poor for the gross receipt tax revenues," Sterchi said Tuesday. "The GRT turned out OK, but we were conservative and invaded our secondary reserve for half a million dollars and talked about raising the property tax. We have three additional mills available, which would generate $170,000."

Home, business and vacant lot owners pay property taxes. One mill equals $1 for each $1,000 of taxable value on a piece of property. The owner of a $300,000 house, taxable at $100,000 would pay an addi-wine," the report said.

The officer noted damage from the passenger window to the bottom of the vehicle and the side mirror missing, which another officer found near the intersection of Paradise Canyon and Country Club Drive. Some pieces of mirror were found on the ground near a speed limit sign that had been run over by Runnels' vehicle, the report states.

Lt. Wolf Born said the vehicle traveled 388 feet from impact with the speed limit sign to the telephone pole, after crossing both lanes several times and colliding with objects on the shoulders.

R.R. Buckner, who came upon the accident shortly after the police, said he'd heard about the accident on the scanner, with an officer "calling for the city to block the roads at either end because they feared the pole would fall, taking power lines with it."

At the Ruidoso Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday, Runnels, who was scheduled to speak about the village's comprehensive plan, first apologized to the community for making "some bad decisions."

"I am willing to stand up and accept the consequences as part of my responsibility for whatever I've done and I'm willing to take whatever steps I need to take to assume my responsibilities — and I can't do it alone," Runnels said.

Runnels is entitled to a disciplinary hearing, according to the village's personnel code, to be held at the earliest convenience of Village Manager Lorri McKnight and Runnels.

'Zozo files applications for nearby water rights

■ The town also submitted a protest regarding Ruidoso's water rights applications in the area.

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Apparently Carrizozo town officials decided not to wait around to see what the State Engineer does with applications from the village of Ruidoso to pump unappropriated water out of the upper Tularosa Basin.

They filed two applications with the state trying to keep some of that water for local use. The first application was filed March 21 and asks to appropriate 3,500 acre feet of water from a proposed new well to be drilled at the Carrizozo Golf Course on municipal land. One acre foot of water equates to about 325,800 gallons of water. The intended use of the water is listed as municipal, residential, commercial and for golf course purposes.

The second application was filed on April 17 and asks to appropriate another 3,500 acre feet of water using four existing wells on municipal land at the golf course. The same uses are listed.

Village clerk Leann Weihbrecht said the town's water applications were discussed in open session. Carrizozo also filed a protest against the Ruidoso applications.

Ruidoso water consultants have emphasized that village is only exploring the possibility of an ample unappropriated water supply north of Carrizozo.

tional $100 in property tax for each mill.

Increasing the lodgers tax, which is paid by customers of motels, hotels, cabins and lodges in town, would produce about $150,000, Sterchi said.

Laura Doth of Grindstone Graphics will appear at the May 13 meeting to discuss advertising projects that could benefit from the additional money and Barbara Crane, convention center director, will list needed projects at the center.

With an $85 million new hotel, casino and convention center going up at the Inn of the Mountain Gods on the Mescalero Apache Reservation that adjoins Ruidoso, the village should be looking at improvements for its convention center to be able to complete for business, the councilor said.

A lodgers tax increase would take effect Oct. 1, but wouldn't see revenues rolling in for nearly a year.

"We subsidized the convention center by $140,000 this year," Sterchi said. "If we get more lodgers tax to pay for some of that, more money will be left in the general fund to pay for equipment for the water, street and fire departments.

"But there also are a lot of requests for lodgers tax to promote special events. With the additional money, obviously things could be done."

He pointed out that Ruidoso Downs and Roswell tax at a full 5 percent. The difference now is that Ruidoso's lodgers tax is 75 cents less expensive per night on a $100 room, he said.

"You can't tell me that makes a different in deciding where someone is going to stay," he said.

The city of Las Cruces, already at the 5 percent cap, recently tacked on a $2.50 nightly room surcharge to pay for a new convention center, he said.

Increasing property taxes would affect every owner in town, including those motel and cabin owners resisting an increase in lodgers tax, Sterchi said. Some opponents say they don't want to pass along that extra charge to their guests, but the councilor pointed out if property taxes on a lodge go up, the owner will pass through his or her increased expense to guests eventually anyway.

Videau said he sent out 40 e-mails to lodge owners about the proposed increase and received 15 back.

"The main issues raised to me include whether the timing is appropriate with the economic situation, the stock market and war," Videau said Tuesday. "People seem to be holding back a bit. The general feeling seems to be that gross receipts taxes are up, and does this needs to be done and done now. My personal issues are, does the village need the increase? If so, how would the money be spent, is this a temporary or permanent increase and is this the right time?"

A group of lodge operators plan to meet at 9 a.m. May 6, at the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce building to brainstorm and prepare a presentation, he said.

Several lodge owners indicated they wanted more accountability of how lodgers tax money is spent after it is allocated.

"They want to know if there is any type of auditing process to increase their comfort level the money is being used as intended," Videau said. "It's not so much the amount. You can look and say it's not that big a deal, 75 cents on $100. The issue is what it's used for , how it could best be used, and accountability. This would be a good time for a task force to look at the entire tax issue, to look at it with fresh eyes. We're talking a total of about $1 million."

Sterchi warns that more pressure to increase property taxes may be thrust on the village after a special legislative session called by the governor to restructure New Mexico's tax system. Gov. Bill Richardson proposes reducing or eliminating the gross receipts tax on food and medicine, which could force municipalities to hike property taxes to make up the difference, he said.

County nearing new senior center policy

■ Groups wanting to use them after business hours could be charged a fee.

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Groups that want to use Lincoln County senior centers after hours may be charged a $10 to $25 fee.

County commissioners will wait until they see a final draft, but last month discussed the new approach.

County manager Tom Stewart said a recent controversy over the use of a Zia Senior Center in Capitan prompted the realization that a standardized policy is needed for use of the buildings. Zia director Ada Hendryx proposed a $10 "donation" per meeting to cover utilities when staffing is not needed and $25 per hour when it is required.

Private use will not be authorized unless sponsored by the entity that owns the building or by the government. The county leases its buildings in different communities.

Scheduling a meeting or event should occur at least one week in advance.

While the centers are for activities of senior citizens and the various governments and organizations that own the structures, many programs developed over the years that involve senior citizens occur after normal staffing hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Stewart said.

When an anti-war group asked to use the Capitan center on a Saturday and they ended up being shut out, Ray Wilson, organizer of that group, "Not in Our Name," complained. Hearing about the situation after the fact, Stewart said the issue was the use of the building on a Saturday, not the political stance of the group.

Wilson told commissioners he's satisfied with the proposed new policy.

Former Carrizozo police officer sues for wrongful termination

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A former Carrizozo police officer is suing his boss, the mayor and board of trustees for wrongful termination and falsifying a public record.

Albert J. Padilla Jr. is asking the U.S. District Court in Albuquerque for damages to be determined at trial. Named as defendants are Mayor Manny Hernandez, the board of trustees and police chief Angelo Vega.

David Stevens, attorney for the town, said municipal officials believe the lawsuit is without merit and was brought maliciously.

"We intend to defend it vigorously," he said Tuesday.

The suit was filed last month on Padilla's behalf by Ruidoso attorney J. Robert Beauvais. In the suit, Padilla states that the town operated under a civil service-type personnel policy of employment as part of the municipal code. The policy mandated a period of probation not to exceed 12 months and that due process was required prior to termination for cause. An initial six month period of probation could be extended for an additional term of the same length.

Padilla was hired on April 22, 2002, as an entry level police officer. "At all times material, Padilla's work performance was satisfactory or above; no evaluation was done at the end of six months service and Padilla never was advised his probation had been extended," the suit states.

He believed he completed his period of probation at the end of six months in late October, it states.

In early September 2002, he was told to attend the New Mexico Law Enforcement Academy to obtain certification as required under state law. On Jan. 2, 2003, and within 15 days of completing the academy, Vega "ordered Padilla to meet with him and demanded he execute a written contract of employment different in its terms to the contract conditions in effect," the suit contends.

The agreement would have required Padilla to remain employed by the town for 18 months or be subject to repaying the town $9,866, the costs associated with attending the academy.

Padilla declined to sign the employment contract. Seven days later, he was notified that he was fired effective Jan. 8

The suit contends the defendants acted unlawfully to violate Padilla's protected property rights in his employment by firing him without notice or a chance to respond, thus violating his procedural due process right as defined by the First and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

Padilla was damaged by the violation of his property rights, including the pay and benefits he would have received. He is entitled to an award of front pay until he can obtain comparable employment, the suit contends.

The acts of the defendants were motivated by an intent to deprive Padilla of his protected property interest, therefore, punitive damages should be awarded, the suit states.

Signing the contract under threat of loss of employment would have changed the conditions of his employment without consideration, according to the suit. In retaliation for not signing, he was fired, the suit states.

"The acts of defendants to falsify or alter Padilla's personnel records to change his conditions of employment and to thwart and deny Padilla his protected property interest was willful," and should result in an additional punitive damages award, the suit insists.

Vega falsified a public record by back-dating and extending Padilla's probation, the suit states. That resulted in the wrongful termination of Padilla and damaged him, it states. The defendants breached the contract of employment with Padilla by terminating his employment without just cause and without a full evidentiary termination proceeding, according to the suit.

Procession to remember fallen Bonito fire chief

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Firefighters from all over the state will join locals in a memorial for recently deceased Bonito Fire Chief Tony Combs at 1 p.m. today, said Bonito Fire Department volunteer Tomas Chavez.

Those wishing to participate in the salute and firefighter procession will meet at the old Wal-Mart building on U.S. 70 and the procession will continue from there to Highway 48 through Ruidoso, ending at the Bonito/Sonterra Fire Station on Airport Road (Highway 220), where the memorial service will be held. A lunch will follow the service at the Sonterra Fire Station. If directions are needed, call Chavez at 257-4694 or 808-0878, Lisa Bartley at 430-0804, Acting Fire Chief Carl Bartley at 430-0407 or Robby Hall, deputy fire chief at 430-6950.

Combs, 51, died en route to the hospital after an apparent heart attack at his home April 27, according to a release from the Bonito Volunteer Fire Department.

He was a four-year veteran of the fire department and served as a firefighter, EMT and assistant chief. He was elected fire chief in January after the retirement of Chief Chris Denne. Assistant Chief Carl Bartley will assume the duties of Bonito fire chief until further notice, the release states.

Combs was a U.S. Navy veteran and former Navy SEAL, as well as a retired California law enforcement officer. His wife, Peggy, and a son, Jeremiah, survive him.

An account for the family, the Tony Combs Memorial Fund, has been established at City Bank of New Mexico, 1096 Mechem Drive in Ruidoso. For more information about the account, call 258-2265.

Tribal program receives funding

Money is headed to the Mescalero Apache Tribe to pay for its Head Start programs aimed at boosting early childhood education and development.

U.S. Sen. Pete Domenici, R-N.M., announced an award of $472,113 was granted to the tribe by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services targeted for Mescalero's full-year and half-day Head Start programs.

"The children of Mescalero will benefit most from this federal investment," the senator said.

OUR OPINION

The village launches its fire abatement plan

It's serious business for every Ruidoso property owner

Now is the time for property owners to start the payback for fire safety, but the village isn't being nasty about it — just very, very firm.

Soon after June 1, owners of 500 lots in five village subdivisions in the southwest quadrant will receive written notices to begin removing potential wildfire fuel from their property.

Rick DeIaco, the village's forester, said first up will be the King's Wood Addition, Apache Hills, Grindstone Properties, Lost Mountain and Black Forest subdivisions. Cooperation will with time create a substantial firebreak – tied in with already thinned municipal and U. S. Forest Service land – in the face of those vicious southwest winds that destroyed more than two dozen houses in the Kokopelli Fire in March of 2002.

Such a fire in the southwest sector might have destroyed the entire village.

Those June notices are the first implementation of the village's mandatory fire abatement ordinances. DeIaco notes that property owners will have options — that assistance will be available in a cost-share program; that volunteers can help; that loan programs can be arranged.

Even if the village does the work and sends a bill, or files a lien on the property, thinning must be done. This is serious business. Thin it, or prepare to pay somebody else to thin it.

Nothing like properly placed teeth to get attention

Here's what I love about New Mexico. We've got grit. We've got spirit. We've got spunk. And we've got...Paul Scott.

LOOKING ASKANCE
NED CANTWELL

Paul is an Elephant Butte boat dealer, and he is just a little steamed about Governor Bill Richardson's plan to release Butte reservoir water to irrigate farms. Now, you take some guy from another state ticked off about something the governor did. What kind of thing might you hear?

The taciturn Vermonter: "Bad idéar. Too much water for the farm-uh."

The drawling Texan: Pushes hat back on head, spits disdainfully, "That old boy was missin' when the good Lord gave out brains."

The urbane New Yorker: "We empathize with the governor's position but would beseech him to reconsider other options as they concern the vital resource of water."

The laid back Californian: "What's the dude smokin', man? Like, he's catching some bad waves."

Only in New Mexico do we get to the point, thanks to Paul Scott. Convinced the governor's water deal will ruin Sierra County, Paul let loose with this verbal barrage:

"They're going to bankrupt us," he said. "And frankly, they're going down with my teeth in their ass."

Yes! That's what makes New Mexico special. The teeth-in-your-ass state.

Oh, had I just one-tenth the artistic talent of Albuquerque Journal cartoonist John Trever. The panel is easily visualized if I could only draw it. Perhaps some artistic readers could sketch it out and send me a copy.

There is the normally relaxed, even bemused, Bill Richardson. Look at him now! Saucer eyes clouded with terror. Face grimaced in pain. Shaking his ample posterior trying to dislodge the tenacious Paul Scott who is hanging on for all he is worth. "Leggo, leggo, you fool. That's my butt!" Such a delightful mental image.

Poor Bill. What is especially painful to the governor is he thinks his Elephant Butte water deal is nifty. He calls it a win-win compromise.

The agreement hammered out by New Mexico calls for the release of 122,500 acre-feet of water from Elephant Butte starting next month, with a total of 217,000 acre-feet released over two years. The idea is to help farmers with irrigation problems, plus placate Texas and the interstate water compact.

Governor Richardson maintains the deal will leave enough water in Elephant Butte to satisfy recreational uses. Paul Scott and others think that notion is foolish. "We will have a mass exodus." Scott said. "And we'll be out of business. They have just screwed us," he added with characteristic candor.

So enraged is Scott and fellow citizens they planned to descend upon Santa Fe, boats in tow, to show their displeasure. Most of us have a difficult time navigating a Suburban through those narrow, picturesque lanes. A bunch of guys in trucks towing boats must surely produce one of the world's bizarre sights.

While it has its lighter moments, the Elephant Butte flap points out the gravity of water issues in New Mexico. One day someone might actually come up with a long-range solution. And that's something we can all sink our teeth into.

YOUR OPINION

Of Teddy bears and reservation fire rescues

To the editor:

The Mescalero Apache Fire Department is especially grateful to some special people in the greater Ruidoso area.

Just like any municipal fire/rescue department, this department responds to emergencies of all types on the Mescalero Indian Reservation. Often times, small children are the accidental victims of these emergencies or are directly affected emotionally by witnessing trauma to loved ones or other tribal members involved in such misfortune.

A new Teddy bear, placed in the hands of a traumatized infant, can go a long way to make things better for that moment in time. Oftentimes this allows my staff to do their job of providing tribal members and visitors to the reservation with emergency medical services or other forms of emergency assistance.

Because of the generosity of a few very giving people in our area, the Mescalero Apache Fire Rescue Department has received a donation of many new Teddy bears for distribution on the reservation.

These people are Barbara Heiser and Judy O'Neil of the Las Damas Ranchos Sonterra women's organization and Carolyn Aparici, a very caring resident of Ruidoso. It is folks such as these that make a real difference in life and makes the world a better place to live.

We want to formally thank these individuals. They will always be friends of Mescalero Apache Fire Rescue.

Temperature update

To the editor:

I agree with your news item in Friday's paper about the incorrect temperature for Ruidoso being reported by the National Weather Bureau.

It's been that way since time immemorial. This (Monday) morning, the Bureau gave Ruidoso's temperature as 52 degrees. My cheap Wal-Mart thermometer read 32 degrees. If anyone with the Bureau questions this, I'd appreciate them coming by and break the ice on my birdbath or better still look at the white coating on my neighbor's roof.

Certainly, Ruidoso should report the true temperatures that we have, especially for those who wish to come here and enjoy our fantastic weather. But a difference of 20 degrees? Ah, come on now.

Home safely from the war

To the editor:

We are truly grateful to all those who have had our son in their thoughts and prayers during the last few months. Casey has safely returned to the United States.

Your concern, support and love have kept us going, and we are aware of how many kind and generous souls are in this world.

Many other families are still waiting for the return of loved ones. Please continue to support them, our military and the country they so proudly serve.

Pipeline not feasible

To the editor:

The potential availability of water is an unknown factor in our daily lives. For many years, Ruidoso and other areas have conducted studies to prove up our water reserves, without success.

This being true for Ruidoso as well as for the Mescalero Tribe, how is it feasible for Ruidoso to spend $1 million to install a pipeline to draw down a water supply from the tribe when the tribe's available water is suspect?

This idea makes no sense and deserves a speedy demise.

Hidden treasure

To the editor:

At the Spencer Theater this past Sunday, my friends and I expected an amateur effort, typical of small towns, from our local choral groups (the ENMU community choir).

Instead, we were astounded by the professionalism of their performances, rivaling any we have heard through national media.

One soloist delighted us with her trained operatic voice. Another entranced us with her incredible range, from a low smoky quality, reminiscent of famous jazz singers, to a high, equally seductive, pitch. I cannot mention all the soloists, but none was inadequate.

My friends and I are not particularly qualified to evaluate musical performances. Yet, we recognize magnificent displays when they are presented to us. Perhaps others in Ruidoso, like us, are not fully aware of the vast array of artistic talent in this town.

Choral director Danny Flores, for one, is a master at coordinating every voice to an almost note-perfect single organism of beauty, and – unbelievably – the tickets were only $5, folks!

Watchful waiting

To the editor:

One of the few business trips I always enjoy is when I work in Ruidoso! With that said, there are two issues I would desire to comment on.

First — the water situation in Lincoln County. As a resident of Lubbock, I have a tremendous love for trees and water. I eagerly anticipate my Ruidoso News every week. You see, I have second or even primary home in Lincoln County for the past three years. However, the constant bickering between public and governmental interests regarding water is of grave concern to a potential buyer. I know that there are those who do not want Lincoln County to grow...and that is disconcerting to me as I view these battles as a unwillingness to improve quality of life for residents. My opinion is, to not pursue water rights with the Mescalero Tribe is foolish and will perhaps cost more to secure water in the future! Beware, developers — many of your potential sales prospects are watching closely!

My other concern: As a hospital consultant with the most recognized biotech company in the U.S., I question the motivation from those who are critical of the Lincoln County Medical Center. Believe me, your area has a progressive hospital that aggressively treats conditions such as heart attacks. I have hospitals in New Mexico and Texas that, size for size, many would wish to have the quality of physicians and support staff you are fortunate to have! Hats off to EMS also!

Come on Lincoln County! There are many of us who want to see you grow and preserve the beauty we enjoy so much! Don't let us and your residents down!

Fantastic concert

To the editor:

The concert by "Band du Soleil" on April 24 was fantastic. The artists' musicianship, their selection by the Ruidoso Concert Association, and staging in the new Ruidoso Schools Performing Arts Center all contributed to an enjoyable evening.

Trumpeter Gary Ross, French Horn player Larry Kursar and pianist Rosetta Bacon were simply superb. The program ranged from very classical, to Gershwin, to jazz, along with some original compositions written specially for the group. A very appreciative audience was enthusiastic.

Christian school settles lawsuit

■ The plaintiffs were compensated for court filing fees and other schooling costs.

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

The suit filed by parents against the First Baptist Church of Ruidoso Downs and Ruidoso Christian School board president Connie Behringer was settled in mid-April.

"I think we made the point, which was to show that there's some principle behind having to abide by your obligations," said Adam Rafkin, attorney for the plaintiff. "I think it's been resolved to the extent that the animosity has been dissipated by the settlement. Our portion was just costs and is going to a local charity — the First Christian Church."

Joseph and Barbara Graham received enough money to compensate them for additional expenses they will incur for having their children schooled privately, and Robin Rafkin settled for having the church pay the filing fees and cost of service, $167, to a local charity, he said.

The parents filed suit Dec. 24, 2002, after the school announced on Dec. 20 that it would close its doors Dec. 27. The suit was a petition for preliminary and permanent injunction for breach of contract and an attempt to get the school to stay open for the rest of the school year.

"A number of judges recused themselves because my wife used to work for the judicial district," Adam Rafkin said. "By the time we found a judge, half the school year was over."

Robin Rafkin said the suit was "about trying to get them to answer questions about what happened at the school. We were not going after them for the money."

Steve Long of Bill Gordon and Associates of Albuquerque said the settlement meeting was "cordial" and "everybody was able to shake hands and we were able to resolve the suit. I'm very pleased with the good faith that everyone brought to the table," he said.

Long said reimbursement for the court filing fees, Robin Rafkin's settlement, will be donated to another school.

Former NFL player to speak at prayer breakfast

Former NFL football player Larry G. Linne will be the guest speaker at Thursday's fifth annual Lincoln County Prayer Breakfast.

Tom Battin will serve as master of ceremonies and the Flying J Wranglers will perform at the breakfast, from 6:30 to 8 a.m. Thursday at the Ruidoso Convention Center.

Linne, a former NFL receiver who played for the New England Patriots, Dallas Cowboys and San Diego Chargers, lives in Albuquerque with his family and owns several businesses in the state. He is a board member of the New Mexico Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

According to a press release, "The purpose of this event is to honor the youth of Lincoln County and Mescalero, in particular the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and to ask God's blessings and protection upon all military personnel, the men and women serving in law enforcement, fire and flood protection and emergency rescue, both professionals and volunteers, and the leaders of the world's nations."

Tickets are $10 per person and available at various local banks and chamber of commerce offices in Lincoln County communities.

Also, Linne will speak at a youth rally for students grades seven through 12 today starting at 6:30 p.m. at the new First Baptist Church on Country Club Drive. For more information, call Mark Davis at 257-2081.

BUDGET: Preliminary meeting set for Friday in Carrizozo

ing of the state unfunded mandate department for flood plains management created by recent legislation. The estimated cost is $103,910 for two employees, office and related expenses. The commission should support efforts to repeal the unfunded mandate.

• Consider implementing the last of the available additional discretionary funding of a quarter of one mill, which would yield $135,501. One mill equates to $1 for each $1,000 of taxable property value.

• Selectively fund external agencies until the final budget preparation in July.

• Ask all departments under the general fund to cut operating expenses, not salaries and benefits, by 5 percent for an estimated savings of $98,864. That action carries the risk of having to reappropriate money at mid-year, Stewart wrote.

The proposed $16.78 million budget compares to $16.24 million approved in July of last year for 2002-2003.

The sheriff is seeking a $43,773 increase over this year for a total of $1,428,538 and the assessor budget would move from $426,409 to $453,091. Under the road department, expenses would go down from $1,179,351 this year to $1,161,469.

School board meeting

The Ruidoso School Board will conduct a special open meeting at 9 a.m. Thursday at the Central Administration Board Room, 200 Horton Circle, to conduct a hearing regarding the issuance of "The Notice of Intent to Recommend Discharge" of Edward Hedin, a teacher and coach at Ruidoso High School, by Superintendent Mike Gladden.

A closed session will be held by the local school board to consider the discharge of Hedin and to render its written decision of the discharge hearing.

Eagle Drive restricted

Eagle Drive between Sudderth and North Street will be restricted to one lane during work hours as new waterlines are installed by New Mexico Underground Contractors.

Through traffic should avoid the area for the next few weeks, although the road will be open to local residents.

Asphalt paving will begin within the next two weeks where waterlines were replaced last fall in White Mountain Heights and on Robin Road. Weather will be a key factor in the actual timing of the work, said Larry Grasmick, who heads village water and wastewater operations.

For more information, call the water department at (505) 257-2386.

GOP to meet

The Lincoln County Republican Party will meet Tuesday, May 6, at K-Bob's Restaurant on U.S. 70 West. Social hour will start at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m. The guest speaker will be Mickey D. Barnett. All are invited to attend.

Benefit golf tourney

A benefit golf tournament to raise money for the Red Cross to offset the costs of preventive efforts and future fires in the area will start at 9 a.m. Monday, May 5, sponsored through the Alto Lakes Golf & Country Club. The goal of planners is to raise $35,000 that could be used by the Red Cross for emergencies in the local chapter area. The cost for an individual player is $125, all of which will go to the Red Cross, and there are many other levels for benefactors, team sponsors and hole sponsors — all tax deductible. Various prizes will be awarded, including a Toyota Forerunner or a Honda Pilot.

People can sign up through Sunday by calling the Pro Shop at 336-4232. All greens fees will be waived.

Diabetes classes

Starting Thursday, Lincoln County Medical Center will offer free classes to people with diabetes. Classes will cover topics like exercise, fast food and its effects, guidelines for diabetic care and new diabetes treatments.

"By educating yourself, you become armed to live a healthy life in spite of your diabetes," said Lyn Miller, RN, diabetes educator.

Classes will be at 6:30 p.m. in the LCMC conference room. Participants will have a chance to ask questions at the end of each class.

Class dates are May 1 and 22, June 5 and 19, July 3 and 18 and Aug. 21. Class topics will vary.

THE HORSES TEACH THEM

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Students at Gavilan Canyon School have been learning to ride horses – English style – this semester, thanks to a program riding instructor Margaret McDonald Lahey presented to the Ruidoso Schools in January.

Lahey, an instructor at Equibest Equestrian Center, suggested establishing an "Equine-Facilitated Experiential Learning Horsemanship Program" for at-risk students that would use horses to teach life skills and build self-esteem and strength of character.

"Therapeutic riding and horsemanship programs have been used successfully to create positive change in the lives of troubled individuals," Lahey wrote in her proposal.

"I did some research and found that programs like this help people with problems in their lives, teaching them responsibility, confidence, communication skills, sequencing and other skills," Lahey said. "I thought it would be good for kids with special needs."

Lahey taught four students during the first session, and another four during the second session, which started a few weeks ago. Students are bused to Equibest for two-hour classes. Lahey and volunteers who worked with the Hoofbeats program give them an introduction to the basics of safe horsemanship and riding.

"We show them how to handle the horses safely and work around them, grooming, tacking up," Lahey said. "We give them their own horses and by the end of four weeks they can do everything without help."

Joseph Potts, 12, signed up for the second session because he had so much fun in the first one. Students are given an evaluation to fill out afterward, and "I said yes to everything," he said. "I found out that it's a lot more fun taking care of something instead of people always trying to take care of you. Missy was my favorite horse. I found her special spot around her neck. You can hug her and she likes it," Joseph said.

He and Alicia Johnson are "old-timers" who take turns filling the one vacant spot in the second session.

"Most of them have never been around horses," said Gavilan Canyon teacher Barry Nelson, who with Guillermo Maldonado organized the school end of the program. "It's a very precise introductory program for them. They lead them through all the processes. Most of these kids don't know the front of a horse from the back. It's a hands-on clinic. Each one has an instructor, but they let the kids do all the work."

The school district is paying for the program out of its special activities fund for Gavilan Canyon School. Lahey said Equibest will establish a scholarship program for students who have been recommended by the school.

Alicia Johnson, 14, said she signed up for the second session because she enjoyed the first so much. "After I got out of rehab, there was nothing for me to do...and then they got me started in this program. It helped me clear my head and helped me not to think of all the problems I was going through because I had to think of how I was going to direct the horse or put on the saddle."

She and the horse assigned to her, Emma, have gotten very close, she said.

"My trainer said Emma's never warmed up to anybody as fast as she warmed up to me," Alicia said. "I found that special spot on Emma where they warm up to you. She listened to me really well. It was easy to direct her and tell her where to go."

Alicia hopes to get a scholarship and participate in the program next year, too.

Adam Manske, 12, worked with Dunny, who's "kind of blind in one eye, so you have to be careful with him. It's cool because I learned how to take care of a horse and it taught me responsibility — cleaning the hooves and brushing his hair."

Adam has two dogs at home, but, he said, "A horse is so much bigger and more responsibility because you have to lead it out, so it's kind of harder."

Students learn to read a horse's body language, why a 1,200-pound animal is such a "scaredy cat," rules for approaching, handling, leading, turning out, tying, grooming, bridling and saddling, mounting and dismounting, walking, halting, trotting, turning, barn and arena etiquette and safety, how to put horses away and care for the equipment.

"It's almost magical, the reaction we've gotten and the improvement we've seen in the kids from the first to the last day," Lahey said. "They've been very good from day one. Some of them that were a little tentative about getting near a horse are haltering, grooming, leading, cleaning their feet, tacking up and turning them out. In the beginning some of them didn't even want to touch the horse and by the end they're best friends."

Fire doesn't ruin cleanup event

■ A record amount of trash was picked up in Carrizozo over the weekend.

BY JULIE CARTER
FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

Perfect weather and crowds of people helped make the second of the three grant-required cleanup days a "trashing success."

Organizers had anticipated an improved turnout over the fall cleanup day and ordered six 30-yard trash roll-offs from LCSWA. That was two more than the fall clean up had required.

On Saturday trash volumes surpassed anyone's expectations and three additional roll-offs were needed. Every roll-off was filled to the brim. Dumpsites tallied 116 loads carried in by pickup and trailer and 105 sacks unloaded individually. Trash pickup was cut off at 11 a.m. because all trash facilities were full to capacity in that three-hour period.

The cash incentive offered to the school classes had the youth taking part in great numbers in the combing of the city streets. The junior class collected the most trash, winning a $300 cash award on top of the $250 given for participation. Junior class sponsors were Sandy Jiron and Frances Zamora. The sophomores came in second place and the seventh grade was third. Dr. Glenn Hawk was in charge of the tally marks for trash collected by students.

The height of the day's excitement came when Town Trustee Wes Lindsay's pickup caught fire. He and a pickup full of helpers had just unloaded at the dumpsite. As they were leaving, but still in the field of dry grass and weeds, smoke and flame began pouring from beneath the hood. Everyone was evacuated from the pickup and the fire department was alerted. One teenage girl injured her knee when she jumped from the back of the pickup and an ambulance was called to care for her injury. Her mother reports she is now walking on the leg and doing well.

An estimated 150 people showed up to help with the cleanup. Many people helped but had not come early to the sign-in. The Carrizozo Fire Department served hamburgers to 120 people at lunchtime.

The New Mexico Clean and Beautiful grant requires another cleanup day. Organizers have scheduled that for May 31. As in years before, the city will give youth who sign up to help a free pass to the swimming pool.

Corona puts money toward school repair

1937 building to receive needed renovation

BY JULIE CARTER .com
FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

Monday of this week marked the beginning of interior demolition in an old rock building on the Corona School campus. The demolition is in preparation for $1 million budgeted construction to take place over the next five months.

The renovation of the 1937 CCC-built rock building is bringing a long history to the forefront. The building was originally the Corona Elementary and was used as such until 1965. When the current elementary buildings were constructed, the rock building became a place for storage.

In 1997, an electrical fire in a room caused extensive roof and smoke damage. After that repair, the building has been vacant awaiting a source of funding to bring it back into use. That came not long after.

In the 2001 legislative session, a senate bill was passed to provide $200 million from various sources for Fiscal Years 2001-2006 "to correct outstanding deficiencies" in public school buildings and related facilities.

The Deficiencies Correction Unit has a distinctly different purpose, funding, and process from the current critical capital outlay program. Eighty-eight of the 89 school districts in the state were found to be in need of critical corrections.

Responsibilities of the unit are to "validate, verify, and prioritize conditions that adversely affect health and safety of students or school personnel in accordance with guidelines adopted by the Public School Capital Outlay Council."

When Corona schools were inspected, one of the areas of improvement necessary under the DC Unit was the school cafeteria. Options were to renovate the 1950s facility to bring up to code, or to use equal funds to relocate it. With this and other sources of funding from grants and capital outlay, Corona schools finally had a way to bring the rock building back to life.

Corona Superintendent Travis Lightfoot said renovation should be complete by mid-September. The building will house the school cafeteria as well as new ag classrooms and music and art classrooms. "We have applied for a grant for art materials and hope to capitalize on local talent to rotate a series of different kinds of practical classes for the students."

Aerobics class now in 'Zozo

BY JULIE CARTER
FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

Pat Cooper will instruct a low-impact aerobics class beginning May 9. The classes will be each Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Recreation Center. Cost will be $3 per session and you can pay at each session. There will be no long-term sign-up or requirements. Participants can come when they want to exercise.

Cooper has previous experience as an instructor. She will begin the classes at a pace set for those that have not exercised in a long time. For more information contact Suzi Ferm at 648-2351 during the day.

Cops chase, nab car theft suspect

BY SANDY SUGGITT
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

A report of a gas skip Monday resulted in a 29-mile chase by police at speeds in excess of 110 mph — and the recovery of a stolen car.

After an Allsup's clerk at 2820 Sudderth Drive reported a driver who had fueled up without paying, Ruidoso police located the vehicle on Carrizo Canyon, where it failed to stop. A fast-speed pursuit ensued. En route, police found that the vehicle had been stolen in Indiana.

The chase went through the Mescalero Reservation past the hunting lodge, where Bureau of Indian Affairs officers blocked the road. The vehicle went around the BIA unit and south on White Mountain Road on the reservation, traveling at more than 90 mph to the intersection of White Mountain Road and Highway 70. There it went through the stop sign and into oncoming traffic lanes.

By the time the patrol car left the reservation heading toward Tularosa, it was traveling at more than 113 mph, according to the police report. The officers called the New Mexico State Police and the Otero County Sheriff's Department asking that they deploy stop sticks.

A State Police "officer deployed stop sticks causing the right front tire of the vehicle to go flat," the report states, and the vehicle stopped at the 232 mile marker.

The driver, Jose L. Limones, 37, of Grand Prairie, Texas, left the vehicle and started to go toward the brush on the side of the road, but then complied with commands and was taken into custody.

Asked why he ran, Limones said that he was worried the officer was going to give him a ticket for the gas skip, according to the report.

When the officer asked if he had been worried about the stolen vehicle, he said he borrowed the vehicle from his sister's friend in Indianapolis, Ind., about three days prior and was going to Los Angeles, Calif., and didn't expect it to be reported for several days.

Limones was charged with receiving stolen property, resisting and evading a police officer and reckless driving.

Animal adoptathon to start on Saturday

Officials hope to end with vacant shelter

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

The animal shelter on Gavilan Canyon operated by the Humane Society of Lincoln County will participate this year in the largest adoption event in the world.

The shelter was designated as one of the sites for the North Shore Animal League's 2003 Pet Adoptathon May 3 and May 4.

"That weekend, we'll be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday in an effort to adopt out as many animals as we can," Adkins said. "The goal is to leave the shelter Sunday evening without any of the animals eligible for adoption left in the shelter." The animals already will be neutered or spayed.

The adoptathon is billed as the world's largest life-saving event of the year with thousands of participating groups and sites. Success stories from last year's 25,000 adoptions are published at www.petadoptathon.com.

Joumana Kidd, Extra and NBA entertainment reporter, is the celebrity spokesperson for the event.

Other events planned by the society over the summer include a Pet Faire in early June with demonstrations and information for pet owners, as well as inoculations for their animals, and an August Fur Ball, a dinner dance and silent auction as a major fund-raising effort.

Regular shelter hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

FUNERALS DEATHS

Lady Warriors win easily over Socorro

■ The Ruidoso softball team was on a three-game win streak heading into their doubleheader against Lovington on Tuesday.

BY TODD FUQUA
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

Chalk up another win for the Ruidoso Lady Warriors against their former district foes.

The Lady Warrior nine took to the road again on Friday, this time traveling to Socorro to take on that "other" team of Warriors.

Ruidoso came out the big victor, winning 18-6 and continuing a three-game winning streak during a brief hiatus from District 4-3A play.

"It was a pretty good game, we got up on them early," said Ruidoso coach Billy Page. "Then we held them — we had hardly any mistakes defensively."

Ruidoso (8-11) showed little mercy against a team they had beaten once already, and used Friday's game to prepare for a pair of tough matchups with Lovington and St. Michael's.

"Hopefully we can keep this up, we have to do the things we're capable of — the routine things," Page said.

The Lady Warriors hosted Lovington for two games on Tuesday and head to Santa Fe to finish out the regular season against St. Michael's on Saturday at 2 p.m.

Ruidoso needs to win all four of its remaining district games to even have a shot at a regional berth, and would need a few losses by Portales or Lovington to get them that berth.

"The girls are really relaxed and confident, you can see it in their faces," Page said. "The plan this week was to improve ourselves. We still have some hope."

Warriors narrowly miss win

BY TODD FUQUA
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

Now with nothing more to play for than pride, the Ruidoso baseball team is actually putting together a few good games.

The Warriors were leading New Mexico Military Institute 4-0 after four inning in Roswell on Saturday, only to see that lead evaporate to an eventual 11-9 loss. Ruidoso then fell in the second game, 15-8.

With Lovington and NMMI each having wrapped up post-season berths, the Warriors hosted Portales Tuesday in a double header in a pair of games that mean nothing in the District 4-3A race.

It's somewhat of a letdown that Ruidoso (6-16, 0-10) played some of their best ball now that the season is effectively over, but that didn't upset Ruidoso coach Mike Morris too much.

"The boys probably played their best two games back-to-back since the Eunice tournament," Morris said. "We had a shot to win it in the first game."

The Warriors jumped out on NMMI with three runs in the top of the second inning on four hits by Josh Adams, Jaime Urban, Wes Adaza and Ben Baugh, and a sacrifice by Nick Page.

Even after the Colts scored seven runs in the third and fourth innings to take the lead, Ruidoso did not back down. They added three more runs in the top of the fifth inning on a three-run homer by Urban, and scored two more in the seventh on a triple by Adams.

"Their coach (Charlie Ward) told me we really had them worried," Morris said.

The next game was quite a letdown, as NMMI came out quick with 11 runs in the first inning, then held off the Warriors through the rest of the game.

Ruidoso was still able to hit — Auston Beier had a two-run triple in the fourth inning and Adams had a solo home run in the sixth — but their 11-run deficit was too much to overcome.

"We're working toward next year in our ability and mental attitude," Morris said. "The attitude was better in Roswell, we didn't quit and fought to the last."

Ruidoso tracksters take third, sixth at Artesia

BY TODD FUQUA
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

A busy weekend apparently took its toll on the Ruidoso track team. Facing their upcoming prom the next night, the Lady Warriors finished third at the Artesia Invitational Friday, while the boys took sixth overall.

"I'd like to know why we performed like that," said Ruidoso coach Ronny Maskew. "It was still a pretty good meet. We need to improve, but we're in pretty good shape."

The Lady Warriors usually rely on the strength of their throwers — and while Tamara Grant did win the shot put with another state qualifying mark of 37 feet, 1 1/2 inches, the rest of the throwing contingent didn't do as well.

Katie Coronado — usually dominant in the javelin competition — finished third with a throw of 102-11, while Rachel Loya was fifth in javelin and sixth in the discus.

In fact, the Lady Warriors' only other first-place finish came from Cecily Howell, who won the pole vault with a height of 8-foot-6. Howell also added a state-qualifying mark in the 300-meter hurdles, running the course in 51.19 seconds.

As a team, Ruidoso also qualified the 800-meter relay, taking fourth with a time of 1:53.88, meaning all four girls relay teams are now qualified for state.

The boys also qualified a relay team, running the 800 relay in 1:34.12 and finishing fifth. The final relay team needed to qualify for the boys remains the medley.

"Last year, we had no relays qualified until district," Maskew said. "We're actually doing very well."

Ruidoso heads to Carlsbad Friday for the Cave City Invitational, their final tune-up before the District 4-3A meet the following week in Lovington.

Warriors have another successful weekend on tennis courts

BY CHARLI KRAUSE
FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

It was just another winning week for the Warrior tennis players. Facing St. Teresa on Thursday, the boys won all doubles and Matthew Johnston, Braxton Forbes, Adrian Olvera, Greg Urschel and Shane Hoffman all won their single matches. An incomplete St. Teresa girl's team lost singles to Christine Brown, Kristen Bewley and doubles to Katherine Dunstan with Beth Robinson.

Friday's match was a little more important. The Warriors faced the Grants Pirates for the first time, and it was their second district match.

Alamogordo's freshman dynamic duo overpowers Lady Chiefs

BY KEI
FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

On what was a beautiful day in Mescalero for softball Thursday, the Alamogordo Lady Tiger freshman squad came to pay a visit to the Lady Chiefs.

Although the matchup between the new Mescalero varsity squad and the Tiger freshman wasn't originally on the schedule, both teams were looking for more competition.

In their first year ever of playing softball, the Chiefs wanted as much competition as they could find.

The Tigers had eight games canceled this year when were supposed to play close to 18. After having so many games canceled and the letdown of not playing, with only practicing and scrimmaging on the schedule, they were ready for some real action.

Fueled by a pair of sisters in the battery, freshman pitcher Diane Vion and her sister, freshman catcher Danielle Vion, overpowered the Chiefs in both games of a double header, winning 30-1 and 34-2, both in the third inning due to the mercy rule.

On Monday, Mescalero traveled to Alamogordo — again to take on the Tiger freshman team — and again lost 16-0.

Their Monday contest was supposed to be a double-header, but an injury to Mescalero's Sierra Shanta brought the second game to a close, as the Lady Chiefs found themselves down to just eight players and had to forfeit the game.

That's really too ba as Mescalero was leading after one inning 1-0.

In the first inning, Chief Maywee Wheeler led off with a walk, then Charlotte Tahnito doubled into right field. Nicole Dolan was up next and made Tiger pitcher Diane Vion work extra hard, taking the count full before walking.

Augusta Lang then stuck out, leaving bases loaded for Tori Torres.

Torres then proceed to extend the count full and receive a walk, sending Wheeler in from third to score the first and what would soon be the only run of the game.

The side was retired on the next play with an infield fly to the shortstop and Dolan getting picked off at second.

Then up came the Tigers, and down went the Tigers — a first for Mescalero. In the bottom of the first, after a walk and a fielders choice and another walk, it seemed the Lady Tigers were ready to jump all over the Chiefs.

With one out and girls on first and second, clean-up hitter Mari Mathewson hit a line shot down the right field line that looked to be going for at least a double.

But that's when fate stepped in, and Shanta, who usually plays right field but was playing left due to a shortage of players, reached out and made a sensational backhand catch of the line drive, relaying the ball into second to prevent any runs.

The next inning, the Lady Chiefs seemed to have a little spring in their step — it was the top of the second inning and they were ahead 1-0.

After the first batter stuck out swinging aggressively and Valerie Mendez hit a hard grounder to the shortstop for an out, Shanta came to the plate and was working the count against Vion, when fate unfortunately smiled again.

Shanta was hit by an inside pitch on the elbow and went down.

As Shanta lay on the ground in pain, players and coaches and fans all rushed to help and make sure that this player would be OK.

She could not get it together to continue playing and seemed to be suffering from shock and from the heat. She was hustled into an ambulance and the game was called with Mescalero having to forfeit, due to having only eight players.

The next day, Bradford reported that Shanta was fine, with only a bruised elbow.

And he was pleased with his team's effort in game two.

"We probably did a lot better job on the bat end," he said. "Some of the girls have been really struggling at the plate. We kind of changed it around a little bit, and those girls who we moved up, they kind of gave us a pretty good boost."

In the first game, the Chiefs didn't score any runs, but managed to hold the Lady Tigers to only four runs in the first inning and six in the second.

This was in part due, once again, to an improving defense by Mescalero.

However in the bottom of the third inning Alamogordo found its offense and the game was called 16-0 under the mercy rule.

Mescalero wraps up its inaugural season Wednesday with a doubleheader vs. the Ruidoso junior varsity at 3 p.m. in Mescalero.

Out of it early

The Lady Tigers were aggressive from the start on Friday against Mescalero at the plate and on the base paths.

Things weren't all bad for the Chiefs, and although they didn't manage to score a lot of runs in either game, it wasn't from lack of effort.

After a shaky first inning in game two in which Chief pitcher Sheriene Davis had some control problems and catcher Charlotte Tahnito felt more like a hockey goalie, things settled down and some very good defense by the infield kept the game interesting.

The infield for the Chiefs made some spectacular defensive stops in both games.

Even when not able to make the putout or a bit unsure where to make the play, the infield stopped the ball on numerous occasions. It was the overthrows and simple mental errors that come with a lack of knowledge and practice that led to Tiger runs.

On the offensive end, the Chiefs came up to the plate swinging and were fairly aggressive in their own right.

They hit the ball hard, just at times right to where a Tiger was positioned.

In game one, Maywee Wheeler singled and came home on a series of Tiger mistakes for the lone Chief run.

In the second inning of the second game, Chief third baseman Augusta Lang, who had a wonderful defensive game, hit a Tiger fastball into left center field that went to the fence for an inside-the-park home-run, giving the team its first run of the game.

The Chiefs' second run came in the third, when Tori Torres tripled and scored on a wild pitch.

On the other side of the field, the Alamogordo freshmen were an offensive juggernaut, fueled in part by some unsportsmanlike conduct by some Mescalero High School boys in the second and third innings of game two. All this did was make the Tigers play harder and more aggressively, in particular Diane Vion, who pitched both games of the double header.

In the second game, Diane, who had not thrown a wild pitch in both games, wound up throwing three wild pitches in the third inning while being egged on by the Mescalero boys. Even with that, Diane threw a total of 27 pitches in three innings in game two, striking out four.

TENNIS: Girls undefeated in District 3-3A

The girls' side swept Grants but the boys were defeated 1-4. The matches were all close, but the only win came from Shane Hoffman and Brendan LeCounte in doubles.

"The girls had a very exciting match. They have a mental picture of what they need to do for state, and they'll go through Grants at the district tournament. I expect all of my girls to go to state this year," said coach Celeste Franklin. "Even though the boys lost, the match was so close. On any other day they could beat Grants and I know it. They have by no means given up."

The Warriors will travel to Artesia on Thursday and face Grants a second time on Saturday. The Lady Warriors beat Artesia last year, and Franklin says the girls are in "good shape." Though not knowing much about the boys' team, she is still confident that the Warriors will play their best.

"I know we have a strong team and that we can take on anyone in our district. We'll do whatever it takes to win," said Christine Brown.

Matthew Johnston returns a serve by Grants' Matt Black Friday at School House Park. Johnston lost the match, 6-2, 6-1, but was able to defeat Abraham Lozoya of Santa Teresa on Thursday, 1-6, 6-3, 7-6 (7-4).

NMAA fee catches schools off-guard

BY TODD FUQUA
RUIDOSO NEWS SPORTS EDITOR .com

Citing a need to meet operating expenses through the end of the summer, the New Mexico Activities Association board of directors voted unanimously to assess a one-time fee to all member schools in a conference call meeting April 22, and almost every single school in the state isn't too happy about it.

Count Ruidoso activities director Ron Wall among those that are displeased.

"I don't think, as with any non-profit organization, that you mandate the membership to pay up when the organization has a sudden financial obligation."

The assessment is based on the size of the schools, with Class 1A schools playing $600, and 5A schools being assessed $1,300 to $1,400 each. Ruidoso's tab, as a 3A school, works out to $1,000.

The problem, Wall said, is that his budget has been set since April 18, and $1,000 is pretty difficult to come by at this point in the year.

"All of our money is spent, and I don't know where this would come from," Wall said.

Wall also had a problem with the manner in which he found out about the assessment, stating that he first learned of it by reading the Albuquerque Journal Friday morning.

Dan Salzwedel, NMAA director, claimed there really isn't any reason to be surprised at the association's monetary shortfall, or at its decision to take this action.

"It shouldn't be something that snuck up on people," Salwedel said Tuesday. "Anybody who has been at our annual meetings the last several years knows very well that the lack of hard money did not correspond with the expectations."

Salzwedel said the board of directors had planned to implement an increase in annual dues last summer, but declined to implement it fully because the June budget had already been set at that point.

The board plans to implement the higher dues this summer to head off this kind of one-time fee assessment.

But Salwedel said that's just part of the overall problem.

"What people don't realize is that 75 percent of our budget is based on gate receipts," Salzwedel said. "When you string a few years of low gates for one reason or another, it hurts. We budgeted for the poor economy and other things, but when we host activities out side of Albuquerque, it costs us a lot."

This spring, the only state events to be held in Albuquerque will be the tennis tournament and the Class 1A/2A track meet. The Class 3A meet will be in Bloomfield, while the 4A/5A meet will be held in Alamogordo.

The state baseball tournament will be held in Farmington, while state softball takes place in Las Cruces.

Also, the combination of the boys and girls state basketball tournaments into one week has proven to be a major loss of revenue.

"The actual assessment is problematic to us, there's never really a good time to do this," Salwedel said. "A lot of schools have limited money left. If a school has a demonstrated problem (in paying) we'll honor that."

For his part, Wall has no problem in paying the assessment if there's a good reason for the shortfall, just as long as steps are taken to prevent it in the future.

Capitan sweeps Slade Relays; Carrizozo girls take third

BY TODD FUQUA AND KEI .com
FOR THE RUIDOSO NEWS

Another track meet, another pair of wins for the Capitan boys and girls teams.

A quick look at their finishes, and you'd think Tiger coach Ed Davis would be pretty pleased with the season thus far.

Certainly, he's happy they've done as well as they have in these meets, and he's pretty pleased that he's got as many individuals headed to state as he has.

But he would have liked the season to be longer — and it wouldn't have hurt to have more days like they had Friday at the William Slade Memorial track meet in Tularosa.

Still, the Tigers would have run in two inches of snow because, Davis said, they want to win.

"They ran hard, that's why they won," Davis said: "They're competitive."

The boys won by 43 points over District 5-2A rival — and meet host — Tularosa, while the girls bested the Lady Wildcats 145.5 to 119.5 points.

Additionally, Catherine Wood turned in state qualifying marks in the 200 and 400-meter dash, while Anna Karolczak took second and qualified for state in the 800-meter run.

"She's still sick, and not really there yet," Davis said of Karolczak's performance.

Several meet records fell on Friday, as everyone took advantage of the first really good weather all year long. Bo Sparks took the record in the high jump with a leap of 6 feet, 2 inches, while sister Falon Sparks had her best throw of the year and set a new Slade mark herself in the javelin, throwing 110 feet even.

Additionally, Jessica Becker held the old record in the shot put, throwing for 36-9 2001. Friday, she set a new record of 39-7, and led six of the seven finalists, including Cassie Lackey (Tularosa) and Kara Goss (Cloudcroft) to state qualifying throws.

The only thing left now for the Tigers is the District 5-2A meet next this Saturday in Hatch. Capitan has seen every team in the district except Lordsburg, and Davis is working his team hard to get ready for both the district and state meets.

"We want to get more than one athlete qualified in each event," Davis said. "We need as many kids at state as we can get if we want a chance at winning. We're pretty strong in shot, discus and javelin, we just need more in the running events."

Carrizozo

The Lady Grizzlies had their share of meet records on Friday, many of them coming through Ariel Burr.

Burr won the 100, 200 and 400-meter dashes, setting new records in the 200 and 400, while teammate Lacey Burd set a meet record in winning the 800-meter run.

As a team, the Carrizozo girls finished third overall, and likewise are now preparing for their appearance at the District 7-1A meet this Saturday in Estancia.

"Our biggest problem is depth," said Carrizozo coach Mel Holland. "We shouldn't have a problem at district, it will pretty much be between us and Mountainair. But at state, it will be very tough. It won't be a high score for whoever wins it."

On the boys side, Anthony Beltran was the only Grizzly to place in any event, throwing the discus 119 feet for a second-place finish, and taking third in the shot put with a throw of 39-10.

Overall, Holland felt his team made several improvements.

"This was a good meet for us, the warm weather helped everybody," Holland said. "It was a very enjoyable meet, I wasn't half as tired as before."

Mescalero

For the Mescalero Chiefs and Lady Chiefs, it was a long day, but some personal bests came out of this event and times are improving.

In a heartbreaker for the girls, while in turn one of the 400-meter relay, the handoff went astray and caused the Lady Chiefs to have to sit and watch the rest of the race. At the time they were in second place.

Augusta Lang, after having quite a day on the softball field the day before, managed to turn in a time of :14.09 in the 100-meter dash for the girls, good enough for third place.

In the 3,200 meter run, Maggie Starr pulled in a time of 16:08.69 for a fourth place finish and more points for the Lady Chiefs team.

"This was a good meet for us, the warm weather helped everybody. It was a very enjoyable meet, I wasn't half as tired as before."

Mel Holland
Carrizozo track coach

For the boys, Christian Aldava, running in the 100-meter dash, finished with a time of :11.99 and a sixth place finish. Then he came back and ran in the 200, and with a time of :24.70, managed to take a third place finish home for the Chiefs.

David Marden placed sixth in the discus with a throw of 94-10 1/2.

In the 400-meter relay, the boys managed to run a :52.50 which was good enough to give them and the team a sixth place finish in that event.

"I was real pleased with all our efforts," said coach Rodney Wright. "We got everybody to improve today in their time and their distance. I am real pleased in the way we handled ourselves in our throwing events. David Marden improved quite a bit, in the discus and the javelin. Christian came out for the first time. He (Christian) threw the javelin 113 feet, which is pretty good for someone's second day of throwing."

When asked how Mescalero would do this Saturday in district he replied. "I feel really good. Tatum is still going to be the front runner, but we are coming together at the right time. I think our girls have a strong opportunity, as well as our boys, if we can get the right combinations together."

Mescalero and Hondo both compete in the District 8-1A meet Saturday at 10 a.m. in Mescalero.

NOTICE OF SALE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned Special Master will on Friday May 30, 2003 at 3:30 PM be at the main entrance of the Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo, New Mexico, to sell and convey to the highest bidder for cash all right, title and interest of the above-named Defendant in and to the following real estate located in said County and state, which is more particularly described as follows:

LOTS 31 AND 32, BLOCK 14 OF THE TOWN OF CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, AS SHOWN BY THE PLAT THEREOF FILED IN THE OFFICE OF THE COUNTY CLERK OF LINCOLN COUNTY, JULY 13, 1911.

Said sale shall be made pursuant to the Judgment entered on April 15, 2003, in the above-entitled and numbered cause, which was a suit to foreclose a real estate mortgage held by the above Plaintiff and wherein the Plaintiff was adjudged to have a first and paramount lien against the above-described real estate in the amount of $27,982.93 plus interest to the date of sale, publication costs, and a Special Master's fee, the total amount due and owing as of the date of sale being $29,266.34.

Notice is further given that the real property and improvements concerned with herein will be sold subject to any and all patent reservations, easements, all recorded and unrecorded liens not foreclosed herein and all recorded and unrecorded special assessments and taxes that may be due.

Notice is further given that should the Plaintiff and/or Defendants herein bid and/or become the purchasers of said real estate and improvements at the foreclosure sale, they may use any part of their judgment granted herein and heretofore as credit against the purchase price should they be the highest bidder. From all other parties, the Special Master will accept only cash in payment of a bid, or a bank cashier's check, or a satisfactory letter of credit conditioned such that the Special Master receives cash or certified funds by 5:00 p.m. of the day of the foreclosure sale.

Notice is finally given that the Special Master may continue the Special Master Sale from time to time if necessary without republi-is a program that provides newspapers to schools to be used as a textbook for all grades kindergarten through adult literacy programs - for all subjects. NIE makes multiple copies of the newspaper available to classrooms through sponsorships and "vacation donations." Vacation donations are made when subscribers stop their home delivery while on vacation and donate the value of the non-delivered newspapers to NIE. The value of these papers is used to pay for classroom papers. Please call 257-4001 ext. 9, to make a "vacation donation" to NIE.

EDUCATION

Newspapers in Education (NIE)

If you are interested in learning how to get newspapers for your classroom, for your child's classroom or how to become a classroom or school sponsor, call 257-4001 ext 9 for more information.

POOP SCOOP

BY DIANNE STALLINGS
RUIDOSO NEWS STAFF WRITER

Lets finish up a test to determine if you're as wonderful an owner as you think. Sorry this column was dropped in a production situation with a malfunctioning computer and instead, the first segment of the test printed April 9 was repeated on April 16. Just a reminder that the information comes from the Spring 2003 edition of Animal Times magazine put out by People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals. It poses seven situations, with one point awarded for each correct answer. A score of zero to two points means "you are more suited to taking care of a robotic 'dog' rather than a real one."

A score of three to five means you're a pretty good canine companion, but try to implement the tips you failed to call correctly.

With six or seven points, you're considered a real catch in canine terms. Picking up with Situation 6: When selecting toys, do you buy plush animals and squeaky toys from a pet supply store, buy a rawhide bone and pigs' ears from a pet supply store or stop at the toy store in the mall and buy a child's stuffed animal or doll?

PETA authors point out that pigs die to provide those ears and cows die to provide the rawhide bones. Dogs can choke on small plastic parts from children's toys. "Just be sure to buy...toys from a pet supply store that does not sell any animals," PETA authors stress. The organization received complaints about neglected animals at several of the big pet supply chain stores, they claim.

Situation 7: The temperature is 78 degrees outside and on your way back from romping at the beach with your dog, you want to stop and pick up a few things at the store.

Do you leave the dog in the car, take the dog home and go to the store another time or tie up your dog outside of the store?

I don't really have to repeat this answer. Anyone reading this column regularly, wouldn't walk away from their dog in a hot car or tied Rover outside where he could be stolen.

Go ahead and score yourself using the other situations from last week's column. I hope you're the shiny knight your pet deserves. In other pet-related news, the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals sponsors April as Prevention of Animal Cruelty Month to educate Americans about animal cruelty and to urge them to report any instances of violence toward animals.

New Mexico two years ago finally passed a felony cruelty law, which put some actions into a stiffer penalty category. Previously, all cruelty actions were considered misdemeanors.

Other actions the ASPCA recommends is learning about any animal-friendly legislation pending in your state from the ASPCA's Government Affairs and Public Policy department, and supporting them.

Teaching future generations to respect animal life is paramount. Check with your local school systems to see if humane education is part of the curriculum. Contact the ASPC'a education department for classroom resources at education@aspca.org. Of course, ASPCA officials also recommend adopting a pet from your local shelter, being a responsible and loving owner, and supporting your local animal rescue organization or shelter with donations of money, food, supplies and/or your time.

PSYCHIC PREDICTIONS

Judith L. Christopher

Week of April 30 - May 6

TAURUS: (Apr 20 - May 20)
You might feel like you're taking two steps forward, and one step backwards. You are! Stop, and plan out what you want and need for now.

GEMINI: (May 21 - Jun 20)
When you least expect it, your ship will come in and go right back out. Be early, and expect the best out of everything and anyone you can.

CANCER: (Jun 21 - Jul 22)
If you're feeling down, then this means you need to take a good look at your life as you know it. You already know what you can do to make it better.

LEO: (Jul 23 - Aug 22)
Your feelings might be a little touchy. Others don't understand how you think and feel. You're good by yourself, but it's not good to be alone.

VIRGO: (Aug 23 - Sep 22)
When was the last time you were happy? Really Happy? If you don't start being happy, deep inside, you'll turn out to be an old grumpy person.

LIBRA: (Sept 23 - Oct 22)
Your words can be very powerful right now, so don't say something off the cuff, that could really hurt someone deep down. Heal others with words.

SCORPIO: (Oct 23 - Nov 21)
Others can't feel your pain, if you won't let them see the real you. Your health is in question. You're running out of time, start eating right. NOW.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov 22 - Dec 21)
When you're down, that's the time to build a ladder of confidence, and walk out of the pity-party of life. Start eating and exercise and feel better.

CAPRICORN: (Dec 22 - Jan 19)
You can't worry about others, when you need all the time to fix what is wrong with you. Your heart is in the right place. Heal you first then others.

AQUARIUS: (Jan 20 - Feb 18)
Same-ole, same-old-stuff. Let go of the past this year, once and for all. You have a beautiful life just waiting to take you away from your misery.

PISCES: (Feb 19 - Mar 20)
Count your friends one by one. Make sure you tell them how much you love them, or you might find yourself friendless one of these days. Reach out.

ARIES: (Mar 21 - Apr 19)
Your money is not going to keep you warm! Spend time with the ones that count. Share good times with loved ones, and you'll reap more then money.
